

Discovery Completed In Pecos

Gifford, Mitchell & French and BTA Oil Producers, Midland, have announced completion of No. 1 J. E. Allison, as a Montoya gas discovery, in Pecos County, 25 miles south of Fort Stockton.

It is potential, with a calculated, absolute open flow of 20 million cubic feet of gas per day, through perforations at 12,603-12,796 feet, which had been treated with 10,000 gallons of acid, and 100,000 gallons and 100,000 pounds of fracture.

Drilled to 12,950 feet, it has 4 1/2-inch liner hung from 5,100 feet to total depth.

The discovery is 1,393 feet from north and 3,984 feet from west lines of section 4, block 182, TCRS survey.

Wildcat Sited In Crane County

A wildcat location has been staked in Crane County, by Texas Oil & Gas Corp., operating out of Midland. It is No. 1-A Reed Butler.

Located one location south of the same operator's No. 1 Reed Butler, Wichita-Albany discovery, it spots 660 feet from southwest and 1,960 feet from southeast lines of section 10, block 4, H&TC survey, 15 miles west of Crane. Contact depth is 5,800 feet.

The Wichita Albany discovery was completed April 22, 1974, with a calculated, absolute open flow of 8.25 million cubic feet of gas per day, through perforations at 5,472-5,536 feet.

Williams Takes Drilling Test

Clayton W. Williams Jr. of Fort Stockton was drilling below 19,246 feet in dolomite, at No. 1 Gataga, scheduled 22,000-foot wildcat in Loving County, after taking a drillstem test in the Fusselman.

Tool was open three-hours and 40-minutes on the test taken from 19,077-19,205 feet. Gas surfaced in 55-minutes, on a one-inch choke, at the estimated rate of three million cubic feet per day, increasing to five million.

It recovered 5,837 feet of drilling fluid. Flowing pressure was 3,249 pounds.

Test site is 650 feet from southwest and 1,815 feet from southeast lines of section 65, block 1, W&NW survey, three miles southwest of Mentone.

Hudspeth Gets Location Site

Kewanee Oil Co., Odessa, has filed an application to drill No. 1 Moseley, as an 8,000-foot wildcat, 35 miles northwest of Sierra Blanca, in Hudspeth County.

There is no nearby production. Drillsite is 660 feet from south (Continued On Page 6B)

Stormy Weather Ends Texas Stay

Stormy weather which pounded much of Texas with high winds, hail, heavy rains and threatening funnel clouds, had all but moved out of the state by dawn today.

Hail as large as baseballs pounded the Midkiff area of Midland County Saturday night, destroying cotton, pecans, peaches and gardens in the area.

Most of the hail was the size of tangerines, reports said. The area got as much as four inches of rain, filling dry lakes.

High winds, rain and hail also hit Martin County Saturday night. The City of Midland escaped turbulence and received only about .10 inch of rain.

Warmer Readings Ahead National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal forecasts partly cloudy skies and warmer temperatures through Tuesday, with a slight chance of thunderstorms tonight.

High today will be near 80 with an expected overnight low in the upper 50s. High Tuesday will be in the middle 80s. High Sunday was 73 and the overnight low was 51.

Chance of rain is a low 20 per cent tonight. Winds are southeasterly 10 to 20 m.p.h. this afternoon, becoming 5 to 10 m.p.h. tonight.

July 15 Date Set For Perjury Trial Of California Lieutenant Governor

WASHINGTON (AP) — A July 15 trial date was set today for California Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke on perjury charges stemming from the ITT case. The action by U.S. District Judge Barrington Parker indicated the court will turn down pending motions by Reinecke to dismiss the indictment or, failing that, to move the trial to California. Reinecke, a leading contender for California's Republican gubernatorial nomination, was indicted by a Watergate grand jury April 3 on three counts of lying before a Senate committee. Reinecke has pleaded innocent to the charges. Trial had been set for May 13, but Reinecke's lawyers asked for the delay while the change of venue motions and other matters were handled. Reinecke originally had pressed for a speedy trial to have the matter settled before the California primary elections June 4. Reinecke was one of the principal forces behind a decision to hold the 1972 Republican Na-

Pacts Signed For Arab Oil

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The Middle East Economic Survey, an authoritative petroleum industry publication, reported today that the Persian Gulf Arab emirate of Abu Dhabi has signed two sales contracts for crude oil with American firms.

A two-year contract would provide 30,000 barrels daily to Clark Oil Refining Co. at the posted price of more than $12 a barrel. United Refining Co. would receive 10,000 barrels a day at a slightly lower price.

Judge Indicates Calley To Remain Free On Bond

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — A federal judge indicated today there was ample precedent for allowing former Army Lt. William L. Calley Jr. to remain free on bond despite objections from government prosecutors.

U.S. District Court Judge J. Robert Elliott said he would rule on the issue later today. After hearing arguments from government attorneys who contended it was unprecedented for a military prisoner to be granted bond, Elliott said:

"For the Army to say there is no precedence for granting Lt. Calley bail is simply to ignore an action by the U.S. Supreme Court..."

Elliott freed Calley, 30, on Feb. 27 on personal recognition in lieu of $1,000 bond. He said that in 1969 a Supreme Court justice freed Army Capt. Howard Levy, who like Calley had been convicted by court-martial and had exhausted military appeals. Levy was convicted of refusing to train Green Berets and medics. In granting Calley temporary freedom in February, Elliott said he presented no threat to himself or society.

Calley served a 10-month three years under house arrest for his March 1971 conviction in the killings of at least 22 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai in 1968. Elliott today set May 20 for hearing defense motions challenging the constitutionality of Calley's conviction. He set June 24 for a hearing before his court on the merits of Calley's appeal.

In arguing that Calley should remain free until his hearings are held, one of his civilian lawyers, J. Houston Gordon said:

"It is... an unfair, arbitrary and capricious act of the government," to attempt to deny Calley bond.

The Army dismissed Calley from military service Saturday.

Independent Oilmen Claim Majors Stockpiling Steel

DENVER (AP) — As domestic oil production slowly drops, independent oilmen say they cannot get enough steel to drill wells that could turn the decline around.

Shortages of steel products used in drilling were the main topic of conversation as the Independent Petroleum Association of America went into the second session of its semi-annual meeting today.

The independents, who drill most of the wells in the country and produce about a third of all domestic oil annually, heard their leaders say a government study shows eight unnamed major oil companies have stockpiled about 70 per cent of the vitally-needed steel products.

Curtailing Exploration This, they say, has created a shortage that is severely curtailing the independent's search for new oil.

But government and steel industry officials told the IPAA they are hopeful the shortage can be substantially eased by the end of the year.

FTC Member Asks Antitrust Curbs On Labor Unions

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — A member of the Federal Trade Commission proposed Monday that labor unions be subjected to antitrust restraints to curb inflation and protect the buying power of non-union workers.

As things stand now, said Commissioner Mayo J. Thompson, "Union members' wages are, in effect, subsidized out of the paychecks of the country's non-union employees."

He made the remarks in a speech prepared for delivery to the National Fluid Power Association.

Thompson said studies have shown that members of some of the more powerful unions earn 20 per cent more than they would without unions, with the difference "simply passed on to the consuming public."

"And since non-union workers are less affluent, on the average, than union members, it follows that every wage increase won by one of our more powerful labor unions has the effect of redistributing incomes regressively — away from the relatively poor and toward the relatively affluent."

Officials accidentally listed her twice on the ballot Saturday—once as Mrs. Noel Meadows and again as Mrs. Honey Meadows.

Former English Debutante Now Militant Rebel

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Bridget Rose Dugdale, English debutante turned revolutionary, was formally charged here today on five counts in the theft of 19 masterpieces worth $20.4 million — the biggest art robbery in history.

Miss Dugdale, 33, also was charged on five other counts involving possession of explosives and firearms in County Donegal, a trouble spot on the Irish republic's frontier with violence-torn Northern Ireland.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

TEL AVIV (AP) — Communiques from both Syrian and Israeli military sources reported heavy fighting on the Golan Heights today despite reports from U.S. officials that the conflict was being scaled down.

JERUSALEM (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko will meet Tuesday on the island of Cyprus to discuss prospects of ending the war on the Israeli-Syrian front, a State Department spokesman said today.

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House news secretary Ronald Ziegler said today no decision has been made on whether President Nixon will visit Egypt in early June as reported in Cairo.

She was charged in Dublin's Special Court after traveling under heavy army and police guard from County Cork, where she was arrested Saturday at a remote cottage with the 19 oil paintings stolen 10 days ago.

Most of the cases heard at the Special Court involve members of the outlawed Irish Republican Army, a predominantly Roman Catholic guerrilla movement battling to oust the British from Northern Ireland and unite it with the republic.

Police earlier named the woman arrested in Saturday's raid as Dr. Bridget Rose Dugdale, but noted that she refused to confirm her identity.

Sought Since February Daughter of an English insurance magnate and a doctor of philosophy, she has been sought by British security forces since February in connection with arms smuggling into Northern Ireland.

Police in the British province also want to question her about a bombing raid on a border police base from a hijacked helicopter earlier this year.

The police said that in the cottage they found 16 of the 19 paintings stolen April 26 by a woman and four men from the county home near Dublin of Sir Alfred Beit, and the other three paintings were in the trunk of a car. They included masterpieces by Vermeer, Hals, Rubens, Goya and Velasquez and were valued at more than $20 million.

Sisters' Transfer Demanded The gang had sent the police a note saying it would destroy the paintings unless $1.2 million in ransom was paid by May 14 and unless the sisters Dolours and Marion Price were transferred to a prison in Northern Ireland. The sisters are serving life sentences in a London jail for bombings in the British capital.

Mitterrand Faces Runoff For President Of France

PARIS (AP) — Socialist Francois Mitterrand will face conservative Finance Minister Valery Giscard d'Estaing in a close runoff battle for the French presidency May 19, France's voters decided Sunday.

Backed by the powerful Communist party, Mitterrand led a field of 12 candidates on the first ballot with 10,935,763 votes, or 43.36 per cent of the total cast. Giscard d'Estaing, a member of the Independent Republican party, ran second with 8,286,382, or 32.85 per cent.

Since the heavy turnout of 25 million voters gave no candidate a majority, a runoff must be held between the two high men in two weeks. But the voters dealt a shattering blow to the Gaullist party, which dominated French politics for more than a decade under Presidents Charles de Gaulle and Georges Pompidou.

The official Gaullist candidate, former Premier Jacques Chaban-Delmas, polled only 3,693,168 votes, or 14.64 per cent, in what was billed as a primary against Giscard d'Estaing, the leader of the junior party in the Gaullist coalition.

The consensus of politicians and newspapers was that the major shakeup in the political pattern made the outcome of the runoff unpredictable, with the result likely to be a photo finish.

