Jobless Rate Declines Slightly

Stability Suggested In Figure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment dipped slightly from 5.2 per cent to 5.1 per cent of the work force in March, the government said today. It was the first decline in five months and raised hopes that the rise in joblessness that began with the Arab oil embargo may have topped out.

The Labor Department considered the drop of one-tenth of one per cent statistically insignificant but government analysts said the figures did suggest stability in the job picture.

The nation's unemployment rate jumped from a 3½-year low of 4.6 per cent in October to 5.2 per cent in January as the impact of the fuel shortage spread through the economy. It held steady in February at 5.2 per cent.

The Nixon administration had forecast a sharp rise in unemployment in the first half of the year but with joblessness averaging about 5.5 per cent over the full year. Some private economists had predicted the

Warming Predicted For Midland Area

Cool, dry air kept on pouring into Texas today, and it was overcast weather in many areas. Skies were clear throughout the state.

Official observers attributed the situation to a ridge of high pressure stretching all the way from the Central Rockies into the Gulf of Mexico.

Midland skies will continue fair through Saturday and warmer temperatures are predicted for Saturday by the National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal.

High today will be around 70, with a high Saturday expected in the middle 80s. Overnight low will be in the middle 40s.

High Thursday was 65 and low this morning was a chilly 34.

Winds are southerly 10 to 15 m.p.h. today and tonight. Saturday will be windy.

Another light freeze nipped parts of the Texas Panhandle, where Daihart recorded an ear-

Gasoline Allocation For Texas Cut By 80 Million Gallons

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Energy Office (FEO) announced today a decrease in Texas gasoline supplies of 80 million gallons for April from the estimated March figure. This is about a 14 per cent drop from March to April, based on the estimated 576.9 million gallons available in Texas this month.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

AUSTIN (AP) — The chairman of the Senate Economic Development Committee has asked the attorney general whether state construction of a $400 million offshore terminal for supertankers would violate the state constitution.

NEW YORK (AP) — The rising prime rate moved today to 9¼ per cent, within a hair of the historic high of 10 per cent set last fall.

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe approved a $313,800 federal grant today to finance neighborhood centers in San Antonio.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry E. Catto Jr., the Texas Republican recently named by President Nixon as U.S. chief of protocol, gave $25,000 to the Nixon re-election campaign while he was ambassador to El Salvador.

Campaign Gift To Nixon Bared

Reports filed by the Committee for the Re-election of the President in response to a Common Cause law suit now show Catto gave the Nixon campaign $25,000 Dec. 14, 1971.

The contribution came in the period prior to April 7, 1972, when the new campaign contribution reporting law went into effect.

Storms' Aftermath: Weeping, Wandering

By CRAIG AMMERMAN Associated Press Writer
"I looked at it and wanted to cry," said Kentucky Gov. Wendell Ford after he walked through the pile of tornado-left rubble that had been Brandenburg.

Twenty-eight persons were dead in Xenia, where half the town of 25,000 was reduced to scrap, women sat on the streets and wept Thursday. Their men wandered through the rubble of what once were their homes. They picked up little pieces of nothing, blank stares on their faces.

Simon's Authority May Be Curtailed As Treasury Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Energy Administrator William E. Simon is in line for nomination soon as secretary of the Treasury, but he will not be given the full economic authority of outgoing Secretary George P. Shultz, sources report.

INSTEAD OF ALASKA, SOUTHEASTERN COAST— Exploration For Oil Urged Off New England

WASHINGTON (AP) — The President's Council on Environmental Quality has recommended steering offshore oil development away from the southeastern coast and the Gulf of Alaska, in favor of areas off New England and Maryland-Delaware-New Jersey.

Where To Vote

Midland and Lee High schools will be the polling places for the joint Midland Public Schools-Midland College election Saturday.

Midland High School: Voting precincts 1, 3, 5, 6, 7, 9, 10, 12, 14, 16, 17, 23, 24, 25 and 27.

Lee High School: Voting precincts 4, 8, 11, 13, 15, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 26 and 28.

Light Turnout Is Expected For School, MC Election

Saturday is election day for the Midland Independent School District, Midland College and the Greenwood Independent School District.

A light turnout of voters is expected since there is only one contested race in all three elections. Absentee voting in the joint MISD-Midland College election drew a respectable 193 ballots, but school officials attributed this to the fact that many persons will be out of the city during the schools' one-

House Committee Votes Death Blow To Wage, Price Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Banking Committee today voted 21 to 10 to postpone indefinitely on any extension of the Cost of Living Council controls, thus effectively allowing them to die April 30.

The Senate Banking Committee already has killed efforts to extend the Economic Stabilization Act, which expires April 30.

The Nixon administration apparently had already given up hope of getting Congress to extend mandatory wage and price controls over health and isolated other industries.

WT Sectors Draw Probes

Exploratory tests have been slated in Martin, Terrell and Sutton counties.

Robert B. Holt, Midland, filed application to drill No. 2 Holt as a 11,500-foot wildcat in Martin County, eight miles west of Tarzan. It is 2½ miles southeast of the recent Ellenburger opener in the Lacaff multizone field.

Location is 933 feet from south and west lines of labor 16, league 320, Garza CSL survey.

Terrell Probe
The Terrell prospector is Texas Oil & Gas Corp. No. 1-D Noelke, a scheduled 10,600-foot Ellenburger test, five miles southeast of Sheffield, and 3½ miles southeast of Ellenburger production in the Yucca Butte field.

Location is 2,473 feet from south and 920 feet from east lines of section 2, block A-2, TCRR survey.

Sutton Test
An 8,000-foot probe, R. L. Burns Corp., Dallas, No. 1-16 Sawyer, has been slated in Sutton, ½ mile west of the firm's No. 1-15 Sawyer, also a planned 8,000-foot test.

Drill site is 1,320 feet from north and east lines of section 16, block CC, ELARR survey, abstract 1325, 13 miles southwest of Sonora.

Schleicher Pool Confirmer Finals

The Desana Corp. and R. M. Wright of Midland, have completed No. 1 Baugh as a second producer and location south extension to the Baugh (Strawn) field of Schleicher County, six miles northeast of Eldorado.

It finished on the pump for 22 barrels of oil and 102 barrels of water per day, through Strawn reef perforations at 5,770-5,775 feet.

Scheduled as a wildcat, total depth is 5,792 feet, where 4½-inch casing is seated.

Well site is 660 feet from north and 947 feet from east lines of section 7, block M, GH&SA survey.

The discovery, completed in 1949, is a marginal producer.

4,600-Foot Probe Planned In Kent

Andover Oil Co., Tulsa, Okla., will drill a 4,600-foot wildcat in North Kent County, three miles west of Girard, as No. 1 F. O. Bural, et al.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 118, block 1, H&GN survey, 2½ miles southeast of the Gilpin (4,450) field, but separated by failures.

Sterling Oiler Is Reclassified

Monsanto Co. has reclassified from oil to gas, its No. 1 Sellers, former Wolfcamp producer in the Triple M. field of Sterling County, 20 miles northwest of Sterling City.

Commission Studying Price Increase For Lo-Vaca

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The sick corporation that needed a Texas Railroad Commission rate increase of 6.16 cents per has under consideration a staff thousand cubic feet above the recommendation that Lo-Vaca current cost of gas, and a rate Gathering Co. be given a natural return of 7.5 per cent, with a gas price increase in order special reimbursement fund for to keep servicing Austin, San Angelo, Corpus Christi and other customers.

Commissioner hearing examiner Walter Wendlandt said Thursday that Lo-Vaca was "a posed order with another 20 days for answers before the commission makes a decision.

The parent firm, Coastal States, said it plans to file exceptions to the examiner's findings and proposed order, adding that some of the provisions exceed the commission's jurisdiction and would be unenforceable under Texas law.

Changes Proposed In Thicket Park

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas' two U.S. senators have recommended a 5,400-acre reduction and a 14,000-acre expansion in the proposed Big Thicket national park of East Texas.

Sens. Lloyd Bentsen, a Democrat, and John Tower, a Republican, made the recommendations to the chairman of the Senate parks and recreation subcommittee.

The cut would comprise land that had already won approval in a House Big Thicket bill.

The areas listed by the Senators to be eliminated are the Menard Creek corridor, 3,359 acres; and the Pine Island Bayou corridor, 2,100 acres. They said the two areas had residential developments and did not include any unique ecological features.

cause of the energy shortage and the increase in the price Lo-Vaca must pay for gas. Last December the commission granted Lo-Vaca an interim rate of 5 cents more than its current cost of gas supplies.

Wendlandt said the commission had two choices now: to order Lo-Vaca to comply with existing contracts or to grant some rate relief. He added that an order to comply with existing contracts probably would result in bankruptcy for Lo-Vaca and Coastal States.

Wendlandt's order would work this way: As an example, Austin's 20-year contract with Lo-Vaca calls for the city to pay 20.2 cents per thousand cubic feet. However, Lo-Vaca is now having to pay 57 cents to obtain the gas. Under Wendlandt's order Lo-Vaca could charge Austin another 6.16 cents, making a total of 63.16 cents.

The difference between the contract price of 20.2 and the adjusted price of 63.6 would be credited to Austin's account and would be compounded with interest until Lo-Vaca was financially able to pay back the money.

Neither Lo-Vaca nor Coastal could pay stock dividends as long as the reimbursement fund existed.

Wendlandt said in his recommendations that Coastal States "management has vigorously pursued a rapidly increasing profit picture with little regard for the public interest . . . the record reflects a number of management actions and decisions contrary to the public opinion . . . They include making numerous spot sales after the (Gas) shortage crisis became very obvious and holding back in advising the responsible officials of its customers of the seriousness of the shortage."

Dear Abby

Advice On Husband's 'Generosity' Stands

—By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Your outdated advice to the woman whose husband wanted her to have sex with other men really irked me. I'd have advised her to ask her husband why he wanted to share her. If it was because he didn't love her and wanted to get rid of her, then I fully agree, she shouldn't put up with it. But, did you ever stop to think that maybe the husband enjoyed her so much in bed that he wanted to show others what a great wife he has? Or it's possible that his sexual enjoyment may really be heightened if she has sex with other men?

Please don't call this perverted, or say that this man needs a psychiatrist. He doesn't need one. Read the sex manuals. This is an accepted sex practice and is widely accepted nowadays.

SEE THE LIGHT

DEAR SEE: I'm sorry I can't agree with you. No man in our culture who truly loves his wife wants her to have sex with other men. If his own sexual enjoyment is heightened by such a need, it suggests either that he may have unconscious homosexual feelings or that he consciously or unconsciously has a need to degrade his wife.

DEAR ABBY: What happens to a man when he becomes 50 years of age and wants to be young again? My husband dislikes being addressed as "Grandpa," is now sporting sideburns and a moustache (which he dyes), asked for a bicycle for Christmas, and is shamelessly carrying on a flirtation with a 38-year-old woman.

Our 24-year-old daughter, who is a nurse, refers to his behavior as "the male menopause syndrome," and I call it "the fountain of youth disease."

What do you call it?

CONFUSED

DEAR CONFUSED: I call it "geriatricophobia" — fear of growing old. (Don't try to find it in the dictionary — I just made it up.) It's harmless, unless the flirtation has gone beyond the conversation stage.

DEAR ABBY: I am not well-known, but I am a professional artist. Abby, you would not believe how many friends and relatives expect me to GIVE them a painting! They don't consider the hours I invest, not to mention the costs, such as canvases, paints, brushes, frames, etc.

This is how I make my living, but in spite of all the requests I've had, none of these people have ever bought me as much as a meal.

People obviously have the mistaken idea that an artist is supposed to be rewarded just knowing that someone wants to hang his painting. Many other artists have this problem. Help us all and print this letter, please. Also some advice, if you have any.

