Gaines Strike Seen, Second Well Finished

Union Texas Petroleum Corp. No. 1 Page, Gaines County explorer, 15 miles east of Seminole, has assured production from the Strawn with the swabbing of 27 barrels of oil, no water, in eight hours.

Production was through perforations at 11,325-11,330 feet, which had been acidized with 500 gallons. Testing continued. Drilled to 11,450 feet, it has 5 1/2-inch casing set at 11,446 feet. Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of labor 1, league 303, Dawson CSL survey, 3/4 mile north of the Strawn opener in the Amrow, North field.

Confirmer Finished
Jim Conine, Inc. of Midland has taken over operations at the former Spartan Oil & Gas Co. No. 1 ODC, and completed the well as a second Wolfcamp producer and 3/4-mile west extension to that pay in the Bale, East field of Gaines.

It pumped 30 barrels of 46-gravity oil on 24-hour potential test taken through perforations at 9,868-9,878 feet, which had been acidized with 500 gallons. Originally drilled by Adobe Oil Co., it was plugged and abandoned in November, 1973, at 11,050 feet. Spartan filed application in January to re-enter the project as a wildcat.

Location is 1,718 feet from south and 933 feet from east lines of section 341, block G, CCSD&RNGG survey, seven miles southeast of Denver City. The Wolfcamp discovery, Champlin Petroleum Co. No. 1 C&K Petroleum, was completed Feb. 15, 1972, for 467 barrels of 35.4-gravity oil per day, through a 1/2-inch choke and perforations at 9,838-9,858 feet.

Offset To Strike Planned For Real

Tucker Drilling Co., Inc. of San Angelo plans to drill a 3/4-mile northeast offset to its No. 1 J. H. Fryar, et al, opener of the one-well Lomas Piedras (Pennsylvanian) gas field of Real County. It will be designated No. 1-35 Bushong. Drillsite is 744 feet from south and 1,901 feet from east lines of section 35, block O, T&NO survey, 14 miles northwest of Leakey. Planned depth is 6,250 feet.

The discovery was completed in 1973, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 1.24 million cubic feet of gas per day, through perforations at 6,012-6,621 feet.

Crockett, Sutton Searchers Planned

Exploratory tests have been scheduled in Crockett and Sutton counties. J. Cleo Thompson, Dallas, plans No. 12 Thompson Dale, a slated 8,500-foot venture in Crockett, six miles northwest of Ozona and three miles northwest of Canyon sand gas production in the Ozona pool.

Drillsite is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 78, block OP, GC&SF survey, surrounded by dusters.

Accord Reached On Trade Bill

Free Emigration By Russians Aim, Jackson Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., announced today at the White House what he described as a historic step aimed at ensuring free emigration from the Soviet Union of at least 60,000 persons a year.

The accord involving Congress, the Ford administration and the Soviet Union, also opens the way for congressional passage of major trade legislation and ends a two-year fight by Jackson and others to liberalize Soviet emigration policies.

Agreement Unveiled
Following a half-hour meeting with Ford and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, Jackson was given the use of a White House podium to unveil a six-point agreement outlined in an exchange of correspondence between him and Kissinger.

The White House made no announcement of its own and all press releases distributed there on the matter were from Jackson's office.

Trial Period
In essence, Jackson and other proponents of freer Soviet emigration agreed to an 18-month trial period during which the new Soviet policies will be implemented and, in return, Congress will authorize the granting of tariff concessions and credits to the Soviets.

Noting that Congress can end the arrangement after 18 months if it feels the Soviets are not upholding their part of the bargain, Jackson told reporters, "I think the safeguards are more than adequate."

In a letter to Jackson, Kissinger wrote, "I should like, on behalf of the administration, to inform you that we have been assured that the following criteria and practices will henceforth govern emigration from the USSR."

Kissinger listed six points. Jackson, Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., have been working to formulate final legislative language for the compromise accord, seeking to spell out an acceptable level of (See JACKSON Page 2A)

Philippines Hikes Sugar Prices By 51 Per Cent
By The Associated Press
The Philippines announced today it hiked sugar prices 51 per cent, and one Manila supermarket sold out its sugar supply in less than 30 minutes. At the same time, sugar prices reached a record $1,012.30 a ton in trading on the London Terminal Market. One dealer said prices could go even higher when the Common Market and possibly the United States start buying on the free market.

The Philippines is one of the world's leading cane sugar producers with an estimated output of 2 1/2 million tons. It usually exports 1 1/2 million tons to the United States.

Manila housewives went into mild panic buying following the announcement that the Philippine Price Control Council increased the ceiling price of domestic sugar to encourage production.

The council hiked the price Thursday from $7.38 to $11.41 for 133 pounds of sugar, but saved the announcement for this morning.

Ford's Testimony Doesn't Quiet Dispute
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Ford's historic testimony on his pardon for former President Richard M. Nixon has drawn high praise from congressmen for candor, but sharp disagreement on whether he laid the pardon controversy to rest.

Ford assured a House Judiciary subcommittee and a nationwide television audience Thursday "there was no deal, period" for the pardon and said he is convinced he did not grant it too hastily.

Members Split
Subcommittee members split afterwards on whether Ford's testimony settled the matter, and Chairman William L. Hungate, D-Mo., said the inquiry on the pardon may continue after Congress returns Nov. 18 from its election campaign recess.

Subcommittee Democrats called for more witnesses involved in the pardon consultations, including former White House chief of staff Alexander M. Haig Jr., Ford counsel Phillip Buchen and possibly outgoing special Watergate Prosecutor Leon Jaworski.

Most Republicans agreed with Ford the subcommittee should end the inquiry so the country can "shift our attention from the pursuit of a fallen president to the pursuit of the urgent needs of a rising nation."

"This certainly should be the end of it," said Rep. Robert McClory, R-Ill., "It's time to lay off the President."

Just Beginning
But Rep. Bella S. Abzug, D-N.Y., author of one of the formal resolutions of inquiry that Ford appeared to answer, said "this is just a beginning."

Rep. Elizabeth Holtzman, D-N.Y., contended Ford's testimony "raised more questions than it answered."

It was under Miss Holtzman's questioning, on how Ford could answer the "suspicious raised" in the public mind on whether the pardon was part of a deal, that Ford interrupted to make one of his major points.

"I want to assure you... and the members of Congress and the American people that there was no deal, period, under no circumstances," he said.

Ford said the first mention ever made to him of a pardon for Nixon came from Haig during a meeting Aug. 1—nine days before Nixon resigned—at which he said Haig also informed him of upcoming "devastating, even 'catastrophic' disclosures that might remove Nixon from office."

A Ford pardon for Nixon was one of six alternatives Haig listed, Ford testified. He said Haig did not advocate any of the options.

Ford said Haig gave him details on the upcoming "devastating" disclosures of White House tapes on which Nixon gave the go-ahead to try to curb the first FBI investigation into Nixon re-election money involvement in the Watergate burglary.

Ford testified that even though he knew those details he continued to say at press conferences the following weekend that he believed Nixon was innocent of any impeachable offense because he was afraid (See PARDON Page 2A)

Bank Deposits Up $69,432,417

Midland bank deposits total $394,384,821, up $69,432,417 from the $324,952,404 reported at a similar date a year ago, but down $13,399,322 from the record $407,784,143 recorded on last June 30. The present figure represents a seasonal high.

Statements of condition of the four Midland banks—Commercial Bank & Trust Co., The First National, The Midland National, and Western State—at the close of business last Tuesday, came this morning in response to calls from the federal comptroller of the currency and the State Banking Department.

Loans and discounts of the four banks were at a record high of $253,344,250, up $37,323,050 from the $216,021,200 recorded on Oct. 17, 1973, and up $12,621,208 from the $240,723,042 reported on June 30, 1974.

The First National Bank had $91,851,730 a year previously and deposits totaling $237,215,529, compared with $198,367,871 a year ago and $252,140,820 last June 30. The bank's loans and discounts amounted to $156,008,426, compared with $134,137,002 on Oct. 17, 1973, and $145,717,286 three months ago.

The Midland National Bank reported deposits totaling $113,682,371, compared with $91,851,730 a year previously and deposits totaling $113,162,470 last June 30.

The bank's loans and discounts totaled $66,631,717, compared with $58,160,697 in mid-October 1973, and $65,819,612 at midyear 1974.

Commercial Bank & Trust Co. had deposits of $37,375,925, compared with $30,999,820 a year ago and $37,126,439 three months ago.

The bank's loans and discounts amounted to $25,425,136, compared with $20,706,132 a year previously and $24,589,533 last June 30.

Western State Bank's deposits totaled $6,110,996, compared with $3,732,962 last year at this time and $5,354,412 at midyear '74.

Its loans and discounts totaled $5,278,971, compared with $3,017,367 a year earlier and $4,596,610 last June 30.

Liquor Vote Slated In Martin County
STANTON — Martin County residents will be asked to decide Nov. 5 whether to open one precinct in the county to sale of mixed alcoholic beverages.

The county commissioners court voted to put the issue on the general election ballot after studying a petition containing 123 signatures calling for such an election.

At the present, Martin County is a dry county with neither whisky nor beer being sold.

The petition was circulated in County Commissioner Precinct 2—which includes the east half of Stanton, from St. Peter Street, and north into the rural area.

The petition called for a "Local Option Mixed Beverage" election.

An attorney representing the interests of New Mexico's R. O. Anderson, president of Atlantic Richfield Co., said Anderson planned to convert the historic Stanton convent into a restaurant.

He told the court that Anderson owns several restaurants in New Mexico that are housed in restored historical buildings. He added that Anderson believed that the availability of liquor by the drink is needed to draw the type of clientele needed for such a restaurant.

Anderson's attorney stressed that if the issue is passed by the voters that no package stores could be opened in the precinct.

Mild Weather Due To Continue
More fair, mild autumn weather is expected in Midland and the remainder of Texas this weekend.

The highs today and Saturday should be in the middle 80s, according to the National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal. That is slightly warmer than Thursday's top mark of 80 degrees. The overnight low will be in the same range as this morning's 52-degree reading.

A high pressure ridge extending from the Northern Rockies to Southeast Texas is keeping skies clear and winds light and variable over the state.

Most temperatures were in the 50s across the state early today, ranging from 62 degrees at Galveston to 46 at Dalhart and 47 at Junction.

Warm afternoons and cool nights are expected to continue through Sunday.

Thursday's highs were in the mid-80s and upper 70s, with cool 73-degree readings at Marfa and Alpine in Southwest Texas, according to The Associated Press.

Banks Cut Prime Rate
NEW YORK (AP)—First National City Bank of New York, the nation's second largest commercial bank, and Chemical Bank, the seventh largest, today announced further reductions in their prime interest rates, to 11.25 per cent from 11.5 per cent, effective Monday.

Egypt, Soviets Say Palestinian State Prerequisite To Peace In Middle East
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—over-all peaceful settlement in the Middle East.

Egypt's official Middle East News Agency said Russia and Egypt announced today they have agreed to support the establishment of a Palestinian state as a prerequisite for an eva peace talks as a full participant.

The communique was issued after a visit to Moscow by Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmy.

"The two sides have agreed that any over-all final settlement at Geneva to bring about a just and lasting peace in the Middle East cannot be reached without insuring the legitimate rights of the Arab Palestinian people, particularly its right to establish its national entity," the agency quoted the communique as saying.

The PLO is trying to set up an independent Palestinian state on the West Bank of the Jordan River and in the Gaza Strip, occupied by Israel in the 1967 Middle East war.

Beefing Up Regulations On Warning Of Natural Gas Hazards Recommended
WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Transportation Safety Board today recommended the federal government beef up its regulations that require gas companies to warn the public of natural gas hazards.

The recommendation was included in a report on a gas explosion and fire that destroyed a house and killed three of the five occupants in Charleston, W. Va., last Dec. 2. The two survivors were severely burned.

The safety board said the accident probably was caused by an accumulation of natural gas which had leaked from two holes created by corrosion in the pipe. It said the pipe serving the house was 25 years old. The source of the ignition is unknown, the board said.

No Gas Reported
Contributing to the accident, the board said, was that none of the victims reported smelling gas to the gas company or the fire department, even though gas had been smelled in the house at least 24 hours before the blast.

"This was partially the result of the fact that the gas company submerged warnings and instructions within promotional material not heeded by the customer and did not inform the customer of the possible consequences of failure to report a gas odor to the gas company or to leave the premises," the board said.

The board said Columbia Gas of West Virginia had sought to comply with federal laws requiring the education of gas users by incorporating safety messages in pamphlets mailed with its monthly bills.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A vulnerability of some of his top aides to criminal charges on March 17, 1973—four days before he claimed to have his first detailed knowledge about Watergate.

It was the first time that portion of the tape or a transcript of it has ever been made public.

In the conversation Nixon was told by John W. Dean III that he had attended meetings where political espionage, including burglary and wiretapping, was discussed but that he thought the plans had been "turned off."

The jury then heard Dean saying, "The next thing I heard was... the break-in on June 17."

Question Raised
Nixon asked, "You heard discussion of that, but you didn't hear any discussion of bugging, did you, in that, your meetings? Or did you?"

Later the President is heard to say: "Where this thing leads, I mean in terms of the vulnerabilities and so forth. It's your view the vulnerabilities are basically Mitchell, Colson, Haldeman, indirectly, possibly directly..."

Giant Feed Lot Operator Sees Profits Dreams Crash

HOUSTON (AP) — Seventeen months ago, the chief executive officer of the nation's largest custom cattle feeding operation said the cattle business was equal to the value of the crude oil business in the United States.

But while oil companies have seen their profits zoom, Stratford of Texas Inc. saw stockholder equity drop from $22 million to $10 million in the last year.

Robert H. Gow, chairman of Stratford, pioneered the selling of joint venture participations to investors looking for profits and tax advantages in the feeding of beef cattle in giant feed lots.

