Mobil Oil Corp. No. 2 U-Tex Lands, Andrews County wildcat re-entry in the Magutex multi-pay field, pumped 37 barrels of new oil and 80 barrels of load water in 72 hours.

Recovery was through Spraberry perforations at 8,843-9,436 feet, which had been fractured with 60,000 gallons and 100,000 pounds.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 7, block 8, ULS, 11 miles east of Andrews.

Originally drilled by Mobil to 12,621 feet, it was completed as a Devonian producer and is now depleted in that zone.

Odom Lime Strike Finals In Nolan

Wenner Petroleum Corp., Dallas, has recompleted No. 1 Lula L. Hale, former 6,284-foot failure in Nolan County, as an Odom lime oil discovery, five miles southwest of Trent.

It finished for a daily pumping potential of four barrels of 40 gravity oil, through perforations at 5,521-5,529 feet, which had been washed with 500 gallons of mud acid and acidized with 3,000 gallons. Gas-oil ratio is 1,500-1.

On kelly bushing elevation of 2,062 feet, the following tops were picked: Noodle Creek, 2,907; Odom lime, 5,521; Caddo, 5,724; and Cambrian at 6,178 feet.

Originally drilled by Payne-Johnson & Byars, it was plugged and abandoned April 25, 1954.

Well site is 330 feet from north and east lines of section 49, block 20, T&P survey, 1/2 mile east of the depleted Hale (Noodle Creek) field and 1 1/4 mile northeast of the Dora, North (Strawn, Odom, Ellenburger, Lower Canyon and Cambrian) field, but separated by a 6,207-foot failure.

Shallow Wildcat Sel For Menard

Ryder Scott Management Co. of Wichita Falls, filed application to drill No. 1 Jessie Speck as a 4,100-foot explorer in Menard County, 20 miles north of Fort McKavett townsite.

Drill site is 467 feet from south and west lines of J. W. Byrne survey 7, abstract 1156, 1 1/2 mile north of the depleted opener and lone producer in the Tuckmar, Northeast (Strawn lime oil) field.

The discovery, Sunray Mid-Continent Oil Co. No. 1 John Speck, was completed through perforations between 3,885-3,897 feet to pump 15.13 barrels of 40.9-gravity oil and 31.8 per cent water on April 24, 1962.

Eddy Well Flows Gas During Test

Robert K. Hillin, Midland, was drilling ahead below 9,500 feet in lime and shale at No. 1 EDWU Federal, 1 1/4-mile northwest outpost to the opener and lone well in the Winchester (Morrow) field of Eddy County, N.M., 12 miles northeast of Carlsbad. The well flowed gas on a drillstem test in an unidentified formation.

Cease-Fire Friday, Says Saigon

Briscoe, Hobby Take Oaths Of Office

GOVERNOR, LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR DEDICATED TO STATE REFORMS

By GARTH JONES
AUSTIN (AP) — Texas got a new governor and lieutenant governor today, each dedicated to reform in government and a bigger say in running the state for all voters.

"With God's help I shall do my best to serve you to the utmost of my ability," Briscoe said shortly after taking the oath with one hand on an antique Bible used in 41 gubernatorial inaugurations.

Briscoe immediately repeated his pledge given during the long spring and summer campaigns that he would fight any new taxes this year.

Hobby, who today announced he is taking a leave as president of the Houston Post, was sworn in first and used the opportunity in his brief address to push for constitutional revision, a key issue of his campaign.

The new governor said his inaugural address would cover only "certain basic principles (See BRISCOE Page 2A)

Informant Calls Move Unilateral

SAIGON (AP) — A cease-fire will be declared by the United States and South Vietnam on the eve of President Nixon's inauguration Saturday to pave the way toward signing of a peace agreement to end the Indochina war.

Nixon was said to have advised President Nguyen Van Thieu that an international agreement has been reached to preclude further hostilities by North Vietnam, and to have told Thieu to "trust in me."

The unilateral cease-fire would be designed to set the stage for an exchange of prisoners and for the signing by the foreign ministers of the United States, North Vietnam, South Vietnam and the Viet Cong of the peace settlement drafted at Paris, the informants said.

There was no clear understanding of whether Hanoi and the Viet Cong had agreed to the allied cease-fire. However, the sources, who have had access to discussions by Thieu and other top-level South Vietnamese leaders of the latest draft proposal, said concessions had been made by both sides on essential issues blocking the peace treaty.

Haig, Thieu Confer
These reports came after Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr. conferred for 2 1/2 hours with Thieu on the draft proposal worked out by Henry A. Kissinger and Hanoi's Le Duc Tho in Paris.

The sources said that some "ambiguous points" of the peace agreement will remain to be settled following the cease-fire and before the pact can be signed. They added it was hoped this could be accomplished before the end of January.

The informants went on to say that the Saigon government may have reservations about the final draft agreement, but that it was recognized that with Nixon applying pressure for a settlement and Congress threatening to cut off aid, Thieu is faced with no choice but to go along.

Ziegler left open the possibility Nixon would have something to say about Vietnam in his televised inaugural address Saturday.

The White House spokesman was adamant in declining to comment on a report from Saigon in which South Vietnamese sources said a cease-fire will be declared by the United States and South Vietnam on the eve of Nixon's inauguration.

Ziegler said, "We have an agreement with the other side that any fresh effort by North Vietnam to start another war of the negotiations and we're sticking by that agreement."

This was his response to virtually all questions on the subject of the search for a Vietnam accord.

Ziegler had said Monday that Kissinger would be returning to Paris "in the relatively near future. We are under pressure" (See PEACE Page 2A)

Hanoi Says Signing Due Next Week

TOKYO (AP) — Informed sources in Hanoi said today that North Vietnam and the United States are expected to sign a cease-fire agreement by the end of next week at the latest, a pro-Communist Japanese news agency reported.

Gregory said, however, the envelopes were coded according to the mailing list from which they were drawn and that some of those bore the name of a Republican.

Gregory also said that, during a time he was helping process McGovern campaign contributions, he did not recall seeing any from the Vietnam Veterans Against the War and that "I am not sure" there were any from the National Peace Action Coalition.

There were no details given to the agreement to which the letter supposedly referred, but one South Vietnamese official said:

"Both sides are under pressure. We are under pressure" (See PEACE Page 2A)

FOR AIR PASSENGERS BOARDING AT TERMINAL—

City Eyes $1 'Head Tax'

By LARRY HOWELL
An ordinance that would permit a $1 "head tax" on passengers boarding planes at Midland Air Terminal will be presented to the city council on Jan. 23.

Mayor Ernest Angelo Jr. said this morning that after eight months of study the council has decided in favor of applying the extra tax.

Angelo said that "barring anything unforeseen, I expect that the council will vote in favor of the 'use' tax during our next meeting."

The $1 tax is conservatively estimated to be worth about $100,000 a year to the City of Midland and would be used exclusively to finance airport improvements. The tax is currently in use at several airports in the U.S. as a source of additional revenue.

The mayor said that a public hearing has been scheduled for the Jan. 23 council meeting so that "interested citizens can present and give us their opinions for or against the head tax."

Following a Jan. 4 meeting of members of the city staff with representatives from Continental Airlines and Texas International, Angelo said the two commercial carriers which serve the Midland airport "assured us they would be cooperative in applying the head tax."

The Midland head tax revenue will be collected by a city employee after each passenger has purchased his airline ticket.

City Atty. Joe Nuesse estimated today that it would be "sometime between March 1 and April 1 of this year before the tax will go into effect in Midland" — assuming that the council takes immediate action following the public hearing next week.

"A head tax is going to apply only to the people who use the airport and will not put an additional burden on the taxpayer," he said.

EPA Unveils Plan To Ration Gasoline

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A recommendation by the Environmental Protection Agency administrator to ration gasoline in Southern California as an air pollution solution has drawn initial unfavorable reaction from state and local officials.

"I think that anyone who suggests gasoline rationing in Los Angeles County as an answer is overestimating what it could accomplish," said Gov. Ronald Reagan in Sacramento after the announcement Monday by EPA Chief William Ruckelshaus.

Ruckelshaus told a news conference the proposal to limit gasoline usage by up to 82 percent would apply—if approved after a series of public hearings—to almost all of Los Angeles County, all of Orange and Ventura counties and much of Riverside, San Bernardino and Santa Barbara counties.

