Case Set Tuesday For Others

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica today ordered a separate Watergate cover-up trial for former White House aide Gordon Strachan.

Visiting Senators Claim 'Ice Broken' With Castro

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro met with two American senators who said afterward they got the impression that Cuba is interested in working toward a normalization of relations with the United States.

Castro was "frank, warm and friendly," but neither senator would say why he believed an improved climate between the two countries may be in the offing.

Javits said among the issues raised during the meeting were Cuban attempts to export revolution, the status of nine American political prisoners on the island and American property taken over by the Castro government.

President Ford's recent defense of CIA operations in Chile during the regime of the late President Salvador Allende, saying: "The new president of the United States, to the surprise and stupefaction of Latin American public opinion, has declared that such actions were carried out in the best interests of the United States."

GOMES APPOINTED—Portuguese Leader Quits Under Fire

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Gen. Antonio de Spínola resigned as president of Portugal today, claiming he was powerless to prevent the country's slide into chaos and anarchy.

Skies were clear and mild autumn weather prevailed throughout Texas today. Forecasts called for little change.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

CAIRO (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger will visit the Middle East Oct. 9-13 in his search for a peace settlement, the official Middle East news agency said today.

First Lady Has Good Night; Doctors Await Crucial Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — As First Lady Betty Ford's doctors awaited a crucial pathology report to determine the extent of her cancer, they reported today she had spent a "much more restful night" and that her condition is good.

The separate trial for Strachan is based upon a special legal problem. The one-time personal assistant to White House chief of staff H. R. Haldeman claims the evidence used to indict him is tainted.

Turkish Premier Ecevit Quits For Second Time

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Premier Bulent Ecevit resigned today for the second time in two weeks after failing to form a new coalition government.

President Fahri Koruturk accepted the resignation and was to make a statement later in the day on the government crisis.

Ecevit resigned two weeks ago because of "irreconcilable differences" between his own Republican Peoples party and their partners-in-government, the Moslem National Salvation party.

The two parties had been at odds over Cyprus policy and cultural, educational and economic matters.

Koruturk returned Ecevit's mandate to form a coalition government after his first resignation. The small, right-wing Democratic party twice rebuffed appeals by the premier to join in partnership with Ecevit's Republicans.

After Koruturk gave Ecevit his second mandate, a compromise was reached in parliament to hold elections next spring, but Ecevit still was unable to form a coalition and he resigned despite the agreement.

Opposition leaders have accused Ecevit of trying to cash in on his "Cyprus victories" by demanding elections in December, although they are not scheduled for three more years.

Political experts feel the premier would win a solid majority in the 450-seat parliament now because of his overriding popularity that followed Turkey's invasion in July and subsequent military partition of Cyprus, in the Mediterranean 45 miles from Turkey.

Ecevit's party is liberal and Western-oriented. Western powers have been generally critical of what they saw as a hard-line Turkish policy over Cyprus.

The Moslem Salvationists favored an even harder line.

The tenuous Republican-Moslem Salvation coalition was formed eight months ago after indecisive fall elections and a political crisis during the three months that followed.

City Man Held On Pot Charge

James Wade Mooney, 4301 Pasadena St., was arrested by Midland police officers early today and charged with possession of marijuana.

Mooney remained in jail after Justice of the Peace John Biggs set a bond of $5,000.

Mooney was arrested at a parking lot at 2401 W. Wall St. after officers became suspicious of his car, police said.

Officers confiscated a suspected marijuana cigarette and five small plastic bags which contained a substance believed to be marijuana.

Bidders Spend More Than $9,000 Mean For Bulls

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Buyers paid an average $9,287.50 for 20 two-year-old Santa Gertrudis breeding bulls auctioned over the weekend at the King Ranch near this South Texas town.

About 5,000 prospective buyers from throughout the world attended the annual day-long sale Saturday which also saw 26 coming 2-year-old quarter horse colts and fillies auctioned at an average $4,434.

John Cypher, assistant to the president of King Ranch, Inc., said the top bull price was $18,000 paid by Michael Rattray of the Republic of South Africa. The price was not a record, not was the bull average, Cypher said.

"In light of the present cattle market however, we were gratified with the results of the bull sale," he said.

The top horse price of $12,100 for a colt was paid by C.R.M. Graham of Bylong, Australia. The horse auction "was one of the best ever, but not the highest average," Cypher said.

Colts averaged $3,853 and fillies $5,015.

Midlanders Hurt As Two Persons Die In Accident

EDEN, Tex. (AP) — Two young motorists died and four others suffered injuries Sunday night as two cars collided eight miles west of here in West Texas on U.S. 87.

State police said the head-on crash at a slight curve killed Van Vincent Sanders, 18, of Kingsland and Patricia Drake, 18, of Seguin.

The injured, described as in serious to critical condition, were listed as Michael Erleben, 18, of Seguin, who was in a sports car with Sanders and Miss Drake, and Ricky Wester, 19, Carla Bates, 18, and Denise Britt, 19, all of Midland and in the other vehicle.

Ambulances took the injured to Shannon Hospital in San Angelo.

A hospital spokesman this morning said Miss Britt was in critical condition this morning, two daughters, three and that Miss Bates and Wester grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Mrs. McCourt, 71, Dies In Hospital

KENEDY — Mrs. Anne McCourt, 71, mother of Bob McCourt of Midland, died Saturday in a Karnes City hospital.

Funeral services will be Tuesday afternoon in the Echols Funeral Home at Kennedy.

Other survivors include a son, three daughters, three and three grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

HOSTAGES STILL HELD—The U. S. Ambassador to the Dominican Republic, Robert Hurwitch, is shown speaking with Col. Robinson Brea of the Dominican police near the Venezuelan Consulate at Santo Domingo where terrorists are holding six persons hostage. Talks for the release of the hostages appear stalled. (AP Wirephoto.)

U. S. Diplomat Held By Terrorists In Good Spirits, But Uncomfortable

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — U.S. diplomat Barbara Hutchison was reported in good spirits but uncomfortable today inside the sweltering Venezuelan Consulate where six leftist terrorists held her and five other persons hostage under threat of death.

Early today the gunmen demanded that police and troops pull back from the two-story stucco building within two hours, but the government did not comply and the deadline passed without any evidence of hostile action by the terrorists.

"Miss Hutchison has not been maltreated, is in good spirits and is being treated as well as she can under the conditions," said U.S. Ambassador Robert A. Hurwitch. "But she is not comfortable."

Miss Hutchison, director of the U.S. Information Service in the Dominican Republic, Venezuelan Consul-General Jesus de Gregorio and the others were seized Friday and threatened with death unless the terrorists got $1 million and safe conduct to Cuba or Mexico for themselves and 37 Dominican prisoners. The government rejected all the demands except transportation out of the country for the terrorists.

On Saturday, the government cut off the consulate's electricity, which in turn shut down the air conditioning and water pumps. The temperature inside the building has ranged between 90-95 degrees, and the gunmen have refused to open the windows, apparently afraid the hostages would try to escape.

On Saturday, one hostage leaped to freedom from a second-floor window.

Hurwitch, who needed a shave and spent a sleepless night, told newsmen after conferring with police that mattresses would be taken into the building soon.

"We have been reviewing some of the measures to make them more comfortable in there and this is one of the things we came up with," he said.

Asked about progress in negotiations to free the captives, he said: "I wish I could say something about this to you but my inability to is only over the concern for Miss Hutchison and the others."

He said the Dominican government has "primary responsibility" in any negotiations, and that he was "hopeful for a peaceful solution."

Archbishop Hugo Polanco, the only person to enter the consulate Sunday, said the guerrillas asked that a negotiating commission be set up, "but the Dominican government has not agreed to act upon that request."

The six hostages and their captors got their first food and drink in 24 hours Sunday when the archbishop took sandwiches and soft drinks into the consulate. Police sources said the government had agreed to the delivery of food and other necessities twice a day.

Radical Mastectomy Breast Cancer Cure

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A former president of the American Cancer Society says the radical mastectomy, the kind of operation Betty Ford underwent Saturday, "is the only way we know we can cure breast cancer."

Dr. A. Hamblin Letton made the statement Sunday after Dr. Frank Rauscher Jr., director of the National Cancer Institute, quoted a report saying that less mutilating surgery was shown to be equally successful.

Rauscher said a study of 1,700 women showed that the radical mastectomy—in which the breast, underlying chest muscle and lymph glands are removed—produced results virtually no better than the simple mastectomy—in which only the breast is removed.

But Letton, an Atlanta physician, said the radical mastectomy is the only way to be certain of removing all cancerous tissue.

"I'm doing two of them Tuesday," he said. "If it were my own wife, I wouldn't want to risk doing something experimental."

Letton said breast cancer has reached epidemic proportions in the United States. He said one American woman in every 15 will develop the disease.

He said that each year, 90,000 American women develop breast cancer and 33,000 women die of it. He said the cure rate is 40 per cent, but could be 67 per cent if more women had regular physical examinations.

"We can't prevent people from getting cancer, but we can prevent them from dying of it," Letton said.

He said that "by the time a woman has a lump in her breast large enough for her to feel it, she's had cancer for about a year."

It is possible to detect breast cancer long before that, he said.

He said a breast cancer screening program at Georgia Baptist Hospital in Atlanta is aimed primarily at women who have no noticeable symptoms of cancer.

He said, "Out of the last 5,000 we screened, 21 had cancer."

Kenneth Allen Slain At Odessa

ODESSA — An Ector County grand jury Monday was looking into the shooting death early Sunday morning of Kenneth Ray Allen of Odessa.

The shooting occurred following a family argument, police said.

No charges had been filed Monday morning.

Police said Allen was shot with a .410 shotgun.

Justice of the Peace Jimmy Harris turned the case over to the grand jury.

Mrs. Smith, 78, Dies At Brownwood

BROWNWOOD — Mrs. Edna L. Smith, 78, aunt of two Midlanders, Carl Peeples and Mrs. Monte Mooney, died Sunday night in her home here after an apparent heart seizure.

Funeral services will be held here at 2 p.m. Wednesday, with the David Morris Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Odessan Slain In Family Row

ODESSA — No charges had been filed Monday morning in the shooting death Sunday of Charles Richard Merritt, 24, of Odessa.

An Ector County grand jury was hearing testimony in the case today.

Sheriff's officers said the shooting occurred following an incident in which Merritt had threatened his parents with a soft drink bottle.

Merritt reportedly was shot with a .22 caliber pistol.

Driver Injured When Truck Rolls

ODESSA — James L. Patton, a 43-year-old truck driver, was listed in satisfactory condition at Medical Center Hospital today following treatment for injuries suffered when his pickup overturned two miles south of Goldsmith late Sunday.

Patton apparently lost control of his late model pickup truck while driving north on FM866 shortly after 11 p.m., a department of Public Safety spokesman said.

Charges Dropped Against Original Kidnap Suspect

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Kidnaping charges against Frank Joseph Wiechman in connection with the abduction of a broadcasting executive's daughter were dismissed today in Hamilton County Municipal Court.

Wiechman, a 26-year-old parolee, was accused by police last week of kidnaping 6-year-old Allison Mechem, the daughter of Charles S. Mechem Jr., board chairman of the Taft Broadcasting Co.

Police asked for the dismissal before Judge Rupert A. Doan, saying their investigation showed Wiechman was not involved in the kidnaping a week ago.

Allison was taken from her front yard while playing on her tricycle.

