Judge May Free 'Plumbers'

Fair Trial Material Is Sought

By MIKE SHANAHAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell said today President Nixon lacked the authority to authorize the break-in at Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist's office and that Nixon gave no specific directive permitting the break-in.

But the judge gave permission to the five men charged with conspiracy in the case—including two former top Nixon aides—to seek material from the White House and indicated he might dismiss the case if they didn't receive what was necessary for a fair trial.

Gesell said that if material evidence is suppressed after a specific demand from one of the defendants, "the court will use the full range of its sanctions, including dismissal if necessary, to insure that defendants will receive a fair trial."

Gesell made that ruling shortly after denying a defense request for a change of venue or delay in the trial of the so-called Watergate Plumbers for at least a year.

Those decisions came about two hours before the judge's firm deadline for a White House response to two subpoenas.

The defense had claimed massive publicity about the break-in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist would prevent them from receiving a fair trial.

But in a pretrial hearing, Gesell said: "There is no reason to believe that a jury cannot perform its traditional function and represent the community and be unbiased."

The defendants in the Ellsberg case include John D. Ehrlichman and Charles W. Colson, formerly two of Nixon's top aides.

Predawn Raid For Patty Nets... Just Two Sleepy Women

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police searching for Patricia Hearst conducted a predawn raid on a Hollywood home, starting two women who were said to match descriptions of Miss Hearst and Symbionese Liberation Army fugitive Emily Harris.

Two sleepy women in pajamas emerged as a force of 50 to 60 police leveled shotguns and tear gas rifles at the house, but police Sgt. Gene Ingram said the women had no connection with the terrorist SLA.

He said police had acted on an anonymous tip, and that one of the women matched a rough description of Mrs. Harris, who is being sought along with her husband, William, and the newspaper heiress.

Meanwhile in San Francisco, the parents of Miss Hearst are said to be outraged by the comments of law officers who in the past week have said the young heiress is an armed and dangerous fugitive.

Cecil Poole, a former U.S. attorney who met with Randolph and Catherine Hearst on Thursday, said the parents of Patricia, 20, were furious about "the excessive statements of law enforcement personnel, particularly statements by the Los Angeles district attorney."

Poole said he agreed with the Hearsts that the flood of "prejudicial" charges ought to be stopped, and said that to continue them might increase the chances that Miss Hearst, who was kidnaped more than 3½ months ago, would not surrender.

"She was a young girl who was kidnaped," said Poole of Patricia. "Something happened to her and now they are calling her a fugitive on the run."

Meanwhile, police and FBI agents continued without success their massive search for Miss Hearst and two Symbionese Liberation Army companions. Pleas for her to surrender increased.

"Throw away those guns!" urged the Hearst-owned San Francisco Examiner. "If you just let yourself be killed it is going to be a waste; your whole thing is going to be a waste," said a taped plea issued by Patricia's two younger sisters, Anne, 18, and Vicki, 17.

Referring to last Friday's fiery shootout in Los Angeles in which six SLA members died,

Vicki said: "I just don't want that to happen to you." But she added: "I'm telling you right now the police and the FBI aren't all that sympathetic anymore. And they've taken a lot of trash from these guys (the SLA). And I just don't think they are going to sit around and take much more of it."

The search for Miss Hearst and William and Emily Harris is centered in southern California. But the rapid series of raids on suspected SLA hide-outs which characterized last weekend's developments have (See HEARST Page 8A)

Pecos Valley Field Draws New Horizon

The Railroad Commission has designated a new pay, Devonian "A" oil, for the Pecos Valley field in Pecos County, with recompletion of H. L. Hunt Oil Co. No. 1 Edward Dickinson, six miles southwest of Imperial.

It had a daily pumping potential of 35.88 barrels of 36.1-gravity oil and 13.32 barrels of water per day, with gas-oil ratio of 1,185-1. Production was through perforations at 5,463-5,520 feet.

It originally was completed in April, 1957 as an oil well and temporarily abandoned in 1968. Conversion to water disposal well was effected in 1973, and Hunt filed potential as a 5,400 Devonian producer last February.

Location of the well is 660 feet from northwest and northeast lines of section 25, block 3, H&TC survey.

Linker Field Gets Pay Confirmation

The Linker multipay field of Hockley County gained its second current Clearfork well and a location east extension to that pay with completion of Cotton Petroleum Corp., Lubbock, No. 1 Hamilton.

It finished to pump 40 barrels of oil, gravity unreported, and 15 barrels of water daily, through perforations at 7,400-7,468 feet, which had been acidized with 4,000 gallons and fractured with 30,000 gallons and 30,000 pounds.

Originally slated in the Linker field, it was rescheduled as a wildcat, and drilled to 7,600 feet. The plugged-back depth is 7,563 feet.

Well site is 467 feet from south and west lines of labor 26, league 29, Atascosa CSL survey, five miles south of Levelland.

Eddy Aloka Strike Gauges Announced

Mark Production Co. of Midland has announced four-point gauges for its No. 1-B State, Eddy County Aloka discovery, 10 miles southwest of Dayton.

Through perforations at 8,877-8,885 feet, it flowed the following one-hour gauges: on an 8-64-inch choke, 1.110 million cubic feet per day; on a 16-64-inch choke, 2.710 million cubic feet per day; on a 24-64-inch choke, 3.580 million cubic feet daily, and on a 32-64-inch choke, 3.580 million feet daily.

Location is 660 feet from north and 1,960 feet from east lines of section 33-19s-25e.

Hockley Sector Re-Opener Finals

Nolan Swain Jr., Lubbock, has recompleted No. 1 Naomi Pierce, former Clearfork oiler, to reopen the Ha-Ba (Clearfork) field of Crosby County, seven miles south of Lorenzo.

General Provisions Article Debated

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas Constitutional Convention delegates, still upset by their bitter disagreements over the judiciary article, began debate today on the general provisions article.

However, before getting around to the proposed general provisions, the delegates spent more than an hour trying to agree on ground rules for their debate.

By vote of 77-54, far short of the two-thirds needed, they refused to debate and vote on each of the 25 sections of general provisions separately instead of taking one vote on the entire article at the end.

"General provisions is unlike any other article," said Rep. Hilary Doran, D-Del Rio, who made the motion. "The 25 sections are not related. They are actually 24 different articles."

Doran said he would repeat his motion again Tuesday. General provisions includes such red-flag subjects as environment, gambling, garnishment of wages for child support, alcohol, interest rates and does not give anybody a right-to-work, which opponents say is misnamed because it "If you think you're having

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced today he will nominate John C. Sawhill to be the first administrator of the Federal Energy Administration soon to be created under a law Nixon signed earlier this month.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today it will have nothing further to say about President Nixon's federal income taxes, declaring, "There has to be an end somewhere."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rev. Dr. John McLaughlin said today a dispute with his Jesuit superiors ought to be settled "within the privacy of the Jesuit family like any other family dispute."

AUSTIN (AP) — Joe Straus Jr. of Texas Citizens For Pari-Mutuel Horse Racing said at an Austin news conference today state Baptist organizations were using blackmail by threatening to defeat the new constitution if it doesn't contain a gambling ban.

Turbulence Brought By Cool Front

A laggard cool front, almost halted across the Texas Panhandle, kicked up more unruly weather today.

At least two tornadoes popped out ahead of the frontal system Thursday evening and a mixture of showers and occasionally violent thunderstorms persisted in that area this morning.

One of the twisters was sighted 10 miles west of Plainview and another appeared six miles east of Hale Center, which is between Plainview and Lubbock. There was no indication that either caused any damage.

National Weather Service forecasters at Midland Air Terminal said the cool front may bring late afternoon and nighttime thunderstorms to the Tall City. They set the chance of rain at 20 per cent this afternoon and (See COOL FRONT Page 8A)

Permian Aeronauts Balloon Meet Starts Here Saturday

By TOM MORAN
Twenty to 25 hot air balloons are expected to compete this weekend in the first annual Permian Aeronauts regional balloon meet here.

The three-day event will include a Saturday hare and bounds race starting in Midland, a Sunday spot landing contest at The University of Texas of the Permian Basin and a Monday mass ascent in Midland.

Mike Choucalas, Permian Aeronauts president, said take-off sites will be chosen based on prevailing wind directions.

The Downtowner Motor Inn will be the headquarters for the meet and the receptionist will have current take-off plans.

Take-off times will be in the early morning hours, about 7 a.m., to take advantage of low winds, he said. The balloons can't take off if the winds are more than seven miles per hour. Balloons are expected from a wide area, mostly from Texas and New Mexico.

During the hounds and hare race Saturday, a single balloon, the "hare," will take off and the other balloons, the "hounds," will follow about 15 minutes later. The object of the race is to land as close to the "hare" as possible, Choucalas explained.

Sunday, balloons will take off from several sites in Odessa and attempt to land on a designated spot on the UTPB golf course. Each pilot will choose his own take-off site.

The highlight of the meet will be a mass ascent Monday morning from The Midland National Bank property at Illinois and Marienfeld streets.

Although flying a balloon is safe, large meets in the past have caused a rash of traffic accidents. Drivers have been known to stop in the middle of the street — or even interstate highways — just to look at the balloons, Choucalas said.

Most of the accidents can be avoided if drivers simply would pull off the road, he added.

The balloons will land in open fields near the city, he continued. Chase truck crews will pick up and fold the balloons. The balloonists will be more than happy to talk with spec-

Kissinger Plans To Present Own Plan For Truce

JERUSALEM (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said today he plans to offer his own compromise proposal aimed at breaking the Syrian-Israeli deadlock over troop limitations on the Golan front.

As he spoke, tank and artillery fire boomed along the front and Israeli and Syrian planes attacked each other's positions on the rocky plateau. The Syrians claimed knocking down three Israeli jets, but the Tel Aviv command said all its planes returned safely.

"We are considering whether approaching the issue of thinning out forces with an American proposal might help matters," Kissinger told newsmen after meeting Israeli leaders for almost three hours.

Information Minister Shimon Peres said Kissinger was contemplating a middle of the road proposal, which he declined to spell out. But he said the secretary's idea was "a bridging proposition which would take into consideration the particular sharp sensibilities of both sides."

Kissinger introduced an American initiative last week and won both side's approval of a truce line.

A senior U.S. official said Kissinger would return to the Syrian capital later today or Saturday, hoping to wrap up an agreement separating the two countries' hostile armies in the Golan Heights.

Either way, the official said, Kissinger will go home on Sunday—the 28th day of his marathon shuttle diplomacy mission.

The official said Thursday night that Israel and Syria were "considerably closer" to agreement on thinning their forces than they had been 24 hours earlier.

He said the progress came after Kissinger offered suggestions privately to Israeli Premier Golda Meir, and later to President Hafez Assad of Syria in 4½ hours of talks.

Midland Beautification Program Gets Under Way

A Midland beautification project got under way this morning when Gordon Knox, chairman of the Midland Chamber of Commerce Visual Improvement Projects committee, announced a plan to visually improve the triangle at the intersection of West Wall and Front streets.

With the cooperation and approval of the Texas Highway Department, the committee will locate three 15-ton boulders at the intersection. Plants native to this area will complement the boulders.

The landscaping at the site was done by Roy Smith, a landscape architect for the highway department. He has picked out three rocks in Marble Falls. The first granite boulder will be put in place at 10 a.m. May 31. The public is invited to the ceremony.

In addition, creation of a non-profit, tax exempt Visual Improvement Projects, Inc., was announced by Knox at the mid-morning press conference at the chamber office. The corporation will fund future VIP projects, Knox announced.

Knox said Midland is "a pretty lady dressed in a shabby calico coat."

Other VIP projects include tree plantings, removal of dead trees and free chemical strip control to remove weeds between crack in streets and sidewalks.

Third-grade children each year will be given trees to plant and raise in order to beautify the city. Knox said he hopes to have 1,000 trees per year planted and cared for in this way.

DUKE ELLINGTON Dies Of Pneumonia

Duke Ellington Dies At Age 75

NEW YORK (AP) — Jazz bandleader and composer Duke Ellington died early today in Columbia Presbyterian Hospital after undergoing treatment for pneumonia. He was 75.

Ellington, who had been hospitalized for several months for a respiratory infection that developed into pneumonia, died at 3:10 a.m., according to a hospital spokesman.

Ellington had been unable to attend celebrations for his 75th birthday in New York last month. The celebration brought together 35 jazz groups and soloists in a tribute to the jazz master.

In February, Ellington had returned to Washington, where he grew up, and performed for several hundred inner city school children and Julie Nixon Eisenhower.

The President's daughter hailed Ellington as "one of my heroes" and brought a letter from her father addressed to "his excellency the Duke of Ellington." The letter from President Nixon proclaimed that "there'll never be another you."

Born Edward Kennedy Ellington, the "Duke" was known the world over and was the first jazz musician to receive the French Legion of Honor, an award he was presented in July of 1973.

Northern Ireland Strike Continues

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Militant Protestants kept up their stranglehold on Northern Ireland today with a crippling general strike as Irish and British leaders met to discuss their next move.

British Defense Minister Roy Mason attended the meeting outside of London. His presence suggested that using British troops to move fuel and other supplies in Ulster was under consideration.

"We're not starving yet," said Neil, a victim of the 10-day-old strike.

A Protestant, Neil is a craftsman in a Belfast factory. He said he has not been paid since the strike began.

"If the strike goes on for much longer there are going to be riots, looting and killing as people are forced to take what they can find or starve," he said.

Neil is not his real name. He asked not to be identified because it could mean bad troubles for me and my family."

Protestant thugs have used strongarm tactics to enforce the strike, threatening men like Neil who would prefer to work.

Neil was "asked to stay away" from his downtown plant last week. He wasn't threatened directly, he said, but he knows strikers have beaten up men who defied their shutdown or set afire their homes.

The strike, called by Protestant extremists to kill plans to give the predominantly Roman Catholic Irish Republic a voice in the affairs of Northern Ireland, a British province, has reached them. Neil lost an eye when terrorists bombed his factory two years ago. He was off work for 16 months and underwent two major operations and a half-dozen minor ones.

He spent his life savings, and then borrowed money from stores that are still open report panic buying of canned goods.

There was a sign of a slight letup in the extremist grip Thursday night, when leaders of the Ulster Workers' Council, coordinating the strike, agreed to let power plants continue operating at their minimal scale.

Supplies are at 30 per cent of normal.

Neil, 29, lives in a comfortable two-story house in Belfast's northern outskirts. Protestants and Catholics have electric power stations still operating.

The strike has not been peaceful since side by side in the area since sectarian strife erupted in 1969. It was a refuge from the troubles.

Yet the brutal realities still reach them. Neil lost an eye when terrorists bombed his factory two years ago. He was off work for 16 months and underwent two major operations and a half-dozen minor ones.

