Hostages Held By Gunman

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — A gunman wounded a policeman during a bank robbery today, then grabbed several hostages and threatened to shoot one of them unless police gave him a squad car and driver for a getaway, authorities said.

Police estimated six hostages were being held in the bank, and the gunman indicated one of them was a policeman.

The gunman entered the bank shortly after noon, police arrived shortly afterward, and the gunman wounded one officer in a shootout that also shattered the bank's big windows, police said.

Police brought welding equipment to the rear of the bank (See HOSTAGES, Page 10A)

Syrian Positions Bombed, Strafed By Israeli Planes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israeli planes bombed and strafed Syrian positions on strategic Mt. Hermon again today, Egypt hinted it might join the battle, and another terrorist explosion erupted in a Tel Aviv suburb, injuring 13 persons, officials reported.

The Israeli planes scrambled following artillery barrages aimed at Israeli troops occupying the 9,232-foot mountaintop, often described as Israel's Middle East eyes, an Israeli spokesman said.

Mahon Tours Center

Congressman George H. Mahon, in Midland on a brief visit, this morning toured the new Federal Building-Post Office Center now nearing completion in the central business district.

He said he was amazed at the progress made since his last visit, and well pleased with the design, beauty and overall appearance of the huge facility. He said he plans to be back in Midland for the dedication ceremony scheduled later this year.

The congressman this morning also met with a government class at Midland High School, speaking to the students and then answering their questions. He later visited the construction sites of Midland College and the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum.

He was a special guest of the Midland Downtown Rotary Club at its noon meeting.

Mahon arrived in the Tall City from Washington early Wednesday afternoon. He was met by city officials and chamber of commerce leaders and escorted into Midland, where he (See MAHON, Page 10A)

At the same time Syrian gunners also opened up on Israeli forces in the southern sector of the 300-square-mile Syrian enclave captured last October, the Israelis said. But the Syrians charged the Israelis with firing first.

It was the second straight day Israeli planes were called into action and the fourth time in a week.

Israel has held all high ground on Hermon since the outbreak war. From the craggy windswept top viewers can see Damascus and beyond, the Israelis say.

In Cairo, War Minister Ahmed Ismail said Egypt would fight alongside the Syrians if the situation on the Golan Heights became critical.

Ismail, who is commander in chief of the armies of both Syria and Egypt, said: "If the fighting became more serious or the situation became critical, no doubt we will take part."

In the Tel Aviv suburban village of Pardes Katz, an Israeli-made hand grenade exploded, wounding 12 Arabs and one Jew, the Israeli military command reported.

Sadat, Russians 'Drifting Apart'

CAIRO (AP) — President Anwar Sadat said today Russia has declined to give Egypt some of the arms it has asked meet with the Kremlin chiefs.

"As a responsible man before my people and the Arab nations, I cannot stand handcuffed and remain six months doing nothing, without taking any action to give the needed protection and guarantees to the whole Arab cause."

There has been a steady cooling of relations between Cairo and Moscow over the past few months.

"The Soviet Union has hesitated for the past six months to respond to some of our arms requests, and accordingly I have ordered the armed forces to look for arms sources from others and this has already been implemented," Sadat said.

He spoke before a joint meeting of the Arab Socialist Union and People's Assembly. The address was carried by Cairo radio.

Sadat described the Soviet failure to supply the requested arms as "a misunderstanding for which I find no reason. We still seek their friendship and want it but let it be known we base our friendship on our interests and principles."

Sadat added that "the misunderstanding with the Soviet Union may be caused because of our new friendly approaches with the United States.

"Our relations with the United States have improved because the Americans have changed their policy regarding the Middle East problem."

"U.S. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger has exerted quite an effort to settle the Middle East problem after the U.S. bias toward Israel."

Referring to improving American-Soviet relations, Sadat said, "If the two superpowers have decided to defend each other I don't see why we should seek the enmity of any country."

AT TAXPAYERS' EXPENSE— Four Dozen Solons Traveling Overseas

By DAVID C. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — While Congress is in recess, almost four dozen senators and representatives are traveling overseas at taxpayer expense — "feeding at the trough" as one State Department official put it. Many are accompanied by their wives.

The legislators are members of delegations to international conferences in Romania, Malaysia, Korea and Taiwan.

Their itineraries also include stops in Paris, Athens, Istanbul, Singapore and Hong Kong. They travel in Air Force planes, and at each stop are eligible for $75 a day spending money.

On two of the trips, the congressional delegations will meet with legislators from other countries to "talk and pass resolutions on international topics of the day," said the State Department official who asked not to be named. A third group will look on as observers while outgoing Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz participates in the annual meeting of the Asian Development Bank in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia.

On all three trips, some wives are going along "for protocol reasons," said an aide to Rep. Melvin Price, D-Ill. Price and his wife are part of a 50-person delegation headed by House Majority Leader Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill, D-Mass., attending interparliamentary conferences in South Korea and Taiwan.

The State Department handles arrangements for most overseas trips but refers all queries concerning itineraries to Capitol Hill.

Asked why the State Department would not release unclassified information relating to travel at public expense, one department official explained that "their first allegiance is to the congressmen, and you don't want to be running around advertising that your principals are feeding at the trough."

Members of the O'Neill delegation are stopping off for two days in Hong Kong, with the option of a side trip to Saigon, on the way to South Korea and Taiwan, Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., and his wife went along because "he thought it'd be a fun trip," an aide said.

The group of 19 senators and congressmen, plus wives and staff members, attending the annual meeting of the Interparliamentary Union in Bucharest, Romania, are going by way of Greece, Turkey and Bulgaria, a memo to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee says, and will fly to Paris for the weekend before returning home.

Members of the House and Senate Banking committees left Monday aboard the plane carrying Secretary Shultz and will spend time in the Philippines, Indonesia and Singapore before arriving in Kuala Lumpur next week, for the two-day meeting (See CONGRESSMEN, 10A)

Violent Thunderstorms Rage In Panhandle-Plains Section

Violent thunderstorms raged in the Panhandle-Plains section and over much of far West Texas during the night, and light showers fell early today in parts of North Texas.

Midland has a slight chance for some of those showers on Friday, according to the National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal. Forecasters put the precipitation probability Friday at 20 per cent.

Temperatures today and Friday should peak in the middle 90s, with tonight's low near 60. Wednesday's high was 73 and the low today was 59.

It was at least partly cloudy over Central and most of East Texas this morning. Skies were clear in other sections.

The heavier storms lashed areas from around Shamrock to Littlefield in the Panhandle-Plains area, and a section including Pecos, Fort Stockton, Van Horn and Alpine in the far west. There was no report of damage according to The Associated Press.

Light breezes from the east, and southeast kept warm, damp air flowing into the state this morning from the Gulf of Mexico. That tended to keep temperatures mild and the readings near dawn ranged from 71 degrees at Brownsville and McAllen in the Lower Rio Grande Valley down to 43 at Dalhart in the Panhandle. Wednesday afternoon's top marks went as high as 85 at El Paso. Texarkana was the coolest spot with a maximum of 66. Forecasts promised partly cloudy and mild weather throughout the state with a few showers dotting extreme South Texas.

Midland's Fire Insurance Premiums Will Be Given Credit For First Time

For the first time in several years, Midland fire insurance premiums will be given a credit this year and residents with fire insurance may save more than $33,000 if this year's rates remain the same as 1973's.

The new five-year loss ratio, which compares fire losses with insurance premiums paid, is 38 per cent. Fire Marshal Bill Tarver said.

This gives Midlanders a 5 per cent credit on their insurance, which means that if the insurance costs $100, $5 will be subtracted for a cost of $95 to the policy purchaser.

The main reason for the credit is 1968 losses were dropped from the five-year scale when 1973 was added. The fire loss in 1968 was much higher than 1973.

A major fire in the Village shopping center occurred in 1967. Bob Boydston for insecticides. (Adv.)

and went on the books in 1968. It cost about $250,000.

Losses last year amounted to $148,143 and premiums paid came to $662,309. During the preceding year, losses were $169,818 and premiums were $361,966.

More than $376,500 in losses were dropped when the 1968 figures were removed from the five-year scale.

Now, the five-year scale shows $992,450 in losses and $2,362,793 in insurance premiums paid during that time.

Because of the large losses in 1968 and the accumulated losses in smaller fires over the years, Midlanders were charged an additional 10 per cent on fire insurance in both 1970 and 1971.

In 1972, the additional charge was reduced to 5 per cent and last year there was no charge or credit on insurance premiums.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica signed an order today permitting the issuance of a subpoena demanding President Nixon turn over records and tapes of 64 White House conversations.

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — A policeman and a gunman were killed and another policeman and a hostage wounded today during a foiled bank robbery, police reported.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported today that the nation's economy took a much steeper nosedive than expected in the first quarter of the year, while prices soared at a double digit rate.

Special Elections Results Could Shape Campaign Plans

By WALTER R. MEARS
An AP News Analysis
WASHINGTON (AP) — And now Bob Traxler takes his place beside John P. Murtha, Richard VanderVeen, Thomas Luken and Robert Lagomarsino.

But the way they got there will be a significant factor in shaping campaign strategy in both political parties for the congressional election season just ahead.

For they are the men who won the special House elections in 1974, all in what had been safe Republican districts. All but Californian Lagomarsino are Democrats.

"No Republican should assume he has a safe seat any more," said Sen. Robert F. Griffin of Michigan, the Senate GOP whip.

Democrat Traxler's victory in the Saginaw, Mich., area made it four out of five for Democrats — and while the White House said President Nixon was not disheartened, some Republicans who will be running in November obviously were.

"It appears some Democrats are riding the President's coattail to Washington," said Republican Gov. William G. Milliken of Michigan, where VanderVeen earlier captured another traditionally GOP House seat.

In each of the five special elections, the issues raised had included national and area economic problems, Watergate and the President himself.

Although Nixon spent a day campaigning for Traxler's Republican opponent, the White House maintained that the President had not become the big issue in Tuesday's election.

Other Republicans about the danger of damage to the two-party system itself, sound a good deal like the GOP comeback theme that followed landslide congressional losses in the 1964 presidential defeat of Sen. Barry Goldwater.

