Consumer Prices Jump Again

Increase Biggest Surge During Last 12 Months

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer prices soared 1.3 per cent in August as sharp increases in costs of meats, clothing, mortgage interest and medical services led the biggest inflationary surge of the last 12 months, the government reported today.

The leap in retail prices, which works out to an adjusted annual rate of 15.6 per cent, was foreshadowed by near record wholesale price increases over the last two months and virtually assures continued high inflation through 1974.

President Ford's top economic advisers had said Thursday that the economy would remain sluggish at least through mid-1975 with no foreseeable relief in inflation expected in the next six to nine months.

The August increase lifted consumer prices 11.2 per cent above a year ago and further eroded the buying power of American workers.

Real spendable earnings—that is, take-home pay after deductions for taxes and adjusted for inflation—fell nine-tenths of a per cent last month to a level 4.1 per cent below a year ago, the Labor Department said.

That was the lowest level since December 1970. Detailing its price report, the Labor Department said Americans paid more for almost everything last month with few exceptions. Among them were lower prices for fresh vegetables, fish and some nonfood items, including gasoline which declined for the first time since last September.

The Consumer Price Index jump signaled a half billion dollar increase in pension benefits for federal government retirees and military personnel whose retirement benefits are adjusted to account for increases in the cost of living.

The 1.3 per cent rise in consumer prices last month, both adjusted and unadjusted, followed an eight-tenths of a per cent increase in July and was the biggest one month rise reported since retail prices rose 1.7 per cent in June.

Outside the city limits of Del Rio where some persons had built homes on a riverside development despite the warnings of Amistad Dam officials, occupants were forced to evacuate 28 places and those were in flooding, heavy crests kept rolling down streams across most of Texas, keeping lowlands under water in many places but gradually flattening out and posing little danger.

Flooding on the Pecos, however, promised further difficulties downstream where it joins the Rio Grande and Devil's River at Lake Amistad. The rise there forced releases of water to be raised from an already high 10,000 cubic feet per second.

Flooding Isolates West Texas Towns

By The Associated Press

Road-blocking deluges isolated some towns in West Texas and compounded flood miseries over a wide stretch of the state today.

Major flooding developed along the Pecos River, often dry in places, and authorities looked for conditions to grow worse as protracted rains stretched into a second week.

At the same time a new cool front shoving southward through the north part of the Texas Panhandle carried a promise of still more downpours before there is a lull.

Some of the more serious flooding, although there was no word of deaths—occurred around Iraan, into which all roads were closed, and around Rankin, 22 miles north, where only one route was reported open.

At McCarney, 20 miles west of Rankin, Upton County Chief Deputy Sheriff Malcolm Reimers said some ranchers already had been able to determine that losses were heavy among their sheep, goats and cattle. The numbers of animals and cost cannot be learned until high water subsides.

"There also have been some big losses to oil operations," Reimers said. "A lot of tanks have just floated away. Fire broke out yesterday in two tank farms and the firemen couldn't reach 'em—just had to let the fires burn out."

Reimers said his people were assured there had been no deaths from drowning or other severe hardship in the cutoff areas.

While the heavier rains shifted their concentration somewhat farther west, steady showers and thunderstorms continued from the Big Bend country in far West Texas toward the north and east.

Gullywashing showers and thunderstorms extended through areas around Midland, Big Spring, San Angelo and Abilene, and stretched northward into Oklahoma.

Flash flood warnings and National Weather Service were up again across a big part of the affected sections—as they have been for more than a week in some part or another

This latest alert included the area around Abilene, where runaway Elm Creek sent muddy water swirling into at least two dozen homes and some business places only Thursday.

Rainfall measurements in that vicinity went as high as 9.25 inches at Clyde, just east of Abilene.

Showers and scattered thunderstorms also spread southward from the Texas Panhandle through areas from Wichita Falls to around Big Spring, increasing as they advanced.

Skies were at least partly overcast nearly everywhere in the state except for East Texas, where it was generally clear.

Outside the newest areas of flooding, heavy crests kept rolling down streams across most of Texas, keeping lowlands under water in many places but gradually flattening out and posing little danger.

Flooding on the Pecos, however, promised further difficulties downstream where it joins the Rio Grande and Devil's River at Lake Amistad. The rise there forced releases of water to be raised from an already high 10,000 cubic feet per second.

No Further Tightening Of Money Promised

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Arthur F. Burns of the Federal Reserve Board said today there would be no further lightening of monetary policy that has led to record high interest rates.

"It would be undesirable to further intensify monetary restraint," Burns said.

However, he said there probably will not be a major decline in interest rates—although some small decline is possible—in the immediate future.

He gave the news on interest rates to a group of about 60 of the nation's financial leaders attending one of President Ford's pre-summit meetings on the economy.

Burns noted that some short term interest rates already have declined somewhat and indicated that interest rates on home mortgages also could follow although they "traditionally lag behind market rates."

But Burns also stressed there will not be "long and lasting decline in interest rates" until there is help for the Federal Reserve Board in its anti-inflation efforts.

"At another of the pre-summit conferences, leaders of the nation's sick and poor told the government they have suffered more than their share from inflation and need more federal assistance."

The 100 delegates agreed at Thursday's opening sessions of a two-day economic mini-summit conference that they oppose the Ford administration's attempts to cut federal social welfare budget.

The conference is a prelude to the national summit conference Sept. 27-28.

Hurricane Kills 60 In Honduras

GUATEMALA (AP) — Reduced to a tropical storm, Hurricane Fifi headed into southern Mexico today leaving at least 60 dead in northern Honduras.

"It is expected to gradually lose identity later today as it continues westward into southern Mexico."

The populated area hit hardest apparently was around the Honduran town of Ceiba, on the Caribbean coast. The national emergency committee said 41 persons were killed there.

The committee said 12 more of the confirmed dead were children who were swept away by a flash flood in the small inland town of Progreso.

Guanaja, a small town on an island off the Honduran coast, was reported 80 per cent destroyed, and the town of Rostan, on a neighboring island, was about 40 per cent destroyed, officials said. But most of the inhabitants were believed to have been evacuated before the storm struck.

The deferrals, totaling $19.84 billion, include the following major areas:

—$0 billion in grants for waste treatment plants construction, which Ford said would be "highly inflationary, particularly in view of the rapid rise in nonfederal spending for pollution control." He said some of the funds now deferred will be allotted on or prior to Feb. 1, 1975.

—$4.4 billion in federal highway aid for fiscal 1975 and $6.4 billion for fiscal 1976.

Park Proposed On Old Post Office Site

City councilmen and Midland County commissioners Thursday met to discuss possible uses for the old Main Post Office and park on that location and adjoining private property.

Charles H. Priddy, representing Original Towne, Ltd., told the joint session that his group would donate a 100-foot by 140-foot plot of adjoining land if the City of Midland would obtain the old Post Office property from through use of other appropriated funds.

The White House said that a second request for other rescissions and deferrals, also contemplated in earlier budget estimates, will be sent to Congress in the next few weeks.

There also will be additional requests as required to control federal spending and promote an orderly execution of federal programs, the White House said.

Priddy explained Original Towne Ltd. was a non-profit, limited partnership of local citizens interested in improving the Downtown Midland area. He said his group had been purchasing vacant properties in the downtown area for the last year. Among the purchases were two sites adjoining the Post Office location. Buildings on these sites formerly housed the downtown retail stores of Dunlap's and Wilson's.

These two sites, which front on North Main Street and extend westward to the alley behind the old Post Office location make up the property offered by Priddy's (See CITY PARK Page 2A)

Comparing the Soviet and American nuclear arsenals, the survey said the United States in July had 1,710 intercontinental and submarine-launched missiles, while the Russians had 2,296.

Consumer Prices Again Leap Upward

(Continued From Page 1A) cost of services rose 11 per cent last month, about the same as in the three previous months. Commodities other than food — regarded by most economists as a more sensitive barometer of inflation — rose 15 per cent last month, the largest increase on record.

The government said grocery prices were up 15 per cent in August, a month in which they usually decline. Higher prices for beef and eggs — the first since February — were much larger than usual, while prices of poultry and fresh fruits increased instead of declining seasonally.

Shell Pipe Line Gives Equipment To Midland College

Midland College today received $100,000 worth of microwave equipment and associated component parts from Shell Pipe Line Corp.'s Central Division headquarters here.

John E. Roberts, Central Division communications supervisor, said: "We want the college to have a workable electronics school so students can gain the greatest skills possible. We are pleased this equipment will benefit our community."

Mel Goodwin, MC instructor said: "This equipment is absolutely invaluable to us. With it, we will be able to train students in radio telephone and microwave multiple channel communications."

Basic electronics courses already are planned at the college. It is anticipated that courses also will be offered in repair, installation and broadcast transmission.

College officials said the need in Midland for trained personnel in these areas is great.

City Park Proposed On Old Post Office Site

(Continued From Page 1A) said: "There is a good possibility the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation would provide matching funds, based on the fair market value of this site, for park development."

Priddy was accompanied to the meeting by C. J. Kelly, president of The First National Bank; Dr. Al Langford, president of Midland College; Fred Tyler, executive vice president of the Midland Chamber of Commerce; and Jim Allison Jr., executive vice president of The Midland Reporter-Telegram, all of whom urged that the city be allowed to negotiate with GSA for the purpose of developing the downtown park.

John Hyde, assistant city attorney, outlined the legal use requirements for the city or county to acquire the property from the government would have a lifetime recapture provision if the property was ever used for any other purpose.

4. The GSA would handle this negotiation in total under a sale by fair market value of the property to any public body for any purpose. This method has no recapture provision.

Valuations of the old Post Office facility have ranged from $100,000 by the GSA to $215,000 by a private evaluator.

Hyde also reported that the site could be put up for public auction, should the city or county or any other local governmental agency decline to use it under one of the above requirements.

Officials at the meeting said neither the Midland Independent School District nor Midland College was interested in the downtown location, although both would be eligible under the GSA requirements.

City and county officials discussed other possible uses of the old Post Office location. Commissioner Charles Welch reported that the commissioners court had been approached by an unnamed citizen offering to build the county a new annex building on the site for the express purpose of housing a combined tax office for the county, city and school systems. In return for the annex building, Welch reported, the citizen would take, in trade, the present County Annex at 218 W. Illinois St.

But this morning Welch said the citizen had withdrawn his offer after learning of the park proposal.

City Councilman Jim Kent and City Mgr. James Brown reported that the city had been considering the site for construction of a new Municipal Court Building or remodeling of the old Post Office for that purpose.

County Commissioners Welch, Win Brown, Durward Wright and John Thomas attended the joint session with Mayor Ernest Angelo and City Councilmen Kent, Bobby Holt, Mark Martin, and Martin Neill. Absent were Judge Barbara Culver, who was holding court, and Councilman Frank Cahoon, who was out of the city.

The GSA has informed the city and county officials that a decision should be made on the building use by Oct. 7.

DOWNTOWN SCENE — Water fills the streets of downtown Midland late Thursday afternoon. The Upton County community received 10 inches of rain in a 24-hour period. Roads were closed in several surrounding locations.

Flooding Isolates Area Cities

Most of the damage was to highways and streets, he said. "The city official also said, 'There were flooding conditions in town all day yesterday, but today the streets are pretty well clear of water. Shortly before noon today, he reported the rain was continuing.'

Heavy rains were also reported at Sterling City, with an additional two inches of rain filling gauges Thursday afternoon and overnight, boosting the five-day total near 10 inches.

Officials there said the community was experiencing drizzle this morning, with the Sterling City River "up about 15-16 feet."

They indicated the precipitation was falling slowly and evacuation was not yet considered.

Crane received a two-inch downpour Thursday afternoon, with an additional inch falling overnight. Skies there were reported still cloudy this morning and no roads were closed.

Skies dumped 2.23 inches on Big Lake in the 24-hour period since 8 a.m. Thursday. Residents said a light rain was continuing this morning.

