Pay Opener Is Finaled

Jack G. Elam of Midland has completed a San Andres oil pay opener in the Wasson, North field of Yoakum County, eight miles south of Plains.

It firmed to pump 22 barrels of 32.4-gravity oil, no water, in 24 hours, with gas-oil ratio of 1.082-1. Production was through perforations at 5,225-5,265 feet, which had been acidized with 500 gallons.

Drilled to 5,290 feet, it has 4 1/2-inch casing set one foot off bottom. Ground elevation is 3,583 feet.

Location is 467 feet from north and 2,173 feet from east lines of section 698, block D, J. H. Gibson survey.

Andrews Area Tubb Horizon Is Re-Opened

Tubb oil production has been re-opened in the Martin field of Southwest Andrews County, with recompletion of Sun Oil Co. No. 2 Nellie C. Martin, 14 miles southwest of Andrews.

It gauged a 24-hour pumping potential of 39 barrels of 41.4-gravity oil and one barrel of water, with gas-oil ratio of 718-1. Production was through perforations at 6,358-6,394 feet, in 5 1/2-inch casing seated at 8,046 feet. Total depth is 8,840 feet, and the plugged-back depth, 6,482 feet.

The well originally was completed from the Wichita pay in the Martin field in 1946 and it was recompleted in 1972 as a Fusselman well in the Martin, West field.

Location is 660 feet from south and 1,979 feet from east lines of section 17, block A-41, PSL survey, 3 1/2 mile northwest of the original Tubb strike, which was completed in 1955.

Sterling Re-Entry Slated As Venture

Mitchell Energy Corp., Houston, plans to re-enter and deepen to 8,800 feet as a wildcat, at No. 1 O. A. Milton, Sterling County failure, 19 miles south of Sterling City.

Originally drilled by J. C. Williamson and Southern Minerals Corp., as No. 1 Atkinson, it was plugged and abandoned Oct. 5, 1963 at 8,061 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 30, block 7, H&C survey, abstract 236, six miles south of the WAM, South (Fusselman) gas field, in which Wolfcamp and Montoya oil pays have become depleted.

Confirmer Finals In Eddy Gas Area

Monsanto Co. has completed No. 1 McNew as a second Canyon well and 2 1/2-mile northwest extension to that pay in the Avalon field of Eddy County, N.M.

It had a calculated, absolute open flow of 6.485 million cubic feet of gas per day, producing through perforations at 9,516-9,530 feet. The amount of condensate was not reported.

Location is 1,804 feet from (Continued On Page 6B)

Ford Denies Deal In Pardon

16.8 Per Cent Hike Proposed In Rates For Auto Insurance

AUSTIN (AP) — A staggering 16.8 per cent average statewide increase in private passenger car insurance rates was recommended today by State Insurance Board experts.

The staff recommendation compares with an 18.3 per cent increase sought by the insurance industry.

Board Chairman Joe Christie said the three-man regulatory agency would carefully examine the statistics submitted by the staff before making its final decision on new rates within a few weeks. The new rates would take effect Dec. 1, the board said. "I can assure you that the board intends to use a sharp pencil when we write the final rates," Christie said.

If approved by the board, the

Rocky's Wife Has Surgery For Cancer

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President-designate Nelson A. Rockefeller announced today that his wife, Happy, was undergoing surgery for breast cancer.

He described the surgery as a radical mastectomy in the left breast. He said the surgery started at 8:30 a.m. in Sloan Kettering Memorial Hospital.

"I'm confident that it's going to come out. All I can say is 'thank God' that she got in and that this country has such wonderful doctors," Rockefeller told a news conference in his Manhattan office.

The surgery came about a week after Betty Ford, wife of the President, left the hospital after undergoing a mastectomy herself.

Asked how it would affect his pending nomination for the vice presidency, Rockefeller responded: "I think at this time perhaps all of us should be thinking about Happy."

Rockefeller opened the news conference by telling reporters, "You won't believe what I'm going to tell you."

He said that Happy had discovered a lump in her breast last Friday. He said there were three small nodules.

He said that his wife was probably a little more conscious of the danger of breast cancer since the recent operation on President Ford's wife.

"As just one more family, we're just very grateful that it led to a checkup," he said.

staff-recommended rates would increase the average motorist's bill for a typical policy by anywhere from $21 in Rockwall County near Dallas to $48 in Montgomery County near Houston.

Christie held out some hope for a smaller increase than the board's actuaries said was justified by statistics on accident costs—both for medical expenses and car repairs.

"In its presentation, the board staff did not integrate the data of the energy crisis that has rated headline treatment in recent months. The board will consider this data in its final decision on adopting rates, to determine if driving less, driving slower and having fewer accidents has helped offset this upward trend," he said.

Changes Detailed Statewide average percentage rate changes recommended by the board's staff include:

—Full coverage comprehensive, up 22.3 per cent.

—$100 deductible collision, up 25 per cent.

—Bodily injury liability, up eight-tenths of 1 per cent.

—Property damage liability, up 21.4 per cent.

The recommended rates for collision and comprehensive coverage are close to those proposed by the industry's spokesman, David Irons of the Texas Automobile Insurance Service Office.

But the figures are far apart for liability insurance.

While Texans have had fewer accidents, each accident costs more because inflation has pushed up the price of medical care and auto repairs, Irons said.

Irons recommended these increases: Full comprehensive, 22.6 per cent; $100 deductible collision, (See INSURANCE Page 2A)

SAYS 'NO DEAL' IN NIXON PARDON—President Ford tells the House Judiciary subcommittee that there was no deal behind his controversial pardon of Richard M. Nixon Thursday during his appearance before the subcommittee in Washington. (AP Wirephoto.)

Nixon Tape Played In Cover Up Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — The tape of a September 1972 conversation in which former President Richard M. Nixon discussed the Watergate break-in and its aftermath was played today at the Watergate cover-up trial.

Prosecutors at the Watergate cover-up trial prepared today to play one of the subpoenaed White House tapes but defense lawyers quickly challenged whether the recording could be used as evidence.

With former White House counsel John W. Dean III on the stand as the first prosecution witness, the government planned to play the tape of a Sept. 15, 1972, conversation Dean had with then-President Richard M. Nixon and H. R. Haldean, Nixon's chief-of-staff and one of the five cover-up defendants.

Before the jury entered the courtroom, John J. Wilson, Haldean's lawyer, was on his feet challenging the use of the White House tapes as evidence.

"I want to examine Mr. Dean on his memory of these tapes before they go into evidence," Wilson said.

Wilson urged U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica to set a far stricter standard for admissibility of the tapes than had been suggested by the prosecutors.

In a memorandum submitted Wednesday to Sirica the prosecutors argued that the tapes would be admissible so long as one of the participants, Dean in this case, "recalls all the participants in the conversations, identifies all the voices on the tapes as those of the participants, and who recalls the substance of the conversations as well as many details of the conversation."

More Questions Sought The prosecutors argued there was no need for Dean "to remember each and every detail of the conversation."

Wilson, however, argued for (See NIXON TAPE Page 2A)

President Vetoes Turkey Aid Cutoff Bill For Second Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford today vetoed an attempt by Congress at a legislative compromise on cutting off military aid to Turkey and the House failed to override the veto.

Ford's veto was of an emergency appropriations bill that carried amendments which would let the President postpone an aid cutoff until Dec. 10.

But it had a provision that the cutoff would take effect immediately if American-supplied military aid was forwarded to Cyprus.

Appears Before Panel The veto was announced while Ford was testifying before a House committee on his pardon of former President Richard M. Nixon.

Ford, rebuffed by two successive congressional votes on the Turkish aid question, contends the threatened halt to aid shipments would stymie efforts to reach a negotiated settlement of the Cyprus dispute. In his latest veto message, Ford said: "The Congress, despite the best efforts of the bipartisan leaders of both houses, has for the second time refused to recognize the realities of the situation."

Reconsideration Urged The President urged that Congress "reconsider its action and provide a bill which will permit the continued execution of United States foreign policy in a constructive and responsible manner."

Should Congress again ignore his appeal, Ford said, "it must do so in the clear knowledge that it assumes full responsibility for the situation which would then prevail."

Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., a chief backer of the bill, called the veto "an outright endorsement of Turkey's use of American guns and bullets to occupy another country."

Ford's first veto of an aid cutoff bill came Monday and forced Congress to delay a recess so members can concentrate on campaigning for the Nov. 5 election.

The underlying appropriations measure must be acted upon because, without it, a number of major federal departments including agriculture, labor and health, education and welfare, would be without funds to continue normal operations.

The veto had been predicted by White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON (AP) — The total value of the nation's output of goods and services dropped at an annual rate of 2.9 per cent from July through September, the third consecutive quarter the Gross National Product has declined, the government reported today.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon filed a suit in federal court today to retain custody of millions of documents from his administration.

HOUSTON (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe reaffirmed today his opposition to any legislation to scrap the state's law which in effect bans closed union or agency shops.

Mid-Continent Chief Blasts Jackson

By MAX B. SKELTON HOUSTON (AP) — A top spokesman for the Texas petroleum industry said today Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., reminds him "of the Indian who said the white man speaks with a forked tongue."

Sherman Hunt, president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, said Jackson wants to take incentives away from domestic producers while expecting them to increase production and reserves.

"The American consumer is being told by Sen. Jackson the way to scare the Arabs into reducing the price of their oil is to kick the American oil producer in the teeth," said the Dallas independent operator.

Hunt spoke at the concluding session of the annual meeting of the trade group that represents about 90 per cent of all segments of the Texas oil and gas industry.

Session Ending Hunt said Jackson sent President Ford a Sept. 27 letter saying he wants to increase domestic production and develop a capability to withstand another cutoff of supplies from exporting countries.

"In the next paragraph he says he would increase production by maintaining federal price controls on the domestic producers and increase their taxes by abolition of percentage depletion and other income tax provisions which make it possible for investors to risk their money in oil and gas ventures," Hunt said.

No Volume Increase "Then he would tell the exporting countries they could expect up to $25 billion a year from us, but he wouldn't allow them to increase the volume of the oil they would ship us until they reduced the price."

Hunt said Jackson is offering the exporting countries incentives not to reduce their prices. "Why should they?" he asked. "He plans to allow them the same amount of money regardless of volume."

Hunt said it is typically misleading for Jackson to speak authoritatively about domestic producers getting $10 or $11 a barrel for crude oil.

"This is the approximate price of uncontrolled oil, but two-thirds of the oil supply is controlled at $5.25," he said.

Price Cuts "It may surprise the senator, and maybe some people in Texas, to know that tax payments to the state of Texas indicate Texas producers are averaging $6.80 per barrel and this represents a reduction of approximately $1 a barrel since the first of the year."

A resolution adopted Wednesday by the association said the nation's natural gas shortage this winter may approximate 800 billion cubic feet and that (See SPOKESMAN Page 2A)

Midlander Wins Grand Steer Honors At 1974 State Fair

Mrs. John (Linda) Garner, an agricultural supervisor Harold Skiles at the Dallas show.

Her champion steer will be placed on the auction block Friday and is expected to bring a good sale figure.

Mrs. Garner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Hancock of Midland, who are attending the Dallas show.

The youthful owner of the grand champion steer has been involved with cattle breeding for the last three years as a member of the Midland High FFA Chapter.

Also represented at the state fair are 30 other MHS-FFA Chapter members along with three school sponsors. The students have a total of 25 lambs, 12 pigs and six steers sponsored by Midland High.

Fair Skies Continuing

Fair skies and a warming trend are expected in Texas through Friday.

Northerly winds generated by a high pressure ridge kept air dry over the state early today.

A maximum temperature in the middle 80s is expected in the Midland area today and Friday, and the National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal said the low tonight should be near 50 degrees.

The maximum here Wednesday was 77, and the low this morning was 50.

Temperatures at dawn elsewhere were in the 40s and 50s, ranging from 44 at San Antonio, where a record low 41 was reported Wednesday, to 61 at Galveston, according to The Associated Press. Nearby Beaumont and Port Arthur reported lows of 45. Wednesday those cities had a record low 40.

More cool weather was forecast for tonight.

President Says Possibility Of Act Discussed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford, in a historic personal appearance before a congressional panel, said today he discussed the possibility of pardoning Richard M. Nixon if he resigned as president, but declared there was no deal behind the subsequent pardon.

Reading a lengthy statement in matter-of-fact tones, he told the nationally broadcast House Judiciary subcommittee hearing that "I assure you that there never was at any time any agreement whatsoever concerning a pardon to Mr. Nixon if he were to resign and I were to become President."

State Oil Allowable Full Again

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission set the state's November oil production allowable today at 100 per cent of potential, the 32nd consecutive month that it has been pegged at the maximum.

Commission Chairman Jim Langdon noted the total nominations for purchases of Texas crude oil by major buyers for November was 4,075,201 barrels a day, down 17,582 barrels a day from the October figure.

"All of you know that simply is a reflection of the inability of the purchasers to obtain all the oil they need," Langdon told industry representatives.

"Some happier signs" are surfacing, Langdon said. "The total acreage now leased in the United States is about as high as it has been since 1959—425 million acres. That is 20 per cent of the United States area."

"Some believe hydrocarbons underlie much of this untested area," he said.

Another good sign he said, was the 40 per cent increase in drilling applications. Unfortunately, there is an actual increase in drilling of only 15 per cent, he said, because of a shortage of pipes and drilling rigs.

Nominations by major purchasers of Texas crude oil for November, in barrels per day: Amoco 350,000, Atlantic Richfield 170,000, Chevron 77,800, Cities Service 118,000, Continental 54,500, Diamond Shamrock 36,000, Exxon 805,000 (down 4,000), Gulf 178,500 (down 1,100), Mobil 345,000, Phillips 115,000, Shell 300,500, Sun 225,000, Texaco 223,000, Union of California 95,000.

His statement concluded, Ford answered questions put by subcommittee members in turn, and firmly rejected any suggestion that there would have been reason for Haig to advise Nixon prior to his resignation that he might be pardoned if he quit the White House.

The question was raised by (See FORD Page 2A)

United Way At 64 Per Cent Of 1975 Goal

The Midland United Way campaign reached the 63.8 per cent mark today with $343,517 in pledges and contributions reported.

The Major Oil Division, headed by Tom Stoy, became the first division to top its goal in the 1974-75 campaign. Stoy, vice president of Union Oil Co. of California, reported $36,714 or 104.42 per cent of the division's $35,159 goal.

An Award of Excellence was presented to employees of Magnatex, Inc. Cecil Bybee accepted the award from E. J. Holm, a United Way "loaned executive" from Northern Natural Gas Co.

The fifth noon report meeting of the United Way campaign, which funds 19 agencies, was held at The First National Bank. Two more report meetings are scheduled with the drive to raise $538,400 concluding Nov. 14.

Bill Malone, vice president of Commercial Bank & Trust Co., is chairman of the drive.

Spokesman For Oil, Gas Industry Blasts Washington Senator

Key Factor

"The wellhead price of natural gas is a key factor in the decision to drill for new reserves," the resolution said.

"It is the American consumer who is the ultimate loser when federal price controls cause shortages of natural gas."

The association also called for retention of oil's 22 per cent depletion tax allowance and the elimination of price controls on crude oil and petroleum products.

The Texans charged that some members of Congress and the Ford administration are attempting to divide the industry by offering political alternatives to the tax allowance.

Position Weakened

The House Ways and Means Committee has proposed that the allowance that was cut from 27 1/2 per cent to 22 per cent in 1969 be phased out over a three-year period.

"Phasing out of the percentage depletion provision in federal income tax laws will stifle the activities of all producers," the resolution said.

It added that the industry's opposition has been weakened by reports of offers of such political alternatives as tying abolition to removal of price controls and attempting to permit the deregulation of wellhead prices of gas entering interstate commerce.

All members of the Texas petroleum industry were urged to remain united on a policy of maintaining the current percentage depletion rate.

Natural gas, crude oil and petroleum products currently are the only commodities subject to federal price controls.

The resolution said the $5.25 per barrel freeze on oil from the old wells, or about two-thirds of the state's crude production, is forcing Texas to subsidize the energy needs of much of the nation.

The oilmen also called for enactment of a Texas unitization statute and rejection of any proposal to enact a state petroleum products manufacturing tax.

Operating all interests in an oil or gas field as a single unit currently is permissible in Texas but is not compulsory even if a substantial majority of the interests desire to do so.

The oilmen contend a production manufacturing tax would stifle further industrialization in Texas and would cause some refining operations to be abandoned and shift work and expanded refinery projects to other states and the Caribbean Islands.

GM President Proposes U.S. Rules Moratorium

HOUSTON (AP) — The president of General Motors Corp. predicted today that GM car owners could save nine billion gallons of gasoline through 1978 if no more "mileage-robbing federal regulations" are imposed.

E. M. Estes, in remarks prepared for delivery to the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association meeting, said the improved fuel economy would mean the United States could import 13 per cent less oil between now and the 1978 model year.

Estes said GM's projections were based on the assumption that the auto industry would not have to meet new emissions, safety, damage or noise standards requirements during that period.

Continued improvements in fuel economy could mean a 45 per cent increase in miles per gallon on 1978 models in city-suburban driving, compared with 1973 models, he said.

"We're going all out to improve fuel economy, giving it top priority consistent with the demands of the marketplace and the regulatory demands of the government," Estes said.

He urged the oilmen to support GM's proposed moratorium on new federal automotive standards.

"As for federal regulations, we do not need new ones or the threat of new ones to spur us in this effort," to improve fuel economy, Estes said.

Estes said GM was not suggesting a rollback of present emissions standards or a reduction in vehicle safety by proposing a standards moratorium.

Martha Mitchell Granted Alimony Of $1,000 Weekly

NEW YORK (AP) — Martha Mitchell has won temporary alimony of $1,000 a week, one-third of the amount she had asked for from her estranged husband, former U.S. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell.

State Supreme Court Justice Manuel Goetz, noting Wednesday that Mitchell's income after fixed expenses is $2,744.40 a week, scaled down the alimony figure and also cut Mrs. Mitchell's request for lawyers' fees to $3,500.

She had asked for $35,000 for the lawyers handling her preliminary suit for separation on abandonment charges.

At an Oct. 8 hearing, lawyers for Mitchell had said Mrs. Mitchell was living in surroundings that rivalled the Taj Mahal. Her lawyers said her financial condition was dire.

Mitchell is on trial in Washington in the Watergate cover-up case.

Westside Optimists Plan For Banquet

First quarter board meeting and the upcoming Youth Appreciation Banquet were discussed in the Wednesday noon meeting of the Westside Optimist Club in the Elks Club.

Robert Hollman, president, informed members of the board meet for North Texas District Optimist International Oct. 24-26 in the Holiday Inn here.

The Youth Appreciation Banquet is set for Nov. 12 at Ranchland Hill Country Club.

Wednesday's meeting also included presentation of a Dallas Cowboys film and a report on Sunday's motocross race by secretary-treasurer Jack Scannell.

