School Finance Changes Urged

DOUBLE STANDARD - Mrs. Marshall Chappell, crossing guard on A Street at Bowie Elementary School, has two sets of rules for young'uns crossing the street. Above, she gives the "go" sign for students, but her four-legged friends at left remain curb-bound for their own safety. In recent days, motorists have seen Mrs. Chappell pushing the puppies out of the street after following students out in the crosswalk. (R-T Photos by Charles McCain.)

More Talks Slated On Coal Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) - Farmer was also interviewed on the "Today Show." Miller and aides have been explaining the contract line by line to the council. The UMW president has predicted that the package, which includes sizeable wage and benefit increases, would be ratified by the membership, possibly in time to end the nationwide walkout before Thanksgiving. But there have been indications from the coal fields that some miners are less than enthusiastic over the package. In southern West Virginia, where some union members have been traditionally skeptical of union leadership, miners have criticized the absence in the proposed contract of a right to strike-over local issues. They say this right is important to avoid federal court orders that were issued against local walkouts under the old contract. Organizers of a petition drive supporting a right-to-strike are active in the state-assisted foundation school program.

Ford Tells Americans They Need Not Put Off Purchases To Fight Inflation

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) - President Ford has assured Americans they need not postpone purchases to help fight inflation and that he will not seek wage and price controls or higher gasoline taxes. Fielding wide-ranging questions at an on-the-road news conference, Ford also said: -He wants Congress to promptly confirm Nelson A. Rockefeller as vice president and stressed there are "no conditions I can imagine" that would force him to withdraw Rockefeller's nomination. -He won't fire Gen. George S. Brown as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff for his remarks about Jewish influence in America. -He plans to make his trip to the Far East as scheduled next week.

NEW YORK BANK CUTS Prime Rate To 10.25

NEW YORK (AP) - First National City Bank, continuing its role of industry pacesetter, today lowered its prime rate another quarter point to 10.25 per cent, effective Monday. The nation's second largest commercial bank now has dropped the rate it charges on loans to most creditworthy business borrowers 1 1/2 percentage points in the last seven weeks. Most other major banks prime rates are at 10.75 per cent. The prime rate is closely watched as an over-all money market bellwether. While not directly linked to other bank rates, the prime often is an indicator of future trends in other rates, including those on consumer loans.

Former Midlander Named Head Of Texas Electric

FORT WORTH - W. G. "Bill" Marquardt, formerly of Midland, has been elected president, chief executive and a director of Texas Electric Service Co., succeeding Burl B. Hulsey Jr., who today was named president of Texas Utilities Co. in Dallas. The changes, to be effective Jan. 1, were approved at meetings of the boards of directors of the two companies held this morning at Dallas. Texas Electric is one of three operating companies in the Texas Utilities system. Marquardt has been a vice president of Texas Electric since 1963. He joined the company in 1941 after receiving an electrical engineering degree from The University of Texas at Austin. He has held a number of management positions at TESCO, including transmission superintendent at Eastland, Fort Worth and Odessa. He was Western Division manager at Midland until 1962 when he moved to Fort Worth as manager of division operations and was named vice president the following year. Hulsey has been president and chief executive at TESCO since 1966 and previously had held several other management positions. He began his career with the company in 1939 after graduating from Texas A&M with a degree in electrical engineering. He has been active in numerous civic and community organizations. He is past president of the Tarrant County United Way, a trustee of Texas Christian University and presently serves as president of Fort Worth's Progress and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Hulsey will succeed T. L. Austin Jr. as president of Texas Utilities. Austin has been elected vice chairman of the board and chief executive effective Jan. 1. C. A. Tatum Jr. will continue as chairman of the board, a position he has held since 1972. Marquardt was active in civic affairs during his Midland residence, serving in official capacities in both the Midland Chamber of Commerce and West Texas Chamber of Commerce. He also is a past president of the Midland Downtown Rotary Club.

Tentative Proposals Outlined

AUSTIN (AP) - Gov. Dolph Briscoe's chief educational adviser recommended today a sweeping revision of Texas' school finance system, including state aid for school construction and the use of market value of real estate for appropriating state aid.

Richard Hooker, director of the Governor's Office of Educational Research and Planning, said the proposals were only tentative as he outlined them at a legislative conference.

Highlights of the recommendations are:

-The use of a "weighted pupil" approach that would provide varying amounts of money for different schools, grades and programs according to varying costs of such programs. State aid now is allocated according to flat dollar amounts per classroom teacher unit.

-Determination of the ability of a local school district to finance itself according to the actual market of taxable real estate within the district.

-Inclusion of construction and classroom equipment within the state-assisted foundation school program.

State aid to schools now is based on a complex economic index system that critics say fails to put money where it is needed most. Local districts now must finance all of their school building construction and equipment purchases.

"As a result, taxpayers in a district on one side of Harris County must make 16 times the taxpayer effort that taxpayers in a district on the other side of that county must make in order to provide an equipped building of similar quality. Can this circumstance be considered taxpayer equity within a system of public education?" Hooker said.

Hooker's recommendations will go to the governor who will lay out his own plan for school (See SCHOOL Page 2A)

U.S. Dollar Takes Beating In Swiss Money Markets

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) - The U.S. dollar hit a new low today on Swiss money markets as West Germany's refusal to hold the value of the mark down continued to trigger shock waves.

Shortly before noon, the dollar was bringing only 2.675 Swiss francs, well below the previous record low of 2.70 set July 9, 1973.

Gold, meanwhile, was selling at $189 an ounce on the Zurich bullion market, a dollar above Thursday's closing but two dollars under the record $191 an ounce reached at one point in London on Thursday.

The dollar began dropping on European markets after West German Chancellor Helmut Schmidt said in a statement Wednesday night that he is in favor of letting the value of the mark increase. He said this would help reduce his country's big foreign trade surplus and assist other members of the European Common Market with balance-of-payments problems.

Warming weather was expected to spread from west to east across the state before the next cold front starts its southward push.

Israel Rebuffed By Arab Power

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — In another demonstration of Arab power at the United Nations, the General Assembly has blocked Israeli plans to counterattack the Palestine Liberation Organization with a major speech a day during the Palestine debate.

The assembly voted 75 to 23 with 18 abstentions Thursday to limit each country to one major speech during the Palestine debate, which runs for another week. This does not affect a country's "right of reply" to charges made against it, but this is customarily confined to 10 minutes at the end of the day's session.

Third Consecutive Day

It was the third consecutive day that the African, Asian and Communist members united behind the assembly's Arab president, Foreign Minister Abdelaziz Bouteflika, to demonstrate their control of the body once again. On Tuesday, the assembly decisively upheld Bouteflika's ruling that white-ruled South Africa could no longer participate in the assembly.

Nixon Settles Down At Seaside Villa For Quiet Recuperation

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon, pale and thin, settled down at his ocean-side villa today for a quiet recuperation from phlebotomy surgery.

Nixon left Long Beach Hospital Medical Center in a wheelchair Thursday and returned to his San Clemente home. Meanwhile the head of a medical team assigned to determine whether Nixon is well enough to testify in the Watergate cover-up trial said he wanted the court to assist him with legal matters before he attempts the examination.

Examination Likely
Dr. Charles A. Hufnagel, one of the three court-appointed physicians, said in Washington that the determination might not actually involve a physical examination of Nixon, but he said it likely would.

Hufnagel, chief of surgery at Georgetown University Hospital, said he has asked U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica to clarify his instructions. He said he expects a response in two or three days.

Hufnagel said he and the other two doctors — all internationally known cardiovascular specialists — want the court to contact Nixon's lawyers to make arrangements for the examination.

"Otherwise, what are we supposed to do? Go out to Long Beach, rent a hotel room and start making phone calls asking whom do we contact. This should be clarified before anything is done," he said.

Sirica's order Wednesday instructed the doctors to report to the Washington D. C. court if Nixon refused to undergo examination.

Danger Cited
Nixon's personal physician, Dr. John C. Lungren, said the stress of a court-ordered examination might cause Nixon's blood pressure to rise and set off renewed internal bleeding. But he said of the examination, "I have no control over it and he has no control over it."

Nixon, wearing a Navy blue robe over light-blue pajamas, left the hospital through a rear door. He shook hands weakly with Lungren, nurses and others who had attended him for 23 days, then hospital personnel helped him into his car for the 50-mile drive home. He was accompanied by his wife, Pat. Nixon had lost 10 to 15 pounds since entering the hospital Oct. 23.

Sato Says It's Too Late To Postpone Ford Visit

TOKYO (AP) — Elder statesman Eisaku Sato said today it's too late to think of postponing President Ford's visit to Japan.

"We can't question whether the timing is good or bad," said the former prime minister and co-winner of the Nobel Peace Prize this year.

Through him, the nation confers with Ford," Sato said in an interview.

He added that should the prime minister be forced out soon after the President leaves Japan next Friday.

"Ford's visit is already scheduled. In dealing with the supreme leader in international affairs, to change the schedule would be like trying to stop a locomotive already traveling down the tracks. It's not as simple as changing the time for some ordinary person like me."

Since Ford's visit was scheduled for Nov. 18-22, the political future of Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka has been put in doubt by charges that he used his official position to increase his fortune.

Leftist opposition to the visit took a violent form Thursday for the first time with a firebomb attack on the American and Soviet embassies, but the anti-American demonstrations have been negligible compared with the violence that forced cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit in 1960.

Robbery-Torture Murder Trial Due To Go To Jurors

FARMINGTON, Utah (AP) — The trial of three men charged in the sensational Ogden, Utah, Hi Fi Shop robbery-murder case was due to go to the jury today in U.S. district court.

Dale S. Pierre, 21, of Brooklyn, N.Y., William A. Andrews, 19, of Dallas, and Keith Leon Roberts, 20, of Oklahoma, are charged with three counts each of murder and two counts of aggravated robbery in the torture deaths of three persons at the Hi Fi Shop April 22.

The defendants are all gunmen or former gunmen at Hill Air Force Base near Ogden.

Instructions Made
District Judge John Walquist delivered final instructions to the jury Thursday afternoon. He said the jury must arrive at 15 separate verdicts — for the three murder counts and two robbery counts on each defendant.

The three men are charged in the deaths of Stanley Walker, 20, Mrs. Byron Naisbitt, 52, and Sherry Michelle Ansley, 18, all of Ogden.

Witnesses have testified the victims were forced to drink a caustic drain cleaner and then were shot. Medical evidence showed Miss Ansley had been raped.

Two Survive
Mrs. Naisbitt's son Courtney, 16, and Walker's father, Orren Walker, 43, survived. Young Naisbitt was shot in the head and a psychiatrist says he is not competent to testify.

Walker testified that Pierre shot him, his son, Mrs. Naisbitt, her son and Miss Ansley in the basement of the Hi Fi Shop. Walker also testified Pierre tried to strangle him and kicked a ballpoint pen into his ear. Walker said Andrews was present in the shop just before the killings.

Witnesses Produced
The prosecution has produced witnesses saying stereo equipment from the store was found in a rental storage unit Pierre had rented in Ogden the day of the killings.

The judge said jurors would hear closing arguments today and the case likely would go to the jury this afternoon.

British Prince, Princess Observe Anniversaries

LONDON (AP) — Prince Charles, heir to the British throne, and Princess Anne celebrated a double anniversary, but for the royal brother and sister it was just a routine day.

Prince Charles marked his 26th birthday Thursday on a helicopter course, part of his duties as a lieutenant in the Royal Navy.

Princess Anne it was the first anniversary of her marriage to cavalry captain Mark Phillips. The 24-year-old blonde princess spent the day at her Army-provided home at Sandhurst, 20 miles southwest of London, packing for a tour of Canada beginning Friday.

Her husband, who will accompany her, was on a military exercise with army recruits on Dartmoor, a bleak moorland in southwest England.

Most American immigrants now come from Mexico.

Dear Abby

—By Abigail van Buren

Louie Can't Get Enough AND He's Keeping Score

DEAR ABBY: I am 44 and Louie (my husband) is 49. I work in a laundry 10 hours a day, and when night time comes I need a rest. Louie still acts like a teen-ager when it comes to sex. He can't get enough.

On weekends if we go for a drive in the country, Louie starts looking for an abandoned farmhouse or a secluded road. When we go for a walk in the woods, Louie looks for some bushes for us to crawl under. (We were nearly caught several times.)

I got so tired of being hounded for sex that I made Louie ask our family doctor how much sex was normal for people our age. The doc said three times a week was normal, so now Louie keeps a record. If it's less than three times a week, he says I owe him, and he adds it on to the next week.

I am falling behind, and dread the thought of going on a vacation trip with this man. Any suggestions?

DEAR TIED: The time for sex is when BOTH partners are agreeable. Louie shouldn't feel that he's entitled to a certain number of encounters, and you shouldn't be made to feel that you "owe" it to him. Tell him to quit keeping score—you'll tell him when you're ready.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me what to do with a 10-year-old boy who is such a coward he lets every kid in the neighborhood (some younger and smaller than he is) pick on him and boss him around. He won't stand up for his rights. In fact, he will run away from a fight rather than try to defend himself. My husband and I have scolded him and even punished him, but it hasn't done any good. How can we get him to change?

He's not stupid. He loves sports, except boxing and wrestling. Or are some kids born to run from a fight?

DEAR ASHAMED: What's so great about exchanging punches. There is a lot to be said for avoiding physical combat, so don't scold or punish your son if he chooses to go the non-violent route.

DEAR ABBY: This is for "DOOMED," who wanted a big wedding but didn't know if his parents should help her parents foot the bill because of tradition. I am getting married next month, and when my fiancée and I became engaged, his parents offered to split the bills straight down the middle. They figured that their son is also getting married, and they should help pay for the wedding.

This has helped my parents immensely, and now we can have the big wedding we've both always dreamed of.

DEAR HAPPY: I'm happy too. Happy that someone has had the courage to break with tradition in the interest of fairness and common sense. Maybe you'll start a new tradition. I hope so.

DEAR ABBY: A widow wrote to tell you how her grown children removed all her husband's possessions immediately after he had died suddenly. They didn't consult her first, and she was crushed.

I can understand that. Going through the belongings of a loved one, keeping some to cherish, giving some to others who loved him too, can be a great comfort in the agonizing stages of one's grief.

I lost my teen-age son, Steve, in a motorcycle accident. He sang, played the guitar and had grown so tall and handsome. So many people loved him—and still do.

I will treasure some of the items he used in his everyday life. They are part of my life, too. I'm glad no one did me the favor of getting rid of all his belongings.

Gen. Brown Will Retain Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford says Gen. George S. Brown will remain as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff despite Brown's "one mistake" in remarks about Jewish influence.

But some administration officials say they believe Brown still could be in jeopardy if congressional attacks on the general grow significantly and persist when the House and Senate return next week.

Colorado U Eyeing Sawhill For President

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — John C. Sawhill, who resigned under fire as federal energy administrator, is being considered for appointment as the president of the University of Colorado.

Frank Barnes, a professor heading the university's search committee, said Thursday that Sawhill is one of about 300 persons being considered.

Barnes refused to say whether Sawhill has been interviewed for the job or if he is among the finalists. Sawhill was in nearby Denver on Wednesday and met with Gov. John D. Vanderhoof and Gov.-elect Richard D. Lamm.

Saudi Dignitary Dies In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — The foreign minister of Saudi Arabia, Omar Sakkaf, died in his New York hotel room Thursday night, his ambassador to the United Nations announced. He was 50. Ambassador Jamil Baroudy said Sakkaf died of a cerebral thrombosis—a blood clot in the brain. The foreign minister had been attending the U.N. General Assembly.

Opinion among White House staff members is said to be mixed on whether Brown should go. But Brown has the support of Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger, although Schlesinger deplors what Brown said in a meeting at Duke University last month.

Asked about Brown's status at a news conference in Phoenix, Ariz., Thursday night, Ford noted that "I have publicly disavowed the comments made by Gen. Brown."

The President also noted that he had called Brown to his White House office early Thursday and "indicated to him very directly my strong feelings" on the matter, and that Brown had publicly apologized for his remarks.

Striking Teachers Jailed

DETROIT (AP) — A Wayne County judge ordered 11 striking Garden City teachers jailed Thursday for violating his back-to-work order as schools in the Detroit suburb remained closed for a fourth straight day.

Circuit Court Judge Charles Kaufman sentenced John Melchor, chief negotiator for the suburban teachers union, to 30 days in the Detroit House of Correction, and handed each of 10 other union leaders five-day sentences.

Monday for the second time this school year. They began a strike over a new contract Sept. 3, and continued it for three weeks until Kaufman ordered them to report back to work while contract negotiations continued.

School officials asked the judge Monday to cite 12 union leaders for contempt of his order.

Federal Mediator Calls For Houston Bus Strike Talks

HOUSTON (AP) — Federal mediator E. D. Kincaid was to meet today with representatives of striking city bus workers union and the bus company.

Kincaid said Thursday the session "was not prompted by any revelations by either side." He said he exercised his "mediator's prerogative" in calling the meeting but he was not optimistic.

A previous meeting with Kincaid Nov. 4—the day before the strike started—failed to prevent the workers from walking off their jobs.

The striking drivers and mechanics are members of the Transport Workers Union which is asking for a $1.35 an hour wage increase over a two-year period. Houston, the bus company, has offered them 80 cents an hour increase over the period.

Drivers currently start at $3.70 an hour and earn $4.45 an hour after two years.

Palestine Officer Fired For Prayers

PALESTINE, Tex. (AP) — Prayer during a police briefing session has led to the firing of a Palestine officer.

"I thought it was a good idea," police Sgt. Mike Wachala said of the invocation that caused his dismissal. "In our profession, we need all the help we can get... This (the prayer) might be the last contact with the Lord."

Wachala, with the Palestine force since 1967, was dismissed Wednesday by police Chief Jay Banks after allegedly refusing to obey an order to refrain from religious discussions and prayer sessions during the briefing period for the night shift, which Wachala commanded.

Banks said the Palestine police code of conduct forbids such discussion while on active police duty.

Wachala allegedly refused to obey an order from Lt. Robert Meyer and Lt. Hunter Williams, who also is the assistant police chief, to refrain from the prayers.

Wachala said he began the invocations on a voluntary basis Halloween and continued them nightly until his suspension Nov. 12.

