Exploration Is Scheduled For Borden

MGF Oil Corp. of Midland will attempt to re-open Strawn production and extend Ellenburger production in the Dunigan field of Borden County with the scheduling of four projects, about nine miles northeast of Gall.

All are scheduled to 8,900 feet and are in section 29, block 30, T-6-N, John H. Gibson survey.

No. 1 Robert P. Leiby Jr., 3/4 mile southwest of the depleted Strawn opener, and 3/4 mile southwest of Ellenburger production, spots 1,900 feet from north and west lines of the section.

No. 2 Robert P. Leiby Jr., also 3/4 mile southwest of the original Strawn opener, and 3/4 mile south of an Ellenburger well, spots 1,900 feet from north and east lines of the section.

No. 3 Robert P. Leiby Jr., one mile southwest of the Strawn strike and 3/4 mile southwest of Ellenburger production, spots 1,900 feet from south and west lines of the section.

No. 4 Robert P. Leiby Jr., 1 1/2 mile southwest of the Strawn discovery and one mile southwest of Ellenburger production, is located 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of the section.

All the projects are separated from Ellenburger production by depleted producers. The field has three current Ellenburger wells.

The Strawn discovery, completed in 1958, potential for 173 barrels of 40.3-gravity oil daily, from pay at about 8,442 feet.

Schleicher Gas Area Site Slated

Gulf Oil Corp. has filed application to drill No. 1 Lizzie McAngus as a 7,200-foot Canyon project, 2,300 feet north of a two-well undesignated Pennsylvania gas area of Schleicher County, about six miles northwest of Eldorado.

Location is 660 feet from south and 2,173 feet from west lines of section 54, block 12, GC&SF survey, abstract 1259.

Tucker Drilling Co., Inc. of San Angelo, in August, completed its No. 1 Page Brother as a commingled Canyon "A" and "D" strike for 3.8 million cubic feet of gas daily, through perforations at 4,543-4,558 feet, and at 6,825-6,844 feet. Potential test was not filed with the Railroad Commission, however, until Dec. 11, the same day Gulf Oil Corp. announced completion of its No. 1 Lizzie McAngus, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 13.8 million cubic feet of gas per day, through Pennsylvania perforations at 6,566-6,742 1/2 feet.

Gaines Probe Set; Field Draws Site

Texaco Inc. will attempt to re-open Mississippi production in the Block A-7 (Devonian) pool of Gaines County with the re-entry and plugging back from 11,165 feet to around 10,900 feet at No. 2 M. S. Jones, former Devonian producer, 24 miles northwest of Seminole.

Location is 800 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 12, block A-7, PSL survey, 3/4 mile southeast of the depleted Mississippi opener.

The discovery, Texaco Inc. No. 2 H. E. H. Jones, filed Nov. 2, 1960 for 210 barrels of 40-gravity oil per day, from pay at about 10,448 feet.

NEW COLLEGE CAMPUS, BETTER OIL, GAS PRICES—
Outlook Bright For Tall City

By WAIN MILLER

A college campus... the first stage of another skyscraper... more industrial plants... new department stores... additional motels, apartments and houses—these are some of the things already on the drawing boards for Midland during 1973. However, the potential "main event" of the year for Midland and the entire Permian Basin will not be so obvious.

Observers now are confident that oil and gas prices will become more realistic during the months ahead, clearing the way for both additional exploration in West Texas and, perhaps more significantly, additional improvement projects in existing fields.

New industrial diversification here notwithstanding, Midland's economic heartbeat still depends largely on the fate of the petroleum industry.

And higher prices at the well-head for oil and gas would be a big shot of adrenalin for the economic well-being of the area on a scale possible in no other way. Alone, the developments already viewed as probable here during the next 12 months are enough to make for another very good year from the economic viewpoint for the Tall City.

And still other progress not yet announced also can be expected.

But bricks and steel alone do not a great city make.

There will be concerted efforts to improve the lot in life of every Midlander.

These will take many forms: an activity center for senior citizens... additional pre-school educational opportunities for youngsters... a stronger community-wide push for attracting more customers to Midland stores, shops and service firms... more legal aid services for the indigent... improved health care and better recreational facilities for all, to name a few.

Expediting College Plans

Typical of the way Midland can be expected to move forward during the 364 days ahead will be the Jan. 9 appointment of a nine-member board of regents for Midland College and the board's scheduled immediate action to complete plans and commence construction for the $5.1 million MC campus recently approved by voters.

City of Midland officials, meanwhile, are expected to finalize recommendations for doing something to solve problems at Midland Air Terminal and Midland Air Park—problems happily caused by growth in the use of the facilities.

The city council also will be making decisions regarding other matters, including the need for a major street paving program to bring the rest of Midland out of the mud—or dust—and to smooth rough spots in some existing traffic arteries, and an expected request for putting Cole Park Zoo where it can be enjoyed by more Midlanders and visitors.

Midland Independent School District trustees, who will appoint the college regents, have said they will make a decision later in the year on what to do about plans for an indoor sports facility, and the Objectives for Midland recommendation that all schools be air conditioned.

Among Texas Legislature topics for 1973 which may have implications for Midland will be another attempt at reaching

U.S. Broadens Bomb Halt To All Of North Vietnam

SAIGON (AP)—The United States today broadened its halt in the bombing of the Hanoi-Haiphong heartland to include all of North Vietnam.

U.S. officials indicated that the bombing cessation from the 20th parallel 200 miles southward to the demilitarized zone is one of short duration in connection with a 24-hour South Vietnamese cease-fire at dusk Monday. A unilateral 24-hour Viet Cong cease-fire ended just after noon.

The U.S. bombing halt above the 20th parallel, which includes Hanoi and Haiphong, is in effect indefinitely, tied to the resumption of secret peace talks in Paris scheduled Jan. 8.

Pyongyang's official Hsinhwa news agency reported early Monday a series of statements attributed to captured American pilots. The statements depicted the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

One F4 pilot, identified as Maj. Carl Herbert Jefcoat, was quoted as saying "U.S. leaders must take all measures to put an immediate end to the war" in Vietnam.

Another, Lt. Col. William Walter Conlee, was quoted as saying: "We observed a row of shops and living quarters which have been bombed and also a hospital which has been badly damaged, and we observed a school that has been bombed heavily."

Hungary's MTI news agency said Jefcoat was a lieutenant, however, and said he was from Mississippi. It gave Conlee's home state as Illinois. Other prisoners named were Lt. Paul Louis Granger and Lt. Col. John Harry Yull, both B52 pilots. Their hometowns were not given.

Many Violations Reported

The Saigon command reported more than 5 score of violations at the halfway mark of the New Year cease-fires. The command said five government soldiers were killed, five missing and 36 wounded. Two civilians also were reported wounded. North Vietnamese and Viet Cong losses were put at six killed.

The heaviest fighting was reported in Quang Tri Province in the northern quarter of South Vietnam and in Tay Ninh Province, about 45 miles northwest of Saigon. The Saigon command said North Vietnamese troops hit government positions with 600 artillery and mortar shells and followed up with ground assaults.

There were no attacks reported against American forces.

Traditional holiday cease-fires, which always are unsupervised, have been taken in nature and meaningless in effect, since each side always charges the other with scores of violations.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Comedienne Imogene Coca was seriously injured in a traffic accident near here today and placed unconscious aboard a plane for New York City.

SAIGON (AP)—President Nguyen Van Thieu is sending two special emissaries to Europe, North and South America and Asia to seek support for his position that South Vietnam is a separate state from North Vietnam, it was reported here tonight.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon held a victory celebration at the White House today for George Allen, coach of the National Football Conference champion Washington Redskins.

Midland's First '73 Baby Arrives Early

After another full day of football today—and the trip home from holiday visits for some—on a more serious note as several Midland churches conducted watch night services featuring special music, prayer, communion and other activities.

Otherwise, the changing of the guard from 1972 to 1973 was relatively uneventful with the police blotter showing few incidents.

The New Year's Operation Motorcycle still has its most dangerous "going home" hours to come before midnight, and by noon the Midland district of the Department of Public Safety had reported one fatality Saturday in Martin County.

The second long weekend holiday in as many weeks ends for most Midlanders today and stores, offices and institutions will re-open for business.

The holiday for students in public, private and parochial schools extends until next Monday, but public school teachers will go back to work Tuesday for in-service training.

And for all, it's a time for making New Year's resolutions with firm conviction—and breathing a sigh over the unkept ones from last year.

Policewoman Trainee Shoots, Kills Assailant

CHICAGO (AP)—A man once charged in a series of rape cases was shot and killed early today by a trainee policewoman after she was abducted by him, police said.

Robert Ellis, 36, was shot four times in the chest, according to police.

Police said Ann Leybourne, 25, reported that a man approached her as she was leaving her car and ordered her back into the car at gunpoint.

The man drove to a parking lot and began to reach toward Miss Leybourne, who shot him with a .38-caliber revolver she kept in her purse, police said.

The man knocked the gun out of her hand and she reportedly shot him three more times with his own gun, according to police.

A man known to police as the "Friday Night Rapist" struck on five successive Friday nights on the city's Near North Side in 1970.

Armed Men Rob Midland Grocery Of $2,800 Plus

Two men—at least one of them armed—escaped this morning with more than $2,800 after robbing the E-Z Way Grocery Store at 1101 E. Scharbauer Drive.

Police are searching for two Negro men in their mid-20s, 180 to 200 pounds each and both wearing black overcoats. One had an Afro hair-do and the other had a goatee. Det. Sgt. Gayle Reeves was told.

Herman York, owner of the store, did not pay much attention to the two men when they entered the store about 7:20 a.m., he said.

He was busy counting receipts collected since Friday.

One of the men walked to the counter with bread and milk and when York started to check out the groceries the man said something like, "I'll just take it all," York told police.

The owner said the men got away with $2,844. He told police he did not hear a car after the men fled the store.

He said he saw only one gun, a small-caliber revolver.

Rain, Snow, Cold Usher In New Year

The new year was ushered into Texas today by light snow in the Panhandle and showers across about the southern third of the state. Wind warnings flew along the coast.

Moisture was expected to spread through most other sections by tonight or Tuesday.

A late-morning forecast from the National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal predicted colder temperatures for tonight and Tuesday with a 50 per cent chance of the city receiving freezing rain and light snow.

Skies are expected to be cloudy this afternoon with light, cool winds and a 40 per cent chance of Midland getting occasional rain before nightfall.

The high this afternoon should be in the low 40s with a low tonight in the upper 20s. The high on Tuesday is expected to be in the middle 30s.

The high reading at Terminal for the final day of 1972 was 55 degrees. The overnight low this morning was 33 and the noon temperature was 36.

Official observers warned that snow mixed with rain might cause hazardous driving conditions in parts of the Panhandle-Plains sector by this evening.

Snow covered much of an area embracing points near Dalhart, Glendon, Silvertown and westward into New Mexico early in the day, and another belt 20 miles wide stretched westward from northwest of Lubbock.

Rain-fall was scattered through areas from around Laredo, San Antonio, Austin and

Extra Copilot Aboard Plane May Be Able To Tell Events

MIAMI (AP)—An extra copilot may be the last living link to what happened in the cockpit of an Eastern Air Lines jumbo jet moments before it crashed in the murky Everglades, killing at least 97 persons.

Federal officials say First Officer Warren Terry, 38, who was not a regular crewman on Flight 401 but was listed on the passenger list as an observer, may have been in the cockpit when the plane crash-landed in the swamp 17 miles northwest of Miami Friday night.

Terry, who joined Eastern Aug. 29, 1966, was listed in "poor condition" early today at Palmetto Hospital in Miami. His injuries were not disclosed, but officials said he was unable to talk.

"If he was in the cabin, he is the last living link to what happened there," said Ed Slattery, a National Transportation Safety Board official.

Terry was believed to be riding in the "jump seat" located behind the pilot seats on the flight deck of the Lockheed 1011. Slattery said NTSB investigators had not been able to establish where he was when the plane crashed, however.

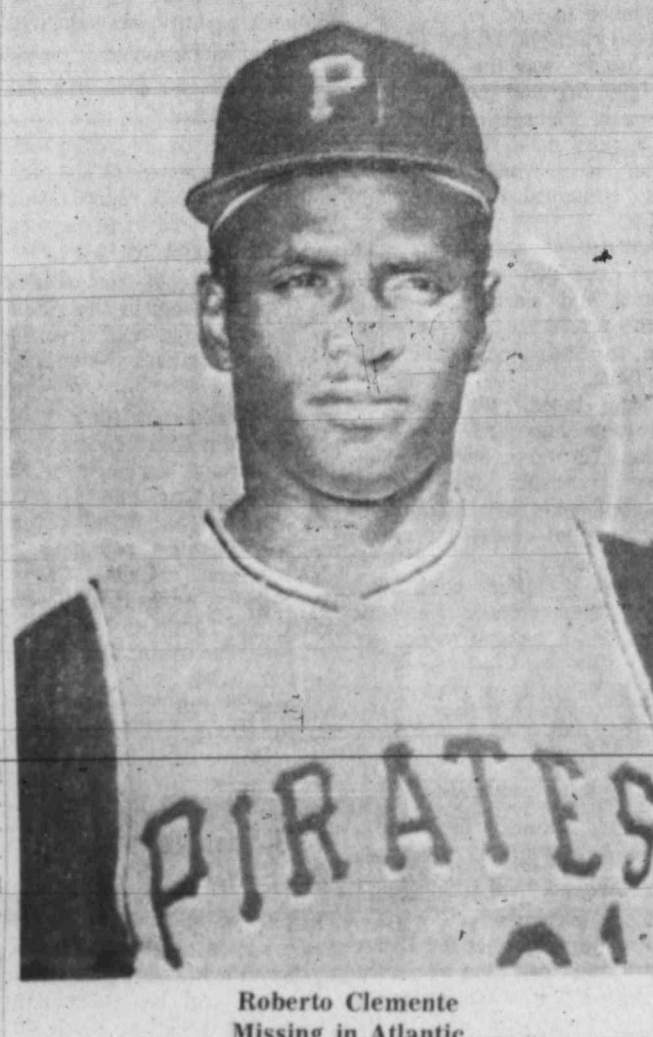

Eastern spokesmen couldn't immediately say why Terry was on the plane, and federal officials said they didn't know either.

Meanwhile, Eastern Air Lines tentatively announced 97 of the 178 passengers and crewmen aboard were killed and 80 others survived.

One person was unaccounted for, an Eastern spokesman said. He said last-minute ticket changes made it difficult to determine who was on the plane when it left New York for Miami.

John H. Reed, chairman of the NTSB, said tapes of the conversations among crew members before the plane went down indicated there was no awareness of danger before impact.

Ranch Electrical Mishap Kills Midland Youth, 14

Robert C. Johnson, a 14-year-old Midland eighth-grader, was dead on arrival at an Odessa hospital at noon Sunday. He was electrocuted about two hours earlier while moving irrigation pipe on the Marion Flynt Ranch No. 6 near Goldsmith.

The accident occurred about 10 miles north of Goldsmith when the Johnson youth and another man touched the pipe they were carrying against some electrical wires on the ranch.

Charles Shire, 37, of Gardendale suffered electrical burns on both hands and feet in the accident and was listed in satisfactory condition at Odessa's Medical Center Hospital at 10 a.m. today.

Johnson was a student at Goddard Junior High School.

He had been working on the Flynt ranch during his holiday vacation.

He was born Dec. 1, 1958, in Burbank, Calif. and moved to Midland with his parents in 1958 from Olin, Ill.

Johnson was active in working with horses in Midland and was a member of the Midland County 4-H Club.

San Francisco Braces For Predicted Thursday Quake

SAN FRANCISCO (NEA) — Fear of when the next earthquake will strike is something people here have learned to live with, but that usually low-key apprehension is building these days.

That is because a strange, desert-dwelling recluse once widely known as the "Earthquake Prophet" has predicted the next big quake will be Thursday at 9 a.m.

Reuben Greenspan says the earthquake will hit with a magnitude of 7.4 on the Richter scale, compared with the 8.2 tremor of 1906 which devastated the city.

Astrologers, mystics and assorted crackpots in sandwich signs regularly predict the impending doom of San Francisco, but Greenspan's forecast is getting serious attention.

"As an informed layman and something of a scientist, it looks pretty good to me," said Dr. William Kautz of Stanford Research Institute, who has been conducting sophisticated computer studies of Greenspan's quake theory.

"I finally convinced myself the guy knows what he is talking about," agreed Sheldon Ruderman, an engineer and doctoral candidate at the University of California at Berkeley.

Greenspan's theory maintains that earthquakes are triggered when the sun and moon are aligned in such a way as to exert unusual gravitational pressures on earth faults, causing them to buckle.

Seismologists — who say the next big tremor is just a matter of time — nonetheless smilingly dismiss Greenspan's theory as one which extensive research has shown is without merit. They say there is no way at present to predict quakes.

The only people who do, says Jerry Eaton, head of the U.S. Office of Earthquake Research and Crustal Studies, "are using methods so unconventional they really don't qualify as science."

Greenspan, 68, made his forecast of doom for San Francisco 22 months ago in a newspaper interview in Santa Ana, Calif. He might have been immediately dismissed as an ordinary crackpot except for one thing.

In that interview, Greenspan also predicted to reporter John

Blackburn that just four days hence a major quake would strike the San Fernando Valley. That was the Sylmar tremor which killed 65 people and did $500 million in damage on Feb. 8, 1971.

"He was accurate to within three minutes," Blackburn said. "I'll be honest with you, it scared the bejesus out of me."

Blackburn recalled that when he spoke to Greenspan afterward, "He seemed pleased that he had called it, but not joyful. It was like, 'Gee, Mom, I did it.'"

Greenspan gained his reputation for prophecy in 1935 when he was writing letters to newspapers forecasting future earthquakes with what seemed like uncanny accuracy.

The New York Times admiringly said at the time, "In the Middle Ages, anyone like Mr. Greenspan would have been burned at the stake as one who was in league with the forces of evil."

Seismologist Malcolm Clark has gone back over the earthquake records for that year, however, and concludes that Greenspan's reputation was unfounded. "He was predicting for huge areas and the seismic events that did occur were minor," he said.

Carl Payne Tobey, a Tucson, Ariz., astrologer who writes a syndicated column about the stars, provided one of the first clues about the basis of Greenspan's method for predicting quakes. Tobey knew Greenspan in 1935 when his fame was widespread.

"I respected his request at the time when he asked me not to say his work involved astrology. 'The scientists will have nothing to do with me if you say I am using astrology,' he told me," Tobey recalled.

Greenspan, however, angrily denies that. "My theory is not astrology. I don't know one thing about astrology or mysticism." That denial is the last anyone has heard from Greenspan, who lives on the desert near Death Valley.

Just before he dropped out of sight, there were published reports casting doubt on his claim to have received a Ph.D. from a Chicago university and to have once taught at a university in New York. Nevertheless, just about everyone you talk to here either plans to be out of town Thursday or knows someone who intends to.

Sam Sween, manager of the United Medical Laboratory in suburban San Mateo, says all one hundred of his employees have asked to take the day off. "I can't let them all go," he said mournfully.

If Thursday comes and goes without a seismic shiver, Greenspan will be batting 0 for 2 as far as San Francisco is concerned.

Twenty-one years ago, he predicted that the city would be shaken apart by a major earthquake on June 10, 1951. It never happened.

what I have found on this tape or any other tape that an emergency situation existed," Reed said. He said no words of alarm were exchanged as the plane banked to make a second landing attempt at Miami International Airport.

The first landing approach was aborted when a control panel light indicated incorrectly that the front landing gear had not gone down.

Capt. Robert A. Loft's last radio transmission said the gear was down and he wanted clearance to land.

Reed said one of the life-saving factors was the absence of a major fire and the cushioning effect of Everglades mud. Investigators said there was a minor fire which apparently was extinguished by swamp water.

Federal investigators said they examined the hydraulic, control and electrical systems at the crash site and were unable to find mechanical malfunctions.

Voice tapes, air-traffic-control recordings and Automatic Radar Terminal Service computer readouts are being analyzed and may be able to indicate what caused the crash, Slattery said.

However, Slattery said, studies of that evidence won't be complete for several weeks.

