Strike Seen, Probe Slated In Midland

A Dean-Spraberry discovery apparently has been assured in Midland County with the pumping of 54 barrels of oil and 34 barrels of water in 24 hours at Miller Exploration Co. of Midland No. 1 Inez Fasken, re-entry project on the west side of Midland townsite.

Recovery was through perforations at 8,618-9,623 feet, which had been fractured with 70,000 gallons and 140,000 pounds. Testing continued.

Operations have been taken over from Hutchco Production Sales Service of Midland, which filed application to re-enter the former opener and lone well in the Midwest (Bend) field. It originally was drilled by Husky Oil Co. and completed March 8, 1956 for 245 barrels of 41.4-gravity oil per day, with gas-oil ratio of 2,380-1, through a 24-64-inch choke and perforations at 10,779-10,819 feet.

Drilled to 13,070 feet in the Ellenburger, and plugged back to 10,950 feet, top of the Spraberry was reported at 7,970 feet, under Kelly bushing elevation of 2,885 feet.

Location is 857 feet from north and 1,751 feet from east lines of section 31, block 39, T-1-S, T&P survey.

Wildcat Set

The same firm has scheduled plans to re-enter and plug back as a 9,600-foot Dean-Spraberry wildcat, No. 1-A Inez Fasken, Midland County 11,249-foot failure, one mile southeast of its No. 1 Fasken, on the west side of Midland townsite.

Originally drilled by Ralph Lowe as No. 1 Inez Fasken, it was plugged and abandoned June 14, 1951.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 6, block 39, T-2-S, T&P survey.

San Andres Oiler Finals In Crane

Estes Engineering Co. of Midland has recompleted its No. 1 Hollyfield, former Tubb opener of the J.M.H. field of Crane County, to open San Andres pay in the field, about 17 miles southwest of Crane.

It finished to pump eight barrels of 36-gravity oil and 40 barrels of water per day, with gas-oil ratio of 125-1, on 24-hour potential test through perforations at 1,955-2,061 feet. Top of pay was picked at 1,950 feet.

It was completed from the Tubb in September 1972.

Location is 1,448 feet from southwest and 467 feet from southeast lines of section 1, block 35, H&TC survey.

Operator does not plan to request discovery—allowable because the well is a submarginal producer.

Ward, Edwards Get Prospector Sites

Exploration has been scheduled in Ward and Edward counties.

S-T Oil & Gas of Midland, has staked site for No. 1 Walsh as a 3,000-foot wildcat in Ward County, 14 miles southwest of Monahans.

Located 3/4 mile west of the shallow Byrd oil field, it spots 1,300 feet from southeast and 3,470 feet from northeast lines. (Continued On Page 12A)

Six Escape Fort Stockton Jail

STREETS STILL SLICK—Mrs. Thelma Norris, 38, of 108 E. Shandon St. and a passenger in her car, 11-month-old Rene Nixon, escaped serious injury this morning when Mrs. Norris' car skidded into Midland Draw at the intersection of Scharbauer Drive and N. I Street. Mrs. Norris and the child, daughter of Mrs. Mary Nixon, were examined at Midland Memorial Hospital and released.

Midlanders Thaw Following Record 150 Freezing Hours

Subzero cold numbed parts of Texas today as some of the bitterest weather in years started relaxing its icy clutch on the state. Skies cleared in the wake of a protracted storm, which dumped as much as 10 inches of snow in the area around Abilene, but ice on streets and highways kept travel dangerous over a broad stretch of countryside.

Early morning temperatures plunged to 4 degrees below zero at Ballinger, in West Central Texas, and Perryton, in the north edge of the Texas Panhandle. There was still about four inches of snow on the ground in both places.

Midland's longest sustained period of temperatures 32 degrees or lower finally came to an end shortly after 10 a.m. today — 150 hours after the temperature at the National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal last was above 32 degrees. The freeze started here at 5 a.m. Saturday.

Previous record duration of freezing temperature here was 96 hours recorded Feb. 1-5, 1956. The Midland weather station began hourly readings in November 1953.

Thermometer Climbing
The temperature had reached 36 degrees by 11 a.m. en route to what forecasters predicted would be a high this afternoon in the low 40s. The low here this morning was 17.

It was expected to fall back into the middle 20s tonight, then warm into the upper 50s on Saturday beneath fair skies.

The National Weather Service offered this explanation of how so much ice and snow disappeared Thursday even though the official maximum for the day was just 32.

"Thirty-two degrees is the melting point of ice, rather than the freezing point (which can be a lower temperature than that under some circumstances). Buildings, paved roads, etc., absorb considerable heat which contributes to melting, even though the air temperature may be 32 degrees or lower.

"The temperature we report can be dangerous at night as the free air temperature, which can differ substantially from place to place within a short distance. Again appealing for motorists to make only necessary trips, the Texas Highway Department reported snow or freezing rain left a treacherous glaze as a liquid state directly into the atmosphere without going through the melting stage."

Law enforcement officers emphasized that area roads still can be dangerous at night as the temperature drops to freeze slush and puddles of water. Reported snow or freezing rain left a treacherous glaze as a liquid state directly into the atmosphere without going through the melting stage."

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON (AP)—The trial of six men accused of burglarizing Democratic party headquarters was moved to a closed courtroom today by U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica, stirring speculation that there may be more guilty pleas.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House, the State Department and the Defense Department today ruled out the use of nuclear weapons by the United States in the Vietnam war.

EDINBURG (AP) — Hidalgo County Agent A. H. Karcher said today he does not believe Thursday night's 23-degree cold will cause any damage to the county's citrus groves.

Utah Student Tells Of Money Dealings In Watergate Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — A last June 17 trial continues for Utah college student has six others charged in the burglary that he met weekly with former White House consultant E. Howard Hunt to exchange intelligence reports on Democrats for envelopes full of money.

Thomas Gregory, a student at Brigham Young University, said he was paid for infiltrating the headquarters of Sen. Edmund S. Muskie and George McGovern, candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Gregory testified that he was recruited by a friend who was soliciting agents to spy on Democratic organizations. He said a man identifying himself as E. L. Warren paid for his plane ticket to Washington from Provo, Utah, and gave him his first assignment of infiltrating the Muskie camp.

He identified "Warren" as Hunt, who pleaded guilty Thursday to all six charges against him, charges of conspiracy, burglary and illegal wiretapping and eavesdropping, in connection with a break-in at national Democratic headquarters in the Watergate complex.

Ex-Midlander To Head Bank

ARTESIA, N.M. (AP) — William T. Fletz, president of People's State Bank in Artesia, today announced the interbank group promotion of Artesia bank Vice President R. D. Skelton to president of the Winkler County State Bank in Wink, Tex., effective Feb. 1.

Skelton has since been with the Artesia bank since he moved to New Mexico from Midland, Tex., eight years ago.

TO START LEGISLATIVE GEARS TURNING— Daniel Names House Committees

By LEE JONES
AUSTIN (AP) — Speaker Price Daniel Jr. started the legislative gears turning today by naming House committees and referring a stack of bills to them for hearings.

Daniel generally turned to his early supporters for the top chairmanships, but also gave some plums to latecomers to the Daniel campaign.

Rep. Neil Caldwell of Angleton, a liberal who has held few positions of influence in more than 12 years as a lawmaker under conservative speakers, was named chairman of the House Appropriations Committee. Rep. Dick Slack of Pecos, a conservative who was vice chairman in 1971, was given that post again, eliciting a low whistle from a few members as the appointment was read.

Hearty On Panel
Rep. W. S. Healy of Paducah, former appropriations chairman who resigned in March when former Speaker Rayford Price's brief administration came to power, returned to that committee by virtue of seniority.

New House votes gave Daniel authority to select the chairman and vice chairman of each committee, plus half the remaining members. The other assignments to each committee were given to the most senior members who requested them.

Rep. Dave Finney of Fort Worth, a five-term conservative who nominated Daniel for speaker and is a candidate himself for the job in 1975, was appointed chairman of the powerful House State Affairs Committee. Rep. Pike Powers of

Phase 3 Triggers Stock Market Surge, Dire Predictions Of Inflation Crunch
(Related Stories Page 9A)

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's unexpected lifting of most mandatory wage-price controls already has set off reactions ranging from a stock market surge to dire predictions of a price crunch on wage-earners.

Nixon Thursday abolished the tight mandatory controls except in the food and health industries, along with most of the government machinery for enforcing them. He set up instead a system of voluntary guidelines and asked Congress to extend the standby control authority, expiring April 30, so that the government could move in quickly to halt excessive increases.

In a nutshell, Phase 3 of the Nixon economic program provides that prices may be raised, but the increase should not exceed the increase in costs; wages may be increased without government approval, but for the present, raises are expected to be kept within the 5.5 per cent guideline in effect since November 1971.

The old Phase 2 standards will be retained for processors and retailers of food, and for doctor, dentist and hospital bills. Those two areas have seen some of the biggest price increases.

Men Hunt Two Still At Large

FORT STOCKTON—West Texas lawmen today were conducting a widespread search for two of six prisoners who escaped Thursday night from the Pecos County Jail here.

Four of the six were recaptured shortly after the escape, Sheriff Pete Ten Eyck said.

Still at large are Sherrill Gene Austell, 33, who was sentenced in July 1972 to 99 years after being convicted of extortion in the robbery of a McCamey bank, and Jerry Wayne Fitch, 22, who was awaiting trial on a breaking and entering charge.

Armed With Rifle
Sheriff Ten Eyck said Austell and Fitch are armed with a 30-30 rifle used in the escape and should be considered "extremely dangerous." They also may have a shotgun, the sheriff said.

The captured escapees are George Mounce, 35, awaiting sentencing in a grocery store robbery; Allen Walton Fogle, 21, in jail after revocation of probation; Jimmy Dean Rogers, 39, being held for California authorities on a car theft charge; and Gerald Edward Meadows, 40, charged with transporting a stolen car across a state line.

Arrested Last March
Austell and a companion were arrested in March 1972 shortly after they forced the McCamey bank president Derwood Langston to hand over approximately $20,000 in small bills as Langston's wife was held at gunpoint in her home.

According to Ten Eyck, Mounce sawed his way through the bars in the jail shortly before 9 p.m. and escaped.

The sheriff said Mounce went to the home of an uncle of Fitch and robbed the man of the rifle, returned to the jail and forced Ten Eyck at gunpoint to release the other five.

Sheriff Locked In Cell
The sheriff said he was locked up in a cell for "about 10 minutes — until my deputies came around after hearing about the robbery of Fitch's uncle."

Fitch and Austell are believed to have acquired a car and a 12-gauge shotgun. Ten Eyck said.

The sheriff said Fort Stockton police and his own officers, the Highway Patrol officers and Texas Rangers were looking for the missing prisoners.

Three of the escapees were captured at roadblocks and the fourth was grabbed before he got off the jail grounds.

Harris To Offer Wiretapping Bill

AUSTIN (AP) — Sen. O. H. "Oke" Harris of Dallas said today he will introduce a bill that would authorize wiretapping by law enforcement officers.

Harris said the bill will be patterned after the federal wiretapping law, which allows wiretapping upon the approval of a federal district court judge.

The chairman of the Administration Committee, a powerful group which runs the day-to-day affairs of the House, went to Rep. Joe Allen of Baytown, a three-term liberal who was one of Daniel's first backers.

Rep. Bob Vale of San Antonio, a four-term liberal, was named chairman of the Rules Committee. Vice chairman will be Rep. Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline, who dropped out of the legislature in 1966 to run for lieutenant governor, but lost.