The big question mark was how many of the 14 per cent who supported Chaban-Delmas after a campaign marked by personal bitterness toward Giscard d'Estaing would switch

Dairy Official Wanted To Raise $2 Million For Mills

By BROOKS JACKSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — A top dairy cooperative official allegedly wanted to raise $2 million in cash to help Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., run for President in 1972 against Richard M. Nixon, who had been promised $2 million in dairy money himself. David L. Parr, the former second-in-command at Associated Milk Producers Inc., believed Mills could win the Democratic presidential nomination and beat Nixon, according to statements attributed to Parr's former associates at the giant dairy cooperative. "Dave Parr wanted to build a kitty for Wilbur Mills of $2 million," the co-op's former lobbyist, Bob A. Lilly, is quoted as saying. "He wanted this to be in cash." The milk producer's present chief executive, George L. Mehren, is quoted as saying he cut off some of Parr's aid to Mills when Mehren took over leadership of the co-op in early 1972. At that time, just before Mills announced himself as an active candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, Parr had assigned a number of salaried cooperative employees to assist the early draft-Mills campaign, an apparent violation of federal law prohibiting use of corporate money in campaigns. "I turned down a proposed check-off of employees by Parr and gave directions that it was contrary to company policy and would not be allowed. Parr reminded me that it was for Wilbur Mills and that we owed him a good deal," Mehren is quoted as saying. The check-off was apparently for a fund-raising effort for Mills that Parr wanted to conduct among the co-op's employees, according to a source close to the Senate Watergate committee's investigation of the affair. Mehren is quoted as saying that he was told five co-op employees worked on the Mills campaign. Lilly named six employees who he said actually worked for Mills. A seventh co-op employee has been identified as the train advance man for Mills. Parran the milk producers' office in Little Rock, Ark., in Mills' congressional district. He believed that Mills, head of the House Ways and Means Committee, could go "all the way" and win the White House, according to a statement attrib-ed to Robert O. Isham, the milk producers' former controller. The statements of Lilly, Mehren and Isham were made public in a court proceeding after the Justice Department's anti-trust division subpoenaed the investigative notes of Edward L. Wright, a prominent Little Rock attorney who probed the co-op's political activities on assignment from its board of directors. Mills has publicly referred to Parr as a "good friend." He has declined requests to be interviewed about his connections to Parr and the milk producers.

The co-op donated $25,000 to his presidential campaign, the largest single recorded donation. Parr also poured at least $50,000 worth of corporate support into the early draft-Mills campaign in late 1971 and early 1972, and Mills has said he was unaware of this. Parr's lawyer, Robert Light, won't allow his client to be interviewed about the Mills support, on grounds that Parr is being investigated by the Watergate special prosecution force. Parr recently pleaded guilty to a federal charge of conspiring to give $22,000 illegally to Hubert H. Humphrey's 1968 campaign. That indictment was brought by a grand jury in Little Rock, unrelated to the Watergate prosecution. Parr and other co-op officials had promised $2 million to President Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign, and at least $727,000 in dairy money has actually been traced to the President's political coffers. The House Judiciary Committee presently is investigating whether this $2-million promise influenced Nixon's decision to raise federal milk price supports in 1971, something the White House denies.

FBI Denies New Hearst Kidnaping Developments

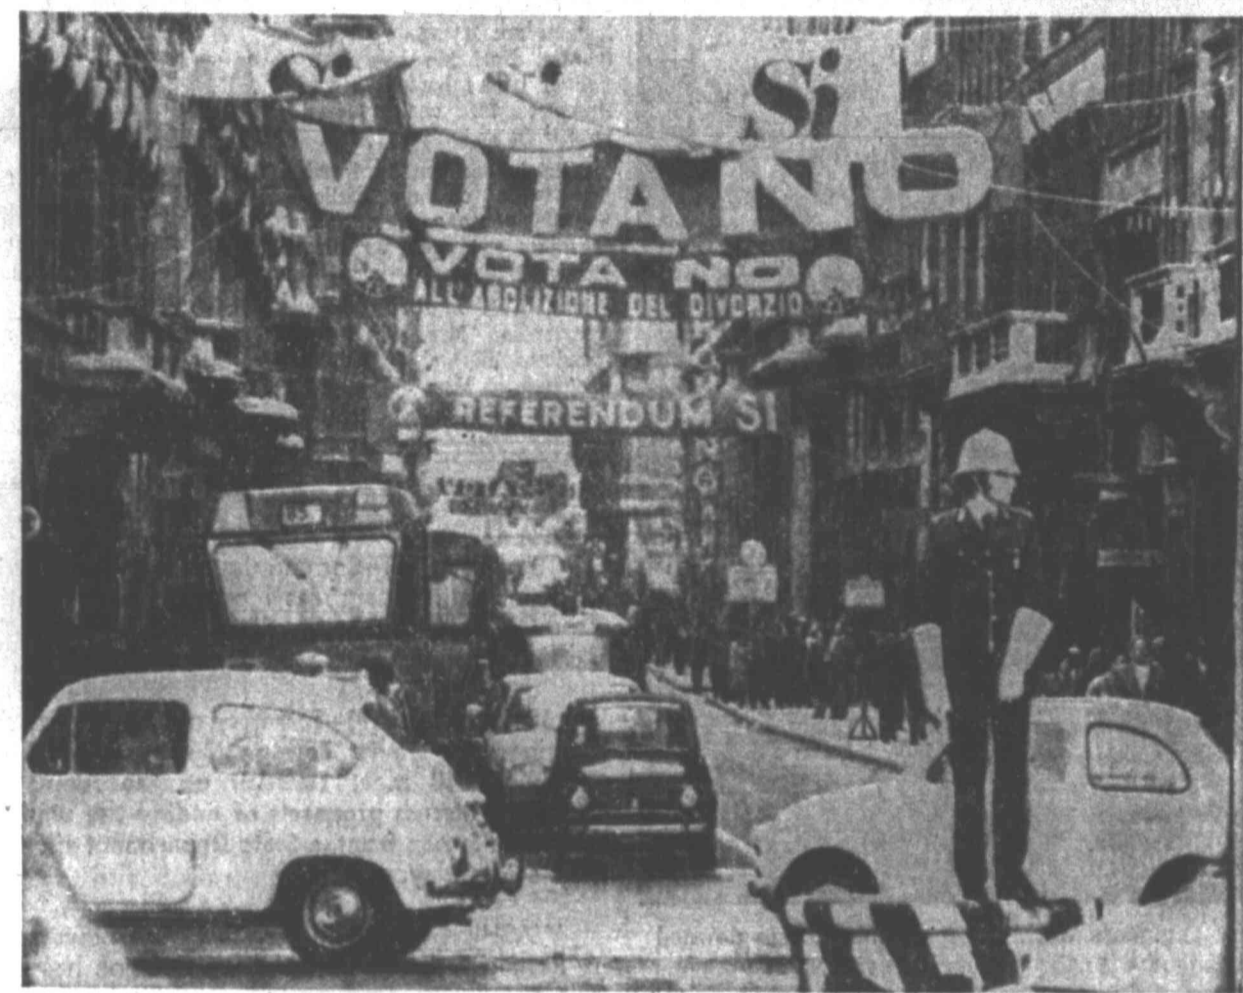

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — FBI investigators say there have been no new developments in the Patricia Hearst kidnaping, even though reports came in from around the country from citizens who thought they have seen the newspaper heiress. "Of course, we check out all such reports," FBI Special Agent Charles Bates said Sunday. "We get quite a few of them every day." Meanwhile, agents continued to study evidence collected from an apartment that had been occupied by the Symphonie Liberation Army, which claims it kidnaped the 20-year-old coed three months ago. The evidence included clothing, acid stained papers and other important evidence, the FBI said.

San Francisco Jury Will Hear Zebra Evidence

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The city is to begin presentation of evidence to the San Francisco County grand jury tonight in the case of three men accused of three "Zebra" murders. Dist. Atty. John Jay Ferdon says that because of a gag order imposed Friday by Municipal Court Judge Agnes O'Brien Smith, he would make no comment on what the jurors will be told. Because of the order, officials would not say whether an informer that police say provided the major break in the case would appear before the grand jury. Three men, Larry Green, 22, Manuel Moore, 29, and J. C. Simon, 29, are accused of three of 13 slayings in a case police have code-named "Zebra," after a police communications channel. They are being held without bail.

OFFICIALS PREDICT— Blacks Eventually May Comprise 25 Per Cent Of U.S. Army Ranks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army officials predict that black representation in the ranks may rise to 25 per cent over the long term. This would be about 5 per cent higher than the current level and roughly double the percentage of young blacks in the general U.S. population. April recruitment figures have not yet been published, but black enlistments in the Army reportedly rose last month after leveling off in January through March. Army manpower officials said they were unable to explain the increase, but it appeared the unsettled economic situation might be a factor. While insisting they never will impose any racial quotas, officials are concerned about achieving what they call a "representative Army."

Secretary of the Army Howard H. Callaway said recently that "if it were perceived by the American public that the Army was a place only where blacks really belong and we got into this kind of position, I think it would not be a representative army. There is always the question that it would not be fair in terms of combat for blacks to give more than their share of the danger and the suffering," Callaway said. This suggests the Army still is sensitive because of allegations, denied at the time, that blacks took disproportionate casualties in the Vietnam war. At the same time, Army officials indicate they are pleased with the quality of blacks in their units. One general noted that the Army's crack 82nd Airborne Division is 26 per cent black. The Army has been the focus of attention for those trying to gauge progress under the all-volunteer concept, because the Army was the most draft-dependent of the armed forces before the selective service law died about 10 months ago. There is no word yet on how black recruitment went in the Marines, the Navy and Air Force in April. However, the Marine Corps reported that just under 21 per cent of its recruits were black in the nine months since the draft law went off the books. The Marine Corps has had trouble getting enough qualified volunteers, but not as much trouble as the Army. The Navy, which has experienced recruiting ups and downs, recorded close to 10 per cent blacks among its recruits in that same nine-month period ending in March. The Air Force, which has easily filled its volunteer quotas month after month, listed 16 per cent blacks among its recruits over the same span.

Last year she was given a two-year suspended sentence for leading a gang that burgled her father's home of $192,000 worth of silver and art works while her mother and father were attending the Derby. "I love you — but I hate everything you stand for," she told her father in court. She said her parents had tried to turn her into "marriage fodder" when she wanted an academic career. "My hate of the system my parents practice and gain by is stronger than ever," she said as she walked out of the court. "I am going back to the poor." She is wanted in England on a charge of arms smuggling and in Northern Ireland for the bombing of a border police station by a hijacked helicopter. The Beit paintings were found because former Connie Hayes became suspicious when the man and woman who rented a cottage from him "kept the door locked, the windows closed and the curtains down." He mentioned his suspicions to Sgt. Pat O'Leary and Constable William Creedon in Glandore, and they called in help to stake out the cottage after learning it had been rented two days before the art robbery. The paintings were insured for $2.4 million, and the insurance company offered a reward of $240,000 for their return and information leading to the arrest of the thieves. But the company said no reward would be paid since the paintings had been recovered by "routine police inquiries."

Gaston Defferre, the Socialist mayor of Marseille who is expected to be premier if Mitterrand wins, admitted that not all the left wing had turned out to back his standard bearer Sunday. It has been suggested that some Socialists were wary of the link with the Communist party, which is expected to give the Communists a third of the cabinet posts if Mitterrand is elected. Defferre said these Socialist stay-at-homes constituted "a reserve for the second ballot, and Francois Mitterrand should win."

