"THE EYES HAVE IT!"... MENDEL'S LAW ON TRIAL

George Longley and his first wife had blue eyes. They couldn't have had a brown-eyed son, the critic claims, as she quotes the long-dead Mendel. Mendel found that if brown eyes are dominant in the parents, all children will be brown-eyed. But not all the brown eyes of the children will appear in later generations. Conversely the same rule applies to blue-eyed parents.

Thus the Chicago court was given the difficult task of deciding legally whether the Mendelian law proves or does not prove that George Longley is the son of Albert W. Longley and all by the color of his eyes.

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 12.—The third day of the search for the slayer of Virginia Brooks, 10-year-old school girl, whose body was left on the Camp Kearney mesa, found authorities facing a mystery that became more and more puzzling as the investigation progressed.

"CAP-IN-HAND" DEBT POLICY IS OPPOSED

By HENRY T. RUSSELL United Press Staff Correspondent LONDON, March 12.—Were the United States to propose relief of the world economic crisis by debt revision or moratoriums, Britain would gladly enter into the necessary discussion, but it is not here place of policy to adopt the "cap-in-hand" policy, in the opinion of James H. TWO OPINIONS BY JUSTICE HOLMES.

Justice Holmes of the supreme court of the United States continued his judicial activities after celebrating his 80th birthday by handing down one of the three opinions delivered by the court. He ruled that an airplane is not a vehicle under the law and the theft of a plane not punishable under the national motor vehicle theft act. He interpreted the word "vehicle" as applying to something running on the ground. A plane flies high in the sky.

Another famous ruling, or rather a dissenting opinion, in the not remote past by the 90-year-old justice should not be overlooked. It dealt with the impropriety of a judge officiating as grand jury, prosecuting attorney, and jury and executioner in the trial of a person adjudged guilty of contempt of his own court. This is what the venerable justice said, "When it is considered how contrary it is to our practice and ways of thinking for the same person to be accuser and sole judge, in a matter which, if he is sensitive, may involve strong personal feelings, I should expect the power to be limited by the necessities of the case to insure order and decorum in their presence."

In other words Justice Holmes held that justice and not the judge is sacred. May he live forever.

AGED MAN STARVED SAVING NICKELS.

Anton Rekarok, late of Baltimore, was 73 when he passed out. He had been hoarding nickels for 10 years. He starved to death in his room. In a trunk, near the corpse, $2,110.98 in cash was found, and savings bank books showed deposits of $577.44. No trace of relatives could be found and the margin after funeral expenses will go to feed the unemployed. With a trunk full of nickels and dimes he refused to buy bread to prolong his existence. It is said there are 1,800,000,000 humans on the surface of the earth and no two alike. It must be true.

IS THIS HEATHEN AMERICA?

Now the Home Missions Council of North America in a bulletin says that America has 10,000 villages without churches, 30,000 villages without resident pastors and 13,400,000 children under 12 "without benefit of religious instruction." The Home Missions Council is a Protestant organization, claiming 23,000,000 members in its affiliated agencies. If this is fact instead of fiction some impious person will be asking, "Why send missionaries to Asia and Africa and Europe and the islands of the seven seas?"

WHERE LAWMAKERS ARE FAR APART.

Texas lawmakers voted down a racing bill and hit the proprietors of Arlington Downs between the eyes. Licensed gambling was approved by the lower house of the Nevada legislature March 4 by a two-thirds vote "to place gambling under state control and prevent corruption of local officials." Nevada needs the money. Of the fees collected 25 per cent would go to the state, 25 per cent to the county and 50 per cent to the cities and towns. Nevada has two senators and a congressman and a population less than that of Dallas county, Texas.

PHILADELPHIA A VERY UNHEALTHY PLACE.

More than $100,000,000, about $50 per capita, is spent annually in Philadelphia for medical services, according to a bulletin issued by experts on cost of medical care in that city. It is said the first bathtub in America was set up in the home of a Philadelphia pioneer and the town burghers declared against its continuance as "a nuisance for the reason that a bathtub must be unsanitary." And William Penn, a peaceful Quaker with a sound mind and a clean body, was the founder of Philadelphia.

A PHASE OF FARM RELIEF PROBLEMS.

There is a phase of the farm relief problem that should not be overlooked. Former Chairman Alexander W. Legge emphasized it many times. Read the Legge diagnosis: "The real difficulty the board has to contend with is the farmer's slowness in acting together for their own good." Some day the tillers of the soil may take the hint.

OTHER OPINIONS

ANTIQUATE STATUTES

It was Dickens who said "The law's an ass," but it takes a state legislature to prove it, and every legislature now in session will prove it in one or more occasions before adjournment in the spring.

This will be accomplished in two ways, by the passage of silly laws and by leaving on the statute books laws that should have been repealed long ago. These faults every legislator falls into, although in varying degrees.

Why should it be necessary to bring pressure to bear upon a legislature both to effect the repeal of such a progressive state as New York of such outmoded laws as those prohibiting the purchase of land from Indians, horse racing within a mile of the courthouse, parachute jumps from balloons, the making of another to suicide and making modern plumbing an accessory to a crime?

Did You Ever Stop to Think?

By EDSON R. WAITE

That the only business concerns that have become big successes are those who have used the aid of continuous advertising.

Every day in every way added evidence can be seen that advertised merchandise is enjoying wider preference among careful buyers.

Continuous advertising has developed, is developing and will continue to develop more business than any and all other sales methods ever used or thought of.

Advertisements are of deep interest to everyone who wants the best at the price. They tell you what is on the market and where to get it.

Advertising creates demand and has a wonderful drawing power. People will go out of the way to buy well advertised lines because they want the best and they know the best is the only kind that can stand the light of advertising.

Advertising brings the business to the business concerns.

Continuous advertising of quality brings continuous business.

Continuous business brings satisfying profits.

While visiting a mid-western city, I had to drive at a snail's pace, dodging children on bicycles. It seems that many of them infect the thoroughfares and always at an hour when traffic is most dense.

They constitute a real peril to those who use the roads in a decent manner, and the pity of it is that they do not seem to have the least thought for anyone but themselves.

Another irritating proposition for the motorist are the young ladies and gentlemen who use "other skates." They dash down drive-ways into the streets, looking neither to the right or left and expect the motorist to keep out of their way.

There should be some way of keeping children from making play grounds of public streets.