Nixon To Focus On Middlemen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration plans efforts to boost the food supply and to stress price controls on food middlemen in the fight against rising food costs, Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz says.

Shultz remarks Sunday emphasized the administration view that food is the economic area most resistant to President Nixon's anti-inflation program, which seeks to limit inflation to around 3 percent.

Shultz was interviewed on the ABC radio-television program "Issues and Answers."

ers, Hank Aaron of the Atlanta Braves and Willie Mays of the Mets have attained the 3,000-hit circle.

Later, the right-handed batter said, "I was just glad to get the hit, period. I give this hit to the fans of Pittsburgh and to the people of Puerto Rico."

He said he had been embarrassed by the standing ovation. "I feel bashful when I get a big ovation. I am really shy, and so is my family. I never was a big shot, and I never will be a big shot."

Man Found Dead At Big Spring

BIG SPRING — Larry Baldock, 19, was found dead in his home at Big Spring at 8 a.m. Sunday.

A ruling on the cause of death is pending an inquiry by Howard County Justice of the Peace Walter Grice.

Funeral services for Baldock will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Birdwell Lane Baptist Church, with interment in Trinity Memorial Park directed by the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Baldock was born March 30, 1953, at Coleman. He moved to Big Spring in 1955. He served in the U.S. Army from 1969 through 1971.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Baldock of Big Spring; two brothers, Louis Baldock, stationed with the Army at Fort Hood, and Ronnie Earl Baldock of Big Spring; five sisters, Mrs. Betty Louise Atkinson, Shirley Darlene Baldock, Gracie Diane Baldock, Kathy Sue Baldock and Gwendolyn Baldock, all of Big Spring; and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. ## Four Persons Die In Headon Collision

AUSTIN (AP) — Two cars collided head-on late Sunday night on a farm road east of Austin, killing four persons and injuring another five. All the dead were residents of Elgin, about 25 miles east of Austin.

The dead were Johnny Jones Sr., 52; Johnny Jones Jr., 28; Kenneth Jones, 5; and Charles Tenor, 28.

The four fatally injured were thrown from their car and rolled over after the crash.

One of the five injured was in critical condition.

Front Brings Welcome Warmth To New England

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A warm front of tropical air pushed far to the north early today, bringing fog to the southern parts of New England and unaccustomed warm temperatures on the first day of the new year.

The temperature at Binghamton, N.Y., reached 59 degrees, matching a 1965 record. New York City basked in 54 degrees, and Philadelphia hit 62 degrees.

A lingering cold front caused scattered showers in the Atlantic Coast states, and freezing rain iced northern New England.

Cold air and snow flurries approached the Great Lakes.

Very strong, northerly winds pushed cold air into Nevada and California. Wind gusts reached 57 miles per hour in the Chino, Calif., area.

Travelers' advisories were posted for Southern California, including the desert, because of the high winds.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from -6 at Grand Forks, N.D., to 74 at Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Some other major items on the Tall City agenda for 1973 include:

—Renovation work soon on the first 100 houses for Midland Housing Authority, which is expected to begin rentals to low-income residents in March.

—Announcement soon of at least two new installations at Midland Industrial Park, as well as the beginning of a concerned effort by Midland Area Sales Team and the Industrial Foundation of Midland to attract higher-salaried "fabrication type industries" to the city. Industrial recruiters also will seek a textile mill which could use water to be available by the end of the year from the City of Midland's $2.8 million water pollution control plant now under construction.

—Beginning of utilities relocation this month in preparation for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.'s $13-million, seven-story long distance switching center in Downtown Midland. The building might grow to 20 stories in years to come, Bell said in announcing plans for the project.

The four fatally injured were thrown from their car and rolled over after the crash.

One of the five injured was in critical condition.

New King Sector Gets Well, Site

The Twin Peaks (upper Strawn) field of King County gained its seventh producer and a location southeast extension with completion of Taubert, Steed, Gunn & Medders, of Wichita Falls, No. 4-W S. B. Burnett Estate, about 17 miles southeast of Guthrie.

On 24-hour pumping potential test, it produced 175 barrels of 36-gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio of 200-1, through perforations at 5,151-5,166 feet, which had been acidized with 10,000 gallons.

Location is 1,600 feet from south and 2,000 feet from east lines of section 26, block F, H&T survey.

Site Scheduled

The same firm will drill No. 7-W S. B. Burnett Estate as a 1/2-mile northwest stepout to the same field.

It has a depth objective of 6,000 feet and is located 1,320 feet from south and 710 feet from east lines of the northeast quarter of section 27, block F, H&T survey.

Miss America On Honeymoon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Miss America 1972 and her new husband are honeymooning in the South Sea islands.

The former Miss Laurie Lea Schaefer was married here Saturday night to John Miles Lurie in a candlelight ceremony attended by about 800 persons.

After their honeymoon cruise, the Luries intend to return to the United States in time for the presidential inaugural ball. They will live in the Columbus area.

FIRST TO ARRIVE—Mary Louise Jones was the first baby of 1973 in Midland. The 6-pound, 7-ounce newcomer arrived at 5:54 a.m. today in Midland Memorial Hospital. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones, 2016 E. Hickory St. The nurse is Mrs. Mary Davison.

Airline Industry Still Facing Major Woes In 1973

By VERN HAUGLAND

WASHINGTON (AP) — Air traffic was on the upswing in 1972, but the airline industry still had major problems. Airline executives worried about huge equipment expenses, ballooning labor costs, a proliferation of airport head taxes, and the soaring cost of air security.

The Air Transport Association estimated the earnings of the 10 domestic trunk airlines at $225 million, compared with $78 million in 1971, and a loss of $52 million in 1970.

The association estimated that under present trends, earnings might rise to $250 million in 1973, then decline to $90 million in 1974 and revert in 1975 to a loss of about $50 million.

The rate of return on investment was estimated at 6.2 percent, only about half of the 12 percent figure the Civil Aeronautics Board has declared would be fair and reasonable.

The airlines boarded some 390 million passengers, a 10 percent increase over the 174 million of 1971. Revenue passenger miles increased from 135 billion in 1971 to about 150 billion.

During the year the airlines took delivery on 60 wide-body jets — Douglas DC10s, Lockheed L-1011s and Boeing 747s — costing around $1 billion.

"Although traffic is booming, the airlines are concerned that if it doesn't continue to increase they may have trouble paying for the huge increase in capacity," a spokesman said.

"They have to maintain ability to handle the growth in traffic if it continues as it did in the 1960s, but it takes a big chunk of revenue to pay for the aircraft."

Vetoes Bills

President Nixon vetoed legislation which, among other things, would have outlawed imposition of head taxes on the airlines by airports and state and local agencies. Cities promptly began looking into this possible new source of revenue, and by the end of the year at least 16 cities were charging head taxes of $1 to $3 on each passenger boarding an airliner at the local airport.

The Aerospace Industries Association reported sales of aircraft, missiles and space vehicles at about $22 billion, roughly at the same level as in 1971. A sharp three-year decline in employment in the aerospace industry leveled off at slightly more than 500,000 employees — with the record of the three previous years during which more than 500,000 employees — about one-third of the aerospace work force — were dropped from the industry's payroll.

In the field of light aircraft, ranging from small single-engine aircraft up to the $3.5-million Grumman Gulfstream II executive jet, sales by the end of October, $339 million, already had exceeded the entire production for 1971 totaling $321 1/2 million. The number of units increased from 7,466 in 1971 to around 8,000. These totals were still well below the all-time records of $584 million in 1969 and 15,768 units in 1966, the General Aviation Manufacturers' Association said.

Two airline mergers were approved by the CAB, with Delta absorbing Northeast and Allegheny acquiring Mohawk. The board ruled against a merger of American and Western. The board also disapproved acquisition of Caribbean-Atlantic by Eastern, but President Nixon returned that ruling with a request that other means of permitting the $10.4-million transaction be considered.

In the international field the CAB withdrew a proposed crackdown on British Overseas Airways Corp. after the British government canceled restrictions it had imposed on National Airlines' Miami-London services.

CAB Active

The CAB's enforcement bureau also was active both in the international and the domestic areas, proceeding against clubs and travel consolidators and some airlines accused of violating charter flight regulations.

The board approved a 2.7 percent general increase in passenger fares, ordered an investigation of joint fares for trunk and local air services, and set up new rules restricting the amount of credit that may be offered by the airlines to political candidates.

The board also proposed that airlines be required to set aside non-smoking areas in their planes. The CAB started an investigation to determine whether airline baggage allowances were obsolete, and to find out whether passengers were being treated fairly when flights were oversold.

The Federal Aviation Administration moved ahead with improved handling of air traffic control. By the end of the year all of the 84 automated radar terminal systems on order had been delivered to provide controllers with direct radar readout of such vital flight data as aircraft identity, altitude and ground speed.

Similar progress occurred in automation of the 20-air route traffic control centers which handle instrument flights between the terminal areas. At all 20, basic computer systems had been installed and were in use for automatic processing and distribution of flight plan information.

In the area of air security, stringent new regulations were adopted requiring the airlines and airport operators to establish comprehensive security programs to keep potential hijackers off airplanes.

In addition, nine contracts totaling $2.7 million were awarded for 2,300 passenger screening devices, and two contracts totaling more than $380,000 for development of new concepts for automatic detection of firearms and explosive devices in luggage and handbags.

With the encouragement of the FAA, the airlines introduced new get-em-higher-profiler departure procedures, to reduce jet noise for airport communities.

The industry was notified of proposed rules to require newly produced airplanes of the older types to comply with strict noise standards.

Two major manufacturers — Boeing and McDonnell Douglas — received $9-million cost-sharing contracts to determine the feasibility of installing noise-reduction devices on various existing jets. The FAA set proposed supersonic transport engine noise levels, and also proposed rules governing airline fleet noise levels.

Reduce Emission

An FAA-industry program to reduce smoke emissions from intermediate-range jets was substantially completed during the year. More than 95 percent of the aircraft affected by the program were put through engine-modification programs to achieve this.

The FAA imposed new airworthiness rules for transport aircraft, to improve passenger protection and to increase the survivability of emergency landings. The FAA also tightened safety standards for operation of large jet-powered multiengine aircraft by companies and other general aviation users, and required truth-in-leasing clauses for leases and conditional sales contracts for transport aircraft.

The FAA also proposed rules to upgrade pilot training and certification requirements, and tightened rules for handling hazardous materials on aircraft.

Additionally, the FAA launched a program under which all airports served by the airlines must be certified to FAA safety standards by May 21, 1973.

Britain Surrenders Her Economic Independence Today

By CARL HARTMAN
LONDON (AP). — Britain surrendered a thousand years of economic independence to join Europe's Common Market today, but there were signs many in the island nation and on the mainland viewed it as just another historic milestone. A survey showed British public opinion divided over the prospect of lost sovereignty and higher prices. The poll found 39 per cent liked the move, 38 per cent opposed it and 23 per cent had no opinion.

Not everyone on the continent marched to the tune of "Zukunftsmusik," German for "Music of the Future."

"The competition will be fierce and perhaps not very pleasant at first, but it's bound to be good for this country in the end," said George Dowling, 58, a North London businessman.

"Lots of people I know are worried that Britain is going to be bossed from Brussels," said Robert Wheatley, 22, a bank clerk from a London suburb. "That's probably not true, but many of my friends don't like even the possibility."

Western Europe and the United States. U.S. farmers long have attacked the old Common Market for keeping down imports of American products. Now Britain must adopt these measures, too.

But higher farm prices are good news in Ireland and Denmark, where farmers make up a large proportion of the eight million population. Only about four per cent of the 55 million Britons still are down on the farm.

Manufacturing tariffs go down April 1, but the cuts are spread over five years, so the first ones will amount to only two or three per cent on most products.

The present rate of inflation in Britain could boost prices by that much between now and April.

Besides, importers tend to take a tariff reduction as an additional profit rather than pass it to their customers.

In Italy, a value-added tax goes into effect today amid fears it will bring higher prices as it has in other Common Market countries. Britain starts later in the year.

The West Germans and French have been talking about the advantages of a joint attack on inflation, but what they expect to accomplish is unclear.

Fish Rain From The Sky? 'We Saw It Happen'

By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The man who told his wife he saw fish falling from the sky was not crazy; neither was he lying.

In the summer of 1926, I caddied at a local golf course. There had been a long drought that summer and the fairways were brown and dried up.

One afternoon while I was caddying, a sudden storm came up and a terrific thundershower followed. Rain came down in torrents, and with it came a shower of tiny frogs about the size of nickels. They were alive and jumping all over, thousands of them!

The golfers and I couldn't believe our eyes as we watched thousands of frogs come right down with the rain from the sky. We saw it happen.

WM A. WALKER

boy I remember a storm coming up. It looked serious so we all ran to the cellar. In 40 minutes it was all over.

Afterwards, we went outside and saw our chickens going wild, eating tiny fish and frogs. We were inland at least 10 miles, so the only explanation was that a tornado had sucked them up out of a stream and had dumped them on our farm. This is not a fish story. I saw it with my own eyes.

FLOYD J. McMANUS,
LAGUNA BEACH, CAL.

DEAR ABBY: I lived on a farm three miles from Ashland, Wis. A storm came up suddenly and afterwards I saw little tiny fish in the cowtracks around our barn. I'm no kid, Abby. I am 80 years old.

RICHARD HAGSTROM,
ZIG ZAG, ORE.

DEAR ABBY: Here I have gone all my 70 years without writing a letter to a columnist, but now Dear Abby has finally smoked me out. I can't sleep until I help out that poor devil whose wife thinks he needs to see a shrink because he said he saw it raining fish!

He may have. In some areas, summer storms are preceded by twisters which are in reality tornados that suck up an immense amount of water from a stream or pond, and with it all the life that is in it. It's converted into a "waterspout" and carried for miles before it's deposited in a shower of rain.

If anyone doubts this, write to me, and I'll spin some wonderful yarns about flying saucers.

F.C. MILLER,

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine named Ed Brady heard something strike the roof of his home during a severe rain storm, and the next day he found a big eel in his rainbarrel. He lived half a mile from the river. This occurred at Oquaga, N.Y. Ed Brady still lives there and can verify it.

DEAR ABBY: Of course it could have rained fish. It rained HERRING in Scotland in March of 1817. The "herring rain" lasted about an hour, and this is no fish story.

Nixon Invites Redskins Coach To White House

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon added to his image as a rather secretive loner on New Year's Eve by flying back to Washington from Camp David, Md.

News men and photographers who had gone to the Maryland mountains Thursday, when Nixon flew to his hilltop retreat, had expected him to stay there throughout the holiday weekend.

His departure, minutes after he watched on television as the Washington Redskins captured the National Football Conference championship from the Dallas Cowboys, prompted speculation that he must have invited old friends to an unannounced White House party.

However, acting Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said he knew of no party plans for the chief executive, or of any guests expected at the White House Sunday night.

Warren did disclose that after returning to the capital, Nixon telephoned congratulations to Redskins Coach George Allen and invited the coach to bring his family to the White House this morning.

Otherwise, said Warren, Nixon had no formal holiday appointment schedule for today. He said Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, Nixon's Vietnam peace negotiator, is not due back from a California vacation until Tuesday.

Mrs. Nixon, meanwhile, had left earlier for California to participate in today's year.

been brief, he flew to New York for a weekend of theater-going and strolling, went out to dinner a few times during stays in Florida, and flew to Independence, Mo., last Wednesday to lay a wreath before the casket of former President Harry S. Truman.

In four years, Nixon has made speeches and met the press, but not as frequently as other recent presidents. His 1972 campaign was notable chiefly for its brevity—and its success.

Often described as a rather shy man, the President prefers to make big decisions after studying written reports and memoranda, rather than after engaging in verbal debate.

He has said he can work best at Marine-guarded Camp David, where he can make certain he will not face unwanted interruptions as he studies his option papers alone.

Midland Group Plans Caravan

Several events are planned in coming days for members of the Midland chapter of Parents Without Partners.

The organization plans a "caravan" visit to the rodeo at Odessa Wednesday night. All PWP members and their children interested in joining the caravan are asked to be at the Super Bowl at 3920 W. Wall St. at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday is a pizza party at Shakey's in Odessa.

Sunday, a skating party for members and their children is planned. The event will be at 3 p.m. at the Super Roller Rink on W. Wall Street.

Parents Without Partners is an international organization for single parents. The Midland chapter No. 32 maintains an action schedule of meetings and social events throughout the year.

California College Student Dies In Prank By Fraternity Brothers

NEWHALL, Calif. (AP) — A 21-year-old Southern California college student described by his father as "a Momma's boy" died at the base of a 500-foot wilderness cliff, the victim of a prank by fraternity brothers. The dead man was identified by relatives as Fred Phillip Bronner, a student at Pierce College in the San Fernando Valley. His body was recovered Sunday in rugged terrain in Angeles National Forest. Sheriff's deputies said he was last seen Dec. 22 by three Chi Chi Chi fraternity brothers who left him in the forest at 2 a.m.

joined a fraternity because of hazing practices. "I hope all the fraternities will be closed down because of this," Mrs. Bronner said. "How can they take my son from his bed at two in the morning and leave him in the mountains? They call themselves brothers but they are not." Sheriff's deputies said they did not know what charges, if any, would be filed in the case. "If Bronner went voluntarily (the fraternity members) are only guilty of stupidity," a sheriff's spokesman said. A missing-persons report was filed by three fraternity members six days after Bronner was deserted. Gordon Gillespy, 19; John Bergess, 29, and John Morgan, 21, said they thought Bronner would hike along the Old Ridge Route back to Interstate 5, where he could hitch a ride. Investigators said the three returned on Dec. 24 to search for Bronner but found only his jacket. Authorities speculated that Bronner could have seen automobile headlights and set out across the hills before he fell over the cliff. Deputies said the young man probably died of massive head injuries suffered in the fall.

'TOO MUCH SOCIALIZING'— Woman To Leave Post As College Town Mayor

COTATI, Calif. (AP) — Annette Lombardi, one of three radical candidates who won election to the city council last April, says she is resigning as mayor of this small college town.

"Being mayor involves too much socializing and politicking," she said during the weekend. She has three months left of a one-year term.

Miss Lombardi, 25; Geoffrey Dunham, 29, and Stephen Laughlin, 25, won three of five council seats running as a "radical" slate, and Miss Lombardi was elected mayor. All three were former students at Sonoma State College.

"Stopping the destruction of the environment here isn't what I'd call radical," said Miss Lombardi. "But the developers think it's pretty radical."

Arkansas Collision Kills Four Texans

GURDON, Ark. (AP) — State police reported four members of a Texas family were killed here Sunday in a two-truck collision at the junction of Interstate 30 and Arkansas 53.

The victims were identified as James O. Sandusky, 30, of Bay City, Tex.; wife Rose Marie, 26, and their children Mark, 4, and Mary, 8.

Officers said the family's truck, driven by Sandusky, was attempting to pull onto the roadway when it was struck by a tractor-trailer driven by John Langford, 44, of Lancaster, Tex.

The Sandusky vehicle crashed into an underpass pillar and burst into flames.

U.S. Starts '73 With Population Of 210,194,312

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States started the new year with a population of 210,194,312, the Census Bureau has estimated.

The bureau said Sunday that the net gain in population during 1972 was 1.6 million—a slowdown from 1971's 2 million and 1970's 2.2 million. The largest annual net increase was 3.1 million in 1956.

The estimate includes the populations of the 50 states and the District of Columbia, the armed forces and federal employees overseas and their dependents living with them.

Death Takes No Holiday On Texas Streets, Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

One of the New Year's first holiday deaths in the nation helped to swell the weekend holiday toll from violence in Texas today.

The tragic figure climbed to 46 fatalities for the period which started at 6 p.m. Friday and will end at midnight today, including 36 on streets and highways plus 10 from gunfire.

Police in Wichita Falls reported a small sports car ran off a service road in the city's industrial district, flipped end over end, throwing out Richard L. Stover, 19, and crushing him to death about 12:01 a.m. today.

Young Stover was a Midwestern University student from Petrolia, Tex. A seat belt held a companion, William Frey, 17, of Henrietta, in the car and saved his life.