She was found about 24 hours later some five miles from her home when housekeepers at a motel heard crying inside a locked room.

Police arrested Wiechman late last Tuesday in a chill parlor.

A friend who was with him in the restaurant was also taken into custody for questioning, but was released that night. The friend had told reporters that Wiechman was at an automobile dealer at the time of the kidnaping Monday.

Meanwhile, in Orlando, Fla., Clifford J. Kroger, 38, waived extradition today and agreed to return to Cincinnati to face charges of kidnaping the Mechem girl.

Cincinnati detectives said they would return Kroger to Ohio later in the day.

Police had no immediate comment on why they asked that the charges against Wiechman be dropped.

Wiechman was arraigned Thursday but he gave no plea. Bond was set at $188,000, the amount police said was asked in two ransom calls Monday to Mechem, board chairman of Taft.

Mechem made two attempts to reach the abductors Monday night, but failed, police said. Two paper bags full of money were recovered from locations in Cincinnati after the girl was found.

Leader--

He said part of that spirit was a commitment to "harmony among all political beliefs" and added: "This harmony will never be possible when on one hand the declared chiefs of some political parties make appeals to good sense and on the other hand respective active groups choose the path of psychological warfare through the big news media and even through violence in flagrant negation of liberty."

"I find myself facing evidence that the program of the movement of the armed forces is developing in a direction that would result in its own neutralization in a climate of a reversal of moral standards within which true democracy and liberty are impossible," Spolina said.

He charged that there has been a "systematic surrender" to "reforms carried out in a maniacal way" which threatened the capacity of the Portuguese people to define their "democratic institutions."

He said the "pervading atmosphere" was "total absence of law" that was depriving the Portuguese "of their true ability to exercise sovereignty."

"In this general climate of anarchy, where everyone dictates his own law, crisis and chaos are inevitable, in flagrant contradiction to the purposes of the movement."

Army Asks Calley Be Kept In Prison During Appeal

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Army asked the appeals court today that William L. Calley Jr. be kept locked up while they appeal an order overturning his My Lai murder conviction.

Calley, 31, is in the disciplinary barracks at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan. U.S. District Court Judge J. Robert Elliott of Columbus, Ga., ordered him freed last Wednesday on grounds that his rights had been violated during the court-martial.

However, the Army obtained a temporary order from Chief Judge John R. Brown of the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals.

The 15-page brief filed for the Army in the Circuit Court today asked that Elliott's order be changed to give the Army the option of giving Calley another trial, rather than releasing him.

In addition, the Army asked that Elliott's order be suspended pending appeal.

If the appeals court refused, the Army asked for a 15-day delay to study the opinion of the court to choose legal alternatives.

Child, 8, Injured In Car-Bike Crash

Todd A. Hamlin, 8, son of Mrs. Shirley Hamlin, 3222 Roosevelt St., was in satisfactory condition in Midland Memorial Hospital today with injuries suffered Sunday in an accident.

The bicycle he was riding was in a collision with a car driven by John Darrel Davidson, 3116 Roosevelt St., police said. The accident occurred on Roosevelt Street near Crestview Street.

"The Squawman" was the first feature-length motion picture made in Hollywood.

Odessa Police Question Suspect

ODESSA — Odessa police late Monday morning were questioning an Oregon man in connection with the 10:20 a.m. armed robbery of the Medical Center Pharmacy here.

Police said several bottles of narcotics were taken in the holdup.

Officers arrested the Oregon man after the store manager allegedly followed him to a nearby house.

Kissinger Seeks Larger Role In Settling Crisis On Cyprus

By KENNETH J. FREED NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is moving toward a bigger role in the efforts to work out a settlement of the Cyprus crisis.

Kissinger's first task on arriving in New York Sunday was to meet with Greek Foreign Minister George Mavros. The next item on his schedule was a breakfast meeting today with the Turkish foreign minister, Turan Guner.

Kissinger has been moving gradually into a more direct role in the Cyprus situation in recent weeks as other efforts to arrange a settlement have failed to bring the Greeks and Turks back into negotiations. He hopes that the two sides will let him be a go-between similar to the role he has taken in the Arab-Israeli crisis.

Kissinger and Mavros gave no indications of progress after their meeting and talked in generalities to newsmen.

The Middle East may occupy Kissinger as much this week as Cyprus.

He is giving a dinner tonight for representatives of the nations of the Arab League and plans meetings with various Arab leaders during the week. And on Wednesday he will have a session with Israeli Foreign Minister Yigal Allon.

Before leaving Washington, Kissinger met for 90 minutes with Syrian Foreign Minister Abdel Halim Khaddam. Their discussion reportedly centered on two main points — the possibility of U.S. aid to Syria and extension of the deadline for the withdrawal of U.N. troops from the Syrian-Israeli ceasefire line. Neither man gave any indication of progress in either area.

The White House has asked Congress to provide $100 million for aid to Syria if Kissinger feels that the Syrian government is seriously interested in a peace settlement with Israel and better relations with the United States.

Groundbreaking Held For WPC

E. E. Runyan, president of Western Pollution Control Inc., told guests at groundbreaking ceremonies held today for the $300,000 tri-building oil field company's new Midland services complex would house Industrial Park site that three executive offices for WPC Inc., subsidiaries of WPC could now be combined into a more efficient location.

Runyan said that the new facilities for Instrument Tubing and Electrical Co. Runyan noted that a warehouse and laboratory facility for Petroleum Analytical Laboratories Services would also be located at the site.

Martin Allday, president of Permian Basin and Midland Allday also noted that WPC's new Industrial Park site was a welcome addition that would spur other companies to locate in the growing Midland industrial scene.

Mayor Ernest Angelo welcomed the WPC officials and guests noting that WPC was now becoming a part of Midland's fast growing industrial base.

Runyan said that 60 persons will be employed at the new site which will have 15,000 square feet of working space. He said that construction is scheduled for completion in April of 1975, and noted that another building will be added to the complex next year. That facility will house plant operations for the Bell Rubber Co.

All buildings at the Industrial Park site will be of the concrete panel type construction with Delaware Basin stone facings. General contractor for the project is CRS Inc. of Odessa.

Runyan introduced company and division officers during the ceremonies. They included Dale Waldron, vice president; Roy C. Gould, president of IT&E division; Joe C. Neal, president of PAL division; Barry J. Brooks, assistant secretary and treasurer; and Floetta Stafford, corporation secretary.

WPC GROUNDBREAKING — Tossing over the first spade-fuls of soil to symbolize the start of construction for Midland's newest oilfield service complex at Industrial Park, Western Pollution Control Inc., are, from left, E. E. Runyan, WPC president; K. M. Jastrow, president Midland Chamber of Commerce; Mayor Ernest Angelo; Win Brown, county commissioner; Charlie Welch, county commissioner, and Martin Allday, president Midland Industrial Park Development Corp. Completion of the three-building complex is scheduled for April of 1975.

House Realignment Proposal Promises Hot Congress Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — A controversial proposal to realign House committees touches off a bruising week in Congress, with battles also expected over foreign aid and funds for former President Richard M. Nixon.

The House has set aside a full week for the intramural struggle over committees. Opponents tried to prevent consideration of the measure today by seeking to defeat the resolution that brings it to the floor. Failing there, they hoped to convince the Democrats at a special party caucus Tuesday that it should be put off until next year.

The bill, drafted by a special committee headed by Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo., would eliminate two committees, drastically revise the jurisdiction of most others and limit membership to one major committee.

The last time the committees were shuffled was in 1948, and supporters of the bill claim the proposed changes would permit

New Instrument May Cut Deaths

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Doctors at the 380-bed Humana Suburban Hospital here are using a new medical instrument which it is hoped will drastically cut death from cardiac arrest during surgery.

Dr. Jerry Phelps, staff anesthesiologist who developed the monitoring device, says the 7-pound battery-powered instrument can provide advance warning when cardiac arrest is imminent, giving doctors extra time to head off the crisis before it erupts.

Senate Committee Members Near Total Agreement On Health Insurance Measure

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Finance Committee members have virtually reached agreement on a health insurance bill they would like to see passed in the closing months of the 93rd Congress.

But chances for such legislation still are highly uncertain even though it has been given a top priority by House and Senate Democratic leaders. Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., the Finance chairman and chief sponsor of the bill his panel is expected to approve, says one of the key factors is how much effort President Ford is willing to put behind the legislation.

Ford has asked this Congress to act on a broad health care bill.

But Long comments that, if the President "really wants a health bill," he is going to have to rally some Republican support for it.

Another hurdle for the legislation may be erected by Senate and House members who want a much broader measure than the one under consideration in the Finance Committee.

Chief features of the bill are a plan to protect families from the huge expenses of a catastrophic illness and an improved health care program for the poor.

Its annual cost would be about $9 billion, far less than other national health insurance proposals.

Long argues that it will lay the foundation for a broader program later.

The catastrophic illness section would finance most health care costs after a family had incurred expenses of $2,000 in a year or after an individual had been hospitalized 60 days.

The program for poor families would replace the present Medicaid, benefits and set national standards of benefits and eligibility.

Betty's Surgery Clouds Ford's Political Plans

By GAYLORD SHAW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Betty Ford's bout with cancer has cast a question mark over President Ford's immediate and long-range political plans.

Soon after the First Lady underwent surgery for breast cancer Saturday, the President told aides to curtail his public schedule for the next week.

Ford also enlisted Vice President-designate Nelson A. Rockefeller to substitute for him on a planned speech-making trip to Utah and California Tuesday through Thursday.

Mrs. Ford is expected to be hospitalized for at least 10 days, and White House aides say it is questionable whether the President will make any out-of-town speeches during that period.

Also placed in question by his wife's illness is Ford's plans to make 25 or more speeches in behalf of Republican candidates in the two weeks prior to next month's elections.

White House aides say the President's political schedule will hinge on the pace of Mrs. Ford's recovery. But they acknowledge that even before her hospitalization, Mrs. Ford was cool to the idea of her husband spending many more years in public life.

Taps Composed During War
The bugle call known today as "taps" was composed by Union Gen. Daniel Butterfield in 1862 during the Civil War.

The catastrophic illness benefits would be financed by a three-tenths of 1 per cent increase in the Social Security tax. The cost would be $3.6 billion a year.

The $5.3-billion program for low-income families would be paid for out of general revenues.

If the Senate passes the measure, it will go back to the House.

Lady Bird Presents Second LBJ Awards

NEW YORK (AP) — Lady Bird Johnson and her daughters have presented the second annual Lyndon Baines Johnson awards to a former mayor and the head of a self-help organization for the poor.

The widow of President Johnson and daughters Lucy Nugent and Lynda Robb presented the awards to former Mayor Ivan Allen of Atlanta, Ga., and Franklin A. Thomas, president of the Bedford-Stuyvesant Restoration Corp., here Saturday.

The awards, $12,500 each to Allen and Thomas, were established to honor Americans who have made a substantial contribution to mankind in their particular fields of endeavor. Mrs. Johnson said of the award to Allen:

"I'm proud that it was the tool of politics, of which I have a high regard, that Ivan Allen used to achieve the changes he did in Atlanta."

