Amoco Slates Two Ventures For Sterling

Amoco Production Co. has filed applications to drill two 8,300-foot wildcats in the East part of Sterling County.

No. 1-A W. L. Foster II spots four miles southeast of the depleted Sterling, South multipay field, but separated by a deep failure.

Field Designation Requested In Coke

Mann Rankin, Midland, has requested field designation of Arledge (Pennsylvania sand) for his No. 1 Cargile, Coke County discovery, one location south of the depleted three-well Arledge (Pennsylvania) oil field.

On 24-hour potential test, it flowed 227 barrels of 46-gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio of 1,935-1, through a 12-5/8-inch choke and perforations at 5,198-5,200 feet, which had been acidized with 600 gallons and fractured with 20,000 gallons and 16,500 pounds. Drilled to 6,700 feet, and plugged.

Council Rejects Rezoning Request For Townhouses

By ROBERT C. BORDEN
In a close vote Tuesday afternoon, Midland City Council members turned down a request for a local builder to rezone a tract of land in north Midland from single-family to a planned district for townhouses.

Mayor Pro Tem John Pike moved to approve the request by Bill Hickey, and the motion was seconded by Councilman Robert Holt. Also voting in favor was Councilman Frank K. Cahoon. Opposing were Councilman Jim Kent and Mayor Ernest Angelo.

City Attorney Joe Nuesse said a three-fourths vote of the council in favor of the request was needed to pass, because state law requires the larger majority if 20 per cent of the land owners adjoining or abutting a piece of land up for rezoning oppose the request. Nuesse said more than 20 per cent of the landowners in the Hickey case opposed it.

According to statute, when the mayor is counted, along with the councilmen in determining the three-fourths number.

Hickey's request was to change 5.6 acres of Golf Course Road at Lanham St. from 1F-1 (single family dwelling) to Planned District - townhouses in order to construct a number of townhouses in the $50,000 to $60,000 range.

Opponents of the change packed the council meeting room to voice their disapproval.

At the Feb. 12 council meeting, debate on the request lasted four and one-half hours before the case was continued until the Tuesday meeting. Tuesday, debate was limited to 15 minutes per side, with additional time allocated at the end of the time for councilmen's questions.

Hickey said the five lots on the south side of Sinclair Street would have one single-family dwelling per lot, each with a minimum of 2,200 square feet of liveable floor space. "Each family on Sinclair is assured a similar type house (to what they own) across from them," Hickey said.

One-story townhouses would be built behind the five houses and up to nine two-story townhouses could be built on the rest of the lot.

South half of Sinclair would have been paved under the request. A recreation area and a planted area would also have been provided on the land.

Hickey said three professional appraisers said the plan proposed by Hickey would upgrade the neighborhood and would increase property values.

"My proposal would be good for the neighborhood and for the City of Midland," Hickey said.

Bill Smith of 2301 Boyd St. spoke first in opposition, saying 102 persons had signed up outside the council room in opposition to the request. Approximately 75 persons jammed the room, many of them concerned with Hickey's request.

Smith said an additional 350 to 400 persons had signed petitions against the request earlier.

Smith termed the request "spot zoning" which has been declared invalid as discriminatory. "Mr. Hickey wishes to put more houses in a smaller area for the sole benefit of the owner," the speaker said.

Also opposing the request was John J. Redfern III of 2506 Sinclair St., who said the requested change would "alter the physical characteristic of the street and the environment of the city." He also asked how

Diplomats In Libya Doubtful

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP) — Egypt's leading newspaper predicts that the Arab oil ministers meeting today in Tripoli will follow President Anwar Sadat's lead and end the oil embargo against the United States. Diplomats in the Libyan capital are doubtful.

There is also a possibility that some of the nations will abandon the embargo and some, like Libya, will continue it.

The ministers convened today with Algerian Oil Minister Belaid Abdesselam presiding over the conference. However, just prior to the start of the meeting a Mediterranean storm cut all communications between Europe and Tripoli.

The meeting is the Arabs' third try to get together on Sadat's proposal to end the embargo in appreciation for Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's efforts in getting Israeli forces withdrawn from the Suez Canal. Meetings scheduled for Feb. 14 in Tripoli and last Sunday in Cairo were cancelled because of Algerian and Libyan opposition.

The embargo on shipments to the United States and the Netherlands has been in effect since the October Arab-Israeli war because of their support of Israel. Syria, Algeria and Libya want it to continue until Israel agrees to pull back on the Syrian front.

The prediction of success for the Egyptian president's proposal to call off the oil war came from the Tripoli correspondent of Al-Ahram, the Cairo newspaper that often speaks for the Egyptian government. He reported the meeting today would end the ban on shipments to the United States and the Netherlands and suspend the cutbacks in production of 25 per cent and more that were ordered in hopes other oil-buying nations would exert effective pressure on the United States.

Al-Ahram said the meeting would end with a communique analyzing the effects of the oil weapon and explaining the decision to shelve it. It said the conference would recognize the U.S. government's efforts to resolve the Middle East conflict and would be within the framework of the Arabs' "policy of flexibility."

Diplomats in Tripoli indicated that, despite Sadat's strong (See ALLOWANCE Page 9A)

Mandatory Death Sentence Provisions Kept In Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today rejected an amendment to take the mandatory death sentence provisions out of a bill to restore capital punishment under federal law.

The 47-41 vote provided the first test of strength in the controversy over the legislation.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., floor manager of the bill, told his colleagues that "if you want no death penalty, you should support this amendment."

Adoption of the amendment, he said, would make the Senate action on the bill "an exercise in futility" because it would permit the discretion in imposing the death penalty that the Supreme Court has condemned.

Sen. Floyd K. Haskell, D-Colo., author of the amendment, disputed this. He said a judge should have discretion in imposing the death penalty to prevent "terrible injustices." Haskell said he feels the death penalty should be retained as a deterrent but could not vote for a bill having "a mechanical test" under which a man could lose his life.

McClellan said he would like to provide for some discretion, but he said that is "the very evil this bill seeks to correct."

The measure is designed to overcome a 1972 Supreme Court decision that the death penalty has been applied in too random a manner to be constitutional. The measure would make the death penalty mandatory in capital cases if any of a number of aggravating factors exist unless one of five mitigating factors also was present.

Haskell's proposed amendment would let a judge impose a death sentence in these circumstances but would not require it.

The question of whether aggravating or mitigating factors are present would be determined by a jury in a separate proceeding after a trial in which a defendant was convicted or entered a guilty plea.

Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Phillip A. Hart, D-Mich., both opponents of the bill, said they also will offer amendments before final Senate action on the legislation.

Kennedy said one of his amendments would require the registration of all handguns and the licensing of owners, thus injecting the controversial issue of gun control into the bill.

Another amendment, sponsored by Kennedy and Hart, would preclude the death penalty if a defendant, after killing one or more persons, released unharmed remaining hostages he was holding.

Kennedy said he believed this would give law enforcement officers an indispensable tool with which to save lives in kidnappings, airplane hijackings and other crimes involving hostages.

Oil States Take Victory In Proposed Elimination Of Depletion Allowance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee, in a major tax victory for oil-state forces, has voted to soften significantly the blow of a proposed phase-out of the oil depletion allowance.

Oil-state representatives, a tax-reform advocate and all Republicans on the tax-writing panel joined the drive to defeat the committee's Democratic leaders Tuesday on the allowance, which is worth some $2 billion a year to petroleum companies.

The allowance provides that 22 per cent of gross income from oil and natural gas property can be deducted from taxable income up to a top of 50 per cent of taxable net income.

The committee considered two basic plans for eventually eliminating the controversial tax preference over the coming years in light of soaring petroleum prices during the energy crisis.

One of the plans, suggested by Rep. Sam Gibbons, D-Fla., calls for a seven-year phaseout of the depletion allowance by slicing away at the pace of 2 or 3 per cent a year until it disappears. The other plan, recommended by Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., would make it a five-year phaseout based on oil-price rises above a specific base figure.

By 14 to 11, the committee accepted an amendment offered by Rep. Bill Archer, R-Tex., to modify the Gibbons plan by having it apply only to oil and natural gas that is not regulated by government price controls.

Therefore, the allowance would not be phased out for oil and natural gas under price controls—meaning most oil and virtually all natural gas.

Chairman Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., was joined by the next four senior Democrats on the committee in opposing the Archer plan.

Reps. Gibbons, Joe Waggoner, D-La.; Omar Burlison, D-Tex.; and Phil Landrum, D-Ga., linked up with the 10 GOP members of the committee in support of Archer's amendment.

The Nixon administration has urged repeal of the allowance for production abroad, a step the committee is expected to take. Originally, the administration argued against getting rid of the allowance on operations in the United States.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats on the House Judiciary Committee backed away from an immediate confrontation with the White House over impeachment evidence today but kept the possibility alive.

AUSTIN (AP) — Saying there were similarities with the coal mining area of West Virginia, Gov. Dolph Briscoe asked the Federal Energy Office today to increase fuel allocations to the Permian Basin area of West Texas.

WASHINGTON (AP) — John C. Sawhill, deputy administrator of the Federal Energy Office said today that once the Arab oil embargo is lifted the administration will release petroleum inventories to get the economy moving.

Midland Has Another Chance For Rain Tonight, Thursday

Thunderstorms dumped flood-gord a Bay around Port Central and South Texas today but left the drought-ridden Panhandle-Plains sector still painfully dry.

But Midland has another chance for rain tonight and Thursday, according to the National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal.

Probability of rain will be 30 per cent tonight and Thursday. The area is promised partly cloudy skies this afternoon, and partly cloudy to cloudy skies tonight and Thursday.

