4,200-Foot Prospector Set In Kent

Hayden Farmer, Mike Brazier and Edward Overton, operating from Olney, will drill a 4,200-foot wildcat in Kent County, three miles south of Jayton. It is No. 1 Alpha Hamlin.

Location is 600 feet from south and 2,173 feet from west lines of section 26, block 38, H&TC survey, 2 1/2 miles southeast of the Toni C (Noodle Creek) field, but separated by failures, and 1/2 miles southwest of a 4,052-foot cluster.

Two Eddy Projects Gauge Morrow Test

One Eddy County, N.M., project has assured production from the Morrow and another has indicated production from that horizon.

Monsanto Co. No. 2 Fasken-Federal, scheduled 11,700-foot wildcat, 1/4 mile south of the firm's No. 1 Pecos-Federal, opener of the proposed Catclaw Draw-Avalon field, flowed to pits at the rate of 16.7 million cubic feet daily for an unreported time.

The flow was gauged on a 33-64-inch choke and perforations at 10,734-10,750 feet. Turned to the separator, it flowed at unreported time on a 24-64-inch choke, making gas at the daily volume of 10.6 million cubic feet per day. Testing continued.

Location is 600 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 5-21s-26e, six miles northwest of Carlsbad.

Monsanto No. 2 Dagger Draw, scheduled wildcat, 1/4 mile southwest of an extension to the Cemetery (Morrow) field, flowed gas at the maximum daily rate of 1.8 million cubic feet on a drillstem test from 9,476-9,587 feet.

Gas surfaced in 10 minutes on a 1/4-inch choke on the 2 1/2-hour test taken from 9,476-9,587 feet, flowing initially at the rate of 1.1 million cubic feet per day, and increasing to the above rate on an 18-64-inch choke, after being shut in two hours.

Operator set 5 1/2-inch casing at 9,581 feet, for completion attempt.

The project spots 1,900 feet from south and west lines of section 8-20e-25e, 8 1/4 miles southwest of Lake Wood.

Pecos Gas Sector Gets Confirmation

C. F. Lawrence of Midland has completed No. 1-A Gerth as a second well and location south extension to the Penlaw (Queen) gas field of Pecos County, six miles west of Girvin.

It gauged a calculated, absolute open flow of 460,000 cubic feet of gas daily, through perforations at 1,289-1,292 feet, which had been fractured with 10,000 gallons and 15,000 pounds. Originally staked as a wildcat by Texas Oil & Gas Corp. as

America To Hear Ford Tonight

38 Years Ago—Texas' Hottest Day

SEYMOUR, Tex. (AP) — Spoiled nowadays by popcicles, waterbeds and ice-making refrigerators, air-conditioned Texans just don't realize what a really hot day can be.

Today marked the 38th anniversary of the hottest day ever recorded officially in Texas—130 degrees. And there wasn't much in those days you could do about it except complain.

Tall tales about Aug. 12, 1896, are thicker than lost relatives at a will reading.

Some go like this: Housewives put pies in the oven that day to cool; hens were laying baked eggs; corn fields started popping and cows froze to death because they thought the falling popcorn was snow; trains derailed when the tracks warped in the heat and so on.

But newspapers of the day were full of "hot" news: At a bottling company, soft drinks were exploding. An ice company advertised its apology for not having any ice. A farmer started home with 50 pounds of ice in a wooden keg. Near Thornberry, the steam pressure blew up the keg.

Texas, particularly Seymour, was in the grip of a mean heat wave. Eleven Texans died that week from heat-related causes.

F. H. Buckley recalls returning to Seymour that day from Colorado. "At 8:30 in the morning in Amarillo it was steaming," he said. Cars in those days had no air-conditioning. Buckley said he had to keep wet towels on the foreheads of his two small daughters.

"It was just as hot with the windows down as up. There was a little breeze from the south but it was like sticking your head in a blast furnace," he said.

Lloyd Jones of Seymour remembered an old settler's reunion went on that day without a hitch. "We had a big barrel of lemonade and had to keep putting ice in it to keep it cool. Around 1 p.m. the official Weather Bureau thermometer touched 120. It stayed right there till 3 p.m., when it went down a little."

People really didn't notice the heat increase much, though. Since Aug. 1 the thermometer had been hitting 112, 114 and 116 and never crept below 100 degrees, he said.

Screened verandas and porches weren't just decorations in those days. "A lot of people would get out cots and sleep in the backyard. We had little buzz fans but all they did was stir up the heat. I even remember people sprinkling sheets with water before going to bed," Buckley said.

And if you've never sat in church, using a palmetto fan with a funeral parlor's advertisement printed on it, listening to a long-winded preacher drone on and on, you just don't know what heat can be.

National Unity Call Expected

By GAYLORD SHAW
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford goes before Congress tonight to call for national unity after the splintering era of Watergate while pledging his administration to fresh efforts to combat inflation.

Pausing briefly in his broad search for a vice president, Ford conferred with his advisers and worked on the speech as he began his third full day in office.

His address before a joint session of the House and Senate, scheduled for 8 p.m. CDT, is to be telecast and broadcast nationally.

Aides said the new chief executive would promise "full, fresh efforts" to stabilize the economy. In the words of one spokesman, Ford sees inflation as "Public Enemy No. 1."

Arriving from his suburban home at 7:25 a.m., Ford beat many of his White House aides to work. He went directly to his Oval Office, where in the next three hours he held meetings with transition adviser Donald Rumsfeld, holdover White House staff chief Alexander M. Haig, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and Press Secretary Jerald F. terHorst.

Details To Come Later

Aides indicated Ford would not set out a specific anti-inflation program in tonight's address, though detailed proposals will follow soon.

His address is expected to stress the need for national reconciliation and will outline the "spirit and the tone of his administration," aides said.

They said Ford won't disclose the name of his choice for vice president in the address. The search for his successor won't be complete until late in the week, one aide said.

Vice-Presidential Hunt

With a whirlwind series of 11 White House meetings Sunday, Ford accelerated his consultations with congressional and political friends, who said women and Democrats are among those being considered for the No. 2 post.

After the meetings, Ford told a newsman "I'm not ruling out anything or anybody." Other sources said it was highly unlikely that he would stray from a list of about a dozen GOP leaders in making his selection.

Republican national chairman George Bush emerged from Sunday's meetings with the backing of an influential conservative, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

"He's Mr. Clean and that's what the country wants," Goldwater said of Bush, a former Texas congressman and U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Bush's Name Keeps Appearing

Goldwater, one of the 11 friends and advisers Ford met with in the separate meetings, also ranks high on the list of possibilities. He said he wasn't seeking the job but "sure, I'd accept it."

Bush's name also was mentioned by House GOP Whip Leslie C. Arends of Illinois after his meeting with Ford. And it was among three listed by Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott.

But Scott said his first choice still is former New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. He contended that the reported opposition to Rockefeller among party conservatives is "grossly exaggerated."

Melvin R. Laird, former congressman and Defense secretary, also met with Ford but wasn't available for comment afterward.

One indication of the direction of the new administration was furnished by Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton. He said Ford will put new emphasis on some Nixon administration policies in energy resources and environment, but not alter their basic intent.

Before moving through the meetings with party and political leaders, Ford will meet with

Showers Drench Tall City, Area

Thundershowers prowled across West Texas Sunday the overnight low due to be mostly cool.

Just before dawn, the activity extended from near the Big Bend northward through the Hill Country to near Abilene. Heavy rains brought some street and stream flooding to an area from near San Saba to Sonora in Southwest Texas. The Sunday showers covered a wide area of West Texas, with the National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal reporting an 80-inch fall there.

The heavy thunderstorm moved into Midland about 8 p.m., accompanied by high winds. The weather station reported gusts up to 55 miles an hour.

The rain gauge atop The Reporter-Telegram caught an inch of water during the heavy downpour, with other gauges around the city averaging .80 inch.

The maximum temperature here Sunday was 91, and this morning's low was 66. Maximums in the low 90s are expected today and Tuesday, with the overnight low due to be mostly cool.

Glasscock and Reagan County ranchers reported high winds and some hail between Garden City and Big Lake, especially in the Stiles area.

The sheriff's department at Big Lake said .80 inch of rain fell there after dark Sunday and that the total

 Wedding Invitations
 Always A Quandary

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — We have been married for 33 years and have had many, many weddings and showers and always sent gifts. Now our son is being married next year. I wonder how far to go in sending invitations from our side of the family. The girl my son is marrying says her list will be shorter because our son has so many friends and has been in four weddings and asked to be in a fifth. I want to do what is right but do not know where to stop. Are the married children of one's friends invited? When we have received such invitations they have been addressed to us and to our son. I wonder if I should stop with the parents? Some friends have two or more married children and I do not know what to do about them. I have read bride's books but they have not been much help. — DOROTHY.

DEAR POLLY — My pet peeve is with the companies sponsoring bonus gift coupons. I use so many of the products that should have the coupons on their labels but do not see how am I to save them? — ANNE.

DEAR POLLY — Do tell Mrs. C. that I feel sure the odor will disappear from her gold-colored napkins if she soaks them in water with vinegar added. Ammonia also works and will brighten the color, too. Wash as usual after soaking. — M.B.

Dr. Cummings
 Weds Miss Hart
 In Dallas Church

DALLAS — Dr. Michael Paul Cummings, son of Carl Paul Cummings of 2006 Seaboard St., Midland, married Sherri Lynn Hart, daughter of Dr. Walter Filmore Hart of Gladewater, at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Lovers Lane United Methodist Church.

Dr. Charles Cook performed the double ring service. Mrs. William Ralph Phillips of Denton was the matron of honor, and Dr. James Earl Hyde of Arlington was best man. The bridesmaids were Cheri Meinert and Sheila Jarrett of Dallas.

Dr. Bubba Hirsch of Trinity and John Wesley Peavy III of Dallas were the groomsmen and ushers.

The bride, presented in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of white silk organza appliqued with ivory Alencon lace. The dress had Empire lines, low square neckline, butterfly lace cap sleeves and a chapel train. A Juliet lace cap encrusted with pearls held a chapel-length illusion veil. She carried a cascade of white Cymbidium orchids with stephanotis and baby's breath.

The reception was held in the home of the bride, 7506-9 W. Northwest Highway, where the couple will reside, following a trip to Acapulco, Taxco and Mexico City.

A graduate of Texas Woman's University with a bachelor of science degree in nursing, the bride is a registered nurse at Baylor University Medical Center.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Southern Methodist University with a B.S. degree in biology. He also is a graduate of Baylor College of Dentistry and is a third-year resident in oral surgery at Baylor University Medical Center. He is a member of the American Dental Association, Psi Omega fraternity and Baylor Odontological Honor Society.

 Teresa Dameron
 Honored At Party

Teresa Dameron was honored recently with a "Garden and Greenery" shower given by Mrs. J. Keith Somerville and her daughter, Bea Lea, in their home at 1713 Douglas St.

The honoree and her mother, Mrs. Frank Dameron, were presented daisy corsages. Members of the house party, Bonnie McDaniel and Laura Polmar, also received daisy corsages, and the honoree was presented a gift.

