A GOOD NIGHT'S WORK.

As the Daily News sees it, Cisco's school board acted wisely in locating the new high school building on the site of the present west ward school. For a time it seemed that the members were too far apart to hope for agreement on a central location; but, as is usually the case where well-balanced men reason together minus feeling and prejudice, the right way and the better plan were finally evolved.

With the handsome, well-appointed new building as centrally located as possible, Cisco High will become the nucleus about which may be built one of the best public school systems in the state. And it may well be remembered that there is no greater incentive to prospective homeseekers of the better sort than the modern public school system. The wisdom of the board's action last night will be further evidenced with each succeeding year.

The determination to raze the present west ward building and place the new high school building on the site thus made vacant, means that every school building in Cisco will henceforth be located for the convenience of those who attend the various schools; it means the fullest possible salvage of a building that does not comply with the state laws from health and other standpoints, and which for these reasons is even now subject to condemnation proceedings; it means the saving of not less than $12,000 had another central site been found, purchased and placed in condition; and, above all, it means the construction of two additional ward buildings in sections of the city sorely needing accessible ward schools—those ever-necessary feeders for the high school. The school board has done well.

THE PAPER FIRST.

The man who subscribes and pays for his local newspaper—and everybody who pretends to be anybody does so these days—spends more money each year on that newspaper than he does on any other printed item. He spends more for a paper than a magazine because it's worth more to him. If it cost him ten times as much he would still buy it, and if the price was placed beyond his means he would find some excuse for borrowing it from his neighbor. He would have it, because without it he is at a disadvantage with his neighbor and competitor. He wouldn't know what was going on if he didn't have it, and he would be left standing still while his neighbor and everyone around him kept moving on. When a medium like the home-town paper is so close to the hearts of the people, when it is so vital to them, is it any wonder that the columns of that paper are such an important place in which to advertise? Is it any wonder that newspaper advertising brings big returns, in good season or bad?

PUBLIC PARKS.

"I am surprised to see such a beautiful and progressive little city as Cisco without any public parks." This remark, which was made by a stranger the other day on his first visit to Cisco, brings home very forcefully the fact that Cisco is overlooking something.

We are laying the foundation here for a real city and we are building well, but we are overlooking the idea of parks. There is nothing that so adds to the attractiveness of a city as its parks. San Antonio is famed throughout the state for her beautiful system of parks. Right down in the heart of the business district you will come suddenly on a spot that is as pretty and green and restful as anyone could imagine. These green spots down in the business district tend to offset the ill effects of the mad rush for money and to counterbalance us so we won't run to commercialism.

There is a beautiful location for a city park in Cisco on the property facing the depot and bordered by Fourth, Union and Main streets. If there is any possibility of this property being secured, steps should be taken immediately to get it for a city park. We understand that the Missouri, Kansas & Texas Railway company has a clear title to the triangle that is bordered by Main street, Union street and the alley at the back of the Mobley hotel. Our information is that the portion of the tract to the south of the alley bordered by the alley, Union street and Fourth street, is in litigation.

The railroad company would probably be glad to donate this property to the city if assured that it would be improved because a beautiful park in this location would certainly add to the attractiveness of the railroad property.

First impressions of a city are the lasting impressions. If we could greet the stranger to Cisco when he emerges from the train with a beautiful little park it would make a good impression, one that would always be remembered pleasantly. If we allow the property in question to be built up with unattractive structures it will be a detriment to the city forever.

For the San Jacinto day barbecue celebration we will have as our guests prominent officials of all of the railroads entering Cisco. This is a good time to talk this subject over with them. They are just as much interested in Cisco as we are because they own property here, pay taxes here and obtain a portion of their business from this territory. Let's talk this matter over with them and get busy. This is just as important as taking steps to get a new industry.

MINERS AND RAILROADERS.

The attitude of the British coal miners is very much like that of the American railroad men, just as their recent history is similar. To meet war exigencies, the British government took over and subsidized the mines. When the British government relinquished control of the mines, the workers demanded that the mines be nationalized, just as American railroad workers demanded nationalization of their industry when it reverted to private ownership. When they resumed control of their properties, the British mine owners found they could not continue the high wages established by the government, especially in a time of deflation and falling prices. The American railroads have discovered the same thing. In both cases the employees refuse to accept reductions.

The only important difference is that the British miners have been more prompt and vigorous in voicing their protest against proposed reductions than the American railroad men have been.

In both countries the workers in these and other industries will have to realize that there cannot be lower prices without lower wages, and that lower wages, justly applied, will assure cheaper living. It is merely a question of working out the readjustment scientifically and fairly. The thing must come. Meanwhile it is not necessary to strike and destroy either mines or railroads. Fairness in the adjustment and common sense in working them out, is what is needed most.

WORTH WHILE LIFE.

On April 8 John Wanamaker, the merchant, completed sixty years of uninterrupted business. During that time he has become, undoubtedly, the country's foremost merchant.