In March of 1973, Gow sold participations in the joint ventures—which ran from three to five years—would be maturing this year.

"Some of those people have made, or will make, a lot of money on rising beef prices," Gow observed, adding that Stratford would be getting 15 per cent of those profits.

But this week when Stratford released its third quarter report, it revealed losses of $13,697,000 for the nine months ending Aug. 31. Losses per common share were $3.91 for the three quarters.

The company has lured investors in the past with a promise to limit their downside risks, with the limits varying on each of the 87 different joint venture plans the company has in effect, said President Todd Simpson.

The company now has a total reserve of $15,650,000 to cover those losses.

Stratford, like many cattle operators, has seen prices drop in the face of stiff customer reactions to high beef prices. At the same time, the cost of feed grains has skyrocketed, sparked by a bad growing season.

Some cattle ranchers have reacted to the squeeze with well-publicized killings of calves. Stratford officials say they are still hopeful.

"We are still selling participations," Simpson said, while adding it was too early to say anything about success in attracting investors. "We feel cattle feeding can be a profitable market. We can't give any assurances that this is the best time to feed cattle."

Stratford had 180,000 head of cattle on feed 13 months ago, Simpson said. Now it is down to 100,000 head at its three feedlots in the Texas Panhandle.

Feeder calves are being slaughtered at prices which bring the producer less money than it will cost him to replace the animals, Simpson said.

"The near-time future of the cattle business is uncertain," he said. "But very likely by the end of 1975, markedly higher beef prices are inevitable. And that is regardless of what happens to grain prices, because of the liquidation of stock which is now occurring."

"This liquidation is not only happening in beef but in chicken and pork," Simpson said. More and more supplies of grass-fed beef, usually younger slaughter calves, are being sold in supermarkets now. The grass-fed beef, while usually not as tender as grain fed, does escape the expensive fattening in feed lots.

But Simpson said there is no way the present levels of beef production in this country can be maintained on grass alone.

"There is not sufficient grass capacity to produce the present level," he said. "Also grass production is more expensive per unit of energy than the cost of adding that energy through grain at current prices."

Because of the losses this year, Stratford has had to ask its principal lenders to waive financial covenants in loan agreements and the company said they have received general willingness from the lenders.

The company claims it currently "has not yet" had cash problems, but adds it will be making payments of $3.4 million to investors during the next six months.

In order to improve its cash position, the company said it is negotiating to sell some of its farm lands and oil properties and "may be required to seek additional short term borrowings."

Economic Crisis Puts Squeeze On Electric Utilities

By JOHN CUNIFF
NEW YORK (AP) — Few people waste any sympathy on electric utilities. Utilities always are big and impersonal, and often they are over-computerized and unresponsive. Many critics claim they are poorly managed.

The product they supply is taken for granted, and their bills therefore usually seem excessive. They are unwelcome neighbors, too, accused of erecting ugly, even dangerous plants, and of polluting the air and water.

Their image often is that of self-interest and arrogance, a perception sometimes reinforced by appearances and actions. They often are nepotistic. It is assumed by cynics that they have compromised the power regulators.

Even their investors seldom have anything nice to say to them, at least of a personal nature. Occasionally they are complimented on the regularity and size of their dividends, but usually that is expected of utilities.

But now the utilities need sympathy. The mighty mastodons of industry have fallen into a trap that seems to get deeper the harder they try to escape.

See if you can solve the puzzle:

1. Shrinkage profits look increasingly unattractive to investors. Brownouts demonstrate to millions of people that utilities are "mismanaged." The public demands nationalization or municipal operation.

2. Utility managers agree. Faced with bankruptcy, they find their only source of funds is the government. Nobody can demonstrate that

3. The customers cut back on their usage. Financing is further disrupted.

4. Burdened with ill will, insufficient revenues, an unsympathetic bond market and a disinterested stock market, the utilities postpone construction.

5. In so doing they generate great problems for the future. Utility plants become worn out and outdated. Old plants can't use new fuels. They are costly to operate and maintain. They break down.

6. The customers cut back on their usage. Financing is further disrupted.

7. Burdened with ill will, insufficient revenues, an unsympathetic bond market and a disinterested stock market, the utilities postpone construction.

8. In so doing they generate great problems for the future. Utility plants become worn out and outdated. Old plants can't use new fuels. They are costly to operate and maintain. They break down.

now. On the stock market, to use one illustration, utility shares are selling far below book value.

One analyst observes that at current prices, investors have even discounted nationalization. Presumably, the government would pay book value, he said.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Friday, Oct. 18, the 291st day of 1974. There are 74 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1867, the United States took formal possession of Alaska from Russia.

On this date —

In 1540, the Spanish explorer, Hernando de Soto, was fighting Indians in southern Alabama.

In 1767, the boundary line between Maryland and Pennsylvania — the Mason-Dixon Line — was agreed upon.

In 1898, the American flag was raised over Puerto Rico shortly before the island was ceded to the United States by Spain.

In 1892, the first commercial long-distance telephone service began between New York and Chicago.

In 1944, in World War II, Soviet troops invaded Czechoslovakia.

In 1971, Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin was attacked by a demonstrator on the Canadian Parliament grounds in Ottawa but was unhurt.

Ten years ago: Former President Herbert Hoover was reported in critical condition in his suite at the Waldorf Towers in New York.

Five years ago: Federal officials ordered a halt in production of food and soft drinks containing cyclamates after new evidence that the artificial sweetener had caused cancer in animals.

One year ago: Saudi Arabia announced a 10 per cent cutback in oil production to put pressure on the United States to reduce support for Israel.

Today's birthdays: Greek actress Melina Mercouri is 49 years old. Playwright Sidney Kingsley is 68.

Thought for today: America is a great country, but you can't live in it for nothing — Will Rogers, American humorist, 1879-1935.

1. Because of the expensive equipment needed to operate utilities, they are very heavy borrowers. Interest rates have risen sharply, greatly adding to their costs. In some instances this forces them to borrow even more.

2. Their credit rating falls, forcing them to pay more.

3. They consider cutting dividends, but this would lead inevitably to lower stock prices, thus eliminating or reducing that source of capital.

4. Having no choice, the utilities

Fort Worth Phone Rate Hike Sought
FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. has asked the Fort Worth City Council for a 17.5 per cent rate increase for customers within the city.

Bill Serrault, Southwestern Bell division manager for Fort Worth, said Thursday the increase would raise the utility's rate of return to 4.34 per cent on its investment. The proposed increase would provide $11.5 million annually in new revenues.

Serrault said a rate schedule would be worked out once the city council determines the rate of return the firm will be allowed.

By POLLY CRAMER

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — Thank you so much for the help you give us with our problems. Now I would appreciate knowing how to remove a smudge from my lovely drum top table. I spilled nail polish on its highly polished and waxed surface, immediately wiped it off with tissue and sponged it with cold water but was left with a smudge. How can I remove it and restore the original luster to the table top? — MRS. L.K.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with men's work boots that have only a thin piece of material covering the steel in the toes. When that cloth wears away socks rub the steel and continually make holes which mean constant darning. — PAT.

DEAR POLLY — Like Mrs. C.B.S. I was once an unimportant cash customer in stores where I shopped all the time. I had to establish credit EVERY time I made a big purchase that I planned to pay for in 60 or 90 days. I finally got smart and established charge accounts at the big stores that offer them. Now I buy what I need and charge it. When the bill comes I pay in full (to avoid finance charges) so I am still a cash customer in my own mind plus a valued charge customer and my credit rating is excellent. Of course, this can only work if you keep in mind that you are going to pay in full when the bill comes and are careful not to overspend just because you have a charge card. It also keeps all but pin money in a checking account and one writes as few checks as possible. — MRS. F.A.L.

DEAR POLLY — Our children put their stereo equipment in an area in the recreation room that the former owners had used as a closet and they wanted a bead curtain to cover the opening. After pricing beads they found their budgets could not stand the cost so they collected small medicine vials from everyone they knew and drilled a hole in the bottom of each one. The plastic vials were then painted, left clear or had designs put on them. Salvaged yarn was then strung through each vial and knots made along the length to hold them in place. These turned out to be very charming "bead" curtains as the vials were carefully alternated according to sizes and lengths and staggered on the various lengths of yarn. — MARY ANN.

I read the same warning in your column three more times over the years.

Yesterday I read a small item in our local newspaper. A 7-year-old girl, who had been missing for 12 hours, was found dead in an abandoned icebox stored in the basement of a playmate's home. During a game of hide and seek, the child had crawled into the icebox, was trapped, and eventually died of suffocation.

Abby, will you please warn your readers again? It may save a young life.

Halloween Theme Of Meet

Halloween was the theme of a recent meeting of the Beta Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi in the home of Mrs. James Laughlin, 4410 Erie St.

The table centerpiece was a ghost surrounded by witches, pumpkins and ghost candles. Each member present received pumpkins filled with candy.

Eight members repeated the opening ritual. Two guests attending were Mrs. Benny Sides and Patty Buchanan.

It was announced a letter from Suzie Young of Girlstown, U.S.A., was received, thanking the chapter for the clothes sent to her by Mrs. Mike Williams, corresponding secretary. A letter from Joann Gardner, convention chairman, was also received, thanking the chapter for the work done during the BSP convention held recently in Midland.

Linda Johnson, service chairman, reported the chapter will usher today at the Midland Community Theatre.

Future plans were made for upcoming socials. The Harvest Ball is scheduled Nov. 9, while the bake sale in Dellwood Plaza Mall is set for Dec. 7, and Dec. 14 is the date for the progressive dinner.

Miss Johnson presented the program on "Environment, Health and Play." Mrs. Mickey Pepper was the recipient of the hostess gift.

The next meeting of the chapter will be Nov. 4 in The Midland National Bank and will be a citywide session.

Bulb Program Given For Club

Newcomers Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. Richard Van Laere recently. Mrs. Calvin Allen was co-hostess.

The meeting, attended by 25 members, was conducted by the president, Mrs. Jay Holm. Mrs. Ronald Hall reported on cards and note paper being sold by the club. The yearbooks were distributed by Mrs. Reg Lyle.

The program, "Introduction to the Underground - Bulbs," was presented by Mrs. Tom Wilmeth. She discussed selecting bulbs, the time to plant bulbs, choosing a location, preparing the soil, the care of bulbs and forcing bulbs.

Wants No Wheels At Her Wedding

DEAR ABBY: I am being married soon. My fiancé's favorite brother, who asked to be our best man, has just undergone his third operation. He will be out of the hospital in time for our wedding, but he'll be in a wheelchair for several months. My fiancé insists that his brother be in the wedding party wheelchair or no wheelchair.

Abby, there will be over 500 people at the wedding and reception. I'm having a professional photographer take pictures of the whole thing — even movies — and I just know that wheelchair will ruin everything. Imagine, the best man going down the aisle in a wheelchair! I'm afraid people will laugh.

Please don't get me wrong, Abby. I love my future brother-in-law and am sorry for what he's had to go through, but I think someone else should take his place as best man. Am I wrong for wanting everything to be perfect?

PHOENIX BRIDE
DEAR BRIDE: If by "perfect" you mean an appearance over the feelings of your fiancé and his favorite brother, you are indeed wrong.

A best man in a wheelchair (or for that matter, ANY member of the wedding in a wheelchair) is not unique in the annals of wedding ceremonies. And it's not apt to be laughed at.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 13-year-old girl I'm writing this for my brother (he's 12) and myself because we both have the same problem. It's our father.

He refuses to take a vacation. Dad says he can't spare the time. He's in the insurance business and he makes a good living, but what good is the money if he works himself to death? Mom is a housewife. We live in a nice home in the suburbs, have two cars, nice clothes and my brother and I go to a good camp.

Mom and Dad haven't had a vacation together since they've been married. Other families take a vacation every year. All our dad knows is work. Is there some way we can get him to take a vacation?

We're not asking for a trip ourselves. We'd be happy if he took Mom and went someplace for a rest. Can you solve our problem?

U.S. Marine Band at White House

Marine Band To Perform Here Two Times Saturday

Since John Philip Sousa took the U.S. Marine Band on its first national tour in 1891, this world-famous musical organization has toured a section of the country each year, rotating the tours to various geographical areas so the largest number of people might see and hear "The President's Own."

The band will be in Midland Saturday for performances at 1 and 8 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Bicentennial Commission of Midland.

Two West Texas musicians are listed on the roster of the touring company. They are James Cunningham of Big Spring, who plays alto saxophone, and Albert Johnson of Kermit, who plays trombone.

The concerts will be presented in Lee High School Auditorium. Admission to the matinee is $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for students. Tickets for the evening concert are $3.00 for adults, and $2.00 for students.

The band will present separate programs at the two concerts, but each will feature a blending of the stirring Sousa marches with popular and serious music. Composers whose music will be presented in the afternoon include Russell Alexander, Leonard Bernstein, Jimmy Dorsey, Tschakowsky, Burt Bacharach, Rimsky-Korsakov, Leroy Anderson and John Denver.

The evening concert, which will present a longer program, features Sousa marches and works by Verdi, Gerald Kechley, Johan Svendsen, Rimsky-Korsakov, Paul Hindemith, Prokofiev, Berlioz, Ruggiero Leoncavallo and Rheinhold Gliere.

Both concerts will feature solos by concert moderator Michael Ryan, baritone, as well as other musicians in the band.

The tour band is under the direction of Capt. William Rusinak.

The band's annual tours are completely self-supporting and at no expense to the government. The Bicentennial Commission is sharing in the overall cost, with substantial assistance from Midland's financial institutions and public utilities. Proceeds in excess of expenses will be used for the operation of a parttime Bicentennial office in Midland to coordinate projects and events locally for the two-year Bicentennial celebration.

GOP's Doug Harlan Opposes Slaughter

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Republican Doug Harlan, candidate in the 21st district congressional race, says he agrees with ranchers who oppose slaughter of calves.