The man who did the most to clear Daniel's path to the speakership, Rep. Fred Head of Troup, was made chairman of the Reappointment Committee, which might have to draw new district lines for House members this year if the U.S. Supreme Court upholds a

In Chicago, Dr. John R. Ker-nodle, board chairman of the American Medical Association, said Phase 3 discriminates against the health-care professions. He said there is a possibility of "a flight of allied, ancillary and support personnel from the health field."

The aim of Phase 3, Nixon said, is to cut the inflation rate to 2.5 per cent or less by the end of the year—to keep fighting inflation until the "impact is felt at the local supermarket or corner grocery store."

Except in the reserved areas, large business and labor unions will no longer have to get advance approval for wage and price rises. The loser many datory controls over construction wage increases also were retained and the President said voluntary efforts to hold down interest rates will continue.

The stock market took off on the announcement, pushing the Dow Jones industrial index 15.25 points above the previous day before settling down for a 5.64-point gain to a new closing high of 1051.70.

Analysts said expectation of higher profits steamed up the market.

But critics in Congress, most of them Democrats, said they (See PREDICTION Page 13A)

Fires Increase In Midland During 1972, Report Shows

By DEVA LUTHRINGER
The Midland Fire Department reported more of just about everything in 1972.

There were more deaths and injuries resulting from fires, more fires and more false alarms reported than the preceding year but less money was paid by insurance companies for fire losses, statistics showed.

Firemen answered 1,685 alarms, 1,362 of them for actual fires during 1972, compared with 1,301 in 1971, 1,308 in 1970 and 1,237 in 1969.

Three persons' deaths last year were attributed to fires, compared with two the year before, and 34 persons were injured compared with 29 in 1971.

The first fire death of the year was that of Wanda Slayter, 17, of 1102 S. Loraine St. Her dress caught fire from an open space heater Jan. 30 and she died the next day with second and third degree burns.

The second was Dale Reynolds, 19, who was asphyxiated at his apartment May 26. The cause of the fire was determined to have been a cigarette which set his bed afire.

Robbie Leigh Boone, 19, of Marshall, was found in a burned trailer house July 26 two miles west of Midland Air Terminal. An autopsy showed she died of asphyxiation.

Single Cause Cited
The single cause most often cited for fires here last year, as it was in 1971, was children playing with matches.

Of the 1,362 fires fought in the city and county last year, 40 are believed to have been caused by children playing with matches.

Of the 1,006 fires fought during 1971, 36 were caused by children playing with matches.

Nationally, more fires are caused by cigarettes or cigars than by any other single factor.

Here, 23 fires were started by cigarettes or cigars.

Last year there were 25 fires last year was grease or tar overheating. There were 28 that factor tied with cigars-cigarettes for second place in 1971.

There were more grass and trash fires than any other type last year and these make up the largest difference in the number of fires in 1972 and 1971.

There were 525 of these fires fought last year, compared with 220 the year before.

Of the 525 last year, 392 occurred within the city limits and 133 occurred in the county.

The second most fires were in residences. There were 251 reported, 243 in the city. These are recorded separately from the 12 fires fought at mobile homes, seven of these in the city limits.

Figures showed 27 more residential fires in 1972 than 1971 in the city and six fewer in the county.

The following is a breakdown of the number of other types of fires fought:

Type Fire	1972	1971
Autos	128	136
Fences	52	60
Mercantile	31	23
Storage	12	4
Non-Residential (churches, hospitals, schools, etc.)	9	1
Manufacturing	5	0
All Other Buildings	9	2
All Other Fires	232	31

county. There were five more trailer house fires in the city and one more in the county.

Firemen answered 141 public service calls during 1972, six less than the preceding year. One hundred thirty-three were in the city and eight were in the county last year.

False alarms, which Fire Marshal Bill Tarver, reminds are "unlawful," were turned in 53 times last year, nine more than 1971.

Firemen answered 65 mistaken alarms thought to be a fire last year, more than twice the 28 answered the year before.

There also were 24 smoke scares investigated during 1972, compared with 17 in 1971.

These are different from mistaken alarms. An example of a smoke scare

UTPB Will Offer Aviation Degree

ODESSA — The University of Texas at the Permian Basin, opening in September, will offer for the first time in Texas a baccalaureate program to prepare persons for management level positions within the air industry.

With the future promising to present new problems and needs in aviation's various fields, the upper-level UTPB will help to meet these demands by preparing individuals who wish to enter management positions in airport operations and other aviation-related fields, UTPB officials said.

Today's aviation industries and today's airports have become huge economic conglomerates with an increasing need for efficient, knowledgeable management of their diverse but interrelated elements, and Dr. J. Edwin Becht, dean of UTPB's College of Management, sees a bright future for UTPB's aviation management program.

"Fewer and fewer individuals will be able to attain leadership levels in the field of aviation without formal, professional training and education. The demand for special educational preparation in aviation, and particularly airport management, is becoming widely recognized," Becht said.

Vatican City, an independent state, is 108.7 acres in size.

California Jury Deliberates Corona Murder Case Verdict

AIRFIELD, Calif. (AP) — The trial in the biggest mass murder in the nation's history has gone to a jury which must decide whether Juan V. Corona killed 25 drifters and farm laborers.

Hacked and stabbed corpses of the 25 men were secretly buried in a peach orchard on the banks of the Feather River in the Yuba City area and were unearthed in the spring of 1971.

Jurors began deliberating Thursday morning. They recessed after about five hours and resumed today.

Corona, 38, a Mexican farm labor contractor who has four daughters, pleaded innocent but did not take the stand during the trial.

Before bailiffs led him away, Corona stood and glanced silently at his mother, Candida, 71, and his wife, Gloria, 36, who had attended court sessions daily since the trial began Sept. 11.

The women were weeping as they walked out to the hallway where they waited on wooden benches during deliberations.

The judge instructed jurors to deliberate from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily through the week-end.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Doggy On The Keys?
Close Piano Cover

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Association

DEAR POLLY — and Becky — Every piano I have ever seen has a cover for the keys, so close it and your dog cannot jump on the keys. Then merely discipline the dog by GENTLY spanking him with a rolled-up newspaper if he jumps up on the piano lid. — BARBARA

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — I wonder if any of the readers have suggestions for ways to soften marshmallows that have hardened while in an unopened plastic bag. — R. A.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is in the form of a suggestion to authors and book publishers. When unusual names and places appear in a book I do wish we could have a phonetic pronunciation list printed either in the front or back of the book. Some authors have names which even various librarians pronounce differently. Thornton Wilder is pronounced "wild" and Robert Wilder pronounced "wiled." Also, when maps are printed to aid in visualizing the area written about they are often printed on the inside of the book cover just where the librarian pastes down protective jackets or the library stamping date and the card envelope. This makes it impossible to study the map as one reads. — V.S.

DEAR POLLY — I cut off an old slip that was too long for today's styles, with pinkish shears so it comes to about three inches below my waist. This makes a perfect undergarment to wear with pantsuits. I feel more comfortable with some thing on underneath. With a book of trading stamps I "bought" a double-bed size thin cotton blanket. I split this down the middle, cut off the hem on one side and stitched it to the split side. This makes a perfect blanket for napping or for use in the car as it is light, but warm, and easily laundered. The other half was used as a lining for a heavier quilt. It also works fine. — SARA

DEAR POLLY — When painting trim or around windows, put the paint in a styrofoam cup and eliminate the nuisance of carrying around a heavy container and have no cleanup problem as the cup is thrown away. — MRS. K. R.

Betty Canary Mother-in-Law Can Dream, Can't She?

By BETTY CANARY
Newspaper Editor's Association

Whenever my sons questioned me about teaching them the rudiments of sanitation, (Pick up your socks! No underwear under the kitchen table!) I have told them the real reason for my concern. Someday they would marry. And, I want my daughters-in-law to rise up and call me Blessed.

Last month, my eldest son married. I now have my very own daughter-in-law. The only problem here is that, the day after the wedding in New Hampshire, they left for Scotland.

"Don't worry," I told her. "Even with the Atlantic Ocean between us, we'll be close."

"Don't worry," I told her. "I am not the interfering sort. Also, it took 21 years, but I have taught my son to be responsible, gentle, loving and to pick up his own dirty clothing."

"Don't worry," I told her. "And if you need anything, we'll send it airmail."

I am secure in the knowledge that here is the beginning of a golden era. I am a fortunate woman. My daughter-in-law is not only a beauty with cameo-like features, she also has a sweet nature and is intelligent.

Together, the two of us will dispel all the trite mother-in-law myths. Never will our relationship take on a cartoon-caption tinge.

We have rapport! Ours is an ideal sharing of hope and love. Some day poems will be written about us! Stories will circulate. Songs will be sung. About how thoughtful I have been in preparing a son for marriage. About how gracious she is in the acceptance of my handiwork.

I sent her a 33-page letter advising I would never offer advice.

I received my first letter from her today. It said: "Dear Mother, You promised anything I needed. Could you please ship five clothes hampers? Our apartment has five rooms and I think, perhaps if I put one in each room, just maybe he might not throw his dirty socks..."

We'll, nobody's perfect.

Supermarket Food Prices Due To Keep On Climbing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Led by beef and pork, supermarket food prices are expected to keep climbing through mid-1973 despite Nixon administration moves putting millions of farm acres back to work.

Including earlier reductions in the amount of land required to be idle for feed grains and cotton, the Agriculture Department has permitted farmers to increase crops by at least 30 million acres from 1972.

But Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz told a news conference Thursday that the latest action—cancellation of "set-aside" land requirements for 1973 wheat—will have little effect on retail food prices in the next six months.

Earlier this week, Don Paarlberg, USDA director of economics, said retail food prices would keep rising at last year's annual rate of 4.5 per cent through mid-1973.

My own opinion is that the actions taken the last couple of days will not substantially alter that picture," Butz said.

Beef production, he said, cannot be stepped up in the next four or five months any faster than already planned. "It's in the chute and it's coming through," Butz said.

High Feed Prices

Further, Butz said, current high feed prices may slow down an expansion in hog production this year.

Can Graze Livestock

The decision to put more wheat land back to work, prompted by White House concern over food prices, also will allow farmers to graze livestock on acres taken from production.

USDA officials said the new acreage is expected to help ease the price increase somewhat in the last half of 1973.

Retail meat prices, meanwhile, continue to spiral. Surveys by The Associated Press earlier this month, for example, showed consumers across the country were paying 10 to 30 cents a pound more for various cuts of beef than a year earlier.

Prices of live animals are at record peaks.

Choice-grade steers at Omaha, Neb., a key market, have been running near the peak of about $40 per hundredweight set last summer. The on-hoof price also has been translated into higher wholesale prices.

Butz, who says farmers deserve higher incomes from the marketplace, insists food prices actually are low in relation to family take-home pay.

"The plain fact is that the average American looks at the cost of food as his index of the cost of living," Butz said. "I think that's quite unfair. This is a small part of the cost of living."

Texas Patrolman Gains Acquittal

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — A federal jury acquitted a Texas highway patrolman accused of assaulting a Houston motorist after only 20 minutes of deliberation here Thursday.

The jury received the case in which highway patrolman Bernard Earl Morgan of Cleveland, Tex., was accused of assaulting August D. Stringer at 11:15 a.m. and returned its verdict to U.S. District Court Judge Joe Fisher at 11:35 a.m.

Morgan was accused of assaulting Stringer March 27 at the Cleveland police station after Stringer and H.C. Morales, a key market, were brought in from a nearby highway.

Tulane Professor To Houston U Post

HOUSTON (AP) — Dr. Gary A. Lloyd, a professor at the Tulane University of Social Work, has been named to the Graduate School of Social Work at the University of Houston.

Lloyd will assume his new duties July 1. He will replace David G. Roberts, who has served as acting dean for two years.