TEXAN

DEAR TEXAN: Consider it done. Now, if your friends and relatives get angry with you for refusing to give them a painting — give 'em the brush.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House committee left any further action on President Nixon's taxes to the committee, pending the impeachment.

The House Judiciary committee said Thursday would consider the report of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue along with other evidence in the impeachment inquiry.

The report by the staff Wednesday said Nixon owes $476,433 in taxes and interest. The Revenue Service concluded, agreed to pay some back taxes and interest "Far Out of Place."

The vice chairman of the joint committee, Rep. D. Mills, D-Ark., said the committee would be "place" if it took up whether any fraud committed in connection with President's returns, or reasons for this members might later vote on matters connected with impeachment.

Safety Council Says Lower Speeds Cut Traffic Deaths

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic deaths decreased sharply in January and February, and the National Safety Council says the main reason is lower speeds.

If the 25 per cent reductions in the first two months continue throughout the year, the number of fatalities on the nation's highways could be 14,000 fewer than in 1973 and the lowest in more than a decade, a council spokesman said Thursday.

Vincent Tofany, council president, said 5,680 persons were killed in highway accidents in January and February, compared with 7,560 persons the first two months of 1973.

The safety council has been reporting lower monthly fatality rates due to the energy crisis since November. But until now it has not attempted to determine the reason for the decrease.

The council said a comparison of the amount of travel on the nation's turnpikes with the number of fatalities on the turnpikes indicates that the dominant reason for the reduction in speed.

"Your chances of dying in a crash increase dramatically over 50 miles per hour," said the spokesman. "You have four times as great a chance of surviving at 50 than you do at 70."

Statistics from about 50 of the nation's turnpikes based on reports from the turnpike authorities show a 13 per cent drop in turnpike travel in January 1974 but a 67 per cent drop in the number of turnpike deaths.

Similar statistics for November and December — like January months before the maximum 55 mph speed limit went into effect nationwide — indicate much of the speed slowdown is voluntary, Tofany said.

In 1973, council statistics show 55,000 persons died in highway accidents. A reduction of highway deaths by 14,000 this year would place the figure around 43,000. The annual toll has not been that low since 1963, when 43,564 lives were lost on the nation's roads.

A spokesman said, however, that with the easier availability of gasoline supplies, travel by car is expected to increase and, thus, the 25 per cent reduction trend in the latest statistics, will be brought on officials to cur "without careful consideration, raise the speed limits. He said that of their possible safety of this should not be allowed to oc-facts."

House Panel To Consider Tax Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-House committee has left any further congressional action on President Nixon's taxes to the committee considering the impeachment question.

The House Judiciary Committee said Thursday that it would consider the detailed report of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation along with other evidence in its impeachment inquiry.

The report by the committee staff Wednesday concluded that Nixon owes $476,431 in back taxes and interest. The Internal Revenue Service came to a similar conclusion, and Nixon agreed to pay some $465,000 in back taxes and interest.

'Far Out Of Place'

The vice chairman of the joint committee, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said the committee would be "far out of place" if it took up the question whether any fraud was committed in connection with the President's returns. Among other reasons for this is that all its members might later have to vote on matters connected with impeachment.

"The House Judiciary Committee might, the IRS might, the courts might — but certainly it would ill become this committee to get into the question of fraud," Mills said. "We didn't go into the question of the legality of it, the morality of it or the ethics of it. We only looked at the facts, made an audit — our staff did — reached a conclusion."

No Penalties

Meanwhile, IRS said it did not feel civil fraud penalties against the President were warranted and said that its audit of the President's tax returns for 1969-1972 was closed.

In California, Controller Houston Flournoy predicted that Nixon would be required to pay some back state income taxes.

Flournoy, a Republican candidate for governor, predicted Nixon will have to pay tax on the sale of part of his San Clemente estate, but he refused to speculate how much.

The congressional report said Nixon should have paid taxes on a capital gain of $117,836 earned from the sale of the property.

Deputy White House Press Secretary Gerald T. Warren said the big tax bill facing the President means that his financial position "has almost been totally wiped out."

May Borrow Funds

White House officials have said Nixon probably will have to borrow some of the money to pay his tax bill.

Asked if the President might sell either his Florida or California estates, Warren said Nixon obviously would not sell his San Clemente property because he has promised to turn it over as a gift to the American people.

The joint committee, in closing its books on the President's tax case, commended Nixon "for his prompt decision to make these tax payments."

Molly Upchurch Party Honoree

Molly Upchurch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Upchurch, was honored recently with a "Calico Coke Party" in the home of Mrs. Edwin Dwyer, No. 8 Saddle Club Drive.

The hostesses with Mrs. Dwyer were Mrs. Rector Cannon and Mrs. Durward Goolsby. Original hand painted invitations set the theme for the party. Colorful calico flowers and ribbon streamers were at the entrance, and handmade calico stuffed animals and clowns centered the serving tables.

Serving in the house party were Susan Craig, Barbby McCullough, Terri Holster and Nancy Neill.

Miss Upchurch, who plans to attend The University of Texas-Austin, received a hostess gift. Out-of-city guests included Martha Upchurch of Austin, sister of the honoree, and K. Kerr of Fort Stockton.

Traveler's Leis Hold Memories

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Association

DEAR POLLY — I brought two leis from Hawaii. One was of orchids and the other of gardenias. They are drying and I am sure I have heard of a recipe for making sachet bags or filling apothecary jars with these but cannot remember what goes with them. I do hope some readers can help me preserve these treasured memories. — JENNIE.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with the makers of quick drying clothes in which they put cotton elastic. It takes the elastic so long to dry that the delicate fabrics in some garments could be ruined from the heat. — TONIA.

DEAR POLLY — Tell Pat her little girl will never lose her mittens if she would crochet a yarn chain that goes from one mitten to the other. Make it long enough to pull up through one coat sleeve, across and down the other sleeve. I did this and my two girls never lost their mittens again. — MRS. C. E. C.

DEAR POLLY — Do tell Pat who buys several identical pairs of mittens to have a matching pair when mittens are lost that shoe strings are much cheaper. She can sew each end of a long string to the back of the wrist of a mitten so the string goes across the back of the child's neck. Then the coat is put on. By taking off mittens and then the coat they can be left in the sleeves so they are always with the coat. No more lost mittens. — LEONA.

DEAR POLLY — When our heat is turned down or rooms are chilly for any reason, sheets can feel damp and clammy when one goes to bed but a hair dryer can double as a very efficient bed warmer if one does not have an electric blanket. When ready to retire, stuff a pillow between the two sheets to form a pocket-like arrangement. Place your dryer on the bed, set on "Hot," insert the hose in the pocket between the sheets. In a few minutes remove the dryer and the pillow. Stand by while warming the bed. You'll find it will stay warm for a surprisingly long time. — MADGE.

DEAR POLLY — There were several marks that had been made with a magic marker on one of my painted walls. When the entire wall was repainted the marks reappeared when it was dry. I went over the spots several times but they continued to appear when the paint dried. I was using a latex paint. Finally I tried covering the marks with a thin coat of colorless nail polish, let it dry and then painted over with one coat of paint and that was the end of the marks. Hope this saves a headache for some other reader. — EUNICE.

Business Meet Held By Chapter

The Beta Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi had a business session Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Cliff Lowrance, 4501 Anetta Drive.

Mrs. Jerry Turner, Mrs. Benny Sides, Mrs. Linda Johnston and Mrs. Donald Terk were guests. Mrs. Les Fine, ways and means chairman, reminded members of the bake sale to be Saturday in Dellwood Plaza Mall. Mrs. Bob Kozlowski discussed plans for the children's Easter egg hunt to be held at her home, 2604 Terrace St., Sunday.

The service chairman, Mrs. Bill Shoemaker, reported she would find a suitable Easter gift for the chapter's protégé at Gristown, U.S.A.

The chapter re-elected Mrs. Birdie Lamkin to be its adviser for the coming year. Mrs. Larry Wright gave a program on "Sculpture," with members decorating Easter eggs. Mrs. Eddy Squyres was winner of the hostess gift.

Musicians Club Prepares For May Benefit Musicale

The Musicians Club, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, will present its annual benefit musicale at 12 noon May 7 in the Midland Woman's Club.

The musicale, "The Wonderful World of Broadway," will be preceded with a luncheon.

General chairman is Mrs. W. Lloyd Haseltine. Reservations should be made by April 25 with Mrs. Dillard Anderson Jr., 684-8696.

Other chairmen are Mrs. James Huddleston, decorations; Mrs. Ray Bristol, program; Mrs. John L. Buster and Mrs. Anderson, invitations; Mrs. Harold W. Heckathorne, luncheon; Mrs. Manton P. Jones, acknowledgements, and Mrs. John P. Hammett, publicity.

Artists appearing with the club chorus will be Mrs. Robert F. Ward, George DeHart, Mrs. Malcolm MacCurdy, Marvin Waltz, Mrs. Richard N. Oldham, Dr. Lawrence Marsh, Mrs. Frank L. Thompson, Mrs. Howard W. Parker, William Shaner, Mrs. George F. Harley, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Bristol, Mrs. Hammett, Mrs. William H. Seward, Charles Dixon, Mrs. William R. Weaver and Shane Stokes.

DeHart is organist-chairmaster of the First United Methodist Church. Dr. Marsh is a professor of music at the University of Texas-Permian Basin and is associate chorale director of the Midland-Odessa Symphony and Chorale. Shaner and Dixon have had numerous roles in musicals and plays at the Midland Community Theatre.

Decorations will reflect the theme and excitement of an opening night on Broadway. The program will include selections from "Carnival," "Cabaret," "Paint You Wagon," "My Fair Lady," "Camelot," "Oklahoma," "Annie Get Your Gun," "Flower Drum Song," "Carousel," "South Pacific," "Molly Brown," "I Do, I Do," "Westside Story," "Hello Dolly," "Oliver" and "Fiddler on the Roof."

Mrs. Bristol will be the piano accompanist for the program, assisted by Mrs. John R. Hansen in the songs from "I Do, I Do." Also assisting Mrs. Bristol will be Kirk Covington, drums, and Dr. David Sloan, string

When we become mired in the routine of life, one day is like any other. This was just another working-day for most of the people in Jerusalem.
Three men died on Calvary Hill. One of them was the Galilean! Business as usual in Jerusalem. Unless we understand the whole significance of what is happening we pay little attention...
Do you understand what happened that Friday? Do you realize WHO hung on that central Cross? Do you know WHY He died? And FOR WHOM?
There is nothing more necessary in our lives than the deep, personal knowledge of what happened that Friday... and the Sunday following.

Administration Vital Part Of Ministry

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the sixth in a series of feature articles appearing each week in The Reporter-Telegram through Easter Sunday.

By DAVID POLING
NEA Religion Editor

The Christian Church faced the demands and necessities of organization right at the start. Operations, meetings, travel, correspondence, offerings — all these were part of the growing religious community. St. Paul rightfully lists administrators as essential members of the Christian leadership team. Indeed, in one of his letters he speaks of the burden of oversight and administration of the young churches in Asia Minor.

Casual critics of church bureaucracy ignore the sensitive ministry that has served Christ in so many difficult tasks. Most leading churchmen—in any century—have devoted countless hours to administration and the "Lord's business." The Salvation Army is able to accomplish so much among the world's down and out because it has always maintained a powerful, businesslike operation.

Schweitzer would never have built and sustained an African hospital without the midnight hours of correspondence, fund-raising, and application for grants.

The men and women who guide the vast institutions of education, health and human concern for the Christian Church are in the center of ministry—the word within administration. The great religious publishing houses could never have formed without those people who developed printing skills to follow their devotion to the Master. The YMCA and the YWCA owe their existence to committed Christians that matched conviction with the hard tasks of bookkeeping, personnel, and property management.

We are reminded that at the beginning of this century,

Robert E. Speer directed the world missionary enterprise for the Presbyterian Church, yet managed to publish a book a year for 24 years—his academic and spiritual interests were not lost in budgets and annual meetings.

