Saxbe Claims Patricia Criminal

Statement Bolstered By Guard

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe said today he is convinced that Patricia Hearst "was not a reluctant participant" in a San Francisco bank robbery and that he considers her a common criminal.

In San Francisco today, Saxbe's view was bolstered by bank guard Edward Shea, who said Miss Hearst "was full of curse words" and appeared ready to fire a sawed-off carbine if necessary during the robbery.

Shea, 66, who was disarmed during the holdup, said Miss Hearst "absolutely was a participant" in the bank heist Monday in which two passers-by were shot.

"She wasn't scared. I'll tell you that," he said. "She looked as though she knew what she was doing. She had a gun and looked ready to use it. She had plenty of command in her voice. She was full of curse words. She let it be known that she meant business."

Saxbe told reporters at his weekly news conference that he was expressing his personal views about the 20-year-old newspaper heiress reported kidnapped by the Symbionese Liberation Army more than two months ago.

Saxbe said he believes the FBI would be justified in breaking into a dwelling to capture Miss Hearst and SLA members.

"The entire group we're talking about are common criminals," Saxbe said. Asked if he was including Miss Hearst in that description, he replied, "Miss Hearst is part of it."

In response to questions about the bank robbery, Saxbe said, "it would appear to me that she was not a reluctant participant in this robbery. My personal conclusion is that she was not a reluctant participant. There's room for others to say she was coerced into it, the two (See HEARST Page 8A)

Simon Nominated For Treasury Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon named federal energy chief William E. Simon to be Treasury secretary today and pledged to play an expanded personal role in directing the government's economic policy.

Nixon promoted Simon's chief assistant, John C. Sawhill, to federal energy administrator.

In announcing Simon's nomination, Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren also announced that the President "intends to play an increasingly expanded role," in coordinating the administration's economic policy.

Selection Expected

Simon's selection had been expected for weeks.

If confirmed by the Senate, Simon, a millionaire former Wall Street bond dealer, would succeed George Shultz, who departs next month after five years as a key Nixon administration official.

Unlike Shultz, Simon is not an economist. But he earned high marks from the White House for his brisk, sometimes brusque, handling of the energy adviser's post he was given four months ago.

Front Runner

Even before Shultz's resignation was formally disclosed weeks ago, Simon had emerged as the front runner for the Cabinet post. He had joined Treasury as a deputy secretary 17 months ago and had become Shultz's top aide before assuming command of the federal government's response to the energy crisis.

On Wall Street, Simon had amassed a fortune — estimated at about $3 million — but sold his holdings when he joined the government.

He has described himself as basically conservative with a dislike of government controls. But his role in the energy crisis showed he could be flexible on this issue.

State To File Antitrust Suit Against Nine Steel Firms

FORT WORTH (AP) — The Texas attorney general's office plans to file an antitrust suit against nine major steel companies which could mean millions of dollars in construction refunds to the Dallas-Fort Worth regional airport, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram reported today.

The newspaper gave these details:

The suit will be filed Thursday in federal court at Houston and will charge violations of the Clayton and Sherman Antitrust acts, Asst. Atty. Gen. Joe Longley said in Austin Tuesday. He is assigned to the job of consumer protection.

It maintains the firms conspired to fix prices on "re-bar materials" or steel rods used to reinforce concrete structures, including roads, bridges, buildings and other structures. Such rods were used to build most of the giant airport.

The suit closely follows similar litigation already brought against the defendants in federal court by the government, including criminal charges on file in Houston.

Those named in the suit are United States Steel Corp., Bethlehem Steel Corp., Border Steel Rolling Mills, Inc., Ceco Corp., Laclede Steel Co., Schindler Brothers Steel, Structural Metals, Inc., Texas Steel Co. and Armo Steel Corp.

It alleges state building contractors "are the ultimate victims affected by the conspiracies of defendants to fix prices, monopolize the market, restrain trade, reduce competition and ... other violations of antitrust laws. . . .

"Said combination and conspiracy to monopolize consisted of a continuing agreement, understanding and concert of action among defendants, or some of them, and their co-conspirators to exclude or limit the competition of independent fabricators of re-bar materials in the state of Texas and continguous areas," the suit states. Claiming the damages resulting from the alleged antitrust violations amount to "several million dollars," the suit leaves the figure to be set by the court. At one point, however, it claims the sum will be "at least tens of millions of dollars."

During 1971, it claims, the Texas Highway Department used approximately 86,000 tons (68 per cent of all such steel the department used). The companies' steel re-bar sales of 175,000 tons that year, the suit states, amounted to more than $20 million.

The alleged practices have been going on since mid-1969, according to the suit.

During that period, Fort Worth city officials claimed Tuesday, much of the airport re-bar materials were bought. No one, however, can say now exactly how much it all cost.

"We bought a potfull of steel out there," said City Atty. S. G. Johndroe, who may be asked for assistance in the suit because of the airport matter.

Longley said every city in the state was notified about the pending action a month ago and asked if it would participate in the suit. He said San Angelo and Abilene were the only cities "of any size" which indicated they did not wish to join in the case.

If the state wins the suit, the judgment could involve possible refunds or costs of steel rods and mesh in the bulk of all city, county and state construction from 1969 to the present. In addition to that would be any penalties the court might assess.

In the airport construction alone were involved more than 100 contracts involving steel-reinforced concrete, according to airport engineers. To further complicate the issue, engineers said, the runway steel rods were not purchased from one of the defendant firms.

79 Speeding Tickets Given In Four Days On Cuthbert

Seventy-nine speeding tickets were given in the 20-mile-per-hour zone covering the 1400-1700 blocks of Cuthbert Street in the four days after a speed limit change, but police said this morning a grace period has been given and only warning tickets will be given there from now until Monday.

He advised persons who already have paid the tickets to stop by the court office and the money will be refunded.

Those who have not paid the tickets should take them by the court office and they will be dismissed.

The municipal court office is in the Midland Public Safety Building, 404 E. Texas St.

The zone was approved by the city council, changing it from a 30-mile-per-hour zone, and the signs were put up Thursday.

The tickets were issued in that area on Thursday, Friday, Monday and Tuesday.

Lt. Herman Wicker, head of the police traffic division, said police Friday set up check points in the 20-mile zone and in a 30-mile zone in the area of 2400 and 2500 blocks of Cuthbert Street to watch for trucks.

"We have had complaints that heavy trucks have been using the street, although they are not allowed to do so," Wicker said.

Wicker pointed out that although police were originally there to enforce the 20-mile limit, the reason for "the police cars being there all day was to look for the trucks."

"When we do concentrate on a speed zone, such as a school zone, we stay there no more than 30 minutes to an hour and then move on some place else," Wicker said.

Mild Weather Will Continue

Texas basked in mild weather under mostly clear skies today. The only clouds put in appearance across the south tip of the state.

Midland will be clear to partly cloudy through Thursday, although strong winds may kick up some sand this afternoon, according to the National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal.

Winds will be southerly 20 to 30 m.p.h. this afternoon, with occasional gusting greater than 35 m.p.h. The winds will cause some blowing sand this afternoon, and will become south to southeast 10 to 20 m.p.h. tonight.

High today is expected to be in the lower 80s, with an overnight low in the lower 50s. High Thursday will be in the middle 80s.

High Tuesday was 76 and the overnight low was 46.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 41 degrees at Wichita Falls up to 69 at Brownsville. Top marks Tuesday afternoon went as high as 82 at Del Rio, and Amarillo was the coolest spot with a maximum of 65, according to The Associated Press.

Briscoe Denies Rewarding Contributors With Appointments Charge

By The Associated Press — Gov. Dolph Briscoe, running for a second term, jumped back into the Texas political scene Tuesday with both feet. "I am very proud of those I denying he rewarded contribu-tors with appointments and commissions. His Democratic opponent, Frances Farenthold, said at once about the possible reap-Briscoe appointed 183 persons or their spouses to state posts after they donated nearly $248,000 to his campaigns. She was on a West Texas tour. Asked if there were any relationship between his appoint-ments and campaign contribu-tions, Briscoe said, "Absolutely not!" "I am very proud of those I have appointed," he said, "men and women of top quality." Briscoe, during a busy Tues-day, said he will not comment about the possible reap-pointment of Frank Erwin Jr., the Austin bachelor, or the governor told reporters he wants to wait awhile before giving his reactions in detail to