He spent his life savings, and then borrowed money from

Arthritis Chapter Begins Campaign

The special gifts phase of the Arthritis Foundation campaign started this week with letters to donors from chairman Cecil Bybee.

Campaign officials point out that the West Texas Chapter, which has its headquarters in Midland, in just seven years has advanced to the point that it showed the greatest rate of growth of all chapters in 1973.

The chapter's income of more than $99,000 last year was a 56.4 per cent increase over 1972.

Among the uses of the money collected during the campaign are:

- Granting $7,100 to the rheumatology program at Texas Tech University Medical School.
- Adding $10,000 to the chapter's fellowship fund to be used by graduate medical students at Tech for specializing in rheumatology.
- Earmarking $3,000 for special training in the rheumatic diseases for undergraduate medical students at Tech.
- Spending $40,000 for support of national research and training programs.
- Providing educational material, self-help equipment and other services to the approximately 125,000 arthritics in West Texas.

Rabin Says He Has Formed New Israeli Government

JERUSALEM (AP) — Premier-designate Yitzhak Rabin announced today that he had formed a government, replacing Golda Meir's, and hoped to name his cabinet by Saturday night.

Rabin, 52, told President Ezer Weizman that he had taken longer than the 21 days authorized to form a cabinet because he had been busy with the Israeli team negotiating with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger to end the war with Syria.

In a brief statement to newsmen after his meeting with Rabin, Rabin made no hint as to the makeup of his cabinet.

Political insiders said Deputy Premier Yigal Alon of the outgoing government was expected to get the foreign minister post.

Dallas Man Files $7-Billion Lawsuit

DALLAS (AP) — A Dallas resident, Donald Glynn Sneed, has filed a $7-billion damage suit against the U.S. government on behalf of what he says are "all God's children."

Sneed filed the suit with U.S. District Court Judge William Taylor Jr. with God named as the co-plaintiff. He said God had given him verbal permission to file the suit.

"This case is being brought to the courts to determine if the government of the United States is subject to the laws of God," Sneed said.

He cited the violations of God's laws as including Vietnam War deaths, "the enslaving ... of my forefathers," selling of God's land, pollution and deaths in the Indian wars.

Dan Purdy, law clerk for Judge Taylor, said the matter could become moot if the government argues and the judge agrees that federal law requires Sneed to get God's written consent for the filing of the suit in His name.

Judge Asks Briefs In Rights Lawsuit

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — Law for a preliminary injunction have five days to submit briefs in a $10-million lawsuit. The suit alleges rights violations in unlawful liquor raids, seizures and destruction of property by officers.

The political future of caretaker Foreign Minister Abba Eban also seemed in doubt after he informed Rabin he "does not wish to join the new government about to be formed."

Grand Jury Hears Former Astronaut Gordon Cooper

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Former astronaut Gordon Cooper has testified before a federal grand jury investigating the Patterson Corp., defendant in a Securities and Exchange Commission fraud suit.

Cooper, who made orbital flights with the space program in 1963 and 1965, testified for more than three hours Thursday to a jury convened by the Justice Department's organized crime and racketeering section.

The purpose of the investigation isn't known, and it wasn't learned why Cooper was called.

Cooper, who operates a driving school north of here in Orange County, said afterward he had never been affiliated with any job with the company after leaving the space program in 1970.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Candle Pointer Sparks A Sellout

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — Your "use vanilla candles to kill cigarette odor" sold almost every vanilla candle in our town.

I am blessed with an apartment that has a storage space off an inset balcony but its door never fit tightly at the bottom so this space smelled musty when we moved here — not damp musty, but dust musty. Well, there may be a bit of dampness, too. I had no choice but to store my balcony furniture, Christmas decorations and so on in there. The door has been fixed and the damp smell I can prevent by using a commercial product. But how do I get rid of that musty dusty smell? I do not have any place to sun these items and even wonder if there is some sort of incense that could be safely burned and would hopefully permeate and overpower the smell. Somehow I just know you will come up with an answer. Thanks for just being you.

Also, my Pet Peeve concerns the names by which we are called. Since women's lib "girls" makes me feel like I am still willing to go along with the sex kitten thing — I hate the word "woman" as it is corny and "ladies" sounds false. Perhaps the men have this same hangup and I wonder what they like to be called. — ROBERTA.

DEAR POLLY — I have help for Mae who finds it hard to pour liquid medicine into a teaspoon without wasting some. I took a small plastic cylinder bottle that pills came in from the drug store, poured a teaspoon of water in it and with a sharp knife scratched a line on the outside of the cylinder at the top of the water. I find it easier to pour medicine into the cylinder rather than into a spoon and if I get too much and the bottle. Drink the dose out of the cylinder, rinse and save for the next time. I have not tried this with children but think they might be easily persuaded to drink from the "little glass." — GEORGIANA.

DEAR GIRLS — If the scratched line is a bit hard to see, a line of bright-colored adhesive tape could be placed so the lower edge would mark the teaspoon measurement or a marking pen could color the indentation. — POLLY.

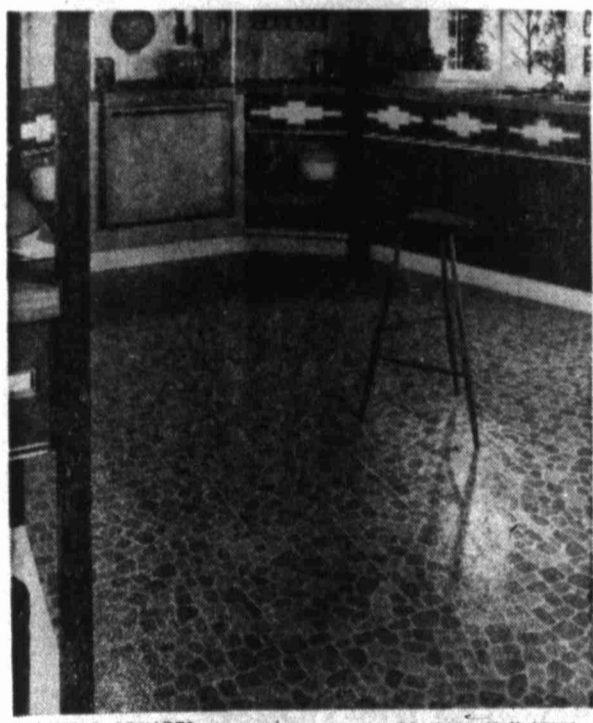

DEAR POLLY — If a favorite silver purse shows slight wear in some places, apply several coats of silver nail polish and it will look like new. Doubtless this could also be done to a gold purse. — MRS. G. I. R.

DEAR POLLY — I hope my Pointer will help other busy mothers who have youngsters who like both mustard and mayonnaise on their lunchtime sandwiches. I make a combination of the two in the proportion they like and keep this in a labeled jar in the refrigerator. This saves time during a hectic lunch hour. — DOROTHY.

Jaycee-Ettes Of Midland Receive State Recognition

The Jaycee-ettes of Midland received all the first place awards in club competition at the recent Texas Jaycee and Jaycee-ette convention in El Paso.

This is the first time the Midland group has been named the Outstanding Club or has won first place in all three categories: Aid to Jaycees, Civic Activities and Other Jaycee-ette Activities.

Annually at the state convention, all work of the immediate previous administrations is entered in competition with work of other clubs from cities in Texas with populations of 40,000 to 75,000. The work is judged on the quality of the projects and their benefit to the community.

Mrs. Robert Southerland was president of the Midland group for 1973-74. Serving with her on the board of directors were Mrs. Jack Stagner, vice president in charge of Aid to Jaycees; Mrs. Bob Berryman, secretary; Mrs. Anthony Herrera, treasurer; Mrs. Ray Harrison, historian; Mrs. Scott McKee, state director; Mrs. Joe Kidd, past president, and Mrs. Randy Hachtel and Mrs. Larry Stapp, directors in charge of civic activities and other Jaycee-ette activities.

The Midland Jaycee-ettes completed a total of 140 projects between April 1973 and April 1974. The major projects were Playland Park, football concessions, Midland Charity Horse Show, Christmas in October, Senior Citizens Month, Midland Community Center for Mental Health and Mental Retardation activities, adopted family, dress fund, 25th anniversary reunion and Tall City Twirling Festival.

The Midland group made donations of almost $1,300 to organizations during the year. The group also was cited for its work in the campaign of Mrs. Gene Bell for the newly elected state Jaycee-ette president. Mrs. Bell presented a plaque to Mrs. Southerland and Mrs. McKee.

Members attending the convention were Mrs. Southerland, Mrs. Stagner, Mrs. Hachtel, Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Kidd, Mrs. Jerry Hyde, Mrs. Joe Campbell, Mrs. Doug Henson, Mrs. Mickey Gaines, Mrs. Lester Gutierrez, Mrs. Wayne Murrell, Mrs. McKee and Mrs. Chuck Van Heel.

Pentecostal Youth Set Fund Raiser

Pastor R. G. Eskridge and the young people of the First United Pentecostal Church will share with fellow Midlanders a project in which they actively are engaged and which will culminate on June 1.

The United Pentecostal Church annually at this time of the year sponsors a fund-raising effort for missionary projects in America and overseas. "March for Missions!" this year has been chosen as the church's principal means of raising funds, Eskridge said.

On June 1, volunteers from the church will attempt to walk a total of 20 miles in the interest of missions. None of the proceeds will remain in the Midland church. All will be used for mission projects.

The "marchers" presently are engaged in obtaining sponsors for a minimum of 10 cents per mile for every mile they complete in the "March for Missions."

CRADLE OF METHODISM — Wesley's Chapel, a London church built in 1778 under direction of John Wesley, the founder of Methodism, will be restored if a campaign to raise $875,000 is successful. $55,000 To Be Spent On August Crusade Here

Almost $55,000 will be raised and spent by Permian Basin area citizens in behalf of the Permian Basin Crusade For Christ, according to Fred Poe of Midland, the crusade finance chairman.

The crusade will be held Aug. 2-11 at Midland Memorial Stadium. Permian Basin area churches of all denominations have joined in inviting Dr. John Wesley White, associate evangelist with the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association, to deliver the spiritual messages.

Poe said about $5,000 already has been collected, about half of it through share partner donations and half through general donations. The nearly $55,000 represents about $1.50 per person expected to actually attend the meetings each night. About $9,000 is expected to be gathered during Crusade Week through offerings, while nearly $46,000 must be gathered in advance.

Largest expense to be incurred will be for publicity and advertising, which will cost $14,355, and crusade team expenses of $10,075. Dr. White receives no remuneration from the crusade as he is paid a salary by the Graham Evangelistic Association.

Dr. White made an early appearance in Midland in late April when a crusade introductory dinner was held at First Presbyterian Church. Pat Baskin, chairman of the crusade executive committee, introduced crusade coordinator Lowell Jackson from the Graham Association and he presented the crusade team, including the musicians Tom Bledsoe of Dallas and Bill Faig of the Midwest.

Lowell conducted a church representative training rally on April 30 at First Baptist Church, where representatives were briefed.

Pre-meeting training sessions and seminars will be conducted between now and the crusade to continue the planning for it.

Other expenses which the crusade will have are: Arrangements, $8,900; office operation, $6,350; youth programs, $4,600; music books and instruments, $2,760; materials, $2,298; lay witness training classes, $2,062; pre-crusade visitation, $1,260; and other miscellaneous expenses.

Contributions are being accepted through various participating churches in the Permian Basin and at the Permian Basin Crusade For Christ office at 1509 W. Wall St. Room 169. Contributions may be mailed to the crusade at P.O. Box 100, Midland 79701.

Homecoming Fete Slated

Golf Course Road Church of Christ, 3500 W. Golf Course Road, will have a homecoming celebration Sunday, to be highlighted by open house in the new educational wing of the church.

The new wing, which has been in use for the last several weeks, contains almost a dozen classrooms, office facilities and a small auditorium, said Bert Mercer, minister.

Sunday worship services will begin at 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. In addition, a covered dish luncheon is scheduled for 12 noon, to be followed by singing at 2 p.m.

Youths Holding Garage Sale Here

Members of the Christian Youth Fellowship of First Christian Church are staging a garage sale today and Friday in the church fellowship hall, 1301 W. Louisiana St.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to help defray expenses of the CYF trip to Mexico City in July to attend the Disciples of Christ world convention.

The sale will continue until 6 p.m. today, and will resume at 9 a.m. Saturday, continuing until 6 p.m. The public is invited.

Aldersgate Sunday Observance Slated

Joining Churches of Methodist heritage throughout North America, Midland's Free Methodist Church, 4712 Shadylane, will observe Sunday as Aldersgate Sunday.

The doctrine of assurance as taught by John Wesley will be emphasized in song and sermon, said the Rev. William E. Jenkins. An important part of the observance will be the opportunity for members and constituents to share in the restoration of Wesley's Chapel, London, through a free will offering during the 11 a.m. service.

A campaign to raise $875,000 in North America has gained wide interest among churches and individuals of the approximately 20 dominations of Methodist persuasion. A layman gave $10,000 to cover cost of the campaign so all other gifts can go entirely to fund the restoration of the chapel. Other gifts were forthcoming before the campaign was begun, Mr. Jenkins noted.

Methodism's mother church, Wesley's Chapel is significant to millions whose Biblical doctrines are founded on the scriptural interpretations of John Wesley. Built in 1778 under the direction of Wesley, this historic church is now condemned and closed. Damage suffered during London's heaviest bombings in World War II is showing up in weakened foundations and timbers. The British Parliament has declared Wesley's Chapel an historic British monument which must be restored.

Rev. Johnson To Be Honored

The Rev. Frank Johnson will be honored Sunday as he marks the conclusion of 13 years as pastor of Kewview Heights Baptist Church and prepares to begin his 14th year.

Special events are planned by the congregation to honor the pastor during the 10 a.m. Sunday service. All members and friends of the church are invited to attend.

Spokesmen for the congregation point out that under Mr. Johnson's leadership, Kewview Heights Church has undertaken and completed several major building programs as well as increasing its Sunday School attendance and its membership many-fold.

Kewview Heights Church is located west of North Big Spring Street between West Alia Street and Scharbauer Drive.

Aide Defends Big Airport

The Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport is not as bad as everyone says, said Jack Downey, deputy executive director.

Downey held a Thursday afternoon press conference at Midland Regional Air Terminal.

Phone calls are still a quarter and a dollar bill changer only returns 95 cents in change, he added. But pay toilets are a dime, not a quarter.

Change machine will continue to return 95 cents. "The cost of the exchange is about a nickel," he explained.

U. S. Postal Service stamp machines sell two 10 cent stamps for 25 cents, Downey added.

DFW is not a tax-supported airport and although the airlines pay for most of the expenses passengers must pay minor costs, he said.

