Democrats Vote Party Charter

Blacks' Walkout Averted

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Averting a threatened black walkout, Democrats shouted their approval Saturday of a final crucial compromise, scrapped their controversial quota system and passed the first written charter of any major U.S. political party.

The final compromise, a product of marathon negotiations by the party's governors, blacks and women, was hammered out in a trailer just off the convention floor as about 2,000 delegates sought to end the internal feuds that have consumed Democrats in recent years.

Trust Needed
"We can't ask the American people to trust us unless we can trust each other," said Ohio Gov. John J. Gilligan, a key mover in the drive by the governors to assert themselves as leaders in unifying the party.

For the most part, the charter takes the party's current practices and embodies them in a constitution that will govern its activities in the years after 1976.

But on the question of delegate selection rules, the final compromise removed language that blacks and women feared would make future credential challenges more difficult. It has already been adopted for 1976, but Saturday's action removed it from post-1976 rules.

It also bans mandatory quotas while putting the burden on state Democratic parties to take steps to assure full participation of women, minorities, Indians and young people.

Some Complain
Some party regulars and AFL-CIO officials complained bitterly about the change. "You're headed down another road to '72," said Rep. Joe Waggoner, D-La.

And California AFL-CIO President John F. Henning denounced national chairman Robert S. Strauss and said, "Union labor will no longer suffer sophisticated denial and discrimination in the high councils of the Democratic party."

But approval of the compromise was assured after the mini-convention delegates shouted their voice-vote approval of a move to substitute the final compromise proposal.

Delegates throughout the hall leaped to their feet, cheering Strauss and charter committee members.

Republicans Seek To Avoid Future Campaign Abuses

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican party policy committee recommended Saturday night that the national committee chairman be given responsibility for presidential campaigns to avoid repeats of Watergate-related abuses in the 1972 campaign.

A last-minute compromise also was reached on proposed rules governing state parties' efforts to broaden the base of the party by reaching out to women, minorities, ethnic groups, the elderly and the young.

A final vote, however, was delayed until today.

May Drop Proposal
It would drop a proposed requirement for states to submit affirmative action plans that must be approved before a state could be seated at a convention. Instead, it would recommend that each state submit by Feb. 1, 1976, to the GOP committee examples of positive efforts to widen the party base.

The "Rule 29" committee, created by the 1972 convention recommended changes in future delegate selection and convention procedures, decided by voice vote that the national committee should exercise total control over the presidential and vice presidential races.

Supporters of the rule changes, which would have to be approved by the national committee and then the national convention in 1976, said the party had to prevent a repeat

Low In Upper 20s Predicted In City

The Tall City will experience a drop in temperature today, with the expected high this afternoon in the upper 40s, according to the weatherman at Midland Air Terminal.

The high mark Saturday was 58, with the low pegged at 38. Tonight's low, however, should drop into the upper 20s, followed by a high on Monday in the middle 50s.

Meanwhile, Texans enjoyed excellent fall weather Saturday although there may have been a little too much chill for some.

Temperatures ranged from the 40s to the 70s during the afternoon under clear skies and brisk breezes in some places.

Early morning temperatures Saturday were in the upper 20s in the Panhandle to the lower 50s in Northeast Texas, The Associated Press reported.

The forecasts called for increasing cloudiness and colder temperatures today in West Texas. Elsewhere, skies will become partly cloudy today with mild days and cool nights.

Thousands Pack Route Of Yule Parade Here

In weather more reminiscent of a high school football game than of elves and reindeer, Santa Claus came to town Saturday morning.

Judging from the thousands of festive folk who packed the borders of the several-mile parade route, the only person in Midland who could have possibly missed the fourth annual Christmas Parade was Mr. Scrooge.

Santa made the scene on "An Old Fashioned West Texas Christmas" float, riding in carriage.

Though Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer wasn't pulling Santa's sleigh, he did make an appearance. He was represented by a small foreign car covered with brown cloth and adorned with branches for antlers, a red light for a nose and a windshield wiper "eyelashes."

'AND THE WINNERS ARE' — A circular display depicting the Twelve Days of Christmas, above, was the Midland Jaycees' winning float in the non-commercial division of the annual Christmas Parade here Saturday while below, a float depicting a youth dreaming of a white Christmas took top honors for Mid-Tex of Midland in the commercial division.

In the commercial division, Gibson's Discount Center placed second and Mr. Penguin Tuxedos third.

In the non-commercial division, the other winning floats were: 2. Midland County 4-H Clubs, 3. Young Marrieds Department of Emmanuel Baptist Mission, 4. Trinity School, 5. Emerson Elementary third graders, and 6. Austin Freshman School Spanish Classes.

Trophies and prizes will be awarded at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the conference room of the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

High Prices To Be Gasoline Problem This Winter Rather Than Low Supplies

By FRANCES LEWINE
WASHINGTON (AP) — The gasoline problem this winter will be high prices rather than low supplies, a top government official said Saturday, while President Ford described the nation's energy-economic problem as "complex as the devil."

Ford held an hour and 45-minute meeting with top advisers who have been asked to come up with a new National Energy Policy that he can recommend in his State of the Union message to the new Congress.

No decisions were even discussed, said Press Secretary Ron Nessen, but aides said Ford wants better ideas about how to tell American consumers in more specific terms what they can do to help on a voluntary basis.

Nessen gave the President's reaction to the "broad look" he got from the experts on energy-economic problems: "It's impressive in the complexity it spotlights. It's complex as the devil."

Afterwards, the chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, Allen Greenspan, said the problem of energy this winter is not one of available supply of gasoline, but one of

Venezuela Will Nationalize U.S.-Run Iron Ore Mining Operations On Jan. 1

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The government announced Saturday it will nationalize the U.S.-run iron ore mining operations in Venezuela on Jan. 1 for an estimated $101 million in compensation.

President Carlos Andres Perez announced the nationalization of subsidiaries of U.S. Steel and Bethlehem Steel in a televised speech to congress. It had been expected for several months, and company spokesmen in Pittsburgh, Pa., expressed no surprise.

The move is not expected to hamper the American steel industry. Government officials said arrangements can be made to assure Venezuelan ore to the two companies over the next year or so.

The United States produces about two-thirds of its own iron ore needs and imports the rest. About half the imports, or 21.6 million long tons last year, came from Canada, followed by 13 million long tons from Venezuela, according to U.S. industry figures. Iron ore, however, is in plentiful supply in many countries.

"We will become big steel producers," Perez told the nation. "In the next three years, our current one-million-ton-a-year steel capacity will be increased to five million tons and within a few years, Venezuela will produce 15 million tons yearly."

Annual U.S. steel production is in the range of 130 to 140 million tons. Venezuela's total iron ore output is about 30 million tons a year. Europe gets most of what does not go to the United States.

Perez said Orinoco Mining Co., owned by U.S. Steel, and Iron Mines Co., a Bethlehem subsidiary, will receive compensation not to exceed net book value of the holdings.

He did not mention a specific figure, but other officials said earlier that Orinoco would receive $83.7 million and Iron Mines $17.6 million.

Odessan Killed In Pickup Mishap

A 33-year-old Odessa man was killed Saturday when the pickup he was driving went out of control on a county road east of Midland and overturned into a cotton field.

John Albert Sikes was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace Bob Pine.

Highway Patrolman David Hancock said Sikes apparently was traveling west on a county road 1 1/2 miles east of Midland and north of a tank farm when the truck went out of control.

The pickup hit a utility pole guy line and veered into a field, where it overturned, Hancock said. Sikes was partially pinned beneath the wreckage.

The accident was discovered by 16-year-old Danny Howard, who notified authorities.

A heavy smell of gasoline shrouded the crash site, and officers for a time feared radioactive contamination of the area after they discovered a container they determined contained Iridium-192 — a radioactive substance used in x-ray work.

It was determined after about an hour that the container had not leaked.

The pickup was owned by World Wide X-Ray Service Co. of Odessa. Officers said Sikes worked for the firm.

The body was taken to Thomas Funeral Home, where arrangements are pending.

Draw On Your Built-In Power

Everyone has more inner strength than he realizes. In fact, it is doubtful whether we use even a fraction of the strength we possess. It is a pity how we settle for living on a trickle of power when there have been built into us reservoirs of strength that are almost incredible. Sometimes these inner power sources emerge under crisis. Human beings perform amazing feats in crisis conditions — things they could not possibly do otherwise.

A truck overturned on a young boy, pinning him to the ground. A crowd gathered. Efforts were made to lift the truck off him, but to no avail.

Then running came the boy's father, only a fair-sized man. He never said a word. He saw the situation and responded in depth. He put his shoulder under the truck and lifted it just enough to allow the boy to be pulled free unharmed.

Later, when he tried to do the same thing apart from a crisis situation, he could not budge it. Where was the strength? Outside of him? Of course not. It was deep inside and it was powerfully activated when need arose.

Amazing indeed the inherent strength people have.

The newspaper carried a story about a pilot in a small plane in northwestern Ontario. The pilot set his little plane down on its pontoons in a lake in a remote area. He stepped out of the cockpit onto the pontoon. The propeller was still turning as he expected to remain there only briefly. On the wet pontoon he slipped. The propeller struck him a blow on the head, swirled him around and toppled him unconscious into the water.

Apparently the cold water revived him. He tried to climb out of the water back onto the pontoon when he discovered to his horror that the whirling propeller had cut off his right arm below the shoulder. He was bleeding profusely.

Far from civilization, in a lonely lake, arm cut off, lifeblood coursing out... What a situation for calling upon the inner strength potential. What would you do? Panic? Well, that would hardly help.

What did he do? He says, "I sent up a quick prayer and it was answered." Painfully he pulled himself up onto the pontoons. Praying he would not black out, he struggled into the cockpit and after several tries fashioned a tourniquet with a piece of rope. He lifted the plane off the water and flew 15 miles to a point where another pilot flew him to a hospital. The life of the 28-year-old pilot was saved although his arm was lost.

The newspaper writer in commenting on the incredible power that the man demonstrated in crisis said, "Built-in power was the answer. What else?"

That power is built into you too. Few persons ever face a situation such as that pilot but to some degree everyone will face crises requiring more power than we feel capable of delivering.

Fear no crisis. Draw on your built-in power. It is there waiting to be used.

Simon Threatens To Quit If Policy Changed

By R. GREGORY NOKES
WASHINGTON (AP)— Treasury Secretary William E. Simon may resign if President Ford makes a major policy shift from fighting inflation to fighting the nation's deepening recession, close Simon aides say.

These aides say Simon is convinced that if the government embarks on heavy deficit spending to combat the recession, it could push the nation's free enterprise system over the brink toward a controlled economy and socialism.

"I'd give him two more months to wait and see what happens," said one aide who knows Simon's thinking.

President Ford, however, may be unable to resist pressures for new government policies to stimulate the economy, especially after the government reported Friday that the nation's unemployment rate leaped to 6.5 per cent in November.

Such policies could take the form of tax cuts to put more money in the hands of consumers, or heavy new federal spending to try to turn the sagging economy around. Either action would increase the federal budget deficit.

The administration has acknowledged the economy is deteriorating faster than expected, and Simon himself has predicted the nation faces the longest recession — if not the worst — since World War II.

White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said Friday the November jobless figures — showing almost six million Americans out of work — are "of great concern" to Ford, and indicated that new anti-recession actions may be in the works.

But if Ford decides the nation must have a big budget deficit next year — after earlier calling for a balanced budget — or if he imposes new wage and price controls, that may be too much for Simon, aides say.

But aides are not sure he has indicated to the President that he might step down if there is a major shift of policy.

This raised speculation the aides might be discussing a possible resignation with reporters in order to transmit a signal to the President in this fashion.

Of earlier reports that he might resign — some leaked from the White House — Simon himself said only, "I will stay as long as the President wants me to stay."

Simon, 47, became Treasury secretary in May after heading the energy program. He has been hurt in his dealings with other administration officials, as well as some of his own staff members, by a sometimes abrasive manner and a short, explosive temper, aides say.

Dr. Mailey Nominated For Association Award

AUSTIN — Midland teachers, but have nominated Dr. James H. Mailey, superintendent of the Midland Independent School District (MISD) for a Texas Classroom Teachers Association (TCTA) Administrator of the Year Award.

The Classroom Teachers of Midland nominated Mailey to compete with other administrators from all areas of the state who also have been nominated by their local classroom teachers association.

