South Coke Palo Pinto Strike Seen

Samedan Oil Corp., Midland, was drilling ahead below 5,396 feet in lime and shale on a 7,000-foot Ellenburger wildcat, after recovering gas and shows of oil on a drillstem test in the Palo Pinto at No. 1 Weaver, 1/4 mile northeast of the depleted one-well Weaver (Palo Pinto) field of Cooke County.

Tool was open one hour on the test taken from 5,270-5,345 feet. Recovery was 1,705 feet of gas, 215 feet of slightly oil-and-gas-cut mud and 970 feet of formation water. The sample chamber yielded .078 cubic feet of gas and 1,450 cubic centimeters of water.

The project spots 1,650 feet from north and 2,220 feet from east lines of section 6, EL&RR survey, 12 miles south of Robert Lee. Some maps may show M. Walden survey 6, Abstract 1827.

Wildcats Set In Crockett

Amoco Production Co. has staked two wildcat projects in South Crockett County.

No. 1-B Mrs. Laura Hoover, a scheduled 8,200-foot project, spots 1,320 feet from north and 1,396 feet from west lines of section 65, block MM, T&SL survey, abstract 3405, 25 miles southwest of Ozona. It is 1 1/4 mile southwest of the one-well American (Strawn) gas field.

No. 1-C J. B. Blankney, a planned 7,000-foot project, is three miles northwest of the JM (Ellenburger) gas field, 1,703 feet from north and 1,023 feet from west lines of section 63, block Q-2, GC&SF survey, abstract 3095, 30 miles southwest of Ozona.

Garza Discovery To Be Re-Entered

American Trading & Production Corp. (ATAPCO) has filed application to re-enter and plug back to wildcat depth of 8,055 feet, at its No. 1-A McCrary, opener and lone well in the Ginger-ATAPCO (Ellenburger) field of Garza County.

The well, which at last report was producing 33 barrels of oil per day, has been operated by Sun Oil Co., Colorado City.

It was completed Nov. 7, 1973 by American Trading & Production for 192 barrels of 40.2-gravity oil and 104 barrels of water per day, natural, through a 5 1/2-inch choke and perforations at 8,038-8,039 feet.

It was drilled to 8,067-feet, where 5 1/2-inch casing is seated, and was plugged back to 8,057 feet prior to completion.

Underground elevation of 2,393 feet, the Strawn was topped at 7,384 feet; Strawn "C" at 7,569; Mississippian lime at 7,725 and Ellenburger at 8,034 feet.

It spots 660 feet from south and 670 feet from east lines (Continued On Page 10B)

Texans To Name Officeholders To Four-Year Terms

By ROBERT E. FORD, Associated Press Writer (Related Story Page 8A)

Texans voted today for officeholders throughout the state and for the first time will name their political leaders for four-year terms instead of the previous two.

The estimate in advance of balloting was that about 2.75 million would vote. There are 5.4 million qualified. The fact that this is a midterm election without the usual presidential fireworks will keep the vote totals low.

Republicans entered most of the major races facing the serious problem of ousting incumbents in this generally Democratic state without the help of GOP presidential candidates.

A scattering of American, Raza Unida and Socialist Workers candidates was on the ballot.

As always, the race gaining most attention was for governor. Democratic Gov. Dolph Briscoe, 51, campaigned hardy at all except for appearances at luncheons and dinners as he does whether campaigning or not. He ended campaigning two weeks ago when his 86-year-old mother became seriously ill.

Jim Granberry, 42, Lubbock dentist, found emotional issues which would stir the voters hard to find. He said Briscoe has a liberal tilt which most voters found hard to believe. He also accused Briscoe of lack

Voting Light In City

Most of the registered voters in Midland County are taking a cue from voters across the nation — staying at home on this general election day on which several important local and statewide races are being decided.

At noon, a survey of voting precincts showed less than 10 per cent of the county's 34,745 registered voters had gone to the polls.

The unofficial voter total for Midland County's 28 boxes at noon was 2,948.

It is going to be a long day for the poll keepers if we don't have any more action the rest of the day than we had this morning," one precinct worker said.

Precinct 14, kept its historical record of being the busiest voting place in the city by registering 320 votes by 11:45 a.m. This box is the Garfield Street and Golf Course Road fire station.

Other precincts with more than 200 voters by noon included Precinct 8, Fannin Elementary School, 273; Precinct 15, Lee

Parts Of Texas Are Nipped By Frost, Freezing Weather

Parts of Texas were nipped by freezing weather and a few areas felt the season's first frost today.

With dry air enveloping the state in the wake of a cold front which had pushed on east into Louisiana, skies remained cloudy over Southeast and South Central Texas and part of Southwest Texas. It was clear in other sections.

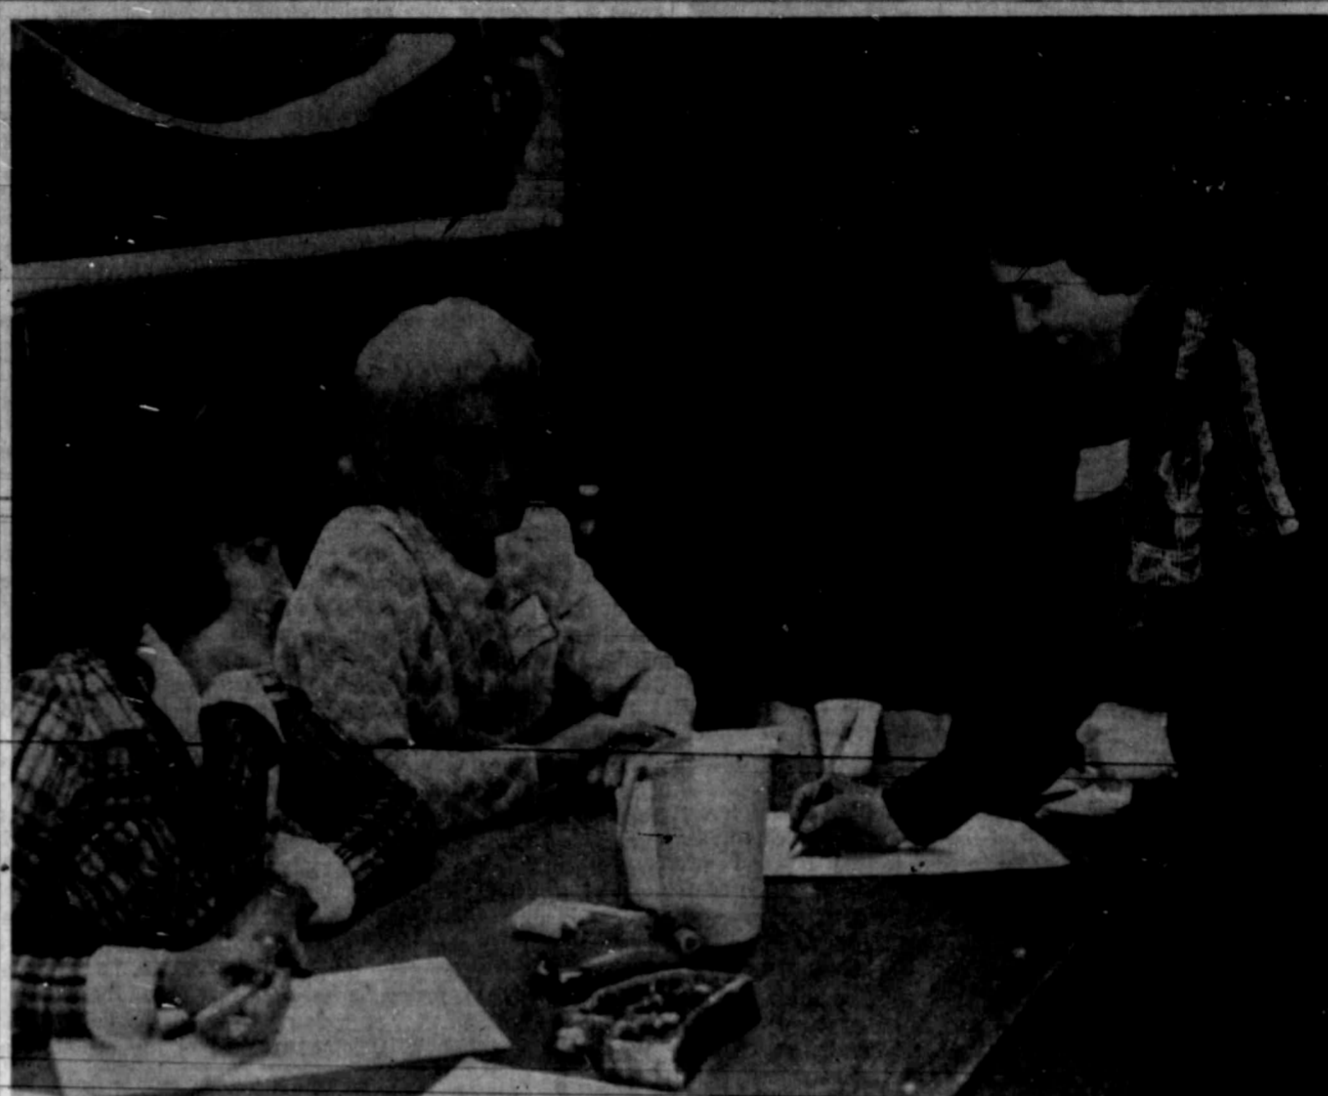

Midland received some spotty frost overnight, although temperatures only dropped to an official 42-degree mark, according to the National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal.

Bowater Increases Price Of Newsprint

NEW YORK (AP) — Bowater Sales Co. said today it would increase its price of 30-pound newsprint by $35 a ton to $270 a ton, effective Jan. 1.

Other newsprint producers in the United States and Canada previously had announced increases to $260 a ton, also effective Jan. 1.

"My fellow Americans, it has been a year of profound rise and fall, with a lot of uncertainty.

Coal Talks Collapse Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nationwide coal mine shutdown appeared all but certain after union negotiators walked out of contract talks early today and accused management of forcing a strike.

"With what they've handed us tonight, they've declared a strike in the coal fields," said President Arnold Miller of the United Mine Workers as he left a union caucus without notifying the mine owners waiting in a nearby room.

"There's not a sufficient amount of time left for ratification, and the membership would not ratify what they gave us," Miller declared.

Guy Farmer, chief negotiator for the Bituminous Coal Operators Association, later called Miller's statement "incredible," and said he couldn't "conceive how anyone could say what we gave them was a provocation for a strike."

The UMW's current contract covering 120,000 members in 25 states expires at 12:01 a.m. Nov. 12 and coal miners have a tradition of "no contract, no work."

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON (AP) — An FBI agent testified today that former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and former White House aide John D. Ehrlichman told him in the days following the Watergate break-in that they knew nothing about the break-in except what they had read in the newspapers.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's chief spokesman announced today that Henry E. Petersen, a key figure in the early stages of the Watergate investigation, is resigning as an assistant attorney general. At the same time, Press Secretary Ron Nessen refused to deny speculation that Ford is planning to replace Arthur Sampson as head of the General Services Administration.

With coal stockpiles already low, industry spokesmen say steel mills and coal-burning electric power plants would be hard hit by a strike.

The Ford administration has prepared strike contingency plans that call for diverting coal supplies from some electric power plants.

Israelis Kidnap Lebanese

BEIRUT (AP) — Israeli troops swooped down on the south Lebanon town of Majdaloun in helicopters at dawn today, blew up the village chief's house, then carried the man and his eldest son off to Israel.

"Both were known to have cooperated with terrorists," the Israeli government announced. It said Mukhtar Aref Suleiman and his 15-year-old son Ali were being detained for questioning.

Season Of Promises Comes To End For This Year At Least

provide the answer to most of our solar needs. "I pledge to break up the social club in Washington by limiting House members to two consecutive terms. "This year, not just mine alone. "I will not sign a fair campaign pledge because what I think the people want is not people pledging what they want to do but people doing what the voters want them to do. "What we really need in this country is not one more of my party in Congress. What we need is about 30 more. From northern states. "We need a foolproof minimum tax. "No matter what exemptions a person claims he still ought to pay an amount of tax commensurate with his high income. "I will cut by 20 per cent the $44,000 per year spent on my staff. "I will return 10 per cent of my $42,500 salary. "The salaries of congressmen should be cut by 5 per cent each year the federal budget is not balanced. "Social Security should be replaced with savings bonds, and the government should mature these bonds by giving the money to banks. "Finally, my fellow Americans: "I object to surveys on voting records and demand a retraction from every newspaper, radio and television station in my district. "Thank you."

Youngster Poisoned Halloween

PASADENA, Tex. (AP)—Police today charged Ronald Clark O'Bryan, 30, in the trick-or-treat poisoning of his 8-year-old son.

The boy died Thursday night after eating cyanide in candy collected at Halloween.