Another of the latest victims was Deputy Sheriff Carroll Copeland, 36, of Shamrock in the Texas Panhandle. Fellow officers said Copeland caught two men who failed to pay for gasoline and, after a high speed chase, was shot in the head. They arrested two young men who fled across the state line into Oklahoma and said one of them was wounded three times before Copeland fell.

These were among the other late death reports:

Robert K. Zelle, 22, of Nashville, Tenn., died Sunday night at Baylor Hospital in Dallas of injuries suffered four hours earlier when his car hit a bridge abutment. The accident happened on Interstate 30 near Sulphur Springs.

Two cars collided head on late Sunday night on a farm road east of Austin, killing four persons and injuring another five. All the dead were residents of Elgin, about 25 miles east of Austin. The dead were Johnny Jones Sr., 52; Johnny Jones Jr., 28; Kenneth Jones, 5, and Charles Tenor, 28. The four fatally injured were thrown from their car as it rolled over after the crash. One of the five injured was in critical condition.

Robert Coleman, 8, of Beaumont was struck and killed by an automobile Sunday about three miles north of Beaumont on the old Silsbee highway.

Police reported Marcus Artega, 30, of Brownwood died Sunday night as his car, moving at high speed, hit another vehicle parked on a city street.

William H. Palmer, 28, of Oklahoma City and his daughter Tia Michele, 3, were killed in a three-car pileup Sunday northwest of Houston on Interstate 45.

Alfred A. Svonek, 46, of Austin died Sunday as he was struck by a car three miles west of Bastrop on Texas 71.

A two-car crash at the intersection of an interstate 45 feeder road and a Houston street claimed the lives of Mattie Belle Pettey, 77, and Cates Ford Pettey, 26, both of Houston.

A rifle discharged Sunday while Onecimo Ruiz Jr., 14, of Houston was hunting near Hallettsville and killed him. His father told officers the weapon went off accidentally while the youth was checking it.

Police said Terry Lee

McMiller, 22, was shot and killed Sunday night when, after he refused to help another man start a car, a girl fired at him and, as relatives were starting to a hospital with him, her male companion ran to McMiller's car and also shot him.

Robert Lee Houston, 80, of Bartonville was killed early Sunday in a one-car accident on Farm Road 407 in Denton County.

El Paso Fatalities

Apolinar M. Fiero and his 2-year-old daughter, Deborah, were killed in El Paso late Saturday night when their car was involved in a broadside collision at an El Paso intersection.

Tomas Gutierrez, 21, of Dallas was killed early Sunday when his car left Farm Road 837 and overturned. The accident occurred five miles west of Frankston in Anderson County.

Robert Louis Person, 22, of Houston was killed when his car hit a curb and overturned early Sunday. The accident occurred on a Houston street.

Car-Truck Collision

Lawrence C. Baugh, 62, of South Amana, Iowa, was killed Saturday night as his car and a truck collided in the Texas Panhandle east of Shamrock on U.S. 66. He had been working for a construction firm on a pipeline project near Shamrock.

Terry Glenn Harrison, 15, of New Caney died Saturday in Montgomery County Hospital at Cleveland of gunshot wounds. Officers said the accidental shooting occurred Saturday at the Harrison home.

Carrie Miller, 78, was killed at Glidden in Southeast Texas Saturday night when he was struck by a car on U.S. 90.

Ruby Jean Gibson, 16, of Borger was killed Saturday night in a two-car collision on Texas 176. The accident occurred about two miles west of Borger.

William T. Goodwin, 45, of Pasadena was killed Saturday night when a pickup truck hurried off a road about four miles north of Longview.

Juan Chavez, 63, a San Antonio service station operator, was shot to death during a robbery at his station Sunday. Police sought two suspects.

Rudolfo Flores, 16, of New Braunfels was killed Saturday night when the car in which he was riding struck a bridge rail over him. The accident occurred on IH 35 about three miles south of New Braunfels.

Jack Rowland, 67, of Dallas was struck and killed by a truck and car as he walked across Central Expressway in Richardson Saturday night. He was critically wounded in the shooting, police said.

Margarito Garcia, 64, of New Braunfels was killed Saturday night when a car which had been in an accident suddenly lurched forward and struck him. The accident occurred on a New Braunfels street.

Dallas detectives said Dale Trees, 26, of Midlothian was killed in a shotgun shootout at Mrs. Roma Lex, 46, of Boerne died Saturday night following a three-car accident in which she was critically wounded in the shooting. The accident occurred on Texas 46 about two miles west of Boerne.

New Year Off To Grim Start In Divided Island Of Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A young engaged couple was found sprawled dead in a ditch today just across the border in Ireland, making a bloody start for the new year on this divided island.

Both victims — Oliver Boyce, 25, and Breede Porter, 24, his fiancée — had been shot in the head, police said. They were found lying face down in the ditch beside a lonely lane.

Farmer Reports Shots

Irish police said they found the shooting victims after a farmer reported hearing shots about 2 a.m. outside his home near the Donegal village of Burnfoot.

The killings came only three days after a rash of bombings on the Irish side of the border killed two persons and wounded 15.

In Northern Ireland today, there was a flurry of shooting and bombing, and the outlawed Irish Republican Army vowed worse violence in the months ahead.

The last day of 1972 claimed the last death of the year. A 56-year-old Catholic baker, Hugh Martin, was found shot dead in his car Sunday morning in Belfast.

As bells chimed out the old year in the battered British province, gunfire broke out in the Ardoyne and New Lodge Roman Catholic districts of Belfast.

Belfast. One man was shot and seriously wounded.

A bomb wrecked a garage at Newton Butler, County Fermanagh, and three gasoline bombs were thrown through the window of a Catholic home in Bangor, County Down. There were no serious casualties.

Four people were wounded in Belfast late Sunday night when gunmen ambushed a bus carrying Catholics and sprayed it with bullets.

Just before midnight Sunday, army and police headquarters reported that 469 people had been slain in 1972, bringing the death toll since the present troubles began in 1969 to 680. That is 14 more than were killed in the Irish civil war of 1922.

The figures underscored the escalation of the violence since it began in civil-rights protests by the minority Catholics and grew into full-scale guerrilla war waged mainly by the Irish Republican Army.

In 1971, only 173 lives were lost, compared with 25 in 1970 and 13 in 1969.

Friends, Neighbors Hold Martin Memorial Rites

HILLSBORO, Tex. (AP) — Friends and neighbors paid final respects to Texas Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin today in a memorial service at the First Presbyterian Church in Hillsboro.

The funeral service Sunday at a Covenant Presbyterian Church in Austin was attended by several hundred mourners, including prominent present and former state officials and employees. Burial was in the Martin, who held public office for two dozen years as a state senator, secretary of state and attorney general, died at age of 56 Friday during his last working day as attorney general. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Among those at the Austin rites Sunday were former Gov. and U.S. Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally and his wife, Gov. Preston Smith, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Chief Justice Joe Greenhill of the Texas Supreme Court and a number of other high officials.

Martin was elected to state senator in 1948 after serving two years as mayor of Hillsboro, his home town, and left the Senate in 1963 to become secretary of state under Connally. He was elected attorney general in 1966, then re-elected in 1968 and 1970.

Two Fires Cause Heavy Damage

Two fires caused heavy damage to two buildings — one a home and the other a barn — Sunday.

The home fire was at 2411 W. College St., residence of LaVonne Squid and owned by Andy Macha. The barn, which belonged to Bob Duncan, was on Cottonflat Road, about half a mile south of Interstate 20.

Firemen were called to the house fire at 10:46 p.m. and worked at the scene for more than an hour.

There apparently was no one at home when the fire started. Cause of the fire is undetermined, firemen reported.

Fire damage was heavy in one bedroom and a closet and the remainder of the house had heavy smoke and heat damage.

The call to the barn fire was received at 2:05 p.m. and firemen stayed at the scene about 45 minutes.

The small wooden barn and the hay stored inside were heavily damaged, firemen said.

The barn is believed to have caught fire from a trash fire burning nearby, firemen said.

Retired General Russell Dies At 83

One Felon Dead, Two Back In Jail After Escape Try

HOUSTON (AP) — Two men were back in jail today and a third was dead after they tried to break out of the Harris County Jail at knifepoint.

Harry Lanham, 25, a convicted murderer, was fatally wounded by a deputy sheriff as he tried to stab the officer Saturday night.

The other two men, James Earl Arivette, 28, and James Winters, 18, were back in jail within an hour.

Sheriff's Capt. Larry Frazier said jailer Walter S. Corney was transporting the men on a jail elevator when Lanham were back in jail today and a third was dead after they tried to break out of the Harris County Jail at knifepoint.

Ballroom Ceiling Collapses, Injures 60-70 At Phoenix

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — An estimated 60 to 70 persons were injured when a section of a false ceiling collapsed at a downtown ballroom packed with some 500 persons welcoming in the New Year, police said.

A spokesman at Memorial Hospital said one person had been admitted for treatment of head injuries and was listed in "fairly serious condition."

Most of the injured suffered minor cuts and bruises, said spokesmen at Memorial and other hospitals where the injured were taken.

A 20-by-80-foot section of acoustical tile and insulation fell to the dance floor at Emma's Ballroom seconds before midnight Sunday, patrolman Dennis W. Gilbersten said.

"We were told that the loud music from the band, coupled with the cheering of the crowd, may have caused the ceiling to collapse," Gilbersten said.

There Lanham grabbed Deputy James Nickle and forced him to accompany the three men down a fire escape. But Nickle managed to break away from Lanham, ran back to his office, snatched a pistol out of his desk and shot Lanham just as the prisoner tried to stab him.

The wounded prisoner died an hour later while undergoing surgery. He was shot in the chest.

Lanham was convicted last October in the brutal rape-murder of Linda Faye Sutherland, 21, and given a 25-year sentence. Miss Sutherland was abducted from a parking lot, raped, thrown off a bridge and killed with a shotgun.

Arivette, who was recaptured on the jail parking lot, was being held on kidnapping and armed robbery charges. He was sentenced in Wyoming in 1969 to a 90-year term in the shooting of a Pasadena girl, Kathleen Anette Callier, 14, whom he had allegedly kidnapped and forced to accompany him to that state.

Arivette told officers after he was recaptured that the other two prisoners had forced him to accompany them.

Winters was recaptured about 45 minutes after the jailbreak as he attempted to hide in the waters of nearby Buffalo Bayou. He was jailed after his 10-year probation sentence for auto theft had been revoked.

It was the second escape attempt for Winters. He stayed free for four days last October after breaking out of another Harris County jail.

Inflation Still Lurks As Problem For Nixon Economical Planners

By BILL NEIKIRK
WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's economy is expected to continue its fast-paced growth in 1973, but the rate of inflation lurks as a major problem for President Nixon's economic policymakers.

Publicly committed against raising taxes, Nixon faces some important economic decisions in the next 12 months centering around keeping federal spending under rein.

Congress also will play an important role. If it should pass a major tax reform bill or step up the pace of federal spending, the impact on the economy would be profound.

The economic outlook is for continued recovery. Both private and government economists forecast a rise of about 6 per cent in the market value of goods and services in terms of noninflated or "real dollars." Prices are expected to go up about 3.5 per cent.

Outlook Close

The outlook is remarkably close to what is actually occurring in 1972, but with one major difference. The economy doesn't have as much slack as it did at this time last year. This means that the continuation of high growth must trigger new inflationary pressures.

The administration is considering the problem, realizing that there is always a tradeoff between unemployment and inflation. It must decide how fast it wants the economy to go to make further gains against unemployment without touching off a new round of inflation.

Forecasts for the jobless rate in 1973 vary among economists, but most bunch their outlooks in the 5 to 5.2 per cent range. The rate at the end of the year stood about midway between 5 and 6 per cent. Full employment is usually thought of as a 4 per cent unemployment rate.

There is evidence, however, that President Nixon's economists believe that it might be too risky to go all out to cut the jobless rate to 4 per cent through further stimulation of the economy. This might set off an inflationary boom that would take years to bring under control, the argument goes.

Another Factor

There is an additional complicating factor in 1973. It is a year in which many large labor contracts will be negotiated.

The administration is holding out hope that workers will demand moderate wage increases this year. Nixon's economic officials have been arguing that the demands for higher wages should be less in 1973 than in 1972 because of a slowing of the rate of inflation.

But holding wage boosts to 5.5 per cent, the standard adopted by the Pay Board, may be difficult in 1973, particularly if the Consumer Price Index keeps going up as sharply as it did in September and October.

Price Commission Chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. has urged employers to refrain from paying any more than 5.5 per cent. The commission doesn't allow companies to include wages over 5.5 per cent as part of the costs that must be used to justify price boosts.

Labor unions have a counter argument. They can point to the recent price indicators showing a possible renewing of inflationary pressures. The psychology will be important.

Sets Target

The Nixon administration set as its target for wage-price controls a slowing of the rate of inflation to the range of 2 to 3 per cent by the end of 1972. All the evidence won't be in until mid-January, but the figures released late in the year showed a rate closer to 3.5 per cent.

The effectiveness of wage-price controls probably will be debated for years. Grayson believes they have trimmed inflation by as much as 1.5 per cent from what the rate might have been without controls. The Brookings Institution agrees with this conclusion.

The Economic Stabilization Act under which Nixon imposed controls on Nov. 14, 1971, expires officially April 30, 1973. Congress must extend the law, or the controls must be dropped.

The President has committed himself to keeping them until relative price stability is achieved.

That phrase has never been defined.

Nixon ended uncertainty about his attitude on continuing wage-price controls, announcing early in December he would ask Congress for an extension of the Economic Stabilization Act which expires April 30.

The President left in doubt how long an extension would be sought as well as any proposed changes. But he did relay through Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz word that a modified control system would be established before next April 30. This presumably will be long-awaited Phase III.

Not to be pushed into the background by the emphasis on controls is the administration's efforts to control federal spending. For the fiscal year that ends next June 30, the President wants to keep spending to $250 billion, but he must withhold several billion dollars voted by Congress to achieve this goal.

The fiscal 1974 budget that will be submitted to Congress in a few weeks will be an austere one, officials in the Office of Management and Budget indicate. Just the same, it will be difficult to keep the budget from being a tool for triggering inflation.

The budget deficit for fiscal 1973 is expected to approach $30 billion. In fiscal 1974, the administration will try to hold it under that amount.

But the important thing is whether the budget is in deficit on a "full-employment" basis, the guide Nixon has been using in his spending program.

As Nixon's officials describe it, this means holding spending to a theoretical limit: the amount of money the nation's tax system would produce if the economy were operating at 4 per cent unemployment. This means deficits in bad or slack economic times. It means surpluses in good or relatively good times.

But if the budget ever goes beyond this theoretical ceiling, it is considered to be inflation-inviting fiscal policy. The outlook for fiscal 1973 and fiscal 1974 is for two full-employment budget deficits unless tighter spending controls are adopted.

Democratic economists believe the administration is overly concerned with this problem at this time, saying the economic recovery that began in late 1971 has yet to bring the nation full prosperity. They say the Republican administration can't stand enough of a good thing.

The months ahead also will determine how Nixon's new economic setup will work. He has in effect demoted his Council of Economic Advisers and installed Treasury Secretary Shultz as an economic czar in over-all charge of domestic and international economic policy.

While the domestic economy usually gets most of the attention, international economic policy will be more crucial in 1973 than ever.

It is a year in which the United States and 124 nations will be negotiating a new world monetary system which will determine economic relationships for perhaps two decades. Final agreement could come as early as September, when the International Monetary Fund holds its annual session in Nairobi, Kenya.

The United States will be pushing for fairer rules governing changes in currency values of nations. Long troubled with balance-of-payments deficits, mainly because of its role in rebuilding Europe and Japan after World War II, the United States wants rules to help overcome this imbalance.

Basically, it is seeking a deal in which nations with payments surpluses would face strong pressure to raise the value of their currencies, just as a country with deficits is under pressure to devalue.

And, also, the United States wants no part of a dollar-centered currency system. The dollar should enjoy the same privileges that other currencies have in the system, it says.

The debate is complicated, but key to the nation's hopes of turning around its balance-of-payments problems as well as competing with Western Europe and Japan.

Also slated for significant action in 1973 is a new round of trade negotiations. The United States wants barriers against its products, erected in both Japan and Western Europe, lowered. These talks should be carried out simultaneously with monetary talks, the Treasury Department argues.

The administration is considering the problem, realizing that there is always a tradeoff between unemployment and inflation. It must decide how fast it wants the economy to go to make further gains against unemployment without touching off a new round of inflation.

There is evidence, however, that President Nixon's economists believe that it might be too risky to go all out to cut the jobless rate to 4 per cent through further stimulation of the economy. This might set off an inflationary boom that would take years to bring under control, the argument goes.

The administration is holding out hope that workers will demand moderate wage increases this year. Nixon's economic officials have been arguing that the demands for higher wages should be less in 1973 than in 1972 because of a slowing of the rate of inflation.

But holding wage boosts to 5.5 per cent, the standard adopted by the Pay Board, may be difficult in 1973, particularly if the Consumer Price Index keeps going up as sharply as it did in September and October.

Labor unions have a counter argument. They can point to the recent price indicators showing a possible renewing of inflationary pressures. The psychology will be important.

The Nixon administration set as its target for wage-price controls a slowing of the rate of inflation to the range of 2 to 3 per cent by the end of 1972. All the evidence won't be in until mid-January, but the figures released late in the year showed a rate closer to 3.5 per cent.

The effectiveness of wage-price controls probably will be debated for years. Grayson believes they have trimmed inflation by as much as 1.5 per cent from what the rate might have been without controls. The Brookings Institution agrees with this conclusion.

India Names First Army Field Marshal

NEW DELHI (AP) — Gen. Sam Manekshaw, army chief of staff since 1969, is to become India's first field marshal, according to the Defense Ministry.

Manekshaw, a veteran of World War II and the French Indochina campaign, is to hold the rank for life, the ministry said Sunday.

Mind Muddled From New Year Celebration? Pity Poor Band

By JAY SHARBUTT
NEW YORK (AP) — Now don't you feel silly about the way you carried on at midnight yesterday? Think about it. Then reflect on the fact that there are 16 men in this town with clear minds and consciences. One is Guy Lombardo. The rest are in his Royal Canadian Orchestra.

lead trumpet player in the band, Lebert Lombardo, 67, who is Guy's brother. The revelation came during band rehearsals last week at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

The question: Since nearly everyone on the dance floor gets smashed on New Year's Eve, doesn't the band feel sort of obliged to take a wee sip of the bubbly?

"Ohhh, no," Lebert said. And he was dead serious. "Oh, no, no, no. That's an unwritten law."

He pointed at a rookie saxophonist who, he said, had joined the band just 26 years ago.

"He has had more whiskey than we'll ever see," Lebert said. "But when he came into this band, nobody said anything. Nobody had to tell him anything.

"Guy didn't say there's no drinking on the job. He (the saxophonist) just looked around, looked at this guy and that guy. And they didn't drink, so he didn't drink.

"He got married and raised a family. He has a drink now and then, but never on the job. Never."

The mind boggles. Nobody in the band has even a small snort on New Year's Eve?

"Not even a beer," Lebert said. "Not even a sip."

Guy Lombardo roared when asked a slightly different question: Do the people who do drink on New Year's Eve come up and demand to play with his clear-eyed band?

"They sure do," Guy laughed, and his eyes twinkled. "Yes, indeed, they sure do."

How does he deal with them, yet remain tactful?

"Well, we try not to have a low stage," he said. "We have it high for that reason: so all the supporting drummers can't try to climb up on the stage."

"Everybody wants to play the drums on New Year's Eve."

Movie Asks Intriguing Question About Future

By JAY SHARBUTT
NEW YORK (AP) — "Please Stand By" is the phrase generally used by a television network whose picture goes blotted. It also is the title of a new theatrical film that poses an intriguing question of the future.

First consider the distinct possibility that a few years from now, most network television shows will be broadcast via domestic satellite. Then ask: Can this lead to electronic mischief?

"Please Stand By" says it sure can. U.S. satellite officials say it sure can't, at least not the way the film's plot line would have it.

The movie is about a group of technically expert radicals who interrupt a network's satellite transmission during the nightly news to beam a counter-culture message.

They do it with a stolen mobile television van supposedly equipped to beam a signal to satellites on station above the United States.

