Terrorists Still Holding Nine Hostages In French Embassy

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) — A spokesman in charge of the CAP — Dutch counter-terrorist force — said today that the Red Army Faction (RAF) has no indication that it will release the nine hostages held in the French Embassy in Paris. The spokesman said the French government is not willing to exchange the hostages for money, but that the Dutch government has no intention of paying the lives of these hostages, some of whom are being held in the embassy.

At Least 15 Persons Missing In Nevada Flood

NELSON, Nev. (AP) — At least 15 persons were missing today after raging brown water suddenly gushed through narrow canyons in the Colorado River Saturday and wiped out a small marina. Capt. Ken Campbell of the Las Vegas police said the flash flood washed away about 10 cottages, the boat landing and a small store with a restaurant and bar.

The canyon is in a remote area about 40 miles south of Las Vegas. "I've fished there a lot," Campbell said. "The canyon is Service, the Nevada Highway about three miles long and only about 100 feet wide, and the Department rushed to the scene for rescue operations. There's no place for the water to go but right through."

TerHorst: Working For Haig Demeaning For Ford Aides

WASHINGTON (AP) — Je-raid F. terHorst says aides of President Ford, whom he served for a month as press secretary, find it frustrating and even demeaning to have to work through Nixon administration machinery. He made the comments in a new column copyrighted by the Detroit News and Universal Press Syndicate. The syndicate said terHorst had not been consulted by Ford prior to the pardon decision, and that more than 40 newspapers subscribed to the column in the first 24 hours after it was offered.

(Continued From Page 1A) also presenting brief addresses. Philip Marquez, Eastside Lions president, presented plaques denoting appreciation for community service to representatives of all the local news media. Alfredo Rey, banquet chairman, emceed the event. Roger Robles was co-chairman. Following Saturday's parade, the exhibits building housing booths featuring games and delicious Mexican food were opened to the throngs of Midlanders and visitors from other Permian Basin Empire cities.

Solons Warned Future Hurricane Could Kill 10,000 On Padre Island

HOUSTON (AP) — The director of the Texas Coastal and Marine Council told state legislators Saturday a future major hurricane could kill 10,000 persons on Padre Island because of heavy development and sometimes shoddily built housing on the island. He said private recreational developments on Padre Island are expected to have a population of 200,000 in 20 years. "You get 200,000 people on Padre Island, and not all of them are going to get off in a hurricane," he said. "It might kill 10,000 people."

Death—

Walburg is a community of about 250 persons off the main highways about 20 miles northeast of Georgetown in Central Texas. Banks in small towns are permitted by law to remain open on Saturdays. The slain trooper was 48 years old. He was married and had two daughters, 18 and 19 years old.

Caprock Cooperative Re-Elects Directors

STANTON — Three incumbents were re-elected to the board of directors of Caprock Electric Cooperative at the organization's annual meeting Saturday in the Stanton Football Stadium. Attending were 2,280 persons, according to Chuck Elmore of Stanton, member service director. Edgar Phillips of Big Spring was voted into another term on the board for District 3 over A. G. "Jerry" Rogers, also a Big Spring resident. District 6 re-elected Raymond A. Prybly of Tarzan, incumbent, over Malcolm Tunnell of Lenora. Voted into another term from District 8 was Stanlett Bob Cox, with Johnny Monte Payne as the unsuccessful contender.

Gas Bandit Still Loose

Midland police continued a search late Saturday to apprehend a stolen 1974 model Ford and white pickup truck after the driver of the vehicle tried for the second time in three days to obtain gasoline and then sped away without paying. The police department was first notified of the gasoline bandit Thursday when the operator of a service station located on the Interstate 20 reported the theft of $2 worth of fuel. The tonite Bob Cox, with Johnny Monte Payne as the unsuccessful contender.

Three Men Rob Odessa Lounge

ODESSA — Ector County Sheriff's Department's continued search late Saturday for three men who allegedly robbed and beat the owner and two customers of a west-side Odessa lounge. Bill Anderson, owner of the lounge, suffered cuts and bruises along with two other customers when three Mexican-American males who had been playing pool attacked them with pool cues.

School Cornerstone Laid At Andrews

inviting the Mexican Americans to the Midland Rodeo Arena for another round of friendly competition, beginning at 1 p.m. Saturday's activity included a dance that began at 9 p.m. and was expected to continue past midnight. Competition in the 16th of September Golf Tournament will get under way at 9 a.m. today at Hogan Park. It is being sponsored by the Chicano Golf Association.

The fiesta grounds will open at 1 p.m. and George Veloz, the fiesta's general chairman, invites all of Midland and West Texas to take part in the celebration. A baseball game, featuring the Midland Colts against another team, will begin at 2:30 p.m. At 5 p.m. today several activities, including a talent show and the making of various awards, will get under way in the exhibits building.

At 9 p.m. a dance, La Palomia, will be presented. It will be followed by El Grito De La Independencia at 10:45 p.m. Various chairmen, other than those already mentioned, include Bruce Stores, Manuel Carrasco, Oscar Rivera, John Rendon, Ciro Sanchez, Roland Milner, Manuel Reyes, Felipe Bustamante, Mario Torres, Marie Hernandez and George Matta.

Ethiopia—

SPIRIT OF MEXICO — Mamele Sisa of Odessa rides his silver-becked steed in Saturday's parade which opened a round of festivities Saturday in Midland's 3rd Annual 16th of September Fiesta which ends today at the Midland County Exhibits Building.

OPEC Countries Warn Oil Companies

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Major oil exporting countries agreed Saturday that Western and Japanese companies who don't buy the oil they order "might have trouble buying oil in the future," informed sources said. The companies were not named. Last spring many small oil concerns rushed to buy oil for delivery this autumn at almost any price because of shortages caused by the Arab oil embargo.

Two Are Arrested In Odessa Burglary

ODESSA — Two Odessa men were arrested Friday night outside the St. John's Episcopal Church here and charged in connection with the burglary of the church. Odessa police said Joe Lee Hall, 22, and Charles Douglas Burrows, 37, were caught outside the building. Bonds of $5,000 each were set. Police said taken in the burglary were 2 1/2 boxes of cookies.

Ringing The Bell

By BOB TIEUEL

The Black Experience: A number of blacks, sometimes labeled as nationalists, Africanists or separatists, seem to take the position that no matter what individual blacks achieve here, blacks in the United States always will be a weak minority whose status and fate will forever hinge on the whims and caprices of the dominant white majority. They argue that we live in a racist society and it is utter folly to feel that this racism will vanish.

At the other end of the spectrum are the traditional integrationists who believe, says Louis Martin of the Chicago Black Defender, that the American democratic dream of a society wherein all men regardless of race, creed or color could be fully free can become a reality. They hold that our "noble experiment" in democracy is the last best hope of mankind in a multiracial world which is getting smaller all the time. They hold that racism within our society or within the family of nations or wherever it is found always and inevitably leads to strife and violence and war.

Point Made

Martin says that this is perhaps an oversimplification of the divisions in black thought, but it may serve to make a point which is too often overlooked.

"Whatever our thoughts on the black future or whatever our philosophy, I believe that when any black man opens a new door and overturns a tradition that has penalized us, all blacks in our society are affected and benefited. In other words, the interests of black nationalists and integrationists may be both served by such achievements to some degree," believes Martin.

Blacks in America who are moving forward, winning new influence and power, represent the best hope we have no matter how we read the future here or in Africa, he concludes.

"The Energy Crunch: Black Manufacturer, Black Contractor and Black Business Community," "Black Business: Manager Development versus Technical Assistance," and the "Salute to the Black Press" are some of the 24 workshops and seminars that will mark the 1974 annual convention of the National Business League in Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 23-26.

