

Bobcats Recall "Dad's Day" of 1928 and 13-13 Tie

CONCHO CLAN ALWAYS TOUGH FOR LOBOES

San Angelo Due to Make Great Stand Against Locals

It will be "Dad's Day" on the cemetery gridiron at San Angelo next Saturday afternoon when the Lobos undertake to whom the Bobcats. The paternal parent of each member of the Bobcat team will be seated in a reserved section in the grandstand upon a chair marked with the number of his son's jersey. Those of the Cisco Lobos and those of the Cisco fans in general who went to San Angelo upon a memorable occasion two years ago retain some poignant memories of this "Dad's Day" idea. They will remember that the Bobcats' dads were on the side lines that day in chairs that were marked with the numbers upon their sons' jerseys and they are frankly suspicious that this maneuver had something to do with that 13-13 score that resulted. San Angelo dads are a mighty tough handicap to overcome, the Lobos have come to believe. Mighty tough when a team rated three touchdowns better is fortunate to come off with a tied score.

Dads Again
Now the dads are going to take the field again. This year as two years ago the Lobos invade San Angelo the top-heavy favorites to win. A four or five touchdown victory would not occasion any more emotional display than the slightest lifting of the left eye brow. Yet the result of that astonishing encounter of 1928 is down in black and white to remind that paper touchdowns are more of handicaps than help. The Lobos Saturday will have an opportunity to find out whether or not this "dads day" business is a joke.

The San Angelo publicity expert has been using recollections of that 13 to 13 upset in a stirring appeal to the lagging spirits of the 1930 eleven. All that history, tradition and psychology offers in the Bobcat diary of that red letter event has been impressed with singular force upon the minds of the Concho eleven which is due to battle the Lobos upon this approaching "dad's day".

Saturday Is the Time
The game itself is recounted in detail in the hope that its noble features will arouse in the current Bobcats the fighting spirit that they are accused of lacking. "If the Bobcats are going any place at all this year, Saturday is the time," pleads the chronicler of sports in the Concho city. "Beaten 32 to 6 by Ranger and out-battled in a six to six tie the season so far has been very disappointing."

The Bobcats Saturday, barring the unforeseen, will be in their best physical condition of the year. There is only one drawback. Little Red Haley may not be in there.

CONVENIENT SCHEDULES by Motor Coach

At nearly every hour of the day, a big comfortable motor coach is leaving on its regular schedule for the next city. Unquestionably it is the convenient way to travel. The economical, scenic, way, too.

El Paso ..... $14.25
Houston ..... $11.00

BRUSHING UP ON SPORTS ..... By Laufer.

big end aggravated further an injury in the Big Spring game. Haley, it will be recalled, was one of the ends who performed in that sensational upset of 1928. Haley at end for San Angelo that day was a super star.

The rest of the Bobcats seem in fair shape. Scrap Grimes, who has been in a bad way all season, seems considerably improved. Simpson and T. Jones, both of whom have been handicapped by leg injuries, seem to be coming around fine. Simpson, in fact, waged a great battle against Big Spring. Jones got into the game but did not do so well.

Both Colton and Coulter, injured halfbacks, are expected to be in shape. Incidentally, Coach Bissett may call on this pair to throw a lot of passes. It is likely San Angelo will depend considerably on the aerial game. Out-weighted and out-classed in speed by the Big Dammers, offhand it appears San Angelo's only opportunity for success is via the aerial route.

Bissett intends giving the Cats several new plays this afternoon and a light scrimmage likely will be in order.

Always Tough
Cisco has invariably found the Bobcats a tough assignment. For some occult reason the comparative strength of the teams has nothing to do with the outcome of the struggle. In almost every instance the Lobos have gone up against the Bobcats with a serious case of "chest" and in every instance they have had the symptoms knocked sky-western crooked.

The contest at San Angelo Saturday afternoon, in spite of what may be said to the contrary, is going to be a bitter one. The Bobcats are at home for one advantage. And they have tradition on their side.

To lose this game Saturday would clamp the lid down on the Lobos season so tight that it couldn't be lifted in forty years.

SPORT SHOTS

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 30.—Gentlemen from Centenary numbering between six and seven hundred are due to arrive here Saturday for the Texas Anglie-Centenary clash, according to reports received by Kyle field officials today. The gents bring with them a formidable array of victories for the year, and a combination virtually as strong as that which plowed through the season of 1927 without a defeat.

The Aggies, doped as underdogs in the contest, will depend largely on a new backfield combination to carry them into the win column of the season's percentage tables for the first time in four games.

AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—Mustang plays were presented to the varsity grid-sters at Memorial stadium here Wednesday by Fresh crews, as the Longhorns continued the serious business of whipping into shape to give the Aces of S. M. U. one of the strongest battles of the current season. Head Coach Clyde Littlefield has indicated that if his charges keep their fighting spirit and remain level headed during sixty minutes of the battle, they have an even chance to subdue the Ponies.

With a relatively inexperienced but powerful team, Coach Littlefield's biggest task is to train his men to play evenly and smoothly at battle-pitch.

Bon-fires dotted the campus last night as Texas yells echoed across the campus. It was evident that the "teeth man" spirit will not be lacking at Memorial stadium Saturday.

DALLAS, Oct. 30.—Louie Long, one of the luminaries who added to the flash of the Southern Methodist team against Notre Dame and Indiana, sprinted around the Mustang training field Wednesday to prove that his injured knee was improving sufficiently to allow him to be among the charges Coach Ray Morrison will throw against the Longhorns Saturday.

The stiff session Morrison assigned his men yesterday was designed to perfect their passing attack. Some of the backs continue to get mixed up on their signals, reports from Ownby stadium said, but the Mustang mentor expects to take an overhead attack to Austin that will click with precision.

WACO, Oct. 30.—Morley Jennings, tutor of Baylor University's golden Bears, indicated Wednesday that the Bruins would take a strong combination of running and overhead plays to entertain the Oklahoma Baptists at Shawnee Saturday. Since the Oklahoma Baptists' style of play is little known in Texas, the Bruins are preparing for anything.

Although the Sooner affair must be disposed of first, the Baylorites are already anticipating the annual battle with the Texas Longhorns the following weekend, when hundreds of Baylor grads from all over the southwest will gather for their annual homecoming day.

STEPHENVILLE, Oct. 30.—Hindered by driving rains which have converted their training grounds into a muddy field, the John Tarleton Plowboys have been receiving skill practice and light workouts in preparation for their game with the Marshall college squad here Friday.

The Plowboys' power is weakened considerably by the loss of Branch, driving fullback and captain of the team, out because of injuries administered by the T. C. U. Pollywoogs last week.

AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—As conference barriers preventing basketball coaches working with their squads fall away Nov. 1, the first call for basketball practice is expected to sound on southwest conference courts.

Coach Fred Walker of the Texas Longhorns has announced regular training will begin on Monday, Nov. 3. Coach Walker will find a crew already in condition. A temperamental group of veteran basketballers, usually capable of basketball brilliance or dullness, mystifies fans as to the prospects of a championship quieted down in the capital city.

PALESTINE, Oct. 30.—Two of east Texas' oldest traditional rivals will clash in an annual grudge battle on the gridiron here Friday afternoon, when the Tyler Lions and the Palestine Wildcats decide one of the most important games on the district No. 6 schedule. Both teams are tied with Athens for leadership in the championship chase.

AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—Fresh from a 15-0 victory over the Rice institute team, the Texas Longhorn cross-country runners will make their second start of the season Friday against the Southern Methodist the oil belt racket this week. The other members of the Big Four meet second division opponents and there is nothing of consequence to look forward to. Cisco's attempt to come back against the scrapping Bobcats will attract considerable attention.

With the local sector marking time after a strenuous week state grid interest concentrates on what will be taking place down in district No. 4, the district where Waco, Cleburne and Corsicana plays parts analogous to the positions maintained by Abilene, Breckenridge, Cisco and Ranger in the oil belt. The feature event of the week in that territory is the scheduled meeting of the Corsicana Tigers and the Waco high school eleven at Corsicana. The contest is slated for Corsicana Friday afternoon.

