Ventures Set In Eddy, Lea

Exploration has been scheduled in Eddy and Lea counties, in Southeast New Mexico.

Coquina Oil Corp., Midland, intends to drill a 12,200-foot searcher for tests of the Chester in Eddy, 13 miles south of Carlsbad, It is No. 1 Jake State.

Location is 1,900 feet from south and east lines of section 36-24-26, one mile south of Morrow gas production in the Crawford field.

Lea Deepening
Cities Service Oil Co. intends to re-enter and deepen to 13,600 feet as a wildcat, at No. 1 Stoltz, Wagner & Brown, Lea County 12,900-foot failure, nine miles southeast of Maljamar.

Originally drilled by William Ross in 1964 as No. 1 Carper, to 10,520 feet, it was re-entered by Sinclair Oil & Gas and deepened to 12,900 feet, also in 1964.

Location is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 3-18-33e.

Lea Workover
Martindale Petroleum Corp., Hobbs, N.M., will re-enter and clean out to 4,300 feet and attempt recompletion from a wildcat zone at No. 1 Yates-State, Lea County project, eight miles northeast of Eunice.

The well originally was drilled by Apexco Petroleum Co. as No. 1 State, and plugged and abandoned Feb. 25, 1963, at 8,722 feet. Drilling & Exploration Corp. re-entered it as No. 1-Q State, and completed it from open hole at 4,178-4,330 feet, in 1972. It has become depleted.

Location is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 32-20-29e.

Upton Prospector Swabs Oil, Water

Mobil Oil Corp. continued testing at No. 1 Half Interest-Lynch, Upton County wildcat, eight miles northwest of Rankin and 3 1/2 miles north of the A. M. C. Lippett, Southeast (Bend) field.

Through unidentified perforations at 10,244-10,262 feet, which have been acidized with 5,000 gallons, it swabbed 15 barrels of new oil, 65 barrels of load water and 65 barrels of formation water in 12 hours. There was 5,200 feet of fluid in the hole.

Location is 796 feet from north and 1,966 feet from east lines of section 58, block Y, TCRS survey, eight miles northwest of Rankin.

Exploration Set In Kimble, Sutton

Adobe Oil Co. of Midland, has filed application to drill a 2,100-foot venture in Kimble County, 23 miles southwest of Junction. It is No. 1 Cardwell.

Drill site, 1/2 mile east of the Sutton County line, is 2 1/4 miles southwest of an undesignated Canyon gas discovery.

It spots 860 feet from north and 1,734 feet from east lines (Continued On Page 8B)

HEAVIEST OF YEAR IN WEST TEXAS—

Rains Bring Flood To Odessa

The skies opened up about 5:30 p.m. Monday at Odessa and within an hour many of the city's streets were impassable due to high water from the heaviest rain of the year in West Texas.

Unofficial gauges caught up to five inches of rain during a two-hour period. The Odessa Police Department reported no serious damage resulted from the deluge and that streets were almost free of water by 9 p.m.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Dolph Briscoe asked Secretary of Agriculture Earl Buttz today to declare 10 additional counties in Central and West Texas as drought disaster areas. The 10 counties in today's request were Baylor, Bosque, Brown, Concho, Dallam, Dawson, Mills, Navarro, Oldham and Somervell.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Ford will hold his first television-radio news conference at 1:30 p.m. CDT Wednesday, Press Secretary Jerald F. terHorst announced today.

U. S. Crime Rate Up Six Per Cent

CHICAGO (AP)—Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe said today that crime in the United States rose 6 per cent in 1973 and called the upward trend "harsh, bitter and dismaying."

The nation, he said, "is in deep trouble in its effort to reduce crime." Saxbe's remarks were in a speech prepared for a conference of big-city police chiefs.

"We can now preceive with shocking clarity that we have suffered a severe setback" in the fight to curb crime, Saxbe said.

He noted that the FBI Uniform Crime Reports showed that the number of crimes reported to police declined 4 per cent in 1972, the first drop in 17 years.

According to the FBI figures, the crime rate held steady for the first nine months of 1973, then soared in the last quarter to 16 per cent more than in the comparable period of 1972. The FBI figures showed a 15 per cent increase for the first three months of 1974.

The FBI statistics reflect the number of crimes reported to state and local police in seven categories—murder, rape, assault, robbery, burglary, larceny and motor vehicle theft.

The full-year report for 1973 is due for release Sept. 6. Saxbe said those figures "will show that crime actually increased during 1973 by 6 per cent, not the 5 per cent that was earlier predicted."

"The fact is that for at least a brief period, we have lost our initiative and are back on the defensive," he told the police chiefs.

The attorney general expressed disappointment in the performance of a Justice Department spokesman.

Oklahoma And Alaska Voters To Decide On Betting, Moving Capital

By The Associated Press
A proposal to move the capital of Alaska from Juneau and the question of legalizing parimutuel betting in Oklahoma are expected to draw record numbers of voters in primaries in the two states today.

In Oklahoma, Election Board Secretary Lee Slater predicted that as many as 500,000 Democrats and 150,000 Republicans might cast ballots.

In addition to deciding whether counties may opt to legalize parimutuel betting on horse races, Oklahomans will also select candidates for governor, one Senate seat, the state's six House seats, and other state offices.

In his bid to become the state's first two-term governor, Gov. David Hall faces opposition in the Democratic primary from Rep. Clem McSpadden, 48, a Chelsea rancher, and state Rep. David Boren, 33, of Seminole.

Political observers predict McSpadden will lead the three-man race, with Hall and Boren fighting it out for second place and a spot in a Sept. 17 runoff primary.

McSpadden gave up his 2nd Congressional District seat to make the run against Hall and Boren.

Hospital operations were not hampered.

A spokesman for the Texas Electric Service Co. said electrical power supply was almost normal during the rain, with only a few people losing electrical service when some main-line power fuses blew out.

Northwest of Odessa at Goldsmith, an inch of rain was measured about the same time the deluge hit Odessa.

Only light showers fell on most sections of Midland Monday afternoon, but .20 inch was measured in the extreme northeast edge of the city.

The Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal measured .30 inch of rain Monday afternoon and reported that the maximum temperature here Monday was 84 degrees and that this morning's low was 68.

10 Shotgun Blasts Injure Seven At Club In California

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—At least 10 shotgun blasts were fired into an after-hours club from a passing car early today, wounding seven patrons in a bloody, blitz-like attack, police reported.

Police Information Officer Richard Berger said the shooting took place at 6:02 a.m. at the private Brass Rail Social Club on Sacramento Street near 67th Street in south Berkeley.

Police cordoned off the area near the small, red-brick building and searched nearby streets.

"I have no idea, no motive and no reason for it," Berger said.

"One or possibly two vehicles drove up to the after-hours club and fired 10 to 12 shotgun blasts inside," he said. All the victims were inside.

"It's not a plush club at all," Sgt. Bob Miller said at the scene. He said the building has a small front alcove and visitors must ring the bell to get through the first door to a second, wooden door. He said the shots were fired into the alcove where at least three of the victims were standing.

The neighborhood where the shooting took place was described as an area of residences and small businesses. The Brass Rail is open 24 hours and serves food and coffee but no liquor, police said.

Kuwait Is Planning To Put $1.8 Billion Into British Bonds

KUWAIT (AP)—Final arrangements are being worked out for Kuwait to invest $1.8 billion in British government bonds, Finance Ministry sources said today.

The transaction is expected to help stabilize the pound sterling and offset British fears of a massive flow of Arab oil money from Europe to the United States, they said.

Abu Dhabi, another Arab oil state on the Persian Gulf, also plans a sizable investment in British bonds, the sources said, but they did not say how much it would be.

The Arab press reported earlier that Kuwait has begun channeling about $115 million in oil money into British investments and has asked the Bank of England for guidelines.

The forecast for the Midland area today and Wednesday calls for a possibility of more rain, with top readings today and Wednesday in the middle 80s. The low tonight should be in the middle 60s.

Imperial reported .25-inch of rain late Monday, and Ward County officials said what looked like two tornado funnels were spotted near Barstow. Neither appeared to touch ground, the officials said.

Andrews reported .11 inch of rain last night, while Stanton measured .50 inch in town and farmers north of the city reported 1 1/2 inches of moisture. Heavy rains also fell in an area of Martin County about 20 miles north of Midland.

Widespread rains began tapering off today after five days of heavy downpours in many parts of Texas.

Commissioners OK Budget Containing More Funds For Defense Of Indigents

Midland County commissioners Monday afternoon approved a 1975 county budget that includes increased expenditures for the defense of indigents in criminal cases.

