

U.S. Attorneys Hit FBI Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. attorneys are complaining that the prosecution of criminal defendants is endangered because FBI investigative reports contain information which may be used to discredit prosecution witnesses.

The FBI has rejected suggestions that certain information helpful to defense lawyers should be left out of the reports. But FBI officials have promised to consider other ways of making the reports more valuable to prosecutors.

Deputy Watergate Prosecutor Chosen For Jaworski's Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Deputy Watergate prosecutor Henry Ruth has been chosen to succeed special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski, a Justice Department source says.

Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe and White House officials have chosen Ruth, and Saxbe plans to announce the appointment later this week after discussing it with President Ford, the source said Monday.

Woman Given Sentence For Killing Man She Said Helped Another Rape Her

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — A woman was sentenced to five years in prison for killing a man she said helped to rape her.

Defense lawyer Charles Gary said he will appeal the sentence handed down Monday by Monterey County Superior Court Judge Stanley Lawson.

Ruth "was really the only candidate" to replace Jaworski as head of the Watergate prosecution force, the source said.

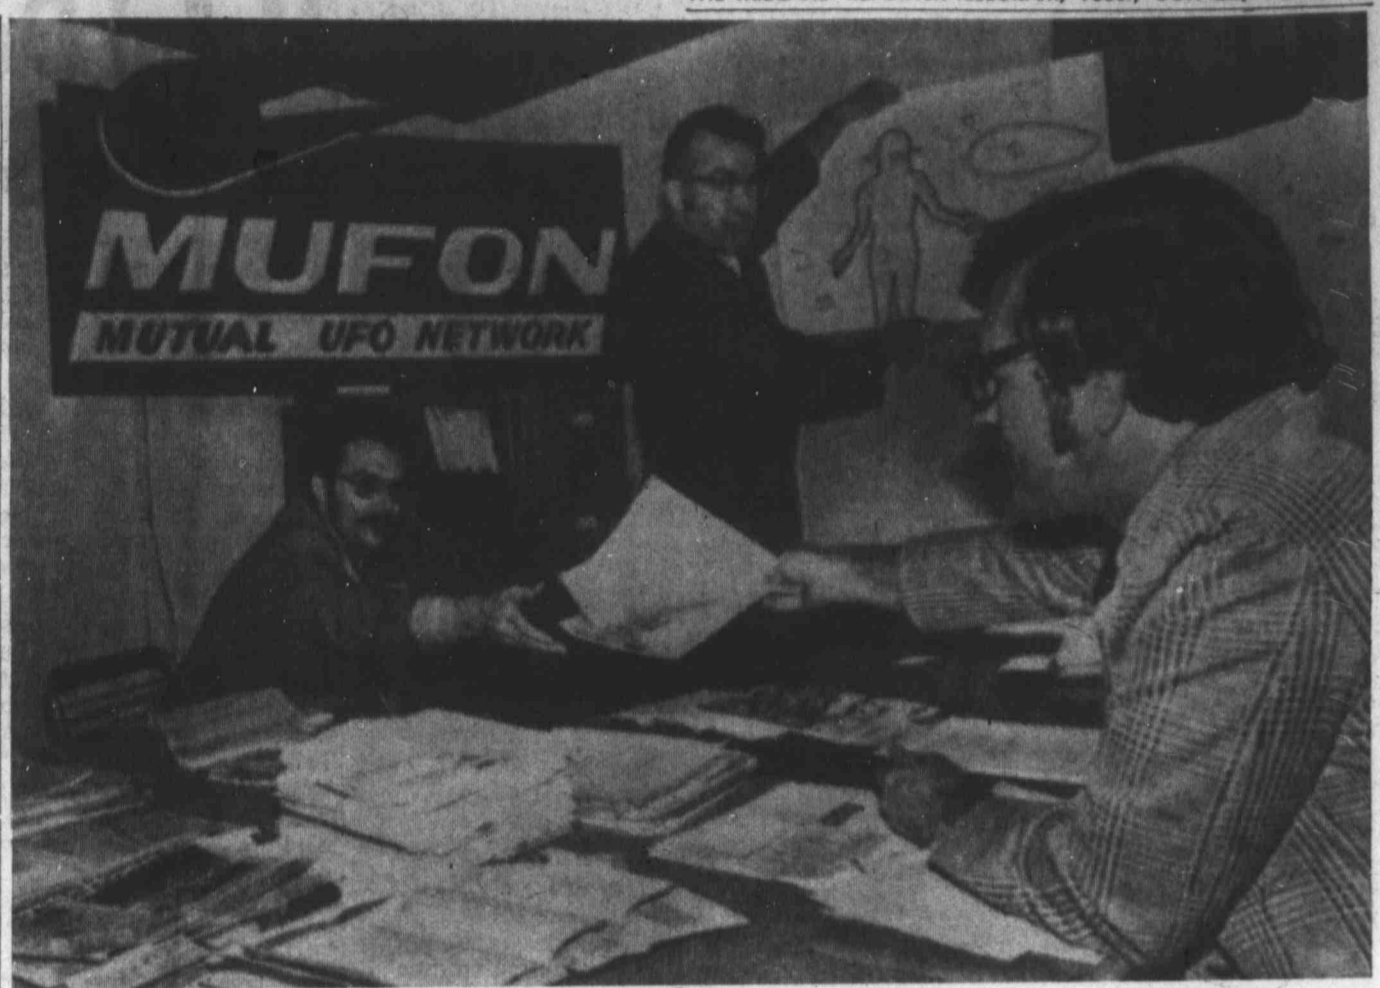

The courts increasingly are requiring prosecutors to allow defense lawyers to examine these reports.

The complaints involve the written reports FBI agents prepare after interviewing individuals summoned as prosecution witnesses.

The FBI reports include such conflicts and mistakes by witnesses. Defense lawyers may seize upon these discrepancies in an effort to convince a jury that the witness is lying or unreliable, the prosecutors said.

Some prosecutors asked that the FBI omit reports of the initial interviews and only prepare written accounts of the witness's final version of the crime, according to some attorneys who attended the session.

But he said, "This is a risk we have to take because if the public ever starts doubting that an FBI agent tells the whole truth, then we're in worse trouble."

Zoning Rewrite Proposal Tabled

The Planning and Zoning Commission Monday tabled action on a zoning rewrite for proposed special trailer and mobile home uses within the city.

George Wolf, city planner, said his department could conduct a study of the entire city using a "land use survey map" designed by urban planner Walter Ashby to designate the specific areas that would be suitable for the special mobile home zoning.

Metal Detectors Screen Students

BOSTON (AP) — Pupils walked through metal detectors Monday night at the invitation of officials cracked down on weapons inside the schools.

The detectors, like those used at airports, were placed at South Boston and Hyde Park high schools. Those schools have been the scene of the most violent outbreaks since classes began Sept. 12 under a court-ordered integration plan.

There was no immediate report of any weapons found in the searches. During the past few days, pupils have been searched by hand at Hyde Park High.

Four high school pupils from Boston were in Charlotte, N.C., to learn how desegregation works in the South.

"We're here for ideas, ideas on desegregation," said Barbara Steer, one of the pupils. "The problem is, we're not used to it."

The pupils—two black and two white—flew to Charlotte Monday night at the invitation of pupils here.

In another development, a Boston school official said the state Board of Education probably will adopt regulations today allowing the state to pay $4.5 million toward the costs of desegregation.

The prediction was made by Charles W. Leftwich, Boston's associate school superintendent for planning and budgeting, as the city started its sixth full week of busing to desegregate schools under an order from U.S. District Court Judge W. Arthur Garrity Jr.

Officials said school attendance citywide on Monday was 77.8 per cent, the second-highest this school year.

Only one major incident was reported, a fight between black and white ninth graders in a South Boston school. A 15-year-old black boy, accused of punching a white girl in the face, was suspended.

Collision Claims Crane Man's Life; Services Pending

CRANE — William B. Wink, 44, of Crane died in an Odessa hospital early today from injuries received in an accident nine miles north of Crane late Monday.

Funeral services are pending at the Easterling Funeral Home at Odessa.

Department of Public Safety officer Dempsey Bullock said Wink's car attempted to pass another vehicle on US 385 when it was in collision with a pickup truck being driven by Harry Gene Yocham of Andrews.

Wink was thrown from his automobile when it overturned after the collision. Yocham was not injured.

Wink was born Jan. 21, 1930, at West Monroe, La. He was a mechanic and moved to Crane from West Monroe.

Survivors include his widow; two daughters, Hope Lane Wink of Crane and Mrs. Sheila Williams of West Monroe; three sons, Mack Wink, William Bernard Wink and Wayne Wink, all of West Monroe.

of 14.2 per cent, up from the 10.9 per cent rate in the second quarter, the government said.

Food prices, which rose at a 3.1 per cent annual rate in the second quarter, increased at a 12.3 per cent in the third quarter as prices of meats, poultry and eggs rose after second quarter declines.

Doctor Declares Medicaid Failing

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Dr. Lorin Kerr of Washington, D.C., president of the American Public Health Association, describes the national Medicaid program as "second-rate medical care for the economically deprived."

"Many states do not have enough money to finance their Medicaid program and many states have had to cut back on such programs," he said in an interview Monday.

Counted for about a fourth of the 1.1 per cent rise in nonfood commodities. New car prices increased slightly instead of declining substantially as they usually do at the end of the model year.

Charges for most household services increased with gas, electricity and telephone rates rising. There was a rise in mortgage interest costs, reflecting earlier increases in interest rates on conventionally financed loans as well as the previously announced rate increase for VA-guaranteed loans, which accounted for more than a fourth of the increase in the cost of services last month.

Dean Testifies Mitchell Approved Watergate Break-In that before you do it because once the toothpaste is out of the tube, it's awfully hard to get it back in," Dean said he was told.

Dean described meeting Haldeman and Ehrlichman at the White House late that day, a Sunday.

When the discussion turned to what he might say about money passed to the break-in defendants, Dean testified that "Mr. Ehrlichman said you could say that was a defense fund, that it was for humanitarian purposes."

Dean said he replied, "John, I don't think I could look a grand jury in the face and say that, that's not a story that'll sell."

The prosecutor then came to a meeting Dean had with Haldeman and Ehrlichman on April 14 and said perhaps the judge might want to discuss something out of the hearing of the jury. The jury was sent from the room and Neal said Dean had drawn up a list on April 14 to show who might be indicted as a result of the Watergate matter.

Defense lawyers objected and Dean was instructed to make no mention of that list.

Dean also described efforts to have him write a report concerning involvement of White House aides in the break-in.

Asked what kind of report Ehrlichman wanted him to write, Dean replied, "a report that no one in the White House was involved."

It is expected to take most of the week for the remaining defense lawyers to finish cross-examining Dean, trying to crack his credibility as a witness.

The other three defendants are John D. Ehrlichman, Robert C. Mardian and Kenneth W. Parkinson.

During slightly more than four days testimony as the lead-off prosecution witness, Dean, testifying in the same flat, matter-of-fact manner he exhibited before the Senate Watergate Committee in June 1973, made particularly damaging assertions about Mitchell, Haldeman and Ehrlichman.

