Schmidt May Succeed Brandt

Chancellor Falls Victim To Spy Scandal, Resigns

BONN, West Germany (AP)—West Germany's ruling Social Democratic party nominated sharp-tongued Finance Minister Helmut Schmidt today to succeed Chancellor Willy Brandt after Brandt's unexpected resignation.

Brandt, 60, whose "Ostpolitik" policies for East-West detente won him the Nobel Peace Prize during his 4½ years in office, fell victim to a spy scandal on top of state election setbacks for his socialist party.

Pleasant Weather Continues

Fair skies and mild to warm temperatures greeted Texans today and forecasters said the pleasant weather will last at least through Wednesday in most areas.

A weak cool front in Colorado and New Mexico, combined with moist southerly winds will bring a 20 per cent chance of rain to the Tall City.

National Weather Service spokesmen at Midland Air Terminal said the combination will produce widely scattered showers and thunderstorms in front of the air mass.

The high this afternoon and Wednesday will be in the low 80s. The overnight low will be in the high 50s.

Monday's high was 77 degrees (See WEATHER Page 13A)

Foreign Minister Walter Scheel, Brandt's vice-chancellor and the leader of the junior partner in the coalition government, took over the caretaker cabinet left by Brandt. He will serve until Schmidt's election by the lower house of parliament.

Heinz Kuehn, deputy chairman of the Social Democrats, told newsmen Brandt himself proposed the 55-year-old finance minister as his successor.

Schmidt was nominated by the party's presidium and a caucus of its members in parliament was called for later today to approve the nomination.

Kuehn said Brandt would retain the chairmanship of the party, despite his retirement from the government.

The Social Democratic spokesman emphasized that the party would continue its alliance with Kissinger as "useful and constructive." He later flew to Moscow.

Gromyko, who came to Cyprus after a two-day visit to Syria, requested the meeting. The hastily arranged session was viewed as an effort to give the Russians a visible presence in the Middle East diplomatic effort—and to forestall Soviet obstruction as Kissinger pursues his shuttle diplomacy between Israel and Syria.

A senior U.S. official told newsmen Kissinger hoped his meeting with Gromyko would "nudge disengagement along."

Although U.S. officials claimed Kissinger was making progress, they also said there was "a distinct possibility" he would go back to Washington without a disengagement agreement and would return to the Middle East in three or four weeks.

The surprise meeting was announced Monday after a full day of talks between Kissinger and leaders of the Israeli government.

Regional Shopping Center Plans Get Tentative Approval

Plans for a regional shopping center, to be located north of an earlier proposed site, were discussed and tentatively approved by the Planning and Zoning Commission, despite recommendation from the city planning staff such a center be built elsewhere.

Martin Allday, representing Lawrence Hahn, asked the city to annex two tracts totalling 78.6 acres at the intersection of FM 868 and Garfield Street.

The tracts are across FM 868 just north of a site Hahn earlier wanted for a shopping center. This request was denied last year by the City Council despite recommendation by the Planning and Zoning Commission.

The latest request asks the approximately 80 acres be annexed as LR-2 (local retail), to allow construction of a regional shopping center.

A similar request by Murphy and Rochester of Odessa was approved at a special meeting April 22. The land is on the southwest corner of the intersection of FM 868 and Midkiff Road.

A third request is awaiting commission action. The request is by James M. O'Leary of Odessa for land at the northeast corner of FM 868 and Midkiff Road.

The commission voted to recommend to the council the annexation of the land with several stipulations, including issuing of building permits only after two to four "first-class" stores indicate an interest in such a mall.

Also stipulated is a non-performance bond to be paid the city by the developer and the possibility of deannexation.

The stipulations are identical for two tracts of land already approved by the commission and commissioners agreed to place the same stipulations on the O'Leary tract.

Allday said the shopping center designers are still interested in a regional center in Midland.

Allday pointed to The First National Bank statistics showing only 54.6 per cent of spendable money remained in Midland in 1972, compared with 83.9 per cent for Odessa and 97.4 per cent for Abilene.

He said he doesn't know if Midland can support a regional center, but he is willing to try. "It seems a shame when Hahn is trying to build a dream for Midland to deny him his chance," Allday said.

There were some protests to the center, but the opposition spokesmen said they would wait until a public hearing at the May 28 council meeting to voice their opinions.

In other business, the commission was threatened with a lawsuit if it passed a request by Lloyd E. Innerarity to rezone 300 E. Scharbauer St. from 1F-1 (single family) to LR-SU (local retail-specific use-utility storage).

Innerarity wanted to put in individual storage units to accommodate material now stored in the downtown Oil and Gas Building.

Each unit would be 24 feet deep by 12.6 feet wide and would adjoin the other units.

Innerarity was out of town on business, but City Planner George Wolf said the triangular-shaped lot would not be con-provide eligible persons with low cost homes in Midland met with strong public opposition and the City Council dissolved the authority.

Funds for the present proposal would come from HUD monies made available for the former housing project which the council decided not to continue.

The HUD representatives presented several guidelines and possibilities, saying the project would be of the "turnkey" type. Under the turnkey program, the developer would provide the land and all services necessary for construction. When the entire project is completed, the contractor would be paid.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON (AP) — Denouncing the Senate's rejection of additional military aid for Saigon, the White House warned today that North Vietnamese infiltration of troops and arms poses a growing threat to stability in Southeast Asia.

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Highway Commission extended the 55 mile-an-hour speed limit today for another 120 days, beginning May 20.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Two Protestant teen-agers opened fire on Roman Catholic construction workers having lunch in a shack in Belfast today, killing two and wounding five, authorities said.

HUD, City Council Discuss Housing Units For Low-Income Elderly

The units, expected to cost in the neighborhood of $19,000 per unit, will be financed by municipal bonds sold by the authority. Principle and interest will be paid by the government over a 40-year period. The government will also pay any operating expenses not met by rent.

The housing authority will set criteria as to who may live in the units, although minimum age is 62. Rent will be based on monthly income, with renters generally making less than $4,000 a year. Average monthly rent will be $45 according to John Coulter of the HUD Dallas office.

The proposed 100 units will include 58 efficiency apartments, 38 one-bedroom apartments and four two-bedroom apartments.

Each apartment will be supplied with a range and refrigerator by the housing authority. Air conditioning will be installed by the contractor.

Under the new proposal, interested developers will submit proposals, including lot sites, to the council. The council will choose one proposal and the developers will have architects drawings made of the finished project. Total cost and the drawings and site plans will be presented to the council for final approval.

Each unit will house one or possibly two persons. The units are not designed for families. Also included in the project will be a community room and maintenance and administration facilities.

Similar units have been constructed in El Paso, Dallas and Temple.

Probe Set In Howard

Lario Oil & Gas Co. has staked No. 1-A Oldham as an 8,100-foot wildcat 2½ miles southeast of the Canyon reef discovery in the Nearco (Canyon reef) field of Howard County.

Located 16 miles northeast of Big Spring, it spots 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 25, block 27, H&TC survey.

Discovery Finaled In Cottle County

Gus Edwards, operating out of Abilene, has dually completed No. 2 J. J. Gibson as a possible Canyon reef discovery in the Providence field of Cottle County.

It pumped 162 barrels of 40.5-gravity oil per day, plus 48 barrels of water, on potential test. Gas-oil ratio was too small to measure.

The potential was taken through perforations at 4,342-4,372 feet, which had been acidized with 200 gallons.

Earlier, it was completed as the second Atoka conglomerate producer, and ½-mile southeast extension to that pay. In the Atoka, it had a calculated, absolute open flow of 7.6 million cubic feet of gas per day, through perforations, at 6,116-6,136 feet.