PEACE—

(Continued From Page 1A) from the United States, Hanoi is under pressure from the Soviet Union and Communist China. Everything must be understood in the context of an international arrangement in the light of the detente.

Official sources said North Vietnam and the United States had agreed on the size of an international force to supervise the cease-fire. South Vietnamese sources said the new draft still left unresolved such basic Saigon demands as the withdrawal of all North Vietnamese troops from South Vietnam and restoration of the demilitarized zone between the North and South. But progress toward agreement was reported on those also.

The U.S. Embassy indicated there would be further meetings between Haig and Thieu and said the schedule of President Nixon's special emissary was "open-ended."

"We must carry out that first function of government—protection of life and the property of each individual citizen. And towards that end I will make numerous crime deterrent proposals.

"Create an environment in which every person has the opportunity to rise to the maximum of his or her potential. . . Priorities must be reviewed. I am completely committed to a new wave of economy, efficiency and effectiveness in state government. Poor management, inadequate performance cannot be tolerated.

"It is unreasonable to expect our citizens to act in unity unless those in public office are also capable of pulling together to solve the major problems facing our state. . . This is one of the rare times when the state has an entirely new team—governor, lieutenant governor, speaker of the House, attorney general, chief justice. I intend to cooperate to the fullest with my fellow public officials.

"I will not only commit my administration to a spirit of cooperation with all other branches of government. I will commit it to cooperation with the people of Texas," Briscoe promised.

Canon on the Capitol lawn boomed a 19-gun salute to the new governor as Briscoe and Hobby were escorted to a special stand built on the south steps of the old pink granite building. Around the platform were other state officials and the 181 members of the Texas Legislature.

The mayor said both he and the five council members felt that a head tax "is as fair and equitable a tax as we can find."

"We're faced with several million dollars of improvements at Terminal in years to come," he said. "And the entire facility as it now operates does not provide enough revenue to float that large of a bond issue by itself."

Two other airports were visited and their head tax collection methods studied in detail. Nuessle flew to Raleigh-Durham, N.C., and Col. W. H. Banks, director of aviation for the city, investigated the airport at Jackson, Miss. In addition, both men attended a late November meeting last year of the American Association of Airport Executives in Washington, D.C., to review existing head tax programs.

"We'd been considering the tax long before the latest security requirements imposed by the Federal Aviation Administration," he added, which will cost Midland an estimated $45,000 annually.

"I would emphasize that recent security requirements laid down by the FAA have no bearing whatsoever on the council's decision to place the head tax ordinance on the Jan. 23 agenda," he added.

The $1 extra charge will provide passengers with a boarding pass which will be handed to the airlines official at the boarding apron.

Failure to comply with the ordinance — and pay the tax — carries a penalty fine not to exceed $100.

Nuessle said, "This ordinance will make it unlawful for any person to move from the boarding apron to the aircraft without having a boarding pass and it requires airlines to collect the perforated half of the stub for city records."

Liberal, Conservative Or What?

By ROBERT HEARD
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas' new governor comes into office Tuesday with a lot of people wondering who he is.

Is Dolph Briscoe a conservative, a moderate or what? Some of his supporters say with varying degrees of seriousness, that he won't be governor at all—his wife will be.

Out of office 15 years, the 49-year-old rancher-banker from Uvalde whipped giant-killer Sissy Farenthold in a Democratic runoff, then nosed out Republican Hank Grover in November by 99,507 votes out of 3.4 million cast.

Briscoe is remembered by some as a "liberal" in his eight years, 1949-1957, in the Texas House, but others suggest that tag was earned on a single issue: his successful opposition to a conservative governor, Allan Shivers, over an attack on spending for farm-to-market roads.

Briscoe remembers his legislative days this way: "I served four terms in the House and never had an opponent—didn't have one when I quit. I represented a very conservative area and, I'm convinced, represented it satisfactorily."

He ran for governor once before, finishing fourth in a nine-man race in 1968. Following his victory this year, he has made few public appearances, has stayed away from Austin and has been slow to pick his key aides.

He confused everybody at the Democratic national convention by privately favoring Hubert Humphrey, announcing his support for George Wallace after Humphrey dropped out, then switching on the convention floor to George McGovern.

His wife, Janey, a strong personality and a fine campaigner, scoffs at speculation that she runs him and therefore will run the state.

But once during the campaign, as she tried to persuade a reporter that Briscoe makes his own decisions, her husband walked up and asked if he should order a certain amount of barbeque, and she interrupted her discourse on his independence only long enough to instruct him on a different quantity of meat.

They married in 1942 while both were students at the University of Texas. They have three children: Janey, 22; Dolph III "Chip," 19; and Cele, 16.

Briscoe's great-great-grandfather on his mother's side, also named Briscoe, signed the Texas Declaration of Independence.

His wife has an ancestor that settled in the Jamestown colony in Virginia in 1613.

Briscoe inherited a fine ranching business from his father and increased it manyfold. He is the chairman of the board of two banks and a director for another bank.

In addition to his leadership on an outstanding farm-to-market road system, he has been a strong supporter of the screwworm-eradication campaign and in soil conservation programs.

One of Briscoe's campaign statements may sum up why he wanted to be governor: "I'm proud to be a native Texan, and I feel a commitment to serve the people of our great state."

"I pledge... that I'll be free to act in the interest of the people, with no ties to political machines or financial interests that will keep me from putting the public's interest first."

Phase 3 Slated To Cost Less

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Phase 2 wage and price controls cost the country about $95 million during the 14 months they were in effect, the government says.

But Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz said Monday the costs of Phase 3, which was announced last week, should be less.

The Phase 2 costs included $62.7 million in expenses for the Internal Revenue Service, which was responsible for enforcing the controls that were put into effect on Nov. 14, 1971.

The Justice Department spent about $3.7 million and the remaining funds were spent by the Pay Board, the Price Commission and the Cost of Living Council, the agencies set up to administer the controls.

Shultz said it is hoped the control bureaucracy under Phase 3 can be reduced from 4,000 to 2,000. Phase 3 is a new system of both mandatory and voluntary restraints on wages and prices.

The Phase 1 wage-price freeze cost about $1.3 million during 90 days it was in effect.

The administration also said Monday it would make the new wage-price chief, John T. Dunlop, available for questioning by Congress and for confirmation by the Senate. Dunlop, a Harvard economist, is expected to replace Donald Rumsfeld as director of the Cost of Living Council later this month.

Eased Pollution Rules Eyed To Promote Coal For Energy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is considering easing the states to ease their application of some secondary antipollution standards in a move to promote greater use of coal to meet the country's energy needs.

Coal has received new attention from the administration because of delays and lagging production of other energy sources.

The Office of Emergency Preparedness has released a study concluding that "selective and temporary relaxation" of secondary antipollution standards would permit substantial substitution of coal for petroleum.

To Maintain Standards

Elmer Bennett, an assistant director of the OEP, said that while states may be encouraged to slow down application of more stringent secondary standards aimed at preventing environmental harm, he doubts the administration will ask Congress to roll back existing clean-air standards.

He said in an interview Monday that coal would still be largely unwelcome in areas struggling to meet the national "primary standards" adopted to protect human health.

In recent years, the coal industry—once the giant of American energy—has been eclipsed by oil, natural gas, the promise of atomic energy, and the restrictions of antipollution standards.

But then it began to appear that development of atomic energy was behind schedule, new oil sources would be delayed, and gas discoveries were lagging. Coal began to achieve a second look from the Nixon administration.

The problems of coal are partly economic; environmen-

Last weekend was a swinging time for many Rebs in the Tall City. Lots and lots of skaters enjoyed a few hours of bruises, cracked teeth and skinned knees Friday night. Next time you don't have much to do, remember the newest thing in Midland—the skating rink, right off Highway 80.

After skating, lots of Rebs met at Kristi Branum's house to help celebrate Karen Williams' 18th birthday. Some of those seen eating cake, playing pool, dancing and playing guitars were David Tillet, Pam Kinch, Marybeth Callahan, Susan Garrot, Calvin Cobb, David Hopson, Steve Erck, Linda and Kenny Aeger, Judy Nobles, Carrie Mc-

Judge Gives Negro Option Of Service Instead Of Prison

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A judge has given a black man convicted of assaulting a policeman a choice of going to jail or recruiting blacks to be tested for sickle cell anemia.

