TO&G Sets Prospector In Crockett

Texas Oil & Gas Corp., Dallas, filed application to drill an 8,150-foot Ellenburger searcher for gas in Crockett County, 10 miles southwest of Big Lake. It is No. 1-34 University. Location is 2,173 feet from south and 467 feet from east lines of section 34, block 7, ULS, 1,500 feet west of the former Ellenburger opener of the World field, which later was repotentialized as the opener of the World, North (Strawn) field.

Pay Zones Spread In Ector Oil Pool

Extensions have been completed in a newly opened multipay sector of the Johnson field in Ector County, about 7 1/2 miles northwest of Odessa.

Atlantic Richfield Co. completed No. 7 Johnson Deep Unit, a sixth Pennsylvania well, for 315 barrels of 38.2-gravity oil per day, through a 20-64-inch choke and perforations at 9,196-9,314 feet, after acidizing with 5,000 gallons.

Well site is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 35, block 43, T-1-S, T&P survey. Continental Oil Co. completed its No. 1-38 J. L. Johnson as an extension to Holt production, for a daily flowing potential of 203 barrels of 37-gravity oil, through perforations at 5,523-5,599 feet. The section earlier had been identified as Clearfork.

Location is 660 feet from north and 1,900 feet from east lines of section 38, block 43, T-1-S, T&P survey. Conoco's No. 2-38 J. L. Johnson, 1,980 feet from north and east lines of the same section, flowed 312 barrels of oil in 24 hours, through a 16-64-inch choke and Holt perforations at 5,421-5,518 feet, which had been acidized with 3,000 gallons. Testing continued.

Crosby Pool Gets Site For Stepout

Felmont Oil Corp. of Midland will drill No. 1 Wheeler as a 5/8-mile southwest stepout to the five-well Ridge (Clearfork) field of Crosby County.

Drill site is 1,980 feet from north and 2,183 feet from west lines of section 1040, block 1, H&OB survey, 11 miles south of Lorenzo.

Eddy Fields Draw Sites, Producer

Inexco Oil Co., Houston, has filed application to drill No. 1-4 Inexco-Federal 1 1/4 mile northeast of an extension to Morrow production in the Catclaw Draw Field of Eddy County, N.M., about six miles northwest of Carlsbad.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 4-21s-26s, proposed depth is 11,200 feet.

Coquina Oil Corp., Midland, completed No. 1 ARCO-Federal as a 1 1/4-mile northeast extension to Morrow production in the Catclaw Draw field, for a calculated, absolute open flow (Continued On Page 10B)

Nixon Seeking Aid For Egypt

President Raps Demo-Backed Health Insurance Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration said today a Democratic-sponsored health insurance plan would place heavy new tax burdens on U.S. residents, including the poor, and start the nation's health system down the road toward government control. Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Caspar W. Weinberger defended the administration proposal for universal health insurance based mainly on private payments to insurance carriers as the House Ways and Means Committee opened hearings on health insurance. Weinberger centered most of his criticism on a bill introduced by the committee chairman, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass. The bill involved concessions by both authors, Mills accepting a greater government role than he had advocated in the past and Kennedy setting aside his insistence on outright government operation and financing of the health system. Weinberger said the Mills-Kennedy measure, largely financed by an increase in the Social Security payroll tax, would "impose $40 billion of new federal taxes on top of a tax burden that many Americans believe is excessive." He noted that the existing Social Security payroll tax already stands at 11.7 per cent, including payments by both employers and employees and is likely to increase in the future. "Comprehensive health insurance is an idea whose time has come in America," Nixon told Congress when he sent his bill to the lawmakers earlier this year. The President noted that "there is widespread support in the Congress and in the nation for some form of comprehensive health insurance. Surely, if we have the will, 1974 should be the year that we find the way." Already waiting on Capitol Hill at that time were a cradle-to-grave measure backed by Kennedy, and a compromise plan sponsored by Sens. Russell Long, D-La., and Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn. Long is chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and Ribicoff, a former secretary of health, education and welfare, is a leading liberal on the finance panel. Earlier this month Kennedy joined Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, in introducing a compromise in tended to reconcile what had been sharply divergent approaches to health-care legislation.

Mideast Peace Is Goal

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today asked Congress for $5.18 billion in foreign aid money, including $250 million to help Egypt clear the Suez Canal, repair war damage in adjacent cities and restore trade with the United States. At the same time, Nixon asked for $350 million in military support for Israel and $207.5 million for Jordan. He said the United States "can and should play a constructive role in securing a just and durable peace in the Middle East by facilitating increased understanding between the Arab nations and Israel..." The President also requested $93.8 million to assist South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos "in their efforts to shift their economies from war to peace and to accelerate the reconstruction of their societies." Response Uncertain All the money, including a special $100 million Mideast fund for peacekeeping forces, refugee aid and development projects, would be for the fiscal year that begins July 1. Congress' response is uncertain, although one member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, has said he is opposed "to reverting again to that old habit of trying to outbid the Soviet Union in securing Egypt's friendship." Nixon's request for Egypt accelerates the fast-building change in relations between the two countries. The two countries restored full diplomatic contacts last week after a 6 1/2-year break and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger asked Anwar Sadat of Egypt for Arab support in working out settlements with Israel. On Sunday he begins his fifth tour of the region since the Arab-Israeli war last October, seeking a disengagement between Israeli and Syrian forces in the Golan Heights. "The hope for a lasting solution to the Arab-Israeli dispute is stronger today than at any time in the previous quarter century," Nixon told Congress in proposing a special assistance program for the Middle East.

Council Denies Zoning Request For Six Duplexes

By ROBERT C. BORDEN After asking for a city staff study on possible uses of vacant land along Golf Course Road, from Garfield Street to Midkiff Road, the Midland City Council Tuesday unanimously denied a request to allow duplexes in the 3100 and 3200 blocks of Golf Course Road. The request was made by Joe De Michele to rezone the land from 1F1 (single family) to 2F (two family) to allow the six duplexes to be built on the lots. Again, a number of residents protested the proposed change. Bill Smith, who lives approximately a mile from the land, restated his fears Golf Course Road will "dominate" if one rezoning request is granted. At earlier meetings protesting zone changes along Golf Course Road, Smith had said he fears the street will become "another Andrews Highway," alluding to the businesses along that street. Of the four persons speaking in opposition to the rezoning request, only one lives within 200 feet of the proposed change, the distance noted by state law as being affected by any rezoning change. Smith reiterated his beliefs vacant lots are not harmful and said there are plenty of other areas to build duplexes. "Let's fill up Wall Street, then Texas Street, Illinois, and Andrews Highway" before rezoning Golf Course Road. Smith said he and other area residents had built or bought these homes with the belief the area would remain zoned for single family dwellings. Jim Lawson, who lives at 1700 Cessna St., within the 200 foot area, presented a petition with 130 names in opposition to the rezoning. He gave three reasons for opposing the request: Duplexes would devalue his home, duplexes would increase the area's population density, and the integrity of the neighborhood would be ruined by duplexes. Lawson said up to eight duplexes could be built on the (See COUNCIL Page 6A)

Mitchell Trial Called Political Prosecution

NEW YORK (AP) — John N. Mitchell's lawyer charged today that the federal conspiracy trial of the former attorney general was a political prosecution "engendered in the heat of a terrible national trauma." He said that in fact the fraud case against financier Robert L. Vesco, which Mitchell and Stans are accused of fixing, got worse for Vesco from the time they allegedly got involved. "This must be the only fix case in modern times, or ancient times or Biblical times, when the payoff is made in April and everything gets worse," Fleming said. A massive civil fraud case was brought against Vesco in November 1972. Mitchell and Stans are accused of impeding a Securities and Exchange Commission investigation of Vesco in return for his secret $200,000 cash contribution to President Nixon's campaign. The defendants, who quit the Cabinet to run the campaign, are charged with conspiracy, obstruction of justice and perjury. Fleming's summation followed one given by Walter Bonner, who spoke for Stans for almost five hours Tuesday. Asst. U.S. Attorney John Wing, the chief prosecutor, was expected to follow Fleming. The case should go to the U.S. District Court jury of nine men and three women on Thursday after a charge — an explanation of the relevant law — by Judge Lee P. Garliardi. Fleming said the government had put the wrong men on trial, had promised Dean a light sentence for his Watergate misdeeds in return for his testimony. He called Cook a "venal liar" who was "drooling to be the youngest chairman of the SEC." He implied the government had promised Dean a light sentence for his Watergate misdeeds in return for his testimony. LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON (AP) — The ranking Republican on the House Judiciary Committee, Rep. Edward Hutchinson, R-Mich., said today most of the allegations being investigated in the committee's impeachment inquiry will be dropped Thursday.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's Democratic conference voted unanimously today to try to extend standby wage-price controls before the present authority ends Tuesday. The vote reflected mounting concern in Congress over earlier decisions to let the controls die completely.

Moving Operations In Progress To Open Post Office Monday

Final moving operations are now in progress to open Midland's first new Post Office in 35 years Monday, Postmaster David Holster said. The new Post Office is at 100 E. Wall St., with the main entrance on Wall Street, where ample parking is available. "Post Office boxes are now available in several sizes for the first time in many years. The modern window service counter has nine service openings available during rush periods and each opening has the services available at that window listed on attractive aluminum signs," Holster said. Customer services, now available at the annex, 401 S. Colorado St., the main office, 114 N. Lorraine St. and the Tall City Station, 301 S. Main St., will be available at the new facility beginning Monday. Due to the extensive mail handling operations for 65 West Texas cities carried on at the annex, that unit will not move until May 3. The letter sorting machine that is presently being assembled at the new Post Office is of the most modern design and will be capable of sorting thousands of letters each day that now are being processed by hand — just as it was when Benjamin Franklin was postmaster general. Today about 50 per cent of the nation's mail is processed mechanically. "The Postal Service is meeting its standard of overnight delivery of first-class mail within local areas 95 per cent of the time, and, in many areas, we are doing better," Holster added.

FOR 4TH STRAIGHT DAY— Israeli-Syrian Fighting Continues

By The Associated Press Neither side gave any indication of casualties. The Israeli command also said security forces rounded up an Arab guerrilla cell in Ramallah, on the occupied west bank of the Jordan River, responsible for killing an Israeli soldier in a knife attack last November. U.S. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger leaves for the Middle East on Sunday to try to thrash out an agreement between Israel and Syria for disengagement of their forces on the Golan Heights. A left-wing Beirut newspaper, as Safir, said the Syrians had refused Egyptian requests to soften their disengagement terms. The paper said these included a total Israeli withdrawal from territory captured in the 1967 Six Day War and an initial pull-back from land gained in last year's October War to new lines beyond the main Golan Heights town of Kuneitra and the three strategic hills overlooking it. The newspaper as Safir said Israel has already rejected this plan. At the northern end of the Suez Canal, American marine and naval helicopters flew over Port Said as a U.S. military task force began sweeping mines from the 103-mile waterway. A four-ship British force has been at work on the project since April 7.

Chance Of Rain In Area Forecast

A chance of rain is mentioned in the National Weather Service forecast from Midland Air Terminal. It is only a 20 per cent chance, weathermen said, but the probability should increase. A high pressure area centered in the Midwest is causing a slight influx of moisture from the Gulf of Mexico, they explained. A low currently in Arizona is moving east and may have some showers in front of it. The forecast also calls for warm afternoons and nights. The high today will be in the middle 80s, and the overnight low will be in the low 60s. Thursday's high will be in the high 80s. Tuesday's high was 84 and the low this morning was 59. Meanwhile temperatures headed upward across Texas again today. Skies were generally clear except for a band of clouds stretching from the Lower Rio Grande northward to around Del Rio and San Antonio. Warm and mild weather was forecast until scattered showers or thundersstorms crop up again about Friday. Another cool spell was predicted this weekend. Early morning temperatures ranged from 51 degrees at Dallas-Fort Worth, 52 at Longview up to 73 at Brownsville. Top marks Tuesday afternoon reached as high as 90 at El Paso, and the coolest point was Texarkana with a maximum of 74. The Associated Press reported.

Austrian President Jonas Dies

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — The Austrian presidency is a largely ceremonial office and political power belongs to the chancellor who heads the government. The Socialist party was widely expected to nominate Foreign Minister Rudolf Kirchschlaeger as its candidate to succeed Jonas, while former Vice Chancellor Hermann Wiltschko was predicted to be the candidate of the Conservatives. Jonas won the second of his six-year terms by defeating the present U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim three years ago. Jonas was to be buried in Vienna's Central Cemetery next Monday following a special memorial session of both houses of the Austrian parliament and a funeral procession to the cemetery. Jonas had been hospitalized since March 23 but the nature of his illness was not made public at the time.

Bud Abbott Dies At 78

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bud Abbott, half of the comedy team of Abbott and Costello, died today at the age of 78. Abbott died at his home in Woodland Hills. His agent said the cause of death was not known. Costello died in 1959, two years after the team split up.

DAY OF THE BLACK ROCK—

Texas Has No Legislation To Regulate Strip Mining

By PAUL RECER
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas has no legislation regulating strip mining and yet industries are now in the process of ripping out thousands upon thousands acres of coal-bearing lands.

A Department of Interior study indicates there are more than 166,000 acres of land in the state that have been strip mined, mostly for sand and gravel. Of this, an estimated 137,000 should be reclaimed, according to the study.

With utilities and other industries opening up new strip mines to harvest lignite coal, this number is expected to increase dramatically over the next decade.

At present, according to state Rep. Ben Z. Grant of Marshall, there are no statutes which would require industry to restore lands that have been torn apart in strip mines.

