You Can Learn From People

Nino is a taxi driver in Rome. We first met some years ago when he drove us throughout Europe before we had discovered the fun of drive-it-yourself.

Now we were back in Rome for a few days and another friend, Giulio Rossi, who operates a garage, met us at the airport. He told us that Nino's wife had died and that Nino could no longer drive for him since that required trips away from Rome. Now Nino was driving his own cab, but, even so, he would love to take us for an afternoon in one of Giulio's cars.

Nino was blessed with one of those glorious and lovable personalities for which radiant is the only word. He gets all tied up in his English, so excited he is about everything. He threw up his arms in a gesture of welcome when he saw me, and embraced me with such outgoingness that I just knew he loved me.

"I'm so sorry about your dear wife," I said. With tears in his eyes Nino fumbled with his wallet and pulled out a rather soiled and battered mourner's card such as are given out at funerals. It told about what a kindly, good woman she was. My friend stood pathetically looking at her picture. "I must care for the children alone... be mother and father," he said bravely.

A strange look of peace came over Nino's face. "It is God's will," he replied with deep feeling. "God gave her to me, then He took her to Heaven. God helps me. I shall meet my angel again. God, He is very good."

Of course, this was a simple and not at all unique conversation, but suddenly I felt a strong sense of fellowship for this swarthy, genuine hearted man. He is Italian, I am American; he a Catholic, I a Protestant; he a taxi driver, I a writer. But what difference was there between us? Love made us brothers. He is my friend and I his, and I learned deeper faith from him.

Never underestimate what you can learn from any person. From them you can pick up some real gems of wisdom. For example, I was talking with a woman who had gone to work following the sudden death of her husband. "You are very wise," I said, "to take a job and keep yourself busy."

And I commented on the value of hard work in overcoming sorrow. I told her about an old country doctor of my youth who once advised a broken-hearted woman: "The best cure for a broken heart is to get down on your knees and scrub a floor."

The lady smiled gently. "Yes, of course, but I've found that work is a drug and not a medicine. Work desensitizes, but does not heal. Faith is the real healing medicine."

And there is my unforgettable friend, Rob Rowbottom, who listened patiently one day when as a young man I was detailing my own inadequacies. Suddenly he stopped me with a remark that changed my life. "Look," he said reprovingly, "Cut out that kind of talk. Never, never build a case against yourself. You can indeed learn from people."

Sawhill Cites Huge Profits On Arab Oil

WASHINGTON (AP) — Oil companies are making a profit of $3.73 per barrel on some Arab oil that costs 10 cents to produce, says new energy chief John C. Sawhill.

As U.S. oil companies continued to report huge first-quarter profit increases, Sawhill told newsmen Friday that a large portion came from producing foreign oil — including oil the Arabs withheld from the United States during their embargo.

Company profits on some Saudi Arabian oil soared in one year from 79 cents to $3.73 per barrel, Sawhill said.

Although government price controls supposedly limit petroleum price increases to those justified by increased costs, there appears to be no legal barrier to these increased profits.

The increase, if allowed to flow through unchecked into the U.S. market, could cost American consumers some $2.7 billion a year.

Sawhill said there was "no economic justification" for the huge profit jump on so-called "equity oil," which amounts to 14 per cent of the total oil used in the United States.

But he said it may be justified if the profits are reinvested to increase domestic oil production.

Meanwhile, the government reported a trade deficit in March for the first time in nine months and blamed the development on the spiraling cost of foreign oil.

Vidor KKK, Wives Burn Cross At Spring Rally

VIDOR, Tex. (AP) — The speeches, the 35-foot metal women sold cakes, everyone listened to speeches and the men burned the cross.

This marked Friday night's spring rally of what members call the "original Ku Klux Klan" held in a field off FM 1132 near here.

Three units of the Klan are in Vidor. The rally was held behind the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. King. Mrs. King is the treasurer of one of the three women's groups. Her husband is secretary of Vidor Unit 4.

Special guest was David Ernest Duke, grand dragon of Louisiana's Knights of the KKK.

Duke said in a speech, "It (KKK) is a community of men and women of the highest ideals. We've got to practice the unity ourselves that we want for our nation tomorrow."

Claiming there are more Klansmen in the North than in the South, the emphasis of Duke's speech was on white supremacy.

With the smell of diesel fuel in the air from an oil-soaked cross, the crowd listened attentively, occasionally yelling their agreement with what Duke said.

Disbarment Trial In Hill County Goes Into Recess

HILLSBORO, Tex. (AP) — The disbarment trial of Hill County Dist. Atty. Frank B. McGregor has been recessed until Tuesday after two days of testimony.

McGregor spent Friday on the stand identifying and explaining various canceled checks, deposit slips and office records introduced as evidence against him.

The State Bar of Texas brought the civil disbarment suit.

Most of the evidence so far concerned hot check complaints filed by McGregor. Most listed a penalty, fine or court cost assessed by the district attorney's office.

It was these assessments of the costs, fines, and penalties by McGregor and the alleged comingling of these funds with his private funds that violated bar ethics, the State Bar contends.

Three Killed As Pickups Crash

LIPAN, Tex. (AP) — The Department of Public Safety said today that three persons were killed Friday night in the head-on collision of two pickup trucks four miles west of this Palo Pinto County town.

Officers said the two pickups crashed on FM 4 about 6:45 p.m. Friday.

The dead were identified as Mark Wartes, 19, and Jack Allen, 35, both of Lipan, and Kathy Rucker, 18, of nearby Sanlo.

Vatican Releases Documents Baring Deportation Of Jews

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican has released World War II documents that say the Holy See was told Jews were being sent to their death in Poland.

But the papers said the Vatican had no real evidence the deportations were part of a mass extermination policy.

The latest volume of the documents, declassified Friday, showed that the papal envoy to Bratislava, Czechoslovakia, Magr. Giuseppe Burzio, cabled the Vatican urgently on March 9, 1942, saying: "The influence without any distinction to nationality, race or religion."

The Vatican, at times accused of not doing all it could to help Jews flee Nazi Germany, maintained that it had been "energetic" in assisting all refugees.

But the volume just made public also asserts that "Msgr. Burzio did not know anything about the real destination of the deportees... like Msgr. Burzio, not even the Jewish agencies had knowledge that the deportations were part of a general operation for mass extermination."

Royal Romance Reported Ended

LONDON (AP) — The 18-month romance between Prince Charles, heir to the British throne, and Lady Jane Wellesey, appears to be over, the Daily Mirror reported Saturday.

In a front page story, the newspaper said the two have not seen each other since Charles returned to Britain earlier this week from a four-month tour of duty as a royal navy lieutenant on the frigate Jupiter.

The Mirror quoted Lady Jane, 23, as saying she had no dates planned with Charles.

An unidentified friend of her family said: "The romance is over. I understand they are still friends, but there is no longer any emotional involvement."

Speculation of a romance between the two began in 1972 when they attended a party. Last winter Charles spent a vacation with the Wellesey family in Spain.

Nixon Aide Loses Bid For New Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former White House aide Dwight L. Chapin has lost a bid for a new trial on his conviction of lying to FBI agents investigating campaign dirty tricks.

"The proof that the defendant deliberately lied was overwhelming," U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell said Friday in ruling against President Nixon's one-time appointments secretary.

Chapin, facing sentencing on May 15, contended that prejudicial evidence had been introduced at his first trial, that he was not granted a change in the trial site and that the jury had failed to follow the judge's instructions.

U.S. Attorney Farris To Quit

HOUSTON (AP) — U.S. Atty. J. P. Farris says he plans to resign late this year.

Farris, 53, a Republican and a President Nixon nominee, has served as U.S. attorney since February 1969.

Farris said Friday he will resign regardless of whether his successor has been named.

The reappointment of Farris for the 45-county Southern District of Texas has been stymied by U.S. Sen. Lloyd M. Bentsen, a Democrat.

Bulwark Of Republicanism Skeptical Nixon Can Surmount Woes

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
An AP News Analysis
WASHINGTON (AP) — That bulwark of regular Republicanism, the GOP National Committee, demonstrated here this weekend considerable skepticism President Nixon can soon surmount the woes of Watergate.

Its members still want to believe in the President, but they fear he may be leading the party to electoral disaster next November.
On Thursday night, they enthusiastically applauded Nixon at the White House when he predicted brighter days ahead. Friday morning, they cheered National Chairman George Bush's reiteration of his confidence in Nixon's innocence in "the whole be-damned (Watergate) mess."

But their fears that Watergate is a major factor in polls showing Republicans headed for November defeats became evident when presidential counselor Dean Burch told them the Republican future and Nixon's "are as one."

The 160 committeemen and women sat on their hands as Burch sought to persuade them GOP candidates can run successfully this year on the Nixon record, then applauded hopefully when he declared that, by next week, "the end of Watergate will be in sight."

In comments afterwards, said Mississippi's Clarke Reed, adding that, though GOP candidates can still embrace Nixon with enthusiasm in his state, he realizes they can't outside the South.
"I was overjoyed" by the prediction of the end of Watergate, said Michigan GOP Chairman William McLaughlin, indicating he didn't quite believe it himself.

"It hasn't worked out that way," noted one longtime Nixon friend, observing that the history of the last year has been one of optimistic administration promises, followed by more trouble.
A conservative national committeeman said that, contrary to Burch's suggestion that Republicans could run on the Nixon record, he thinks many will run actively against the President once GOP primaries end.

Though many party leaders insisted GOP candidates could run on state issues, McLaughlin conceded that Burch had a point in saying that Nixon's fate and that of the party were closely linked.
"From a practical matter," he said, "the President of the United States is leader of the Republican party." He implied GOP candidates could put only limited distance between themselves and the embattled President.

Ethiopian Troops Display Show Of Military Strength

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — The armed forces announced Saturday that more than 60 former high government and police officials will be investigated on charges of enriching themselves at public expense while thousands of countrymen starved to death in widespread famine.

At the same time the army pledged its support to the current government and warned Ethiopians against renewed unrest that brought down the former government last month.

Several hundred troops were reported driving through the streets of Addis Ababa in what one diplomat said was the biggest show of military strength

Man Is Killed, Eight Buildings Destroyed In Series Of Blasts

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A series of explosions killed one man and destroyed eight buildings early Saturday in a downtown residential section of southeastern Pennsylvania city.
"As far as we can tell, there were three, possibly four, explosions," said city Fire Marshal Bob Williams.

Other fire officials said the explosions appeared to have been caused by gas.

It had been feared that several persons were trapped in the rubble of the three-story brick buildings, three of which were empty. But by dawn, officials had accounted for all 24 residents of the row houses.

Police said 23 residents fled their homes after hearing the first blast, just before 2 a.m., and receiving warnings from city policemen.

"They got everyone out except for one man," said Fire Chief Craig Glass.

Texas Democrats, Republicans To Hold Precinct Conventions Saturday

By RAYMOND HOLBROOK, Associated Press Writer

Texas Democrats meet in their precinct conventions Saturday to voice party harmony and unity while jockeying for position and delegates to the county conventions.

The lack of a presidential and a U.S. Senate race this year has toned down some of the political fanfare that usually accompanies the grassroots precinct conventions. But there still will be the continuing struggle for control of the party machinery for both the "mini" national convention in December and for the 1976 presidential election year.

Three factions will be vying in the Saturday Democratic precinct conventions—the conservatives supporting Dolph Briscoe, the liberals and the backers of Alabama Gov. George Wallace for the 1976 presidential nomination.

State Democratic Chairman Calvin Guest has issued the usual plea for harmony and unity and representation at the county convention.

But battle-scarred veterans of precinct conventions know that parliamentary maneuvering and a chairman with a strong gavel can be far more influential than the rules book.

Both the liberals and the Wallace supporters have voiced concern that the Briscoe supporters have already laid the groundwork to control many of Saturday's precinct conventions. They are especially concerned about the well-financed Governor's Convention Committee headed by Gordon R. Wynne Jr. of Wills Point.

The committee has no official connection with the state organization but was formed to assure a large turnout of Briscoe supporters at the precinct conventions.

Domination of the Saturday conventions by Briscoe supporters will please the governor who wants no repetition of 1972 when he had the task of trying to placate three almost equally divided Democratic factions at the state and national conventions.

Texas Republicans also are holding precinct conventions Saturday but they are expected to be low key affairs.

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe and Frances Farenthold completed their crucial campaign sweep of the Beaumont-Port Arthur-Orange area Saturday with Briscoe confident he has a second term in the bag.

The governor, grinning and laughing from dawn to dusk, is exuberant and happy with his campaign reports.

Mrs. Farenthold, who led Briscoe in the two 1972 Democratic primaries in Jefferson and Orange counties as well as Harris County, is enthusiastic, but not optimistic. She spends much of her time urging supporters to continue to work for the principles that prompted them to work for her.

A number of Farenthold workers in the Golden Triangle area said flatly they did not think she could win.

Briscoe and Mrs. Farenthold aimed their campaign guns at the labor, old age and college-age votes of the area, which often are deciding margins in close elections.

Briscoe got the honorary title of "carpenter" and an unusual written endorsement from the building trades unions that represent 7,000 members in 22 Southeast Texas counties.

The Sabine area pipettists union local made him an honorary "pipettist." "It is gratifying to know we have a man in the governor's office who takes an interest in the working man," said a local union official.

Mrs. Farenthold, who had considerable labor support in 1972, said she has received no labor endorsements in the Beaumont-Port Arthur-Orange area—but she was proud of one from a communications workers union in El Paso and one from electrical workers in Dallas.

"I never try to outguess the electorate," she said. "I just try to tell them what I stand for and let them go by that."

Briscoe spoke twice to the state convention of the Texas Senior Citizens Association in Port Arthur—to a reception and then a formal address Friday. His appeal to mobilize retired citizens in volunteer community efforts was well applauded.

Mrs. Farenthold spent considerable time shaking hands at the convention and was introduced, but was told there was no time on the schedule for her to make a talk. She said it was wonderful to be there and sat down.

Mrs. Farenthold drew most response from a big crowd of students at Lamar State University. Several hundred jammed the student center lobby to cheer her and listen to two speeches.

Briscoe held a reception in the same building, just 15 minutes earlier, but far fewer attended—and only about half of those were students.

"You are vitally needed," Mrs. Farenthold told the students. "We are not going to have our government as we want it unless you do something about it."

Then she urged them to attend their precinct conventions after the May 4 voting. "Let us hang on to what we started with... we asked only an open Democratic party in this state and nation."

An informed source said Friday that Jacobsen has received "not one word" of response from the Watergate special prosecution team since he sent word that he was willing to recant his previous testimony clearing Connally of taking a $10,000 bribe.

In return for testimony against Connally, Jacobsen had asked that all eight felony charges against himself be reduced to misdemeanors, thus allowing him to keep his license to practice law, the source said.

Presently, Jacobsen faces penalties of up to 40 years in jail and $90,000 in fines if convicted on all counts in a Watergate perjury case and an unrelated Texas savings and loan scandal.

It was first reported eight days ago that Jacobsen had sent word to the Watergate special prosecution force that he was willing to change his testimony and swear that Connally took $10,000 of a dairy cooperative's money in return for government favors. Connally repeatedly has denied this.

Previously, Jacobsen had sworn that the $10,000 lay untouched in a bank vault for 2½ years because Connally refused it. A grand jury challenged that testimony as false, reportedly after receiving a report that the serial numbers on the bills showed they were not yet in circulation at the time Jacobsen says he acquired them and stashed them away. Jacobsen was indicted for perjury.

Late last week, showing no public response to Jacobsen's reported offer to change his testimony, the special prosecution force filed court papers reaffirming its perjury charge against him.

Violent Weather Hits Area After High Temperature

The damage came while a large area, including Midland and Odessa, were under a severe thunderstorm watch. The watch continued until 2 a.m.

None of the violent weather had reached Midland by midnight, however. The Tall City did receive some welcome rain, although light. The National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal recorded .21 inch of rain by midnight. The last measurable rain here was on March 20.

The stormy weather developed after Midland recorded a high temperature of 95 degrees Saturday. This not only was a record for the day, but it was the high in the nation, according to The Associated Press.

The threatening clouds produced little moisture for the rest of the area. Stanton reported light sprinkles during the evening and Lamesa had a light shower, but other Midland area points remained dry.

Weather is expected to calm down today, with skies due to be partly cloudy through Monday with no rain in the forecast. The Weather Service at Terminal said the high today will be near 90. The overnight low near 60. The maximum reading Monday should be in the middle 80s. Winds will be southeasterly 15 to 25 m.p.h.

Other thunderstorms developed as a cold front moved into the northwest portion of the Panhandle Saturday.

Gusty winds kicked up blowing sand, reducing visibility to as low as half a mile in the southern portion of the Panhandle.

116 Jesus Sect Members Released

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — "The Lord touched the judge's heart and all of us were let out of our cells," said Mike Maddox, one of 129 members of a Christian sect arrested as they sought converts at a shopping center.

One hundred sixteen members of the Christ Is The Answer sect trooped out of jail Friday as they were in-singing, praying, smiling and carrying their Bibles. And Maddox, a leader of the 240-member sect, said the jailing would not stop them.

"We will continue our ministry even in the shopping centers," said Maddox, 28, of Decatur, Ill.

Portugal's Junta Moves To Fulfill Liberty Promises

LISBON (AP) — Gen. Antonio de Spínola's junta moved swiftly Saturday to fulfill its promises of civil liberties and a democratic regime after nearly half a century of dictatorship.

Press censorship was abolished and newspapers appeared for the first time without having to submit copy to the authorities for approval before publication.

The junta also announced the appointment of new governors for Portuguese Guinea, Mozambique and Angola, the African provinces where Portugal has been fighting rebel guerrillas for 13 years.

Wellington, about 30 miles north of Childress, had almost two inches of rain in a one-hour period. A flash flood warning was issued as the heavy rains moved slowly northward.

Meanwhile, gusty southerly winds fed humid air northward across Central Texas under mostly cloudy skies. Outside the shower activity, partly cloudy skies dominated West Texas and most of East Texas.

Thermometers climbed into the 90s across much of West Texas while they were in the 70s and 80s elsewhere.

The National Weather Service called for thunderstorms over West Texas again today, spreading eastward over North Central Texas. Partly cloudy, warm weather will dominate most of South Texas.

New Audit Slated For Dallas Employ Retirement Fund

DALLAS (AP) — Trustees of the Dallas Employ Retirement Fund have ordered a new audit of its stock portfolio particularly in relation to the loan of $6 million in 1972 to Contran Corp.

The Contran Corp. and some of its executives were named recently in a 15-count indictment stemming from the purchase of a Chicago insurance company and the subsequent bankruptcy of the insurance firm.

The board also announced it was reviewing its contract with Campbell, Henderson and Co. as financial consultants and has suspended the company as consultants. The fund has employed the company since 1960.

Charles Campbell of the consulting firm commented, "As far as I know, there is no dissatisfaction or unrest or known danger in any of the issues."

Fund chairman Morris Bishop who made the announcements said he believes the fund has sufficient collateral to cover the loan.

Goldwater Says 'Don't Blame Me'

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater has asked voters not to take out any anger at the President by voting against Republicans running this year, including himself.

"There is no presidential election in 1974. It's all right to get at the President if you wish, but don't take it out on me. I'm running for re-election too," the Arizona Republican said in a speech Friday.

BIG MOVE UNDER WAY — Workmen have been working around the clock to get the new Midland Post Office ready for occupancy Monday morning. Postmaster David E. Holster said the doors will open in the new facility at 8 a.m.

New Post Office To Open Monday

When you go get your mail downtown Monday, be sure to go to the right place.

Midland's new post office will open at 8 a.m. Monday in the federal building complex at 100 E. Wall St.

The post office is the first portion of the multi-million-dollar federal building to open.

All services that have been offered at the old office at 114 N. Loraine St. will now be at the new post office. Postmaster

David Holster urged that all customers having post office boxes rented at the old office remove the mail from these boxes today if at all possible. Mail not removed by the boxholders will be removed by postal clerks and placed in the new post office boxes rented by these customers.

Another section moving from leased quarters at 301 S. Main St. is the Tall City Station carrier section. Mail being held by these carriers as requested by customers while on vacation will now be picked up at the service windows of the new post office. The leased quarters at 301 S. Main St. have been closed.

Holster continued by saying that the Annex at 401 S. Colorado Street would remain open for one more week before moving to the new post office. All post office box service and window service will continue at that office until Friday.

21 Missing In Landslides

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Massive landslides high in the Andes have blocked a river, destroyed a road and razed a small village, and at least 21 persons are missing and presumed dead, authorities said Saturday.

The disaster was not reported until Saturday because of communications difficulties. The slides quickly blocked the Mantaro River, forming a lake which started rising at the rate of more than three feet an hour. Police said that when last measured the lake was about 10 miles long and some 1,500 feet deep.

The spot of the disaster is 350 miles southeast of Lima, and some 90 miles south of Huanuco, capital of the Province of Junin.

Ford left Wichita Falls at mid-afternoon for Tulsa, Okla., where he was to speak at a fund-raising dinner for Sen. Henry Bellmon, R-Okla.

After the three got into the car, Lackey was robbed at knife point.

Solzhenitsyn Still Providing Support For Prisoners

MOSCOW (AP) — Russian author Alexander Solzhenitsyn will continue giving money to support Soviet political prisoners despite his exile from his homeland, according to a Soviet dissident.

The dissident, Alexander Ginzburg, said Friday that some money from Solzhenitsyn's writings has "for some years" been going to the families of political prisoners.

The deportation of Solzhenitsyn will not stop this, said Ginzburg, himself a writer who spent five years in prison.