Guests brought house plants and items to be used in the garden.

Miss Dameron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dameron, will be married to Melvin Clay Sattawhite Saturday in the First Christian Church.

Lamb Roast Tip
 Brown lamb shanks in an oven with a clove of garlic. Then add a small amount of water and simmer until the meat is tender. This takes from one to two hours depending upon the size of the shanks. When the meat is done, thicken the gravy and serve over hot cooked rice.

Tall Tube Pan Helps
 When buying a tube pan for angel food cake, make sure that the tube is taller than the sides of the pan, so that it will keep the top of the cake from touching the table when you turn the cake upside down for cooling.

Kimberly Pierce Becomes

Kimberly Sue Pierce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Pierce of Denver, Colo., formerly of Midland, and Duane Carl Radtke, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Radtke of Wausau, Wis., were married at 2 p.m. Saturday in St. Ann's Catholic Church.

The Rev. Dan Schukerbrock, O.M.I., performed the double ring ceremony.

Julie Whittington of Pinetop, Ariz., was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Sherry Shelton and Janice Hassell of Dallas and Lavinia Carey of Crane.

Jerry Henrikson of Schofield, Wis., brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was the best man. Jim Radtke of Wittenberg, Wis., David Pierce of Denver, Colo., brother of the bride, and Michael Brockman were the groomsmen. David Kneipp and Tom Waller ushered the guests. John Robert Pierce of Denver, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

Music for the ceremony was provided by Lyla Rutledge, organist, and Louis Pare, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of satapeau and Alencon lace. Venice braid and pearls accented the sheer yoke and high neckline of the molded Empire bodice and the cuffs of the sheer sleeves and lace ruffles that circled the A-line skirt, which ended in a sweep train. Her long veil of imported silk illusion was edged with Alencon lace and fell from a lace Camelot cap. She carried a bouquet of feathered carnations, stephanotis and baby's breath with satin streamers.

The bride's attendants had pale blue Empire-styled gowns with portrait necklines. The sheer ruffle collars were edged with white lace. They wore white picture hats banded with pale blue ribbon and carried white baskets of pale blue daisy poms and baby's breath.

The reception was held in the Patio Room at Holiday Inn. Music was provided by Doug Brant.

Members of the house party were Mrs. David Griffin, Mrs. J. L. Mosley, Mrs. Brad Bennett and Mrs. George S. Price of Midland, Mrs. J. W. VanHoff of Odessa and Mrs. Jerry Henrikson of Schofield, sister of the bridegroom.

After a trip to Montego Bay, Jamaica, the couple will reside at 1904 Midland Drive.

If your electric service bill is higher this summer than last summer, you're looking at the biggest reason.

If your electric service bill is higher this summer than last, the biggest reason is that it has been hotter this summer. This means you are probably using more electricity for air conditioning. The "degree days" — a technical term to indicate how much cooling you need — are up about 36 per cent during the period May 1-July 15 this year as compared to last in this West Texas area.

This means that air conditioners are working longer and using more electricity, which is reflected in your electric service bill. While the recent rate increase is part of the reason your electric service bill is higher this summer, it's a small part compared to the effect of higher temperatures.

There is still quite a bit of summer ahead of us. With that in mind, you may find these suggestions helpful: A thermostat setting of 78-80 has been recommended. Check the filters in your air conditioning units at least once a month. Replace disposable types or clean permanent types as needed. Clogged filters make your unit work longer and use more electricity. Keep doors and windows closed as much as possible, and be sure the fireplace damper is closed to keep the cooled air you're paying for inside where it belongs.

For more helpful ideas, ask for a free copy of our folder about using electricity efficiently for air conditioning. You can get a copy by dropping by our office or requesting a copy on the comment portion of your electric bill.

Or if you need answers right away, call us. We'll be glad to help. Cooling degrees are the number of degrees by which the average outdoor temperature each day exceeds 70 degrees. If a day's morning low and afternoon high average 85 degrees, we record it as a 15-degree cooling day.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
 Today is Monday, Aug. 12, the 224th day of 1974. There are 141 days left in the year. Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1898, the peace protocol ending the Spanish-American War was signed after hostilities lasting three months and 22 days. On this date: In 1624, a guard of eight men was established in the Dutch colony of New Amsterdam. It was the first police force in America. In 1851, Isaac Singer of Pittstown, N.Y., was granted a patent on his sewing machine. In 1914, Britain declared war on Austria-Hungary at the start of World War I. In 1941, President Franklin D. Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill met at sea to draft the Atlantic Charter. In 1959, token school integration began in Little Rock, Ark., as six black students enrolled in a formerly all-white high school. In 1962, the Soviet Union made space history by sending a cosmonaut into orbit while another cosmonaut already was circling the earth. Ten years ago: The United States sent four large turbojet transport planes to the Congo to help President Moise Tshombe fight a rebellion by hauling troops and supplies to combat areas. Five years ago: Catholics, Protestants and police battled in Londonderry in the worst outbreak of violence in Northern Ireland in more than 30 years. One year ago: American planes were carrying out heavy bombing around Cambodia's capital of Phnom Penh as the U.S. Congress was moving to end the bombing. Today's birthdays: Mexican comedian Cantinflas is 63 years old. Movie actor John Derek is 48. Singer Buck Owens is 45. Thought for today: Behind an able man there are always other able men — a Chinese proverb.

Gallup Poll Shows Most Think Nixon Resignation Best

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — More than three-quarters of Americans surveyed in a Gallup poll believe Richard M. Nixon "did the best thing" by resigning the presidency. But more than half of those polled oppose an investigation of possible criminal charges against him. In a telephone survey conducted by the polling organization last Thursday night and Friday after Nixon's resignation speech, 79 per cent of those questioned said he "should have resigned." Thirteen per cent said he "should have stayed" and 8 per cent gave no opinion. Fifty-five per cent of the 550 persons questioned opposed a criminal investigation of Nixon. Thirty-seven per cent favored such an investigation, and 8 per cent offered no opinion. On the question of whether the former President's "actions regarding Watergate were serious enough to warrant his resignation," 65 per cent said yes, 22 per cent said they were "not serious enough" and 13 per cent gave no opinion. Asked to choose from a list of six possible vice presidential nominees suggested in the survey, 23 per cent chose Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater and 18 per cent chose former New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. Gov. Ronald Reagan of California was next at 12 per cent. Tennessee Sen. Howard H. Baker and former U.S. Attorney General Elliot L. Richardson received 11 per cent each. George Bush, chairman of the Republican National Committee, received 1 per cent and the remaining 24 per cent gave no preference.

Ford To Speak To Nation Tonight

(Continued From Page 1A) cal advisers, Ford conferred for a half hour with Kissinger. A spokesman said Kissinger brought the President up to date on the Cyprus situation. Meanwhile, the Soviet Union pledged to continue its policy of detente and to seek with Ford a further improvement of Soviet-American relations. And in Cairo, the official Middle East News Agency reported that Ford's new administration has renewed the invitation to Egyptian President Anwar Sadat to visit the United States before the end of the year. The invitation was extended by Nixon during his recent Middle East tour. The President began his public day by worshipping at the Episcopal church near his suburban home. Kneeling in a back row pew with his wife Betty and 17-year-old daughter Susan, Ford heard a special prayer for the success of his presidency. "Give him the strength of spirit, body and mind needed for the tasks; the wisdom to see, listen and act for the good of all people," said the prayer written by Suffragan Bishop John A. Braden and read by the church's assistant rector, the Rev. Patricia M. Park. The assistant rector also asked for comfort for Nixon, who flew to his San Clemente, Calif., home on Friday. At the White House, Ford signed the first bill of his administration—a measure authorizing the Coast Guard to adopt modern boiler and pressure safety standards for ships. He then signed a second bill, to make more flexible the penalties for violation of the Perishable Agricultural Commodities Act.

Later, Ford logged 17 laps in his backyard swimming pool while cameramen recorded the daily ritual which he said keeps his tummy flat. The President, who has 200 pounds well distributed over his six-foot-plus frame, jokingly ordered the photographers to cease when he prepared to climb out of the pool. "No pictures getting out of the pool. That's the worst."

Bing Just As Mellow As Ever

By BOB THOMAS LOS ANGELES (AP) — "When the blue of the night meets the gold of the day..." The deep, distinctly American voice sounded just as mellow as ever, even though Bing Crosby had been absent from show business for a year. Wearing a golf tan and a trim 152 pounds, the 70-year-old Crosby seemed little affected by the surgery that cost him part of his left lung last January. While the operation didn't affect his singing voice, "I'm still a little stiff. The doctors made a big cut across my back, slicing through the nerves, so I'm still a little numb. "But my golf game is coming back — I shot a 79 yesterday — and I've been playing tennis with the kids (Harry Lillis Jr., 16, Mary Frances, 14, Nathaniel, 12) and my wife Kathryn Doubles, of course." Bing had just flown down from his home at Hillsborough, near San Francisco, and went immediately into a rehearsal for his Oct. 9 television special for CBS. Sitting at a long table in a Vine Street studio, he read through the script with Pearl Bailey, Sandy Duncan and director Marty Pasetta, who recited the lines for the absent Bob Hope. Others in the cast and production staff marveled as Bing sang effortlessly through a medley of Crosby tunes — "Blue Hawaii," "Sweet Lullaby," "Down the Old Ox Road," "Going My Way," "In the Cool, Cool, Cool of the Evening," etc. "Gee, there were a few in there, like 'Wrap Your Troubles in Dreams,' that I had forgotten I had sung," he remarked afterward. During the lunch break, Crosby talked of the ailment that has kept him out of the entertainment scene. He said doctors "found a little spot on my left lung about the size of a dime" and decided to operate. The growth was nonmalignant, the doctors found. It was diagnosed as nocardiosis, a rare fungus that infects the lungs through the air. A doctor figured Crosby had picked it up during a trip to Africa and suggested no further trips there. The first couple of months following the operation are a dim memory of pain and drugs, he said. Then he started getting his strength back, taking walks in the morning and watching television for diversion. Bing will come back to Hollywood for his Christmas special and he plans a couple of guest spots on other shows. "They send me a script now and then," he remarked. "I see that Fred Astaire is doing a part in 'The Towering Inferno.' That's something I'd like to do, sort of a cameo. "Or I might take a full-length part if I could find something I could do." Meanwhile he leads the life of the Hillsborough squire, devoting his efforts to conservation and other causes. He has taken vacations at his Las Cruces home, on the tip of Baja California, and to Guadalajara, where he golfs and oversees a development he is backing.

'Select Series' Tickets Going On Sale

FORT WORTH — Drama, dance, voice and instrumental music from classics to ragtime come together during 1974-75 to make up the "Select Series" at Texas Christian University. Season tickets go on sale this week.

The Paul Winter Consort will lead off the series with an all-Charles Ives program Sept. 16. The six musicians pay tribute to America's greatest composer using dramatic narrative, slide projections and scenes of the world of Ives—the barn dances, camp meetings and holiday celebrations, in addition to music.

