Ventures Set In Sterling, Howard Areas

Exploration has been planned in Sterling and Howard counties. Bright & Schiff, Dallas, will drill No. 1 Glass as an 8,000-foot venture in Sterling, 1 1/2 miles northeast of the Big Salute (Canyon) field.

It spots 1,320 feet from south and west lines of section 29, block 22, H&TC survey, abstract 908, 15 miles west of Sterling City.

Howard Venture

Lario Oil & Gas Co., Odessa, has scheduled No. 1-A Pauline Hamlin 50 feet west of and as a replacement for its No. 1 Pauline Hamlin, an 8,500-foot wildcat in North Howard County, three miles south of Vealmoor.

The new project, also slated to 8,500 feet, is 660 feet from north and 610 feet from west lines of section 43, block 32, T-3-N, T&P survey, and 1/2 mile northwest of the depleted Canyon reef discovery in the Luther, North field.

No. 1 Pauline Hamlin, scheduled last June, spots 660 feet from north and west lines of the same section. The hole has been junked at an unreported depth.

Offset To Strike Planned In Martin

John L. Cox, Midland, plans to drill No. 1-H Guy Mabee as a 1/2-mile southeast stepout to the Silurian discovery in the Lacraft multiphase field of Martin County.

Drill site for the test, scheduled to 13,000 feet, is 990 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 8, block 38, T-2-N, T&P survey, 22 miles north of Midland.

The Silurian opener, KCM Oil Co. No. 1-A Mabee, was completed Oct. 27 for 960 barrels of 48.7-gravity oil daily, through a 15-64-inch choke, and perforations at 12,738-12,740 feet. It was dually completed as an extension to Ellenburger production, through perforations at 12,284-12,290 feet, for 309 barrels of 51.1-gravity oil per day.

Pecos Workovers Set As Wildcats

Hillin Production Co. of Odessa has filed applications to re-enter and attempt completion in an unidentified wildcat zone at two projects in the Sheffield (Ellenburger) area of Pecos County, about 12 miles northwest of Sheffield.

The projects are to be cleaned out to around 9,000 feet.

No. 1-17 Charles C. Canon, et al., originally was drilled by Chevron Oil Co. as No. 7 C. Canon, and plugged and abandoned in June, 1956, at 9,941 feet.

It is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 17, block C-3, EL&RR survey.

No. 2 C. Canon, a former producer, also drilled by Chevron as No. 15 C. Canon. It is 2,150 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 17, block C-3, EL&RR survey.

Snow Slows Hunt For 92 Dead

All Aboard Die As TWA Plane Slams Mountain

UPPERVILLE, Va. (AP) — Heavy snow hampered searchers resuming their grim hunt today for the bodies of 92 persons killed when a Trans World Airlines 727 slammed into an Appalachian foothill Sunday.

The chief investigator for the National Transportation Safety Board, Rudolf Kapustin, said 26 bodies were recovered from the crash site near here when searchers quit at 10 p.m. Sunday.

Reporters on the scene said searchers found parts of 75 bodies early this morning and the cockpit flight recorder.

The instrument will tell investigators the plane's position moments before the crash and help determine the cause of the disaster.

Wind-Driven Rainstorm
The TWA jetliner crashed into the top of the 1,754-foot-high peak during a wind-driven rainstorm Sunday morning, killing all aboard.

The plane, TWA flight 514 bound for Washington from Indianapolis, Ind., and Columbus, Ohio, sheared off tree tops and slammed into a 10-foot-high rocky ledge near a top-secret government installation.

The three-jet plane disintegrated on impact, strewn debris and burning wreckage over a wide area on the slope of Mt. Weather, a foothill of the Blue Ridge Mountains. The plane's tail section was found 100 yards below the summit.

Cause Still Unknown
John H. Reed, chairman of the National Transportation Safety Board, said it was impossible to say immediately what caused the crash. TWA officials said relatives of the 85 passengers and seven crew members would be taken by bus today to a temporary morgue near the crash site to identify the remains.

The flight had been scheduled to land at 10:23 a.m. EST at Washington National Airport, directly across the Potomac River from Washington, when air-traffic controllers diverted it to Dulles International, about 25 miles northwest.

Winds Force Diversion
The diversion was ordered because Dulles has runways sited in various directions. National only has north-south runways.

The manager of Dulles, Dexter Davis, said weather conditions there were highly unusual. "In the six years I've been here, a crosswind like this hasn't happened," he said.

The Federal Aviation Administration said there had been no unusual communications between the plane's crew and air-traffic controllers. "Just the routine flight conversation."

When the Dulles tower lost radar contact with the plane about 11:10 a.m. EST, local authorities were notified to begin a search. Two state troopers (See 92 DIE Page 4A)

Red Union Puts Manned Vehicle In Earth Orbit

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today launched a manned Soyuz spacecraft in a dress rehearsal for the joint Soviet-American space mission next year.

Two veteran cosmonauts who have been picked as the backup crew for the July 1975 joint venture were aboard Soyuz 16. Tass reports that pilot Anatoly Filipchenko and flight engineer Nikolai Rukavishnikov were in good health and "have begun to carry out their flight program."

Rukavishnikov told the news agency before liftoff that the main task of the mission will be to test the docking gear and other equipment that will be used to link up with the American Apollo craft.

"In short, we are going to rehearse, to a certain extent, all the operations which are to be carried out in July 1975," Tass quoted the pilot as saying.

Scheduled Next July
The U.S.-Soviet venture, mainly to perfect docking techniques in space, is scheduled to begin next July 15.

Filipchenko's first orbital space flight was aboard Soyuz 7 in October 1969, Tass said. It said he has been working on the U.S.-Soviet project since May of last year.

The engineer, Rukavishnikov, also joined the team for the U.S.-Soviet flight in May 1973, 25 months after his first flight, aboard Soyuz 10, Tass said. He has been a cosmonaut for seven years, it said.

Tass did not say how long the flight would last. (See SOYUZ Page 4A)

Five Held By Gunmen

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two masked gunmen took eight hostages in a neighborhood supermarket today, then released three of them as heavily armed police surrounded them inside the store, officers said.

The store is in a heavily populated residential and business area about two miles from downtown San Francisco.

Negotiations Under Way
"We have two masked gunmen inside a grocery store. They're holding hostages inside and have threatened to kill them," police Sgt. Gordon Hendrickson said.

"Right now, we have a hostage negotiation team in there. If all goes well, we'll get them out. They've threatened to kill everyone inside, even themselves," Hendrickson said.

He said officers were talking by telephone with the gunmen. No injuries were reported.

Ehrlichman Asks Recess In Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defendant John D. Ehrlichman's lawyer asked today that the Watergate cover-up trial be recessed over the Christmas holidays in hope that the delay would make it possible to obtain testimony from former President Richard M. Nixon.

Ehrlichman's lawyer, William S. Frates, proposed to U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica that the jury be sent home Dec. 23 or 24 and then return next month in time for Nixon to give a deposition at his estate in San Clemente, Calif.

Three court-appointed doctors said Friday that complications from the plebitis in Nixon's left leg would prevent him from giving even limited trial testimony by deposition until Jan. 6.

Even then, the doctors said, the questioning should be limited to two one-hour sessions during each day of testimony.

Sirica indicated he was considering sending the jury home over the holidays.

The judge said that, if all defense lawyers agree to the proposal, they should waive any complaints about damage to their defendants' rights in writing.

Sirica said he could also simply keep the jury sequestered in a downtown Washington motel until Nixon has recovered sufficiently to answer questions.

Meanwhile, prosecutors were set to cross-examine H. R. Haldeman today on his testimony that he never ordered the Central Intelligence Agency to halt the early investigation into Watergate.

After completing the discussion about Nixon, Sirica called in the jury and former White House aide Haldeman resumed testimony in his own defense.

Haldeman cast a different light on the events. (See TRIAL Page 4A)

LATE NEWS FLASHES

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Terrorist bombs exploded in a downtown tourist hotel and in city hall here today, killing four in the hotel and injuring at least 25 others.

NEWINGTON, Conn. (AP) — Federal officials questioned a mailman today as they began sifting through three tons of undelivered mail found in the attic of his home.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — A dynamite charge exploded today outside an elementary school in rural Campbell Creek, a center of protest activity in Kanawha County's textbook dispute. Damage was slight and there were no injuries.

U.S. To Hear Ford Tonight In Two-Part News Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford will hold an unusual two-part nationally broadcast news conference tonight, focusing on nuclear arms negotiations and the nation's economy.

Press Secretary Ron Nessen said the President will make public the ceilings he and Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev last week agreed to on nuclear missiles that carry multiple warheads and delivery vehicles.

A diplomatic communication from Brezhnev containing the specific numbers was received over the weekend and Ford will make public the contents at the start of the 6:30 p.m. CST news conference, Nessen said.

The disclosure will be followed by 15 or 20 minutes of questioning confined to the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks. (See FORD Page 4A)

Methane Gas Fatal To Six

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — A rare oilfield accident left six men dead, the victims of methane gas and crude oil which seeped from a ruptured pipeline they were repairing in West Central Texas.

A seventh man, R. D. Penny, crawled from the six-foot excavation where the men were working Sunday night and radioed for help. He was not seriously injured.

Penny said one of the men slumped suddenly and someone yelled there was gas in the hole.

"He (Penny) told me that everyone just dropped before anything could be done—it was all over in a few seconds," said George Anderson, local manager of repairs for Gulf Refining Co., which maintains the pipeline.

In seconds, the hole where the men were working in the 35-degree weather filled with gas and crude oil. The six men, overcome by the methane, slumped into the oil.

The dead were taken to Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene, a few miles from the open field where the accident occurred at dusk.

They were identified as T. P. Rains and Robert Redman of Sweetwater and Don White and Stanley Holderman of Roscoe, all employees of Gulf Oil Co. Robert Arellano of Colorado City, employed by Brown Brothers Construction Co., and Cody Cox of Eastland, employed by Moylan Pump Service.

Redman's body was not fished from the oil-filled hole for several hours while rescuers waited for the bluish-gray methane to clear from the area.

Four firemen, working as rescuers, and one ambulance driver were overcome by the fumes as they recovered the bodies. (See METHANE Page 4A)

Rising Sugar Prices Push Family Food Bills Higher

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Soaring sugar prices, already the target of government probes and consumer boycotts, boosted the price of the family grocery bill during November, an Associated Press market-basket survey shows.

Shoppers who avoided buying sugar, however, found sales on meat and eggs helped stretch the budget at the supermarket.

The AP drew up a random list of 15 commonly purchased food and nonfood items, checked the prices on March 1, 1973, at a supermarket in each of 13 cities and has rechecked at the beginning of each succeeding month.

The latest survey showed the bill was up during November in every city except Dallas, where sugar was unavailable and therefore did not boost the total as it did elsewhere.

The average November increase in the 12 cities where the bill went up was 6 per cent. If sugar was removed from the total, however, the rise was only seven-tenths of one per cent. Not counting sugar, the bill declined in six of the 12 cities and stayed the same in one.

During October, the AP market-basket bill was up in seven cities, down in four and unchanged in two.

A comparison of current prices with those at the beginning of the year showed the market-basket bill up in every city, with an average increase of 20 per cent. Again, much of the increase was due to disproportionately large boosts in the cost of sugar, which more than tripled in some areas as worldwide demand shot up.

Government authorities have predicted that food prices overall will rise about 15 or 16 per cent this year. The Council on Wage and Price Stability held hearings in Washington, D.C., last week to investigate sugar prices, and a house subcommittee plans another probe this week.

Farmers, refiners and retailers repeatedly have denied that they are taking advantage of consumers by charging high prices for sugar. Farmers concede they're getting more money — raw sugar is selling for about 60 cents a pound, about five times what it was a year ago—but they argue that their costs for things like fuel and (See FAMILY Page 4A)

Firemen Discover Undelivered Mail By Tons In Building

NEWINGTON, Conn. (AP) — But he added that first class "Possibly hundreds of thousands" of pieces of undelivered mail postmarked as long ago as 1972 have been discovered by firemen who fought a blaze in a house here.

"There was everything from baby food to Christmas cards. Anything that you've ever gotten through the mail was there," said Asst. U.S. Atty. Albert Dabrowski.

The mail was removed in three 12-foot-long mail trucks and three smaller vehicles, he said. It was transferred to a 40-foot by 10-foot trailer and covered by the blaze that began late Saturday. Firemen discovered the mail Sunday morning.

"I've seen letters dated as far back as December 1972 and up to and including this month," Dabrowski said. Fire officials indicated the mail fire may have been caused by an electrical malfunction but the mail might have added fuel to the fire," Dabrowski said.

No one was home at the time. Most of the mail was third of the class, including magazines and brochures, "everything from floor and two other firemen regular sporting magazines to were treated for smoke in Pepphouses," Dabrowski said.

Three Crewmen Killed In Charter Jet Crash

STONY POINT, N.Y. (AP) — died the Westchester County Airport in White Plains that he was clearing an altitude of 20,000 feet.

Suddenly, he radioed that the Baltimore Colts football team was "going into a spin," and the plane disappeared from radar screens at several airports.

The plane was bound Sunday night for Buffalo, N.Y., from the metropolitan New York Kennedy Airport in New York City.

Ernie Accorsi, public relations director for the Colts, said Capt. John B. Lagorio, 35, of Edina, Minn., Walter A. Zadra, 34, of Seattle, Wash., and James F. Cox Jr., 30, of Seattle, the flight engineer, were on board.

Heavy Snow Delays Coal Strike Votes

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Heavy snow in the Appalachian coal fields today delayed balloting on a new contract for 120,000 United Mine Workers members who have been on strike since Nov. 12.

UMW President Arnold Miller sent telegrams to all locals participating in the first rank and file ratification vote in the union's 84-year history, asking that balloting be extended through Wednesday night.

"We want to maximize rank and file participation by allowing every member the opportunity to exercise his democratic option," Miller said.

Thursday New Target Voting results were to have been telegraphed to the union's Washington headquarters by Tuesday. A union spokesman said today the new delay meant the results of the balloting would not be ready until Thursday.

The earliest the coal mines could be opened would be the midnight shift Sunday, the spokesman said, extending the strike well into its fourth week.

Three union locals in Pennsylvania accepted the pact Sunday by a 422-313 margin. Voting by some locals was to continue today and Tuesday, and complete results were not expected until Tuesday or Wednesday.

Locals that already have voted included Local 1248 at western Pennsylvania's largest of U.S. Steel's Maple Creek mine, where it passed 238-223. Nick Devine, a former local president, said he was surprised 1248 passed the pact.

"You can't get a true picture by talking to the people," he said. "I sure didn't think this local would go for it." The vote by rank-and-file members is part of a pledge made by Miller when his reform organization wrested control of the 120,000-member union from former President W. A. "Tony" Boyle two years ago.

