Queen Gas Strike For Pecos Area

Western States Producing Co., Midland, has completed a Queen gas discovery in Pecos County, its No. 1 J. L. Nutt Estate, 1 1/2 mile northeast of the depleted Nuz (Queen) gas field.

Calculated, absolute open flow was for 1.150 million cubic feet of dry gas per day, producing through perforations at 2,301-2,317 feet, which had been acidized with 50,000 gallons and fractured with 10,000 gallons and 6,000 pounds.

Drilled to 2,440 feet, it has 3 1/2-inch casing set on bottom, and is plugged back to 2,331 feet. Under ground elevation of 2,901 feet, the following tops were picked: Yates, 1,480; Queen, 2,240 and Grayburg, 2,430 feet.

Winkler Wildcat Yields Oil On Test

Billard Oil & Gas Inc., Midland, was drilling below 8,448 feet on a 9,500-foot wildcat contract, at No. 1-A Sealy-Smith, one mile southwest of the four-well Danner field, which produces from the Canyon at about 8,500 feet.

A drillstem test, probably in the Canyon, from 8,291-8,405 feet, open 75 minutes, had gas to the surface in eight minutes, rate not reported. Oil surfaced in 35 minutes at the estimated, hourly rate of 10 barrels. Reversed out of the tool was 2,000 feet of oil and recovery below the sub was 120 feet of oil. The sample chamber yielded 10.8 cubic feet of gas and 1,300 cubic centimeters of 43-gravity oil and 40 cubic centimeters of water.

Location is 990 feet from south and east lines of section 67, block A, G&MB&A survey, six miles north of Monahans.

Four WT Sectors Draw Exploration

Exploration has been scheduled in Glasscock, Garza, Ward and Estor counties.

Adobe Oil Co. of Midland filed application to drill No. 1-12 Black, a 4,600-foot Permian test, on the east side of the Glasscock County portion of the Spreberry Trend Area.

Location is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 12, block 36, T-3-S-T&P survey, 12 miles south of Stanton.

Garza Probe F. G. Woodside staked site for No. 1 Nance, an 8,300-foot venture in Garza, 2 1/4 miles northwest of upper Strawn and Ellenburger production in the Fluvarna, Southwest field, but separated by fissures.

Location is 860 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 30, block 6, H&GN survey, abstract 1064, six miles southwest of Justiceburg.

Ward Attempt Pennell Co. intends to re-enter and plug back to wildcat depth of 14,000 feet, for tests of the Aloha, at No. 1 Hartwick Gas Unit, former Fusselman (Continued On Page 8D)

Sirica Denies Motions, Says Trial To Go On

WASHINGTON (AP) - U. S. District Judge John J. Sirica ruled today that the Watergate cover-up trial will be concluded without the testimony of former President Richard M. Nixon.

Ruling on requests that Nixon's testimony be taken by deposition, Sirica said, "The motions are denied and the trial will proceed." Sirica announced his ruling just hours after Nixon's lawyers had argued that the former president would not be available to give a deposition until long after the date set by a team of court-appointed physicians.

The doctors had informed Sirica that the earliest they felt Nixon would be well enough to be questioned would be Jan. 6. Argument Presented Nixon's lawyers argued that Jan. 6 was the earliest date the former president could begin preparing for his testimony.

Midkiff Farmer Killed In Accident

Forrest Eggemeyer, 53, was killed late Wednesday when his clothes became entangled in a cotton picking machine on his farm east of Midkiff.

Eggemeyer had stopped his cotton stripper to check something at the front, a farm hand who was following him on another stripper, reported. He said he saw the victim dragged into the machinery. He pulled him out and rushed him to Midland Memorial Hospital where he was dead on arrival.

Rosary will be at 7:30 p.m. today in the St. Lawrence Catholic Church, with the Rev. Augustine Luca officiating. Mass will be at 2:30 p.m. Friday in the church, with interment in the St. Lawrence Cemetery under the direction of the Newbie W. Ellis Chapel.

Eggemeyer was born Oct. 8, 1921, at Rowena. He married (See ACCIDENT Page 10A)

Ford Administration Eyes Fuel Allocation Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Ford administration, conceding that voluntary efforts to reduce oil imports have been unsatisfactory, may return to the policies that produced long lines at gasoline stations last winter.

Treasury Secretary William E. Simon and Frank A. Zarb, the nominee to head the Federal Energy Administration, said Wednesday that one possible move to reduce petroleum consumption is to reimpose last winter's fuel allocation plan. Their statements came at the same time the auto industry reported November sales fell 35 per cent, making it the second lowest level for the month in 15 years.

New Car Sales Nationwide Decrease By 35 Per Cent

DETROIT (AP) — Americans bought 270,000 fewer cars from the nation's major auto makers during November of this year than they did during the same month of 1973. This meant a 35 per cent drop in domestic car sales by the four big U.S. auto firms.

Domestic auto sales by the four major U.S. auto makers during the past month, $65.5 billion, were the lowest for any month of the year and compared with $775,455 they sold on the American market in November 1973. It was the second slowest November performance for them in the domestic market in 18 years and the 14th consecutive month in which sales trailed year-earlier levels.

Heavy Snow Hits Southwest

By The Associated Press
Heavy snow piled into the Southwest today as an autumn storm that dumped torrential rains on parts of southern California churned eastward.

Four inches of snow whitened northern Nevada, 2 inches fell at Flagstaff, Ariz., and 3 inches sifted onto Bryce Canyon, Utah.

The snow was expected to spread into southwestern Colorado during the day. Rain and snow showers chilled other sections of Arizona, Nevada and Utah. Rain also splashed over the northern Rockies and trailed west to the Washington coast. Drizzle drifted northward over Texas.

Although skies cleared over most of California, some southern counties remained waterlogged after two days of rain. Five to 8 inches drenched mountain areas. An inch washed San Diego through Wednesday.

Skies also cleared over most snow-laden sections of the East where utility crews worked long hours to restore electrical power to hundreds of homes still blacked out from a record weekend snowstorm.

Officials in southwestern Pennsylvania estimated up to 40,000 homes still were powerless late Wednesday. Hundreds of residents in portions of Ohio and West Virginia also remained without electrical service.

Main roads in most communities snowbound since the weekend were opened by late Wednesday, and additional schools were expected to resume classes today.

Biting cold settled into a broad stretch of the East with the clearing skies. Temperatures dipped to zero in upstate New York. Lows in the 20s and 30s reached across much of the Deep South.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from zero at Massena, N.Y., to 67 at Brownsville, Tex. Some other reports: Anchorage 22 cloudy, Atlanta 32 clear, Boston 25 clear, Buffalo 18 cloudy, Chicago 27 clear, Cincinnati 22 clear, Cleveland 22 cloudy, Dallas 52 cloudy, Denver 30 clear, Detroit 15 partly cloudy, Honolulu 72 clear, Indianapolis 30 clear, Kansas City 41 clear, Los Angeles 58 clear, Louisville 26 clear, Miami 51 clear, Minneapolis-St. Paul 24 cloudy, Nashville 26 clear, New York 28 clear, Philadelphia 31 clear, Phoenix 55 rain, Pittsburgh 19 clear, St. Louis 31 clear, San Francisco 50 partly cloudy, Seattle 45 rain, Washington 32 clear.

cloudy, Dallas 52 cloudy, Denver 30 clear, Detroit 15 partly cloudy, Honolulu 72 clear, Indianapolis 30 clear, Kansas City 41 clear, Los Angeles 58 clear, Louisville 26 clear, Miami 51 clear, Minneapolis-St. Paul 24 cloudy, Nashville 26 clear, New York 28 clear, Philadelphia 31 clear, Phoenix 55 rain, Pittsburgh 19 clear, St. Louis 31 clear, San Francisco 50 partly cloudy, Seattle 45 rain, Washington 32 clear.

The domestic sales slump, which started in November 1973 with the energy crisis and tight gasoline supplies, is also the longest downturn the four major auto firms have encountered since World War II.

All four major auto makers have made sharp cutbacks in production and work forces because of reduced demand. Thirteen assembly plants are closed and 165,000 auto workers are on layoff this week.

The combined November domestic sales figure announced by the four major U.S. auto makers Wednesday was the lowest since 1959, excluding 1970, when General Motors' output was severely curtailed by a nationwide strike.

General Motors was off 34 per cent in domestic auto sales for the month, at 271,375, compared with 406,551 in November 1973; Ford was down 35 per cent, 145,686 and 222,390; Chrysler was off 36 per cent, 71,871 and 112,803; and American Motors reported a sharp 51 per cent drop, 16,579 and 33,706.

The domestic sales decline for November for the four major U.S. auto companies compares with a 21 per cent decline in September, when they sold 590,884 cars on the American market, and a 27 per cent drop in October, when domestic sales were 627,521.

For the first 11 months of the year, domestic sales of autos produced by the four major U.S. makers totaled 7,019,723, a 23 per cent decline from the year before. Yearly sales were off 27 per cent at General Motors, at 3,470,340, 17 per cent at Ford, 2,066,831; 30 per cent at Chrysler, 1,144,481; and 13 per cent at American Motors, 319,071.

Industry analysts conceded the sharp domestic slump was the industry's worst since the 1959 recession, but insisted U.S. sales had finally bottomed out.

"We don't expect to see any improvement next month," one company spokesman said. "But we don't expect things to get any worse either."

Foreign auto makers were also expected to show a sharp drop in November sales. Industry analysts estimated import sales would be down 26 per cent from November 1973 to 96,000. Only about 90 per cent of November import sales have been reported thus far.

Texas Youth Council Says It Will Seek To Keep One Reform Institution Open

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The Texas Youth Council says it will seek to keep one of its two youth reform institutions open in spite of a federal court order to close them in favor of smaller community facilities.

The state agency's directors met Wednesday in San Antonio and also approved a $94.1 million budget for 1975-77.

Board Chairman N. Forrest Smith said, "TYC will ultimately recommend funding of either Gatesville or Mountain View boys' home to the legislature."

U.S. District Court Judge William Wayne Justice of Tyler ordered the reform schools closed in a Sept. 3 ruling on a class-action suit filed last year by 12 inmates and former inmates of the two institutions.

The inmates alleged that personnel at the schools engaged in cruelty, brutality and unusual punishment. Justice suggested the delinquent youngsters, who are 10 to 18 years old, be sent to foster homes, halfway houses, group homes and special probationary agencies. He also said the youngsters should be moved to within 100 miles of their homes.

Smith noted Wednesday that a $38-million community-based youth program was revealed recently by TYC to improve its reform program.

launched about three months ago. It was begun after officials became alarmed at a startling increase in the number of persons arrested for possessing small amounts of the drug, he said.

Bartels said that Deputy Atty. Gen. Laurence Silberman directed the policy planning offices of the department and DEA to undertake the study. DEA is a Justice Department agency.

Dr. Robert L. DuPont, head of the White House Special Action Office for Drug Abuse Prevention, last month urged an end to criminal penalties. The U.S. attorney for the District of Columbia, Earl J. Silbert, attempted to stop prosecuting those arrested for possessing less than one gram of marijuana, but rescinded the decision after Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe disapproved.

Bartels said, however, he does not expect a substantive change in administration policy although "there may be a slight change in emphasis." He said the department review was discussed routinely with DuPont but that the White House has not been involved in any other way.

WALTHOURVILLE, Ga. (AP) — The ladies still are running Walthourville.

The bulk of the town's 237 registered voters turned out Wednesday to give the mayor, Lyndol Anderson, and five incumbent city councilwomen a landslide victory over six men.

Mrs. Anderson received 144 votes to 78 for her opponent, Ed Rogers, 34. Except for one councilwoman who was unopposed, the others won by similar margins.

"We worked hard," Mrs. Anderson said of her efforts to organize Walthourville's fledgling government. "But now we'll really be able to get down to business."

Bentsen Hopes To Make Big Splash At Party Meet

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Sen. Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr. of Texas, rated the least known of the major Democratic presidential contenders, hopes to make the biggest splash at this week's party miniconvention.

The Texas millionaire has invited all 4,000 delegates, alternates, reporters and staff members to a reception Friday evening.

In contrast, Rep. Morris K. Udall of Arizona, the only announced candidate for the 1978 Democratic presidential nomination, and Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington plan less flashy approaches as the great political courtship of '78 gets serious here today. The wooing of delegates by at least five potential presidential hopefuls starts in earnest at the party's charter conference.

Foreign Aid Bill Okayed By Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed by the narrowest of margins a $3.67 billion foreign aid authorization bill described as "vulnerable" to President Ford.

The bill requires a cutoff of military aid to Turkey in February, a phase-out of military assistance to South Korea and the end of U.S. arms for Chile, among other things.

The 46-45 roll call vote Wednesday night sent the bill to an uncertain fate in the closely divided House.

Bill Replaced
The measure replaces a $2.52 billion bill rejected by the Senate Oct. 2 on a 41-59 vote after Ford protested it was too meager and too restrictive.

Although still $600 million less than administration program plans, the new bill reflects a compromise acceptable to the Ford administration, according to Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn.

As Senate floor manager for the bill, Humphrey successfully defended it against major further cuts and policy restrictions.

The Senate adopted 56 to 36 a Humphrey amendment to give the President authority to postpone until mid-February an end to military aid to Turkey if he believes it will enhance prospects for peaceful settlement of the Greek-Turkish dispute over Cyprus.

The bill would authorize $50 million for military assistance grants, $405 million for military credit sales, and $617,000 for Indochina reconstruction, all less than the Ford administration's initial requests.

In the Middle East, the bill would authorize $339.5 million for economic aid and $300 million for military credit sales to Israel, and $250 million for economic aid to Egypt.

New Realtors Officers Installed

New officers of the Midland Board of Realtors took office Wednesday night at the board's annual installation dinner at Midland Country Club.

Patsy Bohannon, assumed duties as president and urged members present to urge forward in their profession with willingness to adapt to rapidly changing challenges.

New first vice president is Bonnie Kent, immediate past president, who thanked the members for their help and cooperation during the past year.

New second vice president is C. E. Hogue, and Betty Taylor is secretary-treasurer.

The oath of office was administered by Mayor Ernest Angelo Jr.

Directors for the coming year are Preston Bridgewater Jr., Louise Culver, Donald A. Harvey, Katie Heck, Ronald James and Joanne Langston. Jo Braden of Harvey Langston Realtors was honored as outstanding salesperson. Ernestine Browning, treasurer.

Officers of the Women's Council, also installed by Mayor Angelo, are Joan Ramey, president; Joyce Moore, vice president; Ella Barnett, secretary, and Ernestine Browning, treasurer.

Among honored guests were Fred Gage, president of the Odessa Board of Realtors, and Velva Cooper, executive secretary of the Odessa board.

Student Newspaper Delays First Edition

ODESSA — The University of Texas of the Permian Basin's student newspaper will publish its first edition in mid-January, co-editor Karen Storey said Wednesday afternoon.

The unnamed publication was previously scheduled to be printed last week, but Mrs. Storey said staff members decided to delay until after the end of the fall semester because of academic commitments.

She indicated a lack of advertisers was not a factor in the decision because "we have a list of people who have called wanting to advertise. That won't be a problem."

Mrs. Storey also said staff members will likely let the UTPB student body decide the publication's name by a vote.

Organization of a student newspaper came in the wake of UTPB president B. H. Amstead's order to shred all copies of "The Windmill," a university publication, because it contained an editorial criticizing The University of Texas System regents.

Windmill editor Joel Asbery was dismissed from his job and given a transfer — which he refused — to another campus job. Dr. Amstead said The Windmill was not a student newspaper, but rather a university-funded newsletter.

The proposed student newspaper, co-edited by Mrs. Storey and Lark Edminton, is to be composed of students from all academic departments.

Mike Virgin, a junior English major, has been named sports editor, and Jackie Hollabaugh, a senior theatre major, will be fine arts editor. Serving as business manager will be Ken Gilliam, a junior engineering student.

Mrs. Storey said the unpublished paper has "about 10" reporters. She said the staff anticipates acquiring more reporters through a spring semester journalism class.

Although the staff is still operating without campus facilities, Mrs. Storey said, "I think after they see we're going to be a responsible newspaper and not a vendetta against Dr. Amstead, we'll get more support."

Four Midlanders To Be Inducted Into Honor Society

Four Midlanders have been selected for induction into an international honor society in history newly organized at The University of Texas of the Permian Basin.

A chapter of Phi Alpha Theta has been approved for UTPB and two students from Midland and two Midland professors will be inducted during the honor society's initial installation Dec. 13.

Robin Hightower and Ann Farris along with professors Dr. Roger Olien, associate professor of history, and Dr. Frank Samporaro, assistant professor of history, will be installed by Dr. James W. Harper, faculty advisor for the Zeta-Iota Chapter of Texas Tech University, during the first induction ceremony.

This honor society recognizes both students and professors on the basis of excellence in the study of the writing of history.

Meditation Lecture Scheduled Monday

A free lecture on the practice of transcendental meditation will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in The First National Bank.

The introductory lecture will be given by Mark Imray of Odessa and will be about the benefits of meditation.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Must She Endure Yellowed Plastic?

By POLLY CRAMER
 Newspaper Enterprise Association

DEAR POLLY — My expensive white plastic window and shower curtains have turned yellow. Repeated washing is not the answer. I hope someone has some helpful advice. — M.L.P.

DEAR POLLY — I am so mad. Today I received, for the third time, a note from a well-known publisher asking me to subscribe to their magazine. I have long been a subscriber and my subscription is paid until Dec. 1976. Paper is being wasted and the mails clogged with such unnecessary mail. It seems that in this day of computers they could keep better track of their subscribers. To me this is a good example of poor business practice. — MRS. C.S.K.

DEAR MRS. C.S.K. — I am right with you. I have received, in one week, three duplicate answers to such a complaint which seems tops in inefficiency. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — Alma wanted to know how to repair a hole in a borrowed wide mesh playpen. At a shop that repairs fish nets buy twine such as used for repairing fish nets. This comes in white and black and perhaps other colors. My father fixed my playpen with white twine and you can scarcely tell it has been torn. — MRS. G.N.

DEAR POLLY — and Alma — the hole torn in my child's playpen was very large and my husband worked clear fishing line through both sides of the hole and it worked well. What could be stronger than fishing line? — Mary M.

DEAR ALMA — I think your own idea of crocheting a chain stitch that was joined to the sides of the tear sounds great. For this crochet you could use either the fishing line or the fisherman's twine as suggested. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — On dark mornings I often have to turn the lights in the car on when I leave for work. Since I so often would forget to turn them off when getting to the office I found the following idea most helpful. I tied a loop in one end of a piece of twine, about 18 inches long. The loop was placed over the light switch on the car. The other end is laid across the shaft of the steering wheel. When I turn the lights on I wrap the loose end of the twine around my car keys two or three times so it is impossible for me to take the keys out of the car without remembering them. — MRS. J.M.

DEAR POLLY — I save plastic ice cream containers to hold cookies and candies I am giving for Christmas gifts. I paste Christmas pictures or paper on the lids. They also are good for holding small odd-shaped gifts like salt and pepper shakers, china animals, etc. Wrap tissue around them and put in such decorated containers. — MRS. G.G.B.

W.W.W.W. Chapter Meets; Elects Officers

A taped recording of a speech made in Midland recently by Lottie Beth Hobbs of Fort Worth, representing Women Who Want to Be Women, was the program of the newly organized Midland Chapter of W.W.W.W. when members met Monday night in the Service Building of the North A and Tennessee Streets Church of Christ.

In the speech, Miss Hobbs discussed the Equal Rights Amendment, which is opposed by the W.W.W.W. and the feminist movement that brought it about.

Officers elected Monday were Mrs. Frank Bartlett, publicity chairman; Mrs. Fred Blount, finance; Mrs. Rugen F. (Ada) Spivey, corresponding secretary; Donna Langley, historian, and Mrs. Thomas J. Friday, reporter. Mrs. Guy Mabee Jr. was elected chairman of the group at an organizational meeting held Nov. 18 as well as Mrs. Ray Chappelle, secretary, and Mrs. Ray K. Horton, treasurer.