"I helped you, now it's your turn to help your people," Criminal Court Judge Alfonso Sepe told Joe Louis Wilcox on Monday.

"You will recruit black married couples to be tested for sickle cell anemia. I want you to recruit them by the hundreds to determine if they are carriers of the disease."

Wilcox, 40, had pleaded guilty to resisting arrest and assaulting Miami officer Antonio Prieto while Prieto was trying to arrest Wilcox for disorderly conduct. The charge carries a maximum prison term of five years.

The 6-foot-2, 295-pounder bowed his head after he admitted the felony, then begged Sepe for mercy. Both Prieto and the prosecutor recommended probation for Wilcox.

Announcing his decision, Sepe placed Wilcox on probation for two years and then appended the requirement that Wilcox aid in the search for young blacks who have sickle cell anemia.

If Wilcox fails to carry out the mission, he can expect to go to jail, Sepe cautioned.

Sickle cell anemia is a hereditary blood disease present in about one out of every 500 newborn blacks. Doctors estimate as many as one in 10 blacks suffer from the malady.

The disease causes an abnormal formation of blood protein in body cells. Under emotional stress, cells then form irregular, elongated shapes which clog small vessels, form blood clots and deprive vital body organs of blood and oxygen. There is no known cure for the disease, often fatal.

Sepe has made it a practice of requiring defendants to perform a community service as part of their probation "because it's not only constructive for the individual, it's constructive for society."

HOPE FOR HEARING LOSS — is sometimes available through a properly fitted hearing aid, even though nothing can be done medically. For a free, no-obligation hearing test, see Don Pendergrass at Beltone Hearing Aid Service, 32 Village Court.

Beltone Sells 'Better Hearing'

If you are among the many who have hearing problems, and you have been told by your doctor that your problem cannot be helped, there still may be hope. Many have been made to hear better through the use of properly fitted hearing aids even though their particular problem could not be helped medically.

The place to go in Midland if you fit in the above category is Beltone Hearing Aid Service, 32 Village Court, where Don Pendergrass sells "better hearing."

Beltone's success in fitting difficult hearing problems is much greater today than even a year ago due to the great advance in technology and instrumentation. Therefore, if you have not had a review of your hearing problem very recently, you would be doing yourself a favor by calling Beltone today and making an appointment for a free hearing test.

You may have a friend or loved one who has not realized, or admitted, that he has a hearing loss. Sometimes, this takes a while, due partly to the fact that hearing loss is gradual and progressive and may not be readily recognized. Thus, the hearing loss may have become severe and handicapping before the person is aware of what has happened, and you will be doing him a great service by convincing him to have a hearing test either by his doctor or an audiologist or qualified hearing aid consultant.

Beltone sells approximately 37 per cent of all the hearing aids sold. This is more than three times as many as the nearest competitor. And of the more than 50 manufacturers of hearing aids, Beltone has advanced to the position of world leader in aid manufacturing. It is estimated that more than 95 per cent of persons with hearing loss can be helped.

So, why delay? Better hearing for you may lie just at the end of a telephone call to 563-0323 or a visit to 32 Village Court in the Village Shopping Center.

Evidence Links Cancer With Organ Transplants

BOSTON (AP) — Medical researchers are compiling increased evidence linking cancer with heart and kidney transplants, a member of the Harvard Medical School staff reports.

Dr. Martin S. Hirsch says transplant recipients show a "markedly increased" incidence of cancer. He said 96 cases of malignant tumors have been detected in patients throughout the world who have received organ transplants.

Hirsch said available statistics indicate that rare "reticulum cells sarcomas" are the most common form of cancer encountered in transplant patients. These tumors usually are located in the brain and spinal cord.

Statistics show that this type of cancer occurs 4,000 times more frequently among transplant recipients than in a general population of similar age, Hirsch told a meeting of the Harvard Medical Society last week.

The worldwide statistics have been compiled largely under the direction of Drs. Israel Penn and Thomas E. Starzl of the University of Colorado and the Veterans Administration Hospital in Denver, Hirsch said.

These specialists have determined that the overall incidence of cancer among transplant patients is 4.5 per cent, a number considered low enough to justify continued use of transplantation as a means of therapy for terminally ill patients, Hirsch said.

A Natural Childbirth Is Your Own Decision

—By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am pregnant for the first time and a neighbor of mine is trying to talk me into having my baby the "natural" way. She said she took this course at the "Y" in her sixth month, and learned some breathing exercises and muscle control, and had her baby without taking even an aspirin. She said there was some pain, but not nearly as bad as she thought it would be. Also, her husband took the course, too, and he stayed with her during the labor and delivery, which made it a shared experience.

I am undecided as to whether to have my baby the natural way or not. My husband says I'm crazy to suffer any pain at all if I can avoid it, and I'm inclined to agree with him. On the other hand, if your husband is right there and sees what you have to go through, it might make him appreciate you more. Please be honest. My doctor says it's up to me.

DEBBIE: It is up to you to decide whether you want to grin and bear it, or take an anesthetic. (The proponents of the "grin and bear it" method swear by it.) As I see it, childbirth will be a truly "shared experience" only when a couple has twins—the wife giving birth to one and her husband giving birth to the other. DEAR ABBY: All my life I have been worried about what other people think, but now that I've reached middle age, I have decided not to be bothered by these bugaboos, and I must say it's a great feeling.

I recently married for the third time. It all happened very fast, but I'm sure this time I've found the right man. Instead of sending the conventional formal marriage announcements, we had our marriage license photographed and printed, and we sent copies to our friends to let them know we are married. We certainly enjoyed the different reactions.

Some people thought we had sent them our original license, and even mailed it back to us. Others thought we just wanted to prove we weren't "shacking up" (which isn't a bad idea nowadays—to prove it, I mean). One man thought someone was trying to force HIM into marriage and it gave him a good scare. A few thought it was in "poor taste," but most of our friends said they always suspected I was nuts, and I finally confirmed it.

What do you think?
LOIS IN SONOMA

DEAR LOIS: It's different. DEAR ABBY: You would be doing a lot of hard of hearing people a tremendous service if you would explain the following in your column: The hard of hearing wear hearing aids to amplify the sound, so when people discover that one is wearing a hearing aid, why do they start to SHOUT?

Shouting into a hearing aid amplifies the sound to such a penetrating pitch it makes the wearer extremely nervous, and drives him up a wall. Thank you WEARS ONE

DEAR WEARS: Here's your letter, and I hope it penetrates. Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Future Plans Projected Mrs. Gus Waterman conducted the business at a meeting Monday of the Opportunity Center Auxiliary in the home of Mrs. John Bullard, 2100 N. H St.

Gary James Miles Weds Angeloan

SAN ANGELO — Angelo State University students, Mr. and Mrs. Gary James Miles, are making their home here at 1414 W. Concho St., following their marriage Saturday in Harris Avenue Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Hays Miles of Midkiff are the parents of the bridegroom, scheduled to graduate in May with an accounting degree. He played one year with the Rams Football Team and was president of the Baptist Student Union.

The bride, the former, Donna Gail King, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. King of this city. She is a senior at ASU, majoring in English and art. She was a member one year of the Angellets Drill Team and served as publicity and devotional chairman for the Baptist Student Union.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Earl Dunn. Music was provided by Diane Deatherage and Jill Deatherage.

Kathy King was maid of honor for her sister, Richard Miles of Seminole was best man for his brother.

Susan Hall was the bridesmaid and Michelle Pass, cousin of the bride, the flower girl. Candles were lighted by Mike Honea and Phil Neighbors. Tommy McHugh was the groomsman.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of ivory peau de soie with scooped neckline and full three-quarter sleeves with Venice overlay. The train of Venice was attached at the back of the Empire waist line, falling to chapel length. The shoulder length veil, belonging to her cousin, was held by a crown of pearl beads. The bride's gown was made by the bridegroom's mother.

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. Members of the house party were Mrs. R. D. Barron, Mrs. Elmer Faulkner and Mrs. Art Hopkins. Connie Bourg of San Antonio registered the guests.