Miller said he would return control of the union to the membership. He devised a scheme for each of the active union members to receive a copy of the proposed new contract and a secret ballot to vote on it.

The tentative agreement with the Bituminous Coal Operators Association was approved last week by the union's 38-member bargaining council. UMW officials have spent the rest of the week explaining terms of the proposal.

Miller expects approval Miller and his aides this weekend stumped troublesome areas of the coalfields to explain the contract Miller has predicted 60 per cent approval.

The proposal calls for a 64 per cent increase in wages and includes numerous provisions on mine safety, which Miller said was his first priority in the negotiations.

The three-week-old strike which has shut off three-fourths of the nation's bituminous coal, U.S. Steel's Maple Creek mine, where it passed 238-223. Nick Devine, a former local president, said he was surprised 1248 passed the pact.

"You can't get a true picture by talking to the people," he said. "I sure didn't think this

Ford's Nomination Of British-Born Woman Triggers Heated DAR Protest

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has chosen a British-born woman for a top job in arranging the U.S. bicentennial—and to the Daughters of the American Revolution, that is a call to arms.

The DAR has filed a protest with the Senate Judiciary Committee over the selection of Mrs. Marjorie W. Lynch as deputy administrator of the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration.

The DAR thinks it downright unpatriotic, the revolution having been waged against some of Mrs. Lynch's British ancestors. DAR members are "incredulous that a woman of English birth" should be nominated to the position, said Mrs. Henry Stewart Jones, president general of the organization.

"This is an affront to patriotic, native American women, among whom there are many who certainly could have served with distinction in this capacity," Mrs. Jones wrote the committee.

She said the committee should not let Mrs. Lynch's nomination slip through in routine fashion without a hearing. A public hearing now has been scheduled for Wednesday.

Wheels Stolen The front wheels of a car owned by Glen Hadley, Star Rt. 9, were reported stolen Sunday while the car was parked at 4201 N. Garfield St. Value of the missing items was listed at $130.

with Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., chairman of a subcommittee on holidays and celebrations, expected to preside.

Mrs. Lynch, who became a naturalized U.S. citizen in 1948, reportedly met her American husband during World War II while she was serving with the Red Cross.

She has been an associate director for domestic and anti-poverty operations of ACTION and for 10 years was a member of the House in the Washington state legislature.

Although a Republican, Mrs. Lynch has the support of Washington's Democratic senators, Warren G. Magnuson and Henry M. Jackson, for her appointment to the bicentennial commission.

Report Says 15 Rockefeller Can Muster $70-Billion Clout

By JOHN BECKLER WASHINGTON (AP) — Fifteen members of the Rockefeller family are directors of 40 corporations which have total assets of $70 billion, according to a report submitted to Congress.

The boards which the Rockefellers belong to have interlocking directorates with 91 major U.S. corporations having combined assets of $440 billion, the study said.

The study was made by G. William Domhoff, a psychology professor at the University of California, Santa Cruz, and Charles L. Schwartz, a physics professor at the University of California, Berkeley.

"They sent the report to the House Judiciary Committee and suggested it be used as the basis for questioning witnesses in the hearings on Nelson A. Rockefeller's nomination to be vice president.

At the invitation of Chairman Peter Rodino, D-N.J., the two professors are scheduled to testify before the panel tonight when hearings on the nomination resume.

In his testimony Nov. 21, Rockefeller dismissed the study as the work of academics unqualified in the field of economics. He has called the idea that he and his family exert any control over the economy "a myth."

Domhoff is the author of several books on America's powerful families. Schwartz says he became interested in the study when he noted Rockefeller representatives on the boards of several corporations involved in technology while he was studying the relationship between science and business.

Banks, Industry, Sales Schwartz says among the major corporations having Rockefeller family representatives on their boards are Chase Manhattan Bank, Chrysler Corp., I.B.M., American Motors, Eastern Airlines, S. S. Kresge, R. H. Macy and Bendix.

"This picture of Rockefeller family's active presence in the world of big business is quite different from that which is most commonly projected—namely that brother David is the chairman of the Chase Manhattan Bank and the other brothers have their own hobbies, rather unconnected to the area of high finance," says Domhoff.

Domhoff said the committee should examine the family's corporate holdings, should try to learn about the investments of such nonprofit family-financed organizations as Rockefeller University and Colonial Williamsburg. Trust funds controlled by the family also should be investigated, he said. He conceded this could be difficult.

"Trust funds such as those held by Nelson Rockefeller and his family... make the ownership and control of large corporations very difficult to ascertain with any certainty," he said.

"More is leaked out about the CIA, the National Security Council, and even Watergate than usually is known about who owns and controls the largest blocks of stock in most major corporations."

Domhoff said the key to determining the extent of the Rockefeller's economic power is Chase Manhattan Bank.

"If Rockefeller family holdings and the holdings of Rockefeller-related organizations are as influential in Chase Manhattan Bank as they seem to be, then Rockefeller economic influence is very large," he said.

Car Vandalized Vandalism did an estimated $200 worth of damage to a car owned by Maria M. Esquivel, 1705 E. Walnut St., while it was parked at her residence. The windshield and the right front window were broken out.

Filipino Officials Holding 1,792 Political Prisoners

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — The martial law government of President Ferdinand Marcos today said it is holding 1,792 political prisoners.

It was the first time in two years that the government had given a definite count of political detainees.

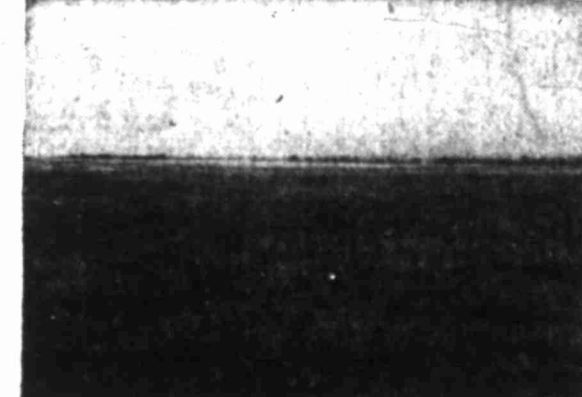

The figure was included in a letter by Defense Secretary Juan Ponce Enrile to Archbishop Jaime L. Sin. The letter, released today, was dated Nov. 30.

Enrile said: "No one is without any charge against him, except those the processing of whose charges has taken a little more time than the others."

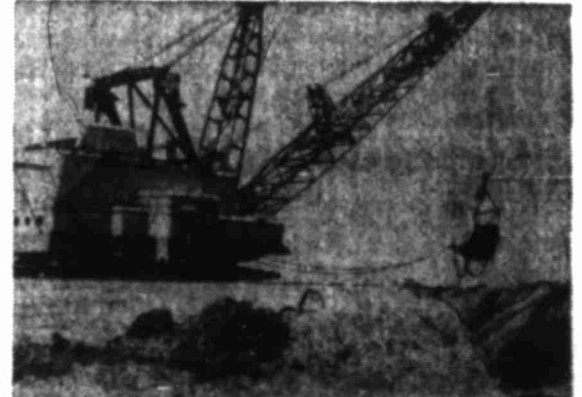

Enrile also repeated martial law government assertions that two wealthy political opponents of President Ferdinand E. Marcos who ended an 11-day protest fast Thursday had been involved in a plot to kill the president. They went on a hunger strike to protest their two years of detention without trial.

Take a two-minute tour of our important lignite coal operation.

We start our tour on this land near Fairfield, Texas. Beneath it lie large deposits of lignite, a soft, low sulphur content coal.

First, the overburden, which is from 40 to 130 feet deep, is removed by this giant dragline.

This exposes thick seams of lignite coal over 100 feet wide and a mile or more in length. The lignite is removed, loaded...

... and trucked a few miles to our lignite-fueled Big Brown electric generating plant.

At the plant the lignite is placed on a conveyor belt which takes it through a series of crushers...

to these storage silos. It is then pulverized to a fine powder which will burn much like natural gas...

to make the steam that runs the turbine-generators. We need this lignite to help reduce our dependence on natural gas and oil, because both are increasingly expensive and hard to obtain.

After removing the coal we need, an extensive reclamation program begins. Within months this same land is used for raising crops...

or as pastureland. At Texas Electric, we're continuing the orderly development of our power system so that you'll continue having the electricity you need.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Marbelized Top Tends To Spot

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — My black marbelized vanity is getting very sad-looking with the white marks from splashes and drops. Is there anything I can do to improve its look? Is there something to apply to prevent it happening again? Thank you. — MRS. S.S.

DEAR MRS. S.S. — I presume yours is a laminated plastic top. If so, the best brands can be cleaned with strong liquid detergent — not an abrasive cleaner. After cleaning apply paste wax as a protection. After each splattering be sure to dry the surface thoroughly and try to get the family to do the same. Once a month is often enough for waxing. It worked wonders on my kitchen counters. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve is with mothers who look through pattern books in a store and put children in the chairs by them when other customers are waiting and cannot get near the books. — MRS. P.M.

DEAR POLLY — I am a single girl waiting a child that I am adopting so have a bit of advice for Terry, the 25-year-old bachelor who wishes to adopt. He could contact the county children's home or the children's welfare department. If they do not accept single parents he might look around for other adoption centers. The main thing is to not get discouraged. Also he should know when he applies what race and age child he is interested in. There are national listing services such as ARENA and he could ask a case worker to list him there. Now there are many books available about adoption and he would do well to read some of them. One I think very good is "The Single Parent Experience." There is a single parent handbook put out in Washington, D.C., that tells what is needed for children of different ages, income tax helps for single parents, how to remake your will after adoption and many other things of interest. Good luck, Terry — MISS A.H.

DEAR FRIENDS — I learned that most singles can now adopt. This has become a fairly common practice of our times. One goes through the same channels as when a couple desires to adopt and, of course, much is dependent on the availability of children — usually there are more older ones than infants. A couple always has a slight edge on a single as a home with both a mother and father is the more normal situation. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — I bought a shoulder strap bag — to have both hands free for shopping, etc., but the strap kept slipping off my shoulder. I was so provoked. Then I remembered an item in my sewing basket — a package of that non-skid tape one buys to go inside skirts and blouse bands to keep them from slipping and twisting. I sewed a four-inch strip of this on the underside of the bag strap where it rests on my shoulder and the slipping ended. — MARVIS.

DEAR POLLY — After you finish any painting brush some paint on the outside of the can at the level of the paint inside so that in the future you will know the color and how much paint is in the can without opening it. — MRS. E.K.

Midland Judge To Be Speaker At Conference

DALLAS — Judge Barbara Culver of Midland will be one of the speakers for the Legal Rights of Texas Women conference scheduled Saturday at the Student Center at Southern Methodist University.

Judge Culver will discuss women's place in the Constitution and laws of Texas. She will be introduced by Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas.

The conference is designed to present an update look at the position of Texas women and how they are affected by current and pending state and federal legislation.

Among the topics covered will be women and the law, consumerism, equal employment opportunities, credit laws and banking and the status of rape legislation.

The conference is sponsored by the SMU School of Continuing Education and the Texas Division of the American Association of University Women, with the cooperation of the women members of the Dallas Bar Association.

Holiday Guests

Mrs. Ira Proctor of 1407 W. Ohio St. had as her guests during the Thanksgiving holiday her sister, Mrs. Herbert Smith of Big Spring, and her son, Capt. Michael Proctor of Ft. Sam Houston. Captain Proctor returned recently to the United States after spending two years in Japan. He is a pilot in the U.S. Army Medical Field Service. His next assignment will be at Ft. Knox in Kentucky.

Dear Abby

—By Abigail van Buren

Fifth Time Around It Finally Worked

DEAR ABBY: That letter after two years of marriage, but I still loved her.

She moved out of town and we lost track of each other. I married someone else and so did she.

As luck would have it, we met again 51 years later when we were both back in our little hometown for Christmas. She was a widow and I was a widower, and we discovered we still cared for each other, so she took the old wedding ring I had given her out of the box and I put it on her finger again in front of our minister and a few relatives.

REUNITED IN ARIZONA
Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

DEAR ABBY: I married Ed twice. After 19 years I decided that I'd be better off alone. I had my choice of five "grounds" (Marge, Nancy, Lucille, Peggy or Helen).

Ed had done very well in business, and my lawyer got me a really good settlement. Two years later Ed started to court me. It was like old times—flowers, dinner dates, the whole bit. Like a fool I fell for it and married him again.

It didn't take me long to realize that he was in big trouble at the bank and he only married me for my money. He didn't take me any better the second time than he did the first, so I divorced him again, but it cost me a bundle.

The only ones who came out ahead on the deal were the lawyers.

BROKE IN BEVERLY HILLS
DEAR ABBY: I've been up to bat SEVEN times, but Numbers One, Three, Five and Seven were the same man. (I had three different husbands in between.)

Everybody thought we were crazy, and maybe we were, but each time we married somebody else we realized how much we loved each other. (My husband had only two other wives.)

This time it's going to last. He's 77 and I'm 76.

TOGETHER IN SUN CITY
DEAR ABBY: "Fourth Time Around" must be crazy. I made the same mistake twice, and that was enough for me. I always say, "A new broom sweeps clean."

MILT
DEAR MILT: But the old broom knows where the dirt is!

DEAR ABBY: I married the same woman twice. The first time she was 15, and I was 22. We had a lot of mother-in-law trouble, so we got a divorce

WHAT IS THE TRUTH?

"Thy Word is Truth" (John 17:17)
by Bryan Bost

Today's paper, like any other issue of the Reporter-Telegram, carries the news of those who have departed this life. Some have died because of illness or old age, others have met violent deaths; accidents have claimed others. Death is always a new item.

Yet, some of us refuse to face this fact: that we too someday will die. We pretend that our earthly existence will go on forever just like it has in the past. Sometimes, we work very hard at being "happy" so that the grim thoughts of our own deaths will never cross our minds.

However, the wise person faces the facts. Instead of fooling himself he plans for the future. By God's grace he knows that there is life after death. He plans for that existence by obeying God in this life. As a faithful Christian, he faces the future with confidence. He has obeyed his Lord, his sins have been forgiven, and he is living the Christian life with assurance of life eternal. Not even death can separate him from the love of God in Christ Jesus his Lord (Romans 8:38-39).

Mills Says He Was Just Joking About Movie Script

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said today he appeared in public with dancer Annabel Battistella in Boston "to dispel all these innuendoes."

The innuendoes, he said in an interview, were that there was something improper in his relationship with the Argentine entertainer whose plunge into the tidal basin in October after a party with Mills and others created a sensation.

"I went up there to be seen," Mills said. "I certainly didn't hide from anybody."

Asked about rumors that he and his wife were contemplating divorce, Mills said: "Certainly not."

He said he talked with Mrs. Mills by telephone "at least five times" during his weekend visit to Boston, where Mrs. Battistella, billed as "The Tidal Basin Bombshell" was concluding an engagement.