The next meeting of the group will be at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 12 in the 1st National Room of The First National Bank. The public is invited.

Sausage Platter Perfect Dish For Holidays

By AILEEN CLAIRE
 NEA FOOD EDITOR

It's time for tree-trimming parties and Christmas carol rehearsals. A quick dish that stays hot in a chafing dish proves an easy way to keep the holiday spirits in high gear. A sausage-apricot combination can be prepared in advance and kept hot in the chafing dish. Serve with rice or noodles and a salad. Cheese and fruit for dessert, plus coffee or hot chocolate, make this a perfect winter offering — whether you live in Alaska or Hawaii.

Couple Shares In Everything

BELLEVUE, Wash. (AP) — The Rev. Mr. Tom Campbell-Schmidt and his wife, the Rev. Mrs. Patty Campbell-Schmidt, really share everything in life.

Both ordained Presbyterian ministers, they share one position as associate minister of Newport United Presbyterian Church. Each is on the job half the time. Each gets half the pay.

Each does half the household work and each shares the other's last name.

"My maiden name was Schmidt. Patty's was Campbell. So as a symbol of the kind of equality we share, we decided to hyphenate our names," the Rev. Mr. Campbell-Schmidt said.

The husband is 28. His wife is 25.

Dear Abby

—By Abigail van Buren

How Can She Tell Them To Flake Off?

DEAR ABBY: I am a grandmother who met a young couple at the home of a mutual friend. I liked the young man, but his wife is simply awful! She talks incessantly and never says anything. She is also a phony. She claims to "love" ballet, art, opera, literature—you name it, and she's an "expert"—but after listening to her for a few minutes, it's apparent she doesn't know much. She is also pushy and her never-ending chatter is punctuated with obscenities, which I detest.

This couple dropped in on me without phoning first. I was shocked, but didn't want to be rude. I should have been because they dropped in on me again, and stayed and stayed and stayed. Then they told me they had bought property very near me because they loved the area!

Abby, how do I tell them to please leave me alone? I could tolerate an occasional visit, but when they become neighbors I will be robbed of my cherished privacy. Should I tell him? Or her? And how do I phrase it? I can't say, "Please forget that you know me. I cannot stand you!"

ORANGE, CALIF.

DEAR ORANGE: Tell THEM that you are not the "dropping in" kind of neighbor and do not appreciate folks who drop in without calling first. Admit to being a bit of a "nut" on the subject to the point of being thought anti-social—but do let them know you are not kidding.

DEAR ABBY: Like so many others, I never expected to be writing a "Dear Abby" letter because I thought I had the perfect marriage. I would like to tell every wife whose husband works away from home to go with him because if she doesn't, another woman is waiting to step into her shoes.

My husband worked away from home for the last three years, but he drove 100 miles extra every day so he could spend every night at home with me.

Well, six months ago he started to call me around 5 p.m. saying he was too tired to make the drive home. Finally, he confessed that he met another woman and he thinks he's in love with her. He says he can't make up his mind between us, so we are sharing him.

I can't tell you what I have been going through, Abby. I don't know whether to tell him to stay with her and not come

Children Could Make This Dish

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

An acorn squash filled with sausage meat, wheat germ and a celery and onion combination makes a main dish that is nutritious, tasty and filling. Bake the squash covered first then uncover for the last few minutes of cooking time. A quick way to have a change of pace meal during the coming holidays, filled squash is a good recipe for a son or daughter to prepare and let Mom take a breather from her heavy cooking duties.

Cook sausage meat over low heat, stirring constantly, until crumbly. Stir in wheat germ, celery, onion and teaspoon salt. Cut squash in half lengthwise and remove seeds. Prick cavities of squash with fork and sprinkle with remaining teaspoon salt. Fill squash halves with sausage mixture. Place in baking pan in 1-inch water. Cover with foil, crimping it to edges of pan. Bake in 400-degree oven 45 minutes. Remove foil and bake 10 to 15 minutes longer or until squash is tender and sausage is lightly browned. Makes 4 servings.

back, or what. My best friend says I should kick him out. My sister says to share him until he gets tired of her.

If I ever get my husband back I will be like Ruth in the Bible. What should I do?

J. IN FLORIDA

DEAR J: Don't make any decisions now that you might later regret. You don't say how long you've been married, or if there are children. (That could make a difference.) Get some counseling. This is too heavy to handle alone, and friends tend to tell you what they think you want to hear.

DEAR ABBY: My husband loves to hunt, and he gets positively rabid when anyone mentions any kind of gun control.

I've always hated guns, and think that handguns should not be manufactured except for use by law enforcers.

The other day my husband came home with bumper stickers on our new car. They said: "Guns don't kill people. People kill people."

I finally had to agree that those bumper stickers made a lot of sense. No?

SOOTHED IN SYRACUSE

DEAR SOOTHED: Prepare to become unsoothed. That bumper sticker should read, "Guns don't kill people, but people with guns kill people." Run that through your old rifle barrel a couple of times.

CONFIDENTIAL TO RON IN SARASOTA, FLA: You're wrong. There is something worse than a reformed drunk. It's one who hasn't reformed yet.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

LUNCHEON SHOWER — Mrs. Davidson Claiborne, Sara Bullock and her mother, Mrs. Maurice Bullock, are pictured at a luncheon and kitchen shower given Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Roy H. Davidson, 1702 W. Storey St., for Miss Bullock. Mrs. Claiborne was the co-hostess. Miss Bullock and Hugh M. McIntosh, both of Houston, are to be married March 1 in the First United Methodist Church in Austin. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bullock, 3200 Racquet Club Drive. A red and white checkered theme was used in the party decorations.

Actress Compares Acting In Hungary

By NICHOLAS LILIFOS
Associated Press Writer
BUDAPEST — Mari Torocskai makes nearly seven times more than the average earner in Communist Hungary. But it helps her, as she puts it "to live the life an intellectual has to lead."

Fair-haired Mari is Hungary's leading actress. She will soon celebrate the launching of her 50th movie.

Her name is known throughout the land but being a star in the Peoples' Republic of Hungary doesn't mean owning yachts, villas and super-fast cars.

"In our system we have no notions of high living like in the Western world," she said.

In a good year Mari can make about the equivalent of $8,700. The normal annual wage here is the equivalent of $1,300.

Success has brought her two apartments — one in Budapest, the other in the country — and a Russian-built family car.

Hungarian film critics say she's at the peak of her career, with a trial of roles behind her — from Shakespeare and Brecht's plays to modern comedies.

And, like a good Socialist, she answers questions in a way that would force a wink from any Lenin portrait.

Chain-smoking during an interview in Budapest's National Theatre, Mari compared her life with Western actresses.

"It's true my colleagues in capitalist countries make more money than me. But unlike them I'm not obliged to chase myself.

There's a basic feeling of security under our system."

Now 40 and three times married — "I'm a much divorced person" — Mari gave this example of what she doesn't like about the West's acting world.

"When I attended a film festival in Mexico, the millionaire financier of the whole thing threw a big reception."

"The party was studded with famous actors and actresses. They literally surrounded this millionaire at every opportunity and looked so relieved and happy when he shook hands with them.

"I had no need to do it. That's the difference between my work and theirs."

"In the West people are forced into a position of social dependence. It didn't make any difference to me whether I shook hands with him or not," said a proud Mari.

The Nutcracker Inspires Ballerina

By FRANCHELLE MOORE
Anne Burton, principal dancer with the Atlanta (Ga.) Civic Ballet, who will be seen as the Sugarplum Fairy in today's "Christmas Gala" presented by the Permian Civic Ballet Association, said in an interview Wednesday in Midland that seeing a performance of "The Nutcracker" as a child inspired her to someday dance Sugarplum Fairy.

Today's "Christmas Gala," including "The Nutcracker," based on the score by Peter Ilyich Tchaikovsky, and "Les Patineurs," based on music by Giacomo Meyerbeer, as arranged by Constant Lambert, will be held at 8:15 p.m. in the Lee High School Auditorium. "One of the reasons 'The Nutcracker' enthralled me was the magical sensation of the Kingdom of Sweets. I had visions of dancing Sugarplum when I was grown," Miss Burton said. She began formal study of ballet at the age of 6 years. She is a native of Atlanta, where she and her husband, Ed Avery, and children, Brent, age 4, and Jennifer, age 1, live. Avery is a sales representative for IBM Corp.

At the age of 14, Miss Burton, who says her favorite ballet other than "The Nutcracker" is "Giselle," danced her first Sugarplum at "Jacob's Pillow" in Massachusetts. At 15 years of age, she was awarded a Ford Foundation scholarship to the School of American Ballet under Balanchine, and, subsequently, joined the New York City Ballet. She was a member of the New York company in 1961-63, when it toured the Soviet Union and Europe.

Other major roles for Miss Burton, who has received standing ovations for her performance in three productions of "Giselle" by the Atlanta company, have been Juliet in "Romeo and Juliet," Swanilda in "Coppelia," Odette in "Swan Lake" and Aurora in "Sleeping Beauty."

The ballerina has a bachelor of arts degree in ballet from the University of Utah, where she studied and danced with William Christensen's "Ballet West." She has studied with many teachers, including Madame Vera Volkova of the Soviet Union, who was a teacher

Midland Student In 'Who's Who'

SAN ANTONIO — For the second year, Elizabeth Hermann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Hermann of 2003 Ward St., Midland, has been selected for inclusion in "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities." She is a senior chemistry and mathematics major at Incarnate Word College. Miss Hermann is vice president of the Student Government Association and has served as cultural affairs representative to the association. She is active in the mathematics and science organization and has completed extensive undergraduate scientific research.

of Miss Burton's ballet "idol," Michel Fokine. Miss Burton has been dancing since April in various performances with Bill Martin-Viscount of Fort Worth, artistic adviser and part-time artist-in-residence with the Permian Civic Ballet. She has found instruction by Martin-Viscount on the newer, more daring, "lifts" and the Russian pas de deux to be most challenging and exciting. Martin-Viscount will appear with Miss Burton as the Prince in "The Nutcracker." He also will dance the Blue Boy in "Les Patineurs."

"The happiest moment so far in my dancing career was receiving a standing ovation following a performance with Bill in "Corsair" at the Southeastern Regional Ballet Festival in Jacksonville, Fla. It was exciting to receive such response from one's peers," Miss Burton stated. Dancers from companies throughout the Southeast part of the United States competed in the event.

Guest Dancer
Miss Burton appears as guest dancer with other companies an average of twice monthly during the year, with the exception of the pre-Christmas season. This season, she is performing with five companies in five states.

"My career is like having your cake and eating it too. I have a family which gives me the security of a happy homelife and I am able to do what I love, dance," Miss Burton said. She also remarked that being away from her family is difficult for her, but she hopes her children will be aware of her feeling of dedication and love for the ballet and will eventually discover something as fulfilling to them as dancing is to her. She is thankful she will be able to spend this Christmas with her family.

Last summer, Miss Burton had the opportunity to teach ballet at the Southwest Ballet Center in Fort Worth, with several of the students participating being from Midland. She remarked she is anxious to see how the students perform in the Midland presentation, and also said Midland has many fine dancers.

Miss Burton's first visit in Texas, which she describes as a "wonderful state," was to El Paso, where she made a ballet appearance. She said she is a true Texas fan, because on each trip, she returns to Georgia with a wide assortment of Texas mementos.

Study Club Holds Yuletide Program

Wrappings and Trappings for Christmas was the theme for the Modern Study Club program during its meeting Wednesday at the Midland Woman's Club. Mrs. J. A. Sweatt gave a Christmas reading, then asked members to tell their family's custom for decorating their tree and home. Handmade Christmas tree in the mathematics and science skirts and ornaments, animal organization and has completed extensive undergraduate scientific research.

GOING TO REHEARSAL — Guest artist Anne Burton, principal dancer with the Atlanta (Ga.) Civic Ballet, prepares to leave for rehearsal with the Permian Civic Ballet for today's "Christmas Gala" performance at 8:15 p.m. in the Lee High School Auditorium.

Band Entertains Retired Persons

The Midland Chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons was entertained Monday by the Midland Downtown Lions Club Big Name Band during a meeting in the First Christian Church.

Dinner was served, and a business session was conducted by Buster Steger, chapter president. Games of 42 and canasta were played by 58 members and guests attending.

OES Officer Visits Chapter

Mrs. Eldon Reedy of Odessa, deputy grand matron, District 2, Section 8, Order of the Eastern Star, was honored with a dinner recently in the home of Mrs. Tom Cook, worthy matron of Norman Road Chapter No. 1010, OES, prior to her official visit to the chapter.

The official visit session was held in the Masonic Temple. Mrs. Reedy brought personal wishes and projects of Mrs. Patricia Nienast, newly installed worthy grand matron, Grand Chapter of Texas, OES.

Refreshments were served in the Banquet Room by Mrs. Norman Gould and Mrs. Norman Ewbank, assisted by Mrs. Helen Chappell.

Democrats Compromise Two Major Issues With Ease

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Democrats have compromised two major reform issues with surprising ease at their mini-convention. They have begun putting their ranks in order for an assault on the economic policies of the Republican administration.

Diehard labor spokesmen from the party's old guard said after the Wednesday decision they still were not satisfied. But they appeared unable to mount any effective resistance against a compromise from which included many of their own members.

The convention's rules committee overwhelmingly approved compromises on national party power over state party which are expected to be abolished and replaced with mandatory recruitment programs. He replied, "Easier."

However, a few labor delegates said Wednesday night they were not happy with the compromises and planned to meet next week with AFL-CIO President George Meany to discuss at least a token withdrawal from Democratic party affairs.

Labor sources said some of of convention delegates and the setting of rules. But it left open the possibility of clemency for state parties which are unable to change local laws to bring them into conformity with national Democratic standards. This passed by voice vote.

The other compromise was an even more significant rollback on the rule which says each presidential candidate

21 Employees Of San Antonio Transit System Are Ordered To Jail By Judge

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Twenty-one employees of the San Antonio Transit System were to report today before a district judge who ordered them jailed Wednesday for contempt of court.

Each of the employees also was fined $50.

The employees were to appear before the judge for the signing of the judgment.

Nineteen drivers were to be jailed for 30 days and two mechanics for five days.

Judge Robert Murray found the employees in contempt of a back to work court order. They are members of the Amalgamated Transit Union Local 694 (AFL-CIO).

Union attorney Frank Herrera said Wednesday he would take a copy of the order to the Texas Supreme Court and ask for a writ of habeas corpus to free the men until the high court holds a hearing on the contempt matter.

The judge last Monday found the union and 23 members in contempt of a temporary restraining order prohibiting a strike or organized work stoppage.

Judge Murray Wednesday excused two of the men from sentencing. One was ill and the other had not been served his legal notice. Nineteen System employees stood before the judge Wednesday to explain why they had not reported to work since Nov. 14.

Each said he had made a personal decision not to report for work and that he is waiting for better pay and benefit offers from management.

The two men not speaking to the court were mechanics drawing five-day jail terms. Through their attorney they

Butz Challenged To Milking Contest

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Pennsylvania Agriculture Secretary James A. McHale has challenged U.S. Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz to a milking contest.

McHale, a severe critic of Butz, said the contest could be held next Wednesday when the two are expected to attend a dairy award program at Roaring Spring.

Ford Heires Sues For Divorce

NEW YORK (AP) — The former Anne Ford has started divorce proceedings against her husband of nine years, Giancarlo Uzielli. She is the daughter of Henry Ford II, chairman of Ford Motor Co., and has two children.

Papers were filed Wednesday in state Supreme Court, Manhattan.

Package Bomb Kills One, Hurts Eight

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — A package bomb exploded while being examined at a United Parcel Service center here early today, killing one man and injuring eight others, police said.

Police Lt. Ralph Pampena said a UP worker had removed a package wrapped in brown paper from a line to inspect it because the ZIP code didn't match the address.

He said other workers reported seeing wires sticking out of the package, and that it exploded when the worker started to unwrap it.

The dead man was not immediately identified.

Other workers reportedly told police they understood a bomb threat had been phoned to the UPS office, which handles western Pennsylvania deliveries.

Dozens of policemen sealed off the site shortly after the 2:55 a.m. explosion.

Local hospitals said six men were in satisfactory condition and two others were released after treatment.

One man working in the blast area said: "I heard it and saw it. I saw a big ... a ball of flame."

According to another worker: "I saw a big blast and it knocked me against the truck. I came over to the other side and there were bodies laying all over the middle of the floor."

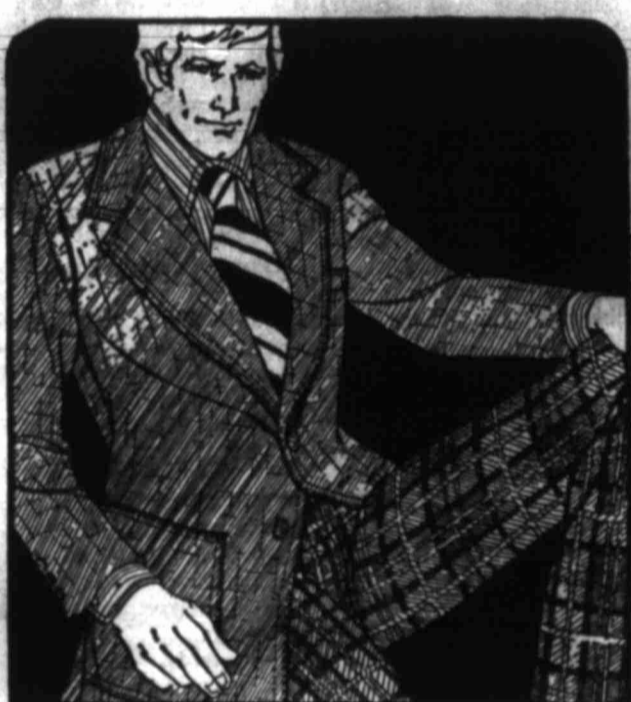

A representative of Allegheny General Hospital said four men had been admitted, and all were in satisfactory condition with "general lacerations and contusions."

At St. Johns Hospital two men, Dale McGinley, 23, and Robert Bahl, 26, both of Pittsburgh, were reported in satisfactory condition.

Two other men were released after treatment for minor injuries.

