Chance Of Rain

36 Persons Die In Plane Crash

Shower Falls In City

Dry Midland yards and gardens early this morning quickly soaked up the first rainfall in many weeks in the Tall City.

The National Weather Service's gauge at Midland Air Terminal caught only .04 inch of moisture, but the fall was much heavier in the Tall City, with private gauges reporting from .25 to .40 inch.

A light sprinkle started falling about 12:30 a.m. today and by 1:15 a heavy shower was in progress.

Much of the West Texas area north, east and west of Midland reported some moisture, with Odessa reporting small hail along with about .20 inch of rain.

At Andrews, the airport gauge caught .20 inch, while at Big Spring, up to one inch of rain was measured, with most of the fall coming between 1 and 2 a.m. today.

Garden City reported a trace of rain, and gauges at Lamesa caught from .25 to .50 inch. (See SHOWERS Page 2A)

Copter Pilot Sees No Sign Of Survivors

BISHOP, Calif. (AP)—A twin-engine chartered airplane carrying a television film crew smashed into a mountainside in the rugged eastern Sierra, killing all 36 persons aboard, officials said today.

A helicopter pilot who spotted the burning wreckage in mountainous terrain six miles east of here and landed at the scene said the Sierra Pacific Airlines Conair 440 had disintegrated.

Four Plead Innocent To Break-In

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four men pleaded innocent today to a charge stemming from the break-in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

Counsel for one of the defendants told newsmen upon entering the courthouse that he expects to call President Nixon as a defense witness.

Entering innocent pleas were G. Gordon Liddy, Bernard L. Barker, Eugenio R. Martinez and Felipe De Diego.

They were charged with violating the civil rights of Dr. Lewis Fielding.

Former presidential aides Charles W. Colson and John D. Ehrlichman pleaded innocent to the same charge when arraigned last Saturday. The six men were indicted by a federal grand jury on March 7.

The conspiracy charge carries a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Oil Allowable Set Full Again

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—The Texas Railroad Commission set the state's April oil production allowable at 100 per cent for the 25th consecutive month today.

Crude oil purchase nominations for April totaled 3.94 million barrels daily, up 106,489 barrels from March, which far exceeds actual producing capacity.

Libyan Says Oil Ban To Be Lifted

LATE NEWS FLASHES

NEW YORK (AP)—Former Securities and Exchange Commission Chairman William Casey was pictured by a government witness today as resisting pressure from former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and others to go easy in a fraud investigation against financier Robert L. Vesco.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said today he has received no word yet on whether the Arab oil-producing countries intend to lift their embargo against the United States.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—A strike by some 26,000 miners in the southern West Virginia coal fields appeared to be nearing an end as men began returning to work today.

Demos Trying To Link Oil Prices, Phaseout Of Depletion Allowance

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top Democrats on the House Ways and Means Committee are trying to put together a compromise tax reform plan that would link oil prices to a phaseout of the petroleum industry's depletion allowance.

After losing a pair of rounds to Republicans and oil-state representatives in two days of preliminary decisions on an energy tax proposal, Democratic leaders of the committee sought to win today with a revamped recommendation.

Meantime, the committee tentatively agreed Wednesday to abolish the 22 per cent oil of oil ministers in a Tripoli hotel Wednesday was postponed, possibly until a further meeting in Vienna on Sunday, the sources said. They explained Libya remained opposed to ending the ban and refused to permit the announcement on its territory.

Tripoli radio, in the first account of the meeting, reported that Syria had opposed lifting the embargo against the United States and said governments which proposed this were treacherous.

The broadcast made no mention of a final decision. It said that Algeria, which had been reluctant about cancelling the embargo, supported a proposal to lift it for a two-month trial period.

According to Arab sources, the embargo against the Netherlands would not be lifted.

A brief communique said the ministers adjourned "to consult their governments." A Libyan source said they would meet again Sunday in Vienna during a price-fixing session of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries and may announce the Tripoli decision then.

Several participants in the meeting said a "positive decision" on the embargo was taken, but they declined to give details.

In Washington, a spokesman for the Nixon Administration indicated it would release reserve oil supplies to give the American economy a boost as soon as Arab oil starts heading for the United States again. But one high official of the Federal Energy Office said a key question was whether the Arabs would resume production at the pre-October level or maintain the cuts of 25 per cent or more they ordered to put pressure on countries not affected by the embargo.

Sources in Tripoli gave no indication whether full production would be restored. But Libya's (See EMBARGO Page 2A)

Shultz To Leave Office In May

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon accepted with "a sense of personal regret" today the resignation of Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz, effective in early May.

Announcing the impending departure of the last member of Nixon's original cabinet to still hold federal office, Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said the President feels Shultz "has served with great distinction," starting as secretary of Labor in 1969.

Noting that Shultz has talked several times of a desire to return to private life, Warren said the 53-year-old economist would continue to "assume special assignments" after leaving the Treasury post he has held since June 12, 1972.

Warren described Shultz as "a pillar of this administration and this government" and said Nixon has asked him to express "our enormous respect, affection and appreciation for Secretary Shultz."

Asked if Deputy Treasury Secretary William E. Simon, who also serves as the federal energy chief, would be in line to succeed Shultz, Warren said, "I won't go down a check list of names." He added that Shultz's resignation is under-standably well regarded in administration circles.

Besides serving as Treasury chief, Shultz held the dual appointment of assistant to the

Progress Reported In San Francisco Strike Talks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mayor Joseph Alioto reported substantial progress today toward ending an eight-day city employe strike that has paralyzed public transportation in the area.

When eight hours of steady negotiations concluded at 4 a.m., Alioto told newsmen that both sides had agreed on the total size of a new wage package.

"Substantial movement has been made in the last two nights and we did close the money gap tonight," he said. However, the mayor said dis-

Three Absentee Ballots Cast

Three votes were cast Wednesday on the first day of absentee voting for the April 2 City Council elections.

Mayor Ernest Angelo Jr. and Councilman Frank Cahoon are unopposed in their reelection bids.

Pat Griffith, Warren Faller, Mark S. Martin and Raymond E. Howard are seeking the Place 5 council seat being vacated by Councilman John Pike.

Absentee ballots may be cast from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily in the City Hall.

Progress Reported In San Francisco Strike Talks

The striking Service Employees International Union wants $16 million a year in pay raises and a dental health plan. Union members now average $850 a month in jobs ranging from $581 to $1,500.

There were estimates that the strike is causing an economic loss of $20 million a day.

In another labor dispute, San Francisco's 130 schools have been operating on a half-day schedule because of a strike of 2,000 members of the San Francisco Federation of Teachers.

The teachers walked out last Friday to back demands for a 15 per cent pay increase during the 1974-1975 academic year.

Some school workers also are members of the striking city workers union, and school bus drivers are honoring its picket lines.

The some 10,000 clerks, janitors, hospital workers, social workers and other civil service staff represented by the SEIU rejected on Wednesday the city's latest pay package. Terms were not disclosed.

End To Oil Embargo Won't Lower Gasoline Prices

WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans can expect to continue paying record high prices for gasoline even if the Arab embargo is lifted, the deputy director of the Federal Energy Office said today.

John Sawhill also told a congressional subcommittee that the FEO is prepared to end its restriction that has blocked motorists in many areas from buying all the gasoline their cars could hold.

And he said that even if the Arab embargo should continue, there still probably would be no need for gasoline rationing before June.

In testifying before the consumer subcommittee of the Joint Economic Committee, Sawhill said he had no firm information that the Arab nations have agreed to lift the embargo.

Arab sources say the embargo will be ended within a few days.

But even if that happens, Sawhill said, "I wouldn't look for any dramatic price reductions."

"We have probably entered a period of prices that will remain higher than before the embargo," he said.

He added that some relatively minor reduction in the retail price of gasoline might be forthcoming if production of crude oil is increased.

Arab spokesmen have already issued reminders that the embargo can be used again if things don't go well in the Middle East, and U.S. energy officials don't want the United States to be caught with an even greater dependence on Arab oil if that should happen.

Those two factors alone add up to the need, already expressed by U.S. energy officials, to keep saving fuel after the embargo ends.

Just how much the nation may have to save depends on factors not yet revealed by the Arabs after their meeting Wednesday in Tripoli.

A high Libyan official told a newsman the Arab nations decided to lift the embargo.

But he did not say when; or whether Arab production would return to pre-embargo levels; or whether it would be increased to meet rising U.S. demand; or whether Arab oil prices, tripled since September, may be reduced.

Counting tanker travel time, processing time and distribution time, it may take six to eight weeks for Arab oil to begin reaching the U.S. marketplace once the embargo ends.

U.S. officials estimate it could take up to three months for oil imports to return to pre-embargo levels.

But U.S. petroleum demand has been rising steadily each year; domestic production has stagnated, and officials say new demands can only be met by increased imports for the next few years, mainly from the Middle East.

If the Arabs decide not to increase production, the United States may have to conserve oil with increasing stringency until new U.S. energy resources can be developed.

On the other hand, if the Arabs make available unlimited oil imports, U.S. officials may still press fuel conservation to keep those imports down.

When the embargo struck last October, the United States depended on the Arabs for about 12 per cent of its petroleum, and the pinch hurt. It would hurt a lot more if a new embargo came after U.S. imports of Arab oil were allowed to reach 20 or 30 per cent.

That is why energy chief William E. Simon says his toughest job will be to carry through on present policies for fuel conservation and energy development after the embargo and, with it, the immediate emergency ends.

An end to the embargo would bring no relief at all to the problem of paying for foreign oil at the new, high prices.

Economic Education Center Scheduled In Permian Basin

Dr. Tom Holland, the executive director of the Texas Council on Economic Education, today announced formation of a center for economic education here.

The center will be jointly sponsored by UTPB, Midland College and Odessa College. Formation of the center was announced in Midland at a joint meeting of top representatives of the three colleges.

It will be one of five centers in the state and the only one in the nation which is jointly sponsored by both junior colleges and an upper level college, Holland said.

The major function of the center will be to inform public school teachers of both economic theory and teaching methods.

"You have to sell economic education," he explained. "You have to sell it as part of the social studies program."

The center will offer programs designed by the three Permian Basin educational institutions, Holland said.

"Each center is unique," he continued. "We don't tell you how to run it."

What the council will do is provide funds for summer workshops, assist in writing grant proposals, assist the center in program development.

$14.2 MILLION PAID— Kidnaped Man's Release Awaited

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Exxon's Argentine subsidiary says it expects Marxist guerrillas to release American refinery manager Victor Samuelson today following payment of a world record ransom of $14.2 million.

Esso Argentina announced Wednesday that the money had been delivered to the People's Revolutionary Army, the ERP. It said the final ransom demand would be fulfilled today with publication in Argentine newspapers of an advertisement stating that the ransom was "part of the super-earnings obtained in Argentina through exploitation of its workers."

Samuelson, 36, of Cleveland, Ohio, was kidnaped on Dec. 6. It was expected that he would be flown north soon after his release to join his wife and three children in the United States.

Esso's payment brought to about $20 million the total ransom collected by kidnapers this year in Argentina. The take in 1973 was more than $30 million, with most of it going to leftist guerrillas and much of it paid by foreign companies.

Tax Suit Names Richard Pryor

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Comedian-actor Richard Pryor has been indicted on charges of failing to file income tax returns for the years 1967 through 1970, the U.S. attorney's office says.

Pryor, who costarred with Diana Ross in "Lady Sings the Blues," made gross income of $250,000 during the four years, assistant U.S. Atty. Stephen V. Wilson said Wednesday.

An attorney for Pryor, 34, had no immediate comment on the action by a federal grand jury.

Italian Railroads Wrestling With Mounting Annual Deficit

By PIERO VALSECCI MILAN, Italy (AP) — Stretch your feet. Relax. Take the train in Italy.

A 400-mile second class trip from Milan to Rome still costs only $48. The same trip by car costs more than $20 in gas and tolls in Italy. A comparable train trip in Britain costs $15, in Holland and West Germany, $18.

But to provide this inexpensive service, Italy's state-controlled rail company goes into debt about $3 million a day.

And it probably won't be so inexpensive in the near future. To cut its deficit, the company first declared war on free riders — about 10,000 persons, many of them war veterans.

Thousands of others, mainly state employees, have discounts amounting to 80 per cent of the fare.

