Eddy Gets Discovery Completion

J. C. Williamson, D. W. Underwood & Ralph E. Williamson, Midland have completed No. 1 Ross Draw as a Delaware gas discovery, four miles southeast of the Bushy Draw field of Eddy County, N.M.

Originally filed as the No. 1-A McCarver-Federal, it was temporarily abandoned March 7, 1974.

Calculated, absolute open flow was for 902,000 cubic feet of dry gas per day, through perforations at 3,444-3,464 feet, which had been acidized with 500 gallons.

Drilled to 3,587 feet, it has 5 1/2-inch casing set at 3,983 feet.

Discovery site is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 27-26S-30E, 20 miles southeast of Malaga townsite.

Wildcats Staked In Crane, Howard

Wildcats have been scheduled in two West Texas counties.

J. M. Palmer, Midland, accounted for No. 1 Dawson Estate, scheduled 5,600-foot Crane County wildcat, 3/4 mile northeast of the Tubb and lower Tubb dual discovery in the Eppenauer field.

Location is 990 feet from southwest and 660 feet from southeast lines of section 2, TMR survey, nine miles southwest of Crane.

The Howard County project was filed by Tom D. Fowler of Midland. It is No. 1 Sallie Watson, slated 7,000-foot wildcat to re-open Leonard production in the Morgan Ranch field, 1/2 mile northeast of the depleted dual Leonard and Wolfcamp discovery.

Located three miles southeast of Big Spring, it spots 660 feet from south and 1,205 feet from east lines of section 22, block 32, T-1-S, TPRR survey.

Two WT Areas Get Wildcats

A wildcat has been staked in Garza County and one in Cochran County.

James P. Dunigan has filed an application to drill No. 4 M. A. Parks et al four miles east of production in the Gordon Simpson multipay field of Garza. Contract depth is 8,600 feet.

Location is 660 feet from south and 467 feet from west lines of section 6B3, block 97, H&TC survey, six miles southwest of Justiceburg.

Second Venture... The No. 2 Hudson Trust, scheduled 5,200-foot wildcat, 1 1/2 miles northwest of depleted San Andres production in the Winthrop field, of Cochran County, has been staked by J. V. Atkinson, Midland.

Located 15 miles south of Lehman, it spots 2,171 feet from north and 1,811 feet from east lines of section 11, block P, PSL survey.

Seven Persons Perish In Fire

Glenn, Wallace Capture Victories In Primary Votes

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF AP Political Writer

Former astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. won the Democratic nomination for senator from Ohio on his third try and Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace won re-nomination for an unprecedented third term on the first big Tuesday of the 1974 primary season.

Candidates for three Senate seats, two governorships and more than 50 House seats were chosen as Alabama, Ohio, Indiana and North Carolina held primaries for the November mid-term elections.

Voters in the District of Columbia, meanwhile, gave overwhelming approval to a charter that restores a measure of self-government to the nation's capital for the first time in a century.

The 52-year-old Glenn, who 12 years ago became the first American to orbit the earth, showed surprising strength in Ohio's urban areas to end the brief Senate tenure of Howard M. Metzenbaum, appointed last December when Republican William B. Saxbe resigned to become attorney general.

Opposed by organized labor and the state Democratic organization, Glenn projected himself as a symbol of integrity in the year of the Watergate scandal while Metzenbaum suffered from the disclosure that he paid no federal income taxes in 1969 because of business losses.

Glenn will be favored in November against Republican Mayor Ralph Perk of Cleveland, easy victor over Peter E. Voss of Canton.

The nominations for governor

In Ohio were won without difficulty by Democratic Gov. John J. Gilligan and former Republican Gov. James J. Rhodes, his predecessor.

In Alabama, Wallace easily outdistanced four other Democrats. He faces Republican Elvin McCarry in November while seeking to lay the groundwork for another presidential bid in 1976 despite the 1972 assassination attempt that left him partially paralyzed.

Democratic Sen. James B. Allen, a Wallace ally, easily won his bid for re-nomination and is unopposed in November for a second six-year term.

In North Carolina, where veteran Democratic Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. is retiring, Atty. Gen. Robert Morgan was leading a field of 10 but it was unclear whether he could surpass the 50 per cent needed to win the Democratic nomination without a June 4 runoff. Former Rep. Nick Galifianakis ran second.

State Rep. William E. Stevens, a furniture manufacturer and brother-in-law of Rep. James Broyhill, R-N.C., won the GOP primary.

In Indiana, the only contests were for House seats and all incumbents were re-nominated. Senate candidates will be chosen at later party conventions with Democratic Sen. Birch E. Bayh expected to face a stiff challenge in November from Republican Mayor Richard Lugar of Indianapolis.

In the Ohio Senate contest, Glenn reversed the result in the 1970 Democratic primary captured by Metzenbaum, 56, who lost that year's general election to Republican Sen. Robert Taft Jr.

Glenn ran almost even with Metzenbaum in the senator's home city of Cleveland and won Columbus and Dayton, which he lost in 1970. Metzenbaum (See GLENN Page 10A)

Kissinger Flies To Damascus With Israeli Pullback Offer

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger flew back to Damascus today with a new Israeli offer to pull back some of its forces on the Golan Heights.

Sources here expressed doubt that President Hafez Assad's response would be favorable, and U.S. officials said for the first time that Kissinger plans to pursue his disengagement diplomacy into next week, suggesting success, but only after prolonged negotiating.

Syrian sources said agreement was near on a U.N. force to man the neutral zone between the two armies, and it was understood the only remaining problem on this point was terminology.

Authoritative sources said Syria, in an apparent move to bring pressure on Israel, called for an emergency summit conference of Arab heads of state to reassess the Middle East situation.

The sources said Assad intends to ask the Arab leaders to voice their solidarity with Syria's position in the Golan conflict.

A summit conference had been scheduled for September but Arab leaders had authorized Syria to advance this date "if it deemed an earlier summit necessary."

No date or site for the conference has been set, the sources said.

Before his departure from Jerusalem, Kissinger held another meeting with Premier Golda Meir and her chief aides. They supplied him with a set of maps detailing the new Israeli offer.

Sources in Jerusalem said Israel was offering to give up two positions near the end of the Syrian territory it captured in the 1967 war. But it specified that they would be part of the United Nations buffer zone to be established between Syrian and Israeli forces on the heights.

The sources in Jerusalem gave this outline of the latest Israeli proposals to separate Israeli and Syrian forces:

1. The eastern sector of Kuneitra, the Golan Heights capital a mile behind the 1967 cease-fire line, would be included in the buffer zone. Syrian civilians would be allowed to return to the devastated, abandoned (See HENRY Page 10A)

Five Are Hurt At Apartment

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Seven persons were killed and five others hospitalized as a result of an apartment-house fire, officials said.

Six bodies were recovered late Tuesday night and the seventh victim was found this morning on the third floor of the four-story brick structure in the Fair Haven section, a Fire Department spokesman said.

He said the first of three alarms was sounded at 11:25 p.m. Tuesday and the dwelling was engulfed in flames when firemen arrived.

Identities of the victims were not released immediately.

Police said at least two persons were in serious condition, one a woman who jumped from a third-story window with her clothes on fire.

Two children were saved when their mother tossed them into the arms of someone on the ground, police said.