He also linked Mardian to the effort to limit the investigation of the Watergate break-in. Parkinson he hardly mentioned at all.

The prosecution supplemented Dean's testimony with the playing of tapes of five presidential conversations and a recording of a telephone conversation between former White House special counsel Charles W. Colson and E. Howard Hunt Jr., one of the Watergate break-in defendants.

The attack on Dean's testimony is likely to take many forms.

His memory for details will be challenged: the time, date, and place of meetings, who was there and what was discussed.

Far more substantive might be attacks on Dean's version of what was said in particular conversations.

When Dean testified before the Watergate committee he confused what was said in discussions on March 13, 1973, and March 21, 1973, a fact the Nixon White House used to try to discredit him.

The five defendants are charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice. In addition, all but Mardian are charged with obstruction of justice, Mitchell, Haldeman and Ehrlichman also are charged with various counts of lying to investigators.

In his testimony, Dean described conversations on June 19, 1972, two days after the break-in, with Ehrlichman, Mitchell and Mardian in which the emphasis was on getting control of the FBI investigation.

Dean told of several discussions that day and on the days following with Ehrlichman in which he kept the White House domestic affairs adviser up to date on developments.

His testimony on that point bore on the charge that Ehrlichman lied when he told FBI agents in July that all he knew about Watergate was what he had read in the newspapers.

Dean described efforts to raise money to meet growing demands from the break-in defendants and also to give them assurances of clemency.

He told of the attempt to get the Central Intelligence Agency to meet the burglars' demands and of the formulation of a false story to explain $200,000 given to G. Gordon Liddy to finance his political intelligence operation.

And, finally, Dean told of White House meetings in which Nixon joined his aides in discussing ways to contain the Watergate investigation.

He said Ray's former attorneys were guilty of a conflict of interest because of their rights to royalties from the works of author William Bradford Huie, who wrote about the case.

Ray's attorneys made a brief appearance before McRae Monday. They presented a motion to disallow a deposition from Foreman who they allege was the architect of the guilty plea that led to a 99-year prison sentence.

But McRae denied the request on grounds that he has no power to subpoena witnesses beyond a 100-mile radius.

Syria Pleads For Unity On Eve Of Arab Summit

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — President Anwar Sadat urged acceptance of the Kissinger approach.

Among the most difficult problems facing the summit were the rival claims of Jordan's King Hussein and Palestine guerrilla leader Yasir Arafat to speak for the population of the West Bank area. Hussein has threatened to take no further part in peace efforts if Jordan's claim to sovereignty over the West Bank is rejected.

The foreign ministers were also expected to discuss Kissinger's warning against further use of their oil weapon. A meeting of Arab oil ministers is scheduled immediately after the three-day summit.

Lie Detector Results Clear Pot Defendant

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Lie detector tests helped free a man accused of possession of marijuana when a judge accepted polygraph results as trial evidence for what the defense attorney says was the first time in California legal history.

Superior Court Judge Ernest Kelly dismissed drug charges Monday against Max Richardson after allowing the tests as evidence and hearing testimony from a polygraph expert.

The polygraph expert testified his tests showed the defendant, his wife and an apartment house manager were telling the truth when they insisted three Los Angeles County sheriff's narcotics officers had improperly gained entrance to their Long Beach apartment.

Chairman Of Fed Calls For Changes In Bank Regulation

HONOLULU (AP) — The chairman of the Federal Reserve Board says "several disturbing trends in modern banking" call for a reorganization of bank regulation machinery.

Arthur F. Burns, head of the nation's primary bank regulatory agency, proposed no specific measures in a speech Monday to the American Bankers Association Convention.

"The range of possible solutions is broad," he said.

"My own present thinking, however, is that building upon the existing machinery may not be sufficient, and that a substantial reorganization will be required to overcome the problems inherent in the existing structural arrangement."

Burns complained that the arrangement creates overlapping among state bank regulators, the Federal Reserve, the Treasury Department's Comptroller of the Currency and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. The system encourages banks to tailor their structures to qualify them for the easiest regulator, he said.

"Excessive commitments have raised problems for some thoroughly sound banks," Burns said.

Oklahoma Cattlemen Lay Case On Line With President Ford

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The President of the Oklahoma Cattlemen's Association today asked President Ford for a federal probe of profits taken by chain grocers and meat packers.

"We think they have held their margins up at the expense of both the producer and the consumer," said John Dunn, Woodward rancher who heads the 5,000-member OCA.

Dunn and other top executives of state farm groups were to meet with Ford before the President keynoted a political rally.

Dunn, 55, said the delegation of cattlemen also would ask Ford to curb meat imports to protect United States producers from competing with "a mountain of beef" in Australia.

Wray Finney, a vice president of the American National Cattlemen's Association and a delegate to the Ford meeting, said imports are "extremely unfair to the domestic industry" because other countries restrict their importation of U.S. beef.

Finney, from Fort Cobb, Okla., said, "We'll be urging the President not to relax the quota system next year."

"There had been a foreign importation limit of 8.7 per cent of the domestic beef production but former President Nixon re-

Son Of Welsh Miner Fearful Publicity May Kill Romance

LLAY, Wales (AP) — A Welsh coal miner's young son who says he is engaged to Happy Rockefeller's aged millionaire aunt Rachel Fitter expressed fear today that the publicity about their May-and-December romance would "blow the whole thing."

"When she sees the way the story has blown up here, anything could happen," said 29-year-old Michael Wilson after the London papers gave splash play to his announcement Monday that he and Miss Fitter would be married around Christmas.

Wilson told newsmen they met last January while he was working as a butler at the Breakers Hotel in Palm Beach, Fla. He said they got engaged in May and his parents visited Miss Fitter in the United States.

"We have a genuine deep affection for each other, but the papers have made me look like a gold digger. She's a very nice private person, but how do you think she'll feel seeing me all over the front pages?"

"She could easily get the wrong impression from what she sees in the papers. How do you explain something like that? She might call it off now, I don't know."

Miss Fitter lives in Philadelphia, and sources there said she is 77.

She was not immediately available for comment, but a

12 Arrests Crack Numbers Racket

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Police here and in Houston staged simultaneous raids Monday afternoon and arrested 12 persons and broke up what they said was a numbers racket based in Beaumont.

Five men and three women were arrested in Beaumont and three women and one man were picked up in Houston. Sgt. J. A. Jenkins of the Houston Police Department vice squad said a fifth arrest was expected today.

Officers here said the policy gambling scheme netted its operators $15,000 a week.

Houston Schools Lose More Whites

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston School District, the nation's seventh-largest, lost more white pupils this year, Supt. Billy Reagan said Monday.

This year, with 211,369 pupils reported, 38.6 per cent are white, Reagan said. The district lost 6,208 such white, Anglo pupils from last year when they made up 40.4 of the district, the report said.

Texas Eastern Slashing Gas Deliveries

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. announced Monday it was slashing deliveries of natural gas to some of its customers by one-fourth, but has received permission to build pipelines to new sources of the fuel.

The Houston-based firm said problems with supply have forced it to curtail deliveries to companies in the eastern United States by 20 to 22 percent and to its western customers by 25 percent.

The Federal Power Commission has granted Texas Eastern a certificate for construction of five lateral lines to connect new reserves to the company's offshore pipeline system at Cameron, La., the company said.

One lateral is expected to be completed this year, the other four next year.

The company said it also plans to apply jointly to the FPC with Tennessee Gas Pipeline Co. to build and operate two other laterals to link other new offshore Louisiana gas reserves with pipeline systems owned individually by the two companies.

Texas Eastern released its third quarter earnings report, reporting earnings of $23 million or 95 cents a share, compared to $17.6 million or 72 cents a share for the same year's earlier period.

The company said the increased earnings were due to improved petroleum products activities and general rate increases for its natural gas systems.

But the company said gas supplies are still a problem, aggravated by Hurricane Carmen in September which temporarily reduced further the deliveries to some eastern system suppliers.

"During the balance of September, in order to regain required underground storage balances, it was necessary to sharply increase curtailment levels," the company said.

Blasts Believed $3.8-Million Theft Cover-Up

CHICAGO (AP) — Two week-end bombings may have been set to divert attention from a $3.8-million theft at the Armored Express Co., investigators say.

Police speculated Monday that the thieves planned the Near North Side bombings—on early Sunday morning and the other early Monday—to cover their entrance and exit at the Armored Express building. No one was injured in the explosions.

The theft was discovered Monday morning when employees of the firm, a division of Putnam Security Inc., noticed smoke coming from a vault.

Police said the thieves evidently planned to disguise the robbery by starting a fire in the vault, where eleven gasoline-filled bags were found. Only three had burned, however, and firemen said a lack of oxygen prevented the others from igniting.

Police said they plan lie detector tests for some 25 employees of the firm because no signs of forced entry were found on the vault.

Armored Express is a money-carrying company for currency exchanges, banks, savings and loan institutions and other businesses.

Company officials said the $3.8-million figure used by police was too high, but would not make an estimate of their own. The theft ranks among the highest cash steals in history, but is still far below the $7 million taken in the 1963 Great Train Robbery in Britain.

Bank Guard Shot, Wounded In Dallas Robbery Attempt

DALLAS (AP) — A shotgun blast almost severed the left leg of security guard John Rowe, 70, as he interrupted an attempted robbery Monday night at the First Continental Bank.

Police said three men wearing stockings over their faces fled empty-handed after wounding Rowe. Officers gave these details:

Teller Glenn E. Bielefeldt, 26, closed a drive-in window on the South Oak Cliff bank's parking lot and started toward a door of the main building with bags full of money.

As the guard accompanied Bielefeldt, a car carrying three men whipped across the parking lot and halted beside the two bank employees.

After the teller darted up a flight of stairs with the cash and triggered a holdup alarm inside the door, he looked back and saw one of the gunmen shoot Rowe before the car sped away. The auto was found abandoned soon afterward.

A man who claimed to have a bomb in a bank bag held up the same institution last week.

Ford, Brezhnev May Have Early Meet In Siberia

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — President Ford and Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev may have a get-acquainted meeting, possibly in the Siberian city of Vladivostok, a senior American official says.

Plans for such a get-together are under consideration and will be decided upon within 10 days, the official said. Ford and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger stopped here briefly on Monday.

"It will be a very brief meeting, if it takes place," said the official. He added that more substantive talks will be held when Brezhnev visits the United States next summer.

Soap Heir Fined, Ordered To Work On Conservation

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — George Gamble, a millionaire soap heir, has been fined $10,500 and ordered to devote one day a week to wildlife conservation after being convicted of transporting illegally killed game.

Gamble, the 36-year-old great-grandson of the cofounder of Procter & Gamble, was also placed on three years probation by U.S. District Judge Robert Peckham on Monday.

Peckham told Gamble to work one day a week for a year with a conservation group and not hunt big game for three years.

Station Manager Shoots Youth, 14

HOUSTON (AP) — A 14-year-old youth was in poor condition today after he was shot by a service station manager Monday during an apparent burglary.

A. N. Harper, 43, told sheriff's deputies he received a call from a burglary alarm company and saw a person inside his station.