Paper Says Hughes Gifts Sparked Watergate Break-In

NEW YORK (AP) — Senate investigators believe the case of the two $50,000 Republican "campaign contributions" by billionaire Howard Hughes supplies the missing motive for the Watergate break-in, the Wall Street Journal said today. The Journal said the investigators contend that former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell "tampered with" a case involving the Dunes Hotel of Las Vegas "and that fear of discovery of the facts led to the Watergate break-in mission" in 1972. Mitchell denies this. The Journal said that the money had been given by Hughes to Charles G. "Bebe" Rebozo, one of President Nixon's closest friends, soon after favorable government action on Hughes' proposed purchase of the Dunes. Hughes never bought the hotel. The paper said that Senate investigators now believe that Mitchell was afraid Lawrence M. O'Brien, then the Democratic National chairman, knew about the Dunes case and the Hughes donation because he had been a public relations consultant to the Hughes organization. O'Brien says he was unaware of the transactions. Richard Danner, a Hughes executive, testified Friday in Los Angeles in a suit involving two factions of the Hughes organization that he gave Rebozo the $100,000 in 1970 in two installments of $50,000 each. But Danner said the money was to be used for Republican congressional candidates, not Nixon's 1972 re-election campaign. The Journal said Danner and Mitchell met prior to the contribution to discuss Hughes' acquisition of the Dunes and the antitrust aspects involved. Asst. Atty. Gen. Richard McLaren, then head of the Justice Department's antitrust division, had already informed Mitchell that the purchase would violate the government's merger guidelines, the paper said. The Journal said that soon after Danner's meeting with Mitchell, Hughes got "a high-level go ahead."

DESPITE 55-MILE SPEED LIMIT—

Two Months Later, They're Rolling Again

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer
Two months after the 55 miles per hour speed limit went into effect on a nationwide basis, an Associated Press survey shows Americans have slowed down a little but are still driving faster than the law allows.

its than there were a couple of months ago. All they have to do is increase gas consumption by 4 or 5 per cent and we're right back in the same jam. —Drivers think the lower speed limit can be enjoyable, but agree that it gets boring over long distances in monotonous country. They also said there was a tendency to let the speedometer creep up to match the flow of traffic. —Congress passed legislation late last year giving states until March 4 to lower the speed limit to 55 m.p.h. as a conservation measure or face the loss of federal funds. All 50 states complied.

The AP sent reporters in the 48 contiguous states to drive on the highways on May 1, keeping at the legal limit of 55 m.p.h. to see what other motorists were doing. The AP also checked on the number of speeding tickets issued before and after the limit was lowered and on traffic accidents.

65. To 70-Mile Average
Among the conclusions: —Americans in all but a handful of states, including Wyoming, Wisconsin, Idaho, Delaware and Oklahoma, are ignoring the 55 m.p.h. limit, whizzing by a driver who travels at the legal speed.

—The average speed on most highways is 65 to 70 m.p.h., below the speeds people used to travel when the legal limit was 70 or 75 m.p.h.

—Police are giving out more tickets. Only one AP reporter in Indiana — saw a patrol car actually pull over a speeding vehicle. But authorities cite statistics to show that they are enforcing the law stringently. The Kansas Highway Patrol said 6,091 arrests for speeding were made during the week ended April 15, up from 2,352 arrests in the same week of 1973.

—The highways are safer. The National Safety Council says traffic deaths in March were down 25 per cent from a year earlier; Ohio officials say 107 persons died in traffic accidents on March and April weekends this year, compared to 193 persons last year; North Dakota authorities said there have been only 31 fatalities so far this year, compared to 32 last year.

—Speeds are creeping up as gasoline availability increases. Gov. John D. Vanderhoof of Colorado said he sees "more people exceeding the speed limit."

Criminal Indictments Still Sought Against High Penn Central Officials

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A federal criminal investigation has developed evidence that some high officials of the Penn Central railroad made millions of dollars in personal profit before the nation's sixth largest corporation went bankrupt in June 1970, sources familiar with the case say.

from Washington who also said he could not comment. Sources say the grand jury had difficulty obtaining all the records it needed. These sources say prosecutors still hope to obtain the records and present their case again to a new grand jury in time to beat the five-year statute of limitations of federal conspiracy charges.

The grand jury investigation, according to sources, focused on five key figures "and a few aides." "This involves millions of dollars in personal profit," said a source. The statute of limitations on conspiracy, which sources indicated was the central charge under consideration, runs from

A federal grand jury that met secretly in Philadelphia for 18 months went out of business late last year without being asked to indict anyone, the sources say.

Civil Suit By SEC
The grand jury investigation, run by the Justice Department, was separate from an investigation by the Securities and Exchange Commission, which last week filed suit charging the railroad and certain individuals with massive fraud to conceal losses and deceive stockholders.

five years after the last overt act of conspiracy, but it is not clear when exactly the statute runs out in this case. Although the public was unaware of it, the Penn Central was in trouble almost from the day it was formed in 1968 by merger of the New York Central and the Pennsylvania railroads.

It was forced to file for reorganization after failing to obtain $200 million in emergency federal loan guarantees. The Nixon administration, which initially had been prepared to approve a bailout, backed off at the last moment when Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., of the House Banking and Currency Committee, objected.

cal party positions, such as precinct chairman. The estimated Raza Unida turnout of not more than 10,000 in the 29 counties it held primaries was minuscule in comparison to Saturday's Democratic balloting by 1.3 million persons.

Inside party headquarters late Saturday night, metal ballot boxes were stacked high. Workers were tabulating results of the minority party's first state primary in history.

The only two contested races were in Zavala County southwest of here where the Mexican-American party was founded in 1970. The party founder, Jose Angel Gutierrez, overwhelmed an opponent for the county judge's nomination and will meet a challenger from the traditional Democratic establishment in November.

Expansively, Jose Montalve proclaimed himself "the November candidate" since he won the party's nomination for state representative. Like the party's 17 other legislative candidates scattered across the state, Montalve had no primary opponent.

The Raza Unida's gubernatorial candidate, attorney Ramsey Muniz of Corpus Christi, was unopposed in the primary. "In many areas of the Chicano community, we weren't considered a major party because we didn't have primaries," says Marie Compean, 33, the state party chairman. "To be a major party we had to go the whole route."

In fact, the party had only two contested races for constitutional office, although there were numerous contests for lo-

These bright ideas will help you light your home more efficiently.

It makes sense to use adequate lighting for reading, working or for security, and it makes sense to do it efficiently.

Locate table lamps so they provide the most light and fewest shadows.

When buying light bulbs, choose the right bulb for the job. Remember that the lumen rating tells you the light output of bulbs. Watts tell you how much electricity is needed to produce that light. And bulb life is the estimated number of hours the bulb can be expected to burn.

Where bulbs are difficult to change, choose a "long life" bulb which may have less lumens for its wattage, but will last longer.

Decorative lights call for less lumens and lower wattage. A photo electric cell or timer will regulate the use of security lighting.

And it's always a good idea to turn lights off when they are not needed.

ADVERTISMENT

WHAT IS THE TRUTH?

"Thy Word is Truth" (John 17:17)

by Bryan Bost

Most people value life above every other possession. They realize that other possessions are meaningless without life with which to enjoy them. Jesus appears to endorse this evaluation. He said, "I came that they may have life and have it abundantly." He stressed life's value again when he asked, "What shall a man be profited, if he gain the whole world, and forfeit his life? Or what shall a man give in exchange for his life?"

Why is life so precious? What is the secret of its abundance and excellence? The answer lies in the life-giver, our God. He created us in his image and after his likeness. Our lives are precious because we are patterned after God.

Though physical life is wonderful and full of joy, it is not complete in itself. To live as God wants us to we must have a right relationship with him. Spiritual life becomes even more important than physical life. While we protect our physical health in many ways, our ultimate concern should be with our spiritual health, the condition of our souls.

POLLY'S POINTERS Carpet Squares Prove Stubborn

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprises Association

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — Four years ago I applied those adhesive-backed carpet squares to a hardwood floor. I do not know the brand but they were inexpensive. We rent this house so they must be removed before we leave it. I cannot seem to do this without leaving a lot of foam rubber sticking to the floor. Is there any way to remove these squares easily? I am spending at least 15 minutes scraping off the rubber left by one square. There must be an easier way. If so, I would certainly appreciate hearing about it. —THELMA.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Poeve is with the eyelets in many white shoes. It seems they could be made of plastic or stainless steel so the laces would not get so soiled. —LOUISE.

DEAR POLLY — I have help for Mary Ellen who has candle wax drippings on her slate-topped table. Such wax has dripped on many things in my home. To remove this I would put a piece of desk blotter on top of the table and iron over it. As the blotter absorbs the wax use a fresh piece and continue until there is no more. —MRS. K.

DEAR MARY ELLEN — Before proceeding with Mrs. K's Pointer I would remove any blobs of wax with a dull knife. If the candle wax leaves a stain, alcohol usually will remove it — one cup denatured alcohol to two cups water. TEST underneath side of the slate first. —POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — I have received so much help from the column that I would like to Guests were Mrs. Lewis Carlile, Mrs. Troy Pierce and Mrs. Ray Kelly.

May 31 is picnic day for the club and will be held at the cabin of Mrs. Carlile at Colorado City Lake, it was announced.

Dear Abby

Squaring A Circle Is Not Easy Task

—By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: This is to inform your correspondent, Barbara G. in Wilkes Barre, Pa., that she is not losing her mind — she did read that it is possible to square a circle.

The mathematician who worked it out was Edward V. Graef, and a technical paper explaining the method was authored by him and V. C. Harris of San Diego State College.

If one changes the rules slightly, he can trisect angles and square circles. Using the kind of curve they do, they are able to solve three ancient problems—(1) trisecting the angle, (2) squaring the circle, and (3) duplicating the cube — with just one method.

I hope this helps your correspondent. I enclose a copy of the article, which was published five years ago in the Pittsburgh Press.

HENRY G. GOULD PROF. OF MATHEMATICS W. VA. U. MORGANTOWN, W. VA.

DEAR PROFESSOR: Barbara will bless you tonight in her prayers. Now, if anyone out there has a mathematical problem, those with license numbers ending in an ODD number please write to Professor Gould on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. And those with EVEN numbers write on the remaining days. Thanks, Henry, I needed you.

DEAR ABBY: Knowing that our cross isn't the heaviest is small consolation. There are many of us, but those who aren't in our positions rarely give us a second thought. We are single fathers caring for small children.

The cost of day-care and maintenance of the households we have put together in better days causes us to lead semi-cloistered lives. If we should meet some attractive lady we can't ask to take her out to dinner and a movie because the budget doesn't allow for that plus a sitter to stay with the youngsters. An invitation to spend an evening at my home is given awkwardly, and is sure to be misunderstood. Nobody is going to call me, and nobody is going to visit me, so after the kiddies are in bed, I sit here wishing away the best years of my life.

Can you put in a good word for us, Abby? I have a nice little home, two pretty little kids, over 200 bottles of homemade wine in the basement, and time on my hands.

DEAR BILL: Haven't you ever heard of Parents Without Partners? They are looking for men like you, so start looking for them!

DEAR ABBY: The U.S. Post Office is the most used, yet the least understood service in this country. A reader wrote, "Here's how I succeeded in getting my name off junk mailing list: I simply cross off my name and address, and write 'REFUSED—RETURN TO SENDER' on the envelope, then I drop it in the mailbox. It costs the company money to receive this mail, so they quickly drop my name from their list."