The company hopes that reducing the number of free riders and those with hefty discounts will bring in at least an extra million dollars a day.

In addition, the government is considering an undisclosed boost in prices for passengers and cargo. Over the same distance, trains are 50 per cent cheaper in Italy than in any other European nation.

Plans also call for replacing compartmentalized passenger cars with less expensive motor coaches which can carry more people.

A rail official in Milan notes that while passenger service requires a lot of personnel, pas-

Slain Man Identified As Prominent Mexican

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Sheriff's officers said a San Antonio friend late Wednesday night identified a man found slain on a deserted street as Roberto Ivan Arriaga, 26, of Cuernavaca, Mexico.

Authorities were told he was the son of a prominent Mexican industrialist and son-in-law of the governor in the Mexican state of Morelos.

Sheriff's Lt. Alfred Carreon said investigators learned these details: Arriaga arrived here Monday on a trip to buy machinery for his bookbinding plant in Cuernavaca, made several business contacts Tuesday and went nightclubbing that evening. He was carrying a large sum of money.

The body turned up in a neighborhood outside the northeast edge of San Antonio. Officers later found Arriaga's car abandoned at a point seven miles from that spot.

Arriaga had been shot and run over by a car. There were several casings for 25-caliber bullets in the vehicle and some blood on a seat.

Investigators theorized Arriaga was shot inside the car, jumped out and then his slayer used the automobile to run over

ON GOLAN HEIGHTS— Syrians, Israelis Fight For Third Straight Day

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Syrian and Israeli armor and artillery blazed away at each other on the Golan Heights for the third straight day today.

Syria said its forces knocked out two Israeli tanks and destroyed an Israeli arms depot in a 75-minute engagement. It said the clash began "when the enemy tried to fortify and improve his positions in the northern sector" of the 40-mile cease-fire line.

Syria said the Israelis suffered an unspecified number of casualties in the clash, but the Israeli military command reported no losses.

The command said the Syrians opened fire on Israeli positions near Mizrat Beit Jann, Haifa Haria and Tel Shams, and the fire was returned.

The action was in the northern sector of the territory Israel captured from Syria in the October war, where the front lines curve to within 23 miles of Damascus.

In Beirut, the pro-Syrian newspaper Al Shark reported today that Israel had dropped paratroopers on the slopes of Mt. Hermon after two days of heavy artillery duels on the Golan Heights below.

The paratroopers landed Wednesday afternoon shortly after a three-hour artillery exchange along the northern half of the 40-mile Syrian-Israeli

Henry Rothblatt, counsel for De Diego, a Miami realtor, told newsmen he intends to subpoena "every relevant witness."

Liddy was the last to arrive in the courtroom. In contrast to earlier appearances when he looked pale and gaunt, Liddy was tanned and fit. He was greeted enthusiastically by Barker, Martinez and De Diego.

All of the defense counsel indicated to U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell that they anticipated problems obtaining government records pertaining to the Ellsberg break-in. Gesell suggested they confer with the prosecutor's office before filing any motions.

Texaco Leader Blames Crisis On 'Governmental Tampering'

One of the nation's top oil executives blamed "governmental tampering" today for the nation's energy shortage and said a free market system is the only solution to the nationwide crisis.

"The existence of a supply problem today is no reason to dismantle the free market, free enterprise system that can help us find the answer tomorrow," said John McKinley, president of Texaco Inc.

His statement was before the Texas Railroad Commission which was meeting here to set the state's April oil production allowable.

The announcement of the allowable was delayed several hours because this meeting marked the annual visit of the oil executives to a commission meeting and there were numerous speeches.

"If the United States oil industry is to meet the great challenge of developing adequate supplies of domestic petroleum, it is vital that our government promptly take constructive actions that will permit the industry to press forward in its efforts to solve our

The list of known soldiers of the War of Independence has grown as historical research has progressed, Mrs. Martin said. Of the 34 which have been established through records, four are of particular interest to their descendants, now residents of Midland. Mrs. Solon P. Crain is descended from Alexander Hodge of South Carolina. He came to Texas with Stephen F. Austin's Old 300 and is buried at Hodge's Bend near Houston. Mrs. Robert K. Hudson is a descendant of Ben Clark, for whom Clarksville is named. He is buried in Red River County. Both Mrs. Crain and Mrs. Hudson are members of the Col. Theunis Dey Chapter.

Mrs. Robert Hanley is descended from Charles D. Blalock of North Carolina. He is buried in Grange Hill Cemetery near Marshall. Mrs. John Younger's Revolutionary War ancestor was Stephen Williams, who served three enlistments. He also served in the War of 1812 and the Texas Revolution. He is buried in Jasper County. Mrs. Hanley and Mrs. Younger are members of the Lt. William Brewer Chapter, DAR.

The chapter regent, Mrs. George VanHusen, presided. Mrs. Ben Black, chaplain, led the ritual.

New members introduced were Mrs. Elizabeth Holt and Mrs. George H. Glass, who transferred from other chapters. ### POLLY'S POINTERS

Vinegar Comes To The Rescue

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — I am a great user of vinegar and always keep a bottle on my kitchen shelf. I would like to know the difference between white and red vinegar. Can red vinegar be used for cleaning or will it leave a stain?

A vinegar-soaked rag wipes grease splatters off my stove better than anything else. Then I rub it with a dry cloth. My dog's plastic water dish gets covered with lime from our hard water. I let vinegar soak in the empty bowl and it comes right off. Before starting to use vinegar I could not even scrape the lime off with a knife. Now my dog always has a clean dish and if the lime builds up again out comes the vinegar bottle. — MARTHA

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with manufacturers of pressure cookers. After using one several years you still have a very good pot but cannot get a new rubber gasket for it since they have changed the models. — MRS. C. M.

DEAR POLLY — Do tell Laura that the next time she makes out an order to a catalog house she should place a clean sheet of typing paper and a carbon under the order blank. Pin them with straight pins so they do not slip. Add date and page number in catalog to the carbon copy only and leave it in the catalog for easy reference should something go wrong. — RUBY G.

DEAR POLLY — Those who have lots of dandruff showing and not time to wash their hair should cover the bristles of their hair brushes with nylon stockings. Tie the nylon on the back and cut off the excess. Brushing the hair with this eliminates dandruff and its embarrassment. Brushing with the nylon causes static so the dandruff clings to the nylon. — AMY

DEAR POLLY — We are a family of six. To comply with the energy crisis every time someone leaves a light on he has to put a five cent IOU in a basket. At the end of the month the person with the fewest IOUs collects all the money from the others. This really keeps those unnecessary lights turned off. — SHERYL

DEAR POLLY — I discovered that a carton egg comes in exactly fits in the egg container in my refrigerator. I just cut off the lid from a new carton, leave the eggs in it and put the carton in the egg holder. This eliminates any mess a broken egg might make. If several eggs are needed at one time I just lift out the carton, take it to my work area, and then replace it easily. — CATHERINE

Buddy Kirk Quits Comptroller's Race

AUSTIN (AP) — Buddy Kirk, who withdrew as a candidate for state comptroller today and said he would support Bob Bullock in the Democratic primary.

Kirk's withdrawal leaves Bullock, former secretary of state, and Hugh Edburg, the choice of Comptroller Robert Calvert, as candidates in that race.

Kirk, 47, had resigned as a district supervisor in the comptroller's office to run, alleging that Calvert had refused to allow him to pursue certain delinquent tax accounts.

Kirk said he talked to Bullock Saturday "about inequities in the comptroller's office, and his thinking is the same as mine—he would do away with inequities. He will do the job I would have done."

He said he would return the contributions to his campaign.

In a news conference announcing his withdrawal, Kirk released copies of a Houston Post story which said the comptroller's office attempted to transfer him from Houston after he had tried to collect taxes on yachts bought by wealthy Texans in Florida, then delivered to Texas.

It was then, Jan. 2, 1973, Kirk said, that he resigned from the comptroller's office. He said he was now selling real estate and had not talked to Bullock about a possible job, should Bullock be elected.

Kirk mentioned Calvert's endorsement of Edburg and said, "It follows that the present comptroller (Calvert) plans to get his man elected and that business would continue as usual."

He said he had written Calvert "many, many letters" urging him to file suit to enjoin those businesses who refused to pay taxes from operating, and "he would not do that."

Kirk also mentioned Edburg's statement Wednesday that, "generally speaking, the office of state comptroller has been run efficiently in the past."

"Generally just means you collect (taxes) and do what's easy to do," Kirk said.

Claim That Lone Terrorist Could Make Atomic Bomb From Stolen Material Hit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission discounted Wednesday a nuclear physicist's claim that a lone terrorist could construct a crude atomic bomb using stolen fissionable material.

"What is easy to one person who understands the details can be very difficult to someone else," AEC Chairman Dixy Lee Ray told a Senate government operations subcommittee.

"A person would have to know very well what he was doing," Dr. Ray testified.

She expressed doubt that a terrorist could find necessary plutonium or uranium to build a bomb.

E. B. Giller, the AEC's national security chief, said, however, it is conceivable that a "competent group" of terrorists could make such an A-bomb.

Giller also conceded that the AEC cannot be sure that 220 pounds of uranium unaccounted for over a five-year period at a Pennsylvania facility had not been stolen.

He said experts have concluded it is likely that the shortage actually resulted from the manufacturing process or that an error was made in measurements.

The AEC officials were questioned about testimony Tuesday by Dr. Theodore B. Taylor, who designed nuclear weapons at the AEC's Los Alamos laboratories.

Taylor told the panel that a terrorist able to obtain 15 pounds of plutonium could build a crude bomb small enough to transport in a car but capable of killing tens of thousands and of destroying the U.S. Capitol.

Pointing to unexplained disappearances of plutonium and other fissionable material, the physicist said:

"The use of nuclear energy to generate electric power at rates now projected by the AEC would result in very large domestic and foreign flows of materials that can be used to make nuclear weapons."

Oil Executive Says It's Still Not Yet Clear If Rationing Can Be Avoided

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A Western Hemisphere Division Continental Oil Co. executive said today it is not yet clear whether federal gasoline rationing can be avoided.

"Frankly, I hope it can, for years," he said.

Speaking at the Texas Railroad Commission's annual hearing, Glenn said the most obvious help add one gallon to available gas is to increase recovery from known reservoirs.

The president of Continental's

ON GUARDING PRIVACY— Panel Told Bills Would Curb Papers' Right To Publish Criminal Records

WASHINGTON (AP) — A panel in no way going to tell our newspaper's traditional freedom to obtain and print criminal records would be curbed severely by proposed bills aimed at guarding individual privacy, a Senate panel has been told.

Spokesman for three national news-media associations advised caution Wednesday in the consideration of bills intended to protect the right to privacy by restricting access to the national computerized criminal records maintained by the FBI.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., chairman of the constitutional rights subcommittee, said such information would remain available from court records and from what individual policemen choose to tell reporters.

All three panelists disagreed and John R. Finnegan, chairman of the Freedom of Information Committee of The Associated Press Managing Editors Association told Ervin:

"I believe this legislation would discourage any cooperation that we now have in getting access to public records... That policeman is E. L. Houchins reported.

formed its "journalistic job" had not arrest and conviction records been available.

The public interest is involved in criminal records from the beginning to the end, Anderson said.

Both the Ervin and the administration bills propose that certain conviction records be sealed after the passage of specific periods of time, during which no further offense has been committed.

The Ervin bill would eliminate from the computer all records of arrests that were not followed by prosecution. It also would limit access to the computerized information to criminal justice agencies.

"The present recovery rate averages about 31 per cent," he said, adding that it is realistic to shoot for 50 per cent recovery rate within 15 years if free market prices encourage development of better recovery methods.

He said an increase to a 50 per cent average would mean the addition of more than 80 billion barrels of crude oil to domestic proved reserves.

"That is almost as much oil as was produced in the United States in the 100 years following the Drake well discovery in 1859," he said.

"Furthermore, competitive prices will spur the search for new petroleum reserves and make possible the development of indigenous synthetic fuels from coal and shale," he said.

Glenn said gasoline inventories have been edging up in recent weeks and now are about four per cent above the level of a year ago.

"In addition, there probably is a significant volume of motor fuel in storage on farms and in the fuel tanks of vehicles on the road that cannot be accurately determined," he said.

"It is an anomaly of the present situation that although gasoline stocks are rising, shortages exist in many parts of the country because of the distribution problems inherent in the allocation program."