Some Colleagues Believe Ailing Mills May Resign From Congress

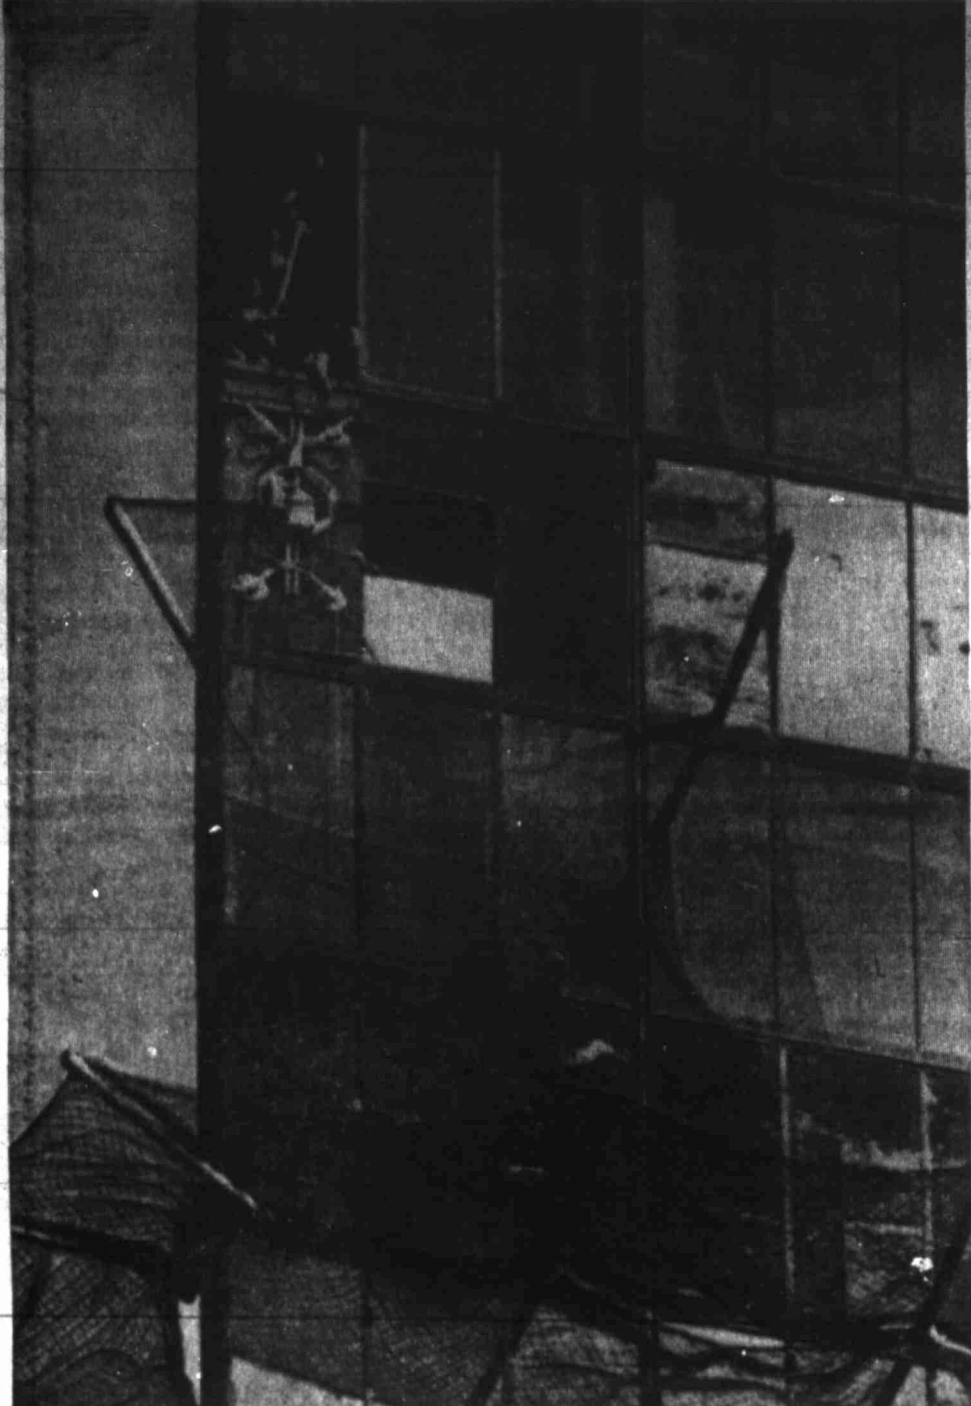

WASHINGTON (AP) — Colleagues of Rep. Wilbur D. Mills say he may resign from Congress now that he has virtually no chance of remaining chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

The once-powerful chairman was reported heavily sedated at the Bethesda Naval Medical Center and receiving no visitors other than his wife, while congressional Democrats speculated about his future.

House Speaker Carl B. Albert left little question Wednesday about Mills' future role in Congress.

Asked at a news conference if he assumed that Mills would not be Ways and Means chairman if he returns to the 94th Congress that convenes next month, Albert replied: "I think that's a pretty accurate statement."

One of the Arkansas's closest friends in Congress, Rep. Joe D. Waggoner, D-La., said he didn't think Mills would choose to remain in the House with his power base taken from him. Other members of the committee have made similar comments in private.

TIA Operations Halt Completely

HOUSTON (AP) — All operations were shut down at Texas International Airlines' system in nine states and Mexico today after pilots honored picket lines set up by ground personnel already on strike.

Airlines spokesman Jim O'Donnell said the carrier's 280 pilots, members of the Airline Pilots' Association, notified the company Wednesday night they would honor the picket lines today.

O'Donnell said the company began shutting down the airlines when notified of the pilots' decision.

The pilots came as a surprise to the airline which serves 23 of the 24 cities in Texas that receive airline service and eight other states in the southwest and west and four cities in Mexico.

Airline spokesman Jim O'Donnell said the carrier's 280 pilots, members of the Airline Pilots' Association, notified the company Wednesday night they would honor the picket lines today.

Contract negotiations between the union and the airlines broke down at midnight Thanksgiving Day. The present contract between the Airline Employees Association and the airline expired last August.

O'Donnell said earlier that the association had asked for a 50 per cent pay raise over the next two years. However, John Hayes, the union's regional representative in Houston, said the union has asked for a 16 per cent hike over a two-year period and the carrier had offered 12.3 per cent.

Contract negotiations between the union and the airlines broke down at midnight Thanksgiving Day. The present contract between the Airline Employees Association and the airline expired last August.

O'Donnell said negotiations between the union and company representatives, in the presence of a federal mediator, were scheduled to resume Friday in St. Paul, Minn.

The report of the nominating committee was submitted by John Tyler, chairman.

Christmas Suit Drive Under Way At Boys Ranch

AMARILLO — The annual drive to provide the 370 boys at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch with a new suit or clothing package is under way.

Jet Crash Kills All 191 Aboard

COLOMBO, Sri Lanka (AP) — Parachutists were dropped on a rocky hill today where a chartered Dutch airliner crashed and burned, the airline reported.

Providing new clothing for the boys through the Christmas Suit Fund has become a favorite way of Christmas giving for friends of the boys who contribute $35 for this purpose.

The pilot was preparing to land at Colombo's Bandaranaike airport, and police said he gave no indication of any trouble.

Special discounts by Amarillo merchants and differences in prices of clothing for younger and older boys make the average cost of $35 possible.

Martinair said the parachutists were dropped after helicopters were unable to land at the crash site because of continuing bad weather.

The suits replace those that have been worn out or outgrown, and in many cases, they are the first new suits some boys have ever owned.

Martinair said the parachutists were dropped after helicopters were unable to land at the crash site because of continuing bad weather.

The boys get to select their own clothing in Amarillo stores, and the suits will be worn by graduating seniors next spring.

Cover-Up Trial To Conclude Without Testimony By Nixon

The Nixon response concluded that "it would be highly unfair to require Mr. Nixon to be subjected to the interrogation proposed until a date well after Jan. 6, 1975."

The response was made public shortly before Nixon was to rule on whether Nixon's testimony must be obtained before the trial can end.

Meanwhile, Watergate prosecutors concluded their cross-examination of former White House chief of staff H. R. Haldeman.

During Haldeman's testimony on Wednesday, it was disclosed that Nixon once offered Haldeman and fellow White House aide John D. Ehrlichman money for a secret $200,000 to $300,000 fund to pay legal expenses that might arise from their involvement in Watergate.

Conclusion that Mr. Nixon must have substantial time to prepare himself for interrogation, the response continued.

House Votes To Block Government From Getting Sex And Race Data About Teachers From Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has voted to block the federal government from obtaining sex and race data from schools, ignoring warnings that this would stop enforcement of civil rights laws.

The House endorsed on Wednesday, 212-170, an amendment by Rep. Marjorie Holt, R-Md., to prevent schools getting federal funds from being compelled to classify teachers or students by race, religion, sex or national origin.

Senate leaders will try to amend or knock out the Holt amendment, probably next week.

Those of Asian descent and civil rights-oriented white members said the Holt amendment would go far beyond Rep. Holt's intention of ending student busing.

They said it would preclude HEW from gathering the needed data to implement the entire 1964 civil rights act barring racial discrimination, the 1972 antisex discrimination act, the bilingual education act and various Indian education acts.

Midland Bell Executive Brands Charges 'Misleading'

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.'s top executive in Midland today blasted charges of improper operating practices which have been leveled at the company in the wake of the filing of a $29 million civil suit against Southwestern Bell.

Royce Brookmole, Midland district manager, said the claims of fraudulent rate-setting procedures, illegal political dealings and wiretapping have misled the phone company's 600 miles.

The Bell figures for night rates (between 11 p.m. and 5 a.m.) show Texas paying approximately the same as the 42-state average, or a little less, up to 300 miles where Texans pay 2 cents more. The Texas rate is 4 cents higher at 400 miles, 13 cents higher at 500 miles and 12 cents higher at 600 miles.

The Texas price is lower by as much as 5 cents at the weekend rate with one exception — a call of 500 miles. In that instance the Texas rate is 5 cents higher.

The Bell figures show Texas customers paying cheaper-than-average rates for all station-to-station operator assisted calls. Person-to-person rates are mixed, some being cheaper in Texas and some more expensive.

Others Cost More

The figures show Texas' intrastate rates as lower than those of a number of states, including Alabama, Florida, Indiana, Kentucky, Mississippi, Nebraska, New York, South Carolina, Tennessee and Wisconsin. Missouri's rates are shown to be slightly lower. Arizona's are almost identical to Texas.

Interstate rates are regulated by the Federal Communications Commission.

The phone company's rates seek to encourage direct dialing, Brookmole said, and part of that philosophy "explains the investment ($17.3 million expansion) we are currently making in Midland."

Texas is the only state without a utilities regulating commission.

Cases Individual

Rate increases in Texas are negotiated by the phone company with individual communities through the city councils.

Bell customers in Midland benefit with lower base rates because the high volume of long distance calls made by the companies reduces the percentage of Bell's investment allocated to local use.

Royce Brookmole... proud of company

Brookmole said today he still has received no subpoena or official notification he will be asked to appear. He said he has read in newspapers that depositions will be taken beginning Dec. 19 and he assumes he will be asked to testify then. If asked, he will comply, he said.

"I have known both Mr. Ashley and the late Mr. Gravitt for a number of years — Ashley since 1968 and Gravitt since 1965," he said.

Regret Expressed

"I've known both men quite well, although geography has separated us for the most part since 1970."

Brookmole was in New York three years with American Telephone and Telegraph Co. prior to coming to Midland 1 1/2 years ago. During that time Ashley and Gravitt have been in San Antonio and Dallas, he said.

"I naturally very much regret what has happened," he said.

Brookmole, 2808 Sentinel, said he could not discuss the details of the lawsuit, "largely because of a lack of knowledge."

He said he has had no instructions or questions from any of his superiors regarding the suit or his role as a potential witness.

Midland Clear

"I have been given no information as to why I am being called. I assume it would be in the nature of a character witness."

"To my knowledge Midland is in no way involved," he said. "I have had not the slightest hint that anyone in Midland or any activity involving Midland people is involved in either the lawsuit or the investigation conducted by the company."

(An internal investigation by Southwestern Bell into activities by some of its supervisors is part of the basis for the pending lawsuit. The plaintiffs charge Bell with harassment of Ashley and Gravitt.)

The Midland executive, 44, said publicity surrounding the lawsuit and his role as a witness, as well as the adverse publicity which the company has drawn have produced some strain on him and his family and close friends.

Friends Concerned

"I get lots of feeling from many people outside the business that they think everyone in Southwestern Bell is going to get fired. The truth is no one is."

"Interested family and friends have expressed concern and sympathy because of the attacks being made on the company."

"Most businessmen I come in contact with feel that it (the situation) is too sensitive to bring up in my presence. I usually break the ice and ask them what they've read about us (Bell) today. This seems to take the pressure off."

"It has been comforting to me that many people I come into contact with have not fallen hook, line and sinker for the charges that have been made against the company."

"This suggests to me that most people have a great deal of confidence in the telephone company and the way we try to manage it."

Brookmole said. This, he said, is Midland's good fortune.

"I don't think there is any question we are operating in a fair way that would justify any rate increase we might ask for," he said.

"We are not trying to take advantage of the fact there is not a state utilities commission."

"Many cities, of which Midland is one, have gone on record as being opposed to state-imposed rates."

"In this day and time of concern over big government and big government budgets it doesn't make sense to add 500 or 600 state employees to form a new agency."

The state utilities commission in California, Brookmole said, has more employees than the Federal Communications Commission and costs Californians approximately $1 per telephone yearly in taxes.

He criticized anti-trust action initiated recently against American Telephone and Telegraph Co. by the U.S. Justice Department.

Bell Largest Employer

"The Bell System is the largest private employer in the world with just over one million employees."

"People think we're big, but fail to realize there are over 3.5 million government employees in the United States," Brookmole said.

"If adding a new state bureaucracy would necessarily solve all problems for all people, it might be worth it. But the experience of other state boards leads me to believe that would not be the case."

"Certainly it does not necessarily mean lower rates, as our statistics point out."

Bell Official Says Executives Gave To Tarrant County Political Race

FORT WORTH (AP) — A Southwest Bell Co. official says company executives contributed to political races in Tarrant County by providing large sums to a city councilman who then distributed the money "the way he felt it could be used best."

Some of the contributions came from Bell officers in Dallas County.

The revelation Wednesday by Bill Serrault, Bell division manager for Fort Worth, followed a statement by a San Antonio Bell official who said contributions also were made through the public affairs office of the company.

A spokesman for the company here said the contributions were not made because of pressure or company policy. He said that Dallas executives put personal money into the races in Tarrant County because the candidates probably were recommended to them by the company's "legislative contact" staff.

Serrault said he solicited donations from company executives for indirect contributions to 1973 council candidates.

He explained that he collected between $800 and $1,600 from ten or 20 employees. The money then was turned over to then-councilman Taylor Gandy for distribution.

City records show that Gandy contributed $1,000 to the reelection of Mayor R. M. Stovall.

Serrault said "Gandy was a trustee for a fund to be distributed the way he felt it could be used the best." He said persons making contributions understood that the money would be distributed to candidates running on a "slate."

The disclosure of contributions to political races followed the filing of a $29 million libel and defamation suit by dismissed San Antonio Bell executive James Ashley and the family of the late T. O. Gravitt.

Gravitt, who was Bell's manager for Texas, committed suicide on Oct. 17 at his Dallas home. His family and attorneys said he left several notes in which he referred to alleged political funds set up by Bell and unlawful rate-setting practices by the company.

In San Antonio Jada Davis, chief public relations officer for the company, said executives often made contributions to political races outside their home areas.

He said that for those contributions "we do depend on our public affairs people to give some guidance. We do send that money back to our public affairs people for distribution to the campaigns."

Bell has denied that it maintains a political slush fund in Texas.

Severe Psoriasis Treatment May Be Available By '76

BOSTON (AP) — A major new treatment for severe psoriasis could be available in doctors' offices by 1976, researchers say in announcing successful results of initial clinical tests.

The treatment can control the unsightly and uncomfortable skin disease in the worst cases without messy ointments or toxic drugs now commonly used, the scientists report.

In tests conducted in Boston and Vienna, Austria, the researchers say the new treatment — which uses a light-sensitive drug and powerful ultraviolet radiation — cleared severe, generalized psoriasis in 84 of 85 patients.

In a study of 21 of the cases published today in the New England Journal of Medicine, the Massachusetts General Hospital researchers said the disease still was incurable, but regular treatments with the new method could ward off the symptoms indefinitely.

The researchers, Drs. John A. Parrish, Thomas B. Fitzpatrick, Lewis Tanenbaum and Madhukar A. Pathak, said that an estimated 75 million persons throughout the world suffer from the malady in varying degrees, including up to 8 million in the United States.

Minister Offers Divorce Ceremony To Ease Transition

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — A ceremony to release a couple from their marriage vows could go a long way toward easing the pain of a bitter divorce, a Methodist minister says.

And although Donald Fado has only performed two such ceremonies in his career, he views his unique idea as a valuable tool to ease the transition between marriage and life as an "ex-wife or husband."

"There needs to be some kind of therapeutic understanding of their new relationship," said Fado, who serves at the United Church Center here. "It's more a counseling situation than a religious ceremony, although the fact that I am a minister gives it religious connotation."

The ceremony is not formalized, and Fado says the different problems each couple faces would require a different approach in each case.

The divorce ceremony would provide a final realization that the marriage is over, Fado said. It would allow the couple to free themselves of guilt by releasing hostilities and expressing their honest feelings about the broken relationship.

Fado feels the best time for a divorce ceremony would be after the fact. "When a person is at the point of a divorce, emotions are often too high to face the problem."

Scabies Reported At El Paso Feedlot

WASHINGTON (AP) — Scabies, a skin disease of cattle, continues to be a problem for stockmen in parts of the country despite federal and state efforts to curb its spread.

The Agriculture Department says two more outbreaks have been detected, raising the total to 11 so far since July 1. About 105,000 cattle have been involved.

Officials said Wednesday the latest outbreaks of scabies — caused by tiny mites burrowing into an animal's skin — involved 6,000 cattle in a feedlot in El Paso County, Tex., and 11 animals on a farm in Stevens County, Kan. Quarantines were imposed, USDA said.

Michigan Senate Adopts State Bug

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Michigan Senate, stung Wednesday by insinuations it was wasting valuable time, rejected a bill which would have made the honey bee the state insect.

"There is nothing that makes us look more absurd than legislating a state insect," huffed state Sen. Jack Faxon of Detroit. "Especially at a time when we're trying to get the bugs out of state government."

Walkout Against Paper Firm Ends

THUNDER BAY, Ont. (AP) — A strike by 1,200 sawmill workers against the Great Lakes Paper Co. has ended, and the company says production will return to normal as soon as enough wood is cut.

The strike began Oct. 11. The men returned to work last Thursday after ratifying a two-year contract that included a pay increase of $1.75 an hour.

Under the contract that expired Aug. 31, the workers received a base rate of $4.16 an hour. Under the new agreement, they will get 90 cents an hour more retroactive to Sept. 1, 20 cents more Jan. 1 and 65 cents more next Sept. 1.

The agreement also includes a cost of living allowance of one cent an hour for each 0.35 per cent increase in the consumer price index between Dec. 31 and May 1. Adjustments will be made thereafter every three months.

Midland Youth Center Chatter

By GAYLE GRIMLAND, LESLIE MORGAN AND VICKI THROCKMORTON

CAMPUS LIFE
Attention Seniors: The time has come. Yes, GRADUATION! Be thinking of how many graduation announcements you will need because Wednesday is the day to order, in advisory. If you are planning on going on to college, you will need to take the SAT or ACT in order to be accepted by most colleges. For those of you who signed up for the SAT on December 7, don't forget that the test is this SATURDAY morning. Today was the deadline for signing up for the January 11 Achievement tests. By paying a penalty fee of $4, one still may be able to sign up till December 19. Hey SENIORS, get on the ball and get these tests over with.

POPULAR SCIENCE
 Most everyone will agree that the assembly on "This Atomic World" was most entertaining and informative. Not only did everyone see a model of an atom but also an atom smasher! Brad Godfrey, Bobby Chinn, Billy Kerr, and Greg Smith helped make the assembly amusing. Hope this is a start toward having many more assemblies as good as this one. Way to go Pam, Karla, and Rich!!!

SATURDAY REVIEW
 The Christmas season will get off to a good start Saturday with Midland's annual Christmas Parade. Many floats using "The Songs of Christmas" as a theme will compete for cash prizes. The parade begins at 10 a.m. The Youth Center float is hopefully near completion. Riding on the float will be Shelley Boyd, Riley Barton, Leslie Morgan, Gayle Grimland, Dale Herrick, Margo Wilson and Angie Rasco. So come out and get in the holiday spirit.

BETTER HOMES, GARDENS
 Future Homemakers of America will have a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Flame Room at Pioneer Natural Gas Co. Anyone is welcome to attend this Christmas demonstration. It will be well worth your time to attend. Cookbooks still are on sale and can be ordered by any member or by contacting Mrs. Davenport.