Location is 1,110 feet from south and 933 feet from west lines of section 34, F. P. Knott survey, 14 miles southeast of Paducah.

Fisher County Gets Discovery

R. L. Burns Corp., San Antonio, No. 1 J. G. Moore was reclassified from oil production to a gas discovery in the Sandy Hill (Strawn sand) oil field of Fisher County.

Calculated, absolute open flow was for 2 million cubic feet of gas per day, with gas-liquid ratio of 112,613-1.

Production was through perforations at 5,561-5,571 feet. On kelly bushing elevation of 1,922 feet, the following tops were picked: Dothan, 3,060 feet; Noodle Creek, 3,160 feet; Saddle Creek, 3,225 feet; Strawn lime, 5,280 feet; and Strawn sand, 5,522 feet.

Drilled to 6,150 feet, with 4½-inch casing set at 5,677 feet, it was plugged back to 5,626 feet.

Original completion was Sept. 11, 1972, for 81 barrels of 46-gravity oil, producing through a 14-64-inch choke and the above perforations.

Well site is 660 feet from north and west lines of tract 8, Bastrop CSL survey 313, four miles northeast of Roby.

Outpost Staked In Pecos County

The five-well Elsinore (Devonian - Fusselman) gas field of Pecos County gained a new location, with the staking of No. 59 Elsinore by Hunt Oil Co., Midland.

Kissinger, Gromyko Discuss Mideast; Talk Termed Useful

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger met for three hours today with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, and said, "We had a good talk, a useful talk and we hope to make progress in the Syrian-Israeli disengagement."

The secretary then flew back to Israel for meetings with Premier Golda Meir and other members of her negotiating team. He is due in Damascus on Wednesday.

Gromyko described his session with Kissinger as "useful and constructive." He later flew to Moscow.

Gromyko, who came to Cyprus after a two-day visit to Syria, requested the meeting. The hastily arranged session was viewed as an effort to give the Russians a visible presence in the Middle East diplomatic effort—and to forestall Soviet obstruction as Kissinger pursues his shuttle diplomacy between Israel and Syria.

A senior U.S. official told newsmen Kissinger hoped his meeting with Gromyko would "nudge disengagement along."

Although U.S. officials claimed Kissinger was making progress, they also said there was "a distinct possibility" he would go back to Washington without a disengagement agreement and would return to the Middle East in three or four weeks.

The surprise meeting was announced Monday after a full day of talks between Kissinger and leaders of the Israeli government.

Psychiatrist Says Too Much Caffeine Can Lead To Case Of 'Coffee Nerves'

DETROIT (AP) — Unrecognized "coffee nerves" could lead you to a psychiatrist and months of useless treatment with calm-down drugs, a psychiatrist said today.

Too much caffeine in coffee, tea or cola drinks can bring on all the symptoms of an anxiety state, said Dr. John P. Greden of Walter Reed Army Medical Hospital in Washington, D.C. Drugs can help in true anxiety states but may not work against the effects of too much caffeine, he said.

Doctors should routinely ask patients about their caffeine intake, Greden suggested to the American Psychiatric Association.

Over-doses of caffeine can bring such symptoms as nervousness, irritability, tremulousness, occasional muscle twitching, sensory disturbances, attacks of diarrhea, insomnia, irregular heartbeat, drop in blood pressure and even circulatory failures, he said.

A doctor could interpret it all as an anxiety attack. Greden told of reviewing records of 100 psychiatric patients, 42 diagnosed as having anxiety, with no question ever having been asked about caffeine consumption.

Try To Continue Legislature's Broad Power On Strictly Local Laws Defeated

AUSTIN (AP) — The Constitutional Convention narrowly rejected today an attempt to continue the legislature's broad power to enact strictly local laws.

A 75-70 vote preserved a sentence in the proposed new state charter that gives the courts power to hold unconstitutional—with exceptions—a law that is limited to a local area.

The article drafted by the Legislative Committee allows local laws only if they grant discretionary powers to cities, counties and other political subdivisions. Otherwise, a local law could not be passed if a general law could be made applicable.

Whether a general law would apply would be subject to determination by the courts.

Rep. DeWitt Hale, D-Corpus Christi, sought to remove the provision allowing the courts to say, in effect, whether a law was unconstitutionally local in nature.

"It's a question whether a decision should be made by the legislature or the courts. Policy decisions should be made by the legislature," Hale said.

Rep. Bob Maloney, R-Dallas, replied that the courts had decided long ago that bills limited to a specific population bracket—the subterfuge employed to pass local laws—are constitutional.

"This is what has caused the proliferation of local laws," Maloney said.

"If we pass a bracket law under the guise of general law, we can go to court and have it struck down (if the proposed section passes)," Maloney said.

Legislator-delegates also have voted against giving up their privilege from arrest and having their House and Senate debates written down for posterity.

He cited a new case of a woman, 27, suffering attacks of headache, lightheadedness, tremulousness, and irregular heartbeat two or three times daily. The symptoms developed over a three-week period.

Rejecting a diagnosis of anxiety reaction to something in her life, she did her own detective work, tracing the symptoms back to her purchase of a fresh-drip coffee pot.

"Because this coffee was 'so much better,' she had begun consuming an average of 10-12 cups of strong, black coffee per day, more than 1,000 milligrams of caffeine."

That's four times the 250 milligrams considered a large dose. When she reduced coffee

POLLY'S POINTERS

Whatever Happened To Purse-Size Items?

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is the failure of cosmetic and deodorant companies to provide deodorant in purse sizes. I used to find such tiny jars in the 10 cent stores but they were discontinued some years ago. I like to carry a small container in my purse but can't find any small enough. — BETTY.

DEAR POLLY — I am answering V.V. who wishes to remove candle wax from the crevices between the bricks in her fireplace. She might wring a cloth out of hot water and apply over the wax for a while until it loosens and then peel it off with a fingernail or blunt knife. I wash my fireplace bricks with water to which I have added a bit of vinegar and they sparkle. — E.B.

DEAR POLLY—To clean candle wax out of the crevices between the bricks in her fireplace V.V. might try using a wire scrub brush and liquid dishwashing detergent. This is the way my husband cleaned grease spatters after cooking bacon over the open fire. — EDITH.

DEAR POLLY — If you are sick of painting or refinishing flat cabinet doors you might cover them with naugahyde upholstery material as we did. The doors were removed, one by one, laid on a flat surface and the material cut to size and then applied to the doors with wallpaper paste mixed with white glue. I used a seven-inch paint roller to smooth the material on. When dry the doors were rehung. A cleaning with one of the vinyl cleaners makes them look like new.

Spools of thread turn better on the sewing machine spindle if they are first placed on a one-inch circle of felt with a hole punched in the middle for slipping it on.

I am an antique bug so always carry a tiny magnet that looks like half a ball point pen to check on whether or not something is solid brass, copper, etc., a small steel measuring tape and a memo book with all the measurements of wall spaces and so on in case I might find something I would like to buy without having to make a trip home to see if it would fit. — MRS. J.H.V.

DEAR POLLY — I hated the ugly labels on my large hand lotion dispenser so soaked them off and applied lovely butterfly decals. Now I have a good-looking accessory on my bathroom vanity rather than what I thought was an eye sore. — MARGARET P.

Dear Abby

—By Abigail van Buren

Hubby's Pickup Loses Apparel

DEAR ABBY: To begin with, my husband has always been a big liar. Last summer I found a pair of nylon panties under the seat of his pickup truck, and when I asked him where they came from and what they were doing there, he said they were probably mine and he was using them for car rags. I told him I didn't wear that kind and they didn't make very good car rags and I gave him something else to use.