The budget, $3,357,907.84, is $99,758.30 less than was budgeted for 1974.

Four Midland attorneys, including the president of the Midland County Bar Association, Pat Baskin, appeared at the meeting to recommend more money be allotted the fund for accused in a capital murder case.

The commissioners, who already had increased the fund from 1974's $10,000 to $20,000, voted to increase it even further—to $30,000.

An unpaid $10,000 attorney's fee was referred to during the meeting.

Early this year, Dist. Judge Perry D. Pickett had authorized the county to pay a $10,000 fee to Randall Lundy and Bruce Pope for their defense of a man accused in a capital murder case.

Lundy and Pope, along with Martin Allday, all with the law firm of Lynch, Chappell, Allday and Aldridge, appeared at the meeting.

The commissioner's court has asked for an attorney general's opinion on the payment of the $10,000. When the bill was presented, $6,000 for Lundy and $4,000 for Pope, to the county, $1,000 had already been used (See BUDGET Page 2A)

'Lone Eagle' Wrote Part Of Eulogy Read At His Funeral

Related Stories, Page 3A
HANA, Hawaii (AP)—Charles A. Lindbergh, who sparked worldwide excitement with his "Lone Eagle" flight from New York to Paris in 1927, has been interred in a small, seaside graveyard less than eight hours after his death.

The only family members present on Monday when the 72-year-old aviator hero was buried beside the nondescript national Kipahulu Hawaiian Church were his widow, Anne, and one of the five Lindbergh children, Land.

The other four living children of the man who flew out of obscurity with an epic solo crossing of the Atlantic in a single-engine plane were too far away to fly to Hawaii in time for the service.

The eulogy—part of which Lindbergh had written himself—was delivered by a young Protestant minister, the Rev. John Tischer.

Lindbergh penned these words:

"We commit the body of General Charles A. Lindbergh to its final resting place, but his spirit we commend to Almighty God, knowing that death is but a new adventure in existence and remembering how Jesus said upon the Cross, "Father, into Thy hands I commend my spirit."

At his own request, Lindbergh was buried in a khaki shirt and dark cotton trousers.

His casket of eucalyptus wood was built by cowboys from nearby ranches.

"The Lone Eagle planned his final trip as much as he planned his Atlantic trip or anything else he ever did in his life," said Dr. Milton Howell, a longtime friend.

Howell said Lindbergh died of cancer of the lymphatic system. The pioneer aviator had spent the last eight days of his life in Hawaii after a month-long stay in New York's Columbia Presbyterian Hospital.

"When he knew he could not recover, Mr. Lindbergh requested that he be taken here from Columbia so he could die. He had made his vacation home here for many years and wanted to die here," Howell said.

In addition to his widow and Land, Lindbergh is survived by sons Jon of Washington state and Scott of Paris and daughters Reeve of New England and Anne Lindbergh Feydl of Paris.

President Ford, who only last Friday had sent Lindbergh a telegram wishing him a speedy recovery, said:

"For a generation of Americans, and for millions of other people around the world, the 'Lone Eagle' represented all that was best in our country—honesty, courage and the will to greatness....

Nearly half a century has passed since his courageous solo flight across the Atlantic, but the courage and daring of his feat will never be forgotten."

Memorial services are scheduled today at 2 p.m. (8 p.m. EDT) at the Kipahulu church, nestled in a grove of trees 11 miles south of Hana.

It took Lindbergh 3 1/2 hours to wing his way to aviation immortality in "The Spirit of St. Louis."

and Rotan rancher T. L. Baker was shot to death in front of his house. The body was found next to that of his dog.

Ironically, dogs caused the convicts' downfall shortly before midnight.

As the escapees approached the house of Cobb Butler near a farm road at 11:05 p.m., the barking dogs alerted three policemen from Mineral Wells and one from Eastland who were in a car a short distance away. They were among the area officers who had joined state police in building a blockade around a five square-mile area in the Central Texas county of Erath.

Dogs Start Barking

Officer Richard Trail said, "The dogs started barking and we saw the three suspects run from behind the house. One of the officers threw his spotlight on the suspects, and the suspects were advised to halt. Instead they broke and ran, and we started shooting."

Trail was with Jim Ellmore, Freddie McDonald and Larry Brandenburg of Mineral Wells, just north of here in Palo Pinto County.

No Return Fire

Ellmore said he did not think the convicts returned the fire, although they were armed with rifles and had ammunition in their pockets.

Trail said the convicts ran toward a line of bushes and Mangum dropped dead. Moments later Ullmer and Williams came out of the brush with their hands up.

"They didn't say a word," Trail said. "They just surrendered."

McDonald said, "We were told they would try to get into town or break the perimeter tonight. The dogs were the tip-off."

Dist. Atty. Bob Glasgow said the two surviving convicts would be charged with the murder of Mrs. Ott.

She was killed Saturday evening when the three convicts broke into her home and also wounded her husband. She had testified against Ullmer, who had been charged with burglary.

Ullmer was in prison under conviction of murdering a man near the Colorado-Wyoming border. He was serving a life sentence.

Williams was convicted earlier this year in a Jan. 18 robbery of a surplus store in Fort Collins, Colo. Earlier he had been charged with burglarizing the Baker home and stealing several guns. He was serving a sentence of 40 to 60 years.

ling the Ott home last January.

Mangum had been sentenced to three to five years for auto theft.

Saturday night, after abandoning their last stolen vehicle, they failed in an attempt to get another car and were chased on foot into this area of rolling hills, timber and brush and small farming communities.

State police and county officers led by Texas Rangers sealed off the area, evacuated about 15 homes and slowly tightened the noose.

FLOODED ODESSA STREET—This is a typical street scene brought on by heavy downpours at Odessa late Monday. Up to five inches of rain fell within a two-hour period in the city. City officials said although there was heavy street flooding, damage to property was minor.

Remnants of a tropical depression that showed ashore from the Gulf of Mexico the day before, moved southward into the Plains region, centered near Lake Texoma by early morning, continuing to set off scattered rain and occasional thundershowers in the north central part of the state and through the Red River Valley.

There also were a few showers near the Upper Texas Coast.

Partly cloudy and warm weather was predicted throughout the state, and scattered thundershowers were expected to develop in most sections again by late in the day.

Early morning temperatures dipped to 58 degrees at Marfa in the West Texas mountains and 63 at Dalhart in the Panhandle, while it was 82 at the same hour at Galveston on the coast. Monday afternoon's top marks went as high as 96 at McAllen in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, according to The Associated Press.

Two Suits Attack Gas Rate Increase Granted Lo-Vaca

AUSTIN (AP) — Two Gulf Coast chemical firms filed suit in state district court Monday, questioning a Texas Railroad Commission order giving Lo-Vaca Gathering Co. an interim natural gas rate increase.

Plaintiffs in the suit, filed in Sord District Court, were Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. and Houston Chemical Co.

Also named a defendant was Union Texas Petroleum, a division of Allied Chemical Corp.

The suit alleges that Union Texas contracted to provide natural gas to the Firestone plant at Orange and the Houston Chemical plant in Beaumont. Union Texas purchases some of its gas from Lo-Vaca and has billed the two Gulf Coast chemical companies for the interim rate increase granted Lo-Vaca last September.

Houston Chemical was charged an additional $206,306 from Sept. 27, 1973, through April of this year and Firestone an additional $292,210.

Firestone and Houston Chemical said they are not parties to the Lo-Vaca rate case and the higher rates violate their constitutional rights.

Saxbe spoke on the opening day of a two-day session of police chiefs from 31 metropolitan areas. The group, known as the Major Cities Chief Administrators' Conference, was convened at the request of FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley.

Alarmed by the crime rate increase, Saxbe and Kelley quickly arranged the session after the attorney general abandoned his preliminary plan for a much larger conference in Washington.

Known Hotel Fire Deaths Total 11

BERKELEY SPRINGS, W.Va. (AP) — Rescue workers have found two more bodies in the fire-blackened rubble of the Washington House Hotel, bringing the known death toll to 11.

Officials believe 13 persons died in the blaze which destroyed the hotel and four other buildings in the block early Sunday.

State police said Monday that officials still had not determined the cause of the blaze. They believe it began in the restaurant area and then spread.

Damage to the 120-room hotel and other buildings was estimated at $1 million, said J. Richard Hawvermale, Morgan County planner.

Officials said tentative identifications had been made of the recovered bodies, based on preliminary examinations and the hotel's register, but they declined to release any names.

Ford Gets Invitation To Visit In Romania

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford today was invited to visit Romania and he indicated his willingness to accept.