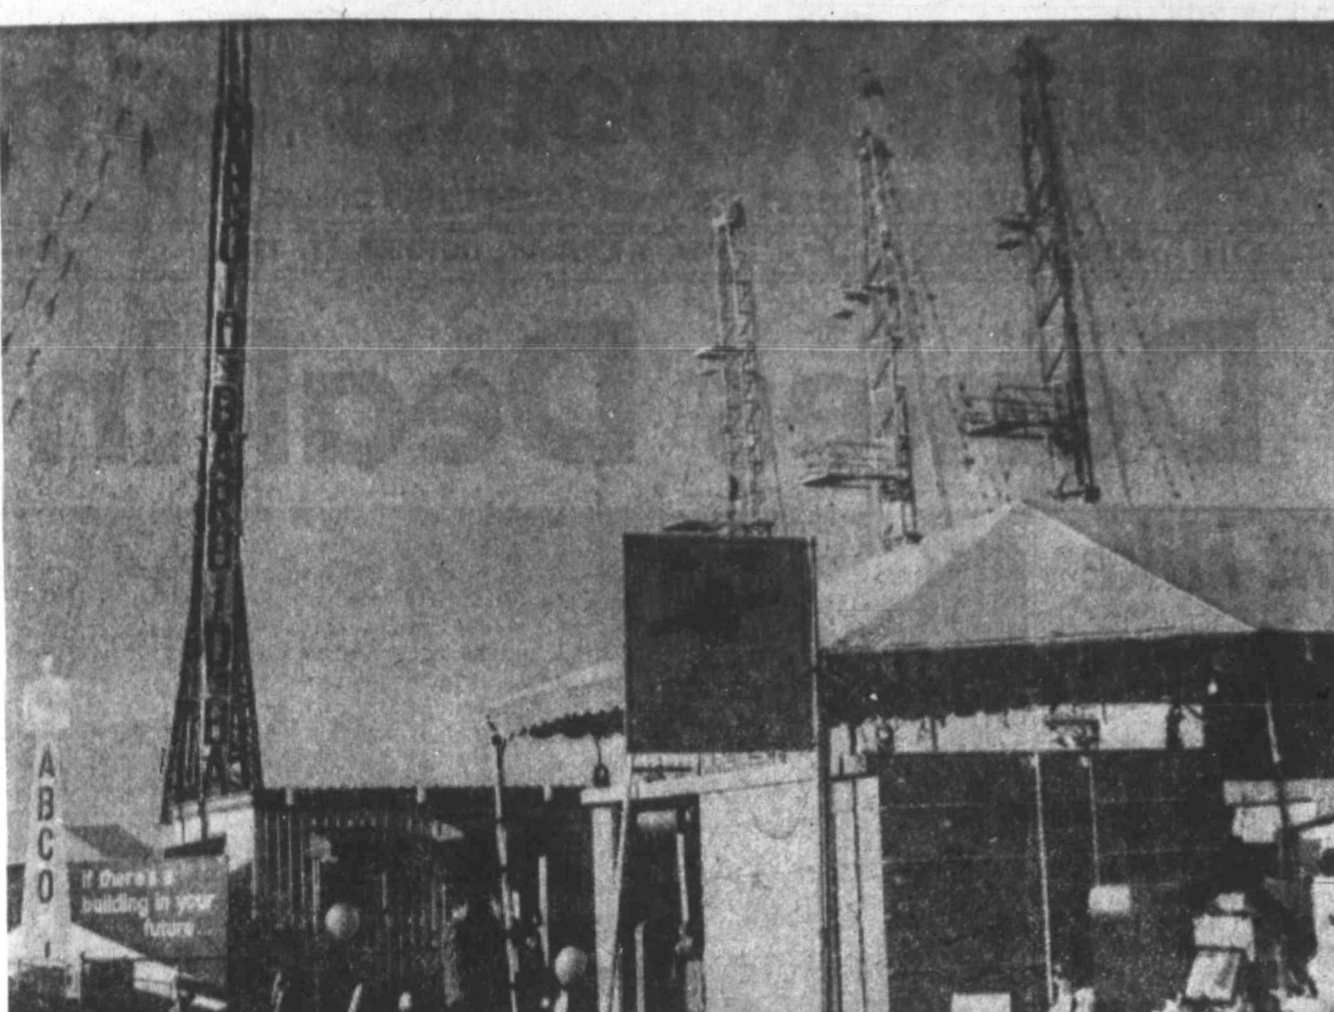

Burglars Get Beer, Smokes, Meat, Tv

Roland Chambers, 2303 E. California St., told Midland police early today that someone had burglarized Chambers Barbecue, 411 N. Lee Sts., Wednesday night.

Missing are eight cases of beer, four cartons of cigarettes, 40 pounds of cooked meat, four boxes of gum and a television set.

BELIEVES IN UNITED WAY—C. R. Holmes, vice president of the Eddin-Walcher Co. here, says, "I support the United Way because the community effort that goes into it strengthens the values, ideals and love we all hold as Americans for our country and its people."

RIGS GREET VISITORS — Oil industry personnel touring the various exhibits of the Permian Basin Oil Show Wednesday and again today had the show grounds to themselves, but Friday and Saturday the general public will be admitted to the hundreds of outdoor and indoor exhibits.

Oil Show Reports Record Attendance For Opening Day

ODESSA — The air of a state fair prevailed at Ector County Coliseum in Odessa Wednesday as a crowd of 79,834 industry personnel passed through the turnstiles at the first day of the 13th consecutive biennial Permian Basin Oil Show.

Oil show spokesmen said it was the largest number of persons ever to attend the first day.

Exhibitors and spectators mingled in a spirit of camaraderie at the 474 exhibit spaces. Not only were Coliseum barns A, B and C filled with displays of the petroleum industry's wares, but some 57 outdoor expositions were set up, completely filling the 15-acre show grounds.

Technical Innovations

Technical innovations for the modern industry, ranging from microminiaturization in electronic equipment to giant pumping units and sophisticated drilling rigs capable of probing some 5 miles into the earth were on view.

The show again today is hosting representatives of the oil and gas industry, and at 10 a.m. Friday, it will be opened to the general public, continuing through Saturday.

Friday, starting at 11 a.m., there will be a parade through downtown Odessa, with exhibitors participating in showing off to the public some of the modern equipment needed to keep oil and gas available to the country.

Formal opening ceremonies for the Oil Show will be held on the Coliseum grounds at 1 p.m. Friday.

The Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang will have its traditional barbecue at 5 p.m. Saturday, and the gates will close at 8 p.m. Saturday to wind up the four-day event, at which some 400,000 persons are expected.

Ford Denies Deal On Pardon

In one 45-minute session with Haig on Aug. 1, Ford said, Nixon's staff chief reviewed a variety of options that included "the question of whether the President could pardon himself... pardoning various Watergate defendants, then himself, followed by resignation... a pardon to the President should he resign."

Ford said he discussed the pardon with Haig on Aug. 1 only because the Nixon adviser had told him of various options being considered in the White House, and asked him for any recommendations he might make. "I had none," Ford said.

Mercy Considered

Edwards also noted that mercy was one of the considerations in the Nixon pardon, and asked whether the same consideration might now apply to the five men on trial in Washington for the Watergate cover-up.

"In light of the fact that these trials are being carried out at the present time, I think it's inadvisable for me to comment on any of the proceedings at those trials," Ford replied.

Much of the questioning provided only a review of what Ford had said earlier in his White House statements and in his prepared testimony.

In his prepared statement, Ford detailed repeated contacts documented appearance by sitting president before a committee of the Congress, although tradition holds there was an unconfirmed appearance by Abraham Lincoln before a House committee during the Civil War.

Washington Appeared

George Washington appeared before the first Congress in 1789, visiting the Senate chamber to discuss arrangements for Indian treaties.

The President said he met shortly after 8 a.m. on Aug. 2 with St. Clair, who told him of impending new revelations the lawyer regarded as "so damaging that impeachment in the House was a certainty and conviction in the Senate a high probability."

Called Haig

On the afternoon of that day, Ford said he telephoned Haig and "told him I wanted him to understand that I had no intention of recommending what President Nixon should do about resigning or not resigning, and that nothing we had talked about the previous afternoon should be given any consideration in whatever decision the President might take."

Ford said he had decided that, as vice president, he "should endeavor not to do or say anything which might affect his President's tenure in office."

At another point in his statement, Ford said: "At no time after I became President on Aug. 9, 1974, was the subject of a pardon for Richard M. Nixon raised by the former president or by anyone representing him. Also, no one on my staff brought up the subject until the day before my first press conference on Aug. 28, 1974. At that time, I was advised that questions on that subject might be raised by media reporters at the press conference."

Reporters asked the new President about a possible pardon, as anticipated, and Ford responded in a way that suggested it would be premature for him to consider pardoning his predecessor until or unless some legal steps had been taken against Nixon.

Became Concerned

However, Ford said in his statement to the subcommittee that shortly after the news conference, "I became greatly concerned that if Mr. Nixon's pro-longed, the passions generated over a long period of time would seriously disrupt the healing of our country from the wounds of the past."

Ford went on to detail the considerations involved and

Business Workshop Scheduled At UTPB

ODESSA — A "going into business" workshop for persons contemplating starting or have already started a new business will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday on The University of Texas at the Permian Basin campus in the main student lounge of the Mesa Building.

The workshop is sponsored by the Odessa chapter of Service Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE), the Small Business Administration and the Odessa Chamber of Commerce.

A $2-per-person charge will cover the cost of workshop materials.

Late November Goal Announced For WIN Flags

WASHINGTON (AP) — The coordinator of a White House citizen anti-inflation committee hopes to begin awarding President Ford's WIN flag soon after Thanksgiving.

The WIN flags are intended to stimulate Americans to fight inflation and Ford has said they would be awarded by local action committees on the basis of how well wages and prices are held in check.

Russell Freeburg, coordinator for the White House Citizens Action Committee to Combat Inflation, said the flag itself still is a prototype, but that Ford has seen it.

It depicts the letters WIN — for Whip Inflation Now — in white letters in a solid red, circular background, similar to Ford's WIN button, on a white field with blue border.

Declaring that "surely we are not a revengeful people" and often have demonstrated compassion and mercy, Ford described Nixon as already "condemned to suffer long and deeply in the shame and disgrace brought upon the office he held."

Hernandez Testifies At His Heroin Trial

Margarito Gomez Hernandez, 30, of 1401 E. Walnut Lane testified in his own behalf this morning in 142nd District Court where he is charged with delivery of heroin to a state narcotics agent.

Hernandez denied that he had sold or even possessed any of the narcotics that Department of Public Safety narcotics agent Gerald Howard alleged he received.

Howard had earlier testified that Hernandez sold him two packets of heroin on the night of Feb. 19, 1974, at a residence in the 800 block of North Baird Street.

Pat Donley, a DPS chemist, then testified for the state that the substance which agent Howard gave the lab for analysis was definitely heroin.

Donley told the six-man, six-woman jury that the two packets contained 16 per cent heroin.

Hernandez told the jury that he was "out of state" at the time of the alleged sale. He said that he left Texas to go to Florida and work as an orange picker during the first part of February.

Daughter Catalogs Truman Documents

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Margaret Truman Daniels says she is cataloging papers of her father, the late President Harry S. Truman, for transfer to the Truman Library.

She was here Wednesday "to turn over all of Dad's papers to the archives" and because "I just wanted to see Mom," she said.

Mrs. Daniel said Bess Truman is "doing just fine... Oh, she's a little slower getting around, but after all, she'll be 90 in February."

She planned to return to her home and family in Washington on Friday. She is married to Clifton Daniel, Washington bureau chief for the New York Times.

Jury Convicts Man In Death Of Four

DALLAS (AP) — A jury deliberated less than two hours Wednesday night before finding David Joe Kerns, 30, guilty of killing four persons last April and throwing their bodies in Lake Ray Hubbard.

The prosecution claimed three of the victims—two Ft. Hood, Tex., soldiers and a 19-year-old woman—were killed in a North Dallas apartment. The fourth victim was shot and killed on the way to dump the other three bodies in the lake.

The penalty phase of Kerns' trial was to begin today before District Court Judge Jerome Chamberlain.

Coin Collection Reported Stolen

A coin collection valued at $50 was reported stolen Wednesday at the William R. Mason residence, 504 George St.

Mason told officers the collection included more than 200 pennies, including two Indian head pennies dated 1888 and 1903.

The collection had been kept in a jar and several coins still remained scattered around the open jar when it was discovered.

Finns Top Coffee Drinkers

The world's greatest coffee drinkers are the people of Finland, who consume 37.3 pounds of coffee per person per year.

It was on Sept. 15, 1972, that a federal grand jury indicted seven men on conspiracy, burglary and wiretapping charges stemming from the June 17, 1972, Watergate break-in. The break-in defendants included the five men arrested inside Democratic headquarters and two former White House aides, E. Howard Hunt Jr. and G. Gordon Liddy.

According to a transcript of the conversation prepared by the House Judiciary Committee during its impeachment investigation, Nixon told Dean

"But the way you, you've handled it, it seems to me has been very skillful..."

Nixon was referring to the fact that no one higher in his administration or campaign organization than Liddy had been implicated in the break-in.

While Dean was on the witness stand, prosecution attorneys and lawyers for John D. Ehrlichman, a former Nixon aide and one of the defendants, filed their responses to Nixon's request to dismiss subpoenas demanding his appearance as a witness.

Sirica said he would hear oral arguments on the subpoena after today's testimony.

He gave no indication whether he would rule immediately on Nixon's request.

But the judge did say Wednesday that he is considering sending a team of three doctors to California to examine the former President and determine whether, as his lawyers and doctor have said, he is too ill to travel to Washington to testify.

In their response, Ehrlichman's attorneys accepted that claim but asked Sirica to order Nixon to give a deposition.

Insurance Board Staff Urges Auto Rate Boost

Ninety-two companies—about a fourth of the total—now charge less than the uniform rates set by the board.

For the average driver, the board's staff recommendations would mean yearly premium increases of $44 in Houston, $33 in Dallas, $30 in San Antonio, $30 in Fort Worth, $43 in El Paso, $34 in Corpus Christi, $22 in Texarkana, $31 in Lubbock, $34 in Orange, $29 in Abilene, $37 in Laredo, $30 in Sherman-Denison, $31 in Amarillo, $43 in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, $43 in San Angelo, $32 in Wichita Falls, $36 in Beaumont-Port Arthur, $25 in Galveston, $35 in Austin, $30 in Waco and $35 in Denton.

The most recent rate change was a 4.3 statewide average decrease in all coverages combined that took effect in August 1973.

"It is all too apparent that continued cost increases in auto repairs and medical and hospital bills have caused the present automobile insurance rates in Texas to become inadequate," Irons said.

Rates vary according to a driver's home county, age, automobile use and record, so his increase in premiums might vary sharply from any statewide average.

Irons told a news conference Wednesday the proposed new

The defense attorney also threatened to object line by line during the playing of the tapes on the grounds of relevancy.

Sirica said he would permit no such tactic.

Weeks ago, the judge permitted installation of electronic equipment in his second-floor courtroom so that everyone, from the jury of nine women and three men to the spectators, could listen to tapes through earphones.

The Burnet Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association has launched a soup label drive which will run through Dec. 31, according to Mrs. Bob Marshall, PTA spokesman.

Mrs. Marshall said the organization is collecting the labels for audio-visual equipment for the school, and that 5,923 labels are needed.

Mrs. Marshall also requested that persons who do not have children in school to contact her at 697-1512, or Mrs. Leon Smith, 682-2023, and arrangements will be made to pick up the labels.

Drop boxes will be located in stores yet undetermined.

Camp Fire Girls Hold Camporee

The Midland Council of Camp Fire Girls held a fall camporee recently at Hogan Park with all age groups of Blue Birds, Adventurers, Discovery and Horizon girls represented.

The event began with a flag ceremony, performed by the color guard composed of Mary Beth Graham, Kristin Smith and Tempa Burch. Joe King, camping director of Camp Fire, held a fire building and cooking demonstration for the leaders. Mrs. Robert Gaston's Discovery and Horizon Groups led a songfest, and then organized games. Mrs. Bob Smith, candy chairman, presented procedure and rules for the upcoming candy sale. A mile-long nature hike was headed by Mr. and Mrs. Joe King.

Dusk brought the lowering of the flag and a symbolic Ceremonial Fire during which Patsy Hickman, Beverly Walker and Mitzi Dwyer burned their old Indian names in order to use new Indian names. Torch lighters were from Mrs. Glynn Burch's Adventure group and Mrs. Bob E. Bell's Blue Birds.

The gathering then took part in a Kangaroo Court, with Julie Gaston as the prosecuting lawyer and Suzanne Stover as the judge. Members of the Discovery and Horizon Clubs served as the jury.

Bobby Warfield concluded the day with an astronomy presentation, using a telescope, which assisted, Camp Fire Girls with bead requirements.

A spring camporee will be held at Floury Park in Andrews.

FALL CAMPOREE—Tina Robertson, center, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Robertson, and Michelle Goss, right, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Goss, both Blue Birds, listen intently as Mrs. R. E. Stover instructs them in putting together a camping cot during the fall camporee held recently in Hogan Park by the Midland Council of Camp Fire Girls. Also represented were girls from Adventurers, Discovery and Horizon groups.

Beer Can Hats Prove Popular

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — About 10 years ago you told of a way to make mittens and I have made them over and over for my 12 grandchildren so we call them Polly's Pointer mittens. The zippers are not in the Now every one of the grandchildren wants a certain type of crocheted hat that is made with cutouts from beer can labels. I saw one that was handmade and sold for $5 so my three neighbors and I all want to make some and hope some reader can tell us how. The one I saw was red wool in a sort of stovepipe shape with a little rolled-up brim. — MRS. H.H.H.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with long necklaces with fasteners that will not stay in the back but are constantly shifting to the side or front. We could all be saved some money if fasteners on LONG necklaces were eliminated. — MARIE.

DEAR POLLY — My advice for Gerrie who wants to wash the zippered covers on her couch pillows is "NO." Vacuum good and use a sudsy upholstery cleaner, let dry and re-vacuum with covers still on the pillows. Be careful not to let the suds go through to the actual pillows. The zippers are not in the pillows to make them easy to remove for cleaning but for the upholsterer to close without hand stitching. If necessary to re-shape a pillow after it is clean lay a dampened towel on it and iron and find the steam will perform miracles. I have seen many pillow covers that people have taken off to have dry cleaned and then could not be put on again because of shrinkage. — AUDREY.

DEAR POLLY — I have diabetes. Before seasoning fresh vegetables for the rest of the family, I remove my serving and put it in a three-cup egg poacher to keep my vegetable warm until we are ready to eat.

I like to use all new potatoes even the very small ones and have discovered a vegetable brush is great for getting the thin skin off these small new-dug potatoes. I used to dread preparing them when I scraped with a knife. — EMMA.

DEAR POLLY — I have one notebook in which I keep our very important numbers like driver's license numbers, Social Security numbers and others that one might want quickly or in an emergency. My husband was robbed and his wallet stolen along with his Social Security card and driver's license. By having these numbers right at hand it was quite easy to replace the cards. — MRS. N.K.

DEAR READERS — It also is well to keep a list of charge cards and their numbers. — POLLY.

John Glenn Seems Headed Toward Landslide Victory

By KEN DAVIS
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — When he campaigns, Glenn still demonstrates the celebrity status he attained in 1962 when he rode a Mercury spacecraft three times around the world and returned to a hero's welcome. Children and matrons seek his autograph. Grown men beam when he shakes their hand.

If that's not enough, notes Glenn dropped out of a Senate race after he fell in his bathtub and was injured. In 1970, he lost in a Democratic primary upset to Howard H. Metzenbaum.

Last May, Glenn finally defeated Metzenbaum, and now polls show him far ahead of his Republican rival, Mayor Ralph Perk of Cleveland. Victory could propel him onto the national political scene as a potential 1976 vice presidential candidate.

Until recently, Perk has been concentrating on his duties as mayor. But he announced he would go on half-salary this month to concentrate on the campaign after becoming angered at reports he had decided against a stretch drive to overtake Glenn.