Calley's Term Sliced In Half

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pen-tagon sources say Secretary of the Army Howard Callaway's decision to reduce the prison sentence to 10 years for the My Lai massacre. Officials at Army headquarters said they believe Calley spent only one night in the Ft. Benning, Ga., stockade after his sentencing by a court-martial to life in prison at hard labor on March 31, 1971. Nixon ordered Calley released from the stockade April 1, 1971, and said he should be confined to his quarters pending review of his case. The 30-year-old Army lieutenant lived in those quarters under minimum security until a federal judge ordered him released on $1,000 bond last Feb. 27. Calley's life term was reduced to 20 years by Lt. Gen. Albert O. Connor, then commander of the Third Army, Aug. 20, 1971. Both the U.S. Court of Military Appeals and the Army Court of Military Review upheld the conviction and sentence for premeditated murder of at least 22 Vietnamese civilians during a sweep through the My Lai hamlet March 16, 1968. The case is now before President Nixon, who has said he will review it personally and make the final decision. Army lawyers said Nixon could cut it further but could not increase it. Calley's civilian lawyer Kenneth M. Henson, said in Columbia, Ga., that the Army secretary's ruling was disappointing. "We're still hopeful that the President of the United States reorganizes Lt. Calley," Henson said. "The governor refused to take a stand on the pari-mutuel betting-horse racing issue with the statement: 'I am not going to involve the office of the governor in that issue.'" Monday, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby endorsed pari-mutuel betting and horse racing while Mrs. Farenthold came out against the race horse gambling. In other political developments around the state: —Texas Baptists branded gambling as "Robin Hoodism in reverse. The Baptist General Convention of Texas said legalized gambling 'robs the poor to give to the rich.'" The BGCT made the remarks in a statement distributed to news media. —State Insurance Commission Chairman Joe Christie, accusing Mrs. Farenthold of hurling unfounded charges, said "There is no rate discrimination against male drivers, the young or the elderly. Therefore, Gov. Briscoe's competitive rating plan already has accomplished what Mrs. Farenthold had said Briscoe had not lived up to his promise to improve the Texas insurance picture." —Rep. Fred Head of Athens told a Lubbock audience he will reorganize the House Appropriations Committee if he is ejected House Speaker next year.

Ford Says Democrat Win In Michigan Bad Omen For U.S.

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — Vice President Gerald R. Ford says the Democratic victory in a special Michigan congressional election is a bad omen for the country and that continued Democratic victories could lead to a "legislative dictatorship."

Ford said the election would have no bearing on how Congress treats the President in regard to the impeachment inquiry now being conducted by the House Judiciary Committee.

Sparting said he did not blame Nixon for his defeat. Traxler, who won in this traditionally GOP district despite a personal appearance by President Nixon on behalf of Sparting, said Nixon is the problem of Republicans, not Democrats.

Traxler's victory gave the 8th District seat to Democrats for the first time since 1932.

It marked the fourth time in five special elections this year that normally GOP areas have fallen to the Democrats.

But it was the first time Nixon took an active role in trying to stem the tide.

With all of the 296 precincts in the district unaccounted for in unofficial returns, Traxler had 59,918 votes, Sparting 56,575.

The results gave Traxler 51.4 per cent of the vote.

Traxler said after his victory that voters knew that perhaps a new moral force was needed in the White House.

"And while we didn't dwell on Watergate... there are a lot of people who felt it very important that a message and communication be sent that dependence Nixon retains much support in the country and that a pro-impeachment vote would be politically risky.

At the time of the visit, six days before the election, there was considerable sentiment among the 8th District's political observers that Republican James Sparting Jr. had cut substantially into the lead indicated by polls for Democrat Bob Traxler and might even win.

But when the ballots were counted Tuesday night, the vote for Sparting in the rural area

He insisted Nixon was not invited to Michigan to campaign for him, but rather to "get out of the White House where he is now isolated and face the people."

In his three-hour tour in the district last week, Nixon avoided heavily Democratic big city areas, where unemployment hovers around 10 per cent. He concentrated instead on the small communities where the district's GOP strength lies.

He drew a generally warm welcome from thousands, although there were some protesters.

Republican's Defeat Blow To President

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AN AP News Analysis
SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — The Democratic victory in Michigan's special congressional election is a blow to President Nixon's hopes of demonstrating political popularity to Republican House members considering impeachment.

Previous GOP setbacks in House contests in Johnstown, Pa., Cincinnati, Ohio, and Grand Rapids, Mich., have made many Republicans fearful of a GOP electoral disaster in next November's congressional elections.

Many congressional observers feel this has increased the likelihood that many Republicans may seek political safety by voting for an impeachment resolution if the House Judiciary Committee approves one.

In this atmosphere, Nixon decided to do his first campaigning since his own 1972 re-election. Figuring he would be blamed for any GOP setback here, he decided he should try to get in on any possibility of triumph.

Such a victory would surely have been cited by the White House to GOP doubters as evidence Nixon retains much support in the country and that a pro-impeachment vote would be politically risky.

At the time of the visit, six days before the election, there was considerable sentiment among the 8th District's political observers that Republican James Sparting Jr. had cut substantially into the lead indicated by polls for Democrat Bob Traxler and might even win.

But when the ballots were counted Tuesday night, the vote for Sparting in the rural area

Nixon visited fell below the normal Republican percentages. It was insufficient to offset the Democratic surge for Traxler in more populous Bay City and Saginaw, where labor unions are strong.

The Traxler victory, in a district the Democrats last won in Franklin D. Roosevelt's 1932 landslide, can only be read as a further sign of weakness on the part of Republicans and the President.

If this increases the likelihood of impeachment, it is not because of the 8th District's new congressman. Sparting also said he would vote to impeach if the evidence warranted.

The real impact will come, Traxler noted, from GOP House members already in Washington.

How to cash in on the boom in rare plates

WANTED: One rare, gilt-edge plate in pure white translucent china—hand-painted with a garland of wild roses. You find this prize plate in a jungle of antiques at a garage sale and buy it for $10.

THE YEAR is 1979. An eager collector wants to buy your wild rose plate for $395! If you sell it, you suddenly make $385, because you know how to spot a "sleeper" with true artistic worth and rarity.

FICTION? Not altogether. Today, many average people with only average incomes are cashing in on the boom in rare plates. They know plate collecting means profits as well as pleasure.

For instance, a china plate first priced at only $10 in 1969 now brings $245. Another exceptional plate originally priced at $25 in 1965 now sells for $1,050.

WHAT is the secret of success in collecting plates for profit? A suburban Chicago art dealer says, "The amateur collector needs professional guidance. You should know what to look for, when to buy, and much more."

According to this dealer, when you know the guidelines, there's much more than profit in collecting rare plates. There's pride of ownership almost unequalled by any other hobby. There's the joy of discovering stunning porcelain, glass, pewter, or silver plates for dramatic wall displays.

You can choose designs by Pablo Picasso, Grandma Moses, André Rosticau, Andrew Wyeth, and other noted artists. There are all kinds of themes—nature scenes, stirring historical events, childhood vignettes, portraits of world heroes, and much more.

FREE INFORMATION. To help you get started in the rewarding hobby of plate collecting, this dealer now offers free information on request. It tells how to choose potentially priceless heirlooms for as little as $15 or $20. Individuals (not dealers) are invited to send for the free facts without obligation. To get yours, send your name, address, and zip code to Bradford Galleries, 1062 H Sunset Ridge, Northbrook, Illinois 60062. A postcard will do. Please mail your request by April 27, 1974, to reserve your free copy while the supply lasts.

Forecasters Just Guessing About Direction Of Economy

NEW YORK (AP) — Where the economy goes from here is becoming the subject of plain guesswork among some otherwise fearless forecasters of short-term trends whose brainpower is relied upon heavily in financial circles.

Many seem to agree that it might be an eventful summer in terms of prices and interest rates and wages and shortages, but conviction seems absent on whether things are going up or coming down.

Several analysts have sagely observed that while interest rates have been rising the trend has been down. That seems to suggest that recent increases have been mere jiggles in a downward slanting line, but you can't be certain.

One nationally circulated newsletter drops a reference to 15 per cent bond yields, while others maintain that the cur-

Dear Abby

Long-Time Worker Wants 'Divorce Shower'

—By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: For years I have contributed to office collections for coworkers on the occasion of their engagements, marriages, anniversaries, births, deaths in the family, new homes, etc.

My wife and I separated a year ago, and I've been rooming with another man since then. No I'm getting my own apartment, and I need all the things a couple needs to set up housekeeping — sheets, towels, dishes, appliances, etc. (My wife took everything when we split up.) Since I can't afford to buy all these things at once, I have proposed a "divorce shower" at work. It might even be appropriate for the gifts to be used items, since it's a second start for me.

The general reaction in the office was favorable, but some were on the fence. We agreed to abide by your advice as to whether this idea was too outrageous or actually a sensible way to help me out with a problem.

POTLESS

DEAR POTLESS: The idea makes a lot of sense to me. But you shouldn't "propose" the shower yourself, anymore than a bride should "propose" her own shower. (P.S. Yours is not actually a "divorce shower." It's a miscellaneous shower for a man who's setting up housekeeping and doesn't have a pot.)

DEAR ABBY: I work in an office building. There's a woman down the hall who smokes about a pack of cigarettes a day, and she bums every one of them!

She knows there are several smokers in this office so she runs in just about every 30 minutes and asks if "anybody" has a cigarette.

