Guerrilla Targets Hit Again

OFFICERS STORM HOUSE IN LOS ANGELES—

SLA Members Elude Police Again

WT Sectors Draw Probes

Wildcats have been planned in Reeves, Martin and Mitchell counties.

Texaco Inc. plans No. 1 Keith Gas Unit, a 14,425-foot searcher for gas in Reeves, 2 1/4 miles north of a 16,383-foot failure.

Drill site is 990 feet from south and 1,960 feet from east lines of section 13, block 54, T-7 T&P survey, 13 miles southeast of Toyah.

Martin Try

The Martin venture is planned by RK Petroleum Corp. of Mt. Carmel, Ill. The test, slated to 12,500 feet, is designated No. 1 G. T. Hall, et al.

Drill site is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 4, block 37, T-2-N, T&P survey, 3 1/2 miles northeast of Tarzan. It is 13 miles east of the Ellenburger area of the Lacaff multipay field.

Mitchell Test

Belco Petroleum Corp., Midland, accounted for No. 1 Barkley, a 5,200-foot prospector in Mitchell, six miles northeast of Colorado City.

It spots 660 feet from north and 1,960 feet from east lines of section 20, block 25, T&P survey, three miles northeast of the depleted Trulock (Strawn) field.

Yoakum Kent Wildcats Set

Exploratory tests have been staked in two South Pains counties.

McMoran Exploration Co., Corpus Christi, will drill No. 2 Oil Development Corp. as a 13,500-foot wildcat in Southeast Yoakum County, 1/2 mile north of the 11,550 Strawn opener in the Reeves field.

Drill site is 1,800 feet from south and 467 feet from west lines of section 875, block D, J. H. Gibson survey, nine miles east of Denver City.

Kent Probe

John R. Thompson of Abilene plans No. 1 Drillingham, a 4,600-foot prospector in Kent County, 5 1/2 miles northwest of Jayton.

Location is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 19, block L, H&TC survey, abstract 223, five miles northwest of the Toni C (Noodle Creek) field.

Schleicher Field Draws Fifth Well

The Page Range (Canyon) field of Schleicher County gained its fifth gas producer and 3/4-mile south extension to that pay with completion of Tucker Drilling Co., Inc., San Angelo, No. 3 Page Brothers.

Calculated, absolute open flow was for 1.4 million cubic feet of gas per day, with gas-liquid ratio of 37,200-1. Gravity of the condensate was 68 degrees.

Production was through perforated section from 6,584-6,594 feet, which had been acidized with 1,500 gallons, and

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police fired teargas today and then stormed a house where Symbionese Liberation Army members were believed holed up, witnesses said.

Police entered the house but no one appeared to be inside, witnesses at the scene said.

The teargas canisters were fired through the front windows of the house. Police wearing gas masks burst into the house and began examining suitcases, according to an Associated Press spokesman at the scene.

An FBI agent at the scene declined comment when asked if any arrests had been made or if anyone had been found in the house.

After the teargas was fired, police sharpshooters stationed around the house relaxed and rested their weapons.

As officers moved through the house, they picked up suitcases, satchels and several boxes.

Wearing flak-jackets and carrying shotguns and teargas rifles, officers swarmed around a single-story house in south-central Los Angeles about 6 a.m. Police sharpshooters armed with M16 rifles were seen perched on rooftops, witnesses said.

They moved in several hours after a shootout at a sporting goods store in suburban Inglewood about five miles away. Police and firemen blocked off a four-block, predominantly black area around the frame and stucco house, which is near Pepperdine University.

Police would not specify how many persons were believed to be in the building. Witnesses said no gunfire had been exchanged.

"Some people were followed to this location. We suspect they might be SLA people,"

Hearst from her Berkeley apartment.

The SLA, which police say is a heavily armed group of about 25 persons, has claimed responsibility for the Feb. 4 abduction of newspaper heiress Patricia and his wife Emily, 27.

Police said a man and a woman fled from a sporting goods store in Inglewood Thursday night under a hail of bullets fired by a second woman.

The group then stole two cars in making their escape.

A 38-caliber pistol dropped at the store had been purchased by Mrs. Harris last October.

The getaway car was abandoned and the trio stole two (See SLA Page 12A)

Six Thunderous Explosions Rock Lebanon Capital

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Israeli command said its jets strafed and bombed Arab guerrilla targets in southern Lebanon again today barely 24 hours after its devastating retaliatory attack there. It said all aircraft returned safely after a 30-minute raid.

At the same time, six thunderous explosions shook the Lebanese capital of Beirut in quick succession. One unconfirmed report said anti-aircraft batteries in the port area opened fire on Israeli warplanes.

But Israel said its jets attacked "terrorist objectives" on the western slopes of Mt. Hermon, far south of Beirut.

Radio Damascus said Syrian jets clashed with the Israeli planes and shot one down. The broadcast said the Syrian jets prevented the other Israeli planes from bombing new targets and "drove them off."

Lebanon said the Israeli air raids Thursday were "reminiscent of Nazi horrors" and that the casualty toll "is of a horrifying nature."

"I can safely say scores were killed and hundreds wounded," Information Minister Fahmy Shahin told a news conference.

$15 Million Weather Satellite Hits Snag

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A $15 million storm-hunting satellite soared into space today but fell into a low orbit after its Delta rocket engines shut off too soon.

An hour after liftoff, space agency officials said the 1,379-pound satellite was orbiting too low for its planned role of international weather forecasting.

Delta project manager William Schlinder said, "We still do not know the exact nature of the problem."

Space agency spokesman John Clark said the satellite's elliptical orbit was about 3,000 miles too low for a successful mission.

"It will take some time to decide on our strategy," Clark said.

"We have about three times the amount of fuel needed to accomplish this maneuver and make the corrections needed."

Agency officials said they would try to correct the satellite's orbit with another burst of rocket engines in mid-afternoon.

Whether the engines could be burned long enough to reach the 22,300-mile-high orbit was not yet known, they said.

The Synchronous Meteorological Satellite was one of a new series designed to photograph storms and weather patterns throughout the Western Hemisphere. Data was to be sent every 30 minutes to weather stations.

Japan, Russia and the United States will launch about a dozen such satellites over the next three years in an effort to predict the weather as much as two weeks in advance.

Each satellite, built by the Philco-Ford Corp., costs $15 million. Each launch of a Delta rocket costs $8.6 million.

IN MURDER TRIAL— Combs Jury Begins Deliberations

By TOM MORAN

The jury in the Stephen Max Combs murder trial began deliberations shortly after 11:30 a.m. today in Midland's 142nd District Court.

Earlier, Dist. Judge Perry D. Pickett read the jury its instructions and attorneys for both the state and defense presented final arguments.

Combs, 29, is charged with the July 16, 1970, murder here of Vickie Bernethy.

In his charge to the jury, Pickett said the jury can acquit the defendant, find him not guilty by reason of insanity or guilty of murder with malice, murder without malice or aggravated assault.

In his closing argument, defense attorney Emmett Colvin of Dallas told the jury society has come a long way since persons suffering from mental illness were simply locked up.

"If we are here to do anything it is to reason," he said. "Many years ago we couldn't even reason about someone being insane. We were ashamed."

"We are not that way anymore."

"I am not forgetting that poor girl whose life was snuffed out. But we say in society that if a man is insane we do not punish him," Colvin added.

Defense attorney William Smith said Combs was suffering from delusions at the time of the murder.

Combs told his brother Robert, "Vickie is one of them—they're going to get me," Smith added.

Jerry Buckner, assistant district attorney, said Combs was sane at the time of the murder and the stress of the murder made him legally insane.

"Don't you suppose the amount of stress he was under after he killed her," Buckner said. "Don't you think it would pucker anybody up to kill the only friend you've got?"

Buckner said she was killed because Vickie canceled their marriage plans. "She was leaving him and he did not want her to."

Dist. Atty. James Mashburn said the best evidence about Combs' mental condition was from Dr. B. J. Youngblood who examined Combs only hours after the stabbing.

Youngblood found Combs legally sane at the time of the murder, Mashburn said.

A weak cool front stalled across the Texas Panhandle today and exerted little effect on the summery heat gripping most of the state.

Warm, dry air enveloped the High Plains south of the frontal system and south winds spread uncomfortable humidity over other sections.

Skies were clear over much of the Panhandle-Plains sector and the Lower Rio Grande Valley. It was at least partly cloudy nearly everywhere else.

Early morning temperatures stayed as high as 79 degrees at Corpus Christi and Del Rio. Dalhart in the Panhandle was the coolest point at 55.

Thursday afternoon's top marks climbed to 100 at Childress and 101 at Big Spring.

Little change was forecast—considerable cloudiness in the eastern half of the state, fair in the west and warm to hot in all sections.

Chance Of Rain Is Predicted Here

A slight chance of late afternoon and evening thunderstorms exists for the Midland area Saturday, according to the National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal.

Forecasters put the chance of precipitation at 20 per cent Saturday afternoon.

Otherwise, skies will be partly cloudy today and Saturday, with no important temperature changes expected.

High today and Saturday will be near 100, with an overnight low near 70. The high Thursday was 98, and the low this morning was 72.

New Figures Show Inflation Worse Than First Indicated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prices rose at a 11.5 per cent rate in the first three months of the year, worse than previous estimates, the government reported today.

The rate of inflation — solidly in the double digit category — was the worst since a 13 per cent inflation rate in the first quarter of 1951.

The Commerce Department also reported that the nation's economy — as measured by the Gross National Product — declined by a 6.3 per cent rate in April.

The Commerce Department also reported today that the nation's corporations recorded a 12 per cent increase in after-tax profits in the first quarter, increasing $8.6 billion to $80.2 billion at an annual rate.

The increase was a big improvement over the one-tenth of one per cent rise in after-tax earnings in the fourth quarter of 1973, but the profit figures also reflected the higher cash receipts resulting from inflation.

Much of the gain in the first quarter profits was in the increased value in inventories, the Commerce Department said.

The new figures on inflation and economic growth were contained in the government's revised first quarter report on the Gross National Product, which measures the total value of the nation's output of goods and services.

The figures show that the GNP in the first quarter rose $14.7 billion to an annual rate of $1,352.2 billion. But when the inflation rate of 11.5 per cent is taken into account, the GNP declined at a rate of 6.3 per cent.

The Nixon administration predicts that the first quarter economic slide will come to a halt in the second quarter and will be followed by a resumption of economic growth after midyear.

County Judge Dismisses Sen. Gurney Indictment

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A county court judge today dismissed an indictment charging Sen. Edward Gurney, R-Fla., with an election law violation.

Leon County Judge Charles McClure ruled the indictment was "factually defective."

Defense attorney C. Harris Dittmar of Jacksonville sought the dismissal of the misdemeanor charge against Gurney, a member of the Senate Watergate Committee.

Dittmar moved for dismissal last week on grounds the indictment was vague and unconstitutional. He also charged that the Democratic politician who made allegations that led to the indictment had no factual evidence.

Gurney was indicted by Leon County grand jury last month on the misdemeanor charge. He is accused of violating state election law by accepting campaign contributions without naming a campaign treasurer or setting up a campaign bank account.

Dittmar maintained that state Rep. Marshall Harris, D-Miami, should never have been allowed to appear before the panel because he had no factual evidence to present.

Harris had accused Gurney of admitting during a December news conference that he had violated state law.

Depletion Allowance Repeal Described As Flirting With National Bankruptcy

HOUSTON (AP) — Repeal of the oil depletion allowance could mean price blackmail for gas-thirsty Americans, a top oil industry spokesman says.

In a prepared statement Thursday, George Mitchell, president of Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association, said repeal of the tax break for oil men would be counter-productive to America's goals of petroleum self-sufficiency.

"Any such action, if adopted, would defeat our nation's goal of achieving relative energy self-sufficiency in time to avert the national disaster which is certain to result from our continued dependence on unreliable foreign sources of oil. Moreover, it is a direct threat to our nation's economic and political independence over the long term," Mitchell said.

"The people of this nation must understand that the depletion allowance helps attract the funds needed to find additional gas and oil. Its repeal will indeed provide additional tax revenues for the U.S. Treasury; however, this will not only fail to increase domestic production of oil and gas, it will put us at the mercy of the producing nations in the Mideast and will result in a price blackmail that will make recent pressures seem unimportant."

"Repeal of the domestic depletion allowance means we will have to import even larger amounts of more costly foreign crude oil, resulting in even higher prices for the consumer. More important, our foreign exchange costs will rise dramatically, balance of payments deficits will escalate, and the U.S. dollar, already weak on international markets, will be subject to additional downward pressure. We must realize we are flirting with national bankruptcy," he said.

"So irresponsible is the action by the House Democratic caucus that it would not even be taken seriously in normal times. But some congressmen have become irrational on energy issues, and are unwilling to weigh the long-range consequences of their actions. This is unfortunate for the nation.

"We simply do not believe all these gentlemen can be unaware that they are recommending a disastrous course. It seems, however, that they are willing to risk their nation's security and the well being of their constituents for the sake of political opportunism. This is sheer demagoguery," he said.

USING COMBINATION OF CHEMICALS— Gains Told In Bone Cancer Fight

By FRANK CAREY

DALLAS (AP) — New advances against possibly the worst form of bone cancer in children are being achieved with an oddball combination of chemicals including a physiological "rescue worker."

This was reported today by Dr. Gerald Rosen, a New York cancer specialist, who said the new combination includes:

(1) Adriamycin, an antibiotic drug; (2) cyclophosphamide, a drug related to the World War I nitrogen mustard "poison gases"; (3) massive doses of methotrexate, a drug designed to "fool" cancer cells into believing they need it for nourishment; and (4) a form of vitamin B known as "citrovorum factor rescue."

The latter is the "rescue worker," which serves as a built-in antidote against vicious side effects of the "fooler" drug in the huge doses employed.

Dr. Rosen, of Memorial Hospital for Cancer and Allied Diseases, told about it in a report to the First National Conference on Childhood Cancer sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

He said this brigade of strange chemical bedfellows is used as a back up to surgery. And he said it has significantly increased the "disease-free survival" of youngsters affected with a bone cancer called "osteogenic sarcoma."

The latter is a malignancy which usually affects the body's long bones such as the legs. And it has a great tendency to metastasize—or spread—to the lungs despite surgery designed to remove the original growth.

Rosen reported that during the last four years, 115 school-age children with metastatic disease have been treated with the combination.

And 89 of them—78 per cent—have now remained free of disease from two months to three years.

"Clearly," he said, "it is too soon to make a definite statement as to whether or not advanced chemotherapy has increased the cure rate in osteogenic sarcoma."

"However, at this time, it has significantly increased the disease-free survival in those patients that have received it."

He said that sometimes a drug called vincristine, which is derived from the periwinkle plant, is used in the combination.

The latter is a malignancy originating in cartilage associated with bone, whereas osteogenic sarcoma originates in the bone itself.

Young Kennedy's doctors prophylactic measure against any cancer recurrence in the evidence of any recurrence.

The 12-year-old son of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., had his right leg amputated just above the knee last November after being stricken with a form of bone cancer called "chondrosarcoma."

There have been published reports that methotrexate, the "fooler" drug, and its "rescue worker" antidote, are being employed alone as a purely prophylactic measure against any cancer recurrence in the evidence of any recurrence.

Senate Votes To Keep Most Of Court's Power To Order School Busing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has voted to preserve most of the power of federal courts to order school busing deemed essential to end segregated schools.

That was the final outcome of the latest renewal of the busing controversy on the Senate floor. It required eight roll calls and a mass of parliamentary maneuvering to reach that outcome Thursday.

Both sides agreed that no more busing amendments would be offered in the remaining debate on the $23-billion education bill, extending and revising many of the most important federal school aid programs.

The Senate canceled today's session on the legislation and agreed to pass the measure Monday after a lengthy day devoted to other kinds of amendments.

The fight over busing then will shift to the Senate-House conference on the legislation. The House adopted a far more stringent anti-busing provision than the Senate.

The Senate compromise provision, which squeaked through 47-46, was presented by Republican Leader Hugh Scott, joined by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield.

Its key provisions state that new restrictions on busing in the bill are not intended to limit the power of the courts to order busing if this is necessary to enforce the Constitution.

Civil rights advocates said they did not like the new restrictions on busing in the compromise but regarded it as a satisfactory outcome to the dispute.

The principal new limitation contained in the provision finally adopted is a congressional policy finding that pupils should not be bused beyond the next closest school to their homes.

Texas Senators On Losing Side

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both Texas senators, Democrat Lloyd Bentsen and Republican John Tower, sided with the minority Thursday in voting against the compromise Scott-Mansfield antibusing amendment to the education bill.

The amendment passed 47-46.

BUT ONLY THREE WHITES ATTEND SCHOOL— Town That Originated One Of Desegregation Cases Racially Quiet 20 Years After Historic Ruling

SUMMERTON, S.C. (AP) — "It is amazing to see how the blacks and the whites get along so good in everyday life, but when you mix them in the schools — boom."

That's the assessment of Joseph Richburg, the chairman of the school board in Summerton, S. C., a town of 6,500. Richburg, a black, wasn't referring to violence in the schools but to the state of school integration two decades after the Supreme Court's landmark desegregation ruling.

It was 20 years ago today that the nation's highest court handed down its decision outlawing separate schools for blacks and whites.

At that time, Summerton had schools for blacks and schools for whites. Today, there is one public school system, but only three white youths attend public schools. More than 400 whites are enrolled at the private Clarendon Hall Academy, nestled in a grove of pines on the outskirts of the town.

Of Summerton's citizens, 5,200 are blacks, and the public schools have 2,000 students from the town and surrounding areas.

Richburg, seated in the bar shop he owns and looking out on a quiet downtown street, said, "things are better now than they once were, but there's plenty of room for improvement."

"We have no racial problems in this town. The whites and blacks work good together. By the white people just don't want to desegregate the schools."