Officials Change Locks At College

GRINNELL, Iowa (AP) — Following the theft of the master key for locks on doors in eight student dormitories at Grinnell College, officials felt it would be safer to replace all the locks rather than to run the risk of burglaries. Accordingly at a cost of $1,800, every lock was changed. A few hours later, the stolen master key was secretly returned. But the precautionary move was considered wise, since a copy of the key could have been made.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Cast Iron Pan Turns Food Black

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Association

DEAR POLLY — I have some motorcycles not allowed to take vacant parking spaces but go to undesignated areas rather infuriating. We cyclists must take a driver's test to get a license just the same as the driver of an automobile. We must buy license plates just like car owners and are subject to all rules of the road, fines and penalties just as car drivers. I say we are entitled to a parking space in any parking lot for we would certainly get a ticket if improperly parked. After all the nickel we put in the meter is worth as much as the nickel put in by the driver of a car. — KAREN.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with those people who allow their small children to hold up lines at a drive-in bank just so they can take the money tube out, put it back, drop it and take up more and more time. This may be all right when there is no one in back but very thoughtless when a line of people are idling their car motors waiting. Also, children pushing carts in supermarkets can be a real hazard. How often I have been nearly crippled as a child went by pushing a cart very fast and with no regard for the heels of those trying to do their shopping. — MRS. G. L.

DEAR POLLY — To erase a white mark, such as powder, from any black material just rub a small piece of the black fabric over the white or light mark and it will disappear. — MRS. L. R. R.

DEAR POLLY — Quilt making again has become so popular that I am embroidering my initials and the date in a corner of each quilt I make. Whenever the quilt becomes an heirloom my grandchildren, etc., will have some sort of record concerning it. My mother had many old quilts that we would love to know more about such as when they were made and by whom. — MRS. W. McA.

DEAR POLLY — I found Mrs. H.O.N.'s letter suggesting that 'Self-Analysis' Program Given. Mrs. Charles Boatman and Mrs. Jim McAninch presented a program on "Self-Analysis" for a recent meeting of Mu Psi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi in the home of Mrs. Dorman Blackman, 2601 N. A St. Mrs. Marty Hearne was the co-hostess. Mrs. Rick Etheredge, president, welcomed as guests, Mrs. David Bennett and Mrs. Doug Wilmut. A discussion on duties of the chapter for the area convention of the sorority to be held in October in Midland was led by Mrs. Carl Williams and Mrs. Hearne. Mrs. Blackman reported on services by the chapter to residents of Trinity Towers. She also said a chapter donation was made to High Sky Girls Ranch. Hostess gifts were presented to Mrs. Wilmut and Mrs. Dwain Martin.

DEAR POLLY — Do the same with needlepoint. — POLLY. You will receive a dollar if Polly uses your favorite home-making idea, Pet Peeve, Polly's Problem or solution to a problem. Write Polly in care of this newspaper.

Dairy Council Program Given For Altrusa Club Luncheon Meeting
Mrs. L. C. Curry, director of the Dairy Council of Midland, Inc., was the speaker for a luncheon meeting Thursday of the Altrusa Club of Midland in the Sheraton Inn. Mrs. W. E. Sturman, chairman of the community service committee, introduced the speaker, who discussed nutrition and a balanced diet. She explained the purposes and program of the Dairy Council, an educational branch of Dairy Counseling, Inc. She said nutrition is not a required subject in Texas schools. Feeding the urgency for children to know about nutrition at an early age, Mrs. Curry visits schools to promote the idea of nutritional instruction. She also trains teachers in the subject and presents programs and training for groups and organizations in the community. Using color charts, Mrs. Curry explained the minerals and vitamins in four groups—milk, meat, vegetables and fruits and breads and cereals, advising the quantities of each needed to form a balanced daily diet. The president, Mrs. John J. Carter, led the club in the invocation and collect. During a brief business session, the club voted to send items to the Big Spring State Hospital. Evelyn Levisay, chairman of the vocational services committee, announced an application for a Founders' Fund Vocational Aid Grant was being processed for a student in the current LVN class. Mrs. Loleta Guffey, chairman of the international relations committee, displayed stationery and announced special orders will be taken by the committee. Mrs. Dolie Miller was a guest. New members were Mrs. Guy Saunders and Mrs. A. A. Boroughts.

Edison PTA Sets Open House Today
The Edison Freshman School Parent-Teacher Association will hold open house today in the school's cafeteria following a brief business meeting set for 7:30 p.m. Principal R. L. WARREN FALLER
WHAT IS THE TRUTH?
"Thy Word is Truth" (John 17:17)
by Bryan Boos
Jesus compared the kingdom of God to a great banquet in Luke 14. Entering the kingdom is like going to a sumptuous feast—it is full of spiritual fellowship and delight. The kingdom is a kingdom of deep joy that comes from God's grace and the forgiveness of man's sins, from fellowship with other Christians and God, and from the peace of God that passes understanding. More than this, God, as the master of the banquet, wants his house to be full; there is room for all of us.
Who would turn down such a gracious, generous invitation? In the parable some did. Their excuses ranged from their earthly possessions ("I have bought a field") to their earthly ties ("I have married a wife"). Today such excuses are still being used as men decline God's invitation.
The Kingdom of God is like a great banquet. How about you? Will you enter into it?

CORRECTION

In the Womack's ad that ran Sunday, Sept. 29, the Sale Date was given as Sept. 24 - 28, which is incorrect.

The Sale Date is Oct. 1-5.

We don't intend to leave the next generation with a generation gap.

In the years ahead, these youngsters will need enough electricity for their homes, jobs, schools and hospitals — and to take care of the environment. At the same time, the availability of the basic fuels used to run our generating plants — natural gas and oil — will continue to decline.

But plants that use these fuels cost a lot more than gas/oil plants. While this means electricity will have to cost more in the future, the cost won't be as much with lignite and nuclear fuels as it would be with natural gas and oil, even if adequate new supplies were available.

We're continuing the orderly development of our power system, because we don't intend to leave the next generation with a generation gap.

'Trail Dust'—A Memory

Doug Meador, long-time editor and publisher of The Matador Tribune, is gone . . . and West Texas newspaperdom never again will be quite the same without him.

He died late Friday in a Lubbock hospital, after a brief illness.

Doug Meador was a newspaperman's newspaperman. He could have held editing or writing positions on most any newspaper in the land . . . or he could have limited his writing to books and magazine articles. But Doug Meador chose to publish his own weekly newspaper, aided by his wife, Lila, in his native city of Matador . . . serving it and its residents to the best of his ability. This was his life and he loved it to the fullest. He was one of the "old school" of editors, and proud of it.

He also served six years as mayor of his hometown and had been active in other civic affairs.

When Meador entered the Lubbock hospital, which, incidentally, was his first time to be hospitalized, he finally agreed to put his newspaper up for sale, but only to a resident of Motley County who would promise to continue its publication at Matador.

Meador's "Trail Dust" column was quoted frequently in publications over the state and nation. This resulted in a book, "Trail Dust," which went into a third printing, and brought him a White House commendation.

Honors came his way in numbers, but the modest newspaperman never let them affect him one way or the other. He was the same Doug Meador, newspaperman, always.

He was named "Texas Newspaperman of the Year" in 1952 by the Dallas chapter of Sigma Delta Chi. He was a past president of the West Texas Press Association and twice had been elected as president of the Panhandle Press Association. The Texas Press Association once named "Trail Dust" as the best column in the state.

Yes, Doug Meador is gone. He will be missed, but at the same time, the "sage of Matador" long will be remembered.

Gentle Reminder

Yes, a gentle reminder should be all that is necessary to get high school students, and others, who, without thinking, dump lunch wrappings, cups and cans from their cars, parked in school areas and elsewhere, to refrain from the practice.

The youths have a great deal of pride in their schools and in their community. Surely they can and will help keep the school areas clean and neat.

'En Garde'

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: Kennedy kidnaping scare brought Secret Service agents into action.

WASHINGTON — The public has yet to learn the full story behind the kidnaping scare that brought more than 60 Secret Service agents racing from all points of the country two weeks ago to protect the late Sen. Robert Kennedy's children. Here are the exclusive details: The Secret Service's duties are strictly defined by law and do not include guarding the progeny of deceased senators.

Yet for one full week, on orders from the White House, the agents provided emergency, round-the-clock protection for the Kennedy children. Before the affair was over, the bodyguard service also was extended to a nephew, Christopher Lawford, son of actor Peter Lawford and Patricia Kennedy.

One agent, standing watch outside a Harvard University blowout attended by one of the Kennedy boys, even suffered the indignity of having to duck a urinary sprinkle. A raucous party raged inside.

The same agent later stood by in astonishment as local police descended upon the scene and barged past him into the building to quiet the reveling students.

The kidnaping threat, based upon a third-hand tip from a police informant in the Boston area, turned out to be bogus. By conservative estimate, the false alarm cost the taxpayers about $126,000.

The bizarre affair began on an unlucky Friday, September 13. Some shady characters, according to the tip, had been talking about kidnaping David and Robert Kennedy Jr., both of whom attend Harvard. Relayed to FBI.

The information was relayed to the FBI, which immediately launched an investigation. Meanwhile, Ethel Kennedy, the anxious mother, was alerted. Her first thought, of course, was to protect her children. She knew from experience that the Secret Service has the world's best bodyguards, so she made an urgent request for federal protection.

Secret Service Director Stuart Knight, knowing he had no authority to protect the Kennedy children, agonized with his associates over the request. He personally drove out to the Kennedy estate in McLean, Va. to explain to Ethel how his hands were tied.

But he was overruled by his boss, Treasury Secretary William Simon, who took up the kidnaping threat with the White House. Back came word from presidential counselor Phil Buchen: Protect the Kennedy children.

Simon ordered the Secret Service into action on Saturday, Sept. 14. Then he telephoned Ethel Kennedy to reassure her. My associate Joe Spear spoke with Simon, who said he had frequently been threatened with physical harm and, therefore, had "empathy for people in public life." Considering the suffering the Kennedy family has been through, he said, "this was one of the easier decisions I have ever made."

Word was received on Wednesday, Sept. 18, that the supposed kidnapers really had their eye on Ethel Kennedy's nephew, Christopher Lawford, who attends Tufts University in Medford, Mass. So a protective

"missing Americans" to take part in the 1980 census.

These are the most depressed ghetto blacks who were not counted in 1970. Because they represent 7.7 per cent of all blacks, the entire black community lost millions in federal and state aid based on census statistics.

The memos show that Cassey took steps to get these "missing Americans" on the census rolls. For his efforts, he was summoned before Failor and was told his proposal was "stupid."

His voice rising, Failor said the proposal was a "huge mistake" and demanded to know whether Cassey had "any problems."

"I have no problems," replied Cassey.

"You may well have in the future," shot back Failor.

This turned out to be prophetic. Failor and his census chief, Vincent Barabba, a Nixon campaign polster in 1972, began giving Cassey a bad time. His staff was slashed, and he came under sudden investigation.

Footnote: Failor conceded he called the Cassey proposal "stupid," but only because it was full of false statements. He admitted Cassey is in trouble because of his proposal, but said this is purely because it shows "bad judgment." Both Failor and Barabba defended their policies toward the blacks.

Price Was 'Right'!

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — John Taylor filled his car with gasoline one evening recently. The next morning, his son asked to borrow the car. After driving about two blocks, the car coughed and stopped in the street. On looking at the rear of the car, the son found a $5 bill attached to the gas cap.

VIEWPOINT— Politics Of Inflation Something Else Again!

By TED KNAP
WASHINGTON (NEA)—Success has many parents; failure is an orphan.

That's how it is with today's economy, especially the double-digit inflation.

Ordinarily, the president and his party get the credit or the blame for the state of the economy when voters go to the polls. This year may be different.

