Courage To Live

Many years ago, a man was afflicted with a bad back. Every time he lay down, he felt pain. He was troubled, too, by an obstruction in his nose which would close when he lay on his back. Yet he spent many months on his back and produced on the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel in Rome some of the world's greatest paintings. His name, of course, was Michelangelo.

Another man, although his birthplace was a British castle, was born with a palate so defective that he lisped. Yet his oratory moved mankind during some of the great crises of history. His name was Winston Churchill.

A third became stone deaf as a young man. But he wanted to write music and did so, although he never heard his glorious symphonies. "I have compensated mentally for my defects of hearing," he said. "I take fate by the throat. I will hear in heaven." His name was Ludwig von Beethoven.

A youngster's legs were badly burned and his family was told he would never walk again. He grew up to be an Olympic track champion. His name is Glen Cunningham.

You can continue this list of heroic human beings endlessly. The pages of history are studied with the names of people for whom difficulties became an incentive, a stimulus that provided the courage not only to live but to live greater lives than more fortunate people around them.

Jim TenEyck, once the legendary crew coach at Syracuse, told me that he had difficulty in finding men for his crews equal to the men he formerly had. "Since their mothers started taking them to school in automobiles," he said, "they haven't got power in their legs and to be a champion at rowing, you've got to have that."

But life takes more than strength in your legs. It requires men of strong mind and spirit. It takes hardship and difficulty to shape real people. Do you remember the fascinating story in the Bible about the death of Moses, that great leader, and how the Lord commissioned Joshua to take his place in leading the Children of Israel to the Promised Land? Joshua must have had his fears and doubts, but he overcame them through faith. The Lord spoke to Joshua in words that are among the greatest any of us have ever heard: "Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed; for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest."

Commit these words to memory. Make them a part of your mental attitude. When you get that faith deep down into your mind, whatever your trouble may be, you have really got hold of something vital, the courage to live. You needn't be afraid. Put your faith in the good Lord, and really trust Him. Rest your whole weight on your faith. Live with God as your friend, guide, companion.

AS KISSINGER PROCLAIMS 'POLICY OF GOOD PARTNER'—

Cuban Issue Haunts OAS Meet

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Proclaiming "the policy of the good partner," Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger on Saturday urged a greater spirit of inter-American collaboration and consultation.

In an address to the Organization of American States, he said the major aim of hemispheric leaders should be to meet "the demand of our peoples for justice and dignity."

But in his call for unity and solidarity, Kissinger did not refer to the major problem that divides the OAS—the exclusion of Cuba from economic and political contacts within the hemisphere.

U.S. officials explained this omission as an attempt to avoid any actions that could weaken President Nixon's support at home in his efforts to fight imperialism.

But the delegates were not allowed to forget Cuba as an island, Argentine Foreign Minister Alberto J. Vignes said in a speech that preceded Kissinger's that talk of justice and humanity must apply to the government of Fidel Castro.

Cuba's exclusion is an "anomaly," Vignes said. What may have been appropriate 10 years ago is "anachronistic and unrealistic," he went on. Not only does Cuba's isolation damage the Cuban people, Vignes said, it also "paralyzes hemispheric activity and, more important, creates tensions."

Vignes indicated that, in spite of U.S. wishes, the OAS meeting should review the situation involving the Havana government during the sessions over the next two weeks.

Kissinger, who returns to Washington this morning, outlined a few proposals aimed at continuing the spirit of cooperation he said began in the hemisphere six months ago. However, most of his outline covered previously stated points and did not provide specific answers.

Kissinger said the major change in past relations between the Americas has been a recognition by the United States that "peace cannot be achieved by our efforts alone and that development is far

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The roommate of a cousin of Patricia Hearst says he was kidnaped and held for three hours by three black men who mistook him for William R. Hearst II, police reported Saturday.

The roommate, Van R. Bush, 31, said he was kidnaped Thursday morning as he left his apartment and was released after he convinced his abductors he was not Hearst.

He was gagged and blindfolded but not harmed, he told officers.

Police Inspector Ralph Brown said Bush was hazy on key details, including his abductors' description, and would be asked to take a lie detector test.

Son Of Randolph's Brother

William R. Hearst II is the son of the late John Randolph Hearst, a brother of Randolph A. Hearst. Randolph's daughter, Patricia, was dragged from her apartment Feb. 4, and the terrorist Symbionese Liberation Army has claimed it kidnaped her.

Bush said he convinced his abductors that he was not Hearst by showing them his driver's license.

Randolph Hearst, asked whether he knew anything about the kidnaping, said: "No I don't really. As I understand it, a roommate of my nephew's was grabbed for two or three hours."

Won't Tell Where He Is

"When they found out he wasn't Billy, they turned him loose," added Hearst, editor and president of the San Francisco Examiner.

Hearst was asked if he had talked to his nephew: "Yes, but he won't tell me where he is at the moment."

Brown said Bush told police he was too scared to remember details of the kidnaping. He de-

Egypt Lauds U.S. Peace Efforts In Middle East

By The Associated Press Egypt had glowing words Saturday for U.S. peace efforts in the Middle East even as Syrian and Israeli gunners traded artillery fire on the tense Golan Heights front.

President Anwar Sadat made the remarks as he accepted the credentials of Hermann Eilts, the first American ambassador to Cairo since the June 1967 war. It was the first time in two years Sadat greeted a new ambassador.

"The wisdom of President Nixon and continuing efforts of Dr. Kissinger have made peace possible in the region for the first time in 26 years... I hope the efforts will achieve their goal," he said.

"I hope that you carry my best wishes to our friend President Nixon and all wishes to the American people and my best wishes for your success in your mission."

On Friday, Nixon accepted the credentials of Egypt's new ambassador to the United States, Ashraf Ghorbal.

Sadat has recently praised Nixon for his efforts in the Middle East leading to a separation and disengagement of forces on the Suez front and for similar efforts on the Syrian front.

Meanwhile, there were unconfirmed reports that Egypt rejected offers of an Israeli withdrawal from Sinai because Cairo wants to coordinate strategy with Syria.

"Exclusive offers of Israeli withdrawal from Sinai were put forward to Egypt last week but Egypt rejected them because

Speaker Labels Washington Politicians No. 1 Oil Problem

By ROBERT C. BORDEN Reporter-Telegram Staff ODESSA — Stating there is a "viciousness" in Congress against the oil industry, Texas Railroad Commission Chairman Jim C. Langdon listed several steps to alleviate the energy shortage during an energy symposium at the 56th annual meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce here Friday.

Other participants in discussion were A. V. Jones Jr. of Albany, president of the National Stripper Oil Well Association; Col. (Ret.) Delbert Fowler of Dallas, administrator of the Dallas Federal Energy Office, and Howard Drew of Fort Worth, director of research for Texas Electric Service Co. Moderator was Jack M. Shepherd of Midland, acting chairman of the WTCO Mineral Resources Committee.

Langdon's six steps, necessary if the nation is to meet its energy demands by 1985, include: increase domestic oil and gas production 37 per cent; increase coal production 176 per cent; build eight shale oil plants with a capacity of 100,000 barrels daily; construct 435 nuclear power plants with capacities of 1,000 megawatts each; construct 13 oil-from-coal plants, each with a capacity of 50,000 barrels a day, and 30 gas-from-coal plants, each with a capacity of 250 million cubic feet daily; and build 19 geothermal plants, each with a capacity of 1,000 megawatts.

Langdon said many non-oil-producing states representatives view Texans as "some sort of second-class citizen, and they view oil and gas producers as an even lesser form."

Langdon said natural gas is still one of America's bargains, comparing it favorably with the cost of several liquids.

Jones said the number one problem facing the oil industry is "Washington politicians who think they can do a better job of running the business."

Drew spoke on the uses of nuclear energy in electric power production, stating four nuclear power generating plants are scheduled to be in use in Texas by 1982. He noted, however, the cost of nuclear power is substantially greater than fossil fuel power.

He also touched on other sources of power, including geothermal and solar energy.

Fowler said he is fighting to get the energy production business on a 100 per cent of needs allocation basis. Presently, it is on a 100 per cent of needs times an allocation factor, which is derived by dividing the supply of fuel available by the demand. Now, only agriculture has a 100 per cent of needs supply.

Since 1960, the population of the United States has increased by 11 per cent, but energy consumption has increased 50 per cent, Fowler noted. He said there is a shift toward modes of transportation which require more energy consumption per passenger mile.

Fowler noted that Americans consume 18 to 20 million barrels of crude oil a day, enough to fill an area the size of a football field and as tall as the Empire State Building.

Refineries in this country can refine 14 million barrels a day, he added, noting America must turn more and more to foreign refined oil products. Crude oil production is 9 to 11 million barrels a day in America, forcing the country to seek additional supplies elsewhere.

All four men saw no easy, quick solution to the energy shortage, although all spoke on the need to develop other sources of power.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—After an 11th-hour flurry of give-and-take over property taxes, Louisiana voters Saturday night appeared to have approved a new state constitution.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Watergate committee investigators Saturday charged the Internal Revenue Service with putting "frustrating and debilitating roadblocks" into their investigation of Howard Hughes' $100,000 campaign contribution.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Declaring the nation is "in the grip of a serious recession," Sens. Edward M. Kennedy and Walter F. Mondale said Saturday they would push for a $5.9-billion income tax cut.

New Storms Hammer North, West Texas

Thunderstorms, tornadoes and hail and high winds lashed portions of North and West Texas Saturday for the second straight day.

Several funnel clouds were sighted and at least one tornado touched ground in North Texas, but no damage or injuries were reported as a result of the twisters.

The National Weather Service issued tornado watches and warnings as well as thunderstorm warnings throughout the evening for North and West Texas.

In the Midland area, all was calm Saturday and the National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal said it would continue so today and Monday.

The Tall City's high Saturday was 86 degrees and the low was 64. A maximum in the low 80s is expected today, with a low tonight in the low 50s. A high in the low 90s also is expected here Monday.

Wifds from 15 to 25 miles per hour are forecast for the Permian Basin throughout today.

A tornado touched ground five miles northeast of Wichita Falls on an open field at approximately 5:30 p.m. Saturday. The twister came down a mile east of the Weather Service ofshunned coal in favor of the more convenient oil or gas are now switching to the mineral Indians once called "the black rock that burns."

The character of whole counties is being changed, almost overnight, in a relentless drive by industry and utility companies to harvest this once forgotten source of energy.

Farm and ranch acreage overlying thick layers of lignite, a low-grade coal, has doubled and tripled in price. Quiet meadows and lush forests are being ripped away by clawing machines to uncover seams of fuel.

Mineral explorers who usually search for oil are now scrambling for coal acreage. From the dry South Texas plains to the rolling, pine-covered hills of East Texas, core tests are being drilled to assess the quantity and character of lignite deposits.

In a state that still produces 40 per cent of the nation's oil and gas, companies are preparing for a petroleum-poor future by betting millions of investment dollars on coal.

The energy potential is immense.

University of Texas geologists estimate there are about 10 billion tons of lignite within 200 feet of the surface. This can be recovered by strip mining and produce enough energy to supply the state's electrical needs for an estimated 150 years. Others estimate 3 billion to 4 billion tons of strippable lignite.

Another 100 billion tons of lignite, the experts say, occurs in depths of 200 to 5,000 feet. The energy equivalent is about 20 times the state's oil reserves and about 16 times the Texas gas reserves.

The Texas rush to coal has already brought these results: —The state's largest power group, Texas Utilities, is operating one strip mine now, using the coal to fire a generating plant. The company or its affiliates are building three other plants and are planning another.

—Large landowners in East Texas have been forced to sell thousands of acres to Texas Utilities for sites for generating plants and accompanying reservoirs for cooling water.

—Exxon, the nation's largest oil company, announced it is spending $200 million on experimental plants to develop a commercial process to convert coal into gas and gasoline. The research plants will be at Exxon's Baytown refinery.

—Once sleepy rural towns are being injected with renewed prosperity from coal-lease money and from construction of utility plants on remote sites.

—University of Texas experts are studying ways of burning lignite deposits underground to produce a low-grade gas to fire boilers. These studies may make it possible to harvest about 100 billion tons of Texas lignite that is too deep underground to be mined.

—State legislators have recognized the need for Texas laws regulating strip mining and some representatives have recommended statutes which would force industry to repair damage done to land by mining operations.

Lignite forms a massive plate underlying most of East and South Texas. The plate lies at an angle, outcropping through the center of the state and then plunging underground in a tilt toward the coast. The center of the plate, along the coast, is thousands of feet underground and unrecoverable.

The most valuable part of the deposit is the edge of the plate near the surface of the ground. These shallow formations, covered with 200 feet or less of overburden, stretch from Texas to the Rio Grande, southwest of San Antonio.

Dr. W. R. Kaiser, a University of Texas geologist, said there are three types of lignite deposits: Wilcox, Yegua and Jackson.

Wilcox is the most abundant and most valuable. It generally burns the hottest and has the least sulphur, a highly polluting impurity. Much of the easily mined Wilcox has been bought or leased (See DAY Page 12A)

MARTIN COUNTY— Midland Firm Awarded Contract On Courthouse

STANTON—A Midland firm, Pace Construction Co., submitted the low bid and was awarded the contract for construction of the new Martin County Courthouse.

The Pace firm's bid was $606,000 to replace the present courthouse which was built in 1910. Martin County officials were told the job would take about 360 days from the time construction starts.

County Judge Carrol Yater said construction will start after the demolition process on the old courthouse is complete and land is prepared. Yater said the demolition contractor still has 90 days to complete his job.

Martin County voters approved a $400,000 bond issue for the new courthouse construction on Jan. 6. The remainder of funds needed will come from money on hand and from future revenue sharing funds.

Six bids were opened by Martin officials. Besides Pace, the bids were from Kasch Construction Co. of Big Spring, $692,000; Knox, Galey and Meador of Lubbock, $613,319; Oasis Builders of Kermit, $611,900; Rose and Sons of Midland, $628,000; and R. B. Sneed Construction Co. of Odessa, $633,400.

Having moved here from the North, I do not recognize an insect which I have found running across my floors at night, but I would like to get rid of it. How can this be done? — M. M.

The insect described in your letter is commonly known as the earwig. It lives in the grass close to the foundation of a house and feeds on decaying vegetable matter. It is not harmful, although it gives off a noxious odor when squashed. Spread dust or granular insecticide around the foundation of the house in a six to eight foot band to exterminate the earwig.

I filed my income tax return last month, but now I've found out that I overlooked a deduction. What should I do?

The Internal Revenue Service said you can file Form 1040X to amend your previously filed return. On this form, you recompute the portion that has changed from your original return and send it, along with any necessary related information to the address shown in the 1040X instructions. The form is available at the IRS office in Midland, located in the Oil and Gas Building.

I am concerned about a relative who hopes to get a job inspecting pipeline welds with portable X-ray equipment. What is the danger involved from radiation?—M. G.
Under requirements of the State Department of Health, all companies engaging in industrial radiography must furnish employees with film badges which measure total body exposure to radiation from X-rays or other radioactive materials. Daily records of this measure must be kept and an employee must be notified if he has been exposed to more than the limit considered safe by state and Atomic Energy Commission standards.

Protesters End Statue Occupation

NEW YORK (AP) — Twenty-one anti-Nixon protesters, who barricaded themselves inside the Statue of Liberty for 14 hours, ended their occupation Saturday morning after officials obtained a court order evicting them as trespassers.

The demonstrators marched out in single file at 6:45 a.m. from behind the doors they had chained shut when other visitors left the national monument at 5 p.m. Friday.

An hour earlier, National Parks Service officials read the court order to the protesters through the locked doors. Helmeted police stood by at the base of the statue on tiny Liberty Island in New York Harbor.

As they emerged, the demonstrators chanted: "Organize to fight... On to Washington... Throw the bum out." They had said their purpose was to gain publicity for future anti-Nixon demonstrations.

Before the court order was read they turned down an earlier request to leave the statue.

The demonstrators, after leaving the statue, boarded a launch with reporters and policemen and were allowed to go free when it landed in Manhattan.

"There are no charges, criminal nor civil," said Asst. U.S. Atty. Thomas J. Cahill. He said that course was chosen because the protesters had left the statue without the use of force by officials.

At the Manhattan pier, the demonstrators were greeted by sympathizers and one of those who had been inside the statue called it "a real victory."

The end of the demonstration came about three hours after U.S. District Court Judge Robert J. Ward had signed the court order at 3:45 a.m. EDT.

About an hour before the signing, they had turned down a previous offer of no prosecution in exchange for leaving the statue without a court order.

"Please take our advice very seriously and in good faith," a spokesman for the National Parks police had told them through the statue's closed doors.

Whale Products
WASHINGTON (AP) — Whale meat is still used for food, and whale oil goes into the manufacture of cosmetics, soap, shoe polish, margarine and other products. But with the great herds now gone, conservationists argue that substitute materials are available.

SEES LARGE ROLE FOR AREA—

Burl Hulsey Elected President Of WTCC At Annual Meeting

ODESSA — Burl B. Hulsey Jr. of Fort Worth was elected president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for 1974-1975 at the annual business meeting Friday of the 56th annual WTCC convention. The new president, who succeeds Emil C. Rassman of Midland, is president and chief executive officer of Texas Electric Service Company.

In his acceptance speech, Hulsey stated that "in the 56 years since the West Texas Chamber of Commerce was founded, this organization has grown . . . in size, in purpose and in accomplishments."

Development Ingredients

"But, of much greater importance is the progress that has been made throughout this region . . . progress that has seen West Texas develop from a sleeping giant, troubled with problems that often defied solutions, to a vibrant, productive area that, today, is providing solutions to national problems."

The new WTCC president also stated that "the development of West Texas can be attributed to about a half a dozen ingredients: Water, mineral resources, agriculture, industry, tourism and people."

Other officers elected were Frank Junell of San Angelo, president-elect; Joe Collyns of San Angelo, vice president, Finance and Membership; C. L. Cooke of Fort Worth, vice president, Program of Work; J. R. Beadel of Brownwood, vice president of Special Events; Garnet Gracy of Abilene, treasurer, and Rassman, chairman of the board.

District Vice Presidents

Vice presidents of the 11 WTCC districts are Robert O. Mills of Amarillo, Charles S. Signor of Lubbock, L. D. Jones Sr. of Seymour, Bill Montgomery of Fort Worth, Leroy Langston of Abilene, W. S. Pearson of Big Spring, L. H. Koogle of El Paso, Richard E. Morrow of Fort Stockton, F. L. Stephens of San Angelo, Grover A. Pitts of Brownwood and Ben Low of Kerrville.

Elected to the executive committee-at-large were R. W. Hardy of Abilene, W. Lee Watson of Brownwood, Mrs. Charles D. Tandy of Fort Worth.

W. H. "Bill" Collyns of Midland, Paul W. Mason of Fort Worth and O. R. Clements of Odessa.

Midlanders C. J. Kelly, Col. H. D. Sutterlin and Robert Pendleton were elected to the WTCC board of directors. Other directors from the Midland area include Gerald McCaskill of Andrews, Jack Smartt of Crane, G. D. Foster of Colorado City, W. T. Kent of Fort Stockton, and Durn Lowery of Rankin.

Among those presented with West Texas Chamber of Commerce leadership awards were Midlanders Harry W. Clark, president of the Texas Industrial Development Council; County Judge Barbara Culver, member of the Texas Constitutional Revision Commission; Mrs. J. Howard Hodge, member of the Texas Commission on the Arts and Humanities, and Rassman, member of the board of regents, State Senior Colleges.

Among highlights of the convention were a series of 74-second reports from presidents of local chambers of commerce in West Texas. Clark, chairman of the WTCC Local Action Committee, presided, and K. M. Jastrow, president of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, was one of those giving reports.

Panel discussions included those on bicentennial opportunities and money makers for West Texas. Former Midlander Burvin Hines, now of Arlington, chairman of the WTCC Tourist and Travel Development Committee, chaired the bicentennial panel, and Frank Junell, chairman of the State Affairs Committee, headed the money makers panel which included Texas Commissioner of Agriculture John C. White.

Entertainment for the convention included a performance by a Dixieland group from the Midland Lions Club Big Name Band.

The convention ended Saturday morning with a Quota Busters Breakfast.

Delegates voted to hold the 1975 convention in El Paso.

Plaques expressing appreciation to Rassman for his leadership while serving as president were presented by the West Texas chamber and the Texas State Chamber of Commerce.

Girls Ranch Gets Texas Flag Today

A Texas flag will be presented to the High Sky Girls Ranch in a special ceremony scheduled at 3 p.m. today at the ranch's flag staff, in connection with the observance of San Jacinto Day.

The flag will be presented by the Aaron Estes Chapter of Daughters of the Republic of Texas.

Mrs. Francis E. Melear, president of the chapter, will make the presentation.

Mrs. John P. McKinley, District 1 representative of the state organization, will preside.

Members of the Midland County Historical Society will attend as special guests. The ceremony will take the place of the society's regular April meeting.

The public is invited to attend.

Discrimination Trial Scheduled

DETROIT (AP) — A suit charging Ford Motor Co. with age discrimination will go to trial in about 60 days, U.S. District Court Judge Damon Keith said Friday.

Russell Priest, 57, a design cost analyst who claimed he was told to take early retirement because of a manpower cutback, brought suit against Ford.

Priest, who worked 39 years for the auto maker, contended he was a victim of discrimination because younger employees doing the same work were allowed to stay.

GOVERNOR SPEAKS AT WTCC BANQUET—

Briscoe: Water Has Top Priority

By ROBERT C. BORDEN Reporter-Telegram Staff

ODESSA — Saying he places highest priority on getting supplemental water for Texas, Gov. Dolph Briscoe praised the record of his administration Friday night at the concluding banquet of the 56th annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce meeting at Inn of the Golden West.

Briscoe said without an adequate water supply, "there is no way for Texas to become the number one agriculture state in the nation."

Texas is currently number three in agricultural production, the governor noted.

Worse Than Energy Crisis

He also warned, "If the energy shortage hasn't taught us to start planning and working now, we will soon find ourselves in Texas with a water shortage worse than the current energy crisis."

Briscoe said when he appointed a task force to seek ways to obtain and transport non-Texas water into the state, the federal government said such a project was not feasible.

The governor then noted the same statement was made in the 1960s about the screwworm eradication program, which has since proved successful.

Speaking on inflation, which he termed one of the greatest problems facing the United States, Briscoe said "state government should set an example by living within our income." He said he is proud of his record of not increasing or beginning new taxes, a promise he feels can be kept again in the next two years.

Encourage Investments

"We must conduct the business of the state in such a way as to maintain a business climate that will encourage added investment in the state," the governor and former Texas Chamber of Commerce president stated.

Briscoe, saying he subscribes to the late John Nance Garner's philosophy of government, said government should protect the lives and property of its citizens and insure "each of us has a chance to work out his own destiny according to his own talent."

Reinstating the death penalty, as was done last year, "will serve as a deterrent to crime in Texas in the future," Briscoe claimed.

"We can return once more to that kind of Texas where its citizens can walk down the streets of any metropolitan city without fear of crime or violence," the governor said, adding, "Truly that has to be the kind of Texas we want to hand over to our children."

The governor, coming down strong on drug pushers, said, "There is no way to deal harshly enough with those who deal in the living death of drugs."

Turning to education, Briscoe noted 40 per cent of all children starting first grade in Texas will drop out of school before they are graduated. "To me, really quality education allows the student to be trained in the skills that are his," Briscoe stated, adding "One of the saddest sights is a high school graduate with no employable skills."

Questioned earlier at a Midland Air Terminal press conference, Briscoe said he is keeping in touch with education leaders across the state concerning the possibility of a special session of the legislature to provide public school financing.

"At the last regular session of the legislature," the governor said, "I supported a bill providing financing for poorer school districts." After this was changed in committee to provide financing for all school districts Briscoe said, he supported that bill. Eventually, the bill passed the state Senate, but was killed by a tie vote in the House.

Speaking on the energy situation, Briscoe said "We have to plan better for the future if we are to meet the needs of Texas in the future."

He termed the energy crisis a "tragedy of government regulation." He stated, "If the non gas-producing states want to keep the price of gas low, then we will keep new gas produced in Texas here and let them go back to using coal as they should be doing anyway."

At his first governor's conference last June, Briscoe said most of the non-oil states governors saw Texas as "the boys in black hats." He said he hoped they are beginning to see Texas has done its part to increase the supply "and now they must do theirs."

In closing, Briscoe said he is optimistic about the future of Texas, adding there is less divisiveness and bitterness in the state now. "Texans are working together to make a better Texas," he ended.

O. R. Clements of Odessa, 1973 WTCC district vice president, presented Mrs. Briscoe a decapage plaque of the Briscoe's daughter's wedding invitation.

The Odessa College Madrigal Singers performed for the audience of more than 300 before the governor's speech.

LOSE A POUND A DAY AND MORE

Vitamin 'E' Discovery Offers Fast Weight Loss

HOLLYWOOD (Special) — New scientific discoveries have produced a Vitamin E diet that quickly works wonders on overweight people, and reportedly is gaining great popularity across the country with glowing reports of easy weight loss "while still eating almost as much as you want."

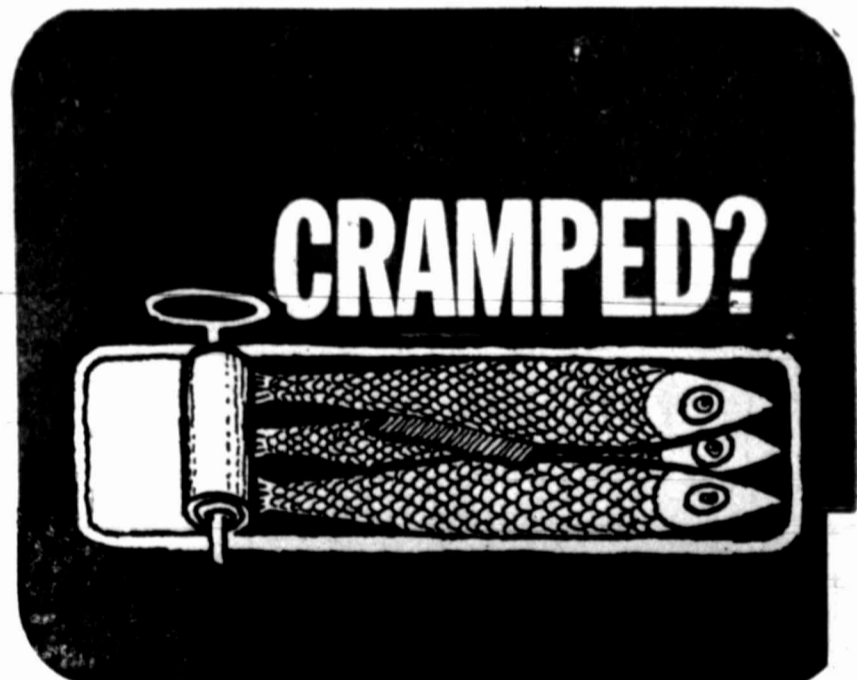

Those who follow the simple Vitamin E diet report an average loss of at least a pound a day and even more without exercise or starvation. Nutritionists' files are bulging with happy testimonials from formerly overweight people who are now trim and slim again. Best of all, you can still eat almost as much as you want of the "forbidden foods" like steak, chicken, fish, sauces, gravies, bacon and eggs and still lose weight.

