Prospectors Are Planned In WT Areas

Exploration is slated for three West Texas counties.

Exploration is slated for three West Texas counties. RKG Engineering Co. of Odessa has rescheduled as a 6,000-foot Ellenburger wildcat in southeast Crane County, No. 1-39 Hamon, previously planned Tubb test in the Roberdeau, South field.

Location is 660 feet from north east and 1,787 feet from southeast lines of section 29, block 35, H&TC survey, seven miles west of Odessa.

Sterling Re-Entry

Stoltz, Wagner & Brown of Midland intend to re-enter and plug back from 9,405 feet to wildcat depth of 7,800 feet, at No. 1 Ray, Sterling County failure, seven miles southwest of Sterling City.

Originally drilled by Bright & Schiff of Abilene as No. 1 Williamson, it was plugged and abandoned Aug. 6, 1959.

It spots 660 feet from south and 1,000 feet from east lines of section 2, block 31, T-4-S, T&P survey, abstract 1162, one mile south of the Herrell field.

Andrews Project

Texaco Inc. has refilled application to dually complete No. 230-A-1 J. E. Mabey as a Dean re-opener and Silurian producer in the Lowe field of Andrews County, 22 miles southeast of Andrews townsite.

A former producer in the field, the old total depth is 10,206 feet.

It spots 280 feet from south and 560 feet from west lines of section 41, block 40, T-2-N, GMM&A survey, 1/2 mile north of the depleted original Dean opener.

Confirmer Finaled In Ward Gas Area

The Caprito (Ellenburger) field of Ward County gained its second producer and a 3/4-mile east extension with completion of Union Texas Petroleum Corp. No. 2 West Caprito Unit.

It gauged a calculated, absolute open flow of 8.7 million cubic feet of dry gas per day, through perforations at 17,720-18,275 feet, which had been acidized with 54,750 gallons.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 37, block 17, ULS, five miles northwest of Pyote.

The Caprito opener, Union Texas' No. 1 West Caprito Unit, was completed in March, 1973, for 39 million cubic feet of gas per day, through perforations at 17,795-18,226 feet.

East Basin Areas Get Venture Sites

Wildcats have been scheduled for Irion, Edwards and Stonewall counties.

John L. Cox of Midland plans No. 1 Farmer-Suggs, a 7,500-foot venture in Irion, 13 miles northwest of Mertzon.

Location is 1/2 mile north of the depleted Wolfcamp opener of the O. H. Tringale field.

Drill site is 2,173 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 19, block 6, H&TC survey.

Midwest Oil Corp. of Midland will drill N6 1-A C "O."

Eight Killed In Area Mishaps

American Official Reported Kidnaped In Argentina

CORDOBA, Argentina (AP) — Police said the chief of the United States Information Service in Cordoba was kidnaped today in a violent incident. They identified him as Alfred Laun. There was no immediate confirmation from the U.S. Embassy.

A spokesman for the police precinct in suburban Unquillo, about five miles from here, said about nine unidentified persons, including a woman, kidnaped Laun from his home.

The State Department's Biographic Register lists an Alfred Laun III as 36, and says he is from Wisconsin.

A spokesman for the police

uelson is still held by Argentine guerrillas despite the payment of a record $14.2 million for his release. Samuelson, 36, of Cleveland, Ohio, manager of an Esso refinery north of Buenos Aires, was kidnaped four months ago.

Police said the kidnapers arrived at Laun's home in two cars. They said they entered Laun's residence and immediately subdued him. Laun apparently resisted and according to police was injured.

A police official, without giving further details, said Laun had a "powerful radio transmitter in his residence."

The American Embassy in

Buenos Aires said it only had radio reports about the kidnaping and could not give more details about Laun or his family.

It is known that most American Embassy and consular officials are hooked together by a network of radio transmission facilities precisely for use in case of kidnapings or other serious incidents. The U.S. government has about 200 Americans working in various projects through its embassy in Buenos Aires but there are few located in the interior of the country.

Cordoba, a hotbed of leftist violence since 1969, is about 450 miles northwest of Buenos Aires.

Four Injured In Head-On Collisions

Eight men were killed and four were injured in two head-on collisions in the West Texas area during a period of less than two hours Thursday night.

Four were killed and one seriously injured about 10:30 p.m. on U.S. 385 1/2 miles south of Crane, and four were killed and three hurt on U.S. 285 about 25 miles northwest of Pecos about midnight.

The dead in the Crane accident are Robert Donnell Inmon, 43, of Crane; Willie Lee Branum, 59, an oilfield driller of Odessa, and roughnecks Jesus R. Escarcega, 25, and Manuel Jesse Ramos, 23, both of Odessa.

The oilfield workers' car was driven by Branum. Inmon was alone in his car.

Raymond E. Chesnut, 51, of Odessa also was a passenger in Branum's car. He is in Odessa's Medical Center Hospital's intensive care unit in serious condition. Hospital personnel said he has multiple (See EIGHT Page 10A)

Weed Working On Plan To Fly Captors Out Of U.S.

(Related Story, Page 7A)

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Steven Weed says he is working on a plan to fly the kidnapers of his fiancée, Patricia Hearst, out of the country in exchange for safe release of the newspaper heiress.

But if she isn't heard from soon, Weed says, he will conclude "either she is dead or she will be soon."

In a television interview Thursday with television station KQED, Weed said the "best thing" the Symbionese Liberation Army could do is "demand a plane out of the country, take some money and set up life and communication in some other country."

"I know that it could be arranged, because I've been working on that for several weeks," Weed said. He declined to elaborate.

FBI agent Charles Bates said the Hearst family has discussed such a proposal "quite a bit."

Jim Allison Jr. To Rejoin R-T Staff

The Reporter-Telegram today announced that Jim Allison Jr., former Midland newspaper executive and civic leader, is returning to Midland July 1 to join the executive staff of the newspaper.

Allison, 42, owns stock in The Reporter-Telegram Publishing Co. and served as executive vice president of the newspaper from 1955 until 1964, when he left Midland to pursue a career as an advertising and public relations consultant, specializing in Republican political campaigns.

Allison is the son of James N. Allison Sr., publisher of The Reporter-Telegram, and Mrs. Allison. He moved to Midland in 1940 when he was eight years old and attended Midland public schools. Before leaving Midland in 1964, Allison was president of both the Midland Chamber of Commerce and the Midland Jaycees. He was selected as one of Texas' "Five Outstanding Young Men" of 1961.

Other Assignments

He was chairman of Midland's Industrial Team, trustee of Midland Memorial Hospital, vice chairman of the American Red Cross and vestryman at St. Nicholas' Episcopal Church. He also had served as a director of both the Texas Daily Newspaper Association and the Texas Press Association as well as president of the West Texas Press Association.

Allison formerly was a director of The First National Bank and Citizens Savings and Loan Association.

In 1964, Allison resigned from the newspaper to become assistant state campaign director for senatorial candidate George Bush, another former Midlander. He directed Bush's successful campaign for Congress in 1966 in Houston, then became administrative assistant to the Texas representative in 1967. Later the same year, Allison formed his own campaign consultant firm with Harry Treleven, a former vice president of the J. Walter Thompson Advertising Agency of New York. Allison-Treleven Inc. directed the media program for President Nixon's campaign in 1968 and the entire election campaign for Sen. Edward J. Gurney, R-Fla., the first (See ALLISON Page 10A)

IRREVOCABLE GIFT— GSA Says President Can't Recover Papers

(Related Stories, Page 11A)

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Services Administration said today the pre-presidential papers President Nixon donated to the National Archives are government property and cannot be reclaimed by the President.

A spokesman for GSA, parent agency of the National Archives, said his agency considered the gift legally binding, even though a tax deduction Nixon took for the gift has been disallowed by the Internal Revenue Service.

The GSA spokesman said, however, that Nixon probably would be free to sell or otherwise dispose of other Nixon papers and memorabilia being stored at the National Archives but not included in the deeds donating some of his papers to the government.

The spokesman said Nixon would be free to reclaim those papers barring any other legal impediment.

In a related development, a spokesman for the National Committee to Support the President said today President Nixon has refused the group's offer to buy his vice presidential papers.

"Mr. (George) Bush's office has informed us that President Nixon made an irrevocable gift of the papers to the national archives and he won't back out of it," said Cecil Emerson, a spokesman for the group. The offer was made through Bush, who is GOP National Chairman.

KISSINGER SAYS— No Nuclear Arms Limits This Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said today there "would not be a permanent agreement this year" on nuclear strategic arms limitations with the Soviet Union.

In a brief session with reporters, the secretary said it was uncertain whether the United States and the Soviet Union could achieve a partial agreement in strategic arms limitation talks.

This was the strongest public statement by any administration figure casting doubt on the likelihood of a SALT treaty limiting offensive nuclear weapons systems by the end of 1974.

Repeating Past Position?

The State Department press office subsequently told reporters that Kissinger did not intend to make a new policy statement.

Spokesman George Vest issued a statement saying the secretary was only repeating his past position. However, neither Kissinger nor President Nixon have stated on the record that there would be no comprehensive agreement this year with the Soviets limiting offensive nuclear weapons.

President Nixon last month said he expected to reach a SALT II agreement with Moscow this year.

Breakfast Meeting

Kissinger made his statement following a two-hour breakfast at the State Department with Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmy. According to the Egyptian leader, their discussion centered on the Middle East, particularly the efforts to reach a military disengagement between Syrian and Israeli troops in the Golan Heights area.

The question of SALT is a central issue in later meetings today between Kissinger, President Nixon and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

More Wind, Sand On Easter Menu

A dying cold front triggered fresh rounds of wild thunderstorms during the night and early today in extreme South and parts of Southeast Texas.

Some of the heaviest storms, dumping rains at rates topping two inches per hour, raged from around Laredo toward Del Rio and Alice.

Torrents of rain also fell in Liberty, Jasper and Newton counties, hitting hard around Lake Sam Rayburn and Toledo Bend Lake. These are part of a storm system that loosed flooding deluges across the state line to the east, with up to eight inches at Natchitoches, La.

Clear to partly cloudy weather is expected in the Midland area for the Easter weekend, with strong winds and some blowing sand predicted for Sunday by the National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal.

Temperatures will be warm this afternoon and Saturday, dropping somewhat with the advent of the cool front Saturday night. The high today will be in the lower 80s, while Saturday's high will be in the upper 80s. The high Sunday is expected to be in the high 70s. The low tonight will be in the upper 40s.

Winds will be west to southwest 10 to 20 m.p.h. and gusty this afternoon.

Strong winds kicking up sand in some areas will hit the area Easter Sunday, with winds strongest in the afternoons.

The high Thursday was 74 and the overnight low was 46.

Low clouds with fog and drizzle in places returned over most of the area east of a line from Fort Worth to Laredo. Skies were clear elsewhere across the state, and clouds were expected to disappear in East Texas as remnants of the dissipating front moved on out of state.

Temperatures climbed as high Wednesday afternoon as a warm 96 degrees at McAllen in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. The Associated Press reported.

Absentee Vote Starts On Monday

Absentee voting for the May 4 Democratic and Republican primaries begins Monday in the county clerk's office, second floor of the Permian Building at Texas and Big Spring streets.

County Clerk Rosanelle Cherry will mail ballots Monday to persons who have applied for them.

The absentee voting deadline is three days before the election.

Those who may vote absentee are those who expect to be out of town on election day, those who are ill and would not be able to go to the polls on election day and those whose religion sets Saturday as the Sabbath.

South Viets Flatten Base After Communists Capture It

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops and tanks today overran a ranger base 50 miles north of Saigon that had been under siege for almost 14 months, the Saigon command said.

Government military sources said waves of South Vietnamese bombers retaliated within hours by leveling the base and attacking the Viet Cong headquarters at Loc Ninh, 25 miles farther north.

The Viet Cong said South Vietnamese warplanes also bombed and strafed a hamlet outside Loc Ninh, "inflicting large damage and killing or wounding dozens of persons."

But the Saigon command said it had no report of this.

The Tong Le Chan base was manned by 250 to 300 rangers, military sources reported, and their fate was not known.

A government spokesman said the base was of strategic importance because it was on a Communist infiltration and supply route running south toward from the North Vietnamese 9th Division and north to An Loc, a Division supported by tanks overran a ranger base 50 miles north of Saigon that had been under siege for almost 14 months, the Saigon command said.

HOUSTON (AP) — The Federal Energy Office announced today that the April gasoline allocation for Texas is being increased by 54.3 million gallons.

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon owes $4,173 in back taxes to the State of California for the years 1969 and 1970, the executive officer of the state Franchise Tax Board said today.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., said today Republican leaders warned the White House the first draft of a letter to the House Judiciary Committee this week was "asking for impeachment."

Nixon To Turn Over At Least Some Subpoenaed Material

(Subpoena Text On Page 3A) WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House, facing a House Judiciary Committee subpoena for tapes and documents, says it will turn over at least some of the materials.

Presidential Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler on Thursday said President Nixon would give the committee materials

"consistent with his constitutional responsibilities." Ziegler said the materials, to be turned over within two weeks, would bear out the President's past explanations of his Watergate role and "receive the support of the House."

However, Ziegler declined to say that the response would comply fully with the demand by the House committee.

Ziegler spoke several hours after the subpoena was handed delivered to the White House.

The committee voted 33-3 to subpoena for its impeachment inquiry 42 presidential tapes and related documents the panel believes are tied to the Watergate cover-up.

"The playing of games is some of it after April 22. In a vain effort to head off a subpoena, it promised just before the committee met Thursday to make a partial delivery in a few days.

But after urging support for the offer, which was made by White House lawyer James D. St. Clair in a telephone call, House said it would deliver

Aluminum Penny Idea Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans won't have aluminum pennies in their pockets in the near future after all, and they soon may not have enough copper pennies, either, the U.S. Mint says.

The vending machine industry has killed the aluminum penny idea, and hoarders apparently are buying up the copper coins faster than they can be produced.

The country is seeing the beginning of a shortage of pennies that has already forced some banks in California, particularly in Los Angeles, to begin rationing them to their customers.

The big problem is that the price of copper is approaching the point where the penny will not be worth as much as its copper content.

The price of copper increased to $1.20 per pound this week, the price at which it costs the government more to make a penny than the penny is worth.

However, the Mint now is producing coins from stockpiled copper bought at a cheaper price.

Mint spokesman Roy C. Cahoon said the Mint now is producing 35 million pennies every day, but there is demand for 40 million a day.

The Mint plans to produce between 8 billion and 8.5 billion pennies this year, compared with 7 billion last year.

The Mint had hoped to switch from copper to the much less expensive aluminum, if Congress approved. Production was to start this year, and sample aluminum sets were stamped.

But the vending machine industry lobbied hard against the proposal, asserting that pennies would not reject properly from some machines and would cause the industry — and machine users — major problems.

Police Are Seeking Kidnaping Suspect

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — Sheriff's deputies searched for suspects today in connection with the apparent abduction and robbery of Edna Feaster at a liquor store late Wednesday night.

Officers said a customer noticed the woman clerk was not at the J&B Liquor store at nearby Lake Dallas although her car was in the parking lot and her coat and purse were still in the store.

Investigators said they found no sign of violence in the store although about $200 was missing from the cash register.

Officers said they had no clues.

Dallas-Based Silver Investments Firms Temporarily Closed

DALLAS (AP) — Two Dallas-based firms considered Texas' biggest dealers in silver investment contracts were temporarily shut down today after being declared insolvent during a court of inquiry.

Houston lawyer Percy Foreman represented seven persons connected with the firms, all of whom cited 5th Amendment rights to remain silent.

The court probe is trying to develop information that could lead to criminal indictments in the sale of silver bullion and silver coins.

Foreman claimed most banks could not meet a simultaneous call on deposits but hearing ex-Monetary Systems of Texas Inc. and Precious Metals of the World Inc. closed their doors Thursday in compliance with a temporary restraining order.

The two companies and their presidents, Ronald D. Wright of Secure Monetary Systems and Phillip Fondren of Precious Metals, were temporarily restrained from selling unregistered securities.

Other employees were James G. Manor, Glen O. Kirsch, John W. O'Donnell, John P. Schnick, Harry Thomas, Douglas Lannom and Douglas Robinson.

Accountant J. R. Hurt testified the two firms' combined financial statement showed they were insolvent as of last Oct. 31.

State investigators have asserted the two companies operate separately as a "facade" under the same ownership.

Hurt said the companies couldn't meet "the call of all customers" if they made a run on silver at the same time.

The petition claims investors' monies have been comingled by the firms to make unknown investments, constituting a deceptive act.

The House has voted 281 to 43 to create a commission armed with sweeping authority over the commodities exchange industry, a booming business with an impact on prices of food and other basic products.

The five-member Commodity Futures Trading Commission would watch over exchanges where contracts for the future delivery of products are bought and sold.