Though state Republican Chairman Kent McGough contends Perk "could surprise people," most Ohio observers think the only question in the Nov. 5 election is the size of Glenn's majority.

Chairman McGough declares "Either side could win. The momentum is with Rhodes." In the Senate race, however, McGough concedes that Perk is behind.

The 61-year-old Cleveland mayor told a recent press conference, "My first priority must be to the city of Cleveland. I do have commitments I do not think I can ignore."

He said he planned to concentrate on explaining "the financial stability we are seeking for the city's mass transit system and the city government."

Then, amid reports that he would forsake a heavy stretch drive, the mayor said he would go on half pay as mayor while concentrating his campaigning in the populous northeastern Ohio industrial areas — Cleveland, Akron, Youngstown and Canton — in which Glenn ran poorly in 1970.

The Cleveland mayor has been emphasizing his 20 years in public office and criticizing Glenn's lack of political experience.

But the front-running Democrat has refused to talk about his opponent, except to say he isn't underestimating him. "John and the rest of us are determined to keep up the campaign pace until the polls close Nov. 5," said Stephen J. Kovaclik, Glenn's campaign manager. Perk may have compounded his problems by defending former President Richard M. Nixon at an Oct. 4 news conference, calling Watergate a "victimless crime" that Nixon's enemies blew out of proportion to force him from office.

He said the Watergate break-in was carried out by "some Cubans who obviously thought Castro was contributing to the Democratic party and thought they should go in and check the phone."

Perk is also short of money. He has been able to raise only $150,000 for the general election, a spokesman said. The mayor had planned a $200,000 television and a $100,000 radio budget.

Ohio law makes it difficult to come by firm expense figures, since candidates need file expenses only 12 days before and 45 days after the election. But Glenn, too, is well below the expenditure maximum.

Under Ohio law each of the candidates could have spent $1.1 million each on the primary and on the general election, figured at 10 cents per capita on Ohio population.

Glenn reported raising $526,000 after his primary victory. He paid off a $206,000 primary debt and spent the rest before Aug. 31. On that date he had a $254,000 debt, his staff said.

Coast Management Plan Draws Fire From Witnesses

BAY CITY, Tex. (AP) — A proposed coastal zone management plan for Texas has drawn fire from Gulf Coast residents.

Most of the 200 persons attending a hearing here Wednesday said they favored local control. The hearing was one of several which Texas Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong is conducting along the coast.

J. F. Woodson of Waco, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, told Armstrong he feared some provisions of the proposed plan were so broad that they would include private property as well as public land.

Mayor Bill Frizzell of Lake Jackson said controls were best handled by local authorities. He also opposed grouping Lake Jackson with Galveston and Houston.

Representatives of several Chambers of Commerce in the area also criticized the proposal.

A spokesman for the Dow Chemical Co. plant in Brazoria said the firm opposed any plan that would restrict growth on the basis of environmental considerations only.

Pleasant Autumn Weather Prevails Across America

By The Associated Press
Clear and pleasant autumn weather prevailed across most of the country today, marred only by a scattering of showers in the East and parts of the Great Lakes.

Temperatures overnight remained in the 40s and 50s in most areas outside the Deep South and the Southwest.

Southern California sizzled into the 90s Wednesday and more of the same was on tap today. Los Angeles sweltered through its hottest day in a year Wednesday, with a 99-degree high.

A cold front reaching from Maine to Florida continued to produce some showers in extreme eastern New England and North Carolina. Cape Hatteras, N.C., was soaked by nearly 2 inches of rain during the night.

Fog with visibilities less than a mile blanketed the northern and central Appalachians. Clouds also covered Michigan and eastern Wisconsin, resulting in light showers throughout Lower Michigan.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 78 at Key West, Fla., to 27 at Messena, N.Y.

Neighbor, its no myth; before 1870, the West actually began at Fort Worth, Texas..

There were a few early wagons. But, railroads, I suppose, more than anything else pushed this frontier farther and farther west until it disappeared into the California coast.

Most of these early western settlers were farmers and ranchers. They became a part of the land and depended upon it for almost all their needs — but most of all they depended upon one another.

The interdependence of these early settlers eventually became welded into a uniquely western mold — a code of life. I can't define this code of life. I can only describe it because it lives in the people and in their institutions. Such as hospitality with pleasure to give and joy to receive — help and assistance without desire or expectation of reward — a contract by word that's signed with a handshake — a belief in and a genuine love for neighbors — truth — a good word for fellowman (or no word at all) — charity for those in need — and respect for justice, home, church and the human community they created. This code of life still lives today. It lives in people and it lives in institutions. It lives at:

Women Free In Irish

ARMAGH, North (AP) — Women in Armagh jail who seized three women freed them unharmed after holding them for hours.

Release of the four came after the Irish Catholic and Protestant inmates had assured that male prisoners in other prisons were freed Wednesday.

The prison officers swept four North Belfast streets.

Police hit the outbursts directed at the British internment suspected of the sectarian conflict.

Women Inmates Free Hostages In Irish Prison

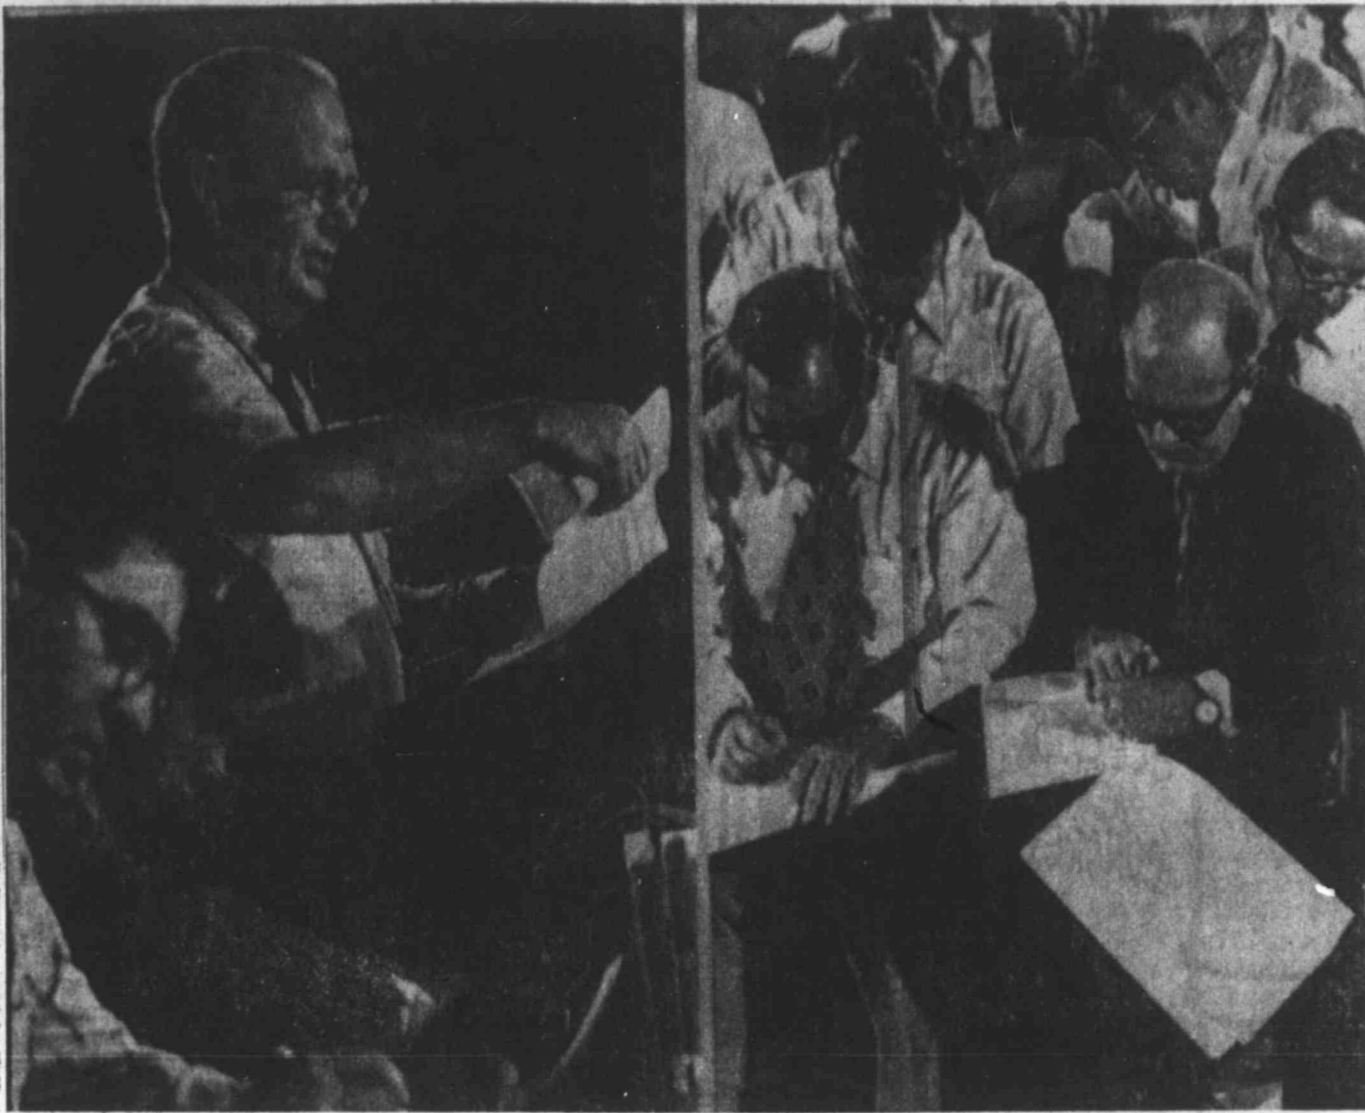

ARMAGH, Northern Ireland (AP) — Women inmates of Armagh jail who seized the warden and three women guards freed them unharmed early today after holding them for 14 hours.

Release of the four hostages came after the jail's Roman Catholic and Protestant chaplains had assured the inmates that male prisoners who rioted in other prisons were safe.

The prison officers were captured Wednesday as violence swept four Northern Ireland jails and guerrilla bomb explosions and gunfire erupted in Belfast streets.

Policy Hit
The outbursts seemed directed at the British policy of internment suspected terrorists in the sectarian conflict between extremist Protestants and Roman Catholics. Since the fighting flared up in 1969, 1,067 persons have been killed.

Smaller Oil Companies Are High Bidders In Government's Royalty Lease Sale

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — As expected, smaller oil companies were the high bidders for eight tracts of oil-rich seabottom leased Wednesday by the federal government to oilmen offering the highest royalty.

It was the first time in the 20-year history of federal offshore leasing that future royalty payments, instead of instant cash bonuses, were the basis for winning the leases.

Ordered By Morton
The experiment in high royalty bidding was ordered by Interior Secretary Rogers C. P. Morton to see if more independents would be attracted to offshore drilling.

"I don't think it will go on long. The Office of the Budget up there in Washington likes that cash."

Some $1.4 billion in cash bonuses were offered in the same sale for 149 other tracts. Companies winning leases for those tracts pay a one-sixth royalty from production revenue in addition to the bonus.

Greater Profits
Congressional critics have claimed that the bonus bidding system favors the big oil companies, since they can raise the most cash. They have also contended that long-range royalty profits can be greater than bonus money.

Some 297 tracts off the oil-rich Louisiana coast were offered for sale but only 157 drew bids. The highest royalty bid came from a combine of Basin Exploration and Texas International, which offered to pay 78.14759 per cent of future profits on oil or natural gas produced on the tract.

Twelve others bid on that tract, which lies 80 miles offshore, south of Morgan City, La. Exxon Co. U.S.A. was lowest at 20 per cent. The top bonus bid was a whopping $117.6 million by a combine of Mobil Oil Co., Gulf Oil Co. and Chevron Oil Co. Their bid was highest for a 3,007-acre tract in a proven oil area slightly more than three miles south of the Mississippi River's South Pass.

Congress OK's Gift Of Safe After 97 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — After 97 years, Congress finally has accepted a massive gift of 19th century memorabilia but it has to wait until July 4, 1976, to be sure exactly what it contains.

The gift is an iron safe more than 5 feet high, 4 feet wide and 3½ feet deep, packed — according to the best available information — with mementoes of the 1876 national centennial celebration.

Given To Government
Congress has had physical possession of the safe since 1877 when Mrs. Charles F. Deihm of New York, described in records as a publisher, a dedicated patriot and a Civil War widow, turned it over with the materials she had toured the country to collect. She requested that it be opened on the bicentennial day by the president.

Congress, however, did not show itself exactly enchanted with her donation. It refused to allow the safe to be exhibited in the Capitol's Statuary Hall, moved it to semi-exposed storage where the weather worked on it for 80 years, and currently keeps it in a dusty storeroom.

Amends Made
In the past two days, however, the lawmakers made amends. First the House, then the Senate, adopted a resolution accepting the gift with thanks and directing that it be publicly displayed in the Capitol pending its ceremonial opening.

'Braceros' Are Needed

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is continuing its campaign for reinstatement of the Mexican National "bracero" program, based on an urgent need for agriculture workers in this region.

The chamber reiterated its support of the restitution of the program at its semi-annual meeting held last weekend at Fort Worth. Support should be forthcoming from other organizations in the region.

A survey made by WTCC in September revealed that more than 55,000 Bracero agriculture workers are needed in the 132-county West Texas area. Farm and ranch hands are almost impossible to find in most West Texas areas.

The regional chamber, more than a year ago, formally called for reinstatement of the program. Congressman Omar Burleson of Anson soon thereafter introduced a bill providing for such a program.

The need for agriculture workers now is far greater than it was a year ago.

Realizing that President Ford is scheduled to meet with President Luis Echeverria of Mexico later this year, J. Fike Godfrey, executive vice president of the West Texas Chamber, has addressed a letter to President Ford, reviewing background information, citing results of the WTCC survey, along with other facts and figures which might be helpful in possible bracero discussions.

Godfrey advised Mr. Ford that the 132 West Texas counties produce approximately 55 per cent of the state's income from agriculture.

"Using this percentage as a projection for the state," Godfrey explained, "it would seem to indicate that Texas agriculture might be able to use as many as 100,000 bracero agriculture workers."

The survey was made as a direct result of a news dispatch from Mexico City quoting the American Embassy's reply to the Mexican government's request for reinstatement of a bracero-type program. The embassy statement noted that "very limited numbers of imported workers are needed by the United States . . . There exists a serious unemployment situation among farm workers in the United States . . ."

"The results of the survey would seem to indicate that the American Embassy in Mexico and people close to agriculture in West Texas hold two widely different views on the availability and need for agriculture workers," Godfrey advised the President.

A shortage of laborers also exists in the oil fields of West Texas, in cases there might be an overflow of agriculture workers.

WIDESPREAD DISSENT— South Vietnamese Ask Why They Are Fighting

By NEA-London Economist News Service
SAIGON (LENS) — As President Thieu went on television recently to defend himself against his increasingly vocal critics, the criticism erupted into a variety of demonstrations: Roman Catholic priests and their supporters protested against corruption in high places; Buddhists, who have launched a new organization, called for the release of political prisoners; newspapermen have been protesting against censorship.

Thieu declared himself undisturbed by "a few small demonstrations" but offered to resign if "the entire people and army no longer have confidence in me." It was not a very convincing offer.

The Thieu regime has survived plenty of criticism in the past. The current broad front of dissent could, however, turn out to be more powerful than previous political stirrings.

For one thing, the mood of the country is gloomier than it has been for several years; there are high casualty rates from fighting that seem to have no end and the country's economic problems are causing real suffering.

For another, the Catholic assault comes from the right; the charge is that corruption is eroding South Vietnam's defenses against the communists by weakening the army and alienating the people from the government. It was a tolerable, say the Catholics, when there were American troops around, but now this is no longer so.

The Catholic movement got off the ground in the summer when 301 priests, most of them emigrants from North Vietnam with a reputation as anti-communist hardliners, signed a protest against corruption in high quarters. It developed into "the popular movement against corruption and social evils" under the leadership of Father Tran Huu Thanh, provincial vicar of the Redemptorist Fathers in Vietnam.

The movement gained real force last month when Father Thanh, addressing a public meeting in Hue, made six specific charges of corruption against the president and a number of his family (Thieu denied these charges but did not refute them in detail).

Police broke up the Hue meeting with tear gas and the

Their target is the disorder and the injustice in Vietnamese society. As life grows harder in South Vietnam, and as the war enters a new and bloody phase, they are asking a very pertinent question: Just what is it that we are supposed to be fighting for?

RAY CROMLEY United States' Latest World Policy: None!

WASHINGTON (NEA)—If U.S. prestige is declining in the world, it's our own doing.

For wherever one looks, influential leaders behind the scenes urgently are begging this country to take over leadership. This is true in Japan, West Germany, Britain, Italy, Egypt, Israel and the Middle East, much of Latin America and in some of Africa.

Statements from London to Bonn to Rome have made clear that if the U.S. economy falters badly, West Europe will go down. The Japanese echo this concern. Equivalent messages come in from much of the underdeveloped world. A new piece of research illustrates with astounding clarity the heavy economic dependence of the non-industrialized nations on the American market, technology and leadership.

A series of reports attest to the fact that major Arab nations, beginning with Saudi Arabia, are more confident in the U.S. future than in that of any other nation. This is evidenced by the growing number of Arab investments in the United States, by the deposit of Arab funds in American banks and the growing desire of Arab governments to secure the services of American technology. Since most of the oil-rich lands will be dependent on these investments when their petroleum resources are depleted, the Arabs obviously are tying their economic future to that of the United States. Therefore, other nations wishing to share in the petrodollar pool, apparently will need to borrow through American banks.

For the time being at least, the Chinese fear the Russians and the Russians the Chinese. Both thus need this country. Which major country, other than the United States, can be trusted by both the Israeli and the Egyptian? Without U.S. approval what sort of an arms or force reduction arrangement can be worked out between the Soviet Union and West Europe? Without the U.S. nuclear umbrella and American trade and technology, Japan would face a far less rosy future.

The problem is not lack of influence. It is rather indecisiveness in the White House, the State Department and in Congress. This country today has no foreign policy, no Mideast policy, no West European policy, no Asian policy, no Russian or Chinese policies. It has no worldwide policy on oil or energy, foreign investment, inflation, the recycling of petrodollars, arms control or defense. Policies worked up in one department or another are negated by policies developed in other departments.

We make dramatic moves without planning or preparation. These confuse, annoy and frequently anger our allies and tempt our opponents to rash actions inimical to our interests. With no visible counter action in hand, President Ford and Secretary of State Kissinger speak out strongly against those nations which are boosting oil prices beyond all reason, leaving friends with mouths agape and arousing scorn among the oil producers.

West European leaders were visibly annoyed when Kissinger, with much ado, invited the Big Five in to develop an oil-inflation-energy program — with no plan in mind and no idea of what the United States wants or is planning.

Company Provides Adoption Allowance

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP) — Employees of Pitney Bowes who adopt children now receive the same reimbursement under the corporation's benefit program as those who have children by natural birth, according to James L. Turrentine, vice president-employee and public relations. The business systems and equipment company's $600 allowance for each adoption is an additional company-supported benefit, rather than a provision of its regular medical-dental insurance program.

"The adoption allowance recognizes the high cost of agency or legal fees and other costs involved in an adoption," Turrentine said. "These costs can be comparable to or greater than those attending a birth." He said adopted children had always been eligible for the company's benefits for the dependent children of its employees.