Most of the airport's systems are operating as designed, Downey continued. The baggage system now destroys or loses only about the same percentage of luggage as other airports.

The AirTrans computerized shuttle system between terminals now operates about 90 per cent of the time and people are learning to read signs.

The airport is designed as a "do-it-yourself" facility with signs telling people where to go, he explained. "People just plain will not read signs. It's a problem."

"That problem is solving itself as the airlines learn the airport better," he added. "Airline employees now know where to tell people to go."

The brightest spot at DFW is actual air operations, Downey said. The Airline Pilots Association has commended DFW for being one of the safest, if not the safest, airport in the world. DFW has completed more than 106,000 operations without an "incident," he said.

About the only facet of airport operations Downey would not discuss is the suit involving DFW, Texas International Airlines, Braniff Airlines and Southwest Airlines.

Southwest continues to operate commuter flights out of Dallas Love Field, much nearer downtown. The other airlines have signed an agreement to operate only at DFW.

Attorneys for the airport have advised him not to discuss the suit, Downey explained.

Panel Says Transcripts Inadequate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee has been advised by its two top lawyers that it can't rely on White House-edited transcripts in its impeachment inquiry.

Errors, omissions and deletions in the 46 conversations released April 30 by President Nixon make them unsatisfactory as evidence, say chief counsel John Doar and Albert Jenner, the chief minority counsel. They told the committee Thursday there was "an absolute need" to get the tapes of the conversations if the impeachment verdict is to be based on the best evidence.

Nixon spurned a committee subpoena for 11 Watergate tapes Wednesday and said he would not respond to any other subpoenas it may issue for Watergate material. He turned over the transcripts in response to an earlier subpoena for tapes.

In another Watergate arena, today is the deadline for White House response to subpoenas for papers left behind by two former Nixon aides when they still were working for the President. U.S. District Court Judge Gerhard Gesell has said he might have to throw out charges against the five defendants in the Ellsberg break-in case if all relevant material is not provided.

The U.S. Court of Appeals ruled Thursday that the Senate Watergate committee had not shown sufficient need for five White House tape recordings it had sought in a 10-month legal battle.

In other Watergate developments:

Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe told the Senate Judiciary Committee that special prosecutor Leon Jaworski will not be fired. Saxbe told committee Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., that he will continue to guarantee Jaworski's freedom in the Watergate investigation.

An Internal Revenue Service spokesman said IRS has declined to supply the House Judiciary Committee with information on Nixon's tax returns.

The spokesman said Treasury Secretary William E. Simon has referred to Saxbe the question of whether it would be proper to supply the information that the committee requested.

To be resolved is whether the committee's constitutional authority over impeachment is superior to specific statutory prohibition in the Internal Revenue code against giving out tax return information, the spokesman said.

After the House committee's session, Doar repeated the criticism of the White House tapes he had delivered to the members.

"I am concerned about their accuracy and about the judgments of the President and his counsel on matters of relevance," he said.

Doar's assessment of the White House transcripts is based on comparisons with transcripts produced by the committee from tapes of the same conversations it got from the special prosecutor.

Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr. said the comparisons disclosed numerous misstatements, omissions, misattributions and deletions that distorted the meaning of some conversations in the White House transcripts, though neither cited specific examples.

Poker Game Winner Loses To Con Men

ODESSA — Jerry Albert Brown had a winning poker hand Wednesday but he was a $7,000 loser in a con game.

Odessa police said he lost the money in a "pigeon drop" between 9 a.m. and 11 a.m.

Brown told officers a Negro man in his 40s approached him on a North Maple Street parking lot. While the two were talking a white man approached them and asked them to join in a poker game in an alley.

The stakes started small but after several hands the pot reached $8,000. Brown, thinking he had an unbeatable hand, went to his bank and withdrew the $7,000.

He put the money in an envelope and the envelope in a paper sack. After returning to the game, he showed the winning hand and picked up the sack which he thought contained all the stakes.

The other two men left and Brown found the bag stuffed with tissue paper. The sacks had been switched and he had not noticed.

Police are searching for the two con men.

felony charges including assault, robbery and kidnaping were filed Wednesday against Miss Hearst and the Hartises, a white couple the FBI has said are the last SLA members it seeks.

Meanwhile, one of Miss Hearst's alleged victims testified for an hour Thursday as a federal grand jury opened its investigation of an April 15 SLA bank robbery in San Francisco. Police said Thomas Matthews, 18, was held captive for 12 hours last week by Miss Hearst and the Hartises when the three became involved in an alleged shoplifting attempt at a suburban Los Angeles sporting goods store.

A source close to the investigation said Matthews was a "good witness." Authorities say he told them that Miss Hearst declared she was a voluntary participant in the bank robbery in which two persons were wounded.

Leinan, his wife Joy and their son Tommy were on their way back to Dallas today. Wilson said Leinan stopped a Palacios patrolman three days ago and asked for help, saying he could not remember who he was or what he was doing in Palacios. He told officers he could only remember the names of Dallas, Portland and Denver.

A doctor's examination revealed no bruises or contusions. Leinan had $120 in cash and no laundry marks on his clothing.

Dawson County Names Outstanding Senior Citizens

LAMESA — Mrs. Sedahlia Smith, Thomas D. Gomez and Mrs. Grace Bell Motley Tuesday were named "Outstanding Senior Citizens for Dawson County."

The three were recognized at the annual senior citizens luncheon and were presented a certificate of recognition from Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Mrs. Smith, an active Sunday school teacher at the Church of Christ has been active in raising funds for neighborhood college students.

subsidized, indicating authorities may have lost the immediate trail of the three fugitives, all of whom face possible life in prison.

Felony charges including assault, robbery and kidnaping were filed Wednesday against Miss Hearst and the Hartises, a white couple the FBI has said are the last SLA members it seeks.

Meanwhile, one of Miss Hearst's alleged victims testified for an hour Thursday as a federal grand jury opened its investigation of an April 15 SLA bank robbery in San Francisco. Police said Thomas Matthews, 18, was held captive for 12 hours last week by Miss Hearst and the Hartises when the three became involved in an alleged shoplifting attempt at a suburban Los Angeles sporting goods store.

A source close to the investigation said Matthews was a "good witness." Authorities say he told them that Miss Hearst declared she was a voluntary participant in the bank robbery in which two persons were wounded.

Palacios Amnesia Victim Identified As Dallas Resident

PALACIOS, Tex. (AP) — A man found wandering alone in this South Texas town three days ago has been identified by his wife and son as Kenneth Eugene Leinan, 37, of Dallas.

"He was pretty happy when his folks came down and identified him," Chief of Police Jim Wilson said today. "But even after his wife identified him, he said he couldn't remember a thing."

Leinan, his wife Joy and their son Tommy were on their way back to Dallas today. Wilson said Leinan stopped a Palacios patrolman three days ago and asked for help, saying he could not remember who he was or what he was doing in Palacios. He told officers he could only remember the names of Dallas, Portland and Denver.

A doctor's examination revealed no bruises or contusions. Leinan had $120 in cash and no laundry marks on his clothing.

Nixon Weathers Transcript Flurry

NEW YORK (AP) — Polster Louis Harris says President Nixon weathered release of the White House tape transcripts and held on to an important positive job rating from 32 per cent of the respondents to a nationwide survey.

"This is significant," Harris said Thursday, "because, by coincidence, all he needs is the support of 34 out of 100 U.S. Senators to avoid being removed from office."

The 1,556 adults were polled until May 7, Harris continued, "until the full impact of the contents of the edited Watergate transcripts had had time to sink in."

"By and large, despite the spate of calls for the resignation of Mr. Nixon by hitherto pillars of conservative, pro-Nixon support, the President did not suffer as much as most observers thought he had."

Stanton Commencement Tonight Moved To Gym

STANTON — Stanton High School commencement exercises, which begin at 8 p.m. today, have been moved to the school's gymnasium after possible structural damage was discovered in the roof of the SHS auditorium last week.

Superintendent Russell McMeans said Thursday that small cracks in the ceiling had been noticed on the inside of the building, and that complete study of the problem had been called for by the school board.

McMeans said architect Tommy Huckabee of Andrews was sending one of his structural engineers to give the building a "complete x-ray." He added the damage could possibly have resulted from high winds, or one of the recent storms.

The gym seats more than the auditorium but has no air conditioning.

Dale Henson is the valedictorian of the 42-member class. He had a 95.87 average just ahead of Robby Shewmaker's 94.335 and salutatorian's Tricia Shoemaker's 93.617.

Naval Academy Facing Major Cheating Scandal

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—The superintendent of the U.S. Naval Academy, faced with what could be the school's greatest cheating scandal, blames the problem on what he calls anti-establishment youth.

Vice Adm. William P. Mack appeared at a news conference Thursday after confirming reports of possible cheating by as many as 150 midshipmen on a final exam in a sophomore course on celestial navigation.

He said:

"These are all human beings, they come from the society of our country. They come from a generation which has demonstrated in a sense it is generally against the establishment."

Mack said he and academy officials have not concluded that cheating occurred on Tuesday's exam taken by about 900 of the 4,000 midshipmen at the academy.

But they did confirm reports from student sources that a large number of midshipmen apparently knew test questions in advance and came to the exam armed with answers and problem computations.

The apparent answers in most cases were jotted in nautical almanacs — the tide, sun and moon tables that the men are allowed to bring to navigation exams to solve problems involving ship movements and locations, the student sources reported.

Mack said academy officials were warned of the possible cheating just before the exam began. He said authorities then swept the halls, confiscating from students any material that contained what appeared to be prewritten exam answers.

Avant-garde composer Gunther Schuller has called Ellington "certainly—the greatest American composer."

Arturo Toscanini commissioned Ellington to write a piece for his NBC Symphony, and other symphony orchestras around the world have played Ellington's music. So has almost every dance band.

In 1965, when he was 66, a Pulitzer Prize jury recommended him for a special award, but the advisory board rejected it.

"Fate is being kind to me," Ellington said. "Fate doesn't want me to be famous—too young."

He composed in taxicabs, in restaurants, on buses, and often worked until dawn after playing night club dates on his never-ending tours of the world.

"I'm in contact every night with people—live people, listening to my music," he said in the seventh decade of his life.

"What reason would I have to retire from the road?"

President Nixon invited him to the White House on his 70th birthday and gave him the nation's highest civilian honor, the Medal of Freedom.

Motocross Races Set

The West Side Optimist Club will stage its regular monthly Motocross races at its track 3½ miles west of Midland on Highway 80 and the action will be enhanced by an unofficial District 5-4A high school championship.

"It's not sanctioned by the district," explains Bill Johnson of the Optimists, "but we have invited riders from all schools . . . so it will be strictly unofficial."

Action gets under way at 1 p.m. with practice scheduled for 11 a.m. The card will begin and end with the 5-4A heats and in between will be races for riders from the mini class to the open.

Johnson said 100 to 125 bikers were anticipated. "But you never know until the day arrives how many will turn up."

Officer Proposes Ban On Handguns

BOSTON (AP) — Boston Police Commissioner Robert DiGrazia has proposed a nationwide prohibition on handguns for everyone except police officers.

"The handgun is the tool of the violent criminal. It is made to kill. It has no constructive purpose," DiGrazia told a civic club meeting Thursday night.

His proposal, which he said was supported by eight of the 32 big city police chiefs who met in San Francisco last week, would ban the manufacture, distribution, sale, ownership and possession of handguns for everyone except police officers.

DiGrazia said that 27 persons are killed with handguns each day in the United States.

Otherwise, little weather activity is predicted for Midland. The high this afternoon and Saturday will be in the low-to-mid 90s. The overnight low will be in the middle-to-high 60s.

Thursday's high was 96 degrees and the low this morning was 70.

Most of the turbulence persisted north of a line from west of Vernon to southwest of Wichita Falls and along the Red River, also reaching northward to around Shamrock in the Panhandle.

Except for low clouds near Austin and San Antonio, skies were clear to only partly cloudy over the rest of the state.

Forecasters looked for the weather front to ease a little farther south. More thunderstorms were predicted tonight and Saturday in the west part of the state. It was expected to be at least partly cloudy and warm in all sections.

Raven Confesses Arranging Dates For 16-Year-Old

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — After a long pause, Travis Raven responded, "Yes," when asked if he arranged for a 16-year-old Houston runaway "to sell her body."

The former Austin schools athletic director gave that answer under cross-examination Thursday in a jammed courtroom.

Raven and co-defendant Audrey McDonald are being tried on charges of compelling prostitution by a minor.

Raven, 51, took the witness stand in his own defense earlier in the day as the first defense witness.

Asked why he chose to associate with Mary Theresa Lindley, the girl whom the charge involved, Raven said, "It was a matter of helping a person in distress. Then it became a problem. It became a matter of habitual whining and habitual crying (about her lack of money)."

"So then," asked Dist. Atty. R. O. Smith, "you started getting her dates so she could sell her body?"

Raven hesitated. Then he said, "Yes," in an even voice.

House Gives Final Approval To Higher Veterans Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Veterans disabled in service and their dependents would get a $66.9-million boost in benefits under a bill given final congressional approval by the House.

The House sent that measure, along with a bill temporarily protecting veterans' educational benefits, to President Nixon on Thursday after approving the legislation by unanimous consent.

The disability compensation bill is $130 million higher than was requested by the President in January.

Veterans with a disability rating of 10 to 50 per cent would get a 15 per cent increase in benefits. Those with a disability rating of 60 to 100 per cent and statutory awards for anatomical losses would get an 18 per cent increase.

The payments thus would rise from $28 to $32 for 10 per cent disability and from $495 to $584 for those in the 100 per cent category.

Payments to widows and children of veterans who died of service-connected causes would increase by 17 per cent. They now range from $184 to $460 a month, depending on the veteran's highest military rank.

The education bill affects 206,000 post-Korean veterans and 79,000 Vietnam-era veterans now attending school. They are among four million veterans who served between 1950 and 1966 and whose education benefits are due to expire May 31.

The measure would extend their benefits for 30 days while Senate-House conferees try to reach a compromise on widely different over-all education bills for veterans.

Man Comes Back . . . From Death

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP)—"I've been there, and I've come back."

Victor Solow was speaking of death. For 23 minutes after suffering a heart attack, Solow was dead.

The 56-year-old producer of documentary films liked to boast that he had never been sick a day in his life. Then at 10:52 a.m. on Saturday March 23, he collapsed of a heart attack while driving his car. For the next 23 minutes, until 11:15 a.m. when his body was jolted by electric shocks at United Hospital, Solow had no measurable pulse, no heart activity, and no vital signs.

In a tape-recorded story he calls his "Death and Resurrection," Solow has related in his own words his strange experience. The story was published in a four-part series by the 10-member Westchester Rockland Newspapers group.

