Eddy Sector Morrow Tests Are Planned

Three Morrow prospectors have been planned for Eddy County, N.M.

Deepest of the ventures is Monsanto Co. No. 2 Fasken-Federal, a scheduled 11,700-foot test, 1/2 mile northwest of Morrow production in the Catalaw Draw field.

Drill site is 660 feet from south and 1,900 feet from west lines of section 5-21-26, six miles northwest of Carlsbad.

Exxon Corp. accounted for No. 1 Turkey Track-State Communitized, a planned 11,600-foot project, 2 1/2 miles northeast of Morrow production in the Winchester field.

Location is 660 feet from north and 1,900 feet from west lines of section 30-19-29e, 15 miles southwest of Loco Hills.

Mesa Petroleum Corp. of Midland intends to drill an 11,300-foot test 2 miles northeast of the Washington Ranch (Morrow) field. It is No. 1 Huapache-Federal.

Drill site is 660 feet from south and 2,245 feet from east lines of section 30-25e-25e, six miles southwest of Whites City.

Elam Schedules Wildcat In Kent

Jack G. Elam, Midland, plans No. 2-C Cogdell, as a 7,200-foot wildcat in Kent County, 15 miles southwest of Clairmont.

Location is 1/2 mile east of the proposed one-well Easter (Canyon reef) field and one location east of the same operator's No. 1-C Cogdell, a scheduled 7,200-foot Strawn wildcat.

Drill site is 495 feet from south and 2,097 feet from west lines of section 774, block 97, H&TC survey.

The Canyon reef discovery, Elam No. 1-B Cogdell, finished May 1 for 165 barrels of oil daily, through perforations at 6,816-6,822 feet.

South Pecos Strike Offset Scheduled

Chevron Oil Co. will drill No. 1 Appel-State as a one-mile northeast outpost to the one-well Downie (Ellenburger) field of Pecos County, 23 miles north of Sanderson.

Location for the test, slated to 24,000 feet, is 1,900 feet from north and west lines of section 16, block R-3, GC&SF survey.

The discovery, Coastal States Gas Producing Co., No. 1 C. R. Downie, finished June 26, 1973 for 33 million cubic feet of gas daily, through perforations at 11,300-22,206 feet.

Confirmer Finals In Martin Sector

Kirby Petroleum Co., Houston, has completed No. 3-A (formerly No. 3), Hyatt as a second Dean producer and 1/2-mile northeast extension to that pay in the Breedlove, South field of Martin County.

It flowed 96 barrels of 36 gravity oil and 14 barrels of water on 24-hour potential test. Gas-oil ratio was 1,041-1. Production was through (Continued On Page 3B)

Colson Makes Bargained Plea

AS GENERALS AGREE ON GOLAN DISENGAGEMENT DETAILS—

Rabin Becomes New Israeli Premier

By The Associated Press
Syrian and Israeli generals have reached agreement on all essential points of a plan for disengagement of forces on the Golan Heights and will sign it Wednesday, a U.N. communique said today.

The communique, issued in Geneva, said agreement also was reached on details for exchanging all remaining prisoners of war and the return of bodies.

The announcement came as Premier-designate Yitzhak Rabin presented his new government to the Israeli parliament and pledged that Israel will work for peace in the Middle East "but not peace at any price."

He said the truce pacts worked out by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger opened the road to fuller peace talks with the Arabs, but that Israel will keep strengthening its army and not withdraw to the prewar border of 1967, as the Arabs demand.

"Our policy is clear. We prefer peace to new military victories, stable peace, a just peace, an honorable peace, but not peace at any price," he said.

Rabin said the disengagement pacts worked out by Kissinger between Israel, Egypt and Syria are "not peace agreements," adding, "Where do we go from here?"

"The next stage on the road to peace must be between Egypt and Israel" with negotiations by steps toward a full settlement, he said. "As for Syria, there is no place for an interim stage."

This was a clear declaration that Israel intended no more withdrawals on the Syrian front and that only a full peace treaty would be considered. But (See RABIN Page 4A)

Guilt On Single Charge To Halt All Other Cases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former presidential aide Charles W. Colson pleaded guilty today to leading an attempt in 1971 to influence the outcome of the Daniel Ellsberg trial.

His bargained plea to the new, single-count criminal information was met with assurances from the special prosecutor's office that the grand jury indictments against him, in two separate cases, would be dropped.

U.S. District Judge Gerhard Gesell set sentencing for June 21, four days after Colson and four other defendants were tentatively scheduled to go on trial in Gesell's court for the break-in at the office of Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

Colson also faced charges, along with other Nixon aides, in the Watergate cover-up trial, set to begin Sept. 9. Those charges were obstruction of justice and conspiracy to obstruct.

Judge Approves Plan
Deputy special prosecutor William S. Merrill said he would ask both Gesell and Judge John J. Sirica, who is to preside over the cover-up trial, to dismiss all previously-leveled counts against Colson once he is sentenced. Gesell approved the plan.

The indictment said that Colson attempted to have Ellsberg "tried in the newspapers."

Ellsberg, a former Pentagon analyst, had been accused of leaking the Pentagon Papers to the press.

But Ellsberg was freed in early 1973 when Judge Matthew Byrne found misconduct by the government in the case, citing wiretapping and the break-in at the office of Dr. Lewis Fielding.

To Defame Ellsberg
The information to which Colson pleaded guilty said he devised and implemented "a scheme to defame and destroy the public image and credibility of Daniel Ellsberg and those engaged in the legal defense of Daniel Ellsberg."

Appearing before Gesell, Colson said, "My motives and purpose were to neutralize Dr. Ellsberg as an antiwar speaker. . . . It didn't matter to me that he was facing serious criminal charges."

The maximum penalty for the one-count information is five years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

Plumbers' Cause Helped
Colson's guilty plea would appear to lessen the possibility that other defendants, known as the White House "plumbers," in the Fielding break-in case could use national security as a defense.

They are former White House aide John D. Ehrlichman and three men convicted in the first Watergate trial, G. Gordon Liddy, Bernard L. Barker and Eugenio A. Martinez.

They, as Colson was originally, are accused of violating Fielding's civil rights. Ehrlichman also faces a perjury charge in the plumbers case.

29 DEAD, 105 HURT— Government Slates Major Blast Probe

FLIXBOROUGH, England, (AP) — The British government today ordered a major inquiry into the Nypro chemical plant explosion that killed 29 persons and injured 105, according to latest official reports.

All the reported dead were workers at the factory in rural eastern England, but only eight bodies had been recovered early today because fires still raged over more than 20 acres of the plant site.

Damage from the explosion Saturday exceeded $140 million. The chemical plant and about 100 homes in nearby villages were ruined—their roofs blown off, windows and walls shattered.

Announcing the government inquiry, Environment Undersecretary Gordon Oakes said: "Surely dangerous processes and homes must be kept well apart." Leading newspapers speculated that government controls over chemical plants are inadequate, and one paper said the government's chief inspector of factories, Brian Harvey, told it scientists are creating technologies they do not understand fully.

Flixborough, a village of 310 persons 150 miles north of London, was declared a disaster area. The Rev. Ken O'Riordan, a Roman Catholic priest, walked the blackened streets sobbing: "This is terrible, terrible. There is nothing I can do but pray."

At the height of the blaze Saturday night, an estimated 20,000 persons living in the surrounding Lincolnshire villages and fields were evacuated to shelters set up in schools and (See EXPLOSION Page 4A)

Bank Trims Prime Rate

NEW YORK (AP) — After three months of a steady run-up to record highs, one bank's prime lending rate moved down a bit today.

The First National Bank of Chicago became the first major bank since early March to lower its prime, or the minimum corporate rate. As of Tuesday, First Chicago said its prime would be 11.50 per cent, down from the record 11 1/2 per cent posted recently.

Britain Rejects North Ireland Troop Withdrawal Demand

LONDON (AP) — The British government today rejected demands to pull its troops out of Northern Ireland and declared that only the army was preventing anarchy in the province.

"The fact is that without the British army, the forces of law and order could not cope with the immediate future," Merlyn Rees, Britain's administrator for Northern Ireland, told the House of Commons.

Rees was reporting to lawmakers recalled early from a spring vacation for an emergency debate on Northern Ireland.

More than 1,000 persons have died in the war between Northern Ireland's Protestant majority and the Roman Catholic community, outnumbered two to one. The dead include more than 200 British soldiers who tried to restore peace.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson called Parliament back into session after a coalition of moderate Protestants and Catholics attempting to govern Northern Ireland was forced to resign. The British government resumed direct rule of the province after a 15-day general strike led by militant Protestants opposed to the sharing of power with the Catholics.

Although there was considerable belief in British political circles before the strike that the moderates in Northern Ireland eventually would win out, many of Wilson's Laborites, some Conservatives and a number of Liberals now reportedly favor setting a date for Britain to get out of Northern Ireland.

The tabloid Daily Mirror, which has a national circulation of more than 4 million, devoted its entire front page today to what it called Britain's gravest crisis since the British-French invasion of Suez in 1956 and a decision the country must make: Pulling out its troops and abandoning sovereignty over the province.

"Extreme Protestants and Catholics are now joined in an unholy alliance by their dislike of Britain and British troops," it said. One usually informed political source said the government's new formula includes election of a new provincial assembly, as demanded by the Protestant leaders of the general strike, and another attempt at a provincial government named by the assembly.

Turbulence Roams Panhandle-Plains

Tornado funnels flirited dangerously close to several cities, and vicious thunderstorms pounded hard at the Panhandle-Plains sector in West Texas Sunday night and early today.

Thundershowers, sometimes dumping rain at rates up to two inches per hour, ranged farther south into the Big Bend country of far West Texas and eastward over roughly the northwest third of the state.

State police and local authorities said officers dispatched to check found no tornado injuries or damage.

National Weather Service forecasters at Midland Air Terminal say the Tall City and vicinity have another chance for rain today, after getting only light showers from a promising cloud Sunday night.

Gauges at Terminal caught only .05 inch of rain about 10:30 p.m. Sunday, despite noisy thunder and a lot of lightning. Some light rain also fell in the City of Midland. There were reports of some small hail and heavy rain in the southwest part of Odessa as the storm passed through.

Light rain also fell in Midland about 1:30 a.m. Sunday, but there was no official amount recorded by the weather service. This rain was part of the fringe results of a wind and rain storm which did an estimated $150,000 in damage at Colorado City about midnight Saturday.

About six homes were damaged by wind at the Sequoyah Mobile Home plant at Colorado

City, along with the pressbox at Wolf Stadium, the concession stand at the baseball field and assorted other damage to homes and trees. A total of 2.4 inches of rain fell during the storm.

Colorado City still was recovering from a May 25 hailstorm which left a quarter of a million dollars of damage in its wake.

The forecast for the Midland area calls for a 20 per cent chance of rain this afternoon, 30 per cent tonight and 20 per cent again Tuesday. Otherwise, there will be little change in temperatures with the high today and Tuesday in the middle 90s and the low tonight in the middle 60s.

The high in Midland Sunday was 96 degrees and the low this morning was 70.

Reports of twisters being sighted came from 5 miles northwest of Olton, 20 miles northeast of Lubbock between Lorenzo and Petersburg, the northeast edge of Plainview and between Crosbyton and Ralls.

The wild weather also prompted a nightlong series of warnings against severe thunderstorms, some remaining in force past dawn.

Hail and winds gusting up to 60 miles per hour accompanied many of the storms, and damage was reported to crops in some areas. Cotton fields near Westbrook, in Mitchell County west of Colorado City, were de-

LATE NEWS FLASHES

ALGIERS (AP)—El Moujahid, official newspaper of Algeria's ruling party, said today Algeria has lifted its embargo on oil shipments to Holland and canceled cuts to Denmark.

AUSTIN (AP)—Veteran Rep. Wilson Foreman said today he will seek a recount of his Democratic runoff primary loss to Gonzalo Barrientos if he can raise the necessary funds.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court Monday declined to review a decision ordering a three-judge federal panel to determine the constitutionality of college tuition residency requirements in Texas.

Hunt Credits Higher Prices For Record Texas Oil Search

DALLAS — Higher prices for crude oil and natural gas have provided Texas producers with the incentive to step up the search for petroleum to the highest first quarter level in five years, Sherman Hunt, Dallas, president of Texas Midcontinent Oil & Gas Assn., said.

"Compared with recent years, the search for oil and gas has reached near-boom proportions, which is a direct result of better prices paid to producers," he explained.