Abby, for heaven's sake, NO bulk mail returned to the sender unless it bears specific instructions, "RETURN REQUESTED," or "ADDRESS CORRECTION REQUESTED" or "RETURN POSTAGE GUARANTEED."

All bulk mail which does not bear one these instructions, is returned to the Post Office by the carrier, inspected by the supervisor, and then thrown in the trash. This extra handling makes extra work for the mail handlers, for which the public must pay!

Please print this, Abby. I've been employed at the Post Office for 17 years and know whereof I speak.

HARLEY D. WHINERY, LYNWOOD, CALIF.

DEAR HARLEY: Of course I'll print your letter. It's the least I can do for the U.S. Postal Department. They've done so much for me.

And he said to them, "Why are you afraid, O men of little faith?" Then he rose and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm. And the men marveled, saying, "What sort of man is this, that even winds and sea obey him?" — Matthew 8:26, 27.

Royalty Owners March(?)

Some oil royalty owners are just about angry enough to march on Washington!

In fact, Ed Thompson of the Permian Basin Petroleum Association suggests that might not be a bad idea.

"They listened to truckers when they marched," he said. "They listened to labor representatives when they marched! In fact, any time a group shows up in Washington in large enough numbers, carrying signs and demanding special privileges, things start happening."

Thompson just might have something there.

He does, however, recommend that letters be tried before marching.

"Letters from thousands of royalty owners, all with families, and in a position to influence millions of votes, might be just the ticket to put a stop to the government takeover of the free enterprise system," Thompson said.

A woman royalty owner telephoned the editor a few days ago, so angry at "the whole bunch up there" that she probably would have tackled both the House and Senate if she had been in Washington at the time.

She said, however, that she had written lengthy letters to several members of Congress, expressing her thoughts in no uncertain terms, concerning the proposed "windfall" profits tax bill which already has passed the House Ways and Means Committee. She said her royalty checks are "small enough at best, but most helpful in paying the bills."

Royalty owners, who now are receiving larger royalty checks due to the increase in the price of crude oil, have discovered that the tax measure as proposed will relieve them of a good part of the price increase benefits they presently are enjoying. And this isn't right or fair!

Ed Thompson cites the case of a widow who had had small royalty interests for years, but with oil selling around $3 per barrel, royalty income wasn't sufficient to support her, and she was forced to seek employment after her husband's death. Others, he said, have had to do this, but not at age 60, and afflicted with arthritis.

Only in recent months had she been getting enough from her royalties to even think of retiring. And then came the blast from Washington.

Hundreds of thousands of royalty owners are more or less in the same boat. One of the things they can do in self defense is to bombard Congress with letters and messages, as did the Midlander mentioned previously. And if a majority of them would take such action, congressional thinking and voting yet might be altered. It's worth a try anyway!

It's A Long Way To A Score!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: Here's how John Dean fingered Nixon.

WASHINGTON — The dramatic story now can be told how President Nixon came under investigation by the original Watergate prosecutors. They laid the groundwork a year ago for the present impeachment proceedings.

The sequence began in mid-April, 1973, when ex-White House counsel John Dean gave prosecutors Earl Silbert, Seymour Glanzer and Donald Campbell fragments of the Watergate story. They sent him back to get documents and put together a coherent account.

Sources close to the investigation, however, say Dean carefully kept the President out of his confessions until the last week of April. Then Dean, as part of his plea bargaining for a deal for himself, played his big ace.

His attorney, Charles Shaffer, notified the prosecutors on April 23 that Dean "could deliver the President," our sources report. They were given an outline of the testimony that Dean later delivered, implicating President Nixon in the Watergate cover-up.

Up to that moment, the prosecutors had believed the President was not involved. They had provided Assistant Attorney General Henry Petersen, therefore, with the complete details of their investigation for relay to the President.

Because of the possibility that the President had been a party to the crimes they were investigating, the prosecutors decided they had to shut off the flow of information to the White House.

They had a showdown with Petersen over this on the night of April 25. They contended that the President was now a suspect and could no longer be told what was going on inside the grand jury.

The shocked Petersen insisted they had no business investigating the President. In any event, he said, he never could withhold information from the President of the United States.

The following day, Petersen impressed his views on U.S. Attorney Harold Titus, who stood between him and the prosecutors on the ladder of authority.

"We have to draw the line," Petersen told Titus. "We have no mandate to investigate the President."

The next link in our story is provided by the White House tapes. President Nixon got wind that Dean was implicating him in the Watergate crimes and summoned Petersen to the Oval Office the evening of April 27.

"We have gotten a report," said the President, "that, ah, that really we've got to head them off at the pass. Because it's so damned, so damn dangerous to the Presidency... Information indicating that Dean has made statements to the prosecuting team implicating the President."

Now, Henry, this I've got to know. Petersen agreed to try to find out what Dean was telling the prosecutors. But Petersen warned apologetically that he was having trouble with the prosecutors.

"We had a kind of crisis of confidence night before last," he said, "whether or not they were at ease with my reporting to you..." But the President was adamant. "If Dean is implicating the jack of diamonds South had

President Nixon's former right bower, H. R. Haldeman, kept cash stashed around the White House and in the apartments of aides. One former aide, Fred LaRue, led his lawyers to some cash that figured in the Watergate case. It was stuffed in a brown manila envelope in an open White House file drawer. The lawyers took the envelope to a nearby bank and dumped out $128,000 in loose cash.

During the 1972 campaign, Nixon aides squandered money on everything from champagne breakfasts to break-ins. But there was one exception, White House liaison man Fred Malek, who tried vainly to keep down expenses. In a secret memo complaining about a $3,500 dinner for businessmen at Washington's soignée Madison Hotel, Malek told campaign aides: "I believe it is important to have a first class event for people of (this) caliber." But really, he said acidly, "$42 per head for cocktails and dinner does seem a bit steep."

He recently told how two U.S. mining companies in South Africa abused their black employees, blaming the government for forcing racist policies upon them. In contrast, Mobil Oil boldly has given its black employees in South Africa pensions, medical and home ownership plans, higher salaries and major job upgradings. The measures were taken in consultation with U.S. religious leaders.

But the special prosecutor picked up where they left off. The record was made before the grand jury and turned over to the House for an impeachment inquiry, as they had recommended.

Oswald: "If West had taken the ace South would have finessed against East's jack later and made his contract. As it was, he entered dummy with the jack of clubs; led a second spade; rose with his queen and had to lose two trump tricks and his contract when West chased another diamond."

BRUCE BLOSSAT 'Watergate 7' Cannot Breathe Easy As Yet

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Celebrations may be premature in the White House and other quarters over the acquittal in New York of former cabinet officers John Mitchell and Maurice Stans on charges related to the Robert Vesco "influence" case.

President Nixon's spokesmen and some analysts here are suggesting that because former White House counsel John Dean, admitted perjurer, was not believed by jurors in New York, it automatically weakens the prosecution's cases against Mitchell and other Nixon officials in the forthcoming Watergate trials — and perhaps diminishes impeachment prospects for the President.

Matters are not that simple. In the Watergate affair and related undertakings, two blatant crimes were committed: the burglary in June 1972, of the Democratic party headquarters and an earlier break-in at the California office of the psychiatrist of Daniel Ellsberg, who leaked the Pentagon papers in 1971.

In the Watergate burglary, trial already has been held and seven men convicted of direct or indirect participation. Trial of others in the Ellsberg break-in begins shortly in California.

The Watergate trials center on these hard events, on what knowledge various White House officials had of them, what if anything their role in them was, what if anything they did to try to cover up the White House connection with these established crimes.

In the Vesco matter, the real core of the case was the government's allegation that investment man Vesco paid $300,000 into Mr. Nixon's 1972 campaign fund in return for efforts by the accused to impede a Securities and Exchange Commission inquiry into his financial affairs.

But, whatever Dean, SEC counsel Bradford Cook (another admitted perjurer) and others said about meetings and telephone calls involving Stans and Mitchell and the Vesco case, the fact is that the SEC case was NOT impeded, that he himself had to respond to subpoenas, that he refused to testify under invocation of the Fifth and other constitutional amendments, that he later fled the country, that he is under indictment and could not set foot on American shores free of charges.

Thus, at its heart, the government's case in New York failed. There was no "hard event." The conspiracy charges against Mitchell and Stans take on potent meaning only if something happened. But it did not. As one experienced lawyer here told me: "Juries do not like to put people in jail simply for thinking about something."

Nor do perjury charges have the same force when they are not clearly connected with an established offense. Lying may not be admirable, yet — despite the "sworn oath" process — it is less important in a courtroom than many imagine when it is not associated with a proven larger breach of the law.

This reality is not wiped out by comments from some New York jurors that they dealt first with the perjury counts against the defendants. These counts had to seem less impressive to jurors who never were given convincing evidence that the alleged lies covered a real obstruction of justice.

That some New York jurors say they didn't believe Dean may not be crucial, either. The judge had warned them his testimony as an admitted perjurer was open to question. At least two jurors suggest Dean's impact was not great.

Furthermore, his role in the coming Watergate trials will not be the same. The Watergate prosecutors will be offering corroborative documentary evidence wherever they can.

The Country Parson
By Frank A. Clark

"Most of us are not half as good as we could be — and some are not half as bad."
"Don't do anything violent or I'll sue you!"

Dear Editor:
I see where Mr. Nixon delivered his bundle of transcripts to the House Impeachment Committee on National Humiliation, Fasting and Prayer Day.

Which timing probably won't help him any. The Congress has previously resolved this Day for other folks, not itself, since there is no report of any MC spending this day humbly, hungry and seeking guidance.

And the President likely blew his hope for salvation from the wrath of the tv cherubim by not getting on his knees to the Media instead of God on Prayer Day.

DON OAKLEY Liberated Sisters Are Just As Guilty As Men

NEW YORK (NEA) — When Sally Forth, today's liberated Ms., ventures out to make her way in the jungle of the male-dominated business or career world, it's forgotten that some one has to come into the home to clean the house, watch the kids, do the laundry, or maybe cook.

The fact is that today's liberated woman often depends upon another group of women — the domestic or private household employees — to free her of the housewife's chores.

The fact also is, points out Dr. Doris McLaughlin, assistant research scientist with the University of Michigan and Wayne State University, these private household employees are among the lowest paid and least protected workers in the labor force.

"More often than not," she says, "professional women deny their household employees benefits they themselves expect — indeed, take for granted — in their own work."

Although household workers now are covered by the new statutory minimum wage of $2 an hour, less than one-third of them work full time; many work for a different employer every day; they have no paid sick time or holidays; they are unemployed when their employer leaves town for any reason, and although legally entitled to them, often are eliminated from social security benefits.

The end result, says Dr. McLaughlin, is that the movement of one group of women up the economic ladder entails the economic exploitation of another group of women.

In fairness to the career women, she suggests that their lack of concern for their sisters is because their freedom is such a new development that they haven't gotten used to thinking of themselves as employers — a role that until quite recently was usually reserved for males.

Until they do, says Dr. McLaughlin, "they may not even realize that in treating their household help in such a cavalier manner they are depriving other women of the same benefits that they are fighting so hard to obtain for themselves."