TCTA will present three Administrator of the Year Awards at its annual state convention Feb. 20-22 at Fort Worth. The awards are made in three categories according to the scholastic population of the district: MISD with 16,420 students, falls into the third category for districts with more than 10,000 students.

Through the awards program TCTA seeks not only to honor outstanding administrators, but also to project a clear picture of what classroom teachers feel typifies a good administrator. This will be the fifth year TCTA has presented the award.

Mailey has been an educator for 39 years, serving the past seven years as MISD superintendent. He previously was employed in the Midland district from 1958-1962 as high school principal and deputy superintendent.

He then went to the University of Southern Mississippi where he was chairman of the Department of Educational Administration.

He also has held positions at Southern Methodist University in Dallas and in Montana, where he began his career.

Active in community affairs, Mailey is a member of the Downtown Kiwanis Club, the Chamber of Commerce and serves on the board of directors of the Museum of the Southwest and the Midland YMCA.

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP) — Four Palestinian guerrillas who hijacked a British plane to Tunis last month and executed a hostage were handed over to the PLO Saturday.

The hijackers surrendered Nov. 25 after Tunisia promised not to turn them over to the PLO, and observers said the government probably demanded the letter to free itself of that vow and from possible reprisals by other terrorists.

Belkhdja said the hijackers and the seven other guerrillas released as ransom in the hijack said in the letter they wanted to "express their deep thanks to the Tunisian government for its noble attitude" and "to put themselves voluntarily and of their own free will at the disposal" of the PLO.

Congress Must Approve SALT Accord If Detente Continues, Kissinger Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union would have grave doubts about the American commitment to detente if Congress rejected the new SALT agreement with Moscow, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger said Saturday.

He said the Soviets had "made very major concessions" in negotiating the second nuclear arms limitation agreement two weeks ago in Vladivostok.

If the House and Senate do not approve the accord, Kissinger said at a news conference, "the Soviet Union would only be able to conclude that a political detente with us faces insurmountable difficulties."

The secretary was making his first major public defense of the Vladivostok agreement, particularly the provisions setting a ceiling on the number of missiles and bombers the two countries will be able to deploy over the next 10 years.

Kissinger was questioned closely about the limit placed in that time period on the number of missiles that can be armed with MIRVs — multiple warheads. The agreement allows 2,400 missiles and bombers to each country and 1,320 MIRVs apiece.

Repeating that these limits put an end to an arms race, Kissinger said that in strategic terms a lowering of the ceiling would make little difference.

Although first reaction to the agreement in Congress was generally favorable, Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., has said he would mount a drive to get the administration to lower the number of missiles permitted.

In another matter, Kissinger urged that the Senate's decision extending a deadline for cutting off military aid to Turkey be repeated by the House.

CASH PLANNING IMPORTANT

If you are considering the purchase of your first home, you should also consider taking a close look at your financial balance sheet so that your decision will be one of pleasure rather than pain.

Items to take into consideration are, first and foremost, the down payment, settlement fees and moving costs. These will make the biggest dent in your savings. You should have enough margin to draw on for such items as furniture, carpeting, storm windows, etc., if needed.

After figuring what your mortgage payments will be, don't forget to add on the cost of utilities and services that may be included in the rent you are now paying.

FHA and VA mortgages, if available, can be used to keep the down payment low and many mortgage lenders will make conventional loans of up to $36,000 with only 5% down and up to $45,000 with 10%.

If you have any questions on this subject or any other aspect of real estate, feel free to phone or drop in at DON JOHNSON REALTORS, 2318 W. Ohio St. Phone: 683-5333. We're here to help! (Come in for your free magazine.)

Buffalo Trail Scouts Open Camp Fund Drive

The Buffalo Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America, by action of its executive board, has launched a development program for a need of $500,000.

The program known as the "Scout Camp and Program Development Fund" is being conducted on a three to five year pledge basis for the following purposes:

- Establishment of a new camp at the Buffalo Trail Scout Ranch located in the Davis Mountains.
- This new camp is necessary because the existing camp is not large enough to accommodate the present number of campers.
- Camp sites are crowded and roadways are being used for tents and campers. The present camp does not meet the minimum requirements for health and safety as set forth by the National Council Boy Scouts of America.
- Improvement of support camps, which include Lake Colorado City, a fishing and boat pier, Camp Tejas (near Kermit) restroom facilities and troop sites, Camp Murphy (near Snyder) water supply, Camp Pegasus (in Midland County) restroom facilities and troop sites.
- Establishing of an Exploring Division for the teenage youth of West Texas.
- Exploring is the nation's largest and fastest growing program for teen-agers. Studies show the establishment of contemporary exploring produces measurable results in the reduction of drug abuse, vandalism and other undesirable activities while greatly enhancing the attributes of free enterprise, self reliance, patriotism and appreciation for God and country.
- An addition to the Scout Service Center a program support facility including a complete library, merit badges, advancement awards and training material.
- The program support facility also will include a meeting room for Scout functions. A trading post of supplies will be available.
- The Buffalo Trail Council program is being upgraded through the development effort to provide for all youths — including the handicapped and the disadvantaged.

The council board has underwritten campaign costs, so the full pledged amount will go directly to the purposes of the campaign.

The Development Program Campaign headquarters is located at 2101 West Wall St. in Midland.

Wave Of Fires Takes Heavy Toll In Lives Of Children

BEAON, N.Y. (AP) — Six children died when a fire swept through a home early Saturday, authorities reported.

Juan Claudio and his wife, Alesandro, escaped without serious injuries, police said.

The couple, parents of four of the children, were under sedation at a hospital following the blaze. The two other children, believed to be cousins, were visiting the family, police said.

"We think it started from the gas stove in the kitchen," said Fire Chief Joe Catalano. "Probably gas leaked during the night ... and then the whole place went up."

The fire broke out about 7:30 a.m.

Earlier in the morning, a mother and two of her children died in a fire in Canisteo, N.Y. In Nashville, Tenn., a baby-girl born after a fire in a mobile home died just nine hours after her birth. Two other small children died in the fire. The mother was in critical condition Saturday with severe burns over 90 per cent of her body.

Three hours after Mrs. Alice Faye Hubbard, 20, was pulled from the flaming trailer, she gave birth to the baby girl. The baby was in shock when she was born, a physician at General Hospital said.

Mrs. Hubbard's sons, Michael, 3, and Anthony, 1, were dead when rescue workers reached them Friday.

The mother, nine-months pregnant, went into labor at the scene, physicians said.

The fire broke out shortly before 9 a.m. while Mrs. Hubbard's husband, Eugene, was at work.

FORT LAUDERDALE (AP) — Eddie Egan, a former New York City detective who helped crack the "French Connection" drug case of movie and best-seller fame, is throwing in the towel on The Lauderdale Connection. Egan says financial woes have forced him to close The Lauderdale Connection restaurant here after only 14 months. "I got burned," he said. "My name made me a hot shot.

People figured they could use me, use me, use me. I got sick and tired of handshakes and promises. Egan says he has been forced to take a job with a local private detective agency.

Are your child's eyes crying for help?

We don't need to tell you how important your child's eyes are. But maybe you don't know just how hard they work. Your child's eyes will bring her over 80% of all she learns in life. They will control about 80% of all her actions. And they will use up to 25% of all of her energy every day.

That's the big order your child's eyes have been given. And sometimes they need a little help. That's why TSO recommends regular professional eye examinations.

At TSO, your child's eyes will be examined internally for evidence of disease or defect; then for visual abnormalities such as near- or farsightedness, astigmatism or muscle imbalance.

If needed, depend on TSO to fit your child with fine-quality eyewear for the clearest, most comfortable vision possible. Choose from a wide variety of well-constructed frame styles that will help your child look her best, too. And the cost is most reasonable.

At TSO, we care how you look at life.

Dr. Wyvell discussed the Equal Rights Amendment which was passed in March 1972. The proposed Constitutional amendment will become a law if it is ratified by 38 states.

Equal Rights

This law basically states that both sexes have equality of rights under the law and that Congress shall have the power to enforce this law, which will go into effect two years after 38 states have passed the amendment, Dr. Wyvell said. In her discussion, she asked questions, including: "Is this a necessary law?" "Is it enforceable?" and "What does Section 2 of the amendment do as far as constitutional powers are concerned?" she pointed out that the 14th amendment states that all can have the Constitutional rights regardless of sex, race or color. The Civil Rights Act states equal work should receive equal pay and the Equal Opportunity Act says women cannot be denied supervisory work and advancement because of sex.

Gifts Delivered By Crop Duster

MARION, N.Y. (AP) — Each year on her birthday, Josie McNeely, 16, runs to the yard of her farm home, turns cartwheels and waves wildly at an airplane which swoops over her father's cotton fields.

Minutes later, a birthday package of candy, gum and popcorn plummets to the yard from Ed Schoonmaker's biplane.

Schoonmaker, a veteran crop duster, has been dropping birthday goodies to Josie since she was 10.

This year Schoonmaker dropped three packages in the Marion area at the request of parents whose youngsters were celebrating birthdays.

"Next year when I come back, I may do more candy dropping than crop dusting," he said.

Special Course Offered Women

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — A telephone company here has developed a special training course to "convert a female type person into a telephone type person."

The company decided to launch the course because most of the first 53 women who took installer training dropped out due to lack of physical strength.

Richard Nichols, who developed the course, said the major part of the 35-day training program duplicates the physical work of the installation job. The 55-pound barbells weighs the same as an installer's ladder and also the same as a large pole crossbar. Other exercises are planned to develop grip (for tools), stamina to perform repeated tasks and to strengthen leg muscles for walking and climbing.

Now 47 women are enrolled in the program and are doing well, Nichols said.

Scarves In Fashion News, Says Extension Service

COLLEGE STATION — It takes a lot of imagination these days to look fashionably dressed while staying within the family budget, one clothing specialist said this week.

"Adding accessories such as scarves can change the style of last season's wardrobe," Marlene Odle, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, noted.

Scarves are setting the pace for fall fashions. They come in fruted colors of green, rust, pale peach, beige and off-white.

WILL BE OPEN
EACH NIGHT
EXCEPT SUNDAY
UNTIL 8 P.M.

All shapes and sizes — square and oblong, wide and long, printed and solids — are popular.

The specialist suggested several ways to accent your wardrobe using scarves.

—Tying at the neck is the most popular, but use your imagination to create fashion.

—Once around the head and tied in front creates a turban.

—Tie it around a section of hair and let it hang free.

—Drape it over your shoulders and pin it in place with a decorative pin.

—Weaving it through a chain belt adds color to last year's basic dress.

—Tie it in a sash around your waist for a belt.

—Wrap it around the neck twice and tie it at the side for a western look.

Mrs. George Staley, acting as the DAR Good Citizen's chairman, presented the award to Miss Howe at a recent chapter Christmas tea in the Midland Woman's Club.

Miss Howe is a senior student at Midland High School, where she is a member of the National Honor Society and National Spanish Honor Society. She has earned letters in academics and golf and has been secretary of the Spanish Club and foreign exchange adviser on the President's Council of the Student Council. She also has been a Posse-ette squad leader. She plans to attend Texas A&M University to study veterinary medicine.

The DAR Good Citizens are selected on the basis of dependability, patriotism and leadership. They are chosen each year by fellow students and teachers. Papers on the award recipients are sent for state competition.

The winner of the state contest receives a $100 U.S. Savings Bond, a ribbon, certificate and award pin. ## Research Group Issues School Sexism Booklet

By ELAINE MOOKER
Associated Press Writer
HARTFORD, Conn.

Teachers who want to rid their young pupils of rigid ideas about sex roles should ask them to act out familiar stories with a new twist, a report on sexism in schools says.

The Connecticut Public Interest Research Group, a student-supported organization inspired by Ralph Nader, has issued a handbook on how teachers and parents can stop sexism in elementary schools.

Martha Cohen, author of the booklet, says "The whole elementary school system is unknowingly geared toward limiting children's opportunities. The fact that 85 per cent of the elementary principals are males is not a good example for encouraging children that jobs are open equally to everyone."

Must Challenge
Ms. Cohen, a junior sociology major at Trinity College, says teachers must challenge rigid stereotypes that serve only to limit a child's development, to preclude gentleness in a boy or aggressiveness in a girl.

Teachers should encourage girls to use manipulative materials such as screwdrivers and hammers and encourage boys to cook, sew and play house with girls, she says.

Ms. Cohen also suggests dividing the class into groups. One would observe "real life" and report to the class on such topics as how many girls wear slacks to school, how many mothers of class members work and how many fathers do household chores or care for children.