Police arrested O'Bryan, an optician who lives in neighboring Deer Park, late Monday night and charged him with murder.

A clerk in the office of Justice of the Peace V. L. West confirmed that charges had been filed and said O'Bryan was being held in jail in lieu of $100,000 bond.

A source in the investigation said the charge was filed against O'Bryan after he took a polygraph lie detector test Monday and officers discovered he had recently taken out a $38,000 life insurance policy on his son.

His son, Timothy M. O'Bryan, died late Thursday night after eating cyanide in a package of powdered candy.

Poison was also found in four other similar candy containers collected by other trick-or-treating youngsters Halloween night.

O'Bryan told police after his son returned from trick-or-treating with his sister, Elizabeth, 5, and three other youngsters, he ate some candy just before going to bed. Immediately after eating the candy, he began vomiting. O'Bryan said. The youth died a short time later in a Pasadena hospital.

O'Bryan had accompanied his son and other children trick-or-treating on the night of the boy's death.

Pasadena detective Capt. R. E. Rhodes would not say where O'Bryan was arrested nor what evidence police had against him. To do so, Rhodes said, would jeopardize the case against O'Bryan.

"At this time, we cannot comment as to any other aspect of this case or any statements made by any of the parties involved due to the legal aspects involved," Rhodes said.

"The Pasadena Police Department would like to praise the conscientious cooperation of the citizens of the neighborhood where the investigation was conducted and the many offers of assistance from citizens.

"We must not comment further for fear of jeopardizing the case," he said.

Northern Natural Gas Donates $10,000 To Petroleum Museum

A $10,000 cash contribution from Northern Natural Gas Co. to the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library and Hall of Fame was announced here Monday noon.

The check presentation occurred at a Petroleum Club luncheon given by Northern Natural and attended by executives of its Midland office and officials of the museum.

Jack W. Seaman, area manager, Operating Division, said, in presenting the check, that Northern Natural is proud and pleased to make the contribution and happy to have a part in such a "tremendously significant project, which will mean so much to Midland, the Permian Basin Empire and the petroleum industry."

He said his firm also will be glad to make available to the museum, on a permanent or temporary basis, any pieces of equipment it might desire which the museum might desire for display purposes.

Russell Ramsland, president of the museum's board of trustees, responded for the museum, thanking Northern Natural for its generous gift to and all-out support of the museum, which now is under construction in south Midland.

He assured Northern Natural that its contribution will be used wisely and in the best interest of the museum, "which will be a credit to the oil and gas industry as well as to the community and region."

He said it will be an educational facility of the first order, demonstrating to all who visit it a complete, factual story of petroleum in all its phases, along with industry problems, challenges and achievements.

Shopping Center Zoning Approved

Midland's proposed new shopping center and residential development, Louis Rochester's Skyline Terrace, gained final plat approval by the Planning and Zoning Commission Monday.

Rochester's planned development of 155 acres in North Midland has been under consideration by the commission for its last three meetings, but it took less than 15 minutes for the final plat to meet with the commission's approval Monday.

George Wolf, director of the Planning Department, said considerations by the city's engineering department for a sewer line placement in the development disclosed it was better left where the development engineers had proposed.

Bomb Explosion Kills Milwaukee Newspaper Carrier

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A newspaper carrier was killed today when a bomb placed on a car exploded on his Northwest Side delivery route, police said.

Police said the bomb, in a plain cardboard box, exploded when it was moved by the victim, identified as a 15-year-old carrier for the Milwaukee Sentinel.

Authorities said the youth apparently became curious when he saw the box at the late model car at the curb as he made his deliveries around 6:15 a.m.

tric utilities to other industries, an embargo on coal exports and voluntary power cutbacks.

Miller left the negotiations at the Hay-Adams Hotel at 1:30 a.m. today, saying he was going to go home and get some rest. A union spokesman said no further talks were scheduled.

The UMW reportedly is seeking a settlement at least equal to the 38 to 42 per cent wage and benefit increase over three years won by steelworkers earlier this year.

Coal Talks—

Most noneconomic issues had been resolved by last week, including the union's priority for improving mine safety.

The main outstanding issues are wages and a cost-of-living escalator clause and sick pay, two things which many industrial unions now have but which the UMW does not.

Coal miners currently earn between $41 and $50 a day.

Poster Boy Gets Autographed Ball

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has autographed a football for 12-year-old Brian Molloy of the Bronx, N.Y., who is the national poster child for the November Epilepsy Foundation fund-raising drive.

The freckled-faced youngster, who has had epilepsy since infancy but is able to lead an active life, is a Little League ball player.

Nixon Walks In Hospital Room

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon has taken his first halting steps since his brush with death after phlebitis surgery.

But Nixon's personal physician, Dr. John C. Lungren, still describes Nixon's condition as serious. And a hospital spokesman says Nixon may be placed under intermediate care, an almost-normal classification, Wednesday if he continues to improve.

American Firm Set Afire In Rome

ROME (AP) — A group of youths today stormed the Rome office of the electronic firm Honeywell, beat up a woman employee and hurled a Molotov cocktail, setting the place afire.

It was the fourth attack against an American target in four days.

'PLANNED DISTRICT' ASKED— Zoning Panel, Developer Reach Accord

By GEORGE MASSEY
The Midland Planning and Zoning Commission reached a compromise Monday with an apartment complex developer following his much-protested request for multiple family zoning in the 3900 block of West Illinois Street.

A standing room only audience was on hand for the public hearing to consider the request by Amos A. Sanderson, vice president of Wood Brothers Homes.

Sanderson told the commission that his firm wanted to build a 120-plus unit apartment complex similar to the Valencia Villa which was completed by his firm earlier this year. The present 130-unit Valencia Villa is located immediately to the west of Sanderson's proposed new complex in the 4000 block of West Illinois Street.

"Planned District"
After hearing the proposed request and the unified citizens' protest group the commission told Sanderson that a compromise was in line. The commission asked Sanderson to come back with a "planned district" in lieu of the request for multiple family zoning.

Sanderson said that the commission's request for a planned district was a "good idea" and said he would "follow suit with the new approach immediately."

The request for multiple family zoning was attacked by the group of citizens living in the immediate area of the proposed development. Their protests centered on the three major issues — quality of the structure — increased traffic and parking problems and the lowering of property values to residential homes in the area.

St. told the commission his reason for opposing the request, "I agree there is a housing problem in Midland, but I object to the quality and type of apartments being built there (4000-3900 blocks of West Illinois Street)."

Bowden told the commission that residential homes in the immediate area of the proposed apartments were valued at "$30,000 to $40,000" and that he would be less inclined to protest the proposed apartment development "if I could be sure that a structure of quality design and upkeep would be placed there."

E. J. Gardner, 3509 W. Illinois St., presented a petition to the commission signed by the area home owners who also protested the apartment development.

would be closely controlled and guided by Midland's own planning and zoning personnel.

In another request by developer G. H. Lawless Jr., the commission took the opposite approach and told Lawless to withdraw his request for a planned district and stick to the present IF2 zoning on his property in the 3200 block of Haynes Drive.

Lawless requested the planned district in order to build 24 townhouses on the 15-lot block. His request was heavily protested by single family home owners in the immediate area of the proposed townhouse development.

Kidnaped Boy Safe; Abductor Arrested

IRVING, Tex. (AP) — A 5-year-old boy, abducted while walking his dog and held for $10,000 ransom, has been found wrapped in a blanket and hidden in a garage attic, police said today.

A 15-year-old boy was arrested in the abduction after police used electronic equipment to trace ransom phone calls made to Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Lacy, the young boy's parents.

"Planned District"
After hearing the proposed request and the unified citizens' protest group the commission told Sanderson that a compromise was in line. The commission asked Sanderson to come back with a "planned district" in lieu of the request for multiple family zoning.

Sanderson said that the commission's request for a planned district was a "good idea" and said he would "follow suit with the new approach immediately."

The request for multiple family zoning was attacked by the group of citizens living in the immediate area of the proposed development. Their protests centered on the three major issues — quality of the structure — increased traffic and parking problems and the lowering of property values to residential homes in the area.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A memo attributed to E. Howard Hunt Jr. shows that Hunt thought he and the other original Watergate burglars expected to be pardoned for their crime two months before they went on trial for the burglary.

According to the memo introduced at the Watergate cover-up trial, the seven original break-in defendants also knew they were being paid for their silence about the involvement of higher-ranking Nixon re-election committee officials in the June 17, 1972, burglary.

High Oil Prices Revive Idea Of Guayule As Rubber Source

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Ahead for rubber which also comes from oil," said Robert Hilgeman, a UA horticulturist.

Dennis urged reevaluation of guayule through a "modest research program."

Hilgeman directed the experimental plots of guayule during the war and recalled Monday that scientists were getting up to 300 pounds of rubber per acre toward the end of the program.

Cigarettes Taken In Station Burglary

Several packages of cigarettes were taken in the Monday night burglary of a Chevron Service Station at 1313 N. Lamesa Rd.

Lionel Valdez, 3508 Fairmont St., told officers that the front of the cigarette machine and the gumball machine had been smashed.

Lithuanian Sailor May Be Coming To America Again

MOSCOW (AP) — A Lithuanian sailor who tried to defect to an American ship four years ago but was returned to a Russian ship captain was reported to have left today for the United States.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said "no comment" when asked to confirm the report from a friend of Simas Kudirka that the former sailor had left. The embassy would be involved because Congress made Kudirka an American citizen after it was discovered that his mother was born in Brooklyn.

Children May Be Smarter Than You Think

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Third and fourth graders at Circle Park Elementary School had no problems in finding reasons when asked to explain, "Why should my parents vote tomorrow?"

Most of their answers on Monday made sense. Some of the spelling did not.

One fourth grader got his message across despite the liberties he took with spelling.

"My parents should vote because it is getting involved in something in helping the government and congress at the same time," he wrote.

She concluded, "My mother does not vote. That is why I am writing."

As one fourth grader put it: "What if someone got lazy and didn't vote and someone is elected you don't like; it's your fault. So vote and they might choose the one you like!"

And one third grader concluded with the thought and challenge, "We need someone who doesn't make the country any worse than it is. So come out and vote!"

Consultation On Church Merger Meets In Plenary

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A chairman, said the 12-year-old COCU organization is an "infant" and people should not be distressed that union does not take place quickly.

"What is exciting," said Crow in an address to the opening session Monday, "is that among the 36 union negotiations in progress around the world this represents a unique approach. No other negotiation entrusts so much to the congregations as Christians in their locales."

Laborite Regime Weathers Test

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor government has weathered its first challenge in the new parliament, defeating by 14 votes a Conservative motion to block its plans to nationalize the shipbuilding and aircraft industries and acquire a 51 per cent interest in the development of North Sea oil.

The vote was 310-296 on the Conservative motion.

Dear Abby

—By Abigail van Buren

Sisters Want Same Man, Man Wants Both Sisters

DEAR ABBY: This problem concerns my two sisters. One is 28 and the other is 22. The man involved (I'll call him Steve) is 38.

Steve has been living with my 28-year-old sister for about ten years. They have five children but they never got married. Steve has been running around with my 22-year-old sister ever since she was 17, and now she's pregnant. My older sister knows about it but there isn't a thing she can do. Steve and the younger sister are sneaking around, but everybody knows what is going on.

My older sister says she loves Steve no matter what, and my younger sister says the same thing. Steve says he loves them both.

I think both my sisters are nuts, and I'm not so sure about Steve. If you have any ideas on how to straighten out this mess in my family I sure wish you would let me know.

DEAR ABBY: I've been dating this attractive, well-to-do bachelor for about six months. (I'm a widow.) My problem is that I'm the giver and he's the taker.

I have bought him several nice gifts just to let him know I'm thinking of him, but he has not bought me a thing. He spends a fortune on himself, so it's not that he doesn't like to shop. And he has great taste.

Whenever he gets a gift from me he seems pleased and says something like: "I really should give you something, but you know how busy I am." Or: "I saw something in a store window yesterday and would have bought it for you, but the store was closed."

Abby, I can afford to buy anything I need, but it would mean so much to get a little gift from him. Why can't he get around to buying me something when he knows how happy it would make me?

THE SISTER IN BETWEEN

DEAR SISTER: As I see it, both your sisters want the same man, and neither one will give him up—even if it means sharing him with the other. The man can't decide which sister he wants, so he keeps them both. If they are satisfied with this sick setup which includes a flock of children out of wedlock, I can't see what there is to "straighten out."

DEAR WAITING: Some men hate to shop for gifts for ladies. Other men are thoughtless. And some are just plain cheap. After Christmas, let me know what you got in your stocking besides your leg, and I'll give you a reading on this attractive, well-to-do busy bachelor.

DEAR ABBY: Who said, "To be thought rich is as good as to be rich"?