The special elections, the polls, and other indicators of the national mood, are likely to lead many Republican candidates to seek to put some room between themselves and the administration, particularly the President. Nixon was quoted weeks ago as saying privately that he understood some Republicans would find it necessary to do so. Democratic candidates are just as likely to do what Traxler did, and try to depict their GOP rivals as Nixon men.

That, and the comments of Ford and other GOP leaders said the Democratic special election victories should have no bearing on House action on Nixon's impeachment.

Of course, there are four more Democratic votes now. But the political situation could have a more significant indirect effect on Republican House members. The defeats, the polls, and in many cases, their own surveys of constituents, indicate that the President's political power has ebbed to the point at which it doesn't have to be a factor in their individual decisions on impeachment.

While politicians weigh the impact of their elections, Reps. Traxler, VanderVeen, Lagomarsino, Murtha of Pennsylvania and Luken of Ohio will have to start campaigning all over again.

The terms they won last only for the balance of this year. To stay in the House, they'll have to run and win again in November.

Sawhill Says Major Thrust Of Agency Will Be Toward Conservation of Energy

WASHINGTON (AP) — John C. Sawhill, designated Wednesday to head the Federal Energy Office, says the major thrust of his agency over the next 12 to 18 months will be toward energy conservation.

Sawhill promised when his appointment was announced to send the President a plan by Nov. 1, to make the nation self-sufficient in energy.

But in an interview before the announcement Sawhill said it would take several years at least to achieve any substantial increases in U.S. domestic oil and gas production.

In the meantime, he said, the nation's imports of petroleum will continue to increase — making it even more vulnerable to sudden interruptions of supply, such as the recent Arab oil embargo.

During the next few years, the only way to reduce the imports and the threat is to reduce U.S. petroleum demand.

"My approach would be to pursue very vigorous conservation," Sawhill said.

Sawhill's attitude should be welcome to the administration's top environmental advisers, Environmental Protection Administrator Russell E. Train and Chairman Russell W. Peterson of the Council on Environmental Quality.

Train charged Monday that energy conservation was most-ly just talk so far and said he was no great push in that direction by the Federal Energy Office, which has authority over energy conservation programs.

Peterson is urging a national goal of reducing the growth rate of energy consumption from its recent 4 or 5 per cent a year to 1.8 per cent.

Sawhill talks in terms of a 3 per cent energy growth rate.

But rather than setting an arbitrary target Sawhill says "we've got to put in front of the American people some of the difficult choices we have to make."

"Let's say we can build another Alaska pipeline but there are environmental and resource costs; or we can drive in smaller cars and maybe save enough gasoline to make the pipeline unnecessary. We've got to make that kind of choice," Sawhill said.

The FEO plans to hold public hearings this summer on the issues involved in the drive for energy self-sufficiency.

Court Suit Accuses Harris County Judge

HOUSTON (AP) — County Judge Bill Elliott is accused in a civil suit of using county labor and materials to help build a summer home on Lake LBJ. Elliott denied the accusations Wednesday and said he plans to file a counter action charging libel and harassment.

Floyd E. Neeley, 47, a former employe in the county engineer's department, filed the suit which contained almost no details of his charge.

"If they had something they would certainly have come up with something a lot stronger than this," Elliott replied.

Neeley did not allege any criminal activity but said Elliott should be forced to pay back any money expended and also be required to pay $20,000 in punitive damages.

Elliott charged that suit was a political one. He is currently standing for re-election in the May 4 Democratic primary.

Neeley's lawyer, Larry B. Kerfoot, insisted he had not filed a frivolous or political lawsuit but a serious one based on a large number of statements made by present and past county employes.

He refused to release the statements, saying the employes' jobs would be in jeopardy.

Kerfoot said the suit concerned in part allegations that bunk beds and bar stools in the Elliott summer home were made in a Harris County workshop.

The county judge said he had employed county workmen who helped build the house on their own time, but that he had paid them.

Elliott said he has many cancelled checks used to pay for work and the house was built through a local contractor.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Can 'Poly' Coat Take Remodeling?

By POLLY CRAMER

Newspaper Enterprise Association

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — I have a full-length polyurethane coat that looks like leather and I would like to know if this can be shortened to a car-length coat and some buttonholes put in it and, if so, how? — VERA.

DEAR POLLY — I am a home sewer whose Pet Peeve is more of a suggestion to manufacturers. We all love the advantages of the vast assortment of polyester knits, blends, etc., however one finds the need for using different sizes of needles when sewing on their different weights if the machine stitching is to be perfect. The sizes stamped on such needles are impossible to read without the aid of a magnifying glass. I wonder why they cannot identify the sizes with colors that would be universal for all manufacturers of such needles. This would save time even for those who have no sight problems. — MRS. C. L. K.

Graduation Party Fetes Miss White

DEAR POLLY — Like Betty we, too, had a rocker that squeaked and had unsuccessfully tried both oil and soap on it. Finally we tried graphite and it worked. Spread papers under the chair and squirt the graphite powder on the springs and on the wood where the springs are attached. It comes in a con- venient tube and can be purchased at a hardware store — BUFFEY of New Hampshire.

DEAR POLLY — Betty should put some petroleum jelly on her squeaky swivel rocker. Put it on with a nice long water color brush or even a long chicken feather works well in tight places. This is also good for squeaking hinges and other things like drawers that are hard to pull out and in. Just apply where the trouble is. It does not take too much. — MRS. H. P.

Dear Abby

Don't Call 'The Other Woman' — Get Help

—By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem which I have discussed with my married daughter, and she said I should write to you.

After many years of marriage, my husband has been seeing another woman. She's a young school teacher he met at church. (Her father is a minister.) The worst part of it is, I know he really does love her, but I'm afraid of what people would think if I let him go to her.

I admit that our marital relations have never been enjoyable for me, but I have done my duty and given him three children who are grown and married now.

I work full time, which my husband never liked, but it has provided us with lots of extras we wouldn't have been able to get as soon as we did.

Should I call this young woman and tell her I know the truth and she'd better stop seeing my husband or else?

Should I call her father and tell him about it? Or should I keep quiet and hope they get tired of each other before too many people know about it?

DEAR TROUBLED: Don't call the young woman. And don't call her father. You and your husband should get some counseling and level with each other.

If you don't let him go to her (knowing that he really loves her) because you are afraid of what people would think, that's a poor reason. Add that to your feeling that you've done your "duty" and given him three children, and the picture becomes even more clear. You seem to be a reasonable woman. Counseling is the only answer.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been arguing over a question that we would like you to settle for us.

I say it is bad manners to yawn in company, but if you can't help yourself, you should do it with your mouth closed.

My husband says he only yawns when he can't hold it back, and he can't yawn with his mouth closed.

Please give us your opinion. Thanks.

MRS. B.

DEAR MRS. B.: Yawning with one's mouth closed isn't easy. However it can be done, but a squelched yawn offers very little satisfaction.

The ideal solution would be to go ahead and yawn, but cover your mouth with your hand. And apologize for it afterwards.

DEAR ABBY: In trying to decide what to give my son and his bride for a wedding gift, I have come to the conclusion that the best gift I could give them would be the treatment at a "stop smoking" clinic.

The treatment costs $350 per person, so I feel that it would be a generous gift, considering my relatively low income. My son has been warned by his doctor that he should stop smoking, and he has indicated that he would like to. However, there wouldn't be much point in giving him the treatment unless his bride takes it, too.

Under the circumstances, would it be proper for me to offer such a gift or would I be considered meddling?

CONCERNED MOTHER

DEAR CONCERNED: I don't agree that there wouldn't be much point in giving your son the treatment unless his bride agreed to take it, too. However, unless you know for certain that they both want the treatment and would welcome it as a wedding gift from you, it might not be appreciated.

Mrs. Frank Martin Elected President

Mrs. Frank Martin was elected president of the Lion Tamers Club for 1974-75 at its buffet luncheon meeting held Wednesday at Ranchland Hill Country Club. She will succeed Mrs. Windell A. Thomason in the office.

Mrs. L. N. Garner was elected vice president and Mrs. Horace R.obb, secretary. Re-elected were Mrs. Lester Van Pelt Jr., treasurer, and Mrs. Bill Collins, publicity chairman.

The report of the nominating committee was submitted by Mrs. Harold Steck, chairman.

A slide-lecture presentation given by Masayo Samukawa of Nishinomiya, Japan, featured the program.

Miss Samukawa, who is spending the school year in Midland under the Youth for Understanding program, is a senior student at Lee High School. She is residing in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Abbott.

She talked informally about life in Japan, its customs, major religions, living conditions and climate. She attends a private school in her native land. The beautiful color slides she showed were mainly of gardens, her home, public buildings, and a traditional tea ceremony.

Her father owns and operates a factory manufacturing leather goods.

Mrs. Thomason presided for business, at which time Mrs. Steck gave a report on the space operated by the club at a recent flea market.

The financial report was presented by Mrs. Van Pelt.

Mrs. Joe Reed and Mrs. John P. Wilmes were introduced as new members.

The May meeting will be a salad luncheon held in Mrs. Thomason's home.

Greece, Turkey Now In State Of Preparedness

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The armed forces of Greece and Turkey have been quietly put in a state of preparedness because of the controversy between their governments over oil rights in the Aegean Sea and Cyprus, informed sources reported today.

Travelers arriving from Turkey reported "unusual military activity," including tanks and other armor in operation, on both sides of the 125-mile border.

The Greek navy also was reported in a state of readiness. The government announced it was sending only one destroyer to take part in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization maneuvers that began today off the western Italian coast.

A pro-government Athens newspaper accused the Turkish government of "issuing threats" in demanding oil prospecting rights in the Aegean and the creation in Cyprus of a federation of the Turkish and Greek Cypriot communities.

"Turkey is mobilizing the masses and is almost demanding the re-establishment of the Ottoman Empire, the setting of the Turkish flag on the Acropolis and the governing of Greece by some fat pasha," said Eleftheros Kosmos, apparently speaking on behalf of the Greek military regime.

Turkey began demanding oil rights in the Aegean after it was discovered off the Greek island of Thassos, in the north-east Aegean. Greece claims that each of the 1,250 Greek islands in the Aegean — some of which are in sight of the Turkish mainland — has its own continental shelf, in effect making the Aegean a Greek lake.