The other group would study television, magazines and textbooks and report on how these media view women and men.

Examine Books
Parents should examine textbooks and complain to school officials and textbook publishers about books that show girls using their mathematical prowess to measure flour for cupcakes, while boys are shown cutting book shelves or copying house plans, she adds.

Ms. Cohen believes the report — which gives pointers for parents and teachers, lists books and records and suggests teacher in-service training topics — is a resource to activate those changes boards of education are seeking to eliminate sex stereotyping.

She cited a recent resolution passed by the Hartford Board of Education urging that sex-stereotyped programs and textbooks be discontinued.

Tasty Topping
For a tasty topping, grate one, a mellow, ripe apple, add three tablespoons of sugar, and one egg white. Beat with mixer until light. Serve on puddings, cake, or any dessert.

Avinash Nangea

University Women To Hear Nangea

Avinash Nangea will present a program entitled "India Revisited" when the World Affairs Group, American Association of University Women meets at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Midland Room, The Midland National Bank. He will discuss economic, social and political changes he observed while visiting his mother country following a 14 year absence.

Nangea, a senior reservoir engineer with Mobil Oil Corp., holds a B.S.C. degree from Lucknow University, a B.S. degree from Texas A&I and a master's degree from the University of Oklahoma.

The speaker, his wife, Rekha, and 5-year-old son, Samir, now reside at 3807 W. Kansas St., but will soon leave for Lagos, Nigeria, where Nangea has recently been assigned.

Hostesses for the meeting, which is open to the public, are Mrs. Stan Levitt and Mrs. Hank Krusekopf.

Proper Rest
Sleep is very important to beauty. If you have a cold or some respiratory trouble remember to elevate your head and chest while sleeping.

Easy Apple Cake
For an easy Danish apple cake, brown dry bread crumbs lightly in a skillet with butter and brown sugar to taste, stirring constantly so they will be evenly and well coated. Layer these with applesauce in a serving dish. Chill for several hours, top with whipped cream and serve.

Mrs. Coleman To Review Book

Equal Rights Amendment

...school curriculum and...
...the U.S. Supreme Court repeatedly has...
...This right is based on the first, third, fourth, fifth and ninth amendments. The ERA, according to the intent of its framers, and of the majority of the Senate Judiciary Committee, applies only to governmental acts, Mrs. Gould added.

It does not apply to private behavior, she said.
"Perhaps some persons anticipate a 'desegregation' of the 70s to follow the 'desegregation' of the 60s," said Mrs. Gould. "They forget that desegregation applied to public functions such as going to public schools."

"Desegregation implies an interference in private functions and the rights to privacy that no constitutional amendment, ERA or other — would permit."

Another League member, Mrs. J. L. English, followed with a discussion of the possible effects of ERA on family life. She explained that the ERA will make financial arrangements within the family — decisions regarding family income, property and maintenance, a matter to be settled equally by married individuals, rather than solely by the husband, as the case in some states.

It may be a real assistance to retired persons, since wives, as well as husbands, should be able to collect the full value of Social Security paid in, rather than the partial amount now granted, she added.

Widowers with dependent children would be able to collect from company pension plans in which their deceased wives took part, which they often are not able to do today, Mrs. English continued.

She pointed out that the ERA would not have a radical effect on family life. Since no law forces anyone to work, it would not make wives leave the home to work or force wives to support their husbands, she said.

"The courts would not interpret the ERA in such a way," she said. "Courts do not intervene in on-going marriages on questions of support. They only arbitrate in instances of divorce or separation."

Other questions such as those relating to the custody of children in a divorce would continue to be settled on the basis of individual circumstances, she argued.

"Women have no 'customary right' either to child custody or to alimony in any state, so the ERA would not have any effect on such matters," she concluded.

Taking up the question of the impact — of the ERA on working women, Dr. Diana Olien, of the League explained that the ERA would have many positive effects: Forty-three per cent of American women over 16 work outside the home full time, and of that number 70 per cent work because they must support themselves, so it is here that ERA could have its most dramatic impact, she said.

Dr. Olien pointed out that the ERA would also extend benefits to women serving in the armed forces.

"If the ERA were ratified, women at last would be fully eligible for veterans' benefits, hospitalization and job preferences."

"The ERA would not determine who would be drafted, if the draft were reinstated, since Congress has the power to draft any citizen."

"The ERA would in no way interfere with customary Defense Department policy, or with deferment or exemption of persons with dependent children from military service."

Dr. Olien said the ERA is an affirmation of the American tradition of equality under law, individual opportunity and freedom of enterprise.

She noted that totalitarian societies, notably Communist and Fascist, customarily deny their subjects all rights.

"By contrast," said Dr. Olien, "the American Constitution affirms and guarantees rights to individuals. The ERA should be seen in this affirmative context. It guarantees the kind of individual freedom which has made America the strong nation it is."

A coffee and social hour will begin at 9:15 a.m., with the brunch being served at 10 a.m.

Members not contacted should dial Mrs. Dwan Nesbitt at 697-2889. New residents interested in joining Newcomers should contact Mrs. Larry Larsen, 697-1997. Mrs. Ron Hall should be contacted at 684-6507 for late cancellations.

Dr. Olien pointed out that the ERA would also extend benefits to women serving in the armed forces.

"If working women enjoyed such benefits," said Dr. Olien, "The improvement in their economic situation would make them better able to support whatever dependents they had, and this might do a lot to clear up some of America's welfare problems."

Mrs. English further noted that the ERA would also extend benefits to women serving in the armed forces.

'Forty Carats' Is Worth 20-Mile Drive On Cold Night

By ROGER SOUTHALL, Reporter-Telegram Staff

ODESSA — So what's the reason for driving 20 miles on a cold evening to see a play that you've already seen elsewhere?

The reason, primarily, is to see some nice people putting their comedic talents to good use in a play that is every bit as entertaining the second time around as it was the first time.

Permian Playhouse, Odessa's community theater, opened its production of "Forty Carats" Friday night — and this clever comedy seemed to delight the PPH first-nighters as much as it did Midland Community Theatre audiences two years ago.

One of my favorite actresses in the area, Flo Hughes, is in the pivotal role of Ann Stanley, the 40-carat "jewel" in "Forty Carats," and this was prime motivation for the trip over.

I missed seeing her as Nora in Ibsen's "A Doll's House" a year ago (a portrayal that apparently amounted to an artistic triumph for her) but I have enjoyed her fine work in a number of other productions, as the young wife in MCT's presentation of O'Neill's "Desire Under the Elms" several years back and, more recently, as the wife in PPH's production of the Archibald MacLellan drama, "J.B." — among others.

And there are other highly capable actors in PPH's new production as well: Oscar Russell, familiar to Midland audiences through his work in Summer Mummies, in the role of the middle-aged suitor; Eddy Edwards; Larry Carter, who had a part in MCT's "Good News" some years ago, as Ann's former husband, Billy Boylan; Anne Caldwell as the lively senior citizen, Maud Hayes; Dale Jenkins as Peter Latham, the suffer almost half Ann's age who woo-and-wins her.

Other PPH performers contributing vitally are Anne Hart (in her PPH debut) as Mrs. Latham, Peg Wilson as Mrs. Adams, Elray Hawkins as Mrs. Margolin, Ren Pettijohn as Trina Stanley, Dick Shafer as Mr. Latham and Rick Stanley as Pat, the young golf pro.

PPH director Enid Holm has staged a tightly-knit, well-thought-out production. However, the smaller PPH stage did not accommodate the play's main set of the Stanley living room and the upper-level "mini-set" of Ann Stanley's office as effectively as the Theatre Centre stage did for MCT's production in 1972.

"Forty Carats" will have Friday and Saturday performances this week, and these will be followed with concluding performances on Dec. 20-21.

Tickets for all performances are on sale each weekday at the Permian Playhouse, 310 W. 42nd St. Seat reservations also may be made by telephoning the box office at 362-2329.

Ritz Theatre to reopen Dec. 20

Ritz Theatre To Reopen; Yucca Closing Dec. 20

Midland Theatres has announced the Ritz Theatre, closed in 1970, will reopen Dec. 20 with screenings of "Airport 1975." On the same day, the Yucca Theatre will be closed.

Bernard J. McKenna, Midland Theatres manager, said the action was being taken in an effort to see if "the public will once again support a downtown theater."

McKenna said the Ritz had undergone remodeling in preparation for the reopening. The movie house sports a new screen and carpeting, a paint job, refurbished seats and "more comfort." The number of seats has been reduced, he said, to allow more room between rows.

Following "Airport 1975," the Ritz has scheduled "The Trial of Billy Jack." McKenna said other films of that caliber would play there for 2- to 4-week runs if the policy proves successful.

The closing of the Yucca, built more than 40 years ago, may or may not be permanent, he noted. Its fate and that of the Ritz will depend upon the public's reaction to the new policy.

MCT Gets $2,500 Grant From Mobil Foundation

Midland Community Theatre Inc. has received a grant from the Mobil Foundation Inc. which will fund MCT's upcoming Christmas production for children.

The production is "Mr. Scrooge," a musical adaptation of Charles Dickens' beloved classic, "A Christmas Carol," with performances scheduled Dec. 19, 20 and 21. The musical will be presented by the Pickwick Players, the young people's producing and performing company at MCT, with Gary Sullivan directing. Sullivan came to MCT this fall as assistant director.

The Mobil Foundation Grant of $2,500 is one of a series of gifts to fine arts organizations in 30 cities in the U.S. Fred S. Wright Jr., producing manager of the Midland office of Mobil Oil Corp., said that the foundation has previously awarded civic and cultural grants only in the New York City area. This year, as an experiment, the foundation is distributing grants nationwide with the objective of bringing fine arts and cultural events to more people.

The MCT grant makes it possible for the theater to offer free admission to special groups of children who might not otherwise have opportunity to see "Mr. Scrooge." Among the local agencies working with the Midland Independent School District. The theater asks that visits by these special groups be arranged through any other organization wishing to bring children to see a performance contact Mrs. Glenn Rogers or telephone the theater at 682-2544.

'Ain't Gonna Need This House No More'

The Midland-Odessa Symphony and Choral will bid farewell to an old friend this week.

Monday night's rehearsal by the ensembles is expected to be the final one in Rodenhiser Hall, one of the few World War II-vintage buildings remaining at Midland Regional Air Terminal.

Within coming weeks the orchestra and choral will move into a new 4,500-square-foot rehearsal hall just a few blocks from Rodenhiser.

Dr. Thomas Hohstadt, musical director-conductor of the Midland-Odessa Symphony, noted that "As far as I know, ours is the only symphony orchestra in the country with its own building constructed specifically for rehearsals."

Rodenhiser Hall was built in the early 1940s at what was then Midland Air Field and served as the movie theater for the installation. The City of Midland has permitted the symphony to use the building for rehearsals, rent free, with the symphony paying for the utilities.

After the symphony vacates Rodenhiser, the City of Midland will seek bids to have the structure demolished.

Monday night's rehearsal will be in preparation for the pair of Christmas concerts scheduled next week.

The subscription events, titled "Christmas With Meaning," will be presented Dec. 16 in Odessa and Dec. 17 in Lee High auditorium here. Offered in the dual concerts will be Bizet's "Farandole," Schubert's "Unfinished" Symphony, Respighi's "The Pines of Rome," and the Christmas Oratorio of J.S. Bach, which will feature the choral.

Venetian Drawings Collection On View At Kimbell Museum

FORT WORTH — A major exhibition, "Venetian Drawings from American Collections," opens today at the Kimbell Art Museum of Fort Worth. Organized by the International Exhibitions Foundation of Washington, D.C., it includes 117 rare drawings by the great masters of Venice of the 15th to 18th centuries.

During an opening reception from 1 to 5 p.m. today, there will be a special hour-long concert, beginning at 3 p.m., by the North Texas State University Brass Choir. David Kuehn is conductor, with George W. Jones as assistant conductor. The ensemble of 21 instrumentalists on trumpets, trombones, horns, euphoniums and tubas will perform the exuberant music of Venetian composers of the same period as the works of art being shown here.

The exhibition, to be on view through Feb. 9, was assembled from 42 leading U.S. museums and private collections. The show opened at the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C., and will continue from the Kimbell to the St. Louis Art Museum for a final showing.