Corsicana with what is publicized as the most powerful team the school has ever produced is expected in many quarters to duplicate its 16-6, or thereabouts, defeat of the Tigers in 1928. But Waco, with a stronger team than last year, is not likely to commit the indiscretion of taking the Corsicana lads as merely another breeze and pay the penalty which they paid in 1928.

Cleburne smarting under an undeserved thrashing at the hands of the Waco crew of last year, waits in the offing.

Booth to Start in Dartmouth Game

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Albie Booth of the New Haven vest pocket edition Booths, is expected to start against Dartmouth in the bowl on Saturday. If Albie does see action one of the most interesting angles of the game will be furnished by the manner in which the little back stands up under punishment of the big green tacklers.

Booth, apparently none the worse for his knockout by three Army tacklers last Saturday, probably will leave the field under his own power. The 145-pounder absorbed some severe maulings last season without accident, and his blackout by the Cadets is no sign that he is brittle. If, however, he really is a tender little lad, the Dartmouth boys will bring it to light.

OIL NEWS OF SOUTHWEST

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 30.—Three new oil locations have been added to numerous tests being made in Cooke county. Each of the three new wildcats is being sunk in the southeast part of the county in the vicinity of the Jacobs producer.

OVERTON, Oct. 30.—Considerable oil activity continued to center this week on the new pool tapped by the C. M. Joener No. 3 Deep Rock Oil company is drilling on the west end of the Glass Ashby farm. Five derricks have been completed in territory adjacent to the Joener well, and drilling is expected to begin the last of this week.

Oil tests are likewise being made on effects southeast, south, and north of the discovery well.

ELECTRA, Oct. 30.—The George Proctor-Bair-Schlafke No. 6 was being swabbed today at the rate of 100 barrels a day at a depth of from 840 to 850 feet. Preparations are being made for pipeline connections and storage.

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 30.—Cuts in oil prices by the Standard Oil company became effective today, following reductions already made for north Louisiana and Arkansas crude by the Texas company and the Magnolia Petroleum company. Reductions ranged from 50 cents a barrel down.

HOUSTON, Oct. 30.—The Shell Petroleum No. 15 Watkins Black Bayou, Louisiana, was flowing 1100 barrels at 4,400 feet today. The company has drilled 16 wells on this comparatively new field, but beside flank wells, has secured but two small wells on the top cap rock.

Alpine—Stop signs to be erected on three newly designated boulevards in town.

San Diego—Contract let to drill well for water supply; new equipment ordered for local schools.

Reswell—Bankhead hotel, old landmark, to be razed to make way for new $200,000 hostelry.

BIG DAM CHATTER

While ribbing his team up to defeat the Lobos next Saturday Blonny Cross is laying the groundwork for graceful acceptance of a defeat. "After the pasting the Bobcats are almost sure to catch the sidelines coyotes will yap just a little vapper," he comments.

"They will yelp for a new coach. They will squawk that San Angelo has a fold-up team and they will tick flaws in the school system."

Blonny attributes the fault to San Angelo's negligence in following the lead of the "Big Four" and recruiting stars far and wide. "Either the Big Four must quit importing them or San Angelo must chime in on a bigger and better scale," he declares.

"With no reproach to those youngsters who are trying to make the grade in the Bobcat backfield it is mentioned that not only are they a very, very green crew and not only do they lack so much as one big bruising back in their midst, but they are the slowest backfield in the district possibly with exception of the backfield at Brownwood and we don't know anything about the backfield at Brownwood because we have not seen the backfield at Brownwood. It's not those boys' fault they are slow; they try mighty hard. Neither is it the fault of Bill Bissett.

"The constituents are invited out again Saturday, however, mainly to see Smoky Brothers, Red Haley, Scrap Grimes, Jim Simpson, Happy Rosson and Bernard Jones go. In that alignment are two ends, a tackle, a center, a guard and a backfielder. That, of course, is not enough to beat a team like the Cisco team, but they will be in there striving.

"It's too bad Coach Weldon Chapman cannot be prevailed on to cut his squad down to two ends, a tackle, a center, a guard and a backfielder and make the game even.

"The Oil Belt eligibility committee already has talked Chap into lobbying two players from his roster and he's rather hard to get along with these afternoons."

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified croscote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth. Of all known drugs croscote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to croscote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the croscote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

RAIRIE DOGS ARE NOT DOGS, BUT SQUIRRELS

AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—The last stand of the prairie dogs is on University Texas lands in west Texas, and the prairie dogs quoted on the exchange it would have an...
The name "dog" applied to these animals is a misnomer, since they are really a ground squirrel. The name is an outgrowth from the time of Clark expedition, and was given them because of their bark, but they are quite a bit different from the white man's appetite. Other than it is likely they would be much scarce, and protected by game laws.
After the fall rains, when the Texas prairie was especially good it was the custom of Indians from Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri to move their flocks and families south to good grass. They celebrated the annual exodus by the Feast of the Prickly Pear, at which one of main dishes was roasted prairie dog. Some of the last clashes between the white men and red were for the destruction of the prairie...

Bernt Balchen and Bride

The days of high adventure are about over for Bernt Balchen. The celebrated flyer, here pictured with his bride, intends to settle down to a career as a family man, United States citizen, and occasional technician. Mrs. Balchen, the former Miss Emily Scheile of Oslo, Norway, was Balchen's boyhood sweetheart, in Norway, but their marriage was delayed by his adventures, such as accompanying Rear Admiral Byrd on the Atlantic flight and acting as the explorer's pilot on the South Pole expedition. Even now their honeymoon is being postponed until Balchen completes some urgent experimental work.

worker were greater than in the preceding month and only slightly below the corresponding month the previous year. Trends in the bigger industrial cities were widely diversified. Dallas, which has the second greatest decrease in number of employed workers compared to last year, has shown a small increase for two consecutive months. Waco, with a smaller decline from September, 1929, than Dallas, showed a greater increase over August. The sharpest decline during the month as compared to the previous 30 days was in Beaumont, where slackening activity in the petroleum refining industry was reflected.
Production in the Texas cotton manufacturing industry fell below sales for the first time during 1930. Reduction in output was slight, and the change was brought about largely through an increase in sales. The improvement in sales in Texas was not as great as in the United States as a whole, however.
The cotton textile industry made drastic readjustments during the third quarter of this year. Production during July was held down to the lowest monthly figure of either this year or last, and in spite of increases since that time, sales have exceeded output each month. Stocks, though still greater than unfilled orders at the end of the month, were lower than at any time this year and only 37.5 per cent above unfilled orders at the close of September compared to 105 per cent at the beginning of July. The cotton textile business was one of the first to show improvement following the depression of 1921.
Problems of overproduction which have confronted the petroleum industry for months appeared to have been alleviated at least for the time being by a decrease of daily average output near to limits set in the production order of the Texas Railroad Commission which became effective August 27. The reduction was not entirely within the prescribed limits and stubborn objections to the schedule have been made by operators in practically all parts of the state. The permanence of the present program or of its effects can not be taken entirely for granted, but for the first time in its history the industry has approached a systematic operating plan.

SUPREME COURT WILL REVIEW BRADFORD CASE

AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—The state supreme court in granting a writ of error has agreed to review the litigation between the state and C. L. Bradford, and several hundred other defendants involving the validity of the "small land bill."
The state sued Bradford and the others for title to oil lands in Gray and Wheeler counties claiming they were parts of navigable stream beds. They belonged to the state, it was claimed, because a statute made a stream which had thirty feet between its banks a navigable stream, regardless of actual navigability.
West Texas land owners aroused by the suit protested. Senator Clint Small prepared and had passed a bill validating titles of the occupants.
Governor Dan Moody vetoed the bill as unconstitutional. It was re-passed over his veto. A district court and the third court of civil appeals sustained the Small bill. The attorney general's department contending the act is unconstitutional appealed to the supreme court which now has agreed to consider the case.
A writ of error was refused in... another of the state's big suits over oil lands. The court declined to interfere with the court of appeals ruling against the state in its suit against B. L. Blafer and numerous other occupants of the Harris county oil field. The state had won judgment in district court for title to approximately 600 acres and for the value of oil taken from it. This verdict was reversed in the appellate court, whose decision now becomes final.

