9,000-Foot Prospector Set In Pecos

Texas Oil & Gas Corp. has filed application to drill No. 1-B Blackstone-Slaughter, a 9,000-foot wildcat in Pecos County, six miles west of Sheffield.

Location is two miles east of the Yucca Butte, West (Pennsylvanian detrital gas field and 1/4 mile northeast of Hillin Production Co. No. 1-64 Slaughter, a scheduled 11,500-foot venture.

Drill site is 1,650 feet from north and 1,800 feet from east lines of section 59, block A-2, TCRR survey.

Eddy Area Outpost Flows 13.8 Million

Mark Production Co. No. 1-B Federal, one mile northeast of a two-well undesignated Morrow area of Eddy County, N.M., three miles east of Artesia, was preparing to drill ahead after flowing gas on a drillstem test in the Morrow.

Tool was open 1 1/4 hour on the test taken from 9,025-9,000 feet. Gas surfaced in three minutes at the rate of 8.5 million and increasing to 13.8 million cubic feet per day at the end of the test. Recovery was 90 feet of 53-gravity condensate.

Location is 990 feet from south and east lines of section 1-178-26e.

The discovery was Yates Petroleum Corp. No. 1-DE Holden, which finished last February for 1.745 million cubic feet of gas daily, through perforations at 8,363-8,684 feet.

Bass Completes Eddy Discovery

An unidentified discovery has been completed in Eddy County, N.M., 18 miles southwest of Lovington.

Perry R. Bass, Midland, No. 42 Paker Lake Unit, was finished for a calculated, absolute open flow of 19,594 million cubic feet of gas per day, through perforations at 13,732-13,740 feet.

Drilled to 15,350 feet, it is plugged back to 14,452 feet in a 7 1/2-inch liner hung from 11,200-14,515 feet.

Location is 1,900 feet from north and east lines of section 10-25e-30e.

Producers Final In Eddy Sector

The Cemetery (Morrow) field of Eddy County, N.M., gained a new producer with completion of Mark Production Co., Midland, No. 1 S. P. Johnson, seven miles southwest of Lake Wood.

It finished for a calculated, absolute open flow of 2,710 million cubic feet of dry gas.

Ford Warns Arab Oil Nations

SAYS NO TO '76—Sen. Edward M. Kennedy goes before newsmen in Boston today to announce he will not be a candidate for president in 1976. (AP Wirephoto.)

Hurricane Fifi Refugees Straggle Back To Homes

SAN PEDRO SULA, Honduras (AP) — Rescue workers are burning the dead left by Hurricane Fifi in northeast Honduras to prevent outbreaks of disease adding to the toll of one of the worst catastrophes in Central American history.

As refugees began straggling back to their devastated towns and villages and relief supplies started to arrive from abroad, officials said at least 5,000 bodies had been found. They estimated this toll would double when all reports were in.

They said the storm, which hit the region with winds of 110 to 130 miles an hour and torrential rains on Thursday night, drove 150,000 persons from their homes, wiped out most of the banana crop and virtually destroyed the cities of Choloma, Omoa and Trujillo.

Floodwaters turned the rich Uluva River valley from the Rio Sula to the coast into a lake 20 miles wide at some points. Thousands of persons were reported still stranded on rooftops or in trees, but a shortage of helicopters and fuel delayed their rescue.

Col. Ruben Villanueva of the National Emergency Relief Committee said damage from the storm was estimated at $1.8 billion in the San Pedro Sula region alone. An executive of United Brands, one of the two major producers of bananas, the country's chief export, estimated that 90 per cent of the crop was destroyed.

President Oswaldo Lopez Arellano flew over the flooded area Sunday and told newsmen the situation was "terribly sad." He made a new appeal for food, clothes, medicine and vaccines.

The first plane loads of emergency aid, including a complete field hospital from Cuba, arrived at nearby La Lima airport Sunday. U.S. Air Force C130 transports brought boots, lifejackets, food, drinking water. (See REFUGEES Page 2A)

Rigged Markets Termed Threat Of Global War

DETROIT (AP)—Raising the specter of possible global war if oil price and supply problems are not solved, President Ford said today, "Sovereign nations cannot allow their policies to be dictated or their fates decided" by artificially rigged and distorted oil markets.

Ford raised this warning flag to Arab oil producers at a 69-nation World Energy Conference here that drew participation by Arab representatives.

Ford said: "It is difficult to discuss the energy problem without lapsing into doomsday language. The danger is clear. It is severe. I am nevertheless optimistic. The advantages of cooperation are as visible as the dangers of confrontation. And that gives me hope as well as optimism."

Strongest Language Yet

Ford underscored the strong language yet used by an American president in discussing the consequences of massive price hikes by oil-producing nations with a reminder that "throughout history, nations have gone to war over natural advantages such as water, or food, or convenient passages on land or sea."

But he said that in the nuclear age war presents unacceptable risks for all mankind because "any local conflict may escalate to global catastrophe."

Outlining five principles that he said could guide international cooperation in meeting energy problems, Ford listed this as his final point:

"A global strategy must seek to achieve fuel prices which provide a strong incentive to producers but which do not seriously disrupt the economies of the consumers. We recognize the desires of the producers to earn a fair price for their oil as a means of helping to develop their own economies. But exorbitant prices can only distort the world economy, run the risk of worldwide depression and threaten the breakdown of world order and safety."

Welcomes Brussels Accord

The President welcomed Friday's Brussels agreement by 12 major consuming nations to deal with such emergencies as embargos by sharing available oil, cutting consumption and using reserves equitably.

In effect, Ford's address expanded on a theme he struck in appearing before the United Nations General Assembly last Wednesday when he linked problems of food, energy and inflation.

Ford flew to Detroit from Andrews Air Force Base, Md., following a sun-up breakfast at the home of Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

Back To Washington

The President planned to return to the White House later today and arranged a meeting with bipartisan congressional leaders and ranking members of key Senate and House committees at an evening working dinner.

Accompanying Ford to Detroit for the conference of government officials from around the globe were Secretary of the Interior Rogers C. B. Morton and Administrator John C. Sawhill of the Federal Energy Administration.

The president of the energy conference is Romanian cabinet minister Octavian Groza. He and Donald S. Macdonald, Canada's minister of energy, mines and resources, also were scheduled to address the meeting in Detroit's Cobo Hall.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

MESQUITE (AP)—Officers arrested three men today, one of them at a Dallas hospital, in connection with the pre-dawn slaying of a policeman in this Dallas suburb.

AUSTIN (AP)—The Rev. Dwight Brown of the First Unitarian Church of Dallas today recommended a commission that includes criminologists and the creation of a state grand jury to monitor how the Department of Public Safety is doing its job.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former White House aide H. R. Haldeman asked Chief Justice Warren E. Burger today to delay the Watergate cover-up trial, scheduled to begin Oct. 1.

Kissinger Airs Veiled Ultimatum

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — In a blunt warning to Arab oil producers, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said today a world poised on the brink of general depression cannot afford current petroleum prices, much less continuing increases.

The poorer nations, many of them trying desperately to cope with food shortages, could be overwhelmed in a never-ending inflationary spiral, Kissinger told the 29th session of the U.N. General Assembly.

'Fair Share' Conceded

While oil producers are entitled to "a fair share," Kissinger said, "it cannot be in the interest of any nation to magnify the despair of the least developed who are uniquely vulnerable to exorbitant prices and who have no recourse but to pay."

The speech followed President Ford's own warning to the General Assembly last week that manipulation of the energy crisis could lead to counter action using food as a political and economic weapon.

Arab delegates who detected a veiled ultimatum in that address will be fine-combing Kissinger's remarks.

Kennedy Rules Out Presidential Bid In '76

BOSTON (AP) — Sen. Ed Kennedy said today he would not be a candidate for president or vice president in 1976. He said, "I will not accept the unconditional nomination. I will not accept a draft." He said, "My to make a full commitment to a campaign for the presidency."