The Prague Quartet from Czechoslovakia, with top billing among Europe's finest string ensembles, will perform Oct. 22. For two decades the group has presented chamber music from classic, romantic and modern Czech composers.

Demonstrating that puppets are not for children only, David Syrotlak will bring his National Marionette Theatre to TCU on Oct. 29. Hand, rod and string puppets will be brought to life in the adult presentation, "The Art of the Puppeteer."

The dramatic offering of the series will be "Henry IV, Part I," on Dec. 9. The National Players perform the classic which combines serious moments of history with hilarious low comedy featuring some of Shakespeare's most famous characters.

Uruguayan pianist Alberto Reyes will return here next Feb. 19 for the first time since being named a finalist in the 1973 Van Cliburn International Competition. Reyes, who has won prizes in the world's most prestigious competitions, including the Tchaikovsky in Moscow, now teaches at Indiana University.

Cathy Berberian will add lighting and staging to revitalize the traditional vocal recital format in her March 11 performance. With a reputation as an interpreter of contemporary vocal works, she sings in 20 languages and has appeared in almost every notable music festival of the world.

Paul Hersh and David Montgomery will give a boost to the ragtime renaissance on April 8 when they play infectious music being reborn around the country. In a repertoire of anything that's fun to hear and difficult to play, the two pianists will offer audiences rags and cakewalks, quiet interpretations of classics and "all manner of salon music."

The Tamburitzans, folk artists who perform songs and dances of eastern Europe, will perform May 5. The 40 college students dressed in authentic costumes provide audiences with a beautiful translation of the folk arts.

What Happened To Canadian Football This Summer?

By JAY SHARBUITT
 NEW YORK (AP) — We now have World Football League games on tv. Soon we'll have National Football League play. What about the Canadian Football League games scheduled to appear on the tube this summer?

That deal was called off, not primarily because of WFL competition, but because of the economy and a shortage of sports advertising dollars, says

Scott Predicts Ford Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott predicts that President Ford will head the GOP national ticket in 1976, despite Ford's past assertions that he's not interested.

Scott, appearing Sunday on "Face the Nation" on CBS television, said, "Conditions may force him to run."
 The Pennsylvania Republican added: "I rather think he will run... I think the party will force it."

When Ford was nominated to be vice president last year, he said he would not run for president in 1976.

"We were in a unique situation, considering that once we were the only football game in town during the summer," he said. "In fact, I'm sure we probably planted the seed for World Football two years ago."

This year the economy was tight and its effect "had just started reaching the (Ralmar) clients. They had just so many dollars to spend. And an American football package appeared more attractive than a Canadian football package. Suddenly, we appeared like soccer."

George Bush Is The Man!

George Bush, Republican national chairman and former Midland resident, certainly is The Reporter-Telegram's choice for vice president of the United States. He undoubtedly is the choice of a majority of Midland and Texas residents.

It was noted with interest that the former Houston congressman was ranked among the top four contenders for the appointment, as Washington settled down for the weekend.

George Bush, also a former United States ambassador to the United Nations and who served with distinction in that capacity, is a gentleman and a scholar who is well-qualified to serve as vice president under President Gerald R. Ford. They would make a tremendous, well-balanced, honest and above-board team.

The former Midlander is well versed in foreign affairs and has had long and valuable political experience. He is one of the most personable men ever to enter the field of politics. He has the ability to get along with people, including diplomats of foreign countries, friendly and otherwise. He likes people, and he has the respect of those with whom he has come in contact.

With experience gained as a member of the House Ways and Means Committee while serving in Congress, Bush would be a valuable man on the team as it comes to grips with the nation's economic problems.

His knowledge of the oil business and its problems also would be a valuable asset to the administration in its efforts to overcome the energy crisis.

The Dallas Times Herald and perhaps other Texas newspapers also have come out for George Bush, and it is said that members of the Texas delegation in Congress, as well as some representatives from other states, are supporting him. Messages in his favor from Texas and elsewhere are said to be flooding the White House.

It was reported in Washington late last week that Bush is gaining support, "both in the party and in the cloakroom."

President Ford, it is said, is not likely to name anyone presently serving in the House or Senate to the vice presidency.

Bush was considered as a vice presidential candidate at the last two Republican conventions, and had been named in 1972, he likely would be in the process of moving into the White at this time.

Other good men, of course, are in contention for the vice presidential appointment, but Chairman George Bush is THE man for the job.

Jack Anderson Says: Whispered reports cease-fire in Cyprus badly mismanaged.
WASHINGTON—Contrary to the public impression that Secretary of State Henry Kissinger arranged the cease-fire in Cyprus, his underlings are whispering that he has badly mismanaged the crisis. One State Department specialist has declared bluntly that the Cyprus situation is a "hell of a mess."

The secret cable traffic from Nicosia shows, for example, that the Turks have been attacking Greek Cypriot towns without regard for the cease-fire. Yet Kissinger has refused to apply any serious pressure on the Turks to halt their advances.

Some of our sources suggest that Kissinger deliberately is "tilting" toward the Turks in order to keep the strategic Mediterranean island permanently partitioned. A permanent Turkish presence on the island, Kissinger knows, would eventually remove it from Moscow's grasp.

Not only would this undermine Cypriot independence which the United States ostensibly supports, but it also could wreck the struggling new democratic government in Greece. The Greeks have strong emotional ties to Cyprus. The failure of the new leaders to save Cyprus, therefore, could bring the military back in power.

Both Cyprus Ambassador Nicos Dimetriou and Greek Minister Anthony Nomikas have paid urgent calls at the State Department to beg the United States to intervene and halt the Turkish advances on the island. Our State Department sources say that Dimetriou told Undersecretary of State Joseph Sisco that "Hellenistic Cyprus is threatened with extinction."

The Greek minister delivered a similar message to Deputy Assistant Secretary Wells Stabler. Acting on instructions from Athens, our sources say the minister lodged a formal protest over the Turkish cease-fire violations and called upon the United States to restrain the Turks.

Stabler's boss, Assistant Secretary Arthur Hartman, was in Nicosia, meanwhile, getting a similar earful directly from Cyprus President Glafkos Clerides. The diplomatic cables report that Clerides "vigorously protested" both the Turkish actions and U.S. policy.

Lower-level State Department aides have implored Kissinger to bring pressure on the Turks to end their military operations. This is essential, they have pleaded, to keep Cyprus independent and to save Greek democracy. But their appeals, we are told, "have fallen on deaf ears."

As early as January, the Cypriots began to warn Kissinger of an impending Cyprus coup. These warnings were confirmed by the Central Intelligence Agency, which had close ties to the former Greek military junta. Several days before it happened, say our sources, the CIA reported plans to murder Archbishop Makarios, the former Cyprus President, and to install guerrilla thug Nikos Sampson in his place.

Kissinger treated these warnings, one source told us, with "excessive apathy." Although instructions were sent to the U.S. embassy in Athens to call upon the junta urging restraint, the messages were given no stress and, therefore, were ignored by the late Albert Morehead. The new book is a rather old-fashioned discussion of modern bidding, but with a great many points of value to anyone who wants to improve his bridge thinking.

Jim: "Today's hand shows North carrying South to an impossible six-spade contract. South had to lose a club and a heart off the top, and the bad trump break put him down two."

Oswald: "The point Morehead makes is that North blames South for the debacle, because he claimed that South had reversed and shown a very good hand."

Jim: "Morehead disagrees completely with North, as we do. South's two-spade call was the cheapest rebid he could make. Since it was a bid of a new suit in a forcing sequence, North could not pass. But South had made it possible for North to sign off at three diamonds or three hearts."

Oswald: "North had too good a hand to sign off. He could have cue bid to three clubs and then bid four spades to invite a slam, but he had no excuse for bidding the slam on his own."

A RECURRING PROBLEM— Question: Ready For A New Berlin Crisis?

By NEA/LENS Economic News Service
BONN (LENS)—There was this truck driver in Moscow who, among his many other distinctions, had fought from Stalingrad to the Reichstag without suffering a scratch.

He never could understand the recurring Berlin problem. "All you have to do," he would say, "is to give West Berlin to us and that'll be the end of the problem." O sancta simplicitas, Berlin was, is and will be the barometer of East-West and intra-German relations.

The East Germans have just given that barometer a tap and the political temperature has shot up.

On July 25 the West Germans set up a federal environment office in West Berlin. The East Germans responded by carrying out their threat to prevent the personnel and possessions of that office from sullying East German soil. Vehicles been stopped at the frontier while their occupants are asked by the border guards if they are members of the environment office. A member of the office was turned back from the border.

The East German action is in violation of the 1972 traffic treaty between the two Germanys and the 1971 four-power agreement — signed by Russia, the United States, Britain and France — also says that the ties between West Germany and West Berlin should be "maintained and developed," which seems to cover things like the environment office.

The United States has announced that it would postpone the expected establishment of diplomatic relations with East Germany (a decision that happened to coincide with the visit of the West German foreign minister, who as interior minister had pushed for the environment office in West Berlin).

As yet, the three Western powers had not summoned enough unanimity about diplomatic methodology to present a protest note to the Russians; the Americans have been dragging their feet, and Henry Kissinger is said to want to do his own deal with Russia over everybody's head.

Is the East German action simply a pin-prick or is it the prelude to something more serious? Larger hold-ups on the autobahns? Or the beginning of an attempt, with President Nixon putatively gone, to exploit western weaknesses and to wrest East Berlin (the capital of East Germany) from even nominal four-power control?

Nobody, in Bonn, can tell. The West German government itself is playing it cool, trying to smooth things over by a meeting of the East-West German transit commission. Several West German ministries, including the ministry for intra-German relations, are against a Western demarche, fearing that it might provide Russia with the excuse to reopen the whole Berlin problem.

If the situation becomes worse, the West Germans have an ace up their sleeve — trade. But they would be reluctant to

DON OAKLEY A Matter Of Life And Speed Limits

WASHINGTON (NEA)—PVC, both large and small, testified that they would be forced out of business if the "no detectable level" were adopted. One maker of plastic tubing for medical uses warned that desperately needed equipment in kidney dialysis and heart surgery might become unavailable.

On the other side, organized labor strongly backed the proposed standard. "This country survived for nearly 200 years without polyvinyl chloride and we can survive in the future without it," said Peter Bommarito, president of the United Rubber Workers and chairman of the health and safety committee of the AFL-CIO.

Labor Department spokesmen disputed industry claims that the proposed regulation would stop vinyl chloride production and throw out of work as many as two million people in the plastics and other industries. The department did acknowledge the existence of some marginal firms might be jeopardized if they were forced to raise prices to pay for safety measures.

The upshot of the hearings was a decision to delay the standard until October 5 while a study of its technological and economic feasibility was made by the OSHA.

"What we in OSHA have to do," said its director Daniel P. Boyd, "is to arrive at a practical solution based on a subjective, but detailed, analysis of all the factors under consideration."

In other words, just what is the balancing point between the health threat of vinyl chloride and PVC to workers and the public and the economic threat to the industry?

In still other words, what should this particular "speed limit" be?