THIS WOMAN IN 4 WEEKS LOST 17 POUNDS OF FAT

Here's a letter written October 21, 1929, by Mrs. Fred Barringer of Lewistown, Montana, that ought to be read by every overweight woman in America.

Gentlemen: I started taking Kruschen every morning as directed as I was very much overweight and wanted to reduce.

I had tried going on a diet but would get so hungry that my diet would not last long, so I decided to give "Kruschen Salts" a fair trial. The day I started to take them I weighed 236 lbs., and at present, which has been just four weeks, I weigh 219 lbs. And I must say I feel better in every way, besides looking much better.

May all large people, both men and women, who want to reduce in an easy way, give Kruschen Salts a fair trial. I am sure it will convince anyone.

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts four weeks costs but 83c at any drug store in America. Take one half teaspoon in a glass of hot water; before breakfast every morning. To help reduce swiftly cut out pastry and fatty meats and eat light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar.

The Kruschen way is the safe way to reduce—Try one bottle and if not joyfully satisfied—money back. For sale by Moore Drug Co. and Dean Drug Co.—Adv.

HOW LONG IS 18 YEARS?

If you will give a moment's thought to this question it will impress you as representing a very important part of the time allotted to most men. When you take 18 years out of man's life you take out more than one-third of the period usually known as "the earning period."

There is no trade, business or profession so exacting in its demands for qualifications for service as the Medical Profession.

To further visualize this point think what it would have meant to you to have taken away your earning power during any 18 years of your life.

Yet that is the average time a competent physician must put into preparatory work and study before he is eligible to enter the profession fully qualified to serve humanity.

When you call a physician who is qualified to add M. D. after his name, you know he has put in 18 years gaining his experience. In addition to his common and high school years he must attend college for at least 2 years, medical college for 4 years and also serve in a hospital.

Tradition and the ideal of service has established a schedule of fees that are the lowest in the universe for the character of service rendered. No skilled trade calls for so much preparation. But others insure a greater return — and most of the trades and professions also provide for a cash payment.

If human life is priceless, certainly the men who have given at great expense, eighteen of the best years of life to study that qualifies them to help us to retain and enjoy life, are entitled to fair consideration in the matter of receiving payment for service rendered.

Pay your physician promptly! If you can't pay cash the best you can do is to place his claim at as near as possible the top of the bills you will pay on the first of the month.

Pay Your Physician Promptly. Your Failure to Get a Statement Is No Excuse for Negligence.

$43,345,370 NET OF AMERICAN TOBACCO CO.

Net earnings of the American Tobacco company for 1930, after providing for all expenses of management, depreciation and taxes, amounted to $43,345,370, according to the annual report which will be mailed to stockholders today. Taxes paid to the Federal government alone were more than $150,000,000. These earnings, the largest in the company's history, represent an increase of 43 per cent over the net earnings of 1929 and amounted to $3.76 per share in 1930 as against $2.63 per share in 1929.

The increase in net earnings last year over the preceding year, was $13,116,165. This was more than twice the combined increase in earnings of the company's three principal competitors.

Dividends paid to stockholders on the common and common B stock, established a new high record of $2.82 per share. In addition, dividends of $3,161,982 were paid on the preferred stock.

With the notice of the annual meeting on April 15 there is being mailed to the stockholders today a complete statement as to what has been done in carrying out the stockholders' authorization given at their special meeting on July 28, 1929 for the sale of common B stock to employees.

In a letter to the stockholders accompanying the annual report, George W. Hill, president, says: "You will be interested to compare these earnings of $43,345,370 with the earnings of the company in 1911, eleven months of which passed before the numerous subsidiaries were manufactured. The most important competitive brands were separated from the parent company in accordance with the mandate of the Supreme court of the United States. In that year the earnings of the company for its preferred and common stock, including eleven months' earnings from the properties separated by the Supreme court were $30,633,314.

"In 1912 the first year after the dissolution, our net earnings available for dividends were $15,443,961, this figure dwindling by 1915 to $11,234,581.

"The history of the tobacco business during the past generation shows a constantly growing tendency toward cigarette. The recognition of this fact has been a broad decisive policy in the success of the present administration of your company."

It is pointed out that in 1929, the year Mr. Hill became president, the company produced only 20.14 per cent of all the cigarettes made in the United States. During the last five years, notwithstanding unusually active competition, the company's percentage of the total cigarette business in the United States has steadily increased to 33.10 per cent of the total in 1930.

Actual sales of Lucky Strike cigarettes, the company's principal brand, increased 6,219,000,000 in 1929 as compared with 1928. This was a greater increase by more than 5,500,000,000 cigarettes than all the cigarettes produced in the United States combined.

STAMFORD, MARCH 11.

Every correction suggested by the West Texas chamber of commerce for "Advanced Geography," textbook used in the sixth and seventh grades of Texas public schools, has been accepted by Rand McNally company, publishers of the book, and will be included in a reprinted edition now being made ready for the press.

This marks the second successful accomplishment in the effort of the WTCC to secure justice for Texas in the school books and officials of the organization are much gratified at the cooperation given the undertaking by the publishing concerns and by members of the Texas state textbook commission and board of education.

Corrections and changes presented by the regional chamber have already been made by the Macmillan company in "Elementary Geography," the fourth and fifth grade text. Now an effort will be launched to get similar corrections in all school geographies used in the United States.

Proof sheets of the pages in "Advanced Geography" on which the changes were requested have been received at the WTCC general office here and several that Texas, and especially West Texas, is much more fairly and accurately treated than in the heretofore distributed editions of the book. Now the student who uses "Advanced Geography" will be told that West Texas produces wheat, cotton, oil, gas, copper, gold and silver. Also he will learn that the use of power machinery is widespread in agricultural operations in West Texas and that the area has a large production of grain sorghum.

Texas Development. Further, the book will say that immense quantities of wheat are grown, mined and exported in Texas; that there has been a rapid development in western Texas and Oklahoma in recent years; that Texas produces nearly nine-tenths of the world's supply of sulphur and that the state ranks second in the production of rice.

On top of all the foregoing, the reprinted geography will give the "Great Plains" region of Texas credit for being one of the leading cotton growing regions of the United States—that matter will be stated as follows:

"Cotton grows best in the rich soils of the coastal plains of Alabama and Georgia, and in the coastal plain and portions of the great plains of Texas and in the Piedmont Belt south of Virginia and in parts of the rich alluvial plain of the Mississippi. This is the 'Cotton Belt,' from which comes most of the cotton grown in the country. Texas leads all the states in production."