Glenn said crude oil inventories, both nationally and in Texas, are at unsatisfactory levels but that distillate stocks are expected to end the season well above minimum desired levels as a result of a relatively warm winter and a high level of refinery production.

Pat Ends Three-Day Visit To Venezuela's Festivities

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Pat Nixon today wound up a three-day visit to Venezuela's presidential inauguration festivities and headed south for another inaugural, the installation of Gen. Ernesto Geisel in Brazil.

The First Lady of the United States wished her Venezuelan host, President Carlos Andres Perez, success in his "arduous tasks ahead" and invited him to Washington for a state visit. Mrs. Nixon said Perez and his wife were "very thrilled" by the invitation and accepted, but no date was arranged.

Her last day in Caracas included a hectic round of activities, including a two-hour inaugural military parade that included jet planes screaming overhead and rank after rank of soldiers in a high-kicking goosestep past the presidential reviewing stand.

Mrs. Nixon also got some of the flavor of Venezuelan cultural life when she visited a museum of colonial art and watched the famous Yolanda Moreno troupe of folk dancers in a colorful performance.

When they gave her a native orchid and other gifts and told her they hoped she would come back again, Mrs. Nixon replied: "If you don't watch out, I may not leave your country."

In a farewell statement, Mrs. Nixon congratulated the government and the people of Venezuela "for the magnificent demonstration of a free democracy in action which we, and all the world, have been fortunate enough to witness here."

She particularly congratulated the Venezuelan press, saying it "daily demonstrates that real democracy flourishes in Venezuela."

The last time Mrs. Nixon was in the country, on a vice-presidential visit with her husband in 1968, the Nixon's car was attacked and spat on by an angry mob.

Overturned Truck Leads To Massive Marijuana Seizure

BASTROP, Tex. (AP) — State troopers say an overturned truck at the intersection of a private road and the Old Elgin Road in Bastrop County led to the seizure of an estimated 12,000 pounds of marijuana.

Col. Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said it may be the largest haul of marijuana made by police in the state's history.

Speir said the truck and trailer overturned Wednesday morning and the driver fled.

Troopers opened the trailer to save the refrigerated cargo listed as pineapples and cabbage. Speir said. They found the marijuana behind the legal vegetables and fruit.

Officers estimated value of the baled weeds in excess of $1 million on underworld markets. It appeared to be the Mexican type, troopers said.

DPS narcotics agents launched a full-scale probe into the incident, Speir said.

West Virginia Coal Miners Vote To Return To Work

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Coal miners at a number of southern West Virginia pits have voted to return to work today, but it is still uncertain whether a 17-day old work stoppage is coming to an end.

The decision of some to go back to work followed an announcement Wednesday by Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr. that he will suspend for 30 days a rule prohibiting service stations from selling fuel to any motorist whose tank was more than one-quarter full.

Richard Carter, president of United Mine Workers union District 29, said he believed "there is a back-to-work movement." But he said no one could be certain until later today.

All 18 locals in Logan County four in Raleigh County and one in Wyoming County voted to return to work.

Some miners returned to work Wednesday afternoon. Complicating the situation was the wounding late Tuesday night of three persons allegedly picketing at a McDowell County Mine. One of those wounded was in critical condition.

The miners walked off their jobs in protest of a shortage of gasoline, complicated by Moore's quarter-tank rule. The miners said they could not buy enough gasoline to commute to their jobs.

At the peak of the walkout, some 27,000 miners were idle. The walkout cut sharply into the production of metallurgical coal.

There were some lay-offs in the steel industry and by railroads serving the coal fields. Steel spokesmen said lay-offs would increase if the coal walkout continued.

Young Man Held For Nixon Threat

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A young Milwaukee, Wis., man, charged with threatening the life of President Nixon, was in jail today under $100,000 bond.

The U.S. Secret Service filed a complaint in U.S. Magistrate's Court charging Allen Lee Schwulst, 23, who authorities said was absent without leave from an Oregon army post.

According to the complaint, Schwulst said in the presence of a Secret Service agent: "I wish to state that, if given the opportunity, I would go to Washington, D.C., and kill the President myself."

Authorities said Schwulst was arrested at the San Antonio airport Tuesday as the soldier was coming into San Antonio from Guadalajara, Mexico. Schwulst appeared Wednesday before U.S. Magistrate Frank Baskin, who set bond.

Amtrak Train Arrives In Dallas Late

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Long-awaited passenger train service into Dallas appeared stymied for awhile late Wednesday but Amtrak said it obtained a temporary restraining order in federal court that would allow the service to operate.

Dallas' first train in years arrived after 8 a.m., delayed almost an hour from its 7:30 a.m. scheduled arrival. Celebrations along the route caused the delay.

The dispute involves Missouri Pacific's demand for liability coverage different from that in effect between other railroads and Amtrak, the national passenger service.

The train, the Inter-American, began its service Wednesday between St. Louis, Mo., and Laredo with intermediate stops at 13 cities in Arkansas and Texas.

The MP threatened that when the train reached Texarkana, Ark., the Texas & Pacific would not operate the train further. MP owns most T&P stock.

Amtrak asked the U.S. District Court of Western Missouri in Kansas City "to preserve the status quo to prevent irreparable injury to Amtrak and the public until the controversy could be settled in arbitration."

The court issued the orders and scheduled a hearing Friday.

The train is made up in St. Louis, goes through Texarkana to Marshall and Dallas and Fort Worth to San Antonio and on to Laredo where it makes connections with the Mexican National Railways for the journey to Mexico City.

Southbound trains reach Dallas three times a week—on Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays. Northbound from Laredo, they leave on Sundays, Tuesdays and Fridays and reach Dallas about 12 hours later.

Coach fares from St. Louis to Dallas will be $30.50 and $20 from Dallas to Laredo. A roomette on the Dallas-Laredo run will be $30.50 and $55.25 on the St. Louis-Dallas route.

Last November, Congress approved legislation authorizing service over the new route. Since that time, preparations have been going on to ready the stations provide equipment and crews and set down schedules and fares.

On Feb. 20, Amtrak officially asked the Missouri Pacific to operate the new train under a contract agreement of April 1971 in accordance with the 1973 Amtrak Improvement Act.

Amtrak said its officials and those Missouri Pacific have agreed to numerous undertakings since then.

Former Milk Cooperative Official Admits Illegal Political Contribution To Democrats

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Dwight L. Morris, a former dairy cooperative official who says he was told of a deal to kill an antitrust suit in return for a $300,000 donation to the Nixon campaign, has admitted he once gave illegal political donations to Democrats.

Morris, onetime secretary of the Texas-based Associated Milk Producers Inc., said under cross-examination Wednesday that he gave $2,000 to former President Lyndon B. Johnson, and $1,000 to the 1968 presidential campaign of Hubert H. Humphrey.

He said he was reimbursed out of the cooperative's treasury. Such reimbursements are a violation of federal campaign spending laws. Morris' lawyer, John Elrod, said Morris cannot be prosecuted for the donations because time under the statute of limitations has expired. Morris' admission came as Patrick O'Brien, a Chicago lawyer for the milk producers, tried to shake Morris' tale of a deal to kill the lawsuit.

But Morris, 55, a cattle farmer from Siloam Springs, Ark., stuck to his story. He said the cooperative's president, John E. Butterbrodt, told him in 1972 that Nixon fund raiser Herbert L. Kalmbach had said the government's antitrust suit would "go away" if the dairymen came up with $300,000. Butterbrodt also said the deal had fallen through, Morris testified.

Butterbrodt has denied Morris' testimony publicly. Lawyers for the cooperative have scrapped tentative plans to let Butterbrodt repeat the denial under oath.

Morris' admission of the reimbursed donations came at the end of testimony given in a pretrial proceeding in the antitrust case.

U.S. District Court Judge John W. Oliver questioned whether the $3,000 in illegal donations has any bearing on Morris' truthfulness.

"If you want to make an argument that everyone in the dairy industry who makes a political contribution that's reimbursed is not to be believed, you're going to leave me with very few witnesses," the judge told O'Brien.

Morris had indicated in his testimony that such illegal donations had been common among fellow co-op officials.

Barrow's Parole Revocation Upheld

AUSTIN — The request by Steve Barrow of Lamesa to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals for a hearing in his probation revocation has been refused.

Barrow was on five years probation for a burglary conviction in 1972 when he inflicted more than $2,000 damage to a tractor at a farm near Stanton.

His revocation had been revoked on a charge of malicious mischief.

The appeals court Feb. 20 had upheld the revocation of Barrow's probation by the district court in Dawson County.

Two Children Injured By Car

Stanley Wayne Akin was listed in satisfactory condition at the same hospital. He has fractures of an arm and a leg.

Police said the two children were crossing the street at the intersection when they were struck by a car driven by Janette May Crabtree, 21, also of Odessa.

Midland, Lee Swimmers In AAAA State Meet

Bulldog Boys Entry Has Shot At Crown

The Midland High and Lee swim teams head for Austin's Gregory Gym on The University of Texas Campus this weekend for the huge state swimming meet, and both figure to have teams that can compete for state trophies.

Midland won top spots in both the boys and girls competition in the regional meet two weeks ago in Odessa while Lee was the runnerup in both. Their point totals allowed both teams a good representation in the state meet.

The Midland boys appear to have the best shot at winning the team crown in Austin with two strong relay units. Coach

3:56.0 Lee's relay will consist of Janis Ottman, Susan Bateman, June Scooby and Janie Tope while Midland will have Mary Dowdle, Georgann Mayes, Cathy Maccurdy and Wendy White.

Lee Coach Dennis Brittain will send Miss Ottman, Miss Bateman, Diane Hartman and Miss Tope in the medley relay while Midland will counter with Miss Dowdle, Miss Mayes, Miss Maccurdy and Sandra Spears.

Miss Scooby is considered a big threat in the 200 free and 500 free for Lee and Dru Shaw will be in the 200 IM and 100 breast. Miss Bateman and Miss Tope will both be in the 100 free.

Midland's Mary Dowdle has the fastest qualifying time in the state meet in the 50 free while Miss Spears will be a threat in the 100 breast. Debbie Freshour will be in the 200 free and Miss Maccurdy will be in the 50 free. Susan Wemple and Tina Farris will be the Midland diving unit.

Coach Brittain and Coach Marsh both feel that San Antonio MacArthur will be the team to beat in the girls competition along with Houston Bell Air and San Antonio Alamo Heights. Coach Brittain feels that his girls could possibly win a state title with some luck while Marsh says that his girls will have a chance if Midland can win the medley relay.

Dallas W. T. White and Houston Spring Branch are favored in the boys competition, but Midland is given an even shot at winning the team crown. MacArthur and Clear Lake both will have tough teams.

The diving competition begins at 2 p.m. Friday with swimming preliminaries at 7 p.m. while the Saturday finals are slated for 2 p.m.

Jesse Marsh will have seven individuals in the boys competition with Kent Fouting and Tommy Conner going along as alternates.

Midland's free relay will be made up of Tim Dowdle, Tommy Hart, Karl Scholl and Danny Cerf while Dowdle, Cerf, Sean O'Neill and Russell Gunn will comprise the medley relay squad. Both teams are expected to do well.

Gunn is also expected to be a strong threat in the 100 breast while Hart and Cerf are expected to fair well in the 100 fly and 100 back respectively. Hugh White is one of the state's best divers.

Dowdle will be in the 200 IM and O'Neill will join Cerf in the 100 back.

Lee will have Kirk Smith in the diving while Brad Swendig and Kerry Freedman will each be in the 200 IM and 500 free.

The Lee girls will feature a strong free relay team as well Midland, but this is an event in which six teams are expected to earn all-American consideration times of better than

UCLA Tries Dayton Tonight In NCAA Playoffs

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

The heavyweights come out fighting tonight in Round Two of the NCAA basketball playoffs.

Sixteen of the nation's best college teams, including that old smoothie UCLA, will battle toe-to-toe in arenas across the country.

UCLA, nine-time winner of the national championship, is favored to score a knockout over Dayton's muscled independents in one of the Far West regional games.

In the other one at Tucson, Ariz., it's Western Athletic Conference winner New Mexico vs. San Francisco, king of the West Coast Athletic Conference Kansas, the Big Eight champion, meets independent toughie Creighton, while Missouri Valley Conference champ Louisville takes on Oral Roberts, another nonleague team with punch, in the Midwest in Tulsa, Okla.