Kennedy, 42, brother of the late President John F. Kennedy and the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, both of whom were assassinated, said he made the decision after discussing it with his wife.

He made the announcement at a Boston news conference. His wife Joan, who has been in rest homes twice in recent months, was at his side.

Kennedy said he expected that he would have been able to win the Democratic nomination if he had decided to seek it.

Kennedy said his announcement "will permit others who have been interested in gaining the nomination the chance for exposure" during this campaign.

He said, "The real question before the people is who's going to come up with some solutions to our economic problems."

Asked what effect the Chappaquiddick incident of 1969 had on his decision, Kennedy said: "This decision... would have been made irrespective of the tragedy that happened in 1969... Were I to run, it would have been a factor that would have been raised."

Mary Jo Kopecne, a former secretary for Robert Kennedy, was killed when a car driven by Kennedy went off a bridge at Chappaquiddick Island off the Massachusetts coast.

Kennedy said "I can live with my testimony" about the Chappaquiddick incident and why there was a delay in reporting the accident and added "Although I regret the incident, I would have been able to focus the campaign on other issues."

The senator was reminded that he had said earlier he would not make a decision until the middle of next year and was asked why he had made his announcement earlier.

Special Priorities To Be Invoked To Prevent Alaska Pipeline Delays

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal law will be invoked to give contractors top priority in obtaining materials and supplies for construction of the 800-mile Alaska pipeline, the government said today.

Federal Energy Administrator John Sawhill said the Defense Production Act was being used to expedite construction of certain periods, Sawhill said in a joint statement with Gen. Leslie Bray of the General Services Administration.

The decision to invoke the special priority will last until June 30, 1978. Completion of the Alaska pipeline is now set for late 1977.

A delay of as little as one month in obtaining materials could set back construction to a year because extreme cold in the area limits deliveries to certain periods, Sawhill said.

While most of the material needed to build the pipeline was bought years ago, "certain of these critical items were and are in short supply," he said.

Defense Production Act was based on views expressed by Congress in passing the 1973 Trans-Alaska Pipeline Act and on a recent finding that in any war-related emergency, the service of the Alaska pipeline would be needed for defense requirements and national oil needs, Sawhill said.

While most of the material needed to build the pipeline was bought years ago, "certain of these critical items were and are in short supply," he said.

ARRIVES FOR HEARING—Nelson A. Rockefeller arrives at Washington National Airport en route to appear before the Senate Rules Committee on his nomination to be vice president. (AP Wirephoto.)

Rockefeller Lists $47 Million Income In Last 10 Years, Denies Family Power

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF WASHINGTON (AP) — Nelson A. Rockefeller said today that "it is a myth" that his family exercises vast economic power and added that he sees no conflict of interest which could result from decisions he might make as vice president or president.

He responded that the bulk of his income comes from trusts over which he exercises no control, saying, "This myth about the power which my family exercises needs to be brought out into the open."

There could be no conflict with anything because my sole purpose is to serve my country," the former New York governor declared.

He spoke as his vice presidential confirmation hearings opened before the Senate Rules Committee in the vast Senate hearing room which a year ago housed the Senate Watergate hearings.

Rockefeller was questioned by Chairman Howard M. Cannon, D-Nev., about the potential conflict of interest which could result from decisions he might make as vice president or president.

He responded that the bulk of his income comes from trusts over which he exercises no control, saying, "This myth about the power which my family exercises needs to be brought out into the open."

Cannon also raised the question of presidential pardons, noting that President Ford had declared at his vice presidential hearings last year that the country wouldn't stand for such an act.

He asked Rockefeller if he as president would pardon a president under criminal investigation.

"My total inclination is to say 'no,'" Rockefeller replied. He added that he didn't feel "I should say at this point that I will amend the Constitution of the United States" by saying he would take an action "circumstances of which I don't know."

Rockefeller said: "I do not want to get into the box that my predecessor got into by being frank and open" and then finding changed circumstances upon ascending to the presidency.

For an hour after committee members made introductory comments, Rockefeller read excerpts of a 72-page statement, crammed with financial data about his family's worldwide investments and tidbits of family and personal history.

He promised that "should I become confirmed and should Congress request, I will place immediately all my securities which I own outright" into a trust.

Rockefeller said, noting that he doesn't "occupy myself to even read the list of securities" but leaves financial management "to the very able men" hired by his family to manage their affairs.

Rainfall Sets Two Records

Midlanders have seen one rainfall record set so far this month and the National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal says it is likely that another has been set.

The Weather Service has gauged 4.54 inches of rain this month, breaking the previous September record of 4.06 inches in 1962.

The weatherman said the nine consecutive days of rain is a record, at least back to 1950. In checking the records back that far, the Weather Service said the longest continuous rain spell was six days, with several five-day stretches recorded. "It is doubtful we would find a longer stretch than nine days if we went back further," the weatherman said.

Moisture started falling Sept. 15 and a measurement has been reported each day, except last Friday when a trace was recorded.

Private gauges have caught more than the fall reported by the National Weather Service, with the Mobil Pipe Line Co. pump station at the east edge of Midland measuring 6.8 inches during the last nine days.

The gauge atop The Reporter-Telegram, counting .70 inches from Saturday midnight to 11 a.m. today, caught 6.6 inches of rain during the same nine-day period.

The National Weather Service caught .44 inch during the 24-hour period that ended at 6 a.m. today and reported a 60 per cent chance of rain today. (See RAIN Page 2A)

Flooding Continues

By The Associated Press Runoff in areas too waterlogged to absorb more rain sent water rising into homes and forced evacuation of areas on the southeast side of El Paso in far West Texas today.

Police estimated National Guardsmen in high-wheeled vehicles helped occupants to higher ground from possibly 100 dwellings in the Cedar Grove Park and Thomas Manor neighborhoods of what is known as El Paso's Lower Valley section.

While water rose chest high in places, authorities said there was no report of death or injury.

The National Weather Service said the runoff came from three inches of rain in the normally dry area since Saturday evening.

Continuing downpours, which have spread westward across Texas over the past 10 days, also sent the Rio Grande spilling over its banks into low areas downstream from El Paso and threatened considerable flooding as far as Lake Amistad, on the Mexican border miles to the southeast.

At Presidio in the Big Bend of West Texas, the Rio Grande is overflowing. (See RISING Page 2A)

Simon Says Arabs May Hurt Selves

DETROIT (AP) — Treasury Secretary William E. Simon said today that oil exporting nations are jeopardizing their own economies by maintaining oil prices at high levels.

Faltering economies among oil-using nations means reduced demand for oil, Simon said.

And high oil prices encourage development of alternative energy sources.