The invitation was extended to Ford in a personal visit to the White House by Vasile Pungan, counselor to Romanian President Nicolae Ceausescu.

Former President Nixon made an official visit to Romania in 1969.

Ford began his day with a prayer meeting at the White House where 34 guests heard Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa, the guest speaker.

Ford also turns his attention to planning for the economic summit meeting now set for Sept. 27-28 here.

Ford said on Monday he wants the conference of the best brains in the country from all segments of the economy to consider "new and realistic" anti-inflation measures.

The President wants to find "the best way to go," said the executive director of the conference, William L. Seidman, a Grand Rapids, Mich., accountant and friend of the President.

Some 600 to 700 delegates are expected to be invited to participate.

Lindbergh Dies Of Cancer; Rites Held In Hawaii

fame and fortune. But awaiting him also was great personal tragedy and dark political denunciation and innuendo.

Charles Augustus Lindbergh was born in Detroit, Mich., Feb. 4, 1902. He grew up in Little Falls, Minn., where his father was a five-term congressman.

Young Lindbergh took mechanical engineering at the University of Wisconsin. But he left in less than two years to enroll in a Lincoln, Neb., flying school.

Lindbergh was lured into his great adventure by a $25,000 Orteig prize for the first transatlantic nonstop flight from New York to Paris. Others before him had flown across the Atlantic, though never alone.

With the backing of a St. Louis group, Lindbergh supervised construction of a Ryan airplane, and in the misty, drizzling dawn of May 20, 1927, he took off from Long Island's Roosevelt Field in "The Spirit of St. Louis."

At Le Bourget airport in Paris, 25,000 wildly enthusiastic Frenchmen mobbed Lindbergh's plane as it landed. Showered with medals and honors, "Lucky Lindy" came home to adulation. To promote aviation, he toured 75 cities in what turned out to be one long triumphal parade.

Later, as a goodwill ambassador to Latin America, Lindbergh met Anne Spencer Morrow, daughter of U.S. ambassador to Mexico, Dwight Morrow. They were married on May 27, 1929.

Seeking a measure of solitude, the Lindberghs took asylum in a home built in a secluded section of New Jersey near the village of Hopewell. It was here that tragedy sought out the couple.

On March 1, 1932, their first-born, 19-month-old Charles A.

Lindbergh, Jr., was kidnapped from his second floor crib.

Lindbergh paid a $50,000 ransom. But the baby was already dead, its skull shattered. A truck driver came across the body in a shallow grave less than five miles from the Lindbergh home on May 12, 1932.

Bruno Richard Hauptmann, a carpenter, was convicted of the abduction in a six-week kidnapping trial and was electrocuted on April 3, 1936.

Lindbergh and his wife fled to England and self-imposed exile. With them they took their second son, Jon, born after his brother's tragic death.

Lindbergh returned in 1939, with America edging closer to the European crisis that led to World War II. He campaigned against U.S. entry, called for a negotiated peace with Nazi Germany and argued that modern airpower precluded any successful U.S. intervention.

Critics demanded that Lindbergh return the Order of the German Eagle, awarded him by Nazi air leader Hermann Goering.

Eventually, President Franklin D. Roosevelt indirectly questioned Lindbergh's patriotism — denounced him as an appeaser and ranked him with skeptics who urged George Washington to quit at Valley Forge and Northerners who wanted to make peace with the South before the Civil War.

Lindbergh's reserve commission was restored after the war and he was promoted to brigadier general.

He and his wife, in continued pursuit of privacy, withdrew to Darien, Conn. He held technical posts with Transcontinental and Western Air Transport, later TWA, and Pan American World Airways.

Mrs. Lindbergh was widely published as a writer of poetry and prose, and her husband won the Pulitzer Prize for autobiography in 1954 for "The Spirit of St. Louis."

History-Making Flight Requires 33 1/2 Hours

By HENRIETTA LEITH
NEW YORK (AP) — He was "The Lone Eagle," "Lucky Lindy," possibly the American people's one true hero of the 20th century. But he always said it wasn't luck or heroism, just good planning and a good plane.

Charles A. Lindbergh's historic flight was born in 1926 when an aviation enthusiast named Raymond Orteig offered a $25,000 prize for the first non-stop New York-to-Paris flight.

Lindbergh was flying the mail from St. Louis to Chicago at the time. With financial backing from St. Louis businessmen, he had a plane built to his specifications by a San Diego company and christened it "The Spirit of St. Louis."

The contest didn't call for a solo flight, but Lindbergh decided to go it alone in his little monoplane, and history was in the making.

When Lindbergh climbed into his plane early on the morning of May 20, 1927, he had been waiting nine days for the weather to clear. It was still raining and there was mud on the runway at Long Island's Roosevelt Field, but the gray skies over the Atlantic were starting to lighten.

Later he was to write in his book, "The Spirit of St. Louis," how he felt during the takeoff in the heavily-loaded plane.

"I buckle my safety belt, pull goggles down over my eyes, turn to the men at the wheel blocks and nod... the wheels are free... now in seconds we will have the answer... will I get off? The wrong decisions means a crash, probably in flames."

"I pull the stick back firmly and—the wheels leave the ground." It was 7:52 a.m. as the little plane became airborne, but it settled back onto the runway twice before it finally rose, skimming just 20 feet above telephone lines and out over the ocean.

"Now I have to make it—there's no alternative," Lindbergh recalled, telling himself as he faced 3,610 miles of the Atlantic alone in the tiny single-engine craft. All he carried with him were five sandwiches and a canteen of water.

"I'm alone at last," he wrote later, "over the first short stretch of sea on the route to France... here thickens behind me... there's not a boat in sight. I'm the center point in a circle... gray haze over the other until I can't tell where the sea ends and the sky begins."

Later, he wrote, he saw a fleet of fishing boats, flew down until he almost touched one of the vessels "and yelled at them, asking if I was on the right road."

"They just stared. Maybe they didn't hear me. Maybe I didn't hear them. Or maybe they thought I was just a crazy fool," Lindbergh recalled that when he first sighted land, he wasn't sure that it wasn't a cloud on the horizon or a strip of fog.

"I stared at it intently," he wrote, "not daring to believe my eyes, keeping hope in check to avoid another disappointment..."

"The temptation is too great. I can't hold my course any longer. The Spirit of St. Louis banks over toward the nearest point of land..."

"I'm still flying at 4,000 feet when I see it, that scarcely perceptible glow... Paris is rising over the edge of the earth!"

It was 10:21 p.m. Paris time when Lindbergh touched down at Le Bourget field. The first non-stop solo flight over the Atlantic, and the first nonstop flight from New York to Paris, had taken 33 1/2 hours.

As he landed, Lindbergh got his first hero's welcome from a wild crowd of 25,000 Frenchmen.

As they mobbed his plane, turning the obscure mail pilot into a worldwide hero, Lindbergh later recalled saying to himself in characteristically terse fashion: "Well, I made it."

Retired AP Editor Recalls Kidnap Case

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Retired G. Blackman, former General News Editor of The Associated Press, covered the Lindbergh kidnap case when he was an AP reporter. Blackman, now retired, tells the story of that tragedy.)

By SAMUEL G. BLACKMAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Forty-two years have passed since Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's son, 19-month-old Charles Jr., was kidnaped from the Lindbergh's Sourdland Mountain home in Hopewell, N.J.

Bruno Richard Hauptmann, a 36-year-old Bronx carpenter, died in New Jersey's electric chair for the child's murder. But the then-governor, the late Harold G. Hoffman, stirred wide controversy by expressing doubt even on the eve of the execution and many years later that Hauptmann committed the crime — or could have done it alone.

I covered the kidnaping that blustery night of March 1, 1932, and the execution of Hauptmann the night of April 3, 1936. The case against him was largely one of circumstantial evidence and Hauptmann continued to insist he was innocent. In the intervening years there never has been a shred of evidence to alter the verdict that Hauptmann acted alone.

The baby, first son of the famous flier and the former Anne Morrow, had been tucked early in the evening into his crib because he was suffering from a cold. Several hours later, nursemaid Betty Gow visited the nursery on the second floor and found the baby missing.

Searches in Vain

Lindbergh, reading in the downstairs library, searched the nursery in vain.

"Anne, they have stolen our baby," he testified later that he told his wife.

He notified the state police, took a rifle from a closet and began a search of the estate.

He was accompanied by three state troopers when I came across him.

"I'm Col. Lindbergh," he said, introducing himself. "I can't say anything now."