Pointing out that no Texas drilling rigs are idle, Hunt said shortage of rigs, drill pipe and other materials was the chief factor limiting further expansion of operations.

Rotary rigs operating in Texas on May 30 totaled 490, compared with 356 for the comparable 1973 period, according to the International Association of Drilling Contractors.

Nationwide, 610 more wells were drilled during the first quarter of 1974 than in the same period last year. The total of 7,037 wells drilled, Hunt said, represented the highest first quarter activity since 1969.

Hunt said that producers have launched wildcat drilling projects "that wouldn't have seen the light of day with the $3.50 per barrel prices of a year ago."

Some Texas crude oil that is not under federal price controls now is selling for as much as

$10 a barrel and buyers are paying $1 or more for a thousand cubic feet of natural gas sold intrastate, he said.

He pointed to the April 30 report of the state comptroller that showed increased wellhead prices for Texas oil and natural gas have added $107 million to the state's tax receipts since September.

Hunt, an independent producer, said an association review of exploration and production activities in Texas showed a marked increase in all operational phases, both by major operators and independents. (See HUNT Page 4A)

High Court Refuses To Rule On Cases Involving Abortion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today declined to decide whether husbands can veto abortions sought by their wives.

The court also refused to consider whether the consent of parents is needed before a minor daughter may have an abortion.

The issues are presented in two appeals from Florida, where a three-judge panel voided the state spouse and parental consent requirements. Eighteen other states require consent of either the husband or parents, or of one or the other, for abortions.

The Supreme Court refused to consider the issues on grounds that a separate appeal is still pending in a lower federal court.

In other action today the court: —Refused to review a lower court decision ordering a hearing on whether James Earl Ray should be permitted to withdraw his plea of guilty to the murder of Martin Luther King Jr. —Ruled that Corning Glass Works violated federal law and discriminated against women employees by perpetuating a pay system giving men night differential for work performed by women during the day.

—Upheld the conviction of five former West Virginia officials who were found guilty of vote fraud under an 1870 civil rights law.

The Florida law was challenged by four pregnant women who filed suit under pseudonyms and by Pamela Harris, an abortion counselor in Miami, and Dr. Lynn P. Carmichael, a Miami physician.

Attorneys for the two sides sought a Supreme Court ruling to settle the major issues they said were left unresolved when the Supreme Court ruled last year that state laws prohibiting abortion in the early months of pregnancy are unconstitutional.

POLLY'S POINTERS
 This Yarn Years
 In The Making
 By POLLY CRAMER
 Newspaper Enterprise Association

Polly's Problem — I have a big basket of leftover balls of yarn accumulated from years of knitting and crocheting. I would like to use them to make granny squares for afghans but need to separate the wool from the synthetic yarn. Can someone tell me a positive test to use? I now know that a simple reminder such as tying a loose knot in the ends of the wool balls would have saved me from being in this dilemma. — MRS. C. A. W.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve concerns the batteries in hearing aids. Why do some go dead just a few hours after we start to use them? This does not seem fair. — LOUISE.

DEAR POLLY — I think Mrs. S. W. C. has a wide choice in things she could do with her many pieces of imitation leather. A long sleeveless vest could be made and trimmed with a variety of colors. Anything goes today. Another one could be made for a child. Circles, squares or whatever could be sewed on to a pouch bag. Knee and elbow patches could be applied to the kids' sweaters and jackets. A tablecloth for a round table could be made with some of the circles used so the edges look scalloped. She has a treasure and should have fun. On big things sew the pieces on to a firm foundation — just sew around the edges on the sewing machine. — MRS. T. J.

Melinda Griffith
 In Switzerland

COLUMBIA, Mo. — Melinda Griffith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Griffith, No. 2 Greenwich Court, Midland, Tex., left recently for Appenzel, Switzerland, as a participant in a unique Columbia College study program.

Some 50 students are living in the Jugend Und Militar Unterkunft, a large dormitory and classroom building, in Appenzel until July 1. The study program will concentrate on art and travel administration under the direction of Sidney Larson, chairman of the Columbia College Division of the Arts and a noted art expert, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Schultz, directors of the college's travel studies program.

Students will be eligible for three hours of credit. Several optional tours will be offered during and after the on-campus session. A tour of Italy and an excursion to Paris are planned.

Dear Abby
 Wife Has Other Ideas
 On Lovey-Dovey Hubby
 —By Abigail van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a very loving husband. That's the trouble. He's TOO loving. For example, this morning he drove the kids to school and came back thinking I'd drop everything and make the bedroom scene with him. He often waits around until all the kids are gone, then he starts getting lovey-dovey when I'm done. Will you please tell him that the time for romance is after all the kids are asleep? Also, he always gets ideas after bowling. Bowling wears me out but for him it's an afrodeshiak (or however you spell it). I wouldn't mind if I could sleep the next morning, but I have to get up to drive the car pool. Am I wrong to complain? We've been married for 17 years.

Some 175,000 microwave ovens were sold in 1973.

DEAR ABBY: I am a happy-go-lucky, 25-year-old guy who is still shook by something that happened to me last week. I went to a newsstand where they sell magazines and paperback books. I got interested in a magazine and started to read it. I was standing there maybe 30 or 40 minutes, reading, when the lady who works there came up and said, "I think you've been here long enough. Either buy that magazine or put it back and leave."

Abby, I was so embarrassed I put the magazine back in the rack and left. A couple of people heard her, and I really felt cheap. Aren't those magazines put out for people to look at? I wasn't bothering anyone or making a disturbance. Did that lady have the right to tell me to leave?

DEAR RED: Yes, but she could have done it quietly and spared you the embarrassment. Leafing through a magazine to decide whether to buy it is one thing—reading it is something else. Magazines that have been read by half a dozen people are fairly shopworn and not easy to sell.

CONFIDENTIAL TO M. P.: Look at it this way. Hypertension is the price you pay for being a racehorse instead of a cow.

NO BRIDE: The ideal time for romance is when both parties are in the mood and have nothing else to do, but unfortunately that's not always possible. I say, shoot the ducks while they're flying—the housework will keep. And if the situation were reversed, I'd advise a husband to do the same.

DEAR ABBY: That answer you gave "Mad at My Husband"—the gal whose husband objected to her wearing a dress with a plunging neckline—sound-

WHAT IS THE TRUTH?
 "Thy Word is Truth" (John 17:17)
 by Bryan Bost

During World War II a preacher in England told of seeing a young boy come, on several occasions, to the church building to pray. Finally, he asked the boy, "Have you some loved one who is fighting at Dunkirk?" The boy replied, "I have been praying for my daddy who was there. He came home today, and I came back to thank God for sparing his life."

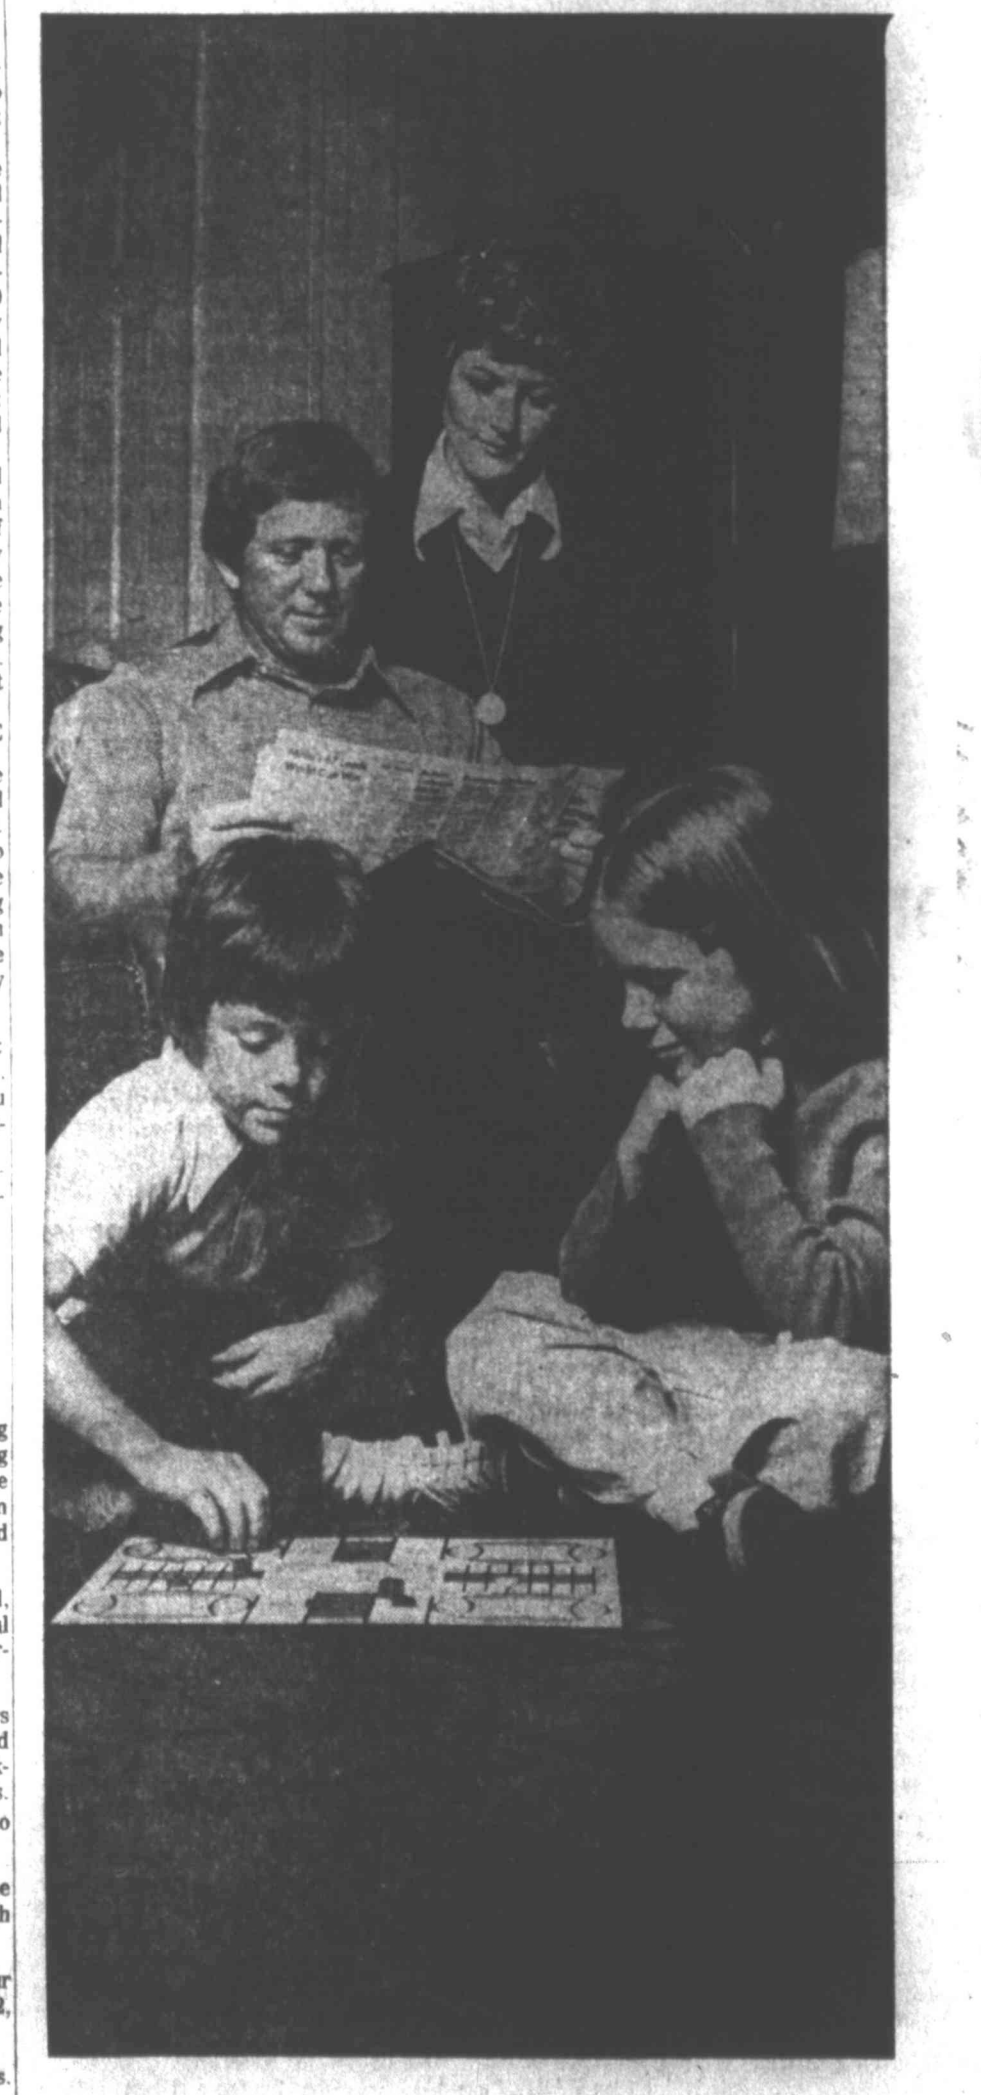

What a fine example to imitate. As we are blessed by God, we should express our thankfulness to him. The apostle Paul concludes a list of exhortations to Christians by stating this overriding principle, "And be thankful" (Colossians 3:15).