THE SCIENCE OF hography may make a thing of the past, such episodes as the hammer by an apparently deranged man on Michelangelo's Pieta, or the more recent attempt by a woman in Tokyo to spray paint on the Mona

31 New Tv Series Set Next Fall

By JAY SHARBUTT
NEW YORK (AP) — A total of 31 new series will be on the networks next fall. That's the highest number in recent history, but don't get the idea it's suddenly become easy to get a new series on tv.

It's still the same old story: Many are culled but few are chosen.

That's the dismaying — for writers — word from Larry White, the man in charge of programming for the NBC Television network.

He estimates he gets between 500 and 600 proposals for new series each year "and I think you'll find the figures are approximately the same at every network."

Out of this proposal pile, White says, NBC culls about 120 prospects that the network considers interesting enough to warrant a financial investment.

The majority of these, he says, only get as far as the outline or script stage. About 35 actually are filmed as "pilot" shows for new series, but the attrition doesn't stop there.

At NBC, just 12 weekly prospects got the green light for the 1974-75 season. It's a higher-than-usual number, but still represents only 10 per cent of all the shows NBC had under serious consideration.

From where do new series proposals come?

"You get the bulk of them from the professionals in the business, but you also get some from out of the woodwork, so to speak," White said, referring to ideas submitted by amateur writers.

White, who couldn't recall a case in which a network made a series submitted by an amateur writer, was asked what factors determine whether a new series gets on the air.

He said network executives look for such things as: "Are the characters the kinds of characters who will have a lot of available stories? Is the concept the kind that will have staying power with varying stories?"

Nancy Reagan Still Doesn't Want To Be First Lady

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Nancy Reagan says she still doesn't think it would be "a dandy thing" for her husband, Ronald, to become president of the United States.

But, Mrs. Reagan also says she wants the Republican California governor to do whatever he wishes.

In 1968, Mrs. Reagan was asked if she wanted her husband to be president. Her answer: "I don't think any woman would want the awesome, tremendous responsibilities of the presidency for the man she loves."

The same question last September brought a similar response.

"On Sunday, she said: 'Nothing has happened lately to make me think that's the dandy thing to do but, of course, I want him to do what he wants, to do what he feels he should do. I hope I've learned something in the last 7½ years, and that's that you can't make long-range plans. I don't have to think about him running for president right now, so I'm not going to.'"

"Are the characters the kind we believe audiences will like and identify with? These are all judgments we have to make."

"In addition, there's a lot of testing that goes on. We test the shows with audiences in theaters, on cable television and, on several occasions, we play the pilots on the air prior to decision time."

How significant are the ratings of a televised pilot show? "They're an important but not overwhelming factor in the decision-making process, he said, adding that "the most significant part of the rating is what happens while the show is on. Does the rating hold up, does it grow or does it deteriorate?"

He said a major, but pleasant, problem he had in choosing next season's wares was an overabundance of good new programs.

Because of the wealth, he said, he had to cancel several current shows which, while marginal performers in the ratings race, probably would have returned next season.

Skies Turn Fair Following Rains

By The Associated Press
It was a rainy night in Georgia and almost everywhere else in the nation.

But early today fair skies were the general rule.

An inch of rain drenched Savannah, Ga., Sunday night and several thundershowers hit normally sunny Southern California.

Sporadic rain fell from the Atlantic and Gulf states to the Washington coast, turning to snow in northern Michigan. Freezing temperatures were recorded before dawn in Michigan, Wisconsin and northern Minnesota.

Temperatures ranged from 29 at Duluth, Minn., to 77 at Key West, Fla.

Venezuela Prevents Tom Jones' Leaving

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — British singer Tom Jones was prevented from leaving Venezuela when he tried to board a plane for the United States.

A local newsman, Manuel Olalquiaga of the "El Universal," got a court order against Jones for injuries allegedly inflicted by Jones' bodyguard.

Olalquiaga said David Perry struck him on the head last Wednesday. Perry reportedly left Venezuela the next day.

Jones reportedly was being delayed pending a court appearance today. A spokesman at Jones' London office said he received a call from him after he was stopped from leaving Sunday and he was "totally bewildered."

Jones cabled Prime Minister Harold Wilson for aid. A spokesman said Wilson would be shown the cable after he returned from a trip.

A spokesman for Jones said the delay would cost him "tens of thousands of dollars because we will miss recording sessions scheduled for tonight in Alabama."

Valerie Harper Starts Work Soon On Her Own Series

By WILLIAM GLOVER
NEW YORK (AP) — Valerie Harper is temporarily changing from Rhoda Morgenstern, tv's all-American Jewish bachelorette, to Sally Kramer, Jewish stage wife in domestic crisis.

The casting might suggest that the actress is succumbing to an ethnic role rut. Nonsense, comes the swift reply.

"They're not at all alike — Rhoda is from the Bronx, Sally from the lower East Side. And when I'm away from Rhoda, I don't do anything like Rhoda. My talk has a flavor of New York, but certainly not the Bronx."

Having settled that to her already own satisfaction, the lady of dark tresses and green eyes recalls a public life that began with an appearance as a snowflake at age 5 in an interschool pageant and crested through four seasons as the breezy chum on Mary Tyler Moore's network serial.

Miss Harper vanished in early March from that show. She will resurface in mid-September in her own CBS situation-comedy, naturally entitled "Rhoda."

During the interim, she's on Broadway as Sally Kramer in "Thieves," a marital caprice by Herb Gardner, best remembered for "A Thousand Clowns."

"My manager set this up for a change of pace during the hiatus," Miss Harper explains. "Now I love the play so much I around the house." Valerie recalls from the period of recurrent family travel. She was born in Suffern, N.Y., a suburb of the metropolis. Her father, Howard Harper, was a sales supervisor for an electrical supply firm.

The family was Catholic and lot about my image," Miss Harper scored a string of stage credits.

"I don't expect any problems in terms of being heard," is her answer to the difference between performing in a miked studio and projecting in a large auditorium.

After the usual apprentice tribulations of work as a telephone canvasser and hat-check girl, she progressed on the now-dimmed Great White Way from three musicals, "Take Me Along," "Wildcat" and "Subways Are for Sleeping" into the improvisations of "Story Theater" and the dramatic rigors of "Something Different."

The Harper dream was originally of ballerina fame.

"I always used to dance around the house," Valerie recalls from the period of recurrent family travel. She was born in Suffern, N.Y., a suburb of the metropolis. Her father, Howard Harper, was a sales supervisor for an electrical supply firm.

The family was Catholic and part of this business. Steady work has got to do something to the psyche. I find myself growing in self-esteem and strength."

Her husband of nine years, actor-writer Dick Schaal, "says I'm happier, freer, calmer now than I've ever been in our life together. I thought it was advancing years at first, but it's being able to act."

Miss Harper doesn't claim to have yet attained the ninth circle of temperamental Nirvana, however — "The game is far from over." Questions about age stir instant edginess, and she's highly protective about the feminist cause.

"I'm not an activist — I'm sitting with you, aren't I?" she replies when women's lib comes up in the conversation. Asked about year of birth, she fends with: "You wouldn't ask me that if I was a man." Told that would probably be unnecessary because the date would already be on public record, she says: "I don't believe that." An educated guess, based on cross-reference fragments, puts her at about 36.

As for emancipation: "Sisterhood is getting more powerful. I hope brotherhood is, too. We should all get back to humanhood, that's the most important. No, no, that's not philosophy. You asked, I answered, that's all. If you want shorter answers, ask shorter questions."

A vast, undefined range of things bothers her, summed up with, "I don't like to be bored." She doesn't mind that "there are millions out there who never watch television. I never did until I was on it."

Getting back to Rhoda, Miss Harper feels that the role generated such wide audience responsiveness because "there are a lot of people, men, too, that live single and are happy. It's not like, 'I'm not married and I must die, my life is over.' That's the big message and you're not banged over the head with it."

As for any message of her own to fans, "I can't give anyone advice, they can write to Dear Abby. I know what works for me, and that is to get to like yourself."

Gallup Poll Shows Nixon Image Lower After Tv Address

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Forty-two per cent of the people who viewed or read about President Nixon's television address last week on the Watergate transcripts now have a "less favorable" opinion of him, according to the Gallup Poll.

A special telephone poll of 694 adults also showed that 17 per cent were left with a more favorable opinion. Thirty-five per cent said their opinion had remained the same, but there was no way of determining how this group felt about the President. Six per cent offered no opinion.

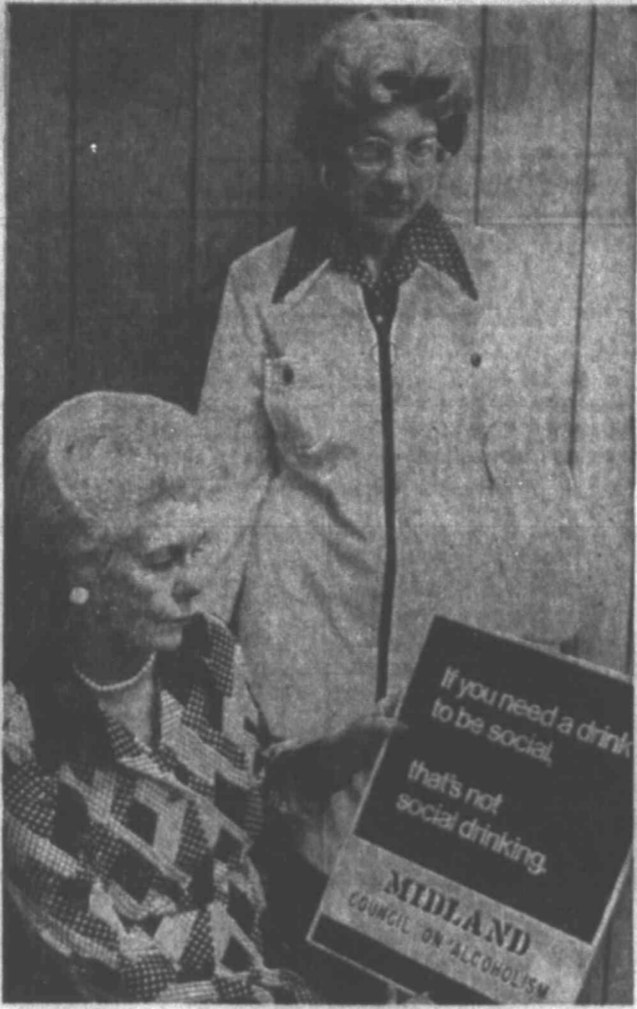

The poll also showed that, by a 44-to-41 per cent margin, Americans believe there is enough evidence against the President to bring him to trial before the Senate.

However, by a 49-to-38 margin, the national sample said it didn't believe the President's actions at this time warranted his being removed from office. The special poll was taken to measure public response to the President's defense of his refusal to surrender 42 tape recordings of White House conversations to the House Judiciary Committee. Instead, Nixon provided edited transcripts.

By a ratio of more than 2-to-1, Americans said the Judiciary Committee was right in its decision to reject the transcripts as a substitute for the tapes. On this question, 62 per cent agreed with the committee, 24 per cent disagreed, while 14 per cent had no opinion.

In answers to "Whose statements about Watergate are you more inclined to believe, John Dean's or President Nixon's?" Nixon edged Dean 38 to 36 per cent, with 26 per cent having no opinion.

A second Gallup study showed that Republican party affiliation is at an all-time low — 24 per cent — with 42 per cent describing themselves as Democrats and 34 per cent as independents.