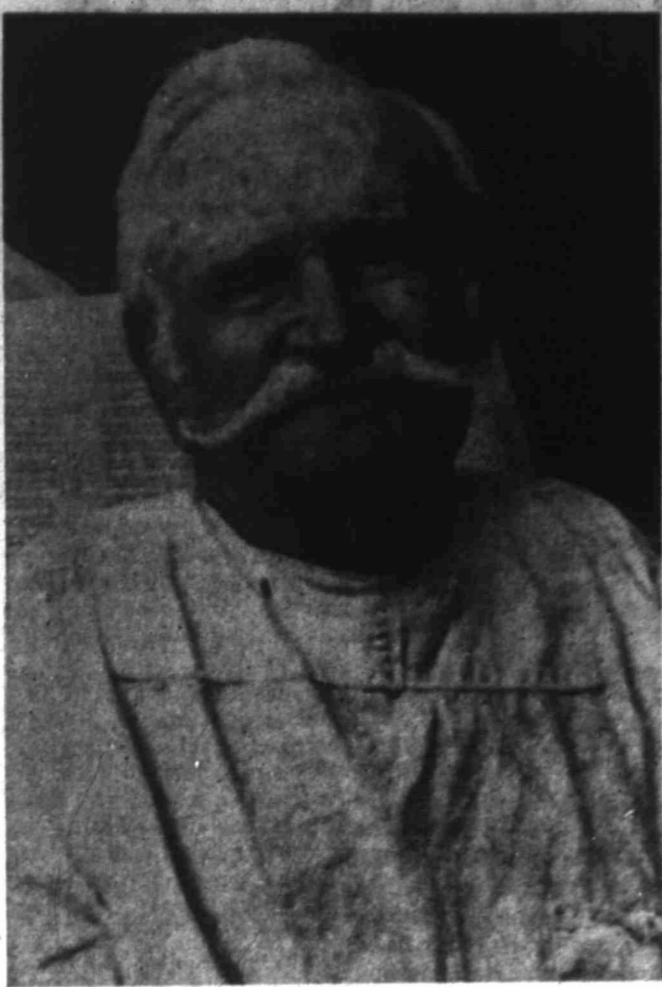

Mesquite Bandit Kills Patrolman

MESQUITE, Tex. (AP) — about three minutes later but Patrolman Travis Williams was shot to death early today while responding to a burglary call at a gas station in this Dallas suburb, police said.

Police said Williams was shot three times but managed to empty his revolver at his assailant, possibly wounding the gunman.

Officers said about an hour after the killing an 18-year-old man appeared at Parkland Hospital in Dallas for treatment of a gunshot wound in the leg. Police said they would check the bullet in the man's leg to see if it was fired by Williams.

Williams answered the burglary call around 4:30 a.m. and minutes later radioed for help. Another patrol car arrived

Probers Seek Blast Cause

HOUSTON (AP) — Federal investigators attempted today to determine the cause of a railroad yard explosion that damaged about 100 railroad cars and sent scores of persons to hospital emergency rooms for treatment.

Houston Fire Department officials theorized the Saturday explosion shattered windows in a 20-block area of northeast Houston was caused by gas seepage from a tank car punctured in a coupling operation.

They said they believed the explosion occurred after a tank car containing butadiene, a gas used in the manufacture of synthetic rubber, was backed into another car.

Paul Carr, a fire department spokesman, quoted fire investigators as saying the second car punched a hole in the tank, releasing the gas, which spread to a diesel engine about 400 feet away and ignited.

Joe Bart, a spokesman for Southern Pacific Transportation Co., which owns the 350-acre switching yard, said the report was one of the possibilities being investigated. However, he said that Southern Pacific did not necessarily agree with the fire department's preliminary findings.

A survey of hospitals showed more than 90 persons received emergency treatment following the blast. Most suffered minor cuts from flying glass.

About 20 were admitted to hospitals, including J. A. McKnight, 36, a Southern Pacific engineer who was listed in critical condition with third-degree burns over 99 per cent of his body.

Representatives of the Federal Railroad Administration, the National Transportation Safety Board and the Association of American Railroad Bureau of Explosives began a probe of the incident.

While they investigated, Southern Pacific workers continued a massive clean-up operation, repairing tracks, moving railroad cars and pulling cargo amid acres of blackened metal and shattered glass.

Firefighters remained at the scene although officials predicted no further danger.

Hundreds of residents of the Houston Harbor and Denver Harbor additions were evacuated following the explosion, but they returned to their homes Sunday.

Boston Police Halt Antibusing Protest

BOSTON (AP) — Police broke up a crowd of about 200 antibusing demonstrators who marched from the Charlestown section toward South Boston today as schools opened for the second full week of court-ordered integration.

Police moved in on the marchers at Haymarket Square near downtown Boston and pushed them back across a bridge over the Charles River to Charlestown.

Earlier, a spokesman for Mayor Kevin H. White said three pupils were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct at Day Square in East Boston. Circumstances of the arrests were unclear, but a spokesman said they were connected with school integration.

The mayor's spokesman said schools throughout the city opened quietly this morning.

Charlestown, the North End and East Boston are white neighborhoods of Boston that have been virtually unaffected so far by busing intended to integrate the city's schools.

Barry Brooks, the spokesman for White, said no new security measures were planned for this week at the schools.

Brooks said White is "cautiously optimistic that we can check the incidents that occurred last week. We do not expect any more trouble at Hyde Park," a high school which was closed Friday after racially related violence among pupils broke out the day before.

NATION'S OLDEST CONVICT—John Weber will celebrate his 97th birthday Tuesday in the hospital facility of the Ohio Penitentiary at Columbus. An inmate for 48 years, Weber is listed as the nation's oldest prisoner. He was sentenced to prison for life in 1926 for the shooting death of his 18-month-old daughter. His sentence was commuted to second-degree murder in 1972, making him eligible for release, but Weber says he is too old for freedom. (AP Wirephoto.)

Multiple-Fatality Road Crash Adds To Weekend Toll

By The Associated Press
As smoke from a marsh fire billowed across a Southeast Texas highway, five vehicles piled up Sunday and the crash killed four persons, helping to swell the weekend's violent death toll.

The state recorded at least 25 fatalities between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday, including 12 in traffic accidents, six drownings, six homicides and one death in a plane crash.

The crash involving three cars, a dump truck and a pickup occurred as smoke laid a screen across Texas 87 near Port Arthur. State police listed the dead as George H. White, 36, of Port Arthur, his wife Faye, 32, and their children George, 6, and Matthew, 3. Two occupants of another car suffered injuries.

These were among other victims:

Jill Suzette Holtman, 18, of Galveston drowned Sunday when the car in which she was riding plunged into a bayou.

Two Sherman brothers, Steve Watkins, 13, and Chris, 12, drowned Sunday in a lake between Denison and Sherman.

Two Women Found Slain

Two women were found slain Sunday morning at Spurger in Southeast Texas. The Tyler County sheriff's office said Marriette Ratford, 65, was shot once in the head at close range with a shotgun and Little Mae Smith, 65, was shot with a .22 caliber pistol.

Richter Dunn, 72, of Houston, died early Sunday in a one-car accident on Farm Road 1006 at Texas 321 near Dayton.

Lydia Carol Duren, 74, and her brother-in-law Melvin Duren, 76, of Houston were killed when their car was struck broadside. Three others were injured. Police said one vehicle ran a red light.

Tracey Wilson, 3, of Houston, drowned Sunday in the San Jacinto River north of Houston after disappearing while on an outing with her parents.

Two Youths Drown

Two youths drowned Sunday when their small boat was swamped by choppy waters on the Texas side of Lake Texoma. The body of Joe Samuel Phillips, 19, from near Pottsboro was recovered several hours later. A search continued for the body of Daniel Phillips, 16, of Sherman.

James Francis, 20, died of a broken neck Saturday night when his motorcycle hit a curb in Austin.

Leon Howard Adams of Love, died Saturday night when his small plane crashed on takeoff about eight miles southwest of that East Texas town.

A truck driver, George F. Douglas, 29, of Gellico, Tenn., was killed early Saturday when his truck hit a bull on U.S. 290 and overturned 10 miles east of Bakersfield in West Texas.

Fort Worth Shooting

Leon M. Roberts, 27, of Dallas died at a Fort Worth hospital early Saturday after he was shot by a security guard at a business place in downtown Fort Worth. Police said the guard was shot in the hip by Roberts before opening fire.

A Fort Worth girl was killed in a two-car accident on rain-slick streets there early Saturday. She was Elizabeth White, 18.

Thomas L. Meredith, 23, of Tampa, Fla., was shot to death Saturday at San Antonio International Airport in what police said was an apparent gangland shooting.

Marvin Nelson, 41, of Dallas was stabbed to death shortly before midnight Friday. Police said the knifing followed a quarrel.

James Douglas Thompson, 32, of Mesquite died early Saturday when his 10-speed bicycle was struck by a pickup truck as he rode in a city park.

