How To Cope With Catastrophe

Many years have passed since the dramatic evacuation of the British army from the beaches of Dunkirk.

"There was a short service of intercession and prayer in Westminster Abbey," he wrote.

It was at this critical point in history that the man who eventually became Field Marshal Sir Harold Alexander was given command of the retreating British troops.

Alexander looked calmly at the man, then dismissed him with this comment: "Don't use big words, Colonel. Just get busy and get these boys out of here!"

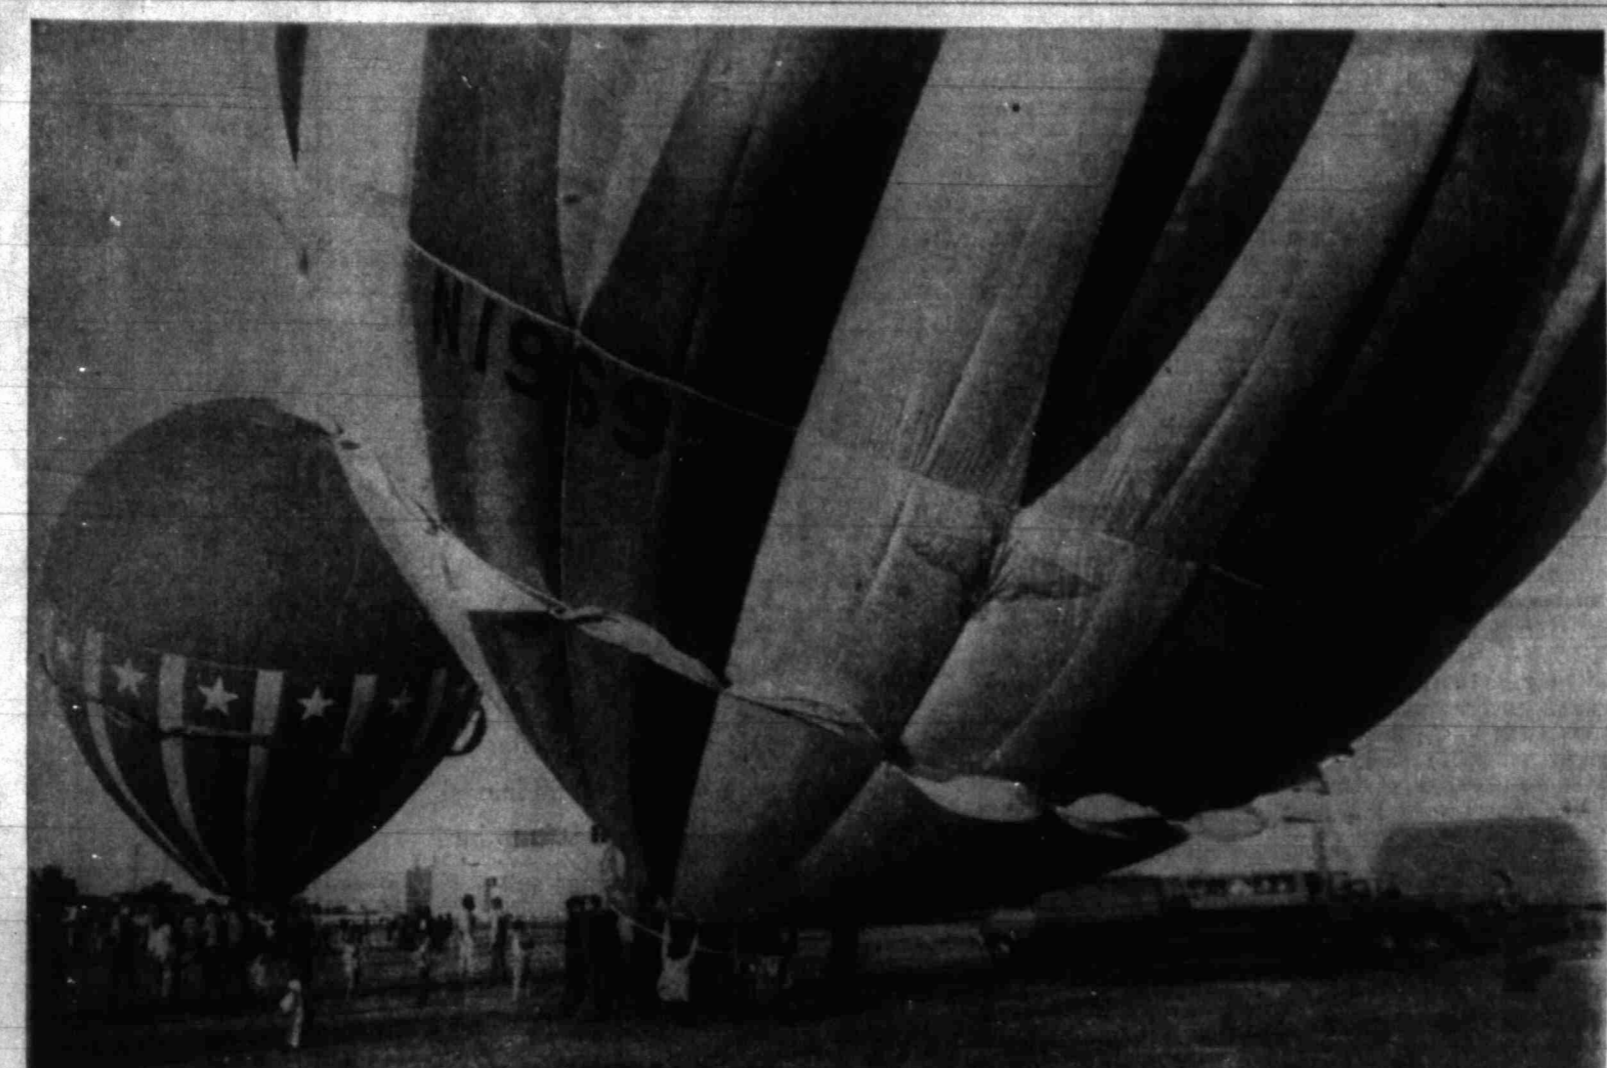

Well, as we all know, not only soldiers, sailors and airmen, but ordinary citizens as well, responded to the national crisis.

Crisis and possible catastrophe are ever potential problems in life. You can save yourself from catastrophes in your own experience by, first of all, never admitting excitedly to yourself or to others that your position is catastrophic.

And no crisis will become catastrophe if you but remember six things: 1. Don't panic. Never panic. Keep relaxed and calm; try to keep tension out of your nervous system.

5. Never take any step without asking yourself if what you are doing is the right thing to do ethically and factually.

Kissinger Appears Near Pact

JERUSALEM (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger appeared to be closer than ever to a final Syrian-Israeli disengagement agreement following five hours of talks Saturday with Syrian President Hafez Assad in Damascus.

Kissinger flew back to Israel late Saturday night and said he would return to Damascus today. He left two aides there working on what Syrian sources said they believe is the text of a final pact separating the opposing armies in the Golan Heights.

The secretary had planned on conferring with the Israeli negotiating team Saturday night, but the meeting was called off at the last minute because most of the negotiators were attending a Labor party gathering at which Premier-designate Yitzhak Rabin was trying to hammer out his new slate of cabinet ministers.

Vatican Jesuit Official Says McLaughlin 'Used'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Jesuit priest of the White House staff denies he is being used by President Nixon and predicts a detente in the dispute with his religious superiors.

The Rev. Dr. John McLaughlin said Friday that a "resolution is in process" in the dispute, adding that "I look forward to a detente."

The Rev. William G. Guindon, the Jesuit official who originally gave McLaughlin permission to go to Washington, said Friday in Vatican City that the White House might be using McLaughlin to imply backing for Nixon from the Roman Catholic Church.

"Father McLaughlin may sincerely think the President's use of profanity is justified, and to the ordinary people it looks as if the church is saying it. In this sense, he has been used," said Father Guindon, referring to McLaughlin's defense of Nixon's presidential tape transcripts.

However, in a telephone interview, McLaughlin said his comments were not an attempt to improve Nixon's moral standing.

"My attempt was to convey the truthful meaning of those transcripts as I see it. It was not a public relations stunt," he said.

As for assertions that he is being used by the White House, McLaughlin said: "This is a fatuous suspicion. I did not deliver my conscience in a sealed envelope to Richard Nixon or anyone else when I accepted the position here."

On Wednesday, McLaughlin received a letter from his current religious superior, the Rev. Richard T. Cleary, provincial of the Jesuit Fathers of New England, calling him to Boston for "prayer and reflection."

Rev. Cleary said he was puzzled as to whether McLaughlin was living up to his vows of poverty and obedience.

McLaughlin resides at the Watergate apartments in Washington, where a one-bedroom apartment rents for from $425 to $700 a month.

McLaughlin said Friday that in the 1971 conversation with his former superior "direct and full discretionary control of my personal finances was reaffirmed... I would term it temporary autonomy."

Specialist Declares CEA Cancer Test Worthless

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — A Mayo Clinic cancer specialist describes as worthless an early cancer detection test which has been approved by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

Dr. Charles Moertel says the test is very expensive and has no value for the diagnosis of cancer in an early and curable stage. Moreover, he says it might even cause deaths — if the tests of cancer patients prove negative and they fail to get the disease diagnosed in time for effective treatment.

Moertel's views on the carcinoembryonic antigen (CEA) test are given in a letter published in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

To dispute claims made for the CEA test, Dr. Moertel used figures from a study of CEA test results at Mayo Clinic, Presbyterian Hospital in New York and Boston City Hospital. He said the tests involved a total of 149 patients with cancer of the bowel wall.

He said only 25 per cent of the 149 patients had a CEA-positive test and some were so marginal they were at a point where false-positive reactions also could occur.

"In addition, both these and of cancer," he said.

Moertel said the same poor results had been shown with CEA testing on patients with cancer of the pancreas and lung. He said there was not a single recorded instance of a CEA-positive test making possible early diagnosis with ultimate cure in either of those cancer sites.

Dear Abby

The 'Chemistry' Is There For Him, But Not For Her

—By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I never thought a successful businessman would have to write to Dear Abby for advice, but here I am with the rest of the schnooks.

I am a 56-year-old Southern gentleman who lost his wife a year ago. (No children.) I put my house on the market and fell in love with the real estate agent. She's a sophisticated, 42-year-old divorcee who can turn me on with a look. I knew she was for me an hour after I met her.

I took her to New York, and we stayed at the best hotel (separate rooms). We saw five Broadway shows in as many nights and had a wonderful time. I took her to a jewelry store, hoping she would pick out some rings, but she ended up with a diamond wrist watch instead.

All the time I wined and dined her I never laid a hand on her because I wanted her to know I was a real Southern gentleman whose intentions were strictly honorable.

When we got home, she told me she couldn't marry me because the "chemistry" wasn't right. (Now what the heck does that mean?) She returned the watch and asked me not to call her anymore. Abby, I love this woman. How can I win her over?

Mrs. Virginia Perry

Mrs. Perry Due To Retire From School For Deaf

AUSTIN — Over the years Mrs. Virginia Lon Perry must have become immune to just about every imaginable germ as she has given reassuring hugs to thousands and thousands of deaf youngsters.

At the end of the month, Mrs. Perry, who was brought up in Midland, will retire as a nurse from the Texas School for the Deaf.

Twenty-five years ago, there was a new superintendent at the school who was determined to build a strong, central medical service with qualified staff members. As a result, he offered, and Mrs. Perry accepted, one of the posts as the school's first registered nurses in the fall of 1949.

Since those days, when mercurochrome was bought by the gallon jug, she has seen the development of an immunization program, dental and eye care programs, good health records and an annual physical exam program.

Memories of her first decade on campus are strong; moving from three scattered infirmaries into one made out of an old dorm; going up and down stairs between patients again and again; manipulating huge vats of soup and managing a measles and influenza epidemic at the same time.

Being a nurse at TSD is different from being a nurse any other place, she says, but she seems to have liked it that way.

Mrs. Perry was reared in Midland, where her family was rich one day, poverty stricken the next. Her father, Lon Hawkins, drilled for oil. When he died, she earned her way first through high school, then the nursing school at Seton Hospital in Austin.

She and her husband, Eldred Perry, plan to travel a great deal now that they are both retired.

Stanton's Council Delays Action On Spending $20,000

STANTON — The Stanton City Council last week postponed action on what to do with more than $20,000 in federal revenue sharing money.

The council discussed several different ways in which to spend the funds. Among the possibilities were an insect fogging machine, a backhoe attachment, a new street crossing, work on the city hall and improvements to the city parks.

The council also decided to sell a tract of land to Cap Rock Electric Cooperative for $10,000. James Eiland, Cap Rock's manager, came before the council to seek the acquisition of the small tract north of Cap Rock's main office. The council considered the poor condition of the city street warehouse which is now on the land and the possibilities of replacing it at another location before finally agreeing upon the $10,000 figure.

He plans to study accounting and business at Texas A&M. Shaunessy is the son of Mrs. Dena B. Shaunessy of 2801 Gulf St. and Walter Shaunessy of Houston.

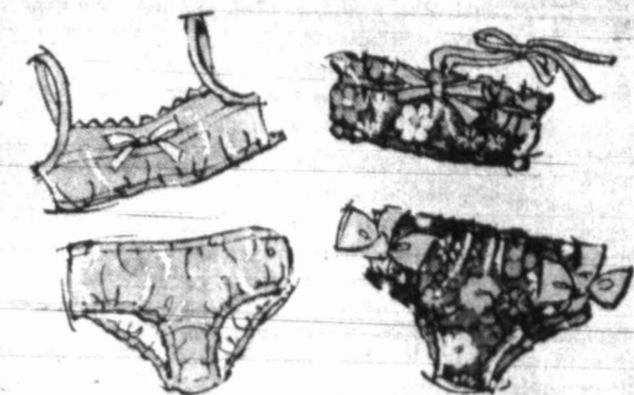

The scholarship is awarded annually by the Midland Texas A&M Club to an outstanding and deserving senior in the Midland School System.

DR. L. L. MORRISS
Pastor For 20 Years

Pastor To Mark 20th Anniversary

By COPE ROUTH
Special Correspondent

Members of Midland's First Baptist Church next Sunday will honor Dr. L. L. Morriss for his 20 years as their pastor.

Congratulatory letters have been arriving in a steady stream already from all over the world.

The anniversary event itself has been preceded by a busy round of activities during May, which was designed by the church as "Morriss Month."

And next Sunday night, following the regular service of the church, a fellowship meeting will be held and the 54-year-old Dr. Morriss and his wife, Faye, will be presented with an appropriate gift.

Still Dazed
Sitting quietly in his study last week, an almost-boyish smile still playing on his face, the spiritual adviser to the 6,000 members of his church admitted he was still a little dazed by the events of the last two decades.

"I suppose," he confided, "I surprised myself by even accepting the call to the pastorate here in the first place."

"And certainly I had no thought of being here 20 years later."

"But the Lord has been good to all of us and to him alone belongs the glory for what has been achieved during these busy, exciting years."

East Texas
Dr. Morriss, who had felt the call to preach when he was only 15 years old, was happy with his church back there in Mount Pleasant, located in the heart of his beloved native East Texas.

Son of a Baptist deacon, he was born in Tyler, where he grew up and attended school. He had received his higher education at the College of Marshall, now East Texas College, Baylor University and the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary at Fort Worth.