"I was driving and had just stopped for a red light," he recalls.

"Then calmly but with great surprise," picks up his wife, Lucky, "he turned to me and said, 'Oh, Lucky, I...' As swiftly as the expiration of a breath, he seemed to settle down in his seat with all his weight," she said.

"Even his head remained almost erect but his eyes opened wide like one utterly astonished about an unexpected, strange transcendence. But I knew instantly he could neither hear nor see me.

"I pulled on the emergency brake and turned off the ignition, incoherently talking and pleading with him to hang on, that he was going to be fine. He uttered not a sound."

Mrs. Solow sought help and Frank Colangelo telephoned police from a nearby gasoline station. An officer arrived quickly and began massaging Solow's heart, and this was continued after the arrival of an ambulance manned by five trained volunteers. It took Solow to United, where the staff had been alerted by radio to the emergency.

"The patient was dead by available standards," Dr. Harold Roth recounted. "In other words, there was no measurable pulse, no heart activity, he was not breathing and he appeared to have no vital signs whatever."

A cardiac monitor was put into action. Intravenous medication was begun. Pure oxygen was supplied through a tube. Electric shock was begun, the first at 11:13 a.m.

"It was powerful enough to lift my entire body inches off the operating table, an electrocution in reverse," Solow said doctors told him later. "But there was no result. The heart still showed no activity."

A second shock was administered, and at 11:15 a.m. Dr. Roth remembers: "At this time, examination revealed that the patient's pupils were constricted and narrow, indicating there was a possibility of survival. After the second shock, we began to get evidence of a rhythm on the cardiac monitor.

"The patient was alive and we rapidly began to get increasing movement. He was able to breathe, and we put him under nasal oxygen. From that point, we tended to stabilize him, giving him whatever drugs were required, and monitoring the cardiogram, to make sure the heart wouldn't stop again."

"The crisis was over," Solow wrote. But he added that for the next six days he hung suspended in a state not quite comatose.

North Vietnamese, Cong Forces Batter Posts Near Hue With Mortars

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces battered government positions around the old imperial capital of Hue today with more than 200 mortar rounds, the Saigon command reported.

A communique said seven government positions ranging from 10 miles north of Hue to 15 miles to the south were hit.

Communist-led forces shelled the district town of Ben Cat 25 miles north of Saigon for the ninth successive day, the command said.

The South Vietnamese continued to send air strikes over suspected North Vietnamese positions around Ben Cat.

In Cambodia, insurgent forces attacked Kompong Seila, 90 miles southwest of Phnom Penh on Highway 4, during the night, army sources said.

More than 1,000 government troops in the area of the town hills have been surrounded for the past two weeks by Khmer Rouge rebels.

The rebels launched a series of attacks three weeks ago against isolated government outposts on the lower end of Highway 4 and have forced the government to abandon more than 40 miles of the road.

Eleven government positions have been lost, some with heavy casualties, reports said.

CRMWD To Build New Headquarters At Big Spring

BIG SPRING — The Colorado River Municipal Water District will construct a new headquarters building in Big Spring.

Directors Thursday authorized P. O. Harbour, Odessa, president, to appoint a committee empowered to acquire a site, engage an architect and to make plans for a 10,000-square foot building. The committee is to report back to the board within 60 days.

O. H. Ivie, general manager, said there were adequate funds in the Improvement and Extension Fund to cover the cost of the project, which might be as much as $250,000. Ivie said the district needed office, storage and auxiliary space.

The board approved a water sales contract to furnish Continental Oil Co. water for drilling up to 44 wells in Martin County. The total could run as high as $48,000.

Ivie was authorized to apply to have the Stacy site on the Colorado River included in the Governor's Task Force report of needs for the next 20 years.

This is located near the McCulloch-Concho County line.

Big Spring has been named one of three sites on the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation's weather modification research, Ivie reported. He said there were no indications of activity here before 1975. Currently the district is carrying on a modification project.

Dog Bites Cost Taxpayers Plenty

CHICAGO (AP) — Dog bites are costing taxpayers as much as $400,000 a year, an urban ecologist says.

Alan M. Beck, chairman of the Urban Ecology department at Washington University in St. Louis and author of a study entitled, "Ecology of Stray Dogs," estimates at least 10,000 persons are bitten each year by dogs. He says government investigation of such cases costs between $40 and $70 each.

He spoke here recently at the National Conference on the Ecology of Surplus Dogs and Cats.

Summer's More Fun If You Swim Safely

The mammoth annual splash for participants in America's most popular sports — SWIMMING AND BOATING — will begin early this year with the three-day Memorial Day weekend beginning Saturday.

The American Red Cross, which began teaching safety in the water just 60 years ago, has urged the estimated 150 million aquatic enthusiasts to play it safe and avoid becoming accident statistics this summer. Although the drowning rate has gone down to 3.6 for 100,000 population, there are still 7,600 recorded drownings a year, and that's too many," declared Mrs. Glen Carnett, chairman of water safety for the Midland Red Cross Chapter. "And to these the many near-drownings and the crippling accidents caused by careless diving, and there is good reason to take precautions."

Sixty per cent of the persons who drown annually fall into the water accidentally, Mrs. Carnett said. "They could have saved themselves if they had been able to swim, because almost invariably safety, in the form of a dock, a boat or the shore was nearby.

"So the first precaution for safety in the water is to know how to swim. If you can swim, learn to swim better.

"Next, and this is primarily for parents, watch small children most carefully around the water, even in supervised areas and even at shallow wading pools. Mere seconds of inattention can be fatal."

Other swimming safety tips are these: Always swim with a companion, never alone. When swimming a long distance, also swim with a buddy and stay parallel and close to the shore.

Swim in a safe place. The presence of lifeguards usually indicates the area is safe for swimming. Stay away from the area immediately in front of a diving board and do not swim near piers or pilings.

Before diving, make sure the water is deep enough and there are no submerged rocks or other hidden objects. In pools, look for depth markings before diving.

If you have not been swimming since last summer, take it easy at first. Know your limitations and stay within them.

Wait at least an hour after eating before swimming. Do not swim when overheated or overtired.

Make certain that reaching poles, buoys and similar rescue gear are readily available at your swimming area.

Don't depend on an inflated toy or inner tube to hold you up. It may slip from under accident statistics this summer.

Whenever a thunderstorm approaches, get out of the water — it is a conductor of lightning.

Videotaped Version Of Edited Nixon Transcripts Planned

BOSTON (AP) — "If you liked the book, you'll love the movie."

So say two Boston men who are preparing a videotaped dramatization of the edited White House transcripts of Watergate conversations.

Webster Lithgow and Thomas McCann of The Transcripts Film Co. say they will offer the 40-hour dramatization, using professional actors to portray the roles of the President and his aides, to the television networks or for syndication to independent tv stations.

Expletives deleted in the printed version of the transcripts will be represented by "bleeps" in the spoken conversation, and inaudible or unintelligible references will be treated with appropriate sounds, Lithgow said.

"Great pains are being taken to represent the events with objectivity and fairness," he added.

British Housewife Says 'Never Again'

NOTTINGHAM, England (AP) — "I'll never eat bread and potatoes again in my life." So vowed Shirley Turner, the British housewife who had her jaws cemented together for six months to lose weight.

It worked. Mrs. Turner lost 101 pounds, dropping from 247 pounds to 146. She survived the drastic diet by sipping liquid foods.

Mrs. Turner, 36, had her jaws uncemented after they began to ache.

"The pain was red hot, my face felt swollen. I couldn't sleep," she said. Her doctors said they thought she had had enough of the ordeal.

"I feel beautiful. I'll never slip back to being fat," she said. "I'm glad I did it, but I wouldn't recommend it to anyone else."

Louisiana Law To Work Two Ways

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — The Louisiana Senate has decided that a man is just as guilty as a woman if he pays for her sexual favors.

By a 32-5 vote, the Senate approved a bill to make the state prostitution law apply to both the buyer and the seller.

The measure now goes to the House for action.

PBS To Take Look At Motoring Mania

By JAY SHARBUTT NEW YORK (AP) This Sunday night, ABC-TV is offering a two-hour tape replay of the day's Indianapolis 500, an event some consider a motorized loony display and others a legitimate sports contest.

But come Monday night, the Public Broadcasting Service will offer a far broader look at motor mania with "The Chrome-Plated Nightmare," a one-hour study of America's long love affair with the automobile.

Those who survive Memorial Day traffic might check out this show, though they're hereby warned it is uneven, glibly to a fault and never asks Detroit auto moguls to explain themselves or their wares.

As its title suggests, the program is pretty much of a raspberry directed primarily at the raised-fin, chrome-crazy, power-mad golden era of happy motoring — the mid-1950s to 1970.

It's a generally predictable inspection of the attitudes that led to that automotive mess, starting with the obligatory pilgrimage to Los Angeles, where the car is rumored to be king.

But there are some fine segments that offer considerable fuel for thought, particularly producer-narrator Bill Stewart's sporadic use of old auto show newsreels and commercials to make his point.

One of the latter is a classic piece of pop art that seems deftly silly in this day of relatively sober, gas-conscious motoring. It's a cartoon of a car snoring at dawn at a deserted race track.

"The 1969 Plymouth GTX," breathes the announcer, "can devour anything in its path." And for one minute the snoring gradually becomes a snarling roar, the car's features contort and exhaust flames spout.

The show spatters to a close with a limp suggestion by auto critic John Jerome that less driving by more people is the only way we'll save our world from ruin.

It's doubtful that'll happen. About 15 tons of barnacles must be scrubbed off a tanker every two years.

Former Midlander Wins Book Award

Robert L. Short of Evanston, Ill., formerly of Midland, has been presented the Robert F. Ferguson Memorial Award for 1974 by Friends of Literature of Chicago, Ill.

The award was presented to Short for his new book, "A Time To Be Born — A Time To Die," in which he translates the insights of Ecclesiastes for modern man.

The presentation was made earlier this month at the 43rd annual Shakespeare Birthday Program and Award Dinner held in Chicago's Bismarck Hotel.

Short also is the author of "The Gospel According to Peanuts" and "The Parables of Peanuts."

"The Gospel According to Peanuts," a contemporary theological classic based on Charles Schulz' popular "Peanuts" comic strip, has sold more than a million copies.

Short, a Midland High School graduate who holds degrees from the University of Oklahoma and Southern Methodist University, was in Midland recently to visit his father, Lester M. Short and Mrs. Short, 1011 W. Louisiana St.

ONE WAY TO BEAT CRUNCH—

Food Chain Uses Paper Pennies

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston grocery store chain is battling the penny shortage by printing its own.

The Eagle Grocery Stores here are using paper pennies, printed at the company expense and redeemable at all Eagle stores, to overcome a chronic shortage of the copper coins.

"This was about the last thing that we wanted to do," says store manager Dick Gardiner, "but we really had little choice. We didn't want to cheat our customers, but we still had to make change."

Customers receive green slips of paper, printed with the company name, instead of pennies. Five of the paper slips, which are slightly larger than a business card, are worth a nickel.

"What else could we do," asks Gardiner. "We couldn't get pennies. And if we went through the store and rounded off all our prices the sales tax would still defeat us. We just can't do without pennies."

Gardiner said customers are cooperating and view the script as symptomatic of "just one more shortage to put up with."

Other businesses are rounding off prices to meet the shortage. As a result, the customer sometimes gets shortchanged.

"My lunch today cost me two cents more because they didn't have any pennies," noted a secretary who ate at a hamburger chain.

The federal reserve bank here says it is dumping as many pennies as ever into the market, but they just seem to disappear.

"We're getting as many pennies from the Denver mint as we ever did," says Vernon Barbee, the Federal Reserve operations officer here. "The main problem is the flow back from the banks."

Last year, he said, during a typical month, the federal offices here would receive $11,000 worth of pennies returned from the local banks for redistribution. Now, the fed gets only about $2,000 worth returned each month.

The difference, some 900,000 pennies, are apparently being held by people collecting the one-cent coins, he said.

As a result, Barbee said the fed is forced to cutback by about 20 per cent the amount of pennies supplied to local banks.

Commercial banks are having the same problem, says Larry Kamsteiner of the Texas Commerce Bank.

"Our only source of pennies now is the Fed," said Kamsteiner. "Once we'd get $500 to $1-500 pennies back (from circulation) each week. Now we're not getting any back."

People hoarding pennies in hopes of someday profits may be penny rich, but they're pound foolish, some bank officials point out. To make any real money on penny speculation may create more storage and hauling problems than its worth.

Fifty dollars worth of pennies weigh 34 pounds. To make any significant money from penny collecting a person would need to save at least $1,000 worth. This many pennies would fill a good-sized box and would weigh 680 pounds.

"Anybody trying to make a killing in pennies will need three or four longshoremen to haul them around," said a bank officer. "They'd probably have to fill up a room or two just to store them."

USDA Charges Packers Hoarding Meat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumers saved 38 cents a week on food in April from March prices, the Agriculture Department says, but two congressmen say the savings could have been higher if meat packers stopped hoarding meat.

Reps. Frank Benholm, D-S.D., and Lester Wolff, D-N.Y., said Thursday there is a record stockpile of 476 million pounds of meat in cold storage, 37 per cent higher than in 1973.

"We have a situation here that is wreaking havoc not only upon the American consumer but also upon the farmer. They are being cheated by those packers who are hoarding meat in cold storage warehouses and not releasing it into the marketplace," Wolff said at a news conference.

"A decline in food prices will remain only wishful thinking if market manipulation of this sort is allowed to continue."

"The consumers can scarcely pay more and certainly producers cannot take less," Denholm said. "The abnormalities of present circumstances are intolerable. The secretary of agriculture must do more to represent the interests of both the consumers and producers."

An Agriculture Department spokesman said he doubted if he would call it hoarding, but he said, "We think the pipeline ought to be cleared . . . There's meat in the pipeline. While meat prices have declined a bit, they are nowhere near the drop at the farm level."

Relief from high food prices promised by the administration translated into a 1.1 per cent decline in retail prices of farm-produced food from March to

April, the USDA said Thursday. It said that meant a $20 drop in a year's supply of groceries for what was called a typical 3.2-member household, or a savings of 38 cents a week.

The decline is the first since October.

Ex-White House Counsel Colson Turns Evangelist

OWOSSO, Mich. (AP) — Charles W. Colson is waging a new campaign, not for politicians but for souls. The former White House special counsel has turned evangelist.

Colson, who has been indicted for conspiracy in the Watergate cover-up and in the burglary of the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist, presided over a prayer breakfast Thursday before some 300 civic and business leaders in this central Michigan town.

He warned the overflow crowd at a local YMCA of the "pitfalls of pride" and said he'd abandoned his own "damnable pride and ego" to dedicate his life to Jesus Christ.