"I have talked with many ranchers about this subject," said Harlan, who opposes Democrat Bob Krueger and Ed Gallion of the American Independent party. "All of them have expressed their opposition to it."

Harlan said he opposes a proposed calf slaughter in East Texas and is disappointed in the slaughter which already has occurred in Wisconsin.

Ranchers feel "and I strongly agree," said Harlan, "that it is an improper way to dramatize a very real and serious problem. It will mean lost revenues, and has no guarantee that they will accomplish their objective."

Lulu's Life Right Side Up Now

LUFKIN, Tex. (AP) — The life of Lulu, the fat girl on the "Hee Haw" television program, was upside down, as she relates it. Drugs were the cause. But she tells you that it's right side up now.

The reason? Bertha Louise ("Lulu") Roman says it wasn't her professional success as a fat comedienne on the country-western show that did it. It was her turn to Christianity, she declares.

During a recent gospel businessman's rally in this East Texas city, she described herself as being "a year-and-a-half old in the Lord."

Before, her life was filled with narcotics. Police followed her, trying to arrest the 28-year-old for possession of drugs.

Police Succeeded
And police succeeded, Miss Roman was arrested in Dallas on several charges involving drugs.

She bore an illegitimate child because the baby's father wouldn't marry her. And after her last arrest, the producers of "Hee Haw" were notified the show would lose air time if Miss Roman were arrested again. She left the show.

"I used drugs for about 12 years," she said in an interview here. "It all began because of insecurity more than anything else. I was always the fat kid on the block that nobody ever talked to."

Miss Roman graduated from high school in Dallas with honors. Then she went to work for a telephone company but didn't keep the job long. "They fired me because I had such a filthy mouth," she said.

Her next job was as a dancer in a Dallas nightclub.

Needed Money
"They paid me a dollar for every pound I weighed. That was about $300 a week and I needed the money to support my drug habit," Miss Roman said.

She was "discovered" for "Hee Haw" at the nightclub. Buck Owens was a regular on the show.

Miss Roman said, "He asked me to be on the show. 'Hee Haw' that was supposed to be a country and western take-off on 'Laugh-In.' He was interested in getting a fat, dumb chick for the show."

Miss Roman had other problems. "I was living with a man because I didn't believe in marriage. When I found out I was pregnant, he walked out."

Used All Drugs
She had used every drug from marijuana to methedrine or "speed" and continued to use speed during her pregnancy.

"I used it the whole nine months I was pregnant and six months afterward," Miss Roman said. "It crossed my mind that my baby might be deformed, but I vaguely remembered my doctor telling me that heroin would cause deformity but that speed wouldn't."

After her son, now 22 months old, was born, Miss Roman's doctor told "me that my baby had a respiratory disease like President Kennedy's son that died. He told me there was no hope."

That night Miss Roman confronted God—"bargained with him" as she put it.

"I told God that if he saved my baby's life, I would do anything He wanted," she said. "I was shaking from head to toe and that was the first time I ever tried reaching out for God."

The baby's health improved but she reverted back to drugs. "I had a child to support, couldn't pay my rent and someone stole my car," she said.

That was when police arrested her for the last time and she left "Hee Haw."

Noticed Difference
Soon after the arrest a friend from Miss Roman's earlier drug days visited her. "I noticed there was something different about her," Miss Roman said. "She had this kind of glow about her."

The friend asked her to attend a service at Beverly Hills Baptist Church in Dallas.

"I went to talk to the pastor and told him all the reasons I shouldn't be saved," she said. "I cussed him up one side and down the other and told him about my drug habit and my illegitimate baby."

"Every time I gave him a reason that I shouldn't be saved, he would just say, 'Let Jesus take care of it.' She did, she said, and her life has been right-side-up since.

About three months after being converted to Christianity, Miss Roman began telling others how her life had been changed.

Still unemployed, Miss Roman went to California to appear on a religious television program. "I went by the offices of 'Hee Haw' just to share with them what had happened to me," she said. "I didn't expect to be rehired."

She said the producers and staff "couldn't believe I didn't use one cuss word," Miss Roman said.

The producers asked her to come back and she is in this season's shows.

Meanwhile she formed a corporation in Dallas with a board of advisers to help her with the witnessing trips she makes. The board helps her with any business problems that crop up and makes appointments.

"Saved To Serve," the corporation's name, pays for a business and personal secretary, Miss Roman's personal secretary, Virginia Widner, said.

"The group that asks her to speak for them pays all the expenses to and from Dallas and there during the time we're there. Then a 'love' offering is taken, which pays the salaries of the secretaries. The rest goes back into the business for buying equipment and stuff like that."

During the gospel rally at Lufkin, she sang two songs. "Before I was saved," Miss Roman said, "I never carried a tune. 'Hee Haw's' first show of the season starred her singing 'How Great 'Thou' Art.'"

The Midland Reporter-Telegram AMUSEMENTS

Composition Scholarship Contest Set By Baylor

WACO — The Baylor University School of Music has announced its 1975 Composition Scholarship Contest, open to any student who is now a senior in an accredited high school.

The winner of the competition will receive a $500 scholarship to the School of Music, subject to regular admission to the university as a composition major.

Winning the composition scholarship will not make the contestant ineligible for further financial aid from the university.

In addition, the winning work will be considered for public performance at the School of Music.

No restrictions are placed on performance medium or length of the submitted works, but all entries should be of recent date and should reflect seriousness of musical purpose.

Each contestant may submit as many as three compositions, which should be accompanied by a letter containing names of the submitted works, the composer's name and address, the name of his high school and a brief summary of his musical background and activities.

All entries must be received by Jan. 31, 1975, and the winner will be notified by Feb. 15, 1975.

The contest will be judged by a panel of Baylor faculty members, chaired by Dr. Richard Willis, composer-in-residence.

Sufficient postage should be included with each entry as all manuscripts will be returned.

In the case of ensemble works, full scores rather than performance parts should be sent.

All entries and inquiries should be addressed to Dr. Willis, School of Music, Baylor University, Waco 76703.

There are 27,343 grains in a dram.

Oilmen Warned Against In-Fighting

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON (AP) — The chairman of the American Petroleum Institute says in-fighting among oilmen is strengthening the risks of greater governmental restrictions and interference.

"There simply is no commonality of understanding within the industry on many of the basic issues facing our nation in an energy deficient era," Charles E. Spahr said Thursday.

"We have the option of wasting our fire within our own ranks, or concentrating that fire on the long range issues that face us."

Spahr, board chairman of Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, spoke before the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

"The longer we delay the united attack, the more vulnerable we become to being destroyed one by one," he said.

"As long as we remain fragmented, policy will be formed by others and we may find ourselves, as has already happened this year in many legislatures, subject to greater restrictions and further governmental interference," Spahr said in-fighting over oil's 22 per cent depletion allowance is causing the public to conclude that the tax provision could be eliminated without causing price increases.

"It is true, in the short run, some companies would be little affected by the elimination of percentage depletion," he said.

"Other companies, and especially the independents, would be adversely affected, particularly by the loss of availability of outside wildcatting money directly attributable to the less favorable taxing position of potential investors. Moreover, it has been estimated the loss of the percentage depletion feature would result in a very noticeable added cost to the consumer."

Spahr said some company spokesmen have suggested the loss of depletion could be accommodated in the petroleum industry.

"Almost invariably they have qualified their remarks with meaningful conditions that would have to exist in order that the loss could be offset by marketplace recovery," he said.

"Unfortunately, what is left in the public mind is the suggestion, while the important qualifications are forgotten, and the public concludes the removal of the provision would 'close a loophole' without raising costs."

Spahr said solutions to the nation's energy problems require leadership from energy industries.

"Our voices, to be heard effectively, must be heard as parts of a whole solution and not as plaintive pleas for solutions to individual problems that may do violence to the legitimate interests of others," he said.

Police-Citizen Seminar Set

Interested Midlanders may attend a Midland College-sponsored seminar in police-citizen communication next week in an effort to acquaint the public in the Police Department's structure, officer qualifications, training, pay and promotions.

Sponsored in cooperation with the Midland Police Department the seminar will be held 7-9 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday in Lee High School's room 444.

Policemen attending the course, entitled "The Midland Police Department and You," will be acquainted with the regional police academy and specialized department units such as the detective and juvenile divisions.

Presentation of a typical police day will be included, along with response time to calls and reactions from the public. Also featured will be the department's crime prevention unit.

A panel composed of police officers and their wives will be present for the seminar to discuss a policeman's thoughts and opinion, why they quit and evaluation of dangers involved.

A film, "What's a Cop?" will close the final session.

Program coordinator is Larry Lee, head of MC's department of law enforcement education. Police Chief Harold Wallace and Assistant Chief Wayne Gideon aided in program planning. Among the panel members will be Inspector Tommy White, Lt. Michael Brown, Capt. Sid Corley, Lt. Clyde Spaulding and Sgt. Fred Johnson.

Person wishing to pre-register for the seminar may dial MCI 694-1686, Ext. 54.

Meat Industry Spokesman Sees Record Consumption

DALLAS (AP) — A meat industry spokesman says 1974 should be a record-breaking year for meat consumption in the United States, even though consumers say they are buying less.

"That meat is moving mightily cheap compared to producing it," said David Stroud, president of the National Livestock and Meat Board. "Today's newspaper is showing some substantial reductions compared to six months ago."

Stroud said consumers may be buying less meat for the home, but people also are eating out more, which ordinarily would keep meat consumption up.

Stroud, in Dallas Thursday for the annual Newspaper Food Editors Conference, criticized the slaughter earlier this week of several hundred calves in Wisconsin.

"If it was a public relations move—to bring notice to their plight—then it was a major blunder and attracted negative reaction," he said. "It was an unfortunate error and involved needless waste."

Stroud said the effort by the National Farmers Organization to attract attention to skyrocketing feed prices and low livestock prices resulted in near "manipulation of the tv camera by a news source, which wasn't a source until it became aware of the tv camera."

He said the calves ordinarily are slaughtered with no publicity if a cattleman finds he cannot afford to raise the animal at a profit.

"The Wise and Funny Things Kids Can Teach Us About Religion" is the title of a feature article appearing in the current issue of Family Weekly, the magazine section included each Sunday with The Reporter-Telegram.

Other features include: "It's Martha Mitchell, Planning a Book! And Here's What She'll Write About;" "Some Surprising Things About Happiness;" and "Kirk Douglas: Is Hollywood's 'Feistiest' Star Finally Mellowing?"

"Two Make-Ahead Soups for Easy Serving" is the "Smart Cooking for Tired Cooks" topic.

District Firemen's Convention Stated Saturday At Kermit

KERMIT — Several area communities will participate Saturday in the Permian Basin District Firemen's Association Fall convention to be held at the Kermit Fire Station, with registration set from 9 a.m. to noon.

Among the communities in the district are Crane, Fort Stockton, Gardendale, Goldsmith, Kermit, Lamesa, McCamey, Midland, Monahans, Odessa, Pecos and Wickett.

The program will include business meetings at 10 a.m. for the firemen in the Kermit Community Center and for the ladies auxiliary in the Community Church fellowship hall.

Both groups will participate in memorial services at the Community Church's fellowship hall at 1:30 p.m.

Races are set to begin at 2:30 p.m. on the north side of Winkler County Park, with prizes to be awarded winners in each category.

A barbecue on the south side of the park is scheduled for 6 p.m., followed by a dance at 9 p.m. in the Community Center. Registration fees will be $3 per fireman, $2 for ladies and guests and $1 for children under 12.

Presidents of the association and auxiliary are Jim Webb and Vessie Croker.

Everybody is talking about how much of a must game this is for the Midland Bulldogs, but Abilene High feels a victory is just as imperative to its title hopes when the District 5-4A rivals tangle in the Purple Pack's Homecoming game at Memorial Stadium at 8 p.m. today.

In fact, Midland, 4-1 for the season, and Abilene, 3-2, have precisely the same records in district, each having lost to Odessa Permian and defeated Big Spring.

If either harbors any title aspirations down the final half of the campaign neither can afford a toe-stubber tonight.

Midland's tough-fibred defense that has yielded only 111 yards total offense per game and a punishing and relentless ground attack, however, gives Coach John Reddell's Purple Pack an edge on paper.

But John looks at Abilene's speed in the defensive secondary and shudders. "That could turn things around in a hurry."

Schools Athletic Director Shorty Lawson, to take charge.

Feldts is a better runner and a good split end. Lawson is the better passer. Midland probably will get a look at both before the night is out.

Abilene won't have to guess what Midland will run at them from the Wishbone. Fullback Mike Gaddy, the league's No. 2 rusher, will pound the inside with the threat of Kim Madden or Mike Hudspeth to the outside to keep them honest. The Bulldogs have been known to cut loose with as many as two passes a game and could throw that many tonight in an effort to keep the Eagle secondary loose.

The Bulldogs have won the last two games between the two teams. In 20 previous games, it was a long space between sips at the well, the Bulldogs winning 6-0 in 1964 and 7-6 in 1960. And along the way there was enough heart breaking late hour defeats to (Continued On Page 12A)

Hogs, Horns Fight For SWC Survival On National Video

AUSTIN (AP) — The winner of the Texas-Arkansas game Saturday doesn't get a ticket punched to the Cotton bowl-only the right to survive in the wildest Southwest Conference race in years.

Baylor, Southern Methodist and Texas A&M own the only unscathed SWC ledgers at 1-0.

Texas, the winner of 31 consecutive games in Austin and six consecutive titles, and the perennial runnerup Razorbacks each own a conference loss. No team has EVER lost two SWC games and made the trip to the Cotton Bowl as the host team.

The nationally televised match between the 16th ranked Horns and the unranked Razorbacks will draw a crowd of some 68,000—some 10,000 short of capacity. That would mark the first time since 1960 the game hasn't sold out.

Texas is a nine-point favorite in the game at Memorial Stadium in Austin.

Baylor is idle while the eighth-ranked Texas Aggies are 27-point favorites to maul hapless Texas Christian at College Station.