Coins, Pistol Taken In House Burglary

A burglary at the home of A. R. Titus, 1624 Hickory St., netted the thief $30 in silver coins, an undetermined amount of cash and a .38 caliber pistol.

Police reported the burglar entered the home through a garage door sometime Thursday. The items were taken from the master bedroom.

The burglary was reported to police Saturday.

His three sons are all active in the newspaper profession. They are Lyle DeBolt of the Kingston (N. C.) Free Press; Marvin DeBolt, publisher of the Fort Pierce (Fla.) News Tribune; and Dwight DeBolt, advertising director of the Fort Pierce paper.

Three Teen-Agers Caught In Store, Loot Recovered

Three Midland boys — aged 17, 15, and 14 — were arrested inside B & B Trading Post, 617 E. Illinois St., about 1:45 a.m. Saturday.

Officers reported finding near the 17-year-old a paper sack containing several wedding ring sets, two other rings, two watches, a wallet, a hunting knife and two .22-caliber revolvers.

A burglary complaint is expected to be filed against the 17-year-old Monday and the juveniles' case will be turned over to juvenile officials, authorities said.

Police were called to the pawn shop by a burglar alarm but nothing appeared to be out of order. However, two officers, Patrolmen Johnny Thompson and Joe Carr with his police dog, remained there until the owner arrived to check the building.

The owner found that an inside door which should have been locked was open and the officers and dog searched inside. They found one of the boys and, while Thompson was handcuffing him, Carr and his dog continued the search of the building.

Investigators said it appeared the youths took a ladder from the Dew Drop Inn nearby and crawled up it to the roof of the trading post.

Another boy came out of hiding, saying, "Don't shoot. Don't shoot." and surrendered to Carr, the officers reported.

Patrolman Bobby Storey and his police dog found the older boy hiding under some merchandise, police said.

None of the property taken in the earlier burglaries has been recovered. The three remain in City Jail.

LARGELY Mobil Increases

NEW YORK (AP) Oil Co. says its profit for this quarter is seven percent more than the previous quarter. This is the first time since 1973.

Mobil, third largest company in the nation, reported profits of $189 million in the first quarter and $180 million in the last quarter.

First quarter 1974 were equivalent to share, compared with the last quarter of $1.53 in the first quarter, Mobil said Friday.

First quarter revenue was $4.4 billion, or only $2.8 billion three months of 1973.

Mobil followed a sharply higher profit quarter ended last week reported by the companies. Earlier

Pioneer Earns Decrease Since

AMARILLO Natural Gas has announced the consolidated net first quarter of $3,779,042. This amount is 55 cents per share compared with 55 cents per share in the first quarter of 1973.

K. B. "Tex" Watson, cited several factors for the decline in sales to heating customers in excess of 1 million from the same quarter. Volumes of gas were unchanged.

He pointed out that winter resulted in sales to heating customers off in excess of 1 million from the same quarter. Volumes of gas were unchanged.

During the first quarter of 1974, gas sales increased $2.8 million from the same quarter of 1973. Watson said the rate on total gas sales had been increased one percent for four consecutive last Jan. 1.

LARGELY OVERSEAS— Mobil Reports Profits Increase 66 Per Cent

NEW YORK (AP) — Mobil Oil Co. says its profits of $269 million for this year's first quarter is seven per cent less than the previous quarter—but 66 per cent more than the firm made in the first three months of 1973.

Mobil, third largest oil company in the nation, reported profits of $189 million in the first quarter and $278 million in the last quarter of 1973.

First quarter 1974 earnings were equivalent to $2.54 per share, compared with $2.73 in the last quarter of 1973 and $1.53 in the first quarter of last year, Mobil said Friday.

First quarter revenues this year were $4.4 billion, but totaled only $2.8 billion in the first three months of 1973.

Mobil followed a trend of sharply higher profits for the quarter ended last month that were reported by the major oil companies. Earlier this week

Texaco announced the biggest increase in first-quarter profits among the majors, a jump of 123 per cent.

The $3 per barrel rise in the price of crude oil boosted Mobil's profits from its U.S. petroleum operations in this year's first quarter by 33 per cent, to $66 million. In the same period last year the figure was $49 million.

Government controls that held prices below costs resulted in a money loss for Mobil's domestic refining and marketing operations.

The company's overseas petroleum operations, including profits from its share of Middle East oil, increased 63 per cent to $177 million, against $109 million in the first quarter of 1973.

The highest percentage increase was registered by the firm's income from its worldwide chemical operations. In the first quarter last year the total was $5 million. At the end of this year's first quarter the total was $18 million, a 259 per cent jump.

A Mobil spokesman said that during the first quarter this year the company did not earmark money reserves to pay taxes that Congress may levy against the oil companies, because the move would be premature.

However, the spokesman said an undisclosed reserve was set aside to pay potential retroactive increases in the cost of foreign crude oil.

Pioneer Earnings Decrease Slightly

AMARILLO — Pioneer Natural Gas has announced that the consolidated net income for the first quarter of 1974 was $3,779,043. This amounts to 51 cents per share compared with 55 cents per share for the first quarter of 1973.

K. B. "Tex" Watson, president, cited several reasons for failure to increase earnings during the period.

He pointed out that a mild winter resulted in volumes of sales to heating customers being off in excess of 17 per cent from the same quarter last year. Volumes of gas sales practically were unchanged with the deficiencies in deliveries to domestic and commercial customers being made up by increased sales of gas for irrigation and industrial customers at comparatively lower contract rates.

Due to spot and accelerated purchases, the average cost of gas increased more rapidly in the quarter than would be expected in the second and third quarters of the year, with the increase not yet reflected completely in cost-of-gas adjustments to customers.

During the first quarter, revenue from gas sales increased $2.8 million from the same quarter of 1973 while gas purchased increased $5.3 million.

Watson said the depreciation rate on total gas plant in service had been increased from three per cent to four per cent effective last Jan. 1.

'Mr., Miss OC' Named By College

ODESSA — A sophomore from Albuquerque, N.M., and a freshman from Odessa Friday were named "Mr. and Miss OC."

Ernest Jenkins, a member of the Wrangler varsity basketball team and son of Mrs. Leatha Jenkins of Albuquerque, was named "Mr. OC."

Linda Simpson, 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Simpson of 3829 Candy Lane, was elected "Miss OC."

Alarm Scores Off Burglar At Lounge

A theft may have been averted about 2:30 a.m. Saturday at the Mardi Gras Lounge at 2105 E. Front St.

Police believe the burglar, who broke into a back room of the tavern, was frightened off by the burglar alarm.

Nothing appeared to be missing. Patrolmen Joe Kropp and John Roundtree reported, but there was about $35 damage to a door which had been pried open.

The Black Experience: The 1970 U.S. Census lists 538,746 persons as physicians, dentists and other practitioners. Of this number 11,436, or 2.1 per cent, are black. Black doctors comprise 3.6 per cent of the doctors in the 11 industrial states. New York State has largest number, with 1,903. California has 1,265, and Illinois, 992.

The 11 states which formed the Confederacy have proportionately the smallest number of black doctors: 2,594 out of 105,382. In New Mexico there are none known by this correspondent in 1974 and perhaps one or two in Arizona, according to our last report. Texas has the largest number of doctors of any of the Southern states with a total of 24,948 and the highest concentration of black doctors with 459. Less than 1 per cent of the black doctors are practicing rural medicine, while 7,422 or 65 per cent practice in 10 large urban states.

According to a recent National Medical Association survey of 5,000 black doctors, 91 per cent were listed as male with most of their incomes based on fee service while 17 per cent of the respondents were salaried. Only 7 per cent of those who replied teach medicine.

There were 909 black doctors counted in U.S. Census of 1890. This was the year before Chicago's Provident Hospital opened its doors with Dr. Daniel Hale Williams at the helm. It was in 1893 that Dr. Williams earned a permanent niche in medical annals when he performed the first open heart operation ever recorded. By 1930 there were 3,770 black doctors in the U.S. and the highest number, 331, were in Illinois.

In this connection, it is interesting to observe that a decrease in the number of black graduates from black-oriented Howard Medical School and D.C. It will mark the first time Meharry is the direct result of a tripling of the percentage of black graduates from other public and private schools and the nation's capital.

quadrupling of the number of students enrolled. Tennessee led the list of states contributing to the medical student body in 1973-74 with 114 (Meharry is in Nashville); Florida next with 39; Illinois with 31; Alabama 29; Mississippi, 29; New York, 29; Texas, 28; Georgia 28; California, 22; and Virginia, 21. Several foreign black countries are represented, too.

Dear Mrs. W of Clovis, N.M.: It is indeed tragic that some of our best minds among youth, both white and black and in-between, are being ruined with the ever increasing use of drugs. There are so few (proportionately) black youths in college and universities today and what splendid opportunities they have to furnish the moral and spiritual leadership our race so desperately needs today to lead our people out of the wilderness of hopelessness and despair. We witnessed these tragic arrests in your area and pray that these kids will see the light before it is too late. Believe it or not, black religious-oriented colleges have a better track record in this direction. Our churches, social organizations and fraternal orders need to double their efforts in proclaiming loud and clear: "Pot leads to despair, defeat and death. Don't touch!" And as you say, drinking can become a problem but it is much easier defeated than pot, etc. Keep up your good work.

Miss Dorothy Height, president of the National Council of Negro Women, has announced plans for the unveiling of a monument to Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, educator, humanitarian, civil rights worker and founder of Bethune-Cookman College. Mrs. Bethune also founded the National Council of Negro Women, which today lists over 30,000 members, and 25 affiliate chapters. The unveiling will highlight three special events on July 11 and 12 in Washington, D.C. It will mark the first time a monument has been erected in honor of a woman of black public lands in the nation's capital.

Calls For Income Tax Cut Draw Little Initial House Backing

By EDMOND Le BRETON
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Calls by nationally known Democratic senators for a personal income tax cut have drawn little initial support in the House, which has the main responsibility for revenue legislation.

A sampling of opinion among members of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee brought comments ranging from outright opposition to guarded willingness to consider tax reduction if the economy continues in the doldrums.

Consideration Premature
 Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said consideration of tax reduction would be premature until about July, when more information about the economy will be available.

He has said Congress might have to consider selective tax adjustments to encourage production by key industries. As a practical political matter, he has said, any tax aid to business would have to be accompanied by some easing of individual burdens.

The senior Republican member of the committee, Rep. Herman T. Schneebell of Pennsylvania, shrugged off as "pure saving for any family would depend on its income tax bracket and the number of dependents such as Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, and Walter F. Mondale and Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota that a quick tax cut is needed.

"You don't hear anybody on this (House) side talking like that, do you?" Schneebell asked. "It would be absurd to cut taxes during the kind of inflation we are having."

Two members of what is generally considered the liberal Democratic wing of the committee were unenthusiastic.

"The kind of tax cut they're talking about might mean $50 or so to the average guy," said Rep. Charles A. Vanik of Ohio.

"I'd rather see the money used directly on programs to stimulate jobs."

Rep. Sam Gibbons of Florida said tax reductions are slow to translate into economic pickup. Any now contemplated, he said, would have to be for the lowest income groups—many of whom pay no income tax in any case. That kind of legislation, he said, would be hard to write.

The proposals being discussed among senators largely are for increases in the $750 personal exemption, perhaps to $825 or $850. The amount of tax saving for any family would depend on its income tax bracket and the number of dependents qualifying for the exemption.

PROTECTED ONLY BY ALARM BELL— $20.4 Million In Art Stolen

By VINCENT MAHON
 BLESSINGTON, Ireland (AP) — The Beit art collection, one of the finest private collections in the world, was protected only by an alarm hooked up to a rural police station when armed thieves escaped with $20.4 million in paintings, its owner said Saturday.

"We are not in London," Sir Alfred Beit said when it was suggested that the security in his 18th century mansion was inadequate. "We live in a remote part of the country with a small village and a small police station."

When the bell rang in the police station of this quiet County Wicklow town 15 miles southwest of Dublin late Friday, the station was closed for the night. The police were finally summoned 40 minutes after four youths led by a brunette woman with a French accent escaped with 19 carefully selected masterpieces by Vermeer, Goya, Rubens and others.

The raid itself took seven minutes, and police said it was probably the largest art theft in history.

Irish police mounted a nationwide search for the gang. There was some speculation that the bandits were Irish Republican Army guerrillas who hope to ransom the paintings for jailed comrades.

Beit said he would not ransom the works for money. He said some were insured, but declined to say for how much.

"No money would compensate for the loss of these beautiful objects which have been in the care of my family for the last 80 years," said the 71-year-old former Conservative member of the British Parliament whose family made millions in South African gold and diamond mines.

He said that the first painting selected and taken from its frame by the woman thief was "A Woman Writing a Letter" by Vermeer. Police estimated its value at $7.2 million and experts said this may be conservative.

"She was the leader, I am convinced. She knew what she was about," Beit said.

If apparently she was the world's largest robbery.

The value of the art works was given by James White, director of Dublin's National Gallery, where the paintings often were on exhibit. Police, however, would not comment on the value of the paintings.

Beit's wife, Clementine, told newsmen one of the gunmen dragged her out of the mansion in this village south of Dublin, kicked her and flung her on the stone stairs, shouting: "We'll be back for you later."

Irish police said the woman, speaking with a French accent, knocked at the door to Beit's 18th century home, and when a young servant opened the door three armed men pushed inside. Beit, 71, and his wife were listening to records in the drawing room.

"They rushed in shouting 'capitalist pigs' and told us that we were walking on the working class," Beit said. "One of them put a revolver against my neck. I turned and he hit me."

The Beits and their four servants were tied up, police said, while the woman, apparently very knowledgeable about art, casually selected the best of Beit's treasures.

The largest robbery listed in the Guinness Book of World Records was $11.5 million in gold bars and bank notes stolen by American servicemen and German civilians in June 1945 from a mountain-side cache near Einsiedel, Bavaria.

HOLLYWOOD (Special) — New scientific discoveries have produced a Vitamin E diet that quickly works wonders on overweight people, and reportedly is gaining great popularity across the country with glowing reports of easy weight loss "while still eating almost as much as you want."

Those who follow the simple Vitamin E diet report an average loss of at least a pound a day and even more without exercise or starvation. Nutritionists' files are bulging with happy testimonials from formerly overweight people who are now trim and slim again. Best of all, you can still eat almost as much as you want of the "forbidden foods" like steak, chicken, fish, sauces, gravies, bacon, and eggs and still lose weight.

Chewable (candy-like) vitamin E tablets, as used in the diet plan, contain a new scientific combination of ingredients that quickly curbs and controls the appetite, while also giving the wondrous benefits of Vitamin E which is so essential to good health.

Home Loans Made Easier

Buntie Kent, president of the Midland Board of Realtors, commented on the new regulations that have been recently approved by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board concerning more flexible home payment loans.

"The trend in recent years toward higher and higher home construction cost has kept many young couples from being able to own their own homes. The new regulations that I'm talking about are ones in which the buyer will be able to make smaller loan payments in the early years and then have larger payments later when his income has risen also," Mrs. Kent said.

"Under a regular payment plan, a $30,000, 30-year mortgage at eight per cent would be repaid at $230.13 a month for 30 years. And, under the flexible repayment Regulations, the monthly payments could be as small as $100 for the first five years. At that time, the payment would rise to $330 each month, enough to pay off the balance within the remaining 25 years of the mortgage," she noted.

Americans visit a doctor five times a year on the average.

Texas Bank Deposits Remain High

By The Associated Press

Large city banks failed to top previous first quarter deposits in a bank call, but the medium to small Texas city banks did have their highest deposits in history in many cases.

Deposits remained high, a survey showed Friday, but the trend of banks setting all time records each quarter was broken.

One reason may have been that the comptroller of the currency called for the statement of a bank's condition as of April 24, which is only nine days after many bank accounts were depleted by payment of income taxes.

Last year he issued the first quarter bank call for statements as of March 28.

Farming, Cattle Profitable

Farming and cattle raising was profitable in recent months, the survey indicated. Bankers said the high figures showed people were holding onto their money in these unstable economic times.

One said that people were spending more.

Almost all cities showed increase in deposits over a year ago.

San Angelo bankers called the West Texas city a "bright spot in the state's economy." Marcus Cheaney, president of the San Angelo National, said that "we are quite concerned about drought conditions" but added, "Other than that, everything looks good and industrial and business growth are continuing."

Sources at Kerrville, where an all-time record was set, credited good cattle prices and increased social security payments.

Amarillo and Canyon showed seasonal records in spite of a drought. One banker said, "The farmers tend to hold things (spending) down when they don't have rain. But I imagine one thing that's holding us up (keeping deposits high) is a good, booming industrial situation."

Dallas won a battle between it and Houston to claim the most deposits and thereby call itself "the banking capital of Texas."

It was the first time since mid-1969 that Dallas had beaten Houston.

Houston's deposits were up well over a billion dollars. The city had previously set all-time records for 16 of the last 17 quarters.

NAMING MOBIL, 12 OTHERS— Hunt Files $13-Billion Lawsuit

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — Dallas oil man Nelson Bunker Hunt filed one of the largest lawsuits ever in the United States Friday, as he asked for almost $13 billion in damages from Mobil Oil Corp. because of breach of contract and anti-trust violations.

The suit said Hunt's oil holdings in Libya were nationalized last year because Mobil and other oil companies refused to live up to a 1971 contract. The agreement by the oil companies, Hunt's petition says, was that if one was nationalized or lost its share of the oil, the other companies would chip in to make up the difference.

The oilman is seeking to force Mobil to deliver several million barrels of oil Hunt says is owed him under the 1971 agreement.

In addition to the oil from Mobil, Hunt is seeking 118 million barrels from 12 other companies.

The suit also claimed that Mobil "has monopolized and has combined and conspired with others to monopolize the importation and sale of Persian Gulf oil."

The suit named 12 other oil companies as co-conspirators: Texaco Inc.; Standard Oil of California; Shell Petroleum

Six Governors To Visit China

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Republican and three Democratic governors are going to get a look at mainland China next month.

The White House announced on Friday the six governors will make a 10-day visit to China in mid-May as part of "an ongoing program of people-to-people exchanges."

The Republicans are Daniel J. Evans of Washington, Arch A. Moore Jr. of West Virginia and Robert D. Ray of Iowa. The Democrats are Calvin R. Hampton of Utah, Marvin Mandel of Maryland and Philip W. Noel of Rhode Island.

El Paso Pounds Midland Cubs, 18-7

Mike Weiss delivers to plate

By TED BATTLES
Despite the threat of pre-game thundershowers and intermittent light showers, they got in Saturday night's Texas League game at Cubs Stadium and after what the Diablos did to them, the Cubs might be wishing for rain today.

El Paso won 18-7 to sweep the first two games of the series and did it with an awesome display of 36 runs and 35 hits.

Game time today is 2 p.m. with left-hander Budd Schultz, 0-1, scheduled to pitch for Midland while Ken Barker, 1-0, will hurl for the Diablos.

Third baseman Ron Jackson collected two homers, a double and a single and knocked in three runs to pace the Diablos. Frank George batted in three runs with two singles and a double and catcher Rocky Jordan had two doubles, a triple and single for four RBI.

First baseman Jerry Tabb was one of the few bright spots for Midland, hitting a two-run triple and solo homer. In his last four games, the former Tulsa University All-American is eight for 16 with three homers, two doubles, a triple and 12 runs batted in.

"The best thing about it is that I'm hitting better against lefthanders," Tabb said. Last year, the forked arms gave Tabb fits. "I just didn't see that many in college."

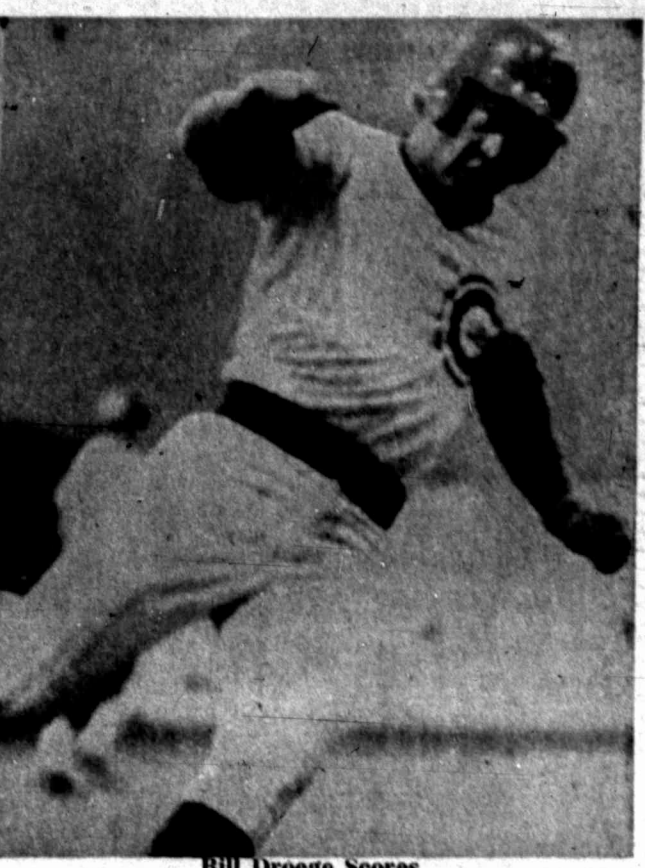

Midland stayed with El Paso for a while, but a nine run seventh turned a 7-5 game into a 16-5 rout.

Midland jumped in front in the first inning with Jerry Tabb's two-run double to the wall in center highlighting the rally. Ken Sotkiewicz ripped a single to center to start things. Wayne Tyrone beat out an in-run with two singles and a double and catcher Rocky Jordan had two doubles, a triple and single for four RBI.