President Ford is trying to attribute a substantial share of the responsibility to the Democratic-controlled Congress, and top Democrats acknowledge that he is succeeding.

When he opened his series of economic meetings, Mr. Ford pointedly noted that he called them in response to recommendations by Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield and a "bipartisan" group in Congress. He made sure that invitations went to Democratic as well as Republican economists, and to Democratic as well as Republican members of Congress.

Repeatedly, Mr. Ford and his spokesmen have said that solving the problem of inflation will require "joint" and bipartisan action by the administration and Congress.

"Separately we can only make it worse, but together we can beat it to its knees," Mr. Ford has said.

This is shrewd political strategy, and then some. It also happens to be the only realistic way in which the President could hope to get inflation under control within a reasonable period of time.

The President alone cannot get fiscal 1975 spending down below $300 billion so as to avert another sizable deficit that would increase the demand on loan money and aggravate inflation. For starters, he could not save $700 million and set an example by deferring the Oct. 1 federal pay raise for three months because Congress wouldn't let him.

He cannot succeed in jawboning against undue price and wage increases if members of Congress are advocating "catch up" pay hikes and special interest price boosts for their constituents. The Council on Wage and Price Stability will work only if it has the full public support of both branches of government which established it.

If Mr. Ford asks for tax adjustments, public service employment or other programs to help the economy, he obviously will need Congress to enact them.

Democratic National Chairman Robert S. Strauss and Deputy Chairman Mary Lou Burg admit privately that Mr. Ford has outmaneuvered them on this issue, at least for now.

Republican candidates in the November election do not expect to take as much of a beating on the economy as they would have if Richard M. Nixon was still president or if Mr. Ford had simply announced at takeover that he would continue the policies of his predecessor.

If he had, he would not have been given the 71 per cent job approval rating in his first month's Gallup Poll, since Nixon had been getting very low ratings on his handling of the economy.

Actually, President Ford has not departed from the Nixon economic policy, but is buying time to decide what to do. Public willingness to go along with him may last through the November elections, perhaps through Christmas.

In the cold of winter, however, delivered — or misdelivered — and an illustration of the vast discretion enjoyed by our judges is found in an incident that took place in Cleveland the other day.

The BIBLE Can You Quote It?

A man described by police as the principal supplier of LSD to pupils at a local high school had pleaded guilty to two narcotics charges. The first carried a mandatory prison sentence of not less than 20 years to life, the second a mandatory sentence of not less than 10 years nor more than 25.

Whatever "mandatory" means under the law, it apparently does not mean mandatory. Common Pleas Judge Frank J. Gorman sentenced the pusher to five years' probation.

There was an immediate outcry from Cleveland police, who had spent seven months building the case against the suspect. Judge Gorman defended his action by noting that the man already had spent six months in the county jail awaiting sentence.

"And that's like a year in the reformatory," he said. "If he didn't get his belly full of jail there, he never will."

On that basis, we ought to empty the prisons and put everybody on probation.

Judge Gorman later admitted to having committed "a monumental goof" and ordered the rearrest of the pusher but by that time he was nowhere to be found.

No matter how fair our laws, no matter how dedicated and honest our law enforcement officials, no matter how many prisons we build and how enlightened our treatment of their inmates, if the system of justice breaks down at the courtroom level, the nation is in trouble.

The survey dealt with hypothetical cases. A real-life example of how justice can be in one case, a cab driver is convicted of making a heroin sale. One judge would have hit the man with a 10-year sentence, but another would have sentenced him to only one year, the minimum penalty for precisely the same offense.

In another case, a businessman is convicted of tax evasion. One federal judge would have sentenced him to three years and a $5,000 fine — the maximum. But another would have given him three months and the fine.

The results of the survey moved one commentator to describe the nation's system of justice as "roulette in the courtroom."

Maybe Pumpkin Thieves Hungry

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Jennifer Hickey thinks the thieves who took two giant pumpkins from her garden probably were just hungry.

The five-year-old Concord girl wanted to show her kindergarten classmates the pumpkins which had reached a 2 1/2-foot diameter.

But last week the big orange vegetables, 15 Hubbard squash weighing 25 pounds each, and other produce were stolen from the community garden area where her family has a plot.

"They've got a lot of food by now, I hope," the blonde-haired youngster said of the pumpkin raiders, "so maybe they won't need to take any more."

Most Guerrillas Want Settlement

By JOSEPH PANOSSIAN
An AP News Analysis

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Most of the Palestine guerrilla groups are expected to go along with Yasser Arafat's new peaceful strategy despite the opposition of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine.

The Popular Front, a Marxist organization led by George Habbash, last Thursday withdrew from the executive council of the Palestine Liberation Organization and repudiated the agreement made by Arafat, the head of the PLO and of the Al Fatah guerrillas, to work with the Egyptian and Syrian governments for a political settlement with Israel.

The Popular Front vowed to continue the "armed struggle" against Israel. Two small guerrilla groups, the Iraqi-backed Arab Liberation Front and the Popular Front — General Command, approved the PFLP's move and were thought likely to support it at a meeting of the PLO's executive council in Damascus today. But they indicated they would not quit the council and instead would "work from inside."

The other 11 guerrilla organizations in the PLO are all expected to stick with Arafat. The central council is expected to endorse Arafat's moderate line.

Arafat's position was strengthened by the agreement of the U.N. General Assembly to debate the Palestine question as something more than a refugee question for the first time, and by the recognition of the PLO by Egypt and Syria as the sole legitimate representative of the Palestinian people.

The PLO maintains that this recognition is a "major political victory" that is worth following up at the United Nations and later at the Middle East peace talks in Geneva. However, the PFLP said the PLO had joined "the two Arab countries on the road toward defeatist solutions" and that participation in the Geneva talks would result in capitulation on the Palestine question.

It accused the PLO leadership of going along with U.S. efforts for an Arab-Israeli settlement and of holding secret meetings with the United States. The PLO replied that the charges were "based on false information" and invited the PFLP to reconsider its withdrawal.

The Arab press unanimously criticized the PFLP's action, calling it untimely. Robert Campello, president of the Colorado Springs group, said his chapter would take legal action to block the revocation. Campello said it wasn't an unexpected decision and his group already has hired a lawyer to fight the action.

The club has 14 members, including two women. One woman is an insurance agent and one is a manager of a travel agency.

Kiwanis Charter Revoked For Club Admitting Women

CHICAGO (AP) — Kiwanis International has revoked the charter of its Colorado Springs, Colo., chapter because the chapter permitted women to join.

This move against the Cheyenne Mountain Kiwanis Club was taken Sunday by the Kiwanis International board of directors. The board scheduled a Feb. 1 hearing on the revocation.

Robert Campello, president of the Colorado Springs group, said his chapter would take legal action to block the revocation. Campello said it wasn't an unexpected decision and his group already has hired a lawyer to fight the action.

Popcorn Ed's Nose Top Business Asset

VALLEY CITY, N.D. (AP) — Popcorn Ed's nose saves him from bankruptcy. A customer unfamiliar with Ed may wonder why the popcorn vendor sniffs, fingers and jerks a dollar bill offered for a bag of popcorn.

Report Says Nixon Offered To Return Blanket Pardon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon offered to return the blanket pardon granted by President Ford after it touched off a political controversy, a White House source says. However, the offer wasn't regarded seriously.

The offer was "not a formal legal offer to turn back the pardon because I don't think there's any legal way to do that," the source said Sunday night.

Instead, he said, Nixon's statement was "a sort of casual, off-handed, figurative statement mentioned out of politeness."

The source said Nixon began a telephone conversation with Ford on Sept. 17 by saying he was sorry about the trouble the pardon had caused and would send it back if that would help. Ford didn't take it as a serious offer, the source added.

After discussing the pardon, Ford and Nixon talked about foreign affairs, the SALT talks and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, the source added. Ford granted the pardon Sept. 8, a month after Nixon's resignation, for any crimes the former president may have committed against the United States while in the White House.

The impressions she left, however, must have been favorable because "almost everyone I talked to wanted to come" to the United States. The most important thing she learned on the trip, Miss Pinar said, "was to appreciate the people you love — and America. Being 5,000 miles away from home makes you see that. I'd like to go back, but I'd always want to live in America."

During her trip, she visited Paris and "saw all the monuments with American and French friends," made a detour through Switzerland and spent weekends with her French "family" at their country home in Normandy.

Spears, the son of Mrs. Vienna Spears of 4606 Pasadena St. and J. F. "Fred" Spears of 610 W. Nobles St., said he has "learned a lot more about people and how they react even though they live a long way from us."

Scholarship Funding Needed For 1975 Exchange Program

By LUANNA CROW

Marcey Pinar and Berry Spears are both convinced of the value in the Youth for Understanding American Overseas program, but without 1975 scholarship funding Midland will have no YFU representatives abroad next summer.

Mrs. Guy Saunders, YFU area representative, said two scholarships cost $2,000. Miss Pinar, a senior at Midland High School, last summer traveled to France on a YFU full scholarship, spending four weeks in the Jura Mountains near the Swiss border and four weeks in a Paris suburb.

A Lee High School senior, Spears went to Finland for nine weeks staying with families at Joensuu, near the Soviet border. Mrs. Saunders is currently soliciting contributions and pledges of contributions to be made at a later date to provide for a 1975 summer program.

"Because last year's contributions fell short of the required money, we feel we must have a commitment from the community before we can actually offer the scholarships," she said.

Miss Pinar is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Pinar of 1707 W. Francis St. She described her trip to France as "fabulous" and said she is "grateful to the Midland community for the donations" which made it possible.

In such an experience as the YFU exchange program, "you learn that people are people everywhere," she said. "They're basically the same inside."

Miss Pinar said "people were always asking my opinion of Nixon." They didn't commit themselves one way or the other; they were just interested in my opinion.

She reported the French also asked "why America, if it is the land of the free, would limit Communism."

The students, she said, were interested in American schools where pupils "have a lot more liberty. The French students are really jealous. They don't have any extra-curricular activities and don't have any choice in their subjects."

Meeting people on a one-to-one basis, Miss Pinar said "you'll leave an impression on everyone who knows you're an American."

The impressions she left, however, must have been favorable because "almost everyone I talked to wanted to come" to the United States. The most important thing she learned on the trip, Miss Pinar said, "was to appreciate the people you love — and America. Being 5,000 miles away from home makes you see that. I'd like to go back, but I'd always want to live in America."

Spears, the son of Mrs. Vienna Spears of 4606 Pasadena St. and J. F. "Fred" Spears of 610 W. Nobles St., said he has "learned a lot more about people and how they react even though they live a long way from us."

Pointing out he spoke no Finnish at all when he arrived, he said, "I have a whole lot more patience now than before I left from repeating myself over and over."

During his nine-weeks stay, Spears also visited Denmark, the Lapland portion of Finland and Sweden. Near the end of July, he went with a group of American exchange students to Leningrad in the Soviet Union where he was offered 75 rubles or $130, for the belted Levis he was wearing.

While in Finland, he first lived 45 miles from the Russian border, then with another family less than a mile from the border on a farm which had been owned by the same family since the 1600s.

Spears said one of the questions he was asked most frequently was whether the U.S. likes Russia. "They kind of like the U.S., but they have to get along with Russia. Most of the young persons are Socialist-Communist."

Like Miss Pinar, he was often asked if he thought Nixon was guilty and whether he liked President Gerald Ford. The Finnish were also interested in American television, he said, wanting to know if it is on the air 24 hours a day every day.