SPORTS ILLUSTRATED
 Bulldog Cagers made a fine showing last weekend in the Tall City Tournament. Congratulations go to Donny Roberts and Michael Cobb for making the All-Tournament team!!! Last Tuesday, MHS quintet came out on top over Pecos, 76-51. Way to hustle. Five Roundballers play Monday and Tuesday this week. Monday, they face Fort Stockton in the Midland High gym. As usual, varsity begins at 8 p.m. and JV at 6:15. Tuesday, the Pack will travel to Hobbs, N.M. to kill 'em! Sophs play at 4:15 p.m.; JV 6:45, and Varsity 8:30. Try and make these exciting games.

FAMILY HEALTH
 Betsy Morrison, Shannon Bates, and Amy Dean have been feeling better soon!

As always, Gayle, Leslie, Vicki, P.S. Dusty Hicks, does the bump have anything to do with making a better score on SAT? Anyway, GOOD LUCK! P.S.S. Only two more Chatters till Christmas!!!!

Those interested in giving the first Senior Girls Party are asked to meet at 2 p.m. Sunday at Leslie Morgan's 1601 W. Storey St. This is very important. Themes will be discussed and possibly voted on.

Beginning Monday, nominations will be taken for the 74-75 Catoico Court, continuing through Friday, Dec. 14. Any Senior, junior or sophomore may nominate a senior girl to be nominated formally and presented to the Student Body in an assembly next week. Names may be turned in to Tanya Zoller, John Wambaugh or Mr. Cobb.

Take a minute to notice the monthly calendars in both the trophy room and Student Center. The cabinet position of Public Relations deserves recognition for its brightly glittered December news bulletin. We can tell that Karen Rooker and Ronnie Ainsworth put a lot of work into it!!! Julie Hall and Mary Motter have become stars in their performance in the Permian Civic Ballet, "Christmas Gala." Don't miss it tonight at Lee High at 8:15, with season tickets being sold at the door. The cast is excited, especially having a guest dancer featured.

GLAMOUR
 Boys, time is quickly passing by. Before you know it the football banquet will be here. In fact it will be next Thursday night at 6:30. Better line up your date.

Also coming up on the agenda is the Youth Center's Christmas Dance. It will be Saturday night, Dec. 14, with Sweetbriar playing. Hopefully, our

U.S. Grand Jury Questions Estelle In Prison Inquiry

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal grand jury, probing alleged brutality at the Texas Department of Correction's Retrievement Unit, was expected to hear more testimony today from TDC director W. J. Estelle. Estelle, one of 22 prison officials subpoenaed to appear before the grand jury, spent about four hours before the panel Wednesday.

At one point Wednesday, Estelle talked by telephone to Gov. Dolph Briscoe but would not disclose the nature of the conversation. Several prisoners appeared before the grand jury Monday and Tuesday.

LOW NBA POINT TOTAL OF SEASON—

Rockets 'Blanked'

By The Associated Press
You can get by in the National Basketball Association with a minimum of scoring as long as you play good defense. Take away both and what do you have?
The Houston Rockets. The Rockets have been doing neither very well of late and as a result, lost their sixth straight game Wednesday night, an 86-80 decision to the Detroit Pistons.
Houston's point total was the lowest scored in an NBA game this year and set a defensive record for the Pistons.
Bob Lanier scored 10 points as Detroit took a 28-16 first-quarter lead and coasted over Houston. Lanier topped all scorers with 24 points, while teammates Dave Bing and Curtis Rowe added 18 and 14.

Celtics 161, Lakers 99
Dave Cowens scored 32 points, eight of them in the final period, as Boston outlasted undermanned Los Angeles. The Boston center and Los Angeles' Kermit Washington traded punches and were ejected from the game with 49 seconds remaining.
Bullets 114, Trail Blazers 87
Elvin Hayes, Phil Chenier and Kevin Porter pumped in 23 points each to pace Washington's fourth straight victory, an easy decision over Portland.

The victory was Washington's 17th in 23 games.
76ers 109, Kings 105
Billy Cunningham sank four foul shots in the closing 38 seconds to clinch Philadelphia's victory over Kansas City-Omaha. A basket by Leroy Ellis, a 12-year veteran, with five minutes to go gave Philadelphia a 92-90 lead and helped the 76ers end a four-game losing streak. Cunningham finished with 24 points.
Sonics 113, Bucks 103
Seattle, sparked by 37 points from Spencer Haywood and 26 by Fred Brown, snapped Milwaukee's four-game winning streak.

Rocky Maiden Voyage Ends Tonight For WFL

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—A maiden season that was begun with great expectations in July ends deep in red ink here tonight when the World Football League plays its World Bowl with two of the teams which are among its candidates for bankruptcy.
The continuing downhill slide the WFL has been on since late summer will be epitomized tonight by the fact that players for the Birmingham Americans and Florida Blazers haven't been paid in so long they probably qualify for welfare.
As late as Tuesday there was doubt this game would be played, and there was no guarantee even today that all the Birmingham players, who say they haven't been paid in two months, will honor their team vote of two days ago to call off a boycott and participate.
The league insists it is here to stay, and that 1976 will find a WFL playing with such established stars as Larry Conka and Paul Warfield. But there is little doubt this league can endure many more seasons like the one which ends tonight.

Losses since July total about $20 million. One team declared bankruptcy and was folded. Another was dropped at midseason. A third quit with one week to play. Two others moved. Only two teams met all scheduled payrolls, and several are desperately seeking investors in order to stay afloat financially.
Most of those concerns may be put aside tonight when Birmingham, which has won 16 and lost 5, and Florida, 16-5, meet at Legion Field. Just how many persons will come to Legion Field for the 8 p.m. CST game is another matter, and that is crucial to the players.
When it was summer and the WFL seemed to be going well, crowds of 40,000 and more came to watch the Americans. Since the problems began in early fall, those crowds have fallen to a low of 15,000. The players' pay will come solely from the gate receipts.
Whatever happens, tonight's results will not solve the problems of the two teams, or those of the league.

BOOSTERS SET MEETING

The Greenwood School Booster Club will hold its monthly meeting at 8 p.m. tonight in the school cafeteria.
The Greenwood High School cheerleaders will present a program to familiarize adults with the school song and some of the "yells" used at basketball games.
Club members and interested persons are invited to attend. Coaches Bill Anders and Max Dickerson will also give a report on plans for the Greenwood High School boys and girls basketball tournament to be held December 12, 13 and 14.

Orioles Bolster Pennant Hopes

Singleton, Torrez, May Acquired In Two Trades

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Wherever the Baltimore Orioles are playing next year, or whoever owns them, they appear to have boosted their chances for a sixth American League East championship in seven seasons.
The Orioles completed two deals this week at major league baseball's winter meeting and Frank Cashen, general manager of the club, says: "There are four other possible trades but whether we can bring them to fruition remains to be seen."
The acquisition of switch-hitting outfielder Ken Singleton and right-handed pitcher Mike Torrez Wednesday after landing slugging first baseman Lee May Tuesday makes the Orioles look even more impressive.
Give Up McNally
However, they did have to surrender left-handed hurler Dave McNally, a clutch performer who posted 181 victories over 12-plus seasons at Baltimore. Rich Coggins, who was platooned in right field last season, and minor league pitcher Bill Kirkpatrick also moved to Montreal in the day's key transaction.
The Orioles may miss McNally, 32, who had a 16-10 record with a 3.58 earned run average, but they still possess two top southpaw starters in Mike Cuellar and Ross Grimsley and picked up a hard-throwing starter in Torrez, 28, who was 15-8 with a 3.58 ERA in 1974.

Singleton, 27, will move into the right field job at Baltimore. He hit .276 with nine homers and 71 RBI for the Expos last season after batting .302 with 103 RBI and 23 homers in 1973.
Meanwhile, expansion was on the agenda for the National League today and the American League said it most likely would discuss it, too.
Included in Wednesday's talks was the financial difficulties of the Baltimore, Oakland and San Francisco clubs. The Orioles are up for sale by owner Jerry Hoffenberger, D.C. franchise.
Kuhn reiterated his desire to have a franchise back in Washington, D.C. There's a possibility that Baltimore may play some of its games in Washington to alleviate pressure from the nation's capital.
Delegates from Seattle, Denver, Honolulu, Toronto and this host city of the convention are on hand, hopeful of landing the four new franchises which are expected to be added by 1976.

'We Knew It All Along' Wires Sooners' Switzer

When the Sun Bowl in El Paso picked North Carolina and Mississippi State as its post-season combatants, it caused a lot of grumbling in the Southwest Conference, but it seems the network that will televise the game nationally wanted it that way.
Supposedly the network wants the Sun Bowl to shuck its regional image, but North Carolina and Mississippi State is a weird way to do it.
After Baylor rallied from a 24-7 halftime deficit to defeat Texas, 31-24, Coach Grant Teaff and the Bears received a telegram from Oklahoma Coach Barry Switzer, whose Sooners had beaten Baylor 28-11 in the season's opener.
"Congratulations," Barry wired. "Now everybody knows what we knew all along. Baylor has a great football team."

Battle Scene
By Ted Battus
After our facetious comment Sunday that the Cotton Bowl folks were worried over whether there were enough Baptists in Texas to fill the saucer for the Penn State-Baylor game New Year's Day, someone just as facetiously replied, "Stuicks, there are enough Baptists in Midland to fill it."
John McKay of USC is leading the fight to free Pacific-Eight also-rans for bowl bids while Stanford and California are ganging up in opposition to such a move. It may be John envisions a day when someone beats out the Trojans for the Rose Bowl and figures it would be nice to take a trip somewhere over the holidays instead of just traveling down the freeway a few miles for its post-season game.
If the Pac-Eight loosens the rope, chances are the Big 10 may do so, too. Meanwhile, bowl promoters wait hopefully for the verdict.
A couple of weeks ago David Kent's West Texas State tennis team participated in an outdoor tournament at Amarillo on the wind-whipped wastes of the Panhandle, but they'll make up for it next month.

The former Midland High coach will take his team to Hawaii for a weeklong tournament in early January. Kent, who was in Midland for the Midland Tennis Club Fall Tournament, said, "We raised the money for the trip through my West Texas Tennis camp," which David and Midland College Coach Roland Ingram operate June through August.
Texas Tech on the verge of losing football coach Jim Carlen? Carlen received permission from Tech to interview for the South Carolina vacancy, created when Paul Dietzel moved up to athletic director.
Others under consideration are Maryland's Jerry Claiborne, Vanderbilt's Steve Sloan and Mississippi State's Bob Tyler as well as Dallas Cowboy assistant Dan Reeves, who once quarterbacked for the Gamecocks.
When Texas beat TCU, 81-16, it was billed as the worst defeat administered in Southwest Conference history, which extends back to 1915. That's only because the 146-3 plastering Rice handed SMU in 1916 came when the Owls were not a league member.
At least, TCU Coach Jim Shofner can take comfort from the fact that Ray Morrison, coached that Mustang team and survived to compile a record that enabled him to gain the Texas Sportswriters Hall of Fame, a few years ago.

Hoosiers Tough

Indiana Defense Turns Back Kansas

By The Associated Press
"I've felt that Indiana in the last three years developed one of the best basketball defenses in the country," said Kansas Coach Ted Owens after the third-ranked Hoosiers edged his seventh-ranked Jayhawks 74-70 in a dramatic overtime struggle Wednesday night.
Scott May was the star of the Indiana victory even though John Laskowski popped in the basket that put the Hoosiers ahead for keeps with 43 seconds left in the extra period.
May, who poured in 29 points, scored the first nine Indiana points in the overtime battle, one in which the lead see-sawed back and forth five times.
Defense Pays Off
Time after time, Indiana, playing airtight man-for-man defense all the way, forced Kansas to take desperation shots from long range. Only the cross-country marksmanship of Dale Greenlee, Rick Suttle, Tommie Smith and Norm Cook kept it close.
Kansas was guilty of 24 turnovers and Indiana only nine.
Kansas went ahead in the overtime on Suttle's 15-foot corner shot that broke a 60-60 regulation game deadlock.
The Hoosiers, who led at one time 46-38, came right back on May's 13-footer and took the lead when May was fouled on his shot. Donnie Von Moore, who topped Kansas with 17 points, put the Jayhawks out front again, and May sank a five-footer.

The teams continued to trade baskets, and Kansas held the lead for the last time on Von Moore's 15-foot blast with a minute remaining. Laskowski came right back to settle it, hitting from 16 feet.
Terps Romp
In other games involving the nation's ranked teams, No. 4 Maryland routed Wake Forest 99-78; ninth-ranked North Carolina smashed East Tennessee State 93-71; No. 13 Notre Dame stopped Northwestern 100-84 and Providence turned back Brown 78-75.
Maryland, playing without guard John Lucas, defeated Wake Forest for the Terps' first Atlantic Coast Conference basketball victory of the season. Guards Owen Brown and Mo Howard led the Maryland attack, scoring 27 and 26 points respectively in a game that saw the Terps trailing for most of the time.

Davis Leads Heels
North Carolina got 21 points from sophomore forward Walter Davis to beat East Tennessee State. The Tar Heels carried a 45-29 lead into the second half, but East Tennessee cut the lead to nine points on three occasions, the last time at 65-56 with nine minutes left.
Adrian Dantley scored a career-high 44 points, leading Notre Dame over Northwestern. Dantley's performance overshadowed the 37 points by Northwestern's Billy McKinney, also a career high.
Down by five points with 3:42 remaining, Providence rallied to beat Brown. It was the 31st straight defeat of Brown at the hands of the Friars. Providence caught up on the free-throw shooting of freshman Pete Eason and junior Mark McAndrew. The Bruins, behind by a point, 42-41 at halftime, had taken a 69-64 lead with 3:42 to play.

BOSTON, MONTREAL TIE— Black Hawks Rip Scouts

By The Associated Press
The expansion Kansas City Scouts continue to play expansion hockey.
The Chicago Black Hawks pumped in six first-period goals against the Scouts Wednesday night and coasted to a 7-3 National Hockey League triumph.
It was Kansas City's fifth straight loss and dropped their season's slate to 4-19-1.
Rangers 4, Red Wings 2
Rookie Rick Middleton scored his 13th goal of the season and 9th in the last 12 games to ignite a three-goal New York outburst in the second period. Derek Sanderson, Jean Ratelle and Pete Sternkowski got the other New York goals while Marcel Dionne scored his 10th and just missed several others for Detroit.

Seals 3, Flames 1
Rookie Butch Williams scored twice and Ron Huston once for California. Bryan Hextall got the lone Atlanta goal.
Bruins 4, Canadiens 4, tie
Carol Vadnais and Johnny Bucyk scored goals 16 seconds apart with less than two minutes to play to give Boston the draw. Bucyk netted two goals on the night while Guy Lapointe had a pair for Montreal.

Penguins 4, Leafs 2
Third-period goals by Nelson DeBenedet, Chuck Arneson and Vic Hadfield lifted Pittsburgh past Toronto. Lowell MacDonald had a goal and two assists for the Penguins.
Kings 4, North Stars 1
Mike Murphy, Bob Murdoch and Bob Nevin scored third-period goals for Los Angeles. The Kings bombed rookie goaltender Pete Lopresti with 51 shots.

Rebs Face Sandies At Plainview

By BOB DILLON
The Midland Lee Rebels open play in the 20th annual Plainview Invitational Basketball Tourney today at 5:30 p.m. against the Amarillo Golden Sandies while the Midland Bulldogs rest up until Monday when they entertain the Fort Stockton Panthers in the MHS Gymnasium. Lee takes a 5-1 record into the Plainview meet and is defending tourney champion. The Rebels fell to powerful Hobbs, N.M., 101-75, Tuesday night in Hobbs after racking up five straight wins including three in the Tall City Tourney last weekend.

Midland snapped a two-game losing streak Tuesday by whipping Pecos, 76-61, and the Pack now sports a 4-2 season mark. Midland tries Fort Stockton Monday and then has the dubious distinction of playing Hobbs in Hobbs Tuesday before entering the Midwestern Tourney in Wichita Falls, Dec. 12-14.

Lee will play three games in the Plainview Tourney and then go to El Paso Dec. 13-14 to face the Austin Panthers and Irvin Rockets in a two-game series on the border.

Weakened, Wayfaring Whalers Keep Winning

By The Associated Press
The New England Whalers, the World Hockey Association's wayfaring strangers, continue to make themselves at home wherever they go.

The Whalers played their 12th consecutive road game Wednesday night and, despite the absence of several key players with injuries, managed a 3-2 decision over the Cleveland Crusaders.

"This is a game we didn't figure to win," admitted New England Coach Ron Ryan. "Tomorrow night we play our 13th straight road game and we're missing most of our starting players."

"We've got half a club here and half a club back home." In other WHA action, Houston shaded Winnipeg 3-2, San Diego blanked Phoenix 2-0, Minnesota downed Quebec 6-3 and Edmonton topped Vancouver 6-3.

Among the New England players sidelined with assorted injuries are top goalie Al Smith, top goal scorer Tom Webster and top point getter John French. Among the healthy players are Wayne Carlton, Jim Dorey and Mike Byers — and all three scored against Cleveland.

Carlton and Dorey connected in the first period and, after Cleveland's Russ Walker cut the margin to 2-1, Byers scored late in the second to ice it for the Whalers.

Aeros 3, Jets 2
Gordie Howe stole the puck and scored the decisive goal midway through the final period for Houston. Andre Hinse got the first two Aero goals.

Lee, Los Chamaco Polo Teams Meet

Midland Lee's polo match against Los Chamaco of Juarez, Mexico, has been postponed, but a match between 10-goal teams is scheduled for 2 p.m. Sunday.

In a recent match, Wilson Ranch beat Los Rancheros, 8-4, with Buddy Fort and Jimmy Stimmel whacking home three goals apiece for the Wilson team. Tommy Higgins and Cliff Wilderspin each had one. Les Corn's two goals paced Los Rancheros while Alonza Galinda and Tony Shaw had one each. Ryan Reddell was the fourth rider.

Ed Wayman of First National Bank presented the trophies to the winners. Umpires were Duke Wilson and Tony Devcich.

Schultz, Wallis On Fall All-Stars

By ED PRELL
R-T Correspondent
SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. — Well, it was quite a season! But for the third successive time, it was like going back to see an old movie, hoping it would end differently. It was the same old story in this real life drama of the Arizona Instructional League — the California Angels.

Opponents, however, are moving up on the only American League club in the five-team circuit. In 1972 the Angels won by five games. Last year the margin was four. In this season, ending Nov. 23, they had a three-game lead.

Also, there were only eight games difference between the Angels and the fifth place Dodgers. The Cubs were second, three games behind; the Padres third, 4½ laps in arrears; and the Giants fourth, seven games out.

The new-coming Padres were the toughest in the last five weeks when they won 14 of 22, against 13-10 for the Angels, 12-13 for the Cubs.

The 21 members of the 1974 All-Star squad were selected by vote of the five teams, each required to eliminate its own players. The Angels landed seven, Giants five, Padres four, Dodgers three, and Cubs two. Forty-four of the approximate 125 players drew at least one vote.

THE ALL-STAR SQUAD (And Votes Received)

Pitchers—Dennis Lewallyn, Dodgers (4); Pat Cristelli, Angels (4); Gary Wheelock, Angels (3); Budd Schultz, Cubs; Pete Falcone and Dave Heavrilor, Giants, and Larry Corrigan, Dodgers, 2 each.

Catchers—Jerry Stone, Padres (3); Bob Allietta, Angels (2); Bill Hodge, Padres (2).

First Baseman—Joe Zagarino, Giants (2). (Three others received one vote: Jerry Tab, Cubs; Claude Westmoreland, Dodgers, and Lawrence Rish, Angels).

Second Baseman—Wendell Kim, Giants (1, plus 2 votes for utility infielder.) Four other received 1 vote each: Kevin Drury and Rob Sperring of Cubs, Mike Miley and Dave Machermer of Angels. (Drury also had 1 vote for utility infielder.)