Thursday's House vote sends the proposal to the Senate. Widespread support is expected there for the basic idea of the legislation, but moves may be made to strengthen the proposed agency.

The commission would police a $500 billion-a-year business in which contracts are bought and sold at exchanges across the country. More than a year of sharp price fluctuations prompted demands to improve the law involving these markets, which are intended to minimize price risks for farmers and others in the food-marketing chain.

Text Of House Panel Subpoena

WASHINGTON (AP)—Following is the text of the subpoena issued Thursday by the House Judiciary Committee for tapes and other material sought from President Nixon for its impeachment inquiry.

By Authority of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States of America:

To Benjamin Marshall, or his duly authorized representative:

You are hereby commanded to summon Richard M. Nixon, President of the United States of America, or any subordinate officer, official or employee with custody or control of the things described in the attached schedule, to be and appear before the Committee on the Judiciary of the House of Representatives of the United States, of which the Hon. Peter W. Rodino Jr. is chairman, and to bring with him the things specified in the schedule attached hereto and made a part hereof, in their chamber in the city of Washington, on or before April 25, 1974, at the hour of 10:00 A.M. then and there to produce and deliver said things to said committee, or their duly authorized representative, in connection with the committee's investigation authorized and directed by H. Res. 803, adopted February 6, 1974.

Herein fail not, and make return of this summons. Witness my hand and seal of the House of Representatives of the United States, at the city of Washington, this 11th day of April, 1974.

Peter W. Rodino, Jr. Chairman.

2. All conversations between the President and Mr. Kleindienst and the President and Mr. Petersen during the period from April 15 through 18, 1973, inclusive.

Reporters Win Awards For Agnew, '72 Campaign 'Trail Of Cash' Stories

CHICAGO (AP) — Reporters who dug out details of a "trail of cash" that financed national political campaigns and who detailed the background of former Vice President Spiro Agnew's resignation were among the named winners today of Sigma Delta Chi awards for distinguished service in journalism.

James R. Polk of the Washington Star-News was named winner in the general reporting category for stories that "penetrated official secrecy, bureaucratic reluctance and the silence of principals to tell the public that a trail of cash possibly led to the national political campaigns" of 1972.

The professional journalistic society named a five-man team of reporters for the New York Times in the Washington correspondence category.

Their report detailed how Agnew agreed to resign if he was guaranteed no imprisonment after pleading no contest to a charge of income tax evasion and agreeing to allow the government to publish evidence that he had extorted bribes for 10 years. The report was by James M. Naughton, John M. Crewdson, Ben A. Franklin, Christopher Lydon and Agis Salpukas.

BILL FACES TOUGH TIME IN HOUSE—

Senate Approves Sweeping Campaign Reform Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a sweeping campaign reform bill and sent it to the House, where its chances of survival are in doubt.

Senate passage by 53-32 vote Thursday capped nearly three weeks of debate, with the bill's provisions for government financing of campaigns for federal office the chief issue.

Sen. James B. Allen, D-Ala., who led the opposition, predicted the fight against the bill in the Senate would strengthen the resolve of opponents in the House.

Except for its public financing provisions, the measure resembles a campaign reform bill the Senate passed overwhelmingly last July.

But the bill the Senate passed then has been stuck ever since in the House Administration Committee.

The House committee is working on a bill of its own, which is expected to turn out to be far different from the Senate measure.

Another hurdle for the Senate bill is the threat of a presidential veto.

President Nixon has said using tax funds to finance federal election campaigns would be a raid on the Treasury.

"The single most important action to reform campaign financing should be broader public disclosure," he said.

Voting for the Senate bill

Texans Split On Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texans split their vote Thursday as the Senate passed a major campaign reform bill by a vote of 53-32.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen Jr., D-Tex., voted with the majority in approving the measure.

Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., voted against the bill.

were 37 Democrats and 16 Republicans. Voting against it were 23 Republicans and nine Democrats, all southerners except for Adlai E. Stevenson III of Illinois.

The margin by which the bill was passed was far short of the two-thirds majority that would be required to override a veto.

Under the bill, major party candidates for president and for the Senate and the House would be entitled to full public financing of their general election campaigns up to certain spending limits.

The use of tax funds to finance campaigns would be optional with the candidates.

The bill's spending ceilings would limit presidential candidates to expenditures of about $17 million on general election campaigns.

This compares with about $55 million spent on President Nixon's re-election in 1972 and upwards of $25 million spent by his Democratic opponent, Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota.

Campaign contributions, unlimited under present law, could not exceed $3,000 by an individual, or $6,000 by an organization, to any candidate's campaign for federal office.

Northern Louisiana Hit By Flooding In Wake Of Rains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy rain washed the Mississippi Valley and parts of the Plains today, triggering floods in Louisiana and North Dakota.

Hardest hit was northern Louisiana, where highways were closed and some families evacuated at Natchitoches after 8 inches fell during the night. Water also rose into the business district of Columbia.

Flashflood warnings put parts of North Dakota on the alert, after Nebraska was hit Thursday by two tornadoes and a late sampling of snow.

A twister destroyed a barn in the state's northeast section and another damaged out-buildings near Broken Bow, but no injuries were reported.

Elsewhere, showers sprinkled the northern Rockies, and the Great Lakes region to the Middle Atlantic Coast was overcast.

A large area of clear skies, however, spread from California to the Southern Plains.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 23 at Massena, N.Y., and Concord, N.H., to 76 at Miami, Fla., and Brownsville, Tex.

Convicted Alien Smuggler Draws Suspended Term

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — U.S. Magistrate Frank Baskin fined Lazaro Martinez Carrizales $500 and assessed him a six-month jail sentence suspended for two years Thursday for helping illegal aliens enter the United States from Mexico.

Carrizales, 41, a ranch foreman, pleaded guilty. He told Baskin he advised five aliens that he had no work for them but he "knew a man further north who did."

Federal records showed that Carrizales had been supplying Northeast Texas ranchers with aliens for $10 each.

Mrs. Jack Howard Named President Of Alpha Omega Preceptor Chapter

New officers were announced at a meeting Tuesday of Alpha Omega Preceptor Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi.

Mrs. Jack Howard is the 1974-75 president. Mrs. F. C. Stickney, hostess for the meeting, was named vice president; Mrs. Bob Weeter, secretary; Mrs. Rudy Lay, treasurer; Mrs. Bill McCoy and Mrs. Graham Bevel, city council representatives, and Mrs. Ben Crowell, alternate.

The chapter plans to support the sorority's state project of "Retina Research Foundation" at the state BSP convention in June in Austin.

April 24 is the deadline for reservations for the Founder's Day banquet April 27 at Midland Country Club.

A two-part program was given by Mrs. Ernest Nance and Mrs. Stickney. Mrs. Nance gave a resume of a recent land, air and sea trip to the Caribbean Islands. Mrs. Stickney presented a program on "Indian Artifacts" and archeological items she and her family have found. They are members of the Midland Archeological Society and will work this summer with the state highway commission and City of Lubbock on archeological studies in the West Texas area.

College Prexy Relates To Society

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newfeatures Writer

She is not afraid of not having an endowment fund and not afraid of trends in education, but Sister Olive Louise, C.S.J., the pretty, serene president of Avila College in Kansas City, Mo., is afraid that a college will have trouble "if we lose contact with people in their needs."

Needs are experienced by mature members of a community as well as traditional students, she said.

"One concept exploded is that college is for youth. It is for the whole community," she insists. "We must provide education for the times, and we must keep asking ourselves questions so that we can move ahead with surety."

In New York to accept an award "for having turned a small secular school into a fine college with diversified faculty and a student body representing all faiths," she was one of 14 women honored by Germaine Montell in a program that has singled out more than 300 women in the last four years for "volunteerism." Other women were honored for their participation in the fields of health, education, diplomacy, racial and religious understanding and politics.

Brides-Elect Honored At Party

Cindy and Carolyn Carter, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Carter, were honored Tuesday with a bridal shower in the Reddy Room of Texas Electric Service Co.

The hostesses were Mrs. Joe Parsons, Mrs. Henry Pudlo, Mrs. Merrill Martin, Mrs. H. M. Walters and Mrs. B. J. Wittenbach.

The serving table was covered with a white cloth with white net overskirt. The centerpiece was a rainbow of flowers circling yellow tapers.

Cindy Carter is the bride-elect of Matthew Cuny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Cuny of Yellville, Ark. Carolyn Carter is the bride-elect of Danny Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Brown of Midland. A double wedding is planned for May 25 in St. Paul United Methodist Church.

Dear Abby

Sex Is No Way To Keep A Boyfriend

—By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I'm 21, considered attractive with a good personality. My problem is rather embarrassing, but I think there is something wrong with me.

When I meet a guy I like, right away I get sexually involved with him. In fact, going to bed with him is the only thing on my mind.

Naturally, no guy is going to turn anything down, but my sexual involvement never seems to accomplish what I hope it will. The longest a guy has ever gone with me is two months. They all give me a big rush at first and then they quit calling. Is it possible they get tired of sex?

I know I'm too forward, but I just can't help it. I don't think I'm a nymphomaniac because I don't get all that much out of sex. Could I be oversexed?

How can I keep from falling head over heels in love with guys I barely know? I can't seem to help myself. I'm always getting hurt.

Do I have a problem? And how do I solve it?

PUSHOVER

DEAR PUSHOVER: You have a problem, and you can solve it by getting to know yourself and understanding why you behave as you do. You're insecure and searching for a lasting relationship, and you believe that the way to keep a guy coming back is by giving him sex. Wrong! (Obviously.) A good therapist is the answer. Ask your family doctor to recommend one. Or call your Family Service Association.

DEAR ABBY: My mother and I stopped at a gasoline station. She told the attendant she wanted $2 worth of gas and she held up two fingers.

The attendant left, and for some reason another man came out and put the gas in my mother's tank. He said: "That will be $3."

My mother said she asked for only $2 worth so the second man said: "Look, lady, what's another dollar? Besides with this gas shortage, you're lucky."

My mother said all she had as $2, but she lived only a few blocks away (which was true) so she would go home and get another dollar.

My mother didn't have any more money at home so she never went back because what could she have given him?

What should she have done?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: She should have told the man she would bring him the dollar as soon as she had it. And then she should have kept her word.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are both dieting. We were invited to spend the weekend with some close relatives of mine. When I accepted, I expressly asked my aunt to please keep the food simple, and not to bake because we were dieting. She agreed.

When we got there she had pumpkin bread, fudge brownies, cheesecake and all the things

Mrs. McFadden Hostess To Club

Mrs. H. S. McFadden, 104 Ridglea St., was hostess to a meeting Tuesday of the Perennial Garden Club. Hazel Lyles, president, presided.

Members were requested to volunteer for assistance with tea to be held May 19 in Miss Lyles' home.

Maria Spencer announced the Midland Rose Society will have its rose show from 2 to 6 p.m. May 5 in The Midland National Bank. She also discussed a re-temptation because others center flower show school should not have to go without. We say when—houseguests ask the hostess not to serve high calorie foods she should comply.

Luncheon Held By S.C.S. Club

The S.C.S. Club met Tuesday in Ranchland Hill Country Club for a luncheon and bridge games. Mrs. Conrad Reeves, hostess, used an Eastern theme for the table decorations.

Guests attending were Mrs. Ken Russ and Mrs. Paul Shelton of Abilene. Mrs. L. W. Randerson, Mrs. Virgil Feather, Mrs. Robert Drake, Mrs. Max Combs and Mrs. Don St. Clair.

The bridge winners were Mrs. Russ, high; Mrs. Jimmie Smith, second; and Mrs. Randerson, special.

Wilderness Spurs Couple To Write Book On Alaskan Experiences

NEW YORK (AP) — The beauty of the wilderness lies in its unpopulated tranquility, and "There are no jobs, despite the construction of the pipeline," they explained in an interview here. In autumn of 1968 the Wrights began a year-long sabbatical study of the Eskimo and human value choices. The Eskimos of the North are currently caught up in a period of rapid transition, the Wrights say. Until the beginning of the pipeline construction, "ownership didn't exist" in the lives of the Eskimos. "Acre" is a new word in their vocabulary, the Wrights say. Until recently, land was common property of all — men and animals alike, in the eyes of the Eskimos.

Designers Give New Look To Gem

NEW YORK (AP) — Diamonds are getting a different look from young designers who are using them in different ways.

The diamond, long considered the symbol of love and still favored by 75 per cent of new brides, has taken on new meaning as a contemporary fashion accessory. This is mainly due to increased use of small diamonds, which are adaptable to many exciting designs and are more affordable than the larger stones.

Cliff Nicholson, young nature-loving designer who uses petrified beetles, natural corals, shells and slabs of mother-of-pearl as the basis for his sculpture-like necklaces, has just unveiled his first diamond collection.

Nicholson began designing jewelry in 1970, and fashion pun-dits wasted no time in recognizing his unique talent. He won a Coty Award that first year. His first diamond collection features pieces containing single diamonds or just a few stones in shades that pick up the subtle colorings of molded gold or mother-of-pearl that form the base of his designs.

American Women Purchasing Homes

NEW YORK (NEA) — Every woman wants her own home. There's nothing new or unusual about that.

"But today's woman is doing more than merely wanting it. She's getting it," said Jackson W. Goss, president of Investors Mortgage Insurance Company of Boston. "And she is very often getting it all by herself by putting her money where the loan sculpture-like necklaces, has just unveiled his first diamond collection.

IMIC is a leading organization in the private mortgage insurance industry. The company works with lenders such as savings and loan associations, mutual savings banks and commercial banks, by insuring the top 20-25 per cent of high-ratio conventional mortgage loans. "Women have discovered their neighborhood savings and loan associations as the best place to begin," Goss added. "If the estimated ten-million families who want to buy their own home each put a hundred dollars in an account there would be one billion dollars on available mortgage money now."

"DOES MAYONNAISE, SHORTENING, GREASE, AND BABY OIL MOISTURIZE THE SKIN?"

Women who use these so-called lubricants, as substitutes for moisturizers are actually causing the skin to wrinkle. Because they are not water-soluble, these lubricants leave a film on the face. This film acts much the same as a suntan oil which fries the skin when exposed to weather. A good moisturizer is the only product that nourishes your skin.

Come in and consult Frieda Hutto, for the proper moisturizer to use with Peel O Matique. 100 Applications — $20.00.

Stale Food Odors Cling To Napkins

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — It is quite costly to have dinner napkins custommade and I have 18 gold-colored ones that I have used for formal dinners and also when serving baked or barbecued chicken or ribs. They have retained the food odors. I think the material is a blend of polyester and something else as they never need ironing. These napkins were laundered after each use, seem to be soil-resistant and never retain spots. The stale food odor keeps me from using them at all. Any suggestions would be appreciated. — MRS. C.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with newscasters who do not correctly pronounce the names of local places. It seems they could take the time to learn the correct pronunciations. Also, why must they always present the bad side of the news? Often we do not really realize how bad off we are until we read in the papers or hear over the air that things are really tough. — ISABELLE.

DEAR POLLY — I had the same problem Naomi has with a tangled telephone cord. My husband, who works for the telephone company, told me to stand on a chair, hold the phone upside down and let the cord spin back to normal. Do make sure the phone receiver does not touch the floor. — MRS. N. M.

DEAR POLLY — I solved Naomi's problem with a long twisted telephone cord by attaching spring clothespins to the cord about three feet apart. This really worked. — VEDA.

DEAR POLLY — A nice Pointer I would like to pass on to other girls who sew a lot is to save all the trimmed selvages from fabrics, sew them together and use to make beautiful crocheted or braided rugs. Double knits are especially nice for this. — BETTY R.

Four Couples Adopting Leper Colony Children

NEW YORK (AP) — "I've read up on leprosy and it seems to be a similar type of disease to tuberculosis. One of our children had TB to start with but with the medication, everything's all right," says Peter Elliott, a Huntington Station, N.Y., auto salesman.

Elliott and his wife are one of four sets of American parents who will adopt eight children born to patients in the leper colonies of South Korea.

The unprecedented adoption program, called Operation Outreach, flies in the face of the prejudice concerning leprosy which is deep-rooted in Southeast Asia.

Fear of the disease, however, is based in the false belief that it is highly contagious. In fact, leprosy is ranked as the least contagious of the communicable diseases.

The Elliotts already have three adopted Korean children. Both 50 years old and natives of London, the Elliotts were asked whether they anticipated prejudice against the children in American society.

"Oh, I should certainly hope we are a lot more enlightened," said Elliott. "All our neighbors wished us good luck when they heard."

Of the world's 20 million leprosy patients, only about 2,000 live in the United States and none of these cases were contracted here, according to authorities. The disease attacks the skin and nerves, producing red lesions, and, in its extreme stages, deformities.

