Committee Subpoenaes Tapes

President Given Until April 25 To Obey Order

WASHINGTON (AP) - The House Judiciary Committee today ordered President Nixon to turn over by April 25 all tapes and other materials requested by the committee for its impeachment inquiry.

In directing 34 to 3 that a subpoena be issued for the evidence, the committee rejected a last-minute offer by the White House to deliver some of the taped conversations within a few days.

The offer, made 45 minutes before the committee met this morning, came in a telephone call from White House lawyer James St. Clair to John Doar, chief counsel of the committee.

Partisan Split
It led to a partisan split in the committee. Republicans urged it be accepted. But the Democratic majority said the committee, which made its request last Feb. 25, has waited long enough.

"It's time to send a message that the playing of games is over and the committee means business," said Rep. John Seiberling, D-Ohio.

The White House, in delaying any response to the committee request for more than six weeks, has taken the position that it needs to know more clearly just what the committee wants.

In the debate before the committee recessed, the White House delays were sharply criticized by all members. Most Republicans said they had come to the meeting prepared to vote for a subpoena until they learned of the last-minute offer.

"It's a little late to make a deal," said Rep. Robert Kastenmeier, D-Wis., after committee counsel John Doar told of a last-minute telephone call from President Nixon's counsel, Doar said James St. Clair (See SUBPOENA Page 7A)

Arab Guerrillas Kill 18 Israelis

QIRYAT SHMONAH, Israel (AP) - Three Arab terrorists sneaked across the Lebanese border into this little Israeli town today, killed 18 men, women and children and then blew themselves up as Israeli troops stormed the apartment building where they were hiding, senior police officers said.

"They were even armed with rocket-propelled grenades and they were throwing children from the top floor of the building," said an officer in a bullet-proof vest, standing outside the scarred and ransacked apartment bloc.

The Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine-General Command, a splinter Palestinian group, telephoned news agencies in Beirut and claimed responsibility for the "suicide attack" on Qiryat Shmonah. It said the purpose of the raid was to gain the release of 100 guerrillas from Israeli prisons. Three more guerrilla infiltrators seized a school in the mountainside frontier settlement, but it was empty for the Passover holidays and the gunmen abandoned the building and escaped, police said.

Senior military sources said the bodies of men, women and children found in the apartment house brought the death toll to 18 with 16 wounded. The state radio said eight children, eight adults and two soldiers died in the most costly guerrilla raid inside Israel since the Tel Aviv airport massacre of May 1972, which took 26 lives.

The Arabs first seized control of an empty school and then moved to the apartment building. The state radio said they fired submachine guns and the room where they barricaded themselves exploded when the Israelis opened fire up to the fourth floor in a trail and rushed the building, the radio said. The blasted bodies of the three guerrillas were found inside.

The group's command in Lebanon said, "Our men carried out their instructions. They Heavy explosives were used in the operation when the Israeli troops stormed it. The guerrillas were carrying explosive charges with them and the room where they barricaded themselves exploded when the Israelis opened fire up to the fourth floor in a trail and rushed the building, the radio said. High Winds Hit Dallas

Fierce thunderstorms which caused some property damage struck part of Texas today as a cold front swept eastward.

High winds which some witnesses said were tornadoes caused property damage in the Dallas area.

At White Rock Airport in east Dallas, 15 to 20 light planes were overturned and several buildings damaged. Witnesses called it a tornado.

Barn Unroofed
At Duncanville, southwest of Dallas, Clarence Bradshaw reported his mobile home and one other were overturned when he said was a tornado slashed through a mobile home park.

A tornado which touched down near Wellington in the Panhandle Wednesday night caused minor damage. It unroofed a barn on the Kenneth Hudson farm and destroyed cotton trailers, a power line and fencing on the Garland Hightower farm.

Midland Hottest Spot
Midland Wednesday was the hottest spot in the nation but a cool front passed through at 10 p.m., promising a comfortable Easter weekend.

National Weather Service forecasters at Midland Air Terminal said Wednesday's high was 91 degrees - four degrees less than the record high but hot enough to give the Tall City the nation's high.

After the cool front passed, temperatures slowly fell to the early morning low of 50.

The high today will be in the middle 70s. The overnight low will be about 40 and Friday's high will be in the high 70s.

Tornado watches kept broad stretches of countryside on the alert much of the night. Golda Meir steps down

Golda Makes It Official

JERUSALEM (AP) - Premier Golda Meir formally submitted her resignation today, plunging the nation into political upheaval and clouding prospects for peace in the Middle East.

The presentation of her resignation, announced Wednesday, came as Arab terrorists sneaked across the Israeli-Lebanese border, killed 18 men, women and children in a little town, then blew themselves up as Israeli troops closed in, senior police officers said.

The upset of Mrs. Meir and the political weakness of her lame-duck government puts Israel at a disadvantage in negotiating with Syria to end the

The resignation was viewed in Washington as a serious setback to Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's hopes for a quick disengagement along the Israeli-Syrian front. A delay in this sector could endanger the entire momentum of the quest for peace in the Middle East.

Officials of Mrs. Meir's ruling Labor alignment said she would stay in office at the head of a caretaker government until a new cabinet can be formed or new elections held.

Worn out by increasing controversy over whether Defense Minister Moshe Dayan should share the blame for Israel's inter setbacks in the October war, Mrs. Meir, who will be 76 in three weeks, told the leaders of her party Wednesday night: "I can no longer bear the burden. I have reached the end of the road."

Mrs. Meir officially tendered her resignation today to President Ephraim Katzir. The meeting with the ceremonial head of state followed a special session of Mrs. Meir's cabinet.

Katzir praised Mrs. Meir for her work and devotion to the rise and development of the state.

The president said he would immediately begin calling in party leaders to discuss the formation of a new government.

LEGISLATIVE STAFF REPORT SAYS— More Than Half Of Texas Inmates Illegally Segregated

AUSTIN (AP) - More than half the 17,000 inmates of the Texas prison system are illegally segregated along racial or ethnic lines, a legislative staff report says.

The report was submitted to the Joint Committee on Prison Reform, which is investigating conditions in the Texas Department of Corrections.

John Albach, author of the report, said the findings are based chiefly on inmate housing data furnished by the department three months ago in a civil rights suit still pending in a Houston federal court.

Prison system director Jim Estelle said through a spokesman he would not comment because he had not seen the report. Albach said he sent Estelle a copy several weeks ago.

While each of the system's 15 units is racially mixed, 10 of them house more than half their inmates in segregated blocks of cells, the report said. Albach said he labeled a living unit segregated only if it did not contain Anglo, black and Mexican-American inmates.

"If a particular unit had any mix of the three, no matter how disproportionate, I indicated that the wing was integrated," Albach said.

He said the Ramsey II unit south of Houston is 100 per cent segregated, and the Central, Clemens, Darrington, Jester I and Ferguson units are 82 to 97 per cent segregated.

"In a typical situation where segregation existed in a particular wing, the wing would either be all black or would be all white and Mexican American," the report said.

Dunlop Issues Warning

WASHINGTON (AP) - Director John T. Dunlop of the Cost of Living Council says the lifting of economic controls could appreciably offset Nixon's administration forecasts of slowed inflation.

"I don't want to be associated in any way with predictions for the second half of the year," Dunlop said Wednesday when asked by reporters whether he concurred with the administration prognosis of a slower rate of inflation during that period.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON (AP) - Americans will find enough gasoline available for vacation trips this summer but only if they continue conservation measures, the Federal Energy Office said today.

MOSCOW (AP) - The official Soviet news agency Tass today criticized Sen. James Buckley, R-Con.-N.Y., for alleging President Nixon is in a weak bargaining position and should call off his Moscow summit.

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate today okayed an amendment to require a special audit of the tax returns of all members of Congress and all other government employees earning more than $20,000 a year.

Ex-Nixon Aide Herbert L. Porter Given 30 Days

WASHINGTON (AP) - Herbert L. Porter, who handled the surrogate speakers program in President Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign, was sentenced today to serve 30 days in a federal correctional institution for lying to the FBI in its Watergate investigation.

Porter, who will be 36 on Saturday, is the fourth former White House aide who has been sentenced to prison but the sentence was the lightest of any.

'Less In Degree'
The charge carried a maximum five years in prison and a $10,000 fine but a lawyer from the office of special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski said Porter's involvement in the Watergate cover-up was "less in degree than others who pleaded guilty to felony charges."

Porter, who now works in his father-in-law's small construction business at Laguna Niguel, Calif., had admitted to the Senate Watergate Committee that he also gave perjured testimony to the grand jury and at (See PORTER Page 7A)

Superman Grounded!

By DENNIS MONTGOMERY METROPOLIS, Ill. (AP) - Great Caesar's ghost! Superman has been grounded in his self-proclaimed hometown.

The "Amazing World of Superman," a project that was supposed to rival Disneyland and bring Metropolis a super-share of the tourist business, is going into mothballs.

About three years ago, someone got the idea Superman would make a dandy favorite son. After all, didn't the comic book Man of Steel live in a place called Metropolis and work there on the Daily Planet newspaper?

Enthusiasm ran so high that a full-length portrait of Superman was painted on the town water tower, and the local weekly newspaper changed its name to the Planet.

Last spring, to the accompaniment of a Marine Corps band and a chorus of gospel singers, a Superman exhibition hall - Amazing World's first phase - opened in a refurbished roller rink.

Politicians gave their blessings, Superman's creator gave the hall an X-ray vision once over and hopes bounded high.

Then it got very quiet. No-body came.

James W. Crain, 40, chairman of the board of Metropolis Recreation Inc., owners of the project, said Wednesday almost everything has gone wrong - delay in construction of a nearby super-highway, too much rain, the gasoline shortage and rising prime interest rates.

This week, signs were posted announcing an auction of the hall's fixtures. Crain isn't sure whether the exhibits, among them the art work for the first Superman comic in 1934 and the costume worn by George Reeves in the Superman television series, will be sold.

Mitchell Says He Wanted To Aid SEC Investigation

NEW YORK (AP) - Former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell has told a federal trial jury he wanted to aid and not obstruct a Securities and Exchange Commission fraud investigation of international financier Robert L. Vesco.

"On your oath did you do anything during this entire period of time to fix or quash the investigation?" he was asked Wednesday, shortly after he took the witness stand in his own defense.

"No sir," replied Mitchell, President Nixon's first attorney general.

The criminal conspiracy trial of Mitchell and former Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans was recessed Wednesday until next Monday, when Mitchell is expected to resume his testimony. Stans is expected to follow his one-time cabinet colleague as a witness.

Stans and Mitchell are accused of obstructing the SEC investigation, in return for Vesco's secret $200,000 cash contribution to President Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign.

The two are charged with conspiracy, obstructing justice (See MITCHELL Page 7A)

Four Sectors Get Locations For Searchers

Exploration has been planned for Pecos, Kent, Ward and Kimble counties.

Western States Producing Co., Midland, will drill No. 1 J. L. Nutt Estate as a 2,700-foot searcher for gas in Pecos County, 13 miles southwest of Bakersfield.

A northwest offset to a 2,620-foot failure, it spots 1,600 feet from north and 1,000 feet from east lines of section 17, block 125, T&SL survey. It is 2 1/2 miles southeast of the depleted Barbasal, East (Permian) oil field.

Kent Venture
Stoltz, Wagner & Brown of Midland filed application to drill No. 1 Jordan as a 6,700-foot wildcat in Kent County, eight miles north of Clairemont.

Location is 990 feet from north and 1,320 feet from east lines of section 4, block 1, H&GN survey and two miles west of the Boomerang (Strawn) pool.

Ward Try
Gulf Oil Corp. has filed an application to plug back to 6,000 feet at No. 319 G. W. O'Brien, et al, former oil producer, in attempt to open Holt gas production in the Ward-Estes. North field of Ward, one mile east of Wickett.

It is a northwest offset to the two-well Holt area in the field and operator earlier had filed application to re-enter and test Pennsylvanian zone in the Wickett, North field.

Location is 1,979 feet from north and 1,985 feet from east lines of section 20, block F, G&M&A survey.

Kimble Probe
E. H. Wortham of Wichita Falls will clean out to 2,800 feet and attempt completion in a gas zone at No. 1 Laird, Kimble County former stratigraphic test, 20 miles southeast of Junction.

It was drilled by Tucker Drilling Co., Inc. as No. 101 W. M. Laird and abandoned in 1970 at 2,641 feet.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 51, block N, GH&A survey, three miles north of the Kerr County line.

Three WT Counties Get Venture Sites

Wildcats have been staked in Stonewall, Edwards and Runnels counties.

NRM Petroleum Corp. of Midland will drill No. 1 Gibson, a 6,200-foot Ellenburger wildcat in Stonewall, 15 miles southwest of Aspermont.

It is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 299, block 2, H&T survey, 3/4 mile northwest of the depleted one-well Lena M. Green (Strawn) oil field, and 1 1/2 miles southeast of the Double Mountain (Pennsylvanian) field.

Edwards Project
W. B. Osborn, San Antonio, plans No. 1-93 Shanklin as a 6,000-foot test in Edward, six miles northwest of Rocksprings and 2 1/4 miles northwest of the Companero (Canyon) gas field.

Drill site is 990 feet from northeast and 921 feet from southeast lines of J. H. Gibson survey 93, six miles northwest of Rocksprings.