Garden City and Lamesa each had an estimated 2 inches in the last 24 hours and were both getting more precipitation this morning.

Stanton reported a total of 6.25 inches for the five-day rain and 3.6 inches have been registered in the Big Spring area.

Royce Brookmole, district manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in Midland, this morning said the communities of Sheffield, Iraan and Rankin are isolated from telephone service, Sheffield having been cut off since Wednesday.

Brookmole said communication with Rankin is expected to be restored this afternoon following installation of some 1,800 feet of cable. He added, however, that restoration of telephone service into Rankin will not affect the situation at Iraan and Sheffield.

The district manager said he did not know when communication to those areas would be restored.

Andrews precipitation tallied .36 inch for Thursday and overnight. Skies this morning were cloudy and no rain had been reported.

The Tall City was still under flash flood watch for afternoon hours, with a 70 per cent probability of more rain this afternoon and 50 per cent chance for tonight reported by the National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal.

The official total for Midland's rainfall during the 24-hour period before 6 a.m. today was 1.36 inches, boosting the month's total to 3.80 inches and the year's tally to 11.75 inches.

Forecasters predicted a high mercury mark in the mid-70s for this afternoon and Saturday with a low tonight in the middle 60s. Thursday's high temperature registered 72 degrees, followed by an overnight low of 69.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Police searched today for 10 inmates—some awaiting trial in a brutal double abduction-slaying—after a daring break from the Dade County jail.

Police said an 11th escapee Joseph Reese, was captured seven blocks from the jail early this morning, four hours after he and the other 10 fled Reese was being held on robbery charges.

The accused slayer, Thomas Knight, 23, and the other 10 police said, all were from the Miami area.

The men escaped by breaking through the outside wall of a fourth floor cell, lowering themselves on a makeshift rope to the roof of an exercise building two floors below and making their way to the ground from there, jail officials said.

Knight was being held on two charges of first-degree murder in the July 17 kidnap-slaying of Sydney Gans, 64, and his wife Lillian, 60.

Gans, owner of a paper bag company, was forced by a rifle.

Five Former Carrasco Allies Plead Guilty To Drug Charges — Federal authorities have obtained guilty pleas to heroin smuggling from five former members of the underworld ring of Fred Gomez Carrasco.

Carrasco was slain Aug. 3 in the fiery conclusion of a standoff at the Huntsville state prison as he and two other convicts sought freedom with their contraband weapons and hostages.

The federal indictment which named Carrasco was returned in April and alleged Carrasco ran the ring while he was in Bexar County jail between June 1973 and January 1974, awaiting trial on state charges of attempting to kill a police officer.

Carrasco, 33, went to state prison in January after pleading guilty.

The federal indictment alleged he met with the five persons who pleaded guilty Thursday while he was in the county jail.

Guilty pleas were entered by Daniel Jaramillo, 26; Fidel "Tio" Saucedo, 45; Emelia Cortez, 29; Ruby Sanchez, 31; and Juan Gomez Zamora, 41.

Federal authorities have identified Juan Zamora as Carrasco's half-brother and Fidel Saucedo as a former police official in Rosita, Mexico.

Also named in the indictment were Carrasco's wife, Rosa, who is still at large and believed to be in Mexico.

Subpoena Likely To Hasten Official Opinion On Nixon Health

THE MIDLAND REPORTER-TELEGRAM, FRIDAY, SEPT. 20, 1974-3A

By MIKE SHANAHAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — A new subpoena for Richard M. Nixon to appear in the Watergate cover-up trial is likely to hasten an official opinion on the former president's health.

Special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski issued the subpoena for Nixon to make himself available as a prosecution witness on Oct. 1, the day the trial is to start, a spokesman said Thursday.

It was served by FBI agents at Nixon's San Clemente, Calif., estate at 8:50 p.m. EDT on Thursday.

Nixon, meanwhile, issued a claim of executive privilege in a move to keep his tape recordings from use in two civil suits stemming from the Watergate break-in.

Unlike an earlier subpoena issued by lawyers for cover-up defendant John D. Ehrlichman, the new summons for Nixon is likely to make an early issue of Nixon's health.

Ehrlichman is seeking Nixon's testimony on the alleged cover-up, but the defense is unlikely to begin its case until late October or November.

Jaworski needs Nixon's testimony early in the trial, sources familiar with the case said on Thursday.

The prosecutors need the former president to authenticate more than 30 White House tapes which they plan to play for the jury. The tapes include many conversations between Nixon and cover-up defendants.

Before the tapes can be admitted as evidence, someone must testify to their accuracy as recordings of real conversations. According to two lawyers not directly involved in the trial, in past criminal trials the only persons who can do that are those who joined in the conversations or at least were present when they took place.

In addition, lawyers say Nixon is probably the only one who can testify whether the tapes were tampered with in any way because he personally dictated who would have access to them as the Watergate investigations continued to unfold.

Nixon, reportedly planning to enter a hospital next week, is suffering from a blood clot disease called phlebitis. His lawyer, Herbert J. Miller, has acknowledged the former president has shown "serious signs of strain and physical fatigue."

Miller, as he has done in an unrelated civil suit in California, is expected to ask U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica to quash the subpoenas seeking Nixon's testimony.

A legal clerk to Sirica, Todd Christofferson, said on Thursday that in cases where a defendant's or a witness' health is in question, the judge usually appoints a doctor to make an independent examination.

Christofferson said no decision has been made by Sirica on that yet, but the subject is likely to come up at a meeting between the judge and prosecution and defense lawyers next Tuesday.

Meantime, Nixon issued his executive privilege claims to quash subpoenas for the tapes in a civil suit filed by a Democratic party official whose Watergate office was bugged and in a suit by the Democratic National Committee against Watergate burglar James W. McCord. McCord had sought the tapes for his defense.

Head Of Senate Panel More Interested In What Rocky's Holdings Are Rather Than Their Total

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nelson A. Rockefeller puts his personal fortune at $62.5 million, but the head of a committee probing his vice presidential nomination is more concerned with what the holdings are than their total.

Rockefeller issued a statement on Thursday listing his personal fortune and saying he also receives income from two trusts with assets of $120 million.

sets owned outright and in the two trusts amount to approximately $162.5 million."

The $62.5 million figure includes the $33 million listed earlier, some $20.5 million in art and real estate to be given away at his death and some $9 million representing updated appraisals of art and real estate that were unavailable when the first report was filed. More details will be included in the opening statement Rockefeller will present to the Rules Committee on Monday.

Hearings before the House Judiciary Committee, which apparently is planning an exhaustive look at the Rockefeller fortures, may be put off until after the November elections. The Judiciary Committee is doing its own calculations of Rockefeller's net worth, and its investigators are not expected to finish until mid-October, about the time both House and Senate plan to recess until after the Nov. 5 elections.

Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., chairman of the Senate Rules Committee, said, "The significance of his financial holdings is what the holdings are in and whether there is a likelihood of a conflict of interest."

Cannon said the Rules Committee will question the former New York governor closely about some of his holdings.

Rockefeller issued a summary on Thursday of what he termed "the final and complete data" on his finances.

As aides had promised, the total was substantially higher than the $33 million personal worth figure that had leaked from the House and Senate committees preparing for confirmation hearings.

Including the $62.5 million in personal holdings, the statement declared that "total as-

INTERNATIONAL AWARDS — The Midland Chapter, Parents Without Partners, Inc., is the recipient of two international awards, a first place for chapter programming in "B" Class (50 to 100 members) and second place for 1973-74 children's programming. Jack A. Schulenburg, president of the Midland chapter is shown with Mrs. Karen Hosier, left, first vice president and Mrs. Candice Maus, delegate to the regional conference of PWP held last month in Amarillo. Announcement of the award winners was made during the 15th annual convention of PWP in Seattle, Wash., in July and presented to Mrs. Maus at the Amarillo meet.

PWP Chapter Wins Recognition

At a recent regional conference of Parents Without Partners, Inc. in Amarillo, it was disclosed that the Midland chapter had won first place for chapter programming in the "B" Class (50-100 members).

The award is an international one, made at the 15th international convention of Parents Without Partners, Inc. held in Seattle, Wash. Competition was based on a random sampling of 1974 programming from chapter newsletters.

The Midland chapter also received the second place award for children's programming during 1973-74 in Zone K, Class A.

Both awards were presented to Midland chapter delegate to the regional conference, Mrs. Candice Maus.

Parents Without Partners is an international, non-profit, non-sectarian, educational organization devoted to the welfare and interests of single parents and their children. It was incorporated in March, 1958 in the State of New York and now has chapters in every State of the Union, in Canada, and in Australia, with a membership of approximately 93,000. Its program and activities are entirely the volunteer work of members.

Interested single parents in the Midland area are invited to visit the chapter and may telephone 683-4241 for further information.

POLLY'S POINTERS Christmas Gifts Make First Grade Project

By POLLY CRAMER
 Newspaper-Midland Association

Polly's Problem — I need ideas for things first grade children could start making as Christmas gifts for their mothers plus suggestions for things the teacher could make for children that age as Christmas gifts.

WILLIJA ANN — I live in New Mexico, where silver jewelry is very popular. The problem of dress discoloration from tarnish often comes up. If Mrs. H.R.S. will coat her silver coin that is set in a frame to make a pendant with clear nail polish and let it dry thoroughly before wearing, her problem should be solved. Similar solutions often used are coating with a clear spray lacquer or even using hair spray but the latter has to be repeated more frequently as it wears off quickly.

(Polly's note: If the coin is large enough to be a collector's item any coating may affect its value, so be sure of what you have before proceeding. The frame, holding the coin may extend further out than the coin and may be the troublemaker. Perhaps it alone could be jeweled I spoke with suggested the nail polish, too, but says if one does not wish to do this because of the coin's value it should be washed in soap and water every time it is worn. Accumulated dirt and oxidation cause the marks on clothing.)

I also would like to respond to Mrs. V.D.'s complaint concerning drivers slowing down too much when making a right hand turn. In many states the following driver is considered at fault so she should be sure she is not tail-gating (the most common cause of rear end collisions) and that she keeps a consistent eye on the brake lights of the car ahead. When driving large cars it is often necessary to make a nearly complete stop to make a right hand turn successfully and not swing too wide.

PATRICIA — I was about to discard my Lazy Susan when I decided to put it under a large house plant. This certainly makes for easy turning of the plant to the light or for watering. — MRS. O.T.H.

President, Mrs. Gerald Pitts, announced that the next meeting will be a guest brunch in the home of Mrs. Lynn Hunt, 2601 Dengar St. All interested alumnae are urged to attend and bring a guest.

FALL TOPPERS — Corduroy makes high-fashion mileage in casual wear or with fall's longer, fuller skirts. Ideal as a car coat, the topper, left, is shown with gray plaid pants and a print shirt. Sweater and longer skirt, right, look great with knee boots. Navy sweater is in easy-care acrylic. Geometric print shirt is in nylon/acetate and button-front skirt is in double knit acrylic.

Fall Toppers
Are Going Places

From HELEN HENNESSY
NEA Woman's Editor

For gals on the go, fall toppers are destined to win, place and show. Whether it's behind the wheel of a shiny sports car, on the seat of a motorbike, or just a walk in the country, new toppers provide fashion mileage. And that's exactly what one company had in mind when it designed its new line of toppers, top contenders in the fall fashion race.

As precisely styled as the sharpest entry in a sports car race, these new coats reflect casual ease plus unique detailing. Corduroys, tweeds and solids show huge patch pockets, some with flaps and button accents. Wide-flared, turnback cuffs or long barrel cuffs are featured. Frog button closings are also popular in the new swingy toppers. Colors are rich berry tones, plums, purples, greens and earthy rusts.

Bearing as much resemblance to the old car coats of a decade ago as the Stanley Steamer does to the sleekest new Grand Prix Ferrari, these new toppers are crisply tailored and trim. Some feature hoods that form dramatic cowl collars.

