City Selected For PPG Plant

Firm Acquires Option To Buy Tract Of Land

PPG Industries announced today from its Pittsburgh, Pa., headquarters that it has acquired an option to purchase approximately 700 acres of land seven miles west of Midland for possible construction of a new fiber glass plant.

The plant would produce fiber glass for the plastics

Flight Bill For Heatly Hits $4,000

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — An Abilene pilot who flies State Rep. W. S. Heatly of Paducah on expensive charter flights said today he has $1,600 more in bills he has not sent to Heatly.

That would bring to more than $4,000 the amount for which Heatly will have sought state reimbursement if he files a claim for the additional fees.

Sam Jennings, the pilot, said in a telephone interview the $1,600 represent four or five flights between Austin and Paducah, Heatly's home town.

Jennings was quoted Tuesday as having said he merely piloted aircraft leased by Heatly from other firms. But he said today that was inaccurate and added, "Actually, I fly about 10 airplanes for different companies. I have access to all 10 of them."

He said he reimburses the owners from the rental fees paid to him by Heatly or applies the amounts to bills for pilot service he has provided the aircraft owners. He said the owners know about the practice and do not object.

The lease amounts in the past have ranged from $45 to $85 per hour, and the new batch of in-reinforcements market, according to Robert A. McLaughlin, vice president and general manager of the fiber glass division of PPG.

Engineering feasibility studies now are being conducted.

The option runs through March 31, 1975. It was negotiated with the Industrial Foundation of Midland, Inc., which is sponsored by the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

PPG's fiber glass division has manufacturing facilities in Shelby and Lexington, N.C., with a combined employment of approximately 2,400 persons, and a research and development center in suburban Pittsburgh.

The division is a major producer of fiber glass for plastics and tire reinforcements and for textiles.

PPG also is a leading manufacturer of flat glass, chemicals and coatings, and resins.

The company's other manufacturing facilities in Texas include a flat glass plant now under construction at Wichita Falls, a coatings and resins facility at Houston, and chemical plants at Corpus Christi and Beaumont.

The company began operations in 1883 as the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. Eighty-five years later, the name was changed to PPG Industries to reflect more accurately the expanded scope of the company's worldwide activities.

PPG has more than 38,000 employees and 76 manufacturing and fabricating facilities around the world.

Martin Allday, president of the Industrial Foundation of Midland, Inc., read the long-awaited announcement released today by PPG Industries at the June meeting of directors of the Midland Chamber of Commerce held today noon in the Petroleum Club.

He lauded the chamber of commerce for its tremendous role in the PPG project from its inception, coordinating the efforts of all individuals and organizations in the program, which has been under way for almost two years. Allday termed the chamber the "catalyst" in the joint effort.

Allday expressed appreciation to all who have had a hand in the industrial development.

Allday was joined by chamber President K. M. Jastrow and

Strawn Gas Strike Seen For Sutton

CEK Petroleum Co., operating from Midland, was running production casing for completion try at No. 2 Cusenbary, Sutton County Strawn gas prospect, 3 1/2 miles northeast of the Strawn gas opener in the Sawyer field.

It has indicated production with the flowing of gas at the estimated, daily rate of 10 million cubic feet on a 35-foot drilling break from 6,413-6,448 feet, in the Strawn, topped at 6,316 feet.

Earlier, it kicked gas while drilling in the Strawn, at the rate of 1.509 million cubic feet daily at 5,254 feet, and at the rate of 1.596 million cubic feet per day, at 5,504 feet.

The project spots 1,220 feet from south and 1,205 feet from west lines of section 34, block C, HE&WT survey, 15 miles southeast of Sonora.

East Basin Areas Draw Exploration

Wildcat projects have been planned in Sterling, Schleicher and McCulloch counties.

American Quasar Petroleum Co. will drill No. 1-A Wilkinson Ranch, an 8,000-foot searcher in Sterling, eight miles northwest of Sterling City.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 14, block-23, H&TC survey, 3 1/2 miles southeast of the Crede, East (Wolfcamp) field, but separated by failures.

Schleicher Test
I. W. Lovelady of Midland plans No. 1 O'Harrow as a 5,500-foot Strawn lime searcher in Schleicher, 17 miles northeast of Eldorado.

Drill site is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 68, block H, GH&SA survey, 1/2 mile north of the depleted Strawn lime gas opener and 1/2 mile northeast of Canyon oil production in the O'Harrow field. McCulloch Venture

Neal Drilling Co., Humble, plans No. 1 E. L. Richter, a 1,500-foot Ellenburger probe in McCulloch, 1 1/2 mile southwest of the one-well Fife gas field and of a producer assigned to the Lojon (Strawn) gas field.

Drill site is 330 feet from north and east lines of C. Schuren survey 1101, three miles southwest of Fife.

Canyon Sand Well Finaled In Irion

R. L. Burns Corp. of Dallas has completed its No. 1-1160 Baker as a Canyon sand discovery in Irion County, 12 miles southwest of Mertzon.

Calculated, daily flowing potential was for 300 barrels of 30-gravity oil, no water, with gas-oil ratio measuring 2,853-1. Production was through perforations as 6,961-6,997 feet, which had been acidized with 3,500 gallons and fractured with 3,500 gallons and 62,500 pounds.

Under Kelly bushing elevation of 2,524 feet, the following tops were called: San Andres, 1,260; Canyon sand, 6,956; Strawn sand, 7,720 and Ellenburger, 7,760 feet.

It was drilled as an Ellen-

Cool Day Savored By Texans

Texans savored a second straight day of unusually cool weather for early summer today.

Midland was no exception to the trend, with a high Tuesday of 90 degrees. It will be slightly warmer today and Thursday, with highs in the low 90s, according to National Weather Service forecasters at Midland Air Terminal. The overnight low was 63 degrees and tonight's low will be in the same range.

Skies were generally clear except for a patch of clouds here and there, including a thunderstorm west of Lubbock in early morning.

It was still rather warm in far West Texas around El Paso, where the mercury hit Tuesday's top mark of 100 degrees. Winds gusted to 48 miles per hour there in an overnight thunderstorm which brought .36 inch of rain.

The early morning mark in El Paso was 69 degrees. Readings elsewhere scaled down to 53 at Wichita Falls, according to The Associated Press.

Judge Begins Trial Of 'Plumbers'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge today began the criminal trial of former White House domestic affairs chief John D. Ehrlichman and three other men accused of illegally attempting to gather psychiatric information about Daniel Ellsberg after the Pentagon Papers leak.

The case stems from the Sept. 3, 1971, break-in at the office of Ellsberg's psychiatrist by the so-called White House plumbers. Ellsberg had leaked without a properly-issued warrant the Pentagon Papers to the media.

U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell has said the question before the jury in the trial will be simple: Did the defendants plot to violate the Fourth Amendment rights of the psychiatrist, Dr. Lewis Fielding of Beverly Hills, Calif.?

The Fourth Amendment of the Constitution prohibits searches by government agents are charged specifically with plotting the break-in "without legal process, probable cause, search warrant or other lawful authority." The maximum penalty for the single conspiracy indictment is 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

In addition, the 48-year-old Ehrlichman, a successful Seattle lawyer before joining the administration, is charged with one count of lying to the FBI and three counts of making false statements before a federal grand jury. He is liable for 30 years in jail sentences and $50,000 in fines.

The four plumbers defendants are charged with plotting the break-in and contempt charges for refusal to testify before a grand jury.

The others are Bernard L. Barker, 57, and Eugenio R. Martinez, 51, members of the anti-Castro Cuban community of Miami. According to Dr. Fielding they were spotted by Spanish-speaking cleaning people in his modern office building in downtown Beverly Hills during the early morning hours of the break-in.

The burglars found nothing useful.

The four plumbers defendants

Thus, Gesell has ruled out a defense based on the origins and motives of the plumbers, a special White House investigative unit established to plug news leaks.

Nonetheless, the principal defendant still is Ehrlichman, who, in August 1971, approved a covert operation against Fielding "if it is not traceable."

The second defendant is G. Gordon Liddy, 43, the silent man of the Watergate scandals, who is under multiyear jail senences for the original Watergate break-in and contempt charges for refusal to testify before a grand jury.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court left the Detroit school busing case hanging today, the last regularly scheduled decision day of its 1973-74 term. The court's inaction in the case could mean that a decision will be delayed until next fall when the court's next term opens.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The Democratic-dominated U.S. Conference of Mayors sent President Nixon a challenge today to renew his commitment to the New Federalism by sending more unfettered money to the nation's cities.

Nixon Signs NATO Pact

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — President Nixon joined other leaders of the North Atlantic alliance today in signing a declaration for wider cooperation between America and Western Europe.

The signing ceremony preceded Nixon's departure for a Moscow summit meeting on a "journey of peace."

At a closed meeting of the North Atlantic council, the President reportedly gave private assurances that U.S. troops in Europe will not be reduced and that in his talks with Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev he would always have in mind America's alliance with Western Europe.

Midland College Trustees Okay $1,034,163 Budget

By BRUCE CAMPBELL

A $1,034,163 budget for the 1974-75 fiscal year was approved by the Midland College Board of Trustees after a public hearing at its monthly meeting Tuesday night.

The budget, a $394,966 increase over the previous year's funding, will not require a tax increase. Midland College President Dr. Al G. Langford said the present tax rate will bring enough money to satisfy the approved budget.

The budget includes salaries, totaling $250,552, for 23 fulltime instructors.

The budget also includes pay raises for all employees of the college. The raises average seven per cent and were granted by trustees at their May meeting.

In approving the budget, the trustees also approved a 1974-75 tax rate of 14 cents per $100 assessed property valuation — the same as 1973-74.

In addition to the funds earmarked for the general operating fund, the school has available $63,551 in state technical-vocational funds and $15,429 in local educational contracts.

The major expenditures in the budget include $56,356 for instructional administration and $197,654 for operating and maintenance of the school facilities.

The college's fledgling athletic department has been apportioned $23,900, including scholarships.

In other items related to the budget, the trustees voted to release bonds of $655,000 from the Midland National Bank and granted $131,617.35 for furniture contracts to various local firms.

Also approved was the renewal of the college's membership in the Association of Community College Trustees.

The trustees also asked Langford to make recommendations for a fund-raising and advisory committee for landscaping the campus.

Trustees expressed hope that landscaping funds, not a budget item, could be raised by small donations to the school by the citizens of Midland.

Hearing On Voters In Upton County Judge Race Recessed

RANKIN — A hearing to settle the qualifications of several voters which eventually will determine the winner of the June 1 Democratic runoff election for Upton County judge, has been recessed until 10 a.m. Saturday.

The question of qualifications of some of the persons who voted in the election was raised when Walter Campbell, the defeated candidate, filed a suit in 112th District Court here. Campbell was defeated 595 to

Tall City Winner Takes New Title

Midland's Our Little Miss, Aretha McGruder, will move on to worldwide competition in August following her selection as second runner-up last weekend in the Texas pageant held at Baylor University in Waco.

The Tall City's entry received a standing ovation when she sang "Why," a song of her own composition, to a capacity crowd Friday night in Waco Hall.

The World's Our Little Miss Pageant is slated Aug. 11-17 at Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge, La. Winners from throughout the world will be competing for the pageant title.

Aretha garnered the local title in March under sponsorship of Iota Beta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. She is the daughter of Mrs. Shirley McGruder, 415 Dornard St.

Mrs. Dale DeBord and Mrs. Frank Flournoy, Iota Beta chapter members, served on the staff for the Texas pageant.

Others attending from the Midland competition included Angela Estille, Midland; Stacy Beam, Odessa; Sabra Blue, Crane; Dawn Kloor, Big Spring; and Shanna Blue, Odessa. Odessa's Our Little Miss, Margaret Whitehead, rated among the top ten competitors at the state pageant.

Couple Married In Chapel Rites

Jane Mickey became the bride of Joe Rangel in a ceremony Saturday in a chapel of the First Christian Church.

The Rev. Steve Edwards, senior minister of the church, officiated the 2 p.m. service.

Musical selections were played by Carol Moorman of Pecos, organist.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Mickey, 2519 Gulf St., and Mrs. Pedro Rangel, 1006 S. Jackson St., and the late Pedro Rangel.

Honor attendants to the couple were Zelma Mannan of Odessa, maid of honor, and Joe Campos of Colorado City, best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the church.

4A-WEDNESDAY, JUNE 26, 1974

Dear Abby

-By Abigail van Buren

If Husband Won't See Counselor, Go Alone

DEAR ABBY: I can't believe I'm actually writing a letter to Dear Abby! Wow, what a corny trip! I know you're not "God," but you say a lot in a few words and your answers make sense, so here goes:

I'm a 34-year-old married woman with two kids and a million problems. The biggest is my marriage. It's going downhill fast. My husband and I fight all the time. We've got money problems, in-law problems, he says I'm a lousy housekeeper and he's right, and I say he spends too much time with "the boys" and not enough with me and the kids. (He's a sports freak.) We can't even discuss our problems without ending up in a fight. The only thing we've got going for us is sex. That's terrific, but you can't stay in bed all the time.

Don't tell me we need "counseling." He'd never go. And I can't afford a shrink, so forget that.

All right, Abby, you've got all the answers. Answer this one.

MISERABLE

DEAR MIS: The answer I have for you, you won't like. You need professional counseling. (Friends are a waste of time. They tell you only what they think you want to hear.)

You say your husband won't go? Well, go alone. If you learn how to handle your husband, you will know more than you know now. And with luck, you can get him to go later.

If you need a shrink and can't afford one, your Family Service or Welfare Department can provide that at a price you CAN afford. Now get going, and let me hear from you in 30 days.

DEAR ABBY: I was a very happily married woman until I went to this mind reader. She told me that my husband was on drugs and also that he was unfaithful to me.

I asked my husband about this and he denied it. I want to believe my husband because we have two kids, and I don't want to break up my marriage. Abby, why would that mind

Midlanders Learn Riding Skills

A group of young Midlanders completed a well rounded camp program today at Hat-A Girl Scout Ranch near Bakersfield.

Special emphasis during the camping session was on horsemanship. The young women gained experience in riding, how to bridle and saddle, groom, care for a horse, safety factors and more for them to safely and thoroughly enjoy horses. They rode twice a day and had periodic discussions on horses and riding.

They also had time for such activities as swimming, hiking, arts-crafts, singing, volleyball, softball and other games.

Attending from Midland were: Brenda Woods, Mary Vines, Kay Williams, Taylor, Julie Stewart, Ruth Lawson, Margaret Hanks, Julie Coppen, Meredith Fryar, Julie Dabow, Teresa Brown and Amy Bates.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Will Towel Lint Attract Silverfish?

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Editorials Associate

Polly's Problems
DEAR POLLY — What causes new towels to shed lint even after being washed many times? The lint even sticks to one's skin. My towels were gifts at a wedding shower and bought by different people at different places. I cannot take them back to one store. I have seen silverfish in my apartment and wonder if they could be the cause. — MRS. P.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with adults who push their way ahead of children in line at a store or drive-in. I have two small children who often go to the store for me and find this most upsetting. — LOUISE.

DEAR POLLY — I am answering Elaine who wanted to know how to remove built-up soap scum deposits from her washing machine. I recommend one cup vinegar to one gallon hot water. Run this through one half the regular wash cycle, then let stand for about 10 minutes and finish the cycle. For the rinse cycle let the tub fill normally to rinse the vinegar solution away. Some alkaline dissolving detergents also will do the same thing. — WILHELMINA.

DEAR POLLY — A washing machine serviceman suggested putting one cup of vinegar in the machine turned to "Rinse" to wash away any built-up soap scum. I do believe him. My daughter's pediatrician told her to put one cup vinegar in the last diaper rinse to cut all soap scum and this use keeps her machine clean. — MARIE.

DEAR POLLY — Make it easier for your child to shine his own shoes by wrapping the polishing cloth around a blackboard eraser. Fasten it on securely with a rubber band or shoestring to keep the cloth in place. — TERRI.

DEAR POLLY — Before I start my summer canning and freezing I make a chart (to be pasted on the inside of a kitchen cabinet door) that lists the fruits and vegetables I will have. Then as I can or freeze them I write on it the number of cans and packages and the date. As I use these things during the year I cross off a number. In the spring when I clean my freezer if I feel I have not kept a correct inventory I put all the older packages in one section so they'll be used first. All packages are dated. I use plastic bread bags as a SECOND wrap for all my freezing packages for added protection. — MRS. W. F.