He and other legislators are worried that companies harvesting the 10 billion tons of near-surface lignite coal in East and South Texas may turn thousands of acres into mining wastelands like those that are common in West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

"If all of it gets stripped away, it will bare a lot of land and ruin a lot of East Texas," said Grant. "Strip mining raps the land. Often nothing is able to live there. It's just waste land when they're finished."

Such land, he said, can cause underground water to become fouled, lead to erosion which ruins rivers and streams and is damaging to the economy because once useful land is removed from agricultural use.

Dr. William R. Frasier of The University of Texas says that land reclamation should be relatively easy in East Texas, where most of the lignite strip mines are expected to be.

Frasier, a geologist, said the climate and terrain are favorable to reclamation projects. Ample rainfall allows vegetation to quickly take hold, preventing erosion. Land where the coal occurs is only moderately hilly, enabling bulldozers to remove the spoil from the strip mines. Soil from the strip mines is not sterile and can quickly be prepared for replanting.

In contrast, strip mines in Appalachia were often dug where steep hills allow sludge to flow down hill, causing floods in some areas and denuding others of all top soil. Often top soil in the Appalachian mines was covered up with materials so totally devoid of nutrients that no vegetation could grow.

Frasier says that the lack of rainfall will make reclamation very difficult in South Texas, where there are some deposits of lignite.

He said, for example, a 50-year-old mine dump in the Laredo area is still devoid of vegetation, principally because rain is too sparse for new plants to take hold. However, mined out areas in East Texas have naturally revegetated in about 10 years.

Texas Utilities, parent company of a group of power companies supplying Dallas, Fort Worth and West Texas, is operating a massive strip mine near Fairfield and plans to open three others. The mines produce lignite to fire generating plants.

The utility company, on a voluntary basis, is reclaiming the strip mined land as rapidly as possible. The restoration has been so successful that the company has mined coal and raised a hay crop on the same acreage within a single year.

Land Restored Quickly

Texas Utilities leases much of the coal land, contracting with land owners to restore the land after the coal has been removed. As a result, the land is restored quickly to agricultural uses with only, at worst, one growing season lost.

Members of the Lone Star Sierra Club, the environmentalist group, toured the Fairfield operation about a year and a half ago. Their report said they left the facility "with cautious optimism that just maybe Texas can boast of one of the better strip mining operations in the country."

Other companies doing strip mining in the state have not been as active in restoration.

Aerial photos taken around Marshall, where there are large lignite deposits, show large areas of land, long ago mined, that still have the bare hills and water-filled valleys so typical of strip mines.

"It's the advantage of the state to have that land back into production as soon as possible," he said. "There's a limited supply of land and we must preserve all we can. We can't afford to waste any. We're talking about saving land for future generations."

Rescue Teams Taking Bodies From Crash Site

DENPASAR, Indonesia (AP) — Rescue teams today were collecting the remains of the Pan American 707 jet that crashed Monday night into a jungled mountain on the island of Bali.

Twenty-eight Americans were among the dead. There were no survivors.

Officials said the search teams found the plane broken in three main parts, lying in a deep ravine on 3,900-foot Mt. Mesehe.

The bodies were being brought down the mountain for transfer by helicopter or car to Denpasar, the capital of Bali, 36 miles to the southeast.

Recovery teams reached the crash scene Tuesday after the Indonesian army cut a trail and made a clearing for the helicopters to land.

The bodies of the 96 passengers and 11 crew members were to be taken to a Denpasar hospital before being handed over to the various foreign embassies.

Relatives of some of the 29 Japanese killed in the crash were flying to Bali today.

The government sent a team of experts to Bali to investigate the cause of the crash, which

Kissinger Leaves Sunday For Trip To Middle East

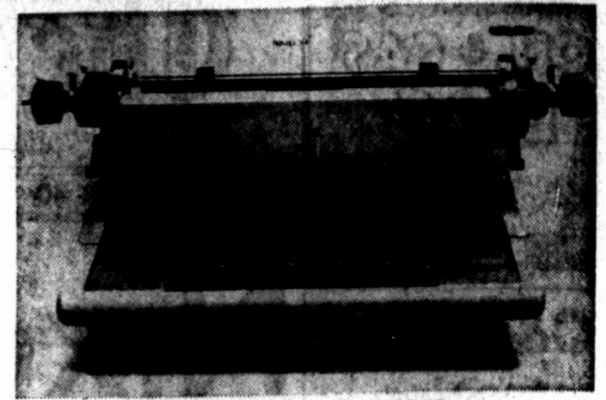

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger leaves Sunday for the Middle East to try to mesh differing Israeli and Syrian suggestions for disengagement in the Golan Heights area.

Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan brought Kissinger a plan on March 30 and then Hikmat Shebabi, the Syrian intelligence chief, brought a counter offer earlier this month.

Any compromise would have both sides giving up more than they initially intended. But diplomatic observers are convinced that Kissinger would not resume his "shuttle diplomacy" without expectation of success.

Sources said Kissinger evidently expects to persuade Israel to yield some part of its 1967 six-day war gains in exchange for a stationing of United Nations forces as a buffer between opposing forces in the Golan Heights.

West Texas Organists Meet Here, Plan May 16 Supper For Clergy

The West Texas Chapter of the American Guild of Organists met recently in Grace Lutheran Church.

The hostesses were Mrs. Vera Brown and Mrs. E. W. Vanderpool.

The Rev. Donald Hafemann was a guest.

Mrs. E. F. Motter conducted the business session. Plans were made for the final meeting of the club year, a patio supper honoring the clergy to be held May 16 at the home of Mrs. Hugh Dickson.

Mrs. Bruce Barthel reported for the recital committee.

The program was a review of the book, "Facing the Music," presented by Mrs. Bertha Johnson.

Midland Rose Society Plans For Annual Show

The Midland Rose Society met recently in Lancaster Garden Center-Museum of the Southwest, with Dr. T. E. Spires, president, presiding.

Guests introduced were Mrs. Helen Rao, Mrs. Pat Young, Karen Price, Katherine Thomas, Major and Mrs. Ron Gilbreath and Susie Hitchcock.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Campbell were designated as new members.

Mrs. Martha Houston, member of the beautification committee for the Chamber of Commerce announced plans for the improvement of city parks will be presented at a meeting of the City Council of Midland Friday. She also said the project is referred to as a visual improvement program and will be a permanent plan. She said priorities include the beautification of Wall street and the planting and landscaping of the traffic circle at Wall and Front Streets.

Jim Galyean presented the rules for the artistic division of the show, which will have as its theme, "Going Places with Roses." The scale of points for judging will be: Design, 35 points; perfection of roses, 35 points; harmony, 10 points; suitability and interpretation, 10 points, and originality and expression, 10 points.

Fourteen trophies are available for members of the MRS to win and certificates will be awarded to winning ARS members. Persons entering roses are eligible to win ribbons. Additional information about the show may be obtained from Mrs. Jones, rose show chairman, Dr. Spires, Saxe or member of the MRS.

Also, before turning on the dishwasher, if it's not quite full, look around the kitchen. You'll give the room extra sparkle if you use that space in the dishwasher for the sink stoppers, bric-a-brac, canister lids, terrarium cover, salt shakers, or anything else which has collected dust. (Remove plastic items before the drying cycle.) P.S. I really enjoy your Pointers to Pet Peeves. (POLLY'S NOTE: Thank you for that back-pat. Sometimes it takes "peeves" to get something corrected.)

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — A cup of coffee was spilled on the new white felt cloth on my dining table. I used cold water to blot it up but it left a terrible brown streak. Any help, anyone? — MRS. A. C. S.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with the senseless procedure used by mail order and business companies who ask one to put the account number on the outside of the envelope when corresponding with them. Anyone who knows your name, address and account number can simply write in and charge to you whenever they wish and they only have to say there has been a change of address in the meantime. It seems an outrage that customers are expected to risk this. — A. M.

DEAR POLLY — I think the safest way for Naomi to have a nice looking scrapbook for her keepsakes is to get a photograph album that has plastic filler pages so no tape will have to be used. Newspaper clippings, wedding napkins, etc., will stay in place in the fillers and will not fade. Flat articles could be placed back to back and show from both sides. I also know from experience that odd photographs stay pretty this way, too. — DOLLIE.

DEAR POLLY — When patching shirt sleeves you can do a much neater job if the part of the sleeve to be mended is put in embroidery hoops. Trim around the hole, cut the patch larger than the hole and pin it on the underneath side. Turn under edges around hole and stitch close to the edges. — H. B.

DEAR POLLY — When the bristles on your toilet brush get bent and worn just bend the brush the opposite way and get twice the use from it. — MRS. B.

Palette Club Holds Meeting

The Midland Palette Club met recently in the Art Center, 604 N. Colorado St., for a business session conducted by Mrs. Robert L. Ivy, chairman of the Tuesday Group.

Named as the Painting of the Month was an oil by Alma B. Tiner and is displayed in The Midland National Bank.

Mrs. Dolye Ballenger gave a program on design, color and space to be used in all media of art. She illustrated a landscape or still life as being man, woman and child, breaking space into geometric designs, such as triangle, sphere, rectangle and Hogarth curve.

Mrs. Julian Grace, Mrs. G. A. Schofield, Mrs. E. L. Key and Mrs. Evelyn Turpen will paint a space on the sidewalk of the Southwest Bell Telephone Co. building now being constructed.

Final details were discussed for the club's spring sale to be held May 4 in the Dellwood Plaza Mall. The hostess was Mrs. Schofield.

Outstanding Club Woman Of Year Announced By MWC Executive Board

Mrs. Henry Fleming was named Outstanding Club Woman of the Year, when the executive board of the Midland Woman's Club met Monday in the clubhouse.

Mrs. Fleming was recognized for having obtained the most new members for the club during the year. She also has been in charge of the Play Day committee. The president of the Woman's Club, Mrs. Jack Samples, presented Mrs. Fleming with a silver bud vase inscribed with her name and the year of her outstanding club work. A larger silver vase remains in the clubhouse and will be inscribed with the winner's names each year.

Mrs. Fleming announced the Play Day Unit will present the club with two new card tables.

The art committee chairman, Mrs. B. J. Sharp, announced the May art exhibit will feature Mrs. S. I. Rosson, Midland artist. A tea will be held May 5 in her honor in the clubhouse.

Following the executive board meeting, Mrs. Samples was hostess to the board of directors and committee chairmen for a luncheon. Colleen Puckett, who is the recipient of one of the club's scholarships, was present at the luncheon, as was Bill Burns, who is in charge of the student financial aid program for Midland College. The Woman's Club will provide two scholarships for 1974-75. Miss Puckett again will receive a special river boat party and scholarship, and Mrs. D. A. Ross, scholarship chairman, will announce the other recipient in the near future.

Mrs. Phil Adams presented Mrs. Samples with a crystal vase as a gift from the club for her contributions as president during the last two years. Plans were announced for a game night to be held in the clubhouse this month.

Don Nixon, Rebozo Tax Files Opened To Panel

NEW YORK (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service has agreed to let the Senate Watergate committee staff see tax returns and other data from the personal files of F. Donald Nixon and Charles G. Rebozo, the New York Times said today in a story quoting well-placed sources.

The file information was sought by the committee in connection with its investigation of a $100,000 campaign contribution given to Rebozo in 1969 and 1970 by Howard Hughes.

The Times quoted well placed sources as saying the agreement to provide the committee with the politically sensitive tax returns and other materials was worked out Monday.

A source told The Associated Press Tuesday night that the Watergate committee's chief counsel, Samuel Dash, had a meeting Monday with Burke W. Wilsey, an IRS official. But

Science Fair Winners Told At St. Ann's

Gerard Alcalá, Ernest Angelo and Mark Stanley took top honors in the recent St. Ann's School sixth grade science fair.

The three prepared a display on electricity.

Second place went to Liz Campbell and Shari Wittenburg for their exhibit "Vitamins and You" and third place was won by Kevin White for his "Study of Geology."

Honorable mentions went to Page Perry and Nancy Thompson for "Facts about Rats," Charles Corbin and John Hellinghausen for "Radios," Tim Reed and Will Porter for "Chariots of the Gods and UFOs" and John Tift for "Mining."

Fifth Grade Winners

First place in the fifth grade science fair, which concluded Tuesday, went to Jan Abbott and Peggy O'Neill for "The Heart."

The Lisa Beveridge and Janet Burns exhibit titled "Dinosaurs" tied Sara Joseffy for second place. Her display was "Teeth." Mary Ann Minahan and Nancy Piette took third place for "The Brain."

Honorable mentions were given to Richard Porter and Mark Seery, "The Development of the Chick," Jeff Johnson and Wes Riggs, "Radio and Radar," and Chris Ameal, Joel Morales, Bruce Nolley and Kevin O'Hara for "Study of Birds."

Fourth grade fair winners were Barbara Derby, Pam Dunn, Amy Raney, Janelle Thummell and Angelica Weis for "Insects." Second place was awarded to Harland Abbott, Nancy Hellinghausen and Gina Wittenburg for "Butterflies" and third place went to Wally Klein and Patrick Rezman for "Rats."

Honorable mentions included Diane LaBouff, Stephanie Nichols and Andrea Noel for "Senses" and Debra Evans, Carolyn Krawetz and Patricia Murphey for "Vanishing Hunters."

7-Eleven Store Robbed By Man Carrying Shotgun

A sandy-haired young man with a sawed-off shotgun took $20-$30 from the 7-Eleven store at 4404 W. Illinois St. about 11:30 p.m. Tuesday.