Be thankful to God. He has blessed you in so many ways including giving you life. Not only that but God has provided for your eternal life through his Son, Jesus Christ. Our thankfulness to God is expressed not only in words but also in actions. We show true gratitude when we live our lives in obedience to his desires.

"And whatever you do, in word or deed, do everything in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him." (Colossians 3:17).

Fuel diversification is important to you and your family.
 But what is it?

Fuel diversification is the key to our being able to supply the electricity you'll need in the years ahead. It means using several kinds of fuel to generate electricity. Making the best use out of the fuels available to us. And reducing our dependence on fuels in short supply. At Texas Electric, natural gas is our major fuel, with oil used on a standby basis. We foresaw shortages of these fuels and several years ago developed long-range plans to diversify to lignite coal and nuclear fuels. We now have one lignite plant in operation and two others under construction. A nuclear-fueled plant is planned for operation by 1980. One advantage of using lignite and nuclear fuels is that neither is being used extensively for any purpose other than the generation of electricity. A disadvantage is that it costs considerably more to build plants that use these fuels than gas-fired plants. Even though it will cost more to provide electricity in the future, the cost will be less with lignite and nuclear fuels than with the alternatives available to us. We're continuing the orderly development of our power system so that you'll continue having the electricity you need.

TAINTED BY MERCURY—

Ohio Bids To Halt Fish Bootleggers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Airplanes and boats are being pressed into an all-out effort to halt bootlegging of mercury-tainted walleyes in Lake Erie by hit-and-run fishermen, a state Division of Wildlife official says.

The division's chief of law enforcement, Dale E. Roach, said the smugglers are operating like prohibition era rum runners.

The fishermen make high-speed runs to a netting area, take in as many fish as they can hide in their boats and race for shore, he said.

In addition to planes and boats, Roach said, the division is using spotters along the shore, and plainclothesmen are roaming port areas trying to catch the smugglers.

Judges Too Lenient — He said some arrests have been made but his department doesn't have enough men to halt the traffic entirely.

Roach complained that some judges have been too lenient in fining fish smugglers.

One commercial fisherman caught with an illegal walleye catch recently was fined $350, he said.

"He could make it up double with the next pull of his nets," Roach said. "I think the defendant should be fined at least the value of the fish caught, as a deterrent."

One source in the Natural Resources Department estimated that 500,000 to 750,000 pounds of walleye were taken from Lake Erie in illegal netting operations last year.

However, Roach said such estimates are just "a shot in the dark." He said investigators think the fish are being sold to Cleveland markets and restaurants, probably misrepresented as imports from Canada.

Canada has no ban on wal-eye fishing, and the Canadian catches in Lake Erie across the international boundary are imported legally into Ohio.

Roach said the average walleye brings about $1.50 when sold to a fish market or restaurant.

He said he doesn't think most customers "give it a thought that the fish contain mercury."

The state put a five-year moratorium on commercial walleye fishing in 1972 after the U.S. Food and Drug Administration reported the walleyes were seriously contaminated with mercury.

However, the question of the health hazard has been challenged in the Toledo courts. Fishermen challenging the ban say the state has failed to prove that mercury content above the FDA standards is hazardous to health.

Bhutan's Young King Hands Out Money To His Subjects

By HORST FAAS THIMPHU, Bhutan (AP) — The 18-year-old king of Bhutan handed out money to his subjects today in a gesture of royal generosity marking his ascension to the throne of his secluded Himalayan kingdom.

Each of the country's million citizens were to get the equivalent of $2.

Jigme Singhi Wangchuck became the world's youngest ruling monarch Sunday when he draped a five-color scarf around his shoulders in the presence of the chief lama of his land.

Although the youth has been running the country since his father, Jigme Dorji Wangchuck, died in July 1972 at the age of 43, the 4,000 lamas of the Red Hat sect did not consider the astrological signs favorable for the coronation until the 15th day of the fourth month of the Year of the Wooden Tiger.

Monsoon Rains Break — As besought by the Buddhist lamas who had been spinning their prayer wheels for the bachelor monarch, a run of monsoon rain broke and the sun pierced the Himalayan mist for the ceremony at the storied fortress that serves as the main monastery and seat of government.

The new king arrived in a Rolls-Royce at the head of a joyous procession led by a riderless white horse symbolizing purity. Atop the palace—the Tashichho Dzong—lamas changed cymbals and gongs and blew long mountain horns while inside the courtyard 1,000 more lamas chanted ancient Buddhist hymns to invoke blessings on the new reign.

Standing with them in the sun-splashed courtyard were representatives from 16 countries and the United Nations, including the American Ambassador to India, Daniel Moynihan.

The king inspected an honor guard and marched up a red carpet strewn with ceremonial colored rice to enter the throne room and receive the royal scarf at 9:10 a.m.—the exact time prescribed by the astrologers. Then he sat down cross-legged on a carved throne of gilded wood, officially becoming the fourth member of the Wangchuck dynasty.

The royal government, which the new king's father bound to consult with a national assembly, issued its first paper currency to celebrate the coronation. Previously the Bhutanese used only coins.

The 18,000-square-mile kingdom lies high in the Himalayas between India and Chinese-ruled Tibet. For centuries access was only by a 54-day mule trip up narrow mountain paths. The last king opened a road in 1962 and an airfield in the nearby Paro Valley in 1968, putting modern civilization only half an hour away.

But, unsure he was doing the right thing, he reported 31 days late and volunteered to be a medic. The medal he earned has no value of itself, only the experience it represents, and has often been a source of trouble, he said, brings him unwanted attention and praise. Kays, arrested twice and convicted once for possession and cultivation of marijuana, was sentenced to one year's probation. Two weeks after his first arrest, the sheriff discovered Kays was still growing marijuana and arrested him again. The prosecutor is seeking to revoke probation. CONVICTED ONCE— Medal Winner Persists In Growing Marijuana FAIRFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Kenneth Kays is not your government-issue hero. His victory garden is full of marijuana, and he is determined to keep it as a symbol of his freedom.

Kays, 24, won the Medal of Honor and was honored at the White House for his heroism in Vietnam.

A draft resister-turned-medic, Kays lost a leg in battle in May 1970 but repeatedly crawled past his lines to rescue and treat wounded comrades.

Today his battleground is a 1,000 square-foot patch near his trailer in this southern Illinois town where he farms the illegal marijuana plants for his own personal use.

With practiced ease, he swings down the rows on his artificial leg, hoeing, raking and tilling. A headband secures his long, sun-tinted hair which cascades into his beard.

Kays was reared in Fairfield, population 6,000, and attended Southern Illinois University. He was discharged from the Army in 1970, and has been living here on disability checks since.

Honeymoon May Be Ending For Americans In London

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

LONDON (AP) — The love affair between Americans and swinging London may be over, but the melody of fiscal good times in civilized surroundings lingers on.

The chancellor of the exchequer's budget bombshell wiping out tax breaks for foreigners, coupled with spiraling inflation, rising crime, bomb scares and frequent irksome strikes, have caused many Yankees to doodle over their future in the mother country.

"The exodus already has begun, especially in the movie colony, and Brussels at the moment is the favorite lighting place," insists Herbert Mayes, longtime editor of Good Housekeeping, McCall's and Cosmopolitan who now publishes a newsletter called The Overseas American from his sumptuous 10-room flat overlooking Hyde Park.

A poll in a recent issue reported 69 per cent of the Americans contacted were considering leaving because of the decision of Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor government to treat foreigners living in Britain more than nine years the same as natives. Beginning with the tax year of April 1976, they would be taxed on the basis of their "world income and capital gains." Instead of only on income remitted from abroad.

The U.S. Embassy, in a "saddle-back guess," figures 30,000 Americans are now living in Britain. Other estimates put the figure at 100,000.

"My friends in the movie business see the handwriting on the wall," said Mayes, tipping back in his editorial swivel chair.

"A leading headhunter, an industrial recruiter, is moving to Amsterdam. Some of the big names in advertising and public relations are relocating. The banks, you know, haven't been doing all that great here. The Belgians are in a position to offer all kinds of concessions. Since the Common Market, they always wanted to be the economic capital of Europe, and now they see their chance."

Hardly A Stampede — There is a groundswell of farewell tremors in the American colony but hardly a stampede to the docks of Southampton and the check-in counters at Heathrow Airport.

"Most Americans are cooling it, waiting to see what happens when the tax bill comes up in Parliament," reports tax attorney Ed Gottesman, who heads a special committee of London American Chamber of Commerce studying Chancellor Denis Healey's budget message.

"Cool it" also is the advice offered in the Mayes newsletter. "The British after all are a reasonable people," he argues. "They don't want to kill the goose that lays the golden egg. After all, these new taxes apply to all foreigners: They will drive out the Arab oil sheiks as well as the Americans."

"Yankee Alley" — The rise of multinational companies in the "Swinging Sixties" brought a wave of American immigration to Britain. Moorgate in the financial district, where many of the more than 30 American banks in Britain located their branches, became known as "Yankee Alley."

London was a lovely respite from America's racial woes, the turmoil of Vietnam and the anxieties over decaying cities and a computerized society. High among its attractions, even better than the lively star and its miniskirted swinging image, was the system of "remittance," whereby foreign residents paid income tax only on income, not capital, remitted from abroad. Some firms made it easy for their employees to evade taxes completely by extending a capital loan for living expenses while in Britain, thus doing away with the need for remitting any salary at all.

Life Quality Declining — But the tax situation isn't the only issue tearing at the love affair between Americans and London town. As in other cities around the world, the quality of life here, as the daily headlines avow, has been declining with the times: a mugging on Hungerford Bridge at midnight, violence in the classroom, power cuts, train cancellations, racial unrest, minor variants of campus unrest and the drug scene.

Rents in London have doubled in the past five years, and unfurnished apartments are almost impossible to find. Interest on home loans in the same period has climbed from seven per cent to 11 per cent, in most cases without the protection of the fixed rates common in America.

London in the '60s may have lacked the expatriate pull of Hemingway's and Fitzgerald's Paris in the '20s, but it had its coterie of arty reverse colonists: Mia Farrow, Andre Previn, Carl Foreman, Joseph Losey, S. J. Perelman, Tony Curtis, Larry Adler, George Axelrod.

Satirist S. J. Perelman, who wrote many of the Marx Brothers movies, got out long before the tax man closed in, and his zany reason for going home to America and Bucks County, Pa.: "I found myself like Joel McCrea in the movie 'Foreign Correspondent' running around in a trench coat and hiding in windmills. It was time to get out."

McCormick County Sheriff J. P. Gable said the victims' pockets had been emptied. He said the bodies were mutilated by stabbings, cuts, blows by a heavy instrument and gunshot wounds.

The victims' bodies were found early Sunday on the shore of Lake Clark Hill. Authorities said the three Ft. Gordon, Ga., soldiers were slain Saturday. The sheriff said at least two persons were involved in the slayings.

One of the victims was identified as James Donahue, 18, of El Paso, Tex. The others were not identified immediately pending notification of relatives. They had been at the Army Signal School at Ft. Gordon about five months, Gable said.

The murders occurred in a heavily wooded area about 20 miles from Augusta and Ft. Gordon, accessible only by a dirt road. The lake forms part of the South Carolina-Georgia boundary.

San Angelo Plans More Water Wells — SAN ANGELO — City commissioners here have decided to drill four more water wells under a contract it has with a Stanton drilling company.

The new wells will bring to nine the number of wells designed to meet the city's minimum requirements for water in any emergency situation.