Get Dad Out Of Bed And To A Counselor

—By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for 17 years. We have one child—a 16-year-old son who has slept with his daddy since he was born.

Of course, when the boy got old enough to notice things I moved to another bed, but my husband wouldn't let the boy sleep by himself, and to this day our son goes to sleep in his daddy's arms.

The only attention I get is at two or three o'clock in the morning when Daddy can slip out of bed for a little while. Sometimes it's four to six months before Daddy can slip out of bed.

Our son is in high school now, and I keep telling my husband that this is abnormal. He says it's not. The boy makes very good grades so maybe I am worrying for nothing. Can this ruin our son? Please advise me.

DEAR ABBY: I think you did too.

Religion Of American Indians Gains Increased Respect

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
NEW YORK (AP) — The native religion of American Indians is gaining increased respect today in the churches that once tried to stamp it out.

Scholars see a particularly timely reason for the change — the need for a deeper reverence for nature as manifested by Indian religion — in the face of modern damaging misuse of the environment.

Declaring that Christian theology is "terribly impoverished when it comes to a doctrine of nature," the Rev. Dr. Benjamin Reist, dean of San Francisco Theological Seminary at San Anselmo, Calif., predicts: "There must come a day quite soon when American Indian theology must be represented in the highest councils of Christian theology in the world."

His analysis, contending that Indian tribal religion must be accorded serious church study as one aspect of the ways people have sought to relate to God, came at a recent meeting of Indians and church leaders. It was held in Estes Park, Colo., by a loosely knit association of Indians and non-Indians from many Protestant denominations called the National Fellowship of Indian workers.

Coming in a period of spreading "dialogues" between Christianity and other religions, the discussions marked a beginning inquiry into the relationship of church teachings and tribal beliefs.

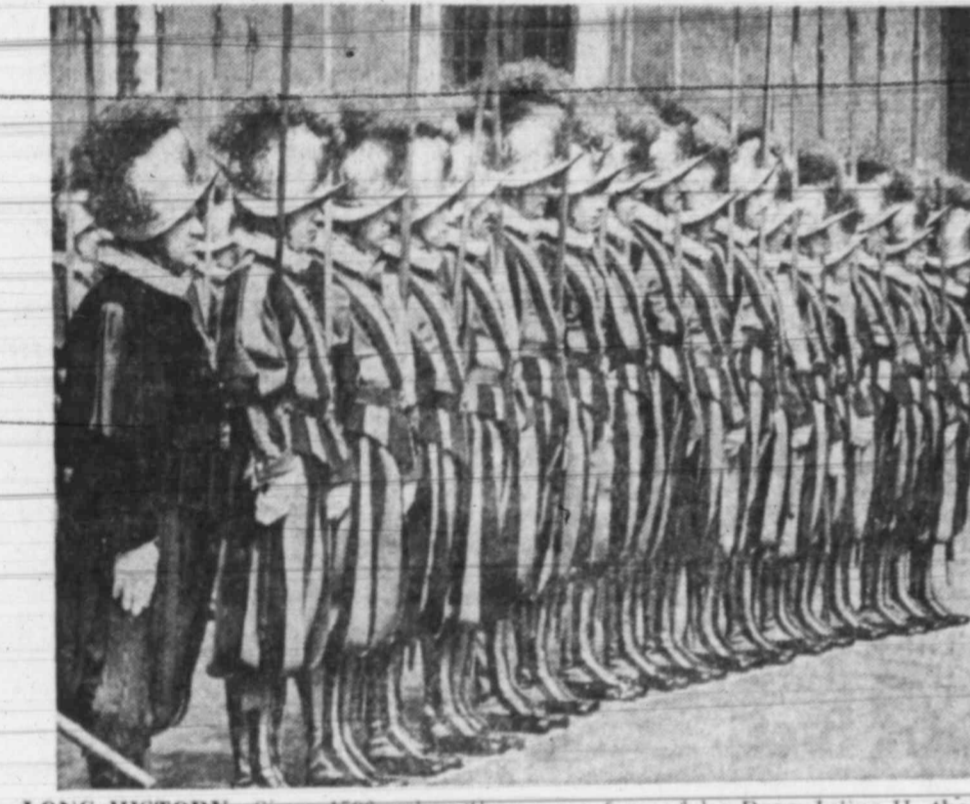

The affair also came at a time when a growing number of denominations have set up special Indian departments, headed by Indians, to bolster church sensitivity to their interests.

Such steps have been taken by the Episcopal Church, the United Church of Christ, the United Presbyterian Church, the United Methodist Church, the American Baptist Convention and the Lutheran Council in the U.S.A.

Ever since frontier days, the churches have maintained special missions to Indians, a large share of whom were educated in mission schools. But the past approach has been to erase and replace their native religious thought.

But with the church perspective now changing, an Indian clergyman who heads United Methodist Indian Work, the Rev. Homer Noley, of New York, says Indian religion may be recognized as "closer to original Christianity" than most American whites realize.

"Our (Indian) ancestors believed in a spirit world of all things," he noted at the Estes Park gathering.

Church Leaders Due Back From Antiwar Journeying

NEW YORK (AP) — A group of American church leaders, frustrated at the failure of religious efforts in this country to get the Vietnam war stopped, is expected back today from an unusual attempt to enlist help in dealing with a specific U.S. problem.

The undertaking was regarded the first time that U.S. churchmen had turned to their European counterparts for help.

Regents Move Ahead!

Congratulations are in order for charter members of the board of regents of Midland College on their appointments by the board of education of the Midland Independent School District.

This is a distinct honor for the nine Midlanders who will set the pattern, plan and launch construction of facilities for the new community college in the Tall City.

The regents are the Rev. H. F. Doyle, Murray Fasken, Mrs. Gloria Hinojosa, Jack Huff, Reagan H. Legg, Robert M. Leibrock, W. Hoyle McCright Jr., Kenneth Peelp and Fred Wright Jr.

Midland public school trustees also merit commendation on their wise selection of the college regents.

It particularly was fitting that Fasken, Huff, Legg and Leibrock should be named to the board. They had been serving as regents before Midland College was disannexed from the Permian Junior College System.

The formal election of Dr. Al G. Langford as president of Midland College also was right, fair and proper. Dr. Langford has been president of Midland College since its inception, and no one has worked harder for the school and its development.

This brings us down to the time for action.

And, sure enough, action - prompt action - was the watchword as the new board members got down to work within minutes after they had been named to office.

One of the first steps was the naming of committees - what else.

But in this case, the naming of committees was most urgent, leading to the prompt launching of development plans for the new school. One of the panels will begin screening architectural firms. Another committee will establish a "philosophy and objectives for the college," while a third will consider formal policies for the board.

It is a fast-moving board of regents, but not one which can be stampeded.

This is the hour for which many Midlanders long have waited. It is a thrilling happening. History is in the making.

With this board of regents, with its interest and enthusiasm, and with the support given it by residents of the community, there is no reason why Midland College should not become the most outstanding, the most unique college of its kind anywhere.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: Black September's plot for tragedy in Tel Aviv revealed.

WASHINGTON (NEA) - The Black September terrorists, who planned the Munich massacre of Israeli athletes, now are plotting to hijack an airliner and crash it into the heart of bustling Tel Aviv.

The plot has been picked up by intelligence agencies, which monitor the secret radio bands used by the Arab terrorists.

The same intelligence sources intercepted similar ominous messages shortly before fanatics machine-gunned the Tel Aviv airport and, again, before terrorists staged the Munich tragedy.

In the earlier instances, the messages were vague about where the terrorists would strike and what exactly they planned to do.

Among others, American security officials have tipped off Rep. John Murphy, D-N.Y., who has written to President Nixon about the Arab plot against Tel Aviv.

Murphy has introduced a bill which would compel the United States to bar commercial planes from any nation that refused to prosecute a hijacker and return the pirated plane and ransom at once.

American military advisers have urged President Thieu to mount a new offensive across the South Vietnamese border into neighboring Laos.

They have asked him to follow up the saturation bombing of the North with a strike against the Boloven Plateau in southern Laos.

The American advisers promised, if Thieu would launch an offensive, to support it with U.S. air power.

But the South Vietnamese army was so badly battered during last year's Communist offensive that Thieu isn't prepared to send it back into action.

Although most losses have been replaced and the army is back to full strength, the discipline, training and morale of the troops still are lagging.

Not only are the replacements green, but the cease-fire negotiations have made all troops cautious. They don't want to be the last to die before a cease-fire is declared.

Meanwhile, the Saigon government is drafting men at the rate of about 18,000 a month, but deserters are leaving the army in almost equal numbers.

Washington Whirl - BRASS RING - Today we award the brass ring, good for one free ride on the Washington Merry-Go-Round, to Arlen Colville, a Montgomery College, Md., teacher.

Ernest Newman, a 50-year-old mail carrier for the college, was about to be fired for illiteracy.

Fulwiler quietly began teaching Newman the fundamentals of reading and writing. Not only was Newman's job saved, but he told us joyfully: "I'm learning how to write my address and I can read through the whole of a book Mr. Fulwiler gave me. I wouldn't give up my lessons for anything in the world."

B-52 LOSSES - We recently reported that the Pentagon had not announced the total number of B-52s lost during the massive bombing of North Vietnam.

The information was given to us by a reliable source who had access to the tightly restricted strike reports. What he told us was accurate at the time. But by the time our story reached print, all but one of the 16 B-52 losses had been announced.

The last loss was announced shortly thereafter. Not released, however, was the news that half-a-dozen additional big bombers were so badly damaged they can't fly and some can't be repaired.

RAY CROMLEY - Hanoi Must Be Convinced U.S. Will Enforce Pact

WASHINGTON (NEA) - After some amazing discussions, the White House has decided that whatever the cost Hanoi must be convinced President Nixon will use U.S. air and sea power against North Vietnam even after a pact is signed if Hanoi flagrantly violates its provisions.

The belief in top administration circles is that if we are unable to convey this determination, there will be no workable treaty. Thus the heavy bombing of late.

For that reason, too, it is said to have been debated in the administration whether to continue to bomb Hanoi and the northern reaches of North Vietnam even after the North Vietnamese returned seriously to negotiations, assuming, at that time, that they did come back.

In retrospect, some key administration advisers think it was a mistake to have embargoed bombing the far north in response to Hanoi's more agreeable attitude last October. This partial bombing halt, they reason, probably convinced Hanoi that Mr. Nixon was so urgently in need of a treaty that he did not have the will to be tough.

The analysis here is that Hanoi is hurting badly and must have some sort of settlement, but that agreement has been impossible because the North Vietnamese have become convinced Mr. Nixon has to have a treaty. If they waited, he would sooner or later come around to their demands.

For this reason, perhaps, in the secret talks the North Vietnamese have been at times arrogant and insulting beyond all reason, at times patronizing, excessively flattering or slick, as though playing a con game with not overly bright children.

Time and again in Paris, they would suggest this or that treaty provision to Kissinger (or agree with some Kissinger proposal), simultaneously instructing their troops and political cadres in the south to disobey the provisions they had just agreed to.

When confronted with this duplicity, it is understood the North Vietnamese negotiators in Paris laughed in great good humor, thinking it all very funny.

The analysts do not expect the bombing itself will cause sufficient damage in the North to bring Ho Chi Minh's successors to their knees. The top North Vietnamese who make the decisions are tough Communists who have been through far worse over the last three decades.

But, it is believed here, the North Vietnamese are hurting.

Osorio, Two Others Face Trial Monday

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) - John Osorio, former state insurance commissioner, and two other men go on trial here Monday in a case growing out of the Sharpstown scandals.

U.S. District Court Judge Halbert O. Woodward notified attorneys that he had set aside two weeks for the courtroom proceedings.