Dallas grocery clerk Fredrico R. Ramirez, 24, was fatally shot Friday night as he sat on a curb near his store. Police said he had just left work when two men approached and shot him.

A two-car crash in South Texas Friday night killed John S. Anderson, 18, of Dubuque, Iowa. The accident occurred about two miles west of Seguin on Farm Road 78.

La Raza Founder Urges Progressive Party Nationalism

HOUSTON (AP) — The founder of the Raza Unida party has advocated what he called progressive nationalism for the party.

Predicting that Mexican Americans are going to be the majority in all states in the Southwest and some areas in the Midwest by the year 2000, Jose Angel Gutierrez said, "We must address ourselves to building our own Chicano nation."

Gutierrez, Raza Unida's national chairman from Crystal City, Tex., addressed some 300 delegates at the closing session of the party's two-day state convention Sunday.

"Majority is Inevitable"

"We've got to begin building our bases and capturing control in those areas where our majority is inevitable," he said.

To do this, he said, Raza Unida must stay an electoral party, must be part of a larger Mexican-American movement and must develop an economic plan that will work for its members.

He said progressive nationalism is based on "economic control of our own destiny."

Independent Party

In electoral politics, we must remain an independent party beholden only to our own goals," he said.

"We should not look to Wall Street or Washington for our destiny. Our destiny is to the south with people like us. We must pledge ourselves not to be misled or confused by all who would like to see us fail."

Amiri Baraka, secretary general of the National Black Political Assembly, also addressed the convention, calling for "unity among all oppressed people."

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Monday, Sept. 23, the 266th day of 1974. There are 99 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 63 B.C., the first Roman emperor, Augustus Caesar, was born.

On this date: In 1780, during the American Revolution, the British spy, Major John Andre, was captured, and papers on him revealed Benedict Arnold's plot to surrender West Point to the British.

In 1806, the Lewis and Clark expedition to explore west of the Mississippi River was completed.

In 1845, the first U.S. baseball club, the New York Knickerbocker Club, was organized.

In 1914, in World War I, the British carried out their first air raid in Germany, hitting Duesseldorf.

In 1926, Gene Tunney won the world's heavyweight boxing championship from Jack Dempsey in a match at Philadelphia.

In 1952, vice presidential candidate Richard Nixon went on nationwide radio and television to refute charges of wrongdoing in his campaign financing.

Ten years ago: West Germany and East Germany announced an agreement under which 800,000 West Berliners would be permitted to visit relatives in East Berlin five times in the next eleven months.

Five years ago: Israeli jets attacked Egyptians along the Suez Canal in retaliation for strikes that had wounded Israeli soldiers.

One year ago: Former Argentine dictator Juan Peron was returned to power in Buenos Aires in a presidential election.

Today's birthdays: Retired Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark is 75 years old. Singer and composer Ray Charles is 42. Actor Mickey Rooney is 54.

Thought for today: If anyone at all is to have the privilege of lying, the rulers of the state should be such persons — Plato, Greek philosopher, about 427-347 B.C.

2,400 Hughes Tool Workers End Strike

HOUSTON (AP) — Union average wage from $4.67 to $5.40.

That contract also included a cost of living increase offered on a quarterly review basis of one cent an hour for each one-tenth of one per cent of the rise in the cost of living index.

Lesch said the revised contract included a beefed up retirement pension benefit and a swing toward voluntary rather than mandatory overtime. He would not outline the contents of the accepted contract, only saying that the two additions were made.

The union reportedly voted 850-625 to accept the revised contract and return to work.

A firefly is not a fly but a beetle.

HOUSTON (AP) — Union members returned to work Sunday night at the Hughes Tool Co. oil field equipment plant after voting to accept a revised contract offer and end a seven-day strike.

James R. Lesch, president of the company, said the striking members of United Steelworkers Local 1742 voted earlier in the day to accept a contract that contained two additions to the one they voted to reject Sept. 15.

About 2,400 members of the local struck the plant at that time. The plant employs about 3,800.

A company spokesman said the original contract included a 15 per cent wage hike for the first year, boosting the hourly

Jordan Boycotts Talks At Geneva

By The Associated Press
Jordan has declared it will boycott the Arab-Israeli peace talks in Geneva following an agreement by Egypt and Syria to work for an independent Palestinian state on former Jordanian territory.

Jordan's decision was announced on Sunday, the day after Egypt, Syria and the Palestine Liberation Organization announced they agreed that an "independent national authority" would be established on Palestinian lands freed from Israeli occupation.

Their goal is the West Bank of the Jordan River and East Jerusalem, both held by Jordan from the 1948 Palestine War until the 1967 Arab-Israeli War, and the Gaza Strip, which was administered by Egypt until the 1967 war.

Jordan insisted it must first retrieve its former territory and then would allow the Palestinian population to determine its future in a plebiscite. Many West Bank Palestinians are known to support Jordan's King Hussein and might vote for an autonomous state federated with the rest of Jordan.

"The government will as of today freeze its political activities connected with the Geneva conference," a government spokesman said in Amman. He stressed Jordan was thus "freezing" its earlier agreement to participate in any Geneva peace talks.

Subject To Change

The spokesman indicated, however, that the decision was subject to change if the other Arabs changed their stand at a summit conference scheduled to open in Rabat, Morocco, on Oct. 26.

He emphasized that Jordan is willing to negotiate separately with Israel.

Agreement Halls Two-Day Walkout By Braniff Pilots

DALLAS (AP) — Braniff International planes were in the air again today while contract disputes between the company and its pilots landed in the lap of a fact-finding board.

The resumption of flights after a two-day shutdown came after representatives of Braniff and its 1,328 pilots sent the unresolved issue of wages and retirement benefits to a board to be selected by Braniff and the Air Line Pilots Association (ALPA).

The agreement was signed Sunday. Pilots struck at midnight Friday.

An ALPA statement issued in Washington noted that if the new board does not produce an agreement acceptable to both parties, then both sides will resort to their former bargaining status and "Braniff pilots will be free to withdraw their services."

Braniff resumed its 517 daily departures from cities on a 30,000-mile route system in the United States, Mexico and South America with a 6:15 a.m. flight from Dallas-Fort Worth Airport to Wichita, Kan.

Braniff Vice President Jerry Cox estimated the strike cost the airline $2.5 million in revenues.

Braniff pilots are demanding higher pay, saying they average salaries of $30,000, or $5,000 below the national average.

Cattle graze on reclaimed land near TESCO's lignite coal operation near Fairfield, Texas. The dragline used for recovering the lignite can be seen just over the hill.

Ten months ago this peaceful Texas pasture was a coal mine.

The lignite coal found here is being used to generate electricity for Texas Electric Service Company in our Big Brown plant near Fairfield, Texas.

Our main fuels are natural gas and oil, and they will continue to be for several years. But new supplies of these fuels are increasingly difficult to obtain.

Using lignite, and by the 1980's nuclear fuel, will help us reduce our dependence on natural gas and oil.

One advantage of using lignite is that it isn't being used extensively for any purpose other than the generation of electricity.

After removing coal from the land you see here, it was reclaimed — the soil was replaced, tilled, fertilized and a variety of grasses planted — to make its productivity equal to or better than before. Now it is used for raising crops or cattle.

At Texas Electric, we're continuing the orderly development of our power system so that you'll continue having the electricity you need.

And we're doing it with full concern for the environment.

WHAT IS THE TRUTH?

"Thy Word is Truth" (John 17:17)

by Bryan Boet

Every wise person provides, in some way, for the future. Whether we have little or much, we like to lay aside savings for the future. Since various investments are available, a wise choice is very important. A recurring question is, are we investing wisely?

Whatever our investment may be, we are faced with the fact that we can't take it with us when we die. As the Bible says, "For we brought nothing into the world, and we cannot take anything out of the world" (I Timothy 6:7). This is true whether we are rich or poor: our investments and savings are left behind.