Mayor Billy DuBois of Summerton shared Richburg's assessment. "We get along better here, I mean the blacks and the whites, than any place I know of. It's a peaceful town," he said.

But DuBois, whose daughter isn't old enough for school, said he has no explanation for the segregated schools. "I can't say why parents with school-age children don't send them to public school. I'm not in that position as yet."

Several white citizens, none of whom wanted to be identified, said the reason for the whites fleeing to the private school was simply a matter of percentages.

One said, "If the ratio was even 50-50, I might consider sending my kids to the public schools. Now, the way it adds up, they would be outnumbered 6-1 or maybe 7-1 by blacks."

B.O. Butler, the black school superintendent, said race relations in Summerton were excellent and shared the view that whites refused to send their children to public schools because of the large number of blacks.

"Why they feel this way, I don't understand," he said. "I hope one day it will come to completely mixed schools, where our children work and study together as our adults now do."

Richburg voiced this view, too. "It may not be too far off," he said. "It should happen and I think it will happen. Sometimes it takes the white people time to adjust to change."

Not everyone is so optimistic, however. C.A. Ridgeway, the police chief who heads a force of two blacks and two whites, was asked if there will ever be full integration in Summerton's public schools.

"I don't know, I just don't know," he said.

Meanwhile, Summerton's public schools face financial problems and Butler says it's related to the racial situation. Summerton isn't wealthy to begin with — a survey two years ago ranked it 75th of the state's 93 school districts in potential revenue — and Butler said white parents with children in private schools are slow to help the public schools.

"We have enough money to just get by, no more," Butler said. "Our biggest problem is getting the voters to approve an increase in taxes to help the schools."

U.S. Mint Plans 'Get-Out-Penny' Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Mint is planning a nationwide get-out-the-penny campaign in an effort to ease a penny shortage that is daily growing worse.

Pennies are in such short supply that some supermarket chains have asked for permission to use paper script in place of pennies in their stores.

The mint has not responded to these requests, although it promises an opinion soon on whether use of script in such a way would be legal.

Mint director Mary Brooks said the government also has started a study of the nation's coinage, including whether there is need for a two and one-half cent piece to help relieve the pressure on the penny.

The penny shortage is nationwide. Because demand was exceeding supply, federal reserve banks started a month ago to ration pennies to commercial banks.

But the big federal reserve bank in Chicago still ran completely out of pennies earlier this month. A spokesman for the National Association of Food Chains said the shortage is causing problems since pennies are absolutely essential in daily food store operations.

Ironically, the U.S. Mint takes some responsibility for helping create the shortage.

"It all started when we asked for the aluminum legislation," Miss Brooks said in an interview.

"It's a phenomena that when the American people hear there may be a shortage, they create one," Miss Brooks said.

Miss Brooks said there is no real shortage of pennies, they are just not being circulated.

"We estimate there are 30 billion pennies just languishing in people's dressers, unused, and they should be picked up, coffee cans, un-

Price Rollbacks May Be Imposed On Oil Firms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Significant rollbacks of domestic oil and gasoline prices may be imposed on oil companies, energy chief John C. Sawhill said.

The Federal Energy Office issued proposed regulations Thursday detailing how much of foreign oil production costs can be passed through into domestic prices.

The rollbacks may be significant, said William N. Walker, FEO general counsel. But he declined to estimate how much they might be.

Rollbacks could be ordered under the proposed regulations retroactive to last October, when new price regulations went into effect.

About 30 per cent of the crude oil consumption in the United States could be covered by the proposed regulations, Sawhill said.

The proposed regulations define the standards that oil companies may use in passing through to domestic prices the cost of purchasing petroleum from their foreign affiliates, the energy chief said.

The energy office will seek detailed information on accounting procedures used by the major international oil companies on how they determine their foreign purchase prices, Sawhill said.

Midland College Students In Guard For UTPB Rites

Two Midland College students have been named to participate in the first graduation ceremonies Saturday at The University of Texas of the Permian Basin.

Rex Anderson, 3203 Ward St., and Dennis Mitchell, 3214 Frontier St., with Mike Ogle of Odessa College and Thomas McBrayer of UT-Permian will form the ROTC color guard for the commencement.

The four will lead the procession of administrators, faculty and graduates, in ceremonies beginning at 3 p.m. in the university's new Phase I Buildings.

Both the graduation and a reception following are open to all residents of the Permian Basin, said Dr. B. H. Amstead, UT-Permian president.

Tours of the new building will be conducted at frequent intervals Saturday, beginning at 10 a.m. and continuing until 2:30 p.m., for campus visitors.

Midlander On Staff Of UTPB Magazine

ODESSA — Helen Fox of 2100 Western Drive in Midland, is among staff members of "Waterwell," the general content magazine which is being distributed this week to students and faculty at The University of Texas of the Permian Basin.

UT-Permian does not anticipate publishing a yearbook but instead will issue during each year several editions of "Waterwell."

POLLY'S POINTERS

Who Has The Key To Home Lockout?

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — Twice recently I have locked myself out of my house and it is a frightening experience when you cannot get in touch with someone who has a key. Putting an extra key under a rug or on a small nail outside somewhere makes it just too easy for a burglar. Other than keeping a spare key in one's pocket I do not know what to do. I tried leaving my key at a neighbor's house but often no one is at home. I would like to know what other readers do about this. — CLAIRE.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is furnace air filters. They do not come in the right sizes to fit in the furnace doors in trailers. I can get the right width but no length so have used two or three cut to fit. It seems they could make the right size for such use. — MARGIE.

DEAR POLLY — I think the reason Mrs. D. F. F. cannot get the paint to stick is because of the old paint left under it. She could use a commercial paint remover by following the directions that come on it and then use fine sandpaper following the grain of the wood. — ETHEL.

DEAR READERS — A piece of furniture or an area of similar size could have its old paint removed in this manner. Repainting a lot of woodwork could really be a chore. The surface being painted may be dirty. Before painting wash the area with a good cleaner, rinse and then let dry thoroughly. Fine sandpaper used on an old painted surface will make it more receptive to a new coat of paint. Glossy (either semi-gloss or high gloss) surfaces always require dulling by sanding or the application of a liquid deglosser so the new paint will adhere. Dust, grease and dirt must be removed before repainting. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — If your kitchen seems cold early in the morning a small pan of water boiling on the stove will help bring it to a comfortable temperature in a short time. — A. B.

DEAR POLLY — Some of the less expensive children's wash-and-wear shirts turn up from the hemline when worn on the outside of pants, shorts, etc., so they look unsightly. With the zigzag stitch on my sewing machine I sewed bias tape in place on the under side on such shirts just over the hemline where they were prone to fold up. An annoying problem was solved. — DOROTHY.

DEAR POLLY — When traveling and carrying an extra pillow or two we have found that putting a colored pillowcase on such pillows lessens the chance of leaving one behind in a motel, when making that one last check around a room you are leaving. The colored pillow will stand out from the room's all white pillows. This saves time and the worry of having to write back for the pillow. — M. F. L.

Young Artists Present Program At Trinity Towers

The Midland Music Club, Texas Federation of Music Clubs, presented a musical program Tuesday in Trinity Towers.

The young artists performing were Cindy Davis, violinist, accompanied by Mrs. John Stone, who played "Serenade" by Pierre and "Orientale" by Cui-Janis Johnson, accompanied by Mrs. Horace Griffin, singing "Alma Mia" by Handel and "Over the Rainbow;" Mark Vasicek, piano pupil of Rebecca Stiles, who played the first movement of Sonata No. 10, Op. 3 by Beethoven.

Also Lisa Fitzgerald, piano student of Mrs. Hermann Williams, who played "Polichinelle" by Rachmaninoff; Lynn Erwin, piano pupil of Mrs. Harry McClintock, who played "Holiday in Spain" by Gillock, and Marty Connally, violinist, and his instructor, James Gambino, who played the first movement of Bach's "Double Concerto in D Minor," accompanied by Mrs. Joel Adcock.

Approximately 70 persons attended the program.

Mrs. Jackson Named President

Mrs. Harold Jackson was elected president when the Westside Opt-Mrs. Club met recently in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Co.

Mrs. Charlie Goss was named first vice president. Other officers elected were Mrs. Charlie Harris, second vice president; Mrs. Bob Martin, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Don Rogers, historian.

The program chairman, Mrs. Martin, introduced Mrs. Marion Fisher of the Midland Senior Citizens Center, who gave the program.

Mrs. David Hancock reported on the Optimist Clubs' district board meeting, which she attended recently with her husband in Tyler.

Gray Hair Changes Gradually To Young Natural Look

If the years have stolen the natural color and oils from your hair, leaving it gray, streaked, dry, drab, faded, or mousey; simply use Herbold Pomade as your hair dressing. It will blend in lasting color just right for your hair, but will not change its shade; only brighten it.

As grayness gradually disappears your hair becomes lustrous, lively, easy to control, and young looking again.

If you want to, you may leave some gray showing, or keep sideburns gray.

Your improved younger look is so real, so subtle, so gradual, no one notices you are using anything but a fine hair dressing.

Not a coal tar dye, but a special hair cream, that keeps the gray away by replacing lost color and oils, so vital to young, healthy looking well-groomed hair. Start using Herbold Pomade now, as your exclusive hair dressing to keep from looking old and gray. For Men and Women at Drug and Cosmetic Counters.

Buffet, Program Highlight Party

A patio buffet dinner and program by Richard Hinkle on "A Man's World, Fishing for Tuna" highlighted the Twentieth Century Study Club's husbands' party held Tuesday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Aaron, 2601 McClintic St.

"Adam's Rib Honors Adam" was the party theme, and the tables for four were laid with yellow and white daisy cloths and centered with hurricane lamps.

Mrs. W. S. Dill welcomed guests, and the hospitality committee, which included Mrs. Robert Rike, Mrs. Robert Burkett and Mrs. J. R. Wright, was in charge of the dinner.

Hinkle, the guest speaker, will serve his fourth year of the five-year term of the United States Tuna Team this fall at the annual International Tuna Cup Match in Yarmouth, Nova Scotia. Captain of the team in 1973, he has the distinction of having the largest fish ever caught by the U.S. team members, an 883 pound bluefin, in the 1971 match.

Dear Abby

He Wants To Horse Around, Not Get Bridled

—By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a 23-year-old guy with a problem. I was married for less than one year, and it was a disaster. My divorce will be final in three weeks.

I am presently in pretty deep with a chick who is hot to get married as soon as my divorce is final. She's okay to go with, but there is no way I could ever marry this gal. Besides, I want to play the field a while before tying myself down again.

I've tried to explain this to her, but she says: "Don't be afraid of marriage because you had one bad experience. If a person falls off a horse, the way to overcome his fear is to get back on the horse and ride."

Abby, this may be true with riding, but does it apply to marriage?

DEAR TEX: No. Marriage is a horse of a different color. If you want to horse around a while longer, tell that chick to cool it. And don't restrict yourself to one gal. There's safety in numbers.

DEAR ABBY: I have always wanted to make up a problem and send it in just to see if it would get printed, but now I have a real one.

About two years ago I started a pen pal correspondence with a girl in Japan. We are both 18 now. (I'm also a girl.) We exchanged pictures and became very friendly. I just got a letter from her which nearly knocked me over. She says she wants to come over here and spend A YEAR with me and my family! Abby, I would love to have her here for a month, maybe, but I can't have her here for a year.

I live with my parents in a crowded apartment, and it's out of the question.

She says it's her lifelong dream to come to America, and I hate to disappoint her, but I need advice on how to tell her.

STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: Tell her, just as you've told me, that you live in a small apartment, and much as you'd like to have her visit for a year, you're able to extend your parents' hospitality for only one month.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old who is living at home — but I may not be by the time you get this letter if things don't improve at my house.

I have a friend (another guy) who is studying to be a hairdresser. I asked him to bleach my hair and make it a golden blond. My natural color is a dull, uninteresting light brown. I repeat — I ASKED my friend to do this. Nobody talked me into it.

I like my hair this way, but my parents don't. You would think I had committed some kind of crime. My mother said I would have to let it grow out. (As you know, this would look terrible.) My father says I look like a guy who likes guys.

I think it's my hair and I should be able to have it the color I like. My mom dyes her hair, and I'm not crazy about HER color, but I don't hassle her about it. I figure, if she likes it, that's her business. So why can't I have my hair the way I like it?

GOLDEN BOY

DEAR GOLDEN: For my part, you can.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "NOT FOOLED": Don't rely on appearances. The guy you peg as the early bird may have been up all night.

DEAR ABBY: I would love to have her here for a month, maybe, but I can't have her here for a year.

I live with my parents in a crowded apartment, and it's out of the question.

She says it's her lifelong dream to come to America, and I hate to disappoint her, but I need advice on how to tell her.

Ruby Fay Bell Party Honoree

McCAMEY — A bridal announcement shower honoring Ruby Fay Bell, bride-elect of J. Don Shafer, was held recently in the home of Mrs. Jimmy Don Taylor.

Special guests were Mrs. L. R. Bell of Kress, mother of the honoree, and Mrs. G. L. Shafer, mother of the bridegroom-to-be.

The hostesses were Mrs. Taylor, Linda Cheek, Gail Grimes and Kathy Baer.

Receives Degree Mrs. Dennis Rambo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry G. Connell, 1002 Sinclair St., received a bachelor of arts degree from Trinity University during recent spring commencement exercises. She is the former Jane Connell.

Stitchery Topic Of Club Program

Mrs. David J. Cherrington presented a program on stitchery for a recent meeting of the Fine Arts Club in the Midland Woman's Club.

Members displayed stitchery items they had made, and Mrs. Cherrington discussed early day stitchery and compared it to today's methods.

Luncheon Concludes Club Year's Plans Woman's Wednesday Club held its closing luncheon in the Midland Woman's Club, with Mrs. James T. Smith presiding.

Decorations for the event were multi-colored roses arranged in brass and crystal vases on a T-shaped glass table.

ORIENTAL RUG SALE

May 17 and 18

Joske's of San Antonio presents to Midland and its neighboring areas an exhibition and sale of fine hand-made rugs. This special collection of fine and unusual, new and used rugs represents the superb products of Iranian (Persian), Indian, Pakistani, Chinese, Caucasian and Turkish weavers. Each rug is hand-woven in the rich tradition of artisans honored for centuries for their skill.

Choose from a broad spectrum of colors and a multitude of patterns as our experts assist you in making your selection.

This exhibition and sale will be held at the Elks Lodge, 1000 Cuthbert, on Friday, May 17 and Saturday, May 18 from 10 am to 9 pm both days.

Spiritism Active Religion In Brazil

By ELAINE DE ABREU
SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — Spiritism — a religion that believes in clairvoyance and reincarnation — is active in this South American country. But Brazilian mediums are critical of U.S. spiritualists who charge money for seances.

"Mediums should always work for free," said Reinaldo Soares Pinheiro, general secretary of the Sao Paulo Spiritist Federation. "The Gospel says that mediumistic powers are given free. But we know that some mediums in the United States charge for their services."

Brazilian spiritists say they are among the few true followers of spiritual principles codified by French thinker Alain Kardec. Mediums here make it a point to differentiate themselves from most of their counterparts in the United States. "There they call it spiritualism. In Brazil it's spiritism," Pinheiro explained.

One exception is the Christian Spirit Center in Elon College, N.C., which Brazilians say was founded by their most famous medium, Francisco Xavier.

Pinheiro said the North Carolina center is "supervised by Americans who sympathize with our spiritist movement."

Brazilian spiritists say the purpose of their religion is to establish links between human beings and God. One way they try to do this is by communicating with the dead, using clairvoyance — the power of perceiving things not readily noted by the senses — and psychography — the ability to record the words of dead people.

Xavier claims to have both these powers.

The Spiritist Federation in Sao Paulo, Brazil's most populous and industrialized state, was founded in 1906. It seeks to develop mediumistic powers in young people and offers spiritual guidance to the population in general.

Since the federation does not charge for its instruction, it must raise money from donations and an annual spring fair and auction.

Part of the profits from the most recent fair will help finish construction of a new headquarters building for the federation. The rest will go to people the spiritists care for.

"Many persons come to us completely desperate, hoping we can give them orientation in life," said Osvalvia Braz Leonis, an executive of the federation's social department.

"Besides offering them moral support, which is always done through the Gospel, we sometimes give these people financial aid until they are able to support themselves."

from God, a conviction being undermined by modern non-theistic theories of the universe which regard its resources as valuable only as they are useful to society.

"It's that kind of view that is killing us, that is choking us with our own waste," he said in a recent lecture series. "The Biblical view of creation and consumption inspires a more responsible stewardship of the world and its resources."

He said behavioral psychology has some valid insights, but its views denying that people are accountable for their choices in managing the world run counter to the Biblical "covenant" between God and human beings.

"The language of the covenant is inconvenient for those who want to control society," he said. "People of the covenant don't fit because they are committed to a promise."

As for the current discrediting of the meaning of history itself, Dr. Snook said this is typified by a modern attitude expressed in the popular, fable-style book, "Jonathan Livingston Seagull."

"It is a call to believe in one's own inwardness," he said. "It suggests that you release yourself from the contingencies of time and space, that 'history is useless,' that 'your future is on the other side of humanity.'"

In contrast, he said, "the Biblical motif holds that salvation comes through suffering with others in this world."

from the Tall City, since Dr. and Mrs. Adams are filling numerous speaking engagements throughout the region, telling church groups and organizations of their work in a medical clinic in a slum section of Nairobi, Kenya's major city.

Mrs. Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Scharbauer of Midland, is a graduate nurse. When the Adamses went to Nairobi, they had only a small two-room clinic to work ("rooms about the size of an ordinary bathroom") and the clinic was on the edge of a slum area which had no running water and with severe health hazards.

They now have a three-room concrete clinic.

Each week, Dr. and Mrs. Adams also made a trip into the bush country about 100 miles from Nairobi to treat natives who were ill.