Among the Venetian masters represented in the show are Bellini, Titian, Veronese, Tintoretto, Mantegna, Canaletto, Tiepolo and Guardi. The drawings were selected by Prof. Terisio Pignatti, director of the Civic Museums of Venice and a noted authority on Venetian art, who also wrote the introduction to the exhibition catalog to be available in the Kimbell's bookstore.

Among museums represented with works in the show are the Art Institute of Chicago, the Cleveland Museum of Art, the Fogg Art Museum, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Boston Museum of Fine Arts and the National Gallery of Art. Along with numerous distinguished private collectors, three lectures related to the exhibition will be presented in the museum's auditorium. At 2 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 15, Nell Johnson of the Kimbell curatorial staff will speak on "The Quality of Venetian Drawings," with a repeat of the lecture the following Wednesday noon. On Thursday, Jan. 19, Harold Joachim will lecture on "Venetian Draftsmen of the 18th Century." Joachim is curator of prints and drawings at the Art Institute of Chicago and considered one of the foremost American authorities in his field. On Sunday, Jan. 12, Nicky Holland of the Kimbell curatorial staff will speak on "The Quality of Venetian Life," a lecture to be repeated the following Wednesday noon. Two series of films also will be shown during the exhibition, each program approximately an hour long.

Dr. Mailey New President Of Museum Trustee Board

Dr. James H. Mailey, superintendent of the Midland Independent School District, is the new president of the board of trustees of the Museum of the Southwest here.

His election came at a recent board meeting at which new officers for the coming year were chosen and several new trustees elected.

Hamilton McRae, a museum trustee since the institution was organized in the mid-1960s, was named vice president, and Cecil Bybee was named treasurer. Mrs. Murray Fasken will serve another term as secretary of the museum governing board. They are joined by Bobby Holt and C. J. Kelly as members of the trustees executive committee.

Bybee is a new trustee of the museum, and other Midlanders elected to three-year terms on the board are Barry Beal, Dr. Al Langford, Mrs. Paul Rea, Deane Stoltz and Mrs. Clarence Scharbauer Jr. They succeed Mrs. William Jewell, Mrs. Charles A. Dean, Richard Jones, William Marshall and Loyd Whitley.

Holdover trustees include Jack Steele, Martin L. Aikday, James C. Armstrong, William B. Blakemore II, Leon G. Byerley Jr., Mrs. Edgar Keele, Joe Mabey, Francis C. Stickney, Mrs. Bennie Sue Thomas and Mrs. John J. Redfern III, as well as Mrs. Ben D. Johnson who, as president of the

Howard Cook Retrospective Exhibition Beginning Today

Assistance League, will open the exhibition which continues on view through Jan. 12.

The show is the second of a two-part exhibition of Cook's representative works, covering a period of more than 40 years — from 1927 to 1974. The show indicates the tremendous scope of the artist's career and also gives an indication of Cook's commitment to the expansion of pictorial conventions without ever sacrificing a deep and abiding humanism.

Cook devoted his energies to the graphic arts during the 1920s and to mural painting in the 1930s. Each was a strong influence on his approach when he eventually took up "easel painting." During the late '30s and early '40s, he painted primarily in watercolors and pastels and his first oil paintings date from 1943-1944 and were based on his war drawings. These were followed by the first New York paintings and early Indian ceremonial subjects. The clearly definitive style of the late '40s represents a major point in Cook's career and from that point on, he concentrated on oil painting.

Paint Daubers To Hold First Art Sale, Show

A new art club recently came into being here and members have lost no time organizing their first show and sale.

The club is named "The Paint Daubers" and the upcoming show and sale is termed an "Arts and Crafts Festival." The event will take place Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Dellwood Plaza shopping center on West Illinois Street.

The show will offer "paintings to pin cushions," club members say, and they are inviting the public to come browse and buy on each of the three days.

Club officers elected at the organizational meeting are Ginger Brown, president, Susan McQuinn, vice president, and Jo Elliott, secretary-treasurer. The club will have monthly meetings, Mrs. Brown said.

Abby's Handy List Of Survival Rules

DEAR ABBY: A bunch of us in the office were talking about what it takes for a man to survive, and our office know-it-all said he had heard about a nifty set of "survival rules," but he couldn't remember any. We all agreed that if anyone could help us, it was you. Can you?

THE LUNCH BUNCH

DEAR BUNCH: I've never seen any "survival rules," but I'll submit mine: Don't order seafood in a restaurant that has dirty menus. Never romance a woman who has more problems than you have. Don't tell a red-head you love her unless you intend to marry her. And don't open unless you have Jacks or better.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 19-year-old girl with a good reputation. I have never been in any kind of trouble, and never gave my mother any reason to mistrust me. My problem is that my mother will not allow me to date any boys who drive a van-give good advice, tell her that I said if she raised you right—and apparently she has because you've never been in any trouble and have a good reputation—she has nothing to worry about.

I know several guys who would date me, but I can't go out with them. How can I convince my mother that she is wrong? She reads your column and thinks you give good advice.

NOT ALLOWED

DEAR NOT: You probably can't. But since she thinks I wants to "keep me company," Abby, I haven't mastered adding spices to the entree, cooking vegetables, taking rolls out of the oven and keeping an intelligent conversation going all at the same time.

Last month we had two dinner parties, and both times my entree was ruined because I couldn't give my full attention to my dinner. I do not want company in the kitchen, but I don't want to hurt anyone's feelings. Can you help me?

DEAR ABBY: Whenever my husband and I entertain company for dinner and I excuse myself to go into the kitchen to do some last minute things, invariably one of the female guests will get up and follow me into the kitchen saying she

DEAR LONER: Use a little body language. When someone follows you into the kitchen, take her by the arm (gently, but firmly) and lead her back into the living room, telling her all the while how much you appreciate her offer of company but you prefer that she remain with the rest of the guests.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this newspaper. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Staubach Imitates Mad Bomber As Dallas Ropes Browns

Roger Connects On 3 TD Passes In 41-17 Lark

DALLAS (AP) — The cliff-hanging Dallas Cowboys bombed Cleveland 41-17 behind quarterback Roger Staubach's three touchdown passes Saturday to keep alive their dream of a record ninth consecutive trip to the National Football League playoffs.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry said, "We've been on the brink of elimination every week. It's been nerve-racking... we're on a thin string. Now we've put some pressure on Washington."

The Cowboys must win their final game in Oakland next Saturday and the Redskins have to lose their final two contests for Dallas to gain a National Conference wild card berth.

"Washington has to go out there Monday night and beat Los Angeles and that just might be a little tough for them," Landry said. "We've got to beat Oakland next week and who knows what might happen if they lose to the Rams. We could sneak in there."

Dallas is now 8-5 with long shot hopes at a National Conference wild card berth. The Cowboys' only chance is to defeat Oakland next Saturday while the Washington Redskins drop their final two games.

The loss dropped Cleveland's record to 4-9, the worst in the club's storied football history and only the second time they have ever finished below .500.

Staubach, booed after he failed to move Dallas on its second possession in the nationally televised game, silenced his critics with back to back bombs to Golden Richards in a 68-second span of the first quarter. It gave Dallas a 14-0 lead and the Cowboys never trailed.

Knocked out of the Washington game last Thanksgiving and replaced by rookie Clint Longley, who led Dallas to a story-book victory, Staubach finished his work with a 42-yard scoring pass to tight end Billy Joe DuPree in a 21-point Cowboy third period.

The touchdown passes to Richards covered 35 and 43 yards.

Both times Richards worked his way into the clear behind Cleveland's defensive back Van Green.

Mike Phipps, making his first start as the Cleveland quarterback in six games narrowed the deficit to 14-7 with a four-yard touchdown pass to Steve Holden.

Dallas led 20-10 at halftime after field goals of 39 and 19 yards by Eiren Herrera.

Ken Brown booted 12 yards for a touchdown before the Dallas landslide in the third quarter which also saw Walt Garrison score on runs of three and one yards.

It was the most points scored by the Cowboys' offensive machine this year and it was their seventh victory in their last eight games. Dallas has been to a record eight consecutive NFL playoffs.

Staubach, who has had a tarnished campaign with numerous interceptions and sacks, was on target 14 of 34 times for 230 yards. He suffered but one interception and rushed three times for 18 yards.

The Dallas offense was awesome rolling up more than 400 yards both in the air and overland.

A small turnout of 48,754 fans watched the renewal of what used to be one of pro football's most bitter rivalries. It was the first time the two teams had met since 1970 and the first time ever for the Browns to play in Texas Stadium.

Cleveland started the third period with a 59-yard kickoff return by Greg Pruitt to set in motion a 32-yard scoring drive climaxed by Brown's 12-yard scoring run.

That made it 20-17, but the roof collapsed on the Cleveland offense.

Temper flared in the second half and both Dallas defensive ends Ed (Too Tall) Jones and Harvey Banks Martin were ejected along with Cleveland's Bob McKay for roughhousing.

land defense. A 29-yard pass from Staubach to Drew Pearson, who became only the third Cowboy receiver in the club's history to go over the 1,000 yard mark in a season, set up Garrison's three-yard touchdown burst.

Staubach connected with DuPree on the next Dallas possession and 22 seconds later the Cowboys scored again on Garrison's one-yard plunge after D. D. Lewis' 27-yard interception return.

Temper flared in the second half and both Dallas defensive ends Ed (Too Tall) Jones and Harvey Banks Martin were ejected along with Cleveland's Bob McKay for roughhousing.

second with 263 points. Periman was third with 207.

(See Summary 4C)

The Midland High girls had a rougher go of it in the girls competition with a narrow 11 point victory over the Rebels. Midland High managed 309 points for top honors while Lee was close behind with 298. Fort Stockton was a narrow third with 278 points.

The Lee boys were paced by Mike Butler and Brad Swendig. Butler won the 200 and 100 free style races while Swendig posted a double triumph in the 200 individual medley and the 100 back. Danny Cert led the Midland High boys with a victory in the 100 fly and Russell Gunn added a victory in the 100 breast. Doyle Kimble also won the one-meter diving trophy for Midland High.

Sports In Spurts, And How's Your Memory?

One thing and another, and, quick now, can you name the last college football team to finish the regular season unbeaten, untied and uncored upon? . . .

Ohio State's Woody Hayes was so determined that Buckeye back Archie Griffin would win the Heisman Trophy that he assigned an assistant coach to keep tabs in the press box so that Griffin was sure to keep his 100-yard-a-game record intact.

Still, if the voting had been held a week later, maybe even that wouldn't have been enough to ward off Southern California's Anthony Davis. Nothing Archie did was as sensational as Davis' performance last week against a Notre Dame-caliber opponent . . .

You often wonder what happens to a talent like Sudden Sam McDowell's to start it on the downgrade from one of the major league's most exciting pitchers to a guy that gets bumped around from club to club.

In Sam's case it was that old demerol. McDowell quit the New York Yankees toward the end of the 1974 season for psychiatric treatment and feels it has helped cure him.

From Russell Baker's primer to help simplify football for women: "The object of the game is to maul the quarterback sufficiently to prevent him from continuing play, preferably for the rest of the season. The team with the fewest injured quarterbacks is the national champion."

10-Year Vet Scores Twice In 23-10 Triumph

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Running back Dave Osborn scored on runs of 10 and three yards to lead the playoff-bound Minnesota Vikings to a 23-10 National Football League victory over Atlanta Saturday.

Osborn, a 10-year veteran who says he thrives on cold weather, pounded out 93 yards in 38 carries and caught six passes for 39 yards in the nationally televised contest played in near-freezing weather.

Minnesota, 9-4 and the Central Division champion in the National Conference, moved to a 7-0 lead late in the first period when Osborn burst through four Atlanta tacklers to score from the 10.

On the following kickoff, Atlanta, 2-11, drove 64 yards in eight plays, tying the score when Art Malone went over left tackle from the one.

Minnesota grabbed the lead for good in the second quarter on Fred Cox's 21-yard field goal.

The Vikings moved to a 16-7 lead in the third period when Osborn went over right tackle for three yards and a touchdown, capping a 60 yard drive in 13 plays. Cox's attempted extra point was blocked.

Atlanta's Nick Mike-Mayer kicked a 37-yard field goal and Viking tight end Stu Voight caught a 10-yard pass from quarterback Bob Berry to complete the scoring in the fourth quarter.

Kim McQuilken, a rookie quarterback out of Lehigh, was sacked four times for 50 yards in his first regular-season start. He also had two passes intercepted while completing 11 of 25 attempts for 125 yards. Minnesota's All-Pro tackle, Alan Page, caught the young quarterback twice.