Runnels Site
Delray, Inc. of San Antonio, accounted for the 4,500-foot searcher in north central Run-

GOP Governor Candidate Jim Granberry Campaigns Here

By ROBERT C. BORDEN
Stating he hopes to put Gov. Dolph Briscoe's "record in perspective," Republican gubernatorial candidate Jim Granberry of Lubbock Campaigned in Midland Wednesday.

port after the primary if he wins. The candidate was honored by supporters Wednesday with a luncheon at Midland Country Club.

He views his efforts so far as "very encouraging" and says he is confident of victory at the polls.

Former Mayor An orthodontist and former Lubbock Mayor, Granberry has been active in Republican party affairs since 1962. He has served on numerous party committees and is a state party executive committee member.

Granberry was a regional coordinator of U.S. Sen. John G. Tower's re-election bid. The Republican candidate says he will appeal to a broad base of supporters, due partly to his rural background near Tyler in East Texas. An active campaigner who announced for governor in June, he sees a good deal of minority support for his campaign.

Should Mrs. Farenthold win, develops to create greater voter response. Granberry noted, "it will awaken the business establishment in Texas," helping the Republican campaign. He added, "Mrs. Farenthold is saying things that need to be said."

Watergate will not have much of an effect on Texas politics, the gubernatorial hopeful said. "Texans are basically independent voters and vote for the man," he added, "When the right man comes along, they vote for him."

Granberry also sees a move away from the traditional straight Democratic party vote. "It is important to remember," Granberry stated, "the Watergate break-in was authorized by the Committee to Re-elect the President, not the Republican party." It will have no effect on his race, he noted, because "there is no way Jim Granberry can be involved."

scandals involving the Texas Democratic party. One of Granberry's major problems is lack of name recognition. "We are carrying our campaign to the people," he said, in an effort to link the name with the candidate. Granberry pointed out John Connally was only known by four per cent of the electorate when he first announced for governor in 1962. "Six months later he was governor," Granberry chuckled. In recent weeks, Granberry has been speaking out on television in favor of the right to work amendment to the proposed constitution. In the next several weeks, Granberry will speak out against the agency shop, which he termed the "extortion shop which violates the basic principles of liberty of choice." Under an agency shop, non-union members must pay Facing Granberry in the primary is Fort Worth attorney Odell McBrayer. Henry Grover of Houston, 1972 Republican gubernatorial candidate, dropped out of the race two months ago, leaving only Granberry and McBrayer as opponents.

Surprised, Disappointed I was surprised and disappointed Hank dropped out of the race," Granberry said. "He was a worthy opponent and I hope he will support the party candidate in the November elections."

Granberry stated Gov. Briscoe has no real enthusiastic loyal supporters," adding Frances "Sissy" Farenthold will probably receive more votes than many persons now believe in her race against Briscoe.

At the exit, staffers of the Sao Paulo subway company distribute pamphlets and give more details about the subway system to those who are interested.

The subway company estimated that almost 100,000 persons visited the subway model in its first week on display. The replica will operate for five more months.

Construction of the first subway line, with 20 stations, started in December 1968. Its cost is estimated at $530 million. About 200 cars, controlled by three computers, will operate in the north-south route at a speed of 60 miles. The subway company said the cars will carry up to 1.4 million persons a day.

The full Sao Paulo subway system, about 40 miles long, will probably not be finished until the late 1980s. Investments in the subway, being made by international banks, the Sao Paulo mayor's office and the state and federal governments, are estimated at about $234 million annually.

Sao Paulo Residents Getting Crash Course In Subway Use

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — The people of Sao Paulo, Brazil's largest city, are being given a crash course on a subject that is kindergarten stuff for the urbanites of New York, Paris and Buenos Aires: how to use a subway.

A moving demonstration model of a subway was built inside a stand at Viaduto do Chacara, a busy traffic and pedestrian street in downtown Sao Paulo. The model represents the 10 miles of Brazil's first subway line, now being built in this city of nearly eight million inhabitants.

Salt Lake City Buried By 2 Feet Of Snow In Storm

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
An April storm that buried the Salt Lake region under two feet of snow swirled into the northwestern Plains today.

While only two inches of snow fell in parts of Wyoming during the night, winter storm warnings advised that cold rain and wet snow would spread across the northern and west-central Plains.

In the Salt Lake region, one death was attributed to the storm Wednesday. A Clearfield, Utah, woman was electrocuted as she backed her car into power lines downed by the heavy snow.

Classes Canceled
School classes were canceled, and there was a possibility of flooding today when temperatures were expected to rise.

To the south of the storm, a tornado watch for the south-central Plains was in effect through the night. One twister was spotted in the Texas Panhandle near Wellington.

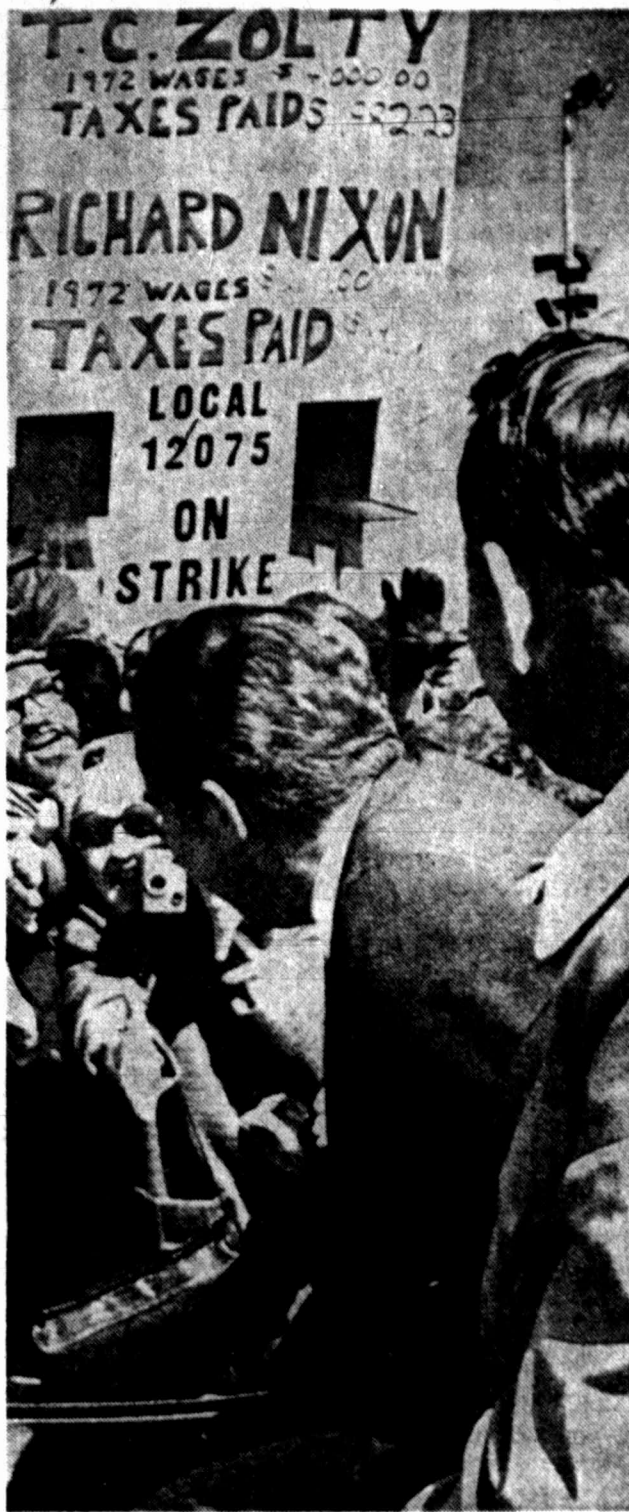

There were no reports of damage or injuries.

Strong winds in Southern California gusted up to 70 miles per hour in the Tehachapi Mountains, while winds up to 40 m.p.h. blew through Utah, South Dakota and Texas.

Meanwhile, rain fell in the Pacific Northwest and the Upper Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes regions.

TIA Boardings Take Big Jump
HOUSTON — Texas International Airlines announced that passenger boardings in Midland increased 65 per cent to 3,296, over the same month last year. Boardings throughout Texas International's nine state and Mexico system were up 10.1 per cent to 192,862 from March 1973.

Other increases included available seat miles, or number of seats available each mile, up 2.7 per cent to 125 million, and revenue passenger miles, or number of occupied seats each mile, up 19.8 per cent to 67 million. The airline's passenger load factor, or average number of passengers, increased to 53.79 per cent from 46.11 per cent last March.

Suspect Picked Up In March Slaying

GILLETTE, Wyo. (AP) — Texas authorities have taken custody of Elgin Wayne Long, 22, wanted in Texas on murder with malice charges.

He was arrested here Friday. Long, of Graham, Tex., was picked up on a warrant charging him with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution. He waived extradition.

Authorities said Long was wanted in connection with the March 9 slaying of Gretta Sue Richards, 37, in Archer County, Tex.

Long had been living in the Gillette area for several weeks, officers said.

Gov. Briscoe Pitches For Chicano Vote As Farenthold Calls Him 'Spoon Fed'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gov. Dolph Briscoe made a move for the Mexican-American vote while his opponent, Frances "Sissy" Farenthold called him a "spoon-fed governor" who followed expediency only.

The governor said in Corpus Christi on Wednesday that he had created a Migrant Affairs Office and approved a migrant fuel allocation plan.

That plan will permit migrant workers to get gasoline at designated truck stops as they move northward during the agricultural season.

Arrangements have been made, the governor said, with 51 truck stops along seven major migratory routes where service and gasoline will be available. Service stations will receive special allocations to supply the farm workers.

He said the Migrant Affairs Office will act as liaison between all agencies serving the groups.

Briscoe was asked to comment on a remark by Mrs. Farenthold that he did not speak up for Texas on gasoline allocations.

"That is absolutely not true," he said, adding that the state's allocations for April were 94.1 per cent of the anticipated demand. The national average, he said, is 91.8 per cent.

Meanwhile, in Austin, Mrs. Farenthold charged the governor is "making some vague overtures" about telephone regulations now that it appears "politically expedient."

Guided By Reaction
Governor Briscoe's flip-flop on state regulation of telephone monopolies just proves the fact that this governor is guided by political reaction instead of planned action," she said.

"Hasn't Texas had enough of a spoon-fed governor?" she asked.

Late Wednesday night, Briscoe continued to campaign briskly. He was at a barbecue rally at Whalen Park near the McAllen late in the night after attending a city park

Morgan Horse Club Sets Odessa Show

ODESSA — The West Texas Division of the Texas Morgan Horse Club will sponsor an open bred performance horse show April 20-21 in the Ector County Coliseum and the 4-H Club Arena.

Judge for the show will be Marlin Manning of Blufford, Ill.

Entry fees are $4 per class except for the Morgan championship classes and premium classes which have an $8.50 entry fee.

Mailed entries must be postmarked by Saturday. Entries may be sent to the show secretary, Jean Stone at 2101 W. 81st St., Odessa 79762.

Classes in the show include a number of halter events, English riding events, Western riding events and others, such as an open costume event and a mule pulling competition.

In the other political action: —Gaylord Marshall, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor told an Abilene audience that incumbent Bill Hobmand is a "child of wealth" whose background makes him unable to "understand what the small farmer and filling station owner is going through." He described himself as a conservative candidate and a "positive alternative" to the present lieutenant governor.

—Bob Bullock, Democratic candidate for comptroller, said he would campaign Thursday in San Antonio, Abilene and Lubbock and Friday would go to Big Spring, Midland and Odessa.

—James Nicholas Rowe, in Corpus Christi, said he had no "political axes to grind, but I hate political inefficiency."

Briscoe continued to campaign briskly. He was at a barbecue rally at Whalen Park near the McAllen late in the night after attending a city park

Newtimers Club Card Party Held

The Midland Newtimers Club met Tuesday in the Elks Lodge for a luncheon and bridge. The bridge winners were Mrs. O. C. Boswell, first; Mrs. Robert Bechtel, second, and Mrs. Edward Walger, third. Mrs. Don Gaines and Mrs. James Kempf were introduced as new members.

Competent bridge players are invited to investigate the details of membership in the club and may attend as a guest twice. Reservations are made with Mrs. W. A. Gillett, 694-7136. Information may be obtained from the president, Mrs. Don Neujahr, 694-5785.