Some Optimistic Features Revealed in Texas Commercial Affairs Last Month

AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—A more than seasonal increase in retail department store sales, increases in building in a few cities over both the previous month and the corresponding month the previous year, and an increase in number and capitalization of new companies chartered were optimistic developments in Texas commercial affairs during September, according to the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas. Opposed to these promising features was the marked increase in commercial failures which usually decrease during these months, the failure of bank debits to increase seasonally as much as in 1929, and a further decline in the number of workers employed.
The industries showed less sign of immediate improvement, though basic readjustments appear to be well under way in certain quarters. Production of petroleum was reduced near to proration limits, output of manufactured goods fell below sale for the first time this year, and the threatened liquidation in the sheep and cattle industries was averted at least temporarily by general rains. Lumber stocks remained heavy, however, with combined shipments and unfilled orders somewhat smaller than at the close of August, and cotton prices continued to decline in spite of an upturn in the general farm price index.
September increases in department store sales were sufficient to bring the total volume of business up to October 1 nearer to 1929 levels than at the beginning of the month. The improvement was not uniform, however, and the smaller towns fell still further under last year's figures. Marked variations in the larger towns followed wide differences in the volume of business transacted earlier in the year.
Building for the year to date was almost 53 per cent less than during the corresponding period of 1929 for the state as a whole and even more sharply reduced in a number of cities. And upward trend appeared in September in Dallas, Houston, San Antonio and El Paso, with an increase over August of more than 100 per cent in Dallas. An increased proportion of residential building which became evident in Texas during August was an important factor throughout the country during...

ing September, but in spite of this development total construction in the United States declined. The decrease in Texas was not as great as in the country as a whole, however.
Commercial failures increased in number in both Texas and the United States though a perceptible decline from August is the usual tendency during September. Total liabilities also increased in Texas but declined somewhat for the country as a whole. Average liability per failure in Texas was 15 per cent greater than in the previous month. Total indebtedness of detailing companies for the year to date was the greatest for a similar period of any year since 1922.
Cotton loadings increased seasonally during September as compared to August, but the increase was not as great as during the corresponding period of 1929, leaving the September total 37 per cent less than during the similar month last year. Total loadings for the year up to October 1 were 6 per cent less in Texas and 12.5 per cent less in the United States than during the first nine months of 1929.
Loans by Texas banks making weekly reports to the Federal Reserve Board increased 3.6 per cent during the month at a time of year when agricultural production paper usually is being liquidated rapidly. A small part of this increase was on securities but the greater part was in the "all other" group which includes loans for farming operations. The banks making these reports represent 48 per cent of the total banking capital but are located in the larger cities where a comparatively small proportion of business is done directly with the farmer. No expansion of this increase is made.
Money rates remained extremely easy throughout the country with little demand for commercial credit.
Employment declined during the month 4.5 per cent below August and 17.4 per cent below September, 1929, though weekly wages per...

CHARITY GAMES PUT BIG TEN IN BAD LIGHT

By DIXON STEWART
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Proposals to use collegiate football to raise funds for charity have placed the Big Ten conference in an unfavorable light.

Gov. Fred Green of Michigan has called upon the University of Michigan to play a post-season charity game against Detroit University in defiance of Big Ten rules and the Detroit city council's resolution urging the university, "as an institution supported by tax payers," to accept Detroit's challenge to increase university authorities' reluctance to turn down the proposal.

One of the most flexible Big Ten rules prohibits post-season football games and violation of the rule would subject Michigan to expulsion from the conference. A majority of Big Ten schools would have to vote favorably before an exception could be made and it is highly improbable that a majority vote could be secured—even if Michigan favored the proposal.

Michigan university officials have taken no definite stand on the Detroit challenge, but Professor Ralph W. Astler, chairman of the Board of Athletic Control, has called a meeting of the board to discuss it Saturday.

Opposes Game
It is known that the Michigan athletic department opposes the game, and it has been suggested that the university make a counter offer to donate its stadium for a charity game between Detroit and Michigan State, schools which are not prohibited from playing post-season games. Detroit and Michigan State are scheduled to play at East Lansing, Nov. 2, where the stadium seats only 16,000 as compared to a seating capacity of 37,000 at Michigan stadium.

If political influences force Michigan to approve the game it will be put to a vote of the Big Ten, which only this week voted down the proposal that the Notre Dame-Northwestern game, Nov. 22, be transferred from Northwestern's home field to Soldier field for the benefit of charity.

"It was the fear of just such a thing as this which influenced the conference vote on Northwestern's application," a Big Ten official said today. "Northwestern's proposal was prompted by charitable impulses and the same can be said about some of the other proposals, but the excuse of playing for charity left the field open for small schools to put Big Ten rivals on the spot and force games which could not be booked otherwise."

GREEN REBUKES BIG TEN OFFICIALS

LANSING, Mich., Oct. 30.—Gov. Fred Green believes that "no amount of explaining ever will put the University of Michigan back upon the high pedestal it now occupies if it fails to arrange a charity football game with the University of Detroit," he said today in a formal statement in which he rebuked Big Ten conference officials.

"No rule, which has merely for its object the controlling of a sport, should be allowed to stand in the way of a moment," Green said. "I cannot believe those in authority in the Big Ten conference will permit their views to become so narrow that they will center them merely on what they deem the orderly conduct of a great sport to the detriment of the people of Michigan."

"Nothing can justify a refusal on charity grounds."
Green said he would telegraph the governor of every state in which a Big Ten school is located and ask official intervention in behalf of the proposed gridiron classic.

Promoters Now Use Telephone

FORT WORTH, Oct. 30.—Uncle Sam has made it so hard on oil promoters who insisted on using the mails to defraud that they are now using the long distance telephone, it has been revealed.

A check here shows that one promoter, who had been denied the use of the mails, used more than $450 in telephone calls on his "sucker list" in less than 24 hours. He called his clients, telling them that he expected an oil well in at once, but that he would have to have the money right away.

Today he is all set to get in but the likelihood of the well coming in was declared to be extremely doubtful.

Postal officials have warned against the sending of money to oil promoters who use either phone or telegraph, without first having investigated fully the merits of the promoter.

DO-X AWAITS GOOD WEATHER TO START HOP

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Oct. 30.—Favorable weather was awaited today for the start of one of the greatest experiments in aviation—the trans-Atlantic flight of the giant flying boat, DO-X, first heavier than air machine believed able to maintain a schedule carrying a profitable load, and fly with certainty between Europe and North America.

Maurice Dornier, a director of the company which built the DO-X, said that it was hoped to start the flight in Lisbon Friday or Saturday. The flying boat will be shown to other European nations en route to Portugal, for it will fly north to Amsterdam, and then turn south to visit England and France before landing in Lisbon harbor.

Lisbon will be left behind as the great ship starts west toward the Azores, thence over the long ocean hop to Bermuda, and on to New York. Officials were satisfied today that the DO-X was in perfect condition to attempt the long and dangerous flight.

Tentative plans were that the flying boat would be piloted by a former United States naval ace, Lieut. C. H. Dutch-Schildhauer, whose titles are navigation officer and pilot. Schildhauer will be guiding a virtual liner of the air. It's comforts are said to exceed those of the Graf Zeppelin and the giant British dirigibles, for a smoking room and a bar will be provided for the 100 or more passengers which the DO-X is able to accommodate.