When a young man of twenty-one, he opened a small store in Philadelphia, founded on different principles from any then existing. He announced that he would have but one price, and that to be marked in plain figures on every article sold. Other merchants laughed and said the new store would not last sixty days. But it did—and that small store has grown to be the largest and finest store in Philadelphia—many say the finest in the country—and is linked with another in New York.

John Wanamaker has been foremost in all good work, a citizen of which the country has a right to be proud. His fame is not only nationwide—it is world-wide. He has been one of the strongest advocates of newspaper advertising, and has always held to the belief that the printed word is a contract. In his advertisements no misrepresentation is permitted. The nation honors this Grand Old Man of business and wishes him many more years of healthful and useful life.

ERA OF GOOD FEELING.

History tells us that the administration of President Monroe was called the "Era of Good Feeling," because partisanship seemed to give way to a general desire to do the things that seemed best for the country. There are some indications that we are entering another such period and that all classes of citizens are forgetting that they are democrats and republicans, remembering only that they are Americans. The friendly manner in which the acts of the Harding administration have been received and the frank criticism of the democratic press, so free from rancor or bitterness, is a good omen.

Then, too, the position taken by the new president that he is not going to discard the policies of Wilson where they are good, simply because they are Wilson policies or democratic, strikes a popular chord. This he has made especially plain in taking up the contention with Japan regarding the mandate over the island of Yap. The new president makes it clear that the acts of the last administration will be endorsed and the work they have done in this connection will be carried forward. Hence, those who hoped that a change of administration might be more favorable to Japan will be disappointed.

The same thing is true regarding the recognition of Mexico. President Wilson took the stand that he could never recognize that government unless it were made clear that the amendment to the Mexican constitution regarding property rights would not be construed as retroactive or as affecting in any way rights already established. The powers in control in Mexico became imbued with the idea that President Harding would reverse this ruling and have declared that they cannot permit such a construction of the amendment. Promptly Harding announces that he cannot go farther than his predecessor in the matter.

Parties are necessary for our form of government, but an act is not necessarily right merely because one party endorses it, nor wrong because the other may bring it forward. When every officeholder, from president to the lowest paid official, becomes fully converted to the belief that "He serves his party best who serves his country best," we will be able to point with pride to a good government. Grover Cleveland was called stubborn during his lifetime, but he never varied from his expressed belief that "A public office is a public trust," and carried on his work with that idea in mind. If we learn to look at the right or wrong of the act, rather than considering its possible political effects, we will come nearer to the ideal of the great founders of the country.

THE EMERGENCY TARIFF. (Star-Telegram.)

The emergency tariff bill, without material change from the form in which it was passed by the recent congress and vetoed by President Wilson, was passed by the house yesterday by a vote of more than two to one. This insures its prompt passage by the senate, and President Harding already has declared that he will sign such a measure. The bill, therefore, should be a law as soon as the process of passing it through the senate and submitting it to the president can be gone through.

The debate which resulted was more or less of a political character, and the division on the bill a partisan one. The democrats who voted for the measure were chiefly from Texas and Louisiana, the explanation being made that their votes were cast in favor of dealing with an emergency and did not indicate their attitude on a permanent tariff policy. Representative Parrish, during the debate, made it clear, however, that he was prompted by his opposition to the general policy of free raw materials. If the finished product is to be protected, he said, that protection must be shared by the producer of the raw materials.

This attitude is sound, and it is to be regretted that a doctrinaire partisan attitude should have prompted so many of the democrats to oppose the measure. It is not a perfect bill. There is a good deal of buncombe about it. But it does not make an attempt to meet a real emergency and the democrats who voted for it followed the dictates of the common sense, unhampered by mere partisan bias.

City Pays Boys For Killing Rats The Sum of $81.90

The city of Cisco paid yesterday to boys for killing rats the sum of $81.90. This was paid out on the basis of ten cents bounty for every rat turned over to the City Sanitary Inspector Carmichael. That rate applied up to last Saturday night. From now until the time the contest closes, the last of this month, the bounty will be 5 cents per rat, and will be paid as the rats are delivered to Mr. Carmichael.

Dr. J. W. Howell, the city health officer, urges that the boys of Cisco get busy on this campaign and not only help clean up the city by freeing it of rats, but make them some spending money. There was one boy yesterday who received more than $20 for his work in killing rats during the last two weeks. It will be an easy matter for boys to make their spending money for some time by getting out and killing rats and at the same time they will be rendering a real service to the entire city.

To add interest to the campaign the Daily News and H. C. Rominger & Company have offered cash prizes for the winners in the contest totaling $20, the News giving $10 and H. C. Rominger & Company $10.

The rat population of Cisco is entirely too great, Dr. Howell declares, and he urges the boys of the city to pitch in and help reduce it.