Spears said beginning Sept. 1 the Finnish were to have television for four hours every day on two channels.

Often asked if violence in the U.S. is "as bad as they say on tv," he said one woman he met had thought all American "young people were bad people, rioting on campus and all. She was surprised to find out they aren't."

Enthusiastic about the program that sent him to Finland, Spears described it as "super." "I wouldn't have missed it for anything in the world."

Mrs. Saunders said the YFU students are available to address groups and organizations about their experiences in the program. Donations to the scholarship fund are appreciated, but not required.

Explaining that the scholarship fund is used only to send Midland students abroad, she said recipients are chosen on the basis of who would make the best ambassador. They are chosen, one from each high school, by the local YFU committee which interviews each applicant.

The program provides for an actual family living experience in the country of the students' choice.

The Midland public schools, she said, would like to see the program continued but advance funding will be necessary to do so.

Mrs. Saunders said contributions are tax deductible and checks can be made out to YFU and mailed to her at P.O. Box 914, Midland. She also requests letters from persons who intend to contribute at a later date.

Persons desiring further information about the program or wishing to hear the experiences of a YFU student, may contact Mrs. Saunders at 694-6509.

Veterans Day Observance Continues In Controversy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Veterans Day holiday is still caught in a tangle between those who celebrate and those who make money out of it.

Congress several bills to change the holiday, chances are viewed as slim for any revision this year.

Since 1971 Veterans Day has been one of federal Monday holiday observing workers a three-day week. It is celebrated on the fourth Monday in October, this year.

Veterans organizations are lobbying Congress to move the holiday back Nov. 11, once Armistice marking the end of World War I. It was named Veterans Day in 1964.

For emphasis, such organizations as the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion are saving their ceremonies and parades for Nov. 11 again this year. That date, in fact, is the official state holiday in 42 states.

"There will only be token celebrations on the 28th," said Legion spokesman Bob Cohen. "Nov. 11 is Veterans Day and always will be in the hearts and minds of millions of Americans," said Sen. Bob Dole, R-Kans., a backer of legislation to switch the holiday to Nov. 11.

Senate hearings to change the date were held this year and Dole sides think a bill will at least be put on the chamber calendar.

In the hearings, the chief opponent of a switch was a group formed for just such an occasion: The National Council for Monday Holidays.

The council is composed of associations representing major and charter airlines, bus and sightseeing companies, hotels, motels and the AFL-CIO restaurant, hotel and bartenders union.

"These people are involved in getting money on three-day holidays," said VFW spokesman T. H. (Tip) Marlow. "Monday holidays are beneficial to industry," said Jim Gaffigan of the American Hotel and Motel Association. "It's not in the best interest to switch back."

Business could be flexible over designating another three-day weekend, Gaffigan said. "We're just trying to preserve the concept. Someone may want to move another holiday."

There are bills to switch the federal Memorial Day back to May 30, instead of the current last Monday in May. Under the federal holiday law the other Monday holidays are George Washington's Birthday and Columbus Day. Labor Day was enacted under separate legislation.

Aerobics Center Dedicated At Oil Roberts University

It was at the school where he died a $2 million aerobics center in his own name and bearing his name. Dr. Cooper received it from the Institute for Aerobics Research in Dallas.

At the time officials disclosed, Oral Roberts University, Harding College of Kansas and the Institute for Aerobics Research in an 11 joint research program.

The institute will try to determine the long-range effect of a four-year, required, aerobic-oriented, physical education program for college men and women.

Aerobics emphasis on enlarging the lung, heart and blood vessel capacity of the body through exercises such as swimming, running and cycling. Dr. Cooper said recent research has shown a program of aerobics has resulted in drops in cholesterol level, percentage fat, blood pressure, weight and heart rate.

The research program planned here will add great impetus to the whole field of physical fitness," he told newsmen.

Gloomy Economic Prospects Send Market Sharply Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market dropped sharply today amid unremitting gloom over prospects for the nation's economy and the market itself.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 10.64 at 811.31, and losers led gainers by close to 3-to-1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said the Dow's slide to a new 12-year closing low Friday apparently convinced many investors that chances for any significant rally soon were slim. The market posted a big loss last week despite some seemingly encouraging news—a prime rate cut by several banks.

The Southern Co. was the most-active Big Board stock, unchanged at 10 1/4. A 100,000 share block changed hands at 10.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index of corporations are rebelling these days against the geographical moves that became associated with upward mobility, or success, during the 1960s.

The reaction, says Eugene Jennings, management professor at Michigan State University, is creating pandemonium in some large corporations, which had come to think of their management group as totally predictable.

"Now they have uncertain markets and uncertain supplies, and on top of those they have managers whose behavior in regard to geographical changes also is uncertain," Jennings said. In the 1960s, he said, the need to move was unquestioned.

Now, however, both managers and their wives are asking a lot of questions before agreeing or disagreeing with a planned move. They are putting their family first, after learning that all geographical moves aren't necessarily upward moves on the ladder of success.

those moves producing no noticeable climb up the ladder.

2. The "entire" manager. He is less than five years into his career. He believes that husband and wife can make as much money staying put as they could if they were mobile and had only one salary.

3. The broken home type. He is a man who probably lost his marriage and home because of too many moves in the 1960s. Now he is happily married again, and he is willing to forego success for happiness.

4. The wife who is approaching middle-age and whose children are grown up and living away from her home. She has a need for established relationships with other women or organizations. She refuses to move.

Permian Basin

OIL & GAS LOG

(Continued From Page 1A) north and east lines of section 11, block 18, ULS, 10 miles northwest of Pyote.

Deepening Slated At Glasscock Wells

Cass & Stephens of Dallas, has filed application to re-enter and deepen to 8,100 feet at two former Spraberry producers in the Glasscock County portion of the Trend Area, in attempt to extend the Calvin (Dean) field.

No. 1-33 Daniel, 1 1/4 mile south of Dean production, spots 1,320 feet from north and west lines of section 33, block 35, T-5-S, T&P survey.

No. 2-33 Daniel, 1 1/4 mile southeast of production, is 1,900 feet from south and east lines of section 33. Both projects are some 20 miles southwest of Garden City.

Pecos Gas Pool Project Testing

Texas Pacific Oil Co., Inc. continued testing at No. 4 Montgomery-Fulk, 3/4 mile south extension to the Elsinore (Devonian-Fuselman) gas area of Pecos County, 2 1/2 miles southwest of Fort Stockton.

Through a 21-64-inch choke and perforations at 12,762-12,799 feet, it flowed at the daily volume of 4.7 million cubic feet. No fluid was reported. The section earlier had been treated with 10,000 gallons of acid and fractured with 60,000 gallons and 34,300 pounds.

The project spots 3.110 feet from north and 1,690 feet from east lines of section 88, block A, GC&SF survey. A re-entry operation, it originally was drilled by Hunt Oil Co. as No. 1 Louise M. Fulk, and abandoned in 1959, at 13,221 feet.

Permian Basin Dry Holes

DICKENS — States Oil Co. No. 1 Laredo Hagins, wildcat, 660 feet from north and east lines of section 167, block 1, H&GN survey, 2 1/2 miles northwest of Gilpin, td 4,670 feet.

EDDY — Cities Service Oil Co. No. 1 V Government, wildcat, 660 feet from south and 1,900 feet from east lines of section 13-21-21c, 24 miles southwest of Lake Wood, abandoned location.

LEA — Anadarko Production Co. No. 1-35 Querecho-Federal, in the Querecho Plains field, 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 35-18-32c, 10 miles west of Maljamar, abandoned location.

Horizon Extended In Ector Region

Cities Service Oil Co. No. 1-N Cummins, Ector County re-entry operation, eight miles northwest in the Cummins field, was completed as a fifth Devonian oil producer in the Cummins field.

On 24-hour potential test, it pumped 43 barrels of 39-gravity oil and 13 barrels of water. Gas-oil ratio measured 1,995-1.

Production was through 1 1/2 perforations at 7,755-7,853 feet, which had been fractured with 24,000 gallons and 20,000 pounds of acid.

A former Ellenburger producer, total depth is 9,513 feet, and the plugged-back depth, 8,154 feet. It has 5 1/2-inch casing set at 9,488 feet.

Crane Field Gets Glorieta Oil Well

Union Oil Co. of California has dually completed No. 12 Jerry Cowden, middle Clearfork well, as a location southwest extension to Glorieta production in the Bayview, West field of Crane County.

It pumped 27 barrels of 40.1-gravity oil and two barrels of water on 24-hour potential test, through perforations at 3,016-3,052 feet, which had been acidized with 3,668 gallons. Gas-oil ratio was 1,555-1.

Location is 980 feet from northwest and 8,500 feet from northeast lines of section 40.

Ford Urges Cooperation On World Money Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford urged government financial officials from around the world today that economic problems are serious and complex but the United States believes they can be solved through international cooperation.

In his text for the opening session of the annual meeting here of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund, Ford said:

"I think I can sum up our thinking very briefly. We want solutions which serve broad interests rather than narrow, self-serving ones. We want more cooperation not more isolation. We want trade not protectionism. We want price stability not inflation. We want growth not stagnation."

Ford declared that the United States is prepared to play a constructive leadership role.

Rocky's Chosen Successor Now Underdog

By HOWARD CLARK
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Nelson A. Rockefeller was unbeatable in four campaigns for governor of New York, but his chosen successor is in trouble.

An early newspaper poll shows Gov. Malcolm Wilson trailing far behind the Democratic candidate, U.S. Rep. Hugh Carey. Even Republican leaders have complained about the somber style of his candidate.

Wilson, 60, the former lieutenant governor, moved into the governor's office last December when Rockefeller resigned. But the understudy did not inherit the star's dynamism or zest for campaigning.

He is more at home dining with political leaders than wading through crowds with hearty handshakes. Although he is a skilled technician of government programs, much of the public knows him only as a man with a penchant for narrow ties and Latin quotations. Rockefeller picked Wilson as his running mate in his winning campaign for governor in 1958. Wilson, who had served 20 years in the Assembly, remained as lieutenant governor for the next 15 years.

Carey, 55, widowed father of 11 children, is fresh from a primary election victory in which he overthrew Howard Samuels, former head of New York City's off-track betting operation and the choice of the party's leaders. Virtually unknown outside his Brooklyn district six months ago, Carey gained public recognition with a primary campaign that his official reports say cost more than $2.5 million.

Carey is finishing his seventh term and gave up a seat on the House Ways and Means Committee to run for governor.

Although Rockefeller is not listed on the ballot, he will be a factor in the race. Carey has promised to campaign against the Rockefeller record of tax increases and government construction. Rockefeller says he will campaign for Wilson after the completion of congressional hearings into his nomination for vice president.

Wilson at first tried to ignore Carey in his campaign. Lately, recognizing his underdog role and responding to criticism from fellow Republicans, he has started to attack Carey.

At every opportunity, Wilson links Carey with former U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, the Democratic nominee for U.S. senator and the most liberal candidate on the ballot.

Clark, 46, was the upset winner in a three-way race in the Democratic primary Sept. 10. He ran on the theme of integrity in government and refused to accept individual contributions of more than $100. He is given an outside chance against the three-term Republican incumbent, Jacob K. Javits.

Other Democrats seem unsure about accepting the lanky Texan, but Carey has embraced Clark on the ticket.

Since his primary triumph, Carey has tried to unify the usually fractious Democratic party in preparation for the fall campaign.