"Happiness is having seen these people in better health because of our help," Mrs. Adams declares.

"We feel that we have truly accomplished something in our work, although we have had many frustrations," she adds.

Mrs. Adams recently spoke to the fifth and sixth grade social studies classes of Fannin Elementary School, where one of her sons, Chipper, is a student. She brought with her a variety of artifacts and native handcraft items to illustrate her talk.

Lifer Walks Out Of Bexar Jail

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Michael E. Pentecost was dressed like any plumber's helper when he stepped onto a construction elevator at the Bexar County jail and rode to the ground floor.

Pentecost strolled out into the parking lot, turned a corner and vanished.

A little while later jailers found his prison dungarees in a stairwell. That was Thursday.

Jailers still haven't found Pentecost.

Lutheran theologian says they have "endangered three species of Biblical thought," including belief in the permanent significance of world history itself.

In the present swing of modern consciousness toward personal "inwardness," the Rev. Dr. Lee Snook says there is a tendency to hold that "real life is somewhere else," rather than finding meaning in the struggles of this world toward a promised fulfillment.

The other two "endangered species" of Biblical ideology, as enumerated by Dr. Snook of Lutheran Seminary in St. Paul, Minn., are:

—That people are personally responsible for their acts, a Biblical concept being eroded by behavioral psychology with its views that individuals, rather than making their own decisions, are dominated by conditioning.

—That the universe derives from God, a conviction being undermined by modern non-theistic theories of the universe which regard its resources as valuable only as they are useful to society.

Mrs. Marie Omo Mother Of Year

CRANE — Mrs. Marie Omo was named Mother of the Year in Crane's First Baptist Church last Sunday.

A worker in the church nursery for about 25 years, Mrs. Omo was chosen in secret ballot during the church service on May 5, but the selection was not made public until Mother's Day.

The award went to Mrs. Rudolph Boothe last year, and to Mrs. F. T. Gray in 1972.

Church To Retire Obligation Bonds

Sunday will be a special day at Wilshire Park Baptist Church, 801 S. Bentwood St.

During the morning worship service, a special ceremony will be to mark the retirement of obligation bonds on the church structure. The service will be followed by a covered-dish fellowship luncheon. An old-fashioned "singing" will be held Sunday afternoon, with several guest quartets joining choirs and soloists of Wilshire Park Church.

Annual Choir Recognition Service Slated Sunday

An annual choir recognition service Sunday afternoon will conclude the season for the four singing choirs of First United Methodist Church.

Joining the vocal ensembles in the service will be the church's two handbell choirs which will continue active until mid-June when members participate in an area handbell festival on the campus of Trinity University at San Antonio.

Members of the Vesper and Chancel choirs of First UMC will band together to form the summer choir which will sing at services during the vacation months.

The choir recognition service, scheduled for 5:30 p.m. Sunday in the sanctuary will have "A Festival of Psalms" as its traditional theme, with many of the Psalms as set to music by various composers to be heard in the program. Included will be the "Psalm XX" by Benedetto Marcello, which will be the organ postlude, and a work by Georg Phillip Telemann, the "Grazioso," to be presented by the youth handbell choir.

Other traditional works scheduled for presentation are the "Psalm 150" by Cesar Franck and "Lead Me, Lord," by Samuel S. Wesley, to be presented by all participating choirs.

Additional music programmed for the service is by contemporary composers, said George L. DeHart, organist-choirmaster at First UMC. The works include "O Clap Your Hands Together" (Psalm 47) by Christopher Thomas, to be presented by the Carol Choir and the Junior Girls and Boys Choir, with another version by Harald Rohlig of the same text to be presented by the Chancel Choir; "A Joyous Psalm" (Psalm 138) by Eugene Butler, to be sung by the Junior Boys and Girls Choir; "Psalm 23" by Heinz Werner Zimmermann, to be presented by the Vesper Choir; with another musical version of this text, composed by W. Brownell Martin, to be presented by the combined Vesper, Chancel and Junior Girls and Boys choirs. The adult handbell ensemble will conclude the service with "Bell Jubilee" by Eileen Jane Lorens.

The special choir service is planned each year to recognize choir members for their dedication to their church. The Carol Choir has served at six services during the current season, the Junior Girls and Boys Choir has sung in nine services, the youth handbell choir has performed eight times, the Vesper Choir has participated in 16 services, and Chancel Choir members have shown their commitment to the church by participating in 60 services, DeHart said. In addition, the adult handbell choir has performed in various places in the city on 13 occasions during the year.

The appreciation event will be open to the public. The church nursery will be available.

Nixons Weekend At Biscayne Bay

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — In a move reminiscent of the late Lyndon B. Johnson, President Nixon is here for a long weekend stay that he kept secret until two hours before departure.

Nixon flew to his bayside compound Thursday afternoon with wife Pat, daughter Tricia Cox, staff chief Alexander M. Haig Jr., Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler and Appointments Secretary Stephen B. Bull. He is expected to remain here until at least Sunday.

The SCCM coordinates such activities as college worship, missions, student pastors and the annual McMurry Film Festival. Fitzhugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Fitzhugh of Midland, is a sophomore accounting major.

Sandburg's Widow Said Critically Ill

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Mrs. Carl Sandburg, widow of the poet, is in St. Joseph's Hospital suffering from a heart ailment, her doctor says.

Mrs. Sandburg, 91, was described by Dr. James Sloan as very weak and in critical condition. She was taken from her Asheville home to the hospital by ambulance Thursday night.

Missionary Family Living In Tall City

Currently residing in Midland during a year's turlough from Kenya, East Africa, are Dr. and Mrs. John T. Adams and their family.

But, though Midland is "home" until July, when the couple, accompanied by their five children, returns to Africa to begin another missionary stint, the family is often away from the Tall City, since Dr. and Mrs. Adams are filling numerous speaking engagements throughout the region, telling church groups and organizations of their work in a medical clinic in a slum section of Nairobi, Kenya's major city.

Poer To Present Organ Recital Here

Continuing the series of "mini-concerts" being presented at intervals in the chapel of First Presbyterian Church, 800 W. Texas St., will be a recital by organist Robert Poer at 6 p.m. Sunday. It will be open to the public.

The musical events mark the reopening of the chapel following its extensive renovation made necessary by a fire in late 1972.

Poer, organist and choirmaster at FPC, will present works by Francois Couperin, J. S. Bach, Cesar Franc and Dietrich Buxtehude as well as those by contemporary composers Alain Vierne, Langlais and Rowley. The recital will be played on the new 11-rank Moeller organ installed in the chapel this past January.

Witnesses To Meet Here Next Weekend

Representatives of Spanish-speaking Jehovah's Witnesses congregations from throughout West Texas are to attend a two-day assembly here next weekend.

The convale is sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York. Its purpose is the instruction of Witnesses in attendance on Christian principles and the application of these principles to everyday living, said Luis Leal, presiding minister of the Midland Spanish-speaking congregation.

"Love One Another Intensely From the Heart" will be the theme of the May 25-26 assembly, to be held in Midland County Exhibits Building.

Texas On The Grow!

The U. S. Department of Commerce predicts substantial growth in population and income for Texas between now and 1990.

This really shouldn't come as too much of a surprise to Texans, who have been confident all along that the Lone Star State would continue to increase in population, to the tune of rising income.

Commerce foresees the population increasing from the present estimate of 11,045,000 to 12,167,000 by 1980 and 13,580,000 by 1990.

Chances are the growth figures will be even greater than predicted, but the Commerce forecasts are in the right direction.

Texas now is the nation's fourth most populous state—behind New York, California and Pennsylvania. If the forecasts hold true, Texas would be third by 1990—still behind New York and California.

It is said the population growth of 23 per cent will be slightly ahead of the national projected growth of 22 per cent by 1990.

Per capita income will rise from $3,074 to $4,380 by 1980 and to $5,675 by 1990.

The Lone Star State now is 31st among the 50 states in per capita income and will remain so in 1990.

Commerce predicts the national per capita income will be $6,166 by 1990, placing Texas' rank at 92 per cent of the national average. Not bad, at that.

Howdy, Bridge Players!

Midland once again becomes the bridge capital of the Permian Basin Empire.

The annual Tall City Sectional Bridge Tournament opened here this afternoon and will continue through Sunday.

This is one of the top-ranked sectional bridge tournaments of the great Southwest, sponsored and staged by the Permian Basin Duplicate Bridge Club and sanctioned by the American Contract Bridge League.

Scores of bridge players from a wide area are in the Tall City to participate in the tournament, and a most cordial West Texas WELCOME is directed to them. It is hoped they will have an enjoyable time while here.

Midland is widely known for its excellent bridge players, many of whom have distinguished themselves in tournament play across the land. They are playing in the Tall City tourney, helping to make it truly a "Tournament of Champions."

'We're Right Behind You, Comrades!'

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: Klassen's political patty-cake is revealed.

WASHINGTON — At the instigation of the White House, Postmaster General Ted Klassen held off postal rate increases during the 1972 campaign in order to avoid stirring up voter discontent against President Nixon.

Instead, Klassen cut back on postal workers and caused a slowdown of the mails.

This developed into a mail debacle after the election.

Yet when Klassen was hauled before the Senate Post Office Committee in early 1973 to explain the postal fiasco, he blamed it all on his zeal to cut costs. He deliberately misled the Senate by failing to mention the deal he had made with the White House to slash the postal force rather than raise postage prices.

Klassen played political patty-cake with the President's campaign aides, despite the fact that the Postal Service had been reorganized as an independent agency for the specific purpose of removing it from politics.

In the past, the Post Office often had operated as a political arm of the President. But under the reorganization, it was supposed to be totally free of White House control, much less political influence.

The story of how Klassen put politics ahead of postal service is told in a secret White House memo. He was summoned before John Ehrlichman, then the White House domestic chief. The secret meeting also was attended by White House efficiency expert Fred Malek, whose job was to gear government action to getting President Nixon re-elected.

Reporting on the meeting in an April 17, 1972, memo, Malek described a plan to "cut the summer employment program and put a freeze on hiring" at the Postal Service. This would save the money that otherwise would have necessitated a rate rise, it was agreed.

Combined Judgment "It was the combined judgment of the assembled group," wrote Malek, that this "course of action was within the range of political acceptability."

He reported that "the freeze on hiring should result in a reduction by attrition of 5,000 to 6,000 employees per month for the next 5-6 months." While he realized this "substantial number" would cut into services, he argued this "would seem preferable to a rate increase."

Malek suggested another meeting "in about three months to assess progress and to determine actions and their political consequences." Three months later, the hiring freeze had crippled the Postal Service, mail deliveries were bogging down and Klassen was making speeches about how he was cutting costs.

He didn't mention that the sole purpose of his economies was to prevent a postage stamp increase, which postal technicians wanted in January 1973. Under the law, this would have required an announcement a few weeks before the November 1972 election. Of course, the price of mailing a first class letter has now gone up from eight to 10 cents.

Footnote: Malek told us he "attended the (secret) meeting as an observer, just to learn what the postal plans were." A spokesman for Klassen told us his associate Les Whitten that Klassen actually had blocked a White House move to gear extra-operated. The White House placed an order a few days ago for electronic parts suitable for tape recorders or other electronic devices. But the parts, unhappily, will arrive too late to correct the inaudibles and unintelligibles in the famous White House transcripts.

A secret White House memo shows that not all civil servants caved in to the pressure of President Nixon's aggressive campaign aides in 1972. When aide David Cahill tried to put the bite on Cost of Living official Dick Cheney for campaign funds, Cheney was so irritated that he complained to Nixon campaign headquarters. "Dick felt someone should be aware of this activity," states the memo.

WASHINGTON WHIRL: Richard Sprague, the crusading U.S. attorney who believes in going after the top man in a criminal conspiracy, successfully prosecuted former mine workers boss Tony Boyle for murder. Now Sprague has finished reading the White House transcripts. His case against Boyle, he told us, wasn't as strong as the evidence implicating President Nixon in the Watergate cover-up.

The White House is obstructing the Senate Watergate Committee's investigation of presidential pal Bebe Rebozo. Aides have produced written authority from the President, claiming executive privilege and directing them not to testify about crucial matters. The President's secretary, Rose Mary Woods, and brothers, Donald and Edward, have also delayed responding to Senate subpoenas. Apparently, the White House strategy is to hold back until the committee goes out of business next May 28.

Thirty-Five Cent Limit Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., the old House curmudgeon, offered to bet anyone at Duke Ziebert's restaurant $5,000 the other night that the House won't impeach President Nixon. Passman told us afterwards that he was joking, that he wouldn't bet more than 35 cents on anything. But he swore, sans $5,000, that the President will be ex-

BRUCE BLOSSAT Tone Of First Dean-Nixon Talks: Common Knowledge

WASHINGTON (NEA) — No one seems to have paid attention to the curious and perhaps vital backdrop against which President Nixon in late February, 1973, began a series of concentrated contacts with his controversial young counsel, John Dean.

By Dean's public testimony, unchallenged on this point by the White House, that series of talks began at the President's own initiative, after a long period of months (embracing most of the immediate post-Watergate break-in days) in which Dean and Mr. Nixon rarely saw each other.

The President's edited transcripts of Watergate tapes include, obviously, one of those "rare" prior meetings — on Sept. 15, 1972, the day the original Watergate defendants were indicted.

But suddenly, from late February to mid-April of that year, Dean was drawn into 21 head-on conversations with the President (sometimes alone, sometimes with others), and also had 14 telephone talks with him. The released transcripts cover just nine of these, roughly one quarter, starting Feb. 28 and ending April 16.

Two questions of high significance arise from the fact of this heavy flurry of Nixon-Dean contact in early 1973.

First, what was Dean as the President's counsel doing in all those crucial post-Watergate days when the two were not meeting, and did Mr. Nixon know of Dean's activities? Second, why did it suddenly become important to the President to talk to Dean 35 times in about a month and a half?

What Dean was doing from the June 17 Watergate burglary weekend until his transcribed Sept. 15 meeting with the President is spread on the 1973 Senate Watergate hearing record with some parts corroborated by other witnesses and some challenged.

He says that starting with Monday, June 19, 1972, he took part in the Watergate coverup sitting in that day on at least two key meetings. The second meeting was in former Attorney General John Mitchell's apartment involving such others as guilty-pleader Fred LaRue; money dispenser, Jeb Magruder, a high official of Mr. Nixon's re-election committee, and now indicted Robert Mariani, former top Justice Department official under Mitchell.

From then on, by Dean's own admission he began moving to restrict official FBI-Justice Department inquiries into the real scope of Watergate. He sat in on FBI interviews with eight White House staff people, got copies of 80 pertinent FBI reports from then acting-Director L. Patrick Gray, says he induced Assistant Attorney General Henry Peterson to limit the inquiry to the burglary episode and to have Justice prosecutors interrogate five White House aides — Charles Colson, Egil Krogh, David Young, Dwight Young, Dwight Chapin and Gordon Strachan, in a separate room out of a grand jury's earshot.

Dean says he also served as busy go-between, keeping track of what various people were doing about the coverup, and reporting regularly to top Nixon men H. R. Haldeman and John Ehrlichman. They have denied this, but my sources say Dean did just that and presumably they relayed the running story to the President himself.

Indeed, the whole tone of the first Dean-Nixon conversation Sept. 15 suggests their common knowledge of a broad effort to limit the official inquiry. The President describes the situation as a "can of worms," says "the people who worked this way are awfully embarrassed," and compliments Dean on putting his finger on leaks "that have the contract if I had been wide awake."

East was quite right. At trick one East should have put his king of diamonds on his partner's queen. If South ducked East could lead a spade. West could win; play any other suit, and wait for two more spade tricks.

South's best play would be to go right up with his ace, draw the trumps and lead a second diamond from dummy.

Here is where the real alertness would be required. East would have to go right up with his 10 spot so as to be able to win the trick and lead a spade before South had had a chance to strip the hand.

Dear Editor: The vast amount of preaching, harassing, health warnings, law passing, etc., hasn't done much to break people of the smoking habit.

Most of us smokers agree that it is a useless, expensive and nasty practice that anybody who had any sense would give up. But we don't.

It appears that the smoker is the victim of some inexplicable compulsion to smoke which is almost as irresistible as the compulsion to meddle that drives the neighbor-reformers to try to make him quit it.

DON OAKLEY More Fuel Poured On The Fires Of Watergate

WASHINGTON (NEA) — President Nixon, whose more persistent defenders continue to blame the news media for all his troubles, gave the nation a lesson in the skillful use of the media the evening he announced that he was releasing transcripts of 33 hours of taped White House conversations regarding Watergate.

In the prime time, the President told tens of millions of listening and watching Americans what they should believe and what conclusions they should draw from the mass of information he was making public, warning them not to be swayed by those who would seize upon discrepancies here or contradictions there in order to discredit him.

Rather than obeying, or refusing outright a subpoena from the House Judiciary Committee for the tapes themselves, the President used the very media — first television, then, the next day, newspapers — to make sure that his interpretation of the evidence was the first that Americans would receive.

All very well, Mr. Nixon is certainly not the first, nor will he be the last, president to employ the opinion-making power of the press to his own advantage, and he is, after all, fighting for his political life.

As it turned out, whatever advantage he gained was short-lived, judging by telegrams to the House Judiciary Committee and the results of a Gallup poll that show that a significant number of Americans believe he was wrong in not delivering up the actual tapes.

But the President may have done something more than merely take another televised Watergate gamble, and apparently lose.

In the view of some observers, by going over the heads of the Judiciary Committee for his own purposes, he dropped a lethal pill into the well of public opinion. Those 1,300-some pages of transcripts constitute a body of pretrial publicity that could be damaging to every defendant.

As Mr. Nixon himself said months ago, the time had come to put Watergate in the courts where it belonged. Unfortunately, he himself was then, and remains now, the major obstacle to that desired goal.