They roll their one-minute videotape message on the network's satellite frequency, then lower the antenna and roar off into the night, lest the Federal Communications Commission get a fix on them.

The counter-culture broadcasts begin and end with a deep voice intoning, "The airwaves belong to the people."

The film is underground in the sense that it didn't open at Radio City Music Hall. It's playing in Greenwich Village. It is a drawn-out, clumsy effort. But its premise is very, very funny.

"Please Stand By" was produced, directed and written by Jack and Joanna Milton, a young New York couple who put the thing together for about $100,000. It's their first feature film.

Milton says the idea of a satellite caper had its roots in the real-life takeover of a local television station here by some radical folk a few years ago. They were evicted after a brief on-air show.

That happened a few years ago, but the idea resurfaced with a space-age twist when Milton read a few articles about satellites.

"Then we thought of doing a story based on the premise: 'How can we do it (broadcast by satellite) without getting caught,'" the 32-year-old filmmaker said.

How did they research the idea of an illegal satellite signal?

"Well, actually the government puts out all the necessary information," Milton said. "They really do. We did all the research in the San Francisco public library."

Did the filming attract the FCC's attention?

"No, we didn't have any problems with them because the FCC, of course, wasn't aware of what we were doing," Milton laughed. "If they were aware, we probably would have had problems."

Now comes the bad news for prospective signal thieves. An expert at the Washington-based Communications Satellite Corp. (COMSAT) says there is no way one satellite signal can be totally displaced by another.

The expert, who declined to be identified, says the worst that would happen during such an electronic caper would be much video fuzz and audio garble on our sets at home.

Okay. But if Walter Cronkite is interrupted by a mysterious voice that says, "The airways belong to the people," there may be a congressional investigation or something.

Actor Robinson Is Hospitalized

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Edward G. Robinson, 79, best known for his film portrayals of gangsters, is undergoing tests at Mt. Sinai Hospital, a spokesman there said today.

The spokesman said Robinson's condition was "satisfactory" and "not an emergency situation" but would not say why he was undergoing tests.

The actor also is known for his art collection, which includes Renoirs, Gauguins, Corots and Matisse.

Robinson was hospitalized for three weeks with a heart attack in 1962 and underwent abdominal surgery for ruptured blood vessels suffered in a 1966 auto crash.

Small Investor Confidence Shot

By JOHN CUNIFF
NEW YORK (AP) — One of the ironic consequences of the very real efforts being made to rebuild confidence in our securities system is that the confidence of many small investors is, for the time being, shot.

The small fellow has been relatively inactive the last year. He has been redeeming his mutual fund shares even when he hasn't got a profit in them.

This behavior is understandable, because among the revelations made in hearings before the Securities and Exchange Commission is that things have been far from proper in this very image-conscious industry. Very improper, in fact.

The last two years have been excruciatingly painful for the industry, as it would have been for an individual who, while posing as a citizen of high motives and conduct, was forced publicly to disclose his moral turpitude.

The eventual affect of SEC efforts to upgrade standards and make the markets safer and more understandable for small investors will undoubtedly have a more positive impact some day. But with the mystery goes the awe also.

It is now more widely known, for example, that the investment adviser who claims to have such insight and foresight may really be endowed with little more than great ambition and ego.

Some instances: money and stock left for safekeeping with brokers has been used as if it belonged to the broker; research sometimes has been nonexistent; professional management often has been inept.

Brokers must at a minimum pass examinations administered by either the National Association of Securities Dealers or the SEC. But those who peddle advice only — who do not also sell stock — need not prove their competence.

The chief requirements for being an adviser are to register with the SEC, pay the fees and keep proper records. There are no exams that must be passed or educational standards that must be met.

Springtime 'All Year' For Homes

It's "Springtime in mid-winter" when you own an Aprilaire Humidifier from Jerry's Sheet Metal, 700 N. Fort Worth St. And this humidifier will fit on any furnace.

You are assured of a lifetime of safe, dependable heating performance when you have Jerry's install a Day & Night heating and air conditioning system.

With one of these systems, you enjoy triple comfort:

1. Safe, convenient gas.
2. Automatic, efficient forced air.
3. Unmatched Day & Night construction and quality with the exclusive Jetglas-C protected heating element that cannot rust out or burn out and has a dual-safe control.

You will have uniform heat from room to room and from floor to ceiling, and the gentle circulation of fresh, filtered air. Comfort is said to be the "heart of the home" and home comfort starts with indoor "weather."

Whether you are building, remodeling or just need to do a little "modernizing," it will pay you to investigate the Day & Night Forced Air Furnace.

Call Jerry's Sheet Metal, your local "weather doctor." Learn how easily you can plan for the addition of air conditioning. There's a Day & Night system to fit your needs exactly, for any heating installation, in any size or type of home.

And if you already have a Day & Night, see Jerry about an Aprilaire Humidifier. Properly humidified air can help to repel upper respiratory ailments that are aggravated by too-dry air. In many cases, where excessive dryness has been diagnosed as the cause of these aggravations, doctors have prescribed humidification.

If the humidity level in your home is too low, you may feel cold even at 75 degree temperature setting. Proper humidification reduces the rate of evaporation from the skin and makes the room feel warmer. Those annoying wintertime static electricity shocks are reduced, also. And dry, heated can cause walls and ceilings to crack and can make fabrics and carpeting wear out too fast.

For all your heating and air conditioning needs, see or call Jerry's Sheet Metal. That phone number is 684-4495.

ENJOY MOIST AIR — When you own an Aprilaire Humidifier from Jerry's Sheet Metal, 700 N. Fort Worth St. Jerry invites you to come by and let him show you the heating and air conditioning system best suited to your needs.

Long Arm Of Law Sometimes Helps

LUBBOCK (AP) — The long arm of the law sometimes reaches out to embrace, not to seize.

Aurelio Ontiveroz, his wife, Rosie, and her brother, Robert Estrella, are law enforcement officials with the Texas Tech University Police. Aurelio and Robert are two of the four Spanish-speaking officers with the Lubbock police Department.

The trio has more in common than law enforcement work. All are enrolled in college courses together and they even share the same house number—but on different streets.

Rosie has three hours of classes at Texas Tech. She is working toward a bachelor's degree which will be the first step in what she hopes will be a career as a police officer.

"I want to be a commissioned police officer with all the duties and responsibilities of the job," said Rosie. She said that currently there are no women police officers employed by the university police or by the City of Lubbock. She said both do employ women as gate attendants or meter maids.

Rosie said her husband is very understanding and encouraging about her studies and ambition to become a police officer.

Aurelio has been with the police department seven years. He is assigned to the juvenile division. He has completed more than two years of course work at Texas Tech and is now enrolled in police science courses.

Estrella is a patrolman in the Lubbock Police Department. He, too has been a student at Texas Tech.

"Soon, all law enforcement officers will be required to have at least two years of college. Then, it won't be long until they are all required to have a college degree," said Estrella.

The three are working with eyes trained on the future. Aurelio and Robert would like one day to become federal officials with the Customs and Immigration Service.

Kissinger Will Talk With Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — As a prelude to resuming private peace negotiations in Paris, presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger plans intensive talks with President Nixon about Vietnam.

The White House said Sunday that Kissinger will return to Washington from Southern California Tuesday for the discussions with the President. The announcement did not specify when Nixon and Kissinger would meet.

The private peace talks between Kissinger and the North Vietnamese are to resume in Paris Jan. 8. The talks broke off Dec. 13.

Five days after the deadlock, the United States carried out its heaviest air strikes so far on the Hanoi-Haiphong area. On Saturday both sides announced that the bombing had stopped and that private negotiations would resume.

Hanoi announced Sunday it will continue to demand that the United States sign without modification a draft peace agreement worked out last October.

Redskins, Dolphins Capture Super Bowl Berths

Washington Ambushes Cowboys In 26-3 Rout

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins, whose last pro football championship came when Franklin D. Roosevelt was in his third term as President, ambushed the Dallas Cowboys Sunday to capture a Super Bowl berth.

Washington's 26-3 victory over Dallas gives the Redskins the National Conference championship and sends them against the Miami Dolphins, 21-17 winners over the Pittsburgh Steelers, for the National Football League's world championship on Jan. 14 in Los Angeles.

"We have a lot to be thankful for," Washington Coach George Allen said. "It was a great team win; a 40-man victory." Later Sunday night, Allen received a telephone call from President Nixon, who invited the Washington coach and his family to the White House this morning.

"This was close to a perfect game," Allen said. Tom Landry, the Cowboys' coach, agreed.

"Washington deserved to win," Landry said. "They were playing excellent football in every phase."

Dallas never had a chance as the marauding Redskins excelled on offense, defense and the specialty teams. The Cowboys could run only six plays, not counting punts, in the first period, and didn't get a first down until nearly 25 minutes into the game. And that came on a personal-foul penalty against Washington.

Curt Knight, who redeemed himself handsomely in the first period, and didn't get a first down until nearly 25 minutes into the game. And that came on a personal-foul penalty against Washington.

But the twin lightning bolts from quarterback Billy Kilmer to wide receiver Charley Taylor were the bombs that tore asunder Dallas' vaunted Doomsday Defense.

"I think they thought I was going to try to go to (wide receiver) Roy Jefferson more and that could hurt them, so they covered him more," Kilmer said. "So I went to Taylor."

MONDAY, JAN. 1, 1973-1C

Just after nine minutes into the second quarter, Kilmer found Taylor streaking across the middle on a slant-in to connect on a 35-yard touchdown aerial. That made the score 10-0 before Toni Fritsch added three for Dallas with a 35-yard field goal that hit the left upright, then bounced across.

After that, it was all Washington as the Redskins' Crunch Bunch kept quarterback Roger Staubach and his Cowboy cohorts surrounded.

Staubach, getting his first starting call since he was injured in preseason, failed to ignite the potentially explosive Cowboy attack. The former Heisman Trophy winner from Navy connected on only nine of 20 passes for 98 yards.

Kilmer, on the other hand, was nearly flawless, hitting 14 of 18 for 194 yards and the two scores.

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Washington deserved to win," Dallas Coach Tom Landry said quietly after the Redskins crushed his Cowboys 26-3 Sunday to capture the National Football Conference title and move on to the Super Bowl.

"They were playing excellent football in every phase," Landry said. "We had our opportunities, but we missed them — and they didn't."

The Cowboys, defending world champions, dressed in a hurry, answering questions as briefly as possible.

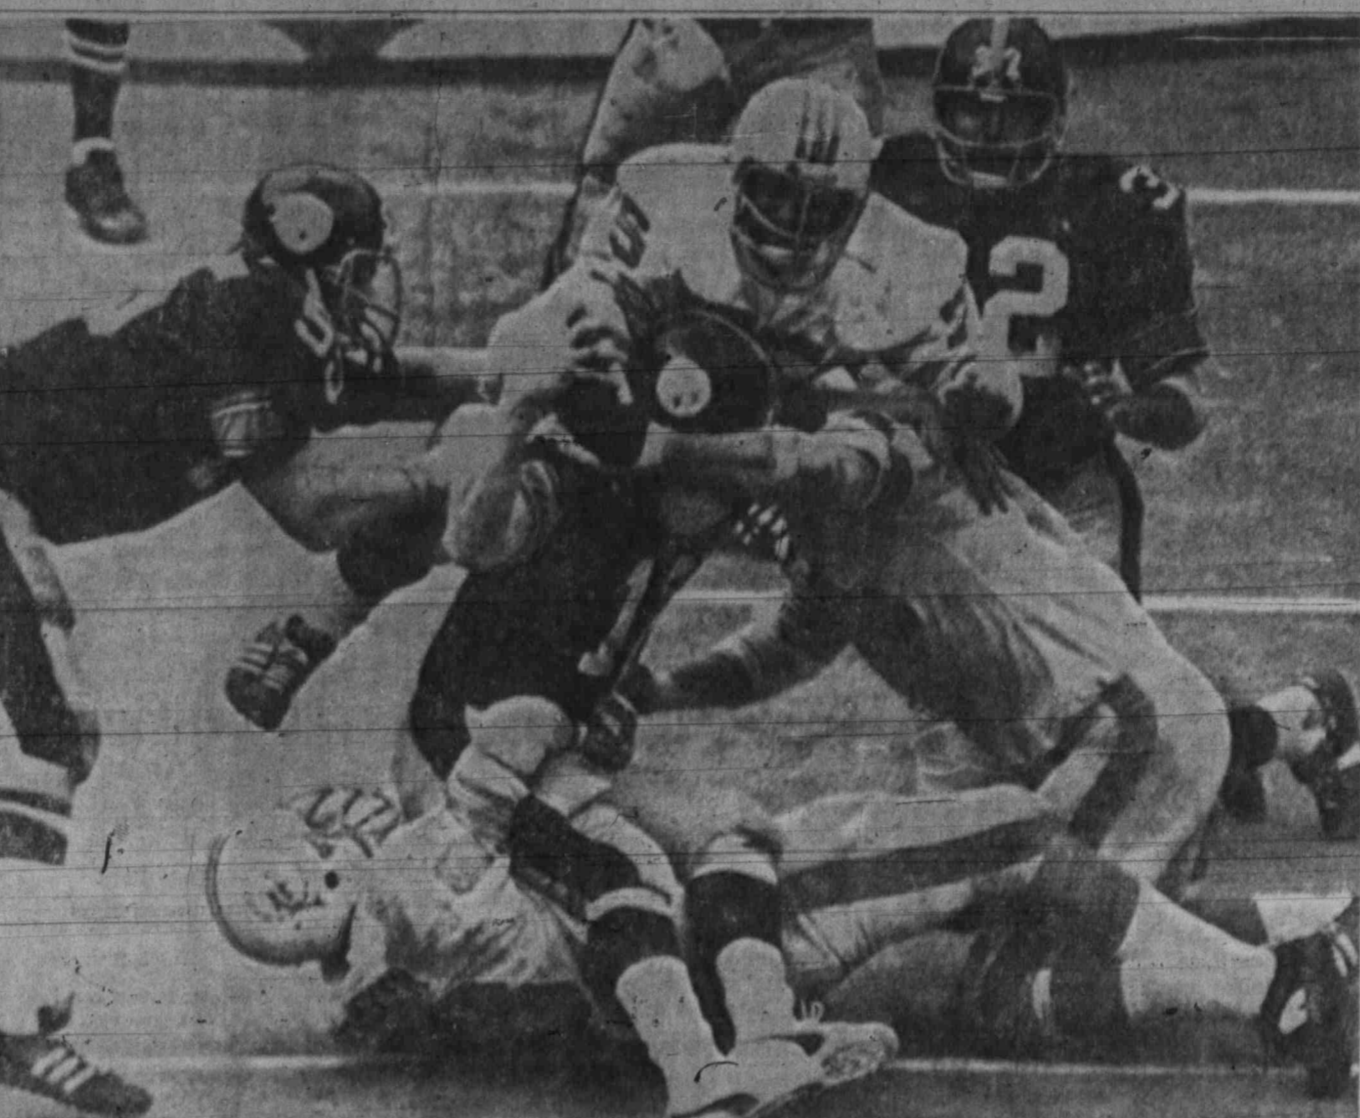

"We just couldn't get the ball moving," quarterback Roger Staubach said. "We couldn't make the third-down plays."

With Staubach starting for the first time since he was injured in preseason play, the Cowboys were stymied at every turn as the rampaging Redskins cut them off on the run and the pass. Twelve times Dallas had a third down. Only three times were they able to turn it into a first-and-10.

"We played football for two years like Washington did today," Landry said. "They paid the price. They worked hard."

Landry refused to sidestep criticism directed at him for starting Staubach instead of Craig Morton, who led the Cowboys to a 10-4 regular-season record. The Dallas coach had said he went with Staubach because the scrambling quarterback earned it by leading the Cowboys to a 17-point fourth period last week, giving Dallas a 30-28 come-from-behind victory over the San Francisco 49ers.

"We were moving the football last week, but we were stopping ourselves with fumbles and interceptions," Landry said.

BRADSHAW DUMPED — Three Miami Dolphin players team up to dump Pittsburgh Steeler quarterback Terry Bradshaw in fourth period play of Sunday's game in Pittsburgh that saw the Dolphins win, 21-17, for the AFC championship. Bradshaw had been hit earlier in the game, but returned in the final period. (AP Wirephoto.)

4,000 Greet Dolphin '11 At Airport

By ED SHEARER
MIAMI (AP) — A crowd of 4,000 fans chanting "We're No. 1!" greeted the American Football Conference champion Miami Dolphins on their return to Miami International Airport New Year's Eve.

The Dolphins, winners of 16 straight games without a defeat, beat Pittsburgh 21-17 for the title Sunday and will meet the Washington Redskins in the Super Bowl at Los Angeles Jan. 14.

Coach Don Shula, first off the plane, mounted a podium and shouted to the crowd, "Happy New Year, everybody. I know this is going to be a really happy one for us. I'm just proud of our 16-0 team, but more important is winning the American Conference title and going out and making up for last year's Super Bowl," Shula said.

The Dolphins lost the 1972 Super Bowl to the Dallas Cowboys. The Redskins whipped the Cowboys Sunday 26-3 to earn their Super Bowl berth and the National Conference crown.

The Dolphins were about 30 minutes late in arriving. A crowd of some 200 fans had gathered more than an hour before the scheduled arrival. Many were dressed in Dolphin uniform shirts and carried signs, one of which said, "Super! All the Way to L.A., 16 down, one to go." That one was scrawled on a 4-by-7-foot cloth sheet.

Other signs said, "Super Bowl, here we come," "Revenge," "Nick's Italian Army did it again," "We love you No. 1 Dolphins," and "Skin the Redskins." One said simply, "Thank You, Dolphins."

Tech's Win String Ends

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Maybe the Southeastern Conference basketball teams had too much turkey over the holidays because they played anything but inspired ball last weekend.

The conference took only one of six tournament tests and Louisiana Tech's eight game winning streak was snapped and Arkansas State's perfect record was blemished.

Tech and Arkansas State were battered in the Mercer Invitational Tournament and Texas-Arlington took its lumps in the Claxton Classic—both tournaments in Georgia.

Southwestern Louisiana, unbeaten in six games, gets into action this week playing at Pan American on Thursday and traveling to Jacksonville Saturday in what should be a rugged test.

Louisiana Tech has the next best record in the league—8-2.

Barroero Files Law Suit Against Oakland Raiders

OAKLAND (AP) — Louis F. Barroero, a limited partner in the Oakland Raiders football team, has filed suit against the club charging he was defrauded of his 10 percent share of ownership.

Barroero's suit, filed Friday in Alameda County Superior Court, asked for a complete accounting of the Raiders' dealings since the National Football League team was established in 1961.

The suit charged that the defendants, general partners

Al Davis, F. Wayne Valley and E. W. McGah, "have allowed limited partners to sell and assign their limited partnership interest to outsiders without providing the plaintiff his right of first refusal to purchase... or his right to maintain his proportionate interest."

Herman Cook, Davis' attorney, denied the allegations saying Barroero had been offered his share "everytime there has been a pro rata distribution."

Fake Punt Play Keys Miami's 21-17 Win

By GARY MIHOSES
PITTSBURGH (AP) — It's wait until next year for the young Pittsburgh Steelers, but next year is now for the Miami Dolphins, pro football perfectionists.

The Dolphins earned the right to meet the Washington Redskins in Super Bowl VII Jan. 14 by defeating the Steelers 21-17 here Sunday in the American Football Conference title game.

Larry Seiple's daring dash on a fake punt and quarterback Bob Griese's off-the-bench heroics enabled Don Shula's Dolphins to boost their record to 16-0 and end the best season in Steeler history.

The frenzied chants of Gerela's Gorillas and Franco's Italian Army and the touch of magic that had been a Steeler trademark all season weren't enough against Miami.

Seiple's 37-yard run from punt formation set up the tying score, but the momentum really swung when Shula replaced veteran Earl Morrall with Griese, who had played just one game since breaking his leg five months ago.

The Steelers had taken a 10-3 lead in the third quarter on a field goal by Roy Gereta, but Griese engineered the two touchdown drives that meant the difference.

The Steelers, who finished with a 12-4 record after winning the first division title in their 40-year history, were in the game until the end.