I asked her why she didn't buy some, and she said, "I'm not supposed to be smoking at work, and if I buy them I'll only smoke them." I wonder what in Washington, D.C., March 4, she thinks she is doing with 1901

IN THE DARK

DEAR IN: It's just a wild guess, but I'd say he's either married or living with someone. Unless he's willing to let you know where he lives and where he works, you'd be wise to forget him and look for a man who's not afraid to answer a few simple questions.

FIRST WASHINGTON INAUGURATION

Thomas Jefferson was the first president to be inaugurated in Washington, D.C., March 4, 1800. He was inaugurated on a 53-32 vote last Thursday.

Teamsters Threaten Retaliation Against Unions Supporting Farm Workers Lettuce, Grape Boycott

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Teamsters union, locked in a bitter feud with the United Farm Workers, has threatened retaliation against any unions that support the AFL-CIO's nationwide boycott of California grapes and lettuce.

The Teamsters traditionally honor the picket lines of other unions. They also aided the United Auto Workers with a $25 million loan to help pay for its strike against General Motors in 1970.

In an April 12 letter, Fitzsimmons told union presidents that support of the boycott "would naturally mean that you are taking a definite position against the Teamsters."

"So, I would be remiss if I did not say to you that in the future our cooperation with your organization will be judged accordingly," he continued. "If you are not with us, you must be against us. We do not propose to support unions that are fighting us."

The same day he issued his warning, Fitzsimmons sent a letter to AFL-CIO President George Meany urging an end to violence in the fields.

Commenting Tuesday, Meany said that last year's California violence "resulted solely and simply because the Teamsters imported goons."

He called Fitzsimmons' letter "unmitigated gall."

An AFL-CIO spokesman declined comment on the other letter, saying only, "The boycott must be hurting."

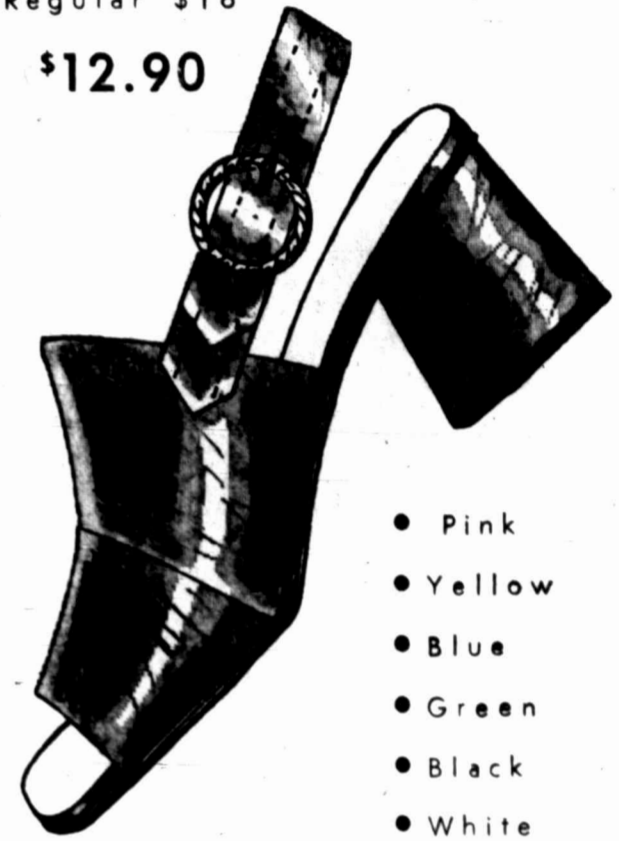

The Teamsters, the nation's biggest and most powerful labor union with 2.3 million members, has been struggling with Cesar Chavez's UFW, an AFL-CIO affiliate, over the organization of California's field hands.

To support Chavez, Meany last week urged the labor federation's 13.5 million members "to rally behind the farm workers" and not buy Teamster-picked grapes and lettuce.

Fitzsimmons said Meany and Chavez "must bear the blame" if there is a repeat of the warfare that marked last year's organizing battle in which the Teamsters succeeded in signing labor contracts with several growers who previously held pacts with the UFW.

Financial Disclosure Item In Campaign Reform Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-passed campaign reform bill that includes little-noticed financial disclosure provisions will be before a House committee next week when Congress returns from its Easter recess.

Chairman Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, of the House Administration Committee already has said he opposes the bill because it provides for full public financing of presidential and congressional campaigns.

The disclosure provisions also are likely to encounter opposition. A number of members have denounced such disclosure proposals as amounting to an invasion of their privacy.

The disclosure provisions were perhaps the most surprising yet least noticed part of legislation sent to the House by a 53-32 vote last Thursday.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Old Wash Boiler Has Bright Future

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Polly's Problem DEAR POLLY — What does one use to clean and restore old copper wash boilers? I have heard that they can be sprayed with a brassy color when cleaned and do not tarnish again. I hope someone will tell me if I can spray mine to look like brass instead of copper since they make ideal containers for firewood. — M. M. P.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with the planners of both mobile and standard homes who must all be 10 feet tall males. Invariably kitchen cupboards are placed so high above counter tops that, for the average woman, only the contents of the bottom shelves are easily accessible. To get anything from a shelf above, one must stand on tiptoe, a stool or chair.

Lowering cupboards to 14 inches above counter tops, just so an electric mixer and bread box can slide under easily, would be a boon to homemakers. — NELL.

DEAR POLLY — Mrs. D. P. should strain the fat in her deep fryer through a double thickness of cheesecloth, put it back in the fryer and cook two medium-size potatoes at about 250 degrees. The draining removes any particles in the fat and the potatoes remove the stale taste and odor. Keeping such fat in the refrigerator, especially when the weather is warm, also would keep it fresher. — Mary H.

DEAR POLLY — Mrs. D. P. can strain the fat in the deep fryer by pouring it through nylon, such as part of a CLEAN stocking, that she stretches over a clean three-pound coffee can. I do this and the nylon catches crumbs, salt, etc. When I use the fat again I need to add very little more. To do this I cut the top of a nylon stocking.

Rich Sauce For an extra rich mushroom sauce, add canned mushrooms to condensed cream of mushroom soup, using about a fourth cup of liquid from the mushrooms for diluting soup. Then add a little soy sauce for extra seasoning.

Buzhardt's Control Of Nixon Tapes, Documents Draws Fire

DALLAS (AP) — Presidential counsel Fred Buzhardt's control over all tapes and documents involved in President Nixon's confrontation with the House Judiciary Committee over certain tapes and documents is causing frustration among the legal staff of special defense counsel James St. Clair, a former St. Clair aide says.

Cecil Emerson Jr., a 39-year-old lawyer who left St. Clair's staff two weeks ago to return to private practice here, said Tuesday that at the crux of Nixon's defense is who is in charge of it.

"My observation is that Buzhardt is still in charge of some aspects—tapes and documents that the Judiciary Committee

"Buzhardt is a political man while St. Clair is a professional of high integrity, but he is not political. He is putting his reputation of the line," Emerson added.

Asked about Emerson's statements, White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said, "Jim St. Clair is very much in control of the entire legal operation. The President looks to him for advice."

Ziegler said St. Clair meets frequently with Nixon and there is "total cooperation" between Buzhardt and St. Clair. "Jim St. Clair had access to all documents and tapes in Buzhardt's custody."

Bell said Tuesday he has information that indicates in addition to the three reported deaths, "at least eight other inmates were pitched over a rail and died in a fiery inferno" after the prison's meat cold storage plant was set afire. Only inmates were in the prison.

"They say only three were killed, but I have information that as many as 11 were unaccounted for and were killed," he said.

Girl Outwits Abduction Try

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A 10-year-old girl on her way to school foiled a kidnap attempt by outwitting her would-be abductor. She escaped unharmed with the aid of a neighbor.

Police told this story: Patricia Marshall and a friend were waiting for a school bus Tuesday on a corner near her home in Lake Vista, a New Orleans subdivision. A man stopped his car, pushed Patricia in on the passenger's side and slammed the door.

Patricia yelled at her friend to run. Then, pretending she couldn't open the car door, she began banging on the car window. The kidnaper, apparently convinced his victim was se-curse, started around to the driver's door.

Then Patricia opened her door. The kidnaper ran back around and tried to close it. Patricia blocked the door with her foot as they struggled. A neighbor, Harvey Schwartzberg, passed by on his way to work and stopped to help.

The kidnaper gave up trying to force the door closed and sped away after Patricia, with Schwartzberg's aid, escaped from the car.

Police are searching for a young man, about 20, with long hair and a moustache. Schwartzberg was unable to get the license number of the car.

It was "a real break the man (Schwartzberg) stopped," a policeman said. "That's the kind of involvement we need."

Fuel Shortages Will Recur Unless Public Keeps Conserving

By STAN BENJAMIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Petroleum shortages will recur despite the end of the Arab oil embargo unless the public continues to save fuel, top government energy officials say.