Vacationers Beware: Keep Eye On Gas Gauge And Prices

By CRAIG AMMERMAN Associated Press Writer

Americans planning a vacation trip this summer should be prepared to pay more, start planning sooner and keep a careful eye on the gas gauge.

A nationwide Associated Press survey shows that families are not being scared away from planning summer vacations by high gasoline prices and the memory of winter shortages. But tourism officials say the summer vacationer plans to travel a shorter distance to find his spot in the sun and to stay up longer once he gets there.

The sharp increases in the price of food and energy will hit the summer traveler hard.

Some vacation areas report food and beverage prices up 20 per cent over last year, and federal officials foresee an average nationwide price for gasoline of 60 cents a gallon this summer, up from the current average of 54 cents for regular and 58 cents for premium. Some tourist areas predict it could go as high as 70 cents. Motel and hotel prices are also up in most tourist areas, but not significantly.

The overall effect means you'll pay up to 20 per cent more for the same vacation you took last year.

Many tourist areas suffered between a 20 and 40 per cent decline in business during the winter. But by April most reported business nearly normal again, and some expect a record summer.

The AP survey showed that traveling on Sundays could mean risking running out of gasoline this summer. There will be fewer gasoline stations open on Sundays for two reasons: (1) many stations do not need that day to sell their monthly allocation, and (2) some owners have gotten used to having Sundays off and aren't anxious to work. The American Automobile Association said Tuesday a survey showed 39 per cent of the nation's service stations open Sundays.

The AP survey also shows that most tourist areas have increased their advertising budgets and concentrated their messages much closer to home. Cape Cod resorts, for example, are advertising in a 300-mile radius instead of a normal 700 miles.

Major tourist areas such as Cape Cod, the Poconos, the Smoky Mountains, Southern California and the lake areas of Michigan and Wisconsin are running ahead of or even with 1973 on advance bookings. These areas said some persons who stayed only three or four days in the past are now making reservations for two weeks.

The economical traveler can cut costs. The AP survey found that in some areas the smaller motels and hotels had been hardest hit by the energy crisis and are less likely to be booked for the summer.

And special deals are available in most areas to tourists seeking them. Some of these offer extra nights in motels free of charge if tourists stay a certain length of time. Others include free rooms for children under 12 and free tickets to local points of interest. Tourists seeking these deals should check with chambers of commerce, travel agents and tourist bureaus.

The major concern is the availability of gasoline. Most officials say they're cautiously optimistic there will be enough. However, there is at least a possibility there won't.

The Federal Energy Office says the outlook for summer is that gasoline supplies will be 4 to 6 per cent below potential demand—the amount used in normal times. A recent AP survey showed that citizens are returning to their normal driving habits. If that continues the chances of spot gasoline shortages this summer are strong.

The energy office suggests that travelers seeking information on gasoline check with the American Automobile Association or phone ahead to their destination before leaving.

Some tourist areas—the Berkshires in western Massachusetts and Finger Lakes in New York are two—are setting up hotlines to dispense gasoline information. The Berkshires Hills Conference is offering to buy dinner on Monday nights for

Meeting Set To Map Out Court Battle On Tapes

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House lawyer James D. St. Clair informed U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica today that President Nixon will turn over no more Watergate tapes, and Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski said he would continue the court fight to get them.

Sirica issued a statement after a meeting in his chambers saying he would meet with lawyers in the case Friday to map out the impending court battle.

He said a hearing in the case was still set for 2 p.m. EDT Monday.

St. Clair announced at the White House Tuesday that attempts at working out a compromise over Jaworski's subpoena for tapes and documents covering 64 White House conversations had been terminated and that Nixon would fight the case to the Supreme Court if necessary.

"Mr. St. Clair, special counsel to the President, and Mr. Jaworski, special prosecutor, visited the court this morning to formally advise Judge Sirica that the President intends to pursue his motion to quash the special prosecutor's subpoena to him and that the special prosecutor will continue his efforts to enforce compliance with the subpoena," Sirica's announcement said.

"The court intends to meet on Friday, May 10, with all attorneys who are participating in litigation regarding the subpoena in preparation for oral arguments scheduled for 2 p.m., Monday, May 13," Sirica added.

St. Clair declined to say Tuesday what Nixon would do if the Supreme Court should rule against him, saying "it is rhetorical and hypothetical and I don't think we will get to that point."

St. Clair also said Nixon would give no more tapes to the House Judiciary Committee for its impeachment inquiry.

The committee has requested tapes of about 75 Watergate-related conversations, besides the 42 for which it was given White House-edited transcripts instead of the tapes.

Asked what Nixon would do if the committee issues another subpoena demanding tapes, St. Clair said he would "respectfully decline to comply."

If the committee persisted,

St. Clair said, "Then, we're going to have a confrontation because the President is firm in his resolve that he already has told the facts."

The last tapes confrontation came last fall when Nixon ordered then-Special Prosecutor Archibald Cox fired rather than give him tapes subpoenaed for the Watergate grand jury.

Ultimately, Nixon gave up the tapes rather than risk a Supreme Court test. Since then he has given the prosecutor's office other tapes for a total of 19.

By a party-line, 20-18 vote the committee declared Nixon guilty of non-compliance with its subpoena for the 42 tapes and many members believe that in itself could be an impeachable offense. But St. Clair said he did not think failure to supply the tapes was an impeachable offense.

Neither Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., nor ranking Republican member Edward Hutchinson of Michigan had any immediate comment on the latest White House edict.

However, Rep. Tom Railsback, R-Ill., a committee member, called St. Clair's announcement "most unfortunate."

"This decision is certain to provoke a confrontation with the Judiciary Committee, the end result of which will certainly be bad for the country as well as for the Republican party," Railsback said.

Pevehouse Named President Of MC Foundation

The Midland College Foundation has been formed officially and B. J. Pevehouse, president of Adobe Oil & Gas Co., is its first president.

The foundation will work in an advisory capacity for the college trustees, as well as receive, hold and manage property and contributions donated to the college.

Raising $400,000 for the college building program is the first task of foundation. The organization reportedly already has about $200,000 of the total needed to supplement other funds for construction of the next three buildings on the new college campus in North Midland.

Other foundation officers include Mrs. J. Howard Hodge, secretary-treasurer, and members Hamilton McRea, Reagan H. Legg, William Marshall and John L. Cox.

"I am extremely pleased to be associated with the Midland College Foundation," Pevehouse said. "Midland College has the potential of meeting the educational and training needs of the community."

"We are enthusiastic about the Midland College Foundation and the interest shown by the outstanding citizens who are members of it," said Legg, who is also president of the college board of trustees. "We are very grateful for their assistance in raising the money to allow us to go forward with our building program."

Foundation members are appointed by the college trustees and will meet at least four times a year. Terms of the original board will be staggered from one to three years and all subsequent members will serve three-year terms.

Congress May Actually Change Tax Laws Now

By CARL C. CRAFT
WASHINGTON (AP) — After all the talk about tax reform, Congress this year may get around to changing the tax laws.

Although revisions in the tax code are expected to be somewhat limited, some of the deadwood may be trimmed from the tax books and older folks may get a break on April 15.

The House Ways and Means Committee, the panel which originates tax legislation in Congress, is expected to find tough sledding when it comes to rewriting the law on capital gains, estate and gift tax, and the so-called minimum tax.