The bridegroom and his parents held the rehearsal dinner at Bonanza Steak House in San Angelo.

Hospital Auxiliary Elects 1973-74 Officers

Mrs. W. C. Osborne was elected president of the Women's Auxiliary, Inc., at Midland Memorial Hospital at a meeting Friday of the auxiliary in St. Luke's United Methodist Church.

Others elected to serve from March 1, 1973, to March 1, 1974, are Mrs. Van Howbert and Mrs. George Berry, first and second vice presidents; Mrs. C. R. Kreuz and Mrs. M. A. Cappadonna, recording and corresponding secretaries, and Mrs. B. E. Coester, treasurer.

Mrs. Harold Clark, president presided. Mrs. James Moring and Mrs. Lloyd Uglund were elected to serve on the 1973-74 nominating committee.

The annual awards luncheon will be held Feb. 28 at Midland Country Club, it was announced by Mrs. Jack Blake.

Wayne Ulrich, hospital administrator, spoke on "The Role of the Auxiliary upon the Completion of Phase I." He is chairman of the Texas Council of Hospital Auxiliaries, which includes 37,000 members of auxiliaries. He thanked the auxiliary for gifts, including the Coulter Counter, Bayonet Cautery and Surgical Operating Microscope. A tribute to the volunteers was offered as he recounted 22,413 hours contributed by 162 women last year.

An equivalent of 11 full-time employees and $36,000. He reported all physical construction complete. The new area will include four operating rooms, cysto and recovery rooms, central sterile supply, pharmacy, delivery, purchasing, dietary, kitchen, X-ray, anesthesia, medical records and a Medical Staff Conference Room.

Ulrich traced the growth of Midland Memorial Hospital from its beginning in 1950 with 75 beds to its present 180 beds. He explained the relocation of certain departments and showed the new location for auxiliary functions. He compared the hospital to a "Temple of the Healing Arts." The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Osborne.

New members introduced were Mrs. Mary Ann Mladenka, Linda Mladenka, Mrs. Sue Anderson, Mrs. Susan Murphy, Mrs. Judy Davis, Mrs. Chris Roberts, Mrs. Ann Anthony and Mrs. Alto Cole.

Students Design Special Studies

SAINT ANDREWS, Tenn. — An unique interim study period designed by the students themselves, began last week at Saint Andrew's School, the Rev. Franklin Martin, headmaster, has announced.

The students stated particular fields of study they wished to pursue on a high intensity level, and almost all of the requests are being met. The subjects of study range from French cooking, including comparison and criticism of cookbooks and preparation of gourmet dishes, with written commentary on the recipes, to amateur movie making.

The director of music, Mrs. Cynthia McInnis, is leading private music study for Dean Rucker of Midland, Tex., a senior student. He has had professional music training and has a talent for playing the piano by ear. He says that he loves to compose in his head and let it come out on the keyboard, but he lacks discipline for writing his compositions down. He is working all day with Mrs. McInnis, writing his compositions down, discussing problems with rhythm, for example, and correcting them, with the eventual goal of writing out the completed composition for publication. Last year, his original composition, "The Magnificent," was published and recorded.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Sand, Ammonia Used To Rid Glass Stains

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Association

DEAR POLLY — Ann wanted to know how to remove rust stains from the bottom of her glass vase. A friend who restores antiques told me to put sand in such a vase and cover it with water. Let stand for several days and then empty it out, rinse and the glass should look like new.—ALENE

DEAR POLLY — To remove the rust stains from her glass vase Ann could pour full strength ammonia in the vase and leave it overnight. If stains are not completely removed try a second time. If you have any slips that are too long and may show under your skirt, save the elastic from the tops of panty hose and then slip one around your waist after putting on such a slip. Never throw away those waistbands from panty hose. They can often be used for other things.—MRS. H. H.

DEAR GIRLS — Another old-fashioned remedy for mineral stains in glass such as Ann's vase is to use used tea leaves and vinegar. Shake them around until the stain disappears.—POLLY

HOROSCOPE

by Carroll Richter
(Jan. 17)
GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day of changes and new arrangements. It is necessary that most everyone remain objective to avoid becoming so sensitive that feelings are hurt and a positive attitude prevents productive results.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Handle affairs well and show you are absolutely A-1 citizen. You have to get out of your shell and be more socially involved.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) This is the right day to get some new ideas rolling that can bring you added income. Make new and efficient associates who can be most helpful to you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Study those monetary responsibilities well and handle them with intelligence. Don't neglect taxes and insurance. An alert and give right pointers about new investments you are considering.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Use the money you have in hand with care and it will pay you in a very real way. Show your objective vision needed change is concerned. A little firmness is wise here.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) There is plenty of work ahead of you and this suits you to a T, since you like nothing better than to be intellectually stimulated. Get out there and work.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Having a good time is fine today provided you do not bring people together who do not like each other, so stick to congenial. Some creative idea you have needs a work session - wait - wait - wait.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23) You have a fine friend who will help you get some plan accepted successfully, so be sure to accept it given you. Later, regard it as your own.

Both Sides Beef Up Vietnam Fighting

SAIGON (AP) — Sharp fighting was reported today in contested areas at both ends of South Vietnam as Saigon's forces and the Communists battled to gain or hold territory in advance of a cease-fire.

U.S. air support for South Vietnamese ground forces continued following President Nixon's order suspending all bombing and other offensive operations against North Vietnamese territory.

U. S. planes also continued combat operations in Laos and Cambodia, the U.S. Command said.

South Vietnamese military spokesmen reported a slight increase in Communist attacks in the 24 hours ending at 6 a.m. but there was also a significant quickening of activity on the part of Saigon's forces, military sources said.

The heaviest engagements reported by spokesmen were in the Que Son Valley southwest of Da Nang, where 35 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed, Command reported an Army and on the eastern edge of the Mekong Delta's U Minh Forest. Government forces there lost 19 killed and 35 wounded while at least 52 enemy troops were Both of these areas have been the scene of increasing activity in the last week as the South Vietnamese tried to regain some of the territory that was lost or remains contested from the Communists' 1972 offensive.

Fighting also continued in Quang Tri province just below the demilitarized zone, where delayed field reports said South Vietnamese marines trying to secure ground north of the Thach Han River were driven back by an attack Sunday. There was no report on casualties in the action.

Military sources said some of the fighting also resulted from South Vietnamese spoiling operations aimed at preventing the Communists from scoring gains before a cease-fire.

In one major South Vietnamese army push in the Saigon River corridor 35 to 40 miles northwest of Saigon, ground contact was reported at a slow pace with only scattered South Vietnamese and Viet Cong were killed, Command reported an Army and on the eastern edge of the Mekong Delta's U Minh Forest. Government forces there lost 19 killed and 35 wounded while at least 52 enemy troops were

Astronauts To Testify In John Osorio's Trial

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Six American astronauts waited in the wings to testify today as the government pursued its conspiracy-embezzlement case against John Osorio.

Osorio, 50, former state insurance commissioner, is being tried in U.S. District Court on charges growing from the far-flung Texas stock fraud scandal.

He is accused in a scheme that the government says involved a $411,350 stock purchase with money questionable collateralized through the retirement fund of National Bankers Life Insurance Co.

Osorio once was president of the company, owned by Houston financier Frank Sharp, the target in a Securities and Exchange Commission investigation that uncovered the scandal.

"The stock involved here was purchased originally in the names of five Apollo astronauts, all veteran spacemen who subsequently refused to accept the securities.

Among a large number of witnesses sworn in Monday were astronauts James Lovell, Alan Bean, Richard Gordon, Fred Haise, Charles Conrad and Thomas Mattingly.

The six waited outside the courtroom Monday as prosecutors opened their case with testimony from three former members of Ling & Co., Inc., a Dallas stock brokerage firm.

William M. Strange, Phillip Proctor and Bobby Spurlock devoted most of their testimony to the mood and mechanics surrounding the purchase by Ling of 22,500 shares of NBL stock during the 1969-1970 period in question.

Sharp Not Present

Names of Sharp and a former Ling official, John Quincy Adams, came up frequently, but prosecutors told the court neither will be called to testify.

Outside the courtroom, Osorio's chief lawyer, Emmett Calvin Jr. of Dallas, said, "They cannot rely on him (Sharp). They are afraid of Sharp. That's why they don't have him up here."