Berry, who spent five years as Atlanta's regular quarterback before coming to Minnesota last year, completed 14 of 22 passes for 114 yards and one touchdown in his first start this year.

Atlanta, plagued by mistakes all afternoon, was penalized three times in the first half for having linemen downfield too early on punts. In all, the Falcons were penalized nine times for 65 yards.

A pass from Berry to Ed Marinaro covering 14 yards was the big play in a 31-yard Minnesota drive setting up Cox's field goal. Osborn carried eight times in the march that preceded his three-yard touchdown run.

Mike-Mayer's field goal cut the Minnesota lead to 16-10 midway through the fourth quarter. However, Berry got Minnesota another touchdown with 4:30 to play, climaxing a 58-yard drive with the 10 yard pass to Voight. Highlighting that drive was a leaping catch by Vikings wide receiver Jim Lash at the Atlanta 10.

Chuck Foreman, Minnesota's leading rusher, left the game in the first half with an injury just below the right knee.

Minnesota, which hosts the NFC divisional playoff Dec. 21, concludes its regular season next Sunday at Kansas City. Atlanta completes its schedule at home next week against Green Bay.

Javelinas Turn In Best Effort

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Texas A&I Coach Gil Steinkamp said Saturday that Cameron State University was the best team the Javelinas ever played in an NAIA semifinal playoff.

Steinkamp commented after Texas A&I scored a narrow 21-19 victory over the Cameron Aggies of Lawton, Okla., to advance to the NAIA Division I championship game. The Javelinas will face Henderson, Ark. State next Saturday.

The Javelina coach can be considered an authority on playoff teams since Texas A&I has now won nine of the 10 NAIA post-season games they have been in. The South Texas team won national championships in 1969, 1969 and 1970. Their only playoff loss came in the 1968 title game.

Steinkamp praised Cameron's defense, saying, "They really shut us down in the second half." The Javelinas jumped to 21-10 halftime lead, but couldn't get across the Cameron goal line in the last half.

Heaping praise on his quarterback, Richard Ritchie, Steinkamp said, "He does a good job. He's a clutch player."

Speaking of Cameron quarterback Vince Hobbs, Steinkamp said, "That cotton-picker is good. He's got the ideal build for a quarterback."

added.

"It has to be the best hitting we've had all season." Defensive coach Tom Mueller said. "This team has too much character to get beat. They have complete dedication to their job and they showed it out there today."

Wacker pointed out that the third quarter 85-yard touchdown gallop by quarterback Mike Washington was a busted play.

"It should have been a hand-off." (Continued On Page 4C)

A&I Nudges Cameron To Gain NAIA Finals

By GARY GARRISON
Associated Press Writer

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Quarterback Richard Ritchie led Texas A&I to three first half touchdowns and the Javelinas fought off a second-half rally by Cameron State College Saturday to take a 21-19 victory and earn a berth in the NAIA Division I national finals here next Saturday.

The Javelinas, now 11-0, will meet Henderson, Ark. State for the national championship.

Cameron State, from Lawton, Okla., took a quick 10-0 lead in the game before Ritchie got his offense in gear.

The Aggies took the opening kickoff and drove to the 24-yard line, where Euell Pope kicked a 42-yard field goal.

After the kickoff, Javelina freshman running back Leroy Collins fumbled and the Oklahomaans recovered at the 14-yard line. Two plays later, Jesse Cobee scored from seven yards out and Cameron had a 10-0 lead with 4:12 left in the first period.

Ritchie then led the Javs on two long scoring drives, getting the first TD himself after a four-yard run. Halfback Don Hardeman scored the other touchdown on a 16-yard dash.

An interception at the Cameron 23 yard line led to A&I's final touchdown, a seven-yard run by Collins.

Cameron made the game close in the second half, scoring a safety when a punt snip was fumbled out of the end zone and a touchdown late in the game on a five-yard pass from Vince Hobbs to Dan Brown.

Central Michigan 35-14 Pioneer Victor

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Central Michigan quarterback Mike Frankowiak scored one touchdown and passed for another and the Chippewas' defense intercepted six Louisiana Tech passes as fourth-ranked CMU upset the number one Bulldogs 35-14 in the fourth annual Pioneer Bowl here Saturday.

Frankowiak, the game's most valuable offensive player, led a bruising Chippewas offensive attack in ending the nation's longest winning streak. Tech had won its previous 23 games.

The victory in the NCAA Division II semifinal contest moved CMU into the national college division finals next Saturday against Delaware in the Camelia Bowl at Sacramento, Calif.

CMU put two touchdowns on the one later on to give the scoreboard in just over three and a half minutes of the second quarter.

Sophomore fullback Walt Hodge grabbed a hand-off from senior quarterback Frankowiak on the first bounce and passed as various in the yard line on the second play of a 60-yard drive. Hodges handed over to make it 7-0 with 14:09 left in the half.

Linebacker Bill Schmidt intercepted a pass by Tech quarterback Steve Haynes on the Bulldogs' next possession and returned it 31 yards to the Tech 14.

Frankowiak then scored from the one to make it 13-0. Mark Dunham scored from AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Dead heats were the order of the day both only three seconds off the Saturday at the University Interscholastic League's third annual Texas schoolboy cross-country championships.

Bernave Martinez of Fairfuries won the Class B race in 9:57, defending his state title, but A&M Consolidated of College Station won the team championship in Class B with 50 points.

It was the second team title in three years for Clear Creek. A&M Consolidated won the first title.

Six-five Junior Miller, however, played a brilliant all-around game with 15 points, 16 rebounds and two blocked shots for the Rebels, who were in the finals here for the sixth time in the last seven years. Ronnie Farish had 14 points.

Plainview led from the start and, although the score was tied four times in the first half, Lee didn't move ahead 50-49 until 4:30 was left in the game.

Both Blackwell and Miller were named to the all-tournament team along with Chester Cobb, Snyder, Gill Sadler, Jerry Wade, Plainview; Terry Hughes, Amarillo; Marvin Simpson, Lubbock; Sidney Davis, Lubbock; Dunbar, and Duncan Butts, Clevis, N.M.

Dunbar took third place by beating Snyder, 75-70; while Clovis beat Big Spring, 75-60, for fifth and Lubbock lost to Amarillo, 53-50, in the seventh place game.

Robin Todd and Brett Blackwell scored 18 points each to lead Midland Lee to a 62-57 victory over Snyder in the semifinals Friday night.

It was the first defeat of the year for Snyder, despite a 21-point effort by Chester Cobb. Lee's win was the seventh win in eight starts and left Snyder at 6-1.

GAINS CAMELLIA BOWL FINALS— Delaware Buries Nevada

By The Associated Press
Powerful Louisiana Tech, top-ranked among college division teams and holder of the nation's longest winning streak, was upset by Central Michigan 35-14 Saturday in the Pioneer Bowl at Wichita Falls, Tex.

The victory lifts the Chipewas into the Camellia Bowl, the National Collegiate Athletic Association Division II championship game at Sacramento, Calif., next Saturday. Delaware, an easy 49-11 winner over Nevada-Las Vegas in the Grantland Rice Bowl in Baton Rouge, La., will provide the opposition.

William Penn and Gullford battled to a 17 tie in the Poultry Bowl at Greensboro, N.C., but officials awarded the victory to another as Grambling smothered South Carolina State 28-7 in the Pelican Bowl in New Orleans. The Tigers won 66-22 yards.

Howard White scored twice to lead Bethune-Cookman College past Langston University 18-3 in the Azalea Bowl in Mobile, Ala. Fewer than 1,000 persons showed up for the game.

Vern Roberts ran for 176 yards and four touchdowns in Delaware's rout of previously unbeaten Nevada-Las Vegas. Junior Nate Beasley added 153 yards rushing for the Blue Hens who piled up 483 yards rushing while limiting the losers to just 58.

Las Vegas quarterback Glenn Carano completed 21 of 37 passes for 315 yards but had three aeriels picked off.

Central College of Iowa captured the Division III championship by squeezing past Ithaca 10-8 in the Amos Alonzo Stagg Bowl in Phenix City, Ala. Gary Cutler's 50-yard pass to Marc Humphrey set up the game's only touchdown, a one-yard run by Cutler, and the flying Dutchmen preserved the victory with a goal-line stand in the final two minutes.

Central wound up with an 11-0 season. Dave Pitzer gained 138 yards on 18 carries for Ithaca, but the Bombers only scored one touchdown.

Winston, a 6-foot-3 junior, hit 28 points and Winston, a 6-4 sophomore, had 26, both career highs.

K-State, which hit 81 per cent from the field, led 47-36 at halftime and then put the game away with a 16-4 blitz during a four-minute span early in the second half that opened up a 67-46 lead.

Freshman guard Michael Evans added 18 points for the Wildcats, now 3-0. Guard Phil Bailey led Tech, now 1-1.

Baylor Tech, now 83-81

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Freshman Tony Rufus swept the backboards, pulling down 15 rebounds and scoring 15 points here Saturday night to lead the Baylor Bears to an 83-81 non-

The game was generally close all the way except near the end when the Tar Heels managed an 11-point advantage after going into a stall and picking up foul shots.

North Carolina led 40-44 at the half but the 20th ranked Cougars tied it at 55-55 about three minutes deep on Louis Dunbar's three-point play and took a 57-55 lead seconds later on Dunbar's layup.

The teams exchanged two-point leads until Kupchak put North Carolina ahead for good, 70-68 with a layup with 12:40 remaining.

What's For Real In Sports?

NEW YORK (NEA) — "Reality," wrote Nabokov, is the only word that should always be written within quotes. This fits with sports, certainly, since there is a continuing debate about its inherent "reality."

Does sports build character? Is sports a microcosm of society? A macrocosm, maybe?

For example, after Ohio

State lost to Michigan State in a football game, and thus dropped a notch in the national polls, Oklahoma was selected by the Associated Press as the nation's Number One team.

UPI's poll did not list Oklahoma at all. It seemed that some vertiginous editor had cut from the top. No mistake, however. UPI's pollsters decided that if a team such as Oklahoma is subject to a two-year NCAA probation for shady recruiting tactics, then they should not be allowed in the virgin company of the Top 10. Yet, if the school had done so much evil, then why allow it to play football at all?

The rating system itself, at best, puts a strain on one's credulity, since lower-ranked teams ought never to appear top-ranked ones.

As for Ohio State, the fiercely jovial coach, Woody Hayes, would obviously pump for the word "lost" to be always stapled between quotation marks. The gun sounded ending his team's recent game against Michigan State. The scoreboard read: Mich. St. 16, OSU 13. Hayes has still not conceded that Ohio State lost despite the implacable stand of the scoreboard.

A clock was only one of several nuances in George Foreman's nondefeat to Muhammad Ali for the heavyweight title on, appropriately enough, for "reality's" sake, Halloween eve.

It appeared to the worldwide audience that Foreman was legitimately KO'd in eight by Ali. "Legitimate" is the kaleidoscopic word here.

For Foreman tells us later that the count was too short. Not only that, but the ring ropes were too loose, the ring floor too soft and he was a sleepless, nervous wreck from having haggled late into the previous night over his post-fight finances.

Trying to write a drop of reality out of the Foreman harangue, Ali said, "Foreman was lucky the ring floor was soft. He fell so fast a harder floor would have fractured his skull."

Which is the way Richie Allen did not retire. One day in August he called a team meeting of the White Sox and in a tear-stained talk announced his finish as a baseball player.

A lot of people welcomed this, for Allen has become one of sports' biggest bores.

The other day, though, Allen said, "Everybody said I'm retired except me."

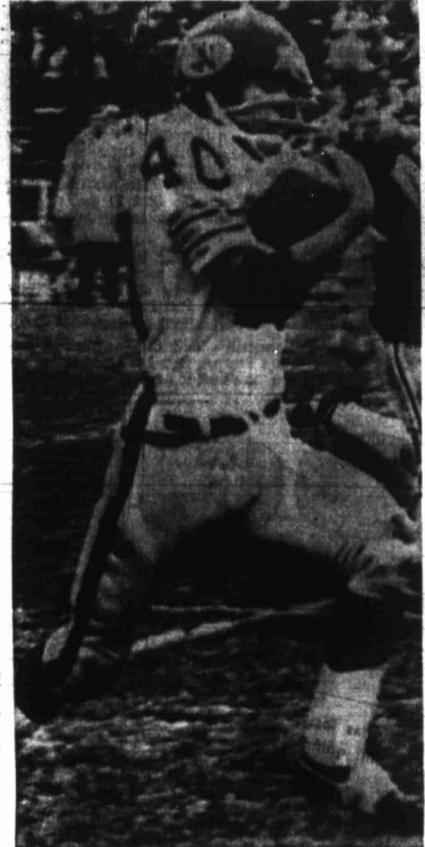

Then, alongside all of these events that never occurred comes the Little League promulgation that its World Series henceforth will include only United States teams.