I forgot all about it until yesterday when I came across another pair of panties in the glove compartment of his pickup. This time I knew for sure they weren't mine because this pair had "Wednesday" on them. Abby, I know he can't be that desperate for car rags. What do you suppose is going on? I hope you print this because I'd like that hussey my husband has been fooling around with to know she forgot to pick up "Wednesday."

NOT FOOLED IN STAUNTON, VA.

DEAR NOT: If your husband intends to continue picking up in his pickup, he should tell his friends to pick up after themselves — and that means Monday through Sunday!

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who claims she can analyze a person by his physical characteristics.

For example, she says a high forehead is a sign of superior intelligence and a low forehead is a sign of average or below average intelligence. (She has a high forehead. Mine is low.) She also says that people with long, narrow thumbs have a natural advantage over people with short stubby thumbs because long narrow thumbs mean you are dependable, friendly, and easy to get along with, but short stubby thumbs mean you are irresponsible, unfriendly and hard to get along with. (Her thumbs are long and narrow. Mine are short and stubby.)

I would like to prove her wrong about her thumb pronouncements but don't know where to find proof, so I am writing to you.

DISBELIEVING

DEAR DIS: Since she made the "pronouncements," ask her to prove it. As I see it, the only natural advantage the narrow long thumb has over the short stubby thumb would be in hitchhiking.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my neighbor who lives directly above me in an elegant townhouse apartment building on the chic east side of Manhattan.

This gentleman lives alone, and gets up every morning of his life at 5 a.m. This includes Christmas, New Year's Day and Sundays. He makes noise which lasts until 7 a.m. I don't know exactly what he does, but it sounds like he's exercising, rolling on the floor or jogging in one place. All this in his bedroom, which is over mine.

I don't have to be out of bed until 7 a.m. and it irritates me to be awakened two hours early every day. Once I am awake, I cannot go back to sleep.

I've tried everything. I invited him here for a Christmas party, and then gently took him aside and told him that his early rising morning noises bothered me. He said all he does is "get dressed" and he can't understand how that could disturb me.

I talked to my landlady and she said she has only my word, and she can't demand that he leave before his lease expires in three years. My lease has another year to go.

Please don't suggest I try to make friends with him again. It's gone beyond that stage now. I saw my lawyer at a party recently and he suggested I phone this neighbor every morning at 3 a.m. and ask him how he likes to be awakened two hours early every morning. Please, please help me. My nerves are shot.

MRS. S.

DEAR MRS. S.: I'd take the lawyer's advice, after which I'd ask my druggist to recommend the best earplugs available. If that fails, invite your landlady to spend the night with you, and share a rude awakening.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, in care of this newspaper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

How to offset the high cost of dying.

Unless you plan ahead, the cost can be disastrously high for those you want to benefit. An estate worth $200,000, for example, can be reduced as much as $47,000 by Federal taxes, debts and expenses. And state death duties can increase the bite even further.

However, you can offset the high cost of dying—with Equitable Living Insurance. It can assure your family the full value of your estate, and can protect your family's standard of living if you should die prematurely.

Our booklet, "Living Insurance for Estate Planning—from Equitable," has all the details. For your free copy, call or write your agent from Equitable.

DESPITE RELEASE OF TRANSCRIPTS—

Watergate Panel Says It Still Needs Five Tapes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate committee says it still needs five subpoenaed White House tapes, despite President Nixon's release of edited transcripts of the conversations.

The Senate committee, in papers filed with the U.S. Court of Appeals, called Nixon's transcripts "suspect" and "neither complete nor accurate."

The committee said that even the incomplete versions of the conversations covered in the transcripts vindicate its claim that the tapes are needed.

Monday had been the deadline for the prosecutor and lawyers for seven cover-up defendants to answer a White House motion that the subpoena be quashed.

Farah Reopens San Antonio Plant

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The Farah Manufacturing Co. has reopened one of two plants here that were closed for five months during a strike-boycott by the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America.

The first of about 900 workers from the Frio City Road plant reported to work Monday.

Farah said it would reopen both San Antonio plants following a March settlement of a two-year labor dispute.

Sissy Says Nation Failing Its Needy

WASHINGTON (AP) — America is failing its disadvantaged and won't face up to it, Frances "Sissy" Farenthold of Texas says.

She addressed the sixth annual Robert F. Kennedy Journalism awards ceremony Monday, two days after a crushing defeat in her second race for the Texas governorship.

Pieces Of Firearms Discovered In SLA Hideout, Paper Says

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Chronicle said today pieces of firearms were found in the Symbionese Liberation Army hideout discovered by authorities last week.

The newspaper said the evidence indicates the apartment was used as an armory.

The newspaper also said neighbors were reported to have heard drilling and other sounds coming from the apartment.

Authorities, asked about a report that a SLA bomb factory had been found, said they were unaware of such an operation.

Meanwhile, unverified sightings of heiress Patricia Hearst, whom the SLA says it kidnaped, continued pouring into FBI offices here and in other cities as the case moves into its fourth month.

Sightings in North Carolina and Tennessee of a red car containing SLA members and Miss Hearst have not been confirmed.

The half-ton of clothing, paper, bedding and trash taken by FBI agents Thursday from the last known refuge of the SLA has yielded no clues as to Miss Hearst's whereabouts, the FBI said.

SLA members are thought to have hidden in the roach-infested dwelling after robbing a local bank of $10,000 April 15. The apartment was vacated the last week of April.

Painted messages taunting the police were found on the walls and the keys to getaway cars used in the bank robbery also were found.

The SLA is believed to consist of fewer than 25 heavily armed persons, mostly women.

Several weeks after Miss Hearst was dragged screaming from her Berkeley apartment, she said in a taped message that she was voluntarily joining her captors.

Failure of Miss Hearst to appear last Friday canceled plans for a $4-million food giveaway program.

In another development, Steven Weed, Patty Hearst's fiancé, tried unsuccessfully to obtain a handgun permit and a passport in Santa Rosa north of here, it was disclosed Monday.

Weed told newsmen that he was merely having his passport renewed. "I'm not going anywhere," he said.

Sonoma County Undersheriff Robert Hayes said Weed and his mother, Mrs. Bernard Pepper, tried to get the gun permit at the sheriff's office Friday.

He was sent to the Santa Rosa Police Department, which said they denied the permit because Chief Salvatore Rosano had ordered a ban on new permits until he takes command of the force June 1.

British Airways Flights Canceled

LONDON (AP) — A strike by stewards and stewardesses of British Airways canceled 20 of the line's foreign flights today, including all service to the United States.

A spokesman said the 2,000 passengers were being put on flights of other airlines, and he did not think anyone would be stranded.

The strike is expected to ground all British Airways intercontinental flights within 48 hours, but the airline's European service is not affected.

BUT ALL ANSWERS GIVEN— Ted Says He Will Have To Face Chappaquiddick Questions If He Runs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., says he will have to face questions about Chappaquiddick if he runs for president in 1976.

But he says he already has given all the answers.

Kennedy said Monday he would like to be president and would make a decision on the race by late next year and possibly earlier.

"If I was asked today, I'd just run for re-election to the Senate," he said.

Asked, "Would you, deep down, like to be president?" Kennedy replied: "Yes."

Appearing on "Washington Straight Talk," a national public affairs broadcasting program, Kennedy also was asked about the 1969 Chappaquiddick accident, in which his car ran off a bridge and Mary Jo Kopechne was killed.