However, there is one important exception to that rule. The Christian can make investments that will last into eternity. Jesus said, "Lay up for yourself treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust consumes and where thieves do not break in and steal" (Matthew 6:20). The way to invest in this way is to seek God's kingdom and his righteousness first in your life (Matthew 6:33).

In view of this, are you investing wisely?

Dear Abby

—By Abigail van Buren

Prof Denounces Cancer Research

DEAR ABBY: A reader offered $100 to the charity of your choice, and you picked the Cancer Crusade. Abby, I think you made a poor choice. Curing cancer and other diseases of old age will create far worse problems for our society than it will solve.

Do you realize that if we find cures for cancer, strokes, heart diseases and kidney diseases, we will double the number of years between age 65 and death (at 90 for the average person)? Coupled with reduced birth rates, this means we will more than double the proportion of old people in our society, and we will astronomically increase the numbers of the very old. And while we go on looking for medical miracles to extend life, we condemn the increasing numbers of old people to a life of poverty and neglect.

I think it is wrong for society to try to offer people a longer life when we cannot assure them of a better life. That is why I favor a moratorium on life-extending medical research until the year 2000.

In times past, people looked to the old for wisdom and guidance. I think we need their guidance now. I would like to see the opinions of old people, and even of terminal cancer patients. I would ask them, "What is more important to you, a longer life or a better life?" And, more generally, "What should society do to make longer life better?"

JOHN LOZIER
ASST. PROFESSOR, ANTHROPOLOGY, W.V.A. UNIVERSITY,
MORGANTOWN

DEAR PROF: Your proposed "moratorium on life-extending medical research" as an aid to population control is, to say the least, unique.

Personally, I would rather deal with the "problems" that result from reduced suffering and longer life, than return to the "good old days" when only the strong and lucky survived. And if this conflicts with the message of anthropology, I would be surprised.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I are getting on in years and would like to make out our wills leaving everything we have to each other.

I don't want to go to a lawyer and go through all that "party-of-the-first-part, party-of-the-second-part" red tape. I just want to write a couple of sentences saying my wife and I want to leave all our worldly goods to each other.

Will that be okay?

SHORT AND SNAPPY

DEAR S AND S: Wills are a touchy business. Their validity is subject to many unforeseen conditions, including a wide variety of state laws. Let a lawyer translate your intentions into a binding document. You'll be glad you did.

DEAR ABBY: I'm writing this letter just to say a few words to "No Complaints" (She said big noses and flat bosoms are "in.")

I don't know what magazines you read, honey, but in all the ones I see, the models do wear bras. Furthermore, if big noses and flat busts are "in," it sure beats me why most guys would sooner take out a good-looking, big-bosomed girl than a big-nosed, flat-chested one (assuming they are both intelligent and have good personalities).

I'm not putting anyone down, just voicing my opinion. If "No Complaints" is happy, then good for her. But for those other flat-chested girls who aren't a little padding never hurt anybody.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — I have heard that there is a way to wrap one's hair in toilet tissue to make the set last longer. I would like to know the procedure and how one keeps the paper on. Will someone please tell me how this is done? — MRS. B.G.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with waitresses who fill coffee cups so full. If one wants to add cream there is no room for it as the cup is full to overflowing. — MRS. E.R.L.

DEAR GIRLS — So many indignant mothers wrote in response to A.F.K.'s Pet Peeve concerning children crying in church when she thought they should not be there but in the nursery. It seems only fair to present their side. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — and A.F.K. — I have a one-year-old daughter who sometimes disrupts mass and the sermon much to my embarrassment. I often felt it would be best to leave the service to well-behaved children and childless adults until a recent church bulletin gave me quite a lift. It said, "Babies that cry in church tell two things about the mother and both are good — she has babies and she goes to church." I will continue to "hush" my daughter but I will no longer be grimacing because of her antics. After all she, too, is a child of God. Thank you. — MRS. K.A.M.

DEAR POLLY — I would like to respond to A.F.K. who resents little ones crying in church. We have five children and used to go through that wiggly embarrassment and often resorted to taking them out.

Finally we realized the little ones did not understand why they were in church. They were in the back, could not see the minister and what was going on so it was impossible to explain that they should be quiet while the man was talking. We moved to the front of the church. I mean way up front and sometimes there were several empty rows behind us. Our little ones soon became models of propriety and to this day people compliment us on how well behaved our children are. They are now teen-agers and we still sit in the front and pretty much alone. If any families with little ones would care to join us, I am sure they would be pleased with the results. — ELSA.

DEAR POLLY — I am answering A.F.K. who criticized parents for keeping babies with them in church. When a baby is baptized he becomes a member of the family of God. I admire parents who love their babies so much that they do not want to leave them with strangers. We older members should learn to bear them. Remember our Lord said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for such is the Kingdom of Heaven." When babies do not bother the minister they should not bother the congregation. — M.F.L.

Yes, It's Working!

A United Way finance effort in Midland is an exciting experience, with the scores of volunteer workers making a thrilling "game" of a very serious business, with their enthusiastic approach to the entire procedure.

And rank-and-file Midlanders join in wholeheartedly, contributing their Fair Shares to assure another victory... the United Way.

It hasn't always been this way, but a few years ago a successful effort through pure citizen determination, sparked the imagination of the community at large. Since that time proud Midlanders have seen to it that larger and larger goals have been met in the shortest possible time.

This is what is meant by: "Thanks to YOU, It's Working The United Way in Midland"

But it isn't a matter of just sitting back and expecting the cash and pledges to roll in. The actual effort put forth perhaps is greater today than ever before as the fired-up solicitors make their contacts and as loyal Midlanders respond more readily and more generously.

Community spirit is a tremendous force in a United Way campaign, in a drive for new industry, or in an overall effort for city betterment.

The success of the present campaign to date points up this fact. It was announced at the initial report meeting held late last week that 27.26 per cent of the $538,400 goal had been reached.

This was the first of seven report meetings scheduled through November 14, and the all-out solicitation just now is beginning to roll.

Chairman Bill Malone has put together one of the best campaign organizations ever, with a plan of attack geared for victory within the allotted time.

Just how quickly victory will come depends on YOU and every other resident of the Tall City. All Midlanders benefit in one way or another from one or more of the 19 participating agencies of the United Way of Midland, Inc. Surely they will see to it that the agencies receive adequate financing for their programs.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe, in his official memorandum designating the United Way campaign season, said, "The United Way contributes significantly to the preservation and strengthening of the voluntary approach—the essential ingredient of a free society. It serves as a rallying point for citizen action to help unite and improve total community."

Yes, it's the United Way... and it's working—thanks to YOU!

'I'd Like You To Mind Your Manners'

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: Nixon's psychiatric forecaster, harassed by Air Force officers, wants to resign.

WASHINGTON — The young Air Force psychiatrist who wrote eerily prophetic "President Nixon's Psychiatric Profile" has complained that he is being so harassed by his Air Force bosses he wants to resign.

Maj. Eli Chesen, chief of the Nellis Air Force Base, Nev., mental health clinic, has confided to congressmen that he has been threatened with court martial, that his patriotism has been questioned and that his integrity has been assaulted — all because of the book.

So serious is the alleged mistreatment, we have learned, that 13 plucky doctors at the Nellis base hospital have written Congress and the Air Force asking for a "full investigation" of Chesen's charges.

Chesen wrote his book while he was on inactive reserve. It was based on Nixon's speeches, biographies, televised appearances and writings. From this gigantic heap of material, Chesen shrewdly drew the conclusion that Nixon never would buckle from the most critical policy crises, but might disintegrate from personal problems.

Accurate Prediction The Air Force major finished his book almost a year ago when the world still believed in the exuberant Nixon of the 1972 election period. But Chesen accurately predicted that Nixon might become the present-day recluse of San Clemente, a lonely, tortured, insecure man.