Temperatures will continue mild, with highs both days in the middle 70s. Overnight low will be near 50.

Winds are south to southeast 10 to 20 m.p.h.

High Tuesday was 75 and overnight low was 51.

Hail as big as golf balls pounded an area in the Big Bend country near Presidio during the night, and the menacing turbulence kept spreading toward the east and south into areas around San Angelo, Del Rio, Junction, Johnson City and Austin.

There were scattered thunderstorms also along the coast and inland between Victoria and Palacios, and over Mata-gorda Bay around Port O'Connor.

Official observers attributed the unruly weather to a cold front stretching from the Coastal Bend across South Texas and into the Big Bend of West Texas. They kept a number of counties from the coast and along the Rio Grande under an alert for possible flash floods, damaging wind and hail for much of the night.

Earlier Tuesday evening the storm belt extended from around Eagle Pass on the Rio Grande eastward to the Corpus Christi vicinity on the coast, turning loose rains at rates exceeding two inches per hour. Heavy storms also raged from the Davis Mountains into the Pecos Valley in far West Texas. The Associated Press reported.

Other points pelted by hail included Loma Alto north of Del Rio near the Mexican border, near Leakey farther east, Alice and Beeville in South Texas (See WEATHER Page 9A)

Three other Texans were named directors at the Tuesday afternoon meeting, including Lila Cockrell, mayor pro tem at San Antonio ning Commission at San Angelo, were re-elected directors.

Mrs. Culver was among four women elected as directors of the organization last year, the first time women were allowed on the board.

Her nomination and that of the other three Texans was made Tuesday by the Texas Association of Regional Councils.

There are three officers and 29 directors.

White House Worked Hard, Early For Nixon Deductions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House worked hard and early to line up tax deductions for President Nixon, White House and Internal Revenue Service memoranda indicate.

The memoranda from mid-1969, the year of Nixon's first inauguration, show inquiries about charging off for tax purposes part of the operating cost of Nixon's California and Florida houses, gifts and entertainment and the possibility of paying the President's daughter, Julie Nixon Eisenhower, for White House guide services and charging off those payments.

A memorandum by then-presidential aide John D. Ehrlichman says Nixon "suggests that we might review the returns of one or more previous presidents for guidance."

However, White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler Tuesday quoted Nixon as saying he had never seen any returns of previous presidents and has no recollection of asking anyone to obtain such information.

Meanwhile, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., vice chairman of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation, which is investigating Nixon's returns, repeated his prediction that the tax issue will give Nixon more of a push toward resignation than Watergate.

The White House has accused

Mills of taking cheap shots by forecasting results of a report still to be written from the committee's secret investigation.

Mills said, however, he made his prediction "that the tax issue could hurt the President more than Watergate — simply because people understand taxes."

"If the figures that have been talked about — $250,000 or $300,000 owed — are correct, people certainly will be asking questions," he said.

He said he was not accusing the President of fraud and that so far as he was concerned the committee report expected in 30 to 40 days will draw no conclusions.

"We will simply lay out the facts and let people draw their own conclusions," he said.

Roger V. Barth, then assistant IRS commissioner, replied to questions raised in the 1969 memoranda. He said some deduc-tion should be permitted for use of the San Clemente, Calif., house for official visits and its den for an office and that if one of the two Key Biscayne, Fla., houses was used exclusively for meetings and business deductions could be claimed there, deducted on his 1969 return.

Barth "most strongly" recommended against paying the newspapers that have made much of the fact that she has been claiming a deduction for the acting as a 'volunteer.'"

Tax information later made public by Nixon indicated he had

Pentagon Opposed To Amnesty For Deserters In Vietnam War

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon today opposed amnesty for Vietnam war deserters and draft resisters, saying it would be unfair now and set a dangerous precedent.

"The alternatives were clear at the time a choice was made and an individual should be required to face the consequences of the choice he made," Lt. Gen. Leo E. Banade said in prepared testimony.

Banade, deputy assistant secretary of defense for personnel policy, was among witnesses scheduled for a House Judiciary subcommittee's third day of hearings on legislative amnesty.

He said men had to take the place of draft evaders and some of them undoubtedly "were just as reluctant to participate in a war."

"But they served their country," he said. "Some suffered temporarily. Some suffered permanently. Some died."

Banade also said amnesty for deserters and draft evaders would "dangerously impair any future draft, undermine military justice and hurt military morale and discipline."

Banade said the Pentagon opposed even the most modest amnesty proposal before the subcommittee, case-by-case granting of amnesty to men willing to serve two years in the military or in civilian service.

But the author of that proposal, Rep. Howard W. Robison, R-N.Y., said in a prepared statement that Congress must legislate some form of amnesty to help replenish the national spirit by "putting away at least some part of the recent legacy of dogmatic confrontation."

All Out-Of-Town New Car Shoppers Guaranteed Enough Gas To Get Home

Midland's new car dealers, whose sales to out-of-city purchasers normally run between 35 and 40 per cent of their total volume, haven't exactly been helped by scare stories circulated over the area of a critical gasoline shortage here.

And they — through their Midland New Car Dealers Association — have decided to do something about it.

The special promotion which the association is sponsoring on Friday and Saturday is believed to be a "first."

Members of the association have said they will guarantee any and all new car shoppers from cities within a 150-mile radius of Midland that they will be able to buy sufficient gasoline to get back to their respective homes.

"All they have to do is shop one of the association's member dealerships either Friday or Saturday," President Fred Dodson said.

Each dealership has made its own arrangement with a service station of its choice to make the gasoline available.

The new car dealers also have announced a "tremendous" new car sales event for Friday and Saturday.

George Huckabay and Bill Rogers, co-chairmen in charge of arrangements, said new car "specials" will be offered by each dealership. Plans call for making this the "greatest new car sales event in Midland's history."

A spokesman for the group said out-of-city sales have dropped approximately 50 per cent since the scare stories first were heard.

The dealers are making it clear that there is ample gasoline available for out-of-city car shoppers and buyers.

And, of course, the hometown folks are invited to take advantage of the special new car bargains being offered this weekend.

"This is a regionwide event," Dodson said. The Midland New Car Dealers Association, a non-profit trade group, was organized almost 10 years ago and has been active on the local scene during this period.

Meeting Sought On Suits Involving Airport

DALLAS (AP) — City Attorney Alex Bickley of Dallas says he will seek a joint meeting of the Dallas and Fort Worth city councils to deal with a growing number of suits involving the new Dallas-Fort Worth Airport.

Bickley's announcement came after a district court judge Tuesday issued a temporary injunction against the City of Dallas allowing Texas International Airlines to begin commuter flights out of Love Field.

Judge Joe Burnett ruled Texas International should be allowed to operate out of the old airport "as long as Braniff International keeps flying out of Love Field."

Bickley said lawsuits which continued to be filed involving the new regional airport are forcing a joint meeting of the two city councils.

Dallas and Fort Worth already are involved in a legal fight with Braniff International, Southwest Airlines, Delta Airlines, Texas International and American Airlines concerning continued commuter flights from Love Field.

Continental Trailways bus line filed a suit in federal court to break up a monopoly on ground passenger service at the new airport granted by the cities to Surtran Inc.

Action by the Texas Railroad

Commission to determine whether taxicabs other than those operated by Surtran should be allowed to pick up fares at the regional airport also is pending.

Miners' Gasoline Protest Spreading

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — The gasoline protest in southern West Virginia's coal fields has spread northward, with 1,600 more miners off the job. A total of 27,800 miners are now idle.

A federal judge in Virginia ordered an end to the work stoppage in one part of the strike area, but United Mine Workers officials were unavailable for comment on whether the men would return to work.

The protest spread into Nicholas County on Tuesday as pickets appeared at various coal mines, a spokesman for the West Virginia Coal Association said. It marked the first time that the strike has involved mines in UMW districts other than District 17 in the southwestern part of the state and District 29 in the extreme southern portion.

Judge Emory Widener of the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals issued the temporary restraining order at the request of mine operators against 27 UMW locals in District 17.

But the heart of the protest movement is in District 29, apparently unaffected by Widener's ruling. Last week, U.S. District Court Judge Dennis R. Knapp refused to issue a restraining order against 20 coal companies against the union locals. He did order an end to picketing.

The strike, now in its third week, began to have telling effects on other industries.

U.S. Steel said 30,000 employees would be laid off by the end of the week if the walkout continues. The Norfolk & Western Railway said 83 mines along its lines were closed.

Meanwhile, UMW President Arnold Miller urged Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr. to sign an Emergency Fuel Power Act and use its provisions to get the miners back to work.

The strike began when miners claimed they could not obtain enough gasoline to get to work. They were particularly critical of a rule under which a motorist could buy gasoline only if his tank were less than a quarter full.

Southwest's success in remaining at Love Field prompted Braniff to seek and obtain permission to operate some commuter flights from the old airport also.

The return to Braniff to Love Field angered other airlines who filed several suits to block the use of Love Field.

Eight airlines agreed in 1972 to forswear any future flights from Love Field, moving all operations to the new airport.

The City of Dallas maintains Southwest and Braniff are using the Love facility illegally.

Dear Abby

Being 'Sorry' Is Not Enough, He Needs Help

—By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I took this beautiful young lady out on a date. For no reason at all, I beat her up, took her clothes off, and left her to sit in a cold locked car from midnight until dawn.

After I thought about what I had done, I went back and gave her her clothes and told her that I was sorry.

Abby, I have never done anything like that before. I have never in my life even hit a woman. I still can't tell you what made me do it.

I have called her up several times to tell her I was sorry, but as soon as she recognizes my voice, she hangs up on me. I don't blame her, but I just want her to know that I am very sorry for what I did, and I need to hear her say that she will forgive me.