After Tabb yanked a homer over the right field fence in the fifth, the speedy Diablos came right back with a couple in the sixth. Jackson and Friedman singled and Frank George doubled into center and was out trying for third on Ortiz' throw and Sotkiewicz' relay to Tyrone. However, after Weiss walked Rocky Jordan, Manager Walt Dixon summoned Bob Ott from the bullpen.

Joe Wallis' single and walk to Steve Haug and Bill Huisman loaded the bases in the sixth with none out. Manager Dave Garcia let southpaw John Andrews face the left-handed hitting Sotkiewicz, and after getting the strikeout he brought in right-hander Jack Donovan

Odessa Upsets Midland

By TERRY WILLIAMSON
R-T Sports Writer

ODESSA — Midland High left their flickering second half District 5-4A baseball title hopes stranded on second and third bases at Fly Field Saturday afternoon as the Bulldogs dropped a heart-breaking 8-7 decision to the last place Odessa High Bronchos.

Trailing 8-6 heading into the fatal seventh inning, Midland came up with only one run and left runners on second and third to lower their second half record to 3-2. Midland is now 11-13 on the year. Odessa was winless in second half action going into the game, but came out with a 1-4 and 10-12 season mark after relief pitcher Don Hudnall struck out Karl Brosig to end the contest and save the game for winning pitcher Garland Reid.

The Purple Pack could have moved into a first place deadlock with the two Abilene schools with a victory since Cooper and Abilene dropped games Saturday, but now the Bulldogs have only a slim chance at a playoff berth.

Now Lee and Midland, both with 2-2 second half records, must rely on each other help Tuesday when they face the Abilene schools. The two local squads both must win Tuesday in order to have a shot at the second half crown. Midland travels to Cooper while Lee plays host to Abilene.

In the punishing seventh, it looked like the Bulldogs might pull another one out of the fire. Brandon Battles, who led all hitters with three singles, opened the inning with an infield hit and moved to second when Broncho third baseman Randy Pufal overthrew first.

Terry Copeland, who drove in three runs for the 'Dogs, lifted a fly to center for the inning's first out, but Battles moved to third on a single to left by Bruce Smith.

The Bronchos then pulled Reid in favor of mound ace Hudnall.

Pack Misses Chance To Move Into Lead

who delivered a wild pitch which allowed Battles to score from third. Alan Buonassera was walked by Hudnall and the two Bulldogs runners advanced to second and third with one out on a passed ball by catcher Mike Fambro.

Hudnall proved his worth, however, by striking out Jeff Cole and Brosig to end the game in one run favor of the Bronchos.

It had been an uphill battle for the Pack all day after Alan Johnson put the Red Hoses in the lead in the first inning when he scored from third on a passed ball by Copeland.

Odessa ran to a 3-0 lead in the second frame when losing pitcher Cole, now 4-5 on the year, yielded a walk to Jerry Walker and back-to-back doubles to Fambro and Mike Casey.

Midland tied the contest at three in the third inning when Battles got his first of three singles to plate Cleilan Pearce to open the frame when he walked the next three batters before Fambro unleashed his title chasing liner past third.

Littlejohn got the two runs back in the sixth with a single that scored Brosig and Ron Helm, but the Pack then entered the seventh — a number that held no luck for the Bulldogs.

BULLDOG BITES: Buonassera, who has not pitched for the Bulldogs in the second half, pitched one inning of relief for the Pack and retired the side in order. Two of the outs came when Buonassera struck out the first two batters he faced.

ALLIN BATTLES TO KEEP LEAD — Buddy Allin sends an iron shot toward the sixth green Saturday during the third round of the Tournament of Champions at the La Costa Country Club. Dodgers Edge Past Expos

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ron Cey and Bill Russell slugged home runs and Al Downing and Mike Marshall combined on a four-hitter, leading the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 5-2 victory over the Montreal Expos Saturday.

Downing, 1-2, who hurled the first seven innings, nearly failed to survive the first when the Expos loaded the bases with none out. He got out of it by striking out Hal Breen and getting Ken Singleton to ground into a double play.

Los Angeles was held scoreless on two hits by Steve Rogers until the fifth when a single by Willie Crawford, double by Steve Garvey and walk to Joe Ferguson loaded the bases with no one out. Crawford scored the Dodgers' first run when third baseman Ron Hunt booted Russell's bouncer and Downing's sacrifice fly made it 2-0.

Cey slugged a two-run homer, his first of the baseball season, in the sixth with Bill Buckner aboard.

Russell hit his with the bases empty in the seventh, his second of the season.

The Expos scored twice in the seventh on a walk to Singleton, infield singles by Jim Cox and Tim Foli and a sacrifice fly by Barry Foote.

Longhorns Win SWC Crown By Beating Aggies Twice

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Jim Gideon pitched a six-hit shutout for his 16th straight victory this year as Texas clinched its 10th consecutive Southwest Conference baseball title with an 8-0 first-game victory over Texas A&M Saturday. The Longhorns also won the second game 4-3.

Texas struck early in the title-clinching opener, scoring three runs in the first inning on Keith Moreland's run-scoring single and Rick Bradley's two-run homer off Aggie starter Perry Arthus.

The Longhorns later tallied three more runs in the fifth and two in the sixth, accumulating 12 hits in the seven-inning game.

In the second contest, Texas took a 3-0 lead in the third inning after a two-run homer by Moreland, who had four RBI's in the doubleheader.

The Aggies rebounded against Texas starter Rich Wortham with a run in the fifth and Jim Hacker's two-run homer to tie the game in the ninth. But Bobby Clark of Odessa scored the winning run for Texas in the bottom of the inning on a one-out wild pitch by A&M reliever Jimmy Juhl.

Texas finished its season with a 44-4 record and a 20-4 SWC mark. A&M fell to 17-7 and 31-13.

The victories clinched a berth for Texas in the national playoffs.

Permian Dims Lee's Bid

By BOB DILLON

Midland Lee left runners stranded at second and third in the bottom of the seventh inning and blew a chance to move into first place with Abilene and Abilene Cooper as the Rebels dropped a tough 3-2 decision to Odessa Permian Saturday at the Lee diamond.

While Lee was losing to Permian, Cooper dropped a 10-6 tilt to lowly Big Spring and Abilene lost to San Angelo, 3-2. Midland also had a chance to move into first, but lost, 8-7, to Odessa.

Lee had it's chance to win the game in the final inning. Pinch-hitter Phil Anderson struck out and leadoff hitter Blain Murray popped out to catcher Steve Breazeale for two outs. Larry Tidwell came up runners to second in the first with his fourth straight hit, a two innings without scoring. Single past short and third and Robbie Porter grounded out. Brett Blackwell delivered his sharply to second and Murray third single with Tidwell racing sharply back to the mound, but all the way to third on the Tidwell bounced a double over throw from the outfield and Blackwell to second. Bobby Stevens then looped a ball to a 1-0 lead. Blackwell stole his first baseman Greg Austin for second of three bases, but was left stranded at second when Stevens flew out to right.

Austin and Alex Kager had hit the second half of the race while Permian, first half winners with a 7-0 reading, is now 2-3.

Lee held on to a 1-0 lead after four innings with Stevens pitching a strong game for the Rebels, but Permian scored three times in the top of the fifth inning and held on to win its 15th game in 19 outings.

Lee is now 16-8 on the year and faces Abilene which is now 4-1, on the Lee diamond Tuesday.

Coach Ernie Johnson's Rebels took a 1-0 lead off right-hander Ray Nunez in the bottom of the third inning after getting

Charles Gains Lead

By BOB GREEN

CARLSBAD, Calif. (AP) — Bob Charles, a thin left-hander from New Zealand, came from seven strokes off the pace with a 67, swept past faltering Buddy Allin, and assumed the lead Saturday during the third round of golf's $200,000 Tournament of Champions.

Charles, a dark, dour man who became eligible for this elite event with his recent victory in the Greensboro Open, put together a 54-hole total of 209, seven under par, on the warm and sunny La Costa Country Club course.

Allin, the skinny, little red-head who had led the first two rounds, blew a four-stroke advantage and drifted back to second. He bogeyed three holes in a row beginning on the 15th and took a disappointing 75.

He was one behind at 210 going into the last round of this tournament that brings together only the winners of pro golf tour events for the last 12 months.

Johnny Miller, the U.S. Open champion and winner of four titles already this season, was tied with Hubert Green and John Mahaffey at 211, just two shots back. Miller had a 67, Green a six-under-par 66, and Mahaffey 71.

Strack-Patton Duo Take Tourney Lead

By TERRY WILLIAMSON

Dean Strack and Richard Patton, both of Midland, fired a two-day total of 136 Friday and Saturday to hold a one-stroke lead in the fifth annual Ernie Nelson Partnership Golf Tournament at the Midland Country Club.

Strack and Patton got off to a fast start Friday with a blazing 66 low ball score and added a 72 Saturday to earn the one-stroke margin heading into today's final round in the 10-team championship flight.

Mike Walling and Jake Broyles of Fort Stockton and Duane Childress and Doug Moore of Ozona stand at 139 heading into today's final round on the beautifully groomed Midland Country Club golf course.

Walling and Broyles combined for a 67 Saturday to jump into the thick of the action while Childress and

Nelson Golf

Moore fired a 68 in Friday's first round.

Strack and Patton's 66 Friday led all linksters in the first round, but George Tucker of Midland and partner Steve Furr of Austin matched that mark Saturday when the pin placements were somewhat tougher. Furr and Tucker, however, had a 74 Friday and remain in a four team tie for fourth place with a 140.

Others at 140 are Ed Moses, Midland, and partner Dave Powell, Dallas; Andy Shapira and Graham Mackey, both of Midland; and Midland's Larry Snyder

Ted Ferguson and Guy Proctor, who managed runner-up honors a year ago, did not make the championship flight this year. They own a 145 after the first two days, and will play in the first flight today.

Astros Whip Cubs, 10-7

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Houston Astros chased Pittsburgh's Bob Moose with five runs in the first inning and went on to defeat the Pirates 10-7 Saturday in a nationally televised baseball game.

Moose got just one batter out before leaving after being racked for four hits and a walk.

Greg Goss and Roger Metzger led off with singles and Cesar Cedeno doubled home the first run. Bob Watson was intentionally walked. Lee May made an error and Milt May's infield single made it 3-0 and kayoed Moose.

Cardinals Edge Cincy In 10th

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Bake McBride reached base on a two-out, infield single in the 10th and raced home on Ken Reitz' double, giving the St. Louis Cardinals a 4-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds Saturday night.

The Reds tied the game 3-3 on an RBI single by Andy Kosco in the ninth inning.

STANLEY CUP SEMIFINALS

Flyers, Rangers Tangle

By HAL BOCK
NEW YORK (AP) — Dave Schultz is angry. Only seven playoff games this season, and he has been dumped out of the Stanley Cup semifinals. He had two 10-minute misadventures in the nationally televised fourth game of their three-game series. Schultz picked up 31 of his 33 minutes in Thursday's third game, won by the Rangers 5-3. He had two 10-minute misadventures in the nationally televised fourth game of their three-game series. Schultz picked up 31 of his 33 minutes in Thursday's third game, won by the Rangers 5-3. He had two 10-minute misadventures in the nationally televised fourth game of their three-game series.

"That was some match-up, wasn't it?" said Ranger General Manager Coach Emile Francis. "He picked on a guy who's two feet shorter than him."
Francis quickly balanced the match-up, substituting heavy-weight Ron Harris for the lighter Gilbert. That was when the fireworks started. Both players dropped their gloves and although they never actually fought, Schultz reacted angrily, beckoning for Francis and the other Rangers to come out and fight.

TCU Frogs Sweep SMU Nine With 10 Base Thefts

DALLAS (AP) — TCU exploded for 12 runs Saturday in a four-run fifth inning, keyed the seventh inning of its first by second baseman Phil Turngame with SMU to take 17-2. TCU's bases-loaded double, gave Southwest Conference baseball TCU a 5-0 advantage in the series. The Frogs also took on game. Bruins, Black Hawks To Battle Tonight

By DAVE O'HARA
BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins, apparently back on the track with their mighty scoring machine despite Chicago's super star Tony Esposito, seek to break their playoff series deadlock with the Black Hawks tonight in the fifth game at the Garden.
"It's down to a two-out-of-three series, and two of the games are in Boston," Coach Bep Guidolin said Saturday after sending the Bruins through a brisk workout.
The Bruins, who managed just two points with a pair of ties in five games with Chicago during the regular National Hockey League season, have come back twice against the Hawks in the best-of-seven Stanley Cup semifinal.
After dropping a 4-2 decision as Esposito made 46 stops in the opener, Boston took a wild second game 8-6. Then the Bruins blew a 3-1 lead and bowed 4-3 in overtime in the third game in Chicago Tuesday. However, they came back to square the series with a 5-2 victory Thursday night.
"We played just as well in the third game as we did Thursday night, but the score was different," Guidolin said. "All we had to do was keep playing our game."
The Black Hawks, who were blown out of the playoffs in four games as the Bruins went on to win their first Stanley Cup in 29 years in 1970, have put up a stiff fight while battling the odds in their first post-season crack at Boston since the humiliation four years ago.
The Bruins came out of the fourth game with two casualties, defenseman Carol Vadnais and Darryl Edstrand. Vadnais took treatment and sat out Saturday's practice. But Boston trainer Dan Canney said he expects both Vadnais and Edstrand to be ready tonight.
The Hawks also are hurting, with several players nursing nagging injuries. Dennis Hull was bothered by a back muscle spasm Thursday night. Stan Mikita took a four-stitch cut in the mouth, Pit Martin has a troublesome knee and Jim Pappin is bothered by a chronic back ailment.

NAGOYA, Japan (AP) — With Gary Player and Arnold Palmer far behind, a pair of Japanese golfers tied Saturday at 134 for a two-stroke, second-round lead in the $100,000 Chunchi International tournament.
Jumbo Ozaki fired a 67 and Takashi Murakami, the first-round leader, shot a 71 on the 6,530-yard, par-70 course at the Nagoya Golf Club in central Japan.
In 23rd place was South Africa's Player, the U.S. Masters Champ, who shot a 69 for a 140. Palmer, in 47th place, fired a 74.

BADMINTON, England (AP) — Capt. Mark Phillips rode Columbus to victory Saturday in the prestigious Badminton Horse Trials. His wife, Britain's Princess Anne, placed fourth.
Phillips, who gained his third Badminton win in four years, finished ahead of the field of 60 with a smooth run in the final showjumping section.
Britain's Janet Hodgson finished second and Bruce Davidson of South Westport, Mass., was third.

TAIPEI (AP) — A doubles victory over Taiwan Saturday advanced Japan to the fourth round Davis Cup East Zone tennis competition in India. It was the third point for the winners.
Japan's Kenichi Hrai and Kiyoshi Tanabe scored 6-3, 6-1, 6-0 triumphs against Taiwan's F.Y. Lin and F.S. Tang.
NEW YORK (AP) — Two U.S. Lawn Tennis Association officials, W.E. Hester, Jr. and Stanley Malless, were named Saturday as delegates to the 1974 International Lawn Tennis Federation convention.
The meeting will be held July 10 in Amsterdam.

Bullpups Win Title On Flip

Coach Dave Rutherford's Midland High junior varsity baseball team had the luck of the Irish Saturday as the Bullpups won the Midland Junior Varsity Invitational Baseball Tournament by virtue of a coin flip after tying the Odessa High JV's 6-6 when the game was called due to darkness at the Memorial Stadium diamond.
The pitching of Jackie Wells, who also hit a three-run homer for the Bullpups, paced the Midland attack against Odessa and Steve Rickey banged out two doubles to aid the tie which was broken with a successful coin flip when rain and darkness halted the play.
Earlier Saturday, the Midland Lee JV's won consolation honors with a 12-7 victory over the Midland High Sophomores. Lee erupted for six runs in the fourth inning to do most of the damage. Brian Webb and Robin Todd produced doubles in the fourth to aid the Lee attack.
The Midland sophomores scored four runs in the fourth on doubles by Andy Barron and Sterling Price, but Lee had already iced the game away.

Celtics, Bucks In NBA Action

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Bucks, who patiently seek the open shot or feed 7-foot-2 Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, collide at 1:30 p.m. CDT in game one of the National Basketball Association championship playoffs.
A capacity crowd of 10,938 at the Milwaukee Arena and a national television audience will watch.
"One team is going to win this, and I want it to be us," said the Bucks' Coach Larry Costello Saturday. "But we've got to be alert, no relaxing a minute, or these guys (the Celtics) can run right by you. We can't let them run wild."
The Bucks, seeking to recapture the NBA title they won in 1971, posted the best regular season record in the league at 59-23 to Boston's 56-26.
They advanced to the playoffs by eliminating the Los Angeles Lakers four victories to one and crushing the Chicago Bulls in four consecutive games.
The Celtics had a surprisingly tough time with the young Buffalo Braves in their first round, but regained peak form by whipping 1973 NBA champion New York in five games in the second round.
Boston and Milwaukee split four regular season games, with the Bucks outscoring the Celtics 101.5 to 97.3 points per meeting. In two games at the Arena, Milwaukee won 117-93 Nov. 30 and Boston prevailed 105-104 Feb. 6.
The Celtics are at full strength, but Bucks' guard Lucius Allen was lost for the season after knee surgery in mid-March. Ron Williams, his replacement, is averaging 12.4 points a game and shooting at a .521 clip in the playoffs, but Allen's speed is expected to be sorely missed against Boston.
"Boston is not an exceptionally good shooting team, so we would like to make them play halfcourt basketball," Costello said. "They like to run and shoot it up there quickly."

Atlanta Raps 3 Home Runs In 5-2 Win

ATLANTA (AP) — Darrell Evans, pitcher Roric Harrison and Dusty Baker belted home runs Saturday, powering the Atlanta Braves to a 5-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs.
Evans, breaking out of a 0-for-11 slump, smacked his third homer of the year over the right field fence in the first inning and rapped a run-scoring single to right in the fifth after Ralph Garr had tripled.
Harrison, 2-3, hit his first homer of the baseball season and the fourth of his career in the third, a 390-foot blast over the left field fence.
Chicago (101-100-2) 10 4
Atlanta (98-95-3) 5 2

NFL Shakes Up Rules, WFL Deserves An Assist

The National Football League's expansion into Tampa didn't create much excitement anywhere except perhaps in Tampa. However, Commissioner Pete Rozelle's revelation of sweeping rule changes the next day had everyone talking football in the midst of the hockey and basketball playoffs and the baseball season.

Battle Scene

By Ted Battles

It sounds like retribution for the pre-season ink the Hank Aaron controversy stole from the other sports.

The NFL's intent was to open up the pro game offensively. In recent seasons, the game has gone conservative to the extent that teams have been eschewing the long pass to run the ball down to the opposition's 35 and then settle for a field goal. The entire theory of the game seemed to be avoidance of the six-point mistake.

Despite complaints that folks were falling asleep, as long as they were doing it in their seats at the stadium, such drastic alterations as moving the goal posts to the back of the end zone, kicking off from the 35 and the other changes probably would have remained coffee-break debates. That they didn't probably can be attributed to the fact that World Football League chose this time to rear its controversial head.

The rules changes involving the protection of the receiver from mayhem-intending defensive backs is the rule which could result in more scoring. Yet that will depend on interpretation and enforcement.

Reduction of the interior line holding penalty from 15 to 10 yards could help. There's plenty of it that goes uncalled, as any instant replay will show, and a reduced fine will encourage more of it, which could help the offenses.

Moving the goal posts back and bringing missed field goal attempts out to the 20 or the line of scrimmage, if outside the 20, from where the kick was made will tend, it would seem, to reduce scoring. The idea is to make the offensive team go for the touchdown rather than the field goal.

What it will do on fourth and short yardage is to make the punt less of a gamble than the field goal. Yet, it may stimulate more daring on the first three downs to make the first down. Instead of three thrusts between the tackles and a field goal, the offense might gamble more. If so, the NFL's purpose would still be accomplished.

Whether the juggling accomplishes its purpose, you're at least got to give the NFL credit for trying to please.

One interesting development Friday was the revelation that The Toronto Northmen (Larry Csonka, Paul Warfield, Jim Kick) may take up residence in the Dallas Cotton Bowl, thus bringing football back to the unwashed masses who can't afford a Texas Stadium membership.

The WFL could really create competition for the Cowboys with some player shuffling that would keep jumping Cowboy favorites like Calvin Hill, Mike Montgomery and Craig Morton in Big-D.

HOBBS, N.M. — Midland College Friday became the newest member of the Western Junior College Athletic Conference.

At the annual meeting here, the nine-member group voted unanimously on Midland College's application for membership. The Western Conference is part of Region 5 of the National Junior College Athletic Association and is considered a strong conference.

The acceptance means MC will participate with other schools in the conference in tennis, golf, basketball, track, gymnastics, baseball, cross-country and football, if it so elects. The MC Board of Trustees have approved three sports: tennis, swimming, and golf for the 1974-75 school year. As no other schools in the conference have swimming teams, MC's two top swimmers in each event with national qualifying times will automatically go to the National Junior College Meet.

Plans are being formulated by Athletic Director Chester Story to apply to the Texas Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women for golf and swimming. The WJCC does not include women sports in those two events.

Swimming and tennis coaching positions are to be announced by the College. Story will be in charge of the golf team. Meanwhile, work progresses on the new campus as Story and community advisory committees begin preparation for recruitment and final plans for equipment and transportation needs.

Existing members of the Western Junior College Conference are Odessa College, Howard College at Big Spring, Western Texas at Snyder, New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, New Mexico JC at Hobbs, South Plains JC at Levelland College of Amarillo, Frank Phillips at Borger, Clarendon JC at Clarendon.

