Administrations have sloganized failures will repeat themselves with their programs for the future in Prosperity," "The New Frontier," and, more recently, "The Great Society." Developed in the recent Presidential campaign was Mr. Nixon's "Bring Us Together" "Forward Together." Whether this will continue to identify his Administration remains to be seen.

From all indications, the new Administration will be low-keyed insofar as innovations are concerned, with nothing glamorous or sensational planned for the immediate future. Presumably efforts will be made to appraise our country's present situation and to gear actions accordingly. This appears to be wise and is obviously needed.

The Dodo Bird is supposed to fly backwards, interested only in where he has been and not caring where he is going-dumb bird they say. On the other hand, he may be at least half right.

How can we really tell which way we are headed and what lies front if we ignore conditions created by where we have been. We need to look to our failures and admit them. Politically, we are inclined to look at success and be blinded to all else.