Blinking Lights

With flashlights blinking, he and two troopers continued the search. One stayed behind and related what was then known — Miss Gow had found the crib empty, and a $50,000 ransom note, a wooden ladder and a chisel had been found.

Much of the case against Hauptmann turned on this ransom note and on later ones and on the ladder. The original note, crudely and ungrammatically written, demanded "25,000 in 20$ bills 15,000 in 10$ bills and 10,000 in 5$ bills." The note said: "After 24 days we will inform you where to deliver the money."

The "signature" on the note, and promised on future ones, was two interlocking circles with three square holes.

Dr. John F. Condon, a Bronx schoolteacher, was named intermediary and became famous as "Jafsie" (from his initials J.F.C.).

On the night of April 2, 1932, Condon paid the $50,000 to a man who from a hedge in a Bronx cemetery yelled, "Hey, doctor, over here." In return Condon got a note which said, "The boy is on the Boad Nelly — you will find the Boad (cq) between Horseneck Beach and Gay Head near Elizabeth Island." — presumably the waters off Martha's Vineyard, Mass.

Money Explained

Hauptmann's explanation was that the money had been given him in a shoe box by a friend and business partner, Isidor Fisch, when Fisch left for Germany. He died there before Hauptmann was arrested.

Land, Sea, Air

Lindbergh searched there and in many other places in vain. For two months by land, sea and air he pursued flimsy clues and phantom ships and then learned when he returned May 12 from a search off the Virginia Capes that the child's body had been found in a shallow grave five miles from the Lindbergh home.

The ransom money led to Hauptmann's arrest. The government had distributed 250,000 circulars giving the serial numbers of the notes — $35,000 in gold certificates, $15,000 in other paper currency.

No More Notes

"No sir," Wilson replied. He conceded that all the ransom gold notes were never detected, saying that "several billions" of dollars worth of gold certificates had been exchanged and it had been impossible to detect every one.

Wilson could not be reached Monday, but he has told me in many interviews that nothing has ever been developed to change any of the testimony.

In an interview on the 40th anniversary of the kidnaping he said: "Not one thing that I know of has developed since the trial that could cast doubt on the positive proof that the defendant wrote the ransom notes; nothing has developed to disprove that he hid the ransom money in his garage or that lumber from his attic was used in the construction of the ladder."

Board Identified

Koehler said a ladder rail had once been part of a floor board in the attic. Koehler said he laid the board on a joist in the attic and found the nail holes in the board matched those in the joist.

Koehler said that knives with plane lumber at a mill often leave tell-tale markings on the wood. He said he detected a tiny groove which he knew had been made by a knife of a certain type. He spent 18 months checking 1,500 planing mills to trace the origin of the wood.

One with markings spaced like those on the ladder rail led to a South Carolina firm,

Koehler said. He traced 45 carloads of lumber from the mill to 25 firms and in November 1933-10 months before Hauptmann's arrest—found a lumber company in the Bronx which had lumber with markings matching those on the ladder rail. Hauptmann had bought $10 worth of lumber there in 1931.

Sleeping Garment

"Knowing the child was dead... he yanked and ripped that sleeping garment of that child off his body... he didn't need the child... he needed the sleeping garment... some few miles away he scooped up a hastily improvised and shallow grave and put this child in it face downwards."

Condon received the sleeping garment in the mail as proof that he was dealing with the right man.

Hoffman, who had granted Hauptmann one 30-day reprieve the day before he was scheduled to die, said he shared "with hundreds of thousands of our people the doubt as to the value of the evidence that placed him in the Lindbergh nursery on the night of the crime... I do doubt that this crime could have been committed by one man..."

Hauptmann's appeal from the death sentence was carried to New Jersey's highest court which said: "Our conclusion is that the verdict is not only not contrary to the evidence but one to which the evidence inescapably led."

President, Howard Hughes Among First To Pay Tributes To Charles Lindbergh

By The Associated Press
President Ford says Charles A. Lindbergh "represented all that was best in our country — honesty, courage and the will to greatness."

In scores of tributes, Lindbergh was hailed as a hero and citizen of the world whose death Monday at the age of 72 marked the end of an era in aviation.

Financier Howard Hughes, an early aviation figure, in a telegram to Mrs. Lindbergh, called Lindbergh "a pioneer in the conquest of the impossible."

"May the knowledge of his contributions sustain and comfort you," Hughes said. "The courage and example of your lives, together with the accomplishment and vision which marked his career, have been a source of encouragement and hope to all of us."

John Glenn, the first American astronaut to orbit the earth, said Lindbergh's life "exemplified the great American pioneering spirit and has set this nation apart."

He said Lindbergh's completion of the first solo transatlantic flight in 1927 was "the catalyst that set in motion the massive system of intercontinental air travel we accept as commonplace today."

Donald W. Douglas, founder of Douglas Aircraft, now McDonnell Douglas, said Lindbergh's historic Atlantic flight "was perhaps the greatest single event in fostering public confidence in aviation in the early days."

praised Lindbergh as "one of America's all-time heroes" whose place in history was assured after his solo flight.

"In later years, his life was darkened by tragedy and colored by political controversy. But in both public and private life, Gen. Lindbergh always remained a brave, sincere patriot... The courage and daring of his feat will never be forgotten," said Ford.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., suggested that the National Air and Space Museum now under construction in Washington be named in Lindbergh's honor.

Others remembered Lindbergh as a publicity-shy hero who worked until the last days of his life for aviation and the environment.

Lindbergh "epitomized the little"

of his many achievements."

Radio commentator Lowell Thomas, a longtime friend, rated Lindbergh "one of the three real heroes of our time — the others being Capt. 'Eddie' Rickenbacker and Jimmy Doo-

Miss Cullen, Roy A. Miller Wed In Houston Church

HOUSTON — Teri Lynn Cullen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Cullen of Houston, formerly of Midland, recently became the bride of Roy Allen Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ethridge of Fort Worth.

The Rev. D. L. Burke officiated for the double ring ceremony in Spring Woods Baptist Church. Annie McGee was the organist and Robin McGee was soloist.

Linda Harris was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Joy Cullen of Houston, sister of the bride, and Becky Ricks of Odessa, cousin of the bride. The best man was Mr. Ethridge, stepfather of the bridegroom. Bobby Nelmiets of San Marcos and Henry Taylor of Temple ushered the guests. Earl Post of San Antonio and Steve Cullen, brother of the bride, were the groomsmen.

Mrs. Roy A. Miller

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown fashioned in ivory organza and re-embroidered Alencon lace. The long fitted sheer sleeves had lace-edged flounce ruffles at the wrists. The high collar was decorated with pearls. The be-ribboned Empire waistline was above an A-line skirt which swept into a chapel train. Her elbow-length veil of ivory illusion was attached to the Juliet headpiece. She carried a cluster of daisies, blue carnations and baby's breath.

The reception was held in the home of the bride's parents.

After a trip to San Antonio and Mexico, the newlyweds will reside at 2904 Barton St., Apartment 204, in Austin.

The bride attended Southwest Texas State University, where her husband is a student.

AT RECEPTION—Mrs. Larry Laman, Pauline McWilliams, Mrs. W. B. Stanley and Mrs. G. C. Broxson, from the left, are shown at a reception held Sunday in Mrs. Broxson's home, 2512 Fannin St., honoring Miss McWilliams, retiring extension agent. The serving table was covered with a white crocheted cloth and was centered with an arrangement of fall flowers. Fall floral arrangements also were used throughout the home. The front door had a basket of yellow and gold chrysanthemums. The reception was given by the Midland County Home Demonstration Clubs.

PARISH PICNIC—The Rev. and Mrs. James L. Considine Jr., at left, were honored on their 10th anniversary with St. Nicholas' Episcopal Church with a parish picnic Sunday in Wadley-Barron Park. They are shown with Mr. and Mrs. Jack L. Hitt. Hitt is a junior warden of the church.

POLLY'S POINTERS

There Must Be Way To Save Corsages
By BETTY CANARY
(Newspaper Enterprise Association)

DEAR POLLY — For almost a year I have been trying to find a way to preserve carnations and corsages from school proms. I hope someone will tell me a couple of good ways to do this. I want to keep them in a scrapbook and have them look half-way decent. — CINDY.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with those people who call on the phone at regular meal times and just keep on talking and talking even though you tell them you are busy with a meal. Of course, an emergency is excusable. Telephone sales people so often select such times to make their calls. I think this is bad timing. — BILLIE.

DEAR POLLY — I well understand Mary B.'s worry about flags that fray. I do not think people who are really patriotic want to fly faded or frayed flags. Before using a new flag turn in an extra hem at the end and stitch in on the machine several times. When that frays makes another small hem. Extra stitching added at the top and bottom also helps. — H.C.D.