Increase In Costs May Raise Prices For Steel Firms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The price increases would be on top of the 9.2 per cent hike allowed by the Cost of Living Council says an industry study. The steel industry estimated a 13.6 per cent increase in costs for the nation's steel firms will result in sharp increases in steel prices.

"We expect prices to increase substantially," Dunlop told a news conference Wednesday. Steel companies will be free to raise prices without government interference when wage agreements in the steel industry expire April 30.

"We think there will be substantial inflationary pressures in the economy because of steel prices," Dunlop said. He noted that the pending price increases would be on top of the 9.2 per cent hike allowed by the Cost of Living Council says an industry study. # Older Glass Soda Bottles More Likely To Pop, Prof Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The longer a glass soda bottle sits on a grocer's shelf, the more likely it is to go "pop," according to a physics professor.

Tsay Bahkin told the Consumer Product Safety Commission on Wednesday that the structural weakening of glass containers is a gradual process, with a gradual decrease in the ability of glass to withstand internal pressure.

"If internal pressure passes the point of stress which the glass can withstand, then explosion takes place," he said.

Bahkin testified at a hearing considering glass bottle safety standards.

"Whenever I buy a bottle of carbonated liquid, I ask the store manager how long it was on the shelf," he said. "After a year I would be cautious."

Lawrence Kushner, a commission member, was quick to point out that soft drinks rarely remain in stores more than 30 days.

After a consumer advocate related three incidents in which bottles exploded spontaneously, a panel from Worcester Polytechnic Institute of Massachusetts said bottles were weakened by, among other factors, scratches on outer surfaces.

Inadequate testing and poorly manned inspection systems tend to contribute to the failure of bottling companies to keep defective products from reaching consumers, the panel reported.

The Glass Container Manufacturers Institute, Inc., said that "one injury occurs in approximately 10 million exposures."

"This is not an unreasonable level of risk," it said.

Flareup May Block Markets Reform

WASHINGTON (AP) — A flareup over a House-approved bill to tighten regulation of futures trading is expected to block quick reform of commodity markets.

Both the House and the Nixon administration have rejected a proposal to have a commission independent of the Agriculture Department monitor and regulate late futures trading.

But the Senate is expected to insist that an independent commission oversee the volatile futures markets when it considers the House bill, sources say.

The legislation stems from public outcry over last year's skyrocketing food prices. Four senators have introduced more far-reaching measures — the amount to be paid at some point in the future for anything from pork bellies to potatoes or peanuts — are directly linked to supermarket prices.

Depending in part on supply and demand, the futures prices can either pull retail prices

It would give overseers more authority to handle abuses, currently limited to what critics call either a written "slap on the wrist" or suspension of trading privileges.

It also brings under the law about 20 per cent of the commodities not now regulated by the Commodity Exchange Authority, a small agency within the Agriculture Department.

Auto Emissions Control Warranty Rules Assailed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Automotive Service Industry Association, testified before a House subcommittee that the government's requirement for long-term warranties on auto emission controls "will create a monopoly for the automakers and their dealers."

Harold T. Halfpenny told a congressional panel Wednesday that implementation of a provision in the 1970 Clean Air Act "will mean economic catastrophe to the thousands of small independent businesses that now make up the aftermarket industry."

The act stipulates that auto manufacturers must warrant antipollution equipment for five years or 50,000 miles.

Halfpenny, general counsel of the industry, testified before a House subcommittee that the warranty provision "will create a monopoly for the automakers and their dealers."

He said there was every indication that auto manufacturers will insist on use of their own parts as a condition of the warranty.

The car owner "has no choice, he must bring it to the dealer, and while he is there he will have other parts and services supplied by the dealer that are not covered by the warranty, thus further cutting into the independent automotive aftermarket."

Ex-Deputy Testifies In Jack Favor Trial

BENTON, La. (AP) — Former Bossier Parish sheriff's deputy M. D. Green, an investigator in the 1964 slayings of a Haughton husband and wife, testified in the second murder trial of Jack Favor that he didn't think anyone knew who killed them.

Green, the first witness called Wednesday by defense lawyer J. B. Wells, said he came up with many possible suspects early in his probe of the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Richey but chief deputy Vol Dooley did not follow up on all of them.

"Mr. Green, you really don't know who killed the Richeys, do you?" asked prosecuting attorney Graves Thomas.

"No, and I don't think anyone else does," Green replied.

The prosecution wrapped up its case earlier Wednesday.

Favor, a former rodeo star, was convicted in 1967 of killing the Richeys during a robbery April 17, 1964. He was sentenced to life in the Louisiana penitentiary, but a federal court ordered a new trial after Favor accused Bossier Parish officials of collusion with a key state witness in his trial.

Cumbey pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the slayings and was sentenced to 21 years in prison. However, he was taken to Texarkana, Tex., in December 1967 and freed. He later was convicted of killing two women in Oklahoma City.

Those who said they attended the meeting included Bossier Parish Sheriff W. E. Waggoner, deputies Tol Dooley and Billy Gray, then-Dist. Atty. Louis Padgett and Yates.

They testified that at the meeting, Yates named Floyd Cumbey as the triggerman and Favor as the lookout at the Richey home.

That contradicted Cumbey's testimony Monday that he was the lookout and Yates shot the Richeys.

However, Yates took the stand still with the jury out and denied testimony that he had given a detailed account of the slayings, denied that Favor had been involved, and denied Cumbey's testimony that he was the triggerman.

Right-To-Reply Law Issue Taken To High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pat Tornillo Jr. is a controversial man, his lawyer has said. When the Supreme Court refused to print replies he offered, he intends to stay that way.

After the newspaper had a chance to tell the justices why Barron, have raised a controversy that has won the national newspaper industry's attention.

The issue, taken up by the court Wednesday, is whether a state may compel a newspaper to print the reply of a political candidate who has been attacked in print.

If the questions that justices need for oral argument are anyone the idea got a cool reception.

The issue was brought before the court by The Miami Herald said he also was troubled by its appeal of a Florida supreme court decision upholding the state's right-to-reply law.

Tornillo won that state court decision when he resorted to a 60-year-old law in a dispute with the Herald, which had op-

Presidential Aide Didn't Know Agency Had Been Dissolved Two Years Before

CARTHAGE, Tenn. (AP) — Lincoln has since retired. A man who decided to cut relief straight from President Nixon was directed by a White House aide to an agency abolished in 1972.

Robert W. Austin of Carthage said when he called the White House and asked for the president's office to a presidential assistant. Austin said the unidentified assistant referred him to a Gen. Lincoln, director of the Office of Emergency Preparedness.

Austin said the aide told him Lincoln "was very close to the President."

Austin said that on a follow-up call to the President's office, he was told that the Office of Emergency Preparedness was dissolved two years ago.

Judge Allows Airline To Continue Using Love Field

DALLAS (AP) — Most City Council members say they are surprised at the blistering statements accompanying U.S. Dist. Court Judge William M. Taylor's restraining order allowing Southwest Airlines to continue using Love Field.

The restraining order prohibits enforcement of an ordinance the council passed Monday which would have ended all scheduled airline flights at Dallas Love Field, including Southwest.

Judge Taylor said the ordinance came "right in the face" of his ruling last year that Dallas must let Southwest operate from Love Field as long as the facility is open as an airport.

"I don't think this type of conduct can be tolerated," the judge said during a 90-minute Wednesday hearing punctuated by criticisms of the Dallas City Council.

"This is a nation of law and we ought to follow and be controlled by it," he said.

He chastized council members for not living up to his confidence in them to abide by Officials have claimed continued use of the old Love Field by Southwest and some of its competitors could cause financial problems for the new facility.

Several councilmen cited written assurance from City Atty. Alex Bickley in explaining their surprise over Judge Taylor's earlier ruling.

After announcing the restraining order, Taylor added, "I'm not convinced the council won't take some other step burdening Southwest Airlines."

Councilmen passed the ordinance to force use of the new Dallas-Fort Worth Airport by all airlines.

George Allen, one of two councilmen who voted against the ordinance, said he felt all along that Taylor would strike down the ordinance.

"I said Monday I wasn't about to violate a federal court order or my oath of office," Allen said. "I felt that, despite the letter our city attorney wrote to us, this ordinance would be in defiance of Judge Taylor."

Taylor has scheduled a hearing for a temporary injunction in the case for April 26.

The judge declined to extend his restraining order to protect all airline service at Love Field on an oral motion by a Braniff International attorney, but suggested Braniff seek to join the Southwest suit.

Southwest Airlines president M. Lamar Muse, who testified a move to the new airport would bankrupt his company, said after the court session, "Whoopie! That's all that needs to be said."

Jacobsen To Stick With Testimony On Milk Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — Counsel for a key figure in the milk fund case says his client, Texas lawyer Jake Jacobsen, is sticking by his testimony that was challenged as false in a perjury indictment against him.

Lawyer Charles McNeil said Wednesday that a report by CBS newsmen Daniel Schorr that Jacobsen switched his testimony to implicate former Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally in a $10,000 bribe is "not so."

Schorr said that Jacobsen was trying to bargain with prosecutors for favorable treatment and had "changed his testimony and said he had given Connally $10,000 in two payments."

McNeil said Jacobsen is sticking by the testimony challenged in the perjury indictment that he put the $10,000

New York Bar Eyes Nixon, John Mitchell

By SUSAN EVERLY — The New York Bar Association is probing allegations of professional misconduct against President Nixon and former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell.

The investigation could lead to their disbarment in New York state, according to John G. Bonomi, the association's chief counsel.

The probe is part of a nationwide investigation by bar associations into all lawyers allegedly linked to the Watergate case and related matters, Bonomi said.

Information for the probes against a President in office — has come from Special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski and the Senate Watergate committee, Bonomi said Wednesday in a telephone interview.

Also involved in the city probe are Gordon Strachan, a former aide to H. R. Haldeman, former White House chief of staff; David R. Young, former co-director of the White House "plumbers"; and an unidentified lawyer, Bonomi said. All are licensed to practice in New York.

Fair Skies Cover Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — Fair skies stretched across most of the nation today, while a band of showers spotted areas from Texas into Wisconsin.

Scattered showers also sprinkled the Carolina, coast and southern Florida. About a half inch of rain fell at Fayetteville, N.C., before dawn.