The person inside tossed a case of oil through the front glass window and ran, Harper said, and he fired once with a shotgun, striking the fleeing suspect in the back.

Legal Contest Looms Over Television, Radio Stations Sale In Fort Worth

WASHINGTON (AP) — A legal contest loomed today over a $110.5 million sale by Carter Publications, Inc., of its radio and television stations in Fort Worth, Tex.

The Federal Communications Commission, which has approved the transaction, disclosed Monday that New York-based Civic Broadcasting Corp. has given notice it will appeal the FCC decision to the U.S. Court of Appeals in Washington.

The commission granted license renewals May 16 for A. H. Belo Corp. for WFAA-AM-FM in Dallas, the Times Herald Printing Co. for KDFW-TV in Dallas, Carter Publications for WBAP-AM-TV and KSCS-TV in Fort Worth and Beaumont Television Corp. for KFDM-TV, Beaumont.

In a separate order the same day, the FCC granted applications for the sale of WBAP-AM and KSCS-FM by Carter to Capital and of WBAP by Carter to North Texas Broadcasting Corp.

Violations Charged

Both FCC orders rejected petitions by Civic to deny the applications on the ground of anti-trust violations.

Civic asked the FCC for reconsideration, centered on the renewal and sale of Carter's licenses. The FCC rejected the appeal Sept. 16.

Civic's principals, acting through UHF, Inc., filed civil antitrust suit Sept. 9, 1970 against Belo and Times Herald.

The suit alleged that Carter was a co-conspirator in the case. Subsequently Civic filed its petition to deny the Belo, Times Herald and Carter renewals and the sale, raising the same questions as in the antitrust suit.

The FCC said all restrictions were removed on the use of material discovered from Carter and Times when the parties to the civil antitrust suit reached a settlement in 1973.

However, the FCC said, Civic stated in its petition for reconsideration that it could not submit all the information regarding Carter and Times Herald because of restrictions that it said remained on information discovered from Belo. Belo had proposed a means by which it would not object to the use of materials discovered from it, the commission noted.

Immigration Service Too Broke To Deport Some Aliens, Official Says

HOUSTON (AP) — The U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service is too broke to deport some illegal aliens to their native country and instead are turning them loose, an official said Monday.

R. W. Heston, director of the immigration district that includes East and North Texas and Oklahoma said if illegal aliens are arrested by local authorities in some areas the service doesn't have any money to go and get them.

"Our budget since July 1 is such we simply cannot go out and apprehend or take over arrested aliens unless criminal cases are involved," he said.

"In some cases, local authorities deliver the aliens to us or the aliens agree to pay their way back to Mexico. But in some cases, we simply have to tell the local authorities to turn them loose unless the cases involved smuggling or narcotics."

Heston's comment came after seven illegal aliens were arrested in Bay City, Tex., then turned loose when immigration authorities refused to come and get them.

"Not only did Congress cut our budget," Heston said, but inflation has hit us just like the man on the street."

Immigration officers all over the country are not allowed to drive more than 30 miles from their home stations unless other criminal charges are involved, he said.

Heston said a number of aliens pay their own way back to Mexico. A bus leaves periodically from Houston to the border, he said, and the aliens are charged a $15 fare. They sometimes make up half the bus charge, he said.

"Houston authorities frequently turn over to us 30 or 35 cases," he said. "The buses can hold 44, so when seats are available we notify local authorities in other areas we can handle a certain number if the aliens can be brought to us."

Candidates Press State Vote Drives

By The Associated Press
Republican gubernatorial candidate Jim Granberry has hit hard at his opponent, Gov. Dolph Briscoe, on the campaign trail, once again asserting that Briscoe is trying to buy the election.

Speaking Monday in Big Spring, Granberry declared, "Briscoe has bought previous elections and he is trying to buy this one."

Briscoe Cancels Appearances
Briscoe is in Uvalde to be with his critically ill mother. He has canceled all of his campaign appearances for the week.

Granberry also chided Briscoe for having Secretary of State Mark White, appointed by the governor, make campaign speeches for him.

"If I were governor, I would never involve a state elections officer in partisan politics," he said.

The American Party's gubernatorial candidate, Sam McDonnell, said in Houston Monday Briscoe is helping federal bureaucrats take over state government by accepting federal aid.

Over 30 per cent of the state revenue comes from federal funds, McDonnell said.

Bullock, James
Bob Bullock, Democratic candidate for state controller, stated in El Paso that the comptroller's office should hold tax case hearings in its regional headquarters instead of requiring all tax contestants to come to Austin.

State Treasurer Jesse James, running for re-election, said his office has collected $557 million for the state the last 12 months. The revenue came from interest on state deposits, state cigarette tax, and investments held by the bond division, he said.

Labor Answers Granberry
In Austin, Texas AFL-CIO boss Harry Hubbard, in answer to Granberry's statements Saturday which questioned whether labor would still support Briscoe after the governor said he would oppose any effort to alter present law that requires employees from being required to join a union.

"I think that Texas' Committee on Political Education COPE, the political arm of the AFL-CIO is in support of the Democratic nominees from top to bottom," Hubbard said. "The only thing that will bring us out of the chaos we are in is the Democrats."

"We will be supporting an agency shop bill in the next session of the legislature," Hubbard said. "If we have the votes to pass the agency shop bill which would require non-union employees to pay union dues we'll have enough votes to override the veto, whether it's Briscoe's or Granberry's."

Charges Dropped Against Gremillion

HOUSTON (AP) — The son of a former Louisiana attorney general had theft charges against him dropped Monday by a district judge here upon the request of the district attorney's office.

Mike Hinton, an assistant district attorney in the organized crime division, said charges against Jack P. F. Gremillion Jr., 29, of Baton Rouge, La., and two other persons were dropped because of "security reasons."

Gremillion is the son of former Louisiana Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion. Also charged in the case here were James W. Jackson, 49, of Harlingen, Tex., and Elmiza Mae Mouton, 42, of Denver, Colo.

The three were accused of conspiring to borrow $425,000 using non-existent land as security for the loan.

Former JP Faces U.S. Tax Charges

HOUSTON (AP) — Albert E. "Bert" Patton, 50, a former Conroe justice of the peace already under a 10-year state sentence for misappropriation of county funds, now must face federal income tax charges.

A federal grand jury Monday indicted Patton on six counts of income tax violations, charging he falsified his returns in 1971, 1972 and 1973.

The indictment also charges him with failing to report the money he skimmed from fines collected from Montgomery County in his court.

Lee High Chatter

By LINDA EWAN, TANYA JONES and BECKY HALL

If you think it's too early to get in the SPIRIT of HALLOWEEN, you had better look at your calendar.

And while you're looking, be sure you have the Midland-Lee Halloween Carnival marked on Oct. 26. Come eat a candied apple, get married, toss pennies, and have your caricature drawn, from 7:30 'til 9 p.m. in the Midland High Youth Center. When you've finished all that, stick around for some real TRICKS AND TREATS from Battlecreek. That's right, if you haven't guessed it by now it's a dance from around 9 'til MID-NIGHT. We want to see all you PUMPKINS there, Maroon and White, or Purple and Gold!

Want to keep meat on your bones? The FHA Club is selling cookbooks. They are guaranteed to keep you from looking like a SKELETON. And who wants to look like a SKELETON? When the MOON is full and GHOSTS and GOBLINS are out, be sure that you're safe inside with a glowing fire. And the best fires begin with Youth Center firewood. If you haven't bought yours yet, Halloween isn't far off, so don't be caught without it DIAL 694-2881 for more information.

From the looks of the scoreboard last Friday night, a BLACK CAT must have crossed our path, because it sure wasn't a lack of skill! The South Will Rise Again! Friday night in Big Spring, let the DEVIL in you SPOOK the Steers. So everyone come on out and let's haunt the whole stadium.

Our Lee J.V. SCARED the Abilene Cougars so that they tucked their tails and ran last Saturday afternoon in Memorial Stadium. Since we couldn't find out when the next game is, this is your chance to make your move on that good looking guy you've been watching.

The Dixie Sixty really has boosted SPIRITS this week. It takes kids like these to make the WINNING BREW for the State Championship.

Squadron 747-Aviation Explorers will meet tonight at Hank's Flight Center at Midland Regional Air Terminal. President Tom Cloyd said, "See you at 8."

Rocky Mountains Get Snow; Freeze Hits East Coast

By The Associated Press
Snow spread across the Rockies and East Coast residents pulled their hats down over their ears today as temperatures slid into the 20s as far south as South Carolina.

Heavy snow warnings were posted for parts of Colorado and locally hazardous driving precautions were advised in Wyoming as a storm system hit the central Rockies. The same system scattered thundershowers from Central Texas into New Mexico and Arizona.

Richmond, Va., shivered in a 26-degree reading before day-break.

Winds gusted to 35 miles per hour in the central Plains as a few showers moved in from the west to dampen North Dakota and northwest Minnesota.

Clocks hung over Southern California and parts of Florida, New England and the upper Mississippi Valley. But most of the rest of the nation had clear skies.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 22 at Havre, Mont., to 77 at Needles, Calif.

Rockefeller Inquisition

Nelson A. Rockefeller would be justified in telling Congress and the Senate and House committees considering his nomination for vice president that they could have the position and do what they would with it.

He doesn't need the job in the first place, and then to have to go through the rough and tough grilling and abuse accorded him just because he happens to be blessed with money, seemingly isn't worth it.

This newspaper did not endorse Mr. Rockefeller for the vice presidential appointment, but it sympathizes with any person who has to go through such an inquisition, primarily because of wealth—and politics.

He reportedly has attempted to cooperate with the congressional committees in their investigations.

Yes, he has given away considerable money, as do many wealthy persons, and he has been willing to testify publicly concerning the gifts.

It does seem a bit strange, also, that the Internal Revenue Service would come up with a back tax bill at this particular time. Rockefeller has explained that there is nothing wrong, or illegal, or immoral about it.

The bill stems, he said, from disallowed items claimed as deductions over a five year period.

President Ford has expressed complete faith in Rockefeller and is sticking with his appointment.

It has been said by many that having persons of considerable means hold public offices would be advantageous from many standpoints. Some persons apparently feel that Rockefeller may be too wealthy.

Mrs. Elsie Magee, in a letter to The Reporter-Telegram, said she could not comprehend the news item appearing in this newspaper a few weeks ago "asking whether we wanted the government in the hands of the greatest concentrated wealth in America."

"The Rockefeller wealth was accumulated under old John D. when 'robber barons' were quite acceptable," the letter continued, "and the family had enough sense to keep it and at the same time to do a great deal of good with it by giving away vast sums of money."

"The public broadcasting network was the only network that carried Rockefeller's examination before the Judiciary Committee. The rest only carried little excerpts of his refusal to commit himself irrevocably to 'executive privilege.' I have always stood up for the media, but I am beginning to waver."

"I cannot understand why anyone in Midland would consider it a crime to be rich, or have a brother who understood international finance. Nelson Rockefeller has nothing to gain either in wealth or prestige by the office of vice president. Why does he want the office? You should have listened to Channel 13, and I would advise you to listen to his next inquisition," Mrs. Magee concluded.