The geography in its improved form, also recognizes Texas as a leading producer of citrus fruits, vegetables and other commodities which heretofore, has been credited to Florida and California only. None of those items have been in this book.

A question in the book which reads: "Why are there so few large cities in western Texas and Oklahoma? Why is this section less densely populated than Mississippi and Alabama?" has been eliminated and in its place this well now be asked: "What reason can you give for the rapid development of western Texas and Oklahoma? ALL DEMANDS FOR TEXTBOOK REVISION MET

STAMFORD, March 11. — Every correction suggested by the West Texas chamber of commerce for "Advanced Geography," textbook used in the sixth and seventh grades of Texas public schools, has been accepted by Rand McNally company, publishers of the book, and will be included in a reprinted edition now being made ready for the press.

This marks the second successful accomplishment in the effort of the WTCC to secure justice for Texas in the school books and officials of the organization are much gratified at the cooperation given the undertaking by the publishing concerns and by members of the Texas state textbook commission and board of education.

Keeping Up With the Boy Scouts

Rising Star Troop 15. Scout Wayne Sellers reporter for Troop 15, Rising Star, sends in an interesting report: Our troop had an election of officers with the following results: Charles Buoy — junior assistant scoutmaster, Charles Rutherford, senior patrol leader, T. J. Wilkinson, scribe, Travis Foster, Russel Day, H. O. Bostain and James Rutherford, patrol leaders.

Jack Embry who is the local manager for the West Texas Utilities Co., was introduced as the new assistant scoutmaster. Mr. Embry was formerly Scoutmaster of the Anglican Street Methodist church troop at Cleburne, Texas, and has been actively connected with troops at Quannah and San Angelo.

A most successful year is looked forward to by all the officials of the troop. (Thanks Wayne).

Breckenridge Troop 18. Troop No. 18 under the supervision of Assistant Scoutmaster Stanley Duvall took a hike Friday night. The troop has a form of grading the scouts on their camping accomplishments which Scoutmaster Banes reports is doing very good. Banes also reports that his scouts are keeping him and Duvall busy with their tests.

Troop 3, Eastland Troop 3, of which H. M. Conley is scoutmaster, boasts of having the largest troop treasury of any troop in the council. Which has been brought about by the scouts paying a weekly troop dues of 5c. When the troop wants to have a feed, get some wanted troop equipment they write checks—the Scribe Richard White draws the check for the amount wanted and this is countersigned by Scoutmaster Conley before the check is cashed. Once each patrol drew $5 to purchase material for a patrol project—one

LUCKIES are always kind to your throat

The advice of your physician is: Keep out of doors, in the open air, breathe deeply; take plenty of exercise in the mellow sunshine, and have a periodic check-up on the health of your body.

Everyone knows that sunshine mellow—that's why the "TOASTING" process includes the use of the Ultra Violet Rays. LUCKY STRIKE—made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED"—an extra, secret heating process. Harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos are expelled by "TOASTING." These irritants are sold to others. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

MAD MARRIAGE

LAURA LOU BROOKMAN Author of "HEART HUNGRY," etc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Gypsy McBride, 19-year-old typist, goes to meet the boat which brings Alan Crosby home from a year and a half in Paris. The couple are not engaged but there has been an understanding between them. On the pier the girl sees a beautiful woman waving to her. She says she is Mrs. Langley, a ship's acquaintance.

The couple drive to Mrs. Langley's rooming house where a liberation honoring the young girl has been prepared. Just as the dinner is to be served Crosby takes a telephone call and returns saying he must leave at once. He goes to Mrs. Langley's. In his apartment and agrees to attend a party with her. Two nights later Crosby breaks a dinner engagement with Gypsy, explaining he is spending the evening with business associates. Gypsy goes to the theater alone and encounters Mrs. Langley in the theater crowd. There is a scene. Mrs. Langley drives on in her car and Gypsy and Crosby get in a taxi, quarreling all the way. Next morning Miss Tuttle, office executive at MacNamara's, summons Gypsy for a private interview.

HOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VI

Gypsy collected the work on her desk and arose. "I'll come right up, Miss Tuttle," she said. "What was it that had gone wrong now? As well as get the deal over. Gypsy followed the older woman into the adjoining office. It was a tiny room with a desk, two chairs and a wooden trunk. It was always used for filing, discharging and for those reviews which gained impressiveness by the office executive's "Come into my private office."

Still puzzling over what could have happened Gypsy entered the room. "Close the door, will you?" Miss Tuttle said with what seemed dead brightness. "There had never been any great friendship between these two. Miss Tuttle six months previously had transferred from the bookkeeping department. She was thoroughly impressed with her own maintenance. The transfer was a promotion and Miss Tuttle had recently instituted "efficiency courses" — to the irritation of Gypsy and others accustomed to old routine. Clara Howard and one of the other typists had a preference by flattery. Gypsy, on the other hand, had a reputation for independence. "Sit down, Miss McBride," the older woman motioned toward the chair.

Gypsy sat down. And it was at that moment she realized what was coming. Those figures she had written Saturday — the directors' report — she had glibly checked them and now an error had been discovered. Her mind whirled as she thought of consequences. Miss Tuttle leaned back in her chair, folding her hands upon the desk. It was an attitude which Gypsy had never seen before. "How long have you been with the MacNamara Company?" she asked.

"Two and a half years." The older woman's nod was business-like. She had not asked the question for information. She had wanted to know how long Gypsy had worked at MacNamara's. "You are probably aware," Miss Tuttle continued, "that your record of service is longer than any of the other girls in this department?"

"Yes." "Why couldn't Tuttle break the news and be through with it? She was actually enjoying this detour." Evidently the discussion was not hurried. Miss Tuttle hesitated, cleared her throat and then went on: "One of the policies which I wish to enforce," she said, "is to advance upon length of service. It is, I believe, recognized that this makes for efficiency. You are in line for the next promotion."

Gypsy said nothing, waiting. "Mr. Reynolds's secretary is leaving the first of next week," Miss Tuttle continued. "I believe you can do the work and have recommended you for the place. Mr. Reynolds will give you some letters to test your speed at dictation this afternoon."

"There will be an advance of $2 a week after you have shown that you can do the work satisfactorily." Still Gypsy could hardly believe her ears. There was a pause. Evidently she was not to be hurried.