He lined up labor support and the endorsement of the state's Liberal party, a small organization that yields power far out of proportion to the number of its members. Wilson has the backing of the Conservative party, so he also will have two lines on the ballot.

Leaders of both parties say Carey's prospects improved when Democratic voters picked a woman, state Sen. Mary Anne Krupak of the upstate community of Canajoharie, as

Reagan Urges Spending Cuts, Gas Deregulation

PAMPA, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan says the most important measure in the fight against inflation would be reduction of the federal budget by $5.5 billion.

Reagan made his statement Sunday while stopping in Texas for a brief visit at the ranch of Rep. Bob Price, D-Tex., where he was the main speaker at a fund-raising luncheon.

From here Reagan went on to Little Rock where he was expected to make another speech boosting the campaign of congressional candidate Judy Petty.

Reagan said in this West Texas city that the federal government "should take a good, hard look at the Federal Power Commission to see if it is not time to deregulate the natural gas industry."

The Republican governor also called for the lifting of price controls on natural gas, saying that such action would encourage domestic exploration.

He cited inflation as the number one issue in the congressional campaign and suggested five measures, which, he said, would curb the inflationary spiral.

He first referred to the $5.5 billion reduction of the federal budget and then to a welfare reform program similar to the one in California which, he said, has taken 400,000 persons off welfare payrolls.

Reagan also called for a change in personal income tax rates to prevent higher tax brackets from absorbing cost of living wage increases, elimination of certain federal agencies and a 10 per cent reduction of the federal bureaucracy.

Reagan said that "if Congress is truly concerned about inflation, the Democratic majority is going to have to do something about it."

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Monday, Sept. 30, the 273rd day of 1974. There are 92 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1954, the first atomic-powered vessel, the submarine, "Nautilus," was commissioned by the U.S. Navy.

On this date — In 1787, the sailing ship "Columbia" left Boston on the first voyage round the world by an American ship.

In 1846, ether was used for the first time as an anesthetic by a Boston dentist, Dr. William Morton.

In 1882, the first hydroelectric power station in the United States was opened at Appleton, Wis.

In 1938, at a meeting in Munich, Germany, British and French leaders agreed to Nazi Germany's annexation of Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland.

In 1946, an international military tribunal in Nuremberg, Germany, found 22 top German Nazi leaders guilty of war crimes. Eleven were sentenced to death.

In 1955, the French delegation to the U.N. General Assembly walked out after the Assembly voted to take up the question of unrest in Algeria.

Ten years ago: In southeastern India, a rain-swollen reservoir burst, sending a wall of water through the town of Macheria and leaving an estimated death toll of 36.

Five years ago: A withdrawal of U.S. forces from Southeast Asia gained momentum with the announced withdrawal of 6,000 troops from Thailand and the departure of 1,000 more Marines from Vietnam.

One year ago: West German Chancellor Willy Brandt cut short a visit to the United States to return to Bonn to deal with domestic controversies.

Today's birthdays: Writer Truman Capote is 50. Singer Johnny Mathis is 39. Actress Deborah Kerr is 53.

Thought for today: More things are wrought by prayer than this world dreams of — Lord Alfred Tennyson, English poet, 1809-1892.

Bentsen Dedicates New Queen Isabella Causeway

PORT ISABEL, Tex. (AP) — Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., took a brief rest from pre-presidential campaign politics Sunday to attend the dedication of the new 12,510-foot-long Queen Isabella Causeway.

"It's nice to be home here in the Lower Rio Grande Valley," Bentsen said in a brief speech in which there was no mention of his political plans for 1976.

He has been mentioned repeatedly as a possible candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination. In recent weeks, he has been making speeches throughout the country apparently testing his popularity among Democrats.

But on Sunday Bentsen was a South Texan coming home for a bit of rest. He praised South Texans for "their vision and courage," and said the new causeway shows that "Texans are still doing things on a grand scale."

The new bridge connects Port Isabel with South Padre Island. It is named after the 15th Century Spanish Queen who

McEntire Wins OS Ranch Roping Title With Record Time

POST, Tex. (AP) — Pecos McEntire has won the OS Ranch Steer Roping Benefit and Art Exhibit with a record time, and the sale of cowboy art also has set a record in the two-day event.

McEntire, 21, won the roping contest with a time of 78.3 for four steers to win his second title in the four-year history of the event. He won it first in 1972.

Second place went to Sonny Worrell of Altoona, Kan., who posted a time of 84.2 seconds. He was followed by Walter Arnold of Silverton, Tex., with 87.8. Arnold was the defending champion.

Charles Good of Elada, N.M., was fourth with a time of 88 flat.

Spokesmen for the event said that 40 cowboys and western artists sold more than $94,000 worth of paintings, charcoals and sculptures.

The annual affair was originated by Jim Prather who operates the ranch for the benefit of the West Texas Boys Ranch in San Angelo.

Burning Industrial Waste At Sea To Be Hearing Topic

DALLAS (AP) — A hearing will be held in Houston Oct. 4 to evaluate a proposal that industrial wastes be disposed of by burning them at sea.

The hearing will be held by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). The program was proposed by Shell Chemical Co. to destroy wastes from its Deer Park plant, 130 miles at sea.

The system has been in use in Europe for more than a year, by Shell.

At the time of the Shell European agreement, EPA did not consider ocean burning subject to regulation under the ocean dumping law, but the policy was changed at the request of the National Wildlife Federation.

The EPA said the method reportedly eliminates well over 95.5 per cent of the organic chloride wastes by converting them to carbon dioxide and hydrogen chloride. The agency said that, although hydrogen chloride is an irritant and is toxic at certain concentrations, the amount that results from the incineration disperses rapidly and is converted to ordinary salt.

Texas Tabs Light Toll By Violence

By The Associated Press

Although mild weather encouraged travel, Texas counted fewer violent deaths during the past weekend than for many others.

The overall toll reached 20 fatalities, all but six in traffic accidents, between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday. Two persons drowned, one was electrocuted, one burned to death, one was shot and one was slain with a pool cue.

These were among the victims:

Van Vincent Sanders, 18, of Kingsland and Patricia Drake, 18, of Seguin died Sunday night as two cars collided eight miles west of Eden on U.S. 87 in West Texas. Four other young people suffered serious injuries.

Joyce Duran, 50, was killed and three other persons seriously injured Sunday when two cars collided in Dallas. Mrs. Duran's husband Jimmy, 56, Michael Bursley, 25, and Darren Ray Williams, 27, suffered serious injuries.

Erick J. Carther, 7, of Houston burned to death Sunday after a pilot flame from a water heater apparently ignited his gasoline-soaked clothing. Officers said he apparently was playing with gasoline in the garage at his home.

Arthur Weisenbaker, 21, was electrocuted Sunday when the mast of his sailboat touched a power line at Austin. Police said normally the mast would have cleared the power lines over Lake Travis, but the water level has risen in recent weeks because of rains.

Austin police said a man was taken into custody after the slaying of Mrs. Kermit Williams, 23, who was clubbed with a pool cue.

Rescue units recovered the body of Jane Hunter, 47, Sunday. She was reported missing Saturday in Lake Arlington.

Two Weatherford men died early Sunday when their car left Farm Road 113, hit a tree and overturned one mile north of Millsap. The victims were Robert Carl Vice, 23, and Ricky Derrell Baldwin, 20.

Mary Wood, 29, of San Antonio was killed early Saturday in a three-car collision on Interstate 10 on San Antonio's east side.

A Hereford man, Daniel R. Padilla, 23, was killed early Saturday when his car overturned on U.S. 285 north of Dimmitt.

Four-year-old Charlen Gail Bryant of Port Neches was killed Saturday when struck by a car on a beach about 10 miles west of Sabine Pass.

John Hilliard McClure, 55, of Irving drowned Saturday in the Trinity River. He slipped from a muddy bank where he was fishing.

A Houston girl, Donna Huey, 10, died Saturday of head injuries suffered late Friday night in a two-car collision in Houston.

Two Brookeland men, Charles Richard Ellis, 17, and Robert Lee Jackson, 31, were killed late Friday when their car overturned on U.S. 96 about 11 miles north of Jasper.

Margaret Garrison of Houston died Friday night of injuries suffered in a car-pickup collision on a Houston city street.

A Houston man, David Wayne Bailey, 29, was shot to death outside a Houston bar on Friday night as he struggled with an off-duty airport policeman. Police said the off-duty officer, James G. Childers Jr., 34, told them Bailey was shot when his .45 caliber service revolver accidentally discharged. No charges were filed.

New Baylor U. Mascot Likes Dr. Pepper, Cries For Momma

WACO, Tex. (AP) — A new face in the Baylor gridiron lineup was making his home debut Saturday night but he was not wearing a football uniform.

The new face which appeared at Baylor's intersectional game with Oklahoma State loves Dr. Pepper, hates marching bands, cries a lot for his momma and has a full beard although he is only nine months old.

His name is "Judge" and he is Baylor's new bear cub mascot.

Duncan Manning, bear trainer and Judge's foster father, claims the cub is the most pampered in Baylor history. Born in January in Wisconsin, Judge was brought to Baylor in August.

"He likes people very much," Manning said. "In fact, he is spoiled rotten. When he first came he wouldn't sleep unless somebody was around."

"Finally we got a dog and left it with him at the pit and he started sleeping with it," Manning said. "He still prefers people," though.

In addition to his regular diet, something similar to dog food, Judge gets an occasional treat of bread and honey but his favorite treat is the soft drink.

Judge first appeared this season at an away game at Oklahoma.

"Bears can't see very well," Manning said, "and when there is a loud noise coming towards them like a marching band, they get scared."

"Since Judge got here, I have been making him listen to march records at full blast," Manning said. "I hope it helps."

Minnesota Wins Traveling Turkey Trophy For 1974

CUERO, Tex. (AP) — Minnesota has won this year's Traveling Turkey Trophy of Turbulent Triumphs with a clear victory over Texas in the annual turkey race between a bird from Worthington, Minn., and one from this South Texas city.

Paychecks, a fleet-footed gobbler who had won the first round in Worthington by defeating Cuero's Ruby Begonia II, lost the race by a step Sunday, but took the trophy on the basis of accumulated time.

Ruby Begonia II won with a time of 28.3 seconds over the 100-yard course and Paycheck came right behind with 28.5.

Paycheck had taken the first round with a time of 57.3 seconds over a 150-yard track, almost a whole minute ahead of Ruby Begonia.

Texas won the event last year. The losing bird normally ends up at somebody's Thanksgiving Day table.

Two UT Faculty Meetings Discuss Spurr Dimissal

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Two University of Texas faculty meetings were scheduled today to consider the dismissal of Dr. Stephen Spurr as president of UT-Austin.

Philosophy professor Edwin Allaire, chairman of the UT faculty senate, said that body would meet at 2 p.m. to discuss the dismissal.

After that, a special committee named by Allaire to investigate the firing is scheduled to meet at 4:45 p.m.

Law professor Parker Fielder refused to serve as chairman of the special investigating committee saying there might be a conflict of interest since he had served as chairman of the faculty committee that selected a new UT law school dean. The selection of the law school dean reportedly has been involved in Spurr's dismissal.

Chemistry professor Stephen Monti and marketing professor Stanley Arbingast also declined to serve on the investigating committee. Both cited academic commitments for their refusal.

Hardie Tops Scanlon For MTC Title

By TED BATTLES
 Top-seeded George Hardie, blond two-time Southwest Conference singles champion from SMU, struggled through two sets with Bill Scanlon, a surprise finalist from Trinity University, then sacked up the 14th annual Midland Tennis Club Invitational Tennis title by overpowering his 17-year-old rival in the final set with a bombing service.