Interviewer Paul Duke asked if Watergate meant that more attention would be focused on this if Kennedy were the Democratic presidential nominee.

"There will probably be those, if I were a candidate, that would raise it," Kennedy said. If he runs it is something that will have to be faced, he said.

"But people finally and ultimately are going to have to make judgments about my views, my record in the Senate . . .," he said.

"Wouldn't you have to explain certain things, for example why it took you seven days to offer an explanation for what happened at Chappaquiddick?" Duke asked.

Kennedy said the record "has been really laid out . . . There's not going to be any more facts that are going to come out. They've been out."

"To try and sort of give a rehash in terms of attitudes or views, if people would feel that that would be necessary, I think it would be questionable," he said.

"But, in any event, we'd have to deal with it when it came," Kennedy said.

Kennedy, whose brother John was assassinated while President and brother Robert was while running for the office, said members of his family will not have a veto over his decision.

"No, they won't," he said. "And they've indicated were I to make a judgment to run that they would support me."

Army Begins Probe Into Alleged Funds Misuse By Agency

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has begun a preliminary investigation into alleged mis-handling of funds by an advertising agency that holds a $35 million contract for enticing new military volunteers to enlist.

Officials say Army investigators will be reviewing the records of N.W. Ayer & Son, a Philadelphia agency that writes the volunteer Army ads that appear in magazines, newspapers and billboards.

In a statement released Monday in answer to questions, the Army said: "As a result of certain allegations made concerning the Army advertising account for recruiting and related matters, the Army Criminal Investigations Command is conducting an inquiry into the matter."

A spokesman said results of the inquiry would determine whether a full-scale formal investigation was warranted.

Reports of the initial inquiry first appeared in the trade magazine Advertising Age. It could not be determined how large a dollar amount the alleged mishandling of funds involved.

One official source who asked not to be named said an employee of the Ayer agency reported to the Army the government was being overcharged for some magazine ads. The Ayer employee reportedly said rebates from various publications were not reported as called for in the Army contract.

The rebates were said to be due the Army because some ads should have cost less than initially charged against the Army account.

A senior executive in Ayer's Philadelphia headquarters said Monday the "allegation is totally unfounded." The executive asked not to be identified.

However, Neal W. O'Connor, chairman of the agency, called for a speedy investigation into "the charges which the press tells us have been leveled."

Elevator Mishap Kills Texan, 43

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — James A. Elliott, 43, was killed Monday after he became trapped in an elevator and dropped to a concrete floor while being rescued.

Fellow workers said Elliott had been loading freight on the second floor of a warehouse when he somehow caught his arm in an elevator door as it moved upward.

When the elevator was stopped to get Elliott out, he instead swung free and plummeted two stories down, landing head first on a concrete floor.

Wyoming Girl Named Junior Miss

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Karen Ann Morris, daughter of a Wyoming rancher, is America's 1974 Junior Miss.

"I just don't know, it's unreal. I can't believe it. But it's beautiful," the tall, blue-eyed blonde said after she was named the nation's ideal high school senior Monday night.

Miss Morris is the daughter of a Wyoming rancher John N. Morris.

His daughter works on the ranch but plans to be a speech pathologist after attending the University of Wyoming.

"I was just lucky," she said of her victory. "All of the 50 girls had a chance to win... I was just lucky."

Susan Stephenson, 18, of Lincoln, Neb., was the first runner-up, receiving a $6,000 scholarship.

Second runnerup was Miss Nevada, Lily Hamamura, 17, of Las Vegas. She received a $4,000 scholarship, plus $1,000 for being named Miss Personality by the other 49 girls in the competition.

Miss Florida, Susan Walden, 17, of Cantonment was third runnerup, receiving a $2,500 scholarship.

Miss California, Sharon Fox, 17, of San Rafael was fourth runnerup, also receiving a $2,500 scholarship.

Other Finalists
Others among the seven finalists were Miss New Jersey, Donna Alexander, 17, of East Orange, and Miss Mississippi, Sheila Tippins, 17, of Brookhaven. Both girls were awarded $1,000 scholarships.

Among the 10 semi-finalists were Miss Arkansas, Holly Henley, 18, of El Dorado; Miss Maryland, Cathy Holz, 18, of Ellicott City, and Miss Texas, Donna Bullock, 18, of Athens.

Pulitzer Prizes Awarded

NEW YORK (AP) — Pulitzer Prizes for national reporting have been awarded for stories revealing President Nixon's comparatively small income tax payments and a secret $300,000 contribution to his campaign fund.

James R. Polk of the Washington Star-News was honored for stories on the secret contributions by financier Robert L. Vesco.

Jack White of the Providence Journal-Bulletin won for his reporting on Nixon's taxes. The President since has made back tax payments.

Newsday of Garden City, Long Island, won the gold medal for meritorious service by a newspaper. It was honored for a series of stories tracing heroin traffic from Turkey to the New York area via France. Newsday's Emily Genuer won the Pulitzer award for art criticism.

Associated Press photographer Slava Veder won the feature photography award with a picture of a former prisoner of war, Air Force Lt. Col. Robert L. Stirm being greeted by his family on his return to the United States.

Anthony K. Roberts, a freelance photographer whose pictures of a shootout in a Hollywood parking lot were distributed by The Associated Press, won the spot news photography award.

Hedrick Smith of The New York Times won the prize for international reporting for his coverage of the Soviet Union and Eastern European nations.

William Sherman of The New York Daily News won the Pulitzer for investigative local reporting for a series of stories on abuses in the Medicaid program.

No prizes for drama or fiction were included in the awards announced Monday by the trustees of Columbia University, who have final say in the selection of prizes. The Pulitzer advisory board declined to make recommendations for 1974 prizes in the two areas.

Among the literary prize winners were Daniel J. Boorstin for his historical work, "The Americans: The Democratic Experience;" Robert Lowell for his collection of poetry, "The Dolphin," and Louis Shaefter for his biography, "O'Neill, Son and Artist."

Other winners in journalism were F. Gilman Spencer of the Trentonian in Trenton, N.J., for editorial writing, Edwin A. Roberts Jr. of the National Observer for commentary, Paul

M. Szep of the Boston Globe for editorial cartooning and Arthur M. Petacque and Hugh F. Hough of the Chicago Sun-Times for general local reporting.

Other arts awards went to the late Ernest Becker for "The Denial of Death" in the general nonfiction category and Donald Martino, who won the music award for "Notturmo," a chamber music composition. Composer Roger Sessions, 77, received a special citation for his life's work.

The awards, each accompanied by a $1,000 prize, were established by the late publisher Joseph Pulitzer and first presented in 1917.

Juries in each category first make recommendations to the advisory board, composed of the president of Columbia University and distinguished newspaper editors and publishers.

The last time no drama award was presented was in 1972; the last year in which there was no fiction award was 1971.

A spokesman said "The Guitar Player" by the 17th century Dutch master Jan Vermeer was found Monday night in St. Bartholomew's churchyard, in the financial district of London.

"It was propped against a gravestone, wrapped in newspaper and tied up with string," the spokesman said.

The Yard said no arrests had been made.

Valued at $4.8 million, the painting, one of fewer than 30 surviving Vermeers, was recovered only two days after Irish police recovered 19 old masters stolen from a mansion outside Dublin. One of those paintings also was a Vermeer.

The painting, valued at $4.6 million was confirmed as the Vermeer by art experts from Kenwood House, the municipal museum from which it was stolen in a lightning smash-and-grab raid Feb. 23.