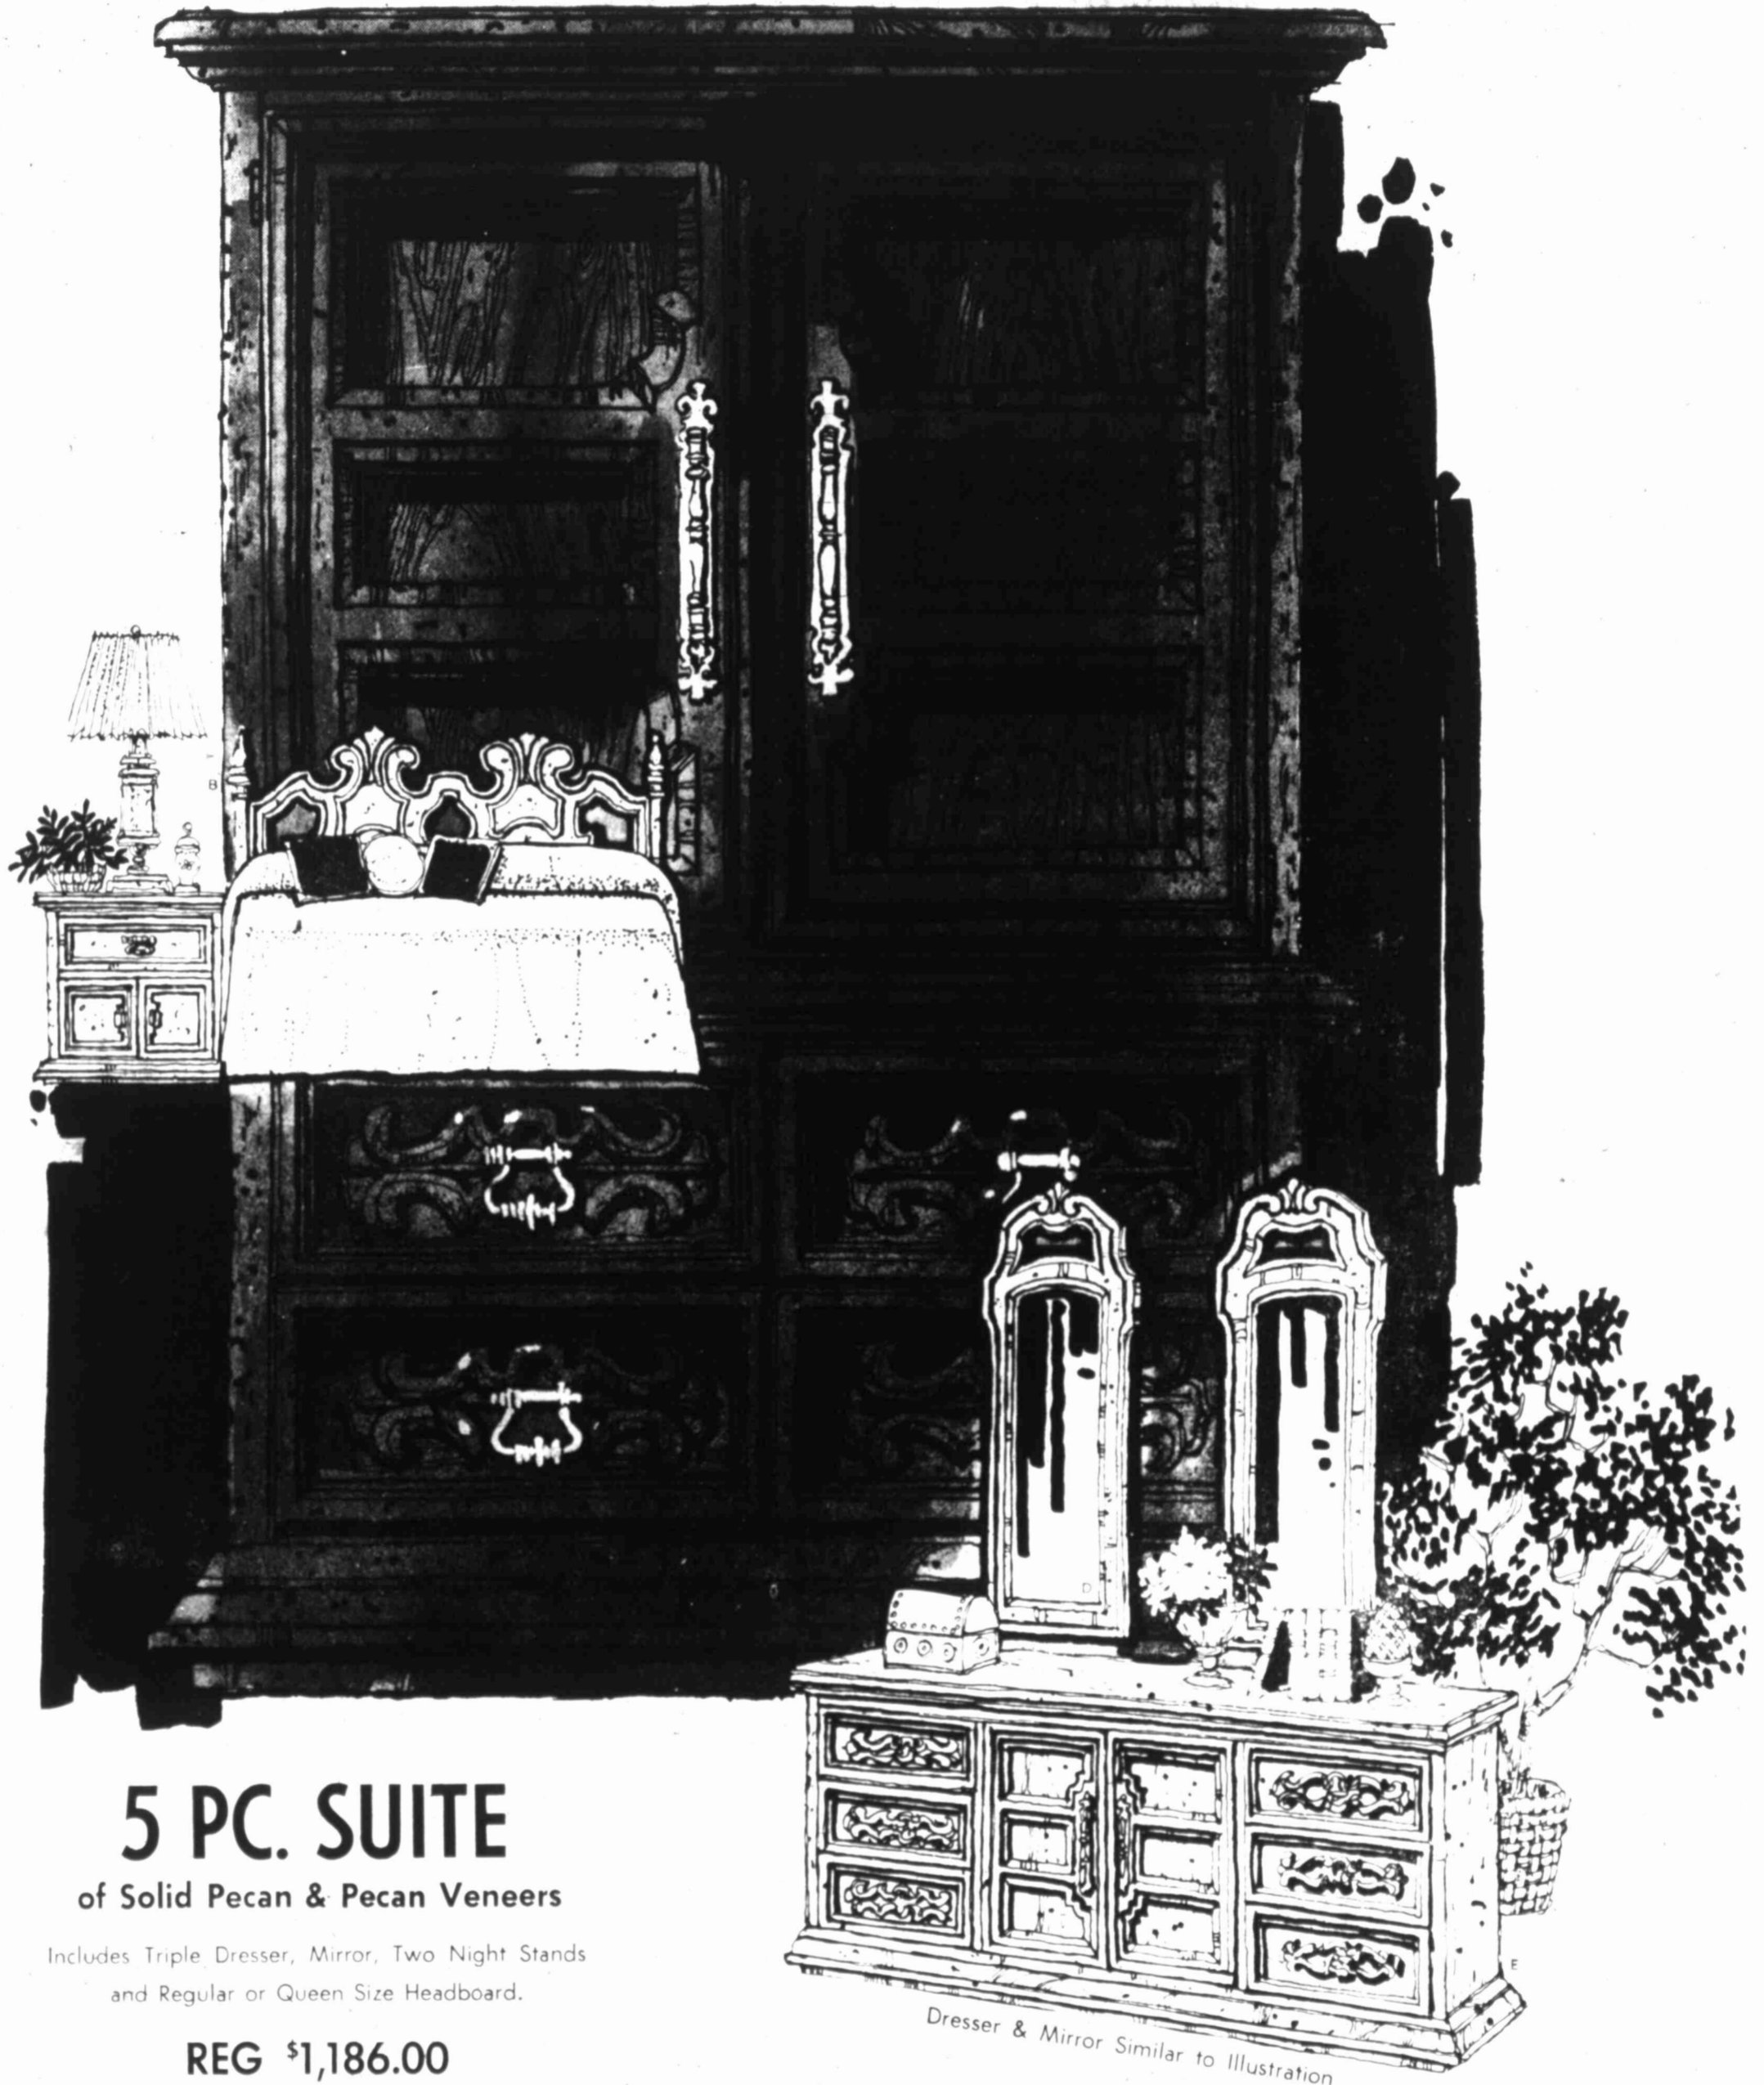

"We certainly do not excuse Rockefeller's actions at Attica nor are we explaining it away. What we do suggest is that in spite of his Attica folly, there is not a better man on the political horizon than Rockefeller for the vice presidency."

On the vice presidency. If what we now want is national reconciliation, race hate cannot be attributed to him in any shape, form or fashion. (From the black-oriented Oklahoma Eagle)

Great Quotes: "It is true that a person who limits his knowledge of world and national affairs to one daily newspaper, one television commentator, may not get the complete picture. He cannot buy one paper or one magazine, listen to one channel or frequency, and find a one-a-day all purpose political vitamin pill that will give him a daily pre-digested, perfectly balanced diet of political information."

To Mrs. D. N. of Midland. In July of 1972, it was revealed that the African Methodist Episcopal Church needed at least $500,000 to clear it of indebtedness. Joseph C. McKinney, treasurer continues: "realizing that it is impossible to borrow oneself out of debt, the church decided it would raise the funds." Thus "Operation Outreach," a purely volunteer operation.

Tech To Honor 4 'Distinguished Alumni' At Dinner

LUBBOCK — A college president, a university dean, a Texas Supreme Court associate justice and the executive director of the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers will be recognized as "distinguished alumni" of Texas Tech University Wednesday.

Recipients of the honors at the 8th Annual Distinguished Alumni Dinner will be Dr. William M. Pearce Jr., president of Texas Wesleyan College and former Tech executive vice president; Dr. John R. Bradford, dean of the College of Engineering at Tech; Associate Justice James G. Denton of the Supreme Court of Texas, and Joe B. Alford of New York City, executive director of the AIME.

KICKOFF BANQUET — Marking the official opening of the Sixteenth of September celebration at Friday evening's banquet were, from left, City Councilman Jim Kent; Araceli Otero of Del Rio, representative of the Mexican Consulate, and Midland State Sen. Pete Snelson. The trio spoke to the crowd attending the opening night festivities.

Air Operations, Boardings Increase

Aircraft operations from Midland Regional Air Terminal for the first eight months of 1974 are up over the same 1973 period, according to Col. Wilson H. Banks, director of aviation for the City of Midland.

Banks said the operations through August totaled 80,614 compared to the 75,741 for the same 1973 period — showing an increase of 4,873.

Banks said that August operations this year were 10,152, a decrease of 816, compared to the number in August 1973.

Banks also revealed that passenger boardings are up. He said boardings through August this year were 143,610 and that 122,952 boarded during the same period 1973 — showing an increase of 20,658.

During August, 19, 117 passengers left Midland, and in August 1973, 16,963 boardings were reported.

Medical Center, Tech Link Okayed

LUBBOCK — The board of regents of Texas Tech University School of Medicine has approved an affiliation agreement with Medical Center Hospital in Odessa.

Medical Center will be among 33 health care institutions working with Tech to train medical students.

Scott Meaders

Scott Meaders Due To Be Featured In Who's Who Edition

Scott Meaders, a Lee High School senior, has been notified he will be featured in the Eighth Annual Edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students" for 1973-74.

Meaders was among students from over 20,000 public, private and parochial high schools throughout the country to be recognized for their leadership in academics, athletics, activities or community service in the book.

Less than 3 per cent of the junior and senior class students nationwide are awarded this recognition.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Meaders of 3301 Providence St., Meaders has been active in Student Council and Junior Council.

He has served as president of Key Club, was first vice president of the senior class and lettered in baseball. He attended the Texas Youth Leadership Institute in 1972 and is vice president of St. Luke's United Methodist Youth.

In addition to having his biography published in the book, Meaders will also compete for one of ten scholarship awards of $500 to $1,000 funded by the publishers, and will be invited to participate in the firm's annual "Survey of High Achievers."

Special Services Will Mark Rosh Hashanah In Basin

Rosh Hashanah, New Year's Day in the Hebrew calendar, will be observed by Permian Basin Jews and those throughout the world, this week.

Special services Monday at Temple Beth-El in Odessa, which serves Jewish residents of Midland, Odessa, Big Spring, Fort Stockton and other communities of the Permian Basin, will mark the beginning of the High Holy Days, the most solemn days of the Jewish year, which will culminate in Yom Kippur, the "Day of Atonement."

Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur, as well as the days in between, are represented in Jewish tradition as a unit — known also as the "Days of Awe" — a period dedicated to a spiritual regeneration and religious rehabilitation, said Dr. Joseph Zeitin, rabbi of Temple Beth-El. Unlike many special observances, this period is not concerned with the bounty of nature or with great historical events. Since early times Rosh Hashanah has been regarded as a day of reflection and repentance essentially concerned with the individual and his ideal way on earth.

The period is characterized by a special solemnity of the worship service. The new year is greeted not with gaiety but with solemn prayer. Traditionally, Rosh Hashanah marks the birthday of the creation of the world. Thus, the theme of the festival is a universal one. On this holy day the Kingship of God over all men is reaffirmed.

The week following Rosh Hashanah is likewise spent in soul-searching and repentance, Dr. Zeitin points out, concluding in the Day of Atonement, Yom Kippur, which marks the end of the penitential period. The most significant aspect of the day is the 24-hour fast. "Fasting sincerely observed enables us to spend a complete day in the atmosphere of the synagogue. It teaches us the necessity for self-denial without which self-improvement is impossible," he said.

"Moreover, the Day of Atonement reminds us that life is not totally physical, nor worldly enjoyment its real aim, but there are higher things by which man lives."

Dirt, Squirt & Quirt

- FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS -

Another Canadian cold front brought sharply lower temperatures to the West Texas area last week. Late developing cotton crops will be slowed considerably, according to Charles Green, Midland County extension agent. The cotton plant becomes almost dormant when temperatures fall below 70 degrees. A cool fall and early frost could affect the cotton yield potential considerably, due to the late rains and late fruiting of the crop.

Shortages and high costs make wise use of fertilizers for farm production imperative. There are ways to increase the efficiency of plant nutrients being applied for small grains.