Reforms In 60 Days
The committee hopes to produce its general tax reform measure within 60 days. Although some tax measures may have to be dropped as consideration continues, the panel currently hopes to review laws ranging from property tax relief for the elderly to tax treatment of political parties and property contributions to them. Other items for study include general tax simplification, amortization provisions, various tax shelters, accrued vacation pay, retirement income credit, taxation of single persons and married couples, depletion allowances for minerals, deduction of expenses for resort homes, business use of the home, expenses for attending conventions outside the United States, and cutting Social Security taxes.

The committee plans to get into the minimum tax on preferential income, which is a 10-per-cent levy on such things as special treatment of capital gains, and to the associated problems of tax shelters to reduce tax liability. The panel specifically is expected to examine such areas relating to real estate, natural resources, farm operations, and investment interest.

The minimum tax on tax-preference income, a levy passed in 1969, is a relatively low tax on otherwise sheltered income. Under it, a taxpayer may subtract ordinary taxes paid and $30,000 from this preferential income and then pay a 10-per-cent tax on the rest. Tax shelters involve cases where someone becomes a passive partner, buying an interest, for instance, in some farm operation in order to take advantage of provisions really intended for farmers. The shelter is a way of converting income into capital gains, which then are taxed at a lower rate.

Areas Of Attention
Some changes may be made in the tax treatment of capital gains — the profits on the sale or exchange of a capital asset such as stock or a building held mainly for resale.

Other areas expected to get attention from the committee: —Singles and married people. In an effort to reduce tax discrimination against singles, Congress changed the law in 1969 in a way that, for many married couples, where they both have substantial income, they pay more tax than they would pay if they were not married and had such income. Critics thus say the law may be offering a bit of encouragement to "live in sin."

—Political parties. Various tax treatment questions are involved, such as the tax liability of parties generally, and the treatment of gifts of property that had increased in value. —Resort Homes. Some tightening is expected on deductions allowed on so-called resort homes and similar property that is rented only briefly.

—Business use of the home. Letter guidelines may emerge from this study of who is entitled to take a deduction for some work-connected expenses of maintaining an office at home. —Conventions abroad. Expense deductions for business conventions held outside the United States, permitting many to get a foreign trip at virtually no cost to themselves, could be altered.

C. J. Kelly

Kelly To Head MS Drive Here

C. J. Kelly, president of the First National Bank of Midland, for the second year in a row will serve as chairman for the Midland Multiple Sclerosis Campaign.

He will head the May 20 appeal to seek funds for the support of the Permian Basin Chapters patient service activities and to advance the society's research program.

He said, "Though 40 per cent of our funds, each year, are apportioned for our research program, the bulk of the contributions stay in the chapter area for the patients physical aides, such as wheelchairs, walkers, hospital beds and hydraulic lifts — as well as counseling, visits, "get together," information programs and many other services to enable them to continue to function as well as possible within their limitations."

Progressive Disease
Multiple sclerosis is a progressive disabling disease of the central nervous system (brain and spinal cord). It attacks the substance which protects nerve fibers so that message impulses controlling the functions of seeing, walking, speaking, movement and balance are distorted, sometimes even blocked.

Most MS victims are diagnosed when they are young adults — between the ages of 20 and 40 — in the years which should be the most vital, most productive to families, communities, and nation.

"If we are to extend our local programs, we need the entire community's support. Your help means more hope and more help for our local M.S. patients, and more research to find the cure of this dread disease," Kelly said.

Dear Abby

Don't Monkey Around With Chimps

—By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I hope you won't laugh when you read this because I am sincere. I love all animals, but I am especially fascinated by chimpanzees. I go to the zoo and watch them for hours.

I would like to own a chimp as a pet, but don't know where to buy one. How much would a young chimp cost? Are they hard to care for? What do they eat? Would I need a heated cage to keep one in Ohio?

Any information you can give me on chimps would be greatly appreciated.

LOVES CHIMPS

DEAR LOVES: According to John Fletcher, head zoologist at the Como Park Zoo in St. Paul, Minn., chimps are presently in very short supply. When available for circuses, zoos or behavior research, a young chimp costs between $800 and $1,000.

Dr. Fletcher informs me that a single chimp would not make a very good house pet, because when a chimp reaches sexual maturity he becomes frustrated, ill-tempered and unpredictable. So the word from here is, don't monkey around with chimps or you'll have nothing but problems.

DEAR ABBY: Billy and I have been married a year. I am 29 and Billy is 22. We get along fine. The problem is Billy's mother, who lives near us. Billy gave her a key to our house so she can get in in case of an emergency or so if we go out of town, she can come in and water our plants. We have never had an emergency and we don't go out of town that much.

Several times after we've gone to bed his mother has walked right into our bedroom without even knocking. She says she got "lonesome" or she had something to tell us. What she had to tell us could have waited until the next day.

I didn't expect our honeymoon to last forever but I can assure you, it has ended because all I have on my mind is worrying that his mother will come walking in on us.

I have told Billy to ask his mother for our housekey, but he says he doesn't want to hurt her feelings. I don't want to ask her for it because I don't

FRAIDY CAT

DEAR CAT: Don't be afraid. You are entitled to your privacy, so if Billy refuses to ask his mother for the key, you ask her. Tell her if you leave town you'll give her the key. And if you can't do that, get a bolt and chain for your bedroom door.

DEAR ABBY: Magazine rippers is (or is it "are?") my problem. I operate a beauty salon and keep up-to-date magazines for my patrons. It takes only one or two magazine rippers to ruin the magazines for everyone else.

Not only do they tear a small piece out of one page, they rip out entire articles and consequently the whole magazine falls apart!

I have put up signs asking people to please leave the magazines whole. Or if there's something they can't live without, all they have to do is buy one at the store, or ask me to save it for them, and I will.

I'm sure many businesses have this problem. I just hope the offenders will read this—and maybe you can add something to help us out.

DISTRESSED IN WASHINGTON

DEAR DISTRESSED: If you've posted signs you've done all you can do, but as one who has been the frustrated victim of magazine rippers, may I add my plea: PLEASE, either copy the recipe you want or buy another magazine (if it's still available). If it isn't, ask the manager to please save it for you. (P.S. You could also clip this and post it where it will be seen. Good luck!)

Problems: You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Use For Flavor

If you have a little leftover meat, not enough for the basis of a main dish, use these small amounts for flavor and whatever protein they add to other foods. Bits of cooked meats are fine for seasoning scalloped potatoes, macaroni and salads.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Discolored Cloths Distress Student

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Association

DEAR POLLY—As a college student who must do her own laundry and no longer rely on the family laundry service I have become more caring about the state of my clothing. One distressing problem is what to do about gray and yellow perspiration and deodorant underarm stains on underclothes and white blouses. In this such a hopeless situation that the clothes will have to be discarded? I know many products are now nonstaining but it is too late as far as my clothes are concerned. Is there a quick and easy way to re-whiten them? Please send me some help! — SARAH.

DEAR POLLY—My Pet Peeve concerns the cards put on flowers sent to funerals. Those who write "thank you" cards find it very hard without addresses. It would be greatly appreciated if the florists would put the address on the card along with the name of the sender. — MARSHA.

DEAR POLLY—Betty wanted to know if ironing would take the permanent press out of permanently pressed clothes and the answer is "No" judging by my experience. We have tried it many times and nothing has gone wrong yet. — KATHY.