In the Midwest at Tuscaloosa, Ala., independent Notre Dame faces Michigan, the Big Ten winner, and independent Marquette challenges Vanderbilt, winner of the Southeastern Conference.

The East regionals at Raleigh, N. C., matches independent Pitt against Southern Conference champion Furman and independent Providence with North Carolina State, the Atlantic Coast Conference champion.

While many of the other teams played first-round games last Saturday, UCLA and North Carolina State were busy settling their own conference races. The Pac-8 and ACC traditionally draw first-round byes in the playoffs.

Michigan and Indiana tied for the Big Ten title at the end of the regular season Saturday and the Wolverines won an NCAA berth by beating the Hoosiers in a playoff game Monday night.

Dayton will be an interesting test for UCLA, a team that obviously is not the superteam of past years. The third-ranked Bruins have been beaten three times this season, the first time that's happened in eight years.

The Flyers best second-ranked Notre Dame by 15 points earlier this season. The Fighting Irish stopped UCLA's fabulous 88-game winning streak last January.

The second game of the Far West regional features a battle of teams with muscle and inside power.

Kansas, whose Big Eight Conference also drew a first-round bye, takes on a tough Creighton bunch that beat highly-regarded Marquette, among others, during the regular season. Oral Roberts, a high-powered scoring machine, will be playing on its home court against Louisville.

Notre Dame is favored against Michigan, but Fighting Irish Coach Dick Phelps isn't impressed by the favorite's role.

Sunday Shoot
The Permian Basin Rifle and Pistol Club will begin the 1974 shooting season with an 1800 pistol match Sunday. The matches are held the third Sunday of each month from March through November at the Gun Club on Farm Road 1213.

Rayford Woods is the Pistol Range officer.

Golf Tourney Continues in District 5-4A

ABILENE — Second round action of the District 5-4A golf race will unfold at 9 a.m. here Friday at the Maxwell golf course with all teams taking aim on the five-stroke San Angelo Bobcat lead.

The Bobcats fired a 297 team score in the first round last week in San Angelo to grab the early lead, but Permian and Cooper are just five strokes off the pace.

San Angelo made good use of its home course last week, but will have to protect their lead on foreign soil this time around. If the home course holds any advantage, the Cooper Dougars should rate the best chance at catching the leaders.

Both Midland and Lee will be looking for stronger performances this week, and both are still very much in the running. Lee stands in fourth after one week of play, 15 strokes off the pace while Midland owns a 317 for fifth place, 20 strokes back.

San Angelo's Grant Collyns leads in the medalist chase with a 71 in the first round, but Midland's Doug Hughston and San Angelo's Mark Mattingly are close behind with 73. Permian's George Garms has a 74 along with David Gage of Cooper and Lee's Montie Watson is still in the fight with a 75.

Midland's second unit stands 13th in the standings with a 347 while Lee's second squad is in last with a 357.

Chastain Makes Prep All-America

Lamesa tackle Trip Chastain has been chosen to appear in the 1973-74 Prep All-America Football Yearbook as picked by Coach and Athlete Magazine.

Chastain played on the regional champion Golden Tornadoes, a team that finished the season with a 12-1 mark. Chastain will play college ball for West Texas State University.

Chastain's selection makes him eligible for judging in the Prep All-America Football National Awards, Prep 100 Squad, Super Eleven Team and Cum Laude, which will be announced in the March issue of Coach & Athlete.

Lamesa's Bob Kilgore, a guard, was selected earlier.

REDS MAKE BIG TRADES—

Frustrated Cincy Hopes For Top Year

By NORM CLARKE

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Heralded as one of baseball's best teams, but hounded by four years of frustration, the Cincinnati Reds try, try again in 1974. "Win it all" was the trumpeting call from combative field leader Pete Rose, the National League's Most Valuable Player last season.

Johnny Bench ... to try again

The Reds' 99 victories led the majors in 1973 but the Big Red Machine ran into another postseason roadblock, losing to the New York Mets in the playoffs. Determined to shed the disappointments of two World Series setbacks, the collapse of 1971 and last year's abbreviated bid, President Bob Howsam staged a minor winter overhaul.

He traded off disgruntled outfielder Bobby Tolson for right-hander Clay Kirby, the San Diego Padres' winningest pitcher, and peddled starter Ross Grimsley to the Baltimore Orioles for seasoned veteran outfielder Merv Rettenmund.

The result, Howsam hopes, was reinforcement against the vulnerability of past short-series failures. Power Again

And most agree the Reds loom again as the Western Division power. But there are question marks.

Is catcher Johnny Bench ready to bounce back after an off-year? Can Clay Carroll regain his relief pitching magic? Is Gary Nolan's career finished at age 25?

Manager George "Sparky" Anderson echoes renewed optimism. "I'm not afraid to say it. We should win everything this year."

Emerging as chief candidates to lead a breakthrough assault in 1974 are pitchers Jack Billingham and Don Gullett, who combined for 37 victories last year.

ers. With Walton polling the most votes, the two front-court players scored by a wide margin over Shumate, the third best vote-getter. Wilkes outscored Barnes by an eyelash.

Walton, sometimes as mystifying as he is celebrated, was a tower of strength for the powerful Bruins this year.

Despite a gimpy knee, UCLA's most famous cripple helped the Bruins run their spectacular winning streak to 88 games halfway through the season. Even when losing to Notre Dame in the streak-breaker, he played with injury—and played well.

Thompson, the only non-senior on the first team, was played to a standstill by Wilkes earlier in the season when UCLA beat North Carolina State in their "game of the year." But the flashy forward came back from that performance with All-America class.

The high-leaping Thompson, easily the best player in the Atlantic Coast Conference, brought the 'Pack back from that disastrous showing against UCLA to the top of the college basketball world.

Wilkes, termed "Silk" for his poetic grace, breathed fresh life into UCLA after the Bruins' inexplicable, two-game losing streak at Oregon and Oregon State. Shumate, a muscular center with a great outside shot, led Notre Dame's resurgence this season. And Barnes, a workhorse under the basket, was the primary reason for Providence's berth in the NCAA playoffs.

The AP's Second Team consists of Maryland's John Lucas; Larry Fogie of Carolina; North Carolina's Bobby Jones; Len Elmore of Maryland, and Billy Knight of Pitt.

The third team: Dennis DuVal of Syracuse; Tom McMillen of Maryland; Hawaii's Tom Henderson; North Carolina State's Tom Burleson and Campy Russell of Michigan.

Longhorns Lose Roosevelt Leaks

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — All-American fullback Roosevelt Leaks of the University of Texas undergoes surgery today to repair ligaments in his right knee torn during spring football drills.

A team spokesman said Leaks is "very doubtful" for next fall because of the lengthy rehabilitation process required after such operations.

Doctors at the student health center will perform the surgery, the spokesman said.

A tackle in the Southwest Conference meeting of Texas and Texas A&M last Thanksgiving Day sprained Leaks' other knee, but he had recovered.

Billingham, 19-10, became a stopper after a so-so 44-44 career record and Gullett came on with a flurry, winning nine straight down the stretch.

The experience of Rose, Bench, slick-fielding second baseman Joe Morgan and slugging first baseman Tony Perez lends maturity. The sometimes-sputtering pitching staff seems stabilized with the acquisition of ex-Padres' Fred Norman and Kirby.

Anderson's chief concern lies with youngsters Dan Driessen and Ken Griffey, who responded to pennant pressures with amazing poise. They will need to deliver the depth.

Arm Troubles

Nolan's arm continues to plague him with pain. The outlook is dim and more surgery is likely. But his loss for a second straight season could be offset by Roger Nelson's healed arm.

Shortstop Dave Concepcion, who carried the Reds during a first-half slump, stroked a run-scoring single in his spring debut. That could signal he is ready to take up where he left off before breaking an ankle at mid-season.

Barring an injury, Rose appears headed for a 10th consecutive .300 season. The 32-year-old Reds' captain anchors left field and largely accounts for the winning spirit with his stirring hustle.

West Texas Relays Set

ODESSA — Coach Sam Volpe's Midland Lee Rebels and Edwin Nixon's Midland Bulldogs join a slim field of only six teams in the annual West Texas Relays in W. T. Barrett Stadium Friday and Saturday.

Pack, Rebels Entered

Midland and Lee will compete against El Paso Austin, Odessa Permian, Odessa and San Angelo in the Class AAAA Division of the meet. The fuel shortage has cut into the field all the way around in AAA and AA Divisions along with the Junior College Division. Monahans, Kermit, Fort Stockton, Odessa Ector and Seminole are in the AAA Division while in AA the entries are Stanton, Crane, Coahoma, Denver City, Post, Tahoka and Jal. N.M.

Only five junior colleges are competing this year with Odessa College, Ranger College, South Plains, New Mexico and Cisco entered.

Lee surprised both Permian and San Angelo three weeks ago in the Comanche Relays in Fort Stockton and the Rebels hope to give the Panthers and Bobcats a run for the money again this week, but will be weakened in three events with sprinter Jimmy O'Neal out with a pulled hamstring muscle. O'Neal is a strong runner in the 220 along with the sprint and mile relays. He came up lame last weekend in the El Paso Irvin meet and at the time was winning the 220 when he suffered his injury.

The Rebels finished second behind powerful El Paso Burges in the Irvin Meet. Preliminaries begin at 1 p.m. Friday in the Class AAAA pole vault along with AAA high jump and long jump getting the competition underway.

Saturday's session gets underway early at 8:30 a.m. when the Division AA pole vault starts along with high jump, shot put and long jump. The final event begins at 5:05 p.m. in a special sophomore sprint medley relay.

Volpe is counting upon junior Milton Jones to score well in the shot put and discus along with pole vaulters Randy Lewis and Paul Mladenka. Both had 13-6 last week with Mladenka winning with fewer misses.

Jones heaved the shot 57-1/2 and is in the top 10 in the state in that department and should have some duel with San Angelo's Frank Myers who has a 58-9 this year.

Midland High's Steve Reddell skipped over the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.7 last week for a second place finish in El Paso and his competition should come from Odessa Permian's Steve King who has a 14.2.

Sam Zachery could pick up some points for Nixon in the shot put while Larry Munson hopes to score for the Bulldogs in the 330-yard intermediate hurdles and 120 high.

Mike Reavis of Lee should score in the mile run, but El Paso Austin's Ruben Dominguez has a time of 4:27.7, second best in the state to date and Austin's Juan Rios has a clocking of 1:57.1 in the 800 and is favored there.

San Angelo and Permian should battle it out for top honors with Lee right in there while Odessa Ector is loaded and a heavy choice to win the AAA Division.

Stanton is favored in the AA Division while New Mexico Junior College draws the favorite role in the Junior College Division.

Goodrich Sparks Los Angeles Win

By FRED ROTHENBERG AP Sports Writer

Little Gail Goodrich sat slumped in the Los Angeles locker room after carrying the weight of the Laker offense for the second night in a row.

At 6-foot-1 and 175 pounds, Goodrich has not only been the highest scoring Laker, he's also the most durable.

"Gail Goodrich is just a great offensive player," said Los Angeles Coach Bill Sharman after the Lakers beat the Philadelphia 76ers 121-100 in the National Basketball Association Wednesday night. "And he's the only starter who has been in every game this year."

Goodrich scored 34 points Tuesday night to rally the Lakers to a victory over the Knicks, then popped in 38 points 24 hours later to guide Los Angeles to its 11th victory in its last 13 games.

Elsewhere in the NBA, the Boston Celtics downed the Phoenix Suns 104-97 and the Houston Rockets dumped the Capital Bullets 117-93.

The way things are going the Lakers may be forced to go with a one-guard offense and Goodrich's the one.

All-Pro guard Jerry West, out with an abdominal injury, has missed 44 games this season and won't be ready until the playoffs. Tuesday night in New York, substitute guard Pat Riley bruised his right sacroiliac and didn't play against the 76ers. And Wednesday night, West's replacement in the starting lineup, Jim Price, left the game in the third period with a sprained ankle.

Goodrich wasn't hitting his shot in the first half, but Price was, tossing in 18 of his 20 points in the first two quarters.

But the lithe lefty from UCLA was tough in the third quarter when he scored 18 points.