Research for the last 20 years has shown the rate, time and method of applying phosphorus and nitrogen affect yield and profit from fertilization.

Phosphorus fertilization is very important since the small grain plant has a great need for this nutrient during seedling development. Without adequate phosphorus, fewer adventitious roots are produced.

In tests, where 80 pounds of phosphorus per acre were broadcast on the surface and harrowed into the soil, the average number of adventitious roots developed by Jan 15 was five per plant. The same amount of phosphorus applied with the seed at planting produced 13 adventitious roots. Top yields required maximum tilling.

Low rates of phosphorus with or near the seed also has increased seedling growth and the amount of winter pasture. On a phosphorus deficient soil, 40 pounds of phosphorus placed with the seed produced about twice as much winter pasture as the same amount broadcast or banded between the seed drills.

Nitrogen is important, too. It may be placed in the soil just prior to planting or topdressed after the small grain is up to a stand.

An artificial insemination-pregnancy determination clinic jointly sponsored by Curtis Breeding Service and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will be held in Midland Nov. clinic or advance registration clinics or advance registration may be obtained by contacting Wes Robinson, Route 1, Box 341-A, Anderson, Tex. 77830.

The housefly is a perpetual and persistent pest of man and livestock. Although it does not bite or sting, the housefly causes nervousness, restlessness and reduced feed intake and efficiency in animals and can transmit diseases and parasites to both animals and man. The house fly's habits of regurgitating upon and leaving droplets of excrement on foodstuffs makes it a good carrier of many disease-causing organisms. Flies are capable of transmitting a number of eye infections (such as pink eye), typhoid fever, tuberculosis, anthrax, cholera, diarrhea, dysentery, infectious hepatitis and numerous other diseases. They also transmit salmonella, hookworms, pinworms, tapeworms and other parasites.

It's almost impossible to control flies by sprays alone. Prevention of population buildups by eliminating collections of moist manure from livestock barns, stalls and poultry houses within four to five days is essential. Even in cooler weather, large collections of manure generate enough heat to enable houseflies to complete their life cycle. Spreading manure in fields allows it to dry out, thus eliminating breeding sites and destroying larvae that are present.

Capital Murder Charged Eighth Prison Suspect

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) - Martin Castillo, 28, of San Antonio has been charged with capital murder - the eighth man so charged in the Aug. 3 Texas prison escape attempt in which two convicts and two women hostages died.

Castillo, arrested Thursday night in San Antonio, was transferred to Huntsville jail Friday. He was named in a Walker County warrant.

Castillo is accused of buying one of five guns for an escape attempt by convicts Fred Carrasco, Rodolfo Dominguez and Ignacio Cuevas.

Pickett's, Mims' Case Total Increases In '73

AUSTIN — The annual report of the Texas Civil Judicial Council, released Saturday in Austin, shows that the number of cases filed in the district and domestic relations courts of Midland County during 1973 was 27 per cent more than the number filed in 1972.

Cases filed in Midland County during the last calendar year totaled 2,360, including 284 criminal and 2,076 civil.

Judge Perry D. Pickett of the 142nd District Court and Judge Joseph H. Mims of the Domestic Relations Court have jurisdiction in Midland County.

The local district and domestic relations courts disposed of 2,082 cases during 1973, 6 per cent increase in filings during 1972. The 284 criminal cases during 1973 were 20 per cent more than during 1972.

The report shows that the number of cases filed in the district courts of Ector County during 1973 was 2 per cent more than the number filed in 1972.

One Producer Vows To Continue With Penny Gum

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The gumball might be hollow and the chicle-chew might be a little less chewy, but one major producer of penny gum is determined to keep the price of one penny each.

Leary said a finished gumball is 75 per cent sugar and the price of sugar has skyrocketed in just one year from $14 to $19 per 100 pounds.

He said the company, which produces about 55 million pounds of gum a year, is experimenting with making the gumballs hollow center a bit larger. For the rectangular chicle-chews, which have no hollow center, Leary said the company was trying to shrink the gum base center and use more coating.

Capital Murder Charged Escaped Colorado Convicts

STEPHENVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Two of three Colorado convicts who blazed a trail of violence across Texas and New Mexico in August have been turned to jail following their indictments on capital murder charges.

The two surviving convicts, Dalton Lloyd Williams, 29, of Snyder, Tex., and Jerry Ulmer, 22, of Garland, Tex., were named in 16-count indictments listing capital murder during a felony, murder in commission of a felony, several counts of aggravated assault, and seven counts of burglary. The indictments were returned by the Erath County grand jury.

The third escaped convict, Richard Mangum, 22, was killed during the capture of the escapees just north of here.

Austin Students Elect Officers

Bo David Cappadonna has been elected to serve as student body president at Austin Freshman School, with Marr Deer voted into the vice presidential position.

Other newly elected officers are Dorothy Cruse, secretary-treasurer, and Irene Estrada, sales manager.

Among the 27 room representatives elected to the council are Liz Strode, Terry Bond, Angie Gavia, Pam Dube, Greg Weeks, John Hopkins, Valerie Bradley, Brent Bates, Geneva Anderson, Craig Van Horn and Diana Scott.

Also voted as representatives were Randall Royal, Bud Richardson, Mike Dancy, Lardie Bircham, Paula Bynum, George Slover, Delinda Earl, Elva Hernandez, Gail Watson, Beth Baucum, Janet Johnson, Gary Coley, Dana Nipp, Ann Startz, Dennis Dallas and Craig Stanford.

Phil White and Mike Bustilloz were appointed to serve as faculty advisers to assist at the bi-weekly council meetings.

Publisher Bets Bundle On Men

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A raging wild, raging, tusktacular with one snort would send bundle that male chauvinism is alive, well and profitable.

Bob Peterson of Los Angeles, who has made a fortune publishing magazines, has purchased True magazine from Fawcett Publications.

Aside from making money, Peterson says his aim will be to promote "a definite return to and recognition of the male mystique, the 'Macho Man'."

Tom Siatos, the magazine's new executive publisher, says that the male image in America is at best battered and at worse unrecognizable.

"Madison Avenue has done a fine job in unraveling the image that man had, so that today, just by looking around at magazines, television and most of the oldest parks in the country, you would think the average guy is a top... a raging wild, raging, tusktacular with one snort would send women libbers searching for safe ground," Siatos said, grinning.

Siatos, 50, a former publisher of Guns & Ammo, has put together a format that he says will make men feel like men and infuriate women libbers.

True plans to hit such topics as adventure, sports, crime, outdoors, history-nostalgia collecting, machines and locomotion and current news. But no sex.

True will leave that to Playboy and others of its type.

A number of years ago True was the leading men's magazine with a circulation of 3 million. But with the advent of the Playboy and other slick men's magazines, it went steadily downhill.

Federal Probers Eyeing El Paso Bread Industry

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Records here reveal federal antitrust prosecutors are working with a grand jury in El Paso in a look at that area's bread industry.

Three subpoenas for testimony were on file in the U.S. District Clerk's office here Friday, San Antonio is in the Western Judicial District of Texas, of which El Paso also is a part.

"We are looking into the near El Paso, said through a spokesman that his "name has been removed" from the investigation. The spokeswoman, at the El Paso information office said, "He's not going to be appearing before the grand jury because he has nothing to contribute."

James Sackett, commissary officer at the Army's Ft. Bliss near El Paso, said through a spokesman that his "name has been removed" from the investigation. The spokeswoman, at the El Paso information office said, "He's not going to be appearing before the grand jury because he has nothing to contribute."

A grand jury witness, Richard Dillon of El Paso, said by telephone the grand jury "was looking into... wholesale bakeries in El Paso and their sales to Ft. Bliss."

Dillon, who is a partner in a retail specialty bakery said, "There's no way we'd know anything they called us in and asked us what we know about it and we know nothing."

Backlash From Nixon Pardon To Have Lasting Effect

By WALTER R. MEARS (An AP News Analysis)

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is spending valuable political capital in the Watergate pardons controversy to deal with an issue he once called a nightmare that was over.

It wasn't. It remained to haunt the new administration, Ford's pardoning of Richard M. Nixon, and later suggestions that other Watergate pardons were being considered, drew the first major barrage of congressional criticism of the new President.

That will subside, particularly now that the White House has said there will be no blanket pardons of Watergate defendants, and none in any case before trial.

But that burst of controversy will have a lasting effect. It will make it easier in the remaining weeks of the congressional session for Democrats and Republican dissenters to challenge Ford on other issues. It hastens a return to the strains, frictions and arguments that are normal between Congress and the White House, particularly when different parties control the branches.

Furthermore, the Nixon pardon decision marked, as had no prior issue, the distinction between Ford the congressional veteran and Ford the President.

In the pardon decision, there was no use of the ways of the Capitol, the habits of consultation, base-touching, checking it out with potential critics. It was the decision of one man, and Ford said he made it to end "the bad dreams that continue."

Sunday's pardon led to Monday's widespread criticism and to Tuesday's misallocation — the statement of a White House spokesman that pardons for others involved in Watergate were under study. A common theme in criticism of the Nixon pardon had been that the former President should not be spared while his former aides stand trial for the Watergate cover-up.

But the suggestion that their cases would be studied with a view to possible pardons drew even more protest. The Senate adopted a resolution opposing any pardons before trial, but by Sunday's pardon led to Monday's widespread criticism and to Tuesday's misallocation — the statement of a White House spokesman that pardons for others involved in Watergate were under study. A common theme in criticism of the Nixon pardon had been that the former President should not be spared while his former aides stand trial for the Watergate cover-up.

men had disowned the earlier statement and were saying that no pardons were under study. It was understood that the initial statement about a White House study had been intended to counter complaints that the Nixon pardon set a double standard of justice for the former president and lesser Watergate figures. Instead, it made the situation worse. Amid the congressional clamor, Rep. Ken Hechler, D-W. Va., offered his assessment of the pardon situation: "The quality of mercy is getting very strained... It messes up those that give and those that take."

Psychiatrist Plans Contempt Appeal

HOUSTON (AP) — A psychiatrist who spent five days in jail for refusing to testify in juvenile court proceedings says he will appeal.

Dr. Gary Jefferson Byrd, 32, of Houston, said Friday his appeal will be submitted to the 14th Court of Civil Appeals.

Byrd was jailed for contempt of court Aug. 26 by Juvenile Court Judge W. H. Miller when Byrd failed to give his professional opinion about a juvenile on trial.

Byrd said he had not been paid for examining the 16-year-old juvenile and his professional opinion was his personal property.

Miller placed Byrd in jail until he gave his testimony.

'Governor's Convention' Set To Open In Austin On Tuesday

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas members will be named by delegates should be seated will Democrats meet Tuesday for a Tuesday's convention, have two to be presented to the full state convention that shows a new vice chairperson, one committee at its meeting at 2 p.m. Monday.

An Austin district court heard preliminary testimony Friday from a group of unhappy Democrats of Senatorial Dist. 8, Dallas County, who think they should be recognized instead of the delegation sent to state Democratic headquarters. More testimony will be heard Monday morning on the intraparty dispute.

The traditional pre-convention party, honoring Democratic nominees will be held Monday night at a downtown Austin hotel. The $25 per person admission includes cocktails, a buffet supper and a contribution to the state party.

The state convention proper begins at 10 a.m. Tuesday when more than 5,000 delegates crowd into the Austin Municipal Auditorium with alternate delegates and guests taking up any empty space.

Pigg Given 99 Years

ODESSA — Cecil Earl Pigg, 38, of Phoenix, Ariz., Friday was sentenced to 99 years in prison for the July 11, 1970, holdup of B&B Vending Co. employes here.

In that robbery, $3,000 in cash was taken by three armed bandits.

The formal sentencing, in the 161st District Court here, came after Pigg's third conviction in the case.

He was given a 15-year prison term in December 1970. The conviction was set aside by Dist. Judge R. L. McKim on a motion for a new trial.

The second trial resulted in a conviction and a 28-year sentence. That conviction was reversed in May by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

Pigg's sentencing Friday followed his conviction Aug. 24 in a third trial. His attorneys have filed notice of appeal.

CARRIER OF THE YEAR — Ray Marshall, left, has been named The Midland Reporter-Telegram's "Carrier of the Year." Leroy Stewart presented him a $50 Savings Bond and he will be nominated by The Reporter-Telegram for "Carrier of the Year" in the state.