Crazy Crystals Are as Good or Better Than Recommended

Says Alabama Man

I have tried one package of Crazy Crystals and find it to be as good or better than you recommend it to be. I wanted it especially for my mother who has suffered from high blood pressure and persistent constipation for several years. She has not had a dose of any kind of medicine since she drank the first glass of water made from the Crystals and is very much improved.

tion improved her spirits. Gypsy, back at work, could scarcely wait for the afternoon to pass. She was suddenly herself again, energetic and eager.

At a little after three Mr. Reynolds was ready for the dictation. The girl took her stenographic pad and went to the office at the far end of the corridor. Reynolds was one of the youngest men in the organization. He was a nephew of a member of the firm. Gypsy had never spoken to him.

"She knocked at the open door and the young man at the desk looked up."

"Miss McBride?" he asked. "Won't you come in?"

Gypsy entered, took the chair he motioned toward.

"Miss Tuttle said you wanted to dictate," she said.

Reynolds nodded. He was a well set-up young man with pleasant blue eyes and lightish brown hair. He had the look of a man who likes outdoor activities. Without any delay he launched into the waiting correspondence. He dictated clearly, not too rapidly. There was no reason why Gypsy should have missed a word, yet when he had finished and she closed her notebook the girl knew she had written the words automatically.

"Leave the letters on my desk if I'm not here when you finish," Reynolds instructed.

Gypsy agreed. Then she hurried back to the other office to transcribe the notes.

She wrote the letters swiftly and was pleased with their appearance. There was no one in Reynolds' office when she laid them on his desk.

An hour and a half later, entering the door of Mrs. O'Hara's rooming house, she met Alan Crosby.

OKLA. HOLDS GIRL MURDER SUSPECT

Charges Filed Against 23 in Abilene Liquor Drive

20 SITES ARE SWEEPED BY NET OF OFFICERS

ABILENE, March 12.—Liquor charges were filed here this morning against 23 persons including 11 men, following the raiding here last night by department of justice agents and local authorities of 20 establishments. Three automobiles were confiscated by the agents.

All charges were on sale and the defendants face, in addition, complaints of transportation of liquor.

The city-wide sweep of suspected liquor law violators went off without a hitch, three squads of four officers each, armed with federal search warrants, splitting their calls

CONFISCATE STILL. Sheriff Vuge Foster, of Eastland, Deputy R. L. Wilson, of Cisco, and Deputies Steele Hill and Less Woods, of Eastland, raided three places south of Nimrod yesterday afternoon confiscating at one site a 60-gallon still and 200 gallons of mash.

No arrests were made by the officers.

of the 20 sites, returning their axes to officials waiting at the city jail and going out to "shake down" another joint.

The system with which the raids went off had its beginning some two weeks ago, when four prohibition agents from the department of justice entered the city at the call of local peace officers and lifted their secret work.

The federal men's complaints charged they bought whiskey from each of the defendants arrested; complaints giving time, place, amount purchased and the price paid. Every suspect held, officers reported, is charged with at least one sale, and some as many as five or four—all to prohibition agents.

Before the drive got under way, a department of justice men tried their efforts to obtaining evidence on transportation charges. Agents were telephoned to deliver to delivering a gallon each of one bringing a gallon and a box of the three—a Ford cabriolet, a Chevrolet sedan and a Chrysler—were seized.

Harry Thaw in Court Again

It was in a cheerful mood, joking with court attaches and spectators, that Harry K. Thaw, appeared at the retrial in New York of the suit filed against him by Mabel E. The millinaire playboy is shown in court, at left, with a girl companion who told inquiring reporters her name was "Mary Dimple". Miss Starnes who won an award of $15,000 at the first trial of the suit, is pictured at the right as she waited to testify.

"SOURCE" OF INFORMATION DENIES STORY

DALLAS, March 12.—Norman Register, district attorney's office employe, named by Edmund Barr, 25, Dallas Dispatch reporter, as the source of the now famous communist fogging story, this afternoon denied that he had given Barr the information.

The Dispatch quoted Register as telling Barr over the telephone this afternoon as saying:

"I'm in too precarious a position to say 'yes' or 'no.' Register denied the story to others.

Barr helped Register across the street to the grand jury room today.

"I'm sorry this happened," Barr told him.

"So am I," said Register, "but something had to come out.

Barr, jailed yesterday for refusing to tell the county grand jury where he obtained the information in a story of the abduction of two communists, was released today after telling the grand jury that the information was obtained from Register.

DUAL MEET AT EASTLAND WON BY MAVERICKS

Eastland's track team amassed more than two points to Cisco's one to win a dual meet at Eastland yesterday afternoon. The Mavericks, thirty chads accumulated 92 1-2 points which the Lobo squad accounted for 44 1-2 points.

The Lobos placed first in the 100-yard dash; 890-yard run and the 220-yard low hurdles.

The meet was featured by some exciting moments notable among which were the finish in the mile race and the relay. Tomlinson of Cisco led in the mile event by 20 yards up to the last few steps of the course when he was passed by Williams, of Eastland, who won by a yard. The final stretch was taken in a burst of speed that promised to end the race in a tie.

In the relay Cisco took an early lead of about 30 yards and kept it until the final lap when Barker, of Eastland, outran Jeter, winning by 10 yards.

The time on all events was slow because of a slow track. Sand on the north turns slowed the runner's stride.

"THE EYES HAVE IT!"... MENDEL'S LAW ON TRIAL

These are the brown eyes of George Langley which may or may not win him a fortune. The chart illustrates Mendel's law; at the left is Judge Michael Fineberg, hearing the case; right, Mrs. Carolyn Langley defendant by NEA Service.

Johann Gregor Mendel, an Austrian monk, 70 years ago made careful notes on how the characteristics of plants were handed down to their descendants. He set down his findings in studies of 'heredity' whose principles are famous as 'the Mendelian law', which likewise applies to heredity in animals and humans.

Now a Chicago court has been called upon to decide whether Mendel's law is correct.

For George Langley is asking that the will of Albert W. Langley, rich manufacturer, be broken, and that George be given a share in the $500,000 estate.

George Langley says he is the son of Albert W., by the latter's first wife. George has brown eyes.

But along comes Mrs. Mary Carolyn Langley, third wife of the dead manufacturer, who now receives the income from his estate. And Mrs. Langley testifies that both Albert W.