Walton, Thompson Headline All-America Basketball Team

By KEN RAPPOPORT

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Walton and David Thompson, the premier players on two of America's premier teams, were named today to the Associated Press All-America basketball team for 1974.

Walton, UCLA's golden center, and the graceful Thompson from North Carolina State scored big in the voting by sports writers and broadcasters from around the country.

Joining Walton and Thompson on the AP's glamour team are UCLA's Keith Wilkes, John Shumate of Notre Dame and Providence's Marvin Barnes.

Walton, the most publicized collegian since the days of Lew Alcindor, made the star-studded team for the third straight year. Thompson, often termed the best forward in the country and a sure-fire professional star, was voted on the first team for the second straight season, his junior year.

Wilkes, one of the smartest and smoothest forwards in the country, was on the AP's Second Team last season. Barnes, the nation's leading rebounder with almost 19 a game this year, was an Honorable Mention last year. This is a first-time for Shumate, the big wheel in Notre Dame's high-powered offense.

Walton and Thompson, darlings of the professional scouts, were also darlings of the voters.

Permian Basin Gets Sites For 22 Wildcats, 57 Field Projects

Locations staked for oil and gas tests in the Permian Basin last week totaled 78. Twenty-two wildcats and 57 field wells were scheduled.

The count decreased 14 from the 93 applications filed two weeks ago, including 26 wildcats and 67 field wells.

District 7-C of the Texas Railroad Commission recorded the largest number of exploratory tests, with eight scheduled. District 8 accounted for seven, and District 8-A, five. District 9 again led in pool development with 25 applications filed for the second consecutive week.

Two wildcats and six field wells were scheduled in Southeast New Mexico. Two weeks ago five exploratory applications were received.

Indian Inventor Counting On Charcoal Pit To Solve His Energy Crisis

CALCUTTA, India (AP) — A self-taught Indian automotive engineer is counting on a charcoal pit attached to the rear of his 1964 Studebaker to help him beat the energy crisis. He hopes the gadget — made out of metal pipes and three metal tanks — will make him a rich man.

"No problem whatsoever," said Abanindra Nath Ghosh of the charcoal-burning sedan. "Once you start the car in the morning, it will give you the same performance you get from gasoline." The device's central tank, larger than the other two, is the heart of the system, and the one Ghosh fires off each morning with a burning newspaper. The other two tanks are filters to eliminate impurities in the carbon monoxide gas given off by the burning charcoal. The gas is again filtered in the engine before reaching a special carburetor. Ghosh has invented to burn carbon monoxide. A water compartment in the central tank protects the car's finish from the simmering heat of the tank's 44 pounds of wood charcoal. One tankful, which costs about one dollar in India, lasts in the 25-horsepower engine for 60 miles, Ghosh said.

Ghosh said he perfected the idea from charcoal burning systems used extensively in India during World War II, when the country and the world faced oil shortages similar to the current scarcity. "The units used in those days had some drawbacks — and to start the vehicle you needed some petrol," Ghosh said. "My unit does not need petrol at all. It is wholly powered by charcoal gas, even when starting in the morning." With Ghosh behind the wheel outside his family's thatched house in suburban Calcutta, his son rolled up a page from a newspaper and lighted it. He rammed the burning paper into a pipe beneath the central tank, and within seconds smoke began wafting from the top of the tank. A detachable bellows was put inside the tank will keep burning during the whole day, and about one minute later thick black smoke billowed out. Ghosh's son closed the tank's lid, and the inventor started the engine with a special starter, embedded in the dashboard beside the regular starter. "From now on the charcoal torch or the blowing will no longer be necessary," Ghosh said.

Prosecutors Finish First Part Of Carr-Osorio Case

DALLAS (AP) — Federal prosecutors have completed the first segment of their stock fraud case against two former high Texas officials and say they may complete all arguments next week.

The trial before U.S. District Court Judge William M. Taylor Jr. recessed until Monday, but the Wednesday session was marked by a sharp exchange between U.S. Atty. Robert Malony and former Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr over a controversial power-of-attorney letter.

Carr, former Texas insurance commissioner John Osorio, and Dallas businessman David Hoover are being tried for stock fraud and conspiracy in an outgrowth of the 1971 Sharpstown investigations.

The government indictment says Carr and Osorio misrepresented controlling stock from RIC International Industries, Inc. in 1969-70 and without registering it used it to obtain cash loans from several Texas banks.

Carr, who maintains he was not involved in the RIC stock transactions, began to cross-examine government witness Gerald B. Ormand about a letter which gave Ormand and Tom Max Thomas power to act for Carr and Osorio in negotiations for a loan for the National Banker's Life Insurance Co.

Ormand and Thomas, both former law partners of Carr and Osorio, were dismissed from the government indictment in return for their testimony.

But prosecutor Malony objected to Carr's cross-examination and accused him of "speech-making" in front of the jury.

Judge Taylor ordered the jury out of the court as attorneys from both sides rose to join the verbal fracas.

Taylor then ruled that Carr could continue to ask about the background of the letter, but not the intent.

Under cross-examination, Ormand said Carr had never been involved in the RIC-secured loan transactions. He said Osorio had directed all such banks into accepting the stock as collateral. But Osorio's attorney, Emmet Colvin, told the jury that removal of the restrictive legend was "not illegal per se."

Connecticut School Chaplain Different Breed Of Nun

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — Dorothy Stagnus does not want to be put on a pedestal because she's a nun. "The new image I want to get across is that I am available to you when it is best for you and not the old thought that people couldn't call you after 10 o'clock," said Sister Dorothy, the first nun in the Bridgeport diocese to become involved in campus ministry. An assistant chaplain at the University of Bridgeport, she prefers the option of wearing secular clothing in her role as a new breed of church woman. "I was not the type of kid you would think of as entering the convent. I was active and outgoing at a time when people entering were usually thought of as quiet and academic," she recalled.

A Providence, R.I., native, the daughter of a policeman and a school teacher, Sister Stagnus decided on campus ministry while working for a master's degree at Southern Connecticut State College. In an interview, she talked of the "false image of the past" when nuns were thought to be better than others and "put on a pedestal."

The women's liberation movement has touched her life, she said, along with changes made by the Vatican II council. The changes in the church demand a different kind of woman in religious life than those who entered in the past, she said. The scheduled life of the past is gone and the new breed of sister "is a woman who needs to be aware of changes in the world, but still the woman of the past with a desire to serve the Lord."

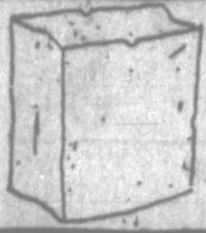

At the university, some people call her sister and some use her first name. She says the faculty is pleasantly surprised with her approach to ministry. And she finds students "warm and receptive."

Students, she said, "see me more as a woman of service to them, and I feel I can alleviate any barriers that might arise from my being a sister."

Sister Dorothy wants to become an extraordinary minister of the church, as which she will be able to distribute the Eucharist when the priest or deacon is sick.

A nun for 11 years, she is a member of the order of the Sisters of Notre Dame de Namur in Fairfield, but she lives near the university campus with three other sisters.

Ehrlichman Lone Defendant In Ellsberg Break-In Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — John D. Ehrlichman is left as the lone defendant in the California portion of the Ellsberg break-in case.

He is scheduled to stand trial next month on a charge of lying to a county grand jury.

Superior Court Judge Gordon Ringer dismissed burglary and conspiracy charges against Ehrlichman and two others Wednesday in favor of federal prosecution but granted a prosecution request to pursue the Ehrlichman perjury charge.

The charges involved a break-in at the Beverly Hills office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist, Dr. Lewis Fielding.

Ellsberg, a former government researcher, leaked the secret Pentagon papers study of the Vietnam war to the news media.

Ringer's ruling came after prosecutor Stephen Trott said the perjury charge "involves a separate and independent assault upon the integrity of the Los Angeles County Grand Jury."

Trott said the perjury charge "will not be vindicated in the federal prosecution."

However, he requested and was granted dismissal of the other counts against Ehrlichman, G. Gordon Liddy and David R. Young Jr.

Attorneys for Liddy and Ehrlichman contended the dismissal was engineered by state and federal officials to move the case to Washington where convictions would be more likely.

Trott denied it, saying, "Some of the issues at the heart of this case involve matters primarily of national interest and would therefore be appropriately decided in the federal court system."

Ehrlichman, Liddy and four others were indicted in Washington last week on federal charges of conspiring to violate Fielding's civil rights. Ehrlichman was also charged with four counts of lying to the FBI and grand jury in Washington.

The investigation had been going on for more than a year, there were no changes, it was completely without merit and it was a personal vendetta and harassment of him. He wanted to find a way for a conference and settlement.

"Mr. Stans at one point said, 'I can't help you in this but let's see if we can get you an appointment with Mr. Mitchell.'"

Richardson said Vesco went to Mitchell's office after leaving Stans, but the witness did not know if the two saw each other. Afterwards, Richardson said he told Vesco that his six-figure campaign pledge was "a ridiculous amount of money."

"He said, 'Well, it's a lot cheaper than a legal fee,'" the witness continued. "I said, 'If you think those guys are going to do anything for you for that contribution, forget it. They'll just take your money.'"

Richardson went on to say that he and Sears delivered the contribution in $100 bills April 10, 1972, with instructions from Vesco to tell the former cabinet officer to get the SEC "off my back."

Witness Says Stans Gave Vesco Buck To Mitchell

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Commerce secretary Maurice H. Stans passed the buck to former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell when financier Robert L. Vesco sought help in a Security and Exchange Commission fraud inquiry, a government witness says.

Laurence B. Richardson Jr., 51, a ruggedly handsome one-time Vesco aide, has testified at the criminal conspiracy trial of Mitchell and Stans that Vesco made his first pitch for aid personally when he pledged a $200,000 contribution to President Nixon's re-election campaign.

The witness said he renewed the request for help at Vesco's direction when he secretly delivered the money in cash to Stans.

Richardson, of Livingston, N.J., is the former president of International Controls Corp., the firm around which Vesco built a multibillion dollar global financial empire. Richardson is scheduled to return to the witness stand today.

Mitchell and Stans are on trial on charges of impeding the SEC investigation of Vesco in return for the secret six-figure contribution to Nixon's 1972 campaign. The two defendants had left the cabinet to manage Nixon's successful re-election drive.

Richardson, once a naval aviator, now runs a small machine and gear company. His testimony was intended to back up and sometimes expand on that of Harry L. Sears, who left the witness stand Wednesday in his seventh straight day of interrogation.

Sears went on Vesco's payroll at $60,000 a year after he left the post of Republican majority leader of the New Jersey state senate. Richardson said Vesco boasted of Sears: "We own him: he's bought and paid for."

Richardson testified he was present at Vesco's first meeting with Stans March 8, 1972. He testified:

"Mr. Vesco said he'd been a good supporter of the Republicans in 1968 and he intended to be a generous giver in 1972, but he had a problem. The problem was he and the company were under investigation by the SEC.

The investigation had been going on for more than a year, there were no changes, it was completely without merit and it was a personal vendetta and harassment of him. He wanted to find a way for a conference and settlement.

Everywhere, It's Streaking

By The Associated Press
 In Maryland, it was for charity. In Chile, it was to prove a national sense of humor. In Idaho, it meant a shooting showdown with the law.
 But everywhere, it was streaking.
 In Hagerstown, Md., Wednesday night, the March of Dimes became a streak when students at Hagerstown Junior College pledged $40 if five male students would streak. The five stripped and pranced through the student union coffee shop. The streakers later collected the money pledged.
 In Santiago, Chile, a nude youth startled bystanders by running across broad Providencia Avenue and became that nation's first reported streaker.
 He also defied prison threats issued by the ruling military junta. And a federal prosecutor warned of streaking prison terms ranging up to 540 days.
 The youth explained: "I only wanted to show that Chile also has a sense of humor."
 He added: "I won a dinner. That's all."
 Streaking apparently was regarded as a rather serious breach of public morals in Priest River, Idaho, where two streakers were stopped by police warning gunfire Wednesday.
 Wally Mitchell, police chief of this small northern Idaho logging town, said two male streakers were running naked down Main Street when a policeman fired two shots into the air.
 Mitchell said the two men stopped, were arrested and charged with indecent exposure and now are free on $25 bond.
 In New Haven, Conn., eleven males streaked through the Yale Law School library Wednesday night. One witness said the men, who wore masks, showered students in the library with $2 million in play money.
 Streakers also were reported in Juneau, Alaska, and in the Central American republic of Costa Rica.