Under a contract agreement last August, F. C. Wheeler Drilling Co. of Stanton gave the city of San Angelo an option to drill four wells in addition to the ones now in the final stages of completion, at a cost of $81,000 each.

Gradual development of the well field is leading to an eventual 30 wells which would furnish San Angelo with up to 20 million gallons of underground water per day.

Dr. Marion Powell said in an interview that there were 2,900 abortions and 2,300 live births at Toronto General Hospital last year.

Governors' Conference Opens Today

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The nation's governors opened their annual meeting here today, saying they hope to avoid speculation about scandals in the nation's capital while claiming they are doing a better job of meeting the problems of the Watergate era.

Washington's Republican Gov. Daniel J. Evans, this year's conference chairman, told a news conference Sunday that in areas of campaign reform and government ethics, "states have quite clearly taken national leadership."

"In state after state significant sunshine laws, and other similar laws on ethics, on campaign limitations, on lobbyist reporting, open government have taken place while there has not been similar action as dramatic at the national level."

The opening day's business sessions included Evans' "State of the States" speech, a roundtable discussion with key congressional leaders of both parties and a panel on health care.

The health care seminar featured Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., American Medical Association President Dr. Russell B. Roth, and Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Caspar Weinberger.

All but four of the nation's governors were expected to attend the formal opening of the conference today. Govs. John Burns of Hawaii, Bob Ray of Iowa, Francis Sargent of Massachusetts and George Wallace of Alabama had said they would not attend.

On Sunday, the conference's executive committee approved a broad resolution, sponsored by Govs. William G. Milliken, R-Mich., and Patrick J. Lucey, D-Wis., calling for reforms "at all levels of government."

The resolution, due for consideration by the full conference Wednesday, urges "loophole-free" campaign finance reforms in public campaign financing, strict ethics codes, wider disclosure of lobbying activities and greater openness in government.

Most of the questions at Evans' news conference and during an appearance of six governors on NBC's "Meet the Press" dealt with Watergate and President Nixon's refusal to supply additional evidence sought by the House impeachment probe and special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski.

Six governors said Nixon should supply the material sought by the House Judiciary Committee. Democrat Jimmy Carter of Georgia and Republican Tom McCall of Oregon said failure to do so would be grounds for removing Nixon from office.

"He should give them everything they want or step down as President," said McCall, the only Republican governor who wants Nixon to resign from office.

"I personally believe the President is guilty, and I think that the release of evidence will prove it," Carter said.

Those who said they thought Nixon should provide the materials sought by the House panel were Evans, and Govs. Daniel Walker, D-Ill., Wendell R. Anderson, D-Minn., and Wendell H. Ford, D-Ky.

Evans was asked at the news conference if he could foresee a situation in which Nixon would be justified in balking at a Supreme Court order to supply Watergate evidence.

He said the question was "too speculative" but noted any court decision is composed of a verdict and a written opinion.

"The opinion itself may be highly qualified and as such might not clearly represent an impeachable offense if the President were to say 'No,'" said Evans, who is not a lawyer.

Disagreement emerged over the impact of Watergate on the mood of the country.

Carter, who heads the Democratic campaign drive for the November congressional and gubernatorial elections, said "Watergate is really an embarrassing thing for the American people."

"It's kind of like having an illegitimate child in the family. You know it's happened. You know who is responsible. But you don't want to talk about it much in public."

Dallas Police Question Trio About Burney Disappearance

DALLAS (AP) — Police officers lying in wait Sunday seized a man and a woman they accused of starting to drive away in the parked car of business executive Dan Burney, who disappeared May 21.

Officers said a subsequent search of the couple's apartment turned up a set of keys which belonged to Burney, 47, a senior vice president and general counsel of the LTV Corp.

Detectives disclosed near midnight they also were questioning a second woman, 20, to whom they said the man in custody linked the case.

They said the man, 29, and his woman companion, 21, were carrying a small child as officers took them into custody during the afternoon in South Dallas.

Detectives C. L. Hallman said there still were no clues to the whereabouts of Burney.

Bartender Who Officiated At Fatal 'Gin Duel' Dies

FORT WALTON BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Griet over claims that he was responsible for two men who drank themselves to death has ended in the death of bartender Claude Kidd, his widow says.

"It upset him that they were saying something that he wasn't guilty of," Catherine Kidd said Sunday, two days after her bar owner husband died of a heart attack. Kidd, 52, had a history of heart trouble.

Kidd officiated at a Memorial Day "gin duel" staged at his bar between Walter Wade, 39, and Eugene Cole, 32. Both men died within two days of the drinking bout, in which each consumed between 32 and 48 ounces of gin in less than an hour.

"They were close friends, all of them," said Mrs. Kidd. "He went to talk to their families. They felt all right with him, didn't feel angry."

But area newspapers quoted Police Chief Tommy Ray as saying that the Florida Beverage Department had been called to take administrative action against Kidd's bar. Ray was quoted as saying that Kidd possibly could face manslaughter charges. Mrs. Kidd said her husband was deeply hurt by such reports.

Police Have Few Leads In Robbery

Midland police today continued a search for the armed bandit who took approximately $150 from the clerk of a 7-Eleven store at 4308 Neely St. late Saturday night.

Detectives said that few leads were available in the case, and noted that a clear description of the assailant's face was not available because he wore a woman's stocking over his head during the holdup.

According to the night clerk at the store, she had closed for the night and locked the door when the man, about five feet three inches tall and youthful appearing, brandished a pistol and demanded that she reopen the store and hand over all the money that was in the safe.

The woman told the bandit that she did not have the safe combination, but the man told her that he knew she did and would blow her head off if she didn't open it and get the money. The clerk then opened the safe and gave the man a brown paper sack filled with the money.

Police said the assailant was last seen running north from the store. There was no getaway vehicle reported to have been used in the robbery.

Calley Request Denied

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — A federal judge today denied a request by William L. Calley's lawyers for the production of the Peers Report — the Army's investigation of the My Lai massacre.

The denial was the first round won by government lawyers in appeal arguments before U.S. District Court Judge J. Robert Elliott.

The request was one of five separate motions in which Calley's lawyers sought eyewitness accounts obtained by those who investigated the slaying of Vietnamese civilians in March 1968. The defense is attempting to win reversal of Calley's court-martial conviction for the slaying of 22 Vietnamese civilians.

Elliott, who freed Calley on bail in February, heard motions today which will be considered June 24, the date the appeal will be argued.

Elliott ruled that because the defense had access to the Peers Report during Calley's court-martial, he saw no benefit for it to be brought before his court.

The judge granted a defense motion for the production of all records having to do with Calley's trial.

Elliott also denied a defense motion for the production of a letter in which Calley's lawyers claim a congressional subcommittee received prior notification that Calley would be before the Army even charged him.

State Bar Seeks To Disbar Both Parrs

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Bar of Texas said today it had filed a lawsuit asking that both Duval County Judge Archer Parr and George B. Parr be disbarred as lawyers.

The Bar said the original complaints were filed in 229th District Court.

The district court was asked to set a hearing date on the grievances and meanwhile, suspend the law licenses of both men.

The Bar said its disbarment action was based on the May 20, 1974, federal court conviction of Archer Parr on six counts of perjury before a grand jury. He received a sentence of 15 years and a total fine of $60,000, the complaint said.

The action against George B. Parr was based on the May 10 federal court judgment on his conviction of income tax evasion. He received a fine of five years imprisonment and $14,000 total fine, the complaint said.

The complaints cite a state law saying that lawyers may be suspended upon conviction of "any felony involving moral turpitude" and upon proof of final conviction may be disbarred.

Deputies Probe Oilfield Theft

Midland County Sheriff Deputies are looking for the culprits who took more than $500 worth of oil field tubing and rods from the Jim Jones No. 1 Cabot Corp. lease near Midkiff sometime during the last two weeks.

According to a sheriff's spokesman, no arrests have been made, but deputies continue to investigate several leads in the case.

Portugal Suspends Macao Top Brass

MACAO (AP) — The new regime in Portugal has suspended the military commander of Macao and his deputy and ordered them to return to Lisbon, the government radio announced today.

The announcement gave no explanation for the suspension of Col. Mesquita Borges and Maj. Lourenco Sousa Alves. It said Maj. Francisco Goncalves, who arrived from Lisbon on Saturday, would be acting military commander of the tiny Portuguese colony on the tiny coast of China.

Jury Selection Starts For Cases

Jury selection began this morning in 142nd District Court for two criminal cases scheduled this week.

Slated to go to trial this week are Freddie Reyes, charged with burglary with intent to commit theft, and Henry C. Mitchell, charged with theft over $50.

Attorney Vern Martin will defend Mitchell while Reyes will be defended by attorney Bob Bearden.

Levelland Woman Hurt In Mishap

Midland police investigated a 3-to-4 p.m. Sunday that resulted in minor injuries to a Levelland woman.

According to police, a car driven by William T. Roach Jr., 32, of 4203 Harlowe St., was heading north on Williams Street when it was in collision with an auto driven by Raymond D. May, 61, of Route 3, Levelland. The May auto was traveling west on Wall at the time of the accident. Damages to both autos were listed as heavy.

A passenger in the May auto, Mrs. Lillie May, 58, was treated and released at a Midland hospital for minor cuts and bruises.

THE MAIL IS HER BAG—If the U.S. Postal Service ever holds a contest to determine its most beautiful letter carrier, Brenda Moon would be a logical candidate. She fills a bikini as effectively as she delivers the mail on a route in West Los Angeles. Brenda, 25, is a divorcee and the mother of a little girl. She hopes someday to become a facial model for cosmetics. (AP Wirephoto.)

Hunt Says Higher Prices Spur Stepped-Up Oil Search

for oil companies and independents.

"The independent producer is returning to his traditional role as the nation's chief risk-taker and oil finder because higher prices allow him to take the risks. But, he also knows that if Washington politics cut off his supply of risk capital and interfere with prices through manipulation of the law of supply and demand, he again will be forced to retrench and the accelerated drilling program in Texas will grind to a halt," Hunt said.

Producers actively are seeking good leases, although the more "desirable" acreage is scarce and considered "tight." Major oil companies are granting some areas producers are testing underground formations known to contain small quantities of oil and gas, but which were uneconomic to produce in previous years.

Wells drilled 5-10 years ago that had some gas shows now are being re-evaluated and in some old stripper salt dome fields along the upper Texas Gulf Coast, operators have applied the "in situ" combustion process (burning the producing zone) to stimulate oil production.

Hunt said higher prices for crude oil had improved the outlook for stripper well operators in Texas whose 63,000 marginal wells average only 3.8 barrels a day, but which have a total output of about 116 million barrels a year.

"The output of stripper wells remains important to our overall energy supplies, especially since those in Texas alone produce almost twice as much energy per year as the 16 centrally-operated Tennessee Valley Authority, which is supported by tax money," Hunt said.

According to one independent producer: "If not for price increases, 50 per cent of the state's stripper well operators would be in a bad way today."

The association's review, Hunt said, revealed that seismic crews in Texas are working full time and that well servicing contractors are operating "at capacity." Well servicing firms indicate the possibility of turning to a 24-hour work day to meet commitments.

Redrilling of older areas, efforts by wildcaters to pinpoint small underground traps that might contain oil and gas, and deep drilling for gas in far West Texas are considered by producers to be "unquestionable evidence" that better prices are providing exploration incentive, Hunt said.

However, some producers predict that congressional removal of the oil and gas depletion allowance could shut down expanded operations in Texas within six months, Hunt said.

The oil and gas industry several years ago warned government and consumers of an impending energy shortage, he said, "but cheap prices with soaring costs and inflation, made it impossible to launch a significant exploratory effort."

Texas Counts At Least 25 Weekend Violence Victims

By The Associated Press
Authorities counted at least 25 violent deaths in Texas during the weekend, including 14 in auto accidents.

The toll, recorded between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday, also included five drownings, four fatal shootings and the death of a man under the wheels of a train.

Four Die In Road Crash

One of the worst accidents claimed the lives of four men in a two-car crash three miles south of San Marcos on Texas 123 about 1 a.m. Sunday. They were Gregorio Sanchez, 34; Carlos Lopez Gomez, 18; John Pineda, 17, and Pedro Mercado. State police said Sanchez and Mercado were the drivers.

These were among the other victims:

Roosevelt Honeycutt Jr., 8, of Dallas drowned Sunday at North Lake in the northwest part of Dallas County. Officers said he stepped into a hole while playing in shallow water.