WITH TWO EARLY CHANCES—

Ford Could Build Stronger GOP

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
(An AP News Analyst)
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford will have two early chances to show whether he takes the task of building a strengthened national Republican party more seriously than his two GOP predecessors.

The first will come when he picks a vice president, the second in his approach to November's midterm elections.

For all of their own personal success at the polls, neither Dwight D. Eisenhower nor Richard M. Nixon paid much attention to restoring the national Republican dominance that prevailed before Franklin D. Roosevelt's election to the presidency in 1933.

Eisenhower, the war hero turned statesman, had little interest. Nixon, a party man all his life, became more and more exclusively interested in his own political fortunes.

One of the legacies of the 1972 campaign, besides the scandal that ultimately drove him from office, was the bitterness in the GOP over the President's failure to help bring other Republicans in on his coalition.

Sen. Robert Dole of Kansas, the 1972 GOP chairman, has said he felt like an outsider at Nixon's victory celebration. GOP lawmakers always felt Nixon could have saved several senators who suffered narrow defeats.

But Ford demonstrated in his long congressional tenure and his brief spell as vice president a devotion to fellow Republicans that could spell brighter GOP days ahead.

His major task, in recent months, has been to help Republican candidates, part of a broader effort to give leadership to the party at a time the national administration was floundering.

Some efforts this fall in behalf of Republicans seem inevitable, and an extended Ford honeymoon could be a big boost to GOP candidates.

Before that, however, Ford must pick his No. 2 man, and the choice will tell much about his views on the party.

In the past, Ford has talked of the need to broaden the GOP base, a view that led him to help liberal Republicans as well as conservatives and to suggest in 1968 that Nixon choose a liberal running mate.

Such a view now would appear to dictate the choice of a party moderate, either an established figure such as Nelson A. Rockefeller or a younger Republican such as Gov. Daniel J. Evans of Washington, Sen. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon or Sen. Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts.

Many GOP liberals fear a great chance would be wasted if Ford picked a fellow conservative, such as Sen. Barry Goldwater or Gov. Ronald Reagan, especially since the choice must be approved by the Democratic-controlled Congress, rather than a conservatively based GOP National Convention.

New Crop Estimates May Reveal Drought's Impact

By DON KENDALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department was to release new crop production figures today that should give some indication of the effect of the current drought in the Midwest on the nation's food supply.

The harvest estimates cover key crops, including corn and soybeans, based on Aug. 1 indications. They were to be followed soon by new assessments on how those commodities will be used over the coming year.

Corn and soybean crops are the main sources of feed for dairy cows, chickens and beef cattle, and any shortages will eventually mean higher food prices for the American consumer.

Today's estimates will provide only partial answers on crop levels since fall-harvest crops such as corn and soybeans normally have a couple of months to go as of Aug. 1.

And this has not been a normal season.

Heavy rains delayed plantings last spring over wide areas of the country. Then dry weather — which really reached drought proportions first in the southwest wheat country — has crumbled prospects for corn and soybeans in much of the Midwest.

USDA last spring issued crop estimates based on the acres of corn and other crops farmers said they would plant this year. The report today is the first by USDA based on field surveys and nationwide calculations.

Only a few months ago, predictions for the 1974 crop were almost 6.7 billion bushels. More recently the department revised the projection down to a range between about 5.9 billion to 6.2 billion bushels.

Statistically, however, a crop of as much as 5.5 billion bushels still would rank as one of the top three or four on record.

Three Armed Men Hijack Bus, Rob 36 Passengers

CAMARILLO, Calif. (AP) — Authorities said today that three armed men boarded a Greyhound bus and raped a pregnant teen-age girl, pistol-whipped a man and robbed all 34 passengers before making a getaway.

A Ventura County sheriff's spokesman said the girl, who was not identified, was six months pregnant. The spokesman said she was raped in the restroom aboard the bus, but was otherwise unharmed and continued the trip.

The trio boarded the San Francisco-bound bus at North Hollywood and pulled out handguns and a sawed-off rifle about 20 minutes later. As one of the robbers kept a pistol on the driver and another stood at the rear, the third walked down the aisle demanding money and valuables from the passengers, police said.

Glenn B. Coons, 56, of Santa Barbara, was hit with a gun after he told the robbers he wasn't carrying any money, deputies said.

"It was a nightmare," said Mats Grape, 24, a student visiting here from Sweden. "I was frightened. The blacks were so full of hate and so nervous, it made me frightened."

The gunmen, all identified as Negro males in their early 20s, got about $3,000 in cash, travelers checks and jewelry, then ordered the bus driver to stop near a freeway exit where they got into a waiting car, police said.

Anders Franzen, 25, also va-cautioning from Sweden, said that just before the robbery he heard one of the men whisper, "I want to kill some of these (passengers)."

But he said another answered: "No, no killing."

"I was frightened to death," Franzen said. "I was afraid to say anything and I didn't tell my friends. I just waited and hoped nothing would happen."

Police said they had no leads in the case.

State Police Hunt Fugitive Hijacker

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — State police pressed their search today in the thick woods of Bald Eagle State Forest for four inmates who escaped from Lewisburg Federal Penitentiary Saturday morning.

Police said they did not know whether the four were armed but termed them "dangerous." The escapes included a former Green Beret serving a 45-year term for skyjacking.

It is believed the men are hiding in the dense and mountainous woodlands of the state park located some 20 miles from the prison in southwestern Union County.

State and local police were joined by the FBI Saturday after the men made their way to freedom by commandeering a garbage truck inside the prison and driving away under a hail of gunfire from the guard towers, crashing through two locked chain-link gates.

Authorities identified the four as: Richard R. McCoy Jr., 31, of Provo, Utah, convicted of hijacking a United Airlines jet in 1972 after bailing out with $500,000 ransom; Joseph Havel, 60, of Philadelphia; Larry L. Bagley, 36, of Des Moines, Iowa, and Melvin D. Walker, 35, of Morely, Mo.

Gerald T.'s Phone Now Stays Busy

By JANET STAHAR
ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — From the barrooms in Middle America to the salons of Paris come the telephone calls to Gerald T. Ford on who should be picked as vice president.

The leading contenders? California Gov. Ronald Reagan and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

But, groaned Gerald T. Ford: "I try to tell them I'm not the President. I'm Gerald Tierney Ford—the accountant. I'm young and I've got all my hair."

The 21-year-old Ford has an Alexandria address—as does President Gerald R. Ford, who lives 4 miles away but has an unlisted telephone number.

Funny At First
Bachelor Ford said his phone began ringing, and hasn't stopped, since the eve of Richard Nixon's resignation.

"The first few times I thought it was a joke," said Ford. "I played along. But now they're calling at two or three o'clock in the morning. It's a pain in the neck."

He says he has gotten more than 50 telephone calls for the President since his namesake became chief executive on Friday.

Foreign newsmen call. Just plain folk call. Paris calls, Luxembourg calls. Drunks call.

"Hang in there, Jerry; we're rooting for you," they tell me, said Ford. "Others tell me to get to work on inflation."

That Personal Touch
He said another contingent tries the personal touch, like, "This is so-and-so, don't you remember me, I met you in Connecticut."

Ford said he attempts to explain to them the telephone mix-up, but often they don't believe him.

And when he hangs up in desperation they just call back.

Still others are truly sincere and offer prayers for the President, he said.

When President Ford moves into the White House, things will cool off," said Ford. Otherwise, he's thinking about unlisting his phone number, too.

What did the switchboard operator at Ford's apartment building have to say? "Them people—they're driving us up in the wall," she said.

Dear Abby

—By Abigail van Buren
Can Transvestite Be 'All Man?'

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter from the man who likes to wear ladies' lingerie, and claims to be "all man."

My husband was one of those. He, too, served with the Marines, during which time he was sexually involved with an ex-Green Beret. I finally had a private detective get pictures of the two of them together, which was all the evidence I needed. His boyfriend was the father of four, and I was pregnant with my fifth at the time.

We are divorced now, and nobody can understand why I left a handsome, 6-foot, 210-pound, masculine-looking man who was "good" to me and the kids, and who had a pleasant, easy-going personality.

Abby, please warn other women that men who like to wear women's lingerie are not "all male" like they say. I don't care if they're ex-Marines, ex-policemen or Olympic champions. Don't use my name. My children don't know about their father. Sign me.

BEEN THERE

DEAR BEEN: Men who get their kicks from dressing in women's attire are transvestites. Some are bisexual, some are homosexual, and some, strangely enough, are strictly heterosexual. And unless a woman can go along with it (which takes a very understanding woman), these men are not for marrying.

DEAR ABBY: Can you tell me in what state I can marry my former daughter-in-law? She was divorced from my son two years ago.

I have been looking after her ever since her divorce, and we are very fond of each other. It is not what you think. I only want to marry her so she will be the sole owner of my estate.

DEAR ABBY: Tell the small-town bartender who doesn't like to lie over the phone to handle those calls as his big city cousins do. The taciturn bartender will page the individual, and if no one answers the page, that is what he reports to the caller.

Some people meet in bars for business reasons, and don't want to be bothered by phone calls; others simply want a few relaxing moments away from their daily routines. A well-managed bar sells a lot more than drinks, which is one reason patrons will pay six times more for a drink at a bar than they would for the same thing at home.

PATRON
CONFIDENTIAL TO ROBERTA: Don't envy anyone. Few things are as good on the inside as they appear to be on the outside.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Poisoning Causes Shutdown Of Yuma City Water Supply

YUMA, Ariz. (AP) — The municipal water system for this southwest Arizona city of 32,000 was shut down from mid-afternoon Sunday, when the temperature was 106 degrees, until early today.

The city water was cut off after residents reported finding dead fish floating in the Yuma Main Canal.

Chemists labored through Sunday to neutralize a deadly insecticide, parathion, that had been dumped into the canal.

None of the poisoned water reached the city treatment plant, water mains or homes, said James Clevenger, city administrator. Some was detected in city storage tanks next to the canal and had to be dumped and treated.

The identity of the person who dumped the chemical was unknown late Sunday, said Imperial County Deputy Richard Bell. Asked if the dumping was deliberate, Bell said, "Either that or someone wasn't thinking."

The dumping took place about two miles north of Wintehaven, on the California side of the canal, said Imperial County Sheriff's deputies. Health, U.S. Bureau of Reclamation, wildlife and law enforcement agencies were investigating.

Taylor Brothers Capture State Slow Pitch Crown

Down Brazos Sports In Tourney Finals, 19-13

By BOB DILLON
The powerful Taylor Brothers Jewellers of Corpus Christi won the State Slow Pitch championship as expected Sunday afternoon at Hogan Park, but the Gulf Coast crew had to take two tough victories from Goodrich Service Center and the Brazos Sports from Lake Jackson before carting home the first place trophy.

Taylor exploded for 10 big runs in the seventh inning of the championship battle to post a 19-13 victory over the popular Sports, who eliminated Goodrich, 16-14, in an eight-inning contest. The other loss by Coach Kent Sloan's Firemen was at the hands of Taylor Brothers, 8-5.