Of his alleged Watergate involvement, Colson said, "I know I am innocent of all charges."

"I don't feel sorry for myself. It's part of a Christian life to be tried. And down through the years, men who have professed their faith in Christ have found that this is a very difficult road we are asked to follow . . ."

Colson, 42, who was widely quoted during the 1972 presidential campaign as saying he would "walk over my own grandmother" to re-elect Richard Nixon, said he never imagined becoming involved in the "biggest political cross-fire in American history."

In edited transcripts of White House tape recorded conversations that Nixon released April 30, the President expressed concern over how deeply involved Colson might be in Watergate.

In an April 14, 1973, discussion between Nixon and two White House aides of the Watergate break-in, Nixon said, "Colson is closer to this crew of robbers than anybody else." In another conversation the next day, Nixon said Colson could be tied in "up to his navel" in the cover-up.

Colson left the White House last year to return to private law practice.

Refuses To Answer Questions He told the prayer breakfast: "Achieving is not sinfully wrong, but achieving only to gratify one's ego is to worship a false god." He added, "I was looking for the next highest mountain I might be able to climb so I could impress myself, my friends and my family with how good I really was."

Colson agreed to appear at Thursday's event after Sen. Harold Hughes, D-Iowa, suggested to an Owosso friend that the former Nixon aide be invited. Hughes himself has announced his devotion to religious work, saying he will not run again for the Senate.

Colson refused to answer newsmen's questions after the speech.

Storms Hammer Oklahoma, Ohio

By The Associated Press Light showers and fair skies formed a checkerboard pattern across the nation today, and scattered thunderstorms swept parts of Oklahoma and Ohio.

A tornado destroyed some outbuildings near Aurora, Mo., during the night and another was sighted at Okmulgee, Okla. Winds gusted to 65 miles per hour as thunderstorms struck Altus, Okla., and Findlay and Bucyrus, Ohio.

Showers sprinkled areas along the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, and spots in the Southwest.

Skies were clear over the Appalachian Mountain region, the Gulf Coast states and the Missouri Valley, where the middle section was chilled by unseasonably cold weather.

Cloudy skies prevailed over parts of the Great Lakes region and were scattered from California to the Rockies.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 32 at Bismarck, N.D., to 84 at Phoenix, Ariz.

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Milton Shapp in the role of songwriter—not governor—will appear on the television program "What's My Line" to try to stump the panelists, his office says.

Shapp will be identified as Pennsylvania's governor and then the panelists will try to guess his avocation—song-writing.

Shapp wrote "The Ballad of Rose Mary," a spoof of Watergate, which has been recorded. The program was taped Thursday. No date was set for its showing.

The Vote Was Right

Rejection by the House of Representatives earlier this week of a standby emergency energy bill was encouraging to all concerned.

But it by no means marked the end of the fight against the petroleum industry and, in fact, the nation and its best interests.

The bill, among other things, would have rolled back the price of domestic crude oil to pre-embargo levels.

The vote was too close for comfort — 207 to 191 against the measure, which was designed as a successor to the energy bill vetoed by President Nixon in March.

The measure would have set the price of most domestic crude oil at Nov. 1, 1973, levels, virtually wiping out most of the price hikes which have stimulated interest in finding and producing more oil and gas as a means of relieving the energy shortage.

Passage of the measure would have put the oil industry right back where it was before increased prices made it profitable to seek and develop new oil reserves.

The standby measure was brought to the floor by Commerce Committee Chairman Harley Staggers, D-W.Va., under a so-called "gag" rule which prohibited amendments but required a two-thirds majority for passage. Staggers explained that he had been forced to resort to the gag rule when the Rules Committee refused to clear the bill for regular floor action. He said he had hoped to gain a simple majority, at least, which might have persuaded the Rules Committee to clear the bill.

Staggers hasn't departed the battlefield. He stated his intention of again trying to get the measure past the Rules panel.

Whether or not he will succeed remains to be seen. The proposed legislation should be allowed to die.

The bill also would give the President power to ration gasoline and other scarce fuels and would authorize additional unemployment benefits for workers left jobless by fuel shortages.

It is understood that the White House has said the President would veto the bill in its present form. And he certainly would be justified in such action.

The bill is termed by Rep. John Anderson, R-Ill., as "thoroughly bad legislation." He estimates the additional unemployment benefits might cost up to $4.6 billion a year.

This and the fact that the measure would derail the petroleum industry's all-out, fast-moving efforts to overcome the energy shortage as quickly as possible make the proposed legislation bad, ill-advised and hazardous!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: Nixon tells aides 'worst is over.'

WASHINGTON — President Nixon has told aides that he believes the national outrage over the White House transcripts has died down and that he now has weathered the worst of the storm.

Sources privy to the President's private conversations say he feared for awhile that the crescendo of criticism might become overpowering. He felt the demands for his resignation, which came pouring in from Republican leaders and conservative newspapers, were "hysterical."

Ironically, the president credits Democratic leaders with abating the storm. He frankly had expected them to join in the clamor for his resignation, he has confided. Instead, House Speaker Carl Albert, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield and Senate Democratic whip Robert Byrd spoke out against resignation and broke the momentum.

This had the dramatic effect the president told aides, of calming a mob at the jailhouse door.

Nixon is grateful to the opposition leaders for preventing Congress from becoming "a runaway grand jury" on the eve of the impeachment hearings. He has confidence that the responsible leaders of Congress now will keep the impeachment proceedings on an even course.

VIETNAM SPENDING: The Vietnam war may have disappeared from the front pages, but the American taxpayers still are financing South Vietnam's military effort. Two unreleased studies disclose that the United States now is paying 86 per cent of the cost of maintaining the Saigon regime and that it may be dependent upon American aid for the rest of this century.

President Nixon is asking for $2.4 billion in military and economic aid for Saigon for the coming year. This amounts to 32 per cent of the total U.S. aid for the entire world. Counting Laos and Cambodia, the embattled peninsula will get close to half of all U.S. aid. The studies were conducted by the Indochina Resource Center, a private research group which keeps a close watch on Southeast Asian affairs, and by NARMIC, a project of The

BRUCE BLOSSAT The Long And So Far Silent Summer Of '72

WASHINGTON (NEA) — In all this clamor over still-existing gaps in President Nixon's Watergate story, one enormous chasm seems almost unmentioned. Most of the long summer of 1972, when the two national conventions and Sen. George McGovern's troubles dominated the news, the President's relationship to Watergate is lost in the mists.

Oh, yes, there has been much fuss about the 18½-minute buzz on the June 20, 1972 Watergate tape, covering a conversation he had with former aide H. R. Haldeman three days after the break-in at the Democrats' Watergate headquarters.

And Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski still is seeking, among dozens of other tapes, two conversations he had that same day, June 20, with former aide Charles Colson — one evidently initiated by the President that night from his Maryland retreat at Camp David.

No question it would be highly useful to know what Mr. Nixon talked about with Haldeman and Colson on that Tuesday so close after the Watergate break-in.

Jaworski wants tapes of several other Nixon-Colson conversations, but they fall between January and mid-April, 1973.

The House Judiciary Committee has developed an intense interest in tape records of conversations among the President, Haldeman and former Attorney General John Mitchell on April 4, 1972. But that is an effort to determine whether Mr. Nixon had PRIOR knowledge of the burglary, since in one of those chats bugging and checking of Democratic headquarters was discussed as part of an administration intelligence-surveillance plan. The committee is weighing an allegation that the President thus may have had forehand knowledge of the proposed break-in.

Obviously firm evidence he had such knowledge would count heavily against him in the impeachment proceedings. But it is also of vast importance to know what Mr. Nixon was saying and doing about Watergate — if anything — with his chief aides in that long summer interval from June 20 to Sept. 15, 1972, when we get the first Nixon-edited transcript of a conversation on Watergate between the President and his young counsel, John Dean.

In previous reports, I sketched out Dean's busy summer, as he publicly alleges it, collecting FBI reports, monitoring FBI interviews with White House staff people, acting as courier among various groups he says were covering up the scandal. As near as can be recalled, neither Haldeman nor key aide John Ehrlichman or any other leading White House figure challenges the basic thrust of this Dean testimony — though some questioned certain elements.

What was Dean doing with all this information he was gathering? What was the consequence of his running about? He says he reported regularly to Haldeman and Ehrlichman, presumably with the idea that word was reaching Mr. Nixon.

Haldeman and Ehrlichman deny Dean reported to them. But if not to them, then to whom? Dean is unchallenged in his assertion that, except for his Sept. 15, 1972 meeting with the President, he never saw him until their concentrated 35 contacts began in late February, 1973.

A precocious kindergarten graduate could figure out that Richard Nixon must have been talking more to top aides Haldeman and Ehrlichman in that crucial post-Watergate 1972 summer than to anyone else in his official family.

NEVER about Watergate? Is it plausible, is it believable that this issue which was causing so much scurrying about, so much internal White House activity that summer, never came before the President's eyes and ears when he was closeted with his chief advisers? What would have been the point of Dean's endless labors, then?

Correct play would have brought the contract home in spite of the bad breaks. South should play his ace of hearts; lead a trump to dummy's king and then go back to hearts. West would ruff the second high heart and probably lead a trump. Not that it would matter what he led.

South would be back on lead and play a third heart. East would win and lead anything he wanted. It wouldn't matter. South would get to ruff a heart in dummy to establish his last heart as a winner.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor: My tv-hooked neighbor says he now is watching re-runs of re-runs of re-runs, ad infinitum and ad nauseam, which he thinks is carrying the recycling craze too far.

He says most of the re-re-recycled shows were not very good the first time and do not improve with frequent resurrection.

And he wishes the recyclers cult would recycle their thinking before recycling messes of fatuous old tv shows, hare-brained political power addicts in official togas, and one-cycle media mediators. D. E. SCOTT Crossroads, U.S.A.

DON OAKLEY Is The Cure Worse Than The Malady? Could Be!

NEW YORK (NEA) — Owners of 1974 automobiles think they have problems, what with having to wrestle with lap and shoulder belts before the darn cars will even start. Wait until they talk to the owners of the forthcoming 1975s.

Most 1975 model cars must be equipped with catalytic converters in their exhaust systems, a $150 item that changes hydrocarbon and carbon monoxide emissions into harmless carbon dioxide and water — and which requires the use of unleaded gasoline in the engine.

The Environmental Protection Agency has decreed that about a third of the nation's 365,000 service stations must be selling unleaded gasoline by July 1, and the oil companies are scrambling to meet the deadline. To insure that owners of the 1975s do not use ordinary leaded gas, which would ruin the converters, their cars will have smaller fuel tank filter pipes to match the narrower nozzles on unleaded gas pumps.

One already can foresee this kind of scenario: A motorist low on gas 50 miles from nowhere, and the only station around has no unleaded gas. To heck with the catalytic converter and the environment, he says, as he has his tank slowly and laboriously filled with the forbidden (and cheaper) leaded stuff by means of a funnel.

Ah, the environment. That is the reason for this latest in a long list of regulations that are turning America's love affair with the automobile into a marriage of inconvenience. It long has been known that our automobiles produce a tremendous amount of carbon monoxide (CO) through incomplete combustion, and that it is not healthful for children and other living things. In round figures, the automobile population pours some 270 million tons of CO into the atmosphere annually, equal to about 51 per cent of the amount naturally present.

Not only that, but it was discovered that Mother Nature herself was producing from a variety of sources, such as the decay of vegetation, a worldwide total of at least 3.9 billion tons of CO every year. This was a truly alarming situation. However, as scientists refined their observations, they noticed a curious thing. Although man and nature were continually creating so much carbon monoxide, the absolute level carried by the atmosphere remained the same — some 530 million tons.

Massachusetts was the first state to enact a compulsory automobile insurance law, effective Jan. 1, 1927. The World Almanac says. Automobile owners were required to carry policies of $5,000 and $10,000 to furnish security for the civil liability in case of personal injury and property damage caused by their vehicles. The first $5,000-$10,000 auto insurance policy was issued to Dr. Truman Martin of Buffalo, N.Y., in 1898, at a premium cost of $11.25.

TIBERIAS, Israel (AP) — A captured Palestinian terrorist member of the eight-man squad whose suicide squad was intercepted by Israeli security forces in the Golan Heights Maalot-style raid and possible massacre at fishing villages on the Sea of Galilee.

Dear Abby
Is Her Husband Just A Baby At Heart?
 —By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 29, have been married for 12 years, and have four children. (The youngest is seven)

I breast-fed all my children. At the same time I also breast-fed my husband. He enjoyed it, and I didn't mind as I have had plenty of milk even when I wasn't pregnant. I have long quit breast-feeding my youngest child, but my husband wants it nearly every day.

He is 44 and recently retired from the military. What worries me is this never-ending supply of milk I seem to have. I had a hysterectomy last year, and even that didn't dry me up. It doesn't bother me physically, but I keep wondering if I am normal? My husband thinks it's super. The older I get the more I worry about it, because I've never heard of this before. Have you?

NAME WITHHELD BY REQUEST

DEAR NAME: Yes. All animals, including humans, secrete milk as long as the mammary glands (breasts) receive stimulation from sucking and emptying. Don't worry, you are normal. The abnormal one could be your husband, but as long as he's happy and you don't mind accommodating him, there's no problem. His hunger is probably more erotic than caloric.

DEAR ABBY: Our 12-year-old son got some centerfolds out of old Playboy magazines and thumb-tacked six of them on the wall of his bedroom. My husband said the naked body is beautiful, and we shouldn't say anything or our son might get the idea that nudity and sex are shameful. I disagree. Who is right? We have always let him hang posters and anything else he wanted to put up in his room until this bunny bit came up.

Debt Ceiling Bill May Become Vehicle For Tax Cuts, Reforms

WASHINGTON (AP) — A national debt ceiling bill that scraped through the House by the narrowest possible margin may be turned into a vehicle for massive tax cuts and reforms in the Senate.

The bill to increase the Treasury's borrowing authority by $19.3 billion to $495 billion, won on a House roll call Thursday 191 to 190. Speaker Carl Albert, who votes only when the House is deadlocked, cast the deciding ballot.

It was the first time since 1957 a speaker had cast, from his presiding chair, a straight tie-breaking vote. Twice since then speakers have voted in special situations requiring two-thirds.

Votes on the debt ceiling often are taken as referenda on the incumbent administration's economic policies, and Democrats were quick to point out that Republicans Thursday voted 93 to 75 against the increase, while Democrats voted 116 to 97 for it.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the Ways and Means Committee that handled the bill, said the close vote showed widespread unhappiness with Nixon's handling of the economy.

He had argued that the House had no choice but to pass the bill, reduced by his committee from a $505 billion administration request. Unless it is finally enacted by June 30, the debt ceiling will drop about $75 billion below the actual debt.