DEAR ROD: W. M. Thackeray. But he was wrong. Those who are only thought to be rich don't have to pay the rich man's taxes.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this newspaper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

DEAR POLLY: I have three children under the age of seven and am well aware of the frequency of minor knee injuries that befall this age group. Until recently I was plagued with the impossible task of protecting these injuries so they could heal properly. Now I save matted socks or worn-out ones. I find they make wonderful flexible stay-on knee pads, providing the heels are intact. Cut the toe off a sock and pull the heel of the sock over the child's bandaged knee. He can play unrestrained and mother is assured that the wound is properly covered. —LILLIAN.

You will receive a dollar if Polly uses your favorite home-making idea, Pet Peeve, Polly's Problem or solution to a problem. Write Polly in care of this newspaper.

DEAR POLLY: I have some ideas for Nora who has all those aluminum foil pans. Glue deep bottle caps (such as come on cutups) around the edges of such a pan. Place a container for water in the center. Put paint in the caps and the aspiring artist has palette.

Cut the bottom bars from a couple of wire coat hangers, leaving an inch on each end. Punch holes near the ends of foil cake pans and insert the cut wires on the hangers. Add feed, hang on tree branches and

How can we settle this?

STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: You do the moving. It's a lot easier to transplant a lilac bush than an evergreen tree.

New Orleans Dinner Served

The Bon Appetit Gourmet Group of the Midland American Association of University Women, met for a candlelight dinner Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Bruce Pope, 2312 W. Storey St.

Co-host couples were Mr. and Mrs. E. Jay Holm, Mr. and Mrs. David Whytlaw and Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Woods.

The C'est la cuisine Creole menu from famous New Orleans restaurants featured hors d'oeuvres of marinated artichoke hearts, smoked oysters, stuffed green olives, piquante cheese straws and pitted black olives.

The soup de jour was Bayou crab bisque a la Louisiane.

The entree was chicken Maitland with pecan sauce served over Cajun rice accompanied by Creole shrimp stuffed eggplant. The Vieux Carre avocado and escarole salad was served with frog rolls and Beurre. The dessert was flaming Cherries Jubilee au cognac and chicory Cafe Noir demitasse.

Guests attending were Major and Mrs. E. K. Browning Jr., Mrs. and Mrs. Jeri Carson, Dr. and Mrs. George Berry, Mrs. Jimmy Floyd, Mr. and Mrs. Barton Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Larsen, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jones, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Gau, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Largent.

Party Honors Miss Whisnand

Deborah Jo Whisnand, bride-elect of Robert Archie Stinson, was the honoree at a bed and bath shower given Saturday in the home of Mrs. Winston Barclay, 2413 Seaboard St.

Miss Whisnand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Whisnand, 2313 Seaboard St., and Stinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Stinson of Montgomery, Ala., will be married in December in the First Baptist Church.

Co-hostesses to the party were Mrs. Ross Owen, Mrs. E. E. McKenzie, Mrs. William H. Crowe, Mrs. Elton Ramsey and Mrs. Hazel Russell.

Royal blue and avocado, the honoree's chosen colors, were used in the decorations.

Special guests included the honoree's mother, her grandmothers, Mrs. Jodie Baker of Breckenridge, and Mrs. Mabel Clements of San Angelo, and an aunt, Mrs. J. D. Jones of San Angelo.

House party members included the sister of the honoree, Deanna Whisnand, and Jan Owen.

Senior Citizens' Bazaar Planned Saturday In Mall

Members of the Midland Senior Citizens' Center have been creating original items for the Senior Center Bazaar to be held Saturday at the Dellwood Plaza Mall.

Mrs. Wayne Campbell, bazaar chairman, has announced items for the sale will include handmade Christmas ornaments of every description, from fragile crocheted snowflakes to elaborate beaded balls. Mrs. Bernice Huey, needlework chairman, and her seamstresses have created other handmade items, and will have two large quilts on display, in addition to cushions, potholders and aprons.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to benefit the Senior Citizens' Center, which is located in the First Christian Church. The center is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Mondays through Fridays and has become known for its community service programs. The center was the "launching pad" for the Midland Meals on Wheels program and the adult education program, being developed by Midland College.

Mrs. Marion Fisher, Midland director of Senior Services, and Kathie Murphy, director of the bazaar, will be available at the bazaar to answer questions about activities of the center.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Tot Uses Milk To Water Plants

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY: My daughter, 1½, decided to share her milk with several of my house plants. Now they have a sour milk smell and mold on the soil. Is there any way to get rid of this odor without having to replot the plants. —Mrs. M. R.

DEAR POLLY: I hope manufacturers of electric blankets will note my Pet Peeve. When I want to change the dial on my blanket during the night I find I cannot see the numbers without the light on or at least putting on my glasses. With all the present day know-how it seems someone could come up with an answer for this. Here's hoping. —ELEANOR.

DEAR POLLY: I have some ideas for Nora who has all those aluminum foil pans. Glue deep bottle caps (such as come on cutups) around the edges of such a pan. Place a container for water in the center. Put paint in the caps and the aspiring artist has palette.

Cut the bottom bars from a couple of wire coat hangers, leaving an inch on each end. Punch holes near the ends of foil cake pans and insert the cut wires on the hangers. Add feed, hang on tree branches and

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Tuesday, Nov. 5, election day. It is the 369th day of 1974 and there are 56 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1940, President Franklin Roosevelt was elected to an unprecedented third term.

On this date — In 1665, Guy Fawkes, a conspirator, was seized as he was about to blow up the British House of Lords.

In 1872, Susan B. Anthony, the women's suffragist, voted for Ulysses Grant for President. Women did not have the vote and she was fined $100 for illegal voting.

In 1912, Woodrow Wilson was elected President.

In 1930, American novelist Sinclair Lewis was awarded the Nobel Prize for Literature.

In 1940, election returns were televised for the first time.

In 1946, a new career in politics began as John Kennedy was elected to the U.S. House of Representative at the age of 29.

Ten years ago: A U.S. space probe, Mariner Three, was launched toward Mars, but failed due to a malfunction.

Five years ago: Anti-war demonstrators were driven away from a research laboratory at Massachusetts Institute of Technology by several hundred policemen.

One year ago: Dirty trickster Donald Segretti was sentenced to six months in prison.

Today's birthdays: Philosopher and historian Will Durant is 89 years old. Former cowboy star Roy Rogers is 62.

Thought for today: When anger rises, think of the consequences — Confucius.

Car-School Bus Crash Kills Three; Seven Pupils Hurt

HOUSTON (AP) — A car and a school bus collided head-on late Monday in east Harris County, killing a mother and her two small children.

Seven pupils in the bus received minor injuries.

Killed were Martha Elliott, 27, of Liberty, Deanna Lynn Elliott, 5, and Doug Elliott, 3, occupants of the car.

State Policeman Donald Brent said Mrs. Elliott, driving a foreign compact car, was westbound, and the bus was eastbound on U.S. Highway 90 about two miles west of the Liberty County line when the accident occurred.

Leana Culligan Miles of Crosby, the bus driver, said she had about 40 children from Crosby Elementary and Crosby High School on the bus.

The seven injured pupils included a 17-year-old boy and six girls, ages 8 to 14. Most were treated at hospitals and released.

Hunt Cattlemen To Meet Tonight

GREENVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Hunt County cattlemen will gather tonight to form a chapter of the newly organized Independent Cattle Raisers Organization (ICRO).

Bill Myre of Caddo Mills, said Monday night that Hunt County will be in a 16-county district of the ICRO.

The new group, organized into 15 districts, was started in Goliad in South Texas this past summer and is trying for 250,000 members across Texas.

The cattlemen's goals are the halting of beef imports and the organization of a politically active national marketing association.

Tardy Lawyers, Jurors Fined

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Four Lower Rio Grande Valley lawyers and two federal court jurors were fined Monday when they were late for courtroom appearances.

U.S. District Court Judge Reynaldo Garza fined the lawyers $100 each for contempt of court and levied $50 fines each on two jurors who were late for court Monday.

The lawyers who were fined were identified as Aaron Pena of Edinburg, Graham McCullough of Harlingen, Robert Kern III and John Lewis of McAllen.

Lee YC Chatter

By TANYA JONES, BECKY HALL & LINDA EWAN
 We did it! We "Baffled the Bigheads," "Mashed Mojo," "Pinked the Panthers" and "Pulverized Permian." What more can you say besides WE'RE NO. 1!
 It was more than a defeat of Permian, it was also a defeat of student apathy. Everyone pitched in to support our team in this exciting victory.
 To finish a perfect night, lots of smiling faces were seen dancing to the music of "Menay" after the game at the Youth Center. Thanks go to Brenda Cary, Sharla Feagan, Charisa Gregory, Dani Wright, Kandi Murphy and Jean Ashland for cleaning up Saturday morning.

Be sure to keep your smiles on and spirits high for another exciting game this Friday night at Memorial Stadium, when the Mighty Maroon Platoon "Egg the Abilene Eagles!" The J.V. game will be in Abilene at 1:30 p.m. Saturday. Go get 'em Rebs!

Thanks also go to the Dixie Sixty for seeing to the victory flags. Be sure and go by the flagpole next to the field house and see the newest addition to our growing victory collection.
 Rebelettes will have squad meetings at 7:45 a.m. Wednesday. Bring orders for the maroon handkerchiefs being sold not only at Booster Club, but also at the games. This is a good way for ALL Rebel supporters to show the other teams our rousing Rebel spirit.

The Lee High Speech and Drama Squad did some mighty fine talking and acting at Odessa. They came home with a 2nd place trophy out of 23 teams. They do a lot of hard work getting ready for these tournaments, and we are all real proud of ya'.

Hope everyone will hit the books hard and do well on their 12-week finals. Just keep thinking about the student holidays next Friday, Monday, and Tuesday. We've got a rest due to us after such hard tests. Good luck, teachers!

Mr. Collins' Squadron 747 (Aviation Explorer Post) will meet at 8 p.m. today at Hank's Flight Service. It's at the Terminal, so everyone be there on time.

The choir thanks all of those who gave of their time and efforts in making the spook house the best yet. All attending enjoyed themselves as they personally met Frankenstein and his friends, and ran from other indescribable creatures. Just wait 'til next year!
 Keep up the spirit so all can hear it!

Tanya
 Becky
 Linda
 P.S. Hope that Scott Meaders will be up and about real soon. Glad to see Jim around again!
 P.S.S. Happy Birthday to Scott Zimmerman and B.B.
 P.S.S.S. "100 Club" will not meet tonight.

Democratic Panel Slates Challenge Hearing Thursday

HOUSTON (AP) — A Texas at-large delegation's challenge to the Democratic Party's miniconvention at Kansas City in December will be heard here Thursday by a special panel of the national committee.
 A five-member panel, headed by Charles Ward, national committeeman from Arkansas, will hear the arguments.

Billie Carr, national committeewoman from Houston and a leader of the liberal challenge, claims the 14 at-large delegates and 12 alternates were handpicked by Gov. Dolph Briscoe.
 A challenge by Joe Bernal, former San Antonio State senator, also will be heard by the committee. He contends the miniconvention fails to include a representative number of Mexican Americans.

Buildup Of Cotton Reserves Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reduced demand for cotton, both domestically and for export, points to a substantial buildup in U.S. reserves by the time another crop is ready in 1975, according to Agriculture Department analysts.
 By next Aug. 1, the beginning of the cotton crop year, the reserve could be around five million bales, compared with 3.5 million on hand last Aug. 1 and the most for the date since 1970.

He Made The Rounds

No one can say that President Ford did not go all-out in campaigning for the Republican party and for a "cooperative Congress."

He has criss-crossed the nation, stopping and speaking at various points where he could help the cause of GOP candidates for Congress, both House and Senate, and various statehouses.

He has done his part in the election crusade. It now is up to the voters.

But regardless of the effectiveness of his campaign for others, the President certainly must be well pleased with the grand receptions accorded him at his various stops across the land. This is as it should be. Mr. Ford is the President of the United States, and he merits the recognition accorded him.

There are some persons, of course, who perhaps think he should be attending to business in the White House rather than making what once were called "whistle stop" campaign tours. Others have said that he has used a tremendous amount of gasoline in his airplane trips, while at the same time urging others to conserve fuel.

But they forget that this is election time, when campaigning of this nature is in keeping with the American tradition. Most any campaigner will defend such electioneering as essential in the system of things. Cutbacks in the use of fuels perhaps will begin tomorrow, as traffic ceases on the campaign trail.

And just in case you had forgotten . . . this is election day. If you haven't done your duty, please do.

Coffee Is O.K.

It's a grand and glorious feeling to learn that persons who make studies of such things say that no link has been found between coffee and cardio-vascular problems.

Researchers are quoted as saying that healthy persons who gave up coffee for fear it caused heart disease, safely can resume having an extra cup with their breakfast.

In a major, 12-year study of almost 4,500 persons, "it was concluded that coffee-drinking, as engaged in by the general public, is not a factor in the development of atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease," the report of the researchers says.