DEAR POLLY—We all know how children love to get mail. When my niece was nearly three I started sending her picture postcards of flowers and animals. (Polly's note: Usually such cards identify the flower or animal and tell a bit about them.) As time went on she looked forward to the cards and was proud of her collection and could name every flower and animal. When her younger brother reached the same age I started sending him cards with pictures of Indians, trains and cars. Each had the fun of getting his or her own mail and has a personal collection of cards that are a source of education as they awakened their interest in nature, wild

MAY END IN SUPREME COURT THIS TIME—

Subpoena Stand Looks Like Replay Of 1973 Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The newest White House stand against yielding subpoenaed tape recordings looks like a replay of last year's battle in the courts. But this time it may end up in the Supreme Court.

Last year's drama moved through the U.S. District Court, then the U.S. Court of Appeals before the White House suddenly reversed its stand and yielded.

It cost Archibald Cox his job as special Watergate prosecutor, led to the resignations of the attorney general and his deputy and stirred impeachment talk.

The current revival, also involving a subpoena against President Nixon for Watergate tapes, has a new presidential lawyer and a new prosecutor in the starring roles.

James D. St. Clair, the Boston trial attorney who replaced constitutional scholar Charles Alan Wright at the White House, announced Tuesday that "the President decided we would not be willing to come to an accommodation on that matter and it will be pressed."

He was talking about White House efforts to quash the sixth of the subpoena series against the President—this one demanding tapes to be used as evidence in the Watergate cover-up trial next September.

Cox's successor, Leon Jaworski—also a skilled trial lawyer—had foreseen the possibility of such a move in his original request to U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica for court backing. He said he was asking the subpoena far in advance of trial so that any protracted court fight wouldn't result in a delay.

St. Clair, too, signaled his intention to carry on the fight in his motion to stop the subpoena, referring to the possibility of "going to a court in which Nixon vs. Sirica is not a controlling precedent."

The case he referred to was last year's decision by Sirica that the subpoenaed tapes be offered for his review, so that only pertinent matters would go to the grand jury. Sirica was upheld by the appeals court.

The next step then was the Supreme Court. When it came to a showdown the President surrendered.

With that in mind, St. Clair was asked whether the current hard-line stance would take the matter to the Supreme Court.

"I think it is foolhardy on the part of anyone, particularly a lawyer, to say what he would do under circumstances which may be some time in the future," said St. Clair.

There is a basic difference in the Cox subpoena of July 1973 and the current Jaworski demand.

Last year the subpoena was for evidence to be taken to the grand jury. This one involves evidence to be used against and for the defendants, such as H. R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman, who were once Nixon's closest aides.

Jaworski delayed his response to the motion to quash because the White House asked for more time to try to work things out amicably.

It is certain he'll claim he can make a compelling showing of need.

If Judge Sirica agrees, the case will be rushed to the court of appeals and decided there quickly enough so that a further appeal can be made to the Supreme Court before it recesses in June.

Panel Okays Funds To Upgrade Bus Firm In Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — The review committee of the Houston-Galveston Area Council (HGAC) has approved a City of Houston request for $10.7 million in federal funds to upgrade the new city bus company.

The HGAC executive committee will consider the proposal at its meeting May 21.

The city recently agreed to purchase the financially troubled Rapid Transit Lines, Inc., for $5.3 million.

The $10.7 million would be used in a $13.4 million project to buy 100 new buses and refurbish 246 buses acquired from Rapid Transit. The city would make up the difference in the cost of the project.

The HGAC is a 13-county regional planning agency that acts as a clearing house for federal funds. The city's request goes to the U.S. Department of Transportation for consideration if finally approved by the HGAC.

Some 10,000 Mounties now enforce federal laws in Canada.

No-Confidence Vote Slated In Canada

OTTAWA, Canada (AP) — Canada today faced the prospect of a general election in July as the House of Commons prepared to vote on a motion of no confidence in Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau's minority government.

The motion was introduced by the two main opposition parties.

A crushing blow for Trudeau's Liberal government came during debate Tuesday on the 1974-75 budget when the New Democratic party introduced an amendment strengthening the no-confidence motion introduced by the biggest opposition party, the Conservatives.

The vote was expected tonight.

The 54-year-old prime minister expressed doubt that the socialistic New Democrats and the Conservatives would vote together to oust him. But Conservative leader Robert Stanfield said he saw no difficulty in supporting the New Democratic amendment, which complained that the budget introduced Monday night failed "to apply any measures to help pensioners or others on low or fixed incomes, to deal with the housing crisis and to remove the glaring inequalities in the tax system."

The Conservative motion said the House had lost confidence in the government because its economic plan failed "to propose effective budgetary machinery measures to contain and reduce inflation."

Despite Trudeau's refusal to admit his government was doomed, other Liberal leaders held no hope.

"I don't see any way out," said Bryce Mackasey, a former cabinet minister. "This looks like it."

Trudeau has several options if voted out, but generally was expected to ask Governor-General Jules Léger to dissolve Commons and call a general election. A minimum of 56 days must elapse between the call and voting day, and since elections in Canada traditionally are held on Monday, the most likely date would be July 8.

Trudeau told newsmen after the vote.

OTTAWA, Canada (AP) — The Liberal party has been in office since 1963, and Trudeau has been prime minister since 1968. Under his leadership that year, the Liberals won an overwhelming 46-seat majority in Commons. But four years later the party was almost driven from power.

WILL DISCUSS NEW CABINET LINEUP— West German Coalition Parties To Meet

BONN, West Germany (AP) — The two parties in West Germany's coalition government are meeting today to discuss a new cabinet lineup amid speculation about untold reasons for Chancellor Willy Brandt's resignation.

Finance Minister Helmut Schmidt, the coalition's choice to succeed Brandt, scheduled a meeting with the former chancellor and the leaders of their Social Democratic party.

Foreign Minister Walter Scheel, heading the caretaker government left by Brandt's resignation Monday, called his Free Democratic party, the junior member of the coalition, into a separate caucus.

The two parties were agreed on Schmidt's nomination, and his election May 16 by the Bundestag, the lower house of parliament.

In a televised interview, Schmidt termed the demand of the conservative Christian Democratic party for new elections "completely absurd." He declared that the coalition remains fully able to govern.

Schmidt also said he saw no need to renegotiate the coalition's domestic political program decided upon after Brandt was reelected chancellor in 1972. But he is expected to take a harder line over West Germany's treaty commitments with Soviet Bloc nations.

Brandt, 60, winner of the 1971 Nobel Peace prize for his Ostpolitik policies of seeking détente with Eastern Europe, resigned Monday night in the midst of a scandal unleashed by the discovery that one of his close aides, Gensler Guillaume, was a spy for East Germany. Rumors were rampant in Bonn that the entire story has yet to be told about Brandt's reasons for resigning.

Panhandle Eastern Says Coal Gasification Plant Plans Are To Continue

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co. lost its bid to purchase North Platte River water rights, but officials said Tuesday the company still plans to build a $400 million coal gasification plant in Wyoming.

"We are, of course, extremely disappointed," said Mack Price, a company spokesman.

"It may send us back to the drawing board on some of it, but it won't seriously affect the construction schedule," he added.

The Wyoming Board of Control, which controls water matters in the state, rejected Panhandle Eastern's plan to buy the North Platte water rights of the Rock Ridge Ranch near Torrington, Wyo.