Some leading administrators at the college and university level have directed the growth of major institutions while continuing to offer theological insight to the entire Christian community. In some, like the late Howard Lowry of Wooster, Ohio, pulpit, classroom and corporate affairs achieved a happy blend.

Dr. Lowry was one of the first to salute the secular advance in social concerns for the poor, the black, and the deprived. He believed that the Church constantly required renewal and recovery—often delivered from the critics standing outside. On the other hand, Lowry was aware that many secularists were forgetful of the religious heritage that shaped and sustained their present foundation. His classic sentence stands: "In the City of Man there is still a bank with a cross above its door where men borrow money from a window they swear is closed."

Religious Surveys Offer Good News, Bad News

NEW YORK (AP) — Items from recent religious statistics offer both good news and bad for the American status of faith. Among them:

—The brightest U.S. high school pupils nowadays are more likely than their predecessors to consider religion important and to attend church regularly.

—Roman Catholics who went to church schools are more likely to be hopeful about life than those who attended public schools.

—The best-selling book of 1973 was a lucid version of the Scriptures called "The Living Bible."

—Protestant and Jewish regularly in attending worship services steadily in the past year, while Roman Catholic attendance took a sharp downturn.

—Despite less church-going, American religious interest remained just as great or greater, with university students strongly oriented to religion but not necessarily to the organized church.

Two of the findings—concerning the effects of Catholic schools and church attendance—came from studies by the National Opinion Research Center in Chicago, issued through the National Catholic Reporter in Kansas City, Mo.

The center's staff sociologists, the Rev. Andrew Greeley and William McCready, say survey results show adult Catholics who went to church grammar and high schools are almost twice as likely to be hopeful about life's potentialities as those who didn't.

The report concluded that Catholic schools "may have worked better than most people thought" in instilling Christian values.

An earlier survey by the same sociologists found that weekly or near-weekly church attendance by Protestants dropped only 2 per cent, from 38 to 36 per cent, from 1972 to 1973, while Jewish attendance also fell 2 per cent, from 9 to 7 per cent.

However, among Catholics, it took a steeper plunge, falling 13 per cent from 61 to 48 per cent.

As for American tastes in books, the overwhelming best-seller, "The Living Bible," a paraphrased, clarifying version by Kenneth Taylor, president of Tyndale House publishers, sold seven million copies in 1973.

That brought its total sales since it was published in late 1971 to 13.3 million, far outstripping any other work of its kind.

The survey of views of 26,000 top scholastic achievers in high school, conducted by Who's Who Among American High School Students of Northfield, Ill., found that 77 per cent regard religion as relevant to society, up 13 per cent from the proportion who said so in 1969.

Study Shows More People Believe Devil Exists

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
NEW YORK (AP) — The scientific elite were somewhat taken aback on being informed that amid all the modern technological advances, a new, national study shows people are believing more and more in the active reality of the devil. When told of it, participants in a recent meeting in San Francisco of the American Association for the Advancement of Science "were absolutely shocked," says Clyde Z. Nunn, a social researcher who reported the findings to them. "It didn't fit their pre-suppositions," he adds. "It was mind-blowing for them."

He said the fact that Americans are increasingly convinced of the devil's existence runs counter to the scientific community's general assumption of "progressively increasing rationalism as an automatic evolutionary process."

Most scientists "want to believe that society has become so rationalized that it has moved out of the nonrational world," he said. But he added that the newly gathered data reveal an opposite trend at work.

The new study, made by the Center for Policy Research here, found that in nine years the number of people believing in the certainty of the devil has risen from 37 to 48 per cent of the population, with another 20 per cent considering his existence probable.

Altogether, 68 per cent is either sure about it or thinks it likely.

Nunn, the center's senior research associate, linked the upsurge in such belief to "times of great stress, when things seem to be falling apart, when there is great uncertainty in society and limited resources to cope with it."

"It's apparently an attempt to make sense of a world of ambiguities and to explain the evil in it," he said in an interview. He said it also made for an atmosphere vulnerable to demagogic promises to hunt out the devil's instruments.

It has the potentiality of "some new round of witch hunting," said Nunn, a University of Nebraska sociology professor before joining the center, which aims to search out trends so social policy can be shaped to deal with them.

The new study, involving a scientifically selected cross section of 3,546 people, was made last spring. Consequently, the results don't reflect the recent movie-stirred interest in demology but derive from other conditions.

Nunn said the study, by using identically phrased questions as a parallel survey in 1964, provides the first comparative measurement of shifts in intensity of beliefs about the supernatural.

While the major change was the sharp 11 per cent uptick in those considering the devil's existence "completely true," the 68 per cent total either certain or partly so also rose by 3 per cent.

In regard to God, however, absolute certainty about His existence dropped 8 per cent, from 77 to 69 per cent, although another 25 per cent believed in God with some reservations. Only 6 per cent registered no belief, but the disbelief was 3 per cent higher than before.

"Whatever advantage God has had over the devil in the polls of the past, the devil now appears to be getting his due," said Nunn, a Kentuckian who has a master's degree in religion from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville and a doctorate in sociology from the University of North Carolina.

He said the rising certainty of the devil's activity — along with the slight drop in certainty about God — suggests people have difficulty seeing any good purpose or reason in events and consider the balance of "good versus evil to be tipped in the direction of evil." The study also brought out that those convinced of the devil's reality are much more likely than others to feel that threatening forces are at work in modern life, and that things are likely to get worse.

They also are less tolerant of nonconformity, less concerned with civil rights and more likely to "express authoritarian dependency" on leaders.

Nunn said these attitudes are most susceptible to some rising demagogue promising to drive out the devil's agents, "get us back to fundamentals, and set things straight."

A confirmation service in which 15 young people will become communicant members will be a highlight of Palm Sunday at Grace Lutheran Church.

During the service, the members of the confirmation class will receive their first communion. The pastor, the Rev. Donald Hafemann, has chosen as his sermon topic, "The Starting Line and the Finishing Line," from 2 Tim. 4:7. Special music will be directed by the children's choir directed by Mrs. Bruce Barthel, and the confirmation class will sing "Shepherd of Tender Youth."

First Apostolic Plans Celebration Of 12th Anniversary

To celebrate its 12th anniversary, Midland's First Apostolic Church, 710 S. Baird St., is making plans for a special homecoming event April 12-14.

The church will stage its third annual "Old Fashion Day" on Saturday, April 13, as one of the features of the birthday celebration. In connection, there will be "dinner on the ground" and an old-fashion gospel sing, said host pastor Lowell Cessa.

Several outstanding speakers will be here to participate in the homecoming services, including Elder Carl Ballester of Salt Lake City, Elder Robert Cavanness of Shelbyville, Ind., Elder Howard Davis of San Bernardino, Calif., and Elder Dell Rose of Lompoc, Calif.

Bible Revival Week Now Under Way

Bible Revival Week is currently under way at Northside Baptist Church here.

Evangelist for revival services at 7:30 p.m. daily is the Rev. Robert M. Cheek of Jasper. Music is under the direction of Marvin Waltz, music minister at Midland's Wilshire Park Baptist Church.

Mr. Cheek, a native of Georgia, grew up at Seattle, Wash. He attended Seattle Pacific College, Baylor University at Waco, and the University of Edinburgh, Scotland. He served as pastor of churches at Corsicana, Baytown and Houston before becoming pastor of Jasper's First Baptist Church.

Final day of the revival will be Sunday, said the Rev. Arlis Hibbard, host pastor, who has invited the public to attend the special services.

Indians Used Sign Language

When the Spanish explorer Coronado, encountered various tribes of Plains Indians in 1540, he found that they spoke no common tongue, but communicated with each other by sign language.

Ecumenical Rites Set At McCamey During Holy Week

MCCAMEY — Ecumenical services next week in McCamey's First United Methodist Church will mark Holy Week in McCamey.

The special emphasis will lead up to the annual sunrise service at King Mountain on Easter morning.

The Holy Week services are sponsored by the McCamey Ministerial Alliance, with ministers of various participating McCamey churches bringing the messages during the week.

The Rev. Charles Miller, pastor of the First UMC, will be in the pulpit for the first service in the series at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. On Monday evening, the Rev. Weems S. Dykes will be the speaker. Tuesday's service will be led by the Rev. Gus Hanchak, pastor of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church. On both Wednesday and Thursday nights, the Rev. Leonard Lee of First Baptist Church will be in the pulpit. The concluding service Friday night will have the Rev. Carl Treat, pastor of Crane's First United Methodist Church, as speaker.

Special music at each of the services will be under the direction of Jim O'Daniel, director of music at First Baptist Church. Mrs. H. L. Wheat will be the organist. All services will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will be open to the public.

Palm Sunday Service Set

First Christian Church will mark the beginning of Holy Week with special Palm Sunday observances.

The 10:50 a.m. worship service will be highlighted with the annual Processional of the Palms, in which children of nursery through junior Sunday school departments will participate. The rite will symbolize Jesus' entry into Jerusalem, when many people spread palm branches on the road to mark his entry.

Also during the morning service, an offering of canned food will be received. The food items will be used to stock a special "pantry" at First Christian Church which supplies families in the city in need of food, and also helps transient families needing assistance. All members of the congregation are urged to bring their gifts of non-perishable food items to the Sunday morning service.

Revival Services Concluding Sunday

Revival services which have been under way this week at Trinity Baptist Church, will conclude Sunday.

Dinner on the grounds Sunday noon will be a feature of the closing day, said pastor Elyson Taylor. Edgar McNeely of Gatesville is the evangelist for the special services, which are being held at 7:30 p.m. daily. Sunday, the final day of the revival, services will begin at 10:50 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Counseling Center Organizing Classes

Midland's new Pastoral Counseling Center is announcing formation of classes in Transactional Analysis, to be offered at the PCC, 4301 Andrews Highway.

One class is planned for teenagers and will be conducted on Wednesdays from 8 to 9 p.m. The other class is for women and will take place between 11 a.m. and 12 noon, also on Wednesdays.

First sessions for the two groups will be held April 17, with sessions to continue through the last week in May. Dr. Ray Bristol, executive director of the Pastoral Counseling Center, will teach the classes. Additional information on the classes and details on registration may be obtained by telephoning the center at 697-2261.

Easter Cantata Scheduled Sunday

"The Seven Last Words of Christ," a favorite traditional Easter cantata, will be presented by the Sanctuary Choir of First Baptist Church Sunday night.

The cantata dramatically presents in solos and choral passages the last words of Christ on the cross. The presentation, directed by David Campbell, will have organ accompaniment by Miss Doris Bruce, and piano accompaniment by Mrs. Kathleen Janssen.

The presentation in the church sanctuary will be open to the public.

Special Hours Set

Action Line-FISH, Midland's community referral and assistance agency, will have special hours during Holy Week.

The agency will be in operation between 9 a.m. and 12 noon next Monday through Friday, it was announced.

Mormons Slate Telecast Sunday

SALT LAKE CITY — The World Conference telecast of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints is scheduled Sunday morning.

The program will be seen from 9 to 11 a.m. on Station KOSA-TV, Channel 7, for Permian Basin area viewers.

The LDS World Conference will be held at historic Temple Square in Salt Lake City. President Spencer W. Kimball of the LDS will be presiding over the conference. Special music will be presented by the famed 375-voice Mormon Tabernacle Choir.

Special Music Series Scheduled

Westside Free Will Baptist Church, 4031 W. Illinois St., is planning a Week of Special Music.

The revival emphasis will begin Monday and continue through April 13, said the Rev. Glen Hood, host pastor. Services will begin at 7:30 p.m. daily.

Special music will be presented by the church choir at each service, with additional music to be offered by quartets, trios, duets and solo vocalists. Special stories and testimonies also will be presented. The public is invited to attend the revival services.