THE CONSUMER ALERT— Fraud Warning Sounded In Idea, Invention Field

By JOHN L. HILL
Texas Attorney General

AUSTIN — So you built a better mousetrap, but the world hasn't beaten a path to your door?

At this point, you may find yourself attracted by advertisements for idea or invention promotion and marketing firms. After all, what you really need is an expert to handle such details for you, right?

You could be wrong, in some cases. The Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division urges caution before paying large fees to firms offering services variously labeled invention or idea promotion, marketing, or development or patent searches and development.

Last summer, our Consumer Protection lawyers testified at a Federal Trade Commission hearing in Dallas — the first of a series of hearings nationwide to determine if a trade regulation rule is needed to curb fraudulent activity in the idea and invention promotion field.

Our attorneys described the method of operation found time and again in the invention marketing cases we have investigated or taken to court for violation of the Texas Deceptive Trade Practices-Consumer Protection Act.

Someone with an idea or an invention sees an ad promising patent search and protection; evaluation and feasibility studies to determine product marketability; engineering and production services; or exclusive contacts with manufacturers.

The would-be inventor pays a fee averaging $1,000 or more and submits his idea or gadget. Virtually all those submitted are judged by the firm to be "highly marketable."

Inventors are assured that their product will be exhibited in fairs and shows and that the market development firm, through its extensive arrangements with manufacturers, will locate a distributor.

While some few inventions have been marketed by such firms, our attorneys stress that the overwhelming majority of persons have never received a return that even approaches the amount of money they pay as fees.

In fact, many of the services offered are ones an inventor could handle as well himself, especially in light of the fact that the "market evaluators" or "analysts" for most such firms are merely salesmen who push the "special services" offered by their employers.

In addition, inventors with a possibly saleable item could find themselves inadequately protected if they rely on such idea

Midland Youth Center Chatter

By GAYLE GRIMLAND, LESLIE MORGAN and VICKI THROCKMORTON

"Slaughter, Sandwich, Barbecue, Cake, and Lick the Pig" were among the themes used for floats in this afternoon's Homecoming parade.

At the pep rally held at the stadium, the Student Council's Eagle slowly burned and the band played the alma mater while students were filled with pride and inspiration. The cheerleaders led yells and everyone got into the spirit of Homecoming.

Last week M. H. S. Bulldogs staked the Steers 21-6 for their fourth victory of the season. The large crowd that went to the game played a big part in the victory. The Bulldog supporters outnumbered those for the Steers. Big Spring presented a Token of Friendship to M. H. S. accepted by Scott Northern and Vicki Throckmorton. It is on display in the front office, so go by and see it. The Pups also were victorious over Big Spring 27-7 in last Thursday's contest. WAY TO GO, MEN!

The Homecoming weekend finally has arrived with mounting excitement which hopefully will reach a peak in a victory Friday night.

The game is at our home stadium at 8 p.m. What a sight to see! It's worth going to the game just to see everyone all decked out with ribbons flying, bells ringing, and the aroma of fresh flowers and perfume.

At halftime, there will be a promenade of the winning floats, a display of sweethearts and what everyone has been waiting for — the crowning of the 1974-75 Homecoming Queen. It will be one of the three princesses, Michele Hickey, Linda Klemmner of Pam Williams. The Youth Center will be rocking with dancing people and good tunes Saturday night, climaxing the festivities with a vibrant dance. The "New Light Band" from Big Spring will provide the melodies.

The dance will be from 8 till midnight and the charge is $4 per couple. The social committee really has been working hard on the decorations and the band is great, so everyone come. A reminder to all Student Council representatives and Cabinet members: Please be present at noon Saturday and also help decorate for the dance bring two dozen cookies to Y. C. before 2 p.m. Saturday.

The Bulldogs play Abilene there at 2 p.m. Saturday. The J. V. is following in the footsteps of the idols — the varsity squad — and doing a fantastic job this year. The players need a lot of support though, so go out and cheer them on to victory.

The Midland High Youth Center is getting together with its friendly neighbor, the Rebel Youth Center, to celebrate Halloween with a carnival and dance Saturday, Oct. 26, from 8 p.m. till 1 a.m. Everyone is invited to come join in on the fun. All clubs and organizations are reminded that they may participate by having a booth or activity at the carnival for a $2 charge. Contact Mr. Rasco, 682-1352, if you are interested.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK: Love is like a potato. You can throw it out the window and no matter where it lands it will grow.

Uvalde Sheriff Sued To Recover Missing Funds

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — The Uvalde County Commission has authorized a suit against Sheriff Kenneth Kelly to recover $54,000 in missing county funds. County Judge Leo Darley said Wednesday the commissioners acted after receiving the final report of an outside audit.

Darley said the audit covered a six-year period from 1967-1973 when the missing money was Kelly's responsibility.

Earlier this year, a grand jury indicted a deputy sheriff on two counts of misapplication of county funds and one count of embezzlement in connection with the missing money from the sheriff's office.

Compulsory Saving Plan Introduced

MASERU, Lesotho (AP) — The government has introduced a compulsory savings plan to increase the funds available for national development.

An official announcement said the plan includes a 10 per cent cut in the salaries of cabinet ministers. An additional 10 per cent is to be deducted from the pay of civil servants and government officers earning more than $900 a year.

The sum collected is to be credited them in a special tax-free and interest-bearing account which the person concerned cannot touch for five years or before he resigns or retires.

Attempts Reportedly Made To Suppress Hiring Abuses Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some staff members of the joint Committee on Congressional Operations are attempting to delay and suppress an investigation of alleged hiring discriminations on Capitol Hill, according to sources of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

One source said much of the opposition appears to come from Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., whose former chief aide now heads the job placement office in Congress. Brooks could not be reached for comment.

Metcalfe said Wednesday he had asked Peters for a report on the operations of the placement office before the election recess, but "all at once a whole lot of things came up."

West Germany Says U.S. Business Group Meddling

BONN, West Germany (AP) — West Germany has accused a U.S. business group of trying to meddle in German affairs by opposing a plan giving workers a say in running businesses in Germany, including some American-owned giants.

A spokesman for Chancellor Helmut Schmidt told newsmen Wednesday that the American Chamber of Commerce in West Germany was "very close to interfering in our affairs" by distributing a study that criticized the so-called "co-determination" bill presently before parliament.

A U.S. embassy spokesman said Washington has not responded to the Chamber's request for support and that the Bonn government had made no formal protest of the Chamber's activities. Ford administration officials said in Washington they do not expect an early reply and classified the situation as "a delicate issue."

Job orders allegedly contained such specifications as "white only," "no blacks," "no Catholics," and "no southern accents." In addition it was alleged the placement office wrote a small 'b' in the corner of employment applications submitted by blacks.

Committee sources say staff members investigating the alleged discriminations have written a memorandum on its legal aspects after the Justice Department and the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission said they do not have jurisdiction over Congress under the civil rights acts.

Metcalfe said Wednesday he had asked Peters for a report on the operations of the placement office before the election recess, but "all at once a whole lot of things came up."

The senator said the committee, which in addition to running the placement office acts as a sort of Congressional "think tank," decided a report on giving radio and television access to the workings of Congress took priority.

He said he expects the discrimination report to be available before adjournment of the 93rd Congress, probably in December.

A spokesman for the American Chamber of Commerce in West Germany was "very close to interfering in our affairs" by distributing a study that criticized the so-called "co-determination" bill presently before parliament.

The Chamber has been hostile to the proposed legislation for months. The current row began when the Chamber distributed an independent study claiming the bill violates investment protection clauses in a 1954 U.S.-German trade agreement by limiting the rights of American shareholders over their own businesses.

Committee sources say staff members investigating the alleged discriminations have written a memorandum on its legal aspects after the Justice Department and the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission said they do not have jurisdiction over Congress under the civil rights acts.

Marijuana Laws Issue May Be Landmark Case

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — The Alaska Supreme Court has taken under advisement a case challenging the constitutionality of marijuana laws in what could become a landmark case in the United States.

PRESIDENT CAMPAIGNS FOR CANDIDATES—

Ford Revives 'Catch Phrases'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — President Ford is reviving some of his choicest vice-presidential catch phrases as he steps up his campaign in behalf of Republican candidates. He is calling for the election in November of an "anti-inflation-voted" Congress and warning against "legislative dictatorship" if the Democrats win. Ford used these appeals for the first time as he visited four Midwest states in his ambitious campaign. They were a stock part of his oratorical repertoire as vice president. At a GOP fund-raising dinner here, Ford also tried out a new argument in behalf of his party's cause, urging that voters not "burden" themselves with "unfortunate misdeeds of others." Urging the preservation of a competitive two-party system, he said "that is exactly what you are not going to get if you and other responsible citizens stay home on Nov. 5." Ford traveled into Missouri, South Dakota, Nebraska and Indiana, he also laced his speeches with pledges aimed at pleasing farm state audiences. At almost every stop, Ford would oppose any embargo on exports of American foodstuffs. He acknowledged he would have to monitor the nation's reserve stocks and thus increase inflationary pressures. At Lincoln, Neb., Ford also declared, "We are not going to let subsidized foreign dairy imports destroy the American dairy farmers' domestic market." The president promised early in his meetings with representatives of livestock producers, feeders and dairymen "to find out what they recommend that their government do" to deal with their problems. While Ford was warmly received almost everywhere, he said he had to talk over the chants and taunts of demonstrators at Lincoln who sang out to the

HUD Secretary Urges Ford To Sign Housing Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite some misgivings, the administration's top housing official is urging President Ford to sign a bill earmarking $7.75 billion in federal money to help home buyers.

However, James T. Lynn, Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, warned in a session with reporters Wednesday that it will be some time before the housing industry can revive.

The version sitting on Ford's desk contains a formula that pegs the interest rate for home buyers to the rates the Treasury pays for its money.

Lynn said he would have preferred complete flexibility in setting interest rates, but despite the formula in the bill, "on balance, its advantages outweigh its disadvantages."

Ford had said in his economic address that he is prepared to pump $3 billion into the housing market quickly to provide enough loans to cover 100,000 new houses at a cost to the government of $150 million at current interest rates.

Lynn said he will wait to see what developments occur in the housing and money markets before deciding whether to recommend spending any more of the authorized money.

Meanwhile, the federal Home Loan Bank Board announced that the average purchase price of a new home jumped by $2,900 to $43,100 in September. And the effective interest rate on home loans rose to an average of 9.2 per cent compared to 9.09 per cent a month later.

That means the average home purchased last month required an $11,600 down payment and monthly payments of $258 over 26 years.

A year ago, the average new house cost $9,000 down and $210 a month for 27 years.

The industry currently is starting new homes at a rate equivalent to 1.13 million units for the whole year.

That is a drop of 1.38 million housing starts in the last 22 months. During the same time, unemployment in the construction industry has risen to 12.4 per cent, with nearly 500,000 construction workers unemployed.

Even with new federal money, which would come on top of $19 billion in federal funds already pumped into the housing market, Lynn said he expects it to be 1975 before construction activity picks up.

And even with helpful developments in the economy, new starts next year probably will be below the 2 million units Lynn's agency has estimated are needed annually to provide the nation with decent housing.

The housing aid legislation, which represents the first response by Congress to Ford's economic proposals last week, would authorize the government to use its borrowing muscle to provide below-market loans for home buyers.

DEATH CAR — Two 5-year-old kindergarten children were killed Wednesday when this car crashed into a classroom at an elementary school in New Castle, Ind. Nine other children were injured. The driver of the car was dead and investigators said he may have suffered a heart attack or seizure before the crash. A passenger in the car also was injured. It was only the second day of school for one of the young victims, Michelle Lee. A classmate, Steven Greenwell, died at a hospital. (AP Wirephoto.)

Railroad Pension Bill Okayed By Congress Over Ford Veto

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill authorizing the government to put $7.1 billion into the financially troubled railroad retirement system has been enacted into law by Congress over President Ford's veto.

The Senate voted 72-1 Wednesday to approve the bill, marking the first time Congress rejected a veto from Ford. The House voted 360-12 Tuesday to override. Both votes were far more than the necessary two-thirds.

The new law will restructure the railroad retirement system and pump $285 million in federal money into it annually for the next 25 years.

Suspect Charged In Stabbing Death

HOUSTON (AP) — William Paul Elliott, 24, a former maintenance man, has been charged with murder in the stabbing death of Patricia Elbert, 24.

The victim was found stabbed to death in her apartment after witnesses saw a man run through the west side of the complex. Police had not established a motive but theorized the murder was committed during a burglary.

Judge Dismisses La Raza Unida's New Mexico Suit

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge H. Verle Payne dismissed La Raza Unida's challenge to the state election code, saying it failed to make "timely filing of petitions with the secretary of state."

Payne said Wednesday in his dismissal order that because of the filing time, La Raza Unida lacked "standing to assert the claims raised in their complaint."

Payne also denied La Raza Unida's request for a three-judge federal panel to hear the case.

The suit was filed last Friday against the code's requirement for a greater number of petition signatures from multicounty state representative districts than from single-county districts.

The suit alleged the requirement violates the right to equal protection under the law.

Rusk Undergoing Tests At Hospital

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Former Secretary of State Dean Rusk was expected to undergo further medical tests at Athens General Hospital where he was admitted for a routine checkup.

Rusk's condition was reported very satisfactory Wednesday by J. William Singleton, hospital administrator. Rusk, who directed the State Department under Presidents John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson, entered the hospital Tuesday night.

The former cabinet member's wife said he checked into the hospital after he "had some discomfort, probably just a stiff neck, but it caused him a good deal of pain."

Rusk's doctor said all tests conducted thus far had "turned out just fine."

'Rubber' Snake Turns Out 9-Inch Copperhead

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Policeman J.A. Corriher picked up what he thought was a rubber snake put in his patrol car as a practical joke—and found it was a live nine-inch copperhead.

He said it struck at him several times but missed after he touched it Wednesday. He threw it from the car and killed it.

He said he knows of no reason why someone put the snake in the car other than that he is a police officer.

Another policeman, R.J. Whiteside, who drives the car on alternate shifts with Corriher, believes the snake was in the vehicle when he used it Tuesday.

He says that Tuesday evening his 6-year-old son Robert Jr. "stepped up inside the door on the driver's side to say goodby, and jumped back saying something had stung him.

I thought it might have been a bee or a hornet, but I found nothing."

Whiteside said the boy's foot swelled and discolored. But it was not until Wednesday, when Corriher called and told about

Houston U Survey Says Most Texans Blame Industry For Energy Crisis

HOUSTON (AP) — The acting dean of the University of Houston College of Social Sciences says a survey shows most Texans believe the energy crisis was concocted by the industry.

"They believe that the industry wanted to make greater profits and get conservationists off their backs," Dr. David Gottlieb said Wednesday in announcing results of the survey, funded by a grant from the National Science Foundation.

The survey was conducted in the Houston area during the Arab embargo and in the Amarillo area after the embargo.

"They believed that once prices were higher and the conservationists were brushed aside, there would be no trouble obtaining fuel," Gottlieb said.

Results of the survey were presented to the Oil Information Committee of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association. The survey was based on interviews with heads of 450 households in each of the areas.

Gottlieb said most of those interviewed acknowledged they were "energy-consuming hogs" but refused to blame themselves.

"They say they've been encouraged too long to have two big automobiles, two television sets, and two of just about everything," Gottlieb said. "And they don't blame conservationists in that they say no profit motives are involved in their efforts."

Dr. W. Philip Gramm, Texas A&M economics professor, told the committee current energy problems are a result of political and not economic constraints.

"The source of our problems are political constraints imposed by the Arab oil embargo and subsequent cartel pricing collusion and the disruption of the incentive system in the United States oil and gas industry by government regu-

ARMY ALERT INCREASED—Guard Stands By In Boston Crisis

BOSTON (AP) — The National Guard was standing by today, and federal troops have been placed on increased alert to deal with any continued violence related to court-ordered busing to achieve integration in Boston's public schools.

Gen. Vahan Vartanian, adjutant general of the Massachusetts National Guard, said the Guard members will remain in the city as long as needed.

In a "purely precautionary move" Wednesday, the Pentagon said Army paratroopers at Ft. Bragg, N.C., were placed on increased alert in case they were needed as a "last resort" in the Boston school crisis.

Schools and streets were quiet Wednesday, officials said. School attendance was down, with 66.7 per cent of the city's public school students reporting to classes.

The highest attendance rate since schools opened Sept. 12 was 80 per cent. Attendance Tuesday, before a confrontation at Hyde Park High School in which eight students were injured, was 74 per cent.

Two arrests were reported Wednesday. A 17-year-old black male was charged with assault on a police officer at Hyde Park High School, and police arrested a ninth-grade black male who was fighting with another black at South Boston High School's L Street Annex.

IRS Appoints Parks To Post

DALLAS — The Internal Revenue Service has announced the appointment of Charles A. Parks as assistant director of the Dallas IRS district.

Parks succeeds Robert A. LeBaube, who has been promoted to director of the Greensboro, N.C., district.

The Dallas district serves taxpayers in 143 North Texas counties and is one of the largest in the nation. In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1973, the district's individual and corporate taxpayers filed 1.8 million tax returns representing $3.3 billion in federal taxes.

Drug Possession Charged Youth, 16

A 16-year-old Midland youth was arrested Wednesday and charged with the possession of dangerous drugs.

The boy was stopped on a traffic violation and two marijuana pipes and two tablets of codeine were found in his car.

International Airlines May Join On Some Routes

NEW YORK (AP) — Pan American Airways and Trans World Airlines, long-time arch-rivals in international jet travel, have agreed to stop competing on several major international routes.

The plan to boost profits by reducing the number of empty seats on their routes still requires the approval of the boards of both airlines and of the Civil Aeronautics Board which will receive papers by next week, the airlines said Wednesday.

"We hope it will be handled on an expedited basis," said TWA Chairman Charles C. Tillinghast, Jr. But he and Pan Am's Chairman William T. Seawall estimated that Feb. 1, 1975, is the earliest the plan could take effect.

By the swap agreement, TWA would suspend all service to Germany and on its round-the-world route from Tel Aviv to Guam, including service to Bombay, Taipei, Okinawa, Hong Kong and Bangkok.

Except for its mid-Atlantic route from Miami to Rome, Pan Am would stop all service to Portugal, Spain, Casablanca and France, including the company's historic New York to Paris route, Pan Am's first transatlantic route charted by Charles A. Lindbergh in 1929.

Pan Am will also end through service from London to Washington. TWA will end through service from London to three U.S. cities, Chicago, Philadelphia and Los Angeles.

The plan, which represents the biggest cutback in U.S. air service on record, would have little effect on air travelers.

Moore said the new branch office will open for business Dec. 1.

Both Eggs, Program Salty At Early Bird Breakfast

By GEORGE MASSEY
The eggs and the program were pretty salty this morning at the Midland Chamber of Commerce Early Bird Breakfast.

The banquet room at the Rodeway Inn was filled to capacity with persons claiming to be Midland businessmen and women. Most of them were very hard to identify as "community leaders" at the early hour of 7 a.m.

San Antonio Drug Raids Continuing

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Officers extended a citywide dragnet this morning which became the largest drug raid in this city's history.

About 2 a.m., approximately 250 officers armed with 312 sealed indictments began sweeping the city. The indictments were returned Wednesday by the Bexar County grand jury.

By 9 a.m., 186 persons had been arrested. The raids followed undercover work by three San Antonio officers disguised as narcotics junkies who made purchases for several months.

The officers, detective John Hester, 30, patrolman John Ornelaz 25, and George Lockamy, 27, appeared in their street clothes and beards at a news briefing. Police would not allow the men to be photographed, citing security reasons.