However, Terry Bradshaw, hospitalized last week with the flu and bothered by headaches and a pinched nerve in his left shoulder, was intercepted twice in the closing moments.

The Dolphins, who lost to the Dallas Cowboys in last year's Super Bowl, came from behind to beat Pittsburgh, just as they did last week against the Cleveland Browns.

Morrall, who guided the Dolphins offense in Griese's absence, gave Pittsburgh its only big break of the game in the first period when he tossed a pass that John Rowser intercepted at the Miami 48-yard line.

With rookie Franco Harris eating up yardage, the Steelers drove to the Miami two where Bradshaw rolled to his left.

He was hit hard by Miami safety Jake Scott and fumbled into the endzone, where Pittsburgh tight end Gerry Mullins recovered for a Steeler touchdown.

"We got that first touchdown and I thought, 'Here we go,'" said Bradshaw, who predicted last week that the Steelers would win.

Early in the second quarter, however, Seiple was back to punt on fourth down at the Pittsburgh 49 when he elected to run and gained 37 yards to the Steeler 12. Two plays later Morrall passed nine yards to Larry Csonka for the tying touchdown.

"We changed up a little bit on our punt rush for the first time this year," Steeler Coach Chuck Noll said.

"We opened this game by putting pressure on with one man instead of two," he added.

And the second time we did it he put the ball under his arm and ran. It was a very alert play."

Seiple, a 27-year-old Kentuckian who has one of the last short haircuts and clean-shaven faces in pro football, said he improvised on the play.

"I never thought of it until the situation opened up," he declared. "I saw everyone turn around and look for the ball, and it was a split second decision to run... It has to be the most exciting thing in my career."

The game remained tied at 7-7 until the third quarter when Terry Hanratty led Pittsburgh on a 73-yard drive to the Miami seven, to set up a Gerela field goal.

COTTON BOWL—

Baugh Started It Back In '37

By MIKE COCHRAN
DALLAS (AP) — The year was 1937.

A rawboned Texan named Sammy Baugh guided Texas Christian to a 16-6 triumph over Marquette. L. D. Meyer, a nephew of the TCU coach scored both touchdowns, one on a 24-yard pass from Baugh.

That's how the Cotton Bowl football classic began 36 years ago.

The 37th, pitting Paul "Bear" Bryant's fourth-ranked Crimson Tide and Darrell Royal's seventh-ranked Texas Longhorns, went into the record books today, adding some new names.

SFA Beaten In Tourney

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Stephen F. Austin, the No. 1 small college team in the nation, took its lumps last week as Sam Houston State's Bearcats will take the only unsoiled record into Lone Star Conference play this week.

The Bearcats, who are now 7-0 for the season, repeated as champions of the Quincy Holiday Tournament in Quincy, Ill., last week with impressive victories over Winona, Minn., Tennessee State and Augustana, Ill.

S. F. Austin's Lumberjacks may have ruined their No. 1 ranking when they fell to NAIA power Hillsdale, Mich., 59-50.

Lone Star Conference action resumes Tuesday when Howard Payne travels to McMurry in the feature contest.

S. F. Austin tries to get back on the right track when the Lumberjacks play at East Texas State. On Thursday, SFA is at Tarleton.

Barons' Fate Still In Limbo

WEST SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — An American Hockey League official said it will be another week before the Cleveland Barons find out if they can finish their 1972-1973 schedule in Jacksonville, Fla.

AHL secretary Gordon Anziano said Saturday that Barons' owner Nick Mileti has applied for permission to make the switch but has not yet received it.

Bobby Layne, Duke Carlisle, Bud McFadin, and Steve Worster of Texas; John Kimbrough of Texas A&M; Y. A. Tittle of LSU; and Oregon's Norm Van Brocklin.

But the list goes on: North Carolina's Charlie "ChooChoo" Justice, Kentucky's Babe Parrilli, Rice's Dicky Maegle, TCU's Baugh and Jim Swink, Arkansas' Lance Alworth, Navy's Roger Staubach, and Notre Dame's Joe Theismann are there along with those of Syracuse immortals Jim Brown and Ernie Davis.

One of the most memorable contests, coincidentally involved Alabama.

In 1954, the Tide's Tommy Layne leaped off the bench to tackle Rice's Maegle as he headed downfield for one of his three touchdowns of the day. Officials awarded the touchdown to Maegle and Rice was a 23-6 winner.

Alabama also figured in one of the weirdest Cotton Bowl games—a 29-21 victory over Texas A&M in 1942. The Tide made only one first down, but seven interceptions and five Aggie fumbles made first downs irrelevant.

Layne was in the 1946 Cotton Bowl, hitting 11 of 12 passes for two touchdowns, scoring four more himself and kicking four extra points. Texas defeated Missouri 40-27.

Walker and Rote were the big guns in 1949, when SMU cut down Oregon and Van Brocklin 21-13.

Swink made two Cotton Bowl appearances, scoring twice as TCU dropped a 14-13 squeaker to Mississippi in 1956 and again the next year in a 28-27 verdict over Syracuse.

Brown scored three times in the latter game. Syracuse got its revenge in 1960 when Davis led the unbeaten Orangemen past Texas 23-14 to cement their claim as national champions.

Texas which is making its 14th Cotton Bowl appearance today, chalked up one of its most celebrated victories in 1964, beating second-ranked Navy and Staubach 28-6. Texas was ranked No. 1.

Carlisle was the hero that day, passing for two touchdowns and running for a third.

The Cotton Bowl got its first look at the Wishbone in 1969 when Texas tripped Tennessee 36-13, the first of five straight appearances by the Steers.

Texas was the national champion the next year and Worster helped prove it as the Steers scored late in the games to beat Notre Dame 21-17.

The Fighting Irish returned the next year to even the score 24-11, snapping a 30-game Texas winning streak.

And now it's 1973. The 37th Cotton Bowl, billed as the Battle of the Wishbones, is in the history books.

Sooners Blank Lions

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Seventeen-year-old Tinker Owens scored one touchdown and set up another with a controversial reception as second-ranked Oklahoma ground out a 14-0 victory over error-plagued Penn State Sunday night in the first Sugar Bowl football classic ever played on New Year's Eve.

Owens, a freshman and the brother of former Heisman Trophy winner Steve Owens caught a 27-yard pass in the second quarter and danced into the end zone, then hauled in a 17-yarder in the fourth period and set up fullback Leon Crosswhite's one-yard plunge for the Sooners' other touchdown.

The fourth-quarter Oklahoma score came after safety Gary Hayman had fumbled his second punt of the evening at Penn State's 33 yard line.

The Sooners took just nine plays to go in from that spot and run their record to 11-1 for the season.

However, the Sooners, hoping for an Ohio State upset of Southern Cal in the Rose Bowl, failed to capitalize on two other prime scoring opportunities.

	Penn. St.	Okla.
First downs	11	26
Rushing yards	28-49	16-273
Passing yards	147	173
Return yards	1	26
Passes	12-31	7-12-0
Fumbles-lost	6-4	6-5
Penalties-yards	9-15	9-50

caused by Penn State errors.

Crosswhite fumbled on the Nittany Lion six-yard line in the first period only seconds after the Sooners had pounced on a Penn State fumble at the 15.

Then in the third period reserve quarterback Kerry Jackson was trying to sneak over from the one but was hit and the ball bounded into the Lion end zone where it recovered by Steve Davis for a touchdown.

That Sooner opportunity had been set up when Hayman slipped trying to field an Oklahoma punt, the ball hit him in the back and Grant Burget recovered for Oklahoma at the Lion 20.

With just over one minute left Sooner quarterback Dave Robertson was running at the Penn State two for a certain touchdown but was hit and fumbled the ball into the end zone and Penn State recovered.

The fifth-ranked Lions' defense played virtually the entire game as Penn State was shut out for the first time in 68 games.

SMOTHERED — Roger Staubach (12) ends up on bottom of pile after he ran for first down Sunday in NFC championship battle in Washington. The Redskins whipped the Cowboys, 26-3 to move into the Super Bowl, Jan. 14 against Miami. (AP Wirephoto.)

Penalty A Shame—Burns

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
EL PASO, TEX. (AP) — Veteran referee Burns McKinney, retiring after 34 years of officiating in the Southwest Conference, said Sunday he had "never seen anything" like the unsportsmanlike conduct penalty that cost Texas Tech a vital touchdown in Saturday's 32-28 Sun Bowl loss to North Carolina.

Bill Davis, an Atlantic Coast Conference official, made the call that triggered an explosion of anger on the Red Raider bench.

"It (the call) was a shame and a new one on me," said McKinney.

It happened in the second quarter with North Carolina leading 9-0. Tech's Davis Corley blocked a Tar Heel punt and Donald Rives plucked the ball off the ground and ran 32 yards down the sidelines for an apparent touchdown.

However, Davis threw a flag toward Tech Coach Jim Carlen. McKinney said "Bill told me that a coach was on the field and I (Davis) had to go around him."

"I asked him was it before or after the score," McKinney said. "Davis said it was before the score."

McKinney penalized Tech 15 yards from the spot where the Tech coach came on the field.

Tech Coach Jim Carlen said he didn't remember going on the field but said "I had to dodge a photographer wearing a red jacket." Tech's team colors are red and black.

McKinney of Midland said "In 34 years, I've never seen anything just like it."

McKinney agreed with Texas Tech Athletic Director J. T. King who said "An official can make the call anytime a touchdown is scored. There is always that much enthusiasm on any bench."

McKinney said "The rule is there but you've got to display good horse sense when officiating."

Asked if he thought Davis had shown good "horse sense" McKinney said "I can't answer that for you."

He added "It was a wild way to go out. It was a good ball game other than that incident. It really set off a spark on the field. We had to keep talking to settle the players down."

The flap overshadowed a tremendous offensive game in which Tech's George Smith scored three touchdowns and quarterback Nick Vidnovic of the Tar Heels threw two touchdowns passes—the last with 60 seconds to play to win the game.

Buckeyes Seek Upset

By EARL GERHEIM

Southern California, an awesome scoring machine ranked No. 1 in the nation, was a hefty favorite to whip Ohio State in today's 59th Rose Bowl football game but Buckeye Coach Woody Hayes discounts the odds.

"There's not a team that can't be had," said the crusty Hayes. "Sure, Southern Cal is fast—faster than anybody. There's a way to stop speed before it gets started, but I'll be damned if I'm going to tell you."

This oldest of the bowl games is one of three postseason gridiron classics today. No. 4 Alabama and No. 7 Texas battled in the Cotton Bowl while No. 9 Nebraska and No. 12 Notre Dame play tonight in the Orange Bowl. Southern Cal, 11-0, seeking its third national title in the last 10 years under Coach John McKay, has averaged 430.1 yards and 38.6 points per game. The Trojans' offensive punch comes from fleet-footed 5-foot-9 tailback Anthony Davis and quarterback Mike Rae, who has a pass completion average of 55 per cent.

"They can run and pass, they have a good defense," Hayes said of Southern Cal, a 14-point favorite. "There is no weakness to their attack. They are No. 1 and rightfully so. We're No. 3, wanting to be No. 1."

Favored Nebraska, powered by Heisman Trophy winner Johnny Rodgers, will be attempting to regain some prominence after winning national championships the last two years. Rodgers has scored 17 touchdowns this season.

Notre Dame sophomore signal-caller Tom Clements has completed 51 per cent of his passes for 163 yards and eight touchdowns while Eric Penick has rushed for 727 yards and an average of 5.9 a carry.

Both Alabama and Texas will be wielding the Wishbone-T offense—a creation of Longhorn Coach Darrell Royal. The Crimson Tide has averaged 302.9 yards rushing with the Wishbone while Texas has averaged 276 on the ground. "I tell you Alabama can throw the ball off the Wishbone," says Texas defensive coordinator Mike Campbell. "But they really don't run their Wishbone much different than we do."

Russians Top Canada 12-3

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP)—Russia, returning to its precision-passing patterns, bombed Canada 12-3 Saturday night to collect its second straight victory in the second annual World Cup hockey tournament.

Led by its first-line of Vladimir Petrov, Valerey Khramlov and Boris Mikhailov, the Russians scored six goals in the first period, four in the second and two in the third.

The outmanned Canadian team, composed of junior A players 20 years old and younger, was down 10-0 before scoring three straight times against the Russians' second-string goalie, Aleksandr Sidnikov.

Petrov and Khramlov each had two goals and two assists while Mikhailov had a goal and three assists. One other Russian, Vladimir Vikulov, scored two goals and contributed two assists.

The smooth-passing game was in stark contrast to Russia's rough 6-3 pasting of Czechoslovakia Friday night in Colorado Springs, Colo. That encounter was marred by 20 penalties—19 of them on the Russians, who had three players ejected for fighting.

There were only four penalties Saturday night, two on each team.

Two more games remain in the round robin tourney. The United States and Canada—each beaten once—meet Sunday night and the U.S. and Russia conclude the action Tuesday night. The Czechs finished their play with a 2-1 mark.

SWC Cagers In Poor Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Southwest Conference had best get with it this week or the loop's basketball ledger against non-conference foes is going to be on the minus side.

After a disastrous series of holiday tournaments over the weekend, the loop's record dropped to 33-30 against non-conference foes.

The Texas Aggies seized the consolation prize in the All-College Tournament with a 100-83 trouncing of Ole Miss Saturday night.

Houston and Rice won third places in the Sun Bowl Classic and the Milwaukee Classic, respectively. Texas took third in the Poinsettia Classic.

However, not one of the SWC's eight teams involved in tournament play brought back a first place trophy.

Houston and Texas A&M compete in the Bluebonnet Tournament in Houston this weekend while Rice participates in the Presidential Classic in Washington, D.C.

Houston boasts the best loop record 7-2 while Texas A&M and Texas Tech are 6-3 against non-conference opponents.

Scribes Select Lubbock's Henry New President

DALLAS (AP)—Don Henry of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal was installed as president of the Texas Sportswriters Association Sunday, succeeding Bob Galt of the Dallas Times Herald.

Dick Moore of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Three names were placed before the membership for vice president nominees. They included:

Jim Garner, sports information director at Texas Christian University.

Denne Freeman, Texas sports editor of The Associated Press.

Jim Trinkle, columnist, Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The membership will vote on the vice presidential nominees by ballot.

Other matters conducted at the meeting included the raising of dues from $5 to $6 for the 237 member organization; discussion of the procedure for All-state schoolboy selections; and discussion of the progress of the planned Texas Sports Hall of Fame in Grand Prairie, Tex.

A press box committee praised facilities at Tully Stadium in Spring Branch, Emis High School, Lamar Consolidated, Texas High, Texarkana, Chapel Hill, Pine Tree and W. T. Barrett Stadium in Odessa.

Censured by the committee for inadequate facilities were Quanah, Corsicana, Handley, and Pecos. Poor handling of press relations at the state schoolboy football playoff between Franklin and Schulenberg at Bryan High School was also brought to the attention of the membership.

AGAINST ODESSA FIVES—Rebels, Bulldogs Open 5-4A Action

By BOB DILLON

The Midland Lee Rebels and Midland Bulldogs take dead aim at Odessa and Permian Tuesday night as the District 5-4A basketball race opens with the two Tall City elevens favored to battle it out for the championship.

Coach Paul Stueckler's Rebels, on a 15-game winning streak, entertain the Odessa Bronchos in the Lee Gymnasium with a triple header on tap. The Lee sophomores play the OHS sophs at 4:30 p.m. followed by the junior varsity battle at 6:15 and the varsity tilt at 8 p.m.

Midland travels to Odessa to open defense of the 5-4A crown and Coach James Cagle's Purple Pack will be seeking their third consecutive title. In the poll by the coaches and writers in the loop, Midland and Lee were picked to finish one-two in the district.

In other loop openers, the San Angelo Bobcats take on the Abilene Cooper Cougars in Abilene while Big Spring entertains the Abilene Eagles. Lee sports a sparkling 17-1 season mark against non-loop foes while Midland is 15-1. Cooper has a 12-4 record while Permian is 11-4 and Big Spring 11-8 on the season. Abilene is 10-6 and OHS stands 10-7 while San Angelo has the only losing record with a 6-10 reading despite 6-7 Sandy Lawrence and 6-5 John Elder in its lineup.

Lee waltzed past Houston Dobie, Kerrville Tivy and San Antonio Roosevelt in the 30th annual Howard Payne Invitational Tourney over the weekend while Midland had the week off after winning the consolation title in the Roswell Invitational last week where it lost its only game of the year to El Paso Austin, 51-44 in the opening round.

Cooper won the Hardin Simmons Cowboy Club Tourney, beating Snyder, 83-79 in the finals. Abilene won third place with an exciting 74-72 overtime victory over San Angelo.

Big Spring played in the Borger Invitational and beat Dumas and Perryton, but lost to Borger, 86-62 in the semifinals.

OHS participated in the Hobbs Holiday Tourney, losing to Gallup, N.M., 73-60 in the opening round but came back to beat El Paso Irvin, 69-62 and Ysleta Bel Air, 70-69 for the consolation title.

Both Lee and Midland have three players in the double figures on the season. Don Bradley is scoring at a 17.3 clip per game for the Rebels while Steve Cromwell has an average of 16.4 and Melvin Jackson has an 11.0 scoring mean.

Pacing the MHS attack is Ronald Taylor with a 24.8 average while Kenneth Ray has a 13.8 average and Eddie Herring is scoring at an 11.0 clip.

Midland has lost only one district game in two years, racking up a 13-1 mark in 1971 and last year, had a perfect 14-0 reading.

Following Tuesday night's openers, Lee takes on San Angelo in the Lee Gym Friday while Midland travels to Big Spring. Cooper will be at OHS and Permian plays Abilene in Abilene in other games Friday.

Tennessee Back Prefers Baseball

By MICHAEL A. LUTZ

HOUSTON (AP)—Tennessee's sophomore quarterback Condredge Holloway, who says he'd rather play pro baseball than football, certainly seemed to enjoy his work enough in the 14th annual Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl.

The speedy little signal caller, who passed up a $90,000 baseball contract offer to get his college degree, personally dismantled 10th ranked Louisiana State with touchdown runs of 10 and 15 yards and a 6-yard touchdown pass to Jimmy Young to lead the Vols to a 24-17 victory over the 10th ranked Tigers.

"My best game is when I complete 20 of 20 and score every time I carry the ball," Holloway said when asked about his performance Saturday night in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl.

"I don't keep up with individual accomplishments," he said however he was satisfied with his performance.

For all of Holloway's heroics, it almost wasn't enough because the Tigers, down 24-3 at the half, roared back with two second half touchdowns and it took two fourth quarter stands by the Volunteers to keep their lead.

After LSU had scored its second touchdown, Tennessee had to throw back two more Tiger Thrusts late in the game.

LSU Quarterback Bert Jones, projected as the first quarterback to be selected in the Jan. 30 pro draft, scored one TD on Brad Davis hit from one yard out for the other.

Jones took the Tigers downfield again within striking distance before Vol defensive end Carl Johnson, named the game's outstanding lineman, dropped Jones five and eight yards on consecutive plays.

With 1:55 left in the game, Tennessee safety Conrad Graham batted down a Jones pass intended for Gerald Keigley and that was it.

LSU Coach Charlie McClendon claimed it was pass interference but his complaints went unheeded and Tennessee made its eighth consecutive bow appearance a victorious one.

Holloway, the game's outstanding back, finished as the leading rusher with 96 yards on 10 carries and 11 of 19 passes for 94 yards. He completed seven straight passes during one stretch.

McClendon, whose Tigers finished with a 9-2-1 record, couldn't say enough good about his team.

"You saw two teams with pride, and I can't express how proud I am of this LSU team," McClendon said. "They made up their minds that when they went out for the second half they were going to roll up their sleeves and get to work and they did that."

Both coaches said they were too cautious—McClendon in the first half and Tennessee's Bill Battle in the second half.

"We were too cautious in the first half," McClendon said, "and then we tried to throw and that got us in trouble."

"Maybe we tried to play it a little too conservatively in the second half," Battle said. "That is sort of a natural inclination with me."

COLLEGE CAGE ROUNDUP—

Memphis State Back In Grove

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Memphis State, tabbed a college basketball powerhouse before the season, has bounced back from a disastrous start and regained its prestige.