The plan called for removing the water from a point near Douglas, Colo., 65 miles upstream from the ranch, and converting its designated use from irrigation to industrial.

Price said the company is "actively pursuing other water acquisition programs," including well drilling in Converse County. An extensive field of underground water could be opened up if the well is successful, he said.

In partnership with Peabody Coal Co., Panhandle Eastern controls 24,000 acres of coal reserve in the southeastern corner of Campbell County, Wyo.

The company plans to build a coal gasification plant which would convert the coal to about 91 billion cubic feet of gas a year. The gas would be pipelined to customers in the Midwest.

Hoffa Wife, Son Lose Union Jobs

DETROIT (AP) — The wife and son of former Teamsters President James R. Hoffa have lost their jobs with the union and the elder Hoffa said the move was "a complete surprise to us."

Mrs. Hoffa lost a $48,000-a-year job as head of the women's auxiliary of DRIVE, the union's political arm, and Hoffa's son lost a $30,000-a-year post as the union's Detroit regional attorney.

The Teamsters International Executive Board eliminated both positions at its meeting in Dallas last week, abolishing the women's auxiliary and terminating the services of five attorneys on retainer, deciding instead to establish a full-time legal staff in Washington, D.C.

Speaking Tuesday night from his vacation home in Florida, Hoffa said: "All I know about it now is what I heard on the radio, but I'll find out eventually why they did it."

Hoffa said he and his wife, Josephine, who is with him in Florida, were advised of the firings by their son, James P. Hoffa, 33, who telephoned them from Detroit.

Hearsts Offer Reward

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A $50,000 reward for information leading to the safe return of Patricia Hearst was posted today by her parents who haven't seen her since she was kidnaped Feb. 4.

Newspaper executive Randolph A. Hearst and his wife Catherine announced through a family spokesman that no names of informants would be disclosed.

The $50,000 reward, put in a trust account in Wells Fargo Bank, raises to $300,000 the personal funds Hearst has put up in hopes of gaining his daughter's release. The other $250,000 was part of a $2 million food giveaway which failed to convince the kidnapers to free Miss Hearst.

SLA Member May Have Approached Mayor Alioto's Young Grandchildren

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Authorities say a woman linked to the Symbionese Liberation Army may have approached three young grandchildren of Mayor Joseph L. Alioto while they were playing.

The New York Times reported Tuesday that Emily Harris, whom authorities have linked with the SLA, had been identified by Angela Veronese, the mayor's daughter, as the woman Mrs. Veronese saw talking to her three young children. The story also said Mrs. Veronese had seen a car with a woman who appeared to be observing her house.

"I can just say that the story as reported by the New York Times is substantially correct," Alioto said. He added that the police protection which had been given the family had been withdrawn, but that an investigation still is pending.

"It's a pending police matter, not a historical police matter, I can't really say much more now," the 58-year-old mayor said Tuesday night in Los Angeles where he was campaigning for the Democratic nomination for governor.

The SLA, a multiracial group of young persons authorities believe numbers about 25, has claimed responsibility for the Nov. 6 assassination of Oakland School Supt. Marcus Foster and the Feb. 4 kidnaping of newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst.

Lt. Paul Lawler, chief of San Francisco police intelligence, said the incidents occurred on April 17 and April 19.

Lawler said that on April 17 three Alioto grandchildren of preschool ages—Angela, Mia, Joseph and Adolfo Veronese Jr.—were playing on the sidewalk in front of their Pacific Heights home when a young man and woman approached. The woman, pointing to a nearby Alioto campaign poster, asked Adolfo whom it depicted.

Bill Would Bar Campaign Heads From Justice Post

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., says he has introduced legislation to prohibit an incoming president from naming one of his campaign officials as attorney general.

Bentsen cited several attorneys general—including John N. Mitchell and Robert Kennedy—who served as campaign managers for the presidents who appointed them.

The bill would take the Justice Department out of politics and prevent the nation's highest legal office from being conferred as a political reward. Bentsen told a Young Men's Business Club here.

He also expressed distress at portions of the White House Watergate transcripts in which Nixon and his aides discussed compiling dossiers on political enemies and using government agencies for political retaliation.

FOR FULL MEMBERSHIP, EQUAL RIGHTS— League Of Women Voters To Admit Men

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The 54-year-old League of Women Voters voted Tuesday to give men full membership and equal rights.

The 935-433 vote was more than the two-thirds required to amend the bylaws of the national convention of the league, which was formed at the time of the women's suffrage movement.

Harte-Hanks' Board Members Are Re-Elected

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Harte Hanks Newspapers Inc. has re-elected officers and board members at its annual stockholders meeting.

Re-elected as corporate officers Tuesday were Robert G. Marbut, president and chief executive officer; Houston H. Harte, board chairman; and Bruce B. Meador, vice president and secretary. Larry D. Franklin, who has previously held the position of treasurer and chief financial officer, was elected vice president-finance and treasurer.

Board members renamed the league had distributed pamphlets saying: "The League of Women Voters cannot continue to demand passage of the Equal Rights Amendment to not be considered until the U.S. Constitution and not the league's 1976 convention.

The vote was greeted with a standing, cheering ovation by most of the 1,400 delegates. And President Lucy W. Benson announced she had a membership check from the first man to become a voting member — her husband. Men have been admitted only as nonvoting associate members.

"I'm not certain men are ready for the league, but I feel the league is ready for them," Mrs. Benson had said earlier at the league's convention here.

"I don't think men joining would change the thrust of the organization. It seems to me the league would be stronger with an equal membership policy."

Some of the delegates had said men should not be admitted because they would make the organization too political, take over the group and make women uncomfortable.

The Male Suffrage Cause of the league had distributed pamphlets saying: "The League of Women Voters cannot continue to demand passage of the

SOME CONTRACTS CANCELED— All Allotted Military Money For Saigon Is Spent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has spent all of its allotted military aid money for South Vietnam, forcing revision or cancellation of some munitions contracts and a likely suspension of U.S. military help for the Saigon government for the next two months.

While Pentagon officials were stung by the Senate's rejection of $266 million in additional military aid for South Vietnam, they are even more fearful the Congress will make deeper cuts in the same aid request for the coming fiscal year.

In a surprising, successful fight led by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., the Senate voted 43 to 38 Monday to limit U.S. aid to Vietnam to a previously established $1.126 billion ceiling.

The vote caused Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger to order a series of emergency meetings to decide how to react.

Pentagon sources indicated American shipments to Saigon probably would be held up through the end of the fiscal year to remain in compliance with the Senate cutoff.

At the White House, Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren said top Nixon administration officials were "deeply disappointed" in the Senate vote.

He predicted the congressional cutoff would result in a military imbalance in Vietnam as a result of continued heavy infiltration of troops and equipment by the North Vietnamese into South Vietnam.

Though Warren indicated attempts may be made again to raise the aid ceiling, Pentagon sources said no attempt would be made to influence a conference committee of House and Senate members who might consider it again.

Instead, said Pentagon officials, the chief worry is salvaging a $1.6 billion Vietnam aid ceiling for the new fiscal year starting July 1.

The House Armed Services Committee already has lopped off $200,000 of that figure, indicating that any attempt for a substantial military support program for the Saigon government will have trouble in the Congress.