Mills said he was joking when he told newsmen in Boston he had written a movie script for Mrs. Battistella.

"But I certainly think she could have a career in the movies," he said. "She is a very talented dancer."

"I wouldn't know how to write a script," Mills said today, adding, however, that he had some ideas he might pass on to someone who would write one.

"I think I was right," he said of his decision to go to Boston and be seen with Mrs. Battistella. "Of course, I could be wrong."

Mills said he does not think the latest burst of publicity will hurt him at the Democratic caucus beginning today.

The caucus, among other things, must decide whether to leave the Democratic portion of the Ways and Means Committee, which Mills heads, as the committee that recommends other members for committee appointments.

There is a strong move to take this function away from Mills' group and give it to the Democratic Steering Committee.

The caucus also has the final say on chairmanships.

Mills said in Boston that he planned to make Mrs. Battistella, who performs under the name Fanne Foxe, a movie star with a film he wrote himself called "It's Not Burlesque."

Mills also got himself into a flap with actress Shirley MacLaine after calling her a flop.

(Related Story, Page 1B)

and what she said—which she said was okay to release—was, "What Wilbur wanted me to do was flop on him but I'm not a midnight swimmer."

Miss Clarke said Miss MacLaine's reply was intended as a joke, and that Mills had never made a suggestive comment to the actress.

Miss MacLaine's "midnight swimmer" reference apparently was to an incident Oct. 7 at Washington's Tidal Basin. Mills and Miss Foxe splashed into the headlines after the stripper flopped into the basin's chilly waters. The two were among five persons in a car stopped by park police at 2 a.m. The police said the car was traveling at an "unreasonable" speed with the lights off. The police report on the incident described Mills as intoxicated. Police pulled Miss Foxe from the basin.

Miss Foxe later told The Associated Press that Mills frequently says contradictory things—"Sometimes I think he's 12 different people." She said, "You'll never understand Mr. Mills. There's no person in the world that knows Mr. Mills. I never know when he's joking or when he's serious."

Her $3,000-a-week stand at the Pilgrim Theater was her first since the tidal basin incident. She was scheduled to open today at New York's 42nd Street Playhouse.

She said she had not known in advance that he would visit her in Boston. Mrs. Mills could not be reached for comment on her husband's trip to Boston.

Mills was first spotted Sunday by an Associated Press reporter as he peered from behind a backstage door, wearing large dark glasses.

He told the reporter he was trying to escape unnoticed from the theater following an article in the Boston Sunday Herald Advertiser reporting on his visit.

He confirmed that he had appeared on stage after Miss Foxe told the audience, "I'd like you to meet somebody, Mr. Mills. Mr. Mills, where are you?" Mills was led on stage and left minutes later, arm in arm with the 38-year-old stripper.

Methane Gas Kills 6 Workers

Anderson said the men were performing maintenance on the pipeline and the oil and gas probably spilled from a rusted out section of the line.

"It (the pipeline) carried unrefined crude oil," he said. "All oil is gassy and this was very gassy. As it left the pipe and hit the air, the gas separated from the petroleum and settled on top of the oil."

The gas formed a foot-thick fog which hung just above the ground. Photographers were not allowed to snap flash pictures for fear of igniting the gas.

There were no homes near the site and no evacuations.

Anderson said the pipeline was shut off at Colorado City, about 90 miles west of Abilene, and also at a valve in Abilene. He said the gas dissipated several hours after the accident.

Bill Herridge, a reporter-photographer for the Abilene Reporter-News, said masked rescuers were submerged by the gas as they probed the hole for bodies.

Retired General Killed In Crash

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retired Brig. Gen. Roscoe C. Cartwright, 55, one of the Army's senior black officers, was killed in the Trans World Airlines plane that crashed in Virginia Sunday, a Pentagon spokesman said.

Cartwright and his wife, Gloria, boarded the flight in Columbus, Ohio. Cartwright was born in Kansas City and began his service with the Army in January 1941. He retired last September. The Pentagon said Cartwright had two sons and two daughters.

"They couldn't stay in but for about 30 seconds," he said.

Don Browne of Browne Brothers Construction Co. said the accident was the worst he'd ever seen. He said, "I knew all of these men well and I just can't believe this has happened."

foreign policy, Nessen said.

Ford then will make a brief statement on the nation's economy before answering questions on domestic policy.

Ford already has given secret briefings detailing the numbers of nuclear weapons that he and Brezhnev decided upon in their proposed nuclear arms agreement during the Vladivostok summit conference.

Spokesmen for CBS and NBC said the news conference would be carried live on both their radio and television networks. The Mutual radio network also planned a live broadcast. A spokesman for ABC said the conference would be carried live on its television network but plans for radio broadcast were uncertain.

Mexican National Slain In Dallas By Armed Robbers

DALLAS (AP) — Gunmen wearing black stocking masks killed a Mexican national during a holdup at a normally quiet rooming house Sunday night, police reported.

Officers said the robbers kicked down a locked store room door and ran down a hallway to corner two other Mexican nationals—Jose Antonio Marquez, 44, and Augustine Serrano, 28, both Dallas residents in the kitchen.

After the intruders had taken $350 from Marquez and $45 from Serrano, city detectives Tom Sewell and Loyd Richie related, Armando Virto, about 50, walked unsuspecting into the room.

Virto ducked out and ran to his room, the policemen said, before one of the handits gave chase and dragged him back to the kitchen.

There, Virto refused to surrender his cash as ordered, patrolman J. C. Foster shot him with a 22-caliber rifle.

The man with the rifle and his companion, armed with a shiny pistol, then fled.

Illegal Aliens Find Weddings Blissful

DENVER (AP) — Illegal divorcees and become naturalized citizens.

If the convenience marriages marry an American for immigration purposes only, says the deputy regional director of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, the cases are hard to prove in court.

L. H. Dahlin says more than 50 of the convenience marriages have been uncovered via applications by newly married aliens in Colorado each month, and about one in 10 are proven fraudulent.

Dahlin added that the fake weddings are becoming a problem nationwide. The most severe problems are occurring in the Southwest among illegal Mexican aliens, he said.

Spokesmen for CBS and NBC said the news conference would be carried live on both their radio and television networks. The Mutual radio network also planned a live broadcast. A spokesman for ABC said the conference would be carried live on its television network but plans for radio broadcast were uncertain.

Weather Causes Air Accidents

By The Associated Press

Heavy snows, high winds and freezing temperatures battered the eastern half of the nation today following a holiday weekend of deaths and accidents caused by hostile weather.

All 92 persons aboard were killed as a Trans World Airlines jetliner crashed in Virginia in rain whipped by 50-mile-an-hour winds. A chartered plane bound for Buffalo, N.Y., to pick up the Baltimore Colts football team crashed near Stony Point, N.Y., during winds slammed into New Jersey today, claiming at least two lives, knocking down power lines and flooding the coast of the state with 30-foot waves in some areas. The storm was on a northward course.

In Delaware, Gov. Sherman Tribbett called out the National Guard to help battle the high water hitting low-lying areas and evacuate shore residents. Michigan's worst snowstorm snapping many utility lines and smothered south-stranding hundreds of travelers, closing part of the Pennsylvania Turnpike and isolating weekend travelers were stranded in several communities.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — An 84-member Mexican commercial delegation has arrived in Cuba to negotiate new trade and aid agreements, Havana radio said today.

Among those in the group are experts who will help the regime of Prime Minister Fidel Castro develop tourism to the Communist island, according to a Mexican announcement. The re-establishment of regular commercial service by Mexican Airlines is to be the first step in this direction.

"This important commercial representation will increase trade between Cuba and Mexico and will especially promote the sale to Cuba of equipment and machinery for industry," according to the broadcast monitored in Miami.

Mexico plans to hold an industrial exposition in the Cuban capital in February.

The Mexican group arrived Sunday night.

Soyuz 16 was planned to stay in earth orbit, but it reported that Filipchenko said "Our space travel is to last several days. This will be enough for us to test carefully all the ship systems, above all its docking gear."

He said the crew has programmed about 20 technical experiments, mainly to test a new docking ring designed for linking up with the American spacecraft next year.

Filipchenko told Tass that Soyuz 16 would follow an orbit identical to the one Soviet cosmonauts Alexei Leonov and Valery Kubasov will trace during the actual joint mission with Apollo.

Tass quoted the pilot saying that the spaceship may get in contact with the American space center in Houston during the mission.

Farenthold Lawyers Examine Manges' $15,000 Contribution

HOUSTON (AP) — Lawyers for Frances Farenthold today examined bills from a controversial $15,000 cash contribution to Gov. Dolph Briscoe's 1972 campaign by wealthy south Texas rancher Clinton Manges.

They were merely recording the serial numbers of the money as any good lawyers would do when they examine physical evidence," said Raymond Needham, one of Mrs. Farenthold's lawyers. "I can't comment on what we'll do next."

Our purpose is simply to freeze the money for possible use as evidence."

The inspection took place in the office of Briscoe's lawyer, Joe H. Reynolds. Reynolds said he had the money inspected by David C. Ellis of Austin, a retired U.S. Treasury criminal investigator.

Ellis was present for the inspection and said that all the money he inspected was in circulation prior to June 1972.

Diamonds Return Sparkle To Smile

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa (AP) — Mrs. Kleinfie Walker of nearby Bloemfontein has three diamonds set in her teeth to "lend a shine" to her false dentures.

The 64-year-old Mrs. Walker says she may be the only person in the world to have three diamonds set in her teeth for decoration.

"When the sparkle leaves you," she remarked, "you must try to put it back in by some means or other."

92 Die In Crash

The crash severed the main underground telephone line into the complex. Government personnel on duty there at the time aided in the initial search efforts.

The flight originated in Indianapolis, and about 46 passengers boarded at Columbus, according to a TWA spokesman.

Midland and Odessa civil defense units will get a workout Tuesday in a simulated 60-victim disaster drill scheduled at Midland Regional Air Terminal.

The disaster training drill will get under way at 1 p.m. near the Armed Services Reserve Center. "Victims" for the drill will be supplied by volunteers from the Midland Civil Air Patrol Cadets, Explorer and Boy Scouts.

The disaster will be a simulated bus wreck in which ambulance services and hospital emergency care units from both Midland and Odessa will be involved.

Disaster Drill Set At Terminal Tuesday

Jerry Daniel, disaster-health planning consultant with the Emergency Medical Services Division of the State Health Department, will supervise the drill.

Col. Jack Chilcoat, Midland civil defense director, will oversee local disaster team operations.

Daniel said, "The important thing about Tuesday's simulated disaster drill is that we are coordinating the efforts of both cities, this is a thing that has never been done before in the area of disaster planning for Midland and Odessa."

Chilcoat said the drill would stimulate a bus crash at the reserve center parking lot. He said that eight major victims were slated for transport to emergency facilities at Midland Memorial Hospital while 10 victims would be taken to Medical Center Hospital in Odessa and another two major casualties would go to Parkview Hospital.

Chilcoat said other victims, classified as having minor injuries by emergency medical attendants at the scene, would be treated there or transported to hospitals as deemed necessary.

Pat Dishman, director of Memorial Hospital Disaster Plan Identification Card, Mrs. Dishman said.

The disaster card allows entry to the hospital in disaster drills and actual disasters. The hospital disaster plan prohibits unauthorized personnel from entering the building during a drill or alert.

Midland's Radio Amateur Civil Emergency Services will furnish four mobile communications units for communication between the disaster units and local police, fire, ambulance and Department of Public Safety headquarters.

Navy's First Seagoing Women Sailors Slated To Be Beached

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy's first seagoing women sailors apparently will be beached next year because the Navy plans to take the hospital ship Sanctuary out of commission, probably by spring. Officials say there is no other active Navy ship to which women can be assigned under the law.

Acknowledging that the Navy plans to retire the Sanctuary, the Pentagon said the move stems from "budgetary reasons." The move also raises the question whether the Navy intends to carry out its plan to station an aircraft carrier in Greece.

Far From Disappointed
Navy officials stressed they are far from disappointed with the performance of women who have served on the crew of the hospital ship since the pilot program was started two years ago.

They said no major problems developed while as many as 69 women officers and enlisted personnel lived and worked among more than 400 males aboard the ship.

At one point last year, Navy sources said there had been several shipboard romances and one possible wedding was budding between a radioman and a machinist's mate.

Also, a young woman had learned she was pregnant and was transferred ashore after only a month aboard. The Navy said at the time that the unmarried enlisted woman became pregnant before joining the crew.

Nineteen officers and 97 enlisted women have served since 1972 aboard the Sanctuary, now based at Mayport, Fla.

In addition to nurses and hospital corps women, the women's contingent has included signal and radar specialists, clerks, hull technicians, supply officers and boswain mates.

The senior woman officer now assigned to the Sanctuary, Lt. Susan Canfield, has been chosen for promotion to lieutenant commander and will teach navigation at the U.S. Naval Academy, where women still are excluded as midshipmen.

The other Navy women now serving with the hospital ship also will be shifted to shore billets.

Although officials declined to discuss other implications of the Sanctuary's retirement, the move raises a question whether the United States may change its mind about basing an aircraft carrier in Greece.

It is known that the Sanctuary was to have been sent to Greece to provide medical services for thousands of carrier crewmen and their families who would be expected to live there under the Navy's "homeporting" program.

Women are being accepted in Naval aviation and the Seabees, among other specialties that once were all male. Women also are being invited into the Naval R.O.T.C.

Pioneer 11 Races Toward Date With Jupiter

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP) — Pioneer 11, picking up speed at a rate of 300 miles per hour every hour, raced today to within a half million miles of Jupiter and a perilous climax of its 620-million-mile voyage.

The 570-pound spacecraft will be battered by intense radiation when it whirs past the giant planet only 26,600 miles from its cloudtops at 11:22 p.m. CST.

The radiation could damage the craft's delicate instruments. But scientists believe the 107,000 m.p.h. it will reach when it's closest to the planet—faster than any manmade object has ever flown—will save it from serious damage by limiting the length of its exposure.

On Sunday, the spacecraft took 14 pictures of Jupiter and crossed the orbit of Callisto, one of the planet's four large moons thought most likely for a manned landing because it receives the least radiation.

Traveling at more than 40,000 m.p.h., the spacecraft was to cross the orbit of another satellite, Ganymede, today. It also will cross the orbit of the moon Europa and enter Jupiter's radiation belt today. Tonight it will zoom past the Pioneer 11 will approach from the south of Jupiter, shoot through its dangerous radiation belt, make a corkscrew path up the planet and depart four hours later from a high northern region.

The trip will give scientists their best pictures yet of Jupiter and its great red spot, believed to be a centuries-old hurricane, and the first pictures of its dark, mysterious polar regions.

Any uncertainty about Pioneer 11's survival rests on what damage protons may do, said Dr. John Wolfe, project scientist at Ames.