Hester said there is no shortage of drugs on the streets of San Antonio and a surprising number of young persons are trafficking narcotics in all areas of the city.

"All you have to do is fit the role of a user and they'll hit you," said Hester, who submerged into the narcotics environment for 77 days from May 15 to July 30.

Police Lt. John Smith said the officers were able to buy so much marijuana in their dealings "they went over budget."

Hester said the youngest dope dealer who approached him is 13 years old.

The three officers brought 346 cases against 312 persons, police said.

The previous record number of arrests in a San Antonio drug raid occurred when officers swept the city Sept. 8, 1972 with 148 indictments against 138 defendants.

General Telephone Asks Rate Hike For Dallas Areas

DALLAS (AP) — General Telephone Co. of the Southwest has filed for an immediate rate increase of about 30 per cent in Garland, Irving, and 14 other Dallas suburban cities.

Simultaneously, the Texas Supreme Court upheld a lower court ruling Wednesday arising from a Garland-General Telephone 1972 court battle that the utility firm must provide specific rate making information to individual cities.

Lowell R. Newman, Dallas area general manager for General Telephone, told a Wednesday news conference that the rate increases would raise an additional $7.3 million in annual revenues for the telephone company. He said the biggest share, $2.7 million would come from Garland.

Newman said the increase would give General Telephone an 8.9 per cent rate of return on the fair value of property compared with the present 5.6 per cent rate of return.

He said the court ruling would not affect the rate hike requests, the second in two years.

Newman asked the cities to set early dates to discuss the new rate applications. He said the company also was asking that the rate increases be put into effect under bond while the requests are under consideration.

General Telephone serves about 200,000 customers in the Dallas suburbs.

Baytown Collision Leaves Two Dead

BAYTOWN, Tex. (AP) — A car-truck collision Wednesday killed Harold Clowers 27, and Dickie Gene Robinson, 31, both of Baytown. Police said one of the vehicles apparently anticipated a green light and collided with the other in an intersection.

It was reported by members of the bleary-eyed group that "even some members of the hapless general public" were in attendance.

Chamber member Connie Mack Hood served as the adequate but trying master of ceremonies for the "Early Birds" and got things off to a roaring start by quickly handing the program over to "someone else." No one was quite sure just who Hood gave the breakfast leadership to, but Jim Moore, news director for KNAM-FM radio, saved the morning.

Moore, talking much too loudly into the mike, announced that Jim Galyean, head of Green Dolphin Broadcasting, "could handle the load."

Questionable Awards
Galyean did, but his radio equipment was somewhat questionable. The radio broadcast head offered several, again questionable, awards he termed "denouncements" of local broadcast media advertisements.

To say the least, it would be wise to refrain from including the contents, or names, of the award winners from this article. But it must be concluded from the rather "quacky" recordings that our local (Midland?) broadcasters have "done it again."

Jim Moore took the podium following the antics of his boss to give the program a not too much desired serious note. The news director tried in vain to build up the credibility of his station (KNAM-FM) by telling of such new advances as 24-hour coverage.

Due In Near Future
The news director revealed the new 24-hour broadcast would be started in the very near future.

Hood tried to give $500 to the Scharbauer Cattle Co., but the ranchers failed to make it to the breakfast. "The cattle company boys won't get the money," Hood said, "because they're probably out looking for oil with a posthole digger."

Inflation Problems
Hood tried to convince the early birds in attendance that he was a "farmer" but no one seemed to care very much, so he diverted his portion of the program to the problem of "inflation" and what to do about it.

Several awards of an unattractive nature were given to several luckless members of the audience for their efforts with the inflation fight, but all of those who won said that they would prefer to remain unidentified.

Tying Inflation
The host brought attention to a button he was wearing with the word TIE on its face. He said the President had requested that we all wear buttons with the word WIN on them. Hood said WIN stands for whip inflation now and that his button stood for the lesser mark of just tying inflation.

Kenny Jastrow, chamber president, was given a pin designating him an official "pot washer" for the Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang at the Permian Basin Oil Show this week.

Stock Market Prices Move Irregularly Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved irregularly higher today, regaining its footing after a broadly lower opening.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 5.16 at 647.45. In the early going, the Dow had dropped more than 2 points. Gainers were dead-even with losers on the New York Stock Exchange after declines advanced in the opening hour.

The recovery in the Dow was in large part a reflection of the strength of a single stock — Eastman Kodak, up 3/4 at 68 1/2 in heavy turnover. The issue had moved sharply lower in the last two days as a result of lower third quarter earnings, but bargain hunting propped the blue chip stock up today.

Analysts said that Wall Street's fit of profit taking, following last week's strong gains, appar-

Odessa Leads All U.S. Cities In Bicentennial Programming

By WILLIAM R. BARNARD

The City of Odessa contained little but a number of crusty old rattlesnakes and a few transient Indians when the United States was founded, as far as anyone knows.

Yet guess what city leads all the rest in bicentennial bashes under way or planned? Odessa, of course.

At latest count, the city is marking the founding of the United States with 935 different activities, says the National Bicentennial Commission, which lists Odessa No. 1. The state headquarters are in Arlington.

It started last November in a sort of pre-season warmup and will be celebrating through December 1976.

Already produced has been a re-enactment of the Boston Tea Party which was done by the creative citizens even if they didn't have a real harbor and absolutely no sea since God parted the waters as in the Book of Genesis.

Also produced have been a colonial church service and the re-enactment of the opening of the Continental Congress in 1774.

October brought a "Colonial Flinging," including "Fun of a Gun" celebrations, a chili cook-off and that innovation which is spreading like wildfire—a cow chip throwing contest.

The "Colonial Flinging" included 50 colonial amusements and games, such as corn-shucking, greased pig chasing, quilting, candle making and colonial punishments—including a pillory for those refusing to join the fun.

Eddy Gains Strike From Morrow Zone

Hondo Drilling Co. No. 1-TX Unit-State Communitized, has been completed as a Morrow discovery in Eddy County, N.M., 13 miles southwest of Loco Hills.

Calculated, absolute open flow was for 13.314 million cubic feet of dry gas per day, producing through perforations at 12,774-12,974 feet, which had been acidized with 55,000 gallons.

Location is 990 feet from south and east lines of section 23, block 55, T-5, T&P survey, 10 miles north of Toyah.

The Canyon opener, David Fasken, Midland, No. 22 El Paso-Federal, finished March 11, for 3.9 million cubic feet of gas per day, producing through perforations at 9,515-9,542 feet.

Offset Scheduled To Sterling Strike

I. W. Lovelady, Midland, has staked site for No. 3 Humble as a location northeast offset to the opener and lone well in the recently re-opened Crandell (1,450 San Angelo) oil pool of Sterling County.

It is projected to 1,750 feet, and spots 2,310 feet from north and 330 feet from east lines of section 30, block 11, SPRR survey, nine miles southeast of Sterling City.

The discovery, Lovelady's No. 1 Humble was completed June 4, to pump 21 barrels of oil per day, through perforations at 1,466-1,472 feet.

Stepout Scheduled In Gaines Region

Amoco Production Co. will drill No. 7 G. T. Hall as a 1/2-mile northwest stepout to the two-well Silurian sector of the Cedar Lake field of Gaines County, seven miles southeast of Loop.

The project, contracted to 12,800 feet, is 1,839 feet from south and 560 feet from east lines of section 8, block H, D&WR survey.

1st City Bancorp Earnings Increase

HOUSTON — First City Bancorp of Texas Inc., of which The Midland National Bank of Midland is a member, reported income before securities transactions of $1.97 per share for the nine months ended Sept. 30, an 18.0 per cent increase over the $1.67 earned for the first three quarters of 1973.

Total income before securities transactions for the nine months was $17,806,000 compared with $15,019,000 for the same period a year ago.

James A. Elkins Jr., chairman of the board of First City Bancorp, attributed the earnings increase to the company's ability to maintain satisfactory net interest margins and to the continued strength of the Texas economy.

Earnings for the three months ended Sept. 30 were 64 cents per share compared to 55 cents for the same period in 1973, an increase of 16.4 per cent. Total income before securities transactions for third quarter was $5,772,000 compared to $4,931,000 for the same three months in 1973.

Purvis Schedules Concho Outposts

J. H. Purvis of Midland plans two projects as outposts to the lone well Paint Rock, South (Goen line) gas field of Concho County, about eight miles southeast of Paint Rock.

Both are slated to 3,600 feet, and are in block 72, T&N survey.

No. 4 John Lloyd, 1/4 mile southwest of the discovery, is 2,173 feet from north and 467 feet from east lines of section 28.

No. 3 John Lloyd, one mile south of the strike, is 2,173 feet from north and west lines of section 150.

The field was opened July 18, with completion of Purvis' No. 1 Lloyd for a calculated, absolute open flow of 3.05 million cubic feet of gas daily, through perforations at 3,470-3,486 feet.

Appeal Rehearing

The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals has denied Orville Davis of Midland a rehearing on his appeal of his murder conviction.

Davis was convicted here in 1971 of the Dec. 2, 1970, murder of wealthy Garden City rancher Stephen Currie.

Currie was killed during an armed robbery at his ranch home near Garden City.

Davis was given a life sentence in the case and currently is serving time in the Huntsville State Prison.

Last month the Court of Criminal Appeals denied Davis' appeal, with Associate Justice W. A. Morrison finding no reversible error in the trial court's decision.

The appeal for the rehearing was based on eight alleged grounds of errors. He charged that the state's principal witness, Judy Dunham, offered insufficient evidence.

John H. Chalmers, Abilene, plans No. 1 R. O. Robertson as a 300-foot prospect in Fisher County, three miles northwest of Hamlin and 1/2 mile northwest of the Keeler-Swaback field, but separated by a failure.

Drillsite is 600 feet from south and 550 feet from west lines of the southeast quarter of section 189, block 1, BB&C survey.

Hughes Tool Completes Byron Jackson Purchase

HOUSTON (AP) — Hughes Tool Co. says it has consummated a deal to buy another oil field company despite a pending antitrust suit by the Justice Department.

Raymond M. Holliday, chairman of the board of Hughes Tool announced Wednesday that the acquisition of Byron Jackson Inc., from Borg-Warner Corp. was retroactive to July 1.

Byron Jackson is a domestic oil well cementing and well stimulation company but about 35 per cent of its 1973 income of $42 million came from the sale of oil field tools, a Hughes spokesman said.

Calculated, absolute open flow was for 13.314 million cubic feet of dry gas per day, producing through perforations at 12,774-12,974 feet, which had been acidized with 55,000 gallons.

Rebels Seek To Snap Nine-Game Abilene Cooper Hex

Cougars Scrap To Keep Hopes Alive

By BOB DILLON
ABILENE — The undefeated Midland Lee Rebels face a nine-year jinx Friday night as they help Abilene Cooper's Cougars celebrate homecoming in a key District 5-4A football game in P.E. Shotwell Stadium in Abilene.

More than 10,000 fans are expected to view the game which steals the headlines from the other six 5-4A teams.

For Cooper, it is a must game since Coach Ray Overton's Cougars have lost to San Angelo while Lee needs to win to stay on top of the loop standings. The Rebels and Odessa Permian go into games Friday with 2-0 district marks.

It won't be an easy task for Coach Jim Acree's team which hasn't beaten Cooper since 1964. Lee would like nothing better than to ruin the Cougars' homecoming Friday night to snap the nine-year drought plus pick up the plaque that is handed out to the winning team each year under the goal posts.

"Lee is the most physical team we will have faced to 21-7 victory over San Angelo while Cooper also was impressive with a 28-12 victory over Odessa in Odessa last week.

The Rebels will have to shut down Cougar tailback Scott Ritchey who rushed for 267 yards last week against OHS and scored three TDs.

Ritchey is a fine runner and is hard to bring down once he gets into the secondary," said Acree. Overton rates Murray the same type runner as Ritchey and also is high on Jones. "Lee has a mighty fine ball club," chipped in Overton.

Lee will be without the services of defensive back Terry Nelson who suffered a broken collar bone in the San Angelo game and Robert Johnson, 137-pound junior, inherits the cornerback post from Nelson.

Milton Jones, 205-pound senior tailback, has come on strong and will start at that slot with Blain Murray, another of the three ball carriers at the Z-back slot. Junior fullback Mike Oliphant, a 175-pounder, has also improved to give Lee a potent running attack.

Lee is coming off a big

SEEKS KILL — With that bubble popping, Oakland's Vida Blue doesn't much resemble a killer, but that's what he'll be trying to be tonight when A's go after fourth World Series victory against the reeling Los Angeles Dodgers. (AP Wirephoto.)

LA On Ropes

Finley Keeps A's Player Boiling

OAKLAND (AP) — The embattled Oakland A's have the Los Angeles Dodgers staggering on the ropes and plan to finish off the National League champs tonight with Vida Blue's left-handed punch.

"I'd be disappointed if we don't end it tonight," said third baseman Sal Bando after the A's took a commanding 3-1 lead in the 1974 World Series with a 5-2 victory Wednesday night. "We think very positively."

With Don Sutton on the mound, the Dodgers aren't dead yet — but it may be just a matter of time. Even if they don't win tonight, history is on the A's side. Rarely has a team come back from a 3-1 deficit to win a World Series.

It's only happened three times — 1925, 1958 and 1968. "We'd like to win tonight, but if we don't, we'll go on down to Los Angeles and finish it," said Bando.

Tenace Angry
 The A's hold the upper hand in this wacky series despite internal unrest, a condition that has been common with this oddball team for some time now.

The latest episode involves Gene Tenace, a sensitive player who was lifted from the lineup by Oakland owner Charles O.

Finley prior to Wednesday night's game. Tenace's reaction ranged from humiliation to rage. He branded the A's eccentric owner inhumane.

Tenace, who had played first base for the first three games of this World Series, found out about the lineup change after a team meeting during which Finley gave a pep talk.

"I had to be told by coach Bobby Winkles," said Tenace, still simmering in the clubhouse a few minutes after Wednesday night's significant victory. "Neither Finley nor (Manager Alvin) Dark would tell me. I felt humiliated."

While Tenace burned, Finley kept the rest of the A's smoldering with his pregame meeting. He read some inflammatory remarks from Los Angeles star Bill Buckner that appeared in a local newspaper.

Keeps Pot Boiling
 "Buckner said that we have three good ballplayers and that the other 22 are no good," Finley said. "I told them to go out and prove that he's wrong."

The A's did just that — and got excellent performances from some of those people that Buckner had termed inferior to the Dodger talent.

Jim Holt, a pinch-hitter who had been in a terrible batting slump, rifled a two-run single in a four-run sixth inning that broke the game open. Dick Green knocked in a run and made some fabulous defensive plays at second base. And Ken Holtzman and Rollie Fingers, two pitchers that Buckner probably wouldn't mind having on his team, silenced the usually noisy Los Angeles bats.

Holtzman not only dominated the Dodgers most of the time he was in there, but also hit a home run, something the A's have had a tough time doing lately.

Talking about his drive off Andy Messersmith that gave the A's a 1-0 lead in the third inning, Holtzman said: "He got behind me and I was looking for a fastball — and I got it."

A's Explode
 The euphoria felt by his home run was quickly dampened by the Dodgers in the next inning. They took a 2-1 lead over Oakland's 19-game winner on a two-run triple by Bill Russell.

It quieted the crowd for a while, but they had plenty to shout about in the Oakland sixth.

North Starts Rally
 Bill North led off with a walk and moved to second when Messersmith threw wild past first attempting to pick him off. The A's took advantage of the Dodger mistake, of course. They've been doing it all Series long.

Bando drove in the tying run with a lazy, looping single to right field. Proud of his first hit in this Series, the stocky third baseman announced jokingly: "I hit the hell out of it."

Then Messersmith walked Reggie Jackson and got into more trouble when Joe Rudi sacrificed the runners along. Messersmith then issued an intentional walk to Claudell Washington, who was starting in place of Tenace, and the bases were loaded for the A's.

Holt was announced as the pinch-hitter for Ray Fosse despite a streak of recent frustration. Before the World Series, Holt had gone hitless in 25 appearances as a pinch-hitter. He came through in Saturday's first game, however, and then came through again Wednesday night with a clean base hit to right," Holt said.

Holt was hitless in 25 consecutive pinch-hitting opportunities before the World Series, but Dark said he used him against Dodgers' starter Andy Messersmith "because he's on a hot streak."

Holt has two singles as a World Series pinch-hitter. "If that's a hot streak, I guess he's made it clear he doesn't want

A'S CLUBHOUSE— Tenace Wants To Be Traded

OAKLAND (AP) — The jokes and the bitter words clashed noisily in the clubhouse of the Oakland A's, that bawdy baseball team which is one victory away from another world championship.

"I'd like to be traded," said Gene Tenace, who was benched by owner Charles O. Finley minutes before Wednesday night's fourth game, won by Oakland 5-2. "I could continue to play for the A's, but I don't want to."

Tenace Unhappy
 Tenace claimed Finley benched him at about the time the controversial A's owner called a team meeting to try to spur his team.

Finley pulled a newspaper clipping from his jacket pocket and read the A's some words attributed to Los Angeles Dodgers' outfielder Bill Buckner.

"He said we have only three good ballplayers. I told them to go out and prove he's wrong," Finley said.

"What did I get out of the meeting? Five minutes of rest," said third baseman and team captain Sal Bando. "It was a good meeting," said Manager Alvin Dark. "I think I'll ask Charlie back for another one."

But Tenace, who has gone the full cycle from 1972 World Series hero to benchwarmer, made it clear he doesn't want

WT Districts Go At It For Keeps In Friday's Football

Rankin Quarterback Eric Fitzhugh ... West Texas passing phenom

By TERRY WILLIAMSON
Districts 2-AAA and 3-AAA have a two week jump on the area's other three major loops as far as district play is concerned, but Friday night when area squads take to the field, all divisions will be listed in the play for keeps category.

District 6-A, 5-A and 7-AA open loop warfare Friday with two of the family feuds listed in the toss-up category and the other listed as a lead pipe cinch for the state's second ranked unit.

Coach Dwayne Turner's Rankin Red Devils happen to be the "cinch" squad in District 6-A. Of course, the Devils have to win the loop by playing the schedule, but few expect anything less than an undefeated season for the Rankinites.

Second-In-State Rankin Hosts Wink In 6-A

It seems that the Devils are looking beyond the loop play for higher praise, namely a high state plateau. The Devils already own a second place ranking behind Aledo in the Class A state standings and Friday's 6-A loop opener against hapless Wink should not hurt the cause.

Wink is 0-5 this year while Rankin is 5-0. The Devils have also posted 163 points this season behind the passing of quarterback Eric Fitzhugh and the running of Ernest Black and junior fullback Donnie Cole. Wink, on the other hand, has scored only 58 points while allowing 100 markers against less formidable opponents.

The Rankin defense, headed by senior tackle Alan Speed, a definite all-state candidate, has given up only 41 points to five opponents. The defense has been much stronger than Coach Turner had hoped for.

The rest of the loop figures that even the first week outings can be listed as survival battles. No one wants a loss before meeting Rankin.

Iraan travels to Balmorhea and Marfa hosts Clint in the other 6-A action.

5-A Race
District 5-A appears to be a tougher race to figure, however. Seagraves has been the most impressive with a 5-1 record, but Stanton was the pre-season pick and managed a respectable 4-2 mark in non-conference play.

Plains is also a tough squad and has learned to play under pressure by winning the district the last two years, but will carry a 3-3 mark into loop play Friday.