CRANE HONOR STUDENTS — Donna Sue Hamilton, left, is the valedictorian of the 1974 graduating class at Crane High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Ruidoso Residents Robbed, Kidnaped While In Mexico

BARRA DE NAVIDAD, Mexico (AP) — A Ruidoso, N.M., man and woman were under police protection today after being robbed and kidnaped by a man who threatened to kill them if they told anyone about it.

"He was sick. He said he'd come back and take us out to dinner. He even gave Beth his address," said James Tarwater, 21, formerly of Midland, Tex.

Tarwater said he and Elizabeth Zwick, 24, were in a hotel room here Wednesday when the man barged in Barra de Navidad is about 180 miles southwest of Guadalajara on the Pacific Coast.

The man said he was a Mexican narcotics agent assigned to check hippies, Tarwater said, "so we let him go through our things."

He said the man took most of their money and possessions, and then forced them into a late model compact car with U.S. license plates.

"The man told us he was taking us to headquarters," Tarwater said, "but he turned off on a dirt road and forced me out at gunpoint."

Miss Zwick said the man then drove to Guadalajara, and forced her to accompany him to several parties.

"Beth just went along with him. And he released her, unharmed... the next day," Tarwater said.

Miss Zwick said the man drove her to a Guadalajara bus station Thursday, and threatened to kill her if she notified any authorities.

"We've notified them all," said Tarwater.

"He introduced Beth to a lot of his friends at the parties. He said, 'If you tell them I've kidnaped you... It seemed like he wanted all his friends to think he had a date with a nice girl.'"

"She is okay although she said that the man who kidnaped her hit her a few times in the face and even threatened to kill her if the police found out about the abduction," Tarwater told a reporter.

Mexican authorities said the kidnaper was still at large.

Tarwater said the couple was waiting for money to be sent from the United States to return home.

"We don't have any money, but the hotel is letting us put our room and food on the bill," he said.

Their abductor was described as a Latin who spoke perfect English and called himself Hank.

Tarwater said that before the man barged into the hotel room, he had approached the couple on the beach, offering them a boat ride.

Coin Investments Firm Head Testifies

DALLAS (AP) — The president of a coin investments company closed down for alleged violations of the state's securities laws has testified at a court of inquiry investigating coin trade in Texas.

Ronald D. Winget, president of Secured Monetary Systems, Inc. of Dallas, testified Thursday regarding his firm's "margin contracts" on bags of coins, sales which have reportedly topped $8 million in recent months. His company was closed by the state Monday.

According to documents in 162nd District court, Winget sells bags of coins to investors who pay for them over a specified period of time, then sell them when the gold or silver market climbs.

Winget was accompanied by famed Houston lawyer Percy Foreman.

70-Year Sentences Given To Couple For Baby's Death

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Seventy-year prison sentences were assessed Mr. and Mrs. William Lester Suff Sr. by a jury in Criminal District Judge Byron Matthews' court Thursday for the murder of their two-month-old daughter Dijanet.

The jury of eight women and four men found the couple guilty earlier in the day of beating the child to death.

Dijanet was dead on arrival at a hospital here Sept. 25. The county medical examiner, Dr. Felix Gwozd, said death likely resulted from "multiple blows from a blunt instrument."

Gwozd testified the infant also had 12 broken ribs which she suffered about 10 days prior to death. A cigarette burn was found on the sole of one foot and there were numerous bruises across her head, chest and stomach, Gwozd said.

Suff, 24, and his wife Teryl, 20, both had been held under $100,000 bond after being charged with murder with malice in abusing the infant.

Mrs. Suff testified Tuesday that her son, William Lester Suff Jr., was 21 months old when Dijanet died, might have been responsible for her death because he had been "lovin' and huggin' the baby" with excessive zeal.

Black Fraternal Group Sues Alcoholic Beverage Commission

HOUSTON (AP) — The National Sportsmen's Fraternal Order of Texas Inc., a black organization, has filed suit in federal court against the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission and police alleging a conspiracy to harass the group.

The organization, which says it is the only black-controlled fraternal order in Texas, named police officers in most major Texas cities as defendants in addition to the TABC.

The suit alleged the officers conspired to raid the organization's 94 lodges and to confiscate and destroy property and arrest members for alleged liquor law violations.

The suit claims losses of more than $1 million in equipment from the raids.

Clay Knowles, a Houston director of the TABC, said the lodges raided did not have a state-required license.

Harris County Dist. Atty. Carol Vance, named in the suit, said, "The only comment I have later modified the order to require each lodge to apply its own exemption."

The federal suit claims the defendants ignored the state court order and have continued to raid the group's lodges and arrest members.

Israeli Victims Buried Amidst Angry Demands For Revenge

QIRYAT SHMONAH, Israel (AP) — The 18 Israeli victims of the Arab terrorist massacre at Qiryat Shmonah were buried today in an emotional and unruly funeral interrupted by angry cries for revenge against the Arabs.

Minister of Police Shlomo Hillel warned neighboring Lebanon of possible retaliation if the Arab guerrillas operating in southern Lebanon were not removed.

But the splinter Palestinian guerrilla group which claimed responsibility for Thursday's raid promised "more revolutionary suicide missions" in Israel, and insisted on the right of the guerrillas to cross the Lebanese or any Arab border to strike in Israel. At the same time, it denied the three terrorists who staged the attack infiltrated from Lebanon and said they had been in Israel for some time prior to the attack.

"Thursday's operation was just the beginning of a new campaign of revolutionary violence, revolutionary suicide attacks in Israel ... This campaign is aimed at blocking an Arab-Israeli peace settlement," a spokesman for the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine-General Command told a news conference in Beirut.

The three Arabs slipped quietly into Qiryat Shmonah early Thursday and opened up with automatic weapons and a bazooka at Israeli civilians. Eight children, five women and five men died in the hail of gunfire. The three Arab terrorists also were killed.

An estimated throng of 10,000 mourners flocked to the town time, it denied the three terrorists who staged the attack infiltrated from Lebanon and said they had been in Israel for and say that our hand will reach them wherever they are. We will not lay down our swords until everyone is brought to justice.

"And you, the government of Lebanon, your blood will be on your head if you don't clean out the nest of terrorists on your soil ... Beware, we have warned you."

Hillel was repeatedly drowned out by catcalls from the mourners angry over what they charged was the lack of security and hospital facilities. "Where were the police yesterday?" Many cried. "We want security."

The chief military chaplain, Maj. Gen. Mordechai Piron, was forced to speed up his prayer for the dead as he stood beside the coffins draped in the national colors of blue and white.

"Revenge," chanted the crowd. "We want the death penalty."

Several hundred mourners broke through a security cordon when a policeman guarding the area was overcome by emotion and stood by helplessly, tears streaming down his face.

Rabbi Piron called the Arab attack "insane bestiality" and said that "just as in the Yom Kippur war, the Arab armies could not defeat us ... So we swear these gangs will not frighten us, demoralize us, uproot us or destroy us."

Residents branded the town's open air market operated by Druse Arabs a "terrorist nest" and demanded its removal.

Hillel told them, "That's exactly what the terrorists would like, to keep Jews and Arabs apart."

But he promised to relay the town's complaints to the government at the next meeting of the cabinet.

Israeli newspapers criticized the Israeli government for "faulty" security arrangements that permitted the three Arabs to infiltrate into northern Galilee and stage the attack.

"The latest massacre exceeds in horror even the most despicable murderous operations boasted of to date by the Arab terrorist organizations and calls for unequivocal and effective response," editorialized the daily Davar, organ of Israel's Labor confederation.

Premier Golda Meir warned the Beirut government Thursday that Israel held it responsible for the attack, and said Israel's army is "ready to fulfill its task."

Israel's Instability Endangers Chances For Peace In Mideast

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

In the Middle East, if it's not one thing, it's another.

This time it's not Arab but Israeli instability that endangers the delicate framework of peace negotiations Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger has constructed since October.

After the Arab-Israeli wars of 1948, 1956 and 1967, Arab political instability and divisions presented formidable obstacles to settlement efforts. This time, the resignation of Golda Meir and her cabinet seems to turn the picture upside down, and the Arabs seem more stable than they have been in 30 years.

Egypt's President Anwar Sadat exudes confidence in the wake of Israel's withdrawal from the Suez Canal.

Jordan, Israel's neighbor to the east, seems to have been having some respite from constant turmoil.

The Arab oil nations, raking in more riches than they know what to do with, are displaying a tendency toward the sort of effort that might lead to stability, even if that should require modifying florid vows against Israel.

And Syria, its politics always among the most volatile in the area, also seems more stable. Although the Israelis captured still more Syrian territory in the October war, the Syrians seem to feel they fought well and proved their potential.

If Israel gives up at least a little of the territory it took from Syria in 1967, that can be represented as a Syrian achievement.

All this makes Kissinger's efforts for a Syrian-Israeli disengagement agreement an enormously important phase of the search for a final settlement.

But Israeli uncertainty is a rather long-term prospect that might last through the summer, or until elections straighten things out if, in fact, that can be achieved at all.

Lots of Time

That's a lot of time in terms of the hair-trigger situation.

No Syrian government is ever without a generous share of internal enemies. The current one is no exception, even though it has lasted longer than any of its predecessors. Lacking military disengagement and at least an appearance of Israeli concession on the Golan Heights, President Hafez Assad would be unlikely to welcome a risk of downgrading the military situation.

On the Egyptian side, there is now uncertainty about how far and how soon Israel will proceed with withdrawing from Sinai. This could bring new pressures on Sadat.

Weed: Girl Dead Or Soon Will Be

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patricia Hearst's fiance says she isn't already dead; she's being set up in some cruel way.

Weed, a graduate student in philosophy at the University of California, said Thursday.

"By set up, I mean that if the SLA is not planning to kill her themselves, they're planning to get her into a situation — perhaps with the FBI — perhaps in some confrontation where she very well might be killed."

Miss Hearst, 20, was kidnapped by the terrorist Symbionese Liberation Army on Feb. 4 from the Berkeley apartment she shared with Weed. On April 3 a radio station here received a tape in which Miss Hearst said she had renounced Weed and her family and had chosen to remain with the SLA.

Weed said he believed his fiance probably made the statements on the tape "in return for the promise that this might be the only way of saving her life."

Miss Hearst is the daughter of Randolph A. Hearst, editor and president of the San Francisco Examiner.

Authorities believe the SLA is a heavily armed, multiracial group numbering about 25 persons.

He is Risen

Clouds... and Light... and a bold spire! The symbols of man's wondering—his hope—his aspirations.

On a Friday the One they called Christ was dead. The world rolled on... nothing seemed changed.

Then it was Sunday! Newness everywhere! He is risen! Men believe... gather... rejoice... promise.

He is Risen! Clouds break. Light shines in darkness. Our faith reaches upward... in bold certainty!

CHAPEL OPEN FOR PRAYER

NEW SIGN IN PLACE — A new sign is placed in front of the completely renovated chapel of the First Presbyterian Church, 800 W. Texas St., by Jack Saxon, building superintendent. The interior of the chapel was destroyed by fire more than a year ago. It has been completely redone and new furnishings and a new organ have been installed. The chapel is open to the public for prayer and meditation from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. daily, Monday through Friday, and from 8 a.m. to noon on Saturday.

East Texas Baptist College Beneficiary Of Trust Fund

MARSHALL — A trust valued in excess of $300,000 has been created with East Texas Baptist College as the beneficiary. Dr. Howard C. Bennett, president, has announced. And Dr. H. B. Bruce, president emeritus of the college and a former pastor of Midland's First Baptist Church, figured in the gift. The trust was established and presented to the college by Mr. and Mrs. John Seibold and their

Laymen To Head McCamey Service

MCCAMEY — Laymen of various McCamey churches will be in charge of all phases of the annual sunrise service here Easter morning. The service will begin at 7 a.m. at the site of the cross on King Mountain. J. A. Carroll will deliver a welcome and the call to worship. Johnny Adams will be given by Johnny Adams. A special prayer will be offered by Mrs. Eileen Haywood. James Pirkle, a member of McCamey's First Baptist Church, will deliver the message at the union service. Benediction will be pronounced by Tommy Berry.

Crusade Slated By Church Here

The Rev. Jim Sims of Alabama will be the preacher for a "Fishers of Men" evangelistic crusade scheduled next week at the Church of God of Prophecy, 1201 E. Spruce St. The crusade will begin Sunday and continue through the following Sunday, with services at 7:30 p.m. daily, said the Rev. Rejino, and the promotion committee includes Jack Andrews, John Adams and Bill Tidwell.

Special Easter Sunrise Services Set

Several special Easter sunrise services will be held in the city Sunday morning.

The first service is scheduled for 5 a.m. in the Antioch Baptist Church, 1400 E. Golf Course Road. The service is sponsored by the Interdenominational Ministers' Alliance of Midland, whose president is the Rev. G. T. Curry, pastor of the host church.

The Rev. O. J. Archie, who moved to Midland several months ago to become pastor of the Macedonia Baptist Church, is to be the speaker at the service, assisted by various other members of the ministerial organization and laymen of participating churches. The public is invited to attend.

The second special service is set to begin at 7 a.m. in Resthaven Memorial Park north of the city on the Lamesa Highway. It is sponsored by the Midland Association of Churches.

Special music for the service will be presented by the choir of the Gardens Assembly of God Church here.

Another sunrise service will take place beginning at 7 a.m. on the south lawn of the Grace Lutheran Church, 3000 W. Golf Course Road.

The Rev. Donald V. Hafemann, pastor, will preach on "How About That! Empty!" with text from Luke 24:23. A large "rock" representing the rock at Christ's tomb has been made especially for this service, and the cross to be used in the program has been made from the Christmas tree that stood in the sanctuary of Grace Lutheran Church this past Christmas.

Mrs. W. B. Johnston will be pianist for the service, joined by brass players Kevin Lewis, Roger Barnes and Larry Barthel. The outdoor program, sponsored by youth of the Grace congregation, will be followed by a mini-breakfast to be served by the young people in the church fellowship hall.

The public is invited to attend the special service. In the event of bad weather, the program will take place in the church sanctuary.

Midlander Named Treasurer Of TLC Organization

SEGUIN — Marsha Streit of Midland, a student at Texas Lutheran College, has been elected treasurer of the Campus Congregation at TLC.

The Campus Congregation, formed in 1964, provides for regular on-campus worship through Sunday services, weekday chapel periods and special observances. It also provides community service opportunities on campus.

Steve Schur, TLC student from Fort Worth, is the new president of the Campus Congregation and other officers are from San Antonio and Corpus Christi. Miss Streit is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Streit of Midland.

Communicants Class To Be Honored Sunday

The 1974 communicants class at Trinity Presbyterian Church will be honored at a reception following the Sunday morning worship service of the church.

The young people in the class were received into the full communion of the church at a special Maundy Thursday communion service.

Class members examined and received by the Session of Trinity Presbyterian include William Arnold Fidler, Gayanne Gaines, David Bruce McWilliams, Michael Gene Martin, Julie Kate Ochsner, James Daley Shock, Charles Richard Stump and Patricia Lea Williams.

'Come Together' Will Be Shown

"Come Together," singer Pat Boone's musical film originally created for the Key 73 religious emphasis in 1973, will have two showings in the city this weekend.

The film will be shown at 7 p.m. Saturday in the Permian Basin Youth Center at 711 W. Indiana St. A second screening is scheduled for 6 p.m. Sunday in the Midland Foursquare Church, 415 Alta Ave. Both presentations will be free to the public.

Persons interested in knowing more about the motion picture are invited to telephone 683-1794 or 683-1750, said the Rev. Pete Adcock, pastor of the Midland Foursquare Church.

Speaking In Tongues Religious Expresson

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the seventh in a series of feature stories appearing in The Reporter-Telegram each week through Easter Sunday.)

By DAVID POLING
NEA Religion Editor

Of the eight offices or positions outlined by St. Paul for Christian leadership, the most difficult and divisive belongs to those who speak in tongues. Indeed, after St. Paul includes this category in his leadership list, he devotes almost another chapter describing its problems and drawbacks. Nevertheless, speaking in tongues was part of the religious expression, then and now.

Religious ecstasy certainly was a source of the emotion described in the book of Acts concerning the day of Pentecost. The specific term for speaking in tongues is Glossolalia—a formation of two Greek words to describe the rambling vocal sound that emerge from the believer. Speaking in tongues has been considered a "gift of the Spirit" and historically has appeared in the life style of many religious groups.

In the 18th century, John Wesley discovered rather soon that many people responded to his forceful, direct evangelical message with psychological reactions that bordered on the explosive. Wesley did not promote this violent behavior, yet neither did he put it down. In his "Journal" he offers a thoughtful insight:

"The danger was to regard extraordinary circumstances too much, such as outcries, convulsions, trances, as if these were to the inward work, so that it could not go on without them.