The body of Oscar Davis Brett, 60, was found Sunday in the Trinity River near Pointblank in San Jacinto County. He had been reported missing Saturday.

Bobby S. Sherman died Sunday in Tyler of multiple gunshot wounds suffered in a bar late Saturday. Police took a man into custody.

One-Car Fatality
Stephen Willbanks, 19, of Dallas, was killed Saturday night when his car ran off a county road west of Little Elm in Denton County.

Witnesses told police a man, about 30, shot and killed Henry Ford, 50, at the slain man's hamburger place Saturday night in Dallas. Officers said the slayer was being sought.

In Houston, Lloyd Garrison, 49, died at midnight Saturday of injuries suffered in a two-car accident earlier in the day.

Allie Muniz, 20, was shot to death late Saturday during an argument at a Houston bar.

Navasota police said Leopoldo Lara, 26, was killed Sunday when a freight train ran over him as he lay on the tracks.

Kevin Gensler, 15, of Farmers Branch drowned while skin diving at Lake Travis near Austin.

McDowell Lawton, 71, was killed Sunday in a one-car accident at Gunter.

Roque Lozano, 28, was electrocuted accidentally while working on the roof of his San Antonio home Sunday afternoon. Police said he brushed against a power line. Efforts to revive him were unavailing.

Terry William Reuser, 19, of Houston died Saturday when the car he was driving overturned on a Houston street.

Crawford Cooper, 35, of Dallas was killed about 3 a.m. Saturday when he was struck by a car on a freeway. Police said he had been reported missing a little more than an hour earlier.

State police said Vincent James Cunningham, 69, was dead on arrival at Beaumont after being hit by a car about 11 miles north of Silsbee.

Esther Gutierrez, 51, was killed as a car ran her down on San Antonio street early Saturday. Police said they had not found the driver.

State troopers said Donald Wayne Jobe, 39, of Manvel, in Brazoria County, died in a one-car accident early Saturday.

He was thrown from the car when it rolled and pinned underneath.

Tula Mae Henson, 59, of Stamford was killed in a car-truck head-on collision on Texas 67 at Cedar Hill southwest of Dallas Saturday afternoon.

Hospital Slaying
Military police at Ft. Hood reported they shot and killed a soldier who threatened a hospital attendant with a .23 caliber pistol. A spokesman for the huge Central Texas Army post identified the soldier as Specialist Frederick Keppeler of Rogers, Ark.

Michaux Nash III, 16, was killed Friday night when the car he was driving overturned and skidded into a ditch at Dallas. He was the son of a prominent Dallas businessman and sportsman.

Rocket Attack On South Vietnam Air Base Kills 42

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP)—Communist gunners attacked the Bien Hoa air base today for the first time in seven months, killing 42 Vietnamese and wounding 82, police officials reported. Many of the casualties were caught by a direct hit on a prison camp.

Thirty rockets struck the sprawling air base and five surrounding villages 15 miles northeast of Saigon before dawn, the police said.

One of the 122mm rockets tore through the roof of a building inside the Tan Hiep Correctional Center, riddling more than 100 sleeping prisoners with shrapnel. Associated Press photographer Dan Van Phouc reported.

Police said 29 prisoners were killed, 64 were wounded. Many of them were women prisoners; some of their children were among the casualties.

Two Wisconsin Congressmen Blast Huge Weapons Cost Overruns, Asian Spending

By RANDOLPH E. SCHMID
WASHINGTON (AP) — A pair of Wisconsin Democrats fired salvos at military spending over the weekend, taking aim at billions of dollars in weapons cost overruns and military spending in Indochina.

Sen. William Proxmire released General Accounting Office figures Sunday showing cost overruns totaling $26.3 billion for the development of 55 new weapons systems.

More Than China, Russia
And Rep. Les Aspin said estimates prepared by the Defense Intelligence Agency show that the United States has spent almost 30 times as much in Indochina since 1966 as the Soviet Union and mainland China combined—$107.1 billion to $3.65 billion.

According to the figures released by Proxmire, the weapons systems involved are now expected to cost some $134.2 billion. This compares with original estimates of $111.6 billion.

And, a spokesman said the quantity of many of the items has been reduced to save money. The original estimate on the smaller quantity would have been $107.9 billion for an overrun of $26.3 billion.

Proxmire said the costs of building the DD963 destroyer have risen from the original planning estimates of $1.8 billion to a current estimate of $3.1 billion, and per ship cost from $80 million to $102.6 million.

"That is an increase of more than 70 per cent and not a single ship has been completed," he said.

Other major cost overruns noted in the GAO report included $1.43 billion for the F15 fighter; $756 million for the Minuteman III missile; $417.9 million for the SAM-D missile; $394.1 million for the XM-1 tank; and $349.9 million for the UTTAS helicopter.

Take 2 years of Army before college.

Many high school graduates are ready to take full advantage of college this fall. But some could use a little time to mature, or to straighten out their finances, or just to take a break from the books for a while.

Whatever the reason, if you think you'd get more out of college a couple of years from now, we'd like you to consider the benefits of 2 years in today's Army.

Guaranteed job-training or duty in Europe.

With our 2-year enlistment, you can choose from a wide range of job-training courses, and if you qualify, have that training guaranteed in writing before you enlist.

Or, you can serve in Europe. Either way, you get the same benefits as a longer enlistment. Including a starting salary of $326.10 a month before deductions, with a raise to $363.30 in just four months.

Enlist now, go 6 months later.

With the Army's Delayed Entry Option, you can enlist today, and not have to report for up to six months, depending on the job-training you sign up for. Should you decide to try college while you're still in the Army, you can attend classes right on post or at a nearby college. With the Army paying at least 75% of your tuition costs.

And when your enlistment's over, you can receive up to 36 months of financial assistance at the college of your choice.

Call your Army Representative at 800-523-4800.

UAW President Says New Political Leadership Needed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — New political leadership is needed to correct the nation's economic woes, the president of the United Auto Workers union told delegates to the group's 24th constitutional convention.

"The economic management of the country is in palsied hands," Leonard Woodcock said Sunday as he helped open the UAW's week-long gathering.

"As President Nixon stalls impeachment proceeding... the situation worsens," Woodcock said. He added: "We look to the 1974 elections to correct this situation. We are in trouble in this country because the executive branch has abused its power. We seek to restore a balance of power. We aren't asking for a veto-proof Congress, just one that's responsive."

About 60 dissident UAW members picketed outside the Los Angeles Convention Center before Woodcock's hour-long address to an estimated 2,700 delegates and 1,000 international representatives of the union.

New York Solon Seeks U.N. Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Henry P. Smith III, a New York Republican on the House Judiciary Committee, says he is seeking appointment as a congressional liaison officer with the United Nations.

Smith, who is not seeking reelection, said he has been "working gently" toward obtaining the U.N. post after he leaves Congress.

The appointment can be made either through the U.N. or through the U.S. State Department.

Rain Washout Gives Rankin Golf Title

RANKIN'S WINNING FORM — Judy Rankin, of Midland, used this form Saturday to win the $40,000 Baltimore Golf Championship. Sunday's last round action was washed out with a heavy rain, and Judy held a stroke lead and was named as the champion. (AP Wirephoto.)

BALTIMORE (AP) — Judy Rankin of Midland was declared the winner of the $40,000 Baltimore Golf Championship Sunday after heavy rain washed out the scheduled final round of the 54-hole event.

Mrs. Rankin led by one stroke after each of the first two rounds, and earned $5,700 after successfully defending a tournament title for the first time.

Her score of 144 was two strokes under par for the municipal Pine Ridge course, and one stroke ahead of Susie Berning, Kathy Whitworth, Marilyn Smith and Carol Mann — each of whom won $3,000.

Tournament officials canceled the final round rather than re-schedule it for today because of the condition of the course after two days of rain, and because of players' commitments.

Mrs. Berning, the U.S. Open champion, and Mary Mills, the Ladies Professional Golf Association titleist, were due in North Carolina today for National Golf Day competition.

Pam Barnett and Mary Wolfe were involved in a Canadian promotion.

The remaining players were headed for this week's $100,000 tournament at Las Vegas, Nev., and contended they were unable to book airline flights after today.

"This is the first time I've ever won a tournament this way," Mrs. Rankin said. "It takes a little off by sort of backing in, but I did play well except for a few holes on Saturday."

She referred to consecutive bogeys on the 13th, 14th and 15th holes in the second round, after she had built a four-stroke advantage and was threatening to make a runaway of the tournament.

Mrs. Berning, who posted a four-under-par 69 in the second round, was disappointed at the abrupt ending but philosophized: "Sometimes you can't fight the elements."

Miss Whitworth, a four-time Baltimore champion who won two rain-shortened tournaments in 1973, said such windups "leave an unfinished feeling."

JoAnn Prentice, the leading money winner of 1974, won the American Defender Raleigh Classic last month under similar conditions. She finished in a five-way tie for 20th here with a 150 total and pocketed $400.

JoAnne Carner, who had won the two previous tournaments on the tour, won $1,200 after finishing in a five-way tie for eighth at 147.

IN SUDDEN DEATH PLAYOFF—

Menne Cops Kemper With 30-Foot Putt

By BOB GREEN

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — He'd often considered quitting. He'd won less than $30,000 in 3½ years. Car trouble coming into Charlotte had just about busted him. He was down to gas money to the next stop. His wife was cooking hamburgers in the motel room.

And, with that background and that pressure, longshot Bob Menne birdied the final hole of regulation play to gain a tie and then scored from 30 feet on the first hole of sudden death to win the $50,000 first prize in the Kemper Open Golf Tournament.

"It means everything to me," the curly-haired man from Massachusetts said after his dramatic triumph Sunday. "It means the Masters and the Tournament of Champions. And it means money."

"Golly, $50,000." Menne, 32, a struggler throughout his six-year tour career, whipped an iron shot to within six feet of the cup for the birdie on the 72nd hole that caught front-running Jerry Heard, then defeated the easy-going guy with the dramatic birdie putt on the first playoff hole.

"If I have to lose," said Heard, "I'm glad it's to Bob. He needs the money. I'm glad it's him and not somebody like (Jack) Nicklaus that's got more money than he'll ever need."

And Nicklaus and all the other great names in the game were in the field. They had to be. The tournament, which offered $250,000 in total prizes, is one of three designated tournaments on the schedule, tournaments in which the game's leading players are required to play.

Menne had to win his way into the field by qualifying in an 18-hole round on Monday. He won it with a final round of 67 and a total of 270, 18 under par on the 7,065-yard Quail Hollow Country Club course.

Heard matched that total with a last-round 70.

Dave Hill just missed the playoff by a single stroke at 271. He bolted into contention on the strength of a brilliant, seven-under-par 65 in the last round. Lee Trevino, also in contention until the last nine holes, had a 69-272.

Billy Casper and J.C. Sneed, each with a 69, were at 273. The other big guns were strung out further back.

Jack Nicklaus had 70-278. Johnny Miller was 70-280. Gary Player scored 72-286. Arnold Palmer and Tom Weiskopf started but didn't qualify for the final two rounds.

And Nicklaus and all the other

Chris Evert Wins Rome Tennis Open

ROME (AP) — It wasn't her richest victory, but Chris Evert was really happy she had finally won a major international tennis tournament.

Miss Evert, 19, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., beat 17-year-old Martina Navratilova of Czechoslovakia 6-3, 6-3 Sunday in the final of the women's singles at the Rome Tennis Open.

Miss Evert plays in the French Open later this week. She was a finalist there last year, as she was in Rome and Wimbledon.

The women's top prize in Rome was $5,000. Miss Evert has won much more in other tournaments.

"It's not just the money, it's the prestige," she said. "That's why I want to win in Paris, too."

Miss Evert and Olga Morozova of the Soviet Union were declared the winners in the women's doubles. West Germans Helga Masthoff and Heide Orth defaulted and the match was not played.

Fourth-seeded Stan Smith, meanwhile, bowed to top-seeded Ilie Nastase of Romania 6-2, 6-2, 6-4 in the semifinals of men's singles competition in one of the American's poorest performances on clay.

Nastase was to play for the title Monday against the winner of the semifinal between third-seeded Bjorn Borg of Norway and Guillermo Vilas of Argentina. Their battle was postponed by darkness.

Travs Whip Midland, 9-4

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — Jerry Mumphrey's three-run homer in the fifth inning here Sunday night destroyed a 4-2 Midland lead, and the Arkansas Travelers went on to an easy 9-4 Texas League victory.