Of Adams, Calvin said, "He apparently doesn't remember much about this (SEC hearings)."

When someone said, "That's convenient," he replied, "You said that, not me."

Senior Citizens Center Sets Open House Events

The newly formed Midland Senior Citizens Center is scheduled to open Wednesday with an informal open house from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., according to Mrs. Marion Fisher, director of the center.

She added that a "surprise guest" is due to put in an appearance at the opening, "adding a touch of mystery and extra interest" to the event.

The center is located in the Social Church of the First Christian Church at Louisiana and F Streets, with offices in the adjacent Friendship Room.

The facility — the purpose of which Mrs. Fisher describes as being to provide meaningful and useful projects and social events for Midland's senior citizens — will be open 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday, beginning Thursday.

Among the facilities available to those using the center will be a small lending library stocked from the shelves of the Midland County Library, with selections rotated regularly to provide variety. It will be staffed by center members Mrs. Corrinne Hemphill and Mrs. Mary Key, both trained librarians.

The center, in addition to making coffee and tea available for 2 p.m. Friday, will cover updated Social Security information important to senior citizens. H. A. White, field representative of the Social Security Administration, will present the

T.M.A. Conference To Air Legislative Issues For Area

A joint meeting of members of the Midland-Odessa chapters of the Texas Manufacturers Association will be held at 9 a.m., Jan. 24, in the Inn of the Golden West at Odessa.

W. Ross Moore of Midland, West Texas regional manager of T.M.A., said the theme of the conference will center around present legislative issues which will affect the West Texas business community.

In addition, T.M.A.'s legislative program for 1973 will be reviewed by Bill Gray of Houston, association president. The organization's program includes five major proposals for increasing the effectiveness of the state's "out-moded money management system."

Phase II of T.M.A.'s Budget Reform plan will be presented by Joe Arnold of Odessa.

Chapter Chairman Norvell W. Harris of Odessa will discuss T.M.A.'s Role in 1973 — As the Chairman Views It."

James W. Yancy Jr., T.M.A.'s vice president and general counsel and director of state affairs in Austin, also will speak.

Bill Bachman, Midland chapter chairman, urges all T.M.A. member companies to be represented by one or more persons at the Odessa meeting.

Solon Says He'll Try To Stall Confirmation Of Two Nominees

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Harold E. Hughes, protesting lack of information on the Vietnam war, says he will try to block until Inauguration Day the Senate confirmation of President Nixon's nominees to top intelligence and defense positions.

In addition, Hughes called for public hearings before the Senate Armed Services Committee on the financial holdings of Elliot L. Richardson and William P. Clements Jr.

Richardson, now secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, has been nominated to succeed Melvin R. Laird as secretary of Defense on Jan. 20. Clements, a Dallas oil-drilling contractor, has been named deputy secretary of Defense.

Stennis Pushing For Action

Chairman John C. Stennis, holding out for private examination of the nominees' financial holdings, said he hoped to bring the nominations to a committee vote today.

Meanwhile, three other Nixon nominations were approved by the Senate Commerce Committee. Monday's action clears the way for Senate votes on Claude S. Brinegar, named Transportation secretary; Egil Krogh, nominated to be undersecretary of Transportation, and Frederick Dent, selected Commerce secretary.

Both Willing To Testify

Hughes made his demand for a public airing of Richardson's and Clements' holdings at an open meeting Monday. Richardson and Clements expressed their willingness to testify before congressional committees upon demand.

Richardson told newsmen that he is willing to have public disclosure of his financial inventory, but that he has not known what it contained since a blind trust was established in 1969 when he became undersecretary of State.

Clements, founder and board chairman of Sedco, Inc., said he believes his holdings already are a matter of public record since he headed a public corporation.

Hughes, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said his demand for financial disclosure by officials in sensitive positions is unrelated to his move to block confirmation as a protest against the war and the lack of explanation of the intense bombing last month.

He said he has asked Senate

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield to hold up Senate action on Richardson, Clements and James R. Schlesinger, Atomic Energy Commission chairman nominated to be director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Hughes said he had been promised that the "hold" would be honored for a reasonable time, and he hopes that will be until after Saturday, when President Nixon begins his second term.

"Surely," he said, "the President will tell the American people something in his inaugural address about where we are going and where we have been in Southeast Asia in the last couple of months."

Tummy Sleeping Wrong, Dental Expert Declares

DALLAS (AP) — Hey Mom, Don't let that baby sleep on his tummy unless you want him to turn out an ugly kid, a physician says.

Mothers who let their babies sleep on their tummies risk having them develop protruding shoulder blades, protruding front teeth, a receding chin and generally bad posture, Dr. Hal A. Huggins of Colorado Springs, Colo., told a dental convention here Monday.

"What are our ideas towards proper development?" Dr. Huggins asked, then answered his own question: "Don't sleep the baby on its back, you'll flatten the back of his head. Turn him over and mash his face."

But Huggins added: "Back sleepers' backs conform to what they're resting on—flat beds. Their shoulder blades are flat and they stand straight."

Huggins, who presented findings from a five-year study to the Dallas Mid-Winter Dental Clinic, said he examined orthodontic patients and found that their postures were slouched forward and their shoulder blades stuck out "like wings."

On the other hand, he said, side sleepers had "one shoulder blade that stuck out" and tummy-sleepers had "receding chins, severe anterior crowding and narrow faces."

"Tummy sleeping, with certain reservations, creates three curves in the spine, side sleeping produces one, and back sleeping produces a straight spine," he said.

Huggins also said that when a child sleeps regularly with his face resting on his hand there could be nasal deformation, crooked front teeth and incorrect cross-biting on the same side.

300 Tickets Sold To Chamber Banquet

More than 300 tickets for the annual banquet of the Midland Chamber of Commerce have been sold, according to banquet chairman Martin L. Ailday. The banquet is slated for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 1, in the County Activity Building.

Tickets are on sale at the chamber office at $7.50 each to both chamber members and non-members.

The banquet's featured speaker will be former Midlander George Bush, currently United States Ambassador to the United Nations and soon to become chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Master of ceremonies will be William J. Mewhorter and dinner music will be provided by the Downtown Lions Club Big Name Band. The National Anthem will be sung by Noble Candia, director of the Austin Freshman School choir.

The banquet will honor C. J. Kelly, 1972 chamber president, and outgoing chamber directors Charles H. Priddy, 1973 president, and new members of the board of directors will be recognized.

Battle Scene

By Ted Battles

Making A Rout Look Close

Having been there sure helps when it comes to the Super Bowl. Miami, horse-whipped by Dallas a year ago, came back to win this year, following in the footsteps of Dallas, Baltimore and Kansas City... first time losers who won the second time around.

It began after Miami moved with ridiculous ease to its first touchdown, 63 yards in six deft stabs culminated by the 27-yard Bob Griese to Howard Twilley touchdown pass in the first period.

Dolphins Bored With Run

The Dolphins threw away another opportunity late in the third period after fullback Larry Csonka broke a 50-yard run. With second down at the four the Dolphins decided to get cute. Nobody has stopped Kikk with Csonka leading to the yard line inside the 10 in the playoffs yet, but Griese switched tactics to loft a pass that was intercepted by Brig Owens as Kikk watched from the sidelines.

Even so the outcome was to remain in doubt until the final seconds largely because the impish Cypriot field goal kicker Garo Yepremian went "blank." But you couldn't really blame it all on Garo.

As the clock passed under the 2:30 mark and Miami lined up for a 42-yard field goal attempt, the thought occurred that the only possible way for Washington to pull it out was to block the attempt and turn it into a touchdown.

Hobby Faces First Test In Showdown On Senate Rules

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — New slight restriction: on each committee of 10 or less, the lieutenant governor would have to appoint three senators who had served on the committee during the previous session; on committees of more than 10, he would have to rename four senators.

The rules now state that all the governor's appointees shall be considered in secret session unless two-thirds of the 31 senators vote to open up the meeting. The proposed rule would allow the public to view the vote on the appointees although the debate on their qualifications would be secret unless two-thirds voted otherwise.

Sens. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston and Jack Hightower of Vernon are co-sponsoring the new rules, which are said to have Hobby's backing.