A gang whisked away the Vermeer after breaking into the building—operated by the Greater London Council—by pounding their way through a steel-barred ground floor window with a sledgehammer.

It was found in the churchyard by detectives from Scotland Yard's crime-busting Flying Squad after an anonymous tipoff, a police spokesman said.

It is estimated that there are from 14 to 18 square feet of skin on the average adult human body.

TANKERSLEY — A new feature has been added to the 1974 edition of the annual match calf roping at West Texas Boys Ranch.

Buck Owens, event chairman, said the roping is set for 2 p.m. Saturday, May 18, and will pit Jim Bob Altizer and Mac Altizer of Del Rio against Tuffy Cooper and Roy Cooper of Monument, N.M., in a father and son special four-calf match roping.

Each roper will tie four calves with the father and son's time added to get the total score with the lowest time winning.

A $33 two-calf jackpot calf roping and a $22 open girls' barrel race also are scheduled.

Admission is by donation and a goat barbecue will be served following the roping.

West Texas Boys Ranch arena is located just off U.S. 67, 17 miles west of San Angelo. All proceeds go to benefit the annual West Texas Boys Ranch Roundup.

Blood Disease Strikes Chicago's Mayor Daley

CHICAGO (AP) — Mayor Richard J. Daley, rarely absent from the City Hall office he has occupied for 20 years, is resting comfortably after being admitted to a hospital with a blood condition that causes weakness.

Daley, a powerful figure in Democratic local and national politics, walked into Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital Monday after complaining of illness in his office and consulting with his physician, Thomas Coogan Jr.

He is to undergo a series of tests.

Daley will be 72 on May 15. He has been Chicago's mayor longer than any other man and generally is expected to seek a sixth 4-year term in 1975.

Frank Sullivan, Daley's press

aide, quoted a hospital spokesman as saying a preliminary examination showed Daley was suffering from hypoglycemia, a blood sugar deficiency that causes fatigue.

Sullivan said Daley remained in good spirits.

Daley complained of illness Monday morning and got an appointment with Coogan. He was driven to the hospital, entered on his own power and was examined briefly in the emergency room before being admitted to a private room.

It was believed the first time Daley has been hospitalized since he was sworn in as mayor in April 1955. He has been considered generally in fine health and rarely has missed a day of work.

Shultz Sees No Interest Rate Relief

By R. GREGORY NOKES
WASHINGTON (AP)
Americans cannot expect any relief from record high interest rates without progress in the fight against inflation, says outgoing Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz.

But Shultz, who leaves office Wednesday, says interest rates may about have reached their peak.

Shultz commented after the interest rate for government short-term borrowing—in the form of Treasury bills—hit a record 9.036 per cent Monday. Kept High By Inflation

Shultz said interest rates, especially long-term rates, are being kept high by inflation.

He indicated he agrees with policies of the Federal Reserve Board to moderate the growth of the nation's money supply and keep a tight rein on the supply of credit, actions designed to restrain inflation but that also help push interest rates upward.

Meanwhile, Labor Secretary Peter J. Brennan said Monday he does not see "on the horizon any immediate solution" to the inflation problem.

After meeting with President Nixon at the White House, Brennan said: "I don't think there is any clear program" within the administration to quickly curb inflation.

Shultz, 53, will leave the Nixon administration Wednesday when William E. Simon is sworn in as his successor at a White House ceremony.

Turning To Business
The last member of the original Nixon Cabinet still with the administration, he has been secretary of labor, director of the Office of Management and Budget and, since 1972, secretary of the Treasury.

He told newsmen at a reception that, after careers in education and government, he expects to make his third—and probably last—career in business.

He said he has not made a final decision but has received a number of good offers, including proposals from oil companies. Shultz did not say whether these were the ones he was considering.

He said he wants a job that will allow him flexibility to continue some university work. He was dean of the University of Chicago Graduate School of Business when he joined the administration as Nixon's first secretary of labor in 1969.

Texan, 34, Faces Arizona Murder, Robbery Charges

WEATHERFORD, Tex. (AP)—Paul William Jordan, 34, scheduled to stand trial here on charges of robbing a jewelry store, was charged with murder and robbery Monday in Tempe, Ariz.

The Tempe charges result from the Jan. 15 shooting death of a store owner there.

Two Arizona investigators, acting on a tip from an informant, questioned Jordan in Weatherford before the charges were filed.

The investigators said Jordan gave them a 14-page statement. They said they also took statements from two other witnesses in the Tempe shooting.

The Arizona officials said they would begin extradition proceedings against Jordan as soon as possible.

Jordan will stand trial in Weatherford May 21 for the Feb. 22 robbery of Helms Jewelry in Weatherford. He has been in the Parker County jail since March 5 under $500,000 bond.

Jury Subpoenas Liquor Concerns

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Two liquor distributors and a New York beverage firm have been subpoenaed by a federal grand jury here apparently conducting an antitrust probe of liquor wholesalers.

Calls were issued Monday for Armand Bozzetti, southwest regional manager for Monsieur Henri Wines Ltd., of Dallas; and Lester Schwiety, of Scottish Newcastle Distillery of Glendale, Calif.

The jury also asked for records since Jan. 1960 from Schenley Industries, Inc. of New York.

The grand jury has subpoenaed the records of 15 persons and 19 wholesale distributors across the U.S. during the past 36 months.

Howdy Rebs!
 Summer surely is setting in swiftly! Everyone seems ready for the sun and fun, but the seniors are the ones who are staying busy.
 The Kiddieland Senior Girls Party last Saturday night was a real success! All the kiddies chewed bubblegum, licked suckers, and skipped to the sounds of Sweet Briar. And the hostesses had breakfast out at Becky Meyer's house afterwards. The whole evening was lots of fun!
 Our brave Rebel baseballers wound up their '74 season Saturday. Lee took the well deserved win against Midland High with a score of 7-3. We surely are proud of our men. Congratulations!
 Lee had a member of its track team travel to state last weekend to compete in shot put. Milton Jones brought home a big beautiful 3rd place. Way to put that shot Milton! Cheerleaders Named
 Last weekend 11 nervous, but talented candidates tried out for cheerleader in front of the student body. Those elected are Janet Moore, Polly Haney, Nancy Angevine, Jerry Willis, Michael Byrd and Scott Standefel. We know ya'll will be great at keeping up Rebel Spirit for '74-'75. Congratulations!
 Last Thursday night the nostalgic Senior Class got together in the Youth Center for a big dinner. It was loads of fun with the Bulldog Speech, The Beaver Patrol Song, The Senior Song, and Emily Armstrong's well written skit. A touching and meaningful speech by Mrs. Art Hinds made the evening. The entire event was a real success thanks to the officers' hard work and that good of Senior Pride!
 Junior-Senior Prom
 The Juniors are working faithfully on a great Prom for the seniors Saturday night. It is from 8 p.m. to midnight in the Youth Center. Seniors will be admitted free. Traveling Salesmen will be featured, and the night should be one to remember. So, get on the ball, men, and get those senior girls to their prom!
 The annual Junior Council banquet will be at 8 p.m. May 16 in the Youth Center. Elections will be held, so all Junior Council members be sure to be there!
 Last Friday night in the auditorium, The Origin was presented in concert. The money raised went to the Vienna trip fund for the choir. It was a success and The Origin thanks Johnny Pylant, Tommy Gibson, Kenny Kaufman, Steve Kosh, Dee Soehri and all those who supported them.
 Spring Training
 Spring training started Monday for our Rebel football team. The boys are out working hard for the next football season and they are looking mighty good! Everyone is looking for the game when our seniors play the juniors ... should prove to be an interesting game!
 That looks like all for this week. Chat with ya later!

