Two SLA Messages Air Threats

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Two messages purporting to be from the Symbionese Liberation Army and threatening to execute five California police officers for any SLA member slain were received today by a Sacramento newspaper.

A tape recording and printed message, received in the mail by the Sacramento Bee, differed in style from the terrorist SLA which claims responsibility for the Feb. 4 kidnapping of newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst.

Neither the tape nor the written message made any reference to Miss Hearst. The note carried the symbol of the SLA, a seven-headed cobra.

The brown manila package contained nothing that might authenticate the messages, executives for the newspaper said.

New York Blast Injures 75

ROCKED BY GAS EXPLOSION—Debris and broken glass litter the street after a gas explosion and fire rocked a 26-story commercial building at 312 E. 46th St., not far from the United Nations in New York City. LATE NEWS FLASHES

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—U.S. District Court Judge Miles Lord today denied a request to stay his order which closed the Reserve Mining Co. taconite plant at Silver Bay.

TEL AVIV (AP)—Israel's ruling Labor party today named Yitzhak Rabin, former chief of staff and ambassador to Washington, to replace Premier Golda Meir and try to form a new government, party officials announced.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Common Cause, a public citizens lobby group, said today it supports the establishment of a Federal Oil and Gas Corp. as a plan to regulate fuel prices.

Accumulated Natural Gas Given Blame

NEW YORK (AP)—An explosion attributed to gas leaking in a commercial building rocked the East Side of Manhattan near the United Nations today and injured at least 75 persons in the neighborhood.

The blast damaged four nearby diplomatic missions — of Nepal, Indonesia, Burundi and Laos — and shattered the windows of hundreds of sleeping residents for blocks around.

The 6:58 a.m. explosion sent 75 persons to hospitals. In addition, 11 policemen were hurt in rescue and search operations, according to police and hospital spokesmen.

Anonymous Phone Call While firemen worked in the building, an anonymous caller telephoned police and said a bomb was set to go off in the building.

Fire Commissioner John O'Hagan cleared his men out as a precaution.

The blast ripped the 26-story commercial structure and touched off a fire. But the injured persons were neighboring residents, principally the dazed occupants of Envoy Towers, a luxury apartment house adjoining the blast site.

O'Hagan said there were three possible causes of the blast — gas, inflammables or explosives — but told newsmen: "Evidence points to natural gas as the cause of the explosion."

He said a number of persons said they had smelled gas before the blast, but evidently no complaint was made.

He said there appeared to be no structural damage to the building. (See BLAST Page 2A)

Syrian Artillery Bombards Israeli Antiaircraft Bases

By The Associated Press

Artillery fire pounded strategic Mt. Hermon today and fighting erupted along the entire Golan Heights front. The Syrian command reported it was hitting Israeli antiaircraft missile bases that were "moved up to forward positions last night."

The Syrians claimed their artillery and tanks had "inflicted heavy losses on enemy military installations, concentration points and antiaircraft missile bases."

Israel reported artillery fire against the Mt. Hermon peak, where Israeli forces have been fortifying a new position for the past 10 days, had resumed after a night lull.

A spokesman for Israel's military command denied a report by unofficial sources in Lebanon that Israeli soldiers had taken a Lebanese hilltop Sunday in the fight for control of the mountain. The sources had identified the hill as Shanar, on a southwest slope of the mountain.

The military command in Tel Aviv reported that in air activity Sunday, the Israeli air force had pounded Syrian emplacements six miles behind the front and drove off one Syrian air raider.

Egypt has refused to meet with Libya and Syria at a session of the People's Council of the Federation of Arab Republics, the Cairo newspaper Al-Akhar reported today.

No reason was given for the refusal of Egyptian members of the federation parliament to go to Libya for the meeting, but there was speculation that it was a protest against last Thursday's attack on the Military Technical Academy in Cairo. Egyptian officials believed the attack, in which 11 officers were killed, was the work of a group of officers.

Senate Debates No-Fault As Congress Reconvenes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is ready to debate a bill that would revolutionize the system under which automobile-accident victims are compensated.

The bill, to come up today, would assure that victims are paid for their losses regardless of who is at fault. It would require every car owner to buy insurance to protect himself and his family against losses arising from traffic accidents.

The no-fault bill heads the Senate agenda for the week as Congress returns from a 10-day recess.

The House, which is scheduled to vote on authorizing money for the Atomic Energy Commission and extending arms-control legislation, attention will be centered on committees.

The House Judiciary Committee is scheduled to decide Thursday whether to narrow the scope of its investigation aimed at determining whether President Nixon should be impeached.

The inquiry covers 66 areas ranging from impoundment of appropriated funds to Watergate.

Tornadoes, Heavy Rains Pound Texas, Skip City

Tornadoes inflicted damage and injuries in an awesome sweep from the Texas Panhandle through the north and northeast parts of the state, and near-cloudbursts left still other areas awash today.

In some of the nastiest weather yet of this spring season, the twisters slashed hardest at the Paris area in Northeast Texas, where half a dozen persons suffered injuries. Police said no one was hurt seriously. Seven homes were damaged.

Reports of still other twisters came from near Stratford in the Panhandle, 40 miles northwest of Abilene, southwest of Stephenville, north of Bedford, at Argyle, near Colleyville, at Carrollton; north of Quitman, near Willsboro, at Rockwell, in the Denton vicinity and southeast of Clarksville. There was no indication they caused harm.

As has become an annoying habit lately, Midland remained high and dry while neighboring areas were deluged with rain.

The National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal said no rain is in sight for the Tall City. Abilene reported 1.9 inches of rain Sunday and Baird, east of Abilene, had 5.2 inches. At least three unconfirmed tornadoes were spotted near Baird.

The greatest threat of tornadoes and severe thunderstorms Sunday was along a 140-mile-wide path from 35 miles southwest of San Angelo to south-central Oklahoma.

Heavy rains and some hail were reported around Snyder, which experienced high winds and two inches of rain. Blackwell had 1.3 inches.

Midland will be clear to partly cloudy through Tuesday, with cooler temperatures today and tonight and warmer readings Tuesday. High today is expected to be in the middle to upper 70s, with an overnight low in the middle 40s. High Tuesday will be in the lower 80s.

Winds are northwesterly 15 to 25 m.p.h. this afternoon, with some gusting expected. The winds will diminish tonight.

Midland's high Sunday was warm 88, and the low this morning was 55.

Court Lets Stand Memphis School Integration Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today declined to review the approval by lower federal courts of a school desegregation plan for Memphis, Tenn.

The justices, with Thurgood Marshall not participating, declined to consider an appeal contending the plan will result in 21,000 black pupils being assigned to completely segregated schools.

In other action today, the court:

—Let stand a lower court decision approving a fixed 20 percent quota for minority workers in a state building project in Boston.

—Agreed to review a lower court ruling finding a New Jersey anti-obscenity statute unconstitutional.

The Memphis desegregation plan was approved by the federal district court in Memphis and affirmed by the federal appeals court in Cincinnati.

The appeal was filed by a group of Memphis parents who contended the plan is inferior to an alternative plan drafted by Memphis school administrators that would allegedly achieve complete integration of all Memphis schools.

With a commanding and steadily increasing lead in returns from Sunday's election, Lopez claimed victory, and his chief opponent conceded.

"With emotion and gratitude I accept the mandate of the Colombian people," Lopez said in a statement read to newsmen. Official returns from 20 percent of the votes cast Sunday gave Lopez, an attorney and former foreign minister, 436,990 votes: Conservative candidate Alvaro Gomez Hurtado, 332,225; and Maria Eugenia Rojas de Moreno, daughter of ex-dictator Gustavo Rojas Pinilla, 69,850.

Two other candidates, Hernando Echeverri of the Communist-led Uvo coalition, and Christian Democrat Hermes Duarte, trailed far behind.

Lopez, the favorite in opinion polls, based his campaign on the country's 32 percent inflation rate. But recently he came out strongly against U.S. policy in Latin America.

'Atsa (Hic) Great Way (Hic) To Sholve Ener(Hic)gy Chrishis

By FRANK CAREY
WASHINGTON (AP) — A scientist urged the nation today to go on a novel alcohol-production binge—as a panacea not only for the energy crisis but also for “many other societal problems” including unemployment.

Physicist Peter Fong advocated creating a new $12-billion-a-year “alcohol fuel industry” that would be manned primarily by family folks on some 1.5 million small “alcohol farms” stretched across America.

The farms would be devoted to making into alcohol corn that Fong said could be raised on vast acreages of presently idle cropland.

Fong, from Emory University in Atlanta, Ga., said the new breed of alcohol producers might come from “the hard-core unemployed” in city slums.

He said such an industry could:

- Provide alcohol as a supplementary motor fuel “to meet the current gasoline shortage” and pave the way to making alcohol “the perennial motor fuel in the distant future.”

—At the same time solve such problems as “air pollution, water-pollution, unemployment, poverty and slum rehabilitation.”

He told about it in remarks prepared for the spring meeting of the American Physical Society.

Fong observed that “ancient man made liquor before he could write” and “the technology is so simple that even an illiterate can handle it.”

He said the proposed rustic army of alcohol makers could turn out “an amount of fuel equivalent to that from the annual crude oil import from the Arab nations . . . The back of the energy crisis can thus be broken.”

“With an abundant supply of alcohol available, the only problem left is to prevent ourselves from drifting into becoming a nation of drunkards. But this seems to be the least of all evils,” he said.

Fong gave these further details:

—The federal government could prime the alcohol industry pump with a $1 billion to $1.5 billion subsidy.

—The idea, for the immediate future at least, would be to produce enough alcohol so that motor fuel would consist of a blend of 20 per cent alcohol and 80 per cent gasoline, thus extending the gasoline supply immediately.