"Perhaps the danger is to retard them too little; to condemn them altogether; to imagine they had nothing of God in them, and were a hindrance to his work. Whereas the truth is: 1. God suddenly and strongly convinced many that they were lost sinners; the natural consequence whereof were sudden outcries, and strong bodily convulsions; 2. To strengthen and encourage them that believed, and to make his work more apparent, he favoured several of them with divine dreams,

Church Sets 'City Fair'

Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church is making plans for a "City Fair" April 20-21.

The fair, which planners hope will become an annual event, will be highlighted by an elementary-age track meet for all boys in the city in grades 4 through 6.

Other features of the event will be an old-fashion wash-pitcher tournament for men and teenage boys, and a variety of games, rides and special entertainment. Food booths will be serving foods and delicacies of various nations, including Mexico.

The two-day fair will be held at the Guadalupe Church grounds in the 1300-block of Garden Lane.

Church To Mark 12th Anniversary

The 12th anniversary homecoming of First Apostolic Church will be an Easter weekend event here.

The church at 710 S. Baird St. will begin its anniversary celebration tonight and continue it through Sunday evening. A highlight will be Saturday's annual "Old Fashion Day," with members and friends of the church dressed in old-time costumes.

The opening service today is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. A series of services will be held Saturday, and Sunday services will begin at 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. All events will be open to the public.

Meacham Field May Be Closed

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — City councilmen are expected to vote unanimously to close Meacham Field to commercial airliners May 1.

A poll of council members Thursday night showed pleadings from Southwest Airlines President M. Lamar Muse will fall on deaf ears Monday when he asks the council to let his company initiate commuter flights from the north side field.

It has been Southwest's refusal to abandon intrastate flights out of Love Field in Dallas that sparked a rash of lawsuits by and against the cities of Dallas and Fort Worth.

Currently, the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals, U.S. district court here, the Civil Aeronautics Board, the Texas Aeronautics Commission and the Dallas council have pending before them matters that could resolve the issue.

State Gospel Singing Convention Set April 20-21 In Stephenville City Park

STEPHENVILLE — The 42nd Annual Texas State Gospel Singing Convention is scheduled Saturday and Sunday, April 20-21, in the Stephenville City Park Auditorium. The two-day event will be highlighted by gospel singing at its best, as performed by amateur singers and quartets from throughout the Southwest, as well as the Southeastern United States.

Attendance at past conventions has ranged as high as 1,500. A comparable crowd is expected here next weekend.

There is no admission charged for the event and it is open to all persons.

Sponsors of the gathering are the Stephenville Chamber of Commerce and the board of the Texas State Gospel Singing Convention, in cooperation with the City of Stephenville. For additional information on the event, persons may contact

Kendrick Easter Pageant Slated

CISCO — The 10th annual Kendrick Easter Pageant will begin at 3:30 a.m. Easter Day at the Kendrick amphitheater, located halfway between Eastland and Cisco on U.S. Highway 90.

The pageant is a non-denominational presentation of the life of Christ from birth until His crucifixion and resurrection.

Admission to the pageant is free. Camping facilities are available in adjacent areas, and there is adequate parking space. The amphitheater area can accommodate attendance by approximately 100,000 persons.

"THE CHURCH THAT CARES"

CREATION OF NATIONAL COUNCIL URGED Energy Regulation Called Unresponsive, Poorly Coordinated

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential study team says that federal energy regulation is unresponsive to change, poorly coordinated and suffers from lack of an over-all national energy policy.

But a super regulatory agency won't solve the problem, and neither will partial consolidation of the existing 40-plus agencies that regulate energy, the team has found.

It recommends instead that a National Energy Council be created to supply over-all policy guidance and that coordination among agencies be increased in such areas as licensing and data collection.

And it warns that unless federal, state and local government can better coordinate the siting of new energy facilities, the federal government may have to pre-empt the right to make such decisions.

The report is being made public today by William O. Doub, an Atomic Energy commissioner and chairman of the study team formed as a result of President Nixon's energy statement of June 29, 1973.

Deficiencies identified by the study team in the organizational structure of federal energy regulation include:

- Lack of a means to guide agencies on over-all energy policy. The study team found, for example, that while Federal Power Commission policies first drove many large consumers of natural gas to use of coal and oil, later decisions by the Environmental Protection Agency then limited the kinds of oil these consumers could burn. But neither agency had an effective means to take account of the other's objectives and policies.
- Unresponsiveness to change. Because agencies regulate on a case-by-case basis, the team found an inflexibility and shortsightedness that makes it slower and more difficult to benefit from new energy technology.
- Poor data coordination. The study group found there is no central data base for energy information, and most agencies rely on the regulated industry for the figures. It believes such a lack of information hampered government reaction to the Arab oil embargo.
- Poor federal - state - local coordination. Each level of government often doesn't take notice of the others' interests, with a resulting piecemeal, parochial and stop-gap approach to energy problems.

The National Energy Council proposed by the study group would develop national energy objectives, review energy regulation of other agencies and propose both new laws and executive actions to meet evolving energy problems.

GUARDED BY ISRAELI POLICE UNITS— Pilgrims Follow Last Walk Of Christ

JERUSALEM (AP) — Christian pilgrims from around the world followed Christ's last walk through the holy city of Jerusalem on Good Friday, guarded by reinforced Israeli police units.

Armed police and border police patrolled the narrow, twisting alleyways and stood guard on the massive Turkish walls as thousands thronged the Via Dolorosa leading to the Church of the Holy Sepulchre.

A police spokesman admitted the Israelis had called in additional security forces following the Arab guerrilla massacre tradition says Jesus was crucified and entombed.

At each station of the cross — which mark significant events that took place during Christ's journey along the Via Dolorosa — black-garbed orthodox women from Greece and Cyprus knelt in tears to kiss the cobblestones as the procession passed.

The orthodox processions were followed by Roman Catholic and Protestant worshippers. Israel's chief Ashkenazic rabbi, Shlomo Goren, meanwhile, criticized Pope Paul VI for requesting "juridical protection" — which mark significant events that took place during Christ's journey along the Via Dolorosa — black-garbed orthodox women from Greece and Cyprus knelt in tears to kiss the cobblestones as the procession passed.

Fourth Candidate Enters French Race

PARIS (AP) — A grim-faced appeal for a broad range of voters could take hundreds of thousands — or even millions — of votes from the three front-running candidates.

Royer was mayor of Tours, its deputy in the National Assembly, a stern moralist and a campaigner against pornography when Premier Pierre Messmer named him minister of commerce in April 1973.

He forced through legislation that reformed the antiquated tax laws and set up new defenses for the small business against big store competition.

Royer became minister of posts and telecommunications when Messmer formed a new cabinet March 1. He resigned Thursday to run for president.

Observers said he could draw votes from all three top candidates: Jacques Chaban-Delmas and Valery Giscard d'Estaing.

Wheat Farmers' Acreage Allotment Decreased Slightly

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wheat farmers will have a slightly smaller acreage allotment upon which to base possible government payments next year, the Agriculture Department has announced.

The 1975 allotment will be 53.5 million acres, compared with 55 million for 1974's wheat crop, assistant secretary Clayton Yentler said Thursday.

The allotment is used for payment computation and in no way restricts wheat production, officials said.

Under 1973 farm law, the allotment is the amount of land the department estimates will be necessary to produce enough grain to meet export and domestic requirements.

Congress last year set up a target price method to guarantee farmers payments if average wheat market prices fall below a certain level during July to November of each marketing year.

The target for the 1975 crop is $2.05 per bushel, the same as for 1974 production.

Mary Jane Sertel, Famous Socialite, Dies In Florida

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Socialite Mary Jane Sertel, who once said she regretted investing so much money in parties and fun, died Thursday.

Earlier this year, Mrs. Sertel founder of the Social Register of Greater Miami, changed her will to establish a $1 million center for pulmonary diseases at the University of Miami School of Medicine.

In an interview in January, Mrs. Sertel said she wished she hadn't invested so much in parties and fun so she would have had more to give to other people.

She founded the Miami Social Register in 1928 and was its publisher for 34 years.

Mrs. Sertel, in her 70s, was the widow of Lino Sertel, an insurance executive who died in 1970.

She had no survivors and no funeral services were planned.

Young Bicyclist Hit By Car, Killed

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Police said a car racing with another vehicle struck and killed bicyclist Keith Williamson, 14, Thursday night.

They reported he was knocked more than 200 feet from the point of impact on an Interstate 10 access road. Two other youths with him on their bicycles escaped injury.

Officers arrested a San Antonio man and charged him with involuntary manslaughter July to November of each marketing year.

The target for the 1975 crop is $2.05 per bushel, the same as for 1974 production.

Accord Reached On Steel Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Steelworkers President I. W. Abel and R. Heath Larry, chief negotiator for the 10 major contract for 350,000 workers to steel companies, bargained day and took it to a committee through the night, breaking of local officials for final approval, informed sources said.

The pact reportedly provides for wage increases totaling $1.60 more than 60 cents an hour over the next three years in addition to a hefty package of fringe benefits.

Black Mayor For Wallace Re-Election

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace, third term in the May 7 Democratic campaign for re-election primary.

But blacks are a visible component in the Wallace re-election effort. Their significance is expressed in the words of Willie D. Dabose, one of about 40 blacks among some 400 whites who gathered at a recent Troy rally, brushed Wallace has drawn to his rallies as the fact that Wallace attempted to keep blacks from registering at the University of Alabama in 1963.

John D. Robinson, 68 and retired, said he supported the governor.

"The biggest majority don't hold no grudges," Robinson said. An elderly friend by his side nodded in agreement. "He helped the poor folks, like myself."

Ford said he believes the governor will get "substantially more" black votes across the state than he has before.

One of Wallace's opponents in the primary, state Sen. Gene McLain of Huntsville, quickly took issue with Ford's assessment.

"The people in this town are not going to vote for Wallace — black or white," he said.

Speaking to a small group of blacks in the town square at Tuskegee, McLain said that "if split, a situation which we elect me, I'll work for all should watch carefully to offset of the people and it'll be the any reckless acts it could displease." Al Ahrum said editorially.

The committee staff's brief said, "Realistically, the President probably cannot be compelled to comply with a subpoena by use of the processes of either the House or the courts."

That realization prompted Rep. Edward Hutchinson, R-Mich., the senior committee Republican, to cast one of the three votes against issuing a subpoena. The others voting no were Reps. Charles Wiggins, R-Calif., and Trent Lott, R-Miss.

In litigation generally, a refusal to produce evidence permits an inference that the material is unfavorable to the cause of the person holding it, the brief said.

In addition, unjustified disobedience of a subpoena can be considered an impeachable offense, it said.

Golda's Quitting Played Up By Cairo Newspapers

CAIRO (AP) — For the second straight day the Cairo press gave front page treatment to the resignation of Israeli Premier Golda Meir, and some papers warned the development may "force Israel to launch a new military adventure."

The semi-official newspaper Al Ahrum said Israel has built its strength on a "myth which was fed by achievements of traditional Israeli leaders... Now the October war hit this myth in the heart."

The case now before the Israeli ruling institutions is "elther find a way of regaining the myth or face an internal split, a situation which we elect me, I'll work for all should watch carefully to offset of the people and it'll be the any reckless acts it could displease." Al Ahrum said editorially.

President Promises Decision Monday On Bid To Buy Papers

DALLAS (AP) — Jim Asaff, chairman and a spokesman for the National Committee to Support the Presidency, said President Nixon's vice presidential papers were used by him for a tax deduction which tax investigators said did not meet legal standards.

Asaff said the papers, if the group is allowed to obtain them, would be housed at Baylor University and would be available for loan to other schools around the country.

Asaff said the money to pay for the paper to the extent of Nixon's tax liability would come from donations. "I'm not a wealthy man. I'm not bankrolling this," he said.

"We are willing to buy his vice presidential papers and if that is not possible, then we've offered to buy his presidential papers," Asaff said.

Asaff said the offer to purchase the papers was tendered through Republican National Chairman George Bush.

Louisiana Speculators Say No Politics Involved

CROWLEY, La. (AP) — Louisiana speculators say they weren't acting on political considerations when they offered to buy President Nixon's controversial vice presidential papers for $1 million.

"It's like buying a piece of land or a barrel of rice," said Gordon Dore, wealthy head of the Crowley rice milling firm.

"I think it would be a dog-goned good investment."

The President gave the papers to the National Archives, and then used them as the basis of his controversial $76,000 income tax deduction.

Questions about politics came up because of scattered efforts, turned back by the White House, to chip in for the President's tax bill since the Internal Revenue Service disallowed Nixon's deduction.

"I wouldn't read politics into it," said Dore.

In Washington, Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., a staunch Nixon supporter, said a 10-man all-Louisiana syndicate backed the offer to buy and "they are playing for keeps."

Passman, who announced the offer on the House floor Wednesday, said he had sent the White House a new telegram emphasizing that the offer of $1 million, plus 10 per cent of publication profits, was real.

"The matter is now much firmer," the telegram said.

"Honorable Gordon E. Dore of Crowley, member of the Louisiana State University board of directors (sic), is one of the prime movers in the effort to obtain your vice presidential papers."

"They are desirous of meeting with your representative at an early date to discuss the matter. The papers will be used for publication, as a book and finally be turned over to the LSU Richard M. Nixon library addition."

Rep. Passman said he would not name syndicate members other than Dore and former Louisiana Gov. James Noe of Monroe.

El Paso Mayor, Alderman Face Trial

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — El Paso County Judge Jack Ferguson says he will set a trial date next week for El Paso Mayor Fred Hervey and alderman Ruben Schaeffer, who are accused of violating the Texas open meetings law.

It is believed to be the first test of the Texas law.

Ferguson overruled Thursday two defense motions for dismissal of the complaint. It is the second brought against Hervey and Schaeffer by former El Paso broadcast newsman Richard Wheatley. The first was dismissed by County Court Judge Robert Galvan.

Wheatley's original complaint accused Hervey and Schaeffer of conspiring to bar newsmen from a meeting with U.S. transportation official Ed Foreman.

Galvan said the complaint failed to allege intent by the two city officials to circumvent the law, but the case could be retried since no plea had been entered by the two.

County Atty. George Rodriguez told the court Thursday that he had revived it because "Mr. Wheatley asked me to refile the complaint."

Ferguson also overruled a motion by defense lawyer John Ross contending that the open meetings statute is unconstitutional because it allegedly denies the right of free speech and free assembly to the mayor and aldermen.

The Texas open meetings law states that officials shall not deliberately meet in numbers less than a quorum to bar newsmen.

Calley To Receive No Pay From Army While Out On Bail

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Lt. William L. Calley Jr., convicted of killing at least 22 Vietnamese civilians in the village of My Lai, won't receive a paycheck from the Army while he is free on bail.

Calley is awaiting a federal judge's decision on his appeal.

Actually, the Army stopped paying Calley in August 1971 when his life sentence was reduced to 20 years. But it continued to pay his rent and utility bills until Feb. 27 when he was freed on bond by U.S. District Court Judge J. Robert Elliott.

Calley's attorneys sought clarification of the payment. They received a memo Thursday which said there was no Army law or regulation requiring payment while Calley is free on bail.

The "Duke" called his accuser by name and made it real clear what he thought of him, while also stating his own position in the matter.

The Duke, of course, is actor John Wayne. His accuser is Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn., a member of the Senate Watergate Committee.

The senator said last weekend that President Nixon, soon after assuming the presidency, had set up inside the Internal Revenue Service a secret task force to compile intelligence reports on his political enemies.

He went on to say that he had documents to confirm that the White House also used IRS tax data "to protect friends of the White House, such as evangelist Billy Graham and actor John Wayne."

Dr. Graham may or may not make a public statement, but John Wayne was quick to declare in no uncertain terms that he had never asked for or received favors from IRS.

He told reporters, "I'm sending a telegram to that s.o.b. I just thought you'd like to hear what it's going to say."

"Sen. Weicker, for your information I have never asked for, nor have I received, IRS favors, nor have I needed them. What I need is protection from cheap politicians like you."

Would that more citizens of the land would respond in like manner to those persons who make irresponsible charges against responsible persons in order to gain the national limelight.

John Wayne didn't need to contact a lawyer or anyone else in this particular regard. He stated his position quickly in words loud and clear.

Character assassination is all too prevalent in Washington and elsewhere across the land. It is easy to accuse, and the accusation most often is damaging to the person involved whether or not he is guilty.

This is hazardous, unfair and unjust action, something to which citizens should give thought.

The senator from Connecticut couldn't have chosen to accuse two more popular and more highly respected persons than Billy Graham and John Wayne.

But Wayne tossed the ball right back to his accuser, challenging him to prove his charge.