To say the title game was wild one would be putting it mildly as the game was played under protest by Sport Manager Jim Larson after first baseman Clark Adkins came to bat for Taylor in the first inning. Adkins was named Most Valuable Player of the tourney and the Sports claim he was ineligible to play since he participated in another district qualifying tourney this summer. After the long delay, Taylor, too, said it would play under protest since the Sports had demanded proof that the Taylor Brothers team were not from Texas. Taylor requested to see the driver's licenses of the Lake Jackson team. The two settled down to a real slugfest after a 15-minute delay.

Taylor jumped out in front, 2-0, in the first inning on homers by leadoff hitter Steve Castillo and second baseman Dub Morrison. The Corpus Christi entry added a single run in the second on Robert McGrew's homer. McGrew is a former Midlander and a big favorite with Tall City fans.

The Sports stormed back to score four runs in the second on Maurice Tracy's two-run homer the big blow.

The Jewellers scored three runs with two errors opening the gates for a 6-4 lead in the third and six more runs gave them a comfortable 9-4 edge, but the Sports came back to tie the game, 9-9 in the fifth with Jimmy Dodd producing a two-run single and Kenneth Ramsey a two-run double.

Lake Jackson took an 11-9 lead going into the seventh on Bobby Koenig's two-run blast, but home runs by Morrison, John Simon, McGrew and Ken Mitchem, sacked up the victory for Taylor Brothers.

The Sports got one last crack in the bottom of the seventh and got two runs, but the 10-run outburst was too much to overcome. Dodd singled and scored on Tracy's homer to make the final score 19-11 in favor of Taylor Brothers, which went undefeated during the meet.

Goodrich lost to Taylor Brothers, 8-5, for its first loss of the meet and then dropped a tough 16-14 decision to the Sports in the exciting eight-inning contest. Greg Frazier, quarterback from Texas Tech and Stan Moore, hit homers for Goodrich while Simon poked two and teammates Mitchem and Buck Buchanan one each, to spark Taylor to its victory.

The semifinal battle between Goodrich and the Sports coming up with two runs on a triple by Roy Anderson and a single by Dodd, the difference. Goodrich shortstop Ed Connally made a great stop on Billy Hinkle's hot grounder, but threw wildly. After one was out, Hinkle scored on Anderson's three-bagger.

It was a tough loss for the Midland team which just missed a berth in the regional tourney in San Antonio next week. The winner and runner-up qualified for that meet. Goodrich was down, 9-1 after two innings before making its move.

Superior Mobile Homes of Victoria had plenty of punch during the tourney and it was the Sports who eliminated the South Texas team, 16-14. The other loss was to Goodrich, 11-9. Goodrich edged past Brazos Sports, 13-12 Saturday night and got home run power from Smith, Connally, Al Woodson and Haney with Smith slugging two in the 13-12 win which saw the Firemen score six runs in the sixth inning after trailing 9-5. Wootan and Haney were chosen All-Tourney.

Cougars Rely On Defense

Yeoman Has Experience In Trenches

HOUSTON (AP) — Bill Yeoman says defense will have to carry his Houston Cougars through the first five football games this year and if that's the case the Cougar fortunes are in good hands.

While the glamour boys on offense were pounding out 5,000 yards in total offense en route to an 11-1 record, UH trenchmen were holding the opposition to 2,690 yards in total offense and a mere 99.1 yards per game rushing.

"Our defense is an experienced group and if it can hold up early in the season, it looks like we've got a chance to be half-way decent," said Yeoman, who has eight offensive and eight defensive starters back from last year's Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl title.

The most awesome sight UH opponents likely will see this fall is the Cougars' defensive forward wall which includes three-year starters at a senior from Orange, the "midget" of the four at 224, tackles Wilson Whitley and Lee Canalito both sophomores and Mack Mitchell, 6-8, 255 senior right defensive end.

Mitchell, a converted basketball player, is the leading extender along this death row. Mitchell has been the Cougars' leading quarterback sacker the past two seasons, snagging 13 last year.

"I'm just repeating what a couple of pro scouting combines have said," Yeoman said. "The figure if we have a good year and he has a good year, he might be the No. 1 pick in the pro football draft."

"There aren't many 6-8, 255-pound kids around that run a 4.6 40-yard dash," Yeoman said.

As for Keller Yeoman said he's never out of position. He hasn't been out of position for three years and he has good speed.

and Hill is moving to middle linebacker from his defensive tackle position last year. "He did a good job adjusting in spring," Yeoman said. "He's got great speed and football sense."

Todd Williamson and Robert Giblin, a third team AP all-America pick last year, will return at cornerbacks and Barney Williams and Joe Rust will fill in at safeties left vacant by Jeff Bouche and Howard Ebow.

The Cougars traditionally field high-octane and diversified offenses that don't like to stand still and this year's group hopes to give the star-studded defense plenty of rest.

Only losses were 1,000-yard rusher Leonard Parker, quarterback D.C. Nobles and tackle Ken Baugh. Nobles, a fleet runner and adequate passer, will be replaced by junior squadman David Husman.

Parker's replacement will be 185-pound Dallas junior Donnie "Quick Draw" McGraw, who came by his nickname honestly. McGraw gave a preview of things to come with two touchdowns in the 1973 Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl.

Returning starter Marshall Johnson will be at running back with McGraw at fullback.

The Cougars' eight top receivers will return with Frank Sealise at flanker, Bryan Willingham at split end and Marty Watts the tight end.

Sophomore David Brooks will replace Baugh and the rest of the offensive line remains intact including tackle Ken McIntosh guards Val Belcher and Everett Little and center Bert Schupp.

The Cougars' 11-1 record in 1973 was their best in history and they finished tied for ninth in the final AP major college football poll with perennially tough Arizona State.

Diablos Topple Amarillo, 5-1 In Texas League

By The Associated Press
Lefthander Jim Officer scattered eight hits and struck out six in leading the El Paso Diablos to a 5-1 victory over Amarillo Sunday that moved the Diablos five games ahead of second place San Antonio in the West Division of the Texas League.

San Antonio's game with Midland was rained out.

In the East Division Arkansas scored eight runs in the sixth inning and went on to defeat Alexandria 9-4 to narrow the lead held by first place Victoria to 1 1/2 games.

Victoria had his game with Shreveport rained out.

John Balaz hit a solo homer for El Paso in the sixth inning. Carlos Lopez drove in three runs for the Diablos in the ninth.

MOORE MAKES DEBUT TONIGHT

Cubs, Brewers In Doubleheader

The Midland Cubs and San Antonio Brewers will try to resume a short three-game series in Cubs Stadium today when the two Western Division teams of the Texas League tangle in a doubleheader beginning at 6:30 p.m.

The first game of the short homestand was washed away by rain Sunday night, but Midlanders will have a special treat in tonight's twin bill when Midland Manager Walt Dixon will allow former Lubbock Monterey pitching ace, Donnie Moore, to make his Texas League debut.

Huisman returned to the lineup after missing a couple of weeks with an injured leg. Bill will be hitting at a .344 clip when injured.

"There is still pain in the leg," Bill said Sunday. "But I hit the ball real good Friday and got three hits." Bill will probably be used as the designated hitter tonight.

The two teams got in three innings of scoreless play Sunday before the rains came. Dave Geisel (11-5) retired the first eight men to face him, but the weather robbed him of his performance and a starting assignment.

Tuesday, Tom Badcock (1-5) will face Brewer Bob Grossman (8-9) in a single game at 7:45 p.m. before the all-star break. Midland's Texas League home run leader, Wayne Tyrone, who has 28, and Huisman will be on the all-star squad.

Expos Defeat Astros

HOUSTON (AP) — Montreal pitcher Steve Renko says the National League East race will be close all the way and the Expos will be in it.

"The difference in this team and last year's team is we think we can win it this year," Renko said Sunday after the Expos had defeated the Houston Astros, 5-2, for their fifth consecutive victory.

Renko, now 9-11, blanked Houston on four hits until the eighth when Houston got both of its runs.

The Expos took a 2-0 lead en route to their three-game sweep of the Astros in the fourth on Jim Northrup's two-run home run which followed a walk to Mike Jorgensen. It was the second home run of the series by Northrup who was traded to Montreal last week by the Detroit Tigers.

The Expos added three runs in the eighth. Pinchhitter Jose Morales doubled in two and Tim Foli singled in another.

Roger Metzger's bases-loaded single in the bottom of the eighth scored one run for the Astros and knocked out Renko. Chuck Taylor relieved Renko and allowed a sacrifice fly to Cesar Cedeno but ended the inning by striking out Lee May.

"We have been getting pitching good enough to win but our hitting is not coming through," said Astros manager Preston Gomez.

Houston starter Larry Dierker, 7-8, pitched well, allowing only four hits through seven innings but one of those was Northrup's blast.

Clown Prince Outlasts Nicklaus For PGA Title

Pockets $45,000 Prize Money With 276 Total

By WILL GRIMSLEY
CLEMMONS, N.C. (AP) — The clown prince of big time golf is back, and everybody is hailing him as a king.

"Do you feel like the old Trevino?" Lee Trevino was asked Sunday after he had beaten out Jack Nicklaus by a stroke in a cliff-hanging victory for the 50th PGA Championship.

"I don't know how the old Trevino felt," the bouncy, ebullient Mexican American retorted. "Maybe I will have to ask my wife."

It was hot and humid and there was no icy drink waiting for the new American professional champion.

"I will buy," Trevino said. "Can anybody cash a check?"

He reached in his dark trousers and pulled out the first prize check for $45,000.

Everybody laughed.

Almost everybody laughs at Lee Trevino. He is loose and uninhibited. He is quick with the quip. He has a rich homespun philosophy. He is to golf what Yogi Berra and Dizzy Dean have been to baseball and Muhammad Ali—without Ali's occasional venom and militancy—to boxing.

He has enriched the game with both his skill and his Trevinoisms:

"If you keep your mouth shut too long, you get bad breath."

"I missed three fairways—the first and 18th."

"Now that I got all this money, maybe I'll buy the Alamo and give it back to the Mexicans."

"I come from such a poor family, my sister was made in Japan."

Since Trevino joined the tour in 1967, he has established himself as one of the giants of the game—twice U.S. Open and twice British Open victor, winner of 18 tour victories and banker of more than $1,270,000 in golf purses alone.

His first PGA triumph solidified his position as one of the three best players of the current era along with Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player.

He gave one of his most impressive and gutsy performances in winning the 1974 PGA crown in a head-to-head duel with Nicklaus, who had to be content with the second purse of $25,700.

Trevino has become a personal nemesis of the great Nicklaus, after once beating him in a playoff.

Harmon Killebrew Celebrates Special Day

By ALEX SACHARE
"I still get a chill every time Harmon bats," said Minnesota's Jerry Terrell, describing his feelings for teammate Harmon Killebrew, honored in special ceremonies Sunday.

A crowd of 27,203 turned out for Harmon Killebrew Day at Metropolitan Stadium in Bloomington, and the 38-year-old slugger did more than his share to send the customers home satisfied.