DEAR POLLY — I hope my Pointer will help Mary B. who has trouble with flags becoming frayed along the outer edge. Before flying a new flag cut white nylon net in a strip about two inches wide and slightly longer than the end of the flag. Fold the edges of the net to the center as bias tape is folded and place this over the end of the flag, as you would bias tape. Zigzag stitch over it two or three times. The net and the sewing will become invisible and the flag will not wear out nearly as soon. I have seen school flags so treated that stay perfect looking for as long as 10 years. — CAROLINE.

DEAR POLLY — Often you see someone striking a glass jar cap across the edge with the handle of a knife to open the jar. I shudder when I see this. Once when I did it and turned the lid the jar was broken underneath and I cut several fingers very badly. Since then I strike the CENTER of the lid with the knife handle and this works in most cases. If it does not help I take a beer can opener and loosen around the end of the cap. As soon as a bit of air gets under the cap it will open easily. Also one can usually put a jar under hot running water but NEVER strike around the edge of the jar. — ANNE.

DEAR READERS — If you do not mind the jar no longer being air tight use an ice pick to punch a couple of holes in the metal top. Enough air will get in to break the vacuum. — POLLY.

Pre-Nuptial Party Honors Couple

A pre-nuptial party honoring Mary Kay McCullough and Geoffrey L. Barnett was held recently in the ballroom of Midland Country Club.

Host couples were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ford and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Kelly.

The buffet table, covered with yellow satin, was centered with two tiers of natural straw flower baskets filled with yellow roses, white poms, yellow spider mums and baby's breath. Yellow rosebuds were featured in an arrangement placed on the registry table and in corsages presented the bride-elect and the mothers of the honored couple.

Miss McCullough is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. McCullough, 2207 Harvard St., and her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer W. Barnett, 1211 W. Kansas St. The couple will exchange wedding vows Saturday in St. Luke's United Methodist Church.

Early School Aid To Help Avoid Debts

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe has announced a plan that would increase state aid payments to local school districts for September by $73 million through a speedup.

The plan accelerates distribution of school maintenance and operating funds that districts would receive normally in regular payments over the next 10 months.

Briscoe emphasized Monday that the plan will not provide additional funds but only change the distribution schedule of money already appropriated by the legislature. In September the state aid payments will be $154 million instead of $81 million.

The governor explained that the early payments will allow schools to proceed without having to incur short-term debt.

"This, of course, will save the schools the interest costs they would otherwise be forced to pay and will alleviate some of the borrowing problems caused by the present tight money situation," Briscoe said.

Earlier Monday the Legislative Budget Board advised Briscoe that a plan to accelerate funds for teacher salaries and transportation would be legal.

The governor said Monday he will recommend emergency legislation in January to increase state aid to local school districts by $10 per pupil. He also has announced that he will present the legislature a plan next year to restructure the school finance system.

Today In History

By The Associated Press Today is Tuesday, Aug. 27, the 229th day of 1974. There are 138 days left in the year. Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1945, American troops began landing in Japan at the end of World War II. It was the first foreign occupation of that country in modern history. On this date: In 65 B.C., Roman forces under Julius Caesar invaded Britain. In 1776, the British were victorious in the Revolutionary War battle of Long Island. In 1869, the first oil well in the United States was drilled near Titusville, Pa. In 1862, the Italian patriot Giuseppe Garibaldi was seized as he was on his way to capture Rome. In 1928, the Kellogg-Briand pact to outlaw war was signed in Paris. In 1939, Nazi Germany demanded Danzig and the Polish corridor. Ten years ago: Ruling power in South Vietnam was turned over to a triumvirate of three generals. Five years ago: An Israeli commando force penetrated deep into Egyptian territory to stage a mortar attack on a regional military headquarters in the Nile valley of upper Egypt. One year ago: A Colombian airliner crashed minutes after taking off from Bogota, killing all 41 persons aboard. Today's birthdays: U.S. Rep. Samuel Stratton of New York is 58. Economist Walter Heller is 59. Thought for today: Save a boyfriend for a rainy day and another in case it doesn't rain—Mae West.

Judge Puts Psychiatrist Behind Bars

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston psychiatrist was in jail today after refusing to testify in a juvenile case. "I suppose if I spent two years in uniform to protect the constitution," said Dr. Gary Jefferson Byrd, "I guess I can spend a few days in jail to protect it." Juvenile Judge W. H. Miller ordered Byrd, a former Air Force major and a member of the staff at Baylor College of Medicine, to jail Monday until he decides to testify. Byrd said he could not testify because he was not being paid for his testimony. He said he left a full schedule of patients to testify. Miller was conducting a hearing on a case involving a 16-year-old girl accused of aggravated robbery. Byrd had examined the girl at the request of her court-appointed lawyer. He was called to testify about the girl's mental condition. Claims Rights Violated Byrd contended his rights under the 13th and 14th Amendments to the U.S. Constitution were being violated. The 13th makes slavery and involuntary servitude illegal and the 14th enjoins the state from depriving any citizen of life, liberty or property without due process of law. The psychiatrist said his being required to testify would amount to his being pressed into service of the state. Serving as an expert witness, he said, is part of a doctor's job and he usually gets paid for it. He insisted his stand was "one of principle" and that "a few bucks is not the issue." After ordering Byrd to jail, Miller recessed the hearing. Henley Defense To Cost Harris County $22,878 HOUSTON (AP) — Harris County Auditor S. Grady Fullerton has sent county commissioners a $22,878 bill for the legal defense of Elmer Wayne Henley in the Houston mass murders case. Henley, 16, was convicted last month at San Antonio. He is defended at county expense by three court-appointed lawyers. The breakdown on the bill submitted Monday by Fullerton is $7,000 each for Houston lawyers Ed Fergelov and Will Gray, $6,000 for San Antonio lawyer Rudy Esquivel and $3,878 for private investigator Sammy Miller. Commissioners will take up the legal fees in the Henley case Thursday when they discuss their supplemental budget.

NEW YORK (NEA) — "Uncle Ziggy! Uncle Ziggy! Where are you?" "Nyet! Nyet! You'll never take me alive. You can torture and bribe and threaten and ask me, you'll never get any military secrets out of me, you dirty Communist."

Dear Editor: I saw where a big tv deplorative recently dwelt on the sad plight of union bricklayers in some places out of work.

It is likely that someone knows who did this act of vandalism... and it is that person's responsibility to notify the authorities as to the identity of the culprits.

A recent Reporter-Telegram editorial, "Vandalism Cases Solved," lauded the Midland Police Department for its efficient work in solving criminal mischief (vandalism) cases and gaining restitution for damages.

"This sort of malicious mischief must be stopped. The acts are despicable, to say the least. This is worse than plain robbery or thievery. Those involved will eventually be caught. A jail sentence or a fine are both too light as forms of punishment.

"Why not this?" We are perfectly agreeable to such a sentence... but first, let's help the police in apprehending the vandals!

NO REQUEST FOR WITHDRAWAL MADE YET— Waldheim Indicates Turkey Will Allow U.N. Troops To Remain On Its Section Of Cyprus

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim indicated today that Turkey would allow U.N. troops to remain on its section of Cyprus. Waldheim said he had discussed the problem with the Turkish government and they have not requested him to withdraw U.N. troops from Turkish-held areas. Senior U.N. officers in Nicosia complained last week they were under mounting pressure to pull out of northern Cyprus. They said Turkish troops were driving U.N. troops out of their positions, often under threat of force, and were blocking U.N. convoys with food and medicine for Greek Cypriots marooned in the Turkish zone.

The secretary-general's second visit to the Greek leaders completed his fact-finding tour of the capitals of Greece, Turkey and Cyprus. He was flying back to New York via London to discuss his findings with the British, who with the Greeks and Turks are the guarantors of the independence of Cyprus under the island's treaty of independence. Waldheim said he had found "there is a wish with all the governments concerned to reach a negotiated settlement and to avoid hostilities." He described his discussions in Ankara with Premier Bülent Ecevit and Foreign Minister Turgut Güneş as "careful and fruitful."

Colorado State Prison Guards Fired

CANON CITY, Colo. (AP) — State prison Warden Alex Wilson has fired two guards who were on duty the night three inmates escaped and began a spree of violence through New Mexico and Texas.

Prison officials said the three apparently slipped away from guards during an exercise period Thursday, hid in a blacksmith shop until nightfall and then fled. Their escape was not discovered until eight hours later. Guards apparently had been fooled all night by pillow and bedclothes lumped to resemble bodies in their beds. Sources said there have been 299 escapes from the prison system since 1970 and 18 remain at large.