Henredon

Canterbury

Warm. Robust. Beautiful. This is the look of Canterbury, Henredon's truly superb collection of bedroom furniture in the style of 17th Century England. Bold mouldings, deep recessed paneling, lustrous brasses and rich warm finishes, create a restful informal atmosphere that is so compatible with the way we live today. And beneath all is the strength of fine woods—solid pecan and pecky pecan veneer. This is quality furniture—with the kind of superb craftsmanship, design, and materials it takes to endure the test of time.

Mrs. Johnny Mac Hodges

Carla Jo Friday, Hodges Wed In Baptist Church

Carla Jo Louise Friday and Johnny Mac Hodges exchanged wedding vows Saturday in Calvary Baptist Church with the Rev. Doyle Darwin officiating for the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Friday of 2208 N. College St. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hodges, 2208 City View Road.

Decorating the church was an arch entwined with yellow carnations, white ribbons and greenery and flanked by two seven branch candelabra decorated with yellow carnations, white ribbons and greenery, and floral arrangements of yellow, white and green carnations with white ribbon.

The matron of honor's dress was of apple green featuring an Empire waist of Chantilly lace, a sweetheart neckline and straight sleeves to the elbow, then puffed to the wrist. The floor-length skirt was covered with apple green lace.

The maid of honor wore a fitted A-line apple green floor-length dress with short, puffed sleeves accented with cuffs.

They carried bouquets of yellow carnations and wore headpieces of green apple blossoms.

The bridesmaids were gowned in yellow A-line floor-length dresses with short puffed sleeves accented with cuffs. The fronts of the dresses were enhanced with yellow Chantilly lace. Their flowers and headpieces were yellow daisies and carnations with streamers.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Midland High School employed by Sloan Brothers Buick. Her husband attended Midland College. He is employed as a carpenter for Waynick-Welch Construction Co.

After a wedding trip to Colorado, the couple will be at home at 2209 1/2 City View Road.

Annual Antiques Show Scheduled By Houston Thetas Sept. 25-29

HOUSTON — The 22nd annual Theta Charity Antiques Show of Houston and the Theta Antiques Forum will be held Sept. 25-29 in the Albert Thomas Convention Center.

The show is held to benefit the Houston School of Deaf Children, Hematology-Oncology Service of Texas Children's Hospital, Bayou Bend Collection of the Museum of Fine Arts and Harris County Heritage Society. The show is staged and directed by members of the Houston Kappa Alpha Theta Alumnae Group. A special feature will be "The New Collector," which will present choice antiques from each dealer priced under $100.

The Petit Museum, a series of period settings, will feature unusual examples of furniture and art objects from private collections. Speakers for the forum will be Wendell D. Garrett, editor of the magazine, "Antiques," from New York, N.Y., who will speak on "American Furniture, 1790-1860. The Classic Summation," at 10:30 a.m. Sept. 26, and Robert Bishop, museum editor of the Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, Mich., who will speak on "Collecting American Folk Art," at 10:30 a.m. Sept. 27.

Legal Secretaries To Celebrate Thirteen Years Of Organization

Midland Legal Secretaries Association celebrates the 13th anniversary of its formation Thursday with a Hawaiian luau. Invitations have gone out to legal secretaries throughout the city, both members and non-members, to join in festivities to begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Kimber-Lea Clubhouse. A salad supper will be served along with other refreshments and entertainment has been planned. The Midland chapter is a member of the Texas Association of Legal Secretaries and the National Association of Legal Secretaries. Its purpose includes an emphasis on continuing education in the field, the stimulation of professional attainment, and further knowledge of the law and its procedures, as well as establishing good fellowship among members of the association.

The Midland chapter, the 200th local chapter of NALS, was organized in August 1961, with 22 charter members, its charter being issued in September 1961. Mrs. Mary Wyatt was the first president.

Landscape Goal Luncheon Topic

Mrs. John P. Butler discussed a Bicentennial project, landscaping the grounds of the new Permian Basin Petroleum Museum and Library Hall of Fame at a recent luncheon meeting held by the Midland County Republican Women's Club. Mrs. Butler said the project is termed "Green Horizons" and individuals, clubs and civic groups will be asked to donate native shrubs, trees and other plants for the museum.

Service League Schedules Sorority Chapter Fashion Show Benefit Date Has Fondue Party

Lord and Taylor of New York, Dallas and Houston will present a collection of fall and winter fashions for the Children's Service League's benefit luncheon and style show, "A Caravan of Fashion," scheduled for 11:30 a.m. Oct. 31 in Midland Country Club.

General chairmen for the benefit are Mrs. Eugene Monroe and Mrs. Roy Davidson. Co-ordinator is Mrs. Durward Goolsby.

Serving on the invitations committee are Mrs. William Blakemore, chairman, and Mrs. Joe Hillard, Mrs. Estelle Thompson, Mrs. Charles Priddy, Mrs. Edwin Dwyer and Mrs. Bill Cotter.

Mrs. W. Barney Hopkins and Mrs. Monroe are designing and executing the decorations for the show. Working with them are Mrs. Curtis Erwin, Mrs. Robert Bledsoe, Mrs. Charles Godfrey, Mrs. Jerry Hooper, Mrs. Scott Alexander, Mrs. Robert Gourley, Mrs. Kenneth Griffin and Mrs. Robert Thames Jr.

Table reservations are under the direction of Mrs. Abbott Jenks, Mrs. John Goodrich and Mrs. Goolsby.

Preceding the luncheon and show wine will be served. Those pouring will be Mrs. Dwyer, chairman, Mrs. James W. Humble, Mrs. Joe Stuckney, Mrs. Colner, Mrs. Ralph Greenlee, Mrs. Guy Brown, Mrs. Herbert Cavanaugh and Mrs. Robert M. Wynne.

Mrs. Bernold Hanson, president of the league, will greet guests attending the show. She will be assisted by ushers, who will direct guests to their tables. Mrs. Lynn Hunt is chairman of the ushers' committee which includes Mrs. Dwayne Hamilton, Mrs. David Greenlee, Mrs. George Slaughter, Mrs. A. W. Butler Jr., Mrs. Frank Schatz and Mrs. Richard Story.

Taking tickets will be Mrs. George Clark, Mrs. George Staley, Mrs. George Stillwagon and Mrs. Joe Mabey.

Mrs. Robert R. Led's, co-chairman of the board, will give the welcome address and award special prizes. Mrs. Robert Ross and Mrs. Thomason will assist with the presentation of the prizes.

Mrs. Priddy is public relations chairman, assisted by Mrs. Larry Melton.

Benefits of the show will aid the league with its work with physically handicapped and medically indigent children in Midland.

Mrs. Albertus Hostess For BSP Chapter

The Beta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met recently in the home of Mrs. R. G. Albertus, 2006 Comanche St., with Kay Miller, president, presiding.

Mrs. Doug Stillwagon announced an old-fashioned box supper will be held Friday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Danny O'Grady, 2209 Gulf St.

Mrs. Albertus reported on the Leisure Lodge project, during which each member will visit and assist a resident of the lodge with a crafts class.

Miss Miller and Mrs. Stillwagon gave the program on Mozart and Bach and Leonard Bernstein's "Mass."

Mrs. Dale DeFord announced the Little Miss Pageant will be held March 8-9 at Lee High School. She also reported the sorority's West Texas Area Convention will be held Oct. 11-13 in Rowdway Inn. The registration deadline will be Sept. 27 and the scrapbook entry deadline will be Sept. 18. A dinner-dance will be held at Midland Country Club Oct. 12.

Guests were Mrs. Cinda Soper, Mrs. Richard Lanning and Mrs. Doug Sprague.

Secretaries Report Plans For Area Meeting Here

The Permian Chapter of the National Secretaries Association (International) will be hostess to one of five area forums to be held by the Texas-Louisiana Division of the National Secretaries Association (International).

The forum will be at the Rowdway Inn Saturday. Registration will start at 8:30 a.m. and the forum will begin at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. Helen D. Timmerman, Certified Professional Secretary, president of the Texas-Louisiana Division, will be conductor for the forum. Mrs. Timmerman is from Monroe, La., where she is executive assistant to Fred C. Culpepper Jr., executive vice president and resident manager of Ford, Bacon & Davis (engineers and constructors). She is a member of the Ouachita Valley Chapter (Monroe - West Monroe, La.), NSA. Mrs. Charlie Timberlake, CPS, of the Permian Chapter is co-ordinator of the forum. Besides the Permian Chapter, chapters from Abilene, Big Spring, San Angelo, El Paso, Lubbock, Odessa, Amarillo and Canyon will be in Midland to participate in the event.

Area forums are conducted each year for NSA members and other secretaries interested in NSA and improving their professional goals. The forums give registrants the opportunity of exchanging ideas with others in their profession, learning more about NSA's goals in education, its service to the community and its members.

The main topic to be covered at the forum is CPS service and education. The Certified Professional Secretaries of the Permian Chapter will lead this discussion. They are: Mrs. Jim Armstrong, Mrs. Carollne Boley, Mrs. Lucille Boase, Mrs. Bill Gallagher, Stella May, Mrs. George Pearson, and Mrs. Timberlake. Other topics to be discussed are: How to make management more aware of NSA's goals; membership, and programs.

Mrs. Timberlake will be taking advance registration until Wednesday. Late registration will be from 8:30 until 9:30 a.m. on the day of the forum. Registration is $8 and will include the luncheon. Mrs. Timberlake stresses that this forum is open to all secretaries and urges everyone interested in upgrading their profession to attend. For additional information, contact Mrs. Timberlake at 682-1657 or write to Local Coordinator, 1215 Neely St. After 5 p.m. dial 683-1416.

Officers of the Permian Chapter are: Mrs. Boase, president; Mrs. Mickey Taylor, vice president; Mrs. John Cagle, recording secretary; Mrs. Odell Grubb, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. J. A. Warren, treasurer.

Sand, Seed Club Begins Season With Coffee

A membership coffee Thursday in the home of Mrs. Don Dow, 2515 Seaboard St., marked the beginning of the new season for the Sand and Seed Garden Club.

Guests were Mrs. Richard L. Westlake and Mrs. Merrill Witt. Following the coffee, Mrs. Patrick Callahan, president, conducted a business session.

Mrs. William E. Steele Jr., council representative, gave the Lancaster Garden Club-Museum of the Southwest report. The fall tasting luncheon has been scheduled for Oct. 15. Mrs. Steele also reported that a horticulture seminar will be conducted Tuesday at the center followed by a tour of local gardens.

A sale of pottery created by Mrs. Charles Henderson will be held in November at the center.

Mrs. William L. Drake announced "Flower, Show School No. 2" will be conducted at the garden center Sept. 23-25. All members are urged to attend.

Special guest speaker was Mrs. George Van Husen, who presented "Green Horizons '76," a joint project of the National Society of Daughters of the American Revolution and the Midland Society of University Women to landscape the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum and Hall of Fame. This project, certified by the Midland Bicentennial Commission, is scheduled for completion in early 1976. Midland garden clubs and civic organizations are invited to assist in the project. Mrs. Van Husen pointed out that all donations will be marked with a permanent plaque.

Schedules for a flower show to be held Oct. 25 were distributed to members by Mrs. Drake, show co-chairman. The flower show will be held in the home of Mrs. Dow.

Mrs. Jack Stanley was welcomed as a new member and the special prize was won by Mrs. R. E. Garrett.

Association Has Membership Tea Newcomers Club Plans Style Show

The Midland Retired Teachers Association recently began the new club year with a membership tea in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Douthett, 2510 Seaboard St. Hostesses and host for the event were members of the executive board, including Mrs. Pearl Watson, president; Mrs. Myrtle Shepherd, vice president; Mrs. Robert Michener, secretary; and James Ramsoure, treasurer.

Mrs. Tommie Smith and Ethel Chaudoin registered guests. Also in the house party were Mrs. Victoria Chapple, Martha Gould and Nova Jane Moore. Mrs. Michener served the punch.

Representatives of the association announced plans to attend a drive-in conference to be held Tuesday in Monahan.

The workshop is sponsored by the National Retired Teachers Association and Texas Retired Teachers Association.

"Pick a Pappagallo Pretty" will be the theme for a fashion show at 10:45 a.m. Thursday at the Midland Country Club planned by the Midland Newcomers Club.

A social period and luncheon will precede the show, which will have fashions from The Shop For Pappagallo modeled by club members.

New resident reservations should be made by noon Wednesday with Mrs. Larry Larsen 697-1997. Members not previously contacted may telephone Mrs. Dwain Nesbitt, 697-2589, and for cancellations contact Mrs. Ron Hall, 684-6507.

Nothing More

Canapes are nothing more than miniature open-face sandwiches, they should be just big enough for one or two bites.