Sam E. Stock and Donald S. Akin are expected to be tried along with Osorio on a charge of misapplying funds belonging to the National Bankers Life Insurance Co. employees' retirement fund.

At one time, Osorio was president of the insurance firm. When the scandals broke, Akin was executive vice president and Stock was president.

Several Pretrial Motions - Judge Woodward will hear a number of pretrial motions when proceedings get under way at 9 a.m. Monday, including one to have the three tried separately.

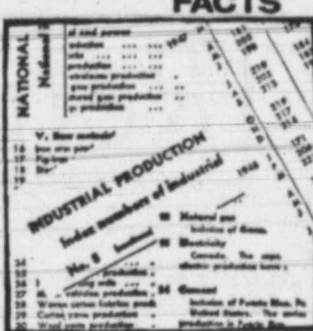

The trial was moved to Amarillo from Dallas on grounds that Dallas residents were too well informed about the case.

Osorio's lawyers contended their client would be unable to get a fair trial anywhere in Texas. Osorio has been accused of being the chief lobbyist in the Texas Legislature for the two banking bills that were the center of the Sharpstown scandals.

The Securities and Exchange Commission has contended that Frank Sharp of Houston provided key state officials with questionable loans so they could buy shares of National Bankers Life. The SEC accused Sharp of seeking to get two banking bills passed in Austin so he would be able to evade federal banking regulations.

Sharp is under a three-year probation sentence for violations of banking and stock laws.

Hospital Costs Can Deal Serious Financial Blow

By CARLTON SMITH NEW YORK (NEA) - Have you any idea what a hospital stay will cost, in dollars and cents, if a member of the family needs hospital care during the coming year?

And do you know what part of the bill would have to be paid out of your own pocket?

The answers to those two questions determine whether you have enough health care insurance, and of the right kind. Most importantly, make sure you're protected against a crippling financial blow.

Nationally, the expense per patient day in community hospitals averaged $81 last year, according to Social Security Administration figures. It ranged from $53 in Wyoming to $112 in California. Wherever the hospital, bills tend to be bigger in the larger hospitals, which maintain more specialized facilities and services.

That may come as a shock, if you haven't paid a hospital bill recently. Daily service charges have increased an average 14 per cent a year in the last seven years - enough to raise the $40-a-day room of 1966 to $100.

For the average patient in 1971, private hospital insurance covered 36 per cent of the bill, again according to SSA figures. It also picked up 36 per cent of physicians' charges. And it paid only 4 per cent of "other health services" - such things as drugs, nursing services, appliances.

Since the average takes in the whole population - including the elderly, who rely less on private insurance because of Medicare - the patient who does depend on private insurance would find a larger share of his bill covered. Still, it's obvious that there can be quite a gap between what the insurance pays and what comes out of pocket.

Every family should periodically review its insurance coverage, to find out what services are paid for, what the limitations are, and finally how much is left uncovered. You might well decide you need more protection.

It's a common mistake to try for "complete coverage" - trying to plug all the holes, large and small, to achieve what the insurers call "first-dollar coverage." That's expensive, of course. It's like buying auto insurance that would pay for a wash job whenever the car gets splashed with mud.

What both the car owner and

Control System Questions, Answers

By BILL NEIKIRK
WASHINGTON (AP) — Details of President Nixon's new system of wage-price controls are not firm, but here are some likely questions and answers based on the announced guidelines.

The gist of the new Phase 3 controls is that they will be largely voluntary, with the government standing by to step in if wages or prices rise too much too quickly.

Q. Can a company raise its prices without government approval now that the mandatory nature of controls has been eliminated?

A. Yes, unless it is in the food or construction industry or provides health services, but the government says it will step in if price increases get out of line and violate voluntary standards.

Wage Hike Standards
Q. What are the voluntary standards for wage increases?

A. The standard is still 5.5 per cent until a labor-management advisory committee named by the President works out a new standard.

Q. What are the voluntary standards for price increases in Phase 3?

A. Roughly the same as they are now. Companies will be expected to justify their price increases with legitimate costs. They will be expected by the government to comply with a profit-margin limitation, holding their margins to the average they maintained during the best two of the last four fiscal years. They can escape profit-margin restraints by keeping price increase to an average 1.5 per cent a year.

Enforcement Methods
Q. How will the government see to it that these voluntary standards are followed?

A. In several ways. First, large companies with sales of $250 million or more must file quarterly reports with the government on price changes and profit margins. Those with sales of more than $50 million will be required to keep the records of these changes and make them available on demand.

Q. What about other companies, those with sales of under $50 million?

A. The government claims that the inflation problem is concentrated in the large industries. But it says it can step in with enforcement moves if wage and price increases become a problem.

Q. How will wage boosts be watched?

A. All employe units of 1,000 or more employes will be required to keep records of wage increases and must produce them on request. All units of 5,000 or more employes will be required to file wage-increase reports with the Cost of Living Council. Smaller employe units will be exempt from making these reports.

Q. Who is running the program?

A. The Pay Board and Price Commission have been abolished, and their functions transferred to the Cost of Living Council. The council will oversee continued mandatory controls in the food and health areas.

Q. What about rent controls?

A. They are abolished.

Q. What about the hundreds of price-increase requests before the Price Commission and wage boosts before the Pay Board?

A. The government says it will clear out these requests during a 90-day period. But, for all practical purposes, the controls are off. A company with a request pending, if it thinks it can prove it is within the standards, can go ahead and raise prices without prior government approval.

Q. How will the government punish a violator?

A. The Cost of Living Council can issue a temporary order setting interim wage and price levels; set a price ceiling, and even roll back price or wage increases that violate the voluntary standards.

'Stick-In-Closet' Method
Q. But aren't the standards really mandatory then?

A. Perhaps. It's the "stick-in-the-closet" approach. The system will depend on how tough the government is in enforcing the "voluntary" standards.

Q. Are all food prices controlled?

A. All but those at the farm level, where they have gone up the most.

Q. How can a consumer tell if a price increase he notices at the department store is within the voluntary standard?

A. It won't be easy. The price standards are so complex that only an accountant, and the IRS, can figure out if the increase is legal. The IRS will still handle complaints from consumers.

Economic Leaders' Reactions Mixed On Control Proposals

NEW YORK (AP) — Economic leaders have expressed mixed reaction to President Nixon's proposed reshaping of the nation's wage and price control machinery.

Leonard Woodcock, head of the United Auto Workers, said he was questioned expressed these views:

Economists were worried about renewed inflation, businessmen called it a step in the right direction and many labor leaders expressed tentative approval.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, said his organization was "prepared to cooperate" with Nixon's Phase 3 plan, which eliminates man-many comments followed the lines of that by Richard C. Gerstenberg, General Motors chairman. Gerstenberg termed the easing of controls "constructive," pledged support for Phase 3, but urged "an early termination of controls and a return to the discipline of a competitive market."

Under Nixon's new plan, the health, construction and food fields will remain under stricter government supervision than the rest of the economy.

Walter Hoadley, chief economist for Bank of America, the nation's largest commercial bank, praised the "astuteness" of the selective approach.

"Pieces of the economy are straining, but not the whole economy," Hoadley said. However, some economists were worried about an easing of controls, resparking widespread price rises, particularly in the wake of a big December rise in wholesale prices.

"This runs a lot of risks, with the big hitters among the unions coming up to bat in contract negotiations," said Walter Heller, former chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers under Presidents Kennedy and Johnson. He mentioned the Teamsters, auto workers and meat-cutters.

Braskamp Retires From R-T

Leon Braskamp retired from the business staff of The Reporter-Telegram Thursday and soon will be moving to San Antonio, his former home.

Texaco To Take Off Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The cost of the Texaco television commercial, which cost the company, said the idea was to produce a sales message linked both to a football half-time and the concept of "trust Texaco."

There were no problems in filming the thing, other than a heavy mist that appeared over the Rose Bowl the first night. If gasoline and other products of the Texaco. They did it with a second night, the producers king-sized cast of 250 and were worried about a heavy enough fireworks to light a wind that whipped about the field from cover to cover.

Alas, they won't be with us for the next college football season, according to Texaco over the place," a Texaco spokesman said. "But it course on television and it's stopped, almost as if someone turned off a fan."

The one-minute commercials are known to Texaco as "Star March" and "Half-time." In them, a 140-piece marching band stomps about a football field while scores of pretty drum majorettes leap to and fro.

At the end, a giant fireworks display goes off against an evening sky. It spells out "Texaco" as skyrockets zip upwards and light up a cold California night like you wouldn't believe.

The commercials, one a slightly different version of the other, were filmed at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif., in October, 1971. It took two nights to do it and the police barred any filming after midnight, lest the citizenry be disturbed.

The marching musicians came from the Long Beach Community Concert Band, a private group. The majorettes came from Santa Monica City College.

Raymond Burr Loses In Court
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Raymond Burr, television's Perry Mason, has lost his own case in Superior Court because he failed to prosecute within the five-year time limit.

Superior Court Judge Norman R. Dowds dismissed the suit against attorney Donald E. Leon Thursday.

Burr, acting as his own attorney, filed the suit in 1967 claiming Leon breached an oral contract by giving him bad legal advice on a piece of property. Burr had asked $95,000 damages, citing legal fees to Leon and other attorneys and embarrassment by a wage garnishment in 1967.

Burr, who now plays a crippled police officer in the Ironside television series, did not appear in court.

Senate Democrats Get Tough With Presidential Appointees

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats, out to convince President Nixon they mean business about reasserting the constitutional rights of Congress, have told presidential appointees they face rejection unless they pledge to return for testimony when called.

berger, named as the next secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. "It will be my very highest priority to respond to every request where I can do so," he told the panel.

Under the resolution, Defense Secretary-designate Elliot L. Richardson faces a delay in confirmation because of congressional dissatisfaction over the administration's explanation of the decision to renew bombing of North Viet-

Chemical Weapons Treaty At Least Two Years Away

By KENNETH J. FREED
WASHINGTON (AP) — A treaty banning the production, stockpiling and use of chemical weapons is at least two years away, U.S. officials say.

that generally follows the line set out by the biological accord, an approach vehemently opposed by the United States. The American experts said biological warfare has never been considered as serious a threat as the use of chemicals, and the United States, therefore, was not as concerned about verification.

Meanwhile, it appears other Nixon nominations may face possible delays from the Foreign Relations Committee. The committee has not scheduled hearings on a number of diplomatic nominations, including the selection of former newsman John Scali as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Chemical weaponry is expected to dominate the 25-nation Geneva disarmament conference reopening Feb. 20, much as the problem of biological weapons did the last session.

However, the Washington position on checking to see whether a chemical-warfare treaty is being honored is much tougher. Sophisticated chemical weapons already exist in large numbers and in enormous variety. No matter how the treaty is finally defined, the U.S. officials say, there will be a need for stringent verification procedures.

The threat to stall on presidential nominations, comes after a series of events which have angered many congressmen and senators, including some who generally support the administration.

IN INDOCHINA—Guns-For-Opium Trade Adds To Drug Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — Drug traffic in Indochina cannot be stopped until illicit guns-for-opium trade is stopped in Burma and stronger antinarcotics measures are taken in neighboring countries, according to a House staff report.

man Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., and prepared by staff consultants John J. Brady and Robert K. Boyer, was released Thursday.

It says the present U.S. inter-agency committee on international narcotics control is so "inefficient and ineffective" that it should be abolished and replaced by a board directly under the president.

The report, prepared by two House Foreign Affairs Committee staff members, cites information that Royal Lao Air Force pilots are flying narcotics throughout Indochina and that high Laotian officials are involved in drug traffic.

Even if efforts of Laos and Thailand to halt traffic were completely successful, "which is unlikely," the report said, "the problem cannot possibly be solved as long as the government fails to declare war on producers and traffickers in Burma."