100 American Refugees Evacuated From Luanda

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — More than 100 American women and children were flown to Johannesburg today from Luanda, the capital of Angola, to escape the threat of racial violence.

Most of the refugees are wives and children of employees of Cabinda Gulf Oil, an American company operating in the Cabinda field north of the capital of the Portuguese colony.

Joe Connor, a Cabinda Gulf executive who accompanied the refugees, said the situation in Luanda is calm but trouble was feared this weekend.

"Right now things are pretty explosive in Angola, and it was simply considered safer to get the women to South Africa before possible flareups this weekend."

Forty women and 42 children arrived on a chartered South African airliner this morning and another 12 adults and 10 children were aboard a second flight.

Connor said some of them would return to the United States and others would return to Angola when the crisis cools down.

Texas Instruments Announces Layoffs

DALLAS (AP) — Blaming "worldwide economic softness," as described in a third quarter report to stockholders, Texas Instruments, Inc., announced layoffs Thursday for 1,000 employees.

The company said its work force will be reduced by 900 in the Dallas area and by 100 at Lubbock.

The report to stockholders, issued Oct. 28, stated that in the fourth quarter a reduction in employment of 2,500 to 3,000 more than normal attribution would be necessary in TI operations in North and South America and in Europe.

Severance pay based on length of service will go to those affected, the company said.

More Speculation

Certain members of Congress who say the nomination of Nelson Rockefeller to be vice president is in trouble, now, reportedly, are asking, "After Rocky, who?"

From this distance, it would appear that Rockefeller's nomination yet will be approved... and from all indications it should be.

But the possibility that approval may not be gained has triggered a certain amount of speculation.

Most of the speculation, it is reported, involves George Bush of Houston and Donald Rumsfeld, now an assistant to the President with cabinet rank.

Both men were among those considered by President Ford when he decided on Rockefeller.

Washington sources say that if a successor is to be named for Rockefeller, Rumsfeld not only is closer to Ford now, than Bush, but had been before.

Those persons speculating on the two men, of course, are assuming that Ford would go back to the list of possible vice presidents he used when Rockefeller was nominated.

Mind you, the Rockefeller nomination has been pending far too long, since last Aug. 20. Someone has said Ford may withdraw the nomination if it isn't approved by yearend.

The Reporter-Telegram originally favored the nomination of George Bush. It yet believes he would make a great vice president.

Scouts 'Good Turn'

A good news article out of Dallas, involving Boy Scouts of that city, particularly is timely during Youth Appreciation Week.

It is reported that on a recent Sunday when they could have been watching the Dallas Cowboy football team in action, 10,000 Boy Scouts took time to help the handicapped workers of Goodwill Industries.

They collected thousands of bags of clothing and other useful items contributed by other interested citizens.

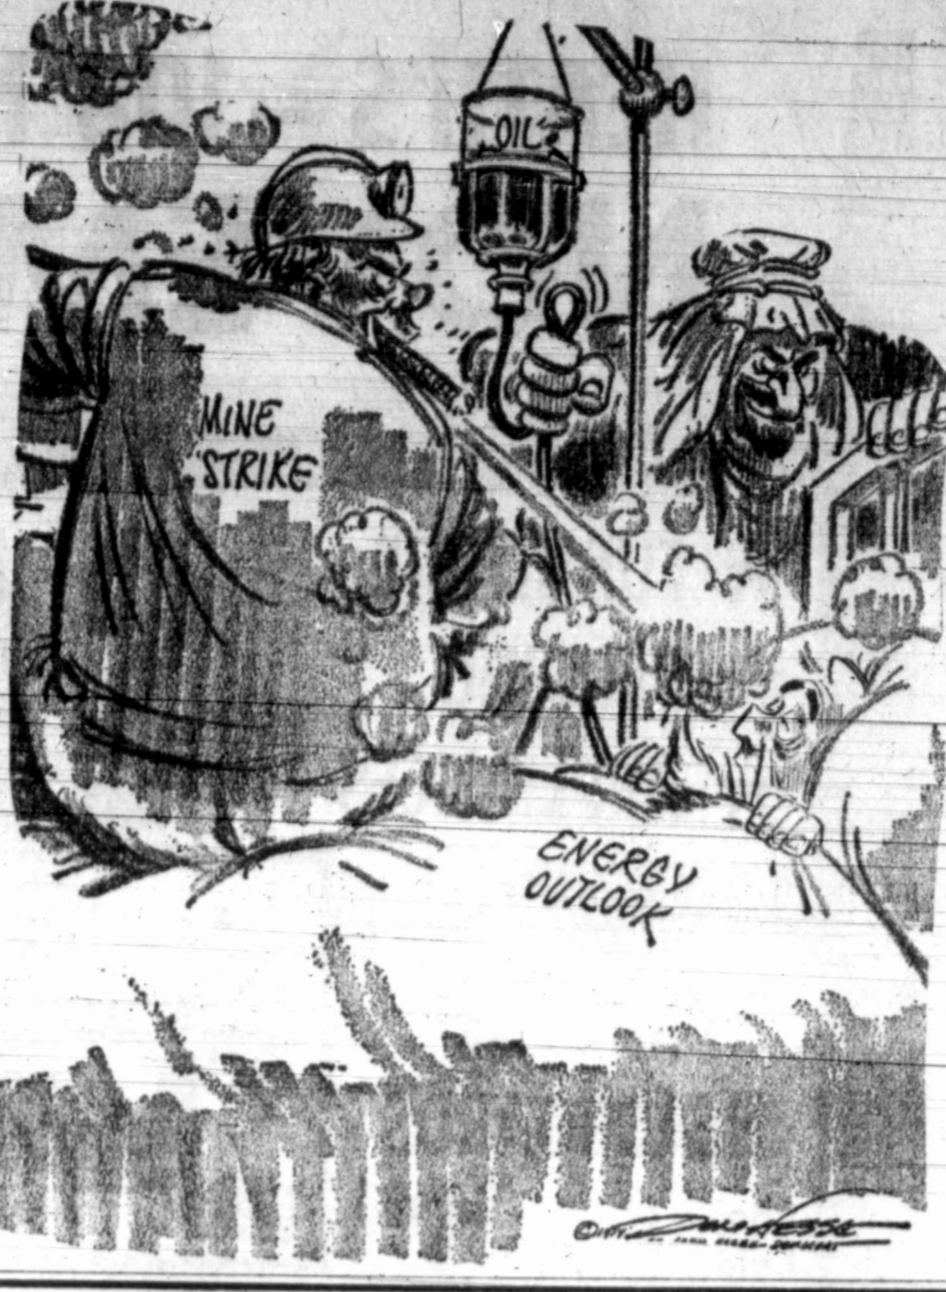

Another example of youths in action, helping others.

Hospital Visitors

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — In the first such case since the late Adam Clayton Powell was unseated in 1967, a certified congressman may be barred from the House.

He is George Hansen, an Idaho Republican, who served two terms in the House during the mid-60s and has been elected again to his old seat.

Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, the formidable House Administration chairman, will ask Hansen to stand aside until criminal charges against him are resolved.

This means he won't be sworn in with his colleagues next January. If the charges against him stand up, he may never be permitted to take his seat.

Federal auditors have turned up at least 30 apparent violations of the campaign laws by Hansen. These include the acceptance of 21 illegal corporate checks, the filing of late and inaccurate disclosure reports, the use of six secret cash accounts for his campaign and the funneling of money into his primary campaign through an unreported committee.

So serious are the charges that Hays has written two letters to the Justice Department about the case. His committee wrote the campaign law and investigated the Hansen campaign.

Yet Justice Department sources tell us that, despite overwhelming evidence, the federal prosecutors have no plans to act on the case. Indeed, the Hansen case, although the most serious, isn't the only one which the Justice Department is sitting on.

Under the campaign spending law, the clerk of the House and the secretary of the Senate are supposed to refer suspected violations to the Justice Department.

When the law was enacted in 1971, there was skepticism that the House clerk and Senate secretary, who are under the control of Congress, would ever be able to police Congress.

In fact, they have done a scrupulous, nonpartisan job of administering the law. More than 10,000 alleged violations, including about 1,800 this year, have been sent to the Justice Department.

Zoo Orangutans In New Quarters

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Eli and Sally, the Los Angeles Zoo's two valuable adult orangutans, have been released into their new outdoor exhibit after spending eight years inside a padlocked cage out of public view.

They were joined by two offspring, Jonathan and Eloise, plus three other young orangutans, Sulong, Hedda and Zorba.

The two orangutans were on display in the old Los Angeles Zoo, but were placed in a small cage in the new zoo health center because proper holding facilities were not available, zoo officials said.

Their new quarters is a large moat surrounded enclosure. They will stay there until a proposed private village for all the zoo's apes is completed in about five years at an estimated cost of $5 million.

House over how to cope with economic problems, they tell us, is worse than it was during the last days of President Nixon. They cite these developments: — Several weeks ago, the President's economic advisers delivered a confidential forecast to him that unemployment would hit 7 per cent this year — a sure sign of recession. Yet this wasn't even taken into account by the Economic Policy Board which, under presidential prodding, went ahead with its strategy to fight inflation.

— While the President is calling upon Americans to spend less in order to curb inflation, they are already spending far less than most industries would like. New-car sales are down drastically. The housing industry is paralyzed. Merchants across the country are reporting drops in their sales charts.

— The economic crunch has shaken the foundations of several banks. — Ford's economic policies are tilted toward big business. At a secret White House session, one consultant confronted the President bluntly: "Mr. President, you've asked us to reduce waste by 5 per cent, reduce driving by 5 per cent and increase taxes by 5 per cent. Could we ask the big oil companies to reduce their profits by 5 per cent?" This suggestion was rejected.

There is one hope. President Ford as a former Michigan congressman is close to the auto tycoons. They desperately want Americans to spend more, not less. The nation's No. 1 problem, they are pleading, is not inflation but recession.

When the auto tycoons speak, Ford out of habit listens. If the economy continues to weaken, he belatedly may take their advice.

MISMANAGED ECONOMY? — President Ford's insistence that inflation is the nation's No. 1 problem, in the opinion of some of his own economic advisers, is pushing the country into a dangerous recession.

These advisers, who for obvious reasons have asked not to be identified, have come to the regretful conclusion that the President is mismanaging the economy.

The confusion inside the White House is being made public.

RAY CROMLEY Is Detente Peace On Russia's Terms?

WASHINGTON (NEA) — One would think the federal government had learned its lesson from the Russian grain deal of last year. Those U.S.-taxpayer-subsidized shipments bit into so much of our grain we have faced shortages ever since. The shortages have been a principal cause of high food prices — with a domino effect on other consumer goods.

It seemed for a time this year that we had learned our lesson. President Ford stepped in to limit grain shipments to the USSR and developed a control system of sorts. But it turns out we didn't learn much after all.

For with the full concurrence of this government and in the name of detente, U. S. industry today is making a series of similar deals with the Russians in high technology and the advanced industrial processes which are the life blood of this country's economic and military security.

The know-how we are preparing to sell the Russians at cut-rate prices and with subsidized loans centers in computers, advanced electronics, sophisticated chemical processes and other fields which provide the industrial and research and development base for military strength. When the Strategic Arms Limitation agreement was signed, U. S. technological superiority was advertised as the basic reason we need not match the Russian strategic buildup, megaton for megaton.

If the Russians are able, with the assistance of this American know-how, to match us in military technology and exceed us in tonnage, they will assuredly be less cautious in the Middle East, Asia and West Europe, which has shown little ability to stand up to outside pressure.

Leaving military considerations aside, the industrial development assistance itself poses dangers similar to those of the unfortunate grain deal. When the Russians have the money, they buy in large gulps. Though their purchases may be a very small proportion of total output, they can have tremendous economic impact.

Russia's five-year plans provide for industrial expansion in giant steps with mammoth projects interspersed by lulls. There is not the constant upgrading and rebuilding which characterizes American industry and which normally — but not always as we today see so clearly — keeps our economy on a fairly even course.

When U.S.-Soviet trade reaches the expected levels as a result of U. S. investments and subsidies, these tremendous Russian purchases in several fields for one, two or three years or so, followed by lulls or shifts to other fields, are likely to accentuate our cycles of boom and recession.

The Russian again-buying could thus turn mild recessions into depressions and transform welcome booms into inflationary explosions.

Now these risks might be well worth taking if there were evidence the commercial, industrial and political intercourse might result in a change within Russia. But there is clearly no evidence that this might happen.

In the past when U. S. aid was greatest and American technicians moved into the USSR in numbers, Russia's rulers clamped down more tightly on dissent. News reports out of Russia today indicate the Kremlin is once again moving toward increased repression as a means of offsetting any American influence over aid or our visiting engineers may engender.

One prominent Soviet dissenter has warned that U. S. assistance will be counter-productive without strictly-enforced Soviet guarantee on internal freedom.

In summary, the pursuit of detente with the Soviet Union is being pushed with more fervor than reason.

THE CONSUMER ALERT — Buyer Problems Often Face Senior Citizens

By JOHN L. HILL, Texas Attorney General

AUSTIN — Older citizens often face special consumer problems. Recently, attorneys from our Consumer Protection Division participated in a statewide seminar that looked into the types of consumer problems that such senior citizens experience and analyzed methods of getting information about these problems to older citizens.

Home improvement is another area in which older citizens are often gyped. We have found that many consumer complaints about home improvements or repairs result from not getting in writing a description of the work to be performed.

Our attorneys urge senior citizens not to pay money in advance for such work. Most reputable individuals or firms require payment only after the job is completed according to specifications.

It's also very important to deal with established firms or persons with a good local reputation, since itinerant home improvement salesmen may not be around to make good on guarantees. We advise checking with the Better Business Bureau before agreeing to any home improvement project.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Recent tests have revealed that dogs as companions have been helpful to schizophrenic patients. In one study, 36 dogs chosen for their warmth and friendliness were given to 20 patients who did not respond to conventional therapy. Of the 18 patients who accepted a dog, all showed improvement and some cases were discharged. The World Almanac notes.

Hearing Set Today On Pornography Cases

HOUSTON (AP) — A three-judge federal court today will hear oral arguments broadly attacking Texas laws used to prosecute sellers of sexually-oriented materials.

The hearing combines cases from Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio, Austin, Beaumont, San Angelo and College Station in which operators of adult movies houses, peep shows, bookstores and night clubs have obtained temporary federal injunctions stopping enforcement of Texas laws.

The court has set for oral arguments cases growing out of police raids in San Antonio, Dallas and San Angelo.

Lawyers for the petitioners are attacking the state's obscenity law which took effect in January. They are also seeking to end the use of police of status closing down movie houses as public nuisances, using the state's criminal instruments law to charge such operators with felonies and stopping what movie house operators say are police "search and destroy operations."

The three federal judges, John Singleton and Joe Ingraham of Houston and William Taylor of Dallas, are expected to issue a written opinion at least several weeks after listening to today's oral arguments.

In the San Antonio case, operators of the Fiesta Theater are suing Dist. Atty. Ted Butler's use of the criminal instruments law. After holding a hearing before a justice of the peace at the theater, police seized copies of the film "Deep Throat" on obscenity grounds. They charged theater employees with commercial exhibition of obscene materials, a misdemeanor. But then they charged them with use of criminal instruments, a much more serious felony, on the grounds that a projector used to show the film was such a criminal instrument.

In the San Angelo case, County Atty. George E. McCrea attempted to shut down the King Arts Theatre, Inc., under the state's public nuisance statute. Ellwest Stereo Theatres of Dallas is attacking the seizing of film, projectors and other equipment in the theater with a search warrant. In the Fort Worth case, operators of a movie theater charge police engaged in a "search and destroy mission," seizing everything in the theater and even ripping up seats.

A Houston case involving the showing of the movie "Deep Throat" and also involved in the hearing has been dropped. Dist. Atty. Carol Vance announced here several months ago that he was giving up prosecuting adult movie houses after juries on two occasions could not agree if "Deep Throat" was obscene.

Kissinger Proposes International Efforts To Cut Oil Consumption

CHICAGO (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, warning that "it is our liberty that is at stake," has called for rigid international cooperation to cut oil consumption and develop new energy sources.

Only a serious reduction in consumption by industrialized nations will impel oil-producing nations to negotiate lower oil prices, Kissinger said. Otherwise, "we face further and mounting worldwide shortages, unemployment, poverty and hunger," impending international order.

Liberty At Stake "It is our liberty that is at stake and it is only through the concerted action of the industrial democracies that it will be maintained," said Kissinger in a major address before a fund-raising campaign kick-off dinner for the University of Chicago.

Kissinger said North America, Western Europe and Japan must cooperate because "there can be no purely American solution."

He proposed a five-point international program of cooperation to check the effects of the global energy crisis.

The plan included reduced dependence on foreign oil supplies; dynamic development of alternative energy sources; a shoring up of economies overburdened by huge outlays paid in high oil prices to producing nations; continuing aid at least at current levels to developing countries; and meaningful dialogue with producers after bargaining power is attained through reduced consumption.

Major Role Seen Kissinger said the United States will play a major role in any international cooperative effort, specifically seeking to reduce oil imports over the next decade from seven million barrels a day to no more than one million barrels daily.

Kissinger proposed an international agreement to set consumption goals, asking that by the end of 1975 industrialized countries reduce their consumption of oil by three million barrels a day and meet each year to set annual targets.

economic growth and jobs, by cutting back on wasteful and inefficient uses of energy both in personal consumption and in industry," he said.

He urged the industrialized bloc to make a major shift toward use of nuclear power, coal, gas and other energy resources to transform current shortages into energy surpluses by the 1980s.

Huge Investment "The U.S. effort would call for the investment of hundreds of billions of dollars, dwarfing our moonlanding program and the Manhattan Project." Kissinger said the most serious immediate problem is economic and financial strain facing industrial nations that currently are burdened with a collective payments deficit of $40 billion.

He called for the creation of a common loan and guarantee facility to redistribute in 1975 up to $25 billion in money that was invested in consuming nations by the oil-producing nations.

Kissinger painted a bleak picture of the global energy crisis goes unchecked. "Already producers have the power to cause major financial upheavals simply by shifting investment funds from one country to another.... The political implications are ominous and unpredictable. Those who wield financial power would sooner or later seek to dictate the political terms of the new relationships."

Two weeks ago, Johnndro asked Taylor for an order to require Braniff to use the regional airport exclusively. He said Braniff shifted all flights back to Dallas-Fort Worth Airport, he could not get assurances from the airline that it would not resume some service from the Dallas facility.