Capture At Austin Ends Crime Spree For Two Escapees

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Police said a four-day crime spree for two Nebraska reformatory escapees ended with their capture near here Sunday.

They identified the two as Ray E. Benkusky, 19, of Sidney, Neb., and Roy E. Schell, 34, of Kentucky, who were reported to have fled after clambering over the wall of a reformatory unit Thursday evening at Lincoln, Neb.

Officers said Benkusky failed in an effort to rob a man at a rest stop on Interstate 35 near Round Rock, 12 miles north of Austin, and fled. Alerted by his intended victim, Austin police set up a roadblock near the north edge of town.

Authorities said the fugitives wrecked a stolen pickup truck at the roadblock and fled on foot. They captured Benkusky shortly and Schell surrendered an hour and 20 minutes later in the same vicinity.

Police said they were told the two escapees took food and a gun from a house at Martell, Neb., and stole the pickup in a town near there before heading south through Kansas and Oklahoma.

One Killed, Three Wounded In Tyler Holdup Attempt

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — Gunfire killed one man and wounded three others Sunday at a food store where police said they surprised four holdup men.

Officers identified the slain man only as Theodore Ross. They said he was one of the robbers.

Policeman Jim Collins was shot in the leg during the shootout, and two men accused of trying to rob the store also were wounded. None was believed to be in serious condition.

Authorities said they lay in wait at the store after receiving a tip that it would be held up.

'Fish Bait' Miller Facing Opposition

WASHINGTON (AP) — William N. "Fish Bait" Miller, doorkeeper of the House of Representatives for 25 years, is being challenged for re-election to the post.

Lame-duck Rep. Frank M. Clark, D-Pa., is challenging Miller for the job, which pays about $40,000 yearly and involves supervision of scores of employees.

Ararat's Guerrillas Blamed For Latest Frontier Terrorism

By The Associated Press

Israeli officials said two of Yasir Arafat's Al Fatah guerrillas made the latest terrorist raid on an Israeli frontier village, in which a Moslem factory worker was killed and his wife wounded.

"There is a competition between Arafat and the other organizations over who will kill more Israelis," Defense Minister Shimon Peres said Sunday at the funeral of Subhi Mussa, slain in the raid at midnight Saturday.

Three Raids Fall
Peres promised the mourners at Rihaniya, a Moslem village near the Lebanese border, the government will do "everything possible" to end such attacks. Peres said Arab guerrillas attempted three raids that failed in the last month, and the Israeli military command said five Arab invaders were killed on the Lebanese border during the weekend.

The two gunmen who raided Rihaniya surrendered to Israeli soldiers an hour and a half after they knocked at the door of Mussa's cottage and riddled him and his wife with automatic rifle shots when he opened the door. He was 37 and returned two weeks ago from military reserve service.

The Mussas' three children were unharmed.

Israeli military sources said the two terrorists planned to take hostages and exchange them for prisoners of the Israelis, including the Greek Catholic archbishop of Jerusalem, Msgr. Hilarion Capudji. He is held on charges of smuggling arms to Arab guerrillas in Israel.

Mrs. Meir Defiant
Former Premier Golda Meir told a meeting of Jewish leaders in London that the Arabs' denial of their oil to the United States, Western Europe and Japan will not force Israel to give in to the Palestinian guerrillas.

"Israel will not allow terrorism, barbarity and injustice to rule us out of our natural right to sovereignty and liberty," said Mrs. Meir, who was en route to the United States.

"If it is a question of volunteering to give up the right to our existence in order that other people may be warm and have economic prosperity, I think people should know we shall not."

Arab oil ministers met Saturday and Sunday in Bahrain, but a communique after the meeting made no mention of any discussion of oil prices. It said they discussed plans for their proposed joint investment and petroleum service companies.

Arafat Returns Home
Arafat left the Soviet Union Sunday after a meeting with Soviet Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev, and the Soviet government issued a statement reiterating its support for the Palestinians' "inalienable right" to their own state. The statement also called for an early renewal of the Arab-Israeli peace talks in Geneva.

Israeli Information Minister Aharon Yariv said he expects such talks to begin in the spring if "quiet contacts" between Israel and its Arab foes—with the United States as go-between—are fruitful.

Hijackers Still Held
President Habib Bourguiba told the Lebanese newspaper Al Anwar that he would continue to hold the four Palestinians who hijacked a British airliner on Nov. 21 and surrendered in Tunis five days later after murdering a German banker who was among the passengers.

The hijackers oppose the Palestine Liberation Organization, and the PLO demanded that they be turned over to it or to the Egyptian government for trial. But Bourguiba told the Lebanese paper:

"I think the best solution is to keep them here in Tunisia. Besides we promised them not to put them on trial. They trust us and we have to keep that promise."

We promised them that we would hand them over to the PLO only with their consent. It is a human problem and not a problem of sanctions. They will stay in Tunisia until the situation changes."

The First Christmas Toys

a fantasy by P. Pastoret and D. Baur

Parents Can Make Toys Safer, More Beneficial

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following advice on choosing Christmas toys was prepared by the Texas Department of Community Affairs, Office of Early Childhood Development.)

At Christmas and throughout the year, parents can help boost the learning their children get through their toys and can make sure toys remain safe. That is the advice from child development experts and the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission.

When toys which come with instructions are first opened, parents should check out those instructions to make sure they can be understood by the child. If the toy or instructions are complex, parents should help to set up the toy, making sure the child understands the toy's proper use.

Young children especially will be in need of supervision with some toys, says the national product safety panel. They point out that any toy, if misused, can be dangerous.

Electrical toys will need special handling. Parents need to make doubly sure that children are taught the proper way to connect and disconnect them by holding onto the rubberized plug rather than by tugging on the cord itself. In general, electrical toys are for older children, and the commission asks that parents exercise great caution in selecting them.

Electrical toys themselves and their cords should bear the Underwriters' Laboratory Seal. On no account should children be allowed to remove or replace electrical components if they are defective.

Initially toys should be as hazard-free as possible, but checking toys from time to time for development of such things as sharp points, jagged edges and loose parts is a good idea.

Rain and moisture will take their toll of toys and can make them dangerous as well. Indoor toys should not be left outdoors overnight. Even outdoor toys and games can be checked periodically for development of potential hazards. Rusting will lead to structural weakening of items like swing sets as well as other toys. Periodic sanding and re-painting missions will prolong the life of many childhood playthings.

Children help themselves and help their families when they are taught to put toys away on shelves or in a toy box where toys cannot be broken or else cause someone to trip.

Toys do have purpose. Dr. Ruth E. Hartley, psychologist and author, says, "Through his play, a child learns how to handle things, how to get along with other children, how to measure his own powers and gain confidence in himself."

Many child development experts feel that the finest gift parents can give their children on Christmas is concern and attention when children first open their toys.

Dr. H. Robert Quilte, director of the department of psychology at the Nevada Mental Health Institute, says that many toys become educationally valuable only when parents use the toys with their children.

GOP Governors Facing Hard Road Back

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The nation's Republican governors were warned by one of the most successful GOP state chairmen today that "we got clobbered" in last month's elections and that "the road back is a hard one" which will take many years.

At the same time Gov. William G. Milliken of Michigan issued a statement saying that unless Republicans adopt a strategy of reaching out to new voters, "the party we represent will itself be dead."

The warnings by Milliken and William McLaughlin, his state's GOP chairman, came as Republican governors launched their post-election conference here with speeches and a panel discussion on the state of the party and its future.

Texas Violent Deaths Surge Upward At Close Of Holidays

By The Associated Press
Texas' violent death toll took a tragic upsurge as the extended Thanksgiving weekend neared a close.

The grim tally, recorded from 6 p.m. Wednesday to midnight Sunday, reached a total of 47. It included 19 traffic fatalities, a dozen shootings and six deaths in an oil field accident.

Poisonous methane gas spilling from a break in a crude pipeline killed six workmen repairing it Sunday near Abilene, but a seventh man escaped. The dead were listed as T. P. Rains and Robert Redman of Sweetwater; Don White and Stanley Holderman of Roscoe; Robert Arellano of Colorado City and Cody Cox of Eastland.

Holdup Slaying
Two gunmen disguised by black stocking masks killed Armando Virto, 20, a Mexican national, during a holdup Sunday at a Dallas rooming house. Police were told the bandits escaped after robbing two other Mexican nationals.

Police acting on a tip surprised four men during a food store robbery Sunday in Tyler, and one of the bandits was slain in the ensuing shootout.

He was identified as Theodore Ross. Minor wounds were suffered by a policeman and two of the intruders.

Fellow officers said city policeman Matt Murphy, 33, of George West was shot Sunday after stopping a car for a traffic violation, and he died soon afterward at a hospital in Alice.

These were among other victims: Bosque County authorities said W. J. Cox, 71, of Laguna Park, and his daughter Virginia Greene, 37, of Fort Worth, were asphyxiated Saturday when gas heaters apparently used up the oxygen in the house where they were staying near Lake Whitney.

Cox's wife and son-in-law where hospitalized. The four occupants of the house were found by a neighbor.

Clinton Butler, 19, of Houston, was killed Sunday when his 19-year-old hunting companion mistook him for a wild hog and shot him with a rifle. Newton County sheriff's deputies said. Officers said the two youths were hunting in rural Newton County.

David Earl Kotrola, 20, of Weimar was killed Saturday when his pickup truck left a road at Weimar and slammed into a tree.

Larry Martin Aldrich, 18, was killed on his family's farm 15 miles west of Beaumont Sunday when he was pulled into the combine he was operating. Justice of the Peace L. R. Doucette said several other people working in the field were too far away to help the youth when his clothing got caught in the combine.

In Harlingen, Randy Sparks, 17, was fatally wounded in a gun battle with officers who answered a silent burglar alarm at a discount store. Police said two youths running from the store began firing when officers ordered them to halt.

Rogers Mouton, 16, of Beaumont was fatally shot Saturday night. Police said a 14-year-old youth was held for questioning.

Hit-Run Fatality
Rue Watson Weaver, 64, of Gatesville, was killed Saturday when he was hit by a truck and then by a hit-and-run driver about half a mile east of Del Rio on U.S. 90.

Gary Conner, 13, of Dickinson was killed Saturday in an apparent hunting accident on a ranch nine miles east of Brackettville. Authorities said his rifle apparently discharged when he stumbled.

Roger Jimmy Keyes, 27, of Baytown was shot to death in Houston Saturday night in what police said was a scuffle involving Keyes, a companion and four other men. Officers said one man was arrested.

Martha Jane Spivey, 50, of Highlands died Saturday night of injuries suffered earlier in the day in a two-car collision in northwest Harris County.

Marxists Blamed In Six Puerto Rico Bomb Blasts

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP)—Gov. Rafael Hernandez Colon blames Marxist advocates of Puerto Rican independence for six bombs Sunday that caused slight property damage, sent a guard to the hospital in shock and resulted in cuts to a worker during cleanup operations.

The governor said the bombings were the work of groups that "brag about siding with the working classes with the sole purpose of injecting ideologies that are rejected by our people."

One of the explosions damaged the building housing offices of the International Telephone and Telegraph Co., but a company official said there was no damage to electronic equipment.

Three other blasts occurred in and around Ponce, the island's second largest city. One was at an army reserve building in the city, another at a chemical plant just west of the city and a third at an oil refinery, also west of the city.

Other explosions were reported at a Burger King shop in a San Juan suburb and at a Grand Union supermarket in the town of Caguas. Two un-ploded bombs were found in a San Juan suburb near a pumping station of the water and sewage authority.

Leftists have been blamed for several bombs and other acts of sabotage that have damaged installations of the water and sewage authority since its workers went on strike a month ago for higher pay. Union leaders have denied any connection with the sabotage.

Rams Race Past Atlanta By 30-7

Chiefs Ambush Cards; Oilers Trip Steelers

By The Associated Press
Football, like the postman goes on despite "rain, snow, sleet" but the same doesn't apply to football fans, nor to the winning ways of Pittsburgh and St. Louis.

"I think Atlanta has some smart season ticket holders," said Los Angeles tight end Bob Klein when 40,202 ticket holders failed to show at the stadium where the Rams clobbered the Falcons 30-7.

The 33 degree temperature and Atlanta's football fortunes combined to set a National Football League record for no-shows, a factor Falcons owner Rankin Smith agrees with.

"The weather was bad and the team is bad," Smith said.

The St. Louis Cardinals, heading for the playoffs, were ambushed by cross-state rival the Kansas City Chiefs, who are heading nowhere this season, 17-13.

The surprising Houston Oilers continued their upsetting way, spilling the Pittsburgh Steelers 13-10.

In other NFL games Sunday, Buffalo edged Baltimore 6-0, Cleveland blanked San Francisco 7-0, the New York Jets stomped San Diego 27-14, Philadelphia knocked off Green Bay 36-14, Chicago edged the New York Giants 16-13, Minnesota crushed New Orleans 29-9 and Oakland used air power to demolish New England 41-26.

The Cincinnati Bengals travel to Miami to meet the Dolphins in tonight's nationally televised contest.

With blustery winter weather blanketing most of the nation, quite a few "fair weather" football fans decided to stay home.

Bears 16, Giants 13
Despite a sellout of 55,753, only 18,802 showed up in freezing rain and snow to watch the Bears clip the Giants on a last minute field goal.

"The Bears defense had to wait until 36 seconds remained in the game before Mirro Roder split the uprights with a 24-yard-three-pointer. It was the fourth consecutive game the Giants have lost in either overtime or in the last minute of play.

Browns 7, 49ers 0
Cleveland's smallest home crowd in history, 24,559, turned out in the snow and sleet to see rookie Eddie Brown, starting his first game, snatch three San Francisco passes and lead the Browns to victory. Two of Brown's interceptions stopped 49er drives, while the third led to the game's only score, a one-yard plunge by Ken Brown.

Vikings 28, Saints 3
Quarterback Fran Tarkenton took what New Orleans gave him—the middle—and completed 20 of 29 passes for 319 yards as Minnesota crushed New Orleans. John Gilliam caught five passes for 109 yards and two touchdowns, while Jim Lash snared three aerials for 112 yards and set up two scores.

Chiefs 17, Cardinals 13
Despite losing, the St. Louis Cardinals grabbed a playoff berth when Philadelphia stopped Green Bay. Big St. Louis quarterback Jim Hart was unhappy with his performance as he threw three interceptions.

Kansas City turned the thefts into second half touchdowns and overcame a 6-0 halftime deficit.

Eagles 26, Packers 14
Philadelphia recovered five Green Bay fumbles, converting each into a score behind rookie quarterback Mike Boryla.

Oilers 13, Steelers 10
Houston's newly-discovered power limited Pittsburgh to just 84 net offensive yards and "beat the hell out of our offense," Steeler Coach Chuck Noll said. The winning points came on Skip Butler's 34-yard field goal with 2:33 remaining in the game and was Houston's fifth victory in its last six games.