Along the Upper Pacific Coast, light rain fell and skies were increasingly cloudy.

Cooler air moved into the upper Great Lakes region, and temperatures in the eastern half of the country were generally below normal.

Freeze warnings were posted during the night for parts of West Virginia and light frost nipped spots as far south as northern Alabama.

West of the Mississippi, however, readings were near and above average for mid-April. Temperatures before dawn ranged from 76 at Key West, Fla., to 30 at Sawyer Air Force Base, Mich., and International Falls, Minn.

'77 State Bowling Tourney May Be Held In Tall City

Plans for a 1977 state bowling tournament in Midland-Odessa were discussed by the Midland Chamber of Commerce board of directors in its monthly meeting Wednesday at the Petroleum Club.

Bill Milner said six Midland and five Odessa bowling teams participated in a state tournament in Austin recently and extended an invitation to hold the 1977 state tournament here.

Waco had also bid for the tournament but has since withdrawn, Milner noted.

A decision will be made at the 1975 tournament in Dallas.

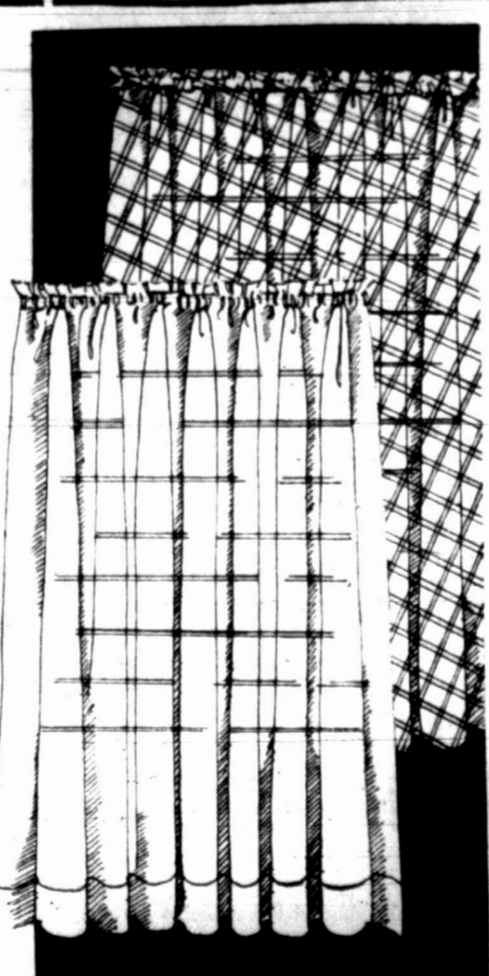

Also discussed at the board meeting was the monthly early bird breakfast, scheduled for 7 a.m. April 25 at the Rodeway Inn. The breakfast will be sponsored by the Midland Cubs.

Several committee reports were presented. The next board luncheon will be May 29.

FROM SAXBE TO REAGAN—

Everyone Has Different Opinion In Hearst Case

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Was Patricia Hearst forced to take part in the Symbionese Liberation Army bank robbery?

U.S. Atty. Gen. William Saxbe told a Washington news conference Wednesday he personally thought that Miss Hearst "was not a reluctant participant in this robbery."

He labeled the SLA a group of "common criminals" and said he included Miss Hearst "as part of them."

Miss Hearst was abducted Feb. 4. In the last communique from the SLA, which claimed it kidnaped her, Miss Hearst scorned her parents and said she had joined her captors.

The FBI has issued a warrant for Miss Hearst's arrest as a material witness to Monday's armed holdup at a Hibernia Bank branch, in which five bandits who identified themselves as members of the SLA stole $10,690. Two bystanders were shot during the getaway.

Authorities said Miss Hearst was identified as one of the five from automatic photographs taken in the bank during the holdup.

Miss Hearst's father, newspaper executive Randolph A. Hearst, refused to comment on Saxbe's remarks, except to call them "speculation."

In Sacramento, Gov. Ronald Reagan said he believed Miss Hearst acted under duress — "There still is no conclusive proof that she was there or participating of her own free will."

U.S. Atty. James L. Browning Jr. said a federal grand jury is reviewing the evidence and might issue indictments by next week.

Edward Shea, 66, a guard at the bank, said the woman identified as Miss Hearst took an active role in the holdup, "giving orders and all that, saying she would shoot the first guy that moved."

"She wasn't scared. She let it be known that she meant business. She had a gun and looked ready to use it."

After studying the photographs, Miss Hearst's mother, Catherine, said she wasn't convinced her daughter was even a participant.

"I could never take an oath death list, said his personal knowledge of SLA members convinced him they were using Miss Hearst as a pawn. "I know these stumblebums. I know how they think," Westbrook, 36, of Berkeley, Calif., said in a telephone interview from Washington, D.C. "They try to mix people up — they do one thing and try to make you think it's something else."

Colston Westbrook, one of three persons named on a SLA

Nixon Pledges Efforts To Lower Trade Barriers Between U.S., Latin America

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has pledged efforts to lower U.S. trade barriers with Latin America and said he will encourage American private investment in the region.

Serving as host for 24 Latin American foreign ministers at a White House dinner Wednesday night, Nixon listed trade and private investment as two essential ingredients for developing Latin America's development programs.

On private investment, one of the most sensitive areas is inter-American relations, Nixon said, "we recognize that each government has the sovereign right to determine the rules for investors in its country, but we also believe that private investment is the richest potential source of technology, capital and organizational skills the developing world needs."

The ministers dined with Nixon after spending the afternoon in private, informal consultations with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger. The meeting is a prelude to the annual meeting of the Organization of American States General Assembly, scheduled to begin Friday in Atlanta.

Diplomats reported the meetings with Kissinger, which wind up here today, were extremely cordial. According to U.S. officials, Kissinger suggested that Latin American grievances over U.S. private investment might be alleviated if the hemisphere nations established ground rules governing foreign investors.

One discordant note in the conversations was a unanimous expression of support by the Latin Americans for Panama's demand to gain control over the Panama Canal Zone.

But their apprehensions were directed mostly at a Senate resolution with 35 sponsors calling for "continued undiluted U.S. sovereignty and jurisdiction over the Canal Zone." U.S. officials said Kissinger pledged he will persist in efforts to draft a new treaty with Panama conferring eventual control over the zone to that country.

COLLEGE STATION — G. D. "Gil" Lasseter of Midland has been named to the 1974-75 Corps of Cadets staff at Texas A&M University.

Lasseter will serve as information officer on the 17-member staff.

It supervises day-to-day operation of the complex TAMU cadet military organization. The corps has been termed a "leadership laboratory" and is the largest uniformed collegiate military organization, excepting the service academies, in the U.S.

Lasseter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Pierce, 2204 Country Club, and a 1971 Midland High School graduate. He is a junior marketing major at TAMU.

U.N. Delegates Can't Agree On Plans Aiding Poor Nations

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Delegates to the special United Nations General Assembly have assigned top priority to measures aimed at helping the poorest countries stave off economic ruin.

But they can't agree on where the money for the immediate special measures is coming from.

The "working party" of the Assembly's special economic session decided Wednesday night that various proposals for easing the present hardships of needy countries should be taken up ahead of longer-range matters.

Chairman Eustace Seignoret of Trinidad-Tobago asked for specific proposals in writing for the discussion starting today, midpoint of the special session.

A cabinet minister from Sri Lanka told the assembly that fuel, food and fertilizer price rises have brought "some developing countries...to the brink of a disaster."

It is a disaster "which could not merely imperil economic development programs but which could even threaten the very foundations of their social and political order... Some measures of urgent and immediate relief must be found while the ultimate solution is being sought," said Felix Dias Bandaranaike, the Asian island nation's minister of public administration, local government, home affairs and justice.

Costs Skyrocket Bandaranaike said his country must pay 300 per cent more than it did in 1973 for oil, 162 per cent more for fertilizer and 170 per cent more for rice and flour.

Proposals have been submitted or are expected from Iran, France, Japan, Romania, Zaire, West Germany, Ivory Coast, Argentina, Algeria, the United States and Italy.

But there is a basic conflict over the main source of new funds to feed and fuel the approximately 30 poorest countries hit hardest by rising oil and fertilizer prices. Their added costs through the end of 1975 have been estimated at from $9.5 billion to $12 billion.

The industrialized countries are asking the oil exporting nations to contribute generously of their new wealth. Major Middle East oil nations have replied at the assembly that prime responsibility rests with the advanced nations.

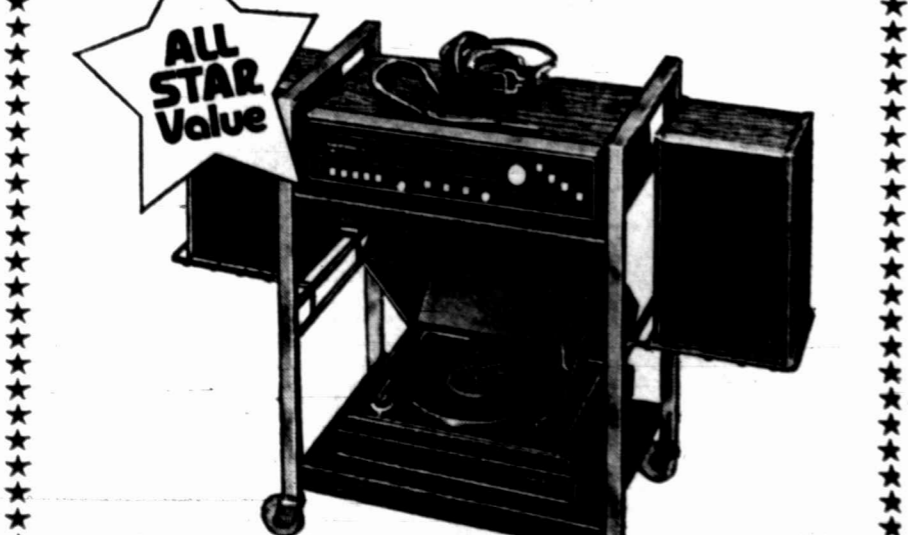

Nixon Welcomes Nancy Kissinger WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's opinion of his secretary of State's new bride is that "she's a little liberal, but otherwise she's all right."