He was described as white, 18-20 years old, 6 feet tall, weighing about 165 pounds and wearing a blue shirt and trousers and a black cap.

Police said he fits the description of a man who held up a store at San Angelo recently and authorities here this morning were trying to get more information from San Angelo officials.

Several hours after the robbery, Patrolman Joe Kropp was told that a man who looked like the robber had been seen earlier with two other men at a 7-Eleven store near Midkiff Road and Andrews Highway.

The clerk at the store which was robbed said she stepped from behind the cold storage vault and saw a man pointing a sawed-off shotgun at her.

He demanded money, she said, and she asked if he were kidding. He told her he was serious and told her to be quick about getting the money from the register.

He took paper money and checks but did not want the change, police reported.

Then he ran out of the store.

Soviets Launch Cluster Of Orbiters

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government announced today it had launched a cluster of eight unmanned Cosmos satellites with a single carrier rocket.

It was the ninth time in three years that the Soviets reported sending up a cluster of satellites in the Cosmos series that is used for a wide range of Soviet space experiments.

Western experts say the cluster shots may be tests simulating the orbiting of multiple target missiles.

Midland Gets Ninth Lions Organization

A new Lions Club, Midland County's ninth, was organized Tuesday night at Greenwood.

It is sponsored by the Midland Southside Lions Club, with Ken Peeler of that club and Zone Chairman Paul Boseman of the Midland Evening Lions Club taking the lead in the project.

Chris King was elected president of the new chapter and Bob Graham, secretary. Bud Lee was named charter night chairman.

Twenty charter members attended the organizational session, held in the Greenwood School cafeteria.

Date of a charter night banquet will be announced later.

The Greenwood Lions Club will meet twice a month for the time being, King said.

District Gov. Tom Nipp of Midland, who attended the meeting, said his West Texas district (2-A1) now has 65 clubs.

Other distinguished guests attending the session included Mayor Cecil Bridges of Stanton, district extension chairman; Deputy District Gov. Jim Lemmons of Big Spring, and Ed Skypala of Austin, state Lions secretary and Lions International's state extension chairman.

The other Midland County clubs are Midland Downtown, Westside, Terminal, Southside, Eastside, Morning, Evening and Tall City.

LIONS QUEEN—Cathy Upchurch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Upchurch of 3517 Wadley St., is the Terminal Lions Club queen. The 16-year-old Lee High School sophomore will compete in the District 2-A1 Lions queen contest May 17-18 in Big Spring.

Thursday Deadline For Nominations

Thursday is the deadline for Midland Countyans to get in their nominations for Lawman of the Year, an award the Optimist clubs here will present during a dinner at Ranchland Hills Country Club Tuesday.

Any law enforcement officer, judge or attorney may be nominated.

Nomination forms are available in each of Midland's four banks and letters of nominations also may be used.

The letters should contain the name and agency of the nominee, the reason for his being nominated and the name and phone number of the person making the nomination.

The forms and letters should be mailed to Optimist Respect of Law Program, P.O. Box 3118, Midland 79701.

Odessa Chess Club Wins Area Match

ODESSA — The Odessa Chess Club came up the victors Sunday in a match with the Midland Chess Club at Odessa College.

Odessa players won six games, lost four and drew two games.

Bill McCarty and Barry Marble each won two games. State champion Nathan Cyert won one game and drew one game.

Too Much Politics, Not Enough Agriculture, Candidate Says

By TOM MORAN

There is too much politics and not enough agriculture in the Texas Department of Agriculture, Herbert A. "Peanut" Schroeder, candidate for Texas Agriculture Commissioner, said today.

"I just came from the Valley," the Democratic candidate said. "People there are concerned that the state department of agriculture has forgotten them."

The votes are in the five largest counties, he explained, contending that incumbent commissioner John C. White spends too much time there.

Schroeder, Colorado County school superintendent, is attempting to unseat White in the May 4 Democratic primary. He is a graduate of Texas A&M University and a former vocational agriculture teacher.

White does not want to change, Schroeder charged.

"The state department needs to be updated with a new outlook. If a man plows with a double shovel now, he's outdated."

Schroeder said he will press for laws limiting the amount of land aliens can hold in this country.

"Good productive farm land is going for $3,000 per acre in Japan," he explained. "Foreigners are coming to the United States and purchasing our most productive land. Products from that land are then exported for higher prices than those paid in America, causing shortages here, he said.

Current high food prices were caused by shipping much of our wheat overseas, he emphasized. "You have to have exports but they must be controlled so that we can meet our needs."

Production of agricultural products here must be raised to meet domestic needs and create surpluses.

"We have got to have a surplus of everything. We should have at least one year's supply of all food crops."

One of the best ways to raise productivity is to increase water supplies, he said.

"I live two blocks from the Colorado River," the Columbus resident said. "Tons and tons of water run down that river every day. Water could be stored and piped to areas which need it."

Land should be taxed according to its use, Schroeder continued. "If you and I are in the business of farming the value of the land should be set on its value as farm land."

"You don't want to tax the farmer out of business or we will have shortages," he said. "When the food shortage becomes critical the people will be concerned with the man that can produce food."

Council Denies Zoning Request

Gene Robinson, 6 Bristol Court, brought up the charge of "spot zoning," saying a change in neighborhood conditions is necessary to allow the rezoning.

John Redfern, 2506 Sinclair St., who, along with Smith, has been most active in the public protests, said the rezoning "would lead to further relaxation along Golf Course." He charged potential buyers would be afraid to purchase homes along Golf Course if such a change was granted.

In rebuttal, De Michele said Golf Course Road has become a main thoroughfare since many of the homes in the area were built. He also noted duplexes on Wadley Street have improved the area.

De Michele said all the residents behind the proposed zone change are in favor of the change and, "I don't see how persons living a mile or two away are involved."

In moving to deny the request, Councilman Robert Holt requested the city staff to make a study of vacant land along Golf Course Road from Garfield Street to Midkiff Street to determine the best use of the properties.

Holt said he hopes the vacant land doesn't remain vacant for the next 15 years, although he said he would oppose laundromats or filling stations along the street. He also noted he would favor residential units other than single family in some places along Golf Course Road.

Holt said many persons do favor other type residential development along Golf Course Road, although usually only those opposed appear before the council.

In other action, the council approved a preliminary plat presented by developer Bill Hickey for land along the south side of Sinclair Street at the intersection of Lanham Road.

In recent weeks, the council had turned down a request for the entire block to be used for townhouses, although Hickey had planned to build a row of houses in the area he wants replatted.

The replat will make six lots of 10,000 square feet each out of the current five lots. He said he intends to build single-family homes on the lots.

Opposes Replat

Redfern said he opposes the replat because the rest of the block has not been platted. "We don't know if the plat will allow one family development of the rest of the block," Redfern stated. He also raised several questions about the plat, all of which were answered by the council.

In response, Hickey angrily said he "resents the constant harassment of Mr. Redfern."

The replat will go back to the Planning and Zoning Commission for final approval at the May 6 meeting.

In other action, the council:

— Agreed to purchase workman's compensation insurance through a local agency rather than join a Texas Municipal League workman's compensation fund.

— Approved on first reading a request by Maurice Taylor Jr. to rezone 200 N. Lee St. from LR (local retail) to SU (specific use) for on-premise consumption of alcoholic beverages — restaurant — bar — dancing.

— Approved on first reading a request by Johnny L. Musick to rezone 2409 Garden City

Highway from C-3 (commercial) to SU (specific use) for on-premise consumption of alcoholic beverages.

— Approved on first reading a request by Norman Maberry to rezone 809 Raymond St. from R-2 (single family) to SU (specific use) for a day nursery for no more than six children.

— Set May 28 as the date for public hearings on annexation of land on North Midkiff Street just south and just north of FM 868.

— Changed the speed limit on second reading on Big Spring Street at its intersection with Dormard Street, to 30 m.p.h., and at its intersection with Hicks Street, to 25 m.p.h.

— Approved on first reading allowing continuous left-hand turn lane on Wadley Street between Godfrey Street and North I Street.

— Agreed to allow Park Center YMCA use Hidalgo Park for a rummage sale May 4 and May 5.

— Agreed to let the Permal Basin 'B'nai B'rith sponsor amusement rides May 7 through May 13 on vacant land next to Skaggs-Albertson.

— Renewed the annual insurance premium on the city vehicles for $15,227.

— Executed a two-year lease with Perlite Industries for land at Air Terminal.

— Agreed to extend the city water line on North A Street north of Wadley Street, with the Unitarian Church on North A Street paying half the construction costs.

— Decided to require a $1,000 bond from building contractors to cover any possible damage to city property.

— Agreed to spend no more than $725 to purchase new furniture for City Judge Bill Ahders' office.

— Denied a request by Wagner Thomas to put in a mobile home behind his funeral home.

Critics Of Winter DST Are Increasing, Harris Poll Shows

NEW YORK (AP) — Critics of winter Daylight Saving Time more than double the number of supporters of the energy crisis inspired law, according to a Louis Harris survey.

A nationwide sampling of 1,495 families was asked last month if they thought the law establishing mandatory year around "fast time" was a good or bad decision.

Forty-three per cent felt it was a bad idea, Harris said. Nineteen per cent called it a good decision and 32 per cent said it was "neither good nor bad." Six per cent were unsure.

Harris said opposition to the law was heaviest in the agricultural areas of the Midwest and South, where farmers often had to begin their winter workdays in total darkness. The most support was reported in the big cities of the East and West coasts.

Most of those criticizing the change expressed fears for children bound for school in the predawn darkness. A large number also said increased use of electricity and fuel in the morning more than offset energy savings later in the day.

Administration Plans To Seek Indochina Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration will ask Congress to authorize more than $2.340 billion in military and economic aid for Indochina in the 1975 fiscal year beginning July 1, according to sources.

The assistance program will include an estimated $1.650 billion for Vietnam, $551 million for Cambodia and $143 million for Laos, the sources said.

At the same time, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said that Congress wants a long-range administration plan for aid to South Vietnam that would include a timetable for phasing out U.S. assistance.

A Humphrey amendment proposing this was adopted by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee as an amendment to the State Department appropriation bill.

Seniors' Parents Invited To Meeting On Thursday Night

Parents of graduating seniors of both Midland and Lee high schools are invited and urged to attend a special meeting scheduled at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Lee Youth Center.

Plans for the seniors' annual all-night graduation party will be finalized at the session.

Wilbur Yeager, chairman, in announcing the meeting, said it is urgent that as many parents as possible attend. The cooperation of parents in planning and staging the event is essential in order to assure its success, he added.

Police Making Little Headway In Burglaries

Police still are investigating several large burglaries which occurred here recently but aren't making much headway, Lt. Earl Luckey said this morning.

There are no leads in the house burglary at the home of Mrs. Bennie Sue Thomas, 2001 Bedford St., from which thousands of dollars worth of jewelry and prized art were taken during the Easter weekend.

While there still are no clues to the identity of the thieves or the whereabouts of the property taken in burglaries at the Gary Askins home, 3302 W. Golf Course Road, or the Boyd Laughlin-owned house at 914 Bedford St. last weekend, officers learned that some of the property reported taken in one of them was not taken.

Legislature Candidate Is Murdered

HOUSTON (AP) — A hidden killer lay in wait for legislature candidate Jack Dale Waite, 41, and killed him after he returned home late Tuesday night, police said.

Neighbors heard shots and summoned officers. They found the body of Waite, shot in the head and back, lying in a northwest Houston street.

Waite was unopposed in the Republican primary for a nomination for state representative. He was defeated in a city council race last year. Aside from politics, he was a real estate man and an advertising firm executive.

Police gave these details:

Someone broke a back window, entered Waite's house and waited until he arrived about 11 p.m. They apparently handcuffed him, as indicated by marks on his wrists, and beat him about the head before he broke free and ran about 225 feet down the street.

Pistol bullets dropped him outside an oil tool plant. Officers said there apparently were no witnesses and their lone clue was an empty pistol casing.

House Committee Votes To Roll Back Price Of Crude Oil

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Commerce Committee has voted to roll back to pre-Arab embargo levels the price of about 80 per cent of the energy measure, the panel also approved Tuesday an amendment that would impose a more stringent system of price controls on imported crude oil produced in the United States.

The Nixon administration has said, however, it no longer wants an emergency energy bill. Addition of the two pricing amendments was viewed as sharply hurting chances that the standby measure will ever become law.

If the rollback should become law, it would result in lower prices for gasoline and other petroleum products.

The price rollback amendment, adopted by a 14-12 vote, is similar though not identical to a provision which spurred President Nixon to veto the original emergency energy bill March 6.

Rep. Bob Eckhardt, D-Tex., who sponsored the amendment, said it was aimed to counter Nixon's objections by retaining sufficient price incentives to encourage exploration for new oil supplies.

The provision would roll back the price of domestic oil to levels of November 1973 at the start of the Arab oil embargo, which aggravated an accelerating upsurge in oil prices.

Exempted from the rollback would be oil from so-called stripper wells producing less than 10 barrels a day, as well as new oil discovered by companies producing less than 18,400 barrels a day.

For most domestic oil, the Eckhardt amendment would reduce prices from the current $5.25 per barrel to $4.25. Prices for so-called new oil, produced in excess of 1972 levels, would be rolled back from about $10 per barrel to $6.17.

Controls on imported oil prices would be stiffened under an amendment by Rep. Brock Adams, D-Wash., which the committee approved by an 18-9 vote.

The Adams amendment would prohibit American oil companies from passing on to consumers any increases in taxes and royalties levied by foreign countries which the companies subsequently deduct from their U.S. income tax.