Guest Speaker Set

GUEST SPEAKER — The Rev. John Morgan, pastor of El Paso's Cielo Vista Baptist Church, will be guest preacher at the 10 a.m. Sunday service at Kelview Heights Baptist Church, Scarbauer Drive near N. Big Spring St. the public is invited to hear him.

'She Doesn't Need Me ...'

The Dallas Morning News reports from a sworn affidavit in the court of Justice of the Peace Jack Richburg, as follows:

"I have been married to this woman two years, but we have been separated several times. Together, we have one child by our marriage. She has not been married to anyone else but has four children, ages 3 to 8, by other men. All of these four have different fathers.

"After we married I warned her that she should get off welfare because I was supporting her. She said no. She has been drawing welfare ever since under another name — she did not change her name on the rolls when we married. I never saw her check but I believe it was $160 or $170 a month. She was getting free food commodities and now gets food stamps.

"I made a trip to Chicago, and when I got back I found out she was on welfare in Fort Worth as well as in Dallas. In Fort Worth she registered under another name. I don't know where her checks are sent, but she goes there once a month to pick them up. She also gets food stamps there.

"She has been living here in the projects. I work every day and support her. She is always telling me to get out, that she doesn't need me because she gets enough out of welfare."

And there you have another "Welfare State" incident.

Disposition of the case is not known, but it is likely the Dallas welfare load was lightened somewhat as a result of the testimony.

Trustee Election Time

Well, let's see what kind of a turnout the educational districts of the county can get in their trustee elections Saturday ... compared to last Tuesday's city election.

The challenge really isn't too great, and with pretty weather and with many persons off work for the day, it shouldn't be too difficult to outnumber the 2,412 city vote.

There is only one contested race Saturday, but this does not detract from the importance of the balloting. The contest is for one of two places at stake in the Midland Independent School District election. The incumbents in the Greenwood Independent School District and the Midland College District are unopposed.

Opposed or unopposed the candidates for the various trustee posts are entitled to your response at the polls.

Support for education in Midland County can be demonstrated in clearly understandable terms through a good turnout of voters Saturday.

See you at the polls Saturday!

'How Do I Know It Wouldn't Be Used For Hush Money?'

NEA REPORTS —

Professional Army Is Superior, Secretary Says

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Despite the show-me skepticism of many people, the all-volunteer Army is working, reports Secretary of the Army Howard H. Callaway. When the draft ended on Dec. 31, 1972, the Army had 10 fully-formed combat divisions. Today, it has 13 such divisions, 10 of which are considered combat ready.

"The Army's on board, it's more disciplined, it's a better Army," says Callaway. What this means is that for the first time since before World War II, except for a brief hiatus following the war, the United States is not relying on conscription to fill the Army's ranks. For the first time in a generation, young men can plan their futures without the threat of the draft hanging over their heads.

Actually, the development is more momentous than that. For all of its history, until the onset of the Cold War, the peacetime Army was a volunteer organization. But the tiny, neglected, sometimes scorned and always poorly equipped forces that existed between the wars hardly qualified as armies. They were a nucleus only, a cadre of professionals, expected to hold the line if war came, while the nation slowly mobilized itself.

"Must Be Ready" The United States never again will enjoy that kind of leisure in the event of another major war. In this nuclear age, the exchange of missiles would be over, and the outcome probably decided, long before the country could whip its civilian population into a fighting force.

The Army, along with the other services, must be ready at all times — trained, competent and equipped — to play whatever roles they would be able to play in the ghastly scenario of nuclear war.

As for any more so-called "limited" wars, which scarcely seem conceivable in the light of the Vietnam experience, here, too, it must be the job of a professional Army. Although the draft law remains on the books, the nation is not likely again to give a president a "blank check" to send erstwhile civilians into dubious battle.

That the all-volunteer Army is working is the best news that Americans have heard since Nov. 158 was drawn from the lottery bowl back in 1940.

THIS MAY UPSET A few preconceived notions about the toll-of-stress-and-competition in the business world, but a study by statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. indicates that executives who reach the highest levels in the business community have the most favorable prospects of completing — or exceeding — their biblically allotted three-score-and-ten.

"Captains of industry," says the report, "not only live distinctly longer than white men in general, but also considerably longer than prominent business executives in general."

This conclusion was reached on the basis of a 16-year follow-up study of 1,078 corporate executives of the 500 industrial corporations ranked by Fortune magazine as having had the largest sales in 1957. (The study was limited to white men because there were very few blacks or women executives in the 500 corporations, which is another story.) What makes top executives such good life insurance prospects? In large measure, the statisticians believe, it reflects the physical and emotional fitness of business executives for positions of responsibility. Many of those who attain high status are able to cope with and even thrive on stressful situations by harnessing tensions for productive use.

It may well be, they add, that work satisfaction, together with public recognition of accomplishments, is an important determinant of health and longevity.

ONE OF THE MOST amazing things about the gasoline crisis is the way the automobile industry has responded to it. Despite the penalty of gas-consuming anti-pollution equipment, there's scarcely a new model that is not racking up fantastic mileage — according to the manufacturers' advertising, anyway. Even big, standard sedans are getting 18, 19, 20 or more miles per gallon, and the little cars are out of sight.

Whether the controlled testing that achieves these results has any relation to the way people drive in the real world is another matter. But it's certainly a testimonial to the ingenuity of the industry.

South's first play was to cash his king of clubs. His next lead was a low diamond. This gave West an excellent chance to be a goat. If he had been careless and played second hand low South would have been in dummy with the queen and able to discard his five of hearts on the ace of clubs.

West wasn't careless. He studied a while, went up with the ace of diamonds and led a diamond right back. South could never get to dummy and had to lose two heart tricks in the cool of the evening.

West's fine play really could not cost his side anything. If South held K-x of diamonds, he would finesse dummy's 10 after a low play from West.

BRUCE BLOSSAT Japanese Seeking An Oasis From Inflation

TOKYO (NEA) — While the rest of the industrial world seems to see itself on a speeding inflationary escalator, the Japanese say they think they can find plateaus of stability — "resting places" — which will enable them to get their tremendous economy under better control.

Certainly the wish is father to the thought. Prime Minister Tanaka's Liberal Democratic party, facing important summer elections in the Diet's upper House of Councillors, needs a period of stability to hold status with Japanese voters suffering from a variety of economic reverses.

Tanaka has just made his first key move — fixing fuel prices at considerably higher levels. It is expected that, inevitably, higher electric power rates, closely allied to oil cost, also will be boosted — with understandably heavy impact upon both industrial and personal users.

Yasuo Takeyama, keen-minded chief editor of the Japan Economic Journal, thinks power rates should have been boosted simultaneously with oil prices, but that Tanaka feared the political effect.

At first blush, there appears a contradiction between the industrial world's raging inflationary forces and Japan's conviction that it can find stability, at least for temporary periods, amid the chaos.

As I have indicated in prior reports, the Japanese know they are in a world situation largely beyond their total control and that this complicates their industrial outlook greatly. A most recent example is America's announcement it is boosting the price of coking coal by 50 per cent. Japan's super-modern steel industry imports more than 82 per cent of its coking coal.

There is constant fear there that other nations with heavy grasp on the raw materials Japan imports (it has virtually none needed for industry) may follow course and impose crushing higher price burdens on the Japanese economy.

On top of this, most government and business specialists I've talked to in Japan think labor's annual "spring of fensiveness" for higher wages will produce gains for the workers of around 24 to 25 per cent — as against a top of 20 per cent in earlier years. This clearly presents an inflationary prospect.

How, then, can Japan talk of stability?

For one thing, even though the wage demands are tied to acknowledged inflationary trends, many responsible officials don't expect the added money increment to be poured into immediate consumer purchasing power. The Japanese have a long habit of saving (their savings permit the huge bank loans which supply much of the country's capital investment). There is wide expectation that, inflation notwithstanding, a lot of workers' 1974 wage gains will flow into new savings.

The larger point, however, is that same old matter of high Japanese self-confidence.

The basic view, uttered here for me by countless leaders, is that, if the Japanese were gaining on others in the industrial world at lower price levels, the factors which accounted for that advantage will work as well at higher price levels.

Not the least of those elements is Japan's self-discipline. Right now energy allocations are in effect, key price controls apply, and the government is administering a rigid tight money policy. The net consequence is a suppression of demand which one economic official dared to say is producing a home-front depression, which many think will last at least until summer.

Beyond that aspect, though, is the contagious optimism of men like Board Chairman Akio Morita of SONY, top producer of electronic products, and Board Chairman Yutaka Sugi of Nikon, leading maker of cameras and other optical instruments. Morita especially exudes high spirits when he talks of the future. He is one of those who believes that Japan is running strongly on its own steam today, technologically, that it will consistently more than hold its own in the hard world race to sell high quality goods at competitive prices.

U.S. economic experts here agree with such assessments. They think, as some Japanese do, that the country's real GNP growth in 1974 will range around four to five per cent. Not the miracle pace of recent years, but still a kind of half-miracle.

These are signs and portents, suggesting that when we talk about the nation becoming energy-independent, we are talking about more than immunity from foreign oil embargoes.

WITH AN ASSIST FROM the gasoline shortage, Amtrak, the national railroad passenger system, racked up a 28 per cent gain in patronage in January over the same month a year ago. The increase was reflected in all parts of the country as a total of 1,423,000 people took the train.

Amtrak also reports a much improved on-time performance record. Unfortunately, as the United Transportation Union points out in a recent newsletter, in this case all that glitters is not exactly what it appears to be.

A train is now counted "on time" if it reaches its ultimate destination within five minutes for every 100 miles of operation. For example, a train traveling 600 miles can come in 30 minutes after scheduled arrival time and still be considered "on time."

Under the previous system, a train was considered late if it arrived more than six minutes behind schedule.

But better late than never, as they say. These days, any train is better than no train at all. And the system does seem to be improving.

Dear Editor: I see where some senators and some of the less grandiose grade of peopleherdard are advising President Nixon to resign.

Their contention is that he has lost the confidence of the people and a de-followered leader cannot lead effectively.

Which is a reasonable argument, but since the polls reported the Congress with even less public regard than the President, there hasn't been any grand rush of congressmen to resign because 80 per cent of the people don't love them any more.

DON OAKLEY Sewers Of The Future May Go Down The Drain

NEW YORK (NEA) — Only those who have never been there wax nostalgic over the kerosene lamp and outhouse days when every home was pretty much self-contained and self-sufficient. But we may be heading toward something reminiscent of that kind of individual family independence as our demands for energy and other amenities begin to strain the ability of public utilities to meet them.

In many areas, new developments have been stalled because of the lack of sewer-ties and treatment plants. An article in PUD (Planned Unit Development) Review, published in Reston, Va., predicts that in the not too distant future, we may have to be largely a "sewerless" society.

The technology exists today to provide, at feasible cost, human waste disposal systems within single-family or multifamily structures.

Developed in Sweden One of the most promising is a self-contained system developed in Sweden. The Multitrum unit requires no energy and produces no pollutants. Waste is "composted" in a sealed container, and after two years the sterile residue is simply removed to the garden.

A sewerless society would not only greatly reduce the pollution of lakes and streams, but according to one estimate would mean a 45 per cent reduction in the consumption of purified water used to flush toilets.

age was estimated at $100 million.

In Xenia, temporary shelters were set up for the hundreds of homeless and a spirit of cooperation existed as people worked to pick up the rubble. At one of the shelters, Jerry Egan, 19, said "the really sickening thing will be when these people leave these shelters to go back and see what's happened."

Whole communities in several states remained without power. The Xenia hospital treated 300 persons without power; the most seriously injured were taken to nearby Dayton.

The Tennessee Valley Authority said it had suffered the worst damage in its 40-year history, losing the use of half its 10 500,000-volt lines, the backbone of the utility's system. Repairmen continued working today to fix the main lines, but officials said even when that task is complete some communities would still be without power.