Teresa Dameron Party Honoree

Mrs. C. H. Brockett, Rankin Highway, entertained with a bridal gift tea recently as a courtesy to Teresa Dameron, bride-elect of Melvin C. Sattawhite.

Mrs. Hal Brockett and Bonny Brockett, both of Lubbock, assisted with hospitalities.

Mrs. Neal B. Sattawhite of Decatur, mother of the prospective bridegroom, was a special guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dameron are the parents of the bride-elect. The couple's wedding is scheduled for Aug. 17.

Midland Girl Scouts Attend Camp

The second session at Mitre Peak Girl Scout Camp is in progress until July 5. The camp, located in the Davis Mountains north of Alpine, offers many different activities, including horsemanship, swimming, hiking, arts and crafts, campfires, cook-outs and other planned events.

Some of the campers signed up for special interest segments. In the primitive unit, campers learn new skills in outdoor camping and participate in the general camp activities of their choosing.

They also may take a three or four day trip out of camp. On the gypsy trip the girls plan and carry out a hiking trip of several days duration. A horse-drawn wagon carries their supplies and equipment.

Scouts in the backpack unit plan and carry out backpack activities, which may include short or long trips.

Midland Girl Scouts now attending are: Leigh Morton, Wendy O'Connell, Sara Stone, Rebecca Goyne, Darlene Davis, Jill Stewart, Michele Haselwood, Sherri Haselwood, Brenda Van Schuyver, Laura Walker, Roberta Grody, Victoria Jenson, Emily George, Valerie Hicks, Lee Fincher, Margaret Stanley, Michele Priddy, Sonya Gibson, Tonya Gibson and Deep Patten.

Others are: Marie Kier, Susan Gillet, Jamie Ayresworth, Gerri Gilliland, Julie Callahan, Jessy Erdemans, Kelly Isaac, Melissa Murphy, Stephanie Ochsler, Mary Brown, Patricia Herlihy, Trina O'Leary, Kathleen Kerr, Diane Hellman, Barbara Stark, Sharon Jost, Sarah Hatcher, Susan Boud and Gita Gilliland.

Aldo Jari Cabaniss, Pamela Rocco, Mary Overton, Julie Jackson, Kim Goyton, Kelly Blackwell, Chely Devo, Malinda Brown, Elson Stanley, Cynthia Baker, Mary Ann, Clarissa Palmer and Kendra Sikes.

High Court Makes It Easier For Citizens To Sue For Libel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Over the protests of dissenters who differed among themselves, a narrow majority of the Supreme Court has devised a new rule governing libel suits by private individuals.

In a 5-4 decision Tuesday, the court said states are free to set their own standards for allowing private citizens to sue for damages for injuries suffered through libel. The decision had the effect of making it easier for private citizens to sue for libel, although the court set strict guidelines concerning awards for punitive damages.

To obtain punitive damages or to collect damages without proving they have been harmed, they must show that the statement of which they complain was made "in the knowledge that it was false or with reckless disregard of the truth."

Punitive damages are designed to punish the perpetrator of the libel. Another form of libel award is the presumed damage, ordered because of the fact of publication without proof it did harm.

The court's decision wiped out a 1971 ruling in which it said private persons suing for libel damages of any kind needed to satisfy the reckless disregard test if the allegedly libelous statement concerned a matter of public interest.

It came in a case involving Chicago lawyer Elmer Gertz, who was called a "Communist front" by the John Birch Society's American Opinion magazine after he represented the family of a youth shot by a Chicago policeman.

Gertz won a $50,000 libel judgment from a jury, a judgment overturned by the U.S. Circuit Court in Chicago. The Supreme Court sent the case back to the lower court for a new trial.

Justices William O. Douglas and William J. Brennan dissented on grounds that it infringes on freedom of the press. Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justice Byron White attacked the majority from the opposite direction.

White said the decision "goes far towards eviscerating the effectiveness of the ordinary libel action" and would "leave the people at the complete mercy of the press." Burger, noting that the case decided involved a lawyer who was criticized because of his involvement in a controversial legal proceeding, publisher or broadcaster had not taken reasonable care to see that the material was accurate. Then, in 1971, the court dealt with public issues.

The right to counsel would be gravely jeopardized if every case, civil or criminal, would automatically become fair game for irresponsible reporters and editors who might, for example, describe the lawyer as a 'mob mouthpiece' for representing a client with a serious prior criminal record."

The case was the latest in a series of major libel decisions in which the court established the reckless disregard test but limited it to public officials. Before, people bringing libel suits needed only to prove that the

Former Investigator Reportedly Links High Government Officials, Corruption

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional aide says a former Justice Department criminal investigator has linked high government officials to narcotics trafficking, bribery and other forms of corruption along the U.S.-Mexico border.

A spokesman for Rep. John M. Murphy, D-N.Y., said Tuesday that the investigator, Alan Murray, voiced the allegations in testifying at a closed session of the House legal and monetary affairs subcommittee.

"His investigation revealed corruption at the highest levels, and the Justice Department pulled him and his colleagues out because they were threatening, with hard evidence, higherups in government," said the spokesman for Murphy.

Murray was reported to have told the subcommittee that he was detached from the Immigration and Naturalization Service in April 1972 and assigned to Operation Clean Sweep, an investigation of border corruption and bribery among federal officials.

Murphy's legislative assistant, Carl Perian, said that according to Murray, Southwest regional officials of the government's anti-narcotics effort failed to act on information which involved ranking officials of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, as well as Customs Service and Border Patrol personnel.

Meanwhile, the Justice Department's Drug Enforcement Administration announced Tuesday that authorities had made the biggest marijuana seizure ever in the border town of Mexicali, Mexico. The haul was put at 42 tons, with a street value of more than $22 million.

The DEA said the marijuana was found in a warehouse and two tanker trucks which apparently were used to handle shipments from the Mexicali area to Los Angeles.

Murray was said to have testified that he was allowed to prosecute lower-level officials and that seven of nine persons indicted were convicted.

"He claims 12 to 15 indictments could be brought down with information in his files," Perian said. "This involves taking payoffs from smugglers, bribery and conspiracy."

Murray refused to discuss his investigation with a reporter, saying he was under subpoena to appear in closed session and couldn't disclose his testimony.

Murray, 47, retired on disability last May 10 after being struck by a hit-and-run automobile on a sidewalk in San Ysidro, Calif. in what he suspects was an attempt on his life. The investigator suffered multiple injuries, including serious nerve and spine damage.

"AUTHORITY" NO. 2

When we read Matthew 28:18 we learn that "Christ has all authority in heaven and on earth." In spiritual matters, therefore, NO man or GROUP of men have any right to make laws of any sort! We are not governed today by the Law of Moses nor the prophets, but rather by Christ.

When we inquire as to HOW Christ got the message to man, we may turn to the scriptures and learn without problems that He executed His will through the apostles. (Mk. 19:27-29; 28:18-20, 16:17-20, Jn. 30:22-23)

Now it is necessary to understand that the apostles were guided by the Holy Spirit. When we turn to the Book of God for our information we learn that the Holy Spirit (The Comforter) was sent to the apostles and not to the world. (Jn. 14:16-17) The third person was sent "to bring to their remembrance" what Christ had taught. (Jn. 14:26) He was sent to "convict the world." (Jn. 16:7-15) As the apostles went out preaching the gospel in the first century they were able to "confirm" their preaching with miracles. (Mk. 16:15-18; He. 2:1-4) Their preaching, therefore, is ALL the authority that man is under today. That authority is called "the gospel." (Ro. 1:16)

Friends of mine, all of the "spiritual" rigmarole in the world today that we call denominationalism, must of necessity exist through a disregard for what the New Testament reveals to man. No man can turn to those sacred pages and conclude that God indorses all men and their teachings when one man affirms something that another man denies.

The gospel "furnishes man unto every good work." (2 Ti. 3:16-17) The gospel contains God's revelation which came to us through the apostles and confirmed by the Holy Spirit. The New Testament Scriptures constitute a complete and perfect rule of faith and practice for God's people today, and is the Divine Constitution of His Kingdom.

You are invited to assemble with the Cuthbert Street Church of Christ, even tonight, where we have classes for ages. This is our singing night also if you like fine gospel singing. Come and bring the family.

Dean Victor In Primary

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Kenneth Dean, who called for unity among blacks and whites of the working class, has won the Democratic nomination to the U.S. House in Mississippi's 4th Congressional District.

With only three small precincts still to be counted among the district's 327 polling places, Dean had 7,639 votes to 7,355 for Wilkinson County Chancery Clerk Al Sturgeon of Woodville in Tuesday's runoff election.

Dean is an executive of WLBT television in Jackson and former director of the Mississippi Council on Human Relations.

His Republican opponent in November will be Rep. William Thad Cochran, who is seeking his second term. Also on the ballot will be at least one independent, black activist James Meredith who in 1962 became the first black ever enrolled at the University of Mississippi. He was the top vote-getter in the June 4 Democratic primary but pulled out of the runoff to run as an independent this fall.

Much of Meredith's primary vote was credited to an endorsement by black Mayor Charles Evers of Fayette. Evers later said he had had "a bellyful" of Meredith and threw his support to Dean.

Index Of Business Indicators Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's index of business indicators increased two-tenths of one per cent in May, pointing to slight economic growth in months ahead, the Commerce Department said today.

It also reported that a recalculation showed the April index had "been stable" with no change. Instead of the decline of seven-tenths of one per cent announced earlier.

The index of business indicators is considered a measure of future economic performance in the economy. However, some economists have questioned its value in the last year because of distortions in the figures caused by inflation.

Five of the eight business indicators showed gains in May. These were average work week, unemployment insurance, new orders for durable goods, the price-labor ratio and orders for plant and equipment.

Tent Show Recreated

Thinking back to the "good old day," one wonders how many Midlanders of today saw or even remember Harley Sadler and his traveling repertory company?

Sure, there are those who recall the old-time tent shows, but Harley Sadler's show, which traveled throughout West Texas and the Southwest from 1920 to 1940, was something else again.

Harley's company, which often numbered as many as 40 persons, including the orchestra, usually traveled by motorcade, booking the same West Texas cities on the same date year after year.

This was before television, community theaters, fast highways and faster transportation. West Texans were looking for good, clean entertainment, and this was just what Sadler presented on his tent show stage.

Sadler's attractive wife, Billie, was the show's leading lady, and a marvelous actress. Harley often played the leading male role, but at least once during each stand, he would play a "Toby" role, which must have been his favorite, and one which his audiences loved.

Another one of his leading actors, popular with audiences throughout the Southwest, was the late A. C. "Ace" Hefner, who, during the World War II years, after the show had quit the road, managed Midland's Hotel Scharbauer.

Sadler, who headquartered at Sweetwater, later served in the Texas Legislature for several years, before death cut short his legislative career.

What brought all this on? Well, a Lubbock woman, Mrs. Suzanne De Pauw Ricker, is working this summer on a research project directed toward the reconstruction of a Harley Sadler tent show as part of the Lubbock-Texas Tech Bicentennial Festival Celebration in 1976.

Plans call for the production of a series of comedies and melodramas from the Sadler repertoire, including the famous "Toby" plays, in a tent theater on the Texas Tech campus, beginning July 4, 1976.

Mrs. Ricker has sounded a call for help in researching the project and in obtaining all the data, photos and other material relating to the Sadler shows.

This is a great Bicentennial project... just as the Harley Sadler productions were great.

And the candy kisses, with "a prize in every box," weren't bad either.

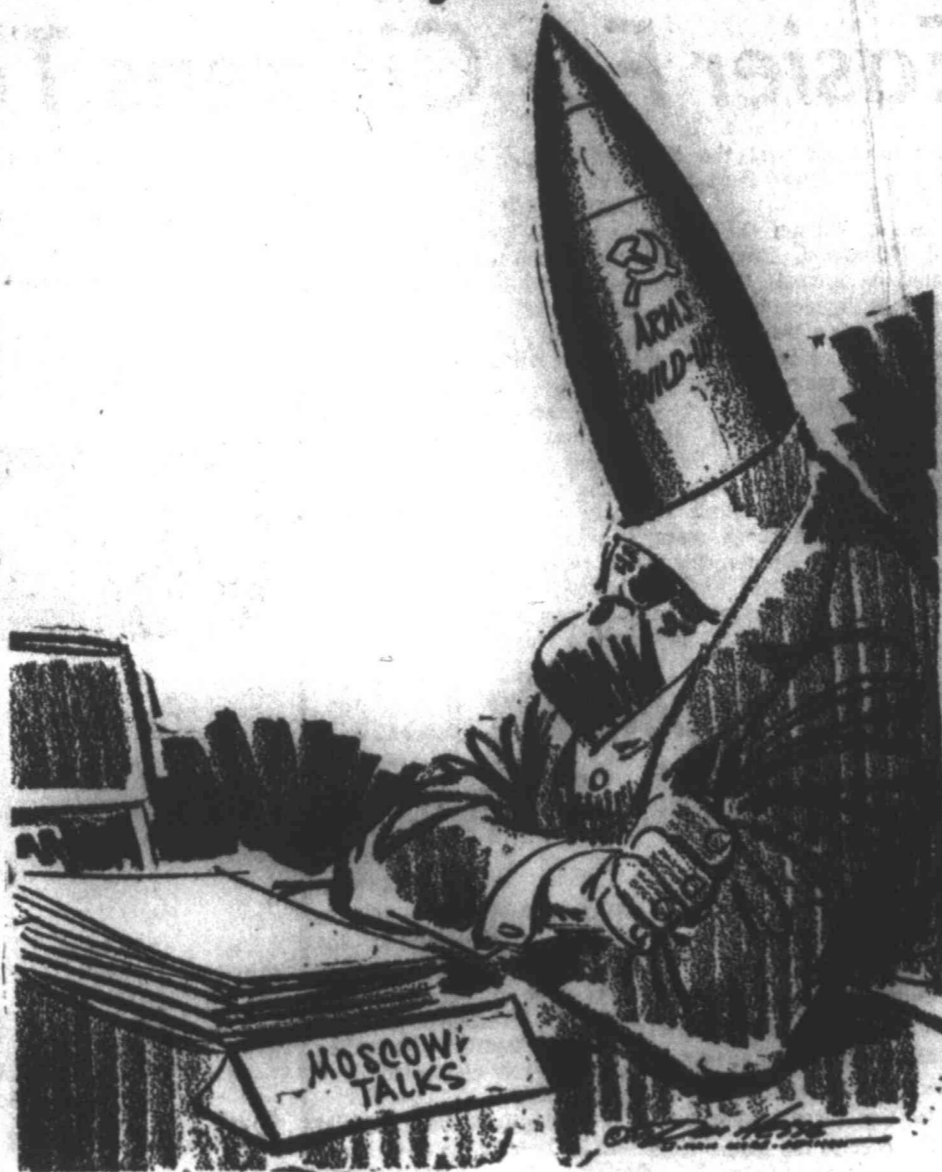

Many long-time West Texans look forward with a great deal of pleasure to seeing the Harley Sadler shows, as recreated as a Bicentennial feature.

Negotiator

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: Chief Justice Burger prepares for his date with destiny.

WASHINGTON — Chief Justice Warren Burger, his white mane pompadoured and pomaded, is preparing grandly for his date with destiny.

In the majestic marble halls of the Supreme Court, he eventually will preside over the historic impasses between the courts, the Congress and an obstructionist president.

For the high court has agreed to rule whether the Watergate grand jury had the authority to cite President Nixon as an "undisclosed co-conspirator" and whether Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski can subpoena some 64 additional White House tapes.

If the House later should impeach President Nixon, the handsome, haughty Burger also will preside over the Senate trial. Those who know him say he views his historic role with the greatest gravity. Already, he has asked a former law clerk to research impeachment precedents for him.

Burger also has sent for copies of congressional hearings on executive privilege, so he can bone up on the legal issues in the tapes case.

He is underdressed by word that Justice William Rehnquist will withdraw from the Watergate cases because of his Justice Department work on national security issues and his close association with the Watergate figures.