It now is Senator Weicker's move. If he can prove his charge, he certainly should do so. If he can't, a public apology and a complete retraction are in order.

Columnist Jack Anderson also had better have his facts and figures right on John Connally, who is a battler in his own right.

The Easter Egg Hunt

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: Kissinger fears Assad might 'jump the tracks.'

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Henry Kissinger believes he can negotiate an agreement to separate Israeli and Syrian forces on the turbulent Golan Heights.

Kissinger's success in arranging a disengagement may determine whether American motorists will have to start lining up again for gas.

Kissinger's success in arranging a disengagement may determine whether American motorists will have to start lining up again for gas.

Kissinger laid the groundwork in Moscow for a settlement with the Soviets. Intelligence reports claim they tried to disrupt the negotiations by encouraging the Syrians to make impossible demands and to open fire on the Golan front.

The Soviets reportedly feared Kissinger was trying to squeeze them out of a Middle East settlement. They are particularly eager, according to intelligence assessments, to retain their influence with Syria and Iraq.

During his Kremlin call, Kissinger sought to reassure the Soviets that they will have a voice in any final Middle East peace. He is expected to stop off in Geneva to consult with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko before beginning the next round of talks with the Syrians and Israelis.

Sources close to Kissinger tell us he has cautioned the President that the psychology of the negotiating process sometimes seems to take precedent over the merits of the arguments.

He has reported that President Assad is highly intelligent, with a sharp sense of humor, but unpredictable. The Syrian leader is caught between factions, some of them extremist, according to Kissinger.

He is carefully informing the Egyptians, meanwhile, of every move he is making. He wants them to understand that he has done his best in the Syrian negotiations break down. His strategy is to keep the peace on the Israeli-Egyptian front no matter what happens with Syria.

CHANGING TIMES: A confidential campaign document, which has been buried in President Nixon's files for more than two years, dramatizes how fortunes have changed.

Today, the President is pleading privately for invitations to campaign for Republican candidates, as evidence that he isn't political poison. But the memo shows that only two years ago he selected what Republicans he would favor with the haughtiness of a dowager queen choosing a ceremonial robe.

In the memo, campaign deputy director Jeb Magruder relayed a message from White House staff chief H. R. Haldeman to Attorney General John Mitchell.

"Haldeman indicated," wrote Magruder, "that the President will not do TV clips for senators and House candidates, but will do simple written endorsements for these candidates."

As for hopeful GOP newcomers, the President took an even more high-and-mighty is a serious possibility that the case will be lost.

The Admiral worked it out quickly. A submarine attack was in order and he promptly led a low spade and ducked in dummy.

West won and led a spade back. East had already discarded twice on spades and once on clubs. A fourth discard would give the Admiral three diamond tricks or four heart tricks and East had to surrender to overwhelming naval forces.

There was no reason not to reconnoiter with the club suit so the Admiral ran off the four club tricks while discarding one of dummy's diamonds. West followed to three clubs. The in-

RAY CROMLEY Congressmen Reportedly Ask: Is It Worth It?

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Some recent but as yet uncompleted studies on the state of Congress have come up with some disturbing findings.

As one indicator, it seems most lobbyists these days don't bother much with most congressmen, because they don't think their votes are worth cultivating. They believe that 70 to 90 per cent of the legislators on Capitol Hill have so little influence on legislation it is not profitable to buy them lunches, offer free transportation on company planes, curate a automobile leases or otherwise attempt to legally or illegally influence what they do.

This feeling of unimportance is felt by a growing number of representatives and senators themselves.

Congressmen who now say they will not run for re-election has grown to an unprecedented number.

Some members of the "I won't run again" group have most assuredly been influenced by the conviction that Watergate has measurably decreased their likelihood of re-election. But when congressmen talk privately, the investigators find a considerable number of those quitting — and some who are staying — are simply fed up.

One long-time legislator who has decided not to run again, told one student of Congress that he was in no danger of losing this fall. Anyone his party nominated to succeed him, he said, would have a certain victory. But the game simply wasn't worth the candle anymore.

Attorney General William Saxbe, then in the middle of his first Senate term, expressed the thoughts of many when he said publicly that the role wasn't what he'd expected, that it didn't give him the satisfaction of achievement he desired and therefore he did not intend to run again.

Legislation is influenced, not so much by the floor vote, but by what happens in the wheeling and dealing that goes on in the back room. That, primarily, is handled by the top leadership and by the committee chairmen — and to a lesser extent by the chairmen of subcommittees.

In some cases, the senior minority member of a committee will be in on crucial decisions; other cases his influence is slight.

In these congressional studies, members regularly report a man must be on the scene for 10 to 15 years, or even 20, to have a real voice in what goes on and then sometimes only if he manages to get on one of the crucial committees.

But these aren't the only problems. So much time must be spent on serving the personal needs of constituents that more and more legislators are becoming convinced they have no time to study, understand and vote on important legislation.

In any event, a good many congressmen this reporter has talked with in recent years feel they are unable to vote intelligently on much of the legislation before them. An administration introduces bills involving billions of dollars and complicated questions of foreign, economic and governmental policy. A myriad other bills are put into the hopper. Now most of these never see the floor, but no senator or representative has the staff to adequately research the bills that must be considered. The Library of Congress has an excellent research staff, but it is dreadfully small. So is the staff of the General Accounting Office upon which congressmen can call.

As a result of these difficulties, numbers of men on the Hill feel like blind men in a china shop. They are not certain whether they are doing more harm than good. Representatives don't have much time to think about the problem because there's an election coming up every other year and their constituents are clamoring for personal service. Senators

"I know very few boys — including my own son — who would object to being beaten out by a better girl. Besides, I have more daughters than sons.

— Gov. Brendan Byrne of New Jersey, upholding the right of girls to play in Little League baseball.

"Only the holder of the office can weaken the presidency. He speaks, and the people do not believe him."

— Senate Democratic leader Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, to President Nixon's charge that the Watergate investigation is weakening the presidency.

Today's Question: You bid four hearts and your partner bids five diamonds. What do you do now?

Answer Tomorrow

Dear Editor: I note that us ignorant consumers are being protected by 413 federal agencies running 998 consumer protection activities.

And now Congress is fixing to set up a new agency to protect us consumers from all of these other consumer protectors.

Which proves the lawmakers must think all of us consumers are incredibly stupid, and they may be right. After all, it makes us people class look sort of like idiots when it is noted what we send to Congress.

D. E. SCOTT Crossroads, U.S.A.

DON OAKLEY High Cost Of Spending Reflected In Surveys

NEW YORK (NEA) — survey also found that consumers placed the blame for higher prices more heavily on the government than they did in a similar survey a year ago.

This year, 34 per cent named the government as the chief culprit in inflation, compared with 16 per cent last year.

Next in order were labor unions at 19 per cent, down from 30 per cent last year, and food manufacturers at 18 per cent, down from 29 per cent. The remainder, 29 per cent, divided the blame among wholesalers, transportation, farmers, cattlemen, large food chains and supermarket operators, in about the same proportions as last year.

In general, the survey bears out other signs that Americans are trading down to less expensive products or are doing without.

Further evidence of this is the fact that while the food-at-home portion of the Consumer Price Index went up 16.3 per cent in 1973, grocery store sales went up only 11.2 per cent. People just didn't buy the theoretical "market basket" on which the Consumer Price Index is based.

For the first time since the Depression years of the 1930s, the average standard of living of Americans seems to be falling. Things are far removed from those dark days, however. Then, many people had little or no money at all. Now, most of us have plenty of money — it just evaporates faster and faster.

The survey found that because of the energy crisis: 47 per cent of the consumers surveyed use a single shopping center. 47 per cent buy more per trip. 38 per cent avoid shopping Saturday afternoons. 37 per cent make only one shopping trip per week. 34 per cent do less drive-in eating.

The net impact of the fuel crisis was a reduction in weekly trips to the food store from 2.28 trips per week in 1974, a one of the crucial committees. 25 per cent reduction for the average household.

One thing this means to store operators is the transactions are now larger, but the effect of gaining or losing a customer is correspondingly greater.

Gasoline shortages have caused some motorists to carry cans of gasoline in their cars, creating a great danger to themselves and others. Safety officials report that an exploding can of gasoline is equal to several sticks of exploding dynamite. The World Almanac says. Some turnpikes and parkways have announced that anyone found carrying extra gas would be forbidden to use the road and subject to a fine.

Today's problems aren't likely to be as bad as the bunch you can imagine for tomorrow.

Harris To Get More Gas If Shortage Too Severe

HOUSTON (AP) — Harris County officials have received a promise from the governor for more gasoline if the shortage becomes too severe, but a regional Federal Energy Office official says his office has no authority to reallocate gasoline to this area.

D. M. Fowler of Dallas, an FEO regional administrator for a five-state area, met Thursday with Harris County Atty. Joe Resweber and Asst. County Atty. Anthony Sheppard.

The county officials earlier appealed to the FEO in Washington for higher gasoline allocations contending the current regulations penalize high growth areas such as Harris County.

Resweber and Sheppard asked Fowler to set up a crash program for the county but Fowler and his office has no authority to reallocate supplies within a region or a state.

Fowler said he doubted the gasoline situation in Houston and Harris County was any worse than in Dallas or other sections of the state.

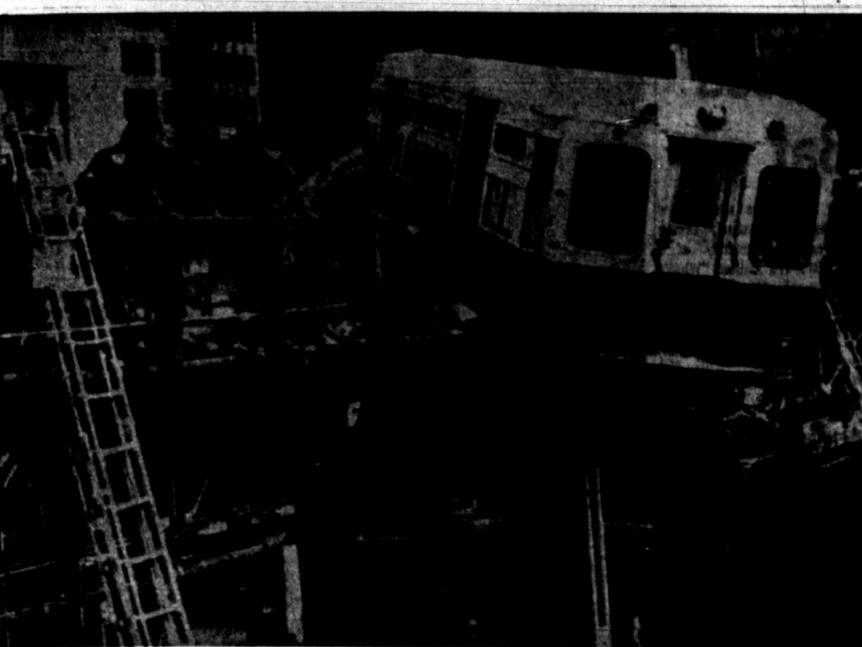

Gov. Dolph Briscoe, also holding a news conference here, said he would allocate more gasoline to Houston late this month if shortages become too severe.

The state's three per cent emergency allocation is under Briscoe's control. Briscoe said he used the allocation in February to ease shortages in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

County officials also asked Fowler to establish a sub-regional allocation office here.

"I haven't had much time to look into the request but I fear the difficulty would be that every city in the country would want such an office should Houston get one," Fowler said.

Fowler said there was little his office could do but he would relay suggestions made by county officials to the Washington office.

Jaworski Given Okay To Probe Tax Matters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The special Watergate prosecutor has been authorized to proceed with tax investigations involving more than a dozen persons, Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe says.

But presidential tax lawyer Frank DeMarco, the only person identified by Saxbe, said he has not been contacted by anyone from the prosecutor's office or the Justice Department.

Saxbe told reporters Thursday that Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski inquired about a week ago as to whether his jurisdiction covered tax matters and DeMarco, who prepared President Nixon's tax returns for 1969 through 1972.

The Internal Revenue Service and a joint congressional committee reported last week that Nixon owed more than $400,000 in back taxes for those years.

Saxbe said he told Jaworski that the charter spelling out the prosecutor's responsibilities was broad enough to cover the issue.

Asked by a reporter whether Jaworski might also have authority to investigate Nixon's tax returns, Saxbe replied, "I think that's basically what he asked, isn't it? Why else did he write me a letter?"

The attorney general also said that Jaworski has asked him several times to request tax-return and other information on several Watergate figures from the IRS.

"I authorized Mr. Jaworski and requested on Mr. Jaworski's behalf information on a dozen or 15 who I have not named," Saxbe said, adding that the information went directly from the IRS to Jaworski rather than through the Justice Department.

Saxbe said he did not know whether DeMarco was "one whose tax return has been requested and received."

In a telephone interview in San Francisco, DeMarco said "I haven't been contacted by the attorney general or the special prosecutor or anybody other than the IRS, with whom I have been communicating all along."

Television Viewer Missed Historic Swing Of Bat

By JAY SHARBUTT
 NEW YORK (AP) — Young and old baseball fans probably still are boasting they saw Hank Aaron make baseball history on tv. NBC estimates 35 million of them watched one of the greatest moments in sports live.

But at least one viewer, a professional viewer by trade, can't honestly tell his grandchildren someday he saw Babe Ruth's record broken the moment it happened right there on national television.

The viewer's set was on, but he was off. Lulled by a hearty dinner and the pre-game hoopla, he was deep in slumber by the third inning on the fateful night of April 8, 1974.

While he snored, a nation united in excitement and suspense was glued to tv screens from Flatbush to Beverly Hills. Commercials costing $40,000 a minute flashed on and off and still he snored.

When Aaron stepped up in the fourth inning and belted his 715th homer into history, the viewer was still snoring. Not even the roar from the tv set or the tavern down the street prevailed.

When the viewer finally was abruptly awakened by a nightmare about a tax audit, he saw empty stands at the Atlanta stadium on NBC. Was it rained out? he asked his wife.

No, she said as gently as possible.

So many years from now, when the viewer's grandchildren say, "Grandpa, did you see the home run," he'll also try to answer as gently as possible.

"I saw four reruns of it on the 11 o'clock news," I'll tell them. Then I'll say, "Now let grandpa go back to sleep."

Those who care more for the silver screen than baseball will be happy to know the A. C. Nielsen ratings say last week's Academy Awards show on NBC was a far bigger tv draw than history at bat.

The Oscar ceremonies were seen in an estimated 24.3 million homes, compared to the 17.3 million homes the ratings people estimate were tuned to NBC when Aaron broke Ruth's record.

Longhair Look Becoming More Commonplace At Lackland Air Force Base

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Longhairs in green fatigues are not exactly taking over Lackland Air Force Base here but the look is becoming more prevalent.

Advocates of the whitewall haircut cannot do anything except grin and bear the latest style, say Air Force officials.

The Air Force says it is now commonplace to see airmen here with their shoulder-length hair hanging from beneath steel helmets and flipping hair from their eyes as they sight down the barrel of an M16 rifle.

There's at least one other difference between the longhairs and the whitewalls besides their hair length.

The longhairs are women.

Women in green fatigues who are all volunteers for law enforcement or marksmanship instructor duties are appearing at Lackland in increasing numbers, says the Air Force. They are being trained at the School of Applied Aerospace Sciences for new jobs.

Air Force regulations now permit women to wear the same heavy-duty green fatigues which are issued to their male counterparts when officials determine the normal female dress of blue blouse and trousers is not practical or rugged enough for certain jobs.

There's one other advantage. A cotton twill green uniform and baseball-type cap, trousers and long-sleeved shirt is issued for $7.49, compared to $14.31 for the polyester blouse and pants women normally wear.

CBS' fine news special for kids has a particularly timely study coming Saturday at 1 p.m. EST. It's called "What's Impeachment All About" and it's a good effort, considering its intended audience.

It aims at defining both the process of impeachment and the complicated issues in the possible impeachment of President Nixon.

Some parents may object to one very brief excerpt in which an auto worker says, "Our President is a damn crook and we all know it." But that's immediately followed by the President's own rebuttal.

It's strong material, but worth viewing, even by grown-ups who feel they've already been told more about impeachment than they care to know.

High Prices Endanger Easter Egg Fight

PETERS HOLLOW, Tenn. (AP) — The high cost of eggs is threatening the annual Peters Hollow Easter Egg Fight.

Instead of the 12 dozen eggs allowed each contestant in the past, egg fighters will be allowed only eight dozen this Sunday.

As they have for many years, the egg fighters will gather at the home of Ray Lowe Jr. on Stoney Creek and battle it out until only one egg is left uncracked.