John C. Sawhill, deputy administrator of the Federal Energy Office, said in an interview Tuesday that gasoline shortages, at their worst, would not get as bad as last February when some motorists waited in service station lines for hours.

But Sawhill said that "some people probably will forget about conservation and some spot shortages of gasoline will develop."

And conservation of fuel oil will be necessary again next winter, said Eric Zausner, FEO assistant administrator for data analysis and planning.

Sawhill and Zausner have estimated that lingering petroleum shortages of 4 to 6 percent this year can be cut to zero.

Here's how:

—This summer, they say, the public should feel free to drive to vacation areas, but should make up for it by saving gasoline in other ways: observing 55-mile-an-hour speed limits, cutting out unnecessary trips and using car pools and public transportation.

—Furthermore, residual or "heavy" fuel oil remains in tight supply, putting the squeeze on electric power generation. Sawhill advises: "Use less air conditioning, and less lights. Save electricity."

—The FEO anti-shortage strategy also calls for continued year-round daylight saving time and the switching of some power plants from burning oil to coal, a move that may delay the achievement of clean-air standards in some areas.

Most of the fuel-saving measures will be voluntary, but Sawhill figures they will be encouraged by the steep petroleum price increases.

The American Automobile Association reported Tuesday that regular gasoline already averages 54 cents a gallon and premium 58 cents a gallon.

Civil Defense Siren To Get Another Chance

Civil Defense officials will test the new warning siren on the Federal Building at noon Thursday.

This is the second test of the device which will warn Midlanders of nuclear attack or natural disaster. During the first test, instead of a loud wail the siren emitted a low moan.

The test will take about 10 minutes.

'Zebra' Assassins Claim 12th Victim

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A young man was gunned down in the street Tuesday night in what police said appeared to be the 18th random attack on whites by one or more black assassins.

The latest victim in the so-called "Zebra" shootings was Nelson T. Shields IV, 23, who was fatally wounded by a gunman who shot him in the back at point-blank range.

"It looks like another Zebra case," said Police Inspector Gus Coreris, referring to the police code name for the case.

A total of 12 persons have been killed and six wounded since last November. In each case, the victims were white and the assailant was black.

County Grand Jury Returns Indictments

The Midland County Grand Jury Tuesday afternoon returned 22 indictments, one no-bill and passed seven cases for reconsideration later.

Alice Young, who had been charged with forgery by passing a forged instrument, was no-billed.

Among indictments were those for Danny Johnson and James Allen Eldred Jr., two of three defendants in the September murder and robbery of Henry Moyah, a Canadian carnival worker.

The other defendant, Tommy Manus, has been tried and sentenced to 20 years in prison.

The three men were indicted together last fall for capital murder but 142nd District Judge Perry Pickett granted severances, allowing the defendants to be tried separately.

Tuesday's indictments of Johnson and Eldred were returned for technical reasons relating to the severances.

Another of the indictments is against Dennis Earl Hodge, charged with aggravated (armed) robbery in connection with last month's holdup of the E-Z

Niger Appoints Military Council

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Army Strong-man Lt. Col. Seyni Kountie named a 12-man "provisional" military council today to rule the drought-stricken West African republic of Niger.

Kountie, who seized power Monday, was named president of the council which was announced in broadcasts from the capital on Niamey Radio monitored in Lagos.

The army toppled the 14-year-old civilian regime of President Hamani Diori, 57, who ruled the landlocked former French colony since independence in 1960.

Nigeria's ambassador to Niger, Sanni Kantagora, returned to Lagos in a military aircraft to confirm the death of Diori's wife, Aïssa, who was shot to death in the overthrow.

Nominations End Soon For Lawman Of The Year

Nominations for the annual Lawman of the Year award will close on April 25 and the recipient will be named during an April 30 banquet at Ranchland Hill Country Club.

The award is sponsored by the four Optimist clubs in Midland—Downtown, Westside, Evening and Breakfast—and the nominations are made by the public.

Nomination forms are available in each of Midland's four banks but Dick Monroe, chairman of the award committee, said citizens are not required to use the forms.

If a letter is used instead, it should include the name of the nominee, the agency for which he works, the reason for which he is being nominated, the name and telephone number of the person making the nomination.

The forms or letters should be mailed to Optimist Respect for Law Program, P.O. Box 3118, Midland.

Nominees should be members of a law enforcement agency in Midland, judges or attorneys here, Monroe said.

After the public nomination deadline, the names of the nominees will be screened by a committee composed of Texas Department of Public Safety regional commander Maj. E. K. Browning, Sheriff Ed Darnell, Police Chief Harold Wallace, Dist. Atty. Jim Mashburn, County Atty. Jimmie Oglesby, Dist. Judge Perry D. Pickett, County Judge Barbara Culver and Midland Municipal Judge Bill Ahders.

That group will pass the nominations back to the Optimist committee with comments and recommendations. The chairman and Lion Jack Cross is club president.

Earlier, Miss Hearst's fiancé said he believes the SLA contrived the bank holdup — in which she carried a carbine — to make people think she had joined the terrorist group.

Steven Weed, 26, told reporters Tuesday that Monday's bank heist, in which two persons were wounded and $10,000 was stolen, was designed "to get people to believe she is converted without having to let her go."

Meanwhile, John Kelly, who heads the FBI office here, said the SLA could have forced Miss Hearst to participate in the robbery by threatening to harm her or her family.

Patricia's father, Randolph A. Hearst, returned Tuesday from a 10-day rest in La Paz, Mexico, and told reporters he had no idea whether his daughter was coerced into joining the bank robbery.

Meanwhile, a federal bank robbery warrant was issued Tuesday for escaped convict Donald D. DeFreeze, the alleged SLA General Field Marshal Cinque. It was the first time the FBI publicly stated DeFreeze was the SLA leader. Authorities have said the group has about 25 members.

PONDERS A QUESTION—Steven Weed ponders a question during a news conference Tuesday in front of the Randolph Hearst home in Hillsborough, Calif. Israelis, Syrians At It Again

By The Associated Press
Israeli and Syrian artillery and tank guns battled again today on Mt. Hermon and along the Golan Heights.

The Israeli military command said Syrian guns pounded Israeli positions on the bitterly contested mountain, wounding one soldier, and the exchanges spread along the 40-mile perimeter around the territory captured in the October war.

The Syrian command reported Syrian and Israeli forces battled on the slopes of Mt. Hermon throughout the night but gave no details. The thud of artillery was heard all night in Damascus, the Syrian capital 23 miles from the Biblical mountain.

The Syrians also said the fighting spread along the front at daybreak.

It was the 37th consecutive day of fighting and coincided with the 29th anniversary of Syria's independence from France.

Syrian President Hafez Assad returned to Damascus from a five-day visit to Moscow, and the two governments announced that the Soviets would increase Syria's military capacity and support Syria's "legal and inalienable right to use all effective means for the liberation of its occupied lands."

Beirut newspapers said the Kremlin pledged early delivery of MIG25 jet fighters and ground-to-ground missiles.

There was mounting war talk in Cairo as President Anwar Sadat warned that an Israeli attack across the Suez Canal would be countered with long-range Egyptian missiles that he said were "still directed at three major Israeli cities."

Egypt is "ready for any eventuality" and has "a starting number" of tanks ready to cross the canal immediately if the need arises, Sadat told a group of students.

Former Guatemala President Says JFK Ordered Coup That Ousted Him

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — Former President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes said the late President John F. Kennedy ordered the coup that overthrew him 11 years ago in retaliation for the failure of the Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba.

In an interview on the eve of the 13th anniversary today of the invasion, Ydigoras Fuentes said the attempt on Fidel Castro's regime failed because of "the great indecisions of President Kennedy."

He said, "As always, he had to find a scapegoat, and that scapegoat was Ydigoras Fuentes... It was through Kennedy's orders that my government was destroyed."

The U.S. Central Intelligence Agency trained the invasion force of about 300 Cuban exiles in Guatemala and Nicaragua while Ydigoras was president. He was overthrown in March 1963, eight months before Kennedy was assassinated.

Now residing in El Salvador after living in the United States, the former president said the purpose of the invasion was to forestall a Cuban "offensive which extended from the United States to all of South America."

"The only way to free ourselves of Castro was to invade Cuba with an army recruited among Cubans who were arriving massively in the United States as refugees," Ydigoras Fuentes continued.

He said that the invasion plan was launched during the administration of President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Kennedy at first opposed it when he took office.

"According to what I was told later, some U.S. elements of the liaison commission with President Kennedy influenced him not to provide the air umbrella just as the Free Cubans were already disembarking in Cuba."

"The heroic Cuban brigade which was to liberate the island landed at the Bay of Pigs area, and the boat which carried the arms and the ammunition was attacked and sunk and the invasion force was encircled and had to surrender."