We are quite well-known in our community and all of our friends and relatives thought our son had made the perfect marriage.

Our clergyman has advised us to ask them no questions, and to refrain from urging them to try to make a "go" of their marriage. He told us that they had sought counseling and they have been unable to reconcile their differences, so we should simply accept it.

Our question: What should we tell relatives and friends when they ask us: "What happened?"

HEARTSICK PARENTS: DEAR PARENTS: Tell them you don't know. (P.S. You don't owe anyone any explanations.)

ASHAMED

DEAR ASHAMED: You're lucky she didn't report you to the police. Quit calling her. You may be earnestly "sorry" and at the same time seriously "sick." Tell your doctor what you've told me. If he doesn't recommend counseling, call your local mental health association. And do it now before you do something else you can't explain.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 17 years to a man who is good to me and the kids, but he's always been the quiet type until we have an argument, and then he explodes. For instance the other night we had an argument about the bills I ran up. (I admit, I have a tendency to overspend.)

After he yelled about that a while he said: "And another thing, why do you make FISH all the time? You know I hate fish!" I was shocked. I never knew he didn't like fish. He always ate it without saying a word.

How can a wife get her husband to say what is on his mind without waiting for it to come out in a fight?

IN THE DARK

DEAR IN: Without nagging ("Why don't you ever talk to me?") try to involve him in conversations. The more communication you have between you, the more you will learn about his likes and dislikes. And hurry up. You're already 17 years behind!

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are heartsick! Our son and his lovely wife have been married 10 years and have two adorable children. Together they have just informed us that they are getting a divorce. We were shocked.

He pointed out that 95 per cent of the cases of child poisoning are caused by plants such as oleander, castor bean, English ivy, wisteria, various berries and seed pods. He also said Indians of the Southwest have used plants for medicinal purposes, including mesquite, wild rose hips, creosote and wild onion.

Ideas Wanted For Driftwood

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — Surely the readers know of some things that could be made of driftwood other than candle holders and arrangements. If so I would like to know what and how. — JUNE.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with food distributors who widely advertise a product on food pages and offer a discount off the price but do not say where it can be bought. After trying several stores with no luck I throw the coupon away. Even if I see it later I will not buy it so I feel they are defeating their purpose. It would be to their advantage to time their ads when the products are available so they could list the stores in the ads or on the coupons. — MRS. G.L.E.

DEAR POLLY — Do tell Jenni that both my husband and I never have to iron them. After being washed they are put in the dryer and removed IMMEDIATELY after drying. There are no wrinkles to speak of. In between washings, I run them through the dryer for just a few minutes and put them right on. There are no wrinkles and the slight stretching caused by the previous wearing is gone. — BLUE JEANS LOVER.

DEAR POLLY — When having any piece reupholstered write the required number of yards of fabric (width, too) and the date the work was done on the inside of the frame. This information will come in handy when the piece has to be covered again.

When the men mount new tires on the car they should write the mileage on a piece of tape and place this inside the hubcap. When the tires need replacing they will know how many miles they have been driven. — DORIS.

to Dundalk, Ireland, in May to participate in Carroll's International Drama Festival. Those performing were Mrs. Sam Bass, Mrs. John Hansen, Mrs. Lynn Jones, Mrs. Bill Plumlee, Dan Macklem, Sexton, Bill Shaner and Jim Walker.

To further carry out the theme, special prizes awarded during the evening were British imports.
During a brief business session conducted by Mrs. Sexton, vice president, the following officers were elected: Shaner, president; Mrs. Plumlee, vice president; Mrs. Virginia Flood, secretary, and Mrs. Martin Mogford, treasurer.
The retiring officers are Mrs. Sexton, Mrs. Henry Shaw, Pat Voss and Macklem.
Membership in Ham Hocks is available to any adult who works on four MCT shows, only one of which may be acting; the other three must be in offstage capacities. Current active membership is about 150.
This unique organization grew out of a stagehands' social group formed in 1947. In 1968 it became known by its present name.
The Ham Hocks are experienced stagehands who work hard at Theatre Centre, with the technically perfect show as their goal, but they also enjoy getting together for social occasions during the year. This year, under Mrs. Sexton's chairmanship and planning, the group has had a Las Vegas party, Fourth of July swimming party and picnic supper with entertainment from MCT's 1973 musical, "1776," a German beer party, New Year's Eve party and the "Fish and Chips" party.

Girl Scouts Look Ahead

Girl Scouting is great... Girl Scouts are great... and the Tall City of Midland is as proud as can be of its Girl Scouts and their respective units.

Midland has had Girl Scouting for a long time. The editor remembers very well when the organization of a Girl Scout unit was talked at a meeting of interested persons... a good many years ago now.

We remember also when the first Midland Scouts took off for Mitre Peak Girl Scout Ranch, near Alpine, which a number of Midland residents had helped purchase and develop.

It's great to look back, particularly in the realization that Midland is a much better city today as a result of launching Girl Scouting here in yesteryears.

But looking back is not the purpose of Girl Scout Week, which now is being observed here and across the nation. The Girl Scouts and their leaders of today are looking ahead to tomorrow and beyond, in the hope that they can and will do an even better job in the future. Midland residents will back them up in their worthwhile endeavors.

"Wanted—Girl Scout Leaders" is the theme of the Girl Scout observance. This presents a challenge to the women of Midland and other cities to volunteer for leadership service in a great and most rewarding program.

Meanwhile, Midlanders extend a snappy salute, along with congratulations and all best wishes to their Girl Scouts.

Wild, Wild Senate!

One wonders what has come over the United States Senate. Has the once august body gone completely wild?

The Senate late Monday passed a $10.4 billion (yes, billion) housing bill, which preserves subsidy programs for the poor which the Nixon administration seeks to end.

The measure also contains far more money than the President recommended both for urban improvement and housing assistance programs.

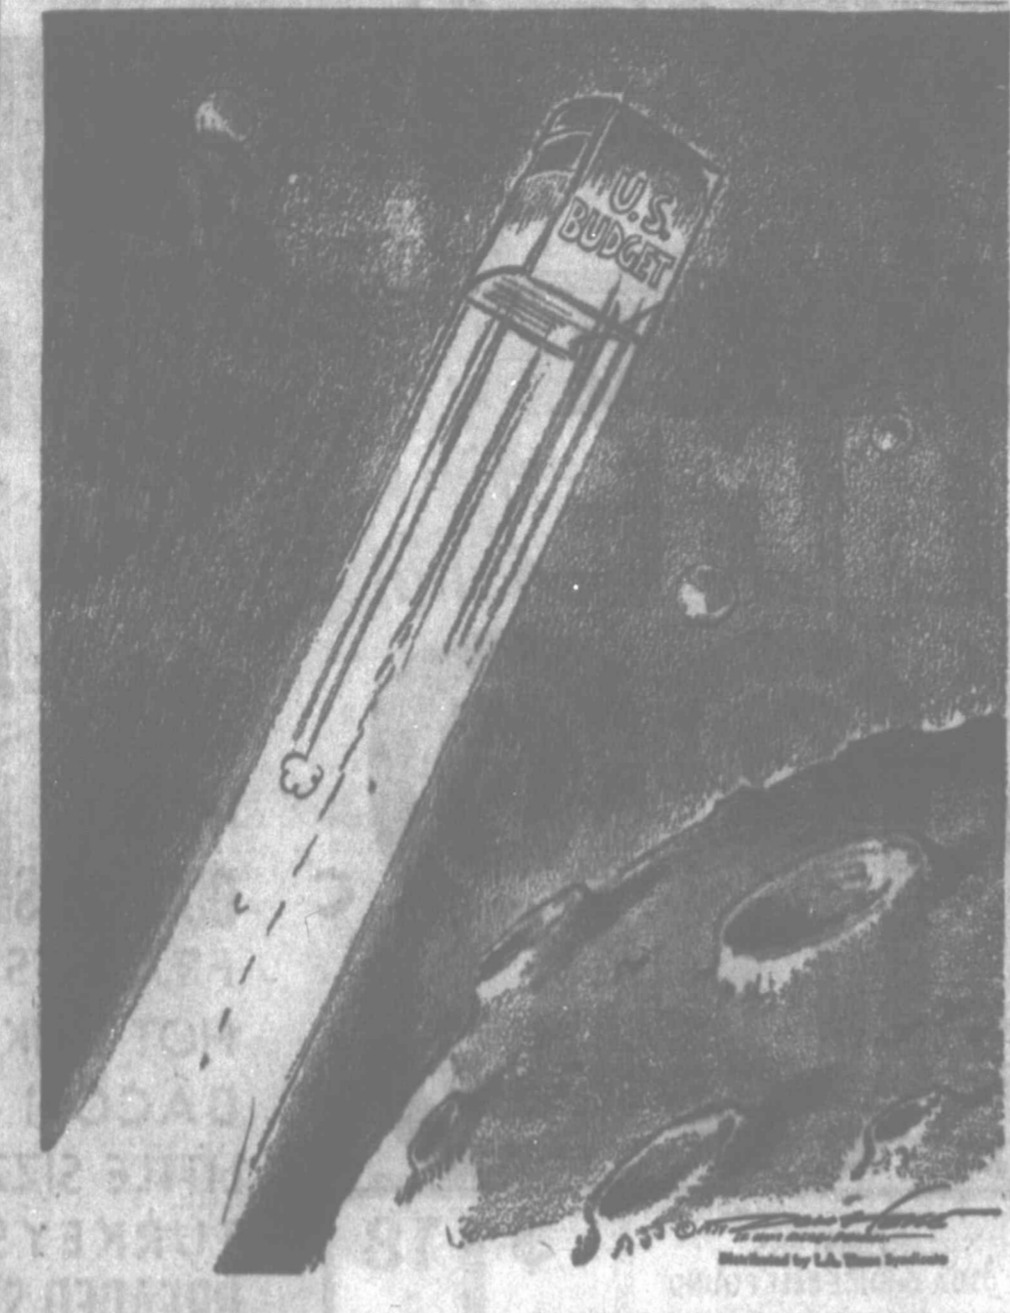

And all the while many senators talk of battling inflation and holding the line on spending. Then they come up with a spending bill like this. It doesn't make any more sense than does some of their proposed way-out energy legislation.