Why? It's surely not because our own diminutive national pastimes cannot compete with their Asian peers (Taiwan teams have won the title for four of the last five years). It's just that, well, those other guys are taking this sport too seriously. A sport we once took seriously.

Pro Picks ★

By BEN THOMAS
NEW YORK (AP) — Maybe Oakland is the reason why there is such a close race in the AFC East — because the AFC East champion must play the Raiders in the first round of the playoffs. The wild-card team, provided it survives the first week, wouldn't have to think about Oakland until at least Dec. 29 — if then.

TD BOUND — Albuquerque Del Norte halfback Skipper Vernon, 40, races 65 yards for a touchdown in AAAA title clash against Hobbs Saturday at Albuquerque, N.M. Vernon also kicked two extra points as Knights beat Hobbs, 14-6. (AP Wirephoto.)

Jets, Steelers, Raiders Rams Get Nod In NFL Tilts

Anyway, Buffalo, Miami and New England are still in the running from the AFC East for the playoffs. The Bills are already assured of the playoffs and the Dolphins need only to beat the lowly Baltimore Colts on Sunday to gain the playoffs. That would narrow both the title and the wild card race to Miami and Buffalo.

The old Pro Pigsaw Picker was foiled by some of last week's stunners and wound up with eight correct calls and five incorrect. However, the Upset Special of the Week — Philadelphia over Green Bay — came through and the New York Jets-San Diego call — Jets 27-14 — was right on the nose. The season's showing is now 104-51-1 for 571.

And always on Sunday:
GREEN BAY (4-6) at SAN FRANCISCO (4-8). The odds makers were a lot of help with this one. "Pick 'em," they said. PACKERS 13, 49ERS 10.

BUFFALO (9-3) at NEW YORK JETS (5-7). The Jets are riding high and the Bills really don't want to play Oakland, so here's this week's Upset Special. JETS 22, BILLS 19.

PITTSBURGH (8-3-1) at NEW ENGLAND (7-5). The Patriots already know what it's like to play Oakland. STEELERS 31, PATRIOTS 18.

ST. LOUIS (9-3) at NEW OR-LEANS (4-8). It will be the New Orleans Blues when the game ends. CARDINALS 24, SAINTS 17.

MIAMI (9-3) at BALTIMORE (2-10). The Dolphins really may not mind playing Oakland the first week in the playoffs after all. DOLPHINS 30, COLTS 10.

PHILADELPHIA (5-7) vs. NEW YORK GIANTS (2-10). New Haven: EAGLES 24, GIANTS 21.

DETROIT (6-6) at CINCINNATI (7-5). The loser automatically is out of the playoffs. BENGALS 21, LIONS 17.

OAKLAND (10-2) at KANSAS CITY (5-7). Anyway... RAIDERS 28, CHIEFS 17.

HOUSTON (6-6) at DENVER (6-5). Broncos are favored by four but watch out for those Oilers. So, in Upset Special No. 2... OILERS 27, BRONCOS 24.

CHICAGO (4-8) at SAN DIEGO (3-9). BEARS 10, CHARGERS 9.

And then there's the last Monday of the NFL season: WASHINGTON (8-4) at LOS ANGELES (9-3). Maybe signing Beatrice Arthur (Maudie) and Valerie Harper (Rhoda) to work on the Monday night team with Howard Cosell next season would get the ratings back.

RAMS 21, REDSKINS 20.

AT WINTER BASEBALL MEETINGS—

Expos Make The Most Changes

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Baseball's winter meetings have ended without the usual last-minute scramble to beat the trading deadline because the cutoff for inter-league swaps that came at midnight Friday was only a temporary end to trades between the leagues.

When the owners approved for next March an additional inter-league trading period that their general managers had requested, the urgency for delaying was no longer here and official dispersal to their hometowns Friday.

The spring training inter-league trading dates of March 16-31 will be permanent, Commissioner Bowie Kuhn announced at the windup of the convention Friday.

Two trades were completed Friday. Veteran first baseman-outfielder Ron Fairly moved from the Montreal Expos to the St. Louis Cardinals for a pair of youngsters—first baseman Ed Kurpiel and infielder Rudy Kinard. And second baseman Tito Fuentes and pitcher Butch Metzger were sent from the San Francisco Giants to the San Diego Padres for second baseman Derrel Thomas.

It made the Expos the most active team in the trade mart with four deals at the meetings.

All told, major league teams swapped 39 players in 15 deals compared to 58 players in 26 transactions at last year's meetings.

Fairly, 36, hit .245 with 12 homers for the Expos last season and will be used as a pinch-hitter and backup first baseman to rookie Keith Hernandez, heir to Joe Torre's first base job at St. Louis. Kinard has only played in the minors while Kurpiel was assigned to Memphis of the International League.

The Padres are hoping that the 30-year-old Fuentes can recover from his back troubles of last season and return to his 1973 form when he set National League fielding marks and hit .263. He played in only 108 games and batted .240 this year.

Metzger, a 22-year-old right-hander, had a 12-10 record and a 4.72 earned run average at Phoenix of the Pacific Coast League in 1974. Thomas, 29, who can also play the outfield, reached a career high in hits, doubles, triples and runs batted in last season while hitting .267.

Nothing definite was laid down during the meetings regarding expansion and possible franchise shifts but indications are that the major leagues will add possibly four teams in 1976—most likely Seattle, New Orleans and Toronto among them.

Most pressing for American League officials is the Seattle situation. Action is pending there Jan. 13 against the American League for pulling a franchise out of there after only one season, 1970.

A guarantee of a franchise or the possible shift of another club there is what the Seattle people want to hear before taking any further action.

The sale of the Baltimore franchise is another matter baseball officials are working on.

Kuhn Rules Out Shift Of Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn has ruled out the possibility that the Baltimore Orioles will be shifted to another city next season, even if efforts to sell the club to Maryland interests fall through.

In an interview with the Baltimore Sun, Kuhn said, "I don't see a remote chance of a franchise shift next season."

Orioles board chairman Jerome C. Hoffberger has announced he intends to sell the American League club for $12 million dollars.

Kuhn's comment Friday indicated that should one group of potential buyers headed by developer Ralph DeChiaro or another involving former baseball owner Bill Veckel fail to acquire the Orioles this winter, the Hoffberger interests would control the club for another year.

But after next year, Kuhn told the Sun the franchise could well be switched to another city.

Devine Toughs It Out Ready To Quit After '72, But Not Now

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Dan Devine, the Green Bay Packers' much-criticized coach, said Friday night he had tried to resign after his team's division title-winning season in 1972, but emphasized he has no intentions of quitting now.

Devine told WBAY-TV here he had submitted a letter of resignation to club president Dominic Olejniczak after the Packers had won the National Football Conference's Central Division crown with a 10-4 record two years ago.

However, Devine said Olejniczak rejected the request and declined to refer it to the club's executive committee.

"I can't deny that," Devine said in an interview taped earlier. "I had an uneasy feeling after the '72 season even though we had a good year. I had reason to know that there were other clubs that would take my services as a head coach.

"I felt at that time it might be best for me to bow out and go," he said. "But to the best of my knowledge, it was never considered, because I was under contract. It was the president's absolute right to take that letter and throw it away because I had a five-year contract."

Devine, who signed the contract as coach and general manager when he came here from the University of Missouri after the 1970 season, has been intensely criticized since the Packers slumped to 5-7-2 in 1973.

They are 6-6 this season and out of the running for a playoff berth going into Sunday's game at San Francisco.

Most pressing for American League officials is the Seattle situation. Action is pending there Jan. 13 against the American League for pulling a franchise out of there after only one season, 1970.

A guarantee of a franchise or the possible shift of another club there is what the Seattle people want to hear before taking any further action.

TEXAS ASSISTANT— Wyoming Talks To Akers

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP)—Fred Akers, an assistant coach at The University of Texas since 1966, visited the University of Wyoming Friday to talk with officials about the job of head football coach.

The university is looking for a replacement for Fritz Shurmur, who was fired Nov. 25.

George McCarty, university athletic director, said earlier he had received more than 70 phone calls as well as about 30 written applications for the football job.

Akers, the offensive coordinator at Texas, is among a number of candidates being considered. Among those who have submitted written applications are Nebraska assistant John Melton and Chuck Clawson, an assistant at Ohio State.

There has been no indication from university officials as to when a new coach might be selected.

Miami, Buffalo Only Hot NFL Race Left

By The Associated Press

While the Miami Dolphins and Buffalo Bills will be trying to at least keep pace with each other today, the Pittsburgh Steelers and St. Louis Cardinals will be trying to klayo all National Football League competition in their divisions and lock up championships.

The Steelers, 8-3-1, are 1 1/2 games ahead of Cincinnati in the American Conference Central Division. They can nail down the title with a victory over the Patriots in New England. That also would slam the door on the Patriots' playoff hopes.

Even if Pittsburgh loses, it still may become division champion, if the Bengals are beaten at home by the Dolphins and Cincinnati wins, the title would be decided in a showdown between the teams next Saturday at Pittsburgh.

St. Louis, already assured of a playoff berth, is bidding for its first division title since 1948.

The Cards can clinch the National Conference East crown by whipping the Saints in New Orleans.

And even if they lose, they can take the title if the Washington Redskins lose their Monday night game to the Rams in Los Angeles.

Meanwhile, in the wildest race remaining, Miami and Buffalo are still hoping to shake loose from each other. They share 9-3 records atop the AFC East. Buffalo is in New York to face the Jets and Miami visits Baltimore.

Oddly enough, the Bills are assured of a playoff berth already while the Dolphins must win another game—or hope the Patriots lose one—to be assured of one, too. And, at the same time, if the Bills and Dolphins wind up tied at the end of the season, the title goes to Miami, having beaten Buffalo twice.

In today's other games, it's Philadelphia at the New York Giants, Houston at Denver, Oakland at Kansas City, Chicago at San Diego and Green Bay at San Francisco.

The Steelers own the top defensive unit in the AFC, allowing just 267 yards and 169 points. However, they're still trying to get their offense rolling. Despite sore ribs, Terry Bradshaw is expected to start at quarterback against the Patriots, with Terry Hanratty and Joe Gilliam in reserve.

The Pats, who started out like gangbusters, then faded midway in the season, have been riddled with injuries while playing one of the toughest schedules in the entire league. They have lost nearly half of a normal squad. The injured reserve list includes such standouts as fullback Sam Cunningham, wide receiver Reggie Rucker and tight end Bob Windors.

Quarterback Jim Phankett pulled a leg muscle on a long run in last Sunday's loss at Oakland, but he's reported ready to start against the Steelers. Mack Herron and John Tarver will be at running backs, with rookie Andy Johnson alternating as a wide receiver and running back.

Kentucky Succumbs To Hoosiers

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Center Kent Benson, dominating the middle, scored 11 straight points in the second half and finished with a game-high 26 Saturday, leading third-ranked Indiana to a 98-74 college basketball victory over No. 15 Kentucky.

Indiana never trailed, breezing to its third straight victory this season. Kentucky, led by Kevin Grevey with 22 points, dropped 2-1.

Scott May scored 25 points for the Hoosiers, 15 of those in the first half when Indiana raced to a 54-38 lead at half-time. Steve Green added 15.

Indiana led by 17 midway in the second half when Benson, a 6-foot-10 sophomore, broke loose for 11 points in just over two minutes.

The Hoosiers then built a 31-point lead, 88-57, before Coach Bob Knight removed all the starters with 8:36 remaining.

The third string came in several minutes later and mopped up.

Indiana's biggest lead was at 32 points before Kentucky's final surge.

Irish Girl, 18, Killed In Letter Bomb Explosion

LONDONDERRY, Northern Ireland (AP) — An 18-year-old girl was killed Saturday in an explosion in an apartment where letter bombs were being made.

Police say more than 50 would-be bombers have died in similar circumstances over the last five years. Miss Lynch was the 1,137 victim of sectarian warfare during the same period.