Under the rules of the Conference, in men's tennis, the top three teams in each region are qualified to enter the National finals. The individual winner in No. 1 singles and No. 1 doubles team from a given region are qualified to enter regardless of their team status. In golf, the top 5 participants in the region will go to the national competition. Of the five entered participants, the scores of the top four will be used for the team total.

JOLTED AGAIN—

Drug Violations Shock Chargers

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The shell-shocked San Diego Chargers are reeling from yet another blow — discipline from the National Football League for violating its drug policy.

Eight veteran players, General Manager Harland Svare and owner Eugene Klein were fined a total of $40,000 Friday, said NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle, adding they were also placed on probation.

Rozelle disclosed no details of the violations. But Svare, reached in Clarkfield, Minn., said: "Everybody knows we're talking about marijuana."

It was the first such action since the league announced last

June that it was strengthening its anti-drug policy.

Defensive end Deacon Jones and linebacker Tim Rossovich were fined $3,000 each; wide receiver Jerry LeVias and defensive lineman Coy Bacon and Dave Costa $2,000 each; and linebacker-coach Rick Redman, running back Bob Thomas and guard Walt Sweeney $1,000 each.

Svare, who coached the Chargers half of last season and then became general manager, was fined $5,000. Klein was fined $20,000.

Sweeney, who was traded to the Washington Redskins after the season, was the only player who could be reached for comment.

"I'm appalled," he said. "I haven't done anything illegal. Happily, I'm no longer connected with them (the Chargers)."

High Junior Tryouts Begin

The High Junior League of the Midland Junior Baseball Association will hold tryouts and registration this week at the new High Junior diamond in Hogan Park.

Vice Commissioner Luis Salinas announced that boys age 15 whose names begin with the initials A-M will report Wednesday and initials N-Z will tryout Thursday. All 16 year old boys will tryout and register Thursday. Make-up day is also set for May 3.

Salinas said the tryouts will be held at Simon Field at 5:30 p.m. Registration fee is $10 per boy.

Aeros Face Uphill Fight In WHA

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — The Houston Aeros are expected to benefit Sunday from the week off between games in their World Hockey Association semifinal playoff series against the Minnesota Fighting Saints.

The Saints lead the series 2-1 going into Sunday night's game at the St. Paul Civic Center.

Houston Coach Bill Dineen took his team home for the week after last Sunday's game in St. Paul, and the Aeros were to return to Minnesota today.

"The time off in the schedule will help us more than the Saints," Dineen said. "We have some older players and we have a few injuries that have been nagging us."

After Sunday night's game, the teams return to Houston for the fifth game Monday night.

When the schedule was first announced, the Saints didn't like the idea of the quick trip to Houston for the fifth game.

LOLICH OFF TO ROCKY START— Good Stuff, Good Licking

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Mickey Lolich had a good fast ball and a good slider Friday night... plus a good licking.

"My trouble? I couldn't get anybody out," the Detroit Tigers ace left-hander said after absorbing an 8-2 pounding at the hands and bats of the Chicago White Sox.

The 33-year-old southpaw who once won 25 games, shows an 0-4 record this season with a whopping 5.82 earned run average.

Designated hitter Brian Downing's three-run homer in the fifth inning lowered the boom on Lolich. Dick Allen opened the fifth with a double and scored on Ron Santo's second double of the game. Ken Henderson was given an intentional walk before Downing smacked his homer to give Chicago a 7-1 cushion.

Orioles 6, A's 5

Don Baylor reached on a three-base error by Oakland center fielder Bill North in the 15th inning and scored on Andy Etcheberry's sacrifice fly. Reggie Jackson hit his second home run of the game in the 12th to give the A's a 5-4 lead but the Orioles, who wiped out a 4-1 deficit with three runs in the eighth, tied it on Elrod Hendricks' single, a walk and Boog Powell's single.

Yankees 4, Rangers 3

Thurman Munson reached on an error by third baseman Len Randle to open the seventh inning and eventually scored the winning run on Bobby Murcer's grounder, beating shortstop Toby Harrah's throw to the plate.

Indians 4, Angels 3

Chris Chambliss' three-run double capped a four-run seventh-inning Cleveland uprising against Nolan Ryan. Chambliss' hit kayoed Ryan, who had taken a two-hit, 3-0 lead into the seventh.

Royals 4, Red Sox 2

Cookie Rojas knocked in one run with a single and another scored on his double play grounder while Steve Busby went the route for Kansas City, scattering six hits.

Brewers 4, Twins 3

Darrell Porter's two-run triple in the eighth gave the Brewers a 4-0 lead, just enough to withstand a three-run rally by the Twins in their half of the inning.

Lee, Midland Qualify Gymnasts For State

ODESSA — Midland High's Pam Williams was the top girls all-around performer in the Region IV gymnastics meet at Odessa High Friday as Midland High qualified two girls for the May 10-11 meet at Austin.

In each division the top two teams, first two all-around performers and six top individuals in each event earned state berths.

Lee's Nancy Angevine took third in all-around.

Lee's Lindy Brock, third in all-around, qualified for the state boys meet floor exercise rings, high bar, long horse vault and parallel bars. Hugh White of Midland qualified in rings.

In girls, Permian was first, Lee second and Midland third. Karen Rooker and Miss Williams will be Midland's representatives at state while Lee qualified Miss Angevine, Janet Moore, and Polly Haney.

BOYS' RESULTS: Team totals
Odessa 228.05, Victoria 226.71, Midland 225.37.

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

No. 719 was also No. 15, which makes Hank Aaron No. 1... again.

But to the Atlanta superstar, the numbers game is getting out of hand.

"Please don't mention any records to me," Aaron said Friday night after smashing the 15th grand-slam home run in his career, setting a National League record and helping the Braves to a 9-3 thumping of the Chicago Cubs.

Pirates 4, Astros 3

Roger Metzger's error on Ed Kirkpatrick's base-loaded grounder in the bottom of the ninth gave the Pirates their victory over Houston.

Reds 4, Cards 3

George Foster doubled and eventually scored on a double play grounder in the sixth inning, moving Cincinnati past the Cardinals.

Padres 6, Phillies 2

Dave Winfield hit a tie-breaking home run in the sixth inning for the Padres to help Dave Freisleben win his major league pitching debut. Freisleben hurled a four-hitter but lost a shutout in the sixth inning when Dave Del Unser hit a two-run homer for the Phils.

Dodgers 7, Expos 1

Andy Messersmith hurried a three-hitter and Steve Yeager drove in three runs in the Dodgers' rout of Montreal for their fourth straight victory.

Mets 6, Giants 0

Tom Seaver tossed a four-hitter, struck out seven San Francisco batters and belted a pair of run-scoring singles, pacing the Mets past the Giants.

Alexandria 11-9 Victor Over Caps

By The Associated Press

Baseballs flew around the Texas League with stunning regularity Friday night, especially at Midland and Shreveport, where a total of 57 hits were accumulated in two games.

El Paso survived the biggest slugfest by beating Midland 18-16 as both teams banged out 15 hits, while Alexandria came from behind to beat Shreveport 11-9.

In more conventional games, Arkansas edged Victoria 2-1 to take a one-game lead in the Texas League. East and San Antonio nipped Amarillo 3-2 to open a two-game bulge in the West.

Alexandria won despite falling behind 7-1 early in the game with Shreveport. The Aces' Mike Ivie started the comeback with a three-run homer in the fifth inning and tied it with a two-run single in the sixth. The Aces had 16 hits and the Captains 11.

Victoria took a 1-0 lead in the second as Carlos Segrado homered, but Arkansas came back on Doug Clark's fifth-inning roundtripper and a bases-loaded walk to Joe Lindsey in the sixth. Harry Rasmussen pitched a five-hitter for the victory.

Bombs Away El Paso Outguns Midland, 18-16

After 34 runs, 31 hits, five homers and, 16 walks had left some 11 pitchers shaken and bowed, El Paso's 18-16 victory over the Midland Cubs Friday night just may have been decided when signals got crossed on a pick off play at second base.

It happened in the Diablos five-run sixth. Three runs were already in and runners were on second and third. Midland pitcher Dennis Lamp whirled and threw to second only to discover as the ball left his hand the only thing between him and the fence was centerfielder Jose Ortiz.

Both runs scampered home to make it 17-7 and with that kind of score, a play like that is easy to forget.

The runs, however, became increasingly important when Midland, battling to keep a four-game Texas League winning streak going, stormed back to trail 17-16 going into the ninth inning.

Carlos Lopez opened the frame with an awesome homer that hit a third of the way up the left field light tower to make it 18-16. Midland, however, had the trying run at the plate when the game ended.

El Paso jumped in front 6-0 and Midland battled back to take a 7-6 lead in the bottom of the fourth. First Baseman Jerry Tabb's second homer of the year, a two-run shot to left, in the second broke the scoring ice for the Cubs.

Tabb hit an even longer ball in the fifth and Midland behind 8-7. George's shot on an 8-1 pitch made it 12-7.

Tabb's four rbi and three by Matney led Midland attack, but everybody in the lineup chipped in with at least one base hit.

Matney got the Cubs a couple more in the sixth with a two-run belt as Midland began to nibble at the 17-7 margin. In the seventh Cubs got five more. Jose Ortiz bashed his first homer of the year in the eighth for two more runs and it was 17-16, which had Manager Dave Garcia shuffling pitchers in and out of his bullpen like a tennis volley.

Frank George was the big stick for El Paso, knocking in six runs with three hits. The big one was a grand-slammer to highlight a six-run fifth.

Lamp had just come in to the relief lefty Duain (Sugar) Fraizer with the bases loaded.

TWA Honors Mrs. Marie Lones For Air Travel Industry Service

Trans World Airways recently honored Mrs. Marie Lones and the Lones Travel Agency here for 20 years of outstanding contributions in the promotion and development of the air travel industry.

The award was made at recent ceremonies at Midland Country Club by Dean Burriss of Amarillo, general manager of TWA's West Texas District, and Bill R. Woods, TWA sales representative at Amarillo.

Burriss said it was only the second time such an award had been presented by TWA to a travel agency in the southwest area of Texas.

Mrs. Lones began her career in the travel industry in 1949 and became an authorized travel agent in 1953.

She became a member of Southwest chapter of the American Society of Travel Agents in 1963 and has served as an officer of the organization in several instances.

Mrs. Lones turned down the presidency of the organization three times due to the extreme pressure and time involved in covering the four states included in the chapter.

Mrs. Lones played an important role, through ASTA, in the government's setting up a United States Travel Agency in Washington to promote travel by citizens of foreign countries to the United States.

Fitzhugh Elected

ABILENE — Randy Fitzhugh of Midland has been elected president of the campus ministries branch of the student council at McMurry College. He is a 1972 graduate of Andrews High School.

TOP MANAGERS — These three women have risen to top management positions in local firms, proving women have a valuable role to fill in the business community. Pictured from left are Mrs. Stella May, personnel administrator for the Ortloff Corp., Mrs. Florence M. Shade, assistant vice president of The First National Bank, and Mrs. P. J. Johnson, customer service supervisor for Texas Electric Service Co.

Permian Graduate Center Sets Management Course

Recent pressures for equal opportunities for women have resulted in the awareness by management that qualified women have a valuable role to fill throughout the business world. Midland is keeping pace with this awareness and is beginning to see more women in management and supervisory positions than ever before.

Mrs. Stella May, personnel administrator for the Ortloff Corp. has recently been promoted to her present position. She has been with the corporation eight years and was formerly executive assistant to W. F. Ortloff, president of the corporation.

Mrs. Florence M. Shade was promoted to assistant vice president of The First National Bank last November. She has been with the bank 20 years in the office of C. J. Kelly, president and vice chairman of the board of directors, and is continuing in his office in her present position.

Another promotion within the past year was received by Mrs. P. J. Johnson, customer service supervisor for Texas Electric Service Company. Mrs. Johnson has served TESCO in various capacities 16 years.

These women do not feel that women's lib is responsible for their success. Mrs. May said, "Business opportunities have a way of presenting themselves to people who are preparing for them. Taking advantage of every opportunity to learn is the surest way of becoming more valuable in your business commitments, and there is the added satisfaction of watching yourself grow."

Mrs. Shade added, "There is room at the top in the business world for women who are skillful, dedicated, and loyal. But, in addition, we must direct ourselves to take advantage of opportunities that come our way by furthering and continuing our education. We must be equipped to meet the challenges inherent in progress. A woman interested in advancement also must be willing to serve and help others along the way."

The Permian Basin Graduate Center is offering an opportunity to help women who are interested in becoming managers or supervisors. It is also an opportunity for companies who have capable employees needing managerial skills. A course entitled "Women in Management" is scheduled once a week for eight sessions beginning Tuesday, from 7 to 10 p.m. The instructor is John L. Buxter, management consultant.

The course will provide insight into leadership styles and purpose, understanding and motivating people in an organization, formation of personal and organizational goals, reviewing the performance of employees, communication, time organization and self-development.

Participants in the program will be involved in the goal-setting process, in the use of practical aspects of motivation and human understanding and in the dynamics of "managing for results."

Mrs. May has recently completed a course under Buxter, and Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Shade are enrolled in the current course.

Fee for the course is $150. Financing is available through the Graduate Center. For further information regarding registration, call the Graduate Center office, 563-2311. The non-credit course has no prerequisites and is open to all interested persons.

Con Ed's Problems Prevent Dividends

NEW YORK (AP) — The financial side effects of the nation's energy problems hit some 300,000 Americans from a new direction this past week.

The news caught even the financial experts by surprise: Consolidated Edison of New York, one of the nation's largest electric utilities, said it wouldn't pay a dividend in the current quarter after 89 years of uninterrupted payouts.

Con Ed gave three inter-related reasons for its decision: Soaring fuel prices, reduced revenues because of energy conservation measures, and trouble collecting payment from customers on their rising electric bills.

The decision had a chilling impact throughout the financial community. Utility stocks, by long-standing tradition, have been a safe refuge for conservative investors because of the assumed reliability of their dividends.

The small investor, wary of more volatile stocks, still could turn to them for income. Of Con Ed's approximately 308,000 shareholders, the company says more than 90 per cent are individuals.

The dividend suspension, announced Tuesday morning, sent the price of the company's stock plunging from $18 to $12.25 that day. As of Friday's close, it stood at $12.37.

The average holder of Con Ed's 61.5 million common shares owns about 200 of them. Over the past several years, that has been good for a $90 dividend check every three months.

Navy Launches New Reserve Structure

HOUSTON (AP) — The U.S. Navy formally launched its new reserve command structure for units in the southern half of Texas and Southwest Louisiana Saturday aboard the Battleship Texas at San Jacinto Battleground Park.

Reservists will be equipped with "hands on" gear, similar to what they would be using on board ships they are destined to augment if called to active duty.

The Navy said it plans ship operation trainers—large scale simulators containing a destroyer-type bridge, combat information center, damage control, engineering and communications work at Houston, San Antonio and Corpus Christi.

Amid pomp and ceremony, Rear Adm. Phillip C. Koelsch, a reserve officer and Houston lawyer, took over the command, based here.

The new command is the result of a reorganization of Navy reserve forces. It is the first of three such commands to be activated nationwide.

Under the new structure, citizen sailors will be transferred

San Francisco Bank Holdup Matches Terrorist Manual

WASHINGTON (AP) — Patricia Hearst's description of a San Francisco bank robbery as a "revolutionary act" could have been taken straight from the pages of a five-year-old training manual for political terrorists.

It is called "Minimanual for the Urban Guerrilla," and was written by a Brazilian revolutionary named Carlos Marighella. The 42-page pamphlet is one of at least three which the Federal Bureau of Investigation thinks may serve as textbooks for the Symbionese Liberation Army in its avowed campaign of insurrection.

In the latest tape recording of Miss Hearst's voice, received by police last Wednesday, the 20-year-old newspaper heiress says she was a willing participant in the April 15 holdup of a branch bank by the SLA.

But the FBI, continuing to operate on the premise that she was kidnapped by the terrorist band on Feb. 4 and is being held against her will, has named Miss Hearst as a material witness rather than an accused criminal in the robbery that netted $10,960.

Marighella's manual calls such robberies the most popular type of terror attack on the establishment, one that sometimes is used "as a sort of preliminary examination for the urban guerrilla in his apprenticeship for the techniques of revolutionary warfare."

If it is assumed that Miss Hearst actually has joined the SLA, one government source said, "the bank robbery could have been staged as their way of initiating her into membership, a test of fire."

Other echoes of the Marighella pamphlet in the latest tape include Miss Hearst's assertion that the bank holdup "forced the corporate state to help finance the revolution" and that such acts are distinguished from ordinary crime by the purpose for which the money is to be used.

Marighella wrote that the "tremendous cost of the revolutionary war must fall" on capitalists, imperialists and money interests.

Marighella was blamed for numerous bank holdups and other crimes in Brazil in the late 1960s. In November, 1969, five months after his manual on urban insurrection was published, he was killed in a police ambush.

His booklet was reprinted in the United States in 1970 by an organization calling itself the New World Liberation Front.

Although it may be widely circulated among radical and would-be radical groups, a copy was obtained through U.S. government sources only with great effort. The FBI declines to discuss the contents of Marighella's manual or any of the others which also are in circulation, apparently to avoid giving them wide exposure.

In an April 3 interview, however, Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe said existence of the manuals suggested a "world-wide conspiracy" by Maoist-oriented terrorist groups.

A book to which he referred specifically was one entitled "Organizing Urban Guerrilla Units," which, according to an FBI spokesman, discusses kidnapping and recommends food distribution to the poor as a SANCAP. BECAUSE YOU HAVE ENOUGH SOIL PROBLEMS ALREADY.

If the soil in West Texas was the same as the soil everywhere else maybe the herbicides they use would be good enough for you. But you've got different soil. Sandy soil. And different problems. You need an herbicide specifically made for sand, loamy sands and fine sandy loam soils. You need Sancap.

If you used it when we introduced it last season, you know what it can do. STOP CARELESSWEED AND RUSSIAN THISTLE COLD. Without hurting your cotton. With just ordinary rainfall or irrigation. And all you have to do is broadcast Sancap over your field at planting or within two days after. No incorporation, either. Sancap. The only herbicide made for sandy soil. We made it especially for your soil and problems. And not anybody else's. Agricultural Division, CIBA-GEIGY Corporation, P. O. Box 11422, Greensboro, NC 27409.

Understanding Your Mind

It's important for you to understand your mind. Knowing how, and being able to better use your mind to make your own life better. You can learn to expand your talents, improve your skills, develop your mental abilities, affect positive changes in your personality, and correct disturbing habits through understanding your own mind.

Man has yet to solve the mysteries of memory, learning and consciousness. The human mind is perhaps the last frontier in man's exploration of himself.

We teach a course called Silva Mind Control. You may have heard of it. Over 300,000 people from all walks of life and from all over the world have taken the course. Older And Wiser Describes The 21st Century Woman

BOSTON (AP) — Older and wiser may well be the way to describe the 21st century woman, one expert says.

By the year 2000, the median age for women will be about 35 and the average woman will be better educated in a greater variety of fields. So predicts W. Scane Bowler, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Pioneer Western Corp., a national financial services organization.

Bowler says a woman in the year 2000 will live longer, benefiting from major medical discoveries, and will be in significantly better health during her senior years. Consequently, he adds, two careers will be possible: pre- and post-retirement.

Women, he adds, will remain in school longer, taking advantage of community colleges and technical training facilities. New teaching techniques utilizing computer technology will enable her to learn at home as well, he says.

Women will make up 45 percent of the work force of the future as compared to today's 39 percent, Bowler predicts, adding "Careers once reserved for men will now be open to female workers, particularly crafts and trades."

He adds that a woman's earning power will not yet match her numerical strides forward, but she will be closing the gap by moving out of traditional female low-paid jobs.

Bowler says women, who will be older when they marry, will have two children. Technological developments in household management will make it easier, he adds, to combine child rearing with outside employment.

Bowler says also that the 21st century woman will be conscientious about planning future family security as longer life spans will require more meaningful long-term budgeting.

Couple Married In Garden Rites
APPLEBY — Michael Bryon Montgomery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milt Montgomery of Midland, and Mary Matheson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Matheson of Meridian, Miss., were married here Saturday.

The double ring garden ceremony was performed at 2 p.m. by Dr. Chuck Pullen of Nacogdoches.

Mrs. Jim Benton of Monte Vallo, Ala., was her sister's matron of honor. Cathy Coffman was the flower girl.

Richard Henderson of Austin was the best man. Mike Lanford of Nacogdoches ushered.

Curtis Coffman provided the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown, designed by her sister, in A-line styling. The Empire bodice had a low scooped neckline trimmed in white lace. She wore a large lace picture hat. The bridal bouquet was an arrangement of stephanotis and baby's breath encircling two orchids with yellow and white ribbon streamers.

Lori Koeppen of Midland, niece of the bridegroom, registered the guests during the reception. Laurie Mason and Mary Pat Helton were at the reception table.

The couple will live in Appleby. He is scheduled to receive a B.S. degree in forestry in June from Stephen F. Austin University, where the bride is a secretary for campus security.

The parents of the bridegroom entertained here with the rehearsal dinner.

Tejas Club Tours Odessa Garden, Hears VIP Talk

Mrs. George A. Houston, member of the Visual Improvement Program (VIP), Midland Chamber of Commerce, spoke to the Tejas Garden Club Thursday at Lancaster Garden Center-Museum of the Southwest.

Following this program 20 of the club members toured the M. R. Hurt home and gardens in Odessa.

In her talk, Mrs. Houston outlined VIP projects stressing beautification of highway entries into Midland, planting of more trees and the renovation of Midland's city parks. She said there are 850 acres of parks with only 500 acres in use and 11 men to maintain all. Property owners were encouraged to "clean-up" vacant lots and take active interest in the program.