6,300 Horsepower.
Schildhauer arranged for the installation of several American instruments on the control board. He has every confidence in his 12 American-made Curtis Cyclotron motors. They will give the DO-X a total of 6,300 horsepower.

A German war ace and captain in the Merchant Marine, Capt. F. Christiansen, will be in command of the DO-X. Long experience in navigating ships through the sea and the sky qualify him for the position.

The DO-X has carried 159 passengers, without the baggage necessary for a long journey, on a single flight. The immense proportions of the craft, its 12 motors built on top of its gigantic wing, the mechanical equipment on board to make repairs during flight, provisions for the comfort of passengers, and the fact that it is intended to prepare the way for profitable and regular air service between the old and the new worlds, have aroused international interest in the project.

FRANCE CLOSED TO DORNIER
PARIS, Oct. 30.—If the Dornier flying boat DO-X lands in French territory on its flight to New York French military authorities will make sure that Maurice Dornier, a director of the Dornier company is not aboard.

France's borders are closed to Maurice Dornier, the United Press was informed at the foreign office today. There are no restrictions against the entry of his brother, Raoul Dornier, engineer of the giant DO-X.

Maurice Dornier has been warned by the government that he is in difficulty with the French military authorities and that it would be best not to accompany the flying boat if it visits France.

French military authorities believe that Maurice is of French nationality and went to Germany shortly before the war to join his father without doing his French military service. Dornier brothers say they were both born in Germany and are German citizens.

BABSON WOULD END IDLENESS BY EDUCATION

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—An industrial education program which he believes "possible of achievement" was suggested today by Roger W. Babson.

The statistician described his proposal before representatives of Massachusetts universities called to consider the unemployment situation.

Babson's idea is as follows: "Establish in each county a public employment clinic where the man out of work registers. Before he can be helped he shall be physically examined, and if he suffers from any remediable troubles let arrangements be made to improve his condition.

"Then, during the period that he is out of work provide schools for adult education which he can attend. Our present school buildings would offer temporary facilities at night for this together with special industrial schools where he could improve himself in his trade or perhaps learn one."

The speaker emphasized that during the war the nation spared no expense to train men for their duties, and he raised the question: "Are the responsibilities of peace any less our duty than those of war?"

Seeking Out the User

The electric transmission line, threading its way across the landscape, delivers power wherever a use for it can be found.

Town, hamlet and farm, factory, mine and home, all are sought out and energized by electric power.

This is a revolutionary change from the day, not so long ago, when the user had to come to the power.

The extension of widespread transmission systems—replacing inadequate isolated plants or bringing power where none had been before—is working profound changes in the small town and countryside.

The West Texas Utilities Company, with three major generating stations, renders dependable service to 119 prosperous cities, towns and communities throughout West Texas, the "Land of Opportunity"—bringing to them, over more than 2,500 miles of transmission lines, the many advantages of electric power.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Adventure enters the life of Celia Mitchell, 17, when she learns the father she has supposed dead is alive and wealthy. She leaves her unpretentious home in Baltimore to live in New York with her father, John Mitchell, and her aristocratic grandmother.

Margaret Rogers, Celia's mother, is now a widow, having divorced Mitchell and remarried later. Barney Shields, young newspaper photographer, is in love with the girl and before leaving Baltimore Celia promises to be loyal to his love.

Mitchell asks Evelyn Parsons, beautiful widow, to introduce the girl to young people. Mrs. Parsons agrees, considering Celia a means to win Mitchell's affections. She soon becomes jealous of the girl and schemes to get rid of her.

Mrs. Parsons introduces Celia to Jordan, a fascinating but of dubious character and does all she can to encourage this match even after Mitchell forbids Celia to see the man.

Lisi Duncan, socially prominent, becomes Celia's loyal friend. The girl goes to Mrs. Parsons' Long Island home for a lengthy visit and Jordan calls there frequently. He and Celia attend the races and there she encounters Barney Shields, now employed by a New York picture service. Celia meets Shields next day and they have dinner together. He asks if she will care for him and Celia admits she has lost her heart to Jordan.

A few days later Mrs. Parsons opens her apartment in town and Celia goes there as her guest. She meets Shields on the street one afternoon and is with him when Jordan suddenly appears.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XI
Jordan was with another man. They were talking briskly, coming toward Celia and Barney Shields. As yet the girl was sure Jordan had not seen them. His face was turned toward his companion.

Instinct prompted Celia. She did not want Jordan to meet her with Barney. There would be much to explain.

Her eye caught a sign in the store window they were passing. "Nash's Nuts," the sign read. "Extra special fancy shelled peanuts. All varieties of salted nuts." The girl hesitated only a moment.

"Oh, Barney, let's come in here! I want some cashews." She tugged at his arm and, somewhat surprised, he followed. They stepped into the tiny store. Behind a counter made of glass and filled with nuts, a young man stood.

"Something for you, ma'am?" he asked.

"Yes, I mean—why, yes. Have you any cashew nuts?" There was a guilty alertness in Celia's manner. She tried to smile to hide this.

The salesman consulted his stock.

"I'm sorry, ma'am. I don't have them. We're just out. Is there anything else you'd care for instead?"

Celia shot a glance over her shoulder. Tod Jordan and the man with him were passing the store. They glanced in they would think Barney was merely another customer. She turned away from Shields toward the salesman.

"You say you haven't any cashews?"

"No, ma'am. We're just out. I'll have more in the morning." "Oh, well—well, give me a quarter of a pound of the salted peanuts."

"Yes, ma'am." Barney Shields eyed the girl curiously while the order was being filled. He noticed Celia's quick glance down the street as they stepped to the door.

"Celia," he said, when they were on the street again, "why did you go in there?"

"Why, to buy nuts!" "Oh, no you didn't. You know telephoned I won't be able to go to the Parkers' this evening. They will have to get someone else to make up the table. I couldn't possibly play bridge!"

"I'm glad we're going to have tea," Celia said. "I'd like some, too."

"Have you been walking?" "Yes, I went to the park and then I got to looking in shop windows and forgot all about the time."

The maid appeared with a large silver tray. She set it on the low table before Evelyn.

"Um—macaroons! I love them!" Celia exclaimed. Mrs. Parsons poured a cup of tea and handed it to the girl.

"Macaroons are fattening," Evelyn cautioned.

"Yes, but not just one or two," Celia helped herself to the plate of cakes. "I'm glad you're going to be here this evening," she said. "I'd got something on and I was wondering what I could do to amuse myself."

Evelyn stirred her tea.

"Think I'll lie down a while before dinner," she said presently. She rose and left the room.

From where Celia was sitting she could look across toward the western sky. The sun had sunk behind the horizon of jutting spires and masses of steel and concrete. There were towers like fairyland, and other were monstrosities. The brilliant lights, soon to transform the top of the metropolis into a firmament, were not yet glowing.

Celia lingered until the sun's rays faded and the first gray of dusk appeared. Then she went to dress for dinner. There was half an hour. The meal would be served at seven o'clock.

She selected the blue chiffon, which was one of the frocks bought on her first shopping trip with Mrs. Parsons. Celia bathed and powdered and got into her fresh garments hurriedly. She was back in the living room before Evelyn.

There was a ring at the door and the maid answered it. Celia recognized Lisi Duncan's shrill soprano and hurried to meet her.

"Lisi! sweetheart. Listen, you've got to let me dress here. I'm going to meet Dickie at 9:30. Brought my duds. See? Lisi held up an over-night bag."

Mrs. Parsons had entered from the opposite side of the room.

"Good evening, Lisi," she said. "I'm so glad you've come. Celia and I need company."

Lisi explained her errand. She put aside the over-night bag and went in to dinner with Evelyn and Celia. Afterward she went to Celia's bedroom and reappeared in a flaring gown of yellow taffeta. Lisi came into the room dancing.

"Let's have music!" she cried, beginning a tap dance.

Celia obligingly turned to the radio. A rousing fox trot filled the room. Lisi shifted her step to fit the rhythm.