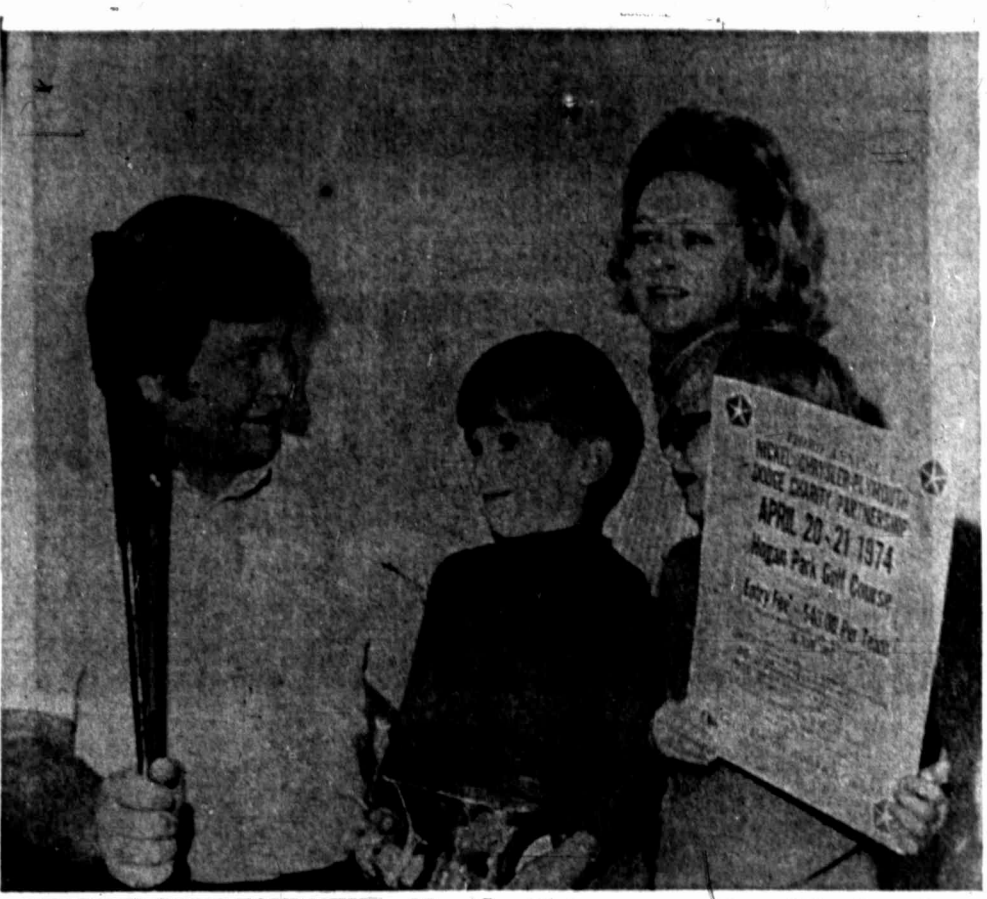

Parties Courtesy For Two Seniors

Mrs. B. C. Butler of 1917 Huntington St. entertained recently with parties for Dana Murrah, Lee High School senior, and Janis Johnson, Midland High School senior.

Mrs. Butler had a banana split party for Miss Murrah in the Butler residence. Daisy corsages were presented to the mother of the honoree, Mrs. W. E. Murrah, and Miss Murrah, who plans to attend the University of Oklahoma.

Miss Johnson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson, was entertained with a pizza party at Luigi's Restaurant. She plans to attend Baylor University.

The tournament, scheduled April 20-21 at Hogan Park Golf Course, will benefit the center.

Shower Held For Miss Nelson

Jan Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Nelson and bride-elect of Trey Spode of Waco, was the honoree at a recent miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. Robert Berry, 3504 Lockheed St.

A lace edged old-fashioned fan in the bride-elect's chosen colors of purple and white decorated the front door. Spring flowers in shades of purple accented with miniature fans centered the lace covered refreshment table.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Berry were Mrs. William H. Crowe, Mrs. Ernest R. Frazier, Mrs. Troy Goodwin, Mrs. Fred McMann, Mrs. Elton Ramsey, Mrs. Earl Whisman and Mrs. Vondyl Willis.

An hostess gift of pottery and silver was presented to Miss Nelson.

Hebert Will Try To Get Extra Aid For Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Armed Services Chairman F. Edward Hebert says he will try to help get up to $266 million in extra U.S. military aid for South Vietnam. But he acknowledges the move "could be interpreted as a subterfuge" by some people.

The Louisiana Democrat told the House Wednesday he believes its vote last week rejecting a $274 million increase in U.S. aid to South Vietnam was a mistake.

Rep. Robert N. Giaino, D-Conn., accused Hebert of indicating he will go along with what Giaino charged is an attempt by the Pentagon to subvert the House vote against the aid boost.

"The American people are watching to make sure there is no hanky-panky to subvert the will of Congress. The American people have made it clear we are tired of this endless in-

Hearst Says Daughter's Abduction Not Same As Those In Latin America

LA PAZ, Mexico (AP) — Patricia Hearst's kidnaping is not the same as those in Latin America, she said.

"I can almost understand liberation as a viable political action in Latin America where they are faced with such a disparity of wealth between the rich and the poor. But not something like we have experienced," Randolph A. Hearst told a group of newsmen Wednesday at the fishing resort to which he brought his family last Sunday.

"If they would have kidnapped Miss Hearst, 20, was kidnapped Feb. 4 by the Symbionese Liberation Army from her apartment in Berkeley, Calif. Her father, editor and president of the San Francisco Examiner, has spent $2 million on a food giveaway program in response to demands from the SLA and the Hearst Corp. has agreed to put up an additional $4 million if the girl is freed. But an SLA communique on April 3 said she had joined the revolutionaries and did not want to return to her family.

Paper Company To Buy Assets Of Lumber Firm

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — International Paper Co. disclosed Wednesday that arrangements have been made to buy all operating assets of the Herman Wilson Lumber Co.

Wilson operates sawmills at Leola and Monticello, Ark. It is the sole supplier of hardwood chips to International's paper mill at Pine Bluff.

The purchase price was not disclosed. An International spokesman said, however, it was between $8 million and $9 million.

The sawmills have an annual production of about 100 million board feet.

The amount of timberland involved in the transaction is 8,000 acres.

Carr Says Past Legal Woes Could Halt Political Re-Entry

DALLAS (AP) — Former state Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr says his legal troubles with the Justice Department stemming from the 1971 Texas stock fraud scandals would cause him trouble in rekindling his once promising political career.

A federal court judge acquitted Carr of stock fraud and conspiracy charges Monday, but he said that might not be enough.

"There are some people who always believe the bad and don't want to believe the good," he said, "and so from those quarters, if I submit myself to political contest, I'm sure I'd have trouble."

The former attorney general added he didn't know "whether I could ever afford the luxury or the enjoyment of public service again."

Carr said speculation about his political future isn't practical now.

"Under the election laws we now have, there will be no more races on the statewide level for four years — and that's a lifetime," he told a reporter.

Carr said the Justice Department "robbed me of a realistic view toward ever getting in politics again."

As a defendant during the past three years, Carr contended the indictments against him were part of a plot hatched in Washington to discredit Texas Democrats.

He said the Nixon administration and the Justice Department were leveled three years ago. Gen. John Mitchell succeeded in what they were trying to do in filing the charges—they carried Texas in 1972.

Carr said he had been considered by the state and be far more sympathetic to the fact that government should never try to overpower its people," he said.

National Merit Scholarships Won By Five Seniors

Four Lee High School and one Andrews High School senior have won four-year corporate sponsored National Merit Scholarships. Edward Smith, National Merit Scholarship Corporation president, announced today.

Lee High winners include Pamela K. Gallick, Kerry A. Kaminsky, Graig S. McColloch and D. Gay Robertson.

Miss Gallick, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril M. Gallick, plans to be a pre-medicine major. She is a member of the Bio-Med Club, the German Club, and president of a Junior Achievement Company. She was a member of the junior varsity swimming team and has been awarded an academic letter.

Her scholarship is sponsored by the Shell Companies Merit Scholarship Foundation.

Miss Robertson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Robertson, plans to major in pre-medicine. She is captain of the tennis team. She also is a member of the National Honor Society, the Spanish National Honor Society, the Pan American Student Forum and the Bio-Med Club.

Angela K. Reece of Andrews High School is the winner of an Amoco Foundation Scholarship. The prospective mathematics major is the UIL state champion in number sense. She has won over 40 first, second or third place awards in number sense, mathematics and science in UIL competition. She is a member of the National Honor Society, the A Cappella Choir and was a student delegate to the Texas Constitutional Convention.

Mitchell was asked by defense attorney Peter Fleming Jr. if he had believed or intended that by asking then SEC chairman William J. Casey to see Vesco aide Harry L. Sears he was "impeding, obstructing or delaying the SEC investigation of Mr. Vesco?"

"Quite to the contrary, I thought I might further it," Mitchell replied.

Police pulled two men unharmed from a burning house at 1009 W. Illinois St. this morning as firemen set about dousing the flames which heavily damaged the home.

C. L. Norris, 51, the resident there, and Archie Bird, 49, were asleep in the house and were not awakened by the smoke or fire, which was caused by a cigarette one of the men dropped on a couch.

The fire department received the call at 12:12 a.m. and firemen and policemen arrived about the same time.

Two pumps pumped water on the house, one for 30 minutes and one for 35 minutes.

Ten firemen fought the blaze and worked to make sure it would not rekindle. They had to cut holes in the roof to vent the smoke out so they could get inside.

Firemen were at the house for an hour and 20 minutes.

Judge Rules Courts Have Jurisdiction Subpoena— In Dispute Over Bishop's Trust Fund

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — State courts—not the Roman Catholic Church—have jurisdiction to settle a dispute over a $5 million trust fund established by retired Bishop Louis Reicher, a judge has ruled.

To give church authorities power over the fund's trustees would make Thomas Jefferson "turn in his grave," said District Court Judge Herman Jones.

Jones set a June 10 trial date for the suit filed by Bishop Vincent Harris of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Austin, who is Bishop Reicher's successor.

The suit asks the court to enforce an ecclesiastical decree handed down in Rome, that the Reicher Trust is the property of the church.

The trustees, four laymen, say the fund is private property and should be administered in accordance with Bishop Reicher's wishes.

The Sacred Congregations for Bishops and for the Clergy issued a declaration in Rome Dec. 19 that the dispute was between two Catholic bishops and four Catholic trustees and should be resolved by church officials.

George W. Brown Jr. of Beaumont, Bishop Harris' lawyer, said Jones should merely enforce that decree and turn the trust over to the Diocese of Austin.

But Jones disagreed. "God has to be a little restrained, as does Caesar. In this instance, we have to let Caesar make the decision of who owned the property when it was conveyed to the trustees," he said.

"To say a third party (the trustees) has to be ruled by the laws of the Roman Catholic Church would make Mr. Jefferson turn in his grave," Jones added.

The suit alleges that Bishop Reicher, who retired in 1971, placed in the trust stocks, real estate and bank accounts. Since the trust was established, other properties belonging to the diocese were received or acquired by it, the suit contends.

Bishop Reicher's lawyer, Donald Thomas of Austin, said Reicher saved about $3,000 before entering the priesthood more than 50 years ago. That amount was the basis for several years' successful investments, Thomas said, and along with gifts given to him for specific uses in the church in Texas had accumulated to a trust fund of about $5 million.

The trust was established in 1964 and underwrote a geriatric center and cancer treatment and research center here.

Thomas said the suit's demands "come down to the question of whether he (Bishop Reicher) became a slave of the church when he took his vows."

Even among those who support issuance of a subpoena, however, there is concern over the consequences if Nixon refuses to honor it.

The committee, claiming its authority from the Constitution to subpoena evidence, is determined to avoid turning to the courts for enforcement.

Some members feel the best course of action would be to let an unanswered subpoena become an article of impeachment when the committee finally makes its recommendation to the House.

"It was insulting in every paragraph," said Rep. Charles Rangel, D-N.Y., a committee member.

Steel Negotiators Work Toward Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the usual eleventh-hour frenzy of previous negotiations missing, steel industry bargainers today worked toward agreement on a new three-year contract for 350,000 workers.

Negotiators for the United Steelworkers and the 10 major steel companies resumed discussions shortly after 7 a.m. following a lengthy Wednesday night bargaining session which recessed about 1 a.m.

Sources close to the talks said both sides have agreed "to try and wrap it up" today. However, there were indications that efforts to complete final details of the pact were taking longer than expected.

A scheduled 1 p.m. meeting of the union's Basic Steel Industry Conference with representatives from 182 locals was put off until later in the afternoon. One official said the negotiators needed more time.

The 600-member conference has authority to ratify a tentative agreement or recommend turning over unresolved issues to a panel of arbitrators.

A historic bargaining agreement signed a year ago eliminated the possibility of a nationwide steel strike this year.

In return for giving up the right to strike, the USW was guaranteed wage increases of at least 3 per cent in each year of the new contract.

The experimental bargaining agreement provides that any issues still in dispute by April 15 are to be submitted to arbitration. But since the negotiations entered their final phase a week ago, both sides have expressed hope that working on both national and local issues could be completed at the bargaining table.

The new bargaining format was intended to eliminate the type of production disruptions that characterized previous negotiations, with customers stockpiling steel and eventually forcing large layoffs of workers despite peaceful settlements.

Washington (AP) — Operating under a tight limit on debate but with a batch of amendments still to be voted on, the Senate is striving to complete action on a campaign reform bill.

The first amendment to today's session would require that income tax returns of all members of Congress be audited annually just as President Nixon's recently were.

The amendment, by Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., provides that "an intensive inspection and audit" be conducted by the staff of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation.

This is the panel which held that Nixon owed $476,431 in additional taxes.

Tower brought up his amendment Wednesday night amid signs of mounting impatience over further delay in completing Senate action on the bill, which includes controversial provisions for public financing of federal election campaigns.

A two-thirds majority was obtained Tuesday to apply the Senate's anti-filibuster rule, limiting each senator's speaking time to one hour. However, this does not preclude bringing up amendments for a vote.

One amendment adopted Wednesday tightened the bill's limitations on political contributions.

The amendment by Sen. Dick Clark, D-Iowa, provides that an individual may not contribute more than $3,000 and an organization not more than $6,000 to a candidate's entire campaign.

The bill would have permitted contributions of these amounts to a candidate's primary, run-off and general election campaigns.

Under the bill, major party candidates would be entitled to 100 per cent government financing of their general election campaigns up to set spending limits.

But if they preferred, candidates could rely entirely on private contributions or they could elect a combination of public and private financing.

Washington (AP) — Section whatever of our combat capabilities," the defense secretary said.

Schlesinger says the Pentagon is considering possible ways to cut back the number of U.S. support troops in Europe without reducing the U.S. combat posture.