The Tigers from the Missouri Valley Conference won their fifth in a row Saturday night, beating Vanderbilt for the first time ever 74-71.

Memphis State, 21-7 last season, was ranked No. 11 in the pre-season Associated Press poll, but the Tigers dropped out of the Top Twenty when they lost three of their first five games. Two of the defeats were dealt in a row by Marquette and Texas.

79th straight success at the Milwaukee Arena.

In other holiday tourney finals, it was North Carolina over Louisville 89-86—in the Rainbow Classic, Missouri 82-72 over Kansas State in the Big Eight, Davidson over Cincinnati 66-63 in the Charlotte Invitational, Minnesota 63-60 over Oregon State in the Far West Classic, Maryland 90-76 over Syracuse in the Maryland Invitational and Long Beach

State 101-89 over Brigham Young in the All-College.

Other tourney winners included St. John's of New York in the Holiday Festival; St. Joseph's, Pa. in the Quaker City Classic; Michigan State in the Kodak Classic; Utah State in the Big Blue; Austin Peay in the Claxton Classic; Canisius in the Queen City; Ohio U. in the Razorback Classic; and New Mexico in the Lobo Classic.

Social Security Benefits, Taxes Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new Social Security law increasing benefits—and also taxes—became effective today.

The measure, signed by President Nixon Oct. 13, raises the amount of wages subject to Social Security taxes from $9,000 to $10,800 and increases the amount of tax from 5.2 per cent to 5.85 per cent.

The maximum Social Security tax under the old law was $468, but under the new one the maximum tax is $631.80.

The new law has numerous new benefits, including a provision that will allow widows to receive 100 per cent of what their husbands would have gotten instead of 82½ per cent.

The new law will also let persons who have reached retirement age earn $2,100 a year without loss of benefits instead of the previous $1,680. Above $2,100, they will lose $1 for each $2 of earnings.

The new law allows men to receive the same retirement benefits as women. Under the old law, a woman with an earning record identical to a man's got $10 more a month if both were entitled to maximum payment.

The new law also requires that all Americans receive Social Security numbers when they enter school, reduces the waiting period for disability payments from six to five months and allows a college student to continue receiving survivor benefits at age 22 until he completes a semester.

It also increases the annual deductible for Part B of Medicare, which chiefly covers physicians' charges, from $50 to $60.

Mrs. Putman, 75, Dies At Lamesa

LAMESA — Mrs. Mattie Lee Jones Putman, 75, a Dawson County resident since 1898, died Saturday in a Lamesa hospital. She was a sister of Mrs. Maggie Williams of Midland.

Services were held at 4 p.m. Sunday in the Bryan St. Baptist Church with the Rev. Dorman Kinard officiating, assisted by the Rev. Bob Whitten, pastor. Interment was in Lamesa Memorial Park.

Mrs. T. A. Jones Dies At Odessa

ODESSA — Mrs. Tildon A. (Violette) Jones, 61, was found dead in her car in the garage of her Odessa home about 7 p.m. Saturday.

Ector County Justice of the Peace Howard Williams ruled the death was due to carbon monoxide poisoning.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. today in the First United Methodist Church, with interment in Sunset Memorial Gardens.

Mrs. Jones was born June 20, 1911, at Frederick, Okla. She was married to Tildon Jones at Lawton, Okla., Dec. 5, 1938. She moved to Odessa in 1942 and was a teacher at Fannin units converted on the area.

Survivors include her husband; a daughter, Mrs. Susan Vurvell of Odessa; a brother, Frank Cameron of Frederick, Okla.; and one grandchild.

A midnight Sunday and left with Deputy Sheriff Carol Copeland, 35, gave chase and stopped the two men about 10 miles east of Shamrock on U.S. 66.

When he approached the car, the driver opened fire. Copeland was shot once in the arm and once in the head. Copeland managed to return the fire and radio for help before he died. He wounded the driver in the leg, hip and arm.

Roadblocks were set up in Oklahoma.

The car containing the men apparently had taken a dead end road near Interstate 40 and was returning to U.S. 66 when it was stopped by a roadblock.

Troopers Ed Thompson and Billy Ray Thompson said the men were driving without lights when they saw the roadblock.

The lights were then turned on and the car stopped a short distance from the roadblock where the passenger took off on foot and escaped.

The 17-year-old driver was apprehended without incident and taken to the Beckham County jail here.

Several law enforcement units converged on the area. At 2 a.m. today the searchers arrested a man, 20; and also placed him in the county jail.

Probably the oldest wooden building in the world is housed in Nara, Japan. It has housed treasurers of the Mikados for over 1200 years.

D. R. Burch, 40, Dies At Odessa

ODESSA — D. R. Burch, 40, died Saturday in an Odessa hospital following an illness of two years.

Services were to be at 2 p.m. today in the Hubbard-Kelly Funeral Home Chapel with interment in Sunset Memorial Gardens.

Burch, a native of Leady, Okla., was married to Dixie Tankersley Aug. 31, 1957 in Brownfield. He moved to Odessa 15 years ago from Brownfield.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Earnest Burch of Plainview and a brother, Kenneth Burch of Spencer, Okla.

Mrs. Hall Dies At Colorado City

COLORADO CITY — Mrs. Hesta Louise Hall, 85, of Colorado City died at 12:05 p.m. Sunday in a nursing home here.

Services will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the First Methodist Church in Lubbock with interment in Lubbock City Cemetery directed by Kiker-Rains-Seale Funeral Home of Colorado City.

Mrs. Hall was born Oct. 15, 1887, in Jonesboro. She was married to Harry L. Hall July 21, 1907, in Robert Lee. He died in 1959.

Survivors include one brother, Alvin Stickney of Midland; one daughter; a sister; three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Police Battle Crowd Of New Year's Revelers

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Police battled a crowd of between 4,000 and 6,000 New Year's revelers at a popular beachfront early today. Twenty-seven persons were injured, including 16 policemen, and 36 persons were arrested, police said.

Broward County Sheriff's Lt. John Tamburello said a force of about 150 law enforcement officers was required to quell the hour-long disturbance which covered about a half-mile of Atlantic Boulevard, an area of bars and motels favored by college vacationers.

The disturbance broke out about midnight when a crowd gathered around two plainclothes detectives who were arresting a man at a bar on assault and battery charges, police said.

Police said one youth struck one of the two detectives, who drew and fired his pistol, grazing the leg of another youth and the crowd responded, by throwing bottles and cans.

More officers were called to the scene and the disturbance quickly spread, police said.

The youths broke windows, set up beach chairs and then on fire on the beach, erected barricades in the street and threw empty beer cans, rocks and garbage at police.

Officers responded with Mace and tear gas and fired blanks into the air but there was no shooting, except for the initial incident, police said.

Of the 27 injured, only two — both policemen — were hospitalized.

Those arrested were charged with inciting to riot and disorderly conduct.

He's one of the engineers at Texas Electric who is charged with the job of making sure this area continues to have enough electricity.

Developing our power system is a complex assignment. It requires teamwork, training, knowledge and experience. It continuously involves weighing alternatives in the selection and arrangement of facilities that will keep our power system reliable and efficient, and environmentally sound.

Ten years ahead may seem a long time, but in our business that's the normal planning cycle.

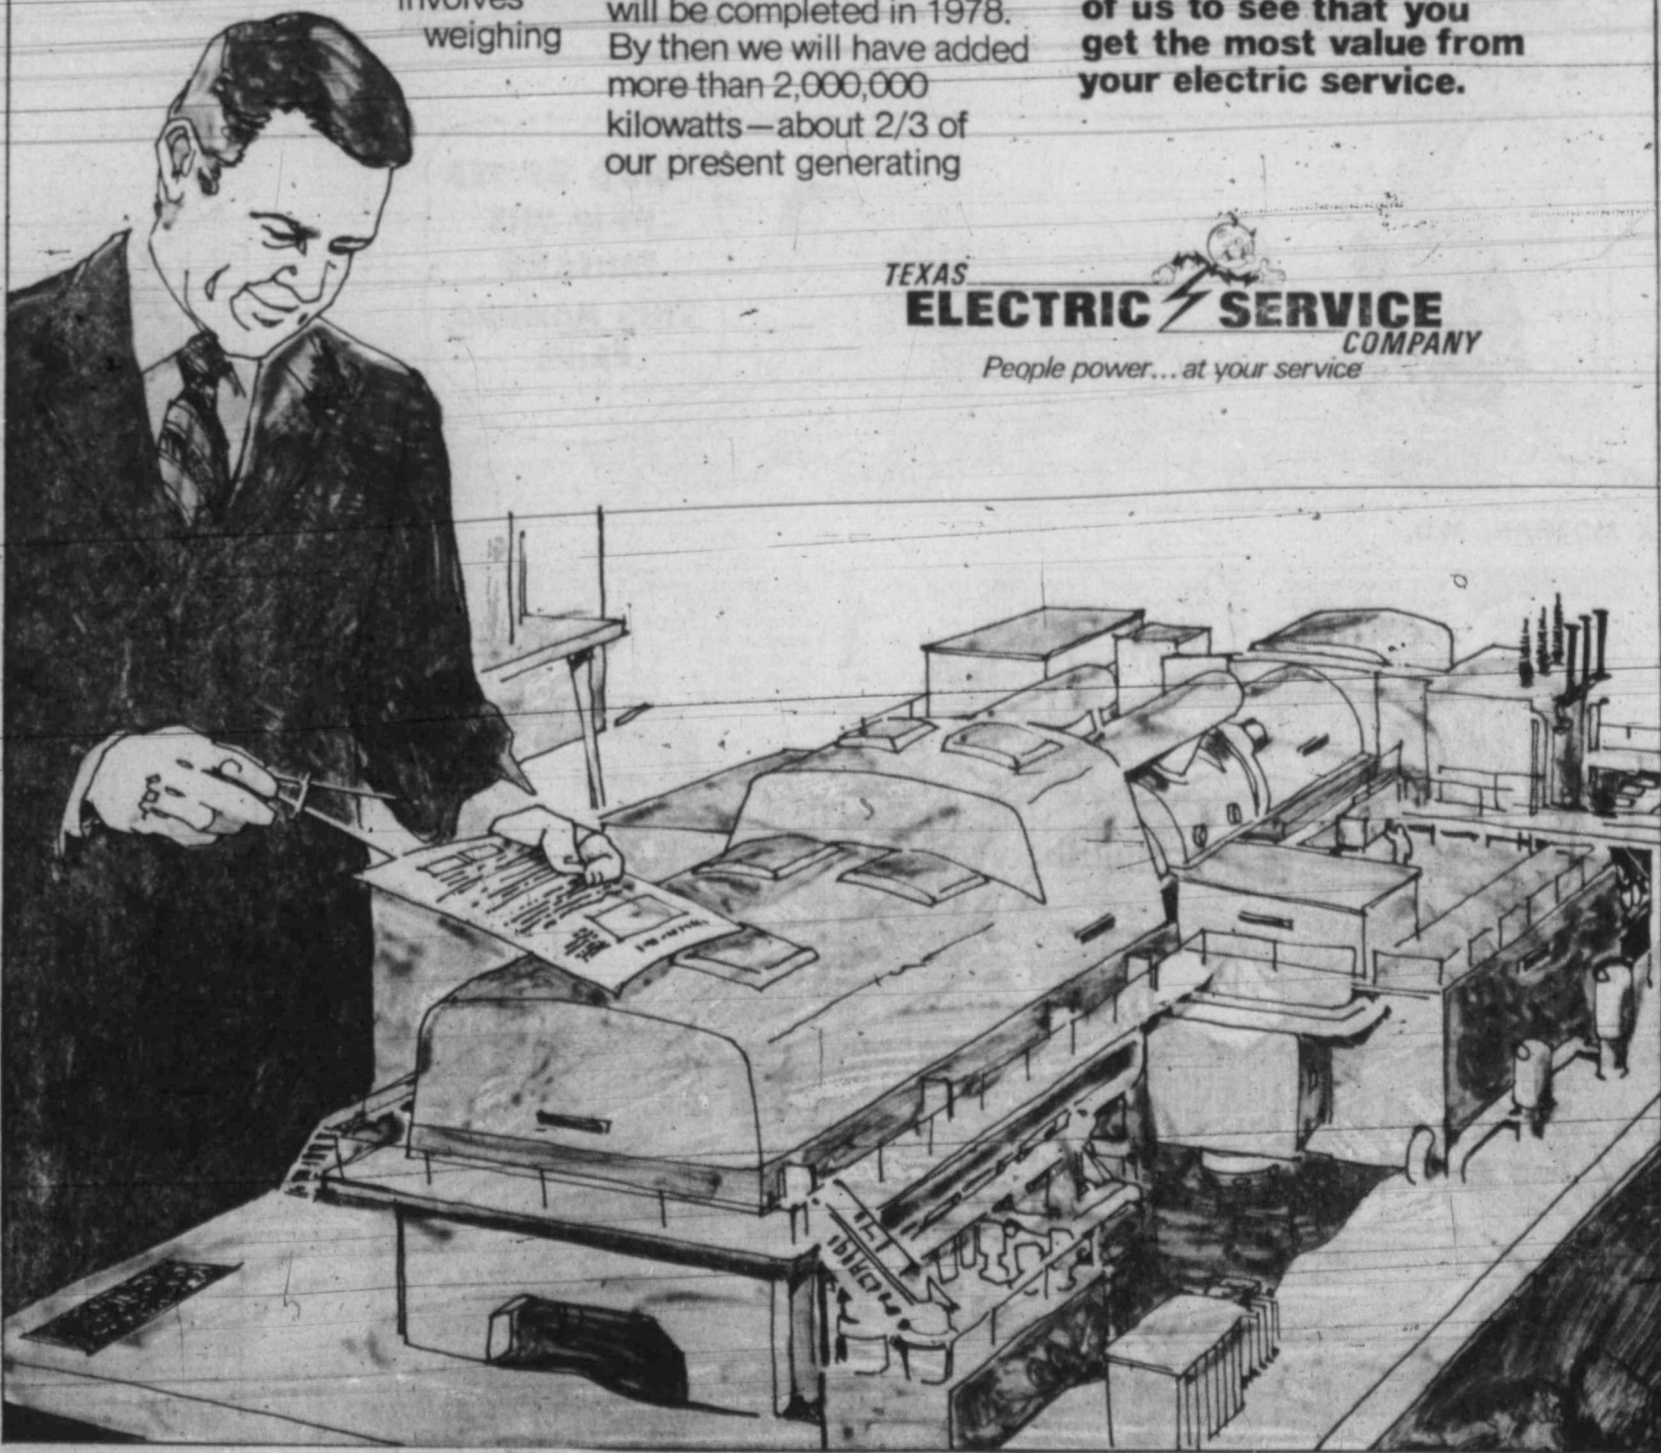

We're already at work on construction projects that will be completed in 1978. By then we will have added more than 2,000,000 kilowatts — about 2/3 of our present generating capability — as well as related transmission and distribution facilities. And we're now planning into the 1980's.

Being able to meet the electric service requirements of our customers tomorrow depends on sound planning today by the people at Texas Electric.

I call upon thee, O Lord; make haste to me! Give ear to my voice, when I call to thee! Let my prayer be counted as incense before thee, and the lifting up of my hands as an evening sacrifice!—Psalms 141:1, 2.

Here It Is — 1973!

And all of a sudden it's 1973... the brand New Year rolling in merrily with all the freshness, brightness, happiness and the hopes which accompany the dawning of an invigorating new day in West Texas.

Shouts of "HAPPY NEW YEAR" are heard on every hand as persons greet each other in the joyous, traditional style of the season. A warm feeling of good will toward one's fellow man occupies the hearts and minds of most persons on this joyous occasion. New Year's Day, then, is something which actually happens in the heart.

And this is as it should be, with the New Year offering a clean slate, a fresh start, greater opportunities, along with new approaches to personal and corporate desires and problems.

Traditionally, New Year's Day has been a time to review and straighten out old debts and make plans for the days, weeks and months ahead.

It is another new beginning, and most of us seek such an opportunity.

No wonder New Year's Day is a time and an occasion for making resolutions... all intended and designed for overall betterment and improvement.

New Year's resolutions, however, need to be supported by a positive, determined attitude.

Ned Rodgers said last week in addressing the Midland Downtown Lions Club that personal goals (resolutions) must be worthwhile and realistic... they must be written down and a time schedule established.

New Year's resolutions perhaps differ somewhat from ordinary, run-of-the-mill goals. Resolutions made this particular season have a more positive meaning, facing as they do when one seriously is desirous of gaining advantage of the new beginning—a fresh start—offered in the building of a better and more meaningful life.

Most persons are more receptive to this idea at the beginning of a fresh New Year.

And while we are considering resolutions, please do not overlook a greater interest and involvement in community betterment.

Goals have been established for a better Midland, but without the support of individuals who resolve in their own hearts to lend a helping hand in pushing them through to completion, they won't mean a great deal. This is a great opportunity on the avenue of service.

Now that our resolutions at least are in the planning stage, and as we look forward to an even greater 1973, we take time out to wish for one and all a HAPPY, PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: 'It's the Pepsi Generation Coming at You, Going Strong.'

WASHINGTON — The outpouring of Coca-Cola upon the nations after World War II — a brown, bubbly world flood unmatched since Noah's day — stirred Communist slogans about "Coca Colonialism." But it has remained for the rival Pepsi-Cola to carry the effervescent tide into Russia itself.

The Pepsi people have made a deal to market Soviet vodka and wine in the United States in return for the right to sell President Nixon's favorite world cola drink in the Soviet Union. Once traveled for the company. As the first American consumer. This was enough to give Pepsi product to reach Soviet shelves, the red, white and blue Pepsi-Cola can may become a symbol of the Russian-American détente.

It is this psychology more than any nod from the White House, a Commerce Department source told us, that has enabled Pepsi-Cola to negotiate a rash of bottling contracts overseas. A Pepsi spokesman also denied that the company has traded on Kendall's friendship with the President. The spokesman pointed out, quite accurately, that Kendall is a tremendous salesman in his own right.

Serenading Kosygin. In any event, Kendall was back in Moscow a few weeks ago visiting with another Soviet premier, Aleksei Kosygin. As they talked, Kendall whipped a Pepsi can out of his pocket and made a magic pass of his hand over the can. Out came music from a radio in Pepsi-Cola disguise.

Kendall came home with an agreement to sell Pepsi to the Russians. It took him most of a year, not to mention four personal trips to Moscow, to swing the deal. He turned on the salesmanship precisely as President Nixon was easing tensions and boosting trade between the United States and the U.S.S.R.

Such timing has stimulated whispers in Washington that Pepsi has an inside track. We have found no evidence, however, that Kendall has received favorable treatment from the Nixon Administration. Pepsi lost millions, for example, when the Health, Education and Welfare Department banned the sweetener cyclamate from the market.

We have established that Kendall was the first aggrieved businessman to reach the Secretary Robert Finch. With typical good humor, Kendall strode into Finch's office carrying a canvas bag. Pretending there was a bomb in the bag, he shoved it under Finch's desk.

"Is this where he sits?" demanded Kendall mischievously. "I don't want to miss him the way they did Hitler." But he was unable to persuade Finch to relent.

Nor did Kendall's friendship with the President prevent the Federal Trade Commission from bringing two suits against Pepsi. One sought to prevent the company from imposing territorial restrictions on its bottlers. The other was intended to block a merger between Pepsi-Cola and Rheingold Beer.

As nearly as we can learn, Kendall scrupulously has kept away from the FTC and has left all the negotiating to Jim Frangos, an attorney in the Mudge, Rose law firm.

But, meanwhile, Pepsi is challenging Coke for supremacy on the brown, bubbly, effervescent ocean.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY (Newspaper Enterprise Association)

Jim: "Let's start 1973 with a sensational hand."

Oswald: "I have one right here. The game was rubber five-diamond call. He really should have doubled our spades. Of course, North would not have left it in and maybe South would have played at the five level. When South did bid for the third time, North decided to gamble on the slam."

Jim: "I see that East doubled. Was the double a lead director?"

Oswald: "It certainly was. This was a high-level game and West definitely knew that the double asked for an unusual lead. (Something other than a spade.)

West led a spade anyway because, as he explained, he didn't know which suit his partner wanted."