The key problem, the report said, is Burma, where former President U Nu's insurgents sell opium for illicit U.S. weapons and where poor U.S.-Burmese relations give America no leverage with which to control traffic.

Major Flu Outbreak Hits California

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The U.S. Center for Disease Control says a major outbreak of English influenza has hit California, but nationwide deaths from pneumonia and influenza are below the number expected for this time of year.

The CDC quoted Dr. James Chin of the California Health Department in Berkeley as saying, "Clearly, Northern California, and especially the San Francisco Bay area, had an epidemic of flu which peaked in the first week of January. We're now starting to get reports that Central and Southern California are getting involved."

Chin said California counted 57 deaths from flu and pneumonia in the first week of January, two below the "threshold of an epidemic."

In comparison, Chin said 150 to 160 deaths were recorded during the peak week of the 1968-69 outbreak of Hong Kong flu.

"We're having a lot more influenza this year than in the last couple, but that's because it's a new virus," Chin said. "In terms of the numbers of symptoms, it's identical or even less severe than the Hong Kong flu."

Justice Department Accuses Committee To Re-Elect Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's re-election fundraising arm gave a defendant in the Watergate trial $31,500 while the person worked for the organization and did not report it as required by law, according to a federal indictment against the finance organization.

Specifically, the Justice Department Thursday charged that in three separate instances, the Finance Committee to Re-elect the President gave cash to G. Gordon Liddy, its legal counsel, without disclosing the spending in public reports.

The committee was charged also with failing to report Liddy's spending of the three sums to the General Accounting Office and with failing to obtain a receipt for and make a GAO report on another $2,000 Liddy spent.

Bill Introduced To Compensate Tuskegee Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill has been introduced in the Senate to compensate the survivors and families of the men who died during a federal study of untreated syphilis.

Liddy, a former White House aide, is one of the defendants on trial in connection with the break-in and alleged bugging of Democratic National Committee headquarters in the Watergate apartment-office complex.

A spokesman for the Committee for the Re-election of the President said the charges were "technical and unintentional" failures to comply with certain sections of what he said was the complex new election law.

The bill is sponsored by Democratic Sens. James B. Allen and John J. Sparkman, both of Alabama. The measure, introduced Thursday, would authorize payment up to $25,000 for each person who participated in the 40-year Tuskegee study.

In an eight-count criminal "information," often used for misdemeanors, the government charged that the finance committee, through its treasurer, Hugh P. Sloan Jr., gave Liddy $12,000, $12,000 and $5,300 without receiving a receipt or keeping track of what the sums were spent for.

The eight charges are misdemeanors under the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971. Maximum penalty upon conviction on each count is one year in prison and $1,000 fine.

The study began in 1932 in Macon County, Ala., with more than 430 black men with syphilis who were denied treatment so U.S. Public Health Service doctors could study the damage syphilis does to the human body.

Clements Parries Nuclear Questions

WASHINGTON (AP) — William P. Clements Jr., President Nixon's nominee to the No. 2 post in the Pentagon, says he would not rule out the use of nuclear weapons in Vietnam.

peace negotiations fail, Hughes wanted to know? "I would have to study that," Clements responded. "I am not prepared to make that choice today."

"I wouldn't eliminate it, but that is not to say I'd be in favor of it either," the Dallas oil-drilling contractor told the Senate Armed Services Committee Thursday.

Would he eliminate the thought of using nuclear weapons? "I wouldn't eliminate it, but that is not to say I'd be in favor of it either," Clements replied.

Appearing at his hearing for confirmation as deputy secretary of Defense, Clements' comments came in response to what he called "philosophical questions" by Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa.

Clements said he recognized the difference between conventional warfare and the use of tactical nuclear weapons.

Clements said he would support the military decisions of President Nixon.

Recognizing that difference, Hughes asked if Clements was not prepared to say whether "the line should be crossed."

Would that include the use of nuclear weapons in Vietnam if

Philadelphia Teachers Keep Strike Going Despite Order

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Striking teachers continued to picket schools in the nation's fourth largest city today in defiance of a court injunction to end their five-day walkout.

Leonard Sagot, the union's lawyer, said the order would be appealed to Commonwealth Court early next week. However, the school board must first initiate a contempt of court proceeding against the local.

About 280,000 pupils and 13,000 teachers have been affected by the four-day walkout, the second of the term. Both sides, which opened talks 16 months ago, are deadlocked over salary increases, class size, work conditions and other issues.

William Ross, president of the Board of Education, said the school district would seek a contempt ruling—meaning fines and possible arrests of teachers—for disobeying the court order.

"We will continue this strike until there is a reasonable contract settlement," said John Ryan, chief negotiator for the Philadelphia Federation of Teachers.

Common Pleas Court Judge D. Donald Jamieson issued a back-to-work injunction Thursday against the union, citing a "clear and present danger" to the public welfare should the walkout continue. He added that the order requested

Trading Mixed in Wake Of Short Phase 3 Rally

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices were mixed in the stock market today, in the aftermath of a sharp, short economic phase 3 rally.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was off .07 to 1051.63. Declining stocks on the New York Stock Exchange were leading gainers by a small margin.

Today's caution was a carry-over from a retreat in the late hours of Thursday's Phase 3 rally, brokers reported. Block trading, which had totaled 237 blocks Thursday, was slower today.

"The near term looks like it might be pretty sloppy," commented Alan R. Shaw, research director at Harris, Upham & Co.

On the Big Board AT&T, which had gained 1 point in the two previous sessions, was up .08 to 54 1/4.

Horseman Lost Near San Angelo

SAN ANGELO (AP) — A Massachusetts man, who bought two horses here to ride to Arizona for a lark, has been missing since Tuesday although both horses have returned to their former owner.

An intense search was under way today with the temperature about 10 degrees and with 2-3 inches of snow on the ground.

Tom Green County Sheriff Odell Wagner said a Department of Public Safety helicopter from Midland was aiding deputies in the search.

The missing man is Leonard Sandgren, who said he owns a grain store in Great Barrington, Mass., where he also raises dogs and race horses.

He said before setting out for Arizona Tuesday afternoon that he had been driving through the southern United States, and after staying here about a week, decided on the horseback ride "just for something to do."

Wagner expressed concern over the Massachusetts man's chances for survival in the freezing temperatures.

One of the horses which Sandgren purchased Tuesday returned to the stable only four hours after the man left.

The stable owner and his wife, concerned about the horseman's welfare, drove around the area Tuesday evening and again Wednesday morning.

On Wednesday evening, the Department of Public Safety issued a bulletin to patrols in Texas and New Mexico to watch for Sandgren.

By Thursday evening, following the day's air search, the second horse, which Sandgren is believed to have used as his riding horse, was found behind a restaurant very near the stables.

The second horse had hobbles on but no other equipment. The first horse had only a broken halter.

It was understood that Sandgren had outdoor equipment sufficient for several days' survival.

slush refroze during the night on all roadways northwest of a line linking Corpus Christi, San Antonio and Odessa.

Thermometers recorded temperatures below freezing at every station making regular weather reports, including those in the semitropical Lower Rio Grande Valley. Citrus growers in that section, however, expected a quick warmup to prevent damage to their fruit and groves.

The severe cold prevented the reopening of many schools and industrial plants because natural gas mains have been unable to deliver enough fuel for expanded heating needs.

One of the latest to be affected was Texas Christian University in Fort Worth, which postponed the start of registration for the spring semester until Monday. Dormitories and administrative offices were open today, however, despite the ice.

Temperatures sagged to 26 degrees at McAllen, 27 at Merced and 28 at Brownsville in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, and Wichita Falls, 14 at Dallas and Lufkin, 16 at Wink, 19 at San Antonio, 20 at Austin and Texarkana, 21 at Cotulla and Del Rio, 22 at Beaumont-Port Arthur and Victoria, 23 at Alice and Houston, 24 at El Paso, 25 at Corpus Christi and 29 at Galveston.

Depths of snow still on the ground this morning included Abilene six inches, Amarillo and College Station four, Childress, Lubbock and Lufkin three. Elsewhere across the state it was 3 above zero at Abilene, Childress and Lubbock, 4 at Dalhart, 6 at Mineral Wells and Waco, 7 at Amarillo, 8 at College Station, Marfa and Waco, 9 at Fort Worth, San Angelo and Wichita Falls, 14 at Dallas and Lufkin, 16 at Wink, 19 at San Antonio, 20 at Austin and Texarkana, 21 at Cotulla and Del Rio, 22 at Beaumont-Port Arthur and Victoria, 23 at Alice and Houston, 24 at El Paso, 25 at Corpus Christi and 29 at Galveston.

Indians' Requests Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special White House panel has rejected requests by the Indians who occupied a federal building last year for restoration of treaty-making authority and appointment of a commission to review treaty violations.

A 36-page White House reply to an Indian 20-point petition was released Thursday by Hank Adams, a negotiator for the several hundred Indians who occupied the Bureau of Indian Affairs building last November.

During the closing days of the week-long occupation, Indians asked Nixon administration negotiators Leonard Garment and Frank Carlucci for the Indian treaty-making authority and review of treaty violations.

Spokesman Disappointed

The citizenship relationship with one government and the treaty relationship are mutually exclusive, the White House report said. "If renunciation of citizenship is implied here, or secession, these are wholly backward steps, inappropriate for a nation which is a union."

Adams, one of the main spokesmen for Indians on the Trail of Broken Treaties caravan to the capital, said he is disappointed by the White House report. He said he is astonished by "an incredible level of incompetence" by the White House in failing to understand Indians' legal status.

The report, which rejected most of the 20 points in the petition, said no commission is needed to review treaty violations because this function is already carried out by the Indian Claims Commission.

But Adams said the commission cannot compensate Indians with land—but only money—has been barred from taking on new cases since 1951, and has never been a forum for discussing Indian-sovereign rights.

three-judge federal court ruling.

Head defeated Price for reelection to the House. At the time, Price was considered the front-runner.

Three-term Rep. Bob Hendricks of McKinney was named to head the Criminal Jurisprudence Committee, which probably will have the job of passing on a proposed total revision of the state's penalties for criminal offenses. Rep. Lynn Nabers of Brownwood was appointed vice chairman.

Daniel had fewer appointments to make than his recent predecessors. Formerly, the House had 45 committees. The number was reduced to 25 in one of Price's rules changes, and Daniel's new rules cut the figure to 21.

The speaker named these other committee chairmen:

Agriculture and Livestock, Rep. Joe Hubenak of Rosenberg; Business and Industry, Rep. Lindon Williams of Houston; Education, Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale; Elections, Rep. Ed Harris, Galveston; Environmental Affairs, Rep. John Bigham of Temple; Human Resources, Rep. Carlos Truan, Corpus Christi; Insurance, Rep. Ben Rynum of Amarillo; Intergovernmental Affairs, Rep. Jim Kaster, El Paso; Labor, Rep. Jim Clark, Houston union executive; Liquor Regulation, Rep. Frank Lombardino, San Antonio; Natural Resources, Rep. Gib Lewis, Fort Worth; Transportation, Rep. Jim Nugent, Kerrville.

Representatives adjourned until Tuesday morning.

The Senate had adjourned Thursday until Monday.

School May Discipline Student Trial Witness

PROVO, Utah (AP) — Brigham Young University officials say that Thomas J. Gregory, an honor student and key prosecution witness in the Watergate trial in Washington, may face university discipline, including suspension or expulsion.

Gregory has testified that he was paid by a former White House aide to spy on two Democratic presidential candidates last summer.

"Violation of a principle of the code of honor may result in university discipline, including suspension or expulsion," said Drellin Oaks, president of the private school operated by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon).