—The alcohol makers would get 65 cents a gallon wholesale for their product, with the blended fuel costing about $1 a gallon retail. However, operators of “alcohol cars” wouldn't need antipollution devices.

—The venture would require doubling the nation's annual corn acreage. But he said there's more than enough idle cropland available.

—Leftovers from corn fermentation could be used as animal feed for meat production and “thus lower the price of feed and lead to a more abundant production of meat with a reduced price.”

—The “alcohol farms” could be fertilized with the liquid effluent from sewage systems, which is “now dumped into the surface water system and causing serious water pollution.”

Fong claimed that “once the hard-core unemployed is resettled on the alcohol farm, many other city problems and a large part of the current societal problems besides unemployment and poverty can be solved more naturally: crime, welfare, urban deterioration, social tension and so on all the way to school busing.”

Following a policy speech last Thursday, in which Sadat said Egypt would diversify its weapons sources, the president was quoted by the Times as saying, “I assure you we are already in action.”

He declined to say what country discussions or deals are under way.

In Washington, officials of the State Department said the United States can be expected to start a major economic aid program with Egypt in coming months but indicated there are no plans to supply Egypt with arms.

Both Israeli and Syrian air forces were reported in action Sunday.

Kidnaped Banker Quiet About Case

HALLANDALE, Fla. (AP) — Bank official Albert Dantzier says he was able to offer “no substantial help” to authorities looking for the two men who Dantzier claims kidnaped him for ransom.

“There was very little to go on,” Dantzier said before being released Sunday from a hospital where he was treated for shock and exposure.

Dantzier, 43, has refused to describe the men he says abducted him Thursday night, saying the FBI had asked him to keep quiet about specifics in the case.

The bank vice president told police he escaped from his abductors by jumping from a boat in the Atlantic Ocean sometime after midnight Friday.

An FBI spokesman said Sunday agents were investigating the case, but “we haven't received any further information yet. So far it's just routine.”

Six special citations for industrial expansion will go to ARA Manufacturing Co. of Grand Prairie, Stanton Supply Corp. of Stanton, Perry Equipment Corp. of Mineral Wells, Maywood Inc. of Amarillo, and Andy Lou of Dallas Inc. and Texas Leisure Chair Inc., both of the Haltom-Richland area.

NEW TECHNIQUE— Iowa Physician Claims Tattoo Removal System

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — An Iowa doctor says he put a new technique for tattoo removal to the ultimate test in the case of a young woman who had sunflower leaves and an old boy friend's name embossed on her breasts.

Dr. West Clabaugh of Iowa City said Sunday that his new technique removes the multitudes of the tattoo and is superior to old methods.

“In most cases, they can return to work the same day,” he told an American Academy of Facial and Plastic Surgery convention.

Clabaugh, who calls his method dermabrasion, said he freezes the skin where the tattoo is located and planes it under bleeding starts. He said he then paints the skin with a two per cent solution of gentian violet, a dye, and bandages the wound.

When the bandage is removed after 48 hours, the tattoo comes off along with it, he said.

“The pigment used in the tattoo migrates to the bandage,” he said.

Clabaugh said his successful cases include a minister who wanted “Death before Dishonor” removed from his upper

He's Gate Crasher Extraordinaire

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Who is that man walking arm-in-arm with Mae West, chatting with John Lindsay, shaking hands with President Nixon, posing with Harry Truman?

It's Morris Lieberman, retired furniture salesman and gate-crasher extraordinaire.

“Some men collect stamps and some men collect coins,” says Lieberman, 62. “I go to parties and events and collect pictures. It's been my hobby.”

Lieberman, originally from Cedarhurst, N.Y., recorded his biggest coups in New York City.

The bottle-jawed Lieberman says his hobby started accidentally in 1928 at the age of 16 when he went to hear New York Gov. Al Smith accept the Democratic presidential nomination.

By chance, Lieberman says he sat next to Smith's wife and wound up being ushered out with the Smith family by an honor guard of police. The next day, he was pictured on the front page of a local newspaper, standing proudly with the governor's family.

Lieberman refuses to disclose his gate-crashing secrets, but eagerly talks about his favorite triumphs.

When former President Truman came to New York in 1956 to stump for Gov. Averell Harriman and other Democratic candidates, Lieberman joined the VIPs on the podium at a political rally.

Lieberman says Truman shook his hand and told him, “You look like a fine candidate — I'm sure you'll be successful.”

In 1960, Lieberman said he grabbed a seat behind Pat Nixon on a platform in New York while then Vice President Richard Nixon made an address in his campaign for the presidency.

In another escapade, Lieberman donned a tuxedo and crashed the 1970 premiere of the film “Myra Breckinridge.”

As hundreds pushed and shoved for a close look at Mae West, Lieberman recalled he walked up to her limousine and said, “Mae, you look wonderful tonight.”

Movie magazines in three countries later carried a picture of Lieberman escorting Miss West into the theater.

Last year, Lieberman joined in an invitation-only party for New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, who was leaving office after eight years.

Lieberman said he was talking with Lindsay when an aide leaned over and whispered in the mayor's ear, “Who the hell is that guy you're talking to?”

“I don't know who in the hell he is,” Lieberman said Lindsay replied. “But I seem to run into him almost everywhere I go.”

“They never know for sure who I am,” Lieberman says. “They know they've seen me some place, or they think they have. Rather than risk offending someone important, they always went along and acted as though they knew me.”

Cities' Energy Needs Disturb Peaceful Rural Area

By PAUL RECER
HARMONY HILL, Tex. (AP)—The Harmony Hill cemetery, sheltered by hundred-year-old oak and cedar on a remote, green hillside, was once a place of peace. But no more. It's now a new frontier for industrial man.

The cemetery marks the area where settlers came more than a century ago to carve farms from virgin Texas forests. Streams still run clean and pure nearby, dirt roads wander past undisturbed glades of flowering dogwood and deer romp without fear.

Many of those original settlers and their children are buried here, laid to rest after lives of quiet rural industry. Their way of life was devoted to the land, to the harvest and to living with nature.

Many of their descendants

continued that rural way, cherishing the wooded hills, and raising cattle, grain and timber. The land was their wealth, and it provided a peaceful life, remote from the problems, crowding and stress of booming Texas cities to the west and south.

But somehow, in a way that still puzzles many here, the needs of those cities reached out to disturb the peace of Harmony Hill. For beneath those serene, tree-choked hills and valleys lie thick beds of lignite, a black rock that burns and can provide power to keep those cities running and growing.

And to wrest that coal, power corporations must have the land to strip bare and change beyond recognition.

The Harmony Hill Cemetery, where once the call of a bird could be heard a half mile, now echoes with the growl of diesel engines. In a nearby valley, powerful tracked machines root up trees and move soil. The verdant view from the cemetery hillside bears a light tinge of bare, clean-scraped earth.

Roaring trucks ply the one quiet rural road beside the cemetery, hauling heavy equipment for a new power plant.

Texas Utilities, parent company of a group which supplies power to Dallas, Fort Worth and much of West Texas, bought or leased thousands of acres in Panola and Rusk counties for their plant. Hundreds of acres were taken through the power of eminent domain, a rule of law that forces reluctant land owners to sell in the interest of the public good.

One who fought and lost to Texas Utilities is Mack Young, the great-grandson of an original settler in the area.

After battling through the courts, Young was forced to sell about 500 acres of timber and pastureland that had been in the family since the mid-1800s.

"It cut the heart out of the family land," he says. "That old land was near and dear to us. We thought the world of it."

Young said he "used to fish and hunt and ride horses all over that land. Now I have to get a special permit to even walk on it."

A half-mile long dam is being built on Young's land to create a 10,000-acre lake. Trees he knew as a boy were knocked down and removed, leaving behind bare earth awaiting the lake's waters.

Young said he and a few other long-time property owners were approached first by Texas Utilities and given only a short time to get off the land. Timber was "slaughtered" instead of systematically harvested and Young says: "I figure I lost $100,000 out of the deal in timber alone."

T.L. Austin, president of Texas Utilities, disputes this claim. Austin said that the court-appointed board of appraisers valued Young's land at $8,140. Texas Utilities initially offered $114,400 for it and settled for $165,000 after it became apparent that the timber could not be harvested in time to meet construction deadlines.

Young said after he and some of his neighbors—who also were in the mouth of the gun—fought and lost, Texas

Utilities started buying other land.

"Some of my neighbors who sold later got over twice what we had to take," he said. Again, Austin disagrees.

He says local appraisers are hired and told "to appraise it, not at the cheapest, but for what it's worth."

Austin said the type of grass, the trees, the quality of the fences, and the buildings all determine the price of the land.

"Of course, the neighbor who only gets $300 an acre will never understand when someone else gets $600," Austin said. "We don't intentionally mis-treat anyone."

The land buying may have caused bitterness on the part of residents with long-standing family attachments to the land, but in small towns near the plant site there has been a mini-boom.

M. E. Adams, the mayor of Tatum, a community near the site, said the plant and mine will mean more people, new schools, more money and new businesses for his town.

A farming community of 600 people before plant construction began, Tatum has gained about 100 new residents already, says Adams.

"It's going to help our town," he said, noting that the community now has a bank, the first since the 1930s; "a new Dairy Queen" and the promise of more than tripling the school district budget.

New taxes from the plant, he said, will add eventually about $22 million to the school budget of $8 million.

Texas Utilities has already given the district $1 million because of current construction work. New high school buildings are planned.

"As a majority," said Adams, "Texas Utilities treated people mighty nice."

Tatum City Secretary Neil Mullins said land prices nearby have shot up from about $250 an acre to almost $600 in some cases.

Presence of the coal surprised most people, he said.

"I don't think anybody around here really knew how much coal there was," said Mullins, a lifelong Tatum resident.

Ironically, notes Mullins, Tatum itself won't receive any of the coal-generated power. It will be going west, toward Dallas.