NEW MEMBERS SOUGHT — Mrs. Barton Evans, left, Mrs. Jimmy Floyd, center, and Mrs. Ben Anderson, members of the Midland Branch of the American Association of University Women, are shown at Mrs. Floyd's home, 1510 Princeton St., preparing mailing information to be sent to prospective members. Women graduates of accredited U.S. colleges and universities or of foreign institutions recognized by the International Federation of University Women are eligible to belong to AAUW. Eligible persons may call Mrs. Floyd, 683-6783.

Midland Branch Of AAUW Schedules First Meeting

The Midland Branch of the American Association of University Women will have its first meeting of the 1974-75 year at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Episcopal Church of the Holy Trinity.

Mrs. A. R. Turner will present the program, "Recollections of a Foreign Service Wife," recounting her 29 years of living from Shanghai to London.

Members and prospective members are invited to attend the meeting. Women holding a baccalaureate or higher degree are eligible for membership.

AAUW is a nationwide organization of women interested in the advancement of women and in continuing education. The national AAUW theme for this year is "Quality of Life." There are four national level topics of study: "Women — Searching for Self," "Media — Issues in Communication," "Dynamic Learning-Releasing Human Potential" and "Global Interdependence — Budgeting for Earth." Branches implement in their programs one or more of these topics according to the local members' interest and the particular community situation.

On the local level, the Midland branch offers several special interest groups and study organizations. Meeting during the day are literature, gardening, bridge, international, stitichery, Les Toque Blanchés, culinary arts, and potpourri of topics. Offered during the evenings are couples' gourmet dinner groups, couples bridge, arts and crafts and world affairs discussions. Individual members may choose participation in the offered activities according to her interest.

Each month the branch meeting for all members presents special programs on varied subjects: "Do-It-Yourself Learning, A Dynamic Experience," is Dr. Lee Harrisberger's topic for the October meeting, and Richard Monroe will speak on "Woman and Her Finances" in November.

In State of Texas ranks second in having the most CPS's in the US. There are 10 CPS's in Midland.

Instructors for the MC class are Certified Professional Secretaries, Mrs. Doris Gallagher, Mrs. Stella May and Mrs. Willie Mae Armstrong.

The Museum of the Southwest will be the program interest for May. An International Food Fair will be held in December to raise funds for scholarship awards of the Midland branch.

AAUW's interest in each member's special responsibility to society is co-ordinated by area representatives. Representatives this year are Mrs. Roger Felt, education; Mrs. B. P. Young, cultural interests; Mrs. John Hinchey, the community; and Mrs. A. R. Turner, international relations.

The 1974-75 AAUW board of directors includes Mrs. Richard Prigmore, president; Mrs. Vincent Scury, first vice president in charge of program development; Mrs. Jimmy Floyd, second vice president in charge of membership; Mrs. Dan Kallus, third vice president in charge of study groups; Mrs. Jeri Carson, recording secretary; Mrs. Larry McIntosh, corresponding secretary; Mrs. D. Bruce Pope, treasurer; Mrs. J. Ben Anderson, historian; and Mrs. Henry Krusekopf, parliamentarian.

Standing committee chairmen are Mrs. J. R. Knepler, legislative; Mrs. E. Jay Holm, public information; Mrs. Ken Steward, fellowships and scholarships; Mrs. Cary F. Geron and Mrs. Gilbert Naert, hospitality and arrangements; Mrs. Delmer Woods, newsletter; Mrs. Bobby L. Jones and Mrs. Robert D. Anson, ways and means; Mrs. Loyd Whitley, finance; Mrs. Bob L. Watkins, telephone; Mrs. Jerry Cox, yearbook; and Mrs. George Berry, outstanding girl.

Mobil Club Sets Thursday Meeting

The Mobil Women's Club will meet at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Co. Bridge and canasta games will be played.

Membership in the club is open to all wives of Mobil employees of any woman working for the company.

Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. D. W. Clark, 694-1483; Mrs. L. R. Day, 694-6472; or Mrs. E. G. Patton, 694-4272.

Secretaries' Exam Course Scheduled

The Permian Chapter of the National Secretaries Association (International), in conjunction with Midland College, will have a study course for persons interested in taking the Certified Professional Secretary examination.

The course in office procedures, communications and decision making, financial analysis and the mathematics of business will be offered from 7 to 10 p.m. Monday through Dec. 16 by Midland College in Room 455 of Lee High School. The college may be contacted for registration and information, 697-1686.

Six significant areas of business world practices comprise the two-day CPS examination. The purposes of the CPS program, developed and administered by the Institute for Certified Secretaries, a department of the National Secretaries Association (International), are to improve secretarial personnel by giving specific direction to an educational program and by providing a means of measuring the extent of professional development; also to promote the professional identity of the exceptional secretary, and to assist management in selecting and obtaining qualified secretaries. The six sections covered are "Environmental Relationships in Business," "Business and Public Policy," "Economics of Management," "Financial Analysis and the Mathematics of Business," "Communications and Decision Making," and "Office Procedures." If one or more parts are passed on the first attempt, the candidate may use the next four consecutive examinations. The institute awards the remaining parts, taking one or all of the remaining parts at any one examination administration. All six parts must be passed within the next four years; otherwise, the candidate must repeat the entire examination. The institute awards certification to successful candidates and will provide official notification.

The number of individuals who have received the CPS rating since the program was initiated in 1951 is 7,736. A total of 936 secretaries received the CPS rating in 1974 out of 3,585 persons who took the exam. The State of Texas ranks second in having the most CPS's in the US. There are 10 CPS's in Midland.

Instructors for the MC class are Certified Professional Secretaries, Mrs. Doris Gallagher, Mrs. Stella May and Mrs. Willie Mae Armstrong.

Kappa Alumnae Reports Meeting At Bullock Home

Members of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Alumnae Association had a coffee and business session recently in the home of Mrs. Maurice Bullock. The co-hostesses were Mrs. Robert Mann and Mrs. John Mills.

Mrs. Jim Brown was introduced as a new member.

Mrs. Richard Story, vice president, presided. A preview of the year's program was given. Activities will include a Founders' Day luncheon in the home of Mrs. Robert Pollard in October. Mrs. David Shreve, alumnae province director from Houston, will be a special guest. A member-guest handwriting analysis party will be held in November in the home of Mrs. Deane Stoltz. Mrs. Bill Bachman will be hostess to a party in December in honor of Kappa college students.

A recipe party will be held in January, with Mrs. Marshall McCrea as hostess, followed in February with the Kappa Kitchen to be held in the home of Mrs. Johnny Warren. In April, association officers will have a couples' party at La Bodega Restaurant. The final meeting will be a luncheon in Midland Country Club.

Mrs. Paul Rea, membership chairman, announced the following new Kappa pledges: Kathy Ailday, Molly Upchurch and Barbie McCullough. The University of Texas-Austin; Karen Conger and Beth Rodgers, Texas Tech University; Lisa Rhodes, Texas Christian University; and Jan Coffey, Tulsa University.

Keep Bright

Try adding a little milk to the water in which you wash silverware to keep it bright.

Stain Removal

Dear Abby

—By Abigail van Buren

Law Won't Allow Her To Get Pregnant

DEAR ABBY: I am an adult, unmarried woman. I feel that I can get along without a husband if the right one never comes along. I want a child, but I don't want to adopt one. I want to experience bearing a child.

I have spent many hours on the phone talking to doctors and hospitals about artificial insemination, but they all refuse to accept me because I am not married. They say it is the "law." Abby, why? I am healthy, well-adjusted and can well afford to raise a child. I have even taken courses in child care and child psychology. Above all, I love children and know I would make a good mother.

Some girls fool around and get pregnant. I have never fooled around, and I wouldn't do it even for the purpose of having a child, but the law says I can't have artificial insemination because I am not married. That's discrimination. I am willing to go anywhere in U.S.A., but it would be much more convenient if I could have it done near here. Please help me.

CHILDLESS IN MICHIGAN

DEAR CHILDLESS: Ask a lawyer to tell you if there is any state that allows an unmarried woman to have artificial insemination. If there is none, you are out of luck. I agree, it's discriminatory and archaic. It assumes that a child cannot be successfully reared by one parent — a fallacy as widows, divorcees and single fathers have proven.

DEAR ABBY: I hope you can help me. At a convention dinner, my husband and I were having a wonderful time until I told an off-color Polish joke. It didn't go over very well.

Later, I found out that one of the couples sitting at our table was Polish. I felt so stupid. I didn't know what to do or say. Needless to say, the rest of the evening was ruined for me.

Abby, what should I have done? Would an apology have helped?

EVENING RUINED

DEAR RUINED: Possibly. Now do you think you should tell your husband a few and vow never again to tell a Polish joke? And don't laugh at me. Thank you.

DEAR ABBY: I am a divorcee with two children, and am considered attractive. About a year ago I spotted an eligible bachelor in town, so I moved into this apartment building hoping to make his acquaintance. I made his acquaintance all right, but that's about all. He says hello pleasantly when we meet in the hall, but I've never been able to get him into my apartment.

I telephoned him one evening to tell him my bedroom window was stuck (it really was), so he sent a janitor up with a hammer. He's not going with anybody special, and he's not a goody-goody because I've seen him entertain women in his apartment. None of them is as attractive as I. How can I get him interested without having it look like I'm chasing him?

GETTING NOWHERE

DEAR GETTING: It's not easy to chase a man without having it "look like" you're doing what you're doing. Face it. He's not interested in you. And any more moves in his direction will make your scheming so obvious that he's apt to hide when he sees you coming.

DEAR ABBY: Maybe I don't really have a problem, but I'd like to get this off my chest. My husband has a young woman working for him who I can't help being a little jealous of. She's younger than I am, much prettier and she's with him all day. What really bothers me is the fact that she is seen all over town driving my husband's car. She's running errands for him — that's why she uses his car, but Abby, it looks bad. A few of my friends have remarked about it. Am I foolish to let this bug me? And what should I do?

Jealous

DEAR JEALOUS: You're foolish to let it bug you, and don't "do" anything. And if any of your "friends" remark about it again, say, "So?"

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose stamp, self-addressed envelope, please.

Spanish Excel With Leather, A Must In U.S.

NEW YORK (NEA) — Leather in coats, suits and sportswear has become a must in the American woman's wardrobe and never before has there been so much to choose from in stores all over the country. They have style-staying power — especially the leather coat which has become the coat for all seasons. These coats are correct whether they are worn for daytime, travel, dress or rainwear and they are water-repellent. Ledasain which imports the finest of Spanish lambskins, the world has introduced two new collections for fall '74 — one from the New West Coast dynamic young designer, Frank Gagliano, plus a young Ernest Skiner, Mrs. E. W. Crites, Mrs. David Baucom, Mrs. Carl Peay, Joe Sauer and Mrs. Charles Davis. Mrs. W. S. Dill was com-tom for the style show presented

Sophisticates Set Sunglass Fashions

By VIVIAN BROWN AP Newsfeatures Writer
 Who sets sunglasses styles so sophisticated woman, that's who. What she approves in higher priced lines is likely to be acquired for the sunglasses wardrobe of the average woman about a year later. So says Boris Klot, who helps make sunglasses decisions as president of a company "which originated sunglasses fashions 20 years ago." Although every conceivable style and color of sunglasses are worn from morning bike rides to late suppers, from newest models to oldies that have been worn year in and year out, the search for new ideas goes on, he observed. Soon we will be wearing "cosmetics glasses" in the evening. The progression of fashion styles that spawns the new events for the average woman often starts at Klot's home in St. Tropez between Nice and Cannes. There on the Riviera — the name his sunglasses also bear — he spots glasses fashionable women have chosen to wear. After researching sunglasses popularity in the United States and elsewhere, he and his partner and other firm members discuss the styles and put "the accepted ones" within the average pocketbook for the following year. Anything Jackie Kennedy wears becomes popular, Klot remarked. Ditto those worn by movie people. "In fact the first of the large-rimmed glasses was designed by us for Audrey Hepburn to wear in 'Breakfast at Tiffany's.' They were talked about long before they became available to the average woman in our lower-priced line, which is 90 per cent of our business."

Henderson PTA Sets Open House

The Henderson Elementary Parent-Teacher Association will host a "Get Acquainted Night" for parents and teachers at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the school cafeteria. Keller Stamy, Henderson principal, will introduce the teachers, and refreshments will be served following a brief business meeting. A nursery will be provided, and all Henderson parents are urged to attend and meet their children's teachers.