SMU is a seven-point pick over Rice as the Owls open conference warfare in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas.

Ags, SMU Seek 2nd League Wins; Tech Faces Arizona

Texas Tech, trying to rebound after a 28-7 thumping by Texas A&M last week, gets a non-conference toughie at Lubbock in ninth-ranked Arizona.

The oddsmakers favor the Red Raiders by four points.

Houston, playing an independent schedule before its 1976 SWC debut, is a three-touchdown choice over Villanova in a game in the Astrodome.

Arkansas comes into the Texas game after suffering a heart-breaking 21-17 loss to Baylor. Texas lost 16-13 to No. 2 ranked Oklahoma as the Horns came close to pulling off the upset of the year.

Arkansas' Ivan Jordan gives an excellent insight into the Texas-Arkansas game although both teams have suffered their bumps this year.

Jordan says "This game is really going to be a battle because we were both beaten last week. We've each got something to prove to the other."

ston said "The pressure isn't just on us. It's on A&M and Baylor and everybody. I think you can go to any Southwest Conference game any Saturday and see a good football game."

In the last 16 meetings between Texas and Arkansas, the winner has gone to the Cotton Bowl. In 1971, the loser—Texas—went. This year the loser gets a cozy spot by the fire-side on New Year's Day.

"It doesn't really make any difference whether you win or lose the week before the Texas game because no matter what — it is still the Texas game."

Texas linebacker Wade Johnson said "The pressure isn't just on us. It's on A&M and Baylor and everybody. I think you can go to any Southwest Conference game any Saturday and see a good football game."

AGAINST NY NETS— Moses Makes ABA Debut

By The Associated Press

Moses Malone, pro basketball's first teen-age millionaire, makes his heralded debut tonight when the American Basketball Association launches its eighth season.

In other ABA opens tonight, the new Spirits of St. Louis will entertain the Memphis Sounds, San Antonio will be at Indiana, and Denver at Kentucky.

The 6-foot-11 Malone, expected to be brought along slowly by Bucky Buckwalter, the Stars' new coach, speeded up the timetable with some outstanding play during the exhibition campaign, and might start against the Nets.

"He's really big and he figures to be one of the best rebounders in the league before long," said Rod Thorn.

Dodgers Have Everything... Including Humility

Dick Green
... fielding stand-out

OAKLAND (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers brought out the best in the Oakland A's. As it turned out, the best was good enough to win the 1974 World Series.

"They needed a little humility," said Sal Bando, and the A's gave it to them by whipping the Dodgers 3-2 Thursday night to win their third straight world title, this one in five uneasy games.

The season ended officially when Oakland relief star Rollie Fingers collared pinch-hitter Von Joshua's bleeding grounder and hopped in joy as he threw out the runner.

Actually, the Dodgers were dead but didn't know it when they popped off against the A's before this bizarre Series started.

They called the A's doubtful champions, even though they had won two straight baseball titles.

"After they beat Pittsburgh in the (National League) playoffs, the Dodgers said they weren't impressed by us," said Joe Rudi, who hit the winning home run Thursday night.

"Well, they have all winter to think about it."

Reggie Jackson, the most emotional of all the dynamic

A's, wouldn't gloat over the obviously sweet victory. But you got some idea how he felt when he announced: "We're the champs... I don't have to say anything more."

What the Dodgers learned from the 1974 World Series is that you don't give the A's a break and expect to get away with it.

In the first game at Los Angeles, the Dodgers outthrew the A's 11-4, but the A's outscored the Dodgers 3-2. Jackson homered for the A's, and they got their winning runs on a squeeze bunt by Bert Campaneris and an error by Dodger third baseman Ron Cey. Fingers throttled the Dodgers with some great relief pitching before 25-game winner Jim "Catfish" Hunter came in to get the last out.

Another 3-2 score resulted in the second game at Los Angeles, but this time the Dodgers were the winners. Joe Ferguson hit a two-run homer for the National League champions and fumbled Jackson's 15-foot bouncer in front of the plate. Bill Buckner and Willie Crawford hit home runs for the Dodgers, but they came too late.

The omnipresent Fingers saved the victory for Hunter. As you might expect, the A's were outhit by the Dodgers 7-5 but Oakland still found a way to win.

Pitcher Ken Holtzman, who hits as well as he pitches in World Series play, unloaded a home run in Oakland's 5-2 victory in game No. 4.

Jim Holt, hitless in 25 pinch-hitting appearances during the regular season, delivered a two-run single to key a four-run sixth inning that broke the game open. The tireless Fingers bailed out an Oakland starter once more.

That set the stage for Thursday night. Movie star Rock Hudson threw out the first ball — and the A's picked up the same, tired script.

"We never win them easily," said Oakland second baseman Dick Green, the defensive star of the Series.

Vida Blue, still looking for his first World Series victory, was given an early lead but couldn't hold it. A Dodger error set up Sal Bando's sacrifice fly in the first inning, then Ray Fosse hit a mistake pitch from Dodger ace Don Sutton into the left

Fingers Named MVP

Rollie Notches Win And Two Saves

OAKLAND (AP) — If you were casting a 1930s movie serial, Rollie Fingers and his carefully cultivated handlebar moustache would be perfect for the villain.

And if you were casting a World Series for the Oakland A's, the man you would want warming up in the bullpen is Fingers, who has a way of showing up on the mound when the A's are about to win World championships.

The sinister looking right-hander earned an automobile as Most Valuable Player in the World Series, winning one game, saving two others, and appearing in all four Oakland victories over Los Angeles. It is no coincidence that the only game Fingers didn't pitch in was the one the Dodgers won.

The world championship was the third straight for the A's. They won in seven games in 1972, seven in 1973 and five in 1974. That's 19 baseball games. In 16 of them, Fingers has come out of the bullpen. There is just so much rubber in any pitcher's arm and Fingers admitted that the constant work was beginning to take its toll as he worked against the Dodgers in the final two innings of Thursday night's championship-clinching game.

"I was getting tired," he said. "The back of my arm hurt so I couldn't get a breaking ball over. I only could get my fast ball over."

In the eighth inning, Fingers tried a breaking ball on Dodger slugger Joe Ferguson, who sent the ball soaring towards the left field seats — but well foul. "He hit the pitch nine million miles," said Fingers. "I threw it away after that."

Before the game, A's pitching coach Wes Stock sidled up to Fingers and asked how his arm felt after two straight days of work. "I told him I had a few innings in it," said the reliever. "That was all Stock and Manager Alvin Dark needed to hear. With the score tied at 2-2 and the game moving into the late innings, Stock told Fingers to get ready. "He told me that I'd be pitching if we scored one run," said Fingers.

Sure enough, the A's got that run on a first-pitch homer by Joe Rudi against Dodger's bullpen ace Mike Marshall in the bottom of the seventh. That was the signal for Fingers to start warming up.

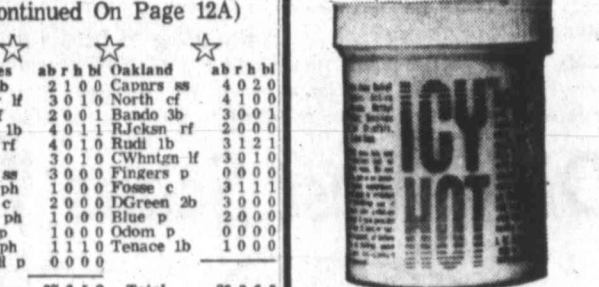

After Ferguson's foul drive in the eighth, Fingers sailed into the ninth, needing only three more outs to nail down the World championship. He got them in a hurry.

Ron Cey flied deep to Reggie Jackson in right field. Then pinch-hitter Willie Crawford popped up. That brought up Von Joshua, the Dodgers' last hope.

Fingers overpowered the Dodger pinch-hitter and Joshua tapped meekly back to the mound. Fingers gloved the ball and half-ran, half-hopped his way toward first base before finally tossing to Gene Tenace for the final out.

WITH TRIP TO PROVO— UTEP Kindles Grid Hopes

EL PASO (AP) — Life has not squads, however, should get been kind to the have-nots in well this weekend. For example, Texas-El Paso, 1-4 over-Except the two Arizona schools, all and 1-1 in the WAC, jour- the other six WAC teams have just five victories among them. Two of those suffering league will go undefeated this season."

The Cougars unleashed their potent passing game for the first time this season against Wyoming last week as quarterback Gary Sheide completed 20 of 28 passes for 263 yards and two touchdowns. The 38-7 victory marked the first time the Cougars have put together an effective offense with their conference-leading defense, and that could spell trouble for the rest of the WAC.

UTEP, which has lost three in a row following its 34-7 rout of Utah, is led by the conference's No. 4 rusher, freshman

Mike Belew, who is averaging 95 yards a game.

Wyoming, which had little success defending Sheide last week, must contend with the nation's leading passer Saturday in New Mexico's Steve Myer. The Lobos will be looking to generate some offense after scoring just 24 points in their last three outings.

"The key to helping our running game is getting our passing more wide open," ASU Coach Frank Kush says, so his Sun Devils have been concentrating on the passing game. It's likely to be a long afternoon for the Utes.

BOWLING

Midland Lanes saw some good bowling in the His & Hers league Monday as Jack Francis, league secretary, rolled a 229-211-203 — 643. The oddity about the series was that Jack did not have one open frame.

Other noteworthy scores in the league were Carmen Boyce 205-546; Rick Beasley 598; Mark Baker 220-524; Lucy Williams 551; Ben Wehrich 558; Ray Foster 568.

The moon must have been right Monday because the same night over at Super Bowl, Clarence Lovell rolled a 257 on the way to a 648 game in the Oil Stars League and J. C. Harrison wasn't bad either, rolling 211-236 — 628. A week earlier, same league, Charles Lacy scored impressively with 246-208-205 — 659.

In the Major league, Rich Gray had a 248 while Lacy scored a 247 and Rike Tipton had a 244.

Marlen Derby rolled a 238-565 in the Texas Tornado and Nelda Teer had an all-spare 188.

'Superior' Nationals Keep Streak Going

Well, to the despair of the Emily Post segment of the baseball world, the unloved, unwanted, unwashed Oakland A's are the champions of the world again. They did it by beating the team that had made a shambles of the National League race with stunning suddenness.

It took only five games to dispatch the Los Angeles Dodgers. On paper it looked like a cinch to the three-time world champions, who heaped insult upon injury by winning although wallowing in a dreadful batting slump that plagued them through the final month of the American League season and lingered on into the Series.

The A's aren't popular champions, but there's no arguing that it's a colorful ball club and we suppose the passage of time will bless their unsavory reputation with a hue of respectability.

Really, the A's with their brawling internal feuds and fights, the open criticism of manager and owner are a chip off the old Gas-house Gang Cardinals of the 1930s. The difference is that they've failed to catch the public's fancy, perhaps because they are baseball orphans.

Oakland fans really don't claim the team, except during the fall classic, and owner Charles O. Finley has yanked every string at his disposal in an effort to alienate what sparse fan support the A's manage so that he can justifiably petition to move to one of the new domed stadiums somewhere.

Strange, isn't it. The roistering, ribald A's of today are the offspring of the old Philadelphia Athletics, managed by the prim, proper and starch-collared Connie Mack for some 50 years.

Believe it or not, the players addressed the manager as "Mr. Mack."

Battle Scene

By Ted Battles

Mike Marshall gets the ink as the best relief pitcher in baseball, but the A's won because Rollie Fingers is even better. Anybody ever remember a World Series game that Fingers wasn't around at the finish?

Everyone keeps claiming the National League is superior, but somehow the American League continues to win the World Series. The A's victory makes it five out of the last seven and one of those National League victories was classified as a startling upset.

Of course, the Dodgers are young and should be back. Let's hope so. They have the kind of eager enthusiasm and verve to play that should make them popular champions with the fans.

Just one more thing. It happened in the eighth inning of the final game and probably is a graphic illustration of the difference between the major league baseball player and their uncouth pro football counterpart.

Jimmy Wynn fouled a ball into the dirt in front of the plate. He reached over, picked it up and handed it to the umpire. A pro football player would have waited until the umpire stooped over to pick it up and would have kicked it out of his reach down the third baseline . . . and what's more, would have gotten away with it. Come to think of it, if it had been an Oakland A, he might have kicked it too.

Boasting Buckner Series Goat

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland A's, celebrating another baseball world championship today, beat a Los Angeles Dodgers club they considered "tense and nervous."

The A's remember the feeling well. "In 1971, we made the playoffs for the first time and Baltimore beat us in three straight. Since then, we've played up to our ability," team captain Sal Bando said after Thursday night's 3-2 victory which ended the World Series.

The three-time world champions needed only five games to finish off the Dodgers, although they batted a meager .211 as a team and won three of their games by 3-2 scores. The A's have taken nine one-run decisions in three World Series.

Los Angeles was the pre-Series favorite and when the Dodgers fell behind 2-1 after the third game, outfielder Bill Buckner said of the A's: "I think if we played them 162 times in a season, we'd win 100 times."

The newspaper quote, read in the A's clubhouse Wednesday night by owner Charles O. Finley, had its stinging effect but was nothing new.

"No one has been impressed by us," said Joe Rudi, whose seventh-inning homer off Los Angeles relief ace Mike Marshall provided the run that won the fifth game and the Series.

Reggie Jackson called the National League champion Dodgers "a good club, but I don't think they played up to their capabilities. They seemed tense and nervous."

At times — mostly the wrong times — the Dodgers were daring.