Tatum gets its power from Southwestern Utilities Inc., a Louisiana company that soon plans to build a power plant fired by coal imported from Wyoming.

Court Orders Huge Minnesota Mining Plants Closed Down

SILVER BAY, Minn. (AP)—Two northeast Minnesota communities faced the prospect of becoming little more than huge welfare towns today as their main employer, the Reserve Mining Co., found itself shut down.

Silver Bay and Babbitt, company towns that are the respective homes of Reserve's processing plant and taconite mine, were said to have 95 per cent of their working populations affected by a federal judge's order to shut down Reserve because of pollution into Lake Superior.

Reserve, which produces 15 per cent of the iron ore used in the nation's steelmaking blast furnaces, was ordered shut down Saturday by U.S. District Judge Miles Lord. He said the pollution of 67,000 tons of rock wastes a day into Lake Superior was endangering the health of five communities in Minnesota and Wisconsin which draw their drinking water from the lake.

important than the health of thousands of persons, Minnesota Gov. Wendell Anderson said Lord's decision was courageous and necessary.

The company said it would appeal, and Lord set another court session for today. Among other actions expected today is a report from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, which was ordered by Lord to come up with an immediate plan to guarantee clean and safe drinking water for the five towns, including the City of Duluth.

Reserve is owned jointly by two steel companies — Armco and Republic. The two said they had enough iron ore stockpiled to continue normal operations for a while, but said they were looking for alternate sources.

But Lord's order, handed down Saturday in Minneapolis, provides that Reserve Mining cannot reopen until it meets all state and federal pollution standards. That means construction of an on-land treatment plant which Reserve said during a nine-month trial would cost $400 million and take several years to complete.

Asbestos Fibers

The basis of the case is the pollution from the processing plant in Silver Bay, where taconite, an ore used in the production of steel, is turned into iron ore.

The Justice Department, the states of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan and various environmental groups brought the action against Reserve. At issue are asbestos fibers found in Lake Superior and traced in testimony to Reserve's huge daily outpour into the lake.

Testimony in the trial said the asbestos fibers could constitute a serious health hazard, and Lord said such a hazard exists.

3,100 Out Of Work

In all, 3,100 persons who earn $34 million a year are out of work in the two towns whose combined population is 6,500. Officials in the towns said virtually every one else who worked was there because of Reserve. The towns' tax base is Reserve, and they also face the prospect of being wiped out.

Lord said he had considered the tremendous economic impact of his decision, and said such an impact was not more

60-CENT GASOLINE DUE THIS SUMMER

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—By summer, motorists may be paying 60 cents for a gallon of gasoline, says the nation's top energy official.

Federal energy chief John C. Sawhill said Sunday he expected gasoline prices to go up a few more cents and to level off at about 60 cents a gallon this summer. He told reporters covering a meeting of the National Oil Jobbers Council that he didn't expect gasoline prices to go much above that level.

Current average gasoline prices are about 53 cents a gallon for regular and 56 cents for premium. Sawhill didn't say whether he was referring to the price of premium, regular or the average.

Sawhill said motorists could look forward to new gasoline shortages if they do not continue to practice conservation.

If Americans continue driving at lower speed limits and limit nonessential use of cars, there will be sufficient gasoline for summer vacations, he said.

Bad Weather Cuts Texas Road Toll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic was slowed or halted by deluges of rain and often violent winds in many parts of Texas, and that circumstance apparently helped keep auto fatalities at low ebb during the weekend.

From 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday, The Associated Press tabulated reports of 10 violent deaths. The toll included four homicides, three deaths in traffic, two in a plane crash and one by drowning.

Among the victims were:

Charles Grief, 13, of Dallas died when the motorcycle on which he was a passenger collided with a pickup truck in the Grayson County town of Pottsville.

The body of Feliciano Trevino, 14, of San Antonio was pulled from the San Antonio River Sunday morning. He drowned Saturday when he tried to swim ashore from a boat.

Two Libyan pilots died Saturday when their single-engine Cessna 150 plane crashed in a field north of Fort Worth. Medical examiners identified them as Mohammed el Aming Mograbi, 23, and Saleh Swesi Abdalsselam, 24. They had resided in Fort Worth.

Maurice Thomas, about 35, was shot to death in East Harris County after what investigators described as an argument between Thomas and a woman. Investigators said Geris Matthews, 22, of San Augustine died early Saturday when he was shot in the back with a high powered rifle at a Jasper apartment.

Robert Chapman, 22, of Beaumont died after being shot four times in the chest and once in the stomach Saturday evening as he sat in a car in Beaumont, investigators said. Witnesses told officers a man on a bicycle did the shooting.

Officers arrested a woman in the fatal shooting of Eugene Taylor, 31, of Dallas. Police said they jailed her after an altercation on a south side street in which another man was seriously wounded when he approached and asked what had happened.

A Garland child died and six other persons were injured slightly Saturday afternoon in a two-car collision at Interstate 30 and FM 47 in Van Zandt County near the Kaufman County line. Highway patrolmen identified the child as Dennis Cox Jr., 5, of Garland.

Tommy T. Greenlee, 14, died Saturday of injuries suffered late Friday night when the bicyclist he was riding and a car collided on a Northwest Houston street.

WHAT IS THE TRUTH?
 "Thy Word is Truth" (John 17:17)
 by
 Bryan Boes

Sometimes, God seems so far away from us. Sometimes, we think that God could not be interested in our lives. Sometimes, our problems are so great that we wish God were near.

At these times we should think of the incarnation, when God lived on the earth as a man, Jesus of Nazareth. Why is the incarnation so important and so victory-giving? Because in Jesus Christ God entered the world and took our human life upon himself. Because God cared enough for us to lay aside his glory and to take upon himself the limitation of humanity (an unimaginable sacrifice). Because God shares in all the activities of human life and knows the many and varied trials, temptations, and sorrows of this world. Because God is involved in the human situation and fully understands everything that happens to us. The action of God becoming man shows that God truly cares for us.

"And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, full of grace and truth; we have beheld his glory, glory as of the only Son from the Father" (John 1:14). "Therefore he had to be made like his brethren in every respect . . . because he himself has suffered and been tempted, he is able to help those who are tempted." (Hebrews 2:17-18).

Two Black Shows Tony Champions

NEW YORK (AP)—Two shows about black family life, the drama "The River Niger" and the musical "Raisin," are Broadway's 1974 Tony Award champions.

Cited for stellar performances in plays were Michael Moriarty of "Find Your Way Home" and Colleen Dewhurst of "A Moon for the Misbegotten." Winners of musical star trophies were Virginia Capers of "Raisin" and Christopher Plummer of "Cyrano."

The winners in 18 competitive categories were announced Sunday night during a three-hour marathon of grab bag special acts and "thank you" speeches broadcast over the ABC television network.

There were also nine special awards to other people the League of New York Theaters wanted to honor.

Most interesting aspects of the 28th annual distribution of the silver medallions were the ethnic production domination of key prizes and an apparent desire to spread the remaining glory around.

"Raisin" was chosen as the best musical, but the 435 members of the theatrical profession who participate in the secret balloting decided the best book for a musical was by Hugh Wheeler for "Candide," and the best score was "Gigi" by Frederick Loewe and Alan Jay Lerner.

"Candide," ruled ineligible for the main trophy because it was a revival, received the additional consolation of one of the honorary awards as well as scooping the best musical director prize for Harold Prince; best costumes, Frame Lee; and best scenery, Mrs. Lee again with her husband Eugene.

Eugene O'Neill's "A Moon for the Misbegotten" also got a special prize as a revival that couldn't vie for the top award, but took the drama director award for Jose Quintero, supporting actor for Ed Flanders as well as the medallion for Miss Dewhurst.

Britsco, Opponent Speak At Houston

By The Associated Press

Gov. Dolph Briscoe and his opponent for the Democratic nomination, Mrs. Frances Farenthold, campaigned in Houston over the weekend and kept up the battle cries Monday.

Briscoe dedicated the Twin Sisters cannons in ceremonies Sunday commemorating Texas Independence Day at San Jacinto Battleground.

The "Sisters" were the only field pieces at the command of Gen. Sam Houston in the winning battle against Gen. Santa Anna which gave Texas its independence from Mexico.

Mrs. Farenthold also spoke in Houston today and kept up her running attack on the governor for not calling a special session of the legislature on school financing.

Dear Abby

Season's Closed On Alaska Husband Hunt

—By Abigail van Buren
DEAR ABBY: A 45-year-old woman, looking for a husband, asked you where all the men were, and you told her to go to Alaska.
Please Abby! We don't need any more women up here. The average age for a woman here is 27, and, except for the military, there aren't any spare men around. We have plenty of drifters, but they're very poor husband material.
Also, you said, "... and if you should get lucky, the nights are six months long." A lot of people didn't know you were kidding. You would have to go way up into the arctic circle to find darkness during the daytime.
Please, do us a favor and set the record straight, and don't send us any more women! Not to Anchorage anyway.
LIVES HERE
DEAR LIVES: For another discouraging word, read this letter from Fairbanks, Alaska:
DEAR ABBY: Please don't start another gold rush in Alaska. We have enough trouble with men (and even whole families) who come here looking for jobs on the Alaskan pipeline which hasn't even been started yet.
In the first place, nobody should come to Alaska unless he has a job assured him because unemployment in this state is 10.4 per cent—the highest in the nation. And furthermore, there's an Alaskan law giving job preference to Alaskans.