Stanton draws the open date during the first week of loop play, and will be afforded the opportunity of sitting back and watching Seagraves taking on hapless Shallowater and Plains tangling with winless O'Donnell.

District 7-AA is listed as a five-team race. There just happens to be five teams in the district. Crane, McCamey and newcomer Sonora have a slight nod over Ozona and Reagan County, but no one has shown enough strength to eliminate a heated race. It's that even across the boards.

Reagan Faces Ozona

Reagan County, 1-5 against a tough non-conference slate, opens at home against Ozona, 3-3. The winner here will be in a position to challenge the rest of the field with added incentive.

Crane, the pre-season favorite, goes head-to-head with Sonora. Sonora is the league's toughest defensive unit to date, allowing only 27 points on the way to a 5-1 record. Crane, on the other hand, posted a 3-3 mark, but played three AAA teams and one highly ranked Class A squad. The Cranes were 1-2 against the AAA opponents and defeated Mason, which was ranked eighth at the time. The winner here will be off to a strong start, but the battle is rated as a toss-up.

The McCamey Badgers, 4-2, draw the open date after winning three straight.

District 3-AAA

District 3-AAA will go a long way in deciding its loop playoff representative this week when Lake View entertains Snyder in San Angelo. Both teams own perfect 2-0 district marks, but Snyder is heavily favored to win the outright crown. This is the biggest game in years for Lake View, which has been a league doormat more often than not.

The Lubbock Dunbar Panthers, 1-0 in district play, travel to Lamesa in an effort to keep pace with Snyder and Lake View. Lamesa is 0-2 after straight losses to Snyder and Lake View, so it seems that the two-year domination of the Tors in 3-AAA is over.

In District 2-AAA, league leading Monahans, with a 2-0 loop standing, will host winless Odessa Ector while Pecos, 1-0 after a heart stopping 32-21 victory over Andrews last week, plays host to Fort Stockton, 1-1.

The headliner here, however, comes at Kermit where the Yellow Jackets host Seminole in a key survival battle. Both teams lost last week to even their district marks at 1-1, and both are figured to keep the 2-AAA race tight. Winless Andrews has the week off.

Arizona's Young Itching For Win

Raiders Hold Whammy Over No. 9-Ranked UA

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — University of Arizona Coach Jim Young says he has a lot of respect for Texas Tech, but is itching to beat them Saturday.

The ninth-ranked Arizona Wildcats, 5-0, meet 17th-ranked Texas Tech in Lubbock for the 24th meeting of the inter-sectional rivals.

Young hopes to improve on the losing record of his Wildcats against the Red Raiders. In 23 meetings, Tech has won 21, lost one and tied one. Last year in Tucson, the Red Raiders came up with a 15-point fourth quarter to defeat Arizona 31-17.

Best We've Faced
"They're the best team we've faced this season," Young said. "They are the best balanced team we've met and we'll have to play our best game to win."

But it could be tough stopping Arizona, ranked 12th nationally in points scored with an average of 30 per game.

In the Western Athletic Conference, Arizona is the only team gaining more than 400 yards total offense a game with a 435-yard showing.

Junior quarterback Bruce Hill is one of two players in the WAC averaging more than 200 yards total offense per game with a 2096 mark.

Hill teams with backs Willie Hamilton and Jim Upchurch, and flanker "T" Bell for most of the touchdowns.

Bell has 25 catches for 356 yards and six touchdowns for a seventh rank nationally. In their last two games, the Wildcats have scored more than 40 points, and Young sees that as "getting things together."

"We've been improving," he said. "We're balancing the offense and defense, and if we can cut down on our mistakes, we'll win the game."

Young Cautious

Texas Tech goes into the game with a 3-1-1 record after its 28-7 loss to Texas A&M Saturday, but Young is cautious.

"They're a fine all-around team, are well-coached and have a good defense," he said.

Best Week Yet

I'm not sure if the area football squads have returned to a semblance of sanity or if I'm just getting the hang of it all. Whatever the reason, this corner produced the best week of the year playing the picking game with 29 right and only three misses. That leaves the season mark at 147-44 for a 770 percentage.

I picked Lamesa to defeat the Lake View Chiefs last week, but the defending District 3-AAA champs let me down to the tune of 16-6. And Seagraves — well I'm just going to have to face the fact that the Eagles have arrived. Seagraves defeated Class B's fifth-ranked Sundown by a 28-0 margin. You just can't miss one worse than that.

I really don't take the blame for the other miss. Kermit, a three touchdown favorite over Fort Stockton, slipped up and lost to the Panthers by an embarrassing 7-2 score. That's one of those upsets that keep prognosticators from getting too confident.

Now that the non-conference slate is over in all districts, however, there will probably be a return to insanity for a week or two until some firm battle lines are formed.

Let's take a look at this week's area and state highlight games that are all listed in the play for keeps category.

Here We Go Again

RANKIN 40, WINK 6 — The second-ranked Red Devils are seeking the state's top poll position and the Wildcats will help the cause in this District 6-A opener. I'll be there Friday night.

OZONA 18, REAGAN COUNTY 14 — This is a District 7-AA opener for both squads, and I really think it could go either way. Byron Battles will cover this one.

CRANE 14, SONORA 13 — Crane's Golden Birds were the pre-season favorite to win it all in 7-AA, but they better gear up the offense against the loop's toughest defensive unit.

LUBBOCK DUNBAR 20, LAMESA 7 — The championship days of the Tors are gone, and with two District 3-AAA losses already on the boards, the Golden Tornado may be down.

PECOS 34, FORT STOCKTON 0 — The Panther upset glory days of a week ago runs into a brick wall this week.

SEMINOLE 17, KERMIT 14 — Both teams should be down after tough losses last week, but the Indians own a little more talent.

MONAHANS 35, ODESSA ECTOR 14 — The league leading Lobos marking time until they meet Pecos later this year.

Held At Bay

Green then grounded into a forceout and Washington came home with the A's fourth run of the inning. It was all over at that point, but the Dodgers didn't know it. They struggled and squirmed while Holtzman held them at bay and then started to make some noises in the eighth inning.

Jimmy Wynn, leader of the Dodgers' long-ball offense this season, walked with two out and Steve Garvey, another of their gold-plated hitters, singled to left with two away. Dark lead.

Fingers, whose handlebar moustache is as renowned as his fine relief pitching.

Fingers struck out the dangerous Joe Ferguson for the third time of the inning, then got through the ninth with the help of a dazzling double play started by the omnipresent Green.

"We can't afford to think negative because we're down three games to one," noted Garvey, refusing to play dead. "You can bet we'll be back tomorrow."

PRO FORECAST—

Cowboys, Pats, Cards Get Nods

NEW YORK (AP) — Believe it or not, it's actually much harder to come up with something clever, witty or profound to say than trying to guess whether New England will continue its unbeaten streak or if Dallas will stop its losing streak, as must be done this week.

The Patriots' Chuck Fairbanks and the Cowboys' Tom Landry may not give a hoot, but if they are like most football coaches, they'd actually prefer that the odds-makers and the prognosticators make them underdogs. Most coaches say it makes their job easier — or at least the psychological part of it.

Anyway, having gotten past the introduction for another week, let's pause to report that last week's guesses produced a 10-3 record for an over-all showing of 44-20-1 for 688. We should be so lucky this time around.

New England (5-0) at Buffalo (4-1): The Patriots are underdogs again, just as in four of their five previous games. But there's nothing like sticking with a winner, particularly after comparing how each team played the Colts ... PATRIOTS 24, BILLS 21.

Philadelphia (4-1) at Dallas (1-4): A month ago, the Eagles beat the Cowboys 13-10 on a late field goal by Tom Dempsey. Since then the Eagles have won three more times and the Cowboys have lost just as many more times. In this case, however, let's stick with a loser — the Eagles, who haven't won in Big D since 1965 and call it ... COWBOYS 14, EAGLES 13.

Cincinnati (4-1) at Oakland (4-1): The Raiders have never lost to Cincinnati at home. With Ken Stabler throwing the ball and the Oakland defense doing its usual thing, there's no reason to suspect anything different will happen this time. So ... RAIDERS 21, BENGALS 17.

Detroit (1-4) at Minnesota (5-0): The Lions finally won one last Monday night, but weren't that impressive. So this is no time to call for an upset ... VIKINGS 31, LIONS 17.

San Francisco (2-3) at Los Angeles (3-2): The Rams are having problems, but the 49ers aren't one of them ... RAMS 24, 49ERS 10.

Baltimore (0-5) at New York Jets (1-4): Coach Charley Winner read the riot act to the Jets last Sunday after they lost to the Patriots. He should have nicer things to say in the locker-room this Sunday ... JETS 24, COLTS 7.

New Orleans (1-4) at Atlanta (2-3): Saints' quarterback Archie Manning says he is tired of getting licked on the road. New Orleans did beat the Falcons earlier, so, in the upset Special of the week, let's call it ... SAINTS 17, FALCONS 16.

San Diego (1-4) at Denver (22-1): Whether it's Steve Ramsey or Charley Johnson doing the quarterbacking, count on Denver to throw and throw and throw ... BRONCOS 21, CHARGERS 13.

Green Bay (3-2) at Chicago (2-3): Chicago has come so close so often this season, that this Monday night game may be time to say ... BEARS 17, PACKERS 13.

Struggle To Stay Rich

NFL Faces Problems Everywhere

MIAMI (AP) — "The football season so far has been zany, and it is going to get zanier," said Joe Robbie, president of the Super Bowl champion Miami Dolphins.

"All of us are struggling to keep our heads above water. Part of it is the economic situation. The strike hurt. Fans

Pro football, as represented by the established National Football League, is hurting, and the pain can be felt in this tropical citadel of the NFL's two-time champions and the most successful franchise in the league.

Is the bloom finally fading from big-time pro football?

There are now gaping holes in the giant stadia which only a year ago were packed with capacity-crowds of cheering fans. At the height of the game's popularity, the only way to get a good ticket to a big game was to inherit it. Fans without tickets would travel miles to escape the blackout circle and watch their favorite team on TV.

There were thousands of empty seats when the Dolphins opened their bid for a third national crown against the New England Patriots at Foxboro, Mass. A week before the Dolphins were to make their home debut in the Orange Bowl against Joe Namath and the New York Jets, some 6,500 seats remained unsold.

Dolphin season ticket sales were off by 9,000—down to 69,000 from 78,000.

They are not suffering alone. Season sales for the transplanted New York Giants, playing their home games at the Yale Bowl in New Haven, Conn. while Yankee Stadium is renovated, were down 18,000. Early games against the Washington Redskins and New England Patriots were 10,000, and 12,000 short of 1973.

The Dallas Cowboys, perennial title threats, drew only 46,353 against the Giants, lowest for the regular season since 1965. Houston played its first three home games before anemic crowds of 25,317, 28,538 and 30,049.

"The WFL didn't hurt us, but the strike did," said Bud Adams, owner of the Oilers. "I think a lot of fans were turned off by the players' strike."

Tex Schramm, president of the Cowboys, said: "People resent management because they think it didn't do enough to keep the players happy. Where fans became embittered with the players, that feeling didn't turn off when the strike was over."

"Some of the bloom appears to be off the rose," added owner Wellington Mara of the Giants, "but the jury is still out. I want to await the end of the season for final judgment. But it seems that some of the fan interest has been eroded."

Some observers are blaming the strike and WFL player raids with the wave of early season upsets. The Cowboys were lackluster in losing to the Philadelphia Eagles and Giants. Upset by the Patriots in their opening game, the Dolphins barely pulled out a cliffhanger over San Diego and were lucky not to be 0-3 after their first three games.

The Los Angeles Rams, favorites to go all the way this year, were upended by the young Patriots and the highly rated Pittsburgh Steelers were manhandled by Oakland.

"Before the season started I was apprehensive about three things," said Robbie, the crusty lawyer who is managing general partner of the Dolphins. "They were the general economy, Congress' intervention on the blackout and the impact on both the players and the fans as a result of the strike."

"It is impossible to measure the damage done to fan interest by the strike, but I feel there is a direct cause-result relationship in both the early wave of upsets and in the reduction of ticket sales."

Robbie was quick to say he did not feel either the strike or the preseason raids by the WFL—which gave a lame duck status to such Dolphin stars as Larry Csonka, Jim Kick and Paul Warfield, signed as a package for $3.5 million—could be blamed for the Dolphins' uncharacteristically shaky start.

Two punters are over the 40-year mark, Odessa's Jerry Walker at 47.1 and Lee's Tom Cloyd at 41.3.

SUTTON LA'S LAST HOPE— It's Do-Or-Die For Dodgers

Don Sutton ... faces Oakland

OAKLAND (AP) — Pitcher Don Sutton fully realizes he's in a do-or-die situation for the Los Angeles Dodgers tonight, yet he says calmly: "This is no different than all the others. It isn't over until someone gives you either a winner's share or a loser's share."

Sutton, the hottest of the Dodgers' pitchers at the season's end, has won the only World Series game Los Angeles has captured.

The Dodgers trail the Oakland A's in games 3-1. Another Los Angeles loss and the Series is over.

The right-hander has won 12 in a row including two in the National League championship playoffs against Pittsburgh and the 3-2 triumph over the A's. He was 19-9 for the regular season.

"We know we have our backs to the wall," admitted Manager Walter Alton after Oakland's 5-2 victory Wednesday night. "But this has been a comeback team all season."

Asked if he contemplated any lineup changes for tonight's crucial battle in the Oakland Coliseum, he answered calmly: "No, this is the best we've got — we'll stay the way we are. This is the club that got us here."

Winning shares in this World Series could reach about $26,000 per man, the losers receiving about $10,000 less.

If Sutton wins tonight, the teams return to Los Angeles for the sixth game on Saturday and Alton faces a decision on who pitches that one.

It could be reliever Mike Marshall, who has appeared in each of the World Series games to date. He worked two innings in relief of loser Andy Messersmith, who gave up all five Oakland runs, one of them on a homer by opposing pitcher Ken Holtzman.

"He could still start the sixth game, but I don't know which way I'll go yet," Alton said with Messersmith on two days' rest and Sutton with two days' rest or pitch Marshall on Sunday.

Catcher Steve Yeager admits he could be wrong but he still believes he tagged out the A's Reggie Jackson in the most controversial play of game No. 4.

In the sixth inning, with one run in and the bases full, pinch-hitter Jim Holt lashed a single to right, scoring one run easily. Joe Ferguson fielded the ball and threw to Yeager with Jackson steaming for the plate. Theball beat him, but umpire Don Denkinger ruled Jackson beat the tag.

"I thought he was out. I could be wrong but I thought he slid away and hooked back and his left leg slid up my shinguard," Yeager said. "I know the tag was a little late but I had the plate blocked and I don't think he hit the plate."

The Dodgers remain outwardly calm. "We got emotional a couple of times during the season and really got beat," said Ferguson. "It doesn't do this club any good."

Orr Takes 'Cheap' Shot Hawks' Mikita Incensed Over Decking

CHICAGO (AP) — Hockey sticks, supposedly, are used for things like winning faceoffs, making passes and scoring goals. Wednesday night in Chicago and Detroit, they were used for starting brawls and breaking noses.

Black Hawks center Stan Mikita used his stick for the proper purpose, scoring twice in Chicago's 4-0 National Hockey League triumph over the Boston Bruins. Later in the game, though, his lumber turned into a weapon.

Boston's Bobby Orr sent Mikita sprawling with a third-period check, an effort labeled a cheap shot by the veteran player-maker.

"We're all trying to make a living, but I guess Orr doesn't have any kids yet so it doesn't make any difference to him if he hurts me or not," Mikita said angrily, displaying a large welt above his rib cage from another Boston check.

Mikita was infuriated by the attack, which started a high-sticking incident. The action marked Tony Esposito's 47th career shutout.

In other NHL games, the Detroit Red Wings defeated the Atlanta Flames 4-2, the Los Angeles Kings tied the Toronto Maple Leafs 1-1, the Minnesota North Stars and Vancouver Canucks tied 1-1, and the California Golden Seals played to a 5-5 tie with the New York Rangers.

In World Hockey Association action, the Houston Aeros blanked the Vancouver Blazers 6-0 and the Phoenix Roadrunners bombed the San Diego Mariners 8-2.

At Detroit, Flames left wing Jacques Richard sustained a broken nose when bashed in the face by the stick of Detroit goalie Jim Rutherford.

Rutherford claimed he lost his balance, causing Richard's unfortunate collision with the goalie's stick. Richard had a different opinion.

"He'll get it back somewhere along the line," Richard said. "If he did it on purpose, he's a darn cheap sport."

Rookie Bill Lochead's goal proved the winner for Detroit, which also got two tallies from Mickey Redmond and one from Nick Libett. Bryan Hextall and Dwight Bialowski were Atlanta marksmen.

Bill Flett scored with less than three minutes left to give Toronto its tie with Los Angeles, which is unbeaten in its first five games — all on the road. Mike Murphy tallied for the Kings.

Lou Nanne got Minnesota's goal with 7:38 remaining to tie deadlock Vancouver. The Canucks led 1-0 on Don Lever's goal after two minutes of play.

Steve Vickers deflected a shot past Gilles Meloche with just 1:18 left in the game to give New York its tie with California. Three Golden Seals goals went in off Rangers defenseman, and another —

The Harris Poll rates the Rebels a two-point choice over Abilene Cooper Friday while Midland is a 15-point pick over Abilene.

Defensive end Clarence Campbell recovered a fumble by Chicago's Reggie Sanderson at the Charlotte 18 in the opening period to set up the first touchdown.

San 29, Americans 25 Southern California, 11-4, clinched the WFL Western Division title after quarterback Tony Adams hit 20 of 30 passes for 316 yards and led the Sun to the come-from-behind triumph in the last period.

Ron Garcia booted a pair of field goals for Southern California.

Cooper's Ritchey Jumps Into 5-4A Rushing Lead

Abilene Cooper's Scott Ritchey yard performance in leading the chey took over the District 5-4A Cougars to a 28-12 victory over individual rushing lead with 257-

Odessa High last week. Ritchey, who broke loose on TD runs of 67, 31 and 21 yards, vaulted into first place with 273 total yards for an 8.3-yard average per carry. Ritchey's performance goes down as one of the all-time individual rushing efforts in 5-4A annals.

Record For WFL Bell

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A trimmed Birmingham 29-25 and Portland edged the Hawaiians 3-0.

Southern 25, Blazers 15

Quarterback John Huarte, who had missed three games with a thigh injury, passed for 212 yards and one touchdown to lead Memphis, 14-2, the WFL Central Division leader, to its 11th straight victory.

Southern runner Willie Spencer, who has gained 788 yards, was apparently lost for the season due to a third-period knee injury. He had scored on a short touchdown plunge earlier in the quarter.

Hornets 27, Fire 0

Inspired by a strong defensive effort, the Hornets blanked Chicago before 20,333 hometown fans for the club's first victory in Charlotte since the franchise quit New York.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A record low 750 fans turned out at 90,000-seat JFK Stadium on a rainy night in Philadelphia for a World Football League game. The hapless Bell responded by trailing all the way and losing again.

The Shreveport Steamer triumphed 30-25 Wednesday night with quarterback D.C. Nobles throwing to Rick Eber for touchdown passes of 27 and 39 yards. The second TD pass scored the winning points.

"I don't know if it was the World Series, the weather or what," said Philadelphia runner John Land. "But that's the smallest crowd that I can ever remember playing in front of."