The House Judiciary Committee should not be subjected to popular pressure in the form of letters and telegrams. But neither should the public be pressured by one-sided televised extravaganzas by the White House.

As Mr. Nixon himself said months ago, the time had come to put Watergate in the courts where it belonged. Unfortunately, he himself was then, and remains now, the major obstacle to that desired goal.

Agriculture Department Plans To End Distribution Of Commodity Foods To Orphanages, Institutions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite a congressional move to extend the program, the Department of Agriculture plans to end the distribution of commodity foods to orphanages and other institutions by June 30.

"They're racing us to the clock," said a staff member of the Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs, chaired by Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D.

McGovern is among those who support a continuation of the program, through which $18 million worth of free commodities were distributed last year to more than 1.2 million persons.

The commodities are received by such diverse institutions as orphanages, correctional facilities, Head Start programs, hospitals and long-term health-care facilities.

Under existing law, the department may buy commodities on the open market for distribution, but that authority expires June 30. Legislation pending in Congress would extend it, but the Agriculture Department has no plans to use the authority if it is renewed.

Kelley, Wambaugh To Attend Nuclear Symposium In June

Two Midland students and a teacher will attend the June 3-6 Nuclear Power Symposium at The University of Texas at Austin.

Bill Kelley of Lee High School and John Wambaugh of Midland High School will attend the meeting and be accompanied by T. A. Dobson, a Midland High School science teacher.

Hekman called the program a "very cumbersome" way to help the poor and said its continued existence had never been guaranteed by the department.

Both McGovern's committee and the Agriculture Department have received letters from affected institutions, expressing alarm over the program's impending termination.

One letter came from the Star of Hope Mission, a private institution in Houston, Tex., that provides meals and other services to the needy.

"The food that we have been receiving from the USDA has been a blessing to us with our very small food budget," said the letter. "If we are cut off from this source of food, it is going to be very hard on these men."

The trio's trip will be sponsored by the Texas Electric Service Co.

About 500 outstanding high school science students and their teachers have been selected by their schools to attend the meeting. Scientist and engineers from industry and education will discuss nuclear physics, engineering and related topics.

CVAE Students To Display Work

The eighth grade Coordinated Vocational Academic Education (CVAE) class of Goddard Junior High School will hold its third annual open house from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday at Carver High School.

The students will display furniture they have built during the school year. The class takes orders for custom built pieces of furniture which is made during class. They also construct on-the-job cabinets and do small remodeling jobs for area residents as part of their building maintenance and construction curriculum.

The public is welcome to attend Sunday's open house to view the students' accomplishments and learn more about the program.

Water Quality Seminar Planned

Secondary social science and science teachers from 19 West Texas counties will participate in a May 21 water quality management teacher seminar here.

The seminar, which is sponsored by the Texas Water Quality Board, will be conducted at the Regional Education Service Center at Midland Regional Air Terminal.

FFA Alumni Plan To Organize

Former Future Farmers of America will meet at 8 p.m. Monday in the Vocational Agriculture Room of Midland High School to form an FFA Alumni Association.

The drive is part of a nationwide effort to establish the organization. By organizing now, Midland will have one of the first local affiliates in Texas.

All former active, collegiate and honorary FFA members, both past and present, and former vocational agriculture teachers are eligible to join.

Persons eligible to join but unable to attend the meeting may obtain more information from Mrs. R. A. Barlett, 682-9223.

Graduation Rites Slated At Crane

CRANE — Baccalaureate and commencement exercises for Crane High School have been set.

Speaker for the baccalaureate service Sunday will be Gary Layman, minister of the Crane Christian Church.

Commencement speakers on May 23 will be Donna Hamilton, valedictorian, and Carroll Cottingham, salutatorian. Miss Hamilton's speech is entitled "Metamorphosis: A Necessity for A Full Life." Miss Cottingham will talk on "It's A Lovely Day Tomorrow."

The 58 graduates will wear purple caps and gowns.

The class motto is "Never again, never before, the Senior Class of '74." Class flower is the blue gentian.

Officers include Wilmalene Roberts, president; Evan Loper, vice president, and Carla Dillard, secretary.

Other directors are Mrs. Larry Aleman, Jim Alsup, Mrs. Jerry Bass, Don Clay, Mrs. Wright Cowden, Doc Dodson, Art Donnelly, Dr. Fred Gaarde, Dr. Albert Horne, Mrs. Kenny Jastrow, Dr. Roy Johnson, Sikes Johnson, Mrs. James Lacy, Mrs. McCrea, Dr. Edward Feldt, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Green, Dr. Phyllis Huffman, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Jack Pollard, Dr. Jake Shapira, Jowell, Fred Middleton, Mrs. Everett Shipp, Clarence Sloan, Jean Ward and Dr. Ernest Vernezobre.

Mrs. Tom Johnson To Head City's Cancer Society

Mrs. Tom E. Johnson was elected president of the Midland County unit of the American Cancer Society Thursday night at the unit's annual meeting in Midland Country Club.

Other officers are Mrs. William H. Jowell, vice president; Mrs. Reynolds Foster, secretary, and Mrs. Leo Carr, treasurer.

Committee chairmen named by Mrs. Johnson are Mrs. Stanley Beard and Mrs. Rodney Satterwhite, public information; Mrs. Leon Fischer, service and rehabilitation; Mrs. Harrell Feldt, public education; Mrs. Marshall McCrea, crusade, and Mrs. Tracy Cockrell, memorials.

Mrs. McCrea announced that the total amount raised by this year's crusade was $29,224.39.

Mrs. Billy Don Green, outgoing president, said that while Midland formerly was a district headquarters for the ACS, the Tall City now serves as an area headquarters for 64 counties. And as one of the fastest growing areas in the state, the ACS plans to construct new offices here this year.

Speaker for the annual meeting was the Rev. Clark Ford, minister of the First Christian Church of Pecos. Mr. Ford also is Texas District II crusade chairman for the American Cancer Society.

Severe Thunderstorms, Tornadoes, Hail Slam Parts Of U.S. Midwest

By The Associated Press

Severe thunderstorms, tornadoes and hail slashed through parts of the Midwest early today, causing scattered damage and some flooding.

No injuries were reported.

A tornado demolished a mobile home and knocked out electricity in Cass City, Mich. In northwestern Illinois, twisters hit Sherrard, Orion and Donahue late Thursday, and a golf ball-size hail pounded Plainfield southwest of Chicago.

Tornadoes also were spotted in eastern Iowa.

More than 2 inches of rain fell within 25 minutes at Sterling, Ill., Thursday afternoon and flooding forced the evacuation of a few St. Charles, Ill., families.

Rain washed out roads in Midland County, Mich., where there also were widespread electrical outages.

Flashflood warnings were issued for parts of Illinois, Michigan and western New York.

Rainy but mild weather was the rule for most of the rest of the nation. Snow sifted into upper elevations of Oregon, but the South had weather with temperatures in the 70s early today.

Skies were overcast in the central plains, New England and Texas.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 85 at Phoenix, Ariz., to 29 at Redmond, Ore.

Some other reports: Anchorage 45 clear, Atlanta 66 clear, Boston 62 cloudy, Buffalo 55 thundershower, Chicago 64 thundershower, Cincinnati 74 cloudy, Cleveland 75 clear, Dallas 78 cloudy, Denver 59 partly cloudy, Detroit 64 haze and smoke, Honolulu 76 clear, Indianapolis 75 clear, Kansas City 67 cloudy, Los Angeles 58 clear, Louisville 74 partly cloudy, Miami 80 clear, Minneapolis-St. Paul 49 clear, Nashville 72 clear, New York 67 clear, Philadelphia 65 clear, Phoenix 85 partly cloudy, Pittsburgh 70 cloudy, St. Louis 76 clear, San Francisco 49 clear, Seattle 45 clear, Washington 72 clear.

Panel Recommends Lowered Postage On Cards, Letters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of mailing a first-class letter would be trimmed by a penny while rates for second, third and fourth-class mail would go up under a proposal by the staff of the Postal Rate Commission.

The rate for mailing a first-class letter recently was raised by two cents to 10 cents. The commission staff now thinks it should be nine cents.

Post cards, which were raised two cents to eight cents in March, would be cut back to six cents under the proposal, but airmail would retain its two-cent increase to 13 cents.

Costs of second class, third class bulk, parcel post and special rate fourth class mail would be increased.

Jury Writes Four Zebra Indictments

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A grand jury has returned murder indictments against four black men in three of the random "Zebra" slayings of whites here since last October.

Three of the men indicted Thursday by the San Francisco County Grand Jury previously had pleaded innocent to the slayings in Municipal Court and are being held in city jail. They are Manuel Moore, 29, J. C. Simon, 29, and Larry C. Green, 22.

The fourth man indicted, Jesse Cooks, 29, is serving a life sentence in Folsom State Prison for murdering a woman here last year in a slaying unrelated to the Zebra killings, so-named because of the radio channel being used by police on the case.

Superior Court Judge Clayton Horn set bail at $300,000 each.

Burglars Take $207 Television

A black and white television valued at $207 was taken Thursday night during a burglary at 1100 E. Maple St.

Mrs. Anita S. Melenduz told officers she left her home for 15 minutes shortly after 10 p.m. and when she returned the television was missing.

Investigating officers reported they found no sign of forced entry.

Winters Artistic, Too

By ROBERT MURPHY
HONOLULU (AP) — Most people think of Jonathan Winters as a rotund funny man who can make people laugh by imitating a chipmunk in a tree or talking like a little old lady.

But Winters, now in his 25th year in show business, has another creative outlet that's been somewhat hidden from the public eye. He's an artist.

"I started out to be an artist originally," he said during a recent vacation in Hawaii. "I studied in school and was going very good until somehow I got tripped up and fell into show business as a comedian.

"Not to say I don't thank God for the day I got into show business, but I must say art was my first love."

Winters says it's difficult to describe what kind of painter he is or to label his art.

"It's like my comedy... satirical, and all my paintings are improvisational," he said, adding that they are basically a combination of surrealism and primitiveness.

"And to compare me with anybody, and I don't say this on an ego trip, would be hard to do," said Winters.

He explained that he just tries to create on canvas by sitting down and painting what comes into his head.

"When I get in front of that canvas, I just hope and pray that it will all come together," he said. "I don't plan much... I just let my mind wander and paint what comes to mind."

And when Winters' mind is at work or wandering, things often come out funny.

For instance, one of his oil paintings shows a chicken standing alone on a large canvas — with duck's feet.

Winters recently became a "professional" by holding two shows in the Los Angeles area to sell his works.

"The first show was back in November, and I did very well," he said. "I think we sold 75 per cent of what we offered."

What does a Jonathan Winters original oil painting go for?

"Well, they vary... anywhere from $50 to $1,500."

The jolly comedian paints in the basement of his Los Angeles home, which he admits is not the most chic place in the world.

"It has little or no light, especially no great northern light... but that doesn't matter, I still have room to have fun."

He also says painting is a great way to "unwind."

"It's peaceful and lets all your thoughts clear out."

As for the future of his art, Winters says he will take it up on a regular basis when he "decides to hang it up in show business, and as to when that will be is anybody's guess."

Winters is happy to be recognized as a successful and very funny comedian but says the desire is there to be remembered as a good artist.

"You know, it would be kind of fun to be remembered that way," he said.

San Antonio Artist To Visit On Sunday

San Antonio artist Jim Tidmore will be a visitor Sunday afternoon during open house at the House of Anesea gallery in the Midland Savings Building. The 1 to 7 p.m. event will mark the opening of Anesea Jewellers, a new jewelry gallery featuring diamonds, rare gems, pearls, fine watches and original gold jewelry.

Tidmore is a many-faceted artist, being architect, interior designer and cloisonne jeweler as well as painter. He studied at the Chicago Art Institute, the Ray-Vogue School of Chicago and North Texas State University. He has won regional, state and national art competitions and his paintings are in private collections from New York to California. He will be available to teach private art lessons while in Midland next week.

Dallas Opera Fans Give Nice Welcome To John Alexander

DALLAS (AP) — John Alexander, a tenor who formerly sang with the Dallas Civic Opera, received a warm welcome at the State Fair Music Hall Thursday night.

He returned as a leading singer in the Metropolitan Opera's new production of Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffmann."

Joan Sutherland, one of the Met's super stars, sang all four of the heroine's roles, which are usually taken by different singers, and baritone Thomas Stewart, a native of San Saba, Tex., combined the four villains in the stories that Hoffmann tells.

Alexander played Hoffmann. The Met continues its 31st touring visit to Dallas tonight with Rossini's "L'italiana in Algeri" and closes out the program Saturday with "Madame Butterfly" and "Don Giovanni."

Sharing the spotlight with Tidmore in the House of Anesea show will be painters Grace Weaver of Midland and Opal Black.

Witness Testifies Foreman 'Weaving' At Accident Scene

HOUSTON (AP) — A witness has testified he saw Houston defense lawyer Percy Foreman "weaving" at the scene of a traffic accident last New Year's Eve.

Pat Lopez was a witness for the state Thursday at the trial of Foreman, charged with driving while intoxicated, in County Court at Law Judge Neil McKay's court.

A four-woman, two-man jury was to hear additional testimony today.

The charge stemmed from a traffic accident involving Foreman's car and another automobile.

Lopez testified that when he and a companion pulled up at the scene of the accident, Foreman was "weaving" and ran his words together.

Richard Deguerin, Foreman's law partner, is handling the defense.

Winters says he will take it up on a regular basis when he "decides to hang it up in show business, and as to when that will be is anybody's guess."

Winters is happy to be recognized as a successful and very funny comedian but says the desire is there to be remembered as a good artist.

"You know, it would be kind of fun to be remembered that way," he said.

Name-Swapping Killer Re-Arrested

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A convicted killer who used an ingenious name-swapping scheme to gain freedom has been recaptured.

An FBI spokesman said Thursday that Wallace Lloyd Rhodes, 25, was arrested while he sat in a car talking to persons from the public defender's office and a newsman.

Prison officials said while awaiting transfer to the federal prison at Marion, Ill., to serve a 10-year kidnaping sentence, Rhodes traded identities with inmate Richard Larry Rusk, 24, who was being detained for trial in Dallas, Tex., on narcotic charges.

Balaguer Scoring Dominican Sweep

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — President Joaquin Balaguer took the predicted overwhelming lead today in early returns from the Dominican Republic's presidential election.

The count of more than 25 per cent of the ballots in Santo Domingo gave the 66-year-old incumbent a 5-1 lead over Luis Homero Lajara Burgos of the ultraconservative Popular Democratic party. The tally so far was 36,460 to 7,821.

Balaguer's conservative Reform party also was expected to win most of the 26 Senate seats and 89 seats in the Chamber of Deputies that were up for election.

Balaguer's victory was assured before the election Thursday by the last-minute withdrawal of his chief opponent, Silvestre Antonio Guzman.

Jury Declares Shoulders Insane

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A judge has ordered Michael Nathan Shoulders, charged with murder in the shotgun slaying of a young woman, sent to the Rusk State Hospital.

Hester, court Judge Darrell Dist. issued the order Thursday after a jury of nine men and two women found Shoulders, 29, insane. There were only 11 jurors because one became ill.

Shoulders, a bearded man who has worked as a rodeo performer and shrimp fisherman, is charged with murder in the Jan. 13 slaying of Juddi Allen Carter, 29, who was shot to death at the door of her Harlingen apartment.

Shoulders had been dating Miss Carter, the granddaughter of Harlingen lawyer and former state legislator Claude Carter.

Senior All Night Party Scheduled For May 30

Midland Sisters Bear Amazing Resemblance To Each Other

DENTON — "You two wouldn't happen to be sisters, would you?"

An honest question, but one that Sandy and Carolyn Moore are asked practically every time they are seen together.

The two women are native Midlanders, look quite a bit alike (though born two years apart), enjoy the same things, go to the same university and have the same parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Moore of 1805 Ward St., plus sister Gayle and brother Bill, both students at Lee High School.

While attending North Texas State, Sandy, a freshman, is majoring in art and may go into fashion design. Carolyn will graduate this month with a bachelor's degree in journalism. From there, she plans to go into some kind of governmental work.

Midland public schools were the site of their earlier educational training and both participated in various activities such as the gymnastics team at the YMCA. Carolyn had a tendency to break bones and land on a hardwood floor rather than tumbling mats, but Sandy won several medals and ribbons during her years on the team.

Part of her success was due to extensive dance training, particularly ballet.

"I began dancing 13 years ago. Carolyn and I would play a record like the 'Nutcracker Suite' and put on those old, full petticoats and dance around the room," Sandy said.

She went on to take ballet from several teachers in Midland, the latest being Georgia Goss Harston. Sandy helped choreograph the Midland Community Theatre's production of "Hello, Dolly!" and danced in the 1973 Summer Mummer's. She also participated in the Permian Civic Ballet.

But, because of weakening knees, she will not pursue dance as a career, even though she is now taking her fourteenth year of ballet at NTSU under George Skibine, artist-in-residence and Dallas Civic Ballet director. Sandy added, "You have to be dedicated. If it's (ballet) a career, it has to be your whole life. It's a strict life, but a very satisfying one for some. Not me." So, art became her main form of expression.

She enjoys drawing, painting and the art of knot-tying, macrame. She has also just completed a wood sculpture with copper inlays that looks like an abstract sunburst. Sandy demands perfection in her work and becomes perturbed when she does not achieve the desired results. "Artists are sensitive people to me. They can see things that others may not. Temperamental? The only time I am is when someone comments on my work before it's finished," she explained.

Carolyn attended West Texas State before transferring in 1972. Sandy followed her to North Texas last fall.

Ex-Dairy Leader Confesses Guilt

WASHINGTON (AP) — The former president of a Pennsylvania dairy cooperative, Richard L. Allison, pleaded guilty today to consenting to an illegal $50,000 corporate contribution to President Nixon's 1972 reelection campaign.