ACTIVITY IN OIL CIRCLES IS REVIVED

WORK IS RESUMED ON THE TWO WELLS NORTH OF CISCO ON THE LEONARD PETROLEUM COMPANY TRACT — OTHER TESTS TO BE MADE — OIL MTN SAY THE CRISIS HAS PASSED AND THAT TIMES WILL RAPIDLY GET BETTER.

That money is becoming easier to get and that a decided revival of activity in local oil circles is taking place is evident during the last few weeks.

Work was resumed last week on the two wells on the Ward lease about five miles north of Cisco. The Leonard Petroleum company on this tract which is being drilled by Bert Wiley was shot about two weeks ago, but was not cleaned out because of the fact that there was no pipe line tap available at that time. Oil is standing in the well within 150 feet of the top. The well is 3150 feet deep. The Humble company has agreed to run a pipe line tap to this well and the Gilliland well near it. The Leonard Petroleum company well is to be cleaned out this week to see if there isn't sufficient gas to make it flow. If it is found that there isn't sufficient gas it will be drilled deeper in order to tap that high grade strata of oil which was found in the White Petroleum company well at Leary.

Work was resumed last week on the Gilliland well which is also located on the Ward lease. It is about 2100 feet deep. This well was shot a few weeks ago, but the charge went off before it struck the bottom. It is now being cleaned out with the expectation of drilling it on to the 3,500 foot sand found in the White well at Leary. The class of oil which was found in the White well is identical to that which was found in a well in Jack county and which is selling for $30 a barrel. The White company, however, is not getting but $2 a barrel for this oil owing to the fact that before the well was completed a contract was signed with the Humble company to take the production at this figure. The Humble company, however, under the present arrangement is not getting the full benefit of this high grade oil because it is being taken in pipe line runs with other oil of a lower grade. It is understood, however, that arrangements will be made later to handle this production separate in order that its quality may be held up.

There is a decided better tone to the oil development around Cisco during the last week. Preparations are being made to bring a number of tests in this vicinity and there is every reason to believe that the crisis in local oil circles has passed and that times are going to get rapidly better.

CROWN FORCES MAKE MISTAKE; KILL OWN MEN

LIMERICK, April 18. — Two members of the crown forces were killed and one wounded at Hotel Castle in Connell county, Limerick, last evening, when soldiers arriving at the hotel in Limerick mistook some of their comrades in civilian clothes already at the hotel for Sinn Feiners and began firing. One report says Dennis O'Donovan, proprietor of the hotel, who was also killed, was taken into the hotel yard and executed on suspicion of harboring rebels.

RAT KILLING CONTEST WILL CLOSE MAY 1

Time is Extended in Order to Give Every Boy in the City a Chance to Get in the Contest and Make Some Bounty Money and Have an Opportunity to Win a Cash Prize.

Cisco's rat killing contest which has been on for the last two weeks and which was supposed to have closed last night has been extended until the first of next month, according to an announcement made by the city health officer, Dr. J. W. Howell yesterday.

On next Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock Dr. Howell will pay the ten cents which the city has promised on all rats which were delivered to City Sanitary Inspector G. W. Carmichael up to last night. From now until the close of the contest the bounty will be five cents per head. Some of the boys who are taking part in the contest do not seem to understand the terms as they have been bringing pieces of rats to the city hall and wanting to collect the bounty. In order for the rats to be counted and bounty be paid on it the complete carcass must be delivered to Mr. Carmichael.

From now until the close of the contest the bounty money will be paid upon delivery of the rats to Mr. Carmichael. He has been taking the names of the boys as they delivered the rats to him and the number of the rats delivered and it is upon this record that the payments Tuesday afternoon by Dr. Howell will be made.

The Daily News has offered a prize of $10 in cash to the boy killing the largest number of rats during the contest. H. C. Rominger & Son will also give a prize of $10 to the boy killing the most rats during the contest.

Up to last night Raymond Robinson with a total of 270 rats to his credit was in the lead with Newton Sparks in second place with 215 rats to his credit.

Dr. Howell's idea in extending this contest is to give every boy in the city a chance to get into it and help rid the city of the rat pest. He is confident that the rat population of Cisco will run into the thousands and he feels that it is very important to get rid of these rats.

This contest furnishes an excellent opportunity for boys to make some easy money. Every boy in the city is urged to get into the contest.

Contestants to Meet in Austin on May 5, 6, 7

AUSTIN, April 18.—District elimination contests in progress in Texas will result in 864 recognized contestants coming to Austin for the annual state meet of the University Interscholastic league, to be held on May 5, 6 and 7, according to Dr. E. D. Shurter, director of the league.

There also will come to the state meet 128 debaters and 256 contestants in the high school and rural school divisions in declamation. In addition to the student delegates there will be about 250 teachers, representing as many schools, who are included in the list of official delegates.

The state meet is the culmination of a series of local, county and district contests which have been participated in by 4,214 schools. For the purpose of the contests, the league has 175 counties regularly organized with six officers in each county and the counties are grouped into 32 districts.