He had begun his pastoral ministry in Angus and had served in a number of other churches, including those at Cameron, New London and Baytown, before going to Mount Pleasant.

'Life Was Good'
"And life was good there in Mount Pleasant," he explained. "I was among the people I had known all my life, there were the trees I had grown to love and there was a place down on the lake where I could go to fish or just rest."

"Frankly, I had no thoughts of leaving."

Then, in the spring of 1954, came the first whisper of the challenge that lay before him in an alien West Texas.

"I was in my fifth year at Mount Pleasant," he continued, "when the pulp committee from Midland's First Baptist Church paid us a visit."

"I spotted them pretty quick—I suppose you learn to do that in my work—and they later introduced themselves and told me they were from Midland. They invited me to preach in Midland and I made my first appearance there on the Sunday before Easter."

Services were being held temporarily in the auditorium of the Midland High School while finishing touches were being put on the lovely new $1,400,000 church building at Garfield and Louisiana.

Typical Day
It was a day regarded by some as typical of West Texas. First, the quiet infiltration of sand, then a little rainfall, and finally a windstorm.

"Honestly, I didn't want to come," Dr. Morriss continued. "I was happy back there in Mount Pleasant but something kept nagging at me."

"I remember that morning before I went to the high school auditorium to preach, I got down on my knees, with my wife and our young son, in our room in the old Hotel Scharbauer."

'Give Me A Sign'
"And I said, 'Lord, give me a sign; if you want me to move here, have five people respond to my sermon this morning.'"

"Well, after preaching the sermon, the invitation was given and during the singing of the first stanza of a song, five people came forward, three of them on conversion."

A troubled Dr. Morriss returned home to East Texas, still wrestling with the decision.

"I remember walking through the countryside, when I went back home," he continued. "I kept thinking of the lush greenery, the tall pines, the rolling hills of East Texas and how lovely they were during the spring. But then that old song kept running through my mind: 'I'll go where you want me to go, Oh, Lord, over mountain or plain. I'd never thought about the plains before and it suddenly struck me that that was what I had found in West Texas.'"

"When I went back home, Faye was waiting for me and she said simply, 'We're going to Midland, aren't we?'"

On May 9, Dr. Morriss officially notified the First Baptist Church of Midland that he would be pleased to accept the call to the pastorate.

He began his Midland ministry on June 6, 1954, and the next 20 years saw his church grow to be one of the most active in the far-flung Southern Baptist Convention.

The physical church plant continued to grow to meet the challenge of the expanded church program. Four years later, a $230,000 addition to the original building was constructed; a $205,000 Activities Building was completed across the street in 1960, and a $377,000 wing was added to the original church structure in 1971. The church has an annual operating budget of approximately $700,000.

The 20 years have been busy ones for Dr. Morriss, even aside from his normal pastoral duties.

He has had numerous preaching missions abroad, including Europe, the Holy Land, South America and Japan. He has served his denomination as parliamentarian for the Southern Baptist Convention and the Baptist General Convention of Texas. He is a past chairman of the executive committee of the state organization.

He received the George Washington Honor Medal from the Freedom Foundation of Valley Forge, Pa., in 1962 and 1963.

Since 1969, the church has been cited by Christian Life Magazine as having one of the 50 largest Sunday Schools in the United States. The average attendance is approximately 1,500.

During Dr. Morriss' ministry, the church has had 9,593 new members, including 3,206 who came for baptism.

Its members have contributed $11,265,000 in offerings, with more than $3,600,000 going to mission programs.

The church has operated a mission in San Vicente, Mexico, since 1958 and the First Baptist Church has helped in the establishments of other missions closer to home — missions which since have grown into churches.

Grand Chaplain
Dr. Morriss has been inspirational speaker at the Gloria Baptist Assembly in New Mexico, and the famed Bloys Cowboy Camp Meeting and the Paisano Baptist encampment. He has served as grand chaplain of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Texas and is a member and past director of the Midland Rotary Club.

Since 1954 the Sunday morning services of the First Baptist Church have been broadcast on the radio and since 1956 have been televised over station KMID of Midland. It was the first church in West Texas to televise its services in color.

Many years ago the Morrisses were proud to see their son, Lester Jr., enter the ministry and, now 31 years old, he is studying for his doctorate in theology at the Southwestern Baptist Seminary.

"These years," mused Dr. Morriss last week, "have been good ones to Mrs. Morriss and me and to our church. I think the role of our church has undergone a significant change. It is now, and it must be, more than a church on the corner; we have moved into a new program of outreach through our missionary programs."

More Involved
"And we have become more involved in our community programs. This is the challenge we face if we are to follow the New Testament concept of the church ministry."

And Dr. Morriss is particularly proud of the impact the church has had on the youth of the community.

"There was a time, during the 1960's when there was, I suppose, something of a youth rebellion. But today our young people are taking Christianity more seriously than ever. They have a genuine concern."

"There was a time, and not long ago, when our members used to come to me with concern for their children. Now, the young people are coming to me about their parents."

"I think we now are experiencing a spiritual revival among our young people."

Illegal Aliens Flooding Nation
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The United States is being flooded with illegal aliens who come to find jobs and there is little authorities can do about it, the commissioner of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service says.

"Apprehensions of illegal aliens by the service increased to 670,000 in fiscal 1973, compared to only 21,000 in the early 1960s," Leonard F. Chapman Jr. told newsmen. "And this figure may amount to as little as 10 or 20 per cent of those actually in this country illegally."

Red Cross Renews Appeal To Tie Down Mobile Homes

The American Red Cross has renewed its appeal to the owners of mobile homes to tie their dwellings down more securely as a safeguard against damage and personal injury which can be caused by the destructive winds of tornadoes, hurricanes and severe thunderstorms.

"While few structures can withstand a direct hit by a tornado, mobile homes seem to be especially vulnerable to them and to the winds of these and other storms which normally cause little or no damage to securely anchored buildings," said Ray P. Moudy, disaster chairman of the Midland Red Cross.

He pointed out that a mobile home that is not tied down with over-the-top steel straps, fastened securely to anchors imbedded in the ground, can be rolled over and severely damaged or destroyed by strong winds which, as a rule, would have little effect on a well-protected dwelling.

The disaster director said the tornadoes which slashed through the nation's mid-section on April 3, destroyed or damaged 3,000 mobile homes, more than half the number of these dwelling normally affected by wind disasters in the course of a year.

Moudy said proper tie-down equipment in most areas will cost about $150, with installation by contractor requiring another $100 or so. "But money spent for securely anchoring a mobile home is well worth the price, especially since many insurance companies are now refusing to insure mobile homes unless they are adequately anchored in this manner," Moudy added.

Two types of ties are needed: (1) The over-the-top ties, and (2) the frame tie. The first keeps the unit from overturning and the second prevents it from being blown off the supports.

'The Civil Defense
preparedness agency recommends use of both over-the-top ties and frame ties to secure 10-, 12-, and 14-ft. wide mobile homes," Moudy said. "Double united 24-ft. in width and quite stable and do not require use of over-the-top ties—only frame ties. These protective systems are easy to install on existing mobile homes. When buying a new mobile home, be sure it has built-in tie-down straps."

'Dumbest Of All' Considers Suit
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William L. Scott, R-Va., labeled "the dumbest congressman of them all" in a magazine article, visits President Nixon often "and is highly regarded in the White House," a Nixon spokesman says.

Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren gave that response to inquiring reporters Friday. Scott declared Thursday that he was considering a libel suit against New Times magazine for the article.

But Scott added, "I don't want to bring a suit that I don't win. It might make people think the story was true."

ADVANTAGE OF LARGE MORTGAGE

When buying a home, should you strive for a low down payment with a commensurately large mortgage loan? Here's what some experts say about the value of a large mortgage. The lower your down payment is, the easier it will be to sell your home in the future. The reasoning is that there will be a greater number of prospects who have a smaller amount of cash available to take over a small equity than for a huge down payment or even being forced to take out a new loan at a possibly higher interest rate. The higher interest charge is offset somewhat by a higher tax deduction. The money that would have been put into a larger down payment can be used for other income-producing investments. Finally, it's cheaper to borrow mortgage money than any other kind. And you certainly may have to borrow for autos and college tuition if you are an average American.

If you have any questions on this subject or any other aspect of real estate, feel free to phone or drop in at DON JOHNSON REALTORS, 2318 W. Ohio St. Phone: 683-5333. We're here to help! (Come in for your free copy of "Homes For Living" magazine).

Midlanders Find Bullet Hole In Wall

Mrs. Edward J. Gemmill of 2510 Stanolind St. heard a gunshot about 3:30 p.m. Friday but didn't think anymore about it until later in the day when her son found a bullet hole in the den wall. Watergate Investigation Now In Final Stage

WASHINGTON (AP) — in matters stemming from the Watergate special prosecution force announced Saturday that its investigation of the break-in and cover-up is almost completed and that its probe of campaign dirty tricks is in its final stage.

Spokesmen for the prosecutors said the greatest number of criminal investigations still pending involve campaign contributions, including those from dairy-farmer cooperatives.

Other investigations also are proceeding in the ITT case and in matters stemming from the probe of the White House plumbers unit, including alleged misuse of executive power, alleged illegal wiretapping and alleged misuse of the Internal Revenue Service and other government agencies, the spokesmen said.

In a 10-page report, the spokesmen gave a box score of the year's activities: —36 men and 13 corporations have been charged by the special prosecutors with one federal crime. Of these, 22 men and 9 corporations have been indicted, two men have had indictments dismissed, and the remainder either have yet to plead to the charges or are awaiting trial. Those who have pleaded guilty include former Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst, former White House aide John W. Dean III, Job Stuart Magruder, Frederick C. LaRue, Egli Krogh, Jr. and Herbert L. Porter and the President's former lawyer and fundraiser, Herbert W. Kalmbach.

Legal papers have been filed in court on 54 separate occasions, including an historic court battle over the first subpoena demanding presidential tape recordings and documents from President Nixon.

—One briefcase full of evidence pertaining to the House Judiciary Committee's impeachment investigation of President Nixon was forwarded by a Watergate grand jury through U.S. Dist. Judge John J. Sirica to the committee.

The anniversary report made no mention of Nixon's firing last year of the original Watergate prosecutor, Archibald Cox, or of the recent troubles of his successor, Leon Jaworski.

The report, issued by public relations spokesmen James S. Doyle and John Barker, said a task force of seven lawyers assigned to the Watergate break-in itself is currently preparing for the September trial of seven persons, including former Nixon aide H. R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman, Charles W. Colson and John N. Mitchell.

The general cost rule of thumb to follow when buying a large boat is about $1,000 a foot.

Jaworski Takes Tapes Appeal Directly To Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has been asked to decide whether President Nixon may withhold Watergate evidence subpoenaed for the trial of former White House assistants.

The Watergate special prosecutor asked the high court Friday to assume jurisdiction in the refusal of the White House to turn over tapes and documents for the Watergate cover-up trial.

Prosecutor Leon Jaworski, pressed for time because the trial is scheduled to start Sept. 9, is seeking to bypass the Washington circuit court.

In other Watergate developments: —House Judiciary Committee Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr. said he will propose next Thursday that the impeachment panel make public as much of the evidence already presented as it can.

—Vice President Gerald R. Ford said Nixon's refusal to give the Judiciary Committee any more Watergate material may result in the President's impeachment. "It seems to me that a stonewall attitude isn't necessarily the wisest policy," Ford said in an interview with ABC News.

—Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said it is becoming increasingly difficult to defend Nixon in the Watergate scandal. However, Goldwater said he can see no circumstances under which he would go to the President and ask him to resign.

Midland Resident Receives Eye Injury

The Profit System ought to be investigated.

Somebody ... everybody ... ought to really dig into business. See how it operates. Check out its profits. And, problems.

See what makes businessmen tick.

Then, maybe, there would be a few bouquets among the brickbats.

Oh, no question, the investigation would turn up a lot of things that could be better. Great! Let's make some changes.

But, in the main, businessmen would come out with some surprising new fans. It would be hard not to appreciate the backbone and stomach muscle it takes to deal with their problems. Or, to admire their one-up-manship approach to competition. (And, it's we consumers who benefit from this competition!)

Detractors might even envy (and would certainly be surprised at) their free spirit, pioneer-like attitude that are by-products of the system.

Objective investigators will be amazed to learn that lots of the "profits" of the profit system have to come from this sort of satisfaction. Not in dollars and cents.

Somebody ought to look into the profit system. Especially the high school and college age. They just might decide to head in that direction.

Featured Speakers Slated For ACC's Bible Workshop

ABILENE — Four featured evening speakers have been lined up for the 20th annual Bible Teachers Workshop, July 22-25, at Abilene Christian College, according to Dr. Carl Brecheen, ACC professor of Bible and workshop director.

The speakers include Dr. Paul Faulkner of Abilene; Darrell G. Rickard of Fort Worth; Dr. Ira North of Madison, Tenn.; and Joe Barnett of Lubbock.

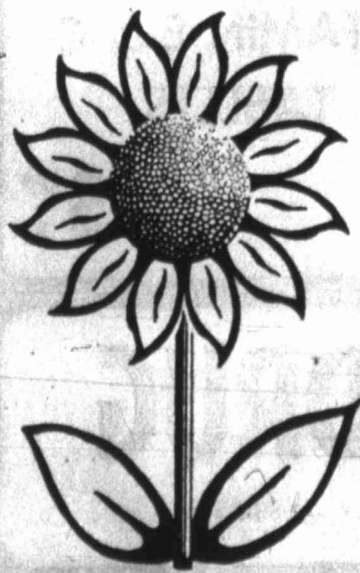

Dale Smith of Chicago, Ill., will present the morning devotional Tuesday through Thursday at 10 a.m. in the auditorium of the College Church of Christ. "This year's workshop is designed to be workshops within a workshop," said Dr. Brecheen. "With a few exceptions, each person should be able to attend a class during each class period focusing on his special interest."

U.S. Moving Ahead On Firecracker Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — Over the objections of thousands of firecracker-loving Americans, the government is moving ahead with plans to defuse Fourth of July celebrations.

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission says that unless it receives a "legally sufficient" request for a delay and public hearing, the sale and manufacture of firecrackers of all sizes will be prohibited as of June 17.

And, in anticipation of a buying spree preceding the ban, the agency is stepping up its lookout for bootleg fireworks operations.

Comprehensive federal regulations, issued under authority of the 1960 Hazardous Substances Act, will override less restrictive laws in 18 states which still permit firecracker sales.

The commission says the ban is necessary "in view of the significant number of injuries relating to firecracker use; the unfeasibility of construction re-

Odessa Girl Wins Favorable Ruling

ODESSA — An 18-year-old Permian High School student, Karen Hopkins, won a favorable ruling from Judge C. V. Milburn of Odessa's 70th District Court Friday when he ruled she should be reinstated in the National Honor Society and the Peppettes.

Miss Hopkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hopkins, was dismissed from the two groups after admitting she drank an alcoholic beverage in a private residence. The rules of both organizations prohibit the consumption of alcohol under any conditions.

School attorney Jack Tidwell announced the school's intent to appeal the ruling.

Reese To Speak At Odessa Service

ODESSA — Ted Reese of Midland, a former World War II prisoner of war, will be the speaker for a Memorial Day service at 10:45 a.m. today in the Parker Heights Christian Church here.

Patriotic music will be presented by Mrs. Bill Kerley and the church choir.