Judge To Rule Monday On Whether To Allow Two Prisoners To Go On National Tv In Hearst Case

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif. (AP) — A judge says he will rule Monday on a request to let two prisoners charged with murder go on national television with suggestions they claim could help free kidnapped Patricia Hearst.
 Contra Costa County Superior Court Judge Sam Hall took under submission Wednesday a request by attorneys for Russell Little, 24, and Joseph Remiro, 27, for a televised statement of five to 10 minutes.
 Little and Remiro are purported members of the Symbionese Liberation Army, which claims responsibility for the Feb. 4 kidnaping of the 20-year-old coed. They are charged with the cyanide-bullet assassination last year of Oakland Schools Supt. Marcus Foster and the attempted murder of a policeman.
 The SLA has continually linked Miss Hearst's fate to that of Little and Remiro. In its latest communique last Saturday, the SLA threatened to break off all communications unless the two men appeared on television.
 William Gagen, an attorney for Remiro, said the statement, if permitted by Judge Hall, would be made before a single cameraman and one reporter in an Oakland courtroom.
 Hall indicated his reluctance to act on the unprecedented request and emphasized that his duty was to handle the attempted murder case involving a Concord policeman "and nothing else."
 "But I do see television and I do read the papers, and I realize that outside pressures do exist," he said. "I can't allow these outside pressures to get into this case and affect my decision."
 Outside court, the attorneys said if Hall approves the request they will have to get a court order from Oakland Municipal Judge Stafford Buckley who has jurisdiction in the Foster slaying case. They previously indicated Buckley was sympathetic to their request.
 Even if the judges were to grant the request, spokesmen in New York for the major networks would not guarantee that they would provide live coverage.
 Newspaper magnate Randolph A. Hearst, the girl's father, says he will have no further statement until the news conference question is resolved.

Reports Of U.S. Military Officer Illegally Advising Cambodian Forces In Field Brings Call For Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reports of a U.S. military officer illegally advising Cambodian army forces in the field have brought immediate demands for congressional investigation.
 Twenty senators endorsed a letter by Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., asking for an inquiry by the Senate Armed Services Committee.
 Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, asked a "full and complete report" from Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger.
 The demands were touched off by a story Wednesday in The Washington Post from Kampot, Cambodia, by Elizabeth Becker, which said that U.S. Maj. Lawrence W. Ondecker was advising Cambodian forces on how to mount a counterattack against insurgents firing mortars around the government command post.
 "This is a direct violation of the laws of the land," Church said in a letter to Kissinger. He also referred to Kissinger's testimony at his confirmation hearing last September, pledging the administration would implement "not only the letter but the spirit" of the law.
 Church was co-sponsor of the Cooper-Church amendment, enacted into law in late 1970, banning the use of appropriated funds for any U.S. ground combat troops or military advisers in Cambodia.
 Church told the Senate the news account "provides on-the-spot evidence that at least one American military man, perhaps more, is directly involved in hostile combat in Cambodia. This involvement breaks the law."
 Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, called for a Pentagon investigation.

Amnesty Okay Doubted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of Congress' first inquiry on the subject says he doubts amnesty for Vietnam war deserters and draft evaders will be enacted this year.
 "These three days of hearings have shown grave differences over the issue," Rep. Robert W. Kastenmeier, D-Wis., said in an interview. "I just don't think we're close to resolving it, that's all."
 Kastenmeier said he does not think it is likely that his House Judiciary subcommittee will put out a bill this year and said there has been no movement in the Senate on the issue.

Texans Claim Arkansans Sold Them Stolen Plane

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — P&F Cattle Co. of Texas filed suit in U.S. district court Wednesday alleging that several Mena, Ark., residents sold the firm an airplane that was stolen at Phoenix, Ariz.
 Defendants in the action are Anna Overturf and Jerry Overturf, as joint administrators of the estate of the late Leo Overturf, and Gerald Cady.
 The cattle firm seeks damages of $142,180.90.
 The plaintiffs contend that a plane rebuilt by Leo Overturf was sold to them Jan. 6, 1972.
 While the aircraft was being serviced at Tulsa in September 1973, the Avenco Insurance Co. of Tulsa attached the craft claiming ownership, the suit states.
 It further contends that in February 1974, a Tulsa court declared that the aircraft was the property of the insurance company.
 The cattle firm alleges that Cady and Leo Overturf conspired to alter the identity of the aircraft for sale and that Cady fraudulently prepared certification that the plane was airworthy. The suit says the certification was an "impossibility" because it was dated a month before the aircraft was stolen.

Oklahomans Going Back To Flood-Damaged Homes

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Thousands of residents in northeastern Oklahoma began returning to flood-damaged homes today after three days of high water.
 "People have got furniture stacked in front of their houses, ready to move in when the mud is gone," a Skiatook resident said.
 A grim search was launched late Wednesday night for a man missing since the height of the flooding Monday evening. It was feared that J. G. Grey, 47, drowned when he drove his pickup truck into six to eight feet of water from swollen Bird Creek in the Owasso vicinity.
 The flooding claimed the life earlier of Robert Steel, 54, of Claremore.

Three days of flooding along Bird Creek in northern Tulsa County and the Caney and Little Caney rivers near Bartlesville forced an estimated 4,000 persons from 1,400 homes, according to the Red Cross.
 Initial estimates placed damage at $2.4 million, according to Ed Hardy, Gov. David Hall's news secretary.
 Hall has asked the federal government to designate Tulsa, Osage, Washington and Kay Counties federal disaster areas. That would make residents eligible for low-interest loans to repair and rebuild homes. The declaration also would entitle them to receive unemployment compensation and food stamps.
 Reports to the governor's office indicated about $300,000 damage to trailer homes in the four counties, $1.6 million to 803 homes, $200,000 to at least 50 businesses and $300,000 to Mohawk Park in Tulsa.

The Red Cross said approximately 100 volunteers from Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas and Texas and Arkansas were helping the flood victims.
 Gordon Gooding of Houston lost his wallet containing $60 cash and 15 credit cards to a thief early this morning.
 The wallet was taken from his room at a local motel, he told Patrolman T. M. Connolly.

'Mr. Your Job' Should Learn Power Of Praise

—By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: After living with "Mr. Your Job" for 20 years, I have had it.

I used to love to cook but it's no fun anymore, because no matter how hard I try, my husband never says it was good. If I ask him if he enjoyed the meal, he says: "Yes, but why should I say anything? That's your job."

I made draperies and curtains for the whole house, and even slip-covered the furniture myself, and he never said one word. When I asked him if he thought the house looked nice, he said: "Sure, but that's your job."

Funny how if he washes the car or mows the lawn and I don't rave about what a wonderful job he's done, he pouts for a week.

Please print this, Abby. Maybe "Mr. Your Job" will see it, and take the hint.

"MRS. YOUR JOB"

DEAR "MRS. YOUR JOB": Too bad "Mr. Your Job" hasn't learned the power of praise. Most people need only to know they're appreciated to keep them whistling while they work.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please settle a family disagreement? We've decided to abide by your decision.

We have two children, ages 10 and 12. I require them to write thank-you notes for all the gifts they receive for Christmas, their birthdays, or for any other occasion.

My husband says they are too young to be required to write such notes. What do you think?

OHIO MOM
DEAR MOM: A big fat vote for you! As soon as children can print they should be taught to write thank-you notes for gifts. The habits they form when they are very young (and this is a good one) will carry over into their adult lives. This goes for boys as well as girls. For some strange reason boys are more inclined to neglect this important courtesy. Stick to your guns, Mom.

DEAR ABBY: I like the way you tell people who have to live with something they can't change to accept it. (In my son's case, it was being the shortest one in his class, and it really helped him.)

Along that line, I am reminded of this story: A friend of mine lost a thumb and his forefinger in an accident—a very awkward handicap for a man who is in business and has to shake hands several times a day. My friend adjusted to this defect beautifully. I once asked him how he did it. He replied, "Everybody has a defect. It just happens that mine shows."

BOSTON READER

DEAR READER: Beautiful!

CONFIDENTIAL TO "BROWNIE": I think you should take all those letters and file them under "Y" for "yesterday." And if you find yourself reading them (which you admit depresses you immensely), throw out the file! He is gone, and it is over.

Death Claims Surviving Chapman Family Member

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — The surviving member of the James A. Chapman family, Leta McFarlin Chapman, has died at the age of 84, but the many millions of dollars she and her husband donated will continue to benefit religious educational and health institutions in Oklahoma, Texas and Arkansas.

Mrs. Chapman, a native of Texas, died Wednesday in a Tulsa hospital. She had been ill for two months.

Leta and James Chapman amassed a fortune said to have been Oklahoma's largest, and they devoted much of it to philanthropic activities. There has been no firm estimate on what they donated before their deaths but they left perpetual trusts totaling $182.5 million.

Her husband remained active in the oil and cattle business until his death at 85 in September 1965. His ranch holdings with his father-in-law are among the largest in the Southwest and rank with those formerly owned by the E. C. Mulendores, and the massive King Ranch in Texas.

Mrs. Chapman's dedication to philanthropy was demonstrated in state court here in 1970. In a 10-minute hearing, she declined to accept half of her husband's estate to which she was entitled by law.

Her decision resulted in transferring the entire amount of the estate to the Chapman Charitable Trust. The estate then was valued at $120 million.

In one of her last major displays of philanthropy last year, she told Tulsa voters she would provide half of a new $7-million performing arts theater if they voted bonds for the balance. The issue was approved.

The family fortune got its start when Chapman, his father-in-law, R. M. McFarlin, and the late H. G. Barnard obtained oil leases in the Gem Pool in southern Tulsa County. It was the state's first major oil production area.

Judge Allows Delta To Join Dallas Suit

DALLAS (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge Eldon Mahon has approved intervention of Delta Airlines in a suit seeking to halt commuter flights by Braniff and Texas International from Dallas Love Field.

Braniff and Southwest airlines now fly out of Love Field. State Dist. Court Judge Joe Burnett ruled Tuesday that Dallas officials must let Texas International use Love Field for flights to Austin.

Braniff and Texas International contend they should have the right to use the old Dallas airport because U.S. Dist. Judge W. M. Taylor permitted Southwest Airlines to fly to San Antonio and Houston from Love Field.

However, Delta, American and the two cities say the Love Field service is unfair and could ruin the new Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport which opened Jan. 13.

Hearing set March 21
Judge Mahon set a hearing date in the federal suit for March 21. The federal decision would take precedence over the state court ruling involving Texas International.

Dallas and Fort Worth city officials are appealing Judge Taylor's order allowing Southwest to continue operations out of Love Field.

Southwest did not sign an agreement entered by the two cities and eight other airlines calling for all flights to be moved to the new regional airport.

Meanwhile, Fort Worth councilmen have discussed a proposal calling for the City of Dallas to compensate the regional airport with monthly payments if the major airlines continue to use Love Field.

The Dallas compensation payments would guard against regional airport financial problems which could force Fort Worth property owners to pay taxes to cover operating costs of the new facility.

Fort Worth Councilman Cliff Overcash suggested if commuter flights continue out of Love Field, Fort Worth should seek commuter service for its city-owned airport, Meacham Field.

In the federal suit before Judge Mahon, no decision will be made involving damage claims which Delta and American airlines filed against Braniff. Damages will be arrived at separately.

Delta and American are seeking compensation for increased landing fees at the new regional airport they say occurred because Braniff kept part of its flights at Love Field.

Report On Private AMPI Investigation Sent To Committee

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The Associated Milk Producers Inc. has sent to the Senate Watergate Committee and other bodies probing political funds a special report on a private probe of AMPI activities.

The board of directors of the AMPI, meeting here Wednesday, approved submission of the 157-page "Wright report" to the Watergate Committee staff, the Watergate special prosecution force, the Internal Revenue Service and a federal district court in Kansas City, Mo.

AMPI officials said Wednesday night copies of the document should be in the hands of all the investigative bodies today.

John Butterbrodt, AMPI president from Burnett, Wis., said the report was the result of a commission AMPI gave the Little Rock law firm of Wright, Lindsey and Jennings on last Sept. 1.