YOUR FRIEND IN FAIRBANKS

DEAR FRIEND: That settles it. Don't any of you women go to Alaska in search of a husband, and don't any of you men go there unless you have a job in your pocket!
DEAR ABBY: Le Roy and I have been married for only a year, and already we're having problems. The biggest one is that he is crazy about country and western dancing and I've never even tried it. You have to have the right kind of clothes to dance country and western, and the boots alone cost $63. I don't want to spend that much money on something I might not like.
Le Roy says if I won't go with him, he'll go without me. And he does. I don't like the idea of him dancing and drinking with other girls while I sit home. I don't mind his going out with a bunch of guys, but not for doing things that involve other girls. He thinks I'm being unreasonable.
Do you think I should put my foot down on Le Roy for going dancing without me? And if so, how hard?
JUNE BUG

DEAR JUNE BUG:

The place for your foot is not on Le Roy. It's in a Western boot all set to learn how to dance Country and Western. And if you're smart, you'll love it.
DEAR ABBY: I work as a cashier at a well-known chain grocery store, and my problem is the way people treat me. They act like it's my fault that prices are so high. They yell at me when I ring up items, and ask me how come canned corn went up four cents in one week. When they pay their money, they say: "Look at that! I used to be able to get three bags of groceries with a $20 bill!"
They don't realize that I only work there, and I have to buy groceries just like they do.
And while I'm griping, I may as well mention those customers who wait till their order is totaled, and then ask to get a check cashed while customers are waiting in line behind them. Meanwhile the cashier gets the dirty looks from the other customers.
I used to love my work, but no longer! Please print this. I got it off my chest and believe it or not, I feel better.
SUNNY

DEAR SUNNY:

Consider it printed. Now... smile!
Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

DEAR POLLY — I'm a fresh new "Arkie" from Chicago with some thoughts about the use of refrigerators and freezers during the crisis of energy. To be ready for a loss of power or electricity keep freezer and/or freezer compartment full as quantities of food diminish. Replace food packages with bags of ice cubes. Then in case of a current shutoff a bag of ice can be transferred to the refrigerator part and the unit acts just like an old-fashioned ice box and keeps the foods cold until current is back on. Around here (Rogers, Ark.) ice is free for the taking. My dollar will go to The Salvation Army. Thank you. — MRS. W. J. C.
Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — In case of a death should the close relatives sign the register that the undertaker places in the funeral home, the home or church as the case may be? When one loses a child, husband or wife should this person's mother, father, sisters and brothers sign the book? I was under the impression that only friends, neighbors and relatives who live far away or are not around much should sign this book to let the close family know they were present. Am I right or wrong? — A. H.
DEAR POLLY — I have two Pet Peeves. One is with those people who rush through a crowded elevator to be the first out the door and then block the way of others while they decide where they are going. Also it peevs me when a restaurant serves such a full glass of unsweetened iced tea that when sugar is added and the tea is stirred it spills all over everything. — FAY.
DEAR POLLY — and Esther — When canning or preserving with two-piece jar lids the contents of the jars are hot and expanded so the lids are bulged out. As the contents cool the lids go down flat making a popping noise. Any jar that has a bulged out lid when cool should be reheated, contents put in another jar and resealed with a new lid or eaten at once. — A. L.
DEAR GIRLS — A home economist of the government home extension service told me that when the inner porcelain-lined circle to a two-piece top is put on firmly and the ring screwed on, often, but not always, the pop occurs when the vacuum seals. The outer ring can then be removed even though many seem afraid to do this. If the top is bulged out the food will be lost anyway — the necessary part is the adherence of the inner part of the top. However, I was told that different manufacturers of such tops give different instructions. Those given by the maker of the top used should be followed strictly. — POLLY.
DEAR POLLY — When the fingers of rubber dish washing gloves are worn out the corrugated palms of the gloves are cut out and used as aids in opening jars. They grip the jar lids very well. — MRS. J. P. R.

Louisiana To Have New Constitution Next Year

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Louisiana will have a new constitution Jan. 1 but the average citizen is not likely to be very aware of the new document for a few years at least—now that the hoopla of the election to adopt it has died down.

"In all honesty, probably not in the first year or so," said E. L. "Bubba" Henry of Jonesville, speaker of the House of Representatives and chairman of the convention that wrote the new constitution.

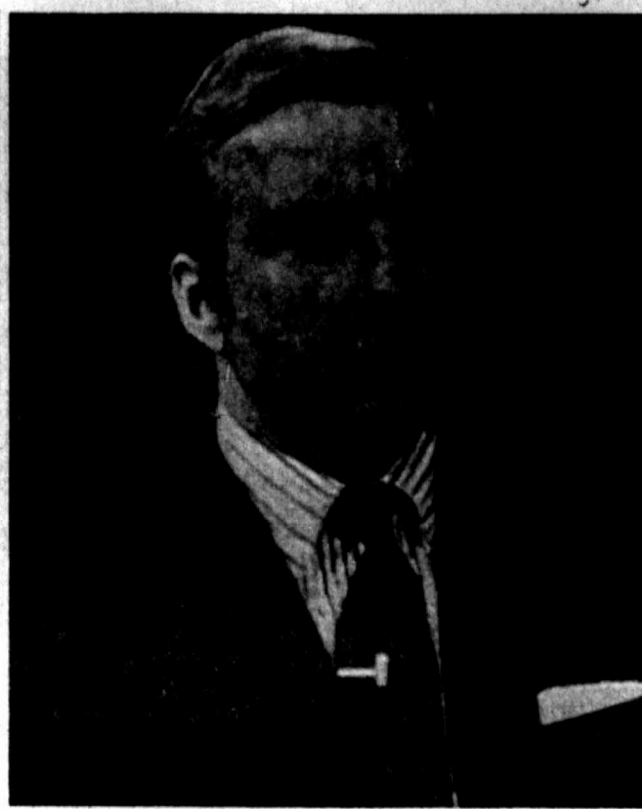

"I think in the long run, though, if we take the advantage of the potential this constitution has we're going to have a better organized state government," said Henry.

He noted that the new constitution provides no immediate changes in the tax structure, for example, so that no resident will be paying more or less right away.

The new constitution, approved by voters Saturday, reorganizes more than 250 state agencies into no more than 20 main departments and cuts the

TALKS ABOUT TAPES—Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., answers a question during a Sunday television program from Washington. Percy said the White House is moving toward "impeding justice" with its failure to surrender tapes sought by the Senate Watergate committee and the special Watergate prosecutor. (AP Wirephoto.)

White House Launches Broad New Public Relations Effort

By GAYLORD SHAW
WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House is charting a fresh public relations campaign to coincide with President Nixon's responses to a pair of subpoenas from impeachment and Watergate investigators.

Presidential appearances in sections of the country considered generally friendly to his cause — and possibly a new Watergate "white paper" — are cornerstones of the effort to shore up Nixon's sagging popularity and to blunt impeachment moves.

On Thursday, the deadline for an answer to the House Judiciary Committee's subpoena for 42 tape recorded conversations, Nixon is scheduled to address a regional economic council in Jackson, Miss. To Phoenix May 3.

On May 3, one day after a response is due on special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski's subpoena for tapes of 63 conversations, Nixon is to make a public appearance in Phoenix, Ariz.

Although White House spokesmen won't publicly disclose the President's plans, indications are mounting that Nixon will stop short of supplying the House committee with all the subpoenaed material. One aide has said some of the conversations were never recorded and that others deal with national security matters.

California Republicans Virtually Ignore Nixon

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Even in spirit, the presence of Richard M. Nixon was virtually absent from the spring California Republican convention.

There was no customary resolution in support of the party's President, a native and voting resident of California.

During two days of speechmaking, Nixon's name was rarely mentioned — except during a speech Saturday by Vice President Gerald R. Ford.

"The Democrats have announced their intention to turn the coming November election into a national referendum on President Nixon," Ford told a luncheon meeting.

Basic Party Politics
"The issue is not RMN (Nixon's initials), but is as simple as ABC," the vice president said.

Brandt, Egyptian President Confer

CAIRO (AP) — Chancellor Willy Brandt of West Germany, the first German chancellor to visit Egypt, met with President Anwar Sadat Sunday night for a discussion of Arab-European economic relations.

In an hour-long talk, Brandt and Sadat also discussed Middle East peace efforts. Details of their talk were not released.

Brandt came to Cairo from Algiers, where the official radio proclaimed his talks with President Houari Boumediene to be the beginning of a European-Arab dialogue.

Britain's Queen Fetes Birthday

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II's 48th birthday brought out the flags on public buildings in Britain, but the traditional gun salutes were postponed because it was Sunday.

The Queen was born in London on April 21, 1926.

The 62-gun salute from the Tower of London and the 41-gun salute from Hyde Park, traditionally fired on the birthday, were put off until today.

Ft. Gibson Celebrates 150th Year

FT. GIBSON, Okla. (AP) — Old Ft. Gibson, the most important in a line of forts which stretched from Minnesota to Texas and marked the edge of western expansion in the 19th century, turned 150 years old Sunday.

It was April 21, 1824, that Col. Matthew Arbuckle and 121 soldiers arrived here aboard flatboats to carry out the orders of Gen. Winfield Scott, commander of the Army in the Southwest. Scott wanted Arbuckle to move his command from Fort Smith, Ark., to a point at the mouth of the Verdigris River to exercise better control over the feuding Osage and Cherokee tribes.

U. S. Cavalry Birthplace
The Osages, who had come to the area as early as 1796, resisted the relocation of the Cherokees from Northwest Arkansas and Georgia into territory they considered their own.

Arbuckle's four companies of the 7th Infantry built the fort in two years, and it was shortly to become the birthplace of the U.S. cavalry. Some of the first units were called the Rangers and the Dragons.

Historical Monument
Ft. Gibson often was the first station for West Point graduates. Zachary Taylor, who later was to become president of the United States; Jefferson Davis, later to be the president of the Confederate States; and Sam Houston, president of the Texas Republic, all spent a part of their careers here.