Midland ran to a 4-1 lead through the top of the third frame until Arkansas scored a single tally in the third to close the gap to 4-2. Don Schroeder was coasting in a good pitching outing until the fifth when Mumphrey socked a three-run shot to left after two men were out. Arkansas added two more runs in the eighth when Mike Potter hit a two-run homer off relief pitcher Paul Zahn.

The Cubs gained a 1-0 advantage in the top of the first when Brock Davis walked and scored on a double by Wayne Tyrone. Arkansas tied it in the bottom of the first on a double by Rudy Kinard, but Midland erupted for two runs in the second to regain the lead.

Ken Pape opened the second with a walk and Steve Haug followed with a single. Haug scored both runs with a single to right.

Midland took the 4-1 lead in the third as Jose Ortiz and Tyrone walked with Ortiz moving to third on a double play ball by Bill Droege and then scoring on a wild pitch by winning pitcher Mike Proly.

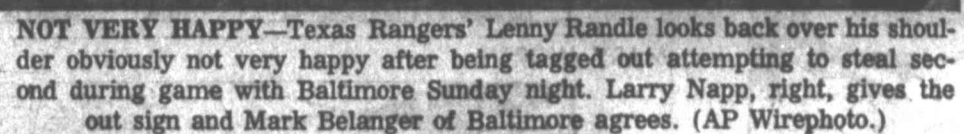

Proly came on in the third and allowed only two hits to the Cubs through the last seven frames. Tyrone was the only Midlander to get two hits in the game, both singles.

It was Mumphrey's blast, however, that turned the tide for Arkansas and ended a brief two-game winning streak by the Cubs. Midland defeated the Travelers twice Saturday to end a four-game losing streak. The fourth game of the six-game set will be played tonight.

Final Score: Arkansas 9, Midland 4. Box score details including runs, hits, errors, and individual player stats for Mumphrey, Kinard, Zahn, etc.

NATIONAL LEAGUE RUNDUP— Capra Blanks Expos, 9-0

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

The "long man" is the guy in the bullpen who can be counted on to pitch five or six solid innings of relief.

To Buzz Capra, "long" meant is achieving his goal.

On Sunday, though, he had to work to prove it. He gave up 10 Montreal hits—but none of the baserunners managed to get back where they started—home plate.

strong as a starter since then, four-hitting the Dodgers May 19, shutting out Houston on three hits May 24, pitching nine innings of three-hit ball in the Braves' 10-inning 2-1 victory over Philadelphia last Tuesday night, then blanking the Expos.

Cubs 7, Dodgers 6 — Mike Marshall, making his 34th appearance of the season, walked Jerry Morales and Billy Williams in the seventh inning, then Jose Cardenal drove his fourth homer of the season into the left field bleachers, putting Chicago in front 6-4. Then Rick Monday doubled and scored what proved to be the winning run on a single by Carmen Fantzone.

AMA Says Thumbs Down On Girls Contact With Boys

CHICAGO (AP)—Girls should not play football, ice hockey or any other rough contact sports with boys, says the American Medical Association's committee on medical aspects of sports.

Its statement, published in the June 3 issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, was approved by the women's and girls' divisions of the American Association for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation.

The AMA committee pointed out that girls are at a distinct disadvantage to boys in contact sports because they are less muscular and substantially lighter in weight.

Even if girls are matched according to weight, it added, they are still exposed to potentially greater injury, since they have a higher ratio of fat tissue than boys.

The committee noted that participation in girls' high school sports competition has increased 175 per cent over the past two years, and cited the health benefits of appropriate sports.

Girls also have asked to participate on boys' teams in non-contact sports, it said, adding that where no comparable girls' program exists or where separate athletic programs are not feasible, "this interim measure is a desirable solution for selected sports."

"However, it is in the long-range interest of both male and female athletes that they have their own programs," the committee said.

Located on the corner of Andrews Highway and West Ohio Street it is extremely visible and convenient to the Village area. A-Aaa Accurate Key Co. opened Jan. 2, 1973, specializing in emergency service, fitting and duplicating keys, installing and repairing locks, opening safes and changing combinations. Its radio dispatch trucks mean quick service in an emergency. Service includes handling any kind of emergency situation such as children locked in bathrooms, people locked from their homes with keys inside the house, locked out of their cars and unlocking handcuffs. Once a man ran into the shop asking that they unlock his handcuffs, but when questioned, he ran out. Other occasions are serious such as an ill person locked in a bathroom. The most common "lock out" occurs when a woman brings in one shopping bag of groceries, lays her keys on the table with the groceries, calls goes out to carry in the other bags and a gust of wind blows

Last U.S. Troops Pull Out Of Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The United States today withdrew the last of the 216 military men it sent to Laos 16 months ago, ending a decade of direct military involvement in the Indochinese kingdom's civil war, diplomatic sources reported.

The last of the force of special "military attaches" took a commercial flight to Bangkok, Thailand, the sources said. The Laotian peace accords specify that all foreign troops are to be out of the country by June 4. The last of more than 17,000 Thai troops pulled out two weeks ago, but military sources say there is no evidence that North Vietnamese has withdrawn any of the estimated 25,000-30,000 troops it has along its supply lines through southeast Laos to the Communist forces in South Vietnam.

Informed sources said the United States probably will continue reconnaissance flights over Laos to keep tabs on North Vietnamese troop movements. The peace agreements also set Tuesday as the deadline for release of all prisoners of war in Laos, but U.S. sources said it looks "almost certain" that the Pathet Lao will not free American pilot Emmet James Kay, Kay, 47, a civilian flying for Continental Air Services Inc., is the last American known to be a prisoner in Indochina. He was captured on May 7, 1973.

Gas Leak Chases 1,200 From Homes

TOLLESON, Ariz. (AP) — About 1,200 persons were evacuated from a 12-block area in this Central Arizona community Sunday night when a valve in a two-inch natural gas pipe, fire officials said. Residents began returning to their homes about 2 1/2 hours later after Arizona Public Service crews from nearby Phoenix repaired the high-pressure transmission line. No fire or injuries were reported.

Police and firemen knocked on doors, asking residents to turn off lights and not to smoke while leaving the area for the homes of friends and relatives. The leak occurred in an alley of a residential area about five blocks from the business district of this agricultural suburb west of Phoenix.

MEMORIES OF MUSSOLINI—

Armed Fascist Bands Roam Italy

ROME (AP) — The band of uniformed young men pitched their tents deep in the wilderness, chopped wood and cooked on an open fire like weekend campers on a holiday. But when a police patrol alerted by an edgy villager, approached the camp in the mountains northeast of Rome last week, it was met by a blinding round of submachine gun fire. The police fired back, killing one youth and capturing two others.

Authorities said they were members of the Mussolini Action Squad, right-wing adventurers named in memory of Italy's Fascist dictator.

Two days before, a bomb was set off during a large antifascist rally in Brescia, a northern industrial city troubled by violence for some months. Seven persons were killed, 100 injured.

To many Italians, such incidents recall the climate of violence and fear which preceded Mussolini's coming to power 50 years ago. They refer to it as a "strategy of tension" higher.

Many members come from families of comfortable means or are sons of low-level state employees, according to police descriptions.

One source said the right-wing terrorists have strong ideas about bringing order to this country of frequent strikes but "some of them are really crazy and have no political ideas."

Other sources say it is much higher.

Such "extraparliamentary" groups. But in a precedent-setting decision last year, a court banned the New Order. It ruled the group was an attempt to reconstruct the Fascist party, outlawed by the postwar constitution.

A Milan prosecutor applied the same law to the leader of the neo-fascist Italian Social Movement, the MSI, the country's fourth largest political party.

The MSI received 2.8 million votes in the 1972 national election, almost 9 per cent of the total vote cast.

Giorgio Almirante, the head of the party, was an official in Mussolini's wartime government. He says he is not ashamed of those days but rejects the fascist label now.

A year ago Parliament stripped Almirante of his immunity as a deputy so he could be charged with reconstructing the Fascist party, but there has been no move yet to bring him to trial.

Chilean Refugees Arrive in Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A Mexican airliner landed here Sunday night with 71 refugees who had taken asylum at the Mexican embassy in Santiago, Chile, since last September's right wing military coup.

On board with the refugees was Mexican Foreign Minister Emilio O. Rabasa, who flew to Chile last week to obtain clearance for the to leave.

The pilot of the Aeromexico DC9 was Luna Sotura, the same pilot who flew the widow of the late President Salvador Allende to asylum in Mexico after her husband died in the presidential palace at Santiago after an attack by troops.

More than 700 other refugees have been flown from Chile to Mexico since the Sept. 11 coup.

$4 Billion In Transit Funds Idle

By MIKE WATERS
WASHINGTON (AP) — The mass transit woes of many cities have one solution waiting for them in Washington. It's bushels of money—estimated at up to $4 billion—available but virtually untouched for almost a year.

All it takes is willingness by state and local governments to make a choice between roads, cars that use them and the fuel they use against energy-saving mass transit.

Law Signed Last August

Last August, Congress passed and President Nixon signed into law a bill freeing billions of dollars from the federal highway trust fund to be used for public transportation, such as buying buses or railcars, or other capital expenses.

Yet, only one state has taken advantage of the law and one other has an application on file with the federal government.

Massachusetts on Thursday received $671 million for use for public mass transit in the Boston area and for a section of highway in the southeastern part of the state. Pennsylvania has filed an application for the Philadelphia area, which could yield about $165 million.

Cities Not Enthusiastic

A spokesman for the Urban Mass Transit Administration of the Transportation Department said more states have not taken advantage of the law because cities view public transportation not as a service but as a burden. A spokesman for DOT's Federal Highway Administration said there is about $4 billion available for public mass transit that cities have not sought.

Asked if there were liabilities in requesting the money, the UMTA spokesman said, "Disadvantages? No, not that I can think of, if a state has done its research."

Money received under the act would not cut back on other federal transportation-related funds going to the state, she said.

Massachusetts Acts

Massachusetts decided it would be of more benefit to have the money that would have been spent on one section of Interstate highway—a beltway stretch around Boston—transferred for expenditure on public mass transportation needs.

If states opt for the transportation, it can only be publicly owned mass transit, and the money comes from Washington after the federal government is convinced the stretch of highway is not vital to the national Interstate system; that the state and local government have a viable transit plan accompanied by reports on environmental impact, civil rights and so on.

Clear Skies Cover Most Of America

By The Associated Press
Hail and high winds battered parts of West Texas, but most of the nation had clear skies and warm weather today.

It was fair over the Mississippi Valley, Great Lakes, Southwest, Lower Ohio Valley, Tennessee Valley, East Texas and much of the Rockies and western plains.

Thundershowers and thunderstorms continued, however, over the southern Atlantic coastal states and much of the plains and Texas.

A cold front from western Montana to northern California blanketed the area with clouds. This cloudiness held temperatures along the Pacific Coast to cooler readings than those reported inland.