Isn't this great, particularly at a time when seemingly so many of the good things to eat and drink are declared unhealthy, or at least not in the best interest of one's physical condition.

It should be pointed out, however, that no conclusion can be drawn about the possible effect of coffee on persons who already have heart disease. Better check with your doctor on this one.

Meanwhile, let's go get a cup!

WASHINGTON—The secret economic war against Chile's late Salvador Allende is described in some fascinating documents that we have obtained. They tell how the U.S. used economic subversion to undermine the Allende government and set the stage for a military coup.

The documents raise the question of whether the U.S. has been trying covertly to pauperize left-wing governments and replace them with military dictatorships around the world.

The story began with the 1970 election of the leftist Allende. Although he was freely elected, his Marxist views were distasteful to Washington.

They were even more distasteful to International Telephone and Telegraph, which correctly anticipated Allende would seize its Chilean holdings.

The conglomerate, therefore, sought to enlist the Central Intelligence Agency in an undercover conspiracy against Allende.

We reported in March of 1972 that ITT wanted to "promote economic collapse in Chile" and "force a military coup." This is precisely what happened 18 months after we wrote it. The story of how it happened can now be told.

At first, American Ambassador Nathaniel Davis cabled from Chile that the "prospects of military intervention for the foreseeable future are extremely small."

Public opposition would have to become "so overwhelming and disconcerting" that secret cables stressed that military intervention is overwhelming invited. It is held that military will wait for this public repudiation to become more clear.

The U.S. then began to create the "discontent" that Davis had advised would be necessary. Secretly and systematically, the U.S. sought to bankrupt the Allende government by denying multi-national bank loans for Chile.

As the largest contributor, the U.S. virtually controls the Inter-American Development Bank. A secret congressional study now states that the bank, which is supposed to disregard the politics of borrowing nations, cut off loans to the Allende government for almost three years.

As evidence that this was politically inspired, the bank quickly granted $97.3 million in loans to the new military leaders after they overthrew Allende last year.

The World Bank, headed by former Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, also refused Allende loans. But the congressional study found this consistent with traditional World Bank policies against granting loans to nations with dubious credit ratings.

However, we have obtained secret World Bank minutes, which apparently were not available to the congressional experts. These show that McNamara came under fire behind closed doors for withholding loans from the Allende government.

The 54-page congressional study, prepared by the Library of Congress, charges that the Inter-American bank totally cut

TOM TIEDE Waste Described As American As Apple Pie

WASHINGTON (NEA)—When I was an Army lieutenant, assigned one day to the rifle range, my platoon ended the training exercise with thousands of rounds of leftover ammunition. I ordered it loaded on the trucks to be returned to stock, but my sergeant begged a reconsideration.

"If we take it back," he said, "we'll have to inventory it, that means paper work and that means late hours. Let's just shoot it up." And so we did, several hundred dollars worth, bang-bang, into a soil bank behind the targets.

No telling how many millions or billions of rounds have been wasted similarly by other idiot lieutenants and sergeants, but assuredly the number is large.

One of the lessons of service duty, is that conservation is a pain in the neck. Extravagance, on the other hand, is encouraged with rewards by the system.

And so it is also in the society at large. To some measure anyway. The nation has enjoyed prosperity for so long, prosperity meaning the rapid turnover of market goods, that frugality has taken on a comical connotation.

Indeed, so insistent is the social leadership concerning waste, it has developed the mechanics of built-in obsolescence; it is far less expensive in the long run, as auto salesmen find joy in explaining, to purchase a car every two years and forego the need to shell out for repairs on "older" models.

Now it's painfully apparent the hens of our immorality have come home to roost. Suddenly, with shortages everywhere, conservation is the vogue. Gerald Ford reminds us that many nations of the world could grow fat off our garbage alone. Yet for all the emergency emphasis, the thousands of prudent suggestions mailed to the White House, the revelation by the lady of one of our administrators that she too is "rubbing soap bars to teeny-weensy pieces," the effort remains blocked by national habit and policy.

Banks, as example, are forced by U.S. law to thump the thrifty and pay the wastrels. If a citizen takes out a $1,000 loan, he is allowed to deduct the interest on the debt from his tax return; if he puts $1,000 in savings, however, he must forfeit part of the interest earnings to the IRS. Is not the lesson here clear? You cannot promote prosperity, as Lincoln said, by discouraging thrift.

Other illustrations of such inanity abound. Power companies promote waste by reducing rates for bulk consumption.

The man who insulates his home to conserve fuel is socked with higher taxes on an improved dwelling. The single individual who eats less than the large economy size pays more for smaller quantities.

Even retired people, who by their time of life deserve a rest from the ridiculous, are prevented from saving by a Social Security law which discourages them from earning enough outside money to sock some away.

The situation, bogged in a complex swamp of laws and

RALPH NOVAK Now, Here's A Low-Food Diet For All Americans

NEW YORK (NEA) — With any vegetable oil left around, food prices rising as fast as don't waste it on the salad; try and make gasoline out of it.

REAL STEW — Take 300 feet of newsreel film of farmers killing animals and then burying them to protest low prices. Blend well with 300 feet of tv commercial film of retailers promising to keep prices down: if you have $18 or so, buy a chicken wing and toss it in the pot. Add 39 pounds of pepper and 11 bottles of Tabasco sauce; this will keep anyone from eating too much and stretch the stew. Which should remind you to add some rubber pencil erasers for substance. Think about how well you used to eat, them simmer for six hours. Simmer the stew for six hours, too.

BREAD ALONE — Buy a plane ticket to the Soviet Union. Go there and see if you can find some wheat we may have sold the Russians lately. Bring back a few bushels and make some flour. Congratulations, you are about to become a millionaire.

COFFEE FREE — Boil a pot of water. Serve, adding sugar and cream if desired and available. Or drink it white. The advantage of not using coffee is that this drink will not keep you awake or make you jittery. It's just as well that nobody can afford doughnuts anymore, either, though.

HUMBLE PIE — Prepare your crust. If you don't have any, find your nearest government official; he is likely to have a lot of it. Now cover the crust with a plastic bag and breathe into it, muttering optimistic sayings; this is your hot air filling. Add some glue, seal the bag and put it in a high oven. Hope it doesn't blow over into a big mess.

SALAD DAZE — Give everyone in the family a crayon and have them draw a picture of a luxury food your family used to be able to afford, something like bread, eggs or milk. Slice the drawing very thin and toss them in a bowl. Do the same with the crayons. Now combine with the grass trimmings you saved the last time you mowed the lawn. (If this is a special occasion, you may want to butcher a family philodendron or cactus to add substance; don't forget to save the roots for soup.) Top with old supermarket cash register receipts. For dressing, try some of that black ink you used to use in figuring your family finances. Naturally, if you have

Defense Attorneys For Brooks Resign; New Lawyer Hired

HOUSTON (AP) — David Owen Brooks, 18, accused in the Houston mass murders, will probably go to trial in February, his new lawyer said Monday.

District Court Judge William Hatten was to hold a hearing today to recognize new lawyers for Brooks after two court-appointed attorneys resigned Monday just minutes before they were slated to pick a jury in a hearing to determine if he is sane and can stand trial.

Brooks is charged in the death of four of the 27 teen-agers whose bodies were found at three sites in and around Houston. Another defendant, Elmer Wayne Henley, 18, has been convicted in six of those deaths and is serving a 99-year prison term.

Engaged By Family — Jim Skelton, 36, said Monday he had been hired by the Brooks family after Ted Musick and Elaine Hocker withdrew from the case as court-appointed lawyers in a dispute about using insanity as a defense in the trial.

Bus Drivers Due To Walk Out At Houston Tonight

HOUSTON (AP) — A strike by city bus drivers was scheduled to begin tonight and a federal mediator indicated prospects of averting the walkout appeared dim.

Mediator E.D. Kincaid met with representatives of Houston, the city owned bus system, and the Transport Workers Union Local 260 late Monday but failed in his efforts to reopen negotiations.

"Unless there is some change in positions, obviously the parties will not get together," Kincaid said.

The walkout by 800 drivers and mechanics affecting 70,000 bus riders a day would be the city's first bus strike since 1950.

Stanley Gates, general manager of HouTran offered Monday to go back to the bargaining table with the union.

"If you agree to see to it that our employees stay on the job... and if a final settlement is reached within a reasonable period of time, such settlement will be made retroactive to Nov. 3," he told the union.

The union rejected the suggestion.

Few Mormons Die Of Cancer — LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mormons are much less likely to die of cancer than almost any other group of Americans, says Dr. James Enstrom, a researcher at the University of California at Los Angeles school of public health.

Dr. Enstrom believes that the diet and life style of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, or Mormons, probably account for the low cancer mortality rate among its members.

Among religious groups, only the Seventh-day Adventists, who also have strict rules on diet and conduct, rank lower in cancer incidence, according to Dr. Enstrom.

"The Mormons are especially interesting for cancer study because their 'Word of Wisdom' (a guide to daily living) forbids use of tobacco, alcohol, coffee, tea and addictive drugs," he said.

"Their religion also recommends a well-balanced diet, particularly the use of wholesome grains and fruits and moderation in the eating of meat."

Dr. Enstrom, who is neither a Mormon nor a Seventh-day Adventist, said he began investigating the correlation between Mormons and cancer two years ago when he learned that Utah has the nation's lowest cancer rate. Mormons make up 73 per cent of Utah's 1.1 million population. The cancer death rate there is 25 per cent below the national rate.

anonymous telephone caller told a British news agency that bombs had been planted "for Judith Ward" in three of London's main railroad terminals.

The man gave a code word used by the guerrillas of the Irish Republican Army to distinguish their bomb warnings from hoax calls. The stations — Victoria, King's Cross and Euston — were evacuated, and police searched them for an hour but found no bombs.

Guards were strengthened at all military installations. The police intensified surveillance of known IRA sympathizers in Britain.

Miss Ward, a slim, 5-foot-1 blonde, was found guilty in the Wakefield Crown Court Monday of blowing up an army furlough bus last February and of two other bombings.

The bus explosion on a highway in Yorkshire killed nine soldiers returning from weekend leave and the wife and two children of one of them. Convicted of mass murder, Miss Ward was sentenced to a life term for each of the killings, a 20-year-sentence for causing the explosion, 10 years for a bombing at the National Defense College in Buckinghamshire and five years for a bombing at London's Euston station.

All the sentences are to run concurrently, but the judge, Sir George Waller, would not recommend a minimum time Miss Ward should serve.

"These offenses are so heinous that no figure could be put on that would be appropriate to their gravity," he said.

Miss Ward pleaded innocent to all the charges.

The IRA's Provisional wing issued a statement in Dublin terming the sentences "savage." It renewed an assertion that Miss Ward had never been involved with the guerrilla army and had nothing to do with the bombings, which it said were carried out by IRA units in England.

Joe Campbell, left, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stagner were top winners in Jaycee and Jaycee-ette competition last weekend at Monahans.

Shell To Release Findings On Burning

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Shell Chemical Co. scientists were scheduled to release their findings today on last month's waste chemical incineration in the Gulf of Mexico.

The incineration, the first off American shores, was held under auspices of the Environmental Protection Agency, which issued a test permit so it could study after-effects of the burn.

Shell scientists joined the EPA in monitoring the burn, which state officials contend was a tragic comedy of errors.

Clint Pray, chairman of the Governor's Council for Environmental Quality, said he had been told by an EPA spokesman in Washington that monitoring equipment failed.

"The only data available are a little bit of water data from the sea water near the ship," said Pray.

"EPA says there are no air data on the 'plume' of the ship—and all that stuff from the combustion chamber went up in the air. But the equipment from NASA didn't work, something else didn't work, a janitor knocked something over and broke it, and a plane engine failed."

"They gave all kinds of reasons."

State officials reluctantly had shelved their opposition to the burn on the ground it was to be a scientific test—and the EPA's failure generated renewed opposition.

"It now appears possible that the experiment may have been performed in vain," Louisiana Atty. Gen. William Guste wrote

MHS Entries To Compete In District FFA Events

Patty Qualla will represent the Midland Chapter of Future Farmers of America in competing with seven other chapter sweethearts at the El Rancho District leadership contest and banquet scheduled Thursday at Big Spring High School. Competition events begin at 2:30 p.m., with the banquet slated for 6:30 p.m. The MHS chapter sweetheart, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Qualla, will be escorted by Gene Lands, chapter vice president. The winner in the district contest will compete for Area II sweetheart at the convention in May 1975. Also representing the MHS group will be two competition teams. Participating on the senior skills team will be Mike Collier, Tommy Childers and Matt Faudree. Senior chapter conducting team members are Eric Van, Gene Lands, Shiela Bond, Sheryl Wright, Connie Anderson, Greg Hess, David Holder and Judy Jones. Chapters from Odessa, Andrews, Sands, Grady, Big Spring, Stanton and Coahoma will be present at the meet to compete in the categories of junior chapter conducting, junior skills, farm radio, and FFA quiz.