Several hundred persons gathered to commemorate the fort's 150th birthday Sunday. Earl Boyd Pierce, a director of the Oklahoma Historical Society and retired general counsel of the Cherokee tribe, told the group that the fort remains "one of the finest historical monuments within the confines of our beloved state."
The Cherokee Nation owned the frontier post at one time.

Coin, Silver Firm To Contest Texas Restraining Order

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The president of the Pacific Coast Coin Exchange says his firm will go to court to fight a Texas court order temporarily enjoining it from selling silver bullion and bags of coins to investors on credit.

"We feel that the action of Texas is wholly arbitrary and unreasonable," Louis E. Carabini said Sunday. A Dallas judge ruled last Thursday that the firm, which claims to be the nation's largest seller of bullion and coins, had violated state laws by selling unregistered securities. He issued a 10-day restraining order barring further sales until April 28.

At issue is whether the company's credit silver contracts are to be considered securities. The Texas suit, brought by the state attorney general, contended the contracts are securities because investors' funds are pooled.

Carabini said the firm has never been used by California authorities. The company is licensed as a commodity exchange under the California Commodity Law, passed last year.

Texan Identified Among Crash Dead

AGANA, Guam (AP) — Officials at Andersen Air Force Base here Sunday released the name of a Dalhart, Tex., man as one of six crewmen killed in the crash of a C130 transport plane.

He was S.Sgt. Larry F. Maas, 35, flight engineer from Dalhart, in the Texas Panhandle. The plane crashed into the side of a cliff Saturday night and then fell to the cliff base some 600 feet below.

An Air Force spokesman said search and rescue teams, although hampered by darkness and dense jungle, reached the wreckage strewn over a wide area Sunday.

Magnuson To Ask New Senate Term

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, 69, says he will seek another six-year term this fall. Magnuson, D-Wash., formally announced his candidacy for reelection Sunday. He vowed to fight the "disastrous social and economic policies" of the Nixon administration.

Payoffs Out In Oklahoma

The Oklahoma legislature earlier this month passed a law making it illegal to pay or receive a kickback in connection with any state contract.

Another bill closely related to the kickback law is said to be near final action. It would require bidders on public projects to file affidavits that they had not entered into collusion with other bidders or officials in submitting their bids.

It seems strange that laws of this nature just now would be making their way into the statute books in Oklahoma or elsewhere. Where have the lawmakers been all these years? But it must be said that members of legislative bodies quite often do not bother about such things until the public demands action.

It is interesting to note in The Daily Oklahoman that when investigations last fall turned up solid evidence of payoffs, district attorneys said there was no specific law under which those involved could be prosecuted.

"This was a big surprise to the public," the Oklahoma City newspaper said, "but perhaps someone planned it that way long ago."

The new Oklahoma law defines a kickback as the giving of money or any other thing of value by or on behalf of any person to obtain a contract with the state. This undoubtedly would include contributions to political campaigns by persons or firms doing business with the state.

And, as The Oklahoman said, "The notion that it is neither unethical or dishonest to contribute to so-called campaign funds in exchange for favors does not make it any less a bribe, even if the favors expected have not yet been specified."

You know it just could be that dishonesty is becoming illegal!

A law of this kind, of course, will not make honest men out of crooked office-holders. Only the voters can take care of them effectively. But fear of fines and prison sentences definitely will cut down on some of the open-handed shakedowns.

Other states across the land would do well to follow Oklahoma's leadership in checking their laws in this regard and, if need be, taking steps to kickout the kickbacks.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: Connally urged Leon Jaworski's appointment.

WASHINGTON — Former Treasury Secretary John Connally tried to head off a Justice Department investigation of Jake Jacobsen, the dairy lobbyist, who now has confessed to the Watergate prosecutors that he delivered a $10,000 payoff to Connally from the dairy industry.

We have established that Connally last year telephoned Richard Kleindienst, then the attorney general, and asked him to intervene in the Jacobsen case.

The Justice Department, nevertheless, went ahead with a double-barreled investigation of Jacobsen's role in the milk scandal and in an unrelated savings-and-loan case.

Jacobsen was called before a grand jury where he swore Connally had rejected the $10,000. The dairy lobbyist testified that he had stashed the money in a safe deposit box and hadn't touched it until the FBI opened the box.

The FBI found evidence to the contrary and the Watergate prosecutors began preparing a case against Jacobsen for perjury. Connally, inevitably, became involved in the investigation.

This was about the time that Archibald Cox was fired as the special Watergate prosecutor. Suddenly, Connally began pulling strings to name Cox's successor. Connally's choice was Leon Jaworski, whom President Nixon had once met at a party for Texas dignitaries at Connally's ranch.

White House sources tell us that Connally urged Jaworski's appointment to the President. Connally also spoke to the President's staff chief, Alexander Haig, about Jaworski.

The appointment of Jaworski, therefore, put Connally in the happy position of helping to choose the special prosecutor who would now investigate him. But if Connally expected a whitewash, he had misjudged Jaworski's character.

The new special prosecutor, a man of solid integrity, immediately removed himself from all decisions affecting his friend Connally. In a private memo to Deputy Prosecutor Henry Ruth, Jaworski gave his deputy responsibility for the milk case, with full authority to direct the investigation of Connally.

On February 6, Jacobsen was indicted in the savings-and-loan case. Two weeks later, he was indicted again for lying to the grand jury about the $10,000.

This confronted Jacobsen, say his friends in Texas, with an agonizing human dilemma. He considered Connally probably his best friend and might even have been willing to go to prison for him. But Jacobsen's wife is in poor health and needs his constant attention.

He was forced to choose, we were told, between his wife and his best friend. After considerable soul wrenching, he opted to cooperate with the prosecutors in a bid for leniency. He told them he had delivered the $10,000 to Connally at the Treasury Department. After the milk scandal broke into the cover-up and the ITT affair. The staff still is investigating whether to include charges of tax fraud.

The political animosity between the presidential staff and the House impeachment staff has failed to break up a friendship between Dick Hauser, an attorney on President Nixon's defense team, and Tim Oliphant, a lawyer preparing impeachment charges against the President.

We recently reported that the slaughter of rare Australian kangaroos was encouraged by the Interior Department's failure to ban the importation of their skins. Within 10 days, the department moved to protect the furry marsupials.

The Country Parson

WASHINGTON WHIRL: Vice President Gerald Ford has promised Republican leaders he will put loyalty to the party ahead of loyalty to the President.

From the first 1969 days, Mr. Nixon developed a fondness for Shultz's capacity for well-marshaled argument in cabinet and other councils.

Shultz's unhappiness with imposition of economic controls, and the sloppy way they were partially eased, gave rise to frequent reports he was leaving.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY (Newspaper Enterprise Association) Jim: "How about some articles on slam hands. We to tell me that South led a trump to his ace at trick two and never could recover to make six."

Oswald: "No, I am not. South was one of those really careful players. He didn't want to make seven. He decided to wear suspenders and a belt and be sure of six. Therefore, at trick two he led a trump from dummy and finessed his jack. After that the bad trump break didn't hurt. He made his slam."

Jim: "Quite a safety play. If the unusual finesse had lost South would have been able to win the return; draw the last trump; cash his ace of diamonds and get to dummy with the seven of trumps to discard his losing club."

Oswald: "Here's an interesting safety play. South was a trifle ashamed of his bidding. After all, seven spades would be cold against a two-one trump break and he had merely bid six. Not that he didn't have a good reason for the underbid. The game was rubber bridge and South wanted to be sure of the rubber."

BRUCE BLOSSAT George Shultz, A Strong Man, Leaves Washington

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The Nixon administration will suffer an enormous power vacuum with the departure from office of Secretary of the Treasury George P. Shultz. He has been one of a bare handful of strong men in this government.

For a good while, the quiet-spoken but iron-fibred Shultz has been carrying many portfolios. In truth, he has rarely let go altogether of anything he has touched since he came to Washington in 1969 as secretary of Labor.

Assistant to the President and the administration's great domestic and international economic coordinator, his like will not be seen again.

At least two top officials already are gunning for William Simon, federal energy chief and Shultz' indicated successor at Treasury. One can almost say that President Nixon himself is a third.

Secretary of State Henry Kissinger used to let it be known that he was bored by international trade and monetary policy. Shultz has been operating effectively in this field for more than a year, and is widely credited as principal promoter — at the early 1973 Paris conference of finance ministers — of the successful proposal to let key national currencies "float" rather than operate at fixed exchange rates.

Kissinger sees matters in broader scope today, and has no intention of permitting Simon to work this arena as did Shultz.

Nor is any love lost between Simon and Roy Ash, present director of the Office of Management and Budget, an ambitious man with some breadth as the former head of a wide-flung private industrial enterprise and boss of a commission which took a big look at government reorganization. Ash will be doing all he can to see that Simon never becomes another Shultz.

Then there's Mr. Nixon. Serious question exists about the validity of his and Simon's claims that the energy crisis really is ended. But the President, against the backdrop of Watergate painfully eager for every ounce of credit he can get, is known to be distressed with Simon's high visibility and vocal force in the credit-taking field.

When Shultz says, as he has in interview, that Mr. Nixon now will become his own economic coordinator, that covers a lot. It is recognition of the special sweep of Shultz' talents, but it is also a harbinger of trouble.

It is well known that the President has only a forced interest in economic policy, especially domestic. Astute scholars of the presidency tell us, indeed, that this has been characteristic of the last several presidents.

From the first 1969 days, Mr. Nixon developed a fondness for Shultz' capacity for well-marshaled argument in cabinet and other councils. The free economy notions to which the President is emotionally committed were often converted to hard policy substance by the inventive Shultz. He was as much "old shoe" to Mr. Nixon as maybe anyone can be.

Shultz' unhappiness with imposition of economic controls, and the sloppy way they were partially eased, gave rise to frequent reports he was leaving.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first coin authorized by the United States Congress was the 1787 Fugio cent. The Latin inscription Fugio, in conjunction with a sundial, supposedly was to signify "time flies."