Jim: "It sure was expensive. The only lead to give South the slam was a spade. A heart, club or diamond would have given East and West a nice profit instead of an enormous loss."

BRUCE BLOSSAT— Change, Yes, Definitely, But Disruption, No!!

By BRUCE BLOSSAT (Last of four related articles)

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Even as they are beset by difficulties they did not expect to accompany material well-being, Americans plainly turn away from the idea that their "system" should be drastically altered. Old laws of life mingle with new.

So those who see "revolution" in the discontent, the distrust, and the flailing of our institutions just don't get it.

In this time of swift change, quick answers are appealing, not only to simplistic radicals but to the millions in the middle courted for years by the purveyors of easy living.

But those same millions in the middle, like their counterparts in all ages, fear change even as they desire it. They dislike gross disruption. In this country, people are terribly rootless anyway. They need anchors, reference points, havens.

In the frustration they may fulminate against their institutions, and thereby mislead hopeful revolutionaries. But they sense that they need these institutions — changed somewhat but not to unrecognizable shape. They want stability and order.

Their responses to oppressive bigness have produced some healthy "new freedoms," like wider participation in politics. But they have also led to excesses which sometimes make them seem determined to be un-governable. The misguided haters of all order glorify these excesses. But the evidence mounts that more and more Americans are in fact sickened by them, and would welcome a new feeling of wholeness and order and direction in their lives.

They have not been blessed with leaders who can articulate their new problems, let alone propose solutions. Yet all blame cannot fall upon the politicians, or the managers of industry. The playwrights and other writers find nothing new or revealing to say. Music has thinned down to a few faint strains, lost in the thunderous, repetitive "rock" beat which surely is only a contrivance to fill a vacuum, a distraction of the ear from the fact that there is no message.

Our very gains, then, have in critical ways been self-defeating. As the sleepily perceptive historian, Daniel J. Boorstin, observes, the "democratizing" of life has flattened out experience. Television, travel and abundance level the landscape. Excitement fades quickly. The romance and drama of living vanish just as they are grasped.

Nor did Kendall's friendship with the President prevent the Federal Trade Commission from bringing two suits against Pepsi. One sought to prevent the company from imposing territorial restrictions on its bottlers. The other was intended to block a merger between Pepsi-Cola and Rheingold Beer.

As nearly as we can learn, Kendall scrupulously has kept away from the FTC and has left all the negotiating to Jim Frangos, an attorney in the Mudge, Rose law firm.

But, meanwhile, Pepsi is challenging Coke for supremacy on the brown, bubbly, effervescent ocean.

There is an enormous failure in all this. Is it the inevitable failure of affluence? Is there nothing to satisfy us, to challenge us, after we have attained it?

Some bright Americans do not think so. They are not the ones who say "Return to nature," with its cruelties of disease and discomfort. Or who talk of halting technology and freeing men from all restraint.

They are men who suggest we must find wholeness and purpose in developing better our inner riches of mind and heart, searching for uncontrolled freedom but for real individuality in special appreciation of the lasting wealth of art, music, literature and thought. All these realms have indeed, endured.

and do offer immense reward. Thus enlivened in spirit, men may take new heart in tackling the "unchallenging" challenges of today's many complex and perversely multiplying problems — which now engulf and dishearten them. They may accept an old law of life: The pace of today notwithstanding, human problems always take time — and demand both brightness and endurance of spirit.

Which, he says, proves that such self-contentedness are far from being educated.

Dear Editor:

My curmudgeonous neighbor says he notes that many youths now being spewed out of higher learning are vastly obsessed with their new supply of second-hand wisdom and consider themselves totally educated.

Which, he says, proves that such self-contentedness are far from being educated.

He claims that the only genuinely educated person is one who has learned enough to enable him to see how many truths, facts and natural laws exist, which he does not and quite likely will never know. D. E. SCOTT Crossroads, U.S.A.

PERSONAL FINANCE— 'Best Buys' Reportedly Abound At Surplus Sales

By CARLTON SMITH

NEW YORK (NEA) — Bargain hunters are finding a lot of "best buys" among the enormous quantities of material declared surplus by the Department of Defense.

It's by no means limited to used howitzers and tanks. The surplus of the military includes everything from saucapans to saxophones, and such larger items as air conditioners, trailers and cycles.

While much of the surplus is sold, by bid or at auction, in commercial lots, there are little-publicized retail sales for the general public, at many military installations scattered around the country.

A recent listing of surplus for sale includes photographic equipment, lamps and light fixtures, hardware and hand tools, paints and brushes; furniture, office machines, musical instruments, phonographs, and "home type radios" (as distinguished from "communication equipment" — also for sale), and "motor vehicles."

The much-sought-after Jeep isn't included in the general public sales. Jeeps are limited in quantity and are sold at location by competitive bid, says the DoD.

There are two ways for the average citizen to buy Defense Department surplus. Spread geographically around the country are 10 Defense Surplus Sales Offices. Each serves an area of from two to 10 states. Sales are held at these major locations whenever enough surplus has accumulated. It's sold generally either by sealed bid or at auction.

All sales are open to the public, and it's policy that "property is offered in such reasonable quantities as to encourage participation by business concerns of all sizes, as well as individuals." Sealed bid sales, however, generally involve large quantities of items having a commercial or technical application. Auctions, too, usually require bidding on substantial lots.

Individual buyers will generally find the "spot bid" sales more to their taste. They can inspect ahead of time the items for sale, and then either mail in a bid or attend the sale and make a spot bid. High bidders are awarded their selections, item by item, as the sale progresses.

In addition to these sales at the 10 regional offices, local auctions and spot bid sales are held, with some frequency, at a variety of military activities. They involve smaller quantities of surplus, and the sales are publicized only locally.

Finally — and the best bet for most individual bargain hunters — there are the retail sales where surplus items are sold at bargain prices, as on bargain counters everywhere. The prices are "based on current market value." How good a bargain you'll find depends on who's doing the pricing. The retail sales occur "at certain military installations that generate property having appeal to the general public."

To find out where you can go bargain hunting, begin by writing to "DoD Surplus Sales," P.O. Box 1370, Battle Creek, Mich. 49016. Ask which of the Defense Surplus Sales Offices serves the area in which you live.

Once you have the address of the regional office, you write or call there to find out when and where retail sales are held, or the locations of local auctions and spot bid sales.

QUICK QUIZ

Q — Do colors in stars have significance?

1. It has been said that, "Hell is paved with good intentions," and perhaps some bleary-eyed folks with headaches are curb-stoning it with New Year resolutions. Long timed vows are never so good as those made daily and renewed each day such as the A.A. organization's. There's a parable of a man who cleansed his house of everything, but failed to fill it with anything good instead. Give the outcome. Matthew 12

2. Name the first reformer of the N.T. Matthew 3

3. How did Daniel reform the Babylonian king? Daniel 2:47

4. What was Asa's reform measure? 1 or 3 Kings 15:11-12

5. What helpful words did Jesus leave with the apostles? John 16

Four correct... excellent. Three correct... good. See Bible.

(Jan. 21)

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The early morning brings something that pleases you very much. Later in the day you have the chance to put in action some of the plans you've been thinking over since the new year entered. The evening is good for anything critical or compromising in its nature, so get a good rest.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You get a pleasant letter that makes you happy today, then you can put that plan in operation that is important to you. Modern news is the keynote now. Get the right results quickly.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) You have projects in mind that need to be carefully thought out before you put them in operation, otherwise they may not be successful. Hunches are low early in the day, but not so good in p.m. Think happy thoughts.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Some new outlet can bring you much needed recreation and you can reach a fine understanding with an associate. Don't bring up any debatable points. Some entertaining condition arises that requires quick action.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Do those things that make you look more attractive early and then get some pep and zip into your work activities. Being more willing to cooperate with fellow workers is wise. Think constructively.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You are able to have a delightful time with good friends and a pleasant arrangement for future get-togethers also. An associate has a fine interest in mind. Contact this person early and you will go along with him or her on it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You are able to get ahead faster in your high and you can make big headway by getting out to the right places, seeing the best people. Consider your time to a good friend who can be helpful. Avoid one who has an eye on your assets. 482-1981.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You are able to get ahead faster in your high and you can make big headway by getting out to the right places, seeing the best people. Consider your time to a good friend who can be helpful. Avoid one who has an eye on your assets. 482-1981.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Make arrangements to get ahead faster in your high and you can make big headway by getting out to the right places, seeing the best people. Consider your time to a good friend who can be helpful. Avoid one who has an eye on your assets. 482-1981.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) A day of endeavor by adhering to your philosophical principles. Consult with one who is an expert in your field of activity. Add something comfortable to your home.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Fine results can come by consulting with the right people. Consider your time to a good friend who can be helpful. Avoid one who has an eye on your assets. 482-1981.

Nicaraguans Faced Problem Of Hunger Even Before Quake

By VICENTE MORALES
 MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Hunger was Nicaragua's main problem even before an earthquake devastated its capital more than a week ago. A prolonged drought had seriously affected the production of corn, beans and rice.

Wendell Below, the U.S. Embassy's commercial attache, said the problem of hunger "existed here 10 days before the earthquake."

He added that the lack of rainfall, formally about 80 inches a year, had caused as much economic damage to the country and its people as the earthquake.

He said the quake had "only revealed the magnitude of Nicaragua's problems. The government already had problems feeding the poor farmers; and, with the arrival of food from foreign countries, both they and the victims of the earthquake demanded food."

All Products Affected
 Cotton, coffee, sugar, livestock and some semi-manufactured products such as textiles constitute the basis of Nicaraguan exports, and all these were affected in one way or another during the year, Below said.

Protests mounted here over what many considered slow and improper distribution of food and other supplies by Gen. Anastasio Somoza's national guard.

Foreign relief planes have made as many as 500 flights into the city, bringing tons of everything from food to field hospitals; yet a number of the survivors still need assistance.

President Nixon's personal representative, Maurice Williams, met with Somoza Sunday to discuss the possibility of extending American aid for six months.

Williams, head of the Agency for International Development, said Somoza had outlined a list of necessities ranging from food to the reconstruction of Managua.

If the assistance is not continued, Below said, "the country's problems will be aggravated within three months."

The official in charge of receiving the tons of food and other supplies arriving in Managua is a 21-year-old Harvard graduate named Anastasio "Tachito" Somoza, son of Nicaragua's leader.

Without rank or position, but utilizing the strong influence of his father, the younger Somoza controls arrivals and departures of mercy flights at Las Mercedes airport.

Tons Of Food Pour In
 Tons of food could be seen stored in the airport's main hangar over the weekend, and Somoza was busy giving orders about where it should be taken.

"As soon as they arrive, the supplies are sent to the National Emergency Committee, which is under civilian control," he said.

When informed that there were no civilians on the committee, Somoza replied: "Okay, you can say that there are civilians. Because there will be as of now."

Asked about numerous complaints that foodstuff had not been distributed fast enough and apparently was not reaching all survivors, he said: "That's easy to write, but we have 125,000 homeless here in Managua and 130,000 in other departments of the country. It's not so easy to give them everything they ask."

Pearson Services Held In Cold, Freezing Rain

WAKEFIELD, Que. (AP) — Lester Bowles Pearson, 14th prime minister of Canada and winner of the Nobel Peace Prize, was interred at dusk Sunday in a $10 country graveyard plot he bought 30 years ago.

Only family, closest friends and a few others attended the final five-minute rites under a freezing rain that kept many world dignitaries from attending earlier services in Ottawa, 25 miles south.

The scholar-diplomat, whom many called "Mike," died Wednesday of cancer that doctors said had spread to his liver after destroying one eye. He was 75.

Prime Minister Edward Heath of Britain was the only foreign leader able to attend the funeral. Vice President Spiro Agnew of the United States returned to Washington when his plane could not land in driving rain and snow at Ottawa's airport.

The state funeral was held in Christ Church Anglican Cathedral after the body lay in state on Parliament Hill, where lights were dimmed and flags lowered until the burial.

Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau, who succeeded Pearson in office in 1968, led honorary pallbearers.

The high point of Pearson's diplomatic career — before he began his climb in Canadian politics — came in 1957, when he received the Nobel Peace Prize. It recognized his efforts the year before in setting up a U.N. peacekeeping force to mediate differences between Egypt and Israel.

The peace lasted until the 1967 six-day war between the two countries.

Pearson was prime minister from 1963-1968.

Nixon Will Make Staff Available To Lawmakers

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's top lobbyist says the chief executive is prepared to make his most senior staff members available to congressmen for talks on all issues that may come up in Congress this year. The Washington Post reported today.

The offer of informal discussions with such top presidential advisers as H. R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman, Henry A. Kissinger and Peter M. Flanagan was made by William E. Timmons, assistant to the President for congressional relations, the Post said.

The newspaper reported that Timmons said in an interview that Nixon wants to take action to ease conflicts over executive privilege, the control of spending and the handling of legislative requests.

Timmons said that the envisioned talks have the endorsement of the senior White House aides who would be involved, the Post said.

It reported that Timmons envisioned regular working lunches between White House staff members and leading members of Congress involved in a particular issue "with a good give-and-take issue exchange."

Timmons said that the meetings would have to be informal without a record or transcript and that White House staff members would not have to "talk about personal communications with the President," the newspaper said.

It also reported that Timmons said Nixon "would be perfectly happy" if Congress were to set a ceiling on spending "as long as it's reasonable."

Joan Baez Back From Hanoi Trip

NEW YORK (AP) — Folk singer Joan Baez and three other antiwar activists have returned from a trip to Hanoi with 600 letters from American prisoners of war to friends and relatives in the United States.

Barry Romo of the Vietnam Veterans Against the War told newsmen on the group's arrival here Sunday night that the intensive U.S. bombing campaign against the Hanoi-Haiphong area "didn't mean a thing" in North Vietnam. It only meant 56 more POWs.

He said that, during their stay in the North Vietnamese capital, the Americans met with 13 American prisoners.

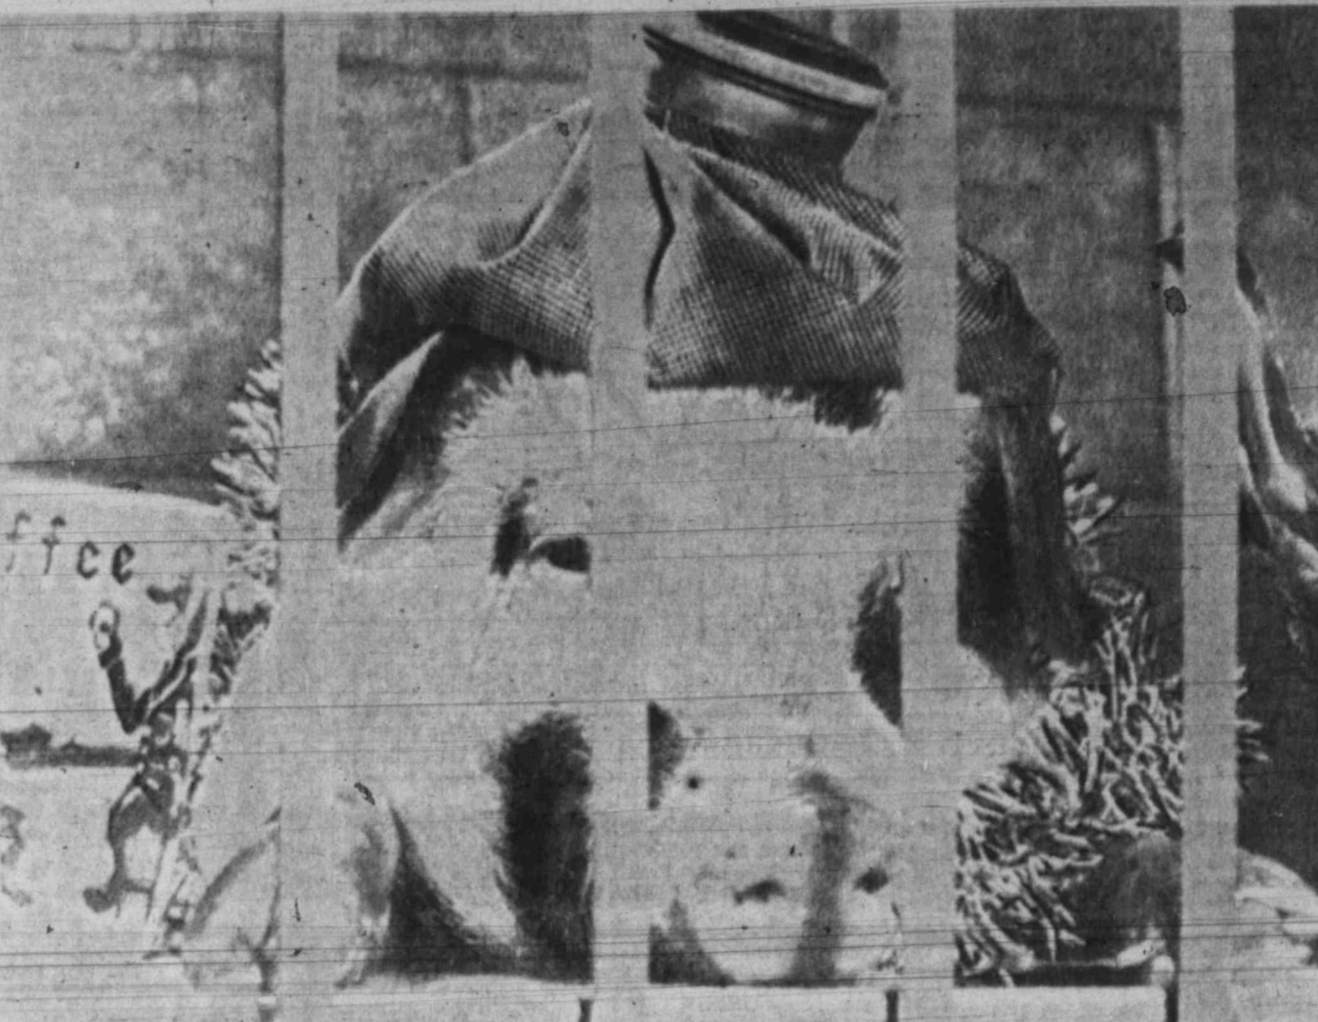

With Miss Baez and Romo were Telford Taylor, a Columbia University law professor, and the Rev. Michael Allen of the Yale Divinity School.

CONVENING WEDNESDAY—Fireworks Loom In 93rd Congress

By JAY PERKINS
 WASHINGTON (AP) — The 93rd Congress convenes Wednesday amid indications the coming session could produce more fireworks than any since the late President Harry S. Truman took on the 80th Congress a quarter-century ago.

Democrats, their Senate majority enlarged to 57 and their House losses held to 12 seats in the Nov. 7 election, are talking of challenging President Nixon on issues ranging from the Vietnam war to federal spending.

War Fund Cutoff Back
 Sen. Robert C. Byrd, the assistant Democratic leader, says he has no doubt that efforts will be made to cut off money for the war unless an agreement is reached in Paris. But he said he personally will not support such efforts during the next 30 days, nor perhaps within the next 60 days, and feels that the real hope for peace lies in the negotiations in Paris.

Questioned Sunday on NBC's "Meet the Press," Byrd offered this list of priorities: "Hijacking legislation; legislation dealing with highways, trade, the extension of price and wage controls, strip mining, the energy crisis; I think the Congress will come to grips with the issue of separation of powers and I think that it will be more assertive of its rightful place in the constitutional system of checks and balances."

Internal reform could set off another battle in the early days of the new Congress. The seniority system of selecting committee chairmen is expected to be tested in the House where a move is under way to persuade the Democratic caucus to elect chairmen instead of appointing them on the basis of seniority.

A coalition of some 50 organizations calling itself the Committee on Congressional Reform is pushing for election of chairmen as well as another proposal to ban closed sessions of committees unless personnel matters or national security are being discussed.

One perennial Senate fight, however, say at least a token effort may be made to modify a rule requiring a two-thirds vote to choke off filibusters, is not expected to come up this session.

Some liberal Democrats who have favored lowering the two-thirds rule to make it easier to cut off debate have had a change of mind. And Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., says he does not anticipate the issue will be raised this session. Some liberals, however, say at least a token effort may be made to modify the rule.