Killebrew singled home Bob Darwin to give the Twins a 1-0 lead in the first inning against the Baltimore Orioles. Then singled home Larry Hise to tie the game at 3-3 in the fifth. Terrell followed with a two-run single to put Minnesota in front for good.

Adams won with a three-round total of 210 over the beautiful 6,562-yard Hogan Park Course while Whiteside carded a 214 and Baker a 215 after shooting a 73.

Whiteside moved from third on Saturday to the runnerup slot on the par-71 layout while finishing in fourth place was David Gage with a 217.

First flight honors went to Rick Peterson who wound up with a 147 total while Art Wagner was runnerup with a 148. Peterson shot a 74 Sunday in the final round.

Larry Freeman won the second flight crown with a 153, coming up a 76 while John Chaney finished second with a 156.

Lee Names New Coaches

Midland Lee football coach Jim Acree has added two more coaches to his staff, replacing George Patchell and Donnie Denbow, for the 1974 season.

Phil Paschel, 26, joins the Lee junior varsity football staff and will also be JV baseball coach for the Rebels. He is a graduate of East Texas State University in Commerce and has a wife and two sons.

The other addition will also work with the JV football team and he is Buster Leaf, who comes to Lee from Lewisville High School where he was assistant under Bill Shipman, new coach at Abilene High School. Buster is 28, has a wife and one girl and graduated from Sul Ross State University in Alpine.

Both have reported and will be on hand Wednesday when shoes and socks are issued to the varsity and JV teams.

Sutton Paces Dodger Win

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer
Don Sutton has notched his 15th hit, not victory.

The Los Angeles Dodger right-hander has been having better luck hitting than pitching this season—and helped himself Sunday with two singles in a 3-1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

"I'm not Dizzy Dean or Claude Osteen with my hitting," Sutton conceded, "but I believe that I can help myself in ballgames if I can do something else besides bunt. Any time you have nine guys in the lineup that can contribute, you should win."

Sutton hasn't been winning, though, with any consistency. He suffered through a six-game losing streak earlier this year and Sunday's victory, a five-hit runs with two doubles and his 24th home run of the season and George Foster drove in four runs, leading Cincinnati over New York.

Pirates 8, Padres 1
Dock Ellis posted his fifth consecutive victory, Willie Stargell smashed a three-run homer and Manny Sanguillen drove in two runs in Pittsburgh's victory over San Diego.

Ellis, 34, scattered eight hits and allowed the lone Padre run in the fourth inning.

Braves 5, Phillies 5
Dave Johnson's two-run single in the eighth inning lifted Atlanta over Philadelphia.

Giants 5-4, Cubs 3-4
Gary Matthews' home run on Rick Reuschel's first pitch of the seventh inning carried San Francisco past Chicago in the first game of their doubleheader. Garry Maddox led off the ninth with his second home run of the game and Tito Fuentes later followed with a two-run single to lead San Francisco to victory in the second game.

Bibby Handcuffs Detroit By 9-0

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — got Johnny Wockenfuss to line Dave Nelson figures Sunday night was a good example of why Billy Martin is pulling down a hefty salary for managing the Texas Rangers.

Martin moved Nelson, who has been in the throes of a hitting slump the past month and a half, back to the lead-off spot in the batting order and the Ranger second baseman responded amazingly.

Nelson crashed a three-run homer off Dave Lemanczyk and later added a run-scoring single to support Jim Bibby's four-hit shutout as the Rangers took a 9-0 victory over Detroit.

The return to the lead-off spot came as a surprise to Nelson. "I've been going so bad lately," he said. "I didn't have any idea he was planning it."

Martin said the move was no big deal. "With Alex Johnson out of the lineup I needed a lead-off man who can run and I had noticed Dave had been swinging the bat a little better the last couple of days, so I stuck him in there."

Nelson has failed to regain his hitting eye since coming off the disabled list June 10 after suffering ankle and whiplash injuries in a collision with teammate Lenny Randle, May 11.

"I'm almost back to 100 per cent," said Nelson. "It's taken me quite a while to get over the injuries and my performance has really suffered. Nobody knows that more than me."

Nelson's homer broke up a scoreless battle between Bibby, 16-14, and Lemanczyk in the fifth. The Rangers went on to add three more in the sixth two in the seventh and one in the eighth.

The shutout was the fifth of year for Bibby, who leads the American League in that department. The big righthander struck out four and walked three and was in trouble only twice.

The Tigers put two men on to start the second, but Bibby struck out Ed Brinkman and into a double play to Nelson to end the threat.

In the fifth a walk and two singles loaded the bases for the Tigers with no outs, but Bibby got Wockenfuss to foul out to the catcher, struck out rookie Ron LeFlore and induced Gary Sutherland to ground out to shortstop Toby Harrah.

"LeFlore was the key," said Bibby. "I really made a big effort to strike him out. I knew he hadn't been swinging the bat too well and has been prone to strike out. I just fed him nothing but fastballs and it worked."

Bibby did not allow a hit after the fifth inning as the Rangers completed the three-game sweep of the Tigers. The win boosted the Rangers into third place in the American League West standings, 7½ games behind Oakland. They open a three-game set with Milwaukee tonight with righthander Steve Hargan, 9-6, opposing the Brewers' Jim Colborn, 6-10.

Dallas Wins Tourney Sophomore Stourney

ODESSA — The Dallas Bigman A's won the State Sophomore League Tournament title here Saturday night with a 2-1 victory over the Odessa Firefighters. The championship game went 12 innings before the A's finally pulled it out. Dallas went undefeated in the double elimination tournament.

Stram said: "Very honestly, I don't like it... Either you're going to play football or you're not going to play. The two-week grace period is not good. If they don't come back to play football, then they should stay out until they are ready to play football."

Lee Bougess, a running back with the Philadelphia Eagles, thinks that if the players report to camp they won't leave it again.

"It sounds kind of shaky," Bougess said. "If we go in, then at the end of the 14 days, how many players are going to want to come out? Once we get in there and do some hitting and get the soreness out, we won't be able to come back. It's not good for you to leave it once you've started to hit."

The idea of working—that is, reporting to training camp—during negotiations, then striking if no settlement is achieved, happens in industry regularly. And it was considered months ago when the players association first met in Chicago. But the idea was voted down then.

And now that they're willing—somehow reluctantly—to report, at least one coach and one owner don't want them. Some others seem to feel it's just a gambit. And some players believe the strike's death knell has been sounded.

"I'm not about to take a veteran under those conditions," Houston Coach Sid Gillman said. "All it would do is disrupt our camp. To come in and then maybe walk out two weeks later is the most ridiculous thing I've ever heard of."

Bud Adams, owner of the Oilers, agreed. "We want players who will come to camp and stay," he said. "If they all come in, we may be forced to cut some of our rookies and then they (the veterans) might walk out again. We'd be back where we started, without any players."

Kansas City Coach Hank Stram said: "Very honestly, I don't like it... Either you're going to play football or you're not going to play. The two-week grace period is not good. If they don't come back to play football, then they should stay out until they are ready to play football."

Aubrey Linne began his 17 years as a football player in the third grade in Kermit. He went on through little league and junior high to a starting position on the Hobbs, N.M., varsity Eagles. While at Hobbs, Aubrey won numerous local and state honors and was selected to the High School All-America Team.

NFL Strike Near Settlement?

By TOM SEPPY WASHINGTON (AP) — From the sublime to the ridiculous. That's been the mood throughout the 42-day-old National Football League strike—and that's the mood now that it might be closer to a settlement than ever before.

The strike reached a watershed phase Sunday when the NFL Players Association's seven-member executive committee agreed to a suggestion by federal mediator W.J. Usery Jr. that the veterans report to training camp for 14 days starting Wednesday, a sort of "cooling-off" period while stale-mated negotiations continue.

Thus, an even more critical stage may arise in two weeks, if a settlement isn't reached by then. It could go one of two ways.

Either the veterans could walk out en masse, once again threatening the season that is now barely a month away.

Or the strike could be, for all intent and purposes, broken—and the union's strength severely sapped—if a majority of the players, with two weeks of solid training under their belts, decide to stay in camp.

The decision to return to camp and play in the next two weeks of exhibition games was by no means unanimous. Although not tally was released, it appears the vote was a slim one, perhaps passing by only a 4-3 margin.

When the executive committee members left the Labor Department offices, scene of the prolonged talks, none of them was smiling. Some were obviously bitter, muttering that the new turn of events was a step toward ending not the strike but the union's strength.

Ed Garvey, executive director of the NFLPA, was pragmatic about the situation, explaining that while the owners have the resources to withstand a prolonged strike, the players simply don't.

The idea of working—that is, reporting to training camp—during negotiations, then striking if no settlement is achieved, happens in industry regularly. And it was considered months ago when the players association first met in Chicago. But the idea was voted down then.

And now that they're willing—somehow reluctantly—to report, at least one coach and one owner don't want them. Some others seem to feel it's just a gambit. And some players believe the strike's death knell has been sounded.

Two Small Brain Pacemakers Help Youth Care For Himself

TULARE, Calif. (AP) — Mark Bevins has simple goals: To talk without stuttering, to care for himself. Things most people take for granted.

And with the help of a pair of experimental brain pacemakers implanted in his skull two months ago, the Tulare teenager may be a little closer to those goals.

Bevins, 18, victim since age seven of a rare unnamed nervous disorder which gradually blinded and paralyzed him, returned to the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco last week to pick up two timers designed to regulate the pacemakers automatically.

Until then, the battery-powered machines, implanted in an experimental operation after Mark suffered a seizure which almost took his life, had to be turned on and off several times an hour. At night, they were left off so his father, Jake Bevins, could sleep.

During the seizure last May, Mark's heart and respiration stopped. His parents thought the progressive ailment had finally claimed their son. But the youth revived, and on June 16 Dr. John Adams implanted the tiny pacemakers in an effort to reverse the effects of the illness.

The pacemakers supply to the brain a tiny electric current, designed to block muscular rigidity and control the shaking and tremors which make it impossible for Mark to feed himself or control his movements.

The father says Mark's condition has improved in the short time since the operation. "It

Frustrated Prisoner Wins Point In Jail Cell Revolt

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP) — Alfredo Hernandez, 23, is in the Huntsville state prison today after a two-hour siege Sunday in which he held three cellmates at the Hays County jail as hostages while demanding that "something be done about his case."

Hernandez, who had been in the county jail at this South Central Texas city for the past 136 days without bond, surrendered his .22 caliber pistol to his attorney, Albert Walker, after he was promised he would be taken before a judge for sentencing on a robbery charge. In an unusual Sunday court session, Judge Robert Pfeiffer sentenced Hernandez to 20 years in prison. Sheriff Bobby Kinser then took Hernandez to the state prison at Huntsville, the scene of an attempted jail break last Saturday that cost the lives of convict Fred Gomez Carrasco, another inmate and two hostages.

Hernandez had pleaded guilty to the robbery charge two weeks ago. Walker said he was to be sentenced Aug. 8, but the court appearance was postponed.