Between now and July 1, Pentagon sources said, all categories of military aid to South Vietnam, particularly artillery rounds, would come under scrutiny. Some arms or ammunition purchases might be diverted in other aid programs to countries such as Korea or Israel.

Crane County Leads In Traffic Deaths For Month Of April

Four persons were killed in Crane County in a single traffic accident last month, rating it highest in non-city fatalities in this 10-county area for April and for the year.

Ector County, however, led in the number of total accidents and injuries.

These are part of the statistics just released by the Texas Department of Public Safety, which counts traffic mishaps investigated by the Department of Public Safety.

Midland County ranked second, and Howard County was third in the number of accidents and persons injured.

Crane County's fatalities were the only ones reported in the area, which includes the counties of Andrews, Crane, Dawson, Ector, Glascock, Howard, Martin, Midland, Reagan and Upton.

Total deaths in these rural accidents the first four months of this year is eight.

In the following breakdown by counties, the first number in each set is that for April and the second number is that for the year.

Kenneth Medwin of Ontario, Canada, was the driver of the other truck.

Tuesday told a reporter that the decision to dismiss the second charge against Favor was made last Thursday by Louisiana Atty. Gen. William Guste and members of his staff.

It was decided that trying Favor on the second charge might be contrary to recent U.S. Supreme Court rulings establishing renewed guarantees against double jeopardy, Thomas said.

Symphony Program Rewarding

The Midland - Odessa Symphony's season-closing concert here Tuesday night was billed as a "Family Night" affair and, to judge from the number of family groups in attendance, it was indeed that.

What the parents brought their offspring to hear was, of course, Prokofiev's famous orchestral fairy tale, "Peter and the Wolf," and very nicely done it was by orchestra and narrator, Mayor Ernest Angelo. But what members of the audience got as a "bonus" turned out to be every bit as worthwhile as the Prokofiev: The Concerto Grosso No. 4 in A minor, Op. 6, of G. F. Handel, and the dramatic and masterful Seventh Symphony of Beethoven.

These three diverse offerings added up to strong program that I found rewarding in its entirety — and in the main very well done. In retrospect, conductor — music director Robert Kreis can, I think, take pride in this, his final concert

Redd Foxx Files Suit For Divorce

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Comedian Redd Foxx has filed suit for divorce and obtained a court order demanding that his wife return $110,000 he says she took from their bank accounts.

Foxx, costar of the television series "Sanford and Son," cited incompatibility in the action filed in Clark County District Court on Monday. The comedian, who also uses the name John Elroy Sanford, married Betty Jean Sanford in Las Vegas in 1966.

commitment to the Midland Odessa Symphony.

Handel's Concerto Grosso, which opened the program, had its lackluster moments, perhaps, but it nevertheless was rich and full-bodied as it should have been, in its Baroque manner. Handel's Twelve Concerti Grossi, or "Grand Concertos," are truly splendid works, and much like Bach's Brandenburg Concerti, they are a kind of temple to absolute music. Hearing the exceedingly lyrical Fourth Concerto was a real treat!

Soloists for the work were violinists Dorothy Craft and Joan Kreis and cellist Arthur Follows. Prokofiev's "Peter and the Wolf" is an enchanting work, a masterpiece of musical imagery, and the orchestra and Mayor Angelo presented it with great verve and élan — not to mention drama. I can't imagine anyone in the audience not being caught up in this delightful little musical treat!

The big work of the evening came last — Beethoven's masterful Symphony No. 7 — and while it was in dramatic contrast to the Handel and Prokofiev, it proved well worth waiting for.

The orchestral segments collaborated to provide a most satisfactory reading of this rather complex symphonic work. This is a work which has a low-key beginning but gradually draws the instruments into total involvement, gathering strength as it goes.

of the work is full of lovely sonorities and subtleties, and the movement concludes with vigor and grace.

I liked the orchestra's reading of the delicate and mordant second movement, the allegretto. The third movement, the Presto, makes some compelling musical statements which please the ear. The concluding fourth movement, the Allegro con brio, seemed less well-defined than the first three sections but this, I think, was due in part to the complexities of the movement — its aggressively bombastic structure and its powerful thrust toward a conclusion of both grandeur and drama. Strings, horns, woodwinds and kettledrums all contributed heavily to the success of this estimable symphonic work in last night's concert.

Tv Coverage To Rotate

By JAY SHARBUTT
NEW YORK (AP) — The CBS, NBC and ABC networks say they've agreed to rotate their live tv-coverage of the public portions of the House Judiciary Committee's impeachment probe, which may start May 21.

Under the rotation system, which the networks adopted last June during the early stages of the Senate Watergate hearings, the networks take turns providing live coverage of each day's open hearings.

Any network has the option of "going live" with the hearings, even on days it hasn't the primary live tv duty. The rotation agreement can be ended at the request of any network at the end of any hearing week.

The Public Broadcasting Service says it also will provide gavel-to-gavel tv coverage of the upcoming hearings. But it says it hasn't decided yet if it'll air the hearings live, or videotape them for replay at night as it did for most of the Watergate hearings.

It appears that live or videotape coverage of the Judiciary Committee's public inquiry into the possible impeachment of President Nixon won't be anywhere as lengthy as the coverage of the Watergate hearings.

Those proceedings began on May 17 a year ago, lasted 53 days and didn't leave the nation's tv screens until November.

A spokesman for the House committee said once the group's open hearings start, "the best estimate is that they're going to run about five or six weeks."

And he noted that the committee's chairman, Rep. Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., "has said he's going to run them (the open hearings) three days a week, morning and afternoon."

The start of these sessions, the spokesman said, may come "the week after next. That's the best estimate right now."

He said the committee may have to close some sessions to the public and reporters if certain testimony might "affect someone's constitutional rights in an ongoing court case or something like that."

"But otherwise they plan on keeping the hearings open."

Watergate... On And On!

Just in case you had any idea that Watergate might depart the scene any time soon... forget it (the idea, that is).

It is reported that a year even will not be enough to complete all the investigations and court battles touched off by the Watergate scandals.

There is the House impeachment probe, for example, along with the special Watergate prosecutor and his grand juries, plus the group of electronics experts examining Watergate tapes.

And don't overlook the upcoming trials of President Nixon's aides. These, and the probable appeals very well could extend the Watergate era for several more years.

As to the immediate future, there seemingly is little doubt that the battle over Watergate tapes will extend all the way to the Supreme Court.

The President, who is an expert at holding the line against pressure, apparently will continue his fight to guard the privacy of tape recordings and documents the White House yet holds.

On the other hand, Leon Jaworski, the Watergate prosecutor, has requested 40 conversations not yet made public. Nixon, however, says he has a constitutional right to refuse the information sought by the subpoena.

All this presents many interesting questions. A Midland attorney, for instance, says he wonders about the effect on possible impeachment proceedings which likely would carry over into next year, with new representatives and senators who have not heard the evidence to date, taking their seats in Congress.

'Lawman Of The Year'

Congratulations are directed to Captain Sid Corley of the Detective Division, Midland Police Department, who last week was named Midland's "Lawman of the Year."

Captain Corley, a veteran of 13 years with the department, merits the coveted award which annually is presented by the Optimist Clubs of Midland at a banquet highlighting the observance of Respect for Law Week.