Adams said the provision was thus intended to eliminate a current practice known as "double-dipping."

In introducing their amendments, Adams and Eckhardt cited first-quarter financial reports which showed that Gulf Oil Corp. and Standard Oil of Indiana netted profits more than 75 per cent higher than a year ago.

Meanwhile, the American Automobile Association said its latest weekly spot check of 6,152 service stations showed the situation with gasoline availability has "generally stabilized."

According to the AAA survey, 2 per cent of the stations checked were out of gasoline, the same as a week before.

Also remaining the same were average gasoline prices—54 cents a gallon for regular and 58 cents for premium.

The AAA said 83 per cent of the stations were pumping gas after noon on Saturday and 33 per cent were open on Sunday, representing a 2 per cent gain in both categories from the previous week.

Ex-Associate Of 'Kidnaped' Banker Says Dantzler Took Losses Last Year

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A former business associate of Albert L. Dantzler, a bank official who says he was kidnaped for $80,000 ransom, says Dantzler suffered a heavy financial setback last year. A police source said Dantzler is being investigated for extortion.

Larry L. Van Dusseldorp said Tuesday that he and Dantzler "both took a substantial loss" last July when a private mail delivery firm they invested in went out of business.

Van Dusseldorp's statement came after the police source said Tuesday that Dantzler was being investigated in connection with a possible extortion hoax in the case.

"All I can say is we are looking into every possibility," was the only comment FBI agent Elie Scott of Miami would make about about the report. The FBI is investigating the alleged weekend kidnaping.

A source close to the inquiry, who asked that his identity not be revealed, said "Dantzler is the subject of a criminal investigation."

Dantzler could not be reached for comment.

Dantzler, an assistant vice president of City National Bank in Hallandale, about 20 miles north of Miami, called his office last Friday morning and said he was being held for $80,000.

Police said a dummy ransom package with a note asking the alleged abductors for more time was delivered according to the instructions Dantzler said his kidnapers had given him. It was never picked up.

Dantzler was found early Saturday in a residential beach-front section of Fort Lauderdale. He was wet but otherwise unharmed.

He told police he was abducted Thursday evening and was taken to sea in a small boat late Friday. He said he escaped his kidnapers by jumping into the Atlantic and swimming for hours to reach shore.

A Fort Lauderdale police officer said salt deposits on Dantzler's car, discovered Saturday nine blocks from where the banker was found, indicated that the car could not have been there for more than a few hours.

Man Missing 27 Years Found In Storage Room Of Funeral Home

SPARTANBURG, S.C. (AP)—Martha Evans had heard the story about an embalmed body being kept in the second-floor storage room of the Woodward Funeral Home. So when she brought a beautician to do the hair of a deceased friend, she asked to see it.

"Oh, my God, it's Bellhouse," she shrieked.

Bellhouse was the family nickname for her brother-in-law, James Evans, who had been missing for 27 years. He was a migrant worker in the peach and apple orchards and farms along the East Coast.

His wife, Luita Mae, now of Cranford, N.J., and the rest of the family had searched for him from Florida northward.

But it was Mrs. Evans who found him—embalmed and dressed in a black suit, white shirt, black tie and hat, standing upright under a sheet in the corner of the storage room. She discovered the body in January, but details weren't made public until she granted an interview on Tuesday.

A funeral is planned July 27, long enough away to allow Evans' wife and seven children to make arrangements to be present from New Jersey, Texas and California.

Officials said Evans died near Spartanburg 3½ years ago at the age of 80. But they said no one in the family knew of the death because he had been using the alias William Bryant.

No one claimed the body at the Spartanburg General Hospital and so it was transferred to the funeral home and embalmed. Officials there tried through newspapers and radio stations to find someone to claim it, but got no response.

The executive director of the South Carolina Funeral Directors Association, W. O. Folk, said the funeral home broke no law by allowing the body to remain unburied for so long.

"It was convenient for us" to put it in the storage room, the funeral home manager said. "It was out of the way, and nobody was stumbling over it."

Federal Appeals Court Ruling Is Awaited On San Antonio Expressway

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — There was no indication today when a federal appeals court will rule on a controversial San Antonio, Tex., expressway whose completion has been stalled in court battles for 10 years.

In arguments before the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals Tuesday, federal and state lawyers claimed Congress has exempted the half-finished roadway from federal environmental laws.

Opponents to the project have asked for federal supervision on it on grounds that it will cause serious damage to Olmos Park and Brackenridge Park, through which it is blueprinted, if the State of Texas is permitted to control the project.

The latest appeal is new litigation which followed after President Nixon signed a bill to remove the project from federal hands.

"Congress specifically exempted this road from federal standards," testified Judith Feigan, representing the U.S. Justice Department.

In August 1973, Nixon signed the Federal Aid Highway Act, which provided that the San Antonio Expressway would cease to become a federal project if Texas returned the highway's federal funding.

Texas did so, and claims the road is now a state project.

"It's inconceivable that Congress at this point in time intends this highway to be tied up with an environmental impact statement," added Samuel D. McDaniel, representing the Texas Highway Department.

"There is no limitation on the power of Congress to give an absolute gift to one citizen—or to the City of San Antonio," Presiding Justice Elbert Parr Tuttle told attorney John Vardaman, representing the environmentalists.

But Vardaman insisted the stretch of highway through the park was still a federal project, even though no federal funds are involved.

"Where you have one short, essential link of highway designated as a state highway, surrounded on both sides by federal highways, you can not avoid federal environmental laws by terming it a state highway," he argued.

Borax has many uses.

'Realtor Week'

President Calvin Coolidge once said, "The ownership of a home, the feeling of independence that comes with the possession of a bit of earth are among the most powerful incentives to high civic interest and usefulness."

His words ring just as true today as they did when he voiced them.

The protection of private property goes hand-in-hand with ownership in importance, particularly in this day and age when there are those who challenge the right of real property ownership.

Ownership of real property and the protection thereof focuses attention on the Realtors of the community, state and nation. They advocate ownership of property and they strive continually to protect the right of ownership.

This, in turn, reminds that this happens to be Realtor Week, with the annual event being observed here and elsewhere across the state and nation.

Midlanders in particular are mindful of the tremendous role which Midland Realtors have played and are playing in the growth and development of the Tall City.

The Midland Board of Realtors and its individual members have labored diligently in the upbuilding of the city along substantial lines and in keeping with sound economic practices. They have cooperated with the Midland Chamber of Commerce, the Industrial Foundation of Midland, Inc., and other groups in the building of a better community. They perform many and varied services benefiting the community and its residents.

Right now, Realtors of the Tall City are busily engaged in aiding newcomers and others in finding and acquiring suitable housing here. The demand for residential property is said to be greater than it has been for a long time.

The board's operations, of course, include the popular "Multiple Listing Service" which joins a number of Realtor firms together in a cooperative effort to better serve the public.

It is noteworthy that only members of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and its state and local affiliates may use the term Realtor, indicating that they are professionals in real estate who subscribe to a strict code of ethics.

Midland Realtors are busy, yes, but they have planned several events in keeping with the Realtor Week observance.

Midlanders salute the city's Realtors on this occasion and wish them well in the future.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: Mafia taking a beating from Justice Department and courts. WASHINGTON—As evidence perhaps of the cynicism about corruption in high places, we frequently are asked whether the Mafia really is manipulating the government from behind the scenes.

We have responded that the Mafia has no influence in Washington, that the Justice Department's task forces have been cracking down on organized crime. Now we have seen evidence in a secret General Accounting Office report that the courts, too, have been harsh on Mafia mobsters.

The roster of crime lords, who have wound up in federal prisons, should lay to rest any idea that Mafia membership pays. More than 800, including some prominent "godfathers," have drawn prison sentences since 1969.

To cite a couple of examples, a kingly of the "French connection," Auguste Ricord, is sitting out his life in a federal penitentiary. Another top Mafioso, Aniello Dellacroce, just finished an income-tax sentence in the Atlanta pen. A few days before his release, another Mafioso leader, Frank Valenti, was locked behind federal bars.

The GAO study shows that, despite high-priced lawyers and highly placed friends, a crime syndicate figure can count on going to jail after conviction 54 per cent of the time, compared with 49 per cent of ordinary criminals.

Longer Sentences Not surprisingly, the syndicate mobsters come before federal judges for sentencing most often on charges of extortion, racketeering, threats, gambling, embezzlement and fraud. For these crimes, Cosa Nostra criminals get longer sentences than do garden variety hoodlums.

For non-Mafia criminals, an average sentence for embezzlement and fraud is 18 months. But for a Mafia man it is 28 months. For the other crimes, a common hoodlum averages 35 months, the syndicate criminal 41 months.

On narcotics convictions, the syndicate pushers get an average of eight years compared to six for non-Mafia peddlers. Theft and immigration charges also bring longer sentences for organized criminals.

Nowhere in the federal crime spectrum, with the possible exception of assaults, do Mafia mobsters get a better break than common criminals.

Footnote: Rep. Charles Rangel, D-N.Y., who requested the GAO study, has feared that federal sentences for the Mafia might be light, as appears to be the case in some state courts. A few state judges, particularly in New York, seem lenient on crime syndicate figures. But in contrast, the federal courts in New York have been even tougher on the crime lords than the national average. On narcotics, for example, Brooklyn federal judges are the roughest in the land.

WASHINGTON WHIRL: Sources who have listened to the White House tapes say they were shocked at President Nixon's sources have reported, Connally was complaining that he had to borrow money to avoid selling off investments. His low government salary wasn't enough, he grumped, to keep up with his high living expenses.

The Federal Energy Office has become afflicted with the secrecy mania although it doesn't deal with security matter. Until FEO can buy its own shredders, burners and what not, its employees have been instructed to deposit their secret trash in a central vault.

An internal memo directs them to deliver the trash in "burn bags" which "must be sealed and marked to identify the specific element from which it comes. . . . Items such as cans, bottles, lunch bags and other routine trash must not be put in the burn bag."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY (Newspaper Editor's Association) Some 40 years ago the late Ely Culbertson said, "When a hand belongs in six and I am shown all the cards, the

The first comes from Oswald, who says that 40 years ago he and Dave Bruce would have reached six because North would have gone to six clubs after South jumped to five. We didn't have too much science then, but whichever one of us sat North would have decided the singleton diamond was what the doctor ordered.

TIMELY QUOTES

"Frankly, it makes me a little angry. We had the Lippizaner stallions here, open to everyone, and only drew 2,500 people in a 16,000-seat stadium. We showed Chaplin's 'Modern Times' and 100 showed up. Then we booked a Swedish porno film and filled the house for two shows. . . . so we asked ourselves, 'What do people want to see?'" — Philip Rawls, head of the University of Alabama Program Council and sponsor of an officially sanctioned "Sex Week" on the campus.

RAY CROMLEY Does Yugoslavia Play Both Sides? Well, Now . . .

WASHINGTON (NEA)—U.S. analysts were amazed at the effectiveness of Soviet weapons tested in last fall's Arab-Israeli war. But what has shocked them more is the discovery that essential components of some of the most advanced Red weapons systems clearly reached Russian designers through a series of U.S. and West European security leaks.

This discovery serves as a most worrisome portent for our future safety. The Russian buildup of recent years makes effective U.S. defense dependent on staying comfortably ahead technologically, a lead which cannot be maintained if the Russians have ready access to our latest discoveries.

Ironically, the leaks were not developed through the ingenuity of Russian agents. Rather, the critical new devices were virtually handed the Russians for free as a result of major mistakes by analysts of East European countries and because of some wishful Washington thinking as to what motivates the leaders of Yugoslavia and other East European nations.

To understand the problem, we must go back roughly two decades to when the Yugoslavs "broke" with the USSR, and the United States thereupon began a daring experiment in foreign aid.

The resulting U.S. support of Yugoslavia since has burgeoned into billions of dollars of direct and indirect assistance. The United States has gone so far as to train Yugoslav pilots and other military officers and technicians. And with the blessings of the State Department, and the Pentagon, American companies have delivered the Yugoslavs advanced prototype weapons banned for sale to the Russians and Chinese.

The theory was that nationalism is stronger than communism, and that if it came to a showdown, the Yugoslavs would put their own interest before those of Moscow and would resist Russian aggression.

In the shaky world of these past two decades, this seemed a sound investment to both American conservatives and liberals. A conservative hardliner, in fact, conceived the program. Recently, however, a sense of shock has spread through those Communist watchers who deal with the most sensitive of technical material. Convincing evidence is now at hand that Yugoslavia is serving as a conduit through which Moscow secures Western military secrets. As a result, at least one U.S. firm has recently cancelled a highly profitable deal with the Yugoslavs and another has refused any business with them.

The Yugoslavs have made much of their "defiance" of the Russians and their role as a leader of the "neutralist" nations. After the Russian invasion of Czechoslovakia, the Yugoslavs reorganized their forces, set up an area defense system, and ordered local troops to continue fighting as guerrillas if Russia should capture the country and force the central government to declare resistance at an end: Marshall Tito himself told Americans this reorganization was intended to insure Yugoslavia would not suffer the fate of East Germany, Hungary and Czechoslovakia at Russian hands.

The Yugoslavs have been furnished with a variety of weapons of types needed by a small country if it is to effectively resist aggression by a large neighbor. Some of the weapons systems and equipment were so advanced that in the hands of determined men they could make a Soviet invasion exceedingly costly — perhaps prohibitively so.