The scores were 6-4, 6-7 and 6-0 before a capacity crowd in ideal weather at the MHS courts Sunday.

Hardie then teamed up with SMU teammate John Muller to score an easy victory over Scanlon and David King in the men's doubles. Susie Smith, Odessa College, downed Ann Schroeder, Trinity, in the women's singles.

Men's Singles
 Semifinals: George Hardie, SMU, defeated Kim Kottelen, San Angelo, 6-3, 6-2; Bill Scanlon, Trinity, defeated David Bryant, Amarillo, 6-3, 6-4. Finals: Hardie defeated Scanlon 6-4, 6-7, 6-0.

Women's Singles
 Finals: Susie Smith, OC, beat Ann Schroeder, Trinity, 6-4, 6-2.

Men's Doubles
 Semifinals: Susie Smith, Odessa College, defeated Kurt Anderson, Carrollton, 6-1, 6-1; Schroeder-THE HAVENSBURG, Trinity, defeated N. B. O'Neil, Waco-Virginia, Brown, OC, 6-0, 6-4. Finals: Schroeder-Havenburg defeated Smith-Hamberly, 6-4, 6-2.

Women's Doubles
 Semifinals: Susie Smith, Odessa College, defeated Steve Johnson-Sumner, WTSU, 6-0, 6-0; Hardie-John Muller, SMU, defeated David Kelly-Kenny Crawford, TCU, 6-3, 7-4.

women's singles 6-4, 6-2, but Miss Schroeder and Till Harenburg combined to beat the OC team of Smith and Barbara Hambridge in the finals 6-4, 6-2.

Hardie, who has won the SWC singles the last two years, led 4-3 in the first set and broke Scanlon's service when the Trinity freshman double-faulted on game point. Scanlon, however, retaliated by breaking Hardie's service with accurately placed passing shots as Hardie stormed the net, but then again lost his own service with a double fault at set point.

Scanlon, who played high school tennis at Richardson and was declared ineligible for state play for playing out of the state in the off season, took the second set by blanking Hardie in the tie breaker.

Hardie battled up hill against himself and Scanlon in the second set after his younger opponent took a 3-2 lead on a service break. With the score 6-5 in favor of Scanlon, Scanlon three times enjoyed advantage only to have Hardie's big serve wipe out the edge and finally even the set.

In the deciding set, Hardie, who hails from Long Beach, Calif., was as devastating as a twister, his whistling serve leaving Scanlon a helpless spectator to the proceedings in an execution that took less than 15 minutes.

Scanlon reached the finals by beating David Bryant of Amarillo Sunday morning, but his big victories came Saturday over second-seeded David Bohrnstedt, SMU, a finalist here last year, and TCU's Bernard (Tut) Bartzan Jr. Hardie beat former Midlander Kim Ketelsen Sunday morning 6-3, 6-2.

Miller Captures 8th Golf Victory

By BOB GREEN
 NAPA, Calif. (AP) — Johnny Miller's a little puzzled by his fantastic success in pro golf this year. He's not at all sure how it came about. He's uncertain how long it will continue.

But the All American boy—tall, blonde, handsome enough to serve as a male model, soft-spoken, a non-drinker, a non-smoker and an elder of his church—is dead sure about one thing:

"I'd never trade this season for one major championship," Miller said after his overwhelming victory Sunday in the Kaiser International Open.

"This," he said in massive understatement, "is kind of caps my year."

It gave him eight titles for the year—the most anyone has won on the American tour since Arnold Palmer took the same number in 1960—and put his season money-winnings at $346,933, breaking the single season mark of $320,542 set by Nicklaus in 1972.

Cards Grab NL Lead

'Red Cotton '75' Is Rushing Things

Going into the fourth quarter Texas Tech was nursing a 26-3 lead that was to survive unmolested against Texas at Jones Stadium Saturday and a group of Tech students felt safe enough to raise a banner that read, "Red Cotton '75."

It's a little early to be writing off Texas as a championship possibility. They've survived early season defeats before to go on and win it and it's even more perilous to claim a SWC championship, at least this year, on the basis of a win over the Longhorns, particularly with Texas A&M and Arkansas still to be encountered down the road.

In fact, the way things have been going this season around the nation, it's unwise to take anything for granted, something Tech already found out in a visit to Albuquerque a week ago Saturday.

It's too soon to credit the 30-player a year limit for bizarre results in college football this fall after only one year, but it's what the NCAA had in mind.

When you come right down to it, one doesn't have to limit the potential trouble spots for Tech to Arkansas and A&M in Southwest-Conference squabbling.

SMU turned in a highly respectable showing against a veteran Ohio State squad last Saturday in a 28-9 loss, Rice forced LSU to rally for a field goal in the final three seconds to salvage a 10-10 tie and TCU, who can be expected to be erratic in their first year under Jim Shofner's overhaul job, almost pulled off a Dutch Meyer vintage upset in losing to Minnesota 9-7.

Battle Scene

By Ted Battles

Perhaps most impressive of all has been Baylor, which is only 1-2, but against easily the most demanding schedule faced by anybody in the conference.

Probably, most important, Grant Teaff's Bears not only played Oklahoma a respectable game, but lived to tell about it, by escaping without any serious injuries.

Everything that has happened to Baylor since looks good in retrospect. Sure, they lost a thriller to Missouri, 28-21, but the Tigers turned around and blanked Arizona State, which had brutalized supposedly potent Houston, 38-9.

Saturday Baylor walloped Oklahoma State, 31-14. Only a week before the Cowboys had demolished Arkansas on the heels of the Razorbacks' great victory over USC and USC last week beat ranked Pitt, 16-7.

Perhaps everything will fall into the old familiar rut and Texas will come on to win it all as has been the case the last six years, but on the basis of the odds-defying results to date, it's enough to make long-time SWC fans feel that maybe those good old days, when nothing was sacred in this league, are just around the corner.

Mets Trip Bucs, Birds Beat Cubs

By KEN RAPPOPORT
 AP Sports Writer

A loss to the New York Mets might shake up the National League East, but it doesn't shake Pittsburgh Pirate Manager Danny Murtaugh.

"I don't think there's any reason for a wake," noted Murtaugh after a 7-2 loss to the Mets Sunday.

The defeat dropped the Pirates back into a first-place tie with the St. Louis Cardinals and set up a Hollywood finish for the East pennant.

Both teams have three games left in the regular season, with the Pirates playing at home starting tonight against the Chicago Cubs and the Cardinals on the road against the Montreal Expos.

Cardinals 7, Cubs 3

Jose Cruz' pinch three-run homer capped a four-run sixth inning which gave St. Louis its victory over Chicago.

All four of the Cardinal runs in the sixth were unearned as pitcher Steve Stone committed a throwing error and shortstop Don Kessinger dropped the apparent third-out pop fly before Cruz, batting for ailing Reggie Smith, hit his fifth homer of the baseball season.

The Cardinals had a 3-2 lead when Mike Tyson singled with one out in the sixth. Pitcher John Curtis bunted and when Stone threw wildly past first, Tyson scored.

Bill Madlock hit his ninth homer to lead off the fourth, closing the gap before the Cardinals broke it open in the sixth.

Reds 7, Giants 3

Pete Rose's leadoff double plus an error by second baseman Tito Fuentes keyed a three-run Cincinnati third inning and Johnny Bench cracked a three-run homer in the sixth in the Reds' victory over the Giants.

The Giants had taken a 2-0 lead off Clay Kirby, 12-9, before Rose's 45th double of the year, tops in the National League, ignited the Cincinnati comeback.

Astros 9, Braves 6

Cliff Johnson's three-run homer in the eighth inning lifted Houston over Atlanta. With two out in the eighth, Roger Metzger walked, Cesar Cedeno singled to center and Johnson belted his ninth home run of the season, over the fence in left-center.

Expos 6, Phils 3

Ken Singleton's first major league grand slam home run, off Ron Schueler in the first inning, carried Montreal over Philadelphia.

SMU Loses Ira Terrell

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist University officials last week. It came shortly after the announcement that will open a second front today in their campaign to recover from another blow to the school's athletic program—the suspension of basketball superstar Ira Terrell.

Terrell's suspension by the National Collegiate Athletics Association was finally revealed by university officials learned of Terrell's ineligibility on Sept. 5. At the time, NCAA officials cited several violations by members of the team. The NCAA report indicated that "on two occasions during the 1972-73 academic year a student-athlete was given cash by an assistant basketball coach to be used for personal expenses."

An SMU official said the infractions involved Terrell and former assistant coach Mike Pinkham.

Mustang Athletic Director Dick Davis said the school had no choice but to declare Terrell ineligible. He added that the school will appeal the case this week.

"Right now we don't know where we stand and we won't know until the first part of the week," Davis said.

David said the school will appeal to the NCAA on behalf of Terrell.

The NCAA report said there were other violations.

SO EVERYBODY DOES-- Dallas Cowboys Team To Beat

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
DALLAS (AP) — It's not the Super Bowl, but Bill Arnsparger believes the thrill of winning your first National Football League game as head coach isn't far off.

The New York Giants looked like the Miami Dolphin "No Name" defense of old Sunday in throttling the high-octane Dallas Cowboys 14-6.

The Giants sacked Cowboy quarterback Roger Staubach six times, recovered two fumbles and intercepted three passes. That defensive effort plus a 14-point outburst in 64 seconds of the second quarter sank Dallas to a 1-2 record in the National Conference East—a plateau also occupied by the Giants.

Of the defense, Arnsparger said "It was tremendous... a great team defense."

A 50-yard pass from Norm Snead to Bob Grim in the second quarter set up a two-yard touchdown run by Doug Kotar, a free agent from Kentucky who was obtained from Pittsburgh in a pre-season trade.

A Dallas rookie, Dennis Morgan of Western Illinois promptly fumbled the kickoff which Chuck Crist claimed on the Cowboy 22. The posed Snead nailed Joe Dawkins with a 14-yard pass on third down for the touchdown and turned matters over to the defense.

Led by tackle John Mendenhall who was credited with three traps himself, the Giants frustrated Staubach all day except for the last 11 seconds of the game when he found Bullet Bob Hayes on a 35-yard touchdown strike.

Crist, Pat Hughes and Elbridge Small intercepted passes in the second half although Staubach ended up with a reasonable day statistically—20 of 37 passes for 256 yards.

"You could use a thousand excuses," said Staubach. "It all comes down to execution until I start doing my job the way I should our offense isn't going to move. I'm not going to look at anything else but myself."

Snead completed 11 of 17 passes for 128 yards as the Giants stuck mostly to the ground in the second half letting the clock run.

"We were able to keep them off balance all day," Snead said. "They were the same club we've played before. We were playing them as they came off a bad break the week before against Philadelphia. They may have been down a little."

Snead said of the Arnsparger-coached Giants "We're a new club, a new staff, we've got new direction and I think we're going in the right direction."

The game was played before 46,353 fans in 65,000-seat Texas Stadium. It was the smallest Cowboy crowd for a regular season game since the 1965 St. Louis game.

Iron Collection Now On Display

Slug irons, fluting irons, hot brick irons, sad (heavy) irons, sleeve irons, hot and cold irons, lace irons, a ribbon pleater, a charcoal heated iron and many other unusual irons comprise the collection of Mr. and Mrs. Kilburn E. Adams of Midland.