He added: "I am satisfied that no Brigham Young University teacher or official had any knowledge of the alleged spying. If the spying took place, we deplore it."

In the meantime, Oaks said he would have to "wait for the facts to be developed in the judicial proceedings, and then take whatever action seems appropriate."

Gregory testified Wednesday that E. Howard Hunt Jr., a former White House aide who has pleaded guilty to all six charges against him in the case stemming from a break-in at Democratic National Headquarters in Washington's Watergate complex, induced him to work in Sen. Edmund Muskie's campaign office and then for Sen. George McGovern.

Gregory said he was paid $175 a week by Hunt in return for information about the candidates' headquarters and campaign plans.

Some Days It Doesn't Pay To Get Out Of Bed

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. Virginia Roche got a real snow job when she set out to work 30 minutes early Thursday because of the slippery streets.

Mrs. Roche found someone else to drive her to the nearest bus stop. It was 50 minutes before the bus showed up and it took another 40 minutes getting into town.

Mrs. Roche looked at her watch—12:30 p.m. She started to run. Then she slipped on a slick spot, hurt her ankle and foot. She hobbled to a coffee shop and called her husband, who drove her to a doctor who treated her strained foot.

After 2 p.m., she called the office to explain she couldn't make it.

"The switchboard operator said she had been trying to call me all morning," said Mrs. Roche. "My boss wasn't feeling well and didn't come in. He said I might as well take the day off, too. And enjoy the snow."

As she put it: "I'm secretary for an insurance company downtown, and my boss doesn't take too many excuses for being late."

When she pulled out from her apartment block, someone skidded past a stop sign and crashed into her car. She got the name of his insurance company and drove back in the parking lot.

A neighbor offered to drive her to work. They went two blocks before someone skidded into the neighbor's car.

Deputy Said Identified In Southern U Deaths

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI has reported that a single shotgun blast fired by a sheriff's deputy killed two students Nov. 16 during a disturbance at Southern University in Baton Rouge, La., the Washington Post said today.

The Post quoted Justice Department sources as saying the deputy has been tentatively identified and is expected to become the subject of a federal grand jury investigation in Louisiana.

The FBI report on the disturbance may not be finished until the end of the month, the newspaper said, and officials said no decision will be made before an "exhaustive review" of all information submitted by the bureau.

However, the Post reported sources said that information submitted so far suggests the deputy could be prosecuted under federal civil rights statutes.

The Justice Department probably will take no steps until the district attorney of East Baton Rouge Parish has decided whether to file a criminal indictment in connection with the shooting, the Post said.

But the sources said that if state officials appear to be dragging their feet, the Justice Department might go forward with its case first.

A special inquiry commission convened by Louisiana Atty. Gen. William Guste already has reported the shot that killed the students came from an area where sheriff's deputies were deployed.

Smith Submits Emergency Bills

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith submitted to the legislature today two "emergency" pieces of legislation dealing with a constitutional revision commission and the Governor's Committee on Human Relations.

The first calls for an appropriation to provide for staff, office space, equipment, supplies and other necessary expenses for the revision commission.

Smith urged the legislature to establish the commission before the end of January. The commission is to report its recommendations next November to the legislature, which will sit at a constitutional convention in January 1974.

Both the commission and the convention were authorized by the voters last Nov. 7.

The second piece of legislation recommended by Smith would extend the life of the human relations panel to Aug. 31. Otherwise, the committee goes out of existence at the end of this month.

Policemen Offer Reward In Death

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Fellow officers agreed to pay $1,000 reward to any informant who could help convict the assailant of patrolman George Jacobs, who remained late Thursday in critical condition after being shot in the head.

Jacobs, 32, the father of two, was shot in the left temple late Wednesday moments after a robbery in the area in which he was patrolling. Officers theorized he may not have known the robbery occurred.

According to police, he stopped a man running down a darkened street.

He was found lying next to his car, its engine still running.

down wages but lacks machinery to hold down prices.

But Price Commission Chairman C. Jackson Grayson told newsmen "I do not believe we will have an explosion" of inflation.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, who earlier resigned from the now-abolished Pay Board in protest against what he called inequity, was named with other union leaders and industrialists to a new labor-management advisory committee. That panel will decide whether the current 5.5 per cent ceiling on wage increases should be modified in the new guidelines.

Meany called Nixon's move a step in the right direction.

Nixon abolished the Pay Board and Price Commission but retained the Cost of Living Council to administer the new, largely voluntary, program.

As its new head, he named John T. Dunlop, dean of arts and sciences at Harvard University and author of several books on economics and labor arbitration.

Other survivors include one daughter; one son; seven grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

He added that to the best of his knowledge, no high-level Nixon administration officials were involved in the espionage. Hunt's guilty plea and Gregory's testimony came as the Justice Department announced the filing of criminal charges against the Nixon campaign committee, alleging violations of federal election laws involving G. Gordon Liddy, another defendant in the burglary trial.

Dolphins Must Stop Larry Brown, Left, To Beat 'Skins

Miami Readies Alarm For The Run

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Manny Fernandez says his mind has a quick trigger and the slightest pressure by the Washington Redskins will fire this alarm: "It's a run! It's a run!"

The 250-pound defensive tackle of the Miami Dolphins says that to be effective in Sunday's Super Bowl VII, "We have got to stop the run. We can't worry about the pass. Our backs will have to take care of the pass."

Specifically, how will the Dolphins try to stop Larry Brown, who gained 1,216 yards rushing?

"You've just got to really not get blocked. When you get down to it," Fernandez says, laughing at the simplicity of his theory, "that's all it really amounts to. You've got to try not to get blocked, try not to get cut off from pursuit and try to stay on your feet."

Brown, who amassed his yardage despite missing the last two games of the regular season with a leg injury, came back to gain 88 yards in 30 carries in the Redskins' 26-3 victory over Dallas for the National Conference championship of the National Football League.

His running mate for four years, Charley Harraway, gained 567 yards. His primary assignment has been blocking for Brown.

Quarterback Bill Kilmer directs the Washington offense and he says it may boil down to a guessing game against Nick Buoniconti, Miami's veteran middle linebacker and signal caller.

"We're going to use a lot of things in our attack," says Kilmer, when asked what he'll do to counteract the outstanding pursuit of Buoniconti and other Dolphins. "We have counterplays against the grain... we have man-for-man straight-on plays... we have a lot of things."

"He'll be prepared, too," Kilmer says of Buoniconti. "He knows what we can do. It's just a matter of if he can outguess me. That's the big problem."

"We won't do anything special," says Buoniconti. "But you can't key on Larry Brown. You can't underestimate Charley Harraway either. He's a fine fullback."

"We live by the run; they live by the run," says Washington Coach George Allen of the biggest similarity between the two teams. Even when these teams pass, it's often play-action to capitalize on the running game.

The Dolphins boast the best rushing defense in the AFC, giving up an average of 110.6 yards per game which would have been third best behind Dallas and Green Bay in the NFC.

The Redskins, after averaging 149 yards on the ground during the regular season, rushed for 138 yards against the Packers and 122 against the Cowboys in NFC playoff games.

The Dolphins boast the best rushing team in NFL history—a record 2,951 yards—and the Redskins set their single-season club mark of 2,082.

Called By Icy Roads

Jack Frost was in the process of wringing West Texas' neck so the Texas Rangers' expeditionary party to the Permian Basin was called off.

Pitchers Don Stenhouse and Bill Gogolowski and Promotions Chief Johnny Welaj were supposed to touch base at the Downtown Rotary Club Thursday in an effort to stir up some off-season baseball interest.

"I'll be out there," promised Welaj, "even if I have to come alone, but maybe we can arrange it before the players get away to Florida... which is only a few weeks away."

Welaj and the Rangers residing in the Fort Worth-Dallas area are busy every day, making sure what happened last year doesn't happen again this season.

When the Rangers threw open the gates for their first major league season in Texas, after moving from Washington, D.C., no one was there.

"We learned our lesson," says Welaj. "And this year we're promoting baseball and the American League. Players are speaking to civic clubs, PTAs, churches, plus showing films and just talking with young fans in schools throughout the area."

The Rangers first season in Texas was a financial and artistic flop, but at least the owners learned a few things that should help this year.

Welaj promises there will be more promotions and more fan-conveniences. "One of the big complaints last year was the long distance from lower level seats to rest and refreshment facilities."

"We've taken care of that by cutting holes in the stands behind the first and third base areas," says Welaj. "It should make things more handy for the fans."

Service-Up At Arlington

Other improvements include the replacing of all plank seats with chair-type seats. New stands have been erected in center field between the left and right field stands and they cover the new home club house facilities.

"We'll be able to seat 38,000 fans now," says Welaj, who managed in Midland back in 1967.

"I think the thing I remember most about the Southwestern League out there was the night we were playing Carlsbad. C. F. Montgomery, the owner, was in the stands and Jodie Phipps was the manager."

"They had us down 15-1 and I remember Mr. Montgomery was dancing around in his box. But the wind was blowing and before it was over we'd won 25-23."

Welaj says he still hears from players on that club. "And I notice every time they do an article in The Sporting News on Sandy Valdespino, he usually manages to drop my name in there someplace."

In addition to the spruce-up at Arlington Stadium and the promotion-consciousness of the front office, the Rangers have added a couple of gate-attractions since last season.

Mike Epstein will play first base, provided they can convince him that Texas is paradise compared to Oakland, and Rico Carty will be in the outfield, provided they can keep him out of sick bay.

Pete Broberg, the fine pitching prospect who proved such a disappointment last season, is above 500 in the Venezuelan Winter League. "And that's good, because his club isn't doing that well."

Prospects for the promised upper deck depend on the future success and drawing power of the Rangers.

Welaj indicated that if the team catches hold, Arlington Mayor Tommy Vandergriff has hinted at abandoning the present park at UT-Arlington and constructing a domed stadium that would include a complex for ice hockey and basketball, making it a year round center.

"It sounds, unlikely, maybe, after last season, but I wouldn't put anything past Mayor Vandergriff. He's quite a promoter himself and knows how to get things done."

After all he did lure baseball away from Washington to Texas when they said it couldn't be done.

Snead's Hot 62 Leads At Phoenix

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The 30-year-old former professional baseball player birdied the 10th and 11th to go seven under par, got it to eight with a 20-foot birdie putt on the 13th hole and needed to birdie three of the next five to become the first touring player in history to break 60. But he was bunkered on the 14th, lipped out a birdie putt on the 15th and really didn't have a good opportunity on the last three holes.

He said it with a big smile stretched across his face.

J. C. — it stands for Jesse Carlisle — had just put together a brilliant eight-under-par 62 Thursday for the first-round lead in the $150,000 Phoenix Open Golf Tournament.

After making the turn at 30, he admitted he had visions of shooting a 59 on the 6,216-yard Arizona Country Club course, which would have been an all-time tour record.

"I've shot 29 on that back side before," he said. "I told myself, if you've got any guts at all you'll do it again."

But it was not to be.

GAMES TONIGHT, SATURDAY

5-4A's Back In Action

District 5-4A basketball action resumes tonight after a week delay in the schedule due to inclement weather.

Midland entertains the San Angelo Bobcats in the MHS Gymnasium while Midland-Lee meets Big Spring in Big Spring while Odessa Permian tries Cooper at home and Odessa plays Abilene in Abilene.

Three makeup games are on tap Saturday with Lee traveling to Abilene for a date with Cooper while Midland tries Abilene at home and Odessa plays San Angelo at home. The Permian-Big Spring game which was canceled Tuesday, will be made up Feb. 19 in Big Spring.