Devils' Fitzhugh, Rock-Ribbed Wall Cage Badgers, 27-13

By TERRY WILLIAMSON
R-T Sports Writer

RANKIN — Rankin's stone wall trench infantry brigade along with the running and passing bombardments of quarterback Eric Fitzhugh guided the Red Devils to a 27-13 victory over McCamey here Friday night before a standing-room only crowd for the Upton County Football Championship.

Coach Dwayne Turner's Devils, producing three goal line stands and an effective mixture of running and passing, take the lead in the Upton County championship series, 7-5. There has been one tie. It was the 13th game of the series on Friday the 13th, a number for the Devil himself.

Rankin went into the game as a slight underdog to the AA Badgers, but after a rock nosed defensive crew turned the Badgers away from the goal three times inside the 10, all that was left was for Fitzhugh to show his thing, and he did it to perfection.

Fitzhugh rushed for 79 yards, most coming on a sleek wedge play which took advantage of a shooting McCamey nose guard, passed for 164 yards and scored two touchdowns while connecting with split end Freddy Plagens for two long scoring bombs that sunk Coach Joe Neill's Badgers.

Despite the lop-sided score, the Badgers threatened to put the game away early after holding Rankin on downs during the first series and returning the Devil punt 61 yards for a quick score. Perry Graves took the punt and handed off to all-stater Leland Bolen, who found no resistance down the north sideline. Graves added the point after for a 7-0 lead with 11:02 still showing on the first quarter clock.

Turner's Devils did not lose sight of their mission, however, and cranked up a 70-yard scoring drive in nine plays before the end of the first stanza. Speed pushed the Badgers back to the 25 and closed the door on the Badgers for the first of three times.

That was all the incentive the Devils needed for what proved to be a 75-yard victory march with Fitzhugh again proving his worth. Fitzhugh gained 40 yards in the drive including the last three on a sneak and then passed to Plagens again for two as the Devils captured a 14-7 lead with 5:47 left in the first half.

Early in the third period, McCamey's Greg Hicks intercepted a Fitzhugh aerial to set the Badgers in business at

WILSON RANCH RIDERS WIN

The weekly polo match at the Midland Polo Grounds will give way this week to the horse show Sunday, but in last week's 10-goal game, Wilson Ranch led on the way to a 24-6 win over Lubbock Monterey here Friday with the Plainsmen's lone TD coming on a 47-yard run Rickey Keith. Keith wound up as the game's leading rusher with 114 yards on 20 carries.

AS KERMIT TRIUMPHS— Fulbright Fillibuster Pigeon Holes Cranes

By BYRON BATTLES

CRANE — Two block-buster TD dashes and an unusual punt return turned out to be the margin of victory Friday night as the Kermit Yellow Jackets Senior tackle Alan Thorn ruined the Crane Golden Crane home opener, 20-10, at El Ave. Field.

Daryle Fulbright, 163-pound junior fullback, was the offensive key for the Yellow Jackets, churning out 220 yards rushing on 21 carries. Ronnie Lipsey, subbing for first-string quarterback Steve Barry, added to the aerial attack by completing five of 11 for 70 yards.

Although the Cranes recovered another Kermit fumble, two Mike Smith interceptions of Roseberry arials as well as motion penalties put the damper on the Crane offense for the remainder of the game.

 Steve Barry, 10-yard pass from Ronnie Lipsey
 Ronnie Lipsey, 3-yard field goal
 Fulbright, 30-yard run (kick failed)
 Steve Barry, 8-yard run (kick failed)

The game, however, looked to be Crane's for the first six minutes. Crane won the opening toss and elected to defend the north goal, thereby taking advantage of a 10-15 mph breeze. Kermit could not move on their first series, and punted the ball to Crane, on its own 40-yard line.

Crane quarterback Ken Roseberry engineered a 60-yard, 14 play drive by mixing pitche-outs, off-tackle plays, and middle dives to his backs Willie Neal, Ronald Jeffery, and Steve Hillfield. The score came on Roseberry's five-yard rollout pass to tight end Bill Lewis in the back corner of the end zone, and Bobby Rozelle's point after was good to give the Cranes a 7-0 lead with 7:53 left in the opening stanza.

Kermit received the ensuing kickoff and began what appeared to be an answer to Crane's drive. Starting at their own 36, the Jackets picked up two first downs, one rushing and one passing, before the Crane defense held on a fourth and five situations at the Crane 25.

On the first down after the touchback, Kermit called the same play which had earlier resulted in six points, and Fulbright again raced up the middle for an 80-yard touchdown sprint. King converted and the Jackets were out in front, 14-0.

Early in the fourth, Crane appeared to be fired up to move again. A clipping penalty, one of seven Golden Crane penalties for the night, wiped out a 21-yard pass play from Roseberry to Neal and the wind seemed to go out of the Crane sails, leaving them derelict on their own 23.

Crane's Ford punted extremely high and short. As the Crane line over ran the ball, junior flanker Joe Haygood fielded the punt about 10 yards behind the Crane team with the exception of Ford, the punter. Haygood took the ball in from the 35 with nary a hand being laid upon him. The point after was blocked but the score was still 20-10 in favor of Kermit.

Bearcats Blanked

GARDEN CITY — A 22-point outburst in the first period paced Sterling City to a 28-0 win over Garden City here Friday night.

Kenneth Gaston scored on a four-yard run. Jess Copeland struck from 45 and 10 yards away while Russell Davis romped 45 yards for the final TD.

Alpine Attack Rolls

ALPINE — Alpine's Fighting Bucks rolled out 789 yards total offense here Friday night to down AAA Fort Stockton by a humilating 42-6 count. Alpine scored in every quarter with eight players getting on the scoreboard.

With less than a minute left in the half, Lipsey connected with senior end Mike Smith on passes of 23 and 17 yards to drive the Jackets to the Crane 15. Lipsey threw an incomplete pass, but hit Smith once again for nine to the Crane six. With no time-out left and the clock running, Kermit frantically tried to squeeze off another play but was left dangling as the half ran out.

The third quarter commenced with punts by each team. Crane got a break when Lipsey dropped a pass into the arms of Crane defender, Leslie Carson. Two pitcheouts to Jeffery and a power play up the middle by junior fullback Max Stone put Crane on the Kermit 21.

Israel May Consider Early Peace Talks With Jordan

By KENNETH J. FREED — Reached as a compromise during four days of talks with Jordan by early 1975 if a satisfactory start can be made in second-stage negotiations with Egypt, according to United States and other sources.

This understanding was reached as a compromise during four days of talks with Jordan by early 1975 if a satisfactory start can be made in second-stage negotiations with Egypt, according to United States and other sources.

United States reportedly agreed to supply Israel with a wide range of arms the Jewish state claimed it needs in a hurry. Discussion will continue on providing the Jerusalem government with newly developed U.S. warplanes and other long-range Israeli needs.

As explained by sources from both governments, Israel will propose a quick start to talks with Egypt on another pull-back from Sinai land occupied in 1967.

Then, around the end of the year, separate talks can start with Jordan concerning the future of the Jordan River's West Bank, also conquered in 1967.

Previously, Israel had wanted to hold off the Jordan talks until after a settlement had been reached with Egypt. On the other hand, the United States wanted immediate talks on Jordan, or at least at the same time as the second-stage negotiations with Egypt.

According to the understanding finalized during Rabin's third and final meeting with Ford Friday, Kissinger will carry Israel's thinking to the Arab states during a four- or five-day visit to the Middle East in mid-October.

Rabin told reporters just before he left Friday that simultaneous talks with two Arab states are not acceptable. Past efforts at multilateral talks "proved to be a complete failure" and "I don't believe it is advisable" now, he said.

At the same time, he signaled Jordan that it is not to feel excluded because talks with Egypt will begin first.

Rabin also repeated his government's previously stated position that the negotiations with Egypt will have to cover more than just territory.

Ford's Action Triggers Stream Of Pardon Requests

By DUDLEY LEHEW
Associated Press Writer

President Ford's pardon of Richard Nixon has produced a stream of requests for pardons for everyone from a former federal judge to all inmates at Kansas State Prison.

And a few judges, although they lack the power of pardon, have freed inmates or reduced sentences after noting Ford's action.

"What I'm about to do is unusual, but that seems the vogue these days," said Los Angeles Municipal Judge Gilbert Alston. "If a man who almost wrecked the country can be pardoned, this defendant can be released to get proper treatment."

With that, Alston ordered released from jail to the custody of his psychiatrist John Gabron, a 27-year-old Vietnam veteran who took three hostages at riflepoint during what was described as "combat flashback."

Before Gabron could be released, however, a higher court nullified Alston's order.

In New York City, U.S. District Court Judge Marvin E. Frankel reduced a 30-day prison sentence to a $1,000 fine in the case of Craig E. Braun, who had pleaded guilty to tax evasion.

Noting that Braun's case in Mass., introduced in Congress on Friday a proposed constitutional amendment that would limit the pardon and reprieve power of the President. Under his proposal, any pardon or reprieve could be blocked by a two-thirds vote of both houses of Congress within 90 days.

In Lansing, Kan., Gov. Robert B. Docking was asked by two inmates to pardon all state prison inmates "in order that justice may be served in the proper manner."

A letter signed by Edward L. Robinson and Richard Lee McCarthy said that "even before this man (Nixon) could be charged, he was pardoned."

The letter added, "We want to make this crystal clear. We have been punished enough." Docking was out of the state Friday and was unable to comment.

In Chicago, a spokeswoman for Citizens for Otto Kerner said 2,500 signatures have been gathered on petitions calling for Kerner's pardon.

Rain Frog Becomes No. 1 Weather Seer

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — One of the weather prognosticators here does not go by satellite weather pictures. He predicts it the way he feels it. And his listeners say his record is good.

This nameless prognosticator is a frog who lives in the shrubs outside the apartment house of Olga Baumann.

"I go by him," she says. "I took my raincoat and an umbrella today because he raised Cain yesterday and today."

It rained and rained in San Antonio Friday.

The frog is becoming a radio personality. He usually gives his forecast at around 5 a.m. with his croaking and singing and the message is relayed to a local radio station where it is used in a talk show.

Toni Cullum, a show hostess, insists the frog "has been 100 per cent correct."

It hasn't been raining in San Antonio forever and the rain frog hasn't been croaking or singing forever, either.

"Here during this drought we had, he didn't say a word and then he started one morning just singing and we had a flood," said Olga, a dietician who works at a kindergarten.

A zoologist at the San Antonio Zoo, Ernest Romey, told an interviewer, "I can't help you as far as the croaking and stuff but there is some documentation of animals and their changes in behavior before severe changes in the weather."

On a broader scale than the rain frog, Romey noted "one of the classic cases is animals getting a thicker coat for winter." He also recalled migration of birds associated with the movement of weather fronts.

Speech Scheduled On Youth Testing

Educational consultant Mrs. Leonard Monroe will speak on the pros and cons of testing children when she addresses the Midland Association for Children with Learning Disabilities.

Judge Upholds Ban On S&L Premiums

AUSTIN (AP) — The state has the right to stop savings and loan associations from giving away merchandise to attract customers, State District Court Judge Herman Jones ruled Friday.

Jones refused to grant a temporary injunction to Sperry and Hutchinson Co., (S&H green stamps) and two other firms which are challenging a new regulation banning premiums.

"There is substantial evidence, I think, that the (state) agency might be concerned that skill and competency in the investment business and the savings and loan business is becoming less and less important, and skill and competency in the merchandising business is becoming more important," the judge said.

"The tail is wagging the dog, and the tail seems to be getting stronger as the days go by," he said.

Right To Life Director Criticizes First Lady

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The director of the National Right to Life Committee says First Lady Betty Ford did not understand the Supreme Court's decision on abortion.

Dr. Mildred Jefferson, chairman of the committee's board of directors, criticized Mrs. Ford's recent statement that abortion is the law of the land.

Dr. Mildred said that Mrs. Ford's statement is the kind made by "someone who does not understand the real issue."

Seminar Slated On Real Estate

The Service Title Co. and the Chicago Title Insurance Co. will sponsor a seminar from 8:15 a.m. to 12 noon Tuesday at the Rodeway Inn in Midland on selling, management and new ideas in real estate.

John M. Grogan and Grant G. Gard will speak.

"She should know what she's talking about when she speaks," Dr. Jefferson said. "The Supreme Court decision is not something that binds the individual."

She said she hoped "someone will sit down with Mrs. Ford and help her to understand the Supreme Court decision."

Dr. Jefferson, a general surgeon on the staff of University Hospital, Boston University Medical Center, is in San Antonio for the meeting of the Texas Right to Life Committee.

"The Supreme Court ruled the decision was private between the woman and her doctor," she said. "This reduces man to the rank of a second class citizen and the child to a non-person."