AT COST OF MILLIONS—Humble's Name XXed Out Today

HOUSTON (AP) — One of the biggest names in the oil business was XXed out today when Humble Oil & Refining Co. bowed to the demands of marketing and the whims of the computer.

Humble, a name that dates back to the Humble, Tex., oil field, is no more. Instead, with the expenditure of at least $100 million, it's now the Exxon Co., U.S.A.

The new name, double XX and all, was picked out of a computer by the company for a serious reason—so it could sell gasoline under the same name across the country. Because of legal ruling after the breakup of the giant Standard Oil Co. in 1911, Humble had been forced to market its products under the names Esso, Enco and Humble.

Organized In 1911
 It was in January of 1911 that Ross Sterling, along with five other operators, decided they were drilling themselves into bankruptcy in the Humble field and decided to join forces under the Humble name.

To erase that name, Humble—or, should we say, Exxon—has spent $100 to $200 million. The company won't say how much, and the estimates come from other people in the industry.

Last November the company started replacing all the signs on its service stations across the country. Every one of the 25,000 stations needed an average of 50 changes, company officials said, from replacing decals on uniforms to putting up the new highway signs. About 138,000 signs were needed for gasoline pumps alone.

More than half a million pieces of company property have new identities bolted, embossed, painted or glued on, and Exxon had to hire warehouses just to store newly printed forms and stationery until they are needed.

Meanwhile the company's parent corporation, Standard Oil of New Jersey, has also bitten the bullet and changed its name to Exxon Corp.

Starting it as a top secret project more than three years ago, a team of researchers used a computer to come up with about 10,000 possibilities for the new name, officials say.

They checked trademarks and company names in all 50 states, hired an opinion-research firm to interview 7,000 persons on four continents about possible names, whittled the list down to six possibilities, then finally made it Exxon.

Mao Tse-Tung 'Man Of Year'

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Mao Tse-tung, leader of Communist China, has been named man of the year by a Beirut newspaper in preference to President Nixon.

As Safa, an independent French-language daily, said Sunday that, while Nixon was "perpetually resorting to war" to achieve his ends, Mao realized much progress and victories with his "silent power."

Organized Labor Licks Its Wounds, Girds For Contract Wars

By NEIL GILBRIDE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized labor is licking the wounds of its severest political split in history and gearing up for major 1973 contract battles that could spell new economic crises for President Nixon.

Echoes of the presidential election in which Nixon trounced Democratic nominee George McGovern could haunt crucial labor bargaining such as the Teamsters' national contract for 450,000 truckers and the United Auto Workers' negotiations for 750,000 auto and farm-implement workers.

Splits Politically
Big Labor split into Nixon, McGovern and neutral camps in the White House election. Teamsters' President Frank E. Fitzsimmons, who will head the union's trucking talks, was Nixon's No. 1 labor supporter in the election, a fact that will be difficult to ignore if the government finds it necessary to intervene in the contract negotiations.

Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock went all-out for McGovern in the presidential race, and officials of his union belligerently denounced Nixon's wage controls. Altogether, contracts covering nearly two million workers — most of them among the nation's highest paid — are up for negotiation, and a high Labor Department official says privately that 1973 bargaining could be the most crucial of Nixon's two terms in the White House.

Many union officials warn of pent-up demand for workers for big wage hikes that will run head-on against the Nixon administration's efforts at moderation to hold down inflation. The AFL-CIO's 78-year-old president, George Meany — who was roundly denounced by many labor officials for breaking traditional labor support for the Democratic presidential nominee — emerged, as the title of a new biography describes him, as the "unchallenged boss of American labor."

Meany, after strongly indicating the AFL-CIO would support any Democratic nominee except George Wallace, New York Mayor John Lindsay or "someone who advocates surrender in Vietnam," led the 13.6-million-member labor federation to a neutral position in the Nixon-McGovern race.

Many pro-McGovern labor officials charged Meany was more "neutral" for Nixon than for McGovern, but political analyst Richard Scammon said after the election that Meany was "the man who comes out-smelling like a rose." Scammon, co-author of "The Real Majority" and director of the Election Research Center, said Meany correctly read that labor union members were sharply divided between the two White House contenders and wisely kept the AFL-CIO neutral. Fitzsimmons' Teamsters have not been part of the AFL-CIO since they were booted out on corruption charges in 1955 during the scandal-ridden reign of former Teamsters Presidents Dave Beck and James R. Hoffa.

The wounds over the election will not heal easily in some cases, and some insiders predicted an effort to overhaul the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education with an eye to prevent future major political splits.

The AFL-CIO Machinists union, a major McGovern backer, warned of renewed efforts in Nixon's second term at "anti-bor" legislation in Congress, which remains in the hands of the Democrats. Nixon withdrew his "crippling strikes" legislation late in the presidential campaign, saying it was obvious it couldn't make it through Congress in 1972.

But his labor secretary, James D. Hodgson, said the question of strike legislation would be taken up again by the new Commission on Industrial Peace that Nixon intends to set up.

Denounce Bill
Labor leaders — including Meany — had sharply denounced the "crippling strikes" bill as a thinly disguised effort at compulsory government settlement of labor disputes, and fought it tooth and nail in Congress. Another fight would surely result if any similar legislation comes up this year.

Auto Workers contracts with Ford, Chrysler and General Motors covering 670,000 workers expire in September, along with contracts for some 73,000 farm equipment employees. The Teamsters national contract expires in June.

Administration sources said the White House hadn't decided yet whether to try to extend the present system of controls, modify them or junk them altogether. The latter seemed the most unlikely possibility.

The Nixon administration near yearend pointed to considerable success in reducing the annual inflation rate to a little over 3 per cent a year compared with an annual rate of 4.6 per cent when Nixon first took office.

Most labor unions complained that Nixon's controls were tougher on wages than prices, and were helping give big business record profits.

That Little Red Caboose Is TCE&GB Passenger Car

AJO, Ariz. (AP) — Back in 1916 the owners of the Tucson, Cornelia & Gila Bend Railroad printed a batch of passenger tickets—and the ticket agent just ran out of that first batch a few weeks ago.

The little railroad, owned by the Phelps Dodge Corp., has been hauling passengers in its caboose for 56 years on the trip from Ajo to Gila Bend, 44 miles north.

Phelps Dodge officials say the main purpose of the line is to haul cars of copper ore from the firm's open pit mine here to a connecting main line in Gila Bend.

However, the passenger service always has been part of the railroad.

Tom C. Wiley has been the conductor for the past 16 years. He collects 97 cents for each one-way trip, or $1.94 for a round trip. The fare hasn't gone up since 1948.

Wiley says he doesn't get many customers, and when he does get one, he takes advantage of the listener to describe the old railroad, the state of the union, politics and his health. Engineer Ray Phillips blows the whistle every weekday morning at 7 o'clock, and the engine, a few freight cars and the caboose pull out for the 90-minute trip at 28 miles per hour to Gila Bend.

Wiley says most passengers are either people curious about the little railroad, or Ajo residents going to Gila Bend for a day's shopping or business.

Phillips, who has been with the TCE&GB for 27 years, says the most exciting thing in that time was a train-robbery that never happened about 18 years ago.

Before Ajo had a bank, the train carried the mine's payroll from Gila Bend.

"We had some damn big payrolls," Phillips recalls. "I remember one time, just before Christmas, we carried over half a million dollars in cold cash. Don't you think we didn't have guards all over this train?"

Going back to the story of the near train robbery, Phillips says: "It was back in 1954, I think.

They got a tip from Washington—the FBI did—that these guys were going to hold up the train.

"We had armed guards riding this thing for two months on account of that tip."

But no robbery ever was tried.

"One thing did happen, though—we had an air hose on the brakes pop one day," Phillips recalls.

"When they pop, they go with a bang. And when that thing went off, every one of those guards jumped out of their skin and came rushing up with their guns and rifles and everything."

The train doesn't carry the payroll any more—just freight, and the few passengers who want to ride between the two towns.

The train makes an hour's stop at Gila Bend for uncoupling and picking up freight cars and turning the engine around. The ride back is 95 minutes long—there's a slight upgrade.

The old TCE&GB is needed by Phelps Dodge for hauling freight and ore. Passenger service is a fractional part of the business. But station agent Gene Templeton says as long as people want to ride it, the railroad will carry them.

New Organization Formed To Speed Trinity Canal Plan

CORSICANA, Tex. (AP) — Nine of 17 Texas counties along the Trinity River are represented in a new organization which seeks to spur toward completion projects for improvement along the stream.

Named Better Environment, No Endless Flooding in the Trinity (BENEFIT), it is headed by rancher John Beck of Kerns, in Navarro County, as chairman and its formation was completed during the weekend.

"Development of the Trinity is the key to the future of many communities in the river valley," Beck said, adding that the group will support a bond issue which the Trinity River Authority is expected to propose.

Dan M. Royall Jr. of Malakoff, in Henderson County, is vice president and Joe Burris of Elkhart, in Anderson County, is secretary-treasurer.

Other members of the organizing committee and counties they represent are Don M. Dean of Madisonville, in Madison County; C. H. Elliott, of Trinity, in Trinity County; Gonda Mullenax of Buffalo, in Leon County; Guss Merriwether of Crockett, in Houston County; Morris Waller, of Huntsville, in Walker County, and O. S. Watson of Fairfield, in Freestone County.

Houston Couple Held In Slaying

HOUSTON (AP) — Terry Lee McMiller, 22, was shot to death Sunday night, police said, after he refused to help another man start a car.

Officers said he was shot first by a girl and then, as relatives tried to rush him to a hospital, the girl's male companion ran up to McMiller's car and shot him again.

Officers said they were holding the couple late Sunday night but no charges had been filed.

Hunting Accident Claims Youth, 14

HALLETTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Onecimo Ruiz Jr., 14, of Houston was shot to death in a hunting accident here Sunday, a Lavaca County Sheriff's department spokesman said.

His father, Onecimo Ruiz Sr., told officers he and the boy were about to return home from a deer hunting trip when his son accidentally shot himself while checking their rifles.

Directors Create Vast Regional Bank Holding Company

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A chairman and president, respectively, of First National Bank took the same posts with Bancshares, Inc., was created in Dallas Sunday in an extraordinary New Year's Eve board meeting.

The action brought to fruition months of planning to form the largest bank holding company in the South and Southwest, currently $3.5 billion in resources and more anticipated—a combination initially of The First National Bank in Dallas and the Houston-Citizens Bank & Trust Co., Houston's fifth largest bank.

Shareholders of the two banks received two shares of Bancshares for each share of First National Bank stock and 1.8 shares of Bancshares for each Houston-Citizens share.

Robert H. Stewart III and Dewey Presley, who had been chairman and president, respectively, of First National Bank took the same posts with Bancshares, Inc., was created in Dallas Sunday in an extraordinary New Year's Eve board meeting.

Stewart and Presley were succeeded in their bank posts by Harry A. Shuford as chairman and J. Rawlins Fulghum Jr. as president.

Joe L. Albritton, chairman and president of Houston-Citizens, was elected chairman of the holding company's executive committee.

The two banks were the only firms actually involved in Sunday's formalities. However, another nine banks in the state have joined in separate agreements to also become Bancshares subsidiaries.

Together, they could report year-end resources of about $500 million. When these acquisitions have been added, Bancshares will have about $4 billion in total resources.

ARKANSAS AIR CRASH— Woman Survivor Still In Critical Condition

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Laura Handley, 23, of the St. Louis suburb of Florissant, Mo., was still in critical condition Sunday at a Fort Smith hospital, after surviving a plane crash last week.

Mrs. Handley and her son, Keith, 5, were found Saturday in the wreckage of a light plane that crashed Thursday night on rugged Rich Mountain near Mena. The bodies of Mrs. Handley's husband, Jack G. Handley, 26, and their 10-week-old son Eric were found in the wreckage.

Authorities said Mrs. Handley was suffering shock, exposure and a head injury. Keith, who authorities said Saturday seemed to "be doing pretty good," was transferred to Temple, Tex.

Dr. H. N. Rogers, a member of the Mena hospital staff, said Mrs. Handley and Keith were "near frozen."

"The boy who survived had already been about the wreckage but he didn't wander away," said L. Charles Dillard of Fort Smith, who is with the Civil Air Patrol and one of the first to reach the wreckage. "He stayed there with the mother, because she was still alive," Dillard said.

was "breathing and moaning" but unable to say anything to rescuers. He said rescuers found Keith asleep beside his mother, who was still fastened securely in her seat in the fuselage, which he said was lying on its side.

Both mother and child had survived two cold nights. The Handleys left Temple, Tex., about 6:45 p.m. Thursday for St. Charles, Mo., and were reported missing after failing to make a scheduled refueling stop at Fort Smith, Ark. Handley, who was with the broadcast education department of the University of Missouri at St. Louis, was piloting the single-engine Piper 180 plane. A CAP search plane sighted the wreckage from the air early Saturday afternoon and rescue parties were sent up the mountainside.

Dillard said the plane clipped trees for about a fourth of a mile before finally crashing. "It crashed just 200 or 300 yards short of getting over the top of the mountain," Dillard said. "They hit the side of the mountain, but not head on. He tried to turn away from it. He said the impact completely disintegrated" the plane.

According to Boyle—
Dog's Life Better Than Man's Today

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Side-walk comments by a Pavement Plato: Which has a better life under civilization, a man or a dog or a cat?

While there are certain advantages as well as disadvantages in any one of these, on the whole the life of a man seems to be the worst, the life of a cat the best.

The life of a man is the worst because it is the most un-natural. His normal instincts are more repressed, his personal freedoms are more confined or denied.

Almost everything a man who lives in a city does is against his nature. He has to breathe foul air and try to sleep in noisy places. He has to work for 40 hours, more or less, in office or factory at tasks that often don't interest him greatly and yield him few satisfactions of body, mind or spirit.

Most of his pleasures are fruitless and give him little real joy. They tear him down rather than build him up. He eats too much, drinks too much, thinks too little and spends too many dull hours in hypnotized inertia watching television programs that would bore a mindless mole.

During the average day he doesn't perform enough physical activity to keep Tom Thumb properly exercised. His attitude toward sex is pretty much like his attitude toward the weather. He spends far more time talking about it than doing anything about it.

But the biggest sources of Valuable Jade disparity to man under civilization is his thralldom to money. Almost everything he does or doesn't do is determined by whether he has enough or too little money. Everything in his life has a price tag, and he sweats his life away pawing through them for the things he can afford.

Therein lies the superiority of the life of a cat or a dog over the life of a man. Neither cats nor dogs have to carry pocket-books or cash checks. Man is a dog also has it over a man in that he doesn't have to wear clothing, work for a living, drive an automobile through traffic, or try to please a whim-whams of a vexing wife. He also doesn't have to bear up under the strain of raising snooty teen-age children.

While most dogs aren't overly fond of the canned foods they get, nutritionists say their menu is often more nourishing than the things people put in their stomachs.

But on the whole, the life of a dog is superior to that of either man or dog. Unlike a man or a dog, it doesn't have to perform tricks or sit up and beg for its vittles. It doesn't even feel it necessary to please its master, or wag its tail in loyal gratitude, because a cat recognizes no power superior to its self, or majesty other than its own. It fawns on neither friend nor foe. It performs no menial tasks, is slave to no vices, and is free to daydream for 24 hours a day if it chooses.

A cat makes its own manners and can lick its furry sides in public.

Man restlessly prowls, the dog growls—but the cat howls in-glee. The cat has it made. It leads neither a dog's life nor a man's.

OCAW, American Oil Reach Accord; Strikes Postponed

DENVER (AP) — The Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union (OCAW) has reached an agreement for a new two-year contract with American Oil Co. affecting employees of the company's refinery at Texas City, Tex. OCAW president A. F. Grosipron announced late Sunday.

Disclosure of the settlement came less than an hour after the union's contracts with oil company's in the eastern time zone had expired at midnight.

Negotiations To Continue

"In view of this," Grosipron said, "negotiations with other companies and at other plants of American Oil will continue working at their jobs after expiration of their contracts at midnight."

The settlement with American's Texas City refinery was the first of 415 contracts to be negotiated. The OCAW represents workers with nearly all major oil companies as well as workers on some pipelines, marketing terminals and petrochemical companies.

Grosipron said the agreement with American Oil calls for wage increases of 6 per cent effective today—an average of about 30 cents per hour—and an additional 27 cents per hour effective Jan. 1, 1974.

The union had asked for a per hour increase over two years. The average hourly salary for OCAW members is $4.95, a union spokesman said.

Grosipron said the contract also calls for company payment toward the cost of hospitalization insurance to be increased by $5 per month effective Jan. 1, 1974. The company will continue to pay total costs of such insurance for single employees.

Some improvements in pensions are included, he said, and effective Jan. 1, 1974, premium pay for night work will be increased to 20 cents per hour on evening shifts and 40 cents hourly on overnight shifts.

Health, Safety Committee

The company and union also agreed to the establishment of a joint labor management health and safety committee at company costs, he said.

Although each company and each plant must negotiate the contracts separately, most companies traditionally have used the first settlement as a model, a union spokesman said.

The OCAW represents about 60,000 oil workers nationally. Most are employed along the Gulf Coast, in the Great Lakes Region—in California and on the East Coast.

Four years ago the OCAW called a strike which lasted as long as six weeks at some localities. Minor fuel shortages were reported in some cities during the strike.

New Year '73 Officially Starts One Second Late

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New Year came one second late for revelers around the world this year as observatories adjusted their clocks to more precise alignment with the earth's rotation.

Not many noticed the extra second, of course, but Russell Brown was in a quandary.

Brown presides over the annual lowering of the illuminated ball on the Allied Chemical Tower in Manhattan's Times Square, the symbol for millions of American television viewers of the passing of the old year.

"God forbid anything should go wrong in the world for a full second," he said, laughing.

"But 11:59:61 is going to look very funny at the bottom of everybody's tv screen, right?"

Celebrations by ordinary citizens around the world today were expected to coincide at times with New Year's festivities for 1973 from heads of state.

Many Chinese were to spend the day in movie houses; the traditional Tournament of Roses parade, and the Rose Bowl football game matching man Mao Tse-tung and Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, the Viet of Southern California.

Indonesian President Suharto called on all "disputing parties" in Vietnam to eschew violence in favor of "good will and honesty."

Denmark's young Queen Margrethe had a special New Year's message for Danes, her first since succeeding to the throne after her father's death last January.

In light of the Vietnam bombing halt Saturday, she said in her message: "The news of the last-24 hours leads us to hope that peace may now finally come to that unfortunate country."

Meanwhile, many Americans planned to spend the day in front of television sets watching the traditional Tournament of Roses parade, and the Rose Bowl football game matching man Mao Tse-tung and Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, the Viet of Southern California.

Rose Parade Imports Mums From Florida

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. Richard M. Nixon and actor John Wayne headed the cast for today's 84th annual Rose Parade, which is expected to draw one million persons and a worldwide television audience of 300 million.

Parade-watchers, many of them vacationing college students here for the Rose Bowl football game between Southern California and Ohio State, started jockeying for curb space to watch the parade as early as Friday.

Hundreds traditionally see in New Year's on the curbs—some bringing sleeping bags and portable heaters to make the sub-50 degree night temperatures easier to take.

The weatherman promised a midday temperature in the 60s.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A brown-haired former model who quit college to find "travel, education and promotional opportunities" has become the first female vocalist in the Air Force.

Mary Jo Creed, a pretty 19-year-old, was sworn into the Air Force here last week for a six-year enlistment under a new specialty code permitting women to be band vocalists.

After six weeks of basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, officials say, she will return to Luke Air Force Base near here to begin rehearsals with the 12th Air Force Band.

"What I originally wanted was to be a flutist in a band, which I could have been with the Lackland band," she says. "But I prefer to stay in Arizona, so I found out I could audition as a vocalist for the Luke band."

Miss Creed also plays the piano and sings pop, country and Western and sacred songs.

Since the event is known for its use of fresh flowers, Southern California's recent December heat wave posed a problem—causing chrysanthemums to bloom prematurely.

"The solution?"

"We had to bring in a lot of colored mums from Florida," said the co-owner of one of the parade's major float-building firms.

100,000 Species

There are more than 100,000 species of butterflies and moths, with thousands more yet to be discovered in the tropics, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.