GM To Make Five New Small Models

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors is meeting the sales slump in its full-sized cars with five new small models, and prices for all its 1975 cars will go up.

The auto giant said Friday its Chevrolet, Buick, Oldsmobile and Pontiac divisions each would have a new subcompact when the new model year opens this fall. A luxury compact Cadillac will go on the market later in the year.

Chairman Richard Gerstenberg, who made the announcement at GM's annual stockholders meeting, indicated that prices on all GM 1975 model cars will be increased "substantially."

He refused to specify how high prices would rise, but he said cost increases alone would be "several hundred dollars."

Industry observers interpreted that to mean prices could go up an average $250 or more per vehicle.

Earlier this month, GM raised car and truck prices an average $105. Its cheapest car, the subcompact Chevrolet Vega, now lists for $2,505, and could go up to $2,750 or higher by September.

"These new cars with smaller engines will provide the most tangible affirmation of your company's desire and, more important, its ability to deliver in quantity what the motoring public wants," Gerstenberg told stockholders.

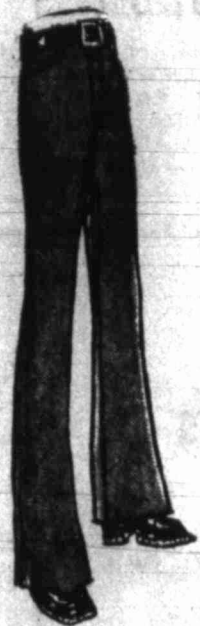

He said the new models will enable GM's small car lines to capture 40 per cent of the firm's total car sales, compared with 21 per cent in 1973.

Industry observers estimated the new sporty subcompacts would list for around $3,500, while the compact Cadillac would be priced in the $7,000 range.

GM's compacts — the Chevrolet Nova, Oldsmobile Omega, Pontiac Ventura and Buick Apollo — will be restyled for the new model year.

A HELPING HAND — Dr. (Capt.) Steve Potter, of Midland visits with two of the residents at the orphan home at Korat in Thailand. A dentist, he is stationed with the U.S. Air Force there.

Midlander Is One Dentist Children Are Not Afraid Of

Dr. (Capt.) Steve Potter, a Midlander with the U.S. Air Force in Thailand, is one dentist that children aren't afraid of. As a matter of fact, most of the children he comes in contact with are eager to see him.

The Lee High School graduate has been at the Thai base at Korat almost nine months and when his tooth-mending duties are over at the end of each week he heads for one of his favorite hangouts — the Korat orphanage, a leper colony near Bangkok, or one of the nearby missions.

The orphanage at Korat compares with those in the United States. It is filled with children, most under 5 years of age — whose families for one reason or another couldn't keep them.

The Royal Thai government feeds, clothes and shelters the Orphans, but visitors like Dr. Potter, the son of Mr. and Mrs.

Wayne Potter of Midland, offer the youngsters a great deal of happiness.

Dr. Potter takes along his bag just in case there are a few teeth problems to take care of, but mostly during his trips of the base he is a true goodwill ambassador.

Two elderly Thai women care for the 20 to 25 youngsters in the orphanage during mealtime, put them to bed and bathe them, but the youngsters are left to fend for themselves the rest of the time.

That is where Dr. Potter and other members of the Air Force come in. They travel to the orphanage to help give the children the attention they need at their age.

Dr. Potter and some of the other Americans lead singing at the orphanage, missions and the leper colony. They offer advice, tell stories and help out in any way they can in making

AND NOT BRAINWASHING— Medical Expert Says Patty Just Ripe For Change

By RICHARD SALTUS
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Some medical specialists say Patricia Hearst's decision to become an urban guerrilla could have been a form of brainwashing, but another expert suggests she was simply ripe for the change.

Dr. Zev Wanderer says it depends on whether the Symbionese Liberation Army made up predominantly of male convicts and radical young women was sophisticated enough to transform the newspaper heiress against her will into Tania, a gunwielding rebel.

"If the SLA were such fine behavioral modifiers, I'd like to offer them a job here," said Wanderer, head of the Center for Behavior Therapy.

But a psychiatrist who has advised the Randolph A. Hearst family since their daughter was abducted Feb. 4 from her Berkeley, Calif., apartment, insists that systematic techniques aren't necessary.

Given the stress, a feeling of shared danger and her relative youth, said Dr. Frederick Hacker of Los Angeles, it's easily conceivable that 20-year-old Miss Hearst could have yielded to mental coercion.

"It's not at all unusual that in late adolescence one becomes a very different person," he said. "And the time (that her apparent conversion took) is not particularly short if one considers the total control of information and interpretation they had during her captivity."

A former observer of so-called "brainwashing" of Korean War GI's agreed. "We felt it had been demonstrated that if you have total physical control of a human being for a few weeks or more ... it's possible in most instances to make significant changes in the way people behave and, perhaps, think," said Dr. William E. Mayer.

Mayer, now head of the California Department of Health, was a member of a special Army team that studied repatriated GI's from Korean prison camps. He declined, however, to speculate on Miss Hearst's motives.

Newspaper executive Randolph Hearst says of his daughter: "We've had her 20 years. They've had her 60 days." He said at one point. "I don't believe she's going to change her philosophy that quickly or that permanently."

GETS SCHOLARSHIP — Mary Ann Snow, Lee High School senior, has been awarded a scholarship to attend Midland College by the Midland Food Club. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Snow.

Raven Convicted Of Misdemeanor, Draws $200 Fine

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Travis Raven, former athletic director of Austin schools, was found guilty Friday night of engaging in prostitution and was assessed a $200 fine.

Raven and Audrey Aynn McDonald, 28, were charged with compelling the prostitution of a minor. Miss McDonald was found innocent.

District Court Judge Tom Blackwell told the jury, which began its deliberations at 6:30 p.m., it could find the pair innocent, guilty as charged or guilty of a lesser charge.

The engaging in prostitution conviction is a misdemeanor.

Raven, 51, at first denied any involvement in the case but on the witness stand Thursday admitted he had aided Mary T. Lindley, 18, in obtaining sexual dates for money.

Odessa, 38, Dies In One-Car Crash

ODESSA — A 38-year-old self-employed salvage worker died about four hours after his car overturned in the 700 block of South Muskingum Street late Friday.

Frank Leroy Feyler of Odessa received massive head injuries in the accident shortly before 7 p.m. and died later in Medical Center Hospital's intensive care unit.

Police said Feyler was alone in the car when it struck a curb, went out of control and overturned.

It was the seventh traffic fatality in the city this year.

Timmons Honored By Freemasons

HASTINGS-ON-HUDSON, N.Y. — Burl Kent Timmons, 3220 Mariana St., Midland, Tex. has been awarded the designation of Knight of the York Cross of Honour.

Timmons served as Master of the Midland Lodge of Masons in 1971; high priest of the Keystone Chapter, Royal Arch Masons in 1970; master of the Keystone council, Royal and Select Masters in 1969; commander of the Midland Commandry, Knight Templar, in 1973. He was elected to membership in the Texas Priory and his election confirmed by the Grand Council of the Order on May 20.

Peale Awarded Two Washington Honor Medals

PAWLING, N.Y. — Dr. Norman Vincent Peale has been awarded two George Washington Honor Medals by the Freedoms Foundation, one of them for writing two booklets on America's religious heritage, 7,000,000 copies of which have been distributed to public school children.

Dr. Peale's "Positive Thinking" column appears each Sunday on Page One of The Reporter-Telegram.

Lowell Thomas, the author, commentator and world traveler, presented the awards on May 17 to Dr. Peale at the Foundation for Christian Living, which published the booklets.

The first, "One Nation Under God," the story of America's dependence on God's guidance from Columbus to the astronauts, was published in 1972. The other, "A New Birth of Freedom, the story of heroes who made America, was issued last year.

They have been distributed at no cost to public and private schools which have requested them for classroom use under the United States Supreme Court's recommendation that information about religion be taught in public schools.

The George Washington Medal was presented to Dr. Peale for a newspaper column entitled "America Can Stand Tall," which he wrote last summer when American prisoners were returned from Vietnam.

Three Men Arrested In Auto Burglaries

Three men were arrested Friday in connection with two car burglaries at Midland's two high schools.

Johnny Lopez Natividad, 17, of 801 N. Whitaker St. and Esquel P. Franca, 18, of 603 N. Madison St. were arrested shortly before 1 p.m. as suspects in the burglary of a car at Lee High School a short time before.

Justice of the Peace John Biggs set $3,000 bonds for Natividad and Franca.

Shortly after 3 p.m. Friday, Marcelino Costilla Arrendariz, 19, of 601 N. Mineola St. was arrested in connection with the theft of a tape deck from a car at Midland High School.

Justice of the Peace Robert Pine set bond at $1,000.

First 'Education Satellite' Will Begin Working Next Month

By HOWARD BENEDICT
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The world's first "education satellite" will begin next month beaming televised health and training programs to doctors and school teachers in rural areas of Appalachia, the Rocky Mountain states and Alaska.

This orbiting marvel, scheduled for launching from Cape Canaveral Thursday, is called ATS-6, for Applications Technology Satellite. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration describes it as "the most versatile, powerful and unique communications spacecraft ever developed."

It is the first satellite ever built to beam signals directly to individual television sets equipped with special receivers. Communications satellites now in operation relay to ground stations which cost millions to build. The signals are fed over land lines or microwave.

Four voice channels will accompany each color television signal, so a viewer will be able to select between English, Spanish or one of several Indian or Eskimo dialects.

Professionals and volunteers — counselors, doctors, teachers and others — will assess the programs and determine if a satellite system is a feasible way to get educational information to and from people in isolated areas.

In five Appalachian states — Alabama, Maryland, New York, Tennessee and Virginia — the emphasis will be on teacher education. Elementary school teachers in 15 communities, three in each state, will be offered two graduate level, three-credit courses.

Starting in September, about 4,900 junior and senior high students in 56 rural Rocky Mountain communities will receive programs in career education via the satellite. The programs will be broadcast each school day from Denver to the schools for 35 minutes.

The communities are in Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Nevada, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming.

In Alaska, the thrust will be on developing better ways for that state's farflung communities to communicate with one another.

Alaska has 265 communities scattered over 571,065 square miles, and two-thirds of them can't be reached by railroad or highway. Isolation and many languages and dialects make communication and concerted action among people difficult.

Each week, the satellite will broadcast to 18 villages a series called "Alaska Native Village." It will feature such concerns as land claims, pipeline impact and Alaskan culture and art. There also will be instructional programs in language development, health education, early childhood education and teacher training.

Alaska will be the site of major health information experiments to be conducted with ATS-6, expanding a program that has been under way for three years with the earlier ATS-I satellite.

A health program is planned using ATS-6 to determine the feasibility of instructing medical students in states without medical schools. It will involve faculty at the University of Washington Medical School in Seattle and students and faculty at the University of Alaska in Fairbanks.

After one year in orbit, NASA will maneuver the satellite into stationary orbit over Kenya, East Africa. From this outpost, ATS-6 will be able to transmit to all of India.

India's Space Research Organization will use the satellite four hours a day to demonstrate the potential value of a direct broadcast TV system for education in rural and remote regions.

Programs stressing improved farming techniques, family planning and hygiene, school instruction and occupation skills will be transmitted to TV sets in 3,000 communities in seven Indian states.

Most Texas Gas Stations To Stay Open For Holiday

HOUSTON (AP) — The Texas division of the American Automobile Association says there should be plenty of gasoline for Memorial Day motorists.

The association said its weekly survey, released Friday, showed 96 per cent of Texas service stations plan to remain open Monday. Only one per cent of the 354 stations surveyed in 54 cities reported they were out of fuel.

A spokesman for the association said 31 per cent of the stations plan to open Sunday and only 26 per cent are limiting gasoline purchases.

The average prices of gasoline remained the same as last week with premium at 53.3 cents a gallon and regular 50.4.

"We did find a lot of stations with 60-cent gasoline and this is the first week that has shown up," an AAA spokesman said. "But a couple of oil companies lowered their prices."

Dr. Finch Marries Social Worker, 50

EL DORADO SPRINGS, Mo. (AP) — Dr. R. Bernard Finch has married a psychiatrist social worker whom friends say he met while he was serving a prison term for the murder of his wife.

A friend, the Rev. William Krudwig, said Friday that Finch, 56, married Elizabeth Kehoe, 50, in a private ceremony at his home here on Thursday. Bob Jackson, director of the Crawford County Mental Health Center, which employs the bride, said the couple met while she was doing social work at a California prison.

Finch gained widespread attention when he and Carole Tregoff, an attractive receptionist at his West Covina, Calif., hospital, were sentenced to life prison terms in 1961 for the slaying of Finch's wife in 1959 four months after she had filed for divorce. The two were later paroled.

Here Is What Helen Harrison Of Midland Has To Say About Pat Walkers

All my life I've heard because we reach middle age we just start to spread, but there is never a time in life that a person should say, "I'm middle age, I deserve to eat what I want, and everyone expects me to be heavy."

We owe it to ourselves to stay thin and live longer. The Pat Walker way is for me. There is no rigid diet, but a sensible way to eat and stay healthy. I feel so much better and I know I look better. Pat Walker's is a "way of life." My goal is to be a young looking grandmother for my first grandchild, and for grandfather.

Thank you Miss Walker for coming to Midland.

WASHINGTON OIL— This Said Worst Time To Abolish Depletion Mark

By CLYDE LA MOTTE
Reporter-Telegram Washington Oil Correspondent
WASHINGTON — Even if oil percentage depletion has long been a big rip-off which should be ended, right now appears to be the worst possible time to end that tax provision.

Here's why:
If percentage depletion is ended now, it unquestionably will slow down the rate of drilling, especially the drilling of wildcat wells.

This is so because the independent operators who drill about 83 per cent of the wildcats depend on outside funds. In other words, they have to have someone to bankroll the project.

Even with percentage depletion, these operators were having a hard time convincing dentists and doctors and others with some investment money to take the risk on a drilling venture. That's why the drilling rate declined steadily in this country over the years.

Union Will Ask For Wage Hike

HOUSTON (AP) — The president of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union says the union plans to seek a very substantial wage increase and a cost of living clause for oil company refinery employees.

A. F. Grosipron said he was not critical of the pay increases some major oil firms have been giving employees in recent weeks.

"But you better get your giving done because Santa Claus goes out of the picture June 4," he said.

That is the date on which the union's national policy committee is to meet in Denver, Colo., to draft a national policy for ratification by about 6,000 refinery workers whose contracts expire next Jan. 7.

Grosipron said Sun Oil Co. has granted a 5 per cent pay increase and Texaco Inc. a 7 per cent increase to its exempt workers, with Mobil Oil Corp. giving its employees a month's bonus. Exxon Co. USA and Shell Oil Co. also announced 6 per cent increases Friday.

Gas Completions Up, Total Drilling Declines In 1973

DENVER — Gas well completions in the United States during 1973 rose to 6,150 from 4,993 in 1972 while drilling declined, according to Petroleum Information's recently published 1973 Resume.

During 1973, 26,400 wells drilled for oil and or gas were completed for the record. In 1972, 27,615 wells were completed for the record.

The 44th edition of resume is a review of 1973 domestic oil and gas activity in the United States.

Oil Imports Regain October Levels

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON (AP) — The United States now is receiving practically the same amount of foreign oil it was at the start of the Arab-Israeli war in October.