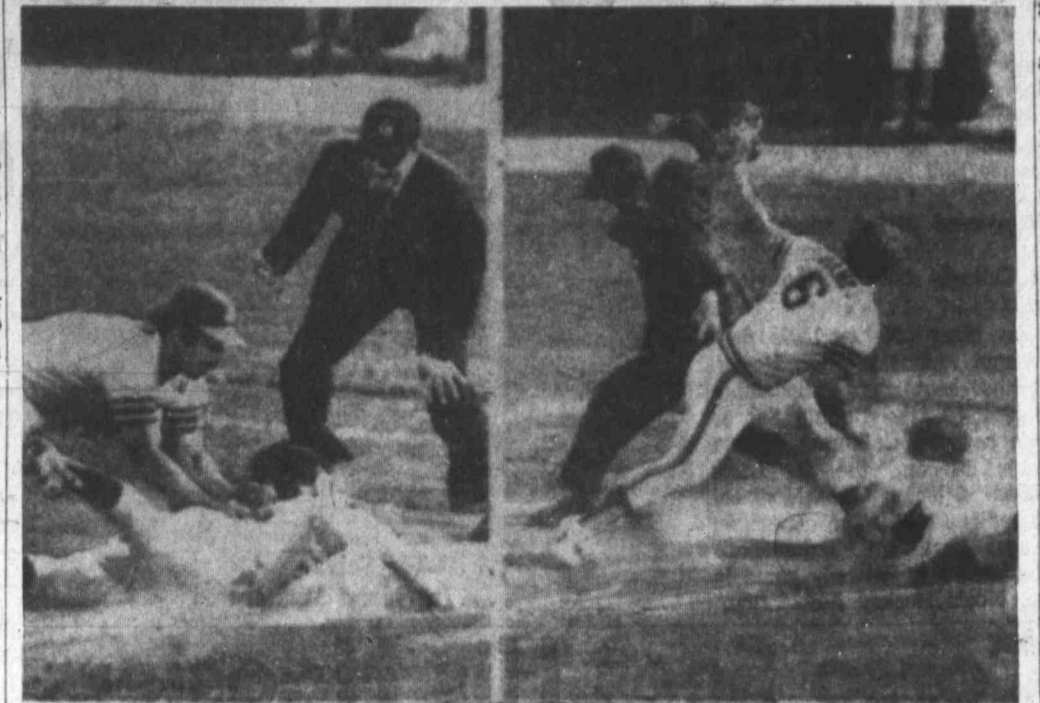

The quotable Buckner singled to lead off the eighth inning Thursday night and tried to reach third when the ball squirted past center fielder Bill North. He was out when Jackson, backing up North, fired the ball to second baseman Dick Green, who made a perfect relay throw to Bando.

"It wasn't a lucky play," said shortstop Bert Campaneris. "Reggie and Greenie were both in the right position and made great throws. That's why we're champions."

Crowning Touch Reliever Rollie Fingers, with the help of the play, went on to shut out the Dodgers over the final two innings, the crowning touch that earned him the World Series' Most Valuable Player award.

Fingers was the Series' pitching star, Rudi and Campaneris led the A's batsmen with six hits apiece and Green stole the show in the field.

The 33-year-old second baseman, who probably will announce his retirement from baseball a third time this winter and then run up Finley's long-distance phone bill as he ponders a return, participated in a record six double plays against the Dodgers. At bat, he was 9-for-13. "I'm just a fringe ballplayer on a great team," said Green, who soon will be collecting a $28,000 World Series check.

THIRD BASE PLAY ENDS LA HOPES—Bill Buckner of the Los Angeles Dodgers is out at third trying to stretch his eighth inning single. The play ended the Dodgers' hopes in the final game of the World Series. Third baseman Sal Bando makes tag and umpire Bill Kundel calls the play. (AP Wirephoto.)

A's Leave Dodgers In Daze

OAKLAND (AP) — The fact that the Oakland A's needed only five games to win the World Series proved particularly galling today to the defeated Los Angeles Dodgers.

"They beat us fair and square but I didn't think that we'd get beat in five," admitted first baseman Steve Garvey, the Dodgers' star of the Series.

"In this Series, we never did play the game of accomplished, solid ball that we played all year."

Fans Rowdy Oakland fans came in for sharp criticism from outfielders Bill Buckner and Jimmy Wynn. Before the A's seventh inning in Thursday night's clincher, they threatened to walk off the field when Buckner was nearly hit by a liquor bottle.

"I was hit in the back of the head by an apple earlier," he said. "I can't say much for those fans. They can't be real baseball fans or they would show up more during the season."

Manager Walt Alton added: "I don't think Buckner minded those things you flip (frisbees) but when they started throwing bottles, it was different."

Rudi Homer "We talked to the umpires and if it had continued, we would have taken the players off the field."

On Mike Marshall's first pitch following the six-minute delay, Joe Rudi hammered the game-winning home run in the 3-2 triumph.

Neither Alton nor catcher Steve Yeager thought the delay had much influence.

"Marshall is a veteran," said Alton. "All he could do was stand there and wait. I doubt that the wait had anything to do with what happened next." And Yeager said Marshall threw a good pitch, a low inside fast ball.

Takes Experience Alton, proud of his young team that won the National League pennant, explained the World Series defeat in part by saying: "They've never been there before. There's a certain part of this game you can't get from talking. There are a few things you have to get on the playing field that nothing but experience will give you."

"No one has to be ashamed," said Wynn. "They wanted a pennant in Los Angeles and we gave it to them. Everybody did a great job and I'm proud."

"We scored two runs and that's not enough to win a ball game or a World Series. We thought we were a much better hitting ball club but we just couldn't play our game and execute the finer points."

The Dodgers lost three times 3-2 and once 5-2.

Old Pro Aaron Posts 65 To Lead Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Old pro Tommy Aaron has a 65 on the board, but it's the next two days that will tell the tale.

"I've had some 65s before this year, but I've always managed to mess it up," the slumped, 37-year-old veteran said Thursday after his seven-under-par effort set the pace for the first round of the $125,000 San Antonio-Texas Open Golf Tournament.

"I need to get by the next two rounds," he said. "I'd sure like to go into the last round tied for the lead, or even leading alone. That'd be a good feeling."

It's a feeling Aaron hasn't had in a long time. He's won only $31,000 this season — his poorest in a decade — hasn't taken a tournament since his Masters triumph more than 1 1/2 years ago and hasn't really challenged this season.

Greenwood Cagers Ready

GREENWOOD — Greenwood High School will open its basketball season with a tripleheader tonight against Westbrook at the Greenwood High gym.

The JV game will tip off at 5:30 p.m. and the girls and boys varsity games will follow.

Last year's girls team went to the regionals before losing and the entire team returns this year, so hopes for a successful season are high. Transfer of the always-strong Bronte team out of the district also gives the boys basketball outlook a boost.

FACE COOPER TONIGHT— Rebels On Road

The Midland Lee Rebels left one thing in mind and that is losing streak to the Abilene Cooper Cougars in P. E. Shotwell Stadium tonight.

Kickoff is set for 8 p.m. with the Cougars celebrating their homecoming, needing a victory to get back into the torrid District 5-4A football race.

While Lee and Cooper meet in the headliner, Midland High's Purple Pack takes on the Abilene Eagles and they will be celebrating homecoming in Memorial Stadium. Midland takes a 4-1 season mark into the game compared to the Warbirds' 3-2 reading while the Pack is 1-1 in loop play, the same as Abilene.

Odessa's Bronchos journey to San Angelo to help the Bobcats celebrate their homecoming. San Angelo stands 4-1 and 1-1 while OHS is 2-3 and 0-2.

In the other 5-4A battle, Odessa Permian (5-0) and (2-0), takes on Big Spring in W. T. Barrett Stadium in Odessa. The Steers are 2-3 and 0-2.

Lee faces a new-found ground attack of Cooper with tailback Scott Ritchey showing the way. Ritchey rushed for 257 yards last week against Odessa in the Cougars 28-12 win over the Bronchos.

The Rebels also have a stout ground attack with Milton Jones, Blain Murray and Mike Oliphant paving the way.

Lee is coming off a big 21-7 victory over San Angelo and shares first place with Permian and is undefeated in five games. Cooper, meanwhile, stands 4-1 and 1-1.

Junior varsity action is set for Saturday with the Lee JV taking on Cooper at Memorial Stadium at 1:30 p.m. while Midland travels to Abilene to meet the Eagles at the same time.

Swimmers Compete In Amarillo Meet

AMARILLO — The City of Midland Swim Team began competition today in the Amarillo Invitational A and B Swimming Meet. The meet is a three-day affair.

COM has 103 competitors entered in the meet, making the Midland delegation the largest COM squad to ever make a trip out of town.

Capitals Break Expansion Ice

By The Associated Press
The Washington Capitals won the National Hockey League's expansion derby Thursday night by defeating the Chicago Black Hawks 4-3 on Jack Egers' goal at 8:46 of the third period.

The Capitals, playing before a home crowd of 9,471 at the Capital Centre in Landover, Md., thus became the first of the two NHL expansion clubs to win a game this season.

The other new entry, Kansas City's Scouts, have a 0-3 record while Washington is now 1-2-1.

Capitals Coach Jimmy Anderson called the victory "a reward for hard work," then thought of a lasting benefit: "Now they know they can do it, so if the guys don't win more,

Jazz Opens On Sour Note

By The Associated Press
There won't be any Mardi Gras type celebrations for the New Orleans Jazz yet.

The Jazz' debut in the National Basketball Association But, coaches Red Holzman of New York and Scotty Robertson of New Orleans agreed that the Jazz will soon be marching to a different tune.

"I think they will be a good ball club," offered Holzman. "They will be better when they get everybody back," he added, referring to absentees Neal Walk, John Block, Rick Robertson and Mel Counts, all sidelined with injuries.

Vic Seixas Joins Grand Masters Tournament Field

Vic Seixas will compete in the Racquet Club Grand Masters Tournament (RCGHT) to be held at The Racquet Club Oct. 25, 26, & 27. At age 50, Seixas is perhaps the most youthful looking of all the grand Masters.

Seven years ago, at 43, he defeated Australian Davis Cup player, Bill Bowery, 28, by the scores of 3-2, 6-4, 10-8 in the sixth longest singles tennis match ever played.

He has won the most Davis Cup matches of any American (55) and the most Challenge Round matches (20) except for Bill Tilden. Seixas is a member of the National Lawn Tennis Hall of Fame. His numerous titles include Wimbledon Singles, U. S. Singles, U. S. Doubles (twice), U. S. Mixed Doubles (three times), U. S. Clay Court (twice), U. S. Clay Court Doubles (twice), U. S. Indoor Doubles (twice), U. S. Senior Senior Doubles (twice), Bobby Riggs.

San Jacinto Rally Falls Short, 28-24

Alamo Scarlet, Goddard Red and Goddard White posted victories Thursday afternoon in seventh grade football action.

Scarlet took a 28-0 lead over San Jacinto Green and then withstood a four TD outburst to take a 28-24 victory while Goddard Red blasted San Jacinto White, 38-0 and Goddard White took a 24-8 win over Alamo Grey.

Goddard Red stays on top of the standings with a 4-0-1 mark while Goddard White is next with a 4-1-0 mark.

supply a long-running soap-opera series for years.

Abilene is young with seven juniors on offense and six more starting on defense, but in his first season at the Abilene helm, Shipman has generated renewed enthusiasm in the Abilene program and it's a team that should improve as the season wears on.

Midland's lone loss was a 6-3 defeat at the hands of Permian while victories have been registered over Amarillo (Tascosa, Eastwood, Lubbock Monterey and Big Spring, 21-0), Abilene (Sweetwater, Temple and Big Spring, 12-0), and lost to Permian 24-0.

Corso Sees His Hoosiers In Upset... Of Buckeyes?

By The Associated Press
Lee Corso believes his Indiana team, a 44-point college football underdog Saturday against Ohio State, has a chance of upsetting the top-ranked Buckeyes.

"I wouldn't be much of a football coach if I didn't think we could beat them," said Corso, whose Hoosiers match a 1-4 over-all record against Ohio State's 5-0 mark in the Big Ten game.

But Corso admitted it will take a perfect set of circumstances for visiting Indiana to gain a surprise victory in Columbus, Ohio.

"We will have to play a game with enthusiasm," he said, "and not let Ohio State upset us, take our poise away."

Corso said it would take a less than average Ohio State performance for the Buckeyes to lose for the first time in 17 games.

In other key games Saturday, it's No. 2 Oklahoma at Colorado; No. 3 Michigan at Wisconsin; No. 4 Alabama at Tennessee; Georgia Tech at No. 5 Auburn; No. 6 Southern California at Oregon; Army at No. 7 Notre Dame; Texas Christian at No. 8 Texas A&M; No. 9 Arizona at No. 17 Texas Tech; and No. 10 North Carolina State at North Carolina.

The Buckeyes share a Big Ten Conference-leading 2-0 record with Michigan and Illinois. Indiana is 1-1 in the Big Ten.

Woody Hayes admits getting the Buckeyes ready for Indiana may be a problem after demolishing tough Wisconsin 52-7 a week ago.

Hayes has fought overconfidence with a hard week of practice.

"It's easy to soften people by letting them have too much comfort," he said.

The Ohio State-Indiana game matches Big Ten individual leaders in both passing and rushing.

Area Grid Races Fire First Salvos

Three area districts waded into loop warfare tonight for the first time while the remaining two districts enter week three of loop competition.

District 6-A opens at three sites today with loop favorite Rankin taking on winless Wink while Balmorhea hosts Iraan and Clint travels to Marfa.

District 7-AA has two key games on the slate with the Reagan County Owls hosting Ozona and Crane trekking to tough Sonora. M c C a m e y draws the open date.

In District 5-A play, Stanton's Buffaloes, the league favorite, is open while O'Donnell hosts Plains and Shallowater hosts Seagraves.

District 2-AAA has already had two weeks of action in district competition and league leading Monahans will host winless Odessa Ector in an important battle while undefeated Pecos tangles with Fort Stockton at home. The key contest, however, features a survival battle in Kermit where the Yellow Jackets take on the Seminole Indians. Both squads are 1-1 in loop play.