Match them to pants, or wear them with the new slightly longer skirts and over-the-knee boots. These new toppers are modestly priced, available at leading department and specialty shops, and come in sizes 5 through 13.

Dear Abby

—By Abigail van Buren

Their Eighth Try For A Boy Is Still 50-50

DEAR ABBY: You should have told "Mother of Eight Daughters" to tell the doctor who told her, "The law of averages is in your favor, 100 to one," to go back to medical school for courses in genetics and statistics.

Theoretically, no matter how many children of what sex a couple already have, the odds are very close to 50-50 that the next one will be a girl. Before this couple had any children the doctor could have predicted that if they went on to have eight children, the odds were 256 to one against all eight being girls.

But that isn't the question the doctor was asked. He was asked, "Of all the families that have seven girls born already, what are the odds that the eighth will be a boy?" In summary, the proper prediction to give this couple, if asked for advice concerning an eighth try for a boy, would be, "The normal odds are 50-50, but in your case there may be other factors causing you to bear only girls, so I would have to say that your eighth child is more likely to be a girl than a boy."

SARA K WEINBERG, CLASS OF 1977 UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

DEAR SARAH: You belong at the head of the class, which is probably where you are. Congratulations.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me if I am wrong or right. There was a tv program (a special) I had looked forward to seeing for a long time. I was invited to play cards that night, but declined because I wanted to see it.

About 15 minutes before it was to go on, in came my sister-in-law and mother-in-law! They don't live very far from me, and we see each other quite often. I get along fine with my sister-in-law, but my mother-in-law is a different story.

I said, "I'll fix coffee, but I do want to see a tv program which goes on in 15 minutes."

Daughter Born

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Martin of Houston announce the birth of a daughter, Lee Anne, Sept. 13 in Midland Memorial Hospital, weighing 8 pounds, 2 ounces.

The new arrival has a brother, Jeffrey Scott, 1 1/2 years old. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Adams, 4719 Gulf St., and Mrs. Troy Martin of Denver City.

Please stay and watch it with me?"

My mother-in-law said, "Don't bother making coffee, we can't stay." Then she pulled my sister-in-law by the arm and they left.

The next day my sister-in-law called and said, "For a smart woman, you sure are dumb!" Then she laid me out because I didn't just skip the tv program and entertain her and Mom.

I want your opinion on this incident.

BURNING IN BOSTON

DEAR BURNING: I don't know why anyone (relative or otherwise) should drop in uninvited and unannounced and expect to be treated like an invited guest. They should have called first and given you a chance to say, "I'm sorry, but I have plans. How about tomorrow night?"

DEAR ABBY: I am an 18-year old girl who has been married for two years. No kids, (I lost the baby I was P.G. with when I got married, and can't have any more kids.)

Like most couples, Bill and I have our fights, and when we do I call up my folks and mention it, and they drive right down to "rescue" me.

They live 300 miles away, and by the time they get here I've cooled off and so has Bill, but they make me go home with them to think things over anyway. They treat me like a child — not a grown woman.

They're hoping I'll leave Bill for good because they never wanted me to marry him in the first place. He does run around on me sometimes, but he was only 18 when we got married, and I was the only girl he ever had, so maybe he just has to get it out of his system.

I sure wish my folks would quit trying to talk me into leaving Bill. I really love him even though we fight a lot. I feel like I'm being pulled in two directions.

MISERABLE IN KANSAS

DEAR MIS: If you're being "pulled in two directions" you're asking for help. But if you really love Bill, quit whining to your parents every time you have a fight and get some professional counseling.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose, stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

A Great Fiesta!

The third annual 16th of September Fiesta, sponsored by the Midland Eastside Lions Club, was one of the best and most successful events of its kind ever held in Midland.

And the parade, which was a highlight of the celebration, was one of the longest and most colorful seen here in a long time.

The overall fiesta, commemorating the winning by Mexico of its independence from Spain in 1821, attracted several thousand persons from throughout West Texas.

It was well-planned and well-presented. All those who had a hand in its successful staging are due commendation for a job well done.

Araceli Otero, representing the Mexican consulate at Del Rio, was an honored guest at the fiesta and the principal banquet speaker. Other dignitaries also were on hand for the special occasion.

From the opening banquet last Friday night to the concluding dance Sunday night, it was a fun-filled fiesta, with never a dull moment in between. The crowning of the celebration's queen was another highlight of the celebration. Other events included a Jaripelo Mexicano (Mexican rodeo), an American rodeo, golf tournament, baseball game, talent show, and other special attractions.

It was the kind and type of celebration for which all Midland may be proud.

Congratulations to all concerned on the success of the 1974 fiesta. Chances are the 1975 celebration will be even bigger and better.

Better Register NOW!

Voter Registration Week in Texas is drawing to a close and it is hoped that persons who had not previously qualified for voting have done so this week.

But if you let this week pass without registering, it doesn't mean that it is too late to qualify. We would suggest, however, that you take care of the matter promptly by visiting the county tax assessor-collector's office. A person can qualify to vote at any time within 30 days of an election. The next General Election is scheduled Nov. 5. You will want to cast your ballot at that time.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe, in his official memorandum designating Voter Registration Week, pointed out that the right to vote is one of the most important rights guaranteed under the Constitution. This right of citizenship, however, "cannot be exercised valuably unless each qualified voter accepts the responsibility to be a part of the decision-making process of our government," he explained.

Remember, please, that registration is the first step in exercising the right to vote.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: Here's more information on the Mafia.

WASHINGTON — In an earlier column, we began the confessions of Eugene Ayotte, better known inside the Mafia as "Johnny A.," who has been hiding under a false identity since he defected to the Justice Department six years ago.

He has talked to us at length about his life in the Mafia. We also have obtained confidential FBI reports of his interviews with agents. His revelations provide the most dramatic account of Mafia operations since the late Joe Valachi ripped the veil of secrecy from this sinister society in 1963.

Ayotte has described a hitherworld of violence, corruption and profit. It is a world ruled by a few overlords who command the unquestioning loyalty of their criminal subjects. The penalty for disobedience is death. It is a strange, mystic world whose roots are sunk deep in Sicily but whose methods are those of modern America.

Johnny A., a swarthy, handsome man with a Runyonesque flair, was a swindler. He specialized in arranging burglaries and burnings for shady businessmen who would collect the insurance and sometimes a share of the fenced goods. He also helped the Mafia take over failing businesses.

He pressed the proprietor of a Detroit lounge to cash his bad checks, for example, until the poor fellow went broke. Then the Mafia stepped in, bailed him out and took over the bar. In short order, the Mafia managers set up a poker table in the cellar and began raking in profits from both booze and gambling. The lounge began attracting celebrities, among them Detroit Lions football stars Wayne Walker and Mike Lucif, who got into a scuffle. The publicity frightened the Mafia, which hastily abandoned its interest in the lounge.

Landed in Slammer Ayotte's most prodigious business venture — a classic example of how the Mafia operates a legitimate business — landed him in the slammer for bankruptcy fraud.

With $13,500 handed to him by Detroit's mob enforcer Mike Rubino, Johnny A. opened a furniture store. From the beginning, he said, it was to be a "just-out joint" — that is, a business which would be pilked and then bankrupted, leaving all the creditors with empty hands.

Ayotte opened a bank account with the $13,500, wangled a registration license from the City and provided Dun and Bradstreet, with a cock-and-bull story to impress creditors. Then Ayotte and his Mafia partners spent the $13,500 on furniture.

The cash purchase and the Dun and Bradstreet rating enhanced and you overtake your king with dummy's ace in order to lead the three of trumps. If East just plays the 10 you finesse your queen; plank down your ace; drop the king and make your contract.

Now suppose that East plays the king. It happens to be his correct play in this specific situation. You have never seen East before. You take a look. If East looks like a tough man you may play him for the 10.

But East happens to be a Little Old Lady. So you lead toward dummy, finesse the nine and wind up one trick short with the sad knowledge that you have found the female of the species to be as deadly as the male.

Americans Buy Blades By Billion

MORRIS PLAINS, N.J. (AP) — If all the razor blades sold in the United States last year could be stacked in a pile, they would just about equal the height of Mount McKinley, at 29,320 feet North America's highest peak.

According to researchers at the Schick Safety Razor Co. here, approximately 1.9 billion blades were sold in the U.S. last year. They averaged five one-thousandths of an inch in thickness each, and on top of one another would make a stack more than 20,000 feet high.

RAY CROMLEY Courts' Performance Is A Crime In Itself

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Sometimes government spending borders on the ridiculous. There's a compulsiveness there not connected with results.

Take the case of federal aid to the courts, a most worthy cause. Back case loads run to 33,000 or more in some counties. Those arrested wait an average seven to eight to 10 months for trial in too many areas. Court delays reduce public confidence, make crime deterrence more difficult and increase the problems in rehabilitating those who break the law. The innocent lose jobs, their families are broken up or forced on welfare. The guilty are free on bail to commit more crimes.

The overpowered court backlogs lead to an abuse of plea bargaining, offering too much leniency for guilty pleas, extreme hardships for not guilty pleas, and too quick decisions aimed more at clearing the calendar than meeting justice.

The studies show our courts are abominably managed. No corporation, except last year, without going broke or facing criminal charges with such little regard for financial management and such inefficiency. With few exceptions, record keeping in court systems is primitive. In most jurisdictions, the most rudimentary management information systems are not met. Available court statistics are fragmentary and frequently poorly defined. Few courts even know how long it takes to process and dispose of their own criminal cases.

The federal government, with the best of intentions, has provided almost $300 million for improving court procedures and systems. But the government does not know whether its projects are attacking its most important way, the problems that need solving. Few of the operating programs have been evaluated.

There are indications, in fact, that half the federal regional offices do not have staffs capable of reviewing or evaluating these highly technical matters. Men assigned to the job lack expertise and turnover has been heavy. The local officials operating these costly programs have been frank to admit they don't know what is really working — what, basically, are the underlying causes of the problems the court system faces, or why delays exist.

Except in generalities, little effort has been made to define what needs doing. Programs using federal funds for court improvement have not been geared to concrete definable problems. Federal regional offices haven't bothered to encourage grant managers to set measurable goals supported by specific data. Half the projects studied in a recent survey had no inventory data on their usage and only incomplete information on the number of judges, district attorneys, public defenders and their caseloads. Though they knew little about what they were doing, they spent the government money full tilt all the same.

There has been pitifully little effort to direct the government's funds toward the hot spots. Court delays, as noted above, are now recognized as due primarily to inefficient administration. A mere 17 per cent of the government's court improvement money has been targeted at this problem.

Worse, when a program succeeds or fails in one court system, little effort is made to pass the results to other localities — so that they might

DON OAKLEY Arms Sales SALT In World's Wounds

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Of what use will nuclear arms limitation agreements and diplomatic detente between the United States and Russia be if the major powers continue to peddle the means of war to the smaller nations, particularly in the Middle East where the world could yet be dragged into a general holocaust?

Western defense sources report that the Soviet Union has supplied Syria with medium-range missiles that could hit Israeli cities, thus adding a horrifying new dimension to any future conflict between them. Soviet arms supplies to Syria alone since the October war last year are estimated at $2 billion worth.

The Russians could argue that if they didn't sell missiles to Syria, somebody else would, either the United States or France — two sources to which Egypt, in fact, has been looking since its disenchantment with the Soviets.

The international arms business is indeed big business, and getting bigger. In the field of aerospace hardware alone, Aviation Week & Space Technology magazine recently reported that the boom continues to expand, both geographically and fiscally, exceeding the forecasts of even the most "optimistic" marketeers.

Reopened Spigot Britain, which sells the Harrier strike fighter among other things, has reopened its spigot to the Middle East, which has been turned off during the war.

France is enlarging its share of the market with Mirage jet fighter sales and is now considering building an assembly plant in Pakistan to supply all Arab world customers.