Schlesinger told reporters Wednesday "the prognosis is far more favorable than it has been in the recent past" for continued U.S. political support for keeping American troops stationed in Europe.

"We are examining within the department the possibility of reducing certain support elements in Europe, but no reduction whatsoever of our combat capabilities," the defense secretary said.

Schlesinger voiced the comments just before a closed meeting with Annemarie Remger, president of the West German parliament and seven other members of the parliament.

He again stressed that NATO allies must be willing to assume their own full share in defending Europe.

He did not indicate how large a cutback in support troops was being considered.

The United States has a total of some 300,000 military men in the European area, about 214,000 of them in Germany.

Police Pull Two Men From Burning House

Police pulled two men unharmed from a burning house at 1009 W. Illinois St. this morning as firemen set about dousing the flames which heavily damaged the home.

C. L. Norris, 51, the resident there, and Archie Bird, 49, were asleep in the house and were not awakened by the smoke or fire, which was caused by a cigarette one of the men dropped on a couch.

The fire department received the call at 12:12 a.m. and firemen and policemen arrived about the same time.

Two pumps pumped water on the house, one for 30 minutes and one for 35 minutes.

Ten firemen fought the blaze and worked to make sure it would not rekindle. They had to cut holes in the roof to vent the smoke out so they could get inside.

Firemen were at the house for an hour and 20 minutes.

Persons Who Gave Hot Checks For '74 Auto Tags May Find Them Missing

A few people in Midland County may wake up one morning soon and find that their license plates are missing off their vehicles.

These will be the people who gave hot checks for the tags and, despite repeated efforts on the part of the tax office, have not made the checks good, according to Elmo Lineberger, county tax assessor-collector.

People have given $5,380.61 in hot checks for 1974 license plates, he said, and slightly less than $1,000 of it remains to be collected.

This is an annual problem. About half the tax offices in the state refuse to take checks because they, too, are getting stuck with the bad checks and Lineberger predicted that soon there will be very few which will accept checks.

He said that if the problem doesn't stop, he also may have to stop accepting them.

He said he doesn't want to do that because it penalizes the vast majority of the vehicle owners for the acts of a few. But it may become a necessity.

When a check is returned by a bank, he said in explaining the collection procedure, the person who issued the check is called and a letter is written to him.

If the issuer says that there is money in the bank to cover the check, Lineberger or one of his employees goes to the bank to cash the check. They may make several trips to the bank before the check is paid.

If the issuer says he will pay off the check, Lineberger gives him a certain amount of time to do so.

Ample opportunity is given for the check to be made good but if it is not paid off, the license tags are listed to be picked up.

Sometimes Lineberger or a member of his staff finds the vehicle and takes the tags off it but, in every case, the information is given to the Texas Highway Patrol and patrolmen often recover the plates.

Lineberger said he is approaching the point when he will report to the highway patrol any checks not paid off soon will be recovered.

When the person who issued the bad check goes to the tax office to register his vehicle, he must pay the price of the tags plus a 20 per cent penalty.

That is the amount of penalty charged anyone when he buys tags after driving the vehicle on public streets without proper licenses.

Similar classes will be held.

Judge is Bob Danits of Abilene and manager is Floy Richardson of Route 2, Post.

Senators Striving To Finish Action On Campaign Bill

Washington (AP) — Operating under a tight limit on debate but with a batch of amendments still to be voted on, the Senate is striving to complete action on a campaign reform bill.

The first amendment to today's session would require that income tax returns of all members of Congress be audited annually just as President Nixon's recently were.

The amendment, by Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., provides that "an intensive inspection and audit" be conducted by the staff of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation.

This is the panel which held that Nixon owed $476,431 in additional taxes.

Tower brought up his amendment Wednesday night amid signs of mounting impatience over further delay in completing Senate action on the bill, which includes controversial provisions for public financing of federal election campaigns.

A two-thirds majority was obtained Tuesday to apply the Senate's anti-filibuster rule, limiting each senator's speaking time to one hour. However, this does not preclude bringing up amendments for a vote.

One amendment adopted Wednesday tightened the bill's limitations on political contributions.

The amendment by Sen. Dick Clark, D-Iowa, provides that an individual may not contribute more than $3,000 and an organization not more than $6,000 to a candidate's entire campaign.

The bill would have permitted contributions of these amounts to a candidate's primary, run-off and general election campaigns.

Under the bill, major party candidates would be entitled to 100 per cent government financing of their general election campaigns up to set spending limits.

But if they preferred, candidates could rely entirely on private contributions or they could elect a combination of public and private financing.

Serial Numbers Contradict Jacobsen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Banknote serial numbers appear to contradict the sworn testimony of Texas attorney Jake Jacobsen about a $10,000 fund earmarked for former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally, according to sources familiar with the case.

Two sources said the serial numbers indicate the money was not in circulation at the time Jacobsen swore it went into a bank safe-deposit box.

Jacobsen has pleaded innocent to a perjury indictment that charges him with lying to a Watergate grand jury by saying the money stayed in the box for 2½ years, until taken out in the presence of an FBI agent last Nov. 27.

Watergate investigators suspect the money may have been intended for Connally in return for his help in getting President Nixon to raise milk price supports in 1971.

And columnist Jack Anderson reported this week that FBI agents working for the Watergate special prosecutor have evidence that Connally pocketed the $10,000, then hastily returned it after the dairy group came under investigation.

Connally has denied receiving any bribe.

The original $10,000 was taken from the corporate account of Associated Milk Producers Inc., the nation's largest dairy-farmer cooperative, a few weeks after Nixon raised the support level in March 1971. Jacobsen said it was offered to Connally not as a bribe but for use in making political donations.

Jacobsen said he offered the money to Connally twice but that Connally refused it and the $10,000 lay untouched in a safe-deposit box.

Sources say the banknote serial numbers indicate it is impossible for Jacobsen's account

Experts Don't Agree About Much On State Of Economy

By DEBORAH RANKIN
NEW YORK (AP) — The economists agree: The nation is in the midst of a business slowdown bordering on recession and accompanied by inflation.

That's where the agreement ends. What caused the slowdown? What might the solution be? What does the future hold? These are the issues in a growing and complex debate attracting national attention.

"There's no doubt that a lot of people are suffering" from the combination of inflation and recession, says Victor Zarnowitz, professor of economics at the University of Chicago.

The economists are divided into three camps:

—The middle-of-the-roads who believe the economy will be flat or will decline moderately in the first six months, then pick up slightly.

—The optimists who believe the second half rebound will be sharp.

—The pessimists who believe business will not improve in the last six months of the year.

The debate became a political issue when President Nixon proclaimed that there won't be a recession in 1974.

The generally recognized arbiter of the controversy is the National Bureau of Economic Research. But we may not get its verdict until year's end.

The bureau is a nonprofit research unit that concentrates on analyzing peaks and valleys of the business cycle.

In the process, it has developed a working definition of recession: Two or more consecutive quarters of decline in the "real" gross national product (GNP). The GNP is the sum of all goods and services produced in the country and corrected for price increases.

Is there a chance the bureau would succumb to political pressures and manipulate the statistics so they would add up to stagnation, not recession?

"It has happened before that the government has said there would be no recession, and the bureau has found that one, in fact, occurred," says Zarnowitz, who also serves on the bureau's senior research staff.

"If it happens again there will be some denials, but the denials won't carry much weight."

The latest consensus forecast of about 60 prestigious economists polled by the bureau is grim. Half of these economists — who remain anonymous but are described as representing the top echelon in their field — predict a severe slump in 1974 and say there's almost a 50 per cent chance of recession in the first six months.

They project that the "real" GNP will decline during the first two quarters, but go up .6 per cent for the year while inflation soars 7 per cent. They see the unemployment rate rising 8 per cent.

The accuracy of economic forecasts falls off dramatically when predictions extend further than six months into the future.

"In terms of accuracy, most forecasts can't pinpoint movements within the range of a half of a percentage point," acknowledges Jane R. Lockshin, director of economic research for RCA Corp. "But we give point estimates, anyway, because they're demanded of us."

Slight changes in those numbers can spell a lot of unhappiness for some businesses and their employees. Changes in the GNP affect employment, as well. For every 1 per cent drop in GNP, economists predict an increase in the unemployment rate of a third of 1 per cent.

If the business slowdown gets worse and the jobless rate tops 6 per cent, as some predict, an additional million Americans could be out of work. This could increase jobless ranks to 5.7 million.

Differences between economists predicting an upturn in the 1974 GNP and those looking toward a worldwide recession are slight in terms of percentage points, but enormous in terms of underlying assumptions about the nation's economic behavior.

The middle-of-the-road view is that the Arab oil embargo was responsible for most of the slowdown and that business will show sluggish improvement when shipments resume.

The optimists think unusually strong business spending will enlarge the rebound to robust proportions.

The pessimists dismiss the oil embargo argument as a convenient cover-up for economists who they say failed to accurately measure the extent of the business slowdown that started last spring.

A Gary Shilling, senior economist with White, Weld & Co., an investment firm, maintains forecasters are ignoring a fundamental property of recession — that it develops a downward momentum that is irreversible until "the recession runs its course."

He maintains that the recession will become worldwide in the second half of 1974, but he doesn't think that's a bad thing. He reasons it will "correct" inflation by dampening demand for goods and services that has outstripped supply.

Some economists say if the present slump continues, the government will do everything in its power to stimulate the economy and prevent unemployment from rising to politically unacceptable levels.

"The trouble is that we are seeking short-run solutions to long-term problems, such as unemployment and inflation," Ms. Lockshin says. "Neither outlook is terribly good and the scenario is not a pleasant one, no matter what the outcome."

Jastrow Says Chamber Work 'Exciting Game'

K. M. Jastrow, president of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, told members of the Downtown Lions Club at their meeting Wednesday noon that chamber of commerce effort in community growth and betterment is a "really exciting game."

He then asked his listeners, "Are you in the Game?" which also was the subject of his talk, which highlighted the club's meeting in the American Legion Hall.

Stating that more than 500 persons are working on committees and in various activities of the Midland chamber, he said the big need is to involve even more Midlanders in community effort.

The speaker was introduced by Bill Collins program chairman for April.

Jastrow said chamber representatives are in the process of talking to clubs and groups of all kinds to better acquaint them with the purpose, objectives, activities and organizational structure of the C. of C. and to invite increased citizen participation in its affairs.

"We have a message for you," Jastrow told the Lions, "but more important, you also have a message for us. We are all citizens of Midland, working together to make it a better community."

He urged his listeners to offer ideas for community improvement to the chamber for consideration and action.

"You surely must have some suggestions which will benefit Midland and its residents," he said. "Please get them to us, rather than just sitting on them."

Major objectives of the chamber were reviewed by the speaker, who also distributed a brochure, "You and Your Chamber," which lists officers, directors, staff members, and committee chairman.

Following the screening of a brief color film, "Midland — Today and Tomorrow," Jastrow appealed to his audience to "get in the game" program, activities "I'm proud of Midland and I want you to be proud of the C. of C. and to invite in-Midland," he concluded.

Japanese Strike Affects Millions

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese labor's annual "shunto," its spring wage offensive, reached its peak today with millions of workers on a one-to-five-day strike affecting more than half the nation's 108 million people.

It was the closest thing to a general strike in Japan's history.

The workers struck the railroads, subways, buses, taxis, airlines and commercial shipping.

Also hit were schools; telegraph, government and post offices; municipal garbage collection; forestry preserves, the government printing agency and the mint.

The nationwide labor movement is seeking wage hikes of 30 to 35 per cent to counter the soaring cost of living, which rose 24 per cent last year under the pressure from the increase in oil prices.

Some industries have already given in. But Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka has refused to budge from an offer of an 18.7 per cent increase for government workers, including those on the national railway, and has also failed to satisfy the rail workers' demands for the legal right to strike. Tanaka proposed a two-year study of the right-to-strike question by a special cabinet council.

The transport strikes affected more than 40 million people, or two-thirds of the work force. Those who didn't stay home struggled to their offices and factories on foot, by bicycle, car pool or motorcycle.

The Education Ministry said about 15 million primary, middle and high school students — about 96 per cent of the total — got a holiday as the 500,000-member teachers' union went on strikes ranging from one to eight hours.

The 13,600-member Federation of Civil Aviation Workers, including 3,500 in foreign airlines, declared strikes of from two to 72 hours, causing delays in cargo handling and passenger services.

Lawyer Requests Mental Checkup For Accused Killer

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A Corpus Christi lawyer has requested a mental examination for one of two men accused in the shooting death of a Harlingen area gun collector.

The request was in one of 12 motions filed by Douglas Tinker on behalf of Jerry Joe Bird, 36, of Corpus Christi. Bird and Emmett Leroy Korges, 38, also of Corpus Christi, are charged with murder with malice in the January 11 slaying of Victor H. Trammell.

District Court Judge H.A. Garcia did not immediately set a hearing date.

In asking for the examination, Tinker alleged that Bird appears to be insane and unable to assist in his own defense. Other motions included a request that the jury be sequestered, that some of the evidence be suppressed and that the two men be tried separately.

A safe containing a gun collection was looted at the Trammell home. Mrs. Trammell, the victim's widow, identified Bird and Korges as the men who came to their home and pulled here after the birth of the baby on Wednesday at Begum's home in Geneva. She has two other children, Princess Zahra, and a son, Prince Rahim.

Westside Optimists Pick Mark Dawson As Boy Of Month

Mark Dawson, a Midland High School senior, has been named boy of the month by the Westside Optimist Club.