Nancy Kissinger got a presidential welcome Wednesday night during a White House dinner for Latin American foreign ministers.

Mrs. Kissinger was an assistant to former New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller before her marriage to Henry A. Kissinger.

Wheat Experts Say FEO Policy May Hinder Harvesting

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Unless the Federal Energy Office changes its policy of making sure the touring motorist has plenty of gasoline this year's wheat harvest will suffer for lack of fuel, wheat state experts say.

They met here Wednesday and agreed that distribution of fuel for combines, crews and trucks is a problem the FEO isn't facing up to. On hand were fuel allocations officers from Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska and the Dakotas.

"It appears to me," said Colorado's Stan Borren, "FEO is spending too much time on tourism and the average man's ability to drive up to a commercial filling station and get fuel."

Said Chuck Hill of Oklahoma, "At the federal level they're basing their allocations on erroneous data. Unless some drastic action is taken farmers are not even going to catch up."

The consensus of the experts was that the 100 per cent fuel supply promised agriculture would fall short by as much as 30 per cent.

Among their recommendations to be passed on to the FEO are that state allocations be increased from 3 to 5 per cent that a special fuel allocation be set aside for farming and that each wheat state's allocation be hiked across the board.

The seven states produce 60 per cent of the wheat grown in the United States. "We're beginning to realize all these FEO promises are not beginning to materialize," said Joe Ventura of Texas.

Film On Education Groups Scheduled

ODESSA — Area college students interested in careers in education will have an opportunity for an in-depth look at two professional organizations during a special meeting Monday on the campus of The University of Texas at the Permian Basin.

Set for 2:30 p.m. in the Rare Books Room of the Learning Resources Center, the meeting will be highlighted by a film and presentations on the Texas Student Education Association and its parent organization, the Texas State Teachers Association.

Hosts for the session are the faculty of pedagogical studies at UT Permian and the District 18 teacher education and professional standards committee of the TSTA.

"We hope the outgrowth of this meeting is the formation of a strong TSEA chapter on the UT Permian campus," said Dr. Clarence Kron, chairman of the faculty of pedagogical studies.

Women Undergoing Army Basic Training Just Like Men

By ED ROWLAND
FT. JACKSON, S.C. (AP) — The troops were almost in step, just like other newly arrived basic trainees, but the cadence they chanted was different: "We're in step, we're in step, wow, wow, wow!" Also different was the fact they were definitely female, though the rumpled fatigue uniforms and the black boots were like other trainees. It was the first week of training for 160 WACs at the formerly all-male facility near Columbia. In coming weeks, other groups will arrive until there are more than 1,200 women undergoing eight weeks of instruction that is — except for marksmanship — the same as men get. The first company has women from 47 states and two territories. One of the trainees, 21-year-old Pvt. Ann Marshall of Cincinnati, said during a short break, "I love it; it's terrific. Everything, the marching, is so much fun."

She joined the Army because "mainly I wanted to become more self-sufficient" and hopes to become a military policeman. Prior to enlisting she was a desk clerk and receptionist for a motel chain. The WACs at the South Carolina base are the first to receive basic training away from

Ft. McClellan, Ala. Each of the companies at Ft. Jackson has an officer or enlisted woman from Ft. McClellan to give experienced leadership. The only men are classroom instructors, mess hall personnel and a drill sergeant for each company. Sgt. IC Walter T. Haynes, who marched with the women during the day, says he uses the same approach with the WACs that he does with men and adds, "I don't feel that there's that much difference, some minor adjustments." Asked if he has had to adjust his language, Haynes replied, "I've never used salty language with men — never used it with women."

'Madame Butterfly' Set This Weekend At Lubbock

LUBBOCK — One of opera's most poignant love stories, the opera, to be sung in English, will feature members of the local stage this weekend when the Texas Tech voice faculty presents Puccini's famous "Madame Butterfly" in the following performance. Curtain time will be 7:30 p.m. both days. Reservations for Friday and Saturday seat tickets, priced at $1, $2.50 and $3.50, are on sale in the auditorium box office, 762-4616.

Set in Japan at the turn of the century, the opera is the story of a romance between the dashing American naval officer, Lt. Pinkerton, and the Japanese geisha, Cio-Cio-San (Madame Butterfly). Despite strong objections by her family, Madame Butterfly marries the lieutenant, bears him a son and remains faithful during a long separation that begins when he is assigned to duty at sea. When he returns, he brings with him a new American wife, thus setting the stage for the final "moment of truth," when Cio-Cio-San says farewell to him and to their son.

Heading the Friday cast will be soprano Judith Klinger in the title role, John Gillas as Lt. Pinkerton, b-a-s-s-baritone William Hartwell as Sharpless, the American consul, mezzo-soprano Clara Sue Arnold as Madame Butterfly's servant, Suzuki; tenor Charles Post as Goro, the marriage broker; bass-baritone Kyung Wook Shin as Butterfly's uncle, the Bonze, and Mary Williams Kelly as Butterfly's mother.

Student vocalists for Saturday's performance are Peggy Dosssett as Madame Butterfly, Edward Quillin as Pinkerton, Benjamin King as Sharpless, Sherry White as Suzuki, David Zepeda as Goro, and Dana Maynard as the mother. Shin will repeat the role of the Bonze.

Dr. Campbell Johnson, director of the Tech Music Theatre, is producer-conductor of the show with Prof. Gillas as stage director and Dr. Hartwell as chorus master. Sets were designed by Ronald Rummel. Instrumental music will be by the Texas Tech Symphony Orchestra.

'Hansel, Gretel' To Be Performed

FORT WORTH — "Hansel and Gretel" that "children's" opera by Humperdinck which has been enchanting young and old alike for almost a century, will be presented Sunday as the final offering of the season by the Fort Worth Opera Association.

The Sunday presentation at 2:30 p.m. in Tarrant County Convention Center Theater in downtown Fort Worth will be followed by performances of a short version of the opera for third graders in the Fort Worth public schools next week.

"It's wonderful to see the reaction of the audience to this touching and heartwarming story," says Rudolf Kruger, general manager and musical director of Fort Worth Opera, who saw the production in Cincinnati and made arrangements for the Corbett Foundation of Cincinnati to share it with Fort Worth.

The sets and costumes for the Corbett Foundation production do much to make the setting just right for the storybook atmosphere, Kruger says. They are imaginative, and filled with bright color.

Designer of the sets and costumes is Dean Brown, graduate of Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh. Gone are the plain peasant costumes which reflect what these people might have worn had they been real. Instead, Hansel and Gretel each have yarn wigs (orange and yellow), as does Gretel's doll, Susie. The Sandman has a silvery blue costume with a great headpiece and the Dew Fairy wears a sunburst of sparkling silver and gold.

The Witches' house is scrumptious, with a giant scoop of ice cream above the door, giant gumdrops along the fence and the house itself is made of candy which tempts you to reach out and take a bite. The production is not without its technical innovations either, such as an oven which explodes when the Witch is shoved in by the children or the Witch flying across the stage on her broomstick and the gingerbread children coming to life when Hansel waves the Witches' magic elderberry bush.

Singing the role of Hansel in the Sunday matinee here will be Susanne Marsee, New York City Opera mezzo soprano, who will be appearing in Fort Worth for the first time. Gretel will be sung by soprano Eileen Shelle who was heard here as Lisette in "La Rondine" in 1972 and Adina in "The Elixir of Love" in 1973.

The Witch will be portrayed by James Atherton, tenor who excels in characterizations and took the roles of four different characters in the 1972 Fort Worth production of "The Tales of Hoffmann."

Mezzo Lee Andersen, a former member of the Opera chorus, and now living in this area, will sing the role of the Mother; Kerry McDevitt, New York soprano Rutherford Kruger will be the Father; soprano Rutherford Kruger will be the Sandman, and soprano Claire Williams will be the Dew Fairy.

James deBlasis, opera consultant to the Corbett Foundation, is staging the production, and Marina Svetlova is choreographer. The children's ballet sequences involve 35 small girls.

A one-hour version of the opera prepared for third grade students of the Fort Worth public schools will be given at 10 a.m. next Tuesday and Wednesday. The opera will be sung in English and the Sunday performance will be in two acts lasting a total of 90 minutes.

Tickets are available at Central Ticket Office in the Sheraton-Fort Worth Hotel, downtown, and the Scott Theater box office. In Dallas, tickets are on sale at Preston Ticket Agency. Prices are $1 to $3 for children, students and teachers, and range in price from $2 to $6 for the general public.

Actress Becomes Anti-American

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Melina Mercouri says she has become "totally anti-American" because of apathy in this country about conditions in Greece.

The fiery film star said in an interview Wednesday she regards herself as a homeless exile after seven years of campaigning against her homeland's ruling junta.

"So many things have happened to me," she said. "And the thing that is terrible for me too is that I am married to an American man and I hate Americans. True, although I have many fine friends here. I've become anti-American, yes, totally. They did it to me. Miss Mercouri, who lives most of the time in Paris, is here with her husband, Jules Dassin, making a film about a bloody student uprising in Athens last November. Official reports listed 12 deaths, but underground reports she said count more than 300 fatalities.

"The children were 12 years old and they killed them," she said. "Tanks rolled over them. They permitted that and they are responsible for that." By "they" she said she meant this country.

"I see an indifference here now because they don't know, because the newspapers don't say any more. Who cares about Greece? Who cares that I have become somebody that is bad? I was somebody before that loved, that had generosity, and I've become stingy and I hate them for that."

"When I was here before (three years ago) I did not have this feeling. I had fight, but I did not consider myself an exile. Now I am. I don't know where I live, I don't care where I live."

"I hope they will not bring me dead back to Greece. What I know is I will never stop fighting."

Black Cooperation Urged In Search For Zebra Killers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mayor Joseph L. Alioto has appealed to blacks to cooperate if they are stopped on city streets for identification and possible search by police hunting for the "Zebra" killers.

"Extraordinary situations like this call for extraordinary measures," Alioto told reporters Wednesday. "We will be stopping a number of people who fit a certain profile — a lot of them innocent."

"Mass murderers are simply roaming the streets of San Francisco, killing people at random without any real motive or without any real sense. This can't be investigated as a regular murder."

of constitutional guarantees. Everything will be done within constitutional limits."