Jeweler Found Guilty Of Stolen Goods Possession

CHICAGO (AP) — A Chicago jeweler has been convicted of possession of stolen jewelry, including a $5,000 watch stolen from entertainer Lee Liberace. Police said more than 500 pieces of jewelry worth more than $1 million were found in the possession of Adolph Lewin, 58, of Glenview, when he was arrested last April. He faces a maximum sentence of 20 years and a fine of $20,000. Liberace's diamond-studded watch and some $19,000 more in jewelry were taken from the pianist's Dallas hotel room early this year.

HEAVY DEMO ELECTION GAINS PREDICTED—

Light Voter Turnout Expected Across Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — An electorate concerned with deepening economic problems and two years of Watergate is expected to turn out in light numbers today to award Democrats heavy off-year election gains. Although President Ford urged Americans to deliver "a vote of confidence in the United States of America" by casting ballots, some estimates were for a turnout as low as 40 percent of the 145 million eligible voters. At stake in today's nationwide balloting were 34 of the 100 Senate seats, 35 of the 50 state governorships, all 435 House seats, and a variety of state and local offices and issues. Gains by the party out of presidential power are traditional in off-year elections. Republicans hoped to hold Democratic advances within the averages of recent years — 4 senators, 26 House members and 6 governorships. The last pre-election Associated Press survey, however, indicated that, despite GOP claims of some late turnaround, the Democrats seemed likely to gain from 5 to 7 senators, 30 to 50 House members and 6 to 10 governors. This could swell the current Democratic congressional majorities — 58 to 42 in the Senate, 248 to 187 in the House — close to the two-thirds needed to override presidential vetoes. Increased Democratic majorities doubtless would create problems for Ford's programs over the next two years, but few observers think that even are going to do much better than people are predicting. Ford, who campaigned in 20 states for GOP candidates, also refused to make any predictions. He expressed hope that current congressional ratios would emerge unchanged, and Press Secretary Ron Nease said he thinks the President's efforts will help Republican candidates. The President, meanwhile, stepped into the sun-splashed White House Rose Garden Monday to deliver a brief appeal for a large turnout. If the 40 per cent turnout occurs, he said, "the Congress that will be working with me on controlling inflation, strengthening our economy and preserving world peace could be elected by only 21 per cent of the voters. I don't think anyone wants that kind of minority decision," the President declared. He and Mrs. Ford already have voted by absentee ballot in their home state of Michigan. Ford plans to watch election returns on television at the White House tonight. In the Senate races, four incumbent Republican senators appeared in greatest jeopardy — Peter Dominick of Colorado, opposed by Gary Hart; Marlow W. Cook of Kentucky, opposed by Gov. Wendell Ford; Milton R. Young of North Dakota, opposed by former Gov. William Guy, and Henry Bellmon of Oklahoma, opposed by former Rep. Ed Edmondson. In addition, Democrat Richard Stone was favored to defeat Republican Jack Eckerd and American Party candidate John Grady for the seat of Florida Republican Sen. Edward J. Gurney, indicted earlier this year on charges of bribery, conspiracy and perjury. In Kansas, however, Republished Sen. Robert Dole has battled back from an earlier deficit to take a slim lead in late polls in his race with Rep. William Roy. In Utah, Democratic Rep. Wayne Owens appeared to be edging ahead in his tight contest with Salt Lake City Mayor Jake Garn for the seat of retiring GOP Sen. Wallace F. Bennett. Other states where Democrats hoped for gains included Vermont, New York, New Hampshire and Oregon. Republicans thought they had a chance to oust Democratic Sens. Mike Gravel of Alaska, George McGovern of South Dakota and Birch E. Bayh of Indiana, and to win seats in North Carolina and Nevada.

Family Food Bills Climb

By LOUISE COOK Associated Press Writer Family grocery bills inched up again during October, an Associated Press survey shows. But the rate of increase declined, supporting government predictions that the price spiral will ease as the year ends. Sales on meat and eggs helped consumers trying to balance the supermarket budget and offset increases in items like detergents. Sugar prices rose again, but there were signs that the enormous increases may be over. The AP drew up a random list of 15 commonly purchased food and nonfood items, checked the prices on March 1, 1973, at a supermarket in each of 13 cities and rechecked at the beginning of each succeeding month. The latest survey showed that during October about 30 per cent of the items checked went up in price, compared with about 42 per cent the previous month. The marketbasket bill for October went up in seven cities, down in four and was unchanged in two. On the average, the bill at the start of November was 7 per cent higher than at the beginning of October and 13 per cent higher than at the start of the year. The government has predicted that food prices may rise as much as 16 per cent in 1974. Savings at the meat and dairy counter provided welcome relief for consumers during October. Chopped chuck was down in five cities, unchanged in four and up in four. Decreases ranged from 3 per cent in Providence, R.I., to 18 per cent in Seattle. Eggs, which declined sharply earlier in the year, then started rising again in August and September, went down in price in six of the cities surveyed, were up in two and unchanged in four. They were unavailable in the 13th city surveyed. Sugar prices went up again in nine cities, but consumers staggering under increases of up to 300 per cent in a year may get some relief soon. The price of sugar declined in two cities — Dallas and Albuquerque, N.M. — and was unchanged in two. The increases, which ranged from 3 per cent in New York and Seattle to 20 per cent in Chicago, generally were less than in previous months. The items on the AP checklist were: chopped chuck, center cut pork chops, frozen orange juice concentrate, coffee, paper towels, butter, grade-A medium white eggs, creamy peanut butter, laundry detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce, chocolate chip cookies, milk, all-beef frankfurters and granulated sugar. The cities checked were Albuquerque, Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, Philadelphia, Providence, Salt Lake City and Seattle. # Ram Defense Downs 49ers, 15-13

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams' defense stopped San Francisco's running attack virtually all the time, and linebacker Isiah Robertson stopped new 49er quarterback Norm Snead just in time.

"We played well enough to win, and that's all we're trying to do — win," said Rams' quarterback James Harris after Monday night's 15-13 National Football League victory.

But he admitted that Snead and the 49ers "scared us to death in the second half." The 49ers went down passing as they suffered their sixth consecutive defeat this year and their ninth straight loss to the Rams. Running backs Wilbur Jackson and Larry Schreiber totaled just 40 yards rushing.

Robertson was awarded the game ball, the one he'd grabbed while intercepting a Snead pass at midfield with 4:09 left in the nationally televised game. The 35-year-old Snead, in his debut with the 49ers, had tossed a 39-yard touchdown pass to Gene Washington a few minutes earlier to cut Los Angeles' lead to two points.

After the interception, the Rams' offense killed the clock, moving inside the 49ers' five-yard line before the game ended.

"Jim Harris did a fine job running the offense at the end of the game when we had to suck it up and control the football," said Coach Chuck Knox of the Rams. "That was a good win for us."

The victory made the Rams 6-2 and gave them a stranglehold on the National Conference's Western Division race, with second-place New Orleans standing 3-5. The 49ers and Atlanta Falcons share last place with 2-6 records.

Harris had his moments earlier in the game, too, including a 23-yard touchdown pass to tight end Bob Klein which gave the Rams a 12-0 lead in the second period. The 27-year-old Grambling product, who took over two weeks ago for John Hadl — now with Green Bay — completed 12 of 20 passes for 150 yards.

But placekicker David Ray, 0-for-2 on extra point tries against the 49ers, provided the points which ultimately made the difference when he booted a 20-yard field goal early in the fourth period to give the Rams a 15-6 lead.

The 49ers had closed the gap to 12-6 on a pair of field goals by Bruce Gossett, who also had a third-quarter attempt blocked.

Snead, traded by the New York Giants the same day Hadl left Los Angeles, replaced rookie quarterback Tom Owen at the start of the second half and completed 11 of 17 passes for 149 yards against the Rams' defense and the always tricky Candlestick Park winds.

"It was second and 20, and we needed more than two yards by Snead," he said.

The Rams' defensive front four, with a conference-high 28 sacks this season, got to Owen three times and forced him into a fumble which set up Harris' touchdown pass. Los Angeles drove 80 yards for its first touchdown with Tony Baker scoring on a one-yard run.

ONLY NEW ORLEANS WORSE—

Bucks In Tailspin

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Six months ago, the Milwaukee Bucks came within one game of the National Basketball Association championship. Today they are one game away from the worst record in the NBA.

The Bucks have just one victory in their first nine games, are 4½ games behind Midwest Division leader Kansas City-Omaha, and already have one-third as many losses as they endured in all of the 1973-74 season.

Only New Orleans' expansion club, without a victory in eight games this year, is worse off than Milwaukee.

One obvious reason is the absence of two key players: center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, who is injured, and guard Oscar Robertson, who retired.

Abdul-Jabbar, last season's

Most Valuable Player, broke a bone in his hand during the preseason when he punched a basket support in frustration after suffering an eye injury. Abdul-Jabbar and his 30 points and 16 rebounds per game are expected back Sunday, but there are those who contend the club's problems won't magically disappear when the 7-foot-2 center returns.

Only Abdul-Jabbar and guard Jon McGlocklin remain from the Bucks' 1968-69 expansion team. That team had a seven-game losing streak, longest in club history, but the Bucks can equal it Thursday night at Houston.

"Six years ago we were building, and losing was expected," McGlocklin said recently. "But our record now is serious. I feel that we're a much better team than we've shown, even without Kareem.

"But we're not winning, and I can't go along with the idea that everything will be all right once Kareem gets back. If you get 5 or 10 games behind everyone else, you've got an awful lot of ground to make up.

Coach Larry Costello, whose six-year winning percentage was a glowing .673, is fuming over the turn of events.

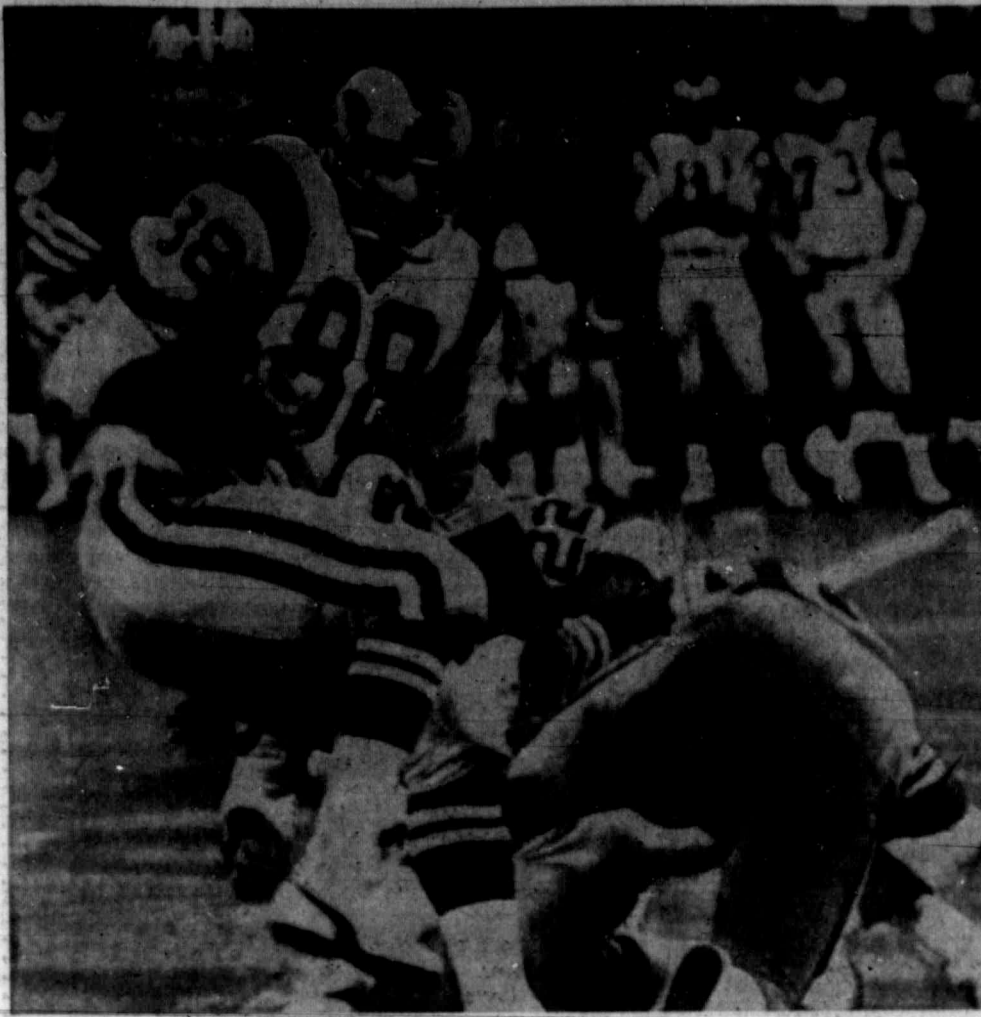

"Losing eight of nine is just ridiculous, with or without Kareem," he moaned after the sixth consecutive loss, 101-89 at Seattle Sunday night.