Pilot Error Said Probable Cause Of Delta Crash

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pilot error probably caused the crash of a Delta DC9 in Boston last July 31 in which 89 persons were killed, the National Transportation Safety Board said today.

The crew was concerned with an erratic instrument when it should have been checking the plane's altitude as it approached fog-bound Logan International Airport, the board said in a report.

The plane was on a flight from Burlington, Vt., and Manchester, N.H., when it slammed into a seawall at the end of a runway on the edge of Boston Harbor.

Thomas Jefferson and John Adams both died on July 4, 1826.

AFTER BEING 'HAD' BY EGYPT'S SADAT—

Russians May Be Tougher To Deal With In Mideast Now

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
An AP News Analysis

The Russians act as if they suspect they've been had by President Anwar Sadat of Egypt, and that can make them tougher to deal with in the search for an over-all Middle East settlement.

Moscow was never very happy in its relationship with Sadat's predecessor, Gamal Abdel Nasser. But it is even more irked with the man who assumed Nasser's mantle in 1970.

This irritation has been increasing ever since the October war. Now, if Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger seems to run into mounting difficulties trying to bring about a military disengagement on the Syrian-Israeli front, it's a good bet Soviet pique has something to do with it.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko has been trying to counter Kissinger's shuttle diplomacy in the Middle East, and Syria is the obvious route. The Kremlin wants badly to shift attention away from Kissinger's activities to an unwieldy Geneva conference where the Russians can be more visible.

Sadat irked Moscow by failing to go along with that idea. But he had annoyed the Russians ever since October, when he failed to consult them on his war plans. He also:

—Neglected to confide in his

Russian allies before agreeing to Kissinger's disengagement proposals.

—Ignored a Soviet proposal that Russian and American officers sit in on the disengagement talks between Egypt and Israel;

—Won majority backing for his policy from an Arab summit in Algiers.

—Ignored Soviet advice and successfully campaigned for suspension of the Arab oil embargo against the United States.

—In a telecast this month reported testily to Soviet complaints and accused Moscow of having opposed the October war and having been niggardly with arms help. At the same time a Cairo newspaper accused Moscow of systematically sabotaging Syria-Israel disengagement efforts and of begrudging Egypt better relations with the Americans.

The Russians have had lots of time to get used to the idea that Sadat trusted them even less than Nasser did.

Sadat is a devout Moslem who fears the Soviet brand of atheistic communism. He gave a detailed account a few years ago of a bruising experience he had with Kremlin hard-sell when he visited Moscow at the head of an Egyptian delegation in May 1961.

At that meeting, Nikita Khrushchev exploded when Sadat suggested Egypt's international affairs were none of his business.

Relations between Cairo and Moscow have always been on-again, off-again. They were severely strained in mid-1971 when Communists in the Sudan, Egypt's neighbor, tried to seize power and failed; and again in 1972 when Sadat suggested the Russians were primarily interested in a war-no peace situation in the Middle East because it would be advantageous to the Communist cause. A few months after that Sadat abruptly told 15,000 Russian military advisers to pack up and go home, and the Kremlin had to grin and bear it.

Clear Skies Prevail Over Most Of U.S.

By The Associated Press
Clear skies and crisp temperatures prevailed over most of the nation today, and the weather was marred only by a few showers.

Scattered showers which washed parts of the Rockies, Central Florida, Kentucky and Tennessee during the night were expected to diminish later in the day.

Cool air moved into the eastern half of the country, and freeze warnings were posted for parts of the Virginias and Maryland.

While early morning readings for most of the nation were in the 30s and 40s, levels in the South reached the 50s and 60s.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 77 at the Key West, Fla., Naval Air Station to 27 at Lebanon, N.H.

Sissy Says Reform Not Dead; Lambasts Briscoe

By ROBERT C. BORDEN

Mrs. Farenthold said saying reform is not dead. Democratic gubernatorial candidate Frances "Sissy" Farenthold lambasted Gov.olph Briscoe Tuesday night at the Regal 8 Inn.

Mrs. Farenthold said "Reform is a step toward open government. I hope the word has not been cheapened and the people turned off."

She said state government has been a "private interest so long it has lost its force to protect the people." The candidate praised the strong lobbyist registration bill passed last year by the state legislature, but she said the reform measures passed are the work of Speaker of the House Price Daniel Jr., not Briscoe.

In speaking of a proposed May debate between herself and the governor — just two days before the primary election — Mrs. Farenthold said, "It is not a matter of helping my campaign. It should be a part of political practice." She said she was willing to "take my chances" in the debate, but Gov. Briscoe has refused to participate.

Hall Paintings Displayed At MNB

Paintings by well-known New Mexico artist James C. Hall have gone on view in the lobby of The Midland National Bank.

Landscapes of mountains and plains, along with paintings of people and interesting architecture of New Mexico are included in the collection, which will remain on exhibition through Friday.

Presently a resident of Ruidoso, the 54-year-old Hall received his art education at the University of New Mexico. He had a recent show of his paintings at Eastern New Mexico University, Portales, and at Las Cruces under sponsorship of the Las Cruces Art Association. In Ruidoso, his paintings are handled by the Pines Gallery. Other gallery representatives include Kachina Gallery, Santa Fe, Brandywine Gallery at Fort Worth and Blocher Galleries in Florida.

The public is invited to view Hall's paintings during regular banking hours Thursday and Friday.

NEW MEMBERS—Dist. Judge Perry D. Pickett, left, administers the oath of office to newly elected school board members James H. Ramsoure, center, and Joe Dominey. Ramsoure is the newly elected Place 1 trustee. Dominey, Place 2 trustee, is beginning his second three-year term.

Ramsoure, Dominey Sworn In As Trustees For School District

New members of the Midland Independent School District Board of Trustees were sworn into office Tuesday.

Newly elected Place 1 Trustee James H. Ramsoure and re-elected Place 2 Trustee Joe Dominey began three-year terms.

The school board also passed a resolution praising retiring Trustee Margaret Cowden.

"My six years on the school board have been quite an experience," Mrs. Cowden told the board. "They have been educational."

All three school board officers were re-elected. C. Wallace Craig will remain school board president, James E. Winget Jr., vice president, and Dominey, secretary.

In other business, the trustees approved in principle contracts with the City of Midland for operation of the joint tax office and with the architectural firm of Neuhardt and Babb for design of vocational education additions at the city's secondary schools.

Minor technical changes will be made in the tax office contract before the school gives final approval to the pact, which also includes tax collection for Midland College.

Charles Neuhardt asked the trustees to inspect his standard contract form. Final approval of the contract is expected at the April 30 school board meeting.

The PTA donated a laminating press and tv cable terminal to West and the Lions Hearing Assistance Program, composed of all Midland Lions, presented a color television to the hearing disabled class at Lamar Elementary School.

Hu Schmidt, coordinator of special education, told the school board the rate of children requiring special education services here is half the national average.

"We really put a lot of emphasis on classroom teachers working with the marginally handicapped," he explained. "This is one of the major reasons for Midland's low special education enrollment."

Enrollment in special education programs currently is 1,281 — an increase from 1,107 in the 1970-71 school year, Schmidt told the trustees.

The major thrust of special education here is identifying children with learning problems as early as possible so that they can be placed in regular classes, he said.

In other business, the school board accepted bids totaling $35,356 for school supplies and transacted routine fiscal and personnel business.

Beef Production Short Course Set

A beef production short course for adult farmers will be held from Monday through Thursday under the sponsorship of the Midland High School Vocational Agriculture Department, according to Dr. James Mailey, superintendent, and Gerald Oakes, teacher of vocational agriculture.

Frank C. Litterst, beef production specialist with the Vocational Agriculture Division of the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Animal Science at Texas A&M University will be the instructor for the course.

Litterst is a graduate of Texas A&M with a degree in animal science. Much of his work has been in livestock production.

After three years of service in the U.S. Army, Litterst served as instructor in the Veterans Agriculture Program in Hays County four years and was district sales manager for Burrus Feed Mills in Fort Worth four years.

He then served as manager for the Baldwin Land & Cattle Co. until 1964. This included operation of a ranch consulting business in Texas and Louisiana.

He has successfully operated his own ranching and farming business consisting of both registered and commercial cattle, sheep, Angora goats, pecans and grain farming. He is a former director of the State Shorthorn Breeders Association and a member of American Angus, and Texas & Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association.

Oakes said Litterst will be available during his stay here for consulting sessions with cattlemen on their individual problems and to provide on-site instructions.

Persons who want to discuss their problems should set up appointments with Oakes by telephone or during the short course sessions.

Cattlemen interested in attending the short course should contact the Vocational Agriculture Department at MHS. An entry fee of $3 is required for the entire four days of the short course.

Beef production short course certificates will be presented to each cattlemen who attends all the sessions.

The short course will deal with methods of producing beef at a lower cost and the ways of producing the kind of beef that the homemaker wants to buy.