ON 3-AAA ALL-STARS— Robinson Unanimous Pick

SNYDER — Lamesa's Melvin Robinson was the only unanimous selection to the District 3-AAA all-district team named by league coaches Monday.

The 6-2, 195-pound senior star was selected as both a defensive and offensive back.

The only other Lamesa player to make the first team defense was 6-2, 225-pound Billy Mayfield, a senior. Snyder paced the all-district selections with five players named to the first units.

3 SWC Players On All-America

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Three Southwest Conference gridgers were included on the 1974 All-American team as the Football Writers Association announced its selections.

Included on the offensive team was Baylor's Aubrey Schultz at center while the defensive unit include SMU's Louis Kelcher at a down lineman position and A&M's Pat Thomas at deep back.

Randy White, a 6-4, 248-pound defensive tackle from Maryland, won the Outland Trophy as the top college guard or tackle.

Reeves Returns To Ring Ex-Gloves Champ Coaches Midland Team

One-time West Texas Golden Gloves champion Leroy Reeves is back in action, only this time as boxing coach of the Midland Boxing team, which is being co-sponsored by the Jaycoos and the Boys Club.

Reeves, one of the classier boxers in the lighter divisions some 15 years ago, is working with a team of 15 boys.

"Most of 'em are juniors," says Leroy, "and since they seem to be phasing out that division in the Golden Gloves, we would like to encourage high school, novice and open division boxers to come out."

The team holds its workouts Mondays through Thursdays from 8:30 to 10 p.m. at a warehouse in the 200 block of Main Street, right across from J.C. Penney's.

After a long absence, Leroy has a personal interest in the team since his son, Brian, a sophomore at Midland Lee is training in the 110-pound class of the high school division.

Some of the other boxers working out with the team include Steve Sutter, 145; Ross Bush, 175-pound Midland High senior, and Jesse Hall, 145, all high school division fighters. Paul Fine, 135, novice, and Ray Flores, 145, open are the only boxers in those divisions.

The team will see action next weekend in Odessa as part of a series of tuneup bouts for the Odessa Golden Gloves scheduled for February.

SPORTS SCRAPBOOK Big Ten Abandons Controversial System

By The Associated Press

Dallas Cowboy officials had no legal right to stop Cowboy players from signing with the World Football League, the Texas Supreme court ruled Wednesday, in reference to Cowboy claims that Calvin Hill, Craig Morton and Mike Montgomery had been "raided" by the WFL.

The Big Ten abandoned its long controversial voting procedure for picking the Rose Bowl representative and field-performance will be the basis for future selections.

In the future the Big Ten representative will be determined: 1. Conference champion (highest winning percentage) 2. If two tie, the winner of the game between the teams will go 3. If tying teams did not meet during the season, the highest winning percentage of all games played will be the choice. 4. If there's still a tie, the most recent team to represent the conference in the Rose Bowl will be eliminated.

LITTLE ALL-AMERICA— Grambling Tackle Nabs Berth For Third Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Defensive tackle Gary Johnson of Grambling has been named to The Associated Press College Division All-America football team for the third year in a row.

Johnson was joined by four others who made the team for the second time — running back Mike Thomas of Nevada-Las Vegas, offensive guard Herb Scott of Virginia Union, center Mark King of Troy State and middle guard Glenn Fleming of Northeast Louisiana.

Thomas missed 2½ games with an ankle injury but still gained 1,408 yards and scored 17 touchdowns on the ground, plus a two-point conversion. He also caught seven passes for 131 yards and two more touchdowns.

McMillan completed 192 of 313 passes — 61.3 per cent — for 2,900 yards and 23 touchdowns in 11 regular-season games and holds virtually every passing and total offense record in the Big Sky Conference.

Payton was 14th in the voting for the Heisman Trophy, No. 1 among College Division players. He carried 175 times this season for 1,029 yards and scored 19 touchdowns, four one-point conversions, one two-point conversion and a field goal.

Talbert, a sophomore, gained 1,478 yards and had two games in which he gained more than 220 yards.

Midland Students In 'Private Lives' At Southwestern

GEORGETOWN — Midlanders Ann Thomas and Mary Macina, both students at Southwestern University, are involved in a production of the Noel Coward comedy classic, "Private Lives," which begins tonight.

The play is produced by the Mask and Wig Players at Southwestern and is directed by Fred Goodson, member of the theater faculty in the university's School of Fine Arts. He is assisted by Dr. Angus Springer, chairman of the SWU theater department and sponsor of the Mask and Wig Players.

Today's opening performance is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Alma Thomas Theatre on the SWU campus. Other performances are scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday and 2:30 and 8 p.m. Saturday.

Both Miss Macina and Miss Thomas are involved in backstage work on the current production. Miss Macina, a freshman majoring in theater, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Macina. Miss Thomas, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Thomas, is a senior theater major at Southwestern.

'Christmas Gala' Slated Tonight

Permian Civic Ballet will on a snowy winter evening unveil its newest dance work "The Nutcracker" with its as well as repeating a beloved melodic score by Tchaikovsky. The company presents its annual "Christmas Gala" in Lee High School auditorium tonight.

The holiday dance concert is scheduled to begin at 8:15 p.m. Tickets will be available at the doors before performance time.

Sharing honors in the event will be "Les Patineurs" (The Skaters), a dance work new to Permian Civic's repertoire, and the second act of the colorful "The Nutcracker," which the dance company traditionally presents here at the Christmas season.

"Les Patineurs," mounted to music by Giacomo Meyerbeer as arranged by Britain's Constant Lambert, is the happy story of a group of carefree young people out on a skating party.

Special guest artists for the concert will be Anne Burton, a former ballerina with the Atlanta Ballet, and Edward M. Johnson, artistic director of the University of Oklahoma, joined by William Martin Vincent of Fort Worth, artistic adviser and part-time resident in residence for Permian Civic Ballet.

The Permian Civic Ballet, although Midland-based and heavily Midland-supported, is area-wide in scope including as it does dancers from several Permian Basin cities and drawing as it does on residents of numerous area communities for attendance at its concerts.

In the Permian troupe this season are two dancers from Andrews, several from Odessa and more than two dozen from Midland.

Tonight's event is the first of two dance programs scheduled this season. Permian Civic's annual "Spring Gala" will be presented next April.

Houston Ballet Tours Southwest With 'Nutcracker'

HOUSTON — The Houston Ballet, under the artistic direction of Nina Popova, is currently on a swing through the Southwest with its full production of the famous ballet, "The Nutcracker." The tour included recent performances in Albuquerque, N.M., and Shreveport, La., as well as upcoming performances in San Antonio on Dec. 14 and 15, sponsored by the San Antonio Symphony, and in Dallas on Dec. 20 and 22. The Dallas performances will be presented jointly with the Dallas Civic Ballet. The tour also includes master classes in each of the cities.

On arrival in Albuquerque, the company was given a reception by Mayor Harry E. Kenny at his home. On Thanksgiving Day, company members were invited to dinner with families of the board of the sponsoring organization, The New Mexico Ballet. The company returns to Houston on Christmas Eve and will give 10 Houston performances of "The Nutcracker," beginning Dec. 26 in Jesse H. Jones Hall for the Performing Arts.

'Primate' Tasteless, Senselessly Offensive

By JAY SHARBUTT

NEW YORK (AP) — The Public Broadcasting Service, for reasons unknown to me, tonight is airing a 105-minute wretched excess called "Primate."

Made by Emmy award-winner Frederick Wiseman, it's a purported film study of the Yerkes Primate Research Center in Atlanta, Ga., into the behavior of gorillas, orangutans, chimpanzees and monkeys.

For my dough, it is the most tasteless, nauseating, misleading and senselessly offensive program ever to hit television, and not just because it scores a dubious first—scenes of primates actually copulating or being masturbated right there in living black and white.

The major crime in the show is Wiseman's cinema-verite technique, in which he lets the camera grind away without any outside attempt to explain the purposes of research activities seen in the program.

The technique, which asks us to make our own judgments unaided, might be justified if the subject doesn't require specific academic knowledge on the part of the viewer.

"Primate" requires such knowledge, yet the only discussions of the center's often shocking — to laymen — experiments come from the Yerkes scientists at two dull, clinical staff meetings Wiseman filmed.

The discussions are general, not specific, and come way too late in the show to offset the gut-churning and eventually numbing scenes of experimentation and observation. But as the old saying goes, looks are deceiving and those "Primate" scenes cry out for explanation, not merely the whim of the camera and an intent to incite emotion and avoid reason.

Wiseman's no-comment approach, needless to say, has greatly distressed the center's director, Dr. Geoffrey Bourne, who in a phone interview Tuesday called parts of the show "grossly misleading."

Dr. Bourne said he's taped a three-minute statement to be shown before the program airs on WETV in Atlanta and said he's also trying to get it broadcast by PBS at the start of the show tonight.

He said the statement cites three specific segments in which viewers may think the animals are suffering or being tortured when that just isn't the case.

The statement also says, he added, that no animal seen in the show "is subjected to any pain whatsoever" (he apparently missed one scene where one understandably yelps when getting a hypodermic needle in the buttocks). Bourne said the statement goes on to say that no animal at the center ever has caused significant pain in any experiment.

Even if PBS doesn't run the statement, I hope viewers tuning in tonight — they'd better have strong stomachs — realize that without explanations of what they see, they're getting spurious goods.

This show undoubtedly will further blot Wiseman's reputation as a daring documentarian. Okay. But I suspect J. Fred Mugs could have done "Primate" with considerably more intelligence and fairness.

MCT Comedy Begins Second Weekend Tonight

Midland Community Theatre takes its current attraction, "How the Other Half Loves," into a second weekend with performances today, Friday and Saturday.

The adult comedy, final production of MCT's 1974 season, will have an 8 p.m. curtain today, and 8:30 curtains Friday and Saturday. A matinee performance will be offered at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, with additional performances scheduled next week and the week after. For information on ticket availability for specific performances, telephone Theatre Centre, 682-2544.

Film Buff Extraordinaire Has Seen 'Only A Few Thousand' Movies

NEW YORK (AP) — Leonard Maltin, film buff extraordinaire, says he was only 17 when he signed a contract to write a book of 8,000 capsule summaries and reviews of movies we see on TV now and then.

Now, at the ripe old age of 24, he's just completed a 1975 edition of "TV Movies," the title of his original work, and says the new model covers 10,000 movies, including 300 made exclusively for television. Eight thousand or 10,000, that still is enough to cause a cinematic coronary. But Maltin is the first to admit he personally hasn't seen all of them. "Only a few thousand," is the way he modestly puts it.

Each book's data on cast, director, plot and running time is drawn from various cinematic bibles, he says.

The quickie reviews, he adds, are (a) his own; (b) those of his film buff colleagues who helped him prepare the book; (c) a consensus of leading film critics when a given film was released, or (d) all of these. Except in a few cases, he makes the final judgment on the reviews.

DANCE CALLER — Al Eblen of Wichita Falls will be the caller for the 8 p.m. Friday square dance of the Grand Squares Club in the M-Square on Warren Road.

TOGETHER AGAIN — Permian Playhouse actors and actresses who have worked together in various combinations in past productions of Odessa's community theater are together again in "Forty Carats," scheduled to open Friday night. Flo Hughes, center, veteran of a half-dozen or more PPH productions, has the pivotal role of Ann Stanley in the new show. Others include, clockwise from top, Oscar Russell, Larry Carter, Ren Pettijohn and Anne Caldwell. Tickets for Friday and Saturday night performances of the comedy through Dec. 21 are on sale daily at the theater, 310 W. 42nd St. The box office telephone number is 362-2329.

Texas Artist Grandee Opens Art Exhibit In U.S. Capitol

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas artist Joe Rutz Grandee has opened an exhibition of his paintings in the Capitol.

More than half of the Texas congressional delegation came to meet Grandee Wednesday night and see the 54 Western oil paintings displayed in rooms occupied by the Health Administration Committee.

President Ford did not attend the reception and he sent word that he was declining Grandee's gift of a large painting of Gen. Custer and his troops hunting down a buffalo.

House Administration Committee Chairman Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, invited Ford after Grandee expressed an interest in giving him a painting, as he had to former Presidents Richard M. Nixon and Lyndon B. Johnson.

An aide of Hays was notified shortly before the reception that it was White House policy not to accept paintings from living artists, although he didn't explain why Grandee was able to give pictures to the two previous presidents.

Grandee, from Arlington, Tex., said he gets most of his ideas for Western landscapes and cowboy-and-Indian scenes while on his ranches in the Big Bend country of Texas and in Central Colorado.

He was the first person selected as official state artist when Texas began to bestow that honor in 1971.

"I feel that Americans like to be identified with Western characters," Grandee said. "They are more truly representative of the American ideal—the self reliance. They were their own men. They were able to make decisions and think for themselves."

Only eight of his 54 paintings on display were for sale, at prices ranging from $4,000 to $35,000.

His exhibition will be on display through March.

Texaco-Met Series Starts On Saturday

NEW YORK, N.Y. — The 20-opera series of the Texaco-Metropolitan Opera broadcast season will be initiated Saturday with a presentation of Charles Gounod's "Romeo et Juliette."

The opening production and the 19 additional presentations to be broadcast live from the Metropolitan Opera House in New York's Lincoln Center through next April 19 will be heard over Midland's Station KCRS. Starting time for Saturday's "Romeo et Juliette" will be 1 p.m. (CST).

'Dolls Of Yesterday' Now On Exhibit At Museum

Dolls which have delighted little girls in many Christmases past are included in a new exhibition at the Museum of the Southwest.

The show, "Dolls of Yesterday," will be on view through Dec. 29 in the upstairs exhibition rooms of the museum's Turner Memorial Gallery, 1705 W. Missouri St.

On loan from the Doll Club of the Permian Basin, the collection consists of more than 130 dolls, ranging in height from one inch to 44 inches. Many are dressed in period costumes.

Among the types included in the show are Bisque, wooden, wax, composition, china, corn husk-and-rag dolls. The exhibition was designed to show the advancement in doll-making techniques, the different styles of dolls and accessories and the practical uses of dolls. The exhibit is equal to or perhaps surpasses the doll exhibit here in late 1972, museum spokesmen say. Museum hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday each week, and 2 to 5 p.m. on Sundays. There is no admission charge.

'Bradleyville Trilogy' On At Dallas Theater Center

DALLAS — "The Bradleyville Trilogy," a series of full-length plays by Preston Jones, Dallas Theater Center's playwright-in-residence, is the current attraction at DTC.

First in the series, "The Last Meeting of the Knights of the White Magnolia," had a Tuesday night performance and will be repeated at 8 p.m. today and 8:30 p.m. Saturday. The second play, "Lu Ann Hampton Laverly Oberlander," was performed Wednesday afternoon and will have another presentation at 8 p.m. Friday. Third and newest play in the series, "The Oldest Living Graduate," had a Wednesday night performance, with another scheduled for 3 p.m. Sunday.

The comedies are set in the fictitious town of Bradleyville, between Abilene and Big Spring. Many of the characters appear in more than one of the plays. The first play, "The Last Meeting of the Knights of the White Magnolia," will have a production by Midland Community Theatre Inc., in 1975.

Tickets for current presentations are on sale at the Dallas Theater Center box office.

Odessa College Show Opening

ODESSA — "The Secret Affairs of Mildred Wild," a new comedy from the pen of American playwright Paul Zindel, opens a three-performance run at Odessa College tonight.

The play which tells the story of a middle-aged couple facing the world and finding each other will have additional presentations Friday and Saturday. Curtain time will be 8:15 each day. Tickets, priced at $2 for adults and $1 for area students, will be on sale prior to each performance at the doors of the Arena Theatre in Deaderick Hall on the OC campus.

Bronx Zoo Ex-Curator Reminisces

By JOY STILLEY
NEW YORK (AP) — "The giant pandas were always the most popular exhibits, simply because they were cute. The rarest thing we ever had was the duckbill platypus and there were lines a city block long waiting to see it — not that there was much to see but the fact that they are egg-laying mammals caught everyone's attention."

"Then there was the little girl who came crying to say that an elephant had taken her purse with 75 cents in it. We refunded her 75 cents and everybody was happy."

William Bridges was reminiscing in an interview about his 31 years with the New York Zoological Park, better known as the Bronx Zoo, where he served as curator of publications from 1955 to 1966.

Both the zoo and zoookkeeping have changed dramatically since it opened on Nov. 8, 1899, says the 73-year-old Bridges, who has written a book to commemorate the 75th anniversary, "Gathering of Animals."

"The style in the early days was to exhibit as many kinds of animals as you possibly could and put them in barren cages," he explains. "The emphasis was putting the animal on exhibit, and its small but so important requirements weren't given the attention we've learned to give them."

"We know now that you can keep baby gorillas if you give them in earliest infancy the kind of care you give a human baby, playing with them, cuddling them, giving them food by hand. In the early days we lost them very quickly — we had no idea they were little hairy people, really. There are two little gorillas right now in the Great Apes house, and a woman stays in there eight hours a day just to play with them and give them tender loving care."

Changing Relationship
"We published a summary of the destruction of animals in this country even before the zoo was opened," he says. "Concerned people all over the country sent in reports about what was happening to wildlife."

Bridges believes the whole relationship of people to wild animals has changed drastically. Where sportsmen once went out hunting to bag trophies, now naturalists go out to observe animals in the wild, and their findings have led to better management of animals in zoos.

MAMMOTH CAVE, Ky. (AP) — With caves and caverns, many areas beneath the surface of Kentucky and Southern Indiana probably resemble great Swiss cheeses.

In south central Kentucky the Flint Ridge-Mammoth Cave Systems has a surveyed length of 144 miles, the longest known cave system in the world and more than twice as long as the second-longest network.

The two systems were found to be joined in 1972. Only a small portion of the caves, however, is shown to the public. In addition to this cave system, there are many other caves in the area.

Christmas Trees Big Fire Hazard

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — December ends the year but leads all other months in home fires. A major reason why, authorities say, is Christmas trees.

Here are some tips for Christmas tree safety from Rick Goings, president of Dynamics Inc. here, a marketer of home fire alarms.

Be sure your Christmas tree lights are UL-labeled. Check for frayed wires or loose sockets. Don't use lights on metal trees.

One-Celled Plants
Diatoms, tiny one-celled plants, assume many shapes and multiply rapidly.

Another innovation at the Bronx Zoo is the World of Darkness building, where nocturnal animals' activities have been switched by using red fluorescent light to create artificial night, and flooding the cages at night with white light to simulate daytime.

Feeding Discouraged
One thing he thinks will never change, though, is the public feeding the animals.

"You'll never stop an elephant from begging. And I see nothing wrong with it. It's an authentic thrill to have that great trunk come out and take something out of your hand."

"Even if sometimes it's your pocketbook."

New GM Chairman Optimistic About Economy's Future

By OWEN ULLMAN and JON WOLMAN
DETROIT (AP) — In the midst of one of the most depressed and turbulent years in auto industry history, General Motors has a new chief executive who says he is optimistic and that the nation's economy is fundamentally sound.

Thomas A. Murphy, 57, becomes chairman of the world's largest manufacturer Sunday as Richard Gerstenberg leaves the post, taking mandatory retirement at age 65.

Murphy began with GM as an accountant and has been groomed for the top post since being leap-frogged over several senior vice presidents to vice chairman in 1971. He has been called a financial wizard.

He'll guide a firm with worldwide employment of more than 800,000, 1973 sales of $35.7 billion and 1973 profits of $2.4 billion. But he'll inherit huge troubles with the huge job:

This year, GM's car sales are off more than 27 per cent from 1973, compared to a 22 per cent industry decline. GM's profits through the first nine months were $442 million, its worst performance since the 1968 recession. Some 70,000 GM blue-collar workers face December layoffs, including 40,000 who have already been indefinitely furloughed.