It also should be noted that the Senate bill has more federal strings attached than in Nixon's revenue sharing proposal in the housing field.

It is hoped the House version of the measure will be more within reason from a money standpoint.

If not, another presidential veto will be merited. Irresponsible federal spending somehow must be curbed NOW!

With Thrust From Senate Spending

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: Internal Revenue Service feels claws of Jane Fonda.

WASHINGTON — Petite but pugnacious Jane Fonda has won her share of scratching matches with the armed forces, the FBI and other bastions of government.

The latest to feel her claws is the Internal Revenue Service, which at first revoked and then hastily reinstated a tax exemption for her favorite antiwar charity.

The sheepish tax authorities secretly reversed themselves, we have learned, to avoid having to tell Jane how she and her friends were tailed, tapped and spied upon.

The government has developed a strange paranoia about little Miss Fonda, whose political ideas are unpopular in the ruling circles. Given the "plumber" mentality of government, the appropriate agencies began keeping her under surveillance. Not that she tried to hide her activities. On the contrary, the angry actress did her utmost to keep in the spotlight. His intrepid FBI agents carefully taped her remarks on coast-to-coast television shows and then stamped the transcripts "Top Secret. No Foreign Dissemination. No Dissemination Abroad. Controlled Dissemination. For Background Use Only."

FBI agents also sat in the audience while she staged her antiwar performances. Her FBI file is stuffed with critiques of the same performance by several different sets of FBI agents.

They also grabbed her private bank accounts, without the legal formality of obtaining a subpoena. Upon her arrival home from abroad once, she was detained on phony charges long enough for Customs agents to confiscate and photocopy her private papers.

Joined Other Activists To promote her militant views, she joined other antiwar activists in sponsoring the tax-exempt United States Servicemen's Fund, which depended heavily on donors who give only to tax-exempt organizations. The fund put up money to defend dissident GIs, to open pacifist coffee houses and to finance underground military newspapers.

This outraged the IRS, which served written notice upon the fund that its tax exemption was in jeopardy because it supported GIs "who oppose the Vietnam war and the use of conscription," not to mention "GI newspapers (which) cultivate dissent in the military."

The IRS forthwith began an investigation not only of Jane Fonda but of other show people who had entertained GIs at coffee houses and had staged benefits for the fund. Among those who suddenly found themselves in tax trouble were Dick Gregory and Elliot Gould.

Burglars reportedly acting under the aegis of a law enforcement agency also ransacked the fund's files. The stolen documents were accepted by the House Committee on Internal Security, which printed names of the fund's contributors.

Once this dubious groundwork had been laid, IRS Commissioner Johnnie Walters revoked the fund's tax exemption. Under court rules, the fund demanded all records "reflecting wire or electronic surveillance" by the FBI, IRS or other government agencies against Jane Fonda.

$100,000 personal loan had been made, Anderson insisted to us: "The loan had absolutely nothing to do with the operation of Hallamore, Inc." The $100,000, he also swore, has been repaid.

Meanwhile, we have discovered that President Nixon's former aide, John Ehrlichman, personally checked on the Hallamore firm because of Don Nixon's investment.

Dr. Benjamin Spock, retired Brig. Gen. H. B. Hester and other pacifist sponsors. The fund also insisted upon access to the "impounded" files of ex-White House aides H. R. Haldeman, John Ehrlichman, Charles Colson, former Attorney General John Mitchell and Commerce Secretary Maurice Stans.

The purpose was to show that the government had been bouding Fonda and company and that the IRS action, therefore, was purely political.

Faced with the possible exposure of more White House horrors, the administration passed down the word quietly to kill the case. Accordingly, the servicemen's fund got a short private note a few days ago from IRS official George Albers.

If the Fonda group would drop its case with its embarrassing demands for data on eavesdropping and skullduggery, offered the official, then the IRS would restore the fund's tax exemption.

"The effect of this action," he wrote, "is to reinstate... your exemption." Footnote: The IRS claims the servicemen's fund case was handled strictly "under established procedures."

DONALD NIXON, the President's likeable, loquacious, wheeler-dealer brother, got a $100,000 personal loan from a California builder at a time when the builder was seeking federal business.

This is the second substantial loan which Donald Nixon has wangled from government contractors. In late 1966, while his brother was vice president, Donald got a $205,000 loan from a billion-dollar defense contractor Howard Hughes.

Our disclosure of the Hughes loan became a major issue in Richard Nixon's defeats for president in 1960 and governor of California in 1962.

Now we have learned that Donald received a $100,000 check, dated Aug. 4, 1971, from Lloyd Hallamore, then president of Hallamore Homes, Inc. Securities and Exchange Commission records show that in July 1971, Donald also was appointed a director of a closely affiliated Hallamore firm, San/Bar Electronics Corp. Infiltrated Meeting My associate, George Clifford, infiltrated a Hallamore meeting in July 1971 and heard Donald Nixon boast of his efforts to get contractors to build Hallamore homes.

BRUCE BLOSSAT Rear Guard Action As Executive Policy

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The thing most Americans dislike about Watergate now seems sure to happen — a steady distraction of President Nixon from such key issues as energy and the economy to a pre-occupation with efforts to save himself in the now accelerating struggle in Congress over his impeachment.

He is already desperately busy with his lawyers and other advisers, evidently looking for every conceivable way to thwart those in Congress who may seek to involve him directly in the Watergate coverup and related matters.

If he continues on this course, and he has plainly thrown down the challenge to Congress to try to come and get him, a great deal of time that otherwise could be spent on domestic and even his beloved foreign affairs, could be consumed in a variety of legal and other defensive tactics.

Yet there are increasing judgments in this capital that such efforts from this point on are likely to prove unsuccessful, no more than a rear-guard action, ultimately a gross waster of presidential time both from the voters' view and from the standpoint of Mr. Nixon's self-interest.

For the forces and factors arrayed against him in this battle are rising in strength almost daily. One reliable source estimates that, assuming the House decided to impeach, the number of senators who would vote for the President's conviction and removal from office already may be approaching 60. Two-thirds of the Senate — 67 members — are required for that verdict.

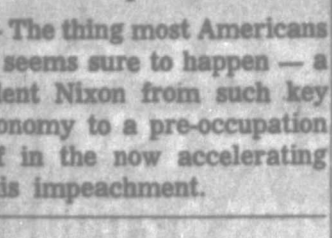

This same source argues that the hard reality of the new indictments, including three or four of the President's top circle, has got to be seen as a serious pushing factor on House impeachment proceedings. The other indictments now following on which will add to this impact, which alone in its total weight might be enough to drive the House to impeachment.

But the further spectacular propellant, not really wholly foreseen in its dimensions, is the grand jury's presentation to Judge John Sirica. The best word is, of course, that it ties Mr. Nixon directly to the cover-up and related activities by his indicted — or "guilty-pleading" — aides. There is no way to overstate the force such a document will exert as it details reach the eyes and ears of the impeachment drive's managers in the House, which is sure to happen one way or another.

The President's key helpers are charged with lying about what was said and done at important moments in the cover-up. He is on open public record as endorsing the version of some of those events given out by close aide H. R. (Bob) Halde-man and how declared in the indictments to be false. The widespread assumption is that White House tapes on such crucial days as March 21, 1973, prove the falsity.

If the indictments are supportable in court by proofs, then a high proportion in Congress and an already distrustful public surely will conclude Mr. Nixon himself has lied and that he has a linkage to the conspiracy which could be deadly for him.

Even had there been no spe-

Dear Editor: My people-watcher neighbor says he is not particularly turned-on with admiration of Mr. Nixon, but he thinks the man looks good compared with most of the pompous, posturing pundits and politicians who hate him.

He says this may not be the scientific way to judge a man, but it works about as well as any other.

He is convinced that when a vast array of poop pimps, self-certified saviors, perennial parasites, etc., gang up on a man, there is bound to be some good in him.

DON OAKLEY Some Music Hath Charm, Yes, But Some Doesn't

NEW YORK (NEA) — Modern classical music drives you up the wall, you say. Give a thought to the people who have to play it.

Cacophonous contemporary classical music can produce protracted nervous and other ailments among musicians, a recent study in West Germany found. Mozart and the like, however, tend to soothe the frayed nerves of orchestra and audiences alike.

Two Frankfurt psychiatrists made a study of 208 professional musicians in three orchestras. The first played contemporary music exclusively, the second occasionally and the third practically never.

The study reports that after rehearsing certain modern works, the entire orchestra fell ill. On the other hand, the musicians felt increasingly better the more they played the older classical works.

Of those musicians who often or mainly played modern music, 82 per cent were nervous, 81 per cent irritable and 82 per cent quarrelsome. Some 39 per cent suffered from sleeplessness and 22 per cent from headaches, earaches and depressions. A good number complained of diarrhea, pains in the heart or impotency.

One explanation. Psychiatrists offer for the psychological distress caused by modern music is that "musicians are disappointed because they are unable to apply everything they have learned artistically. This is coupled with the feeling of sinking into an anonymous mass in which individual abilities are neither applicable, or audible, nor required. This casts doubt on the entire meaning of their long and strenuous training."