In all this, it was essential for Yugoslav defense to make certain these weapons and this equipment did not fall into Russian hands. What has been discovered, however, is that before the ink was dry on the contracts, these secret arms and equipment essential, remember, to Yugoslav defense, were in the hands of the Russians. Some of this equipment came from

Dear Editor: I see where the Treasury Employees Union boss says an IRS agent is likely to get fired if he audits a taxpayer's returns and finds he doesn't owe any more.

My twice-jeopardized neighbor says he is sorry he imperiled the nice agent who called on him each time by having made out an honest return.

And he figures that Mr. Nixon wasn't trying to avoid any taxes due, but was just setting up to get some career tax examiners promoted by leaving something big for them to find. D. E. SCOTT Crossroads, U.S.A.

DON OAKLEY The IRS Considers It A Presidential 'Gift'

WASHINGTON (NEA) — According to Arthur Blech, President Nixon's tax lawyer, the President may not have to pay any taxes at all on his 1974 income or very little in taxes.

The reason is that, although Mr. Nixon has agreed to pay the entire IRS assessment of some $476,000 on his income for the years 1969 through 1973, the statute of limitations has run out for 1969.

Thus the 1969 part of his payment, which accounts for the bulk of his tax bill, could be considered a gift to the government. The IRS allows a taxpayer to deduct such gifts up to 50 per cent of his adjusted gross income.

This means that if the President earns as much in 1974 as he did in 1973 — $250,000 in salary and expense account plus $18,000 from other sources — he could deduct $134,000.

"The man is entitled to the deduction," says Blech. In addition to this, the President could write off $32,000 in interest on his unpaid back taxes, $65,000 in interest on mortgages and other loans, $24,000 in property taxes and $23,000 in fees for his tax lawyer.

So there's a bright side to everything. And that gift of $134,000 would certainly be appreciated by the American public.

Official Tells Truckers Fuel Prices Won't Be Rolled Back

PHARR, Tex. (AP) — Several hundred angry truckers stalked out of a meeting Tuesday night after a federal government official told them. "The price of fuel is not going to be rolled back, no matter what."

Millard Holden, president of the Independent Produce Haulers Association, said he hopes the truckers will not stage a planned nationwide shutdown May 13, but a trucker from the Midwest said the shutdown will occur.

Bud Adams of Fredericktown, Mo., regional vice president of the Midwest Independent Truckers Association, said the truckers will hold a statewide meeting in early May before making a final decision on the shutdown, but it will occur unless fuel prices are rolled back.

John W. Snow, deputy assistant secretary of the Transportation Department, told about 300 truckers he believes the government has made progress in attempts to solve the problems facing them. "It was a nice speech, but I don't think you said a damned thing to help these truckers." His remark was greeted by applause and shouts. "The big oil companies are making billions while the truckers are going broke," Tipton continued. "The independent truckers are being raped by the federal government and the oil companies." More applause and shouting came from the rapidly dwindling audience. Holden was virtually shouted down as he told the truckers, "The shippers in the Lower Rio Grande Valley (of Texas) are doing more than their part."

He added, "We've got to all work together," but not many heard the remark. Willis Deines, executive vice president of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers Association, urged the truckers to cooperate with growers and avert a shutdown.

Chicken, Eggs Could Be Food Bargain Of Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eggs and poultry meat could wind up as major supermarket food bargains of the year if chicken and poultry prices continue to fall, according to the Agriculture Department.

Production is picking up this spring, meaning that prices of eggs and chickens at the farm will be much lower than the records set last year, the department's Outlook and Situation Board said Tuesday.

Already there are signs of substantial price reductions at retail counters.

"Egg prices are expected to average below year-earlier levels this spring," the board said. "Prices will rise seasonally in the summer and fall but will average well below the high levels of 1973."

Although the nation's hens shelled out fewer eggs last month than they did in March 1973, officials predict output probably will rise by late spring and exceed year-earlier levels for the rest of 1974.

Broiler chicken output, which surged 7 per cent above a year earlier during the first quarter, is expected to slow its gain in the coming months, the report said. Officials added that other factors such as feed prices and red meat production will weigh heavily on broiler output after midyear.

"With the recent declines in feed ingredient prices, the profitability of broiler production will improve and may result in expanded output," the report said.

"Increasing red meat supplies this summer will dampen the normal seasonal increase in broiler prices. They may rise only slightly from spring levels and average well below a year earlier."

The report said wholesale egg prices tumbled from 73 cents per dozen in early February to 57 cents by late March. By April 18, it said, wholesale egg prices averaged 47 cents.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, store prices of Grade A large eggs in March averaged 85.5 cents per dozen nationally. That was down sharply from February's 94.6

Court Reverses Hiring Decision

CHICAGO (AP) — The 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has reversed a 1973 U.S. District Court ruling that ordered Greyhound Lines, the nation's largest bus company, to hire drivers between the ages of 40 and 65.

The three-judge panel said Tuesday the company's previous policy of hiring new drivers only between the ages of 24 and 39 was an "occupational qualification reasonably necessary to the normal operation of its business."

The panel concurred with Greyhound's argument that the "impact of the aging process will be magnified by the rigorous physical and mental demands... to which all new drivers between the ages of 40 and 65 would be assigned under its seniority system."

Russians Send Syrians More MIG Jet Fighters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Russians have sent Syria more MIG jet fighters to bolster its air force in the growing air war along the Golan Heights, U.S. intelligence sources say. They said Soviet merchant ships unloaded 12 crated MIG21s recently at the port of Latakia, along with other military equipment. These were reported to have been the first Russian fighters delivered to Syria in nearly two months. The vessels bearing the MIGs arrived before Syrian and Soviet leaders announced last week that Russia will increase military aid to the Damascus government.

Quarter Horse Show Scheduled In Andrews Arena

ANDREWS — The Andrews County Quarter Horse Show will be held Saturday and Sunday in the arena north of the city. The show starts at 9 a.m. Saturday with the halter and performance classes. Youth classes start at 2 p.m. The junior, senior and youth cutting will be at 1 p.m. Sunday. Following this will be an approved cutting show sponsored by the Texas and New Mexico Cutting Horse Association.

Show manager will be Dave Dunn of Andrews and the judge will be Jesse Head of Seguin. Fees include $10 for halter and performance classes, plus $5 jackpot. Fees for the cutting will be $14.50 plus $13 jackpot. Youth classes will be $5 each, except for youth cutting which carries a fee of $10.50.

Grand champion and reserve champion trophies will be presented along with an all-around trophy for high point youth. Trophies also will be given the top six places in each event. Entries will be accepted on Saturday morning.

—A 3,500-man Moroccan infantry brigade is expected to move home from Egypt by air and sea before the end of April. The brigade, with 30 tanks and artillery, arrived in Egypt during the October war. Another 2,000 Moroccan soldiers still are in Syria.

—Two fast missile-armed Israeli boats have been sent on a long voyage around Africa to the Red Sea, reportedly to prevent any reinstatement of an Egyptian naval blockade there.

—A Soviet cargo ship carrying two Osa class missile-firing boats have been sighted heading for Iraq. This will bring to six the number of such powerful Russian-built craft supplied for Iraqi naval operations in the important Persian Gulf.

U.S. military experts calculate the Russians have sent Syria at least 30,000 tons of weapons, ammunition and other military supplies since last November. This came on top of an estimated 60,000 tons delivered during and shortly after the 19-day war.

Dear Abby

Priest Unloads Own Woes At Confession

—By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I can't receive a personal reply because my mother has the habit of "accidentally" opening my mail. I'm a 25-year-old widow. My husband died last year, and I'm back home living with my parents.

I attend church regularly. A month ago, during confession, the priest, who's about my age, suddenly said: "You people think YOU'VE got trouble — what about me?" Then he started to unload all his problems on me. I felt utterly helpless and ill-equipped to listen to him. I told him I sympathized with him, and then I left. The next time I went to confession, he did the same thing, only this time he got very emotional and broke down and cried.

I really like this priest, and don't want to get him into trouble with the church, but I dread going to confession again. He seems perfectly all right otherwise, but there must be something wrong with him. HOW CAN I help him?

DEAR HELPLESS: You can urge him to see a doctor. Like any other man, a priest can have a nervous breakdown, and it appears that that is what is happening to him.

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with this gentleman for six years. We both lost our mates, and we seem well suited for each other. He says he wants to marry me EXCEPT he loves his lovely old home and garden and will not leave it. I also have a lovely home, which I would have to give up, but

CONFIDENTIAL TO E. M.: "He who cannot forgive others, breaks the bridge over which he himself must pass if he would ever reach heaven; for everyone has need to be forgiven." (Herbert)

Problems: You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Murder Charges Filed Against Two In Robbery, Torture, Slaying Case

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — Homicide charges have been filed against two young Air Force men in connection with a robbery-slaying case in which five persons were beaten, tortured and shot. Three died.

The two Hill Air Force Base airmen, Dale S. Pierre, 21, and William A. Andrews, 20, were arrested Tuesday night, Ogden Police Chief LeRoy Jacobsen said.

Pierre is from the Caribbean nation of Trinidad, and Andrews is from Jonesboro, La.

Jacobsen said officers found belongings of some of the victims of the Monday night robbery-slaying at the Hi-Fi Shop in Ogden in a trash receptacle near the Hill AFB dormitory where Pierre and Andrews were seized without resistance. He did not elaborate.

Jacobsen and Detective Capt. Robert Warren said none of the $24,000 worth of stereo equipment taken in the robbery was recovered.

They said Pierre and Andrews were arrested on the basis of a description given by one of the victims, who had been shot, fed a caustic liquid and had a ballpoint pen forced into his ear.

"It apparently started as a robbery. It appeared a guy went bananas," said Police Lt. Edwin Hymas.

Two men bound and shot four employees of the Hi-Fi Shop, then wounded the father of one of the victims when he went to the shop to find out why his son had not returned home, officers said.

Courtney Naisbitt, 16, son of Mrs. Byron Naisbitt, who was killed, remained in critical condition with a head wound and other injuries.

Orren W. Walker, 43, father of Stanley O. Walker, 20, who was also killed, was reported in satisfactory condition with superficial gunshot wounds and a punctured eardrum received when one of the assailants forced a ballpoint pen into his ear.

The third person killed was Michelle Ainsley, 18. An autopsy showed she had been raped.

The autopsy report also said Miss Ainsley, Mrs. Naisbitt and Stanley Walker had been killed by gunshot wounds in the back of the head and that their bodies revealed traces of a caustic liquid they apparently had been forced to swallow.

PICKETS STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING—One of about a dozen protesters holds a sign outside the annual meeting of Gulf Oil Corp. in Pittsburgh Tuesday as stockholders head for the meeting. The giant oil firm announced its earnings for the first quarter of 1974 rose 76 per cent over the same period last year. The dissenters said they were protesting Gulf's paying $91 million in taxes and royalties to the Portuguese government, which is fighting rebels in Angola. (AP Wirephoto.)

Federal Court Tackles Issue Of Police Policy In Hunt For Zebra Killer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal court today tackles the issue of the city police department's stop-and-search policy in the hunt for one or more black killers believed to have randomly slain 12 whites.

Two lawsuits have been filed to halt the searches being carried out in Operation Zebra, the code name of the case derived from the "Z" radio channel used by police.

The first, filed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, asks U.S. District Judge Alfonso Zirpoli to issue an injunction halting the searches.

The second, filed by the American Civil Liberties Union, asks the court to rule the stop-and-search tactic unconstitutional.

The city has been ordered to show cause why it shouldn't be prohibited from conducting the searches and was expected to defend its policy in court today.

Meanwhile, a special detachment of 30 plain-clothed black officers was sent into the streets to ferret out clues in the Zebra case.

"This is a special, predominantly black unit assigned with particular emphasis on getting intelligence from information sources we might not be able to contact otherwise," said Lt. William O'Connor.

The Zebra killings began last November and have resulted in 12 deaths and six persons wounded. The victims were gunned down without apparent motive, police say.

Mayor Joseph Alioto insisted Tuesday the street searches are constitutional and have been used as a "regular police practice" in other hunts for dangerous criminals.

The mayor, who said he would abide by a federal court ruling, told a news conference the searches will continue as long as Police Chief Donald Scott believes they have value.

By Tuesday night some 500 black men had been stopped, questioned up to several hours and then released.

Panel Is Delaying Action On President's Homes Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House committee is delaying for two weeks action on a controversial draft report that concluded the federal government has spent $17 million on President Nixon's homes.

Chairman Chet Holifield, D-Calif., said Tuesday the Government Operations Committee will take up the subcommittee report May 7 after members have had a chance to examine a minority report by Republican Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., head of the subcommittee that approved the draft report, readily agreed to the delay.

"I believe it would be beneficial if we could get more support from the minority," Brooks said.

According to Brooks, the staff report concluded that $17 million, including all salaries and military costs, had been spent on the President's homes at San Clemente, Calif., and Key Biscayne, Fla.

Khmer Rouge Attacks Intensifying

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Khmer Rouge attacks were intensifying against the government force of about 2,500 men trapped at Longvek, 25 miles north of Phnom Penh, Cambodian army sources reported.

The sources said the garrison's ammunition was running out and the situation was critical.

"If supplies do not come soon, the garrison is going to fall," said a wounded survivor in Phnom Penh.

American and Cambodian planes were dropping supplies to the camp, and government helicopters were evacuating the wounded under the fire of the insurgents. But officials have said there is no way to rescue the bulk of the force from the territory for 10 miles or more on all sides of Longvek.

About 1,500 of the men escaped to Longvek last Sunday away on the Tonle Sap river which the government established in a futile attempt to recapture Oudong, the 17th century capital of the Khmer empire.