"Nixon Man" Burger has a similar conflict. He not only was appointed by President Nixon but has been a Nixon man for more than 20 years. During the private deliberations of the nine justices, Burger invariably champions the Nixon view on controversial cases.

He has been known to switch to the majority side, however, when it has become clear that the Nixon position wouldn't prevail. Reason: Supreme Court sources suggest that Burger doesn't want to appear in public to be a Nixon echo.

He also has had close personal ties to the two embattled lawyers and order men, John Mitchell and Richard Kleindienst, who headed Nixon's Justice Department before they were hauled before the courts for allegedly violating the law themselves.

Burger even recommended a special prosecutor to Kleindienst to handle the Watergate investigation.

Because of these associations, Burger has been urged to disqualify himself from Watergate decisions and to hand over the impeachment gavel to the senior associate justice, William O. Douglas. But the chief justice clearly doesn't intend to miss his hour in the eye of history.

We have spoken to several of the nine justices who say the decision will be left to Burger whether to withdraw from the Watergate cases and the impeachment trial. Within the last two weeks, he has taken time out to dine alfresco in the court garden with his associates Harry Blackmun and Lewis Powell. But no associate justice is likely to suggest to Burger's face that he disqualify himself.

"Decent Chief Justice" Some colleagues describe him as a conscientious, diligent, decent chief justice. Kleindienst, who told us he had approached Burger for his recommendations on a special prosecutor, praised his integrity.

Most agree that Burger doesn't take his conservative, law-and-order line from Nixon. The chief justice's hardball views, they say, are his own.

He is so obsessed over the threat of violence that he drives with an armed chauffeur and uses court police as bodyguards. A late caller at his home was startled to be greeted at the door by the white-haired jurist with a drawn pistol.

If Burger isn't the most brilliant jurist to preside over the Supreme Court, he is one of the most pompous. He annexed to his personal offices the court's conference room. He installed a desk so there could be no mistaking that the lesser justices convened in his domain for their deliberations.

He also ordered a length of gold carpet rolled out for them to tread upon as they make their way through a rear hallway to take their seats behind the great mahogany Supreme Court bench.

Writer Nina Totenberg, an alert court observer, reports that Burger leaves imperious, written instructions for his messenger, directing him to "fill water pitcher" or "check ink well." He signs the daily instructions: "This is an order." Dignity Offended

Not one to be trifled with, Burger felt his dignity had been offended by a passenger who blew cigar smoke in his direction aboard the Washington-New York Metroliner. The eminent chief justice wrote an indignant letter to the secretary of Transportation and put a stop to cigar smoking on the train.

No detail is too petty, apparently, to escape his attention. Once, he took time out from the court's great decisions to order a nonfunctioning clock returned to the Capitol.

His pet peeve is the ballooning caseload of the high court. To dramatize this, he has assigned clerks and interns literally to count pages and produce useless statistics. Even the pamphlet distributed to tourists has been revised to include a highlighted item on the heavy caseload.

The American Automobile Association says that games between cars and trucks are as one-sided as lynchings: it reports that while tractor-trailer trucks comprise only 3.7 per cent of the road miles driven in the nation, they account for 6.5 per cent of the fatal accidents. So big are the rigs (the legal weight limit in interstate highways is now 73,200 pounds) that their "frequency of involvement in fatal accidents is 85.5 per cent greater than the car."

This is not to say, of course, that trucks are inherent road menaces. The American Trucking Association argues correctly that truckers overall are comparatively safe drivers and that combination trucks in general account for only 2.3 per cent of all highway accidents.

Nonetheless, there is growing unease even in the trucking industry that more and more drivers are becoming arrogant, careless and unlawful.

Sen. Harold Hughes (D-Iowa), himself an ex-trucker, estimates that 90 per cent of big rig drivers use pop pills; the DOT reports an increase in head-phone stereo set use by younger drivers, "a safety hazard of incredible proportions;" and such is the temptation to overload trucks that the Pennsylvania Highway Patrol remembers nabbing one doll driving with 200,000 pounds.

Given the more aggressive and insensitive driver, then, road tyranny is an unsurprising result. ("We got to make time," says one owner-operator, "I can't feed by kids on 55 mph.") The question is how to stop it? Local police around the nation insist that increased enforcement is not the answer. New Jersey Turnpike cops gave 1,000 more truck summonses in exactly 22 per cent of the time. So, all else being equal the expert will play for the drop.

However, all else doesn't have to be equal. Any good player will lead his jack of spades. If West has been taught to cover an honor with an honor on each and every occasion he will cluster up with the king and South will make his contract anyway.

It West sees that this is not the time to cover (it isn't) but goes into a huddle before ducking, South will finesse in the theory that West's huddle means that he was thinking of covering.

However, if West just plays his six spot unconcernedly, South should rise with dummy's ace. After all, that is a 50 per cent chance. East will show out and another contract will bite the dust.

Now, About Those Mortgage Rates! WASHINGTON (AP) — Mortgage rates may be the best buy when it comes to purchasing a home.

A house that sold for $85,300 in 1972 was selling for $40,900 in 1973 — a jump of 16 per cent in one year. During the same period, there was only a 10 per cent increase in new conventional home mortgage rates, the American Bankers Assn. reports.

The cost of land represents the biggest increase in home costs. While lot sizes shrank between 1967 and 1973, land prices rose 23.4 per cent per year. The average lot size for a home in 1967 was 8,202 square feet. In 1973, the average lot was only 6,900 square feet.

Today's Question Instead of bidding three spades your partner has jumped to three notrump over your two spades. What do you do now? Answer: Tenor-trump

TOM TIEDE Turnpike 'Combat Zone' Described By Columnist

WASHINGTON (NEA)—A driver traveling 55 m.p.h. on the New Jersey Turnpike recently was forced into higher speeds by the sight of a tractor-trailer truck rushing into his rearview mirror. The driver gunned to 60, then 65 and 70—but still the truck closed ground.

Finally, unnerved, the motorist hit his brakes and the truck wrenched past with an Armageddon roar while its driver, clearly visible in his lofty warroom, grinned, drank soda pop and waved a contemptuous middle finger from his window.

America's highways, never showplaces for reason or brotherhood, today are deteriorating even further toward total anarchy. The reduction of the legal speed limit to 55 has created new and potentially tragic frictions between the highway's natural enemies: The cars and the trucks.

The situation, says Ken Pierson of the Bureau of Motor Carrier Safety, is nothing short of vehicular "tyranny."

He says the bureau, an arm of the Department of Transportation, is "receiving more and more complaints concerning the disposition of some truck and bus drivers to operate at excessive speed, to tailgate automobiles and other commercial vehicles, as if the highways were their private domain and automobiles were interlopers on a private preserve."

Pierson is not the only one receiving motorist flak. A New Jersey Turnpike tolltaker says protests at his booth go on all day, every day: "I remember this one guy, he said he got so mad at a truck he tried to ram it. Can you imagine? The guy had a little Volks and he was trying to smash an 18-wheeler. But you can't blame him; what I see on this turnpike is almost like combat."

As yet, casualty figures concerning the blacktop war are unavailable. At least one federal agency—the National Highway Safety Council—is supposed to be studying the safety impact of the 55 limit, but authorities there admit to inaction. Withal, there is no doubt as to the casualty potential.

But there is a problem that worries me. We tend at times like this to get manic, to fall into that form of excitement that sustains us in the small hours of an election morning and makes the problems seem worthwhile. NEW YORK (NEA) — We are about to embark on the most important story this division has ever covered. It may be the most important story of the century.

Before us there stretches the certainty of a redistribution of presidential power, no matter what the outcome of the process that begins with the deliberations of the Judiciary Committee. WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Through carelessness or incendiarism, man is blamed for the largest portion of wildfires in the United States. During 1972, some 84,516 fires, or 83 per cent, reported as having burned on protected land, were man-caused, the World Almanac says. Of 631 million acres under the protection of the Federal-State Cooperative Forest Fire Control Program, 1,050,399 acres were burned by man-caused fires.

Terrorists' Release Spurs U.S. Envoy Recall

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department Tuesday announced the recall of the U.S. ambassador to Sudan and said it was dismayed by Sudan's decision to virtually release eight Palestinian guerrillas who murdered three Western diplomats a year ago.

Spokesman Robert Anderson said the department had received confirmation of reports that Sudanese President Jaafar el-Numeiri commuted the sentences of the eight from life to seven years and then turned them over to the Palestine liberation organization.

"We cannot accept the virtual release of confessed murderers as adequate punishment," Anderson said, adding that Ambassador William D. Brewer has been ordered to return to Washington from Sudan for consultations.

He said Brewer's recall was a reflection of American displeasure over the Sudanese action.

"A year ago the guerrillas murdered in Khartoum U.S. Ambassador Cleo A. Noel, his deputy G. Curtis Moore and Belgian charge d'affaires Guy Eid after seizing the Saudi Arabian embassy during a farouk party for Moore."

A statement by acting Secretary of State Joseph Sisco read by Anderson said, "We do not think this decision lives up to repeated assurances at all levels of the Sudanese government that this case would be handled in a just manner."

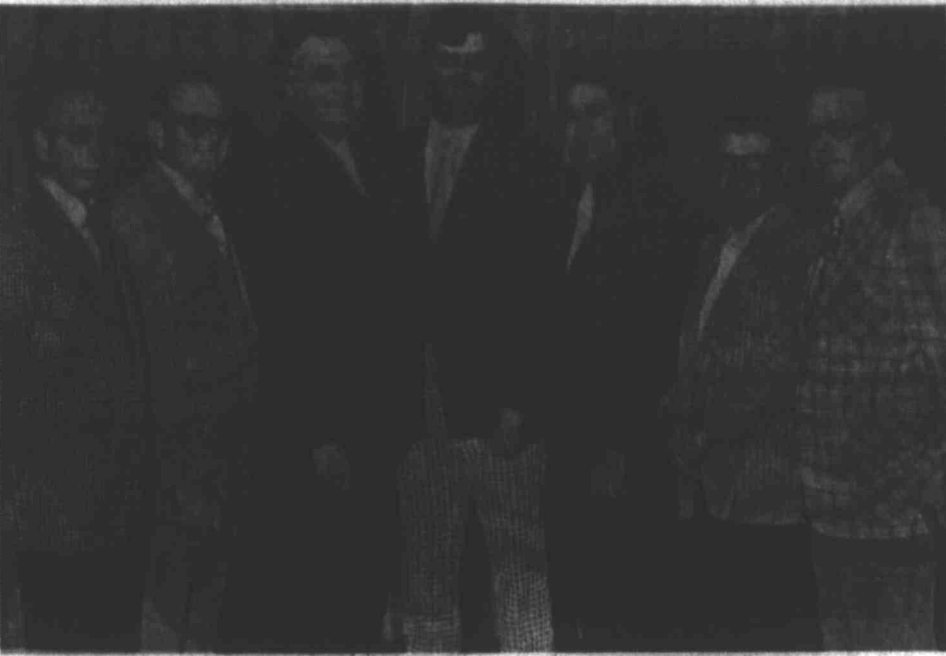

The statement said that throughout the judicial process.

The State Department tried to avoid statements which might be interpreted as an unwarranted interference in Sudanese internal affairs.

"At the same time," the statement continued, "during private conversations with Sudanese officials we attempted to make clear the importance of the United States attached to punishment commensurate with the crimes committed."

Anderson said Brewer has been instructed to transmit these views to the Sudanese government before his return to Washington.

In justifying the reduced sentences and the transfer of the guerrillas to the PLO, the Sudanese government cited the Israeli bombing raids on refugee camps in Lebanon and an Israeli raid into Beirut in which three Palestinian leaders were assassinated in April 1973.

Sadat Says Egyptian Air Force To Defend Lebanon

By The Associated Press
Egypt is prepared to send its air force to defend Lebanon against Israeli air raids, even at the risk of another Middle East war, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat was quoted today as saying.

"I shall also make it a point that President Nixon is made to realize we shall not remain inactive toward Israeli attacks on Palestinian refugee camps in Lebanon," Sadat said in an interview published by the Beirut magazine As Sayyad.

Israeli artillery shelled the Lebanese village of Jouaya 12 miles from the Israeli-Lebanese border Tuesday night and preliminary reports said there were heavy losses.

The shelling was apparently in retaliation for the Palestinian guerrilla attack on the Israeli town of Nahariya Monday night, in which an Israeli woman, her two children and an Israeli soldier—as well as the three Arab raiders—were killed.

Meanwhile in Jerusalem, police said two bazooka rockets set to be fired by a timing device were discovered early today in a field in the suburb of Ramat Eshkol. Security forces exploded the rockets and no one was hurt.

Sadat in the interview said he made the pledge last week in a letter to Lebanese President Suleiman Franjeh after Israel's air force attacked Palestinian guerrilla positions in refugee camps in southern Lebanon. The guerrillas said 34 persons were killed.

Lebanese Arab press reports said Sadat had offered to station five squadrons of Egyptian MIG21 interceptors in Lebanon. Syria also reportedly offered to supply Lebanon with mobile and shoulder-fired antiaircraft missiles.

The Lebanese government has made no comment on the reports, presumably waiting the outcome of a conference of Arab defense and foreign ministers opening in Cairo Monday.

Israeli Information Minister Aharon Yariv said in Jerusalem the support of Egypt and other Arab countries for Palestinian terrorism was endangering the American peace effort.

Sadat also told As Sayyad that the Soviet Union stopped arms deliveries to Egypt immediately after the October war, "but we have since been getting modern weapons from other sources" which he did not disclose.

Sadat added that he had invited Soviet Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev to meet with him in Cairo "because I am not prejudiced and have no complex about my relations with the Soviets...."

Area Youths Qualify For State 4-H Competition

TULIA — Robin Robinette of Dawson County showed the champion gelding, and David Hall of Howard County showed the reserve champion gelding in the District 2 4-H Horse Show here last weekend.

Swisher County scored the most points during the show. Floyd County was second and Dawson was third.

Miss Robinette and Hall will participate in the state meet at Dallas in August.

Also qualifying for the state competition is K'Lynn Boyer of the Dawson County 4-H Club. She earned enough points during the competition to qualify for the state competition.

Midland Boys Arrested In Theft Of Five Vehicles

Two 16-year-old Midland boys have been arrested in connection with the theft of five vehicles taken this month.

Police said the youths, who will not be prosecuted, left Midland Tuesday night to take jobs with Job Corps in another Texas city.

The boys were told that the case will be left pending and complaints will be filed against them later if they get into any more trouble.

The vehicles included two taken June 8, a station wagon taken from 223 W. Wall St. and belonging to Bobby Lee Anderson of 1909 E. Magnolia St. and a car taken from the area of the Wilco Building and belonging to Sid Lindley of 1700 Douglas St.

A car belonging to Charles D. White of 301 Waverly St. was taken Friday from the American Legion Hall and a car and a van were taken Sunday.

The car belonged to Edwin L. Stephens of 4303 Greenbrier St. The van belonged to Bill Cathey of 2413 Cimmaron.

All the vehicles have been returned.

Evening Group Hears Program On Lions' Camp

Don Combs, a director of the Texas Lions Camp for Crippled Children at Kerrville, presented a special program on the facility Tuesday at the meeting of the Midland Evening Lions Club at the Bonanza Sirloin Pit.

Combs, who is a member of the Midland Downtown Lions Club, also showed a color film taken at the camp during a typical summer session.

The camp now operates nine months of the year, according to Combs, who said its annual budget is in excess of $600,000.

In addition to crippled children, the camp also serves diabetic children and blind adults.

The crippled children's program, the speaker said, operates from the first Monday in June through the middle of August, serving 175 youngsters during each two-week session.

The overall operation of the facility and its plans for the future were discussed by Combs.

Jack Karden presided at the meeting.

Air Terminal Fencing Issue Prompts Hot Debate

City Councilmen got an unexpected visit from two Federal Aviation Administration officials Tuesday which developed into a hot debate over security fencing proposed for Midland Air Terminal, an item not officially listed on the council's agenda of business.

The impromptu discussion between councilmen and FAA officials Richard De La Garza, security field officer based in San Antonio, and Allan Hautanen, airport certification inspector from Fort Worth, went on for more than two hours as the question of why such extreme security fencing needs were required at Air Terminal while not being deemed necessary at several other Texas based air facilities.