Iran soon will have the most formidable interceptor force in that part of the world, with its 30 Grumman F-14 Tomcat fighters. Israel is also hoping to acquire the new generation of U.S. fighters.

In Europe, says the magazine, "the combat aircraft market is being played for high stakes with rough tactics under the darkening shadow of an increased threat from a new generation of Soviet combat technology now being deployed by the Warsaw Pact nations."

In South America, the shift in official U.S. policy to permit American firms to sell military hardware "has had a marked effect in blunting the French penetration."

It all looks just dandy on the corporate balance sheet. But is this really what the world needs?

APPEARS BEFORE COMMITTEE IN AUSTIN—

Coastal States Chief Favors Utility Commission

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Oscar Wyatt, president of Coastal States Gas Corp., has surprised a House committee by saying natural gas pipelines and other utilities should be regulated by a special state agency.

Wyatt is, to many, the villain of the South Texas energy crunch that has sent electric bills soaring in the Austin-San Antonio area.

His appearance before the House Energy Crisis Committee Thursday was blunt to the point of arrogance, and he belittled chairman Jon Newton, D-Beeville, several times during his 2 1/2-hour appearance.

The committee, with a mandate from Gov. Dolph Briscoe, is seeking ways by which the legislature might alleviate the rising cost of electricity, usually generated with boilers fired by natural gas.

Newton grilled Wyatt from the bench of the Old Supreme Court Chambers in the Capitol.

In answer to a question from Newton, Wyatt said: "I am not a qualified attorney. Perhaps you are—I wouldn't know from this sitting."

"We'll probably have a chance to explore that later on," Newton replied.

Wyatt criticized the Texas Railroad Commission's failure to act quickly on a rate increase sought last year by Coastal States subsidiary Lo-Vaca Gathering Co. The Commission granted a much smaller amount than was requested.

Lo-Vaca, under long-term contracts to feed gas to the Austin, San Antonio and Lower Colorado River Authority generators, has been unable to supply the full amounts promised in 1973 and 1974. Wyatt has maintained the gas shortage resulted from inadequate prices.

A court-appointed board of directors now manages Lo-Vaca, but Coastal States is required to cover the firm's indebtedness.

Because of accelerating gas prices and the need to supplement natural gas with more expensive fuel oil, electricity bills in San Antonio and Austin approximately doubled this summer.

"It would be fabulous if the legislature passed some rules that said to the (railroad) commission, 'Act!'" Wyatt said. He recommended a 90-day deadline for action on proposed rate increases.

"Would you be in favor of a public utility commission?" Newton asked.

"This is going to make me even more unpopular, but, yes," Wyatt said.

He said such a commission should have five members, one named by the governor and two in each appointed by the House and Senate, with six-year staggered terms. Wyatt said its jurisdiction should extend to natural gas with more external gas pipelines, now regulated by the elected three-man railroad commission.

"We need the utilities policed so that politics is divorced from rate-making," Wyatt said.

He and Coastal States attorney Tracy DuBose both said Coastal is under no obligation to live up to the San Antonio, Austin and LCRA gas supply contracts that were signed some 12 years ago when gas was plentiful and cheap. To do so, DuBose said, would impair the supply to hundreds of other customers.

Woman Elected Bank President

LOS ALAMOS, N.M. (AP) — The first woman bank president in New Mexico is Mona Williams at Los Alamos National Bank.

Mrs. Williams, with Los Alamos National since 1968, succeeds Mike Astle, who resigned Wednesday.

Astle, president since 1972, is leaving to become vice president and administrative officer of the Central Bank & Trust in Wichita, Kan.

Los Alamos National Bank board chairman George A. Cowan announced Mrs. Williams' election Wednesday.

Women who use these so-called lubricants, as substitutes for moisturizers are actually causing the skin to wrinkle. Because they are not water-soluble, these lubricants leave a film on the face. Suit Accuses Three Food Chain Store Firms Of Price-Fixing Conspiracy

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A suit accusing three food chain store companies of conspiring to fix meat prices has been filed in U.S. District Court here.

The suit was brought Thursday by several Texas Panhandle feeding companies and cattle feeders against Kroger Co., Safeway Stores, Inc., and the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. (A&P).

Also named as defendants in the suit filed before U.S. District Court Judge Halbert O. Woodward were all retail meat produce dealers who are members of the National Association of Food Chain Stores.

Plaintiffs claimed the stores conspired to fix prices for livestock and processed meat products.

Those bringing the suit are G. B. Buske of Friona and his corporation, Pioneer Cattle Buyers, Inc.; A. L. Black of Friona, an independent feeder; Procheo Cattle Co. of Amarillo and a subsidiary, Hereford Feed Yards of Hereford; Solana Corp. of Amarillo and Eureka Cattle Co. of Hereford.

The suit accuses the defendants of practicing fraudulent concealment by using membership in the National Association of Food Chain Stores to make antitrust decisions during secret meetings.

Judge Woodward set no date for a hearing in the case.

In a similar case in San Francisco last July, a federal court jury granted a $32.7 million judgment against A&P.

The California suit named Kroger and Safeway as defendants. They settled out of court.

An appeal is pending in the California case.

Bulldogs, Plainsmen Square Off At Memorial Stadium

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Wet Field May Wreck Form Charts

By TED BATTLES
Midland High takes a 2-0 record into tonight's game with Lubbock Monterey at Memorial Stadium, which is 1-1, and although the Bulldogs rate the favorite's role, rain and a wet field could be the old equalizer, although nobody wants to play in the mud.

Monterey Coach James Odem has no desire to play on a wet field, "Midland is heavier than we are and if it's muddy, I'm afraid they'll run over us."

Midland Coach John Reddell doesn't feel a wet field will be to the Bulldogs' advantage either. "We have no desire to play on a wet field."

And probably Galberson Zachery, who spent the summer and spring weeding, coaxing and cajoling a thick stand of grass on the Memorial Stadium floor, is against playing on a wet field most of all, since cleats on a soft surface could tear up in one night several months of hard work.

Wet or not, the Bulldogs will square off at 8 p.m. against the Plainsmen and Reddell will be counting on a crunching ground game and a stingy defense to give him his first victory over Monterey after a one-point loss here in 1972 and a tie at Lubbock in 1971.

The Bulldogs have a couple of 10-yard ball carries in fullback Mike Gaddy and Mike Hudspeth in a Wishbone-T that has amassed just under 300 yards per game in victories over Amarillo Tascosa and Eastwood.

"And Kim Madden (halfback) is coming along," notes Reddell. "Against Eastwood he did a better job of cutting up field behind his blocks than he had a week earlier."

"One thing we must improve on is the pass protection for quarterback John Webb," he added.

Last week, guard Bruce Smith and tackle Tom Dunlap opened the hole on Gaddy's first touchdown run and then later tackle Bill Rhotenberry, guard Holt Cowden and Hudspeth opened the hole on the right side that set up a long run that led to another touchdown.

Physically, the Bulldogs are ready. Linebacker Mitch Irvin and Hudspeth were fighting the sniftles during the week, but both are expected to be ready tonight. If they aren't Terry Whitaker will replace Hudspeth in the backfield and Dunlap will be at linebacker.

Monterey runs out of a stacked I with 6-5, 190-pound Scott Gardner at quarterback and 5-6, 154-pound Ricky Keith and Jim Allen the top runners.

Defensively, linebacker White, 190, end Greg Lee, 160, rover Len Stallings and safety Brad House are the Monterey stalwarts.

The Plainsmen beat Canyon in their opener and then lost to Wichita Falls Rider, the state's No. 3 ranked AAAA team, 24-6, last week.

Midland's last victory over Monterey came in 1971, 6-0, on a muddy field and before that the last win came in 1965, so the Plainsmen have held the upper hand in recent years to take an 11-7-1 lead.

5-4A Takes 15-1 Record Into Final Pre-District Weekend

Dirk West Views 5-4A...

With just one loss in its first 16 starts on the opening two weekends, District 5-4A will be hard-pressed to copy time that spectacular record on the final weekend of predistrict play.

There are three games in which the league will be the underdog... when Abilene hosts Temple, Abilene Cooper travels to Killeen and when Big Spring goes to Snyder.

Midland Lee and Midland face tough foes. The Rebels travel to Plainview to face the rebuilding Bulldogs, who are 1-1, under George Kirk in his first year at the helm as coach. Midland never has an easy time with Monterey.

San Angelo is a solid choice, however, over Dallas Carter at San Angelo in the other game tonight.

In two Saturday games, Odessa Permian figures to make it three in a row at the expense of Fort Worth Wyatt at W. T. Barrett Stadium while Odessa High will invade New Mexico to play Hobbs, a perennial Land of Enchantment power that lost 13-6 to Big Spring last week.

Big Spring has a couple of wins, but fullback Welton Cobb gives the Snyder Tigers the edge in this one. If the Steers can bottle up Cobb and move the ball on the ground, as they did for 317 yards last week, Coach Bob Burris could head into district play with a 3-0 record.

Lack of an offensive punch makes Cooper the underdog against Killeen, but the Kangaroos have managed just four touchdowns. Last week Killeen was beaten by San

Abilene, the league's only loser, figures to have problems against Temple, which last week beat Austin Reagan, 14-12, but Coach Bill Shipman will have junior Bobby Lawson at quarterback for the first time and that could make a difference.

Lee goes into tonight's game.

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — The 19,000 students at its Carbon-Missouri Valley Conference campus, it will be the largest school in the conference.

Southern Illinois had been under consideration for the 67-year-old conference for months. The Salukis will begin spring sports competition in the Valley next spring.

Football and basketball schedules are being reviewed to allow Southern Illinois to start competition for those titles as quickly as possible.

Southern Illinois has a new 26,000-seat football stadium under construction and has a 10,000-seat basketball arena. With an enrollment of about 19,000 students at its Carbon-Missouri Valley Conference campus, it will be the largest school in the conference.

Odom Remembers High Spots Of Long Series

James Odom has been at Lubbock Monterey so long he can remember the second game between Midland High and the Plainsmen back in 1957.

It was played in Jones Stadium, but when the high schools still used Texas Tech's home field for games, and it was before they pushed back the east stands and excavated for the lower deck and present field.

Monterey kicked off to Midland and the ball rolled into the end zone. Two Bulldogs stood over the ball and looked at it. Finally they were joined by a couple of Monterey players. Everybody just stood around looking at the still ball.

That's when common courtesy paid off in a touchdown.

One of the Monterey players stooped over, picked up the ball and handed it to the referee. He dropped the ball in honor when the official threw up his hands instead of taking the ball. Of course, it was the signal for a touchdown. The clock hadn't ticked away one second and Monterey was ahead 7-0.

"It didn't do us any good, though," recalls Odom. "As I recall, Midland still came back and beat us something like 33-7." Odom joined the Monterey staff as an assistant in 1955 the year the school was opened and he stayed on for seven years before a couple of years at Petersburg. When he came back, it was as head coach.

He was there when Midland invaded the Lower Field back in the early 1960's and recalls the gloom that surrounded the team when it was learned on the eve of the game the starting senior quarterback for the Plainsmen had been knocked out of action.

Monterey had to start a sophomore named Bobby Lewis. He'd never played a varsity game before, but he fooled the Bulldogs, something like 20-7.

"I remember," says James. "And a funny thing, after his sophomore year, Lewis never played quarterback again. We made him a running back as a junior. He was just a good athlete and could do everything." Since Odom has been head coach, Midland beat Monterey in 1971, 6-0, and before that the last time was in 1965. "I remember that one too. Midland beat us 22-21 in a wild finish. But it turned out to be a good year for us. We made the state quarterfinals."

This week's forecast: Midland 14, Lubbock Monterey 7 — We'll take Odom's word for it. Wet field should give Midland the edge.

Midland Lee 20, Plainview 0 — Bulldogs green and eager. Rebels experienced and eager.

Abilene Cooper 7, Killen 0 — We know Cougars have no offense, but if the defense is up to par, they won't need much.