This pretty well wraps it up!

'Is That Thing Still Twitching?'

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson Says: Knievel's televised legacy: Death and paralysis for kids.

WASHINGTON — A survey of 50 prominent children's hospitals reveals that children of all ages tried to imitate Evel Knievel's recent abortive leap across the Snake River. But unlike the lucky Knievel, some of the juvenile daredevils wound up badly maimed.

Some benefit may come, however, from the tragedies. For Knievel's unique effect on youngsters gives dramatic urgency for a warning that the tv industry chose to ignore two years ago.

Studies of 10,000 youngsters, warned the Surgeon General, proved that "exposure to aggressive television is significantly related to aggressive behavior (in) normal children."

But the network apologists soothed the public's fears, and the tv violence went on. Now Rep. John Murphy, D-N.Y., who conducted the hospital survey, has reported the results to House Commerce Chairman Harley Staggers, D-W. Va. Citing the Knievel episode, Murphy called for full-blown hearings.

"Crime, violence, brutality and aggression are bigger than ever on tv," he complained. "The Evel Knievel affair was just a symptom of how America's giant tv networks cater to the basest instincts in man and of their continued enmeshment of innocent children... with violence."

Murphy, who tried unsuccessfully to stop the American Broadcasting Co. from televising the jump, charged in his secret report that the tv publicity brought death, paralysis and critical injury to children and even a few adults. Here's a sampling of the cases he turned up.

Utica, N.Y. — A 14-year-old boy used the hood of an old car as his launch ramp for a bike jump. The bike somersaulted. The boy crashed and crushed the bones in his neck. He is paralyzed for life from his neck down.

Minneapolis, Minn. — A nine-year-old and his friend built a ramp and lined up five garbage cans. While his family prepared for church, he made his leap and actually cleared the cans on his bike. But he needed 15 stitches to sew up his chin. His chipped teeth will cost at least $400 to repair.

Boise, Idaho — A 16-year-old bragged that he would leap an irrigation ditch on his bike. The local sheriff tried to stop him, but it was on private property. The teenager shot off the ramp, cleared the ditch and struck a house on the other side head on. He was hospitalized with a severe concussion.

Bruceston, W. Va. — A would-be daredevil, driving a motorcycle, cleared a 195-foot-wide lake before a bloodthirsty crowd. He crashed into the bank on the far side and is paralyzed from the waist down for life.

New York City — An eight-year-old ran up a homemade ramp on his bike, crashed and was impaled on his handlebars. Doctors operated on his liver and were barely able to save his life. He spent more than three weeks in the hospital. Seven similar cases were treated at the same hospital, all in emulation of the Knievel jump.

Salt Lake City, Utah — A seven-year-old girl and her playmate did a double jump on a bike off a ramp and both were injured, she with a serious "head trauma." In Brooklyn, ly that ABC would "caution children" not to try any "daredevil-type activity." The failure of ABC's warning is apparent from the tales of youthful carnage, which Murphy has reported to Staggers.

The warning didn't mollify, for example, the mother of a Brooklyn nine-year-old, who zipped up a five-foot-long plank and soared about 20 feet. In midflight, he fell from the bike and came down on his face. Mrs. Louise DeFaco, the boy's mother, asked plaintively: "How could you expect a little boy who is inquisitive and daring to take that warning seriously when Evel receives so much admiration and notoriety?"

FOOTNOTE: The tv industry, in defending such spectacles, repeatedly insists that it is cutting violence down to a minimum. The FCC, for its part, is drafting new milkop suggestions for children's network tv. The suggestions fall far below what even the mildest tv critics have recommended to protect children from tv influence.

Murphy was alerted to the Knievel craze by the death of Bob Pleso, a 22-year-old Ocala, Fla., man who was inspired by Knievel to try to clear 30 automobiles on a motorcycle. Pleso hit the 28th car in a spectacle at Phenix City, Ala., and was thrown to his death a few feet short of his 171-foot mark.

The congressman sought a total ban on tv showings of the Knievel jump, and again afterwards tried to get ABC to cancel a replay. "Failure to do this," said Murphy to ABC-TV President Walter Schwartz, "would border on the obscene."

Schwartz telegraphed back that he was going ahead with the replay anyway. But Schwartz assured Murphy pious-

INSPIRATION NEEDED In Order To WIN!

WASHINGTON (NEA) — President Ford made it clear right from the start that he was a Ford, not a Lincoln. Neither, it now appears, is he a Roosevelt.

Among other criticisms, the President's strategy for a war against inflation has been unfavorably compared with the bold initiatives introduced by FDR back in the dark days of the Great Depression.

Those who make this comparison seem to forget, however, that invaluable as was Roosevelt's leadership for the morale of the nation and as worthwhile his many programs in alleviating the worst aspects of the Depression, nothing he proposed and nothing Congress disposed had any real effect on the fundamental malaise of the economy.

In fact, after four years of the New Deal, the economy went into another tailspin that was in some ways worse than that of 1929-32. It wasn't until the middle of World War II that the last vestiges of the Depression were erased.

Well, one thing this country does not need is another shooting war, although it could be wished that inflation were as clearly identifiable an enemy as the one Americans were up against in the 1940s. It is not inflation is an amorphous, hydra-headed disease, the cure for which even the best economic minds cannot agree on.

Only A Depression Then, too, Roosevelt had only a depression to worry about. If nobody had much money, at least prices were in the basement along with them. Mr. Ford faces not only a fledgling depression but one that is combined with a spiraling cost of living that is close to being out of control.

Still, one thing Americans definitely could use right now is a little inspiration — to be given hope, to be convinced that concrete steps are being taken to attack the nation's complex economic problems.

It is in failing to do this that Mr. Ford's "Whip Inflation Now" program may most be found wanting. The slogan itself lacks rallying power — again possibly because inflation is only one face of the enemy.

What the President seems to have come up with is a list of cautious steps designed to mean the least discomfort for the greatest number of people. As one observer commented, he has bitten the bullet — and it has a marshmallow center.

There are also contradictions. On the one hand, to fight recession, the President wants to increase the business investment tax write-off while on the other hand to fight inflation, the government maintains a tight money policy that has made loans hard to come by in the first place.

He wants to pump a few billion into the hard-hit housing industry where again, it is high interest rates and scarce mortgage money that has dashed so many dreams.

Nevertheless, no one, including the nation's most prestigious economists, has offered any better list of solutions. It may very well be that the President's greatest strength lies in the fact that he is a Ford and not a Lincoln, not a flashy limousine but a dependable, trustworthy driver that will eventually get us where we want to go.

He deserves all the support we can give him. Is there any other choice?

WELL, IT PROBABLY had to happen. There is no Homecoming Queen at the University of Akron this year.

"It has become the growing trend in America to speak in nongendered terms," explains Jill Rueble, of the school's Student Center Program Board.

Dummy, discarding after West will be down to king-nine of spades and two clubs. Our hero will be sure that his squeeze has worked. He will discard the small spade from dummy; lead his last club and wind up with egg all over his face when East takes the last three tricks.

RALPH LAVACA Comrade Butz And The Pound Cake Gap

WASHINGTON (NEA) — "Tell ya what I'm gonna do, Comrade Butz. For you, because I know you and I like you, I'm gonna throw in two free tickets to the next Bolshoi performance in Washington to sweeten the pot. Now you can't pass up a honey of a bargain like that, can you?"

"Well, I don't know, Mr. Comissar..."

"Just call me Vylski-dylski, Comrade."

"All right, Mr. Vylski-dylski, you have to understand my position. I can't just go giving you bushels of corn and wheat just like that."

"Why not? It's a free country, isn't it?"

"But you don't understand American politics. If we sell you wheat now, it may cause shortages in this country later on, maybe even a Twinkie crisis. That would result in all kinds of political complications, perhaps even a loss of confidence in government officials by Americans."

"Don't make me laugh, Comrade. What you mean is that the elections are coming up and if your party doesn't do so good because of the wheat deal, you may be out of a job."

"In any case, Mr. Vylski-dylski, your government has to help us avoid embarrassment in this deal. That way, your people get a few extra loaves of bread and my people get, uh... What was it my people were getting again?"

"The satisfaction of having helped some needy detente mates, a couple of nice Moscow mailing lists maybe and a check for $11.74, before taxes, of course."

"I still can't figure out why you sneaky Russians — that is, why your principals — would be so generous with us. I drive a pretty tough deal, you know."

"Let's just say that we want to show you capitalists how kind-hearted and unselfish we socialists are, Comrade Butz. And don't you let that Jackson or any of those other skeptics talk you into believing we have ulterior motives or are arranging anything under the table with those grain dealers. Trying to stir up trouble for you is the last thing we would want. Louisiana Asks Answers On Chemical Waste Burn

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — State authorities said they would demand straight answers from Environmental Protection Agency officials today about the Gulf of Mexico waste chemical burning.

"If we are not satisfied, we will file an injunction (suit) in federal court," said Clint Pray, chairman of the Governor's Council on Environmental Quality.

Shell Chemical Co. said Monday that 99.9 per cent of chlorinated hydrocarbons burned aboard the Dutch ship Vulcanus were completed incinerated.

Pray said he wasn't convinced.

"We are to meet with an Environmental Protection Agency attorney from Washington tomorrow and see if he can answer questions we have been unable to get answers to," Pray said late Monday.

He said antipollution representatives from Texas, Alabama and Florida would sit in on the meeting.

While the controversy simmered, the Vulcanus cruised back and forth in the Gulf of Mexico 130 miles south of Galveston, Tex., burning 20 tons of poisonous chemical waste an hour.

It is the first time this European style of incineration at sea has been used off American coasts.

A Shell Chemical Co. spokesman said the chemical waste, chlorinated hydrocarbons, burn in special combustion chambers at 2,000-degree temperatures.

Burning converts chlorinated hydrocarbons into hydrogen chloride, the announcement said, and tests of the invisible "plume" of exhaust from the chamber showed that chemical present at 1.2 parts per million.

"The 1.2 parts per million is well below the standards of 5 parts per million set by OSHA (Occupational Safety and Health Administration) for hydrogen chloride in the air at onshore industrial plants," the announcement said.

Two Monitor Vessels

Shell said two monitor vessels were checking the burn and "no adverse findings were reported from the fallout of hydrogen chloride vapors into the seawater by EPA scientists."

The monitor vessels worked from two miles to half a mile behind the Vulcanus.

Incineration of the 4,628 tons of corrosive chemicals from Shell's storage tanks at Deer Park, Tex., was due to take nine days. If the burn passes inspection, Shell is expected to ask the EPA for permission to burn three more shipsloads.

Final Tryout Wednesday

The third and final tryout session to fill roles in Midland Community Theatre's next production, "How the Other Half Loves," will be at 8 p.m. Wednesday at Theatre Centre.

The British comedy, revolving around the domestic complications of three couples, will go into rehearsal soon for a Nov. 29 opening. It is the final production of MCT's 1974 season. Written by Alan Ayckbourn, the comedy had a long run in London and a more recent run on Broadway.

Newcomers here as well as MCT "regulars" will be welcomed at the auditions Wednesday night.