Bucks Halt 76er Five With Jabbar

By The Associated Press
What a difference a Kareem makes.

The Milwaukee Bucks struggled through their first 14 games, losing 13, while Kareem Abdul-Jabbar recovered from a broken hand and a scratched eye. Then the towering giant returned to the lineup.

Kareem scored 29 of his 35 points in the second half as Milwaukee stopped the Philadelphia 76ers 117-112 Sunday night. It was the Bucks' sixth victory in the last seven games.

In the only other National Basketball Association game played Sunday, Connie Hawkins led the Los Angeles Lakers to a 111-106 overtime victory over the Phoenix Suns.

Only one American Basketball Association game was played Sunday, with Memphis crushing Utah 101-88.

Bucks 117, 76ers 112
Abdul-Jabbar, the NBA's most valuable player in three of his five seasons in the league, scored only six points in the first two periods, but spent the entire second period and the last three minutes of the first quarter on the bench in foul trouble.

Forward Bob Dandridge picked up the slack, however, scoring 19 of his 29 points during that time as Milwaukee took a 56-56 lead into intermission.

Lakers 111, Suns 105
Phoenix came back from a five-point deficit early in the first period to nearly win the game in regulation time. But Charlie Scott, who's basket tied it at 99-99, missed a free throw and sent the contest into an extra session.

Elmore Smith paced the Lakers with 29 points, his season high. Rookie guard Brian Winters added 19 points to the Los Angeles total and Hawkins finished with 16.

Scott scored 26 and Dennis Awtry added 19 for the Suns.

Sounds 101, Stars 85
George Carter's 17 points in the final period turned back a Utah rally and led the Memphis Sounds to its ABA victory. Carter, who finished with 27 points and 10 rebounds, also grabbed six cars and stole the ball in the fourth period rally.

Ron Boone led the Utah Stars with 19 points.

1975 SEASON Edwards Named Cub Manager

Howard "Doc" Edwards will manage the Midland Cubs in the 1975 Texas League baseball race, it was announced today by the parent Chicago Cubs.

Chicago at the same time revealed that Walt Dixon, who piloted Midland in 1974, will manage the Chicago affiliate at Key West in the Class A Florida State League.

Edwards, 38, managed the New York Yankees AA Eastern League farm club at West Haven, Conn., the last two years. After winding up his major league playing career with the Philadelphia Phillies in 1970, the Cherry Hill, N.J., resident was on the Phillies' coaching staff through the 1972 season.

The change in managers followed by one day Chicago's announcement that General Manager John Cox, 31, will move to Chicago to handle special assignments in 1975 and will be replaced by Charles "Stoney" Feeney, 24, who served as assistant general manager for Midland for part of the 1972 season.

Dixon, entering his 35th year in baseball and 25th as a manager, succeeds Q. V. Lowe at Key West. Key West finished last in the FSL last year and Dixon's long experience and ability to develop young players is something Chicago feels is needed at the A level.

In another managerial announcement, Mike Roarke, 44, returns as field chief of the Wichita Aeros in the AAA American Assn. Last year, Roarke managed the Aeros to second place in the Western Division and in 1972 piloted Indianapolis to the American Assn. pennant after starting the year with the San Antonio Brewers of the Texas League.

Cox and Feeney are attending the Winter Baseball meetings in New Orleans this week and Cox will report to Chicago Jan. 1.

Teaff Reflects On 1974 Season

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Some times Baylor Coach Grant Teaff answers the telephone and there's just sobbing on the other end of the line.

"I've had elderly people—76, 77, and 82-years-old come by the office and just break into tears," Teaff says. "Our championship was not just for a select group but for a whole people. Fifty years is a long time to wait."

Teaff was speaking, of course, of Baylor's first Southwest Conference football championship in 50 years and the reaction it triggered among the long-suffering Baptists.

Baylor clinched the crown with a 24-3 victory over Rice Saturday and will make its first trip to the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day against guest team Penn State.

Teaff did the job he was hired for in three years but confessed, "After I had been here a month I thought it might take 10 years to get the job done."

He was rewarded with a new five year contract Saturday but the announcement was made after the Rice game before he was personally informed.

"I guess that beats the heck out of getting fired and I take it as a warm gesture," said Teaff, still unaware of the money details.

Teaff said he hopes the Baylor SWC title clears up all talk about a private school not being able to reach such lofty heights. It was the first time in seven years a team had beaten out the Texas Longhorns for the title.

"If you feel like a loser, you'll act like a loser," said Teaff.

And he added "The Southwest Conference is not dead."

Teaff will give his players a week off before beginning light workouts. Baylor is expected to arrive in Dallas for the classic Dec. 26 or Dec. 27.

The Bears and the Nittany Lions will exchange films by mutual agreement neither team scouted the other in person.

"We'll go into this game like we have prepared for any other but we do want to make it fun and a reward for the players," Teaff said. "But we also want to represent the Southwest Conference in a way it should be represented."

Baylor was last in a bowl game in 1963, defeating Louisiana State 14-7 in the Bluebonnet Bowl. Overall, the Bears own a 4-3 bowl record.

The Bears own an 8-3 record—the first winning season for the school in seven years.

Teaff said he knew Baylor was going to have a good team this year at halftime of the opener against No. 1 ranked Oklahoma. The Sooners eventually held the Bears 28-11 but only held a 9-7 advantage going into the fourth period.

"I knew then we were going to have a good team and everything has progressed on an upward scale from there," Teaff said.

Jets Cop WHA Tilt Over Quebec, 3-2

By The Associated Press
Weather and front office moves, or non-moves, dominated the World Hockey Association Sunday.

The Winnipeg Jets officially obtained a new owner in a pregame ceremony. The Jets then celebrated by defeating the Quebec Nordiques 3-2.

In Toronto, the WHA club trustees ended their weekend meeting with the future of at least three franchises still clouded.

The session was described by league President Dennis Murphy as only a "housekeeping" meeting, but rumors persisted that the Chicago Cougars are heading to Baltimore and that the Indianapolis Racers will either change ownership or be taken over by the league.

The trustees also have reportedly taken measures to provide the Michigan Stags with financial assistance if the team goes broke.

On the ice, Minnesota edged Phoenix 4-3, Edmonton downed New England 8-4, Houston crushed Indianapolis 7-3, and Toronto stopped San Diego 3-1.

The Michigan Stags-Cleveland Crusaders' game was postponed because of bad weather.

Aeros 7, Racers 3
Indianapolis battled Houston to a 2-2 tie before letting up slightly in the second period. That proved to be a fatal mistake as the Racers suffered their 11th straight loss, a WHA record.

Houston took advantage in a 1:36 stretch as Rich Preston, Ted Taylor and Jim Sherritt peppered the Indianapolis goal with three scores in that short span in the second period. The Aeros put up only five shots on goal in the third period, but scored on two of them.

Fighting Saints 4, Roadrunners 3
Danny O'Shea stole the puck and scored on a 20-foot shot at 15:49 of the final period to lift Phoenix to victory over the Phoenix Roadrunners. The goal came with both teams skating two men short because of penalties.

Jets 3, Nordiques 2
The Jets tallied all three of their goals in the first period, then staved off Quebec's charge in a relatively penalty-free contest. Winnipeg goalie Joe Daley stopped a Nordique attempt to tie the game while Ron Ashton was off the ice with an injury of game penalty, one of only two penalties in the contest.

Oilers 8, Whalers 2
Edmonton exploded for five goals in the second period as forward Ron Clime scored once and assisted on two others to pace the Oilers to their impressive victory.

Flyers Blank Scouts

By The Associated Press
Philadelphia Flyers Coach Fred Shero is always looking for a new way to motivate his players. He puts inspiring quotations on a blackboard in his office, which the players pass on their way to the ice; sometimes he places passages from great speeches in envelopes and gives them to his players.

Sunday night, though, it was a little difficult to keep the fellows interested. The Flyers had a 9-0 lead over the Kansas City Scouts entering the third period.

"Believe it or not, it was a hard game to coach," Shero noted after what ended up as a 10-0 National Hockey League victory. "You've got to stop the players from going goofy."

Bernie Parent picked up his fourth shutout of the year by stopping 21 Scouts shots while Bobby Clarke scored once and set up four others to spearhead the rout.

In other NHL games, the New York Rangers and St. Louis Blues tied 4-4, the Buffalo Sabres beat the Pittsburgh Penguins 6-3, the Chicago Black Hawks blanked the Minnesota

Vasicek Sparkles In Net Tourny

Midland's Vicki Vasicek teamed with San Antonio's Tracy Gingrass to win the girls doubles in the Corpus Christi Thanksgiving Tennis Tournament with a 6-1, 6-0 victory in the finals over Corpus Christi's Connie Mapes and McLean.

Miss Vasicek also advanced to the finals in the singles before losing to Cindy Brightfield of St. Louis, Missouri, 6-3, 6-1. In the tournament, Miss Vasicek defeated top-seeded Nancy Talley of League City and third-seeded Miss Mapes. The tournament concluded Sunday.

Sabres 6, Penguins 5

Rene Robert made good on two of his chances and set up a third goal to lead the Sabres to their eighth straight game without a loss.

Black Hawks 3, North Stars 0
Stan Mikita, Dennis Hull and Grant Mulvey were the Chicago marksmen, while Tony Esposito stopped 22 Minnesota shots for his fourth shutout of the year.

Golden Seals 5, Capitals 2
California posted its first road victory since March behind two goals by Dave Hrechkosy.

Lee Remains Undefeated

By BOB DILLON

Coach Paul Stueckler's Midland Lee Rebels swept to three victories in the Tall City Invitational Basketball Tourney to win the championship, beating Lubbock Monterey, 70-67 in overtime Saturday to remain undefeated on the season.

Lee beat Hereford, El Paso Austin and Monterey in the tourney and whipped Andrews last Tuesday for a 5-0 record going into Tuesday's game with the powerful Hobbs, N.M., Eagles in Hobbs.

Midland had gone into the Tall-City Tourney with a 2-0 mark, but after a good start against Del Rio in the opening round, Coach James Cagle's Purple Pack dropped games to Monterey and El Paso Austin to finish fourth in the tourney.

The Bulldogs have one game on tap this week and that is against Class AAA Pecos Tuesday night in the MHS Gymnasium. The Pack has the rest of the week off, but Lee plays three games this weekend in the Plainview Invitational Tourney.

While Lee sports a 5-0 mark, Abilene is next with a 5-1 reading after losing to Pampa, 35-70 in the semifinals of the Key City Tourney over the weekend. Pampa went on to beat Abilene Cooper, 68-64 for the tourney championship.

Midland sports a 3-3 mark while Cooper is now 3-3 on the year and Odessa Permian stands 2-1. San Angelo follows with a 1-1 mark and Big Spring is 1-3 while Odessa has a 0-3 record.

Permian plays Kermit tonight and Monahan Tuesday before entering play in the Odessa Invitational which is in the Permian Fieldhouse this Thursday through Saturday. OHS, meanwhile, takes on Andrews in Andrews Tuesday and then also plays in the Odessa Invitational.

Abilene battles Wichita Falls Tuesday and then enters the Waco Tourney while Cooper meets Lubbock Coronado Tuesday and then will journey to Irving for a tourney this weekend.

San Angelo has had trouble scheduling games and will play in San Antonio this weekend on a three-day tourney while Big Spring entertains Crane

Tuesday and joins Lee in the big Plainview Tourney.

Top-ranked North Carolina State picked up exactly where it left off last year behind a typical David Thompson performance and a more surprising one by forward Phil Spence.

Last November, the Wolfpack beat East Carolina to open a 30-1 season that led to the national championship. Saturday night, they dropped the Pirates again, 96-81, to start the 1974 ball bouncing.

"It's no disgrace to lose to the national champions by 17 points," said East Carolina Coach Dave Patton. "There's no way to defend against Thompson, as everyone knows, but Spence surprised me. I didn't think he was that good."

Thompson, last year's Player of the Year, finished the opener with 33 points—seven above his average. Spence, a 6-foot-8 junior who was the Wolfpack's sixth man last year, collected 22 points, 17 rebounds and seven blocked shots. His career average was just 6.4 going into the game.

"I always thought Phil had tremendous potential," said State Coach Norman Sloan. "I think he is going to come into his own."

Tuesday night, State meets North Carolina-Asheville.

Four ranked teams are in action tonight, with No. 6 Kansas, 1-0, hosting Augustana, S.D. No. 7 South Carolina meeting Bucknell, No. 8 Louisville visiting Houston, and 16th-ranked Kentucky, 1-0, traveling to Miami of Ohio.

UCLA's second-ranked Bruins cruised to a 79-64 victory over DePaul Saturday night for their second triumph of the young season. Rich Washington scored 20 points and Dave Meyers added 18 as UCLA broke the game open with four straight baskets just before halftime.

Hot shooting by No. 3 Indiana made it easy to dispose of Tennessee Tech, 113-60. The Hoosiers, defending Big Ten champs, took a 20-point lead before seven minutes had been played and shot 554 from the

It was just as easy for fourth-ranked Maryland to breeze past Richmond, 106-61, but the Terrapins lost sophomore John Lucas for at least two weeks with a cracked collar bone. He had scored 17 points before the first-half injury and still wound up as Maryland's top scorer. Richmond got 33 points from Bob McCurdy.

Rick Suttle's 14 points lifted No. 6 Kansas past Northeast Missouri State 65-50.

Junior Mitch Kupchak scored 23 points and picked off 11 rebounds to carry North Carolina's 11th-ranked Tar Heels over Biscayne, 101-74.

Adrian Dantley helped ice Notre Dame's triumph over Valparaiso by scoring seven of his 37 points in the last five minutes. Dantley grabbed 14 rebounds for the No. 12 Irish.

Bruce Parkinson scored most of his 19 points in the first half and John Garrett picked up most of his 20 in the second as No. 18 Purdue dumped Indiana State, 96-80.

Marion Hilliard's 22 points helped 15th-ranked Memphis State blast Moplar State, 96-60.