Big Spring 15, Snyder 7 — Steers lack speed, so they say, but win over Hobbs indicates they must do something right.

Permian 35, Fort Worth Wyatt 0 — Panthers get running game untracked.

Odessa 21, Hobbs 13 — Bronchos stronger than expected.

San Angelo 27, Dallas Carter 7 — Bobcats in breeze.

The SWC

Texas Tech 21, New Mexico 7 — Lobos should be tough at home.

Baylor 14, Missouri 10 — After OU, Mizzou should look easy.

Texas 42, Wyoming 0 — Who needs Roosevelt Leaks?

Rice 14, Cincinnati 9 — Surely, the Owls won't lose this one.

LSU 10, Texas A&M 7 — No disgrace.

Houston 21, Miami 12 — Cougars try to forget Arizona State.

Arizona State 35, TCU 14 — Frogs agree with Cougars.

SMU 19, Virginia Tech 17 — As long as court injunctions keep coming, the Mustangs will be tough.

Arkansas 14, Oklahoma State 3 — Porkers better not be gloating over USC upset or Cowboys will be gloating next week.

Well, LSU, A-State For A Beginning

After Southern California and Oklahoma last week, what terrors can be left for the Southwest Conference this week? Easy. LSU, Arizona State, Miami and Missouri.

The SWC, which won six of seven against outside foes, that is if Houston and Rice are considered league members, may not do as well this week.

TCU and Texas A&M bite off the biggest chunks, the Frogs journeying to Tempe to play Arizona State, which demolished Houston two weeks ago, 30-9, and A&M goes to Baton Rouge for LSU.

If the Aggies are as good as the experts claim, they may give the Bayou Bengals a rough night, although the Tigers walloped Colorado, 42-14, last week.

Miami, which upset Texas last year and scared the socks off Oklahoma, is back on a Hurricane path as a football power and figures to give Houston all it wants in the Astro dome in a regionally televised game, 12:20 p.m., Channel 9.

Baylor, a 28-11 loser to Oklahoma, tries for a split against the Big Eight when the Bears play Missouri at Columbia.

Texas Tech invades New Mexico for an 8:30 p.m. tilt against the Lobos at Albuquerque in pointing for next week's regionally televised tilt with Texas at Lubbock. The Longhorns face Wyoming at Austin while SMU hosts Virginia Tech, 1:30 p.m., in the Cotton Bowl and Rice tangles with Cincinnati at Houston.

Giant-killer Arkansas, 22-7 winner over Southern California, should make it two straight against Oklahoma State at Little Rock.

In the Lone Star Conference, NCAA small college champion Abilene Christian College, 1-0-1, hosts Nebraska-Omaha, 1-1-0, while Angelo State opens against Central Oklahoma at 7:30 p.m. in San Angelo. East Central Oklahoma meets East Texas at Commerce, Howard Payne is at Texas Lutheran, Sam Houston is at SW Oklahoma, S. F. Austin goes against NW Louisiana and Texas A&I tangles with Monterey Tech of Mexico.

North Texas, a 7-6 loser to SMU, opens Missouri Valley Conference play at Tulsa and UTEP, 0-1, opens its Western Athletic Conference schedule against Utah at El Paso in Saturday night games.

UT-Arlington, a 12-3 loser to TCU, gets back into its own league against Louisiana Tech at Arlington. West Texas State and New Mexico State play at Canyon.

TECH TD — Texas Tech's Larry Isaac, 34, races for the flag and a touchdown against Iowa State in last Saturday's Red Raider opener at Lubbock. Tech, a 24-6 winner over the Cyclones, goes for its second win at New Mexico Saturday night. (Staff Photo.)

ALI-FOREMAN FIGHT—

Delay May Hurt Ex-Champ

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

NEW YORK (AP) — The cut over heavyweight champion George Foreman's right eye could prove to be more painful to Muhammad Ali.

Opinions from boxing authorities differ, but there is the distinct possibility that a five-week extension of the fight will work to the disadvantage of the 32-year-old Ali, who appeared to have achieved a peak of physical and mental condition.

The bout was set for Sept. 25 in the African nation of Zaire, and Ali, bidding to regain the title he first held more than a decade ago, began getting ready for it in June.

Now the bout is scheduled for Oct. 30, and Ali is admitting to boredom — something that can be as damaging to an athlete as overconfidence or injury.

But Ali has not admitted that being bored will affect him.

MASON, Ohio (AP) — Veteran Dick Rhyan has the lead in the Ohio Kings Island Open Golf Tournament. He also has a persistent question for which he has yet to find an answer. The folks at home in Columbus, Ohio wonder why the heck I don't make more money than I do. Rhyan said after a spectacular putting round staked him to a six-under-par 65 Thursday. Most of the time I wonder, too. Rhyan, 38, who first joined the tour in 1964 and has played steadily since 1969, has yet to win and has career money-winnings of some $83,000 — much less than expenses. But the short, stocky Rhyan put himself in shape to make a good check here, one-putting half his greens and holing long putts of 35, 20, 20 and 20 feet as he opened a three-stroke lead on the field.

King, Connors Stay On Beaten Win Path

By The Associated Press

Top-seeded Billie Jean King has things going her way in the $50,000 Orlando, Fla., stop on the women's pro tennis tour, and Jimmy Connors continues to win in the $100,000 Pacific Southwest Open Tennis Tournament in Los Angeles, where he is top-seeded.

Mrs. King has qualified for the quarter-finals of the competition and teams with second-seeded Rosemary Casals today in the featured match of the second round of doubles play. The 30-year-old, U.S. Open champion became the first player to advance to the singles quarter-finals Thursday with a 6-2, 6-2 victory over eighth-seeded Marcie Louie. She gets a rest during singles play today and will team with Miss Casals against Mona Schallau and Rayni Fox in one of four doubles matches. Singles matches will pit Miss Casals against Martina Navratilova and Ana Zwaan against Francois hurr. Connors needed a 7-6 tiebreaker in the opening set Thursday night then went to beat 14th-seeded Ross Cas 7-6, 6-3 in their third-round match. It was the first match Connors has won in less than two sets in the tournament and he said afterwards, "There is no such thing as an easy match."

WILLING TO STAY IN NFL— Matuszak Changes Mind

HOUSTON (AP) — John Matuszak says he still wants to play football when he's free to do so.

The 6-8, 290-pound defensive tackle who was the National Football League's No. 1 draft choice in 1973, jumped a four-year NFL Houston Oilers contract Aug. 28 and joined the WFL Houston Texans.

However, the Oilers obtained a court order prohibiting him from playing with any other club and the situation became more confusing this week when the Texans announced they were moving to Shreveport, La. Matuszak said Thursday all of his contract troubles might be clarified if the Oilers would let him play with another NFL team.

Texans Lose, 42-14

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The Houston Texans, described as feeling like orphans, took a 42-14 thrashing from the Birmingham Americans Thursday night, and that hardly helped their feelings.

The Americans exploded for 27 second-half points to pull away from a World Football League team playing without a coach and without its top quarterback, and with its players thinking about leases and moving theirs.

Orioles Increase Lead

Ron Dunn's Three Doubles Spark Cubs

By KEN RAPPAPORT
AP Sports Writer

The Baltimore Orioles' 7-0 rout of New York Thursday night gave the Orioles a half-game lead over the New York Yankees in the American League East.

Dave McNally pitched the Orioles to their 18th victory in the last 23 games as the Yankees, after a recent surge, lost their third straight game to the Orioles.

The Orioles' pitchers gave New York just four runs in the three-game series at Yankee Stadium. McNally gave the Yankees only three hits.

In the other American League games, the Detroit Tigers defeated the Boston Red Sox 3-1 and the Kansas City Royals defeated the Oakland A's 4-3 in 11 innings.

In the National League, the Pittsburgh Pirates whipped the St. Louis Cardinals 4-6; the Chicago Cubs turned back the Philadelphia Phillies 7-4; the Los Angeles Dodgers bombed the San Diego Padres 11-3 and the Cincinnati Reds trimmed the San Francisco Giants 3-4.

McNally, 16-10, stifled the Yankees on three singles in winning his fourth consecutive game and eighth in 10 decisions since July 31. It was the second shutout for the Orioles in the three-game sweep.

Don Baylor opened the scoring, smashing the first pitch of the fifth inning from Rudy May, 6-4, far over the fence for his ninth home run of the season. The Orioles added two runs in the eighth inning on a run-scoring single by Paul Blair and an RBI double by Bobby Grich. They scored four more runs in the ninth, with Andy Etcheberry, Mark Belanger and Tommy Davis each singling in a run and Grich knocking in another with a grounder.

Tigers 3, Red Sox 1

Veron Ruhle pitched two-hit ball for seven innings in his first major league start and Al Kaline closed in on 3,000 lifetime hits with a run-scoring single, lifting Detroit over Boston. The Red Sox' loss left them in third place, three games behind the Orioles.

Royals 4, A's 3

Amos-Otis singled home the tie-breaking run in the 10th inning, giving Kansas City its victory over Oakland. The loss reduced the A's lead in the American League West to 4 1/2 games over the idle Texas Rangers.

Pirates 3, Cardinals 6

Willie Stargell hit a two-run double and Richie Hebner added a three-run homer, keying a seventh-inning rally that lifted Pittsburgh over St. Louis. The victory moved the Pirates within a half-game of the first-place Cardinals in the National League East.

Cubs 7, Phillies 4

Former Midland Cub Ron Dunn drove in three runs and drilled three doubles and Bill Madlock knocked in two runs and collected three hits, leading Chicago over Philadelphia.

Dodgers 11, Padres 7

Steve Yeager smashed a three-run homer and Don Sutton and Mike Marshall combined on a six-hitter, leading Los Angeles past San Diego.

Reds 8, Giants 4

Johnny Bench lashed a three-run double in a six-run, second-inning bid Cincinnati went on to an easy victory over San Francisco.

Canadians Whip USSR Skaters, 4-1

TORONTO (AP) — Coach Billy Harris and those Canadians who arrange international hockey schedules might do well to set up more dates at Maple Leaf Gardens.

Harris' Team Canada 74 romped to a 4-1 victory over the Soviet Union national team Thursday, marking the second time in a row that a Canadian professional side has knocked off a Russian club at the Gardens.

In 1972, Team Canada, made up of National Hockey League all-stars, won by an identical score — the only games they won in Canada.

Normally a bastion of NHL sophistication, a sellout crowd of almost 16,500 was practically delirious as the Canadians from the World Hockey Association moved into a 3-0 lead and were rarely pressed afterwards.

Bobby Hull, Andre Lacroix, Ralph Backstrom and J. C. Tremblay scored for Canada.

LSU 'Won't Play Dead'

Reflecting on Arkansas' big 22-7 upset of Southern California last week, Coach Frank Broyles says, "We tried to convince our team that they could beat Southern Cal and they did. All of the coaches took a positive approach to the game. We believed in ourselves and believed that we were as good as USC."

One game doesn't make a season. We've still got 10 to go.

Then Frank worries. "Oklahoma State (Saturday's foe) has a lot of good backs. They've got more running backs than any team in the Big Eight."

Meanwhile Oklahoma State Coach Jim Stanley complains, "We're certainly two steps away from being quick enough."

under first-year coach Bill Mondt, have junked their Whitehorse and have taken to the air. Last week Steve Myers, a JC transfer from California, hit on 16 of 22 for 221 yards against Colorado State last week.

Mike Belew, the freshman from Odessa Permian, didn't start, but he did get to see "some" action in UTEP's 17-14 loss to Pacific. He set a new UTEP record for rushes in a game, 30, and gained 126 yards, scored a TD and caught one pass for nine yards. The Miners open WAC play against Utah Saturday night in El Paso.

Linebacker Dennis Winston's 19 tackles led the Hogs while back Floyd Hogan picked off two of the four interceptions against Pat Haden, whom SC Coach John McCoy called the best passer he has ever had.