Councilmen noted that other air facilities including San Angelo and El Paso have not been required to incorporate strict fencing measures around private pilot operating areas, but the FAA officials argued that required fencing pertained to individual needs.

When asked how Air Terminal compared to most other air facilities in security needs, De La Garza pointed out that more problems exist in securing the operational areas of the Midland Airport than at any other facility within his jurisdiction. He said unlike most other airports, private operator facilities almost about the Terminal building on both sides, therefore, requiring an eight-foot chain link fence to surround their property.

Councilmen asked the security official why it was not possible to place the fence between the building and the private operators' property, and were told that fencing in the immediate operating area of aircraft would promote unwarranted aircraft operating hazards.

The proposed fencing which has been approved by FAA inspectors in the airport Master Plan includes the enclosing of all property abutting the airport taxi and runways from the road running in front of that property.

Total cost of the proposed fencing project would be $100,000 while Midland's share of the cost would be approximately $30,000 on 75 per cent federal funding and $18,807 under possible 82 per cent funding by the government.

Hautanen noted that the date for final decision on the project was flexible, but said that the FAA has September as its target date. It also was pointed out that other means of securing the air facility could be incorporated, such as a 24-hour roving patrol, along with limited fencing.

Hautanen did say, however, that security guard personnel measures would not be funded by the federal agencies.

Councilmen requested that the FAA officials supply them with further information concerning the security study and also asked that they return to Midland at a later date, to be appointed, in order that discussions might be held while some of the private based air operators were in attendance. No private based operators from Terminal were at Tuesday's council session.

Trustees Vote To Raise Lunch Prices

Midland school trustees voted to raise cafeteria prices for both elementary and secondary students at its meeting Tuesday.

Mrs. Vivian Busley, director of school lunch services, recommended the price hikes saying labor costs had gone up 27 per cent while food prices had increased 18 per cent. She noted the average income the school system had received per meal had increased by only 7.5 per cent.

The prices of both lunches increased by five cents with adult lunches going up 10 cents.

Elementary students will now pay 50 cents and secondary students 55 cents for lunches with the former's meals including a desert. Lunch tickets went up from $2.25 a week to $2.50 a week and from $9.00 to $10.00 a month for elementary students while the monthly rate for secondary students rose from $10.00 to $10.50.

Adult lunches went up from 60 to 70 cents. Visitors will now pay $1.50 per lunch.

All other individual items were increased by a nickel with the exception of bread and butter, soup, one package of crackers and butter and soup with a package of crackers as well as a cup of ice and refills on drinks other than milk.

The trustees also approved six operational changes recommended by Mrs. Busley. They included:

1. Offering ice cream, a la carte, to elementary students.
2. A monthly instead of semi-monthly payroll.
3. A pilot program at San Jacinto and Goddard with milk shake machines.
4. No outside competition during lunch time in the cafeteria of just outside the door.
5. Milk, not used by students, be placed on a tray for pick-up by students desiring additional milk. After serving time, the unopened milk shall be returned to the kitchen to be used in cooking the following day.
6. The establishment of a menu committee consisting of cafeteria staff plus one elementary and one secondary cafeteria manager on a rotating basis.

Mrs. Busley indicated a possibility of meatless day in the future using perhaps cheese pizza or macaroni and cheese as a meat substitute.

She said both San Jacinto and Goddard have large a la carte sales and that the cafeteria management wanted to see if demand is sufficient to warrant the purchase or lease purchase of shake machines in other schools in the district.

Business manager Donald R. Ferguson said the system hopes to "break even" this year in cafeteria sales. The cafeteria operated at a deficit of 2.13 cents per meal last year.

Watergate Committee Said Ready To Release Report On CIA's Possible Involvement In Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate committee is reported ready to release its vice chairman's secret report on possible CIA involvement on the Watergate break-in and cover-up.

The move came after CIA Director William E. Colby asked Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., to make only minor deletions in Baker's 35-page investigative report.

Baker has hinted for months that the report contains significant new information.

But he has maintained silence on its contents while trying to persuade the CIA to declassify the documents on which it is based.

There have been unconfirmed reports from sources close to the Baker investigation that the report may show that presidential adviser John D. Ehrlichman told CIA officials he was acting on President Nixon's orders when he requested CIA officials to provide technical aid to E. Howard Hunt Jr.

Hunt is a former CIA agent. At the time of the break-in he was a member of the White House plumbers and later was convicted in the Watergate break-in.

Hunt asked for disguises, a camera and false ID papers—all of which later were used in the break-in of the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

Watergate committee Chairman Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., told reporters Tuesday that one part of the Baker report relevant to the Watergate investigation is the section on the telephone call from Ehrlichman to Gen. Robert Cushman, then the CIA's deputy director. He did not elaborate, but Baker said he will feel free to talk about it after the committee has acted.

Ervin said, however, that nothing he has seen leads him to believe the CIA was involved in the break-in or the cover-up that followed.

Although the committee plans to file its full and final report Thursday, Ervin said it will not be made public until the jury in the trial of Ehrlichman and others is empaneled and sequestered.

That is not likely to occur until sometime next month.

Ervin said special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski requested the delay in issuing the report.

The committee completed Tuesday approving most of the recommendations it will make to Congress for new laws to reform campaigns for federal office.

and recommendations for its final report.

The report is due on Friday. But it was learned it may not be issued officially until Congress returns from its Independence Day recess.

The Miller report suggests that the Senate committee say the privilege is available only to the president and only as to communications with and by him to his personal advisers and by his advisers among themselves.

It recommends legislation be drafted limiting the use of the privilege doctrine to the President's official acts only, excluding his political or purely personal activities or allegations of misconduct.

The Miller report said that national security has been invoked as a defense for several otherwise completely illegal acts — including the burglary of the office of Dr. Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

But it has never been defined by any government body, the report said.

Executive Privilege Limits Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Recommendations that Congress limit a president's use of executive privilege and define exactly what he can do in the name of national security have been proposed for the Senate Watergate Committee's final report.

The committee is being urged also to advise Congress to shear the power acquired by key presidential advisers over the last three administrations.

These White House aides have become virtual assistant presidents, accountable to no one, the committee was told.

The recommendations were drafted by Dr. Arthur Miller, a legal consultant who has organized several scholarly studies of the broader problems posed by the Watergate scandals for the committee. A copy of the Miller report was obtained by The Associated Press.

The seven senators on the committee are meeting daily in executive session this week to consider dozens of staff reports and recommendations for its final report.

Lions Observe Midland Cubs Day

The Midland Downtown Lions Club observed "Midland Cubs Day" at their meeting held today noon in the American Legion Hall. Members of the Cubs baseball team were special guests at the luncheon session.

Lion John Cox, general manager of the club, served as master of ceremonies at the informal program.

Walt Dixon, manager of Midland's Texas League entry, spoke briefly concerning the team, its personnel, schedule, record to date, and its future prospects.

Each member of the club was introduced by Cox. The Cubs were seated among the Lions in the audience.

The program was arranged by David Holster, program chairman for June.

The committee is being urged also to advise Congress to shear the power acquired by key presidential advisers over the last three administrations.

Barbara Feldon Doesn't Miss Series

By JERRY BUCK
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Barbara Feldon divides her time among her home in the Hollywood Hills, her boat, her studies, writing and television.

Barbara, who was Agent 99 on "Get Smart" for five years, is doing hostess duties on "Dean Martin's Comedyworld," a Thursday night summer show on NBC.

She taped her appearances in such places as London, San Francisco and Great Gorge, N.J. "Comedyworld" features comedy performers from around the country and in London.

Since leaving "Get Smart" in 1970, Barbara made numerous appearances on series, TV movies, specials and game shows. She says she doesn't miss the regularity of a series at all.

"It's the best of all possible worlds," she said. "Consistency is not something I'm fond of. I love variety."

It permits her to pursue a life style suited to her interests. Last summer she bought a 43-foot cabin cruiser, Cioppino, and took up the study of navigation. That is in addition to her study of art and history.

She lives part of the time on the boat, anchored at Marina Del Rey, and it is there that she does her writing. With actress Joan Darling, she wrote for a Dinah Shore special and for the Public Broadcasting System.

She said she's been writing for years.

Most of her work has been in comedy — "It's my favorite" — but Barbara doesn't consider herself a comedic actress.

She said, "I began as a dramatic actress. The first thing I did was opposite George C. Scott in 'East Side, West Side.' When 'Get Smart' came along I fell into that and I'm thought of as a comedic actress."

"It's fun to do. Dramatic acting can be great but you can't spend the whole day weeping in your bandages. Comedy has a pace and a style to it. You can improvise like musicians. I love the energy and vitality of it."

'NOW LISTEN CLOSELY' — Clay Guthrie as wicked Uncle Cassim, left, has some instructions for his henchmen in this scene in "Ali Baba and the Magic Cave," which opens at 2:30 p.m. Thursday as the first summer production of Midland Community Theatre's Pickwick Players. The fast-paced children's show will have repeats at 2:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and tickets for all performances are on sale daily at the Theatre Centre box office. Seen above as the three henchmen are Biff Taylor, Ann Yurorka and Hal Coon, left to right.

Taylor-Burton Divorce Granted

GSTAAD, Switzerland (AP) — A Swiss civil court granted a divorce today to Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton on the grounds of mutual incompatibility.

The decision was announced after a 45-minute hearing at Sarnen, near Gstaad, the Burtons' legal residence.

Miss Taylor appeared wearing heavy makeup and looking tense, accompanied by several American lawyers.

Burton was not present. Court officials said his lawyer presented a medical certificate to excuse his absence.

The court awarded Miss Taylor custody of their 11-year-old adopted daughter, Maria.

Terms of a financial settlement negotiated previously were not announced in the ruling.

The divorce ended a decade of marriage marked by countless headlines, huge earnings for the couple's joint film appearances, an imperial standard of living and two separations. It was the 41-year-old Miss Taylor's fifth marriage and the second for Burton, 48.

Show Features Live Band

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — "Don MacNeil's Breakfast Club" and not deejay chatter. As WSM-AM's General Manager Len Hensel puts it, "The show is what we call the last of the Mohicans."

What makes this tribe a bit unusual — at least for those who think Nashville means only country music — is that its music is decidedly uncountr'y.

Last Monday, for example, the wares included "Bluesette," "I Cover The Waterfront," "Sing" from "Sesame Street" and "Alexander's Ragtime Band."

The contemporary approach aims at Nashville's urbanites, not the country fans WSM programs for at night, and the ratings show it works well, Hensel says.

"The show is nostalgic, but it's more than that," adds Teddy Bart, 38, the Pennsylvania-born host of the "Waking Crew" since 1972. "It's a tradition."

The tradition currently includes a different local vocalist each day, plus Bill Williams, southern editor for Billboard magazine, and John Bibb, sports editor of the Nashville Tennessean.

Williams does news and country music items and Bibb, the sporting scene. Each does his own thing in an off-hand conversational way. It's not the frantic Manhattan approach by a long shot.

Members of the band, all on staff at WSM, also chip in, razzing and being razzed, the give-and-take more akin to a studio rehearsal than an on-air show.

The humor is a shade corny at times, but it's not hillbilly. On one show, for example, band pianist Joe Layne was chided for trying to sell autographed pictures of Dizzy Gillespie at a country music show.

The "Waking Crew" isn't a low cost venture by any means. Hensel says it costs close to $2,000 a week to air and it's on $2 weeks a year.

It would be far cheaper to install a morning disc jockey. Why hasn't this been done? "Well, we've been noted over the years for live music," says Hensel, whose station has continuously aired "The Grand Old Opry" since 1925.

"We (Nashville) are Music City and Music City should be something beside records," he said.

Music Row Different

By JAY SHARBUTT
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Music Row. The name evokes a bucolic boulevard of country balladiers, tobacco-chewing tunesmiths, good ol' boys who came here barefoot, with no other visible means of support than a dream, and who currently drive Cadillacs.

Now Music Row, 1974, encompasses about five blocks. It's still down-home, still tree-lined, but its music and loot therefrom no longer is pure country. It's also pop, soul and jingles.

Jingles? Yeah, those 30-and 60-second radio or tv ditties that urge you to fly United, drink Miller beer, shave with Gillette and hopefully keep on truckin' in a GMC model. All were recorded here.

And though Nashville's jingle works still is small by New York or Los Angeles standards, it's growing. One union official claims work here is up "at least 100 per cent from three years ago."

He's Paul Wilder, secretary of the local American Federation of Radio and Television Artists — AFTRA — office.

Wilder, a lean, tanned man, says when he joined the local eight years ago it only had 43 members. Now it has 600, he says, and 50 per cent of them regularly announce on or sing in jingles here.

He partly attributes the growth to a local fee, set in 1970, that was so rock-bottom "we almost gave it away. But it's also due to the wealth of talent we have, the 'sound' they get.

"Our problem was, how do you get major ad agencies to at least come see what we have here? And the answer was the local rate."

He said it only applies to commercials aired here. The far higher rate for commercials destined for national or major market broadcast is the same as in Los Angeles and New York.

"But at least it got our foot in the door," he said. The American Federation of Musicians local, which claims 2,300 members, says at least 500 to 600 of them regularly do jingle dates under a local and national fee plan similar to that of AFTRA.

It estimates the city has 50 jingle production firms, but Music Row veterans say only about four or five of these get most of the nationally or regionally aired jingle trade.

Delegates OK Refinery-Level Petroleum Tax

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas could make other states pay taxes on Texas petroleum products under a amendment adopted by the Constitutional Convention.

Other states make Texans pay their state taxes on such things as Detroit cars, Kentucky bourbon and Alaskan king crab, supporters of the amendment argued Tuesday.

The amendment authorizes a tax on petroleum products at the refinery level and makes this tax an exception to the requirement that the present tax of 5 cents per gallon of gasoline must be split three-fourths to the highway fund and one-fourth to public schools.

Texas could levy a refinery-level tax today, but under the present constitution the money would have to be used exclusively for highways and schools.

After adopting the amendment, delegates voted two-thirds approval on each of the 11 sections in the finance article. They then adjourned until 3 p.m. Thursday to give constituent committees time to complete their work.

Only two more articles remain for final approval, judiciary and general provisions.

The vote on the refinery-level tax was 100-50, exactly the two-thirds majority needed to make a change prior to the vote on final approval of the finance article.

Texas raises more than $300 million each year on its gasoline tax. This tax is levied at gasoline station pumps, which means Texas gets no tax from out-of-state users of Texas petroleum products. Approximately 75 per cent of all Texas petroleum products go out of state.

The 5-cent gasoline tax would remain dedicated to highways and schools, but the legislature conceivably could repeal that tax after voting for the refinery-level tax, which would raise more money.

That would leave it up to the legislature to decide how much money the highways and schools should get from taxes on petroleum.

By adopting the amendment, the convention knocked out a proposed separate submission on the Nov. 5 ballot that would have asked voters if they would be willing for future increases in the gasoline tax to be used for purposes other than highways and schools.

The supporters of the separate submission voted for the amendment.

STOP-LOOK—And illustrate pedestrian, passenger and bicycle safety is the theme of Midland's newest traffic safety program now under way at Emerson Elementary School. End result of the summer workshop will be a color slide program developed through the youth's art work on safety. Pictured standing in back are Mike Butler, traffic safety coordinator; and Kim Claiborne, Parks Department class leader; seated in front (from left) are safety students Starla Blanceff, 11; Kevin Ochs, 10; and Leslie Griffin, 11.

Safety Program For Youth Starts Here

City Traffic Safety Coordinator Mike Butler has initiated a safety program for Midland youth at Emerson Elementary School this summer in conjunction with efforts of the Governor's Office Of Traffic Safety.

According to Butler, a total of 80 children ranging in age from 6-12 years have registered for participation in the program titled, "The Safest Show On Earth."

Classes are scheduled from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. Monday through Friday at Emerson where approximately 30-40 children attend each day. Kim Claiborne, a summer employee of the Parks and Recreation Department, is class leader for the group. Miss Claiborne has two assistants helping her teach the safety program, Roxane Ratliff and Sharon Elich. All three safety instructors are Midland College students.

According to Butler, the traffic program which runs through July 26, is designed to teach pedestrian, passenger and bicycle safety to elementary aged children by employing a program of multiple learning experiences including participation in illustrating these points.