The Young Men's Hebrew Association (YMHA) was founded in New York City, March 22, 1874. The first independent Young Women's Hebrew Association (YEHA) was founded in 1902, but YM and YWHA's have since merged into a single organization.

It provides social, cultural, physical and recreational programs for all age groups and has open membership. They are today usually called Jewish Community Centers.

Dear Editor: I see where some congressmen are working on a constitutional amendment giving them the right to fire a President by voting no-confidence in him.

Which is highly presumptuous of these self-aggrandized hired hands, who feel like they are smarter than us peons and we have proved it by electing them.

But my grumpy neighbor says he favors that amendment if it would also provide that his constituents can fire a senator or a representative any time they lose confidence in him before his term runs out. D. E. SCOTT Crossroads, U.S.A.

RALPH NOVAK The Honeymoon Is Over; Diplomacy's Acid Test

NEW YORK (NEA) — "Henry you do not recognize me as a superstar. Let's face it, do superstars take out the garbage? No; superstars get private villas with servants and catered gourmet meals and free tickets to sporting events and their pictures on the covers of news magazines. Tell me how many times you see a picture of somebody taking out the garbage on the cover of 'Time'?"

"That reminds me, Henry: the next time you do one of those press conferences, I wish you'd be a little more careful about the knot in your tie and your haircut. Last time you looked a little, well, tacky. Maybe if you started wearing turtle necks once in a while and mix in an occasional bow tie..."

"Please, Nancy, my plane is waiting. The fate of the world may hang in the balance and you are standing there, looking down at me... Which reminds me, why do you always have to wear those platform shoes that make you 6-feet-4? I know you're taller than me. You know you're taller than me. The whole country knows you're taller than me. Why rub it in?"

"To be honest, I read in 'Ms.' that a woman should always make the best of her natural abilities and I know you wouldn't want me to suppress my instincts."

"Oh, no, far be it from me to suppress your instincts. But why is it that before we were married you always wore low-heeled shoes and walked in kind of a crouch?"

"That couldn't have been me, dear. You must be thinking of someone else. That St. John woman had terrible posture, as I recall."

"Ach du lieber — er, I mean, good grief. I just have to leave now, Nancy, or I'll be late for the meeting. History awaits, you know."

"All right, dear. Have a good mediation. And Henry?"

"Yes, darling?"

"On your way home would you be a dear and stop and pick up a couple of pounds of lamb chops for dinner?"

Midland Drops 4-2 Decision

SAN ANTONIO — The San Antonio Brewers rallied for three runs in the sixth inning off relief pitcher Dennis Lamp and went on to post a 4-2 Texas League victory over the Midland Cubs Sunday afternoon to win their third straight in the four-game series which winds up tonight.

Mike Krukow, a 64, 205-pound right-hander, will throw for Manager Walt Dixon's Cubs while San Antonio will go with Lloyd Gladden who was 7-7 last season for Evansville. Krukow pitched for Bradenton last season.

Midland took a 1-0 lead in the first inning. Ken Sotzkiewicz walked, went to second on Joe Wallis' groundout. An error on Bill Droege's grounder, moved Sotzkiewicz to third and he scored on Jerry Tabb's single.

The Cubs made it 2-1 in the third inning when Sotzkiewicz walked, stole second and scored on Droege's single.

San Antonio tallied three runs in the sixth inning after starter Dave Geisel faced three batters before Dixon brought in Lamp in relief. Rob Beloit walked, Wilbert Aaron tripled in Beloit to cut the lead to 2-1. Gary

Aggies To Play Memphis State

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Memphis State University will cross football swords with Texas A&M for the first time in 1978.

A two-game series was announced by MSU athletic director Billy Murphy and Texas A&M athletic director Emory Ballard, who is also the Aggies' head football coach.

The Tigers and the Aggies have agreed to play Sept. 28, 1978, in College Station, Tex., and Sept. 29, 1978, at Memphis Memorial Stadium.

The Aggies play in the South-west Conference and finished 5-6 last year after making a strong bid for the league title with a team of primarily sophomores and freshmen.

Memphis State withdrew from the Missouri Valley Conference last year with the announced purpose of replacing some MVC foes with more prestigious opponents. The Tigers were 8-3 in 1973.

During the past year, Murphy and Tigers' head football Coach Fred Pancoast have added such teams as Auburn, Vanderbilt, Tulane and Iowa State to future schedules.

Midland's Graham Mackey and Andy Shapira were two strokes off the winning pace with a 136. Mackey and Shapira fired a 67 Sunday to move out of third place.

Charles Ray and Larry Snyder also managed a 136, but was awarded third place honors on a card playoff. Theo Ferguson and Martin Allday was fourth with a 136 also.

High winds proved to be a challenge Sunday for the golfers, and scores were generally higher than Saturday's first round action.

Wayne Merritt and Clint Ferguson, both of Midland, teamed for a 141 to win first flight honors with a two-stroke victory. Merritt and Ferguson combined for a fine 68 Sunday to take the easy victory.

Royce Woodard and D. Coffman won the second flight with a 148 after a 72 Sunday.

The third flight prize went to Harold Rydell and Chester Pickthorn of Odessa with a 152, winning by a two-stroke margin.

Morris Howell and Mack Cook managed a 157 two-day score to win the fourth flight by a nifty five-stroke lead. Howell and Cook fired a 75 Sunday to take the win.

Al Fierro of Midland turned in the most courageous performance of the tourney when his partner failed to show up Sunday. Fierro turned in a 76 by himself and double bogies on the last two holes kept him from placing in the third flight. He was given a special award for his efforts.

Dallas Cowboy split-receiver Mike Montgomery, who has jumped to the World Football League and Paul Rider managed a 157 in the second flight to finish out of the money and Charlie Waters, a Dallas defensive back, teamed with Bill Huggins for a 171, well out of the running.

The Nickel tournament is a charity affair and all proceeds from the tournament will go to the Midland Retarded Children's Opportunity Center.

Pirates Shell Tom Seaver

By BRUCE LOWITT AP Sports Writer

The Pittsburgh Pirates found the right prescription for their flu-bitten manager. But Tom Seaver is still looking for a remedy for an ailing fastball.

Pirates Manager Danny Murtaugh had the flu Sunday and was forced to watch his Pirates on television from a Shea Stadium office.

"That's the best medicine I could've gotten," he said after watching his Bucs smack Seaver and three relievers for 20 hits, including homers by Manny Sanguillen, Richie Hebner and Al Oliver, en route to a 7-0 victory over the Mets.

In Sunday's other National League baseball games, Montreal downed St. Louis 9-5, Houston edged Atlanta 4-3, Philadelphia whipped Chicago 7-3, San Francisco defeated Los Angeles 6-4 and in a double-header, Cincinnati crushed San Diego 10-1 before the Padres earned a split with a 7-2 night-cap triumph.

Expos 9, Cards 5

Right-hander Steve Rogers spaced eight hits to boost his record to 3-0 before being relieved in the ninth inning in the Expos' victory over Bob Gibson and the Cards.

Tim Foli tripled home a run in a three-run first inning and Willie Davis hit a two-run single in a four-run seventh for the Expos.

Astros 4, Braves 3

Henry Aaron belted the 717th home run of his career but Bob Watson slugged a game-tying two-run homer in the eighth inning for Houston and Tommy Helms later hit a dead-end, bases-loaded single that beat the Braves.

Phillies 7, Cubs 3

Greg Luzinski rapped a pair of singles and a double and drove in three runs for the Phillies.

Steve Carlton limited the Cubs to seven hits Sunday and struck out 12 for his second victory of the season without a loss. Philadelphia wrapped up the victory with a four-run fifth-inning burst capped by Mike Anderson's homer.

Giants 6, Dodgers 4

The Dodgers' Andy Messersmith carried a four-hit, 4-1 lead into the eighth inning. Mike Marshall replaced Messersmith and Mike Phillips responded with a bases-clearing double to tie the game. One out later, Steve Ontiveros singled to untie it, then he came around on singles by Gary Thomasson and Chris Speier.

Reds 10-3, Padres 1-7

A seven-run first inning highlighted by Dave Concepcion's first career grand-slam homer gave Cincinnati all the runs it needed in the first-game swamping of San Diego.

San Diego's Bob Barton and Bobby Tolan combined to drive in three runs against their former teammates and Bill Greif scattered five hits for the Padres in the finale.

Montgomery Signs With Birmingham

By TERRY WILLIAMSON

Mike Montgomery, a stellar split-end for the Dallas Cowboys, confirmed Sunday in Midland that he has signed with Birmingham of the fledgling World Football League.

Montgomery was in Midland over the weekend to play in the Nickel Benefit Golf Tournament, and said that he has signed a multi-year contract with the new Alabama based club, becoming the third Cowboy to make the jump from the National Football League team.

Earlier, Calvin Hill and Craig Morton jumped to Hawaii and Houston respectively.

Montgomery would not give a salary figure, but did indicate that he received a substantial increase and a security pact.

"This is the first time in my football career that I have had a say in my future," Montgomery said. "I just hope the fans in Texas realize what an opportunity this is for me. I know that Cowboy fans will be disappointed with all the players that have signed with the WFL, but they have to look at it from our point of view too."

Montgomery still has an option year left on his contract with the Cowboys, and does not know at this time whether he will play for Dallas or Birmingham this year.

"It's up to Tom Landry whether I stay with the Cowboys or not," Montgomery related.

"He has to make a decision. He may want to build for the future with players that will be with Dallas, and if that is his decision, they may not want me back. I will play for Dallas if they want me this year."

Charlie Waters, a Dallas defensive back, was in Midland with Montgomery this weekend, and he is also tinkering with the WFL.