Mendel found that if brown eyes are dominant in the parents, all children will be brown-eyed. But not all the brown eyes of the children will appear in later generations. Conversely the same rule applies to blue-eyed parents.

Thus the Chicago court was given the difficult task of deciding legally whether the Mendelian law proves or does not prove that George Langley is the son of Albert W. Langley—and all by the color of his eyes.

PLEADS GUILTY IN FOUR CASES IN 88TH COURT

EASTLAND, March 12.—George Wright, charged with burglary and theft in connection with the robbery of the M. W. McMinn store at Olden, pleaded guilty in four charges, two for burglary and two for theft, before Judge Elzo Been of the 88th district court Tuesday afternoon and the jury assessed punishment in two years confinement in the penitentiary in each case.

Madalyn Day, tied in the 88th district court Tuesday afternoon on a charge of perjury, was found not guilty by the jury. The defendant was represented by Frank Judkins and Merritt F. Hines.

COMMISSIONER FILES SUIT ON COUNTY JUDGE

HOUSTON, March 12.—Commy. C. B. Massey filed suit today against County Judge R. H. Spencer for $100,000 alleging slander.

Contractor Fred Wedegartner of San Benito, also will file suit against Spencer he said today.

Spencer Tuesday, in a meeting with commissioners, charged that Massey sold for $5,000 the $120,000 Tabbs' Bay bridge contract which was awarded by a four to one vote of commissioners court to Dadds and Wedegartner.

COUNTRY CLUB STOCKHOLDERS ARE SUMMONED

Stockholders of the Cisco Country club will have an important meeting at the club house this evening at 8 o'clock, it was announced by W. W. Wallace, president of the club.

Mr. Wallace said that the attendance of every stockholder who can possibly be on hand is insisted upon.

MAN TAKEN FOR ROBBERY SUSPICIONED

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 12.—Joe Davidson, 55, was held here today as a suspect in the murder of Virginia Brooks, 10, near San Diego, California.

Davidson was arrested at Tulsa last Saturday. He was brought here today for investigation of a garage robbery.

Tulsa police reported the man had been seen on Tulsa streets with a 10-year-old girl shortly after Virginia Brooks disappeared. They said blood stained clothing had been found in Davidson's possession that fitted a girl of Virginia's description.

These facts were learned, police said, after Davidson had been brought here.

CALIFORNIA OFFICERS PUZZLED

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 12.—The third day of the search for the slayer of Virginia Brooks, 10-year-old school girl, whose body was left on the Camp Kearney mesa, found authorities facing a mystery that became more and more puzzling as the investigation progressed.

Only two suspects had been held for questioning, both were released and officers were left without a clue to guide them.

"CAP-IN-HAND" DEBT POLICY IS OPPOSED

By HENRY T. RUSSELL, United Press Staff Correspondent, LONDON, March 12.—Were the United States to propose relief of the world economic crisis by debt revision or moratorium, Britain would gladly enter into the necessary discussion; but it is not her place or policy to adopt the "cap-in-hand" policy, in the opinion of James H. Hudson, Parliamentary Secretary to the Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Labor Member of Parliament.

"We may or may not approve of the D-B-Fundings agreement reached between the United States and Britain," declared Hudson, "but whether we do or not, this agreement was signed by Britain and must be carried out. I cannot conceive of any leading British statesman, politician, crying over spilled milk."

Hudson who accompanied Philip Snowden to the now famous Hague Conference at which the British Chancellor fought with unexpected fierceness for a new British policy, recalled this trip:

"The Chancellor's stand at the Hague," he said, "was an indication that Britain was tired of the 'cap-in-hand' policy. There was no attempt to extract anything more from Germany, but merely a decision not to allow anything more to be extracted from Britain.

I believe that agreement should be carried out once they are signed. People who do not carry out their agreements cannot expect to be respected. That is one reason why I think Britain should pay her debt to the United States and why I am opposed to asking the United States to let us off in any degree.

"But that does not prevent me from saying that these payments of war debts and reparations are a danger to our economic situation. They are, indeed. Naturally, the transfer of some thirty million pounds of wealth per year from one part of the world to another, must entail formidable disturbances of trade channels."

TWO OPINIONS BY JUSTICE HOLMES.

Justice Holmes of the supreme court of the United States continued his judicial activities after celebrating his 90th birthday by handing down one of the three opinions delivered by the court. He ruled that an airplane is not a vehicle under the law and the theft of a plane not punishable under the national motor vehicle theft act.

Another famous ruling, or rather a dissenting opinion, in the not remote past by the 90-year-old justice should not be overlooked. It dealt with the impropriety of a judge officiating as grand jury, prosecuting attorney, and jury and executioner in the trial of a person adjudged guilty of contempt of his own court.

In other words Justice Holmes held that justice and not the judge is sacred. May he live forever.

AGED MAN STARVED SAVING NICKELS.

Anton Rekarok, late of Baltimore, was 73 when he passed out. He had been hoarding nickels for 10 years. He starved to death in his room. In a trunk, near the corpse, $2,110.98 in cash was found, and savings bank books showed deposits of $577.44. No trace of relatives could be found and the margin after funeral expenses will go to feed the unemployed.

IS THIS HEATHEN AMERICA?

Now the Home Missions Council of North America in a bulletin says that America has 10,000 villages without churches, 30,000 villages without resident pastors and 13,400,000 children under 12 "without benefit of religious instruction."

WHERE LAWMAKERS ARE FAR APART.

Texas lawmakers voted down a racing bill and hit the proprietors of Arlington Downs between the eyes. Licensed gambling was approved by the lower house of the Nevada legislature March 4 by a two-thirds vote.

PHILADELPHIA A VERY UNHEALTHY PLACE.

More than $100,000,000, about $50 per capita, is spent annually in Philadelphia for medical services, according to a bulletin issued by experts on cost of medical care in that city. It is said the first bathtub in America was set up in the home of a Philadelphia pioneer and the town burghers declared against its continuance as "a nuisance for the reason that a bathtub must be unsanitary."

A PHASE OF FARM RELIEF PROBLEMS.

There is a phase of the farm relief problem that should not be overlooked. Former Chairman Alexander W. Legge emphasized it many times. Read the Legge diagnosis: "The real difficulty the board has to contend with is the farmers' slowness in acting together for their own good."