In other WFL games Wednesday night, Memphis beat Florida 25-15, Charlotte blanked Chicago 27-0, Southern California

REBS RANKED 10TH IN POLL

Midland Lee's Rebels with a 5-0 record has been named the No. 4 team in Class AAAA circles by the Harris Rating System and No. 10 by UPI while the Midland Bulldogs 4-1 are ranked 20th in the Harris Poll.

Neither the Rebels or Bulldogs have broken into The Associated Press top 10 to date.

The Harris Poll rates the Rebels a two-point choice over Abilene Cooper Friday while Midland is a 15-point pick over Abilene.

Defensive end Clarence Campbell recovered a fumble by Chicago's Reggie Sanderson at the Charlotte 18 in the opening period to set up the first touchdown.

San 29, Americans 25 Southern California, 11-4, clinched the WFL Western Division title after quarterback Tony Adams hit 20 of 30 passes for 316 yards and led the Sun to the come-from-behind triumph in the last period.

Ron Garcia booted a pair of field goals for Southern California.

Storm 3, Hawaiians 0

In a comedy of errors and missed opportunities, Portland managed to triumph on Booth Lusteg's 37-yard field goal late in the third period after a Storm wide receiver gained 31 yards on a surprise reverse.

ABILENE'S EAGLES LURK IN THE TREES—

Dogs Fight Mid-Season Doldrums

Midland outplayed Odessa Permian before losing 6-3 and then the Panthers defeated Abilene, 24-0, and that's what has Coach John Reddell and his coaching staff worried going into Friday's homecoming game with the Eagles at Memorial Stadium.

Reddell is afraid it could be a close game. "Abilene won't give you much, so if you turn the ball over a couple of times you could be in trouble," the Midland coach said. "They are terrifically enthused under new coach Bill Shipman this year and if they get something to fight for, say an early lead, you can be sure they'll do just that."

Scout Arlen Dixon chipped in that the Permian game was a little misleading, too. "Abilene fumbled the ball at its early 10 in the game and Permian pushed in for a touchdown. But after that the Eagles battled the Panthers on even terms for the remainder of the half and it wasn't until the second half that Permian managed to pull away."

The "mid-season doldrums" prior to those big games down the homestretch and the tradition behind these Abilene-Midland games together are enough to concern Reddell. Abilene has made a career of doing what Permian did to Midland a couple of weeks ago. Never inside the Midland 40, Permian blocked a kick in the final six seconds to win 6-3.

The Bulldogs under Reddell are 2-0 against Abilene and that's something the Purple Pack accomplished since joining Class AAAA in 1962. In fact, the two victories equals Midland's entire previous output.

It has been a lopsided series and tragedies like the one in all have kept it that way. The Bulldogs led 13-7 with time for a play or two and decided to punt from midfield. It was with 10 seconds to go and the ball scooped up and run in for the TD. Abilene won, naturally 14-13.

In 1970, Midland led, had possession of the ball on the Abilene 16 with less than two minutes to go and called time out, stopping the clock giving Abilene a few more precious seconds. Abilene, of course, won 25-20 with 22 seconds left. It had been going on a long time, like in 1963, Midland went ahead 8-7 with less than a minute to play, so Rusty Harris takes a reverse on a kick off for a 14-8 Eagle win.

Above all, this is a game the Bulldogs must win if the rest are to carry possible title significance.

"Consistency week-to-week is difficult to maintain," says Reddell. "We knew we'd not be as sharp for Big Spring last week as we had been for Permian the week before, but overall I thought we did a good job."

Reddell cited the offensive line of Tom Dunlap, Bruce Smith, Bill Newberry, Holt Cowden and Bill Rhotenberry for the way it fired off the line and the defensive secondary, led by Sam-the-Slam Jordan, for its effective defense in holding Big Spring to five completions in 22 pass attempts.

Defensively, the 'Dogs have been about as consistent as one could ask for, allowing an average of just 111 yards rushing and passing combined to five opponents.

Dixie Sixty Out To Promote Lee Spirit

The Dixie 60 has little in common with the Dirty Thirty except both groups are the guys in the white hats and both are bent on reform.

While the Dirty Thirty was organized in an effort to wipe out dirty politics in the State Capitol, the Dixie 60 is dedicated to abolition apathetic tendencies among Lee High School students. Originating in Mrs. Artis Hinds' literature of the supernatural class, their motto is "Spook 'em!"

Wednesday's effort to boost spirit for the unbeaten LHS Rebels lead the Dixie 60 to attach 2,000 suckers to 2,000 lockers in the school's corridors. The accompanying note read, "Lick 'em."

Other Rebel rousing tactics employed by this new organization include decoration of hallways and the lockers of football players. They plan to begin Tuesday painting scores of the last-played games on the parking lot by the field house.

On the Dixie 60's Friday docket is making badges and bangles for students to wear promoting support of the school's gridiron stars.

The organization's official purpose is to interest students in school spirit "in support of the teams in order to promote pride on the LHS campus."

KYLE JR... I'M NO SUPERSTAR'

Rote Sold On Soccer

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Kyle Rote Jr. doesn't consider himself a superstar although he won the Superstar competition against other top athletes in different sports last February.

The term "superstar" means consistency," said Rote, here to film a television commercial for a toy company—an offshoot of the victory which netted him $33,000.

Rote is quick to admit that being the son of the former Southern Methodist and New York Giants football star has made a difference in his professional soccer career.

"But I won the Superstar competition on my ability, not my name," he added.

"Last year I led the league in the scoring and was rookie of the year" in the North American Soccer League. "This year I'm not even in the top 10 in scoring."

Winning the Superstar competition may have given a boost to soccer, said the center-forward for the Dallas Tornados.

Especially with the youngsters, and that's where it counts, the kids can see that soccer has good athletes like in the other sports."

Rote said he transferred from Oklahoma State to Sewanee in hopes of playing both football and soccer, but the coaches wouldn't allow it. So he chose soccer.

"From a personal point of view, I felt that football would gain nothing from my playing it," Rotes said. "On the other hand, I felt I could make a significant contribution to soccer."

And there was personal satisfaction in doing well in a sport I didn't start playing until I was 17."

Rote predicts success in the United States for soccer. He noted the Tornados outdrew the Texas Rangers American League baseball team in average attendance last year with about 12,000 per game.

"Soccer is unique in being the only team sport that has international competition. There is a lot of growth in the area of political internationalism and soccer will play a big part in it. In most countries it is the top sport.

"I believe the United States will eventually dominate international soccer. I'm not a world class player, but I have been doing things with a ball since I was very young. I have a feeling for it."

Last year, Cooper took a 12-7 decision and in 1973, on this same P.E. Shotwell turf, edged the Rebels, 7-3.

In the overall series, Cooper holds a 9-3-1 edge over the Rebels.

Anchoring down the Cougar line are Chuck Reed, 205-pound junior along with Terry Pigg, John McKay and Kent Eaton, a pair of 190-pounders. Tommy Lawler, a 210-pound senior, heads the defensive line for the Key City eleven.

Cooper starts seven juniors on offense, but only two juniors on defense while Lee

HUNTING FISHING

For a brief two-day period each year, the lesser prairie chicken is fair game in a limited number of Panhandle and Permian Basin Counties.

An Oct. 19-20 season is set this year for Cochran, Collingsworth, Donley, Gray, Hemphill, Hockley, Lipscomb, Ochiltree, Roberts, Terry, Wheeler and Yoakum Counties. Bag limit is two per day with four bird per season.

As is the case each year, the birds must be checked in at Texas Parks and Wildlife check station before 10 p.m. on the day taken.

Shooting hours are 30 minutes prior to sunrise to 30 minutes after sundown. Only shotguns and longbow and arrows may be used in hunting lesser prairie chickens.

First Goose Season
Texans living west of U.S. Highway 81 get first crack at geese when the season opens Oct. 19 and runs through Jan. 19, 1975.

Later in the month, the season to the east of U.S. 81 opens Oct. 28 to Nov. 24 and then again from Dec. 7, 1974 to Jan. 19, 1975.

In the west, the bag limit is two geese and the possession limit is four. The daily bag and possession limit may not include more than one Ross' goose.

Bag limit in east Texas is five geese; possession limit is also five. The daily bag limit may not include more than one Ross' goose and no more than one Canada goose or one white-fronted (speckle-billed) goose. The possession limit may not include more than one Ross' goose and no more than either two Canada geese or one Canada goose and one white-fronted goose.

Rains Swell West Texas Lakes
Heavy rains in West Texas have pushed area reservoirs to the brim and over, and one of the side effects of the deluges is a boost for fishing in the near future.

North Concho Lake, also known as San Angelo Lake, kent from 500 surface acres to 5,000 surface acres in a week's time. The lake had been practically dry for the past 10 years.

To take advantage of all this water, TPWD fish hatchery personnel stocked the lake with 24,500 largemouth bass, 100,000 hybrid sunfish and a total of 100,000 blue and channel catfish.

An increase in water and improved range also should give West Texas antelope herds a much-needed boost.

Some of the late-hatched quail possibly could have been destroyed by the rising waters but the overall game outlook in the western part of the state should be improved by the late summer rains.

No. 2 Executive Stands By Decision To Quit ABC Post

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Alcoholic Beverage Commission failed Wednesday to persuade Asst. Administrator Kenneth Cook to change his mind about resigning, effective Dec. 21.
 Cook, 64, told reporters he explained his "personal reasons" for early retirement to the board but declined to elaborate. He did agree to forego about 30 days of accrued leave to compensate for overtime he had worked. Otherwise, today would have been his last day on the job.
 ABC Chairman Tom Gordon of Abilene told reporters before the commission's closed door meeting with Cook that "we don't want him to quit."
 Speculation on Conflict
 There has been speculation Cook resigned because of conflicts with Administrator O. N. Humphreys Jr., whom commission member R. L. Thornton Jr. of Dallas sought to have fired during the summer.
 Humphreys has withstood Thornton's attempts because of support from the other two commission members, chairman Tom Gordon of Abilene and Joe Burkett of Kerrville.
 Cook told reporters his relations with Humphreys "are okay" and declared he was "resigning for personal reasons"—a statement on which he refused to elaborate.
 Asked if the often controversial liquor law enforcement and tax collecting agency was in good shape, Cook replied, "I don't think it is in bad shape." But when pressed, he said it "probably" had been in better condition in the past.
 Thornton continued his practice of grilling Humphreys about various administrative matters and registering disgust when Humphreys failed to come up with complete answers.
 He refused to sign the cover letter that goes on the agency's annual report to the state auditor and the governor, telling Humphreys: "You are asking me to sign a piece of paper telling the governor this is our report... I would like to see a rough draft of what we are sending to the governor before I sign."
 Thornton presses Humphreys
 Thornton also pressed Humphreys for details about the activities of ABC inspectors in various cities, noting that those in Amarillo average about 20 inspections a month each, while those in Austin and Corpus Christi average about 90.
 Humphreys said law enforcement, not inspections, was their primary duty.
 "Is that where they drive up and down the road and build up mileage?" Thornton asked.
 "No, sir," Humphreys replied. "I ask you questions every month. I would like you to be able to speak to them. Would that be asking too much, my fellow commissioners?" Thornton said.
 "No," chorused Burkett and Gordon.

McDONNELL APPEARS—Granberry, Governor Shun 'Hot Seat' Show

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Sam McDonnell, American Party candidate for governor, says not paying your federal income taxes might be a "last resort" method of protecting encroaching federal government powers.
 McDonnell appeared Wednesday on the "Hot Seat" news conference sponsored by the Dallas Press Club, along with Republican candidate Jim Granberry.
 McDonnell, a Dallas businessman, said he filed and paid his federal income taxes but he knew "many who do not. They fall in the class of people who feel this is an unconstitutional process in our government, in the same category as the Vietnam protesters against the war... I personally think non-payment would be a last resort, we should work through local processes first."
 No Answer From Briscoe
 Granberry refused to appear at the same time with McDonnell and held a news conference following McDonnell's. Gov. Dolph Briscoe was invited but did not answer the Dallas Press Club's invitation.
 "I'm not running against McDonnell, I'm running against Briscoe," Granberry told the news conference. "It would have been my pleasure to appear against Briscoe... If McDonnell wants to be governor he should debate the present governor."
 Granberry said he found that Texas voters are "nationally oriented. It is hard to get them thinking about state issues." He said he found many persons more interested in the 5 per cent tax surcharge proposed by President Ford than their local school tax increases. "They don't realize their taxes have gone up until they open the envelope," he said, "and unless someone tells them what caused it, they blame it on the school board."
 Granberry said Briscoe should be blamed for not calling a special legislative session to provide more money for public schools hard hit by increased operating costs from the inflation.
 Granberry said Wednesday night at an Austin College rally in Sherman that "It is sadly ironic that the governor is campaigning around this state claiming credit for the ethics legislation passed in 1973 when he has had to pour hundreds of thousands of dollars of his personal wealth into his re-election bid."
 "I see nothing ethical in the governor having to buy this sacred office and I see nothing ethical in the governor falsely claiming credit for ethics legislation he had no part in and in which he apparently knows nothing about."

El Paso's New Horse Patrol Reminiscent Of Old Wild West

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — It was almost like something out of the Old West.
 Police officers Reyes Dominguez and George Youakim were on routine patrol in El Paso's Memorial Park when they spotted several persons in the backyard of a house.
 Suspecting they were illegal aliens, the policemen sped on horseback—to make an arrest and, with the help of neighborhood residents, corralled the five surprised, burglary-tool equipped persons after a short chase.
 The arrest sounds routine, but the fact that Dominguez and Youakim are members of the El Paso Mounted Patrol and made the capture on horseback makes the case sparkle with thoughts of horseback peace officers of another century.
 The city's mounted patrol has existed for more than two months and already the officers, all volunteers, have shown enthusiasm for the change.
 While much of the patrol's function is public relations, interesting and unusual arrests have been made utilizing the horses' agility.
 Dominguez and Youakim were patrolling on a street when they were notified of a fight in a nearby store.
 The officers found a Drug Enforcement Agency agent attempting to arrest a man.
 The mounted patrolmen quickly sealed off doors by positioning their steeds across the openings and helped the agent make the arrest.
 Officer Richard Edens chased an illegal alien into a downtown alley and pinned the suspect to the wall.
 "His eyes were bugged out that big," said Edens, using his hands to show the appearance, "with the horse this far from him," and Edens gestured again to show a distance of inches.
 The patrolmen ride both Quarter Horses and thoroughbreds.
 The maneuverability of a horse in the confined spaces of the city make the animals especially suited to pursuit of suspects on foot.
 And, despite the noise and commotion of the downtown area, officers say the horses are well behaved and usually not bothered by the activity.
 The officers said the horses have been well received by persons encountered on patrol.
 Reaction Friendly
 The reaction by citizens is similar to that of the elderly couple who asked two of the officers to pose with their horses for photographs.
 The horses presented obstacles for some of the officers: Only two of the group had ever done serious riding before. Horsemanship, however, was not among requirements for men who volunteered. The only requirements were two years on the force and an interview before a screening board. Of about 30 who applied, eight were accepted.
 Allen Kasten, a former motorcycle patrolman, and Richard Ratliff had ridden horses seriously before. Others had ridden some on weekends, and Youakim had never ridden before.
 Very Proficient
 Now, said Tom Gentzler, who trained the men, the officers are as proficient as persons who have ridden horses for five years. The officers underwent a 12-week training program.
 Youakim said he was unsure about the training at first but enjoys his work.
 "It's like riding a big dog," he said. "I didn't know if I'd like it."
 But Youakim said his inexperience may have helped him "because I didn't have to undo any things I was doing wrong."
 Each horse has its own special traits which the patrolmen learn to appreciate. The men acknowledge they have become attached to their equine partners.

Weather Modification Potential Said Limited

LUBBOCK — There is a potential for increasing rainfall in semi-arid West Texas through weather modification—but it is a potential with limited opportunities for application, an international gathering of scientists were told this week at Texas Tech university.
 The scientists are participants in a symposium, "Frontiers of the Semi-Arid World," sponsored by Tech's International Center for Arid and Semi-Arid Land Studies and the Consortium of Arid Lands Institutions.
 T. B. Smith, vice president of Meteorology Research Inc. discussed two weather modification projects near San Angelo and Big Spring.
 "There is considerable evidence that treatment of clouds with hygroscopic material or silver iodide, under appropriate conditions, may produce increased amounts of rainfall," Smith said.
 Hygroscopic seeding involves the generation of large drops in clouds through the collision and coalescence of smaller cloud droplets induced by hygroscopic materials placed in the clouds, Smith explained. The other process, using silver iodide, requires the existence of ice crystals which serve as preferred centers for large particle growth.
 A hygroscopic seeding test program has been completed at San Angelo, with promising, but non-significant results which deserve further experimentation, according to Smith.
 "Principal evidence for silver iodide seeding effects in inducing precipitation comes from an accumulation of experimental data in various parts of the world," Smith said. "Evidence for hygroscopic treatment effects is more limited and less definitive, but comes from tests carried out in South Dakota and San Angelo."
 "In general, opportunities for weather modification in West Texas are limited in number. Suitable clouds are present on only a relatively small fraction of the total number of days."
 "The proportion of days with seedable clouds during the summer in West Texas ranges from about 15 to 30 per cent," Smith said. On about half these days, the natural rainfall expected from individual clouds would be around 10 acre-feet per cloud. On the remaining days opportunities exist for significant amounts of precipitation to be produced by seeding.
 "Although treatment of clouds appears to produce additional rainfall, the impact of the additional rain distributed over the total project area may not be large," Smith said. "Since individual cloud rainfall amounts frequently tend to be rather small, efforts should be concentrated on treatment techniques which might lead to the organization of cloud systems which would be more efficient rain producers."
 The symposium will continue with technical sessions through today. It will conclude Friday and Saturday with workshops and field trips.

Ray Milland No Longer Worries About 'Youth Syndrome'

By JOY STILLEY
NEW YORK (AP) — Ray Milland glanced with disinterest at the champagne chilling in the silver bucket sent to his suite by the manager of a luxurious mid-Manhattan hotel. "I hate champagne — in fact, I hardly drink at all," confided the man whose Academy Award-winning role in "The Lost Weekend" made him the international symbol of an alcoholic.

"It makes me throw up. But I smoke too much," he added, searching for a lozenge to ease a throat irritated by a day of back-to-back interviews and television appearances on behalf of his just-published autobiography, "Wide-Eyed in Babylon."

A bit heavier, grayer and a good deal baldier than he appeared in some 200 movies, Milland retains the sophisticated charm that has kept him on the screen for more than 40 years.

And despite the fact that he is in his mid-60s he's still there, having made six pictures in five countries during the last 16 months.

"I don't have to worry about the youth syndrome any more," explains the 6-foot-2 actor who played a father in "Love Story" and a grandfather in his latest movie, "Gold," and who actually has a 2-year-old grandson.

"As you get older you don't have to strike any poses any more and you can just be yourself," he goes on. "My greatest worry when I was young was first thing in the morning I had to check and see did I sleep on it wrong so that it stood out like wire all over my head. Now I don't have any hair so I don't have to worry."

Though most of the hair may be gone, Milland still has one indelible reminder of his younger years — a tattoo that he acquired the summer he worked on a tramp steamer in the Mediterranean.

"That's one of my big regrets, but then I was only 15," he admits, rolling up the sleeve of his bright blue shirt to display a skull on his right arm, fading but still clearly visible.

The brief stint as a sailor was only one of the early careers of the former Reginald Truscott-Jones, who took his professional name from the mill lands of his native Wales.

As a member of the Queen's Household Cavalry for three years he took part in the colorful changing of the guards ceremonies. An expert horseman, he was also a crack marksman, which is how he got his start in the movies after he left the service.