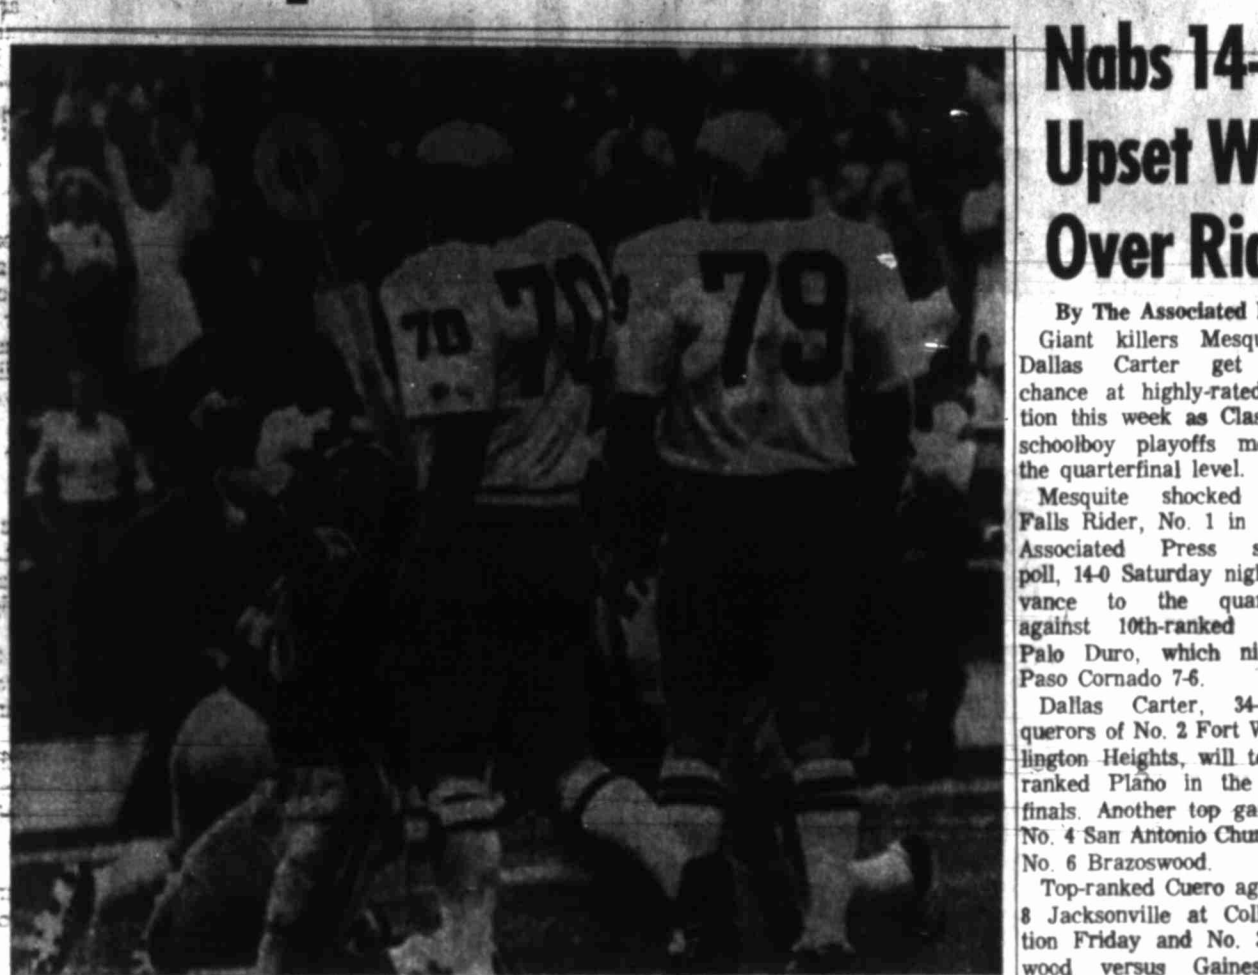

No. 16 Kentucky whipped Northwestern 97-70 on 22 points by Kevin Grevey, who started the Wildcats on a 13-0 point spree after Northwestern had taken a 6-2 lead.

The 17th-rated Michigan Wolverines opened their season with a 78-64 triumph over Toledo as Joe Johnson scored 20 points.

Minnesota, No. 18, shot a blistering 73 per cent in the first half on the way to a 90-47 decision over North Dakota State.

Sophomore Mark Landsberger scored 23 points and took 11 rebounds for the winners.

Nabs 14-0 Upset Win Over Rider

By The Associated Press

Giant killers Mesquite and Dallas Carter get another chance at highly-rated opposition this week as Class AAAA schoolboy playoffs move into the quarterfinal level.

Mesquite shocked Wichita Falls Rider, No. 1 in the final Associated Press schoolboy poll, 14-0 Saturday night to advance to the quarterfinals against 10th-ranked Amarillo Palo Duro, which nipped El Paso Coronado 7-6.

Dallas Carter, 34-21 conquerors of No. 2 Fort Worth Arlington Heights, will test third-ranked Plano in the quarterfinals. Another top game pairs No. 4 San Antonio Churchill and No. 6 Brazoswood.

Top-ranked Cuero against No. 8 Jacksonville at College Station Friday and No. 3 Brownwood versus Gainesville at Waco Friday are the Class AAA semifinals pairings. Cuero, the defending champ, nudged No. 9 Gregory-Portland 19-13 last week.

Newton, ranked second, and No. 6 Cameron hook up in the key Class AA quarterfinal Friday at Huntsville. The top regional game had No. 4 Freer losing 23-8 to fifth-rated Kenedy.

Top-rated Aledo of Class A advanced to the quarterfinals against Princeton by beating DeLeon 20-0 Saturday. Third-ranked Brookshire-Royal was surprised 7-6 by No. 7 Schulerburg.

Trojans Break Seven Records In 55-24 Rout Of Notre Dame

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southern Cal, Notre Dame and NCAA record books needed pen and ink today after USC's 55-24 victory over the Fighting Irish Saturday.

To begin with, Anthony Davis' 102-yard kickoff return was his sixth for a touchdown in three seasons at Southern Cal. That broke the National Collegiate Athletic Association mark he had shared with Purdue's Stan Brown set in 1968-70.

Also: —Pat Haden's four scoring passes tied a USC single-game record set by Pete Beathard in 1963 and tied by Craig Fertig in 1964 and Troy Winslow in 1965.

—Haden's 31 touchdown passes in three years broke the USC career mark of 30 held by Jimmy Jones, 1969-71.

—Davis extended his school and Pacific-8 Conference records to 52 touchdowns, 314 points and 3,657 yards rushing.

—Davis' three touchdowns on kickoff returns this season tied the NCAA mark set by Forrest Phillips, who intercepted three passes Saturday, returning one 58 yards for a score, set an NCAA mark for most yards on interception returns in a season, 302 on seven thefts including two intercepted fumbles, which are included along with pass interceptions. The old mark of 261 was held by Villanova's Frank Polito.

—Phillips also tied the NCAA record for most interceptions returned for a touchdown in a season, three.

—Davis' four touchdowns brought to 11 his number of times he has scored against ND in three games, good for a record 68 points.

—Seventy nine points were the most scored by both teams in the 46-game history of the USC-Notre Dame series, surpassing the 68 tallied in USC's 45-23 victory in 1972.

—USC's 55 points were the most by one team in the rivalry. Notre Dame routed the Trojans 51-0 in 1966.

—The Trojans extended their unbeaten streak in Memorial Coliseum to 20 games, dating back to a 1971 defeat to Stanford. The string includes ties with Oklahoma, UCLA and California.

Haile Selassie Lives

Public opinion—worldwide—was quick in making itself heard effectively in far-away Addis Ababa.

As a result, the life of the frail 82-year-old Haile Selassie, deposed emperor of Ethiopia, perhaps was spared.

A French-language newspaper in Beirut, Lebanon, last Wednesday published a report that Selassie had been moved from detention in Addis Ababa to a town 30 miles away in preparation for his execution, within two days.

This was all it took to launch a worldwide move to stay the execution.

The Ethiopian military government, which had deposed the absolute monarch last September, was quick to deny the report that it intended to execute Selassie. A spokesman termed the Beirut newspaper's report as "irresponsible fabrications aimed at discrediting Ethiopian military reform movement."

Be that as it may, the government had executed 60 aristocrats and former officials the previous weekend, and there was reason to believe that Selassie perhaps was to meet a similar fate.

That would have been one of the most inhuman, most horrible, most dastardly, most irresponsible acts ever.

Screams of protest were heard from around the world.

A Midland woman, angry and almost in tears, telephoned The Reporter-Telegram to seek advice as to what she could do to help save the life of the deposed emperor.

The U.S. State Department and the United Nations voiced protests, requesting on humane grounds, that no more executions take place.

Insofar as is known, Selassie yet is alive and not in danger, at the moment. It is reported, however, that he has had to sign over all or a substantial part of his vast fortune to the new government in exchange for his life. Wealth at this time perhaps isn't too important to him.

What is of utmost interest to him right now perhaps is the move launched by his former missions adviser to have him brought to the United States to live.

Dr. Don McClure, the former adviser, said the U.S. government would not finance a move of Selassie to America or the upkeep of his household in this country. He did say, however, that unnamed friends, described only as "international bankers," had promised to finance Selassie's trip and future upkeep.

Such a move undoubtedly would meet with universal favor, assuring Emperor Haile Selassie of a residence in which to live out his life in peace and comfort.

Christmas Comes To The Holy Land

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Somewhere in the Western world at this moment reside two men whose routine lives disguise their shadowy pasts in the netherworld of espionage.

They are spies who came in from the cold. Their tale is one of double lives, torture and a spectacular jail-break engineered by the CIA.

In the interest of their personal safety, we have decided not to identify them by name. In 1969, the two men — one a Scotsman, the other an Englishman — were leading what appeared to be normal lives in the white supremacist nation of Rhodesia.

They were tried behind closed doors and convicted of violating Rhodesia's Official Secrets Act and other regulations. On Dec. 12, 1969, the journalist was sentenced to 18 months at hard labor. The attorney drew four years on the rock pile.

The United States, meanwhile, was seriously considering the withdrawal of its consulate in Salisbury. Prime Minister Smith, in desperate need of official recognition, wanted the United States to stay with this bargaining chip. Washington managed to negotiate the release of one spy, who was delivered to the airport while allegedly en route to prison.

The Rhodesians, however, stubbornly refused to give up the other. The CIA, say our sources, freed him by staging a daring jailbreak, then whisked him off to a new life in another land.

Footnote: The CIA refused to comment on our story. Paul O'Neill, now the State Department's "country director" for South Africa, was traveling in Africa when we called and could not be reached.

SCIENTIFIC DRUNKS

Alcoholics desperately seeking treatments have been used as guinea pigs for government-funded experiments in which doctors dose them with more booze in the name of science.

The hospitals used for the experiments are frequently advertised as "treatment" centers. Yet, our investigation shows that once inside, the vulnerable and distressed alcoholic may be asked whether he wants to "volunteer" for an experimental program in which he will get still more liquor.

Susceptible to any suggestion, many agree and some are even paid to go back to tipping. Then they are given varying quantities of alcohol to see how it affects them. In the end, they may be dried out and treated without alcohol.

We have found programs being carried out by doctors from such famed institutions as the Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia, Brooklyn's Downstate Medical Center and New York's Payne Whitney Clinic. Similar experiments have been conducted at Veterans' Administrations facilities and other hospitals.

For example, Dr. Milton Gross, a prestigious scientist at the Brooklyn center, got a federal grant from the National Institute of Mental Health for his study.

Alcoholic patients seeking help were paid as "volunteers" and given controlled amounts of alcohol for four to six days.

Dr. Gross and others ably defend both the history and necessity of such experiments. Gross feels the participants are helped in the long run because "it gives them a sense of worth which often helps with their future recovery."

But many doctors feel that any additional alcohol is damaging to an alcoholic, particularly to his liver. The consensus is that the only way for a true alcoholic to stop drinking is to "leave the stuff alone" completely.

Some doctors also question the ethics of human guinea pig techniques and recommend instead use of baboons or other manlike animals. But this runs afoul of animal lovers who are outraged when baboons, which are sober by nature, are turned into flasks.

TOM TIEDE This Second Banana Really Necessary?

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Room 2203 of the Dirksen Senate Office Building may be the most slugged, least necessary chamber on Capitol Hill. It belongs to the vice president of the Republic, when there is a vice president of the Republic, and therefore, like the other aspects of his office, Room 2203 has no meaning other than atmospheric nor any responsibility save that of weak custom.

"We have one constitutional duty," says a staffer, "that is, we are a part of the logging system for foreign correspondence. We check it in and pass it on. Other than this, we aren't overworked. I think we have 24-25 people on the staff, the office budget is about a half million a year — but, I think it's a waste. If we all stayed home for a month, the nation wouldn't miss us a twit."

Indeed, it is true that the Capitol Hill office of the vice president is something less than critically important to the gears of government. And by extension, the same is now and again being said about all Washington offices of the V.P., including the constitutional office as well.

Even as Congress continues to examine the personal and political qualifications of nominee Nelson Rockefeller, thoughtful observers are wondering whether the post, which Rockefeller himself has referred to as "seconds," is necessary at all.

Critics of the Veep office (the term veep is an affectionate acronym; other nicknames are rated X) are not sudden creations. Politicians have, for 200 years, derided the worthlessness of the position. Historians such as Arthur Schlesinger Jr. have felt the office is entirely political, totally undemocratic, thus "mischievous."

In a Midwest poll taken by a newspaper 50 years ago, only half of those asked could name the sitting vice president. One responded that, "well, whoever he is, he should be ashamed — why doesn't he get a job?"

Now the issue may be brought out of the context of snickers and into more serious public discussion. Sen. Edward Kennedy (D-Mass.) is putting his personal weight behind a proposal to abolish the vice presidency once and for all. Kennedy will introduce legislation aimed at replacing the 25th Amendment (presidential succession) with laws mandating special elections "whenever presidents are unable to fill out terms"; his idea is to assure that presidential vacancies, in the future, will not be filled by appointees, political hack V.P.s or those who can fast talk a nod out of 500 members of Congress — but by those who are freely elected.

The plan is timely at the least. Its ratification would not only insure that never again would a U.S. president, like a dictator choose his own successor or potential successor, but it would do away with one of the most blatant anti-democratic legalities in the land.

Not since the first quarter century of the nation's life have Americans truly chosen a vice president by popular vote. What they've done is to agree with the presidential candidate's choice. In three instances in the last quarter century, those choices have gone on to the presidency with no mandate or constituency of their own.

For all the logic of Kennedy's proposal, though, it is undoubtedly doomed to fail. Congress does not easily eliminate tapestries from government, even those which are outdated and shoddy. Besides, Kennedy's plan smacks to some as quasi-parliamentary — new elections any time — and such is unAmerican.

Thus, Room 2203 is likely to continue functioning on Capitol Hill, if ho-humming is functioning. Indeed, there are presently great expectations of some real activity ahead. "When Rockefeller is named, we'll put his picture on the walls," says the office staffer. "Changing pictures is a big thing in an office like this."

CHARACTER BUILDING (?) It's No Longer How You Played, But Did You Win?

By RALPH NOVAK
Organized sports build character, as every red-blooded American knows. Winners never quit and quitters never win. Winning isn't everything; it's the only thing. Nice guys finish last.

This, no doubt, is why all of us feel our characters so strongly rebuilt by two recent sports events — the tantrum Ohio State University football coach Woody Hayes threw after his team lost to Michigan State and the decision by the Little League organization to ban all but American teams from its "world" series.