OTHER OPINIONS

ANTIQUE STATUTES—It was Dickens who said "The law's an ass" but it takes a state legislature to prove it, and every legislature now in session will prove it on one or more occasions before adjournment in the spring. This will be accomplished in two ways by the passage of silly laws and by leaving on the statute books laws that should have been repealed long ago.

Tiptoeing Through the Juleps!

Did You Ever Stop to Think?

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma.

That the only business concerns that have become big successes are those who have used the aid of continuous advertising.

Every day in every way added evidence can be seen that advertised merchandise is enjoying wider preference among careful buyers.

Continuous advertising has developed, is developing and will continue to develop more business than any and all other sales methods ever used or thought of.

Advertisements are of deep interest to everyone who wants the best at the price. They tell you what is on the market and where to get it.

Advertising creates demand and has a wonderful drawing power. People will go out of the way to buy well advertised lines because they want the best and they know the best is the only kind that can stand the light of advertising.

Advertising brings the business to the business concerns. Continuous advertising of quality brings continuous business. Continuous business brings satisfying profits.

While visiting a neighboring city, I had to drive at a snail's pace, dodging children on bicycles. It seems that many of them defect the thoroughfares and always at an hour when traffic is most dense.

They constitute a real peril to those who use the roads in a decent manner, and the pity of it is that they do not seem to have the least thought for anyone but themselves.

Another terrifying proposition for the motorist are the young ladies and gentlemen who use roller skates. They dash down drive-ways into the streets, looking neither to the right or left and expect the motorist to keep out of their way.

There should be some way of keeping children from making playgrounds of public streets.

SANTE FE, N. M., March 12.—Widowed marriages are being under a bill introduced in the house of New Mexico's legislature. The bill declares against the performance of marriages between the hours of midnight and 6 a. m. and provides that guilty persons may be fined from $25 to $100. The bill adds, however, that such marriages shall be valid and binding for all purposes.

THIS WOMAN IN 4 WEEKS LOST 17 POUNDS OF FAT

Here's a letter written October 21, 1923, by Mrs. Fred Baringer of Lewistown, Montana, that ought to be read by every overweight woman in America.

Gentlemen: I started taking Kruschen every morning as directed as I was very much overweight and wanted to reduce.

I had tried going on a diet but would not last long, so I decided to give "Kruschen Salts" a fair trial. The day I started to take them I weighed 256 lbs., and at present, which has been just four weeks, I weigh 239 lbs. And I must say I feel better in every way, besides looking much better.

May all large people, both men and women, who want to reduce in an easy way, give Kruschen Salts a fair trial. I am sure it will convince anyone.

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts four weeks costs but 85c at any drug store in America. Take one half teaspoon in a glass of hot water, before breakfast every morning. To help reduce swiftly cut out pastry and fatty meats and eat light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar.

The Kruschen way is the safe way to reduce—Try one bottle and if not joyfully satisfied—money back. For sale by Moore Drug Co. and Dean Drug Co.—Adv.

HOW LONG IS 18 YEARS?

If you will give a moment's thought to this question it will impress you as representing a very important part of the time allotted to most men. When you take 18 years out of man's life you take out more than one-third of the period usually known as "the earning period."

There is no trade, business or profession so exacting in its demands for qualifications for service as the Medical Profession.

To further visualize this point think what it would have meant to you to have taken away your earning power during any 18 years of your life.

Yet that is the average time a competent physician must put into preparatory work and study before he is eligible to enter the profession fully qualified to serve humanity.

When you call a physician who is qualified to add M. D. after his name, you know he has put in 18 years gaining his experience. In addition to his common and high school years he must attend college for at least 2 years, medical college for 4 years and also serve in a hospital.

Tradition and the ideal of service has established a schedule of fees that are the lowest in the universe for the character of service rendered. No skilled trade calls for so much preparation. But others insure a greater return -- and most of the trades and professions also provide for a cash payment.

If human life is priceless, certainly the men who have given at great expense, eighteen of the best years of life to study that qualifies them to help us to retain and enjoy life, are entitled to fair consideration in the matter of receiving payment for service rendered.

Pay your physician promptly! If you can't pay cash the best you can do is to place his claim at as near as possible the top of the bills you will pay on the first of the month.

Pay Your Physician Promptly. Your Failure to Get a Statement Is No Excuse for Negligence.

BOY SCOUTS TO STAGE BIG KITE RODEO

Cisco Boy Scout troops one and four will stage a big kite "Rodeo" next Saturday at 2 p. m. to determine the champion kite-makers and flyers of the city. The rodeo will be staged out past the west end of Millard avenue near Pop-rock valley.

The events scheduled are: Fastest Climbing Kite. The contestants in this event will start in boats of four to six from a seven line and be allowed to run to another line about fifty yards away. The first boy maneuvering his kite to the height of the stationary kite or captive balloon (provided for the purpose) wins. Three places winning $3 and 1 point.

Smallest Kite. The kites in this event will be judged according to area of the smallest practical kite. It must fly continuously for at least five minutes. Three places.

Largest Kite. The same rules apply for this event as in the one for the smallest kite. Three places.

Balloon Bursting. In this event small gas-filled balloons will be released at intervals under the kites in which the contestants have attached pins or tacks. The object of the contest is to maneuver the kite so as to puncture the balloons and keep from tangling with the other kites. No points will be awarded in this event except in case of a tie in the other events.

Ribbons will be awarded contestants winning places in the different events and the troop winning the most total points will be given a trophy of a miniature of a uniformed Scout flying a kite. A supply of merit badge pamphlets will also be given to the winning troop.

Everyone is invited to view this demonstration of kite handling as done by the Boy Scouts.

48 BELLS FOR CARILLON

DURHAM, N. C., March 12. — The carillon to be installed in the new Duke university chapel will comprise 48 bells now being cast in Loughborough, England. The largest bell will weigh 11,200 pounds, with diameter of six feet, nine inches. The carillon is being given by George G. Allen and William R. Perkins, New York, close friends of the late James B. Duke, and will cost $70,000.

PLANS ROSE SHOW

PORTLAND, Ore., March 12. — Approximately 6,000 public school children will stage a spectacular exhibition of drills and maypole dances at the civic stadium as a feature of the annual Portland Rose Festival, June 11 and 12 this year. Her majesty, the queen of Rosaria, together with her seven princesses, again will be selected from senior girls of the eight co-educational high schools in Portland.

ACTING WAS REALISTIC

$43,345,370 NET OF AMERICAN TOBACCO CO.