It has been necessary this year to limit the number of contestants who may enter the track meet. The track and field contestants are determined by the results of district eliminations, as in the literary events. Previously all schools desiring to do so could send a track team consisting of not more than eight men, but this year only those qualified as a result of the district meets will participate in the state meet.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS WILL TAKE PART IN THE BIG CELEBRATION

Secretary G. C. Richardson of the chamber of commerce has received the assurance that there will be a number of railroad officials here for the San Jacinto Day barbecue, which is to be held at the site of Cisco's million dollar water project.

The following committee has been named to act as a reception committee for the railroad officials: R. Q. Lee, president of the Cisco & Northeastern; J. P. Flynn, general manager of the Cisco & Northeastern; J. J. Butts, general attorney for the Cisco & Northeastern; E. A. Tunnell, freight agent for the Texas & Pacific, and C. H. Dent, freight agent for the Katy. This committee will meet the officials as they arrive and will see to it that they have an opportunity to see the many advantages of Cisco, and assure them of a pleasant day's entertainment.

LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTE

Cisco Wants a Cannon and a New Federal Building

Cisco wants a captured German cannon and a new federal building. The city's desire for both the cannon and the federal building were made known in a letter which was sent yesterday by the chamber of commerce to Congressman Thomas L. Bianton and Senator Morris Sheppard.

If the order has to be cut down, the chamber of commerce would prefer to have the federal building first, because as it is pointed out, that is something that is needed very badly, and the cannon will be nothing more than a war relic. However, there might be some utility to the cannon if war should be declared when West Texas secedes from the rest of the state and sets up an independent republic.

The reason for reviving the postoffice building proposition at this time is that Fort Worth is taking active steps for a new federal building, and it is felt that the need in Fort Worth is not nearly so pressing as it is here, and that if the government is going to build any post-offices any time soon that the liveliest city in Texas must be kept in mind. At the present time there is no federal building in Cisco and the postoffice is greatly handicapped for room.

SOUR STOMACH INDIGESTION Theodor's Black-Draught Highly Recommended by a Tennessee Grocer for Troubles Resulting from Torpid Liver.

East Nashville, Tenn.—The efficiency of Theodor's Black-Draught, the gentian, herb, liver medicine, is vouched for by Mr. W. N. Parsons, a grocer of this city. "It is without doubt the best liver medicine, and I don't believe I could get along without it. I take it for sour stomach, headache, bad liver, indigestion, and all other troubles that are the result of a torpid liver. "I have known and used it for years, and can and do highly recommend it to every one. I won't go to bed without it in the house. It will do all it claims to do. I can't say enough for it." Many other men and women throughout the country have found Black-Draught just as Mr. Parsons describes—valuable in regulating the liver to its normal functions, and in cleansing the bowels of impurities. Theodor's Black-Draught liver medicine is the original and only genuine. Accept no imitations or substitutes. Always ask for Theodor's.

WORK RESUMED ON LUSE NO. 1 EDGE OF CITY

DRURY PETROLEUM COMPANY HAS TAKEN THE PROPOSITION OVER AND HAS AMPLE FINANCE TO COMPLETELY DEVELOP HOLDINGS IN THE VICINITY OF CISCO — CYRUS H. DRURY PREDICTS AN OIL BOOM FOR THIS CITY VERY SOON.

(From Sunday's Daily News.) Work was resumed last night at midnight on the Luse No. 1 well at the edge of the city, and it is expected that the bit will strike the shallow sand within the next two towers.

Cyrus H. Drury returned Thursday night from Detroit, and he makes the announcement that the Drury Petroleum company has been reorganized and that the company has taken over the Luse well. Mr. Drury was made president and general manager of the Drury company. While in Detroit he was also elected president and general manager of the Chitex Oil company, which owns 22,000 acres in leases in Texas, and which will very shortly begin some development in the vicinity of San Antonio.

The Luse well proposition was organized by local people and was to have been drilled with local money. Leases on 317 acres of land and a stipulated amount of money, to be taken in stock in the company, was offered to anyone who would drill a well on the tract. Mr. Drury accepted the contract, because of the fact that his company holds leases on about eight hundred acres which comes up to within half a mile of this well. The well was spudded in on January 27, and Mr. Drury proceeded with the proposition independent of the Drury Petroleum company. Money became hard to get locally, just as it did in every other section of the country, and the well had to be shut down because there wasn't sufficient funds to operate it. The Drury Petroleum company was having hard sledding getting money for all of its operations and could not put anything into this proposition of Mr. Drury's. Several months ago Mr. Drury renewed correspondence with an English firm of investment bankers that he was associated with before the war in some timber and coal and propositions in Canada. The result of this correspondence was that Mr. Drury was called to Detroit about a month ago to meet a representative of this English concern, and as the result of this conference, a sufficient amount of English money has been put into the Drury Petroleum company to assure this concern plenty of finances for all of the operations contemplated in this section. Mr. Drury has already had delivered to him transportation to London, and he expects to sail from Quebec in June for a conference with this concern. "Prospects for an oil field right at Cisco," declares Mr. Drury, "were never better. The log of our well, which is open to anyone who desires to inspect it, looks exceedingly good. I think we will hit pay in the shallow sand, which we will penetrate within the next 100 feet. There is already a strong gas pressure in the well, and there is every reason to believe that we are going to get something good.