Love Field Dispute Continues

DALLAS (AP) — The City of Fort Worth has asked a federal court to prevent Texas International Airlines from using Dallas Love Field for its commuter flights.

It was another step in the continuing dispute about commuter flights using Love Field instead of the new Dallas-Fort Worth Airport.

Most airlines signed an agreement to use Dallas-Fort Worth Airport exclusively. However, Southwest Airlines, a commuter company, was formed after the agreement was signed and did not agree to it.

Shortly, Texas International began using Love Field again.

Spokesmen for organized medicine have voiced opposition to a national health insurance program, saying it will solve the problems of distribution and availability of health services.

Speaking at a seminar sponsored by the National Urban Coalition and the Urban Coalition of Metropolitan San Antonio, Tex. Roberts, executive director of the Texas Osteopathic Medical Association, warned that a poor national health insurance law could topple the present health care system.

Dr. Brandon Hull of Lubbock, director of the West Texas Health System, Inc., said studies in his area showed a national health plan would create a 57 per cent increase in demand for out-patient care.

But Hull pointed out that proper delivery of health services would cause a long-term decrease in hospitalization needs.

"Hospitals are the costliest items of health care," he said.

Wet Fall Reverses Production Trend For Water District

BIG SPRING — An abnormally wet autumn has reversed the production trend for the Colorado River Municipal Water District. The 1.25-billion-gallons delivered to customers in October not only was 20.59 per cent less than for October 1973, but it marked the first time this year that deliveries have fallen under the corresponding month of last year.

Nevertheless, deliveries for the first 10 months of the year were up nearly 2 billion gallons, or 13.21 per cent, for a total of almost 18 billion gallons. The district can still experience its first 20-billion-gallon year if it measures up to November- and December production of a year ago.

The decline was all reflected in lower municipal demands in October when the district pumped only 751 million to the cities, the least amount since February. This was down 31.2 per cent from the 1,099 billion gallons delivered in October, 1973. For the 10 months, this year is still 931 million gallons, or 8.46 per cent, ahead of municipal deliveries a year ago.

The district pumped almost a half billion gallons to oil and industrial users in October, UP 18 million gallons to oil and industrial users in October, up 18 million gallons. For the year these deliveries have amounted to slightly more than 6 billion gallons, up nearly 1.25 billion gallons.

Municipal deliveries in October were: Odessa (256 million gallons, down 27.21 per cent; Big Spring 206 million, down 9.24 per cent; Snyder 58 million, down 7.14 per cent; Stanton almost 4 million, down 43.19; Midland 225 million, down 22.79; San Angelo 2.3 million, down 98.46.

Negotiations Completed On Russian Grain Deal

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Almost six weeks after President Ford's ban on the sale of 3.4 million tons of corn and grain to the Soviet Union, Cook Industries Inc. has announced fresh negotiations are complete and that exports will begin within a few days.

Ford halted the sale by the Memphis-based Cook and Continental Grain Co. on Oct. 5, then relented. It was feared the deal would have an adverse effect on domestic prices and supplies.

The original sale was for 1.3 million metric tons of corn and Henderson, Alan Hartzel, Donald Hicks, David Hohle, John Holmes, Jud Hopson, Gregory Howard, Paul Huckabay, Jennifer Huddleston, Donald Johnson, Lisa Kingree, Brian LaBouff, Mary Lambeth, Jennifer Landenberg, Nancy Lee, Pamela Lewis, David Lott, Timothy Lyles, Robin Malone, Lydia Mangold, Judy Masdon, Cynthia Mason, Sarah Matichus, Edward McCabe, Lisa McDonald, Calvin McElreath, Sparks said export loading will begin within a few days from ports in the Gulf of Mexico.

Sparks and Joseph W. McLeary, executive vice president of Cook Industries, declined to place a value on the sale or indicate what the Russians are paying for each ton of corn or grain.

"That's confidential information," Sparks said. McLeary would not comment on the possible impact of the deal on U.S. food prices.

"It's a very small sale," Sparks said. "It was blown away out of proportion. It's not really that big."

"THE POWER OF GOD TO SAVE"

Why turn to the wisdom of man to answer such an important issue as the saving of our souls from hell. Paul informs the readers of the Roman letter that the GOSPEL is the POWER OF GOD unto salvation. (Ro. 1:16) The same inspired apostle wrote, "... it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe." (1 Cor. 1:21) Jesus said the "truth makes men free." (Jn. 8:32) James declared that the "engrafted word is able to save our souls." (Jas. 1:22) The apostle Peter said that man "purifies his soul in obeying the truth." (1 Pe. 1:22)

Neighbor friend, it would appear that with such testimony as we have cited here from the pen of inspiration, that we would in no way settle for less than the truth on any subject. Eternity is too long, life is too short, hell is too awful, and heaven is too wonderful for us to flirt with error.

Can one really believe that every man has the right to build a denomination if he so pleases? Has such right been granted by the Lord Jesus Christ? If so, it should be precievably set forth in the Word of God. Since such authority cannot be found in the Book of books, it is inept, to say the least, that we should preach more than "one faith." (See Ep. 4:5)

The Cuthbert and Austin Church of Christ will begin a gospel meeting this coming Sunday morning and will continue through next Friday night. Rabat Summit Sabotages American Formula For Peace In Middle East

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
(An AP News Analysis)

Suddenly, a radical change in the rules of the game has badly snagged the American quest for a magic Middle East coexistence formula and the peace effort now is a cliff-hanger drama.

Hopes for real—if agonizingly slow—progress are fading and some are wondering: Did Israel blunder and miss the boat?

Classic Dilemma

The recent Rabat summit produced the classic dilemma of irresistible force and immovable body when Arab rulers anointed the Palestine Liberation Organization as the "only representative" of Palestinians. Only two weeks before, the PLO guerrillas won significant world recognition in an astonishing 195 to 4 vote of the United Nations.

This show of muscle produced a new and discouraging dimension—for Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's quest for peace. Americans had regarded King Hussein of Jordan as a moderate with whom fruitful negotiation was possible, but now he's practically out of the picture.

Perhaps, says one Israeli source, Israel missed a chance to negotiate Hussein back into a foothold in his former Palestinian territory, lost in the 1967 war. Now it's too late.

Hussein bowed out, noting "Israel was terribly slow" in that respect. Now, says the king, "A new reality exists and Jordan must adjust to it."

Hussein is retreating to what was the little Bedouin emirate of Transjordan before his grandfather, Abdullah, in the 1948-49 war sent troops across the Jordan River to annex the bulge. Abdullah adorned the combined result with the grandiloquent name of "Hashemite Kingdom of the Jordan."

Hussein hadn't a chance at Rabat. Arab rulers, fearful of their own positions, gave the PLO its way. Hussein, often marked for assassination by Palestine guerrillas, bowed to the inevitable.

Bad News For Israel

Israel could have lived with Hussein at the head of a Jordan re-established in the west bank. Israel occupied the west bank in 1967. Now Israel faces the prospect of PLO domination of a state made up of the west bank on one side and the Gaza Strip, teeming with bitter refugees, on the other. Even short-range, the PLO intends to settle for nothing less than a Palestine state on those lines.

Triumphantly ensconced as the head of an official delegation to the United Nations in New York, Yasir Arafat, the PLO chief, refuses to renounce

Groundbreaking Set Monday For MNB

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new 14-story Midland National Bank Tower are scheduled for 10 a.m. Monday, it was announced today by Tony A. Martin, bank president.

Ceremonies will take place on the paved lot at the east end of the bank's property, comprising two blocks bounded by Illinois, Marienfeld, Texas and Carrizo streets.

Construction of the multi-million dollar building will begin immediately, with completion scheduled in the spring of 1976.

belligerency. He talks in terms of a secular state for all Palestine, including what is now Israel. That is a minimum long-range goal. It would mean the end of a Jewish nation as such.

"It doesn't enter our minds to negotiate with a body that resorts to violence and terror to destroy our state," Premier Yitzhak Rabin told his parliament recently.

If Israel clings to that stand and the guerrillas to theirs, the deadlock is clear and thus the gloomy predictions of new war.

"The wounded wolves of Tel Aviv are preparing a fifth Middle East war with the support of the United States," said a member of the PLO executive. "The primary duty of the Arab states at this stage is to prepare themselves militarily and economically to face the new war."

Arab Oil Billions

The wherewithal for that is available. Arab oil money to the tune of $1.5 billion will flow to frontline Arab nations, including the PLO, and will go largely for arms.

Israel, meantime, is in bad economic trouble, the backlash of the 1973 war. She is spending $4 billion for defense this year to arm against a wealth of Arab equipment from Communist sources, and the severe strain is provoking painful dislocations.

The situation could hardly be more complex. Israel had liked to think Palestine wasn't the basic question, but rather it had been Israel's right to exist as a Jewish state. But clearly Palestine now is central to whatever happens.

It's difficult to say just who would be considered a citizen of the projected state. There are about 3.2 million Palestinians, including 475,000 in Israel proper and 650,000 in the west bank. Hussein will be de-Palestinizing his east bank Bedouin realm, now holding a million Palestinians, who will have an option of going or staying. Many likely will stay.

How many Palestinians now can be considered refugees is problematical. There are 650,000 refugees in 60-odd camps in Jordan, the Gaza Strip, the west bank, Lebanon and Syria, but many descendants of other Palestinians, now scattered all over the area, consider themselves refugees who haven't surrendered their claims to their conquered lands.

Further Complications

A further complication: The PLO is an umbrella organization for guerrilla groups. All told, they number about 30,000. Arafat's Al Fatah is the main group, but it has rivals, including extremist units who think Arafat insufficiently warlike. The differences, however, seem to center not so much on what should happen to Israel, but how and how quickly.

All this and more add up to a situation so complex as probably to frighten such rulers as President Anwar Sadat of Egypt and Saudi Arabia's King Faisal, caught between the heat generated by extreme emotion over Palestine and their own hopes for relative calm, wherein they might seek some economic improvement.

The political wallop of the PLO was made abundantly clear at Rabat. The PLO can capture the imagination and support of Arab masses to the extent where rulers would be uncomfortable.

COMMUNITY SERVICE — Retired men build a community center at Nokomis, Ill., because the town couldn't otherwise afford the construction costs. Only one man had previous construction experience. (AP Wirephoto.)

Senior Citizens Serve Illinois Farm Town

NOKOMIS, Ill. (AP) — This small central Illinois farm town couldn't afford to build a new community center until it tapped an almost forgotten resource: the skills and muscles of its senior citizens.

"You can't just retire and sit in a rocking chair until you die," says L. E. Nantkes, 78, who talked the Nokomis Park Board into putting him in charge of building the center.

Nantkes, a retired banker with building experience nearly half a century ago, found seven other retired men to help him.

The only one in the group with previous construction experience was Paul Fabulo, 67, a former bricklayer. The others were Fred Bauman, 83, who had been a farmer; Fred Johnson, 78, a mechanic; Fred Heck, 75, who had owned a grain elevator; Ed Bertolino, 67, a high school principal; John Schoon, 68, a druggist; and Joe Viola, 68, who had owned an ice cream parlor.

"The community was pretty skeptical at first," Nantkes said. "I think they thought we were just going to come out here and putter around, and the money was going to go down the drain. They've changed their minds now."

Nantkes and his elderly crew started work the Monday after Thanksgiving last year, dismantling the 81-year-old house that had served as the old community center to salvage its lumber.

Now the new center, a handsome red brick building, is nearly done. Nantkes expects it to be completed by Christmas, built for less than the $25,000 the Park Board was able to come up with.

"Without us it would have cost $75,000. That was the contractor's estimate, and the town just couldn't afford it," Nantkes said.

"Inflation was making the cost rise faster than we could save money each year," he said.

Nantkes said he doesn't understand why more communities don't utilize the skills and abilities of their senior citizens.

"Think of all that talent. It's a crime to let it go to waste. Any town could do what we did. They just need a leader to get it going," he said. "Not one of us is collecting a dime in wages, but we've had a ball out here. I feel better than I have in the last 10 years. I'm not taking pills anymore. It's just a healthier life than just sitting around."

Ford Again Rejects Gas Tax Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford, facing massive auto industry layoffs, has again rejected a gasoline tax hike that would reduce driving.

Ford also rapped his top energy official for reviving the idea after the President had already rejected the gasoline tax proposal.

Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton had surprised reporters Wednesday by renewing the proposal. Some equally surprised officials considered it unlikely that Morton would revive the idea without White House approval.

Needles Morton But Ford in a broadcast news conference in Phoenix, Ariz., Thursday night slapped it down hard and needed Morton for raising it.

"We are not considering an additional gasoline tax," Ford said.

"I thought that others in the executive branch got the word. And I hope that this word is gotten to my good friend, the Secretary of the Interior. I am not considering an increase in the gasoline tax."

Morton told reporters Wednesday he felt it his duty as chairman of the President's policy-guiding Energy Resources Council to study all fuel-saving options, including the gasoline tax. Morton also said he had economists studying it and that he would discuss it with key congressmen.

Morton also had acknowledged that a gas tax hike would have an impact on the auto industry.

Ford is a former Congressman from Michigan, the home of the auto industry. Auto makers already have laid off 69,000 workers as new cars sales have sagged.

There was more bad news Thursday from the auto industry. General Motors, with 36,000 workers already on indefinite furlough, announced it would lay off another 1,064 indefinitely at eight Chevrolet plants after Friday's shifts. GM also said 5,000 more workers would be laid off for two weeks starting Monday at its Vega plant in Lordstown, Ohio.

Ford Motor Co. has laid off 8,500 indefinitely and 3,000 others for one week.

Chrysler, with 8,800 on indefinite furlough, will lay off another 8,000 indefinitely on Monday. Some 12,600 other Chrysler workers are on a one-week layoff.

The gasoline tax idea also had drawn negative reaction from some Congressional Democrats, including two in key positions.

One was House Democratic Whip John J. McFall of California; the other was Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore., second-ranked on the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee.

Associates Puzzled Morton could not be reached for comment late Thursday, but close associates admitted they were puzzled at his apparent public divergence from the President's opposition to the gasoline tax.

Meanwhile, in other economic news Thursday:

—The Commerce Department said personal income increased $3.4 billion in October, rising about seven-tenths of one percent. That marked a slowdown from the September increase of $10.8 billion, or one per cent.

—The department said the slowdown was caused largely by job layoffs and shorter work weeks, with unemployment hitting the manufacturing payroll hardest.

Higher Benefits

—The Agriculture Department said that higher food stamp benefits would take effect Jan. 1, including an increase of $4 a month for a family of four. The increase, however, has already been eaten up by soaring food prices, according to earlier government figures.

The department also raised the limit on family earnings which permit eligibility for food stamps. A family of four will be allowed to earn $513 per month, instead of $500, and still qualify for food stamps. The increase in August.

limits apply only to low-income persons who are not on welfare.

—The Commerce Department reported that manufacturers and merchants produced products faster than they could sell them in September, causing inventories to increase $4.5 billion, following a $4.4 billion increase in August.

Israeli, Jordan Negotiations Being Sought By President

By BARRY SCHWEID (An AP News Analysis)

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is trying to prod Israel into negotiations with Egypt and Jordan while conveying the impression that a stalemate could force the Jewish state to deal with the Palestine Liberation Organization.

"We are not parties to any negotiations," the President said at a news conference in Phoenix, Ariz., Thursday night. "I think we should leave the decisions on who will negotiate to the parties involved."

He duly noted that Israel has vowed never to deal with the PLO, the umbrella group for guerrillas and terrorists which 20 Arab states chose over Jordan as the representative for 600,000 west-bank Palestinians.

But he did not foreclose the possibility that Washington might promote such negotiations if Israel does not come to terms with Egypt and Jordan.

"Until we have failed, and I don't think we will in trying to get the parties to work together, I don't think it is appropriate to discuss what we'll do if we don't achieve success," Ford said.

Ford clearly implied it is up to Israel to get talks started with its more moderate neighbors.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's year-long strategy is aimed at step-by-step settlements by Israel with Egypt and Jordan, while shelving the PLO problem. But the Arab summit conference pushed the Palestinian issue to the front.

Strategy Viable

Ford made it clear that the administration still considers its strategy viable. But the burden of making it work is more than ever on Israel.

Ford first raised the prospect of PLO negotiations last week when he said there must be movement toward settlement "between Israel and Jordan or the PLO."

While his press secretary inter-er said the President stood behind that statement, Kissinger assured Israeli officials in Jerusalem that "there is no change in American policy on any of the issues."

Some Skepticism

U.S. officials said Israelis were less concerned as a result of Kissinger's visit. But observers detected some skepticism that the United States would continue to oppose the PLO as a negotiating party if other negotiations stall.

Ford's comments probably will reinforce this concern. They also underscore Kissinger's conviction that Jordan can play a significant role in achieving a peaceful settlement in the Middle East, despite the endorsement of the PLO by the Arab leaders.

Wrote Only One Opera

England's greatest composer, Henry Purcell, wrote only one true opera ("Dido and Aeneas") although he wrote five semi-operas or works which used spoken or sung passages.

Highlights Of Ford's News Conference

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Highlights of President Ford's news conference here Thursday night:

ROCKEFELLER: Ford urged prompt congressional approval of Nelson A. Rockefeller as vice president and said he could not imagine any conditions that would make him withdraw the nomination.

ECONOMY: Ford rejected a return to wage and price controls, urged Congress to enact his proposal for a 5 per cent surtax on middle and upper income taxpayers and said flatly he is not considering an increase in gasoline taxes. He indicated there is a possibility of mandatory restrictions on energy use if voluntary controls fail.

FOREIGN: Ford said the decision on whether to negotiate with the Palestine Liberation Organization should be left to Israel. He also said he has no intention of limiting Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's broad authority in foreign policy.

BROWN: Ford said he would not request the resignation of Gen. George Brown as chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, despite the controversy over Brown's statements on Jewish influence in the United States. "I don't think he should be fired for that mistake," the President said.

GIBSON: Ford said he had made a mistake in nominating Andrew Gibson to be head of the Federal Energy Office. Gibson withdrew after disclosures that he received more than $80,000 a year in severance pay from an oil transporting company.

POLITICS: Ford said he would try to work with the Democratic-dominated Congress and predicted Republicans would make a comeback in 1976.