But Murphy, in an interview, sounded a theme of economic optimism. While Henry Ford II says the industry is on the brink of depression and asks that the federal government do something "obvious and fast," Murphy insisted that there is nothing fundamentally wrong with the economy and called on the government to keep hands off.

Here are excerpts from the interview:

Q The price of a car was increased by almost $500 when 1975 cars debuted in September. GM sales are off almost 30 per cent since then. Are prices the problem?

A Because we were in control, our price increases were about $300 less than the cost increases we experienced during that period. On our '75 models, taking the costs that we have sustained to date, we lag about another $200.

Q Will GM increase or decrease its prices on 1975 cars in order to increase sales?

A We're looking every day at our cost-price situation. I guess I'd have to say I'd like to raise prices when I look at the lag that we've had in our prices against our costs. But then I look at the realities of the market and I say we better be darn prudent, we better be awfully sure of our ground before we take action in that direction.

Q What about lowering prices?

A I've been trying to talk to the media. I think the media gave the people Watergate until it was coming out their ears. Right now the news about the economy has gotten into the same category.

I guess the thing that disturbs me the most is that people characterize this as if we were in another 1929-1932 era. What we are going through now — I don't care how you analyze it — has to be a bump in the road rather than a long-term downturn.

Q What's wrong with the economy that's given everybody the chance to sit back and snipe at it?

A I don't think there's anything fundamentally wrong with the economy, but a lot of concern is being reflected in the indices of consumer confidence. I'd say that the back of inflation has been broken. Take oil prices for example: There's no reason to believe they're going to go up four times again.

Q I'm having a hard time following your confidence in the economy, particularly when the auto industry seems very troubled. Is it possible that things are going to get a little worse?

A No. Right today, you know, just divorce yourself from reading the daily paper and put our whole situation in historic perspective. The only thing that's missing is a feeling of confidence on the part of the consumer.

Q Is there a need for specific government policies to correct specific problems in our economy?

A I think there's a need for the government to recognize that the answer to every problem is not increased regulation: Not hampering, not controlling.

Q Will GM be able to achieve 40 per cent saving in fuel economy by 1976 without a moratorium on emissions and safety standards?

A We don't see that we can. We're just bound to get a greater increase if the emissions standards stay where they are, rather than moved out to where the present legislation would require them to go.

Q Have you had any firm indication from people like Sen. (Edmund) Muskie that they are going to be flexible on the emissions standards for 1977 and 1978?

A Anything firm? No. But I think there's an understanding

When we started out in emissions, there was a great concern about the ecology and no concern at all about energy, so that everything moved toward solving the ecological problem and there wasn't much worry about what it would do to fuel economy. We ought to get a better balance on that.

Q What is the status of GM's rotary engine?

A You wouldn't make the investment to put an engine into full-scale production unless you see it was going to give you a clearly better answer to emissions. The rotary does not do that — we're not about to put that engine into full scale production in the foreseeable future.

Q Americans bought 11.3 million cars in 1973. Can you give us any sort of a sales forecast based on the most recent sales period?

A A 1974 calendar year might be down a little bit from the 9.5 million cars that we had in our 1974 model year.

Looking at the 1975 model year, we thought originally it would start out somewhere in the area between 10 and 10 1/2 million. I'd say at the moment we're thinking of between 9 and 9 1/2 million.

Q We've heard predictions as low as 8.1 million. Analysts have said point-blank that 9 million cars are not going to be sold in the 1975 model year.

A I think the market is abnormally low at the moment and it'll come back up.

Many Mothers Opt To Push Pencils Instead Of Baby Carriages

By JURATE KAZICKAS
NEW YORK (AP) — Millington F. McCloy, an executive of a personnel-search firm, worked late on a Friday, had her baby on Saturday, and was on the phone from her hospital bed with her clients on Monday. About two months later, she was back in her Park Avenue office and little Daniel was at home with a baby-sitter.

Whether they're dedicated to career, forced by economic necessity, or compelled by sheer restlessness, more and more new mothers are returning to work within weeks of their baby's arrival, leaving the joys and duties of child care to someone else.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, in March 1974, there were 7,977,000 mothers with children under the age of

3. Of that group, 32.4 per cent of the mothers were in the labor force, up from 30.2 per cent in 1973 and 21.8 per cent in 1964.

Despite continuing debate about a mother's role and importance in successful infant rearing and many company policies allowing up to one year maternity leave, these women have willingly and in some cases eagerly opted to push pencils instead of baby carriages.

Though private, professional baby-sitters are expensive, the mothers say it's worth the $80 or more a week to keep up with their careers as well as to ease any lingering anxieties about their baby's welfare.

Some mothers working in lower-paying jobs have no choice but to place their children in day care centers. However, there are hardly enough such facilities available.

As an assistant vice-president of Handy Associates, Mrs. Millington "Millie" McCloy was well able to afford a $30 a day nurse for Daniel, now 5 months old. She said she wouldn't be comfortable in the role of a full-time mother and housewife.

"I have always been very committed to my career and it simply would not have been to my advantage to drop out and care for a baby," said Mrs. McCloy. "I've always been able to keep a lot of balls in the air. Even though one has to make sacrifices, I was determined to combine both worlds."

But sometimes, mothering during office hours has presented some unique problems.

Even though she was back at work on a regular schedule, Mrs. McCloy wanted her baby to have mother's milk. It was too difficult to go all the way home at lunchtime. So while her male counterparts socialized with martinis, Mrs. McCloy excused herself, collected the milk from her breasts in a glass, and asked the astonished waiters for a dish of ice so the milk would keep until she could take it home to Daniel.

Old Wives' Tales On Health Still Persist In World

By EDITH M. LEDERER
MEXICO CITY (AP) — In South Africa, tribesmen believe tuberculosis comes from poisonous food and syphilis from the curse of enemies.

In Singapore, many Chinese call the virus skin disease, shingles, "the snake" and believe it will encircle their bodies and strangle them.

Doctors at the Sixth World Conference on General Practice-Family Medicine gave these as examples of the misconceptions and cultural pitfalls physicians face in trying to treat the sick.

Dr. Colin Marcus, head of the Council of General Practitioners in Singapore, said the only way for doctors to overcome these pitfalls is "to seek, reach the level of the patient's comprehension and his concepts of the disease."

"Without establishing this relationship, it would be difficult to give the assurances that the cultural and traditional beliefs held by them are not true," he said.

But Dr. B. M. Fehler, College of Medicine of South Africa, said medicine men witch doctors are still very popular with tribal Africans.

The Johannesburg physician said tribal Africans still believe children are born with a primitive of death called "ingoni" about a 45-minute period of which must be cleansed during adjustment.

a ritual ceremony to ensure the perfection of the child.

Modern society and its diet and lifestyles have brought Western diseases to the tribal African — diabetes, hypertension, peptic ulcers and hepatitis — but Fehler said sufferers are still loath to go to Western doctors.

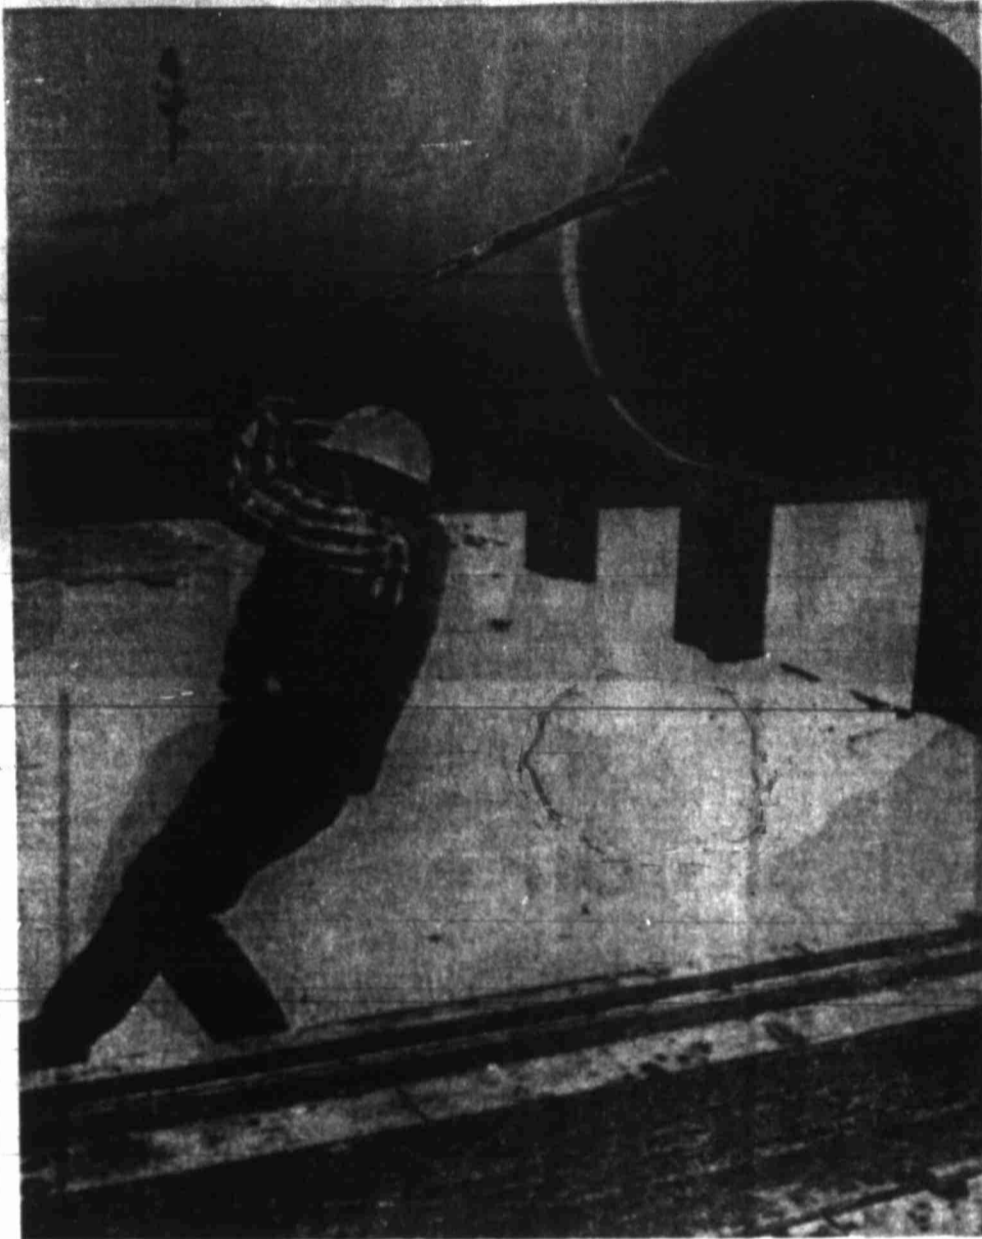

He said the native herbalist in recent years has also become "a purveyor of patent medicines, of whose properties he is ignorant."

He said the diviner, who deals in magic and charms, attains a certain amount of success and cures many ailments of an occult nature.

"These illnesses fail to respond to our standard Western medication," he said. "At times these diviners refer their difficult cases to university-trained doctors. However, it must be remembered that nine-tenths of all illnesses that are seen by us as healers usually resolve on their own without treatment."

Dr. Marcus said that in Singapore 500 herbalists are in practice, 12 acupuncture centers are listed in the telephone directory and an institution for Chinese traditional in-patient care has been founded.

Humans can see in the dark nearly as well as owls after a 45-minute period of which must be cleansed during adjustment.

Why Not Make Wrapped Box Part Of Christmas Gift Itself?

NEW YORK (AP) — Doing pretty gift wraps is part of the fun of Christmas giving — but did you ever think of going one step further and making the wrapped box a part of the gift itself? It's an idea that can lead to all sorts of nifty gift possibilities — unique, personal and costing practically nothing.

Your "major investment" is an unfinished wooden box from the dime store — recipe box, jewel box, whatever size or shape you fancy. The rest is basically a matter of scraps of fabric or paper that you glue on to cover the box and make the decorative designs.

With these ingredients, you can create boxes so pretty they'll be treasured for years. Just to give you an idea, we've done two: one, covered in fabric, uses a traditional early American quilt motif; the other, all done in paper, is pure Art Deco.

Here's how to proceed. First, remove any hinges (just unscrew with a screwdriver). Then, mix some glue in a bowl with a few drops of water; that produces a consistency that's just right to brush on with a soft, inexpensive paint brush — and it's the secret of smooth gluing. (Tip: blot glue lightly with a paper towel before applying the fabric.)

Your design is composed of separate pieces of fabric or paper. To get them just right, draw each element on paper first (graph paper makes it easy to work out sizes and shapes). Then, using carbon paper, transfer each pattern to the back of the appropriate piece of fabric or paper. Then press into place on the box. If you're working with fabric, here's an important hint: back it with tissue paper before cutting out your designs. Just brush glue on white tissue paper and press this onto the backs of the fabrics you're using. When dry, this will make it easier to transfer your pattern, and to cut evenly.

If you're working with paper, here's another hint: to get edges that are really "clean-cut," use a single-edge blade (or artist's knife) and a straight-edge or ruler. For the Art Deco box, black construction paper was used, plus gray and gold colored papers, and silvery foil, but there's no reason why this design couldn't be carried out with, say, black velvet and pieces of satin or other fancy scraps.

You can line the boxes with fabric or paper and glue a piece of felt to the bottom for a fine finish. And don't forget to screw the hinges back.

Though these boxes are pre-cut, brush on glue, and they might tack a treasured recipe into the calico box, or use the Art Deco box to house a lovely scarf.

Girl Swimmer Coached By Mail

EAST GRAND FORKS, Minn. (AP) — Diana Dunleavy, 14, may be this country's first mail order swimmer. Since there is no swim team or indoor pool in this community of 7,000, Diana receives a workout schedule weekly from Arnie Keck, a swimming coach in Eugene, Ore.

She practices at the University of North Dakota pool and was good enough to qualify last August for the National AAU Long Course Championships in Concord, Calif. She placed 16th in the 200 meter freestyle, competing against some 80 swimmers.

SANTA'S BOUNCER — Dean Reynolds, Bourbon Street nightclub bouncer-turned-Santa, greets children at Town East Mall in Dallas. (AP Wirephoto.)

He Only Bounces Kids (On Knee) Now

By JIM BRIGANCE
FORT WORTH (AP) — The red-haired child was fragile and innocent in appearance—a gripping portrait as he sat on Santa's knee, bonding close to the old man's ear to impart his wishes for Christmas.

But, after concluding his recitation, he issued the kindly old gentlemen this ultimatum: "And if you don't bring me what I want this year I'm gonna kick your respective deleted!"

It was a threat department store Santa Dean Reynolds has heard before. He used to be a Bourbon Street nightclub bouncer.

"That kid broke up everyone around," Reynolds said. "I was pretty surprised I never expected that. Not from him, any way."

Reynolds, 37, began his Santa Claus career last year because he needed a job. He's continuing this year because "the really turned on to kids. The experience does a lot for you. Children are really wonderful" after 12 years and a leg injury and is now a sociology major at Texas Wesleyan College. He's known also a once-a-week volunteer at a drug crisis center.

With his own beard and 250 pounds of beef to go with it, Reynolds entered the Western Santa Claus school last year. "He's one of the best," said office manager Kathi Cobb. "Santa Claus has to be good with children and Dean fills the bill."

Reynolds, after leaving the Air Force, worked in New Orleans for a while at Pepe's Playboy Lounge on Bourbon Street.

Working around strippers

Lea County Clerk Happy To Oblige

LOVINGTON, N.M. (AP) — A resident of Illinois received a letter from Jane Jane in the direction of Mrs. Rice, the only language I know.

Being a nightclub bouncer had its rewards, says Reynolds. "There the big girls sometimes sat on my lap."

Reynolds, recently divorced, looks forward to a life with children. "My wife walked out last Christmas Eve. She didn't want any children."

Part of the big appeal for Reynolds is the innocence of children. "It's their overwhelming, unsolicited love. I choked me up. I expected anything, but he looked up and said, dead serious, 'Santa, I want love and peace for the whole world.'"

Christmas Carols Still Here Despite Dire Prediction In '82

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — In 1862, a writer named William Hone flatly noted that Christmas carols would soon be an extinct form of music.

Hone's prediction couldn't have been more off key. For in 1974, millions of carolers will again celebrate Christmas with song throughout the world.

Whether they gather around household pianos and organs or flock to community meeting places, they'll be perpetuating a tradition that has been in existence for many centuries, says the American Music Conference, headquartered here.

What was the first Christmas carol?

Some observers say it was "Gloria," the song attributed to the angels when they first saw the Christ child. The formal caroling tradition is said to date back to 128 A.D. when Telephorus, the first Bishop of Rome, decreed that "Gloria" be sung in his church each Christmas day.

Others trace the formal birth of caroling to 13th-century Italy when St. Francis of Assisi invited friends to sing nativity songs around his replica of the original manger scene.

Yet as early as the fifth century in France, holiday celebrants were gathering in village squares to sing carols. Their songs were accompanied by lutes and lyres, two popular instruments of the day. In the 16th century, oboes were used by instrumentalists to accompany caroling minstrels when they entertained nobility during the Christmas season.

The dawning of the Renaissance lifted the blanket of austerity that dominated church music through the Dark Ages. Wanting a more joyous expression for their religious views, people linked their Christmas songs with dance — most commonly the circle dance. However, in some areas of Europe authorities associated circle dances with witchcraft and banned caroling where witchcraft was suspected.

The caroling custom was also considered out of harmony with the times in mid-17th century England. The Puritans there, frowning on the joyous nature of many carols, made it a crime to print or sing carols publicly. After Puritanism waned, caroling made a comeback.

Since many of the early carols weren't written down but were passed along by wandering minstrels and folk singers, they went through so many word and melody changes that their creators probably wouldn't recognize them today.

"Joy to the World," for example, crossed many cultures before evolving into its present American form.

The words were probably written by an ancient Hebrew. Centuries later, in 1719, the words were paraphrased by Isaac Watts, who wrote some 52 volumes of published carols. The current music to the carol was adapted from George Frederick Handel's "Messiah" in 1741. In 1830, American composer Lowell Mason rewrote the carol as we know it today.

A sizeable number of carols and other Christmas music has been written or sung against a backdrop of war, slavery and the settling of America.

When the English besieged the French in 1428 at Orleans, a truce was set for the duration of the Christmas holidays. The English, wanting to be entertained, requested and obtained for a night the services of French minstrels who played Christmas music on trumpets and clarions.

In 1863, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow expressed war-weary sentiments in his poem, "I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day." In the poem, he compared the peace and stillness of a Christmas morning to the war sounds around him.

"Jesus is Born," said to be the first American carol, told the story of the nativity in Indian fashion. It was written around 1645 by French missionary Pere Jean de Brebeuf, who sang it in the Huron tongue for his Indian converts.

Wilma Shafer's OATMEAL HAWAIIAN BREAD

- 4 eggs
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 2 1/2 cups flour
- 2 tsp. salt
- 2 tsp. soda
- 1 1/2 cups 3-MINUTE BRAND OATS
- 2 1/2 cups (20 oz.) crushed pineapple, undrained
- 8 cups (10 oz.) flaked coconut

Combine eggs and sugar and beat until light (about 2 minutes). Sift flour, salt and soda. Add to egg mixture and blend until smooth (about 2 minutes longer). Add remaining ingredients and mix very well. Spoon into two greased and floured 9 x 5 inch loaf pans. Bake at 325° F. for one hour. Remove from pan immediately and serve warm or cold.

Sen. Byrd Recalls 'Greatest Man Of 20th Century'

EDITOR'S NOTE: Winston Churchill, British prime minister during and after World War II, would have been 100 years old Saturday. The following recollections of Churchill, the man and statesman, were written for The Associated Press by Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., I-Va., who first met Churchill in the Virginia Governor's Mansion when his father was governor and again in London after the war.