AS INCUMBENTS SEEK NEW TERMS—

Today's Primary Results May Show Trend

By The Associated Press. An early indication of how well incumbents will fare in this year's elections may be supplied today as two governors and two senators seek nomination to new terms.

In other races, voters were nominating candidates for 52 House seats, most of their state legislatures and various other state officials.

Wallace, in contrast to previous campaigns, has appealed directly to the black vote this year. This has been viewed as an attempt to improve his national image and Wallace has stated openly that he might try for the Democratic nomination for president in 1976.

A close race was forecast in Ohio between Metzbaum and former astronaut John Glenn. A Ten North Carolina Democrats were seeking the nomination to Ervin's seat.

State Rep. William E. Stevens, brother-in-law of Rep. James T. Broyhill, was favored for the GOP nomination. In Indiana, Democratic Sen. Birch Bayh and Richard Lugar, Republican mayor of Indianapolis, were without opposition for nomination for November's Senate race.

GRAND OPENING—Mayor Ernest Angelo helps County Judge Barbara Culver cut a ribbon at grand opening ceremonies for Salmagundi, a gift shop at 1509 N. Independents Shape Strategy To Scuttle Pending Measures

DENVER (AP)—The Independent Petroleum Association of America (IPAA) went into the final session of its semi-annual meeting today with its members grumbling about Congress and its leaders mapping ways to scuttle pending legislation.

Political resistance to the idea that anything which could be good for the oil industry could possibly be good for the country," C. John Miller, president of the IPAA, said in a speech prepared for the group's special session.

IPAA members say they are upset with various pending bills in Congress that would roll back the price of crude oil, create a federal corporation that would explore for oil, get rid of the oil depletion allowance and tax excess profits.

His dizziness, "butterflies" in the stomach, diarrhea and other complaints went away when he cut back on consumption of as many as 14 cups of coffee daily, interspersed with three or four cola drinks.

State Department spokesman Robert J. McCloskey emphasized that the Kissinger-Gromyko meeting did not mean the United States and the Soviet Union were trying to impose a Middle East settlement. He said the meeting had the "full understanding and approval" of the Israeli government.

IPAA members say that the record profits the major oil companies have been announcing recently have created a punitive mood toward the whole industry in Congress.

Belfast Landmark Destroyed By Bomb

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—Terrorists planted a record-sized 1,100-pound bomb 200 yards from City Hall today, destroyed one of Belfast's best known landmarks and killed a Roman Catholic couple and wounded their daughter, authorities said.

Only one shop of the more than 100 located in the market survived the two-hour fire that swept the complex near the center of Belfast. The slain couple was identified as 45-year-old James Devlin and his 43-year-old wife Gertrude. Their 17-year-old daughter Patricia was wounded in the head, shoulder and leg in the hall of submachine gun fire that riddled the family's car, police said.

Portugal provides a textbook case of how Communist parties benefit from the suppression of political rights by dictatorships. Spain and others may be nervously assessing the example.

Portugal's Communist party is confidently demanding ministries in the new provisional government that is promised by the military leaders that toppled the dictatorship. Of all suppressed parties, the Communists appear to have emerged as the most tightly unified, organized and disciplined.

This is not new. In other countries, moderate elements often were blinded by the sudden light of freedom and had to grope, while the Communists had long prepared for the emergence from underground. Cuba, for example, suffered a heavy-handed dictatorship that permitted the Communists to make common cause with elements of the center and moderate left. When the dictator's police power disappeared, the Communist party was organized, disciplined against division and ready to operate.

When the Nazi Occupation suppressed political parties in France during World War II, the Communists' tight organizational unity helped them stake a claim to being the chief anti-Nazi force and gave them a leg on postwar political influence.

Today the party is assured a role in the government if Francois Mitterrand, the Socialist presidential candidate is backing, wins the runoff election May 19.

Wartime Italy similarly had many underground opponents of the Mussolini dictatorship, but the Communists' discipline permitted them to emerge from the war among the strongest of parties.

The Portuguese Communist party is 53 years old, and all that time it has been unswervingly faithful to the Bolshevik model. When Portugal became a tightly ruled dictatorship, the party went underground and has existed that way for 48 years.

However, the more oppressive a dictatorship, the more the Communists hope to persuade moderates and leftists to make common cause with them. By 1969 the Portuguese party already had achieved something akin to a united front with the Socialists and even some Catholic organizations. The technique is classic.

Spain's Communist party, numbering only about 7,000 hard-core members, also has been working to achieve a united front while it labors underground for influence among youth, trade union and other social groupings. It has been encouraged lately by a wave of unrest that followed the assassination of the prime minister last December by Basque terrorists.

Georgine Wins High AFL-CIO Position

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert A. Georgine, a Chicago native and former president of the lathers union, has been elected president of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department.

Georgine, 41, succeeds Frank Bonadio who will retire June 1. Georgine has been secretary-treasurer of the department since 1971.

Syrian, Israeli Forces Duel

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Syrian and Israeli forces fought with tanks and heavy artillery along the 40-mile Golan Heights front today after mortar duels on Mt. Hermon that lasted through the night, the Syrian command reported.

It was the 57th day of fighting, Syrian Defense Minister

Mustafa Tlas made an inspection tour of Syrian positions on 9,200-foot Mt. Hermon, which overlooks northern Israel and southern Syria. Damascus newspapers said he told troops on the mountain: "Your heroic steadfastness reflects the conscience of the entire Arab nation from the Atlantic to the Persian Gulf. "Your stand also blocks enemy attempts to obliterate the positive results of the October liberation war."

His militant statements coincided with a gloomy mood in the Arab press over Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's efforts to bring about a troop disengagement on the Golan Heights.

The Cairo weekly Rose el Youssef said a Syrian government spokesman told it if Kissinger fails to negotiate a satisfactory agreement, President Hafez Assad would convene an Arab summit conference to "decide on the next stage of the Middle East conflict."

There was speculation in the Beirut press that Syria might call for a new Arab oil ban or a cutback in oil shipments to the United States.

Two Claim Edge In Speaker's Race

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Two House members claim the recent elections gave each of them enough votes to take command of the 1975 speaker's race, and another representative said he gained strength.

Rep. Fred Head, D-Athens, said he has more than 80 "firm votes" pledged to him by his colleagues. It only takes 76 votes to assure victory.

Rep. Bill Clayton, D-Springlake, said the election Saturday boosted his commitments by 12, and this "clearly established" him as the "leading candidate for speaker."

Another speaker candidate, Rep. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, said he has 39 or 40 first pledges and another 15 who rate him as their second choice.

Most Farm-Loss Returns Not Tax Shelters, Study Shows

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new Agriculture Department study concludes that U.S. tax rules do not necessarily create a subsidy for farmers "who depend on agriculture as their major source of income."

Those rules, at the same time, "have created a subsidy to a portion of the farming sector," it said.

Theoretical models using the most popular proposals using farming interests to write off other income show that primarily the very poor and the very rich would have taxes increased, it continued.

The report, distributed Monday, was written by Thomas A. Carlin and W. Fred Woods, agricultural economists in the national economic analysis division of the Economic Research Service.

"In terms of numbers of U.S. taxpayers and amount of non-farm income reported," they wrote after studying 1970 income tax returns, "the majority of farm-loss returns do not appear to be tax shelters."

However, there is some abuse of the farm-tax provisions."

Nearly 1.3 million persons—43 per cent of those filing farm tax returns three years ago—reported losses.

More than 40 per cent of those total losses were reported by persons with less than $5,000 income after adjustments.