Gas lines were turned off in other communities to avert the possibility of explosions. Classes at Central State University and Wilberforce, both in Wilberforce, Ohio, were canceled indefinitely after the schools suffered major damage. Students at Eastern Kentucky University in Richmond were asked to go home until Monday.

More than 30 buildings at the Army's Redstone Arsenal near Huntsville, Ala., where 90 per cent of the city was without power for 24 hours, were destroyed or damaged. A Baptist minister in Jasper, Ala., died when a tornado struck his church as he was conducting weekly prayer services.

Officials estimated there were 900 persons injured in Alabama, 1,000 each in Georgia and Ohio and 1,600 in Illinois. Thirteen Kentucky counties reported deaths from the storms.

High winds and flooding continued Thursday in the storm's aftermath, killing one person in Virginia, but in most areas the beginning of a clean-up had started. Relief agencies handed out food and provided shelter while forklifts and bulldozers shoveled the wreckage into burning piles of rubble.

In some of the worst hit areas, such as Brandenburg and Xenia, officials continued to look for the missing, fearing that in some cases where whole families were involved that additional deaths would surely be reported. Officials also wrestled with problems in keeping an accurate count of the dead, and continually revised their reports.

The tornadoes were the worst since March 18, 1925, when storms hit Missouri, Illinois and Indiana, killing 689. A Midwest tornado on April 11, 1965 — Palm Sunday — killed 271.

Severe Weather Blows Into Ocean; Heavy Rains Fall

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Thunderstorms dampened the Southeast today, but the severe weather that spread tornadoes and death through the eastern half of the nation this week blew into the Atlantic Ocean.

The last reported tornadoes occurred Thursday evening in Northwest Florida, Southeast Alabama and eastern South Carolina.

In their wake, heavy rain fell at some spots. Columbia, S.C., was soaked by almost 2 inches during the night and an inch fell at Augusta, Ga. Rains from the last two days caused some flooding in North Carolina.

Rain splashed over most of the Middle Atlantic states, and scattered showers ranged from southern Illinois to Ohio. Light snow sifted into Michigan and northern Illinois, where Peoria accumulated an inch.

Clouds in the Northwest spread from the Pacific Coast to the Rockies, and a few light showers sprinkled into Washington.

Elsewhere, clear skies prevailed. Temperatures were generally below normal throughout the country except on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

Readings before dawn ranged from 79 at Miami and Key West Naval Air Station in Florida to 20 at Laramie and Casper, Wyo., and International Falls, Minn.

Commission Okays IS-35 Interchange

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Highway Commission approved the construction Friday of a $1.6 billion interchange on Interstate 35 in Austin and voted to study ways of handling increasing traffic on U.S. 183 here.

The interchange will be at 26th Street in the central part of the city. Preliminary engineering studies will be done on U.S. 183 from Loop 360 to Farm 969, a distance of about 9 miles.

The commission also approved rebuilding sections of farm roads in Hood and Somervell counties to make them safer and more accessible for workers on the Comanche Peak Steam Electric Station and Squaw Creek Reservoir between Granbury and Glen Rose.

Squeak Got High-Level Attention

By DICK BARNES
WASHINGTON (AP) — If your door squeaks, you oil it. Unless you're the President, in which case your lawyer gets written reports.

This and other insights to the private side of presidential life are contained in a 994-page congressional staff report on President Nixon's income taxes.

The saga of the squeak and the accompanying problem of the pantry were discussed in a letter to Nixon's personal lawyer, Herbert W. Kalmbach, from a contracting firm that did a lot of work at the President's San Clemente, Calif., estate.

The letter, reproduced in the congressional document, said in part: "During the dinner party for the Hopes, Fords and Arnold Palmer, the swinging door squeaked between the dining room and the pantry. Also, the light in the pantry was so bright it destroyed the candlelight atmosphere. The door was oiled and doesn't squeak anymore but the light is still a problem. It could be fixed by putting it on a separate switch."

The contracting firm was paid $1,706 during 1971 for a variety of items, but the report doesn't say whether a separate switch for the pantry light was among them.

About the same time, the firm, The Sturtevant Corp., also was involved in the installation of an exhaust fan in the chimney of a fireplace at San Clemente.

That episode began with a note from Kalmbach observing: "Mr. Rebozo says the President feels the fireplace in the library doesn't draw too well — there is smoke in the room."

The Sturtevant firm diagnosed the trouble as coming when wind conditions caused a downdraft. The fan was installed, but the General Services Administration wouldn't pay the bill until the Secret Service was prevailed upon to insist on the fan for security reasons.

Although he gets a lot of logistical help, the President also pays bills for some of the same things more ordinary Americans pay for, too — albeit sometimes on a far grander scale. Take these examples:

—Christmas cards: $3,500 in 1972, up $250 from the year previous.

—A daughter's party: For food, beverages, decorations and rentals at Tricia Nixon's masquerade ball May 10, 1969, the tab came to $5,391.

—Swimming pool maintenance: $40 a month at San Clemente.

—Rugs: $22.50 to a rug and upholstery firm for cleaning Mrs. Nixon's bathroom rug at San Clemente.

The President's problem was that he tried to take all or part of each of these expenses as a business deduction on his income tax.

The taxmen now say no.

Life Terms Given Pair In Slayings

BELTON, Tex. (AP) — Two Dallas men accused in the 1972 riverside slaying of three deputy sheriffs have now been found guilty of all three deaths and assessed three life prison sentences.

The final murder trial for Leonard Lopez and Rene Guzman ended quickly Thursday after a state court jury returned a guilty verdict in 22 minutes and assessed the life sentences for each man in 10 more minutes.

In two previous trials, one of them only Wednesday, the defendants received a similar fate.

The presentation, titled "The Living Lord's Supper," will be by 12 church youth people, joined by the pastor, the Rev. John D. Riggs. The public is invited to attend the service and view the presentation.

Group To Present 'Lord's Supper'

A dramatization of the Last Supper will be presented as a highlight of the Sunday evening worship hour at Wilshire Park Baptist Church, 801 S. Bentwood St.

Whistle Whispers

The new civil defense siren went off on schedule at noon Thursday, but instead of the shattering blast which Midland braced itself for, there was only a little noise that got through to only a few.

There was a malfunction in the controls and even some of the people working inside the new federal complex didn't hear the sound coming from the top of the building.

A few people in the business area, those who stood outside to listen for it, heard a sound which was described variously as "loud," "faint," and "amazingly quiet."

One barmaid a few blocks away said: "I had four drinks in here who were louder than the siren."

Federal officials said they were not disappointed. The object of the test was to determine whether the equipment was in working order, and it was not.

Another test will be held within the next few days.

Houston Boy Writes Nixon Anti-Nixon Posters Banned

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston area seventh grade boy has written President Nixon saying school officials would not allow pupils to display anti-Nixon posters during the President's recent visit to the school.

The principal of the school denied the accusation.

Nixon received a warm reception from an estimated 3,000 youngsters during his brief stopover en route to the Johnson Space Center March 20.

However, Patrick Butler III, 13, a seventh grader at Webster Intermediate School, claims teachers and administrative personnel ensured a pro-Nixon crowd by sequestering young critics.

In a letter scrawled to the President with copies sent to news media, young Butler said: "During your visit, you would have seen many posters calling for your resignation or impeachment, but they were banned. Anyone who made an uncomplimentary poster had to stay in the principal's office during your visit. Posters saying 'We love you, Mr. Nixon' were allowed."

Principal J. B. Puckett denied any pupil was detained in his office or that pupils were told what to say on posters which they were allowed to create from school material. Other teachers could not confirm the complaint.

"I don't know who would have been there (principal's office) with her or him," said one teacher. "All the administrators and teachers were outside."

Young Butler said he was disappointed the President restricted his conversation and handshaking to primary pupils.

The older kids were kept at a distance for fear that they might make uncomplimentary remarks," he said in the letter.

Joan Jacobson, 12, a sixth grader, said her class also was told not to put anything uncomplimentary on the posters.

"They said not to put anything bad, such as 'Impeach Nixon,'" she told a newsmen.

Lawyer To Seek Delay In Mass Murder Trial

HOUSTON (AP) — A lawyer for one of the defendants in the Houston mass murder case said today he will seek another delay in the trial and a change of venue.

Will Gray, the attorney for Elmer Wayne Henley, 17, said he will ask that Henley's trial be moved from San Antonio and delayed until defense psychiatrists finished with their examinations.

A Houston judge moved Henley's trial to San Antonio following a pretrial hearing earlier this year. Henley was whisked to San Antonio early Thursday by deputies.

State District Court Judge William Hatten moved the trial because of what he called excessive news coverage. But Gray said today he intends to ask State District Court Judge Preston Dial of San Antonio to move Henley's trial because "our early investigation shows that publicity is just as bad there as here."

Doesn't Want Hearing
Henley is due to stand trial this summer in the death of Charles C. Cobble, 17, one of 27 young men whose bodies were found buried in the Houston area last August.

Judge Dial plans to hold a pretrial hearing Monday but Gray said he doesn't want it until he gets a 1,500-page transcript of the previous pre-trial hearing in Judge Hatten's court.

The defense has subpoenaed 51 witnesses for the San Antonio hearings, including about 20 newsmen, Gray said. He said among the motions he will file at that time will be one to throw out the case because Harris County district attorneys allegedly conspired with psychiatrists and a former jail guard to gain access to confidential communications between Henley and his attorneys.

The former guard, Robert Weidner, since fired and indicted on a charge of sodomy, smuggled a photograph into the jail to photograph Henley, Gray says.

Gray also contends that county psychiatrists made video and tape recordings of Henley and turned them over to the district attorney's office.

Dist. Atty. Carol Vance replied Weidner was not their agent. He also said his office staff has talked with the county psychiatrists about their findings.

"As district attorney I have a duty not to prosecute anyone who is mentally incompetent," Vance said.

The state has subpoenaed 10 witnesses for Monday's hearing, including Harris County Medical Examiner Dr. Joseph Jachimczyk.

30 Wildcat Gas, Oil Wells Drilled

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Fifteen wildcat oil wells and 15 wildcat gas wells were drilled in Texas during the last two weeks of March, the Railroad Commission reported Thursday.

A total of 70 wildcat oil wells have been drilled this year, an increase of 24 from this time a year ago. Seventy-four wildcat gas wells have been drilled, a decrease of 14 from a year ago.

The new wildcat oil wells included three each in the Corpus Christi and San Angelo districts, two each in the Abilene, Pampa and San Antonio No. 2 districts and one each in the Houston, Kilgore No. 2 districts and one each in the Houston, Kilgore No. 6 and Wichita Falls districts.

The new wildcat gas wells included six in the San Antonio No. 2 district, four in the Corpus Christi district, three in the San Angelo district and one each in the Kilgore No. 6 and Midland districts.

A total of 165 oil wells were completed from March 15 through March 31 for a yearly total of 1,187, or 180 more than at this time a year ago. Eighty-five gas wells were completed for a yearly total of 679, or 122 more than a year ago.

The commission said 490 wells were plugged, including 132 dry holes.

Texas' average calendar day oil allowable as of April 1 was reported to be 4,045,337 barrels, a decrease of 23,084.

U.S. Jobless Rate Declines Slightly

rate would top six per cent.

According to today's report from the Bureau of Labor Statistics, total employment remained essentially unchanged for the second consecutive month at 85.9 million in March while the number of people not at work edged down from 4.7 million in February to a seasonally adjusted 4.6 million.

Since October about 530,000 persons had been reported thrown out of work mostly as a result of the direct or indirect effects of the energy crisis.

The government said that although white-collar employment has continued to expand at a strong pace, rising by more than 800,000 over the October-March period, the rise was largely offset by a decline in blue-collar jobs, mainly due to layoffs in the auto industry.