By SEN. HARRY F. BYRD
For The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was 100 years ago Nov. 30 that Winston Spencer Churchill was born.

In my judgment, he was the greatest man of the 20th century.

Who can rival him? Josef Stalin, certainly, and Nikolai Lenin: their impact on the world was greater but was a force for evil, for terror, for oppression.

Mao Tse-Tung, yes. He changed history for one-third of the world's population, 800 million Chinese.

Roosevelt's Role

Franklin D. Roosevelt, as president of the world's greatest nation, played a major role, as did a Virginian, Woodrow Wilson: in a smaller way, Charles deGaulle has some claim.

But it was Winston Churchill — more than any single individual — who saved freedom for England and Europe. For six long years the British fought against the forces of Adolf Hitler with fierce valor and unyielding determination. The United States helped mightily, but it was Churchill who rallied his own people, who gave them hope and confidence, who demanded and received from them blood, sweat and tears.

No generation not alive in 1940 when reckless, cruel, insane tyranny threatened all of Europe can quite appreciate the stout-hearted Churchill.

The might of German arms had driven the British into the English Channel and surrender seemed only days away.

But the voice of the British Lion roared across the world, convincing oppressed millions that Britain would never forsake freedom's cause.

Had England fallen prior to the entry of the United States into the war at the end of 1941, it is doubtful that Hitler's tide could have been stemmed.

Churchill was the mainstay of Britain's courageous stand, the symbol of the struggle against tyranny throughout the world. Because of this, I believe he stands first among the leaders of this century.

I first met Winston Churchill in 1929 when he was a guest in the Governor's Mansion in Richmond, Virginia's capital. My father was then governor. To a boy 14 years of age, Mr.

Churchill differed from other famous guests in our home only in that he was English.

I was standing with my mother's cousin — a man a little older than my mother — when Mr. Churchill descended the steps from the second floor just prior to the state dinner to be held in his honor.

Without a word of greeting, the guest from England said to my cousin, obviously mistaking him for a butler, "My man, will you get me the afternoon paper?"

Williams Declines

The late R. Gray Williams, who turned down two opportunities for appointment to the Supreme Court of Virginia and subsequently became rector of the University of Virginia, replied: "Sir, I would be delighted."

So Gray and I walked two blocks to the newsstand. On our return Mr. Churchill tipped my cousin a quarter, which Mr. Williams kept to his dying day.

That was not the only trip I was to make that evening.

At dinner, Virginia ham was served and Mr. Churchill asked for mustard. My mother sent to the kitchen, but there was none. (We feel Virginia ham does not need to be embellished.)

In an effort to pass it off lightly, my mother told Mr. Churchill there was no mustard in the house, but if he would like she would send to the store.

Mr. Churchill said he would like.

So I was called from my room, being too young to be at the table, and dispatched three blocks to bring back the mustard.

I thought of that incident many times when Mr. Churchill, 11 years later, became prime minister of England during her darkest hour. To me it dramatized his bulldog tenacity.

Difficult Guest

My mother found Mr. Churchill a difficult house guest. She didn't mind the dinner incident, but she did become quite aggravated when he began to tell her at what time to have meals, and what to serve.

When the great one left, after a week or more, my mother's first words to my father were: "Harry, never invite that man back."

The last time I saw Mr. Churchill was in 1951 at his office in the House of Commons. I was a newspaper correspondent and spent a delightful several hours with him.

We fell to discussing the relative merits of the British parliamentary system and the American constitutional system of government and I expressed the view that in some respects, the British system seemed to have much to commend it over the American.

I shall never forget Mr. Churchill's deliberate reply: "Ah, yes, Mr. Byrd, but don't forget this:

"The basic strength of America, in my judgment, lies in the fact that the 48 states, acting through their own legislatures, can to a considerable extent determine their own local problems. You are not centralized like we are in England."

Churchill served in Parliament longer than any individual in any freely elected legislative body.

He was elected to the House of Commons in 1900 and served continuously until his retirement in 1964, with the exception of one two-year period, 1923-25. Thus, he served 62 years.

During the 1930s, Churchill was virtually a lone voice in opposing the policies of the leader of his party—first Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin and then Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain.

His voice was even more loudly and even less heeded after the Munich Agreement of 1938. Signed by Hitler of Germany, Mussolini of Italy, Daladier of France and Chamberlain of Great Britain, this pact sought to appease Hitler by giving him a piece of Czechoslovakia.

Following the signing of the Munich Agreement, Chamberlain returned to Britain as a popular hero proclaiming "peace in our time." He was applauded throughout England, indeed throughout the world. The only opposition was that of an old bulldog named Winston Churchill.

But let us recall what follows. Churchill thunders in the Parliament and throughout England that not only would the Munich Agreement not lead away from war, but inevitably would lead to war, because, he says, "It is fundamentally unsound and will not stand the test of time."

No one listens.

Eleven months later, Hitler strikes again, sending his armies into Poland. Britain and France declare war, and World War II begins. Chamberlain resigns and the old bulldog is called upon to save his nation.

While I believe that Winston Churchill is the greatest man of the 20th century, I believe likewise that Neville Chamberlain was just as patriotic, just as dedicated, just as desirous of doing what was best for England and Europe as was Mr.

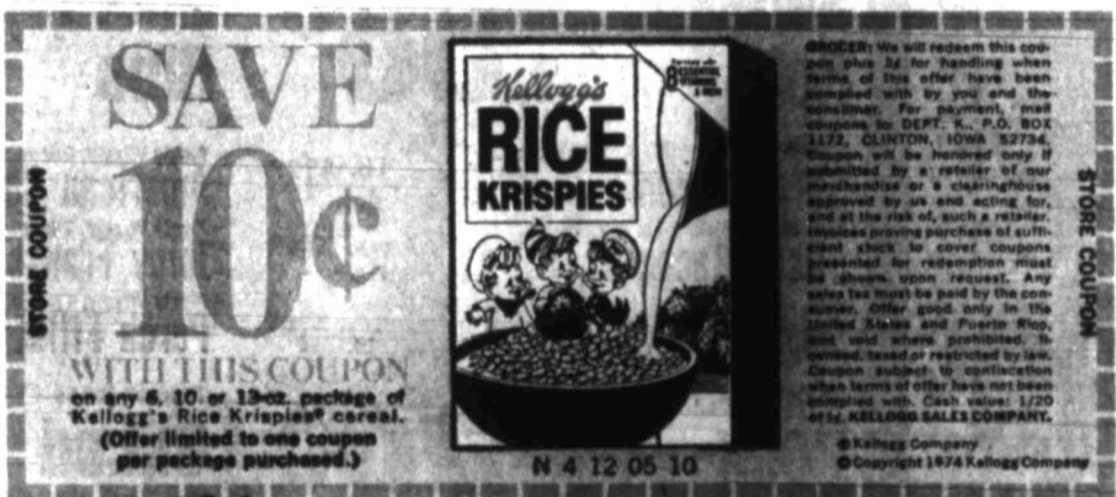

Churchill.

As I see it, it was not a question of motive. It was a question of judgment — judgment as to which policies would stand the test of time.

Perhaps there is a lesson in this for those of us in the United States: Popular programs do not necessarily stand the test of time.

MARSHMALLOW TREATS

½ cup regular margarine or butter

1 pkg. (6 to 10 oz.) regular marshmallows, about 40, OR 4 cups miniature marshmallows

5 cups KELLOGG'S RICE KRISPIES cereal

1. Melt margarine in large saucepan over low heat. Add marshmallows and cook, stirring constantly, until marshmallows are melted and mixture is very syrupy. Remove from heat.
2. Add Rice Krispies cereal. Stir until well coated.
3. Using buttered spatula or waxed paper, press mixture evenly and firmly in buttered 13 x 9 x 2-inch pan. Cut into squares when cool.

Yield: 24 squares, 2 x 2 inches

NOTE: For thicker squares, press warm mixture into buttered 9 x 9 x 2-inch pan. Best results are obtained when using fresh marshmallows. About 2 cups marshmallow cream may be substituted for marshmallows. Add to melted margarine and cook over low heat about 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. ## Parents Must Choose Toys Very Carefully

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following advice on choosing Christmas toys was prepared by the Texas Department of Community Affairs, Office of Early Childhood Development.

The U. S. Consumer Product Safety Commission estimates that there are 700,000 toy-related injuries a year, a large number of them occurring on or after Christmas.

Field representatives of the State Department of Health spot check Texas stores for toys banned by the commission, but monitoring all stores for each of the more than 800 toys banned is an impossible task.

Even though manufacturers are required to recall banned toys, some banned items still slip onto the market. Many toys too, possess hidden dangers that have not been recognized yet by officials.

It remains for parents to do some of the monitoring — at least of the toys they select for their own children.

The following checklist summarizes the opinion of many child development experts and the commission concerning toy safety:

Sturdiness — The toy should not shatter or break easily; protruding knobs and levers should be securely fastened.

Sharp points and edges — Wood should be free of splinters; plastic and metal objects should have rounded edges; dart-type toys should have firmly fastened suction cups.

Moving mechanisms — Hinges, springs, gears and wheels can often trap or pinch a child's small fingers.

Tiny, removable parts — Needles, nails, bolts, marbles, eyes and other decorations on stuffed toys can come off and be swallowed or puncture a child's hands or eyes.

Cords, strings and tapes — Playpen or crib toys should not have cords long enough to become looped around a child's neck.

Electrical toys — The toy itself as well as the cord should bear the Underwriters Laboratories Seal.

Toxicity — Painted surfaces that contain more than one-half of one per cent lead are banned. Possible poisoning is difficult to determine, however, and parents must generally trust reputable manufacturers. Look for the "Non-Toxic" label and avoid all painted toys for infants who put playthings in their mouths.

Flammability — Check for labels on fabric products for "non-flammable," "flame-retardant" or "flame-resistant" notices. Avoid toys made of obviously combustible material.

Cleanliness — Toys should be sealed in packages; toys for infants and toddlers should be washable. Look for notices saying "washable" and "hygienic materials" for stuffed toys and dolls.

Other warnings — Heed warnings such as "Not Intended for Children Under 3 Years of Age." Remember that younger brothers and sisters may have access to toys intended for older children once the toy has been brought into the household.

Howdy, Legislators!

The Midland Chamber of Commerce this evening honors State Sen. W. E. "Pete" Snelson and Rep. Tom Craddick, both of Midland, at a reception and dinner in the Petroleum Club.

This certainly is a well-deserved recognition of two outstanding legislators who have performed effectively and with distinction in Austin.

The Midland Chamber is due commendation for arranging and staging the function.

Other special guests at tonight's reception and dinner will include Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake, who is expected to be named speaker of the House of the next legislature, and other members of the West Texas delegation in the legislature.

This is a noteworthy occasion... a time for expressing thanks to a group of sincere, hard-working legislators for their dedicated, sacrificial efforts in serving the best interests of their constituents and the Lone Star State as a whole.

Midlanders salute Sen. Snelson and Rep. Craddick, while at the same time directing a friendly, meaningful WELCOME to Bill Clayton and other members of the legislature present for the occasion.

It is hoped the visitors will have a most enjoyable time in the Tall City and that they again will come our way at every opportunity.

Christmas Is Happiness

Christmas is bound to be a meaningful experience for Superior Court Judge Wilbur H. Grant of Indianapolis, Ind., who believes that happiness should reign supreme at this season of the year.

The judge simply refuses to grant divorces during December if children are involved.

He must be a kind, gentle, understanding person who loves children and who places a tremendous value on family life.

"Christmas is the season of great expectation for children and nothing should interfere with their happiness," Judge Grant says.

"Divorce is a traumatic experience for all concerned, especially children. I don't believe this is the kind of experience that is compatible with the season from a family point of view."

This surely must have considerable influence on the parents involved. It would be interesting to know how many of those persons seeking divorce drop proceedings during or after the Christmas season.

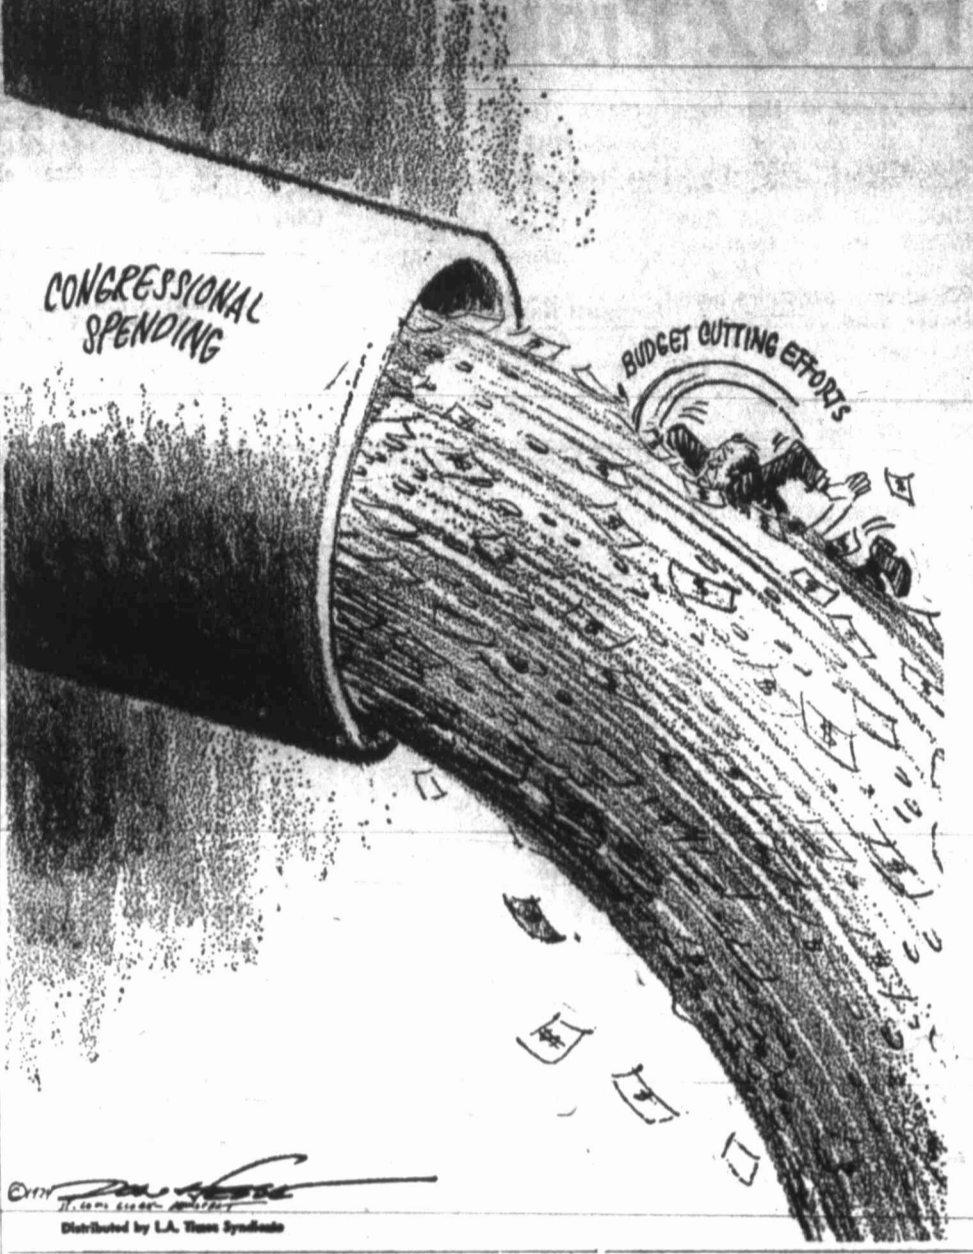

There undoubtedly are other judges who feel the same way about divorce, children, Christmas and happiness. Some of them may adopt a policy similar to that of the kind and thoughtful Indianapolis judge.

Against The Current

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — An investigation by the Health, Education and Welfare Department of more than $30 million in frauds and other ripoffs has been thwarted by the pinch-penny Senate Appropriations Committee.

At present, 81 major criminal cases involving at least $17.5 million are backlogged in the files of HEW.

The payments were made to the firm, however, by checks drawn on the U.S. Treasury from a Pentagon account, were told.

WASHINGTON WHIRL: President Ford will soon be able to tap his pipe in style. The Naval Research Lab is filling a presidential order of 80 ash trays for Air Force One and its back-up plane. Each cast-aluminum ash tray is about eight inches in diameter and costs the U.S. taxpayer $50.

Recently, wildlife conservationists praised the Interior Department's strong stand in threatening Justice Department action if Minnesota kept allowing hunters to kill endangered timber wolves. Since then, however, Interior has backed down and now says it is only "reviewing" the situation. The killings go on...

MASKED IDENTITY: A mysterious federal intelligence unit is buying thousands of dollars worth of masks and face molds from a California make-up firm.

The purchases so far include $1,500 worth of "custom sculptured" nose molds, $4,000 in "latex appliances" for four facial types and $4,200 in artificial face molds. The detailed masks include scars, bald heads and other lifelike details.

When the order was first placed, the firm was told the odd Halloween assortment was for the FBI. But a spokesman there earnestly insisted the bureau never did anything without who just finesse for the sheer joy of finesning.

After playing that ace of clubs Hamlet drew trumps with three leads; ran off all four diamonds and then led dummy's queen of clubs. It didn't matter where the king was. Whoever won the trick would have to lead a spade or club and Hamlet would only lose two spade tricks.

Suppose Hamlet had taken the club finesse. If it won he would have to attack the spade suit himself and lose three spade tricks to wind up with the same four odd but if the finesse lost he would lose the club, three spades and his partner's confidence.

soliloquizing first. Thus, before playing from dummy he said to himself: "To finesse or not to finesse is the question. For whether tis better in the end to 'gainst the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune. There's the rub."

Hamlet's soliloquy took the place of the code word ARCH and told Hamlet to rise with dummy's ace of clubs and leave that particular finesse to those

RAY CROMLEY They Don't Share Profits, Only Blame

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A while back, my four-year-old dryer collapsed and was irreparable. It had been built by one of this country's highly regarded manufacturers and purchased from one of America's leading retail stores. A phone call to the company brought this reply: "Just how long do you expect our dryers to last anyway?"

President Ford has been approaching the problem of inflation wrong end to. A Massachusetts Institute of Technology study, sponsored by the National Science Foundation, indicates the purchaser of an average $400 color TV can expect to spend another $400 or so on servicing and electricity during its usable life. And that a family buying an average $300 refrigerator, will spend another $300 for electricity and service. We're all familiar with the cost of auto repairs and gasoline.

The military constantly battles mean time to failure, meaning how quickly a piece of equipment or a key part breaks down. The time is invariably much shorter than technically necessary.

Many a fighter pilot or tank commander, thus, has been so dependent on his line of supply and repair facilities that he has not been as effective as he could have been.

Technological progress in this country has been so great that much of what we buy could last 10 to 20 to 50 per cent longer, with a small increase in initial cost, but less overall expense. Studies have shown that an air conditioner which costs but a fraction more than another, may use only 50 to 75 per cent as much electricity to produce the same coolness. An automobile costing a fraction more to produce, may make up the additional initial price several times in repair savings.

There are other hidden costs. We read repeatedly of automobiles being recalled to the factory for defective parts. But that is only part of the story. Almost any producer will talk for hours about the high percentage of rejects in his factory. These are the ones that don't get through to the consumer. We pay for them all the same since the company must pass this cost on to the consumer if it is to stay solvent.

The problems do not end with the factory. A friend who runs an office supply store reports an unbelievable amount of breakage in transit of such "indestructible" items as steel filing cabinets, steel desks, chairs and assorted products. This breakage cost is also passed on to you and me.