Chewable (candy-like) vitamin E tablets, as used in the diet plan, contain a new scientific combination of ingredients that quickly curbs and controls the appetite, while also giving the wondrous benefits of Vitamin E which is so essential to good health.

The use of the new Vitamin E Diet tablets and foods prescribed in the plan will, through natural action, act to help your body use up excess fat. According to recent clinical tests, a person who is deficient in Vitamin E or Protein "will double the speed of fat utilization" with the use of Vitamin E.

E-DIET AVAILABLE

To get a copy of this highly successful diet and E Tablets, send $5.00 for 10 day supply (or hidden foods" like steak, chicken, fish, sauces, gravies, bacon for 30 day supply) to: Vita-E Diet, Dept. Goat Skin Goods Under Quarantine

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Bongo drums, purses, wallets and other Haitian products made of goat skin have been placed under quarantine by federal and state health officials.

The danger is that the leather may carry anthrax spores, organisms that can cause severe skin disease and death if untreated, officials said Friday.

The warning followed a report that a 22-year-old woman at the Naval Air Station in Jacksonville had anthrax. She developed the characteristic blisters last December and a medical corpsman recalled there had been an outbreak of the disease in Haiti.

Bank

HALLANDALE, Fla. — Bank official Albert Dantzier, who told police he was kidnapped at gunpoint Friday, waded Saturday after just a boat to escape his captors.

Dantzier, 43, called about 1 a.m. CDT Friday from a boat in the Atlantic more than two hours from his home in Hallandale.

A doctor who examined Dantzier said he was otherwise unharmed.

Dantzier, assistant director of the City of Hallandale, called at 9:05 a.m. Friday to report he had been kidnapped.

After the telephone call, Dantzier was not heard from again.

"He said he was going to kill himself and jump overboard," Fort police detective Bill Dantzier said.

Bank Official Safe Following Apparent Kidnaping

HALLANDALE, Fla. (AP) — Bank official Albert L. Dantzier, who told police he was kidnaped at gunpoint by two men Friday, waded ashore early Saturday after jumping from a boat to escape his captors, police said.

Dantzier, 43, came ashore about 1 a.m. CDT after swimming in the Atlantic Ocean for more than two hours. Police found him lying in the front yard of a house.

A doctor who examined Dantzier said he was tired but otherwise unharmed.

Dantzier, assistant vice president of the City National Bank of Hallandale, called the bank at 9:05 a.m. Friday and told an employee he was being held for $60,000 ransom. Bank officials delivered the ransom to a designated site, but the FBI said it was never picked up.

After the telephone call, Dantzier was not heard from until he stumbled ashore.

"He said he thought they were going to kill him so he jumped overboard and started swimming," Fort Lauderdale police detective Bill Mix said.

"He thought he had been in the water about two hours. He was obviously exhausted and in a state of shock."

Mix said police received a call from area residents complaining about a man knocking on their doors.

"The people wouldn't open the doors," Mix said. "When we got to the area we found a man lying in the front yard of a house. He was soaking wet and extremely shaken. He said his name was Dantzier and was the man who had been abducted."

Mix said Dantzier told him he was abducted at gunpoint by two men who held him at an unknown location until early today when he was taken out to sea in an 18-foot boat.

Dantzier was given oxygen at the hospital's emergency room where police questioned him. A hospital spokesman said Dantzier was "not able to talk. He's pretty well worn out."

"He's been in the water for two hours. He was apparently dumped overboard from a boat."

Earlier, police mounted a room-by-room sweep of hotels in this resort city about 10 miles north of Miami in search of Dantzier.

The search came after the FBI said the ransom, which was deposited in a designated trash can at an undisclosed site, was not picked up by Friday night.

Neighbors said his radio was left blaring, and FBI agents found a wallet, wristwatch, comb, and a set of keys on Dantzier's dresser in the single bedroom apartment.

Longo said police were trying to determine if there was a link between the apparent abduction of Dantzier and a kidnap on Jan. 29.

In that case, Charles Lantz, president of Citizens National Bank of Hollywood, was found unharmed in a motel room hours after a $100,000 ransom was paid.

No arrests have been made, and the money has not been recovered in that case.

"We have to consider the possibility that they are related," Longo said. "We have reviewed case histories of other recent kidnapings with the FBI, and we must reflect on some of the similarities."

Former Rodeo Star Acquitted In Murder

BENTON, La. (AP) — Former Texas rodeo star Jack Favor is free on $5,000 bond after a jury found him innocent of the 1964 slaying of Mrs. W. R. Richey of Houghton, La.

The 12-man jury announced its verdict Friday night after an hour of deliberation.

Judge C. J. Bolin immediately set bond for Favor to go free until he is tried on charges of murdering Mrs. Richey's husband in the same robbery-slaying.

"I still have faith in the American system of judgment," said Favor as he left the courtroom.

Favor's wife and daughter, both present in the court, burst into tears as the jury's verdict was read. The courtroom had been packed to capacity with some 225 persons present as the jury retired at 9:40 p.m.

In 1967, a jury convicted the Texas rodeo star with the robbery-slaying of the Richeys, but he was granted a re-trial after he charged Bossier Parish officials had been in collusion with Floyd Cumbe, the star witness against him.

The defense rested its case Friday night after the testimony of Donald Yates, now serving time in federal prison, who was one of the three convicted in the Houghton killings.

Yates testified Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Richey were both shot by Cumbe, who is now serving life in an Oklahoma prison — and that Favor was not with them in the robbery raid on the Richey home.

Yates testified that instead of Favor, there had been a third person with them that night—a Bossier Parish man he would identify only as Mr. X.

"Will you believe Floyd Cumbe and send this man Favor to prison for his life," defense lawyer J. B. Wells asked. "I don't think there's any question Cumbe killed 'em."

Both Yates and Cumbe were convicted of manslaughter in the murders, but Cumbe was mysteriously freed after testifying for the prosecution at Favor's trial.

After being taken to the state line and released by a deputy sheriff, he went on to Oklahoma City, where he killed an old girl friend and her roommate.

Layoffs Slated By Ford

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. has ordered a new shuffle in its production schedule as new car sales continue to lag far behind last year's record pace.

The nation's No. 2 auto maker said Friday 6,400 workers would be idled for one-and-two-week periods during the next three weeks and that 440 employees would be laid off indefinitely.

About 7,300 Ford workers are to return to work Monday after being idled this week.

The firm also said 610 employees who had been on indefinite layoffs would be recalled during the next three weeks. Ford, with sales down 23 per cent from 1973, now has 16,350 production workers laid off indefinitely.

General Motors and Chrysler also have been forced to lay off workers and close plants for varying periods since new car sales began to slump last fall.

The newest layoffs at Ford will hit the firm's Wixom, Mich., Lincoln and Thunderbird assembly plant and a transmission plant in Livonia, Mich., the hardest.

At Wixom, 3,800 workers will be idled next week and the second week of May, while 1,600 will be off the week of April 29. Some 2,700 employees will be laid off the week of May 6 at Livonia.

Beginning Monday, 125 workers will be laid off two-weeks at a trim plant in Utica, Mich., and 75 employees will be idled one week at a parts plant in Plymouth, Mich.

Some 170 workers are to be laid off indefinitely beginning Monday at stamping plants in Dearborn, Mich.; Cleveland, Ohio; and Buffalo, N.Y., while 270 go off May 6 at a Dearborn casting plant.

Ford said 160 workers would be recalled April 29 from indefinite layoffs at stamping plants in Buffalo and Chicago and 450 would return to work at the Dearborn stamping plant and a radiator facility in Green Island, N.Y., on May 6.

North Irish Death Toll Reaches 1,000

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A young Roman Catholic was shot and killed Saturday, bringing the official death toll to 1,000 in nearly five years of terrorism and bloodshed in Northern Ireland.

Authorities identified the victim as James Corbett, 20, whose wife is expecting their first child.

Corbett was abducted from his home in Belfast's New Lodge district, driven in a blue panel truck to the city's western fringe and shot twice in the back of the head, police said. Nearby residents found him slumped over a hedge in a ditch.

"The shooting was in the classic style of execution used by the Irish Republican Army," a police spokesman said. GUNMEN of the mainly Catholic IRA have been known to shoot men suspected of being traitors in the back of the head.

The official breakdown of the 1,000 deaths lists 214 soldiers, 43 members of the defense regiment, 50 policemen and 693 civilians, including guerrillas.

The known wounded are at least 1,000 army and 3,000 civilians.

The latest fatality makes one dead for every 1,500 of the province's 1.5 million population. If this were happening in the United States with its 210 million population, it would mean 140,000 dead, almost three times American losses in Vietnam.

TCU-Fort Worth Week Under Way

Sissy Lambastes Briscoe On School Finance, Taxes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Frances "Sissy" Farenthold bore down on taxes for the second day in a row Saturday in her gubernatorial campaign, outlining in detail her public-school finance plan.

Speaking in Odessa, Mrs. Farenthold said Gov. Dolph Briscoe, her opponent in the Democratic primary, should call a special session of the legislature within the next two months.

"The governor's public decision on calling this emergency session on schools is simply inexcusable," she said. "What more is there to know, than that many schools cannot open their doors in September if the state does not help them soon?"

Saturday was "Briscoe Day" in the governor's hometown of Uvalde, and he attended a $25-a-plate luncheon at the Uvalde Country Club. He is scheduled to deliver a San Jacinto Day speech in Houston today.

Mrs. Farenthold said the legislature "must consider" appropriating about $200 million of an estimated $315 million surplus in federal revenue-sharing funds for Texas school districts and for teacher retirement.

Her long-term solution to the school crisis is a six-step program:

- Determine the wealth of the state as a whole by requiring school districts to report the true market value of all taxable property.
- Determine the total cost of education in the state by adding up the budgets of all school districts, including the cost of bus service for students more than a mile—rather than two miles—from the school.
- Establish a state-local matching formula—probably at the current ratio of 80 per cent from the state and 20 per cent from the district.
- Determine the percentage of the state wealth that is in each district.
- Compare each district's budget with its percentage of the state's wealth and make up any difference with state funds.
- Give extra state money to poor districts that have made an extra tax effort that falls short of requirements because of low property values.

Escapes Taxation

Friday, Mrs. Farenthold said the Legislative Property Tax Committee staff estimates that from 25 to 33 per cent of all taxable property in the state is not on the tax rolls.

She said fair market value should be the only standard for assessing property values, with a built-in tax break for land actually used for agricultural purposes.

If more taxes are needed, they should come from a corporate profits tax, she said.

Fort Worth Bank To Open 37-Story Building Monday

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The city's oldest and largest bank, the Fort Worth National, formally opens its new $30 million facility Monday, a 37-story glass-sheathed tower, tallest in the city.

With a connecting motor bank and parking garage, the complex occupies 2 1/2 blocks in downtown Fort Worth.

Opening ceremonies and dedication of the new buildings are set for 8:30 a.m. with the bank opening its doors for business at 9 a.m.

The building towers 464 feet, rising from a five-story pyramid-shaped base surrounded by plazas.

The organization includes Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Jacobsen Denied Change Of Venue

DALLAS (AP) — Austin attorney Jake Jacobsen has been denied a request for a change of venue from San Angelo where he faces charges of misapplication of funds of a San Angelo savings and loan association.

Jacobsen's business partner Ray Cowan is a co-defendant. U.S. Dist. Judge Robert M. Hill ruled Friday to transfer the trial to Dallas or Austin.

Judge Rules Absentee Ballot Applications 'Open Records'

LINDEN, Tex. (AP) — The Citizens Journal of Atlanta, Tex., will inspect applications for absentee ballots in the April 2 Atlanta city election Monday as the result of a court order which removes the public documents from the ballot box.

District Court Judge Bun L. Hutchinson gave the order Friday and the ballot box was delivered at 5 p.m. to the Linden district courtroom where it was opened for removal of the public records and then locked again for return to the city hall.

Judge Hutchinson acted swiftly on a petition filed by Dist. Atty. Neal Birmingham at the request of Journal Publisher Bill Turner.

The petition was accompanied by an affidavit signed by Turner and Bob Valenta, Atlanta residents who alleged violations of the Texas Election Code as cause to open the ballot box.

"There is no question that the applications are public records and they should not be in the ballot box," the judge told Turner in issuing the order.

The judge also noted that City Atty. James Verschoyle joined in the request that the ballot box be opened.

Judge Hutchinson gave the opinion the documents were placed in the box by mistake and, though public records, could not be removed by election officials for inspection.

A&M Mothers Clubs Pick Dayton Woman

Mrs. F. B. Royder of Dayton was elected president of the Federation of Texas A&M Mothers Clubs Saturday.

Mrs. Royder, mother of two sons attending A&M, replaces Mrs. Lewis Gross of Dallas. Mrs. Jack K. Williams, wife of the A&M president, was named honorary president.

However, the court order said, "It is the intent of the election code to prevent unauthorized tampering with the ballots and not to deny the public access to public records. The election code was not intended to circumvent the Open Records Act."

Saying, "It is to the public interest that such public records be removed from the ballot box," Hutchinson ordered city Secretary Charles Long to deliver the box to the district courtroom. The applications were removed and will be kept on file.

In the affidavit that accompanied the court petition, Turner alleged the election code was violated in several ways.

The public was denied access to public records, the ballot box was not locked with two locks, a key was not provided the Atlanta police chief, the ballot box was opened after the completion of absentee voting on the day before the election to allow candidates to inspect the applications.

In addition, said the affidavit, the code was violated when jacket envelopes containing the applications and ballots were opened before election day.

The Citizen Journal originally began its effort to inspect the applications when it was learned that absentee voting results did not follow the same trend as the final election results.

Connally Gives Lie To Report He Took $10,000 'Milk Money'

BANGOR, Maine (AP) — Former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally said Saturday a published report quoting an informed source as saying he accepted $10,000 from a dairy cooperative is not true.

Connally, speaking at a airport news conference prior to addressing a meeting of Maine Republicans, said he was offered a $10,000 campaign contribution and turned it down. He described the offer as a "typical campaign contribution."

Paper Peddler Fights For Right Not To Take Bath

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Samuel "Big Nose Sammy" Lutz is fighting for his right not to take a bath.

The 54-year-old newspaper peddler says he was notified Friday by officials of the Wilmington News Journal and Morning News that they would not sell him any more papers until he took a bath, shaved and got a haircut.

Lutz complained to a federal equal employment opportunity office in Baltimore. Agency spokesman Allen Danoff said he will send Lutz the proper forms to file a formal complaint about discrimination because of appearance.

Several months ago, Lutz was forced to relocate his 45-year-old business. Evicted from his news stand after the makeshift structure was declared unfit for human habitation, he shifted to a cart.

worked for Associated Milk Producers Inc., had notified Watergate prosecutors he would testify that Connally accepted $5,000 in May 1971 and a second $5,000 in March 1972.

The source reported that Jacobsen is prepared to state that Connally took the first contribution after helping dairymen get an increase in federal milk price supports and the second $5,000 after telephoning Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell about an antitrust suit against Associated Milk Producers.

Jacobsen said Friday night he was very disturbed by the report, but on the advice of his lawyer would make no comment on it.

Complicated Lawsuits

The milk producers, the nation's largest dairy cooperative, contributed more than $400,000 to President Nixon's 1972 campaign after the administration raised milk price supports. They now are involved in a number of complicated lawsuits.

Later, Connally told the Republican state convention that the party to which he switched last year should "not wear a mantle of guilt."

Connally, who as a Democrat served as governor of Texas and Treasury secretary, said Watergate has not caused all the country's problems.

"If Watergate caused all the problems, why is Congress rated in the polls 10 per cent below the President himself? That's a Democratic Congress," he said.

Jefferson's Only Published Book

Thomas Jefferson's only published book was called Notes on the State of Virginia in which he discussed such subjects as law, religion, manners, and Indian history.

Connally, who praised President Nixon's foreign policy initiatives, was interrupted several times by applause from some 2,500 delegates.

He urged Republicans to work in unison to win fall elections and expressed confidence that they would.

Speaking of the milk allegations, Connally said Jacobsen informed him in 1971 that he had $10,000 available to contribute to any campaign or committee of Connally's choosing. Connally said he turned down that offer.

"I would describe it as a typical campaign offer from a friend, which I did not accept. I said, 'No thanks,'" Connally said.

"I've never seen so much attention given to a donation declined than I have this one."

'DISINVITED'—Former Texas Gov. John Connally holds up a copy of a newspaper with a story about a move by Maine Republican gubernatorial candidates to "disinvite" Connally to speak at the GOP state convention in Bangor. Connally said it was a new experience to be "disinvited" by anyone. (AP Wirephoto.)

Last Week's Subpoena May Be Toughest

By DON McLEOD
An AP News Analysis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Of the subpoenas served on President Nixon in the year of Watergate investigations, the one issued by the special prosecutor last week may be the toughest to fight.

It differs from the ones served previously by the prosecutor and by Congress in that it seeks material to be used as evidence at trial rather than for an investigation.

But a more significant difference is that it is not part of a probe of the White House or Nixon himself. It seeks evidence that the prosecutor says Nixon has and which is necessary in the trial of third parties.

One of the most fundamental precepts of American law, dating from its ancestral British common law, is that no man has the right to withhold his evidence from a trial of justice.

The pre-eminent American authority on evidence, John Henry Wigmore, has written, "for three centuries it has been recognized as a fundamental maxim that the public has a right to every man's evidence."

The Supreme Court has quoted Wigmore a number of times in recent decisions, including those which said reporters must reveal their news sources to legal authorities needing the information for evidence.

There are exceptions, of course. The best example is the constitutional provision that no one may be required to give evidence against himself. Even in the trial of a third party, a person may refuse to give certain information if it would incriminate him.

It is significant that three of the defendants have joined Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski in support of the latest subpoena against the President.

The subpoena seeks tapes and back-up materials covering 64 presidential conversations. It is asked for use in the Watergate cover-up trial of former Atty. Gen. and Nixon campaign manager John N. Mitchell, ex-White House chief of staff H. R. Haldeman, former chief domestic adviser John D. Ehrlichman and four others scheduled for trial Sept. 9.

Nixon's lawyers, in other cases, have raised the claim of executive privilege as an implied constitutional power which would exempt him from the government requirement of every man to give his evidence. But U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica disallowed this claim last year in ordering Nixon to turn over materials to then special prosecutor Archibald Cox.

The U.S. Court of Appeals upheld Sirica.

Nixon had Cox fired, but eventually gave up the subpoenaed materials rather than take further appeal to the Supreme Court. Sirica heard arguments on specific terms the White House wanted withheld from the grand jury and honored them.

Cox was seeking information for a grand jury investigation, which presumably could have been aimed at the White House or Nixon himself. The case for sustaining the subpoena would be even stronger when the material is sought for trial of a third party.

San Francisco Bay Area Shudders Over 'Zebra'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "Go away, Zebra. Don't kill me, please."

"Zebra, go home," the child shrieks at the playmate who stalks him in the shadows of a Victorian shell about to be razed by a redevelopment bulldozer.

A woman glances nervously up at a heavy web of trolley wires, then down at the bus zone in gathering darkness. "I can almost see the red stairs still. It must be my imagination about the Zebra." She looks over her shoulder, pulls her coat closer and hurries off.

A black man called Bill cracks open a door in a pink concrete dinosaur of a housing project called the "Pink Palace."

"You're scared now about the Zebra. But Zebras are everywhere. Zebra or no, a lot of people are just scared all the time."

"That's life."

The "Zebra" on the lips of children and frightened residents, and cracking over hundreds of police radios, is a killer — named from the "Z" radio channel used by police.

Since November, the Zebra gunman has stalked and shot 18 men and women, murdering 12 of them in a city renowned more for its suicides off the misted Golden Gate Bridge than random homicides in its darkened streets.

But now the area is shuddering at the Zebra killer or killers and the Symbionese Liberation

Army. The band of SLA terrorists claims to have murdered Oakland School Supt. Marcus Foster last Nov. 6, to have kidnaped newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst Feb. 4, and had her along for the robbery of a San Francisco bank last Tuesday.

In each Zebra case, the gunman has been black, the victim white and apparently chosen at random. Police say as many as four black men may be involved, and they've spread the largest dragnet in the city's history.

"Zebra is an indication of the times," says Police Capt. Mortimer McInerney. "I don't think San Francisco is more violent than other cities. Violence is on there in every big city."

"I personally think it is just certain blacks who have an intense dislike or hatred for Whitey and have been hearing hatred for so many years."

Hundreds of young blacks who match a description of Zebra are being stopped and questioned in a search that has rolled segments of the black community. They claim it could increase racial tension in a city that escaped major race riots in the 60s.

Zebra's random victims included Saleem Eraket, an Arab grocer in his store; Tom Rainwater, a Salvation Army cadet taking a stroll; Jane Holly, who was doing her laundry; Vincent Wollen, an old man on his way home. All died from .32-caliber bullets fired point blank.

The latest victim was Nelson

T. Shields IV, 23, a lacrosse player who once worked with retarded children and hoped to study photography.

He was shot three times in the back last Tuesday as he moved lacrosse equipment. He was dead when found.

The death scenes are scattered in multiracial areas, both residential and commercial. One man died near the modernistic Japan Center in an area where stark blocks of new housing nudge graffiti-covered scrolls of once elegant homes.

Another died on a busy street near a hospital; one beside a hilltop park fringed by delicate Victorians; one along a row of sterile stucco bungalows; one at a bus stop across from the Convent of the Holy Family.

Some police and sociologists say the Zebra killings could have happened anywhere, as easily in Pocatello, Idaho, as in San Francisco. Others say it's unusual because racial tensions are less overt in San Francisco than in other cities.

Some believe San Francisco is a logical place for strange crime because its tolerant attitude attracts the disturbed and disaffected who feel they'd be rebuffed in other "straighter" cities.

San Francisco, population 715,000 and 13 per cent black, has not displayed the rancorous and explosive racial tensions that has marked other cities. There was only one day of major rioting — in the Hunters Point ghetto in 1963. School busing for integration is under way and still hotly contested.

Police figures show a lower homicide rate in San Francisco than in other major cities. Last year, San Francisco recorded 113 homicides; so far this year, 48. Detroit, with twice this city's population, reported 751 homicides in 1973; 231 to date this year. Chicago, with 3.4 million people, had 864 homicides last year; 227 so far in 1974.

"San Francisco is such a pretty looking city, but there's a lot of crime here," says police Capt. McInerney.

He says he knows of no specific motive for the Zebra slayings, except that they are racial in nature.

"I don't think the Zebra killer political like the revolutionary Symbionese Liberation Army because no one has spoken up for these murders. The only political aspect could be to show the community and country that the government is powerless to protect the people."

Asked about published reports that the killings might be an initiation rite of a black cult, McInerney said: "That's an outside possibility. But I don't lend it much credence because there would be more than two weapons used and a greater variety of assailants."

"It's like a police state," says the Rev. Cecil Williams, referring to the police Zebra searches of black men. "This could set race relations back 10 years."

5,000 Year Old Chinese Health Remedy Found

PEKING (Special) — Health researchers in China have uncovered an amazing rare old Chinese herb remedy that possesses spectacular healing qualities and reportedly has been used for 5,000 years to cure or give relief to a host of the most common illnesses suffered by mankind. Dramatic claims are being made that this "miracle herb" called ginseng, may actually hold the key to a longer healthier life. Indeed, there is one historical case of a user living to be 256 years old.

Helps Many Illnesses

Like acupuncture, the many healing properties of this remarkable herb were once considered "folklore and superstition," but modern researchers around the world are suggesting that it may actually regulate many of the body's processes to increase SEXUAL potency, help heal ULCERS, relieve ARTHRITIS, check graying or loss of HAIR, improve DIGESTION, slow down ARTERIOSCLEROSIS, relieve ASTHMA, overcome FATIGUE, improve DIABETIC conditions, relieve inflammation of the URINARY TRACT, help chronic INSOMNIA, relieve BACK-ACHES and PAINS, and generally improve your health by increasing your body's potential to heal itself.

Safe, No Side Effects

Otenseng is not a drug, but an herb or vegetable that is extremely rich in vitamins and minerals. What's more, this amazing natural remedy is completely safe and non-toxic with no side effects. Unfortunately, high-grade ginseng is in short supply, and brokers and processors around the world are bracing themselves for a "run" on the market as the herb's purported "miraculous" healing properties become more widely known to the general public.

Now Available in U.S.

Now you can get a generous 30-day supply of this amazing natural remedy direct from a major supplier by sending only $10.00 in check, cash or money order to Health Laboratories, Dept. 78, Box 2142, Palm Springs, Calif. 92262. This wonder herb is said to have helped millions of other people and it may help your health problem too. Isn't it worth a try? Adv.

Nation Faces Certainty Of More Inflation

By R. GREGORY NOKES WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans face a lot more inflation in the months ahead, and the administration says it is helpless to do much about it.

Administration economists are virtually unanimous in predicting that the high annual rate of inflation — now more than 10 per cent — will continue until mid-year, at least.

And Edgar R. Fiedler, assistant Treasury secretary for economic policy, said a 5 per cent inflation rate, once considered unacceptably high, probably will continue for several years.

These economists, including Fiedler, also say the administration can't do much more to help the inflation-weary consumer than it has been doing, which is to follow "moderate restraint" in spending and money supply policies.

The problem, as they see it, is that there is not enough food, fuel and other goods to meet demand, and the problem won't be solved until production increases, or demand falls — neither of which will happen overnight.

The problem for the consumer is that his money is worth less and so he buys less. He is growing poorer.

No longer will Americans have the wage and price controls program as a security blanket. It is scheduled to expire after 2½ years on April 30, with few beyond Director John T. Dunlop of the Cost of Living Council hoping for a last-minute reprieve.

By most accounts, lifting of controls will result in sharply higher prices in months ahead for health costs and steel. The higher price of steel will filter down through the economy, raising prices of virtually everything made of steel, including autos and home appliances.

The government said last week that inflation, as measured by the Gross National Product, rose at a 10.8 per cent annual rate in the first three months of 1974. At this rate, the dollar will be worth nearly 11 cents less by the end of the year. It lost about 5.5 cents in value last year.

Consumer prices, the government reported, jumped at a 14.5 per cent annual rate in the first three months following last year's increase of 8.8 per cent.

The inflation figures were the highest since the early 1950s.

Although the Council of Economic Advisers predicted some easing ahead in food prices, over-all inflation will be just as bad or worse during the April through June period, said Sidney L. Jones, assistant secretary of commerce for economic affairs.

Jones made the "optimistic" prediction inflation could fall to 6 per cent in the second half of the year. He also said the high rate of inflation is hurting the economy's ability to recover from its current economic slowdown.

The economy declined at an annual rate of 5.8 per cent in the first quarter, as measured by the GNP, the first such drop in more than three years.

Much of the decline was blamed on falling auto production and the depressed state of the home-building industry, but Jones said inflation also was a factor since it is pushing prices up faster than the ability of Americans to buy.

Faubus Hopes Foe Again Will Snatch Defeat From Jaws Of Victory

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — In the view of some political observers, David H. Pryor snatched defeat from the jaws of victory in 1972.