Net earnings of the American Tobacco company for 1930, after providing for all expenses of management, depreciation and taxes, amounted to $43,345,370, according to the annual report which will be mailed to stockholders today. Taxes paid to the Federal government alone were more than $150,000,000. These earnings, the largest in the company's history, represent an increase of 43 per cent over the net earnings of 1929 and amounted to $3.56 per share in 1930 as against $2.49 per share in 1929.

The increase in net earnings last year over the preceding year, was $12,116,165. This was more than twice the combined increase in earnings of the company's three principal competitors.

Dividends paid to stockholders on the common and common B stock established a new high record of $29,292,933. In addition, dividends of $3,161,982 were paid on the preferred stock.

With the notice of the annual meeting on April 1st there is being mailed to the stockholders today a complete statement as to what has been done in carrying out the stockholders' authorization given at their special meeting on July 28, 1929, for the sale of common B stock to employees.

In a letter to the stockholders accompanying the annual report, George W. Hill, president says: "You will be interested to compare these earnings of $43,345,370 with the earnings of the company in 1911, eleven months of which passed before the numerous subsidiaries (now manufacturing the most important competitive brands) were separated from the parent company in accordance with the mandate of the Supreme court of the United States. In that year the earnings of the company for its preferred and common stock, including eleven months' earnings from the properties separated by the Supreme court were $30,633,314.

"In 1912, the first year after the dissolution, our net earnings available for dividends were $15,443,961, this figure dwindling by 1915 to $11,234,581.

"The history of the tobacco business during the past generation shows a constantly growing tendency toward cigarettes. The recognition of this fact has been a broad decisive policy in the success of the present administration of your company."

It is pointed out that in 1929, the year Mr. Hill became president, the company produced only 20.14 per cent of all the cigarettes made in the United States. During the last five years, notwithstanding unusually active competition, the company's percentage of the total cigarette business in the United States has steadily increased to 38.10 per cent of the total in 1930.

Actual sales of Lucky Strike cigarettes, the company's principal brand, increased 6,219,000,000 in 1930 as compared with 1929. This was a greater increase by more than 5,500,000,000 cigarettes than all the cigarettes produced in the United States combined.

being leathercraft, archery etc. It is interesting to watch Raymond Lovett senior patrol leader from the troop and assist the scoutmaster in carrying on the troop program. Boy leaders — men leaders tomorrow.

Patrol Leaders

A good patrol leader is enthusiastic, has unlimited faith in his boys and in the patrol.

He keeps moving himself, along the scout trail of advancement and inspires the rest of the patrol to come along with him, as fast as they can go.

He leads in scout spirit as well as in scoutcraft; sincerely tries to set a good example; for the rest to follow.

He does his best to understand his boys, to give them all the help and sympathy he can because he really cares for each and all of them from the depths of his heart.

Assistant Scoutmaster

Scoutmaster H. D. Chisholm has promoted and appointed Blair Brunley Clark to assistant scoutmaster of Troop 1, the oldest troop in the Oil Belt council. Blair has come up through the ranks, he was first registered as a scout in troop 2, Cisco, of which J. T. Maddux was scoutmaster, getting great deal of his early scout training under the leadership of Mr. Maddux, he continued on transferring to troop 1, receiving the eagle rank, being appointed junior assistant scoutmaster by Mr. Chisholm during 1930. All scouts in the oil belt rejoice in Blair's interest in wanting to see to it that other boys have the opportunity to gain from scouting what he has experienced.

Camp Training School for Leaders

A training school for leaders for the camps of Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico will be conducted at Worth Ranch, Palo Pinto, Texas, Fort Worth's Boy Scout Camp, April 13th to 18th inclusive. The faculty includes four national men in scouting: J. P. Freeman, national director of professional training, L. L. McDonald, national director of camping, Fred C. Mills, national director of volunteer training, the safety, Gunnar H. Berg, national director of volunteer training. The regional staff of Dallas. It is hoped that the oil belt council will be able to send a number of its prospective camping faculty to this school so that they will be better equipped to carry on a real camping program at Camp Martin this summer.

Another significant addition to the book is the picture of a wheat field near Lubbock, which shows three tractor-drawn combines harvesting the grain. This picture and the text explaining it indirectly calls attention to the difference between agriculture in west Texas and in other sections.

did this development effect their towns and cities?"

Statement Eliminated.

Another statement — "West of the 100th meridian and extending to the eastern foot of the Cordilleran Highlands is a dry region, but one not dry enough to be a true desert," has been cut out, as has one immediately following which told about the territory west of the 100th meridian being the home of that system of dry farming which was made up of the program of using two years' rainfall to make a crop every other year.

In listing southern resorts, seaports, important cities and places of tourist interest, the reprinted "Advanced Geography" will give Texas a "square deal." El Paso is now mentioned along with Asheville, N. C., as among the interesting and attractive places in the south. Corpus Christi is added to the list of "significant" ports and shipping centers, which has previously included only Savannah, Ga., Charleston, S. C., and Key West and Tampa, Fla.

The map carried in the geography up to now, which classed parts of the United States according to production and other parts according to physical characteristics, and in which all of Texas, west of the 100th meridian, was designated either as the Great Plains region or as the Arid Inter-mountain plateau, has been changed and now shows that a part of the cotton belt extends all the way across west Texas and that the panhandle area is in the winter wheat belt.

ALL DEMANDS FOR TEXTBOOK REVISION MET

STAMFORD, March 11. — Every correction suggested by the West Texas chamber of commerce for "Advanced Geography," textbook used in the sixth and seventh grades of Texas public schools, has been accepted by Rand McNally company, publishers of the book, and will be included in a reprinted edition now being made ready for the press.

This marks the second successful accomplishment in the effort of the WTCC to secure justice for Texas in the school books and officials of the organization are much gratified at the cooperation given the undertaking by the publishing concerns and by members of the Texas state textbook commission and board of education.

Corrections and changes presented by the regional chamber have already been made by the Macmillan company in "Elementary Geography," the fourth and fifth grade text. Now an effort will be launched to get similar corrections in all school geographies used in the United States.

Proof sheets of the pages in "Advanced Geography" on which the changes were requested have been received at the WTCC general office here and several that Texas, and especially West Texas, is much more fairly and accurately treated than in the heretofore distributed editions of the book. Now the student who uses "Advanced Geography" will be told that West Texas produces wheat, cotton, oil, gas, copper, gold and silver. Also he will learn that the use of power machinery is widespread in agricultural operations in West Texas and that the area has a large production of grain sorghum.