In Washington, sources said the Nixon administration will ask Congress to authorize more than $2.34 billion in military and economic aid to Indochina in the fiscal year beginning July 1. They said the program will include an estimated $1.65 billion for Vietnam, $551 million for Cambodia and $143 million for Laos.

Connally: No More To Say

AUSTIN (AP) — Former Treasury Sec. John Connally brushed aside questions about a reported $10,000 milk fund transaction prior to addressing a dinner for a retiring law school dean.

"It would be patently unfair to inject anything else into this program," said Connally Tuesday night. "Besides, I don't have anything to say that I haven't already said before."

Connally later indicated he might talk about reports of investigations against him during a visit to Dallas next week. He would not confirm his intentions, however.

CHICAGO (AP) — "For 60 minutes I was going one way and the puck was going the other way, and all of a sudden it was there," said Jim Pappin whose goal at 3:48 of a sudden-death overtime lifted the Chicago Black Hawks to a 4-3 victory over the Boston Bruins Tuesday night.

The triumph gave the Hawks, who were trailing 3-1 in the third period, a 2-1 edge in the best-of-seven semifinal round of the Stanley Cup playoff.

At 16:39 of the second period Boston made it 2-1 on a score by Gregg Sheppard and Ken Hodge's goal at 4:53 of the final period put the Bruins in what appeared to be a comfortable 3-1 lead.

Then came the Hawks' wily Stan Mikita. He scored at 11:38 to cut the lead and after the Hawks pulled goalie Tony Esposito in the final minute of regulation play, Mikita struck at 19:18 to send the game into overtime.

FINE WAY TO START SEASON — Bill Huisman rounds third base after smacking leadoff home run in Midland Cubs' 6-3 Texas League win Tuesday night. Looking on is third baseman Tom Smith.

By TED BATTLES
If Wayne Tyrone enjoys many more nights like this one, instead of marveling how much he resembles brother Jim, they'll be noting how much Jim looks like Wayne.

The younger Tyrone, following in the footsteps of Jim who played in Midland for two years, powered a three-run homer over the left field fence and supplied a run-scoring single as the Midland Cubs opened their Texas League home season with a 6-3 over the Amarillo Giants Tuesday night at Cubs Stadium.

John Montefusco took the loss and was chased to the showers in the fifth inning, something Manager Walt Dixon said didn't happen too many times when the E. Keanesburg, N.J., right-hander pitched for Decatur against Walt's Quincey club in the Midwest League last year.

After serving up Tyrone's homer in the second, Montefusco retired seven in a row, striking out the first two batters in the fourth. Then Bright doubled and scored on Tyrone's single to left. Steve Haug singled to right, scoring Tyrone and when Huisman singled to left, Manager Denny Somers went to his bullpen for David Fuqua.

Except for a long fly to center by Bill Droege in the fifth Midland couldn't get ball out of the infield against Fuqua, who finished up in hitless, runless fashion. Shortstop Ken Sotkiewicz had a sensational night afield, robbing Englert of a hit with a leaping stab of his liner in the first and then making Tyrone's three-run shot in the second made it 4-0, coming after Ron Matney's single and a walk to Bill Bright.

By the time the fifth inning rolled around, left-hander Budd Schultz, who didn't get by the second inning at San Antonio the other night, looked like a cinch to break his Cubs Stadium jinx of a year ago when he suffered a string of heart-tugging losses.

Steve Strouther led off with a double and then Scotty Wolfe lined a screaming shot off his left leg that caromed to the third base line. Budd left the game immediately, but x-rays showed no break. Budd failed to go the necessary five innings to qualify for the victory so it went to Mike Weiss, who earned it with five effective innings in relief.

"I never saw it," Schultz said of Wolfe's low liner. "But I sure felt it." Weiss walked R. J. Englert, the Texas Aggie grad from Big Spring, on four pitches and then with the bases loaded, fanned Mike Eden and Tom Smith. It looked like he would escape unscathed when two flashy plays in the third to bail Schultz out of trouble after the first two batters had reached first. The second led to an inning-ending double play when he rushed to the infield grass to glove Eden's bouncer over the mound.

Tyrone, starting at third in place of Joel Green, out with a pulled groin muscle, also came up with a couple of dandy plays.

CINCY STOPS CHICAGO—

Brock Robs Astros Blind

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer
Time hasn't caught up to Lou Brock yet — and neither has catcher Johnny Edwards.

The Houston catcher now knows how fast the 34-year-old Brock can cover the 90 feet between the bases — faster than he can throw. The St. Louis speedster tested Edwards' arm three times and three times the arm came in second as the Cards beat Houston 8-2.

Reds 5, Cubs 3
The Cubs ended Roger Nelson's no-hitter in the sixth and Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson ended his night in the seventh, lifting him for a pinch-hitter with the Reds ahead 2-1.

The pinch-hitter, Terry Crowley hit a sacrifice fly, making the score 3-1, and the Reds added two runs in the eighth.

Dodgers 5, Phillies 3
Pinch-hitter Tom Paciorek slugged a three-run homer in the bottom of the ninth to rally the Dodgers over the Phillies, who had taken a short-lived 3-2 lead in the top of the inning.

Padres 10, Mets 2
Even the last-place Padres are picking on the defending National League champs.

Randy Jones tossed a seven-hitter and John Grubb knocked in four runs with a single, double and three-run homer to drop the Mets for the 10th time in their first 13 games.

Jones, 1-4, blanked the Mets until the seventh when Cleon Jones singled and scored on Wayne Garrett's triple.

Montreal scored five unearned runs in the sixth inning, two on Tim Foli's single to beat San Francisco. An error by Montreal first baseman Ron Fairly led to three unearned San Francisco runs in the fifth, giving the Giants a 4-2 lead.

But the Giants returned the favor an inning later when an error by rookie third baseman Steve Ontiveros triggered the five-run outburst, capped by Ken Singleton's RBI single.

Perry Slides By Oakland

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer
Spitter, spitter, who's got the spitter? Not Gaylord Perry. "I didn't see a spitter," said Oakland's Gene Tenace after hitting against Perry Tuesday.

The reknown "greaseball" pitcher beat the A's 2-1, but they did not see his special pitch. As a matter of fact, they did not see much of anything else.

Without his No. 1 pitch, Perry scattered eight hits. He got support from Charlie Spikes, who hit a two-run double for the Indians' winning margin.

Spikes' two-out double in the seventh broke a scoreless pitching duel between Perry and Oakland's Jim "Catfish" Hunter, who went the distance and allowed just three hits.

Ray Fosse provided Oakland with its run on a two-out homer in the ninth, his second of the American League baseball season.

Royals 5, Red Sox 2
Buck Martinez' single knocked in the winning run during a three-run, ninth-inning rally that carried Kansas City over Boston.

Orioles 4, Angels 3
Rich Coggins stroked a two-out single in the bottom of the 10th inning that snapped a tie and gave Baltimore its victory over California.

Twins 1, Tigers 0
Steve Braun smashed a lead-off home run in the 10th inning, powering Minnesota over Detroit.

The homer shattered a strong pitching performance by Detroit's Lerrin LaGrow, 0-2, who went the distance and gave up eight hits.

Bill Campbell, 3-0, who relieved starter Dick Woodson in the 10th inning, was the winner. White Sox 3, Brewers 2.
Dick Allen broke out of a slump, stroking two hits and scoring two runs, to lead Chicago over Milwaukee.

Tall City Hosts 8-Team JV Baseball Tournament

The annual Junior Varsity Tournament is set to get under way Thursday with three Midland nines entered in the three-day meet which will be played on the Memorial Stadium and Lee diamonds.

Entered are the Midland Lee JV, the Midland JV and Midland sophomore team along with junior varsity teams from Hobbs, N.M., Snyder, Permian, Odessa and Andrews. Big Spring's JV was originally scheduled to compete, but withdrew and the MHS soph take its place.

The Midland High Bullpup JV takes on Andrews at noon Thursday on the Memorial Stadium diamond and in the second game, Permian takes on the MHS sophs at 2 p.m. Action on the Lee diamond starts at 2 p.m. with OHS playing Snyder. Lee's JV battles Hobbs at 4 p.m.

Games Friday and Saturday will be played at the Memorial Stadium diamond with trophies being awarded for first, second and consolation winners.

There will be a time limit during all tourney games with no inning starting after one hour and 45 minutes of play. This is to keep the games moving at a fast pace.

Consolation finals are at 2 p.m. Saturday with the championship game at 4 p.m.

Toros, Diablos Post Triumphs In Texas Loop

By The Associated Press
 Richard Puig and Randy Trapp swatted three RBI each Tuesday night to help Victoria celebrate its first home game since rejoining the Texas League, beating Alexandria 9-1. A turnout of 1,739 fans for the home opener saw Nino Espinosa pick up the victory, helped by five unearned runs at Alexandria's expense in the third inning.
 In other games, Arkansas beat Shreveport 7-4, Midland bested Amarillo 6-3 and El Paso blanked San Antonio 6-0.
 The results created a tie for first in both divisions, shared by Victoria and Arkansas in the East and San Antonio and El Paso in the West.
 El Paso's Carlos Lopez provided the impetus in the victory over San Antonio with a two-run homer in the second and an at-bat record of three-for-four. Arkansas' Mike Potter cracked a home run in the eighth to provide what was the winning run over Shreveport.

UH, UT In Tie Share SWC Golf Title

By The Associated Press
 HOUSTON (AP) — After what they'd been through the past week, the University of Houston and University of Texas were happy to accept a tie for the Southwest Conference golf championship.
 Both teams battled through four days of the All-American Intercollegiate Invitational, which ended Saturday, took one day's rest and then played 27 holes Monday and Tuesday along with the rest of the SWC.
 But when it came down to the final hole at Bear Creek Golf World Tuesday the Horns and Cougars were tied with 903 and emerged as co-champions.
 The Longhorns, defending champions, went into the final day with a six-stroke lead over the Cougars but Houston rallied to take the lead and a one-stroke lead on the final hole.
 That's when UT's Jim Mason snaked in a 50-foot birdie putt on the final hole that pulled the Horns even.
 Houston's Keith Fergus, who finished the 54 holes in even par to earn individual honors, still could have won it all for UH if he could have dropped a 10-foot birdie putt on the hole.

LEARNS MAJOR LEAGUES NOT ALL 'HEAT'— Clyde Gains Maturity, Curveball

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
 DALLAS (AP) — David Clyde admits "I was just an 18-year-old in a man's world" last American League baseball season. Young David burst upon the American League scene as the No. 1 draft pick and gave bullpen Texas Ranger fans something to cheer and admire. Left-handed Clyde drew over 100,000 in his home pitching performances. Sensational at first, the batters began to time his wondrous fastball and he finished the year at 4-8. Now, Clyde is back with more maturity and a curveball. "I've worked hard on my The Houston Westchester High School product is learning what it takes to win in the majors from veteran Ferguson Jenkins, a former Cy Young award winner obtained from the Chicago Cubs in the off-season. "He keeps the ball so low... it's never much above your knees... it's no wonder Fergy has won 20 games six times," Clyde said. Jenkins, who is 3-1 for the Rangers, goes against the Boston Red Sox tonight. Rangers Manager Billy Martin is using Clyde as the fourth starter.

IN BATTLE FOR NOMINATION—

Sissy Says Finances Are Low; Endorsement Cited By Briscoe

By The Associated Press
 Frances Farenthold complained about skimpy finances in her campaign to unseat Gov. Dolph Briscoe and the governor cited a Houston area endorsement as evidence of growing strength Tuesday in her battle for the Democratic nomination.

The two rivals for the Republican nomination for governor, Jim Granberry and Odell McBrayer, were equally busy stumping for votes.

In a reference to a shortage of money, Mrs. Farenthold told supporters at a fund-raising breakfast in Stephenville, "Please put these bumper stickers on your car. They may be the only media campaign we have."

One of her aides said Mrs. Farenthold is being forced to cancel reservations for broad-cast time because of financial woes.

She also spoke at Tarleton State University in Stephenville, where she said, "One four-year term is all I ask of the people of this state."

Moving on during a day full of speeches which ended with her arrival in San Antonio for the annual San Jacinto Fiesta, Mrs. Farenthold said she favors spending $200 million surplus state funds for an inter-school aid program until a projected $8 million survey of school property tax values can be finished.

Information obtained in such a study could provide legislators data for use next year in reforming property taxes and establishing a base for equitable distribution of school aid funds.

Briscoe said his candidacy has been endorsed by the Harris County Council of Organizations, identified by his office as the oldest and largest Negro political group in that county.

"I believe," said the governor, "that this endorsement is a clear indication that we are going to carry Harris County on May 4."

Campaign aides in Austin made public a letter to Briscoe from Coleman Bailey, superintendent of schools at Asherton in Dimmit County where the governor has sizeable ranch holdings.

Bailey told the governor he found a camera crew on his school grounds filming the facilities without permission and said its leader identified himself as Bill Anderson, a campaign manager for Mrs. Farenthold.

"I resent their attempt to inject our school district into this political campaign," Bailey wrote to Briscoe. "As one of the larger landowners and taxpayers in Asherton Independent School District, you have been among the earliest to pay your school taxes and have not contested the assessed valuations."

Granberry told a luncheon audience in Texas City that the main issue in the governor's race is leadership.

"Gov. Briscoe does not like to make decisions," he said. "He has dragged his feet in numerous areas. The governor should provide leadership throughout his term of office instead of slogans and promises at election time."