More proof that runners are winners in college football: The top five major-college rushing teams over the last five years had a 783 winning percentage while the top five passing teams had a 562 mark.

Even the premature departure of quarterback Clint Longley to the pros hasn't slowed down Abilene Christian's Wilbert Montgomery. He scored four touchdowns in a 27-10 win over State College of Arkansas last week while new quarterback Toby York passed for 128 yards.

TCU draws a tough assignment against Arizona State and the Frogs will be pinning their hopes on fullback Mike Lattrell, whose 1,886 career rushing yards puts him second to Jim Swink's 2,618.

Coach Jim Hess promises a "Wide open, explosive football" as he prepares the Irish for Saturday's game before an expected capacity crowd of 55,000 at Northwestern's Dyche Stadium; quarterback Mitch Anderson, the leading passer in the Big Ten Conference last year.

MC Drops Three Water Polo Games

Midland College lost three games in the recent water polo tournament at College Station, losing to Marquette, 18-13; and then dropping games to A&M Consolidated, 16-3 and a 17-7 decision to St. Marks.

The journey also had the City of Midland team entered in it and COM won one and lost two, beating the Chaparrals, 8-3 while losing to McAllen, 9-4 and to the Texas A&M freshmen, 10-4.

Lovin was the big gun for MC scoring seven points in the three games while Painter and Cerf scored four each in COM's three games.

IN TONIGHT'S PREP ACTION— Rain May Alter Strategy

Area prep action heads into the third week of play tonight and most head coaches may be taking a late look at their offenses since most of the contests will be played under less than ideal circumstances. It may be the night of the fumble and little passing as the aqueducts take the hold tonight.

The key game tonight pits the 3-AAA Peccos Eagles against the 3-AAA Lamesa Golden Tornadoes, both contenders in their respective leagues.

The weather may prove to be a great equalizer. Thursday night Lubbock Coronado, a heavy favorite over Lubbock Estacado, came away with a narrow 7-6 victory on a rain-soaked field, and more of the same is expected tonight.

In other 3-AAA action, Lake View travels to Odessa Ector, Fort Stockton hosts Lubbock Dabbar, Snyder entertains Big Spring in a big one, Andrews travels to Brownfield with both teams seeking their first victory and Sweetwater hosts AA Stamford.

Big games are also on tap in District 7-AA where all the games loom as important affairs. The Reagan County Owls travel to Colorado City with both seeking their first win. Crane meets AAA Monahans, McCamey hosts AA power Alpine, Ozoria travels to Ballinger in a key battle and Sonora travels to highly ranked Mason.

Stanton's Buffaloes face a stern test tonight in Rotan after losing quarterback Bill Howard to a broken ankle last week. In other games involving District 5-A squads, O'Donnell travels to Lorenzo, Plains hosts Siskin, Seagraves travels to Lubbock Roosevelt and Shallowater meets New Deal on foreign soil.

Fifth-ranked Rankin travels to Jai, N.M., tonight to highlight action among District 6-A squads. Highly regarded Balmorhea hosts AA Van Horn, Clint travels to Socorro, Edorado hosts Irwin, PETERS meets Morris and Wink entertains Grandfalls.

Games Canceled

All seventh grade football games scheduled Thursday were canceled due to wet grounds and rain.

An eighth grade contest between San Jacinto and Alamo, originally set for Memorial Stadium Saturday morning has been switched to Alamo.

Irish Face 'Cats Saturday

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Top-ranked Notre Dame goes into Saturday's game against Northwestern following an impressive 31-7 victory over Georgia Tech Sept. 9, while the unranked Wildcats dropped their opener by an embarrassing 41-7 score to Michigan State.

Nevertheless, Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian has found something to worry about as he prepares the Irish for Saturday's game before an expected capacity crowd of 55,000 at Northwestern's Dyche Stadium; quarterback Mitch Anderson, the leading passer in the Big Ten Conference last year.

"We still don't know how our green secondary will respond against a good passing team," said Parseghian, who left the head coaching job at Northwestern in 1964 to take over at Notre Dame.

Of the other Top Ten teams in The Associated Press poll, only third-ranked Oklahoma has the weekend off. In day games, No. 2 Ohio State plays host to Oregon State No. 4 Nebraska journeys to Wisconsin, No. 6 Michigan entertains Colorado and Navy visits No. 8 Penn State. In night action, No. 5 Alabama meets Southern Mississippi at Birmingham, Ala., No. 7 Louisiana State plays host to Texas A&M, Wyoming visits No. 9 Texas and Oklahoma State opposes No. 10 Arkansas at Little Rock, Ark.

Second-ranked Ohio State is heavily favored over Oregon State in a major interconference battle. Ohio State rolled up 486 yards in beating Minnesota 34-19 in its opener last week, while Oregon State is 0-2, having lost to Syracuse 23-15 and Georgia 48-25.

"Nobody comes easy these days, especially when you're highly rated," warned Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes. "It would make their season if they could beat us in Columbus."

No. 4 Nebraska comes off a 61-7 rout of Oregon last week which made quite an impression on Wisconsin Coach John as Maryland." Bryant observed. "We'll have to get better this week, or we certainly could get beaten."

Nine of the clubs in the Second Ten will see action Saturday, with only No. 13 Southern Cal taking the weekend off.

The schedule: Texas Christian at No. 11 Arizona State, night; No. 12 UCLA at Iowa, day; No. 14 Maryland vs. Florida at Tampa, Fla., night; No. 15 Pitt at Georgia Tech, day; No. 15 Pitt at Georgia Tech, day; No. 15 North Carolina State, night; Kansas at No. 17 Tennessee, night; No. 18 Arizona at Indiana, day; Miami, Fla. at No. 19 Houston, day.

Judge Orders Texans To Play In Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — A state court judge has ordered the World Football League Houston Texans to play their next game in the Astrodome despite the team's announced plans to move to Shreveport, La.

The WFL had planned to have the Texans make their first appearance in Shreveport's 48,000-seat stadium next Wednesday night against the Memphis Southern.

However, L. A. Frey and Co., a New Orleans meat products firm, sought a court order preventing the transfer of the Memphis game. It contended such action would damage a ticket promotion it is sponsoring.

U.S. District Court Judge Arthur Leshner granted a temporary restraining order Thursday that blocked for the time being the Texans' Shreveport move.

The judge signed the restraining order without comment but set a temporary injunction hearing for 9 a.m. Tuesday.

The Frey promotion permits fans to receive an $8 ticket for the Memphis game for $1 and four labels from Frey products.

"We are not trying to keep the team from moving to Shreveport," said A. J. Frey, the firm's director of marketing, who was in the court room as Leshner signed the order.

"We are going through this because we feel we have an obligation to the people of Houston."

Attorneys Edward DeYoung and R. H. Bowman of Dallas and Larry J. Doherty of Houston filed the Frey petition.

Tax-Revision Bill Expected By Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although the House Ways and Means Committee keeps changing its decision on a key tax-shelter dispute, Chairman Wilbur D. Mills says he hopes it can reach final terms for a wide-ranging tax revision bill next week.

The panel, trying to draft legislation for House action next month, seems settled on a $2-billion-dollar restructuring of the petroleum tax laws. It rejected new attempts Thursday to either wipe out or beef up its major oil tax changes.

But for the second time this week, the committee reversed itself Thursday on what to do about the Treasury's proposal for curbs on real estate tax shelters.

Earlier this year the committee had decided to all but eliminate from its bill the real estate tax shelter limits along lines proposed by the Treasury although the panel accepted parts of the plan to curb tax shelters involving farms and movie production.

Then, on Tuesday—after a private look at what some of the proposed tax changes that far would be doing to a select group of high-income people, and with Mills, D-Ark., saying it would be "necessary to do more with sheltered areas than we have done so far"—the committee reversed the earlier action and decided to curb such real estate tax shelters.

It also stiffened a previously approved section boosting the minimum tax on the rich and those with various tax advantages.

But, by 12-11 on Thursday, the committee went along with a move by Rep. Joel T. Broyhill, R-Va., to switch the real estate tax shelter situation back to where it had been before Tuesday's decision.

Since some items, such as interest and taxes paid on a building during construction and exceeding related income, had been part of an earlier feature of the new minimum tax, it was expected these also would return to that status.

By 18-6, the committee refused to strike out the bill's proposed all tax law restructuring provisions, which include a phaseout of the 22 per cent petroleum depletion allowance—a feature of existing law which saves oilmen between $2 billion and $3 billion a year in federal taxes.

The total estimated revenue gain for the treasury through this phase-out is $18.5 billion from 1974 through 1979.

The committee accepted some modifications involving the bill's proposed temporary new excise tax on windfall profits of the oil industry—a levy estimated at $18.1 billion over all from 1975 through 1979.

But linked to this would be a so-called plowback credit plan giving energy-seeking oilmen a way to escape paying much of this new levy, so the net total revenue gain from the new tax is figured at $2.1 billion for the five-year period.

There also would be a limit on foreign tax credits and other oil tax changes providing a total revenue gain of $2.8 billion for 1974 through 1979, while some changes in a fee system for imported petroleum would yield a $1.3 billion revenue loss for this six-year span.

Four Hurt In Bus Stonings

BOSTON (AP) — At least four students were hurt in scattered school bus stonings involving both blacks and whites in a boycott protesting busing integration and racial violence.

Throughout the school system, attendance continued to inch up from Wednesday's 75 per cent level, school officials said Thursday.

Scores of policemen sat on doorsteps near South Boston High School Thursday, their riot helmets beside them. No crowds gathered on the streets, the scene of violent demonstrations when the first school buses arrived under a court-ordered integration plan a week ago.

A school department spokesman said faculty members and administrators were scheduled to meet at Hyde Park High School today, and attempt to gather a group of white and black students to talk out their problems.

The spokesman said the school is scheduled to open again Monday for only one or two grades. Hyde Park, the school's location, is a white, middle-class neighborhood on the southern edge of Boston, a few miles from South Boston.

The school's racial ratio changed from about 80 per cent white, 20 per cent black last year to 50-50 this year.

"I observed kids getting beaten up. I observed a teacher getting hit over the head with a book," said John O'Connor, a history teacher.

After school, teachers met and voted 60 to 10 to ask that the high school be closed today.

In other developments, a group of Neo-Nazis was ushered out of the state "for their own protection" by police after they were involved in a confrontation in South Boston.

Mrs. Peron To Seek Support

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Seeking to emulate the tactics of her late husband and his first wife, President Isabel Peron scheduled an address today from the balcony of the presidential palace in an attempt to rally Argentine workers against the terrorist threat to her government.

The General Labor Confederation ordered its 2 1/2 million members to stop work for eight hours to swell the crowd for Mrs. Peron. But it was doubtful that her speech would whip up the frenzied enthusiasm commanded on every appearance by the late Juan D. Peron and his dynamic blonde first wife, Evita.

Mrs. Peron's plea for support followed a week of violence in which 11 persons died, more than 100 bombs exploded, and two wealthy brothers were kidnapped by the Montoneros, an organization of young guerrillas from the left wing of the Peronist movement.

The guerrillas said they kidnapped Jorge Born Jr., 41, and Juan Born, 39, who run one of Argentina's largest grain companies, to "judge" them for "the monopolistic activities" of their company, Bunge and Born.

There was no demand for ransom.

The guerrillas said they killed the Borns' chauffeur and a company manager with them when the two resisted the kidnapping.

Police said about 30 persons, including two women, staged the attack on the limousine in which the brothers were being driven to work from their suburban homes.

The Montoneros have declared an armed struggle against Mrs. Peron's government and are believed to be working with the outlawed People's Revolutionary Army, the ERP.

OAS Continues Debate On Embargo

WASHINGTON (AP) — The sons for ending the 10-year-old Peruvian Ambassador permanent council of the Organization of American States (OAS) is continuing debate on the Cuba embargo after a three-hour session on Thursday produced strong sentiment for overturning the policy.