Police Chief Don Scott said in three of the shootings two persons were seen and a composite drawing of one gunman was being circulated. He said police would be acting with information that would narrow the number of persons that might be stopped by police.

"We are going to stop slender black people," Scott said.

The composite drawing is of a black man 20 to 30 years old, slender build, and 5-foot-9 to six feet in height.

The mayor said the total reward now posted for information leading to the conviction of the killers is $30,000.

SAYS SHE'S ANTI-AMERICAN—Melina Mercouri is shown during an interview at a New York film studio Wednesday during which she said she has become anti-American because of apathy in this country about conditions in Greece. Nelson T. Shields IV, 23, became the 12th white person killed within five months by a black gunman who fired without warning and without provocation Tuesday night.

Six other whites have been wounded in shootings police have code-named the "Zebra" case.

Washington Garner, the black president of the Police Commission, urged the city's blacks, "If you are stopped, don't resist it. Show your identification and, if necessary, permit a search."

Alioto said, "We are mindful

Hey, Mars—Big Ear's Listening

By TOM TIEDE
GREENBANK, W. Va. (NEA)

After nearly two decades of round-the-clock listening, the director of the National Radio Astronomy Observatory here reports no communications from inhabitants of outer space.

Plenty of natural signals from the sun, other planets, even galaxies—but nothing yet from the Martians, nary a word from any living creatures out there.

The news may seem like an admission of failure, since many casual observers of the Green Bank facility believe its primary purpose has been to receive beep-beeps from other life, if indeed other life is sending beep-beeps. Local residents call the observatory's huge 300-foot dish antenna "The Big Ear" and muse over the possibility of communicating with someone who has a Plutonian accent.

But apparently the Big Ear has not failed. Facility director Dr. David Hogg says the observatory's purpose has never been married to the detection of outer-space life. He says that when the observatory was commissioned in 1967, contemporary thinking then was that other civilizations did not exist, therefore there wasn't much speculation about such communications.

And if the Plutonians do not soon weigh in with some blips, Ear technicians are pledged to tune it out.

will. Dr. Hogg says there is always the chance "someone on earth might send out signals to try to fool us."

His crew are ready for it. If they ever receive a signal that reads "Help, we are interterrestrial streakers held prisoner on Jupiter," the Big Ear technicians are pledged to tune it out.

Cubs . . . 1974 Style

Until the opposition shows its hand, rating your own team is hazardous business. At least, that's the way it is in the Texas League.

For one thing, you never know who is going to load up. Two years ago, San Diego didn't have an AAA affiliate so the Dave Hilltons and John Grubbs wound up at Alexandria. A year ago, Cleveland promised San Antonio a winner, and produced one with a pitching staff that was stacked with AAA caliber arms.

In answer to the question that has been posed to this corner repeatedly since our return from Scottsdale, Midland, on paper, offers every evidence that it will be competitive.

Walt Dixon will open the Texas League season in San Antonio Friday night with a blend of rookies and veterans that could do the job. Chicago has stocked its AA entry with 15 veterans from last year's club plus 10 newcomers.

The term "veterans" in this case is misleading. Fellows like Jerry Tabb and outfielder Joe Wallis came off the college campus in mid-season to join the Cubs and the season was one of adjustment to pro ball.

Most of the others are second-year players who should benefit from the year of TL indoctrination. Catcher Steve Haug perhaps is typical. Steve came to Midland last year from Quincy as a 19-year-old and performed capably enough behind the plate so that veteran Randy Bobb was traded to Knoxville.

Steve returns, backed up by Greg Collins, the catcher from Vanderbilt who reminds one of Tom Lundstedt in appearance and some mannerisms.

The real maturity on this club will come from shortstop Ken Szotkiewicz, second baseman Bill Huisman, outfielder Bill Bright, relief pitcher Mike Young and Ron Matney, the jack-of-all-trades who will add coaching to his chores this year.

Huisman gets his chance this year after two years as the infield swing man while others were attempting to master the position.

Good Glove At Short

When he's healthy, there probably isn't a better glove at short this side of the majors than carried by Szotkiewicz, who does have a season with Detroit in his past.

This combination along with Tabb, Joel Green, 286 here last year as a shortstop, and Julio Gonzales, 297 at Quincy, will round out the infield. Ticketed for third, both Green and Gonzales can play second or short.

Wayne Tyrone backs up Tabb at first and probably will be Dixon's DH choice.

The outfield is Bright, Droegge and Wallis. In a half season here last year, Droegge hit .336 before going up to Wichita. This spring he returns to Midland, deferring to the experience of Gene Hiser, Cleo James, Gonzalo Marquez and Jim Tyrone at Wichita.

You can juggle batting averages all day, but when it comes down to winning games, pitching is where it's at. Two years ago there was no better batting order in the TL than the LaCock, Chris Ward, Jim Tyrone, Matt Alexander, Lundstedt bunch, but the staff earned-run-average was close to 6.00 per game.

There are more new faces here than any place else. Gary Junge, 9-9, Budd Schultz, 3-4, Dennis Lamp, 2-4, Dvayn Frazier, 7-12, and Mike Young, 6-7 with 10 saves, are back from last year's staff.

The new young arms who must come through, belong to Dave Geisel, Mike Krukow, Bob Ott, Mitch Ware, Mike Weiss and Brian Bickerton.

Geisel is a No. 5 draft choice and Bickerton a No. 1 pick in 1967 by the Oakland A's. Ott pitched here briefly two years ago before service beckoned and moves up along with Weiss as the best at Quincy a year ago.

On paper, it could be the best here in three years of Texas League ball, but that's something the next few months will answer.

Rangers Believe

Go Over .500 With Win Over Royals

By DENNE FREEMAN

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Slugger Jeff Burroughs says the days of making fun of the Texas Rangers are over.

"Nobody has believed us, but I think we're going to win just like the man says," Burroughs declared Wednesday night after delivering a game-winning double in a 4-2 American League victory over the Kansas City Royals.

"The man" is Texas Manager Billy Martin, who has in Rangers playing plus 500 base-ball and believing they are first-division material instead of the perennial cellar dwellers they've been in the AL West.

"If you had been to spring training," Martin lectured last writer, "you would have seen this club doing things it has never done before—like hitting the relay man. We worked hard this spring. We had two different workouts going at the same time."

"They (the players) believe it now. It's fun when you win—winning is fun." The Rangers' publicity department has branded the team "the turnaround gang." Texas certainly did that to the Royals Wednesday night to sweep a two-game series.

Jim Bibby pitched a four-hitter to gain his third victory in four decisions and Texas rallied with three runs in the eighth inning off Royal relief pitcher Gene Garber.

"We are vastly improved," Burroughs said. "We didn't have four starters last year. Now we've got Bibby, Ferguson, Jenkins, Steve Hargan and David Clyde. Nobody has believed, but they will."

Texas is now 6-5 for the season and Burroughs said. "It's only the second time since 1969 that I can remember we were over .500."

Bibby said, "I wasn't all that worried tonight, even when we trailed 2-1 going into the eighth inning. This team got me 10 runs the last time out. It helps mentally knowing you're going to get some runs."

Nelson Briles, who was a frontline pitcher for Pittsburgh in the National League, was impressive in his American League debut. He allowed six hits in six and two-thirds innings before he tired.

Manager Walt Dixon will go with a four-man pitching rotation for the Midland Cubs when they open the 86th Texas League baseball game with a four-game series in San Antonio Friday night, but will switch to a five-man rotation when the Chicago Cubs farm team comes home Tuesday for its Cubs Stadium inaugural.

Lefty Budd Schultz, Gary Junge, Dave Geisel and Mike Krukow are scheduled to start the games against the Brewers.

"I don't know who the fifth starter will be. It might be Dvayn Frazier, Dennis Lamp, Bob Ott, Mike Weiss or Brian Bickerton. We'll just have to wait and see. It won't be Mike Young or Mitch Ware, who will be in the bullpen."

Dixon, who succeeds Al Spangler, now a coach with Chicago, as manager, and the Cubs will be welcomed to Midland by a Cub Booster Club-Chamber of Commerce sponsored barbecue at Cub Stadium at 6:30 p.m. today.

The presence of former Chicago Cub great Ernie Banks and Texas League president Bobby Bragan promise to make it a gala evening.

By TERRY WILLIAMSON
Coach George French's talent-laden team of Midland Swim Team takes on the ambitious task of winning the Texas Age Group Championships (TAGS) this weekend at Dallas' Loos Pool which is set to run Friday through Sunday.

The COMandos won second place honors last year in the short course competition behind the Dad's Club of Houston in Midland, but Coach French hopes that the Tall City mermen can claim the top spot this year. "If our younger age group swimmers place high and the Georgeann Mayes add plenty of depth to the field with all-around good showing, we have a good chance at winning the meet," Coach French said.

The Dallas Swim Club and the Tarpin Swim Team of Houston will also field top flight teams in the prestigious meet. On the individual side of the ledger, Coach French also feels that several of his swimmers have good shots at high point trophies in the TAGS meet, and he is hoping that the COM team will set some state records.

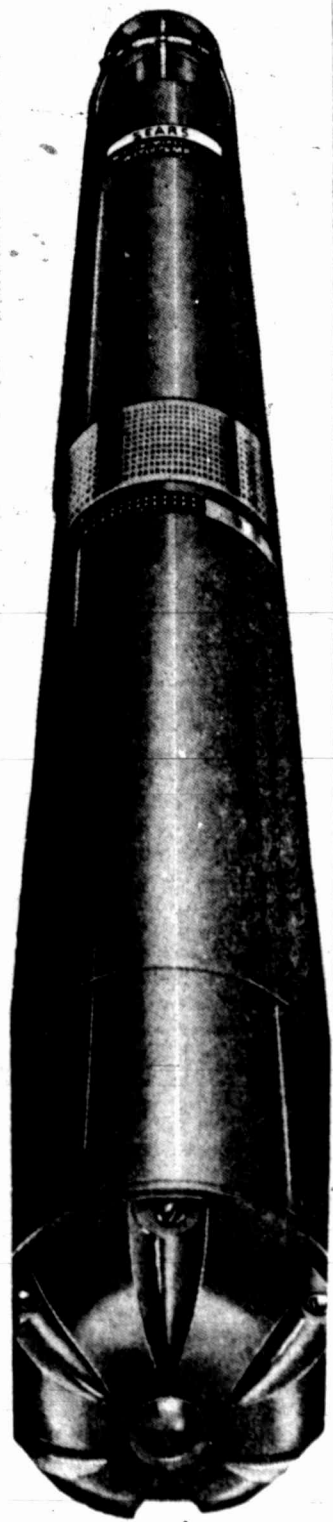

The major strength of the COMandos comes in the 15-17 age group in both the boys and girls. Mary Dowdle, for instance, may be the busiest swimmer, entered in 10 events with a good shot at winning relay titles.