PRESS: Ford defended his veto of amendments to the Freedom of Information Act, denying it was inconsistent with his pledge of an open administration.

Spinach Provides Crab Dish With Special Flavor

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

A crab ala Florentine brings out the very special flavor of Alaska King crab when paired with spinach. It may be served as a first course at dinner or some will enjoy it as a luncheon treat. Small shells or ramekins are lined with cooked chopped spinach, lightly seasoned with onion and dill weed. Then the creamy crab mixture is mounded in the center. Bake with bread crumbs and Parmesan cheese sprinkled on top. Serve piping hot with crackers or melba toast. If you wish to serve wine, select a French Muscadet, American Chablis or Sauvignon.

Drain and slice canned crab or defrost and slice frozen crab, reserving whole leg pieces for garnish if desired. Cook spinach according to package directions. Drain well. Sauté onion in 1 tablespoon butter. Add to spinach along with half teaspoon salt, dill weed and black pepper. Set aside. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in saucepan. Blend in flour and white pepper.

Allow Extra

POLLY'S POINTERS

Sweater Sleeves Stretch Patience

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Editor/Columnist

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY—I have short arms. Every time I buy a sweater the sleeves are too long and I would like to know how one shortens such sleeves.—JUDY.

DEAR POLLY—My Pet Peeve is with those long-haired people who are constantly tossing their hair or pulling it out from their faces. This is especially obnoxious when you see supposedly mature adults, poised and experienced, doing this on tv.

DEAR POLLY—I do not appreciate waitresses or store workers who handle food who constantly arrange their hair and then handle food without washing their hands. This also goes for those who fondle dogs in their laps and then prepare or serve food without washing their hands. UGH!—MRS. G.B.

DEAR POLLY—I had just started a carrot plant when Bernie's request for details appeared in our paper. The carrot I used had little green sprouts when I took it from the bag. I cut it off leaving about 1 1/2 inches of carrot with the green leaves. A toothpick was poked in each side close to the top and then the carrot put in a glass of water, leaving the toothpicks over the side of the glass and the leaves out. Mine is growing beautifully.—EVELYN.

DEAR POLLY—I want to pass on to Bernie my way of growing a green plant from a carrot. Add enough pebbles to cover the bottom of a soup bowl or cereal dish and fill with about one inch of water or enough to cover the pebbles. Use two inches of carrot top including the tough green stems and let the carrot top rest on the pebbles. In a few days several very tiny leaves will form. If one is very careful about keeping the pebbles watered a leafy plant will blossom above them in a few weeks.—JUDY.

DEAR POLLY—I enjoy cooking so have two files of recipes. It was time-consuming to go through them all looking for a particular one until I came up with the idea of naming each one for the person who gave it to me. I know when I find Dot's chocolate cake or Mary's cucumber pickles they are the ones I was looking for so am saved time and nerves when in a hurry.—EVELYN.

DEAR POLLY—My husband and I like to use the baby stroller when we go on outings but are always afraid it will be stolen. Now we take along a chain and combination lock such as are used for bicycles and lock the stroller most any where to fences, poles, etc. Carry a copy of the combination on your person in case you should forget it. Our name is also etched the refreshment table. Mrs. W. E. Tally and Mrs. W. C. Kimball hosted the affair attended by 13 members.

Guest Speaker Informs Club On Bicentennial
Mrs. Louis Chase, guest speaker, discussed Bicentennial preparations with the Progressive Study Club met Wednesday in the Midland Woman's Club. Mrs. Chase, representing the Midland Society of University Women, was introduced by Mrs. John E. Terry.

In a brief business session which followed the program, projects were discussed and members agreed to bring gifts to the December meeting for the Salvation Army.

A ceramic figurine of a Pilgrim couple standing in a harvest arrangement centered the refreshment table. Mrs. W. E. Tally and Mrs. W. C. Kimball hosted the affair attended by 13 members.

Midland, Monahans Students To Play In Concert Tuesday

GEORGETOWN — Students at Southwestern University from Midland and Monahans are among instrumentalists of the Southwestern University Symphony, scheduled to present a public concert here Tuesday night.

The Permian Basin area students include David Neuhusen, a string bass player, and Mark Dawson, a percussionist, both of Midland, as well as Rebecca Rucker, oboist, from Monahans.

The 45-member orchestra will play Schubert's "Rosamunde" Overture, Mozart's Concerto in A major, the waltz segment from the Tchaikovsky opera, "Eugene Onegin," the celebration dance from Aaron Copland's "Billy the Kid" Suite, and Walton's "Crown Imperial" or Coronation March.

The ensemble is conducted by Raymond Schroeder, assistant professor of music in the SU School of Fine Arts. Well-known as a concert clarinetist, he has been soloist with numerous symphony orchestras and symphonic bands in the U.S. In addition to his duties at Southwestern, he serves as principal clarinetist with the Austin Symphony Orchestra. For the last nine summers he has been clarinetist with the Chautauqua Symphony and Opera orchestra in Chautauqua, N.Y.

The Tuesday concert is a major, the waltz segment from the Tchaikovsky opera, "Eugene Onegin," the celebration dance from Aaron Copland's "Billy the Kid" Suite, and Walton's "Crown Imperial" or Coronation March.

Veterans Day Bill To Be Introduced

AUSTIN (AP) — Rep. Lindon Williams, D-Houston, said Thursday he will introduce a bill in the 1975 legislature to restore Texas' observance of Veterans Day to Nov. 11.

Forty-two states already have done so, he said.

"Nov. 11 is a day associated with veterans, not a Monday in October, which has no meaning or tradition," Williams said. Gov. Dolph Briscoe, the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars all have endorsed a return to Nov. 11, he said.

Volume Outlines History Of TCU

FORT WORTH — A detailed and authoritative account of Texas Christian University's growth and emergence as a major American university has been released by the TCU Press. It is "Texas Christian University: A Hundred Years of History" by Jerome A. Moore, a dean emeritus of the school.

The 350-page volume, complementing the earlier history written in 1947 by the late Dean Colby D. Hall, reflects the unsurpassed devotion of the author during his 54-year association with the institution—from his student days in the 1920s through his three decades as professor-administrator—as it records the history and development through TCU's years of greatest progress and expansion.

"Dean Moore has written the history of the first 100 years of TCU as probably no other man could write it," said Dr. James Newcomer, director of the TCU Press, in announcing publication of the book. "As student, teacher and administrator he has known TCU for 54 years. The book is complete—almost incredibly so—with names, dates, events, ideas, crises, ideals and pictures, to reflect not only his knowledge but his deep sympathy and understanding."

"Confidant to presidents and chancellors, and secretary of the TCU board of trustees from 1947 to 1973, Dr. Moore observed and absorbed the historical development of TCU probably better than any other person associated with the university during these three decades," said university Chancellor J. M. Moody in calling attention in the book's foreword to the author's service in the strategic position of dean of all or of the principal academic units of the institution for the last 30 years of the century he describes. "The length and prominence of his career at TCU have determined him as the person who, perhaps more than any other, embodies the tradition of the university."

Dr. Moore who, as editor of the student newspaper in 1923, directed publication of its 50th anniversary edition and then in 1948 headed the committee to plan and direct the university's 75th anniversary celebration, accepted an assignment from Chancellor Moody to write a new history of the university in observance of TCU's 1973 centennial. The hard cover volume, which includes more than 200 photographs and an extensive index, is the result of three years' work by Dr. Moore prior to his 1973 retirement.

The author's ties with the institution are almost unparalleled. Born in the farming community of Rio Vista, some 40 miles south of Fort Worth, he entered TCU in 1920 after earning his high school diploma through the old Midland College academy. Soon after arriving on campus, the 17-year-old was asked to fill a vacancy teaching Spanish in TCU's academy. He earned the B.A. degree with a major in biology in 1923, and his counselor-friend Dean Colby Hall recommended him as minister for Jewella Christian church being organized by the Central Christian Church of Shreveport, La. After teaching English and history while coaching junior-high football in Corsicana, he re-entered TCU in 1925 to work toward a master's degree in Spanish.

Following additional graduate work, he was associated for 15 years with Texas Woman's University, where he was founder and co-director of the summer program at Saltillo, Mexico. He held a George Lieb Harrison Fellowship while completing the doctorate at the University of Pennsylvania, and in September 1943, accepted offer of TCU's former chancellor, Dr. M. E. Sadler, to become the first dean of Add-Ran College of Arts and Sciences. His leadership of the college spanned 27 years, followed by his service as dean of the university in 1970-72 and being named dean emeritus in 1972. In 1947-50 he also was professor of Spanish and foreign language department. When the University conferred the honorary Doctor of Laws degree upon him in 1968, Dr. Moore became the first person to be honored by TCU while active on its faculty and staff. Both a church and civic leader as well as spokesman for the National Council of Christians and Jews, Dr. Moore has been widely recognized for his efforts in cooperation and understanding with Latin American nations. An honorary consul of Mexico in Fort Worth and Tarrant County, he assisted in the development of Mexico City College, now the University of the Americas.

The new volume owes much to Dean-Hall's "History of Texas Christian University: A College on the Cattle Frontier," published in 1947 by the TCU Press, explains Dr. Moore. The author also drew from other sources, including "Reminiscences" (1919) by TCU co-founder Randolph Clark and "Thank God We Made It: A Family Affair with Education" (1969) by the late Dr. Joseph Lynn Clark, Randolph Clark's son.

The author divides his 16-chapter volume into historical eras, progressing from the beginnings of the parent institution, Add-Ran Male and Female College, at Thorp Spring in 1873, to its move to Waco and on to Fort Worth in 1910.

He looks at effects of financial difficulties, wars and prosperity and calls attention to academic developments during the quarter-century presidency of Dr. E. M. Waits, beginning in 1916. He details the administration of Dr. M. E. Sadler, president in 1941-50 and chancellor in 1950-65, as he notes a new organizational structure, academic broadening and an era of unprecedented campus construction. The administration of Chancellor Moody, inaugurated in November of 1965 and the first alumnus and native Texan to become TCU's chief executive officer, is discussed by Dr. Moore, who points to its conserving and consolidating the gains of the Sadler era and recognizes its accomplishments in educational, economic, social and moral situations unknown to Dr. Moody's predecessors.

Copies of Dr. Moore's "Texas Christian University: A Hundred Years of History," may be mail-ordered from the TCU Press, TCU, Fort Worth 76129. The book price is $8.

'Tosca' Opens Tonight

DALLAS — "Tosca," the verismo masterpiece which helped establish Giacomo Puccini as one of the creative giants of opera, opens in State Fair Music Hall tonight as Dallas Civic Opera's second production of its new season.

The production will have additional performances Sunday afternoon and next Tuesday night. Information on ticket availability for the three presentations is obtainable from the DCO at 214-368-1461. DCO ticket outlets are in July Square in Old Town, at all Sears stores in the Dallas area, at Preston Ticket Agency and at the box office of the downtown Titch's store.

Legendary soprano Magda Olivero has returned to Dallas to star in the title role of the opera. She is joined by tenor Veriano Lucchetti as Mario Cavaradossi and baritone Silvano Carroli as the scheming Baron Scarpia, whose treachery is responsible for his own death as well as the deaths of Mario and the actress Tosca. Others in the cast include Enrico Camp and Carlo Maestrini. DCO artistic director Nicola Rescigno will conduct.

DCO's glittering and star-studded 18th season will continue with performances of Ambrósio Thomas' "Mignon" on Nov. 27 and 29, and then will conclude with a new production of Bellini's bel-canto opera, "I Puritani" (The Puritans) which opens Dec. 5.

Arizona Governor To Speak At Snyder

SNYDER — Jack Williams, now serving his third term as governor of Arizona, will be the guest speaker for the second Forum on National Affairs at Western Texas College Monday and Tuesday.

He will speak at a buffet dinner at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Student Center. Tickets for the dinner are $4 each and may be purchased at the college business office or reserved by calling Mrs. Janelle Burke at the college, Joe Reeves, Forum director, said.

Williams will visit classes at WTC Tuesday and talk to students informally in the Student Center. He is scheduled to meet with high school students at 1 p.m. in the Fine Arts Theatre.

Transit Strikers Dey Court Order

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Drivers and shop employees stayed idle today despite a court order to get buses of the city-owned San Antonio Transit System rolling again.

That meant 80,000 riders—workers and school children—had to find alternate means of transport for a second day.

At management's request, District Court Judge James McKay issued a temporary restraining order Thursday for officials and 32 individual members of Amalgamated Transit Union Local 694 to go back to work.

Sheriff's deputies served the orders during the evening.

Local President Robert Thompson said, however, the union was continuing what he and others called a recessed meeting in support of demands for more pay.

Faith 'N Begorra! It's The Original Odd Couple Theirselves

By BOB THOMAS
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sure and it's a foin bunch doin' "June and the Paycock" at the Music Center — the odd couple theirselves, Jack Lemmon and Walter Matthau, and that darlin' Maureen Stapleton.

The Irish accents are flying like leaves in a Galway wind at the 650-seat Mark Taper Forum of the Music Center complex, which is marking 10 years of bringing culture to Angelenos. It is the first time in the decade that any of the three theaters has sold out in advance for an entire run.

No wonder. Having three such luminaries in a tiny theater is rare experience. Obviously none is expecting monetary reward. Their pay for the six-week engagement of the who has earned huge fees for director. "And that doesn't include a trip to Dublin which I paid for myself."

"I think that my total pay is $250 a week. The reward is even less for the director, George Seaton, to about $14 a week," said the grew a droopy mustache for his role. "I mean this is what acting really is. You feel good all over when you flex your muscles and see what you can do. And this play!

"Some critics have called it the best play of the 20th century. It might be. It's fantastic how O'Casey can go from wild comedy into deep drama, just like that."

"I feel like a prizefighter getting back into training," said Matthau, who has not done a play since "The Odd Couple" 10 years ago.

"Like a boxer, I'm learning to feint again, to bob and weave. The thing I have to avoid is looking for openings. Joe Louis did that when he was 33 and 34, and he ended up on the canvas."

"I think we all have to be a little crazy," explained Stapleton. "Why should we work this hard? It's madness. I love it!"

The cast was going through another rehearsal before the official opening. "June and the Paycock" had played a dozen times before preview audiences work.

Watch Kolchak Save The Nation

By JAY SHARBUTT
NEW YORK (AP) — If you're tired of watching a vicious dog, which rips the coat of his rumpled drip-dry suit, an hour earlier in some suit, you'll see a small, battered hat moving briskly around Chicago. Beneath the hat is actor Darren McGavin.

He plays Carl Kolchak, a crusty bureau chief (Simon Oakland) dismisses Kolchak's theory that the potential senator is owned and operated by the devil.

But the rascal, Carl cries in frustration, "is evil incarnate and he's going to go all the way to the White House!" He later mutters, "That's the trouble with this country. Nobody cares."

Fortunately, the republic is saved by this probing reporter, but you'll have to watch tonight's show to find out how.

Star Of 'Duddy Kravitz' Has Served Apprenticeship

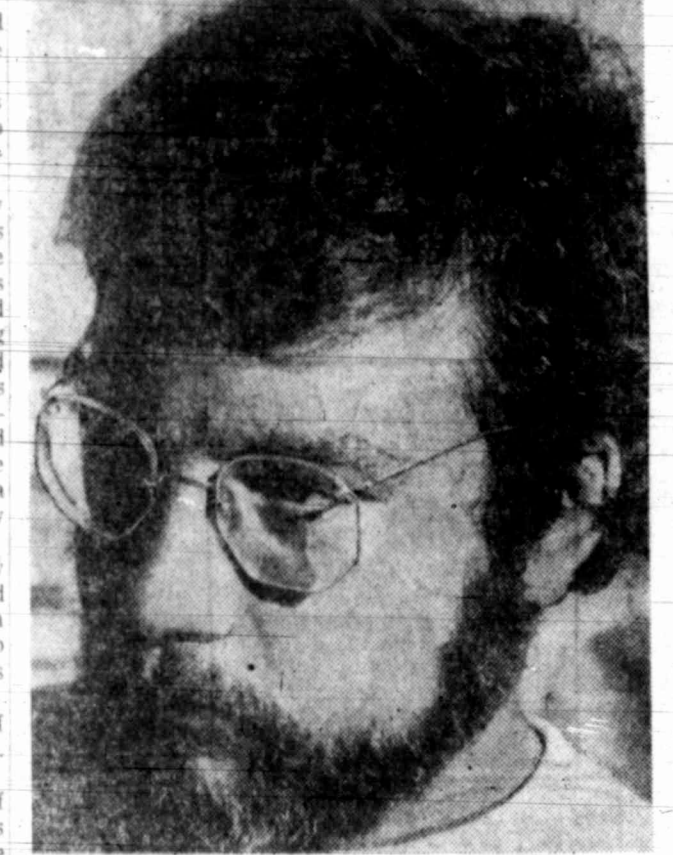

By ELLIE GROSSMAN
EDGARTOWN (NEA) — Good actors can make you believe just about anything.

So when Richard Dreyfuss says, "I'd cut an arm up to here to work with Marlon Brando," it's a bit unnerving.

For a split second, a grisly image presents itself, Dreyfuss picking up a knife from the table, coolly hacking off his right arm (the left-handed) and marching out of the hotel dining room, Mr. Martha's Vineyard where he's filming Universal's adaptation of the Peter Benchley novel, "Jaws," and straight into a New York stage production of "Death of a Salesman" with Brando, fully armed, as Will Loman.

"I got a call today to play the role of Biff," he says, "and Brando was mentioned as a possible lead. But I'm too young for the part." (Dreyfuss is 26.)

Still, on second thought, if Brando were to say yes...

RICHARD DREYFUSS: An arm for Brando?

Young Holds Lead In Final Count

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP) — Republican Sen. Milton R. Young holds a 176-vote lead over former Democratic Gov. William L. Guy after final tabulations in their U.S. Senate race.

Unofficial final figures, with all county canvassing boards completing tabulations, gave the 76-year-old Young 114,849 votes and Guy 114,673. Guy, 55, has said he would probably decide on whether to seek a recount after a party committee meeting Saturday.

Women get more headaches than men do.

or a prosecutor.

"In 'On the Waterfront,' Brando's anger is inarticulate, uneducated. He imitates the thick-mouthed characterizations. But in the first scene of 'The Ugly American,' it's all up front, here. His anger was eastern seaboard, Harvard monied, totally contained."