The course will include such important topics as cattle reproduction and pregnancy diagnosis, selecting bulls and replacement heifers, calf crop percentages and supplemental winter feeding.

A Great American!

Congressman George H. Mahon arrived here early this afternoon for an overnight stay and, as always, Midlanders are delighted to have the distinguished member of Congress as a guest in the Tall City.

He will deliver the keynote address Thursday night at the banquet opening the 56th annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Odessa.

The welcome mat always is out in Midland for George Mahon who, 40 years ago was elected to represent his West Texas district in Congress. He has done a remarkable and highly satisfactory job all the way, as his outstanding record will show. He has been chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations since 1964.

In walking the halls of Congress with the chairman, one quickly notes the respect and admiration with which he is held by his associates. He is one of the most powerful, yet most humble, modest, considerate and most popular members of Congress. And all the while, he is responsive to the needs of his district, its business interests and its residents.

Many well-deserved honors have been extended to Mahon, two of them in recent months. He received the American Legion's Congressional Distinguished Public Service Award late last year, and more recently he was the recipient of the "Minute Man Award" presented annually by the Reserve Officers Association of the United States. The latter award recognized him as "the citizen who has contributed most to national security in these times."

He is a great American! It is no wonder that all West Texans and many others across the land are proud of him as can be.

It's great to have George Mahon back in Midland!

Howdy, Midland Cubs!

The Midland Cubs baseball team was scheduled to arrive in town at noon today . . . and Midlanders join in directing a loud, sincere, meaningful, typically West Texas WELCOME to the Tall City to the ball players.

The team members have been engaged in spring training at Phoenix, Ariz., and they are said to be ready and anxious to open their home schedule April 23.

Meanwhile, the Midland Cubs Booster Club, headed by Spencer Blocker, is sponsoring a "Meet the Team Barbecue" at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at Cubs Stadium.

This will be a marvelous occasion for Tall City residents to greet and meet the Cubs—those returning to Midland, along with players new to the club.

Let's see to it that the team members are made to feel perfectly at home in the city which they will represent in the Texas League race this season. The best way to do this is to attend opening night festivities and then be on hand to support the team as often as possible thereafter.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: 'Marked man' believes Patty Hearst is outside U.S.

WASHINGTON—A marked man, who inadvertently helped found the Symbionese Liberation Army but is now on its death list, believed, at least until this week's developments, that the kidnaped Patricia Hearst is still alive but is being held outside the U.S.

This was the opinion of Colston Westbrook, a black linguistics instructor, who knows the SLA members and how they think. He became acquainted with them during visits to California's Vacaville prison, where he coordinated the activities of the Black Cultural Association, the forerunner of the SLA.

The SLA now has issued a death contract on Westbrook, calling for him to be shot on sight. My reporter Ed Tropeano arranged to meet him behind the locked doors of a motel room.

Westbrook discounts Patty Hearst's statement that she has joined the SLA. The language she used, he said, sounds like his former friend. "It was too much like the way they talk for me to believe she said it out of her own free will, he told us, adding:

"They like to do the unexpected just to mix people up. Besides, Patty Hearst isn't the type of person they're looking for to join."

Westbrook believes Patty is too useful to the SLA to be killed. He's "sure" she is alive.

It was Westbrook who brought Donald DeFreeze into the Black Cultural Association at Vacaville prison. Westbrook wanted to break the influence of white radicals on the black society and thought the strong-willed, white-hating DeFreeze could do it.

Evolved Into SLA
 The group evolved into the Symbionese Liberation Army, with DeFreeze as its purported leader. He now calls himself "General Field Marshal Cinque."

But Westbrook claims he has learned from his contacts that DeFreeze, an escaped convict, is merely a figurehead and that the SLA is still run by the white radicals.

Westbrook says there has been racial dissension, however, within the SLA. "It's the same old thing," he said. "These people claim they're working for the good of the black community when really all they care about is their own ego."

Footnote: As evidence of his close former ties with the SLA, Westbrook showed my reporter considerable documentation including his own detailed diary.

MILK MONEY: The Watergate prosecutors secretly are bargaining for a guilty plea from the president of a $100 million-a-year milk cooperative, which unwittingly supplied "hush money" for the Watergate conspirators.

BRUCE BLOSSAT The Industrial World Is Seeking Leadership

WASHINGTON (NEA)—From what I've learned from some Europeans and from Japanese leaders in recent weeks, it is clear that the realists in the free industrial world still count upon America for the critical leadership.

French Premier Pierre Messmer's recent comment, suggesting France and the United States are engaged in some kind of duel for domination of Europe, is from a dreamland. Except as an anchor-drag, France doesn't figure large in the hard thinking presently going on about the free world's future.

The crucial, stable economic core of Western Europe is formed by West Germany (despite Chancellor Willy Brandt's undoubted political troubles), Holland and—through its financial influence—Switzerland, the latter of course not a member of the nine-nation European Economic Community.

In these relatively stable places, for all the talk of the need for the promise of greater internal integration of the European countries, the word is plain and simple: The United States is the big one, and must show the way.

In Japan, though leaders practice the litany of saying they should exercise more diversity in foreign policy, they make it resoundingly clear in private talks that they continue to believe America has to exhibit imaginative leadership out of an economic morass that engulfs all.

The view in the free world is virtually universal—that from the borders of Eastern Europe to the waters beyond Japan, everyone is in the same muck and mire of inflation, shortages and a generally uncertain raw materials outlook, and so on.

The confident, stable elements in this sprawling industrial community do not today worry all that much about U.S. domination. They want to get out of the mess, they recognize our size and power as something special and see American leadership as a properly inevitable consequence of it.

Their regret, naturally, is that 1973 was not the Year of Europe. President Nixon promised. Deflected from that purpose by the scandals of Watergate, he who prides himself so much upon his foreign policy achievements, caused the free world perhaps irretrievable loss.

The concern at the far end of the two great oceans is not with the morality of the Nixon regime, but with the fact that Watergate was in 1973 a distraction and in 1974 threatens the industrial nations with the unknown.

Western Europe's plight is obviously the worst. No need to dwell upon Italy's revolting chaos, Britain's enfeeblement or France's arrogant pretensions to power it does not have.

The guiding reality is that even in a community presuming to "integrate" leadership must be taken. And the logical European leader is West Germany, the strongest and most consistent performer—again, notwithstanding its difficulties. But a Europe remembering Hitler has never been able to contemplate such logic realistically. West Germans, I learn from talks, are keenly attentive to their new-born good relations with stubborn France.

They feel caught, not wishing to sully these new ties, but convinced America should be scouting the way out of today's dilemmas.

Some might put Japan's utterances of reliance on our leadership as now just a genera-

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:
 I see where the "Campaign Reformers" aim to stop people from contributing to presidential candidates of their choice.

Instead, every taxpayer will be compelled to pay into a campaign fund which then will be divided among whatever candidates a fund czar decides he wants to give it to.

It would be cheaper and get about the same results just to eliminate all of the trauma of holding elections and hire a personnel czar to pick a president and a set of lawmakers every four years.

DON OAKLEY Forcing The Wrong Impeachment Issue

WASHINGTON (NEA)—It is clear now that President Nixon's last line of defense against the gathering storm of impeachment is to identify himself with the office of the presidency that Congress, and behind Congress the American public, will shrink from pursuing the issue to its ultimate extreme.

As Mr. Nixon has stated repeatedly in appearances around the country, he will do nothing that in his judgement would weaken the presidency. He has no constitutional choice but to resist demands from the legislative branch which—again in his judgement—are a breach of the principle of separation of powers.

Taking his stand on this lofty and embattled ground, his refusal to comply with requests by the House Judiciary Committee that amount to virtually unlimited access to White House tapes and documents is thus imbued with the highest patriotic motives. It is not merely for the sake of the present incumbent, but for all those who in the future will occupy the first office in the land.

The argument cuts two ways, however. If it is his duty to do what on the one hand preserves the presidency, Mr. Nixon cannot escape the responsibility for having done or not done what on the other hand may have compromised it.

Merely by his official connection with the major figures in the Watergate scandal, simply by virtue of having appointed them to their positions and failed to oversee their activities, Mr. Nixon has suffered the executive branch to be thrown into great disrepute.

The question is not whether the President's co-operation in his own impeachment inquiry would weaken the presidency. It is whether the powers and responsibilities of the office have not already been abused or misused by its present holder that his impeachment may be the only way of cleansing the presidency and restoring it to its proper place as one of the three coequal and balanced branches of the government. The one thing Americans must bear in mind is that an impeachment proceeding need not necessarily mean the removal of the President. It is, or should be, a calling of him to account for certain specific actions by him which, in the judgment of a majority of the House of Representatives, may have been illegal or in violation of the Constitution and his oath of office—an indictment which would be weighed by the Senate sitting as a court.