Students enrolled in science courses at Midland College (MC) may schedule their lab during the daytime beginning with the fall semester.

The laboratories, which previously had been available only during the evening hours, are offered in biology, physics, chemistry and geology. The college's science department prepares students for admission to dental, medical and pharmacy schools, and offers training in medical technology and nursing.

Cold Front Clashing With Warm, Humid Air Spawns Thunderstorms, Tornadoes

By The Associated Press — A slow-moving cold front clashing with a band of warm, humid air spawned thunderstorms and a few tornadoes as it plodded eastward through the midcontinent today. The strongest weather hit southeastern Wisconsin, where a wind storm late Monday damaged several dwellings and downed power lines and trees. What was believed to be a tornado struck Myauville, about 40 miles northwest of Milwaukee, and just south of Lomira.

By DOUG STONE — MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Rep. Dan Kuykendall said he had a "sad" telephone call from Richard M. Nixon in which the former chief executive was concerned about the nation's possible desire to "pick the carcass."

My friends — even on the liberal side of the Democratic party — don't seem to want any part of this revenge thing," Kuykendall said. Kuykendall had been a strong Nixon supporter through the Watergate scandal and was among the few friends and officials who met with the former President on the evening of Aug. 8 just before Nixon went on national television to announce he would resign the next day.

By DICK BARNES — WASHINGTON (AP) — A double-barreled White House plan to keep income tax returns from prying politicians is running into opposition from Congressional privacy advocates who say it doesn't go far enough.

Confidential data for political purposes, according to evidence uncovered by the Senate Watergate committee and House Judiciary Committee. These disclosures spurred attempts to better protect privacy of tax returns.

SECOND PERSON TO MAKE CLAIM

Parolee Says Carrasco, Dominguez 'Executed'

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A parolee inmate says he saw officers remove the bulletproof helmets of two convicts and shoot them in the head during an escape attempt at the state prison Aug. 3.

The Houston Post quoted Henry Joseph Lewis, 35, Monday as saying he watched the gun battle as he stood in the prison hospital.

Ranger calling out as he searched for Carrasco. The priest said he pointed behind him where he believed Carrasco to have fallen and moments later he heard a shot. He said he did not know if either Carrasco or Dominguez were wounded when he pointed them out for the officers.

"To me it makes no difference," he said. "The time for surrender was over. It was no time for the Marquis of Queensbury rules. You had people shot and it was time for the Rangers to shoot."

Lewis said he disliked his prison treatment but this was not his purpose for telling his account of the shootout.

"Someone is going to tell it sooner or later and I hope to get with other inmates on it," he said.

He said he tried to leave prison with a list of inmates who had seen the shooting but the list was taken away by a guard.

"I didn't need glasses," Lewis said. "I could see everything from the hospital just across the courtyard."

He said prison guards attempted to stop hospital inmates from viewing the shootout and sheets were placed on some of the windows.

Prison records show Lewis entered the prison unit Jan. 13, 1972, and was paroled Aug. 21, 1974.

Ron Taylor, spokesman for the TDC, said the prison "was not going to respond to any of those allegations (from Lewis)."

"Anyone with information pertaining to this should submit it to the proper authorities and we will reply, but we are not going to answer any allegations made like that."

A Walker County grand jury was to resume its probe into the incident Wednesday.

The official death ruling, made by a Walker County justice of the peace on the scene, was that Carrasco and Dominguez committed suicide.

Texas Rangers, who led the assault, said the pair was dead when the makeshift shield was toppled by a ladder.

Convicts Fred Carrasco and Rudolf Dominguez, 27, and two women hostages were killed in the battle, which climaxed an 11-day siege.

Lewis is the second person to state that officers killed Carrasco and Dominguez in "execution style" but a prison chaplain, who was wounded in the shootout, denied the two died in this manner.

An inmate, whose identity has not been disclosed, wrote State Sen. Oscar Matzky of Dallas that he witnessed Texas Rangers kick off the helmets of Carrasco and Dominguez and shoot them in the head.

Lewis, who was sent to prison for violation of parole on a possession of cocaine charge, told of seeing a red-shirted member of the assault force.

"He stood over Carrasco and Dominguez, took their helmets off and fired a shot into Carrasco's and Dominguez' head," Lewis said.

A spokesman for the Texas Department of Corrections said the prison would not respond to any of Lewis' allegations.

The Rev. Joseph O'Brien, a Roman Catholic priest and one of the hostages, said in a recent interview that he cried out for Rangers to shoot the convicts out of fear for his life but that they were not killed "execution style."

O'Brien, who was wounded in the first moments of the shootout, said he fell face down across Dominguez after the convicts' makeshift "Trojan Horse" shield was toppled on the prison library ramp by a stream of water from a fire hose.

The convicts, who had held more than a dozen hostages in the prison library for 11 days, were behind the shield as they walked toward an armored car in the prison courtyard.

"I felt Dominguez' arm moving across my stomach as I lay there," the chaplain said. "I rolled off him, pointed him out and shouted that I thought he was going to shoot me. A Ranger heard me and shot Dominguez from about 20 feet away."

O'Brien said he heard a

Poultry, Pork Production Falls

By DON KENDALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — American families will be able to put more beef on the dinner table next year but not as much chicken and pork because of a changing supply situation, government specialists say.

Spokesmen for Department of Agriculture commodity specialists said consumers can look forward to a glut of grass-fed cattle coming on the market this fall. The total cattle herd has increased by about 7 million head this year.

At the same time, however, poultry and pork production are declining because of rising feed and corn prices. Agriculture specialists predicted the poultry industry will market 10 to 20 per cent fewer broiler chickens in the first half of 1975 than in 1974, while pork production will decline about 5 to 10 per cent in the same period.

Meanwhile, Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz said U.S. food prices will not climb as sharply next year as this year. He predicted that prices in 1975 will go up less than 10 per cent. This year, they are expected to rise at least 15 per cent, the most since right after World War II.

Butz also told a news conference Monday he did not believe a recent claim that there is less than a one-month reserve in world food supplies.

"This frightens people. This simply is not true. We have a food reserve much greater than that," Butz said.

Butz referred to a statement by Lester R. Brown of the Overseas Development Council at a recent population conference in Bucharest, Romania, in which he said the world was almost running out of food and had only a 27-day supply.

Butz said that figure took into consideration only the reserve of grains held by exporting nations, such as the United States, but did not include reserves held by countries that import grain.

"Most of all he completely ignored the tremendous livestock inventory in this country, in Europe, in the whole southern hemisphere," the secretary said.

Butz said that when livestock and grain stockpiles in importing countries are taken into account, the world food supply could last almost 400 days.

The council here said Brown still was in Europe and not available for comment. However, a spokesman confirmed that Brown had used only major grain exporting countries, including the United States, Australia, Argentina and Canada, as sources for his 27-day food claim.

"But the point is that regardless of supplies in food-importing countries, the 27-day reserve is all that there is if any of them want to buy food," the council spokesman said.

Car Buyers Will Pay 14.5 Per Cent More For GM's '75 Vehicles

By OWEN ULLMANN
DETROIT (AP) — Car buyers will be paying up to 14.5 per cent more for a new car from General Motors this fall, including a 10.3 per cent boost in the price of the Chevrolet Impala, the nation's best-selling car.

And according to a 1975 model base price list released Monday, GM's three new sporty subcompacts will list for about $4,000 each.

Of the 176 models in GM's lineup this fall, only two will list for under $3,000. Both are Vegas.

GM's lowest-priced car, the two-door Vega sedan, is going up $295 or 11.8 per cent to $2,799. The most expensive GM car, the Cadillac Fleetwood four-door limousine, will cost $14,570 this fall, up $1,316 or 9.9 per cent.

The base price list gives the manufacturer's suggested retail price for each model, not including options, shipping charges or state and local taxes.

Last week GM said the price increase on its equipped 1975 models would average $416 or 8.2 per cent. That figure included an average $70 rollback from a price increase announced the week before and took into account popular options ordered with each model.

GM said options are going up an average 2.8 per cent in price across the line.

GM, the auto industry's price leader, is the first car maker to disclose 1975 base prices for each model. Its competitors,

Fortifications System Built Across Strip Of Sinai By Egyptian Army

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Egyptian army has built an extensive system of fortifications to shield its strip of Sinai desert from possible Israeli attack, U.S. intelligence sources report.

The Israelis also have put in various barriers, but they appear less elaborate than the Egyptian works, the sources said.