In the 13-14 girls age group, Susan Bateman, Sandy Wendy Williams is a good bet for high point honors and may be capable of breaking the 100 back state record, which is now 1:02.59.

Tracy Williams, Wendy's younger sister, is also a threat to win high point honors in the 11-12 age group. Tracy is strong in four events. Cleve Carrens will be shooting for high point honors in the 10 & under boys competition.

The 10 & under girls will form two relays with Gretchen Koch, Emily Murrain, Heather Dunbar and Lauren Martin which should have a shot at two state marks. The team will be out to break the 200 free relay mark of 2:05.0 and the medley mark of 2:21.1. Miss Koch is also hoping to break the state mark of 32.7 in the 50 fly.

Bobcats, Rankin Seek To Repeat

By TERRY WILLIAMSON
LUBBOCK — Defending Lewis and San Angelo's David Dodson own 14-3. Coach Sam Volpe also will advance to the state their Region I track titles at the Lubbock Coronado track Friday and Saturday when the Region I AAAA-A-B Track and Field Meet unfolds.

San Angelo won the AAAA division last year while Rankin's Red Devils took top honors in the Class A division. Both return veteran squads to the region affair and both should make a strong run at repeat performances.

Rankin appears to be the best bet for the Class A title while San Angelo will have tough competition from Lubbock Monterey, El Paso, Burges and Borge.

San Angelo will have 16 individuals and a sprint relay unit in the field while Rankin qualified nine individuals and two relay squads. The Class B crown appears to be up for grabs with no particular unit showing real firepower. Midland Lee and Midland High will both send two individuals into the region affair, but will not be in the competition for team honors since each school is entered in only two events. Lee's Randy Lewis, who had his best leap of the year in the District 5-4A meet with a 14-3, will be entered in the pole vault for the Rebels. Lewis has had two jumps of 14-0 before the district meet, but both came in the first two weeks of action. His district performance was a return to the early season style and is one of the best jumps in the regional field. Coronado's Randy Clabough has the top qualifying jump in the field with a 14-3½ while two 5-4A heavies, however, appear to be the class of the regional qualifiers and the top two will advance to the state meet as is the case in all events. Midland High Coach Edwin Nixon will have two hurdlers in the regional meet, but here the competition appears to be rugged. Steve Reddell and Larry Munson will be in the 120 high and 330 intermediates, respectively. Both qualifying with second place finishes behind Permian's Steve King.

Need Caddies For Tourney

With the annual Nickel Benefit Golf at Hogan Park quickly approaching the Saturday and Sunday play dates, Cubby Rice is sending out a plea for more caddies. Persons interested in being caddies for the two-day tournament should show up Saturday before the 8:30 a.m. tee-off time. Rice said that there is a desperate need for a lot more bag toters.

The Reporter-Telegram will run all tee off times in Friday's paper since the tournament officials are still taking entries. Among special guests in this year's tournament are Dallas Cowboy's Mike Montgomery and Charlie Waters along with former New York Jet receiver Don Maynard. The tournament is a benefit affair for the Midland Council for Retarded Children's Opportunity Center and entry fee is $40.

Unjust And Unwarranted

Public utilities have been seeking new customers! Now, isn't this just too bad under America's free enterprise system? Hogwash!

What in the world are they, or any other business firms, supposed to do? Sit back, slide back, forget about their stockholders and the profit system, while urging those not presently served by them to get a wood stove and kerosene lamps?

Rep. William Walsh, R-N.Y., apparently is of this opinion. Under a bill introduced by him, public utilities would be banned from advertising to attract customers during energy shortages.

He said his bill would make it illegal for a public utility to spend money to advertise "to increase the number of persons buying electricity or natural gas from such utility" when the Federal Power Commission determines there is a shortage of electrical power or natural gas.

Please note that it would be a government agency, not private enterprise, which would determine when a shortage exists.

Public utility firms are the first to know when a shortage develops... and they would be the first to do something about it.

Some utility companies have continued to do institutional type advertising in recent months in order to keep their names before the public. This is nothing more than good business, but Mr. Walsh probably wouldn't understand that.

Public utilities here and elsewhere have cooperated fully in energy crisis situations, while at the same time striving to provide additional power to meet increased needs. The Walsh proposal should be rejected.

This appears to be another slap at free enterprise!

'Red, Red Robin Week'

Perhaps you were not aware of it but this is "Red, Red Robin Week" in Midland, as proclaimed by Mayor Ernest Angelo Jr., who said its purpose is to inform the community of the importance of the preservation of nature.

The robin red breast, incidentally, is the Tall City's official bird, having been selected as such by Midland school students back in 1958.

The observance also is designed to call attention to the fact that the Midland Garden Club, aided by the mayor and City Council, has reactivated an ordinance adopted in 1958 establishing Midland as an official bird sanctuary.

This is great and members of the Midland Garden Club are to be commended for their interest and effort in this regard. All residents are urged to take note of the observance and its noble purpose.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: The standby corps membership is reward for fatcats.

WASHINGTON—The White House secretly has appointed wealthy campaign contributors to the standby corps, which would help run the country in case of war.

The fatcats, selected more for their political generosity than their executive ability, have been forced upon a reluctant National Defense Executive Reserve.

This is an elite reserve outfit of 3,600 private executives, who would immediately step into top defense jobs in 19 federal agencies if war should break out.

The White House tried to line up the most prestigious jobs for business executives who had contributed heavily to President Nixon's 1972 campaign.

Nixon's 1972 campaign. Or, as a confidential White House memo put it, there is "considerable potential opportunity to reward deserving Nixon executives with an NDER appointment."

The memo, addressed to presidential assistant Dan Kingsley, stated that the Office of Emergency Preparedness was quite willing to accept the campaign donors.

Both the directors, George Lincoln, and his deputy, Darrell Trent, "concur and are ready to start," declared the memo.

There was hesitation, however, from OEP official Margaret Cates who insisted on choosing qualified executives.

The White House memo implied cautiously that pressure could be brought on her.

"Although not a political appointee, Mrs. Cates appears loyal and is under the direction of Darrell Trent," said the memo.

The memo directed that the Nixon contributors "must be placed in a unit, unless their qualifications just don't meet the necessary requirements."

The only cautionary note appears to have been scrawled in the memo by Bill Horton, an aide to then White House personnel czar Fred Malek.

"Are these positions sufficiently prestigious so that the candidates feel recognized?" asks the note.

Apparently the answer was affirmative, for Mrs. Cates shortly got about 100 Nixon campaign contributors to place.

She thinks she accepted about 20, the most qualified of the Nixon appointees, for the program, she told us. The White House referrals are still coming in, she added. She also pointed out that the jobs are nonpaying.

FORD'S FUTURE: Much to the embarrassment of Vice President Gerald Ford, the favorite parlor game within President Nixon's official family is to speculate whom the survivors will be if Ford moves up to the presidency.

Ford has ordered his aides and pleaded with his friends, please, to stop the guessing games. He doesn't want to appear to be crowding the President as Mr. Nixon gets closer to an impeachment vote in the House.

Still, the speculation goes on. One powerful cabinet member, who for obvious reasons doesn't want to be identified, told us he already has decided upon his own course, in case Ford replaces Nixon in the White House.

The cabinet officer will deliver a letter of resignation to President Ford and will urge the new President to accept the resignation of everyone in the White House and cabinet.

A clean sweep is essential

A clean sweep is essential

to establish the legitimacy of that asserted residency.

The IRS doesn't pick up the discrepancy, so the normal three-year statute of limitations runs out in 1973 on what is then taken as a proper transaction. Belatedly, the deal is checked and redefined as "income."

The little hooker about "disclosure" saves him from the six-year rule. Mr. Nixon says he'll pay up on 1969 "voluntary" and wins plaudits from supposed tax experts in Congress. Marvelous!

Secondly, the law specifies that when a citizen fails to report items of gross income adding to 25 per cent or more beyond the gross income he does cite on a given return, the statute of limitations does not run a mere three years (the figure commonly cited in almost all comment on the President's case) but extends a full six years beyond final filing time.

On its face, a key document prepared by the joint congressional committee which examined Mr. Nixon's returns at his invitation would seem to involve his 1969 returns in this provision of the law. Yet a twist in the regulations seems to salvage him in this instance.

For 1969, the committee found the President had added gross income amounting to $142,967, more than a third above the $328,162 he formally reported as gross income.

The twister comes into play in the way the President for 1969 handled the sale of his New York apartment. He did not conceal the sale or its proceeds, but declared on his return that he was deferring payment of a capital gains tax on the transaction because he was investing the monies in the purchases of San Clemente as his "principal residence."

Such practice is both legitimate and very common. Except that in this instance the committee decided San Clemente was not Mr. Nixon's chief residence. It found that the Nixons spent just 49 days there in the 12 months after sale of the New York apartment.

Furthermore, as is now well known, he did not at any time pay California state income taxes as would a normal resident. One would think that, for consistency's sake, he would have done so to underscore his claims about San Clemente.

But here's the hooker: In an obscure IRS regulation, believed by one tax analyst to have been added after U.S. Tax Court rulings in such cases, his New York apartment sale income can be considered exempt from calculations about "added gross income" for 1969.

The regulation says that, if a taxpayer supplies on his return "information sufficient to apprise the District Director (of Internal Revenue) of the nature and amount" of monies gained but not rated by the payer as "income," this simple act of disclosure frees him from having the sums figured as part of a possible 25 per cent excess.

So what, in the end, do we have here?

We have the President, no less, selling his New York apartment for a handsome profit, noting it on his 1969 return but saying it wasn't "income" because he used it to buy a "principal residence" at San Clemente, yet doing nothing else to establish the legitimacy of that asserted residency.