The Hurt gardens, professionally landscaped on two acres of ground, have play, eating and special bird sanctuary areas with a separate section for a horse stable.

Mrs. Hurt, who served 13 years on the Odessa Parks and Recreation Board, showed and explained architectural plans of the grounds prior to the tour. These plans were made by consultation with family members and Robert Rucker, professor of landscape design at Texas A&M University. She pointed out trees that were planted before the home was constructed; these included one planted especially for a tree house.

Mrs. Hurt is a nationally accredited landscape design critic, serves on the landscape design board of National Council of Garden Clubs and is a past president of the Odessa Garden Club.

Mrs. Edwin White presided for the business and announced the club's last meeting will be May 9 in Midland Country Club, at which time new officers will be installed. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Sue Dillard.

Rose Society Show Slated May 5 In Midland National

The Midland Rose Society will unfold its annual spring rose show May 5 in the lobby of The Midland National Bank. The show will be open to the public from 2 to 6 p.m.

The theme will be "Going Places with Roses" and will serve as the background for choosing artistic placements.

The 1974 show will be the 16th event since its beginning in 1957, when H. S. Harris was president. One show was cancelled because of a late freeze in the early 1960s, but somehow every other show has been possible. Last year, a late freeze cancelled the spring show, but the society voted to have a fall show instead.

The show committee includes Dick Jones, chairman; Mrs. T. E. Spires, publicity; Mrs. Jean Wilson and Mrs. Jess Williamson, hospitality; Mr. and Mrs. Darold Hobbs, placement; Dr. T. E. Spires, awards; Dick Saxe, judges; Mrs. Dick Jones, records; Neta Stovall, artistic entries; Mrs. John A. VanAuken, horticulture entries, and Mrs. Ruth Price, clerks.

Jones expects some 350 entries in the horticulture division for hybrid tea, grandiflora, floribunda, climbers, hybrid perpetual, florata, moss roses and miniature rose growers. The artistic division is expected to have between 35 and 40 arrangements with 10 themes from which to choose.

Show schedules are available in the office of Lancaster Garden Center-Museum of the Southwest. Entries will be accepted from 7:30 to 10:30 a.m. the day of the show.

The society urges all persons who grow roses, whether it be a single bush or 300, to consider participating in the show. There are provisions for both novice and experienced arrangers. Several novices in the show last year were among the blue ribbon winners.

The show will be judged by accredited American Rose Society judges from Hobbs and Albuquerque, N.M., El Paso, Abilene, Lubbock, Dallas, Houston and Tyler.

One of the more interesting exhibits this year will be the English box display, which allows a person to enter the show who has plants which have been damaged by disease, wind or spray.

University Women Plan Scholarship Fund Benefit

The Midland Society of University Women will have a "Spring Soiree" scholarship fund benefit from 7 to 9 p.m. May 10 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koch, 901 Country Club Drive.

Proceeds from the sale of art work by Midland artists, Mrs. James W. Rasmussen, Mrs. Alicean White, Stan Jacobs and Mrs. Darrell E. Smith, will be used for scholarships.

The MSUW was organized in 1969 to promote and support civic, cultural and educational interests and to provide service in these areas to the community. In the last four years, the group has granted 10 scholarships to graduates of Midland high schools. The society now is incorporating a permanent fund to provide aid to deserving young women to further their education. The new MSUW Scholarship Fund was granted a state charter as a Texas non-profit corporation and has been approved by the Internal Revenue Service as a charitable organization. All contributions are tax deductible.

Mrs. White, artist and sculptress, was born in Nice, France, and studied in Vermont, Florida and Texas. She now has a studio in Midland, is the mother of six children and has two grandchildren. Her "Happy Children" sculptures are created individually and are original studies of happy children. She has studied pottery with Mrs. Charles Henderson and is making pots on the wheel from small size to large wedding bowl punch size, using Christmas symbols in her designs.

Mrs. White was represented in the 1973 Texas Arts and Crafts Fair at Kerrville, the West Texas Fair in Abilene and the Texas State Fair in Dallas.

Mrs. Rasmussen has paintings in homes and business offices throughout the Midwest, Southwest and Canada. Her work is in watercolor, oils, acrylics and pastels, and her subject matter is mostly landscapes, children and flowers, which are executed in realistic to semi-impressionistic style.

Mrs. Rasmussen has a bachelor of arts degree in applied arts from Iowa State University and is president of the Heritage Study Club, City of Midland Swim Team Mothers Club and Petroleum Engineers Wives Association. She is at 682-1283.

Articuladies Club Hears Speakers

Mrs. John Ponder spoke on education at a recent meeting of the Articuladies Toastmistress Club in the National Room of The First National Bank.

She said the educational system is changing to keep pace with the rapid changes in society. She said Thomas Jefferson was the first person to start public education in the United States. She also discussed the open-room technique of education, which has been introduced into the Midland public schools.

Each child is given the opportunity to follow his own interest and given a chance to advance in his own stages of learning, to give the resource teacher a chance to know the capabilities of the student. After learning what the student is capable of, the child is permitted to work within that capacity, and not be held back by poor grades.

Mrs. Ray Chappell presided. Mrs. Elsie McGee was the toastmistress. Mrs. Chappell gave a review of the book of Esther from the Bible.

Mrs. Katherine Marlow spoke on "An Everyday Blessing," which is courtesy. She gave examples of how courtesy may be practiced each day to bring a blessing to oneself, as well as others.

Mrs. Beth Wilson was in charge of table topics. Mrs. Jay Hanev and Mrs. Erma Underwood were selected as having the best topics.

Try Toothbrush

When washing glassware, use a toothbrush to reach into hard-to-get at crevices where dust settles and dulls the brightness of your best glass.

Fine Arts Club Hears Review

Mrs. George Vannaman, president, presided for a meeting Thursday of the Fine Arts Club in the parlor at Midland Woman's Club.

The play, "A Second Look at Mary Todd Lincoln" by James Prideaux, was reviewed by Mrs. Jack Samples, who also quoted at length from an article by Irving Stone entitled "The Last Days of Mrs. Lincoln."

Mrs. Walter Putnam and Mrs. Tom Bobo were hostesses for the tea hour.

Clothes Care

To keep a neater clothes closet and to prevent coat hanger hooks from interlocking, separate them with a four-inch diameter disc cut from stiff cardboard. Cut a center hole large enough to slide easily on the clothes rail, making a slit in the bottom so that you can slip it over the rail.

Better Ironing

To do a better job of ironing blouses or other sheer garments, place a cloth wrung out of warm water on the ironing board and iron the blouse or garment over it.

Garden Club Has Pilgrimage

Members and guests of the Antonio Green Thumb Garden Club recently made a three-day trip to Fredericksburg and San

At Fredericksburg, the group toured several restored German homes. In San Antonio, they had lunch and shopped at Los Patios, owned by former Midlander, John Spice. They toured the King William area of San Antonio which includes most of the original German residences and saw homes in several states of restoration and some which have been completed. The homes are being restored with authentic reconstruction—furniture and gardens of the 1800s and early 1900s.

The group toured several homes and gardens on the 37th annual San Antonio Home and Garden Pilgrimage and had dinner at The Magic Time Machine. The trip also included attending a performance of Noel Coward's "Private Lives" in the Plaza Dinner Theatre in San Antonio.

En route to Midland, the group stopped in Kerrville and toured the James Avery Co., where religious jewelry is manufactured.

Dear Abby

How To Explain Why Religion Isn't Free

—By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: As a newly ordained minister I frequently find myself in the uncomfortable position of having to explain why the church is always asking for money.

One of my parishioners told me that some years back you had a letter in your column which posed that very question, and your answer was the best. Can you please try to locate that letter, and print it again? Gratefully,

A PREACHER

DEAR PREACHER: I've found it. And here it is:

"DEAR ABBY: We are not overly religious people, but we do like to go to church once in a while. It seems to me that every time we turn around in church, we are getting hit for money. I thought religion was free. I realize that churches have to have some money but I think it is getting to be a racket. Just what do churches do with all their money?"

CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: Even priests, ministers, and rabbis must eat. And since they work full time at their tasks, the churches must support them. Staff, professional choir members, and musicians also must be paid. Buildings must be maintained, heated, lighted and beautified, (and, of course, first they must be built!) Custodial staff must eat and feed their families. Most churches engage in philanthropic work (aid to needy, missions, and education); hence, they have their financial obligations. Even orchids, contrary to folklore, do not live on air. Churches can't live on air, either. Religion, like water, may be free, but when they pipe it to you, you've got to help pay for the piping. And the pipe!"

DEAR ABBY: Before a trip last year I bought my husband a bikini swim suit. He wore it to the beach and you should have seen the heads turn. He has a great physique and looked gorgeous.

My problem is, he won't wear it again. He says men shouldn't wear anything so revealing in public. When I remind him that he wore it on our vacation and attracted a lot of attention, he says: "They were laughing at me. That's why I'm not wearing it again."

Abby, we've finally liberated women so they can wear next to nothing and get away with it. Why not men?

Maybe if you gave your approval he'd wear that sexy-looking bikini again.

BETTY

DEAR BETTY: Get off his gorgeous back. Women who reveal too much lose much of their appeal. And that goes double for men.

DEAR ABBY: My grandson, a high school senior, and I have been going round and round on this one:

I sent his sister, a college student, a birthday card by mail. He said he intended to give her her card when we met to take her out to dinner on her day.

My opinion was that he was skirting the outer edges of propriety in handing his sister a birthday card. He said it didn't make any difference and suggested I write to Dear Abby for her opinion.

GRAMP

DEAR GRAMP: I'm with your grandson. It doesn't matter if a congratulatory message is delivered by mail, the king's messenger or in person. It's being remembered that counts.

Problems: You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Judge Delays Ruling On Jacobsen Trial Postponement Plea

DALLAS (AP) — A federal judge says he will wait until he hears from the doctor of a sick witness before deciding if the trial of Jake Jacobsen will be postponed.

Government and defense lawyers sought a two-month delay Friday, saying witness Morgan Pearce had suffered a heart attack.

Jacobsen is accused of misapplication of $225,000 of the First Savings and Loan Association in San Angelo. Trial is due to start there May 6.

Pearce was a lawyer for Jacobsen and co-defendant Ray Cowan, also accused of misapplication.

U.S. District Court Judge Robert M. Hill said he would wait until Pearce's doctor sends him a written report.

It would be two months before Pearce can testify, Asst. U.S. Atty. John Sweeney told Hill.

Jacobsen is a former aide to the late President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Hill had been scheduled to hear a defense motion Friday to suppress evidence which Jacobsen says the government obtained illegally, but postponed the hearing.

Arthur Mitchell, Jacobsen's lawyer, said the government took statements from Jacobsen without first warning him of his rights against self incrimination.

Besides the misapplication charge, Jacobsen is accused in Washington of perjury.

It is alleged he told a grand jury he had not touched $10,000 given to him by Associated Milk Producers Inc., based in San Antonio, to help push through milk price supports. The action involves the Water-gate-related investigations.

An AMPI officer, Bob Lilly, has told the grand jury that Jacobsen told him the $10,000 was going to former Texas Gov. John Connally in return for his influence with the Nixon administration. Connally has denied he took the money.

Duval Commissioners Temporarily Restrained

SAN DIEGO, Tex. (AP) — A state judge has issued a temporary restraining order against the Duval County Commissioners Court to keep it from firing workers and confiscating equipment in the four county precincts.

State senatorial candidate Oscar Carrillo obtained the order Friday in the latest move in a feud between the Carrillo family and the Parr family.

Archer Parr is Duval County judge and heads the commissioners court while Ramiro Carrillo, a brother of Oscar, is a member of the court.

Oscar Carrillo is running for the Senate post occupied by John Traeger of Seguin, who is endorsed by Duval County political boss George B. Parr, an uncle of Archer.

The order signed by District Court Judge Merlin Johnson of Brownsville prohibits the commissioners court from discharging, firing, or hiring any employes for any county commissioner.

Carrillo sought the ruling after the commissioners court voted April 10 to place precinct operations under central control, a move to strip Ramiro Carrillo of his control over his precinct, he said.

Then, commissioners voted on Thursday to discharge all county road and bridge employes, rehiring all but two of the fired employes the next day.

The workers not rehired both were in Ramiro Carrillo's precinct.

Oscar Carrillo alleged in seeking the restraining order that meetings were held illegally because no notice was posted.

Judge Johnson set a hearing on an injunction for May 6.

IN TURKISH COURTS— Lawyers To Fight On For Americans

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — The defense team for the three Americans sentenced to life terms in Turkey on narcotics charges is determined to fight the legal battle to the end, the attorneys said Saturday.

After the unfavorable appeals ruling of Friday, which upheld the lower court's verdict, only two slim chances are left for Katherine Zenz, 28, of Lancaster, Wis.; Joann McDaniel, 28, of Coos Bay, Ore.; and Robert E. Hubbard, 23, of San Diego, Calif.

The three have been found guilty of conspiring to smuggle drugs into Turkey.

Their attorney, Faruk Erem, a leading Turkish criminal lawyer and chairman of the bar association, said they would first attempt a "correction of judgment," a procedure unknown in Anglo-American law.

A "correction of judgment" request is delivered to the chief prosecutor of the appeals court and asks him to suggest to the higher court a review of the case.

A criminal law expert said, "This procedure works in only one case out of a thousand."

A second avenue open to the defense is to petition for a retrial.

Legal sources predicted slim chances of success for these procedures. But the three Americans are bound to have their jail terms cut in a forthcoming amnesty.

A general amnesty bill now under debate in Parliament, and guaranteed passage by all parties in one form or other, would reduce all life terms to 24 years imprisonment.

The three Americans were arrested Dec. 10, 1972, while crossing into Turkey from Syria. Police searched the Americans' three minibuses and discovered 236 pounds of hashish hidden in the ceilings and under the seats.

Envoy Says Egypt Will Be Wealthy

HOUSTON (AP) — The Egyptian Ambassador to the United States says he is looking forward to the time when his country will be among the world's wealthiest.

Ashras Ghorbal said Friday that time could come as early as 1990.

Ghorbal addressed some 100 Houston business and government representatives at the World Trade Center.

Engineer Warns Texans May Face Transport Crisis

DALLAS (AP) — Texans face a transportation crisis if they have been led to believe the energy shortage has ended the need for new highways, a state highway engineer said here Friday night.

Marcus Yancey told the Dallas Chamber of Commerce Central Highway Committee that although receipts from gasoline and diesel taxes are lower than projected, they still have increased overall.

This indicates that traffic on Texas highways has increased, despite the energy shortage, Yancey said.

He said that before 1990, Texas' population will increase by 3 million, which means the state needs to spend $22.2 billion on new highways.

Without the projects, Yancey said, Texans will have to endure severe congestion on the highways, which will bring cities "to a standstill at some times of the day."

"We will have a declining economy too, because transportation is the backbone of Texas industry," he said.

Farm, Dairy And Ranch News

April showers have been scarce for Midland area farmers and ranchers who anxiously have been awaiting a break in the weather. It is encouraging to note that some rain has been received to the east and hopefully will eventually spread to West Texas. Meanwhile cattle are being culled and sold off grazed down and dry pastures and dryland farming operations are at a standstill with erosion hazards increasing.

Persons interested in a drip irrigation system for a small orchard or garden are invited to attend a meeting in the county extension office in the courthouse annex at 5 p.m. Tuesday. After a few minutes briefing the group will go see an actual installation of an above ground drip irrigation system installed in a vegetable garden. Drip irrigation is the most efficient method of irrigation yet developed for small and intensive type plant culture and has many advantages for home garden and orchard situations.

Thinning a garden crop will improve the stand and quality and will boost production. Overseeding small seed crops is a natural tendency of home vegetable gardeners. So, thinning at an early age and when the soil is moist will help insure a proper stand and will increase yields of high quality vegetables, says Charles Green, Midland County agent. Thin when the plants are no more than two inches tall and before the roots become entwined. Pinch or cut off cucumbers, squash, melons, okra and similar plants rather than pulling them up, as this disrupts the roots of the remaining plants. Thin beets, carrots and radishes to one to two inches between plants. Bush beans, peas, onions, spinach, turnips, blackeyed peas, garlic and mustard perform best when spaced at two to four inches. Thin leaf lettuce, parsley, lima beans and Swiss chard to allow four to eight inches between plants. Sweet corn, cabbage, chard, endive, kale, head lettuce and potatoes grow best when spaced at 8 to 12 inches. Broccoli, Brussels sprouts, cauliflower, cucumbers, eggplant, peppers, squash, sweet potatoes and watermelons require the greatest spacing — 12 to 18 inches. If vegetable stands are poor or uneven, transplant the young seedlings that you have thinned. Don't throw away the thinnings, advises Green. Young lettuce leaves and carrots are superior salad items.

Several years of research at Texas A&M University have identified practices that help in getting cotton off to a good start by lessening the effects of cotton seedling disease. First, plant seed which have been treated with a chemical fungicide to control seed surface borne organisms and to prevent seed rot. Use high quality seed. It will germinate normal seedlings at 65 degrees in seven days. Lower quality seed needs longer germination periods and higher temperatures. Plant when morning soil temperatures at planting depth are above 60 degrees for three days. When lower quality seed is used, wait for higher temperatures. If seedling disease has been a problem in the past, an in-covering soil fungicide should be used. Sprays, dusts or granules may be used but care should be taken to see that they are mixed well in the soil used to cover seed in the furrow. Hopper box application is less effective. And finally, try the new Tamcot varieties developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, which shows good disease resistance to seedling disease and increased vigor under less than ideal soil temperature levels. The Tamcot varieties under actual test in Midland County for the past three years in the extension crops demonstration program have produced well and quality has been good. Tamcots will germinate under cool soil conditions better than any known standard varieties.

Girl Rides High Country Alone, Tending Sheep

By BOB SCOTT

RIO BLANCO, Colo. (AP) —

She rides up into the high country with her sheep, a girl alone with the quivering aspen, pinon pine, the lush grass, the quick little streams, the crystal lakes that mirror the endless sky.

Things are simpler. "You kind of know your own mind," she says. "There aren't all the little hassles. It's easier to tell right from wrong."

Every three days or so, her boss, Gus Halandras, who owns the sheep, rides up with groceries, but the rest of the time Laura Colby, 23, is alone with her charges.

What's the blue-eyed daughter of a wealthy La Jolla, Calif., family doing up here? She plain fell in love with the land, with the idea of raising and caring for these small servants of man.

Her family used to summer in this wild place, and that was how she met Gus, and begged him for a job, shepherding his sheep. "I've born those babies," she told him. "I think I can raise them."

And so she does, riding over the high meadows of wild grass, moving the sheep to new pasture every day, shielding them from coyote and bear.

She carries a 30-30 rifle, seldom has had the opportunity to use it. She sleeps mostly in a sheep wagon with a sign over the door that says "Home."

"Other ranchers have asked me to work for them. There's not much muscle involved in this business. Ranchers seem to realize gals are more reliable or conscientious. A lot of the old shepherders are retiring and no one seems to want this job."

It's a big job, baby-sitting hours that begin before sun-up.

Mural Contest Winners Announced

Winners in the big mural painting contest sponsored by Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. and the Museum of the Southwest have been announced. The contest was for original murals and paintings on the barricade surrounding the construction site of the new telephone company building here.

Chosen overall winner by the panel of five judges was a mural with a combination theme of past, present and future which was painted by a group of Austin Freshman School students. The students are Michelle Brock, Martha Cherry, Jim Johnson, Lori Jons, George Mothershead and Mary Paxton. The group's entry also was first place winner in the junior high division of the contest. Alamo Junior High was second place winner in the division.

The elementary schools division winner was an entry by fourth, fifth and sixth grade students in art classes taught by Pam Pier at Milam Elementary School. Second place award went to students in Gary Atkins sixth grade class at Pease school, and third place was won by fourth graders taught by Ethey Fay Ford at Crockett school.

In the open division, an art work by Girl Scouts placed first.

Midland College's entry was second. There were 21 entries in the contest. Others with entries included art groups at South, Pease, Long, Sam Houston, Travis, Lamar, Rusk, St. Ann's and Midland Christian schools, the Palette Club, Midland Community Concerts Association, Midland High School, Junior Achievement and Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Royce Brookmole, district manager for Southwestern Bell, had the idea for the mural painting contest as a means of beautifying the barricade which will be in place for almost two years to come, and he enlisted the aid of the Museum of the Southwest in conducting the competition. "I'm delighted with the way it turned out and am impressed with the imagination displayed," Brookmole said. "I wish everyone could have won!"

Original Ballet At Globe

ODESSA — An original ballet, "The Spirit of Odessa," currently is on the boards at the Globe of the Great Southwest.

The ballet production had its premiere performance Saturday night. A matinee presentation is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. today, for students at Southern Methodist University, and Mike Wool received a special invitation.

"The Spirit of Odessa" is sponsored by the Odessa Arts and Humanities Council and the Odessa Ballet Guild of the Permian Civic Ballet. Ronald Bennett, Odessa music teacher and a member of the Permian Civic's senior company and the daughter of Col. and Mrs. John H. Murphy.

"The Spirit of Odessa" tells the story of Odessa from its beginning in 1886 to the present, with emphasis on the pioneer-settlers, the ranchers and cattlemen, the oil men and the various other groups which have influenced the town's development.

Serving as a backdrop for performances are historic photos depicting Odessa and Odessa life through the years. The photos are projected on a scrim behind the dancers as the ballet progresses.