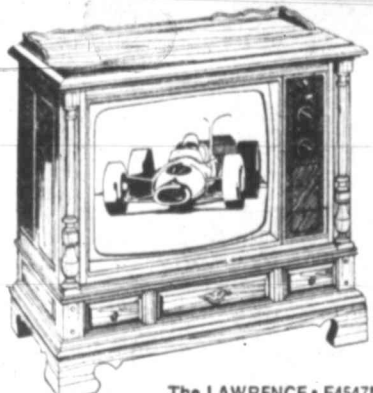

It's also an important week in District 3-AAA where Snyder travels to San Angelo Lake View in a battle for sole possession of first place. Both stand at 2-0 in district play.

In other 3-AAA action, Lamesa (0-2) will host Lubbock Dunbar (1-0) while Sweetwater (0-2) plays host to Brownfield (0-1). Lubbock Estacado (1-1) draws the open date.

field seats for a 2-0 Oakland lead.

It stayed that way until the sixth, when the Dodgers tied the game with the help of their two best run-producers of 1974.

Jimmy Wynn hit a sacrifice fly and Steve Garvey singled in the second run and the Dodgers pulled even with the A's at 2-2.

This quieted the capacity crowd of 49,347 fans at the Oakland Coliseum for a while — but they didn't stay that way for very long.

In the next inning, Rudi parked an inside fastball from Marshall into the left field seats. The massive electronic sign in left field lit up "JOE" in 90-foot letters, green and gold A's pennants sprouted from the concrete stands and, as the crowd noise peaked, fireworks went off.

The dramatic home run came after a game delay of six minutes. A fan had thrown a bottle on the field and Wynn, the Dodgers' center fielder, collected it and threw it to the sidelines with disdain. The Dodgers had a conference with the umpires about the possibility of pulling their players off the field, but decided that the situation was not quite that critical.

U.N. Chief Says World's Political Climate Better

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim says the political climate of the world is better now than it has been for two decades, despite serious regional conflicts and economic problems.

Waldheim told visiting journalists from the World Press Institute that the improved atmosphere largely is due to cooperation between the world's big powers, a policy he feels will continue.

"The big powers know very well that a new worldwide confrontation would be detrimental to all of them," he said. "This gives me the impression that we won't have worldwide confrontation in the next years or the near future."

Waldheim said that one regional problem that persists in the Middle East. He said the General Assembly's decision Monday to hear the Palestine Liberation Organization reflects recognition of the PLO's role in efforts to solve the Middle East problem.

On Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's recent trip to the area and related efforts there by the United Nations, Waldheim said he hopes the efforts would bring about renewed Geneva peace talks to work out a solution.

The secretary-general warned, however, against over-optimism. He said, "Many more efforts and a lot of good will on all sides" will be needed to produce an agreement.

"I can only hope we will be able to achieve a breakthrough leading to lasting peace in the area. . . . Otherwise, I feel the situation will be critical again next year," Waldheim said.

In other disputed areas, Waldheim noted that the rival sides on Cyprus are meeting generally, once a week to iron out their problems.

But he regretted that fighting has continued in South Vietnam despite the cease-fire signed in Paris more than 20 months ago.

Welfare Payments Will Be Reduced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thirty-five states and the District of Columbia have been told they will receive $43.5 million less in federal funds than they had requested to pay welfare recipients during the last half of this year.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare announced Thursday it was reducing its matching grants by $61.7 million for the remainder of the year to prod states into weeding out ineligible welfare families and eliminating over-payments.

James Dwight, administrator of HEW's Social and Rehabilitation Service, said the new get-tough welfare program had saved state and federal taxpayers $71 million during the first six months of 1974 and should do even better the second six months.

During the first half-year, 37,500 ineligible families had been cut off from the Aid to Families with Dependent Children, he said.

Although that was a modest reduction, in light of the 10.7 million men, women and children receiving $8 billion in AFDC payments annually, Dwight predicted bigger gains in the months ahead.

Cuba Frees 4 Americans

MIAMI (AP) — He had just been freed on $25,000 bond and still faced charges of stealing an airplane, but after four years in a Cuban jail Richard Peter Johnson stood on U.S. soil and said, "I'm a free man again."

Johnson was one of four Americans returned to this country from Cuban prisons as a good will gesture following a recent visit to Cuba by two U.S. senators.

"It's good to be back in the greatest country in the world," Johnson said Thursday as he hugged his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Johnson of Walnut Creek, Calif. "We've got four years to catch up on."

Johnson's reunion with his parents at the federal courthouse followed a scene at the airport in which he was arrested by waiting FBI agents and his father engaged in a brief scuffle with the agents.

Clifford Johnson was physically restrained by the FBI agents and prevented from reaching his son.

"After four years in hell you're making me go through this," the father shouted. "It's a vicious, wicked thing for our

Seminole Youth Attains Regional Star Farmer Rank

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The top awards in the Future Farmers of America were presented Thursday night to Vernon L. Rohrscheib of Fairmount, Ill., and Ronald D. Schwerdtfeger of Capron, Okla.

The two young men each got $1,000. They were chosen from among regional winners. The other candidates included: Regional Star Farmers—Wayne E. Vangraetschepe, 21, New Raymer, Colo.; John Roland Moyer, 21, Newmanstown, Pa.; and Larry Thomas Day, 20, Seminole, Tex.

1,042 Objectors Due Release Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 1,000 conscientious objectors who are satisfactorily performing civilian service in place of military duty will receive early release from their work obligations by Thanksgiving, Selective Service Director Byron V. Pepitone says.

Pepitone said Thursday that the release program parallels the early discharge that the Army is offering its remaining draftees.

A total of 1,042 conscientious objectors will be released from Selective Service supervision at midnight Nov. 22, Pepitone said.

"After that, any further work is between them and their bosses," he told a reporter, adding that he thought many will keep their jobs voluntarily.

Saturday Morning Bricklayer

My neighbor Marty is a certified public accountant. He is also an assistant scoutmaster. And treasurer of the Civic Association. Hard worker for local charities. And—oh yes—Marty is a Saturday morning bricklayer. He can build a mighty fine wall to set off that patio he put in last summer.

You'd think that a man so capable and versatile wouldn't feel dependent on anybody or anything. Not so.

It is usually the folks like Marty—the ready, willing and able ones—who are first to recognize their spiritual needs. Nor are they ashamed to admit their dependence on God—and His Church. You'll hear Marty and his wife give credit to their religious beliefs for the strength of their marriage and for the ideals that inspire their family life.

In fact, it's Sunday morning, rather than Saturday, when they do their most important building. How about joining them at church time?

Gospel Meeting Scheduled Here

The Golf Course Road Church of Christ congregation will be host to evangelist George Bailey of Dallas for a series of gospel meetings next week.

The evangelistic series will begin Sunday and continue through Friday night at the church, 3500 W. Golf Course Road.

Sunday services will be at 9:30 and 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. Weekday services will begin at 7:30 p.m. All services will be open to the public.

Mr. Bailey has been preaching for many years and is in wide demand for evangelistic meetings such as those planned here next week. He is a former minister of a church at Abilene and now is minister of Preston-Crest Church of Christ at Dallas.

Revival Services Slated Next Week

Dellwood Baptist Church will hold revival services next week.

The Rev. Bill Merrell of Duncanville will be the evangelist for the special emphasis. He will be preaching at 10:45 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday, and at 7:30 p.m. next Monday through Friday, said the Rev. Jerry Allen, host pastor, who extended an invitation to the public to attend the services. The church nursery will be open. Dellwood Baptist Church is at Midkiff Drive and West Ohio Street.

The guest evangelist, a native of Oklahoma, is a student at Dallas Baptist College.

Names Of Candidates For Diaconate Announced

SAN ANGELO — Names of candidates recently selected for the Permanent Diaconate of the Roman Catholic Diocese of San Angelo have been announced by the Most Rev. Stephen A. Leven, bishop of the diocese.

Thirty-five men, including several from Midland and surrounding area, were selected to begin a two-year training program which will prepare them to become deacons in the Catholic Church. The training

Hise To Speak At Unitarian Services Sunday

Brig. Gen. Henry W. Hise (USMC-Ret.), a member of the administrative staff of The University of Texas of the Permian Basin, will address the Unitarian Church of Midland, at its Sunday morning service.

Hise will speak on the United Nations as the Unitarian Fellowship here marks UN Sunday. The service is scheduled for 10:45 a.m. and will be open to the public.

Hise has been associated with UTPB for three years, serving as executive director of development as well as teaching international relations in the Government Department. He was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps Reserve in 1942, serving in World War II, Korea and Vietnam. He was awarded numerous personal decorations during his distinguished military career. He is a native of Shamrock, Tex., and attended The University of Texas-Austin. He holds a bachelor of arts degree from Jackson College in Honolulu and a master of arts degree from George Washington University.

McBrayer To Fill Pulpit Here Sunday

The Rev. O. A. McBrayer, Big Spring District superintendent of the United Methodist Church, will be guest preacher Sunday morning at St. Mark's Church, 1701 N. Main St.

Mr. McBrayer is a former pastor of St. Mark's. The Sunday service, scheduled to begin at 11 a.m., will be open to the public, said the host pastor, the Rev. Caleb Hildebrand.

Special Musical Presentation Set

The choirs of First Baptist Church will join in a special musical presentation Sunday evening in the sanctuary.

The combined ensembles will present a new musical work, "Alleluia," in the 7:30 p.m. Sunday worship service. The public is invited to attend without charge.

"Alleluia," composed by the contemporary gospel writing team of Bill and Gloria Gaither, includes such songs as "Something Beautiful" and "The Old Rugged Cross Made the Difference." The musical's theme reflects on Christ's birth, His life, His sacrifice on Calvary and His triumphant resurrection. The work in its presentation here Sunday evening will feature soloists from both and youth and adult choral groups of First Baptist Church.

Midland Teacher To Represent Group

Mrs. Faye Morgan has been selected by the Texas Vocational Cosmetology Teachers of the Public Schools to represent that organization's District I.

Mrs. Morgan, who teaches cosmetology at Midland High School, will be in contact with area cosmetology teachers and write a column for the association's newsletter.

Russian Bread Supply Short

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's bread supply is coming up a million tons short this year. But the bread commissar says that's all right because Russians are losing their appetite for it anyway.

There is a trend toward more foods such as meat and vegetables, and the Soviet consumer is enriching his diet with more non-starches, said Voldegar Lein. His formal title is minister of food industry.

There is a greater demand for variety, he said. The famous Russian black bread, cherny khleb, is losing a bit of its mystical grip on the northern populace. And Lein told a news conference that rather than plain white bread, "the people want more rolls and buns."

Black bread is made with rye, and white bread with wheat — a grain that has become a priority staple in the Soviet Union. After a disastrous crop in 1972, the Soviets bought 440 million bushels of wheat from the United States and recently contracted for another 34 million bushels. The Ford administration this month halted shipments of wheat plus 91 million bushels of corn.

Lein did not mention wheat purchases or the status of this year's Soviet grain crop, but he said planners made a "good mistake" by over-targeting bread production for next year at 20.6 million tons.

"Instead, they will make one million tons less," Lein announced cheerfully. He didn't say why. He gave a hint, however, by pointing out that per capita consumption of bread went from 328 pounds in 1971, the first year of the current five-year plan and the year before the wheat crop disaster, to 315 pounds this year.

Lein said, "Some of our comrades say that wheat bread is much better than rye bread," apparently referring to other officials in the government. "But I think this is not correct. We should eat more rye bread."

Russians have traditionally attached healthful attributes to black bread. They consider it more nutritious than white and an aid to digestion.

In recent years, less attention has been given to rye. Soviet production of rye has decreased by half since 1960, and six times more land is used to grow wheat than rye. One reason agricultural experts give for this decline is that the per-acre yield from wheat is almost twice as great as that for rye.

Nevertheless, a loaf of white costs about 36 cents in Moscow, and a loaf of black costs about 21 cents.

Population Analyst Says Americans May Have To Buy Moving Rights

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Americans one day may have to buy rights to move from one city to another, a population analyst predicted Thursday.

"The day seems to be approaching when we must seriously ask who gets to live where," said Dr. Peter Morrison of Santa Monica, Calif.

A system to control the movements of Americans may become necessary as more communities adopt the philosophy of limiting their populations and growth, the Rand Corp. scientist told the National Symposium of Law and the Environment at Gonzaga University.

Cities like St. Petersburg, Fla., have tried to limit population increases by adopting ordinances to require newly arrived migrants to leave, he said. But the courts have struck down ordinances of this type on grounds citizens have a constitutional right to live where they please, Morrison said.

But he predicted a time when cities may sell settlement permits, perhaps calling them "place of birth medallions."

"Anyone who wants to move to, say, Boulder, Colo., has to pay the going price for a Boulder medallion. After the move he may want to thwart as many other like-minded migrants as he can, but he'll have to pay a price to do so by buying up quantities of Boulder medallions on the market," Morrison said.

Communities could limit the influx of outsiders by controlling the number of available medallions, he said.

"On the other hand, a city that wants to grow a bit more — say Tulsa, Okla. — could vote to increase the number of Tulsa medallions made available nationally," he said.

New Gallup Poll Shows Pessimism On U.S. Economy

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — More than half of the nation's citizens believe the U. S. economy is heading toward a 1930s-style depression, and almost 70 per cent believe the economic situation will worsen in the next six months, according to the latest Gallup Poll.

Gallup surveyed 1,527 persons aged 18 and older Sept. 27-30, nine days before President Ford said that the country was not in a recession and called on the public to help fight inflation.

Responding to a question about a possible major depression, 51 per cent of those polled said they thought one was coming, 41 per cent said they did not and 8 per cent had no opinion.

On the economic situation for the next six months, 69 per cent predicted it would worsen, 11 per cent said it would stay the same, 15 per cent said it would improve and 5 per cent had no opinion.

Two Latin American Countries Moving To Take Control Of ITT Subsidiaries

Two Latin American governments are moving to take majority control of subsidiaries of International Telephone and Telegraph Co., the multinational giant which once spread its business might freely about the region.