It is now on display in the Midland County Library Reading Room.

The irons were collected from antique shops in New England, the prairies of Oklahoma and Kansas, to the ranches of Texas.

Mrs. Adams started the collection with a sad iron given to her by her mother, who acquired it from her mother. This was first used in Virginia by Mrs. Adams' grandmother and later carried to Kansas in a covered wagon well over a hundred years ago. This iron in particular was heated over the many campfires on the long trails to the West.

A very rare iron in the collection is a slug bustle iron with both ends rounded and made over a century ago. It was designed primarily to make it easier to iron the women's bustle—difficult to smooth at best.

A slug of iron in the hollow handle moves and makes a bell-like ringing when the iron moves back and forth in use. Legend has it that the knowing housewife listened when her servant was ironing and would know when she stopped.

An iron with a hinged top and a clasp in the form of a bird perched in front of the handle is heated by charcoal burning in the base. This was used in the decade of the 1850's and is a rare and unusual type of iron.

Also an 18-pound tailor's iron used to press woolens, a fluting iron to pleat ruffles on women's dresses and a long thin sleeve iron are all rare irons in this collection.

A novel hollow brass brick iron has a vertical sliding trapdoor which allows a hot brick to be placed inside the iron without difficulty but it was not designed for heavy duty.

This iron was used over a century ago.

A relic from the early 1900's is an electric iron with a hole in the back in which a curling iron could be inserted and kept clean while being heated for use.

Many more kitchen antiques are in the collection and on display.

COLLECTION OF IRONS—Mrs. Homer Forte examines one of the old irons from the collection of Mr. and Mrs. Kilburn E. Adams of Midland that is on display in the Midland County Library.

Omelets Flipped Without Spatula

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Omelets are flipped, not turned, at a restaurant here.

"We don't use spatulas," owner John Andrews said. "The omelet pans are smooth and spatulas scratch them, causing the omelets to stick."

Ordinarily, cooks flip omelets sideways, tennis style, following them with pans, he said. They sometimes do high flips for show.

"If an omelet is dropped, it goes in the trash," Andrews said.

'City Of Peace' Holds Seeds Of Continuing Mideast Strife

By HORST FAAS

JERUSALEM (AP) — Weeds poke out from between its giant rock slabs and the cracks are filled with bits of paper containing written entreaties to God for a happy marriage or for peace in the Middle East.

It is the Wailing Wall, or the Western Wall, the last remaining relic of the Jewish temple of Herod, built 2,000 years ago. Today it is Judaism's holiest shrine, symbolizing Israel's refusal to relinquish the Arab sector of Jerusalem captured in the 1967 Mideast war.

But on the other side of the wall stand the gold-domed mosque of Omar and the silver-capped Al-Aqsa Mosque, next only to Mecca and Medina in sanctity to Islam.

While Palestinians dream of returning the entire city of Jerusalem to the Arab world, most other Arabs speak only of regaining East Jerusalem, captured by Israel in 1967 and held despite the stronger Arab showing in the Yom Kippur war, which began last Oct. 6.

From the birth of Israel in 1948 until 1967, Jerusalem was divided into Arab and Israeli sectors.

Bitter memories fuel Israel's determination never to abandon the Arab sector of the city — especially the Wailing Wall and the adjacent Jewish quarter, destroyed by the Jordanians and now being reconstructed for Jewish dwellers.

The city is Yerushalayim to Jews, Ur-Salim to Arabs. Both terms mean "City of Peace."

Police Fences Fete, Arrest 42 Queens Burglary Suspects

NEW YORK (AP) — No one had to call police to complain about the party the two neighborhood fences threw for 42 well-dressed burglary suspects.

That's because the two "fences" were police themselves. And so were the cab drivers who drove the guests to a Queens warehouse for the festivities. And the eight "ushers" inside the warehouse wore distinctive blue uniforms and carried badges.

When the party ended abruptly Saturday night all the guests found themselves booked on possession of stolen property charges, and police were looking for 130 other invited guests who allegedly did business with the "fences."

Police officials said the planning for the party began last April when Detectives Richard Ledda and Joseph Fasullo bought a storefront and passed themselves off as underworld fences willing to pay well for stolen goods.

During the next months the two detectives were allegedly flooded with $700,000 worth of stolen jewelry, credit cards, guns, autos, stereos, office equipment, a cardiograph machine and 700 bras.

They also bought welfare checks worth $100,000 and similar amounts of Social Security pension and payroll checks, police said.

When the detectives decided to gather in their customers, Ledda threw a party to celebrate a pretended mob promotion.

Once inside the door they were searched, disarmed and arrested so quickly that one stunned guest asked Fasullo: "Joe, did you have to invite these people, too?"

Soviet Abstract Artists Finally Hold Outdoor Show

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet abstract artists finally succeeded in displaying their work at an outdoor show attended by more than 5,000 persons, but most of them think it will be the last exhibit of its kind.

The artists' first attempt to show their work two weeks ago was broken up by plainclothes police using bulldozers and water cannon. After widespread foreign condemnation, the Moscow city council gave official sanction to an exhibit Sunday.

There were no uniformed police in sight this time, but eight busloads of militiamen were standing by a mile away.

Six of the 61 exhibiting artists were reported to be members of the official artists' union who look part even though they had been warned by the union to stay away. The others were artists whose work does not conform with the realistic style approved by the Communist party.

This is the first time I've exhibited publicly since 1963 and it will probably be the last for a while," said Misha Chernishev.

Many of the other artists agreed.

Terrorist Blast Kills Allende Supporter, Wife

(AP) — A Chilean supporter of the late President Salvador Allende, Gen. Carlos Prats, and his wife were killed by an explosion beneath their automobile police said.

The deaths early today raised the number of persons killed by right-and left-wing terrorists to at least 27 persons in two weeks.

There was no immediate indication of who was responsible for the assassination of the couple, who fled across the Andes to Argentina when conservative military leaders in Chile overthrew Allende a year ago.

Sacrifice? Fine For Other Fellow

By R. GREGORY NOKES
An AP News Analyst
WASHINGTON — A Catholic priest, Msgr. Lawrence J. Corcoran, made one of the few offers of personal sacrifice at President Ford's weekend economic summit conference.

Msgr. Corcoran, a delegate representing the National Conference of Catholic Charities, said he would accept a 10 percent reduction in his income to help the economy if everybody else would do the same. But it seemed that most everybody else expected somebody else to do the sacrificing.

Homebuilders wanted subsidies, thrift institutions wanted incentives for more savings activity, people on welfare didn't want their programs cut, Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger said defense spending already was cut to the bone, businessmen said price controls wouldn't work for them, labor leaders said inflation has eroded wages enough.

Still there was virtually unanimous recognition by all of the 800 delegates who expressed themselves that somebody is going to have to make some sacrifice if the nation is going to come to grips with its economic problems.

A major challenge facing President Ford is how to distribute the sacrifice.

"Inflation strikes society unevenly," Ford said Saturday. "Government must concern itself with those on whom this burden falls excessively."

He promised a program in the next 10 days that will include help for the jobless and tax adjustments to help those hurt most by inflation.

But how much help, and how to give it, is the second big challenge.

If help for the jobless means a public service employment program, which is likely, then the money must come from somewhere.

Housing and Urban Development Secretary James T. Lynn acknowledged the dilemma in talking about a proposed special program for home mortgage subsidies to help the sagging housing industry.

He said the government would have to turn to the credit markets to borrow the billions that would be required, and that would result in some slight upward push on interest rates, with some inflationary consequences of its own.

Archbishop Visits Nixon In Hospital

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon was described as "a man remarkably alive and in excellent spirits" by the archbishop of the Los Angeles Roman Catholic diocese who visited him at the hospital during the weekend.

Archbishop Timothy Cardinal Manning. "He showed no signs of strain or illness. He said he was in no pain. I was amazed. He was in excellent spirits, very happy."

Manning said he has known Nixon since 1946, "when he was a young congressman and I was a young bishop."

Nixon, 61, was being treated for phlebitis in his left leg and a blood clot in his right lung. He entered the hospital last Monday and has been receiving anticoagulant drugs to prevent further clots from forming and to solidify the clot in his leg so no parts of it break off and travel through his system.

Dear Abby

—By Abigail van Buren

He's A Reconditioned Exhibitionist

DEAR ABBY: I read the letter from "Scared," the 19-year-old girl who just found out that her steady boyfriend had been arrested several times for indecent exposure.

Thank you for your compassionate and understanding attitude. You said, "It's an illness. He needs therapy." Abby, you are so right.

I am a 28-year-old man who was cursed with that illness for about 15 years. It's called "exhibitionism." And it's as difficult to control as alcoholism. In plain language, it's an uncontrollable urge to expose oneself.

I was normal in all other respects and couldn't understand this fierce urge I seemed powerless to control. I won't go into the humiliation, problems with the law and tremendous guilt feelings I suffered until I finally found a psychologist who knew how to treat this illness. He used the "conditioning" technique, and it cured me.

I have been married for five years to a woman who stood by me through the worst. She gave me the courage to seek professional help, and the strength to stick with the treatment. Had it not been for her, I could not be signing myself.

EX-EXHIBITIONIST
P.S. Abby, because I trust you, and know that you will not betray that trust, I am signing my real name and address. If you print my letter, please don't divulge my name or location. Although I am cured, and, God willing, will never regress, I am still ashamed of my past.

DEAR EX: Because I feel that an unenlightened society has misunderstood this problem for years I shall print your letter.

Perhaps in an effort not to seem self-serving, you failed to mention an important fact: Exhibitionists are usually gentle, non-violent people, and the chances of their attacking anyone are very, very remote.

But in fairness to society, exhibitionists cannot be allowed to go about traumatizing children and shocking adults.

Those who sincerely wish to overcome their problem have an excellent chance of being helped, either by psychotherapy or conditioned reflex therapy. I urge those who are still fighting this battle to seek out such help.

DEAR ABBY: "Stumped Divorcees" didn't know how to say "no" to a man. (She said, "If I had never been married,

Cow Belles Rap Betty's Beef Cutback

COLEMAN, Tex. (AP) — West Texas women say First Lady Mrs. Betty Ford is going at it the wrong way if she thinks that reducing beef consumption at home will stop inflation.

The Texans' reaction was expressed last weekend during the annual Coleman County Fair where the Circle C Cow Belles, most of them wives of cattlemen, protested Mrs. Ford's statements. The wives were showing to visitors newspaper stories quoting the First Lady as saying that the Fords are eating more casseroles and less beef in the White House.

The wives gave visitors propaganda literature explaining the origin and work behind beef production and its many by-products.

"Mrs. Ford seems to think that the only way to fight inflation is to cut down on the number of steaks and roast beefs her family," said Mrs. J. P. Miller Jr., president of the Cow Belles group.

Mrs. Stencil Edgington, another member of the group said: "Beef is bringing the same amount of money to the cattleman that it did in 1948, but look at the difference in his cost."

Mrs. Henry Newman, a spry woman at 70, said she had lived around cattle all her life. "I know one thing," she said. "You've got to have so much beef in your diet for good health and Mrs. Ford better know that."

Mrs. Gandhi's Son Weds Beauty Queen

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Sanjay Gandhi, the 28-year-old son of Prime Minister Indira Gandhi, and a campus beauty queen had a wedding that was quiet by Indian standards.

Gandhi, an automobile designer, and Menaka Anand, the 18-year-old daughter of an army officer, signed marriage documents before a local magistrate and close relatives and friends.