He stops a passing waitress to order his fifth cup of coffee and lights another cigarette.

Bearded, now and wearing glasses, Dreyfuss looks nothing like Duddy Kravitz, the hustling young Jewish Canadian he played to critical acclaim in the film, "The Apprenticeship of Duddy Kravitz." (Jewish himself, he does not think the movie's anti-Semitic.)

True, he's animated and brash; he's a harsh critic of everything, especially his own work. And "Duddy Kravitz," he says, despite the kudos, is "a film I'm not proud of. My work because no other actor has my energy level."

But unlike Duddy, whose intellectual curiosity stopped with "God's Little Acre," Dreyfuss is a student of politics and American history. A devoted actor who'd chuck it all to publish a metropolitan newspaper because that's where the power is.

He's a Frank Capra "freak," a romantic — "I love to hear my grandparents talk about the old days when they were immigrants" — a self-confessed egoist and womanizer, and a conscientious objector who looks back fondly on his substitute military duty.

"I worked as a medical file clerk for 24 months in '69 and '70 in Los Angeles County General Hospital and I fell in love with file work."

"I volunteered for the night shift because on weekends and holidays I'd have an hour and

Austin Extortionist Runs $45,000 Hoax

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A Bank President John Scurlock, said the FBI "just lost track of the guy who was dropping the money."

Scurlock said a male bank teller carried the money from the bank to the department store restroom.

James, who had a leg amputated several years ago, told the extortionist he was on crutches and could not deliver the money, the bank president explained.

Scurlock said the extortionist initially told James he was holding Mrs. James and would call back in 30 minutes with instructions.

In the interval, James tried unsuccessfully to reach his wife. Then, convinced that she was being held captive, he informed bank officials and the FBI.

FBI agents arrived "within a very few minutes" after the money was left at the department store but the money and extortionist were gone, Scurlock said.

Court Bans Meat Cutters Picketing Houston Stores

HOUSTON (AP) — A court order has been signed preventing members of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen Local 406 from picketing independent Houston grocery stores.

State District Court Judge Paul Pressler signed the temporary restraining order Thursday. It was sought by the Gulf Coast Retail Grocers Association which claimed terms of a contract with the butchers and meat cutters prevented work stoppages or strikes.

The association said an existing contract was good for five more months.

The refusal to comply with these contractual terms has resulted in damage to the business of about 300 members of the association, mostly independent operators, Neil Martin, attorney for the grocers association, said.

The association agreed Monday night to accept a wage contract offered by major food stores in Houston but voted to strike independent grocery and meat stores which they said did not offer a contract.

Wiley Dorn, attorney for the union, said the union's position is "that with those members who did not agree to the new contract there has been no agreement reached as to them so there is no contract."

CLEAN-UP TIME — Front Street, the main thoroughfare in Nome, Alaska, is dotted by deep ponds and debris following a winter storm which at one time covered the town's business district with five feet of water. Alaska's Gov. William A. Egan has declared Nome and surrounding villages on the Bering Sea a disaster area and has asked President Ford for federal help. (AP Wirephoto.)

Smith, Four Others Buy Control Of Lubbock Bank

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Former Gov. Preston Smith and Griffin, Dr. Royce C. Lewis Jr., Bill Edd McLaughlin and Royland Smith, have purchased control of Texas Bank of Lubbock.

A letter to stockholders disclosed the deal Thursday.

Texas Bank opened April 16, 1973, in a temporary home. Post had unveiled plans in 1972 for an ambitious $7.5-million business complex on the bank's site near Texas Tech University, but it now is occupied only by the temporary bank building.

McLaughlin, who was associated with the Lubbock National Bank for 26 years, is expected to become president of the bank.

Nearly half the U.S. population moved between 1965 and 1970.

Suit Against State Hospital Expanded

DALLAS (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge William Taylor agreed Thursday to expand a court challenge of conditions at Terrell State Hospital to include all 10 hospitals in the Texas mental health system.

Taylor told lawyers for the Dallas Legal Services this will permit other parties to join in the complaint filed against the Terrell institution to enlarge the case to a class action suit.

The suit, set for trial Dec. 3, will represent all persons who now are or who may be residents of Terrell State Hospital or other state hospitals under the auspices of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

Roland Allen, an assistant attorney general representing the hospitals, protested that all the patients might not want to be included as plaintiffs in the suit.

"We have had several calls and letters from parents and relatives of patients who were concerned about this case and

Justice Department To Tell Of U.S. Border Corruption

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Department officials are expected to reveal steps they have taken to root out alleged corruption within the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Deputy Atty. Gen. Laurence H. Silberman, who has assumed responsibility for the department's probe, is scheduled to testify Dec. 10 before a congressional subcommittee.

His appearance will give the department an opportunity to present information that could answer congressional critics of the Immigration and Naturalization Service. The INS, which polices the nation's borders, is a part of the Justice Department.

The department has been attacked for allegedly not following up reports from its own investigators that high INS officials were involved in bribery and perjury to cover up other corrupt practices.

The department has refused comment when asked if information gathered in its renewed probe was being presented to a grand jury.

Much of the probe has focused on the San Diego area and the border crossing at San Ysidro, Calif.

Silberman indicated to the House legal and monetary affairs subcommittee in September that the department was having problems investigating the reports of corruption.

The fascinating window

It wasn't much as stained glass windows go. But for me it held a strange fascination.

I guess it was the letters that puzzled me. The first was obviously "A". The second was trying to be "Q" or possibly "O" but didn't quite make it. And if the book portrayed were the Bible—why not put something on its pages that made sense?

It was Grandma who explained it simply. The New Testament was originally written in Greek. In the Greek alphabet, Alpha, like our letter "A", was the first letter, Omega the last. For centuries Christians have treasured these two letters as a symbol of God who said in Scripture:

"I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending..."

That sums up why the Bible, revealing to men God's truth, is the first and last word in daily reading.

Knights Again Open Membership Rolls In Texas

DALLAS — The Knights of Columbus, Roman Catholic fraternal organization which last year gave $9.4 million to charitable and benevolent causes, is again opening its rolls to new members, according to William D. Cox Jr. of Dallas, head of the organization in Texas.

"The fraternal group," Cox said, "has more than 34,000 members in our state, and the international membership stands at 1,185,000. Accordingly, our supreme officers have launched a new membership campaign aiming at a 12 million members mark and calling it 'Project 12.'"

"During the past year, surveys have shown that members of the order of Catholic men paid 312,000 visits to the sick, made in excess of 100,000 donations of blood, gave more than 911,000 hours of community service and 247,000 hours to the diabled and their families."

Cox related that objectives of the fraternal group included performance of charitable, educational and patriotic works for people in their community and their country, as well as aid to the cause of religion. The order also provides fellowship and insurance programs for members.

"Many of our bishops have called the Knights of Columbus the 'strong right arm of the church,'" Cox pointed out.

Eligible for membership are Catholic men approved by the pastors of their respective parishes. Application for membership may be made through active members of the order.

Original Play Presentation Set Sunday

An original play by Bill Stehr of Dallas, "Heritage Forgotten," will be presented in the Sunday morning service of the Midland Unitarian Church, 3400 N. A St.

The play concerns the last days of Universalism as an organized movement in Texas and draws its information from Universalist periodicals and publications of the time.

The play's action centers on a meeting in a Texas Grange Hall in the 1830s, with Universalist and Orthodox speakers debating the doctrine of Universalism. Although most of the story is now history, at least one of the characters, the Rev. Leonard Prator, has continued active in Unitarian-Universalist circles in Texas to the present time.

Mary Anne Gardiner has directed the play for its production here and members of the cast include Ken Carpenter, Mark White, Leonard West and Eileen Thurston. All are members of the Midland Unitarian congregation.

Both are instructional consultants for WTEC. Invited to attend the sessions are various school board members, high school students, teachers, parents and college staff personnel from almost 40 school districts in the area bounded by Van Horn, Presidio, Sanderson, Coahoma and Andrews.

Each of the two days devoted to the study is expected to draw 22 persons, with Monday earmarked for discussion of mathematics objectives and Tuesday for reading. Information gathered at the session will be compiled with the studies at the other 39 region meetings to help TEA specialists identify specific objectives for sixth and twelfth grade students by January 1975.

Ford Turns Down Request To Increase Food Aid By One Million Tons

ROME (AP) — The Ford administration has turned down a request by the U.S. delegation to the World Food Conference for an immediate increase in food aid of one million tons, a White House official reported today.

Anne L. Armstrong, counselor to President Ford and third-ranking member of the U.S. delegation to the conference, told a newsman the decision was relayed to delegation members at its morning briefing.

At the urging of Democratic congressional leaders here for the conference, Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz sent the request to Ford asking that U.S. food aid be nearly doubled.

But others said it is taking significant steps against hunger in the future.

Mrs. Armstrong said the White House "stands by the original decision which had been gone over and over and over before the conference."

The White House decision was based on domestic considerations and what such an increase in aid would have on inflation and prices in America, she said.

"But I don't think there will be enough time to take concrete actions for the emergency," he added.

The chief of the American delegation, Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz, said his government felt from the start that the conference was not meant "to spend a great deal of time discussing the immediate food aid problem."

My Lai Incident Veteran Would Like To Meet With Buddies

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Not unlike thousands of other former soldiers, Esequiel Torres would like to see and talk with several of his former buddies.

But, Torres is not like many other former servicemen. Torres, 26, will forever be a part of military history, a performer in a part of history the U.S. Army would like to forget.

"I'd like to see them—some of them anyway," he added without elaborating in an interview.

Asked if My Lai has changed his life, Torres replied with a laugh, "Are you kidding?"

After getting out of the Army, Torres applied for and obtained veteran's benefits to attend a welding school but he dropped out after a month.

Such pledges were not forthcoming from the Saudis either, despite their huge new oil revenues.

Representatives Of Four Gulf Coast States Ask Ban On Waste Burnings

HOUSTON (AP) — Representatives of four Gulf Coast states angrily have denounced studies that Shell's data should be thrown out. We simply do not recognize that they complied with the permit."

DeVille claimed that Shell did no monitoring of any value for the atmospheric release of hydrochloric acid, a highly toxic substance. The Louisiana official said there was real concern over the possible effects of this acid, from the smokestack of the Vulcanus, on migratory birds which seasonally cross the Gulf of Mexico.

The action came during an EPA hearing Thursday on results from a research burning last month of chlorinated hydrocarbon wastes from Shell's Deer Park, Tex. plant. Joint Statement

Representatives from Texas, Louisiana, Alabama and Florida claimed in a joint statement that data gathered from the test burning was "completely inadequate" and did not justify extension of the research permit.

Operating under a permit issued by the EPA on Oct. 4, Shell burned more than 4,000 tons of chemical wastes at a site 190 miles south of Cameron, La. The chemical incineration was performed by the Dutch ship Vulcanus, which was designed for such chemical disposal.

Shell officials said they have in storage another 12,600 tons of chemical wastes. EPA officials said results of the day-long hearing will be decided in Washington before a decision is made on possible extension of the incineration permit.

"We have indeed met the requirements set out by our permit," said Bruce Bastian, a Shell scientist in charge of the project. He said the tests indicated that the incineration developed no environmental stress and asked that the permit be extended for another test burn.

One official said he had no idea how long consideration would take, but pointed out that Shell was under pressure to make use of the Dutch-based incineration vessel while it was in this country.

Shell and EPA scientists reported at the hearing that 99.9 per cent of the chemical wastes were effectively destroyed during the incineration process.

Standards Met
"We have indeed met the requirements set out by our permit," said Bruce Bastian, a Shell scientist in charge of the project.

EPA scientists said their findings agreed with those of Shell.

Method Hit
However, William B. DeVille, the director of research for the Louisiana Governor's Council on Environmental Quality, contended the techniques used for monitoring the incineration were not adequate.

SWC Mayhem Continues With Aags-Rice, Tech-Baylor

Rebels, Dogs Saving Their Talk For Field

Battle Scene

By Ted Battles

You really can't blame them, but Mums the word in the Midland and Midland Lee camps this week. Nobody wants to utter anything that the guys across town can hang a mad on.

Both sides are saving their talking for after the game. So far, the best pre-game quote came from Roy Blair, the Midland High Jayvee coach who has been scouting the Rebels.

The other night he told the Boosters, "The Lee fullback spells his name with an 'O', but the way he runs they should spell it with an 'E'."

From Lee, one might get the impression that this game is the ultimate one of the season, as far as future plans are concerned. No one wants to look ahead to next week until it happens. That, too, is understandable.

However, that's a luxury Athletic Director Thurman (Tugboat) Jones can't afford. Tug plans to leave for his deer hunting lease Saturday morning, but on the way he could stop off in Abilene to meet with any strays that show up from Wichita Falls in case they find something in common to talk about.

Whatever the future may hold, it's secondary to the City Championship game tonight. For Midland, a victory would be a perfect way to end an "almost" season. For Lee, a victory is something they can't go any place without.

In District 5-4A: . . .
 Midland Lee 20, Midland 13—We're not going to try to analyze it, just enjoy it.
 Odessa Permian 21, Odessa 19—The first inclination is to pick the Bronchos, but we keep remembering those two dropped passes when Midland receivers had beaten the OHS secondary deep.
 San Angelo 35, Big Spring 14—No way the Steers can slip up on the Bobcats.
 Abilene Cooper 7, Abilene 2—Cooper's defense gets the nod.
 In the Southwest Conference. . . .
 Texas Tech 14, Baylor 10—The question is can the Bears, after Texas, return to terra firma in time for Saturday's kickoff.

Texas 27, TCU 7—Frogs allegedly can throw the ball better than they did at Tech last week and they'll have to stay alive against Texas.

Arkansas 17, SMU 14—Like Baylor, Mustangs may have difficulty concentrating on oft-besmirched Razorbacks after last week's A&M game.

Texas A&M 21, Rice 6—Owls are the kind of team that could upset Aggies, but are one week late. The Aggies won't be caught napping again.

The others. . . .
 Oklahoma 33, Kansas 13—Sooners have waited all season for that No. 1 ranking and no Jayhawks are going to spoil it.
 Houston 15, Memphis State 0—Plucked for a bowl, the Cougars escaped the defeat that usually goes with such a selection last week largely because they were idle. But they received fair warning from the experiences of others.
 Ohio State 40, Iowa 0—Hawkeyes will enjoy the home field advantage.
 Michigan 17, Purdue 7—Last hurdle for Wolverines before Ohio State. They'd better not take their eyes off it, though.
 LSU 10, Mississippi State 0—After the T-tigers, it's Ole Miss and Bulldogs could take a 6-5 record to Sun Bowl.
 North Carolina 30, Army 27—Tar Heels prove themselves a worthy foe for Mississippi State in Sun Bowl.
 Alabama 20, Miami 17—Good spot for an upset, if you like to live dangerously.

By The Associated Press
 Southwest Conference football fans—some 100,000 strong—flock to stadiums in Waco, College Station, Fort Worth and Little Rock Saturday to view the next chapter of the zaniest league race since 1960.

The crippled Texas Aggies, hanging to a threadbare half-game lead over Baylor with a 4-1 record, host the troublesome Rice Owls at Kyle Field with some 40,000 fans expected.

The Aggies, who are 14-point favorites, have a bruised and battered backfield. Speedster Skip Walker has a bum ankle, hard-running Ronnie Hubby is hobbled with a thigh injury, and quarterback David Walker has a collarbone bruise.

Should A&M defeat Rice and take Texas on the day after Thanksgiving it would put the Aggies into the Cotton Bowl.

But seven teams are still alive mathematically.

The Cinderella Baylor Bears are three-point picks to defeat dangerous Texas Tech before 40,000 fans at Baylor Stadium. Baylor is 3-1 in SWC play while the Red Raiders, who have already been invited to the Peach Bowl, are 3-2 and still very much alive in the title chase.

Tech Coach Jim Carlen says of the Bears "Their defense has made fantastic improvement from last year. . . . Baylor can beat anybody."

The defending champion

Texas Longhorns are 24-point picks to put another knot on Texas Christian's Horned Frogs before an expected 30,000 fans at Amon Carter Stadium in Fort Worth.

"We still have a chance to salvage a decent season," says Texas defensive tackle and co-captain Doug English, still smarting over the upset by Baylor last week. "I hope that's the last time I lose in a Texas uniform. I know I'd hate to leave here as a loser."

Texas is 3-2 and still has a shot at the Cotton Bowl for the seventh consecutive year. The Gator Bowl has all but promised Texas or Texas A&M a berth in the Gainesville, Fla., classic, depending on the outcome of the SWC chaos.

The oddsmakers see Arkansas an eight-point nod over salty SMU before an overflow crowd of 53,565 in War Memorial Stadium. SMU is 3-2 and still has a chance at the SWC title although the Mustangs cannot go bowling because of NCAA and conference probation.

Arkansas is eyeing a possible Liberty Bowl bid. Baylor also is said under consideration for the Memphis, Tenn., bowl.

Of course, Penn State will be watching all this madness from afar as the Nittany Lions play Ohio University. Penn State will be the guest team for the Cotton Bowl.

Lee, Midland Chomp At Bit

There'll Be A Nip In The Air

With a shot at the District 5-4A football championship, the Midland Lee Rebels take on the Midland Bulldogs at 8 p.m. today in Memorial Stadium with a chance for the Class AAAA playoffs for the first time in the school's 14-year history.

The weatherman promises to cooperate, offering an ideal football night for the game. Clear to partly cloudy skies were promised with a low near 40, meaning game-time temperatures should be in the high 40s or low 50s.

A wind of 12 to 22 mph could be a factor in the punting and passing games.

The game was not a sellout at 8 a.m. today with Tugboat Jones, Athletic Director stating that there were still from 300 to 400 seats left in section G which is on the east side which will be where the Bulldog fans sit since Lee is the home team. (Game Story On 4C)

"From all indications, we won't have to sell standing room only tickets because of the number left in section G and we still have end zone seats available," said Jones.

Lee brings an 8-1 season mark into the game, while Midland stands 6-2-1 on the year and the Pack could really spoil things for the Rebels who with a victory, will meet either Wichita Falls Rider or Wichita Falls next weekend in bi-district play.

A victory by Coach John Reddell's Bulldogs and a San Angelo victory over Big Spring would move the Bobcats into the playoffs instead.