Police said the victim, Ethel Lynch, a Roman Catholic, had been working in the apartment, which contained four letter bombs ready for mailing and a considerable amount of bomb-making equipment.

McGivernan told the court Friday he was picked up by three men in a car who questioned him about his religion. When he admitted being a Roman Catholic a gun was produced and his hands were tied. He was taken to a field and made to kneel and was shot as he pleaded, "Don't kill me, please."

The killing was too much for the conscience of 20-year-old Alan McEargy. At the urging of his wife he went to police and confessed.

The man who pulled the trigger, John Miller, 22, was sentenced to 12 years imprisonment. The "look out," George Samuel Heading, 18, was sentenced to six years.

Dallas County Sheriff Is Ruled In Contempt

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas County Sheriff Clarence Jones had been ruled in contempt of court Saturday in a dispute over his denying Peerless Insurance Co. the right to be a co-surety on bail bonds with licensed bondsman Jack A. Swidler.

Judge Alken delayed sentencing of Jones until a later time.

Judge Tex Akin ruled Friday that Jones had violated his June 24 order requiring Jones to allow Peerless to be a co-surety with any licensed bondsman.

Jones testified at a hearing that he had blocked Swidler on the basis of information in an opinion written by an assistant district attorney.

Jones said he had a policy in his office which required licensed bondsmen to put up collateral before he would permit them to write bonds.

The sheriff said he had ordered that Swidler not be

Two Teen-Agers Arrested In Store Holdup Attempt

Two 16-year-old Midland youths were arrested about noon Friday as suspects in the attempted robbery of the Short Stop Grocery, 2605 N. Midland Drive. The robbery attempt was reported to police just moments before the pair was arrested.

Mrs. Louis Elliott, the store clerk, was alone when two youths wearing masks entered the store and ordered her to the compressor room and locked her inside. One of them had a pistol, she said. She said they went back to the register and by that time Charles Elliott and John Elliott, Mrs. Elliott's brothers-in-law, had come into the store. They also were locked in the compressor room.

Mrs. Elliott said the youths jammed the cash register when they tried to open it.

Mrs. Elliott said she and her brothers-in-law broke out of the compressor room and the pair fled from the store.

A car matching the description of the getaway car was spotted a few minutes later in the 3600 block of Hyde Street. Police stopped it and arrested the two youths.

The youths were released to the custody of their parents.

Good Old Days Were Terrible, Says Social Historian

By TERRY RYAN
NEW YORK (AP) — The good old days were ... well, they were terrible, says Otto Bettmann, social historian and founder of the Bettmann Archive.

With illustrations from the archive's collection of old prints and photographs to make his points, Bettmann argues in a new book that nostalgia has warped our view of America's past.

Among other things, he notes: —There were three million horses in American cities at the turn of the century. The 15,000 horses in Rochester, N.Y., produced enough manure to cover an acre of ground with a layer 175 feet deep.

—In 1890, the police commissioner of New York said there were 40,000 prostitutes in the city. Eight years earlier, 1882, the designer of Central Park recommended its closing after dark because of crime.

—State Assemblyman Teddy Roosevelt branded as "communist" the demand of streetcar drivers for a 12-hour work day. They were working 16-hour days for $12 a week.

—In the 1890s, close to 40 per cent of American farmers owned neither house nor land. They were tenant farmers. About 50 per cent of the income of city families went for food.

—On Feb. 22, 1896, F.B. Baker, a black man, was lynched at Lake City, S.C. He had accepted the job of postmaster. Schools, Playgrounds —Only 20 per cent of the students in the teacher-training schools of the 1890s had high school diplomas. In 1903, only 18 cities in the United States had public playgrounds of any sort. In 1905, a sanitary engineer in Glasgow coined the word "smog" to describe the condition of the air.

"It is a mechanism of our psyche to forget all the bad things that happened in the old days," said Bettmann. "We look at the little trimmings of the time, but not the essential cruelties and hardships."

Bettmann, 71, was born in Germany and received his doctorate from the University of Leipzig after majoring in art and social history. He came to the United States in 1935 with two steamer trunks full of old pictures. There are now three million items in the archive's picture library, including a substantial collection of old-time Americana.

His book deals with what has been called America's gilded age, the era from the end of the Civil War to the beginning of World War I. It is titled "The Good Old Days — They Were Terrible!" It is, said Bettmann, "a personal attempt to redeem our times from the aspersions cast upon them by the Gay Nineties were gay, said Bettmann, but only for the privileged few. It was also a

"In the olden days, people did not expect much," he said. "They thought hardship was part of life. Now people want everything absolutely perfect, painless and instant."

In 1785, the inventor of the cotton gin, Eli Whitney, was born in Westboro, Massachusetts.

In 1949, the Chinese Nationalist government moved from the China mainland to Formosa as the Communists pressed their attack.

In 1966, the United States and the Soviet Union agreed on a treaty to prohibit nuclear weapons in outer space.

Ten years ago: The U-N Security Council was called into urgent session at the request of 21 nations that had criticized U.S. and Belgian air operations to rescue hostages in the Congo.

Five years ago: West Germany and the Soviet Union opened negotiations on mutual renunciation of the use of force.

One year ago: President Nixon made public his income tax returns for his first four years in office and said they should lay to rest "false rumors" about his personal finances.

Today's birthdays: U.S. Ambassador to Italy John Volpe is 66 years old. Entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. is 49. Fashion designer Adele Simpson is 71.

Thought for today: I must fight if I would win. Anything worth having is worth fighting for — Lord Nelson, British naval commander, 1758-1805

Texan Assessed Probated Term In South Carolina

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — A Dallas man has been placed on five years probation after pleading guilty to a charge of interstate transportation of more than $5,000 obtained by fraud.

E. W. McCluskey, 30, sentenced in federal court here Friday, was accused in connection with alleged irregularities in government guaranteed student loans at Greenville's Draughon's Business College, which he formerly owned.

Sentencing came more than 20 months after a massive investigation of Greenville business school activities. The investigation prompted a nationwide probe of business schools, and a check into an estimated $30 to $50 million in student loans.

McCluskey was indicted July 9 on a charge of transporting a $5,020.83 check from Greenville to a Richardson, Tex. bank after converting it to his use from school funds. He pleaded innocent to the charge July 23, but changed the plea Friday.

Among the provisions of his probation are that he may keep his new $1,600-a-month job in Dallas.

Nixon Holdover Resigns Position

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leonard Garment, a high-ranking holdover from the Nixon administration, has resigned and will leave the White House on Dec. 31.

The 50-year-old Garment was a former law partner of Richard M. Nixon and came to the White House in June 1969 as an assistant to the former president. He was considered more liberal than most Nixon aides and supervised special projects in the areas of civil and human rights, the arts and voluntary action.

Garment plans to turn to law practice in New York with the firm of Trubin, Sillocks, Edelman and Knapp.

Injured Prince Leaves Hospital

LONDON (AP) — Prince Andrew, second son of Queen Elizabeth, has been discharged from a hospital in Scotland where he was treated for a minor concussion.

The 14-year-old prince was hospitalized Wednesday after complaining of dizzy spells while at his school, Gordonstoun. He was released Friday.

A school spokesman said Andrew banged his head in a fall during some horseplay with schoolmates in a dormitory. The injury was minor, he said.

Art Authority Dies

GARRETT PARK, Md. (AP) — Dr. Raymond S. Stiles, 75, curator of education at the National Gallery of Art from 1948 to 1965, died Friday, apparently of a heart attack. Since 1969 he had been a professor of art and religion at Wesley Theological Seminary in Washington.

Bell's Formal Answer Denies All Charges In $29.2-Million Lawsuit

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. denies that any superiors of executives of T. O. Gravit or James Ashley advised them to carry out unfair practices to the public on behalf of the company.

Bell filed its formal court reply Friday to the $29.2 million libel and defamation suit Ashley, who was fired from his San Antonio job, and the family of Gravit, who committed suicide, have brought against Bell.

In the suit, Ashley and the Gravit family alleged that Southwestern Bell engaged in unfair rate setting practices and that Ashley and Gravit opposed such practices.

"It also states that Gravit and Ashley tried to 'fight company policy and educate the public and its officials in the truth and verity.'"

Then, according to the plaintiffs, "they became victims of the invasion of privacy, defamation of character and person, libel slander, torts and interference, conspiracy, duress, lies and economic coercion, because they dared to resist the corporate rapacities."

The suit also alleged that Southwestern Bell made false charges against Ashley and Gravit accusing them of taking kickbacks and submitting false expense accounts and "fostered unfaithful and malicious slanders and libels of promiscuity against Gravit and Ashley."

state to conduct the investigation. It said the investigation was discreet and professional, although other sources have told the AP the Bell security force of mostly ex-FBI agents who conducted the investigation "Gestapo-like" interrogations.

The company denies it libeled Ashley, Gravit or Gravit's family. It says it had the right to investigate the two men.

The libel suit prompted a series of allegations against Bell's rate-making procedures in Texas and its political activities. At the same, information about wiretapping with the aid of the company has surfaced independently of the suit.

Vladivostok Accord May Mean New U.S. Trident Submarines

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — As a result of the Vladivostok agreement, the United States may build an additional $1 billion worth of Trident submarines beyond the 10 now planned, Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger has indicated.

"This country also is likely to increase its planned force of bombers if the Soviet missile pattern develops in a worrisome fashion in the years ahead," Schlesinger said at a Friday news conference.

Striking Force Shift

or numbers of warheads on them. That change involves keeping in service for the indefinite future the ten Polaris submarines which would have been retired.

'Major Step Forward'

At his news conference, Schlesinger praised the new U.S.-Soviet arms limitation agreement as a "major step forward."

But, while applauding the mutual ceiling on total numbers of missiles and bombers, Schlesinger showed concern that the Russians might choose to deploy many of the permitted 1,320 multiple warhead missiles in land bases, and a lesser number at sea in submarines.

That would give the Russians a huge nuclear punch because some of the new types of Soviet land-based missiles due to be deployed soon have been tested with up to six and eight warheads each, compared with the three warheads on U.S. Minuteman ICBMs.

The aim of these changes would be to shift much of the U.S. nuclear striking force to moving platforms and thus reduce its vulnerability to a possible knockout blow from thousands of Soviet warheads.

A large part of the U.S. nuclear force now is represented by 1,054 intercontinental ballistic missiles in stationary land bases.

A total of 656 missiles are mounted in 41 Polaris and Poseidon submarines.

Ten of these Polaris submarines were due to be replaced by bigger Trident subs with longer-range missiles.

But Schlesinger said Friday that, depending on the future mix of the Soviet missile force, "we would lean in the direction of additional Tridents."

Days Cooler, Nights Warmer During November

November in the Tall City was a month in which daytime temperatures were cooler than normal while the nights were warmer than normal, according to data released by the National Weather Service at Midland Air Terminal.

The average maximum temperature was 64.1, below normal by 3.4 degrees. The average minimum was 43, which was 3.9 degrees above normal, and the month brought only 160 days in which the minimum dropped below the freezing mark.

November's average monthly temperature was 53.6, with the highest mercury mark recorded as 79 on the 13th and 22nd and the lowest as 24 on the 30th.

Fifteen days during the month were clear, the weatherman said, and eight were classified as partly cloudy. Seven cloudy days were counted.

Precipitation during November totaled .72 for an 11-month tally of 20.25 inches, 7.25 more than the normal rainfall.

Actor Dies At 72

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry Wadsworth, 72, who played the juvenile lead in more than 30 motion pictures and stage plays, died Thursday. He made his Broadway stage debut in 1927 in the title role of Howard Lindsay's comedy "Tommy."

Illinois Town Raising Taxes To Meet Migrant Workers' Medical Bills

PRINCETON, Ill. (AP) — Taxes are going up 17 per cent here to pay medical expenses for migrant workers, but not without a bitter outcry.

One resident, William German, for example, says the canning company that employs the migrants, Joan of Arc Co., is passing the buck.

"The canning company should be picking up the bills, that's the unanimous feeling," declares German. He describes himself and his neighbors as "bitter."

"I don't think it's fair," said Eugene Christ, a baker. "We are so heavily taxed already."

Township supervisor Hershel Martin says more than $6,000 will have to be borrowed to pay this year's total migrant medical bill of more than $8,000.

Martin says part of the problem was a poor crop that cut migrant incomes. He also says that the nonprofit Illinois Migrant Council is teaching more of the harvest workers that medical care is their legal right.