Orval E. Faubus is hoping he will do it again in 1974. With 37 days left in this campaign, Pryor clearly has a plurality in the three-man race for

Air Pact Signed By Japan, China

TOKYO (AP) — Japan and China today signed an agreement establishing regular air routes between the two countries and banning several Japan-Taiwan air services. The Taiwan government immediately retaliated by terminating its air link with Japan. An official statement in Taipei said that Taiwan's China Airlines would cease all operations through Japan and that Japanese airplanes would be banned from the island.

Kyodo news agency said Japan's ambassador in Peking, Heishiro Ogawa, and Chinese Foreign Minister Chi Peng-fei signed the pact in the Great Hall of the People in Peking, opening the way for new airline routes from China to North America and across Asia to Europe.

the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Faubus, thought to be sure of 150,000 to 180,000 votes any time he runs, is second in the published polls.

Some observers believe the higher figure also is Faubus' ceiling.

Lt. Gov. Bob Riley is the other candidate this year. Already afflicted with severely limited eyesight due to a World War II wound, Riley underwent open heart surgery this month to bypass a major artery blockage.

Coping with his ailments and determined to remain a candidate, Riley has won sympathy, but not multitudes of votes, according to most observers.

Pryor and Faubus, as the main contenders, have said the campaign should be on the issues of the 1970s, but neither is ignoring the other's 12-year political history.

Pryor, 39, of Little Rock, a three-term state representative, was dubbed a "young Turk" in the Arkansas House for opposing some actions under the then-political establishment.

Faubus, 64, of Huntsville, re-elected in 1966 after six consecutive two-year terms as governor and head of the establishment Pryor had opposed.

Last time out, both men lost—Faubus to Bumpers in the gubernatorial contest, Pryor in 1972 to Sen. John L. McClellan in a senatorial primary runoff.

In the McClellan race, Pryor had forced a runoff supposedly fatal to incumbents, but his cautious approach to the runoff campaign helped McClellan salvage political survival.

Citing large union donations to Pryor, the senator spoke of "labor bosses," mocked Pryor's claim that the gifts were dimes and dollars from "cookie jars" of working people, and won.

Pryor got 49 per cent of the vote.

This year, his following includes a new element—many of those old political figures he once opposed.

"I figured if I got the same vote that I got in 1972, I'll still come out with just 49 per cent," Pryor explained. "We've broadened our base of support."

"For years, I did battle with what I called the old guard,"

Pryor said. "The old guard in the state now is literally old, and few. Many people who made up the old guard in those days are gone."

"They're out of power," Pryor said. "Many have died, actually. I think this support comes because they feel like I can be fair with all sides."

Faubus says he has devised a new strategy. "For every political leader in an area, there is someone who wants to be a political leader," Faubus said. "Faubus is courting the second echelon, basing his appeal, no doubt, on the premise that these would-be leaders can be the top dogs if they help elect a governor."

With his new support, plus retained union backing, Pryor is easily the best-financed gubernatorial candidacy. He has set a $1,000 ceiling on contributions. Faubus has not set a ceiling.

Faubus' own financial situation enables him to pay the bills as they come in, so far, an aide said.

Few substantive differences exist between Faubus and Pryor on the issues. Education gets the top nod from each.

Both want to raise teacher salaries. Both say the drug menace has created a need for stronger educational and enforcement operations against drug abuse.

Pryor says he wants full funding of the state free textbook program and kindergarten program, if other needs first are filled. Faubus has questioned the wisdom of launching those programs without full funding being assured, but he says he supports the programs themselves.

Neither candidate is openly pro or con on collective bargaining for state employees. Both have ruled out tax increases.

Each candidate is trying to win by projecting a positive image, while casting doubt—either explicitly or by implication—on the other's record.

Pryor has said he wants to talk about the things that unite the people, not the things that divide.

Faubus has said the times demand administrative skills. His experience has been administrative. Pryor's legislative. He has said Pryor did not have a record of success as a legislator, passing few bills.

Part of their image projection is aimed not at high-lighting what they have been, but at what they have become.

Pryor's welcome to the "old guard" element has given him a conservative element he lacked when he lost to McClellan.

Faubus, in turn, is trying to separate current thinking from some of the more controversial issues he was involved in during the 1950s, such as the Little Rock Central High School desegregation crisis.

Stans Rests His Case

NEW YORK (AP) — After a session in which he and the prosecutor accused each other of lying, former Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans has rested his case in his federal court conspiracy trial.

Codefendant John Mitchell, the former attorney general, completed his defense earlier in the week. The case is expected to go to the jury next Wednesday or Thursday after nearly 10 weeks of trial.

After his shouted exchange Friday with chief prosecutor John R. Wing, Stans told the jury, with tears welling in his eyes, that some of his testimony before the grand jury had been unintentionally false because his wife's near-fatal illness made the whole month of November 1972 a "total haze" in his mind.

The indictment charges that Stans lied to the grand jury to conceal his part in a conspiracy with Mitchell to impede a securities fraud investigation of financier Robert L. Vesco in return for Vesco's secret $200,000 cash contribution to President Nixon's re-election campaign. Stans and Mitchell are charged with conspiracy, obstruction of justice and perjury. Each of nine counts is punishable by up to five years in prison.

Under further questioning by his own lawyer, Walter Bonner, Stans said he had told this jury the truth "all the way."

"That's a lie, Mr. Wing, and you know it," shot back the 66-year-old Stans.

"Isn't it a fact that you did everything you could throughout 1972 to conceal Vesco's contribution?" Wing continued.

"No, absolutely not," replied Stans.

"Didn't you do everything you could to conceal that contribution from everybody?" Wing persisted.

"No, I followed a policy of need-to-know, and those who needed to know, I told," Stans said.

"On your oath?" asked Bonner. "On my oath, Mr. Bonner," Stans replied.

INSTALLATION, AWARDS BANQUET—

Jaycees Can Restore Faith In America, National President Says At Event Here

By TOM MORAN

Jaycees may be the only organization which can restore faith in America, Rick Clayton Jr., president of the U.S. Jaycees, said Friday in Midland.

"In my travels across the country I heard a governor of a state say that the Jaycees may be able to do what the older generation never could," he told the Midland Jaycees. "We are part of the third largest organization in the world. Jaycees teach young men how to work for change within the system."

Clayton was addressing the annual awards and installation banquet in Midland Country Club.

"As I've traveled across this country and as I've watched young men in action, I have sensed the problems of this country," he continued. "And as I've weighed them against the role this organization must play, I thought that save Vietnam, these crises are our first."

Clayton said he recently heard an interview with home run king Hank Aaron. The interviewer asked Aaron if he would hold back during the opening games so that he could save his record breaking runs for the home crowd at Atlanta, Ga.

Aaron said "I thought about that, but after all these years I don't know how to hold back," Clayton said.

"I thought that is what this organization is all about," he added.

"I've watched the East Coast media, particularly the print media, abuse freedom of the press," Clayton continued. "I've watched them run a president out of office.

"I've come to believe that the only saving grace may be this civic organization for young men 18 to 36," he said.

The American public has a feeling of apathy, he claimed. With all the problems there seems to be nothing we can do about it.

"As I've been involved in this organization I have learned the philosophy that you don't give up — don't quit in the face of defeat."

Campbell Installed
Clayton installed Joe Campbell as 1974-75 president of the Midland Jaycees.

New directors include Steve Davidson, Gordon Hogue, Mickey Gaines, Jerry Hyde, Randy Hachtel, Charles Knorr, Anthony Herrera, Jim Sale and Doug Stillwagon.

Installing other officers was Bob Vinson, a national Jaycee director.

Doug Henson, 1972-73 club president, was named Key Man — the club's outstanding Jaycee. Herrera was named Rookie of the Year, the outstanding new member.

Other Awards

Other awards included Stagner, 1973-74 administrative vice president, outstanding executive officer; Bill Koegler, outstanding director; Bud Harger, outstanding internal committee chairman; Chris Olin, outstanding external committee chairman; and Stagner, roadrunner of the year.

New Jaycee-ette officers include Mrs. Roberta Hyde, vice president; Mrs. Sue Stagner, secretary; Mrs. Sandi Nobles, treasurer; Mrs. Danya Murrell, historian; and Mrs. Donna Campbell, state director.

Mrs. Maureen Harrison was chosen Jaycee-ette of the year and Mrs. Carla McKee was named rookie-ette — new member — of the year. Other awards were presented to Mrs. Stagner, outstanding officer and outstanding committee chairman; and Mrs. Nobles, Mrs. Congeniality.

JAYCEE AWARDS — Award winners at Friday's Midland Jaycee annual banquet include, from left, Joe Kidd, past president; Doug Henson, Key Man; Anthony Herrera, Rookie of the Year; Jack Stagner, outstanding executive officer and roadrunner of the year; Bill Koegler, outstanding director; and Bud Harger, outstanding internal committee chairman.

NEW PRESIDENT—Rick Clayton Jr., national Jaycee president, right, installs Joe Campbell as 1974-75 Midland Jaycee president as Mrs. Campbell looks on. Clayton, of Abilene, spoke to the Friday Jaycee awards banquet at the Midland Country Club.

MC Summer Sessions Offer Evening Classes, Short Week

Pre-registration for the first summer session at Midland College opens Monday. Evening classes are being offered for the first time during the summer along with a four-day class week.

Students will attend longer classes, Monday through Thursday, with no classes on Fridays. College official C. C. Dakil expressed satisfaction with the new four-day week. He explained, "The student in a three-hour class will meet two days for one hour and fifty minutes each day. We feel this schedule is better paced to meet the needs of our summer students."

Registrar Dee Windsor explained the college had received a great many requests for the evening scheduling and were now able to offer the classes because of the classroom space available at the temporary offices during the evening hours. More than 20 evening classes will be offered.

Biology lecture and laboratory is also being offered for the first time during a summer session. Dr. Hooni Nabil, chairman of the biology department, stated, "The individual attention received in our biology classes has caused a great deal of interest in science careers among our students."

Many college students returning for the summer or preparing to start their college careers

Hilton's Nephew Is Shot To Death

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Super-market cashier Peter Hilton, killed by a man he had accused of shoplifting, has been identified as a nephew of millionaire hotel owner Conrad Hilton, police said.

Police said on Friday that Hilton, whose permanent home is in Key West, lived on the University of Miami campus while studying for a doctorate in philosophy.

Hilton, 38, was shot several times Thursday as he served a customer at the Miami store.

Police charged William Freeman, 38, with first-degree murder. Investigators said Hilton had Freeman arrested last week on a shoplifting charge and later testified against him at a court hearing.

Epilepsy Chapter To Meet Tuesday

The Permian Basin Chapter of the Epilepsy Foundation of America will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in room 203 of the First Presbyterian Church.

Guest speakers will be Niranjan Sharma of the Texas Rehabilitation Commission, who will speak on "rehabilitation of the Severely Handicapped and the Catastrophically Handicapped," and Ervin Fisher of the Social Security Administration Office with evening until May 2, which is "Supplementary Security Income" as his topic. A general discussion period will follow.

Missouri Man Slated To Face Texas Charges

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Federal authorities said a Crestwood, Mo., man has agreed to go to Texas April 29 to face charges of mail fraud.

O. B. Kochs, a manufacturers agent, and five Texas men have been indicted in Dallas on charges of allegedly selling oil distributorships and failing to deliver them.

Federal authorities in Texas said investors lost about $1 million in the scheme.

Large Meteorite Puts On A Show

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A large meteorite put on a spectacular sky show for residents of a four-state area before burning away.

The meteorite, of the type known as a bolide, or fireball, was sighted over the Pittsburgh area about 8:20 p.m. Friday, traveling from southeast to northwest, said Paul Oles of Buhl Planetarium.

He estimated the fireball was visible for a distance of about 150 miles, an area covering parts of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Maryland and Ohio.

Re: 1974 Homeowners Tax Exemptions

Dear Homeowner:

I am taking this opportunity to remind you that by April 30, 1974 there are several tax exemptions you may claim as listed below:

- The State Homestead Tax Exemption for all homeowners. This may be claimed by signing for it at the County Tax Office or by mailing a signed request to the County Tax Assessor-Collector including the legal description of the property. This exemption will produce a savings of $5.10 in most cases.
- The County Homestead Tax Exemption for those homeowners who were 65 years of age or older on or before January 1, 1974. This may be claimed by filling out a simple form at the County Tax Office, showing proof of age at that time. If this form was filed last year it is on permanent file in the County Tax Office but must be claimed each year. This exemption will produce a savings of $28.50 in most cases.
- The City, School and College Homestead Tax Exemption for those homeowners who were 65 years of age or older on or before January 1, 1974. This may be claimed at the City Tax Office by filling out a simple form showing proof of age. This exemption will produce a savings on City taxes of $34.20, a savings on School taxes of $42.75 and a savings on College taxes of $4.20, in most cases.

I am your County Commissioner of Precinct No. 4 and am running for re-election. I will appreciate your vote and support in the coming elections this year. The Primary Elections are May 4, 1974, and the General Election will be November 5, 1974.

If there are any questions that I can help you with please contact me.

Sincerely yours,
Winfree L. Brown

Six Crewmen Presumed Dead In Guam Air Crash

AGANA, Guam (AP) — Six crewmen were presumed dead Saturday after an Air Force C130 cargo plane crashed and burned in a remote area shortly after takeoff from Andersen Air Force Base, military officials said.

Dwight Helms, 71, Dies; Rites Slated

Dwight Helms, 71, died Friday afternoon in an Odessa hospital. Services will be at 10 a.m. Monday in Resthaven Memorial Park in Midland with the Rev. Robert Boynton Smith, senior minister of the First Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment will be under the direction of the Newbie W. Ellis Chapel.

Helms was born Oct. 12, 1902, in Monroe, N.C., and was reared there. In 1935, he began working on the late B. H. Blakeney's ranch in Ector County and worked there for 39 years, through three generations of Blakeney's.

Survivors include three brothers, Waldo Helms of Columbia, S.C., Worth Helms of Monroe and R. K. Helms of Charlotte, N.C.; and a sister, Miss Eloise Helms of Monroe.

Former Midlander Dies In El Paso

Mrs. Robert Ledbetter, 66, died Friday in El Paso. Services are pending at the Newbie W. Ellis Chapel here.

She was born Sept. 1, 1907, in Georgia, and moved to El Paso from Midland two years ago. At the time of her death she lived in Canutillo.

Survivors include her husband, Robert G. Ledbetter; four sons, James Davis of Los Angeles, Calif., Billie Davis of Odessa and Melton Davis and Roy Lee Davis, both of Houston; two brothers, Roy Scroggins of Alabama and Ernest Scroggins of Houston; two sisters, Mrs. Nettie Kidd of Houston and Mrs. Ira Shannon of Alabama, and 12 grandchildren.

Senator Treated

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., was treated at an Atlanta hospital and released Saturday after suffering what his wife described as a diabetic shock.

Midland Woman Raped, Robbed; No Arrest Made

A Midland woman was raped and robbed at knifepoint in her East Midland apartment about 4 a.m. Saturday, police said.

Police are looking for a Mexican about 20 years of age, who is about 5 feet 7 and weighs about 130 pounds. He has brown eyes, black hair and a wide gap between his upper teeth, police said.

The victim was examined at the emergency room of Midland Memorial Hospital and released, Det. Sgt. Gib Roch said.

The woman told officers she was awakened by someone who had crawled through a window to get into her apartment.

He had a knife and demanded money, she said. She gave him $11.

Rescuers planned to begin a four-to five-hour hike to the crash site at dawn today, officials said.

Police Report More Vandalism

Police reported Saturday that vandals have hit at the G. R. Carter home at 1405 W. Storey St.; Henderson Elementary School at 4800 Graceland St. and in the vicinity of Main Street and Scharbauer Drive.

Yolanda Martinez of 703 Dornard St. told police that some children broke out the windshield of her car near Main and Scharbauer.

The children were followed home and police notified. Officers talked with the parents and received assurances that the damages would be repaired.

The school burglars broke a window to get into the building and ransacked Room 107.

Chairs were turned over and glue was poured on the floor, desks and viewing machines. Notebooks were rifled and the papers thrown around the room and desks were gone through.

The damage at the Carter home was outside.

Toilet paper had been pasted with a brown substance to the front of the house, windows, the front door and mailbox.

A garden hose was stuck through a rear window of a car in the driveway and the water left running.

Tornadoes Roam Across Oklahoma

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Several persons were injured and numerous homes destroyed or damaged as severe thunderstorms sent tornadoes skipping across Oklahoma Saturday afternoon.

Police said three persons were injured when a tornado touched down in southeast Oklahoma City and overturned their truck and trailer about 4 p.m.

Several of the injured were in southern Oklahoma County and Del City as an unconfirmed tornado did considerable damage there to homes and light metal outbuildings. High straight winds also were reported in the area.

Five farm homes were destroyed in Jefferson County about 5:30 p.m. when a funnel touched down between Waurika and Hastings, but no injuries were reported.

The Highway Patrol said no one was injured as another funnel dipped down in eastern Oklahoma Saturday afternoon.

Elsewhere, afternoon and evening funnels were reported near Tuttle, Mustang, Chandler, Sapulpa, Sand Springs and Addington.

Heavy Hail Reported The cold front, rolling over heavy accumulations of Gulf moisture, caused high winds and heavy hail in several areas of central Oklahoma.

Golf ball size hail driven by 60 m.p.h. winds was reported in northwest Oklahoma City, while Mustang and Will Roger World Airport reported hailstones of up to two and one-quarter inches in diameter about 4:30 p.m.

On the positive side, western Oklahoma wheat land received some much needed rain as the squall lines dumped up to 2.7 inches at Buffalo. Laverne reported 2.5 inches, while Woodward received 1.49 inches and Blackwell got just under an inch.

Jewelry Missing From Residence

Burglars took more than $1,000 in jewelry from the Gary Askins residence, 3302 W. Gold Course Road, between 6 p.m. Friday and 9:15 a.m. Saturday, police were told.

The missing jewelry and the glass jewelry box it was in were taken from a dresser in a bedroom. The top two drawers of the dresser had been opened, but nothing else appeared to be missing, police said.

The missing jewelry includes a $300 diamond pin, a $200 diamond ring, a $200 woman's watch, a $150 string of pearls and a man's class ring, gold wedding band and girls' camp ring.

Prisoners Killed By Wood Alcohol

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — A Brown County prisoner died Saturday after drinking wood alcohol—the second to die within two days.

Abilene hospital spokesmen said Joe Edwards died about 9:30 a.m. Tommy Newton, 18, died Friday.

Brown County Sheriff Danny Neal said the wood alcohol was kept for cleaning purposes and was marked clearly as a poison.

Neal said criminal charges may be filed against the trusty who took the alcohol from a utility closet and gave it to the prisoners.

Judge R. W. Caton

Caton Elected To Stanton Board

STANTON — Judge R. W. Caton of Big Spring has been elected to the board of Stanton Supply Corp., according to R. C. Vest Jr., president of the concern.

A former Stanton resident, Caton served as a justice of the peace and as county attorney here before moving to Big Spring.

He was appointed judge of the 118th District at Big Spring in 1960 by Gov. Price Daniel.

He is a past president of the Stanton Rotary Club and currently serves as president of the Dora Roberts Foundation of Big Spring.

Washington Areas Rattled By Quake

NEWPORT, Wash. (AP) — Parts of Western Washington State were rattled Friday night by an earthquake measuring 4.9 on the Richter scale, according to officials at the Newport Observatory.

Station Operator Wins Hearing In Ouster Case

HOUSTON (AP) — A court hearing has been scheduled for Friday in an effort to settle a lease squabble between an oil company and a service station operator who barricaded himself in his station.

Art Ballard, who leases a Mobil Oil Co. station, armed himself with a shotgun and locked the door of his station Friday after Mobil got an eviction order from a justice of the peace.

When Constable Ralph Ranz arrived to evict Ballard, he found the station operator with a shotgun in hand. Franz got in touch with the oil company which asked that the notice be served at this time.

"We don't want a physical confrontation that could injure anyone," a Mobil spokesman said.

Earlier in the year Mobil officials informed Ballard they were ending his lease, effective March 22, saying the station did not give top quality service.

Survivors include the widow; five sons, Bill Coonce of Midland, Jack Coonce of Odessa, Bob Coonce of Sacramento, Calif., and Jim Coonce and Fred Coonce, both of Midland; four daughters, Mrs. Gerald Cox of Midland, Mrs. Forrest Newman of Rosedale, Calif., Mrs. G. W. Davis of Shawnee, Okla., and Mrs. Fred Stewart of Seminole, Okla.; 30 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Palbearers will include J. R. Bailey, Bill Ray, D. R. Terryman, Gary Gilbert, S. A. Benton and Ken Williams.

Midlander's Mother Dies In Kilgore

KILGORE — Mrs. Joe John (Ebbey) Short died here Saturday morning following a lengthy illness. She was the mother of Mrs. Robert C. Nelson of Midland.

Funeral services will be at 10 a.m. Monday in the First Presbyterian Church with interment in Kilgore Cemetery under direction of Rader Funeral Home.

Mrs. Short had been a Kilgore resident 37 years.

Survivors also include her husband, two brothers, two sisters and four grandchildren.

Louisiana Vote Light On Adopting New Constitution

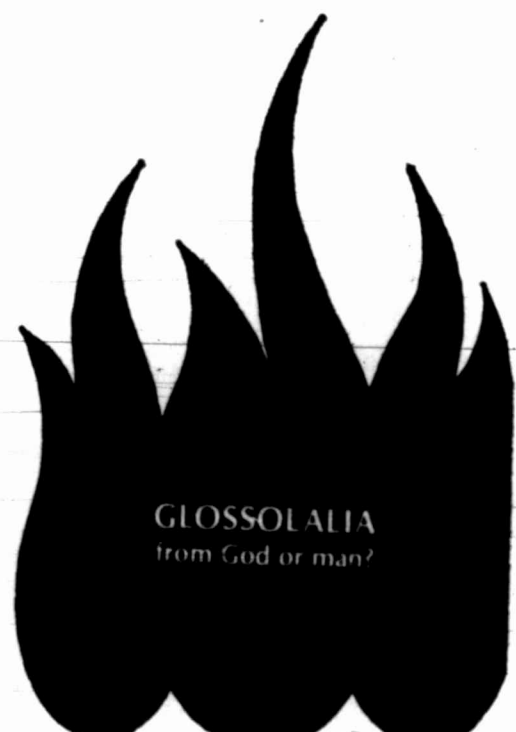

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Only a relative handful of Louisiana's voters turned out Saturday to decide whether to adopt a new state constitution or stay with a 53-year-old version.

Some state officials predicted that no more than 20 per cent of the state's 1.7 million registered voters would vote.

Balloting was reported fast and light throughout the state, partially because of the sample "yes or no" nature of the ballot and partially because of apathy on the part of most state residents.

Ayub Khan Dies

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan (AP) — Former President Mohammad Ayub Khan, who ruled Pakistan with an iron hand for 11 years until his ouster in 1969, died of a heart attack Saturday at his home. He was 67.

Mrs. Phillip Francis McDonald

Miss Stallings, McDonald Wed In Double Ring Rites

Rebecca Lynn Stallings and Phillip Francis McDonald were married at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Golf Course Road Church of Christ. Bert Mercer performed the double ring ceremony.

A choral group under the direction of Clinton Davis provided the music. Mrs. Thane Akins was the soloist.

Greenery entwined candelabra and arrangements of white flowers on pedestals ornamented the bridal scene.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Stallings of Odessa and Mr. and Mrs. F. J. McDonald of 2811 Fannin St. are the parents of the couple.

Guests were seated by Clay and Rod McDonald, brothers of the bridegroom.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore the wedding gown of the bridegroom's mother. Fashioned of the candlelight satin in the gown in formal length had a fitted bodice which came to a point at the lowered front waistline, long tapered sleeves coming to points over the hands and a yoke of Rosepoint lace and seed pearls. The lace was repeated in a scalloped peplum. The skirt swept to a cathedral train.

The elbow-length veil was held by a crown of net petals and pearls. She carried a nosegay of white and pale blue flowers.

Heather McDonald, sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of floral print on pale blue. The short puffed sleeves were cuffed in white and the bodice had a white collar.

Shirley Schmoker was the bridesmaid. Her gown in pink was in identical styling to that of the honor attendant.

John Keffer was the best man. Craig Pate was the groomsmen.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the McDonald home. Members of the house party were Mr. and Mrs. James M. Humble, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gourlay and Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Herndon.

Charlene Blackmon was at the punch bowl. Heather McDonald served the bride's cake and Kim Turner was at the coffee service. Nelda Turner served the bridegroom's cake.

The couple will establish residence at La Fonda Apartments. He attended Lee High School, is a member of the U.S. Marine Corps Reserves and employed by Cactus Drilling Co. The bride is a graduate of LHS.

Tour Scheduled — The Preceptor Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will have a tour of the Jeff Chenault home, located five miles west of Stanton behind Susan's Antiques, from 1 to 6 p.m. today.

Culinary Arts Has English Tea

The Culinary Arts Group, American Association of University Women, was entertained with high tea in the English fashion Thursday by Mrs. Tom Robinson and Maria Spencer in the Robinson home, 1001 Ward St.

Miss Spencer discussed current practices in English teas as a hospitality and the history of tea as a beverage.

Refreshments included tea and scones, small round cakes made from wheat flour and barley.

Mrs. Robinson projected pictures made last summer in England and Scotland when the Robinsons were visiting in those countries.

Mrs. S. P. Crain Presents Program

Mrs. H. D. Collins, 1202 Superior Lane, was hostess Tuesday for a meeting of Chapter DD P.E.O. with Mrs. E. D. Wight as co-hostess.

A program, "The Art of Adventure," was presented by Mrs. S. P. Crain.

Paula McCain Complimented

A kitchen shower Friday in the home of Mrs. Harry Denton, 1501 Princeton St., complimented Paula McCain, bride-elect of Gilmore Williams of Amarillo. Mrs. Phil Adams was the co-hostess.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Jerry McConnell, Mrs. B. R. Forman, Mrs. Julian Brown and Diane DePrang.

Colors featured were yellow, blue and green. Corsages were given to the guest of honor and her mother, Mrs. Paul McCain.

Linda Howard, Phillip Hill Pledge Nuptial Vows

Mrs. Phillip Larry Hill

Marriage vows were pledged Saturday by Linda Louella Howard and Phillip Larry Hill at 7:30 p.m. in Kelview Heights Baptist Church. The Rev. Frank Johnson read the double ring rites.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. R. O. Phiffer, 1610 W. Kentucky St., and W. E. Howard, 2505 W. Washington St., and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hill of Snyder.

Music was provided by Mrs. Jerry Dunn, organist, sister of the bridegroom and vocalists, Linda G. Howard of Lubbock and David Newton.

The bridal scene was enhanced by a pair of 12-branched candelabra flanking a wedding candle arrangement of gladiolus and Spider mums.

Tanya Phiffer, niece of the bride, and David Hill, brother of the bridegroom, lighted the candles. The ushers were John Brinlee and Frankie Johnson.