Unfortunately, by resisting the attempts of the House to ascertain the facts of the matter—especially his personal involvement, if any, in the Watergate break-in and cover-up—Mr. Nixon is forcing the issue as one between Congress and "the presidency" and giving it the color of a sheer power contest between the two branches.

Such a contest he believes he can win—and, indeed, if that was all that it was about, he would, like Andrew Johnson before him, deserve to win.

But the presidency is not in peril from the Watergate investigators. It will endure long after they and Richard Nixon depart the scene, and whatever Mr. Nixon's own fate may be.

The real danger is that by putting Congress in the position of attacking not him but the office he holds, and possibly winning on this ground the right to complete his term in office, Mr. Nixon will not only leave all the questions about himself and Watergate forever unresolved but may place his successors forever above the reach of constitutional accountability.

This would truly "strengthen the presidency." It also would gravely impair the health of the American system of government.

The Country Person

"While boys dream of what they'll do as men, — men are dreaming of what they'd do if they were boys."

—Rep. Louis Stokes, D-Ohio.

TIMELY QUOTES

"If I have a criticism of Congress, it is that having passed good legislation, and seen the President veto it, they are not men enough to stand up to him and override. That may well be where people are faulting Congress — for not standing up to its constitutional responsibility."

MITCHELL FINISHED— Stans Will Testify

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell finished his testimony before a federal court jury trying him on a criminal conspiracy charge. Now it is the turn of his codefendant and one-time Cabinet colleague, Maurice H. Stans.

Mitchell testified under cross-examination Tuesday that he appointed Harry L. Sears as Republican campaign manager in New Jersey in 1972. Sears was one of the government's star witnesses against Mitchell.

On the same basis, the government brought out that Mitchell was instrumental in the appointment of William J. Casey as chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission and of ousted White House counsel John W. Dean III to his initial administration job in the Justice Department.

"Isn't it true, Mr. Mitchell, that your testimony is directly contradictory to that of all three of these men?" the witness was asked, in an attempt

Dean testified that Mitchell who was lying rather than the once called him and asked him to look into the Mitchell-Stans grand jury case. A defense objection was sustained on grounds the question was improper and it went unanswered. With that Mitchell's cross-examination was at an end.

Stans, Secretary of Commerce in President Nixon's first Cabinet, is scheduled to begin his testimony after the trial resumes today. There may be a final, minor defense witness first for Mitchell.

Mitchell and Stans are accused of using their influence to obstruct a massive fraud investigation by the SEC into the financial empire of Robert L. Vesco, in exchange for the latter's secret $200,000 cash contribution to President Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign.

Mitchell's place on the witness stand was taken in mid-afternoon by the man who replaced him as Atty. Gen., Richard G. Kleindienst.

Kleindienst's testimony was elicited in support of Mitchell's denial that he ever had such a conversation with Dean after the latter had gone to the White House. Kleindienst said at the outset: "I think of John Mitchell as one of the closest, most intimate friends I've ever had in my life."

"I have no recollection of any such call from Mr. Dean," Kleindienst went on. "I have no recollection of any conversation with Mr. Dean on this subject."

"Do you deny it happened?" he was asked.

"Well, I don't believe it happened," Kleindienst replied.

"Certainly, he didn't say anything to me about acting as a conduit or messenger boy for Mr. Mitchell, because Mr. Mitchell didn't need a messenger boy between us."

Problem Of Exploding Bottles Will Be Studied At Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Marion S. Gronemeyer was carrying a bottle of fruit juice in her kitchen when it shattered in her hand. She says the wounds she suffered from the accident required "a year of treatment, casts, therapy and tests."

Mrs. Robert V. Estes was opening a bottle of ginger ale when the top of the bottle exploded. Despite the care of specialists, according to her husband, "the flexibility and mobility of her right thumb is extremely limited and an uncomfortable nerve reaction exists."

The Consumer Product Safety Commission estimates that about 62,000 such accidents occur annually, with about 25,000 resulting injuries requiring treatment in hospital emergency rooms.

The problems of exploding glass bottles will be considered at commission hearings today and Thursday.

The hearings will include testimony from persons injured by exploding bottles and representatives of bottling companies, including the National Soft Drink Association and the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute, Inc.

In a letter to the commission, Mrs. Gronemeyer, of Santa Ana, Calif., said that had she not been helped quickly she may have bled to death as a result of her injuries.

According to Estes, of South Milwaukee, Wis., his wife "started the twist off operation and before the separation of the crown from the anchoring, the top of the bottle exploded with a loud bang."

Dr. Lawrence Kushner, a commission member said that a survey of 119 hospitals across the nation indicated that approximately 110,000 injuries a year are associated with glass containers and must be treated in emergency rooms. Approximately one-quarter are associated with exploding bottles, but many more are treated in physicians' offices or at home.

BY JUSTICE DEPARTMENT— Suspension Of AP Photographer Hit

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A Justice Department official criticized The Associated Press Tuesday night for suspending a photographer who gave information to FBI agents about the Indian occupation of Wounded Knee.

John W. Hushen, the department's director of public information, called the suspension "deplorable" in a speech to the Milwaukee chapter of Sigma Delta Chi.

"Newsmen are citizens too. They have responsibilities like other citizens. And when they see criminal activities occurring they have the same obligation as other citizens to cooperate with law enforcement authorities," Hushen said.

He said that when the photographer, James Mone, left the Indian encampment, FBI agents asked only what he had seen.

"It was extremely difficult to get good intelligence from inside Wounded Knee and we took advantage of opportunities as they presented themselves," Hushen said.

"And what kind of an example do we have set by the world's largest news gathering agency? One of actually discouraging citizens from cooperating with law enforcement, with condoning those who say they don't want to get involved, with penalizing someone for doing his duty."

"I'm personally appalled at the AP's action here. Speaking for the department, it was deplorable."

After Groves tagged Torres out, he fired to second where it sailed into right field with Clingman scoring on the miscue.

A double play got Frazier off the hook in the second inning and it was a key play since Izzard lined a drive off the screen above the left field fence after the two-killing for a double, but David Richards struck out swinging.

San Angelo made it interesting in the fourth with a pair of runs and got a little greedy in trying to steal home with the bases loaded, but was backed. Groves and Ellwanger hit back-to-back now 6-9 on the year and 0-2 singles and Don Keele was safe in the second half of loop play when Stevens bobbled a and tires Odessa in San Angelo grounder at first with Groves Saturday.

Bulldogs Defeat Big Spring 7-6

Battles Sparks Rally For Pack In Seventh

By TERRY WILLIAMSON
R-T Sports Writer
BIG SPRING - With a little help from Big Spring fielding here Tuesday, Midland High's tenacious Bulldogs pulled off a four-run uprising in the seventh inning to down the Steers 7-6 in a second half District 5-4A baseball title.

The daring come-from-behind victory give the 'Dogs a 10-11 season mark and a perfect 2-0 second half reading. Lee, Cooper and Abilene also won Tuesday to keep the loop in a virtual stalemate for second half honors.

From the baseball purist standpoint, the game was not a thing of beauty with 13 errors being committed, but something has to be said for the Bulldogs' never-say-die attitude that allowed them to make up a 4-0 deficit after a Big Spring explosion in the first inning.

In fact, the Pack went into the final frame trailing 6-3, but managed to score four runs to take the victory with the help of three Big Spring errors and three hits.

Brandon Battles, having his best day at the plate with four consecutive singles, led off the seventh with a single to left to start the rally. Terry Copeland followed with a hot shot down the third base line and that's when Bulldog destiny began to take over.

Terrill Littlejohn, who got the victory for the Purples - his second in five days, then rolled a grounder to third. Littlejohn was safe at first, but Steer third baseman, John Morellon, overthrew first in an attempt to catch the already safe Littlejohn. Both Battles and Littlejohn...

BARBECUE AT STADIUM—

Midland Cubs Meet Fans On Thursday

Walt Dixon's 1974 Midland Cubs will receive a welcoming sendoff into the Texas League race at a Cubs Stadium barbecue 6:30 p.m. Thursday with Ernie Banks, all-time Chicago Cub great popularly known as "Mr. Cub", and Texas League President Bobby Bragan scheduled to be on hand for the festivities.

The meet-the-Cubs fete is open to the public and tickets are available at the Chamber of Commerce and the Cubs East Wall Tower business office. Manager Walt Dixon and his 25-player roster arrived in Midland at 12:30 p.m. today from Scottsdale, Ariz., and immediately began house and apartment hunting.

The Cubs open the 1974 Texas League baseball season with a four-game series Friday at San Antonio against last year's West Division pennant winners and return to Cubs Stadium for their home opener against the Amarillo Giants Tuesday night.

Banks, an all-time great, earned his "Mr. Cub" title in a 19-year Wrigley Field playing career in which he hit 512 homers, won the National League's most valuable player award twice and was picked on the NL's All-Star team 13 times.