After his lawyer pleaded that Allison had lost his job as head of Lehigh Valley Cooperative Farmers of Allentown, Pa., because of the contribution, U.S. District Judge George L. Hart Jr. suspended a $1,000 fine and placed Allison on a month's unsupervised probation.

It was the first time in 10 illegal corporate contributions cases that a defendant has gotten off without paying a fine.

"He throws himself on the mercy and understanding of this court," said Allison's attorney, Richard Stevens of Philadelphia. He said Allison lost his job, lost his company car and still is unemployed.

Allison and his wife left the courtroom tearfully. The couple has five children.

The cooperative pleaded guilty before Judge Hart on May 6 to making the $50,000 contribution and was fined $5,000.

Lehigh Valley is a dairy cooperative but not one of the three giant cooperatives frequently mentioned in connection with milk fund contributions and a boost in dairy price supports in 1971.

Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski said the contribution was made between April 19 and April 27, 1972.

Allison said a year ago, while still president of the cooperative, that the money went to a lobbyist to buy "prestige speakers" for a planned banquet. At the time, he denied allegations that the cooperative's money went to buy silence for the Watergate conspirators.

Intelligence Says Russia May Send Arabs New MIGs

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. intelligence sources say Russia may be preparing to ship some of its advanced MIG23 jet fighters to Arab air forces.

This could spell trouble for the Israeli Air Force if the MIG23 "flogger" appears in numbers on the Syrian front.

More than that, it would suggest that Russia is prepared to stiffen Syria's ability and will to fight while the United States is trying to restore a truce between the Syrians and Israelis.

U.S. analysts say the MIG23, with a top speed of almost 2,000 miles an hour, would significantly boost the power of Arab air forces now equipped with earlier model fighters.

Intelligence sources say that MIG23s have been seen near a Black Sea port from which the Russians ship military equipment by sea to Syria and other Arab nations.

Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan claimed early last month that MIG23s were in Syria. A Pentagon spokesman said at the time that "there is no evidence that the MIG23 has appeared in Syria."

Young American Woman Acquitted

LONDON (AP) — A British jury today cleared a young American woman of all charges in an alleged kidnap and arms smuggling plot.

The jury returned guilty verdicts against a Moroccan and a Pakistani arrested in the same case.

Allison Thompson, an 18-year-old former waitress and part-time model from Santa Barbara, Calif., was arrested Nov. 27 as she arrived in London.

Dallas Rounds Up 33 Drug Suspects

DALLAS (AP) — Police raids, cashing on the three-month undercover work of a special agent, have netted the arrests of 33 persons in the Dallas area believed involved in heroin traffic.

The arrests, carried out Thursday, followed the indictment of 45 persons for the sale of heroin, cocaine and LSD.

Bond for each case was set at $25,000.

OFF TO LIONS CONVENTION — Lions District Gov. and Mrs. Tom Nipp are pictured before their departure today for Big Spring, where he will preside at the annual convention of District 2-A1, Lions International, which extends through Saturday. The Midland Downtown Lions Club's "Big Name" Band will be on hand to support Midland's bid for the 1975 convention. The district Queen Contest is scheduled tonight.

ABC Boss Faces Peck Of Trouble

By LEE JONES

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — O. N. "Newt" Humphreys Jr., the slow-talking intelligence officer who was hired to clean up the Alcoholic Beverage Commission in 1968, is in trouble.

Humphreys cut short a state liquor regulators conference in Hawaii and flew home Thursday after being told by telephone that his job as ABC administrator was in jeopardy.

That's not all he was told. Without consulting Humphreys in advance, the three-man ABC voted unanimously Wednesday night to demote enforcement chief Don Fishel, whom Humphreys hired away from the Department of Public Safety in 1968.

Fishel was relieved as chief of the enforcement division and was assigned to take over the ABC's district office at San Angelo. In the departmental reshuffling, San Angelo district supervisor Elmer Crowder was brought to Austin for an unspecified headquarters job. Clay Knowles, Houston district supervisor, was ordered to Austin as acting enforcement chief.

No public announcement was made of the changes.

Earlier Wednesday, ABC member R. L. Thornton Jr. of Dallas moved to fire Humphreys but consented to postpone his motion until the board's June meeting.

Special Meeting Likely

"I anticipate the commission will have a special meeting with Newt next week," said commission member Joe Burkett Jr. of Kerrville.

Burkett said he would vote to keep Humphreys. Commission chairman Tom Gordon of Abilene, who has the swing vote, could not be reached for comment.

"We are not getting the mileage out of the thing (the commission staff and field agents) that we should have been getting," Burkett said, but "I am not ready to say he should be discharged at this point."

Burkett declined to go into detail about why Fishel was demoted from his $18,000 a year job to a $13,882 district supervisor.

"Longtime Accumulation"

"We were not satisfied with the performance of that section . . . It was a longtime accumulation of this and that," he said.

Humphreys, who was head of the DPS' intelligence section when hired as ABC administrator following a series of scandals in 1968, was given one courtesy in the demotion of his hand-picked enforcement chief. Before Asst. Administrator Ken Cook informed Fishel of the action, he called Humphreys in Hawaii and told him, Burkett said.

Guerrilla Bases Draw New Blows By Israelis

State Henry A. Kissinger would return to Washington soon without an agreement between Israel and Syria for a separation of their forces on the Golan Heights. But Kissinger made another trip to Damascus Thursday and maintained on his return to Jerusalem that "progress was made."

"Tell Kissinger to come see what the Israelis have done with American Phantoms," said one guerrilla. "Even if all the Arabs sign a peace agreement with Israel, we will still continue to fight."

Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmy warned that the Arab states could not stand idly

by in the face of "Israeli acts of aggression."

In Washington, the White House condemned both the guerrilla attack into Israel and the retaliatory raids, saying, "Continuing cycles of violence of this sort can only obstruct the achievement of a peaceful settlement in the Middle East."

Israeli authorities announced today that a total of 26 persons were killed by the Maalot terrorists.

They increased the total number of children killed at the Maalot school from 20 to 21, explaining that a 15-year-old girl previously listed as killed was found alive at her home in nearby Safad, but two other children wounded in the raid died Thursday night.

The terrorists also killed three members of an Israeli family before they invaded the Maalot school and an Israeli soldier during the battle at the school. And officials said it had been determined that the three guerrillas — who were killed when Israeli troops stormed the school — were responsible for the ambush of a truckload of Arab workers Tuesday night in which a woman died.

Mrs. E. L. Hall Dies; Rites Pending

Mrs. E. L. Hall, 63, was found dead late this morning in her home, 4204 Tanner St.

Services are pending with Newbie W. Ellis Chapel.

Justice of the Peace Robert Pine ruled death was due to natural causes.

Survivors include five sons, Ronnie Hall of Gilroy, Calif.; Dennis Hall of Odessa, Larry Hall, Rex Hall and David Hall, all of Midland; two daughters, Mrs. Loretta Oldaker of Weatherford and Mrs. Carolyn Holcomb of Lubbock; a brother, two sisters and several grandchildren.

Committee Trims Pentagon Requests

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee today approved a $21.8 billion military procurement authorization bill, trimming $1.3 billion from Pentagon requests.

The committee reversed an initial recommendation by its research and development subcommittee, approving $77 million for three programs to improve the power and accuracy of strategic missiles.

A two per cent cut in military manpower was voted for each of the services, with instructions that the reduction of 49,000 from the force of 2,152,100 planned by June 30, 1975, be taken from support units, rather than combat forces.

A four per cent cut in the planned year-end civilian employment total of 1,024,300 in the Defense Department was recommended. Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., said

Weinberger Says He's Ready To Be Last Nixon Man

WASHINGTON (AP) — While admitting there have been "very depressing aspects" to the Watergate scandals, Caspar W. Weinberger says he is prepared to be the last of President Nixon's loyal men.

"The atmosphere certainly is not one that's been conducive to much joy in Washington the last few months," the secretary of Health, Education and Welfare told reporters Thursday.

"The question is whether you want to let that detract from your efforts to carry out what I think are a set of extremely good policies that have a very high potential benefit for the people in this country and, given the other policies of the administration in the first term, people all over the world," Weinberger said.

"I don't think any cause is particularly served by simply leaving the scene because there are frustrations or very depressing aspects to it," he added.

Asked whether he would continue to serve as long as Nixon wants him, Weinberger said: "That essentially sums it up. I have not had any discussions with anyone to the contrary."

engagement between Israel and Syria this weekend.

The differences are narrow but "terribly emotional," newsmen were told as Kissinger flew back to Israel Thursday night following a seven-hour session with Assad and Foreign Minister Abdel Halim Khaddam. One senior American official said the two governments are as close to an agreement as they could be without having one.

The Arab terrorist attack on Maalot and the retaliatory Israeli air strikes into Lebanon hampered Kissinger's peace efforts, but his aides stressed that they are not what currently is stalling an agreement.

The principal sticking point remains Israel's refusal to yield three strategic hills in the Golan Heights to United Nations control.

Kissinger's marathon session in Damascus Thursday concentrated on where the disengagement lines should be placed. He said afterward that some progress was made.

Silver Coin Sales Firm Is Bankrupt

DALLAS (AP) — A silver coin sales firm has declared bankruptcy here after state agents began probing the disappearance of more than $2 million the company collected from investors since Jan. 1.

The firm, Southwest Coin Exchange, was placed under receiver John Gilliland, a Dallas lawyer, by District Court Judge Ted Akin Thursday.

The company filed a voluntary bankruptcy petition listing debts of $1.02 million and assets of $104,604.

Calley Lawyers Seek Records Of Witness' My Lai Accounts

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Lawyers for William Calley Jr. are seeking records of witness' accounts of the My Lai massacre that allegedly were obtained by former presidential aide John Ehrlichman.

Lawyers for the former Army lieutenant filed motions in federal court Thursday in their attempt to have overturned his court-martial conviction for the slaying of 22 Vietnamese civilians. A hearing on the appeal is set for June 24.

In the brief filed Thursday, the lawyers requested all interviews "in the possession of the government as a result of any intelligence or investigative missions conducted at the direction, orders, suggestions, request or behest" of Ehrlichman in 1969 and 1970.

Prime Rate Zooms Anew

NEW YORK (AP) — Some of the country's largest commercial banks today announced an increase in their prime lending rate to 11 1/2 per cent from 11 1/4 per cent.

Others were expected to follow shortly.

Leading the increase were the big New York banks, including First National City, second largest nationally; Chase Manhattan, third largest; Chemical Bank, sixth; Banker's Trust, seventh; Irving Trust; 12th; Marine Midland, 16th, and Franklin National, 20th.

The National Bank of Detroit and the Mellon Bank of Pittsburgh also posted the higher rate.

Schmidt Endorses Forces In Europe

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Helmut Schmidt today strongly endorsed a continued U.S. presence in Europe and described the Atlantic Alliance as a vital backdrop to East-West efforts to reduce tensions.

"We stand by the aim of the political unity of Europe in partnership with the United States," Schmidt said in his inaugural address before the lower house of parliament, the Bundestag.

"The European community is the indispensable basis for this,"

Leaks Plague Impeachment Hearings

By DONALD M. ROTHBERG

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secret House Judiciary Committee impeachment evidence has been made public for the second time in as many days, suggesting a crack in the committee's tight security that before this week had not been breached.

The latest disclosure was published in The Washington Post. It was the committee's transcript of a key Watergate conversation — that of Sept. 15, 1972, between President Nixon, then White House Counsel John W. Dean III and former presidential Chief of Staff H. R.aldeman.

As a result of yet another leak, the Post also reported today on the contents of a tape the committee heard Wednesday. The tape was of a short conversation June 30, 1972, between Nixon, Haldeman and former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell.

J. Fred Buzhardt, special counsel to the President, said early today that he had no immediate comment on the new leaks. However, on Thursday presidential spokesmen severely criticized Thursday's accounts of part of the Sept. 15 conversation that appeared in The Post and The Boston Globe.

The tapes were among those turned over to the committee by a Watergate grand jury and kept by the panel under strict rules of secrecy.

Committee Chairman Peter W. Rodino, D-N.J., is so concerned about leaks that he ordered all of the committee's transcripts of tapes impounded as committee members left the hearing room Thursday.

On Thursday night, sources said, members of the committee heard Nixon complain on a White House tape that the Watergate burglars probably would get long sentences while a black who held up a store would get two years.

The presidential comment was related after the committee listened to the tape of a conversation Feb. 28, 1973, between Nixon and Dean.

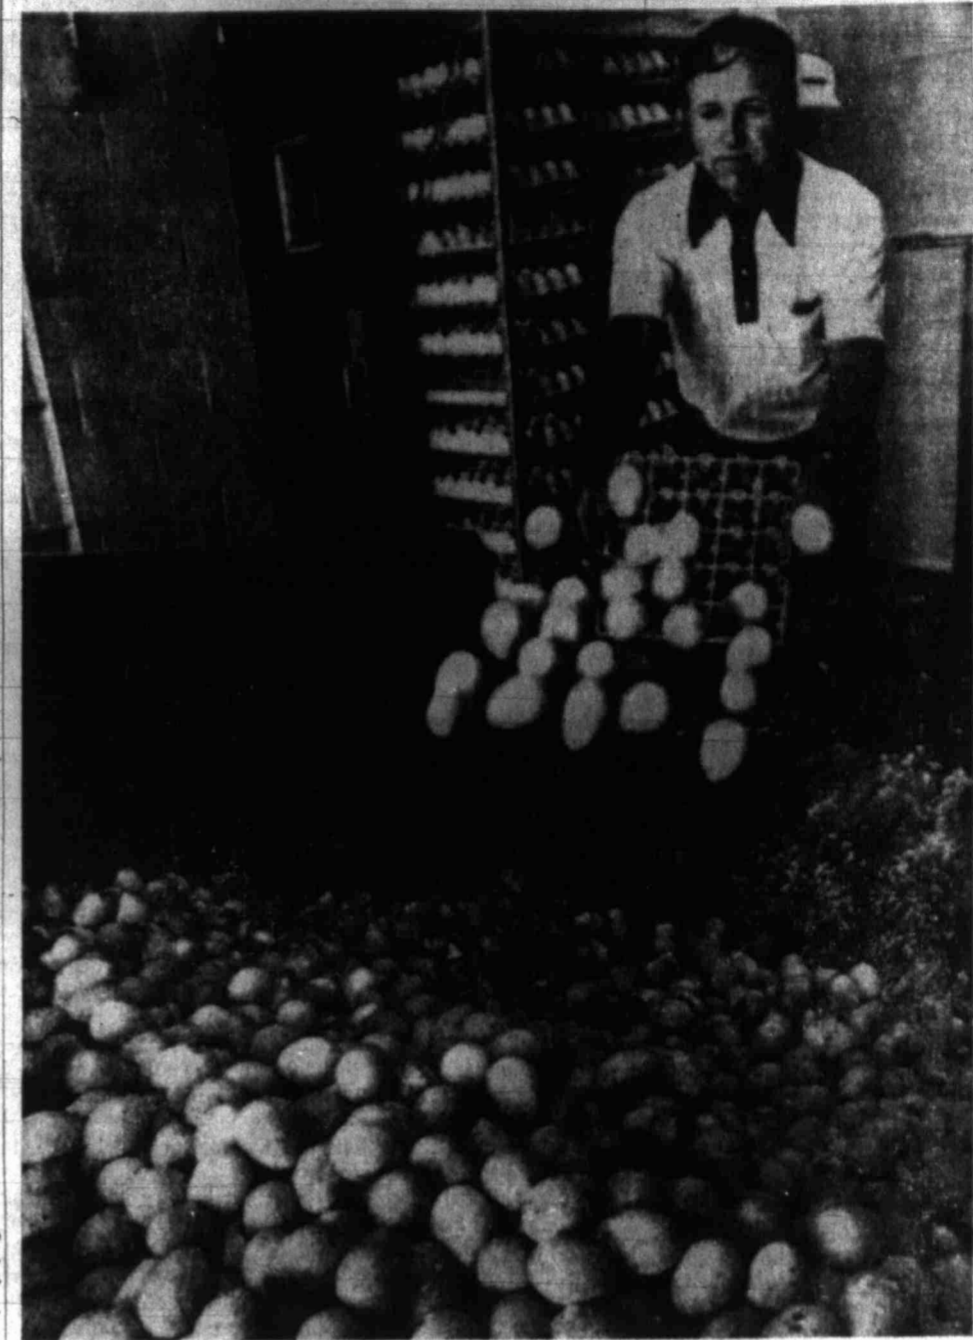

The committee also got word from White House lawyers that it would get a response today or Monday to its request for evidence relating to the ITT antitrust settlement and political contributions from the dairy industry.

If the material is not turned over, the panel is expected to issue a subpoena.

In other developments related to Watergate: —Sources in the Senate Watergate committee said senior White House aides moved to cushion the impact of a tax probe into the affairs of C. G. "Bebe" Rebozo after Treasury official William E. Simon warned of possible embarrassment to Nixon.

—Special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski said not even a direct order from Nixon would have made the Ellsberg break-in legal.

—Former special prosecutor Archibald Cox said his own reading of the transcripts released by the White House tends to support the theory that Nixon took part in the Watergate cover-up.

The group says turkey producers from coast to coast are doing the same while slashing wholesale and retail turkey prices. (AP Wirephoto.)

House Committee Balks At $505-Billion Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional committee is drawing a new national debt-limit line of just under $500 billion.

Under a bill approved Thursday by the House Ways and Means Committee, the temporary $475.7 billion legal lid on the national debt would be lifted to $495 billion through next March. The Nixon administration had requested $505 billion to carry the Treasury halfway through 1975.

The idea of voting in an election year to crack the half-a-trillion dollar mark was rejected outright. "If we put that recommendation to the Rules Committee (which clears bills for House action) we'd get clobbered," said Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., acting Ways and Means chairman.