President Luis Echeverria of Mexico announced this week that his government was going to "Mexicanize" the local ITT subsidiary, and President Isabel Peron of Argentina said Thursday she was going to "Argentinize" her country's subsidiary.

The moves reflect a feeling by governments and people in much of Latin America and other developing areas that they want a greater voice in running the corporations that affect their lives.

Agreement Negotiated
Echeverria and ITT said an agreement had been negotiated under which the Mexican government would increase its participation in Industria de Telecomunicaciones, S.A., from 17 per cent to 28 per cent.

At the same time, 23 per cent of the subsidiary's stock is to be made available to Mexican shareholders, putting 51 per cent of the company under the control of the Mexican government or of individual Mexicans.

The subsidiary supplies equipment to the government-owned Telefonos de Mexico.

Since the ITT and Mexican stock series will be voted separately, the Mexican government can control the subsidiary because it will have the majority of the Mexican shares.

No Details Given
In a speech in Buenos Aires, Mrs. Peron did not give details on how her government will nationalize Standard Electric, the ITT subsidiary there, but her meaning was clear: control by Argentines.

A spokesman for ITT in New York, which wholly owns Standard Electric in Argentina, said Thursday the company had received no formal notification of the government's intentions and was unaware of any negotiations. The Argentine government announced last week that negotiations were under way for purchase of the majority interest in Standard Electric.

Symptoms Of Recession More Pronounced

WASHINGTON (AP) — While President Ford prescribes anti-inflation medicine for the economy, the symptoms of a recession are growing more pronounced. The real value of the goods and services churned out by the economy showed the third consecutive quarterly decline. The face value of the gross national product for July through September rose 8.3 percent projected at an annual rate, to $1,114.6 billion, the Commerce Department said Thursday. Yet inflation sapped the dollars of 11.5 percent of their value in the same period, so the real value of the economy's output shrunk by 2.9 percent. That left the output just slightly ahead of where it was in 1972. It was the first time since the 1960-61 recession the output dropped in three successive quarters. The most recent recession, that of 1969-70, was marked by only two consecutive quarters of decline. There are other symptoms, such as a maximum drop of 1.9 percent in industrial production so far, which are less severe than in the most recent recessions. Yet even before the latest national product figures came out, Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur F. Burns and other economists dubbed the current economic slump a recession. The administration's contention, repeated anew by Commerce Secretary Frederick B. Dent and his top economists, is that the decline in the economy's output is the product of isolated quirks. The Arab oil embargo, higher oil prices, overeager stockpiling by industry in anticipation of inflationary price increases and a home building industry staggering under high interest rates are examples. Moving Sideways "It appears to me the economy is actually moving sideways at the current time," said economist James L. Pate. "We're talking about sideways waffling," said Dent. Economists such as Lelf H. Olsen of New York's First National City Bank argue that inflation's doom already is sealed and the nation "now confronts a decidedly new situation with new and different complications." While supporting the spending programs in the President's economic proposals, Olsen said in a recent speech that the proposed 5 percent surtax "is ill-timed politically — as Mr. Ford himself acknowledged — and it is far worse timed economically."

Briscoe Declares He'll Veto Any Agency Shop Legislation

HOUSTON (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe says he'll veto any bill passed in the Texas Legislature that would produce an agency shop or repeal the so-called right-to-work law. "I've always been opposed to such legislation," Briscoe said here Thursday prior to a speaking engagement. "I've been in favor of the right to work and I'll oppose any legislation to do away with it." Briscoe has said he opposes repeal of the law, which forbids union and management to agree on a contract requiring persons to join a union as a condition of employment. Briscoe's main opponent in the November election, Republican Jim Granberry, has repeatedly charged that Briscoe is in favor of the agency shop proposal. The Texas AFL-CIO is expected to present a candidate who is against the Granberry said in Fort Worth Thursday night he was not surprised Briscoe came out with a statement that he would veto any agency shop provision. "The only reason he came out with that statement is because I forced the issue," Granberry said. "The fact is that Mr. Briscoe is a close political ally of the AFL-CIO and he is throwing out a smoke screen of right-to-work statements shortly before the election to confuse the public on where he really stands." Granberry said last spring Texas AFL-CIO President Harry Hubbard said "he had the personal assurance of Mr. Briscoe not to support right-to-work in the Constitutional Convention." Mr. Hubbard should be asked how the AFL-CIO can continue to support a candidate who is against the No. 1 goal of that organization, passage of agency shop legislation. Running On Record Briscoe said later Thursday at a reception in San Antonio that he was running for reelection on his record. The governor noted he was proud of his record and said the state was living within its income and will have a surplus this year. A higher voter turnout than is being anticipated will give him "his greatest victory ever," Briscoe said. Briscoe said the Raza Unida Party would receive substantially fewer votes than it did two years ago when that party's gubernatorial nominee Ramsey Muniz, received 6.28 percent of the vote.

President To Sign Compromise Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is in recess until Nov. 18 after breaking a stalemate with President Ford over cutting off military aid to Turkey. A compromise on a twice-vetoed money bill suspends aid to Turkey Dec. 10, or sooner if Turkey increases its 40,000-man occupation force in Cyprus or sends it any more U.S. "implements of war."

How They Voted

The compromise was worked out after the House failed Thursday for the second time in a week to override Ford's veto of a normally routine funding resolution. The Turkey military aid ban was attached to the resolution. The House vote on the veto was 161 to 83, two short of the two-thirds majority required to override. The compromise was passed by the House 191 to 23 and in the Senate by voice vote. Both houses of Congress then closed up shop for a 32-day recess until after the Nov. 5 election, when they will return to tackle unfinished business, including appropriations for several major government departments. Final action on the money resolution and the President's agreement to sign it took the squeeze off thousands of government employees who had been facing payless paydays next week. The resolution provides funding authority to operate agencies for which regular appropriation bills have not been passed. These include foreign aid programs and activities of the Health-Education-Welfare, Labor and Agriculture departments and several smaller federal agencies, legally without funds since Sept. 30. The Turkey aid rider was added because U.S.-supplied equipment was used in the invasion and partial occupation of Cyprus beginning July 20. U.S. law limits the use of American aid equipment to defensive purposes. Under the rider, the President can suspend the cutoff until Dec. 10 if he determines this action will assist negotiations between Greece, Turkey and Cyprus for a peaceful settlement of the Cyprus dispute, but only if, during that time, Turkey shall observe the ceasefire and shall neither increase its forces on Cyprus nor transfer any United States-supplied implements of war to Cyprus. Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., who said he was the author of the "implements of war" language, said it means weapons, aircraft and munitions or any other defense article used, by itself or in combination with other articles, to kill, wound or destroy.

Eight Arrested In Pot Seizure

SULLIVAN CITY, Tex. (AP) — Eight persons, including three Mexican nationals, have been charged in connection with the seizure of 1,050 pounds of marijuana by U.S. Customs agents. Federal authorities said the eight appeared Thursday before U.S. Magistrate Cruz M. Tijerina, who set bond at $100,000 each. They were held in the Cameron County jail in lieu of bond. Those arrested were identified as David Collier Wright, 27, of Dallas; Kenneth Dale Herrell, 26, of Austin; Joe Ann Kathryn Shewry, 18, of Austin; Richard P. Haller and William R. Joule, both of New Jersey, and Antonio Balandaran Milan, 29, Rogelio Hernandez Vela, 48, and Cuauhtemoc Ecobar, 31, all Mexican nationals.

Liz's Boyfriend Wynberg Accused

HUNTINGTON PARK, Calif. (AP) — Henry Wynberg, actress Elizabeth Taylor's boyfriend, faced arraignment today on five counts of grand theft for allegedly altering odometers on cars he sold. The 40-year-old Wynberg, a former used car dealer, was to be arraigned in Municipal Court here. Turning back odometers — to make it appear that used cars have been driven fewer miles — is considered grand theft in California if the car is sold for more than $200.

'Some Tough Turkey'

President Ford seemingly had his large Future Farmers of America audience with him all-the-way in his Kansas City address Tuesday night. It is likely that a majority of his national television audience also was in accord on most of the points he covered concerning the nationwide campaign against spiraling inflation.

It is hoped that members of Congress heard his message, because this is where the battle must be launched. The President is aware of the public mood regarding inflation and he was appealing to a generally receptive audience.

There is little doubt that an ever-increasing number of Americans are ready and willing to do their part to whip inflation if Congress will take the lead in cutting federal spending.

Marvin Wells of Dallas, in a recent letter published in The Dallas Morning News, had this to say concerning inflation: "It is my opinion that the best way to stop inflation and rebuild confidence in the American people is to reduce wages, salaries, commissions, prices of all goods and services 2 per cent across the board for 60 days."

"When Congress increases taxes, then reduce its wages another 2 per cent above all others; this should apply to all city governments, county, state and school officials and all federal government employees."

"These very people are the ones who have got us into all this mess by raising taxes, then their salaries. I think they are the ones who should pay."

There is no doubt that Mr. Wells' proposal on reducing everything, so to speak, would go a long way toward whipping inflation. And it may take this and more. But the big question is, are the people willing to pay the price?

Mr. Ford is in order in calling on the American people to volunteer in the battle against inflation — now that he again has called on Congress to do the same thing.

The answer to the whole business is self-discipline and sacrifice on the part of the people — and the government.

President Ford, in his Kansas City address, outlined a 12-point program which he said would help fight inflation if adopted by workaday Americans. That's us — and each one of us should take his program to heart, study the suggestions one-by-one, and put into practice as many of them as we possibly can — even to the point of self-sacrifice.

Think about it!

'There Now - See How Clothes Make The Man?'

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: Kissinger controls U. S. foreign policy.

WASHINGTON — For the last five years, U. S. foreign policy has been almost totally dominated by one man—Dr. Henry A. Kissinger. Inside sources, with secret documents to back up their story, have told us how he has manipulated the diplomatic strings.

Throughout the Nixon years, Kissinger steadfastly maintained to inquiring reporters that he never recommended policy to the President unless his views were solicited. He merely presented "options," he vowed, and left it to the chief to make the decisions.

It was said President Nixon would retire to the solitude of the Lincoln sitting room or to his secluded office in the White House annex, where he would pore over his options. After much agonizing and scratching on yellow legal pads, he would emerge and announce his momentous decisions.

This is not, according to our sources, how it happened. They say Kissinger seldom failed to give the President his personal recommendations and Nixon seldom failed to take the advice. As a former Kissinger associate put it succinctly: "Nixon agreed with Henry on the things he knew about, and he trusted Henry on the things he didn't know about."

The pattern was set early in 1969 when Nixon gave the National Security Council staff a pep talk. After a few general remarks, according to several eye witnesses, he nodded toward Kissinger. "Henry and I are going to end the war," the President said, with a sly smile. "We want you fellows to take care of the rest of the world."

Our sources say Nixon then launched into a furious and vulgar assault on the State Dept. Foreign policy was going to be handled by the White House, he declared, and not by the "striped-pants faggots" at Foggy Bottom.

There was a collective gasp from the two dozen NSC staff members. President Nixon, with his penchant for saying the wrong thing at the wrong time, had forgotten that the majority of his audience had come to the White House from the foreign service.

Thereafter, Kissinger set up his own private State Dept. in the basement of the White House, where he directed every aspect of the decision-making machinery.

He presided over the National Security Council, which determined overall policy. He controlled the supersecret Committee of Forty, which plotted covert activities. He also headed the Washington Special Action Group, which assembled to manage crises.

The secret minutes show that Nixon seldom attended these crucial meetings but waited for Kissinger to fill him in. The two men conferred together frequently.

Usually, a series of "tabs" followed on plain white paper. These took up specific issues, expressed in blunt, candid language. Each tab contained "approve" and "disapprove" lines.

The crowning touch would come when Nixon called in his Cabinet or other associates to brief them on his foreign policy decision. As he spoke to them, he invariably consulted a "talking points" paper prepared, of course, by the ubiquitous Dr. Kissinger.

Kissinger's personal memos and talking papers guided Nixon on the Vietnam War, the invasion of Cambodia, the South Vietnamese invasion of Laos, and scores of other initiatives around the world.

Our sources could recall only one major issue on which Nixon vetoed Kissinger's recommendations. That was the decision to bomb Hanoi and mine Haiphong Harbor in May 1972. In that instance, Nixon overruled all of his chief advisers, including Kissinger.

Kissinger's domination of foreign policy has continued into the Ford Administration. Indeed, President Ford had scarcely been sworn in before he assured the world that Henry Kissinger would stay on. Like Nixon before him, Ford leans heavily on Kissinger for foreign policy guidance. Our sources say, in fact, that Ford has not overruled Kissinger yet.

FOOTNOTE: Kissinger has some brilliant diplomatic achievements to his credit, including temporary peace in the Middle East, detente with the Soviet Union and reapproachment with mainland China. But there also have been a few disasters, such as the India-Pakistan war, Chile, Cyprus and the aborted "Year of Europe."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY (Newspaper Enterprise Association)

No series of articles on obligatory falsecard plays would be complete without today's hand. In one form or another, to be sure of his contract against any 3-1 or 2-2 break and to make seven if West had started with a three to the queen. A very careful South would play low from dummy. This would give up any play for seven but would insure success of the slam against the presence of all four cards in the West hand. So, you are West. You know South is a careful player. You know that if you play the eight, nine or 10 he will duck in dummy and pick up the suit the next time around. You play your queen.

South should still play low, but will he? Thirty points is 30 points and he just may play the ace or king and wind up in the ash can.

The bidding has been: West 1♠, North 2♠, East 3♠, South 4♠ N.T. Pass 6 N.T. Pass Pass. Opening lead—10♦.

You, South, hold: ♠AK43 ♥A2+Q4 ♦KQ87. What do you do now? A—Just bid six spades. Your partner may have the right cards for seven but it is unlikely.