The tune ended. There was a pause and then the announcer cut in crisply.

"We are interrupting the program at this time," he voice said, "to report that fire costing from 30 to 50 lives tonight wrecked the building in which a Communist convention was being held at Fourteenth street and Third avenue. Victims were trapped when smoke cut off escape by a single stairway."

Celia waited no longer.

"It's Barney!" she gasped. "Come on!"

Old He Must Die Man Finds Life In Crazy Water

Deputy Sheriff Wants World To Know His Crazy Story

In the year of 1923 I was living at Okla. I was confined to my bed with a complication of diseases. I was diagnosed by different ones as Bright's disease, Paralysis, Neuritis, Rheumatism and a dead liver. When it was decided to take me to Mineral Wells the doctors did not believe that I would live to get there. The doctors in Mineral Wells thought I arrived died. When I arrived they thought that there was any chance for me to recover.

I drank Crazy Water for four months and was, so far as I can tell, completely well. I gained 94 pounds in weight, and took a job as deputy sheriff which necessitated my being on my feet from eight to twelve hours every day, and often-times doing a lot of night work. Crazy Water certainly pulled me out of the grave.

Finance Company to Make Tax Loans

Organization of a new finance department has been announced by the Southern States Finance company of Cisco through the advertising columns of the Cisco Daily News. Through this department, the finance company is prepared to loan money for the payment of taxes, the money to be repaid in monthly installments.

This service has been instituted to meet a need that has become well defined during the present period of hard times, the company stated, and it is due to render a real service to property owners who find themselves pressed for the cash with which to meet their levies at this time.

Full details of the plan may be secured at the office of the company in the Cude building.

Priest Defies Gangs and Death Threats

ABBEVILLE, La., Oct. 30.—A kindly faced French priest sat at his desk here today and defied gangs and bootleggers.

He was Father Edmund Daull, pastor of the Mary Magdalen Catholic church here, who says his life has been threatened by operators of "home brew joints" and immoral houses.

"I am not afraid to die," said Father Daull, "but when I die I am going to die shooting."

Father Daull said he received the threats after he had exposed wholesale law violations here and in Vermillion parish, a lonely parish skirting the Gulf of Mexico with miles of low and uninhabited swamp lands.

"I am not a prohibitionist," said Father Daull. "I like a good drink myself sometimes. But conditions here are intolerable."

He has repeated his attacks since the threats were made.

"They are cowards," Father Daull said, "they will not harm me."

Protestant leaders of Abbeville have flocked to Father Daull's support and newspapers here are crusading for him.

Meeting to Stimulate Property Improvement Called

TRADE UNIONS AND MATERIAL MEN TO MEET

Program for Bettering Situation This Winter Is Aim

Members of the various trades union councils in Cisco and all material supply men are called to meet tomorrow evening at 7:30 upon the roof garden of the Laguna hotel for the purpose of starting a campaign to bring about a revival of building and improvement work in Cisco. The movement under foot is aimed at stimulating a repair, improvement and remodeling campaign among Cisco real estate owners with the object of getting local conditions off "dead center" and furnishing employment to the large section of the population which has been left idle by the depression.

Some concrete suggestions for putting the campaign into effect will be presented at this session and it is urged that every person who is connected with either the trades unions or the material and supply business be on hand to assist in the adoption of the program.

The movement contemplated here is one that is gaining considerable headway throughout the nation. It is pointed out, and the daily papers in all sections of the country are giving much space and a prominent place to it.

If a program that will insure at least part time employment for the building trades people this winter can be carried out the situation by next spring will have bettered itself to the extent of improving of its own impetus, those behind the present movement stated today.

The program is based not upon the idea of beginning any major projects but upon the idea of inducing a general movement of property improvement or repair. The cost individually will be small but the total results will have a tremendous effect, it was declared.

JURY GIVES FRITTS DEATH FOR SLAYING

CLAIRMONT, Oct. 30.—Will Fritts was assessed the death penalty by jury in district court here today for the slaying of D. W. Hamilton, once his neighbor.

Fritts was already under life sentence for the shooting of Hamilton's son, Earle.

The case was given to the jury at noon yesterday.

Self defense was the plea of the defendant's counsel, Fritts testified he shot Hamilton after the latter started for his house saying he was going after a gun.

Second Cold Wave Reported on Way

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—The middle-west's cold wave was reported blowing in from the northwest today, bringing with it snow flurries and below freezing temperatures.

A cold rain, walled about by a strong northwest wind, brought sharply lower temperatures, ending several days of Indian summer.

W. P. Day, U. S. weather forecaster, said the snow might amount to more than "flurries" and that the cold wave probably would last three days.

Warnings were sent out to lake shippers.

Denver Woman Admits Killing

After steadfastly denying her guilt through several days of severe questioning, Mrs. Pearl O'Loughlin of Denver, wife of a police detective, broke down and confessed that she killed her step-child, 11-year-old Leona O'Loughlin, whose body had been found in a lake.

WIDE AREA OF CENTRAL ITALY IS SHAKEN BY EARTHQUAKE

ANCONA, Italy, Oct. 30.—An earthquake of considerable intensity shook central Italy today, particularly along the Adriatic seaboard from Rimini to Rome.

Twenty persons were reported dead in messages from Sinigaglia, north of Ancona, where the most severe shocks were believed felt, and four others were dead at Ancona. Scores of persons were injured, 60 being taken to hospitals at Sinigaglia.

The quake centered in the Adriatic sea but was felt with diminishing force from central Italy to the capital, while experts said the Zara region of Jugoslavia—opposite Ancona—was affected.

Widespread panic resulted in Ancona and other damaged towns especially in view of the recent Italian earthquake which destroyed or damaged many towns and killed a vast number of persons.

The towns of Osimo, Casalfignano, Candia, Falconara, and some towns in the province of Macerata were damaged.

Troops were sent to Sinigaglia, which was most seriously affected, and relief work was started.

LOUD RUMBLINGS ACCOMPANY QUAKE

SINIGAGLIA, Italy, Oct. 30.—An earthquake which was accompanied by loud rumblings shook this region shortly after 8 a. m. today, caused wide damage and the loss of a score or more lives.

City officials estimated 20 dead and 50 to 60 injured seriously. Government authorities took charge of relief measures and a brigade of infantry from Ancona was installed.

The fact that the quake occurred when the population was astray rather than at night was believed to have prevented a larger death toll.

A total of 30 persons were killed in the coastal towns of Sinigaglia, Ancona, Snesaro and Fonetto and about 200 injured in the area where the quake was most severe, according to authoritative unofficial advice. Official messages placed the dead at 28.

WATCH VOLCANO WITH ALARM

REDDING, Calif., Oct. 30.—Citizens of Redding watched volcanic Mt. Lassen with apprehension today after four earthquake shocks had reminded them that similar disturbances in 1915 preceded an eruption from the crater.

The four shocks occurred within 42 hours, the last causing slight damage to the Shasta county courthouse and Redding high school. None of the shocks was severe. Mt. Lassen is 50 miles from Redding.

Howe claims to be "just plain folks, with these high-powered teas a bit beyond my speed," but he was game and the truce will be sealed on schedule.

"Old Tack isn't certain yet just what his reply will be should Miss Garden perchance query him regarding his newspaper column quotation that "the great Garden actually tottered" in his title role performance of "Thais" last year. He openly predicts that Monday's encounter "will be the death of me."

Not long since, Amarillo business men were approached by Miss Garden's representatives. They proposed her recital here. The Tri-State Fair association agreed to sponsor it. Wilbur C. Hawk, manager of the Globe-News and partner of Howe, is president of the association.

Howe waived the first olive branch by wiring the diva an invitation to supper. Explaining that she never partakes of food on the afternoon of a performance, she replied that she would be happy to have tea Monday afternoon.

"Thus Howe was "in for it," he half ruefully explained.