Dawson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon L. Dawson, is president of the Midland High band, a member of the National Honor Society and winner of four academic and four band letters.

Not only has he won nine University Interscholastic League solo and ensemble contest medals but he also plays the electric piano for the Midland High stage band.

He is listed in Who's Who Among High School Americans and is a member of the Order of the Arrow, Boy Scouting's honor group.

After graduation he plans to attend either The University of Texas or Rice University. He hopes to major in physics.

EARLIER REPORT ERRS— REAP To Pay Farmers For Work Done In '74

WASHINGTON (AP) — The program was not in effect. The department terminated 1973 REAP on Dec. 22, 1972, a few months after announcing it would be in effect at a spending level of $140 million. Congress had authorized $225.5 million. A federal court late last year reversed the cancellation, and the department on March 11 announced it would comply. At that time USDA officials told reporters they thought the original $140-million level would be in effect. The announcement this week, however, said the full $225.5 million set by Congress would be made available. Smith, in an interview, said if a farmer had applied for 1973 benefits and the application was approved by his county ASCS office by Dec. 22, 1972, he would have been eligible for compensation. "But if a farmer had not been cleared for 1973 REAP before the cutoff and had carried out improvement plans anyway he is not eligible for compensation under the revived program, Smith said. "Approval now for 1973 work will not be retroactive," Smith said. "A farmer will have to start all over again with his application and county office approval."

Stock Market Retreats

Slowly In Quiet Trading

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market retreated slowly in very quiet trading today as a 10 per cent prime interest rate spread through the banking industry.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index was down 31 at 93.95.

Other Big Board issues on the active list included Walt Disney Productions, down 2 at 43 1/2. Late Wednesday the company reported lower first-quarter profits.

Kroger Co., which reported sharply higher first-quarter earnings and raised its dividend, gained 1 1/2 to 23 1/4.

Lomas & Nettleton Financial was down 3/4 at 9 1/2 after a delayed opening. The company said earnings were off in its most recent quarter.

The Amex volume leader was Champion Home Builders, unchanged at 5.

The NYSE's composite index of all listed common stocks stood at 49.09, down 15.

Brokers said most investors were waiting on the sidelines to see if the recent surge in interest rates, as mirrored by the rise in the prime, would continue.

"If the prime goes through the 10 mark, it would probably be a very dampening influence on the market," said Alan C. Poole at Laidlaw-Coggeshall, Inc.

Texasgulf, down 1/2 at 28 1/2, was the Big Board volume leader. The issue is one of several with Canadian mining interests which have been declining since the Ontario government called for increased taxes on mining concerns.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 2.89 at 840.82 at midday, and declines outnumbered advances by about 4-to-3 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Recent Revisions Designed To Better Land Management

By TOM MORAN
Recent revisions in School Land Board oil leasing policies are designed to improve state management of oil lands, Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong said Wednesday in Midland at a meeting of the Permian Basin Landman's Association.

At a March meeting, the board raised the royalty from one-sixth to one-fifth. At the same time the basic lease bonus was reduced from $20 per acre on land and $25 per acre offshore to $10 and the lease terms were reduced from five years to three.

"Hopefully we will do as well with the state as private owners," Armstrong emphasized. "What I've tried to do is get it where it runs like a business."

University lands traditionally have been better managed than school lands, he added. With about one-eighth the acreage University lands have earned $1 billion for the school lands.

"The difference is management," Armstrong said. "I want us to be in the oil and gas finding business," he said. "If we find it we want the state to make some money out of it."

Prices for new oil have risen faster than drilling costs, he continued. If oil companies were making money in 1973, they will still make money even with higher royalty payments to the state.

One of major policy changes will be royalty bidding for leases which are "sure things," the commissioner said.

"I want us to be in the oil and gas finding business," he said. "If we find it we want the state to make some money out of it."

Landmen at Meeting — Jack Hightower, left, and Dick Gaddy, right, discuss new School Land Board oil leasing policies with Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong at a Wednesday meeting of the Permian Basin Landman's Association.

Little land in the Permian Basin will be affected by new School Land Board policies, Armstrong stressed, because very little land in the area is school land.

Most is west of the Pecos River and is very marginal, he said. The board also controls some river bottoms and a few sections of land.

All income from school lands is earmarked for education, Armstrong said. Because of the Permanent School Fund, Texas get an education dollar for 97 cents in tax money.

The royalty increase will result in an increased Permanent School Fund which will not only benefit school children now but all future generations, he concluded.

Midland Independent School District trustees Wednesday officially canvassed the votes from Saturday's school board election.

James H. Ramsoure was declared the winner of the Place 1 race. He defeated Mrs. B. David Buthman by a vote of 670 to 415.

Incumbent Place 2 Trustee Joe Dominey was re-elected without opposition. He received 827 votes.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — One chief of Houston's Texas Heart Institute said Wednesday, "I am convinced it is still a worthwhile technique even though his hospital no longer performs the operation."

More than 100 persons have undergone heart transplants since the late 1960s but only four are still living, Cooley said.

"I am convinced that cardiac transplantation is a worthwhile technique," he told the Southeastern Surgical Congress.

"There is no comparison with the artificial heart. It's way out front. It may be two or three decades before the artificial heart can catch up—if it ever does."

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A district court jury found Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. negligent Wednesday in construction of a faulty truck tire which caused an accident and awarded the plaintiffs $70,120.78.

The jury awarded $16,166.78 to the truck's owner, King Van and Storage Co., and $53,954 to the driver, Secundino R. Rubio.

The decision was the first under a Jan. 22 landmark decision by the Oklahoma Supreme Court which held a manufacturer is responsible for injuries caused by faulty merchandise.

The ruling stated a person bringing suit must prove the product caused the injury, the product was faulty when it left the manufacturer's possession and the defect made the article unreasonably dangerous.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Department officials say prospects for the Texas orange crop are better than they were last month, but still 11 per cent below 1972-1973 production.

Crop Reporting Board officials predicted Wednesday that the Texas orange output will reach 6.6 million boxes, compared with 6.5 million forecast last month.

Texas' output generally followed the national trend. The board said the national crop will be about 215 million boxes, up 1 per cent from last month, but 4 per cent lower than last season's record crop.

Based on April 1 indications, the Florida harvest is expected to be 164 million boxes, up two million boxes from March 1 prospects, but 3 per cent below last season, officials said.

The California orange crop was put at 41 million boxes, an increase of one million from March estimates, but also 3 per cent below last year.

Total citrus production was estimated at 1 per cent higher than March prospects, due entirely to improved prospects for oranges.

Grapefruit production was put at 64.1 million boxes, unchanged from March.

Florida's crop was predicted to lead the way with 46 million boxes with Texas' 11 million box crop second.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farmers in California, Texas and other Southern-climate areas who grow spring potatoes are headed for a bigger harvest this season, the Agriculture Department says.

Its Crop Reporting Board said Wednesday spring potato production is expected to be 22.7 million hundredweight, up 7 per cent from 1973 and 8 per cent above the 1972 crop.

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Motorists probably will be paying 70 cents a gallon for gasoline soon, a federal energy official says.

Philip Essley, deputy assistant administrator of the Federal Energy Office, told an annual seminar of city managers Wednesday that he differs with remarks made Tuesday by William Simon, federal energy chief, that gasoline prices might decrease.

"There is a possibility that the price might decrease," Essley said, "but I would say gasoline will cost 70 cents a gallon very soon."

The latest projections by the energy office indicate there will be plenty of gasoline this summer. But the problem is that no one will be able to afford it.

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Chile's cost of living went up 14.2 per cent during March, the National Statistics Institute reports.

This brought the inflationary spiral to 62.3 per cent for the first three months of the year. One factor was the cost of bread, which rose 235 per cent last month.

Economic advisers to the military junta that overthrew Marxist President Salvador Allende last September have said they hoped to limit inflation to about 300 per cent this year. It was a record 700 per cent in 1973.

Dr. Cooley Still Convinced Heart Transplants Worthwhile

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — One chief of Houston's Texas Heart Institute said Wednesday, "I am convinced it is still a worthwhile technique even though his hospital no longer performs the operation."

More than 100 persons have undergone heart transplants since the late 1960s but only four are still living, Cooley said.

"I am convinced that cardiac transplantation is a worthwhile technique," he told the Southeastern Surgical Congress.

"There is no comparison with the artificial heart. It's way out front. It may be two or three decades before the artificial heart can catch up—if it ever does."

Cooley became involved in a controversy with a former colleague, Dr. Michael DeBakey of Baylor University's medical college in Houston, after Cooley switched from the artificial heart method evolved by DeBakey to transplants.

Cooley participated in one of the first uses of an artificial heart in 1969, keeping a patient alive for some 30 hours. Subsequently he performed more transplants than any other surgeon until the hospital discontinued transplant surgery. He now specializes in surgical bypasses of blocked arteries.

Syrian President Flies To Moscow

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — President Hafez Assad flew to Moscow today for five days of talks with Soviet leaders.

Informed sources said Assad, because of the continuing heavy artillery exchanges on the Golan Heights, was seeking assurance that his forces would continue to receive Soviet munitions and equipment at reasonable prices.

The Soviets are reported asking for cash payment now because of the huge oil revenues the Arabs are getting.

The sources also said Assad expected to try to improve relations between the Soviet leaders and Egyptian President Anwar Sadat.

These have cooled noticeably as relations between the United States and Egypt have improved in the wake of Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's success in Arab-Israeli negotiations.

It is believed the Russians want the negotiations for a troop disengagement agreement between Israel and Syria moved from Washington to Geneva so the Soviets can take an active part. However, the Syrians have refused to go to Geneva until a disengagement agreement is worked out.

A Syrian delegation headed by the military intelligence chief, Maj. Gen. Hikmat Chahabi, arrived in Washington Wednesday to present the Syrian government's disengagement demands to Kissinger.

Syrian officials have indicated they expect Kissinger to come to Damascus before the end of the month to speed a disengagement agreement along. However, in Damascus it is believed the resignation of Israeli Premier Golda Meir injects grave complications into the situation.

State comptroller candidate Bob Bullock will campaign in Midland Friday.

The Democrat is seeking the office now held by Democrat Robert Calvert. While in Midland, he plans to visit with his backers and hold a press conference. His Friday tour agenda calls for stops at Big Spring and Odessa.

Flying Saucer Hovers Over U.S. Capitol In 8-Cent Stamp

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP) — A flying saucer hovers over the U.S. Capitol and Mayor William S. Meyer of Bellefontaine owns it. It's a commemorative 8-cent stamp honoring the late President Lyndon B. Johnson, one of a sheet of 32 Meyer bought from a friend. One stamp has a flaw that appears to be a flying saucer hovering over the Capitol in the lower corner. It shows above the right shoulder of the late president. Postmaster C. H. Hertenstein believes it could be the only one like it of the 150 million Johnson commemoratives printed. Meyer said he checked persons who bought similar sheets and could find none with the same defect. Hertenstein, also, did some checking among a packet of 4,000 similar stamps and found none with the defective marking. Meyer, a former stamp collector, said he bought the sheet of stamps from Donald Griest, an associate in the local American Red Cross chapter. Meyer noticed the imperfection almost immediately and offered to return the stamps. Griest, he said, didn't want them back. "I felt bad about taking it," said the mayor. Meyer has taken the stamp to several stamp shows and he said collectors seemed interested. The mayor himself stopped collecting about 15 years ago, but keeps an eye out for imperfections. "I still check stamps for ones like these," he said. "I have about a dozen defective ones." He has no idea what caused the imperfection. Some collectors have theorized the unidentified flying object marking probably came during the color processing. Meyer wonders if something fell on the printing presses. "I may sell it someday," said Meyer. "But I'm in no hurry. I kind of like it."

Villella, Company Will Perform Here

Selections from the classic ballet repertoire will share honors with new, original dance works when famed Edward Villella and his dance company perform here Saturday night.

Another original dance work by Villella, "Shenandoah," also scheduled for 8:15 p.m. Saturday in Midland High School Auditorium as the fourth presentation of Midland Community Concerts Association's current season.

Villella, principal dancer with the New York City Ballet for more than 15 years, will partner Anna Aragno in the dance "Le Corsaire," by Miss Hendl. Linda Younth, Polly Shelton, Frank Ohman and Nolan T'Sara.

The program will open with "Shostakovich Ballet Suite," choreographed by Villella and

King Due At Soul City

A blues man with a big following will be the headliner in a special show in Midland's Soul City Saturday night.

The man is Albert King, a black man who plays good guitar and signs even better. Among bluesmen he qualifies as a top performer, right up there with his guitar-playing wizard of a half-brother, B.B. King, and probably the equal of any other man performing today. His fame has spread so far and wide that a few of the perquisites of success are now at last coming his way: He has had an international tour, has filled a performing engagement with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, and now has started to do beer commercials!

In between performing engagements from Harvard Yard to Sather Gate, and a good many places in between, King operates the Harlem Club in Osceola, Miss., south of St. Louis.

'Extraordinaires' Will Begin Tour

GEORGETOWN — The "Extraordinaires," a popular vocal-instrumental ensemble composed of Southwestern University students, including one from Midland, will take its spring tour, "The Many Moods of Pop," on tour next week.

Larry Steven Neuhusan, a senior student from Midland, is one of the four instrumentalists in the ensemble, which also has an 18-voice chorus. Others in the group hail from such divergent points as Beeville, Temple, Abilene, Corpus Christi, Austin and Decatur, Ga. The ensemble is directed by Dr. Alaire Lowry, faculty member of the School of Fine Arts at Southwestern. The concert tour will take the ensemble to Giddings, Columbus, Houston, Bay City, Edna, Columbia and Mason.