Unemployment rates for most groupings in the labor force were mostly unchanged last month. The jobless rate for married men was 2.4 per cent; adult women 5 per cent; teenagers 15 per cent; white workers 4.6 per cent, and blacks 9.4 per cent.

For Vietnam veterans aged 20 to 34 years old, the jobless rate increased slightly to 5.1 per cent. But the rate for the younger veterans, those from age 20 to 24, who are most recently discharged, stood at 9 per cent.

The average work week of production workers last month dropped six minutes to 36.8 hours. In manufacturing, the average work week fell by 12 minutes to 40.3 hours.

The average weekly pay check was listed as $148.23 in March, an increase of 77 cents from February and $8.01 since March 1973.

Jury Deliberating In Burglary Trial

Jury deliberation in the burglary trial of Jimmie Dwain Morgan began this morning in 142nd District Court here.

Morgan is charged with the Nov. 20, 1972, burglary of the Sohio Oil Co. office here. Several business machines were taken during the break-in.

Assistant District Attorney Rusty Wall prosecuted the case and Odessa attorney Benny Lowe represented Morgan.

French Election Set May 5

PARIS (AP) — France will vote for a successor to President Georges Pompidou May 5, the government announced today as politicians jostled for position in the race.

If no candidate wins a majority in the first round, a second round will be held May 19 matching the two biggest vote-getters in the May 5th balloting.

The decision, reported to newsmen by Agriculture Minister Raymond Marcellin, came at a cabinet meeting held while leaders from all parts of the world were converging on Paris for a memorial service for Pompidou.

President Nixon was due late in the day to attend the requiem mass in Notre Dame Cathedral Saturday morning. The White House said Nixon would return home Saturday evening and had no plans for "substantive meetings" with other leaders attending the memorial.

The mourners will include Soviet President Nikolai V. Podgorny, Chancellor Willy Brandt of West Germany, East German Premier Willi Stoph, British Prime Minister Harold Wilson and his predecessor Edward Heath, Japanese Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka and Prime Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto of Pakistan.

Pompidou died Tuesday at the age of 62, two years before the end of his seven-year term. He was buried Thursday in a simple private ceremony in the cemetery near his country home in the village of Orville, 35 miles from Paris.

Holiday Schedule Announced By Y

The Central YMCA will operate on a holiday schedule next week while schools are taking their spring break.

During the week there will be open swims for elementary school students from 1-2:30 p.m. Monday and Wednesday, 1-2 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday and 2:30-3:30 p.m. Saturday. Open swim for junior high students will be 2:30-4 p.m. Monday and Wednesday, 2-3 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday and 3:30-4:30 p.m. Saturday.

Open gym for junior high and above will be 9:30-11 a.m. Monday through Friday, 1:30-4 p.m. Monday through Thursday and Kerrville in the Hill Country, noon to 6 p.m. Saturday.

Regular youth swim or gym classes will not be held next week, nor will women's water exercise and women's slim-nastics.

All men's programs will be held as scheduled except next Friday when the Y will close at noon in observance of Good Friday.

Warming—

morning temperature of 27 degrees. Readings ranged from the middle 30s to upper 40s elsewhere except for a 54 at Brownsville and 59 at Galveston. The Associated Press reported. Temperatures dropped to 30 degrees with a light frost at Kerrville in the Hill Country, but County Agent Bill Reuter said vegetables and fruit probably suffered no damage.

The top marks Thursday afternoon went as high as 80 at McAllen in the Lower Rio Grande. Amarillo was the coolest spot with a maximum of 54.

Fair and a little warmer at noon in observance of Good Friday was promised all sections, with another cool night.

SUMMER JOUSTS PLANNED—

Football Fans, Take Heart

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — I hate to distract you from Hank Aaron's next at-bat, but there'll be joy in Mudville and other localities this summer for pro football freaks who equate baseball with drought.

Two television firms here say they're offering a summer supply of gridiron jousts from both the Canadian Football League and the new, 12-team World Football League. The jousts will last through the fall.

The summer football season — deodorant sponsors, take note — starts June 26 with the CFL's All-Star game. It'll be broadcast in the United States by Ralmar Sports Productions, which has done this since 1972.

The WFL's wars begin July 18, covered by the TVS Television Network, which in past years has concentrated on college basketball and such things as the World University games from Moscow.

The two companies say they've a total of 45 games scheduled.

TVS' president Eddie Einhorn says his network will offer 23 of those games — 19 on Thursday nights, three on Saturday nights and the WFL championship battle on Nov. 29, a Friday.

Marty Rosenblatt, a Ralmar vice president, says his company will offer 12 games, the 11th ending Sept. 3 with no further video action until the CFL's championship Grey Cup game at the end of November.

Einhorn, who says his company paid more than $1 million for the WFL rights, says he's signed up 50 stations so far and expects to have at least 130 by July 18, all but 30 of them major network affiliates.

Rosenblatt says U.S. rights for CFL games this year cost $300,000. He says he's signed up 62 stations so far — of which 35 per cent are network affiliates — and expects to have 20 more by kickoff June 26.

Although most of the CFL games seen in the United States last year were on a videotape-delay basis, Rosenblatt says "we're going mostly live" this year with nationally televised CFL games on Wednesday nights.

Einhorn says all the WFL games will be offered live.

Okay, now that that's out of the way, a question: Won't the two-league offering slice the summer football market a bit thin?

"I don't know," says Rosenblatt. "We're strictly a summer package, and now we've got competition. . . . We don't need big (ratings) numbers to do well, but I don't know where it's going to take us."

"Well, I have a theory about oversaturation," says TVS' Einhorn. "If people still watch it, and sponsors still buy it, there's no oversaturation."

"When the day comes that ratings drop and therefore the sponsor interest drops, then you can say there's oversaturation . . . but right now, pro football is the hottest thing going."

THE PATIENCE OF THIS COMMITTEE IS NOW WEARING THIN.

Panel Is Willing To Let Nixon's Lawyer Help Screen Requested Tapes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee, hoping to break a deadlock with the White House, is willing to let President Nixon's lawyer help screen tapes requested for its impeachment inquiry.

The proposal is contained in a letter renewing a request for tapes of 42 presidential conversations that has been pending since Feb. 25, and setting a deadline of next Tuesday for the White House to say whether they will be forthcoming.

Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., with solid backing from Republican committee members, said Thursday a subpoena will be issued for the tapes if necessary.

"The patience of this committee is now wearing thin," he said at a committee briefing on the impeachment investigation. "We hope . . . some of our spirit of accommodation will be reciprocated by the White House and our President."

However, Rodino's tough talk was offset by an apparent concession to the White House in the letter from John Doar, chief committee counsel, to James St. Clair, Nixon's chief impeachment lawyer, renewing the request for the tapes.

Doar said the committee had no interest in any conversations unrelated to its inquiry and invited St. Clair to make the initial determination as to what should be sent to the committee.

While emphasizing that the committee retained an unchallenged right to make the final determination as to the relevancy of the conversations, Doar said he was sure "it would give careful initial consideration to your response."

Rodino said later the suggestion that St. Clair make the first screening did not represent any departure from the committee's negotiating position on the tapes, but other members disagreed.

"It was news to me," said Rep. William Cohen, R-Maine, who added that it appeared to give St. Clair "absolute judgment" over what the committee would receive.

Aaron Ties Ruth's Record By Hitting No. 714

Cincy Takes Victory Over Atlanta In 11

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Thus far, after just one day in the spotlight, the 1974 baseball season bears a striking resemblance to 1973.

Hank Aaron hit a home run — No. 714, tying Babe Ruth's career record — the Atlanta Braves' bullpen failed miserably, Pete Rose won a game for the Cincinnati Reds with some sharp hitting and baserunning, Reggie Jackson did some strong hitting for the Oakland A's and the Texas Rangers, despite Manager Billy Martin's pennant talk.

Despite the slim opening day schedule — one game in each league — there was quite a bit of action as the Reds rallied to edge the Braves 7-6 in 11 innings in the National League while the two-time world champion A's trounced the Rangers 7-2 in the American.

Fourteen more teams are scheduled to get going today. In the AL, it's Detroit at Baltimore, California at the Chicago White Sox and Boston at Milwaukee in the afternoon and Minnesota at Kansas City under the lights.

The lone NL daylight game finds Houston at San Francisco. At night, Pittsburgh visits St. Louis and San Diego plays at Los Angeles.

The rest of the clubs swing into action Saturday.

The big news Thursday was Aaron. The 40-year-old slugger equaled Ruth's mark, which was once thought unreachable. He smashed a three-run homer off Cincinnati's Jack Billingham in the very first inning of the season on his very first trip to the plate.

"It was," said teammate Norm Miller, "the most appropriate thing to do at the time.

It was like building Disneyland and opening the gate. The production had been made and the stage was set."

Like the super star he is, Aaron stole the show. He lined a 3-1 pitch over the left field fence at the 375-foot mark. Among the cheers and accolades for Aaron were a resolution of congratulations in the U.S. Senate and a standing ovation in the House of Representatives when No. 714 was announced.

The Atlanta-Cincinnati game was interrupted for six minutes while Aaron was congratulated by Vice President Gerald R. Ford, Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn and Bill Bartholomay, board chairman of the Braves.

"Thank you very much," Aaron said. "I'm just glad it's almost over with."

Before the game, he had said: "I always thought time was on my side and I still think it is. I feel I can hit maybe 35-40 home runs again."

By scoring a run in the fifth inning, Aaron also tied Willie Mays for third place on the all-time list in that category.

After Atlanta built a 6-1 lead, the Reds pulled within range on Dave Concepcion's solo homer off starter Carl Morton in the fifth inning and Tony Perez' three-run shot off Phil Niekro in the eighth. With two out in the ninth, George Foster delivered a pinch single and Rose doubled him home to tie the score.

Rose doubled again off Buzz Capra with two out in the 11th. Capra then uncorked a wild pitch, which got away from catcher Johnny Oates and rolled to the corner of the dugout behind third base and the hustling Rose raced home.

Mull Likes Managing, Challenges It Brings

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. —

For most ex-Midland Cubs the future is the promise of Wichita and Chicago, but one ex-Bruin is headed in the opposite direction and couldn't be more delighted about the chance.

Jack Mull, Manager Al Spangler's player-coach the last two years, is getting an opportunity to strike out on his own as manager of the Cubs' Class A farm club at Key West this year.

"I never realized how much was involved in managing," Jack said the other day, "until I came out here for the fall instructional league last year. But Al has been a great help to me and Lou Klein. After every game, I would meet with Klein at night and discuss strategy . . . when to play the infield in, when to hit and run . . ."

"The one thing I wasn't prepared for and still have adjusted to is the paper work. There's mountains of it. We have to make out evaluation reports on every opposing player, not only rating him now, but rating him for say a year from now and as an eventual major league prospect."

Mull, more mature looking than his 28 years, which in the new direction his career is taking probably an asset, adds the good thing about the evaluation system is that all opinions are pooled, "and if anyone is hesitant to give up on a player in the organization, the player is usually kept for a longer look."

In a luncheon conversation at Casa Grande Monday, Ernie Banks said, "Most players want to play for Wichita, if they aren't with the big club, but the way baseball is set up today, it's just as easy to go from the Texas League to the majors as it is from the AAA level . . . and it's done frequently."

Of course, every one recognizes Ernie and he lost no time in the easy bantering to encourage folks to come out and see the Midland Cubs play Amarillo.

One couple protested they were Dodger fans. "That's all right. It's a beautiful day for baseball. Come on out and watch the Midland Cubs."

They were adamant in their refusal. "We are going to Mexico and aren't even going to see the Giants and Dodgers play in Phoenix tonight."

Quickies . . . Bill Huisman finished up work on his degree at Iowa State during the off season while shortstop Ken Sotkiewicz, with Wichita, did the same at Southern Georgia . . . Left-handed pitcher Budd Schultz has his Quarter Horse on the market. The Miami, Ohio, University product got a "one inning look from Chicago as a non-roster player this spring before hurting his back." Budd earned the look by making the Winter League all-star team, the only Cub to do so . . .