Mr. Howard presented his daughter in marriage. Her full-length gown fashioned of candlelight angelmist taffeta had an Empire waistline and A-line silhouette. The slightly gathered skirt back flowed to a chapel train. Re-embroidered Alencon lace enhanced the rounded neckline and bodice. The lace flower motif was repeated on the lower skirt and train and scattered on the skirt front. The fitted sleeves of sheer organza featured lace banded Queen Anne puffs below the elbows. Her headpiece, a gift from the late Mrs. Naomi Lancaster, was a mantilla of Belgian lace attached to a Juliette cap of seed pearls. The bride's bouquet was a semicascade of yellow roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Don Nix of Odessa was the matron of honor for her cousin, Rebecca Tucker of Houston. Patricia Bittick of Lubbock was the bridesmaid. Mrs. James Parrish was the bridesmatron.

Their Empire styled gowns of flocked floral voile in apricot, yellow and green were worn variously over yellow and apricot taffeta. Harmonizing ribbons encircled the waists. Each carried a nosegay of mixed greenery and baby's breath.

Travis Hill of Snyder was the best man for his brother. Another brother, Lyn Hill of Snyder, Jim Tabor and Danny Spinks were the groomsmen.

Jamie Sporer was the flower girl and Kirk Dunn, nephew of the bridegroom, the ring bearer. The reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the Church.

Members of the house party included Mrs. R. B. Bittick, Mrs. Ralph McCain, Mrs. Jeff Wells, Mrs. Steve Franklin, Mrs. Berlie Dunn, Joni McDonald, Betty McIlvain, Sonja Graham and Susan Fields.

After a wedding trip to Fort Worth, the couple will live here at 4709 Bowie St. She is a former student of Lubbock Christian College, where she was a member of Ko Jo Kai, women's social club. The bridegroom, graduate of Snyder High School, is market manager for Piggly-Wiggly in Odessa.

The parents of the bridegroom hosted the rehearsal dinner at the church.

Mrs. Bittick and daughter, Patricia, were hostesses for the bridesmaids' luncheon.

Couple On Wedding Trip To Grand Canyon, Arizona

Yolanda Madrid became the bride of George O. Sosa in double ring rites at 11 a.m. Saturday in Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church. The Rev. Ron Marlow, O.M.I., was the officiant.

Mr. and Mrs. David Madrid, 2406 Rankin Highway, and Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Sosa, 1204 W. Dakota St., are the parents of the couple.

The bride, given in marriage by her father chose a formal-length gown with chapel train of white peau de soie. Designed with high rise waistline, the gown featured long tapered sleeves ending in petal points over the hands. The sleeves were closed at the wrists by buttons and loops, as was the bodice back. Scrolls of embroidered lace with pearls and sequins enhanced the gown. A double row of seed pearls bordered the skirt and train. The lace bordered veil of illusion was held by a halo of pearlized flowers and foliage. She carried a bridal bouquet of pearl drops and glass flowers.

The train bearers were Norma Madrid, sister of the bride, and Jesse Caniceros, cousin of the bride. Cousins of the bride, Linda Madrid and Carman Sanchez, were the flower girls. Jennifer Sosa was the ring bearer.

Guests were seated by Gilbert Perales and Marcelino Armentariz, who also escorted the maid of honor.

Mrs. Joe Sanchez was the matron of honor. Hilda Madrid, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. The honor attendants were dressed in formal-length, Empire styled gowns of white jersey. Their headpieces were fashioned of clusters of yellow daisies and gypsophila. Their matching clutch bouquets had streamers of yellow satin ribbon.

The groomsmen and bridesmaids wore Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Gomez and Mr. and Mrs. John - DeLaGarza, Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Terrazas, she is a sister of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sosa and Mr. and Mrs. Luis Sosa, brothers and sisters-in-law of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Aguilar, she is a cousin of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Terrazas; Mr. and Mrs. Fernando Granado; Mr. and Mrs. Rafael Gonzales; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Burton; Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Hernandez and Mr. and Mrs. Beto Vallas. Also School. The bride is employed Belma Madrid and Mary by the J. M. Huber Corp., and Calderon, cousins of the bride, the bridegroom by The Permian and groomsmen, John Flores Corp.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY—Mr. and Mrs. Alvin L. Arnold of 2907 Douglas St. will be honored on their 25th wedding anniversary with a reception from 2 until 4 p.m. today in their home. The hostesses will be their daughters, Kathy Arnold of Lubbock, Mrs. Robert McKinney and Sharon Arnold of Midland. The couple was married April 17, 1949, in Paragould, Ark. They moved to Midland in 1950 and Mr. Arnold is owner of Arnold's Garage.

Frederick Wayne Haltom Marries Rebecca Stewart

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—Frederick Wayne Haltom Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Haltom of 3900 Thomason Drive, Midland, Tex., married Rebecca Dariene Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Stewart of Sherwood, at 7 p.m. Friday.

The ceremony was held in the Calvary Missionary Baptist Church here. The Rev. Dan Maloch and the Rev. Curtis Pace of Midland officiated.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk organza over taffeta with circular skirt and full ruffled sleeves. Lilies of the valley and spring flowers held her mantilla. She carried white orchids, pink rosebuds and lilies of the valley on a white satin Bible.

Karla Gibbs of Lonoke was the maid of honor. Mrs. Bill

Stewart, sister-in-law of the bride, was the bridesmatron, and Holly Lloyd and Lisa Lollar were bridesmaids. Shannon Peceny, niece of the bride, and Shannon Brown, niece of the bridegroom, were the flower girls. Jason Lee Stewart, nephew of the bride was the ring bearer.

The father of the bridegroom was the best man. The groomsmen were Jim Brown, Phil Capel and Bill Stewart, brother of the bride. Joe Peceny, brother-in-law of the bride, Stewart, Capel and Brown were the ushers.

The candle lighters were Stewart and Peceny.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall. Following a short trip, the couple will reside at No. 7 Greenmere Drive, North Little Rock. The bride is a senior student at Sylvan Hills High School and is employed by North Hills Family Clinic in Sherwood. The bridegroom is a graduate of Lee High School in Midland and is employed by J. C. SALLY RUCKER OF MIDLAND

Has Lost A Total Of 30" And 21 Lbs. And Is Still Losing!

Here Is What Sally Says About Pat Walker's Program

The reasons I chose Pat Walker's to reduce are a combination of many things. Like their special treatment of each individual. The treatment of each person is special, individualized and personalized. There is no cold distant attitude. The personnel is there to help you and they do. They are trained to give you encouragement, guidance and special personal attention.

I wanted to improve all of me and this was the simplest and easiest way to do it. The Pat Walker method is safe, easy and passive. You don't perspire or muss your hair. This method tones the tissues, improves circulation and takes off pounds and inches in private. Ladies, you can take it from me, do it sensibly and go to Pat Walker's.

HOW TO IMPROVE THE APPEARANCE OF YOUR SKIN

THE FIVE GOLDEN RULES FOR A YOUNGER CLEARER SKIN

1. Make-up is made of powder. When you use a bar of ordinary soap the make-up is pushed into the pores, thus making the pores larger and deeper. Instead, a high quality cleanser should be used. A Cleanser will dissolve the make-up out of the pores thereby allowing them to contract to normal size.
2. A Toner is the only product that will remove a cleanser. A toner (skin freshener or astringent as it is sometimes called) is effective and removes the traces of cleanser from your face.
3. Alkali or detergent soap sold in grocery stores are drying. It is only good for your body. It can make the skin on your face and hands rough. You should be using a non-alkali soap. It will remove the bacteria without disturbing the normal balance of the skin. Now you are ready to use Peel O Matique.
4. Peel O Matique is the first safe and gentle process to shed the dead skin cells. Peel O Matique was created to help overcome crepey skin on the neck, lines over the lips, pitting and blackheads, blotching and discoloration. Notice a man's face. When he shaves you will not see any of these unsightly skin problems. By shaving, the man is removing the dead skin cells daily. And remember, that when using Peel O Matique always use: Cleanser to dissolve the make-up, Toner to dissolve the cleanser, Non-Alkali Soap to remove the bacteria, then use Peel O Matique's phase 1, 2, 3.
5. Now is the time to use a moisturizer from our cosmetic department. Stay away from home lubricants such as mayonnaise, crisco, baby oils as they tend to dry your skin.

If your skin is extremely rough, we suggest you use another, more abrasive peel once a week. They are also sold in our cosmetic department. In case of prior skin problems, consult your physician, he knows best. 100 Applications — $20.00.

Order if you wish from our own cosmetics:

'The Pecos Trail' Program Topic

The Modern Study Club met Wednesday in the Midland Woman's Club for a program, "The Pecos Trail," presented by H. A. Tuck, public relations director of the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

Tuck is a graduate of New Mexico Military Academy and Texas Tech University. He also teaches at Midland College.

Mrs. R. H. Brooks presided during the business session. Mrs. James Chism led the pledge, and Mrs. John Sweatt led the collect.

A monthly contribution to the Big Spring State Hospital was made at the meeting. Members discussed a scholarship to be awarded later this year by the club.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. J. C. Snyder. Tuck said reactivation of the Pecos Travel Trail was in 1969. The trail has been marked with blue arrows by the Texas Historical Society and The Pecos Trail Association was established in 1973. Tuck also said the trail, which is 735 miles, excluding side trips, extends from Midland to Rankin, Iran, Monahans, Pecos and south from Pecos to Del Rio, west to Brackettville and north to Junction.

Highlights of the trail include Langtry's combination saloon, billiard hall and courtroom of Judge Roy Bean, the Sonora Caverns, Monahans State Park, Alamo Village and Pecos Museum.

Mrs. Chism was hostess to the social hour.

Guests were the speaker and Mrs. J. R. Whitaker, Mrs. H. L. Skinner Jr., Mrs. Max Combs, Mrs. H. W. Good, Mrs. D. R. Wilmoth, Mrs. Walter Snyder, Mrs. Earl Moore, Mrs. John P. McKinley, Mrs. Ada Martin Spivey, Mrs. Thomas Friday, Mrs. E. H. Black, Mrs. Shirley Linder Rad, Mrs. Tom Harlan, Mrs. Ralph Foster and Mrs. Melvin Kohler.

Odor Removal
To remove onion odor from pans and skillets, wash and dry them in the usual way, then scour with common salt. Place them on the stove until the salt is brown, shaking the pan often. Wash again in the usual way.

Secretaries Report Plans For Week's Observance Beginning Today

April 21-27 has been proclaimed Secretaries Week, with Wednesday designated as Secretaries Day, by Midland Mayor Ernest Angelo Jr. and mayors, governors and legislators throughout the United States and Canada.

President Richard Nixon has sent a message to the National Secretaries Association containing the statement, "In tribute to the dedicated and responsible men and women on whom so much of the efficiency of both our government and business depends, it is most appropriate that Americans join in the observance of National Secretaries Week."

The Permian Chapter of NSA invites all secretaries in the Permian Basin to join it this week and help its members bring to the public's attention the vital role which secretaries play in business, industry, education, the professions and government.

The NSA, in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Commerce, originated Secretaries Week in 1952 to bring recognition to all secretaries and to inform the public of contributions made by secretaries.

A major part of the NSA program to keep secretaries in the role of professional secretaries and in meeting the guidelines of NSA's definition of a secretary, is the Certified Professional Secretary examination. This is a two-day, six-part examination for qualified secretaries covering all phases of the secretarial field. The Permian Chapter sponsors many courses, seminars, study reviews and workshops to help further educate secretaries and help them prepare for the CPS exam.

In cooperation with educational institutions, NSA sponsors the Future Secretaries Association to help aspiring young men and women become professional secretaries. The Permian Chapter provides a scholarship each year for a FSA student in Lee and Midland High Schools. Winners are entered into the division and national level of NSA for scholarships.

In recognition of Secretaries Week, the Permian Chapter has planned several events. Willie Mae Armstrong, CPS chapter president, has announced the following dates for activities: Breakfast at Sambo's Restaurant at 9:30 a.m. today followed by services at St. Luke's United Methodist Church; Lee High FSA Chapter banquet at Bonanza Sirolo Pit, with Mrs. Richard B. Saxe as speaker, Monday; Career Day for FSA students at MHS and LHS, during which students will be placed in Midland businesses for job training, followed with a luncheon at the Elks Club, Tuesday.

Highlight of the week will be a Secretaries Day luncheon at Ranchland Hill Country Club Wednesday honoring secretaries and their bosses. The Secretary and Boss of the Year will be announced, and Joe Morris, production engineering supervisor for the Midland producing area followed by services at St. of Mobil Oil Corp., will be the speaker. Chapter members also will speak to groups during the week.

Reservations for the events may be made with Dorothy Ramsey, Secretaries Week Chairman, at 683-4231, or, after 5 p.m., 694-5565.

Midland Artist Work Exhibited

GEORGETOWN — Nancy Knickerbocker, senior art major at Southwestern University, has approximately 40 of her works on exhibit in the gallery of the Alma Thomas Fine Arts Center here. The public may view this exhibit from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. weekdays and 2 to 6 p.m. on weekends until May 1.

A reception honoring Miss Knickerbocker, attended by some 150 persons, initially opened the exhibit April 15.

Miss Knickerbocker's techniques for the show include drawings, watercolor, pastel, acrylics, portraiture, sculpture and mural size wall hangings. She has been commissioned to do murals this summer for a new shopping center in Austin.

The young artist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Knickerbocker of Midland, is studying art with R. L. Lancaster and Gus Farmer and art history with Claude Kennard, faculty members of Southwestern's School of Fine Arts.

She started painting in oils at the age of nine. She has fondness for animals and figuring prominently in her imagery are horses, cats, birds and snakes.

In addition to her academic work, Miss Knickerbocker currently is working at Rothhammer Art Center in Georgetown, where she will teach this summer. Her works have been exhibited in the Georgetown area and she has several paintings in private collections.

Named to the university's Distinction List, Miss Knickerbocker is a member of the Art Students Association, media and assembly committees of the university.

Devil derives from the Greek "diabolos" which also meant "the slanderer."

Girl Scout Troop Prepares For Spring Fair May 4

"Dinosaurs to Skyscrapers" will be the slide presentation of the history of Midland County shown by members of Girl Scout Troop 303 at the Midland Girl Scout Spring Fair scheduled for 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. May 4 in the Midland County Exhibit Building.

The Junior Girl Scout badge program includes a badge entitled Our Own Troop's, and to earn it a troop may select a topic of interest, outline a purpose, list requirements and design the badge. Troop 303 chose "Dinosaurs to Skyscrapers" to learn the historical and modern development of Midland County.

Activities included learning some of the geological history of the area, the way Midland County was settled, the history of the library and newspaper and present day services of each businesses. Field trips were made to the Midland County Public Library, The Reporter-Telegram, Midland County Historical Society Museum, Dorsey - Brown House and structures with historical markers.

Slides were made of speakers, the places visited and the modern facilities of the city.

A badge design contest was won by Sherry Roberts. All Brownie and Girl Scout troops in Midland and Greenwood will participate in the fair, which will be open to the public.

Musicians Club Dedicates Benefit To Mrs. Lancaster

The Musicians Club of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs has announced its annual benefit musicale, "The Wonderful World of Broadway," to be presented at 12 noon May 7 in the Midland Woman's Club, is dedicated to the late Mrs. Naomi Lancaster.

Mrs. Lancaster was a patron member of the club 10 years, and her delight in music and musicians was a constant source of inspiration to the other members. She financially supported the club's Crusade for Strings project, which through the years has taken the form of a musicale to benefit the Midland-Odessa Symphony and Chorale, Inc. Numerous instruments have been given to the orchestra with proceeds from the musicales.

Mrs. Lancaster worked tirelessly many years promoting Midland's cultural organizations and assisted in obtaining the first symphony orchestra conductor. Many guest artists with the symphony were entertained in her home, and she was a generous supporter many years of the Midland-Odessa Symphony and Chorale, Inc. In dedicating its annual musicale to Mrs. Lancaster, the Musicians Club, in turn, dedicates itself as a whole and as individuals to continue nourishing the projects she inspired.

Raisin Cutting

Opti-Mrs. Club Meets For Party

Mrs. Bill Grass, 3207 W. Louisiana St., was hostess to a recent salad supper and "backwards" party for the Westside Opti-Mrs. Club.

Mrs. Charley Harris won the prize for the best costume. Guests arrived wearing their clothing backwards.

Presiding was Mrs. Bob Hollman, president, who introduced a guest, Mrs. Bill Johnson. Mrs. David Hancock, chaplain, gave a reading, "Winds of Hope."

Also attending the party were Mrs. Ted Benton, Mrs. Oland Butler, Mrs. Charlie Goss, Mrs. Ron Hardaway, Mrs. Harold Jackson, Mrs. Bob Martin, Mrs. Jerry Payne and Mrs. Ronnie Tapley.

Firm Pudding
 When you remove a steamed or boiled pudding, let it stand a few minutes before removing it from the mold. This will insure it of being firm. A steamed pudding removed too quickly is likely to break if the steam isn't given a chance to evaporate.

Deadline Given For Publishing Wedding Stories

Thinking about having accounts of your engagement and wedding published in The Reporter-Telegram? If the answer is in the affirmative, brides-to-be should visit the Women's Department of the newspaper and obtain information sheets and wedding forms in order to comply with the R-T policies on wedding stories, photographs and deadlines.

One of the new policy changes requires that wedding or engagement forms must be submitted before 5 p.m. Wednesday for publication in a Sunday paper.

Another important policy to be aware of is that wedding stories submitted more than five days after the wedding will not be published.

AT MEDICAL SOCIETY DINNER—The Midland County Medical Society and Auxiliary had a dinner Thursday in Midland Country Club, with Midland dentists and their wives as special guests. Sam Stone Jr. of Austin, attorney for the Texas Medical Association, spoke on "What To Do When the Doctor Dies." Pictured at the dinner are, from the left, Mr. Stone, Dr. George Freetage, president of the Midland County Medical Society; Mrs. Mack Hibbits, vice president of the auxiliary, and Mrs. Tom Bobo.

Midland Garden Club Has Meeting In John Grimland Jr. Residence

The Midland Garden Club met Thursday in the home of Mrs. John Grimland Jr., 1605 Country Club Drive, for a coffee and business session.

Mrs. W. C. Howard served at the coffee table.

The president, Mrs. J. Howard Hodge, presided. A guest introduced was Mrs. Paul Karcher, member of the new Visual Improvement Program committee of the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Karcher explained the function of VIP in its landscape plan for plantings in Downtown Midland, along highways and commercial areas. Also the removal by the city of dead elm trees along Midland streets. She urged citizens and members of garden clubs to support the program.

Mrs. A. P. Shirey, director of Lancaster Garden Center-Museum of the Southwest, reported on progress at a resume center since 1970, and the club voted to make a contribution to the center.

The representative to the officers for 1974-75.

Midland Woman's Club, Mrs. Ellison Tom, reported on the contribution to the Woman's Club.

Mrs. Grimland, flower show chairman, distributed entry cards for exhibits at the show to be held jointly with Pyracantha Garden Club from 2 to 6:30 p.m. Friday in Lancaster Garden Center. The show will be open to the public and there will be no admission charge. Mrs. I. W. Rynd, hospitality chairman, announced members of her committee and their schedule of hours to serve at the show.

The program chairman, Mrs. Earl Chapman, announced the next meeting will be a final luncheon for the club year at 12 noon May 2 in the Garden Room of the Midland Woman's Club. Delegates attending the Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., convention will report and a resume of the year will be given by club officers and the president. Mrs. A. B. Parkhurst will install the officers for 1974-75.

Newcomers Hear Midland Program Given By Attorney Smith Ray

Smith Ray, Midland attorney, presented a program on Midland, "From Windmills to Oilwells," at a meeting Thursday of the Newcomers Club in Ranchland Hill Country Club.

Smith explained that Midland came into existence with the railroad reaching mid-distance from Fort Worth to El Paso. Early settlers began ranching due to the grasslands, but because of the lack of natural water, windmills were needed to pump water for stock. Midland gradually grew for 40 years but had its real boom with the discovery of oil in West Texas in the 1920s. Midland, with its good schools, 12-story office building, and Hotel Scharbauer quickly became the administrative center for oil and oil-related companies.

Thirty guests and 50 members attended. Special prizes were won by Mrs. John Barbe and Mrs. J. Ben Anderson. New residents were invited to participate in group activities which include bridge, gardening, sewing, arts and crafts, gourmet, bowling, tennis and golf.

The next meeting will be May 16 in Midland Country Club. The program will be a variety show and members wishing to participate may dial Mrs. Larry Tennison, 683-6407.

Rebekahs Hold Meeting

An Easter theme was used when the Rebekah Lodge met recently in Odd Fellow Hall. Prizes were awarded for the prettiest and most unique in the Easter bonnet parade with Mrs. Florence Elder of Odessa receiving the first prize and Mrs. Jerry Cook the second.

Mrs. Dutch Lunford and Mrs. Sheila Cook sang a duet from "The Third Man Theme," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Pat Killmer.

Mrs. Buddy Maulden, noble grand, conducted the lodge ceremony. Easter bunnies were presented to each guest. Refreshments were served.

Lea Hunt, graduating senior at Lee High School, was honored recently with a sundae party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sides, 3526 Gulf St.

Miss Hunt plans to attend Texas Tech University. The colors of Tech were carried out in the table decorations.

Orange Pickup Travels On Way

FOWLER, Calif. (AP) — Mayor John Panzak was getting out of bed at 6 a.m. recently when his wife noticed Panzak's orange pickup truck traveling down the street.

Out of curiosity, Mrs. Panzak asked the mayor who had borrowed the truck. Panzak said he had not lent the truck to anyone. As they watched, the truck disappeared around the corner.

Police are investigating the theft.

Dear Abby

Tell Matchmaker You've Got A Full Book

—By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: For the last year, a co-worker in my office has been nagging me to go out with her son, Richard. I am 30 and her Richard is 35. I've learned from past experience that whenever a mother is overly anxious to date her son up-beware!

I have turned down this woman's offer to be fixed up with her Richard in as many polite ways as I know how, but she refuses to give up. I'm fairly attractive, and I'm not hard up for dates. Maybe I'm foolish, but I don't care much for this co-worker, and I doubt if any son of hers could have anything to offer me. How can I get this persistent woman off my back once and for all?

IRRITATED IN N.Y.

DEAR IRRITATED: Richard's mother is making all the overtures, right? What do you hear from Richard? (He's probably as turned off by his mother's eagerness to arrange dates for him as you are by her persistence.) Tell your co-worker that you're permanently booked. Period.

DEAR ABBY: I've never seen a problem like mine in your column. I'm almost 26, and I'm still unmarried. I'm worried that I might end up an old maid. Sometimes I wonder if maybe it wouldn't be better to just get married to any guy even if it ends in divorce so I could say I've been married. When a gal says she's 26 and never been married people start to wonder what's wrong with her. Maybe I'm too picky, but I don't believe in shacking up with a guy before marriage. I have lost more guys with that attitude, but I can't help it.

Waitress Gets Unusual Tip

LIGHTHOUSE POINT, Fla. (AP) — Wanda DeRobertis, a 26-year-old waitress at a restaurant, received a $100 tip recently from one of her regular customers who said he was leaving town.

"If you go out of your way to be picky. It's not true that it's better to be a divorcee than an unclaimed treasure! Ask any philosopher."

DEAR ABBY: My fellow bill was $3.12.

JOY OF SEEING—Dr. Norman S. Gould presents a $25 check to Joy of Seeing art contest winner Diana Kim Pickens, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pickens. Her picture will be entered in the Texas Joy of Seeing contest at the Texas Optometric Association meeting May 4-7 in San Antonio.

Rudolph Hess is the last of the Nazi criminals to remain in prison. He is the sole inmate of Spandau Prison in Berlin.

Sole Inmate

A single shrimp may produce more than a million eggs, but most of the billions of larvae spawned each year never reach adulthood.

CHICAGO (AP) — In these days of rising prices, what does a grocery chain use as an item to lure shoppers back to its meat counters?

Try buffalo meat. National Tea stores in the Chicago area are offering buffalo burger at prices higher than sirloin steak this weekend, and Bob Fortmann, regional director of meat operations for National Tea, says reports indicate "customer reaction has been outstanding."

About 120 stores are offering buffalo meat — ground burger at $1.49 a pound, stew meat at $1.59, roast at $1.79 and steak at $1.98. Beef sirloin is on special at $1.39 a pound.

"There is an awful, awful lot of interest," Fortmann said Friday. "I believe we're going to run out."

Hoffa Says Jail Term Would Help Judges Be Humane

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — James R. Hoffa, former president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, says "judges should be required to serve one year in jail to learn how to be humane."

He made the remark Friday in addressing the Cleveland City Club on prison reform.

Hoffa has been an advocate of such reform since spending about four years in a federal prison on a conviction of mail fraud and jury tampering charges.

He said judges should grant probation for first offenders in nonviolent crime, arguing that it would be better for them to be out making a living for their families than to be confined in prisons "that aren't fit for humans."

Death Valley has the greatest number of visitors from November to April AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — American Indians Now Texans (AINT) have won their fight to remove an Indian skeleton from display in the University of Texas Memorial Museum.

Museum director Dr. W. W. Newcomb issued a statement Friday saying "The Skeleton of Yellowhouse Canyon" would be removed from the case where it has rested for some 20 years.

For the time being, the case has been covered with paper and now bears a sign saying the exhibit will be replaced with one "illustrating modern Indian problems, beliefs and aspirations."

AINT had called the display offensive and in bad taste and had tried unsuccessfully about three weeks ago to persuade Newcomb to remove the skeleton. A protest rally had been planned for Friday afternoon.

some 100,000 pounds during the weekend. The meat is leaner and sweeter than beef.

Fortmann said it's the first time in more than a century that buffalo meat has been available to Chicagoans other than at a restaurant or two which offer select fare.

"The modern housewife is always looking for something different to try," he said. "It's not as expensive as beef and higher in protein."

that number of animals available."

Roy Houck of the National Buffalo Association in Pierre, S.D., who runs about 3,000 head of buffalo, said similar promotions have been held recently by other grocery chains.

"Demand is way in excess of supply," said Houck. He defended the relative high cost of buffalo by saying it's lower in cholesterol than beef and higher in protein.

Houck said increased production costs are due, in part, to the wild nature of the American bison, once near extinction but now numbering near 30,000.

About 25,000 of these are raised by ranchers for the consumer market, Houck said. The rest are protected in state and national parks.

He said that last year about 4,000 head were sold for commercial food purposes.

That compares with 570,000 head of cattle which were slaughtered the week ending Friday, according to U.S. Agriculture Department statistics.

The buffalo meat National Tea is selling is from animals culled from a herd at the Duram Ranch in Gillette, Wyo. They were grain-fed in lots at Greeley, Colo., for 90 days before marketing.

Indians Win Battle Over Display Of Skeleton

Newcomb's statement said museum officials believed "the controversy had been blown out of all proportion and that the AINT membership had shown that it will be willing to work with the museum."

Dudley Varner, the museum's curator, said Newcomb made his decision Thursday after meeting with the UT-Austin anthropology faculty, which "voted unanimously that the skeleton should not be on display."