"It is in the personal context that I am most concerned about Nixon's stability under stress," wrote Chesen with disconcerting foresight. "The threat of world war poses less of a vexation for Nixon than the outcome of Watergate."

Indeed, Nixon's physician Dr. Walter Tkach might well have been quoting from Chesen's uncanny forecast when he said a few days ago that Nixon was "ravaged" and broken in spirit. But Chesen's Air Force bosses apparently are not interested in the accuracy of the young psychiatrist's star-gazing about Nixon.

Even before Chesen came on active Air Force duty last February, he ran into trouble. He confided in a letter to several congressmen, including Rep. Wiley Mayne, R-Iowa. Chesen said his future commander allegedly told aides: "If Doctor Chesen gets even a step out of line, he will be court-martialed."

Questioned By General Within days after he got to Nellis, he said, an Air Force general at a small dinner party questioned him about whether his father was born in Russia. "His questions to me indicated a surprising personal knowledge of my background, including minor details about my wife's medical problems," said Chesen.

At the base, he said, a special file was kept on him and was "shown to some of my colleagues in a way to discredit my reputation... My commanding officer has personally informed the defense counsel on (a) case that my opinion was not reliable in view of my past performance as an author of a book of which he disapproves."

Now, however, Reps. Mike McCormack, D-Wash., Don Fuqua, D-Fla., Chet Holifield, D-Calif., and Craig Hosmer, R-Calif., have tried to stack the bill to make it easier for government friends of oil interests to turn the people's patent profits over to industry.

Quietly assisting in the attempted brigandage have been Assistant Commerce Secretary Betsy Ancker-Johnson, a former aerospace official, and federal energy czar John Sawhill. Patent lawyers and the aerospace industry also are part of the wrecking crew.

Footnote: Chesen refused comment, saying "I could get court-martialed." An Air Force spokesman said a preliminary inquiry has produced no evidence of harassment, but the Air Force, he told us, has begun a thorough investigation.

MR. CLEAN: Rep. Bert Podell, D-N.Y., has a particularly bitter taste in his mouth as he stands trial in New York on federal charges of conspiracy, bribery and perjury. His primary opponent, who beat him with a "Mr. Clean" campaign is himself under investigation by the Kings County prosecutor.

POWER PLAY: The aerospace industry, patent lobby, Commerce Department and four powerful congressmen have joined to turn Project Independence into a billion-dollar milk cow for big business.

The $20 billion Project Independence bill is designed to free the United States of foreign energy dependency by 1985. Sens. Phil Hart, D-Mich., Russell Long, D-La., and Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., wrote in an amendment to make sure the valuable patents and other data developed with taxpayers' money remain in the hands of the taxpayers.

The House Interior Committee weakened the amendment slightly, but still kept in some taxpayer protection, and this measure was even backed by such giants as General Electric and Texas Gas Transmission. — Rep. Ken Heckler, D-Va., on the pardon (by way of Shakespeare).

RAY CROMLEY President's 'Soft Talk' Policy Woos Critics

WASHINGTON (NEA) — I spent two hours at the White House the other day watching the nation's leading economists tell President Ford what was wrong with the economy, what should be done about it and listened for six and a half hours to the analyses of these same experts.

The meeting did not tell me much about the economy or what the President plans to do. It told me a great deal about Mr. Ford.

A strong minority of economists at the meeting are his natural enemies, philosophically and politically. Harvard professor Kenneth Galbraith and former Council of Economic Advisors chairman Walter Heller made that clear in pointed remarks. But when the day was over Mr. Ford had won the respect of these men — who don't ordinarily give this honor to anyone who fails to speak in sentences punctuated with four-syllable words. How this was accomplished was worth watching.

Mr. Ford has a way of making you feel important and at ease. For one, he seems embarrassed when men and women rise in respect as he enters a room. More importantly, if you stop Mr. Ford — as many did in the hall between the day's sessions — you receive his full attention.

That attention seems intense and complete. The comments he offers make clear he is giving serious consideration to your words. In those minutes when you are talking and he is listening you are almost persuaded Mr. Ford is unaware anyone else is present. He is not one whose eyes are continuously darting from side to side to see who else is waiting, nor does he seem preoccupied with planning what must be done next.

Even when Mr. Ford is in disagreement, he finds ways of softening the blow. He talks of what can be done in part on your approach or finds areas of common belief. In the economic summit sessions themselves, he took every opportunity in little ways to directly or indirectly praise those that were present.

If Mr. Ford succeeds in his economic policies it will be because he is able to win the cooperation of those with widely differing views. For he will not get a consensus either among economists or politicians on economic policy.

It was clear from this first meeting that the President will move cautiously — only as fast as public opinion, his advisers and the Congress are ready to go willingly. In a private conversation, he made it clear he was not about to propose solutions the Senate and House of Representatives could not accept. He already had explored with Hill leaders what was and was not politically possible.

It also is clear Mr. Ford is convinced no program, however desirable from a theoretical view, can possibly work unless public opinion is behind it. You and I, he believes, will not go along unless we "know" a program is necessary and the sacrifices we are asked to make are meaningful.

The public meetings Mr. Ford has scheduled are only a part of his strategy for achieving this public concurrence.

The $5 billion in budget cuts he has ordered, most economists agree, will have little actual effect on inflation or on employment. Ford considers them crucial nonetheless — as a symbol.

DON OAKLEY Natural Disasters Leave Lasting Scars

NEW YORK (NEA) — On April 2, 1974, what may have been the largest storm of its kind ever observed on earth struck Xenia, Ohio.

In two minutes, almost half the seven-square-mile town was destroyed by winds clocked at 218 miles an hour. Twenty-five people were killed quickly; seven others died later in hospitals. About 2,500 were injured.

The physical damage left in the wake of this monster tornado will eventually be erased. The ravages it left in the minds of the survivors may never be.

Even though the majority of the residents of Xenia were unharmed, most even with their property intact, no one completely escaped the effects of the tornado, writes Don A. Schaeche in Today's Health magazine.

"Such natural disasters seem invariably to suck an emotional storm in their wake that frequently cuts a wider swath than the disaster itself," he writes. "In this psychological aftermath, the novitiates often suffer as much, if not more, than the direct victims of the tragedy."

According to Ann S. Kliman, a psychologist and disaster expert who was called to Xenia after the storm to consult with local mental health authorities, direct victims usually respond to a disaster by an increase in anxiety reactions, such as fear of another disaster, feelings of depression and rage and inability to cope, or frenetic coping activity.

Indirect victims often respond by feeling conscious guilt — guilt that they escaped when others didn't — and by an increase in guilt-related and stress-induced physical symptoms, accidents and explosive arguments at home, in school or on the job.

It may be years before the full extent of post-tornado reactions unfolds in Xenia, says Schaeche.

A similar story is told about another sudden disaster — the collapse of a coal mine dam and the flooding of communities along 20 miles of Buffalo Creek in West Virginia in February, 1972.

A major psychiatric study conducted by 60 psychiatrist, psychologists and social case workers from the University of Cincinnati found "serious psychological impairment" in almost every survivor.

The study helped bring about a recent landmark financial settlement to survivors by the Buffalo Mining Company, at $12.5 million the largest ever granted by a court for psychological damages.

"Our findings," says UFC psychiatrist Dr. James L. Titchener, "were that the disaster had acute effects, causing much anxiety and fear, with sleep disturbances and physiological disorder, shock and grief reactions, disorganization of thinking and behavior."

When they came to the area two years after the disaster, the investigators found continuing anxiety focusing on nights when there is rain or stormy conditions. As in Xenia, the survivors felt guilt and shame about their survival. And also as in Xenia, there had been a terrific impact on the children, both those who witnessed the disaster and those observing the effects of it on their parents.