The latest statistical report from the American Petroleum Institute indicates combined crude oil and petroleum products imports averaged 6,462,000 barrels a day for the four-week period ending May 17.

This compares with an average of 6,487,000 barrels a day for the comparable period ending Oct. 5, the day before the Yom Kippur fighting started.

Tanker shipments from the Middle East to the United States had increased sharply in the months preceding the war and the trend continued until the Arab nations imposed their embargo on Oct. 17.

It took almost two months, therefore, for the embargo to cause U.S. imports to start declining.

The Institute's weekly reports indicate crude and products imports peaked at a daily average of 6,891,000 barrels for the four weeks ending Nov. 16.

As the nation adjusted to energy conservation measures, oil imports then began a decline until they reached a low average of 4,805,000 barrels a day for the four-week period ending March 1.

The comeback to the current level began after the Arabs terminated their embargo on March 18, an action they said would be subject to review in June.

Prior to the start of the Yom Kippur war, U.S. oil imports had increased more than 500,000 barrels a day in less than six months.

At the time President Nixon abolished the mandatory oil import control program on April 18, 1973, the Institute's reports indicate the United States was receiving an average of 3,002,000 barrels of crude and 2,932,000 barrels of products for a daily total of 5,994,000 barrels.

After the end of mandatory controls, greater emphasis was placed on crude oil imports. The 6,487,000-barrel average for the period ending Oct. 31 included 3,606,000 barrels of crude and 2,881,000 in products.

The Nov. 16 peak at 6,891,000 included 3,774,000 barrels of crude and 3,117,000 barrels of products.

The low point of 4,805,000 barrels reported for the period ending March included 2,118,000 barrels of crude and 2,687,000 in products.

The Institute's weekly reports include two sets of daily averages, one on a weekly basis and another based on four-week periods.

The four-week averages reflect trends more accurately in that the number of tanker arrivals can fluctuate sharply from one week to the next.

The weekly averages can be more dramatic, however. For example crude oil imports for the week ending Nov. 2 averaged 4,249,000 barrels a day. A products average of 2,875,000 barrels brought the daily average for the week to a combined 7,124,000 barrels. But the four-week period ending on the same date had a daily average of only 6,483,000 barrels, including 3,656,000 in crude and 2,827,000 in products.

From the peak weekly average of 4,249,000 barrels, crude oil imports dropped to an embargo low of 1,901,000 barrels a day for the week ending Feb. 15.

The weekly averages for products meanwhile were dropping from 3,182,000 barrels a day the week ending Nov. 16 to a low of 2,521,000 daily the week ending Feb. 22.

Oilmen Face Unique Problems In Drilling Offshore Texas

By TERRY KIRKPATRICK — NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Oilmen will have to deal with hidden military ordnance and two "flower gardens" if they win leases offered here this week for drilling tracts off the Texas coast.

Past drilling success in that corner of the Gulf of Mexico has been less than encouraging. But the new federal push in increase offshore development leads to the less attractive areas.

Some 403 leases have been issued since 1954 for offshore Texas. Only 137 are still active — 96 of them are less than a year old.

"That wouldn't make me want to rush out," said John Rankin of New Orleans, the Bureau of Land Management official who will conduct the bidding this Wednesday.

"The history of Texas is pretty sorry. We had a sale off Texas in '68 and everybody thought they had the key to it. About 41 tracts survived but it sure wasn't much."

Most of the leases which never produced or soon dried up sat within 100 miles of the coast.

The 245 tracts of seabottom offered this time are beyond that—between 100 and 300 miles offshore. They are scattered among the leases granted a year ago in the most recent Texas sale.

Successes there make some oilmen optimistic about their chances of finding oil or natural gas in the 1.35 million acres of land offered in this seventh offshore Texas sale.

"Industry is learning a devil of a lot," Rankin said. "They make technical breakthroughs that make it look more attractive to them."

Drillers will have to skirt around the two points where a coral reef peaks about 65 feet below the surface.

Rankin's staff has studied the reef tips, known as the "East and West Flower Gardens," for a year. Tough restrictions on drilling have been designed to protect the reef and the marine life in harbors.

"We've buoyed those so there can be no mistake about their location," Rankin said. "A supertanker coming in there could just gut itself."

Another 101 tracts fall in past or present target areas of the Matagorda Island Air Force Range. The Interior Department warns that hazardous military ordnance may be hidden beneath.

Water depths reach 650 feet over 24 tracts. Several are over the edge of the continental slope and reach a depth of more than 1,300 feet. Current deepest well is 373 feet.

How the oil companies value the area won't be known until their secret bids are opened Wednesday morning. Last June, they bid a total of $1.598 billion for 104 tracts in the same area. The money goes directly into the U.S. Treasury.

One-fifth of the amount must accompany the bid, with the balance due when the lease is formally approved. If oil or gas is eventually found, one-sixth of the revenue is due the government.

UT-El Paso To Offer First Geological Sciences Ph.D.

EL PASO — A doctor of science and industry, Dr. Templeton said. The program is designed to reduce the training, apprenticeship or adjustment period normally required for Ph.D. recipients after they enter the professional world.

A unique requirement of the doctorate is that each candidate must work for nine months on an applied assignment either in industry or with a governmental agency on problems connected with such fields as stratigraphy, structure, petrology, mineral exploration, mineral economics, mineral resource evaluation or environmental engineering.

It was explained that the doctor of geological sciences degree will be vastly different in comparison to Ph.D.'s offered by other universities. It will be a realistic combination of theoretical and practical approaches, designed to produce professionals who are prepared for the demands of today's

Dr. A. B. Templeton, president of the El Paso University, lauded Graduate Dean Kenneth E. Beasley and a number of geology faculty members for their long and dedicated work on the proposed doctoral program, among them Dr. William N. McNulty, Dr. Karl Klement, department chairman, and Dr. John M. Hills, formerly of Midland.

Drilling Program Initiated By C&K

HOUSTON — C&K Petroleum Inc. reported that its previously announced Northwest exploration venture has been activated and contributions in the amount of $1.02 million have been received from the three participants in the program.

The amount received is one-half of the first-year commitments of the participants. The five-year program calls for an aggregate of about $10 million.

The first exploratory well will be drilled this summer in Western Colorado on a 12,000-acre block. About 64,500 additional acres in Colorado and Wyoming have been acquired by the venture. Nine wells are to be drilled during the first year of the program.

C&K holds a 25 per cent interest in properties developed.

API Official Warns Fuel Supply Expansion Efforts Could Be Crippled

DALLAS — A petroleum exploration expert last week said higher taxes, price rollbacks and more government intervention could seriously cripple current efforts to expand U.S. fuel supplies.

The warning came from Dr. Wilson Laird, director of exploration for the American Petroleum Institute, who told the North American Petroleum Accountants Conference there has been a dramatic increase in exploratory drilling since price controls were eased on new domestic oil and natural gas.

"Should the anti-business forces in the Congress prevail, and a price rollback be forced on the industry, the results will be both immediate and counterproductive," Dr. Laird declared. "Companies will be forced to retrench their exploratory activities. And there will also be a retrenchment in the secondary and tertiary recovery operations stimulated by the recent higher prices that made such operations economically feasible."

"The consumer will be the unwilling and unknowing victim as the industry's efforts to increase supply are stymied," he added.

Dr. Laird said it has been estimated that tax bills which Congress is now considering would cost the oil companies more than $13 billion between now and the end of 1979.

"That money, of course, would not then be available for capital investment in exploration, production, refining, distribution or marketing," he pointed out.

"Again, the consumer would be the ultimate victim."

As for proposals to establish a Federal Oil and Gas Corporation, Dr. Laird commented: "It isn't hard to imagine what effect such government intervention would have on private industry endeavors to locate and produce new oil and gas supplies. The industry simply could not compete against unlimited access to the U.S. Treasury."

"Nor would private companies be able to compete with a federal corporation that did not have to produce petroleum on a commercially feasible scale,

Planned depth is 10,000 feet. It spots 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 5-20s-25e, 10 miles southwest of Lakewood.

Texas American Oil Corp. of Midland has filed new location for No. 1-X-25 Todd-Federal, Eddy County wildcat, 22 miles east of Loving.

around $4 billion a year. That's a lot of money and it naturally would attract investor interest.

But elimination of percentage depletion will mean an increase in taxes on domestic oil by $3.2 billion a year, according to estimates by the tax experts. Thus, all but $800 million of the gain would be wiped out.

Still $800 million is a considerable amount and thus should supply considerable stimulus.

The only trouble with that theory is that, as outlined earlier, the drilling rate had already fallen to new lows under the old price, and so it would take considerable stimulation to bring it back to somewhere near the peaks of the mid-50's.

Because the nation's need for oil today is much greater than it was 20 years ago, it should be evident that an exploration pace of the mid-50's will not get the job done today.

Furthermore, it stands to reason that as more marginal areas are drilled, the greater the risk of drilling a dry hole. So, if the nation wants to encourage oil operators to go all-out in finding more domestic oil, the incentive to do so would need to be greater.

Congress doesn't see it that way, somehow. At least not those congressmen who are leading the fight to end percentage depletion immediately. Furthermore, advocates of elimination percentage depletion are for the most part the same ones who are advocating the rollback in crude oil prices and a windfall profits tax.

How is the average citizen going to be affected by all this? If the tax provision is removed and if a price lid is kept on

EPA Withholds Results Of Vinyl Chloride Study

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Investigators studying the concentration here of a potentially cancer-causing chemical are withholding their findings because of possible criminal prosecution, federal officials said Friday.

Experts are collecting air samples near chemical plants and the Houston Ship Channel as part of a special vinyl chloride investigation by the Environmental Protection Agency.

Samples will be analyzed to determine the concentration of the chemical in the Houston atmosphere next to the plants.

An EPA attorney in the Dallas regional office of the agency said, however, the results of the Houston study will be suppressed because the study "represents the investigation files of a law enforcement agency" and polluters releasing the gas could be subject to enforcement.

One EPA official said the agency is required to release its information unless there are definite instructions from the agency administrator not to.

In a later call, attorney Jim Collins said the information was being withheld at the express instructions of George Marcenthal of the EPA headquarters office in Washington.

Asked by The Associated Press on what he based his legal authority to withhold the data, Collins cited one of the exceptions permitted under the Freedom of Information Act. This exception entitles law enforcement agencies to keep secret details of an investigation which may lead to criminal charges.

The information would be released, he said, only after evaluation and possible legal disposition.

Vinyl chloride is a key element in the $12-billion vinyl plastics industry in the United States. It is produced in the petroleum refining process.

Eastland Finds Shallow Gas Pay

The Eastland Oil Co. of Midland has announced the discovery of the world's shallowest gas production in two Sandoval County, N.M., projects.

No. 1 Bennett-Federal flowed gas at the rate of 10,000 cubic feet per day, from Menefee formation open hole at 312-330 feet.

No. 1 Peto-Federal flowed at the daily rate of 5,000 cubic feet, from open hole at 354-380 feet.

Both tests have been shut in pending further drilling and evaluation of the area.

Coke Searcher Yields Gas, Oil

Pearson-Sibert Oil Co. of Texas, Midland, No. 1 P.S. Millican Reef Unit, Coke County scheduled 6,150-foot Strawn wildcat, recovered 500 feet of slightly gas-cut mud and 350 feet of slightly oil-cut mud on a drillstem test in an unidentified zone.

Tool was open one hour and 47 minutes on the test taken from 5,690-5,990 feet. The project was drilling ahead.

Test site is 1,320 feet from north and west lines of section 158, block 2, H&TC survey, 12 miles west of Robert Lee, and surrounded by Strawn reef gas production in the Millican field.

Brazil Considers Iceberg Imports

BRASILIA (AP) — Brazil is studying the possibility of transporting icebergs from the South Pole to make up for shortages of fresh water in several northern and northeastern cities, declared Prof. Azevedo Neto in a lecture at the University of Brasilia.

Stepout Planned In Yoakum Field

Rasco, Inc., Lubbock, has made plans to drill No. 1 Cone as a ¾-mile northeast stepout to the three-well Sable, North (San Andres) field of Yoakum County.

It is projected to 5,363 feet, and spots 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 188, block D, J. H. Gibson survey, 12 miles northwest of Plains.

Lohmann Joins Milchem Inc. Here

Bill J. Lohmann has joined the Midland office of Milchem Inc. as a sales representative. He previously owned a well service company at Hobbs, New Mexico, and has experience as an independent land man in the Amarillo area.

Other Milchem personnel changes also have been announced. Robert L. Bekin joined Milchem's Market Development Department at Houston as staff assistant to the manager. Jack G. Lantz was promoted to regional operations manager of the Mid-Continent Region. He will remain in Oklahoma City where he has been a District Technical Service representative.

Therefore, is to get this message to the public, and quickly: The energy crisis has not been resolved, nor will it be resolved until such time as adequate new domestic energy reserves are discovered and made available to use," he said.

Down the road, consumers in non-oil states begin to feel that the impact because supplies either become shorter or dependency on foreign producing nations increases.

If supplies decline, the consumer has to compete with others for the dwindling supply, and that is bound to force prices higher and to slow the economy.

If imports increase, the consumer becomes more and more at the mercy of the government of the foreign producing nation.

And those governments are the ones who triggered the price hikes that have occurred in recent months.

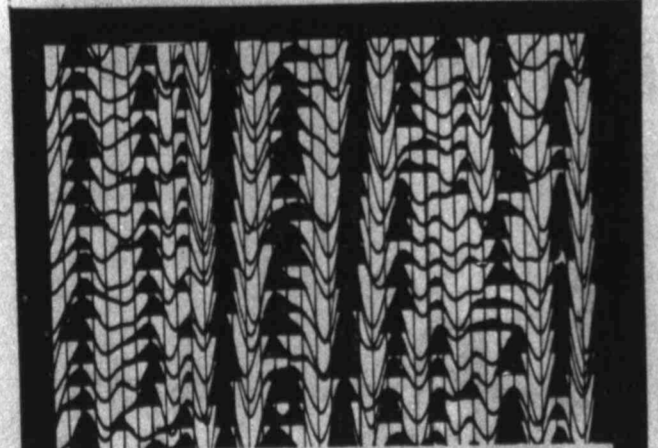

An effort is being made by some congressmen to stop the runaway move to kill percentage depletion. A bit of breathing room was gained last week when the House Rules Committee postponed a vote on whether to send the House Ways and Means Committee's bill to the House floor with or without a provision for amendments.

If amendments are permitted, an amendment will be offered to end percentage depletion. This would replace the committee's plan to phase out the tax provision gradually.

Because of the delay, advocates of maintaining incentive for domestic producers will have another opportunity to state their case.

The outcome may well depend on whether consumers in general realize that slowing down the search for oil in this country is hardly the way to end shortages and, eventually, bring prices down.

Rangers Topple Minnesota, 4-3

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Alex Johnson's first home run of the season, a two-run shot in the eighth inning, helped the Texas Rangers to a 4-3 victory over the Minnesota Twins Saturday.

Toby Harrah opened the eighth with a single, the eighth hit off loser Vic Albury, 2-2, and Johnson followed with his homer, putting Texas on top 3-2. Jeff Burroughs' single chased Albury in favor of Bill Campbell and the Rangers added what proved to be the winning run on a walk and Lenny Randle's single.