Varner, who resigned before the controversy began to take a teaching job in California next fall, said he "personally and professionally" agreed with the Indians that the skeleton should be removed.

"It is sort of racist in appearance. We have only American Indian burials" in the museum, he said.

opinion known to Newcomb.

Newcomb said in an interview last week the display had educational value and asserted: "People will protest virtually everything we put in the museum if we let them."

Varner said decisions on controversial exhibits are difficult to make. Last year, he said, the museum removed an exhibit on "machismo"—the Latin American concept of manliness—after Mexican-Americans protested it as an ethnic slur.

Boy, 12, Faces Charges Of Selling Heroin

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — At a time when some youngsters are playing Little League baseball, federal authorities allege 12-year-old Jaime was selling heroin.

Charged in federal court here last week, his case was ordered on Friday bound over to a federal grand jury for action. He still is in custody in lieu of a $25,000 bond.

And to make matters worse, a Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) agent testified that "Jaime has used it (heroin) and probably is using at this time."

Jaime and three other youths were arrested a week ago on the West Side. They are Oscar, 14, Mary, 16, and Joyce, 16. Four adults were also arrested.

DEA agent James C. Lewis testified he bought heroin twice from Jaime himself. Twice he purchased heroin from Jaime and his cousin, Oscar. And once, the agent made a buy from Jaime and another 15-year-old youth.

Slender Jaime listened intently as Lewis said the youths weren't his main concern.

"My primary objective wasn't to get the children. There had to be adults behind the children," he said.

Jaime's father is in the Bexar County Jail and his son is in the juvenile detention center now.

The father is charged with felony possession of marijuana.

Jaime's three teen-aged companions are also in the detention center in lieu of a $25,000 bond each. The tiny courtroom was packed with friends and relatives of the eight persons.

When all eight were arrested, Joyce "got very verbal and she yelled out it (heroin) was her stuff," Lewis said.

The agent testified he "saw tracks" on Mary's arm but that she told him "she had stopped shooting heroin a month ago."

Since Jaime rode his bicycle occasionally while allegedly selling heroin, the bike is subject to seizure, according to federal law.

But the DEA didn't take his bike.

Congressman Says He Didn't Father Divorcee's Daughter

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Mario Biaggi says it is "an outrageous lie" that he fathered the 3-month-old daughter of a former campaign worker during his run for mayor.

Bonny Hearne, 35, whose daughter, Jessica, was born last January, filed a paternity suit Friday against the New York Democrat.

"It's a ridiculous charge," Biaggi told newsmen. "I was never alone during the campaign. I was in the company of the press all the time. I'm confident of the outcome. But I'm concerned of the effect on my wife and family."

Miss Hearne, a divorcee, worked as a secretary during Biaggi's unsuccessful race for the Democratic nomination for mayor last year.

"I'm shocked that Mario has denied paternity," said Miss Hearne. "All I want is Mario to acknowledge that he is the father and have his name appear on the birth certificate."

Eddy Gets Discoveries

Eddy County, N.M., has gained two discoveries and a field extension.

Cities Service Oil Co. dually completed No. 1-A Tracy Communitized, as a Strawn pay opener and as the fourth Morrow producer and 1/4-mile south extension to that pay in the La Huerta field.

The Strawn zone had a calculated, absolute, open flow of 11,352 million cubic feet of gas per day, through perforations at 10,195-10,234 feet, which had been acidized with 1,750 gallons.

Through Morrow perforations at 11,168-11,478 feet, which had been acidized with 4,800 gallons, calculated, absolute open flow was for 10,665 million cubic feet of gas daily.

Drilled to 11,570 feet, it has 5 1/2-inch casing set on bottom.

Production site is 660 feet from north and 2,310 feet from west lines of section 33-21s-27e, 12 miles southeast of Artesia.

The second discovery was effected by Phillips Petroleum

Co.; with the announcement of a preliminary calculated, absolute open flow of 2,427 million cubic feet of gas per day, at No. 1-A Malaga.

The test was taken through Morrow perforations at 12,310-12,658 feet. Treatment, if any, was not reported.

Bottomed at 13,170 feet, where 5 1/2-inch casing was seated, it has been plugged back to 13,062 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 2-24s-29e, two miles northeast of Malaga.

Four Projects Staked In Eddy

Four projects have been planned for Eddy County, N.M.

Cogina Oil Corp., operating out of Midland, has staked No. 1 Blaine, as an 8,800-foot undesignated project, one location south of its recent Morrow discovery in section 11.

Located three miles east of Artesia, it spots 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 14-17s-26e.

Second Hanagan Petroleum Corp. has filed an application to drill No. 1 Ocotillo Hills, as a one-mile east extension in the Catclaw Draw (Morrow) field.

It has a projected depth of 11,300 feet.

Drill site is 1,650 feet from north and 1,650 feet from west lines of section 21-21s-26e, three miles northeast of Carlsbad.

Third D. W. Underwood & J. C. Williamson have made plans to re-enter and attempt completion at approximately 11,250 feet No. 1 Seil-Federal, as a fifth Morrow producer, and 1/4-mile southeast extension to that pay in the Winchester field.

Originally drilled by the same operators, it was plugged and abandoned June 5, 1973, at a depth of 11,159 feet.

Project site is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 1-20s-28e, 13 miles northeast of Carlsbad.

Top Speakers Due For Annual PBPA Meeting On May 1

Several top speakers have been lined up for the Permian Basin Petroleum Association's annual meeting on May 1.

PBPA president John R. Dorr of Pecos said the speakers include John B. Riggs, Interior Department deputy administrator for mineral and energy in Washington, and William J. Murray, longtime conservationist and energy expert for Lone Star Steel Co.

Another speaker will be A. L. "Pete" Porter, highly respected New Mexico Oil Conservation Commission secretary-director.

To date, Dorr said, Kansas Independent Oil and Gas Association president Warren Tomlinson of Wichita; Panhandle Producers and Royalty Owners Association president Danny Conklin of Amarillo, and West Central Texas Oil and Gas Association president John Rex Jones of Albany have confirmed their attendance.

WASHINGTON OIL—Royalty Owners May Be In For Nasty Surprises

By CLYDE LA MOTTE
Reporter-Telegram Washington Oil Correspondent
WASHINGTON — Royalty owners may not be fully aware of what is in store for them, but if the proposed tax bill is passed by Congress, their tax bill next April 15 could be an unpleasant surprise.

What's happening at the moment is that royalty owners generally are getting bigger royalty checks because the price of crude oil has risen appreciably. That's the good news as far as they are concerned.

The bad news is that the proposed windfall profits tax would take away a goodly portion of the price increase benefits they are enjoying at the moment.

If royalty owners are aware of this, then they can set aside the necessary funds to meet the higher tax payments. If they aren't aware of this, then when they compute their tax bill in April of next year, they will be in for a shock at how much they owe Uncle Sam.

The House Ways and Means Committee has drafted a bill aimed at preventing oil companies from making windfall profits as a result of the oil shortage. Everyone is aware of this, but what is not generally realized is that the royalty owner is going to be hit with the same club being swung at the big boys.

One provision of the committee's proposed legislation is that income being received as a result of the crude oil price increases would be subjected to a special tax.

Specifically, the legislation would use a base price of $4.50 a barrel and put the special tax levy on income from prices above the amount.

For example, if a producer is now getting $8.50 a barrel for oil, the special tax would apply to the $4 a barrel over the base price of $4.50.

Under the legislation planned by the committee, the special tax would be 67 1/2 cents a barrel on the first $2 increase. Thus, this would apply to the price of oil up to $6.50 a barrel.

Once the price rose above that point, a tax of 85 cents a barrel would apply.

In the case being used here as an example — $8.50 oil — each dollar increase above $6.50 a barrel would result in a tax of 85 cents.

The total tax on the increase over $4.50 a barrel would be $2.735. So, the royalty owner getting $4 a barrel more than

In a similar week a year ago, there were 194 rigs drilling in the two-state area.

Eddy County, N.M., with 34 rigs — down one from two weeks ago — continued the top place in drilling activity.

DIFFICULT BALANCING ACT AHEAD—Shell Executive Declares OPEC Conspiracy Started 10 Years Ago

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON (AP) — The president of Shell Oil Co. says the lifting of the embargo means that oil exporting countries now have a difficult balancing act ahead of them.

"And we can only hope they will tackle it with vision and statesmanship," said Harry Bridges.

"If they hold back production too much and make the price too high they will clearly drive the industrialized countries into economic recessions which will reduce the demand for oil."

Bridges described the embargo as the climax of a slowly developing conspiracy by the Organization of Producing and Exporting Countries (OPEC) to restrict supplies and drive up prices.

"If anything more was needed to convince any of the more cautious members of OPEC that they were in full control of the situation, this was it," he said. "Their only constraints now are economic ones."

Bridges said the OPEC conspiracy started roughly 10 years ago when Dr. Perez Alfonso, then Venezuela's oil minister, argued that the major oil producing countries were behaving stupidly in allowing the oil companies themselves to set their own production levels.

"Venezuela formally proposed a prorating scheme to the other OPEC members which would have allocated production on a national basis and be designed to remove the surplus crude from the system," he said.

"This they argued would firm up prices as no doubt it would have done. But at that time they were not able to convince the other OPEC members, particularly the Arabs. There were many reasons no doubt."

Bridges said some of the smaller countries probably felt the main cutbacks would be allocated to them, that some may have feared economic retaliation or even military intervention, and others may have feared the situation was premature.

"Many consuming countries could still turn back to coal if oil became too expensive," he said. "The United States still had surplus producing capacity, and, in fact, even had an export capability as it had shown in the 1967 Arab-Israeli war."

Bridges added that, as OPEC waited and as the years rolled by, many things happened.

He said industrialized countries of Europe and Japan doubled their consumption rates and in many cases became tied to oil as their only energy source, that it became abundantly clear the Persian Gulf had no competitor for con-

Four Tech Students To Get Scholarships From Gulf

LUBBOCK—Four Texas Tech University petroleum engineering students will receive scholarships from the Gulf Oil Foundation beginning with the fall semester of 1974.

Recipients of the Gulf Honor Scholarships will be a freshman, a sophomore, a junior and a senior, according to Dr. Herald A. Winkler, chairman of the Department of Petroleum Engineering.

The scholarships will provide assistance to deserving students to aid them in earning their bachelor's degrees. In succeeding years, an incoming freshman will be selected to receive a Gulf Honors Scholarship, and previous recipients will be eligible to receive continued scholarships from Gulf, Winkler said.

In all cases, the scholarships will cover tuition, books and fees payable up to $1,500 per year.

Richard J. Goeken, vice president for production for Gulf Oil Co.-U.S., a division of Gulf Oil Corp., presented the scholarship grant to the Department of Petroleum Engineering.

The four Texas Tech students will be among some 112 to receive Gulf Foundation grants in 24 colleges and universities throughout the United States this year.

The Permian Basin Chapter of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers will announce its Young Engineer of the Year at its Thursday meeting in the Rowdeway Inn in Midland.

The meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m. with a social hour, and dinner will be served at 7:30. Special guests will be the chapter's scholarship nominees from high schools in the Permian Basin. Each of the nominees will be presented a slide rule, Curt Strong, president said.

New York Banker Addresses 21st Petroleum Short Course

LUBBOCK — Demands for money to finance petroleum operations has grown rapidly, Norman A. Olansen of the Chase Manhattan Bank told a group of oilmen here recently.

The New York banker was addressing the 21st Annual Southwestern Petroleum Short Course at Texas Tech University.

Offshore explorations are tremendously expensive, he said. "Development of the known fields in the North Sea alone will cost $5 billion."

Instead of oil companies securing loans, Olansen said, banks are exploring ways of financing so the project itself is security for the loan.

More than $500 billion will be spent for exploration in the United States alone before 1985. "The petroleum industry will spend four times as much in the period from 1970 to 1980 as it did in the previous 15 years."

Olansen, a native of New Orleans, is a petroleum engineer and has worked for the bank for 18 years. Prior to that time he spent four years with a major oil company.

The bank estimates the price of domestic oil will be $7-8 per barrel if the two-tier system is dropped, which he favors. "We think there should be one price for oil."

Over the past five years, oil company profits have increased 75 per cent while direct taxes have increased 180 per cent, the banker said.

There is no worldwide oil shortage, he claimed, but rather a fuel shortage. Refining capacity has been expanding at the rate of four per cent a year while demand has been expanding twice as fast, Olansen explained.

"We as consumers must reduce thoughtless uses of energy," he continued. "We just have to get accustomed to smaller cars unless they find a more efficient engine and we must move to mass transit where possible."

"We are going to have to use our petroleum products wisely."

Sharp To Speak At WTGS Meeting

Everett R. Sharp, a member of several professional petroleum industry organizations, including the West Texas Geological Society, will be the speaker for WTGS noon meeting Tuesday.

The meeting will be held in the American Legion Hall. Sharp, an employee of the Ralph Lowe Estate, will speak on "Developments in West Texas and Eastern New Mexico in 1973."

A past president of the Permian Basin Section of the Society of Economic Paleontologists and Mineralogists, he has published several papers on geology of South Texas and the Ohio Valley.

Fisher Retires From Gulf Oil

Carl L. Fisher, senior unit supervisor for Gulf Oil Co.-U.S. in Midland has retired after almost 32 years of service with the company.

He was assigned to the Production, Promotion, Gas Accounting Unit.

Fisher began his career with Gulf in 1942 at Seminole, Okla., after graduating from Northwest Missouri State College and attending the University of Missouri.

He had served in various areas before being transferred from Los Angeles, Calif., to Midland as senior unit supervisor in 1965.

OIL INDUSTRY, EVEN JOHN WAYNE—'Instant Experts' Hit Many Fronts

By ED THOMPSON
Executive Vice President, Permian Basin Petroleum Association

Last week the oil business was in great shape. Neither Congress nor the legislatures of New Mexico or Texas could hurt us. None of them were in session.

As most of you already know, some members of Congress, regardless of this, are out to get President Nixon. Senator Weicker is after Billy Graham and John Wayne. Jack Anderson is after John Connally and Ralph Nader is after everybody. Suddenly, we have instant experts in everything, and everyone is guilty until proven innocent. And, the accused cannot be forced to face the accused, or even be required to prove the charges. The same thing holds true for charges against the oil industry.

Why is there such a bew and cry against certain key people and key industries to the exclusion of all else? Other members of Congress probably have received monies they forgot to report. Maybe they've even taken some airplane rides at government expense (along with family and staff) but neglected to mention it to the Internal Revenue Service.

Seems that we've also read about past presidents getting some favored treatment for themselves and members of their families, but most folk thought this was as it should be.

Speaking of Ralph Nader, Dr. Chauncey Starr, president of the Electric Power Research Institute, has called Nader an "ignoramus" and "an enemy of society." We said this at least five years ago. His actions have proved it, and we're glad that others are waking up to the dangers inherent in such instant experts. Too often they acquire a smattering of knowledge about some area outside their own expertise and, with their position of omnipotence (at least their opinion) in one field established, tend to take on far more than they can possibly chew. Unfortunately, once accusations are made, it's almost impossible to have them wiped out.

One more result of what happens to those too long with unlimited power, especially those stationed in Washington, D.C. It's called "Potomac Fever" and may strike at any time or place. Witness what the FPC has recently ruled and ordered done.

In a recent opinion the Federal Power Commission (with Commissioner Rush Moody dissenting, and reiterating this dissent in a subsequent opinion) ordered that the companies file material with the Commission relating to uncommitted gas reserves. In itself this is bad enough, but the Commission ruled that it, the Commission, make any such material available to the public. They say, "because of the gas shortage and energy crisis, there is great public interest in the potential energy supplies of the United States, who owns them and what use is being made of them..." In our opinion the public, which is asked to curtail use of energy and pay at a higher rate for smaller supplies, has the right and need to know who is or is not responsible for the present situation... We already know who is responsible for the present situation and no amount of whitewash, or hogwash, will cover the Federal Power Commission's place in the sun.

Commissioner Rush Moody, in his dissent, states that the FPC order in question is illegal. We agree.

he was a year ago would net slightly more than $1.62.

The heavier tax would no doubt be something of a problem even if the taxpayer was aware of what was in store for him. But if he were unaware, then he really would be in a fix when the next tax deadline rolled around.

A government study a few years ago indicated that at least 500,000 people filing tax returns made use of percentage depletion.

Obviously, this total includes a great many royalty owners because there aren't nearly that many producers.

These royalty owners include farmers, doctors, lawyers and many others who have a piece of the action in a well or a producing field.

It seems likely that few of these realize what is in the works in Congress, else there would no doubt have been an outcry from them. Up until now, only a few voices have been raised in protest.

Royalty owners probably would be more hard hit than even the producers because producers would be able to ease the tax blow by plowing back their revenue into new exploration and development operation. Few royalty owners would be able to take advantage of any plowback provision. If not, then they would bear the full brunt of the windfall profits tax.

Even producers have lost ground as far as a plowback provision is concerned. At one point, the committee had agreed on a 100 per cent plowback authorization. Under such a rule, a producer who reinvested his profits in energy-related operations would not be subject to the windfall profits tax.

However, an outcry from the "liberals" resulted in a change in the provision. As it stands now, no plowback deduction at all would be permitted for the last half of this year. Next year, up to 50 per cent would be authorized, and in 1976 the full 100 per cent plowback would be permitted.

The obvious intent of this change was to hit the "excess" profits currently being made.

The tax bill being readied by the Committee will likely receive final approval this week when members of Congress return from their Easter recess. There will likely be a floor vote on the bill early in May. After that, the tax legislation will be in the hands of the Senate.

It appears highly likely that a rapid phaseout of percentage depletion will be approved, along with some version of the windfall profits provision.

Most producers are aware that they are probably going to be hit with substantially higher taxes. But it seems less likely that royalty owners realize what lies ahead for them.

Perhaps it would be well to avoid having a dental appointment with your dentist—if he's a royalty owner—the day he finds out.

ECOLOGY CONSCIOUS ROOFING TECHNIQUE—Many commercial and residential buildings have realized tremendous savings on their fuel costs with this energy conscious roofing technique by W & H Production Drilling, 500 W. Industrial St.

W&H Offers Polyurethane Foam To Conserve Energy

In the oil field, in the commercial building and in the home, Polyurethane foam insulation conserves energy while it pays for itself and is the answer to this ever increasing problem.

A proven superior insulation material, Polyurethane foam is recommended wherever temperature control is a prime factor or where you are simply concerned with the high cost of heating or air conditioning, states Sam Radobenco, manager of the Urethane Division of W & H Production and Drilling, an operating subsidiary of FNB Development Corp.

Sam, who entered the urethane industry during the period of its introduction, points with pride and satisfaction to the fact that Polyurethane foam was used in the Apollo spacecrafts because of its most desirable physical properties. These same properties can protect as well as insulate your roof for a greater number of years than any other roofing materials commonly used and is virtually maintenance free.

He pointed out that many of today's architects are recommending the application of Polyurethane foam in walls and ceilings during construction to assure reduced air conditioning and heating costs. Weighing approximately 20 pounds per 100 square feet, it is much lighter than other roofing. Yet, Polyurethane affords greater durability and protection from rain, hail and fire. It further allows for flexibility of architectural design where steep pitches, sharp angles and free forms are desirable.

The petroleum industry also has found numerous field and warehouse applications where Polyurethane foam has increased the efficiency of temperature controlled equipment and greatly reduced fuel consumption. The end result in every case has operating controls.

The energy crisis is an established fact in today's world and since it takes energy to produce energy, the most efficient methods are certainly the most desirable and practical, says Radobenco. We will be happy to consult with you about your insulation problem; just give us a call, 694-6608 or come by W & H Production Drilling Inc., 500 W. Industrial St.

During this period, Bridges said, long and protracted negotiations were taking place with the Persian Gulf and Libyan authorities who had demanded increased postings or tax-reference values. "Sensing that they were not in control of the situation, they took a dramatic decision to stop negotiation and to unilaterally impose their own tax-reference values and by the end of the year their own tax take per barrel had quadrupled." Bridges said Japan and the Western World, once again, had no alternative but to acquiesce. "The stage was not set for the next act in this high drama, the production cutbacks and the embargo against any deliveries of Arab oil to the United States and certain European countries," he said.

Gulf Announces Retirements Of Permian Basin Employees

OVER CONSUMER ENERGY ACT— Oilmen, Congress Brace For Legislation Battle

TULSA — U.S. oilmen and Congress are bracing for a spring confrontation over the Consumer Energy Act of 1974, a prototype bill that might eventually nationalize the petroleum industry.

The Oil & Gas Journal, a weekly business magazine, reports in its April 16 issue that the avowed purpose of the bill, which is being spearheaded by Adlai Stevenson III, D-Ill., is to assure enough oil and gas for all at reasonable cost. However, opponents of the bill predict it will guarantee fuel shortages at high prices and reduce the petroleum industry to the status of a public utility.

One unpopular segment of the bill is to extend the price-control authority of the government to include curbs on crude oil, like natural gas.

Another is to roll back prices of crude oil and refined products to Dec. 1, 1973, pending determination of prices by a government agency.

Part of the bill's strategy is to give a bigger piece of the future action to independents and to set up a Federal Oil & Gas Corp. (Fogco) as a competitor to private firms, raising off the best 20 per cent of unleased acreage on federal lands.

The Journal also said that Fogco could develop acreage or sell it to the highest bidder. Fogco could devise a competitive "yardstick" by skimming the cream and comparing its performance with that of private firms from leftovers.

Furthermore, Fogco would develop and sell oil and gas without any of the obstacles raised by the need to show a profit.

Called "Grand Design" According to the Journal, the bill is a grand design to put the Government in the business of finding and producing oil and gas in a big way. What's left of the private sector will be reduced to public-utility status.

Designing of the bill is in the hands of the Democratic majority on the Senate commerce committee.

In the editorial of the same issue, the Journal warned energy producers and consumers that the bill is a barrel of snakes and full of peril.

"The same kind of mindless regulation that has strangled exploration for new interstate gas supplies would be extended to interstate gas sales and to all crude-oil production. Just how this will excite the ambition of men to risk their time, talent, and fortunes in an unrewarding enterprise is not explained.

Truth is the regulation would be devastating to exploration," the Journal said.

Wide-Spread Opposition The bill also has stirred up wide-spread opposition by the administration, industry, producing states, and academia.

William E. Simon, director of the Federal Energy Office, said, "Deregulation of new gas is the most important single step Congress could take to bolster domestic energy supplies."

C. John Miller, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, called the bill a hoax that attempts to mislead both producer and consumers. "The bill would decimate what is left of the independent segment of the industry," he said.

Walter E. Rogers, president of The Independent Natural Gas Association of America, says, "This type of legislation would inevitably stifle rather than stimulate exploration for and development of our nation's natural gas-reserves."

And American Petroleum Institute President Frank Kard said "the bill, if adopted, would mean higher prices, consumer shortages, increasing dependence on foreign sources, and eventual nationalization."

Martin Luther was perhaps the first man to use lights on a Christmas tree.

Library Week In Texas

There are special weeks and more special weeks, even to the extent of overlapping two or three times, but none perhaps is more important to so many persons as the annual observance of National Library Week in Texas.

Libraries throughout the Lone Star State this week will swing open their doors with a special welcome for the Library Week observance.

Many communities, including Midland, will take this opportunity to salute their libraries and to commend them for the marvelous jobs they are doing in serving the residents of their respective communities.

Theme of the 1974 observance is "Your Library Is A Warehouse of Information."

This particularly holds true in The Tall City, which is fortunate, indeed, in having the Midland County Public Library, one of the very finest to be found anywhere. It is no wonder that Midlanders are proud of their public library, with its thousands upon thousands of volumes and materials in its various departments. Its geological section is said to be one of the very best and most complete in the nation. The services the library offers are most valuable and widely used.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe, in his official memorandum designating the week-long observance, said:

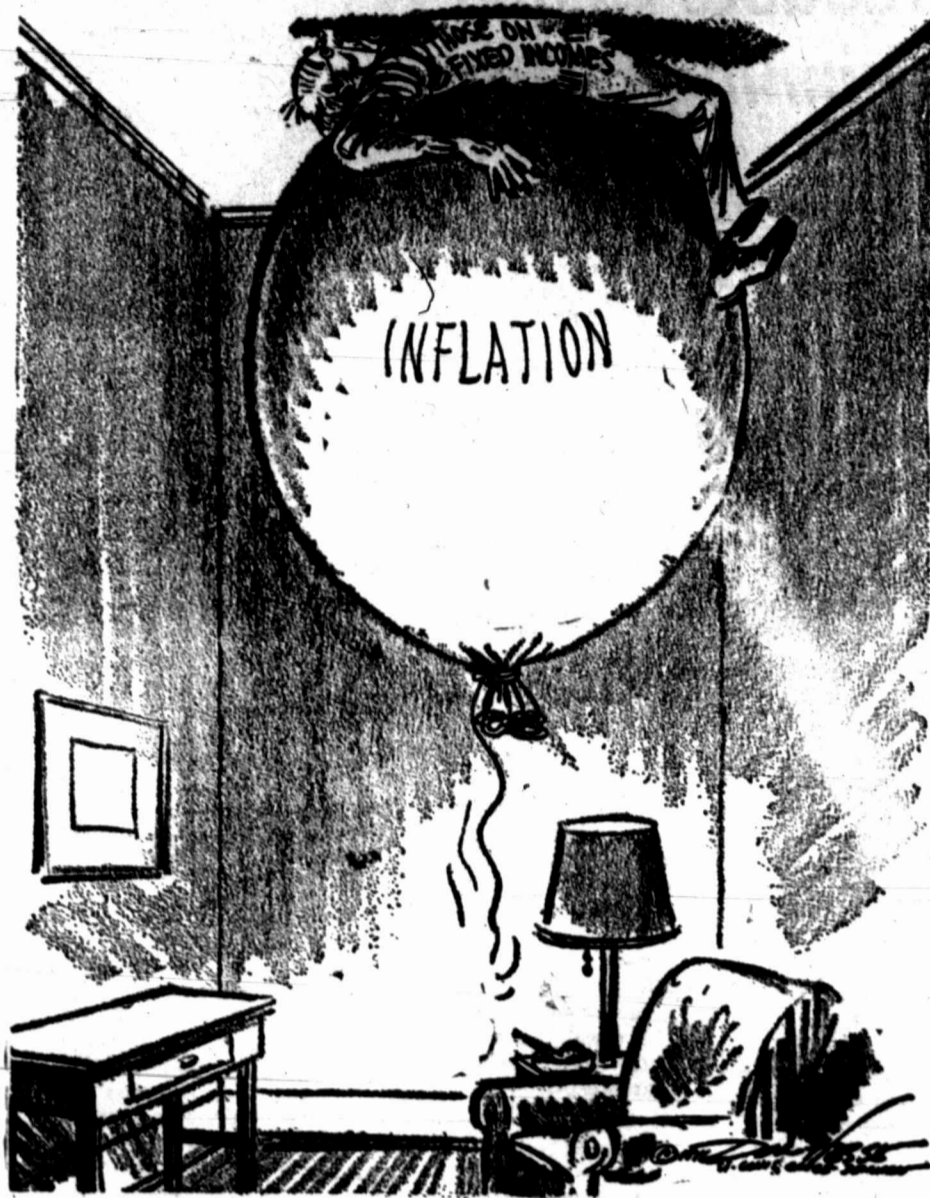

"Libraries assemble and make available the educational and informational resources which Texans need to lead full, productive and satisfying lives in today's complex society. All Texans need these resources... Access to the books, magazines and other materials that libraries collect and disseminate makes possible the lifetime learning that enriches the lives of all.