"I know how he (Hobby) feels" about open sessions—the lieutenant governor "he's a newspaperman," said Sen. W. T. Moore of Bryan and vice chairman, and also all "That's not how I feel about committee members, with a it."

Welfare Changes Could Cost State $135 Million

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Changes in the federal welfare laws could cost the state up to $135 million during the next two-year budget period, a task force has reported to Gov. Preston Smith.

"Any thought that the state will save substantially under the new federal program should be abandoned," Jim Oliver, chairman of the task force and the governor's top budget staffer, said Monday. "At best Texas might break even."

The changes in the federal program remove the state's current share of responsibilities for aid to the aged, disabled and blind, but add substantial numbers of persons for whom the state must provide medical assistance.

Almost 250,000 more persons will become eligible for welfare under the new federal requirements, and while the state will not be responsible for their welfare payments it will have to provide medical insurance for them.

That cost might reach $135 million over the next two fiscal years, the committee said. But he warned that its figure is only a guess, saying no accurate estimate could be made until guidelines for the medical assistance changes are issued by the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

The report—released on the final full day of Gov. Preston Smith's term—was labeled an interim report. Smith said the final report would be submitted to the new legislature and Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

AFTER NELSON TRIAL— Newsmen Attacked By Angry Negroes

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Newsmen became the targets for an attack by Negroes yelling obscenities shortly after a jury assessed David Nelson, 29, a life term Monday for killing a policeman.

Sheriff Lon Evans estimated 30 blacks took part in a pushing and shoving melee which also was directed against a lawyer who had no connection with the murder trial.

Friends and relatives of Nelson clashed briefly with sheriff's officers and photographers shortly after the guilty verdict was read before District Judge Charles Lindsey in a third floor courtroom, and the jurist ordered the chamber cleared.

Evans said he helped a cameraman escape through a back door before the gang of Negroes spilled onto the first floor of the criminal courts building.

Meanwhile, a Fort Worth Press photographer inside a furniture store across the street was beaten by about half a dozen Negroes who stormed into the store. The newsman's $400 camera was smashed, Evans said.

A television cameraman for WFAA-TV also was beaten in the store.

Evans said no arrests were made.

None of the victims was identified because threats were made by the mob against the lives of those attacked.

As Nelson was led from the courtroom by sheriff's deputies, he clenched his upraised fist and shouted, "Black power!"

Nelson was convicted in the Oct. 29, 1971, sniper slaying of Fort Worth patrolman Edward Belcher, 24. The officer was shot while trying to quell a disturbance at a South Fort Worth night club.

Student Aid Funds Okayed For UTPB

ODESSA — The Regional Office of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has approved recommendations to allocate $227,000 in student aid funds to the new University of Texas at the Permian Basin for the 1973-74 school year.

The panel's recommendations for UTPB included $40,000 for Educational Opportunity Grants; $137,000 for the College Work-Study Program; and $50,000 for the National Direct Student Loan Programs.

The recommended allocations are subject to congressional appropriations.

Superbudget Agency Proposed To Limit Presidential Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — A superbudget agency for Congress of the legislative branch was proposed today by Rep. Ogden R. Reid, who said it is needed "to strip the President of his power to ignore congressional mandates."

As envisioned by the New York Democrat, an "office of budget and expenditure oversight" in a reconstituted General Accounting Office, would have the authority to pass on proposals, to oversee implementation of approved programs, and force the executive to provide Congress with any information necessary and proper to the discharge of the constitutional responsibilities of Congress.

In remarks prepared for a news conference, Reid said the budget office would "restore the constitutional prerogatives of the legislative branch."

Reid accused President Nixon of grabbing authority which the Constitution gave Congress, refusing to give the legislators information about administrative actions.

Reid's legislation would take away a president's power to appoint the comptroller general or head of GAO. Instead, GAO would be supervised by officials chosen by Congress.

Meantime, a bipartisan Senate-House committee, selected to devise better congressional control of the budget, decided Monday to study the possibility of an annual spending ceiling and to set by Congress.

Last year, Congress rejected President Nixon's request for a $250 billion ceiling and power to make spending cutbacks to stay within the ceiling.

However, Nixon has im-pounded funds without specific congressional authorization.

Industrial Output Logs Best Gains Since 1966

WASHINGTON (AP) — On its way to the start of an inflationary boom, the council spokesman said the economic situation is different now, with slack still remaining and "with the President trying to hold the line on federal spending."

The board said Monday that its index measuring output of the nation's factories, mines and utilities gained by a solid 0.8 per cent in December alone.

Not since 1966, when the increase was 9.2 per cent during an economic boom, has the nation's industry produced at such a clip, said a spokesman for the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

Industrial production usually increases 5 to 6 per cent each year.

"We expect continued growth in strength in 1973," the council spokesman said. "This is a sign that we are in a very strong expansion."

In 1966, the nation was well on its way to the start of an inflationary boom. The council spokesman said the economic situation is different now, with slack still remaining and "with the President trying to hold the line on federal spending."

The board's report confirmed that factory output is trying to match strong consumer demand for goods. Production of automobiles, for example, was up 7 per cent at an annual rate in December. The rapid pace of production in the automobile industry may taper off some in January, but will be strong, the board said.

Consumer goods led the increase in production, but the strength in 1973, the council spokesman said. "This is a sign that we are in a very strong expansion."

Juan Corona Trial Jury In Deadlock

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (AP) — The jury in the Juan Corona mass-murder trial has reported an 8-4 deadlock, but the panel has been ordered to continue trying to reach a verdict.

Judge Richard E. Patton instructed the jurors on Monday not to reveal whether the majority favors conviction or acquittal for Corona, who is charged with the slayings of 25 men.

After 28 hours of jury deliberations in four days, jury foreman Ernest Phillips told the court, "We have reached what appears to be an impasse. We cannot decide one way or the other about the guilt or innocence."

Patton urged the jury not to "sacrifice your honest convictions" simply because they may be opposed to the majority. Do not violate your individual judgment.

Prosecutor G. Dave Teja said in case of a hung jury, a second trial would be automatic.

St. Mary's Names New President

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — St. Mary's University, a Roman Catholic institution with about 4,000 students here, will have their efforts and not to report back before noon today.

Corona, 38, was a professionless as the announce-ment was made in a makeshift courtroom at the state medical facility in Vacaville, where he has been recuperating from heart trouble since Friday night.

Because he was considered too ill to be moved to the Fairfield courtroom, the judge ordered the jury busted eight miles to the Vacaville facility to make the announcement. It was the first the jury knew of Corona's illness.

Corona, a Mexican citizen and a farm labor contractor, is charged with murdering 25 farm workers and drifters whose hacked and stabbed bodies were unearthed in a peach orchard north of Yuba City in the spring of 1971. It is the largest single mass murder charge in U. S. history.

Patton ordered the jurors to "sacrifice your honest convictions" simply because they may be opposed to the majority. Do not violate your individual judgment.

Prosecutor G. Dave Teja said in case of a hung jury, a second trial would be automatic.

Daniel Cuts Down Speaker's Staff

Daniel announced the cut Monday. He said the figure of 27 was reached during the administration of former Speaker Gus Mutscher.

Job Outlook... Bright!

The nation's businessmen are becoming more and more optimistic about the United States job picture as the new year unfolds.

This is an encouraging sign... and it stems from the latest independent employment outlook survey conducted by Manpower, Inc.

The survey shows that 24 per cent of the employers polled expect to add employees during the first quarter of 1973.

"This is a much more optimistic prediction than last year, when only 14 per cent anticipated increased employment for the first quarter," Elmer L. Winter, president of Manpower, Inc., said.

The survey also shows 62 per cent of the employers expect no employment change during January, February and March, while only six per cent predict a decline. The remaining eight per cent had no opinion.

This represents a trend of growing optimism concerning employment. The second quarter 1972 poll showed only 17 per cent of the employers expressing optimism; third quarter showed 18 per cent; fourth quarter, 20 per cent.

It is interesting to note that among the U.S. Labor Department regions, the most stable is Region VIII (Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas) where 70 per cent expect no change.

Conditions, generally speaking, appear to be looking up all over for 1973... and this includes the Permian Basin Empire of West Texas and Southeast New Mexico.