A TIMELY MESSAGE—Mrs. Wanna Bickerstaff, seated, and Mrs. Lynne Stoner display a poster of special significance during Midland's observance of Alcoholism Week, which is being sponsored by the Midland Council on Alcoholism. Mrs. Bickerstaff is president of the local council and Mrs. Stoner is executive secretary. The council is a referral and educational agency funded by the United Way.

Lawyer Says Transcripts Show Nixon Didn't Okay Hush Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's chief lawyer says the President's defense against impeachment depends on whether Nixon himself was involved in hush money payments to Watergate defendants.

James D. St. Clair, White House special counsel, said Sunday the presidential tape transcripts released last week prove Nixon neither authorized nor knew of the payments and thus is innocent of any "criminal plot to obstruct justice."

St. Clair also said he considers it unrealistic to think that a constitutional dispute between Congress and the President over what amounts to an impeachable offense could be resolved in court.

In another televised interview, White House chief of staff Alexander M. Haig Jr. said he hopes the leading members of the House Judiciary Committee will personally listen to the White House tapes and verify the transcripts.

Nixon said in releasing the material that Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., and Rep. Edward Hutchinson of Michigan, the senior committee Republican, could hear the actual tapes at the White House. They have not yet accepted the offer.

Haig said anyone who reads the transcripts "knows without a shadow of a doubt that there has not been much tampering with the contents of them. They speak for themselves."

Haig declined to reply directly to questions about whether the White House would turn over evidence sought on issues other than Watergate, such as the milk fund, the ITT case and a $100,000 would-be campaign contribution by Howard Hughes.

But he added that these "are legitimate questions and for people involved to do any less than their best, they would, of course, be remiss."

Not Partisan Sign

Meanwhile, two members of the House panel warned against interpreting the committee's party-line vote on the transcripts as a sign of a partisan split on the impeachment issue.

After receiving edited transcripts from the White House instead of the actual tape recordings, the committee voted 20 to 18 last week to inform Nixon he had not complied fully with its subpoena.

"Few if any really thought he was in full compliance," said Rep. Paul S. Sarbanes, D-Md. "The difference in opinion was in the proper response."

Rep. Thomas Railsback, R-Ill., said the vote reflected procedural differences which do not affect the committee's ultimate goal of reaching the truth in its impeachment probe.

Interviewed on NBC's "Meet the Press" program, St. Clair said "the President has been charged with essentially a criminal plot to obstruct justice. This is by paying people hush money to keep quiet."

Haig appeared on ABC's "Issues and Answers" while Sarbanes and Railsback were interviewed on "Face the Nation" broadcast by the CBS television and radio networks.

In related developments: —The White House said it has found "a number of important contradictions" between Dean's sworn testimony about six talks he had with the President and the transcripts of those conversations.

—Former Watergate special prosecutor Archibald Cox said that judging by the White House transcript of Nixon's March 21, 1973, meeting with Dean, "I think it could be inferred that there was an intent to obstruct justice on that date."

—An assistant to Mark Weiss, one of six experts chosen to probe the 18½-minute gap in a Watergate tape, said the final draft of the panel's report still concludes that the lapse was caused by numerous erasures and re-recordings.

—Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., said Nixon's releasing of the edited transcripts was an "obvious plea to the public" that would fail. He said the President is not fully complying with the House Judiciary Committee's subpoena and said that, in itself, could prejudice his case if he is tried by the Senate.

Firm Draws $5,000 Fine For Illegal Nixon Gift

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Pennsylvania corporation, Lehigh Valley Cooperative Farmers, pleaded guilty today to making an illegal $50,000 contribution to President Nixon's 1972 campaign.

The cooperative was fined $5,000 by U.S. District Judge George L. Hart Jr.

The fine was the maximum possible.

Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski charged that the contribution was made between April 19 and April 27, 1972, "in connection with the aforesaid general election and with primary elections, political conventions and caucuses held to select candidates for the offices ... in violation of the United States code."

Lehigh Valley is a dairy cooperative but not one of the three giant cooperatives frequently mentioned in connection with the milk fund contributions and a raise in the dairy support price of 1971.

Only the corporation, but no individual officer, was charged by the prosecutor.

The guilty plea was answered by James Rosenberg, an attorney for the firm.

Tape Decks Stolen From Parked Autos

Two tape decks Sunday were stolen from cars parked at the Kelview Heights Baptist Church.

Both thefts occurred between 4:30 and 8:30 p.m.

John Castleberry of 4307 Sentinel Drive told officers his car was unlocked. The tape deck was ripped from under the car's dashboard. He estimates the loss at $85.

Debra Cook of 803 W. Spruce St. said she did not remember whether or not she had locked her car. She estimated the value of her tape deck at $185.

Primaries Show Conservative Democrats Favorites In Texas

By ROD DAVIS
Associated Press Writer

This year's lopsided primary elections have shown that it's a good year to be a conservative Democrat in Texas, perhaps far better than anyone had dreamed.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe convincingly squashed his liberal opponent, Frances "Sissy" Farenthold, Saturday, picking up about 70 per cent of a light turnout vote in which about 1.5 million ballots were cast. There are 5.3 million registered voters in Texas.

In addition, Briscoe's backers, acknowledged as the party's conservatives, gained clear control of state party machinery by a dominant showing at election-day precinct conventions.

Briscoe Dominates

Liberal Democrats, such as Billie Carr of Houston, warned before the election Briscoe that forces would sew up the conventions. And they did just that, smoothing the way for a Briscoe-dominated state convention in September. The governor would like that, since it would spare the party infighting of 1972.

It was also a very good year for incumbents. All were renominated in statewide or congressional races.

In two important congressional battles, Democrats Bob Kreuger and State Sen. Nelson Wolff apparently face a runoff for the West Central Texas Dist. 21 seat vacated by retiring Rep. O. C. Fisher. And in Dallas, former state senator Mike McKool defeated former Dallas County Democratic chairman Earl Luna and newcomer John Sartain.

One of Briscoe's main campaign themes was party unity. That, a "no new taxes" pledge, solid organization, and lots of money, mostly his own, helped spell victory.

Mrs. Farenthold, a 47-year-old Houston lawyer who forced Briscoe into a runoff in 1972—but lost—seemingly never had a real chance. After indecision, she entered the campaign late, saying someone needed to challenge Briscoe.

Plagued by lack of money, a haphazard organization, and perhaps a sense of fatalism, her campaign was dull as Gulf coast mud compared to the 1972 runoff struggle, when the split was 55-45 for Briscoe, and not 70-25. She even lost in Houston, El Paso and Galveston, which she carried in the previous contest.

'Merely Delayed'

But she was not disheartened. "I believe that our governor has learned more about the needs of Texans through this campaign," she told liberal supporters who may have felt like more lemmings heading for a cliff than serious political contenders.

"Some of you may feel that we have been defeated. We have not. We have merely been delayed."

Briscoe, the wealthy rancher-banker, viewed the results as "a solemn pledge ... to continue the task of restoring public confidence in our state government."

Texans again showed they don't want pari-mutuel betting, soundly defeating a referendum issue in both GOP and Democratic primaries.

The Republican battles were quiet. Former Lubbock Mayor Jim Granberry outpolled Odell McBrayer 3-1 for the gubernatorial nomination. About 60,000 Republicans voted.

Briscoe, Granberry, and Ramsey Muniz of the fledgling La Raza Unida party will vie for the state's top job in November. Briscoe has the decided edge.

Statewide Democratic battles saw Jesse James renominated as treasurer, John White as agriculture commissioner, and Mack Wallace as a railroad commissioner. Bob Bullock won a fight to replace Robert Calvert as comptroller.

Only 18 Contests

Texas has 24 congressional districts, and there will be November contests in only 18. The other six are unopposed in the general elections. Among incumbents renominated in primary races were Reps. Jake Pickle of Austin, Wright Patman of Texarkana, and Bob Poage of Waco.

The latest results Sunday from the Texas Election Bureau:

Gibson's Guile Beats Astros

HOUSTON (AP) — Veteran pitcher Bob Gibson doesn't throw as hard as he used to but apparently it is not necessary when he faces the Houston Astros.

Gibson, 38, limited the Astros to five hits in eight innings Sunday as the St. Louis Cardinals stopped Houston, 3-1.

It snapped a five game Houston winning streak and it boosted Gibson's lifetime record against the Astros to 29-13. That's the best record any pitcher in the National League has against Houston.

Reggie Smith contributed a two-run homer for the Cardinals—his sixth of the season.

Gibson didn't pitch the ninth. His bad knee which he had surgery on during the off-season, began acting up and Mike Garman finished up without allowing a base runner.

However, Astros manager Preston Gomez was impressed with Gibson.

"He doesn't throw as hard anymore but he's still a helluva pitcher," Gomez said. "He got tired; that's all. You could see he was running out of gas."

Gomez also was impressed with Larry Dierker, his starting pitcher, who gave up seven hits and three Cardinal runs.

"Dierker pitched good enough to win, too," Gomez said. "It's just we're not getting him any runs. We haven't got him."

Midland's Cubs return to Cubs Stadium tonight for what has turned out to be a battle for first place with the San Antonio Brewers in a brief three-game stand.

The Cubs made it three in a row over the Diablos in El Paso Sunday with an awesome 16-hit attack for a 19-10 win, thoroughly shattering the alleged-jinx the California Angel farmhands held over Midland in the first four meetings.

Going into tonight's action at 7:45, Midland, San Antonio and El Paso are tied for first at 9-8 in the hectic West Division Texas League race.

Manager Walt Dixon probably will start either Budd Schultz, 1-2, or Mike Weiss, 1-2, for the Cubs.

Bill Huisman, Jerry Tabb and Ken Szotkiewicz led Midland's 16-hit offense Sunday while Bob Ott picked up the win with 7 1-3 strong innings in relief.

Huisman hit his second and third homers and a triple while Tabb knocked in four runs and hit his seventh homer.

Socko had five hits in seven trips which raised his average to .342. In the last three games, the veteran shortstop from Georgia Southern U., has cracked out 12 hits. Only a week ago, the Statesville, Ga., native, was hitting .205 in the series at Amarillo and El Paso. Ken hit the ball at a .630 clip.

El Paso took a 5-0 lead off rookie Geisel, but it didn't take the Cubs long to retaliate.

Sid Monge walked first three batters to open the second, and Joel Green hit a bases loaded double to bring in two runs. Then a walk to Huisman, before Ken Szotkiewicz blooped and "excuse me" single to left for two more runs.

Two walks finished Monge in the third, as Midland scored twice to go ahead 6-5.

In the fifth, Midland scored eight as Ken Pape opened it with a double. Green reached on an error to set up Greg Collins' two-run double.

Huisman's homer to left greeted Jack Donovan and Socko, of course, singled.

Twins Drop Their Sox

The Minnesota Twins finally did something long overdue on the matter of stockings and the only surprise is that teams haven't done it before. The Twins are wearing white stockings this year. Officials saw their players stretching the stirrups of blue over-sox so high on their legs that only a touch of blue was visible, so they eliminated them completely. At any rate, it's catchy enough.

'Bunts' For Homer

Third Baseman Charged So...Pow!