As sports commentator Max Gumpston analyzed it:

"Yes, fans, once again Coach Hayes has demonstrated how well he is able to rise to a challenge. We can be assured that his young Buckeye players and young admirers all across the nation could just feel the character piling up as Woody ranted, raved, threatened and did everything but hold his breath until he got his way.

"In fact, there were some critics who said he should have held his breath until he got his way. What an all-time great example that would have been, fans! But as it was, Coach Hayes put on a show reminiscent of some of his best career tantrums, though some of his more devoted followers were sorry to see that he did not build any character by ripping up sideline markers or encouraging his staff to destroy any press boxes, as he has in the past.

"Let's hope this isn't a sign that The Wood is going soft, fans. But I think we can be confident that in the future he will show the same monomaniacal devotion to being number one that has made him the idol of military dictators and syndicate hoodlums everywhere.

"We also have to doff our peaked little caps to those courageous Little League officials who have saved us from yet another threat by the yellow peril. That is to say, they have protected the integrity of baseball from those who would be so audacious as to beat us at our own game, as it were.

"Why should we let those Chinese and Japanese boys come over here and beat our boys, just because they were playing by the rules? What kind of excuse is that? It is well known that boys' character is not built by losing; it is only built by winning, preferably by huge margins.

"The boys themselves are not aware of this, of course. It never occurred to them to complain about foreign players. But then what do they know about character building, anyway? All they want to do is have fun. Is that the American way? Would General MacArthur have wanted a Chinese Little League champion?"

"Our boys have now learned a valuable lesson: in competition, no device is quite so effective as eliminating your opponent altogether. And our Olympic committee would be wise to take a look at this astute action by our Little League junta.

"This is the kind of sports sense that made America great, fans. As someone once said, when The Great Scorer comes to mark against your name, he marks not how you played the game, but whether you won or lost.

"Or something like that." (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Alcoholics Have Muscle Damage

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Researchers here and elsewhere are finding that the vast majority of alcoholics have signs of muscle damage, says Dr. Theodore Munsat, professor of neurology at the University of Southern California School of Medicine.

Enzyme tests which measure whether muscle is breaking down show high levels in 50 per cent to 75 per cent of the alcoholics tested at County-USC Medical Center, the physician said.

Only 10 per cent to 15 per cent have actual clinical symptoms of muscle weakness, however. In this group, the symptoms are difficulty in climbing stairs and lifting heavy objects and a general weakness of the muscles of the shoulders and pelvis.

Municipal Officials Hear 'Throw-Away' Warning

HOUSTON (AP) — The president of the National League of Cities has urged city officials to lobby to extend the General Revenue Sharing Act.

"It should be extended and expanded with more local discretion in determining the allocation of those funds," said Mayor Tom Bradley of Los Angeles.

"We must get the message out that elimination or reduction of general revenue sharing at this time would have a catastrophic effect on our nation's cities, particularly in light of the shaky economy."

Bradley gave the keynote address Sunday at the opening session of the 50th annual convention of the league. Some 4,000 mayors and other officials from the nation's cities are attending the convention, which runs through Thursday.

Bradley said a "new national policy" must be made on the future of the cities, from federal housing grants and loans to solid waste programs, tax incentives for business to highway planning.

He said the nation can no longer afford "throw-away cities."

"Along with our trend toward disposable lighters, disposable cans and bottles, and even disposable clothes and furniture, we develop the absurd concept of throw-away cities," Bradley said.

"We can't afford this any longer. We don't have the money or the resources. Cities and the nation must direct more attention to the rehabilitation of blighted areas."

Bradley said the league will file a suit on behalf of its member cities challenging the constitutionality of the Fair Labor Standards Act extension. He said the league has been joined by all of the states in the suit through the National Governors' Conference.

"We oppose the provisions in the legislation in that it allows the federal government to trespass on the sovereign governmental powers of state and local governments," Bradley said. "I am confident that we all support the minimum wage, which is the objective of the act."

The Los Angeles mayor said in a news conference prior to his speech that "in no way should the suit affect the need for better management-labor relations in the cities."

Bradley read a statement from President Ford in which the President said he looked to the league for support in carrying out provisions of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974.

"This statute is a milestone in domestic legislation. It represents a major return of control over basic community programs to the people they most affect," the President's statement said.

Texas Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby welcomed the delegates to the State and Houston Mayor Fred Hofheinz welcomed them to the city.

Hofheinz said the inner city of Houston is penalized under the existing General Revenue Sharing formula "because our 'suburbs' are a part of our city."

He said the City of Houston is twice the size of New Orleans but "we receive less General Revenue Sharing money."

"A fairer way to distribute the federal aid to cities would be to define 'need' in terms of the poverty areas within each city and to distribute the monies according to the need of these inner city areas, rather than to define 'need' in terms of city-wide averages," Hofheinz said.

A "State of the Cities" paper, delivered by Allen R. Pritchard Jr., executive vice president of the league, hit at what it called the lack of national policy concerning cities. It laid the blame for urban sprawl, slums and shrinking tax bases on what it called a hodge-podge of federal laws and agencies.

The statement said that tax incentives on capital gains, building depreciation and investment credits have hastened the development of land around the cities instead of encouraging urban renewal. It also said public investment subsidies such as highways also have put additional speculative pressure on land.

Bradley said reckless population growth and unrestrained consumption were two deadly time bombs that must be deactivated.

"Through the first 200 years of this country's existence, we enjoyed a seemingly unlimited abundance of resources," he said. "Now we can see the time when we will run out of such resources as oil, copper, iron and fresh water."

Bradley blamed the federal government for many of the cities' problems because of what he called lack of coordination on federal grants and policies on taxation and inflation.

He lauded passage this year of bills for mass transit, housing and community development, but said appropriations tagged to the bills were insufficient.

"The solution to better planning is to involve local government officials in the federal budget planning so they can have an impact on where the grants and cuts should go," he said.

Workshops and panel discussions are expected to highlight the convention for the next three days with a general session scheduled Thursday.

Mayor Carlos Romero of San Juan, Puerto Rico, is expected to be named new president of the league, succeeding Bradley. Mayor Jake Garn of Salt Lake City, Utah, first vice president, was next in line for the presidency but he has been elected a U.S. senator.

Texas International Maintains Flights

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Texas International Airlines maintained most operations through a heavy post-holiday Sunday despite a strike by ground personnel, a spokesman said.

He reported some members of the striking Airlines Employees Association crossed picket lines to work and predicted more would follow suit today.

Texas International said flights to and from Midland and flights to and from San Angelo have not been affected by the strike.

While management estimated 15 per cent of the ground personnel went to work as usual, a union spokesman disputed that assessment, saying no more than 11 union members failed to honor the strike.

As a key part of Sunday's operations, airlines spokesman Jim O'Donnell said 100 management mechanics at key points took after taking Sunday off as usual.

The regional director of the union, John Hayes, says he did not know how the walkout affected operations but a company claim that many striking employees crossed picket lines was not true.

Hayes cited a company effort to institute split shifts and policies for hiring part-time help as major issues in dispute.

"With these issues out of the way," Hayes said, "we could probably get together on other matters, of which wages is one."

There was no indication from either side when or if negotiations might be resumed.

House Starts Revamping For Next Year's Session

By EDMUND LEBRETON
WASHINGTON (AP) — With out waiting for the lame-duck Congress to finish its business, the House today began organizing for the new 94th Congress that convenes next month.

The decisions made now may strongly influence legislation next year.

Democrats, their ranks increased by at least 43 to a total of 291, and Republicans numbering 143, were scheduled to meet separately today. One House race depends on a special election.

Rules Major Issue
The major issue before Democrats, whose top-heavy majority gives them control of House rules, is the composition of the Ways and Means Committee.

Liberals are pushing for a change in numbers and party ratio that will reverse the committee's present conservative leaning. The panel is responsible for tax revision and national health insurance, among other legislation.

Both party meetings have leadership posts to fill. While Rep. John Rhodes, R-Ariz., appears safe as minority leader, there is a contest for the No. 2 Republican post of whip.

John Anderson of Illinois, a moderate who holds the third-ranking post of conference chairman, and conservative Charles Wiggins of California are contesting for the job. The post is vacant because of a retirement.

The chairmanship of the Democratic caucus also is being contested. The main contenders are Philip Burton of California, backed by liberals, and B. F. Sisk, also of California and considered an establishment choice.

The party meetings are expected to continue for several days, although the House itself will resume sessions Tuesday.

Senate To Hear Kissinger
In the Senate, Secretary of State Henry Kissinger appears before the Senate Finance Committee on Tuesday to explain a compromise the administration hopes will clear the way for passage of a long-stymied foreign trade bill.

The arrangement would assure trade concessions for the Soviet Union in return for liberalized emigration of Soviet Jews and other minorities. If the committee approves the compromise, Senate debate on the bill could begin Thursday.

Veto Vote Due Tuesday
Both chambers are expected to vote Tuesday on President Ford's veto of a bill increasing veterans' education benefits by 22.7 per cent. The veto is expected to be overridden, making it the fifth veto defeat for Ford since he assumed the presidency.

The House Judiciary Committee expects to complete its hearings of the vice presidential nomination of Nelson A. Rockefeller by the end of the week and to vote on Dec. 10.

The House vote is expected during the week of Dec. 16. The Senate is likely to vote a week earlier. The Senate Rules Committee, which unanimously recommended confirmation of Rockefeller, reports this week.

Newspaper Reports Gravitt's Records List Five Checks To Texas Politicians

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Personal records of the late T. O. Gravitt show that he wrote checks to five Texas politicians in compliance with Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. policy, the San Antonio Express-News reports.

Southwestern Bell has denied these and other allegations made after Gravitt took his life last Oct. 17 at his Dallas home. He was Texas chief of operations for Bell at the time.

Gravitt's family and another former Bell executive, since have filed a $29.2-million slander and libel suit against the company.

Among other things, top officials of Southwestern Bell have denied that about 140 of its executives were under orders to contribute last spring to Texas politicians favored by the corporation.

The Express-News reported that the personal papers and records of Gravitt disclose: —He wrote five checks last April 30 to that number of Texas politicians and the checks subsequently were cashed.

—Gravitt had received a handwritten note on the letterhead of Ward K. Wilkinson, Austin lobbyist for Bell, stating "$100 each Dale Milford campaign fund, J. J. Pickle ditto, $50 to Ben Atwell campaign fund and Richard Geiger camaign fund, $20 to Chris Semos campaign fund." (Milford is a congressman from Dallas, Pickle a congressman from Austin, and Geiger and Semos are state representatives from Dallas County. Veteran State Rep. Ben Atwell was defeated for re-election this year.)

—Another note on a Wilkinson letterhead states, "Need $100 check to Kent Hance of Lubbock, a Democrat. Beat Dock Blanchard the Demo. Incumbent in primary. Faces Repub. Bob Garner of Lubb. in Nov. 3 gen. election. Expected to win but, because the Repub. candidate for Gov. is from Lubbock too—it could be tough."

The newspaper said there was no indication in the Gravitt papers whether he donated $100 to Hance. It said all five of the canceled checks were written on the First National Bank of Dallas.

James Ashley, discharged during what Southwestern Bell described as an internal investigation, again said he contributed money to politicians "as a condition of employment with Bell," the Express-News reported Sunday.

It said Bell executives until 1966 gave $50 to $100 a month each in cash, depending on their rank.

"In 1966," the newspaper quoted Ashley as saying, "the top men were given $1,000 raises with the provision most or all of it go back to the company in 'special political assessments.'

"Finally, when the law barring corporations from making political contributions went through, the present method was adopted. Ma Bell suggests, and we write our personal checks accordingly. If challenged, we are simply to say, these are the candidates of my choice."

Mills Says He'll Make Star Out Of Protege 'Fanne Foxe'

BOSTON (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills says he's going to make his "protege," stripper Fanne Foxe, a movie star with a film he wrote himself called "It's Not Burlesque."

And he has gotten himself into a flap with actress Shirley MacLaine after calling her a flop.

The Arkansas Democrat made a weekend trip to Boston, where Miss Foxe, whom he called "my little Argentina hill-billy," closed out a two-week engagement. He appeared briefly on stage with her Saturday night and later said, "This won't ruin me. Nothing can ruin me."

"Better Than Gypsy Rose"

"I've been an angel to a lot of people," Mills said Sunday in an Associated Press interview. In stating he was going to make a star of Miss Foxe, he said, "She's better than Gypsy Rose Lee."

The chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee said he had launched the careers of 14 or 15 performers but he declined to name them.

"I'm always interested in a piece of property. The last one flopped. Shirley MacLaine flopped," he said. He would not explain the statement or say if he had sponsored Miss MacLaine.

Miss MacLaine's personal secretary said the actress denied ever having anything to do with him.

Writes Take-Off On Nixon

Mills also said in the interview that he had written a take-off on former President Richard M. Nixon which he has submitted to Lew Wasserman of Universal City in California. Wasserman could not be reached for comment. He is chairman of the board of MCA Inc., the parent firm of Universal Pictures, Universal Television and Decca Records.

Mills has had contact with the film community. Last year he appeared at an industry meeting at Universal and offered hope to the filmmakers for tax relief.

Mills, who appeared Sunday to have trouble with his balance and asked for a chair while being photographed, said he was under heavy sedation for a heart condition. He said it was his second attack.

The interview in the bare, brightly lit dressing room was conducted in the presence of Miss Foxe, 38, and her estranged husband, Eduardo Battistella.

"This is Miss Foxe's husband, who's my best friend,"

Mills said. "He came at my request."

Battistella said he had flown from Washington Friday with Mills in a private airplane.

Asked about Mills' apparent attachment to her, Miss Foxe said, "He has never enjoyed life. He's been all the time in politics... People need companionship and need friends and they aren't easy to come by."

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Monday, Dec. 2, the 336th day of 1974. There are 29 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1942, a nuclear chain reaction was demonstrated for the first time by scientists working on a secret project at the University of Chicago.

On this date —

In 1804, Napoleon Bonaparte crowned himself Emperor of France.

In 1805, the armies of Napoleon were victorious in the Battle of Austerlitz in what is now Czechoslovakia.

In 1823, President James Monroe outlined the Monroe Doctrine against European expansion in the Western Hemisphere.

In 1966, Fidel Castro and a band of followers landed in Cuba to try to overthrow the Batista government.

In 1960, the head of the Anglican Church, the Archbishop of Canterbury, broke church precedent by visiting Pope John XXIII at the Vatican.

Ten years ago: Pope Paul VI flew to Bombay, India to attend the International Eucharistic Congress and was greeted by a crowd of one million.

Five years ago: Fifty-four persons perished in a flash fire in a home for the aged at Notre Dame du Lac, Quebec.