McBrayer, the other GOP candidate for governor, told University of Texas students that if the Republican party in Texas would come up with new goals and ideas it could capture the votes of many disenchanted Democrats in the state.

He also said, "Voter apathy is very possibly the worst it's been in many years. This same apathy is not only the enemy of the people but of the candidate as well."

Michigan Mayor Says He's Dying

DEARBORN HEIGHTS, Mich. (AP) — Mayor John Canfield says he is dying of cancer, but his illness will not keep him from his duties as this city's leader.

Canfield, 56 and in his fourth term as mayor, tearfully disclosed his illness Sunday, saying he had learned of the diagnosis last year.

"I will resign only when and if my health condition gets to the point that I cannot, either physically or mentally, carry on the duties of the office of mayor," he said.

Sculptor Says Mysterious Stainless Steel Ball Is Probably One He Lost

TAOS, N.M. (AP) — Sculptor Durling-Jones said he originally acquired 12 of the stainless steel spheres, which he intended to use in sculptures.

Durling-Jones, who manages the Sagebrush Inn in Taos when he isn't sculpturing or transporting spheres, was reluctant to say what the spheres originally were used for.

"Look, these things aren't perfect. If they were perfect they'd be worth several thousand dollars to the company that made them," he said. "Besides, if I tell you, the company will want them back."

Were they stolen?

"Well, no I wouldn't say that. But it would cost my friend his job if they found out about it. Besides, I've been offered some more of them," he said.

Part Of Valve

A bit later, the sculptor said the spheres were intended as part of an industrial valve, "like the ones used in high pressure transmission lines."

He said lying exposed for nearly three years to the Florida elements would hardly tarnish the sphere.

"They're made out of 411 stainless," he said. "They'll rust and oxidize, but only very slightly."

The man who found the sphere, Matthews, said it rolled by itself and rattled.

"The rattle comes from trying to patch the sphere," the sculptor said. "The company drills the spheres and re-welds them before machining them again."

"Sometimes some of the milling or drilling chips drop inside. The manufacturer machines the spheres to extremely close tolerances. The ones I got were slightly out of round."

Durling-Jones said he obtained two sizes of the stainless steel balls.

Some Hollow

"The eight-inch diameter ones are hollow, and I have one that weighs 22 pounds almost exactly. The 10-inchers are solid. They weigh close to 70 pounds," he said.

The sculptor, who gave his age as "over 30," said he had not seen any news accounts about the discovery of the spheres.

"The first I heard about it was when the Coke man saw one of the spheres outside the hotel," Durling-Jones said. "He really freaked out. Since then, everybody in the world's been calling me to ask about my spheres."

Durling-Jones said two of the remaining spheres were being incorporated into a sculpture display scheduled to open soon in Taos and he planned to use another in a pendulum.

"Tell that guy in Florida that if he doesn't need it, I could sure use it. Those things are hard to come by here. You just don't walk downtown and buy one," he said.

Oil Companies Cutting Credit Card Agreements

LOS ANGELES (AP) — With profits booming and supplies short, oil companies are cutting the credit card agreements that helped make "Go now—pay later" the call of the road.

The bank-type credit card is flatly rejected at many gas pumps as more motorists are having to pay cash. And paying for motel rooms, dinner or rental cars with gasoline credit cards is getting harder.

At the same time, the oil companies are slimming down their own accounts.

"We're not aggressively going for new credit customers," said an Atlantic Richfield spokesman.

Added an Exxon official, "Our requirements are more restrictive today than they were two years ago."

A Shell official said card renewals will no longer be automatic for customers who have a history of difficulty in paying or who use their cards infrequently.

As with trading stamps, glassware and contests, the companies say they no longer need to promote travel or accept a half-dozen credit cards to sell gasoline.

"Costs and marketing conditions have changed drastically," said a Shell spokesman in Houston, Tex. "We don't have to work quite as hard at selling gasoline."

By restricting credit cards the oil companies may also save money. Though the finances of credit card operations are secret, it is known that all major oil company credit card divisions lose money because of bad debts, card theft and service charges.

An estimated $20 billion in service station business was conducted last year with 110 million credit cards, the American Petroleum Institute says.

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif. (AP) — Photographs of Patricia Hearst taken by security cameras during an April 15 bank robbery indicate she was an unwilling participant in the holdup, a photo analyst says.

Peter Davies of New York City said in a letter to the Hearst family that one picture indicates the gun Miss Hearst held was strapped under her coat to her right hand. The letter was released Tuesday.

Davies said Miss Hearst appears to have been "very much an unwilling participant" and may have been strapped to the gun to prevent her from disarming it "in a surrender or die situation."

Miss Hearst's father, newspaper executive Randolph A. Hearst, said the analysis "reinforces some of the things I thought. I am sure she's either being coerced — brainwashed — or being forced, but I don't know which it is, and I'm sure he (Davies) doesn't either."

Charles W. Bates, FBI agent in charge of the case, said only "Photos are subject to various interpretations."

Davies is author of a book called "The Truth About Kent State." In the book he analyzed photos of National Guardsmen firing on a crowd of campus demonstrators in the 1970 incident in which four students died.

There has been speculation whether Miss Hearst, 20, was a willing accomplice in the $10,602 holdup in which four alleged members of the Symbionese Liberation Army are named in warrants. The SBA claims responsibility for the Feb. 4 abduction of Miss Hearst. In a message on April 3 she renounced her family and said she was joining the terrorist group.

Authorities describe the SLA as a heavily armed, multiracial organization of about 25 persons.

Bank robbery warrants have been issued for a black man and three white women photographed with Miss Hearst inside the bank. She is sought as a material witness.

CAB Is Asked To Join Love Field Issue

DALLAS (AP) — A federal judge is trying to solve the airports controversy here by asking the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) to voluntarily sit down with all parties involved and discuss the fiery issue.

In a letter made public Tuesday, U.S. District Court Judge William M. Taylor Jr. said he was asking the CAB to participate because "neither the cities of (Dallas and Fort Worth) nor the interstate carriers who are subject to the jurisdiction of the CAB feel free to take any step toward bringing CAB into court as a party."

Taylor has ruled that Southwest Airlines may continue operating at Dallas Love Field although all other airlines, signatories to a 1968 agreement, were forced to move to the new Dallas-Fort Worth Airport. Southwest, formed after 1968, was not a party to the agreement and has claimed a move to the DFW Airport would bankrupt the small, commuter airline.

Dallas and Fort Worth have appealed the ruling to the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans.

In the interim, the Dallas City Council passed an ordinance banning all commercial air activities at Love Field, an action Taylor called a "blatant defiance" of his court order. Taylor then restrained the city from enforcing its ordinance.

The CAB is empowered to certify interstate airlines but intrastate carries such as Southwest are regulated by the Texas Aeronautics Commission.

In his letter to Robert D. Timm, chairman of the CAB, Taylor noted heated rivalry between Dalls and Fort Worth was buried when the two cities joined in construction of the new airport.

"At this time, however, old wounds have been reopened," he said.

Taylor said the case is not merely a local one but has at heart the interests of the air travelling public, nationally and internationally.

Quick Action Urged On Trinity River Projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 124-member Texas delegation has urged Congressional committees to quickly begin various Trinity River basin projects before the cost becomes prohibitive.

Among the Texans appearing before House and Senate public works appropriations subcommittee Tuesday were Republican Sen. John Tower, Democratic Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, Dallas Mayor Wes Wise and nine congressmen.

"I don't look at them as an expense but as an investment," Bentsen said of the various water projects.

Funding was sought for the Trinity River project, $650,000;

Lake View Lake, $1 million; Lavon Lake, $5.4 million; and Johnson Creek, $64,000.

Those amounts are included in the Nixon administration 1975 proposed fiscal budget.

Members of the group also asked support for Aubrey Lake and Wallisville Lake projects, which are not in the budget.

Wise said the Lakeview project "provides a very vital flood control protection which has thus far been only partially completed, leaving low lying sections of the City of Dallas subject to flooding."

Wise said Congress should approve the money now, because costs are skyrocketing. He said the Aubrey project would have cost $19.5 million in 1959, but now would cost $104 million.

John Simmons, president of the Water Resources Congress, said, "Water resources developments are sound and necessary investments in our nation's future just as is education, good housing, good health and the national defense."

But Simmons said the 1975 budget does not include sufficient funds for water needs.

Sen. Tower recommended the Trinity project and several others, including $400,000 for advanced engineering and design of the Aquilla Lake project.

Consolidated Edison Cuts Dividend

NEW YORK (AP) — Consolidated Edison Co. says higher fuel costs coupled with bill-collection problems have forced the unprecedented suspension of a quarterly dividend.

Suspension of the 45-cent-per-share dividend, which caught the financial community by surprise, was blamed in part for the sharp drop Tuesday in the stock market.

The giant utility attributed the suspension to an urgent need to conserve cash, citing a one-third decline in first-quarter earnings from 1973 to 1974. The company, which serves New York City and neighboring Westchester County, said the decision broke a chain of 343 uninterrupted payouts to stockholders since 1885.

The jolt was heightened by the fact that the common stock of utilities is bought in many cases mainly for its dividend yield. Con Ed stock ended the market day at 12 1/2, off 5 1/4.

Company spokesmen said cash resources "have been adversely affected by the widening impact of sharply increased fuel costs, increases in accounts receivable from customers and reductions in revenues as a consequence of energy conservation."

earnings of $29.55 million, or 48 cents a share, compared with $44.21 million, or 80 cents a share in the same period last year.

Company spokesmen said cash resources "have been adversely affected by the widening impact of sharply increased fuel costs, increases in accounts receivable from customers and reductions in revenues as a consequence of energy conservation."

FRENCH LESSON—Just learning to speak a foreign language is not enough. Mrs. Marjorie Kozak, French teacher at Trinity School, says. Here, she gives eighth grade students Sidney Trobaugh, left, and Joe de Compiegne a taste of French culture—in the form of crepes, which she describes as "plain old pancakes all fancied up."

Two Schools Successful In Teaching Foreign Language To Young Students

By TOM MORAN

Two Midland private schools offer highly successful language programs for young students.

Hillander School begins teaching French to 3-year-old pre-school students. Trinity School begins French in the first grade.

The programs are so successful that in a recent statewide French symposium, all six Trinity students who entered were finalists in contests with 1,100 high school students.

Trinity was the only school below high school level to enter. Mrs. H. L. Landua Jr. of Hillander said one of the most important benefits of the program is pronunciation.

"By the time they are six or seven their throat muscles are formed a certain way," she explained. "If you only speak English it is impossible to make certain sounds. That's where an accent comes in."

The earlier language training begins, the easier it is to make some sounds, she said. "Some of them aren't even in our language."

Also younger children remember more vocabulary words than older students.

"It seems once they learn a word they can recall it," Mrs. Landua said. "They don't forget things."

Mrs. Marjorie Kozak of Trinity said another reason is the younger children participate more easily and are less self-conscious.

"They are not afraid of being wrong," she explained. "It is our belief that students are more intense, more curious, more linguistically pliable before senior high school," Mrs. Kozak continued. "They should be able to develop some of that elusive quality called fluency in these early years."

Young children gain a command of the spoken language before they are introduced to written work, teachers at both schools said.

All early teaching is oral, Mrs. Landua said. Little stress is placed on learning grammar.

"Grammar is no longer taught in the form of rules but in the form of speech patterns," Mrs. Kozak agreed. "Since language learning is the acquisition of a skill and since a skill is acquired by doing and not by talking about it, constant drill is necessary."

The students learn words and phrases which they can use in their daily lives, she continued.

By the time the students enter fourth grade they begin reading the language, Mrs. Kozak said.

Teaching foreign languages to young students is so successful that by the time they enter the seventh grade at Trinity the entire class is taught in French, Mrs. Kozak said.

By the time the students enter eighth grade they begin to receive high school credit in French — or Latin and Spanish which are also taught at Trinity.

By the time a student leaves Trinity he has developed the ability to understand and speak the language well, she concluded.

Reports Of VA Being Involved In Fund-Raising To Be Probed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Alan B. Cranston, D-Calif., says he is relying to investigate agencies unverified reports that the Veterans Administration has been involved in illegal fund-raising and other political activities.

Cranston said Tuesday night the information "at this point is only rumor" but indicated that it implicated outgoing Veterans' Administrator Donald Johnson.

The California Democrat said he was sending the information, received from VA employees, to the Watergate special prosecutor, the Justice Department and the Civil Service Commission.

Johnson later denied allegations of any improper politicking within the VA.

"The disclosure by Cranston, chairman of the House Veterans' Affairs subcommittee on hospitals and medicine, came when he was questioned about a radio broadcast by columnist Jack Anderson.

During his regular program on the Mutual Radio Network, Anderson said Johnson had decided to resign as veterans' administrator in order to avoid a Senate investigation.

"The charges involved in 1972 Republican fund-raising dinner in Washington," Anderson said, "Johnson reportedly solicited contributions from VA employees totaling about $3,000."

Cranston said that another incident at issue was a meeting Jan. 2, 1972 among top VA officials. He gave no details.

Anderson, however, said that according to one account of the meeting, "Johnson said that since this was an election year the agency should become more partisan. The VA, Johnson said, must lend its full support to re-election of the President."

Johnson confirmed that he had held a meeting of his "top noncareer staff."

Johnson commented later: "I categorically deny that I received any political contributions from the time of my appointment in 1969. I have not made any solicitations in any shape or form."

"I did in fact note that 1972 was an election year and I reminded them that things often get heated and demands would be made on them," he said.

Rodino Hopes White House Will Turn Over Tapes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Judiciary Committee hopes the White House request for five more days to respond to a committee subpoena means President Nixon intends to turn over the 42 tapes it covers.