Senate advocates of tax cuts and tax reform have been awaiting an opportunity to attach their proposals to a House-passed bill, since the Senate is barred constitutionally from originating tax legislation.

Likely amendments are a proposal to slash taxes by raising the personal exemption from $750 to $825, or, alternatively, allowing taxpayers a $190 credit; to make special payments up to $400 a year to the working poor, and to close a variety of alleged loopholes.

The House committee is not bound to accept any of these.

In a related development, Treasury officials said the department soon will begin pressing banks for interest payments on government funds temporarily on deposit. For 57 years, commercial banks have been able to keep in noninterest-paying accounts for periods of a week to 10 days payments made by persons who write checks to the government for their taxes or other sums due.

Solon Says $5.9 Million Spent On LBJ Property

WASHINGTON (AP) — While one House committee says federal expenditures reached $5.9 million on former President Lyndon B. Johnson's property, another has promised close scrutiny for all new presidential expenditures.

The House Government Operations Committee said Thursday that most of the funds for the Johnson properties were spent on security facilities. The committee had disclosed earlier that $17.1 million was spent on homes used by President Nixon, also mainly in the name of security.

The committee said the Department of Defense and the White House Communications Agency spent an estimated $3,573,000 for communications support in connection with the LBJ Ranch in Texas.

The $5.9 million also includes $770,000 for Johnson's Austin, Tex., office; $15,000 for installation and repair of Secret Service facilities at Johnson's Haywood Ranch where he occasionally went boating; and $31,000 for work at a hangar on the LBJ ranch "to accommodate news conferences, television broadcasts and the entertainment of foreign dignitaries."

Also included were $29,400 for security lighting, guardhouses and trailers, $3,400 for stone walls and fences and $4,300 for strobe and beacon lights to facilitate helicopter landings.

Members of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee put Roy L. Ash, chief of the Office of Management and Budget, and the White House on notice that a bill providing for new presidential expenses faces rough going on the House floor. Ash was testifying for the bill.

The bill would authorize about $19 million for White House staff salaries, expenses, travel, presidential entertainment and upkeep of the White House; $1 million for a presidential contingency fund, and $920,000 for the staff of the vice president.

The bill does not cover Secret Service security, military budget items for White House aircraft, Park Service upkeep of the White House grounds and other costs covered elsewhere in the budget.

U.S. May Be Caught In Greek-Turkish Oil Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States could find itself caught between two of its NATO allies if Turkey tries to drill for oil in the Aegean Sea.

Pentagon sources said Greek military officers, expecting Turkish oil exploration efforts, have indicated Greece might fight to defend what it considers its oil rights there.

It appeared the Greek officers hoped these warnings will impel the United States to intervene diplomatically and dis-suaide the Turks from exploring for oil in the Aegean.

If an armed clash should develop, the sources said, the Greeks indicated they are counting on the United States to prevent it from ballooning into a major war.

There have been a number of reports of Greek military actions, but U.S. officials are uncertain whether these were serious preparations or demonstrations.

Twice before, in the 1960s, the United States came close to direct involvement in Greek-Turkish feuding over Cyprus. But on both occasions the crises eased.

Since then, the United States has been talking up the importance of the Turkish and Greek navies working together in helping shield NATO's southern flank against a strong Soviet fleet in the eastern Mediterranean.

The United States has something of a special stake in Greece because the U.S. Navy is anxious to base an aircraft carrier and the families of its crew at Athens.

U.S.-Greek relations have cooled, slowing progress toward this objective.

Both Greek and Turkish armies, air forces and navies are equipped with mostly American hardware. Since 1950, Turkey has received more than $3 billion in American arms and equipment, Greece some $1.6 billion.

Dallas Judge Hands Carl Robert Taylor Third Life Sentence

DALLAS (AP) — A third life term in prison has been assessed Carl Robert Taylor, 36, for his part in a string of killings and holdups across the nation in 1971-72.

Taylor, one of five persons in a family accused of 22 murders, drew the latest sentence Thursday. District Court Judge Sherman McCrary, his wife Carolyn, their daughter Ginger and their son Danny. Taylor is Ginger McCrary's husband.

All five are serving sentences in various states in connection with the murder.

There have been indictments or convictions in eight cases. Authorities say the family is suspected of being responsible for at least 14 other unsolved murders.

A jury in Hunt County convicted Danny McCrary, now 21, in 1973 of murdering the Mesquite couple. McCrary implicated his father and Taylor, but they have not been charged in that murder.

The California sentence was for kidnaping and the one in Colorado for murder.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Kelly Loving said because the sentences are to run consecutively, Taylor will begin serving a term in Colorado if he is paroled in California, and will serve in the Texas penitentiary if he is paroled in Colorado.

Loving said he feels there is only a "slim chance" that Taylor will ever be free again.

After Taylor pleaded guilty in the robbery case, Zimmerman dismissed two other Dallas County indictments charging him in a second robbery and with passing worthless checks.

Loving said Taylor still is considered a suspect in the Oct. 17, 1971, slayings of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Covey of Mesquite, Tex., and the Oct. 20, 1971 abduction-rape-murder of Susan Darlene Shaw, 16, who worked in a Mesquite doughnut shop.

Foreman Convicted On DWI Charge

HOUSTON (AP) — Famed criminal defense lawyer Percy Foreman, the victor in thousands of courtroom dramas, met defeat on a personal level Thursday as a jury convicted him of driving while intoxicated.

Foreman, 71, sat motionless as a jury of four women and two men returned the guilty verdict. He glanced briefly at them, gave one big swallow, then turned to face County Court Judge Neil McKay.

A few minutes later, Judge McKay sentenced Foreman to 30 days in jail, probated for six months, and a $200 fine. The conviction will not endanger Foreman's license to practice law, the district attorney's office said.

After sentencing, Foreman walked slowly from the courtroom and told reporters that he had not decided if he would appeal the verdict.

The DWI charge came after Foreman was involved in an accident on a Houston freeway Dec. 31, 1973.

At the time of the accident, Foreman told officers he had never held a Texas drivers license. Thursday he told a reporter he began driving before licenses were required, and may have at once held a license but does not now.

"I'm driving under the grandfather clause," he said with a chuckle. Later he said he has not driven since the accident.

Final arguments Thursday, like the five other days of the trial, were frequently interrupted by objections, arguments and charges of witness coaching.

Foreman in earlier testimony accused Mike Maguire, a young assistant district attorney, of coaching witnesses to gain a conviction.

After the verdict, Maguire said he had not even prepared the case he tried, adding that the investigation and preparation had been handled in the usual manner.

"I determined to handle this case just like a normal DWI case would be handled," he said. "I'm very happy that the jury saw through their defense. My faith in the jury system has been fulfilled."

In the trial, which defense lawyer Dick DeGuerin said was the longest DWI proceeding ever held here, Foreman maintained that witnesses who said he was drunk misread symptoms of a diabetic reaction he was having at the time.

He paraded three doctors to the stand who said persons suffering from the condition may stagger and have an alcohol-like odor on their breath.

San Antonio Utility Signs To Buy Coal

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — San Antonio has contracted to receive coal from new surface mines to generate electricity. City Public Service announced Thursday.

CPS Gen. Mgr. J. T. Deely said the 20-year contract with Sun Oil Co., Dallas, probably will cost the local utility $900 million to $1 billion for low-sulphur coal.

To Conserve Gas
He said the pact will reduce CPS reliance on scarce and expensive natural gas and oil. It also will make more gas available for domestic use, Deely added.

The utility's first 436,000-kilowatt coal-burning unit is scheduled for completion in 1976. A second unit is to be ready the following year.

Cost of the two units is estimated at $214 million.

Sun Oil agreed to provide 55,450,000 tons of coal at an initial cost of approximately $5 per ton. Transportation costs for the 1,573 miles by railroad from the Northeast Wyoming mines adds another $11 per ton. Delivery Starting In 1976.

Delivery could begin in 1976, provided there are no delays in opening the new mines, Deely said.

The contract also provides for readjustment of cost terms by either party after Jan. 1, 1979, if the cost is significantly out of line with prevailing market price for new sales of comparable coal.

The sinking fund for reclamation of the 6,500-acre mine site also is included in the pact.

Officials noted low-sulphur coal can meet air quality standards, unlike higher sulphur content coal from the Midwest and Appalachia areas.

Deely, who signed the contract Wednesday, said the Sun offer was selected from among four proposals because of lower quoted costs and more protection from cost escalation during the contract's life.

The contract signing capped a project initiated in early 1973 to convert a generating unit from burning gas or oil to produce electricity to burn coal or oil.

Indonesia Growth Presents Problems

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — This fifth most populous nation in the world will have about 30 million more people by 1980, raising its population to 150 million, the government said. The growth poses serious food supply problems, said Environmental Research Minister Sumitro Joyohadikusumo. Indonesia ranks behind China, India, the Soviet Union and the United States in population.

Ernie White Remembered

If he hadn't managed the old Midland Braves to a Sophomore League championship in 1958, Ernie White's passing Wednesday might have gone unnoticed in West Texas.

At 57, he was still relatively young for this day and age, so his death came too soon, something like his major league baseball career, which was all too short.

Although he hung around for a few more years, White's career ended in his second season in the majors back in 1943 after a brilliant rookie year which gave promise of a long and bright future for the left-handed pitcher of the St. Louis Cardinals.

It happened in Ebbets Field where the St. Louis Cardinals were playing the old Brooklyn Dodgers. Ernie was backing up third base when the relay from the outfield on a base hit got through third baseman Whitey Kurowski. Ernie made the save near the low-roofed dugout. In making his throw to the plate, he cracked his valuable left arm against the edge of the dugout.

"It was broken all right," Ernie recalled, "but they didn't find out about it until after the World Series."

By that time the bone had grown together at a sharp angle and it was never the same again.

However, the southpaw from South Carolina did experience one brief year of glory after reporting to the Cardinals from Houston of the Texas League, where he pitched a no-hitter.

He was 17-7 in his freshman year with a 2.40 earned-run average, one of the brightest prospects on a staff that included such enduring lefthanders as Howie Pollet, Max Lanier, Harry Breechen and Alpha Brazle and wasn't bad on righthanders either with Mort Cooper, Harry Gumbert, George Munger, Murry Dickson and Johnny Beasley.

Yanks Clearly Better, But

Even with a staff like that and an 18-game pennant margin, the Yankees were lopsided favorites going into the 1942 World Series.

"They easily had the better club," Ernie admitted. "Bill Dickey was behind the plate, Joe DiMaggio in center, Joe Gordon and Phil Rizzuto were at second and short, Red Rolfe on third and flanking DiMag in the outfield were Tommy Henrich and Charley Keller.

"That was a lineup packed with power. If they had a weak spot it was pitcher and first base. They alternated Buddy Hassett and Nick Etten. We didn't have to worry about Hassett long. I broke his thumb with a pitch and he was out of the series. When Red Ruffing was pitching, they had nine potential home run hitters."

The Yankees won the first game, as expected, and then in one of the most startling series upsets of all time, the Cardinals won the next four, White contributing a six-hit shutout along the way.

After spending 1944-45 in service, Ernie tried it again with the old Boston Braves for a couple of years, but realized the futility of it all and became a full-time coach for Billy Southworth in 1948.

Travis Jackson, the old New York Giant great, started the season as Midland manager in 1958, but illness forced the Milwaukee club to bring in White shortly after the season started.

White guided the Braves to an easy pennant and playoff championship with a team that included future major leaguers Dennis Menke and Tony Cloninger, kind of a manager's dream.

It was the kind of year where Ernie once complained after a 16-12 win in the first game of a doubleheader, "When your team scores 16 runs and you have to pace up and down in your dugout, something's wrong. With that many runs you should be able to sit in the dugout and eat peanuts."

Ernie got to eat his peanuts in the night-cap when the Braves won 12-1 on a three-hitter.

IN PASADENA—JC Finals Tonight

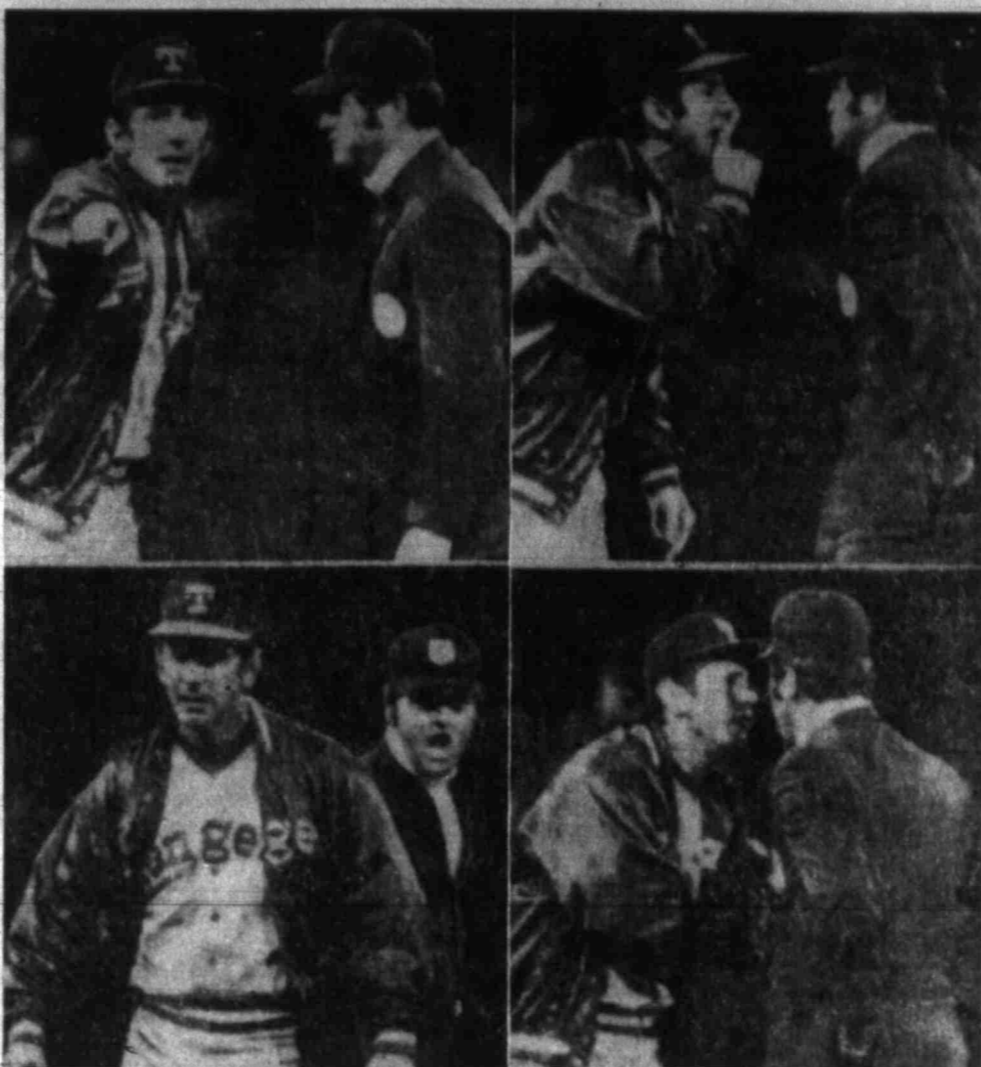

PASADENA, Tex. (AP)—Four defending champions have won chances to repeat tonight in the National Junior College Athletic Association track meet at San Jacinto Junior College.