Former Tax Official Feeding Tax Data To White House Identified

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate committee has obtained the name of the former federal tax official alleged to have furnished the White House with tax data on its friends and enemies. John Caulfield, President Nixon's former law enforcement adviser, named Vernon

D. "Mike" Acree, now the U.S. Commissioner of Customs, as his primary IRS contact. In two interviews, Acree vigorously denied the allegation, saying he had done nothing "venal or illegal," that he could not be considered Caulfield's prime contact and that the information supplied was similar to that given other administrations over the last 20 years. He described some of Caulfield's testimony as grossly distorted. In executive-session testimony taken March 23, Caulfield said he was referring to Acree, until recently the assistant IRS commissioner for inspections, when he spoke of "our capability at IRS." "By that I mean the capability of conferring with Mr. Acree with a view towards seeing whether or not an IRS audit might be accomplished in a legal method without violating the law," the transcript said.

Acree said he did have what he described as a casual, business relationship with Caulfield during a seven-month period of 1971 and had been aware of White House interest in the tax problems of movie star John Wayne. And he said it would not be possible to initiate an audit for the White House because normal IRS procedure could not be bypassed. Excerpts from the transcript of Caulfield's testimony were provided by a source close to the Watergate committee, who said the allegations are under investigation by Special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski.

Caulfield was questioned about Nixon administration documents made public Monday by Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn., which indicated great White House interest in the tax problems of Wayne and evangelist Billy Graham as well as newsmen and critics of Nixon policies.

Search Resumed For Missing Plane

HONOLULU (AP) — The search resumed today for a sightseeing plane which disappeared with 11 persons aboard during an inter-island flight. The pilot, in his last radio contact, said he was taking the plane to the Kilauea Volcano area, the Federal Aviation Authority said. The plane, a twin-engine Beechcraft 18 chartered by Panorama Air Tour Co. of Honolulu, left the Kona Airport on the big island of Hawaii for a tour of Hawaii and the island of Maui. It was one of eight planes making the trip at the same time.

The seven other planes arrived at Kahului Airport on Maui as scheduled. The FAA said pilot Vincent E. Morine of Honolulu contacted the company dispatcher 15 minutes after take-off from

Flood Warning System Installed

HOUSTON (AP) — A monitoring system to warn residents along Sims Bayou here of possible flooding is being installed. The system will include floating gauges to measure rainfall and rising waters. They will be connected to instruments to send rainfall data through a telephone line to the county flood control office.

Personnel there can then determine when the bayou might overflow and warn residents of any danger. The $27,111 monitoring system will be financed by $22,111 in federal revenue sharing funds and $5,000 in equipment from the U.S. Geological Survey.

'Self Styled Indians' On Warpath

By LEE JONES
AUSTIN (AP) — Bill Newcomb says he doesn't mind playing the heavy to a group of "self-styled Indians" who want a skeleton removed from the University of Texas Memorial Museum, which he directs.

American Indians Now Texans (AINT) is planning a pressure campaign to remove the Yellowhouse Canyon skeleton from display. The skeleton is of an Indian found in a cave burial site.

"It is in bad taste and objectionable. The grave is less than 100 years old and of very little value except as a novelty for children," said Burke Armstrong, an AINT member. Armstrong said Indian organizations in other states "received satisfaction on demands made to museums that they respect our dead, and our requests are modest in comparison." Newcomb said he offered to work with AINT to set up an exhibit presenting problems of American Indians. "We would move the skeleton to make room for the exhibit," said Newcomb, an anthropologist who has written the authoritative work on Texas Indians. But that was two weeks ago,

Newcomb said, and AINT has not replied. Newcomb said AINT did not protest a group burial exhibit displaying several Indian skeletons. He also disagreed with their contention that the Yellowhouse Canyon skeleton is less than a century old, saying a revolver found with the bones was made in the 1850s or 1860s. He also said the exhibit was more important than merely as a novelty for children. "This Yellowhouse Canyon skeleton was an actual case of what bones can tell you. If we hadn't gotten it, it would have eroded out of the canyon wall and the bones would have been scattered over 15 or 20 miles. Also, it does show a rather interesting way that the southern plains Indians had of disposing of their dead. It does have an educational impact," Newcomb said. "I don't mind being cast as a villain by self-styled Indians. People will protest virtually everything we put in the museum if we let them," he added. Self-styled Indians? "I don't think a lot of them (AINT members) are socially or biologically Indian," he said.

Prosecutors To Appeal Ruling By Judge In Jack Favor's Trial

BENTON, La. (AP) — Prosecutors say they will appeal a ruling by Dist. Court Judge C. J. Bolin that evidence relating to the freeing of Floyd Cumbey shall be accepted in the new trial of former Texas rodeo star Jack Favor.

The prosecution said Thursday it will take the appeal to the Louisiana Supreme Court, but Bolin refused to stay his ruling to permit an appeal. Bolin appeared unmoved by prosecution arguments that Favor was on trial, not Bossier Parish officials.

Favor was convicted in 1967 of murdering Mr. and Mrs. W. Threatened With Extinction The chonta, a South American hardwood palm, is threatened with extinction. Wild chonta palms are now protected by law. The wood of these palms is strikingly beautiful with a striped grain of black and white.

R. Richey at their bait stand in Houghton, La., just days short of a decade ago. The former Texas rodeo star was granted a new trial, however, after he charged there had been collusion between Bossier Parish officials and Cumbey, who became a star state witness against him.

Cumbey, who was convicted of manslaughter in the Richey murders, was mysteriously freed across the state line into Texas. Later, he was convicted of killing two girls in Oklahoma City, and sentenced to life in the Oklahoma Prison. In a surprise move Thursday, federal marshals escorted Jack McBride into the courtroom. McBride is alleged to have plotted the Richey robbery, and prosecutors have said McBride met with Cumbey, Favor and Donald Gates in Oklahoma to give them maps and directions for robbing the bait stand.

McBride, currently serving a federal prison term for bank robbery, has not testified before in the complex litigation surrounding the Favor case. Prosecutor Thomas Graves of the state attorney general's office had promised the jury he would prove Favor was acquainted with Cumbey a month before the murders on April 17, 1964.

Favor's lawyer, J. B. Wells, said he would focus on Cumbey's credibility as a key state witness. During a hearing on Favor's motion for a new trial, Cumbey testified that Dist. Court Judge Louis Padgett Jr. promised him freedom for testifying against Favor in the murder trial. Padgett, who at the time was the district attorney prosecuting Favor, has denied promising Cumbey anything.

Two Charged With Theft

Two men were charged with felony theft this morning in connection with the theft of more than $500 worth of lumber from a construction site at H and Seaboard streets.

They are Richard Alan Goodson, 24, of 2615 Mariana St. and Gary Lee Tucker, 21, of 3710 Gaston St. Justice of the Peace Robert Pine set $3,000 bond for each of the men. A citizen called police about 1 a.m., saying that there were two men loading lumber into a pickup truck.

When police arrived, they found Goodson and Tucker at the scene and arrested them, they said. About 95 boards were found in the back of the truck and the remainder was located in the back yard of Goodson's home. Patrolman J. D. Stuard reported.

Two Drill Bits Reported Stolen

Two drill bits valued at $250 have been reported stolen from Jack Walton Trucking Co., 5613 Industrial St., the sheriff's department said.

The burglary and theft occurred late Thursday or this morning and was reported shortly before 8 a.m. Deputies Duane Peters and Mickey Clark are investigating the incident.

Cities Named That May Exceed Clean Air Standards In Next 10 Years

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — The Texas Air Control Board, in meetings at Dallas, El Paso and Beaumont Thursday, has named some cities which it has determined are in danger of exceeding federal air pollution standards in the next 10 years. All states have been ordered by the federal Environmental Protection Agency to designate areas which have the potential for exceeding national air standards within the decade.

The TACB, which held hearings around the state for two days, said it will draw up its final list of areas which may exceed the national guidelines. So far the TACB said it has found no Texas cities that would exceed federal standards for nitrogen dioxide, carbon monoxide or photochemical oxidants.

But the state report said Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Dallas, Fort Worth, Galveston and Houston have been designated areas where particulate (tiny bits of dust, metal and soot) matter may exceed EPA guidelines over the next 10 years. The TACB noted that Brownsville, El Paso, Laredo, Lubbock, Odessa and San Antonio were not included in the list of cities likely to exceed particulate limits.

The El Paso meeting lasted only about 15 minutes, but the Dallas and Beaumont hearings were more heated. Several witnesses in Dallas criticized the TACB data being used to determine which areas of the state exceed federal standards as being insufficient.

Nancy Johnson, president of the Air Quality Council of North Central Texas, said, "No positive action has been taken at the state level to promote mass transit. We must have a program to cut automobile miles by 15 per cent and we must press for legislation for mass transit funds."

She said the entire North Central Texas region will exceed federal standards by 1985 unless "strong control measures are taken."

Meg Titus, director of the Air-Water Quality Board for the League of Women Voters of Texas, said insufficient material about the TACB's plans on designating which cities are potential violators makes it difficult to "pinpoint and analyze specific problems that warrant close scrutiny."

Tom Buckle, a TACB lawyer, said in Beaumont that pollution potential from Gulf Coast industries will have to be dealt with in the future either by limiting growth or reducing existing facilities. He said the first alternative is the probable tack of the TACB.

He said the state agency at one time considered limiting future growth along the Houston Ship Channel, due to a large increase in permit requests, but later decided against the move.

"We are trying to achieve results without halting industrial growth," Buckle said. "Controlled growth could be a cheaper way to meet national ambient air standards than to reduce existing plants."

Brazilian Students Challenge President's Power

By WILLIAM R. LONG — SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — University students are challenging the power of President Ernesto Geisel, the new leader of Brazil's authoritarian regime, in a campaign against political arrests.

The protest movement is a major defiance of the political blackout imposed on Brazilian universities in the late 1960s when the military regime pursued its get campus political circles and ordered strict measures against antigovernment activities by students.

Last Friday an estimated 1,500 persons met on the campus of the University of Sao Paulo. The meeting set up a "Committee for the Defense of Political Prisoners in Brazil."

More such meetings were held this week, and subcommittees are seeking support and distributing leaflets accusing the government of repression.

One leaflet lists 53 persons it said political police have arrested in recent weeks. They include students, professors, economists, Roman Catholic labor leaders and social workers.

A Sao Paulo police spokesman said such arrests are "reserved" matters about which the government does not comment.

Political arrests, often made without charges, have been common during the 10 years the military has been in control of Brazil.

"Thousands of young students, intellectuals and workers disappear in the jails of the country, are tortured and are killed," said the protest leaflet. In a challenge to Geisel it added:

"All of the conduct of the recent governments, including the 'new' one — whose only new feature is the name of the president not even elected by the people — maintains its policy mainly at the expense of super-exploitation, maintaining low salaries and increasing enormously the profits of the companies..."

Geisel, a former general handpicked for the job by his predecessors, was elected to the presidency by the government-controlled Electoral College in January and took office last month.

A female student active in the new protest movement said the committee hopes that because of the large number of persons involved, authorities will not take action against it.

"It is still risky, but 1,500 persons means something," she said.

Open protest meetings such as the ones at the University of Sao Paulo have been virtually nonexistent since 1968, when police broke up a student demonstration in Rio de Janeiro.

One student was killed then. Authorities arrested hundreds of persons at a secret meeting in 1969 of the outlawed National Student Union.

Since those incidents, political protests by students have been limited mainly to underground proclamations.

Filipino Laborer Nailed To Cross For Sixth Year

SAN FERNANDO, Philippines (AP) — For the sixth year, Juanito Piring, a laborer who earns about $7.50 a week when he works, was nailed to a cross today as a Good Friday act of sacrifice.

Piring, 33-year-old father of six, did not utter a sound as Medina Pamposa drove a silver painted, three-inch spike into the palm of each outstretched hand with two quick blows of his hammer.

Medina was dressed as Marco, the Roman soldier who drove the nails into the body of Jesus Christ. Piring, in a white loin cloth, a curly wig and a crown of thorns, represented Christ.

Piring moved his lips silently as the 16-foot wooden cross was raised in the middle of a rice field. A crowd of at least 4,000 milled around it in a carnival atmosphere of bobbing, gaily colored balloons and ice cream vendors ringing bells.

At the foot of the cross dozens of flagellants, their naked backs scarlet with their own blood, lashed themselves with bamboo scourges, splattering members of the crowd closest to the cross.

After less than 10 seconds on the cross, Piring was brought down and carried to the roadside. His pierced hands were bathed in alcohol and wrapped in white bandages.

"I feel good," said Piring. "It hurts. Of course it hurts. But when I am on the cross, it is as if I am another person. It is as if Jesus is helping me."

"This is a sacrifice for the extension of life of my mother and my sick child."

The flagellants had paraded through the town since early morning. They lashed themselves numb while helpers raked their backs with paddles embedded with broken glass.

Little New Zealand Outscores Russia In Meet On Raw Materials

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — In the dispatches of some diplomats, little New Zealand has outscored mighty Russia and China at the special United Nations General Assembly session on raw materials.

Other delegates said they were disappointed with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's blast Thursday at is excellent, but it doesn't buy your breakfast," said a financial expert from one of the Third World delegations that is looking for concrete help in meeting the swollen costs of fuel, fertilizer and food.

New Zealand offered to share the technology which has made it one of the world's "most efficient producers of protein food," said J. A. Walking, the island's minister of overseas trade.

He said Thursday his government has heavy commitments of manpower and money to help its neighbors in the Pacific and Southeast Asia but the government "is ready and willing to transfer this technology" to more distant countries.

The offer drew praise from one Latin American delegate who found nothing constructive in Chinese Vice Premier Teng Hsiao-Ping's predictable denunciation of the Soviet Union and the United States as plundering superpowers.

Pope To Make Pilgrimage Tonight Despite Illness

ROME (AP) — Despite his recent illness, Pope Paul VI will make his annual way-of-the-cross pilgrimage tonight, carrying a six-foot cross of light wood through the ruins of the Roman Forum.

The frail, 76-year-old Roman Catholic pontiff will also carry out the rest of the annual Good Friday ritual, which requires him to kneel in the open for more than half an hour.

The procession is the Pope's main Good Friday activity. His Easter schedule has been limited as a "precaution" because of his recent attacks of the flu. He is not attending the Good Friday Mass in St. Peter's Basilica or the Saturday night Easter vigil there, Vatican officials said.

They brushed aside suggestions that the Pope is seriously ill but said he is "extremely tired" and often in pain from arthritis, a stiffening of the joints, especially in the back, that makes both sitting and standing painful.

Pope Paul made his first trip outside the Vatican on Thursday since his recovery from two attacks of influenza in a month's time. Crowds cheered him as he was driven to the Basilica of St. John Lateran, his cathedral as Bishop of Rome, where he re-enacted Christ's homage to his apostles on the eve of the crucifixion.

Everything Comes Up Roses For Rebs, Purple Pack

Bulldogs Upset Panthers, 6-2

Lee Bombs Odessa, 10-3

ODESSA — Midland High exercised its unique hex over Odessa Permian by defeating the undefeated first-half District 5-4A baseball champions, 6-2, on their own stomping grounds Thursday, proving that Tuesday isn't the only day the Bulldogs can win a baseball game.

The Purple Pack had beaten Permian's 5-4A football champions last fall and took the Panther basketballers twice. Tuesday's win gave Midland victories over the Cats in football, basketball and baseball, and if it has ever been done before, nobody knows when.

The win also promoted Midland's own baseball title aspirations, coming as it did on the heels of Tuesday's win over Midland Lee, the team writers and coaches predicted would pocket all the marbles.

The Bulldogs did it behind the five-hit pitching of junior Terrill Littlejohn, making his first district start.

Coach Arlen Dickson had been hesitant to start Terrill. "Because we hit him so hard in batting practice," Midland batters may call Terrill cousin, but what futilely swinging Permian batters probably called Littlejohn can't be printed.

Littlejohn had good breaking stuff and "Terry (Copeland) called a brilliant game behind the plate. He kept the pitches mixed" and the Permian batters off balance, Dixon noted.

What difficulties Littlejohn encountered were absorbed by excellent defensive play, the laxity of which played a big role in the first loss for Permian pitcher Alex Kager.

Midland scored two unearned runs in the first with the help of two errors and wild pitch. Brandon Battles opened the game with a walk and was safe at second on a throwing error by shortstop Larry Lovera on an attempted force on Terry Copeland's grounder. Slugging Bruce Smith then beat out a bunt down the third base line to load the bases. Battles scored when Alan Buonasera's grounder down the third base line was misplayed and Copeland pranced home on a wild pitch.

Kager moved down the next 12 Bulldogs in order before Littlejohn ignited a three-run rally, helped by two errors, with a single to left in the fifth. Terrill took second when the ball was muffed. With two out Battles walked and then Copeland singled to center. The throw to the plate was too late to catch John Tate, running for Littlejohn, and when Battles raced for third, Rusty Breazeale's throw wound up in left field as Copeland also scored to make it 5-0.