The 1974 recipient is a dedicated peace officer, highly respected by his associates and others throughout West Texas. He is a graduate of the FBI National Academy, and, in addition to his other duties, serves as an instructor in the police science department at Midland College.

District Attorney Jim Mashburn summed it up when he said, "Sid is one of the finest human beings and one of the best officers you'll ever meet."

Sid Corley has earned the plaudits of a grateful community and its residents.

'They Say They Still Want The Unintelligibles'

BRUCE BISSAT Damaging Testimony From The Transcripts

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Although it clearly was not his intent, President Nixon has given out one of the most self-damaging documents in presidential history in releasing excerpted transcripts of Watergate-related tapes to the House Judiciary Committee and the public.

It obviously does not satisfy the committee's subpoena as it studies the impeachment issue, since the demand was for the tapes themselves and for a larger number than the total of transcripts offered.

Nevertheless, even the transcripts are stunning in their portrait of Mr. Nixon and his aides.

From his first public utterances in 1972 until his release of these transcripts, Mr. Nixon has said he had no prior knowledge of the June, 1972, Watergate break-in. When it became pertinent, he also insisted over and over he had no knowledge of the attempted White House coverup until long after it began.

On April 17, 1973, he told the nation he got his first word on March 21 of that year of alleged grave Nixon staff involvement in the coverup and the varied activities carried out under the generic term "Watergate." It came from John Dean, counsel.

Ever since, he has told us that he then launched his own new inquiry into the matter, told his staff to get the full story out, and ordered all hands to cooperate openly and fully with judicial and congressional bodies probing Watergate.

His amazing 1,308-page document can only be studied piecemeal. It is vital to begin, then, with transcripts of five White House taped conversations which occurred BEFORE March 21 last year—on Sept. 15, 1972, and in 1973, on February 28, March 13, March 17 and March 20.

What these earlier conversations disclose, as transcribed, is that the President learned before March 21, 1973, that at least one White House aide knew of Watergate at a presumably critical stage, that several key White House aides, operatives and consultants played either commanding or field roles with the President's reelection committee usually held responsible for Watergate, that the whole of his people's plans for 1971-72 embraced a great sweep of activities — including an undercutting of the Democrat's campaign and the break-in at the California office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

Yet, perhaps far more damning than anything in these and many other conversations is the overwhelming evidence that the President and others were at all times dominated by an overriding concern that the Watergate story be confined narrowly to the 1972 burglary and that the White House connection with it and other harmful events be either squelched totally or sharply minimized.

In a following report, I'll set your money.

RAY CROMLEY Do The Bureaucrats Call All The Shots? Well...

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Much has been written on the growth of presidential power. What may have actually occurred is a major decline in that power, especially as it applies to domestic problems.

That power has not gone to Congress. But Congress has been responsible for the whittling away of the president's prerequisites, a whittling that has been keenly felt by Presidents Kennedy, Johnson and Nixon, and by earlier occupants of the White House.

This whittling began almost immediately after President George Washington's terms ended. Washington, according to reports, had complete authority over all federal officials and their duties. But Congress, in 1799, began a practice, enlarged in the years since, of vesting statutory powers in agencies or in their heads, rather than in the president.

Two Supreme Court decisions, one as late as 1935, have confirmed this right of Congress to vest powers in agencies to be exercised on their own responsibility — except for some military and foreign affairs and domestic matters of high policy.

Additionally, so much of the budget is fixed these days that changes any president can make are minimal, even with congressional consent.

It is no wonder that presidents spend much of their time in foreign affairs, sometimes to the neglect of economic and domestic problems. For it is only in foreign and related military matters that presidents have held their power and perhaps increased it. This tendency may account for the poor record of most recent presidents in dealing with the economy.

There has, over the years, been a parallel strengthening of the power of the civil service and the positions of senior civil service employees. The objective has been to prevent the corruption, inefficiencies and inequities of the spoils system. The result has been, in essence, to create a fourth branch of government, almost partly independent of the president and Congress.

Department heads are, in considerable measure, prisoners of their permanent staffs. The man at the top ordinarily must work with what the permanent officials give him. Proposals he disagrees with can take endless months to carry out, and in the process, can be so changed that the original purposes may be smothered.

Even so able an administrator as Deputy Secretary of Defense David Packard quit because he came to the conclusion he couldn't get a handle on the bureaucracy.

Department and agency chiefs, and the politically-appointed assistants they bring in, frequently don't begin to understand the ropes until their short tenures have ended. (One learned study, as a corrective measure, recommends that political officials pledge to stay a minimum of two years.)

By contrast, many civil service employees are on the job 20 to 30 years and more. The able ones, during that period, gain an encyclopedic knowledge of their areas and build loyalties and a priceless understanding of who can do what and who can't. This makes the difference between failure and success in many operations.

Not surprisingly, these men come to believe that no one understands their job and its objectives as they do and that outside interference only muddies the waters.

Some of these permanent staffers have built strong alliances with powerful groups in Congress. These legislators, by working directly with the civil servants, have been able to circumvent more than one President.

We are not talking about the crafty empire builders or inefficient men perpetuating themselves, though both exist in numbers in some departments. Rather, we are talking about men with ability who believe sincerely in what they're doing — but who are unwilling to shift their actions and their objectives to meet the wishes of men they regard as short-term political officials and whose objectives they fre-

Crossroads REPORT
Dear Editor: I see where the Supreme Court chickened out on deciding whether laws against discrimination on account of color apply to whites, which maybe is not a color.

A student who got turned down for a law school because he is white instead of black sued plumb up to the highest court and lost all the way.

Which probably proves that in spite of all the pious preaching by the liberalarian priests, there are times when the goddess of Justice's blindfold slips a little to let her peek. D. E. SCOTT, Crossroads, U.S.A.

DON OAKLEY The Fat Freddies Lose Another One, Don Says

NEW YORK (NEA) — The Battle of Waterloo, they say, was won on the playing fields of Eton. About all that is being won on today's football or baseball field, besides transient glory, are lucrative contracts by the superstars to peddle shaving cream or pantyhoose.

If the commercialization of sports in America were confined to the professionals, it would be one thing. They are, after all, in the business to make money by giving the public what it wants — a winning team.

But Americans not only demand that the gladiators whose salaries they pay must win, win, win. They demand it also of their college teams, their little school teams, even their High Leagues, and woe to the coach who is unable to meet that demand.

More and more educators are beginning to question the assumption that competitive sports build character. They may, indeed, do just the opposite, especially if they are inspired by the kind of win-at-any-cost attitude many Americans seem to have identified with the word "sports."

One critic, a track athlete himself, has been impolitic enough to point out that the first definition of "sport" in the dictionary is "a pleasurable activity." Sport is fun, something worth doing. And, he suggests, anything worth doing is worth doing badly.

Minimal Skills As it is, those of us not gifted with outstanding natural athletic ability are quite early discouraged from participating in sports and are taught to be apologetic about our minimal skills.

Few critics, however, have gone as far as the former supervisor of elementary physical education in Ohio, who recently advocated that all public school team sports be abolished.

The purpose of physical

TIMELY QUOTES

"Five years ago I would have considered a request to make public my personal financial records an invasion of my privacy. But in the light of the scandals of government in recent years, chimaxed by the continuing revelations growing out of the Watergate break-in, I now feel that the invasion of privacy is warranted if the people of this state and this nation are to regain their faith in their elected and appointed leaders." — Ohio Gov. John J. Gilligan.