Dirk West Sizes Up City Squabble

Sooners, Jayhawks Head College Slate

By The Associated Press
 Oklahoma, out to retain its No. 1 ranking, and third-ranked Michigan, aspiring to the top, take on conference foes who can pack surprising punches Saturday.

The top-ranked Sooners bring their powerhouse to Kansas for a Big Eight Conference football battle with the Jayhawks, who have lost four consecutive games. But Kansas shocked Texas A&M earlier this season with a superb performance by quarterback Scott McMichael. Michigan is at home against Purdue in a Big Ten Conference clash. And it was Purdue that ruined Notre Dame's bid for a perfect season, 31-20.

KU Potent, But Kansas' potent but sputtering attack is led by McMichael and runners Laverne Smith, second in Big Eight rushing, and Robert Miller, fourth in the league. The Jayhawks will be missing only John Scanlan, a defensive lineman who underwent knee surgery Sunday.

The Sooners have one of the nation's best runners in elusive Joe Washington. Steve Davis will direct the explosive Sooner offense with Grant Burgett and Jimmy Littrell joining Washington in the backfield.

Kansas has not beaten the Sooners since 1964. Oklahoma goes into the game with a 4-0 mark in conference play and 8-0 against all foes, and owns the nation's longest winning streak among major colleges.

Top Twenty In other games involving The Associated Press Top Twenty this Saturday, second-ranked Alabama is at Miami of Florida, fourth-ranked Ohio State is at Iowa, 17th-ranked Pitt is at fifth-ranked Notre Dame, Kansas State is at sixth-ranked Nebraska, Georgia is at seventh-ranked Auburn, Washington is at eighth-ranked Southern California, ninth-ranked Florida is at Kentucky, and Rice is at 10th-ranked Texas A&M.

Ohio University is at 11th-ranked Penn State, 12th-ranked Miami of Ohio is at Cincinnati, Duke takes on 13th-ranked Maryland at Norfolk, Va., Memphis State is at 14th-ranked Houston, 15th-ranked Michigan State is at Indiana, 16th-ranked North Carolina State is at Arizona State, Colorado is at 18th-ranked Oklahoma State, Washington State is at 19th-ranked California, and Texas Tech, rated No. 20, is at Baylor.

Last Obstacle Purdue is the only stumbling block left before the Michigan Wolverines travel to Columbus for the annual showdown clash with Ohio State. One thing the Wolverines aren't doing is looking ahead.

SIGNS TWO-YEAR PLAYING PACT— Aaron Talks Of Pennant

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Hank Aaron has yet to hit a baseball for the Milwaukee Brewers, but the all-time home run king already has made a profound impact on his return to the city where he began his quest for stardom 21 years ago.

"I want to end my career here. My main challenge is to come back and bring a championship to this city that I love so dearly," Aaron said Thursday in his first appearance here since the Brewers obtained him in a trade with the Atlanta Braves Nov. 2.

Brewers' president Bud Selig announced that Aaron, who will be 41 Feb. 5, had signed a two-year contract as a player. Manager Del Crandall said Aaron will be used primarily as a designated hitter.

The news conference, described as the largest ever held here, was considered momentous enough to be televised locally live. The dozens of newsmen were joined by admiring dignitaries — including former Wisconsin Gov. Warren P. Knowles — and many cheered as Aaron entered the conference room at the downtown hotel.

Aaron, who hit 396 of his record 733 home runs for the old Milwaukee Braves from 1954 through 1965, said he was confident he could improve on his 1974 figures of a .268 batting average and 20 home runs.

He said the pressure of trying to surpass Babe Ruth's pre-honored record of 714 career homers was past, and that not having to play in the field every day should help his stamina.

But Crandall and others pointed to Aaron's potential leadership value to the team. American League president Lee MacPhail said Aaron should boost attendance not only here, but in AL cities where he never has played.

Kickers Happy

NEW YORK (AP) — The kickers can't kick as much this year. And, perhaps surprisingly, they're not kicking about it.

A number of rules changes were introduced this season, aimed at making life a little more difficult for National Football League place-kickers in order to slice away at their growing dominance of the game.

The changes have worked — but, for the most part, the kickers don't seem to mind it much.

The two biggest changes involved field goals, which had become almost a way of life for many teams the past few years.

The upticks are 10 yards further from the kicker, pushed back from the goal line to the end line. And, in the event of a missed field goal on a play that began beyond the 20-yard line, the ball is brought back to the line of scrimmage rather than

NFL Field Goal Specialists Approve Of New Rules

The new rules were supposed to make touchdowns and yardage field goal. San Diego's Dennis Pardee, in fact, is happy the way things are now. "I like the changes," he says. "It puts the premium on accuracy rather than distance. Statistics are not important. It's how much you help your team that counts."

Moving the uprights has taken its toll in points after touchdowns, too. At this point a year ago, 96.2 per cent of them were about the added distance. "The successful. This year it's down way I look at it," he says, "a to 91.3 per cent.

Permian, Midland Teams To Beat In Cross-Country

BIG SPRING — The Midland Bulldog and Lee Rebel cross-country teams enter District 5-4A competition here Saturday with a 10 a.m. starting time.

Coach Edwin Nixon's Bulldogs are expected to battle the Odessa Permian for the 5-4A title. Permian has won all seven of its meets to date with Midland winding up either first or second in the six meets it competed in.

Nixon will take six varsity and seven junior varsity runners to the meet while Lee Coach Sam Volpe will enter seven varsity runners and five JV competitors.

Representing the Bulldog varsity will be Mike Darden, Ralph Diaz, Ken Woody, Boyd Wolf, Robert Wilson and Harold Stewart. JV runners will include Richard Brown, Hector Galindo, Elmer Johnson, Danny Chick, Miguel Ramirez, Sheldon Skinner and Don Harris.

Lee varsity runners will include Monte Wright, David Shelton, Robert Payne, Jeff Lauffer, Leander Johnson, Jack Watley and Earl Evans. JV members will be Robert Skinner, Steve Edmiston, Johnny Jackson, Rick Walker and Bryan Smith.

Top runners then advance to the regional meet in Abilene next week with the state meet in three weeks in Austin.

Braves Up Lead

DeGregorio Out, But Defense Improves

By The Associated Press

The Buffalo Braves have adjusted their game because of the absence of injured Ernie DeGregorio, their classy play-making guard, but the other teams in the National Basketball Association can't seem to adjust to the Braves.

"Buffalo stretched its winning streak to six games and its Atlantic Division lead to 2 games over defending league champion Boston, beating the Celtics 112-100 Thursday night."

"We're playing stronger team defense now because we realize we're not going to score as many points without Ernie," explained Buffalo Coach Jack Ramsay.

10-3 Record

Last season, the Braves were the highest scoring team in the league, averaging 111.6 points per game, but they finished with only a 42-40 record because of their defense, which was the worst in the NBA, allowing 111.8 points per game. Now, they are 10-3.

"I haven't given the responsibility to any one player to take over for Ernie," said Ramsay. "The whole team is doing it."

The player who did it most for the Braves against the Celtics was Randy Smith. He fired in a game-high 27 points, including 17 in the last quarter. Jim McMillian added 20 points and Bob McAdoo, the league's leading scorer, contributed 18. Jo Jo White was high for Boston with 25.

In other NBA games, Portland downed Atlanta 104-92, New York topped Cleveland 94-89, and Houston beat Chicago 105-96.

In the American Basketball Association, New York topped Memphis 108-101, San Antonio outlasted Kentucky 102-100 in overtime, and St. Louis trounced Virginia 119-96.

John Johnson broke loose for 17 of his 19 points in the third quarter, sparking Portland's victory over Atlanta, but it might have been a costly triumph for the Trail Blazers. Bill Walton, their celebrated rookie center, suffered a dislocated finger in the second quarter. Atlanta rookie John Drew scored 31 points and grabbed 18 rebounds.

Earl Monroe pumped in 26 points, including 21 in the second half, lifting New York past Cleveland and giving the Knicks their 12th straight victory over the Cavaliers at Madison Square Garden.

Rudy Tomjanovich scored 24 points and sparked a fourth-quarter surge that carried Houston over Chicago and helped nullify a 33-point performance by the Bulls' Chet Walker.

Billy Paultz' 29 points and 13 rebounds paced New York's triumph over Memphis. Paultz scored eight points in the last six minutes and hit all seven of

Titles At Stake In Area Tilts

The 1974 regular season grid campaign will come to a close tonight with three area loops deciding playoff representatives at the final West Texas gun.

McCamey's Badgers, seeking their first district championship title in 16 years, will host Sonora in a District 7-AA shootout. Both own 3-0 loop records and tonight's winner will meet Alpine in the bi-district playoff.

Ranin's Red Devils, 9-0 on the year and ranked second in all own 4-1 records in loop play, will host Iran in the District 5-A championship game. Both teams own a 4-0 loop mark and Rankin is seeking its third straight trip to the playoffs. The winner will meet Seagraves next week in bi-district.

In District 2-AAA, Pecos hosts Kermit in the key tilt while Lubbock Estacado and Lubbock Monahans travels to Andrews. Pecos, Kermit and Monahans place. Lamesa travels to Marfa.

Snyder, already owning a playoff berth against Brownwood, ends the District pits Reagan County against Crane in Crane while the remaining 6-A schedule has Wink second at Clint and Balmorhea at Marfa.

Seagraves, the winner of District 5-A, meets O'Donnell in a playoff warm-up contest while Stanton will try to hold on to second place in a meeting against Shallowater in Stanton. The other 7-AA engagement pits Reagan County against Crane in Crane while the remaining 6-A schedule has Wink second at Clint and Balmorhea at Marfa.

Scoreboard Gave North Star Goalie A Warning

By The Associated Press

You're 20 years old and you've just been told that you are going to start at goal against the Buffalo Sabres the next night. If you're Pete LoPresti, you keep an eye on the ton 4-1 scoreboard.

"I kept watching the score-Cleveland edged Phoenix 2-1 in board of the Buffalo Montreal overtime. New England stomped game (Wednesday night), kept ped San Diego 7-2 and Michigan seeing the score mount, and I defeated Chicago 4-2.

thought to myself, "If the Sabres can get eight goals on NHL start, played for Denver Dryden in Montreal, what can University last year. He is the do me to me at home tomorrow of Sam LoPresti, who row"" the Minnesota North Stars' rookie said.

Black Hawks in the early 1940s. Buffalo rammed four goals past LoPresti and the Sabres string to 10 straight, which includes one tie, the Sabres broke a 1-1 tie just 40 seconds into the second period when Rene Robert tipped in Larry Carriere's long shot. Rick Martin then scored two power play goals, sandwiched around a goal by Minnesota's Don Martineau.

The North Stars pulled to within one point, 4-3, on Jude Drouin's backhander before Danny Gare scored for Buffalo into an empty net when LoPresti was taken out in the closing seconds.

Montreal goalie Ken Dryden turned in a brilliant performance in Montreal's victory over Boston. Dryden turned aside 39 shots as the Bruins suffered their first loss at home this season.

While Dryden was stopping the potent Boston offense, Guy Lafleur scored two goals to pace the Canadiens' scoring.

Tardif's second goal of the game broke a 2-2 tie and Danny Gruen scored just 38 seconds later to lift the Michigan State past Chicago and snap a six-game WHA losing streak.

Boyd Resigns As Crane Coach

CRANE — The board of trustees of the Crane Independent School District has accepted the resignation of Joe A. Boyd as athletic director and head football coach of the Crane school system effective at the close of the first semester of the 1974-75 school year.

Boyd in his first year as grid coach at Crane ended in a 2-7-1 season mark while the Golden Birds are 4-5 this year with a game against Reagan County left tonight.

world class sprinter at split end, has caught 33 Purdue passes for 571 yards while freshman flankers Paul Beery and Reggie Arnold have combined for 19 receptions and 294 yards. Sophomore quarterback Mark Vitali, who didn't start until the fifth game of the season, can become the seventh Boilermaker to throw for more than 1,000 yards in a season.

Ground-oriented Michigan travels on the legs of tailbacks Golden Bell and Rob Lytle, who have run for 774 and 717 yards, respectively, and full-back Chuck Heater. Quarterback Dennis Franklin is much improved after being hobbled for several games with a sprained ankle. He has thrown for five touchdowns.

Tide Vs. Miami

Saturday is the 26th meeting of the teams. Michigan has won the last five and dominates the series 18-7.

Miami of Florida was crushed by Notre Dame just three weeks ago. Now the Hurricanes take on Alabama, Notre Dame's Orange Bowl foe New Year's night.

CARDINALS, VIKINGS FAVORED—

Pro Picker Likes Dolphins, 'Skins

NEW YORK (AP) — "How outrageous," writes a pro football fan in Texas, "can you get? Toy with picking the Houston Oilers over the Buffalo Bills and then chicken out?"

Well, all this Pro Picked can say is that he did chicken out last week ... and you know what happened — Houston beat the Bills and Oilers quarterback Dan Pastorini is still insisting it wasn't an accident.

Maybe Buffalo was looking ahead to this Sunday's showdown with the Miami Dolphins — a clash that may well decide the American Conference East representative in the National Football League playoffs.

Whatever it was, it certainly didn't help the picking average. Last week's showing was 8-5. The season's card now stands at 82-34-1 for .707.

So let's see what outrageous guesses can be made this week:

BUFFALO (7-2) at MIAMI (7-2): Since the Dolphins are the hosts and have a habit of winning the big ones, how about ... DOLPHINS 21, BILLS 17.

LOS ANGELES (7-2) at NEW ORLEANS (3-6): The Rams can become the first NFC team to clinch a division title — and a playoff spot — with either a victory or a tie ... RAMS 21, SAINTS 6.

SAN DIEGO (3-6) at OAKLAND (8-1): Oakland has won its last eight games and is favored by two touchdowns. But the Chargers are doing much better these days: Nevertheless ... RAIDERS 21, CHARGERS 10.

DALLAS (5-4) at WASHINGTON (6-3): Oddsmakers say the Redskins are two-point favorites. The first impulse was Washington. Let's stay with it and say ... REDSKINS 22, COWBOYS 15.

GREEN BAY (4-5) at MINNESOTA (7-2): The Vikings won 32-17 over Green Bay earlier this year. That score still sounds good ... VIKINGS 32, PACKERS 17.

ST. LOUIS (7-2) at PHILADELPHIA (4-5): The Cards came awfully close to beating the Vikings last Monday night. Would you believe ... CARDINALS 24, EAGLES 21.

PITTSBURGH (6-2-1) at CLEVELAND (3-6): This is a must game for the Steelers ... STEELERS 27, BROWNS 16.

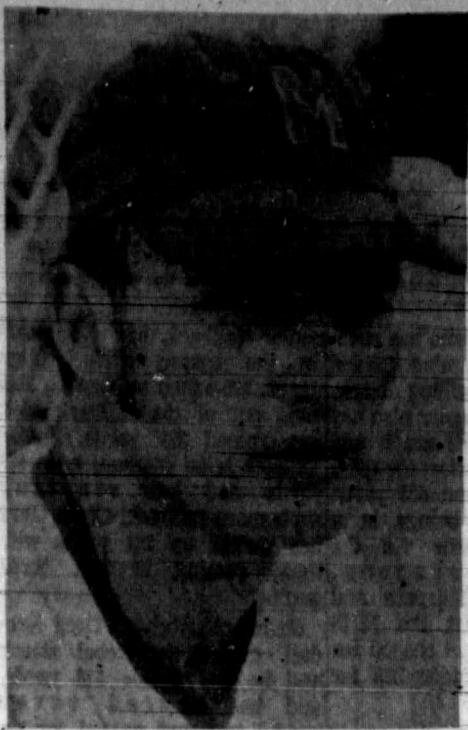

CINCINNATI (6-3) at HOUSTON (4-5): The Oilers ARE getting respectable. Only seven-point underdogs. And the Bengals are hurting, so let's really be outrageous and say, in this week's Upset Special ... OILERS 21, BENGALS 20.

NEW YORK JETS (2-7) at NEW ENGLAND (6-3): Joe Namath looked great against the Giants last week. Jim Plunkett looked lousy against the Browns. The rolls will be reversed ... PATRIOTS 24, JETS 17.

SAN FRANCISCO (2-7) at CHICAGO (3-6): Been down so long, it looks like up ... BEARS 20, 49ERS 16.

NEW YORK GIANTS (2-7) at DETROIT (4-5): Playing the Chiefs.

Midland Cubs' Jerry Tabb Sets Sights On Wichita, Maybe Chicago, Despite 'Minus Statistic'

Tabb Discusses Delicate Subject

By ED PRELL, R-T Correspondent
SCOTTSDALE, Ariz.—The interview with Jerry Tabb, the Cubs' tremendous first base prospect, was almost over.

"Haven't you forgotten something?" asked the square-jawed Oklahoman. "Or didn't you know I went 9-for-40 this year?"

This may be one of the rare times—if not actually first—that an athlete volunteered a minus statistic.

It happened early last May when Jerry was at Midland in the Texas League.

"It had me worried at the start," admits Jerry. "Then it became kinda funny in a painful way as the futility continued. I remember thinking,

"why can't I at least get a broken bat single? And I almost didn't break it in my 41st time up. The third baseman knocked down a hard line drive and I just beat his throw."

Except for this enormous sag, it was a great year for Jerry. He hit .370 in June and was .363 at the finish with Midland, knocking 29 homers and chasing in 106 runs. Moved up to Wichita in the American Association, he clicked 21 hits in 11 games for .447, hitting two homers and batting in seven.

Even that pernickety professor of swat, Lew Fonseca, the Cubs' special batting coach, says he can detect no flaw in Tabb's swing.

Jerry was tabbed No. 1 by the Cubs in the 1973 June draft after winning All-America baseball honors at the University of Tulsa, where he's a few hours short of a degree in petroleum engineering. Jerry made it immediately last year at Midland, batting .273. His biggest pro day: July 9, 1973, 2 homers, triple, double and single — and 6 RBIs against Memphis!

"Counting spring training, the regular season, and this Arizona Instructional League, I'll play 200 games this year," says Jerry, noting that it's been nothing but baseball since he reported for spring work here last March 17, his birthday.

Standing — Angels 22-15; Cubs 21-17; Padres 17-19; Dodgers 15-19; Giants 15-20.