Red Cross Aids Mine Victims

MCALESTER, Okla., Oct. 30.—As individual funeral services were held today for 29 men who were killed when an explosion wrecked the No. 4 Wheatley coal mine, Red Cross officials started a campaign to raise $25,000 to care for the families of the victims. The relatives were not eligible to receive compensation from the Oklahoma Industrial commission because of a flaw in the industrial insurance act, state officials said.

The bodies of the victims were indistinguishable when carried from the mine last night. They were identified by metal discs carried in their pockets.

Rescue workers broke through the last barriers of debris late yesterday to reach the victims, entombed 2,500 feet under McAlester's residential section.

The explosion was caused when a pocket of gas became ignited, probably when one of the workers struck a spark with his pick. Wheatley, mine superintendent, and J. W. Dana, of Kansas City, port owner, agreed.

BOY INJURED IN HEEL WHEN GUN GOES OFF

First Hunting Accident of Season This Morning

Arnold Pruett, 16, of Putnam, was brought to the Graham sanitarium here today suffering from a gunshot wound in the left heel sustained when a .410 shotgun accidentally discharged while hunting this morning.

"TACK" AFRAID MARY GARDEN WILL ACCEPT

AMARILLO, October 30.—Gene Howe's wife is afraid Mary Garden won't show up for the scheduled pink tea at the Howe home next Monday; the "tactless Texan" is afraid she will.

CISCO F. F. T. WILL COMPETE IN TERRACING

The Cisco F. F. T. chapter has entered the state F. F. T. terracing contest, it was announced today by E. H. Varnell, vocational instructor at the Cisco high school.

FEED DAMAGED

SWEETWATER, Oct. 30.—Feed crops in Nolan county's lowlands have been damaged to the extent of several thousand dollars by rains, it has been learned here.

Cal Praises Large Family

TRENTON, Neb., Oct. 30.—The raising of a large family was praised by Calvin Coolidge former president of the United States, now an executive in an insurance company, in a letter to Mr. and Mrs. Larry Brown, parents of 14 children.

MANER NEW PRESIDENT OF ROTARY CLUB

Leon Maner, vice president of the club, was elevated to the presidency of the Rotary club today, succeeding J. B. Cate, resigned. Mr. Maner was elected by acclamation. E. H. Varnell was named vice president, also by acclamation, to fill the vacancy left by the advancement of Mr. Maner to the leadership of the club. The club then voted to present Mr. Cate a past president's pin in recognition of his services while president.

MEN AFRAID OF THEIR JOBS.

"Business confidence" week has been observed in Fort Worth under the inspiration of the Lions club, and as a result ten of the major business concerns of that city have gone on record as having assured their employees that there will be no wage reductions and nobody discharged or laid off on account of slack business.

One of the many causes for the widespread business depression has been that large numbers of men who heretofore have been wage earners have lost their employment, and with their incomes so that they no longer can be counted among the potential buyers of the products of industry.

When employers assure their employees that their jobs are secure, they give relief from this fear and employees are encouraged to spend their earnings in a normal manner. After the experience of the past year, none expect the very foolish men are going to spend as foolishly as most of us did during the period of unlimited prosperity; but the resumption of spending by those who are able to spend will have a most beneficial effect upon every division of business and industry.

AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—John Wallace, financial diplomat of the legislature, leaned back on scripture to avoid telling what he is going to do in Austin during the next governor's administration.

Adrian Pool at El Paso wasn't so lucky in resigning his nomination as he tried to do it in less than 20 days of the general election, and it was held his successor's name couldn't be printed on the ballot.

So wealthy he doesn't even have to bother about the operation of his many million-dollar business, Ira G. Yates has turned the whole business to a newly created trust company to be operated by his sons and daughters.

"Danger of Neglect" Is Service Theme

Interest is growing at every service of the revival now in progress at the Church of God.

After a lively song service at last night's meeting, Rev. and Mrs. Dodd sang a special number, "Hiding God," after which Rev. Dodd preached from Genesis 6:3 "My Spirit shall not always strive with man."

The Fort Worth business men, therefore, are not entirely unselfish in their action. They are loyal to the interests of their employees, of course, but they calculate that their courage in giving assurance of steady employment will be supplemented by greater efficiency and greater zeal on the part of the employees.

Legge Says Farmers Should Control

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—Farmers should be controlling production and marketing of their crops, Chairman Alexander Legge of the Federal Farm Board, told the Boston Chamber of Commerce today.

Instead of complaining about what the farm board has been doing, Legge declared, people should "get busy and help us make the agricultural marketing act a success and each and every one of you will benefit. Legge said New England manufacturers would profit if they followed the cooperative program being developed under the agricultural marketing act.

Bobcats Recall "Dad's Day" of 1928 and 13-13 Tie

CONCHO CLAN ALWAYS TOUGH FOR LOBOES

San Angelo Due to Make Great Stand Against Locals

It will be "Dad's Day" on the cemetery gridiron at San Angelo next Saturday afternoon when the Lobos undertake to wham the Bobcats. The paternal parent of each member of the Bobcat team will be seated in a reserved section in the grandstand upon a chair marked with the number of his son's jersey. Those of the Cisco Lobos and those of the Cisco fans in general who went to San Angelo upon a memorable occasion two years ago retain some poignant memories of this "Dad's Day" idea. They will remember that the Bobcats' dads were on the side lines that day in chairs that were marked with the numbers upon their sons jerseys and they are frankly suspicious that his maneuver had something to do with that 13-13 score that resulted. San Angelo dads are a mighty tough handicap to overcome. The Lobos have come to believe. Mighty tough when a team rated three touchdowns better is fortunate to come off with a tied score.

Dads Again

Now the dads are going to take the field again. This year is two years ago the Lobos invade San Angelo the top-heavy favorites to win. A four or five touchdown victory would not occasion any more emotional display than the slightest lifting of the left eye brow. Yet the result of that astonishing encounter of 1928 is down in black and white to remind that paper touchdowns are more of handicaps than help. The Lobos Saturday will have an opportunity to find out whether or not this "dads day" business is a flax.

The San Angelo publicity expert has been using recollections of that 13 to 13 upset in a stirring appeal to the lagging spirits of the 1930 eleven. All that history, tradition and psychology officers in the Bobcat diary of that red letter event has been impressed with singular force upon the minds of the Concho eleven which is due to battle the Lobos upon this approaching "dad's day."

Saturday Is the Time

The game itself is recounted in detail in the hope that its noble features will arouse in the current Bobcats the fighting spirit that they are accused of lacking. If the Bobcats are going any place at all this year, Saturday is the time, pleads the chronicler of sports in the Concho city. "Beaten 32 to 6 by Ranger and out-battled in a six to six tie the season so far has been very disappointing.

"The Bobcats Saturday, barring the unforeseen, will be in their best physical condition of the year. There is only one drawback. Little Red Haley may not be in there. The big end aggravated further an injury in the Big Spring game. Haley, it will be recalled, was one of the ends who performed in that sensational upset of 1928. Haley at San Angelo that day was a super star.

"The rest of the Bobcats seem in fair shape. Scrap Grimes, who has been in a bad way all season, seems considerably improved. Simpson and T. Jones, both of whom have been handicapped by leg injuries, seem to be coming around fine. Simpson, in fact, waged a great battle against Big Spring. Jones got into the game but did not do so well.

"Both Colton and Coulter, injured halfbacks, are expected to be in shape. Incidentally, Coach Bissett may call on this pair to throw a lot of passes. It is likely San Angelo will depend considerably on the aerial game. Out weighed and out-classed in speed by the Big Dammers, offhand it appears San Angelo's only opportunity for success is via the aerial route.

"Bissett intends giving the Cats several new plays this afternoon and a light scrimmage likely will be in order.

Always Tough

Cisco has invariably found the Bobcats a tough assignment. For some occult reason the comparative strength of the teams has nothing to do with the outcome of the struggle. In almost every instance the Lobos have gone up against the Bobcats with a serious case of "chest" and in every instance they have had the symptoms knocked sky-western crooked.