"Schools, colleges and universities are devoting increasing attention to teaching young people how to learn. Since most of them will depend upon public libraries to fill their information and learning needs after they leave school, it is vital that these public libraries be effective institutions."

The governor certainly is correct in his remarks. Never before, perhaps, has the need been greater and more urgent for good, up-to-date, complete public libraries and the far-reaching services they offer.

Libraries no longer are merely a convenience; they are a necessity for both economic and cultural growth. Widespread public support of public libraries here and elsewhere certainly is merited by these great service institutions.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: What happened to the $50,000 mystery money?
WASHINGTON—What happened to the $50,000 that billionaire Howard Hughes siphoned from one of his Las Vegas gambling casinos for Hubert Humphrey's 1968 presidential campaign?

We published the first report of the $50,000 mystery money on Aug. 6, 1971. Now the story is back in the headlines.

Our 1971 account quoted Hughes' handwritten instructions to the head of his Nevada empire, Robert Maheu, to "get the word to (Humphrey) on a basis of secrecy that is really, really reliable that we will give him immediately full, unlimited support for his campaign to enter the White House."

The $50,000 was supposed to have been a down payment on that promise. But we wrote that "there's no record the $50,000 was ever received."

Maheu refused to discuss the matter with us in 1971. But now he has sworn under oath that he "borrowed" the money from the Frontier Hotel casino and delivered it to Humphrey in a briefcase in front of Los Angeles' Century Plaza Hotel.

We have obtained a copy of Humphrey's sworn interrogatory on the incident. He recalls meeting Maheu in front of the Century Plaza on July 29, 1968. As Humphrey described the encounter, he was surrounded by staff members, Secret Service agents and well-wishers.

"To Be Of Help"
Maheu "wanted to wish me well and to be of help," testified Humphrey. "My reply, in substance, was that I thanked him for his offer of support in my bid for the presidency."

But Humphrey swore he had absolutely no recollection of receiving an attaché case stuffed with cash from Maheu. "No attaché case was delivered to me and, to the best of my knowledge, no attaché case was delivered to the automobile in which I was traveling..." he asserted.

His recollection has been confirmed by two aides, William Connell and David Gartner, whom Maheu had mentioned as possible corroborating witnesses. Both have testified that they also have no recollection of the delivery of the mysterious briefcase.

Humphrey told us in 1971 that he had heard Maheu had contributed to his campaign but had no personal knowledge of it. In his interrogatory, Humphrey again acknowledges this possibility.

"We now have reached Hughes' former environmental aide, John Meier, who was the intermediary between Hughes and Humphrey. Meier kept extensive diaries of his years with Hughes. The diaries show that on May 9, 1968, Meier arranged for Maheu to meet Humphrey in Denver where the then vice president was speaking. The two Hughes aides solicited Humphrey's help to stop nuclear testing in Nevada.

Then Maheu brought up the question of a campaign contribution. Recalls Meier: "Humphrey said he did not want to talk about money and said we would have to talk to Duane Andreas." Andreas was Humphrey's campaign treasurer.

Meier's diary shows he saw Humphrey again on June 18 in the vice president's office in the many-chimneyed, gingerbread White House annex. On instructions from Maheu, Meier again brought up the subject of a Hughes contribution. "Look, John," he said, "Hughes and the Hughes organization make me nervous. Talk to Andreas."

Meier met with Andreas in New York City's Waldorf-Astoria on Oct. 16. Andreas gave him a list of campaign organizations that could receive funds and said this was the only way a Hughes donation could be accepted.

George Clifford visited Meier in the headquarters of Hughes' Nevada operations shortly before the 1968 election. At that time, Meier told him he had been trying without success to get Hughes to contribute to Humphrey. Both Meier and Maheu now are involved in extensive litigation with Hughes.

BANKERS BILKED: Only rarely are the world's bankers taken in by confidence men, but an ingenious engineer laid off by the federal government has wangled $34 apiece out of some 400 distinguished financiers.

To support his family, Robert McLarren came up with the idea of an "International Banker Association." He combed lists of world bankers and sent them invitations to become fellows of the "IBA."

The handsome invitations solemnly advise that a membership council (actually made up only of McLarren) has elected them "to membership in the grade of a Fellow in the International Banker Association."

This entitles them, they are solemnly informed, "to carry the designation 'F.I.B.A.' after your name henceforth."

Some 400 bankers have accepted, with the largest number coming from the Philippines. Swiss bankers, known as "the gnomes of Zurich" for their secretive ways, were the most suspicious. To ward off the post-al authorities, McLarren sends each "Fellow" a distinguished-looking certificate and a newsletter — along with the secret thanks of the McLarren family.

DON OAKLEY The Senate Trial Hardly Greatest Show On Earth

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Of all the arguments that have been offered in favor of President Nixon's resignation rather than his impeachment, the one with the most doubtful merit is the one that holds that the President's trial by the Senate of the United States would be too circuslike, too unruly, too inflammatory of popular passions—simply too much for America to endure.

No one has yet topped the picture painted by New York Conservative Republican Sen. James L. Buckley, who used these words in his recent impassioned appeal to the President to resign to spare the nation the spectacle of an impeachment trial:

"The ruler of the mightiest nation on earth would be starved as the prisoner in the dock. The chamber would become a 20th-century Roman Coliseum as the performers are thrown to the electronic lions. The most sordid dregs dug up by the Watergate miners would inflame the passions of the domestic audience and provoke the guffaws, prurient curiosity or amazement of the outside world."

Very colorful. An X-rated impeachment, no less. Maybe the Supreme Court would have to ban it because of all that prurient interest.

But to get back to reality. If it comes to Richard Nixon's impeachment by the House of Representatives and his subsequent trial by the Senate, the President will be nowhere near the Capitol Hill during those fateful deliberations. His presence is not required by law, nor would good defense tactics require it.

Far from being a "prisoner in the dock," more likely than not Mr. Nixon would be commanding almost nightly appearances before the American people on prime time television, reciting his administration accomplishments and telling of his plans for America and the peace of the world, in a last-ditch attempt to win friends who might write letters or send telegrams to influence senators.

That is the real television spectacular that the impeachment of Richard M. Nixon would occasion.

Speaking of television, Buckley and others seem to assume (1) that the all-seeing electronic eye will be present during the trial, which is assuming quite a bit at this stage, and (2) that its presence must necessarily and inevitably be baneful.

Even if the worst of Buckley's nightmares became reality and 100 gladiators — er, senators — fell all over themselves trying to upstage each other on camera and entertain the folks back home by spearing a Christian — oops, witness — or two, what would this say about the intelligence of the American people if they tolerated it? More accurately, what does it say about Buckley's estimate of the intelligence of the American (let us mention that of his colleagues)?

The "Nervous Nellies," as Lyndon Johnson would have called them, can conjure up all kinds of frightening impeachment scenarios. What would really happen, however, has been stated calmly and matter-of-factly by Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana:

"If and when the issue comes to the Senate, there will be as little partisanship as possible and as far as I am concerned, there will be none. The Senate itself will be on trial... There will be no circus. There will be nothing in the way of hanky panky because I anticipate every senator will act with the greatest dignity and circumspection. There will be no harrying by any part of this body."

Or to borrow Nelson's words at Trafalgar: Should it befall the 93rd Senate of the United States to be called upon to sit in solemn judgment of the 37th president as provided for in the Constitution of the United States America expects every man to do his duty.
Nothing more and nothing less.

Dear Editor:
My unsimple neighbor has been reading the ads lately about how to get rich by buying silver and holding it while the price goes up.

He says it appears that numerous people who have some silver to sell are spending considerable money on advertising that the stuff is bound to be worth a lot more dollars in the threatening future.

But he is glad there are so many big-hearted folks wanting to let him share in the silver profits bonanza by selling him some of theirs at now prices.

DAVID POLING, D.D. The Persuasive Power Of Orthodoxy Revealed

NEW YORK (NEA) — In recent weeks we have seen, again, the persuasive power of the Orthodox Church. This church of the centuries does not crowd the news or dominate ecumenical discussion. Yet few lasting events within the Christian community happen without its participation or approval.

Most readers are not familiar with the Orthodox Church — it does not have the constant impact of the Methodists or the Baptists who are in every town and city on the map. Yet of the 33 different communions that make up the National Council of Churches, the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of North and South America, headed by his Eminence Archbishop Iakovos, ranks 10th in size. The other churches that are branches of the ancient eastern communions are Russian, Syrian, Armenian, Serbian and similar ethnic groups.

For the last several decades the Orthodox Churches have been a balance wheel for broad interchurch discussions. Protestants and Roman Catholics would not be in dynamic dissertations without the encouragement and bridge-building efforts of people like Archbishop Iakovos. But the Orthodox primate keeps reminding us that the eastern churches would be ineffective save for the loyalty and power of their laity. He is absolutely right.

In the last century, it was Count Leo Tolstoy that challenged the Russian system with his writing and actions to demonstrate a more humane — even Christ-like society. His program failed but his faith is still speaking.

Twenty years ago Boris Pasternak came to the center of the Russian literary stage — and then the free world — with his dynamic writing and spirit-filled vision of the dominion of God.

And it shall long be remembered that during Lent, 1974, Alexander Solzhenitsyn, Russian novelist and refugee, gave the shining example of what it means to be a Christian under fire. In a recent sermon at Holy Trinity Serbian Orthodox Church in Pittsburgh, Pa., Archbishop Iakovos paid tribute to this literary giant by saying:

"I owe it to God, to the church and to history which tells us that a layman, namely Solzhenitsyn, had the courage to proclaim Orthodoxy as a living faith, by example."

In his address the Archbishop as little partisanship as possible and as far as I am concerned, there will be none. The Senate itself will be on trial... There will be no circus. There will be nothing in the way of hanky panky because I anticipate every senator will act with the greatest dignity and

TIMELY QUOTES

"You're in a world where music is everything, success is everything. I couldn't be friends with anyone. It was like being in one of those films where you wake up and you're suddenly dead and can see everybody but no one can see you."

— Rock musician Johnny Winter describing the lonely road tours early in his career and leading to his eventual narcotics addiction.

"It's like a Chinese dinner. Two hours later you're hungry for more information."

— H. Taylor Howard, head of a Stanford University team analyzing the wealth of data beamed back by the Mariner 10 Venus and Mercury probe.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY
(Newspaper Enterprises Association)

"What is there about me that causes my opponents to play like geniuses?" asked the dummy.

"He did play very well," was our comment, "but you had a chance to make a really brilliant play and beat him."
"How could I?" he asked.
See if you readers can work out the play. If not, here it is!

When South led the 10 of spades the unlucky expert should have let it hold. He would lose his king of trumps, but get back two diamond tricks in place of the one trump trick lost.

Both vulnerable

"With everyone vulnerable, South opened one spade. West and North passed and I doubled. South jumped to four spades and when it got to me I doubled that also. My partner opened the jack of clubs. South ruffed and led a heart. I took my king and led a second club.

"South ruffed again and led a heart to my partner's ace. He led a third club. South ruffed again and now produced the killing play. He led his 10 of trumps and played low from dummy. I had to take my king. The best I could do was to lead a trump back. He won in dummy; discarded the three of diamonds on the good heart, finessed against my diamond king and scored game and rubber."

What do you do now?
A—Bid three hearts. Your partner is showing three hearts and clearly is short in diamonds. A heart game is worth trying for.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding one spade your partner has jumped to three hearts after your one heart bid. What do you do now?

BIG PLAY—Midland's Karl Brosig, attempting to score on a two-out double by Ron Helm in first, is about to be tagged out by Abilene catcher Ron Maynard as Umpire Bobby Dunn looks on. Abilene won 5-4.

Defeats Knock Midland Nines Out Of 5-4A Lead

The Midland Reporter-Telegram

SPORTS

10—SUNDAY, APRIL 21, 1974

Home may be where the heart is, but as far as the Midland Bulldogs are concerned, it isn't where the victories are. The Purple Pack took a three-game winning streak into Saturday's District 5-4A baseball game with Abilene and hadn't lost since their last game at home and until this one.

The Eagles knocked Midland out of a share of first place in 5-4 battle of homers, but it was a sixth inning double by relief pitcher Artie Henson and a two-out single by Larry Tatum that plated what proved to be the decisive run.

The win gives Abilene a 3-0 second half record and leaves Midland 2-1.

Bobby Lawson hoisted a home run over the left field barrier behind a walk to Larry Tatum and Abilene led 2-0 in the first. Midland quickly tied it with Alan Buonassera belting a homer to center with Bruce Smith, who had walked, on base in the bottom of the first.

Midland missed a chance for more when Karl Brosig was hit by a pitch and was a close out at home on Ron Helm's double.

Abilene got to Midland starter Jeff Cole, 3-2, for a run in the third when Ron Maynard hit a solo shot to center, about 380-feet away.

Monte Harris, who had five homers going into the game and was the feared home run threat, didn't hit any homers, but he got a big run in the fifth. Cole hit the Eagle shortstop with a pitch. Harris stole and then came home when an attempted pick off wound up in centerfield.

Trailing 4-2, Midland got one back in the fifth when Brandon Battles led off with a single and scored from first on Smith's double into the right-center alley.

Abilene got its final run to lead 5-3 on Tatum's single in the sixth and then relief pitcher Terrill Littlejohn powered a homer to right-center off Henson, who had relieved starter Paul Ogden, 3-0 in the fifth after Smith's run-scoring double.

The Bulldogs threatened in the seventh when Terry

Copeland and Smith hit one-out singles, but Henson got Buonassera on a pop and Karl Brosig on a grounder to third.

The loss drops Midland to 10-12 for the season, but the Bulldogs have won five of their last eight.

Littlejohn finished up the final two innings for Cole, who gave up only two hits, both homers, but walked six and hit a batter in his five-inning stint.

San Angelo, Rankin Claim Regional Crowns

By TERRY WILLIAMSON
R-T Sports Writer

LUBBOCK — High winds and swirling sand kept the Region I-AAAA-A-B Track and Field Meet at the Lubbock Coronado track Saturday from being as enjoyable as it could have been for the 3,000 plus West Texas fans, but it didn't keep San Angelo's Bobcats or the Rankin Red Devils from making their appointed rounds.

San Angelo and Rankin both repeated as the AAAA and A champions with the Bobcats qualifying five individuals and a relay to the state track meet in Austin in two weeks while the Devils, winning their third consecutive region title, qualified four individuals and a relay team.

Miles produced 70 points to oust second place Lorraine, who managed 56 points, from the Class B throne room. The Bobcats won AAAA honors with 67 points while El Paso and Abilene finished with 52 and 37 respectively. Rankin outclassed Memphis for the A title by a 66-44 margin.

Munson was in the thick of the pack going into the final two hurdles, but hit a hurdle standard head on with a late jump and fell to the cinders. Munson was in the thick of the arm in the fall but no bones were broken. Herford's James Harris won the event with a 38.4 and Gray was second with a 39.0.

San Angelo's Tony Poole won the 100 with a blazing wind aided 9.5 and Vendon Beck, another Bobcat, won the 200 with a 21.3. San Angelo also won the sprint relay with a 42.6.

Coach Bob Johnson's Rankin Red Devils turned in some powerful performances to take the Class A title.

Jimmy Joe Mathews qualified for state in two events by winning the long jump with a leap of 23-3/4 and taking first in the 120 highs with a 14.6. Mathews also ran a leg on the winning mile relay team.

Csonka, Warfield, Kiick ... Cheap At The Price

When Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield and Jim Kiick started the gold rush to the World Football League by signing with the Toronto Toros for $3 million, it was a steal... for both sides.

By the time the Dolphin trio reports to the Toros, they won't be worth it.

Csonka, the Super Bowl hero in the victory over the Minnesota Vikings, is at his peak. Warfield is at an age where his best years are behind him while a disgruntled Kiick is playing second-fiddle to Mercury Morris.

Battle Scene

By Ted Battles

And even if this were not so, the fact that Csonka and Kiick will not be running behind the Dolphin offensive line and Bob Griese won't be throwing to Warfield might diminish their effectiveness considerably, even if the aging process were not taking its toll.

If you discount the value of offensive line blocking, check with O. J. Simpson. No running back is more appreciative of the help he gets from up front than O. J., who ran behind the best at USC, discovered what it was like without good people clearing the way in his early years with Buffalo and set an NFL record for rushing with line-horses last year.

kas and Warfields by exercising patience. Still, grabbing the trio for a paltry $3 million is a cheap investment.

What they have done is buy immediate major-league recognition. As an expansion team in the established NFL, the entry dues would be around $12 million or more.

The league-jumping players can't be faulted for selling their services at inflationary sums to the highest bidder. If there's an adverse reaction, it will come after they've finished their careers and they are long gone.

Probably no other sport is as blessed with talent to expand than football. There's no way to estimate how many potential pro stars were given their walking papers as rookies, simply because there was an experienced and established Bob Lilly, Willie Lanier or Bob Griese ahead of them.

The American Football League proved this by starting with NFL castoffs and building to parity with fresh talent coming out of college, and they did it in a surprisingly short time. However, they did have to weather the arrows and brickbats of ridicule in the interim.

In a way, the NFL brought this on themselves. The lessons learned in the post-World War II battle with the All-America Conference were forgotten when the AFL organized a decade later.

Just as with the AAC, peace terms included total absorption of the rival circuit instead of reaching an agreement on such inter-league rivalries as the Super Bowl and continuing to operate as separate and competing entities. That left the door open for the WFL.

The Toros and other WFL clubs could take the same route, developing their own Cson-

And as long as pro sports franchises provide beckoning tax shelters, one can expect more WFL's in the future.

The question then becomes: How many major leagues will the public be willing to accept and, maybe even more vital, how many will be willing to support?

And who knows, the dollar competition in the bidding for talent, which will be born to a large extent at the box office, may drive the non-executive fan right back to college football.

SEEING DOUBLE—Southern Methodist's Gene Pouncy, left, and his brother, Joe Pouncy put their all into the start of the Kansas Relay's 100-yard dash event. Judges ruled that Gene won the race, but there was a double take at the finish when both recorded a 9.2. (AP Wirephoto.)

10-Run 4th Sinks Rebels For Cougars

ABILENE — The Abilene Cooper Cougars exploded for 10 runs in the bottom of the fourth inning to break open a close District 5-4A baseball game and then went on to a 13-4 victory over the Midland Lee Rebels Saturday afternoon.

Leading 2-1, the Cougars roughed up Keith Bishop and Phil Anderson in posting the big victory which keeps them in a tie for first place in the second half of the race with Abilene with a 3-0 mark.

Lee had taken a 1-0 lead off Alan Lakatta in the first inning when Brett Blackwell singled with one out, stole second and scored on Bobby Steven's single.

Cooper took a 3-1 lead in the bottom of the third inning. Don Lawson singled in one run and Lakatta scored another when he grounded out to deep short.

Chuck Nall, who knocked in five runs, rapped a three-run homer in the big fourth inning uprising while Steve Kennedy and Lakatta both singled in runs. Terry Lambert had a two-run single for the Cougs.

Javier Torres led off the Lee sixth inning with a triple and scored on a sacrifice fly by Steve Koch to make it 12-2, but Cooper added another run for 13-2 lead in the bottom of the inning.

The Rebels tallied two runs in the seventh inning. With one out, Tidwell singled and Blackwell singled. Porter struck out, but Torres came through with a two-run single.

With the loss, Lee is 15-7 on the year and 2-1 in the loop race while Cooper evens its season mark to 10-10 and 3-0.

The Rebels travel to Big Spring next Tuesday for a loop game with the Steers while Cooper is at Odessa Permian.

Weak Hand And All, Haynie Leads On 66

By RON ROACH
AP Sports Writer

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Sandra Haynie, her right hand still weak from surgery last October, shot a three-under-par 69 for a one-stroke lead Saturday after the third round of the $200,000 Dinah Shore-Winners Circle Golf Tournament.

The 30-year-old Texan, seeking her 30th and richest victory in 13 years on the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour, was one under par at 215 through 54 holes.

At 216 were Jo Ann Prentice, Kathy Cornelius and Jane Blalock. Miss Haynie, who trailed leaders Miss Prentice and Judy Rankin by four strokes after 36 holes, blazed the front nine under a warm desert sun in 33. Her six-foot birdie putt on 16 January dropped her two under par but she bogeyed 17 when her putt than from the fringe of the green lipped the cup.

Miss Blalock shot a 70 on the 6,382-yard Mission Hills course first prize, and Miss Cornelius carded 69. Miss Prentice had 74 and Mrs. Rankin ballooned to a 78 to fall it she said. "The only thing about five strokes back with seven me."

Miss Haynie won the Alamo, Calif., tournament last October, then had surgery to remove scar tissue from a tendon sheath in her right thumb. She resumed playing golf in mid-January.

"It doesn't bother me other than not being back at full strength," said Sandra, who added that another 69 today would win her the record $32,632-year Mission Hills course first prize, and Miss Cornelius carded 69. Miss Prentice had 74 and Mrs. Rankin ballooned to a 78 to fall it she said. "The only thing about five strokes back with seven me."

Tourney Ends Today—Two 66's Share 1st In Nickel

Charles Ray and Larry John Enzinger are two off the pace and might be tied for matching 33s while James Kirby and Gaylen Delay of Odessa shot 34-32 to tie for first place after 18 holes of the Nickel-Chrysler Benefit Golf Tournament with 66's at Hogan Park Golf Course Saturday.

Play winds up today with 18 holes and the some 110 teams entered will be "flighted according to today's scores," tee J. Barnes, plus John Warren off times and pairings will be the same as Saturday.

Gary Littlejohn, a former Midland City champion, and Kirby and Delay scored from nine birdies at two and five and really got going on the final six holes with birds at 14, 15, and 18 for a 32.

Four golf teams were tied at 71, and six at 72.

Ray and Snyder posted birds at the first, second, fifth holes on the front nine and then took back nine birds at 11, and 12. Kirby and Delay scored from nine birdies at two and five and really got going on the final six holes with birds at 14, 15, and 18 for a 32.

Four golf teams were tied at 71, and six at 72.

Bucks Rip Bulls, 113-90

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Bucks, sparked by Kareem Abdul-Jabbar's 32 points and capitalizing on a controversial third-quarter foul, whipped the Chicago Bulls 113-90 Saturday to take a 3-0 lead in the National Basketball Association Western Conference finals.

Bob Dandridge added 22 points for the Bucks, who will try for a four-game sweep in the best-of-seven series at Chicago Monday.

The Bucks, 12 points ahead at halftime, moved a 71-54 lead with 4:38 left in the third quarter before two free throws by Norm Van Lier and a layup by Bob Love began a Chicago comeback.

Cubs Fall To Brewers, 3-2

SAN ANTONIO — Midland's first innings, tagged with Wayne Cage plus an infield out led off with a single. BALTIMORE (AP) — Graig Nettles drilled a wind-blown, two-run homer in the ninth inning, powering the New York Yankees to a 4-3 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Saturday.

COM Is Third In Swim Meet

DALLAS — The City of Midland Swim Team stands in third place after two days of competition in the Texas Age Group Championships here at the Loos Pool after amassing 155 points.

Earlier, Boog Powell's fifth-inning double drove in Tommy Davis with a run that gave Baltimore a 3-2 lead.

The Angels had stormed back to tie the game with four runs in the eighth inning, three on Mike Epstein's fourth home run of the baseball season.

The A's jumped on California's Nolan Ryan for six runs in the first five innings. After the Angels got a first-inning run on Frank Robinson's single, Oakland got two in the bottom of the inning on North's walk and stolen base, a single by Bando, Reggie Jackson's double and Joe Rudi's sacrifice fly.

The Royals, breaking a four-game losing streak, nicked Wilbur Wood, 1-4, for single runs in the third and fourth innings. They assumed a 6-0 lead with their fifth-inning burst that included a walk to Vada Pinson, singles by Fernando Gonzales and Al Cowens and Rojas' homer that chased the veteran knuckler from the mound.

Chicago struck for its three runs in the bottom of the fifth. Chuck Brinkman triggered the rally with a single and scored on Bradford's homer deep into the right field seats. One out later Allen connected.

Paul Splittorff, 1-1, went the distance despite giving up fifth-inning homers by Buddy Bradford and Dick Allen, each connecting for the third time this season.

PERRY GIVES PRIVATE SHOWING—

A Spitter Or Forkball?

AP Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — Does he or doesn't he? That was the question Saturday as veteran right-hander Gaylord Perry of the Cleveland Indians privately demonstrated his forkball for the American League. Perry did his act in the right field bullpen in empty Fenway Park before the Indians' game against the Boston Red Sox. He was out to prove that what appears to be an illegal spitball pitch actually is a forkball.

In a cloak-and-dagger atmosphere, catcher Dave Duncan crouched behind the plate. Veteran umpire Nestor Chyba took his position. Around them were Dick Butler, the league's supervisor of umpires, and two members of his staff, former umpires Hank Soar and John Stevens. Perry, author of a book on how he threw the spitter in past years, was warned by home plate umpire Marty Springstead about using the illegal pitch in the opening game of the season against the New York Yankees. Under a rule adopted this season, umpires now use judgment on whether a pitcher throws a spitter.

Cleveland Manager Ken Aspromonte asked for the private demonstration in an attempt to prove that Perry's forkball "is better than average and umpires should be aware of it." Aspromonte and Perry claim the pitcher does not use the alleged spitter—any longer. Perry threw 25 to 30 pitches. Hidden on the roof overlooking the bullpen were baseball writer Russ Schneider of the Cleveland Plain Dealer and an Associated Press photographer. Perry employed his entire repertoire of pitches—all except the spitter. In fact, he didn't even wipe his forehead or go behind his ear one time. "It's very possible his forkball could be mistaken for a spitter, but he didn't fool me," said Soar. "A spitter comes down like it's rolling off a table, but the fork ball comes in and down." "What did he show? He showed that he's got good stuff and doesn't need anything else." "I didn't see anything I haven't seen before," Butler said. "I would say, based on what he threw today, there is nothing wrong, nothing illegal. However, it's still in the opinion of the umpire who's working the game." "What I'm saying is that what he threw today, there was nothing wrong. That is not to say he doesn't throw something else." "I think we achieved what we set out to do, prove that Gaylord has a better than average fork ball and the umpires should be aware of it," Aspromonte said after the cloak and dagger demonstration. "Nestor was the biggest help," Perry said. "He explained the pitches as I threw them. One time he said, 'Look at the tumbling motion of the fork ball and it's slower (than the spitter).'" "The best thing was we had a chance to talk. I told them I was trying to break the habit of going through motions, such as wiping my forehead, and they said it would help."

Mission Viejo Accepts COM Swim Invite

A third major Amateur Athletic Union age group swimming team, the Mission Viejo Nadadores of Mission Viejo, Calif., has informed City of Midland Swim Team Head Coach George French it will compete in the July 12-14 West Texas Invitational Swimming and Diving Meet here.