At the opening performance here Saturday night, members of Ector County pioneer families were special guests. Today has been designated "Midland Visitors Day" at the Globe, with Midland residents to be special guests at the ballet performance. Other special guests will include several members of the Texas Commission on the Arts and Humanities and the executive director of the commission.

Gary Cooper's Body Reburied On Long Island

SOUTHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP) — Nearly 13 years after Gary Cooper's death, his body has come to its final resting place — under a three-ton boulder in this Long Island resort. Cooper's body was moved from a Los Angeles cemetery and on Friday reburied here, where Cooper frequently visited. A large boulder was moved atop his grave. "He always loved Southampton, so we thought this was where he should be," said his widow, Veronica, now Mrs. John Converse.

Maurice Coats of Austin. Tickets for today's performance, and for a third and final presentation next Sunday, are $8.50 for adults and $1.50 for students. They will be for sale at the Globe office, 2308 Shakespeare Road, before performance time this afternoon.

Open House Today Honors Noted Painter

Noted landscape and seascape painter Alex Dzigruski will be guest of honor at an open house this afternoon in Midland's Gallery I.

The event between 12 noon and 6 p.m. will be open to the public. Dzigruski, who resides on the Peninsula south of San Francisco, has brought to Midland an important collection of his distinctive paintings, notable for their vivid colors and painstaking detail. The collection will be on view during today's open house, said Gallery I co-owners Ann Youngblood and Alice Moxey. Gallery I is located in the Gulf Building in Downtown Midland.

Dzigruski was born in Yugoslavia, of Serbian parents. He studied art in Belgrade and in Munich, Germany. In the early years of his career he painted portraits and sacred art, decorating a number of churches in Yugoslavia.

The artist came to the U.S. more than 20 years ago, starting the series of tours which have taken him to virtually every state in the union. On his travels through scenic America, he has always been fascinated by the rich variety of motifs and his paintings have reflected his enthusiasm for the U.S. He is represented by galleries in major cities from coast to coast.

Dzigruski's seascapes have won special acclaim from critics and collectors. Of his seascapes, The New York Times noted that "few marine painters have been able to tell the story of the sea so beautifully. Regardless of where he paints and what composition he uses, Dzigruski is always the poet of the sea." Dzigruski's one-man show at Gallery I will continue through May 12.

elsewhere, when two (or sometimes more) important entertainment events occur simultaneously.

What do you do? Very simply, you choose the event you want to see or hear the most, and you go to it. Or else you attend the event you may not have opportunity to see again, and you book a seat for the other event (provided it's a continuing one) for another night.

But if you're the newspaper correspondent and two events equally deserving of coverage take place simultaneously, then what do you do?

You plan ahead, that's what. Such was the case Friday night when Midland Community Concerts Association brought eminent duo-harpists Longstreth and Escosa to Midland High School auditorium for a season-closing concert while a few blocks away, Midland Community Theatre was opening its current production, "Of Mice and Men."

With the consent of MCT director Art Cole, I attended the Thursday night dress rehearsal of the Steinbeck drama. Then, Friday night, the Community Concerts program began earlier, and ended earlier, than the MCT performance so that I was able to make it back to Theatre Centre in time for the play's second act, which is the heart and soul of it anyway.

Both presentations were what you would call "serious" in content, so that neither outweighed the other and, as it turned out, both were equally entertaining. It was a full evening, but definitely an enjoyable one!

Sumptuous is the word for the dual harp program presented here Friday night by Joe Longstreth and John Escosa. The event closed Midland Community Concerts Association's current season. And an unusually rich and varied season it has been, offering as it has the extraordinary pianistic talents of young Robert de Gaetano, the relaxed and highly entertaining folksongs of Angus Godwin, the agile dancing of Edward Villella and his ballet troupe and the inimitable sounds of clarinetist Pete Fountain's New Orleans jazz group.

For me, high points of the season came with De Gaetano's exciting keyboard recital in February, and Godwin's program of folksongs and songs by Jacques Brel and others, in March.

Until now, that is, Most Satisfying Event. Because, in some ways, the Longstreth and Escosa program here Friday night was the most satisfying event of the five. For one thing, there are few opportunities to hear the harp as a concert instrument. Literally there is only a handful of touring practitioners of the art of the harp (and, truly, an art it is!). There are Salzedo and Zabaleta, for example, and Mildred Dilling. And, certainly not least, there are Longstreth and Escosa! The talented pair's recital was rich, full-bodied and very satisfying, obviously, to the majority of the audience. The artists drew such tremendous sound from their instruments that at times it seemed there must be a whole consort of harps on stage.

Dual Harp Recital Said 'Sumptuous'

The concert consisted largely of transcriptions of baroque, classical and impressionist works (perhaps a few works written especially for the harp that would have added nice balance) plus a group of show tunes and folk melodies.

Richly Melodic. The program opened with works by Handel, a Passacaglia and an "Andante Allegro," both richly melodic, and continued with a "Largo" and the "Jesu, Joy of Man's Dearing," of J. S. Bach, and these were equally rich and satisfying. Works by Haydn and Rameau followed, and then Debussy ("Maid With the Flaxen Hair" and "Clair de lune"), one by Ravel, and an original composition by Escosa, and very nice it was.

Following intermission, the artists gave short explanatory talks on the harp in the 19th and 20th centuries, each providing a musical example. To close the program, the pair presented selections from "The Sound of Music" and a group of folk melodies. They provided an arrangement of "Green-sleeves" as an encore.

A special highlight of the concert came following intermission, when two longtime Midland Community Concerts supporters and workers, Mrs. Bernice Stevens and Miss Lotta Williams, received public recognition and floral tributes from MCCA president Luke Thompson. In a sense, Friday night's very satisfying concert "belonged" to these two.

Mrs. Stevens and Miss Williams were among the founding members of the concert organization 27 seasons ago, and they have continued to work with, and for, the organization since then.

A special word of praise for Bob Mayberry, who turned in a fine performance as Slim when I saw the Thursday night dress rehearsal. Unfortunately, Mayberry was injured Friday and could not go on in Friday's opening performance. The part was taken temporarily by assistant stage manager Don Spence, who filled the role quite admirably on very short notice.

Susan West is in the role of the lonely young bride-eager to talk to someone — who is the cause of trouble and, in the end, tragedy.

Director Cole's multi-level set, as stark and spare as the play itself, is quite effective. And while I don't ordinarily pay tribute to the incidental music used in a theater production, this time I am constrained to make public note of it — the music seemed particularly suited to the production.

"Of Mice and Men" will have performances this week at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, and at 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday. There will be a matinee next Sunday. Special student ticket rates will be in effect Thursday and Sunday.

Lecture, Election To Highlight Annual Library Friends Event

An illustrated lecture on the Big Bend National Park and the election of officers for 1974-75 will be highlights of the annual meeting of the Friends of the Library organization this afternoon.

The meeting, scheduled to begin at 3:30 p.m. in the Midland County Public Library, will feature a presentation by W. Missouri and S. Colorado Sts., will be open to the public.

John Barnett of Roswell, N.M., a former Midlander, will be the featured speaker at the meeting. At last year's Friends meeting, Barnett presented a program on the Guadalupe Mountains National Park. That program was so well received that the Friends have bowed to popular demand and invited him to return this year to give a similar program on the Big Bend National Park.

Barnett is well versed in his subject, having been an employee of the National Parks Service at one point in his career. He has written a series of books on various national parks. Annual reports will be presented at today's gathering, and Friends members will elect officers and directors to guide the volunteer service organization during the coming year.

The slate of nominees to be presented to the membership this afternoon is as follows: President, Glen M. Ford; vice president, Mrs. R. J. McLellan; secretary, Mrs. Paul H. Laverty Jr.; treasurer, F. H. McGuigan; directors, John H. Clark, Hugh White, Ralph Hickman, Mrs. James Fitz-Gerald III and Mrs. Terry Clay.

Steinbeck Play At MCT Dramatic, Deeply Moving

A play both dramatic and deeply moving, despite its outward austerity and its starkness, is John Steinbeck's "Of Mice and Men."

You can see this poignant drama at Theatre Centre here between now and May 11. It would be a shame to miss it.

I must confess that dramas of the American depression era do not much appeal to me, perhaps because of childhood memories of those not-so-good old days. But "Of Mice and Men" could be a theater piece of any place and any time. Theatrical it is, but provocative, too, with the theme of "My Brother's Keeper" threading through it — and the questions it poses about the limitations of man's responsibility to, and for, his brother.

I am not suggesting that this is a kind of "Everyman" drama — I don't envision the bitter George or the child-like Lennie in that role. But I do see this as a play with larger implications than the action and the dialogue on stage would indicate, and I think you will, too, although your approach to the drama could be on any one

HOROSCOPE by Carroll Righter

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You want to show off your best points in those you would like to impress this Sunday, but it is not the right time to do so. Get ahead by constant application to the tasks at hand that bring you greater overall security.
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You can now come to a far better understanding with him than has been possible for a very long time. Listen to what they have to say.
TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Don't try to argue with him or you will be in a big trouble right now, when others are in a better mood.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You have a fine opportunity to talk over your problems with him and to start making arrangements to put them into operation.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Take time to plan how to have an abundance in the near future. An ad-vice can give you invaluable suggestions.
LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Show how you give you appreciate the good things that have happened to you, and how they give you further assistance. Postpone entertaining. Meditate tonight.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Analyze where you are headed and how to get there faster. Then get into your regular work. Help one in need in p.m.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Keep quiet about some until you are thoroughly sure of them. Get advice from an expert, not working in a job, when you are re-considering.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) Enjoy recreation with good pals, following their suggestions. Discuss with a friend what your aims are and gain the support you need.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Taking time to get into important ac-counts and keeping promises you have made is your main duty through the week. A Sunday. Not a good day for sociability.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Copy with associates and you make by future more pleasant. Show more de-termined to make.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Get much done at home for which you work. Get new gadgets in order. Invite friends in during the p.m.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Try a dif-ferent routine while Sunday permits are concerned and make this a more interest-ing, happy day. Buy presents for loved one. Avoid one with wrong ideas.

"I started Aamco Transmissions with $3000 and made hundreds of men wealthy. Now I have an even better idea."
That's Anthony A. Martin talking. He started Aamco on a shoestring and built it into an empire. Today, he heads up another business with even greater potential: auto painting and refinishing. The potential grows and grows practically every car will someday need repainting and body work. The market is virtually unlimited.
As the owner of MAACO Auto Painting Center, you'll have a substantial cash flow from the very first year you're in business, and every week after that, with net profit fields as high as 25%. And we have the books and cash receipts to prove it. That's because auto painting represents one of the largest, self-perpetuating, yet virtually untapped businesses in the auto industry.
After completion of MAACO's training program, you will be an expert in the management of every aspect of your business. Prior experience is not an advantage.
We invite serious inquiry-just mail the coupon below. Right now is the time to act.

Christmas Comes Early Again

Volunteers Repair 25 Midland Homes In Project

Christmas came early here Saturday for the owners of 25 Midland homes.

The occasion was the "Christmas in April" project coordinated by the Park Center YMCA and the Human Relations Council.

Saturday's project came on the heels of a "Christmas in October" event last year, and proved to be every bit as successful.

Swarms of volunteers from 23 churches, businesses and civic groups (and even from a union) turned out to repair the homes of 25 Midlanders, mostly elderly persons who couldn't otherwise afford or physically do the work themselves.

The volunteers painted, put on new roofs, installed new plumbing and generally did overall repairs to the homes on the list.

And when lunchtime came, the workers received food prepared by the Women's Heritage Study Club and the Altrusa Club.

Alamo Heights Baptist Church provided enough workers to do three houses. Others who provided volunteers were: Tall City Lions Club, Eastside Lions Club, Sanitary Plumbing Co., Trinity Presbyterian Church, Christ Presbyterian Church, Covenant Presbyterian Church, First Presbyterian Church, Apprentice Carpenter's Union No. 1428, First Christian Church, Guadalupe Catholic Church, St. Ann's Catholic Church, Crestview Baptist Church, Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, Midland Jaycees, Boy Scouts, St. Mark's Methodist Church.

Permian Basin Center for Mental Health and Mental Retardation, Mid-Tex of Midland, electrician Dan Brown, S&M Roofing Co., St. Luke's Methodist Church and SITCA (Students Involved Through Community Action).

The Christmas in April program was made possible because of a surplus in donations made to the "Christmas in October" project.

Now, there is talk of another early Christmas sometime later this year, since the sponsors note that the number of homes needing this type of help still are many.

Crusade For Christ Training Rally Today

Preparations for the Permian Basin Crusade for Christ coming up here in late summer will take another step forward Tuesday night when representatives of numerous Midland and area churches meet for a training rally in First Baptist Church.

The Crusade for Christ, an interdenominational endeavor, will be held Aug. 2-11 in Midland Memorial Stadium. Dr. John Wesley White, an associate in the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association, will be the evangelist for the revival emphasis.

Preparation for the Crusade for Christ began in January with the formation of 12 committees by the crusade executive committee and Lowell Jackson, crusade coordinator for the Billy Graham Association. Specific programs were set up and recruitment of crusade workers began.

Through these special committees, a timetable of programs and pre-crusade activities has been set up. The activities include, in addition to the introductory dinner and training rally scheduled this week, a series of neighbor prayer hostess-training sessions in June, to be followed by Christian life and witness classes, ministers' follow-up seminar, counselor training classes, and "Visitation Sunday," all in July.

A dedication service for workers, ushers, choir members and counselors will be the final preliminary event on Aug. 1.

Dr. White, a native of Canada, has been a fulltime associate evangelist with the Graham organization since 1964. He graduated from Chicago's Moody Bible Institute, and then took a B. A. degree from Wheaton College. He later attended several European universities and received his Ph.D. from Oxford in 1963.

Purpose of Tuesday's training session is to acquaint church representatives with their specific tasks during the crusade. They will be oriented in the objectives of the undertaking and how they can contribute to its success, planners said Saturday.

A dinner is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Monday in First Presbyterian Church fellowship hall to introduce Dr. White to the church representatives.

Preparation for the Crusade for Christ began in January with the formation of 12 committees by the crusade executive committee and Lowell Jackson, crusade coordinator for the Billy Graham Association. Specific programs were set up and recruitment of crusade workers began.

Through these special committees, a timetable of programs and pre-crusade activities has been set up. The activities include, in addition to the introductory dinner and training rally scheduled this week, a series of neighbor prayer hostess-training sessions in June, to be followed by Christian life and witness classes, ministers' follow-up seminar, counselor training classes, and "Visitation Sunday," all in July.

Deadly Fog Drifts Out Of Chicago's Southside; Most Of 14,000 Persons Evacuated Return Home

CHICAGO (AP) — Most of the estimated 14,000 residents evacuated from the South Side because of a potentially deadly chemical fog returned home early Saturday. The fog, formed by chemicals leaking from a storage tank, drifted out of the residential neighborhood and into an industrial area.

Ex-Crane Resident R. L. Scott Dies

CRANE — R. L. Scott, 54, a former Crane resident, died at 1:45 p.m. Friday in an Austin hospital following a short illness.

Services will be at 4 p.m. today in the First United Methodist Church of Crane with interment in Crane Memorial Gardens under direction of Larry D. Sheppard Funeral Home.

Scott had been living in Luling prior to his death. Born Aug. 9, 1919, in Desdemona, he married Norma Guthrie Feb. 1, 1942, in Odessa.

He was a gauger and meter man for Texas-New Mexico Pipe Line. Scott was a Methodist and a Mason and a veteran of World War II.

Survivors include the widow; a daughter, Sandra Jenkins of Luling; a son, Bobby Lee Scott of Eglin Air Force Base, Fla.; three sisters, Peggy Lane and Evelyn Scott, both of Austin, and Barbara Gillis of Big Spring; two brothers, R. E. Scott of Austin and Rufus Scott of Houston; and a grandchild.

Midlander's Mother Dies At Crosbyton

LUBBOCK — Mrs. Ada Sadler, 88, the mother of Mrs. M. T. Smith of Midland, died Thursday in a Crosbyton hospital.

Funeral services were held at 3:30 p.m. Saturday in the Sanderson Funeral Home Chapel.

Other survivors include another daughter, a son, 10 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

A special foam was laid Saturday but it failed to stop the chemical that began pouring from the tank Friday, officials said. They said another foam effort would be made after fuel oil is spread on the area.

Thirty persons suffering from dizziness, fainting and stinging eyes were taken to hospitals. Most were listed in fair condition. Five were admitted.

Civil Defense officials estimated 14,000 persons were evacuated from the Altgeld Gardens Housing project and nearby homes Friday night as the milk-colored cloud oozed across the South Side.

Some 2,000 were lodged overnight in a high school several miles from the scene and a temporary hospital was set up there.

"I was standing on the corner waiting for a bus," Mrs. Eular Ferry said. "I couldn't breathe." She said she ran into her home to escape the fumes.

"The stuff was coming in under the door... it was coming in the windows."

Maxine Durham said her daughter collapsed from inhaling the gas. "Once we got on the bus, she was screaming in pain," Mrs. Durham said.

The chemical cloud, five miles long and one-half mile wide, appeared to be "under control," officials said early Saturday. The cloud formed as the chemical flowed from an 18-inch crack in a storage tank at a rate of 100 gallons a minute.

Authorities said the main danger was that the chemical, silicon tetrachloride, could convert to deadly hydrochloric acid on contact with water, including rain and fog. Breathing the acid, they said, could be fatal. "The proper concentration and a couple of good whiffs and you'd be dead," a fire department spokesman said.

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency said crews were hoping to seal the leak with a shipment of special foam. They said earlier attempts to control the situation by pumping out the 500,000-gallon tank had proved too slow.

Gov. Daniel Walker ordered out the Illinois National Guard to aid the evacuation and prevent looting but called back all units except a battalion of military police.

The silicon tetrachloride was in liquid form. However, it quickly vaporized on contact with air.

Hughes Defense Attorneys Rest In Maheu Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Defense attorneys for Howard Hughes have rested their case in a $17.3-million defamation suit after contending former Hughes aide Robert Maheu profited from the billionaire's recuse's fear of litigation and public exposure.

Maheu, former operations chief for Hughes' interests in Nevada, filed the suit alleging he was defamed by Hughes at a telephone news conference in 1971. A voice identified as Hughes told reporters that Maheu "stole me blind."

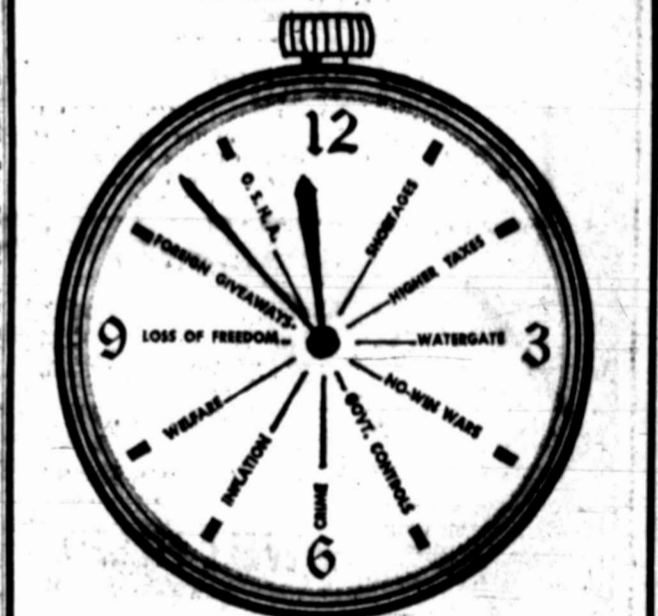

Hughes' defense is that the statement is true — that Maheu did steal from the industrialist.

Maheu's attorney Morton Galane is scheduled to present an opening statement and begin calling witnesses Tuesday.

In addition, the company says it has encountered approximately 100 feet of net sand in the interval 6,600 to 6,770 feet and approximately 45 feet of net sand in the interval 6,915 to 7,030 feet.

No drillstem tests or electric logs have as yet been run in these intervals. Thus no definitive evaluation of the Midway sands is possible at this stage.

The company said it plans to drill ahead to a total depth of 7,800 feet before setting production casing and testing all three zones.

Consolidated said that the No. 1 Prevost is the second successful wildcat discovery drilled on this 9,000-acre block. SEPM Planning Mine Field Trip In New Mexico

The Permian Basin Section of Society of Economic Paleontologists and Mineralogists will take a one-day field trip Saturday to the Kerr-McGee Potash Mine, four miles from Halfway, N.M.

The geology, mill and mining procedures of the mine will be considered.

All interested persons should meet at 9 a.m. at the mine, and four to five hours will be spent at the facility, located on the Hobbs-Carlsbad Highway No. 62-180, or about seven miles west of the Highway 176-62-180 junction.

Reservations should be made by noon Thursday by dialing Steve Evans, field trip chairman, at 682-9731. Participants will furnish their own lunch.

Two Phillips Engineers Win Slonneger Awards

LUBBOCK — Two petroleum engineers, M. H. Halderson of Bartlesville, Okla., and R. D. Schropp of Odessa, received J. C. Slonneger awards during a luncheon meeting at the Southwestern Petroleum Short Course at Texas Tech University.

Halderson is manager of special projects engineering, worldwide exploration and production, Phillips Petroleum Co., Bartlesville; and Schropp is director of engineering, southwestern district, for Phillips at Odessa.

The award is presented by the Southwestern Petroleum Short Course Association to recognize individuals who have made outstanding contributions to the technology of petroleum production.

Halderson and Schropp were recognized for their contributions through their "research and studies that were instrumental in the adoption of improved practices for the design selection and operation of sucker rod pumping systems by the petroleum industry."

Approximately 350 persons registered for the 21st short course attended the luncheon at which Chase Manhattan Bank Vice President Norman A. Olansen spoke.