Permian threatened in the fourth on lead off singles by Mark Chelette and Rusty Breazeale, but Copeland's throw to Jeff Cole at third to catch Chelette trying to steal, took the sting out of the rally. It was a big play because Greg Austin walked.

However, in the fifth, Permian escaped a shutout with two runs. Wes Maynard walked to lead off. Littlejohn fanned Larry Lovera and Battles' diving catch in center robbed Larry Belcher of a hit. Bobby Inzer bounced a single to right and scored on a wild pitch. Chelette then lined to center. The ball went off Battles glove and rolled to the fence as Inzer scored.

BULLDOG BRIEFS — The win gives the Purple Pack a 9-11 record for the season.

Shortstop Kenny Krawietz made sparkling plays to retire Breazeale to end the fifth and Austin to start the sixth.

Battles ranged into left-center to make a one-hand over the head catch on Lovera and managed to hold the ball, although he tripped over the ankle of Buonasera coming the other way.

Littlejohn helped himself out of a mild jam in the first by starting an inning-ending double play on a ball hit by Chelette.

Droege Sparks Cubs, 1-0

By ED PRELL
TUCSON, Ariz. — Seldom in an exhibition baseball game do you see a contest like the one here Thursday between Midland and San Antonio, Texas League rivals.

Midland's Cubs scored once in the first inning, then had the bases loaded with only one out, but that was it... just one run.

And three pitchers sharing the Cubs held on to win 1-0, squaring their four-game series free-way series with San Antonio.

The teams play in Scottsdale today and on Saturday the Cubs will make the two-hour bus trip back to this historic southern Arizona city.

Julio Gonzales, playing third base, led off with a single in the opening inning against Dennis Eckersley, a sidearming righthander, who had the Cubs jumping for dear life from his hard inside pitches.

Gonzales, stole second as Joel Green struck out. After Joe Wallis walked Bill Droege lined a single to center, scoring Julio with that big run. An error yielded a single and walk in his two innings, but needed a double play started by Gonzales in the sixth.

Only a single interrupted Ott's two closing innings. Bob, 10-4 with Quincy last year, is 23 and in his third professional season. In his rookie year, 1972, he was 2-0 for Midland but spent most of the season with Quincy.

Krukow made his debut last year with the Bradenton Rookie League Cubs and was 4-3 with a 3.16 earned-run-average.

The Midland Lee Rebels opened the second half of the District 5-4A baseball race on the Lee diamond Thursday with a 10-3 victory over the Odessa Bronchos.

Lee broke open a close game with a four-run fifth inning with Phill Anderson's two-run double the key blow.

While the Rebels were disposing of the Bronchos, Midland polished off first half-winner Odessa Permian, 6-2, to give all the teams in the loop hope for a run at the second half crown.

Keith Bishop started on the mound and worked three and two-thirds innings with Anderson throwing three and one-third innings of shutout ball to preserve the win for Bishop.

Lee outthrew OHS 11-9 and stole five bases to keep the Bronchos off balance in chalking up its 14th win of the season in 20 outings.

Odessa threatened in the top of the first on a one-out triple by centerfielder Mike Sterling, but Bishop got Derrill Eubanks on a strikeout and enticed Jerry Walker to ground out to third.

Larry Tidwell and Brett Blackwell started off the Lee first with hits, but a pair of force plays at third kept the Rebs from scoring.

Odessa turned around and loaded the bases off Bishop in the second inning, but did not score. James Lamsford was robbed of extra bases by David Clingman and then Bishop got into a jam when Randy Pufal and Joe Cardona hit back-to-back singles and Mike Casey walked to fill the sacks. Pitcher Maynard Johnson struck out looking and Allen Johnson popped out to short.

with a rally in the bottom of the second. Clingman singled, stole second and scored when Steve Koch laid down a sacrifice bunt and an overthrow by Maynard Johnson, moved Clingman to third. Rusty Laughlin knocked in Clingman on a fielder's choice. A wild pitch, single by Scott Meaders and a two-run single by Tidwell, made it 4-0.

Singles by Clingman and Laughlin, an error by Eubanks at short and three stolen bases—two by Clingman and one by Koch gave the Rebs a 6-0 lead. Clingman stole second and home on a double steal attempt by the daring Rebs.

Lee iced the game in the fifth when Bobby Stevens singled and Javier Torres was safe on an error. A passed ball, error on a fly ball by Clingman along with a hit batter, fielder's choice and two-run double by Anderson made it 10-3.

Action continues Tuesday when Lee entertains the San Angelo Bobcats. Lee is now 14-6 on the year and 1-0 in the second half of loop play. OHS is now 9-9 and 0-1 and faces Abilene in Abilene Tuesday.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ROUNDUP— Cards Take Twinbill

By HERSHEL NISSENSON
 AP Sports Writer

Tom Seaver and Bob Gibson, used to mowing down opposing batters with relative ease, are learning how the other half lives. As far as Steve Rogers is concerned, though, there isn't any other half.

Seaver and Gibson hooked up in the opener of a doubleheader Thursday and neither was around at the finish. The St. Louis Cardinals rocked Seaver for six runs on 10 hits in five innings, including three homers, while Gibson, unable to hold a 6-0 lead, was chased in the seventh by the New York Mets.

However, the Cardinals rallied for two runs in the eighth and an 8-7 victory. They completed a sweep by taking the nightcap 4-3 with a pair of runs in the ninth.

Meanwhile, Rogers, baseball's latest pitching prodigy, made his 1974 debut and hurled the Montreal Expos past the winless Pittsburgh Pirates 5-1, allowing six hits and an unearned run. Rogers made 17 starts after coming up from the minors last August and pitched well in all of them—a 10-5 record and 1.54 earned run average.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Houston Astros walloped the hapless San Diego Padres 9-1. Hank Aaron hit home run No. 716 in the Atlanta Braves' 6-4 triumph over the Los Angeles Dodgers and the Philadelphia Phillies edged the Chicago Cubs 4-3 on Tommy Hutton's two-run pinch homer in the ninth. San Francisco and Cincinnati had the day off.

The Cardinals began their assault on Seaver, the NL's 1973 Cy Young Award winner, in the second inning on Ken Reitz' solo homer. Joe Torre connected in the third with one man aboard and Lou Brock socked a three-run shot in the third.

Expos 5, Pirates 1
 Willie Davis drove in the first run with a sacrifice fly while Ron Fairly drove in two with a double and single.

"My breaking ball had to be sharp because you just can't rear back and throw against the Pirates," Rogers said.

"They have the best hitters over-all in baseball. You can't zero in on any one man so you have to bear down all the time."

Braves 6, Dodgers 4
 Aaron drilled his 716th career home run in the seventh inning, snapping a tie. Mike Lum had homered to tie the score earlier in the inning. Aaron has three home runs for the year—his only hits. He is batting only .187.

"Three hits, three home runs," he mused. "That's better than no hits. You can't knock it. It felt good. It means something because we beat the heck out of these guys who have been doing it to us for so long. I've forgotten about 714 and 715 already. You can't rest on that."

Phillies 4, Cubs 3
 Hutton's pinch two-run homer off Horacio Pina followed a one-out walk to Willie Montanez. Vic Harris drove in two runs with a bases-loaded single in a three-run Chicago fourth, giving the Cubs a 3-2 lead.

AMERICAN LEAGUE ROUNDUP— Kaat Keeps Humor With Rain Delay

By FRANK BROWN
 AP Sports Writer

For a fellow who's allowed seven runs and 14 hits in 91-3 innings pitched this season, Jim Kaat hasn't lost his sense of humor.

The reason? Friendly skies which exploded at just the right moment to turn potential losses into rainouts.

Kaat pitched 6 2-3 innings Sunday against the California Angels, permitting nine hits and three runs before he departed.

The Cardinals began their assault on Seaver, the NL's 1973 Cy Young Award winner, in the halted and the game postponed—thanks to a snow storm over White Sox Park.

Thursday's game was no different. In just 2-2-3 innings, the Minnesota Twins struck for five hits and four runs before the skies opened upon Metropolitan Stadium.

In other American League action Thursday, the Detroit Tigers topped the New York Yankees 4-1, the Baltimore Orioles edged the Boston Red Sox 7-6 in 11 innings, the Milwaukee Brewers ripped the Cleveland Indians 7-5, and the California Angels defeated the Texas Rangers 11-8.

"I'm specializing in throw-away games this season," said Kaat, tongue very much in cheek. But another pitcher, Minnesota's Joe Decker, knew exactly how Kaat felt.

Decker had given up four runs and five hits in six innings to the White Sox Thursday and was trailing 6-1 Sunday when the Twins' game with the Kansas City Royals was rained out.

"Normally," added Decker in an apparent understatement, "I'm a slow starter."

The game will be replayed in its entirety at a later date, but all the hitting and pitching records will go into the final statistics.

Tigers 4, Yankees 1
 Joe Coleman fared considerably better in his outing for Detroit, holding New York hitless for 7 1-3 innings on the way to a two-hitter.

Mickey Stanley hit a two-run homer in the seventh, while Aurelio Rodriguez and Ed Brinkman drove in the other Tiger runs with singles.

Gene Michael ruined the no-hitter with a ground single up the middle in the eighth inning and Roy White kayoed the shut-out with a leadoff home run in the ninth.

Orioles 7, Red Sox 6
 Baltimore's Elrod Hendricks scored from second base in the 11th inning when an attempted double play—throw by Doug

FIRES 67 AT AUGUSTA— Jim Colbert Grabs Lead In Masters Tournament

By WILL GRIMSLEY
 AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — "The Old Lady was asleep," said stubby Jim Colbert, refusing to gloat over his 67 that led a sub-par charge into today's second round of the Masters Golf Tournament, "but you better not get cocky and overconfident. She'll wake up and snap back at you."

The Old Lady is the Augusta National course, spoken of in personal terms since the day the broad and demanding layout came out of the head of the late Bob Jones.

It was Jones who labeled his green-garlanded bratnchild "a fickle lady."

"She has to be petted and cajoled," said the immortal AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Here are the top first-round scores Thursday in the 18th Masters Golf Tournament on the 7,000-yard, par 36-72 Augusta National.

Grand Slam king. "If you try to attack her, if you treat her rough, she will devour you."

She merely purred in the opening round Thursday when a crazy quilt collection of favorites turned Augusta's par 72 into a sham. Twenty-one broke it, six others tied it.

"The golf course was not its most difficult," said the 3-1 favorite and four-time winner, Jack Nicklaus, registering a 69 despite a bogey on the final hole.

Young Johnny Miller, the 4-1 second choice as the result of his three tournament winning streak early in the year, had an erratic round that left him at 72.

Augusta's 7,000 yards wore a lush green carpet. The massive, undulating greens were relatively slow, permitting bold shots at the pin. Until the arrival of tricky gusts late in the afternoon, the wind was little more than a gentle whisper.

"They say rain is coming," said Nicklaus. "That could change things. If, on the other hand, the greens get fast, it will help the better players and more sharply divide the field."

Entering today's second 18, with a 30 per cent chance of afternoon thundershowers forecast, Colbert had a one stroke lead over a trio of 20-1 or higher longshots, Don Iverson, Hale Irwin and Hubert Green.

Arnold Palmer, like Nicklaus shooting for his fifth Masters title, was uncomfortably placed at 76, in danger of missing the 36-hole cut.

"I am sick," the 44-year-old Arnie, unable to recapture his old putting magic, said of his opening round score.

Colbert is a 33-year-old former Kansas State Freshman football player who is entering his ninth year as a touring pro. He putted sensationally, thanks to an impromptu putting lesson from Australian Bruce Crampton, and rang in six birdies.

"I had a tendency of nursing everything to the right," Colbert said. "Bruce helped adjust my right hand."

Booster Club Sets Cub Feed
 John Cox, general manager of the Midland Cubs, has announced that the Midland Cub Booster Club will sponsor a "Meet the Team Barbeque" at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at Cubs Stadium.

The public is invited to attend the special affair, and will provide Midland Cub fans with a chance to meet all of the Cub players and Manager Walt Dixon first hand.

The charge for the event is $2.50 per plate, and reservations may be made by calling either the Midland Chamber of Commerce or the Midland Cub office in the Wall Towers East.

Goolagong Back

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Australia's Evonne Goolagong says she's taking her games one at a time working back from a two-month vacation from professional tennis.

"It's going to take me two or three months to really get back into it," said Miss Goolagong, who easily beat compatriot Helen Gourlay Thursday in the women's pro tennis tournament.

After we put them together, we really tear them apart.

As hard as the people in our assembly plant try to build the perfect car, the people at the end of the line try to find something imperfect about them.

At this final step 15 special inspectors, armed with sophisticated testing machines, gauges and meters, can run a Saab sedan flat out. Standing still.

They can check the traction of our front-wheel drive, test the precision of our rack and pinion steering, and judge the effectiveness of our power-assisted four wheel disc brakes.

Here they can read the heartbeat of our fuel injected 2 liter engine. And they can check exhaust emissions, gas consumption, and engine efficiency before our car ever rolls out the door.

At Saab, we tear our cars apart after we build them, to make sure they'll stay together after we sell them.

The Saab 99LE and EMS. From $4698 to $5198.

Saab. It's what a car should be.
 There are more than 400 Saab dealers nationwide. Prices do not include dealer prep, taxes and optional equipment, if any.

Feminist Wants Laws Administered By Women

NEW YORK (AP) — Karen DeCrow says there is no justice for women as long as the law is made and administered by men.

"We must have women attorneys and judges, women in Congress, women police officers — the whole system has to change," she said in an interview here.

The Syracuse, N.Y., attorney and political activist has written a book, "Sexist Justice," explaining problems women have with the law.

"The whole time I was in law school, I thought I should write this as a service to women. I found that many women didn't understand what was happening in law even when they read about it," she said.

Her feminist analysis of the legal "system indicates, she says, that women have fared miserably under the law even in decisions that went 'for' them.

"Even in areas where laws protect women — the Equal Pay amendment and Title VII — the tools for change are not used. Women are not paid the same as men. Specifics take time. I believe that green power is the ultimate power, and women must get equal pay."

Ms. DeCrow, the title she prefers, says the country needs gender-free law. "I don't believe there's a place in the law for the words man or woman. We're all persons," she added.

6,500-Foot Probe Slated In Cottle

Gus Edwards of Abilene filed application to drill No. 1-A Jamie Cate as a 6,500-foot wildcat in south Cottle County, two miles northwest of a recently opened two-well Bend conglomerate area.

Location is 660 feet from south and 2,465 feet from east lines of lot 6, Mary A. Cook survey, abstract 65, 1 1/2 mile southeast of Chalk township.

Edwards Gas Pool Gets Third Well

The Companero (Canyon) gas field of Edwards County gained its third producer and a location southeast extension with completion of George Mitchell & Associates, Inc., Houston, No. 2 J. E. Gardner.

Calculated, absolute open flow was for 1,350 million cubic feet of dry gas per day, producing through perforations at 5,204-5,234 feet, which had been fractured with 30,000 gallons and 37,000 pounds.

It was drilled as a wildcat to 5,400 feet, and has 4 1/2-inch casing set at 5,381 feet.

Location is 2,450 feet from north and 1,960 feet from northwest lines of section 11, block 10, GH&SA survey, 6 1/2 miles northwest of Rocksprings.

Dallas Firm Sets Stepout In Gaines

The Petroleum Corp., Dallas, has staked site for a 1/2-mile north stepout to the Devonian opener and lone well from that zone in the Bale, East field of Gaines County, 12 miles northwest of Seminole. It is No. 1 Boak.

Drill site is 1,980 feet from north and 1,320 feet from east lines of section 132, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey. Planned depth is 11,900 feet.

The Devonian opener, The Eastland Oil Co. No. 1 Rowmat, was completed in March, 1973, for 165 barrels of oil per day, from open hole at 11,778-11,786 feet.

Southwest Winkler Producer Finaled

The Wink South field of Winkler County gained its fourth current Montoya-Ellenburger well and a 3/4-mile northwest extension to that pay with completion of W. A. Moncrief, Fort Worth, No. 1-21-47 University.

Calculated, absolute open flow was for 28 million cubic feet of gas per day, through perforations at 18,398-19,172 feet, which had been acidized with 61,000 gallons.

Location is 1,320 feet from north and east lines of section 47, block 21, ULS, 4 1/2 miles south of Wink.

FOLLOWING JURY'S GUILTY VERDICT— Boyle's Lawyer Says He Will Ask For New Trial

MEDIA, Pa. (AP) — W. A. "Tony" Boyle's attorney says he will seek a new trial for the former president of the United Mine Workers, convicted of murdering union rival Joseph "Jock" Yablonski.