BOSTON (AP) — What a difference a day made in the life of rookie shortstop Rick Burleson of the Boston Red Sox. He went from a goat to a hero.

Burleson, who played in his first major league game Saturday and committed three errors to tie an American League record, smacked a three-run homer to give Boston a 10-8 victory over the Texas Rangers Sunday in the nightcap of a doubleheader at Fenway Park.

Texas won the first game 3-3. Burleson's bit of heroics came in the bottom of the seventh with two Red Sox runners on and no outs. He had squared around to bunt and the Texas infield began to move toward the plate.

"The manager (Darrell Johnson) told me if I saw the third baseman charging to try to chop a grounder," Burleson said.

"Well, it was a fast ball up..."

The pitch thrown by reliever Lloyd Allen of Texas ended up in the net above the high left-field wall.

"I didn't figure he was going to hit it that far," Johnson said.

"He really hit it too hard. He said he just put the bat out there and hit it—too far."

The homer, Burleson's second major league hit since coming from the Red Sox' farm team at Pawtucket, R.I., offset a two-run homer by Dave Nelson of Texas in the eighth.

Veteran Juan Marichal got the victory for Boston, his first American League victory since coming from the San Francisco Giants of the National League.

The high-kicking right hander gave up eight hits and walked one in 6 2-3 innings before giving way to Reggie Cleveland who finished the game.

"I had more control but less stuff than in Kansas City," Marichal said. "But in the seventh I tightened up."

Light-hitting Toby Harrah started off the seventh with a homer. Two singles and a walk later, Marichal headed for the showers with the bases loaded.

CHALK'S HOMER PACES ANGELS—Killebrew Slugs Two For Twins

By HOWARD SMITH AP Sports Writer

Minnesota's Harmon Killebrew, at 37, is not the feared slugger he once was, but he still has his moments.

He had two of them Sunday, unloading career home runs 549 and 550, as the Twins blasted the Detroit Tigers 8-3.

"I don't remember the last time I hit two in one game," said the soft-spoken Killebrew. "I was just looking for the ball."

Killebrew put the Twins on top with a two-run shot off Detroit lefty Woody Fryman in the first inning and followed that with a 434-foot solo blast in the fifth.

The veteran, who began his career with the old Washington Senators in 1954, stands fifth on the all-time home run list—seven behind California's Frank Robinson.

Larry Hisle and Bobby Darwin also hit homers for the Twins, all at the expense of Fryman, now 0-3.

Vic Albury was the winner for Minnesota with relief help from Bill Campbell. Gary Sutherland hit a two-run homer and Gerry Moses a solo shot for Detroit.

Royals 3, Yankees 2

Vada Pinson cracked a 2-2 tie with a two-run homer in the seventh and the Royals racked New York newcomer Dick Woodson for four runs in the eighth, three of them on a double by Fran Healy.

White Sox 4, Brewers 3

Bucky Dent's first major league home run, a two-run shot in the eighth, gave Chicago the victory.

Angels 5, Orioles 7

Rookie Dave Chalk's ninth-inning homer gave California its margin of victory, extending the Angels' winning streak to six games and Baltimore's losing streak to five.

Athletics 3-3, Indians 8-9

Catfish Hunter hurled a five-hitter and Sal Bando belted a two-run homer for the A's in the first game.

In the second game, Charlie Spikes and Oscar Lambie drove in seven runs between them for Cleveland.

An eight year old that doesn't cost its age.

Miss Spuzich All Shook Up

By ED SHEARER

ATLANTA (AP) — "I still don't know what I'm doing sitting here," said Sandra Spuzich. "I still can't believe it."

Miss Spuzich, a 13-year-veteran from Indianapolis, had just won her first Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament in five years, and she did it the hard way.

She made a couple of miracle shots on the 18th green to earn a spot in a three-way sudden-death playoff, and won it on the fifth extra hole as darkness set in and threatened to delay further action until today.

Her six-foot putt for a par earned her the $5,000 first prize in the $35,000 Lady Tara tournament over the difficult Indian Hills Country Club course, a hilly layout with tight fairways that became even tighter on the final playoff hole when the two contenders at that point couldn't follow the flight of the ball off the tee.

Donna Caponi Young, who blew a four-shot lead with three holes to play, had her par putt of eight feet rim the cup on the fifth playoff hole, leaving her with a $3,300 share of the purse along with all-time LPGA money king Kathy Whitworth, who bowed out of the playoff with a bogey 4 on the third extra hole.

The trio had completed 54 holes deadlocked at even par 219, forcing the playoff in rain-chilled weather.

Betsy Cullen was alone in third place at 222 after a closing 72, then came JoAnn Prentice (75) and Ecco Nakamura (72) at 223.

ALL OUT EFFORT — Dave Schneck, former Texas League outfielder at Memphis who is remembered with mixed emotions in Midland, makes a rolling catch for the New York Mets in doubleheader split with San Diego Padres at Shea Stadium Sunday. Milwaukee Defense Foils Celts, 97-89

BOSTON (AP) — The Milwaukee Bucks, noted for their mighty offense, talked of defense and the defensive-minded Boston Celtics spoke of offense as the two teams headed for Milwaukee and the fifth game of their showdown for the National Basketball Association championship.

"Our defense was a lot better, but I expected it to be as we went along," Milwaukee Coach Larry Costello said Sunday after the Bucks evened the best-of-seven series 2-2 with a 97-89 victory.

"We broke down offensively," Boston captain John Havlicek said. "We didn't have real good rhythm. Maybe we were cutting the wrong way. They played real good defense, but we were standing around and being hesitant."

Costello, looking ahead to Tuesday night's game, turned to an old cliché in saying: "Now it's a three-game series."

The victory regained the home court advantage for the Bucks, but neither Havlicek nor Milwaukee veteran Oscar Robertson placed much emphasis on that.

Costello pulled a surprise in the fourth game in a move designed to break through Boston's full-court press. He started 6-foot-7 Mickey Davis, normally a forward, in the backcourt with Robertson.

"The change helped us a lot," Costello said. "We had a taller team and we also had more player power. We figured that at the very least it would create problems for them. Then, of course, we had Jon McGlocklin back. Now we're able to rest people. McGlocklin is still hurting, but he's able to play."

Davis played 28 minutes and contributed 15 points, eight in the first period. McGlocklin, playing with his injured leg heavily taped, saw 22 minutes of action, scoring 10 points.

As usual, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar led the Bucks with 34 points. Bob Dandridge hit for 21 and Robertson 10. Havlicek and Dave Cowens topped Boston with 33 and 24, respectively.

The Bucks jumped to a 14-6 lead, but the Celtics came back and the advantage ebb and flowed. Then, with defensive ace Don Chaney on the bench with three fouls, the Bucks out-scored Boston 15-2 in a second quarter burst for a 49-39 halftime lead.

Texas Leaguers In The Majors

Former Midland Cub Chris Ward, who had successive pinch-hit singles last week, hit a double and single for Chicago in a 5-3 loss to Cincinnati Sunday. . . Dave Chalk (San Antonio and Shreveport) hit his second homer as California beat Baltimore, 4-7. . . Steve Ontiveros, (former Amarillo Giant and the minor leagues' outstanding player at Phoenix last year) had two singles and a double in San Francisco's sweep of Montreal. . . Bake McBride (Arkansas) doubled for St. Louis to set up a run in a 3-1 victory over Houston. . . Charlie Moore, who hit three homers in one game at Cubs Stadium for Shreveport last year, had two hits in four trips for Milwaukee in a 4-3 loss to Chicago. . .

SHADES OF 'WHO'S ON FIRST?' 'Twose' On Second

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON AP Sports Writer

Abbott and Costello never figured out who's on first and the Los Angeles Dodgers went their one better Sunday — they couldn't figure out who was supposed to be on second.

Second baseman Dave Lopes and shortstop Bill Russell were both on second at the same time . . . but as fielders, not baserunners. And it so rattled pitcher Tommy John that he made a wide throw, setting the stage for a two-run Philadelphia rally in the ninth inning that lifted the Phillies to a 3-2 triumph over Los Angeles.

The victory enabled the Phillies to sweep the three-game series after they had dropped seven in a row to the Dodgers dating back to last season.

Reds 5, Cubs 2

Home runs by Joe Morgan and Johnny Bench sparked Cincinnati. Bench also delivered a run-scoring single, as did Tony Perez.

Giants 4-8, Expos 0-1

Mike Caldwell tossed a six-hitter for the Giants in the first game while Tom Bradley pitched a four-hitter in the nightcap and San Francisco took advantage of four Montreal errors for seven unearned runs.

Braves 3, Pirates 2

Ron Reed and Tom House teamed on a six-hitter and Dave Johnson belted a two-run homer for Atlanta. The Braves scored all their runs in the third on Hank Aaron's double, Johnson's homer, a walk to Ivan Murrell, a single by Reed and Ralph Garr's single.

Padres 5-4, Mets 4-4

John Milner's two-run homer in the 10th inning, his third home run in as many games, lifted the Mets to a 6-4 victory in the nightcap. The Mets, who blew a 3-0 lead in the eighth inning, tied it in the ninth on Ken Boswell's pinch RBI single.

In the opener, San Diego's Clarence Gaston doubled home the tying run in the ninth inning against New York reliever ace Tug McGraw and then scored the winner on a two-out single by Derrel Thomas.

Cougs, Panthers Clash

ABILENE — The Abilene Cooper Cougars and Odessa Permian Panthers open a best-of-three playoff series at 4 p.m. Tuesday to determine the District 5-4A representative in the Class AAAA state baseball playoffs.

Permian won the first half with a 7-0 mark while Cooper walked off with top honors in the second half with a 6-1 mark.

The Panthers edged Cooper, 6-5, here during the first half and the Cougars turned around and beat Permian, 5-3, in Odessa in the second half of the race.

Don Lawson, 6-1 in loop play and 7-3 on the year, will throw for Cooper while Alex Kager, 9-3 on the year, will throw for the Black Cats.

Permian boasts a strong hitting attack with three players hitting .400 or better in 14 loop games. Third baseman Mark Chelette won the batting title

Amarillo Blasts San Antonio, 12-5

By The Associated Press

In Texas League games, Amarillo squelched San Antonio, 12-5, and Shreveport trimmed Victoria, 6-4. Arkansas and Alexandria were idle.

Mike Minister belted a grand slam home run in the fourth inning to stack Amarillo's hand against San Antonio. But Giant pitcher John Montefusco helped, too, by holding the Brewers to five hits and no runs in the first seven innings.

Tom Steadman drove home Gil Stafford in the seventh to break a 3-3 tie and put Shreveport ahead at Victoria. In the eighth, The Captains led it with an RBI from Dave Lindsey and a stolen home base by Kent Jacobsen.

Parent Hero For Flyers

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — There is an automobile bumper sticker that reads: "Only the Lord saves more than Bernie Parent."

New York's Rangers agree. Parent and veteran Gary Dornhoefer keyed a 4-3 victory for the Philadelphia Flyers over the Rangers Sunday to advance to the finals of the National Hockey League Stanley Cup playoffs against the Boston Bruins.

"Parent is a great goalie," said Rangers coach Emile Francis. "He was the difference in the Flyers' season."

New York's Pete Stelmowski offered this tribute to the Philadelphia goalie: "Parent robbed us. He robbed Park, myself, (Walt) Tkaczuk, (Rod) Gilbert and probably a couple I didn't notice that well."