"I have an agent in California that is negotiating with the Southern California Sun and Hawaii," Waters stated. "My contract is up with the Cowboys and I have to make a choice. I would gladly return to Dallas, but I don't think they will come up with the money I want."

Bill Sims, an attorney for the Cowboys who sought the restraining order, has also said that the Cowboys would seek to void contracts signed by Morton, Hill and Montgomery with the WFL.

It is not known how a new restraining order issued by the Cowboys Sunday will affect Waters' negotiating with the two WFL teams. The Cowboys' restraining order, signed by State District Court Judge Ted Alkin, prohibits the WFL from dealing with Cowboy players and keeps the three jumping players from promoting the WFL teams they have signed with for the 1975 season.

Bill Sims, an attorney for the Cowboys who sought the restraining order, has also said that the Cowboys would seek to void contracts signed by Morton, Hill and Montgomery with the WFL.

Celtics Take Playoff Edge

NEW YORK (AP) — The aura of invincibility that once surrounded the New York Knicks before their wildly enthusiastic home fans — and frightened opposing teams — appears to be disappearing at least as far as the Boston Celtics are concerned.

"The crowd yelling is not always to the benefit of the home club," suggested Boston Coach Tom Heinsohn after the swift and brawny Celtics had raced and battled to a 99-91 victory over the Knicks Sunday before a capacity crowd of 19,964 at Madison Square Garden and a national television audience.

Rangers Lose, 8-2

By The Associated Press
Flattery is supposed to get you nowhere, but it got Toby Harrah of the Texas Rangers a quick trip to the dugout Sunday.

The Rangers, trailing the Minnesota Twins 5-0, had the bases loaded with none out — Harrah was on second — in the seventh inning of a game they eventually lost 8-2. Jeff Burroughs slashed a grounder to short and the ball hit Harrah.

That's when the fun started. Ron Luciano, the second base umpire, ruled Harrah deliberately rano into the ball. He called both Harrah and Burroughs out for a double play with no advance.

Luciano told Harrah, "A good baserunner would try to get hit in a situation like that and you're a good baserunner."

Since there wasn't much he could say to that, Harrah's next performance was a slow trip back to the bench while Burroughs was ejected from the game and Manager Billy Martin protested it.

The umpires also had their problems in Baltimore. The Orioles edged New York 6-5 in 13 innings in the opener of a doubleheader and then protested the nightcap, which they lost 3-0. Baltimore complained that Yankee coach Whitey Ford violated the rules by making two trips to the mound in the sixth inning with the same batter at bat.

Prentice Captures Crown Texas Leads Loop By Two

By RON ROACH
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — At Augusta, the male Masters champion wears a green coat. At Dinah Shore's Winner's Circle, Jo Ann Prentice said she dressed in green "because that's all I had clean in my closet."

Jackie Pung, LPGA Hall-of-Famer from Hawaii, adorned Miss Prentice with green leis after the 41-year-old Alabamian "punched a little four-iron" from the tee to within four feet of the flag on the fourth playoff hole. Then she sank the birdie putt to defeat Jane Blalock for the $32,000 first prize.

The richest tournament in the history of women's golf, a total purse of $200,000, is considered by the gals as prestigious to them as the Masters is to the men.

Miss Blalock, the 1972 Winner's Circle champion when the first prize was $20,000, had birdied the 157-yard No. 17 on the tournament's 71st hole by hitting to within 18 inches of the flag.

That same hole on the Mission Hill's course came up as the fourth playoff hole and she followed Jo Ann's sensational shot by leaving herself about a 12-footer.

Sandra Haynie, the 54-hole leader, shot a 74, bogeying the 14th when she hit into water. She regained a share of the lead when Miss Prentice three-putted No. 17 from about 45 feet, missing about a three-foot putt. Miss Blalock birdied 18 — with a six-foot putt and the trio tied at one-over-par 289, returned to the 14th hole to start the sudden death playoff.

Miss Haynie was short on a six-foot putt for a bogey on the second playoff hole, leaving Jo Ann and Jane who had 73s to fight for the $14,500 difference as second place money of $21,000 and $14,000 for third was shared by the playoff losers.

Jo Ann's tee shot on the third playoff hole hit a three stake, becoming back into the fairway, and she scrambled to make par. Memory of her three-putt bogey earlier on 17 was still fresh in her mind.

But A&M has lost five of its last nine SWC games with opening league play with 12 straight victories. The Aggies' 16-5 mark trails Texas' 18-3 record by two full games.

Home runs by Joe Zylka and Mike Macha helped Rice beat the Aggies 6-4 in the first game of Saturday's doubleheader. The Aggies won the second game 7-4.

Jim Gideon survived home runs by Tommy Crain and Dana Carden to notch his 15th straight victory this year and 22nd in a row over the last two seasons as Texas beat TCU 10-4.

A Texas Flag Dedication ceremony held Sunday afternoon at High Sky Girls Ranch highlighted the observance of San Jacinto Day here.

New American and Texas flags were presented to the ranch by the Aaron Estes Chapter, Daughters of the Republic of Texas, which sponsored the ceremony.

Mrs. Francis E. Melear, chapter president, presided.

The dedication part of the ceremony was conducted by Mrs. John P. McKinley of Midland, District I representative of Daughters of the Republic of Texas. She also is president of the Midland County Historical Society, members of which were special guests at the ceremony.

Midland County Judge Barbara Culver led the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America.

The Pledge to the Texas Flag — "Honor the Texas flag. I pledge allegiance to thee, Texas, one and indivisible" — was led by District Judge Perry D. Pickett.

The Rev. John W. Long, pastor of Memorial Christian Church, delivered the invocation. The benediction was voiced by the Rev. Robert Boynton Smith, minister of the First Presbyterian Church.

Two songs — "God Bless America" and "Texas, Our Texas" — were sung by the Emerson Elementary School Honor Singers, under the direction of Mrs. Carol Tipton.

Lifeless Land
Devil's Golf Course in Death Valley has surface temperatures of 190 degrees F and is said to be as near lifeless as any land on earth.

The government also announced last week that in the same three months, the nation's total output of goods and services dropped at an annual rate of 5.8 per cent, the biggest decline since the recession of 1958.

Both House Speaker Carl Albert, D-Okla., and Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, chairman of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee, have indicated they would support such a move to cut taxes unless there is a marked upturn in the economy soon.

Humphrey did not specify how the tax cut he favors should be put into effect.

Senator Humphrey Joins Senate Move For Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey has joined two other key Senate Democrats in calling for an income tax cut to offset the impact of inflation and "stimulate the economy through consumer demand."

The Minnesota Democrat urged Sunday that Congress enact a tax cut to help low- and middle-income families faced with steep living costs "in the midst of a recession."

Humphrey's tax cut proposal came after Sens. Edward M.

Kennedy, D-Mass., and Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., had proposed taxes be cut by $5.9 billion, mainly through increasing the personal exemption on tax.

Kenneth R. Cole Jr., inter- viewed Sunday on the NBC pro- gram "Meet the Press," said that a tax decrease "at this particular point in time will in- flame" inflation, rather than solve economic problems.

He repeated the adminis- tration's belief that the econ- omy will begin to improve in the second half of the year.

Humphrey, chairman of the Joint Economic Committee, also advocated creation of new public service jobs for the unemployed as well as a per- manent agency to monitor and counter inflation.

Latest government figures show inflation is now running at a rate of more than 10 per cent annually. During the first three months of this year, con- sumer prices rose at an annual rate of 14.5 per cent.

The government also an- nounced last week that in the same three months, the na- tion's total output of goods and services dropped at an annual rate of 5.8 per cent, the biggest decline since the recession of 1958.

San Francisco Considers Civilian Volunteers To Man Police Stations

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Officials are considering calling in civilian volunteers to man police stations in order to free more officers for street duty in the intensive search for the "Zebra" killers.

Meanwhile, the American Civil Liberties Union planned to file a class action suit today challenging the new police policy of stopping and searching young black men thought to resemble a police composite drawing of one of the killers. Twelve white persons have died taking part in the Zebra in the 5-month-old series of un- provoked attacks.

San Francisco attorney Ben- jamin James Jr. filed a similar suit in U.S. District Court last Friday, charging that the police descriptions and sketches are vague and unhelpful. Police say the man they seek is black, slender, about 6-feet and from 20 to 30 years old.

Rodney Miller To Give Recital

CANYON—Midlander Rodney Miller, a student at West Texas State University, will present his senior voice recital at 4 p.m. today in the Branding Iron Theater on campus.

Miller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Miller of Midland. For his recital, Miller has programmed works by Bee- hoven, Handel, Brahms and d'Indy, along with operatic arias by Puccini and Verdi. To con- clude his program, Miller will offer "Samuel Praying for Saul," an original vocal work by WTSU faculty member Royal Brantley, with whom he studies voice, and three songs by Stephen Hilton, a WTSU alumna.

Alto and police officials have defended the stop-and-search program as a necessary action in an extraordinary situ- ation. Some black leaders and others say the frisks are a form of harassment and violate con- stitutional guarantees against illegal search and seizure.

No major incidents have been reported as a result of the questioning.

Police leaders said nearly all the men stopped have been understanding and cooperative, but the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said it has received "hundreds of complaints" from blacks who felt they had been harassed.

The young men stopped by police have been given "Zebra" cards to carry as proof they al- ready have been checked.

The case was given the code name "Zebra" because that is the designation for the radio channel used to communicate with officers assigned to it.

FBI Denies Whereabouts Of Kidnaped Girl Known

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "We've turned a lot of areas upside down," but FBI agent Charles Bates says authorities still don't know the where- abouts of Patricia Hearst or her abductors.

Bates, special agent in charge of the investigation, denied a Newsweek magazine sto- ry that FBI agents, posing as postmen and trash collectors, had infiltrated the neighbor- hood where the Symbionese Liberation Army is hiding but had not found the exact lo- cation of the terrorist group.