Coach French announced the Nadadores entry in the meet at a meet planning session last week.

"The Nadadores are rated as the No. 3 age group team in the United States," French said. "They will bring 50 or more swimmers to the West Texas Invitational."

Earlier, the Santa Clara, Calif., team, rated the No. 1 age group team in the world said it would bring 50 or more swimmers to Midland.

The Cincinnati American Financial (Pepsi) Marlins, the nation's No. 2 team also will compete in force.

The invitational is sponsored by the City of Midland Swim Team, the Midland Parks and Recreation Department, the Midland Optimist Clubs and the Midland Jaycees.

Attending the planning meeting last week were Joe Campbell, Jaycee president; Tom Newman, Jaycee vice president; Roberta Hyde, president of the Jaycee-Ettes; David Hoelscher and Art Donnelly of the Optimist Club; Dave Maddox and Bob Thomson of the Parks and Recreation Department; Jim Shelton and H. A. Tuck of the Chamber of Commerce, and officials of the COM organization.

The Rev. Jonathan Hole is director of the swimming and diving meet which is expected to draw about 1,000 of the nation's top swimmers and divers.

Charles Koch, president of the COM board of directors, said the meet will be of the highest caliber of competition possible.

"A major number of the swimmers who will make the 1976 United States Olympic team will compete in our meet in July," Koch said.

Coach French said this will be the first time for the three major Age Group Swimming Teams in the United States to compete on a head-to-head basis.

The meet will have an international flavor, with teams from Mexico and Canada expected to enter.

The competition will be held in the city's Olympic standard Alamo Park Pool.

Rollins Net Victor

COLUMBUS, Miss. (AP) — Rollins College of Florida took the team title in the 13th annual Southern Collegiate Women's Tennis Tournament Saturday.

And, third-seeded Rayni Fox of the Florida school took individual honors upsetting Joanne Russell of Trinity University of Texas 4-6, 6-1, 6-0.

Borg, Laver Beat Foes At Houston

HOUSTON (AP)—Second-seeded Bjorn Borg of Sweden and third-seeded Rod Laver of Australia defeated their semifinal opponents by identical 6-3, 6-1 scores Saturday to advance to the finals of the 40th River Oaks Tennis tournament.

Laver, who defeated the 17-year-old Borg in the semifinals of last week's World Championship of Tennis tournament in Tokyo, ousted Onny Parun of New Zealand and Borg defeated Eddie Dibbs, Miami Beach, Fla.

Laver won the first five games of the first set against Parun, who upset top-seeded Arthur Ashe in the quarterfinals. Parun then held service and broke Laver in a love game before losing the first set. Parun did not win a service in the second set.

Seminole Back Stars For Tech

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Texas Tech sophomore quarterback Don Roberts of Seminole hit on six of 10 passes and scored two touchdowns here today to lead the Red Raiders in a controlled scrimmage.

Roberts directed the number one unit to two scores in four drives and also rushed for 49 yards on nine carries. Roberts scored on runs of nine and two yards.

Sophomore Greg Frazier of Iowa Park worked with the second unit and hit on six of 13 passes for 49 yards. Frazier rushed for 56 yards on eight carries.

Leading rusher for the day behind Frazier and Roberts was Marc Pace of Fort Worth who carried eight times for 41 yards including an 11-yard touchdown. Sophomore Jimmy Williams of Garland carried four times for 23 yards.

Leading receiver was tight end Sylvester Brown of San Antonio Roosevelt who hauled in two passes for 29 yards.

Following the scrimmage, Coach Jim Carlen said, "We still have lots to accomplish, but I was especially pleased with Roberts. He was the bright spot today for us."

Carlen said the Red Raiders will concentrate on their punt coverage in the next few workouts as they prepare for the annual spring game set for May 10-6.

Miller, Bull Wage Hot Porker Battle

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Quarterbacks Mark Miller and Scott Bull dueled to a 16-16 deadlock here Saturday in the Razorbacks' opening spring football game.

The two juniors have been in a heated battle for the No. 1 quarterbacking spot all spring. Miller's Red squad got an early break in the first quarter when junior college transfer Waymon Hawkins of the Red team blocked a Tommy Chyne punt giving Miller and his cohorts the ball on the White's 34 yard line.

It took Miller only three plays, the final being an 18-yard sprint by himself, to get on the scoreboard. Kenny McCulloch's point after try was good, making it 7-0 for the Reds.

Bull's White squad got moving on its next possession going 68 yards, with Bull keeping for the final four yards and a touchdown. However, McCulloch's point after was no good, giving the Reds a 7-6 edge.

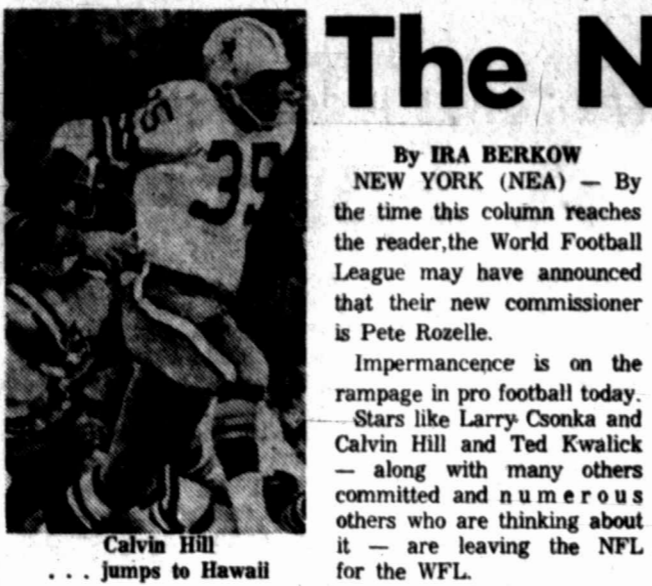

The Red team cranked up a 75-yard drive in six plays, ending with a 37-yard field goal by McCulloch to widen the lead, 10-6.

The Tyler Junior College transfer finished the day as the leading ground gainer with 118 yards.

In the second half, the Red team had to go only 10 yards to get its second touchdown of the day. It was Miller again scoring on a two-yard run three plays after defensive noseguard Reggie Freeman recovered a White team fumble on the White's seven-yard line.

The Razorbacks' second spring game will be held next Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in Little Rock's War Memorial Stadium.

Jones Wins Shot... SA, Rankin Team Titles

Greg Copeland won top honors in the 800 as expected with a 1:59.3 while brother Curtis gained the other state berth for the Devils with a second place finish in the high jump with a 6-2.

Ablene High was a surprising third in the AAAA division. The Eagles captured an important second place in the mile relay behind Burgess while Jimmy Strong won the 800 with a 1:55.8 and Charles Green managed a second behind Beck in the 200.

Big Spring's Don Walters, a sophomore, won the 440 with a 49.5. Odessa Permain failed to qualify anyone for the state meet when hurdler Steve King finished fourth in the 300 intermediates and was disqualified in the 120 yard hurdles.

Odessa Ector Dashes To Win In Regional AAA Track

By BOB DILLON

ODESSA — Odessa Ector and Hamlin stormed to impressive track crowns Saturday afternoon in 80-degree weather in the Class AAA and AA Regional Meet in W. T. Barrett Stadium. Area athletes had a rough time with Stanton qualifying two athletes to the state meet in two weeks. David Standerer won the 220-yard dash for the Bills with a time of 22.0 while teammate Joe Hernandez finished second in the 800 for spots in the state competition.

Crane's Arthur Lane and Donald Walker of Pecos both barely missed qualifying for the state meet. Lane wound up third in the pole vault with a height of 13-0 and third in the long jump with 6-2, the same as Lonnie McKinney of Frenship, but McKinney had fewer misses. Walker finished third in the 100-yard dash with a clocking of 16.9 along with a third place windup in the 220-yard dash in a timing of 21.7 and to top it off, wound up third in the high jump with 6-2.

Ector racked up 124 points four points when Jay Duncan nipped Ector at the tape with 120-yard high hurdles to wing off to a quick lead over the Matadors could never overcome even though they did whip the Eagles in the mile relay.

Hamlin scored 106 points on the flying heels of the talented Bill Cork who scored 40 points on his own for individual honors. Dimmitt was a distant second with 36 points while Stanton finished third with 26. Crane scored 16, but Reagan County failed to score a point.

Cork blazed to a new record in the 440-yard dash with a sizzling 47.3 clocking and also won the high jump Friday afternoon with a height of 6-2 1/2. He was the anchor man for the winning sprint and mile relay teams too.

Standerer finished strongly to knock off Hamlin's Johnny Jones at the tape with a time of 22 flat in the 220-yard dash. Jones was an outstanding football player for the Piped Pipers this past season, rushing for more than 2,000 yards and will be back again this fall.

Hernandez finished second behind Cisco's Billy Collins in the 800. Collins had a time of 1:57.6 and Hernandez has 1:59.3. Otis Cooper of Stamford leaped to a new mark in the long jump in the finals Friday with a distance of 23-11.

Standerer just missed qualifying in the 100-yard dash, finishing third behind Jones and Robert Mayberry of Dimmitt with a 16.0.

Only the first and second place finishers qualify for the state meet in Austin.

Ector qualified eight individuals and both relay teams for the Class AAA state meet and Hamlin should win it's second consecutive AA crown with five individuals and both relay units.

Kenyon Hurls El Paso Win

By The Associated Press

Two sterling strikeout performances highlighted the opening night of the 1974 Texas League baseball campaign Friday.

Frank Kenyon fanned 10 Amarillo Giants as El Paso won 7-1, and teen-ager Dennis Eckersley whiffed eight in seven innings as San Antonio blanked Midland 3-0.

In other games, Victoria celebrated its return to the league after several years absent with an 8-5 triumph over Arkansas, and Alexandria edged Shreveport 5-3.

Kenyon pitched a four-hitter for El Paso besides his 10 strikeouts. Frankie George had three hits to lead the Diablos, but Amarillo was plagued by five errors, three of them when Giants' first baseman Tony Pepper lost throws from third in the sun.

Rick Miller had four RBIs, including a run-scoring double in the five-run Victoria fourth inning. Arkansas had taken a 3-0 lead after three innings.

Mike Ivie hit a three-run homer in the first inning and scored another run in the eighth inning after singling to lead Alexandria over Shreveport.

Greg Zail got the pitching victory with relief help.

TO RAISE $6,000—LLers Hold Candy Drive

Little Leagues of the Midland Junior Baseball Association will sell chocolate Saturday in a city-wide fund raising project. Commissioner Dick Saxe announced this week that the Little League presidents voted to undertake the project. Little Leagues hope to raise $6,000 that would enable them to maintain their accounts in a current condition. Saxe said the purpose is to try to relieve a financial deficit that has existed for many years.

The Little Leaguers will canvass in their uniforms and sell a five-ounce bar of high quality chocolate in a special wrapper

LITTLE LEAGUE FUND DRIVE — Jerry Pitts, vice-commissioner of Central LL, looks on as 11-year-old Steve Miller discovers that Mayor Ernest Angelo is a willing supporter of LL baseball.

5-4A Golfers Make State

LUBBOCK — Odessa Permian fired a team total of 311 to win the Class AAAA Regional Golf crown Friday with a three-stroke victory over San Angelo.

The Panthers trailed the Bobcats by one stroke going into the final round of play. Amarillo Tascosa wound up third.

Randy Waterhouse of San Angelo won medalist honors with a 36-hole total of 144. He, along with the Permian team, advances into the state tourney in Austin May 4-5.

IN TEXAS LEAGUE OPENER—

Teen Phenom Stops Cubs

SAN ANTONIO — Midland's Cubs ran into a teenage pitching buzzsaw Friday night in Dave Eckersley, who pitched the San Antonio Brewers to a 3-0 victory over the Bruins in the Texas League opener before 3,422 fans here.

Eckersley, going into his third year of pro ball, needed relief help from Luis Penalver, the veteran reliever pitcher, when his arm tightened up after seven innings.

Midland made its only menacing gesture against Penalver when Wayne Tyrone singled and Joel Green hit a two-out double, but Ken Sotkiewicz popped up to third.

Eckersley was 12-4 with Reno of the California league last year, posting a league-leading five shutouts and 218 strikeouts in 202 innings. Eckersley won't be 19 until October and could be another Frank Tanana in the making.

The Brewers greeted lefty starter Budd Schultz hostilely in the first when Will Aaron led off with a double and Mike Hanna doubled the run in.

An error on Al McCrew's hard hit grounder to second baseman Bill Huisman started the second inning trouble and the runs scored when Luis Isaac hit a sacrifice fly after Rex Bynum's single and shortstop Rob Belloir singled home the other run.

Mike Weiss, up from Quincy, relieved Schultz to start the third, and pitched three-hit ball over the final six innings in blanking the Brewers the rest of the way.

Weiss was 11-4 at Quincy last year with a 2.38 and his performance Friday may just earn him that fifth spot in the starting rotation that Manager Walt Dixon is trying to fill.

Third baseman Joel Green was the only club to get two hits as Penalver and Eckersley combined to hold Midland to six hits.

Polo Match Scheduled At 2 Today

Polo action is scheduled today at 2 p.m. at the Midland Polo Grounds.

Last week, Midland Polo Club defeated Willson Ranch, 11-5, as Harley Stimmell knocked in six goals and Jim Stimmell and Carlton Beal two apiece. Ryan Reddell rode in the No. 4 position.

For Willson, enjoying a two-handicap, John Cossing scored three times. Steve McCarrick, Willie B. Wilson and Aloma Galinda completed the team. Umpires were Cliff Wilderspin and Tommy Higgins.

FRIDAY'S MAJORS—

Texas' Jenkins Hogties Twins

By The Associated Press

Jim Fregosi's first home run and an eight-run eighth inning helped Ferguson Jenkins notch his third win in four American League starts as the Oakland Rangers beat Minnesota, 10-2, before 27,799 Friday night.

Bernie Carbo's two-run homer in the first got Boston on its way to a 5-3 win over Cleveland while Tommy Davis and Al Bumbry's circuit blasts paced Baltimore over New York, 5-3.

Reggie Jackson's seventh homer, a two-run shot in the third which boosted his RBI total to 21, was all the help Jim Hunter needed as the Oakland A's beat California, 5-1. Chicago beat Kansas City, 5-4, as Bruce Dal Canton's walks to Ken Henderson and Ron Santo forced home the winning run in the sixth inning.

Texas, meanwhile, isn't sure whether attendance, up 33,000 over last year, or the team is more exciting.

"There are some good hitters on this team," said Jenkins, "I like what I've seen, particularly the attitude around here. A lot of clubs are going to smell our smoke. It's fun to be around something like this."

ATLANTA — The New York Knicks, led by Walt Frazier, returned home today with an entirely different outlook in their National Basketball Association playoff showdown with the Boston Celtics.

"This was a must game for us and we're right back in it," Frazier said after scoring 38 points in the Knicks' 103-100 victory Friday night before a packed crowd of 15,320 and a national television audience.

"Now the pressure is on them," Frazier said.

After being blitzed 113-88 and 111-99 in the first two games of the best-of-seven series, the Knicks averted virtual elimination by building a commanding lead and then withstanding a furious Boston finish.

The Knicks return to Madison Square Garden for the fourth game in the Eastern Division final this afternoon, trailing 2-1. Some followers figured the single victory created a brand new series, but New York Coach Red Holzman scoffed at the suggestion.

"A new series?" Holzman asked in surprise. "The score is 2-1, isn't it? Explain to me how it makes a new series. Convince me—I'd love you to."

Boston Coach Tommy Heinsohn agreed with Holzman.

"They've got to win another one to make it even," Heinsohn said after his Celtics' fourth period rally fell just short. "I don't think we played well, and they played super. We lost it in the first half, not at the end. Nothing went right for us in the first half."

Sophomore League Tryouts Get Under Way On Monday

Luis Salinas, vice commissioner of Teenage League of the Midland Junior Baseball Association, reminded boys 13 and 14 that Sophomore League tryouts begin this week.

SWC BASEBALL—Texas, Aggies Triumph

By The Associated Press

Texas A&M edged Rice 4-3 and Texas beat TCU 5-2 Friday to keep the Longhorns' one-game Southwest Conference lead intact.

Both the frontrunners needed three-run homers Friday to overcome their opponents.

Rice led 2-0 in the third inning at College Station when A&M's Jim Bratsen powered Bruce Henley's pitch 380 feet over the fence.

Texas was in more desperate straits, trailing 2-0 going into the ninth inning. Four singles tied the score with one out for the Longhorns before Terry Pyka's three-run homer clinched the victory.

In games involving second division SWC teams, Arkansas pounded out 15 hits to beat Texas Tech 9-3, and Mike Holzman's two-out, two-run triple helped push Houston over SMU 11-9.

Andrews 20-Stroke Victor In Regional Golf Tourney

ANDREWS — The Andrews Mustangs fired a 294 Friday to win the Class AAAA Regional Golf championship by 20 strokes over runnerup Sweetwater to gain the state tourney in Austin in May.

Playing on the Andrews Country Club course, the Ponies set a single round two-day record with a total of 587 compared to Sweetwater's 607. In third place was Levelland with a 609.

Tulia won the Class AA crown, beating Alpine by seven strokes on the same course.

David Longstreet and teammate Bill Gully tied for medalist honors, with Longstreet winning a sudden-death playoff on the second hole. Tim Dozier also of Andrews, finished just one stroke behind Longstreet and Gully.

Coach Dub Warden was highly pleased with his team's performance.

Tulia had a 621 total while Alpine beat McCamey by seven strokes for runnerup honors.

Doug Adams of McCamey carded a two-day total of 152 while Reagan County, which finished seventh with a 168, was led by Ken Stout with a 64.

New Post Office To Open For Business April 29

Postmaster David E. Holster has announced that the new Post Office, located at 100 E. Wall St., will open for business at 8 a.m. Monday April 29.

The opening of the building will allow a consolidation of the services now offered by three of the present postal buildings: the Main Post Office at 114 N. Loraine St. the Annex at 401 S. Colorado St. and the Tall City Station at 301 S. Main St. Each of these postal facilities will be closed by April 29 except for the annex, which will remain open for one more week.

Planning To Start For Senior Party

Parents of graduating seniors at Midland and Lee high schools are asked to meet at 2:30 p.m. today at Lee Youth Center.

Planning will start at that time for the annual all-night party for seniors. Past chairmen of the event will be on hand to assist with the planning house the customer services, accounting, personnel, supply and mail processing sections of sixty-five West Texas post offices," Holster added. A huge letter sorting machine is presently being installed in the new building by the Burroughs Co. The machine is capable of sorting several thousand letters per hour and will require 12 clerks to operate it.

Three courtesy mailboxes will be located on the Wall Street side of the building. The main entrance to the building will also be on the northside, where ample off-street parking is available.

Ringing The Bell

With BOB TIEUEL

The Black Experience: A Dream Crushed? From The Christian Call, February 1964: Bob Tieuel Jr. pastor of historic Brown Chapel Christian Methodist Episcopal Church of San Angelo for the last two years and director of public relations of his denomination for the eighth Episcopal district, which includes the states of Texas and Kentucky, will devote the rest of his life to leading a "Black Methodist Union Movement" it was learned by the Associated Negro Press.

"While I shall remain a loyal and proud member of the C.M.E. Church or until we get married to other or others of the Black Methodist church, every spare minute that I can find, sleep or awake, will be devoted to creating a public climate or sentiment among the grass roots of the four main Black Methodist bodies in this country for organic union," Tieuel said.

It was on May 6, 1936 (almost 40 years ago) that the late Bishop Reverdy C. Ransom declared: "Where we are weak, all of us together might be strong. It is more, then, than an ecclesiastical and-or religious question. It lies at the very roots of the economic, political, and social welfare of the millions of our people. If we cannot achieve denominational union, the day of united action, along business, commercial, civic, and political lines seem far distant."

On May 8-19, 1974, one of the major black Methodist bodies (C.M.E.) will observe its 107th birthday with a General Conference to be held in Philadelphia, with headquarters at the Holiday Inn (Cityline Avenue). We repeat as we did in this column in 1964: "While organic union of the main black Methodist bodies in the world today may not come in my lifetime, even the most cynical opponents of union agree that we can begin our cooperative efforts in many fields now... or render our witness to the world even less effective than it is of this moment."

And as thousands of black Methodists and visitors make preparations to journey to Philadelphia for what could be one of the most historic sessions in C.M.E. history, our thanks to Mrs. Helen P. Sykes, a bell-ringer of Oklahoma City for this note taken from her annual conference report of the California conference of Oct. 9-13, 1946, in Pasadena: "Rev. Bob Tieuel Jr. of Oklahoma was elected conference reporter and director of public relations." It doesn't seem like that was 28 years ago. How time flies!

"An Evening With Bill Cosby" highlighted the third annual Big Weekend at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview recently. The affair was sponsored by the Baptist Student Foundation.

Great quotes: "In my own experience, God is the Spirit of loving instead of either killing or indifference, of sacrifice for people instead of exploiting them, of justice in the place of persecution or any other kind of evil... He is neither white nor black... a hating creature who runs torture chambers." Father Malcolm Boyd, author of "Are You Running With Me, Jesus?"

An Oklahoma University professor "concludes... oil reserves are adequate for the foreseeable future, the shortage is due to lack of refining capacity and failure even to operate at full capacity, and a planned effort to drive up the price of gasoline to the consumer, to authorize the Alaskan pipeline and to make it easier to get permits for offshore drilling. These were exactly our conclusions when the shortage first was announced."

Ms. Ethel Lots Payne, associate editor for the Sengstacke (black-oriented) newspaper chain is considered the dean of black Capitol Hill correspondents. She also is featured on CBS television's "Spectrum," a commentary segment of the morning news. Some condemn her for championing the causes of the black man at the expense of "objectivity" — one of journalism's touted canons that gives no room for a reporter's emotions or politics. Nonetheless, Ethel feels personal detachment from news stories is a luxury black journalists cannot afford.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

The Commissioners Court is comprised of the four County Commissioners and the County Judge, who acts as chairman. Each Commissioner resides in and is elected by voters of his own precinct for a term of four years. There are no set qualifications for this office.

SALARY: The annual salary of each commissioner is $8,750.66 plus $100.00 per month for car expenses, total $9,950.66 per year; additional allotments are made for out-of-county trips. Their salaries are dependent on the official census. When Midland County's population passed 50,000 in 1960, commissioners received a raise.

MEETINGS: The Commissioners Court meets on the second and fourth Mondays of each month. Meetings are open to the public, and the league urges public spirited citizens to attend. Minutes of the meetings are taken by the County Clerk and are on file in that office, available to the public.

FUNCTIONS: As authorized by the Texas Constitution and the laws of the State, this Court has the power to:

1. Lay out and establish public roads, provide right-of-ways for the state department, institute condemnation proceedings.
2. Appoint election judges, provide for election places and booths, and canvass election returns.
3. Divide the county into election precincts.
4. Appropriate and spend money for and in behalf of public health and sanitation.
5. Provide for the burial of paupers.
6. Provide for the support of paupers, idiots and lunatics.
7. Provide hospitals, care for the indigent, parks, poorhouses, lunatics, ferries, etc.
8. Award all contracts for the building of county roads, bridges, and culverts.
9. Serve as equalization board for tax assessments.
10. Call elections to incorporate other legal entities, such as water districts, drainage and port districts.
11. Call elections to incorporate municipalities.
12. Call elections for bond issues.
13. Provide county officials with necessary office space, supplies and equipment.
14. Authorize the appointment of deputies, assistants and clerks, when requested by officers of the county, and set the amount of compensation to be paid.
15. Levy and collect taxes within limits prescribed by law.
16. Fill vacancies of elected officials whose terms have not expired.
17. Adopt and approve the county budget.
18. Approve and pay all county accounts, provide for and administer county accounts.
19. Serve as county library commissioners.

What are your qualifications for the office which you are seeking?

I have lived in Midland all of my life. Graduated from Midland High School, attended Odessa and Midland Colleges and Hardin Simmons University.

I have been employed for oil companies and the County Attorney's office and hold a Real Estate Salesman's license.

Having lived on a ranch before moving into town, I am familiar and concerned with the problems of both County and City.

I believe that this important office should be run competently and efficiently to best serve the interest of all persons.

Name: Madge B. Wallis Democrat

Address: 1909 Western Dr.

Occupation: Deputy District Clerk

What are your qualifications for the office which you are seeking?

Working in the District Clerk's office, I am familiar with the following:

1. Filing of all Civil, Domestic Relations, and Criminal suits
2. Issuing of all necessary papers required in connection with each of these suits
3. Recording of all the Minutes of each Court
4. Preparing schedules of Court Procedure setting Jury cases
5. Preparing list of Jurors to be summoned

In addition, as a graduate of the University of Texas—Austin with a Bachelor of Arts Degree in English, I believe I am educationally equipped to handle the position of District Clerk.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER, Place 2

Name: Jay H. "Timber" Floyd, Jr. Republican

Address: P.O. Box 1852, Midland, Texas 79701

Occupation: Attorney at Law—Rancher—Oil Operator

1. Qualifications.

I was reared in and attended public schools in Midland, went to Texas Tech, graduated from the University of Texas, with a BA, attended South Texas College of Law, receiving a Juris Doctorate and passed the bar exam; entered the Armed Forces as a Judge Advocate. I am familiar with this area and its people. I am in a profession that causes me to be concerned with Midland's growth and well being.

2. What are your top priorities for Midland County?

I want to work with the County Commissioners in reducing the taxes and in receiving a better return for tax dollars. There are many facets of industry and commerce that we can promote in Midland to get new and better business, so that we can generate revenue and growth for the County. I will work for the benefit of Midland representing my precinct and all of Midland and not any individual or special interest group, and toward unbiasedly redistricting the County. I am studying the possibility of combining many city and county functions for a savings to the taxpayer.

Name: Ciro Sanchez Democrat

Address: 1510 North Weatherford, Midland, Texas

Occupation: Realtor and Insurance Agent

1. Qualifications.

My educational background is high school equivalent from Midland College.

I have been engaged in private business in Midland for the past 12 years and feel that I am qualified to make decisions regarding the fiscal affairs of the County.

My activities in civic and community functions, such as the Objectives for Midland, Midland Board of Adjustment and many others, have involved me in decision making aspects of our community life.

2. What are your top priorities for Midland County?

1. To maintain a fulltime office as your Commissioner.
2. Continue to work as I have in the past to bring new industry and growth to Midland County by cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations dedicated to this project.
3. As the area grows, I feel that we should inaugurate such things as trade schools and other training programs as the needs develop.
4. Improved relationships between County and all other governmental agencies and to further work for harmony on the Commissioners Court.

Name: Charles R. Welch Democrat

Address: P.O. Box 382, Midland

Occupation: County Commissioner; Water well servicing business; farming and ranching

1. Qualifications.

Five years as your County Commissioner, during which I have gained the experience and familiarity with the county's business which will enable me to do an even better job in a second full term. For thirty years, I have managed my own business in Midland and believe I understand how to operate our county government in an efficient and economical manner, while cooperating fully with other agencies and groups for the betterment of Midland County.