"There is decidedly a better tone to business throughout the east now to what there was sixty days ago. People with money to invest are beginning to put their money out, and there is a feeling in business circles that the crisis has been passed and that times are going to get rapidly better. Many of the big factories that have been shut down for months are resuming full operations and the problem of unemployment is disappearing.

Mr. Drury states that the Drury Petroleum company has some leases in the vicinity of Leary that will be developed in the near future. There is one well known as the Noell-Hawkins well, which was shot at 3,300 feet some time ago, and which would make about 200 barrels a day now on a pump. He expects to drill this well into the 3,700 foot sand in search of the high grade oil which was found at that depth in the Leary field, and he expects to drill other wells in that vicinity.

CONDITION IN IRELAND PITIFUL SAYS COMMITTEE

NEW YORK, April 16. — The American committee on relief in Ireland tonight made public the report of its investigation of conditions in Ireland by a unit of the Society of Friends.

It is stated that the material damage inflicted by the British forces during the last twelve months total approximately twenty million dollars.

It is also reported that twenty five thousand families in Ireland, numbering one hundred thousand men, women and children are pitifully in need of help from the American people.

The report added that these people refrained from taking part in the military activities and had pursued peaceful occupations all their lives. Confidence is expressed that the American people will do what they can to alleviate the suffering.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—America's foreign trade was nearly three quarters of a billion dollars less last month than in the same month last year, according to an announcement of the department of commerce today.

Exports for March were $384,000,000, compared with $329,000,000 last year. Imports were $250,000,000, compared with $524,000,000 last year.

FRANKELL BANK ROBBED OF $1,500 BY 3 BANDITS

Special to The News. BRECKENRIDGE, April 16.—The Frankell bank at Frankell, on the Hamon road, about seven miles from this city, was held up and robbed of about $1,500 in currency by two men and a woman this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The party drove up to the bank in a Ford car. The motor was left running. The woman took her stand at the door and guarded it while her companions, who were dressed in working clothes and were unmasked, leveled guns at Cashier Roy A. Trower and demanded of him all of his currency. He gave them $1,500, all that he had out of the safe, and they backed to the door and jumped in the waiting car, together with their female accomplice, and sped down the road toward Leary and Cisco.

Mr. Trower was joined by Mr. Payne and, armed with a shotgun and a pistol, they gave chase. Near Necessity they saw the robbers returning, and they pulled off to the side of the road and waited. When the robbers got within about 100 yards of the car they saw the men waiting for them, and they turned and ran again. Mr. Payne snapped his revolver twice before it would fire. Mr. Trower emptied his shotgun into the back of the car without effect. They followed, but the robbers soon outdistanced them. The car was found where it had been abandoned in a side road. A search of the woods failed to reveal the robbers.

Officers from Breckenridge and Ranger have been working on the case, but the only clue which they have is the report from Caddo that a woman and the men had been arrested there and held as suspects. Tomorrow Cashier Trower will go to Caddo to see if the officers there have the correct parties.

NO OBJECTION TO REMOVAL OF DIFFERENTIAL

IN JUSTICE TO BRECKENRIDGE PRESIDENT OF CISCO & NORTHEASTERN RECOMMENDS TO RAILROAD COMMISSION THAT FREIGHT DIFFERENTIAL COMPLAINED OF BE REMOVED

The Cisco & Northeastern railway company filed no objection to the removal of the differential freight rates between Cisco and Breckenridge; in fact the road recommended to the commission that the differential be removed in justice to Breckenridge. This statement was made yesterday by R. Q. Lee, president of the road, upon his return from Austin where he and J. P. Flynn, the general manager, and Judge Butts, the attorney for the road went to attend the hearing in regard to this matter before the state railroad commission.

The differential complained of by Breckenridge applied on all freight and amounted to from 2 1/2 to 7 cents a pound on car load shipments and as high as 13 cents a pound on local shipments.

It is always customary for the railroad commission to grant a differential to a new road for the purpose of giving the road a greater revenue to start with to offset the big expense of construction and maintenance of a new line. The first few years a road is operated the road bed is soft and thus has to have constant work to keep it up and there are many other expenses that come up in the early life of the road that do not appear later.

"We feel like Breckenridge was justified in asking for the removal of the differential," said Mr. Lee, "because of the disadvantage which it placed on her by having to compete with Graham which is in common point territory. At the same time we felt that we were entitled to the differential for some time yet in order to offset our heavy maintenance expenses. However, in view of the fact that the removal of the differential had recommended it."