Odessan Elected Legion Commander

Russ Larson of El Paso is vice commander, Joe Blackwell of Crane is sergeant-at-arms and Bob Anthony of El Paso is chaplain. Mrs. A. F. Aaron of Midland was appointed adjutant.

The auxiliary elected Mrs. Harvey Holcomb of Odessa as president and Mrs. Garland Smith of McCombs as vice president. Mrs. Jack Parr of Odessa was selected outstanding member of the year.

Pickwick Players To Present 'Just So Stories'

Rudyard Kipling's "Just So Stories" will come alive on the stage of Theatre Centre here this weekend.

The famous stories, adapted for the stage by Aurand Harris, will have public presentations Friday and Saturday afternoons by the Pickwick Players, the young people's performing company of Midland Community Theatre. The production is augmented with original music by Lynn Hart and lyrics by Tom Mikotowicz, both of MCT. Mikotowicz has directed the show.

The musical play is based on three of Kipling's "Just So Stories." Included in the production are "The Cat Who Walked By Himself," "How the Camel Got His Hump" and "How the First Letter Was Written." Featured roles in the production are assigned to Hal Coon as the Djinn, Barbara Buckley and Biff Taylor as the woman and man, Bryce Jensen as the cat and Cindy Crow as Taffy. Other cast members are Ange Dickson, Jennifer Muire, Kelly Hewitt, Clay Guthrie, Mark Brown, Paul Philby and Jody Youngblood.

The Pickwick Players' spring show is sponsored by Midland Community Theatre and the Junior League of Midland Inc., and its theater committee. In addition to the Friday and Saturday public performances, there will be a series of public performances next week for fourth grade students in the Midland public schools.

Seat reservations for the performances next week for public performances at 2:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday may be made through the Theatre Centre box office, 682-2544.

'Don Giovanni' To Be Presented

NEW YORK — Certain to be one of the highlights of the Texaco-Metropolitan Opera Radio Network's current season is Saturday's broadcast.

"Don Giovanni," Mozart's operatic masterwork, will be presented beginning at 1 p.m. Saturday, starring such luminaries as Leontyne Price, Teresa Zylis-Gara, Sherill Milnes, Stuart Burrows and Walter Berry.

Miss Price will be head as Donna Anna, Miss Zylis-Gara as Donna Elvira, Burrows as Don Ottavio and Berry as Leporello. Milnes will be in the title role.

"Singer's Roundtable" will be a feature of the single intermission Saturday afternoon, with panelists to be Evelyn Lear, Judith Blegen and Donald Gramm, with Edward Downes serving as master of ceremonies.

"Don Giovanni" will be available to Permian Basin area listeners over Station KCRS in Midland.

COMING TO MIDLAND — The "Memory Men," prize-winning barbershop quartet from Abilene, will be among featured entertainers in the annual "Parade of Harmony" to be presented a week from Friday in Lee High School auditorium. Tickets for the popular songfest may be reserved by telephoning 683-2571, and they will be available at the auditorium on performance night, priced at $2.50 for adults and $1 for children under age 12. The Parade of Harmony is presented by Midland's Permian chapter, Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America Inc. Watercolor Paintings Displayed At Museum

A collection of prize-winning watercolor paintings being circulated throughout the state by the Texas Watercolor Society make up a colorful new exhibition at the Museum of the Southwest, 1705 W. Missouri St.

The collection is being shown throughout the state in commemoration of the 25th anniversary of the Texas Watercolor Society. The special exhibition is noteworthy for the superb quality of individual paintings included in it.

Millard Sheets, noted contemporary American artist, selected the works included in the show. Of the exhibition, Sheets notes that "it is alive with vitality and conviction; it reflects competence in the language of painting and ranks with exhibits from any area of the nation."

Many distinguished artists from throughout the state are represented in the collection, including Dr. Emilio Caballero of Canyon, C. M. Atkinson and Leo Bernice Fix of Lubbock, Bill Worrell of Odessa and Barbara Earwood of Sonora.

With this 1974 presentation, through cooperation of Frost Bros., San Antonio specialty store, and its president, Murray Berkowitz, the Texas Watercolor Society offered the largest prize list in the history of watercolor exhibitions in the United States. Museum of the Southwest is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays each week, and 2 to 5 p.m. on Sundays. There is never an admission charge.

Myers Elected Head Of TNT

LUBBOCK — Roland W. Myers, director of the Lubbock Theatre Centre, is the new president of Texas Non-profit Theatres Inc. His election came this past weekend at the annual meeting of TNT in Lubbock.

Other officers named at the conclave were S. Walker James of Beaumont, first vice president; Terry Dobson of Baytown, second vice president; Rosalie Robinson of El Paso, secretary, and Robert Canon of Galveston, treasurer. New members of the board of directors include Enid Holm, director of Odessa's Permian Playhouse, Bill Larsen of San Antonio and Jack Walker of Canyon.

TNT, an organization of community and "little" theaters across the state, came into being in the early 1970s. At last weekend's meeting here, the organization voted to hold its next yearly conference at San Antonio next February.

Students Give Piano Recital

Piano students of Mrs. E. F. Mottler presented a program of duets recently in Hope Lutheran Church.

Patriotic, jazz and contemporary works, along with folk songs and duets based on classics, were offered by Lyndee Knox, Gill Estes, Sharon Van Horn, Carolyn Farmer, Karen Miller, Shawn McCarter, Jay Mottler, Ann Vitrano, Stacy Schreiner, Larry Barthel, Roger Barnes, Kevin McCarter, Edward Meissner, Ivan Meissner, Gary Sawyers, Jamie McCarter, Allan Johnston, Jennifer Neisig, Suzanne Johnston, Angela Tompkins, Scott Morris, Teresa Sawyers, Renee Floyd, Laurie Karcher, Cecile Davis and Shirley Swanson.

Costars In Tv Series Are Wed

NEW YORK (AP) — David Birney and Meredith Baxter, costars of last season's television series "Bridget Loves Bernie," are honeymooning after their marriage here.

A spokeswoman for the stars of the canceled tv series that detailed the romantic troubles of a Jewish boy and a Catholic girl said they were married Wednesday in a traditional ceremony at the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church.

It was the second marriage for each, she said. The ceremonies were attended by Miss Baxter's two children by her previous marriage.

The couple plans to live in Connecticut, where Birney is rehearsing for an American Shakespeare Festival production of "Romeo and Juliet."

Ralph Finds Complaining Fun, Profitable

By TOM TIEDE
 (NEW YORK (NEA) — While sitting in his doctor's waiting room, an hour past his appointment, it dawned on Ralph Charell that he was being had.

And he decided to do something: complain. When later he received the physician's bill, Charell responded with a bill of his own.

"You kept me waiting an hour," he explained, "and I charge $50 an hour for my time. I will subtract your bill of $35 from mine of $50. Doctor, you owe me $15."

Audacity is second only to originality with Ralph Charell. As indeed it must be. Listed by the Guinness Book of Records as "The World's Most Successful Complainer," Charell uses intrepidity as a kind of commercial judo in a carnivorous marketplace where he believes the ordinary consumer is otherwise unilaterally disarmed.

Usually, his shameless brass works. His personal and meticulously kept records indicate that in the past decade he has turned ordinary complaints — to department stores, to repairmen, to employers — into $75,000 profits. "That's above and beyond refunds and such things," he emphasizes, "the $75,000 is PROFIT."

The remuneration has not always been monetary. In the case of the feud with his doctor, Charell's profit was merely better service: "He didn't pay me the $15 bill. But I can assure you the next time I had an appointment, he saw me on time."

Usually, though, Charell feels his complaints warrant financial return. When he complained to a New York men's shop that three purchased suits did not fit, he not only got his money back but an additional $20 for cabfare. When he griped to a hotel manager that his room was noisy, $200 was deleted from the account. When he was splattered with some harmless dust from a construction site he pressed successfully for $200 "damages."

Often, Charell's rewards have merchandizers, industries, et al. Several years ago he complained to the New York Telephone Co. about a balky phone. When he requested a new number, he was turned down. For the next three years he bombarded the company with anger, records, pleadings — all to no avail.

Finally, in desperation, he told the company that he was going to advise as possible people in America as possible to fold, spindle and mutilate their computerized telephone bills, causing severe disruption of the company's accounting. He got a new number, and $208 in com-are, by nature, 97-pound weaklings in consumer affairs. He says most people are brought up to be victims, to turn the other cheek or to be losers.

He tells the story of the man paying hundreds of dollars for an advertised luxury cruise in the Mediterranean, which turned out to be a slave ship in which the man was chained to an oar; when the cruise finally ended, the man, a typical consumer, approached the organizer and said politely: "Excuse me, I've never been on a cruise before. How much does one tip the whipper?"

Charell would turn the meek complaining is correct complaining. "Be right. I never initiate a complaint unless it's completely justified."

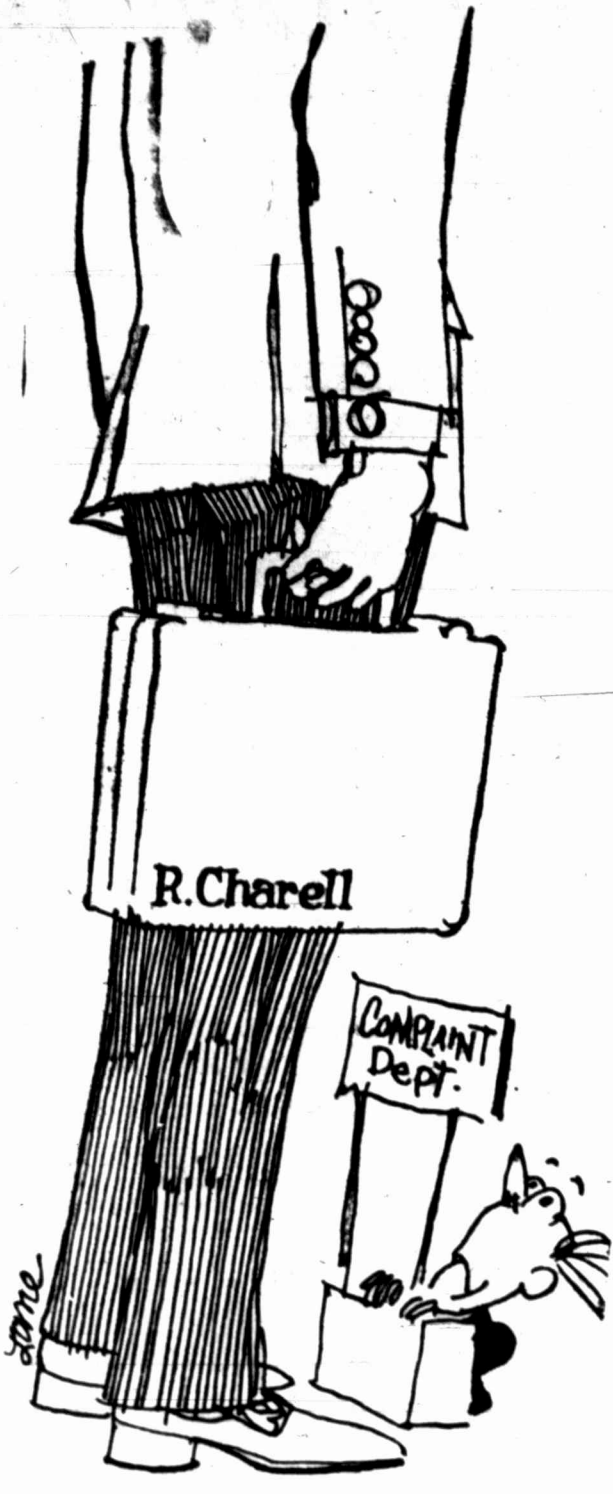

When the complaint is legitimate, Charell suggests perseverance; faultless record keeping and sophistication. "When you write a company, use good stationery. Personally, I use a Tiffany brand. Nobody bothers with a bum."

To be sure, Charell never plays the bum. Occasionally, he finds the best tact is to plead helplessness, this way a company official may "take pity on me — like an animal in a trap." But normally he takes more direct action.

When he was informed once that his apartment building was being torn down, the renter wanted to break the lease. Charell held out almost until the wrecker ball arrived. By so doing he raised the likelihood the massive construction project would be delayed at enormous cost to the builder and thus was able to negotiate a nifty $25,000 settlement.

Regardless of tactic, Charell has rarely lost a complaint. In fact, he has been so successful he may be reaching something of a grumbling anticlimax. His exploits in the gripe field have resulted in one book, dozens of television talk show appearances, financial satisfaction and a film company is considering a movie on his life. "Damn," he says somewhat forlornly, "things are going so good for me I don't have anymore complaints."

'When you write to a company, use good stationery. Personally, I use a Tiffany brand. Nobody bothers with a bum.'

Former Louisiana Governor In Group Offering Nixon $1 Million For Papers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., says a former Louisiana governor is among a syndicate of businessmen who have offered President Nixon $1 million for his controversial vice presidential papers.

Passman disclosed Wednesday that the one-time governor, James A. Noe, had wired him asking to be included for $100,000 in any syndicate being formed to buy the papers.

The congressman said the syndicate has offered to provide at once a cashier's check for $100,000 and pay the balance of the $1 million within 15 days after acceptance.