2. What are your top priorities for Midland County?

Better government at the least possible cost to taxpayers. We must maintain our excellent law enforcement, which has helped greatly to keep Midland a fine, clean place to live and rear our families. The county can do much to encourage new industry and to keep pace with new demands of our people created by the current growth and expansion of the great petroleum industry. We have been able to achieve many things while keeping taxes low, and I pledge to continue that policy. Our county government must receive full value for every dollar spent.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER, Place 4

Name: Preston Bridgewater, Jr. Democrat

Address: #5 Stutz Court

Occupation: President, Midland Savings Association

1. Qualifications.

I feel that my background well qualifies me to help guide the future of Midland County: 1938-1957: Lived in Midland County 1961: Graduated from T.C.U. 1962-1967: U.S. Air Force Pilot (Southeast Asia) 1968-1974: Assistant Treasurer, Industrial Foundation; City of Midland Housing Committee; Vice Chairman of Taxation Committee; National League of Insured Savings & Loans; Director, Midland Board of Realtors; United Fund Finance Committee; Chamber of Commerce; Aviation and Sports Committee; Deacon, First Presbyterian Church.

2. What are your top priorities for Midland County?

I don't think a candidate can sit down and list certain priorities for his county over the next four years because he doesn't know what economic circumstances may arise during that time; plus, he has to work with three other commissioners. If elected Commissioner of Precinct 4, I do promise that I will do everything in my power to help Midland and Midland County grow. Through growth and diversification of industries, we can spread the tax base. I will also strive to use sound judgment and make wise decisions for the benefit of my precinct and county.

School Of Advanced Real Estate Offered At Texas A&M University

The Texas Real Estate Research Center on the campus of Texas A&M University in College Station is offering the nation's first School of Advanced Real Estate studies, Bunnice Kent, president of the Midland Board of Realtors recently announced.

"The second year and the third years will give the student more in depth looks under the umbrella of current economic and governmental factors," Mrs. Kent said.

Enrollment is limited to the first 125 and applications are being accepted now. A complete brochure and application form are available from the center, Texas A&M University, College Station 77843. Information can be obtained from the local board of real estate he might consider. The first year, which begins on the A&M campus May 19, will focus on real estate investment decisions, environment and regulations and management.

Dr. Alvin Wooten, director of the center, described the program as very sophisticated, designed especially for the experienced real estate professional. A graduate of this plan will have the ability to analyze the success of any venture in office.

GNP First Quarter Decline Biggest Reported Since 1958

By STEPHEN H. MILLER — Economic statistics trail along behind those of a year earlier. The March figures came as least one New York City bank hind later events and aren't a reliable guide to where there were worries in the housing industry that interest rates sometimes even where it's might be climbing enough to threaten a construction pickup.

But anyone sampling the figures out of Washington this past week could at least be excused for thinking things aren't immediately too promising. The Commerce Department, for instance, reported that U.S. Gross National Product fell at an annual rate of 5.8 per cent in the first quarter of 1974. It was the first decline in the GNP in three years and the biggest since 1958.

The GNP is the total value of the country's production of goods and services. It's considered probably the best single indicator of the economy's health.

The first-quarter decline raised questions about whether or not the country would really be able to avoid a recession, as President Nixon has said it will.

Recession is generally defined as two straight quarters of declining GNP.

Commerce Department officials noted at the same time that first-quarter inflation had gone up at an annual rate of 10.8 per cent. That compared with an 8.8 per cent gain in the last quarter of 1973.

"Annual" rates are calculations of where a rate would stand at the end of a year if a trend within part of the year were to continue at an unchanged pace.

Government officials linked the GNP decline both to production problems caused by energy shortages and to a drop in home building, which has been hit by higher interest rates.

In a separate announcement, the Commerce Department said housing starts last month had fallen at a rate of 22 per cent.

Two Commercial Buildings, Home Top Weekly Permits

A new home and two commercial structures led the week's building activity as reflected in permits issued by the Midland Inspection Office.

Total permits issued was $141,169, bringing the year's total to $15,267,675. Total for the month is $1,011,549.

Charles W. Wallace received a permit for a $50,000 home at 1209 W. Pecan St.

New commercial permits went to Ross Kemp for an Olivetti typewriter sales and repair office at 309 N. Midkiff St., $20,000, and L. E. Waynick for a clinic at 2006 W. Cuthbert St., $18,000.

Other permits were issued for home repairs at 2307 Thomas St., $1,500; 3800 Avondale St., $1,500; Avondale St., $1,245; 3700 Avondale St., $1,500; 3400 Tanner St., $1,500; 3306 Tanner St., $1,500; and 3410 Tanner St., $1,500. State Gas Supply Only Slightly Less HOUSTON (AP) — The American Automobile Association says it statewide survey shows that gasoline supplies in Texas are only slightly lower than those of a week ago.

The AAA said the survey Friday showed 6 per cent of the stations were out of gasoline compared to 5 per cent last week and 10 per cent two weeks ago.

The association said the percentage of Houston stations out of fuel Friday was the lowest it has been all year.

"Only about two per cent are out of fuel in Houston now compared to eight per cent last week," an AAA spokesman said.

In the state generally, the spokesman said, about a third of the stations are operating on a quota basis, limiting the amount of gas they sell each day. He said 60 per cent were using a quota in Houston.

"The outlook for next week is generally good and should remain stable," the AAA spokesman said.

The price of gasoline statewide averaged 49.1 cents per gallon for regular brand and 52.8 for premium, the AAA said.

John Evett

John Evett Named Regional Salesman

John Evett of Odessa, salesman for Brown & Bigelow, has been named South Central Region salesman of the year by the company.

Evett joined the firm, which sells calendars, playing cards and advertising specialties, in October 1967. His district includes Midland and he was earlier named district man of the year.

The South Central Region includes Kansas City, Mo., Houston, El Paso and Memphis, Tenn.

While Family Away, White Rats Multiply

WILLINGBORO, N.J. (AP) — William Porter and his family went to Florida for a vacation. They left their two pet rats at home.

Now there are more than 300 white rats in the two-story colonial-style home, and neighbors are complaining that the rats are invading their property.

Burlington County health authorities investigated and decided to exterminate the rats at the township's expense.

FIXING UP — To help celebrate Realtor Week, today through Saturday, members of the Midland Board of Realtors recently painted and repaired a local widow's house. CHICAGO — Borden Inc. has been recognized by the National Safety Council for its exemplary performance in on-the-job safety.

In selecting Borden Inc. for a third place award in its fluid milk and ice cream, Division V annual on-the-job safety contest, the council honors the lowest disabling injury frequency rates achieved by NSC member organizations during 1973.

Chamber's SITCA Committee Plans May 3-5 City Clean-Up

Midland's annual spring clean-up campaign will be conducted May 3-5, under the sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce SITCA (Student Involvement Through Community Action) Committee.

A number of community organizations and several public schools have volunteered to clean-up vacant lots in the city during the campaign.

Any group which desires to participate is asked to call the chamber office to obtain an area assignment.

Since it is part of the community's improvement effort, the 50 member SITCA Committee will tackle the task of clean Scharbauer Drive.

"A number of organizations already have agreed to participate in the campaign," noted Bobbie Salgado, chairman of the SITCA beautification committee. "So far as possible, we are assigning areas nearby, particularly for the numerous elementary and junior high school classes and organizations which have agreed to help," added the chairman.

This is the third year for SITCA to sponsor a citywide clean-up effort. The student-directed campaigns have won statewide awards from the Governor's Beautify Texas Council.

"We are proud of Midland and want to make it even more attractive," Miss Salgado stated. "Through our efforts, and the cooperation of many other citizens, we hope to demonstrate that our city can be cleaned up. We hope that individual homeowners will assist by cleaning their alleys and yards during this time. Together, we can really make Midland the cleanest city in America," she concluded.

Accepting the award on behalf of Borden Inc., employees was J. D. McCarty, general manager.

Borden Inc. in Midland is located at 2405 W. Missouri St.

Duo Harpists To Present Concert Here Friday Night

Duo harpists Longstreth and Escosa will appear in Midland Friday night to present the fifth and final program of Midland Community Concerts Association's current season.

The 8:15 p.m. recital in Midland High School auditorium will be open to members of the MCCA and their guests only. No single tickets will be available for the event.

Since their initial concert appearances as a harp team in 1964, Joe Longstreth and John Escosa have continually delighted audiences with the variety of their musical presentations and the vigor and strength of their performances.

Longstreth and Escosa were introduced to the harp at Wainwright Music Camp in Indiana, but they did not meet and collaborate until after both were successful solo artists. Upon chance introduction, they decided to collaborate in the recording of an album of traditional and original Christmas carols which was highly successful, and the subsequent demand for personal appearances created new stars in the concert field.

Both men are Indiana natives. Both have wide and varied background in all fields of musical experience in the United States and Europe, and both have studied at some of the finest schools of musical training — Escosa at the Juilliard School in New York,

Midland Girl In Piano Contest

FORT WORTH — Midlander Lyn Daniels will be among the 68 contestants in the ninth annual Texas Girls Choir piano and Longstreth at the Conservatorio di Santa Cecilia in Rome.

In recent seasons, Longstreth and Escosa have presented nearly 400 concerts on tours which have taken them to all but three states of the continental United States and to every province of Canada. "Those who have heard the pair know there is nothing new to say. That they are the best has been established long since," wrote one critic.

Longstreth pursued his education at Princeton University and the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art, London, and went on to study in Paris and the Conservatorio di Santa Cecilia, Rome. During World War II he was a major with the United States Army Air Force, flying B29's. Upon his return from Europe, he appeared on Broadway; played in some of the earliest Studio One TV productions and wrote highly acclaimed opera libretti. He is also a successful author of children's books.

Escosa studied at the Juilliard and chamber music groups. He was a student of the great Carlos Salzedo. In Fort Wayne, Ind., he was harpist and soloist with the Philharmonic Orchestra, the Symphonette, Harps" was premiered at a winning play, "Glass Menagerie" and he has appeared in Recital Hall concert several years ago.

Escosa toured with the original road company of Tennessee Williams' Pulitzer prize-winning play, "Glass Menagerie" and he has appeared in Recital Hall concert several years ago.

The keyboard contest, to be staged in the Texas Girls Choir's new quarters at 4449 Camp Bowie Blvd., has attracted girls from 10 to 15 years of age from throughout Texas as well as from Oklahoma and New Mexico.

The competition schedule calls for preliminary auditions to take place from 7 to 10 p.m. Friday, and from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. on Saturday. Finalists in the contest will perform beginning at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. All competition events will be open to the public at no charge.

Winner of the contest will receive a $250 cash award and a trophy, plus the opportunity to appear as guest pianist with the Texas Girls Choir in its May 4 concert in Tarrant County Convention Center theater. Awards of $100 and trophy and $50 and trophy will go to second and third place winners respectively. Fourth place winners will receive $25 and a ribbon.

Chairman of judges for the upcoming event, is Mrs. T. Smith McCorkle, a former member of the Texas Christian University piano faculty and well-known in North Texas music circles. Other members of the panel of judges are Dr. Isabel Sciotti, nationally-known concert pianist and teacher, and Harris Cavender and Lee Henrichs, both teachers of piano in Fort Worth.

ABILENE — Seventy-four attractive and points of interest from almost as many cities throughout West Texas are featured in the new "Wonderful West Texas" Fun and Adventure Map just released by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The main objective of the Fun and Adventure Map project is to sell West Texas as a vacation region within itself. The publication does this by showing the prospective visitor that there are points of interest and things to do and see in abundance throughout West Texas, and that a route can be planned to hold driving time and distance to a minimum and, at the same time, include more than enough attractions to guarantee an interesting and most enjoyable vacation or weekend outing.

The full color map, which locates each attraction on a specially prepared highway map, is the only tourist-oriented publication dedicated to the 132 counties of West Texas, said Burvin Hines of Arlington, chairman of the WTCC Tourist and Travel Development Committee, "and it will serve as the foundation of the organization's efforts to assist in increasing visitor traffic to West Texas."

Hines, formerly of Midland, went on to say "the publication will enable the WTCC to answer many inquiries developed as a result of the state's national advertising program and provide a vehicle enabling prospective visitors to be reached with areawide information on a volume basis, as well as uniting cities and attractions throughout the region in an all-out effort to increase the share West Texas receives of the potential visitor dollar."

The Fun and Adventure Map project entails a total program of distribution including the Texas Highway Department Information Centers, travel shows, travel bureaus of major oil companies, by the participants and by use of direct mailings. The map is free to the traveling public.

More than 100,000 maps were printed. The publication is divided into three main areas of interest, including attractions and areas of interest, museums and colleges and universities. "It is our thinking that many families on vacation will include young people considering where they will go to continue their education and, while in West Texas, many will have the opportunity to visit one or more of our 42 fine colleges, universities and technical schools," Hines said.

Collector Says Two Paintings Genuine

ODENSE, Denmark (AP) — A 74-year-old art collector says he is confident that two paintings he bought at an auction for $300 last year are genuine works of the Italian master Rafael and could be worth millions. Niels Lingeskov Hansen, a manufacturer of machine tools, said the two paintings, part of a medieval altar piece, bear Rafael's signature and are dated 1517.

Mogens Larsen, curator and church art specialist of Denmark's national museum, said he discovered the signature while cleaning and repairing the damaged painting for Hansen, but added that he can't confirm its authenticity. "Arne Bruun Rasmussen, whose internationally known Copenhagen auction firm sold the painting to Hansen, said he is certain the painting is not an original Rafael.

NBC, CBS Lop 15 Shows

NEW YORK (AP) — The NBC and CBS television networks say 15 of their current evening series won't return next fall. They'll have a total of 19 new series ready for the start of the 1974-75 season in September.

The two networks announced the new lineups Friday. ABC said it'll make public its fall tv schedule late Monday or Tuesday.

Among the better-known NBC shows getting the ax were the "Dean Martin Comedy Hour," begun in 1965, and the three-season "Flip Wilson Show," whose star leaves the weekly grind at his own request.

CBS' "Here's Lucy" also was folded after six seasons at the request of its star, Lucille Ball. The top-rated "Sonny and Cher" show, a three-season veteran, was canceled by CBS when the marriage of the program's two stars broke up last February.

Overall, NBC said it was cancelling 10 series and starting the fall with 12 new shows with a wide range of themes. Most avoid violence as a theme.

CBS said it was folding five series and returning with seven new ones — four situation comedies and three dramatic series.

Other programs canceled by CBS Friday were "Dirty Sally," "The New Dick Van Dyke Show" and "Tuesday Night Movies," which includes the "Shaft" and "Hawkins" shows as well as made-for-tv movies.

NBC's eight other casualties were "The Magician," "Tuesday Mystery Movie," "Chase," "Wednesday Night at the Movies," "Music Country U.S.A.," "The Girl with Something Extra," "The Brian Keith Show" and "Lotsa Luck."

NBC also said it was canceling the monthly "Hec Ramsey" segment of its "Sunday Mystery Movie" series, but that the shows' three other segments — "Columbo," "McCloud" and "McMillan and Wife" — would return.

Carmen Dragon To Be On Podium For 'Pops Night'

LUBBOCK — Famous conductor, composer, arranger and radio-tv personality Carmen Dragon will be on the podium for the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra's annual "Pops Night" concert here Tuesday.

Appearing with Dragon and LSO instrumentalists in the 8 p.m. season-closing concert will be vocalist William Hartwell, a member of the Texas Tech University faculty.

Hartwell teaches voice privately as well as directing the Tech Tech University Singers and the Tech Stage Chorus. In the Tuesday night concert, he will be heard in "Oh What a Beautiful Morning" and "Granada."

Carmen Dragon's accomplishments extend into all areas of music. In the recording field, he has released 57 best-selling albums featuring famed Dragon arrangements performed by the Hollywood Bowl, orchestra, the Royal Philharmonic and Capitol Symphony Orchestra. A Christmas show with the Glendale Symphony won him tv's highest award, the "Emmy." Dragon has composed and conducted no less than 30 motion picture scores and has to his credit in this area an Academy Award for his arrangements and adaptations of Jerome Kern's music in the film, "Cover Girl." Even with all these activities, Dragon still finds time for composing. His composition of "I Am An American" has become a "must" with orchestras, choruses and bands on patriotic occasions.

Tickets for "Pops Night" are priced at $6, $5, $4, $3 and $2, and will be available at the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium box office beginning today.

'Of Mice And Men' Opens Here Friday

"Of Mice and Men" John Steinbeck's powerful drama, he adds, and those who may see the play in the late 1930s, have seen it on Broadway, or in a later production elsewhere, will almost certainly want to see it again.

For the current younger generation, the drama is a "must" experience. MCT believes, and therefore is making special student price concessions for performances on May 2 and 5. Individual student tickets for these performances will be $1. In addition, groups of students may attend any performance of the play for $1 apiece, provided seat reservations are made as a sponsored group. It was announced.

The theater box office opens to the public Monday morning to accept seat reservations for all performances of the play through May 11. The box office telephone number is 682-2544.

"Of Mice and Men" was originally a short novel which Steinbeck turned into a play under the guidance of famed playwright George S. Kaufman. It was a sensation when it opened on Broadway in 1937, winning a Drama Critics' Circle Award as the season's best drama by an American author. Featured in the original cast were Wallace Ford, Broderick Crawford, Claire Luce and Will Geer. Ultimately it was made into a highly successful motion picture, with Burgess Meredith and Lon Chaney Jr. in the pivotal roles of George and Lennie.

In MCT's version, Glen Thomason and Russell Buonasera are in the roles of George and Lennie, supported by a cast made up of Bill Seward, Bob Mayberry, Bob Cooke, Dan Macklem, Susie West, Rick Etheridge and Larry Wilson. MCT's Art Cole has staged and directed the production.

Even after almost 40 years, "of Mice and Men" remains as fresh, startling and poignant as ever. Cole says. It is safe to assume that not many area theater-goers had opportunity to

'Private Lives' Offers No Message, Only Fun

By ROGER SOUTHALL
Reporter-Telegram Staff

ODESSA — "Private Lives" is a play that offers no messages, only fun.

As it is currently being done at Odessa's Permian Playhouse, this venerable Noel Coward comedy is big-as-life and twice as broad — a real romp.

But would you want it any other way? After all, "Private Lives" was nothing more than a witty and urbane (and, for then, very sophisticated) piece of hokum when it made its appearance back in 1930. Why take it up tenderly as a kind of museum piece, to be handled with subtlety and deference, in 1974? Far better, it seems to me, to play it broadly and in the style of its original presentation!

Permian Playhouse associate director James Walters has achieved an excellent production that would appear to be the sum of a number of excellent parts: A very able cast, careful and painstaking attention to small details which contribute vitally to the overall effect and — perhaps most important — good timing and evenness of pace that keep the play moving along even in its duller moments. (And yes, it DOES have its dull moments.)

I like Walters' and costumer Bodine Johnson's costumes for the show which are suggestive of the play's era rather than being distinctly 1930-tacky. And Walters' sets for the show are attractive, although neither as elaborate nor as French (the play is set on the French Riviera and in Paris) in feeling as I might wish. Probably that ever-present old community theater spectre, the limited budget, had a lot to do with this, however.

But of course what really makes a play are the performers, and Walters' cast for "Private Lives" is jim-dandy. Three of the principals, Larry Carter, Sandra Magill and Diane Toomey, have been seen at Permian Playhouse in past productions; the fourth, Mike McLaren, is filling his first role at PPH, although he has had parts in Midland Community Theatre and University of Dallas productions.

Major Responsibilities

Carter and Mrs. Magill have the largest responsibilities in "Private Lives," as Elyot Chase and Amanda Fyrrne. Miss Toomey and McLaren are in the smaller roles of Sibil Chase and Victor Fyrrne, the neglected spouses of the first-mentioned pair.

Elyot and Amanda were previously married to each other. Now divorced, each turns up at the same time and the same hotel on the Riviera with a new marriage partner. With Elyot and Amanda, it's a case of "I hate you but I love you," and the pair finds that while they cannot stay together, neither can they stay apart. They escape to Paris, leaving newly-acquired mates behind, and the final two acts of the play are devoted to the couple's alternate battling and billing-and-cooing. The deserted mates ultimately catch up with the culprits and the plot thickens, as the saying goes.

Well-Matched Pair

Carter and Mrs. Magill are a well-matched pair. Mrs. Magill plays Amanda for all the part is worth (which is considerable), providing a fine, full-bodied characterization of the outrageously dramatic Amanda. There are times when she looks and sounds for all the world like a young Tallulah. Carter has less opportunity for extravagant characterization in his role but he is good, very good, and some of his small bits of stage business are true gems.

The second act builds on the couple's alternate bickering and loving to the climax of the pitched battle between them, and this scene certainly is a high point of the evening. It also is a masterpiece of good timing and good acting by both.

Miss Toomey, as Sibil, the pretty blond wife of Elyot, provides an engaging characterization of a fluffy young thing with a whim of iron. She is an accomplished comedienne. McLaren has a rather more thankless role as the stodgy Victor, but he carries it off well. All four of the principals are absolutely fine in the third act scene where they all sit down in civilized English fashion for coffee. Naturally, Amanda and Elyot have the best opportunity for comedy in that scene — and they provide comedy a-plenty. The play's final moments center on Sibil and Victor, engaged in a squabble of their own, while Elyot and Amanda, once more the tender, loving couple, slip out the door unnoticed.

The fifth member of the "Private Lives" cast is Chantal Lavallois, a senior exchange student from France at Permian High School, as the maid who surveys the carnage with Gallic aplomb.

"Private Lives" is Permian Playhouse's contribution to the Odessa April Fair, the current arts festival here, and will have performances each week end through May 4. Seat reservations may be made through the theater box office, 362-2329.

Lame Woman Tries To Ruin Mona Lisa

TOKYO (AP) — A handicapped young woman sprayed red paint in the direction of the Mona Lisa on Saturday, but the 470-year-old Italian masterpiece was behind a glass shield and was not damaged.

"Why don't you let handicapped people in?" the woman shouted as she sprayed paint from about six feet in front of the painting. She was immediately arrested, police said.

Police said splashes of paint hit the bullet-proof protective glass case protecting the Mona Lisa. The painting by Leonardo da Vinci is here on loan from the Louvre in Paris.

The woman had a lame right leg, officials said, and apparently was protesting the museum's policy of not admitting the seriously handicapped to the exhibition.

Officials said after the incident that they would slow the flow of visitors as a security precaution and set aside May 10 as a day for the handicapped to see the exhibit.

Friends Of Library Annual Meeting Set Next Sunday

The Friends of the Library organization will hold its annual meeting next Sunday afternoon in the Midland County Public Library.

Reports will be presented and new officers for the volunteer support organization will be elected.

Featured speaker will be John Barnett of Roswell, N.M. Barnett, a geologist and former Midland resident, will present an illustrated lecture on the Big Bend National Park.

Barnett, a former National Parks Service employe, has published a series of books on the national parks which are sold at the various park headquarters.

Lester Flatt To Play At Booster Club Show

Lester Flatt and the Nashville Grass are headliners in the Lester Flatt country and gospel music festival to be presented at Saturday in Odessa's Ector County Coliseum.

The Midland High School Choir Booster Club is sponsoring the show which also will feature the Bluegrass Alliance, Joe Bass and the Double Mountain Boys and Little Jimmy Henley.

There will two performances of the family show, at 3 and 8 p.m. Saturday. One ticket will entitle the holder to see both performances, it was announced.

Adult tickets are $4 purchased in advance, and will be $4.50 at the coliseum doors on performance day. Tickets for children 6 to 12 are $2. Preschoolers will be admitted free of charge.

Proceeds from the show will be used by the choir boosters organization to underwrite expenses of a spring trip by the MHS choir.

One of the handful of truly great showmen on today's country music scene is Lester Flatt. Born in Overton County, Tenn., in the vast Cumberland Mountain Plateau, Flatt played his first engagements in that area, perfecting the musical style that has become his trademark.

Recording exclusively on the RCA Victor label, Flatt has a legion of followers and displays a remarkable ability to draw crowds wherever he and the Nashville Grass perform. Onstage, the group works as a tightly-knit vocal combination. Among the highlight numbers of the Lester Flatt show at WSM's "Grand Ole Opry" at Nashville and in personal appearances throughout the country are "The Ballad of Jed Clampett," "The Foggy Mountain Breakdown," "Father's Table Grace" and the music from the "Bonnie and Clyde" sound track.

Art Lecture Today

Midland Arts Association will present the final art lecture-demonstration of its current year this afternoon.

Suzanne Klotz of San Angelo will be the guest speaker at the 2:30 p.m. event in Lancaster House of the Museum of Southwest, 1705 W. Indiana St.

Today's gathering also will open MAA's fourth monthly art exhibition in the upstairs gallery of Lancaster House. Works by MAA members Stan Jacobs, Jo Casto, Floyd Neill Jr., Lula Belle Klingler and Thomas Lancaster will be featured in the show, which will hang through May.

Miss Klotz is a member of the art faculty of Angelo State University, where she teaches courses in design, drawing, sculpture and painting, along with art history and introductory art courses.

Miss Klotz has exhibited her paintings and graphics in many area and regional competitions,

'SUFFERS LIVING HELL' Navy Doctors Fail To Diagnose Cancer In Florida Sailor

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Timothy Nunley, a 19-year-old sailor, is fighting for his life against cancer that Navy doctors failed to diagnose despite his repeated pleas for help. "He has suffered living hell," said his mother, Mrs. Robert Nunley of Jacksonville. "And it wouldn't have been necessary if the Navy doctors had listened to him when he told them he was sick."

A Navy spokesman issued a statement saying Navy doctors failed to diagnose the disease and that "appropriate disciplinary and corrective action has been taken."

Lt. Cmdr. Harold Torrance, a Navy public information officer, said "the illness which he has can be difficult to diagnose." He said Nunley has received the best possible medical care since the diagnosis and his progress was most encouraging.

Mrs. Nunley said Navy doctors described the cancer as a variety occurring only in men, starting in infancy and not recognizable until maturity.

She said a nonmalignant tumor was removed from her son's breast at age 13. Another appeared on the other breast a few years later, but a private doctor advised against removing it.

Nunley passed a Navy induction physical last September and was sent to boot camp in Orlando. Nunley reported on sick call while there, his mother said.

"Other lumps began to appear," she said. "There was one on a testicle, then another on his abdomen."

He went to other doctors at Mayport Naval Station near Jacksonville when home on leave and to doctors at Great Lakes Naval Station near Chicago after being assigned there.

"He had lost 40 pounds, had a three-inch mass sticking out from his abdomen, his vision was blurred and he couldn't eat," Mrs. Nunley said. "But the doctor at Great Lakes told him there was nothing wrong with him except in his head and warned 'don't come back here.'"

Mrs. Nunley said she then complained in a letter to the Navy. On Jan. 11, the Navy ordered a thorough examination for Seaman Appren. Nunley at Great Lakes.

"Doctors then told us he had terminal cancer, but if they had caught it in time, he could have had a long, healthy life," Mrs. Nunley said. "They gave him two weeks to live."

But she said treatments at Jacksonville kept him alive for the last 3½ months and X-rays show the cancer getting smaller.

"I'm going to fool them all," Nunley said Friday. "I'm going to beat it."