Art Theft Intermediary Draws Stiff Jail Term

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — James Hough, the intermediary who arranged the $100,000 ransom of two stolen Rembrandt paintings, has been sent off to jail with a longer sentence than the thieves.

"I reaffirm my innocence," Hough, a Hamilton, Ohio, real estate broker, said Monday after Hamilton County Judge William Morrissey refused Hough's pleas for probation and for bond while his case is appealed.

Hough, 31, was sentenced to serve one to 10 years in jail and fined $1,000 for extortion and sentenced to one to five years in prison each on charges of harboring a felon and receiving stolen goods.

Donald Lee Johnson, 30, confessed mastermind of the Dec. 18, 1973, thefts at the Taft Museum, was sentenced to a term of six months to five years. He pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of receiving stolen goods after agreeing to testify against Hough.

Carl Horsley, 21, and Henry C. Dawn, 22, who admitted taking the paintings valued at $1.5 million, got one-to-five-year terms as did Raymond McDonough, 21, who drove the getaway car. All pleaded guilty to reduced charges of receiving stolen goods.

During the trial, Johnson said he was a professional thief and that Hough was a dealer in stolen goods. Johnson said Hough masterminded the ransom in return for $70,000 of the ransom.

Both of the paintings, "Man Leaning on a Sill" and "Portrait of an Elderly Woman," were recovered as was all but $18 of the ransom money.

Home Buyers Due Lower Borrowing Rate In New Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — Home buyers will get a bigger break than originally anticipated under new federal legislation providing low-interest loans.

The Department of Housing and Urban Development announced Monday that the initial interest rate under a $7.75-billion home loan program will be 8.5 per cent, compared with an earlier projection of 9 per cent.

The difference was attributed to a re-computation of a complicated interest formula tied to the Treasury's borrowing costs.

Borrowing rates on most commercial loans are about 10 per cent under current conditions.

The new interest figure means that monthly payments on a $40,000 loan paid off over 30 years under the government program would be about $303, or $14 less than at the 9 per cent rate and $42 less than at the 10 per cent rate.

The department said the rate will be in effect through November on government commitments to purchase the initial $1.5 billion worth of mortgages under the plan. The money is enough for about 50,000 home loans.

LOSING HIS LOCKS—James J. Adams, commander of the Brigade of Midshipmen at the U.S. Naval Academy, gets a haircut as a result of losing a friendly wager on the outcome of the Air Force-Navy football game Saturday. Adams, of Beltsville, Md., was one of 1,320 Middies who agreed to get a haircut or contribute $10 to charity if Navy lost, as it did, 19-16. Most of the Midshipmen apparently opted for the $10 donation, since lines were short at the academy barber shop Monday. (AP Wirephoto.)

Democrats Driving To Sweep 12-State Midwestern Region

CHICAGO (AP) — Democrats, both incumbents and challengers, are hoping to score big election victories in the Midwest, once the keystone of national Republican power.

Throughout the Midwest, Democratic governors, senators and congressmen appear on the road to impressive election day triumphs with few exceptions.

At the same time, Republicans in Kansas and North Dakota are seriously threatened with losing U.S. Senate seats.

Only in the Indiana Senate race and in the gubernatorial battles in Ohio and Michigan do Republicans appear to have opportunities to stave off a Democratic sweep of the 12-state Midwest region.

Senate victories are expected to come easy for such well-known Democratic incumbents as George McGovern of South Dakota, Thomas Eagleton of Missouri, Adlai Stevenson of Illinois and Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin. The Democrats also are favored to win in Ohio, where polls show former astronaut John Glenn is running a whopping 50 per cent ahead of the GOP candidate and in Iowa where Rep. John Culver is favored to replace retiring fellow Democrat, Sen. Harold Hughes.

In Kansas, Democratic Rep. William Roy is making a strong run to oust Sen. Robert Dole, former GOP national chairman. The polls had shown Roy with a wide lead but the latest sampling taken by the Topeka Capital-Journal showed both candidates with 46 per cent.

In North Dakota, Sen. Milton Young, a Republican, is in a nip-and-tuck battle with former Gov. William Guy. Guy's camp said the former governor was running far ahead of Young in the spring but the gap has narrowed.

Bayh Challenged

Mayor Richard G. Lugar of Indianapolis is after the seat held for two terms by Democratic Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana and the latest polls show Lugar is trailing by only 5 to 10 per cent.

There are no Senate races in Nebraska, Michigan and Minnesota.

In eight states with governors' races, Democratic incumbents Patrick Lucey of Wisconsin, Richard Kneip of South Dakota, J. James Exon of Nebraska and Wendell Anderson of Minnesota are virtually conceded re-election. Democratic Gov. Robert Docking stepped down in Kansas but Atty. Gen. Vernon Miller is a solid choice to retain the statehouse for the Democrats.

Ray Favored In Iowa

Gov. Robert Ray of Iowa is the only Republican incumbent facing election in the Midwest and he is favored to turn back the challenge of State Sen. James Schaben. The latest polls show Ray, seeking a fourth term, with 60 per cent backing.

In Michigan, Republican Gov. William Milliken faces a strong challenge from Sander Levin who lost by less than 1 per cent of the vote four years ago in an election that took three days to decide.

Gov. John Gilligan of Ohio is running narrowly ahead of former Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Republicans now control congressional delegations in 5 of the 12 Midwestern states and Democrats have the edge in four with divided delegations in Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota.

Consumer Tests Reveal Contamination In Tuna

MOUNT VERNON, N.Y. (AP) — Rat hairs and fly maggots are among the extra ingredients Consumers Union says it found when it took a close look at some canned tuna.

An article in the November issue of its magazine, Consumer Reports, said that after testing 104 samples of 52 brands, the problem "appeared industrywide."

Of the 16 distributors whose brands were tested, 13 had at least one contaminated sample, according to the nonprofit agency.

The magazine said one tuna sample contained part of a fly maggot. In two other cases, examiners found rat hairs three-fifths of an inch long. It said that was too long to have come from ground spices.

"The FDA's usual excuse for its lax standards on filth in food is that the filth originated in nature and couldn't be readily removed," the article said.

Midland, Lee Juniors To Take Test This Week

Four hundred twenty-five Midland and Lee high school juniors this week will be taking the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

MHS students will be administered the test at 6:30 p.m. today in the school cafeteria, with LHS juniors scheduled for 8:30 a.m. Saturday in the Lee cafeteria.

The test is designed primarily for high school juniors who plan to continue their education after high school graduation. It is also the first requirement for National Merit Scholarships which will be awarded in the spring of 1976.

Only a limited number of tests are available to students. All the MHS tests had been reserved by this morning, with only 75 left to be reserved in the LHS counselors' offices.

Students taking the test are required to pay a $3 fee at the time it is administered.

No additional tests will be available after the testing dates, although students who had not previously reserved one may be able to take the exam if any tests are still unclaimed.

New Lawyers Receive Oath

AUSTIN (AP) — A record number of 1,000 new Texas lawyers took the oath of office today in a special session of the Texas Supreme Court held at the Austin Municipal Auditorium.

The new lawyers bring the membership of the State Bar to about 25,000. Bar officials said.

Chief Justice Joe R. Greenhill administered the oath.

State Bar President Lloyd Lockridge, Austin welcomed them into the legal profession.

Midlanders due to take the oath were James Clay Brown, George Franklin Goolsby, Charles R. Herpick, James Heyroth Isbell, Tommy Cornelius McCall and Thomas William Ortloff.

Chet Atkins To Play With Symphony Tonight

Internationally-lamed guitarist Chet Atkins will join the Midland-Odesa Symphony in a concert at 8 p.m. today in Lee High School auditorium here.

Atkins and the orchestra presented the identical program Monday night in Odessa's Ector County Coliseum before a large crowd. That event was open to purchasers of single tickets as well as to holders of symphony season subscriptions.

Tonight's concert will be open only to season ticket holders because of the auditorium's more limited seating capacity. However, members of Midland Symphony Guild will be selling season subscriptions in the auditorium lobby between 7 and 8 p.m. The subscriptions are $20 for seats in reserved section, $15 for general admission tickets, and $4 for student admissions. The tickets will entitle purchasers to attend all six concerts scheduled by the Midland-Odesa Symphony and Choral in the 1974-75 season which continues through early May.

Tonight's concert will be conducted by Dr. Thomas Hobstadt, orchestra's music director-conductor.

Bears Upset Pack

Chicago Defense Wins Out, 10-9

CHICAGO (AP) — "It was Bay is known more for its run-strictly designed to be a short-yardage play," said Carl Garrett, "but Randy Jackson and Perry Williams threw super blocks and I could have gone all the way if I hadn't tripped." The play—one of many key plays in the Chicago Bears' stirring 10-9 victory over the Green Bay Packers—came in the closing minutes when the Bears were hanging on to their three-down advantage Monday night.

Garrett not only got the two yards for a clutch first down but rambled 18 yards to get the Bears out of a serious hole. Bob Parsons then punted out on the Green Bay four-yard line and all the Bears didn't clinch the triumph until Gary Lyle intercepted a Jerry Tagge pass in the closing seconds.

Another key play—the game was full of them—came in the fourth quarter with the Bears leading, 10-6. Tagge spotted Barry Smith alone in the end zone and fired. Craig Clemons appeared to come out of nowhere at the last second to bat the ball out of Smith's hands. "Clemons made it look tough because of national television," said Coach Abe Gibson. "He should have been there all the time."

Clemons credited Smith with making "a good move. I got there at the last second. Sure, we used six backs on defense at times but remember, we were quick enough to come back and support on the run." The strategy of using six defensive backs was puzzling since it forces a team to run rather than throw and Green

Buckeyes, Sooners Top Standings

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Led by Ohio State and Oklahoma, the first eight teams in The Associated Press college football ratings held onto their positions today while Nebraska and Penn State climbed back into the Top Ten and Arizona and North Carolina State dropped out.

Ohio State remained No. 1 for the fifth week in a row with a 49-9 rout of Indiana. The Buckeyes received 50 first-place votes and 1,196 of a possible 1,602 points from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

eight first-place ballots and 1,062 points. Last week, the Sooners trailed Ohio State 1,160-1,020.

Third-place Michigan received one first-place vote and 923 points after beating Wisconsin 24-20. Alabama, No. 4, trimmed Tennessee 26-6 and earned one first-place vote and 887 points. Auburn received the other first-place vote and 699 points with a 31-22 triumph over Georgia Tech.

Southern California, Notre Dame and Texas A&M remained in the 6-7-8 positions. USC downed Oregon 16-7, Notre Dame walloped Army 48-0 and Texas A&M blanked Texas Christian 17-0.

Nebraska, which was seventh in the preseason ratings and got as high as fourth before dropping down to 12th following its second setback, made it back up to ninth with a 56-0 shellacking of Kansas, which had been 13th.

Penn State, eighth in the preseason poll, skidded to 19th after losing to Navy early in the year but has been climbing back gradually—to 15th, 11th and now 10th. The Nittany Lions defeated Syracuse 30-14.

Arizona and N.C. State, Nos. 9-10 last week, slipped to 16th and 17th, respectively. Arizona lost to Texas Tech 17-8 while N.C. State bowed to North Carolina 33-14.