AFTER THE VERDICT — Former United Mine Workers head W. A. "Tony" Boyle climbs out of a car at a Media, Pa., hospital Thursday after being found guilty of murder in connection with the death of Joseph Yablonski, his wife and daughter. (AP Wirephoto.)

Boyle, now serving a three-year federal sentence for misuse of UMW funds, guilty of killing Yablonski's wife and daughter on Dec. 31, 1969.

The convictions carry a mandatory life term. No date was set for sentencing.

Defense lawyer Charles F. Moses, claiming the evidence was insufficient, said he would file a motion next week for a new trial.

Special Prosecutor Richard A. Sprague, who charged Boyle had ordered Yablonski killed and then authorized $20,000 in union funds to finance it, said:

"This man used the blood and sweat of miners for killing."

Sprague previously had convicted or obtained guilty pleas from eight others in the Yablonski case.

"Boyle was the originator," Sprague said. "We got back to the beginning and that's where we stop."

The jury of nine men and three women deliberated 4 1/2 hours before returning a verdict.

Members of the Boyle and Yablonski families were on opposite sides of the hushed courtroom's center aisle when the verdict was read. All had their eyes riveted on the white-faced defendant sitting erect and unmoving in the carved armchair.

Boyle's wife was heard to whisper, "He didn't have anything to do with it." His daughter, Antoinette, held back tears and bit her lips as she rubbed her eyes.

Kenneth and Joseph Yablonski Jr., the two lawyer sons of the slain union leader, clenched and unclenched their fists and scowled.

Kenneth Yablonski, who had found the bodies five days after his parents and sister were slain as they slept in their rural Clarksville home in southwestern Pennsylvania, embraced Sprague.

"You know how happy I am," he said, tears swelling in his eyes.

Boyle left the courtroom escorted by marshals, turning first to wave to his wife and murmur, "Goodbye."

Sprague built his case against Boyle primarily on the testimony of William Turnblazer, a former president of UMW District 19, embracing Kentucky and Tennessee. Turnblazer has pleaded guilty to federal charges of violating Yablonski's civil rights. This carries a life sentence.

Mrs. Droppelman's Services Are Held

Services for Mrs. Helen A. Droppelman, 80, of 3813A Storey St., who died Wednesday afternoon in a Midland hospital, were at 11 a.m. today.

Palbearers were H. L. Landua Jr., Archie P. Farr, Bob Conner, E. L. Skidmore, W. R. Donnell and F. E. Sautze.

Turnblazer said Boyle gave the "kill Yablonski" order at a June 23, 1969, meeting in a hallway of the UMW building in Washington, D.C.

The slayings occurred three weeks after Yablonski lost a bitter battle to unseat Boyle from the job he had held for nearly a decade.

VICTORY — Special prosecutor Richard Sprague talks with newsmen at the Delaware County Courthouse in Media, Pa., Thursday after Tony Boyle was found guilty of murder. Sprague has served as special prosecutor on all of the cases connected with the death of Joseph Yablonski. (AP Wirephoto.)

Boyle's Career Over Before Verdict Brought In

MEDIA, Pa. (AP) — W. A. "Tony" Boyle has eaten the hard road dust of the Montana coal fields, and he also knows the opulent pleasures that went with the presidency of the United Mine Workers union.

But his once-spectacular career as a labor leader was already over Thursday when a jury convicted him of three counts of murder in the slayings of UMW rebel Joseph "Jock" Yablonski and his wife and daughter.

The verdict came more than four years after a trio of hired gunmen shot the Yablonskis to death in their beds at their Clarksville, Pa., farmhouse.

Yablonski once had been in Boyle's inner circle, but his defection over the issues of miners' health, safety and welfare led to one of the most bitter internal struggles of the labor movement.

It was 11 years ago that Boyle gained the union presidency as the hand-picked heir of John L. Lewis.

Born in Montana in 1901, the son of Irish immigrant parents, Boyle went to work as a coal miner after graduating from high school.

Boyle was elected president of the Western States District 27 in 1940.

Lewis made Boyle an assistant in 1948 and Boyle worked in the shadow of his boss until Lewis' retirement in 1960.

He inherited the $50,000-a-year presidency in 1963.

He also inherited a union that would soon be seething with discontent.

In 1968, nearly 80 men died in the Farmington, W. Va., mine disaster.

Seven months after Farmington, Yablonski, head of the union's lobbying arm, challenged Boyle for the presidency.

Shortly after his death the Labor Department challenged the election that Boyle had won by 30,000 votes.

In a court-ordered rerun, Arnold Miller, a Yablonski supporter, rode to victory on a reform slate.

The rapid decline of a once-powerful union boss had begun. On Sept. 6, 1973, Boyle was indicted on charges of engineering the Yablonski murders. He already had been convicted of misusing union funds for political donations and was free on $179,000 bond.

A few hours before a hearing on the murder indictments, Boyle was rushed to a hospital, where a potentially lethal dose of sleeping pills was pumped from his stomach.

After a month-long trial, Boyle was found guilty in the Yablonski slayings.

As he was led out of the courtroom, he waved to his wife and voiced the word, "Goodbye."

USES TABLES FIGURED ON COMPUTER— Scientist Says Jesus Crucified On A Thursday

By GEORGE W. CORNELL, NEW YORK (AP) — A scientist, using new tables of dating figured on a computer, has concluded that the crucifixion of Jesus occurred on the fifth day of the week, a Thursday, April 6, 30 A.D., and not on Friday as commonly assumed.

"Up to now, we didn't have the hard facts to fasten to, but now we have them," says Roger Rusk, a Knoxville, Tenn., physicist.

His deductions also would mean that Jesus lay in the tomb a full three days as he had foreseen—instead of the 36 hours supposed in church tradition. By it, churches observe this Friday to mark the day he died.

"But the movements of the moon don't provide the occasion for it then," Rusk said. "Putting together what we now know, it's evident the day was Thursday."

He also concludes that the year—not previously fixed precisely—was 30 A.D. In making his assessments, he used newly calculated tables of new and full moons from 1001 B.C. to A.D. 1651, as determined on a sophisticated computer by Herman H. Goldstine at the Institute of Advanced Studies, Princeton, N.J.

"It had never been done before," Rusk said, adding that the new tables provide the first exact sequence of new moons by which dates were set in ancient Judaism in the time of Jesus.

"They kept a lunar calendar and went entirely by the moon," he said. Since Jesus died on an afternoon before the sunset beginning of Passover, just what day it was hinges on when Passover started that year and that, in turn, depends on the time of the new moon—

he added key applied by Rusk. Rusk, emeritus professor of physics at the University of Tennessee where he taught for 28 years, details his findings in a recent issue of the evangelic-

cal weekly, Christianity Today, published in Washington, D.C. Although various gospel references indicate the general period in which Jesus died, Rusk says the lunar data pins the plausible time down to the year 30 A.D., as well as pointing to Thursday as the time of the week.

He says internal evidence of the Scriptures also suggest Thursday, and that maintenance of the Friday tradition has made it necessary to assume an inactive "day of silence" in Jesus' days in Jerusalem before his arrest.

However, the gospel never mentions such a day. Rusk notes, adding that "it is an invention designed to support" the traditional thesis of a Friday crucifixion.

C. S. Ruggles, 83, Dies; Rites Slated

LAMESA — C. S. Ruggles, 83, of Lamesa, father of J. P. Ruggles of Midland, died about 2 a.m. Thursday in a Lubbock hospital.

Services were to be at 2 p.m. today in the Branon Funeral Home Chapel, with the Rev. V. L. Gunn, pastor of Hillcrest Baptist Church, and the Rev. J. P. Jones, pastor of Bryan Street Baptist Church, officiating. Interment was to be in Lamesa Cemetery.

A native of Denver, Colo. Ruggles lived at Lamesa 49 years. He was an employe of Lamesa Cotton Oil Mill and a former laundry owner.

Other survivors include his widow; a son, Hiram Ruggles of Andrews; six daughters, Mrs. D. C. Williams and Mrs. J. P. Jones, both of Lamesa; Mrs. Buddy Patterson of Hobbs, N.M.; Mrs. Marie Moore of Victoria; Mrs. W. J. Minnix of Lubbock; and Mrs. Keith White of Florida; two brothers, A. P. Ruggles of Amarillo and Alpha Ruggles of Plainview; a sister, Mrs. Emma Chisum; 19 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

J. F. Strickland Dies At Kermit

KERMIT — James Freeman Strickland, 73, of Kermit died Wednesday in a Kermit hospital. He was the father of Danny Strickland of Midland.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday in Tuscola First Baptist Church, with interment in Tuscola Cemetery.

Born in McLennan County Jan. 1, 1901, Strickland lived at Kermit a year.

Other survivors include two sons, J. F. Strickland Jr. of Austin and Jimmy Strickland of Kermit; two daughters, Mrs. Peggy Peel of Plano and Mrs. Ann Christopher of Lubbock; two brothers, Delman Strickland of Ropesville and Dane Strickland of Borger; a sister, Mrs. Mozelle Powers of Dimmitt; 10 grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

Survivors include two sisters.

Services Saturday for Mildred Franks

CHANUTE, Kan. — Mildred Franks, 68, a former longtime Midland teacher, died Thursday in a Chanute hospital.

Service will be at 10 a.m. Saturday in Ghayer, Kan. Interment will be under the direction of the Chanute Funeral Home.

Miss Franks was a longtime Midland resident and teacher at Lee High School. In 1971 she was named teacher of the year. She was head of the business education department when she retired.

Survivors include two sisters.

Texas To Get More Gasoline

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas will get more fuel this month, not less, than it consumed in April 1972, Gov. Dolph Briscoe's office reported Thursday.

A Briscoe spokesman said the U.S. Energy Office admitted its previous estimates on the available supply for Texas were erroneous because it had not received reports by some oil companies.

cal weekly, Christianity Today, published in Washington, D.C. Although various gospel references indicate the general period in which Jesus died, Rusk says the lunar data pins the plausible time down to the year 30 A.D., as well as pointing to Thursday as the time of the week.

Midlander Held Following Chase

A 26-year-old Midland man who led police on a West Midland chase early this morning was being held in custody this morning. A complaint is expected to be filed in county court Monday, police said.

Officers answered a fight call at a lounge about 2:45 a.m. but found no one there when they arrived. They saw a group of persons around another lounge.

As they approached the group, Patrolman Bill Roach reported, a car sped off and officers tried to stop it.

It did not stop until it got to the residence of the driver. When the police walked up to the car, they said, the driver locked all the car doors and would not get out or talk to anyone.

One of the officers shot a chemical substance called mace into the car and the man got out and was arrested.

Mrs. Johnson Dies; Rites Pend

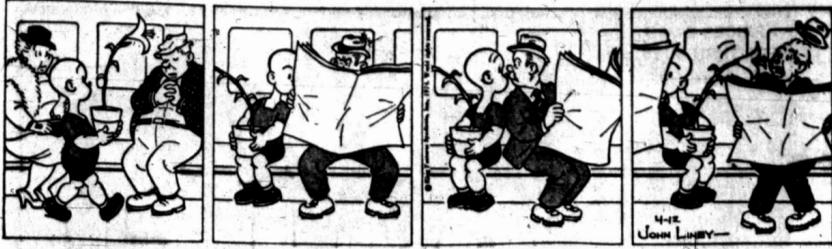

Mrs. Buster (Eileen) Johnson, 402 W. Jax St., died in a Midland hospital shortly before noon today.

Services are pending at the Newmie W. Ellis Chapel. London policemen are called Bobbies after Robert Peel.

Briscoe Vows To Beat Farenthold In Houston

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Gov. Dolph Briscoe vowed Thursday to reverse a trend of losing "Texas' most populous county to Frances Farenthold and promised to help meet the needs of youth.

Agnew Moves Out Of Last Remaining Government Office

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House says former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has moved out of his last remaining federal office.

Agnew, who resigned last October after pleading no contest to an income tax evasion charge, vacated his government offices across the street from the White House.

Agnew reportedly used the offices to sort out his papers and memorabilia.

The White House spokesman said the former vice president has turned over his political papers to the University of Maryland. They will not be made public until 1977.

A spokeswoman for the university said no monetary value has been set on the some 600 boxes of papers, which include material from Agnew's days as Baltimore County, Md., executive, governor of Maryland and vice president.

The material includes alphabetical subject files, tapes, photographs, gifts, awards, invitations, speeches, news clippings and vice presidential reception medals.

Exxon Increases Gasoline Prices

HOUSTON (AP) — Wholesale gasoline prices for about 24,000 Exxon Co. USA dealer-operated service stations have been increased by 1.6 cents per gallon.

Exxon also boosted prices by 4.6 cents per gallon for about 1,000 company-operated stations in the announcement Thursday.

An Exxon spokesman said the additional three cents boost for company-operated stations reflects Federal Energy Office authority to make adjustments to include increased operating costs.

Exxon lowered its prices for diesel fuel and home heating oil by two cents per gallon. The company said the reduction reflects a seasonal decrease in middle distillate imports.

Braniff Willing To Compromise

DALLAS (AP) — Braniff International said Thursday it is willing to join in a compromise with the cities of Dallas and Fort Worth, the D-FW regional airport board and other airlines concerning the use of Dallas Love Field for commuter flights.

"If it should be the desire of all interested parties, including the cities of Dallas and Fort Worth, the regional airport board and the carriers serving the area, that a compromise agreement should be reached to permit the continued use of Love Field, and if it can be done under the law, Braniff . . . would be willing to negotiate a new, equitable Love Field use agreement," Braniff said.

Some Lobbyists 'Have No Intention' Of Observing Law

AUSTIN (AP) — Randall Wood of Common Cause says recent reports by lobbyists on spending show that some "have no intention" of complying with the new lobby control law.

Wood said Thursday one lobbyist "for an organization lobbying furiously in the (Constitutional) Convention" reported spending only $6 for entertainment.

Common Cause, the self-styled citizens lobby, reported about $21,000 in first quarter expenses for staff, printing, travel, telephone and miscellaneous items.

In a statement, Wood said, "The spectacle of seeing some of our most active and powerful special interest lobbyists report no entertainment expenditures, no telephone or mailing costs, no printing and no travel shows that these lobbyists have nothing but contempt for the new law and have no intention of complying with the new law."

ris County in the May 4 state Democratic party primary. He lost the county twice in 1972 to his opponent again this year, Mrs. Farenthold.

He answered her charges that he has done nothing as governor to end alleged insurance rate discrimination against the young and elderly by saying, "This is a problem the insurance commissioner is working on, and I'm sure he will do everything he can along that line."

In Corpus Christi, the governor told West Oso High School pupils that young people too often have been overlooked by the government in its efforts to meet the needs of the people.

"But here in Texas, at least, we can be sure that state government will not shrink from the challenge of helping to make opportunity the birthright of every child," Briscoe said. Slogan Challenged

He continued: "We must no longer assume that early childhood and youth is a time of health, happiness and opportunity; we put the full powers of government behind that concept and guarantee it."

Mrs. Farenthold, waiting for an Amtrak train from Austin to Laredo, challenged Briscoe's campaign slogan as she asserted:

"He said in 1972 he favored prohibiting registered lobbyists from serving on the boards and commissions of state agencies, yet he personally appointed 17 registered lobbyists to those boards and commissions. . . . He promised no new taxes. Yet property taxes are going up all over this state because he refuses to call a special session of the legislature to help our school districts out of the emergency financial situations they are in."

Says Crime Rising
Mrs. Farenthold also said that despite a promise to fight crime, "the crime rate, which was going down the year before he took office is on the rise again."

A Republican candidate for governor, Odell McBrayer, issued his first statement, saying he was definitely in the race to win. McBrayer is considered an underdog in the race against former Lubbock Mayor Jim Granberry.

He criticized the work of the Constitutional Convention and predicted the voters would reject the new constitution it will issue.

"The people of Texas voted for a new constitution, and all they are getting is a more emphatic special interest oriented, highly partisan version of what they already had," McBrayer said.

Bob Bullock, running for comptroller, said the state should remit city sales tax collections back to the cities every month, instead of quarterly.

Southwest Airlines, a three-jet plane commuter carrier, has offered to pay $1 per 1,000 pounds upon each landing at Love Field. The present rate is five cents at Love Field and 65 cents at the new D-FW regional airport.

Braniff said it is the largest operator at the new airport and pays more landing fees there than any other airline.

Braniff added it also pays more landing fees than anyone else at Love Field. It operates short-haul commuter flights there, along with Southwest.

Nevertheless, Braniff said, it is willing to negotiate ground rules for the continued use of Love Field.

Dallas and Fort Worth officials have been trying through court action to force Braniff and Southwest Airlines from Love Field to the new airport.

Dallas officials say they are considering closing Love Field to all commercial air traffic.