The permanent council will vote today or Saturday on a proposal to call a November meeting of OAS foreign ministers in Ecuador to take final action on the issue.

The representatives who advised the council on Thursday found a broad range of reactions to the day's proceedings.

Peruvian Ambassador Luis Alvarado said the question of relations with Cuba should be determined not by the 22-member OAS but by each nation on its own.

The sentiment for a new Cuba policy was not unanimous. The representatives of both Chile and Uruguay accused Cuba of continuing intervention in the internal affairs of Latin American nations.

The U.S. delegation, which has traditionally supported the sanctions, sat silently during the day's proceedings.

'Big Band Cavalcade' Lively—But Long—Evening Of Entertainment

It was a lively, but long, evening of entertainment presented here Thursday by the "Big Band Cavalcade" for Midland Community Concerts Association members and guests.

Perhaps the Cavalcade band leaders, instrumentalists and vocalist were rewarding the audience (sizeable but, even so, somewhat diminished in numbers by the inclement weather) for its hardiness in serving up an extra measure of the delightful and nostalgic sounds of the Big Band Era of yesterday. At any rate, the program went on for almost three hours, and it certainly is a tribute to the visiting musicians that no one seemed to mind the length of the concert overmuch—and not many people left before it was over!

It had a lot going for it, this season-opening presentation of Midland Community Concerts Association, and not the least of its charms was the warmth as well as the wealth of talent brought by the four featured personalities of the evening: band leaders Bob Crosby and Freddy Martin, instrumentalist Red Norvo and vocalist Helen Forrest, backed by more than a dozen instrumentalists making up the band.

The Cavalcade is just embarking on his third cross-country tour, and the concert here last night was its first of the season outside the West Coast. The group plays engagements in a wide area of the nation in the coming weeks and months.

The "golden oldies"—those hits of the 1930s and '40s—presented by the featured performers and the band might have sounded contrived, self-conscious at the hands of younger musicians but, done by a group of season pros such as the members of the Big Band

Cavalcade, the tunes emerged naturally and beautifully. And while this music is certainly an integral part of the fabric of America's musical heritage, the program had no hint of "historical survey" about it: The performers are steeped in this music, they love it and enjoy performing it, and they brought this love and enjoyment to their concert and shared it with their listeners. What more could an audience ask? Each of the featured performers took turns in the spotlight, presenting a sampling of the particular tunes with which he or she had been identified in the golden years of the big bands.

Martin, who opened the program, and the orchestra gave us such well-remembered hits as "Tonight We Love," based on a Tchaikovsky theme, and "To Each His Own," along with several newer numbers, among them the themes from "Dr. Zhivago" and "Cabaret."

Miss Forrest presented many of the numbers that made her famous during her years as featured vocalist with the Harry James, Benny Goodman and Artie Shaw bands. These included "Taking A Chance on Love," "September Song," "You'll Never Know," "He's Funny That Way," "Falling in Love With Love" and "You Made Me Love You."

A humorous number titled "I Had to Sing With A Band," incorporated some of her best-known hits.

Bob Crosby was the "personality" personality of the evening—and almost certainly the audience favorite as he laced his musical presentations with humorous anecdotes and comments, along with recollections about his days on the road with his band during the 1930s and '40s. Crosby led the Cavalcade band in such numbers as "It Had to Be You," "I'm Sitting on Top of the World," "Dream

Your Tooties Away," "Little Rock Getaway" and "The Hit Set Song." He paid tribute to musicians in general by presenting a vocal version of Meredith Willson's "Seventy-Six Trains."

Julie Arrives To Visit Father

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Julie Nixon Eisenhower has arrived here to visit her ailing father, former President Richard M. Nixon.

Mrs. Eisenhower flew from Washington to El Toro Marine Corps Air Base Thursday night aboard a government courier jet. Her husband, David Eisenhower, remained in Washington.

It was the first time Mrs. Eisenhower has seen the former President since he left Washington on Aug. 9. It was not known how long she would remain.

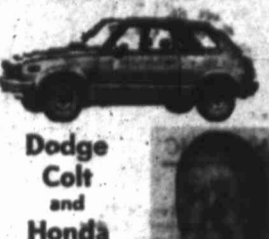

Franklin Joe Russell was featured in several songs, among them "Little Rock Getaway" and "Fly Me to the Moon."

Crosby and a group of instrumentalists from within the Cavalcade Band joined to simulate the sounds of Crosby's famous "Bob-Cats" Dixieland group of yesteryear. The interlude was well received.

The fourth featured performer, Red Norvo, provided a generous sampling of his exceptional and seemingly effortless artistry on the vibes. Works presented by the talented instrumentalist included "When You're Smiling," "I Summertime," "It's a Wonderful World" and "Wintergrass."

The program closed with Freddy Martin and the band paying tribute to many of the band leaders of the Big Band Era, by playing their theme songs. Among the bandleaders spotlighted were Wayne King and his "Waltz You Saved For Me," Guy Lombardo and his "Auld Lang Syne," Harry James and his "Clit, Birt Bin," Count Basie and his "One O'Clock Jump" and Duke Ellington and his "Mood Indigo." The band also played a rousing version of Bob Crosby's famous "South Rampart Street Parade." — Roger Southall

Cher-less 'Sonny' Cheerless

By JAY SHARBUTT.

NEW YORK (AP) — ABC is releasing the last of its new TV series this weekend — "Nakia" on Saturday night. Sonny Bon's Cher-less "Sonny Comedy Revue" on Sunday. It was not wise to set either loose.

"Nakia," about a New Mexico deputy sheriff of Navajo heritage, is a wooden Indian story. And while I love variety shows, the only variety in the Bono opener comes during the commercial breaks.

One needn't expect much from a cop show, but I was sort of keeping my fingers crossed that Bono's debut as a solo performer would somehow variety program folded last spring when he broke up with Cher, his wife and show-biz partner, appears just as glad to be back on TV as the studio audience cheering his re-entry.

He makes a few references to the absence of Cher, such as, "This is the first time I've been on the stage alone in 11 years" and, "Now I have to do my own show, wash my own socks, do my own cooking and even my own sleeping."

Spiritual Operetta Scheduled Saturday

A spiritual operetta will be presented at 8 p.m. Saturday in Theatre Centre under the auspices of the O.V.E. Bartlett Civic and Art Club.

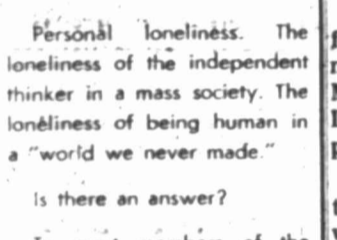

Proceeds from the performance will go into a community welfare fund for use in various aid and assistance projects in which the club is interested.

The spiritual operetta will feature talented individuals from many churches in the city, said Mrs. Callie Mae York, president. Donations will be $2 and the public is invited.

The O.V.E. Bartlett Civic Club traces its origin back to 1947 when it was organized by the late Mrs. O.V.E. Bartlett of Waco. The late Mrs. Frances Kerr was its first president.

of PTA and Scout groups, clubs and similar organizations, to provide emergency assistance of whatever type necessary to distressed and needy people in the community. For a number of years, the unofficial welfare group raised a portion of the funds for its work by selling tickets to the preview night of each Midland Community Theatre production. Although its assistance to the needy of the community has been far-reaching through the years, the welfare organization has become inactive in more recent years and the O.V.E. Bartlett Civic Club is making an attempt to revive the organization, with assistance from many interested people, including churches, clubs and Midland Community Theatre.

Mrs. York and her fellow officers of the Bartlett Civic Club have extended an invitation to all residents of Midland to attend the Saturday night benefit production at the theater. Commentators for the production will be Clorinda Johnson, Mrs. Arietta Jones, Mrs. W. L. McKinney, Mrs. Annie D. Jones and Mrs. Maggie Washington.

Personal loneliness. The loneliness of the independent thinker in a mass society. The loneliness of being human in a "world we never made"

Is there an answer?

To most members of the Unitarian-Universalist religious community there is no one final answer... but there are many answers. They find answers in:

1. fellowship with others unwilling to settle for either empty tradition or dulled indifference.
2. worship compatible with modern knowledge.
3. joint efforts to bring decency and hope to human existence.
4. religious education for our children in line with such thinking.

Once it was called... Courting

Amy and George are going together. Don't ask George if he's courting Amy. He wouldn't know what you're talking about. Nobody courts any more. They go together.

And there are significant differences. A couple of kids going together do not necessarily have marriage as their objective. They just may have found that afternoons like this one are more delightful when you're with someone you like.

The vital prerequisite for going together is to have a sense of values, a set of standards, that will help you make and keep this a wholesome relationship.

'Adventures In Worship' Now Under Way Here

"Adventures In Worship," a series of special worship services with historical significance, are being presented during the current month and will continue through October at Christ Presbyterian Church, 2801 N. Garfield St.

The series began last Sunday with a service approximating a Jewish Sabbath worship of the period 300 B.C. Each service presents music, hymns and prayers as closely representative of the period being spotlighted as possible. The series will culminate in a "futuristic" service, or service as it might be presented in the 21st Century.

The schedule is as follows:
 Sept. 22: A service as might have been held in the Catacombs of 155 A.D. The service will be divided into two parts: The ministry of the Word and the Eucharist.
 Sept. 29: The Christian service of 1300-1500 A.D. The event will include a communion mass.
 Oct. 6: The Reformation service of worship. The historical setting of the worship service is based upon the Calvin Strabourg Communion Liturgy of 1542.
 October 13: A colonial worship service, patterned after 18th Century Puritan services in Colonial America.
 Oct. 20: A "Wild West" service, following the pattern

Two Area Churches Featured In Magazine

Midland's First Baptist Church and Friendship Baptist Church of Dawson County are featured in the current issue of The Baptist Standard, weekly publication of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, for exceptional commitment to the Cooperative Ministries Program of the Southern Baptist denomination.

Friendship Church led all Southern Baptist churches in the state in giving the highest percentage of its budget to the Cooperative Program in 1973. The congregation gave more than half its income to support missions causes at home, in its association, across the state and nation and throughout the world. In 1973, the church gave 39.9 percent of its total receipts (50 percent of all undesignated gifts) of $17,420, to the Cooperative Program.

Midland's First Church gave $150,061 to the Cooperative Program in 1973, placing third behind First Baptist churches of Amarillo and Dallas in total amount contributed to the program.

The Baptist Standard article featured pictures of the Midland church's pastor, Dr. L. L. Morris, and member E. R. Frazier, as well as pictures of Friendship Church's pastor, the Rev. John Shugart, and Edwin Rinehart, congregational chairman of deacons Leaders of Houston's Tallwood Baptist Church and Amarillo's First Church also are pictured in the article.

Hole Leaving Pastorate Here

The Rev. Jonathan M. Hole, pastor of Christ Presbyterian Church since Jan. 1, 1969, will leave his pastorate here late this month to accept a position with the Texas Department of Public Welfare.

Mr. Hole will be a field administrator with the department. He and his wife and three children will move to Austin about Oct. 1.

The Rev. S. E. Tate, pastor of Midland's Northside Church of the Nazarene, and Mrs. Tate will be participants in a district missionary workshop next week at Dallas.

The four-day workshop is an annual gathering of representatives of Texas districts of the Church of the Nazarene helping coordinate the Nazarene World Missionary Society's activities.

Revival Services In Progress Now

Special revival services under way at First Assembly of God, 100 W. Wadley St., will continue through Sept. 29.

Evangelist Dave Roeber is the speaker for the 7:30 p.m. daily revival services which began early this week.

Special homecoming services are being planned for Sunday, Sept. 29, at the church, said the Rev. J. W. Farmer, host pastor. Guests will include former pastors as well as friends and former members of the congregation. Assemblies of God District Supt. Haskell Rogers of Lubbock will be a special guest that day.