The commission, Butterbrodt said, asked the law firm to independently investigate: —Political contributions by or on behalf of AMPI and its immediate predecessors; —Improper diversion of corporate funds in areas other than political; —Breaches of fiduciary obligations on the part of past and present officers and employees of AMPI and its immediate predecessors.

The AMPI president Wednesday told the board, "The AMPI board wants remedy under the law of any possible wrong doing by AMPI or any AMPI people, past or present."

Already, through one of its attorneys, AMPI has admitted an illegal contribution of $100,000 to the Committee to Re-elect the President. And the Internal Revenue Service as well as Watergate prosecutors have the milk producers association under investigation.

In a recent development in the milk fund controversy, a former AMPI employee said arrangements were made and then canceled in 1972 to contribute $300,000 to the Committee to Re-elect the President so that the Justice Department would not an antitrust suit against AMPI "die a natural death."

Selective Service Hit, Called 'Bureaucratic Dinosaur'

By WALTER R. MEARS
An AP News Analysis
WASHINGTON (AP) — Selective service costs the government money even when nobody is being selected to serve.

And the new, $47 million budget for the standby draft system is under attack in the Senate. Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., calls the draft agency "this bureaucratic dinosaur," wants it shut down. That would cost money, too; an estimated $41.5 million in severance pay and other expenses. In the age of the volunteer armed forces, no men have been drafted into military service in more than 14 months. None can be unless Congress changes the law, because induction authority expired last June 30.

While the draft is dormant, the agency is not. The law requires that Selective Service continue to register young men. The law also forbids the agency from spending any of its funds to induct anybody. In other words, the money can be used to pay the staff, register young men and keep records — as long as none of that leads to military induction. "This is strictly money for standby," an agency spokesman said. He said the agency would need more funds if it had to go back into the business of drafting men. In the new budget year, about 1.9 million names are expected to be added to the list of potential draftees. The agency is scaling down its operation, consolidating some local draft board locations and trimming its payroll by more than 1,200 jobs. Its staff is expected to average 2,800 over the next year. Selective Service has spent or requested $53.7 million in appropriations for the year that ends June 30.

Director Byron V. Pepitone says the Selective Service pool is "a vital factor in assuring a strong America and the continuation of peace." Meanwhile, Selective Service holds its major public event of the year Wednesday: the lottery to set draft priorities. It is based on the birth dates of men born in 1955. Four area high school students are to select capsules of dates and numbers that will set the standby draft list. The effect of this will be to tell young men turning 19 this year the order in which they will not be drafted.

House Panel Chairman Heads Off Confrontation With Nixon For Moment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Judiciary Committee has headed off, at least for the moment, a confrontation with the White House over impeachment evidence.

Despite White House statements indicating stiffening resistance to committee requests for tapes and documents, Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., convinced members more time was needed to determine whether President Nixon will cooperate.

Subpoena If Necessary
However, Rodino left no doubt that if Nixon refuses to part with the information being sought the committee will subpoena it.

Rodino said Wednesday that the material the committee wants is necessary to the investigation and the Constitution gives the committee an unchallenged right to it. Rep. Edward Hutchinson, R-Mich., the committee's senior Republican, agreed.

"The requests made by the committee to date are very reasonable and relevant," Hutchinson said. "The White House should be totally cooperative with us."

However, the White House as yet has made no response to the committee's Feb. 25 request for tapes of conversations between Nixon and his top aides last year when the Watergate cover-up was unravelling.

Blast Committee
And Tuesday White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler and Bryce Harlow, a presidential counselor, in separate blasts at the committee, served notice the White House will resist any requests for broad-scale access to its files. Nixon has promised to give the committee everything on Watergate he gave to the grand

Communists Say Plane Delivery Violates Truce

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — American officials deny that the delivery of four advanced fighter-bombers to South Vietnam violates the Vietnam peace agreement prohibiting the introduction of new types of arms into the country.

The Viet Cong have charged that supplying the F5E to the South Vietnamese air force violates the provision of the January 1973 agreement permitting replacement of arms, munitions and war supplies only on a piece-by-piece basis with materiel "of the same characteristics and properties."

The Communists claim the new plane, a replacement for the F5A fighter-bomber, outperforms the F5A in range, bomb load, radar and bomb guidance systems. Four F5Es arrived Wednesday at the Bien Hoa air base near Saigon, the South Vietnamese command said.

"More Maneuverable"
A United States Embassy spokesman conceded that the F5E is "faster and more maneuverable" than the F5A.

"But the F5As are not available any more," he said. "The F5Es are still basically the same aircraft. We do not consider this a violation of the cease-fire."

The official said he couldn't tell how many F5Es "are in the pipeline" for South Vietnam, but some reports have said 150 will be delivered in the next two years.

The Viet Cong denied today that they fired a mortar shell Saturday into a school playground at Cam Lai, 45 miles southwest of Saigon. The round killed 32 children and wounded scores of others.

The South Vietnamese government has blamed the Viet Cong, but in their first statement on the incident the Viet Cong charged South Vietnamese forces operating in the area "created the explosion."

Meanwhile, in Cambodia, the government said its forces cleared the Khmer Rouge insurgents from Route 38 along Phnom Penh's southern defense perimeter for the first time since December.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Bernard Kosinski, 54, general manager of the Anchorage Daily Times, drowned Tuesday in a swimming accident in Hawaii. He was stationed in Alaska in World War II and later returned as managing editor of the Times. He was named general manager in 1973.

MOST OF MONEY ENDED UP IN U.S. Russians Earn $800 Million In '73 Selling Gold

LONDON (AP) — The Russians earned more than $900 million selling gold abroad in 1973 and most of the money wound up in the United States, says a leading London gold dealer.

Samuel Montagu and Co. said in their annual bullion review today that the Soviet government sold about 280 tons of gold last year, the highest volume they have marketed since 1965.

A spokesman at Montagu said most of this gold was sold during the first nine months of the year to help pay for American wheat.

He added that the Russians got an average price of $90 an ounce, making their sale of 280 tons worth $252 million.

Montagu said Moscow actually sold more gold abroad in 1965, a total of 311 tons. But then the price was only $35 an ounce, and the Russians realized $348 million for the year, less than half of what they got in last year's record take.

The figures are estimates, but Montagu is believed to know as much about Soviet gold dealings as anyone outside the Kremlin. The firm, one of London's biggest bullion dealers, has handled Russian gold sales in the West for many years.

Montagu estimates that Moscow provided some 20 per cent of the supply to Western gold markets in 1973, second only to the 852 tons South Africa sold during the year.

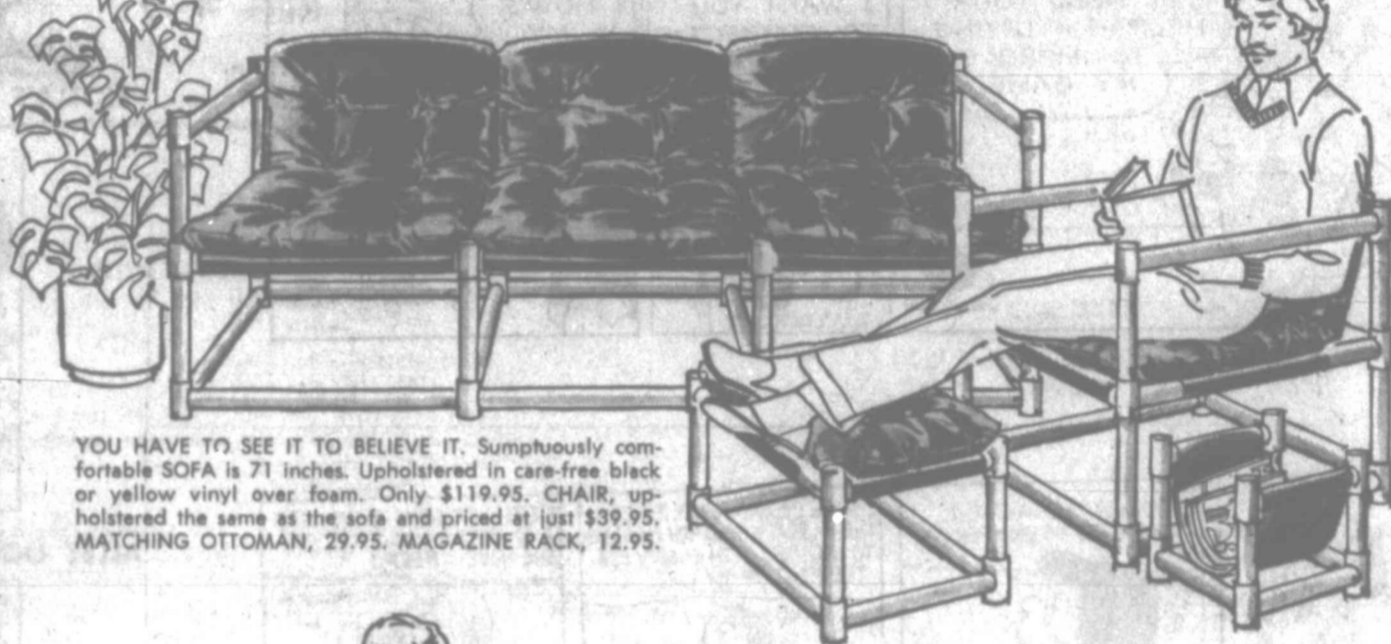

Soviet gold sales, due to their size played a role in the speculative movements in gold and currency markets, including those that preceded the devaluation of the dollar in February 1973.

Postal Service Launches National Education Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Postal Service, which recently boosted the cost of mailing a letter by 25 per cent, now is launching a nationwide education project to teach schoolchildren how to send mail.

Nearly five million copies of a magazine called Junior Postman, containing 24 pages of stories, pictures, puzzles and games are being mailed out across the country in time for "Student Postal Week," beginning March 25.

One of the Postal Service's longtime congressional critics, Rep. Bill Alexander, D-Ark., has deemed this an outrage and filed a warrant two House tributions, will come to about $450,000, he said. Furthermore, he said, they are not simply coloring books but educational materials designed to teach children about the Postal Service and the "proper use of the mails."

The booklets, the Postal Service said, are not extravagant and are in keeping with the type of educational workbooks and other aides used in modern classrooms.

Among the features are cut-outs of mail trucks and mail boxes, word games, a connect-the-dots feature and two pages of enlarged stamps to be colored.

Alexander claimed in a Feb. 28 speech that his figure of $1 million came from "a Postal Service source." Asked to elaborate, he said through an aide that the actual figure given him by the source was $750,000, which he upped to $1 million himself.

Modern Generation Growing Taller Year After Year

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Writer

Take a look at the young people around you. There sure are a lot of tall ones, aren't there?

If you're in a middle-aged group, you may feel that you're shrinking. It isn't that at all.

In the words of Bill Priest, an expert on the subject if there ever was one, "The modern generation is getting taller all the time. That is true of women and especially of men."

A good many people have commented on the fact that even a smallish man of today can't get inside the armor worn by the giants in the days of the knights.

Doctors once believed that the size of a child's mom and pop controlled his or her height. Now they believe a good modern diet, vitamins and improved health may determine height about as much as heredity.

Finally had to stop referring to our youngsters as "boys" or "children" when both hit 6 feet 3 while still in their early teens. A lot of families have that experience.

Ran into Priest at a shop called Tall-e-ho in a suburb in a swank part of Dallas. He was in the Marines and played college football before joining the staff.

Wandered into the place and found Priest and Larry Wegner, late of the Air Force, when we became curious about a sign above the outside door reading, "DUCK."

Got to talking to them about the problems of tall men and how they get fitted for clothes.

It must be a problem because people come to the store from a four-state area—Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Regular customers travel from such places as El Paso, Oklahoma City and Shreveport, and the mailing list covers much of the nation.

Tall women have the same problem, although they usually are only about 5-7 before they begin hunting special stores.

Know of a couple of women's shops in Dallas which cater only to the tall woman.

Their styles are as modish as anywhere. Only difference is that they are what women call "long lines." They, too, draw customers from a wide territory and do a widespread mail order business.

Styles in women change although this doesn't mean that a woman with an out-of-style height can't stir up chemistry in some old boy.

The "Petty girl" was the style of the 1930s. "Petty" was the name of the artist and not a description of promiscuous lavishing of affections.

The "Petty girl" was short, very curvy and somewhat plump by today's standards.