So much for modern classical music. What we need now is a similar study of the effects of rock music on players and listeners.

Doctors already have warned that the shrill decibel level of rock music can cause hearing impairment. What the relentless, incessant, pounding beat of rock does to the human psyche is a question that is long overdue for investigation.

IN A PROFILE OF THE "Symbionese Liberation Army," the New York Times outlined the goals of the Maoist-oriented revolutionary group as follows:

To unite all oppressed people; to assure the right of self-determination of all people; to place industries and institutions in the hands of the people; to restore human and constitutional rights and to destroy the prison system.

That's for openers. Other goals include: To take control of all state land and that of the "capitalist class" and return it to the people; to take control of buildings and apartments from the capitalist class and destroy the rent system, and to destroy "all forms of racism, sexism, ageism, capitalism, fascism, individualism, possessiveness and competitiveness."

Not a word about acne or the common cold.

NEVER UNDERESTIMATE the ability of the free enterprise system to rise to a disastrous occasion.

Although for obvious reasons they don't like to publicize the fact, more and more companies are taking out kidnap-ransom insurance for their top executives and families. A typical policy may be for $1 million, but policies have been written for as high as $20 million.

One major international corporation reportedly is paying a $100,000 premium for a three-year kidnap-ransom policy on all its employees.

Trustees To Delay Further Open Area Classrooms

By TOM MORAN
Midland Independent School District trustees Tuesday voted to delay further implementation of kindergarten-first grade (K-1) open area classrooms until September 1975.

School staff members had proposed expanding the pilot program to Crockett, DeZavala, Milan, Pease, South, Travis and Washington elementary schools in September 1974.

The pilot program in open area, individualized instruction currently is used at Rusk, Long, West and Burnet elementary schools.

About 75 parents, mostly from the Rusk area, attended the meeting and most opposed expansion of the program.

Mrs. John Williams, the mother of a kindergarten student at Long, said there is no discipline in the large classrooms. Her child is not pushed to achieve, she added.

The mother of a Rusk student described classroom as a snafu.

Several parents also said the open area concept does not provide a good education. Students do not receive individual help, others claimed.

"I am not an educator," one woman said. "I'm not even a statistician, but I am a mother and I know my children can not function in this kind of a school."

Mrs. Tommy Haney, whose child is in West's K-1 class, said she called about 40 parents of children in the class. Only four favored the program. "The rest were just flat against it."

Mrs. Haney had worked one morning a week in the class as a volunteer aide until Christmas, "when I got disgusted and quit."

Mrs. Don Hewitt, who has a child in the Rusk K-1 class said one of the advantages of the program is self discipline.

"They have to learn self discipline eventually," she said. "Mine did."

School officials defended the program by saying the students receive at least as good an education as in a traditional classroom — at a more reasonable cost.

Bryant Saxon, director of curricular services, said the K-1 program will allow the school district to maintain neighborhood schools in the face of declining enrollment.

The state reimburses school districts for teacher salaries on the basis of one teacher for each 25 students in average daily attendance.

"If you have 15 or 16 first graders in a school and 14 or 15 kindergarten students it looks like multiage grouping is inevitable," he said.

Multiage grouping in large classrooms also allows the district to use more teacher aides, decreasing salary expenses.

Test results from last year's multiage first and second grade classes indicate that the children achieve as well as in traditional classes, Saxon added.

Trustee Ted Kerr said the program has great potential to deal with children at the learning level they are at. It is not possible to do that in a traditional classroom setting, he added.

School Board vice president

James Winget said that a one-year delay in expanding the program would allow staff members to collect more data.

"I have been favorably impressed with the program," he said, "but I want more data."

The school board voted the delay by a vote of six to one, with Kerr voting no.

In other business, the trustees called a special meeting for 3 p.m. March 21 to consider school facility needs; voted to allow the Democratic and Republication parties to use school facilities for primary elections and precinct conventions; and renewed the football concession contract with the Jaycees.

Mrs. B. David Buthman drew the first ballot position for the April 6 school board elections. Her opponent for Place 1, James Ramsoure, will be second on the ballot.

Place 2 incumbent Joe Dominey is the only person seeking that seat.

Labor Won't Endorse Either Sissy Or Briscoe

AUSTIN (AP) — A report of the Texas AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education (COPE) praises both Gov. Dolph Briscoe and Frances Parnell, but endorses neither.

COPE's annual convention adopted the report unanimously Tuesday. It stressed the need for unity in the Democratic Party in November and implied that was the reason it did not take sides in the gubernatorial race.

The convention endorsed Bill Hobby for lieutenant governor, John Hill for attorney general, Bob Armstrong for land commissioner and Mack Wallace for railroad commissioner.

All are incumbents except Bullock, who is running for a post being vacated by Robert S. Calvert.

The COPE report said Mrs. Parnell should be recognized for "strong support given to programs which would benefit the workers of Texas" and also for "her successful campaign for ethics legislation."

"At the same time, Texas COPE recognizes that Gov. Dolph Briscoe has maintained a commendable relationship with the state (AFL-CIO) office during his two years in office. He also has appointed a number of open-minded, consumer-oriented people to boards and commissions..." the report said.

It listed 10 union officials and Joe Christie, named to the State Insurance Board, and Mack Wallace, "a long-time Ralph Yarborough supporter" who was named to the Railroad Commission.

COPE also adopted several resolutions, including ones that called for:

—Research to come up with "a common usage phrase which more accurately describes the concept too often referred to as 'right-to-work.'"

—Continued opposition to repealing the wage garnishment prohibition in the state constitution. There have been proposals to allow garnishment for child support payments.

—Continuation of mail-in voter registration.

Newsprint Manufacturers Are Increasing Prices

NEW YORK (AP) — A Cost of Living Council decision to exempt paper from price controls has touched off a round of price hikes by several domestic newsprint manufacturers.

International Paper Co., U.S. arm of the Canadian International Paper Co., led the way with an announcement that their higher Canadian prices will be extended to newsprint made at mills in Mobile, Ala., and Pine Bluff, Ark. The price for middle-weight newsprint was raised to $213.30 per ton from $188 a ton at those two mills.

Others posting higher prices include Great Northern Paper Co. and Garden State Paper Co. in the East, and Crown Zellerbach Corp. and Publishers Paper Co. in the Northwest. Southern producer Kimberly-Clark Corp. says it is studying the decontrol decision and may have an announcement on prices within a few days.

Publishers Paper Co. said it will boost its price immediately from $176 to $200 a ton for 32-pond newsprint. The firm has mills in Oregon City and Newberg, Ore.

Crown Zellerbach said its price will be $213.50 per ton for 30-pound newsprint as of Saturday. The company has mills at Wauna, Ore., and Port Angeles, Wash.

The Crown Zellerbach price had been scheduled to go up from $183 to $198 per ton Friday, stemming from a federal order permitting dollar averaging of the U.S. and Canadian prices of newsprint supplied to customers in the western United States.

Smaller producers, like Abitibi Southern Corp., a U.S. branch of another Canadian company which produces only 150,000 tons of newsprint annually at its Augusta, Ga., mill, says it is not big enough to be among the first to raise prices.

But a spokesman says if the larger companies all raise their prices, Abitibi Southern will follow. Although prices will vary somewhat, companies say they will set prices about equal to those established by Canadian producers last fall. The Canadian mills, which produce about 70 per cent of the newsprint used in the United States, have traditionally been the industry price leaders.

The average price for newsprint delivered in New York City in 1972 was $164.58 a ton and rose to $200 last year, industry figures show.

Under price controls, newsprint prices were frozen at very uneven levels and publishers were paying anywhere from $170 a ton to $200 per ton, the companies say.

But the paper industry had made it clear by its comments and petitions to the Cost of Living Council for price relief that most companies intended to match or come close to the Canadian prices once domestic prices were decontrolled.

Canadian prices which started at $200 per ton were initiated by Canadian International last Nov. 1, and quickly spread throughout Canada. There are no indications that Canadian producers intend to raise prices again soon, according to the Newsprint Information Committee, which represents the largest Canadian producers.

BRAZIL, URUGUAY, GERMANY— Streaking Goes International

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Police thought they were streakers, but the 22 naked people who stepped off a city bus in front of the precinct house had been struck — by holdup men.

It happened in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. The bus had been stopped by the robbers, who stripped the passengers of their belongings, including clothes.

That wasn't a case of streaking, the current fad of dashing about in the nude, but there were plenty of legitimate "streaks." In fact, what apparently started as an American campus fad has gone international.

Streaking came to Uruguay when two young men dashed nude through a plush Montevideo residential area. The two were nabbed by police and held for questioning.

The newest sport also arrived in West Germany, when three girls and a young man blitzed across Munich's busy Leopoldstrasse near the university.

Munich campus dean Dr. Joseph Shields commented, "My God, it is happening all over the world. We are not going to send anybody to jail or throw them out of school for something like this."

Streaking in Germany, incidentally, is known as "blitzen."

A Japanese streaker made his debut in Hiroshima.

Amid screams from women shoppers, a 24-year-old longshoreman dashed 300 yards down a street in the A-bomb city in yellow helmet, socks and sneakers with the words "direct appeal" painted on his chest and back.

Streaking also spread to South Korea despite freezing weather. A nude man ran 300 yards down a Seoul street during the morning rush hour, then disappeared into an alley. Two men ran behind him, one with

It Must Be Spring Fever

For years this corner has envisioned the Rio Grande valley, from the Big Bend Country south and east, as the winter haven of the future, the mecca sought by the retired and perhaps less-affluent sun-seekers.