Best Place To Live

"Midland and West Texas still are the best places in the country to live... and don't let anyone tell you differently!"

This was the comment of a Midland resident who had just returned from a several weeks stay in Miami Beach, Fla.

"Groceries and other commodities are at least 15 per cent higher than they are in Midland," he added, "and congested conditions are overwhelming."

Similar comments have been heard in recent weeks and months from men and women returning from trips to other parts of the nation.

And many persons residing elsewhere in the nation are looking to West Texas, with its many and varied advantages, as a possible relocation site.

It's great to live in Midland, West Texas!

'I'm Gonna Turn You Loose - But Don't Run Away'

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: Secretary Elliot Richardson leaves a parting gift. WASHINGTON—As a parting gift, Secretary Elliot Richardson of Health, Education and Welfare is leaving behind a blueprint for slashing billions in social programs.

In a classified memo written shortly after he agreed to move to the Pentagon, Richardson recommends that the states be given federal funds to take over dozens of social programs now run from Washington.

These include such popular and beneficial projects as Head Start, aid to education, food for the aged, help for alcoholics, VD control, rodent extermination and the drug addiction fight.

The takeover by the states is called "Special Revenue Sharing," but its prospects are so chancy that even Richardson suggests state governors will have to be watched every minute.

In giving governors federal school funds, for example, the able Richardson reminds incoming HEW secretary Caspar Weinberger that "education is an area where states have strong incentives to disobey federal regulations."

"Our recent audits of Title I funds suggest that where possible, states (and school boards) will use these funds to substitute for rather than supplement local programs. For these reasons, the kinds of strings we place on the... package are particularly important."

Richardson also cautions that politically-motivated governors are not above diverting federal cash away from the intended recipient. Sneaky State Houses

The governors, he fears, may "reallocate funds away from politically vulnerable groups," and into their own favorite projects. To block such money juggling, his confidential memo proposes "enforcement procedures," ranging from fund cutoffs to federal investigations of citizen complaints.

Yet Richardson suggests the federal government abandon such agencies for the poor as Head Start and the Community Action Programs which run 90 per cent of Head Start's projects.

Richardson explains, "as states and localities eliminate Head Start projects which are regarded as politically troublesome." Head Start, which trains preschoolers, is given one more year by Richardson before he would cut it adrift from HEW.

As outlined in his memo, the present $400 million in federal Head Start funds then would be cut back to $60 million, just

Stockholm. Willner also extended it to the three level and Richard Troxel of Minneapolis extended it down to the two level. In 1955 Oswald Jacoby took Troxel's idea, amplified it and developed the Jacoby transfer bids that are now in general expert use in every part of the world. The basic principle of the Jacoby transfer is that a two-

RAY CROMLEY—'Clandestinitism' Said To Be Firm Threat To Peace

WASHINGTON (NEA)—A friend in Asia who spends his days studying the North Vietnamese has sent a letter which explains in part the difficulties Dr. Henry Kissinger faces in reaching an agreement with Hanoi. It is more than traditional distrust between communism and capitalism, more even than normal Communist intrigue.

My friend calls the problem "clandestinitism," which, he says, has made Vietnam a labyrinth of political intrigue exceeding even the Medici world of Renaissance Italy.

Clandestinitism, my correspondent reports, was no simple penchant for secret political societies. It developed as a means of dealing with the foreign occupier; the Chinese for 900 years, then the French. The collective experience of the Vietnamese was one of unrelieved duplicity and treachery, of fraudulent officials, of citadel gates opened at night to the enemy.

The French colonial courts were venal, the legal system seen as something to be manipulated. Law consequently was without respect.

Vietnamese proverbs are almost all negative, cynical and pessimistic: When the water goes down the ants eat the fish. In the sunlight all governments are the same.

Public opinion studies indicate Vietnamese peasants view the marketplace not as a necessary economic institution but as a gathering of thieves. The chief value of education for one's children is not seen as a door to opportunity, but as a way to reduce the chance of being cheated.

The world thus is composed of unknown threats with which only the clandestine organization can cope.

Under the French, who for all practical purposes outlawed participational politics in Vietnam, clandestinitism reached a level probably unequalled anywhere in the world. The French treated all political activity by the Vietnamese as a challenge to their authority, calling for strong counter-measures.

There developed over the years an ironclad code of clandestinitism in politics. These un-

Dear Editor: There is some discussion nowadays about the wisdom of making the U.S. armed forces all-volunteer and doing away with the draft.

My 1910-model cool neighbor says using whoever volunteers for a job is not always the best way to get it done. Take, for example, our experience with eager-volunteer Congressmen.

Around here, we have had good and mostly trouble-free schools by doing away with the volunteer school board member many years ago, and drafting candidates for this job, who then get out and campaign desperately for their opponents. D. E. SCOTT Crossroads, U.S.A.

DON OAKLEY COLUMN—Historical Aspect Of Managua Quake Revealed

NEW YORK (NEA) — At least through recorded history, mankind has lived with the knowledge that the usually solid earth could suddenly slip and split and shake, tumbling his puny works down upon his head.

Ancient writings, especially those from the geologically restless Mediterranean basin, are riddled with references to earthquakes, volcanic eruptions and other cataclysms, many of a massive scale that allegedly engulfed whole civilizations.

Scientists no longer believe that the references are entirely legendary. Archeologists have proved, for example, that the brilliant Minoan culture of Crete suffered a series of earthquakes and fires which may have caused its abrupt decline more than a thousand years before Christ.

Some scientists have broached the theory that one of these cataclysms was a stupendous volcanic explosion that destroyed the island of Thera, and suggest that this event gave rise to the legend of the lost continent of Atlantis.

The destruction visited upon the modern city of Managua, Nicaragua, on Dec. 22 makes it easy to believe that ancient men, convinced that the angry gods were behind such catastrophes, and with only rudimentary communication with other centers of civilization, could be profoundly impressed by these unpredictable and violent spasms of nature — that whole civilizations could, indeed, fall.

On the magnitude scale, the Managua quake was far from a record. What made it so devastating was that its epicenter was located directly beneath the city, and at the relatively shallow depth of two miles.

Even though the entire world knew of the earthquake within hours and international aid began arriving in, again, a matter of hours, there continues to be speculation about what long-run effects the destruction of the capital city and the breakdown of normal government operations as well as a normal life might have on the 36-year rule of the Somoza family.

The current strongman, Gen. Anastasio Somoza Debayle, may have a political crisis on his hands, one observer comments, when 300,000 refugees from Managua (out of a former population of 400,000), begin to get over their relief at having survived and begin to appreciate all that they have lost.

Somoza will, in the nature of things, get all the blame for the tragedy, just as he normally gets all the credit for beneficial developments. Physical desperation combined with long-existing political unrest could result in an uprising.

Push the Managua earthquake back a few centuries, change Nicaragua to an island with little contact with and no support from neighboring communities or countries, and one looks differently at the old tales of city-states that vanished from history after suffering some natural upheaval.

Today we understand the causes of such cataclysms. We may, in not too many years, be able to predict them with fair accuracy and thus minimize their toll of lives.

In the distant future, we may even be able to do something to prevent them in certain areas by encouraging the earth to release its crustal tensions in frequent, small and undamaging quakes.

But the earth is a dynamic system, constantly in motion, and still young. For as long as men continue to inhabit the earth, they will always be subject to its sudden, devastating and unpreventable geological whims.

Like the face of the earth itself, man and all his works are a passing phenomenon.

Continuing Worries About Phase 3 Keep Mart Down

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices faltered a bit today as continuing worries over the impact Phase 3 will have on the economy erased encouraging news from Vietnam.

At noon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 3.46 to 1022.13, and declines out-numbered advances on the New York Stock Exchange by almost 2-to-1. Trading was fairly active.

The broad-based NYSE index of some 1,400 common stocks was off 37.74 at 60.05 at noon, while the price-change index on the American Stock Exchange was off 0.53 to 26.36.

The market failed to respond to allied reports that a cease-fire would be called by the United States and South Vietnam on the eve of President Nixon's inauguration, and analysts said peace already had been discounted. The major question on Wall Street was whether Phase 3 would heat up inflation by loosening the administration of wage-price controls, they said.