"We'd not only get clobbered in the Rules Committee, we'd get the hell beat out of us on the (House) floor and, come November, we'd get the hell beat out of us someplace else,"

Services Slated For Ex-Midlander

Funeral services will be at 4 p.m. Saturday in Newbie W. Ellis Chapel for Leo Gore of Graham, a former Midland resident who died Wednesday at Graham.

The Rev. Junior Erwin, associate pastor of Bethel Baptist Church, will officiate at services. Interment will be in Resthaven Memorial Park here.

Gore, 72, was a native of Missouri and served with the Navy in the Pacific during World War II. A former Snyder resident, he lived in Midland for about two years before moving to Graham several years ago. A retired automobile mechanic, he was a Mason.

Surviving are the widow, Catherine, of Graham; a brother, Paul Gore, of Oklahoma City, and a sister, Mrs. Elsie Frasier of Carl Junction, Mo. Gore was a brother-in-law of Midland residents Ed Kendrick and Mrs. Josephine Pollard.

Pallbearers are to be Bill Blaney, Mike Blaney, John Blaney, Leo Kendrick, Ed Kendrick and John Ed Pennebaker.

THEIR CHILDREN ARE THE GUERRILLAS Palestinian Refugees: Bare Existence, Much Hate

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — They live in shantytown slums on United Nations handouts, hoping to return to lands lost 26 years ago.

Their children have never seen Palestine. They are the angry young men, guerrillas in camouflage fatigues armed with AK47 rifles.

When the state of Israel was created in 1948, 400,000 Palestinians fled to neighboring Arab territories. Now there are 1.5 million refugees — the result of a high birth rate and periodic wars in which Israel has punched ever deeper into Arab territory.

The relief rolls of the United Nations list 187,000 Palestinian refugees in Lebanon, 173,000 in Syria, 327,000 in the Gaza Strip and 852,000 on the east and west banks of the Jordan River.

Fifteen refugee camps in Lebanon house almost 100,000 Palestinians. The rest of Lebanon's refugee population live outside the camps in dismal, squalid warrens.

Their homes are one-room huts made of cement blocks, or lean-tos of corrugated iron, strung along unpaved tracks thick with mud in the winter and swirling with dust in summer. Women crowd around widely spaced community water taps, patiently waiting to fill old gasoline cans.

The refugees receive meager monthly rations from the U.N. Relief and Works Agency — 22 pounds of flour, 13 pounds of sugar, an equal amount of dried beans, a pound of rice and 13 ounces of cooking oil. There is a high death rate, but the dead often are not reported. To do so is to lose the extra ration.

There are no recreation outlets for the ragged hordes of children — families of 13 are common — and schools and parents discourage assimilation in Lebanese society. Camp life is "temporary," the older generation stresses, until the homeland is "liberated."

That attitude has made vegetables of the fathers living with their memories. It has made guerrillas of their sons.

The refugee camps are fertile recruiting grounds for terrorists, and the armed strength of the guerrilla organizations is said to be about 14,000. They have more freedom of operation in Lebanon than in any other country, but disagreements with the reluctant host government frequently erupt in gunfights with the Lebanese army.

At one time, the Palestinians were eager to welcome Western visitors to their camps, to show the conditions in which they live.

Now they are wary. Israeli raiders have demonstrated detailed knowledge of guerrilla concentrations in the camps, and each foreign visitor is a potential spy.

"Before we used to hate the devil first, then Israel and then the Americans," said one Al Fatah fighter in Sidon.

"Now we hate the Americans first," he added as he surveyed the destruction wrought by Israel's American Phantom jets in Thursday's air raid.

North Vietnamese Forces Control Town On Border

PLEIKU, South Vietnam (AP) — North Vietnamese forces apparently completed their occupation of Dak Pek, near the Laotian border, early today, and the fate of more than 300 South Vietnamese troops and more than 3,000 civilians was not known, government military officials said.

Radio contact with the remote district in Viet Cong territory was lost at midnight Thursday, but there was speculation that many of the surviving troops and civilians had escaped into the surrounding hills.

More than 90 per cent of the troops were Montagnard tribesmen.

The South Vietnamese command reported previously that an estimated 5,000 North Vietnamese troops attacked the ranger camp adjoining the town Wednesday night, and half the 360-man garrison was killed, wounded or missing. It said the survivors retreated to the district military headquarters in the town, where 200 militiamen were stationed.

In Phnom Penh, the Cambodian command said a counterattack halted the advance of the Khmer Rouge on Kompong Thom and killed more than 100 of the rebels.

The command said its air force and artillery hit the insurgents all day Thursday around Roiuos, a village four miles southwest of Kompong Thom, and government ground forces outflanked the rebels and stopped their advance.

Kompong Thom, a provincial capital 90 miles north of Phnom Penh, has been under Khmer Rouge threat for more than two weeks. About 30,000 refugees from territory controlled by the insurgents have been resettled in 21 villages around the town.

Traffic Increases Announced By TIA

Texas International Airlines today announced April traffic increases of almost 20 per cent over the same month last year.

Revenue passenger miles (the number of miles flown by fare-paying passengers) increased by 19.9 per cent to 67.7-million this April, while available seat miles stayed at virtually the same level as last year.

Passenger boardings were up more than 11 per cent, to 132,878, while average load factor on scheduled flights increased nearly 9 points, to 53.2 per cent.

The airline also recently announced sharp reductions in its first quarter losses, following its first profitable year since 1966, and will add several additional jets to its 1973 fleet of 15 DC9's throughout 1974.

Investigators said the burglar forced open a rear door.

$2-Million Settlement Ends Age Discrimination Lawsuit

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the largest age-discrimination settlement ever reached, a division of Standard Oil Company of California will pay $2 million in back wages to 160 middle-aged workers, the Labor Department says.

A consent decree embracing the settlement between Standard's Western Operations Inc. and the department was entered Thursday in U.S. District Court at San Francisco.

The government had charged Western Operations with violating the 1967 Age Discrimination in Employment Act, which forbids the discharge of persons between 40 and 65 years old for reasons of age.

In the settlement, the firm did not admit violating the law, but agreed to rehire 120 employees dismissed between Dec. 1, 1970, and Dec. 31, 1973, and give them back pay ranging from less than $10,000 to more than $50,000.

Labor Secretary Peter J. Brennan told reporters that the settlement was "a giant step toward justice for all American workers."

The largest previous settlement under the 1967 act was a $250,000 payment by Pan American World Airways in 1972 to 29 employees over 59 years of age.

Texon Reunion Set At Big Lake

BIG LAKE — The fifth biennial reunion of the former residents of Texon will be held June 9 at Big Lake City Park beginning at 9:30 a.m.

The reunions have been held since the Plymouth Oil Co. was sold to Marathon and most of the residents moved away. Approximately 50 ex-Texon residents live in and around Big Lake.

Anybody interested in attending should contact Mrs. Joe Kosel or Mrs. Frankie Deltz at Texon.

Reagan County Road Work Set

AUSTIN — The Texas Highway Commission has approved work in Reagan County in its 1974 Texas Farm-to-Market Road Program.

Included in the project is upgrading and widening an FM road from RM-33, 7.1 miles south of the Glasscock County line, east a distance of 10 miles. Estimated cost is $67,500 for grading, structures and surfacing. Eventually, this road will be extended to connect with FM 2139 in Sterling County, scheduled for construction.

Color Television Stolen From Home

A color television valued at $300 was taken Thursday in a burglary at the home of Christine Hearne, 307 S. Mineola St.

Mrs. Hearne told officers the burglary occurred between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. while she was at work.

Investigators said the burglar forced open the kitchen window to gain entry.

Midlanders Win Warmup Game Preceding Bridge Tournament

Joe Brittain and Joe Salzman, both of Midland, won first place Thursday night in the special warmup game preceding the Tall City Sectional Duplicate Bridge Tournament which opened here today.

The winners scored 125 points, just one ahead of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Stark of Odessa and Mrs. J. T. Dickerson and Mrs. D. E. Morris, both of Midland, who tied for second with 124.

Mrs. Gladys Mark and Mrs.

O. B. Grief of Odessa were fourth with 120. They were followed by Midlanders Mrs. Wayne Roye and Mrs. L. S. Mitchell who were fifth with 116½.

Mrs. Helen Vidrine and Sam Welhausen, both of Abilene, scored 107 points to take sixth place, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald George of El Paso were seventh with 105.

The warmup game was held in the Knights of Columbus Hall.

The first events of the Tall City tournament, the Women's Pairs and the Men's Pairs, got under way at 1:30 p.m. today in the Rodeway Inn.

Tonight's schedule features one of the tourney's main events, the Master's Pairs, and a side game, the Permian Pairs. Players with 20 or more American Contract Bridge League master points are eligible for the Master's Pairs. The Permian game is open to any bridge player.

The first session Saturday will be the Midland Pairs side game, designed for beginners but also open to the more experienced player.

The two-session Open Pairs, another main event, will get under way at 1:30 p.m. Saturday. The second session and the consolation game is slated for 7:30.

Play will end Sunday, with the two-session Swiss Team of Four competition. The first round will begin at 12 noon, with the second session to start at 6 p.m.

The tournament is sponsored by the Permian Basin Duplicate Bridge Club and is sanctioned by the ACBL. Mrs. J. T. Dickerson, president of PBDDBC, is tournament director.

Refreshments will be served following the competition today and Saturday. A buffet dinner will be served between sessions Sunday.

Trophies will be awarded first and second place winners of the major events and to first place winners of the side games.

Mrs. Carr P. Collins Jr. Dies In Home At Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Mrs. Carr P. Collins Jr., 44, a noted Dallas civic leader and member of the family which has given widely to Texas colleges and universities, died today in her home.

Her husband is an executive of Fidelity Union Life Insurance Co. which his father, Carr P. Collins Sr., founded.

Mrs. Collins was born in Midland and spent her childhood in Longview. She was a graduate of Southern Methodist University in Dallas and studied at Southwest Legal Center.

She was a trustee for the Dallas Academy, a member of the Women's Advisory Board of the University of Dallas, an honorary vice consul of Honduras, member of the Consular Corps of Dallas and the Council on World Affairs.

Mrs. Collins received an honorary doctor of philosophy degree from Colorado State Christian College.

In addition, she was a member of associations involving museums, music, theaters, gardening, fashions and hospitals. She received the Freedom Medal from the Douglas MacArthur Academy of Freedom at Brownwood and was an honorary Kentucky colonel.

Survivors include her husband; two sons, Mark D. and J. Bradford Bond; her mother, Mrs. Kathryn Deakins of Dallas; her father, Homer L. Deakins of Hallsville; and two brothers, James L. Deakins of Tyler and Homer L. Deakins Jr. of Atlanta, Ga.

Funeral services have been set tentatively for Saturday.

Mrs. Rogers, 73, Dies At Odessa

ODESSA — Mrs. Mary Lida Rogers, 73, sister of Hobby LeMay of Midland, died at her Odessa home Wednesday.

Services will be at 4 p.m. today in the Eisenhower Church of Christ, with Tommy Hargis officiating. Interment will be in Sunset Memorial Gardens under direction of Hubbard-Kelly Funeral Home.

Born Oct. 22, 1900, in Murfreesboro, Tenn., she married O. L. Rogers in Abilene in 1922. She moved to Odessa from Wickett in 1947.

Other survivors include her husband; a son, Lindy Rogers of the home; two daughters, Mrs. J. E. Evett of Odessa and Mrs. Dorothy Nelson of Sweetwater; two sisters, Mrs. Aldine Killough of Martinez, Calif., and Mrs. Cleo Greenway of Kermit, and two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 5 p.m. today in Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel, with interment in Mount Olive Cemetery.

Beer Millionaire Mental Patient Back In Hospital

DENVER (AP) — A millionaire mental patient, Otto A. Koehler Jr., was back in a Denver psychiatric hospital today after being missing for a week.

Koehler was picked up by police Thursday night at the Standish Hotel, where he had been registered for two days, police said.

Earlier Thursday, the Colorado Supreme Court turned down his plea to suspend legal rules and permit him to appeal his confinement order signed almost five years ago.

Koehler reportedly is the heir to a $10-million fortune earned by his San Antonio, Tex., family through its Pearl Brewing Co.

Koehler vanished last Friday after leaving the Mt. Airy Psychiatric Center to go on a shopping trip.

Koehler, 53, was confined under an order signed by his family because of his alcohol problems, his attorneys said.

Mrs. Prine Dies; Services Saturday

Mrs. Judy B. Prine, 79, died Thursday afternoon in a Midland hospital.

Services will be at 11 a.m. Saturday in the Newnie W. Ellis Chapel. Officiating will be the Rev. Ross Payne, pastor of the Cottonflat Baptist Church, and William Walker, pastor of the A and Tennessee Streets Church of Christ. Interment will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Aged Pair Girds To Battle Deadly Children's Disease

MIAMI (AP) — At an age when most people are relaxing and enjoying life, the John Romanos are girding for battle with the little-known children's disease that took the life of their only grandson.

John Romano, 73, and his wife Margaret, 60, are having a medical alert printed listing the symptoms of Reye's Syndrome. They plan to send copies to every one of the nation's 20,000 nurseries and to playgrounds and parents' groups.

"We can't do it all at once," Mrs. Romano said Thursday. "We have to do it in bits and pieces. We only have a small income."

Their grandson, John's namesake, died May 7 of Reye's Syndrome.

The deaths of four other Miami children and others across the country have been attributed to the disease in the past few months. Doctors say all might have been saved by quicker diagnosis and expert treatment.

"If we had only known about the other cases and the way those children had been affected, we would have taken little John right to the hospital, not to his pediatrician. He's a good man but he never heard of Reye's," Mrs. Romano said.

The child suffered from a fever, a backache and vomiting. He was taken to the doctor, who said it looked like intestinal flu.

When the youngster went into a coma later the same night, he was rushed to a hospital. He died 12 days later.

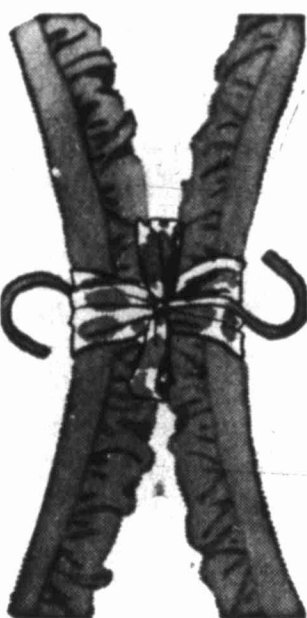

"We don't want to cause a panic," Romano said, blinking back tears. "But I wish somebody had created a panic for us. If my daughter-in-law had known anything about this, we would have been ahead of the game."

Tyrone's Two-Run Homer In Eighth Nips El Paso, 5-4

Jose Ortiz ... hits 3rd homer

By TED BATTLES
Wayne Tyrone's second homer of the night, a two-out, 3-2 pitch with Ken Szotkiewicz on third base, gave the Midland Cubs an exciting 5-4 victory over the El Paso Diablos in a Texas League game at Cubs Stadium Thursday night.

Going into tonight's final game of the series and home-stand, the series is tied 1-1. The Cubs battled from behind three times to register their first home field victory in five tries against the Diablos this season.

And left-hander Budd Schultz, who was beginning to think he'd never win in Midland after three months of trying, picked up his second victory in three nights, this time in relief of Gary Junge. Tyrone's homer came after a long duel with El Paso's crafty left-handed side-arms who helped save Wednesday's 6-5 Diablos win.

Ken Szotkiewicz opened the inning with a high fly to left and wound up on third when Carlos Lopez misjudged the ball.

Quintana looked like he might escape unscathed when he caught the outside corner low to get Bill Drooge looking and then his cross-fire delivery whiffed Jerry Tabb on a 3-2 pitch.

The southpaw whipped two quick strikes over on Tyrone and Wayne, the hero of several early season Cub victories, fouled off three pitches, at first weakly, then as he worked the count to 3-2 he pulled a couple foul with authority.

"I had the feeling he'd get a curve up," said Wayne, "and I just wanted to get wood on the ball."

His game-winning homer was a towering shot to straight-away left.

El Paso took a 2-0 lead in the fifth on successive doubles by Ron Jackson and Lopez and Gerry Remy's fly ball that left fielder Bill Drooge lost in the twilight.

Tyrone led off the home fourth with a homer over the Borden sign in center and Jose (Pepe) Ortiz followed with a drive to left off starter Larry Dierks, a southpaw.

"Dierks had a good slider and was throwing good, but he got a curve a little high," Pepe said of his shot.

After Remy's second triple and Dan Beerbower's single made it 3-2 in the seventh Midland again tied it in the home seventh with catcher Steve Haug bouncing a single between short and third to plate the run after singles by Ortiz and Joel Green put runners on first and third.

In the eighth, John Balaz second single to left finished Junge and after Balaz moved to second on a sacrifice, Ron Jackson singled in the run.

That set the stage for the dramatic eighth inning.

Schultz, by winning, raised his record to 3-4 with two runless innings of relief. Only Tuesday he stopped the Amarillo Giants as Midland rallied in the eighth for a 4-2 win.

Quintana, 1-2, came in in the eighth Wednesday to get the final out after Midland had scored two runs and then with runners on first and third got a key strikeout of Tabb and then gave way to Don Kirkwood who fanned Tyrone. Thursday, it was different.

run tournaments in the country. It always has been. Now it's even better.

"Think what a great thing it would be to win a tournament like this. All the great players are here. If you win, you beat 'em all, beat all of the best. Think what a great thing that would be."

The Colonial is the first of three designated events on the schedule this year. The rules provide for a maximum of 10 in a season. All leading players are required to playing the designated tournaments.

"It's great for the tournament that is taking place," Palmer said. "But it will hurt other tournaments."