The same differential as applied on the Cisco & Northeastern also applied on the Wichita Falls, Ranger & Fort Worth, and was removed by the same order of the commission.

COUNTY OFFICIALS HAVE BURIED THE HATCHET, SO GRAND JURY REPORT SHOWS

EASTLAND, April 15. — The grand jury has adjourned after having been session seven days, reporting forty indictments, thirty-nine felonies and one misdemeanor. Names are not divulged for obvious reasons, due to the fact warrants for those indicted are now in the hands of the sheriff.

The report shows that the friction heretofore existing between certain county officials, has been done away with, and that "the hatchet has been buried," so to speak. County Attorney Dunnam in commenting upon the report of this grand jury for the January-February term of court, gave out the statement calling attention to the fact that the former grand jury reported eighty-four indictments, while this one reported only forty, showing a decrease in crime of more than one hundred per cent, and saying that an investigation of the various J. P. courts over the county will show the same ratio of decrease, saying this is attributable to the fact that the well-known "incubators or hatcheries of crime, the gambling houses, have been closed."

The report of the grand jury in full follows: To the Hon. E. A. Hill, judge of the 88th district court of Eastland county, Texas: "We, the grand jurors for the March term of said court, beg to submit to your honor the following report:

"We have been in session for a period of seven days and during that time have examined one hundred and seventy witnesses and upon their testimony have returned forty true bills of indictment, of which thirty-nine were felonies and one was a misdemeanor. "We have visited the county jail which we found in a very good condition. "We found that there has been some misunderstanding and possible friction between the county attorney and sheriff's departments. These differences have been discussed and we feel sure in the future that perfect cooperation between the two departments necessary to the law enforcement will prevail. "To the end that all law violators may be promptly apprehended and properly punished, we would make the following recommendations, to-wit:

"First, that all peace officers, county, city and precinct make complete and prompt reports to the county attorney showing all arrests made, furnishing names of all witnesses and giving as much testimony as possible; and "Second, that the citizens of this county assist the county attorney and sheriff in enforcing the law by giving evidence to the proper officers instead of criticising them for their failure to suppress all crime. "In conclusion we extend our thanks to the sheriff's and county attorney's departments for their service and to the bailiffs for their services during our session, and to your honor for your courteous and prompt attention to our needs during our session. Respectfully submitted, (Signed) H. E. LAWRENCE, Foreman of the Grand Jury."

H. L. McCUNE MAY BE NAMED FEDERAL DISTRICT ATTORNEY Special to The News. EASTLAND, April 18.—In directing attention to the fact that a bill has been introduced in congress by Representative Wurzbach, creating two new federal districts in Texas, one of which will be called the Northwest Texas district, attention is called to the fact that Hon. H. L. McCune, of Eastland, is an aspirant for appointment to the position of federal district attorney, if the bill becomes a law. Mr. McCune was an aspirant for the position to which Henry Zweifel of Granbury, has just been appointed, and has the endorsement of the Eastland, San Angelo, Dalhart, and other bar associations, as well as that of many of the most able lawyers in the western portion of the state, and it is conceded by those best informed on the political situation that he will receive the appointment to the position to which he aspires, if the bill is passed creating the two new federal districts, and it is thought by those who are in the best position to be informed, that it will pass. Mr. McCune came to Eastland from El Paso, where he practiced at the bar, and is well and favorably known, and has also practiced law in Dalhart, where the local bar of that and other Panhandle cities have endorsed him.

DALLAS MINISTER FAVORS BASEBALL AS SUNDAY SPORT DALLAS, April 19. — Indorsing Sunday baseball as a good Sunday sport, Rev. W. L. Thornton, pastor of the Rosemont Christian church of Dallas, told his congregation in a sermon on "A Gallery of Faces" that he was for it just as long as conditions made it impossible to close the "dives of vice and corruption which exist in the cities." If the people attend church and carry out their full duty as Christians he declared, they would profit more by attending a baseball game than by parading the city streets. "If there is any church which would not allow me to box in a gymnasium installed in the basement, I would throw up my pastorate there before daylight. Regulated Sunday amusement is far better than unregulated Sunday amusement. Speaking of an experience he had in one church, he said: "I knew it was either baseball or the influences that wreck a far greater moral and physical destruction than any Sunday baseball game can and I told the boys to go to it." Modern styles of women's dress have little bearing on the moral conditions of the country, the pastor said. FARMER KILLED. EASTLAND, April 20.—J. A. NEW HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING WILL BE LOCATED ON SITE OF THE WEST WARD BUILDING

(From Tuesday's Daily News.)

The new high school building has been located. It will be constructed on the site of the present west ward school.

This decision was reached by the school board last night, after the matter had been investigated and discussed from every angle. The vote of the board was four in favor of this site and three for the Norwood property.

The west ward building is located on the block bounded by Avenues E and F and South and Eleventh streets. This is just as near the center of the population of the city as it would be possible to locate the high school building.