The psychological trauma for most of the Buffalo Creek survivors is becoming entrenched as time passes, rather than lessening, says Titchener. For all our boasting about our "conquest" of nature, it would seem that we modern human beings are as much at the mercy of elemental forces as were our primitive ancestors, who had far less understanding of or control over them.

Bare Facts About Permissive Society Come To Light

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
CAP D'AGDE, France (AP) — Brigitte Bardot's celebrated birthday suit is now 40 summers old, and the time has come to see how far the Permissive Society has spread since she first doffed her bra on the sands of time.

Can it really be only five years since La Sex Kittens' dishabile made St. Tropez the motherhouse of an unclad cult that now stretches from the pools of Monte Carlo to the shores of Tripoli? Well, Tunisia anyway.

"The Naked and the Med," travel agents call it when trying to flog travel-light vacations.

Almost by way of an anniversary salute, the ever vigilant police of St. Tropez recently bounded out of the beaches and caught photographer Helmut Newton in the act of photographing a topless model on a motorbike.

Voilà. There and then they booked her for not wearing a crash helmet.

A droll story, no? But wait, had she been bottomless, too, the girl would have been liable to a fine of up to $300, and double if not paid in 15 days, plus eight days in jail.

It seems that the nude scene at St. Tropez had become de trop — too much — for the local villagers. Fed up to the eyeballs with total nudity on their pebbly beaches, they have beefed up the beach patrol from 13 to 42 gendarmes and set up a special court to deal with offenses against "public decency."

French public opinion is firmly on their side. A survey taken at the beginning of the summer by the French Institute of Public Opinion showed only 7 per cent of the nation's population favored total nudity on the beach and only 13 per cent tolerated the topless craze. For women, the figures dipped even lower.

And yet at Cap D'Agde, around the next big bend in the Mediterranean coast, the French are busy building the biggest and most naked city in the world, a complex of three nudist holiday centers complete with hotels, restaurants, villas, high-rise apartments, shops and a marina. By 1980, Port Nature and its environs will have room for 30,000 "naturists," as they are called in Europe, and 600 in Denmark, where nudist beaches have been established since the '70s, the topless craze has come to town. Office girls shed their bras to sunbathe in public parks during their lunch breaks.

Each year wonderful Copenhagen becomes more full of wonders. The mixed sauna, mixed camping and mixed youth hostels have long been a way of life in the homeland of the groupie bungalow and the five sex show. Rival afternoon newspapers sponsor contests for the loveliest bikini-less lady can be brutally outspoken about the practice.

Tiny Gambia hosts hundreds of charter flights for nudists from Europe.

Rocky Marciano bathing trunks and a bra out of a Victorian ladies magazine still constitute the average bikini along the Moscow River and on the beaches of Yalta, where it is conceded that the "tanga," the string bikini imported this year to Europe from Brazil, will take longest to penetrate.

But "La Ficelle," as the French call the string bikini, already has put in an appearance on the ordinary tourist beaches of Yugoslavia, the maverick Communist country which sets aside 23 beaches for nudist bathing. Nudists, mostly from Germany, are regarded as an important economic asset, the best behaved and the biggest spenders among visitors to Yugoslavia. Now even local citizens have joined the unclad ranks.

In East Germany, nudism is illegal but traditional. The beaches along the Baltic now attract naturists from Poland and Czechoslovakia, where it is even more illegal. Romania has a modern resort at Mamaia, where boys and girls gambol naked on separate but equal beaches, and at Doi Mai beach foreign tourists can practice unclad togetherness. Nudity is banned in Bulgaria, but long tradition allows the comrades to forget their culottes on river banks at the mouth of the Ropotamo. Also, to cash in on the Swedish and German tourist dollar, the commissars wink at the topless scene on the Black Sea Riviera around Varna.

Poland for the past year has seen nudity in its national theater and in ballet, and there is some isolated but illegal "back yard" nudism. This year, for the first time, Poland sent a delebody, and one afternoon paper and several magazines have begun featuring full frontal nude males, allegedly in response to feminine demands.

Sweden, still further north, actually has a law against "behavior aimed at causing annoyance to the public," but it's been decades since any member of the public claimed annoyance at the sight of an unfettered Viking goddess frolicking in the Midnight Sun.

All over Europe, tourists still hand in their passports at the hotel registration desk, as required by the police, but it's rare anywhere, even in conservative Spain and Portugal, for a couple to be turned away fuzz, "the girl has enough time to get completely dressed in hat, gloves and shoes."

Africa has both the climate and the vast white beaches to reap a rich tourist harvest from the permissive scene, but tough laws against outrages to public morals tend to keep visitors and natives alike from going native. Still, Tunisia and Senegal are bidding for nudist hotel complexes, and the Ivory Coast already has a flourishing nudist colony for whites only at Atlantic Beach, near Abijan, where only the black attendants and waiters wear clothes. Topless sunbathing has become commonplace at many of the Club Méditerranée facilities, although Moslem males in the vi-

Alex Karras Returns Tonight As No. 3 Man On ABC Team

By JAY SHARBUTT
NEW YORK (AP) — Alex Karras, the former ranking member of the Detroit Lions' defense department, returns to ABC-TV's broadcast booth tonight to help cover a pro football dispute between Dallas and Philadelphia.

But neither Karras nor ABC say they know yet if he'll be named the permanent resident of the chair vacated when Don Meredith jumped to NBC and his successor, Fred Williamson, was ousted after three games.

ABC says it still is pondering whether to hire Karras permanently or try making do just with regulars Frank Gifford and Howard Cosell for the rest of the National Football league season.

Karras, who carved out a new career as an actor and free-wheeling talk show guest after his playing days ended, was in Los Angeles last week and was asked if he signed a contract with ABC.

"Naw, I haven't done anything yet," he said, putting his tongue in cheek. "I don't believe in signing contracts because it gives you a sense of responsibility to everybody and I'd rather get fired."

Karras, who made his debut last Monday on ABC's football show, broke into sportscommentary two seasons ago covering televised games of the Canadian Football League.

He was among those whom ABC initially considered as Meredith's replacement, but theorizes he didn't get the nod because of "people who thought I might hurt the game in some respects."

"I'm not pointing the finger at (club) owners or anything, but an awful lot of people thought I didn't hold the National Football League in reverence along with the Johnny Mann Singers or the American flag."

"That was my problem," he laughed. Did the NFL hierarchy object the most to the idea of him as Meredith's successor?

"Yeah, I think so," he said. "And I don't blame 'em because I've always been a rebel and the kind of guy who never really got along too famously with anybody when I was playing football."

An NFL spokesman said he knew of no objections to Karras. He also said the league has no say about whom the three networks hire as commentators.

Karras, who lavishly praised Cosell and Gifford for their help in his ABC debut, won't lack employment should ABC decide against him as a permanent third man in its Monday night football gabfest.

He's got a role this month in "Death Stalk," a made-for-TV film, and plans to emcee next month in Chicago in "Growl Like a Bear," a serious football film he says he helped write. Who's the star of it?

"Me," growled the ex-Lion. Then he broke up. "Who the hell else?"

Cardinals Win Games, Brawl

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer
St. Louis reliever Al Hrabosky survived both psychological warfare and a ninth-inning brawl that stemmed from the relief Sunday to beat the Chicago Cubs 6-5 on the strength of a run-scoring single by Ted Simmons with two out in the ninth.

Stadium. When the field was cleared, Cubs' Manager Jim Marshall was ejected. Hrabosky retired the side without further incident and the Cards won it in their half of the home run to boot. Dave Kingman with Lou Brock singled, Reggie Smith walked and Simmons singled to center off loser left.

Nixon Jewel Holding Set At $580,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — A cousin of Pat Nixon personally supervised the appraisal and insuring of an estimated $580,000 worth of jewelry at the White House from 1970 to 1974, the Washington Post reported today.