The contest at San Angelo Saturday afternoon, in spite of what may be said to the contrary, is going to be a bitter one. The Bobcats are at home for one advantage. And they have tradition on their side.

To lose this game Saturday would clamp the lid down on the Lobo season so tight that it couldn't be lifted in forty years.

SPORT SHOTS

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 30.—Gentlemen from Centenary numbering between six and seven hundred are due to arrive here Saturday for the Texas Aggie-Centenary clash, according to reports received by Kyle field officials today. The gents bring with them a formidable array of victories for the year, and a combination virtually as strong as that which plowed through the season of 1927 without a defeat.

The Aggies, doped as underdogs in the contest, will depend largely on a new backfield combination to carry them into the win column of the season's percentage tables for the first time in four games.

AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—Mustang players were presented to the varsity gridsters at Memorial stadium here Wednesday by Frosh crews. As the Longhorns continued the serious business of whipping into shape to give the Aces of S. M. U. one of the strongest battles of the current season, Head Coach Clyde Littlefield has indicated that if his charges keep their fighting spirit and remain level headed during sixty minutes of the battle, they have an even chance to subdue the Ponies.

With a relatively inexperienced but powerful team, Coach Littlefield's biggest task is to train his men to play evenly and smoothly at battle-pitch.

Bon-fires dotted the campus last night as Texas yells echoed across the campus. It was evident that the "twelfth man" spirit will not be lacking at Memorial stadium Saturday.

DALLAS, Oct. 30.—Louie Long, one of the luminaries who added to the flash of the Southern Methodist team against Notre Dame and Indiana, sprinted around the Mustang training field Wednesday to prove that his injured knee was improving sufficiently to allow him to be among the charges Coach Ray Morrison will throw against the Longhorns Saturday.

The stiff session Morrison assigned his men yesterday was designed to perfect their passing attack. Some of the backs continue to get mixed up on their signals, reports from Ownby stadium said, but the Mustang mentor expects to take an overhead attack to Austin that will click with precision.

WACO, Oct. 30.—Morley Jennings, tutor of Baylor University's golden Bears, indicated Wednesday that the Bruins would take a strong combination of running and overhand plays to enter with the Oklahoma Baptists at Shawnee Saturday. Since the Oklahoma Baptists' style of play is little known in Texas, the Bruins are preparing for anything.

Although the Sooner affair must be disposed of first, the Baylorites are already anticipating the annual battle with the Texas Longhorns the following weekend, when hundreds of Baylor grads will gather over the southwest will gather for their annual homecoming day.

STEPHENVILLE, Oct. 30.—Hindered by driving rains which have converted their training grounds into a muddy field, the John Tarleton Plowboys have been receiving skull practice and light workouts in preparation for their game with the Marshall college squad here Friday.

The Plowboys' power is weakened considerably by the loss of Branch, driving fullback and captain of the team, out because of injuries administered by the T. C. U. Pollywogs last week.

AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—As conference barriers preventing basketball coaches working with their squads fall away Nov. 1, the first call for basketball practice is expected to sound on southwest conference courts.

Coach Fred Walker of the Texas Longhorns has announced regular training will begin on Monday, Nov. 3. Coach Walker will find a crew lacking in condition. A temperamental group of veteran basketball players, equally capable of basketball brilliance or dullness, mystifies fans as to the prospects of a championship quieted in the capital city.

PALESTINE, Oct. 30.—Two of east Texas' oldest traditional rivalries will clash in an annual grudge battle on the gridiron here Friday afternoon, when the Tyler Lions and the Palestine Wildcats decide one of the most important games on the district No. 6 schedule. Both teams are tied with Athens for leadership in the championship chase.

AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—Fresh from a 15-50 victory over the Rice Institute team, the Texas Longhorn cross-country runners will make their second start of the season Friday against the Southern Methodist

BIG DAM CHATTER

The Longhorns have one of the strongest barrier squads since the days of one Sandi Equival.

CORSICANA, Oct. 30.—One of the flashiest gridiron spectacles on the week-end program of the Texas Interscholastic league will be unraveled here Friday afternoon when Corsicana and Waco clash in an annual fracas.

DALLAS, Oct. 30.—Gus Kallio, on whose brow is reputed to rest the world middleweight championship laurels, will meet Waino Kestinen of Los Angeles in the headlining event of promoter Bert Willoughby's weekly mat show. If present plans are completed, Kallio was to arrive here today to complete the agreement.

Blondy attributes the fault to San Angelo's negligence in following the lead of the "Big Four" and recruiting stars far and wide. "Either the Big Four must quit importing them or San Angelo must chime in on a bigger and better scale," he declares.

"With no reproach to those youngsters who are trying to make the grade in the Bobcat backfield it is mentioned that not only are they a very, very green crew and not only do they lack so much as one big, bruising back in their midst, but they are the slowest backfield in the district possibly, with exception of the backfield at Brownwood and we don't know anything about the backfield at Brownwood because we have not seen the backfield at Brownwood. It's not these boys' fault they are slow; they try mighty hard. Neither is it the fault of Bill Bissett.

"The constituents are invited out again Saturday, however, mainly to see Smoky Brothers, Red Haley, Scrap Grimes, Jim Simpson, Happy Rosson and Bernard Jones go. In that alignment are two ends, a tackle, a center, a guard and a backfielder. That, of course, is not enough to beat a team like the Cisco team, but they will be in there striving.

"It's too bad Coach Weidon Chapman had not prevailed on to cut his squad down to two ends, a tackle, a center, a guard and a backfielder and make the game even.

"The Oil Belt eligibility committee already has talked Chap into lobbing two players from his roster and he's rather hard to get along with these afternoons."

The Cisco-San Angelo game is the most outstanding contest on

OIL NEWS OF SOUTHWEST

Other members of the Big Four meet second division opponents and there is nothing of consequence to look forward to. Cisco's attempt to come back against the scrapping Bobcats will attract considerable attention.

With the local sector marking time after a strenuous week state grid interest concentrates on what will be taking place down in district No. 4, the district where Waco, Cleburne and Corsicana plays parts aplous to the positions maintained by Abilene, Breckenridge, Cisco and Ranger in the oil belt. The feature event of the week in that territory is the scheduled meeting of the Corsicana Tigers and the Waco high school eleven at Corsicana. The contest is slated for Corsicana Friday afternoon.

Corsicana with what is publicized as the most powerful team the school has ever produced is expected in many quarters to duplicate its 16-6, or thereabouts, defeat of the Tigers in 1928. But Waco, with a stronger team than last year, is not likely to commit the indiscretion of taking the Corsicana lead as merely another breeze and pay the penalty which they paid in 1928.

Cleburne smarting under an undesired thrashing at the hands of the Waco crew of last year, waits in the offing.

Booth to Start in Dartmouth Game

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Albie Booth of the New Haven vest pocket edition, is expected to start against Dartmouth in the bowl on Saturday. If Albie does see action one of the most interesting angles of the game will be furnished by the manner in which the little back stands up under punishment of the big green tacklers.

Booth, apparently none the worse for his knockout by three Army tacklers last Saturday, probably will leave the field under his own power. The 145-pounder absorbed some severe maulings last season without accident, and his blackout by the Cadets is no sign that he is brittle. If, however, he really is a tender little lad, the Dartmouth boys will bring it to light.

News Want Ads Bring Results.

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 30.—Three new oil locations have been added to numerous tests being made in Cooke county. Each of the three new wildcats is being sunk in the southeast part of the county in the vicinity of the Jacobs producer.

OVERTON, Oct. 30.—Considerable oil activity continued to center this week on the new pool tapped by the C. M. Jeiner No. 3. Deep Rock Oil company is drilling on the west end of the Glass Ash farm. Five derricks have been completed in territory adjacent to the Jeiner well, and drilling is expected to begin the last of this week.

Oil tests are likewise being made on effects southeast, south, and north of the discovery well.