PLAN TUTORIAL PROGRAM — Mrs. Stanley Bellows, second from left, reviews material to be used in the annual fall-winter tutorial program of Casa de Amigos with high school student Julie Roberts, right, who will be one of the tutors for the project. Looking on are two of the elementary age children who will benefit from the tutoring sessions, Frank B. Estrada, left, and John Philip Hernandez, second from right.

Casa Tutorial Program To Begin

Casa de Amigos, Midland's ecumenical "House of Friends," will soon begin its fall-winter tutorial program for elementary age youngsters.

The tutoring sessions will be held between 3:45 and 4:45 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays each week at the Casa de Amigos' "Casa de Ninos," 906 N. Dallas St.

Students from both Midland and Lee High schools have volunteered to serve as the tutors for the assistance program. The program's primary goal is the social and academic development of the children enrolled in the classes, said Marcia Ingram, Casa de Amigos' director. The high school students participating in the program will receive points in their respective Future Teachers clubs.

An orientation workshop for the student tutors is scheduled for 4 p.m. Wednesday at the Casa de Ninos; Mrs. Ingram said. The session will be conducted by Lois Rogge, coordinator of elementary school language arts for the Midland Independent School District.

Although a number of high school students already have signed up as volunteer tutors, additional students are needed to help in the program, and adults also are needed to coordinate various phases of the program, Mrs. Ingram announced. Students and adults interested in participating in the program are asked to telephone Leader Of Mob A "boomer" is the old male leader of a "mob" of kangaroos.

FLOODED HIGHWAY—Although U.S. 385 was under water late Thursday, it was the only open route leaving McCamey. The highway connects water-soaked McCamey with Crane. Roads to Fort Stockton, McCamey and Iraan were still closed to traffic this morning as high water made traffic impossible.

Federal Employees Will Get Raise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has told President Ford that postponing federal pay increases is the wrong way to fight inflation and ordered the 55 per cent raises to take effect Oct. 1 as originally scheduled.

Ford's first clash with the Democratic-controlled Congress on an issue related to the nation's economic problems resulted Thursday in a 64 to 35 setback in the Senate for the new chief executive.

Ford wanted the pay raises for 3.5 million white-collar federal employees and military personnel delayed until Jan. 1, saving $700 million and lending psychological support to the anti-inflation effort.

However, 15 Republicans joined 49 Democrats in voting to reject Ford's proposal. The other 27 Republicans and eight Democrats voted with the President.

"You're not going to stop the inflation or even slow it down with this kind of gimmick," declared Sen. Gale W. McGee, D-Wyo., chairman of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee, which voted 7 to 0 against deferring the pay raise, mended by a presidential board Assistant Senate Republican under a 1970 law that provides for a recommendation each year on what changes, if any, are needed to keep federal salaries comparable with those in the civilian sector.

"If the Senate says 'No' to the President, then in effect we are going to open the floodgates and make it very difficult for the President to ask any other House or Senate.

Army Deserters Free On 30-Day Parole

By GINNY PITT
Associated Press Writer

The first Army deserters freed from prison under President Ford's conditional clemency plan have left Ft. Leavenworth in Kansas on 30-day temporary home parole.

In Fayetteville, N.C., 28 men were sent home Thursday from Ft. Bragg, and four draft evaders were released from Seagoville federal prison near Dallas.

At Leavenworth, officials said 95 men were scheduled for processing through the clemency board after filing petitions for clemency.

A spokesman at Seagoville said 30 to 40 others in the district were eligible for clemency throughout the nation.

Seventeen men remained in stockade at Ft. Bragg until they determined whether they qualified for the program, Pentagon officials in Washington said.

At Leavenworth, officials said 364 military deserters had inquired about clemency by Thursday, and a Justice Department spokesman said 133 draft evaders and 69 deserting deserters and draft evaders had called for information.

Federal officials said the number of men who qualify for clemency through the program — mostly anonymous — is not known.

U.S. attorneys in most areas along the lines of the country continued to receive telephone calls on Thursday.

Harris said last January the clemency program supported a similar position by 45 to 43 per cent.

In New York, pollster Louis Harris said Thursday that there has been a sharp increase in the number of persons who were opposed to blanket amnesty 53 to 37 per cent.

Harris said Thursday that there has been a sharp increase in the number of persons who were opposed to blanket amnesty 56 per cent to 30 per cent.

Expanded Use Of Nuclear Energy Must, Prof Says

HOUSTON (AP) — A University of New Orleans chemistry professor says the use of nuclear energy must be expanded and that legitimate public concerns about such problems as reactor failures must be overcome.

Dr. Mary Good said the regulatory and development functions of the Atomic Energy Commission should have been separated years ago.

"It must be done immediately if public confidence in nuclear evaluations is to be established in time for nuclear power to become a factor in Project Independence," she told Federal Energy Administration officials Thursday.

She also complained of long delays in the construction of nuclear plants caused by what she termed "bureaucratic red tape."

She was one of 20 persons testifying at the hearings which were to end today.

Charles Wallace, who called himself the "poorest man ever to attempt to build a refinery," also testified Thursday.

Wallace, told the hearing the country needs "project cooperation" more than Project Independence.

He said he was referring to the need for a more cooperative attitude toward the federal government and citizens trying to do business in the energy industries.

After his testimony, he told newsmen he broke ground for 1978, is being constructed on 2,000 acres which the Army Air Corps formerly occupied.

He estimated costs as $246 million for the refinery and a 214-mile, 22-inch pipeline to Mobile.

Wallace said another $54 million will be spent to build homes, office buildings and shopping centers near the refinery.

Wallace, a native of Haynes City, Fla., said the refinery was scheduled for completion in 1978.

He would not reveal the source of his crude oil for his refinery or his financing.

"My money and crude are Wallace and Wallace Fuel Co. Oil grave with me," he said.

Second Suspect Charged, Arrested In Swindling Try

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Emmit Closson Ervin, 33, of San Antonio has been jailed on charges of impersonating an FBI agent in Houston in the alleged attempt to swindle $4,000 from an elderly woman.

FBI spokesmen said Ervin was charged in Houston with conspiracy to impersonate and impersonating an FBI agent.

The FBI said Ervin, along with another man allegedly took the money from Mrs. Calie L. Jackson.

The second man, William Edward Tomerlain, 31, also of San Antonio, was arrested Aug. 28 and is free on bond.

Ervin was jailed in lieu of $10,000 bond.

In August, Midland police investigated 228 offenses, clearing up 113 of them, according to Capt. Sid Corley, head of the detective division.

This was an increase of 50 over the same month a year ago, when 175 cases were reported.

Corley said the largest increases were in burglary and criminal mischief offenses.

Sixty-five burglary cases were reported last month, while 25 were cleared with the arrest of three adults and 15 juveniles. In August 1973, 42 burglaries were investigated.

There were 45 cases of criminal mischief in August 1974, with 13 of them being cleared with the arrest of two adults and three juveniles. In August 1973, there were 26 cases of criminal mischief reported. Below are offenses reported and cleared in August 1974:

Gas Fumes Sicken Six In Warehouse Blaze At Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Five Houston firemen and a civilian were overcome by gas fumes Thursday night while fighting a fire that destroyed a large warehouse.

Another fireman was pinned for a time under a falling beam.

Capt. Jack Ludwig from Station 7 was reported in serious condition from inhaling an unidentified gas.

The others were not believed to be seriously hurt.

Fireman H. D. Grover was pinned to the ground by a falling beam but was pulled free by another fireman. Grover was taken to a hospital for X-rays.

The fire destroyed the 50,000-square foot building owned by Modern Metals, Inc., in the Houston Heights area.

Texan Draws Life Term In Slaying

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A state judge has sentenced John Woodrow Bradley, 29, a life prison term after Bradley pleaded guilty to the murder of a young Mexican businessman.

District Court Judge Preston H. Dial assessed the punishment Thursday after Bradley, of Kirby, Tex., switched his plea from innocent to guilty. His jury trial was already under way.

Bradley was charged in the shooting death of Roberto Tomas Ibarra-Olivera, 26, of Cuernavaca, Mexico.

Ibarra-Olivera was on a business trip to San Antonio and carrying a large amount of cash, police said. His body was found March 15 on a rural road.

Water Cited As No. 1 Problem

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe says that failure to give top priority to the water program will make the energy crisis look small by comparison in the future.

Briscoe joined other top state officials Thursday in speaking before almost 200 representatives of federal, state and water district agencies at Texas A&M University.

Briscoe, who described water as "our most precious commodity," said, "The only possible way for the United States to balance its budget is through our agriculture products, so the water program must have top priority to meet its needs."

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby told the officials attending the Water for Texas Conference that they should contribute their suggestions and ideas to the proposed revision draft of the Texas Water Code.

Hobby said the revision is intended to encourage local solutions to local problems.

The lieutenant governor told the group that the proposed revision would allow the Texas Water Rights Commission to declare appropriate areas of the state as "critical" and the Texas Water Development Board to define limits.

He said, under the proposed revision, "within 12 months of having been declared a critical area, the residents of such an area must, by vote, create an underground water conservation district. Rules must be promulgated and the district must actively carry out such rules."

State Rep. Bill Clayton, D-Springlake, told the conference the time is now for action in underground water management.

"Clayton, the leading candidate for the post of speaker of the 1975 House, said that determining water resources management is one of the top priorities of the state.

"We must go beyond planning," Clayton said.

HOW TO WINDOW SHOP FOR YOUR NEXT CAR.

First, look beyond the base price on any new car sticker. See what extras they have, and how much they want for them. Add to that the extras you want, and how much they want for them.

Then check the sticker on one of our Volkvos. You'll find extras like fuel injection, four-wheel disc brakes, whitewall radial tires, rear window defroster/defogger, reclining bucket seats and tinted glass.

But you won't find out what we want for them. Because they're standard equipment on every Volvo.

Now, compare our car and our sticker to their car and their sticker. Ours is the one that's not way off base.

Premiere Showing-Cadillac
for '75
Traditional Cadillac engineering leadership and Cadillac craftsmanship have always made Cadillac a practical investment. For 1975, they're efficient as well as beautiful.
This year, Cadillac can get even better mileage than its 1974 counterpart with a new system of features such as an economy axle, a catalytic converter, a "lighter" transmission torque converter, as well as steel-belted radial tires and a high-energy ignition system, both as standard. Fast warm-up carburetors and unleaded gasoline also help the 1975 Cadillac achieve improved efficiency.

Stiff Jail Sentences, Fines Calm School Textbook Protest

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Stiff jail sentences and fines handed three ministers apparently have calmed the school textbook protest here.

A scheduled rally of the textbook opponents at a city-owned ballpark was canceled Thursday evening and law enforcement officers said there were no new violations of an injunction limiting the number of pickets on school property.

School officials reported classroom attendance at 91 percent on Thursday, the highest since the protest began when schools opened two weeks ago.

Free on $2,500 bond each were the Revs. Avis Hill, Charles Quigley and Ezra H. Graley Jr. In addition to the jail terms, Hill was fined $200, Quigley $500 and Graley $200.

The demonstrators are opposed to the school system's purchase of some $500,000 worth of new textbooks. They contend the books are designed to raise questions about the wisdom and infallibility of God and that they destroy moral, pro-American attitudes of students.

The Board of Education has agreed to withdraw the books from the schools temporarily until a special committee can review them and decide whether they should be used. That committee of citizens and educators will hold its first meeting on Monday.

Those opposed to the textbooks want them permanently removed.

Rogers To Pastor Baptist Chapel Here

The Rev. B. A. Rogers, long-time Midland minister and evangelist, has accepted a call to become pastor of the Kentucky Avenue Baptist Chapel here.

The program at Kentucky Avenue Chapel is sponsored by the First Baptist Church of Midland.

Services are held each Sunday, with prayer programs each Wednesday night.

Mr. Rogers, who has served various churches in this area, has conducted evangelistic missions in the United States and several foreign countries.

He was the founding pastor of the Baptist Church at Lompoc, Calif., serving that pastorate for several years.