Jim Tyrone's younger brother Wayne, figures a sore shoulder will regulate him to the role of DH for a while. "Then I'll probably have to give third base a trial with Jerry (Tabb) back at first."

Arizona State is completing work on its new baseball stadium, just behind the hill from the football stadium, and it looks like it will seat about 6,000 to 8,000. Next year the Sun Devils, 25-13 currently, will hold their own invitational baseball tournament. Incidentally, U. Arizona, 40-2, apparently is the WAC team to beat this year . . .

WHA Series On Saturday

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) — With the hectic jockeying for position ended, the World Hockey Association Thursday announced its schedule for the first round of the World Trophy playoffs, which begin Saturday at Springfield, Mass. and St. Paul, Minnesota.

The Whalers will defend the championship they won last season — the WHA's first — against the Chicago Cougars, who sneaked past the Quebec Nordiques for fourth place in the WHA's East Division.

The Fighting Saints, second-place finishers in the West, will face the Edmonton Oilers, who started the season like a house afire but cooled off and had to settle for third.

The other first-round best-of-seven series will send the Howe family and the West Division champion Houston Aeros to Winnipeg for Monday's opener against Bobby Hull and the fourth-place Winnipeg Jets.

Meanwhile, in the other East semifinal, the Cleveland Crusaders — fourth finishers in the division — travel to Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto to face the Toros if the series opener Sunday afternoon, April 7.

The first two games of each series will be played at the home rink of the team which finished higher in the standings except for the Houston-Winnipeg series, which will start at Winnipeg because the Aeros couldn't secure dates at the Sam Houston Arena until Saturday, April 13.

Houston Hockey Player Arrested; Pleads Guilty To Drunk Driving

HOUSTON (AP) — Frank Hughes, 24, the leading goal scorer of the Aeros, was arrested by police in early morning on a Houston street, according to Asst. Dist. Atty. Ted Poe. The police report said Hughes' pickup truck was traveling at high speed and was swerving before it was stopped by an officer.

Bradley Set For Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "Pitching—that's our problem," acknowledges San Francisco Giants Manager Charlie Fox as his team opens the National League baseball season.

Tom Bradley, the opening day pitcher in place of injured Ron Bryant, was scheduled to face the Houston Astros' Dave Roberts today at Candlestick Park.

Another of the Giants' starting pitchers, rookie John D'Acquisto, gave Fox reason for worry Thursday in a 12-3 exhibition loss to the Santa Clara University Broncos. D'Acquisto gave up nine runs and 12 hits, including two homers, in six innings.

Centerfielder Phil Convertino hit both homers after just one previously in 29 college games this season.

Fox plans to use a five-man starting rotation the first two weeks of the season. Mike Caldwell, Jim Barr, Jim Willoughby and D'Acquisto are scheduled to follow Bradley.

Right fielder Bobby Bonds missed Thursday's game because of a slight muscle pull but was expected to start today. First baseman Ed Goodson, however, will be out at least one more week with a pulled hamstring.

Bryant, a 24-game winner last season, is scheduled to come off the disabled list April 16.

The series against Houston ends Sunday.

Lions Take Track Title Over Owls

By TERRY WILLIAMSON
R-T Sports Writer

CRANE — Ozona's Lions overcame a 440-yard relay disaster here Thursday afternoon on Crane's new all-weather track to win the District 7-AA track crown, but both Reagan County and Stanton may have a better representation to the Region 1 track meet in two weeks at Odessa.

Ozona posted 114 points to win the meet, but qualified only three individuals and a relay squad for the region affair. Reagan County, however, managed 108 points for second place, but qualified six individuals and two relay teams to the region meet while third place Stanton, with 86 points, qualified six high powered individuals.

Controversy erupted on the very first race of the day when Stanton was disqualified for passing the baton out of the north zone, and Ozona was eliminated by dropping the baton near the finish. Ozona was in the lead at the time and meet referee James Segrist of Odessa College ruled that Ozona was not bumped in the race, so Reagan County and Crane won the top two berths to advance to the regional meet. Stanton and Ozona were favored to capture the two top spots.

The rest of the meet ran smoothly, and there were some top races during the day.

Reagan County's Monte Barnes, trailing Stanton's Joe Hernandez during the entire race, nipped the Stanton ace with the wire with a 2:04.7 to win the 800. Barnes has lost to Hernandez on two occasions this year.

Stanton's Vernon and Elvin Brown both knocked off a 15.4 in the high hurdles to win the top two spots in that event.

Stanton's David Standefor cruised to a record breaking 9.9 in the 100 and won the 220 with a respectable 22.8. Reagan County's all-state grid star Marvin Baker was another top event winner during the day. Baker won the discus with a toss of 139.4 and the shot put with a heave of 52-4 1/2, which was a record.

Reagan County's Tommy Phillips won the mile with a 5:21.1 to narrowly defeat Coahoma's Ronnie Phinney.

Crane's Hubie Lane was the only other event winner with a leap of 6-0 in the high jump and 12-6 in the pole vault.

McCarney's Cliff Pettis had a 20-3 to win the broad jump over Crane's Randy Ford, who had a leap of 20-1 1/2. Jennings Teel, a freshman, had a 5-10 for second in the high jump for Reagan County, and McCarney's all-state griddy James Taylor had a second in the discus with a 132-3 1/2.

Saturday, Lubbock Estacado and Lubbock Dunbar are favored to battle it out for championship honors in the District 7-AA meet in Lubbock.

All meets will send the top two finishers in each event to the regionals in two weeks. All AAAA, AA and B schools will run their regional meet in Lubbock April 20 while AAA and AA will be held in Odessa April 19.

Crane qualified four individuals, McCarney three and Coahoma two for the regionals. Crane also added a relay team.

Loop Track Meets Set

San Angelo's Bobcats are favored to carry home their third straight District 5-AA track crown tonight from Odessa's W. T. Barrett Stadium with Lee and Permian figured to be the main competition.

Finals are slated for an 8 p.m. start. All preliminaries were held this afternoon.

Rankin's Red Devils were the heavy favorite in the District 6-A meet this afternoon in Iraan, and Odessa Ector's Eagles are the heavy favorites in today's District 2-AAA meet in Andrews. Finals in the 2-AAA affair will be this afternoon.

Saturday, Lubbock Estacado and Lubbock Dunbar are favored to battle it out for championship honors in the District 7-AA meet in Lubbock.

All meets will send the top two finishers in each event to the regionals in two weeks. All AAAA, AA and B schools will run their regional meet in Lubbock April 20 while AAA and AA will be held in Odessa April 19.

Jackson's Hot Bat Paces Opening Win

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Reggie Jackson, the American League's most valuable player, feels he has something to prove and Oakland's controversial owner Charles O. Finley says he has so much respect for his super star that "he can play barefooted if he wants."

Jackson slammed four hits, including a homer, and stole a base Thursday night as the defending world champions opened the AL season with a 7-2 romp over the Texas Rangers.

Rumors were afloat before the game that Finley and Jackson were feuding because Jackson refused to wear the same brand shoe as the rest of the team.

"There's no problem between me and Reggie, so why don't you just ask him?" Finley told a reporter in the clubhouse after the game.

Jackson came by and shook Finley's hand, saying, "You guys (the press) just like to sell newspapers. We have a mutual respect for each other. I'll stand up for my rights and I'm not going to let him make a fool out of me, but I respect him."

HURDLE ACTION — Austin's Larry Sutton, left and Michael Jobe of Edison skim over 9th Grade 70-yard low hurdles during City Track Meet Thursday afternoon at Memorial Stadium Track. Edison edged out Austin, 99 1/2 to 95 1/2 to win the crown, ending a 16-meet win streak for Austin.

City Track Meet

Edison, San Jacinto, Goddard Win

It came down to the mile relay Thursday afternoon and Edison won the final event to knock off Austin in the 9th Grade City Track Meet in Memorial Stadium. With the win, Edison wound up with 99 1/2 points to Austin's 95 1/2.

San Jacinto stormed to first place in the 8th Grade Meet with 118 points to Goddard's 78 while Goddard walked off with top honors in the 7th Grade Meet with 90 1/2 points to San Jacinto's 83 1/2.

Bo Cappadona, talented 8th grader from Goddard, set two records in the 70-yard hurdles and 230-yard hurdles with times of 9.3 and 28.5.

Other records were set by Phillip Ward of Edison in the 230-yard hurdles with a time of 28.3 while David Cook of Goddard set a new standard in the 70-yard hurdles with a clocking of 9.8 while Wesley Watley set a new mark in the 230-yard hurdles, being timed in 31.2.

The loss for Austin in the 9th Grade Meet is its first in 16 meets.

Energy Crisis Now Major Worry In Suburbs

By TERRY RYAN
Associated Press Writer

The energy crisis—initially a threat to suburban mobility—is more than a nagging irritation now in most American suburbs. It's something to worry about along with food prices and school taxes and maybe politics.

The gasoline lines have vanished, and you might even get your windshield washed again. The economic impact was not overwhelming, except for those who lost jobs or live in all-electric homes.

But something has changed, says the residents of suburbia. And planners and builders see more changes down the road.

Talked To People
Associated Press reporters recently visited a cross-section of suburban communities from affluent Wellesley, west of Boston, to middle-class Glendale, north of Los Angeles. They talked to people in supermarkets, service stations, city halls and on the streets.

In addition to a widespread cynicism, about the whole thing, they found a few tangible changes produced by the energy crisis:

—Most people are driving less and many say they will keep it down. "I think my husband likes the lower gas bills," said Mrs. Lyle Holmes, a Wellesley, Mass., housewife.

—Gasoline shortages have coaxed people aboard mass transit. Commuter buses and trains enjoy a new found popularity. The cry now is for better service in the suburbs themselves. No one knows if it will last.

—People are staying closer to home. Weekend jaunts are no longer a presumption and some people even think twice about going across town.

Challenging Lifestyle
Many suburban residents relate the energy crisis to larger problems challenging their lifestyle.

Rose Merisko pushed her shopping cart down a supermarket aisle in West Mifflin, Pa., a blue collar suburb 20 minutes driving time from Pittsburgh.

"It's disgusting," she said. "Everytime I shop, prices have jumped. Why, they raise them right before my eyes."

"And it seems that this energy crisis is the same old story. Everyone wants to get their pockets full without worrying about the little man. Pretty soon we're going to have nothing but the rich and the poor and no middle class."

The University of Pittsburgh's Center for Urban Research recently studied response to the energy crisis in the Pittsburgh area. Two-thirds of those surveyed lived in suburbs. Most were white, married and at least high school graduates.

Over 40 per cent said they drive less on Sundays and about the same number visit relatives and friends less often now. About 25 per cent go out to restaurants less frequently and there was a marked decline of interest in buying new cars.

Beyond that, 82 per cent were dissatisfied with the general conditions in America today. And 55 per cent said life would be no better in 1976.

"First we have Watergate, then the meat crisis and the wheat crisis and now the energy crisis. The people are telling us that they can't put up with all these different things," said Dr. Jiri Nehnevajsa, director of the Urban Research Center.

In the long run, say planners and builders, the energy crisis will move people closer to where they work. They talk of redevelopment of the inner suburbs, a movement away from the fringe of the freeway systems. They also talk of condominiums and town houses as replacements for the single family home.

Added Momentum
These trends, they emphasized, were there before the Arabs ever thought of an embargo. The energy crisis has simply added momentum.

"Developments will still be spread out, but there is a trend to move a little closer in," said F. R. Clancy, a Phoenix, Ariz., land developer.

The effects of the energy crisis are clearly visible in the Phoenix area, a 1,000-square-mile desert sprawl almost totally dependent on the automobile. A $4,000 trailer sits in front of Richard Morrison's home in Tempe, Ariz., a middle-class community 30 minutes from Phoenix. "We don't use it too much these days," said Mrs. Morrison.