The complete Second Ten consists of Texas Tech, Florida, Texas, Arizona State, Maryland, Arizona, North Carolina State, Tulane, Miami of Ohio and California, which made the Top Twenty for the first time this year. The Bears replaced Kansas.

Last week's Second Ten consisted of Penn State, Nebraska, Kansas, Florida, Arizona State, Texas, Texas Tech, Maryland, Miami and Tulane.

Houston Coaches Declare Open Season On Referees

HOUSTON (AP) — Residents and visitors to this area should be advised not to wear striped shirts and knee pants this week. Rice Coach Al Conover and Houston Oiler Coach Sid Gillman have declared open season on football officials.

While Texas dove hunters were blasting away and deer hunters were preparing for their season, both coaches came out shooting Monday in reaction to official rulings they felt hurt their teams in weekend games.

Conover got his ammunition from a 15-yard penalty called against his team for running onto the field to congratulate Alan Pringle after he kicked a 40-yard field goal to give Rice a 14-13 lead over Southern Methodist with 35 seconds left in the game.

"That's ridiculous," snorted Conover when he saw the penalty on film Monday in a viewing for the Rice Quarterback Club. "There has to be interpretation of the rules. I don't think a team should be allowed to delay a game but we didn't delay the game."

"We preach to the enthusiast. That's the way I am and that's the way we play. We can't stand around like a bunch of warts on a frog's back."

Rice had to kickoff 15 yards deeper because of their enthusiasm and then SMU's Arthur Whittington returned the kick 70 yards to set up the game-winning touchdown for a 19-14 SMU victory.

While Conover complained mainly of one call, Gillman was able to pick any one of several targets from the 31-27 loss to St. Louis.

Gillman especially criticized a six-yard touchdown pass from St. Louis quarterback Jim Hart to Earl Thomas. On the instant replay, Thomas appeared to have stepped out of bounds with one foot when catching the ball.

"That was the worst call I've ever seen," Gillman said. "He had one foot in bounds and the other one out and they called it a touchdown."

"I know you're not supposed to talk about the officiating,"

Gillman fumed. "But that was the worst game for officiating that I can recall."

Another controversial call came in the second quarter when Oiler quarterback Dan Pastorini was attempting to pass. His arm was hit by the Cardinals' Council Rudolph.

The official ruled the fumble and the Cards recovered and marched for a touchdown.

The instant replay again appeared to show that Pastorini had started a forward motion, which would have made the play an incomplete pass. Gillman concluded his salvo by saying the officials were "blind as bats."

It was a fierce combined case of marksmanship by Conover and Gillman and by sundown Monday not an official was in sight.

It appeared both coaches had bagged their limits.

FOR SHARE OF MINNESOTA TWINS— Short Trying To Dump Interest In Rangers

DALLAS (AP) — Bob Short, who moved the Texas Ranger franchise to Arlington from Washington before selling out his majority interest, wants to dump the remaining 14 per cent of his stock in the American League club for $1 million so he can buy an interest in the Minnesota Twins.

Short told The Associated Press by telephone from his Minneapolis office that "I'm interested in acquiring an interest in the Twins. I cannot own an interest in both clubs because of league rules."

The trucking firm magnate sold the Rangers last year to a group headed by Brad Corbett, the president of Robin Tech, a pipeline manufacturing firm.

"I have offered the stock to the (Corbett) group for the same price I paid for it ($1 million)," Short said. "I just want them to buy me out."

"I'm really in limbo with the club now in management. I do talk to (Manager) Billy (Martin) from time to time."

Short explained that "I kept my money in the Rangers for two reasons. I had confidence that it would be a successful financial operation, and I wanted to help them during the transition period."

"Now, I assume that if they no longer need my help there is no reason for me to consider the stock except for the profits. Of course, the dividends will be based on what they earned, and I assume they earned some money by drawing 1.2 million people. But I'm not really taking part in anything. I'm not keeping the books."

Short said the stock is subject to "put and call" which means, "If, for example, I sold it to

Bradley Seeks 1980 Olympics

VIENNA (AP) — "We may be the underdogs, but I reckon we have a 50-50 chance of landing the Olympics," said Tom Bradley, the strapping mayor of Los Angeles.

The lanky, 6-foot-4 mayor, a former quarter-miler and basketball player at UCLA, was in Vienna to lead his city's bid against Moscow for the right to host the sports extravaganza in 1980.

"We like to think we are the best equipped sports city in the world," Bradley said prior to today's presentation to the International Olympic Committee. Moscow was to follow with its presentation. Lake Placid, N.Y., the only city bidding for the 1980 Winter Olympics, also was scheduled to appear before the IOC. Decisions on sites for both the Summer and Winter Games were expected from the IOC Wednesday.

"We have not made any personal approaches to members of the IOC. We have done everything in accordance with IOC regulations, and I know we shall get a fair hearing," said Bradley. "I have no idea even whether the Pan-American vote on the IOC will go in our favor."

you they could buy you out the next day for what you paid for it.

"They (the Corbett group) have that right for two years. They have three years to pay for it. I'm offering it to them right now if they want to buy me out."

Short said he has not offered the stock to another group but felt there would be no problem in finding a buyer.

"There are people who will do that but it would probably be best from my point of view that the original group buy it but I haven't heard back from them," Short said.

Short told The AP "My association with the Ranger club was a very enjoyable experience. I helped finance them by keeping $1 million in and they were to call upon me from time to time for advice. Now it's time to cut the umbilical cord."

"I hope they will buy my interest. If they don't, I'll find someone who will."

Short owned the Texas-Washington franchise five years. He sold it for $8.3 million right after hiring Martin, who took the Rangers from a laugh as baseball's worst team to respectability in a second place AL West Division finish behind World Champion Oakland.

Storm Eyes Playoff

Have Better Chance At Moving

By The Associated Press

There's still a chance the Portland Storm will move into the World Football League playoffs—but there's a better chance that they'll move.

Portland plays in Thursday night's nationally televised WFL game, hosting playoff-bound Memphis. In Wednesday night's action it's Birmingham at Shreveport, Philadelphia at Southern California, Florida at Charlotte and Hawaii at Chicago.

The league said Monday night that eight teams would make the playoffs. At the start of the season, the league said four would make it. Then, several weeks ago, it was expanded to six. Now it's eight, meaning only two of the 10 clubs playing (two have suspended play) will sit out the postseason action.

The Storm is hoping the national tv game will be a showcase for football interest in Portland and that it'll draw a sellout crowd at 33,000-seat Civic Stadium.

If it does, it'll virtually triple last Wednesday night's showing of 11,032 fans, a season-low who saw the Storm slip past the Hawaiians 3-0.

"If they want a professional football team here, we can't go on drawing only 11,000 per game," says Storm owner Bob Harris.

"If we continue to draw that number for these last two games the team closes out its home schedule Nov. 6 against Florida then we might have to give some thought to moving."

Harris said the Storm had to draw about 28,000 fans per game to break even this year, which means they're far from it. They've averaged 15,433. So even two full houses for its final two games wouldn't bring the books into the black.

The Memphis Southern, 14-2 and leading the Central Division, seem to have nothing but rushers, with three of them in the top 10. J.J. Jennings leads the league with 1,189 yards, John Harvey has 802 and Willie Spencer, who will probably miss the game against the Storm with a knee injury, has 788.

Still, the Southern can also move the ball in the air. John Huarte, back in the starting line-up after missing 3½ games with an injury, has thrown for 20 touchdowns and Ed Marshall has caught a league-high 15 scoring passes.

Birmingham's Americans are 12-4 and trail the Southern by two games while Shreveport is in the Western Division scramble with Hawaii and Portland.

The Steamer's main playoff hopes rest on Jim Nance, 86 yards away from rushing into them.

the 1,000-yard club, and Rick Eber, No. 1 among WFL receivers with 58 catches for 696 yards.

Southern California, 12-4, has already clinched the Western title and faces a tough challenge from Philadelphia, 6-10. The Bell is four games behind second-place Charlotte in the East.

It figures to be a war of big bombs between rookie Tony Adams of the Sun, the No. 1 passer in the league with 3,216 yards, and Philadelphia's Jim Corcoran, No. 2 with 3,002. James McAllister and Dave Williams have teamed for 107 Southern California catches, good for 1,562 yards and 13 TDs, while John Land is Corcoran's main target.

First place in the East is at stake when the Florida Blazers, 11-5, visit Charlotte, 10-6. They're as close as their first meeting, when the Blazers pulled out a 17-15 victory over the Hornets.

The Hawaiians, 6-10, and Chicago, 7-9, are hoping wild card and the Fire is hoping for a replay of its 53-29 battering of Hawaii earlier this year. But it's not likely—Chicago has been riddled by injuries since yards away from rushing into them.

Monahans' Petties Suffers Knee Injury

By TERRY WILLIAMSON

The Pecos Eagles and the Rankin Red Devils remained undefeated after the completion of the first seven weeks of area high school football action, but perhaps the biggest news hinged on a very important knee from Monahans.

Petties unimpressively got by Fort Stockton, 15-6, Friday to run their season mark to 6-0 and 2-0 in District 2-AAA, but league leading Monahans, owners of a 3-0 loop mark, won what might be a very costly 27-6 victory over the Odessa Ector Eagles.

Monahans may have lost the services of all-stater Wayne Petties to a knee injury. Petties had gained over 800 yards rushing in his first six games.

The extent of the injury is not known, but Petties was in Midland Monday to have the knee checked by Dr. Thurston Dean, a Midland M.D. who has handled several area football injuries.

Monahans will have the night off this Friday and Petties' condition will be fully known by the time the Lobos take to the field again. This injury could shake up the entire district picture with Kermit (2-1), Pecos, Seminole (1-2) and Fort Stockton (1-2) still in the running.

Another bad knee didn't seem to hurt the Snyder Tigers in District 3-AAA, however. Welton Cobb, another can't miss all-stater, sat out the Tigers 16-0 victory over Lake View last Friday as Snyder gained sole possession of first place with the win. Cobb is expected to play Nov. 1 when the Tigers play again. Snyder is open this week and will protect their 3-0 loop mark.

Lubbock Dunbar, however, became the new 3-AAA challenger with a 9-0 victory over Lamesa Friday. Dunbar is now 2-0 and will meet Lake View (2-1) Thursday in an important struggle.

Coach Dwayne Turner's Rankin Red Devils had little trouble last week in running their season mark to a perfect 6-0 reading with an em-brassingly easy 37-0 win over Wink. The victory was the 12th straight regular season victory for the Devils and should help protect their number two state standing among Class A schools. It was the first week of action in District 6-A with Marfa, Rankin and Iran gaining wins in the openers.

District 7-AA also opened loop warfare with Sonora and Ozona jumping to first round victories. Sonora belted pre-season favorite Crane, 27-14 to earn an impressive 6-1 mark. Sonora is competing in AA competition for the first time.

Ozona managed a narrow

16-13 margin over defending 7-AA champion Reagan County, who fell to 1-6 for the year. Ozona is now 4-3 on the season while McCamey (4-2) had the open date.