Lee takes a 17-game winning streak into tonight's game with the Steers and if the Rebels needed an incentive it would be the fact that Big Spring beat them twice in loop play last year, but Lee has posted a 70-48 win over the Steers with that coming in the finals of the Plainview

Action gets underway both in the MHS Gym and Steer Gym with sophomore games beginning at 4:30 p.m. with the junior varsity tilts at 6:15 p.m. and the varsity games at 8 p.m.

Midland-most likely will start Ronald Taylor, 6-10 senior; Mike Tillman, 6-2 senior; Kenneth Ray, 6-3 senior; Eddie Herring, 6-4 senior and either Jeff Thomas, 5-11 senior or Randall Hunt, a 5-11 senior.

Lee will go with Steve Cromwell, 6-6 senior; Don Bradley, 6-2 senior; Melvin Jackson, 6-3 junior; Larry Thane, 5-11 senior and either Tommy Loughery, 5-11 senior or David Gregory another 5-11 senior.

SWC Cage Race Opens

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Southwest Conference opens its 1973 basketball campaign Saturday night with Big question marks hanging over defending co-champions Texas and Southern Methodist.

The Longhorns travel to Renâ Marrs Gymnasium on the Bay-campus Saturday night without their ace, Larry Robinson, out for the season with a broken knee cap.

SMU goes to Lubbock to meet red-hot Texas Tech which showed its potential strength by toppling rugged Creighton in a non-conference game.

The Mustangs were erratic in the non-conference season, though they flashed potential behind freshman Ira Terrell in a disputed 74-73 loss to highly rated Missouri.

In other games, Texas A&M is at Arkansas for a 3:35 p.m. encounter while Rice and Texas Christian clash in a 2 p.m. televised game from Houston.

Eric Groscurth is expected to replace Robinson whose rehabilitation will take from eight to 10 weeks.

Robinson was the most valuable player in the SWC last year and led Texas to the NCAA playoffs. He played against Houston and Kansas State with a broken foot.

Although SMU flashed brilliance against Missouri the Mustangs came back the next night and looked ragged against Kansas State. It's been their story all season as they own a 3-8 record.

San Antonio Jefferson freshman Rick Bullock has spurred the Red Raiders and will meet the old foe in Terrell if SMU showed its potential strength by toppling rugged Creighton in a non-conference game.

one of the Dallas Roosevelt team that won the Class AAAA championship last year, defeating Jefferson.

Baylor doesn't have an impressive record but is capable of giving Texas a tussle in the comfy confines of Rena Marrs Gym. Heart O' Texas Coliseum, usual site of Baylor home games, is being repaired because of storm damage.

Baylor lost 86-82 to powerful Houston on the Cougars' home court to give an indication of the Bears' potential firepower.

Drake Hands NCAA-Docked NM State More Bad News

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New Mexico State's basketball team got bad news just the other day from the National Collegiate Athletic Association and Thursday night, got some more from the Drake Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs welcomed the besieged Amazing Aggies into the Wonderful World of the Missouri Valley Conference with a 75-66 setback.

Unfortunately, the Aggies had to play their first game in the tough conference without the services of their two top players.

The NCAA punished the school Wednesday with two years of probation and declared scoring ace John Williamson and seven-foot center Roland "Tree" Grant ineligible for a number of alleged infractions.

Among the alleged wrongdoings, the national collegiate body declared that the Aggie stars had received illegal payments from a non-university source.

Only two ranked teams were in action Thursday night as sixth-ranked Long Beach State spanked Fresno State 92-72. No. 12 San Francisco University ripped Los Angeles Loyola 109-72.

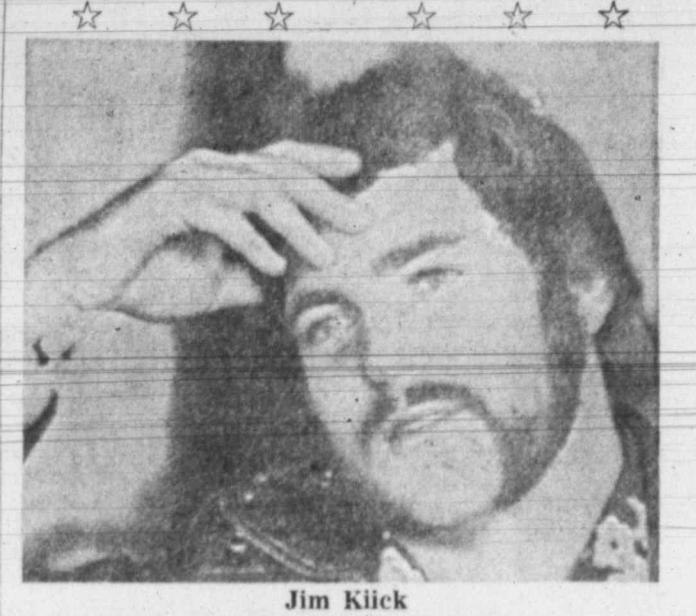

Elsewhere, Texas Christian nipped Hawaii 78-76; Notre Dame surprised DePaul 72-67; West Texas State topped Bradley 104-101 in overtime; Temple smashed Syracuse 63-55; Wichita State nipped North Texas State 73-69; New Mexico trimmed Brigham Young 69-63; Texas-El Paso beat Utah 61-51; Rice turned back Cincinnati 63-57; Air Force slugged Montana 69-50 and Idaho stopped Portland 64-52.

With Williamson and Grant missing from the premises, it didn't matter that New Mexico's MVC opener was played at home. Dennis Bell scored 21 points and Cleo Kilgore had 20 in Drake's balanced offense.

They helped build a 15-point advantage as the Aggies fell apart in the second half before the disappointed fans at Las Cruces.

Truman Ward scored 18 points and Bill Allen contributed 12 to the New Mexico State attack.

Ed Ratleff deposited 32 points on 16 of 23 field goal attempts to power Long Beach's success. The 49er star also led in rebounds with 10, dominating the lopsided game.

ton made it a point not to say anything bad about each other's team this last week, yet Allen was sincere in saying: "We've never played against a team that had three such great runners as Miami."

Still the turf is just what Csonka, Morris and Kliek want. "We don't plan to make any adjustments for Morris," defensive captain Jack Pardee of the Redskins declared. "He does everything that Kliek does but he's much more of a break-away threat with his speed."

Then they have Jim Kliek, Miami bases its attack primarily on running and even though quarterback Bob Griese is adept at throwing, the Dolphins will run perhaps 70 percent of the time.

DENTON — Wichita State, 37, knocked off North Texas State, 3-8, 73-69, in a Missouri Valley Conference basketball game Thursday night.

By JACK STEVENSON
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Washington's Redskins fear the Miami passing attack because nobody sees it enough to know what it is.

Defensively, we don't have to cover for anyone," says Washington's defensive coordinator, Bill Belichick. "If we're going to blitz or cover man-to-man or whatever we need to do, we don't need to worry about covering for any of our own players. We have balance enough to do that."

SEALES WINS 1ST PRO BOUT

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Ray Seales, U.S. Olympic Gold Medalist, opened his professional career Thursday night with a unanimous decision over Gonzales Rodriguez of Tijuana, Mexico, in their eight-round welterweight bout.

Seales, who weighed 140, used his height and reach advantage to keep the Mexican, 140½, at bay throughout most of the fight. But Gonzales, now 8-5, landed some solid body punches that buckled the 20-year-old Tacoman's knees at times.

The only knockdown came in the second round when Seales threw a short left jab that sent Rodriguez to the canvas. He was up at the count of three but took the mandatory eight count.

AL Defies Tradition

CHICAGO (AP) — Major league baseball, bound by tradition for decades, took a gigantic step towards change Thursday when the American League was given approval to adopt the designated pinch hitter rule.

With attendance lagging compared to the rival National League, the American League also sought a pinch runner rule and interleague play at the joint meetings which were concluded Thursday.

The pinch runner rule was disallowed and the major leagues announced a committee will be adopted to study and recommend two points ahead of Buffalo.

The Buffalo fans gave their heroes a standing ovation at the end of Thursday night's National Hockey League game with the New York Rangers.

The fans were showing their appreciation of the way the Sabres have played on their own ice. The Sabres, who had not lost at home in 24 games including three from last season, had that streak stopped by Pete Stenkowski's three goals and a power play goal by Jean Ratelle.

Ranger Coach Emile Francis stated that he wasn't thinking about the Buffalo undefeated streak. "I was only thinking about the three games they beat us on our ice."

After each team scored once in the opening period, Stenkowski put the Rangers ahead 2-1 in the second period.

With the victory, the Rangers captured a 46-45 win over Boston third place in the East Division.

Witness Insists He Saw Two Or More New Orleans Snipers

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A witness insists he saw two snipers at a downtown hotel where on the 10th floor (of the hotel) six sniping victims died, and he says he saw a third sniper.

Richard E. Meyer, a news conference Thursday that he saw two snipers at a downtown hotel where on the 10th floor (of the hotel) six sniping victims died, and he says he saw a third sniper.

Mayor Moon Landrieu told a news conference Thursday that he saw two snipers at a downtown hotel where on the 10th floor (of the hotel) six sniping victims died, and he says he saw a third sniper.

The witness described the sniper as 5-foot-9, light skinned, with a bushy haircut and wearing dark pants, a gray jacket and a "big belt" around his waist.

He said he next saw the sniper emerge from a room on the eighth floor and hide in some bushes on the deck of the hotel.

On the other hand, Maj. Henry Morris, chief of detectives, said there has been no ballistic evidence to indicate any of the sniping victims were hit by anything other than a .44 magnum bullet.

It was a .44 magnum carbine that was found next to Essex's body after police shot him from a Marine helicopter hovering over the hotel on a strafing run Sunday night.

A Penny And More

SYDNEY (AP) — "Just go to spend a penny," said the new cashier at D. Mitchell and Co., a suburban company.

It was about 11 a.m. as this "English lady about 27" headed for the toilet. She wasn't seen again, nor was $1,600 (U.S. $2,000) of the firm's cash.

Speaker Carl Albert Emerges With Increased House Powers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speaker Carl Albert has emerged in the 93rd Congress with new powers and an apparent determination to use them to take charge of the House.

A combination of chance events and actions by the Democratic majority has placed Albert, starting his second term as speaker, in position to be as powerful as his political mentor, the late Sam Rayburn.

"Carl Albert will be a tremendously strong speaker," says Rep. Thomas P. O'Neill, D-Mass., the new majority leader. "He was new last time and had to feel his way."

O'Neill's election as majority leader, replacing Hale Boggs of Louisiana, is one of the events that has given Albert tighter control of the House leadership.

Boggs, who vanished in an Alaskan plane crash, fought his way to the majority leadership in a tough election two years ago. His ambition to be speaker and his strong personality made his relations with Albert bumpy at times. O'Neill, affable and easy-going, is far more of a team player.

Another event that has greatly boosted Albert's power is the retirement of Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., a leader of the conservative coalition in the House, who as chairman of the Rules Committee often obstructed the flow of legislation to the floor.

Colmer has been replaced by Rep. Ray J. Madden, D-Ind., who remains an ardent New Dealer at age 80 and who will give the green light to any bill Albert wants. It will be the first time since the New Deal that the Rules Committee and the Democratic leadership have been in such harmony.

Anticipating a tough struggle with President Nixon over the next two years, House Democrats are shoring up their leadership in preparation for battle.

Albert cemented his control over the Rules Committee Wednesday by exercising some of the new power given to him by the Democratic caucus, which made him, O'Neill, and caucus chairman Olin Teague of Texas members of the select group that assigns Democrats to committees.

Resisting heavy pressure from Southerners who wanted Colmer replaced by another conservative, Albert got Democrats he can count on named to three vacancies on the Rules Committee.