Helen Everhart, another Tempe resident, said her driving has been reduced to essentials. "Pleasure trips are out and I shop less often," she said.

The same things hold true in Glendale, a fairly typical Southern California suburb. Use of local parks and recreation facilities is up considerably.

"They're not making the big trip to the beach," said Frank Perron of the local YMCA.

Jeff DeMarce is a truck driver and lives in Burien, Wash., a south Seattle suburb. "I don't like it," he said of the gasoline situation, "but I'm willing to pay more not to hassle it."

books from gardening to building something in the backyard to making bread," he said.

And people are more interested in staying near home when they look for a job, said Virginia Harvey, branch manager for the Employment Research Agency in Glendale.

Crisis Beneficiaries
Car pools and mass transit have been beneficiaries of the energy crisis. In the suburbs around Seattle, Wash., the mass transit system reports a 106 per cent increase in ridership. A computer matching service for car pools should get under way this month.

But many people resent the whole thing. If it is just a matter of money, they will keep on driving.

Symphony Board Elects Directors At Annual Meeting

Additions to the Midland Symphony and Chorus Association board of directors were made Thursday during the annual meeting of the association in The First National Bank.

Elected to three-year terms were LaDoyce Lambert, Ray Herndon, Paul Rea, Mrs. Peter Crain, William J. Mewhorter, Dr. J. M. Humphrey, Bob Anson and Mrs. Robert Cowan.

Joe Gifford was elected to a two-year term on the board and Mrs. Henry Tillett will be the association's representative on the Guest Artist Selection Committee.

New officers of the association, who were elected last month, will assume their duties on May 1. Ken Nordeman is the incoming president with Mrs. Lloyd Innerarity and Jim Boldrick as vice presidents. Wayne Ulrich as treasurer and Mrs. George Houston, secretary.

Outgoing president is Harry W. Clark, who now becomes Midland's cochairman on the Midland-Odessa Symphony and Chorale, Inc., board of directors. Clark, who has been president of the Midland association the last two years, succeeds LaDoyce Lambert in the joint board position.

Jury Subpoenas Records Of TI

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A federal grand jury investigating alleged antitrust activities by Braniff and Texas International airlines has subpoenaed some of TI's records concerning a competitor, Southwest Airlines.

The grand jury asked for TI records concerning TI actions when Southwest remained at Dallas Love Field rather than transfer to the new Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport.

The grand jury is the second panel investigating air service in three Texas markets—Dallas-Houston, Houston-San Antonio, and San Antonio-Dallas.

After we put it together, we really tear it apart.

As hard as the people in our assembly plant try to build the perfect car, the people at the end of the line try to find something imperfect about them. At this final step 15 special inspectors, armed with sophisticated testing machines, gauges and meters, can run a Saab sedan flat out. Standing still. They can check the traction of our front-wheel drive, test the precision of our rack and pinion steering, and judge the effectiveness of our power-assisted four wheel disc brakes. At Saab, we tear our cars apart after we build them, to make sure they'll stay together after we sell them.

Quarantine Rules Reinterpreted In Brucellosis Program

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Animal Health Commission has reinterpreted two of its regulations in its brucellosis program to shorten cattle quarantines and to allow movement of quarantined cattle in certain cases.

The commission took the action Thursday after dozens of angry cattlemen came to Austin complaining that the regulations, which became effective Jan. 15, had halted the movement of cattle as effectively as barbed wire fences.

The same standard will be applied to cases where a diseased animal is discovered at an auction barn as applies when one is discovered at a slaughter house, the commission said.

The herd from which the animal came will be quarantined for only 30 days if a test of the herd at the end of that period is negative.

Under the old interpretation, the commission required two negative tests and a 120-day quarantine if the diseased animal was discovered at an auction barn.

The second reinterpretation authorizes the commission's executive director, Dr. H. O. Sibley, to permit movement, in hardship cases, of quarantined cattle to new premises so long as it does not change the brucellosis status (clean or contaminated) of the county receiving them or the health of neighboring herds.

Also Thursday, Sibley got oral authorization from the attorney general's office to approve shipments of quarantined cattle to Mexico in hardship cases. Another meeting of the commission must precede that approval.

Texas became the last state, in 1973, to authorize a program to control brucellosis (Band's Disease), which kills nearly half of the unborn calves in affected cows.

Investigators Say Nixon's Valuable Papers Retrieved From Archives

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pres-probed Nixon's income taxes, more than 100 "country files," ident Nixon's vice-presidential archivist Mary Walton Livingston said she worked on the file in November and December 1969 with appraiser Ralph G. Newman of Chicago.

Newman said "some letters should be retained by the President and not deleted," Mrs. Livingston recalled. "In particular, he wanted to retain for those letters were the most historically and commercially valuable."

The President and his lawyer (Hubert H.) Humphrey, J. Edgar Hoover. Chief Justice (Earl) Warren and the Honorable Sam Rayburn."

Suggestion Made
Mrs. Livingston said she suggested "that correspondence with Martin Luther King also be retained by the President because there were some very interesting letters and memoranda in the file on King."

Newman agreed, she said, but it is not clear from archives records whether the King file was held out. The disallowed by the Internal Revenue Service.

In a meeting with the congressional committee staff that other dignitaries, along with were removed from the general correspondence that was given to the government.

The country files include correspondence with Queen Elizabeth II, Sir Winston Churchill, Premier Khrushchev and dozens of other foreign leaders.

On Nov. 7, 1969, before he knew exactly what papers were being given to the archives, Newman wrote the President telling him his pre-presidential papers and memorabilia were worth more than $2 million and recommending that certain files be removed from the general files and stored in a special vault, Newman wrote.

There is no indication whether Nixon answered Newman's letter, but the valuable documents subsequently were moved, and the remainder made up the major portion of the gift for which Nixon claimed a $576,000 tax deduction. That deduction has been disallowed by the Internal Revenue Service.

Lawyer Says Patricia May Be Dead, Message Could Be SLA Trick

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Fears that Patricia Hearst is dead and that her latest communique may be a trick have been expressed by an attorney as the FBI vowed to keep pressure on its two-month hunt for the terrorists' kidnap hideout.

"I do have serious concern that the girl is dead and that Wednesday's tape communication may have been a cover-up," said attorney Vincent Hallinan in an interview Thursday.

Hallinan is one of three trustees of a $4 million fund set up by the William Randolph Hearst Foundation to provide more free food for poor people if Miss Hearst is released unharmed. Food worth $2 million already has been given away.

The latest communique from Miss Hearst and the Symbionese Liberation Army, in which she said she has become an SLA member, did not contain any time reference to indicate when it was made, said Charles Bates, FBI agent in charge of the case.

"I believe this was the first one without a date on it," he said Thursday.

Hallinan voiced concern about the last message, saying, "The tape of her voice could have been made at any time."

FBI Director Clarence Kelley said in a brief statement from his Washington office Thursday that the investigation of Miss Hearst's kidnaping Feb. 4 from her Berkeley apartment is continuing.

In the tape-recorded communique delivered to San Francisco radio station KSAN Wednesday, Miss Hearst said her father, San Francisco Examiner editor and president Randolph A. Hearst, was a "corporate liar," and announced she had decided to join the SLA.

The SLA is described as a small multiracial group of about 25 members, including men and women and blacks and whites.

State Democratic Chairman Seeks Harmony At Meeting

AUSTIN (AP) — State Democratic chairman Calvin Guest joined the chorus today of party leaders seeking harmony and unity in the May 4 precinct conventions.

"Regardless of personal preferences each person should do everything possible to involve all Democrats in our deliberations," Guest said in a statement.

"The only thing that has disturbed me were reports earlier this week questioning the effectiveness of the Texas Affirmative Action Committee and its fund raising efforts."

Last Monday, Mrs. Billie Carr, Houston liberal Democratic leader, said the affirmative action committee named in January by the state committee to urge full participation in the precinct conventions had been "kept anemic by a shortage of money." Mrs. Carr claimed the Governor's Convention Committee, headed by Gordon Wayne of Willis Point, was well-financed.

Hike-Bike-Ride Gets Under Way Saturday

Some armies may move on their stomachs, but Midland's army to help fight the battle of mental retardation will move Saturday on bikes, feet and even horseback, according to Don Sobolt, coordinator of the Midland Association for Retarded Children's Hike-Bike-Ride fund raising event.

The event gets under way at 8 a.m. Saturday with registration at the Opportunity Center, 2701 N. A St. Instructions to the three groups of entries will be given at 8:30 with the actual hike-bike-ride starting promptly at 9 a.m., Sobolt stated.

Cochairmen are the star of the Ladies PGA Golf Tour Judy Rankin and former All-American and now professional football player Tom Brahoney. National Chairman of Hike-Bike-Ride for the retarded is Dallas Cowboy Calvin Hill.

"We may not see another Judy or Tom or Calvin emerge from tomorrow's activities," Sobolt said, "but we expect to see a large number of Midlanders participating in this community cause."

Businesses, individuals and clubs are asked to pledge an amount of money per mile for each mile walked or ridden by participants. The route will be 20 miles long for walkers bikers and 15 miles for horse riders. The Midland Jaycees will man rest stops along the route and police will patrol the route to rescue any participants in need of a ride home or some other aid.

Midland's event is co-sponsored by the Midland Association for Retarded Children and Midland Teens Aid to Retarded who have set a goal of 500 participants walking or riding to raise $10,000.

"Meeting this goal will put Midland Tops in Texas for the event," Sobolt said. He urged support either in pledges, walkers or riders.

Judge Dismisses One Count Against Mitchell, Stans

NEW YORK (AP) — Federal Judge Lee Gagliardi today dismissed one of the 16 counts against former Atty. Gen. John M. Mitchell and former Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans, but denied defense motions to dismiss the rest of the case.

Gagliardi reserved decision on dismissing one other count.

The count he dismissed was one of three charging obstruction of justice. The count on which he reserved decision on was also alleged obstruction of justice.

Conspiracy, Perjury

The two former Cabinet officers are charged with conspiracy and perjury as well as obstruction of justice. They are accused of impeding a Securities and Exchange Commission investigation of financier Robert L. Vesco in return for Vesco's $200,000 contribution to President Nixon's re-election campaign.

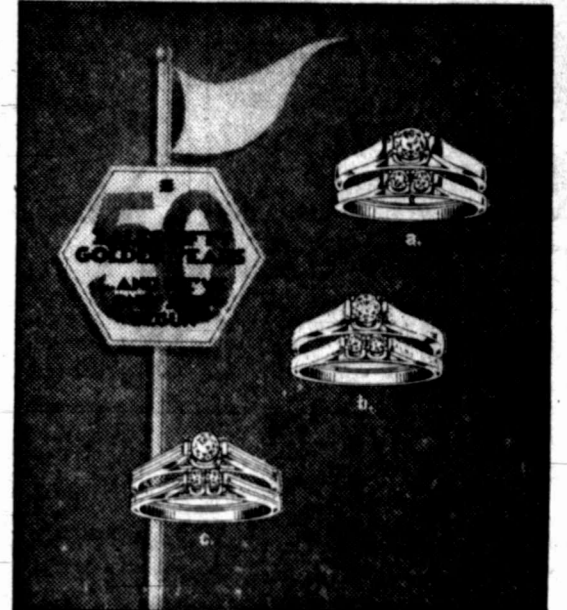

Each of the three obstruction counts covers a separate time period during which the government claims the conspiracy was active. Dismissal of the one count was based on failure of the prosecution to support its claim that obstruction occurred during that particular time period.

The question on the count on which Gagliardi reserved decision was whether any efforts to obstruct justice occurred in New York after Nov. 27, 1972, when an SEC civil indictment of Vesco was returned. The defense was to begin presenting its case after Gagliardi ruled. Its first witness was expected to be Edward Nixon, the President's youngest brother.