Designated hitter Tony Oliva's sixth-inning homer, his second of the season, gave the Twins a 2-1 lead against Jackie Brown.

Brown, 2-1, was making his first start of the season after seven relief appearances. He left in the eighth after the Twins scored their third run.

Steve Foucault earned his second save of the season. After stranding the tying run in the eighth, he allowed a single by Harmon Killebrew with one out in the ninth and then retired the last two batters.

Texas Southern Track Coach Is NAIA Coach Of Year

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — Dave Bethany of Texas Southern University at Houston was named NAIA track and field coach of the year Saturday.

Lamesa Wins Bi-District Golden Tornadoes Take Pair From Iowa Park

By TERRY WILLIAMSON R-T Sports Writer LAMESA — Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes believe in miracles. Maybe because they are miracle makers.

The Golden Tors won both ends of a doubleheader here Saturday afternoon to win their fourth consecutive bi-district baseball title with 8-2 and 12-11 wins over the Iowa Park Hawks, who won the playoff opponent, 6-2, Tuesday, but it was the way Lamesa did it. If any statistic were ever kept on unbelievable games, the second Tor victory would go down in history as one of the most unbelievable of all—or at least pretty close to it.

The Tors came from four runs down on two occasions to pull off the dramatic win with five runs in the seventh inning, trailing 11-7 at the time.

The biggest miracle worker of them all was junior hurler Jeff Johnson, who pitched 12-1/3 innings and was credited with both victories. Johnson also had the distinction of making three appearances in two games.

Jefferson pitched an eight-hitter in the opener and then went 4-1/3 innings into the second game before tiring. Layne Head and Alan Robinett, however, could not hold the Hawk bats at bay and Jefferson was called back to work the seventh when the Hawks scored six runs, three coming on a three-run homer by Leroy Threat.

Oliver's three singles led the San Antonio attack. For Midland, Dyan Frazier's relief pitching and Wayne Tyrone's three hits and rbi led the Cubs.

San Antonio opened the scoring in the first when Will Aaron worked Gary Junge for a walk, David Oliver singled through a bunt-anticipating infield before Jim Norris bounced into a pitcher-inflated double play as Aaron moved to third. Mike Brooks then grounded a run-scoring single into right.

Alvin McGrew doubled against the fence in center with one out in the second and rounded the bag only to embarrassedly discover that first baseman Jerry Tabb had slipped in behind him to take the relay from Joe Wallis and Ken Szotkiewicz for the out before the Brewer could dive back into the bag.

A four-run third chased Junge, giving the Brewers a 5-0 lead, which is like a game in the win column with the stingy Brewer pitching staff. It started when Junge, covering first, dropped Tabb's underhand throw on Aaron's grounder to the right side. Then followed a single by Oliver, a run-scoring double into the left field corner by Norris to put runners on second and third with only one out.

Brooks was intentionally walked and Mike Hannah's two-run single to left plated two. When the outfielder threw through catcher Gregg Collins, Brooks jaunted to third.

Lefly Frazier relieved Junge and a run scored on Rex Bynum's tap back to the box as Frazier went to second in hopes of a double play that didn't materialize. That gave San Antonio a substantial down-payment on its ninth victory in 10 starts over Midland this year.

Midland's offense through the first five innings consisted of a single in the second by Tyrone and another in the fifth by Bill Bright. The Cubs finally dented the plate in the sixth when Ken Szotkiewicz singled to left and took second when the ball got through Aaron. Tabb walked with two out and Tyrone dumped a single into left for the run.

Beyond that and a couple of fielding gems by Soclo at short, Frazier's pitching was about all the Cubs had to crow about. After relieving Junge in the third, the one-time all-state

New York Tops Pirates, 4-3

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two-run homers by Cleon Jones and John Milner powered the New York Mets to a 4-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Saturday night.

Jones slugged his homer off Dock Ellis, 1-5, in the first inning following a single by Bud Harrelson. Milner blasted a two-run homer in the fifth after Rusty Staub had singled.

The Pirates touched New York left-hander Jerry Koosman, 5-2, for two runs in the third. Gene Clines was hit by a pitch, took second on Al Oliver's single and Richie Zisk drove them both home with a double to make the score 2-2.

Craner's Chambers Leads Tourney

BIG LAKE — The 24th annual Big Lake Country Club Invitational Golf Tourney is underway with a total of 64 entries in this year's tourney.

Leading the pack after Saturday's round is Arnold Chambers of Crane who shot a 66 for medalist honors.

Other top scores include Bill Cartwright of San Angelo with a 67 followed by Big Lake's H. O. Allen, Ronnie Leverich of Odessa and Ron Huckabee of Monahans with 68s.

Adams Duo Leading In RHCC Stampede

Craig Adams and John Adams teamed for a two-day score of 128 to overtake the lead Saturday in the Ranchland Hill Country Club Stampede Golf Tournament.

In Friday's first round action, Guy Procter and Ted Ferguson shot a 63 to take a quick lead, but the Adams duo scorched the Ranchland course for a 61 Saturday to take the lead.

Procter and Ferguson still are holding on to second place with a 130 after two days. James Littlejohn and Walt Locker own a 133 for third place honors heading into today's final round.

The Adams team had a 67 Friday, but came up with the best round of the tournament with a 61 Saturday. Procter and Ferguson balloned to a 67 in Saturday's round to fall off the pace. The final 18 holes of the tournament are scheduled for today with trophy presentations to be made at 5:30 p.m. in the club dining room.

The ninth annual Stampede was kicked off Thursday with a four-man team low ball practice round. The Adams duo was hot in that round and teamed with Bill Hightower and Donald Thompson to tie two other teams for a net low ball of 62. Al Manulik, Boley Embry, Bill Mewhorter and Spears also tied with a 52 along with the team of Jim Johnson, John Gould, Leroy Minnix and James VanPelt.

Two teams were tied at 53 while several others came in with a 54.

Green Increases Lead

Two Golfers Trail Leader By 3 Strokes

By BOB GREEN
MEMPHIS (AP) — Hubert Green, gunning for his third title of the year, stretched his lead to three strokes with a two-under-par 70 Saturday in the third round of the $175,000 Danny Thomas-Memphis Golf Classic.

Green, already the winner of some $103,000 this season, put together a 54-hole total of 202, 14 under par on the 7,193-yard Colonial Country Club Course and within one stroke of the best three-round totals of the year on the pro tour.

Lou Graham and Bob Wynn came on to tie for second at 205. Graham, a native Tennesseean, fashioned a five-under-par 67, while the longshot Wynn—a nonwinner in five years on the tour—had a 69.

Masters champion Gary Player shot himself back into contention with a 69 and a 206 total, just four strokes behind going into the last round of the chase for a $35,000 first prize.

He was tied with tour regular Don Bies, who had the day's best round, a 66.

Rod Curf, the little Wintu Indian who scored a surprise triumph last week in Fort Worth, Tex., and Tom Watson drifted back. Watson went to a 74 and Curf to a 75 for 209.

Dave Hill, the defending champion and a four-time winner of this tournament, finished with a 70-210. Lee Trevino had a 69-213 and is 11 shots back.

Many of the game's premier attractions—Jack Nicklaus, Johnny Miller, Tom Weiskopf and Arnold Palmer—are skipping this tournament that is sandwiched in between two "designated tournaments," events in which they are required to compete.

Accipiter Takes Belmont Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — "Accipiter" won the 99th running of the Withers Mile Saturday at Belmont Park and atoned for his disappointing run in the Kentucky Derby.

He scored by one and three-quarter lengths over "Best Of It."

MILWAUKEE TOPS SOX ON HOMER

BOSTON (AP) — Johnny Briggs drove in four runs with his 10th and 11th homers of the season and the Milwaukee Brewers defeated Boston 9-2 Saturday, snapping the Red Sox' six-game winning streak and regaining first place in the American League's East Division.

Briggs belted a two-run homer into the bullpen in right-center against Boston starter Reggie Cleveland, 2-5, in the first inning and hoisted another two-run shot into the left field screen off Rogelio Moret in the sixth.

Pedro Garcia accounted for two more runs with his sixth homer, a two-run shot off Moret in the seventh.

The Brewers, who were knocked out of the division lead by the Red Sox Friday night, jumped to a 5-0 lead in shelling Cleveland in the second inning and were in command all the way behind Clyde Wright, 5-5.

Royal Is Pessimistic

DALLAS (AP) — Texas Coach Darrell Royal says his defending champion Longhorns have had such tough injuries that the 1974 team may not have the fiber of the seven previous teams that have won or shared a conference title.

Royal — in a summer preview of the season prepared by SWC information director Bill Morgan — said, "There is going to be a dropoff in our team. I don't think we're going to be as good as we have in the past."

Texas lost All-American fullback Roosevelt Leaks for the upcoming season with a knee injury in spring workouts.

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles noted that the Razorbacks have changed to an Alabama wishbone formation that should improve their running game.

Baylor coach Grant Teaff also is optimistic, but noted that the Bears lack depth at key positions.

Houston's Bill Yeoman said the Cougars "Have an opportunity to have a really fine team in 1974. But he noted that Houston's schedule calls for seven road games, including four of the first five.

Rice's Al Conover says the Owls have an improved offense and fine front-line defense but lack experience in the secondary. He added, "The severe schedule is a challenge."

SMU's Dave Smith said the Mustangs lack overall depth, but noted that the team had a good spring training which leaves him optimistic.

Coach Emory Bellard of Texas A&M says the Aggies have a chance to be an outstanding team behind new number one quarterback David Walker.

TCU's new Coach Jim Hofner says he is putting in "A new, wide-open offense."

He said, "We'll try to be able to explode for a quick six from anywhere on the field rather than cram the ball down someone's throat."

Jim Carlen of Texas Tech says his Red Raiders will be young football team with ability but not much experience.

Dodgers, John Top Frisco, 9-5

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bill Russell's three-run homer capped a six-run first inning and the Los Angeles Dodgers ended a brief two-game slump by routing the San Francisco Giants 9-5 Saturday.

Rick Auerbach and Steve Garvey also homered for the Dodgers while Tommy John, 7-1, hurled a seven-hitter.

Auerbach, leading off the first inning against loser Ron Bryant, 1-4, was safe on a throwing error by third baseman Steve Ontiveros. Tom Paciorek and Jimmy Wynn followed with singles, but Auerbach was cut down at the plate on a throw from left fielder Gary Matthews.

Then Garvey, who hit his 11th homer of the season in the seventh inning, knocked in the first run with a double, Joe Ferguson walked to load the bases and Ron Rey's ground-rule double made it 3-0.

Ferguson was nailed at the plate on Willie Crawford's grounder to first baseman Dave Kingman, but Russell hit Bryant's next pitch over the left field fence for his fourth homer of the season.

John retired 12 of the first 13 Giant batters before singles by Matthews and Kingman and Chris Speier's two-run double ruined his shutout bid in the fifth.

SMU Signs Top Prep Swimmer

DALLAS (AP) — Houston Memorial's Mark Beasley, considered one of the top 10 high school swimmers in the nation, has signed a letter of intent to attend Southern Methodist University on a swimming scholarship next fall.

Beasley, who won five individual events in state swimming competition, led his team to three state team titles. He won the 200 and 400-yard freestyles both his sophomore and junior years and last season won the 500 free.

RACQUET CLUB PLAY—

Favorites Advance

Favorites advanced with ease to fill all quarterfinal berths in the annual Memorial Day Men's Singles Championship at the Racquet Club in the first two days of play on Friday and Saturday.

John Kirwan Jr., defending champion and Texas A&M net team member disposed of two opponents, Arch McCall and John Wambaugh by identical 6-0, 6-0 scores and has to be viewed as quite likely to successfully defend his crown. His sternest opposition will likely be furnished by Trey Morgan, who was runner-up to Kirwan in last year's finals.

The luck of the draw however will prevent a replay of last year's finals as Morgan and Kirwan are in the same half of the draw and will likely meet in the semi-finals of the upper bracket at 4 p.m. today. Each however, must dispose of a quarterfinal opponent first, Morgan meeting Bobby Vogel and Kirwan playing Don Garton in matches scheduled for 12:30 p.m. today.

Other quarter final matches pit Bill Hickey against Tip Kirwan and Ed Leede against Bill Harris in the lower bracket. The winners of these two matches will pair off at 4 p.m. to decide the finalist in the lower half, Monday's finals are to start at 3:30 p.m. on the Stadium Court at the Racquet Club.

Lamesa Sweeps Twin Bill—

Layne Head's two run homer in the sixth erased any doubt in the four-run frame.

Lamesa now advances to the AAA Regional Playoffs against Pecos, a re-match of last year which saw the Eagles win two straight over the Tors. The series will be played next week with dates and sites to be determined today. Pecos defeated Dumas in two games to earn a regional berth. The winner will advance to Austin.

The nationally televised baseball game produced the Yankees' fifth setback in a row and 13th in their last 16 games.

Cuellar, who dropped his first three decisions, walked four and struck out one. He was scored on in the fifth when Graig Nettles walked and Fernando Gonzalez doubled him home.

Maroon team at the offset of the second half and marched them all the way to the White three before giving up the football. Brian Webb gained 11 yards and Kellner hit Sherman Chew for 11 more on a pass play and Posey broke for nine yards to the White 13, but Brad Stephenson, Kenneth Nix and Buster Mathis led the White defense.

Jones, a 206-pound tailback, rushed for 101 yards and scored touchdowns on runs of 13 and 63 yards. He also ran for a two-point conversion and booted another for 15 of the 29 points. Humble, who will be a sophomore this fall, gained 60 yards while Murray added 42 steps and fullback Keith Bishop 31 more to the White attack. It looked like the White unit would run the Maroon outfit out of the stadium by posting a 22-0 lead before the losers came back to make a game of it, thanks to quarterback Russell Kellner and tailback Lance Posey.

The Whites put the ball into play from their own 35 at the offset of the game and marched 65 yards in 16 plays which almost ate up the clock with Bishop banging over from the two with only 1:27 left in the first period. Jones' try for the extra point sailed wide right. Jones, Bishop and Murray took turns carrying the ball with the longest gainer being 10 yards by Murray on a counter tackle trap play.

Kellner tried to move the Maroons down field and got a break when the White squad roughed the punter, but it turned around when Trey Ford pounced on a fumble by the Maroon's Posey at the Maroon 46. In nine plays, the Whites were on the scoreboard again with Murray skipping 10 yards for the score. This time, Jones took a quick pitch from quarterback Greg Rendall and scored to make it 14-0 with 6:20 left in the first half.

Maroon JV In 8-6 Win

The 1974 Midland Lee junior varsity spring game was held Friday evening in Memorial Stadium with the Maroons taking a narrow 8-6 victory over the White squad.

The difference in the game was a two-point conversion by Vernon White who ran over for the two points after Gordon Patton has latched on to a 42-yard TD pass from quarterback Brad Wright. The White team scored late in the game on a two-yard run by Mike Turner, but the try for the two-point failed, however.

It was a defensive struggle with both teams making numerous mistakes, but the hitting was hard and this pleased Coaches George Patchell and Ernie Johnson. Johnson guided the Maroon unit and Patchell the White squad.

There are several fumbles in the early going, but the sophomores-to-be, showed good potential with the game taking place prior to the varsity Maroon-White battle which annually brings the spring football drils to a close. Lee's JV will play a 10-game schedule with two games set with the Midland High Bulldogs along with games with Snyder, Fort Stockton, Odessa, San Angelo, Abilene Cooper, Big Spring, Odessa Permian, and Abilene.