Monday—Dropped 3-0 battle to Dodgers. Only hits were singles by Steve Verban and Scot Thompson as Jim Krummel lost. Thursday—Beat Padres, 4-2, behind Mike Weiss and Donnie Moore as Joe Wallis hit sixth homer, high in league.

Friday—Captured split twin bill: 6-0 over Dodgers, 5-1 over Angels. Decisive hits were 2-run doubles by Wallis in opener and by Steve Haglund in No. 2. Dave Geisel, Mike Krukow, George Riley, and Darrell Turner superlative on mound. Sunday—Lost to Padres, 5-1. Eric Grandy had a double and two singles. Steve Hamrick the loser.

Week in Review: (Mon., Oct. 28, through Sun., Nov.

League Pace Setters: Frankie George, Angels, .354; Joe Wallis, Cubs, 42 hits, 68 total bases, 6 homers; Dave Macherer, Angels, 25 runs; Lawrence Rush, Angels, 24 runs batted in; Wayne Tyrone, Cubs, 5 triples; Mike Dupree, Padres, 9 doubles; Mike Miley, Angels, 29 walks; John Scott, Padres, 9 steals. Dave Heaverlo, Giants, 0.33 ERA; Pat Cristelli, Angels, 5-1, 39 innings, 29 strikeouts; Bruce Sutter, Cubs, 4 saves.

Sellout Crowd To Watch Tonight's Showdown

By BOB DILLON

Should both Lee and San Angelo lose, the Rebels would still go into the bi-district round against either Wichita Falls or Wichita Falls High since San Angelo has a loss and tie in district competition. "These kids know each other so there hasn't been any problem getting them ready to play Lee," said Reddell. Acree agrees and knows his Rebels must give a great effort in order to win the title.

The Offenses
 Midland sends it's Wishbone offense against a Pro Set with numerous variations by the Rebels. Fullback Mike Gaddy, a 200-pound senior who has rushed for 969 yards in nine games, is the key to the Bulldog attack. The hard-running senior also has 13 touchdowns to his credit and is an all-district performer from last year. He gained 885 yards as a junior and brings in a total of 1,844 yards via the ground in two seasons. Halfbacks Mike Hudspeth and Kim Madden offset the MHS attack. Hudspeth has rushed for 509 yards and Madden 298 for the Pack.

Balanced Attack
 Lee, too, has a balanced running attack with Blain Murray paving the way. The 155-pound senior tailback has 675 yards on the season while Milton Jones, 205-pound senior who also runs out of the tailback slot, has gained 529 yards. Junior fullback Mike Oliphant adds 493 yards and late starting sophomore tailback, Clyde Gary has picked up 121 yards with those coming in just three games.

Senior quarterback Greg Reddell, guides the Rebel attack and he has gained 113 yards, and has scored seven touchdowns and passed for an additional 341 yards including four TD passes.

Both Tall City outfits have rugged defensive units. The Rebels have given up only seven points per game in their last five outings in beating San Angelo, 21-7; Permian, 34-7; Abilene 30-7 and Big Spring 27-7. The Rebs gave up seven points in losing to Cooper, 7-6.

Midland, in losing to Permian in the final six seconds and being tied 13-13 by San Angelo on the final play of the game on a 20-yard screen pass, picked up a big 6-0 victory over Cooper last week.

"One thing's for sure, Lee will have to work for the championship. We won't give it to them without a battle," said Reddell.

Offensive Line
 Acree points to a vast improvement in the offensive line which has been awesome in opening holes for the likes of Murray, Oliphant, Jones, Reddell, Lance Posey and Gary.

Last week, the Lee infantry, pounded out 421 yards on the ground against Abilene.

If Midland lacks anything, it is a passing attack, but the Pack can move the football on anyone on the ground.

Midland takes an 8-5 overall advantage into the game in the series which started in 1961. Midland won the first six meetings between the two schools and then Lee has turned it around with five victories in the last seven meetings. Acree came to Lee in 1970 and his Rebs have won three out of four from the Pack, but Midland laid on a 46-27 victory on Lee last season under Reddell with Acree's 1972 team, led by Pat Lyons, won, 28-7.

Taiwan May Hold Its Own LL Series

TAIPEI (AP) — Taiwan sports officials and baseball authorities are studying the possibility of holding its own Little League World Series after the U.S. Little League decided to bar foreign teams from competition at Williamsport, Pa.

"We have been discussing the possibility of organizing a similar Little League World Series. It is uncertain yet. Our main concern is money," F.L. Lin, the secretary general of the Baseball Association said today.

The Education Ministry, the Amateur Athletic Association, the Baseball Association and other concerned agencies have met for discussion the past three days after the U.S. Little League announced its decision Monday, according to Lin.

Among the advocates of the suggestion is that Taiwan host another World Series. Lin seems the least worried about whether there will be enough countries responding to the plan.

"The excellence of our teams has been internationally recognized. If we suggest holding another international Little League competition, we would get good response from the countries who used to send teams to Williamsport," Lin said.

Earlier, Hsieh Kuo-Cheng, the chairman of the Baseball Association had said Taiwan will not organize another World Series because it would look like a confrontation.

But he stated he was not against the idea of organizing regional competition in Asia as a substitute for the Williamsport World Series.

Little League baseball is the only team sport in which Taiwan has achieved international recognition, and the craze for it that began with the island's first victory in 1969 starts in the paddy fields and runs straight up to the top of the Nationalist Chinese government.

Since then, Taiwan teams have taken the world Little League championships five out of the past six years, and the last four years running.

Fans Cynical Of Their Sports Heroes

Study Shows Day Of Sacred Cow Is Gone

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans are losing the awe they once had for their sports heroes and are becoming more cynical about big-time fun and games, contend two Harvard students who have spent eight months probing the sports mentality in the United States.

"I think it is a loving cynicism, however," says Edward L. Trimble of Baltimore, 20, a major in history and literature at Harvard University.

"There are not any sacred cows any more," adds Glenn A. Ayres of Annapolis, Md., a 20-year-old Harvard junior majoring in psychology and social relations.

"It is difficult to become star-struck over athletes who are suddenly thrust into the roles of businessmen with astronomical salaries and cordons of business agents," Ayres said. "Fans have discovered their heroes can be corruptible."

Gene Snow, famed AA funny car driver, will appear in his Vega, The Snowman.

Trimble and Ayres were members of the 12-man editorial staff of the Harvard Lampoon, the nation's oldest college humor magazine, which recently produced a full-length parody of Sports Illustrated. It was an exhaustive piece of work, eight months in the making.

"For most of us," added Trimble, a lean six-footer, "it is another world to go away to. It is an escape. We all attach ourselves to a personality or a team representing goodness and light. And we root for it against what we picture as the bad guy."

"But we are learning to stand apace and recognize sports for what they are," said Trimble. "Nostalgia. A lift in spirits. But there is more of a humorous than a serious vein running through them now. We can be amused at what we see rather than think the world will revolve on the outcome."

Trimble said he found that the public, while not awed, was nevertheless fascinated by the modern sports giants.

"Americans are impressed by millionaires and records," he added. "When Sandy Koufax is in an airport, people will stop and stare at that left arm of his. And Eddie Arcaro — they will marvel at what a little man can do on top of an animal."

Keith Bishop, 220-pound senior tackle and tri-captain, leads the Rebel defense along with 165-pound nose guard Buster

Midland has its standouts on defense too with Sam Jordan, Mitch Irvin, Steve Campbell, Sam and James Zachary along with Derrick Michael and Dusty Hicks paving the way.

The Bulldogs have been getting good blocking out of the front line of Bruce Smith, Tom Kickoff is set for 8 p.m. with a crowd of more than 10,000 expected to view the battle.

Cougars Go For 7th Win

HOUSTON (AP) — The University of Houston is having a typical football season—the Cougars are ranked 14th in the nation and have been invited to the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl.

The Cougars, who have played in the classic three times, spent an open date last week, nailing down their fourth scheduled appearance while several other bowl bound teams were losing.

Houston will try to take a 9-2 record into the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl beginning Saturday night when it hosts Memphis State, 6-3, in the Astrodome.

Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m. CST in the Astrodome in Houston's regular season home finale which also is its homecoming.

The Cougars, now 6-2, came back from a slow start when they lost to Arizona State and Miami in their first three games. After the Miami loss the Cougars started a five-game winning streak that culminated with a 31-24 victory over Georgia two weeks ago.

Changing to sophomore quarterback Bubba McGallion early in the season helped the Cougars cause. It also has helped having four running backs who average better than five yards per carry.

Sophomore John Housman is Houston's leading ground gainers with 643 yards on 124 carries and a 5.2 yards per carry average. The other top rushers are Marshall Johnson, Lonnie McGraw and Reggie Cherry.

Memphis State had its bowl chances all but doused last week with a 34-6 loss to Tennessee.

The Tigers are led by running back Reuben Gibson with 405 yards on 101 carries, and quarterback David Fowler, who has completed 56 per cent of his passes, six going for touchdowns.

Goose, Sandhill Crane Season In Full Swing

Goose and sandhill crane seasons are in full swing in the western part of the state and duck seasons are not far behind.

Goose season west of U.S. Highway 81 began Oct. 19 and runs until Jan. 19; east of U.S. 81, Oct. 28 - Nov. 24 and Dec. 7 - Jan. 19.

Duck season in that part of West Texas which is known as the "High Plains Mallard Management Unit" runs through Nov. 24, and resumes Dec. 7 until Jan. 19.

The daily bag on sandhills is three per day with a possession limit of six. Migratory bird regulations require that a fully feathered wing remain attached to such game birds while being transported from the place taken to the residence of the hunter or to a commercial processing facility.

The big cranes are arriving late in the Panhandle this year, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department game warden Bobby Goff of Lubbock.

"Hunters will have to search for the birds the first part of the season," said Goff, "but cold weather will send the rest of the cranes south later in the year."

Large playa lakes on the South Plains are ideal for wintering cranes and they usually number over 200,000 by January of each year.

A federal migratory bird stamp is not required for hunting sandhills, but the stamp is necessary for hunting ducks and geese.

With hunting season arrived in both New Mexico and Texas, park officials would like to remind area hunters that both Carlsbad Caverns and Guadalupe Mountains National Parks are wildlife sanctuaries and closed to hunting.

Park rangers will be patrolling both parks throughout the hunting season, and persons planning to hunt near either parks should familiarize themselves with park boundary lines to avoid penalties for illegal hunting.

Hunters will be permitted to cross through the northern portion of Carlsbad Caverns National Park on existing jeep roads to reach public lands just outside the park boundary.

The jeep road inside the park extending west from Section 30 to the west boundary of Carlsbad Caverns National Park near Putman Cabin will be closed during the New Mexico hunting season.

Officials also stated that the 5 mile privately owned access road to McKittrick Canyon in Guadalupe Mountains National Park will be closed to all traffic during the Texas hunting season from Nov. 30 through Dec. 15.

Secretariat Foal Born

WINONA, Minn. (AP) — Secretariat's first foal was born early today to a mare on Sahaptin Farm near this southeastern Minnesota town, owner Jack Nankivil said.

Leola, a 13-year-old Appaloosa bred to the Triple Crown winner as a test mare last December, gave birth at 12:12 a.m. to a red chestnut colt.

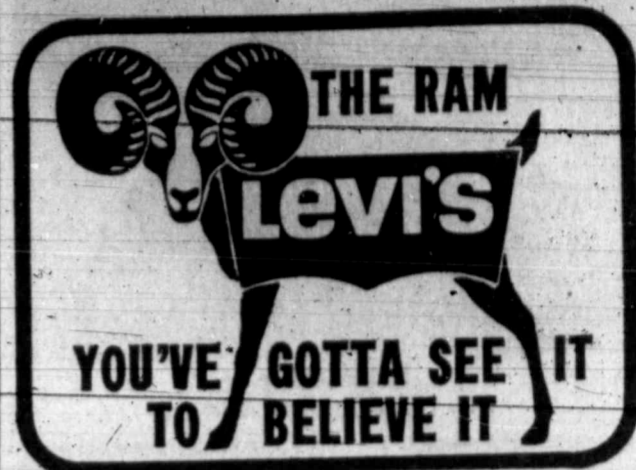

"He's got three socks just like Secretariat does and a blaze on his face," Nankivil said. "It's the most beautiful colt I've ever seen."

No name for the colt has been selected, but a farm spokesman said, "You can bet that Secretariat will be part of it." Nankivil bought the mare from William K. Taylor, Paris, Ky., last June.

Odessa Soccer Match Slated

ODESSA — The University of Texas of the Permian Basin Charger soccer team will be facing Texas Tech this Saturday at 2 P.M. on the UTPB rugby field, located southeast of the main campus building.

This is the third game this season for the Chargers. Their first game with Eastfield College ended in a 4-4 tie. In their second outing of the season the newly organized team was defeated by Richland College.

Education That Leads To Job Urged For America

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The American school system is designed and maintained as though each of its pupils was destined for Harvard or Oxford. And the image problem — college degrees are status symbols and vocational training is for second class people — is hurting both American youths and the job-market that may be seeking their specific talents.

So says author Muriel Lederer whose book, "The Guide to Career Education," stresses that we need to develop a new attitude: that education should lead to a job. Specifically, we must consider the young person who is unsuited to college or prefers to hitch his talents to vocational or technical training. And we must also recognize the work picture has changed — jobs requiring untrained minds and physical strength have dwindled, whereas jobs requiring advanced education and perfected skills have sizeably increased.

Vocational, Technical Skill
"About 70 per cent of today's 23-year-olds have had no job training in schools and have not completed a college education... yet almost 80 per cent of all jobs available in the United States requires some vocational or technical skill..." she maintains. For example, six to ten technicians are needed for every medical doctor.

Attractive blonde Mrs. Lederer of Winnetka, Ill., who was graduated from Vassar, wrote the book in an effort to provide information that will increase the options open to students who are looking for paths to higher education outside a standard four-year baccalaureate program. It may also help women who want to enter the job market, college graduates who may need a skill to enter job competition and older people who are looking for second careers. In her own career, Mrs. Lederer has written and researched more than 400 articles on such subjects as schools, financing and working women.

Schools, Parents Blamed
She faults both schools and parents for ignoring the real needs and letting thousands of high school graduates each year enter the labor market with no skills.

"Too often there has been a demand that secondary schools concentrate on the training of the college-bound students to the exclusion of providing worthwhile training for youths with other interests."

Such youths eventually work far below their potential competence in unskilled and semi-skilled jobs. On the other hand "we may be over-engineered and over-taught," her research has shown. In one town

Air Conditioners Labeled Polluters

TORONTO (AP) — Air conditioners can be significant sources of air pollution, says Dr. Dmytro Buchnea, assistant professor at Toronto University's Banting and Best Department of Medical Research.

In an article he co-authored with his son for "Environmental Science and Technology," a publication of the American Chemical Society, Dr. Buchnea says he discovered this in various laboratories and in a hospital. He found there was a dust concentration of various aluminum salts several times higher than that regarded as acceptable by Ontario Air Pollution Standards during summer days when air conditioners were at peak operation.

The dust was shown to be similar in content to eroded aluminum components of air conditioners in the rooms. In one office, for example, the dust concentration was found to be 364 micrograms per cubic meter of air. Provincial standards specify 65 micrograms as the maximum acceptable concentration of neutral dust. The university's Institute for Environmental Studies will now attempt to determine whether the dust is in fact physiologically neutral and whether its particle size is such that it would accumulate in people's lungs.

alone as many as 900 teachers applied for about 14 openings in the school system.

The possession of a college diploma doesn't guarantee competence, happiness, success or personal adjustment, she points out. It may even be a big waste of time for some and not even a guarantee of success for many.

Everybody is looking for the place in adult life to which they are best suited. This can materialize only when they match their aptitudes, abilities and interests with job requirements, regardless of the social status of the job in question. But vocational schools have changed and more than 3 million students from every type of family now attend them, she says. Some vocational school graduates perform certain jobs better than their college trained counterparts, she says. In data processing, for example, where college graduates are more interested in broad theory than practical application they tend to make more programming mistakes.

In addition to the wide open field of data processing, "which has made a dramatic impact on society," there are interesting jobs in aeronautics, land-scaping and nursery work, conservation, hotel and insurance business. Mrs. Lederer describes learning and work opportunities in more than 200 trades and skills.

Her exhaustive treatment of career education — the post high school training one receives in preparation for a chosen occupation — includes advice on precautions necessary in choosing an accredited school, financial aid and scholarships (by states), the alternatives to a college education — apprenticeships, home study, private, trade, technical and business schools, junior and community colleges. Each job category notes the education and training needs, points to consider before getting into the field, and where one can get additional information about the specific job.

The stigma of vocational education is steadily fading now, though slowly, Mrs. Lederer asserts. The scarcity of jobs for graduates, especially those in the liberal arts, is encouraging many young people to switch to vocational training after high school. Young people who have acquired a skill or good basic education will have a better chance at steadier jobs in the future.

LAY-A-WAY FOR CHRISTMAS

Increased Traffic Prompts Roadbuilding In Alps Area

By ERIC WAHA
INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—More people are crossing the Alps now in one day than passed over it in the entire 200 years of the Big Migration of Germanic Tribes (Voelker-wandering) in ancient times, Tyrolean officials told a group of foreign newsmen, explaining why Tyrol was preoccupied with the building of roads.

A considerable percentage of them use the autobahn over the Brenner, one of the lowest Alpine passes. A time when cars could proceed there only at a crawl is considered not too remote.

The biggest project to ease traffic density on the Brenner is the construction of a new auto road from Ulm in West Germany to Milan in Italy. Feist predicted it would be completed in 15 years.

As East-West roads in Tyrol, officials said the construction of a road tunnel through the Arlberg has already been started. The road from St. Anton on the Arlberg to Landeck, east of it, will be expanded, and Landeck linked by an autobahn with Innsbruck, the provincial capital.

On tourism, Wallnoefer said the 1974 figures showed there had been "no disaster," but down make no secret they have little use for the Bavarian-Italian project of the so-called "Almagna" Autobahn, linking several provincial governments, Bavaria and the Italian province of Venice and Friuli via the Ziller Tal.

However, the shock of the early summer months prompted officials to start thinking again about speeding industrialization. Wallnoefer termed the dominating role of tourism in Tyrol as "standing on one leg."