By locating the building on this site the board saved at least $11,000 in the purchase of a suitable site. It is estimated that the salvage of the west ward building will be worth fully $7,000. The building cost less than $20,000 to erect. The land was given to the city by the Texas & Pacific Railway company.

The only other tract considered by the board last night was the Norwood property, which is centrally located, and which would have been a much more desirable location than any considered, with the exception of the west ward site.

The condition which led the school board to take the action which they did was the fact that regardless of how Cisco may grow in the future, the west ward school building would always be in the wrong place for a ward school. Ward schools are now very badly needed in the southeast and in the north-west portions of the city. The west ward building does not conform to modern building codes in any sense, and as the city grows would become less desirable as a school building.

The action which the board took last night makes it possible to erect the present high school building into a superior high school building and erect a ward school in the southeast part of the city to serve the smaller children in the vicinity of Humbletown and another in the northwestern part of the city to serve the children in that section. The board voted last night to erect these schools, and acting President J. T. McCarty appointed on the committee to find suitable sites for the ward buildings, W. J. Armstrong, J. T. Berry and Prof. J. J. Godbey.

The board plans to build four-room frame buildings for the ward schools, to cost not more than $4,000 each. The board does not believe there is a present need for elaborate ward school buildings, but that the principal thing is to get them located so the children in the lower grades will not have far to walk and to make the buildings so they will be comfortable.

By erecting the two ward school buildings this summer and having them ready for occupancy at the beginning of the next school term and by arranging for some temporary class rooms in the central part of the city, the school work next session will proceed without interruption or inconvenience. It will probably be the first of the next year before the west ward building can be displaced with the new high school building.

In order to have sufficient money to provide the ward schools, it may be necessary to cut down on the high school appropriation to some extent, but the board considers that this will be the best for everyone concerned. It is the plan of the board to build just as good a high school building as the finances will permit, and at the same time take care of the pressing need for ward schools. Under the present arrangement, and this arrangement would not have been changed had the board voted to build the high school on the Norwood property, the children in the primary department from the southern end of the city have to walk from a mile to a mile and a half, and in bad weather many of them are kept at home rather than let them take this long walk. By erecting the ward schools planned, these little fellows will have schools near their homes.

The action of the board last night was taken after considerable deliberation and while there were members on the board who did not vote on the proposition as it was adopted, there was a spirit on the part of those who opposed the proposition to re-organize to the fullest extent with the plan once it was adopted.

Work will begin at the earliest possible moment in the carrying out of this plan.

BOB HICKMAN REPORTED GRADUALLY SINKING AT FORT WORTH HOSPITAL

Word from the bedside of Bob Hickman, All Saints' hospital, Fort Worth, is to the effect he seems to be growing weaker daily and that little hope is entertained for his recovery.

It will be remembered that Hickman received a bullet wound in the thigh at the time of the pistol duel between Mack Harris and Lawrence Adams, in which the latter lost his life. It now appears that more than one bullet entered Hickman's body, and that surgeons have been unable to locate one of the missiles. The injured man is said to be a mere shadow of his former self.

EXPECT TO LET CONTRACT FOR CITY HALL SOON

ADDITION PLANNED FOR PRESENT BUILDING WILL MORE THAN DOUBLE THE AVAILABLE SPACE—CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO HAVE QUARTERS IN NEW BUILDING.

(From Monday's Daily News.) Within the next two weeks plans for the city hall addition will be worked out and approved by the city commission. It is expected that the contract for the addition will be awarded some time next month.

The addition will be built on the east side of the present building and will face Fifth street. It will be thirty-nine feet wide and the depth of the present building and three stories in height.

The details of the arrangement have not been definitely decided upon. The hall which runs through the present building will be abandoned and a hall extended down between the present building and the addition. The mayor's office will extend all the way across the front of the present building. The city secretary's office will extend through the present hall and take in the room which is now occupied by the Henry Exall Elrod company. The court room will remain as it is and the quarters now occupied by the fire department will be converted into an addition to the city jail. The fire equipment, the repair shop and the offices for the chief of the fire department will be located on the first floor of the addition. Quarters for the firemen will be provided on the second floor of the addition.

The third floor will be used for city offices. The present city hall was constructed in 1915. The erection of this building was one of the first pieces of constructive city building that Mayor Williamson took part in shortly after he became a member of the city commission. At that time it was thought that the city hall was far in advance of the city's needs. In fact it was considered adequate for twelve or fifteen years, but in less than four years it was evident that the building was entirely inadequate to the ever growing needs of a thriving city like Cisco.

With the construction of the addition the space of the present city hall will be more than doubled.

MILITARY CLASSES ARE CALLED TO THE COLORS IN FRANCE

Associated Press. PARIS, April 18.—Orders calling to the colors the military classes of 1918 and 1919 have been received at Lille, says report from there.