"They'll go to the hospital on the least little thing because they're aware of it," he says. "And I'm in the middle."

Joan of Arc says tough competition in the canning business prevents it from paying for medical insurance for seasonal employees. The National Canners Association said the issue never has been raised before.

Other Townships, Too

But other townships also are taxing to pay migrant medical expenses, the state welfare department says. Up to 34,000 migrant workers and their dependents enter Illinois each year. Joan of Arc says about 500 come to the Princeton plant, bringing perhaps 500 dependents. Most are Spanish-speaking migrant workers from Texas.

The firm helped establish a Princeton family health center, with free treatment for migrants but not hospitalization. Joan of Arc also offers a limited optional health policy, but few migrants at Princeton purchase it.

Under state law that means Princeton Township and its 1,700 residents must pay major doctor bills for migrants, just as medical expenses of persons eligible for welfare are paid.

To protect itself against future expenses, the township next year will raise its property tax from 45 to 53 cents per $100 assessed valuation. Ten cents of this will go into the fund used to help pay migrant medical expenses, with the state picking up any additional costs.

Public Offered 1937 U.S. Gov't. Art Prints

Imagine, if you can, finding several thousand sets of antique prints of the world's greatest paintings that were lost for more than 35 years! It actually happened... and this is the true story of the discovery of that lost treasure.

Eleanor Roosevelt

Back in 1937, immediately following the depression years, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and a select group of a dozen nationally prominent people formed a voluntary national committee for art appreciation to create an art program that would give the public a well-needed moral lift. It was the committee's decision to select the world's most famous paintings from the 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, and 20th centuries — the best paintings of Matisse, Van Gogh, Renoir, Picasso, Gauguin, Titian, etc. and to reproduce them in full color as perfectly as humanly possible and make them available to the public at a price within the reach of nearly everyone.

Abandoned in 1937

For some unknown reason, after a quantity of these beautiful reproductions were made, the entire project was abandoned and the collection of perfect reproductions was stored in a Brooklyn warehouse, where they remained undisturbed since 1937.

Through a series of rare coincidences, the lost collection was "rediscovered" and leading lithographers and art critics agreed that the subject matter and quality of detail and color reproduction was incredibly accurate. Over $500,000.00 was spent to make finely engraved glass printing plates. It would be impossible to reproduce prints such as these under existing methods, and for that reason these prints are literally collectors' items. Once they have been sold, there will be no more available. A truly excellent art investment that makes a fabulous gift.

Available to Public

These authentic original 1937 prints have been appraised by the American Appraisers' Assoc. at $7.00 each print. Now, these full color 11" x 14" prints are finally available to the public at $19.95 for a collection of 18 prints. Send cash, check or money order to U.S. Surplus, Dept. JS, P.O. Box 605, Tarzana, Calif. 91356. Fully GUARANTEED. Certificate of authenticity given with each set. Master Charge and BankAmericard OK (give card number). Adv.

Food Critic Stews Over Wordy Menu

PERU, Ind. (AP) — Miami County Councilman Bill Deeds, who is on jury duty this week, was present for a council meeting that took up the appropriation for food catering, lodging and other jury expenses.

While the appropriation was being discussed, Deeds jokingly observed that "the meals aren't very good."

Thursday, while Deeds was serving on a 12-member jury, 11 trays of food were delivered to the jury for lunch.

Deeds got the 12th tray which held only a newspaper clipping on the council meeting and Deeds' comment about the meals.

State Road Deaths Down 19 Per Cent

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Traffic accidents have killed 2,726 persons in Texas this year, down 19 per cent from the 3,370 fatalities by this time in 1973, the Department of Public Safety reported Saturday.

The deaths occurred in 2,342 fatal accidents, a 16 per cent drop.

Three From Dallas Die In Plane Crash

CALGARY, Alta. (AP) — Three Americans from Dallas, Tex., were killed Thursday in the crash of their Cessna 310 plane shortly after takeoff from Calgary International Airport.

Police identified the victims as W. B. Shriver, 56, Leo T. Ges, 38, and his wife Susan, 35.

The twin-engine plane, heading for Billings, Mont., crashed just outside the airport at 5:20 p.m. Witnesses said it hit a 100-foot light standard, plunged to the ground and burst into flames.

Police said the plane's occupants died instantly.

Two witnesses, Heiga Purns and her 13-year-old son, Hatry, who live near the airport, said the plane was spinning before the crash.

Ministry of Transport investigators said the cause of the crash was not yet established.

Briscoe Campaign Cost $1,028,049

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe's campaign organization reported Friday it raised and spent more than $1 million on his winning campaign for re-election.

Expenditures totaled $1,028,049 and cash loans and donations added up to $1,070,514, said the report filed with Secretary of State Mark White.

Briscoe's Republican opponent, Jim Granberry of Lubbock, reported spending $633,066 and raising $622,861.

New British Peer

LONDON (AP) — Anthony Barber, who served as chancellor of the exchequer in the Conservative government that left office in February, was nominated to become a peer for life in ceremonies Friday.

Udall Says Oil Age Ending

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — The Age of Petroleum in America is drawing to a close, former Interior Secretary Stewart Udall said here Friday night, and gas rationing or stiff gasoline taxes are probable soon.

Udall said national controls would probably be enacted next session on the Congress to help conserve and control land and natural resources.

He addressed the state Assembly on Land Use at Texas A&M University. The meeting this weekend is sponsored by the Texas Real Estate Research Center at A&M.

To Affect Land Use

Udall said the shortage of cheap gas and fuel will dramatically affect land use policy related to the automobile. Auto-related industry already accounts for 21 per cent of the American economy, he said.

Although 75 per cent of the U.S. energy comes from gas and oil, only about six years of oil remains within the American borders at the current rate of use, said Udall, who was a member of the Kennedy and Johnson administrations.

The Arizona native predicted the next Congress would pass legislation on national land use.

He said Texas is one of the more backward states in implementing land use policy because of the strong traditions of private property rights.

Massachusetts Orders Tests For Drinking Water Source

LAWRENCE, Mass. (AP) — The Public Health Department's Lawrence Experiment Station program is possible cause of the new device, cost about $22,000 to do up to 100 per day, he said. Massachusetts' massive test by other states, Collins said.

The Department of Public Health announced Friday that a new state-developed technique would be used to test all 1,400 drinking water sources in the Bay State by the end of January.

Relatively Inexpensive

John C. Collins, director of the department's Division of Environmental Health, said the state has developed a fast, relatively inexpensive device for testing water to see if it contains organic compounds that might cause cancer — a fluorometric spectrophotometer.

He said that if suspect organic compounds are found in any state water source, samples will be sent to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency laboratory in Cincinnati for detailed analysis to determine any potential health problem.

Previous methods of analyzing the presence of water-borne organic compounds, some of which are suspected of causing cancer, took eight days, Collins said.

The new device, developed at

Food Price, Profit Data Hard To Get, Says Inquiry Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional committee is trying to get cost and profit information from the nation's 17 largest food chains, but says most have not fully complied with subpoenas.

One source at the Joint Economic Committee reported Friday that "we're having trouble with just about all of them" over one point or another.

The panel's vice chairman, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., chairman of the Consumer Economics subcommittee, announced Friday that they would conduct two days of hearings this week and more the following week on the food pricing policies of the chain supermarkets.

Subpoenas were decided on, Proxmire said in a letter to the supermarkets, because the panel officially goes out of business Dec. 31 and that route was thought better suited to the time pressure.

Meanwhile, the federal Council on Wage and Price Stability urged food retailers Friday not to mark up the prices of items once they have been placed on shelves. Some supermarket chains have said they already have stopped such practices.

The council, the government's inflation-monitoring agency, conducted hearings last month. Both consumer and business spokesmen said then that markups were a consumer irritant but that elimination of the practice would have little economic effect, since new items would carry higher price tags.

To Continue Asking

Proxmire said that if the chains do not come up with all the information sought in the committee subpoenas, "we'll continue to ask for it . . . They do have the force of law, as I understand it, and they should be honored."

His staff assistant working on the hearings said that some chains have told the panel that they do not have, for example, certain metropolitan or divisional cost information in the form the subpoena prescribes.

One of the prime areas analysts are known to want to pursue, once the information is all in hand, is whether retail food prices bear any true relationship to the costs of raw products and other expenses or whether it is most directly geared to competitors' activities.

Christmas Party For Lions Slated

The Midland Downtown Lions Club will stage its annual Christmas party, a ladies night function, Tuesday at Ranchland Hill Country Club.

A social period is scheduled at 6:30 p.m., with dinner to be served at 7:30.

An informal program will be presented. Music by the Lions Band Combo will be a highlight of the evening.

"The Spirit of Christmas" is the theme of the social event.

Decorations, termed as "fantastic" by a club spokesman, were made by members of the Lion Tamers Club.

Lions President L. N. "Jim" Coker said the club's regularly scheduled meeting will not be held this Wednesday noon.

Arm Of Law 43 Years Long

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — The long arm of the law has reached back 43 years for Frank Lee Smith.

A policeman investigating a minor traffic accident in which the 68-year-old Smith was involved Friday discovered a warrant outstanding for him. Police said it accused him of highway robbery in a $725 theft on April 21, 1931.

It was not learned why the case had not been disposed of when Smith was a 25-year-old man.

But since the crime is a felony to which the statute of limitations doesn't apply, Smith was arrested. He was released on his own recognizance for trial next Thursday in state District Court.

Liz' Boyfriend Pleads No Contest

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Henry C. Wynberg, boyfriend of actress Elizabeth Taylor, has pleaded no contest to four counts of grand theft for allegedly turning back odometers on cars.

Wynberg, 40, entered the pleas Friday before Superior Court Judge Julius A. Leetham. Sentencing was set for Jan. 6. He is free on his own recognizance.

FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS

Dirt, Squirt & Quirt

The cotton harvest approached the twenty per cent mark in Midland County last week. Some cotton is still a little too green to harvest well following the hard freezes around Thanksgiving, but another week of open weather should see the harvest in full swing, reports Charles Green, county agent. Generally cotton yields are running light as anticipated with grades showing the effects of the wet, cloudy weather of early fall.

nearly ceases in the spring, and lice migrate to the tips of the ears or tail of an animal to avoid excessive body heat. When cattle bunch or crowd up in cold weather, lice easily move from one animal to another. Heavy hair coats also offer more protection to the parasites.

Often the first signals of lice problems are signs of rubbing and intense irritation to the animals. Large patches of hair may be rubbed off and fences may be pushed down.

A resistance factor is present in many animals as some have heavy infestations every year while others seldom have a problem caused by low prices and high costs are invited to hear Texas A&M University specialists discuss ways to improve production efficiency in a meeting at the Extension office at 7:30 p.m. Monday. The office is located at 218 W. Illinois St. in the courthouse annex. The specialists will be giving suggestions on how to improve cow reproductive performance and calf weaning weights and parasite control. Dr. Del Davis, livestock specialist, and Charles Neeb, entomologist, will be the speakers. There is no magic formula that will automatically give quick relief for cattle problems, but for those producers who will increase their efficiencies and prepare themselves, there will be better times ahead. The meeting is open to everyone interested in beef cattle, large or small operator, commercial or part-time.

With the onset of cooler weather, livestock producers need to turn their thoughts to the problem of lice control. Both bloodsucking and biting lice attack cattle. Both types of lice increase in population starting in the fall and reach a peak in late winter and early spring, then decline rapidly.

Low numbers of lice may be present on certain animals the year around.

Since lice do not do well at high temperatures, reproduction of the outdoor area.

Waiting until lice problems are too severe can result in large economic losses. Cattle that harbor lice often do not respond properly to feed and are more subject to disease because of their weakened condition. Anemia may result from blood loss from sucking lice and calves may become stunted.

Cattle lice may be controlled in a variety of ways with chemical treatments of sprays, dips, and pour-ons and self-treatment devices. Additional information on livestock parasite control is available from the county extension office.

Numerous items are available that will please gardening buffs as Christmas gifts. Garden tools, terrariums and potted plants make good Christmas gifts. Top quality garden tools such as hand trowels and grass clippers are available to fit almost any budget and are sure to please an avid gardener. Another good gift for a gardener is a subscription to a monthly gardening magazine or a book on some aspect of gardening. A gift certificate from a bookstore is a good idea because the person can choose a book on his or her own interests. Yard accessories such as sculptures, urns, wind chimes, bird feeders and hanging baskets add to the enjoyment