Officials said what they want is to present Tyrol as a "tourist country of quality with worthy prices," rather than a low-priced tourist country with consequently doubtful services.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Friday, Nov. 15, the 319th day of 1974. There are 46 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1777, the Articles of Confederation were approved by the American Continental Congress. The document was the law of the land until the Constitution went into effect.

In 1492, Christopher Columbus noted in his journal the use of tobacco among the Indians. It was the first recorded reference to tobacco.

In 1805, the Lewis and Clark expedition reached the mouth of the Columbia River after a long trek across the West.

In 1806, Pike's Peak in Colorado was discovered by explorer Zebulon Montgomery Pike.

In 1889, the Republic of Brazil was founded.

In 1935, Manuel Quezon was inaugurated as the first president of the Philippine Commonwealth.

In 1970, thousands of persons were killed in a typhoon and tidal wave in East Pakistan.

Ten years ago, the U.N. Security Council said it would meet in urgent session at the request of Israel and Syria to consider an outbreak of hostilities on the border between the two countries.

Thought for today: The way many a driver speeds through traffic, you'd think the driver was late for his accident.

The Alemagna project has already led to protests by the population of the Ziller Tal. Some said it would ruin the environment — and consequently tourism — there.

This bower of quiet in the midst of Tokyo is notable for two reasons: it is the first of Japan's private museums and it is an ornament of the Okura Hotel.

Its fieldstone walls, red lacquer pillars and green tiled roof hide behind Japanese pine trees and shrubs at the hotel's entrance, an Oriental oasis in a teeming world.

What makes the explosives warning somewhat wry is the fact that the museum was established in 1917, by the late Baron Kihachiro Okura, who made his fortune in munitions.

Beginning as a merchant's apprentice, he sold weapons and bullets during the turbulent period of the Meiji restoration in 1868. With peace, he turned to more prosaic things, men's suits. From that it was export-import and back to munitions during the 1895 war with China and a later rebellion in Kyushu.

A gifted man, he wrote comic "wika" poetry and composed songs.

He donated his own substantial collection of art works to

Sign Warns 'Explosives Prohibited' In Tokyo Museum Founded By Man Who Sold Munitions

By JOHN RODERICK
TOKYO (AP) — Prudently and a bit ironically — the sign at the entrance to the Okura Shoko-Kan Museum says "Explosives Prohibited."

In its musty interior, among the buddhas and screens, a sneeze would sound terrifying.

This bower of quiet in the midst of Tokyo is notable for two reasons: it is the first of Japan's private museums and it is an ornament of the Okura Hotel.

Its fieldstone walls, red lacquer pillars and green tiled roof hide behind Japanese pine trees and shrubs at the hotel's entrance, an Oriental oasis in a teeming world.

the new museum, together with the land and building. Fire destroyed it in the great earthquake of 1923 but it reopened in 1928 — the year in which died — with items rescued from the catastrophe and many additions.

His son, Chosho, continued the collector's craze which had characterized his father, and built the Okura Hotel, one of the most distinguished in Asia, on land adjacent to the museum.

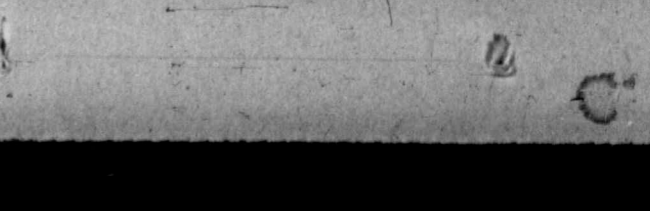

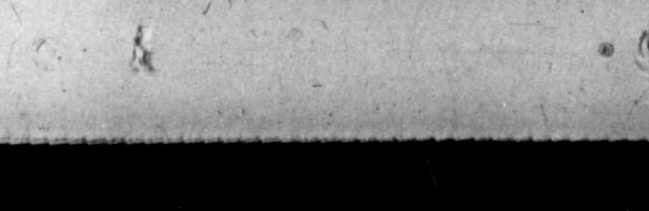

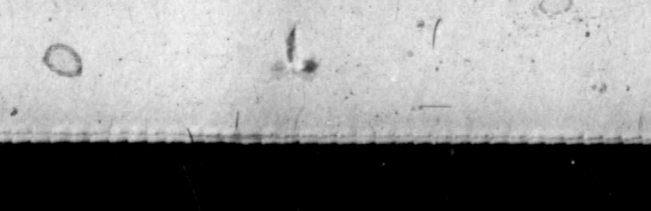

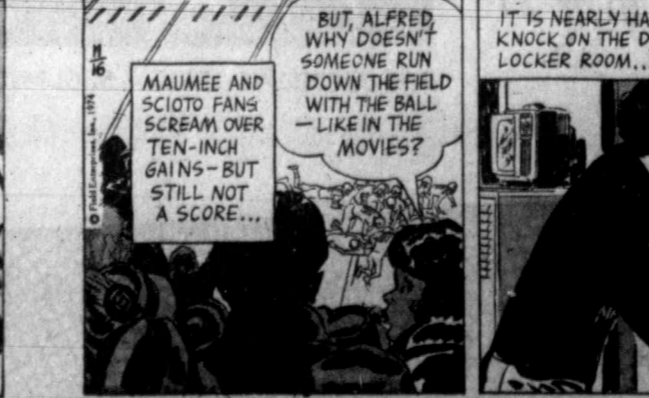

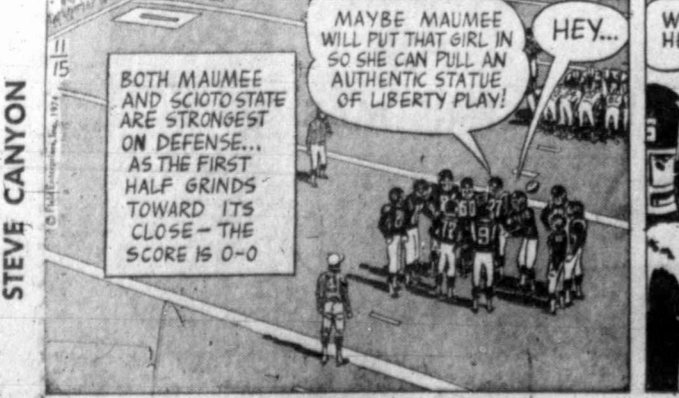

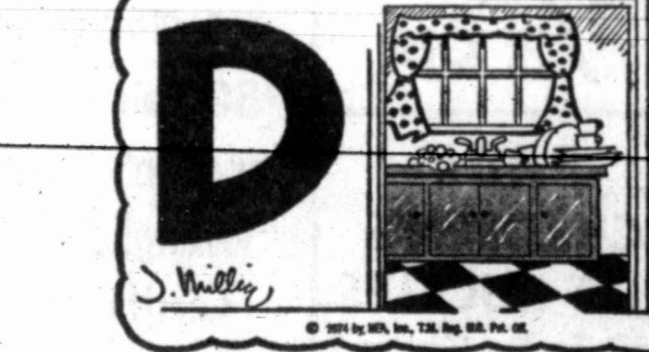

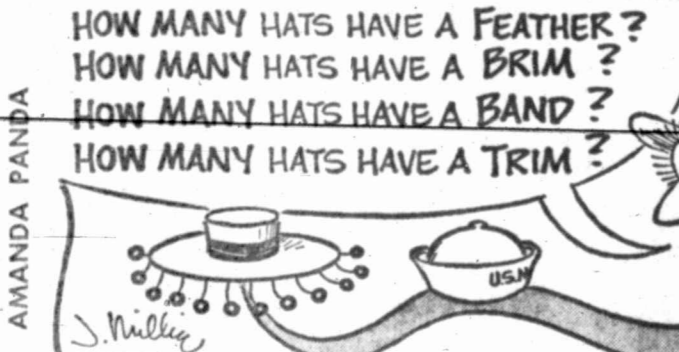

The two-story museum survived the bombing of World War II and is one of the most interesting in Tokyo today. Its collection of 1,094 items includes three national treasures, among them a Helan period (794-1192 A.D.) wooden statue of Samantabhadra-Buddha on an elephant.

Its current exhibition is of the Kano school of painters. Outstanding are magnificent screens by Tannyu Kano (1602-1674) depicting monkeys, birds and trees.

Stock Market Prices Drift Downward In Quiet Session

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market drifted gradually but steadily lower in quiet trading today.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was down 8.37 at 650.03, and losers held a 3-to-2 lead over gainers on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said the market was suffering from a dearth of buying interest in the face of a troubled economic outlook. They also noted disappointment that stocks had shown no favorable response to a new cut in the prime lending rate this morning by New York's First National City Bank.

International Telephone & Telegraph, the Big Board volume leader, was unchanged at 16 1/2.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index rose .32 to 68.46.

NEW YORK (AP) — Oil-rich Arab nations want to invest billions in the industrial West but under partnership arrangements instead of as money lenders.

Such is the report of Asst. Secretary of the Treasury Gerald L. Parsky, who has just completed Arab investment conferences in Kuwait.

"I am convinced they are searching for a variety of profitable investment opportunities in the industrial world," Parsky said.

Participation Essential

"But I am convinced this will not be forthcoming in significant amounts unless the Arab investors are assured of being allowed to participate in the ownership in the industrial capacity of the West."

Parsky reported on his Middle East discussions Thursday during the final session of an oil and governments seminar sponsored by the London Financial Times and the Oil Daily.

Desire For Control

"They emphasized to me the often expressed fear of Arab capital controlling key industries in the West is unrealistic," Parsky said. He added the Arabs have neither the means nor the desire to do so.

"What they do want, however, is a relationship of real partnership and not the role of passive money lender," he said.

"I believe such partnerships within the industrial world could also be potentially useful to Arab economic development, especially if directed to those industries that use Arab commodities or export capital goods to the Arab world."

Parsky said earnings this year by member nations of the Organization of Petroleum Ex-

Audiologist Says Hearing Problems Must Be Detected Early In Child

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Jody Mount Carmel Guild, a community service organization of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese, breaks things, his vision is good and, according to his grandmother, he's the most beautiful baby on the block.

The family is anxiously awaiting his first word. Jody's mother is a little worried, even though it is said even Einstein didn't talk until he was 4 or 5. But, unless Jody gets help, he probably won't talk when he's 4 or 5. The most beautiful baby on the block is deaf and won't grow out of it.

According to Annette Zaner, director of Professional Services for the division of Communication Disorders at Newark's

Mount Carmel Guild, a community service organization of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese, occurs in a relatively orderly fashion, with certain things perceived at certain times, there are critical periods for this development, she notes.

"The critical period for language development is between 2 and 4 years of age; this is when we have to find the hearing-impaired child. After 4 years of age, it is almost too late for them to acquire a minimal knowledge of the language without effort."

Once it has been determined through testing that the child has a hearing impairment, he is fitted with a hearing aid and begins the arduous task of acquiring a language.

"You can't just take a kid who's never heard before, give him a hearing aid and expect him to pick up language," Ms. Zaner stresses. "He has to learn to listen, he has to learn to distort sound. And, he must learn to support what he hears with what he sees in order to develop language skills."

After the hearing-impaired individual has completed his education, from pre-school programs through special secondary schools or colleges, he faces the problems of an unformed hearing citizenry.

For example: —During the 1967 Detroit riot, 45-year-old Roy Banks was shot down as he walked to work after guardsmen mistook him for a looter. The police report said soldiers shouted a warning, not knowing that Banks was a deaf-mute.

—In June of 1969, a 29-year-old Los Angeles man with a severe speech impediment, during questioning by two policemen reached into his pocket for a card giving his name and address. The officers thought he was reaching for a gun and shot and killed him.

Gladys Winter, a volunteer worker with the Guild's deaf adult program since 1949, indicates that the incidents are representative of the extent to which public misunderstanding of the deaf can reach.

Mrs. Winter says there have been considerable changes in the past 25 years, with "much more response and understanding on the part of the hearing. But the major problem is that people misjudge the deaf."

"A deaf person can do anything a hearing person can do, except answer the telephone," she says. "They are good workers and excellent drivers — they live in total awareness."

She mentions the recent publicity of the telephone that allows deaf persons to send typewritten messages on a special machine. But Mrs. Winter says the device, which costs at least $200, is too expensive for most deaf people.

Unless the deaf person is living with hearing persons, it is likely he will have special telephones, alarm clocks, fire alarms and door bells that flash or, in the case of an alarm clock, vibrate the bed, rather than ring. An apartment building for the elderly deaf is being planned in New York City that will be visually oriented and will incorporate these devices for its nonhearing residents.

Although the federal government provides subtitled movies for the deaf for community service centers such as the Guild, until recently the world of television was still, as one deaf woman put it, "a constant frustration."

Study projects designed to test the possibilities of subtitled television shows for the deaf are being conducted at Gallaudet College for the Deaf in Washington, D.C.; City College Graduate Center in New York; and under the auspices of the Public Broadcasting System. In Boston, public television station WGBH-TV has been taping and captioning its network evening news program for rebroadcast to several non-commercial stations between Maine and Washington, D.C.

Deaf persons can also participate in the Theater for the Deaf and the Deaf Olympics.

Plastic Furniture Needs Special Care

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newfeatures Writer

Many do-it-yourselfers are on the repair and refurbish route, a sign of the times. Making it easier is the cooperation of manufacturers who have become consumer-oriented.

Some materials, such as transparent acrylic plastic (Plexiglas), that were put to space-age design in furnishings may be showing signs of wear and tear that require different techniques from those used in the care of wood and metal furnishings.

Rejuvenation Kits

This popular material of the '60s, when do-it-yourselfers were whipping up a storm in the home workshop, making cubes, tables and shelves of it, can be rejuvenated by using kits and materials that are available now in hobby shops, hardware stores and building supply centers, experts advise.

The same care may be applied to those items in the clear or opaque, colored acrylic that are being manufactured — lamps, shelves, tables, accessories for the kitchen and bath and even certain doors.

Small scratches may be repaired easily, deeper scratches and cigarette burns on the surface may take a bit more doing. Little buffing wheels and small attachments for the electric drill can help in doing particular jobs.

For periodic care and minor scratches, an application of automobile paste wax (not the cleaner-wax combination) may be all that is necessary to restore the luster of the acrylic.

The wax is applied and then dusted with a damp cloth to remove static charges which might attract dust particles.

It is then buffed with a clean cotton flannel or jersey cloth.

Deeper scuffs and scratches may require a bit more work — the use of buffing composition and a muslin wheel. The wheel in the kit should attach to a spindle on the end of any electric drill.

Polish Applied, Buffed

As the wheel rotates toward you at full speed, polish from the tube is applied in front of and below the spindle, passing it lightly across the wheel's edge until the face is coated. The wheel should run a few seconds until the composition settles into it.

The wheel should be applied to the scratch as it rotates at full speed while you hold the drill firmly. Friction may scorch the plastic so the wheel should be moved in a back-and-forth or side-to-side motion as it revolves over the damaged area.

A light sanding might be required if marks remain, using a fine, wet or dry 600-grit paper. If the scratch disappears, buff away the cloudy sanding finish using the buffing technique once more.

If the scratch has been lightened only, sand it with a 400-grit wet or dry paper. If the mark persists, as it may with a cigarette burn, a coarser grade of 320-grit paper should be rubbed lightly over it until the mark is gone. After that, the sanding process should be reversed, going from 400- to 600-grit paper and polishing it as you did in the beginning, using the rotating wheel dressed with compound.

Transparent acrylic needs day-to-day care just as other furniture and appliances do, manufacturers point out. Damp dust it with a spray containing 1 teaspoon of mild dishwashing liquid to one pint of water; wipe it dry and gloss it smooth with clean, cotton flannel. Moisture helps cut the electrostatic charges which attract dust, they point out.

Mild Washing Solutions

To wash the acrylic plastic use mild solutions. Strong solutions should be avoided. After washing it with a clean, soft cloth or sponge, rinse it and dry it by blotting it with a damp cloth.

Tar, grease, paint and other sticky substances that cling to it might be removed with a good grade of naphtha or kerosene.

Avoid using household spray waxes, window cleaning fluids, scouring compounds, gritty cloths, leaded or ethyl gasoline and strong solvents such as alcohol, acetone or carbon tetrachloride on the acrylic. These may contain ingredients harmful to the surface of the material, the experts advise.

ACS Section Meets Tonight

The Permain Basin Section of the American Chemical Society will meet at 6:30 p.m. today at the Bonanza Sirota Pit here.

A social hour, at 6:30 p.m. will be hosted by Cosden Oil & Chemical Co. Dinner will be at 7:15, followed by a presentation by Dr. Robert W. Parry of the University of Utah.

Parry will speak on employment problems for chemists.

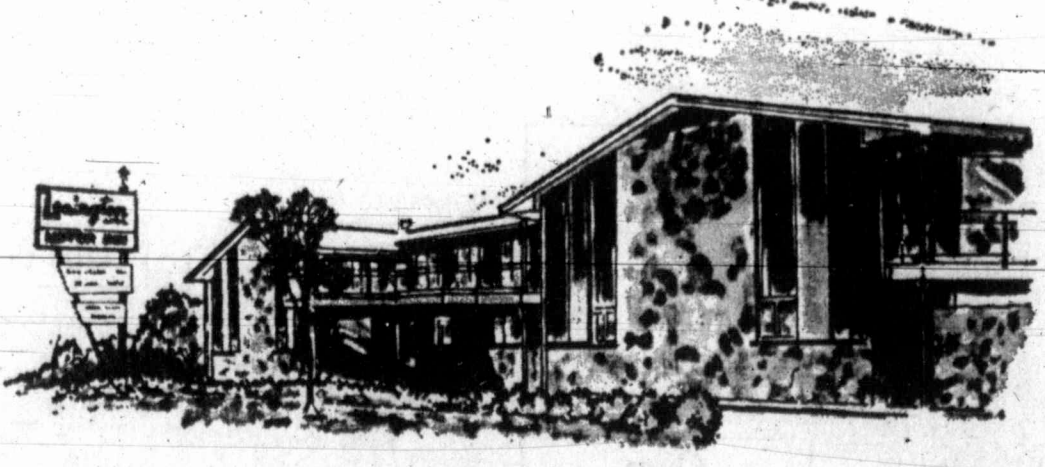

His teaching experience includes a two-year stay at Cornell University, from 1940-1942. He joined the faculty of the University of Michigan in 1946 where he remained until he went to UU in 1969 where he has since served as professor of chemistry.