Schropp is a 1950 graduate of New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology with a degree in petroleum engineering. He joined Phillips upon graduation and has been with the company since, serving in Big Spring, Midland, Houston, Great Bend, Kan.; Santa Barbara, Calif.; Bartlesville, and Odessa.

Halderson obtained his bachelor's degree in 1934 and his master's in 1936, both in electrical engineering from the University of Nebraska.

He has been with Phillips since 1936, serving in electrical construction one year, production 27 years and in equipment engineering, exploration and production nine years.

The short course opened with a briefing session conducted by John Ed Smith and Joe A. Morris, both with Midland offices of Mobil Oil Corp., and D. A. Crawford of the Texas Tech Petroleum Engineering faculty.

Morris was general chairman of the short course; Smith, program chairman; and Crawford, secretary-treasurer. Prof. Philip Johnson of the petroleum engineering faculty at Texas Tech is chairman of the board of directors of the short course.

26 TRILLION CUBIC FEET— Alaskan Natural Gas Poses Problems In Transportation

By MAX B. SKELTON HOUSTON (AP) — At least 26 trillion cubic feet of natural gas are believed to be buried with the oil on Alaska's North Slope.

An American Petroleum Institute official says two methods are possible for transporting the gas to market but each method poses special problems.

Dr. Wilson M. Laird, director of the Institute's division of exploration affairs, believes time will resolve the situation as it did with the controversial Trans-Alaska crude oil pipeline project.

One method to transport the North Slope natural gas would involve construction of a pipeline paralleling the Trans-Alaska line. A second method would be a pipeline following the Mackenzie River Valley across Canada.

A parallel line would extend from the Prudhoe Bay area to Alaska's south coast, where plants would be constructed in Valdez to liquefy the gas to be transported by tanker to the West Coast.

"There are quite a few problems in this proposal," Laird said. "First, the cost of liquefaction plants would add to the cost of the gas to the consumer," he said. "Second, because of the Jones Act, the tankers would all have to be of American registry."

Unfortunatly, Laird added, the American fleet at this time does not possess any cryogenic tankers capable of transporting cargo at temperatures of 260 degrees below zero Fahrenheit. "However, they might be available when such a line can be completed," he said.

Wilson said the Mackenzie route also has its drawbacks, not the least of which would be the engineering feat of building a pipeline across at least 2,000 miles of Arctic wilderness.

"With the expertise gained from Trans-Alaska, engineers could probably meet the challenge of the Canadian back country, but it would be an enormous task," he said.

"The real difficulty with the Mackenzie route, however, rests with negotiating an acceptable working relationship with the Canadian government. In an effort to protect Canadian national interests, Canadian officials have insisted on ownership of a pipeline across Canada."

Additionally, Laird said, the Canadian officials have asked Canadian management of such a line, reservation of at least 50 per cent of line capacity to move Canadian owned hydrocarbons which may go to Canadian markets, and preference to Canadian construction firms.

Laird said that, at first glance, this seems to be a hard stance.

"I am convinced, however, that negotiations with the Canadian government could work out more acceptable terms," he said.

"As the size of the Alaskan fields becomes known and as production in Alaska increases, I believe Canada will wish to encourage not only a gas line but also an oil pipeline across her territory. This will help ease Canada's energy supply problems."

The Prudhoe Bay field was discovered in 1968, but controversy delayed pipeline permits almost six years. "Despite the fact the legal battles contributed to the present energy shortage, there is no doubt that the pipeline is now much more compatible with the environment," Laird said.

He added that, thanks to the thousands and thousands of environmental stipulations, the oil line will cause little impact on the environment.

"The granting of permits merely got us out of the courtroom," Laird said. "Now is the time for the industry to prove its mettle in the field."

WASHINGTON OIL— Buckley Pushes Same Proposals As Oil Industry

By CLYDE LA MOTTE Reporter-Telegram Oil Correspondent
WASHINGTON—It is not often that the petroleum industry looks to New York for help with its problems in Congress, but Sen. James L. Buckley of that state is proving to be an exception.

Buckley, a Conservative-Republican, is a member of the Senate Interior Committee and is getting increasingly involved in energy-related legislation.

The fact that he espouses many of the points supported by many in the petroleum industry, especially producers, does not stem from any great concern for the welfare of producers in Texas, Oklahoma and elsewhere but, rather, simply because he believes that he is doing a favor to New York energy consumers.

He strongly favors deregulation of the wellhead price of natural gas, at least of new gas, and he is convinced that the real answer to energy problems is to increase supplies, not impose a flock of government regulations on crude oil prices and other functions of the industry.

Buckley said at a breakfast session with some reporters last week that increased price incentive will result in more exploration, drilling and production. In fact, he has discovered in his own state that improved prices have greatly stimulated production-related activity.

New York production, doesn't amount to much, even though it has more than 50,000 producing wells. They are almost entirely of the stripper variety, averaging about a half barrel a day. Even so, there's a fresh flurry of activity to increase production from existing wells and a new willingness to take a chance on finding oil or gas from deeper formations.

The way Buckley figures it is that proposed price rollbacks and other such restrictions would discourage exploratory efforts and therefore lead to greater shortages and, in turn, even higher prices.

He also feels that if the price on conventional fuels is kept low by government action, this will foreclose development of such supplemental supplies as gas from coal and oil from the shale deposits of the Rocky Mountains.

Responding to a question, the senator expressed the view that

240 Rotary Units Drilling In Basin

Active rotary rigs in the Permian Basin Empire last week totaled 240. The weekly survey conducted by Reed Drilling Equipment showed a drop of two from the rotary units making hole two weeks ago.

However, it was up 50 from a like week a year ago, when only 190 units were reported.

The Morrow play in Eddy County, N.M., continued to account for that county's lead. Thirty-two rigs were reported in Eddy.

Champlin Plans To Expand Plant At Corpus Christi

FORT WORTH—The expansion of Champlin's Corpus Christi refinery from 60,000 to 125,000 barrels per day crude capacity, with necessary desulfurization equipment for processing high sulfur crude, was announced Saturday by Roger S. Plummer Jr., president of Champlin Petroleum Co., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Union Pacific Corporation.
Plummer said the projected cost of the expansion is $188 million. New process units will have the flexibility to handle low as well as high sulfur crude and meet current and anticipated environmental standards. Plans also include expansion of terminaling facilities on the Corpus Christi ship channel to receive crude from domestic and foreign sources.
Plummer noted that construction will begin the first quarter of 1975, with completion of the new equipment and modifications in 1977.

They have published the Prompter, annual reports for oil companies, banks and other businesses... many of these in the four color lithography.
A paper shortage definitely does exist, Rhoden says, but with two new mills going into operation in the summer, he hopes that it will not be too severe. At present Rhoden notices the shortage in the choice of types of paper. Some mills have discontinued certain types, but by ordering through many more distributors, Qualified Printers has a good selection of types of paper and an ample supply of good paper.

PLANNING FOR MEETING—Officials of the Permian Basin Geophysical Society plan the organization's 19th Annual Exploration Meeting which will be held here May 10. From left are Bill Finch, first vice president; Larry Dixon, president; Bob Trapp, second vice president; Fred Meyer, publicity chairman, and Richard Hall, treasurer.

PBPA's 1969 Letter Proves Prophetic

The Permian Basin Petroleum Association, with headquarters in Midland, mailed a letter to various major industries in June 1969 seeking help in heading off certain tax reforms which would be detrimental to the oil industry — and, in the long run to other industries.

Ed Thompson, executive vice president of the PBPA, said the letter is strong evidence that some of the nation's top industrialists were warned almost five years ago of possible oil shortages, layoffs in industry due to reduced reserves and 50-cent gasoline.

The letter, in part, said: "As you know, tax reforms are the 'in thing' in Congress right now.

"We in the petroleum industry are doing all we know how to prevent some proposed changes in the tax treatment of the petroleum industry from being put into effect.

"You, and all your people will, naturally, be adversely affected in that there will be reduced reserves, supplies and income which will lead to reduced sales, reduced work, increased costs, prices and taxes.

"When the U.S. consumers have to pay 50 cents, or more, per gallon of gas, they will cut down on their driving, keep the old bus longer, and do anything else to cut expenses.

"Too, if America is forced to become dependent on foreign petroleum, the price can easily go much higher, while production will be something else to be considered."

The letter, almost five years ago, was mailed to the president of the AFL-CIO, to the American Trucking Association, United Steelworkers, American Motors Corp., General Motors, Ford Motor Co., the Chrysler Corp. and to the heads of all national news media.

Senate Endorses All-Alaska Route For Gas Pipeline

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—The Senate Friday endorsed an all-Alaskan route for a pipeline to transport North Slope natural gas to market.

The 16-3 vote came on a long-pending House resolution stating legislative support for a trans-Alaska line.

El Paso Natural Gas Co. is proposing a pipeline from the North Slope through Alaska, while Alaska Arctic Gas Study Co. has filed with the Federal Power Commission application for an alternate route through Canada.

The resolution, a priority of the House leadership, had been held in Senate committees since its passage by the lower body in March.

The measure listed benefits to the state from an all-Alaska route, saying it would increase the tax base, provide both temporary and permanent jobs and spark economic development.

The resolution "strongly urges" Gov. William A. Egan to work to ensure an early decision in favor of the Alaskan route and to protect the state's interests before the FPC.

Washington Oil—

The Nixon administration and an apparent majority of Congress are still far apart on what steps should be taken to assure adequate supplies.

There is not much difference in long-range plans involving energy research programs, but on close-at-hand problems and how to cope with them.

Administration spokesmen tend to stress the need for providing more incentive to spur industry activity whereas the mood of Congress has been to guard against excessive profits by oil companies.

Permian Servicing Promotions Listed

HOBBS, N.M. — Ronnie Rogers will be promoted to vice president and assistant manager in charge of all yard and field operations for Permian Servicing Co. Inc. of Hobbs.

Also, E. A. "Slim" Buske will be promoted to supervisor of the Hobbs operation. Both promotions are effective May 1.

E. H. "Doc" Wilkins, Permian Servicing president, said the staff changes were made to improve services in the firm's West Texas and Southeast New Mexico operations.

There have been proposals, too, in Congress to establish a government oil corporation to get into the oil business, at least to provide a yardstick for measuring private oil company profits and efficiency.

Buckley does not think there is much chance that any such legislation will be passed this year, but concedes that if gasoline and other shortages become more of a problem it is conceivable that a bill might be passed.

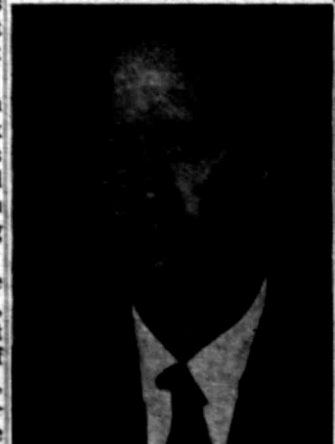

He personally opposes such an approach because the track record of government companies in any field has not been good and he thinks it would be even worse in the high-risk drilling end of the petroleum business.

He does not consider the threat of a price rollback over, even though the provision is not included in the latest draft of emergency legislation. However, Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., has made it clear he will offer the proposal as an amendment from the floor.

Buckley made a great deal more news recently when he suggested that President Nixon should resign, but it could be that his efforts to increase the nation's supply of energy fuels may win him more support in the long-run — even from New York consumers.

Permian Basin OIL & GAS LOG

Block A-28 multiphase field of Andrews County. It potentialized flowing 200 barrels of 36 gravity oil daily, no water, through a 13-64-inch choke and perforations at 7,446-7,454 feet, which had been acidized with 1,000 gallons. Gas-oil ratio was 840-1.

The producer was drilled to 7,638 feet and plugged back to 7,540 feet, with 5/8-inch casing seated at 7,632 feet.

Wellsite is 1,900 feet from north and 760 feet from west lines of section 21, block A-28, PSL survey, 15 miles northwest of Frankel City.

Fourth Extension
The No. 1 Windham was completed as a sixth, producer, and a 3/4-mile southwest extension to Spraberry production in the Parks (Spraberry) field of Midland County. Operator is Petro Grande, Inc., operating out of Dallas.

It produced 25 barrels of 36 gravity oil and 20 barrels of water, a 24-hour pumping potential test.

Production was through perforations at 7,813-7,903 feet, after it had been acidized with 1,000 gallons, and fractured with 50,000 gallons and 100,000 pounds.

Bottomed at 8,000 feet, where 4 1/2-inch casing was seated. It has been plugged back to 7,964 feet.

Location is 600 feet from south and 1,900 feet from west lines of section 32, block 40, T-3-S, T&P survey, 16 miles south of Midland.

Petro Grande originally filed application for tests in the Parks (Spraberry) field, but later amended it to an 11,000-foot wildcard.

We intend that no one should blame us about this liberal gift which we are administering, for we aim at what is honorable not only in the Lord's sight but also in the sight of men.—II Cor. 8:20, 21.

Remember To Pray!

"Whereas, it is the duty of nations, as well as of men to owe their dependence upon the overruling power of God, to confess their sins and transgressions, in humble sorrow, yet with assured hope that genuine repentance will lead to mercy and pardon, and to recognize the sublime truth, announced in the Holy Scriptures and proven by all history, that those nations are blessed whose God is Lord."

This is the opening paragraph of the Congressional Resolution proclaiming April 30 a National Day of Humiliation, Fasting and Prayer.

The resolution, approved by the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives, calls upon the people of the nation to humble themselves as they see fit, "before our Creator to acknowledge our final dependence upon Him and to repent of our national sins."

This is marvelous, a most timely action on the part of Congress. Never before perhaps in the history of the nation has there been a greater need for humiliation, fasting and prayer. But it will not be as effective as it might be unless all Americans join wholeheartedly in the observance.

Midlanders by the hundreds should attend the Call to Prayer Service scheduled at 7:15 a.m. Tuesday in the 500 and 600 blocks fronting on West Texas and West Illinois streets.

"Whereas, we know that we have been the recipients of the choicest bounties of Heaven; we have been preserved these many years in peace and prosperity; we have grown in numbers, wealth and power as no other nation has ever grown, but we have forgotten God; ... the resolution continues.

"Whereas, intoxicated with unbroken success, we have become too self-sufficient to feel the necessity of redeeming and preserving grace, too proud to pray to the God that made us; and

"Whereas, we have made such an idol of our pursuit of 'national security' that we have forgotten that only God can be the ultimate guardian of our true livelihood and safety; and

"Whereas, we have failed to respond, personally and collectively, with sacrifice and uncompromised commitment to the unmet needs of our fellow man, both at home and abroad; as a people, we have become so absorbed with the selfish pursuits of pleasure and profit that we have blinded ourselves to God's standard of justice and righteousness for this society; and

"Whereas, it therefore behooves us to humble ourselves before Almighty God, to confess our national sins, and to pray for clemency and forgiveness."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn warns against 'pseudo-detente.'

WASHINGTON — For the first time, Russia's literary and moral giant, Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn, has spoken out on the subject of Soviet-American detente. In his unpublished comments, which are laced with bitter irony, he is harshly critical of both the United States and the Soviet Union.

The Nobel Prize-winning novelist, now living in permanent exile in Switzerland, believes "detente is not only necessary but (is) mankind's only salvation." But in its present form, Solzhenitsyn avers, it is a "pseudo-detente." It will work, he contends, only when it is "truly guaranteed."

"One side," he says, in an obvious reference to Russia, "grants a certain number of smiles and even signs agreements, guaranteed actually by concessions and services to strengthen the first."

But he expects the Kremlin to weasel. There will come a day, he warns, "when with astonishment, the agreements signed are discovered to have been interpreted and carried out not as had been understood and expected, so that again and again delegations are sent to obtain, through additional concessions, the original interpretation."

Solzhenitsyn's views, solicited by Rep. Benjamin Rosenthal, D-N.Y., and Donald Fraser, D-Minn., are offered in a sagacious, if sometimes abstract, three-page letter. We have obtained a copy of the translation, which will be made public as part of House hearings on detente beginning May 8.

Until now, Solzhenitsyn has avoided detailed criticism of the Soviet-American detente. Throughout his turbulent career, he has been concerned more with moral and ethical questions, leaving purely political issues to be debated by his dissenting friends in Russia.

Solzhenitsyn's thundering exposes of the atrocities committed by Russian rulers have had him in constant hot water with the Kremlin. He became the conscience of Russia, whose stinging prose won him the Nobel Prize for literature in 1970 but got him expelled from his beloved homeland last February.

As Solzhenitsyn himself once wrote: "For a country to have a great writer is like having another government. That is why no regime has ever loved great writers, only minor ones."

Even from afar, however, Solzhenitsyn has continued to wield his needle, letting helium out of the Soviet balloon. Nor does he spare the United States in his letter to Congress. With biting sarcasm, he suggests that the United States would respond to a Soviet occupation of "the rest of Europe" by canceling cultural exchanges. Even this "drastic" reaction, he allows, would bring Senate and press criticism.

"I think I am not speaking too paradoxically or come too close to the absurd," he writes, "by suggesting that if during some 10 to 14 troublesome days the rest of Europe is occupied by victorious armies, your transoceanic country's wrath and even the drastic measure taken then by your government to end cultural exchange in ballet and operatic performances will be quickly protested by indignant and reasonable voices in the press and Senate, saying that remove the onerous word 'war.'"

He calls it "a truce guaranteed by nothing, even without any real powers for an observer commission, without the power of arbitration, but with a real opportunity for the aggressor to violate the truce in any way and at any time and prepare unhindered, under favorite conditions, for renewed aggression."

The implication is that Kissinger is altogether too eager to rush into cosmetic agreements with the Kremlin. Solzhenitsyn cites the strategic arms agreement last year as another example. "Measures adopted to limit rearmament," he writes, "are found only to have masked their most recent and fruitful proliferation."

BRUCE BLOSSAT Marxism Is No Rival To Capitalism Anywhere

WASHINGTON (NEA) — In these disturbing times, somehow one has to distinguish — at home and abroad — between the formless disillusionment with "things as they are" exhibited by countless millions in industrial society, and the sharply focused "radical" activities of a relative few.

At the core of much thinking among the bands of activists is what is generally described as orthodox or "doctrinaire" Marxism. Where it is not openly avowed, it often seems implicit in the expressed comment of the busy rebels.

In the residual clusters of post-Vietnam "anti-establishment" groups in America, "Marxism" is the one clear label they ever apply to help define alternatives to the hated "system."

The theme runs deep in British trade unionism, whose overt doing this last winter added to Britain's already tragic economic ineffectuality.

German Chancellor Willy Brandt's present political difficulties are being stirred within his own Social Democratic party by a hard core of 30 or more self-styled Marxists.

Though the Communist parties of France and Italy have been regarded properly in the postwar era as largely repositories for generalized discontent, their leadership as well as that in the Socialist parties pays homage to the rigid conceptions of "Marxism."

Japan's ruling Liberal Democratic party, again and in part self-crippling, is further hobbled by the ceaseless drumfire of Socialist and Communist party opposition rooted in Marxism.

The deeply saddening aspect of this persisting world-wide strain of thought is that nowhere on this globe is there a single significant model which could give any substantive meaning to this intense dedication. The dedication is essentially blind.

Indeed, where Socialism and Communism have been or are being employed to any measurable scale, their failures are for the most part more pronounced than those of the capitalism the activists revile.

In the milder case, they go beyond the grossest inefficiency to distortions at least matching our own. In the Communist realm, they plunge into the bottomless pit of unimaginable terror. Anyone who thinks, for instance, that "detente" as loosely approached between American and Russia signifies a more benign Soviet regime, has not listened carefully to the Kremlin's systematic ruin of the great dancer Panov as a warning to defectors.

There is terse but useful comment on this whole subject from Richard Goodwin, adviser to presidents and a pre-eminent speech-writer, in his new book, "The American Condition."

The basic aim of the book is to document what Goodwin believes to be the "oppressive" character of the American free economic society as it has evolved. But it is not to be taken therefore as a blind-faith accolade for socialist alternatives.

Goodwin disposes of them early, in brutal brevity, by saying his work is not "the place to analyze the parallel corruptions of socialist reality, nor the awesome horrors which flowed from that secular mysticism which placed its faith neither in liberty nor production, but in the state itself." For the latter, one obviously can read either fascism or communism.

It is not possible, nor fair, to argue that among dedicated "Marxists" there are no genuine idealists. It is possible to con-

TIMELY QUOTES

Dear Editor: Numerous good, hard-working, taxpaying citizens are getting shot down in this country every day by thugs eliminating witnesses to armed robbery.

But pious pinheads have made capital punishment a no-no with their psychopathic preaching that it does not deter killers.

But my non-idiot neighbor says in all history there is no instance where a person hanged, beheaded, gassed or electrocuted for murder has ever killed anybody else afterward.

D. E. SCOTT Crossroads, U.S.A.

DAVID POLING, D.D. It Is Time To Test The Korean Connection

NEW YORK (NEA) — No other nation in the world has as strong, emotional tie to North American Christians as does the Republic of South Korea. For a solid century this bond of Christian outreach and support has flowed from the United States and Canada to Korea. The response has been nothing less than inspiring — strong national churches, growing seminaries (Protestant and Roman Catholic), schools and hospitals flourishing. Last year Billy Graham addressed a Christian rally of staggering proportions in Seoul — more than a million worshippers at one time.

Now we have the sad news that a Korean man burned himself to death (doused with paint thinner) in the Yungnak Presbyterian Church in early April. Kim Hak Do did not leave a suicide note but his personal effects included a Bible and a hymn book.