Coach Jim Acree watched the action on the playing field and seemed pleased afterwards. "We improved in a lot of areas, but we still have a couple of areas that still causes some concern. We do appear to have more depth than we have had in a long time," said Acree.

The Rebels have numerous running backs and good ones too with speed and quickness along with some size in Jones and Bishop, who may still wind up back in the line with the improvement of Humble and Webb. Defensive standouts during the hard-hitting game for the Maroons were David Sledge, Kelley Whitely, Gary Bowman, Brian Pope, Mike Ellis, Kellner and Max McLane. Sheppard, Murray, Mathis, Terry Nelson, Nix, Mike Shelton, White, and Bishop, stood out on defense for the Whites. Posey was the leading rusher for the Maroon outfit with 52 yards while Kellner added 32 on a fumble by Humble at the White 22. Kellner scored from 22 yards out on the next play and also ran over for the two-

Indy 500 Drivers Pick Foyt To Win 58th Race Today

$1 Million Jackpot Set For Drivers

By BLOYS BRITT
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indianapolis 500-mile auto race, often tragic, always spectacular, is scheduled for its 58th running today and the man in the saddle is Anthony Joseph Foyt Jr.

The $1 million classic, returning after a year in which it tried to live down a blood bath that was the 1973 fiasco, fires off at 11 a.m. CDT.

Foyt, admittedly nearing the twilight of a brilliant career, goes off from the front row pole position in a hand-made car that consistently was the fastest of the 33 starters in many days of qualifying and warm-ups.

"He is the man to beat, and it isn't going to be easy," said 1969 champion Mario Andretti, summing up the opinion of most drivers. "He is smart, a tough, hardened competitor and he doesn't give up."

The 33 participants in this most dangerous, richest and most prestigious motoring event in the world qualified at an average speed 182.787 miles per hour, making it the third quickest ever assembled.

The starters include two veterans already past their 46th birthday, four who are more than 40, and seven who are making their first start at shop-worn Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

For just over three hours of blinding speed and heart-throbbing action they will divide a jackpot that for the last four years has totaled more than $1 million.

The field includes not only three-time champion Foyt but former winners Andretti, the Unser brothers, Bobby and Al, and Gordon Johncock.

Some, like the battle-scarred Lloyd Ruby, 46, have been trying to win it for at least 15 years and in some cases it has been touch-and-go, with victory in sight. Ruby says he'll quit when he finally lands in Victory Lane, and may not quit until he does.

Johncock, a stocky little blond, was in front last year when rain finally called a halt to a tragic race week that saw one start aborted by a horrifying, fire bomb crash that critically injured David "Salt" Walther and doused many spectators with flaming fuel.

Walther, 26, back for another try after two months in hospitals and the loss of most of the fingers on his left hand, starts a respectable 14th.

"I thank God that he gave me another opportunity," Walther said.

Johncock made only 332.5 miles last year, having already lost an old teammate, Art Pollard, in a practice crash and one of his crewmen in a pit road accident on the day the race was finally run. He collected $236,022.82, but wasn't satisfied.

"I want to win a full 500, not a tainted one," he growled.

Cubs Stronger, But Record Nose-Dives

The Midland Cubs continue to strengthen their pitching but paradoxically, the losses continue to mount up.

In the last two weeks, Chicago has sent Dan Corder, Paul Zahn and, just Friday, Francisco Lopez to Midland from the AAA farm at Wichita and signed Don Schroeder, picked up from the New York Yankee organization.

Battle Scene

By Ted Battles

The result has been seven losses in eight games through Friday.

It's little wonder Cub fans are wondering what's going on.

Corder was the Texas League's leading pitcher even though he was here only a half season last year while Zahn was a 9-0 whiz in relief. Schroeder had one of the better earned-run-averages in the Eastern League.

Manager Walt Dixon says "Nobody could touch Lopez in the Midwest League last year," so even though he pitched for a rival club, Walt wanted him.

One of the problems, despite the past reputations, is that the Cubs are in the process of going through spring training all over again for the benefit of the late arrivals.

Arm trouble plagued Corder all spring so he was finally sent to Midland to log some innings. Actually, his starting debut in El Paso last week wasn't that bad. He went 6 1-3 innings, yielding just one unearned run when he was lifted. He would have notched the win, but the Cubs blew a 4-1 lead in the ninth and wound up losing in 13.

Schroeder hadn't pitched in a month since refusing to report to West Haven. Don thought on the basis of his record last season and a good spring, he deserved an opportunity at Syracuse of the International League.

When the Yankees disagreed, Don spent the next month loading barrels on beer trucks before the Cubs found out he was available.

Lopez, a submariner, is rusty, as may have been evident from his relief stint against San Antonio. He has pitched only seven innings this spring. But he should be a definite asset in long relief when he regains his working edge.

That's part of the trouble, but not the major problem.

The 12-3 loss at El Paso Thursday is the kind of licking you expect to catch every so often and when you get in against a Jim Strickland, as the Cubs did Friday, the pitching and fielding is going to have to keep the opposition to a run or two to stand a chance.

It's not these losses that hurt or are as destructive as the one run defeats. The Cubs have dropped six one-runners in the last two weeks, all in the late innings and all traceable to some fundamental mechanical blunder that has given the opposition an easy run or two. Either that or the Cubs just haven't been able to come up with the clutch hit with the man on base, like the two-run eighth-inning homer by Wayne Tyrone that beat El Paso, 5-4, during the last home stand.

Oddly enough, going into the tailspin, the Cubs were 5-1 in one-run games and now are 5-7.

When the late-arrivals round into shape, things should get better. It's a stronger club than it was two weeks ago, although it doesn't show in the standings.

CAN'T GET 'EM ALTOGETHER—

Cubs Streakers

If Midland's Cubs could get all their hitters hot at once, perhaps they could climb in the Texas League pennant race.

Shortstop Ken Szotkiewicz, second baseman Bill Huisman and first baseman Jerry Tabb all have been on torrid streaks this season. Socko and Huisman each have gone on extended binges in which they've batted over .500.

Tabb, currently fighting a slump, still leads the TL in runs-batted-in with 31, according to latest statistics, and was second to Shreveport's Dave Lindsey in homers with eight. Lindsey's nine is tops, but Tabb, since the averages were compiled, has hit No. 9, too.

El Paso's Frankie George has a league-leading .403 average for a Diablos team that is hitting .325. Midland is third in team hitting at .278. New York's Mets farm club Victoria easily has the best pitching with a 2.86 earned-run-average and, believe it or not, Midland is next with a 4.31.

Szotkiewicz has a .369 average and Huisman is hitting .339.

San Antonio's Jim Norris and Gary Ratliff are third in batting at .375 while Mike Hannah is at .357 and Will Aaron at .345.

MAKE ROOM FOR SEATS... BUD ADAMS—

Tear Out Scoreboard

By JIM BARLOW HOUSTON (AP) — Bud Adams, beset by player money demands and a new team in town, claims professional football is a losing proposition.

Adams, owner of the Houston Oilers of the National Football League, released Friday an audited financial statement showing his team lost $459,281 last year. It was a rare move in the shadow world of sport finance. In the NFL, only the New England Patriots and the Green Bay Packers tell the public financial details. Since both teams are publicly owned, the law requires they publish their annual statements. The other 24 privately owned teams usually don't.

Adams released the data in a newsletter to season ticket holders, at the same time he told them the 38,108 tickets in the Astrodome which usually sell for $7 are going up to $8 if bought individually. Season ticket prices won't be increased, he said. In an interview, Adams said he was also publishing the financial result because of contract demands by players this year and the placing here of the Houston Texans of the new World Football League. Steve Arnold, a San Francisco lawyer, now owns the WFL club but says he is looking for local money.

The Oilers were 1-13 last year, which doesn't help sell seats. But Adams claims, "If we would have sold every seat in the Astrodome we would have had an additional income of only $247,000. We still would have a loss of $185,000. "The day of the 50,000 seat stadium in pro football is about over," he said. The Astrodome seats 52,000 for football.

Adams said he hopes to persuade the county, owner of the stadium which costs the team 15 per cent of the gross to rent, to scrap the huge scoreboard in center field and replace it with seats. "The steel is already up there," he said. "We would have 66,000 seats, then hang a four-way video screen in the center of the dome to give instant replays and use as a scoreboard."

Adams said he expects to sell between 28,000 and 30,000 season tickets here, down a little from the 31,254 sold in 1973 when purchasers also got options on Superbowl tickets. Adams, sources said, lost $5 million before the old American Football league merged with the NFL in 1968. He refuses to confirm the $5 million but says the figure "wouldn't be too far out of the ballpark. It got pretty bloody during the last four years of the battle between the NFL and the AFL."

The 1973 season was the first the club lost money in since 1968, he added. Adams, who also is an oilman, said he can deduct Oiler losses from profits of his other interests for awhile. But under IRS regulations, he said, he must make money at least two out of every five years or the team would be declared a hobby and he could only deduct the first $25,000 in losses. If the financial picture is so bad, why bother with a sports team, Adams was asked. "I didn't anticipate it was going to get this bad," he said. "The players have unionized and their demands are going to get to the point where it makes it difficult to run a profitable business." Team owners and the players association are currently without a contract, and Adams claims the first $7 of 94 player demands would cost the club $180 million a year. "The expenses of professional football are increasing so rapidly that the income is not maintaining the same pace. We are not getting anymore TV income. For all practical purposes, the stadium is sold out." In 1973, Adams said, the Oilers made $6,312,562 while playing out $6,771,843, including $2,446,883 in player salaries.

Brewer Trouble

Strickland's Savvy Too Much For Cubs

By TED BATTLES

Midland's Cubs ran into a little more guile and cunning than they are accustomed to seeing when they encountered left-hander Jim Strickland, who has spent the last three seasons shuttling between Tacoma and the Minnesota Twins, and the result was a 4-1 loss.

"It was the second excellent game in a row he has pitched for us since reporting from Oklahoma City," said S.A. Antonio manager Woody Smith, whose Brewers boogied their season's edge to 8-1 over the Cubs.

"He pitched a shutout the last time out," Smith said, and he could easily have elbowed another before 1,076 fans at Cubs Stadium Friday night.

In nothing his second Texas League win without mishap, Strickland, a 28-year-old from Los Angeles who was assigned to the Brewers for more work, lost his shutout on a wild throw as the Brewers went for the second half of a double play in the seventh.

It was also an inning in which he could have run into serious trouble, but the Cubs were haunted by one of those game-costing annoyances that have plagued the team through five straight losses.

Strickland, mixing a fast ball, and a fork ball, had rained Midland to a hit an inning from the second on, most with two out. So when Joel Green and Ken Pape led off the seventh with singles, things were looking hopeful.

Sveve Haug hoisted a fly ball to right and it fell in, but Pape, hesitating between first and second, couldn't make it to second and was a force out.

So instead of the bases being loaded with none out, there was one down and runners on first and third when Bill Huisman grounded into a short-to-second force, but second baseman Jim Oliver's wild throw let the run score.

Fists Fly As Chicago Dies

By The Associated Press

Stan Bahnsen of the Chicago White Sox hit usually mild-mannered John Mayberry with a pitch in the third inning after the Kansas City first baseman hit a solo homer in the second and John came out to the pitching mound swinging.

Both benches erupted and Dick Allen, noted for his baseball fights in previous years, found himself in the role of peacemaker.

Mayberry, apologetic after the game, was ejected, but the Royals won 4-2.

In other American League action, Bernie Carbo and Juan Beniquez homered as Boston beat Milwaukee, 5-3; Bert Blyleven pitched a five-hitter

Atlanta's Ralph Garr says he's shooting for 300 this year... that's 300 hits. Garr added three more to raise his total to 73 and his average to .378 as the Braves beat Houston, 3-0, in the National League Friday night.

Elsewhere, Ted Simmons doubled to open the ninth, moved to third on a sacrifice and scored in a rundown to give Sonny Siebert and St. Louis a 1-0 win over Chicago... as the Cubs left home plate unprotected; Jerry Reuss pitched a six-hitter, one a homer to Don Hahn, as the Pirates beat the Mets, 4-1; two-run singles by Bobby Bonds and Chris Speier gave the Giants a 9-7 win over the Dodgers while the Reds beat the Padres, 6-3, and Expos downed the Phils, 3-2.

Friday's TL Roundup - Victoria Toros Gore Captains

By The Associated Press

Past history proved a reliable prognosticator for Texas League baseball division leaders Friday night as the west's San Antonio declared Midland 4-1 and the Victoria of the east drowned Shreveport 5-4.

Shreveport's Captains came up with two runs in the ninth with basis loaded and two outs, but failed to catch the Victoria Toros, who now lead the east by four full games.

Victoria's Brock Pemberton paced a three-run second inning for his team with a two-run single against Shreveport. Ron Diggle scored on a bloop single by Angel Canitez to finish out the inning.

In other Texas League contests, Alexandria took the second game of a doubleheader with Arkansas 3-2 after losing the opener 2-1.

El Paso at Amarillo was rained out.

Home runs decided both the Arkansas-Alexandria games.

Monty Bolinger, the Arkansas Travelers' first baseman, slammed a one-out homer in the bottom of the seventh to give the first-game victory to Arkansas.

In the nightcap, Alexandria catcher Duane Stone hammered a two-out, sixth inning homer to break up a pitching duel between Scott McAllen and Ron Selak.

IN NCAA PLAYOFF - Texas Expels Pan-Am

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — The Louisiana Tech Bulldogs and not the Pan American Bulldogs have turned out to be Texas' prime challenger in the District 6 NCAA baseball playoffs.

Louisiana Tech shocked Pan American 3-2 Friday and the No. 2 ranked Longhorns followed up with a 7-0 victory behind Jim Gideon's three-hitter to set up a Tech-Texas joust.

"I think we surprised some people," said Bulldog Coach Pat Patterson after the Bulldogs'—Southland Conference champions—edged Pan American 3-2 Friday afternoon. Pan American was the eighth-ranked team in the country and owned a 50-9 ledger.

The clutch pitching of Bill Norwood and Randy D. McGilberry was the deciding factor for Tech which played excellent defense.

Three States Schedule Primaries

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Writer

Arkansas voters decide this week whether to give Sen. J. W. Fulbright the Democratic nomination for his sixth term or to replace him with Gov. Dale Bumpers, a political unknown four years ago.

In the nation's other state primaries Tuesday, Oregon's 73-year-old Wayne Morse is trying to win the Democratic nomination to the Senate seat he lost six years ago in the general election, and Kentucky's Republican Sen. Marlow Cook faces token opposition for re-nomination.

Most Arkansas observers predict a close race between Fulbright and Bumpers, but some give Bumpers the edge.

An independent poll March 11 showed the 48-year-old governor leading the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee 2 to 1.

But Fulbright, 69, appears to have made inroads since then.

Bumpers cited inflation, energy shortages and other problems in appealing to the voters to "join hands" in providing new leadership. He rarely mentions Fulbright by name.

Fulbright's retort: "Anybody who thinks the Senate is going to give Arkansas its fair share because somebody asks them to join hands has got another think coming. You've got to fight for it."

Fulbright, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee since 1959, has been visited in Arkansas this year by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont.