When Arizona and Florida are either overrun by snapping humanity instead of snapping alligators or rattlers, and the skies become saturated with man-made wastes that blot out the sun, which made them attractive in the first place, then it will happen.

Those escaping from the winter's cold in the north will look elsewhere, perhaps New Mexico or Mexico, but sooner or later they'll discover the Valley.

That day may be closer than even we anticipated, judging by the rocketing real estate values in the area.

Midland winters are cold in comparison to the Valley, but where could one find any more delightful weather than the Permian Basin experiences from the late days of February until the violence of spring begins to assert itself toward the end of March.

Sure the wind is inclined to frolic some among the mesquite branches, but predictably so... on those days when the high schools have baseball games scheduled or when someone is supposed to run around a track in shorts.

But it's days like we've been experiencing lately, the balmy kind, that make for daydreams.

The impression persists that this type of weather is more normal than abnormal for this part of the country at this time of the year. Maybe, the weatherman keeps records that could verify this suspicion.

First Class Plant

Anyway, what we're getting around to is why couldn't West Texas, at some future major league expansion, get into the business of spring training?

Our location is remote enough from the beaten metropolitan paths to lend it a lure of mystery to the uninitiated. Our big handicap, of course, is a lack of either the water or mountains that usually go hand-in-hand with spring training locales, but with the proper publicity campaign perhaps an enticing atmosphere could be effected that would lure the spring-time tourist.

Midland may not have the mountains or the ocean handy, but it does have one essential, a basic baseball plant that is equal to any training site in Arizona or Florida. And it has the space for the addition of auxiliary diamonds, batting cages within walking distance to make it a complete facility.

And if you are one who agrees that the baseball park is fine but couldn't possibly be made combat ready this early in the spring, you ought to take a look at Cubs Stadium. It's as green as any park in Arizona.

Sure we know the idea is ridiculous, but these balmy days can make you believe anything and we'd still like a weatherman's comparison of March weather with those of the present major league sweat-spots.

Until a case can be made for Midland and West Texas as the spring training spot of the future, I guess we'll all just have to tough it out in Scottsdale.

NC State Plays On Home Court

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — on fifth-ranked Providence (27-3) at 8:10. North Carolina State Coach Norm Sloan doesn't believe the home court will be much of a factor when his top-ranked basketball team battles Providence Thursday night in the NCAA Eastern Regional tourney.

"It'll be a kind of neutral crowd," said Sloan. N. C. State students turn out en masse for Atlantic Coast Conference games, but the number will be considerably reduced for the NCAA regional. Ticket allotments are made to the four teams and to the general public.

Reynolds Coliseum seats 12,400. Southern Conference champion Furman (22-7) plays 13th-ranked Pittsburgh (24-3) in the opener Thursday night at 6:05 CDT. Then State (26-1) takes on fifth-ranked Providence (27-3) at 8:10. It'll be like a reunion for Providence's Marvin Barnes and Kevin Stacom and State's great David Thompson and Tommy Burleson. The four played on the U.S. team in the World University Games last summer. Sloan was assistant coach.

Barnes, who leads his team in scoring with an average of 22.5 points, regards Thompson and UCLA's Bill Walton "the best I've ever been up against. They are both really super."

African Teams Tie CAIRO (AP) — Zaire and Zambia tied 2-2 Tuesday after 30 minutes of an overtime period in the final of the African nations' ninth Soccer Cup championship. The match will be replayed Thursday.

REBELS BEAT CORONADO— No. 8 For Lee

LUBBOCK — The Midland Lee Rebels scored a run in the sixth and an additional one in the seventh inning to take a 3-1 non-district baseball victory over the Lubbock Coronado Mustangs Tuesday at McKenzie Park.

The win gives Coach Ernie Johnson's Rebs an 8-1 season record and sets the stage for a doubleheader in Midland Saturday afternoon between these same two teams.

"We didn't play very well, but did win," said Johnson. Johnson was pleased with the play of catcher Javier Torres who was filling in for the injured Blain Murray and centerfielder David Clingman who hit a long homer for Lee in the seventh inning to ice the game. "David really got a hold of one," commented Johnson.

A big double play by the Rebels in the bottom of the seventh preserved the victory for starter Jay Frazier who got relief help from Eddie McNeal in the final two innings.

Lee took a 1-0 lead off Bill Eady who went all the way on the mound for the Mustangs. After two were down, Larry Tidwell was hit by a pitch, stole second and scored on Bobby Stevens' single. Two errors and a hit batter loaded the bases with Rebels, but ady got Steve Koch to ground out to second to end the first inning.

Coronado came right back to tie the game, scoring its only run of the game off Frazier.

Cooper Wins; Abilene, OHS Lose; San Angelo Divides

Abilene Cooper downed Wichita Falls Rider on Alan Lakatta's two-hitter Tuesday in non-district baseball action while Abilene and Odessa absorbed losses and San Angelo split a doubleheader with Del Rio.

Cooper posted a 4-1 victory to bring its season mark to 2-5 with the Cougars getting seven hits.

Abilene lost to a young Lubbock High team, 7-4 on a grand slam by pitcher Al Adams. Abilene is now 4-5 on the year.

LL Officials Protest NJ Ruling On Lasses

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) — Little League baseball administrators plan to field a team at the state capital soon to urge the New Jersey Legislature to stay a ruling requiring the league to let girls play.

This past January the State Division on Civil Rights formalized a ruling that made New Jersey the first state in the nation to require Little League baseball teams to permit girls to play. Civil Rights Hearing Examiner Sylvia Pressler issued the ruling last November.

At a meeting in Hazlet last Saturday, Little League officials incensed at the ruling voted unanimously to suspend all play in the state.

In the bottom of the seventh, Smith and Uley had back-to-back singles and Matthews was safe on an error by McNeal to load the bases with none out. Whiteside then lined out to Koch who fired to first to double off Matthews and Eady flew out to left to end the game.

Coronado brings a 4-4 record into Saturday's twin bill with the Rebels on the Lee diamond with the first game set for 1 p.m. The doubleheader ends non-district play for the Rebels with Lee meeting Odessa High in Odessa next Tuesday in its first District 5-4A game, starting at 4:45 p.m. at Fly Field.

18—WEDNESDAY, MARCH 13, 1974

Outfielder Duak Witherspoon hit a home run in the top of the sixth and then came on as a relief pitcher to stop a Midland Bulldog rally as Snyder's Tigers edged the Purple Pack, 5-4, at Memorial Stadium Field Tuesday afternoon.

Witherspoon, who also had a double and single, swatted a solo homer over the fence in left center to give the Tigers, now 9-1 on the season, a 5-1 lead. And the way sophomore Gary Greenlee was pitching, that looked like more than enough.

But the Bulldogs, who could probably blame this loss on some costly base-running, rallied for three runs in the home sixth and had the bases loaded before Witherspoon finally got the side out.

Brandon Battles started the rally with a single inside the left field line and moved to second on a balk. Jeff Cole reached first on a dropped third strike and that brought in Witherspoon for Greenlee.

He got William Goode on a called third strike, but Karl Brosig rified a double to left to plate two runs and Kenny Krawietz beat out a hit to short. Ron Helm dribbled a hit up the middle that eluded the pitcher and went between short and second to score Brosig.

After Terry Copeland was nicked by a pitch to load the bases, things were looking good for the Pack, but Witherspoon got Alah Buonasera, the Bulldogs' top hitter, on a called third strike to get out of it.

Snyder struck for four third-inning runs on four hits, two walks, a wild pitch and an error. At this point things looked pretty grim for Midland.

Greenlee, who came on to start the second inning a week ago and limited Midland to two hits in a 6-3 win, picked up right where he left off. With two out in the fourth, Greenlee had a no-hitter going before Battles' line single to left broke the spell. Cole was hit by a pitch and Goode bounced a single through the left side.

Battles held up at third only to find Cole steaming into third and Goode on second. The Tigers got Goode before he could get back to first for the out.

Andrews Knocks Off Levelland

LEVELLAND — The home run power of Charles Fritz and Mike Parker lifted the Andrews Mustangs to a come from behind 7-4 non-conference baseball win over the Levelland Lobos here Tuesday.

The Mustangs scored all seven runs in the fifth and sixth innings with a five-run fifth frame doing the damage. Levelland held a 2-0 lead going into the fifth until the homer barrage by the Mustangs.

Levelland is now 1-3 on the year while Andrews stands at 4-2.

Andrews Levelland: Fritz 1 1 3 3 3 6 5 5. Parker 1 1 3 3 3 6 5 5. Buonasera (L) 1 1 3 3 3 6 5 5. Greenlee (L) 1 1 3 3 3 6 5 5.

In the fifth, Brosig reached first on catcher's interference, stole second and scored on Helm's solid hit up the middle. Copeland singled to left, but was cut down at second on a delayed double steal.

Buonasera, 1-1, went the route for the Bulldogs and yielded only two earned runs, but that one big inning that has bedeviled the Bulldogs so many times this year again spoiled the day.

BULLDOG BRIEFS

Bruce Smith hit the ball on the nose in the first when right fielder Witherspoon robbed him with a grass-top grab of a sinking liner and again in the fourth when centerfielder V. T. Roberson pulled in his fly after a long run. Copeland with 12 put outs and two assists had a busy day behind the plate. Caught off second in the sixth Battles managed to get back to the bag after a rundown, but came off the field with blood streaming off his nose after accidentally catching a Tiger's foot between the eyes. Snyder's Roberson dropped a bunt down the first base line in the seventh and then ran into it for an automatic out.