Drawing assignments are distributed among the pupils and later the children's art work is processed into a color slide show in Austin.

Slides and special added sound track material are then mailed back to the participating school for use in a continuing effort of school safety programs.

It was noted by the traffic coordinator that the Governor's Safety Program was intended to be merged into the regular school year program, and to be aimed primarily at the fourth grade level.

After the pupils' art work and safety lessons have been completed, a group of professional judges will study the efforts of students from across the state and prizes ranging from certificates of merit to "Drive Friendly" t-shirts will be awarded. But the grand prize for winners in the statewide safety show competition will be the presentation of the selected students' illustrations in a special television public service commercial.

Officials Of Utility Companies Don't See Way To Curb Rate Hike

HOUSTON (AP) — Officials of several Texas utility companies say they don't believe there is a way to halt fast rising utility rates.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe has said he will call a special session if the Texas Legislature can figure out how to stop the skyrocketing rates.

Last week, the governor asked the House Energy Crisis Study Committee to hold a series of hearings on the problem. He also told State Rep. John Newton, D-Beeville, chairman of the committee, he will call a special session of the legislature if the committee can find a way to cut rates.

Jackman C. Hinds, president of Entex, Inc., of Houston, formerly known as United Gas, Inc., said he did not believe there was a "whole lot" the legislature can do to hold down rising utility rates.

"It's like when you see a storm coming and you say you want to stop it, but you can't," said Hinds.

Briscoe has said his immediate concern is natural gas rates, both gas sold to consumers and to electric utilities which use fuel to generate electricity and pass on the higher fuel cost to its customers.

"Utility rates are tied to whatever fuel sources we can get," said Norman R. Lee, president of Gulf States Utility Co., a large electric utility based in Beaumont. "Unless we bring down the price of fuel sources, we can't bring down rates."

Unless the legislature can come up with more supplies of natural gas, Lee said he doesn't see what they can do.

Harry Fair, a vice president of Coastal States Gas Producing Co., which furnishes natural gas to the city-owned companies in Austin and San Antonio, said supplies of the fuel are "getting shorter and shorter."

One effective method for holding down utility rates, he said, would be for state controls on the fuel, giving priority to residential and small power plant use.

Midland To Get PPG Plant

"I've never seen a project where the people of Midland, all governmental agencies and civic leaders worked together so closely," said Jastrow, "and now we feel we have finally accomplished our objective."

Jastrow said that when he became chamber president he said he would like to see growth for Midland, but growth with quality, "and I feel this situation fits that criterion."

"If PPG finally decides to construct this plant, it will be a tremendous asset for this community and for the entire West Texas area," Jastrow said.

Tyler also spoke of community involvement. "All our local governmental agencies were most cooperative and were instrumental in making this project possible," Tyler said.

Tyler pointed out that today's announcement was a year in the making and he lauded those involved for staying with the project and doing what was necessary to accomplish the goal.

Allday cited a number of individuals and firms by name, including C. Winston Barclay, Dave Sanders and John Berry of Texas Electric Service Co.; Norman Henry of Pioneer Natural Gas Co.; John Grimland, who was president of the Industrial Foundation when the project was launched; Charles Priddy, immediate past president of the chamber of commerce, who was instrumental in creating the City of Midland Energy Supply Inc., which has been instrumental in the program, by making supplemental supply of natural gas available. Allday also thanked the four Midland banks — The First National, The Midland National, Commercial Bank and Trust, and Western State — and the three savings and loan associations — Midland Savings, First Savings, and Citizens Savings — for their "superb cooperation" in the project.

Special thanks were directed to the City and County of Midland; Midland Independent School District, and Midland College for their unexcelled assistance and cooperation.

Members of the Midland Area Sales Team (MAST), headed by Ron Schwisow, were lauded by Allday for their leadership and untiring efforts in bringing the project to a successful conclusion.

"This was the nearest thing to a 'community effort' that I have observed in Midland," Allday said, "There are so many others who have been active in the project that it is impossible to mention them all by name. I just want to say 'Thank you' to each and every one of them."

Barge Freed

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Tugboats have freed a capsized barge three days after it smashed into a pier under the Huey P. Long Mississippi River Bridge near here. It's still spilling oil into the river, however.

Three tugboats pulled the 270-foot vessel off the pier's base Tuesday night, but they were unable to turn it rightside up.

"A great surge of oil" poured into the water when it was freed, a Coast Guard spokesman said.

With a gash in its side, the barge already had leaked an estimated 210,000 gallons of oil. Two and possibly three of its 10 oil tanks ruptured and it has been impossible to seal the hole, the spokesman said.

No injuries.

The vessel was carrying 21,000 barrels of crude oil Saturday when it broke a tow line and rammed the bridge. There were no injuries.

During the first efforts, 10 tugboats and two huge marine cranes succeeded only in snapping cables hooked to the upended barge.

"Now it's upside down and tugs are trying to pull it to the shoreline," the spokesman said. "We still don't know how much came out when it was on its side."

Hearing—

Judge Sam Paxson, presiding here in the absence of the regular judge for this district, Charles Sherrill of Ozona who is trying cases in other cities in the district, disqualified 10 voters after the two days of testimony.

In questioning the unqualified voters, the judge learned that seven voted for Mrs. Garner and three for Walter Campbell, leaving the election standing at 588 for Mrs. Garner and 587 for Campbell.

Judge Paxson will resume the hearing in his office at El Paso Saturday. He then will make his decision as to who will be the next Upton County judge.

He said he recessed the hearing Tuesday afternoon until Saturday to give attorneys from both sides a chance to uncover any other evidence that may exist on the eligibility of the voters in question.

Perkins Sentenced To 2 Years In Pen

One man was arraigned and another was sentenced in federal court here Tuesday afternoon.

Michael Edward Perkins, found guilty by a jury here, was sentenced to two years in prison for possession of a sawed-off shotgun not registered to him.

U. S. Dist. Judge D. W. Suttle denied defense motions for a new trial and for the judgment to be arrested.

Perkins, a Midland man, gave notice that he plans to appeal.

The arraignment was for Clint A. Thomas, charged with possession of stolen mail and forgery and passing a government check.

He pleaded innocent to each of the counts after waiving the reading of the indictment.

The case was set for docket call and jury selection on Aug. 12.

PBRPC Receives Grant To Form Office On Aging

AUSTIN — The Governor's Committee on Aging has approved a one-year grant of $43,197 to the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission for the establishment of a regional office on aging.

The regional office will be a planning and coordinating vehicle for the area directed towards services for the aged. It will work in conjunction with existing senior citizens agencies in the area.

One of the most important services which the new regional office will provide is an information and referral service. Bill Smith, assistant executive director of the PBRPC, explained that since the grant was approved only yesterday, the method for providing this service has not been fully conceived.

"In the Permian Basin area, there are seven counties—Midland, Ector, Howard, Ward, Dawson, Reeves and Pecos—which maintain some kind of senior citizen agency.

The regional office on aging will be located at the PBRPC office at Midland Regional Air Terminal and will be staffed by a regional coordinator and a secretary.

A committee will be formed to serve in an advisory capacity to the board of directors of PBRPC.

The Governor's Committee also approved grants for: The Texoma Regional Planning Commission, Denison, $40,028; South Plains Association of Governments, Lubbock, $50,245; Panhandle Regional Planning Commission, Amarillo, $56,331; West Central Texas Council of Governments, Abilene, $65,795; Brazos Valley Development Council, Bryan, $38,775 and Gold Crescent Council of Governments, Victoria, $47,314.

Grants approved pending modifications included Middle Rio Grande Development Council, Del Rio, $28,904; Central Texas Council of Governments, Belton, $42,092; South Texas Development Council, Laredo, $29,273; Concho Valley Council of Governments, San Angelo, $35,129; Nortex Regional Planning Commission, Wichita Falls, $50,790.

$50,000 Bond Set In Old Murder Case

ODESSA — A bond of $50,000 was set Tuesday for a Beaumont man charged here in the 21-year-old murder of a San Angelo man.

A. L. Bates, 46, was charged with murder on June 12 after he told a security guard in a Florida veteran's hospital about the death of Daron E. Switzer, whose body was found in an Odessa motel in 1953.

Bates had been a suspect in the murder but had eluded police when he stopped using his alias, Howard Lacey, and went back to his real name, police said.

Bates was returned to Odessa from Florida Monday night.

Mrs. Parks, 82, Dies At Graham

COLORADO CITY — Mrs. David B. Parks, 82, of Graham, the mother of Midlander Mrs. M. H. Endsley died Monday in a Colorado City hospital.

Funeral services were to be held today at 10 a.m. in the Morrison Funeral Home chapel in Graham with the Rev. John Wiles, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating.

Interment was to be in Pioneer Cemetery.

Other survivors include two sons, four brothers, three sisters, six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

during the past seven weeks. When the material will be released remains unclear but some members say all evidence relating to the Watergate cover-up, including the committee's versions of White House tapes, could be made public in a few days.

Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., who will have the right to edit the material before it is released, said Tuesday he hoped the entire record of more than 7,000 pages would be available for public scrutiny when the committee starts debating proposed articles of impeachment, now scheduled for July 15.

"This is information on which one can make an evaluation," said Rodino. "It should come to the attention of the public."

The 22-16 vote came on a motion by Rep. Wayne Owens, D-Utah.

Most of the evidence to be released consists of factual statements bearing on the conduct of President Nixon and his aides without any interpretation or conclusions.

However, it also includes the evidence that led the Watergate grand jury to vote 19 to 0 to name Nixon as an unindicted co-conspirator in the Watergate cover-up. And it includes transcripts of presidential conversations far more complete than the edited versions released by the White House.

In other Watergate developments: —Former top Nixon aide John D. Ehrlichman and three others go on trial today in the break-in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

—The Senate Watergate committee is reported ready to release a report written by Vice Chairman Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., on possible CIA involvement in the Watergate break-in and cover-up.

—A legal consultant to the Watergate committee proposed that Congress limit a president's use of executive privilege and define exactly what he can do in the name of national security.

Armstrong To Cut Church's Budget

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A $3.8 million deficit last year by the Worldwide Church of God will result in "several profound cuts" in the 1974-75 budget for the church's Ambassador College here, Albert Portune, former Ambassador vice president said Tuesday.

Portune said Garner Ted Armstrong, son of the church founder, Herbert Armstrong, discussed the proposed cuts with Ambassador College employees during a recent meeting.

Ambassador College spokesman Les Stocker said other economy cuts include closing the church's Imperial elementary and high schools here and on the Ambassador College campus in Big Sandy, Tex., and by converting the Bricklet Ward College run by the church in England from a four-year liberal arts institution to a two-year graduate ministerial program.

Hughes Tool To Buy Byron Jackson Inc.

HOUSTON (AP) — A definite agreement has been announced by Hughes Tool Co. and Borg Warner Corp. for Hughes to Acquire Byron Jackson Inc.

Byron Jackson Inc., the Long Beach, Calif. subsidiary of Borg Warner, is one of the nation's largest oil well cementing and well stimulating service companies and is a manufacturer of oil tools.

The agreement involves the exchange of 50,000 shares of new Hughes convertible preferred stock. Each share would have a cumulative annual dividend of $6.25, would be entitled to one vote and would be convertible into 2.5 shares of Hughes Tool common stock.

Undercover Agents Testifying In Trial

Two more undercover officers have told the federal jury hearing the drug case under way here in Federal Court against Dr. Henry Thomas Leigh of Andrews that they received illegal prescriptions from the physician during an investigation in 1971.

The testimony from Texas Ranger A. Mitchell and Johnny Griggs, former special agent for the federal Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, late Tuesday and today followed similar testimony from another former BNDD agent Jerry Wallace, who was on the stand Tuesday morning.

Special thanks were directed to the City and County of Midland; Midland Independent School District, and Midland College for their unexcelled assistance and cooperation.

Elementary ($33,154), and Bonham Elementary ($30,843), Lee High ($95,548) and Austin Freshman School ($68,283).

Donald Furgeson, business manager, said most of the higher increases resulted because of maintenance work or additional teachers.

Furgeson said school employees will receive a seven per cent pay raise.

In other action, the trustees awarded a contract for pest control to Bob Boydston of Midland and an $8,180 contract to the C. A. Gray Plumbing Co. for the replacement of waterlines at Alamo Junior High and Pease Elementary School.

Preliminary School Budget Up $1 Million

The Midland Independent School District Board of Trustees conducted a preliminary budget study at its bi-monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Preliminary figures put the 1974-75 budget at $14,870,928 which would be an increase of $1,047,654 over last year's funding. The preliminary budget did not include federal funds which totaled $454,000 a year ago.

Excluding the federal monies, the board will have a total estimated income of $14,696,100. The total includes $6,757,005 in state funds $1,022 from the County Available School Fund, $6,783,713 in local funds and $1,154,360 in debt services.

The preliminary budget figures show that the per pupil expenditure would be $917.84 per student, an increase of $66.65 over the previous year.

All schools in the system would have increased budgets with the exception of Crockett Elementary and South Elementary which would have slices of $4,958 and $5,846 respectively.

The schools with the biggest increases include Travis Elementary ($38,842), Bowie Elementary ($36,128), Houston

Antifilibuster Move Slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate advocates of tax reform plan to make what is likely to be a last gasp effort on the debt limit bill today to shut off a filibuster blocking their proposals.

They arranged for a cloture vote to try to end debate and bring a quick test on one reform proposal, repeal of the 22 per cent oil depletion allowance.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., sponsor of their proposal, said this allowance was the "most outrageous loophole of all."

Oil state senators said they were sure they had the votes to prevent the two-thirds margin needed for cloture. The Nixon administration opposes the Humphrey proposal.

Meanwhile, Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., the Republican whip, filed a cloture petition to close debate on the entire bill, forestalling any further tax reform or tax cut amendments. It would be voted on Thursday.

Woman Wins $1 Million Lawsuit Against GM

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A Houston woman who lost the use of both of her arms and legs in a 1969 automobile accident won a $1 million lawsuit today against General Motors Corp.

Elvora Spriggs Williams claimed that the steering coupling on her 1963 Chevrolet was not designed properly, resulting in her losing control of her car which crashed into a guardrail on Interstate 10.

She said she was approaching a "teeny-weezy curve" when she shifted her position slightly behind the wheel and the wheel spun "around like a top."

"She was thrown into the back seat by the impact and was rendered a quadriplegic."

Larue, an auto mechanic, testified that the locking, a safety factor to keep the coupling together, was missing and apparently had been missing for some time. He said the thrust clamp also was loose, and a slight upward pull on the steering wheel would separate the evidence to be released material relating to the secret bombing of Cambodia that the Defense Department has refused to declassify.

Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., who led the fight against releasing the evidence now, said it would infringe on the rights of Watergate defendants awaiting trial and also could hurt Nixon. He and other opponents favor holding up public release of evidence unless and until the committee votes articles of impeachment, and then releasing only evidence in support of the articles approved.

But Rep. Robert McClory, R-Ill., one of six Republicans who voted to release the evidence, said he thought the importance of keeping the public informed on impeachment was overriding.

Rodino said the material made public would include any evidence furnished by James D. St. Clair, Nixon's chief impeachment lawyer, who will present his rebuttal Thursday.

Although the release of evidence would appear to nullify the rule of confidentiality under which the committee has been operating, Rodino said he is still considering examining witnesses in secret. A decision will be made on the basis of the information each witness can provide, he said.

Jack Benny, Others Victims Of Massive Drilling Swindle

NEW YORK (AP) — Top show business personalities, business magnates and big-name lawyers were among victims of a $100-million oil-drilling swindle, the Wall Street Journal said today.

The newspaper said it may be the biggest swindle of its kind in history.

Investors sank about $130 million in it and all but $30 million went astray, the newspaper said. The Securities and Exchange Commission called it a "Ponzi scheme," in which the swindlers pay off early investors with money from more recent investors.

Show business investors identified by the newspaper and the amounts they invested included: Andy Williams $538,000, Jack Benny $300,000, Rock singer David Cassidy $300,000, Walter Matthau $200,000 and Liza Minnelli $231,000.