The 29-year-old Parent made at least six spectacular saves for the Flyers in Sunday's seventh and deciding game of the bitterly contested semifinal series against the Rangers.

Parent sat in front of his locker after the Flyers' fourth victory of the series — all on home ice — and admitted he was dog tired.

"I thought this series would never end," said the Philadelphia netminder. "But we got a shot at the (Stanley) Cup now, and that's all that counts."

Parent looked ahead to the seven-game final series starting Tuesday night in Boston against the Bruins.

"The thing that will give us confidence is the game we beat them at the end of the year to clinch first place in our division. That's the one we still remember."

The Flyers would rather forget that victory was the first in five years over the Bruins. Philadelphia has won only once in Boston since entering the league in 1967, and the overall series stands 4-30-4, Bruins.

The 31-year-old Dornhoefer scored the key goals for the Flyers against the Rangers Sunday: the third, and the fourth and winning shot.

Dornhoefer's first goal boosted the Flyers to a 3-1 lead.

Philadelphia Gains Stanley Cup

Then New York made it 3-2 on a score by Steve Vickers. It looked as if the Rangers were rallying, but Dornhoefer took the heart out of them 12 seconds later with his second goal of the game.

MTC Pair Wins Doubles Crown

Peg Steding and Sandy Bramlett defeated Jeanne Nail and Kay Bates, 6-2, 1-6, 6-4, Sunday to win the Midland Tennis Club's Doubles Championship.

Caroline Kemper and Susan Tighe won consolation honors with a 6-2, 6-3 victory over Jan Goodwin and Susie Williams. In the B Division, Amy Thompson and Candy Stoltz won championship honors while Sue Ann Clark and Betsy Kellogg won consolation.

In the C Division, Julie Stoltz and Amy Davenport won the top prize while Bonnie Legg and Anna Mae Jones took consolation honors.

Bob Harrell and Orene Mitchell fired a 59 Sunday at the Ranchland Hill Country Club to win the bi-monthly Couples Golf Tournament.

Israel Reveals No Signs Of Yielding To Syrian Demands

JERUSALEM (AP)—The Israeli government showed no signs of yielding to Syrian demands today as it went into another round of troop disengagement talks with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger.

A government spokesman said a cabinet session Sunday produced no decisions on the next move.

"We are still at the beginning of this whole negotiation," said one Israeli official. "It is all fluid and nothing has crystallized."

Toughest Decision

Perhaps the toughest decision facing the Israelis was whether to modify their initial refusal to give up some of the territory they seized from Syria in the 1967 war.

Israel has already signaled willingness to give up the territory it captured from Syria last October. But the Syrians are demanding that the Israelis retreat behind that line to give up the devastated town of Kuneitra and strategic mountain areas dotted by Israeli settlements established since 1967.

Premier Golda Meir warned in a speech Sunday night that Israel would depend less on Kissinger's diplomacy than on its own "fight for survival."

"If the Arabs, and our friends, think we want peace so much that we don't have the confidence to fight," she said, "there will be no limit to their demands."

Back To Damascus

After his return to Israel today, Kissinger was to shuttle back to Damascus tonight or Tuesday. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko arrived in the Syrian capital Sunday but it was not known if he planned to meet with Kissinger there.

Although U.S. officials reported over the weekend that they had persuaded Syria to decrease the level of fighting on the Golan Heights, the Israeli military command reported the artillery exchanges Sunday were "as heavy as any other day" in the past week. It said eight Israeli soldiers were wounded.

Bomb Fragments Found On Lawn

Remnants of a pipe bomb were found Sunday at the home of Ernest Showalter, 2402 Seaboard St.

Showalter Sunday told investigators he found the device, which had been filled with black powder, about 3:30 p.m. on his front lawn.

Mrs. Showalter said she heard an explosion about 9:45 p.m. Saturday but thought it was a car backfiring.

The blast caused no damage.

HEAT FOR EVERYONE—When this sign is finished it will say Heath Furniture—but when the sign painter quit work one day last week this is what the public saw. And, on almost any summer day there certainly is enough heat for everyone in West Texas.

Vietnam Aid, Registration System Top Congress Agenda

WASHINGTON (AP)—Military aid to South Vietnam, postcard voter registration and conversion to the metric system of measurements are among the issues facing Congress this week.

The Senate considers additional aid to South Vietnam today in connection with a $571.3-million supplemental defense authorization bill for the remaining two months of this fiscal year.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., is pressing an amendment to prohibit a fund transfer that would make $266 million available for additional resupply of ammunition and petroleum to the South Vietnamese military.

Kennedy said his amendment would reaffirm the decision of Congress to limit military aid to South Vietnam this year to "the massive sum of $1.125 billion" and let the Pentagon know Congress is tired of the practice of shipping guns and ammunition and paying for them later.

The Senate resumes debate Tuesday on legislation to allow employees of non-profit hospitals to engage in collective bargaining under the National Labor Relations Act.

Legislation to give the President standby authority to ration fuels and control energy consumption in event of severe shortages comes before the Senate Wednesday. The bill re-

Three States Will Hold Primary Votes Tuesday

By The Associated Press

The 1974 election season expands Tuesday when nominees for two governorships and three Senate seats will be chosen in Alabama, Ohio and North Carolina.

The primaries will inaugurate a busy six-week period in which 20 states will choose nominees for the Nov. 5 midterm elections.

In Alabama, Gov. George C. Wallace is heavily favored to win nomination to an unprecedented third four-year term. He faces four other Democrats, headed by state Sen. Eugene McLain and former Gov. James E. Folsom.

Should Wallace fail to get 50 per cent of the votes cast, the runoff with the No. 2 finisher would be held June 4. Should he win, however, he would face only token November opposition, from Republican Elvin McCary.

Alabama's other major race includes freshman Sen. James B. Allen against John Taylor. Allen is favored to win and there is no Republican candidate.

In Ohio, Democrats will settle a strong fight between former astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. and Sen. Howard Metzenbaum. Ralph Perk, the mayor of Cleveland, meets Peter Voss, a Canton businessman, for the GOP senatorial nomination.

In the Ohio gubernatorial contest, Democratic Gov. John J. Gilligan has taken opposition. His GOP predecessor, James J. Rhodes, has encountered opposition from maverick state Rep. Charles Fry and 33-year-old Combiana County engineer Bert Dawson Jr.

In North Carolina, nine Democrats and four Republicans seek the seat being vacated by Sen. Sam J. Ervin, Democratic chairman of the Senate Watergate committee.

Two Pistols Stolen From Home Here

Mrs. Mary Dockett of 104 S. Madison St. Sunday told police two pistols were taken from her house.

Burglars apparently cut a screen and raised an unlocked window to gain entrance to the house, officers said.

The pistols, and a flashlight which also was taken, are valued at $41.

Burglars Take $315 In Cold Cash

Burglars Sunday took $315 in cash from the Executive Lounge, 3803 W. Wall St.

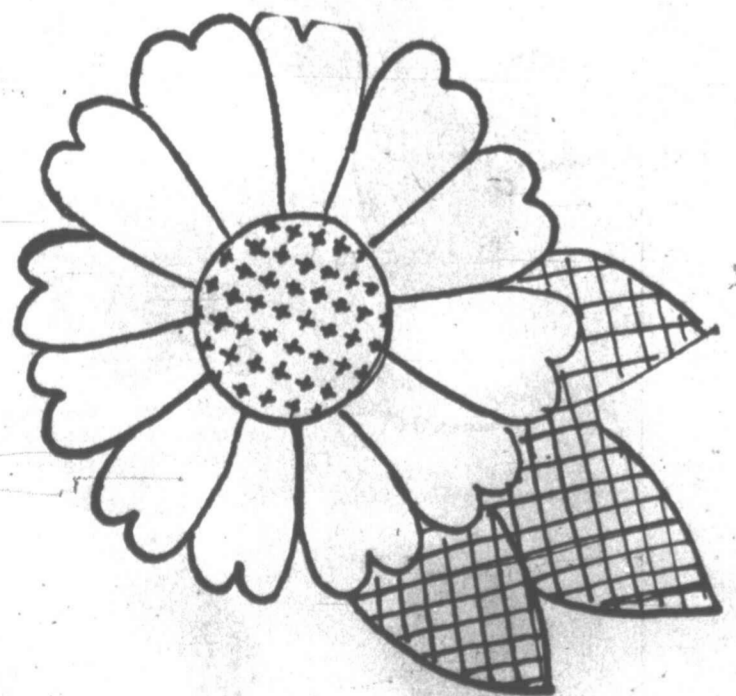

Investigators reported the front door was pried open sometime between 1:30 and 7 a.m. The money was taken from the tavern's freezer where it was hidden.

Convention Comes Back From Recess

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — After a month's recess for political campaigning, legislator-delegates to the Texas Constitutional Convention returned to work today for debate on their own powers and duties as lawmakers.

The convention was halfway through the legislative article—the hardest half—when it voted to recess April 5.

Convention President Price Daniel Jr. said he believed debate on the legislative article and the problem-free, one-paragraph separation of powers article would be concluded by the end of this week.

Two Controversial Areas

That would then open up two of the convention's biggest cans of worms: the judiciary and general provisions articles.

Judiciary includes the question of whether the voters or the governor should choose appellate judges. It also contains numerous other technical and structural provisions that will be examined in detail by the convention's lawyer majority.

One lawyer-legislator said there would be trouble over the "unified judiciary" proposal, which would increase the use of out-of-town judges when a court's docket gets too crowded. Cases also could be transferred to speed up trial.

"Lawyers don't want to work to elect a judge and pat him on the back and then try their cases before strangers," the lawmaker said.

What many believe to be the convention's biggest problem of all is in the general provisions article. Labor leaders say they will oppose the entire constitution if the so-called "right to work" issue is submitted to the voters, either as part of the basic document or as a separate item.

Submission Question

Daniel is giving a lot of thought to make-or-break question concerning submission of the new constitution to the voters. How do you inform them of its contents? He said the resolution that actually submits the constitution would specify how publication should be carried out.

Money is no problem, since the existing constitution provides for automatic state funding, without a special appropriation, for publication of proposals to revise the state's compact with its people.

Possibilities under consideration include newspaper supplements or delivery by mail to each home in Texas, he said.

Kidnaping Charges Filed Against Two In Lundquist Case

LEBANON, Mo. (AP) — The FBI has filed kidnaping charges against a 21-year-old New York City man and a 17-year-old youth in connection with the abduction of a New Mexico couple from the motel they manage at Milan, N.M.

FBI special agent-in-charge Bill Meincke of Albuquerque identified the man as Lawrence Michael Librick. He declined to give the juvenile's name.

Federal authorities charged the pair in the abduction last week of Susan Lundquist, 18. Also abducted was the young woman's husband, Edward William Lundquist, 24.

Meincke said kidnaping charges were not filed in the abduction of the husband because he was found in New Mexico, making that kidnaping a state matter.

Lundquist told police two abductors left him alongside a road near Leguna, N. M., then drove away with Mrs. Lundquist in the couple's car.

She was found, apparently unharmed, at Groom, Tex., tied up in a ditch near Interstate 40.

Missouri Highway Patrol officers spotted the two suspects on Interstate 44 Saturday night.