Passman himself is not among the syndicate but said the group had approached him through a special assistant at his home office in Monroe, La. Passman described the offer in a brief House speech and elaborated in an interview.

Passman told the House Nixon "was deprived on a technicality of benefits some of his predecessors had."

Schweiker Hits Use Of Tax Funds To Buy Booklet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard S. Schweiker says U.S. foreign aid funds have been used to circulate in Panama a birth control comic book picturing the Virgin Mary on the cover.

It bears a caption, "Little Virgin, you who conceived without sinning, help me to sin without conceiving," the Pennsylvania Republican said Wednesday.

Schweiker protested "this outrageous and distasteful use of U.S. tax funds" in a letter to Matthew J. Harvey, assistant administrator of the Agency for International Development (AID).

Schweiker said Harvey confirmed that the Panamanian Health Ministry got $1,100 from AID to buy 10,000 copies of Los Supermachos, a Spanish language comic book published in Mexico.

Men Will 'Atone' For Cockfighting

MANILA (AP) — Thirty-eight men caught cockfighting on the wrong days are spending Holy Thursday and Good Friday in jail "to atone for their sin," the constabulary says. They will be released Saturday.

Cockfighting, probably the biggest sport in rural areas, is banned except on Sundays and holidays, partly because of complaints that men were spending too much time watching and losing too much money betting.

Newsprint Price Hike Announced

DALLAS (AP) — The price of Southland Paper Mills newsprint has been increased $12 a ton effective June 1, a representative said today.

The spokesman said the total price varies because of various factors. Southland did not increase its price earlier this year when most manufacturers of newsprint announced increases when controls were lifted.

Bill Would Bar Utilities From Seeking Customers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Public utilities would be banned from advertising to attract more customers during energy shortages under a bill to be introduced today by Rep. William Walsh, R-N.Y.

Walsh said in a statement that under the bill it would be illegal for a public utility to spend money to advertise "to increase the number of persons buying electricity or natural gas from such utility" when the Federal Power Commission determines there is a shortage of electrical power or natural gas.

Walsh said that it is "a bit astounding when you realize that all through our current energy woes, utility companies have continued to advertise . . . Attempts to attract more consumers to a product already scarce is an absurd practice and should be stopped."

The bill also would make it unlawful for any regulated public utility to charge a preferential rate to any person on the basis of the amount of electricity or gas bought from such a utility.

The bill contains a provision for a fine of $5,000 and $10,000 for each violation and states that each day of advertising during a shortage would be a separate offense.

Dallas Mayor Sure Love Commuter Flights To Stop

DALLAS (AP) — Mayor Wes Wise said Wednesday he is confident the Dallas City Council will vote next week to eliminate commuter airline flights from Love Field by stopping scheduled airline operations.

"Dallas made a commitment and gave its word. I hope the city council will take courageous action Monday in reiterating that word. I'm confident they will do so," he told a news conference at the new Dallas Fort Worth Airport some 15 miles from Love Field.

The commitment was an agreement with Fort Worth made before opening of the new $700 million DFW Airport that all airlines would use the new airport, rather than Love Field, to insure adequate revenues to pay off the new facility's indebtedness.

Southwest Airlines, a small intrastate commuter service, was formed after the agreements were reached and has refused to move its operation from Love Field. This has sparked a flurry of lawsuits and has threatened to undermine the new airport, according to city officials.

Southwest won a court ruling that prevented the city from barring the airline from Love Field so long as the airport is open as an airport.

Wise made no reference to any possible conflicts with that ruling by city council action to curb flights at the airport.

Wise said councilmen have received "unbelievable pressure" from North Dallas residents and businessmen who use commuter flights at Love Field.

Election Called For Australia

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Governor-General Sir Paul Hasluck dissolved both houses of Parliament today, and Prime Minister Gough Whitlam announced that a general election will be held May 18.

Whitlam told a news conference the main issue will be the frustration of his legislation by the opposition-controlled Senate. It has blocked several measures passed by the House of Representatives, including Whitlam's health insurance bill.

The opposition is expected to fight the election on the issue of inflation, now running at an annual rate of 14 per cent.

Whitlam, whose Labor party was voted into power 16 months ago, said he didn't expect to lose any seats.

An opinion poll two weeks ago predicted victory for the Liberals, whose leader, Billy Snedden, provoked Whitlam into calling an early election by announcing that the opposition would vote down the government's appropriation bills in the Senate.

Jury To Receive Boyle Case Today

MEDIA, Pa. (AP) — A jury was to begin deliberations today in the murder trial of former United Mine Workers president W. A. "Tony" Boyle, accused of the slaying of union rival Joseph "Jock" Yablonski.

The case was to go to the jury of nine men and three women after the instructions from Common Pleas Judge Francis J. Catania.

Testimony against the 72-year-old Boyle wound up Wednesday, and opposing lawyers summed up their versions of the evidence produced by 58 prosecution and nine defense witnesses.

Colombian Middle Class Pushing For Right To Divorce

By JORGE CANELAS
 BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Divorce is still a forbidden word in Colombian courts, but a rising middle class is pushing for it and other changes in a typical conservative, Catholic-inspired society.
 A survey by the Colombian Data Co., a sort of local Gallup, found that 62 per cent of the male population in the country's four main cities want divorce in Colombia. This percentage is basically established in the middle class.
 In a traditionally conservative Colombia these findings are likely to cause displeasure. However they reflect the passing of time. Not only are pro-divorce, while 48 per cent of the housewives favor divorce.
 Divorce has been a topic of Congressional discussions for years. Despite the trend favoring it, the chances are it will not be included in the country's codes in the immediate future. A new Concordat with the Holy See to replace the one signed last century is ending a Middle Ages requirement which demanded "public abjuration" to the Catholic faith before a judge prior to a civil wedding. Both the influential Catholic hierarchy and the ruling party coalition are against divorce. Oddly enough, an importation abroad is not a bar to a Catholic wedding here.
 As a prosperous Colombian remarks: "First I married civil in neighboring Venezuela. With no divorce in between, I married Catholic with another girl in Colombia, and everybody is happy."

Texas Milk Producers Want No Part Of Politicians With Hands Out

By JOHN LUMPKIN
SULPHUR SPRINGS, Tex. (AP) — Dairyman Bill Tate was standing in a feed store when he said: "You think you can see the Lord everywhere you look. You see calves being born, the grass growing, the trees."

But just now Tate is embarrassed. Upset.

Although Washington's Watergate complex is 1,300 miles away, Tate and other members of Associated Milk Producers Inc. (AMPI) apparently don't think that's far enough.

It was the Watergate-related scandals that now have Tate's people as a group," allows Tate, a big, muscular man who admits he could make more money doing something else.

Tate and his fellow dairy farmers, most of them AMPI members, are conscious of government's investigation of San Antonio-based AMPI, claims that AMPI tried to whose 40,000 members form nation's largest dairy cooperative. AMPI markets the milk produced by Tate's 600 cows and hundreds of thousands of others in the United States.

The group's law firm has admitted AMPI illegally donated $100,000 in corporate funds to President Nixon's 1969 campaign. Watergate investigators are now focusing on claims, denied by Nixon, that $427,000 from the political trusts of AMPI and two other co-ops influenced a 1971 milk price support increase. There are new AMPI claims that AMPI tried to kill a federal antitrust suit still pending against the dairy farmer's point of view known. "I don't like the way the money was being used out if it is true."

"But I suppose it is," he said. Joe Bain Sr., 72 years old, short and trim, was leaning on the rail of a corpen fence when he voiced his feelings about the big cigar and said he wasn't sure if he's bragging or complaining about having a farm-ly-oriented dairy farm.

Joe was wearing the dairy-man's uniform—overalls—when he headed for his barn. The odor of warm manure clung to the air nearly as heavy as his words. "We don't want anything done illegally or under cover."

"We haven't made any money that way and I don't want to!" he said.

According to Bain, any politician who comes around looking for contributions in return or

HOROSCOPE

Thoughtful for those you love and brighten up. You can make more of your life.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until you do, you need to be very careful that you do not alienate one in a position of authority. You may be surprised to find that your own comments at home or in the office are being taken to express yourself than from knowledge of facts.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23): Don't make any unkind remarks at home or in the office. Be very considerate and stop being so serious.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Get your duties done, particularly shopping. Look out for the other driver on the road. The evening is for personal relationships.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Curb temptations to extravagance. Follow monetary advice of an expert. Avoid unwise ideas radically different from those of your associates, but avoid a better time to cultivate them.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19): Handle personal duties that are annoying. Make a course of action for the future. Look out for the other driver on the road. The evening is for personal relationships.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18): Find a way to be of assistance to you and your friends.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20): You have a problem that you want to discuss with a good friend. It is best to avoid the subject if you are not sure.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Show your friends that you are serious. Agree with some of their ideas. Try to argue, no matter what may arise.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Put ideas across for expansion and be more willing to make changes. You have exciting new acquaintances, but avoid a better time to cultivate them.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Get away from the way you are. The weekend free of worry. Get something solved instead of trying to forget them.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Don't argue, but act for the future. Ideas are different from yours. Plan to get ahead better with the public.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23): Don't run away from the work you have to do. Avoid one in many ways. Improve health. Avoid one in many ways.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Instead of getting into a blue mood, do something good.

Gold Rush City Of Old Sacramento Being Restored

By RODNEY ANGOVE
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A sign on the western terminus of the Pony Express says "Beds 15 to 20 cents," but that's going to change. Across the street the Pioneer Telegraph Building, where the first transcontinental message was received in 1861, has already been restored. And the arrival point for the first transcontinental railway train, in 1869, is scheduled to become a comprehensive railway museum. Old Sacramento, a Gold Rush river port when San Francisco was still known as Yerba

Buena, is rising from its ruins. The first eastbound Pony Express rider saddled up in front of the B. F. Hastings Building on April 14, 1860, according to a historical marker. In those days, this patch of land on the Sacramento River was booming. But as urban planners now know, historic areas sometimes go downhill. By the 1930s, Old Sacramento was the largest market center west of Chicago for migrant day laborers. It had turned into a dreary slum long before restoration was considered in the 1950s. At one point it was going to be bulldozed down for a freeway. But the restorers forced the highway builders to make a jog around it. Thus Old Sacramento stands today, 28 acres of river bank cut off from the rest of the city by a freeway. There are about six blocks of buildings, of which about 120 are considered worthy of restoration or reconstruction — 41 of them built from 1849 to 1870. About 20 buildings have been restored, and contracts have been let for most of the rest. The restorers hope to have two thirds of the area restored by July 4, 1976, when a celebration is to be held in connection with the U.S. Bicentennial observance. With luxury restaurants, specialty shops, museums and ordinary business offices, Old Sacramento is expected to eventually play host to half a million visitors a year, spending upwards of $20 million.

AMERICAN LEAGUE BASEBALL ROUNDUP

Wright Likes Use Of Clock

By BERT ROSENTHAL
AP Sports Writer
Pro basketball has its 24 and 30-second clocks to help speed up games, and Clyde Wright, veteran left-handed pitcher of the Milwaukee Brewers, thinks major league baseball should adopt a 20-second clock between pitches for the same purpose.

at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium apparently were getting bored Wednesday, and they began throwing snowballs on the field.
Their boredom turned to disappointment in the ninth inning when Milwaukee's Don Money smashed a dramatic grand slam home run with two out, lifting the Brewers to a 6-4 victory.

Wright and Jim Perry were locked in a 2-2 duel until the ninth. Then the Brewers filled the bases on two walks and a single, before Money tagged reliever Cecil Upshaw for his homer, which carried over the left field fence.
Royals 4, A's 1
Home runs by John Mayberry and Fred Patek backed the six-hit pitching of Steve Busby in Kansas City's victory over Oakland.

the seventh inning, bunting five walks, a double and a sacrifice fly for four runs in overcoming a 5-2 deficit and handing the White Sox their fourth setback.
After starter Stan Bahnsen walked leadoff batter Jim Holt in the seventh, Terry Forster came in and walked Randy Hundley and surrendered a run-scoring double to Jerry Turrell. Then, Forster walked Sergio Ferrer and Rod Carew, forcing in a run.
Cy Acosta replaced Forster and walked Larry Hisle, forcing in the tying run, and Tony Oliva drove in the winner with a sacrifice fly.

San Antonio Tops Cubs

Homer In 9th Hands Midland 6-5 Defeat

By ED PRELL
SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. — The Midland Cubs Wednesday played three hours of baseball, some of it faulty and in the end, had to accept a 6-5 loss to San Antonio, the Cleveland Indians' Texas League team.
It went down to the ninth inning. Brian Bickerton, late of the St. Louis Cardinal system, curved a home run pitch to Andy Rodriguez, the San Antonio catcher. The Cubs had the tying and lead runs on the bases in their half of the ninth, but Ronnie Matney nor Bill Bright could come through.

Padre Boss In Apology To Ball Club

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The new owner of the San Diego Padres has apologized to his players for derogatory remarks he made about their play, but it hasn't slowed the National League team's slide into the cellar.
The Houston Astros broke open a close game Wednesday night with six runs in the fifth inning to paste the Padres 9-1.
Earlier, Ray Kroc said he "talked without thinking" in berating his team at San Diego Stadium Tuesday night.

Aaron Is Ready To Defend Title In Masters Golf

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — The sports spotlight shifts today to the other Aaron—Tommy Aaron, the golfer—in the start of the 38th Masters Tournament.
"I met Hank Aaron at a golf tournament recently," Aaron said, referring to the new home run king of baseball. "He mentioned that since he was from Alabama he probably got his name from masters named Aaron—maybe ancestors of mine."
Plying his trade in relative obscurity is no new experience for the 37-year-old tour veteran from Gainesville, Ga., once dubbed the "golfing bride's maid" because he played for 10 years without winning a tournament, although he frequently came close.