She added that the high court's decision created a "private death contract between the woman and her doctor."

British Actor Will Present OC Program

ODESSA — British actor David Netthelm will present a program, "Sweet Master Shakespeare" at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday in Odessa College's Arena Theater.

The program, a presentation of anecdotes, impersonations and descriptions, will characterize Shakespeare's life and work. Netthelm's one-man performance, sponsored by the Odessa College theater department, will be open to the public, with tickets priced at $1.50. The tickets can be purchased at the drama office in Room 128 of Deadrick Hall.

Netthelm made his stage debut at the age of 7 and his acting career continued throughout his schooldays. At 16, he left school to join a radio network, becoming probably the youngest scriptwriter and director in the business. To extend the performing aspect of his career, he began doing freelance work while continuing his writing activities. On radio he was a regular member of many talk-shows and panel games, wrote many play scripts, directed a large number of programs, and starred in his own comedy series for two seasons. For the past 15 years he has broadcast a report on British arts for the Australian Broadcasting Commission, including interviews with such public personalities as Peter Ustinov and Joan Sutherland.

Guitarist Chet Atkins will open the 1974-75 season of the Midland-Odessa Symphony when he appears as guest artist with the orchestra in concerts in both Midland and Odessa.

The Nashville-based performer, winner of numerous "Grammy" awards and a four-time recipient of the Playboy Jazz Poll Award, will perform with the orchestra Oct. 21 in Odessa's Ector County Coliseum and Oct. 22 in Lee High School auditorium here.

In recent years, Atkins has been performing with symphony orchestras across the nation, including Arthur Fiedler's famous Boston Pops Orchestra and the Atlanta Symphony, as well as the symphonies of New Orleans, St. Louis, Birmingham, Seattle, Houston and Pittsburgh.

"Chet Atkins is an artist in his own right," said Dr. Thomas Hohstadt, new music director-conductor of the Midland-Odessa Symphony. "People are going to hear some very special music, with broad appeal, and we are excited about our first program." Works programmed for the pair of concerts have not yet been announced by Dr. Hohstadt.

Symphony Guild organizations of both Midland and Odessa will be selling tickets for the Atkins concerts the week of Oct. 7. Season ticket holders will be admitted to either the Odessa or Midland events, but individual tickets will be sold only for the Oct. 21 Atkins concert because of the Odessa coliseum's greater capacity.

Season tickets for the orchestra's six-part concert series are $20 for seats in the reserved section, $15 for general admission and $4 for students. Single tickets for the Atkins concert in Odessa will be $6.50, $5.50 and $4.50. Tickets may be purchased from Symphony Guild members during their annual season membership campaign beginning Oct. 7, or to the Minnesota State Arts tickets may be mail-ordered from the Midland-Odessa Symphony at P.O. Box 6266, MA in the Midland 79701.

Museum Has New Home, Name

FORT WORTH — One of Texas' major art museums has a new home — and a new name.

The Fort Worth Art Museum, A Museum of 20th Century Art is the new name of the former Fort Worth Art Center Museum, a title which more effectively reflects its emphasis on the best of contemporary American and European art.

The museum has just opened after being closed for more than a year, during which its quarters underwent a $1,300,000 expansion and renovation project. In celebration of the reopening, an important exhibition, "Twentieth Century Art From Fort Worth and Dallas Collections," has gone on view.

As it enters a new era with the reopening, the museum also has a new director, Richard Koshalek, who assumed duties in mid-August. Koshalek, 32, has been assistant director of the visual arts program for the National Endowment for the Arts in Washington, D.C., and was curator of the Walker Art Center, Minneapolis, from 1969 to 1973, as well as consultant to the Minnesota State Arts Council. He holds a BA degree from the Midland-Odessa University in architecture design and an MA in art history from the University of Minnesota.

Largest portion of the cost for the recent expansion was made available by the Sid W. Richardson Foundation. This provided for doubling the interior exhibition space and completely revising the facade and entry court of the museum, architecturally integrating the building with the adjoining Wm. Edrington Scott Theater. The second floor of the new wing includes the museum's offices, a new board room and expanded library. Other additions include temperature-controlled storage vaults and expanded space for the bookstore.

A grant from the William E. Scott Foundation made possible the enclosure of the garden court, now a solarium for the relaxation of visitors, and an entertainment area to be shared by the museum and the Scott Theater. In addition to integrating the museum and Scott Theater visually, architects Ford, Powell and Carson strove to bring the building into architectural harmony with the neighboring Amos Carter Museum of Western Art and the Kimbell Art Museum, all part of Fort Worth's unique "museum complex."

The opening exhibition, to be display through Oct. 15, includes 139 works in a variety of media, marking the first time that top-quality art from Fort Worth and Dallas collections has been shown together on such a large scale.

The museum began in 1901 in one room in the downtown public library and since 1910 it has been administered by the Fort Worth Art Association. The original Fort Worth Art Center building was constructed in 1964 and the Scott Theater added 10 years later. Edward R. Hudson Jr., is chairman of the board of the association and Charles Tandy is current president.

AGO To Install Officers At Dinner
Midland's West Texas chapter, American Guild of Organists, will initiate its new year with a dinner tonight at which officers will be installed.
William Teague of Shreveport, La., AGO national chairman for Region IV, will conduct the installation in Ranchland Hill Country Club. Officers are Mrs. Loyd Sanders, dean; Linda Lassiter, sub-dean; Mrs. Bertha S. Johnson, secretary; George DeHart, treasurer; Mrs. J. B. Koenig, historian; Robert E. Poer and Charles Parham of Big Spring, auditors.
AGO is a national organization which serves to further the cause of worthwhile church music with chapters throughout the U.S. Persons in the Midland area connected with church music, particularly choir-directors and organists, are given a special invitation to affiliate with the local chapter.
Teague is a native of Gainesville and serves as organist-choirmaster for St. Mark's Episcopal Church in Shreveport and as head of the organ department of Centenary College. He is a popular lecturer in the field of church music and organ pedagogy and has played many organ recitals for AGO chapters and branches, as well as at national AGO conventions. He was educated at Southern Methodist University and Curtis Institute of Music at Philadelphia.

Featured vocalist with 'Cavalcade'

'Big Band Calvacade' Coming Thursday

Bob Crosby, Freddy Martin, Helen Forrest and Red Norvo are the stars of the "Big Band Calvacade," an evening of some of yesteryear's biggest musical memories to be presented here this week.

The 8:15 p.m. Thursday event turns in offering a generous supply of modern classics with instrumentalists recruited for this show from the ranks of Cavalcade. The touring "Cavalcade" was inspired by Martin who suggested that the current resurgence of interest in recordings of the '30s and '40s dictated in-person performances of the big band sound as well. Columbia agreed and plans for a national tour followed.

Martin, who became the leader of his first big band in 1931, is the veteran of the line-up. Through all the trends in popular music styles since then, Martin's very special brand of music has never been out of demand. Often called the most melodic of the sweet bands, Columbia selected which have become collectors' items—Red Norvo also collaborated with many other name artists, among them Artie Shaw, Teddy Wilson, Bunny Berigan, Jack Jenney, Johnny Mince, Chuck Berry and Gene Krupa.

It has been estimated that in 1940 there were some 200 dance orchestras touring the U.S. Only a handful of that number who gained fame are still practicing their special art in occasional concert and dance dates today. "Big Band Calvacade," however, is the one production which will offer fans in a truly retrospective view of that 1935-1946 era of music.

'I Do! I Do!' Sparkling, Spontaneous

By ROGER SOUTHALL
Reporter, Telegram Staff

ODESSA Who ever heard of a musical with only two characters, and only one set?

"I Do! I Do!" which opened the season at Odessa's Permian Playhouse Friday night, is just such a musical and while it may fall somewhat short of being an extravaganza, it is nevertheless long on charm.

Very possibly you've heard of "I Do! I Do!" It had a highly successful production earlier this year during the Dallas Summer Musicals season, starring Carol Burnett and Rock Hudson. And, four years ago, Midland Community Theatre and the Midland Symphony Association and Guild joined in sponsoring an excellent production as a special summer benefit to the theater and orchestra. Or, considering the way Midland and Permian Basin folks get around, perhaps you saw the show in its original New York production in the mid-1960s, or caught a performance during the London run a little more recently.

Plays Through Sept. 28.

But wherever and whenever you've seen this gentle show and been caught up in its bright and witty dialogue and happy, tuneful score, you'll likely enjoy seeing the Permian Playhouse version between now and its closing on Sept. 28. Because I think Playhouse associate director James Walters, who achieved a sparkling, seemingly-spontaneous production, one that complements rather than competes with the memory of earlier productions you may have seen with the very able troupe located on the ground floor of east members Barbara foot of the university's new Iglehart and Terry Milligan not buildings. His appearance is sponsored by the Office of Student Life at the university.

Von Hoffman 44, is the author of several books, including "We Are the People Our Parents Warned Us Against" published in 1968 and "Fire side M. Fritze and Bodine Johnson" which was brought out last year. He is also a frequent contributor to the "Texas Monthly" magazine.

Von Hoffman To Lecture At UTPB Wednesday Night

ODESSA Noted author of Plant Counterpoint, feature columnist and commentator for the CBS "Sixty Minutes" program, Nicholas von Hoffman will lead an off-the-current lecture-concert. The lecture will concern the current political and economic scene in America and will begin at 8:30 p.m. in the UTPB main hall on Wednesday night.

Von Hoffman became known first as a columnist with The Washington Post and more recently as commentator on the

Muniz Proposes Sales Tax Repeal

FORT WORTH AP — Rep. Raul Muniz, D-Texas, has suggested replacing the state sales tax with a corporate profits tax. Muniz said he favored abolishing the state sales tax because it "robs you of a nickel and hurts more if you are poor."

that to encapsulate a half-century into a two-hour show takes a bit of doing. Which brings us to one of the chief drawbacks of this show: It is terribly fragmented, of necessity, and this leads to confusion from time to time on the part of the audience as to just where we are, time-wise.

However, the very fact that the play is so fragmentary probably is an advantage because its once-over-lightly approach keeps it out of the realm of bathos and treacly sentimentality. There are those who charge the play with excess sentimentality but, to me, its sentimentality is heart-warming and somehow very honest, seldom shallow or maudlin.

"I Do! I Do!" is by no means a "happy ever after" story. Michael and Agnes, the newlyweds whose life together is chronicled to the time when they are aged and bent, have their happy times—but also their crises. And often it is times of crisis that provide the best moments of the show. For example, the Other Woman who looms in the background during the couple's middle-age years brings forth the show-stopping "Flaming Agnes" number, in which Agnes demonstrates how she too, can kick over the marital traces and find some outside diversion. And there is the very charming "When the Kids Get Married" number in which the couple—be fooling his saxophone and she sewing away on a violin—relate all the things they plan to do when they are free of responsibility for their children.

Winning Numbers

One of the nicest numbers in the entire show is the plaintive "What Is A Woman?" number, sung by Agnes during a personal identity crisis. And Michael has a very winning number, "The Father of the Bride."

The show comes closest to black and white print comic in the final scene wherein the couple, old and bent, prepare to give up their home for an apartment. Their final song, "This House," is very moving. And the show's little gimmick of having the couple make up their faces at dressing tables at each side of the stage to simulate old age is effective. They make an engaging pair of oldsters, particularly Mrs. Iglehart (Agnes) whose impersonation of a very old lady is almost uncanny. I liked this scene very much—and who cares if, indeed, it did bring tears to the eyes?

Milligan and Mrs. Iglehart are probably the youngest actors performing any of three "I Do! I Do!" productions I have to UTPB, he was an assistant seen. And while they perhaps do not provide as much acting maturity as the other Paso.

performers, they probably supply more zest more spontaneity to their roles. Milligan is the better voice of the two while Mrs. Iglehart's comedic sense is keener. They are thus fairly well-balanced and work well together in such numbers as "Nobody's Perfect," "Where Are the Snows?" and "My Cup Runneth Over."

IN SHRINE CIRCUS PARADE — These antique cars took part in the Shrine Circus Parade in Downtown Midland Saturday morning. The circus drew an estimated 5,500 spectators to Saturday matinee and evening performances.

Midland Camera Club's next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Museum of the Southwest Planetarium in Haley Park.

"Ideas for Photo Christmas Cards" and "Print Finishing Techniques," two special films a personal identity crisis. And from Kodak, will be shown at the meeting, to be open to the public.

Winners in the club's recent petition have been announced. They are Glen Ford, first; John Dale and Ed Berry, second; Ed Davis, third.