ELECTRA, Oct. 30.—The George Proctor-Bair-Schaffke No. 6 was being scrubbed today at the rate of 100 barrels a day at a depth of from 840 to 850 feet. Preparations are being made for pipeline connections and storage.

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 30.—Cuts in oil prices by the Standard Oil company became effective today, following reductions already made for north Louisiana and Arkansas crude by the Texas company and the Magnolia Petroleum company. Reductions ranged from 50 cents a barrel down.

HOUSTON, Oct. 30.—The Shell Petroleum Co. 16 Watkins Black Bayou, Louisiana, was flowing 1100 barrels at 4400 feet today. The company has drilled 16 wells on this comparatively new field, but beside flank wells, has secured but two small wells on the top cap rock.

Alpine.—Stop signs to be erected on three newly designated boulevards in town.

San Diego.—Contract let to drill well for water supply; new equipment ordered for local schools.

Russell.—Bankhead hotel, old landmark, to be razed to make way for new $200,000 hostelry.

CHARITY GAMES PUT BIG TEN IN BAD LIGHT

By DIXON STEWART
United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Proposals to use collegiate football to raise funds for charity have placed the Big Ten conference in an unfavorable light.

Gov. Fred Green of Michigan has called upon the University of Michigan to play a post-season charity game against Detroit University in defiance of Big Ten rules and the Detroit city council's resolution urging the university, "as an institution supported by tax payers, to accept Detroit's challenge as increasing university authorities' reluctance to turn down the proposal."

One of the most flexible Big Ten rules prohibits post-season football games and violation of the rule would subject Michigan to expulsion from the conference. A majority of Big Ten schools would have to vote favorably before an exception could be made and it is highly improbable that a majority vote could be secured—even if Michigan favored the proposal.

Michigan university officials have taken no definite stand on the Detroit challenge, but Professor Ralph W. Aigler, chairman of the Board of Athletic Control, has called a meeting of the board to discuss it Saturday.

Opposes Game
It is known that the Michigan athletic department opposes the same, and it has been suggested that the university make a counter offer to donate its stadium for a charity game between Detroit and Michigan State, schools which are not prohibited from playing post-season games. Detroit and Michigan State are scheduled to play at East Lansing, Nov. 2. The stadium seats only 16,000 as compared to a seating capacity of 87,000 at Michigan stadium.

Green Rebukes Big Ten Officials
LANSING, Mich., Oct. 30.—Gov. Fred Green believes that "no amount of explaining ever will put the University of Michigan back upon the high pedestal it now occupies if it fails to arrange a charity football game with the University of Detroit." He said today in a formal statement in which he rebuked Big Ten conference officials.

"No rule, which has merely for its object the controlling of a sport, should be allowed to stand in the way of a moment," Green said. "I cannot believe those in authority in the Big Ten conference will permit their views to become so narrow that they will center them merely on what they deem the orderly conduct of a great sport to the detriment of the people of Michigan."

"Nothing can justify a refusal on charity grounds."

Green said he would telegraph the governor of every state in which a Big Ten school is located and ask official intervention in behalf of the proposed gridiron classic.

DO-X AWAITS GOOD WEATHER TO START HOP

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Oct. 30.—Favorable weather was awaited today for the start of one of the greatest experiments in aviation—the trans-Atlantic flight of the giant flying boat DO-X, first heavier than air machine believed able to maintain a schedule carrying a profitable load, and fly with certainty between Europe and North America.

Maurice Dornier, a director of the company which built the DO-X, said that it was hoped to start the flight to Lisbon Friday or Saturday. The flying boat will be shown to other European nations en route to Portugal, for it will fly north to Amsterdam, and then turn south to visit England and France before landing in Lisbon harbor.

Lisbon will be left behind as the great ship starts west toward the Azores, thence over the long ocean hop to Bermuda, and on to New York. Officials were satisfied today that the DO-X was in perfect condition to attempt the long and dangerous flight.

Tentative plans were that the flying boat would be piloted by a former United States naval ace, Lieut. C. H. "Dutch" Schildhauer, whose titles are navigation officer and pilot. Schildhauer will be guiding a virtual liner of the air. It's co-pilots are said to exceed those of the Graf Zeppelin and the giant British dirigibles, for a smoking room and a bar will be provided for the 100 or more passengers which the DO-X is able to accommodate.

4,300 Hrs. Power
Schildhauer arranged for the installation of several American instruments on the control board. He has every confidence in his 12 American made Curtis Conqueror motors. They will give the DO-X a total of 4,300 horsepower.

A German war ace and captain in the Merchant Marine, Capt. F. Christiansen, will be in command of the DO-X. Long experience in navigating ships through the sea and the sky qualify him for the position.

The DO-X has carried 150 passengers, without the baggage necessary for a long journey, on a single flight. The immense proportions of the craft, its 12 motors built on top of its gigantic wing, the mechanical equipment on board to make repairs during flight, provisions for the comfort of passengers, and the fact that it is intended to prepare the way for profitable and regular air service between the old and the new worlds, have aroused international interest in the project.

FRANCE CLOSED TO DORNIER
PARIS, Oct. 30.—If the Dornier flying boat DO-X lands in French territory on its flight to New York, French military authorities will make sure that Maurice Dornier, a director of the Dornier company, is not aboard.

Blast Wrecks Texas Building

One man was killed and six were badly hurt when a sudden explosion demolished the Maccabee building in Palestine, Texas, causing damage estimated at $150,000. This picture shows how the wreckage looked. Cause of the explosion has not been determined.

Here that Maurice is of French nationality and went to Germany shortly before the world war to join his father without doing his French military service. The Dornier brothers say they were both born in Germany and are German citizens.

BABSON WOULD END IDLENESS BY EDUCATION

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—An industrial education program which he believes "possible of achievement" was suggested today by Roger W. Babson.

The statistician described his proposal before representatives of Massachusetts universities called to consider the unemployment situation.

Babson's idea is as follows: "Establish in each county a public employment clinic where the man out of work registers. Before he can be helped he shall be physically examined, and if he suffers from any remediable troubles let arrangements be made to improve his condition."

"Then, during the period that he is out of work provide schools for adult education which he may attend. Our present school buildings would offer temporary facilities at night for this together with special industrial schools where he could improve himself in his trade or perhaps learn one."

"In brief, instead of wasting the time of the unemployed, let them use this period of idleness in preparing themselves for the future. Idleness breeds crime, and crime not only degrades human beings but it increases the taxation costs of everyone since more money is spent on prison, police courts, poor houses, hospitals and the like, he pointed out.

The speaker emphasized that during the war the nation spared no expense to train men for their duties, and he raised the question: "Are the responsibilities of peace any less our duty than those of war?"

Big Political Coup Is Anticipated

DALHART, Oct. 30.—Material was being assembled today for possibly one of the biggest political coups ever executed in the north panhandle.

H. D. Foust was nominated for sheriff in the primaries. He figured as a principal in the shooting affair at the J. W. Gunnells farm near here on July 19 in which Sheriff G. W. Alexander and Lon and Orell Deilinger were killed.

Lem Fife, Dalhart police chief, was his opponent. The nominating majority was only 34 votes out of more than 1,800.

Supporters of Fife have inaugurated a campaign to write Fife's name on the ticket in the general election next week. Political followers say that as conditions now are the vote should be as close as in the primary.

Seeking Out the User

The electric transmission line, threading its way across the landscape, delivers power wherever a use for it can be found.

Town, hamlet and farm, factory, mine and home, all are sought out and energized by electric power.

This is a revolutionary change from the day, not so long ago, when the user had to come to the power.

The extension of widespread transmission systems—replacing inadequate isolated plants or bringing power where none had been before—is working profound changes in the small town and countryside.

The West Texas Utilities Company, with three major generating stations, renders dependable service to 119 prosperous cities, towns and communities throughout West Texas, the "Land of Opportunity"—bringing to them, over more than 2,500 miles of transmission lines, the many advantages of electric power.