Texas Development.

Further, the book will say that immense quantities of wheat are grown and exported in Texas; that there has been a rapid development in western Texas and Oklahoma in recent years; that Texas produces nearly nine-tenths of the world's supply of sulphur and that the state ranks second in the production of rice.

On top of all the foregoing, the reprinted geography will give the "Great Plains" region of Texas credit for being one of the leading cotton growing regions of the United States—that matter will be stated, as follows:

"Cotton grows best in the rich soils of the coastal plains of Alabama and Georgia, and in the coastal plain and portions of the great plains of Texas and in the Piedmont Belt south of Virginia and in parts of the rich alluvial plain of the Mississippi. This is the so-called Cotton belt, from which comes most of the cotton grown in the country. Texas leads all the states in production."

The geography in its improved form, also recognizes Texas as a leading producer of citrus fruits, vegetables and other commodities, which heretofore, has been credited to Florida and California only. None of those items have been in this book.

A question in the book which reads: "Why are there so few large cities in western Texas and Oklahoma?" Why is this section less densely populated than Mississippi and Alabama?" has been eliminated and in its place this will now be asked: "What reason can you give for the rapid development of western Texas and Oklahoma?" How

LAURA LOU BROOKMAN Author of "HEART HUNGRY," etc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Gypsy McBride, 19-year-old typist, goes to meet the boat which is bringing Alan Crosby home from a year and a half in Paris. The couple are not engaged but there has been an understanding between them. On the pier the girl meets a beautiful woman waving to Crosby. He says she is Mrs. Langley, a ship's acquaintance. The couple drive to Mrs. Langley's rooming house where a celebration honoring the young artist has been prepared. Just as the dinner is to be served Crosby takes a telephone call and returns to say he must leave at once. He goes to Mrs. Langley's lavish apartment and agrees to attend a party with her. Two nights later Crosby breaks a dinner engagement with Gypsy, explaining that he is spending the evening with business associates. Gypsy goes to the theater alone and encounters Mrs. Langley in the theater crowd. There is a scene. Mrs. Langley drives in her car and Gypsy and Crosby get in a taxi, quarreling all the way. Next morning Miss Tuttle, office executive at MacNamara's, summons Gypsy for a private interview.

HOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VI

Gypsy collected the work on her desk and arose. "I'll come right up, Miss Tuttle," she said. "What was that that had gone wrong now? As well as to get the deal over, Gypsy followed the woman into the adjoining room. It was a tiny room with only space for Miss Tuttle's desk, two chairs and a wooden chest. It was always used for typing, discharging and for those reviews which gained impressions by the office executive's ink. She came into my private office, smiling over what could be called Gypsy entered the room. "Close the door, will you?" Miss Tuttle said with what seemed odd brightness. "There had never been any great friendship between these two. Miss Tuttle six months previously had transferred from the book department. She was thoroughly impressed with her own importance. The transfer was promotion and Miss Tuttle had indignantly instituted "efficiency courses" — to the irritation of her and others accustomed to the routine. Clara Howard and one of the other typists had a preference by flattery. They, on the other hand, had a reputation for independence. "Sit down, Miss McBride," the woman motioned toward the chair.

Gypsy sat down. And it was at that moment she realized what was afoot. Those figures she had read Saturday—the directors' report—she had failed to check them. Her mind whirled as she thought of consequences. Miss Tuttle leaned back in her chair, folding her hands upon the desk. "It was an attitude which I had during the interview had begun. How long have you been with MacNamara Company?" she asked. "Two and a half years."

The older woman's nod was business-like. She had not asked the question for information. She had known exactly how long Gypsy had worked at MacNamara's. "You are fully aware," Miss Tuttle continued, "that your record of service is longer than any of the other girls in this department?" "Yes."

Why couldn't Tuttle break the news and be through with it? she actually enjoying this decision. "I don't care if you really love me, you'll do it!" "A man will do anything for the woman he loves."

There will be an advance of $2 look after you have shown that you can do the work satisfactorily. Gypsy could hardly believe ears. There was a pause. Evidently the discussion was not hurried. Miss Tuttle hesitated, cleared her throat and then stated: "One of the policies which I wish to enforce," she said, "is to advance upon length of service. It is, I believe, recognized this makes for efficiency. You are in line for the next promotion."

Gypsy said nothing, waiting. Mr. Reynolds' secretary is leaving the first of next week," Miss Tuttle continued. "I believe you do the work and have recommended you for the place. Mr. Reynolds will give you some letters to test your speed at dictation this afternoon."

Why, Miss Tuttle—you mean there will be an advance of $2 look after you have shown that you can do the work satisfactorily. Gypsy could hardly believe ears. There was a pause. Evidently the discussion was not hurried. Miss Tuttle hesitated, cleared her throat and then stated: "One of the policies which I wish to enforce," she said, "is to advance upon length of service. It is, I believe, recognized this makes for efficiency. You are in line for the next promotion."

tion improved her spirits. Gypsy, back at work, could scarcely wait for the afternoon to pass. She was suddenly herself again, energetic and eager.

At a little after three Mr. Reynolds was ready for the dictation. The girl took her stenographic pad and went to the office at the far end of the corridor. Reynolds was one of the youngest men in the organization. He was a nephew of a member of the firm. Gypsy had never spoken to him.

She knocked at the open door and the young man at the desk looked up.

"Miss McBride?" he asked. "Won't you come in?"

Gypsy entered, took the chair he motioned toward.

"Miss Tuttle said you wanted to dictate," she said.

Reynolds nodded. He was a well-set-up young man with pleasant blue eyes and lightish brown hair. He had the look of a man who likes outdoor activities. Without any delay he launched into the waiting correspondence. He dictated clearly, not too rapidly. There was no reason why Gypsy should have missed a word, yet when he had finished and she closed her notebook the girl knew she had written the words automatically.

"Leave the letters on my desk if I'm not here when you finish," Reynolds instructed.

Gypsy agreed. Then she hurried back to the other office to transcribe the notes.

She wrote the letters swiftly and was pleased with their appearance. There was no one in Reynolds' office when she laid them on his desk.

An hour and a half later, entering the door of Mrs. O'Hara's rooming house, she met Alan Crosby.