Since it is preceded by "most excellent," it signifies an officer, perhaps of equestrian rank. The same adjectives are used with Felix (Acts 23:26). It's puzzling. Executive Officers Of Two Oil Firms Defend Profits

HOUSTON (AP) — Chief executive officers of two major oil companies defended current profits Tuesday, saying their companies must generate more money to develop more energy.

Z. D. Bonner, president of Gulf Oil Co. US, told the Houston chapter of the American Petroleum Institute that oil companies have failed to explain to the public just what those profits mean.

Robert O. Anderson, chairman of Atlantic Richfield Co.,

said at the company's annual stockholder's meeting in Houston that record first quarter earnings in 1974 are vital to the future of both the company and the country's energy needs.

Gulf Oil Corp., owner of the domestic operation, Gulf Oil Co. US, recently reported earnings of $290 million or $1.49 per share of common stock for the first quarter of 1974. This was up 76 per cent over the 1973 first quarter.

ARCO reported first quarter earnings of $93.9 million, or $1.65 per share, up 87 per cent from the 1973 first quarter of $50.3 million, or 89 cents a share.

Both Bonner and Anderson said their companies return on invested capital is less than many other major manufacturing concerns.

"The average American does not understand when you talk about return on investment or invested capital," Bonner said. "He thinks generally you are talking about per cent return on sales, or that type of thing."

Gulf Oil said its return on invested capital—the amount of return on money invested in the company—was 13.3 per cent over the past year. Anderson said ARCO had a return on invested capital in the first three months of 1973 of 11.9 per cent, up from 8.9 per cent return in 1972 and the 6.7 per cent return in 1971.

Anderson said ARCO plans to spend $1 billion this year, and must generate capital to fund that expansion and build a good enough profit picture to entice lenders. ARCO needs a 12 per cent return on its investment to do that, he said.

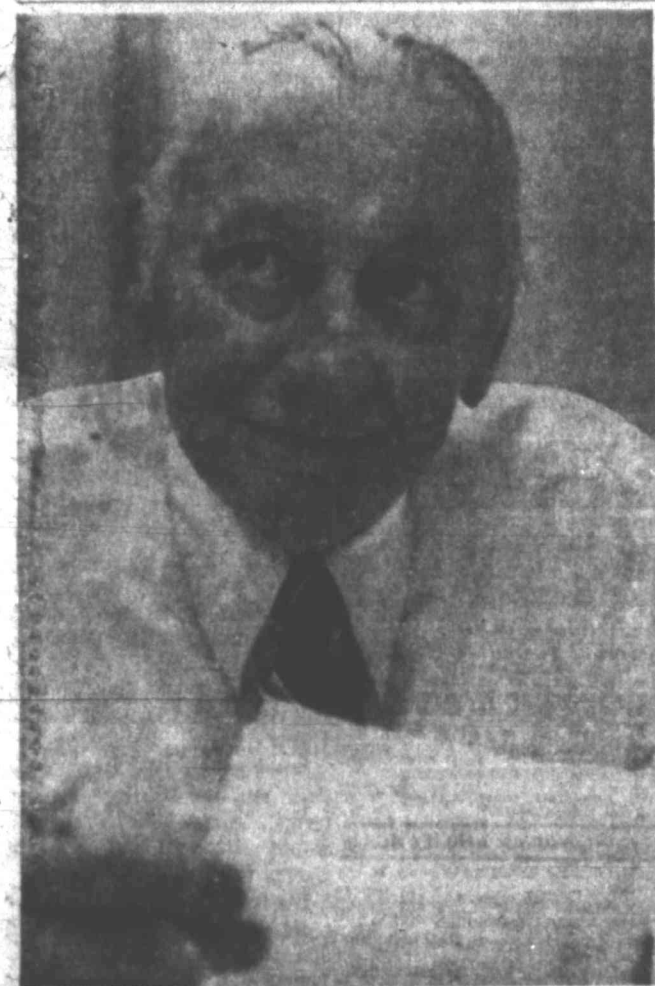

Bonner said for the full year of 1973, the annual rate of return for the oil industry was 18.1 per cent. "This figure was exceeded or equaled by 10 other U.S. industries, not companies, but industries," he added.

At the stockholder's meeting, Anderson also said oil, now selling under price controls in the United States for $8.25 a barrel, must rise to the world price. But he said he does expect the world price of $11 a barrel to drop soon.

"Prolonged departure from world market levels would do nothing more than unbalance the world energy equilibrium and produce a flight of capital to higher-priced markets," Anderson said.

NOT ENOUGH WORK — George Mahin, 64, assistant state comptroller in Illinois, is resigning — because there isn't enough work to justify his salary. "Look for me to stay in trouble," he quipped, "If I'm going to starve to death, I'd rather starve to death that way than be bored." (AP Wirephoto.)

Cold Air Puts Damper On Spring In Northeast;

By The Associated Press

Rain storms rattled through the nation's midsection today, while cold air put an icy damper on spring in the Northeast.

Rain sloshed over parts of the central Plains and middle Mississippi Valley, with more than an inch falling during the evening at Moline, Ill.

Thunderstorms turned into showers before dawn and spread from Ohio and Illinois through Missouri and Kansas.

Icy temperatures continued to chill New England and the Great Lakes states, prompting frost and freeze warnings from Michigan into Massachusetts.

Under clear skies, readings dropped into the lower 30s and upper 20s from Michigan into western New York and Pennsylvania.

But balmy levels in the 60s and 70s were found in the Southern Plains and lower Mississippi Valley and southern California.

Showers and thundershowers also were reported in northern New England, the Pacific Northwest and southeast Arizona.

And late Tuesday, a thunderstorm accompanied by 60 m.p.h. winds dumped an inch of rain on Homestead, Fla.

Elsewhere, skies were clear over the Southwest, the Rockies and from the Gulf coast to the middle and southern Atlantic Coast.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 83 at Needles, Calif., to 24 at Marquette, Mich.

Some other reports: Anchorage 48 partly cloudy, Atlanta 54 clear, Boston 44 clear, Buffalo 34 clear, Chicago 45 light rain, Cincinnati 49 cloudy, Cleveland 36 cloudy.

Dallas 67 clear, Denver 54 clear, Detroit 40 cloudy, Honolulu 76 clear, Indianapolis 50 light rain, Kansas City 60 clear, Los Angeles 47 cloudy, Louisville 50 partly cloudy.

Black Panthers Beginning Voter Drive

HOUSTON (AP) — Stephen Edwards, information officer for the Black Panther party here, says his group is beginning a voter registration campaign aimed at electing a Negro mayor in two years.

Edwards says the Panthers are upset that Mayor Fred Hof-heinz has not appointed a citizen's review board for the police department or lowered bus fares for the elderly.

Hofheinz, elected last December, gained an overwhelming percentage of the black vote.

"We think we have the foundation for a strong minority voting block," Edwards said.

Harris County's population is about 20 per cent black according to U.S. Census figures.

"Minority groups already make up the largest portion of inner city inhabitants," Edwards said. "Eventually, the minority community must seize control of the city government."

Edwards said many social inequities could be cured through political power.

"This voter registration and voter awareness drive represents a new spirit on the part of the Black Panther party, a desire to embrace more strategies to raise black community consciousness," Edwards said.