But more than 17 per cent of the losses were reported by persons with more than $25,000 in adjusted annual gross income, and this group—5 per cent of those reporting losses—paid 56 per cent of the taxes.

"The higher the basic income," the economists wrote, "the more frequent became the reported farm losses."

If farm losses were limited for tax-deduction purposes to $10,000, $20,000 or $30,000, Carlin and Woods found, "such provisions would more or less limit the use of the special tax rules to taxpayers whose primary source of income was from farming operations or whose nonfarm earnings were less than some specified amount."

"Farm-loss limitations would most affect returns with negative basic incomes and those with basic incomes of $25,000 and over," they said.

About 37 per cent of the returns studied reported basic incomes below zero, they found.

If a $10,000 limitation were imposed, the tax liability of the group would have soared from $2.7 million to $74.9 million.

About 19 per cent of those in the above-$25,000 category would have been affected by such a limit, and their taxes would have been $157 million higher.

EPA Criticizes AEC Impact Study On Fast-Breeder Nuclear Reactors

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Environmental Protection Agency says the Atomic Energy Commission has not done enough homework to justify development of the fast-breeder nuclear reactor as the power plant of the future.

The EPA released Monday a critique of the AEC's 2,300-page draft environmental impact study on the proposed development and implementation of the Liquid Metal Fast Breeder Reactor (LMFBR).

Despite its bulk, the AEC study "does not adequately detail the potential environmental impact associated with this proposed federal program," the environmental agency said, adding:

"The draft statement is primarily deficient in its treatment of reactor safety, in potential problems associated with plutonium toxicity and safety, and the cost-benefit analysis."

The AEC had prepared the draft study only under a court order, the result of a lawsuit filed in 1971 by the Natural Resources Defense Council, a citizens' environment group.

It is believed to mark the first time a federal agency has been required to prepare an impact statement under the terms of the National Environmental Policy Act at the outset of development of a complete new technology.

Unlike the present water-cooled reactors, the LMFBR would circulate a molten metal, sodium, through its core and would produce more radioactive fuel than it consumes.

The AEC forecast that commercial breeder reactors could become available by 1987 and some 400 might be in use by the year 2000.

This program would involve small and acceptable environmental effects, the AEC concluded. It said that, for economic reasons, the program should be developed rapidly.

But the EPA said: "In our opinion the draft statement does not support these conclusions because of omissions or deficiencies in the treatment of certain issues."

The EPA said, for example, the AEC statement provided no assurance that adequate safeguards on the system would be provided within commercial cost and resource limitations.

It also cited "a great deal of uncertainty" about the scope of health effects that could stem from widespread use of plutonium.

As for the safety of the breeder reactor itself, the EPA said: "While the draft statement frequently describes what 'must' be done, often it fails to inform the reader 'how' it will be done."

The EPA raised a number of questions about the safety of storing radioactive waste materials that would be hazardous for tens of thousands of years. It noted that "an ultimate disposal method is not available."

Los Angeles Rediscovered Bus Transit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — After 25 years of depending heavily on the car, many residents of this freeway-filled city are discovering a new way to get around: The bus.

There has been a rapid transit bus system in Los Angeles for years, but most persons have found their cars more convenient.

Now comes the 25-cent ride. And for many motorists, hurt by high gasoline prices and spiraling parking fees, the bus and its quarter ride have become too good to pass up.

25-Cent Transportation
On April 1, county supervisors authorized $9.6 million from federal revenue sharing funds to allow riders to go anywhere in an area 110 miles wide and 55 miles long for just 25 cents.

"The 25-cent ride has changed things and brought a lot of people around," says Jack Gilstrap, general manager of the Southern California Rapid Transit District. For one thing, the number of riders jumped 15 per cent.

District officials hope the program will lure up to 25 per cent more passengers by June 30, when the program ends. If supervisors agree on the scope of its success, the program will be continued.

To carry the new riders, the District bought new buses, refurbished 150 old ones and hired 130 drivers to bring the total to 3,000. Buses now carry about 670,000 persons a day, about 75,000 more than before the 25-cent ride began.

10 Cents On Sundays
To increase bus business, Sunday rides were cut to 10 cents. Also, motorists can park free in district lots in suburban El Monte and San Gabriel and ride the buses to Los Angeles via a special freeway lane. The success of the "park and ride" sites has stirred plans for more, Gilstrap said.

He estimates the 25-cent cost replaces $1.32 that commuters used to pay for riding from Long Beach to Pasadena, a distance of about 35 miles. For passengers traveling the 65 miles from San Bernardino to downtown Los Angeles, the fare has been whacked from $2.02 to $1.43. Riders on that run pay the old fare schedule only for the portion of their trip outside Los Angeles County, where the quarter fares do not apply.

State Bar Resists In Suit To Disbar Hill County DA

HILLSBORO (AP) — The defense was to open its presentation today in a civil disbarment suit brought against Hill County Dist. Atty. Frank B. McGregor by the State Bar of Texas.

The State Bar rested its case Monday after calling seven witnesses in two weeks of testimony in 66th District Court.

The suit claims McGregor wrongfully collected fines, penalties and court costs in hot check cases while legal proceedings against defendants were still pending.

A. J. Thomas, a district court clerk, Monday identified for the court records involving such alleged collections.

District Judge Testifies
An earlier witness, District Judge Steve Latham of Whitney, testified that he first became aware of the collections in early 1971 when Sheriff Ray Pettit told him about them.

Latham said he ordered an investigation which led to two suits against McGregor.

Latham, who disqualified himself from the current proceedings, also testified about an alleged 1971 agreement between McGregor and the Hill County Bar Association whereby McGregor would resign from office in return for a no-bill from a grand jury.

A civil removal from office suit was filed in Feb. 1971 and McGregor resigned May 1, 1971.

However, he was re-elected in 1972 and has remained in office.

"If it sounds too good to be true, watch out!"