TODAY'S QUESTION Instead of showing one king your partner has bid six hearts over your five notrump to show two kings. What do you do now? Answer Tomorrow

TOM TIEDE 'I'-Motivation Versus Nation's Common Good

WASHINGTON (NEA) — If the ultimate lesson of Richard Nixon's presidency was that Americans court disaster when they place their destinies in the hands of one man, there is nothing to suggest the lesson has been learned. Barely two months after Nixon's departure, here we are again, 210 million of us, looking desperately to his successor to find a way out of the troubles we are in.

If this truth weren't so serious, we could chuckle at the irony of it. In 25 years as a congressman Gerald Ford voted on more than 4,000 bills, none of which he authored. He may be a good and decent fellow, as his trumpeters never cease to remind the subjects, but his brilliance as an imaginative pathfinder has small history.

If we face up to it, the nation's material problems may be aggravated by a more serious national spiritual problem. Inflation is not Public Enemy No. 1, citizen dependency is. Americans have lost their grit. Where once the country defeated crisis by common effort, today it simply looks to Washington for help.

To his credit, President Ford recognizes this. His speech to Congress concerning the economy was not so much the outlining of a program as a plea for the resurrection of the American spirit. "Unless every able American pitches in," he said, "Congress and I cannot do the job." The words are the wisest on democracy since Gandhi said that good government is no substitute for self government.

But how will the people respond to this admonition to help themselves? The optimists think affirmatively. George Romney, for instance, former governor of Michigan, believes the ability of the nation to roll up its sleeves is not dead but only dormant. He says government has so meddled in the lives and livelihoods of the people that the self-help spirit has suffered degeneration. "But it's still there."

Romney recalls the spirit fondly. During World War II he served on the Automobile Production Board, one of many voluntary private agencies which then acted as liaison between wartime needs and industrial capabilities. "Hitler told his people what to do, but they didn't always do it. Over here we decided what to do ourselves and we did it. This was one of the advantages we had in that fight."

Now chairman of the National Center for Voluntary Action, Romney believes the self help advantage can be readapted for the current battle. He says there are some 45-million Americans who regularly volunteer to help their neighbors or nation, and there's "no reason" why they and others can't mobilize to help the economy too.

The Romney thought is nice, but it may be unrealistic as well. Men always have found it easy to be governed, as columnist Max Lerner has written, "what is hard is for them to govern themselves." The recent past indicates Americans seldom take action unless it is mandated action. No doubt due to the government meddling Romney mentions, citizens seem to feel that if something isn't law it isn't anything.

Moreover, the mood of the times, with its risks and confusions, tends to pull people asunder for singular pursuit rather and bring them together in common effort. The sentiment these days is not what's in it for us, but me. Everyone wants to get his — the farmer, the trucker, the consumer — and when they don't they slaughter their herds, or block the highways or boycott the stores in protest. To hell with the common good, as a dairyman has said, "I'm worried about No. 1."

There is no argument that this "I"-motivation trend is folly of the most dangerous sort. The price of citizen disunity is further government intervention. What people won't do for themselves, officials will do for them, usually badly.

Therefore, despite the odds, the hope is Americans will rally

TIMELY QUOTES

"One has to wonder how firmly based the First Amendment really is in the American mind when one gets dozens of letters saying, three cheers to the Russian networks for pulling the plug on smart-aleck reporters from the United States." — Richard S. Salant, president of CBS News, referring to incidents during President Nixon's 1974 visit to Moscow when American correspondents were cut off the air.

The Country Parson By Frank A. Clark

"People who aren't courteous to their inferiors have none."

RALPH NOVAK The Beggar's Opera: Updated By Columnist

NEW YORK (NEA) — Everyone was surprised to see Rockford Nelsefeller standing on the corner selling pencils because everyone thought he was richer than just about anybody. "What's happening, Rocky?" a friend asked. "Are you running for something again and just doing your plain folks act?" "Look," Rocky answered impatiently, "I'm just down here trying to pick up a few extra dollars for however much it is. You know how tight Gladly is about my allowance."

"Oh, come on, Rocky. Why don't you just sell New Jersey or something if you need money?"

"Why does everyone keep acting as if I was rich?" Rocky said, making his famous face that was either a grin or a grimace. "So I've got 20 or 40 or 300 million or however much it is. How far will that get you these days?"

"But what about all the money the rest of your family has?" "Boy! Thanks a trillion — or I mean, a thousand — for bringing that up. Just today I called by brother Dave to complain about how everyone in Congress is always unfairly picking on us for having so much money and influence. He said if they didn't cut it out he would buy the Capitol and make a bank out of it."

"You mean it isn't true that your family is one of the wealthiest in the world?" the friend asked. "We've always been just like the friendly folks who live in the mansion next door," Rocky said sincerely. "We work a regular 11 to 2:30 day, we get along on our 29 weeks of vacation a year, we try and make do with 17 cars, we scrimp and save to buy the kids a college and we pay our taxes just like anyone else."

"I thought I heard you didn't pay any income tax one year?" "Well, doesn't that just go to prove how poor we are? I mean, you don't know many people who make $10,000 or $20,000 a year who don't have to pay taxes, do you? You can imagine how badly off I must have been when I didn't pay any. I barely had a few measly million take home pay that year, as I recall. I think maybe that was the year we had to cash in Upper Volta just to make ends meet."

"Gee, I'm sorry I was so hard on you, Rocky," the friend said. "Why don't you give me a dozen pencils?" "Of course. That will be $7.93.16."

"For 12 pencils?" "Inflation, you know. I tell you, things are so bad, I've had to go out and look for another job. It's the application

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The Aurora Borealis, also called the Northern Lights, is a broad display of rather faint light in the northern skies at night. The auroral displays have a correlation with sunspot activity and it is thought that atomic particles expelled from the sun by the forces that cause solar flares are entrapped by the earth's magnetic field where they eventually collide with terrestrial atoms and cause the auroral glow. The World Almanac says.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES 18

TURQUOISE AND SILVER made into beautiful INDIAN JEWELRY, THE ART WORK OF THE AMERICAN INDIANS.

Would you like to become a part of this fantastic business, full or part time? Make $500 per week or more! HAVE YOUR INVESTMENT INCREASE 30% or more per year! Travel, work the way you want, the hours you desire.

THIS IS ONE OF THE BEST BUSINESSES TODAY, both working conditions and making money. It shows every indication of getting better. If you are tired of the 8 to 5 humdrum, the headaches of a normal business, have time on your hands or tired of working for someone else, then don't miss this opportunity. It knocks out OCCASIONALLY.

THE MOST $$ I HAVE EVER MADE IN 4 1/2 DAYS OF WORK AND PLAY in this business is $8,941.00, the least $532.00. You can do this or better. TURQUOISE, A PRECIOUS GEM, is becoming very scarce. Very hard to acquire in any volume.

I CAN ONLY SUPPLY a few select people with this opportunity. No chain operators, am only interested in sincere honest people who can and will perform. This is strictly cash and carry business. Age, sex, education have very little to do with this business. YOU must be a sales person, have good transportation. Necessary investment: minimum $5,000, maximum $20,000. BE WILLING AND ABLE TO WORK ENOUGH TO MAKE YOURSELF $1,250 OR MORE PER MONTH. If interested contact:

Democrats Map Plans To Override Ford's Veto Of Information Act

WASHINGTON (AP) — Key Democrats plan to press Congress to override President Ford's veto of what he brands an "unconstitutional and unworkable" bill to amend the Freedom of Information Act. The bill, overturning a 1973 Supreme Court decision in a secrecy-stamping case and closing what the measure's authors call major loopholes in the law, could adversely affect intelligence secrets and diplomatic relations, Ford said as he vetoed it Thursday.

Air Force Says Women Volunteers Fare Well In Basic Training Tests

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The Air Force says its basic training may become better standardized for both sexes if a test conducted with female recruits at Lackland Air Force Base proves valid. The 106 female recruits who volunteered for the test undertook the basic trainee confidence and obstacle course to determine how women compare to their male counterparts in terms of agility, strength, and stamina. Officials at the Air Force Military Training Center at Lackland believe it was the first time the test was conducted on such a large scale for women in any of the Armed Forces.

19 Absentee Votes Already Received For Nov. 5 Election

Nineteen absentee ballots have been cast in the first three days of the absentee voting period for the Nov. 5 general election. A total of 67 absentee ballots have been mailed to qualified out-of-town voters. Any qualified voter who will be absent from the city on election day can vote absentee. Qualified voters also may cast absentee ballots if religious beliefs, confining illness or physical disability prevent them from voting on election day.

IBM Denies Report Of Arab Takeover

NEW YORK (AP) — International Business Machines Corp. today denied reports that the computer giant might be the target of a takeover bid by an Arab consortium. In a one sentence statement issued from its headquarters in Armonk, N.Y., the company said, "We have no knowledge of any negotiations for the sale of IBM stock to any Arab consortium."

Southwestern Bell Vice President Dies

DALLAS (AP) — Funeral services will be held at 11:30 a.m. Saturday in Dallas for T. O. Gravit, a vice president of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. He died Thursday at the age of 51. Gravit was in charge of the company's far-flung Texas operations. He is survived by his widow and two sons, Michael and Patrick.

Midlander's Kin Dies At Childress

PADUCAH — William Thomas Goodgame, 77, the father of Midlander Jim Goodgame, died Thursday in a Childress Hospital. Services were to be at 4 p.m. today in the First United Methodist Church here, with interment in Garden of Memories Cemetery directed by the Norris Chapel. Survivors include the widow, a daughter, two other sons, two brothers and 12 grandchildren.

STAR QUARTERBACK MEETS POSTER STAR

JIM PLUNKETT, quarterback for the New England Patriots, receives a visit at the stadium in Foxboro, Mass., Thursday from Jamie Weaver, 9, of Spokane, Wash., the March of Dines national poster child for 1975. Jamie, born without eyes, is in the Boston area for a conference of the charity. She wears artificial plastic eyes. (AP Wirephoto.)

see if documents were properly classified. Ford argued that this would mean courts would be allowed to make what amounts to "the initial classification decision in sensitive and complex areas where they have no expertise." Moss, in a telephone interview from Sacramento, Calif., said, "I would rather trust the courts, and I think their action through the whole unhappy history of Watergate proves that we can place our confidence in the judicial system of this nation."

Veto Draws Fire

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who headed Senate supporters of the legislation, termed Ford's veto "a distressing new example of the Watergate mentality that still pervades the White House." The bill is "a major effort by Congress to insure that the public's business is carried out in public," Kennedy added, saying he will work for a veto override.

Rat Race Can Be Amusing If You're Only A Spectator

Midlanders can watch a bonafide rat race Sunday afternoon, although the participants won't necessarily be harried suburbanites with 20th Century workday woes. Sunday's rat race, scheduled to be held in Hogan Park's Simon Field, is included in the fall model airplane contest sponsored by the Midland Flying Club. The contest has dubbed the occasion the "Ukie Tournament."

'Don't Go Out With Foreigners Who Drink Champagne'—Wilbur D. Mills

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills elicited laughter and warm applause from Little Rock Jaycees in his first public appearance since the Tidal Basin incident when he advised: "Don't go out with foreigners who drink champagne." The Arkansas Democrat's car, in which he was a passenger, was stopped by park police in Washington, D.C., for speeding and operating without headlights in the early hours of Oct. 7.

H. M. Gregory, 45, Dies In California

VENTURA, Calif. — Former Midlander H. M. "Maurice" Gregory, 45, died at 1:30 a.m. Thursday of injuries received when a high pressure mud line broke while he was on an oil well location near Chatsworth, Calif., as field supervisor for Halliburton. Services will be at 11 a.m. Saturday in the Ted Mayer Funeral Home here, with interment in California.

Rain, Light Snow Sting North, East

Cool air rolling out of the North swept through the Great Lakes and North Atlantic regions today, bringing light snow and rain. An inch of snow covered Duluth, Minn., and snow flurries and showers were scattered through Vermont. Early-morning temperatures were in the 20s and 30s from the Great Lakes region to northern New England while generally clear skies and warmer weather greeted the rest of the country.

Woman Injured In One-Car Mishap

Rita Kay Hightower, 18, of 1010 S. Terrell St. was treated for minor injuries and released from Midland Memorial Hospital Thursday. She was hurt in a one-car accident about 6 p.m. Police reports show that Miss Hightower's auto was headed west in the 700 block of Cuthbert Street when it went out of control. The vehicle jumped the curb, crossed the front yard of a home at 707 W. Cuthbert St. and scraped a tree. The vehicle then went through a hedge and crossed the front yard of 709 W. Cuthbert St. coming to rest against the front of the home there.

R. R. Dickinson Dies; Rites Set

Richard R. "Dick" Dickinson, 76, of 2300 S. Terrell St., died Thursday morning at his home. Services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at Stevens Funeral Home in Coleman, with interment in Stacy Cemetery. Dickinson, a Midland resident since 1952, was a retired plumber. He was born April 12, 1898, in Brownwood. He was married March 5, 1951, to Miss Meiba Colbert. He was a member of the Church of Christ and was a veteran of World War II. Survivors include the widow; two sisters, Mrs. Mable Francis Howarth of Doole and Mrs. Marie Williams of Lake Jackson, and a brother, Wade Dickinson, also of Doole.

OIL SHOW VISITORS — More than 87,000 visitors made their way through the Permian Basin Oil Show grounds at Odessa Thursday. The two-day visitor total for the show which opened Wednesday was 167,596, according to show official Ed Durrett. More than 100,000 are expected today and another 100,000 plus are expected Saturday for the final day of the show, Durrett said.

CORRECTION

In Thursday's Reporter-Telegram in an ad for Gibson's, Igloo Ice Chests were described as 84 quart and regular 59.97 for 17.47.

This was an error and should have read as follows:

IGLOO ICE CHEST
48 quart, ..... 17.47
Regular 21.97