Businessmen who had a major stake included Fred J. Borch, former chairman of General Electric Co., $440,920; Walter B. Wriston, chairman of the First National City Bank, $211,000; Russell W. McFall, chairman and president of Western Union, $394,000; John G. Martin, executive committee chairman of Heublein Co., $361,000, and Ralph A. Hart, director and former chairman of Heublein, $322,000.

Lawyers included Henry J. Fox of Washington, $108,500; Earl W. Kintner of Washington, $127,000; and Richard S. Storrs, $115,000.

The newspaper said the case centers on Home-Stake Production Co., a Tulsa, Okla., tax-shelter oil-drilling company, which the SEC declared insolvent last September and is investigating.

The trustee in Home-Stake's bankruptcy and four groups of investors have filed suits in federal and state courts in Tulsa accusing the principals of wrongdoing, the Journal said.

At least one federal grand jury is expected to convene soon, in Los Angeles or in New York, according to the newspaper.

Oklahoma oil lawyer Robert S. Trippet, who founded Home-Stake in 1955 and ran it until he resigned last summer, has consented to a court injunction

Nixon in his arrival remarks said his presence at NATO headquarters between his visits to the Middle East and Moscow "symbolizes the central role of the Atlantic Alliance in pursuing our goal of a lasting peace in the world."

The President and Mrs. Nixon remain in Brussels until Thursday, when they fly to the Soviet capital for the third annual meeting between Nixon and Soviet Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev.

"Without the alliance, it is doubtful that détente with the Soviet Union would have begun, and without a continuing strong alliance, it is doubtful if the détente would continue," Nixon said on his arrival Tuesday night in the Belgian capital.

The declaration approved last week at the spring meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization formalizes a pledge that the United States will consult NATO's 14 other members before staking out new policies.

After the signing by Nixon and heads of the other allied governments, the American President was to brief his allies about his Moscow trip at a closed session and then hold in-

Barge Freed

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Tugboats have freed a capsized barge three days after it smashed into a pier under the Huey P. Long Mississippi River Bridge near here. It's still spilling oil into the river, however.

Three tugboats pulled the 270-foot vessel off the pier's base Tuesday night, but they were unable to turn it rightside up.

"A great surge of oil" poured into the water when it was freed, a Coast Guard spokesman said.

With a gash in its side, the barge already had leaked an estimated 210,000 gallons of oil. Two and possibly three of its 10 oil tanks ruptured and it has been impossible to seal the hole, the spokesman said.

No injuries.

The vessel was carrying 21,000 barrels of crude oil Saturday when it broke a tow line and rammed the bridge. There were no injuries.

During the first efforts, 10 tugboats and two huge marine cranes succeeded only in snapping cables hooked to the upended barge.

"Now it's upside down and tugs are trying to pull it to the shoreline," the spokesman said. "We still don't know how much came out when it was on its side."

Hearing—

Judge Sam Paxson, presiding here in the absence of the regular judge for this district, Charles Sherrill of Ozona who is trying cases in other cities in the district, disqualified 10 voters after the two days of testimony.

In questioning the unqualified voters, the judge learned that seven voted for Mrs. Garner and three for Walter Campbell, leaving the election standing at 588 for Mrs. Garner and 587 for Campbell.

Judge Paxson will resume the hearing in his office at El Paso Saturday. He then will make his decision as to who will be the next Upton County judge.

He said he recessed the hearing Tuesday afternoon until Saturday to give attorneys from both sides a chance to uncover any other evidence that may exist on the eligibility of the voters in question.

Army Will Move Calley To Kansas

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — The Army plans to transfer William L. Calley Jr. to the disciplinary barracks at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., while a federal judge considers Calley's appeal of his My Lai murder conviction.

A military spokesman in Washington, D.C., said the transfer of the former Army lieutenant would be made today.

U.S. District Court Judge J. Robert Elliott took Calley's appeal under advisement Tuesday after two days of hearings. He said he would "rule in due course."

He denied a motion for bail which Calley's lawyers said was warranted because they said the hearings produced "a high probability of success."

Meeting Slated

ROME (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger probably will meet with Pope Paul VI during a two-day visit to the Vatican beginning July 5, the foreign ministry has announced. The announcement was made Tuesday. Officials said Kissinger was making the visit to changes which contribute to Italy at the request of Italian Foreign Minister Aldo Moro.

Rome was the first Axis capital to fall to the Allies. The date was June 4, 1944.

between eight and 10 years. The study will be conducted along with the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID) of the National Institutes of Health.

The NIAID has awarded Baylor a $2.8 million contract to establish a multi-disciplinary research center to study influenza in man. The center will serve as a national focus of research efforts to find answers to many of the puzzling questions surrounding influenza, Dr. Dorland J. Davis, director of NIAID said.

The contract is for five years, but Baylor officials said they expect a continuation of federally-supported operation for as much as 10 years.

Baylor was the only center to receive a contract after a nationwide competition of 14 institutions.

Dr. Robert B. Couch of Baylor, the director of the Influenza Research Center, said a new worldwide strain of influenza virus is expected to appear in the next four to five years.

One of the goals of the center, he said, is to better prepare the world to deal with the next outbreak of the disease, or possibly prevent it.

"We experience epidemics about every two to three years, and pandemics (a worldwide epidemic) every 10 to 14 years," Couch said. "The last pandemic was in 1968 with the Hong Kong flu."

"The influenza is constantly changing, and it is these changes which contribute to frequent epidemics," he said. "Then at some point, the virus exhibits a major change that results in a pandemic. This is what makes prevention so difficult."

High Incidence Of Cancer Deaths Is Reported Among Employees Working With Vinyl Chloride

WASHINGTON (AP) — A medical study has produced new evidence suggesting a high incidence of death from a rare liver cancer among factory employees working with vinyl chloride, a chemical widely used in the plastics industry.

A study of vinyl chloride workers at the Goodyear plant in Niagara Falls, N.Y., found that three of 24 deaths were due to the cancer angiosarcoma.

Dr. Irving J. Selikoff, director of the Environmental Sciences Laboratory of the Mount Sinai School of Medicine, cited the study. He emphasized the critical importance of reducing the amount of vinyl chloride workers are exposed to, to a "no detectable level" as proposed by the Labor Department.

Selikoff was among dozens of witnesses Tuesday at a hearing on the Labor Department's proposed standards for regulating its use.

Representatives of the Society of the Plastics Industry, Inc., a trade association, argued that the medical evidence was too inconclusive to require banning worker exposure to the chemical. They said the proposed regulations were impossible to achieve and would force the industry to close scores of plants with the loss of as many as 2.2 million jobs.

"The proposed permanent standard is not technologically feasible and, if adopted, would shut down the industry," warned Anton Vitton, president of the B. F. Goodrich Chemical Co.

Vitton, representing the workers between January and May "indicates that we are observing a newly recognized occupational disease associated with exposure" to vinyl chloride.

He said that previously about 20 to 30 cases of the disease had been reported annually in the United States.

United Rubber Workers President Peter Bommarito, representing the AFL-CIO, said organized labor supported the stringent controls proposed by the government even at the risk of losing jobs.

Businessman, In Court Case, Tells Of Being Abducted, Shot, Left To Die

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — A Georgia business executive testified in federal court Tuesday he was shot and left in a ditch to die by three men who abducted him and forced him to drive from Georgia to Texas.

James Otto Hoover, 56, of Columbia, Ga., was the first prosecution witness in the trial of Wayne William Barfield, Larry Fate Fortune and Peter Gaston Kaiser, all of Columbus. The businessmen said, "I could feel each one."

Hoover said Fortune then started shooting into his right side while Kaiser put more bullets in the gun. He testified that Fortune fired once more and p.m. Sept. 13, 1973, and made him drive from Columbus here. I hear a siren."

House Votes To Reduce Top-Paid Positions On White House Staff

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House, in a move Republicans called a slap at President Nixon, has voted to cut the number of top-paid positions on the White House staff.

Supporters of the bill, approved Tuesday by an unrecorded voice vote, said they were concerned about the increasing number of White House aides.

Roy Ash, director of the Office of Management of Budget, who had asked the House to retain the present salary framework, takes his case to the Senate today.

The House bill also subjects the president's entertainment and travel allowances to audit of the General Accounting Office, an arm of Congress.

Fourteen White House officials now earn the top level of $42,500. The House bill stipulates that nine positions must be shifted by attrition to lower grades ranging from $38,000 to $40,000.

Republicans charged the bill was Democratic retribution against Nixon. GOP Whip Leslie Arends snapped, "I know partisan politics when I see it."

Backers cited the greater role the White House staff plays at the expense of Cabinet departments, whose officials must account to Congress.

An amendment to cut off Nixon's legal staff, personal staff and $70,000 travel money so long as House and Senate subpoenas for Watergate materials are not honored was shouted down by voice vote.

Christopher's father, a photographer for The Midland Reporter-Telegram, records the lad's trek to the tank with his fishing gear at left, his pensive wait for a bite, center, and finally his expression in showing the size of the fish that got away.

Camper Accident Kills Woman, 25

MOUNT IDA, Ark. (AP) — Mary Morack, 25, of Corpus Christi was killed at Pencil Bluff in Montgomery County near here Monday when she apparently fell against a pickup camper door and was thrown out under the wheels of a camper trailer being pulled by the pickup, authorities said.

State police said Thomas Burdette, 21, of Hot Springs, the driver, traveled about 85 miles before discovering his wife was missing.

Burdette had stopped to check a rear light when he decided to look into the camper and found that the woman had disappeared, the Montgomery County sheriff's office said.

He then called state police. The partly clad body was discovered by a truck driver of U.S. 270.

Sheriff's officers said they thought Miss Morack was changing clothes in the camper when the pickup went around a curve, throwing her against the door and causing it to swing open.

State police said she was dragged 102 feet by the trailer.

Schwartz Says Unloading Supertankers Off Texas Coast Dangerous

HOUSTON (AP) — State Sen. A.R. Schwartz says a major oil firm's practice of unloading supertankers 75 miles off the Texas Coast could result in oil spills or a massive explosion.

The Galveston senator said the unloading at sea by Mobil Oil Co. points up a need for quick construction of a publicly owned Texas superport as recommended by the Texas Offshore Terminal Commission. Schwartz said the offloading "is a tremendous potential hazard to the environment, to say nothing of the hazard to the life of the people involved."

"If one of those big babies blows and burns out there, you're going to have the biggest fire since the holocaust," he said.

A Mobil spokesman in New York said the company had said a tender vessel with oil-spill booms and dispersants stands by during the offloadings. Operations are suspended in bad weather, Mobil said.

He said Mobil has conducted 11 offloading operations about 75 miles south of Texas' Sabine Pass since last January without oil spills or incidents.

The practice off the Texas Coast involves offloading crude oil from supertankers, ranging from 125,000 to 278,000 deadweight tons, onto smaller tankers that can tie up at the Mobil refinery in Beaumont.

The Mobil spokesman said that while lightering is a common practice in many parts of the world, the Gulf of Mexico unloading operation is Mobil's only one in the open seas off the United States.

SEC Suit Names Farmers Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission has sued the National Farmer Organization, which it contends is broke and lied to its members when it borrowed more than $7 million from them.

The farmers group was charged with fraud, false statements and failure to disclose information about its financial condition.

The suit filed in Des Moines, Iowa, and announced in Washington, came one day after the farm organization's board, in an emergency meeting, unanimously approved a resolution denying any fraud and requesting that the commission make a more thorough investigation.

NFO, which markets a broad range of commodities for its members, has had trouble collecting the $75-a-year dues it asks of its members, and recently launched a drive to collect delinquent dues, estimated by sources close to the farm organization at $12 million or more.

Staley sent a letter to members June 13, marked "confidential for members only—not to be released to the press."

In it, he said the SEC investigation is the biggest problem to confront the farm group in its 18-year history.

"Back dues must be paid immediately or NFO is lost," he said. "NFO's existence depends on your decision."

When news accounts of the letter appeared, Staley denied that the group is faced with financial collapse and said the SEC's complaints were technical.

An SEC spokesman denied on Tuesday that the suit is related to the enemies list. "The charges speak for themselves," he said.

The suit charges that the farm organization is in the red and can't pay its bills.

The group, which reports income of nearly $9 million a year, never has revealed membership figures, but estimates place the number of paid-up members at roughly 160,000 nationwide.

Staley said the suit is related to the enemies list. "The charges speak for themselves," he said.

MEXICAN SENATOR KIDNAPED— Guerrillas' Ransom Demands Studied

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Mexican government said Tuesday night it was studying guerrilla demands for $4 million, release of many prisoners and delivery of arms in exchange for the life of a kidnaped federal senator.

A spokesman for President Luis Echeverria of Mexico said "we are studying" a communique signed by guerrilla Lucio Cabanas sent to Mexico City newspapers Tuesday afternoon.

The president's office said it would have no immediate comment and that the text would be broadcast on television stations.

The broadcast of the text was one of the demands included in the two-page, typewritten communique sent to newspapers. Most radio stations, which according to the communique were to broadcast it at 8 p.m. CST, ignored the deadline and went on with regular programming.

Only the English-language radio station XEVIP broadcast the text in English.

Sen. Ruben Figueroa, 66, was kidnaped by Cabanas' guerrillas on May 30 as the official headed for a meeting with the guerrilla leader in the mountains of the southern state of Guerrero where his band operates north of Acapulco.

The government said, Figueroa was lured into a trap when he was on his way to meet Cabanas allegedly to sign a peace act to end guerrilla activities in the area.

Figueroa is a candidate for state governor representing the Institutional Revolutionary Party (PRI), which has ruled Mexico for nearly half a century.

Cabanas, believed to lead about 500 men in the mountains, has been operating in the region the last six years.

The communique, found by a newspaper reporter in a trash can after an anonymous telephone call to his city editor, demanded $4 million from the federal government, opening all jails in Guerrero state to let "all prisoners go" and delivery of 100 M-1 rifles with 60 rounds each of ammunition and 50 pistols with two clips each.

When U.S. Consul General in Guadalajara Terrance G. Leonhardy was kidnaped there by an urban commando group last May, the government fulfilled all demands including payment of $80,000 in ransom and release of 30 prisoners who were flown to Cuba.

Leonhardy was released unharmed.

Last October, the government flatly refused demands when the same group kidnaped British honorary consul Anthony Duncan Williams and Mexican businessman Fernando Aranguen.

Williams was freed safe and sound but Aranguen was found shot to death.

During the first political kidnappings in Mexico in the past five years, the federal government was quick to comply with guerrilla demands. But that policy has changed.

BENEFITS PARENTS, TEACHERS— Many Children Given Hyperactivity Drugs Don't Need Them, Prof Says

CHICAGO (AP) — About twice as many children are being given drugs for hyperactivity as should be, says an Ohio researcher.

He says the drugs are administered for the benefit of teachers and parents who simply want to control unruly children.

The researcher, Dr. Herbert E. Rie, said Tuesday at the American Medical Association's annual meeting children who have not been thoroughly examined are being labeled hyperactive.

The diagnosis, and prescription of drugs, is being made on the basis of parents' and teachers' reports and superficial examination, he claimed.

Rie, professor of pediatrics and psychology at Ohio State University, told newsmen later that about 4 per cent of children are deemed hyperactive, while probably only 2 per cent actually are, based on thorough neurological and psychological examinations.

A child's agitated behavior may grow out of environmental and not neurological conditions, he said.

"It is my impression that the physician often relies upon parental or school complaints as the primary basis for his diagnosis of hyperactivity," Rie said. "Kids whom people don't tolerate for many reasons are given this label."

Cubs Back On Winning Track

Haug, Tabb Spark 8-4 Victory

SPARK VICTORY — Steve Haug, left, slammed a three-run homer Tuesday while Ken Pape, right, wound up playing shortstop, due to numerous injuries to key Midland Cub players. It paid off, however for Walt Dizon's Cubs who whipped the El Paso Diablos, 8-4 in Cubs Stadium in Texas League action.

By TED BATTLES
If the Midland Cubs thought they had injury troubles when they started an eight-game winning streak a couple of weeks ago, it was nothing to the shape they were in for Tuesday's series opener with El Paso at Cubs Stadium.
Thanks to a two-run single by first baseman Jerry Tabb in a four-run second and Steve Haug's three-run homer to cap a four-run fifth, Midland beat El Paso, 8-4, in the Texas League encounter as left-hander Dave Geisel won his sixth game and fourth in a row.
The Cubs won with catcher Steve Clancy on third, "And the last time I played third was at a whiffle ball game in the backyard, but Geisel did a great job in keeping the ball away from me." Clancy got the call at third when Wayne Tyrone cut a finger off in service and outfielder Bill Bright is hobbling with a severe foot bruise.