Seniority has been an issue. Fulbright said it has been valuable for Arkansas, not only in his case but also in the cases of Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Appropriations Committee, and Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

Bumpers said seniority should not be the controlling factor in assigning committee chairmanships.

On the Republican side, Pine Bluff banker John Harris Jones is unopposed for the Senate nomination. Jones, who has run unsuccessfully in previous congressional races, is not expected to be a threat to the Democrats.

Chris Olin, YMCA associate executive, has announced the appointment of James Kenton as executive director of the Alamo YMCA, and John McVickar as community program director. Both appointments are effective June 1.

Kenton comes to Midland from Port Arthur where he had 2 1/2 years of YMCA experience. He holds a B.B.A. degree in industrial management from Texas Tech.

McVickar will assume responsibility for the Central YMCA sports, day camp and Y-Indian Guides and Princess programs. Mr. and Mrs. McVickar have two children, Brian and Erin.

She received a head injury and a bruised ankle and was reported in satisfactory condition at Midland Memorial Hospital Saturday.

Driver of the other car was Harold Edward Moore, 16, of 3230 Dengar St., Patrolman Bill Morgan reported.

Both vehicles were headed north on Big Spring Street, Miss Hobbs in the inside lane and Moore in the outside lane, when the vehicles collided Morgan said.

STEPHENVILLE — Henry Sherwood Foster, 82, a former Midland rancher, died Saturday afternoon in a Stephenville hospital following a short illness.

Foster moved to Stephenville from Midland 23 years ago.

Funeral services will be 3 p.m. Monday at the Graham Street Church of Christ with ministers Woody Holden, Ralph Starling and Henry Childress officiating. Interment will follow in the Erath Gardens of Memory.

He is survived by the widow; one son, one daughter, one stepdaughter, nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

STEPHENVILLE — Beverly Ann Hobbs, 20 of 807 W. Michigan St. was injured shortly before 11 p.m. Friday when her car and another one collided on Big Spring Street about 72 feet north of Wadley Drive.

She received a head injury and a bruised ankle and was reported in satisfactory condition at Midland Memorial Hospital Saturday.

Driver of the other car was Harold Edward Moore, 16, of 3230 Dengar St., Patrolman Bill Morgan reported.

Both vehicles were headed north on Big Spring Street, Miss Hobbs in the inside lane and Moore in the outside lane, when the vehicles collided Morgan said.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Traffic deaths are down 27 per cent this year in Texas, the Department of Public Safety reported Saturday.

So far this year there have been 913 persons killed in traffic accidents on Texas highways and streets, compared to the toll of 1,259 for the same period last year.

There have been 795 accidents this year in which deaths occurred, compared to 1,042 last year, a decrease of 24 per cent.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Four persons died early Saturday in a head-on collision at an intersection about three miles east of Austin.

The victims were Odell Thomas, 40; Myrtle McDowell, 40; and Manuel Perkins, 20, all of Elgin, and Danny Simpson, 23, of Austin.

Injured were Charles Nunn of Elgin and Louis Jackson, residence unavailable.

Hospital spokesmen said she was in satisfactory condition Saturday night.

Mrs. Guy Russell, 64, of 2306 W. Holloway St. became pinned under her garage door about 5 p.m. Friday and received a broken hip.

She was admitted to Midland Memorial Hospital for treatment and underwent surgery Saturday morning.

Hospital spokesmen said she was in satisfactory condition Saturday night.

Democratic nominee in the fall gubernatorial nominees also will be chosen Tuesday. The Democratic candidates are former Gov. Orval E. Faubus, whose previous comeback bid, in 1970, derailed when Bumpers beat him in the primary; former Congressman David L. Pryor of Little Rock; and Lt. Gov. Bob Riley. The Republican hopefuls are former state Jaycee President Ken Coon and weekly newspaper editor Joseph H. Weston.

In Oregon, age is the major issue in the campaign for the Democratic nomination for senator.

The 73-year-old Morse, who served 24 years in the Senate until defeated by Republican Bob Packwood in 1968, is opposed by 45-year-old Jason Boe, president of the Oregon Senate.

Morse tried to make a comeback in 1972 but lost to Republican Mark Hatfield in the fall election.

Packwood, 41, is unopposed for the Republican nomination. In the gubernatorial pri-marys, 10 Democrats are seeking the nomination for the office that Republicans have held for 34 of the past 38 years. The leaders are Robert Straub, 43, former state treasurer and former state senator; Jim Redden, 45, the present state treasurer and a former state representative, and State Sen. Betty Roberts, 51, a teacher and lawyer.

There are five candidates for the Republican nomination. The favorites are Secretary of State Clay Myers, 46, and Victor At-

Jefferson files in the face of both the facts and recent Texas court decisions.

"We did a study of the past five years and 39 of the last 500 grand jurors had Mexican-American surnames. There were probably more with traditional Anglo names. But at least 8 per cent of the grand jurors were Mexican Americans, compared to 13 per cent in the county population. You're not going to hit it on the nose."

Grand jurors in Texas are handpicked by commissioners. The commissioners are named by district court judges.

"You don't just get out and pick a grand jury to get all these population things perfectly even," Vance said. "What you try to do is not discriminate."

Vance said a March 6 decision by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals which refused to overturn a burglary conviction of Mexican American in Hidalgo County backs up his judgment. The defendant said the grand jury which indicted him had only 39 per cent Mexican Americans, despite a 79.2 per cent Mexican-American population in the county.

The court, the highest criminal appeals body in Texas, wrote, "The (U.S.) Supreme Court has made it clear that the Constitution does not require proportional representation of races on jury panels. It is required only that selection be without discrimination as to race."

Vance said about a third of the 1,479 indictments returned by the disputed grand jury have already been disposed of.

"You can bet that some of the prisoners at Huntsville are working their pencils overtime to use this decision to get free," Vance said.

Protestants Vow Power Blackout If British Soldiers Are Called In BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Protestant militants vowed an immediate power blackout if British soldiers were called in to break their crippling 11-day-old general strike.

The Ulster Workers Council, which organized the strike, said it would also suspend the few remaining services if the army is used in any capacity to break the walkout.

Britain's administrator for Northern Ireland, Merlyn Rees, returned to Ulster earlier in the day carrying British plans to break the strike. British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, who has refused to negotiate with the strikers, scheduled a national television address on the crisis in the evening.

Dirt, Squirt & Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

Planting is almost complete in the Midland area, according to Charles Green, county extension agent. Generally good stands are being obtained on irrigated acreage. Some dryland planting where moisture was marginal is touch-and-go and with the extremely hot, windy conditions outlook is not too good unless additional moisture is received. Pastures are also drying rapidly, with new growth slowing and limited. Deep moisture reserves were so depleted prior to the spring rains that the amounts received did not replenish the deep levels and the surface moisture has evaporated rapidly.

Midland County is in a group of counties approved for the low volume application technique with two formulations of 2,4,5-T for control of mesquite by aerial application in 1974. Only two companies, Dow and Amchem, have EPA labels approval for 2,4,5-T to be applied by low volume technique. It is unlawful to use 2,4,5-T low volume application technique if it does not have EPA federal approved label. Rate to use in low volume spraying is 1/2 pound (one pint) of 2,4,5-T low volatile ester with one pint of oil added to six pints of water making a total of one gallon solution per acre. All applicators must be approved by the Texas Department of Agriculture prior to using the low volume-low pressure technique and must meet certain equipment requirements. ASCS and SCS personnel have specifications written for cost-share assistance using low volume-low pressure spraying technique for control of mesquite.

The technique has been tested for three years and has been satisfactory when applications were made at ideal growth conditions. Greatest saving of low volume-low pressure spraying is the amount of diesel oil used. Only one pint of diesel oil is used per acre instead of eight pints. Landowners save cost of seven pints of diesel oil per acre which is 25 cents or more per acre. During actual spraying operation, the following should be observed: (a) Spray material must be released within 10 feet of large plants; (b) swath width shall not exceed the total width of the wing span plus 10 per cent; (c) Spraying should cease when ambient air temperature exceeds 90 degrees, (d) distance the spraying operation should be from any susceptible crop — cotton, vegetables, etc. — must conform to the following: 0 to 3 m.p.h. wind velocity — one miles downwind 1/2 mile upwind; 4 to 6 m.p.h. wind velocity — two miles downwind, 1/2 mile upwind; 7 to 10 m.p.h. wind velocity, four miles downwind, 250 feet upwind.

Special recognition to Texas swine producers and the Texas Animal Health Commission in Austin Friday marked a significant milestone in the national battle against hog cholera. For the first time since late 1962, all 50 states are recognized by the USDA as being "hog cholera free." A state must go for 12 months without a confirmed case to qualify for the designation. Dr. Francis J. Mulhern, administrator of USDA's Animal and Plant Inspection Service, praised Texas, as well as the other states for efforts aimed at eradicating the costly disease. Great savings have been realized, he said with only three infected herds reported nationally during the past 12 months. The last Texas hog cholera case was confirmed May 2, 1973. The only hog cholera cases reported nationally this year were confirmed Feb. 7 in Mississippi and May 4 in Puerto Rico. Neither lost hog cholera free status, because these outbreaks were quickly confined and no spread to other herds occurred. APHIS officials note that 14 states have had no hog cholera for five years or longer. Thirty states have had no cases for three years or more. Before the cooperative state-federal eradication program began in late 1962, all states routinely experienced outbreaks — some with devastating effects. During the 1950's the disease swept through an estimated 5,000 to 6,000 swine herds a year, costing $40 to $50 million annually in vaccine costs alone. Producers, are urged to remain vigilant however, and keep up surveillance at farms and markets. It is especially important for swine producers in the southwest to remain vigilant because of the proximity to areas in Mexico where the disease is still widespread.

The Black Experience: "Can women, especially those who are young, black and poor, trust doctors and hospitals to give them the straight facts about sterilization?" asks Charles Ludlow in a recent issue of black-oriented "Dawn" magazine.

Americans recently have been shocked to learn of a number of black girls who have been sterilized without their knowledge. These alarming reports lie in stark contrast with the incredible medical developments made during the past decade in birth control. These same reports also lie in sharp contrast to herculean efforts being made by paramedical groups, both public and private, to provide the best voluntary family planning care and advice possible.

A black nurse said, "If a woman is sterilized without being given very informed consent, I would call that genocide. She denied knowledge of these claims other than hearsay." Ten-Fold Increase

Medical experts interviewed agreed that the rate of sterilization in both male and female is rising at a fast pace not only in the cities but throughout the nation. Nationwide estimates of 30,000 or more sterilizations are given, which represent a 10-fold increase over the number of sterilizations reported ten years ago.

The concern for the sterilization's permanent effect stems from the fact that many persons from the age of 18 to 25 years are requesting the operation as a solution to their fears of pregnancy. Family planning advocates point to the high divorce rate of persons between these ages and suggest sterilization may be a cause of great regret if one wants to have a child after remarriage or death of an offspring.

to old time bellringers throughout the Southwest. We were pleasantly surprised to learn that the Sands Motel, where we spent several nights, is owned and managed by Woodie Dean, a black investment broker and television script writer. The man is amazing to say the least. He merits a column and we will be telling you about more of his business ventures later. A black capitalist, we call him. He has been invited to take a look at Boley, Okla., and said he would.

Att: Mrs. J. S. Sykes of Oklahoma City: Haven't forgotten that note. Thanks for everything and the historical notes. May have an opportunity to drop by en route to family reunion and rodeo in Boley this weekend.

To M.A.N. of Big Spring: You are right. I agree with you when you state that inflation is caused by men and not government or factors beyond our control. Greed, selfishness and the philosophy of "getting mine while the getting is good," has just about wrecked the economy in this country and not Watergate or ITT or the so-called "milk deal."

Recent Great Quotes: "In order for a press to be free, it must have in addition to the right to publish, sufficient financial means and access to information. Though freedom of the press can be damaging, prejudicial and unfair to individuals or institutions, it is far less dangerous than the power to decide the restrictions to be imposed upon it." From Jean-Louis Servan-Schreiber, journalist and publisher in his new book, "The Power to Inform-Media: The Business of Information."

Word received here is that the National Baptist Sunday School and B.T.U. Congress (Dr. J. C. Sams' group) will hold its annual convention in Wichita, Kan., June 11-16, with "Century II" Convention Hall being the place of meetings. Bellringers contemplating attendance should contact Wichita Chamber of Commerce, 350 E. Douglas St. in that city for special rates.

'Taking Cure' Has Become Rage Of Continental Europe

By OTTO DOELLING
OBERSTAUFEN, Germany (AP) — It was still dark when the hefty woman known as "the packer" pushed into his hotel room without knocking. She ordered him to strip, and while he meekly obeyed, she spread a cold, wet sheet over his bed.

"All right," she said in her no-nonsense voice, "you can lie down again."

As he hit the clammy sheet, he came fully awake. His teeth chattered. Within minutes, the packer had finished her reverse-Houdini routine and the man lay wrapped like an overweight mummy in a leaky tomb.

Waited For Nod
 "It's now six. I'll be back at eight. Do you think you can hold out that long?" She waited for his weak nod before slipping back out into the corridor and groping for the door next door.

Soon, all through the hotel, other guests lay similarly packed and helpless with sweat beginning to pour into their eyes. Day after day, this scene is repeated in pensions and hotels in the Alpine resort of Oberstaufen.

The packer strikes before dawn. Her willing victims, mostly from West Germany's affluent middle class, literally stew in their own juice. All this is part of a Schrothkur, a century-old cure or natural course of treatment now practiced with the blessing of the West German medical profession.

The Schrothkur's postwar popularity has risen apace with West Germany's "economic miracle," whose side effects have included hypertension and overweight. The cure is designed to shed excess pounds, reduce the fat and cholesterol content of the blood and alleviate a host of chronic ills from gout to impotence.

Shed 13 Pounds
 An American newsman who checked into Oberstaufen at 206 pounds shed 13 pounds during a two-week cure of sweating, dieting and drinking wine liberally one day and abstaining the next. His triglyceride blood-fat count dropped from 249 to 121 in that time.

"Taking a cure" has become the rage of continental Europe, where health insurance and socialism have put the former watering spots of kings at the disposal of Everyman — Herr Schmidt, the corner butcher, as well as Leonid Brezhnev, chief of the Kremlin.

They are sipping the mineral-laced waters at Vichy and Karlovy Vary, getting sprayed with sea water at St. Malo, being buried up to their necks in Ischia's hot sands, sniffing the vaporous air of a Hungarian cave at Josvafo, bathing at Baden Ems and living a monastic life for a week or two at Uscio. Some physicians may still dispute the effectiveness of this or that cure, but the avid practitioners of pill-less courses of treatment swear by Hippocrates that spas and other cures resorts offer the best way to tune out, tone up and rid the body of toxic effects of the modern world. "It was wonderful and effective," said a Frenchman whose allergies were washed away by mud baths and mineral water. "The water, air and surroundings were so pure that I felt reborn."

A Rome office worker who made a habit of going to a spa each year for his rheumatism moaned: "I wasn't able to go this year, and now I feel pains all over. It's not something you can do just one time and then be cured. You must go every year."

A more skeptical voice was raised by a Rome physician. "I think it's 75 per cent psychological and 25 per cent heating system," he scoffed. To the north in Germany, the medical profession formally recognizes natural cures as an extension of clinical treatment. Patients who are overweight, hypertense or who have chronic stomach and liver ailments also are sent on cures. "Any physical therapy — be it baths, be it massages, be it mud packs — is perfectly suited for influencing such diseases as rheumatism, gout and others," Brauer said.