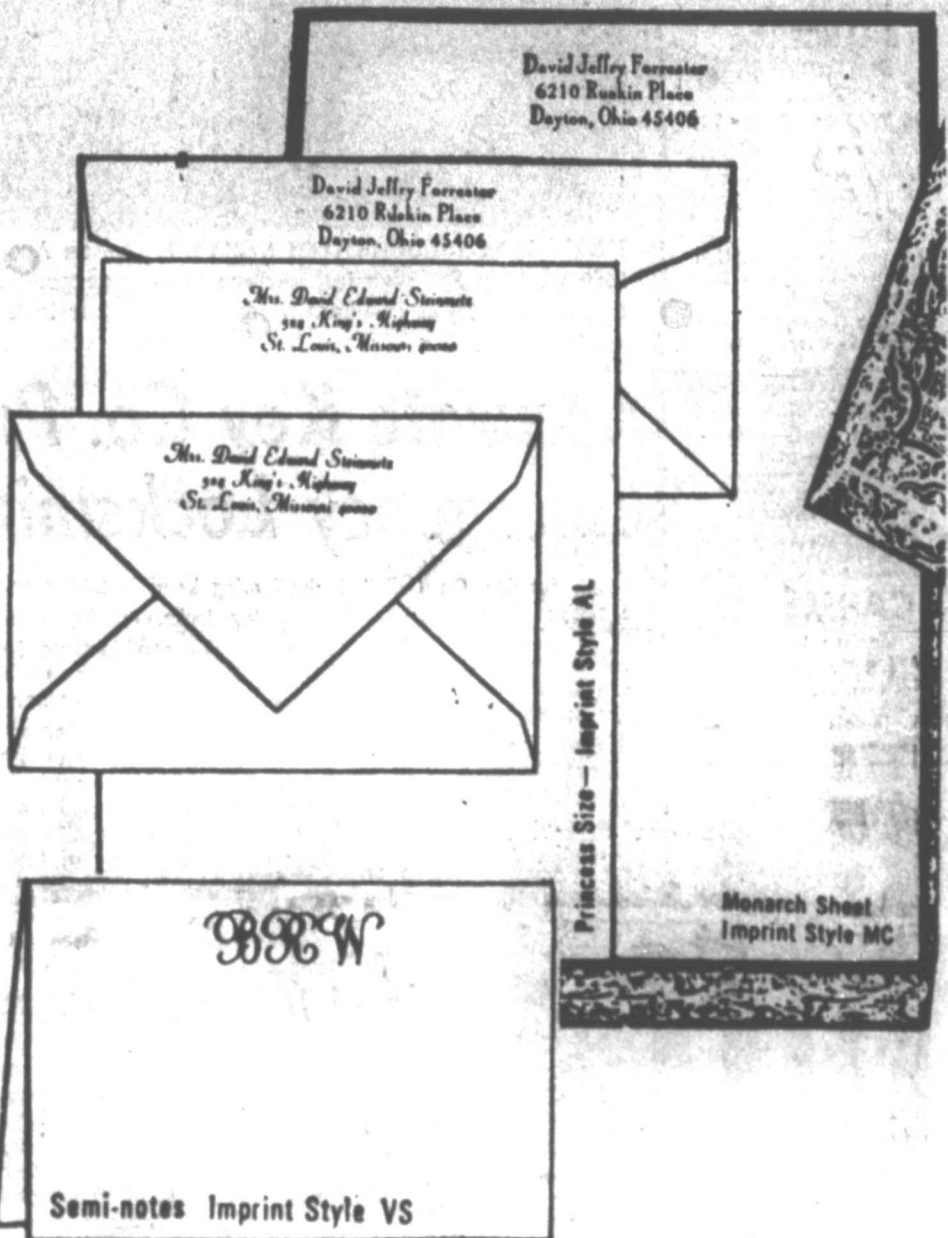

Temperatures ranged from 38 degrees at Pellston, Mich., to 85 degrees at Nellis Air Force Base, Nev.; Phoenix, Ariz.; and Needles, Calif.

Derailment Rips Up Mo-Pac Tracks

THORNDALE, Tex. (AP) — About 500 feet of railroad track were ripped up by the derailment of 14 cars in a Missouri Pacific freight train Sunday.

State police reported the westbound train was moving between Thorndale and Milano when the cars near the rear left the rails. One of the derailed cars carried a flammable corrosive chemical but it did not break open or leak after toppling on one side, officers said.

'Hate-Business' Climate

Critics of the private enterprise system in the United States are mounting an assault on it, which, if not curbed, eventually could erase the system completely.

"For more than a decade now," Wright said, "the business community as a whole has been declining in public favor. Business has failed to do as effective a job as its critics in communicating its point of view to the general public."

Congress today has before it proposed laws which could have the effect of permanently crippling the U.S. oil and gas industry's ability to meet public needs.

Wright cites as an example the efforts being made to put the federal government into the oil business in direct competition with private companies.

Businessmen should and must redouble efforts to restore the credibility of business.

Similar views are expressed by the United States Industrial Council which sees a growing anti-business climate as one of the most critical developments in American public life today.

The USIC declares that a "hate business" mentality is being manifested in a variety of movements devoted to bringing about vastly increased regulation of business enterprises.

"The advocates of consumer legislation seem more determined to destroy business than to encourage quality goods and services," the USIC said.

Wright said business will be unable to persuade legislators to respond positively to business' needs until public opinion toward the business community has shifted to the positive.

Really Burning It Up!

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: Plea on the Potomac: 'Do not impeach me!'

WASHINGTON — Over brandy and a cigar aboard the presidential yacht Sequoia, President Nixon appealed to a dozen conservative congressmen the other evening to take a stand on impeachment.

"If you believe I am innocent," he urged, "vote against impeachment in the House. Don't pass the buck to the Senate."

He reportedly fears many representatives may try to get off the hook by casting a procedural vote for impeachment.

This rationale could produce an overwhelming House vote in favor of impeachment. The psychological impact, he is said to feel, could influence senators to vote to remove him from office.

On the other hand, he said, the Founding Fathers had given the American president more "maneuvering room" than other rulers possess.

Earlier in the evening, Rep. Gillespie Montgomery, D-Miss., asked Nixon magnanimously: "Mr. President, what can we do for you?"

The President responded to this offer by urging his conservative guests to support his veto of "irresponsible spending bills." Government spending was spurring inflation, he said.

The President obviously cheered by the success of peace negotiations in the Middle East, was in a bantering, buoyant mood throughout the three-hour dinner cruise.

He joked with his guests about running Secretary of State Henry Kissinger for the Senate. Kissinger could be groomed for the seat of retiring Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., and a bipartisan campaign could be organized to make Kissinger chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, the President speculated gleefully.

He suggested that the resourceful Kissinger, as a Senate chairman, might even be able to negotiate peaceful relations between the Senate and the White House.

The President gloated over the defeat of Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., which will remove him as Senate Foreign Relations chairman. As next in line, Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., would have to give up the Senate Banking chairmanship to take over Fulbright's chair.

The President said he hoped Sparkman will choose the Foreign Relations chairmanship, which he now has said he will do. And this would make Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., the new Senate Banking chairman.

"Those bankers are beside themselves," chortled Nixon. "The bankers don't want Proxmire."

Speaking seriously, Nixon told his dinner guests that two days before the Syrian-Israeli truce, "I wouldn't have given a $0-$0 chance of an agreement."

BRUCE BLOSSAT The Energy Race Finds Shortages Are Winning

WASHINGTON (NEA) — "Project Independence," President Nixon's oft-proclaimed goal of oil self-sufficiency by 1980, is revealed now as something not achievable even with mirrors.

In the layman's world, independence means just that. But the new energy chief, John Sawhill, says the government does not envision "zero oil imports" by the chosen target date.

Bear in mind that, before the 1973 Middle Eastern war and its attendant oil crisis, the United States was importing some 38 per cent of its annual petroleum requirements and was projecting imports by 1980 at 50 per cent.

The question: How is the gap between 30 per cent and 50 per cent to be closed?

As a base for an answer, we have to digest the obvious. The America of 1974, not withstanding the sharply diminished birth rate and other possible constricting factors, will have more people, more cars, more factories, more office buildings, more houses and apartments (even unmarried couples need heat).

So let's give Mr. Sawhill and his helpers our full sympathy as they tackle the awesome complexities involved in finding the energy to keep a still expanding country going at a reasonable pace.

But, giving the Federal Energy Office that much, we don't have to go overboard and assume that they have begun their hard task with any special competence — for all their good intentions. The fact is they haven't.

Sawhill suggests to newsmen that conservation by energy users is a big key to closing the gap between resources and needs. There'll be a big appeal to industry to use oil more efficiently or shift to coal.

The automobile makers are going to get an official plea to make cars lighter, better designed and equipped for fuel savings.

Conservation in the home will be pushed, including an urging that dwellings already built but not well insulated be "retro-fitted" to save energy.

The conservation bit has some tangles in it. Everybody knows we have astonishing reserves of coal, but much of this stock is air-polluting high sulphur material. Research in reducing coal's sulphur content is proceeding slowly, and a quick switch by industry would exact a steep price in dirty air.

Archelaus, Herod Antipas and Philip, Matthew 2. Recognized at 2nd clue — excellent; 3rd clue... good.

Talk moves then to new oil sources, and here Sawhill speaks brightly but too vaguely of the promise of offshore continental-shelf discoveries.

The energy boss did lay stress on the fact that on-land exploration is mostly the work of the independents, not the big firms. But only a chance en-

Dear Editor: My factulous neighbor says he notes the Tar-and-Feather-Nixon mob still is demanding that he give them the evidence they need to prove he is a crook.

And if he doesn't come across with such proof, they will charge that his refusal to help them clobber him proves he is unfit to give us people good moral leadership.

Which we surely need, considering how long we have been brainwashed by morally indignant, clout-peddling congressmen and by "news" people who buy and sell stolen State and Defense department's documents.

RALPH NOVAK For Whom The Booth Tolls; Or Something

NEW YORK (NEA) — This is the era of law enforcement in television — fictionally, anyway. You hardly can turn on your television set without confronting a private detective or police officer of some description: black or white, thin or fat, handsome or ugly, crippled or healthy, urban or rural, intellectual or physical. So it is only natural that soon we'll be seeing series on the order of "Toll Booth," starring someone like Desi Arnaz Jr. as an exact change lane attendant on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Imagine an interview with the producer of "Toll Booth," who would be named something like Phoenician Ersatz:

Ersatz announced that the first episode would be entitled "The Slug," with Ricardo Montalban making a rare guest appearance as an ordinarily law-abiding citizen who runs out of change and tries to slip a bogus coin past a toll machine, unwittingly starting himself on a disintegrating line of crime.

"This series will deal with the pressing moral issues of our time," Ersatz said. "We will confront the question of good vs. bad and come out in favor of good. We will confront the question of morality vs. immorality and come out in favor of morality. We will confront the question of profit vs. cancellation and come out in favor of profit."

Ersatz conceded that a series about a toll booth attendant was not something that seemed like a surefire hit but he added that most of the good law enforcement areas have already been used. "What was left?" he asked with a shrug. "A meter maid in Toledo? A dog catcher in Muscle Shoals? A security guard at Watergate? Look, we had sponsors clamoring for a nice cops and robbers show and we had to come up with something; do you expect us to put on a half hour of blank air?"

"There are all kinds of possibilities for this series. We'll have one show on the youth problem you know, where a five-year-old tries to run the booth on his tricycle without paying and the attendant shows compassion but resolve, arresting the kid while recommending that he be paroled after five years. Then we've got another topical show where a radical group of blacks takes over the toll booth to protest against the white majority's hoarding of change. And for a little light touch, we've got an episode where Desi finds some romantic interest when a pretty little model's quarter becomes stuck in the machine."

Critics have suggested that "Toll Booth" may be so ridiculous that nobody in America will ever watch it but Ersatz scoffs at that idea.

"No program is what is ridiculous," he says. "What do you think people should read books? Plant vegetables? Play chess? Paint pictures? Don't be silly. 'Toll Booth' has the potential to be as big a success, financially and artistically, as 'Bridget Loves Bernie' and it could be the biggest thing to hit television since 'The Koolhauser Show.'"

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, (D-Me.) on the White House announcement that no more tapes or documents would be provided Watergate investigators.

"We have always maintained there is no difference between tests for peaceful purposes and those for military purposes. The technology is the same."

"Pakistani Ambassador Niaz Naik on India's detonation of a nuclear device.

Tardy Delegates May Get Surprise

AUSTIN (AP) — Tardy delegates for the 2 p.m. session of the Texas Constitutional Convention today may get a surprise.

Speaker Price Daniel Jr., convention president, threatened Friday that if a working majority of delegates had not registered in today within 10 minutes after roll call he would either accept a motion to adjourn or a motion to put a call on the convention.

A call on the convention, if voted by those present, would send convention sergeants at arms and state officers out looking for absent delegates with orders to bring them into the convention hall.

Such a call has never been used during this convention and rarely during legislative session.

Daniel made his threat Friday as he chastised the delegates for their attendance habits. He said the convention had been starting about half an hour behind schedule each day because of difficulties in getting the necessary two-thirds quorum, or 120 members, in the hall.

Daniel also urged the delegates Friday to begin work at 9:30 a.m. today to make up for time that has been lost by their laggard appearances. However, the delegates chose to meet at 2 p.m. instead, by a 75-54 vote.

When, and if, the convention gets under way this afternoon, it will continue debate on the General Provisions Article, specifically the struggle between supporters of private and public beaches over an environmental section in the proposed new constitution.

Kennedy Favored Over Ford In New Survey By Gallup

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy would outpoll Vice President Gerald R. Ford if a presidential election were held now, according to the latest Gallup poll.

In a poll of 1,543 adults May 10-13, 50 per cent preferred Kennedy, 39 per cent favored Ford and 11 per cent were undecided on how they would vote.