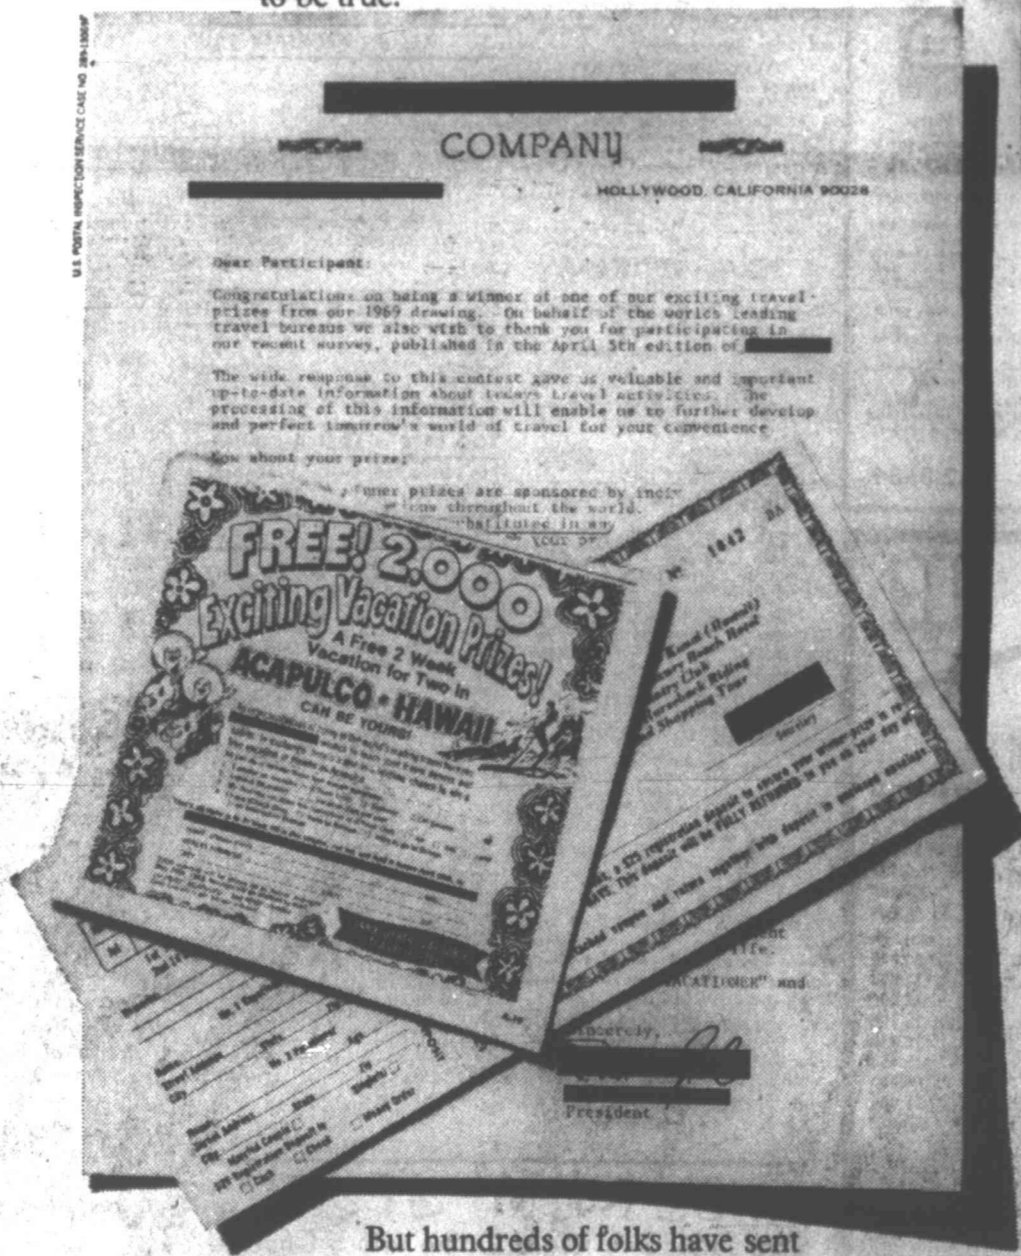

—Postmaster David E. Holster, Midland, Texas

When your mail brings you news of an exciting offer or a terrific bargain, you can almost always count on its honesty. That's because you're protected in many ways from phonies who would use the mail to cheat you.

But sometimes when somebody wants to cheat you, he'll still try to use the mail. And that's where the Post Office comes in—on your side. Some of the schemes we stop are pretty slick. Here are some popular examples to watch out for.

The free vacation trick.

You get a letter that says you've won an all-expense-paid vacation to some dream spot. All you have to do is send a deposit, and you'll get that back when you leave. You're right if you say it's too good to be true.

But hundreds of folks have sent their money, dreamt of far-off places, and packed their bags. They never left. But you can bet the crooks who got their money did.

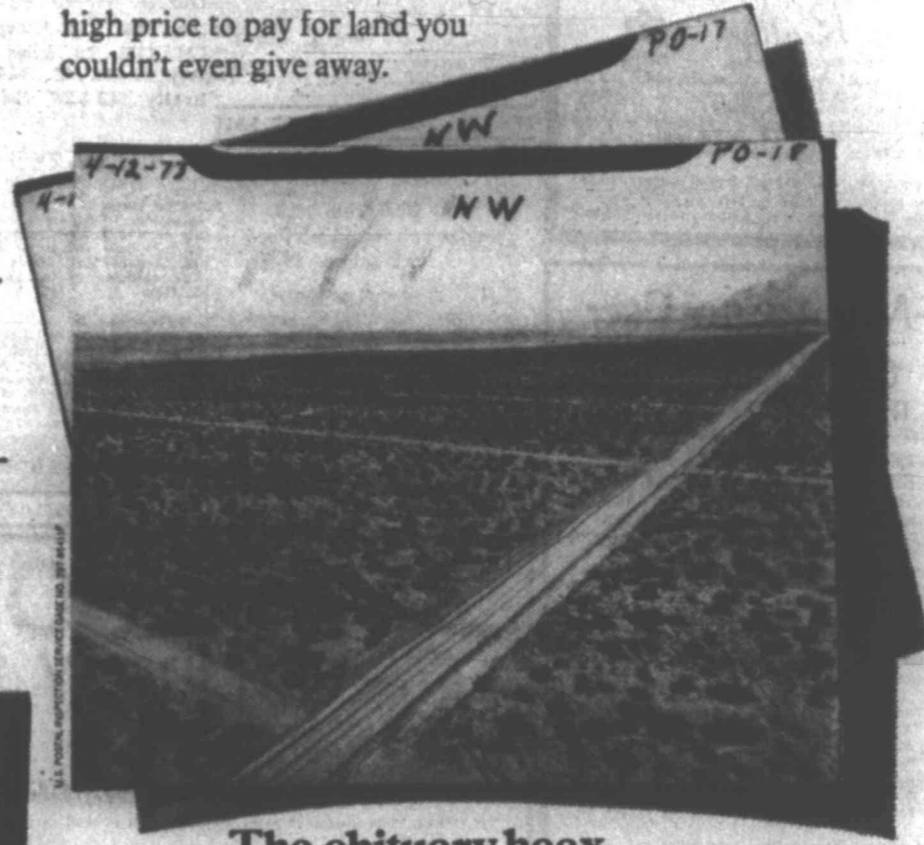

The retirement home swindle.

Maybe you get a telephone call or read an ad that says "Buy a King-Sized Western Estate, Just $1 Down and $10 a Month." The price is so low you might think you can't lose, and you buy the land sight unseen.

A lot of people have done it, and made plans for settling down on their land and building lovely retirement homes. That's before they finally find out the sad truth.

Their king-sized estates are sitting in the middle of a parched desert wilderness, or submerged under acres of smelly swamp water.

$1 down and $10 a month turns out to be a high price to pay for land you couldn't even give away.

The obituary hoax.

Maybe the cruelest trick of them all is a crook who sends COD merchandise to names on the obituary page of the newspaper. One guy even sent out Bibles this way.

He figured a close relative would assume the Bible was ordered by the deceased. And pay for it, no questions asked. Too often, he was right.

We put these crooks in jail.

It's our job to keep you safe from people who would use the mail to cheat you.

There are 1700 Postal Inspectors across the country who do this. And nobody wants the Inspectors on their trail.

Proof is, when a general store with a small Post Office inside was broken into a few years back, the burglars made a chalk line on the floor to divide off the Post Office. They were so afraid of the Inspectors, they scrawled the message: "Inspectors, we didn't cross that line!"

The Inspectors put thousands of crooks out of business last year. And you can rest assured they aren't around to cheat you anymore.

The safest mail in the world.

Thanks to the Postal Inspectors, you've got the safest mail of any country in the world. But be suspicious of something-for-nothing schemes. Never buy land sight unseen. And don't accept COD merchandise you didn't order.

If you should have a question about something that looks fishy, get in touch with us right away. Save the envelope. Save all of its contents. That'll help the Inspectors. And, we might be able to save you from a costly mistake, if the Inspectors are already into the case.

We want you to be able to trust your mail. And we're proud you can.

You have questions.
We want you to have the answers.