Health insurance plans in western and eastern Europe pick up part or all of the costs of spa cures. More than a quarter of the five million spa visitors last year had their bills paid through insurance plans. French plans paid part of the tab for 315,976 of the 412,365 persons who took the waters in 1972.

Mummers Classic Tryouts Scheduled

With the opening of the 26th season of Midland's Summer Mummers fast approaching, the Mummers will hold tryouts for parts in the annual melodrama production next week. This year's melodrama will be that classic of the West Texas—fields, "Rascality on the Rig," or "Oil's Well That Ends Well." The melodrama, by William S. Davis, has delighted Mummers audiences of two past seasons, the first being the 1960 season. This year's production will be a thoroughly updated version.

The play has a cast of 14—10 men and four women. Among the colorful characters in the melodrama are Skeeter Skidder, Lester Leasehold and Ralph Rockhound.

Auditions to fill these and other parts plus singers, dancers and specialty acts to appear in the traditional music hall-style olio, will take place at Theatre Centre at 2 p.m. next Sunday, and at 8 p.m. on Monday, June 3.

"Rascality on the Rig" will open July 5 and will play Friday and Saturday nights each week through August at the American Legion Hall, 206 S. Colorado St.

All interested actors, dancers and musicians are invited to attend the upcoming auditions.

CBS said Friday that Miss Shore's new program would have a talk-variety format and will start appearing on the five CBS-owned stations next fall, probably in October.

Miss Shore was the Emmy Award-winning hostess of NBC's recently-cancelled "Dinah's Place" television program.

TALL CITY THESPIANS — Midland's "Traveling Players" are also "playing travelers" during a current visit to Ireland. The Midland Community Theatre troupe is presenting performances of a comedy, "Butterflies Are Free," and a melodrama, "Peril on the Pecos," at the Maytime Festival in Dundalk, Ireland, but members also are taking sightseeing excursions through the Irish countryside to view the historic and natural beauties of the Emerald Isle. In top photo, the entire contingent of approximately 50 MCT actors and boosters is shown at an historic manor house. Bottom left photo shows several of the travelers in front of an Irish castle, while at bottom right, two other Midlanders, Rita Buckley, left, and Alice Moxey, prepare to sample some of that fabled Irish hospitality. The traveling troupe will return to Midland Friday night.

Alamo Center YMCA, City To Sponsor Summer Events

Dallas firm wins Missile Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Dallas firm is under contract today to develop a Navy missile that will destroy enemy defense radar.

The contract awarded Friday to Texas Instruments is for $1.4 million but could climb to $40 million under options provided in the pact.

A Navy spokesman said the 13-foot, $35,000 missiles will be small enough for launching from fighter aircraft for saturation attacks on heavily defended targets.

Two Art Shows To End At Museum

Two art shows currently on exhibition in the Museum of the Southwest will close late this week.

They are the 8th annual Southwestern Area Art Show sponsored jointly by the museum and the Midland Arts Association, and an exhibition of works by members of the National Association of Women Artists, currently being circulated nationwide.

Both shows will close at 5 p.m. Thursday.

The museum at 1705 W. Missouri St., will be open to the public between 2 and 5 p.m. today, and weekdays between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. Admission is free at all times.

Groves To Speak To Radio Amateurs

One of the southwest's pioneer radio amateurs, Wayland M. Groves of Odessa, will recall more than 50 years of dial-tuning for members of Midland Radio Amateur Club at 8 p.m. Monday.

Groves obtained his amateur license in June 1923, at Denton, at a time when few radio stations of any kind were on the air.

Subsequently, he was elected a division director and vice president of the American Radio Relay League, the organization for American and Canadian "hams." He is an honorary vice president of ARRL presently, after serving actively 35 years.

Pace Quickening For Start Of Fort Griffin Fandangle

ALBANY — The pace is upon ranchers, businessmen, quickening in Albany as cowboys, housewives, professional men and students as preparations continue for the opening of the annual Fort Griffin Fandangle here next month.

The Fandangle, Texas' oldest outdoor drama and one of the most popular in all the Southwest, will open on June 20, with additional performances scheduled June 21, 22, 27, 28 and 29.

The 1974 Fandangle will highlight the centennial celebration of Shackelford County, the annual pageant dates from 1938 when it began as a high school senior play. In the following years it had grown into a giant outdoor spectacle presented in its own amphitheater accommodating 1,600 people per performance. It has traditionally avoided any effort at "big time" professionalism, drawing instead

The staff for the 1974 show includes Alice Reynolds, Bill Overton and Marge Bray as writer-directors; Nelson Bennett as technical director, and Betty Eversberg and Frances Webb as executive secretaries. This year's script has been adapted from the original works of late Dr. Robert Nall, the creator of Fandangle and its director and producer until his untimely death several years ago.

Tickets for the six Fandangle performances have gone on sale, and ticket inquiries and mail orders may be addressed to the Fort Griffin Fandangle Association, Albany 76430.

Summer Musicals Planning Star-Spangled Dallas Season

DALLAS — A star-spangled season of outstanding musicals awaits Dallas and Southwestern theater-goers here this summer.

Carol Burnett, Ginger Rogers, Angela Lansbury, Gene Kelly, Herschel Bernardi, Rock Hudson, Paul Lynde — around such luminous names as these will Dallas' popular Summer Musicals revolve.

The season begins next week with a "super-super" attraction — the two-character musical, "I Do! I Do!", which will have Carol Burnett and Rock Hudson in the roles of Agnes and Michael.

The musical will open in the Music Hall in Fair Park on June 4, and will play nightly through June 16.

Continuing the new season will be the June 18 opening of "Take Me Along," which will have Gene Kelly as the "name" performer. It will run through June 30.

Next on the schedule is "Gypsy," currently on tour before making a return to Broadway, which will have Angela Lansbury as the formidable Mama Rose. The musical will play one week only, from July 2 through 7.

"Man of Lan Mancha," booked for July 9 through 21, will have Herschel Bernardi as the man of indomitable spirit, Don Quixote. He will be backed by a talented cast in this dramatic and highly melodic musical.

The new Lerner and Loewe musical, "Gigi," will open July 23, to run through Aug. 4. It will be followed by the recent Broadway hit, "No, No, Nanette," with its nostalgic music by the great Vincent Youmans, on Aug. 6, running through Aug. 18.

Ginger Rogers will head the cast of the musical.

Another one-week-only production, "Stop, Thiet, Stop," will open Aug. 20 and play through Aug. 27 to conclude the Dallas Summer Musicals season. The production will have comedy favorite Paul Lynde as its star.

Performances of the musicals will be Tuesday through Saturday nights each week, plus Saturday and Sunday matinees. Mail orders of tickets should be addressed to the State Fair Box Office, P.O. Box 895, Dallas 75221. Tickets are on sale daily at box offices in all Titcher's stores in the Dallas area.

'Come Blow Your Horn' To Open

ODESSA — Following presentations in recent seasons of such solid-gold Neil Simon successes as "Plaza Suite," "Last of the Red Hot Lovers" and "Barefoot in the Park," the Permian Playhouse harks back to the very first of Simon's fabulous comedies for its next production.

"Come Blow Your Horn," the 1961 comedy smash which launched Simon on one of the most spectacularly successful playwright careers in American theatrical history, opens at Odessa's community theater Friday night as the final offering of the current season.

The comedy will play weekends through June 15 and then will have a series of two performances in July and August during Permian Playhouse's summer "mini-season" scheduled to launch the theater's 1974-75 season. The summer repertory season also will offer Simon's "Plaza Suite" and "Last of the Red Hot Lovers."

One of the keys to the Simon success is the playwright's concentration on character. "One important thing I've learned about comedy," he has said, "is to make your characters likeable even when you're exposing their worst faults."

Simon's characters are flawed and fallible, yet audiences like and forgive them. People identify with Simon's characters and feel that they, too, are being liked and forgiven. Audiences get entertainment and abolition at the same time!

The fallible, yet lovable, characters in "Come Blow Your Horn" are a 21-year-old overprotected son making his first real stab at adulthood; his ne'er-do-well, playboy-type older brother; their harried and dyspeptic mother who takes the brunt of a strained father-son relationship, and the stubborn and self-righteous father. And, not least, there are two young women to add beauty and spice to the uproarious goings-on.

In PPH director Ernie Holt's production, Ricky Stanley will be in the role of Buddy Baker, the 21-year-old who runs away from home (only he cheats a little and takes the subway). Stanley made his PPH debut this past September in the PPH season-opening musical, "Music Man."

The older brother, Alan, whose playboy lifestyle the younger brother is anxious to emulate, will be portrayed by Dale Jenkins in his first PPH appearance. Jenkins earlier this season was a singer-dancer in the Globe Theater's production of "Oklahoma!" and before that had a part in the Globe's "The Boy Friend."

To be seen as the excitable mother, who announces that she, too, is running away from home, is Nancy Chambers whose previous stage assignments form an eclectic theater background, to say the least. She was the prim spinster, Miss Brill, in PPH's "Cheaper by the Dozen," a crone in the theater's production of Archibald MacLeish's poetic drama "J.B.," and an "artistic" stripper, complete with scanty butterfly costume, in the PPH musical, "Gypsy," several seasons ago.

Appearing as the father whose life revolves around his wax fruit factory will be Keith Brister, a veteran of almost two dozen roles at PPH, including those in "I Remember Mama," "Carnegie," "Arsenic and Old Lace" and "Roberta."

The two young ladies in the show are Carol Hart and Rene Brister, both with extensive PPH credits. The seventh and final member of the cast, who has the final curtain clincher, is Myrl Cable, making her first Playhouse appearance.

Friday's opening performance at 8:30 will be followed by the traditional champagne party in the theater lobby for first nighters and cast members. Seat reservations for the opening presentation, and for additional performances on June 1, 7, 8, 14 and 15 may be made through the theater at 310 W. 42nd St. The box office telephone number of 362-2329.

Jazz Great Duke Ellington To Be Interred In Bronx

NEW YORK (AP) — Jazz great Duke Ellington, who once said hearing his work was his reward, will be buried Monday from a church where his second "sacred concert" was heard five years ago.

Tributes poured in Friday for the tall, urbane bandleader, composer and one-time god-will music ambassador who died of cancer and pneumonia at the age of 75.

"When someone like Duke Ellington dies, we haven't lost him," Dinah Shore said. "Every time I sing one of his songs, I realize how lucky I am and how lucky we all are to have his exquisite talent to draw joy and sustenance from."

President Nixon, who presented the "Duke" with the Medal of Freedom, the nation's highest honor, in 1970, called him "America's foremost composer" on Friday.

"To me," said Bing Crosby, "Duke Ellington and Louis Armstrong were the greatest jazz musicians of all time."

Impresario George Wein said the Newport Jazz festival this summer will be dedicated to Ellington.

Funeral services will be held at the Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine, where an Ellington sacred concert employing three choirs, a ballet, four singers and a band premiered. Burial will be in the Bronx.

Surviving him are his sister, Ruth, and his son, Mercer, a trumpet player in the Ellington band. Ellington and his wife separated soon after their marriage in 1918.

Six Flags, Seven Seas Open Season

ARLINGTON — Texas' tourist season got into full swing when its Number One attraction, Six Flags and the world's largest inland marine life park, Seven Seas, began daily operation Saturday.

Six Flags will maintain the daily schedule through Labor Day, operating from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m. The theme park will return to a weekend schedule during the fall.

Bob Freeman, Six Flags' general manager, said attendance has been running well ahead of advance projections with more than 300,000 visitors during the spring months.

Seven Seas, which is operating for the first season under the management of Six Flags Inc., has drawn more than 26,000 visitors since its May 3 opening. This figure is more than double that for the same period last year.

The sea park will be open daily from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. through Aug. 25. With the exception of Labor Day, Seven Seas will be open on weekends only during the fall months.

The entertainment centers are located in Arlington, midway between Dallas and Fort Worth.

C. Of C. Fights Land Use Bill

The Midland Chamber of Commerce has sent a resolution opposing a controversial land use bill to all United States congressmen. A cover letter from Chamber President K. M. Jastrow briefly states the Midland Chamber's position. The proposed legislation, entitled Land Use Planning Act House Resolution 10294, would require states to enact mandatory planning for current and future uses of all state and private land. Failure to comply would result in severe reductions of Federal Aid monies: reduction by seven per cent the first year, 14 per cent the second year and 21 per cent the third year.

"This would effectively cripple our state and local governments," noted Ed Dwyer of Midland in his report to the Chamber board. "It would also further attack and erode the position of our nation's farmers and ranchers at a time when they need less interference and not more." Dwyer urged passage of the resolution opposing the legislation. The resolution was adopted unanimously. Dwyer also asked private citizens to express their views on the subject by writing their congressmen. The resolution adopted by the Midland Chamber states that the Land Use Planning Act would cost taxpayers "incalculable sums of additional taxes and increased food and fiber production costs." It goes on to say that the legislation would "strike at the very heart of our nation's free enterprise system."

Two Big Spring Motorcyclists Die In Head-On Crash

BIG SPRING, Tex. (AP) — Two motorcyclists died on a highway service road Friday night in a freak head-on collision of two "dirt bikes"—motorcycles designed for use only off streets and highways. Each rider was on a 1972 model of identical manufacture. The accident occurred at 9:57 p.m. and the Texas Department of Public Safety said neither vehicle had lights. Dirt bikes are stripped down versions for racing and have no lights. Their use on roads and highways is illegal in Texas. Victims were Larry Ray Robertson, 26, and Albert Lee Grant, 19, both of Big Spring. The accident occurred three miles east of this West Texas city on a service road alongside Interstate 20.

Anne Armstrong Defends Nixon Watergate Actions

HOUSTON (AP) — Presidential adviser Anne Armstrong says she is convinced a fair examination will show President Nixon has committed no impeachable offense. "From everything I have seen, the President has not countenanced violating the laws of the land," she said. "Like him, I welcome a thorough and nonpartisan inquiry into his activities." Mrs. Armstrong held a news conference and then addressed a Houston Baptist University commencement audience. At the news conference, she said the President has not attempted to obstruct justice in the Watergate investigation and that she is convinced he will not resign. She also said she doesn't think more tapes should be relinquished by the President to the House Judiciary Committee. "The most crucial tapes are in the hands of the Judiciary Committee," she said.

Bruce Wood was installed as president of the club for 1974-75. Other new officers and directors are Carla Bales, vice president; Tammy Merriman, secretary-treasurer; Cindy Sellars, taitwister, and Beth Johnson, Cindy Bates and Sherri Talley, directors. John A. Convention Takes Recess

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Constitutional Convention began a Memorial Day recess Saturday with delegates expected to return Tuesday to some of the hottest arguments of the convention. The delegates began debate Friday on the general provisions article but most of their talk was about the twice-defeated judiciary article. Die-hard supporters will make an attempt Tuesday to interrupt the general provisions debate and take up the judiciary article again. An effort to let the convention take a tentative vote for or against each of the 25 sections as they are discussed failed by a 77-54 vote, far short of the two-thirds needed. The debate on general provisions can be interrupted Tuesday for more discussion of the judiciary article if a majority of the 181 delegates vote that way. Franchised fast-food sales soared to nearly $8 billion in 1973.