Milwaukee is operating with five players who were not with the club last season. Producing a coordinated attack with a minimum of errors is made more difficult by their unfamiliarity, which breeds turnovers.

Alabama put on an impressive performance in trouncing Mississippi State 35-0 and moved up from fourth to third, trading places with Michigan, which was hard-pressed to beat Indiana 21-7. Alabama received two first-place votes and 918 points while Michigan got the other first-place vote and 850 points.

Texas A&M, eighth the last three weeks, climbed to fifth by defeating Arkansas 20-10. Auburn, which had been fifth for three weeks, slipped to 10th following its first defeat of the year, a 25-14 loss to Florida which lifted the Gators from 11th to sixth.

Nebraska, a 31-15 victor over Colorado, remained in ninth place, with Auburn rounding out the Top Ten.

Southern Cal headed the Second Ten, followed by Texas, Miami of Ohio, Maryland, Houston, Arizona State, Oklahoma State and California, with Pitt and Texas Tech tied for 19th. Despite its loss to Penn State, Maryland went from 13th to 14th. The Terrapins' three defeats have been at the hands of Top Ten teams.

Last week's Second Ten consisted of Florida, Texas, Texas Tech, Arizona State, Maryland, Miami, Mississippi State, UCLA and Temple with San Diego State and Wisconsin tied for 20th.

Portland To Play?

By The Associated Press
The crisis-stricken Portland Storm, having trouble reaching pay dirt and pay day this season, meets the Florida Blazers in a World Football League game in Orlando Thursday night.

At least that's the latest news.

The game had been set for Portland originally, but was switched to Florida because of the Storm's financial problems. The contest was supposed to be played Wednesday night but was changed to Thursday to give the Storm an extra day to practice.

There was a possibility at one time that the Portland players would not show up for the game, anyway. They had decided on Saturday to stop practicing and take part in no more games until their salaries had been brought up to date.

But they changed their minds Monday in a team vote. The Storm expenses and some of the back payroll will reportedly be taken care of by a group of investors interested in buying the Florida club, which is also on the financial rocks.

Portland and Florida aren't the only WFL teams floundering in red ink. Southern California, although a winner this season and averaging 26,900 fans a game, was not able to meet its latest payroll — the fourth team in that position so far the WFL's first year.

The situation is so tense that a plan is being formulated to ease the league's financial problems.

Booster club meeting at Midland and Lee will be held at 7:30 p.m. with the films of the Rebels' smashing 34-7 victory over Odessa Permian being held at the Lee Cafeteria and Midland's 24-16 loss to Odessa in the MHS Cafeteria.

Scouting reports will be given on Abilene and Abilene Cooper with the Rebels taking on the Eagles in Memorial Stadium Friday and the Purple Pack trying the Cougars in Abilene.

Snyder Shoo-In For 3-AAA Title

By TERRY WILLIAMSON After nine weeks of area high school football action, only Snyder's Tigers appear to have a sure-footed, headlock on a district title.

Snyder whipped the last serious contender, Lubbock Dunbar, Friday by a whopping 30-6 count for a 4-0 loop mark with only hapless Brownfield and Sweetwater remaining.

Elsewhere, the races are still in the shakiest stages with only two weeks to go. Rankin, the state's second-ranked Class A unit, remained undefeated with an 8-0 mark after a sound 28-12 victory over Marfa in District 6-A.

Pecos, the area's only other undefeated eleven, won again Friday with a 30-6 win over Odessa Ector, but their lead in District 2-AAA is not shared at all.

TIRED OF RECRUITING ACCUSATIONS— Switzer Blasts Media

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer says he is weary of the controversy surrounding his Sooner team, which is in the second year of a two-year NCAA probation.

In a free-wheeling speech at a media luncheon Monday, Switzer leveled criticism at national articles he said inferred his second-ranked Sooners were built through illegal recruiting practices.

For the first time, Switzer discussed publicly a polygraph test he passed in which he denied ever offering a recruit a material inducement in his 15 years as a coach.

He said he had been contacted by Big Eight officials during the summer of 1973 after a Southwest Conference coach asked for an investigation into an allegation that Switzer had offered a recruit an automobile to come to Oklahoma.

said the results were sent to the Big Eight Conference and the matter was subsequently dropped. He singled out for criticism a recent article in Sports Illustrated magazine which he said quoted him inaccurately several times.

He said he was irritated over the use of a quote attributed to Texas Coach Darrell Royal, who was quoted in the article as saying he resented playing Oklahoma "when they develop a monster team with illegal tactics."

He said the quote was a year old and he doubted its accuracy. "I've got to feel that if I have been misquoted, then he could have been misquoted, too."

"We don't have to buy players, as has been implicated in articles all over the country," he added. "We don't have to... We may lose some kids, but we're going to get enough to win."

game winning streak could go down the drain Saturday against Missouri. "Missouri is the best football team we've played since Texas," Switzer said Monday. "Hopefully our team can reach a mental attitude we've not tried to achieve in the past couple weeks."

"I want our football team to know that Missouri can beat you. In some of the teams you've played, I didn't think they could beat us and neither did our football team. Missouri can beat you."

He said he was disturbed about articles which continue to dwell almost exclusively on the Oklahoma probation because, in the process, accomplishments of the Sooner team and individual players are ignored.

"They certainly deserve some publicity," Switzer also said if his second-ranked Oklahoma Sooners aren't ranked ready, their 16-

59 House Demos Elected Before Polls Opened

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fifty-nine House Democrats, including a score of President Ford's staunch ideological foes and several friends, were virtually elected even before polls opened today.

They had no Republican opponents and 44 had no opponents at all. Only one Republican, Rep. Charles W. Whalen Jr. of Ohio, had no Democratic opposition.

Recent votes in Congress provide some clue about how the views of the unopposed candidates compare with Ford's view.

One unopposed Democrat was Rep. Joseph P. Addabbo of New York, author of the amendments to cut Nixon's money to $200,000.

Addabbo also had been chief sponsor of several amendments to halt money for the Vietnam war and Cambodia bombing.

Another is Rep. Michael Harrington, D-Mass., whose office disclosed this summer that the CIA channeled more than $8 million against former Chilean Marxist President Salvador Allende.

The unopposed House Democrats also include at least seven consistent supporters of Ford plus about a dozen who supported Ford on Turkish aid but opposed him on the Nixon money.

Cranston, McGovern Run Most Expensive Senate Campaigns

By BROOKS JACKSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Alan Cranston clung to a slim lead today over Sen. George McGovern for the distinction of running the most expensive Senate campaign of the year, with both men's spending topping $1 million.

A tabulation of recent campaign spending reports also shows that former astronaut John Glenn, running for the Senate in Ohio, topped the $1-million mark by the start of today's balloting.

The public-interest group Common Cause prepared the tabulation from the most recent wave of campaign spending reports, which piled up over the weekend and which cover the period up until 12 days ago — Oct. 24.

Forty-seven of them voted to cut Ford's $850,000 transition fund request for former President Richard M. Nixon to $200,000, and 42, defying a Ford veto threat, voted to cut off U.S. military aid to Turkey.

Nine voted against Ford's confirmation as vice president last year.

In the Senate, only Democrat Russell B. Long of Louisiana was unopposed. Sens. James B. Allen, D-Ala., and Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii, had only token opposition.

Fulbright Has Minor Surgery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., underwent minor surgery at nearby Bethesda Naval Medical Center on Monday, his office said today.

A statement issued by Fulbright's office said the senator was hospitalized "for some corrective surgery which had been postponed until the congressional recess. The corrective surgery was performed Monday morning and was successful and uneventful."

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was defeated earlier this year in his bid for re-election and will end his 30-year Senate career in January.

Neither Glenn nor Cranston have approached the spending limits in the new law. Cranston would be allowed about $1.7 million in the general election alone. The formula allows Senate candidates to spend 8 cents in the primary and 12 cents in the general election for every voting-age resident of the state, unless this would allow them less than the $100,000 and $150,000 minimum limits.

Voters will have to wait until next year to learn the final outcome of this year's big-spender competition. The next batch of campaign finance reports aren't due until Jan. 31, 1975.

But there are indications that heavy spending and big donations continued right up until today's balloting.

Light Opposition

The Common Cause tally shows Cranston, a Democrat seeking re-election over fairly light opposition in California, leading with $1.27 million raised and $1.11 million spent.

McGovern trails only slightly behind with $1.10 million raised and $1.03 million spent.

McGovern failed to carry his home state of South Dakota as the Democratic nominee for president two years ago, and this year faces a challenge for re-election to the Senate from a former prisoner of war, Leo Thorsness.

McGovern's spending is about double that of Thorsness' and amounts to about $1.67 for every man, woman and child in his thinly populated state. It is about four times what he could legally spend under the new federal campaign law, which doesn't go into effect until Jan. 1.

The new law would limit McGovern, and other Senate candidates from sparsely populated states, to $100,000 in the primary and $150,000 in the general election, plus 20 percent more for fund-raising costs.

Oppose Ford

Allen and Inouye opposed Ford on Turkish aid; Long supported him. All three voted to confirm Ford as vice president. The Senate has not yet voted on the Nixon money.

Whalen and 44 of the House Democrats had no re-election opponents at all. The other 15 had minor party opponents.

The House Democrats include Majority Leader Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. of Massachusetts who opposed Ford on the Turkish aid bill and Nixon money and has made frequent House floor speeches attacking Ford's economic proposals.

O'Neill was opposed by Communist and U.S. Labor party candidates.

Glenn is running in heavily populated Ohio, and spent a lot in a stiff primary campaign in Christ.

Mayor Elias Freij wants to replace the jumble of trucks and taxis in Manger Square with gardens and fountains. Later he hopes to raise $25 million to build an underground parking garage and convert rundown old buildings around the square and the 800-year-old Church of the Nativity into museums and hotels.

"Bethlehem is a sacred place to Christians, but we often feel neglected by the Christian world," said the Arab mayor.

"Now we are appealing to men of good will to help us create a dignified setting for our holy treasures. For us, men of a poor city with limited means, these are goals beyond our resources."

Bethlehem is a hilltop town of 25,000 people, most of them Arabs.

To raise money, Freij organized the Bethlehem Foundation in 1972. It now has 36 American congressmen, senators, mayors, governors and union leaders on its honorary board, and Freij plans to campaign five weeks from coast to coast for money.

His first stop will be Bethlehem, Pa., Nov. 11. Four days later he is scheduled to present a Bible to President Ford in Washington.

Bethlehem's municipal government has a budget of more than $700,000 a year and few sources of income. Tourist money flows into the souvenir shops, including one owned by the mayor, but little of the money is taken in taxes.

Freij said, "Christmas card companies use our name but we aren't a registered trademark so we can't charge for it."

Ford Supporters

The Ford supporters include House Armed Services Chairman F. Edward Hebert, D-La., and Reps. Robert L. F. Sikes, D-Fla., Otto E. Passman, D-La., G. V. Montgomery, D-Miss., Jamie L. Whitten, D-Miss., Tom Steed, D-Okla., and Joe D. Waggoner, D-La.

Unopposed Democrats also include Speaker Carl Albert and House Appropriations Chairman George H. Mahon of Texas, who have criticized Ford's economic proposals but often agree with him on other issues.

The nine Democrats who opposed Ford's confirmation as vice president and have generally opposed his proposals since are Reps. Glenn M. Anderson, Augustus F. Hawkins and Edward R. Roybal of California; Herman Badillo and Charles Rangel of New York; Harrington and Joe Moakley of Massachusetts; Parren J. Mitchell of Maryland and Henry B. Gonzalez of Texas.

Inflexibility Puts Israelis Between Rock, Hard Place

By KENNETH J. FREED (An AP News Analysis)

WASHINGTON — Israel has fallen between a rock and a hard place in the diplomatic maneuvering over the next phase of Middle East negotiations with the only clear escape a fundamental change in policy.

The problem is one that has been the downfall of many negotiators in diplomacy and business: inflexibility.

In this case Israel says that it will never deal in any way, shape or form with the Palestinian Liberation Organization.

Bethlehem Renovation Push Made

BETHLEHEM, Occupied Jordan (AP) — The mayor of Bethlehem is going to the United States next weekend seeking $5 million to get rid of a parking lot a few yards from the traditional birthplace of Christ.

Mayor Elias Freij wants to replace the jumble of trucks and taxis in Manger Square with gardens and fountains. Later he hopes to raise $25 million to build an underground parking garage and convert rundown old buildings around the square and the 800-year-old Church of the Nativity into museums and hotels.

But the Egyptian diplomat added that there must be progress on the entire Middle East negotiating front, apparently meaning Israel must acknowledge the PLO.