ANAHEIM (AP) — Alex Johnson was a folk hero in Anaheim in 1970 when he hit .329 for California and won the American League batting title.
He was a hero of sorts again Wednesday night—although this time he was attired in the traveling greys of the Texas Rangers.
Johnson made a valiant but futile bid to catch Ellie Rodriguez' sinking line drive to left field with two out in the ninth inning. The ball struck the heel of his glove and caromed behind him, permitting Riche Scheinbaum to race all the way home from first base with the run that brought the Angels a 4-3 triumph.

Finley Orders Johnson To Hit

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Manager Al Dark of Oakland said he wanted to use Vic Davalillo as the A's designated hitter Wednesday night against the Kansas City Royals, but owner Charles O. Finley asked him to use Deron Johnson.
The Royals won 4-1.
"I had decided to put Davalillo in there," Dark explained. "The general manager called about 7:15 about something else and said he'd rather have Johnson."
Johnson was the designated hitter and failed to get a hit in four times at bat. Davalillo pinch hit for Ray Fosse in the seventh inning and was thrown out.

Rangers Surprise In NHL

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer
The first full night of National Hockey League playoff action was full of surprises.
The New York Rangers, who finished with the 11th best goals-against record in the 16-team NHL, held the point Montreal Canadiens offense to just one goal in recording a 4-1 opening-game victory Wednesday night.
Scoring expert Phil Esposito of Boston was held to just two shots on goal and the Bruins, who scored 349 times during the regular season, tallied only once in their quarter-final series opener with the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Ballot Recount Ends Mayor Race Tie In Benavides

SAN DIEGO, Tex. (AP) — A recount resolved a two-way tie in the Benavides municipal election and returned Mayor Octavio Saez to office for another term.

Judges for the election Monday had tallied 350 votes apiece for Saez and rival Armando L. Garza.

Commissioners named by District Court Judge O. P. Carrillo for the recount reported they found the totals, including 21 additional votes, to be Saez 374 and Garza 347.

Both candidates had asked the court to order a recount, and the men assigned that task by the judge were Duval County political leader George B. Parr, Sheriff Raul Serna and B. O. Goldthorne, president of the First State Bank of San Diego.

Saez and Garza both were present as the recount was made in the district courtroom. Carrillo said Ruben Chapa who was defeated 354-325 in a city council race by Barbara Gonzales did not ask a recount. The judge added that in an unofficial recount—"We were there, the ballots were out, so why not?"—Mrs. Gonzales was credited with 383 votes to Chapa's 332.

The Benavides election was rated by many as one of the most hotly contested in this South Texas area in many years. No official records were available but officials reported it was a record election turnout.

Washington Post Strike Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — No progress is reported toward settling a four-day-old strike by editorial and commercial employees of the Washington Post.

No negotiating sessions were held Wednesday and none was scheduled. Both sides said they would return to negotiations when summoned by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, which entered the dispute last week.

More than 1,000 Post employees represented by the Newspaper Guild left their jobs Monday.

The strike began after the guild's leadership rejected a final management offer which would have increased pay for fully experienced reporters, editors, photographers and advertising salesmen from $400 to $448.25 over the next two years.

The union has been seeking a salary boost to $476 a week by December 1975.

More Party Control Of Presidential Races Urged

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Seeking insurance against future Watergates, political reformers are urging 1976 presidential nominees to do their campaign business through the Republican and Democratic national committees.

The theory is that management, or at least supervision, by regular party organizations and leaders would guard against the kind of abuses that marked President Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign.

But there is a flaw: the way the system works, in a presidential year a party's nominee for the White House decides who is going to run the party organization anyhow.

Vice President Gerald R. Ford has proposed that 1976 GOP candidates agree in advance that they will not set up special campaign committees without specific approval of the party.

A House Republican study panel has said that "a strong national party would help curb some of the excesses that have been witnessed during the past few years and would make it easier for the public to isolate responsibility for illegal actions."

But presidential candidates build their personal political organizations as they campaign through the primary elections, seeking White House nomination. At that stage, the regular party organization is theoretically neutral. The pattern has been for the personal organization of the winner to take over in the fall and run the national campaign.

The presidential nominee traditionally chooses the top leadership of his party's national committee. Committee members from the 50 states elect their chairman — but in practice, they ratify the choice of the presidential nominee.

Neither party committee had much to say about the 1972 presidential campaign. As always, the clout was where the presidential nominees put it. And as usual, there was friction between state party organizations and the campaign committees set up by the candidates.

In an era of political specialization and increasingly lengthy and expensive presidential campaigns, the pattern has been one of management and control by the candidate's men, not the permanent party structure.

All of this suggests that a long term solution to the problem of presidential campaign control is going to take more than persuasion aimed at candidates.

One proposal is part of the public campaign finance bill now before the Senate. It would allow a presidential nominee to set up his own organization to run the campaign — but the chairman, or someone he designates, would have to endorse every expenditure of over $1,000 in public funds.

Witnesses For State Testify In Favor Trial

BENTON, La. (AP) — More prosecution witnesses were called today in the second murder trial of former Texas rodeo star Jack Favor.

It took most of the first three days of the trial to seat a 12-man jury and two alternates. The first two witnesses testified Wednesday.

Favor was convicted in 1967 of killing Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Richey at their bait stand at Haughton, La., April 17, 1964.

He appealed, charging collusion between Bossier Parish officials and a state witness, Floyd Cumbe, and was granted a new trial.

Prosecutor Graves Thomas of the state attorney general's office told the jury in his opening statement that he would prove Favor had been acquainted with Cumbe a month prior to the murders. Cumbe also was charged in the Richey slaying.

J. B. Wells, Favor's lawyer, focused his opening statement on Cumbe as a state witness. "Floyd E. Cumbe's credibility—that's the whole issue," Wells said.

Wells said Favor was not guilty of murder but of "being in the wrong place in the wrong time."

The state's first two witnesses were Helen Womack of Bossier City and Edward Barnes of Haughton. Both testified they visited the Richey bait stand on the afternoon of April 17, 1964, and found no one there.

Mrs. Womack said she got no answer when she tried to summon the Richeys from their house behind the stand.

Barnes testified that he went to the house, looked through a screen door and saw a foot hanging over a bed in the Richey bedroom. He said he notified the Bossier Parish sheriff's office.

Cumbe, although convicted of manslaughter in the Richey murders, was mysteriously freed across the state line in Texas. Later he was convicted of killing two girls in Oklahoma City and sentenced to life in prison.

During a hearing on Favor's appeal for a new trial, Cumbe testified that Louis Padgett Jr. promised him freedom for testifying against Favor in the murder trial. Padgett was the district attorney at the time of the murder trial and now is a state district court judge in Bossier Parish.

Padgett denied promising Cumbe anything.

Texas American Gross Revenues Up

Texas American Oil Corp., Midland-based independent oil and gas company, has reported gross revenues for 1973 of $3,478,000, an increase of 47 per cent over the 1972 gross revenues. Net earnings for the year ended Dec. 31, 1973, were $513,000, including extraordinary gain of $36,000. This compares with revenues of $2,370,000 and a net loss of $57,000 during the prior year.

TAO oil production increased 36 per cent and gas production, 6 per cent during 1972, over the previous year.

TAO engaged in oil and gas exploration, development and production, primarily in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Illinois, and is traded on the National Stock Exchange and in the over-the-counter market.

Retired Admiral Dies

Airline Bush Pilot's Dream

By STEVE WEINER
ADAK ISLAND, Alaska (AP) — The pilot is a deadpan image in rumpled green, known only as Kelly.

He sets the airliner down expertly on this Aleutian island, gets off and the passengers wait. Kelly is out of cigars. He runs into town with a stewardess to buy some for the long flight ahead.

That's the way things are on Reeve Aleutian Airways, the lifeline of civilization that threads together these skin-and-bone island mountains. It's also the realized dream of the bush pilot who owns it, eye-patched Bob Reeve, 72, an Alaskan aviation pioneer who took a single-engine Fairchild in World War II and built it into a $20 million, 16-plane fleet.

In the air the two stewardesses devote most of the required safety speech about emergency exits to a demonstration of how to put on a life vest. They grin widely. Most of the passengers are men who haven't seen women in a long time.

Better View Of Scenery
On the way to Amchitka, Kelly observes what a nice day it is, and it would be a shame to waste it. So he takes his 85-passenger Electra down to 50 feet for a better view of the scenery.

Taking off from Amchitka, Kelly doesn't climb. Instead he zips over the remains of quartz huts and the spongy tundra, heading at water level along the barren coast. He points out a herd of sea lions and shows passengers where the underground nuclear tests were held.

Over Kiska, the site of Japan's World War II base on American soil, he points out bomb shelters and bomb craters and a sunken freighter glaring rustily in the northern sunlight.

Next stop: Shemya, a tiny Air Force station. Then Attu, 200 miles from the Soviet Union, about as far west as America reaches. The entire population of 35 servicemen who operate a radio beacon turns out. Men cheer. Dogs bark. Stewardesses smile and wave. Reeve Airways has made it again.

At Shemya Kelly picks up passengers, and then on to Anchorage, 1,500 miles away. Point of decision: eat now or later?

Take A Vote
The stewardesses take a vote. The passengers say later. But the stewardesses are hungry. The passengers eat now.

When Kelly sits down at Anchorage, he's logged about 11 hours that day. He arrives "right on time." With Reeve that's whenever you arrive.

Reeve and his airline are legendary in the Aleutians. They still talk about the time a Reeve pilot, blinded by zero visibility, called the Adak tower and requested that the lights be turned on.

The men in the tower advised him not to try to land. They couldn't even see the ladder that runs up the tower's side. "Hell," the pilot snapped back, or so the story goes. "turn on the lights so I can see where to taxi. I'm already on the ground."

"You just go out there, and you don't have any tricks," Reeve explains. "You learn to fight the weather. You claw your way through weather like you claw your way through life."

Memento Of Old Days
His office is a memento of the old days, hung thickly with model planes, cluttered with trophies, plaques and hundreds of pictures of old flying companions.

In World War II when he flew supplies for the Signal Corps, Reeve used to brag that his Fairchild was too slow to be shot down. He already had a reputation as "the glacier pilot," because he taught others how the vast Alaskan icecaps made excellent landing strips.

After the Fairchild came a $20,000 surplus C47, and then as soon as he found the money, three more. It was the start of an airline with routes no one else wanted.

"After I got them paying everybody wanted them," Reeve remembered. "That's human nature."

Today, Reeve's baby airline services 28 mostly remote spots along a 1,783-mile route that begins in Anchorage and ends at Attu and must find its way back. There are roughly 8,000 people along the way.

Reeve and his many transients pay their own way. He took a small federal subsidy for a few years in the 1950's, but hasn't needed one since 1967. Of his 16 planes, 13 were bought surplus.

"I'm going to have the 747, the DC10 and all of them when they're surplus," he says. His notion: buy from the majors and "take the additional wear out of them."

Solon Remembers Two Home Runs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wilmer "Vinegar Bend" Mizell claims one distinction none of his colleagues can hope to match: He's the only member of Congress to have pitched two home-run balls to Henry Aaron.

"They were No. 61 and No. 161," the North Carolina Republican boasted. "I remember them well."

A major league pitcher for 14 years, Mizell said he was delighted watching Aaron smash past Babe Ruth's home run record by belting No. 715 in Atlanta Monday night. Mizell said he watched the game on television.

11 Missing In Oil Fire Thought Dead

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Coast Guard says it has given up hope for the lives of 11 persons missing after an oil tanker exploded and burned at its mooring on the Delaware River.

Included in the missing are a mother and her three daughters who were visiting the Greek registry tanker Elias when it erupted in a ball of flame late Tuesday.

One man is officially listed as dead and 26 others were either injured or treated for exposure. Most of the 26 leaped from the blazing vessel into frigid water. A search for the missing was suspended Wednesday night.

Wreckage Still Hot
The wreckage, still resting near the mooring, is reportedly too hot to be entered. A search of the ship is planned for Saturday, the Coast Guard said.

The cause of the explosion which split the 650-foot vessel has not been determined.

Among the missing are the ship's captain, Andreas Antoniadis, who at the time of the blast was dining aboard with his cousin and her three daughters.

The missing cousin has been identified as Mrs. Matina Menitis, 50, of Baltimore. Her missing daughters are JoAnn, 18; Maria, 19; and Georgeen, 13.

The tanker was unloading crude oil at Atlantic Richfield Company's South Philadelphia terminal at the time of the blast. A spokesman for the firm said that 202,700 of the 216,000 barrels of oil had been unloaded.

Reeve has attended law school and has one honorary degree.

He doesn't fly any more. Not since 1952. It was at Attu. He forgot his checklist and left one vital step out of flight preparation.

"I caught it just in time," he remembers, "and decided that I couldn't be both a paper shuffler and a pilot. I had 19 forced landings in nine years. I figured I'd run out of all my own luck, all my friends' luck and 10,000 other people's luck."

Willkie Son Dies
RUSHVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Philip H. Willkie, 54, son of the late Republican presidential candidate, Wendell L. Willkie, died Wednesday. A banker and shuffler and a pilot, he had 19 forced landings in nine years. I figured I'd run out of all my own luck, all my friends' luck and 10,000 other people's luck."