Confirmation Tests Under Way On Deep Oil Wells

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Confirmation tests on five deep oil wells in the Anadarko Basin may hold the key to either expanded drilling or a slowdown in the sprawling field. The Oil & Gas Journal said Monday.

The five deep strikes range from 17,000 to 24,500 feet.

Two of the discovery wells with confirmation attempts starting are in Wheeler County, Tex., where second wells are being drilled in Alison Morrow and Mills Ranch Union fields. On the Oklahoma side of the basin, confirmation wells are going down in Northwest Redon, Northwest Cheyenne, Northeast Mayfield and Carpenter Fields.

Drilling and completion costs for the discovery wells ranged up to $5.6 million.

Thirty-three heavy rigs are at work in the deep basin.

Many believe the basin has big gas reserves in the 15,000-30,000 foot range.

Estimates of the basin's discoverable reserves at those depths vary from 35 trillion to 100 trillion cubic feet of gas. Separate studies by three major gas transmission firms estimate reserves from 50 trillion to 60 trillion cubic feet.

During the final 10 minutes of the test, flow declined to 1.79 million cubic feet. During the second flow period, gas flowed at the rate of 1.629 million cubic feet daily in one hour. There was no recovery.

League To Study Legal Services Thursday Morning

The Midland League of Women Voters will hold a study unit on legal services for low income citizens at 9:30 a.m. Thursday in the Midland Country Club. Luncheon will follow at 11:30 a.m.

The luncheon speaker will be Mrs. C. Boykin, a Midland attorney, who will discuss legal aid services. Mrs. Boykin supervises a new Legal Aid Clinic using law students from Texas Tech University.

Thursday morning's discussion will center on legal services in the criminal area and will include pros and cons of the public defender system and bond levels in Midland County.

After Mrs. Boykin's address, the league will go on to further study of civil legal services to the indigent later this month.

This year's local study item grew out of last year's study of community services to the poor in Midland. It was found that low income citizens had little idea of how existing legal services could help them, league officials said.

Reservations for the luncheon may be made by Wednesday afternoon by calling Mrs. G. H. Stoddard at 682-2889.

Petroleum Club Meeting Slated

The annual meeting of stockholders of the Petroleum Club of Midland will be held in the clubhouse at 4 p.m. Jan. 25.

Notice of the meeting, mailed to stockholders by Secretary Deane H. Stoltz, also included a ballot listing the names of six nominees for three director vacancies.

The nominees are A. A. Bradford, E. M. Braselton, P. F. Bridgewater Jr., C. P. Bristol, Bill Roden and N. E. Webernick.

Belco Petroleum Corp., Midland, No. 2 Union - Mead Commission, 1/4-mile northwest offset to the firm's No. 1 Union - Mead Commission, dual Straw and Morrow gas discovery in Eddy County, N.M., two miles southeast of Carlsbad, continued production tests in the Morrow.

Through perforations at 11,551-11,637 feet, it flowed 24 hours on a 20-64-inch choke, making gas at the daily rate of 100,000 to 250,000 cubic feet. Location is 660 feet from south and 1,880 feet from west lines of section 4-22S-27E.

The discovery finalized Jan. 4 from the Morrow for 9.2 million cubic feet of dry gas per day, through perforations at 11,167-11,315 feet, and Nov. 6, 1972, from the Strawn, for 9.75 million cubic feet of gas daily, through perforations at 10,292-10,317 feet.

Investors had been sanguine about the economic prospects for 1973 until the President unveiled his program, said Monte Gordon of Dreyfus Corp., but suddenly the market "found its stability threatened." Concern over the meaning of the administration's economic policies "has transcended the pre-emptive of Vietnam" as a market motivator, he added.

'Bonanza' Rides Into Sunset

By JAY SHARBUTT
NEW YORK (AP)—"Bonanza," which quietly arrived more than 13 years ago in the heyday of television Westerns, ends its career tonight on the NBC television network after 430 original performances.

Its last hurrah is called "The Hunter," a teleplay written and directed by Michael Landon, who has been Bonanza's "Little Joe" since the series began Sept. 12, 1959.

At that time it was a shaky entry in a field of 32 Westerns then on the air.

They had rugged names like "Tombstone Territory," "Restless Gun," "U.S. Marshal,"

"Rough Riders," "The Texan" and "Wagon Train."

Some of the stars in the Westerns went on to movies or new series in different settings — Clint Eastwood of "Rawhide," Hugh O'Brien of "Wyatt Earp" and Gene Barry of "Bat Masterson."

But the original cast of "Bonanza" remained in what proved to be a sturdy, close-knit sagebrush stock company that stayed intact until 1965, when Pernell Roberts quit the show.

It was further reduced in mid-1972 when Dan Blocker, the huge gentle man viewers knew as Hoss Cartwright, died and left Lorne Greene and Landon as the last of the original Cartwrights.

"Bonanza" remained a durable attraction on NBC for years in the battle against both bad men and good series on opposing networks. It became part of American television's folklore.

It remained that way until last September when it was pitted against a loud-mouthed lady called "Maude," who did her thing on the CBS television network.

The ratings for "Bonanza" dropped dramatically despite a good start. NBC decided in late November to put the show out to pasture.

The pasture will be lucrative. With 430 original shows in the can, "Bonanza" will ride television's rerun range and earn millions of dollars for years to come.

But when it goes off-NBC at 8 p.m. CST today, there'll be only three Western series left from 32 shoot-em-ups of 1959.

Two began this year. They are NBC's monthly "Hec Ramsey" shows about a turn of the century lawman and ABC's "Kung Fu," a Chinese Western that becomes a weekly series as of this Thursday.

The last really is television's Old West — CBS' "Gunsmoke," whose cast began preserving law, order, medicine and whisky on behalf of Dodge City back in 1955.

Olympic Meet Can't Find Spot For National Anthem

NEW YORK (AP) — The Olympic Invitational track and field meet at Madison Square Garden Feb. 16 will be held without the playing of the National Anthem, according to the chairman of the event.

Edwin H. Mosler Jr. said Monday that his staff "couldn't find a spot" for the "Star Spangled Banner" in the program, but he admitted that the anthem was cut also to avoid provoking an incident at the arena.

A spokesman for the Garden said it will be the first of more than 500 athletic events to go on without the anthem since the new Garden opened five years ago.

There have been a number of instances in recent years when athletes and fans did not abide by the tradition of standing at attention during the playing of the anthem.

"Who needs booing?" said Jesse Abramson, director of the Olympic Invitational. "Maybe it's out of time, out of place. But I don't think the anthem and the flag should become an issue."

At track meets, the national song is traditionally played before the mile race. However, Abramson said he didn't go along with inserting the anthem "when the milers are all keyed up to run."

Mosler also cited the timing in explaining the decision, adding, "Sure, the black factor crossed our minds. One doesn't relish incidents that disrupt an event. It entered into our decision but it wasn't the key factor."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vicki Lynne Cole, the Ohio school girl whose hand-lettered campaign poster "Bring Us Together" inspired the 1968 inaugural theme, says President Nixon has done just that.

"The whole atmosphere of the country is a lot calmer than when he took office," the 17-year-old high school senior said. "I think he's done a great job and really brought us together."

Vicki, an avowed independent from Carey, Ohio, who was state chairman for future voters, said in a telephone interview that she has been most impressed by the President's trips to China and Russia.

"They really did the most to unite the country," she said. "They made Americans proud."

Evidently, many in Vicki's high school agree. "We had a mock election and Nixon beat (Democratic challenger George) McGovern 215 to 104 with 15 undecided," she said.

Vicki, daughter of a Methodist minister, was 13 when Nixon spotted her sign as he campaigned through the tiny community of Deshler, Ohio. She said she found it on the street after losing her own placard and didn't have time to notice the soon-to-be famous words.

Nixon adopted the "Bring Us Together" slogan Nov. 6, the morning after his first presidential victory. Later he changed the inaugural theme to "Forward Together."

Nixon invited Vicki and her family to be guests at the 1968 inauguration and, they watched the two-hour parade with him from the presidential VIP box. This year, however, Vicki and her folks plan to watch the ceremonies from the television in their living room, mainly, Vicki said, "because we didn't receive any invitations this year."

Is she disappointed?
"No," Vicki said. "It was very exciting, but one inauguration was enough."