Ken Pape has played shortstop before, but a pulled muscle in his chest makes it difficult for him to reach for the ball. The only reason he was in the lineup was because Ken Szotkiewicz (.323) is in Wichita and rookie Dick Sember is injured.
"He's got the intestinal fortitude of a burglar," Manager Walt Dixon said after the game. "He pulled the muscle Monday night and aggravated it going for Geisel's throw on a first-inning play."
Of course, second baseman Bill Huisman (.332) is still he was putting his pitches where he wanted them," said Haug, whose second homer equalled his last year's total. "I've got half a year to better it," he added.

First, Tabb's two-run single to right in the four-run fourth came after Pape drilled a single to center; Jose Ortiz walked and Bill Droege looped a banjo hit into short center to load the bases. Tabb's grounder into the hole scored two and Droege took third when the ball was misbanded.
Clancy's hoist to left plated the run and then, after Bright's single, Tabb trotted home on a wild pitch.

El Paso got to Geisel for an unearned run in the first and looked like they were on the way to another rendezvous with 14 hits, their Cubs Stadium average this season, with four hits in the first two innings.
Dave Collins singled to right and then was safe when shortstop Pape dropped Geisel's throw after Mike Milley rapped sharply back to the box. It looked like a cinch double play. John Balaz then made it costly with a single to left, but second baseman Joel Green made a head long dive on Ron Jackson's sure hit to the right side and made the throw to first to bail the Cubs out of potential big trouble.
A walk, and a couple of errors kept the Cubs alive long enough in the fifth inning to get catcher Steve Haug up to bat and he boomed his second homer of the year, a three-run job, over the left field fence.
While Andrews, who had beaten the Cubs three times, was being roughed up, Geisel, going for his fourth straight win, kept the Diablos hitless until the sixth when Dan Beerbower's two-out single produced a run.
Pape stoned his first inning error with two backhanded slabs and Howitzer threw from the hole to nail his man during Geisel's scoreless stint. Then in the seventh after an error and hit put runners on first and second his quick reflexes returned a bad hop into a third out.
A single by Marty Friedman and double by Beerbower with one out in the eighth brought in Zahn, who nailed down the victory for Geisel.

HARGROVE HOT— Rangers Defeat Minnesota, 7-3

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Texas rookie Mike Hargrove already has conceded the American League batting championship to Minnesota's Rod Carew, but the 24-year-old first baseman has no such notion when it comes to the rest of the hitters.
"I might as well enjoy it while it lasts," said Hargrove, who was playing for Texas' Gastonia farm club in the Western Carolinas League last season. "I've been so lucky you cannot imagine how lucky I've been so far. Maybe my luck will hold and I can keep my average above everybody else's but Carew's."
Magnifying Hargrove's plight are these statistics from Texas' 7-3 victory over the Twins Tuesday night.
—Hargrove went three-for-four and raised his average to .366.
—Carew, back in the lineup after missing three games because of a virus, went four-for-five, lifting his average to .397.
"There's no way anybody can match him for average," said Hargrove. "He hits every pitch wherever and whenever he pleases, it seems. Besides, he knows every pitcher real well."
"It has to be hard for him to have a slump since he can punt his way on, too, whenever he wants."
Hargrove was the last man added to the Rangers' 25-man active roster when spring training ended. Texas manager Billy Martin remembered the moment well.

Weiss Goes Against El Paso Tonight

CUB BRIEFS — Righthander Mike Weiss will be making his fourth try for his sixth victory in tonight's second game with El Paso at Cubs Stadium. Mike has a 5-3 victory and is 0-2 against the Diablos.
Outfielder Bill Bright stretched his batting string to 11 straight... Third base Wayne Tyrone suffered a finger cut requiring stitches and missed Tuesday's game, joining shortstop Dick Sember on the hors de combat list.
Pitcher Bob Ott, in his third year of pro baseball, was given his outright release. Bob, a psychology major grad from Quincy, Ill., College, was 10-4 with a 2.92 ERA in the Midwest League last year, but couldn't find his winning rhythm this spring... Second baseman Bill Huisman will join the Cubs Sunday in Amarillo after a two week service hitch... Outfielder Jose Ortiz was presented a birthday cake, compliments of Cub Boosters Mr. and Mrs. Vance Smith, by usherettes Pat Powers and Sharon Bray as he came to bat in the first. The presentation was to have been made before the game, but someone missed a signal... Over his last 12 games, Tyrone is raising for a .367 average, 18 for 49 with one home run and second his quick reflexes returned a bad hop into a third out.
A single by Marty Friedman and double by Beerbower with one out in the eighth brought in Zahn, who nailed down the victory for Geisel.

Reds Topple Astros

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Cincinnati Reds pitcher Steve Carlton pitched a gem Tuesday night, leading his team to a 5-0 victory over the Houston Astros.
Carlton, who has won 15 games in 1971, pitched six innings, allowing only one run on three hits and one walk. He struck out 10 batters.
The Reds' offense was led by outfielder Pete Rose, who had a two-run homer in the seventh inning. Other contributors were infielder Tony Oliva and pitcher Tom Seaver, who pitched a scoreless eighth inning.
Houston manager Lee Mazzera said his team was "out of sync" and "didn't know what to do." He said his pitcher, Nolan Ryan, was "out of control" in the seventh inning.

Renko Tosses One-Hitter For Expos

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer
The wind was just right for Steve Renko. The sudden breezes that Larry Dierker felt were caused by the baseballs whizzing past him.
"Renko is a great breaking ball pitcher when the wind is blowing from right field to left as it was tonight," said Montreal Manager Gene Mauch after Renko hurled a one-hitter that gave the Expos a 5-0 victory over Philadelphia.
Dierker also had a one-hitter Tuesday night—for six innings. Then Cincinnati's Cesar Geronimo singled a leadoff homer in the seventh and Johnny Bench and Dan Driessen drove in runs that wrecked Houston, giving the Reds a 3-2 victory over Dierker and the Astros.

Ken Norton Cops Bout In Eighth

SEATTLE (AP) — Fifth-ranked Ken Norton of San Diego, hitting almost at will, stopped Boone Kirkman of Renton, Wash., in the eighth round of their scheduled 10-round heavyweight fight Tuesday night.
Norton pounded Kirkman's jaw with left and rights throughout the seventh round and as the bell sounded Kirkman was flat on his back. He was unable to answer the bell for the eighth round.
Kirkman, at 212 pounds, was the aggressor in the opening round. He bored in mercilessly with hard body punches that slowed Norton only temporarily.
From then on, Norton began getting to Kirkman's face with left jabs and hooks, and by the third round, Kirkman was bleeding from the nose.
Norton, 218, took over the aggressor's role and took advantage of Kirkman's failure to cover up.
Kirkman, apparently trying to wait for the big blow that would put down his taller and heavier opponent, ran out of time. He also appeared to tire and was at least a step behind.
There were no other knock-downs in the fight, although Kirkman slipped briefly to his knees in the third round.
Even though it was obvious Kirkman was getting the worst of it, thousands of fans in the Seattle Coliseum screamed, "Boom! Boom!" the nickname the Renton brawler earned while compiling a 32-3 record, including 23 knockouts.
Norton, who like Kirkman was knocked out in his last fight, appeared undisturbed by the partisan fans. He had said before the fight he would prove he was the better boxer. Even when the brawling Renton boxer had him tied up on the ropes, Norton's left was constantly finding Kirkman's face and jaw.

Amarillo Trips Brewers By 8-6

By The Associated Press
Amarillo upset San Antonio 8-6 in a Texas League game Tuesday night after Lazaro del Orbe hit a go-ahead homer to bring in two runs in the second inning.
The West Division-leading Brewers never caught up, even with a grand slam homer by Rob Bellor in the fourth.
In other games, Midland defeated El Paso 8-4, Shreveport dumped Alexandria 4-2 and Victoria beat Arkansas 6-4 to widen its lead in the Texas League East.
Gary Martz slammed a three-run homer in the eighth inning to give Shreveport a final lead. Alexandria had one up at the top of that inning. Robert Alexander went the distance for the Cubs.

Dodger Holdup Nets $5,000

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Three gunmen robbed an armored truck carrying ticket receipts in the parking lot at Dodger Stadium Tuesday night and escaped with $5,000 after firing one shot, police said.
Officers said no one was hurt.
The truck, owned by the baseball team, was carrying three ticket sellers and the money to the stadium offices from a ticket booth when the robbers halted it.
The robbery occurred during a Dodgers-Atlanta Braves game.

COM Entry Takes 3rd Place At Albuquerque Swim Meet

Five members of the City of Midland Swim Team last weekend won the third place trophy in the 10 and under age group in the Army, Navy, Air Force Invitational Swimming Meet at Albuquerque, N.M.
The meet was held at Kirkland Air Force Base. The 10 and under division was won by the New Mexico Aquatic Club of Las Cruces, and the Army, Navy, Air Force Aquatic Club of Albuquerque was second.
In addition to winning the third place plaque, the Midlanders set nine New Mexico state records.
The Midlanders set state records in the 200 freestyle relay and the 200 medley relay. Each team included Heather Dunbar, Gretchen Koch, Emily Murray and Isabel Torres.
Miss Koch set New Mexico state marks in the 200 freestyle, the 50 butterfly, the 50 freestyle and the 100 freestyle.
Miss Dunbar set records in the 200 individual medley, 100 backstroke and 50 backstroke.
The fifth member of the team was Carrie Mayes.
Steve Montgomery, assistant COM coach, accompanied the swimmers to Albuquerque.

AMERICAN LEAGUE ROUNDUP— Lolich Halts Orioles

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

Like American League batters, umpire Russ Goetz had trouble handling Oriole pitcher Mike Cuellar. But unlike the hitters, Goetz knocked him out of a game.

It wasn't easy. Cuellar, the screwball-throwing left-hander, was gunning for his 10th straight victory when he ran into his own wildness and then the long arm of the law.

Cuellar walked Jim Northrup to force in Detroit's second run in the third inning. Only Cuellar didn't see it the same way home plate umpire Goetz did.

"I told him he couldn't see nothing," said Cuellar. Goetz told Cuellar he couldn't see the game anymore—at least as an active participant. He booted Cuellar out of the game.

Or so he thought. The next inning, the banished Cuellar still hadn't vanished. He came out to pitch. It seems his manager, Earl Weaver, also tossed out of the game, wasn't willing to give Cuellar the night off.

As it turned out, the Tigers' Mickey Lolich gave all the Orioles the night off. The durable Detroit left-hander struck out seven and limited the Orioles to nine hits in pitching his 11th straight complete game, a 2-0 victory.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Texas Rangers dropped the Minnesota Twins 7-3; the Chicago White Sox outlasted the Kansas City Royals

10-9 in 12 innings, and the Oakland A's whipped the California Angels 6-1. The Cleveland Indians-New York Yankees and the Milwaukee Brewers-Boston Red Sox games were rained out.

After Goetz threatened to forfeit the game when Weaver sent Cuellar back out to pitch, Goetz and the third base umpire finally convinced Cuellar to leave.

Evert In Wimbledon Bid

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Chris Evert, the 19-year-old No. 2 seed from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., bids for one of 32 spots in the women's singles at Wimbledon today on a recipe of at least 10 hours sleep a night.

That's the strategy for victory of Miss Evert's mother, Colette, as this fiesta of tennis enters its third day with many of the world's top players complaining of "too much" and "too little."

The stars say they are tired from an exhausting schedule of too much tennis and too little practice on fast grass courts.

Despite the groans, there have been no major surprises. Billie Jean King, defending champion and top seed seeking a sixth title, opened the women's events Tuesday with a smooth 6-1, 6-1 victory over

World Cup Action Enters 2nd Round

By COLIN FROST
FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Brazil and West Germany got a chance to repair their suspect soccer reputations today as the World Cup swung into second round action with four games.

Brazil takes on East Germany at Hannover in Group A and West Germany meets Yugoslavia at Dusseldorf in Group B.

Indications are both matches will be played as tactical draws.

For goals, fans will have to look to the day's two other clashes, Holland vs. Argentina at Geisenkirchen in group A, and Poland vs. Sweden at Stuttgart in Group B.

Brazil's manager, Mario Zagallo, was keeping his team plans secret until the last minute. Word from camp insiders, however, was that Brazil is not yet ready to parade the attacking skills that made it a three-time world champion.

This would involve dropping Edu, the Santos left-wing star, in favor of the more defensively minded Paulo Cesar Lima or Botafogo's Dircou, Ze Maria, first choice left-back, was expected to come into the team for the first time in a month after recovering from a muscle pull.

East Germany reportedly planned no changes from the team that beat West Germany 1-0 in the first round.

West Germany, still a 5-2 favorite in the British betting shops, has yet to find the form which two years ago won the European championship, and its match against Yugoslavia looks like a tailor-made draw.

The Sweden-Poland match shaped up as the likely thriller of the day. Whatever the result, however, was that Brazil is not a record must go.

IN RUIDOSO FEATURE THURSDAY

River North Tryst Ready

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M. — River North Tryst, who flashed some of her old form while stealing a 1½-length win last time out, will be out to prove she can do it again in Thursday's feature at Ruidoso Downs.

Thursday's centerpiece covers 5½ furlongs and offers an allowance purse of $2,300.

Racing action in the high country continues through Sunday.

Saturday's card will highlight the trials for the upcoming $340,000 (est.) Rainbow Derby, while Sunday's docket features the $4,000-added Dale Robertson Stakes at 400 yards.

First post each day in the cool pines is 2:30 p.m. CST.

In Thursday's main event, River North Tryst will haul 117 pounds with Gary Sumpter at the controls. The filly made her last start on June 7 and beat the likes of Star Arrow and Jim's Shoe at 5½ furlongs. She went off at nearly 11-1 in the wagering.

However, in her only other Ruidoso start this year, River North Tryst was forced into the backseat against Inky and El Tasador at six furlongs.

River North Tryst's last career win came on March 8 at Sunland Park when she led every inch of the way against maidens and hit the wire with a seven length cushion.

Here's the rest of the field: Cole's Pride, Free Policy, Just A Thought, Naomi Jet, Border Queen, Fashion Uprising and Martha Oustis.

Fashion Uprising is also a last-time victor. The filly collected her first career win a couple of weeks ago when she led from wire-to-wire against the likes of Ladybugging and Doe Boy at 5½ furlongs. The filly hit the tape with two lengths to spare.

In 1973, Fashion Uprising staged outs at both Sunland Park and Oaklawn Park. However, from her four other career starts, the best she could come up with was a third. But that came against the stakes-winning-sensation, Mink and Wine. Naomi Jet will be out to

WFL TICKETS—

Fans Are Curious About New Loop

By ANDY LIPPMAN
AP Sports Writer

Buying a World Football League season ticket is a little like buying a pigskin in a poke.

But with the July 10 starting date for the new league drawing nearer, the prospect that fans will end up holding an empty bag grows less.

And as the league gains credence, it also gains sales.

The Honolulu Hawaiians say they have sold nearly 7,000 season tickets and hope to boost the figure to 12,000-15,000.

The big sales boost could be the WFL's first appearance on television.

"Fans just want to see that we're for real," said Stu Zanville, the Hawaiians' administrative director. "They want to make sure we really exist before putting out any money."

Most of the 5,000 season tickets and about 80 per cent of the 16,000 tickets sold for the Detroit Wheels' first home game has come in the past three weeks "since we announced our schedule," said Brian Rekiel, team promotion manager.

He said about 70 per cent of season tickets have been sold to companies in blocks of four.

The Chicago Fire is stoking its publicity flame even before the season gets under way, in hopes of reaching 20,000 season ticket holders to fill the 55,700-seat Soldier Field.

"We're close to leading the league in ticket sales," said

Tigers In 9-4 Win

The Tigers downed Shamrock, 9-4 Tuesday night in Hi-Junior League action with Alan Neal going the distance for the victory. Neal scattered seven hits and the Tigers erupted for three runs in the fourth and three in the sixth to take the win.