"He was not told of the postponement and that was an oversight on everybody's part," Walker said. "He was frustrated and wanted to have something done about his case, he said he wanted to be taken out of the county jail and his case disposed of... he was frustrated."

Prison officials said at first that Hernandez' actions apparently were inspired by the Carrasco attempt.

Not Aware Of Escape

But Walker said that Hernandez was not even aware that Carrasco had tried to escape and had died in the attempt.

"He was surprised when I told him," Walker said. "He knew Carrasco's brother and had met Carrasco, but he did not know he was dead. In fact, he did not know much of what was going on outside of the jail. The jail is an old place, about ten or 15 units, and prisoners do not have any means of knowing what is going on outside."

"Hernandez never told anyone exactly what he had in mind... he said he just wanted something done, some action... he did not say he wanted to be released."

Hernandez was in a cell with three cellmates early in the morning when he pulled out a pistol and told Sheriff Bobby Kinser he would kill them unless something was done about his case, authorities said. The sheriff had come into the cell area with breakfast for the prisoners.

Attorney Called

Walker was called around 10 a.m. after a Catholic priest failed to convince Hernandez to turn his pistol over to the jail officials.

"I talked to him for about five minutes," Walker said. "He was in his prison shorts all the time this was going on. He wanted a statement from the sheriff saying the incident would not be brought before a grand jury. When he got it, he gave me his gun through the bars and I handed it to the sheriff, who was there with me."

A jailer said Hernandez "holled and shouted a few times," but "was generally calm."

The robbery was Hernandez' second offense. Two years ago he was placed on two-year probation on a charge of check forgery.

Old Ford Grand Rapids Home Is VA Nightmare

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Jerry Ford slept here. And if you're interested, it's yours from the Veterans Administration for $500 down and a $9,000 mortgage.

For seven years Ford lived at 649 Union Street, which was then in the ritzy section of town. But in 1974, the three-story wood frame house where the President lived as a teenager is not exactly a national shrine.

In fact, it is empty. Bottles are shattered on the lawn, some windows are long since broken, and weeds grow in the crumbling walkway. The porch screens are ripped and rusting, and a white cardboard sign warns the VA will prosecute trespassers.

"From a real estate standpoint, it's not a salable neighborhood," said John Bierce, property manager for Westdale Co., the VA broker.

The last owner of the gray house on the southeastern side defaulted on the mortgage two years ago. Since then, the VA has had only a $100 offer to buy the place.

Neighbors say the area is a bit crime-ridden. Sylvia English, 78, who has lived on the block long enough to remember Ford's father, says she's been robbed "two or three times, but I'm not afraid. I can live here nicer and cheaper than if I moved."

Ethel Henderson said it was crime that forced her to move out of the former Ford home and across town five years ago.

"When I go back now and see what bad shape it's in it just makes me sick," she said.

Rosie Sylvester, who lives next door, thinks it would be nice if the government restored the home in view of its presidential significance.

Gerald R. Ford Sr. moved his family into the four-bedroom home in 1923, and Jerry played football at nearby South High School.

Around 1930 the family moved to the more affluent suburb of East Grand Rapids.

Miss English said she remembers Ford Sr. but not the President.

"He was a real nice man, a lovely gentleman," Miss English said. "He was a good Republican."

Ehrlichman Says Nixon Kept Staff At Distance

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — As perhaps do some writing and eventually become a senior statesman of some sort.

He said he did not think Congress should continue with impeachment proceedings nor should court action be brought against the former president.

Only two or three times in the four and one-third years that Ehrlichman was a top aide to Nixon did the Nixon and Ehrlichmans get together socially, Ehrlichman says.

Rare Social Contact

Ehrlichman added in an interview Sunday that Nixon's relationship with his then-chief of staff H. R. Haldeman was about the same: Numerous contacts during the working day but only rare private social get-togethers.

"That was not because of a character flaw necessarily, but because of his sense of what the relationship ought to be between the President and his staff," he said.

Ehrlichman also said Nixon, who Friday became the first president in U.S. history to resign, purposely had little contact with middle and lower level White House staffers.

"We talked about the desirability of his just going out and going in and out of offices and saying hello to secretaries and dropping in on staff members," but Nixon rejected the idea, Ehrlichman said.

Policy Called 'Mistake'

"I thought the decision was a mistake."

Ehrlichman said if Nixon had spent time talking with those employees, "I think it would have enhanced staff performance."

Ehrlichman resigned his White House post as chief domestic affairs adviser to Nixon on April 30, 1973, amidst the then burgeoning Watergate scandal.

He said Sunday that Nixon "surely must be very unhappy" now. "He's had a very personal defeat in Washington in a political sense and he's an individual who doesn't like to lose."

"It's been my experience that losing does not put him out of business, so to speak, doesn't down him for good. But certainly I'm sure he is what you would call a bad loser."

Ehrlichman said he thinks Nixon, now at home at his San Clemente, Calif., estate, will make a personal comeback and

Old Ford Grand Rapids Home Is VA Nightmare

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Jerry Ford slept here. And if you're interested, it's yours from the Veterans Administration for $500 down and a $9,000 mortgage.

For seven years Ford lived at 649 Union Street, which was then in the ritzy section of town. But in 1974, the three-story wood frame house where the President lived as a teenager is not exactly a national shrine.

In fact, it is empty. Bottles are shattered on the lawn, some windows are long since broken, and weeds grow in the crumbling walkway. The porch screens are ripped and rusting, and a white cardboard sign

Economy Holds Unprecedented Problems, Confusion For Ford

By JOHN CUNIFF
NEW YORK (AP) — It's the No. 1 problem — the economy — so proclaimed by Gerald Ford himself before he assumed the presidency. And he seems to confirm this by working with economic advisers hours after taking the oath.

If it weren't for Watergate, the true significance of the nation's economic confusion would be evident in their intensity: a 12 per cent prime rate and roughly the same rate of increase in consumer prices.

Undoubtedly inflation helped undermine the presidency of Richard M. Nixon, if only because people thought he and his administration were so preoccupied with his Watergate problems that he ignored theirs.

Their fears seemed to be confirmed when Nixon in his final economic message told Americans to cut back on their spending.

Ford seemingly recognizes the dangers of preaching rather than acting. "It serves no purpose to lecture the harassed public," he said in a recent speech.

Despite Nixon's repeated assurances that the worst of inflation was behind, the worst always was ahead.

On his final full day in office it was announced that wholesale prices for July rose 3.7 per cent, or at an annual rate in excess of 40 per cent.

Significantly, as prominently as he craved attention to his foreign policy successes, Nixon omitted any reference in his resignation speech to his domestic policy. His legacy in domestic economic policy is in disarray.

Mortgages Unavailable

Savings banks are rapidly losing deposits because they cannot offer customers the high interest rates available elsewhere. Home mortgages therefore are frequently unavailable.

More seriously, there is considerable feeling in financial circles that some savings banks are headed for more trouble, and that action to restore confidence is required by the Ford administration.

Public utilities, hard hit by higher energy and borrowing costs, are so severely pinched they must reduce or suspend dividends. This in turn lowers their capacity to raise capital to meet demands for their services.

The purchasing power of the ordinary factory worker is declining. The jobless rate, although still not exceedingly high at 5.3 per cent, is widely expected to reach 6 per cent before the end of the year.

Reduced To Desperation

Some people on fixed incomes have been reduced to desperation by the rapid erosion of their buying power. They cannot cut back; they cannot trim any fat from their budgets without cutting to the bone.

The stock market is depressed. Those high interest rates cause trouble there too, because they draw capital into debt issues that ordinarily should be supporting stocks. And besides, corporate profits aren't that good.

A move against high interest rates and high prices has to be a top priority for President Ford. Mere recognition of the difficulties might in itself produce some relief.

Food Prices Rise Fastest For Needy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Food costs for low-income families rose 29 cents a week in June while meals designed for richer households went up 10 cents, new government figures showed today.

The Agriculture Department said the cost of a "low-cost" food plan for a family of four in June was $44.10 per week, compared with $43.90 in May.

A "moderate-cost" menu cost $55.10 a week, compared with $55 in May, and a "liberal" plan was $66.70 in June, compared with $66.60 in May.

The three plans, which allow for larger quantities of higher-cost items such as meat, fresh fruit and vegetables for moderate and liberal menus, each went up 50 cents a week from April to May.

In the low-cost plan, a family—including two elementary school children—is allowed more beans, potatoes and grain products. Prices of those have frequently gone up faster than some of the other normally more expensive items.

Compared with a year earlier, the June figures showed the low-cost menu was up 17 per cent, or $6.30 per week. The moderate-cost menu was up 13 per cent, or $6.50; the liberal plan rose 12 per cent, or $7.

WHAT IS THE TRUTH?
"Thy Word is Truth" (John 17:17)
by Bryon Best

God's grace. What is it?
God has formulated a plan of salvation for man. Man is lost in his sin, and only God can save him. God has provided salvation through his Son, Jesus Christ. Jesus came to the earth and lived as a man, died on the cross, and was raised from the dead. His death and resurrection provides the means of our salvation: his blood cleanses us of our sin. We are saved when we have faith and obey him. The plan of salvation will be climaxed when Christ comes again and every person is judged by the Lord. Those who have lived in faithful obedience to Christ will be with God forever in heaven; those who have refused to obey him will be forever separated from God in hell. God's desire is that "none should perish, but that all should reach repentance" (II Peter 3:9), that we obey him now before it is everlastingly too late.

Our problem is sin. God has furnished the remedy to the problem. Why did he do it? Because he loves us so much that he wants us to be with him. The New Testament word completely describes God's attitude toward us is grace (unmerited and undeserved favor to us). When we obey God, then we know the meaning of the words of the song, "Amazing grace — how sweet the sound — that saved a wretch like me."

The Money Machine!

Remember the old money machine? Put in a dollar and it turned into a five, ten or whatever. We all know that such doesn't happen, but a lot of people may not know that a real money machine does exist. And it works like this. Put your money in a First Savings account... passbook or C.D.'s... and get back more than you put in. First Savings compounds daily and pays from date of deposit to date of withdrawal on passbook accounts... so you've got to get more out than you put in. And the longer you leave it, and the more you put in, the more you'll get back. And believe it or not... they'll give you S & H Green Stamps for making money. Don't you think you should have a money machine? You can... First Savings... Midland's most recommended Savings and Loan Association.

Dallas Police Kill Man In Alleged Robbery Attempt

DALLAS (AP) — A 28-year-old Dallas man was fatally shot by police Sunday night as he allegedly tried to rob a convenience store, police said.

A police department spokesman identified the dead man as Jesse S. Morales. The spokesman said an 18-year-old woman also was held in connection with the alleged robbery attempt.

Police said the couple tried to hold up two convenience stores, and each time chose a site where officers were staked out.

The spokesman said the pair escaped the first store in a hail of gunfire only to meet more of the same at the second store, a 7-11 store in Oak Cliff.

Police said Morales was shot several times in a chase with officers and died later at Parkland Hospital.