Jal Batters Crane By 6-0

JAL, N.M. — The Jal Panthers crushed the Crane Golden Cranes, 6-0, here Tuesday in a non-conference baseball contest. The loss left the Birds with a 1-1 record on the year. Warren Hunt struck out eight Crane batters in his distance going performance for Jal while Tinker Cadena was charged with the loss. David Thurman had a double for Crane to lead an eight hit attack, but the Cranes could not get on the scoreboard.

Chief Veterans Won't Work Out

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs' veterans say they will not participate in off-season workouts this weekend because there is no contract in effect between the National Football League owners and the players' association. The announcement was made Monday by Chiefs' running back Ed Podolak, the team's player representative.

Ernie served as a coach for Chicago the last two years, following his retirement and now serves as one of the Bruins' roving instructors. Banks, as much as for his skills on the field, became Mr. Cub for his unquenchably optimistic outlook on baseball, the Cubs' and life.

With Bragan, the noted warbler and piano player on hand, along with the effervescent Banks, it should be a night to remember. After a month of spring training in Scottsdale, Dixon brings to Midland a team that will blend the old and the new and Walt, the veteran of 34 years in pro ball and 17 in the Cubs organization, hopes the combination will produce a winner.

Midland was scheduled to wind up its exhibition schedule Tuesday, but Dixon decided not to play since he is down to one catcher due to the injury to Greg Collins who is out for two weeks. The Cubs were to have played Shreveport in Tempe. Midland finished its Cactus League schedule with a 10-11-1 record.

CUB BRIEFS — Wichita's Aeros, the Cubs' AAA affiliate, sacked Denver, 7-1, Tuesday night in their opener as third baseman Ron Dumm, a former Midland Cub, hit a two-run triple and two-run homer while outfielder Jim Tyrone and infielder Rob Sperring had two hits each. It wasn't that good a night, however, for another ex-Cub, Pete LaCock, who went 0-for-4 with three whiffs.

The decision paid off. Havlicek, who had fired in a remarkable 19 points in the first period, only three short of the NBA record of 22—hitting his last seven shots for Boston's final 14 points of the quarter, didn't draw another foul. He played the rest of the way and wound up as the game's high scorer with 27 points. "I kept him in because that's where the game was going to be won or lost," explained Heinsohn. "If I take him out, the first minute, he took out his sixth defensive bulwark, Dave DeBusschere, who was limping.

Heinsohn took his calculated risk with 3:10 remaining in the quarter when his superstar and captain, John Havlicek, incurred his fifth personal foul. The Celtics, spurred by a 19-4 lead, decided to reinstate the veteran forward. DeBusschere, playing with what he said was an injured groin muscle, was completely ineffective, missing all seven of his field goal attempts in the second half. Don Nelson chipped in with 23 points and 10 rebounds for the Celtics, Jo Jo White contributed 22 points and Cowens had 15 points and a game-high 18 rebounds. Walt Frazier led the Knicks with 21 points, one more than Bill Bradley.

The moves by Heinsohn and Holzman both came in the decisive third period, when the Celtics turned a 60-53 halftime deficit into an 86-84 lead, outscoring New York 33-14. Heinsohn took his calculated risk with 3:10 remaining in the quarter when his superstar and captain, John Havlicek, incurred his fifth personal foul.

Celtics, Bucks Nab Playoff Wins

NEW YORK (AP) — Boston Coach Tom Heinsohn gambled and won. New York Coach Red Holzman took a chance and lost. And because of those two decisions, the Celtics beat the Knicks 111-99 Tuesday night and took a commanding 2-0 lead in their National Basketball Association Eastern Conference best-of-seven final series, which continues in Boston Friday night.

In the only other pro basketball action Tuesday night the Milwaukee Bucks whipped the Chicago Bulls 101-85 in game one of the NBA Western Conference finals. The moves by Heinsohn and Holzman both came in the decisive third period, when the Celtics turned a 60-53 halftime deficit into an 86-84 lead, outscoring New York 33-14.

Heinsohn took his calculated risk with 3:10 remaining in the quarter when his superstar and captain, John Havlicek, incurred his fifth personal foul.

ABA Holding Draft

Seek Walton, Thompson, Barnes

By BERT ROSENTHAL — NEW YORK (AP) — The Pistons until 1979, including All-Americans Bill Walton, David Thompson and Marvin Barnes of Providence and John Shumate of Notre Dame. The NBA, which limited its 1973 collegiate draft to seniors, has not yet tapped any of the big names. It will hold its 1974 draft following the play-off season, picked most of the stars of the 1973-74 season last year in special player franchise.

Aeros To Face Minnesota In WHA Playoff Series

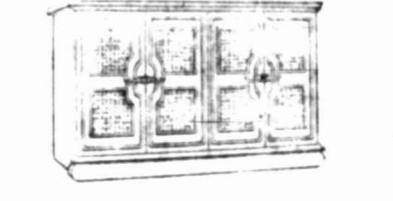

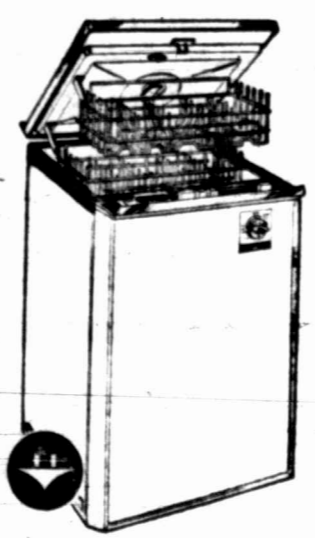

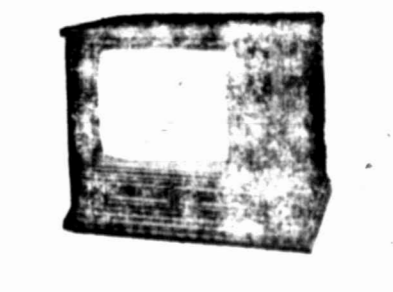

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Aeros defenseman John Schella will say the upcoming World Hockey Association series between Schella and the Minnesota Fighting Saints should be a physical contest. "Our games have been physical ones all year and I don't see any reason why that should change now," Schella said.

The winner of the series will claim the West Division title and move into the final series with the East Division winner. Houston has a 5-3 edge over the Saints in regular season play but Minnesota was one team the Aeros couldn't handle completely. After winning the first four games between the two clubs, Houston lost three of the last four. "Guys like (John) Arbour

Prime Interest Rate Increase Cools Off Recent Rally

NEW YORK (AP) - Another prime rate increase cooled off the stock market's recent rally today.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 63 at 851.86, and gainers clung to a narrow lead over losers on the New York Stock Exchange.

Citizens and Southern National Bank of Atlanta became the fourth bank to raise its prime lending rate above the former record high of 10 per cent, putting the key rate at 10 1/4 on existing loans and 10 1/2 on new ones.

Cadence Industries was the NYSE volume leader, unchanged at 3 in trading marked by a 100,000-share block at that price.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up 30 at 94.30.

Brokers generally credited a strong rally Tuesday to hopes that short term interest rates, as mirrored by the prime, were at or near a peak and would soon turn downward. Citizens and Southern's move at least temporarily chilled that optimism, analysts said.

Avias was down 4 at 14 1/4 after the announcement that American Express would not proceed with plans to acquire the company from International Telephone. ITT was off 1/4 at 23 1/4.

Polaroid, which came in with lower quarterly earnings this morning, dropped 3 1/2 to 61 1/2.

Favorable first quarter figures, meanwhile, helped Monsanto, up 1/2 at 62 in active trading, and North American Coal, up 1 1/2 at 32 1/2.

Consolidated Oil & Gas was the Amex volume leader, up 1/4 at 8 1/4. Trading was halted in the issue for dissemination of news of a gas find in Webb County, Texas.

The NYSE's noon index of all its listed common stocks stood at 49.17, up .03.

Travis Elementary Choir Performs For Lions Club

The 120-voice choir of Travis Elementary School performed for the Midland Downtown Lions Club at its meeting held today noon in the American Legion Hall.

The choir is directed by Mrs. Gary R. (Carol) Hall, who formerly was the sweetheart of the Downtown Lions Club.

The program was arranged and introduced by Bill Collyns, program chairman for April.

The Travis Choir is made up of fourth, fifth and sixth grade students. It is a volunteer unit which holds its practice sessions before school opens.

Appearing with the choir was the Travis "Ball Bearing" Band. It was explained that the band has the ball and the audience does the bearing. Members of the band, boys from Class 6-C, have made their own instruments; none is "store bought," Mrs. Hall said in introducing the group.

Among the selections sung by the choir were "What Color Is God's Skin?" "If I Was God" from "Tom Sawyer," and "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You."

Following the concert, the choir members took their sack lunches to the patio of the First United Methodist Church for a picnic. After eating, they went into the sanctuary to view the windows and to hear selections played on the pipe organ.