Alston Promises This Year Will Be Better For Dodgers

By JACK STEVENSON
VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Walter Alston says his young baseball team shouldn't be ashamed of its second-place finish in the National League West last season and will be better this year.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, managed by Alston for 21 years, have a strong nucleus returning and have added ace relief pitcher Mike Marshall.

Gone is veteran centerfielder Willie Davis, who was the team captain but had disagreements with Alston. He went to Montreal in exchange for Marshall.

To fill the key position in centerfield, the Dodgers traded left-handed pitcher Claude Osteen to Houston for Jim Wynn, the "toy cannon" who always has hit well in Dodger Stadium.

Alston has promised more communication with his players, something most necessary in a year when there are so many youngsters on the squad.

There will be platooning, but some of the young players earlier asked to be traded because they didn't think there would be room for them.

Among them were catcher Steve Yeager and infielder Lee Lacy.

Last year, Yeager and Joe Ferguson came up from Albuquerque and Ferguson won the catching job. His first hit was a home run and so was his second. He set Dodger records for catchers with 35 homers and 88 runs batted in.

Ferguson may play first base this season and undoubtedly there will be other experiments. Yet the Dodgers have another youngster, Bill Buckner, ready to go at first.

Buckner had 158 hits in 1973, ranking third on the Dodgers behind Davis' 171 and shortstop Bill Russell's 163.

Russell and Davey Lopes formed a sharp double play combination, and Lacy lost the starting job he had won in 1972.

Ron Cey has the third base job unless he loses it to veteran Ken McMullen in spring training.

Tom Paciorek, who hit .263 in 96 games last year, could be used at first base or in the outfield.

But the outfield has an overflow of talent, including Willie Crawford, a .295 hitter last season; Wynn; Tommie Agee, acquired from St. Louis; Von Joshua, and Manny Mota, a .314 hitter in 89 games last year.

Don Sutton, 18-10, Andy Messersmith, 14-10, Tommy John, 16-7, and Al Downing, 9-8, are back from the 1973 starting pitching rotation.

Doug Rau, who started three games in 1973, is a candidate for a starting role and the Dodgers have reliever Jim Brewer, who has been in one of every three Los Angeles victories during the past five years. Knuckleballing Charlie Hough also will be used in relief.

Still it's Marshall who will be counted on the most in the bullpen.

He was 14-11 last year with a 2.66 earned run average, but he was not happy at Montreal, and

Hoosier Coach Blasts Tourney

By PAUL LeBAR
ST. LOUIS (AP) — Reluctant Bobby Knight has defended directors of the first Collegiate Commissioners Association basketball tournament are breathing easier.

The fiery Knight, coach of Indiana's 10th-ranked Hoosiers, threw a scare into the tournament Tuesday by first saying his team would vote in Bloomington, Ind., on whether to appear.

But hours later, apparently after a squad meeting, an Indiana official announced simply the school was "in" as representative of the Big Ten Conference.

No outcome of a vote was announced for the Hoosiers, who missed a National Collegiate Athletic Association tourney berth by falling 75-67 to co-champion Michigan Monday night.

The 34-year-old Knight's displeasure with the CCA was aimed at the eight-team meet's makeup for the most part of major college conference runners-up.

"I went to the NIT (National Invitation Tournament) when I was coach at Army," the third-year Hoosiers coach said, "and I have always liked the NIT."

"If the CCA in any way has started to try and hurt the NIT, then it's wrong and I am opposed to it," Knight added.

"Sure the teams were runners-up in their conferences," CCA Director Larry Albus said

Wilson Seems To Be Daring Foes To Topple Government

By FRED COLEMAN
An AP News Analysis
LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson appears to be daring opposition parties to topple his minority Labor government or risk seeing Britain withdraw from the European Common Market.

It is a gamble that Wilson seems likely to win, no matter what the Conservative and Liberal supporters of Britain's membership in the European Economic Community do.

Either Wilson remains in power at the head of a minority administration with only 301 seats in the House of Commons, 17 short of a majority. Or he is voted down in Parliament and goes to the country with the one issue that promises to win him a majority in an election — opposition to the Common Market.

The strategy became apparent Tuesday when Queen Elizabeth II opened Parliament by reading the policy program drafted by Wilson's Labor cabinet.

The Speech from the Throne dropped all the radical planks in Labor's campaign platform except the pledge to negotiate new terms for Britain's membership in the European Economic Community and then let the British public vote on them.

This was a direct challenge to Conservative party chief Edward Heath, whose government took Britain into the Market, and Jeremy Thorpe's Liberals, who want it to stay there. But it is the one issue that the opposition is not likely to force an election on because opinion polls have consistently shown 60 per cent of the British public opposes Common Market membership.

The polls also show that a majority of Britons believe their rising food prices are partly due to Britain's membership in the Common Market since Jan. 1, 1973. An election fought on the issue of the Common Market probably would produce another Labor government, and one with the safe majority it needs to go ahead with the radical programs it has put aside.

So far Heath's statements have indicated reluctance to try to bring the government down before it has a fair chance at governing. And Labor has been vague on its timetable for negotiating with the Common Market. In these circumstances, Wilson's minority government could stay in office for months.

Anderson Says Builder Seeking Pact Loaned $100,000 To Nixon's Brother

WASHINGTON (AP) — Columnist Jack Anderson says a California builder seeking a federal contract in 1971 made a $100,000 personal loan to President Nixon's brother Donald.

Anderson wrote in his column Tuesday that the contractor's firm later got a subcontract for more than $4 million to build homes at 18 Air Force bases. But Anderson said the current head of the firm denied that.

Donald Nixon had anything to do with the contract.

The columnist said the $100,000 was the second major loan Donald Nixon obtained from government contractors. He noted that in 1966 Nixon got a $205,000 loan from billionaire Howard Hughes, then involved with defense work.

According to Anderson, the 1971 loan was a $100,000 personal check, dated Aug. 4, from Lloyd Hallamore, then president of Hallamore Homes Inc.

He wrote that Securities and Exchange Commission records show in July 1971 Donald Nixon became a director of San-Bar Electronics Corp., "a closely affiliated Hallamore firm."

Anderson said his associate George Clifford "infiltrated a Hallamore meeting in July 1971 and heard Donald Nixon boast of his efforts to get contracts to build Hallamore homes."

The denial that Donald Nixon had played any part in obtaining the Hallamore government contract came from Harold Anderson, president of the firm and Hallamore's son-in-law, the column said.

Harold Anderson, according to the column, acknowledged that the loan had been made and repaid. But the building firm head was quoted as saying: "The loan had absolutely nothing to do with the operation of Hallamore Inc."

Neither Hallamore nor Donald Nixon could be reached for comment. Harold Anderson refused to comment any further on the matter.

Lawyers To Defend Dallas Insurance Firm Strenuously

DALLAS (AP) — Republic National Life Insurance Co. says its lawyers will "strenuously defend" the company against fraud charges filed Friday by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Texas' second largest insurance company refused Tuesday to acknowledge any losses on its investment of $108 million in an allegedly failing New York City firm, Realty Equities Corp.

"There is no question of the company's sound financial condition," a prepared statement issued to the news media said Tuesday.

"No regulatory authority has questioned its solvency, and the company is pursuing its insurance operations in a normal manner," the statement continued.

The SEC is asking the firm be put in receivership, charging that Republic National Life poured large sums into Realty Equities while realizing the shaky condition of the real estate firm.

Republic already had invested considerable money in the firm, the SEC charged.

SEC investigators alleged Republic National compounded the error by reporting income generated by advancing large sums to Realty which were immediately returned to Republic.

Then Republic National overstated its assets in reports to the State Insurance Department, the SEC claimed.

State Insurance Department officials placed Republic National Life under supervision last week after what were called "apparent deficiencies" were uncovered in its investments.

Disbelief and warm praise have flooded into Arthur Friedman's appliance store since word got out that his employees set their own pay and other working conditions.

A woman who mailed a clipping of Friedman's story had written above the headline, "May you prosper beyond your imagination."

About five years ago, Friedman, with the assent of his brother and partner, Morris, turned the traditional boss-employee set-up topsy turvy and let the workers do what they pleased.

Friedman said he decided to put his philosophy — "Find out what people want, and give it to them" — on the line. So he let his 12 employees at Fried-

Market, Anticipating Good Oil News, Rolls Up Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market, evidently anticipating good news from a conference of Arab oil ministers, rolled up a strong advance today.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was 7.51 at 894.63, and gainers overwhelmed losers by better than 2 to 1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said investors seemed to be strongly optimistic that the Arab meeting in Tripoli later in the day, would culminate in a relaxation of the Middle East producing countries' embargo on oil shipments to the United States. An Egyptian newspaper predicted the embargo would be ended.

Avis, Inc., jumped 5 1/2 to 25 1/2. American Express Co. agreed to pay $25 a share to acquire Avis, which is now 82 percent owned by International Telephone & Telegraph. ITT was up 1/4 at 25 1/2 on the NYSE. American Express was quoted at 47 1/2 bid, up 1/4, in the over-the-counter market.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index

Cities Service Oil Co. No. 1-T Government, Eddy County Wolfcamp prospect, has been completed as a second Morrow producer and 1/4-mile north extension to that pay in the Russell field of Eddy County, N.M.

Calculated, absolute open flow was for 7.314 million cubic feet of gas per day, producing through perforations at 11,105-11,303 feet, which had been acidized with 2,000 gallons.

Drilled to 11,500 feet, it has 5 1/2-inch casing set at 11,430 feet, and is plugged back to 11,370 feet.