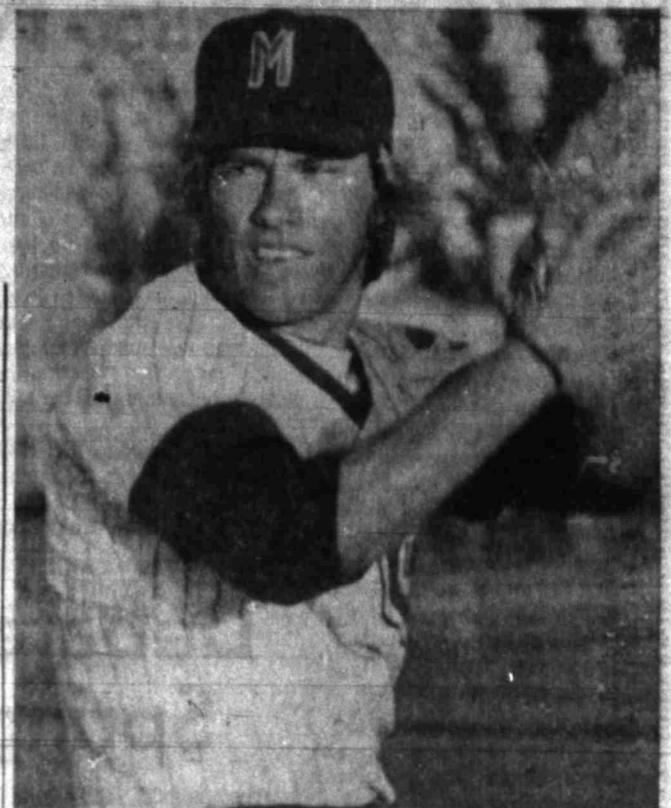

"No player can play in 52 tournaments a year. He has to take time off sometime. He can't skip these. So he has to skip others. I'm not sure that this is the proper thing."

"I think it should be his prerogative to skip where and when he wants."

Nicklaus had much the same ideas but tempered his criticism. He said, however, he would not be playing in Colonial if he weren't required to.

"I would have played in Dallas," he said. "I play that course pretty well. I always have trouble here."

"Obviously, however, this has been a great thing for this tournament. They've got the best field they've ever had. Their advance ticket sales are way up. The advance publicity has been great."

Trevino Endorses Colonial Status

SPORTS
18-FRIDAY, MAY 17, 1974

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus says he wouldn't be playing if he didn't have to.

Arnold Palmer says it's just plain unfair. And Lee Trevino says it's the greatest thing since they put dimples on the golf ball.

Those were some of the mixed reactions of pro golf's great players to the new designated tournament concept under which the game's leading players are required to play in certain tournaments.

"In my own mind," the 44-year-old Palmer said, "I feel that it is not quite fair to all the sponsors. And it is not fair to the players, either."

"I approve of the concept," Nicklaus said, "but I'm not sure that this is the way to go about it. It's impossible to make a judgment based on one round of one tournament."

"We'll just have to wait and see."

Trevino, on the other hand, was enthusiastically in favor of the designated player set-up that got its first test Thursday in the first round of the $250,000 Colonial National Open Golf Tournament.

"This is the Masters of Texas," Trevino said.

"I've played here every year I've been eligible. I'll play here every year I continue to be eligible. Colonial has always done so much for the players. Now, this year they jack the purse up another $100,000 and they're doing even more for you."

Cubs, Diablos End Stand

CUB BRIEFS — Midland and El Paso windup what has been a successful home-stand for the Cubs, who have won four of the five games played ... Mike Krukow, 6-4, 205 pound righthander who beat Amarillo, 8-2, Sunday will go for the Cubs while John Andrews, 3-2 with a 3.78 ERA, will pitch for the Diablos.

Wayne Tyrone's two homers raised his total for the season to three, but he claims one of the best balls he hit all night was caught.

"That ball I hit to center in the sixth, was hit just as good as the others, but it wasn't high enough. When I hit it, I thought I might get a triple."

As Designated Hitter, Wayne jogs in place in the dugout to keep loose. "It's not like when you're playing in the field and move around. You've got to do something to keep loose when you're sitting on the bench as a DH."

Tonight is 10-cent beer night, the first of the season.

Purple Pack Plays Mims Tilt Tonight

Coach John Reddell will unveil his 1974 edition of the Midland High Bulldogs tonight at 8 in Memorial Stadium in the annual Bill Mims Benefit spring football scrimmage session, ending three weeks of the spring training grind.

A special Junior Varsity game will begin at 6 p.m. and tickets for the annual family scrap is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

The intra-squad affair will provide Midlanders with their first look at the Purple Pack under game conditions and Coach Reddell and his staff will be getting their last look at the squad before the team comes together again next fall.

BOSTON TRAILS 3-2—

Bruins Bop Flyers, 5-1

BOSTON (AP) — Match penalties, including a dozen and deciding game at the Garden next Tuesday.

When the brawling finally ended, nearly 3½ hours after the opening face-off, the Bruins had muscled their way to a 5-1 victory, staying alive in the best-of-seven series against the upstart Flyers bidding for the coveted Stanley Cup in just their seventh year.

Now the two teams head back to Philadelphia for Game No. 6 Sunday. And, although trailing 3-2 in the series, the Bruins have their old confidence back, sure they'll return to Boston for a seventh penalties, including a dozen and deciding game at the Garden next Tuesday.

"We had our backs to the wall and had to win this one," Boston Coach Bep Guidolin said. "Now their backs are to the wall. We're due for a good game in Philadelphia, and we're going to have it Sunday. Then it will be all over for them."

"If we don't win Sunday, we're in a lot of trouble," admitted Philadelphia captain Bobby Clarke. "Maybe we were thinking of Sunday tonight, but we shouldn't have. We had the chance to come away with everything and we didn't."

Bobby Orr, virtually shackled as the Flyers won three consecutive games after dropping the opener, and unsung Gregg Sheppard led the Bruins in the victory which kept alive their hopes of regaining the championship they won in 1970 and 1972.

Orr set up Sheppard for a goal in the first period. Then, after Philadelphia tied the count 1-1 in the second session, Orr struck for two goals, the tie-breaker with a backhand of a close-up shot by Sheppard. Boston added goals by Ken Hodges, a tip of a Sheppard shot, and Don Marcotte.

Irwin's Windy 65 Sets Pace

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — "Every time I turned around Hale was making the flagstick quiver," said Hubert Green, shaking his head in disbelief.

"I think it was one of the finest rounds of golf I've ever seen played," added Tom Weiskopf in unabashed admiration.

"Had he putted exceptionally well, I think he could have shot 60."

Such were the comments Thursday after Hale Irwin scorched the windswept Colonial Country Club course with a five-under-par 65 and seized a three-stroke lead in the first round of the $250,000 Colonial National Open.

Battling gusty winds and an outstanding field, Irwin bagged three birdies on the final four holes and swept away from a cluster of challengers with a stunning 32-33-65 on the 35-35-70 Trinity River layout.

"There was not very much I did poorly," admitted Irwin, a non-winner this year but 10th on the money winning list with more than $75,000.

"I hit an abundance of good shots," he continued, "but I missed a lot of makeable putts."

Then, flashing a big grin, he confessed that, "I'm extremely happy with the way I played."

Rolling in birdie putts of three, one, 35, 10, three and 25 feet, Irwin, who has the habit of playing tough courses extremely well, struck a resounding blow in his bid to capture the first designated tournament title in the history of pro golf.

A bunker on the par-three, fourth hole cost him his only bogey.

Shreveport's Captains moved into third place in the Texas League East Division Thursday night with a 4-0 baseball victory over Alexandria, while other teams performed according to the standings.

Left-hander Tom Deidle pitched a four-hitter, struck out seven and walked five in taking the victory for Shreveport.

Deidle's teammates contributed four double plays to the winning effort after Kent Jacobson kicked off the scoring with a first inning homer. Another Shreveport homer by Sam Mejias capped the Captains' scoring.

In other games, San Antonio's Brewers downed the Amarillo Giants 6-4, Midland's Cubs tripped the El Paso Diablos 5-4, and Victoria's Toros slowed the Arkansas Travelers 12-8.

West Division leader San Antonio scored two runs in the ninth to beat Amarillo. San Antonio pitcher Al Panalver picked up the decision, giving up only three hits in nearly three innings of relief.

East leader Victoria easily outdistanced Arkansas, despite a delay in the game when lightning failed to work.

Arkansas attempted an eighth-inning comeback, collecting three runs, but failed to overtake the 12 runs amassed by Victoria in the first six frames.

CANNONADE FAVORED—

Preakness Next

BALTIMORE (AP) — Bold Ruler has been dead almost three years, but the great sire remains a dominant figure in the Preakness Stakes, a race he won at Pimlico in 1957.

Six entries in Saturday's 99th Preakness, which will gross a record $209,000 if 13 start as expected, are grandsons of Bold Ruler—who also sired Secretariat, the Triple Crown champion of 1973.

They include Cannonade, the Kentucky Derby winner who is the favorite in the 1 3/16 mile Preakness, and three of the 22 horses who trailed him at Churchill Downs—Destroyer, Buck's Bid and Rube the Great.

Cannonade and Buck's Bid both were sired by Bold Bidder, Destroyer by Vitriolic, and Rube the Great by Bold Lad.

Bold Lad also sired Preakness starter Neapolitan Way, a gelding who has won two consecutive grass races at Pimlico including a division of the Woodlawn Stakes. Heir to the Line, winner of last Saturday's Preakness Prep, is by the Bold Ruler mare Borderline.

In addition to the starters with Bold Ruler connections, other Preakness entries include

Television coverage by CBS is scheduled for 4 p.m.-5 p.m. CDT. Oran Battles, the trainer of Silver Florin, viewed the Preakness as "a wide open race. There is no outstanding horse, no Secretariat or Citation."

"Cannonade is the champion now, and a picture of health," said Skip Shapoff, the trainer of Hudson County. "I'm not predicting we'll beat him, but my horse has had more seasoning now and we may turn the tables."

Stephens, asked about his chances for the Triple Crown, cracked: "I like my chances. In fact, I'm the only one with a chance."

U. Arizona On Probation

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association has placed the University of Arizona on probation for one year for violations in recruiting track and field athletes.

The NCAA said a coaching staff member provided transportation for a prospective athlete to the university, and also contacted a junior college athlete without the permission of junior college officials.

The NCAA noted that the university already had placed track coach Willie Williams on probation for one year.

Williams, who came to the Rangers during the winter after achieving fame and fortune with the Chicago Cubs, finally looked up. He attempted a feeble smile.

"I'm pitching in the American League different than in the National League," he repeated a question. "It sure is. The umpiring is as different as night and day."

"I've found out I'm not going to get that low pitch in the AL. I get the ball right where I did over in the NL but over here, they're calling them balls. I raise the ball up a little, and I get hit real good."

Jenkins got hit real good by the Royals Thursday night for the second time in as many starts against them. Hal McRae caught one of Jenkins' inside fast falls in the fourth inning and thrilled it into the left field stands for his seventh home run of the season.

John Mayberry, batting after Amos Otis had drawn only the 10th walk of Jenkins this year, ripped a curve ball 440 feet over the center field fence in the sixth.

After the homer by Mayberry, his seventh of the campaign, Steve Foucault relieved Jenkins. It was the first time Jenkins failed to finish a game this year.

"I can't pitch up but I'm forced to because of the way they call them in this league," Jenkins continued, "and I'm behind the eight ball."

"I thought I had a couple of pitches tonight that could have turned things around for me. One was the pitch before the McRae homer. I thought it was a strike all the way but they called it a ball. I'm pitching as well now as I ever pitched in the other league but ..."

Jeff Burroughs accounted for two of the Texas runs.

KC Royals Hand Rangers' Hill Ace 3rd Loss In Row

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Ferguson Jenkins sat in his cubicle, his arms resting heavily on his knees, his eyes fixed firmly on the clubhouse floor.

Nine days ago, this transplanted National Leaguer had a 6-1 record. Now, after Jenkins and the Texas Rangers had been ambushed by the Kansas City Royals 5-3 Thursday night, the record was 6-4.

Jenkins, who came to the Rangers during the winter after achieving fame and fortune with the Chicago Cubs, finally looked up. He attempted a feeble smile.

Debate Continues, But Spring Drills Remain

Battle Scene

By Ted Battles

The annual Bill Mims Spring football game tonight winds up off-season drills for Midland High and a week hence the Maroon and White intra-squad game will conclude Midland Lee's drills.

The games are the brief moment of glory that makes the three weeks of drudgery in a hot May sun bearable, offering the opportunity to taste the glory that lies ahead in the fall before an appreciative crowd under the lights in game-atmosphere.

There's a great deal of debate as to whether these three weeks of spring practice are worth it. The classes below AAAA have long since voted to eliminate the spring sessions and don't seem to miss it.

The issue came up for a vote in AAAA this spring and despite dire forecasts of doom, after the UIL counted the ballots, spring football was retained by a decisive margin.

It was feared that the big city schools would gang up to vote through the ban on spring drills, but that didn't happen. Apparently, football coaches have a louder voice in multiple school districts like El Paso, Houston, San Antonio and Dallas than they had been given credit for.

Coaches in favor of it feel it gives them more time to review basic fundamentals and work with young and inexperienced personnel under more relaxed conditions than would be present during the frantic fall rush to prepare for the season's opener.

Adversaries contend that an extra week in August is easily worth three in the spring. The time may be shorter, but the two-days and the fact that the ground covered is retained better, makes up for it.

Whether its virtues outweigh the negative aspects, the Purple and White spring game makes it as worthwhile in Midland as it can be anywhere.

The game is played to help defray the monumental and ever-soaring expenses for Mims, who is paralyzed from the waist down and has been since a pre-season football injury in 1953... that's 21 years.

Bill had been an all-district end in 1952 and then MHS Coach Thurman (Tugboat) Jones was converting him to a back as he introduced the T-formation. An outstanding student and track man, Bill quite probably would again have been all-district, even at a new position. He was that talented.

Bill caught a helmet in the back as he arose along the sidelines after carrying the ball against Big Spring. Bill was sent to Dallas for treatment and it was a few weeks before the seriousness of the injury became apparent. Then there were the months at Gonzales Warm Springs Hospital and then the terrible realization that he would never regain the use of his limbs.

So whatever the relative merits of spring training may be, the Bill Mims game in itself gives purpose and justification to it in the Tall City.

Better Hitter Than Pitcher

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Hitting against Ken Brett may not be as tough as pitching against him.

The Pittsburgh Pirate left-hander can throw a baseball as hard as most pitchers in the big leagues—but he also hits as hard as most hitters.

Brett raised his batting average to .538 and his pitching average to .500 Thursday night while helping the Pirates beat the Chicago Cubs 5-2.

"Hitting has helped me get where I am," Brett said after collecting two singles and knocking in two runs. "I'm not the kind of pitcher that's going to have a 1.00 earned run average. I've got to help myself anyway I can and hitting does it for me. I take pride in my hitting."

Brett, who didn't stick around to pitch a complete game, stayed around long enough to get the victory—his third in six decisions.

Shortstop Mario Mendoza collected the first three hits of his major league career, combining with Brett to lead the Pittsburgh victory.

The Pirates forged a 2-0 lead in the second inning off loser Ken Frailing, 2-3. Richie Hebner and Mendoza triggered the rally with two-out singles.

A single by Brett knocked in Hebner and Mendoza came home with the second run when Brett was momentarily caught in a rundown play before first and second base. Brett made it safely to second.

Mets 6, Cardinals 4
Don Hahn hit a two-run homer and Teddy Martinez pounded a two-run double, rallying New York past St. Louis.

Heading the senior squad will be quarterback Mark Capadonna and a surprise fullback will be David Perry, who moved to Houston last year after starting for Lee two years as a sophomore and junior. Perry played at Westbury last year and was one of the leading rushers in the Gulf Coast City.

"I am pretty well pleased with our progress this week," said Acree. "The defense is way ahead of the offense, but the backs are starting to run well. I think that Keith Bishop is adjusting to the fullback slot and our younger backs look good," he commented. Acree also pointed out that Lance Posey is coming around after Losing 2-0, the Mets were ignited by Hahn's homer in the second inning. Martinez followed with a two-run double in the fifth, when the Mets chased St. Louis starter John Curtis with a four-run explosion.

Phillies 6, Expos 3
Tommy Hutton drove in five runs with two homers and a single, leading Philadelphia past Montreal.

Hutton gave the Phillies their first run with a single following Del Unser's double in the first inning. The first baseman then hit a three-run homer in the third and a bases-empty shot in the fifth.

White Sox 4, A's 3
Home runs by Buddy Bradford and Ken Henderson carried Chicago over Oakland in a game shortened to seven innings by rain.

Hutton's performance, the best run-producing effort of his major league baseball career, helped Steve Carlton win his fourth game in seven decisions.

Braves 11, Padres 1
Marty Perez drove in six runs with a single, double and home run and Carl Morton pitched a six-hitter, leading Atlanta past San Diego.

The Braves shelled Rich Troedson and three other San Diego pitchers for 16 hits.

White Sox 4, A's 3
Home runs by Buddy Bradford and Ken Henderson carried Chicago over Oakland in a game shortened to seven innings by rain.

SATURDAY MORNING—Rebs In 2nd Scrimmage

Coach Jim Acree's Midland Lee Rebels wind up their second week of spring football drills by scrimmaging the graduating seniors at the Lee practice field at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Heading the senior squad will be quarterback Mark Capadonna and a surprise fullback will be David Perry, who moved to Houston last year after starting for Lee two years as a sophomore and junior. Perry played at Westbury last year and was one of the leading rushers in the Gulf Coast City.

"I am pretty well pleased with our progress this week," said Acree. "The defense is way ahead of the offense, but the backs are starting to run well. I think that Keith Bishop is adjusting to the fullback slot and our younger backs look good," he commented. Acree also pointed out that Lance Posey is coming around after suffering a hip injury. "Lance broke a couple of times yesterday on long runs," he added.

The Rebels fought the heat some Thursday, but did stage a three-hour scrimmage with some hard hitting going on.