Officials Heartened

U.S. officials are heartened by the Egyptian diplomat's statements and indicated that Israel will be hard pressed to keep to its position.

There is one other alternative for the Jewish state, and that also would require a fundamental policy shift: ignore American pressure, refuse to budge in negotiations and fight another war.

American officials say that that course of action by Jerusalem would risk a loss of the all-out support always given by Washington in the past.

One American source said:

"We would never abandon Israel, but I don't know that the American people would be as sympathetic in the face of apparent Egyptian reasonableness, particularly when any new war would mean another oil crisis much worse than the last one."

Wins U.N. Approval

While Jerusalem was repeating that constant refrain, the PLO won overwhelming approval from the U.N. General Assembly to participate in a debate beginning in mid-month on the Palestinian question.

And in last week's Arab summit at Rabat, Morocco, the PLO was designated the sole and legitimate representative of the West Bank Palestinians in any negotiations.

And while the Israelis kept saying never, their only important ally, the United States, began reappraising its support of the Jerusalem position.

Home-Built Plane Crash Kills Pilot

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — An experimental home-built plane was having carburetor trouble just before it crashed, killing its pilot, witnesses say.

Retired Air Force Sgt. Delmar W. Ebert, 46, of Burk Burnett, died instantly Monday evening when the 400-pound, one passenger, single engine aircraft stalled while attempting a left bank about 50 feet above the ground, authorities said. It crashed at the edge of Lake Wichita about 100 yards from the end of a private airport runway.

Ebert had been working on the aircraft for two years.

New Reality

While not firmly committed yet, the United States is plainly moving to accept what some U.S. and Egyptian officials describe as a new reality — the PLO as a permanent participant in the talks.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said Monday that Israel and the Arabs must "make an effort to bring their position closer to each other." An Egyptian official in Washington said Monday that his government will be flexible in a negotiating approach.

This means that Egypt and Israel can resume efforts to widen their disengagement on the Sinai Peninsula without simultaneous talks between the Jewish state and the PLO over the fate of the West Bank.

Olivier To Direct

BRIGHTON, England (AP) — One of Britain's most heralded actors, Lord Olivier, has accepted an invitation to direct his first opera. Sir Laurence, as he prefers to be called, will direct Verdi's "MacBeth" at the Metropolitan Opera in New York in 1976.

HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: In a.m. you will be peering away at you, generalizing and making a lot of noise. Avoid offending anyone in power for this time.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Showing the way to good friends at the time you are feeling depressed and very nervous. Don't argue with your friends.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You have some recreation planned for you, but later must turn down to avoid duty. Give love one more than words.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Handle some affairs with a smile and do nothing that can stir up family or you get into big trouble. Avoid a real bore.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you visit some, you will be in a situation where you have become estranged, take a conciliatory gift. Avoid mistakes in routine.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Some money problem could knock you for a loop if you are not objective about it, so do the right thing. Plan now budget.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You want to do something dramatic at home but will be disappointed. Don't get down from such Show country. Avoid strife.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) A sacrifice word from you could upset free friends.

Air Force Nutritionist Says World Can Be Fed With Present Production

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Air Force nutritionist says mankind can do away with hunger and malnutrition and feed up to three times the world population with existing food production and processing methods.

Bernard Yo, a lecturer on nutrition at the Air Force's Air University and a civilian nutritionist at Maxwell Air Force Base in Alabama, says, however, that eating habits would have to be changed, and that "Whenever you see anything green growing, it is possible to make it a food."

"When you fly over Southeast Asia or Latin America or South Africa, there is an immense green cover that is not now being used for food production. One day I can see the Amazon as the largest food producing region of the world," Yo said.

He said in an interview that even the Sahara desert can be used to produce food through the use of the so-called "desert domes" that use sea water to irrigate their crops. He said the domes have proven successful in experiments in the Persian Gulf emirate of Abu Dhabi.

"In the underdeveloped world, I figure more than half the potential food source is wasted," Yo contended. "In India, for example, the amount of food waste is unbelievable. India produces a lot of rice. They smash the rice from the stalk into grain and then crush the grain. They do not utilize the husks of rice, which provide minerals and vitamins, and they use the straw for fuel. Rice stalks can offer a tremendous amount of Vitamin D."

Yo said.

Yo cited Peru as a source for a tremendous food crop. This year Peru will harvest 4 million tons of anchovy, a fish that contains about 20 per cent protein.

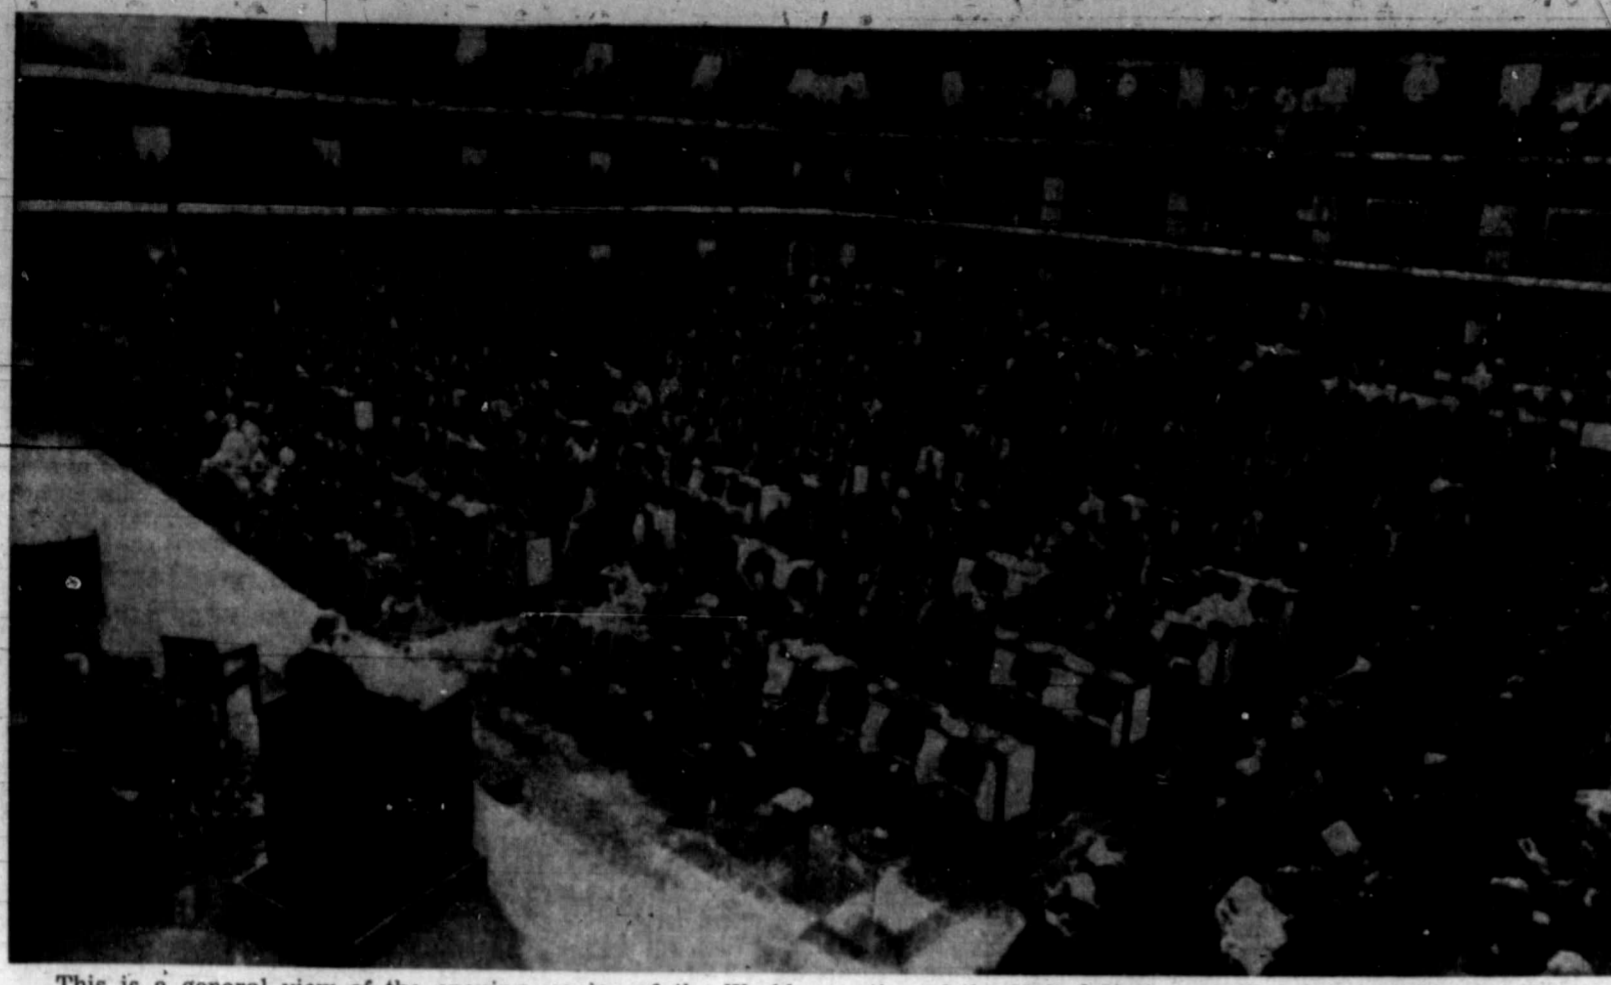

He says anchovy is an ideal base for a "building block" of food and that the recommended allowance of protein varies from 30 grams to 56 grams per day for children and adults. If a middle figure of about 45 grams per day is used, he said a kilogram (2.2 pounds) of the fish protein, plus carbohydrates and the other food components, can feed roughly 30 persons.

Four million tons of fish would represent 800,000 tons of fish protein, and Yo said the anchovy fish harvest of Peru can feed 24 billion persons for one day. The current world population is estimated at 3.78 billion.

Burglar Makes Off With Underclothing

Underclothing was the object of a burglar Monday night at the Jim Murray residence, 208-B E. Circle Drive.

Police said that Murray said all that was taken was seven pairs of long underwear, two bottoms of two-piece nightgowns, a half slip and three pairs of panty hose.

Kissinger Urges World Coordinate Grain Reserves

ROME (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger today proposed that the world's major food producers coordinate their grain reserves so that "within a decade no child will go to bed hungry ... no family will fear for its next day's bread."

Delivering the main opening-day address at the World Food Conference, Kissinger called the aim of the proposed system of reserves a bold objective that would cope with the source of hunger.

Kissinger also urged newly rich oil producing states to help poor countries buy food, fertilizer and farm equipment. Quadrupled prices for crude oil over the last year have produced a surplus of around $60 billion in the oil states and have forced hard times on developing countries that have to decide whether to buy oil or food with scant foreign exchange reserves.

The grain supply deficit in developing countries will reach about $5 billion tons by 1985, Kissinger said. Financing them to increase production "must become one of the priority objectives of the countries and institutions that have the major influence in the international monetary system," he said.

In Manila, David Rockefeller, chairman of The Chase Manhattan Bank, told a news conference failure of the oil producers to share their wealth could lead the world into depression.

The Rome food conference, sponsored by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, opened with an appeal from U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim for an "equitable global strategy" to ward off mass starvation.

Like an international panel of economists and food experts whose report was issued on the eve of the conference, Waldheim said the rich nations consume too much and the poor aren't doing enough to help themselves.

A senior American official said the Soviet bloc countries except Romania are unlikely to approve the U.S. proposals, but he expects endorsement from most other nations.

The grain reserves coordination system Kissinger proposed for the United States and other food producers appeared to conflict somewhat with U.S. Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz' statement Monday that international control of stockpiles would be inefficient.

Kissinger asked the conference to organize a Reserve Coordinating Group to negotiate a detailed agreement for an international system of grain reserves at the earliest possible time.

The food producing nations would exchange information on reserve levels, crop prospects and their plans for importing or exporting grains. They would have a common responsibility to hold reserves to meet demands occasioned by drought and other catastrophes and would decide on "measures for dealing with noncompliance."

Kissinger said a worldwide reserve of up to 16 million tons above present levels may be needed for adequate food security.

The report on the eve of the conference predicted a grave confrontation between the affluent and 500 million hungry people unless the well-fed eat less and spread around their resources.

"After 20 years of affluence, there is not much apparent readiness for acts of solidarity with a troubled world," said the panel, called the Rome Forum.

"We do not believe that either the 'old rich' of the industrialized world or the 'new rich' within OPEC (the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries) could live in peace and self-interest in a planet moving towards recurrent famine. Nor could they survive the rising violence of disorganization, disease and despair."

The 11-day conference, which drew delegates from more than 100 nations, was proposed by Kissinger at the United Nations General Assembly last fall. Kissinger arrived Monday night to speak at the opening session before hurrying on to the Middle East for a new attempt at getting Arab-Israeli peace negotiations going.