One year ago: The U.S. Senate, meeting in its first

Sunday session in 112 years, failed to break a filibuster that was blocking legislation to extend the government's debt limit and finance presidential campaigns with public funds.

Today's birthdays: Actress Julie Harris is 49. Actress Maggie Smith is 40.

Thought for today: There is many a good man to be found under a shabby hat — Chinese proverb.

Ford Pays Tribute To Black Golfer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has paid tribute to golfer Lee Elder, the first black man to qualify for the Masters Tournament.

At a testimonial dinner Sunday to the 40-year-old golfer, with whom Ford has played golf, the president said Elder had "a great accomplishment" in sports. He said he would be watching the Masters next April 10 and "pulling for Lee."

"I don't think many people will remember 1975 as the year that Jerry Ford was president," Ford said. "But they will remember that 1975 was the year that Lee Elder won the Masters."

Elder responded: "If he said I'm going to win, I can't let him down."

Missouri Crash Kills Two Texans

MARSHFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Two Texas residents were killed in the collision of their small foreign car and a tractor-trailer truck Sunday on Interstate 44 west of here.

The highway patrol said the victims were Raymond Aguirre, 22, and Patricia Morrison, 19, both of San Antonio.

The patrol said the tractor-trailer skidded on the icy pavement and slammed into the car.

First U.S. Accession

The first accession to the United States was the Louisiana Purchase, 827,192 square miles west of the Mississippi River.

In September, 1902, the Winton Bullet blazed around a Cleveland horse track for ten miles at nearly 56 miles an hour. A remarkable speed and endurance record for its time, made possible by high-reliability engine parts designed and produced by TRW.

It marked the start of over seven decades of high performance and reliability to be established by TRW in scores of skills and disciplines.

All of these accomplishments will be capped tonight when a TRW-built spacecraft, Pioneer 11, will complete its journey to Jupiter. Then, using the huge planet as an enormous slingshot, it will embark on the next lap of an everlasting odyssey: To the loveliest of celestial bodies — Saturn with its jeweled rings.

Just a year ago an earlier TRW spacecraft, Pioneer 10, arrived at gigantic Jupiter less than one minute off schedule, after a nearly two-year, 620-million-mile voyage from Earth. It is now bound for the dark velvet of interstellar space, destined to be the first object made by man ever to leave the solar system.

The original mission of Pioneer 11 was planned as a duplicate of the previous flight, which cruised past the planet at a distance of 81,000 miles. But after Pioneer 10 had performed with almost flawless reliability, defining and surviving the lethal hazards of Jupiter's colossal radiation belts, NASA scientists decided upon a daring diversion for Pioneer 11.

Mid-course changes were made in its trajectory. Tonight, using a map of the radiation belts charted by its twin, Pioneer 11 will swoop to within 26,725 miles of the seething cloud-tops of violent, inhospitable Jupiter. Then it will pass behind the sun's largest planet on a course that will enable it to survey the entire surface of the globe, and give man his first glimpse of both poles of Jupiter.

Pioneer 10 has reported, among a rich harvest of thousands of pieces of information, that Jupiter's still-mysterious Great Red Spot may be a raging hurricane, 17,500-miles-long and hundreds of years old. Pioneer 11 will seek to confirm this by a more searching examination, adding to our knowledge of how our own weather evolves and matures here on blue planet Earth.

Then, using Jupiter's huge gravitational field to bend its path and increase its speed to 106,000 miles an hour, the TRW-built craft will start its five-year passage to Saturn. After that, like Pioneer 10, it may be flung beyond the solar system. If that happens, both craft will enter the region of the constellation Taurus millions of years from now, the fastest, farthest-reaching vehicles created by humans up to our time.

Both TRW-built Pioneer craft carry a message to intelligent creatures: A plaque describing man, his planet's location, his sun's place in the galaxy, and the time his spacecraft was launched. It is easily the grandest of all greeting cards.

But Pioneers 10 and 11 weren't designed by TRW just to say hello to other Milky Way civilizations. They were created and flung into space as probes to extend man's knowledge of himself and his environment, measuring cosmic rays and charged particle composition, mapping the solar wind that is rushing at us at a million miles an hour. Numerous experiments are being carried out, giving us a glimpse of the solar system's possible origin and destiny, along with vital information about our planet's delicate life-supporting atmosphere.

The reliability that makes it possible got its start at 56 miles an hour on a Cleveland racetrack, just 72 years ago.

Jupiter. And, next, Saturn, brought to you by NASA and TRW Inc.

Prime Minister Trudeau, Ford To Meet This Week

OTTAWA, Canada (AP) — Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau meets President Ford for the first time this week as the leader of a nation trying to live in harmony with but distinct from the United States.

In many respects it is tricky business because, as Trudeau himself has said, Canada is a mouse sleeping with an elephant. The mouse could be crushed if the elephant rolls over.

The new policy instituted by Trudeau's Liberal government after it came to power here in 1968 envisions Canada as no longer an extension of the United States.

"We still want American investments," one official said. "We just want to have a say in where it goes and what to do with it."

Canada's automobile industry, for example, is 97 per cent U.S.-owned, a Trade Ministry official said.

Still, foreign investment is welcomed, but in the New Canada the aim is for Canadian control.

In Washington on Wednesday, Trudeau will share Ford's day with Chancellor Helmut Schmidt of West Germany, who also will be visiting. The agenda calls for the Canadian leader to spend two hours with Ford at the White House for conversations that officials here hope will establish a rapport between the two administrations.

Although both U.S. and Canadian officials here say that frequent consultations are necessary to keep relations harmonious, Trudeau has not complained that his time with Ford in the first meeting will be short. He looks upon the visit as one to get acquainted with the President and this alone will satisfy him, according to a high-level Canadian source.

But trade, energy policies and the New Canada itself are items viewed by Canadians as important in the relationship between the elephant and the mouse.

Livestock Dispute

There have been some recent wrinkles in trade relationships. Last August, Canada imposed a quota on the number of U.S. cattle streaming into Canada in search of prices higher than in the United States. The United States calculated that this embargo cost U.S. cattlemen $109 million, so on Nov. 16 Ford announced an embargo limiting not only the number of Canadian cattle reaching the United States but also the number of hogs.

For Canadian livestock producers this will mean a loss of $100 million — the same loss to U.S. cattlemen in August.

In terms of total trade volume between Canada and the United States — about $40 billion this year both ways — the livestock dispute is a mere pinprick in the over-all friendly relations between Ottawa and Washington.

A source close to Trudeau says the prime minister does not want little irritations to develop into serious infections in relations with the United States.

Pinpricks and disputes are likely to continue because of the very nature of the close Canadian-U.S. relationship.

A new Canadian oil policy will mean that Canada will shut off all oil exports to the United States by 1982, as a means of establishing a petroleum self-sufficiency that Canadians say is necessary for their future development. Canada's proven oil reserves are 10 billion barrels; the United States' 35 billion.

Canada now exports about 900,000 barrels of oil a day to the United States — about half its production — but this will be decreased to 800,000 barrels by Jan. 1 and the dropoffs will continue gradually to zero by 1982.

Natural resources — copper, iron ore, timber, uranium and the like — have made Canada one of the world's largest suppliers of raw materials. It has enough to stay in the export business in raw materials but its chief market has been the United States.

Trudeau's policy now is to seek markets in other parts of the world.

The identity of the New Canada is still unfolding.

People are becoming vastly important — people with skills to extract its wealth for the benefit of Canada.

It is geographically the second largest country in the world but has only 22 million people. Its population density is about six persons per square mile in contrast to the 60 persons per square mile in the United States. And 75 per cent of Canadians live in urban centers.

It has an unemployment rate of about 5 per cent — similar to the United States — but officials say that is misleading because jobs are available in Canada.

"There are jobs in the West and the Yukon paying $300 to $400 a week just to drive a truck, but people won't go there," an official of the Ministry of Mines and Energy said.

Canada has an inflation rate of 11.6 per cent — also similar to the United States — but Finance Ministry officials are more concerned about sparking a sharp recession than stopping inflation right now. Thus, in late November, Canadians got an income tax cut while nations in a similar position are increasing taxes.

The new Canada is on guard against the effects of inflation and economic decline in the United States.

The mouse is staying awake in the event the elephant shows signs of rolling over.

Tough U.S. Stand Cited On Missiles

NEW YORK (AP) — President Ford says a tough American stand on nuclear missile limitations broke a negotiations deadlock during the Vladivostok summit conference and resulted in Russian concessions on a new arms agreement, according to a Newsweek magazine.

"They were probing and testing to see how eager we were, whether we would capitulate, whether our appetite was so whetted for an agreement that we would agree to almost anything," Ford said of the first night's meeting with Soviet Communist Party Chief Leonid Brezhnev.

Credit To Kissinger

"We broke up in complete deadlock the first night," he was quoted in the Newsweek article.

While giving Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger credit for the preliminary talks leading to the arms accord, Ford would not be specific in the magazine story about what Kissinger had done.

He did say the agreement concerned "equivalency," which means the Russians "had to come down from — not their present status, but their planned or programmed status — and it had to fit into our plans and our programs."

More Multiple Vehicles

Ford said, "We accepted a lesser figure in launchers and took a bigger figure as far as MIRVing because we were ahead and they were behind."

Published reports have the fixed number of rocket launchers around 2,400 for each side, of which 1,200 may be MIRVed. MIRV is an acronym for Multiple Independently Targetable Re-entry Vehicles.

The Postal Reform Act, creating a government-owned postal service under the executive branch and replacing the old Post Office Dept., was signed into law by President Richard Nixon on Aug. 12, 1970.

Vulcanus Starts Second Chemical Burn In Gulf

HOUSTON (AP) — The present burn is expected to be completed Dec. 16.

The previous week-long burn was held despite objections from Clint Pray, executive assistant to Louisiana Gov. Edwin Edwards. The EPA denied his claim that the burn was ill considered and monitoring plans inadequate. However, EPA monitoring did subsequently fail.

Pray said a more rigid monitoring system was set up for the second burn.

The "fall safe" monitoring was demanded by Louisiana, Texas, Alabama and Florida at a Nov. 14 technical conference here.

Louisiana officials opposed the first burn because of the fear that smoke pollution would blow back onto the state's coast and they also objected that EPA monitors failed to gather data from the air to see if the hydrogen chloride that goes up in smoke is a threat to migrating birds.

Rommel's Son Wins Stuttgart Mayoral Runoff

STUTTGART, West Germany (AP) — Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's son Manfred became Stuttgart's new mayor today after winning a runoff election.

Rommel, during the campaign, avoided reference to his famous father, the World War II commander known as the Desert Fox for the exploits of his tank legions in North Africa. But political observers in this southwest Germany industrial city said the late field marshal's reputation was his son's most effective campaign asset.

The field marshal was forced to drink poison after being implicated in the abortive attempt to kill Adolf Hitler in 1944.

Running as a Christian Democrat, the younger Rommel took 58.9 per cent of the votes in Sunday's runoff.

Agnew Business Partner Says They're On Way To Millions

NIAGARA, Ky. (AP) — Spiro Agnew's business partner says the former vice president has enough connections for the two to make a fortune.

"He's opened up more doors than I need," said Walter J. Dilbeck Jr. "There's no doubt our joint venture will make millions. We've already made a helluva lot of money."

Dilbeck, an Evansville, Ind., businessman, made the comments in an interview published in Sunday editions of the Louisville Courier-Journal.

He said hiring Agnew "was the best deal I ever made" and predicted the former Maryland governor "will make more money his first year with me than he did in his whole career as a politician. There's no doubt about him becoming a millionaire. I expect him to make it himself. He's working for his money."

Agnew resigned the vice presidency last year after pleading no contest to income tax evasion.

Under the partnership, Agnew will be paid $100,000 a year for the next four years and one-third of the profits of the partnership this year and one-half the next three years.

Dilbeck said he and Agnew have nearly completed a pair of multimillion-dollar deals in Kentucky, one for development of homes and apartments with Mideast oil money and the other involving sale of a coal mine to Japanese interests. He said they are looking for land deals in Kentucky, Tennessee, Illinois, Maryland and Indiana.

Dilbeck said Agnew's connections with Mideast oilmen and Republican bankers could prove invaluable.

He said it doesn't bother him that Agnew was accused of taking bribes in sworn affidavits but that he gets upset with contractors who gave the money and later testified against Agnew.

"I think it's worse to be a squealer than to take a bribe," he said.

Miss Vicki Reportedly On Welfare

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Singer Tiny Tim's estranged wife, "Miss Vicki," has been on the New Jersey welfare rolls since August, the Philadelphia Sunday Bulletin says.

The newspaper quoted a Camden County welfare office employe as saying "Miss Vicki," whose maiden name is Victoria Budinger, has received $235 a month since Aug. 28. She reportedly is now in England with the couple's 3-year-old daughter, Tulip.

She and Tiny Tim were married in 1969 on Johnny Carson's "Tonight" show before a television audience of 45 million and were separated last January. Tiny Tim's road manager, Jim Cappy, said he doubted Miss Vicki was on welfare. "Tiny is sending her money," Cappy said. "He sends her enough money for the baby every month."

FATHER AND SON PLAY BEN FRANKLIN — Lloyd Bridges, left, and his son, Beau, both play Benjamin Franklin in the second episode of a four-part series on Franklin. The younger Bridges will portray Franklin from 16 to 35 and his father will play Franklin from 35 to 55. (AP Wirephoto.)

Bridges Never Discouraged Sons

By JAY SHARBUTT
 NEW YORK (AP) — When his two sons were still in school, Lloyd Bridges never tried to dampen their enthusiasm for acting. It's no mean feat when you consider their first paid jobs were in his old "Sea Hunt" series.

The sons—Jeff, 24, and Beau, 31—have since gone on to establish successful acting careers of their own, a fact which visibly pleases Bridges the Elder.

He says he'd like all three Bridges to appear in the same movie or TV show at the same time, but the opportunity hasn't arisen. In lieu of that, he and Beau are co-starring in a CBS special.

It's "The Whirlwind," the second in a series of four 90-minute dramas based on the life and times of Benjamin Franklin.

In the Dec. 17 show, Beau Bridges plays Franklin in the latter's younger years as a journeyman printer, while Lloyd Bridges portrays the great American statesman in his middle years.

The older Bridges, here to drum up a little publicity for the show, was a bit weary, having sat up the previous night counseling Beau on the latter's role in a coming Broadway play, "Who's Who in Hell."

A native Californian whose Broadway debut came in "Othello" 37 years ago, Bridges grinned when asked if he'd ever counseled either son against the thespic life when they showed signs of having the acting bug.

"No, because I love it myself and I've always loved acting," he said. "It's a great profession, although precarious. I hated the responsibility of encouraging them because if they didn't make it—and a lot of us don't—I'd feel terrible."

"So I didn't push them hard. I just showed them what the atmosphere, what the environment was like, so if they had something I'd give them the opportunity to try."