Columnist Hints Nixon May Have Erased Tapes

WASHINGTON (AP) - Columnist Jack Anderson says Watergate prosecutors are investigating the possibility that Richard M. Nixon may have erased the famous 1 1/2-minute segment from the tape of his White House conversation on June 20, 1972. The conversation was with then chief of staff H. R. Haldeman. Anderson said in an article today that sources close to the prosecutor's office describe the former President as a "key suspect" in their investigation, although they have developed no "solid evidence" that would incriminate him. According to Haldeman's notes, the missing segment dealt with the Watergate break-in. A panel of experts has concluded the 1 1/2-minute conversation was wiped off the tape by someone who made five stop-and-start erasures. "The evidence strongly suggests, therefore, that the culprit was an amateur who had access to both the tapes and Miss (Rose Mary) Woods' recorder," Anderson said. "As a practical matter, this would eliminate almost everyone except Mr. Nixon, Miss Woods and White House assistant Stephen Bull," Anderson added.

Red Union Affirms Intent To Continue Drive For Detente

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has affirmed its intent to pursue the process of U.S.S.R. detente with President Ford.

"The Soviet Union will continue in the future to maintain with firmness and persistence a policy line towards further improvement of Soviet-American relations," declared Pravda, the voice of the ruling Communist party.

The Kremlin had earlier expressed "deep satisfaction" with Ford's foreign policy plans. Sunday's statement, however, was the first specifically on the future of detente since the resignation of former President Richard M. Nixon.

"The destiny of the world depends to a large degree on the U.S.S.R. and the U.S.A. and the process of detente," Pravda said.

Among Ford's first moves as president was to send Soviet party chief Leonid Brezhnev a private message, presumably pledging to follow the foreign policy course set by Nixon.

The Pravda statement indirectly expressed hope that Ford could steer the 1973 Soviet-American trade pact through Congress, where it has been blocked by demands for eased Soviet emigration policies.

The newspaper stressed that the changing of presidents was an internal American affair. But it added that the event could not be ignored by the world.

DESPITE VOTING RECORD—

Organized Labor Vows Cooperation With Ford

WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized labor has pledged support for the new President despite Gerald R. Ford's almost solid anti-labor voting record in Congress.

Ford, according to the AFL-CIO, voted "wrong" 109 times and "right" on only nine occasions when it came to legislation favored by labor during his 25-year congressional career.

But with Ford assuming the presidency, organized labor's chief spokesman, George Meany, pledged on behalf of the 13.5 million-member AFL-CIO "all possible support in meeting the grave and serious problems the nation faces."

Similar comments came from other labor leaders.

Union Will Cooperate

United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock said his union would cooperate with the new administration "in any effort to correct the enormous economic and moral difficulties the nation faces."

"You can count on our support and cooperation in our efforts to bring America back to the principles upon which it is founded and under which it has prospered," said President Floyd E. Smith, president of the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers.

Teamsters chief Frank E. Fitzsimmons, a staunch ally of former President Richard M. Nixon, said his union is "ready to unite" behind Ford.

President Jerry Wurf of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees union, referred to Ford's conservatism but said "we are willing to work with him on the very real problems facing the country."

Labor leaders generally consider Ford a conservative on most issues and although they rarely saw eye-to-eye on legislation they respect his integrity.

An AFL-CIO staff official called Ford's relationship with the labor federation on Capitol Hill "exceedingly friendly."

"He was a man you could see anytime, a man you could talk to," the official recalled. "This was not a man who was unapproachable."

Both Ford and labor regard inflation as the No. 1 problem facing the country and the new President is expected to call for reduced government spending while urging business and labor to restrain wage and price increases.

Despite the promised cooperation, workers are unlikely to react too favorably to any call for holding down pay increases as they try to catch up with a nearly 5 per cent loss in real wages over the past year.

How long Ford's honeymoon with labor lasts will depend on what economic proposals the White House puts forth.

Nixon Turns To Paper Work

By DICK BARNES

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Massive correspondence and paper work will occupy Richard M. Nixon in coming days, in addition to whatever Watergate turmoil might lie ahead.

Three principal assistants are working with Nixon here at his oceanfront retreat in his transition from president to private citizen. In addition, he has met with two close friends.

The Presidential Transition Act provides Nixon with staff support for six months. Principal tasks are to handle correspondence remaining from the end of Nixon's presidency and to arrange for movement of his voluminous presidential papers.

The assistants also are handling liaison with the new White House staff of President Ford.

The three top aides here with Nixon are his former press secretary, Ronald L. Ziegler; former appointments secretary Stephen Bull and military aide Col. Jack Brennan. Several lower ranking assistants from White House days also are here along with Dr. Walter Tkach, Nixon's personal physician in Washington.

The staff is working at the office compound formerly called the Western White House, located on a Coast Guard facility adjacent to Nixon's 26-acre estate. Operators at a telephone switchboard, greatly undermanned from previous times,

Firebombing Damages Former Pat Nixon Home

CERRITOS, Calif. (AP) — A mysterious firebombing has scarred the green-shuttered home where Mrs. Richard M. Nixon spent her girlhood.

Police said they had neither motive nor suspects for the early Sunday firebombing, but said "an unidentified flammable liquid was poured on the south wall of the recreation hall attached to the home."

The fire, spotted by a newspaperboy, was extinguished by Los Angeles County firemen in about five minutes, doing only about $1,500 damage, a spokesman said.

The home where Thelma "Pat" Ryan lived as a child stands in the center of a 44-acre historical park named for her and dedicated to children. Mrs. Nixon was born in Ely, Nev., in 1912, but the next year her family moved to this little house in Cerritos when her father started farming in nearby Artesia.

now answer "San Clemente" instead of "Western White House."

Under the Former Presidents Act, Nixon is entitled after the six months transition to nearly $100,000 annually for support of an office staff. An aide said this office likely will be quartered at the former Western White House. He also said there definitely will be a presidential library to house Nixon's papers and mementos, although a site has not been determined.

The aide, who asked not to be named, said Nixon has been reading and working in his office, where news service tickers still operate. He said the former president will seek greater privacy as citizen Nixon than as chief executive.

On Sunday Nixon worked in his office for more than an hour and visited with friends C. G. "Bebe" Rebozo and Robert Abplanalp, aides said. In the afternoon the former President went on a three-hour outing, spending an hour on the beach at Camp Pendleton Marine Base, just south of his residence, then driving with Rebozo to Red Beach to join Mrs. Nixon and their daughter Tricia and son-in-law Edward Cox. The family returned home in late afternoon.

Nixon Likeness Stored On Shelf

LONDON (AP) — The wax likeness of Richard M. Nixon has been put on the shelf at Madame Tussaud's Wax Museum.

"After hearing the news of his resignation, we decided it would be better that he be stored," a museum spokesman said Sunday. "He was no longer in a relevant post."

The Nixon figure once stood in the Grand Hall, a room reserved for world leaders. The lifelike likeness was removed on Friday after Nixon resigned as president of the United States.

bozo, interviewed briefly at a nearby restaurant while they lunched, said they had talked several times with Nixon during the weekend.

"We are out here as friends to do what we can—that's all," said Abplanalp. "He seemed fine; he is not upset."

Both men said any more substantive remarks would be inappropriate. Through an investment company, the two own about three-fourths of the acreage in the Nixon compound.

Associates of both men say Ford and Schlesinger agree on most major defense questions, including a cautious approach to a new strategic arms limitation agreement with Russia.

Weapons Development

Like Schlesinger, Ford has called attention to the pace of Soviet weapons developments and said that "to prevent a serious imbalance, we must continue to modernize and improve the readiness of our combat forces."

While supporting detente as a goal, Ford has said, "we must insure that our good will is not misconstrued as lack of will."

Ford, who served for years on the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee, supports many of the key weapons programs which have been urged by Schlesinger and former President Richard M. Nixon.

Pentagon Probably Will Have To Slash Budget Under Ford

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although a strong defense advocate, President Ford will make the Pentagon pull in its belt to save money, close associates predict.

The first belt-tightening move may come within two months.

A source familiar with Ford's thinking says the Pentagon "probably will have to eat" a pay increase of about $1.5 billion due in October for more than 2,160,000 military men and women and about one million civilian employees.

By this, the source said he meant the Pentagon will have to absorb the increased cost, perhaps by cutting the number of personnel below levels planned by the Nixon administration.

Manpower Pay

Some of those advising Ford believe the biggest spending cuts should come in manpower costs, which now account for about 55 per cent of the defense budget. Besides pay, such costs cover housing, food, clothing, medical care and other support of military personnel and their families.

A new White House push to trim military manpower further could bring the first strain between the new President and Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger, who has said U.S. forces already are thin.

Associates of both men say Ford and Schlesinger agree on most major defense questions, including a cautious approach to a new strategic arms limitation agreement with Russia.

Weapons Development

Like Schlesinger, Ford has called attention to the pace of Soviet weapons developments and said that "to prevent a serious imbalance, we must continue to modernize and improve the readiness of our combat forces."

While supporting detente as a goal, Ford has said, "we must insure that our good will is not misconstrued as lack of will."

Ford, who served for years on the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee, supports many of the key weapons programs which have been urged by Schlesinger and former President Richard M. Nixon.

But Ford would not necessarily move at the same pace in all such programs as he looks for ways to reduce defense spending while maintaining a strong defense, associates said.

For example, some advisers indicated that he might slow the advanced B1 bomber while moving ahead as planned with deployment of the new Trident missile-firing submarine force.

Also, they said Ford will carry forward nuclear weapons improvements and initiatives Schlesinger has supported as hedges against continued growth in Soviet missile strength. But one adviser forecast these programs will proceed at "a very low level" of funding.

At 7 p.m., a park ranger, who decided against approaching the youth almost 12 hours earlier, discovered he was dead.

Union County Coroner Robert Gordon said Phillip Anthony Diller of Hereford, Tex., had died Saturday night after being hit by lightning.

Police theorized the youth, who apparently was traveling alone on a motorcycle, was struck after taking refuge under a park shelter.

Park ranger Martin Franz said he saw the youth early Sunday morning, but decided to "let him sleep."

The rangers said about 80 persons had been in the area where the youth was found. Officers said Diller's motorcycle was found nearby.

Texan, Believed Sleeping, Found Killed By Lightning

CLAYTON, N.M. (AP) — Picnickers, campers and fishermen at Clayton Lake State Park in northeast New Mexico walked around the body of a 22-year-old Texan all day Sunday, apparently thinking he was asleep.

Police theorized the youth, who apparently was traveling alone on a motorcycle, was struck after taking refuge under a park shelter.

Park ranger Martin Franz said he saw the youth early Sunday morning, but decided to "let him sleep."

ANOTHER BREAK FOR SAFEWAY CUSTOMERS!

We pledge:

ONCE A CAN OR PACKAGE IS PRICE-MARKED WE WILL NOT RAISE ITS PRICE

When we are forced to make a price increase, cans and packages which are already price-marked will be sold out at the old price.

When a price is lowered all sales will be at the new lower price. Cans and packages bearing the former higher price will also be marked with the new price.

When a can or package shows more than one price mark, you pay the lowest price.