The caucus also is preparing to give Albert a potential club over committee chairmen by requiring they be confirmed every two years by vote of the full caucus. A new rule to accomplish this is due to be adopted at the next party caucus. The House Democratic caucus includes all party congressmen.

RUPTURED PIPELINE—Acrid Fumes Force 500 Residents From Homes

LITTLETON, Colo. (AP) — Acrid fumes spewing from a ruptured oil company pipeline forced the evacuation of 500 residents from their homes in this Denver suburb Thursday night.

Dr. William McKinnel Jr., research adviser at the Marathon Oil Co. Research Center, said a pipe containing sulphur trioxide apparently ruptured, sending dense black smoke and fumes over a 20-block area.

The chemical is used in the manufacture of detergents.

William Smythe, a company employe, was treated for acid burns on his legs at Swedish Medical Center in Englewood and released. A hospital spokesman said he was in good condition following the incident.

Christy said the evacuated residents were allowed to return to their homes about two hours after the 7 p.m. chemical spill.

Firemen originally reported a fire had caused the sulphinate fumes because of the heavy black smoke pouring from the center, but said later there was no fire.

Three Persons Die In Houston Fires

HOUSTON (AP) — Four major fires broke out in the Houston area Thursday night and three persons were killed in two of the blazes.

Louis and Mary Helen Bosby died in a fire at their home west of the downtown area. Three of their children were injured.

Just north of Houston, Lee Knight, 40, was killed in a fire at his home.

Another blaze caused heavy damage at the De Zavala Elementary School.

Meanwhile, a three-alarm fire at an apartment building caused extensive damage.

One of the victims of the Houston fires, Mrs. Mary Helen Bosby, was a niece of J. M. Ratcliff of Midland. Ratcliff is wire editor of The Reporter-Telegram.

Louisiana Protests Gas Curtailments To State Industry

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Refineries and other Louisiana industries whose gas has been cut off that we are doing and will continue to do everything in our power to make natural gas available.

Louisiana is a major supplier of natural gas to the East. State officials have complained for years that United and other outfits have committed too much of the fuel to out-of-state users.

Edwards told reporters, "The only practical solution is to discontinue traditional practices." "For instance," he said, "the state could take $2 million or $3 million or $5 million and could hire a contractor to drill on our property for us. And then we'd keep all the gas."

Edwards announced Tuesday planned lease sales in the Gulf of Mexico, scheduled Feb. 14, had been called off to allow for what he said might be a yearlong study of the matter.

He suggested at the time a state-owned pipeline might be one solution, but he told reporters Thursday that was "the least practical one."

He said at least two firms, United and Louisiana Intrastate Pipeline Co., have proposed working with the state to solve the problems.

He said he had never met Tunney but wrote to him "because I've been much in agreement with the comments I've heard him make."

The B-52 pilot is now performing administrative duties at his base in southern Thailand while the Air Force decides whether to court-martial him, approve his resignation or approve his application to be classified a conscientious objector, which is tantamount to discharge from the service.

If tried and convicted on the charge of failure to obey an order to fly a combat mission, Heck could receive two years in prison.

His letter of resignation is going through military channels to Washington.

Heck flew his last B-52 mission, his 175th of the war, on Christmas Eve at the height of the aerial blitz against Hanoi and Haiphong. Then he refused to fly any more. He is the first American pilot known to have refused to go into combat in the Vietnam war.

Massachusetts was the first state in the Union to adopt the Australian ballot, May 30, 1888.

B52 Commander Appeals For Action By Congress

SAIGON (AP) — The B-52 commander who refused to fly combat missions has written his senator and says, "I hope Congress can do what they can to end the war. I've done what I can."

Capt. Michael J. Heck, 30, of Chula Vista, Calif., says he wrote Sen. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., on Thursday.

"I informed him of the situation, and told him what has happened, my views on the war," said Heck. "I thought he might take an interest and he might be able to do some good. He might use his influence to push congressional action to stop the thing. It might be of interest that somebody else had decided to end the war."

"I thought I might make

Parkview Installs Sterile Air Flow System In Surgery Room

Midland's Parkview Hospital recently installed an air flow system designed to provide cleaner air in the surgical rooms of its facility.

The Agnew Laminar Air Flow System cost the hospital $10,000 to install and, according to a hospital spokesman, is the first of its kind used in any West Texas hospital.

The flow system is said to filter air throughout the surgical area of the hospital at a pace that is 99.99 per cent free of dust and bacteria.

"What this means to the patient and to the surgeon is that the wound site will be bathed by clean air (that is) 99.99 per cent free of dust and bacteria. The air is filtered 200 times an hour," the spokesman added.

Parkview installed the new air system on Dec. 16, 1972.

According to a press release from the hospital, only the larger hospitals in the U.S. presently are using the system.

Bentsen Offers Amistad Reservoir, Big Thicket Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bills that would establish a 100,000-acre Big Thicket National Recreation area in southwest Texas, were introduced Thursday by Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex.

The Senate passed a similar Big Thicket Park bill in the last Congress, but the House delayed action on it.

Another bill would establish a recreation center on 65,000 acres along the Rio Grande north of Del Rio.

It would be part of an international recreation area between the United States and Mexico along Amistad Reservoir, on the Rio Grande, the Devils River and the Pecos River.

Incoming Texans Named To House Committee Posts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Olin E. Teague, D-Tex., exchanged chairmanships Thursday and will now head the House Science and Astronautics Committee.

Teague has been chairman of the Veterans Affairs Committee.

Incoming Texas Rep. Barbara Jordan of Houston won a seat on the Judiciary Committee, the responsibilities of which include the final say-so on any proposed constitutional amendments.

U.S. Confirms Tightened Security In Saigon Area

SAIGON (AP) — Security has been tightened at the U.S. Military Command's headquarters on the strength of intelligence reports that Communist terrorists may try to bomb it, military sources said today.

The command refused comment on the intelligence reports but acknowledged that "increased security precautions" have been put into effect at the headquarters compound at Tan Son Nhut Air Base.

New restrictions have been placed on vehicles allowed to enter the fenced-off compound and all which do enter are searched for explosive devices. Concealing of bombs in cars and other vehicles is a favorite tactic of the Viet Cong.

The security crackdown went into effect within the last two weeks and the intelligence on which it was based apparently was connected with earlier reports that terrorists were preparing to attack an American installation in the Saigon area around Christmas or New Year's. That attack was said to have been planned in retaliation for the accelerated U.S. bombing of the Hanoi-Haiphong area. No such attack occurred, however.

U.S. aircraft continued their raids against supply and communications routes in the panhandle of North Vietnam below the 20th parallel, and ground action in South Vietnam increased slightly, sources said.

South Vietnamese officials reported 62 enemy incidents in the 24 hours ending at 6 a.m., compared to 54 the previous day, the lowest since the New Year's truce period.

Marginal weather limited fighter-bomber strikes against North Vietnam but the Air Force's above-the-weather B-52 bombers flew 36 strikes there.

The U.S. Command also reported 42 B-52 strikes against a known North Vietnamese troop staging area in the Saigon River corridor between the Michelin and Lai Khe rubber plantations, 35 to 40 miles northwest of the capital.

McGovern Says Kissinger Lied About Peace Report

BOSTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern says he thinks presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger lied when he told the nation on Oct. 26 that "peace is at hand" in Vietnam, the Boston Globe reported Thursday at a luncheon with Globe editors. McGovern was in Boston with his wife to accompany their daughter, Mary, to an interview at Radcliffe College, where she has applied for admission next fall.

The newspaper said the 1972 Democratic presidential nominee made the assertion earlier Thursday McGovern met with some 300 campaign workers at a downtown hotel and drew cheers when he told them, "Needless to say, Massachusetts is first in my heart." McGovern carried only Massachusetts and the District of Columbia in the November election.

McGovern told the Globe editors that Kissinger's "peace is at hand" was a final factor in his defeat 12 days later. "Of course I don't know," he said, "but I can only tell you that when Kissinger told the country on Oct. 26 that peace was at hand and only a few small details remained, I think he was lying."

McGovern briefly sketched the sequence of events: how the pace of the Paris negotiations seemed — to quicken in the final weeks of the campaign with rumors spreading that a settlement had been reached; then Hanoi's release of a text of the agreements and Kissinger's news conference.

"I think he was told by the President to go out there and say it after Hanoi blew the whistle," McGovern said.

Kissinger "did not deny," he said, "that the text (released by Hanoi) was essentially what they had agreed on. Where I think he became dishonest was in telling the American people that there was nothing of any consequence yet to negotiate, when he knew that major objections had been raised by Saigon and the White House."

Later in his discussion with the Globe editors, McGovern returned to this topic and said: "I think the presence of 140,000 North Vietnamese troops in the South which Saigon strenuously objects to is not a minor detail. If you can believe the rhetoric of the administration, that's been the principal reason for the war."

McGovern returned to this topic and said: "I think the presence of 140,000 North Vietnamese troops in the South which Saigon strenuously objects to is not a minor detail. If you can believe the rhetoric of the administration, that's been the principal reason for the war."

As required by law, commissioners also appointed a county salary grievance committee comprised of W. J. Campbell Jr., Mrs. Ollie L. Benson, Mrs. Lotie J. Bloxom, Hugh W. Driskill and Brijido Esparaza. Salaries for elected officials were set at $11,000 for the county attorney, clerk, judge and treasurer, $12,240 for the sheriff, tax assessor, and $9,198 for commissioners.

Commissioners and the judge receive an additional $100 monthly for car expenses, and the clerk draws $50 for expenses.

Bands of Protestant youths roamed the East Side of Belfast, hurling rocks and bottles. In the Protestant Shankill Road area, 10 masked, armed men hijacked a bus and burned it.

A policeman was shot in the leg in Portadown, County Antrim.

A large delegation of Midland Shriners and their wives are expected to attend the mid-winter meeting and officer election of Suez Shrine Temple Saturday in San Angelo.

John Rowbotham, president of the Midland Shrine Association, said Midland probably will have one of the largest delegations from outside San Angelo. Other officers of the association are Delton Marcum, vice president, and Donald O'Brannon, secretary.

A. C. "Pete" Peeler of Midland is the temple's oriental guide. Ed Watts and Joseph W. Burrell are past illustrious potentates of Suez.

Election of officers is scheduled Saturday afternoon, followed that night by the potentate ball in the San Angelo Coliseum.

Irish Reunification Said Just Daydream

BELFAST (AP) — Brian Faulkner, the former prime minister of Northern Ireland, said Thursday night those who expect reunification of Ireland soon are daydreamers who "must shake themselves awake once and for all."

Faulkner said his Unionist party, the Protestant party that ruled Northern Ireland until last year, "would not be able to help the British government" establish the new legislative assembly that is expected to give greater representation to the Roman Catholic minority.

Faulkner also warned in a speech to Unionists in Antrim that Protestant terrorism can be expected to increase.

Referring to the Catholic guerrillas of the Irish Republican Army, he said, "We have already seen that a small, hard-core element of extremists succeeded in exploiting a significant section of the anti-partisanist population, with tragic results for us all. Let us be under no illusions about the possibility of a parallel development in the pro-Unionist population."

Faulkner's speech was viewed as a bid for the support of right-wing Protestants to add credibility to his claim to be the leader of Northern Ireland's Protestants.

The Unionist party held power in Northern Ireland for 50 years until the British government superseded it last year. Since then, the party has lost ground to the more extreme Vanguard Movement led by William Craig, a former minister in the provincial government.

Meanwhile, violence was returning to the province after a New Year's lull.

Bands of Protestant youths roamed the East Side of Belfast, hurling rocks and bottles. In the Protestant Shankill Road area, 10 masked, armed men hijacked a bus and burned it.

A policeman was shot in the leg in Portadown, County Antrim.