Other Gallup surveys conducted this year identified the two men as the top choices of Democratic and Republican voters for the presidential nominations of their parties.

The latest poll followed recent Gallup findings that 24 per cent of American voters identified themselves as Republicans, 42 per cent said they were Democrats and 34 per cent identified themselves as independents.

OPEN FOR BUSINESS—The city's swimming pools are open for the summer and with school out business is brisk, as a visit by the photographer last weekend showed.

Impeachment Panel To Look Into ITT Matter This Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee turns its attention this week to the ITT antitrust settlement, confident there's plenty to look at despite the special prosecutor's announcement absolving corporate officials of wrongdoing in the case.

"Our inquiry is completely independent of that," said Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., when asked about the effect of the prosecutor's finding.

John Doar, chief counsel for the impeachment inquiry, said that, "unless you start with the premise that every allegation is true, I don't think it yanks the rug out from under us."

Meanwhile, a committee member, Rep. Jerome Waldie, D-Calif., predicted Nixon would be impeached and tried in the Senate. Waldie appeared Sunday on the CBS program "Face the Nation," with fellow committee member Lawrence Hogan, R-Md.

Hogan did not agree with Waldie that Nixon would be impeached for obstruction of justice in the Watergate cover-up, but said that if impeachment does come "it will come in the areas related to Watergate."

In the ITT phase of the impeachment inquiry, the committee is investigating the allegation that an antitrust suit against International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation was settled in return for a pledge of financial help toward the cost of conducting the 1972 Republican National Convention in San Diego. In addition, it is alleged that perjury may have been committed by several administration officials during the Senate hearings on the nomination of Richard Kleindienst as attorney general. Last Thursday, special prosecutor Leon Jaworski, in a letter to Rep. J. J. Pickle of Texas, ranking Democrat on the investigations subcommittee of the House Commerce Committee, said that part of the investigation relating to allegations of federal criminal offenses by ITT executives related to settlement of the antitrust cases "has failed to disclose the commission of any such violations"

"We were never pursuing that aspect," said Albert Jenner, minority counsel for the impeachment inquiry. Jenner indicated that the inquiry has focused primarily on whether President Nixon was aware of possible false statements by administration officials at the Kleindienst confirmation hearings.

Kleindienst pleaded guilty May 16 to a misdemeanor charge of refusing to answer fully and accurately questions from a Senate committee.

Three members of the prosecutor's staff resigned in protest because they believed Kleindienst should have faced a more serious charge. In a letter to James D. St. Clair, the President's chief Watergate lawyer, Doar asked for tapes of 20 conversations that took place during the Kleindienst confirmation hearings.

St. Clair has told the committee the President has agreed only to turn over a transcript of one conversation. That one was with Mitchell and H. R. Haldeman on April 4, 1972.

Doar had said in his letter that he sought the tapes to determine whether the President or his aides took part in or had knowledge of "a plan or course of action, if any, which was designed to or did withhold from the Senate Judiciary Committee during the course of said hearings evidence to which it was entitled or to keep from the committee facts relevant to its inquiry."

Learn To Swim Program Starts

The City of Midland Swim Team's summer season Learn To Swim Program gets under way today in the Mabe Memorial Swim Center, 3003 N. A. St.

Persons who want to take part in the program should contact the team 694-7755, from 8 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The first session will end June 13.

The COM organization will offer six other sessions throughout the summer — June 17-27, July 1-11, July 15-25, July 29-August 8 and August 12-22. Instructions will be given from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. and from 1:30 to 4 p.m., Monday through Thursday.

Membership in the COM organization is not required. Any Midlander, from age one on up can take part in the program.

Each two-week session includes eight lessons of 30 minutes duration each.

Cancer Fighters To Examine Double-Barreled Medications

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government cancer fighters plan to explore a possibility that some of the life-saving anticancer drugs may provide a kind of double-barreled control over malignancy.

New-found tentative evidence indicates that one such drug may sharply reduce any risk of a second, unrelated cancer developing years later as a result of a patient's initial treatment.

The new, still-unsubstantiated evidence was reported recently by Dr. Giulio J. D'Angio of New York's Memorial Hospital for Cancer and Allied Diseases at a conference sponsored by the American Cancer Society at Dallas. He identified the drug as Actinomycin-D, an antibiotic.

Dr. C. Gordon Zubrod of the National Cancer Institute said the institute plans to explore this evidence.

During the past year, they and others have voiced suspicions that some still-unidentified components of highly-successful drug and-or radiation treatment for certain cancers might cause unrelated second cancers in some patients, primarily children, years later.

Dr. Zubrod, director of the division of cancer treatment at NCI, said a new dimension appears opened up for research—based on the possibility suggested by Dr. D'Angio's report, that certain drugs in the arsenal of the cancer fighters might actually provide some strong built-in insurance against production of such subsequent malignancies.

Marine Reservists In California For Summer Training

Marine Corps reservists departed Midland Air Terminal Saturday for two weeks of active training.

Headquarters and Service Company of the Fourth Motor Transport Battalion, U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, will participate in two weeks summer training at Camp Pendleton, Calif., through June 22.

The unit will conduct annual weapons requalification firing and polish their military skills in motor transport operations.

They will also go through "drown proofing," which is the means of staying afloat for hours without artificial help, using only the body and clothing.

I. Ronnie R. Glibbreath of Midland commands the unit. The battalion commander is Lt. Col. Willis H. Gilmore Jr., also of Midland.

Six officers and 46 enlisted Marine reservists from the Midland-Odessa area will attend the summer training camp.

Two Losers In Legislative Runoff Races Eye Possible Recount Pleas

By LEE JONES
Associated Press Writer

Two runoff candidates for state legislative seats faced decisions today whether to seek recounts that could turn their narrow apparent defeats into victories.

Meanwhile, diverging interpretations of the results of 22 runoff primaries for state representative came from the campaign headquarters of the two most active candidates for House speaker.

Rep. Frank Lombardino apparently defeated former Sen. Joe Bernal Saturday for a seat in the Senate. But the conservative ex-policeman's victory margin was only 164 votes out of more than 38,000 cast.

Even closer was Gonzalo Barrientos' victory over Rep. Wilson Foreman, D-Austin, who had been in the House for 14 years. Barrientos edged out Foreman by only 84 votes, but Foreman indicated he might let the result stand without a recount.

"If some of the conservative boxes didn't have enough foresight to get out and vote, I don't know if it's worth challenging to look out after people like that," Foreman said.

Three other incumbents lost primaries May 4.

Barring Republican victories in November, the Austin delegation—total male and conservative as recently as 1972—will consist of a Mexican-American man, a black woman, an Anglo woman and an Anglo man, all liberals, in 1975.

Incumbent House members winning their runoff were Reps. Bill Hilliard and Chris Miller, Fort Worth; Paul Ragsdale, Dallas; A. L. Dramberger, San Antonio; Elmer Martin, Colorado City, and Elmer Tarbox, Lubbock, all Democrats.

The November general election will see eight contested races for senator and 64 for state representative. Ten senators and 78 representatives, including three who won runoff Saturday, can relax election night because they have no opposition. Another eight non-incumbents won runoff and are unopposed in November.

One speaker candidate, Rep. Fred Head, D-Athens, issued a statement saying he was "very pleased with election results in House races over the state . . . We have more than enough votes to win this speaker's race, and we intend to win it."

Kraege Polan, a spokesman for speaker candidate Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, asserted that the runoff victors included nine pledged to Parker. Polan called Head's statement "a continuation of his stampede tactics."

Bernal's attempt to regain the Senate seat he lost in 1972 to Nelson Wolff—who failed Saturday to win a congressional primary—wasn't the only comeback try that fizzled.

Dreams Defeated
Former Reps. Tom Lee of San Antonio, Edmond "Sonny" Jones of Houston and Delwin Jones of Lubbock all saw their dreams of returning to the legislature go down in defeat.

Guy Floyd of San Antonio, who lost his House seat in 1972 to Republican Rep. Jim Nowlin, won a runoff victory but has an uphill fight in November against Rep. Joe Sage, R-San Antonio.

Jones' defeat by Rep. Elmer Tarbox, D-Lubbock, was of particular interest since Jones was one of the key members of convicted ex-Speaker Gus Mutscher's team who were rejected by the voters in 1972. Jones sponsored the redistricting plan through which Mutscher had sought to ruin the political careers of his "Dirty 30" critics in the House.

Survey Recommends Jury System Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many citizens called for jury duty feel frustrated by the inefficiency of the courts, a study prepared for the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration says.

"Wasting jurors' time is a clear-cut example of the criminal justice system's indifference to the needs of citizens," said Administrator Donald E. Santarelli. "More efficient court operations can make jury service more attractive and meaningful to those who serve."

Santarelli said the efficiency recommendations proposed by the researchers could save the nation's courts $50 million annually.

The director of LEAA's research institute, Gerald M. Caplan, said the courts spend some $200 million a year in juror fees.

The survey of certain state and local courts in Georgia, Maryland, Minnesota, Colorado, New Jersey, Texas and Michigan was conducted by Bird Engineering Research Associates Inc. of Vienna, Va., with a $157,365 LEAA grant.

The researchers urged several procedural changes, including staggering trial schedules rather than starting several trials on the same morning, and notifying jurors in advance of days they need not report for duty.

The survey said many citizens summoned for jury duty are distressed at being told to report to the courthouse daily, then forced to wait in a dingy lounge until they are ultimately selected for a trial.

The study estimated that two million persons are summoned for jury duty in the nation's courts annually and said "it is important that these citizens find their participation in the judicial process meaningful and useful."

Daley Undergoes Artery Surgery

CHICAGO (AP) — Mayor Richard J. Daley is in good condition after undergoing surgery to remove fatty deposits in an artery on the left side of his neck.

Dr. Hushang Javid and two assistants performed the 90-minute operation Sunday at Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center. It was designed to prevent a major stroke from occurring, a Daley spokesman said.

Daley, 72, had a minor stroke May 6 and was hospitalized for 12 days. He was expected to stay in the hospital several days.

Eight States To Hold Primaries Tuesday

By BILL STALL
Associated Press Writer

The year's biggest flurry of primary elections hits eight states Tuesday when voters choose nominees to succeed retiring governors in California and New Mexico and a U.S. senator in Iowa.

Also at stake are nominations for senator and governor in South Dakota, a Senate seat in California, the governorship of Iowa and 76 U.S. House seats in the eight states. Forty-three of the House seats are in California.

Eighteen Democrats and six Republicans want to succeed GOP Gov. Ronald Reagan, who is stepping down after two terms and preparing for a possible White House bid in 1976. Public opinion polls indicated the clear front-runners were Democrat Edmund G. Brown Jr., 36, son of the governor that Reagan defeated in 1966, and Republican Houston I. Flournoy, 44, California state controller. Brown is California secretary of state.

In New Mexico, six Democrats and four Republicans are bidding for nominations to succeed Democratic Gov. Bruce King, who cannot succeed himself.

Iowa Democrat Harold E. Hughes is vacating his U.S. Senate seat, abandoning politics to become a religious lay leader.

Democratic Rep. John C. Culver is unopposed for the nomination for Hughes' seat. State Sen. George Milligan and State Rep. David Stanley, who lost to Hughes six years ago, are in the GOP primary.

Republican Gov. Robert D. Ray of Iowa is unopposed in his party renomination bid. There are three Democratic candidates.

In South Dakota, Gov. Richard F. Kneip's bid for a third term is challenged in the Democratic primary by Lt. Gov. William Dougherty, his running mate in the past two campaigns.

Democratic Sen. George McGovern is unopposed for his party's renomination, while three Republicans compete to battle him in the general election, including retired Air Force Col. Leo K. Thorsness, who spent six years in a North Vietnamese prison camp.

U.S. House nominations are at stake in New Jersey, Montana and Mississippi.

In California, Sen. Alan Cranston faced only token opposition from two other Democrats. There were five Republicans in the race including state Sen. H. L. Richardson and Earl Brian, former health and welfare secretary under Reagan.

The California election could provide a test of potential reaction to Watergate and related political scandals.

Since 1969 Republican Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke, 50, was considered the front-runner and apparent heir of Reagan's support for the gubernatorial nomination. But his support weakened and his campaign funds virtually dried up when he was indicted by a Watergate grand jury on three counts of lying to the Senate Judiciary Committee in 1972.

Californians also will decide a major political reform measure put on the ballot by petition campaign in reaction to Watergate.