Essex County (N.J.) College half-miler Horace Tuitt advanced to tonight's semi-finals with a 1:49.4 clocking.

Other defending champions advancing in Thursday's qualifying rounds were Ken Morris of Allen County (Kan.) Community College, javelin; Mark Herman of Mesa (Ariz.) Community College, pole vault, and Laviori Grisby of Lake City (Fla.) Community College, 100-yard dash.

Donald Merrick of Seminole (Fla.) Junior College and John McCollum of Mesa share the best 100-yard dash times, however, with 9.5s. Merrick also was the leading qualifier in the 220-yard dash at 21.1.

Mesa is the defending team champion in the meet, which ends Saturday, and is a strong favorite to win its fourth title. Ranger (Tex.) Junior College and Essex will contend.

THE LAST WORD — Texas Rangers Manager Billy Martin raises a point of contention with second base umpire Larry McCoy during Thursday night's game against the Chicago White Sox at Chicago, but as fate will have it, the ump has the last word. (AP Wirephoto.)

Cubs Back Home

Bruins Play League-Leading Brewers

The Midland Reporter-Telegram

SPORTS

1C—FRIDAY, MAY 24, 1974

After losing four in a row and six of the last seven, Midland's Cubs were thankful to be home again, even if it is for only a three-game weekend series.

The only trouble is that the Cubs must face the San Antonio's Brewers and Midland has managed just two wins in nine games thus far as the Brewers' pitching has dominated the rivalry.

After three straight one-run losses, the Cubs were simply leveled by El Paso Thursday as the Diablos pounded out a 12-3 victory, belting three home runs in the process.

Left-hander Dygin Frazier, who usually fares pretty well, in El Paso, started and wild-pitched home a couple of runs in the second before being yanked in the third. Successor Bob Ott was hit hard with Jerry Remy belting his first homer, Dan Briggs his sixth, both in the fourth, and Carlos Lopez adding an inside the park job in the seventh.

First baseman Dan Briggs collected four hits in five trips and knocked in three runs.

Don Kirkwood pitched a nine-hitter in raising his record to 3-1 and only outfielder Bill Droge managed more than one hit.

Tonight's game is 10 cent beer night while Saturday's second game of the series will be Midland Lee Choir Night, Sunday's 2 p.m. game with the Brewers will be Elementary School Day.

With El Paso winning its last six in a row, San Antonio's league lead has dwindled to half a game, so the Brewers will face the necessity of having to knock off the Cubs while El Paso is in Amarillo.

The Diablos, after the trip to Amarillo, return home for two weeks against East Division teams.

After the San Antonio series, Midland will be away for two weeks.

URNS BACK RANGERS FOR CHISOX—

Tough Terry Too Much

By JOE MOOSHL

CHICAGO (AP) — It's hard to picture Terry Forster, the hard-throwing, good-natured Chicago White Sox relief ace, as "tough Terry" but he certainly lived up to it Thursday night.

The big lefthander had to come in despite a sizeable lead in the seventh inning to check the Texas Rangers and preserve a 9-6 Chicago victory.

He also had to survive a shot off the bat of Mike Hargrove which all but shattered his shinbone, but he remained in the game and ended it by fanning pinch batter Rich Billings.

"I guess I shouldn't be so cocky," Forster said after the game. "I thought I threw the pitch past Hargrove."

The save was the eighth this season for Forster, who earlier in the campaign had his troubles and once saw his earned run average soar to an unbelievable 18.19.

"Yes, I was worried at the time," he said. "I wasn't used to getting hit that hard. My fast ball wasn't popping and my curve wasn't breaking."

"But Chuck (Manager Chuck Tanner) never lost confidence in me and kept me in. Even when I'd get hit hard he wouldn't second guess me and come around and ask what I threw and why I threw certain pitches."

"So I just worked all the harder and gradually everything started to fall back into place. He showed faith in me so I just had to go out and do the job."

Tanner said he was worried seriously about Forster when he got hit on the shin "but the doctors told me it's just a bruise and nothing serious. Thank God, I'd hate to lose the best relief pitcher in the league."

The Rangers opened the game with a three-run burst but the Sox came back with three in the bottom of the first to knot it up. They went ahead to stay in fourth.

PERRY DOUSES BIRDS— Fermenting Milwaukee Brews Binge In AL Race

By KEN RAPPOPORT

AP Sports Writer
The Brewers, most famous these days in Milwaukee, are the ones that play baseball, not make beer.

Long known as the stronghold of suds, Milwaukee's cup suddenly is running over in the American League East pennant race.

"Pressure is what baseball's all about—and we have a team that can keep the pressure on," said Milwaukee's George Scott after a 7-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers Thursday. "We have guys who can run, guys who hit for average and guys who hit for power. We should keep the pressure on all the time."

Particularly, Milwaukee's racehorse style has caught the fancy of the hometown fans. The Brewers have literally raced into first place in the East race with a running game.

Against the Tigers Thursday, the Brewers stole a club record five bases and had 11 in the four-game series, which they won, 3-1.

Scott's bloop triple capped a two-run seventh inning rally that lifted Milwaukee over Detroit.

Indians 2, Orioles 0
Gaylord Perry pitched a three-hitter and George Hendrick singled home the only run he needed, leading Cleveland over Baltimore.

Both Cleveland runs off Jim Palmer, 2-5, were unearned with Hendrick's sixth-inning single snapping a 21-inning scoreless string for the Indians.

Angels 3, Royals 1
Bobby Valentine hit a bases loaded sacrifice fly in the seventh inning, scoring Ellie Rodriguez and capping a two-run rally that gave Nolan Ryan and California its victory over Kansas City.

Lee Spring Football Game To End Drills

By BOB DILLON
Coach Jim Acree's Midland Lee Rebel football team winds up spring football drills today when they stage the annual Maroon-White battle in Memorial Stadium at 8:30 p.m.

The Rebel junior varsity will get things started with a 6:30 p.m. kickoff, to wind up three weeks of work and toil under the hot sun.

"We hope to have the teams divided up pretty even for our final scrimmage," said Acree on Thursday.

Acree had Oklahoma University assistant coach Rex Norris show the team a Sooner highlight film Thursday. Norris is in the West Texas area to watch some final spring games in District 5-4A. He was on hand in San Angelo Tuesday night in the Orange-Blue game in which the Blues won, 14-8.

Acree feels his team has worked hard this spring and is adjusting to numerous position changes for the 1974 Rebel edition.

"We haven't had any real serious injuries this spring, but I am a little concerned with quarterback Greg Randall, who is slowed down with a sprained ankle," said Acree. Randall suffered the injury Wednesday and it came when he had thrown a touchdown pass to Jim Kreuz after bobbing the ball as he rolled out to his right.

Some 63 candidates will participate in the Maroon-White contest with the White unit having a 33-man roster and 30 on the Maroon team.

Benny Davis and Don Denbow will guide the White team while Neal Estes and Gary Childress will head the Maroon team with Acree viewing the proceedings from the press box.

Making up the Maroon team will be Russell Kellner, Les Hill, Lance Posey, Clyde Gary, Mike

There will be no admission and the public is invited to attend, according to Acree. Lee appears to have an abundance of good running backs, but the line needs more experience going into the '74 football season which opens Sept. 6 when the Rebels entertain the Lubbock Westerners in Memorial Stadium.

Stanton Hires Jim Williams

STANTON — Jim Williams, basketball coach at Odessa High School this past year, has accepted the head job at Stanton High School.

Williams, 34, will also be the junior varsity coach in football for the Buffs who will be playing in 5-A this coming year.

He has coached at Floreaville, Beeville, Canyon and Ozona prior to taking the OHS job during the 1972-74 cage season.

Williams replaces Jim Jensen whose contract was not renewed by the Stanton Independent School District.

AT ARLINGTON— Texas Choice In NCAA Play

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) —
Can the defense of Louisiana Tech and the speed of Pan American overcome the siege of gun arms and bats of the second-ranked college baseball team in America—the Texas Longhorns?

Tech and Pan American hope to answer the question beginning today in the District 6 NCAA college baseball playoffs with the unsavory task of trying to bump off each other in the opener of the double elimination tournament.

The loser of the afternoon game was scheduled to tackle Texas at 7:30 p.m. in Arlington Stadium. The Longhorns, who own a gaudy 50-4 season record, drew a bye in the opener.

The powerful Longhorns, who have won 10 consecutive Southwest Conference crowns, were extended to the limit—14 innings to be exact—before they advanced to the College Baseball World Series last year with a 14-12 victory over Pan American.

The winner of this series again will play at Omaha, Neb., June 7.

The Saturday schedule has

Texas meeting the winner of today's afternoon battle with the fourth game scheduled for Saturday at 7:30 p.m. Should a fifth game be needed it would be played at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

Pan American's Bruce Wilson (10-1) was to take the mound against Louisiana Tech's Eddie Holman (8-3) in the opener.

Texas was set to place the nation's winningest collegiate pitcher, Jim Gideon (17-0), on the mound in the nightcap.

Pan American, owning a fine 50-9 ledger, has the top base-stealing squad in the country. The Broncos have stolen 153 bases with an NCAA record 61 of them by shortstop Ricky Brockway.

Louisiana Tech, the Southland Conference king with an overall record of 25-17, would appear overmatched coming into the tournament, but Texas Coach Cliff Gustafson says the Bulldogs play fine defense and receive good pitching.

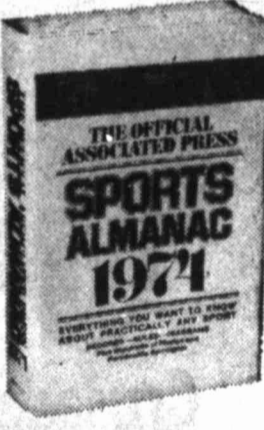

"We have a lot of respect for Pan American," Gustafson added. "They gave us all we could handle last year."

Should there be a rainout, the series must be concluded before Monday night.

Brickyard Hums Again

Cars Rev Up For Sunday's Memorial 500

By WILL GRIMSLEY
 INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The low-slung machines whine like a mortar shell as they streak down the concrete straightaway at better than 190 miles an hour.

At times, they're just as deadly.

The place reeks with the smell of methanol—the highly inflammable alcohol-based fuel that can turn the intricate collection of bolts and nuts and paper-thin steel into a blur at 50 yards.

The old brickyard that is the Indianapolis Motor Speedway wears a garland of decays—huckstering everything from oil additives to shock absorbers.

This is the week that it seems like everybody comes back home to Indiana.

The band strikes up the nostalgic strains of the song and every Hoosier throat develops a choking frog in it and handkerchiefs are hauled out to dry moistened eyes.

The Indianapolis 500 is here again—No. 56 in the dramatic series—and everybody still is arguing whether it's sport or legalized mayhem.

Nobody questions that it is a show.

Traditionally a Memorial Day feature, the race was changed this year to Sunday to afford another day's grace in case of postponement. The Sabbath is always a good day to say a prayer.

A lot of prayers will be said—by mothers and fathers, wives and children of the 33 men in machines who for a little more than three hours will be playing this most dangerous game—a hide-and-seek frolic with death.

Auto racing buffs are offended when this macabre cloak is thrown over the colorful and exciting spectacle, but none can realistically deny that death always is waiting in the wings.

Who can forget last year's numbing horror of rain and fire? Salt Walther's sleek racer hit a wall in front of the grandstand and exploded like a bombshell. Miraculously, the intrepid driver lived to race again with hands almost half burned away by the flames.

But Art Pollard died in the trials and Swede Savage lasted only a month after his car disintegrated on the fourth turn. A pit employe was struck and killed by an ambulance. And since then handsome Peter Revson lost his life on a South African track at a spot callously labeled "Barbecue Bend."

"We don't perform on the edge of death, we perform on the edge of life," Scotland's Jackie Stewart once said of his racing colleagues. "It's very positive. Life is richer and more beautiful after you have raced and lived to talk about it."

They are unquestionably the most captivating of the world's sportsmen—admired and heralded by spectators everywhere, chased by movie queens and society's swinging jet set.

They are the world's darlings.

They are a rare breed. The imminence of danger—the knowledge that the slightest mistake could turn their intricate $100,000 lightning-fast bugs into flying debris and flaming ruin—keeps them on a constant high.

Johnny Parsons, who won in 1950, will be cheering for his son, Johnny Wayne Parsons, 29.

Two drivers, Bill Vukovich and Gary Bettenhausen, are offsprings of famous racers who died in track accidents, the elder Vukovich after victories in 1953 and 1954.

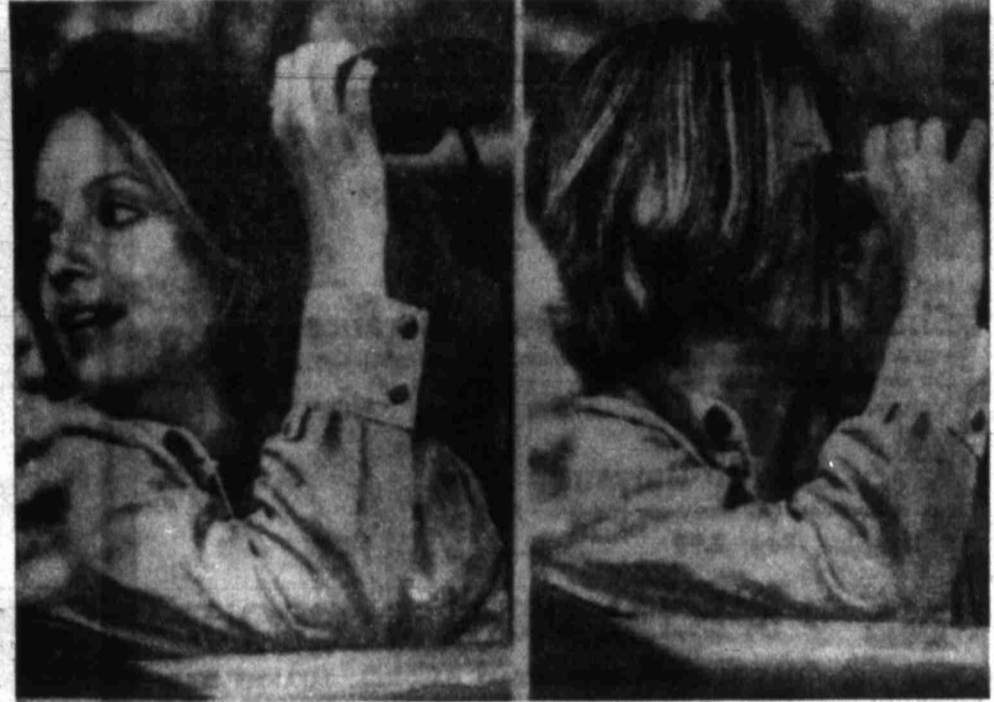

The Unser brothers, Bobby and Al, will be rivals for the richest prize in racing, carrying on the tradition of a family reared in the tradition of the track. A brother, Jerry, died on this same track.