Many believe that this implication is directly related to the harsh and undemocratic moves made recently by President Park. This near dictator has continued to abuse the churches and the universities with his repressive regime. Freedom of speech and public dissent are being crushed — he has hinted that the death penalty may be employed against those groups who continued to oppose his government. The Korean connection works both ways between North America and Asia. In this country, independent evangelists such as the Rev. Sun Myung Moon race across the land with a program of what appears to be a mystic hard sell. Mr. Moon calls his effort the "Unification of Christianity" with a high-powered PR push for Americans to stop complaining about Watergate, get behind the administration and support Mr. Moon.

He has a unique style. Most audiences are reminded that he saw Jesus (in Korea) when he was 16 years old. Now he has a 21-acre estate in Westchester County, N.Y. He must have seen Nelson Rockefeller when he was 18, for that little spread is worth a few million dollars, vision or not.

With successful investments in Japan and Korea, Mr. Moon does not deny the multimillionaire label. We happened to share a flight into Phoenix the other day and Rev. Moon had no less than eight staff members charging ahead into the airport reception . . .

The crisis in Korea is of major consequence. North American Christians must bring constant pressure against the punishing policies of President Park. People like Rev. Moon would help Korea, as well as the Christian cause, by supporting the bruised churches of his native land with the resources at his disposal — the U.S. Congress will yet deal with the Watergate conspiracy, with or without the Korean connection.

First Presbyterian To Dedicate Facility In Services Set Today

The First Presbyterian Church, which has retired the total indebtedness ($780,000) on its plant, today will dedicate the facility in special services.

Dr. R. Matthew Lynn of Dallas, a former long-time pastor of the church, will preach the dedicatory sermon at the 10:55 a.m. worship service in the sanctuary. "God's Chosen Place" will be his subject.

A service of rededication will be held in the chapel at 6 p.m., with the Rev. Robert Boynton Smith, pastor, officiating. The chapel and education wing of the church were damaged extensively in a fire which occurred in November 1972.

Restoration has been under way the last 15 months.

Note-Burning Ceremony
A note-burning ceremony will be held in front of the church at 6:30 p.m., following which a church dinner will be held in the Fellowship Hall. A special program will be presented by the children's choirs, under the direction of Robert E. Poer, minister of music.

Thawing Relations
STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Sweden and the United States will exchange ambassadors next month, thawing a period of frosty diplomatic relations that began when Premier Olaf Palme severely criticized the American bombing of North Vietnam.

Texans Pick Party Slates Saturday

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer
Texas voters take a new step in state government next Saturday.

"Miracle Cure"
5,000 Year Old Chinese Health Remedy Found

PEKING (Special) — Health researchers in China have uncovered an amazing rare old Chinese herb remedy that possesses spectacular healing qualities and reportedly has been used for 5,000 years to cure or give relief to a host of the "most common illnesses suffered by mankind. Dramatic claims are being made that this "miracle herb" called ginseng, may actually hold the key to a longer healthier life. Indeed, there is one historical case of a user living to be 256 years old.

Helps Many Illnesses
Like acupuncture, the many healing properties of this remarkable herb were once considered "folklore and superstition," but modern researchers around the world are suggesting that it may actually regulate many of the body's processes to increase SEXUAL potency, help heal ULCERS, relieve ARTHRITIS, check graying or loss of HAIR, improve DIGESTION, slow down ARTERIOSCLEROSIS, relieve ASTHMA, overcome FATIGUE, improve DIABETIC conditions, relieve inflammation of the URINARY TRACT, help chronic INSOMNIA, relieve BACK-ACHES and PAINS, and generally improve your health by increasing your body's potential to heal itself.

Safe, No Side Effects
Ginseng is not a drug, but an herb or vegetable that is extremely rich in vitamins and minerals. What's more, this amazing natural remedy is completely safe and non-toxic with no side effects. Unfortunately, high-grade ginseng is in short supply, and brokers and processors around the world are bracing themselves for a "run" on the market as the herb's purported "near miraculous" healing properties become more widely known to the general public.

Now Available in U.S.
Now you can get a generous 30-day supply of this amazing natural remedy direct from a major supplier by sending only $10.00 in check, cash or money order to Health Laboratories, Dept. 79, Box 2142, Palm Springs, Calif. 92262. This wonder herb is said to have helped millions of other people and it may help your health problem too. Isn't it worth a try? Adv.

day when they select party candidates for top state officials who will serve four-year instead of two-year terms.

Voters in the Democratic and Republican primaries also will give their opinions again on the old controversial issue of horse race betting. The result will be an influential, but not binding, recommendation to the 1975 Legislature.

Small Turnout Seen
The Texas Election Bureau estimates a turnout smaller than the 2.3 million who voted in the 1972 Democratic and Republican primaries.

There have been widespread reports of voter apathy, plus reduced campaign activity because of the gasoline-shortage and a shrinkage of contributions.

After the polls close at 7 p.m. Saturday there will be party precinct conventions, which may provide the most activity on election day. The precinct delegates elected Saturday will furnish the grass roots power for the Sept. 17 Democratic and Republican state conventions which in turn will set up party machinery for the 1976 presidential election year.

Other Conventions
The Raza Unida party, which drew 214,118 votes for governor in 1972, also will hold a primary election Saturday but there are no intraparty contests among its candidates.

The American party, which supports Alabama Gov. George Wallace, and the Texas Socialist Workers party will be holding "precinct conventions" for the primary purpose of starting petitions to gather the necessary 34,000 signatures necessary to get their candidates on the Nov. 5 general election ballot.

As usual, the Democratic governor's race headlines primary activities, although even that race has a low profile this year. Gov. Dolph Briscoe, 51, finishing out his first two-year term, is generally favored to defeat Mrs. Frances Farenthold, 47, of Houston as he did in their 1972 party runoff.

Briscoe a South Texas rancher and banker, has run a businesslike race, stressing his past record of no new taxes and promising more of the same for the future. Mrs. Farenthold, former state representative and a nationally known speaker for Democratic liberals and women's organizations, called Briscoe a "caretaker" governor and complained that campaign donations were hard to come by.

Little has been heard from the other two Democratic candidates for governor, Steve Alexander of Waco and Bill Posey of Houston.

The Republican gubernatorial race lost much of its expected action with the withdrawal of state Sen. Henry Grover of Houston, who ran Briscoe a hot race in the 1972 general election. Former Lubbock mayor Jim Granberry, 41, a dentist, is favored over Fort Worth attorney Odell McBrayer, 43.

There are four other Democratic contests for statewide office.

Former secretary of state Bob Bullock of Austin, and Hugh Edburg of Austin, former chief clerk for the state comptroller, are seeking the post to be vacated by Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, 81, who is retiring after 30 years in office.

Agriculture Commissioner
John C. White, in office 24 years, is seeking another term over Democrat Herbert Schroeder, Columbus.

Mack Wallace, former Briscoe aide whom the governor appointed to the Railroad Commission, is seeking a full term, opposed by C. A. Kelly of San Antonio.

Treasurer Jesse James, 68, who has had the office 32 years, is opposed by Donald B. Yarbrough, 32, Houston attorney who is no kin to a former Houston politician with a similar name.

tested race for the lieutenant governor's nomination with Gaylord Marshall of Dallas, opposing Troy Skates of Leander.

Republican Joe P. Cain of Houston is opposing Dale W. Steffes of Houston, for the nomination to the unexpired Railroad Commission term.

Large Number
In the 24 congressional districts there are an unusual number of contests, 13 in the Democratic primary and two for the Republicans.

There is no U.S. Senate race this year.

The long list of state legislative contests includes 74 Democratic contests for the House including 44 incumbents. There are seven Senate contests including four incumbents.

Republicans have one state Senate contest, involving an incumbent, and four House races involving incumbents.

Parimutuel Referendum
The horse race referendum on the Democratic and Republican ballots will ask voters to say if they want the 1975 Legislature to pass a law "to permit parimutuel wagering on horse races by local option." A similar proposition was defeated narrowly by both Democratic and Republican voters in 1972.

The horse race referendum is not on the Raza Unida ballot. The Republican ballot will include two other straw polls—whether the new state constitution should contain a so-called "right to work" provision and whether there should be a statewide vote on any personal or corporate income tax passed by the Texas legislature.

Nixon Wage-Price Control Program Due To Die Tuesday

By BILL NEIKIRK
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's wage-price control program will be buried Tuesday in virtual disgrace. It was 32 months old. Survivors include a booming inflation and lost purchasing power.

Although they failed to stop the nation's worst outbreak of inflation since the Korean War, controls may be back again, especially if consumer patience over double-digit price increases wears any thinner.

About Face
Controls are coming to an end because Congress failed to extend the Economic Stabilization Act, their legal authority, for another year. The act expires at midnight Tuesday. It had been extended on an annual basis since 1971.

Yet, with a spate of bad economic news in the past two weeks, Senate Democrats took an about face and advocated extension of standby wage-price authority. But it appeared doubtful any final action could be taken before the Tuesday deadline.

Acting Senate Republican Leader Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., accused the Democrats of "pure unadulterated politics" in their move. The U.S. Chamber of Commerce and the AFL-CIO opposed any further extension.

Bad Name
Through four different phases and various sub-phases, including two economic freezes, controls have gotten a bad name. Both labor and industry were successful in lobbying for an end to them.

Although Nixon sought an extension so that his Cost of Living Council could keep the health and construction industries under control, his economic advisers generally are happy to see them gone.

Simon Flexible
But, in a recent interview, William E. Simon, the Treasury secretary-designate, said he wouldn't rule out the possibility that controls might be reimposed one day. Among Nixon's advisers, Simon is most flexible on the question.

On Capitol Hill, Democratic senators and congressmen are getting behind legislation that would provide for limited wage-price control authority. But it will probably be summer or fall before any legislation is approved.

What's ahead for consumers?
Most of the economy already has been released from controls, so the expiration itself may not have that much of an immediate impact on the price level.

Workers Restless
But the economy is caught up in strong inflationary pressures as well as food and fuel shortages that will mean a continuation of sharply higher prices for at least several more months.

Already workers are restless over their eroding purchasing power. Union officials, who have seen average wage boosts held to under 6 per cent during controls, are now demanding better increases.

That will strengthen the inflationary push. Many government economists believe the pressure for renewal of controls already is building, even if they have proved virtually powerless in attacking the kind of inflation now rocking the economy.

In the past 12 months, consumer prices have gone up by 10.2 per cent and in the past three months, by an annual rate of 14.5 per cent. Food and fuel price increases have led the way.

Controls have been ineffective in dealing with food and fuel costs. Efforts to control food prices tightly only created shortages. An upsurge in foreign oil prices frustrated any effort to control fuel prices, since foreign costs are not controlled.

Now, the administration is pursuing an old and simple strategy: increase supplies. American farmers have been turned loose for all-out food production this year. The administration is pushing to increase domestic oil supplies, while trying to dampen energy demand by urging conservation.

Nixon was never very enamored of controls. It is reported he learned to dislike them when as a young man he worked for the old Office of Price Administration, which controlled World War II prices.

Startles Nation
Yet, on the night of Aug. 15, 1971, he startled the nation by announcing a 90-day wage-price-rent freeze, to bring inflation under control and get the sluggish economy moving again.

"Working together, we will break the back of inflation," Nixon declared in a nationally broadcast address.

The economic and political climate is different now. The President's economic advisers wouldn't mind if the rate of inflation prevailing then were prevailing now. In the eight months before the 1971 freeze, consumer prices went up at an annual rate of 3.8 per cent.

Nixon's first freeze was met with great enthusiasm and support by the American people. It sent the stock market soaring. Although there was much initial confusion over how the program was to be administered, the Cost of Living Council soon took charge and the confusion ended.

Nixon's break with his past economic theories proved to be a combination of his own flexible attitude on problem-solving and the pushing of then Treasury Secretary John B. Conally, who had urged strong anti-inflationary action from the beginning.

The controls program proved to be anything but steady. Here's a brief rundown on what happened after Nixon's Aug. 15, 1971 move:

Phase 1 Freeze — Consumer price increases slowed to a crawl during the 90-day freeze, rising at an annual rate of 2 per cent. Raw agricultural products were exempt. Food prices rose at a 1.7 per cent annual clip.

Phase 2 — This phase lasted 14 months, from November 1971 to January 1973. When Nixon was re-elected, he had effectively defused the economy as a major campaign issue because the controls program held inflation in check. Consumer prices rose 3.6 per cent during this period. But food prices toward the end of Phase 2 began rising sharply again.

Phase 3 — This was the shocker that goes down as a major failure of the control program. Nixon, in January 1973, dropped most mandatory controls on wages and prices and replaced them with a system of wage-price guidelines backed up with the threat of government action. This was the "stick-in-closet" approach.

Phase 3 triggered an explosion of prices, primarily in commodities traded on international markets. The dollar couldn't stand the pressure and was devalued for a second time in February 1973. During the five months of Phase 3, consumer prices jumped 8.3 per cent and food prices 20.3 per cent. Nixon put ceilings on meat prices on March 29, 1973.

Phase 3½ — In June 1973, Nixon froze prices for 60 days to try to stop the inflationary onslaught. Shultz, who had taken over as Treasury secretary earlier in the year, opposed the freeze and handed in his resignation. But Nixon urged him to stay on, and Shultz did.

The second freeze didn't enjoy nearly the same support from the public. And quickly, it began causing its own distortions. Poultry producers, finding it no longer profitable to raise chickens, began drowning baby chicks. Beef shortages began to crop up across the country. The freeze was lifted across most of the economy in mid-July and in the food industry in August.

Phase 4 — This was the toughest control program of all, yet it still failed to halt inflation. The administration, frustrated by the ineffectiveness of controls, began decontrolling the economy early this year. During Phase 4 and the second freeze, consumer prices rose 8.3 per cent and food prices, 14.3 per cent.

The controls program did prove successful, however, in containing explosive wage increases, with average contract settlements staying either within or close to the 5.5 per cent pay standard adopted by the government.

Photographer Develops New, Costly Techniques

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Now that she has reached her goal — a successful exhibit of her photographs and the sale of nine at $300 each at a well-known art gallery — Swiss-born Marian Schinz, 33, cannot afford to go on with the unusual techniques she has devised, she said sadly, unless her work is financed by commissions.

The photographs, ranging from deep medieval bronzes to abstract and surrealistic images, provide a relationship to paintings by means of double exposure, filters, combinations of textures, split images and the like, but they are very expensive to produce.

"There are no tricks, no retouching. It is all done by optical means—lenses, and so on. They are unique," she insists.

"People gasp when you tell them the price of a photograph," she continued. "In the public mind, it should cost, maybe 35 cents. But it would cost $40 even in a commercial lab to have a 16 by 20 print made, and in my studio I must make a great many prints until I get the right one. Paper is expensive and every package somehow is different, making it difficult to get a true reprint without hard work. It drives me berserk."

In addition to the expense of the materials, creative photography is time consuming. Her editions are limited to five, but she often works four days to get just one print, and she must be meticulous in gathering props. Unseasonal things are difficult to line up, although she keeps some props on hand — grasshoppers, sea shells and grasses, but short-lived berries and some flowers are something else.

Arrangements take time. It took weeks to assemble a series of white-to-blue colored jars.

Weddings Make Big Come Back

Allice Hetzel, chief of marriage data, National Center for Health Statistics, has said weddings again are making a big come back as they did during a wedding boom after World War II.

Miss Hetzel has reported the number of weddings is increasing every year and now are almost a ratio of 11 per 1,000 population.

Other facts her study has revealed that Saturday is the most popular day for weddings, with more than half taking place on that day. The median age for the bride is about 21½ years and 23½ for the bridegroom. Men are three times more apt to remarry than women, and the remarriage rate for women is only 36.7 per 1,000 widowed and divorced population, compared with 117.9 for men.

The worst state to live in as far as marriage chances go is Delaware, with 7.7 marriages per 1,000 population. New York is another poor marriage state with 8.6, and Illinois is about average with 10.5. Texas is above average with a 12.3 ratio.

Marriage is such big business, a Washington woman operates a school which teaches other women how to become bridal consultants. Students from throughout the United States learn how to stage a wedding, from a $200 budget type to a $50,000 type.

Bridegrooms More Colorful

Wedding apparel for bridegrooms has taken on a colorful look.

The going colors for informal wedding jackets for the bridegroom are powder blue and pale yellow, followed with black and white. At times the jacket lapels are faced with velvet. The trousers should always be black, regardless of the color of jacket the bridegroom selects.

There are more ruffles on shirts this season than last year, and yellow, powder blue or white ones are accepted. Shoes for the bridegroom often are chunky-look slippers with buckle trim and a slightly higher heel.

Still in fashion is the traditional tuxedo and, this year, is available in high fashion with two-button models with satin, velvet and braid trims. The gray cutaway jacket has been restyled for more formal weddings. One fashion in wool worsted has dark gray satin lapels, fitted back with decorative buttons and velvet collar. Cutaway jackets are worn with matching gray trousers or with darker pin-striped ones.

Some tasks depend on the cooperation of insects, such as a closeup of a live ant on half a cherry. The most delicate photograph in the exhibition — a half-peeled egg and an egg in shell on a white plate with a glass of milk and a jar of milk on white ground — appealed to sophisticated types, she says. Ditto a split image of green apples. People without any art background gravitated to her multicolored foral on a dark ground and another one of a box of strawberries.

Her break came when the owner of the Galleria Bonino saw some of her murals in the offices of Houbigant, for whom she does some perfume photography, and invited her to exhibit. She hit on the

Wedding Gown Collections Reflect The Past

This year's collections of wedding dresses traditionally reflect the past. Regardless of price, romantic dresses with nostalgic touches from the turn of the century through the 1950s dominate the new styles, according to bridal fashion consultants.

Wedding ceremonies today are sometimes anything but traditional, and wedding fashions for men are more colorful, but this seems to have little influence on what the bride of today chooses for her gown.

The most popular fabric for gowns is organza, followed by chiffon and lace, peau de soie and some Swiss embroideries. Candlelight, ivory and white are the most popular colors, but there is growing interest in soft touches of pale tints. Silhouettes today emphasize the natural or Empire waistlines or the princess-cut. The sheer yoke treatment with high neckline from the 1940s has returned, as have scoop necklines. Sleeve shapes vary from slim fitted ones, bishop styles, slit butterfly shapes, short caps and shirred chiffon ones.

The veils, long or short, are elaborate, especially if the gown is simple. A new touch is lace mantillas. The Juliet cap seems to be in strong favor, and some brides are wearing wide-brimmed hats with lace and flower trims.

photography-painting technique because she had heard that people like only what they can associate with that form of art.

She has never made a decent picture in her native Switzerland. It is either very clear or rainy and dull, she says. She prefers England's ghost-like images, fog and mist, and the desert's no-dimension air and color.

Commercial photography also is an expensive business to conduct, she insists. In addition to her own experience, she had worked for five years for the late Erwin Blumenfeld, and found "people resent paying a big price for a picture even though the materials may have cost the photographer $500."

She had never wanted to be a photographer even though at 15 she was availing herself of the opportunity to work in the darkroom of her father's radiology laboratory where x-rays were developed. But soon she was into it, she says.

"But there should be more monetary recognition. A doctor's consultation may last only five minutes, but he has spent years studying. So, too, photographers work hard to develop their techniques and the trials and errors are costly."

Attendants' Gowns More Fashionable

Fashions for the bride's attendants are designed with more fashion interest this year.

The choice no longer is limited to simple pastel dresses with short sleeves and boat neckline. Even though the new styles are festive, they are designed not to "steal the show" from the bride, but rather complement the bride's gown.

There are prints and some are halter-style dresses with cover-up jackets. Others have pretty sleeve treatments, such as a slit butterfly style. One of the new looks for attendants is a long faded blue denim or dusty rose-colored fabric with sailor collar piped in white satin.

Mothers in a wedding party usually wear long gowns for both daytime and evening weddings. Chiffon in flattering solid colors or soft floral prints is still a popular fabric, and the best style is a dress with matching jacket.

How To Tell The World

You may submit a photograph with an engagement announcement, if desired. The engagement photo may include both the bride-elect and her fiancé, ONLY if the bride-elect is a Midland girl. With an engagement announcement for an out-of-city bride-elect, only the photograph of the bride-elect will be published, and in smaller column size than for Midland girls.

A photograph may be submitted with the wedding information and will be used ONLY if there has been at least ONE MONTH'S time between the date the engagement is announced and the date of the wedding. Again, photographs for out-of-city brides will be used in the smaller column size. Only the bride's photograph will be used with a wedding write-up.

Pictures should be glossy-finished, black and white studio portraits, 5x7, preferably. Color or tinted photographs are not acceptable.

There is NO CHARGE for publication of picture or story.

Picture and completed wedding or engagement form must be submitted before 5 p.m. Wednesday for publication in a Sunday paper; or before noon the day before publication in a daily paper. Wedding stories are printed as soon as possible after the wedding. Only weekend weddings are used, usually, in the Sunday paper. We are unable to run wedding stories more than five days after the event.

Wedding stories submitted after the wedding happens will be published as soon as there is space available and in less detail. Due to limited space, minute details must be eliminated in all wedding stories. Date of publication and placement of story cannot be guaranteed.

Staff members exercise due care of pictures, but do not accept the responsibility for loss or damage. Pictures will be returned and should have name, return address, including zip code, on back.

The Reporter-Telegram has forms for engagement and wedding announcements.

ALSO REMEMBER TO Include the names and addresses of BOTH parents for BOTH the bride and bridegroom.

Include the husband's name for all married women; widows are still Mrs. John Doe for any formal usage.

Indicate name preferred by bride-elect and her fiancé. List home-town of each person mentioned. Please make sure that all names are spelled correctly.

Indicate if you are attending, did attend or are a graduate of any school you mention on the form.