By KATHY ALLDAY, LISA BROCK and MOLLY UPCHURCH
Looking into our CRYSTAL BALL we observe PAST, PRESENT, and FUTURE, happenings of MHS.

During the Easter holidays the baseball team and batgirls were busy!! Last Monday night the batgirls decorated the baseball boys and coach's homes in hopes of kindling up their spirits. It seemed to work because they defeated the LEE Rebels 10-6. It was a good game, too!! Then Thursday, the team traveled to Odessa to tackle the district's first-half winners — the Permian Panthers. MHS came out on TOP with a dynamic 6-2 score. All the way to district-DOGS!!! We're looking forward to playing those Panthers again.

This week, on Tuesday we traveled to Big Spring and squeezed by to a 7-6 victory. This Saturday the Dogs play Abilene High in our stadium at 2 p.m. Let's go, MHS. Everyone come out and support this great team!!!

Also in the PAST, we see the tennis team finished their '74 season. John Hodge, Paul Lucas and Tom Kirwan all made their way to the semifinals in the district meet. We're proud of these three and all members of the team.

Time Moves On
Now we are in the PRESENT and tonight is the BIG NIGHT!! The mighty seniors are presenting their Senior Talent Show, "A Look Into the Future"—The Odyssey. It begins at 7:30 p.m. in the MHS Auditorium. Tickets are only 50 cents for students and $1 for adults. Many students have put in much time and effort for this show. We hope to see everyone there!!!

The girls golf team of MHS won its district meet and will play in the regionals next week. We wish the golfers the best of luck!

Arthur: He Talks, Sings, Then Gobbles Up Garbage

BROOKVILLE, N.Y. (AP)—rather than dump it where it doesn't belong. Arthur is the brainchild of Charles Hamad, 24, of Danbury, Conn., a graduate student in psychology at C. W. Post College, and Dr. Jeff Corey, an associate psychology professor and Hamad's thesis adviser. Arthur's voice is a tape cassette, activated when trash is stuffed into the 45-gallon can. Hamad said he has five different tapes for Arthur. Several say "Thank you," one plays music and another makes random noises. And then there is what Hamad calls the "X-rated tape." Hamad says it's "kind of corny, but says things like, 'Meet me up in your room in 10 minutes with a whip and a prune Danish.'"

But Hamad says a simple "thank you" seems to work best. Arthur is a standard plastic trash can. There is a face painted on the lid, with blond hair, blue eyes and yellow teeth. The teeth surround a plastic mouth attached by a hinge, through which garbage is deposited. When the mouth is pushed, the cassette is activated. Hamad says he placed Arthur in a college dining hall for about four hours one day.

For the first hour, the cassette was turned off, and only 20 persons stuffed garbage in Arthur. For the next three hours, the cassette was turned on and "a few hundred people" used Arthur, Hamad said. But Hamad says Arthur has been used only for about 15 hours and more data is needed to confirm his theory that people are more likely to use trash cans if the can talks back, and to determine whether the novelty will wear off. Hamad says some students have had trouble coping with Arthur, the gabby garbage collector. "One person had keys in his hand and he thought it was a regular garbage can," Hamad said. "He was sort of taken aback by the response the can gave him. He dropped his keys in it and we had to take the whole thing apart to get his keys back."

Democratic Candidates Swap More Verbal Punches

By The Associated Press

Gov. Dolph Briscoe took a dig at Frances Farenthold, his opponent in the May 4 Democratic Primary, Wednesday and later told an Austin water conference that Texas may face a water crisis soon.

Mrs. Farenthold told a Pampa audience that "it is now clear that Dolph Briscoe is going to avoid any discussion of his record or a public confrontation which would point up the inadequacies of his leadership for the past 18 months."

The governor answered that Texas doesn't want "negativism and carping" but does want to be inspired.

Texas, Briscoe told supporters in Hillsboro, "are tired of divisiveness and negativism and carping among officeholders and political candidates."

He added that "every day I have been in office" that he has tried "to bring people together and to inspire them to work for the common good."

In warning of a water crisis, Briscoe told a meeting of state water agency heads, legislators and others, "it is essential that we secure a supplemental water source outside Texas, particularly for the great agricultural areas of Northwest Texas."

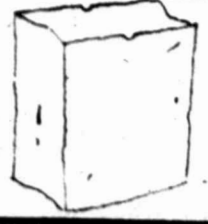

"If the energy crisis teaches us nothing else," he said, "America could have escaped the serious shortage had we only started work on planning 10 years earlier."

Gov. Bill Hobby told the water men he hoped a workable, constructive water plan can be offered to the Texas Legislature when it convenes in January.

There were these additional political developments: —Odell McBrayer of Fort Worth, a Republican seeking the governorship, told Corpus Christi supporters that the state and nation need to get back "to sound conservative government and strong Christian principles."

—Railroad Commissioner Mack Wallace of Athens said he was against using the energy crisis as a reason to "demand more production from our oil and gas reservoirs than it is safe for the reservoirs to produce." Wallace, seeking re-election, added, "We cannot solve the energy crisis by damaging Texas oil fields."

—World's Largest Jungle The Amazonia, the world's largest jungle, is located in South America. This jungle is 80 per cent larger than the African rain forest.

Simon Won't Have Same Authority As Predecessor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The country's high inflation rate will replace the energy crisis as the number one challenge for William E. Simon, President Nixon's choice as his fourth secretary of the Treasury.

Nixon named the 46-year-old millionaire and former Wall Street investment banker to succeed economist George P. Shultz, who steps down in May after nearly two years at the Treasury Department helm.

Simon has served since December as head of the Federal Energy Office. The White House said he will be succeeded as energy administrator by his deputy, John C. Sawhill, 37.

Simon's appointment as Treasury secretary is expected to touch off a struggle among Nixon's economic advisers to gain a portion of the considerable influence over economic policy-making held by Shultz.

Nixon said he would take a more active hand himself in economic planning and will head the important Council on Economic Policy, a post previously held by Shultz.

Other positions held by Shultz that will not go to Simon include assistant to the President for domestic and international economic policy, which will remain unfilled for the time being, and chairman of the Cost of Living Council, a position of declining influence that will be filled on an interim basis by council director John T. Dunlop.

Sources say that Simon will face a difficult challenge in the international policy-making arena from Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, who Monday showed his interest in this field in an important statement on U.S. foreign economic policy delivered to the United Nations in New York.

But Simon is said by aides to feel the major problem facing him as Treasury secretary will be the country's worsening inflation rate, which saw consumer prices rise 8.8 per cent last year, and at a 12 per cent rate during the first two months of this year.

Simon is said to generally support the approach to inflation followed by Shultz, including steps to increase agricultural supplies combined with conservative spending and money supply policies.

Like Shultz, Simon is cool to economic controls.

Simon likely will give additional details on his thinking on ways of combatting inflation when he appears before the Senate Finance Committee for confirmation hearings, expected early next week.

Judge Rules County Jail Inmates Entitled To Vote

DALLAS (AP) — Holding a section of the Texas Election Code is unconstitutional, U.S. District Court Judge Robert Hill said Wednesday prisoners in the Dallas County jail are entitled to vote if they are qualified.

He directed county officials to work out "reasonable methods" to let jail inmates cast absentee ballots in local, state and national elections.

Under the court's interpretation, absentee voting would be allowed by prisoners in a city or county jail awaiting trial and those convicted of misdemeanor offenses. It would be denied those convicted of felonies if an appeals court had upheld the conviction.

Two prisoners held on warrants for more than a year in the Dallas County jail—Thomas Buel Jr. and Joseph Taylor—brought before Hill on Jan. 20, 1972 the question of whether other prisoners should be denied the vote pending conviction and appeal.

The two told the court that jail officials regarded the place as "a zoo full of animals" while "in truth, the literacy and comprehension of current events and politics and study of same is probably greater in the class (of prisoners) than in the guards and officials."

Their petition contended that prisoners in the Dallas County jail had been denied unfairly their voting rights since 1846, noting that persons free on bail could vote while those lacking the money to go free could not.

Conflicting Orders Snarl Fort Worth Postal Hiring

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Thirty-eight persons may find themselves in an employment limbo because of contradictory hiring directives issued earlier this month by the U.S. Postal Service.

Postal officials here got the word from the Dallas district office April 8 that they could hire 40 career employees and 44 temporary personnel to handle a seasonal workload.

Feverish activity last week marked efforts to get the new career employees on board.

The 38 actually had been selected for the positions when a directive from the postal service's regional office in Memphis, Tenn., reached here Tuesday. It ordered all hiring suspended until May 1.

As a result, Fort Worth and district postal officials are trying to work out something with Memphis so the new employees can be put on the payroll for two reasons:

—Fort Worth needs the employees to handle the spring and summer deluge of third class mail.

—Some of the potential employees, having been accepted for a position here, already have given their present employers two weeks' notice.

J. W. Harvey, a personnel official here who confirmed the basic facts of the situation, said he didn't know of any of the 38 who actually were out of work because of the contradictory directives.

And as far as he knew, he said, no one had made a move because they thought they had employment with the post office here.

Most of the 38, Harvey said, live in the Fort Worth area.

"I'm sure," he added, "that there are some who have given notice."

Officials managed to avoid a potential economic hardship for one postal employee in Hawaii who applied and was accepted for one of the Fort Worth positions.

When the hiring suspension ordered was received, officials here contacted their counterparts in Hawaii and told that employee to stay put until clearance for the transfer was received.

Market Drifting, Sluggish As Rally Runs Out Of Steam

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market returned to a sluggish, drifting pattern today as a two-day rally ran out of steam.

KENT STATE APPEAL— High Court Rules Immunity Not Absolute In Shootings

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Dean Kahler says a Supreme Court ruling that state officials and Ohio National Guardsmen do not have absolute immunity from damages in connection with the 1970 shootings at Kent State University is a "historical judicial act."

Kahler was one of nine students wounded by National Guard gunfire during a campus antiwar demonstration at Kent State on May 4, 1970. Four students were killed.

The Supreme Court said state officials have immunity for their official acts, but that it is a qualified rather than absolute immunity. The high court said the extent of the immunity must be determined in court.