The national veterans union passed resolutions exhorting the young men called to "respond as valiantly as did their elders in 1914." The move is said to be the first step to force reparations payment from Germany.

Men belonging to the first army corps will undergo a period of training before being called to advance into the Ruhr district or Germany should such a drastic step be finally decided upon by France.

DRY GOODS, SHOES, CLOTHING SALES ARE IMPROVING

ST. LOUIS, April 19.—The outstanding features in general business today is the well defined improvement in jobbing lines. A survey of leading dry goods, clothing, boot and shoe, millinery, groceries, hardware, electrical supplies and woodenware interests develops that their aggregate sales since April 1 show substantial gains over the same period in March.

The volume of goods handled about equals that in the same time in 1920, though because of the decline in prices, the dollar value is vastly under that of last year. In the metal industries reports are less favorable. There are further accounts of plants closing and workers being released in great numbers. Sales of pig iron are only a small fraction of normal.

The general trend in all commodities is downward, but in goods for personal consumption the readjustment has gone far enough to inspire confidence, and retailers and the public are disposed to cover on requirements. In the rural communities the psychology has been seriously upset by the recent decline in the market of farm products, particularly wheat, corn and oats. The agriculturists had about adjusted themselves to the reduced returns, and had started out with a clean sheet to undertake raising the next crop. The latest decline, however, has upset their calculations, and caused a resumption in some sections of the policy to hold back products.

This discontent has been further augmented by the almost complete demolition of the fruit crop in important producing areas, resulting from the freeze in late March and early April. Apples and peaches were caught in their most critical stage, and the loss ranges from 90 to 100 per cent.

Injury to early vegetables and ground fruits was general, extending as far south as Central Texas and Northern Mississippi. Strawberries, an important cash crop, have been ruined in many sections and will be universally late.

In Memphis, Tenn., and Evansville, Ind., strikes of the building trades unions are in effect.

DRILLER HELD FOR DEATH OF FATHER IN LAW

Special to The News. EASTLAND, April 19.—W. E. Cox, proprietor of a boarding house in Eastland for the past two or three years, was killed by his son-in-law, Jack Elkins, a driller, at an early hour Sunday night, in the rear of Elkins' home at the Patterson rooms, on West Patterson street, Elkins shooting him five times.

Elkins refused to make a statement, other than to say he regretted the occurrence, and that he was forced to do it in self-defense. Elkins refused to let anyone disturb the body until the officers arrived and searched the body of the dead man, finding a .38 pistol hanging loosely in his hip pocket.

It is alleged on reliable authority that Elkins and the deceased had had trouble before, when Elkins and Cox's daughter were married, some two years ago, and that Cox seriously objected to the marriage.

It is also alleged, by those in position to know, that the deceased had had trouble during the day with certain members of his own family, and that one of the children had reported to Elkins that Cox had made threats against him.

The body of the deceased was conveyed to the undertaking parlors of A. B. Barrow Furniture company, where it was viewed by Justice of the Peace Horn and Assistant County Attorney McCullough at an early hour.

Elkins is in jail awaiting an examining trial.

Cisco's million dollar dam—a gigantic enterprise which is generally conceded will, with the three railroads here, be a great factor in the building of this city into a metropolis at the gateway of West Texas—is being pushed toward completion, day by day, at a steady rate. J. H. Richardson, superintendent for the H. S. Priestly Construction company, which is building the dam, yesterday reported that 65 per cent of the excavating was completed.

Construction of the dam has resulted in the founding of a small town, with all modern conveniences, at the site of the creek, which is now partly filled, due to late rains. Mr. Richardson announced that he has just received a report from the university of Texas which showed the water as chemically pure.

Practically all of the material is now on hand, large supplies of cement, steel, lumber, gravel and rock having been stored. The little engine which travels over the branch line installed to connect with the tracks of the M. K. & T. railroad, puffs back and forth daily bringing in supplies and materials of all description. Steam shovels assist in the unloading of the cars down in the pit; a hoist carries the concrete mixture up to the top of a high tower, where it is dumped into a slide to be carried by gravitation to all points of the foundation of the dam. The concrete is mixed by machinery; in fact, all work possible is accomplished in this manner, in order to save a great amount of labor and speed up the work.

The second tower to be used in hoisting the concrete is expected to be erected this week, and concrete will be started into the bulkhead at the south end of the dam. All the footings in the spillway section has been completed. Within two more weeks, eight more buttresses will be under preliminary construction.

A number of searchlights have been erected and the work continues night and day. According to Mr. Richardson, the time for construction is largely dependent upon weather conditions.

It is said that a year's rain will practically fill the spillway basin, which extends north and west five miles.

It is hard to visualize the dam when completed and the gain when viewed. Figures mean but little. Imagine rather than facts, must be known to picture the scene, say in 1922 or 1923. It is safe to say that the site will be transformed into a colony of beautiful homes, a center for recreation and athletic enjoyment, a miniature ocean of beauty, and a mecca for devotees of the rod and gun.