Reports discussing defensive works on both sides in the disputed Sinai came through U.S. intelligence as tensions rose in the Middle East, sparked in part by an Israeli mobilization drill.

Also contributing to the tension was an incident last week in which an Egyptian SA7 anti-aircraft missile was fired at an Israeli F4 phantom jet, U.S. sources said. The Israeli plane evidently was checking on Egyptian army maneuvers. It was not hit, according to reports reaching here.

The Egyptian army was said to have constructed more than 90 fortified strong points along two north-south lines. Inteligence sources said each is made up of a bunker and supporting trenches and is big enough to hold a company of infantry. There was no indication how many of the positions are occupied by troops.

So far, U.S. sources said, the Egyptians have not linked the strong points, which are positioned to cover most likely lanes of attack. Some sit on low hills, giving them wide observation and fields of fire across the desert.

Before the surprise Arab attack last October, the Israelis manned a system of entrenchments and bunkers that ran along the east bank of the Suez Canal. This system, called the Bar Lev line, was intended as a "tripwire" to alert the main Israeli forces rather than to hold out as a major defense in itself.

Egyptian assault troops quickly overran it.

Now, on the other side of the United Nations buffer zone from the Egyptian army, the Israelis reportedly have planted mine fields and dug a series of antitank ditches bounded with rolls of barbed wire.

Portuguese Troops To Leave Independent Nation Oct. 31

ALGIERS (AP) — The first of Portugal's African colonies to get independence becomes the new nation of Guinea-Bissau on Sept. 10 and all Portuguese troops are to be gone by Oct. 31.

According to the independence agreement signed in Algiers Monday, the colonial administration of Portuguese Guinea will be replaced by the rebel government proclaimed last fall by the liberation movement in the West African territory, the African Party for the Independence of Guinea and the Cape Verde Islands.

The rebel government is headed by Aristides Pereira, 50, who succeeded Amilcar Cabral as head of the party after Cabral was assassinated in January 1973. Cabral was founder of the liberation party.

The independence agreement ending four centuries of colonial rule was worked out in negotiations held in London and Algiers since May. It was signed by Foreign Minister Mario Soares of Portugal and Maj. Pedro Pires, the deputy defense minister in the rebel government.

The agreement proclaimed an immediate cease-fire in the guerrilla war that the rebel movement has been waging since 1962.

It said that independent Guinea-Bissau and Portugal will maintain "a relationship of active cooperation — particularly in the economic, financial, cultural and technical fields — on a basis of independence, mutual respect, equality, reciprocity of interest and harmonious relations."

The agreement does not provide independence for the 275,000 people of the Cape Verde Islands, an archipelago in the Atlantic some 450 miles northwest of the Guinea-Bissau coast. But Portugal said it would hold a self-determination referendum on the islands at some future date "in accordance with relevant resolutions of the United Nations."

Dear Abby

—By Abigail van Buren
Daughter Is Retarded And Pregnant

DEAR ABBY: We are just about to lose our minds over this problem and are hoping you can at least tell us where to go to get some help.

Our 14-year-old daughter has always been very developed for her age, but she's slightly retarded mentally. We just found out that she is pregnant. The boy responsible for it is only 15. (He doesn't even shave yet.) The kids say they went all the way only once, but that is awfully hard for us to believe.

Anyway, the boy's father has been very nice about it. (He's divorced and has custody of the boy.) He has agreed to do anything we want, but we don't know what we want yet.

We really don't want to punish the boy because he's not a bad kid. He's never been in any trouble before, and sending him to a penal institution wouldn't help our daughter any.

A forced marriage, if it's possible for kids of their ages, doesn't seem right either.

We've considered an abortion, also letting her carry the child to term and adopting it out, or even keeping it ourselves to raise. We are so confused. Everyone we talk to has a different solution.

Can you help us decide what is right for all concerned?

"honors" he has received. Should I pass their criticism on to my son in the hope that he won't send them this type of letter in the future?

I have already told him that I do not like receiving an impersonal, mimeographed letter.

HIS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You've told your son how you feel. Let the others who share your feelings tell him themselves.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 20-year-old woman who might have a problem.

You see, about six weeks ago there was a 14-year-old boy living in my neighborhood who had a pretty wild crush on me. His folks were fairly bad off, he didn't seem to have any friends and he seemed so blue and downhearted, one day I invited him in for milk and freshly-baked cookies. He was painfully shy at first, but by the end of the visit he was talking up a storm, and when he left, he looked happier than I've ever seen him.

Two days later I received a letter from him. It said all the usual stuff a 14-year-old might say in a "love" letter. I received one nearly every day after that. Also, he would walk by my house fairly often.

A few weeks ago, his family suddenly moved out of town for some unknown reason and his letters stopped coming.

Now, finally, we come to my problem. I miss him dreadfully. It's awfully lonely without him popping up from out of nowhere. Is it abnormal for me to feel this way? I mean, does it seem right for me to be affected this way by a teen-age boy?

LONESOME

DEAR LONESOME: If you actually are entertaining romantic ideas about this lad, yes, it is a bit unusual. But apparently he filled a need in your life, so don't feel guilty about an honest emotion. It's not all that "abnormal."

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: in care of this newspaper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Bengals Unbeaten On Late Rally

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

The undefeated Cincinnati Bengals have always been ahead after the game was over this pre-season, but rarely while it's been going on. And their coach, Paul Brown, doesn't like what's happening.

"We have nothing to be proud of," Brown said Monday night after a late-game revival carried the Bengals to a 27-14 victory over the Detroit Lions. "If we keep getting behind like this, we're not going to escape with our lives."

Elsewhere in the National Football League, the Atlanta Falcons beat the Houston Oilers 10-6 and the Chicago Bears downed the Baltimore Colts 20-16.

Brown criticized the Bengals for their conditioning, saying "a lot of players are not in shape to go the whole ball game."

But they seem to be able to go a little farther than the opposition, pulling victory from defeat late in all four of their pre-season games, including last week's overtime thriller against Atlanta.

The Bengals flexed their fourth-quarter muscles for 14 points, erasing a 14-13 deficit with 4:24 left in the game on a seven-yard scoring pass from quarterback Ken Anderson to fullback Doug Dressler. Less than 2 1/2 minutes later, defensive back Bernard Jackson raced 52 yards on a fumble recovery to ice the Bengals' 13th straight home victory party.

Brown wasn't the only winning coach who wasn't pleased with just a winning performance.

"When the chips were down, we didn't capitalize on our chances," said Atlanta Coach Norm Van Brocklin after the Falcons outlasted the Oilers on Bob Lee's 17-yard touchdown strike to Louis Neal. "Our execution was bad but it will improve next week."

The inference is that Van Brocklin's troops can expect to do some heavy scrimmaging before next weekend. And they won't be alone.

"Get ready for some more work, men," Houston Coach Sid Gillman informed his players. "That's the only way to do it. We've just had one week together and we have to tie some things together."

Coach Abe Giron came closer to fitting the mold of a coach flushed with the thrill of victory.

"I thought everybody on our team played well. They were really hustling," Giron said after the Bears used a razzle-dazzle play to wipe out the Colts.

A 30-yard pass from tight end Bob Parsons to wide receiver Charley Wade, after Parsons had received a lateral from quarterback Joe Barnes, set up Carl Garrett's one-yard game-winning touchdown, giving the Bears their first pre-season triumph.

CINCY DROPS THREE GAMES BACK—

Sub's Boo-Boo Beats Reds

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

Junior Kennedy was a defensive replacement... sort of.

The young Cincinnati second baseman replaced Dan Driessen in the eighth inning Monday night and promptly made the play — the bad one — that gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 7-6 victory over the Reds.

The Phils loaded the bases on two singles, a sacrifice and an intentional walk, then Dave Cash punched a grounder to Kennedy's left side. The 24-year-old second baseman fielded the ball, appeared to glance toward first base for an instant, then threw home — late and wild.

The ball sailed about 10 feet wide of the plate. Mike Anderson scored the tying run on what was ruled a fielder's choice and a run batted in for Cash. And Del Unser continued home on the throwing error. It proved to be the winning run when the Reds got one back in the ninth.

In other National League games, New York beat Houston 5-4 and Atlanta defeated Montreal 3-2. In the American League, Milwaukee topped Oakland 3-1. Cleveland downed Kansas City 4-1. Minnesota snipped New York 7-6 and Detroit tamed California 6-2.

The loss dropped second-place Cincinnati three games behind Los Angeles in the National League West. Third-place Philadelphia ended a three-game losing streak and pulled within 2 1/2 of first-place Pittsburgh in the East.