As expected, Seagraves and Plains took opening district wins in 5-A with Seagraves downing Shallowater by a blazing 42-9 count and Plains picking on winless O'Donnell, 26-6.

Stanton, the pre-season favorite in this loop, had the open date, but starts loop warfare Friday in a head-to-head confrontation with Seagraves, who is now 6-1 on the year.

A STUDY IN DESPONDENCY—New York Jets' quarterback Joe Namath appears to be a study in despondency as his team went down to defeat Sunday against the Baltimore Colts, 35-20, at New York's Shea Stadium. The Jets now share last place with the Colts in the AFC East. (AP Wirephoto.)

Lou Brock Makes All-Star Squad

NEW YORK (AP) — Lou Brock slid safely on The Associated Press' 1974 Major League All-Star baseball team.

Picking up the most votes of the outfielders with 290, the St. Louis Cardinals' base-stealing wonder was among the classy group voted in Monday by a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Brock, who broke Maury Wills' distinguished record of 104 steals with 118 this season, was joined in the outfield by Oakland's Reggie Jackson and Jeff Burroughs of Texas.

Jackson polled 218 votes while Burroughs had 194 to make the blue ribbon team ahead of such illustrious names as Jimmy Wynn of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Atlanta's Ralph Garr, the National League's batting champion.

The major battles in the voting took place at shortstop and for the right-handed pitcher's berth.

Cincinnati's Dave Concepcion won the shortstop position over Bert Campaneris of Oakland, 173 votes to 133.

Ferguson-Jenkins of the Texas Rangers was named the team's right-handed pitcher, outdueling Catfish Hunter 159-117. Nolan Ryan, the California Angels' strikeout king, finished a distant third with 53.

Baltimore's Mike Cuellar won in a breeze for the left-handed pitcher's slot. Cuellar collected 255 votes to 46 for his nearest rival, Detroit's John Hiller. Ken Holtzman of Oakland was third with 35.

The remainder of the team includes first baseman Steve Garvey of the Dodgers; second baseman Rod Carew of the Minnesota Twins; third baseman Mike Schmidt of the Philadelphia Phillies and catcher Johnny Bench of the Reds, all runaway winners.

Along with his phenomenal exploits that broke Wills' record, Brock's season included a .306 batting average, 106 runs scored and 194 hits.

Jackson blasted 29 home runs, knocked in 93 runs and batted .289 for the A's while Burroughs had his finest season at Texas with 25 homers, 119 RBI and a .301 batting average.

Concepcion drove in 82 runs and batted .281 for the Reds. Jenkins, a former 20-game winner in the National League, had a 25-12 record for the Rangers and boasted a 2.82 earned run average while striking out 225 batters. Cuellar won 22 games and lost but 10 for Baltimore while posting a 3.11 ERA.

Garvey, a landside victor over Dick Allen of the Chicago White Sox, 273 to 76, batted .312 while hitting 21 home runs and driving in 111 runs.

Carew, the majors' best hitter with a .364 average, also was the American League's best vote-getter with 306.

Schmidt drove in 116 runs and hit 36 homers for the Phillies. Bench blasted 33 homers and knocked in 129 runs to finish far ahead of the field at his catching position.

Still Baseball Time?

UNION, Ky. (AP) — The Luebbers' stadium up on the hill. It's really a skeleton of a stadium now. The fences, the foul poles and the dugouts are all in place, but there are no grandstands.

Luebbers has only 400 seats, but that's enough.

"There are only 250 people in Union," grinned Luebbers. "If I tried to rebuild the place with all those decks, every person in Union could have his own section."

The old scoreboard is going back in place as soon as the steel arrives and signs with 1970 prices grace the outfield walls. Luebbers spent $9,000 terracing his pasture and seeding it with bermuda grass.

In the past three years, local knothole teams have used the park. Luebbers himself is a coach. His team was 2-10 this year.

"Last winter the infield froze over and we ice-skated," said Luebbers, settling into one of the box seats which gives him a view not only of the field but out into the surrounding Blue Grass countryside.

"I hope that I can get this thing finished. It's becoming almost a compulsion with me."

Luebbers looked around.

"Then again, sometimes I get the feeling that I hope I'll never be able to say I got it all."

Princeton Names Tennis Coach

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — David A. Benjamin was named squash and tennis coach at Princeton University Monday.

Benjamin is a 1966 graduate of Harvard, where he was captain of the tennis team. Since 1970 he has worked as a head tennis pro while pursuing a doctoral degree at Harvard.

Princeton's squash team tied for the national championship last spring and its tennis squad placed 16th at the NCAA championships.

Morton Skips Workout With Dallas Cowboys

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys sought to trade reserve quarterback Craig Morton today who says "I don't want to sit around doing nothing."

The veteran Morton has been used sparingly during the season as a backup to Roger Staubach, playing only to hold for extra points and field goal attempts.

Morton signed a three-year contract with the Houston Texans of the World Football League—now the Shreveport Steamers.

"I'm tired of being wasted," Morton said Monday and refused to practice with the National Football League team.

Morton is playing out his option in his final year with Dallas.

"My failure to go to practice could hurt me... they might suspend me or something," Morton said. "But it's something I feel very strongly about. I don't do things halfway."

Rookie free agent Clint Longley of Abilene Christian is the only other quarterback on the Cowboy roster.

There was other news among the Cowboy reserve corps Monday as linebacker Rodrigo Barnes was placed on the injured reserve list. He advised the Cowboys that his personal physician says he needs knee surgery.

This comes after a run-in with Coach Tom Landry, who told Barnes not to come to practice "in the best interests of the team."

Barnes was unhappy because he hadn't beat out middle linebacker Leroy Jordan.

Dallas Player Dies Of Injury

DALLAS (AP) — Calvin Isaac of Dallas South Oak Cliff died Monday of a broken neck suffered in a school football game against Dallas Pinkston last Friday night in the Cotton Bowl.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Isaac and had attended Dallas schools since the family moved here several years ago from Cason in East Texas.

His coach, Norman Jett, said young Isaac suffered the injury in tackling a Pinkston player who was returning a kickoff.

"Calvin made the tackle and his head turned to the side in an awkward position," Jett related. "I knew it was very serious when we went out on the field. He asked me if he was going to die then."

"Eddie Lane, the Dallas Independent School District trainer, administered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation because he could not breathe.

"We knew it was a broken neck, and later at Parkland Hospital the doctors told us it broke the third and fourth vertebrae, severing the spinal cord."

Surgeons fused part of the youth's hip bone to the vertebrae in an unsuccessful effort to save his life.

U.S. To Defend Fem Golf Crown

LA ROMANA, Dominican Republic (AP) — The United States, with a team consisting of Cynthia Hill, Deborah Massey and Carole Semple, will open defense of its title today when golfers from 22 countries begin competition in the sixth Women's World Amateur Golf Team Championship at the Los Cajules course.

The U.S. won the title in 1972 in Buenos Aires with a team of Laura Baugh, Jane Bastanchury Booth and Mary Ann Budke.

The 6,212-yard, par-74 beachfront course was drenched by a brief but heavy rainstorm Monday which was accompanied by winds up to 50 miles per hour.

Weather War Ban Proposed

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — Malik said scientists had concluded that weather warriors blocks of bedrock from the continental shelf into deeper parts of the ocean. —Create "windows" in the ozone layer of the upper atmosphere letting deadly ultraviolet rays through to "selected parts of our planet." —Set off a nuclear explosion inside the arctic or antarctic ice cap, producing an ice slide that would "cause tidal waves capable of wiping ... whole areas from the face of the globe." —Stimulation of tidal waves by "dumping voluminous quantities of bedrock from the continental shelf into deeper parts of the ocean." —Creation of "acoustic fields" in some places, causing combat individual ships or whole flotillas. —The proposed convention would forbid use of "meteorological, geophysical or any other scientific or technological means of influencing the environment, including the weather and climate, for military purposes." It would specifically ban military rainmaking. Malik said the U.S. Defense Department estimated that American cloud seeding over Indochina boosted rainfall 30 per cent above normal in some places, causing floods, landslides and destruction of roads, dikes and bridges. The United States did not join in the sponsorship, but the U.S. representative at the committee session, Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., called Malik's speech "a superb statement."

CAMPAIGN LAW REPEALS SOME RESTRICTIONS— Curbs On Political Activity By State, Local Government Employees Are Eased By Provision

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal restrictions on political activity by state and local government employees have been eased by a little-noted provision of the new campaign financing law. But because of the multiplicity of state and local restrictions that remain in effect, this year's elections may well be over before all of the 5 million or more persons potentially affected know where they stand. The Hatch Act, which forbids virtually all political activity by employees of the federal government, also applied to those employees of states and their political subdivisions who received any part of their compensation from federal funds. Since federal funds have been flowing into state and local government employees through various grant-in-aid programs and more recent general revenue sharing plan, millions of employees formerly under full statutory provision or by rule of state and localities are now making personnel boards or similar authorities. In addition, many cities and other governmental units have their own rules. "It is very complicated," Kerr said in an interview. "... people will have to find out what their state, county and municipal procedures are."

Judge Blocks Nixon-Ford Accord On Tapes, Papers

WASHINGTON (AP) — A morning, did a little of what both sides asked but, as he predicted earlier, not enough to make either exactly happy. Richey enjoined the White House "from disclosing, transferring, disposing or otherwise making known to any person, be he she private citizen or public official, the materials, including documents, tapes and other papers, known as the 'presidential materials' of the Nixon administration." The court also specifically declared that the government is "hereby enjoined from effectuating the terms and conditions of the 'agreement' between Nixon and Ford over disclosure of the Nixon papers and tapes." Richey further declared that his order would not ban the delivery of Nixon materials for use in any civil or criminal court case or in answer to grand jury subpoena. Hearing Set

Interior Unit Says Impact Of Predicted Spills In New Leases Can't Be Detailed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department says it cannot spell out the full impact of oil spills that it predicts will occur when oil companies develop the 10 million offshore acres the department wants to lease. But Interior Secretary John C. Whitaker says the department's draft environmental impact statement is only doing its job in pointing out unanswered questions. The department said it could not yet supply individual impact statements for specific coastal areas off which drilling could occur. These would have to await separate environmental impact studies still to be prepared for the areas. Study Issued

CAMPAIGN ON WHEELS—George Nalley, Republican candidate for Congress from Washington's 6th District, is campaigning by wheelchair. Nalley, 51, was crippled in World War II. (AP Wirephoto.)

Tacoma Republican Runs For Congress Seat In Wheelchair

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — "My biggest handicap is that people think I don't get around," Nalley says. "But I'm very active. I go to all the fairs, I visit the ports and all the shopping centers."

Nalley, who retired 11 years ago from his family's food company, admits his handicap causes some campaign problems.

"The first question my staff has to ask when we're asked to speak is, 'How many steps are there?'" he said. "We have to turn down some events because we simply can't get into the building or room."

Nalley says he's detected no backlash by people who think his condition might keep him from doing a congressman's job.

"You don't have to get low-eyed and watch television all day just because you're crippled," he said. "You don't have to be institutionalized."

He said that if he is elected in the heavily Democratic district, his first priority as a congressman will be aid to the handicapped.