"That certainly isn't true," said Bates. "We haven't had any agents disguised as post- men or garbage men."

Bates said the search for Miss Hearst remains wide- spread and not limited to a spe- cific neighborhood. Authorities believe the SLA, which claims to have kidnaped Miss Hearst, numbers about 25 heavily armed persons.

In another development, police said over the weekend they wanted to give a lie detector test to a roommate of one of Miss Hearst's cousins who claims he was abducted last Thursday.

Police said Van R. Bush, a roommate of William R. Hearst II, told them he was grabbed by three men who blindfolded him and drove him around for 2½ hours. They said Bush, 31, told them he was released after he convinced the men he was not young Hearst. He said the men repeatedly called him "Billy," which is the name young Hearst goes by.

Ehrlichman Briefed President On Audit Of O'Brien Tax Return

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Ehrlichman has admitted to briefings with President Nixon's close friend C. G. "Bebe" Rebozo in two in-stalls in 1969 and 1970. At the time of the briefings, Ehrlichman was serving as an unpaid consultant for the Hughes firm on an audit of former Democratic party chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien's tax returns.

This was disclosed in a memo sent to members of the committee April 1 by its assistant chief counsel, Terry Lenzner. The Associated Press has obtained access to the memo.

Lenzner's memo also discloses that Ehrlichman was pursuing the theory that the original Watergate break-in at Democratic National Committee headquarters may have been motivated by concern that O'Brien knew of a $100,000 campaign contribution from Howard Hughes. The Hughes money was given President Nixon's close friend C. G. "Bebe" Rebozo in two in-stalls in 1969 and 1970.

An informed source said that Ehrlichman's briefing of Nixon occurred in late summer 1972.

The Lenzner memo says that it is crucial for the committee to obtain the sensitive case reports that the White House had and was acting upon during the IRS investigation.

"The information is also critical to determine its relationship, if any, to the break-in at DNC headquarters on June 17, 1972," Lenzner wrote.

Trio Due At State League Meeting

Three Midland women will attend the 13th biennial council meeting of the League of Women Voters of Texas in Irving Tuesday and Wednesday.

The two voting delegates from the Midland League will be Mrs. Norman Gould, president, and Mrs. Dale Fairbanks, president-elect. Mrs. R. J. Jochim, treasurer of the League of Women Voters of Texas, also will attend.

"We are especially looking forward to meeting Ruth Clusen, the council banquet speaker. She is sure to be elected president of the national league at its convention next month," said Mrs. Gould. Mrs. Clusen, from Green Bay, Wis. now is a vice-president of the national organization.

Other speakers on the agenda include Dr. Pete Gunter, philosopher and environmentalist from North Texas State University; Sybil Hamilton, public information official for Dallas County Junior College and member of the Constitutional Revision Commission; Bert Holmes, associate editor of the Dallas Times Herald; and Stuart Long, editor of the Long News service which publishes the Austin Report among other publications.

The theme of this year's council — "It's Your Move!" — indicates a meeting directed toward involving all 4,500 Texas League members in League action during 1974-75.

Clover House Head To Attend Meeting In Capital

Orval Crews, 3117 W. Louisiana St., director of The Clover House of Odessa, will leave Wednesday for Washington, D.C., to join the faculty of a three-day institute for directors of halfway houses for alcoholics.

The institute, which will attract directors from throughout the United States, will be held at the National Center for Alcohol Education. It will open Wednesday afternoon and continue through Friday.

The Clover House, located at 407 W. 2nd St., opened its doors Feb. 2, 1970, and since has housed more than 350 recovering alcoholic patients, most of whom have undergone treatment at the Big Spring State Hospital.

It is a non-profit agency operated by a board of directors composed of business and professional people of Odessa and Midland.

Crews, who retired in September 1969 from Great Western Drilling Co., has been director of Clover House since its organization.

In Washington he will conduct a course on funding, budgets and obtaining community support for halfway houses.

This Afternoon's Market Report

New York Exchange

Table listing New York Stock Exchange tickers including Alcoa, Amstar, and various industrial stocks with their respective prices and changes.

Climbing Prime Rate Keeps Stock Mart Weak, Sluggish

NEW YORK (AP) — A rising prime lending rate kept the stock market weak and sluggish today. The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 4.30 at 855.60, and losers held a 2-to-1 lead over gainers in very light trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The First National Bank of Chicago boosted its prime rate from 10.1 to 10.4 per cent this morning, and money-market experts were predicting a general rise to 10 1/2 per cent this week. "Until a real downward turn in interest rates comes, the market will probably remain on the wary side, but this decline isn't a foregone one," said Jack Trachtman at Steiner, Rouse & Co.

Uris Buildings was the Big Board volume leader, down 1/4 at 14. On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was down 13 to 94.14. Other Big Board issues on the active list included Bausch & Lomb, down 1 1/2 to 30%. The company filed a suit in New York State Supreme Court against National Patent Development Corp. by enjoining from interfering with Bausch & Lomb's licensing agreement on soft contact lenses in Japan.

Republic Steel was down 1 1/2 at 23 1/2, and Armco Steel fell 1 1/2 to 21 1/2. The two companies own Reserve Mining Co., operator of a Silver Bay, Minn., taconite processing plant ordered closed for environmental reasons by a federal judge over the weekend. The Amex volume leader was Marquette Mining class B, up 1/4 at 5 1/4. New Process Co., which reported higher quarterly earnings late Friday, climbed 1/2 to 7 1/2 in active trading on the Amex. The NYSE's noon composite index of all its listed common stocks total at 49.65, down 26.

Old Ball Found In Florida Proves Real Brain Teaser

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — An unidentified flying object expert says although the origin of a 22-pound stainless steel ball near his home about a month ago in Florida remains a mystery, "it's a nice, pleasant brain teaser." Dr. J. Allen Hynek, chairman of the Department of Astronomy at Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill., and former adviser to the Air Force on UFOs, was one of five scientists who examined the ball here over the weekend. Newsmen also looked at it, and he said he heard a faint rattle. Terry Matthews, 21, of Jacksonville, Fla., who brought the ball here for inspection, claims it would be putting their scientific reputations on the line. The five scientists met here as members of a National Enquirer panel on UFOs. The weekly magazine has offered $50,000 to anyone who can come up with "definite" proof of extraterrestrial life. Matthews is not certain himself of what he found and defers to the judgment of the scientists. "I think he's quite on the level," Hynek said of Matthews. "I had a long talk with him and his sister last night. I would say they're solid. It puzzles them and they are actually disturbed by all the publicity they have been getting. As far as I know, they've made no money out of it yet."

Hynek said he doesn't know if Matthews will allow further tests on the ball, which could include cutting it open, to learn more about it. This much has been established, Hynek said: "The ball's average density is 2.2, which certainly means it couldn't be steel all the way through. But the X-rays didn't seem to substantiate that it was hollow." It has magnetic poles. But there is no evidence that it moves by itself. "It's still sort of a mystery," Hynek said, "particularly how he got where they found it."

Navy Ships Leaving Indian Ocean Posts

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Navy warships are leaving the Indian Ocean for the first time since last fall's Middle East crisis. Pentagon sources indicate it probably will be several months before the American Navy returns to that ocean, where its presence has been protested by India and some other countries, including Russia. The carrier Kitty Hawk, several escorting destroyers and an oiler were expected to sail through the Strait of Malacca today. The task group may stop at Singapore before heading for the main 7th Fleet base at Subic Bay in the Philippines. The Kitty Hawk was the third U.S. carrier to cruise the Indian Ocean since last October when Arab oil producers clamped an oil embargo on the United States. Tanker routes to the big oil-producing countries around the Persian Gulf pass through those waters. Underlining the new importance of the Indian Ocean, Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger said at the time that the presence of U.S. warships there "will be more frequent and more regular than in the past."

Councilmen To Open Bids On Bond Sale

Midland City Councilmen will open bids for the sale of $2 million in general obligation bonds to finance improvements at Midland Air Terminal at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday in City Hall. The $2 million is part of a $7.5 million project for resurfacing one of the airport's primary runways to eventually enable the facility to accommodate aircraft the size of the DC-10. Following the bid openings, the council will recess until its regular 1:30 p.m. meeting to see the city finance officer can consider the bids. At the regular meeting, the bonds should be sold and specifications for the Air Terminal project should be approved. Approval to advertise for bids on the project is also expected to be granted. Fire Does Heavy Damage To House, Rekindles Today

Fire heavily damaged a house at 1711 Mulberry St. Sunday night and rekindled this morning. Pearl Jackson of 1709 Mulberry St. owned the one-story frame and stucco house which was vacant and being used to store household goods. Firemen received the call at 8:44 p.m. Sunday and spent an hour and 36 minutes at the house. The fire department was called back to the house at 7:00 a.m. today and spent 45 minutes there. In a separate incident which occurred about 10 minutes later, fire caused heavy damage to a small vacant building at 3100 W. Timber, Grass Fire Continues Burning Near Fort Davis

FORT DAVIS — A timber and grasslands fire which has destroyed more than 125 sections continued burning this morning about 32 miles northwest of Fort Davis, in the vicinity of Cherry Creek Canyon. Bill Cowden Jr. was burned severely over much of his body while working a fire ditch, but remained in good condition in Culberson County Hospital at Van Horn. The worst part of the fire was concentrated at the top of Gomez Peak, with the main part of the fire on the McElroy, Reynolds Cattle Co. and Cowden ranches. Thursday, the Van Horn Fire Department was first called to the scene, where it remained today. Ranchers and volunteers also are helping fight the blaze. Ft. Bliss firefighters are assisting and airplanes are dumping chemicals on the blaze in efforts to extinguish the fire. Winds gusting to 50 m.p.h. hampered firefighting operations Sunday.