If the nation, at an extra 5 per cent rise in costs, could increase the mean time to failure in the average gadgets we buy by 15 to 20 per cent, and decreasing fuel usage and breakage during transit by a like amount, we could bring inflation under control and be a leg up in solving our energy shortages and in meeting conservation objectives. Using the same gadget longer is superior, environmentally, than a short life and recycling.

The fault at hand does not lie alone with either management or labor. We consumers are to blame for not insisting that what we buy hold up to minimum standards. There are testing organizations now, privately supported, some of which do solid work and some which thrive on shoot-from-the-hip sensationalism. Free enterprise and competition would be encouraged, and the consumer would get a better deal if some way could be found to provide private, impartial research organizations the funds they need to spot test the output of all major products, then publish these reports wholesale.

As Bishop tells it, alarm among the President's intimates at his physical state led to a secret medical examination at Bethesda Naval Hospital in March, 1944. It was found that Roosevelt suffered from congestive heart failure and irreversible degeneration of the vascular system. The President rapidly deteriorated in the ensuing months, both physically and mentally. Associates noticed that he would frequently stop in mid-sentence and forget what he had been talking about. His hands trembled uncontrollably. Attempts by journalists, as well as FDR's Republican opponents to pry information out of the White House were unsuccessful.

In August, 1944, Roosevelt collapsed after a speech to shipyard workers in Oregon. Despite his condition, in October he campaigned in a downpour in New York City in an effort to persuade voters that he was healthy and fit.

Aware of his impending death, Roosevelt nevertheless remained convinced that only he could lead the nation to the successful conclusion of World War II and the shaping of the postwar peace. At the momentous meeting with Stalin and Churchill at Yalta in February, 1945, Lord Moran, Churchill's personal physician, took one look at FDR and told Secretary of State Stettinius: "I give him only a few months to live."

Even Stalin, it is said, was moved to pity.

What the postwar era would have been like had the destiny of the free world not been in the hands of a dying man at Yalta is something historians long will argue about.

But as an example of a White House "palace guard" shielding a president and withholding the truth from the American people, it is a story with tragic implications far beyond those of Watergate.

DON OAKLEY Uncovering An Historic Coverup

NEW YORK (NEA) — The greatest presidential coverup in American history was not Watergate, but the election of a dying man to the nation's highest office in 1944.

At any rate, abundant documentation for such an assertion can be found in a new book, "FDR's Last Year," by columnist and popular historian, Jim Bishop.

As Bishop tells it, alarm among the President's intimates at his physical state led to a secret medical examination at Bethesda Naval Hospital in March, 1944. It was found that Roosevelt suffered from congestive heart failure and irreversible degeneration of the vascular system. The President rapidly deteriorated in the ensuing months, both physically and mentally. Associates noticed that he would frequently stop in mid-sentence and forget what he had been talking about. What the postwar era would have been like had the destiny of the free world not been in the hands of a dying man at Yalta is something historians long will argue about.

But as an example of a White House "palace guard" shielding a president and withholding the truth from the American people, it is a story with tragic implications far beyond those of Watergate.

SOMETHING NEW UNDER the educational sun is the Joint Vocational School.

As the name suggests, it is the pooling of resources by local school districts to provide vocational training to high school students, and also adults, in addition to the traditional academic curriculum.

Pioneer in this field is the Southern California Regional Occupational Center (SCROC), one of the fruits of the federal Vocational Education Act of 1963. Started in 1968 by six school districts in Los Angeles, SCROC was not designed to be a diploma-granting institution, but rather as a supplementary center to high schools in the area teaching practical, saleable skills.

Since 1968, 40,000 students have attended the center, and it has proven to be a model for school districts across the country. There are now more than 2,400 area vocational schools nationwide.

Wide Spectrum Programs at SCROC, which cover a wide occupational spectrum, from automobile and major appliance repair to data processing and dental assisting, are developed by Hoffman Information Systems, a leading publisher of vocational education materials. Geared to junior and senior high school students, as well as adults, the programs provide intensive "How-to" training in a real work-world environment.

"Once the programs have been implemented at SCROC for two years," says Roger R. Sullivan, president of Hoffman Information Systems, "they are then distributed nationally."

The need for career training never has been more apparent. Eighty-five per cent of high school graduates do not go on to college and, according to the U.S. Office of Education, half of the more than five million Americans currently unemployed are between the ages of 16 and 24.

Greenland Icecap The Greenland icecap, a great flat dome cravassed on the edges, covers 700,000 square miles and in places is more than 11,000 feet thick, according to the National Geographic Society.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

On Christmas Eve, 1974 when the ritual opening of the doors of the major basilicas in Rome is held, another Roman Catholic Holy Year will begin and will last until Christmas Eve, 1975 when the doors are closed. The World Almanac says. According to some estimates, the Holy Year may bring 26 million visitors to Rome, compared to 2.1 million during 1971.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY (Newspaper Enterprise Association)

Hamlet, the melancholy Dane, never did anything without who just finesse for the sheer joy of finesning.

After playing that ace of clubs Hamlet drew trumps with three leads; ran off all four diamonds and then led dummy's queen of clubs. It didn't matter where the king was. Whoever won the trick would have to lead a spade or club and Hamlet would only lose two spade tricks.

Suppose Hamlet had taken the club finesse. If it won he would have to attack the spade suit himself and lose three spade tricks to wind up with the same four odd but if the finesse lost he would lose the club, three spades and his partner's confidence.

soliloquizing first. Thus, before playing from dummy he said to himself: "To finesse or not to finesse is the question. For whether tis better in the end to 'gainst the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune. There's the rub."

Hamlet's soliloquy took the place of the code word ARCH and told Hamlet to rise with dummy's ace of clubs and leave that particular finesse to those who just finesse for the sheer joy of finesning.

After playing that ace of clubs Hamlet drew trumps with three leads; ran off all four diamonds and then led dummy's queen of clubs. It didn't matter where the king was. Whoever won the trick would have to lead a spade or club and Hamlet would only lose two spade tricks.

The BIBLE

Can You Quote It?

By LAVINA ROSS FOWLER

1. Doxology was not strictly a biblical word, but a term applied to any type of praise, but it is applied most always in a biblical way now. The words of praise known as "the angels hymn" found in Luke 2:13-14 have been the foundation of other doxologies. Quote and tell why it is credited to angels.

2. What prophet was to Elisha a father and to Israel a power? 2 K. 2:12-13. 4K. 2:12-13 D.

3. How is the Mediterranean Ocean, which is the western boundary of the Holy Land, mentioned in the Bible? Numbers 34:6, Ex. 23:31.

4. What numeral is in the symbolic sign of Jonas? Matt. 12:40.

5. What two animals are compared with a strong king in Proverbs 30:31? Four correct... excellent. Three correct... good.

Urban Conservation Policy Due To Be Adopted By League Of Cities

HOUSTON (AP) — A national municipal policy emphasizing urban conservation was expected to be adopted today by the National League of Cities.

A proposal to be submitted at mid-afternoon states that national urban policy must conserve existing urban resources.

"National policies must encourage efficient upgrading and continued reuse of urban resources, not dispersal of new growth and abandonment of cities," it adds.

Same Theme

Mayor E. J. "Jake" Garn, resolutions committee chairman from Salt Lake City, said the entire thrust of the six-section proposal was put together within the theme of urban conservation.

"The trend has been to demolish, build something else, and keep spreading," Garn said. "We can't afford to throw away cities and we just can't go on tearing down and building something new for an urban sprawl."

The public safety section urges nationwide registration of all handguns. Garn's group refused to go along with a proposal to broaden the registrations to include all rifles. The public safety committee earlier had rejected the banning of private possession of handguns.

Garn opposes both handgun prohibition and rifle registration and said he himself would start a controversy should a big push develop to reinstate either during the final session of the league's five-day convention.

Re-enactment of general revenue sharing was tagged by Garn as the most important individual item in the overall package.

Staff Chief Says Arms Pact 'Only First Step'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. George S. Brown, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said today the new U.S.-Soviet agreement on limiting strategic nuclear weapons is "only a first step" toward the ultimate goal of arms reduction.

Until that goal is reached, Brown said, the United States "must take the actions necessary to insure the adequacy of our strategic arsenal" within the ceilings on missiles and bombers worked out by President Ford and Soviet Communist Party Leader Leonid I. Brezhnev.

Brown did not specify what actions he meant, but the U.S. military is likely to press for bigger intercontinental ballistic missiles. Larger, more powerful missiles would assure equality between the United States and the Soviets in multiple independently targetable warheads—MIRV.

Although the U.S.-Soviet agreement limits each country to 1,200 MIRV missile launchers, defense officials say the much greater "throw weight" or lifting power, of new Soviet missiles will enable Russian launchers to carry more and bigger multiple warheads than the U.S. missile force.

Ford said Monday night that "if there is an inequality in throw weight, it can be remedied if our military recom-

Mrs. Henkell, 47, Dies At Odessa; Rites Set Today

ODESSA — Dorothy Henkell, 47, who was married to Noel Henkell Dec. 27, 1945, in Midland, died Tuesday in her Odessa home following a brief illness.

Services were to be at 3 p.m. today in Easterling Funeral Home Chapel with interment in Sunset Memorial Gardens.

Mrs. Henkell was born Dec. 20, 1926, in Abilene. She and her husband came to Odessa in 1946 from Ballinger.

She is survived by her husband; two sons, Terry Henkell of Arlington; one daughter, Sherry Henkell of Odessa; two sisters, Mrs. Rodney Hansen of San Antonio and Mrs. Louis Overby of Ballinger; three brothers, Jimmy Jackson of Marshall, David Jackson of Bryan and Lloyd Jackson of Ballinger; and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Jackson of Ballinger.

Midland Man, 20, Wounded Critically

Freddie B. Hawkins, 20, of 1702 E. Maple St. was shot late Wednesday night at the Junction Laundromat, 1500 N. Lamesa Road.

He remained in critical condition today at Midland Memorial Hospital.

Hawkins was shot once in the stomach and received cuts when he jumped through a plate glass window in an effort to get away from the unidentified gunman.

He told police his assailant shot several times and then ran out of the building. A small caliber weapon was used in the shooting. No arrest has been made.

Udall To Speak At Texas A&M

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Former Secretary of Interior, Stewart Udall will speak at the Texas Assembly on Land Use that begins Friday at Texas A&M University.

Services Friday For M. C. Peck

Services for Milton C. Peck, 76, will be at 10 a.m. Friday in the Newnie W. Ellis Chapel of the First United Methodist Church officiating.

Interment will be in Valhalla Mausoleum.

Peck died Wednesday morning in a nursing home following a several months' illness.

Born Aug. 25, 1898, and reared in Chillicothe, Ohio, he worked for Texas prior to serving with the Army during World War II. Following his discharge, he was associated with Texas again for a total of 42 years.

He moved to Midland in 1940 as a chief clerk for Texas. His wife, the late Ola Peck, died in 1972.

A member of First United Methodist Church, he is survived by three sons, Marshall Peck and Marion Peck, both of Fort Worth, and James Peck of Midland; three sisters, Mrs. Polly Hirst and Mrs. Audrey Wallace, both of Cedar, Colo.; and Mrs. Fern Cellan of Columbus, Ohio, and five grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be T. P. Drew, Hollis Newham, W. Earl Chapman, Don Rowland, Bert Warner and R. L. Puckett.

Club Speaker Urges Sharing Of Lionism

Jim Lemons of Big Spring, governor of District 2-A1, Lions International, Wednesday urged members of the Midland Downtown Lions Club to "share your Lionism with others to help fulfill their hunger for companionship."

"Dedicate yourselves to serve in an even greater capacity in the future," he added. "Be a real working Lion and not just a dues-paying member."

The governor's address, "Hunger and Thirst of the Human Heart," was delivered in connection with his official visit to the club. He was introduced by Paul Boceman of Midland, deputy district governor.

Lemons praised the Downtown club, the largest in the district and the seventh largest in Lions International, for its past achievements, including 512 service projects reported during the last year. The club qualified for the Founder's Award in increased membership.

The district, he said, now has 3,164 members, adding that membership retention is a problem needing immediate attention.

"We hope to have a five percent increase in membership districtwide, this year," Lemons said. He said he is looking forward to the district convention to be held here next May 2-3.

Developing his "Hunger and Thirst of the Human Heart" theme, he said mankind is hungry for beauty, for love and for happiness.

He outlined various ways in which Lionism can serve each of the aforementioned hungers.

"The closest we come to satisfying these hungers as individuals is through service to others," Lemons concluded.

Penney Announces Centennial Music Gift To Nation's Schools, Colleges

Larry Hart, manager of the Midland J. C. Penney store, today announced a gift of music entitled "A Bicentennial Musical Celebration" which will be presented to area high schools and colleges in late spring 1975.

The "Celebration" program, part of the J. C. Penney Company's contribution to the nation's Bicentennial, was awarded a certificate of official recognition from the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration during ceremonies held Monday in Washington, D.C. The "Celebration" is the first program by a business corporation to be made an official part of the nation's Bicentennial festivities.

The "Bicentennial Musical Celebration" includes 70 minutes of historic American music spanning our 200 years and 30 minutes of newly commissioned contemporary works by American composers.

In announcing the gift, Hart said:

"Our purpose is to make this music as widely available and as useful to as many people as possible. It will be supplied to any other bands, choral groups and orchestras that may ask for it. Use will be entirely unrestricted and free of any performance charges."

Each school in the United States will receive a box of specially arranged sheet music — enough for school music groups — to equip a complete band, chorus and orchestra. Works for rock and stagebands are included, as well.

The "Celebration" has been created in an effort to enrich the nation's Bicentennial observance with a reflection of American history through the

Architectural Barriers Panel Created For City

An Architectural Barriers Committee of Midland was created Wednesday morning when city officials, interested citizens and the Junior League's committee on architectural barriers met in the Museum of the Southwest.

The organization's figures show one out of 10 persons in the U.S. today have some disability, and by 1985 the physically handicapped will total more than 40 million.

The Junior League of Midland, Inc., in cooperation with the Easter Seal Society here and the Midland Chamber of Commerce, is publishing a guide to Midland for the handicapped.

Junior League committee members are chairman Mrs. Alexander G. Kaspar, Mrs. C. Gary Garlitz and Mrs. Roy C. Williamson.

Mrs. Craddock, 66, Dies; Rites Slated

Mrs. Alice Mae Craddock, 66, died Wednesday in a Midland hospital.

Services will be at 10 a.m. Saturday at the First Baptist Church of Charlottesville, Va., with Dr. H. Cowen Ellis officiating. Interment will be in Riverview Cemetery in Charlottesville, under direction of Hill and Irving Funeral Home. Midland arrangements are being handled by the Newnie W. Ellis Chapel.

She was born Dec. 25, 1907, at Charlottesville and reared there. She moved to Midland to live with her son, Dave Craddock, in 1969.

Also surviving are six grandchildren.

Midlander's Kin Dies At Crockett

Mrs. Robert L. (Annie R.) Haglett Sr., 69, of Crockett died Nov. 24 in Crockett and services were held there Nov. 26.

She was the mother of Mrs. Dorothy Goodrum of Midland. Survivors include the husband, another daughter, a foster daughter, a son, two brothers, two sisters and five grandchildren.

Abilene Ex-Mayor Dies; Rites Friday

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — A former mayor of Abilene, Ernest Grissom, died Wednesday. He was 80.

Grissom also was the founder of an Abilene department store. During his tenure as mayor of this West Central Texas city in 1951-53, the government located Dyess Air Force Base near here.

The funeral services will be held Friday.

Where's The Fire?

7 p.m. Wednesday — House fire at Wiley Broder residence, 1977 E. Noble St. caused by children playing with matches, heavy damage to one bedroom and hall.

2:30 p.m. Wednesday — Parks and Recreation Building, 300 Baldwin St., no fire but smoke scare from overcast motor.

Two Men Injured In Auto Mishap

Michael Ferguson of El Paso and Floyd Ferguson, 308 S. Weatherford St., received slight injuries Wednesday night when a car in which they were passengers struck the side of Claudia's Place, 211 N. Lamesa Road.

Police said the car, driven by Ruby Mae Baldwin, 308 S. Weatherford St., failed to negotiate a turn at the intersection of Illinois and Lamesa streets and hit the building. Approximately $500 damage was done to the building.

Two Persons Hurt In City Collision

Two persons were injured in a car-pickup truck accident at 3:28 p.m. Wednesday at the intersection of Scharbauer and Western drives.

Treated and released at Midland Memorial Hospital was Lynn Edwin Smyers, 3118 W. Illinois St., driver of the pickup, and Phillip Foreman, 306 S. N. St., a passenger in truck.

Jay Schivison, 6 Ridgeman St., was driver of the car.

Retired Area Publisher Dies

SWEETWATER, Tex. (AP) — Retired newspaper publisher Elmer Wright died at his home Wednesday following an extended illness. He was 69.

Wright was publisher of the Sweetwater Reporter until ill health forced his retirement in 1971.

Wright's career began in 1929 as a mail room clerk at the Temple Telegram. He was advertising manager at the Cleburne Times-Review for 11 years and moved to Sweetwater in 1945 where he was named advertising manager at the Reporter. Three months after assuming that post he was named publisher of the paper. He was a long time civic and social participant in Sweetwater affairs.

Survivors include the widow, a daughter and three brothers.

Illms Addresses Rotary Meeting

The role of the atom in energy production, industry and medicine were reviewed for members of the Midland Downtown Rotary Club today noon at their meeting in the American Legion Hall.

The speaker was Orin L. Illms of College Station, teacher-demonstrator of Texas A&M University's College of Engineering. He was introduced by Rotarian C. Winston Barclay.

"This Atomic World" was the subject of Illms' address.

He has been in Midland the last several days, presenting his lecture-slide program before service clubs and school groups.

His address was concerned primarily with the basic principles of atomic energy.

He discussed the widespread far-reaching achievements in the field of atomic energy in the last several years, and told of things yet to come through continued research.

The speaker advised the Rotarians that the first of nine nuclear power plants to be built in Texas now is under construction near Glen Rose.

The program was presented through the courtesy of Texas A&M University, in cooperation with Oak Ridge Associated Universities and the United States Atomic Energy Commission.

Pioneer 11 Heading For Saturn's Rings

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP) — Pioneer 11 is racing toward a perilous dive through Saturn's rings on a voyage that may help pave the way for the discovery of life in outer space.

Pioneer scientist unveiled plans Wednesday to send the tiny, 570-pound spacecraft plummeting through a 15,000-mile gap between the planet and the closest of its rings in September 1979.

The course will leave the nuclear-powered vehicle with enough energy to swing around the back of Saturn, get a boost from the planet's gravitational pull, and then soar 760,000 miles to Titan, one of Saturn's moons, a day later.

Because Titan contains such life-building ingredients as oxygen and methane, scientists believe it the most likely of all heavenly bodies to contain life.

Dr. John Wolfe, Pioneer project scientist, said scientists haven't decided how close the spacecraft will come to Titan. However, Pioneer 11's electronic sensors will send scientists information with which they can chart routes for future flybys near the yellowish moon.

The spacecraft was cruising at 27,000 miles per hour today some 2.2 million miles from Jupiter, whose searing radiation it survived earlier this week.

Settlement Of Coal Strike Has Little Effect On Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Settlement of the nationwide coal strike today had no immediate effect on the stock market.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 blue-chip industrial stocks was up 1.17 to 369.11, a gain of only 23 in the half-hour following the announcement that coal miners had ratified a new contract.

Declines took a narrow lead over advances on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts believe that investors are looking for positive action from the Ford administration on combating recession to lift the market out of its slump.

Flight Instructor Still Learns At 80

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Percy B. DeCarter of Exeter, Calif., doesn't think he's learned all there is to know about being a Federal Aviation Administration flight instructor.

After all, the 80-year-old DeCarter has only been giving flight tests for 28 years.

So, he dutifully attended a three-day refresher course here this week.

"I attend them every year," DeCarter said Wednesday. "That's the only way you can keep up on things."