Walker To Assist President Of UTPB

PROPERTY TAX LOSES AT POLL

According to a recent survey by Opinion Research Corporation for the U.S. Government on the average citizen's opinion on taxes, it will come as no surprise that the results showed that the least popular tax of all was the property tax. The purpose of the survey was to find out attitudes on the proposed value-added tax, property tax, income tax and sales tax.

Although no particular tax received a resounding approval, it was a clear-cut message that American's major complaint with our fiscal system lies with the property tax. When queried as to which tax was the "least fair," 45 per cent selected the property tax, the federal income tax placed a far second with a 19 per cent disapproval.

On the subject of raising more state revenue, 71 per cent preferred increasing taxes on sales or income. On raising more federal funds, 70 per cent of those polled indicated the best method would be to eliminate tax loopholes.

Boston—Cradle Of Liberty—Resembles Integrating Deep South Decade Ago

By TERRY RYAN
BOSTON (AP) — It was like a scene from integration days a decade ago in the Deep South:

A taunting crowd, helmeted police, rocks flying, racial epithets and black children walking silently into a previously all-white school.

TSTA Asks Stand On School Funding By Major Parties

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas State Teachers Association has asked the Texas Democratic and Republican parties to take platform stands for elimination of inequities in school financing.

It was the opening of school in Boston, the cradle of liberty. Mayor Kevin H. White said Saturday the vast majority of Boston residents had responded up with strength during "two difficult days" for "a successful opening of school."

"Monday promises to bring further progress in the lawful, dignified compliance with the court order to desegregate," said White.

There was no trouble inside the schools as the racial balance plan mandated by a federal judge went into effect. The trouble was outside.

Garrity ordered the busing of 8,510 white pupils and 9,725 non-white pupils. In addition, 27,000 rocks smashed the windows of the system's 94,000 pupils school buses. Two policemen were assigned to new schools.

KINDERGARTEN FLOAT — One of the many floats in Saturday's 16th of September Fiesta Parade was manned by these kindergartners from the El Calvario United Methodist Church.

Moynihan Cable Rocks India-U.S. Boat

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Ambassador Daniel P. Moynihan predicted that Prime Minister Indira Gandhi will "proceed to develop nuclear weapons and a missile delivery system, preaching nonviolence all the way."

In his other observation, Moynihan said reports that the CIA helped undermine the regime of former Chilean President Salvador Allende had confirmed Mrs. Gandhi's "worst suspicions and genuine fears" about American policy toward India.

action from the government to the Moynihan cable. Excerpts from it were splashed across Indian newspapers Saturday morning in dispatches from Washington.

Embassy officials said the trip, previously unannounced, had been arranged before Moynihan sent his strongly worded cable to Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger last week.

"She is not sure but that we would be content to see others like her overthrown," Moynihan is reported to have cabled Kissinger. "She knows full well that we have done our share and more of bloody and dishonorable deeds."

Aides said Moynihan planned to leave New Delhi for Washington in the next day or so.

The cable, as reported by the New York Times, could have major repercussions on Indo-American relations and Moynihan's future as ambassador.

There was no immediate reaction from the government to the Moynihan cable. Excerpts from it were splashed across Indian newspapers Saturday morning in dispatches from Washington.

There has been increasing speculation in New Delhi that Moynihan, who arrived here in February 1973 might leave his post after the Kissinger visit.

The embassy officials said Moynihan would help prepare Kissinger's anticipated visit to New Delhi late next month.

The object of the conference—the one here will be one of 11—to seek information which could lead the country out of the morass of inflation and other economic ills.

The Senate Rules and Administration Committee has requested that he submit current market values for some stock and real estate holdings that were listed at their acquisition cost.

In Washington, the State Department confirmed the authenticity of Moynihan's cable but refused to discuss it on the grounds it was a confidential communication between an ambassador and the secretary of state.

The Dallas session will be presided over by Interior Secretary Rogers Morton.

A source who has examined the statement said, for example, that Rockefeller has owned New York real estate for over 60 years and added, "you can imagine what it's worth."

According to published estimates, the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks fell 14.55 in moderate trading on Friday.

The meetings at the Student Center are open to the public and citizens are urged to contribute written statements.

This year's deaths occurred in 1,699 fatal accidents, compared with 2,003 mishaps a year ago.

GRIFFITH, Ind. (AP) — An underground storage cavern spewed liquefied petroleum gas like "Old Faithful" exploded into a ball of flames Saturday and finally burned down enough to allow it to be capped.

Director General of Security Francisco Duenas Gavilan told a news conference earlier that 11 policemen were among the wounded.

Information Minister Pio Cabanillas said it was too early to know who was to blame for the explosion.

Experts from Lakehead Pipeline Co. of Madison, Wis., suppliers for the underground vault containing three million cubic yards of gas, said the explosion was probably the best way of controlling the geyser of gas leaking from the huge tank.

Thereafter those attending will hold separate conferences on oil and gas, coal and electric power, minerals and materials and on recreation and the environment.

He emphasized that assets listed on an original cost basis were clearly marked as such.

Trooper Larry Bartley of the Indiana State Police said no one was injured in the explosion, the cause of which was still under investigation.

After lunch, delegates will assemble to hear reports from the separate conferences.

Overall, Rockefeller reportedly listed assets totaling $37 million and liabilities of $4 million, leaving a net worth of $33 million.

"It caught fire about 5:15 a.m.," Bartley said. "We could see it explode in a big ball of fire."

The Houston sessions will include witnesses from coast to coast.

Lead-off witnesses scheduled Monday include Texas Atty. Gen. John Hill, D. A. McGee, chairman of Kerr-McGee Oil Corp. at Oklahoma City, Hollie Hopper, president of AMAX Coal Co. in Indianapolis.

A geyser of the clear, misty liquid began spewing over 100 feet into the air at 10 p.m. Friday after a cap blew off a storage line used to transfer the liquid into the cavern.

Monday's emphasis will be on federal leasing and regulatory policy. Later sessions will receive testimony on natural gas, electrical power, state and local thermal resources, solar-wind, refinery construction, nuclear power, superports, drilling operations and conservation.

Hearings already have been held in Denver, New York, Boston, Seattle, Chicago, and Kansas City. Others are to be held at Atlanta, Philadelphia, and San Francisco.

Proposed Midland-Odessa Inter-City Routes

Meetings Slated In Midland, Odessa To Discuss North Inter-City Route

The Texas Highway Department announced Saturday that a north-south connecting route will be controlled by locating two public meetings will be held between the two cities. Bill interchanges at highways and for the purpose of discussing Jones of Odessa. Highway will have continuous frontage to the development of a north-south inter-city route between Midland and Odessa. The first public meeting will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 24 in the cafeteria of Goddard Junior High School in Midland. A second meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 25 in the Rare Books Room of the University of Texas at the Odessa Campus at Odessa. The purpose of these meetings is to permit the citizens of Midland and Odessa to participate in the project.

GSA To Tap Special Fund For Nixon

By MICHAEL PUTZEL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Barred from using its own money to provide services for Richard M. Nixon, the General Services Administration will dip into a special fund appropriated for President Ford, a GSA spokesman says.

Government records show that the Ford administration authorized spending up to $450,000 for the former President a week before the new President asked Congress to appropriate funds for the transition. The GSA went ahead and committed about $6,000 of that before Comptroller General Elmer B. Staats ruled it had no authority to do so.

Stiff Opposition
Meanwhile, President Ford's request for $850,000 to help Nixon through the transition from president to private citizen ran into stiff opposition in Congress.

Members of the Senate and House Appropriations subcommittees studying the request indicated it would have to be trimmed and demanded to know why Nixon needed more than twice what former President Lyndon B. Johnson received during a comparable period of transition.

The authorization to start spending GSA money for Nixon's transition came from Roy L. Ash, director of the White House Office of Management and Budget under both Nixon and Ford.

But in a letter to Ash on Tuesday, Comptroller General Staats said:

"After careful examination of existing statutes, we find no authority to utilize current appropriations to the General Services Administration to provide services to former President Nixon."

The government's chief auditor pointed out, however, that Congress had just passed a bill providing $500,000 "for expenses necessary to enable the President to meet unanticipated personnel needs" arising from the transition.

A GSA spokesman said Friday afternoon the Office of Management and Budget had given verbal approval to use funds from that appropriation.

Repairs To Begin On Wall Street

Fred Baker, director of Midland's Public Works Department, announced Friday that a section of West Wall Street, approximately 300 feet west of its intersection with Midkiff Road, would be under construction for a sewer and water line starting Monday morning.

Baker said the street would be torn up one side at a time during the 10 days necessary to complete the lines. Traffic will be diverted first to the south two lanes of Wall Street and later back to the north traffic lanes. It should take approximately five days to complete each side of the 12-inch sewer and water line installations.

Baker said the new lines will cost the city $26,000 and would relieve sewage overloads and low water pressure in the western portion of the city.

'Sickout' Firemen At Houston Face Possible Charges

HOUSTON (AP) — Mayor Fred Hofheinz has asked the Harris County district attorney's office to consider criminal action against any firemen who forged a doctor's certificate for work missed during a recent firemen's three-day sick-out.

Hofheinz said Friday the validity of many of the 589 certificates submitted is questionable. The mayor said any certificates which appear to have forged signatures will be referred to Dist. Atty. Carol Vance.

An estimated 500 firemen took part in the sickout Monday through Wednesday. It ended after a state district court judge issued a restraining order requested by the city.

After the sickout began Fire Chief John Little ordered firemen who said they were ill to submit daily medical certificates signed by doctors.

Three Midland Students Honored At Texas A&M COLLEGE STATION — Three Midland students have earned "Distinguished Student" ranking at Texas A&M University. They are Sherman T. Allenson Jr., Terry W. Howard and Carl B. Scribner. Recipients must have at least a 3.25 grade point average.

Kelly Girls Are Most Sought After In Temporary Help Field

Are you today's woman whose children are all in school? Is there a void after the busy schedule you lived before they all started to school? Why not become a Kelly Girl, the most sought after temporary help on the market?

Remember the first time you had to get up in class to recite a lesson? That's pretty much how you feel right now, isn't it?

You are in your thirties, or maybe your forties or fifties, and you've been off the job scene for quite a few years. Or maybe you've never worked — you've been a wife and a mother, and a darn good one. But let's face it, popping a batch of cookies into the oven or wiping Junior's nose is a lot different from fitting into an office environment.

Go back to work? For some time now, you've been playing the Monday morning game. With your husband off to work and the kids off to school, you pour a second cup of coffee and sit at the kitchen table, scanning the classified section of the newspaper. Yes, there are jobs.

But will you fit in? Do you have any remnants at all of those old skills that once seemed like second nature to you? How much will you have to forget and, perhaps, relearn?

It isn't as though you've been completely housebound. There's been volunteer work for the church, a political candidate or your social club. These all involve certain skills, too — telephone so that the recipient of the call would want to listen to what you have to say and be receptive to it — organizing material for a project so that it would be completed efficiently and quickly — typing letters, or envelopes, or labels. Yes, there even was the time you talked with a state legislator to enlist his aid on a community project. He helped. You had a special sense of achievement.

All of those things formed something of a "second career." But now you're ready for a working, even paying, second career. The point is that you can convert those skills of everyday life into job skills. The right guidance can be the push you need to get you out of that home situation and into the office, either part-time or full-time.

It doesn't cost any more to be a little choosy.

Because Kelly Girl® is well known, lots of people assume that our temporary help costs more.

After all, we choose the best from more than 150,000 applicants every year. And we guarantee our work. (If you're unsatisfied, you don't pay.)

But Kelly Girl temporaries don't cost more. So when you need temporary help, be choosy. Choose Kelly Girl.

Perhaps your goal is not full-time work, but a part-time job. Kelly Girl has made its career in finding the right person for the right job. For over twenty-five years Kelly Girl has been evaluating the skills, experience, know-how and interest of people seeking second careers.

"We have assignments outside the office, too. We need mystery shoppers, hostesses and product demonstrators," Betty Simon, Kelly Girl Resident Manager said. "We need good people to conduct opinion surveys, make phone interviews, assist at trade shows and hostess meetings. Kelly Girl handles all types of situations in the job market for temporary work."

Betty Simon, Resident Manager of the local Kelly Girl, announces the publication of a very helpful book for the woman seeking a second career. Entitled "The Kelly Girl Second Career Guide," it is a refresher for the woman returning to the office, a skill sharpener for the present employer and a complete manual of modern office procedure for the first-time worker, and will greatly benefit the hesitant housewife thinking about returning to the job market.