On the latest production test in the Wolfcamp, it flowed gas at the rate of 2.40 million cubic feet daily, maximum, on a 14-64-inch choke, through perforations at 9,208-9,231 feet. Distillate recovery during the four-hour test, was 29 barrels of 51.8-gravity fluid. Operator was preparing to take four-point tests in that zone.

Exploration has been scheduled in Irion, Runtels, Stonewall and Coke Counties.

Amoco Production Co. filed application to drill No. 3 Maggie Tullos, a 7,600-foot venture in Irion, 14 miles northeast of Mertzon.

Drill site is 1,400 feet north of the southwest corner, which is the middle Concho River, of P. Mosel survey 859, abstract 475, thence 600 feet east to location in that survey, 1/4 mile south of the Arden, South multiphase field.

Stonewall Try Markay Oil & Gas Co. of Midland filed application for No. 3 Baptist Foundation, as a 5,300-foot well in Stonewall County, 15 miles northeast of Aspermont.

Location is 1 1/2 miles southwest of the marginal Kiowa Peak, Southeast (Strawn) field, but separated by failures.

Test site is 600 feet from south and west lines of BS&F survey 4, abstract 1591 (shows R. E. Gholson survey 4 on some maps). It spots on, or near a 8,230-foot failure, however application for permit was not as a re-entry.

Runtels Re-Entry I. W. Lovelady of Midland intends to re-enter and deepen from old total depth of 3,000 feet to 4,300 feet at No. 1 L. E. H. Barnett, for attempt to re-open Morris production in the depleted Ballinger, West field of Runtels.

Originally drilled by J. S. Kingford Oil Co., it was completed in 1950 for 103 barrels of oil daily, through perforations at 3,004-3,009 feet, as the King sand opener in the Ballinger, West field.

It spots 1,850 feet from northwest and 3,800 feet from southwest lines of Rama Christa survey 432, abstract 73.

The Morris sand opener, Southern Minerals Corp. No. 1 G. F. Allen, et al, failed in June, 1950, for 107 barrels of 40.3-gravity oil per day, through perforations at 3,720-3,732 feet, Coke Project.

Sojourner Drilling Corp., Abilene, accounted for a 4,100-foot prospect in Coke, eight miles southwest of Bronte. It is No. 1-A R. E. Hickman Estate.

Location is a south offset to the depleted one-well Wendrick, North (Cisco) area, 3,400 feet due south of the northwest corner of James W. Daridge survey 9676, and in that survey.

The depleted pool opener, Sojourner No. 1 J. R. Smith, failed in September, 1950, for 83 barrels of 40-gravity oil per day, from open hole at 3,723-3,751 feet.

Cottle Field Gets Confirmation Well

Gus Edwards of Abilene has completed No. 2 J. J. Gibson as a second producer and 1/4-mile southeast extension to a newly opened Bend con-

Confirmer Finals In Ward Gas Area

The Caprito (Ellenburger) field of Ward County gained its second well and a 1/2-mile west extension with completion of Texaco Inc. No. 1-B State Gas Unit, 11 miles northeast of Barstow.

Calculated, absolute open flow was for 10,764 million cubic feet of gas per day, producing through perforations at 17,977-18,431 feet, which had been acidized with 90,000 gallons.

Location is 2,540 feet from north and 1,520 feet from east lines of section 15, block 18, ULS.

The discovery, Union Texas Petroleum Corp. No. 1 West Caprito Unit, sealed March 11, 1973, for 30 million cubic feet of gas per day, through perforations at 17,795-18,226 feet.

Coquina Reports Record Earnings

Coquina Oil Corp., Midland based oil and gas exploration and producing company, reports record earnings for 1973.

Net earnings for the year 1973 amounted to $1,700,052, equal to $1.32 per share compared to $866,816 or 70 cents per share for 1972.

Both 1972 and 1973 net earnings and net earnings per share (based on the restated average number of shares outstanding after the recent three-for-two stock split) have been stated on the basis of the full cost accounting method recently adopted by the company. The effect of the change in accounting method resulted in an increase in 1973 earnings of $122,880 or 10 cents per share and an increase in 1973 earnings of $340,010 or 38 cents per share.

The company stated that the earnings increase was due primarily to an increase in oil and gas sales from $1,845,650 in 1972 to $3,096,941 in 1973. Total revenue was up from $8,997,151 in 1972 to $9,504,508 in 1973.

CHIPPING AWAY AT 72—Jim Green, 72, of Dallas, dons artificial legs each morning and heads for work. His daily work consists of chipping mortar from used bricks. Once he arrives on the job, he removes the artificial limbs and replaces them with sections of old tires. He says it is easier to get around. Green is paid $14 per thousand and says he can chip about "19 to 20 hunert brick a day." Green says he has no use for those "lazy youngsters who live off welfare." He lost both legs in an auto accident in 1935.

Judge Says He Needs Time To Study Motions On Freeing Ex-Rep. Knapp

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Court Judge Halbert G. Woodward says he'll need about two to three weeks to study motions to free former state Rep. Walter Knapp, convicted of using postage stamps received from the state to buy a pickup truck.

Meantime, Knapp will begin serving his prison term at Huntsville, Judge Woodward ruled Tuesday after a 90-minute hearing on defense motions.

Woodward this released a stay order which had kept the state from sending Knapp to the state prison during court battles subsequent to his conviction.

A jury found May 25, 1972, that Knapp used $1,200 in stamps made available to him by the state to purchase the truck. The former representative was sentenced to four years in prison.

Asst. Texas Atty. Gen. Jack Boone said Knapp probably will be transferred to Huntsville in the next four to six days.

Defense lawyers told Judge Woodward Tuesday that testimony from the original trial proves Knapp innocent of the crime "as charged." They said the truck was purchased May 25, 1970, but the stamps did not arrive in Amarillo until May 27 and May 28, 1970.

Knapp's lawyers also contend part of the evidence admitted before the jury caused the former representative to be tried not only for the crime described in the indictment, but also for "being a criminal generally."

The defense claimed the stamps were a reimbursement for expenses incurred by Knapp as provided for under authority of a House resolution and that the stamps did not belong to the state.

However, prosecutors contended the stamps were not reimbursement and that "deceit was definitely involved."

Asst. Texas Atty. Gen. Boone said the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals already has ruled on the quantity, quality and sufficiency of the state's evidence.

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — William C. Westmoreland, former Army chief of staff and once commander of American forces in Vietnam, has become a Republican candidate for governor of South Carolina.

Westmoreland, who for years has refused to register to vote, told a news conference Tuesday he was stepping into politics "because I can best serve our state in this capacity as governor during a critical period, and I believe South Carolina needs a viable two-party system, and the sooner the better."

Law Limiting Hours Women May Work Volded By Hill

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas Atty. Gen. John Hill has struck down a state law that limits the number of hours a woman may be required to work without her consent.

He said Tuesday the 1971 statute violates the U.S. Civil Rights Act of 1964.

The Texas statute forbids an employer to require a woman to work more than nine hours a day or 54 hours a week unless she agrees to do so.

Until 1971, the law flatly prohibited such hours. But the legislature added the consent provision in an effort to comply with the civil rights law.

He said the state law denies to men "the benefits accorded women in relation to the right to refuse to work beyond certain hours and to the entitlement to overtime. Clearly, the sex discrimination attacked by the Civil Rights Act is not limited to discrimination against women."

Hanks Is Acquitted In Murder Plot Trial

HOUSTON (AP) — "I've always thought the American system was the best and it has been proven to me today," Jerry W. Hanks, 40, said after being found innocent of conspiring to kill Port Arthur Rep. Terry Doyle.

A seven-woman, five-man jury spent just two hours Tuesday debating Hanks' fate before returning the innocent verdict.

Hanks was indicted in January 1973 with plotting to kill Doyle, who beat Hanks in a 1970 state legislative race and worked against him in another legislative race Hanks lost to Pike Powers of Beaumont in 1972.

"I'm just glad this is over," Hanks said after the jury returned the verdict. "I just wish all the people of Jefferson County could have heard the trial."

Two other defendants were charged in the case — Harvey Doyle Castieman, 42, and his brother, Gerald Wayne Castieman, 34, of Shepherd, Tex. Gerald granted immunity in the case and testified against Hanks. Harvey, the man Gerald charged with the go-between in the case, pleaded guilty and was assessed the maximum term of 10 years. An habitual criminal charge against Harvey, which carries a life sentence, was dropped.

Harvey, whom Gerald said was the only person to talk to Hanks about the alleged plot, did not testify.

Richard Haynes, Hanks' attorney, did not put on a single witness to rebut the state's case. He said the state did not prove any of the allegations, so none of the 10 defense witnesses called were necessary.

"The state's case was just inherently incredible," Haynes said.

Mike Hinton, one of the assistant district attorneys who tried the case, said bitterly, "I'm just regretful but we must abide by the jury's verdict. They can only base their case on legally admissible evidence."

Three More Arrested In Kidnaping Of Boy

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Three men were arrested here Tuesday night in the kidnaping of an 8-year-old New York boy, bringing to eight the number of persons arrested in the case.

The FBI said no more arrests are expected.

The $50,000 ransom paid for the release of John Cazadilla of Dix Hills, N.Y., has not been recovered, the FBI said.

The child was released unharmed last Friday, 31 hours after he was abducted while walking home from school with a friend.

The men arrested Tuesday night were identified as Roberto Emilio Martinez, 37, his brother Jorge Martinez, 28, and Jose Antonio Hernandez, 17, all Cuban-born residents of New Jersey.

Four men and a teen-aged girl already are in custody.

It was not a strong case because there were no eye witnesses to Hanks because he was too well insulated.

Gerald Castieman had testified he contacted what he thought was a hired killer to murder Doyle, only to have the man turn out to be a state undercover agent.