Pistol Correction

Patricia Preston instead of Patricia Jeffers won the High Women Division of the El Paso Del Norte Pistol Championships in El Paso over the weekend.

In the Civilian Masters Division, Jim Fitz-Gerald finished second during the meet.

Elcor Topples Odessa Nine, 2-1

ODESSA — Elcor Chemical of Midland posted a 2-1 victory Tuesday night over State National Bank of Odessa in a Texas Teen-Age Senior League baseball game in American Legion Stadium.

Bobby Stevens was the winning hurler and Don Hudnall absorbed the loss for the Odessans.

Robert Dodson slugged a solo home run for the Chems while Randy Pufal hit one for State National.

Pistons Blank Pennzoil By 3-0

David Reddell led the defending champion Eubanks Pistons to a 3-0 victory over the Pennzoil Rufnecks in Western Sophomore action Tuesday night. Reddell threw his second consecutive shutout, limiting the Rufnecks to 5 hits while walking only one and striking out 8, and aided his own cause with a two run double.

Bryan Meyer and Joe Mowles stole two bases each for the Pistons, while Craig Van Horn and Joe Paul Garner turned in key defensive plays. The Pistons, coached by Phil Lago and Larry Van Horn are now 6-3 on the season, and trail the Rufnecks by only a half game. The Rufnecks are 6-2, with both of their losses coming at the hands of the Pistons.

NFL Talks Open

Heated Discussions Spice Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — National Football League owners and players met at the bargaining table again today in an effort to get some movement in their contract talks, something they haven't been able to do since the players' union made its demands last March 16.

After a six-hour, often-heated session Tuesday, federal mediator James Scarce said he was trying to be optimistic, "but there are tremendous differences between the parties."

No compromise was reached during the meeting on any of the 63 demands made by the NFL Players Association, an indication there will be a strike next Monday.

John Thompson, executive director of the NFL Management Council, the owners' bargaining agent, said: "We're still optimistic that we can avoid trouble before it really counts."

The San Diego Chargers open their training camp July 3, first of the 26 NFL teams to call their players together. The first game scheduled is the July 26 nationally televised exhibition between the Super Bowl champion Miami Dolphins and the College All-Stars in Chicago.

Tuesday's meeting between the two parties was the first since talks broke down June 13 in New York and was called by Scarce. Another is scheduled for Thursday. The mediator said he would like to keep the two sides together through the weekend if there is any hope for resolution.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Wednesday, June 26, the 177th day of 1974. There are 188 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1945, delegates of 50 nations, meeting in San Francisco, signed the United Nations Charter.

On this date:
In 1541, the Spanish conqueror, Francisco Pizarro, was killed in Lima, Peru.
In 1549, the 17 provinces of The Netherlands were declared independent of the Holy Roman Empire.

In 1844, President John Tyler married Julia Gardiner in a secret wedding in New York.

In 1935, compulsory labor service was introduced in Nazi Germany.

In 1941, Finland announced it was at war with the Soviet Union—for the second time in two years.

In 1944, Allied forces captured Cherbourg, France from the Nazis.

Ten years ago: The Roman Catholic Church and the Spanish government said they had reached basic agreement on proposed legislation to grant legal recognition and certain rights to Spain's Protestants.

Five year ago: There were serious outbreaks of racial violence in Omaha, Neb.; Cairo, Ill.; and Kokomo, Ind.

One year ago: The U.S. House of Representatives passed a bill barring the use of funds for American bombing operations in Cambodia and Laos.
Today's birthdays: Opera tenor Richard Crooks is 74. Engineer William Lear is 72.
Thought for today: The United Nations was set up not to get us to heaven, but only to save us from hell.—Sir Winston Churchill, 1874-1965.

Romania Is Trying To Develop Coast

MAMAIA, Romania (AP) — Romania is trying to develop its Black Sea coast so you could take a summer stroll along the 125 miles of beach from Russia to Bulgaria without stepping on anything but a sun-oiled back.

The potential, said Renato Ilescu, spokesman of the Tourism Ministry, is for one million sunbathers, all lying on the beach at the same time, each with a square of sand six by ten feet.

Since 1958, Romania has developed resorts along the southernmost 45 miles of its coast with beds for 100,000 tourists in hotels and villas. They are mostly packed during summer.

The Romanian Riviera last year contributed an estimated $100 million to the country's balance of payments.

About 750,000 foreign tourists stayed on the Black Sea coast, half from socialist countries and half from the West, Ilescu said.

Mamaia is the northernmost of the resorts, next to the busy port of Constanta. At the time of the Communist takeover in 1948, Mamaia had one 400-bed hotel, a few private villas and a dowdy summer palace for Romania's royal family.

Now Mamaia, a modest Miami Beach on a strip of sand between the sea and Lake Sulfhol, has 45 hotels with 35,000 beds.

Further south is the 25,000-bed resort of Eforie built around a health center offering various forms of physical therapy and baths in the mud of Lake Tekirgol. Romanians claim this black goo, formed of ancient, decayed plants, is an effective treatment for rheumatism, skin disorders and other ailments.

Woman Is Named Head Of College

NEVADA, Mo. (AP) — Dr. Evelyn Milam has been named president of Cottey College, a junior college for women in Nevada.

Dr. Milam has been a member of the faculty and staff at Austin College, Sherman, Tex., since 1962. She has served as admissions counselor and director of admissions and financial aid, and since 1968 as associated professor of education and psychology. She got her doctorate at the University of Wyoming.

Cottey College is owned and operated by the PEO Sisterhood, a philanthropic educational organization.

Upbeat Is Seen At GM

By JOHN CUNIFF
NEW YORK (AP) — General Motors executives invited 150 stock market analysts to their marble-walled company cafeteria on Fifth Avenue this week and presented an unusually upbeat forecast of things to come.

The company's various problems are now solved or close to being solved, Oscar Lundin, the executive vice president of finance, assured the analysts. Fuel economy, emission problems, safety, deal profits, car size.

This isn't the same type of report a company gives to the government or to buyers when it announces a price increase, as GM has several times in the past few months. But it's what GM likes the analysts to hear. It's understandable.

With charts and graphs and meticulously practiced answers to questions, the executives sought to assure these people, whose opinions influence many investment decisions, that GM was seizing one opportunity after another.

GM's share of the market was rising, to 43.6 per cent of all car sales, said Richard Terrell, also an executive vice president. The gasoline shortage is less critical, and besides, he said, GM was aware of the impending shortfall.

It had, moreover, been prepared for the small-car demand, Terrell said. White letters flashed on a red background: "GM aware of energy situation and trend toward smaller cars several years ago." Some analysts were surprised to hear and read this, remembering those big inventories of larger vehicles.

Buyers will obtain 12 to 13 per cent more mileage per gallon on 1975 models, said Elliott Estes, another executive vice president. Customers will save at least $100 a year on fuel and lower maintenance, he promised.

Fuel economy on rotary engines has been made comparable with piston engine performance, said Estes, even though there is work still to be done on reducing emissions. He promised a sporty subcompact rotary sometime in 1975.

New techniques for reducing weight are being discovered, he said, now that engineers can look at their models in their entirety rather than responding in short lead time to regulatory demands. You would never guess the new cars weigh more.

Thomas Murphy, the vice chairman, spoke about higher sales and lower costs. There are, he said, 10,000 fewer salaried workers at GM now than at the beginning of the year, when there were about 140,000 such employees.

Murphy conceded that the big concern now was with rising material costs, which already have contributed to a $332 increase in GM car prices over a year ago. But there was little time for that; the world was still before GM, the world's largest manufacturing enterprise.

The term "small car" may become a misnomer, Terrell said in response to questions, as he and the other executives, their individual presentations completed, sat smiling at a table before a bare white backdrop. He suggested the term "more efficient cars."

Estes agreed. "These are not stripped down but fully equipped smaller cars," he said, adding that people are asking for power windows on their Vegas, GM's smallest car.

But the fact is, as the GM men pointed out, there is a tremendous profit opportunity today in fattening up those little cars with old-time luxuries, such as air-conditioning, stereo, electric defrosters, vinyl roofs.

After drinks, hors d'oeuvres and filet mignon, the analysts clearly left impressed. They might not have learned anything really new, but they got a taste of the GM style, thoroughness and preparedness.

At the very least they were reimpresed with the conviction that GM didn't get where it is by accident.

Zero Population Growth
If U.S. families limited themselves to an average of only 2.1 children per family for the next 70 years — thus achieving zero population growth — the U.S. population in 2043 would be about 220 million. That is 110 million more people than in 1973.

Mayors To Challenge Nixon Stand

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon's continued commitment to the New Federalism concept of sharing federal powers and dollars with the cities faces a challenge from the nation's mayors.

The U.S. Conference of Mayors, dominated by Democrats, was expected to adopt a resolution today declaring that the promises of the New Federalism haven't yet been fulfilled.

The measure, with companion proposals, calls on the administration and Congress to follow through with acceptable amounts of federal aid for second-step New Federalism programs such as mass transit and housing.

The measure also demands that Congress enforce its pledge to challenge Nixon on future impoundment of appropriated funds for urban programs.

Mayor Henry W. Maier of Milwaukee said he thought the President had undercut the New Federalism by impounding of urban programs funds Congress appropriated.

"The burglary of the budget is much more serious than the burglary of the Democratic national headquarters," said Maier, president of the newly formed National Conference of Democratic Mayors.

The five-day conference, with about 350 mayors on hand, concludes with today's business session and the expected election of San Francisco's Joseph L. Alioto as the new conference president.

The overriding theme has been that the first step of the New Federalism, general revenue sharing, has been good in concept but that inflation has offset its promise by eating into city budgets.

The mayors are asking for early re-enactment of general revenue sharing, at least a year before the current program expires at the end of 1976.

In private meetings with the mayors, the administration communicated that assurance through Nixon's chief domestic adviser, Kenneth R. Cole Jr.

But of more urgent interest to the mayors is congressional passage, and Nixon approval, of two massive second-step New Federalism programs: The $11.3 billion housing and community development bill and an $18 billion, five-year mass transit program.

Cole and other administration officials warned the mayors in advance, however, not to expect to get all the money they want.

Housing Secretary James T. Lynn told the conference Tuesday he is sympathetic with the mayor's desires and understands their feeling that the money is there—by trimming the defense budget.

But Lynn said inflation is the overriding issue and that to hope for diversion of defense funds is unrealistic.

BY SHARING TECHNOLOGY—

Key Pentagon Officials Fear Detente May Hurt Security

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some key Pentagon officials are concerned that sharing certain U.S. technology with Russia under the detente policy could impair national security.

This concern smoldered as President Nixon prepared for his coming Moscow visit, during which new and broadened agreements are expected in furtherance of detente.

Officials are worried mostly about the transfer of critical advanced computer technology, which has military as well as civilian application. The Russians are said to trail the United States in important aspects of this technology.

Also bothering defense officials is the possibility that the Russians might be helped to gain ground in the field of micro-electronics.

So far, officials said, government safeguards are working adequately.

But there have been conflicts among the State, Commerce and Defense departments, which look at the question from differing viewpoints, Pentagon officials said. The State Department is anxious to promote detente, the Commerce Department wants to open up the Russian market for U.S. business, and the Defense Department considers itself the guardian of national security.

"We are not in opposition to detente," said one senior Pentagon official. "But we must pursue detente within the bounds of national security."

In a rare speech, Vice Adm. Vincent de Poix, director of the Defense Intelligence Agency, several weeks ago sounded what he called "a small note of caution."

"Detente is intended to, and certainly does, facilitate technological research and development exchange and contacts through cooperative agreement, the increased availability of credits and relaxed export controls," de Poix said.

More Cities Eyeing Garbage As Fuel

HOUSTON (AP) — An official of the Environmental Protection Agency says more and more cities are studying the concept of using garbage as a fuel for boilers which supply power for electrical generators.

J. Nicholas Humber also said Tuesday there are factors which will make "mining" garbage for metals, glass and papers desirable from an energy-saving standpoint as well as a profitable one.

Humber, director of the EPA's resource recover division in the Office of Solid Wastes Management Programs, said one of the factors is that metals and paper will become more scarce and more expensive.

He also told a meeting of the National Solid Wastes Management Association that the costs of landfills are becoming more expensive and more of a political problem "in that no one wants them near their home."

"And citizens generally are becoming more concerned about our throwaway economy," he said. "They are becoming concerned about conserving resources."

BOY'S SURVIVAL SURPRISES DOCTORS — Billy Horton, 4, whose chances to live were "no more than one to two in 100" when he shot himself through his heart's main artery, talks with Dr. Michael Peter and his mother, Beatrice Horton, 36, in a Torrance, Calif., hospital. Dr. Peters participated in the surgery following the accident a week ago. Now the boy is asking, "When can I go home?" (AP Wirephoto.)

Injured Boy, 4, Beats Odds

TORRANCE, Calif. (AP) — The 4-year-old boy's heart and breathing had stopped and doctors working to revive him estimated his chances for survival were "no more than one to two in 100."

But on Tuesday, one week after he accidentally shot himself, William Horton asked a Harbor General Hospital nurse, "When can I go home?"

The 25 caliber bullet pierced William's aorta, ripped through his intestines in seven different places and lodged in his back. Dr. Michael Peter, a senior resident in surgery who helped save the boy, told a news conference that a gunshot wound which penetrates the aorta is usually fatal. The aorta is the artery through which blood flows from the heart into the body.

Peter said the chances of a person surviving the injury "would be certainly no more than one to two in 100 and quite likely much less."

He said William's survival "represented a lot of good luck along with good care."

Peter said William's brain lacked oxygen for about 15 to 20 minutes, possibly "as long as 25 minutes," and this condition for longer than eight minutes can result in permanent brain damage. Children seem to tolerate this condition for longer periods than adults, he said.

"He has responded to questions and his memory is good," Peter said. "We feel certain there is no damage and he should recover completely."

The boy's mother, Beatrice Horton, 36, of Carson, Calif., said of her son's accident, "I'll tell you one thing, I never want to have another gun in my possession like that again."

She said she had her automatic handgun in her purse the day of the accident because she was carrying about $500 with which she planned to purchase a minimotorbike for William.

She said she drove into a service station and left the car briefly.

"What he did, apparently, was reach inside my purse and hit the safety and the trigger all at the same time," Mrs. Horton said.

Mrs. Kennedy Given Arthritis Treatment

BOSTON (AP) — Rose Kennedy, mother of the late President John F. Kennedy and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., was treated at Massachusetts General Hospital for arthritis of the foot.

After the examination, Tuesday, Mrs. Kennedy returned to the family compound in Hyannis Port, a hospital spokesman said.

NEW YORK (AP) — Marilyn Monroe's forthcoming "autobiography" entitled "My Story" was ghost written by the late Ben Hecht, the book's publisher says.

respiration. William's abdomen had filled with blood.

Doctors stopped the blood flow, administered cardiac massage and William's heart started again. In three hours of surgery, doctors cut out the injured portion of the aorta, sewed the two remaining ends together and then repaired the seven holes in the intestines.

She said she had her automatic handgun in her purse the day of the accident because she was carrying about $500 with which she planned to purchase a minimotorbike for William.

She said she drove into a service station and left the car briefly.

"What he did, apparently, was reach inside my purse and hit the safety and the trigger all at the same time," Mrs. Horton said.

The boy was rushed to the hospital about one mile away, but appeared to be dead, doctors said—there was no heartbeat, no pulse, no spontaneous

SECOND PRIZE.6,000 Green Stamps
THIRD PRIZE....3,000 Green Stamps

Through the years First Savings has made a lot of friends. We like people and we try to earn their confidence... and their accounts... by giving them what they like. We pay the highest dividends allowed by law on passbook accounts... we compound daily and pay from the date of deposit to date of withdrawal. We have a nice building with a pleasant, friendly atmosphere... convenient right-at-the-door parking... easy-in, easy-out drive-in window, and we give you S & H Green Stamps just for saving money.

But we'd like to see more of you... to get better acquainted and to make more new friends, so we're having a Get-Aquainted Give-Away.

Anyone 18 years or older is eligible, and there's nothing to buy. Just come by our lobby between now and July 11 and register. A drawing will be held Friday, July 12th to select the winners. You don't have to be present to win, and the winners will be notified by mail.