"A company making a picture needed a sharpshooter, so they asked me to show them what I could do," he recalls. "I did something I've never done before or since — put 13 shots off into one hole — and they gave me the job to do trick shooting."

While he was in the middle of that picture the leading man in another was hurt and he was asked to take a screen test.

"I didn't know what a test was but I went to the stage and stood in front of the camera and that night they told me I had the lead in the picture. I said, 'My God, what do I do now!' But I did it and someone from MGM visiting England saw the picture and thought I had something to offer and signed me up to go to Hollywood.

"After 18 months they found out I couldn't act worth a damn and dropped my option and I went back to England. But I couldn't stand that and saved up my money and footloosed it back."

Again, he says, he got lucky. He had just taken a job in a gas station as assistant manager for $27.50 a week when he ran into a casting director he knew and ended up with the second lead in a picture at Paramount, where he remained for 23 years.

"I was pretty bad and after about eight years I decided it was too late to do anything else and decided I'd better learn to act," he says. "So I started watching movies. I think I learned pretty much what to do with myself. If you do a thing often enough and long enough you've got to learn something or you're really stupid."

Milland learned well enough to win an Oscar in 1945 for his portrayal of an alcoholic, a role he prepared for by checking into Bellevue Hospital's psychiatric ward as well as by visiting Third Avenue bars.

"I must have looked authentic because after the picture came out I was considered an authority on alcoholism of every description," he says. "I'd go to a restaurant and order a glass of water and everybody would think it was gin. I got lots of letters asking for advice."

Milland admits that the Oscar, which he put in storage with his furniture after selling his California home a year ago to live in France, means a lot to him.

"It assured me that I could now call myself an actor. When your colleagues accept you as one of their own it's a pretty wonderful thing."

With his first and only wife, Mal, to whom he has been married for 43 years, Milland will soon be going back to France, where he'll work on a novel he's signed a contract to produce.

"I have a whole new career ahead of me as a writer. The book's not about Hollywood and it's totally fiction. It's all here," he says, pointing to his head. "Now all I've got to do is figure out where to start."

Film On Breast Cancer Set Saturday On KOSA

The newest and most complete report on breast cancer ever shown on local television has been scheduled by KOSA-TV. The American Cancer Society's new film, "Breast Cancer: Where We Are," will be seen on channel 7 at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, through special arrangements with the Midland and Ector units of the American Cancer Society (ACS).

Dr. Justin J. Stein, ACS president, says of the film, "Graphically illustrating newest detection equipment and techniques, mammography and thermography, and the vital aspects of breast self-examination, this film can save many lives. It can sweep away the mystery, fear, shame and misconceptions that have surrounded breast cancer so long. It will show women they can survive cancer of the breast through modern detection techniques and treatment and enjoy completely normal lives after treatment."

Actress Jennifer O'Neill was selected to narrate the film after her own personal experience with fear of breast cancer. Editor John Mack Carter of the Ladies Home Journal, Helen Gurley Brown of Cosmopolitan, syndicated columnist Ann Landers, actress Tammy Grimes, Dr. Arthur I. Holleb, ACS senior vice president for medical affairs and research; Dr. Lisa Talla of New York Hospital; Dr. Philip Strax, head of the Guttman Institute; New York; and Dr. Dan H. Moore, head of the Institute for Medical Research, Camden, N.J., explain how to cope and come back after breast cancer surgery, and how to benefit from new detection methods now beginning to be available in many areas.

Mrs. Terese Lasser, founder of the Reach to Recovery program of the ACS, leader of corps of former breast cancer patients, relates in the film what women need most to know after surgery — that they can return to lives that are normal in every way.

Gallery I To Exhibit McKinley Paintings

Herb McKinley will exhibit his wildlife, landscape and Western paintings at Gallery I, 101 Gulf Building, Friday through Nov. 1.

McKinley lived in Midland 20 years before moving to Dallas with Sun Oil Co. in 1969.

His paintings are included in the permanent collection of the Diamond M Museum in Snyder and have been purchased by the First National Bank of Graham.

McKinley says of his work, "My objective is to reflect life in the subject. I would like the viewer, on glancing at the painting, to think, 'By golly, I thought I saw the thing move.'"

"In Western subjects, I like to paint and draw natural action. When a man throws a rope on a calf, the arm doesn't

'Aida' Proceeds To Benefit UT Scholarship Fund

AUSTIN — Proceeds from two gala performances of the opera "Aida" here today and Sunday will go to performance scholarships in The University of Texas, College of Fine Arts.

"Aida" is to be presented in Municipal Auditorium by the UT Opera Theater, backed by the UT Symphony Orchestra, the Longhorn Bands, UT choral organizations and dancers drawn from the university and the community. Some 500 performers will be involved in the production of the Verdi masterpiece.

Dean Peter Garvie of the College of Fine Arts, in announcing the scholarship plans, said:

"We plan to use the proceeds from what is our largest venture to sustain and develop the idea of the many elements of the college performing and producing together. We will invest the receipts and each year use the interest to offer a number of undergraduate and graduate scholarships.

"We will be looking for students who bring us particular gifts and fill particular needs in our performance programs, where the emphasis is on working together and often in more than one art. Examples of the most eligible would be musicians playing in orchestras serving concerts, opera, musicals and dance; singers, dancers and actors working in a similar variety of forms, and people in technical theater involved in these kinds of performances."

Dean Garvie said he hopes that "Aida" will only be the first of a number of productions involving a wide range of the school's resources, with proceeds devoted to performance scholarships.

"We hope that potential patrons within the community at large will see these gala performances as an attractive way to support the education and training of the gifted young men and women who come to this university," he added.

Tickets for the opera performances have gone on sale, priced at $2, $3, $4 and $5, at the University box office in Hogg Auditorium on the UT campus.

Single Tickets Now On Sale For Dallas Civic Opera Season

DALLAS — Single tickets for the 1974 Dallas Civic Opera season are now on sale by mail, and over-the-counter at numerous ticket outlets in the Dallas area.

The DCO's 18th season will open Nov. 1 with "Lucrezia Borgia," in which superstar Beverly Sills will be heard in the title role. The opera will have repeats Nov. 3, 6 and 8. The Nov. 8 date was recently added as a result of heavy ticket demand.

The Donizetti opera also will star Jose Carreras, Tatiana Troyanos and Matteo Mangueria in the production here.

"Tosca" by Puccini, will be presented Nov. 15, 17 and 19, starring Raina Kabaivanska, Veriano Luchetti (who will be making his debut with DCO this season) and Silvano Carroli.

Famed diva Marilyn Horne will appear with Dallas Civic Opera for the first time in the title role of "Mignon," by Thomas, which will also mark her first appearance in the role. Also starring will be Renzo Castellato, Ruth Welting and Nancy Williams. "Mignon" will be performed Nov. 27 and 29 under the baton of guest conductor and director Sarah Caldwell, of the Boston Opera.

"I Puritani," Bellini's bel canto opera, will be performed Dec. 5, 8 and 10, starring Alfredo Kraus and introducing acclaimed young Italian soprano Elena Nuziata. It will mark the first times this difficult opera has been performed in the Southwest. Lorenzo Sacconi and Agostino Ferrin also will star in the work.

Maestro Nicola Rescigno, the DCO's artistic director since its founding 18 years ago, will conduct all performances except "Mignon."

Advance season ticket sales are the heaviest in DCO history, and most performances are certain to be sell-outs. Ticket prices for the opening night gala on Nov. 1 are $20, $15 and $7 in the orchestra. The front-center section is already sold out, and only $2 tickets remain in the balcony.

Meaning

The lessons of this century have taught millions to believe that the universe is fundamentally absurd — and so, therefore, is their existence.

Some seek escape from this awareness in new or ancient cults of mindlessness — violence, drugs, witchcraft.

Others fall back on the leap of faith — clutching closed systems of traditional belief despite the evidence.

Most members of the Unitarian Universalist religious community feel that closing one's eyes is not the answer to darkness. Instead they join together to seek enlightenment and comfort with the best tools at hand: our human intellect... our common impulse to decency... our capacity for love.

Basin Sectors Draw Locations For 18 Wildcats, 70 Field Projects

Permian Basin sectors last week drew 88 new sites for oil and-or gas tests. Operators planned 18 wildcats and 70 development projects in the two-state area.

The over-all count dropped 14 from the 102 reported by regulatory agencies two weeks ago, however, wildcats rose four from the 14 recorded in the previous count.

Railroad Commission District 7-C with headquarters at San Angelo was the leader in planned exploration, with eight wildcats, followed by District 8 at Midland, where six applications for ventures were received.

The Midland RRC office processed 25 pool development applications.

Power Station Generates Interest In Harvest Of Man-Raised Shrimp

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Besides generating electricity, the Central Power & Light Co. power station here is generating a lot of interest in its harvest of six-inch, man-raised shrimp from its cooling ponds.

This year's catch averaged 1,500 pounds per acre. Shrimp averaging about six inches in length and weighing nine-tenths of an ounce were harvested Wednesday under the supervision of Dr. Fred Conte, mariculture specialist for the Texas Agriculture Extension Service of Texas A&M University.

Senate Panel Slates Meeting Nov. 13 To Question Rocky

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rules Committee has turned down Nelson A. Rockefeller's request for an immediate reopening of his vice-presidential confirmation hearings, but has scheduled a session Nov. 13 to question him.

Rockefeller had hoped to go before the committee this week to explain his nearly $2 million gifts to political associates and friends and a $60,000 payment by his brother Laurance to finance a critical campaign biography of Arthur J. Goldberg, who was Rockefeller's opponent in the 1970 New York gubernatorial election.

Joint Venture

The project, a joint venture between Texas A&M and the Ralston-Purina Co. is designed to determine the feasibility of using Laguna Madre waters adjacent to the power station for commercial shrimp farming operations. Laguna Madre is separated from the Gulf of Mexico by Padre Island.

"We expected larger shrimp this year because we stocked the tanks at lower density," said Conte, who supervised three harvests last year. "Also, we are looking very closely at the survival ratio of the shrimp."

Smaller Shrimp

Last year's harvests yielded more pounds per acre, 4,696, but the shrimp were smaller. "Now we are aiming for a larger shrimp and a better survival record," he said.

The larger shrimp, sold commercially with the money plowed back into the project, help bring up the dollar value of the harvest while bringing down the cost of food.

"The shrimp are larger, but we have fewer shrimp to feed which means less money is needed for food," Conte said.

Mills Denies Romantic Ties With Former Dancer

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills has denied any romantic involvement with a former stripper who was with him during an encounter earlier this month with park police in Washington, D.C.

Mills also said he may have had "a little too much" to drink before the incident.

The Arkansas Democrat who is opposed in his bid for a 19th term in Congress by Republican Judy Petty of Little Rock arrived here Wednesday after nine days of seclusion.

Mills said he believed the incident would be a factor in that race, but added that he thought he would win. "I don't think there's any question about that," Mills said in an interview with John Meyer of CBS News.

Police said Mills was intoxicated when they stopped his speeding, unlighted car at 2 a.m. on Oct. 7. Mills was not driving and his wife was not with him.

Mills said he wasn't sure how long he had known Mrs. Battistella. He said he might have known her "a year at least."

Asked if he expected any adverse reaction to the incident, Mills said, "Oh, it will to some people who want to be prone to criticize or find fault or make something big."

He laughed, then added, "And, we'd been celebrating this lady's departure back to Argentina. And, maybe we did have a little too much. I'm not going to say we did or didn't, but I didn't feel it. I didn't feel that we did."

Judges Now Operating Under New Ethics Code

AUSTIN — Texas Supreme Court Chief Justice Joe Greenhill has announced that Texas judges are operating under a new code of ethics which requires them to file a copy of their federal income tax returns with the State Judicial Qualifications Commission.

"The Supreme Court has gone well beyond the requirements of the ethics bill passed by the legislature," Greenhill said of the Code of Judicial Conduct which was published for the first time in the Texas Bar Journal's September issue.

"It requires the filing of judges' income tax returns with the Judicial Qualifications Commission in addition to the disclosure to the Secretary of State," Greenhill said.

Adopted Sept. 1

The Supreme Court adopted the new ethics code, the first revision since 1963, to take effect Sept. 1. The Court met Sept. 24 to adopt several minor amendments aimed at exempting county judges from the code's requirements. Greenhill said the county judges should not have been included in the code because they perform so many non-judicial functions as county administrators.

The new code is based on a set of standards adopted by the American Bar Association and 28 other states. Supreme Court Justice Jack Ppge was chairman of a committee of the State Bar of Texas Judicial Section which drafted the code.

Greenhill said the code also provides:

1. A prohibition against judges engaging in most commercial and business enterprises.
2. A prohibition against political participation except on his own behalf as a candidate for election or reelection.
3. A ban against holding any office in a publicly-owned business.
4. A prohibition against a judge soliciting funds for a charity.

Chamber 'Phonothon' Scheduled Next Week

More than 70 volunteers will benefit from the chamber's activities, and that includes virtually everyone in Midland. Theme for the campaign is "Why, the Chamber of Commerce, of course." It points out many community improvement projects, which could not be handled by individuals or businesses, are tackled by chamber committees and task forces.

Two mailings are being sent to all prospects. One is a copy of the chamber newsletter, Today's Midland, and a personal invitation letter from chamber president K. M. Jastrow.

Ranchers, Dairymen Applaud President's Plans For Meeting

STEPHENVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Texas ranchers and dairymen have applauded President Ford's intention to meet with cattlemen concerning their economic problems.

"We're ready to go to Washington anytime the President wants," said James Traweck, president of the Cross Timbers Beef and Dairy Association.

"Maybe they're beginning to hear us after all. I knew when somebody started killing cattle, or even talked about it, it would spread across the country," Traweck said.

President Ford, on a campaign swing through the nation's heartland, said Wednesday he will meet with ranchers and dairymen within two weeks. He said cattle slaughter in Wisconsin had contributed "nothing toward a solution."

Ford said he will defer changes in the dairy import quota system until he can assess market conditions.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White termed Ford's announcement, made during a speech at Sioux Falls, S. D., "marvelous."

"I felt like that if our people used their common sense, and they have, this thing will work out right. The President is certainly off on the right foot," White said.

Traweck, whose group herded 800 calves to a trench to be shot several weeks ago, said, "We'd just about given up hope he would meet with us."

Plans Called Off
Traweck's group called off their plans to slaughter the calves at the last minute, deferring to hopes Ford would agree to talk with them about the price of feed and the price of milk and beef.

Dairymen and ranchers say the disparity in production costs and product prices is driving them out of business, or into bankruptcy.

"I'm sorry they had to kill those cattle in Wisconsin and I'm glad we didn't have to do it down here," Traweck said by telephone from his home near Stephenville.

"This industry is about to go down the drain," White said. "I was disturbed because it seemed he (Ford) wouldn't see these people. I hope something positive comes out of this and I believe that there will be."

Official Sees Minimum Chance For Meat Embargo

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Agriculture Department official says there is little chance that President Ford will impose an embargo on foreign beef imports because "it will be hard for the administration to do anything that will raise food prices."

"The realities of the situation are that consumers are crying about food prices ... In the face of the realities of our time, it would be hard to put that into effect," said John Foltz, deputy undersecretary of Agriculture.

Difficulties Reviewed
A delegation of Oklahoma cattlemen proposed the embargo Wednesday during a meeting with Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz and House Speaker Carl Albert while reviewing the financial difficulties of the cattle industry.

The import freeze has been suggested as one method to boost domestic beef consumption.

Foltz said the cattlemen's problems are "nothing we can solve soon."

Evan Hale, Butz' administrative assistant, said the secretary promised to carry the group's proposal to the Cattle Industry Advisory Committee, which is holding its initial meeting today in Kansas City.

Butz agreed to carry the cattlemen's suggestion for the embargo to the committee meeting, but Hale said the secretary made no commitment about the likelihood that the proposal would be approved by the Agriculture Department or President Ford.

Doug Jackson, legislative assistant to Sen. Henry Bellmon, R-Okla., said he didn't expect the 180-day moratorium to be accepted.

"I don't think there is much chance of that happening," said Jackson, who represented Bellmon at the meeting Wednesday.

The 33-member advisory committee was organized recently to advise Butz on the problems of the cattle industry. It includes a representative of industry and consumers.

Cattlemen have argued that imports have flooded the domestic beef market, reducing prices paid for beef raised in the United States.

Fisher Says Imports Should Be Stopped

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — Zack Fisher, Republican candidate for state Agriculture Commissioner, says beef imports should be stopped, but openly opposes the slaughter of beef in protest of hard times.

"Threatening to kill animals in parts of the state did focus attention on how bad the situation is and that is fine," Fisher said while campaigning here Wednesday. "But an actual kill would do us (cattlemen) more harm than good."

Fisher said he met with President Ford last week. With the beef import quota expiring Jan. 1, 1975, Fisher noted that although Ford made no promise to do away with it, the President didn't indicate that it would be carried through. Fisher didn't place all blame on the government.

Raises Cattle, Cotton
"Today we have 7,000,000 more cattle than we did a year ago," he said. "We should have culled our cattle better."

Fisher is a Panhandle cotton and cattle raiser from Memphis.

However, the GOP challenger did blame his November opponent, incumbent John C. White, for not keeping informed on Texas, and the national agricultural situation.

"I think he (White) has failed to keep up with the rapidly changing agricultural situation in Texas," he said.

A primary goal of the commissioner should have been to work closer with elected officials in metropolitan areas where so much of the vote decides the agriculture program, he said.

Backs Milk Price Hike
Fisher said he would support dairymen's request of 90 percent of parity which would increase the milk price support to $7.84 per hundred pounds if another alternative could not work just as well.

The alternative to which he referred is approval of a bill in Congress which insures that imported dairy products meet certain minimum standards for sanitation. Fisher said that would help greatly in curbing dairy imports, noting, "Other countries do just that to us."

Billboard Contest Concludes Friday

"We have received a number of entries and are delighted with the response," noted VIP Committee chairman Gordon Knox.

A $100 cash prize will be presented to the person submitting the winning entry.

Copies of the contest rules are available at the chamber of commerce office, 211 N. Colorado St.

Technical Trouble Dogs Waste Incinerator Ship

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Workers struggled with a plugged feeder line on board the incinerator ship Vulcanus today in hopes of soon starting the burning of tons of poisonous industrial wastes.

Burning of the material, from a Shell Chemical Co. plant, was to have begun Tuesday.

"They say it will be a couple of days before they can begin incineration," said Clint Pray, who has kept a sharp eye on the vessel, anchored some 130 miles south of coastal Cameron, La.

Pray, an executive assistant on environmental matters to Louisiana Gov. Edwin Edwards, strongly protested the issuance of a permit to Shell for the burning.

Pray, who plans to run tests on the smoke, said the Vulcanus has agreed to notify him when it is ready to burn. Pray and others had circled the ship in an airplane for four hours

Tuesday before the burn was postponed.

"We will go back out there," he said. "This is the first time an incinerator ship has operated off an American coast and what happens here now could very easily set a precedent for all future incinerator ships in the United States."

Pat McCaffrey of Tallahassee, Fla., a special coordinator with Florida's Pollution Control Department, joined others on an Environmental Protection Agency ship Wednesday to monitor the burning.

EPA scientists will check fallout from the incineration to see whether it affects marine life. The burn is expected to take nine days.

The Vulcanus is a Dutch ship, owned by a Rotterdam firm. Its load of 4,628 tons of corrosive chlorinated hydrocarbons and others had been eating through storage tanks at Deer Park, Tex.