Butz heads the U.S. delegation.

After three days of anti-American bombings, more than 1,000 soldiers and riot police were assigned to protect Kissinger and the other arriving delegates. The Italian Communist party called a big anti-American rally in the Piazza del Popolo, Rome's biggest downtown square about 10 miles from the conference site.

The FAO recommended three main measures for consideration: —Increase food production in the developing countries at least 35 per cent by 1985. FAO said this would require an annual investment of $5 billion. —Make the distribution of existing foods more equitable. —Establish international food reserves as insurance against famine due to crop failures and other disasters. The stocks would be strategically located and controlled by an international body.

The Rome Forum proposed a 10-million-ton grain reserve for emergencies.

Members of this group included British economist Barbara Ward, former U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman and Nobel Peace Prize winner Norman Borlaug, the author of the so-called green revolution.

City Loses $1,300 Fight Over $5 Traffic Ticket

SEATTLE (AP) — After it cost taxpayers at least $1,300 in court costs, the city apparently is conceding defeat in a battle over a $5 traffic ticket.

The case began over a year ago when Gordon Grimlund was cited by police for going through a stop sign. Grimlund said he was innocent, and went to trial in Municipal Court.

He lost that battle, but appealed the conviction to Superior Court. A 12-member jury was empaneled to hear the criminal case last May.

A unanimous verdict was required. But the jury, after nine hours of deliberation, voted 7 to 5 to acquit.

The city then called for another 12-member jury to be empaneled.

Brief — and now familiar — testimony was given by Grimlund and the arresting officers. The jury retired and several hours later reported the verdict: 9 to 3 for acquittal.

To forestall another trial, another jury and further expenditures, Superior Court Judge Frank Eberharter suggested the charges be dismissed, providing Grimlund maintains a clean traffic record for three months.

The city agreed and drafted such a court order, which Eberharter is scheduled to sign today.

Oilman James West Dies At Stamford; Rites Wednesday

STAMFORD — Independent oil producer James "Jim" Finkle West, 69, was dead on arrival at 8:20 a.m. Monday at a Stamford hospital following an apparent heart seizure.

Services will be at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the First Baptist Church here with interment in Highland Memorial Cemetery directed by Kinney Funeral Home.

West was born Dec. 5, 1904, in Warren, Ind. He came to Texas with his family during the Ranger and Caddo oil booms of 1918-19.

He joined his father, the late J. H. "Kid" West, an oil industry pioneer, in business in 1922. He formed a partnership in 1924 with R. C. Turner, and was also a partner with his son, James H. West, in West Oil Corp.

West was past president and secretary of Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Assn., member and past president of Stamford Rotary Club, president of the Stamford Hospital Board of Directors, past president of the chamber of commerce and a director of the West-Central Texas Oil and Gas Assn.

He is survived by the widow, a son, two stepsons, one stepdaughter, two grandchildren and two step-grandchildren.

Presbyterian Family Night Dinner Slated Wednesday

Ed Daniel of Brownwood will speak Wednesday at a Family Night dinner at First Presbyterian Church, sponsored by the Women of the Church organization.

Daniel is assistant director of the Douglas MacArthur Academy of Freedom as well as public relations assistant to the chancellor of Howard Payne University at Brownwood. He is active in First Baptist Church of Brownwood and earlier this year became president of Brownwood Civic Theater. He was founder and first president of the Brownwood Optimist Club and continues active in various civic endeavors in that city. He was named Brownwood's Outstanding Young Man of 1971.

Well-known as a speaker on contemporary problems in a Christian framework, Daniel will speak on "Uncle Sam's Delicate Condition" at the 6 p.m. dinner event in the church fellowship hall.

A tape recorder valued between $35 and $45 was reported taken in the Monday night burglary of Crockett Elementary School, 401 E. Parker St.

Imprisoned Manson Says Personal Hex Caused Nixon Woes

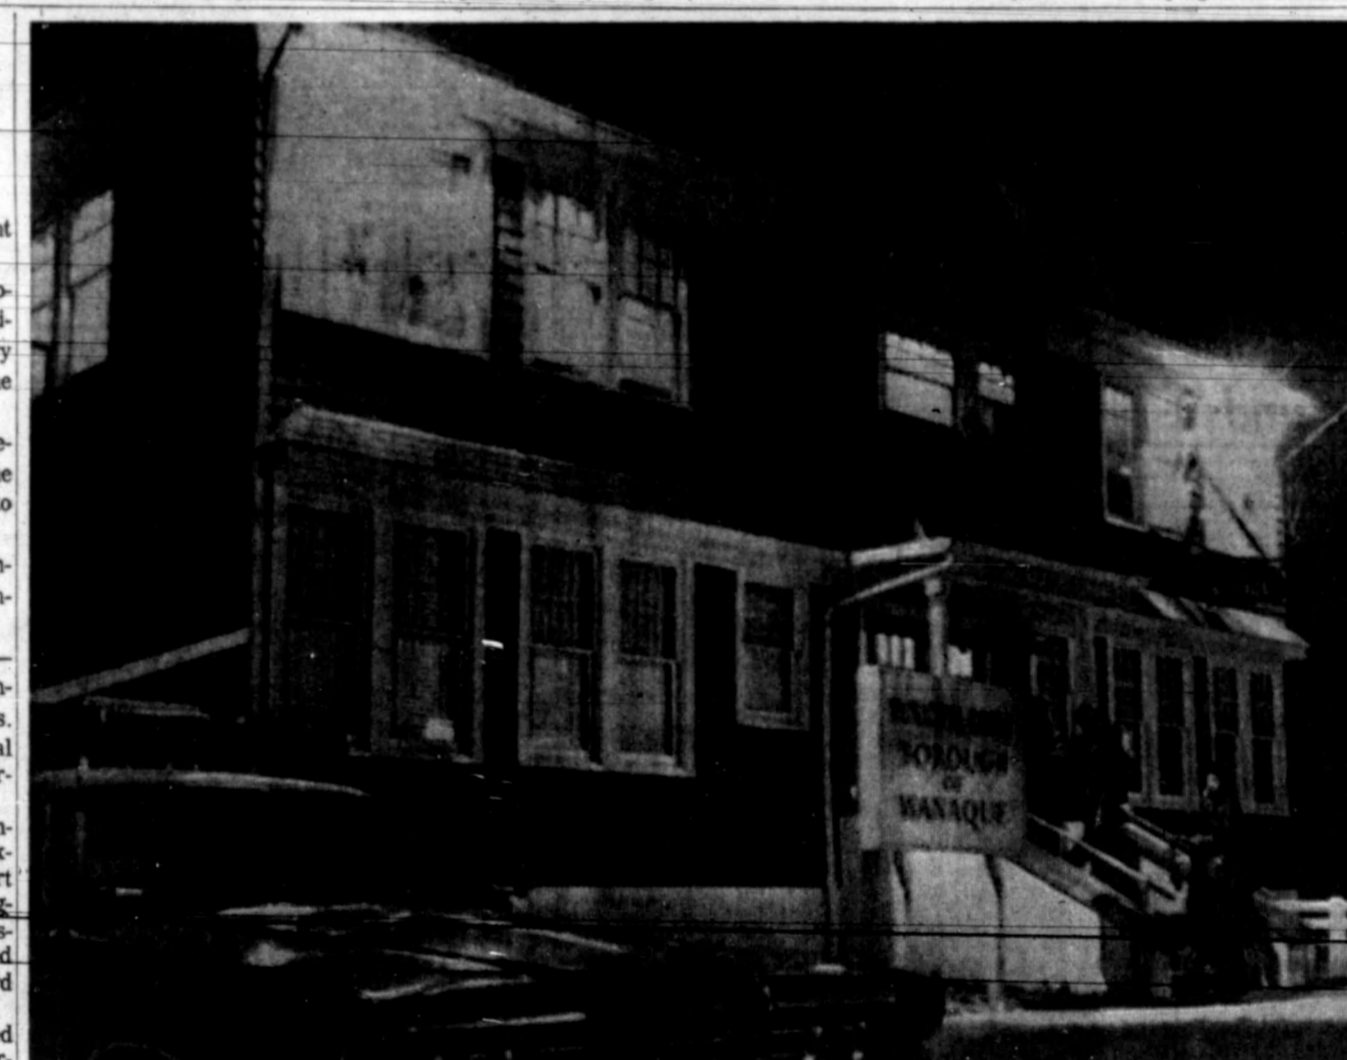

VACAVILLE, Calif. (AP) — Charles Manson, convicted in the Sharon Tate murders, believed his own personal hex on former President Richard M. Nixon caused Nixon's Watergate woes, says an ex-prison psychologist.

Wesley Hiler, Manson's therapist at the California Medical Facility here, said Monday the former cult leader thought his powers of mental telepathy were actually getting to Nixon and hurting him.

"When he arrived at Vacaville he was actively psychotic," said Hiler in an interview. "He had a lot of delusions of influence. He believed he was responsible for Nixon's problems."

Hiler said Manson wanted to wreak revenge on Nixon because once during the Manson trial, Nixon made a remark in which he referred to Manson as guilty.

Manson, who is serving a life term for the murders of Miss Tate and six other persons, was transferred to Folsom Prison Oct. 22 following a seven-month stay at the medical facility.

Thrift Suspect Released On Bond

Robert Kuykendall, 211 W. Florida St., was released on $3,500 bond Tuesday following an incident in which Glenda Cobb, 3511 W. Shandon St., accused him of pulling a diamond bracelet off her arm.

Kuykendall was charged with felony theft in the incident.

Mystery Gunman Shoots, Kills New Jersey Judge

WANAQUE, N.J. (AP) — A bullet fired through a window fatally wounded a municipal judge while he was holding court. Police termed the death a definite case of premeditated murder.

About 50 persons were in the courtroom. No one else was hurt.

Municipal Court Judge Joseph Crescente, 71, was sitting in his second-floor courtroom Monday night when the shot pierced a window and a venetian blind behind his bench and struck him in the back. He was holding a probable cause hearing at the time.

Cisco said he went to the judge, loosened his robe and saw blood on his back. He said others in the courtroom scrambled for cover.

"As far as we're concerned, there is no question that this was a case of premeditated murder," said a police dispatcher in Pompton Lakes, which serves as a central communications center for the area.

The last homicide occurred here in 1913, according to police.

Wanaque is about 10 miles south of the New York State border.

Federal Officer, Suspect Wounded In Bexar Raids

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Gunfire wounded a federal narcotics agent in one raid and fellow officers wounded a suspect in another raid Monday night.

Authorities said three bullets from a .30-caliber carbine struck James Lewis, 31, a San Antonio agent of the Drug Enforcement Agency as they sought to arrest a man at a residence on San Antonio's west side.

They reported shots were exchanged as the raiders kicked in a door about 10:30 p.m. at a house occupied by a man for whom they held a warrant charging a drug violation. The man, 30, and his wife were arrested and held to await formal charges.

Agents said they wounded a suspected violator during another raid in South Bexar County, where they seized 3,000 pounds of marijuana. The man, 28, was held without immediate charge.

A bee must make approximately 37,000 round trips to flowers for each pound of honey he produces.

White House News Staff Now Undergoing Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Betty Ford's new press secretary has told reporters who cover the First Lady that she will have "total access" to Mrs. Ford.

Sheila Rabb Weidenfeld, 31, a former television producer, met at the White House Monday for the first time with about 20 reporters who cover Mrs. Ford's activities.

She promised them she will be accessible to them and Mrs. Ford will be accessible to her.

"The First Lady stopped by to tell Mrs. Weidenfeld: 'Good luck — you'll need it.'"

Meanwhile, Ford's press secretary, Ron Nessen, said he is planning to reorganize the President's press staff.

And Nessen announced the resignation of Ken W. Clawson, who became director of communications at the White House under former President Richard M. Nixon.

Clawson sent a one-sentence letter, dated Oct. 11, to the President announcing his resignation, effective Thursday.

In a responding letter, formally addressed, "Dear Mr. Clawson," Ford accepted the resignation and thanked Clawson for his assistance during the transitional period "and for your devoted service to former President Nixon."

Clawson, a former newspaperman who had worked for the Washington Post before joining the White House, did not give any indication of his future plans. Nessen said he would not be replaced.

Communications Expert To Speak At Lamesa Event

LAMESA — Problems in inter-personal communications will be John V. Hazleton's topic for his address at this year's chamber-of-commerce banquet, scheduled for Nov. 21.

Hazleton, the guest speaker, is president of Interpersonal Communication Consultants of Oklahoma City, Okla. A former communications professor, he has more recently served as consultant to industry in solving problems of person-to-person communications.

The banquet, set for 7:30 p.m., will also include entertainment by Doy Ferguson, Gary Jones, Leonard Kunkel and Johnny Montgomery, all Lamesa musicians.