Braves 3, Expos 2

Buzz Capra held Montreal scoreless for eight innings and Dusty Baker hit a home run, leading the Braves over Montreal.

Capra struck out eight and allowed only three hits until the ninth, when the Expos broke his shutout bid on singles by Ron Fairly, Mike Jorgensen and Jim Northrup. Max Leon relieved Capra and Jorgensen scored Montreal's second run as Bob Bailey hit into a double play.

Diablos Beat Brewers Again

By The Associated Press

It was a quiet night in the Texas League after rains washed out both games Monday in the East Division.

In the West Division, Amarillo swept a doubleheader with Midland 3-0 and 4-3 and El Paso defeated San Antonio 6-1.

Dan Beerbower singled two runs home for the El Paso Diablos in the third inning. Winning pitcher Frank Panick fanned nine batters while yielding eight San Antonio hits.

Arkansas and Shreveport rained out again Monday night, will meet in a doubleheader tonight. Victoria and Alexandria also meet after being postponed. In other games it's San Antonio at El Paso and Midland at Amarillo.

Murphy combined on a six-hit for Milwaukee. Champion gave up only four hits before leaving after Joe Rudi singled in the seventh inning. Murphy hit Gene Tenace with a pitch and Jesus Alou's single scored Rudi but Dick Green ended the inning by grounding into a double play.

Indians 4, Royals 1

Jim Perry cooled off Kansas City on five hits for his 14th victory, only two fewer than brother Gaylord. Sacrifice flies by Rusty Torres in the third inning and Frank Duffy in the fifth off Paul Splittortl gave Perry the runs he needed.

Twins 7, Yankees 6

Rod Carew's two-run, bases-loaded single capped a three-run sixth inning and the Twins held on to snap New York's five-game winning streak.

Tigers 4, Angels 2

Bill Freehan, Ed Brinkman and Ron LeFlore smashed home runs while Lerrin LaGrone scattered 10 hits, including a homer by Lee Stanton of the loers.

Mets' Rally Stuns Astros

NEW YORK (AP) — For the New York Mets these days, squeezing out a victory can be as difficult as... well, as squeezing home a run.

But they did both Monday night. Felix Millan squeezed home the tying run with a perfect bunt single. Then Rusty Staub singled home one that beat the Houston Astros 5-4.

"The squeeze is something we do more on this club than a lot of other clubs because we're more sure of getting the run home," said winning pitcher Jerry Kosman, 13-8. "So many times, we'll hit into a double play or leave the runner stranded on third if we try any other thing."

"I just thought the squeeze play gave us a good chance, especially with a guy like Millan at the plate," Kosman added. "It's a funny thing. It's a play you never practice except in the spring—and then even then not much. But it's a tough play to defense against."

"A lot of plays are habit. This is one of them. You get more practice executing the play than you get defending against it."

"What the pitcher has to do is try and be able, if he sees the batter turn around, to knock him down. Everybody knows the play is coming but you're never sure unless you see the hitter turn around."

"What made it so beautiful is that Felix never turned around. He just dumped his bat in front of the ball. He got a perfect pitch to him. I'm the biggest believer on this club in the squeeze—and not just because I won tonight."

Trailing 4-2, the Mets began their rally against Mike Cosgrove with a one-out single by pinch hitter Duffy Dyer and a run-scoring double by Ted Martinez, who batted for Kosman. Martinez went to third when shortstop Roger Metzger threw the relay past the plate.

After Bud Harrelson walked, Ken Forsch took over and Millan stunned him with the bunt single that got Martinez home. One out later, Staub lined his game-winning hit over Metzger's head to score Harrelson.

"The Mets took a 1-0 lead in the second on Ron Hodges' fourth home run of the season, snapping a streak of 28 scoreless innings by the Houston pitching staff."

The Astros tied it in the third on a double by Metzger and Lee May's single before the Mets went back in front 2-1 in the bottom of the third.

Amarillo, which would have lost its franchise last winter if things had gone smoothly in an attempt to bring Odessa into the Texas League, probably will see its franchise shifted to Lafayette, La.

The 72,000-population Louisiana city, which has a thickly populated surrounding area which gives it 500,000 to draw from, has made a bid for the Giant franchise.

Jackson, Miss., building a new ball park, has made a bid for a Texas League franchise.

Baseball has been in Amarillo since 1959, except for 1964, and has been affiliated with San Francisco since 1964...

Unless there is some more juggling, Lafayette's entry into the league would prompt a shift of Victoria from the East to the West division...

Among top candidates for National League rookie of the year are former Texas Leaguers Bake McBride (Arkansas), outfielder for St. Louis, and Dave Freiselben (Alexandria), pitcher for San Diego. Their chief opposition comes from Houston's Greg Gross and Montreal catcher Barry Foote...

Remember when college coaches were almost unanimous in predicting it was unfair to freshmen to make them eligible for varsity football in college? At Pitt, upper classmen are in complete agreement as they watch from the bench. Last year Pitt, which had been 1-10 in 1972, went to 6-4-1 with 18 freshmen on the travel squad, led, of course, by All-America back Tony Dorset...

Former Texas Aggie quarterback Edd Hargett was traded by Houston's Oilers to Detroit's Lions and then flunked his physical. He is now a free agent...

Big Spring track Coach Glen Petty, the one time Odessa miler, is now track coach at Abilene Cooper High...

The NFL Players' strike, which worked for the World Football League when it was trying to get a foot hold early in the summer, is now working against the NFL. The longer it lasts, the longer NFL teams hang on to every available player as insurance against a walkout. WFL teams planned to bolster rosters with players rejected by the older circuit.

Walker Wants To Help

Rice Star Knows The Ghetto Life

By DENNE H. FREEMAN

HOUSTON (AP) — Cornelius Walker was talking about the season... All-America teams... pro bonuses... then the topic turned to kids... the underprivileged... the sad life of the ghetto.

"That's really my main reason for living," said the Rice noseguard who is a major in behavioral science and sociology. "I just want to help the underprivileged. I know that sounds stupid in this day and age."

The articulate Walker, considered one of the finest defensive players in the Southwest Conference, explained his concern for society.

"My father was in the Air Force when I was young and I saw some Japanese who were suffering from radiation because of the war," he said. "I saw a deformed 6-year-old boy. It was gross. It made me sick."

Walker said he couldn't do much to help the Japanese but "I decided then that some day I wanted to start a foundation to help the underprivileged in the black ghettos... to try to keep them from a criminal life."

"I want to teach them to get up after life has knocked them down."

Walker, who is from Austin, roams the seedy black sections of Houston, buying a kid ice cream or taking another one to the Astrodome.

"I don't tell them who I am... they probably wouldn't know anyway... they just know I'm a man who wants to help," Walker said softly.

Walker brought 26 children to Rice Stadium to watch the Owl spring scrimmage.

"You should have seen their eyes," Walker recalled. "They had never seen a college football game let alone been in Rice Stadium. It was something, really something."

The desire to help kids is driving Walker in preparation for current season.

WITH U.S. PRO TITLE— Borg Fattens Bankroll

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Bjorn Borg, an 18-year-old Swedish sensation who has vowed to win $1 million before he is 20, banked another $16,000 today as the youngest player ever to win the U.S. pro tennis championship.

Borg, the French and Italian Open champion, added the U.S. pro title by trouncing veteran Tom Okker of The Netherlands, 7-4, 6-1, 6-1 Monday night before a packed crowd of nearly 6,000 at Longwood.

Borg, a true "Golden Boy" with his long blond hair and his Midas touch, flirted with danger en route to the showdown with Okker. In the quarter-finals against Marty Riessen, he survived a match point. Then he did it again in upsetting Jan Kodes in the semifinals.

Running true to form, Borg appeared headed for an early shower against Okker as the Dutchman raced to a 5-2 lead in the first set. Then Borg came alive. He survived five set points before holding his service in the 12th game and then took the tie-breaker 7-3.

Stan Smith and Tom Lutz of the United States defeated Marty Riessen of the U.S. and Bo Pohnmann of West Germany to win the tournament's doubles title, 7-5, 6-4, 6-2.

Climbing Interest Rates Spur Another Mart Loss

NEW YORK (AP) — Spiraling interest rates provided more fuel for the continued decline of the stock market today, analysts said.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was down 10.56 at 677.57. Some analysts were predicting a further decline before any upturn.

Losers outnumbered gainers 600 to 402 among the 1,478 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Federal National Mortgage Association's latest auction of four-month commitments to buy home loans produced a record annual yield of 10.384 per cent, up from the previous high of 10.124 per cent two weeks ago.