There even was a song about that time lauding females "five feet two with eyes of blue," if we remember correctly. Rather catchy, too, when accompanied by a ukulele played by a boy in a solar hat sitting on a moon-drenched porch swing.

Yet today a Miss America contestant of 5-7 or 5-8 is not at all remarkable.

There was a time when a girl of that height would be self-conscious about her tallness. Now she wins beauty contests.

Some of the old-time stage, opera and screen stars would run screaming to the nearest reducing salon today to get rid of the opulent figure which was the ideal in their time.

Don't know who sets the style in women's figures. It is something like the French clothing designers who say, "this year we will have shorter hemlines and longer waists" and everyone falls in line.

"Does some leader announce, 'This year women will be short and dumpy?' and immediately all females shrink a few inches for a year or two until tall girls become the rage again?"

It is easy when the female style switches to curves. We have it on the published authority of Gusie Nell Davis, director of the Kilgore College Rangesettes.

"You can buy that in the dime store, honey," she explained.

Tall people today do not need to improvise in clothes, trying to lengthen "regulars" to fit but never looking just right

Clothes are made specifically for them.

I commented that the clothes on display at Tall-e-ho appeared "mod." A staff member said, "We like to call them stylish instead."

Styles run from the somewhat wild colors of the very young to conservative shades because customers are of all ages almost.

Many of their customers are only 15 years old and already are well over six feet.

These youngsters have not yet put on much girth. So waist sizes begin at 27 for jeans and 29 for slacks. They go up to 34.

A size 34 waist may seem proper only for a fat man, but that isn't so when you are tall and perhaps muscular. The store stresses "tail."

Yet fat men still come in trying to be fitted because they have problems, too. "I've seen men come through that door and have to turn sideways to get in," says Priest.

Athletes flock to the store. They begin as high school students and go through the professionals.

Talk turned to famous persons who trade there but Wegner said that would be "unauthorized use of their names."

He did say patrons include players on the Cowboys, the Southern Methodist Mustangs and the Chaparrals when Dallas had a pro basketball team.

"It's the only place an athlete can shop," comments Priest.

Ector Has Only Traffic Death In Midland Area

Ector County had the only traffic death outside a city in the 10-county Midland area last month and Midland County has the most injuries resulting from traffic mishaps.

The figures were compiled by the Texas Department of Public Safety and relate only to those accidents investigated by the Texas Highway Patrol, which handles accidents outside of city limits.

The 10 counties in this report are Andrews, Crane, Dawson, Ector, Glasscock, Howard, Martin, Midland, Reagan and Upton.

The Ector County death in February brought to two the number of fatalities during the first two months of this year. The other was recorded in Glasscock County in January.

Midland saw five persons injured in county accidents last month, just one more than in Dawson County. Although Ector was third with only two persons injured during February, it has the largest number, 16, for the two-month period.

Ector had the most traffic mishaps, 27, reported last month and also leads for the two-month period.

In the following breakdown by county, the first number in each set is that for February and the second is the statistic for January and February:

| County    | Total Accids. |             | Fatal Accids. |             | Injury Persons |             |

Film World Honors Retired Tough Guy

LOS ANGELES (AP)—his retirement in 1961, Wednesday night received the second 13-year retirement to accept the tributes of the film world as the man who "sang, danced and machine-gunned his way into our hearts."

Cagney, a movie tough guy and a self-described song-and-dance man for 40 years until his retirement in 1961, Wednesday night received the second Life Achievement Award of the American Film Institute from its director, George Stevens Jr.

More than 1,000 people attended, including California Gov. Ronald Reagan, another former Warner Bros. contract player who co-starred with Cagney in the 1938 movie "Boy Meets Girl," and many top Hollywood personalities.

The ceremony took place at a dinner at the Century Plaza Hotel. The 90-minute tribute, hosted by Frank Sinatra, will be televised by CBS Monday night.

Cagney, 71, his red hair turned white and looking heavier than his old dancing weight, said: "I am very grateful for this award, but why don't we just say that for now I am merely the custodian for those wonderful guys and gals who worked with me."

As Cagney walked to the podium to accept his award, the orchestra played "Yankee Doodle Dandy" from his 1942 Academy-Award-winning film that won him an Oscar for best actor. The audience stood and clapped along to the music.

GARBAGE TRUCK HIJACKED — A disgusted driver, right, waits for the keys to his small garbage truck in Atlanta Wednesday. She said she had been planning the hijacking for weeks but had not had the opportunity because the garbage collectors never showed up on schedule. (AP Wirephoto.)

Convention Pays Tribute To Member Killed In Traffic

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Constitution Convention delegates met today to pay tribute to Rep. Hawkins Menefee, D-Houston, killed Wednesday morning in an automobile accident near Brenham.

Speaker Price Daniel Jr. said that after the half-hour memorial service in convention hall, all the delegates who wished it would be given mass transportation to Dallas for a 4 p.m. public memorial service at Preston Hollow Presbyterian Church.

Private funeral services were set for 2 p.m. in Dallas. Another memorial service is scheduled at noon Friday in Houston.

The convention recessed Wednesday without transacting any business after being formally informed of Menefee's death.

Menefee, who was serving his first legislative term, was en route to Houston early Wednesday when his car collided with a tractor-trailer truck while he was passing a passenger bus.

Menefee, who was single, was a research associate for the Southwest Center for Urban Research, Houston.

Infant Grandson Of Midlanders Dies

ABILENE — John Christopher Collins, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Collins, died in an Abilene hospital Wednesday afternoon.

His paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John M. Collins of Midland.

Services were to be at 2 p.m. today in Elmwood Memorial Park.

Other survivors include the maternal grandparents.

SPE Picks Runyan As President-Elect

Edward E. Runyan, the founder and chief executive officer of Western Pollution Control, Inc., of Midland, has been elected president of the Society of Petroleum Engineers of AIME for 1975.

Runyan will serve as president-elect on the SPE executive committee and the board of directors during 1974. He will assume the office of president of the society at the annual meeting of the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers in February 1975.

Runyan was honored Tuesday in the Midland Country Club

Russians' Mars 6 Lands Module On Mars Surface

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia's Mars 6 space shot has landed a module on the surface of the red planet and transmitted data collected during the descent through the Martian atmosphere, Tass reported today.

The official Soviet news agency said Mars 6, which was launched last Aug. 5, reached the vicinity of Mars on Tuesday and sent the module to the surface the same day.

Mars 7, which was launched Aug. 9, reached the vicinity of the planet a week ago, Tass said. It did not say what it has done since then, but Western experts had speculated in advance that one of the spacecrafts would orbit the planet to serve as a communications relay station while the other sent a capsule to the surface.

Tass said Mars 6 sent data "on parameters of the Martian atmosphere, obtained through direct measurements during the descent of the apparatus."

West Texan Draws 3-Year Sentence In Oil Deal Fraud

JIMMY Lee Dorland of Andrews was sentenced in Federal court here to three years in prison in connection with a federal indictment charging fraud in an oil deal.

U.S. Dist. Judge D. W. Suttle pronounced sentence last week after finding Dorland guilty of one count of an eight-count indictment. The other seven counts were dismissed.

Dorland was convicted of returning crude oil he had put into the Texas-New Mexico Pipeline Co.'s gathering system to the well on Dorland-E. C. Nix Oil and Gas Lease in Andrews County from Sept. 13-Nov. 22, 1972.

The fraud was perpetrated against Charter International Oil Co. of Houston, which had contracted with Dorland to purchase the crude oil.

He also filed false reports with the Texas Railroad Commission and Charter International.

IRS Will Compute Taxes On Request

Many taxpayers again may have the Internal Revenue Service compute their income tax and retirement income credit, Gene McCleskey, administrative officer for the Midland area, said today.

He said the IRS on request will compute the tax for persons with incomes of $20,000 or less, who take the standard deduction, and whose income is solely from salaries, wages, tips, dividends, interest, pension and annuities.

If the taxpayer also wants the IRS to compute his retirement income credit, he should include the basic information on Schedule R and attach it to his Form 1040, McCleskey said. He should also enter "RIC" on line 17, Form 1040. Instructions on Schedule R explain which items need to be provided.

For those persons who qualify, the IRS will compute the tax, whether the return is a Short Form 1040A or the regular 1040. The tax instructions explain what information should be entered on the return, McCleskey said.

After this information is entered on the return, the taxpayer should sign it and send it to the IRS Center in Austin, Texas.

He said the IRS will then compute the tax and send the taxpayer either a refund or a bill for the tax due, whichever is the case.

Five Bandits Rob Market, Rape Woman Employee

STAFFORD, Tex. (AP) — Five bandits took more than $15,000 and raped a woman employee during a pre-dawn raid on a supermarket in this Houston suburb today, sheriff's officers said.

Investigators gave these details: The robbers entered the all-night store, known as Randall's No. 7, shortly after 1 a.m. After firing a single shot to emphasize they meant business, the intruders took a pistol and a shotgun away from a security guard.

They rounded up about 50 customers and employees in the store and held them at bay while gathering up the money. A Stafford policeman who unsuspectingly stepped into the place also was disarmed.

Extra Nixon Funds May Benefit Stans, Mitchell

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
WASHINGTON (AP) — Trustees of President Nixon's leftover campaign funds have decided to pay legal fees and expenses for former officials acquitted of criminal charges and possibly for those found guilty of misdemeanors.

One of the largest beneficiaries of the decision could be one of the trustees — former Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans, who is on trial in New York on federal charges of criminal conspiracy, perjury and obstruction of justice.

Stans Helps Decide
Stans, who reportedly has spent more than $100,000 out of his own pocket for legal fees, participated in the trustees' decision, according to one of the other trustees.

Although the decision expands a previous policy of the Nixon campaign organization, both of Stans' co-trustees said in interviews they were unaware it was a change.

Stans was finance director of the Nixon campaign. He is on trial along with former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell in a case arising from a secret $200,000 campaign contribution.

Mitchell, political chief of the Nixon campaign for several months in 1972, also could be a major beneficiary of the trustees' decision if he is acquitted in the New York trial and of criminal charges filed in the Watergate cover-up two weeks ago in Washington.

Stans is one of three trustees of $3.57 million in funds left over from the $60-million Nixon campaign.

The others are Nashville insurance executive Guilford Dudley Jr. and Washington businessman Charles Potter. Dudley and Potter, both prominent long-time Republicans, had no official connection with the Nixon campaign. Both indicated that they signed on as trustees reluctantly.

In a telephone interview Wednesday night, Dudley said Stans was present at a meeting in Potter's office in Washington last month when the trustees went over the trust agreement and signed it.

'Monster Of Bungoma' Terrorizing Kenyan Villagers

By ALFRED ARAUJO
 NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — A monster, said to be a curious and frightening mixture of lion, tiger, leopard and dog, has been terrorizing the people of Bungoma District, 300 miles west of here in western Kenya, for the past four months.

caused by the "Monster of Bungoma" has led to the mobilization of Game Department rangers and scouts in the area, a sleepy farming region. According to local villagers, hundreds of goats, sheep, calves and dogs have fallen prey to the animal, or whatever it is, in an area of about 50 square miles between Mayanja-Kibabii and Sang'alo, near the route of the multimillion-dollar transcontinental super highway being built to link the Kenyan seaport, Mombasa, and Lagos, Nigeria. The villagers say the animal is strange to the district. Leopard is uncommon in the area and the last lion was killed more than 20 years ago. The animal has been described as having the claws and the ferocity of a lion, the teeth, neck and head of a tiger, the yellow and black spots of a leopard and the tracking instinct of a dog.

The local MP, Joseph Kibaaya, who is also the country's deputy agriculture minister, said a team of game wardens had hunted the animal, but without success. One night while the animal was chasing a jackal, the wardens fired several shots at it; they killed the prey instead of the monster, which escaped into the bush, unscathed. Families in the area have become so terrified that many have brought their livestock into their heavily shuttered homes. Few people are to be seen in the streets after dusk. Some villagers believe that the animal was set free from a cage by Asians fleeing neighboring Uganda after President Idi Amin's expulsion order in 1972. Others tell of legends that visits of strange creatures to the district at intervals signify calamities or unusual happenings. Said a National Museum official here: "The villagers feel that if they kill the animal, they will stave off some major disaster. The animal, if it is as interesting as they say it is, would be worth more to us alive than dead." Most jungle cats are strict meat eaters and as a rule will not eat carrion.