In Saturday's scrimmage, the seniors will have 20 players and Acree will loan them some players to give them more depth.

The spring drills come to a close, May 24 when the annual Maroon-White game is on tap for 8 p.m. in Memorial Stadium. The 72-man sophomore or JV squad will have their final scrimmage prior to the varsity show at 6 p.m.

Britton, Bray To Tangle For Midland CC Crown

Susan Britton and Georgia Bray moved into today's finals of the championship flight in the Midland Country Club's Women's Golf Association annual Championship Tourney with wins Thursday.

Mrs. Britton defeated Fran Locker, 3-2, while Mrs. Bray posted a 4-3 win over Donna Yost.

In the consolation championship flight, Marion Spears beat Sylvia Lauffer, 1-up and Sylvia Roberts defeated Verta Lovelady, 4-3.

Jane Wyant and Dot Taylor moved into the first flight championship playoff with wins over Marge Tope and June Ormond, 7-5 and 2-1 respectively.

Betty Sappington defeated Pat Carey, 7-6 and Jane Long posted a 6-4 win over Bobby Jean McDaniel in first flight consolation play.

In the second flight, Mattie Chenoweth and Kattie Ashby move into today's finals with wins. Mrs. Chenoweth defeated Connie Kern, 1-up on the 21st hole while Mrs. Ashby defeated Alice Bullard 1-up on the 20th hole in a pair of well-played matches.

Marilyn Hover took a 3-2 win over Muriel Inman and Dot Cotner defeated Alice Giles, 1-up on the 19th green in the second flight consolation.

Today's third flight finals finds Wanda Weiland taking on Sue Aulick. Mrs. Weiland defeated Shirley Keyes, 5-4 while Mrs. Aulick won over Peggy Adams, 4-3. In the third flight consolation play, Estelaine Nelson defeated Winnie O'Brien.

Greg Copeland Inks With Tech's Raiders

LUBBOCK — Rankin's premier half-miler Greg Copeland signed a track scholarship with Texas Tech Thursday according to Tech track coach Vernon Hilliard.

Copeland was third in the 880 in the Class A state meet in Austin two weeks ago with a time of 1:56.1, his best time. He also recorded a 48.5 on his lap in Rankin's five mile relay team.

Copeland lettered three years in football, basketball and track. "We've watched Greg for two years," said Tech assistant coach Corky Oglesby. "We feel he can help us. We know he's a great competitor and we plan to run Greg in cross-country next fall, then wherever we feel he can best be used next spring."

HOROSCOPE
by Carroll Righter
(May 18)
GENERAL TENDENCIES: The very early part of the day is excellent for whatever positive attention to the lighter side of life and for shopping and doing errands. Later you find a decided likelihood of separations between congenial persons.
ARIES (Mar. 21 to April 19) You are so very emotional today that you could stir up a hornet's nest of indignation, so take it easy and cool off. Be poised.
TARBIUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Don't permit some secret annoyance to keep you out of business or social activity that is important to you. Don't lose ground around always in session. Call 682-8083.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Plan your hours properly so that you can visit friends and handle business matters wisely. Try not to spend more than you can afford.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Making sure you keep ethical where career matters are concerned is important now. Don't neglect to pay a pressing bill.
LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Be sure to use good judgment in handling a civic matter. Keep a promise you have made. Friends and family are important to you.
LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 23) Avoid a quarrel between an official and a friend, otherwise you could get the brunt of the quarrel. Know what others expect of you.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) You have a problem that requires the advice of an expert in order to solve it properly. Don't trust your business in the morning.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Difficulties could arise that will stand in the way of your wishes so get rid of them early. An expert can give you good advice.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) There is much confusion at home and so wait until tomorrow before doing anything about it.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Use extreme care in motion and avoid a possible accident. Find a new system for handling household chores. Take it easy tonight.
PISCIS (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You wish to study new methods before going ahead with your plans. Spend less money on pleasure.

IN HEARST CASE— Young Man, Woman Jailed For Refusing To Testify

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A young man and woman were jailed for refusing to answer questions before a federal grand jury probing charges that the Symbionese Liberation Army robbed a bank and the kidnaped newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst participated.

U.S. District Judge Alfonso Zirpoli denied bail Thursday for Paul L. Halverson, 29, a graduate philosophy student at San Francisco State University, and Cynthia Garvey, 27, of Oakland. He also refused to stay their sentence pending appeal.

The two were sentenced until they agree to testify or for the life of the grand jury, which could extend for more than two years.

Their refusal to testify came despite the fact they had been granted immunity from prosecution.

Halverson asserted he was "making the same arbitrary decision" as President Nixon, who, Halverson said, "has set a precedent by continually refusing to comply with subpoenas."

Miss Garvey said she did not "look at the grand jury as a legal institution," and regarded it as aimed at silencing political views "contrary to those of the government."

Halverson's wife, Joyce, 24, who has a 21-month-old son, also refused to answer questions for the grand jury, but no action was taken against her and her subpoena was dismissed.

Authorities said Miss Hearst was identified in security photographs taken by bank cameras as being among those in the holdup gang. The SLA claims it abducted Miss Hearst Feb. 4. She later said she had joined her captors.

Scott Convicted, Assessed 99 Years

ODESSA — Bill Scott was found guilty Thursday and sentenced to 99 years in the penitentiary for the 1967 murder with malice death of Odessa attorney Paul Moss.

A 70th District Court jury deliberated 35 minutes before finding Scott guilty and took an additional nine minutes to assess punishment.

Dist. Atty. John Green said following the trial, "Anything less than 99 years would have been a victory for Scott."

The trial was the second for Scott in connection with Moss' death. Scott appealed his first conviction and 25-year sentence, claiming he was not properly notified of his civil rights. The Texas Supreme Court upheld the appeal.

SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENTS — W. C. Osborne, left, president of the Midland Scottish Rite Association, recently presented Scottish Rite scholarships to Jodi Kaplan, center, a Lee High School senior, and Lonnie Yee, right, a Midland High School senior. Miss Kaplan will attend Trinity University, where she will major in music and education. Yee will attend Texas A&M, majoring in electrical engineering.

Ford Has Busy Day In Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — Vice President Gerald R. Ford is in Hawaii, the 27th state he has visited since assuming office.

His schedule today included three speeches, two receptions, a news conference and a visit to the Arizona Memorial, which commemorates the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor in 1941. Ford plans to fly to the island of Hawaii tonight for two days of relaxation.

Odessa Arrested By Midland Officers

Midland police Thursday arrested an Odessa man who is charged with burglary of vending machines in Lamesa.

Charles Arthur Stephens, 35, was arrested at 8:18 p.m. near Mineola and California streets. Lamesa officers were to return him to Dawson County today.

U.S. Plans To Ban All Firecrackers, Effective Next Month

Ailing Poodle May Help Find Rare Disease Cure

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Researchers say an eight-pound poodle who collapses hundreds of times a day has given them new hope of finding a cure for humans afflicted with a rare sleeping disease.

The two-year-old silver-gray poodle named Monique suffers from narcolepsy-cataplexy, a disorder that affects about 150,000 persons in the United States, said Dr. Merrill Mitler, research associate at the Stanford Medical Center Sleep Disorder Laboratory.

Simple Activities Dangerous

Symptoms of the disease include an irresistible urge to fall asleep and a state of waking paralysis brought on by excitement. Dr. Mitler said in an interview Thursday.

In humans, the unpredictability of the disease makes simple activities like driving a car dangerous. Attacks frequently occur during periods of sexual arousal, he said.

The cause of the disease is unknown and no cure exists, he added.

"Monique is very likely to collapse when she's eating something she especially likes, or when she smells a new flower outside, or romps around," Mitler said. He said the dog has hundreds of such attacks a day, each lasting from a few seconds to a minute or two.

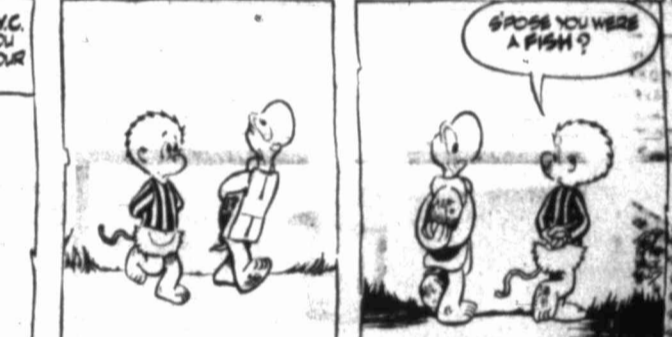

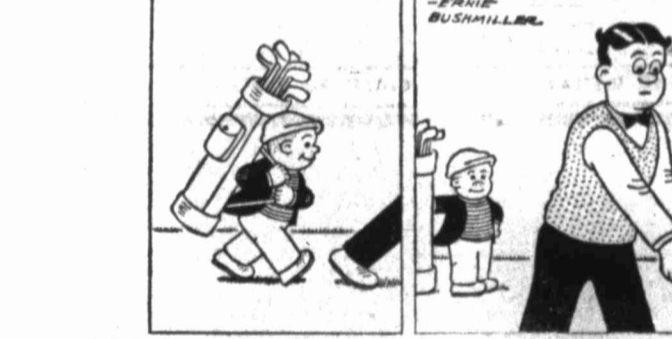

During the attacks, Monique is totally paralyzed but wide awake, able to breathe and sustain a heartbeat, Mitler said.

"After the attack subsides, she scampers about normally again," Mitler said.

Mitler said Monique is the only narcoleptic dog available to researchers for study, and one of only four documented cases of such dogs in the country.

He said researchers at the laboratory plan to breed Monique with her normal brother to produce a line of offspring, many of which may have narcolepsy.

"We hope to discover exactly where in the brain the dysfunction occurs that causes narcolepsy. This could be the first step toward developing a cure."

UNIFORM DRIVE — Lee May, center, cochairman of the annual Boy Scout Uniform Drive for the Chaparral District, goes over plans for the Saturday event with Bobby Garcia, left, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Garcia, and Marc Slattery, son of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Slattery.

Annual Boy Scout Uniform Roundup Slated Saturday

The annual Boy Scout Uniform Drive, sponsored by the Chaparral District Commissioners, will be held Saturday in Midland, it was announced by District Commissioner Jim Dublin.

Co-chairman of the event are Lee May and Hugh McBeath.

"Our theme this year is 'Put a uniform back into Scouting,'" Dublin said. He added, "Scouts are taught conversation and making their equipment last. We feel that this program not only reinforces that idea, but also make Scouting programs possible for boys who otherwise could not afford uniforms."

Five Distribution Points

The drive will be conducted Saturday afternoon, with the five Midland radio stations serving as distribution points for dispatching Scouts in uniform to pick up old uniforms for the drive. Scout Commissioners will be at each station to answer incoming calls. They will send someone to each caller's home to pick up Cub, Scout, and Explorer uniforms to be taken to the Boy Scout office.

The uniforms will be kept at the Buffalo Trail Scout office and will be distributed by Scout leaders. No uniforms are sold, but leaders may give a Scout some task to earn the uniform.

"Put a uniform back into Scouting—uniforms make better Scouts," Dublin said.

Village Kiwanians Elect Kent Sloan

Kent Sloan has been elected president of the Village Kiwanis Club.

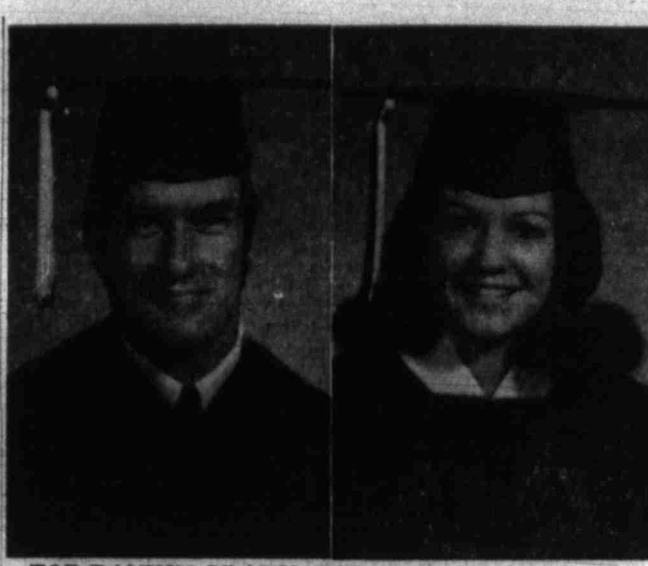

Other officers are Clyde Pine, first vice president; Bill Lerner, second vice president; Phil McNutt, secretary-treasurer.

Board members for a two-year term are Mark Thomas, Bob King, Charles Priddy, Artie Lettich and J. P. Crawford. One-year directors are Jim Pilgreen and Walter Schneider.

Rosenburg to Get Degree from McMurry

ABILENE — John Clarence Rosenburg of Midland will be one of 145 candidates for bachelor's degree at 3 p.m. Sunday commencement exercises at McMurry College.

Other area graduates are Deborah Hazlewood Louder of Stanton and Mario Eward Montes of Lamesa.

TOP RANKIN GRADUATES — Jimmy Eggemeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Eggemeyer of Midkiff, is valedictorian of the 1974 Rankin High School graduating class. Marilyn Braden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Braden of Midkiff, is salutatorian.

Second Suspect Jailed In Waco Area Slayings

WACO, Tex. (AP) — A second man was in jail today night and surrendered, handing over a butcher knife. He then told them he would lead them to the gun used to kill the two people here and near at McKinney, officers said.

Arrested at his home and jailed under $75,000 bond was James Owen Livingston, 24. He was charged with murder in the stabbing death last Friday night of Roy Perryman, 51. A gun collection was taken from Perryman's home, police said.

McLennan County sheriff's officers said they are searching for a third man whom Justice of the Peace Clarence Weikel identified as Gary Dale Livingston, James' brother. He was charged with murder and bond of $75,000 was set.

Earlier this week, Robert E. White, 36, of Waco, surrendered to officers in Cleveland, Miss.

Texas Rangers and McKinney peace officers went to Mississippi, where they said White gave them a statement leading to the arrest of James Livingston and the recovery from the Brazos River of a carbine believed used in the McKinney slayings.

Killed at a gas station-grocery near McKinney at dawn Saturday were Preston Broyles, 73; Gary Coker and Bill St. John, both 18.

Investigators said the trio was forced to lie on the floor during a robbery and were blasted in the backs by a .30 caliber carbine.

Commencement Slated At McCamey

McCAMEY — Commencement exercises for the 1974 McCamey High School graduating class is set for 8 p.m. today in the high school auditorium.

Fifty-five seniors will receive diplomas.

Valedictorian is Eddie Blatchford and salutatorian is Manuel Garcia.

The eighth grade graduation exercises will be at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the high school auditorium with 59 students receiving diplomas.

Honor students among the eighth graders with a yearly grade average of 90 or more are Kyle Vern Bromley, Servando Gonzales Carrasco, Stanley Paul Hanks, Thomas Lynn Moss, Debra Kay Brumlow, Julie Ann Howard, Patsy Priscilla Neill and Paula Elaine Ward.

Three Midlanders Receive Oklahoma State Degrees

STILLWATER, Okla. — Three Midland, Tex., students were among spring degree candidates at Oklahoma State University.

Receiving degrees at recent graduation exercises were Midlanders William Campbell, James Rynearson and Linda White.

Constitutional Convention Legislators Vote Court System Power To Themselves

By ROBERT HEARD
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Constitutional Convention delegates—every one of them a senator or representative—have decided the legislature needs the power to make rules for the internal administration of the court system.

After losing a fight to kill the proposal, 44-91, alarmed Judiciary Committee members pleaded with the convention Thursday not to violate the separation of powers by adopting the measure.

"You wouldn't want the judiciary coming over here and telling us what rules the legislature should be guided by," said Rep. DeWitt Hale, D-Corpus Christi.

Sen. Jack Ogg, D-Houston, said the issue was simple: Either the delegates were for judicial reform or they were not. If they were, they would vote against the proposal and allow judiciary rules to be made by a judicial council that would be created by the new constitution. Rep. Camm Lary, D-Burnet, author of the proposal, said the constitution needed a "safety valve" in case the judiciary passed rules the legislature didn't like.

The rules are important, Lary said, because they involve such things as transferring judges hundreds of miles to equalize dockets.

Rep. Ronald Earle, D-Austin, said delegates that voted for Lary's proposal were "power-made."

But all the pleading changed only a handful of votes, and Lary's proposal was adopted, 86-56.

Delegates had hoped to finish the judiciary article by Thursday, but issues such as Lary's amendment, supplemental pay for big-city judges and district attorneys and retention of power to try cases for non-lawyer county judges ate away the hours.

The convention recessed until 2 p.m. Monday.

The vote to make it easier for non-lawyer county judges to keep their present powers was 78-59.

Delegates rejected a proposal that would have forced the legislature to establish new circuit courts, each serving one or more counties.

They then voted to require the establishment of a circuit court system, without specifying that each county must have one.

Under the proposed unified judicial system, county judges who are lawyers would have the option of becoming circuit judges or remaining the presiding officer of their county commissioners court.

A non-lawyer county judge likely would lose his power to try cases as soon as the legislature established jurisdiction of the various courts under the new system.

Rep. John Wilson, D-La-Grange, and other rural legislators said the people in their districts were happy with the present system. Also, they said, the cost of a statewide circuit court system—which essentially would replace the county courts at law—would be too high.

Rep. Andrew Baker, D-Galveston, said the only issue was "whether or not we are going to provide a lawyer-judge for every citizen of the state of Texas." He said some of the rural, non-lawyer county judges are not qualified. They frequently make dumb rulings, he said, that require the needless expense of appeal.

Ogg said this was another issue that involved one's acceptance or rejection of the philosophy of judicial reform. If the convention made circuit courts permissive only, Ogg said, "We've wasted five months up here."