But Rep. Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., said Tuesday he received no assurance of full compliance when he agreed to extend until next Tuesday the deadline for delivering the material. It had been due Thursday.

"I'm hopeful the reason the President made the request is that he means to comply," Rodino told a news conference. "We don't want a confrontation. We've gone the last mile and we can go five more days."

Rodino said he is confident the full committee will support him when the White House request is taken up Tuesday. He won informal approval Tuesday from senior members.

One member who won't go along, however, is California Democrat Jerome Waldie, who said the White House has had plenty of time to comply in the two months since the request was made.

"It's time the committee showed the same determination to get the material that the White House is showing in denying it," Waldie said.

The request for an extension of the subpoena deadline was made Monday by James D. St. Clair, Nixon's chief impeachment lawyer, in a telephone call to John M. Doar, the chief counsel of the committee.

Rodino said St. Clair told Doar he was having a hard time getting the material together and that Nixon had not yet reviewed it. When asked if partial compliance could not be made by the Thursday deadline, St. Clair said Nixon wanted to review all the material at one time, Rodino said.

Nixon is flying to Jackson, Miss., Thursday to deliver a speech but is expected to re-over the weekend.

Oil Firms Continue To Report High First Quarter Profit Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — The oil profits of 589.4 million. Occidental Petroleum Corp. reported a net income after taxes of $705 million in the first three months of this year. Texaco, after-tax profits for most companies in the last three months of 1973, when the Arab oil embargo and the energy crisis sent prices spiraling. Some percentage increases may be deceptive, however. Occidental's figures are contrasted with a depressed first quarter in 1973.

Speaking of the substantial increases in profits being announced by the oil companies, Sen. Henry M. Jackson says they show "the bankruptcy of the government's energy policy."

Orphans Of Neglect
 The Washington Democrat, chairman of the Senate Interior Committee, said higher oil profits and prices "make the working man and the people who employ him the orphans of neglectful — even reckless — government actions."

Jackson made the comments in Washington on Tuesday after four more oil companies released first-quarter 1974 earnings reports which showed sharp increases over the January-February-March 1973 period.

Exxon, the nation's number one oil company in terms of sales, said its profits of $705 million for the three months ended March 31 were up 39 per cent over 1973 period. But Exxon said its earnings were down 10.4 per cent from the fourth quarter of 1973.

123 Per Cent Rise
 Texaco, which squeaked by Mobil last year to become the country's second biggest oil firm, said its first-quarter profits of $589.4 million represent a 123 per cent increase from the $264 million disclosed for the same period in 1973.

Occidental Petroleum Corp., the 11th largest, reported first-quarter profits of $67.7 million, up 718 per cent over profits of $6.26 million during the first quarter of last year.

Occidental said gross revenues for the period jumped from $681.4 million in 1973 to more than $1.3 billion this year. Earnings per common share increased from six cents to $1.14.

The company said the big jump should not be considered indicative of the rest of the year. The 1973 first-quarter earnings were restated to reclassify extraordinary items as ordinary earnings and to provide for deferred Canadian taxes on operations there.

Acupuncture Won't Help Nerve Deafness In Children, Surgeon Says

NEW YORK (AP) — A famous ear surgeon who took up acupuncture finds no basis for using it to treat children with profound nerve deafness.

In a six-month study, only two out of 40 children given acupuncture "seemed to tend towards improvement, but we don't know the lasting effect," says Dr. Samuel Rosen, a professor emeritus at Mt. Sinai School of Medicine here.

"Parents would save a lot of energy, money and misery" by not taking children to acupuncturists who claim the Chinese needle technique does improve nerve deafness, he said. Some such clinics charge $25 for each in a long series of treatments.

Rosen said temporary variations that occurred in hearing ability in some children "makes it look like something is beginning. The prescription is more hard work. We need rigid, scientific, objective studies in laboratories and institutions."

Rosen, who has visited China three times since 1971, said the Chinese now report only eight per cent of children show improvement from acupuncture that goes on from one to four years. The Chinese "still regard it as experimental," he said.

"But that is a miracle in itself. Nothing else ever improved one child in a million. We are scratching the surface of something that has baffled the world all these years. But we definitely are not ready to use it as an individual treatment."

Nerve deafness occurs when the nerve of hearing, which carries messages to the brain, is weakened or destroyed. Causes include congenital defects, German measles infection of a pregnant woman, or drugs like streptomycin in some cases.

Rosen is well-known for innovating an operation that made rigid bones in the hearing apparatus mobile so they could transmit sounds.

He was taught the acupuncture technique by Chinese specialists in 1972 and set up a pilot study in conjunction with the Mt. Sinai School of Medicine and the New York League for the Hard of Hearing.

The 40 children were treated five days a week for three weeks, then given a week's rest each month during the six months. Needles were inserted around the ear and in the arms. Parents were not allowed to pay any of the costs.

The children were deaf enough that "they couldn't hear unless you yelled in their ear," Rosen said in an interview. They were tested repeatedly during the experiment with an audiometer and with spoken words to determine how well they could discriminate between words.

No child ended the experiment with worse hearing, Rosen said. In the two who tended at times towards improvement, the poorer ear improved towards the level of the better one. One of these was one of 10 children on whom he used very shallow insertions of the needle, rather than the deeper penetration used by the Chinese.

Craftsman Fair Slated Saturday At Midland High

The West Texas Student Craftsman Fair will be held from 12:30 until 3:30 p.m. Saturday in the Midland High School gymnasium.

More than 2,000 projects by students from 40 high schools will be displayed at the fair. Craft areas to be represented include metal and wood working, drafting, electronics, plastics and power mechanics.

The projects will include grandfather clocks, china and gun cabinets, two- and four-wheel trailers, jewelry, ceramics, wrought iron furniture — even scale models of homes.

There is no admission charge to the event which will be co-sponsored by the West Texas Industrial Arts Teachers Association and the Midland Evening Lions Club.

British Government Plans Official Definition Of Beer

LONDON (AP) — What is beer?

Nearly every Englishman has his opinion, but to the delight of purists, the British government finally has decided to come up with an official definition of the beverage.

A clutch of government departments, including the Ministry of Agriculture and the Department of Health and Social Security, made it official Tuesday when they decided to ask the Food Standards Committee to define what beer should be in terms of ingredients, alcoholic content and specific gravity.

The news was greeted with joy by the Society for the Preservation of Beers from the Wood, which strongly believes that beer should consist exclusively of barley, malt and water.

"It's about time that the brewers were forced like other manufacturers to state on their cans, bottles and barrels exactly what they have put inside," said Howard Purdie, a founding member of the society's branch in Woolwich, East London.

"We shall express our opinion as forcibly as we can to the Food Standards Committee," he said. There are two classes of beer in Britain. Draft beer is brewed from barley, malt and water and is kept in wooden casks. It is perishable and has to be consumed within a few days. It does not travel well, needs a lot of attention and has to be kept within strict temperature ranges.

Keg beer is chemically brewed and stored in aluminum barrels. It keeps almost indefinitely and can be shipped anywhere. It requires no attention as long as it remains sealed in its cask. "A lot of rubbishy keg is passed off as real draft beer," Purdie claimed. "Impure additives like flour and rice are put in to make the beer keep longer." Draft-beer champions also dislike pumps that inject carbon dioxide gas into keg beer to give it a foamy head and put fizz into it. The old draft beer has no froth.

Draft beer is a dying commodity in Britain's pubs, since the big brewers find it uneconomical to produce a temperamental beverage. It is drunk at room temperature, like some wines. Hence the opinion of many Americans, accustomed to imbibing beers the British would class as glacial, that British beer is warm.

Clear Skies And Cool Temperatures Spread Across Midsection Of Nation

By The Associated Press

Fair skies and cool temperatures spread across the nation's midsection today while most Atlantic and Pacific coast states were drenched with rain and a scattering of light snow.

Drops in temperature from the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley to the Mississippi Valley resulted in frost or freeze warnings for parts of West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky and Michigan.

Skies were mostly clear from the Rockies through the Great Lakes region and into the southern Atlantic states.

Along the Pacific Coast, gusty winds tossed snow about at higher elevations while thundershowers rumbled from central California to Montana.

Although rainfall was light, a travel advisory was issued for the Sierra Nevada Mountains due to high winds and blowing snow.

At the other end of the country, a storm off the New England coast brought rain, drizzle and snow to the region from New England to the lower Great Lakes.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 78 at Key West, Fla., to 24 at Hibbing, Minn. Some other reports: Anchorage 36 rain-snow, Atlanta 55 clear, Boston 46 cloudy, Buffalo 37 rain, Chicago 36 clear, Cincinnati 39 cloudy, Cleveland 40 rain, Denver 52 clear, Detroit 40 partly cloudy, Honolulu 75 clear, Indianapolis 39 cloudy, Kansas City 44 clear, Los Angeles 54 clear, Louisville 44 clear, Miami 74 partly cloudy, Minneapolis-St. Paul 36 clear, Nashville 42 clear, New York 48 clear, Philadelphia 44 clear, Phoenix 74 cloudy, Pittsburgh 37 cloudy, St. Louis 38 clear, San Francisco 46 clear, Seattle 47 cloudy, Washington 48 partly cloudy.

Miss Wemple Named To 'Who's Who'

Diane Wemple, a Midland High School senior, has been named to "Who's Who Among American High School Students."

Miss Wemple, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allea Wemple, is the editor of The Bulldog student newspaper, a member of the speech and drama clubs, the National Honor Society and the National Forensics League.

She also is active in the gymnastics and girls track team and a member of the literary magazine editing staff.

Awards she has received include first place in the Texas Press Women Editorial contest, AAUW outstanding girl award, first place state poetry interpretation and an achievement award in writing from the National Council of Teachers of English.

After graduation, Miss Wemple plans to attend Trinity University at San Antonio where she will major in government and journalism.

Newsman Says Expert To Agree Tapes From White House Were Re-Recorded

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC search Institute, may not agree with procedures used by the White House will agree with other experts.

However, said Stern, Hecker will not dispute the conclusion of the six tape authorities, who said the tape underwent "the process of editing and re-recording at least five and perhaps as many as nine separate and contiguous segments."

The panel, chosen mutually by the White House and the special Watergate prosecutor, did not say if the erasure was accidental or deliberate.

But the group told U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica that "The recording controls must have been operated by hand in the making of each segment."

Sirica also heard testimony from President Nixon's secretary, Rose Mary Woods, that she may have accidentally erased some of the tape while answering a telephone.

Stern said Hecker "expects to testify whether it helps or hurts the President, and now it looks as though it will hurt."

According to NBC, a White House spokesman said late Tuesday that nothing in Stern's story came from White House sources. There would be no further comment, the spokesman told the network.

The controversial tape is a recording of a June 20, 1972, conversation between President Nixon and his former top aide, H.R. Haldeman, that took place three days after the burglary of the Democratic National Committee offices in the Watergate complex.

Chrysler Signs Contract To Sell Vehicles To Cuba

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Chrysler's Argentine subsidiary has signed a contract to sell 9,000 vehicles worth $24.2 million to Cuba in the first major American commercial deal with that country since 1960.

The contract, signed Tuesday, is part of a series of anticipated deals for American car makers in Argentina. They are expected to sell Cuba some 42,000 vehicles over three years for an estimated $130 million to $150 million.

Ford and General Motors are negotiating with Cuba but have yet to reach agreement.

The three U.S. auto makers with plants in Argentina were given special waivers by the U.S. government to sell to Cuba despite the 1960 embargo forbidding all but humanitarian assistance transactions between the United States and Cuba.

The waivers were granted after Argentina insisted that subsidiaries here must be free to deal with Cuba. In Washington high State Department offi-

Bugs Bunny Makes Voyage With Dali

NEW YORK (AP) — Salvador Dali is returning to Europe with a 5-foot-tall "Bugs Bunny" doll.

The doll was given to Dali by A. Reginald Morse, director of the Salvador Dali Museum in Cleveland, as the surrealist painter and his wife, Gala, got ready to sail aboard the liner France after a three-month stay in the United States.

Dali, known for his eccentricities, said the doll was "ugly and frightening" but he would turn it into a work of art by "painting it with mayonnaise."

This 33rd ad can change your life. If you are not afraid to read it.

Do you take "Salesman Wanted" ads with a grain of salt? Can't say I blame you. I've followed up a few myself in the past. The job seldom lives up to the claim in the ad. Do yourself a favor and explore this one.

I need three good men. If you would like to make $200-300 weekly (weekly) against commission, with an eye to the future, this is the one. If your qualifications match our requirements, this could be the career you've been looking for.

No travel, no canvassing, no investments. This is not books, land, franchised, etc. For full details concerning this position Call 362-2580

HOROSCOPE

by Correll Righter
(Apr. 23)
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until noon, force nothing, but plan activities. Later in the day and p.m., moderate things that make the most of you through which you can express your talents.
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Study trends well, then take the action necessary to become more successful. Visit with kin and good friends. Drive with utmost care.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Take care of promises during day so you can enjoy romantic pleasure later. Do not follow hunches early, but later they are quite accurate.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) An associate could be annoying in a.m., but hold your tongue, then all works out fine later and mood changes. Speak quietly, persuasively.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) Handle duties early and efficiently. You can do something later to make your life with associates more ideal. But new wardrobe accessories.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 19) You can take some little risk in p.m., as you might very well come out the winner. But keep walled in a safe place.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Do those things that will make life at home more harmonious and more love will exist there. Entertain in p.m. and show off family.