Sunday's race is expected to draw more than 350,000 people, the largest sports gallery in the United States. Fans begin queuing up tonight, loaded with provisions, waiting for the early morning track opening Sunday.

A carnival atmosphere prevails. Arteries leading to the spacious racing oval are lined with gypsy merchants, hawking racing apparel, flags and souvenirs.

For untold thousands, the 500 is a giant spectacle which has become a yearly habit. One lady has occupied the same spot on the northeast end of the infield for the last 39 years.

The heartbeat is Gasline Alley, rows of car sheds where the hand-built machines are pampered and tinkered with, handled like a patient in the care of great surgeons. Crews number from a dozen to two dozen for every car. The sheds and the cars are plastered with decals, each representing endorsement payments from various companies.

OUT TO PREVENT MERGER—

Garvey Contacts WFL Players To Organize

PORTLAND (AP) — Ed Garvey, executive director of the National Football League Players Association, has written to veteran players on World Football League rosters regarding the formation of a players association for the new league, a spokesman for the WFL's Portland Storm said Thursday night.

"It is not beyond the realm of one's imagination to think that the WFL and NFL are already considering a merger," Garvey says in his letter, dated May 17, "and we must move quickly to make certain that the rights of players are protected."

The letter offers use of the NFLPA staff and asks WFL players to sign a statement giving Garvey the right to act as their bargaining agent. He urged the WFL players to act soon to insure bargaining power with owners. He indicated the NFLPA wants to join with a WFL players association to prevent any merger of the two leagues.

"The NFL Players Association is delighted with the creation of the World Football League. We see the creation of the WFL as a great opportunity to strengthen the bargaining position of all players," the letter says. "The collective strength will be increased only if the two associations work closely together."

Garvey's letter says that the board of representatives of the NFLPA has authorized the staff to help organize the WFL association so that players in the WFL will receive the same protections in the long run that the players now enjoy in the NFL.

Auto Club Hears Complaints

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The U.S. Auto Club has agreed to hear five car owners who want an extension to qualifications for Sunday's Indianapolis 500 mile auto race.

But Wright Hugus Jr., attorney representing the owners, said he doubts whether USAC will grant extra time trials. Hugus said Thursday night he talked with USAC competition director Dick King and was assured the hearing would be held "soon."

USAC reduced the time trials for this year's race from four days to two, and both were hampered by rain.

"They could say they'll have the hearing next Wednesday or June 20th, but Dick King promised he would call it soon," Hugus said.

The drivers had filed a lawsuit against USAC and the Speedway seeking a chance to qualify and if that failed an injunction against the race. But a Superior Court judge dismissed the suit Thursday on a motion by defendants' attorneys. They contended the owners failed to exhaust all noncourt channels, including a full appeal to USAC before seeking legal remedy.

"I filed the appeal with USAC at 9 p.m. and King said he would have an immediate hearing," Hugus added. "But I'm not sure what he meant by immediate."

He said USAC President Reynolds MacDonald would "have to convene the appeals board"

WITH 6 STRAIGHT— El Paso Creeps Close

By The Associated Press
 El Paso's Diablos pulled within a half game of Texas League baseball West Division leader San Antonio Thursday night by slapping the Midland Cubs with a 12-3 loss.

West Division cellar dweller Amarillo stunned San Antonio's Brewers 7-4 during the night.

Amarillo topped San Antonio by collecting four runs in the fifth inning on one hit and a San Antonio error. Combined walks by San Antonio pitchers Bob Grossman and Jim Moyer accounted for some of Amarillo's fourth-inning rally.

In other Texas League action, Arkansas swept a doubleheader from Alexandria 10-2, 5-2 to move up a bit on east-leading Victoria. However, Victoria remained at the top of the east record roster with a 2-1 triumph over Shreveport.

Backup catcher Tom Zimmer collected three hits in three trips to the plate to lead teammates in the nightcap Arkansas win. Included in the three hits were a run-batted-in and a trip to home plate for Zimmer.

In the first game, Doug Clark hit a three-run double in the fourth inning to overcome a 2-0 Alexandria lead. Alexandria never threatened after the fourth.

Victoria's winning run came in the seventh when Rich Miller scored on a fielders choice. He reached first after being hit by a pitch, took second on a wild pitch and made third on a fly ball.

Judge Gesell Now Beginning To Share Sirica's Spotlight

WASHINGTON (AP) — In John J. Sirica's spotlight, the many Watergate court cases to date, the name of a single federal judge has gained national recognition. Now, U.S. District Court Judge Gerhard A. Gesell is beginning to share the spotlight. He set today a deadline and said: "I will allow no continuances." Other judges tend to tread more gently. Last Monday, in ordering the White House to turn over tapes of 64 conversations for the Watergate cover-up trial, Judge Sirica allowed 11 days for a response and said that if an appeal is filed his order would be postponed automatically.

In Gesell's courtroom, things move. When he presided over the recent trial of former White House appointments secretary Dwight L. Chapin, the court day was a punishing 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., with exactly one hour, 15 minutes for lunch. Gesell has a facility to cut short long-winded lawyers. During one of the pretrial conferences in the Ellsberg conspiracy case, he was told national defense would be used as an argument to justify the rifling of the office of Dr. Lewis Fielding, the psychiatrist who had treated Daniel Ellsberg. "A very simple conspiracy is alleged," said the 63-year-old, tall, white haired, portly judge. "What is relevant is whether or not there was an agreement to bust into the doctor's home and whether they did. All this talk about national defense and the Russians and everything else has nothing to do with the case."

Placed on the federal bench by President Lyndon B. Johnson in 1968, Gesell quickly developed a reputation as one of the most scholarly judges in the courthouse. He is one of the few who write their own opinions in total. In 1970 he ordered the House Internal Security Committee not to publish a report listing 65 persons as radical campus speakers. In 1968 he broadened the District of Columbia's law to permit abortions virtually at a physician's discretion. The ruling was reversed by the Supreme Court. And in 1971 he ruled that the Washington Post could publish the Pentagon Papers study on the origins of the Vietnam war, saying: "There is no proof that there will be a definite break in diplomatic relations, that there will be an armed attack on the United States... or on an ally, that there will be a war..."

Baked Bean Leaving Boston

BOSTON (AP) — For Bostonians, it's the end of an era. The baked bean is leaving town.

The Friend Brothers bean factory, the city's last, is moving to Portland, Maine, on May 31.

Friend Brothers has been producing Boston baked beans since 1928 with a recipe handed down through the Friend family from Pilgrim days. But the factory was sold last year to William Underwood Co. of Portland, and thus the move.

"I was shocked when I learned the news," said Ken Spaulding, 62, assistant manager of the bean plant in Malden, a Boston suburb. "I've been with the Friend Brothers since 1930—that's 44 years—and I expected to keep working here until I retired."

The Underwood company, which produces B&M baked beans at Portland, is closing down that facility and has offered to take on some of the Malden plant employees at its new Portland factory.

When the Pilgrims settled in New England, baked beans became a popular dish for Sunday suppers. Because cooking was not permitted on the Sabbath, the bean pot was put on the fire Saturday night and kept warm into Sunday.

Pilgrim Hester Friend's recipe traveled the generations of her family until Leslie, Victor and Robert Friend decided to open their factory in the Boston area, Spaulding said.

By the 1930s, there were five Friend bean factories in downtown and suburban locations.

In the early 1960s, however, the family business was sold, and all but the Malden factory were closed as the firm changed hands several times.

"Years ago, there used to be Homemakers Beans and Friend's..." Spaulding said. "Of course, Homemakers was never as big an operation as Friend's."

"Then Homemakers was purchased by an outside outfit, and they stopped making beans here. Now Friend's is leaving, too."

"It just doesn't seem right."

Nixon Congratulates Farm Couple For Breaking Lamb Chop Barrier

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz has sent warm congratulations on behalf of President Nixon to a Pipestone, Minn., farm couple for breaking the lamb chop barrier.

The feat: Mr. and Mrs. John Wichern produced 200 lambs in one year from a flock of 100 ewes. The mother sheep, obviously, had to average twin births in each delivery.

"On behalf of the President, congratulations on an achievement that can only be described as incredible," Butz told the Wicherns in a telegram.

The couple was being honored today by the Pipestone Chamber of Commerce. It's agricultural committee for some years had a standing prize of $1,000 to any sheep producer who could come up with a 200 per cent lamb crop.

"You have done more than win the $1,000 award offered by the agricultural committee of the Pipestone Chamber of Commerce," Butz said in his telegram. "You also have established a new horizon and have served notice to the entire sheep industry in the United States what a proper breeding, feeding and management program can do."

A spokesman for Butz said Minnesota officials believe it is the first time in this country that a 200 per cent lamb crop had been achieved. Nationally, last year, producers saved 96 lambs from every flock of 100 ewes.

Newsprint Supplies Redirected Into World Auction For Higher Bids

By DEIRDRE DONNELLY
NEW YORK (AP) — Newsprint producers have redirected tight paper supplies into a world auction in search of the highest bidders. And the move is causing concern in the newspaper publishing business.

In the United States, newsprint now costs $213 per ton, up from $175 per ton a year ago. A ton makes about 7,000 copies of a 24-page paper.

Some major suppliers of the U.S. companies have already announced that the price will go up again this summer.

Harold Anderson, chairman of the American Newspaper Publishers Association (ANPA) says price increases already have upset the normal cycle of doing business and additional hikes would cause "enormous budgetary problems" for American newspapers.

The United States is by far the world's biggest consumer of newsprint, using 11 million tons annually. Japan, the No. 2 consumer, uses 2.4 million tons a year.

In Europe, producers are successfully charging about $300 a ton and more for newsprint this year, compared with $200 a year ago. In South America, the price averages about $350 a ton; in the Middle East and India, prices for paper range up to $500 a ton; and in East Africa, where publishers pay the highest prices in the world, Canadian and Scandinavian producers command $700 a ton while black marketbrokers do a lively business at up to $840 a ton.

On July 1, Canadian and Scandinavian producers, the world's leading exporters, are raising their asking price as much as 20-25 per cent more worldwide.

Effect Of Prices
What effect has the soaring prices had on newspapers?

A number of American papers have had to boost newsstand and subscription rates.

In Brazil, Rio's O Jornal, once the flagship of Latin America's largest publishing empire, Chateaubriand Communications, closed in early May.

In Britain, the Beaverbrook publishing group, which includes the Daily Express, Sunday Express and London Evening Standard, says it is in serious financial trouble and recently closed the Glasgow Evening Citizen.

Many of Hong Kong's tip-sheets on dogs, horses and local scandal have disappeared, correspondents say.

Executives of the world's troubled papers say sorting out the finances of a newspaper these days is getting more difficult and complex, and newsprint prices were only one of several factors.

Most newspapers have found that by raising newsstand prices and advertising rates — which

Hambone Triggers 12-Hour Manhunt

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — An all-day search precipitated by the report of a severed human foot in the back of a car turned up a hambone, police said Thursday.

Two teenagers hitchhiking from Vidor to Beaumont in Southeast Texas spotted what they thought was a severed foot on the floorboard of a small yellow car driven by a man who stopped for them.

The 16-year-old girl reported the severed foot to police when she and her companion reached Beaumont.

Twelve hours later officers located the car and discovered a large, pale, jaggedly cut hambone.

McCamey Fly-In Planned Sunday

McCAMEY — The annual Fly-In Breakfast, sponsored by the McCamey Chamber of Commerce, will be held on Sunday at the airport building. The breakfast will begin at 7 a.m. and end at 10 a.m.

The cost will be $1.25 for McCameyites. For those flying in the breakfast is free.

has happened worldwide in the last few months — they can't stay afloat and make some, if a diminished, profit.

While the 14 major publicly held U.S. newspaper companies showed substantial earnings increases last year, ranging up to the 47 per cent increase posted by the New York Times, earnings in the first quarter of 1974 were uniform as advertising volume dropped off with the downturn in the economy.

The outlook for this year is uncertain, according to John Morton, an analyst with Delacorte Children's, Inc., institutional stockbrokers.

After years of ample newsprint at stable prices, the sudden rise in prices has caused a storm of criticism from publishers accusing producers of strong-arm tactics, artificial shortages and excessive profits.

One angry Danish publisher says, "There's no doubt that the manufacturers are taking advantage of a shortage situation. Of course they have legitimate increases in production costs and they like to blame the Arab oil sheiks for much of it. But in many ways, they are acting exactly the same as the sheiks."

Does a shortage situation exist?

In the United States supplies have held steady for the past few months after the big crunch brought on by strikes in Canada last year.

In most countries these days, though, unsold newspapers are carefully collected and sold to mills to be recycled into newsprint or other paper products.

Has supply been cut by producers to raise prices?

According to the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association (CPPA), which keeps tabs on world supplies, world production from a noncrisis year in 1972 to a crisis year in 1973 increased from 23.1 million tons annually to 23.8 million tons, about 4 per cent—the same normal growth level the industry has maintained for years.

Why then the bind?

World consumption, estimated by the CPPA, has been growing slightly faster than 4 per cent per year. Industry analysts for several years forecast that the market balance would shift in favor of the suppliers in 1975.

Due to the labor strikes which crippled production at the largest Canadian mills for about three months last summer, 500,000 tons of production were lost — just enough to tip that balance a year and a half early.

This year, while supply will run about 26.7 million tons, according to the CPPA, worldwide demand is estimated to hit 26.8 million tons as publishers continue to rebuild their inventories depleted during that strike.

In Canada, where about one-third of the world's newsprint is produced, fuel costs have tripled in six months, adding $10 or more to the cost of making a ton of newsprint.

Wood prices and freight rates have nearly doubled in many cases, and labor costs have risen nearly 20 per cent since last summer's strike settlement.