The value assigned by appraisers intrigued Watergate prosecutors because the total assets of the Nixon family totaled only $515,836 in late 1968, the newspaper said.

The exact ownership of the jewelry was unclear, the story added.

It identified Edward O. Sullivan, a 49-year-old Bronxville, N.Y., insurance broker who has handled all of the Nixon family's insurance, as supervisor of the appraisal and insuring of the jewelry.

Sullivan was not available for comment.

Other sources have disclosed that the Senate Watergate committee has forwarded the data it uncovered about the Nixon family's finances to special prosecutor Leon Jaworski for further investigation. Members of Jaworski's staff declined to describe the value placed on the jewels by appraisers and Sullivan.

INSULATION USED TO BE A DETAIL. NOW IT'S A PRIORITY.

Used to be, insulation in commercial, industrial and institutional buildings was frequently taken for granted.

The energy crisis has changed all that.

Suddenly, insulation is one of the most important considerations in the planning of any new building. Simply because good insulation saves precious energy.

Which brings us to the buildings we build. Butler buildings. Because they're built around pre-engineered systems, the roof and wall systems are designed with superior insulation to provide you with the best available seal against outside heat and cold, regardless of the climate.

Butler building systems have always been time and money savers. But more important now they're energy savers. We'd like to show you why. Call us.

75 Deserters Arrive Today At Amnesty Process Center

CAMP ATTERBURY, Ind. (AP) — A military charter flight brings 75 military deserters to this one-time Army basic training camp today to begin processing under President Ford's conditional amnesty plan. Atterbury is to be the central processing point for military deserters seeking amnesty. Officials said another 18 are at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, about 30 miles north in Indianapolis, where the first 27 men to turn themselves in already have been processed.

There was no indication where the charter flight was originating or where deserters had been collected. But a Ft. Harrison spokesman said 75 deserters would arrive today at Indianapolis's Weir Cook Airport and be brought here by bus.

The camp, quarters during World War II and the Korean conflict for 250,000 recruits and a mustering-out facility for other veterans with less than honorable discharges be included in the clemency program. Speaking on ABC's "Issues and Answers," Jackson labeled the program "a middle-class white program," while Wilkins noted that "more than 200,000 blacks have less than honorable discharges."

Public Meet Set Tuesday On Midland-Odessa Loop

The Texas Highway Department will hold a public meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Goddard Junior High School Cafeteria to discuss a proposed northern loop road linking Midland and Odessa.

The purpose of the meeting is to gather public opinion on selection of possible routes. Three routes were proposed in a public session held earlier this year. While the highway department's favored route lies along FM 868 on the north side of Midland, several citizens have requested that a route further to the north be used.

Maps showing the proposed route locations will be presented at the meeting and are available for viewing at the resident engineer's office, 2701 Elizabeth St.

The highway is still four to six years away from actual construction. Projections for 1995 anticipate that 15,000 cars per day will travel the four-lane highway. Access would be controlled by interchanges and frontage roads.

Persons unable to attend the meeting may submit written statements and other exhibits to the engineer's office by Oct. 4.

Another public hearing will be held at The University of Texas at Permian Basin at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Record Defense Bill Approval Expected

By JIM ADAMS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is expected to approve a record $82.6-billion defense bill this week, act on foreign aid and take up a health manpower bill that Senate Republicans claim "establishes a domestic draft."

The defense bill, up for House action today, is the biggest single appropriation bill ever put before Congress, even after a $4.4-billion cut from administration requests.

When House-Senate conferees agreed to the $82.6-billion compromise last week, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said the cut should mean an actual $2.6-billion spending cut, and "should have an important impact on reducing inflation."

The cuts include a $900-million slice of requested military aid for South Vietnam, cut to $700 million from $1.6 billion. But the Pentagon gets full funding for the new B1 advanced bomber and Trident long-range missile-firing submarine.

A controversial $5-billion, five-year bill denounced by critics as a domestic draft is expected to get a Senate vote by mid-week.

Record Defense Bill Approval Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford says he's taken up a new sport: tennis.

"You can't work all the time," Ford said Sunday evening in disclosing that he had played tennis Saturday on the White House courts.

Ford, who played 4½ hours of golf on Sunday, said he and his chief of staff, Alexander M. Haig Jr., had learned up in the tennis match to play Dr. William Lukaish, the White House physician, and Dave Hume Kennerly, the White House photographer.

FBI, Saxbe Back Soviet Spy Appeal

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department is supporting an appeal by a convicted Soviet spy for a Supreme Court ruling on the President's wiretapping powers to protect national security.

The controversial issue also is to be taken up by the Senate Judiciary Committee's subcommittee on criminal laws and procedures at hearings on Oct. 1 and 2.

Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe and FBI Director Clarence M. Kelley are to be among the witnesses.

Constitutional Issue
A recently filed brief by Solicitor General Robert H. Bork in the case of Igor A. Ivanov, the convicted spy, argues that issues raised in his appeal should be decided by the Supreme Court.

As stated by Bork, a principal issue in the case is whether it is constitutionally permissible to conduct warrantless electronic surveillance for the purpose of gathering foreign intelligence information.

Bork's brief argues that "a president through his attorney general may authorize electronic surveillance without prior judicial approval under his constitutional authority to conduct foreign relations and to protect the national security."

Legislation Pends
However, legislation introduced by Sens. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., and Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., would prohibit government wiretaps or electronic surveillance for any purpose without prior approval of a court.

The hearings of the Senate subcommittee will be on this bill, although Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., has indicated he thinks congressional action should await a Supreme Court ruling.

Almost a month ago Nelson and Ervin offered their bill as an amendment to an appropriation measure for the Justice Department, but they withdrew it after McClellan agreed to schedule hearings on it.

Stock Prices Slump Lower, Reversing Early Day Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market turned tail on some early gains today as a hoped-for reduction in the prime lending rate failed to materialize.

The noon Dow Jones industrial average dropped 3.28 to 667.47, but advanced maintained a two-to-1 lead over declines on the New York Stock Exchange.

Traders apparently were hoping early in the session that a major bank might lower its prime rate — that extended to best business short-term borrowers — in view of the Federal Reserve's recent easier credit stance. But First National Bank of Chicago kept its prime at the prevailing 12 per cent, and investors cashed some of the day's early gains.

Stock Prices Slump Lower, Reversing Early Day Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market turned tail on some early gains today as a hoped-for reduction in the prime lending rate failed to materialize.

The noon Dow Jones industrial average dropped 3.28 to 667.47, but advanced maintained a two-to-1 lead over declines on the New York Stock Exchange.

Traders apparently were hoping early in the session that a major bank might lower its prime rate — that extended to best business short-term borrowers — in view of the Federal Reserve's recent easier credit stance. But First National Bank of Chicago kept its prime at the prevailing 12 per cent, and investors cashed some of the day's early gains.

Cities Urge Ford Back Public Service Job Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National League of Cities and the U.S. Conference of Mayors said the type of program discussed earlier this month by Ford "is a far cry" from what is needed to take the sting out of inflation.

In a statement prepared for today's state and local government conference on inflation, the two organizations endorsed a proposal first made by Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, for providing 800,000 public service jobs.

The spokesman said on Sunday that the organization's assets have plummeted from $3 billion to $2 billion in market value during the past year.

McGeorge Bundy, president of the foundation, said that without a reduction in grants the foundation may have to dissolve by distributing its assets.

Ford Foundation Hit By Inflation

NEW YORK (AP) — A Ford Foundation spokesman says inflation and a depressed securities market may force the nation's wealthiest philanthropic organization to cut annual grants as much as 50 per cent.

The spokesman said on Sunday that the organization's assets have plummeted from $3 billion to $2 billion in market value during the past year.

McGeorge Bundy, president of the foundation, said that without a reduction in grants the foundation may have to dissolve by distributing its assets.