Fares On Transatlantic Flights To Rise Nov. 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans will have to pay an average of 10 per cent more in fares on scheduled transatlantic flights, beginning Nov. 1.

The Civil Aeronautics Board on Monday approved increases ranging from a low of 3.6 per cent for economy fares during the "shoulder" seasons that separate the summer and winter periods to a high of nearly 19 per cent for the 22-to-45 day excursion fares during the peak summer season.

The board also hiked the minimum rates it allows for charter flights from the United States over the Atlantic, effective for all charter flights in 1975. This move is designed to keep charter operations from substantially undercutting the rates of scheduled airlines.

The moves should result in substantial benefits to the nation's two largest international carriers — Pan American World Airways and Trans World Airlines. Both have complained that low charter rates and high fuel costs were making it difficult for them to make money on the Atlantic routes.

The economy fare for a scheduled New York-London round trip during the shoulder season will cost $628 after Nov. 1. It now costs $604.

The 22-to-45 day excursion fare will jump from the current $433 to $509 for peak season flights.

Dear Abby

—By Abigail van Buren—
How Do You Respond To News Of Divorce?

DEAR ABBY: What do you say to a dear friend when she tells you that her married daughter is coming home "for good?" I was speechless because there had never been a clue that all was not going well.

The daughter was the apple of her parents' eye, and only five years ago she made such a promising marriage. She has a darling 2-year-old child.

I was lost for words, Abby. I automatically said, "I'm so sorry." But if the marriage had to fail, I suppose it's better that it ended while they were both young enough to start over again. But what does a friend say in such a situation?

NO WORDS

DEAR NO: The less said the better. It's a kindness to ask no questions. And the most generous thing you can do for your friend (and her daughter) is to keep the young divorcee in mind should an eligible bachelor appear on the scene. Also include the daughter whenever possible, to keep her socially active.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow in my late 50s and I'm in love with a man who is younger. We work in the same office. He is married and has a family and he thinks he's an alcoholic.

He has come to my house after work on a Friday, gets drunk and stays drunk the whole weekend. Then he goes to work, goes home and stays sober for two or three months. He also attends Alcoholics Anonymous meetings.

I don't think he is a true alcoholic. I think he just likes to drink. I always have liquor available for him at my house which his wife does not. (She goes to those dumb meetings for wives of drunks.)

This has been going on for three years. How much longer must I wait before he leaves his wife and comes to live with me on a permanent basis? I love him and I believe he loves me. He says he loves his wife, but I think he feels pity and maybe some loyalty and obligation to her because she stuck with him for over 20 years.

Answer soon. I trust your judgment on most matters.

WEEKEND WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I think that he will never leave his wife for you. For one thing, he probably loves her deeply. She's proven that she loves him enough to stick with him. (Those "dumb" meetings she attends are Al-anon, whose function it is to teach spouses of alcoholics how to cope with the many problems alcoholism creates.)

You, on the other hand, are a convenience and a bad habit.

Cousteau To Study Pollution, Red Tide In Gulf Of Mexico

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Oceanographer Jacques-Yves Cousteau is planning an investigation of pollution and red tide in the Gulf of Mexico, a county official says.

Jerome Shipley, Monroe County commissioner-elect, said Monday that the Calypso, Cousteau's 114-foot research vessel, will arrive in Key West Nov. 3 or 4 to prepare for extensive studies of the Keys and the Florida Gulf Coast.

Shipley quoted Thomas F. Horton, director of special projects for Cousteau, as saying that the team will visit several Florida Gulf Coast ports in November in search of a permanent site for the ship.

Research will include shrimping and other fishing grounds, water quality, the flow of pollutants, and extensive investigation of the toxic organism that discolors water and kills other marine life, Shipley said.

The project will be a joint effort of Cousteau and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, which will provide satellite photographs and flights by high altitude planes, Shipley said.

Harris Housing Starts Off Sharply

HOUSTON (AP) — Housing starts in Harris County were down 20.1 per cent in the first nine months of the year, the Houston Chamber of Commerce reported Monday.

The report said 20,015 residential units were completed in the county through September, compared with 27,564 in the same period in 1973.

A wide variety of autos ranging from 1955 models to 1968 models will be up for sale.

Carlton explained that many of these cars just need fixing "and they will be sold in their current state only."

"The right is reserved to accept or reject all or part of any offer and to accept the offer most advantageous to the city," added Carlton.

Beef Development Task Force Seeks To Cut Consumer Costs

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A move is under way within the cattle industry to create a new program designed in part to improve the quality of beef and lower its cost to consumer.

Not coincidentally, the program also would include financial relief for cattle producers, beset by growing problems and under attack by budget-conscious housewives and others.

A Beef Development Task Force (BDT) is currently hammering out the details and leading the campaign to gain legislation permitting the beef cattle industry to implement a national development program.

As outlined by O. J. Barron Jr., a Spur, Tex., rancher and chairman of the task force, the program in effect would streamline delivery of beef from producer to consumer, trimming middleman costs along the way.

The plan calls for creation of a "beef board" to enforce collections from cattlemen to finance a sweeping promotion, education and research project.

Barron, here for a convention of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association, said the goal is to raise $30 million through a percentage assessment on cattle sold across the country.

"There would be a lot of benefits to the consumer if we could figure out how to modernize and obtain the utmost efficiency in moving beef from feedlots to the consumer," Barron said.

"There have been several efforts to set up some sort of national beef promotion program, but up until now the industry has not been able to put it over. Our weaknesses have become so glaring that the industry is ready to listen and to support a well-constructed program . . . and I think we'll have it within a year. General support for the idea is excellent."

Barron said the industry must develop unity and strength to market its product like other products in the country noting that at present livestock marketing is totally disorganized.

"We are not seeking excessive profits, but we do want a fair profit," he said.

"We are not asking for a cent from the government. The program would be industry financed with the beef board responsible for collecting and administering the fund."

Common Aims, Goals
Members of cattle-related organizations would be nominated from geographical areas around the nation and appointed to the board by the Secretary of Agriculture.

"We need the most united possible front in all beef products to work for common aims and goals," he said.

"Research and development is our responsibility and united we can take care of it and not expect the government to handle it."

And, he added, the consumer would be the ultimate beneficiary.

Pemex Chopper Crash Kills Seven

VILLAHERMOSA, Mexico (AP) — A helicopter belonging to Pemex, the state oil monopoly, crashed Monday in Southern Mexico, killing all seven occupants, as it flew between two new oil fields, authorities said today.

The crash occurred outside Pemex City, about 1,000 miles southeast of Mexico City. This area is between the state of Tlaxcala and the state of Chiapas, sites of Mexico's latest oil strikes.

All the victims were employees of Petroleos Mexicanos, the government oil agency.

Libya May Get 50 Soviet MIGs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Libya may receive as many as 50 advanced Soviet MIG23 jet fighters, U.S. intelligence sources report.

This would be the third Arab country to get the new swinging supersonic MIG23s. Russia sent some of these aircraft to Syria and Iraq last summer and has trained Syrian and Iraqi pilots to fly them.

U.S. intelligence men said provision of sophisticated MIG23s probably would mean an increase in the number of Soviet technicians and advisers in Libya from the present 100 to as many as 500.

Analysts said the Libyans, rich from oil income, are building up their armed forces with modern equipment for prestige purposes, but are incapable of maintaining or operating the gear by themselves.

According to U.S. intelligence, the Libyans already have received Soviet T62 tanks, armored personnel carriers and surface-to-air missiles, including the SA6, which scored against Israeli jets when fired by Syrian and Egyptian crews in last year's Mideast war.

Earlier, France sold Libya 110 Mirage fighters. Libya sent 26 of them to Egypt during the 1970 war and reports then told of Libyan Mirages taking part in air battles over the Sinai.

Castro Says Time Ripe For Bettering U.S.-Cuba Relations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro says he rejects the notion that his revolution has simply meant a switch from American to Soviet domination of the island.

In an interview with CBS Television scheduled for broadcast tonight, Castro compared the pre- and post-revolutionary situations in Cuba.

"The United States owned our mines," he said. "The United States was the owner of our electric power plants, our telephone companies, of the main transportation companies, of the principal industries, of the best lands..."

"The Soviets do not own a single mine in Cuba, not a single factory, not a single sugar mill, not one hectare of land, not a single bank, not a single utility."

Nonetheless, Castro indicated that the time may be ripe for an improvement in Cuban-American relations. In contrast to former President Richard M. Nixon, President Ford "is not involved with the Cuban counter-revolutionary elements," Castro said.

"Nixon was personally very much involved with them. And we see in Ford a man who is above this..."

"In our opinion, we see Ford with a certain hope in the sense that he may after all adopt a different policy towards Cuba, and that at least he does not have the personal involvement that Nixon had in this regard."

The lone prerequisite for discussions of a more normal relationship is the lifting of the economic blockade against Cuba, Castro said.

D. R. Mitchell, 22, Dies; Rites Today

Dennis Ray Mitchell, 22, was dead on arrival Saturday at an El Paso hospital from injuries received in what an El Paso peace justice ruled as a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

Services were at 1:30 p.m. today in the Newbie W. Ellis Chapel with interment in Fairview Cemetery.

A roughneck in the West Texas oilfields with Cactus Drilling Co., Mitchell was born Aug. 29, 1952, in Big Spring and had lived in Monahan.

He is survived by the widow; a son, Dennis Mitchell Jr. of Odessa; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mitchell of El Paso; three brothers, Bill Mitchell Jr. of Albuquerque, N.M., Roy Dal Mitchell of Midland and Mike Mitchell of El Paso, and a sister, Mrs. Marjorie Chittum of Buena Vista, Calif.

Palbearers were Gerald Henson, Earl Fowler, Bob Stockstill, Al Herrington, Robin Masters and A. J. Ramsey.

The Postman Always Rings Twice?—How About 7 Times?

DALLAS (AP) — Candy Postlethwaite thinks the seventh letter advising that "I did not know this person and this person did not live here..."

The check was returned once more, in a different envelope.

"Then I took it down to the White Rock (postal) station and gave it to the postmaster," she recounted. "And I got it back again. Then I took it down personally to the Veterans Administration, again—and I got it back, again."

"This was last week, and they told me to mail it to Kansas City where the check was issued along with a certified letter advising that 'I did not know this person and this person did not live here...'"

4th Grade Class Here Receives Letter From Ford

President Ford created a wave of excitement in Mrs. Norma Ross' fourth grade language arts class at Fannin Elementary School recently when a letter bearing the White House letterhead arrived at the school.

The President's long-awaited letter was in response to a letter the students had mailed to him in September. The youngsters' letter, penned by class secretary Mark Buttery, congratulated him and asked questions about the government.

Written on both sides of a sheet of chart paper and signed by 69 pupils, the letter to the White House also pledged the students' contribution to conservation by using both sides of their notebook paper for classroom work.

The President's letter, in return, praised the Fannin children from their interest and support. The letter was typed on White House stationery and signed by Ford, who also included an autographed color photograph.

Students were given copies of the presidential letter, and the original, as well as the photo, will be on display in the school library.
