OUTLOOK GOOD FOR BUSINESS IN THIS SECTION

DALLAS, Mar. 1. — Forces and conditions which are making for recovery of business and industry apparently are slowly but perceptibly gaining headway against counter currents of adverse conditions in the eleventh federal reserve district, according to the review of business and industrial conditions for January, issued by the federal reserve bank at Dallas. A survey of the changes in the month would seem to warrant that belief, the review declared.

The forces for betterment have been entered upon the task of bringing into play the recuperative powers of the natural resources—the farms, cattle ranches, oil fields, and mines.

The banking situation was reported as good, and the financial institutions to be in position to contribute their full quota of assistance. While some banks in agricultural districts are carrying over loans from 1921, as a hole the district's banking position was considered stronger than a year ago.

Advances by the war finance corporation apparently were improving the credit conditions in the livestock industry. Amount loaned to the ends of the period of the review, on Texas ranch and farm products totalled $12,000,000. Reports from Arizona, New Mexico and West Texas indicated trading in cattle and sheep for ranch stocking purposes to be reviving on a large scale than for many months.

Winter rains in January had not been sufficiently frequent or abundant to materially relieve the drought on the ranges. Considerable feeding has been necessary in New Mexico in particular, Arizona and West Texas. Cold weather did not kill much livestock.

Building activities in the larger cities underwent a remarkable expansion in January, the permits issued for construction totalling $4,560,000, more than double January, 1921, and the largest for the month of January, with one exception.

The general outlook for crops was reported encouraging as a whole. Farmers in the Texas Panhandle and other wheat growing districts, however, reported that winter wheat, which had been making poor growth had benefited by rains, but the moisture came too late to bring the expected yield to normal. Conditions were worst in the Panhandle.

Cold raining weather early in February caused a halt in preparation of the soil for the cotton crop. Fear of boll weevil again this year, continues to be expressed.

There was no substantial changes recorded in the general labor situation, aside from the termination of the packing house strike at Fort Worth. Unemployment decreased in the building trades, but continued noticeable in such enterprises as cottonseed products, plants, railroad shops, mining, lumber metal trades, clerical and unskilled workers.

Drilling activities in the oil fields was stimulated by active demands for the crude. January production in the eleventh district amounted to 14,416,130 barrels, breaking all previous records and registering an increase of 1,496,380 barrels over December. The rapid development of the Mexico field resulted in an increase of the daily average yield of that field from 104,530 barrels in December to 185,571 barrels during January, and was responsible for the total gain in Texas. Stephens county showed a decrease. The total increase of the Midcontinent field was due to the Texas fields increase. Of 299 new wells in the eleventh district 212 were producers.

EGYPT IS FREE TO WORK OUT HER OWN SALVATION

LONDON, Mar. 1.—Lloyd George announced in the house of commons Tuesday that the British protectorate over Egypt was terminated and that Egypt was free to work out such national institutions as might be suited to the aspirations of her people.

Martial law will be abolished in Egypt as soon as an act of indemnity has been passed, the Premier announced. He explained that martial law had been used, "not" to enforce the British policy upon Egypt, but as a main instrument of government in the hands of the Egyptian Ministers for certain important measures arising out of war conditions.

Lloyd George said it was for the Egyptian government to pass the legislation in the way of which "we undertake to place no obstacle, provided the final clause of the government's declaration is duly observed." The final clause defines the "special relations between the British and Egyptian government, and declares foreign matters are reserved to the discretion of the British government.

"First, security of the communications of the British Empire in Egypt. Second, defense of Egypt against all foreign aggression or interference direct or indirect.

"Third, protection of the foreign interests of Egypt and protection of minorities.

"Fourth, we are prepared to make an agreement with the Egyptian government in a spirit of mutual accommodation whenever a favorable opportunity arises for the conclusion of such an agreement. But until such an agreement satisfactorily to ourselves and to the Egyptian government has been concluded the status quo will remain intact."

Lloyd George said it had long been recognized that the protectorate was no longer a satisfactory form of relationship between the British Empire and Egypt, but owing to the peculiar geographical position of Egypt, the protectorate could not be terminated, until the British imperial interests were fully safeguarded.

Halbert Predicts Slim Chances for Rain This Month

H. A. Halbert of Coleman, in his rain predictions for the month of March, states that there are some chances for light rains from the 8th to 11th.

From the 14th to the 17th, the chances are poor for rain, according to the predictions. "This month is windy and dry as a rule," says Mr. Coleman, "and little or no heavy rains fall. A local shower from strong wind currents is liable to fall at any time independent of planetary movements."

In the period from the 29th to April 1st, Mr. Coleman says, the chances are not good for rains, although some clouds and local showers may possibly come.

Mr. Coleman's predictions are supposed to cover a radius of 1000 miles from Coleman.

PROPER CARE OF EARTH ROADS IN TEXAS OUTLINED

AUSTIN, Mar. 1.—Instructions for the drainage and designing of earth roads, the mileage of which in Texas is far in excess of the total mileage of all other types of roads and most necessarily bear the burden of the traffic, have been sent out by the state highway department.

"It is very important that no water be allowed to stand either on the surface of an earth road or in the side ditches," said the department's article. "This can be accomplished by giving the proper crown to the surface of the road and keeping the surface free from ruts or holes by dragging so that water will drain rapidly to the side ditches.

"The surface of the road should be kept smooth, free from ruts and holes, by frequently dragging or blading. This can be done by the use of steel road drag, road planners, or graders, numerous types of which are on the market, if properly handled.

"The proper time to drag or plane the surface of the road will depend largely upon the character of the soil and the condition of the road. The material when different sections of the road are ready to be dragged. In general, however, work should begin as soon after a rain as the surface of the road is sufficiently dried out so that the material is easily loosened and will roll and spread evenly in front of the drag or plane. If the road is too wet the material cannot be moved ahead of the drag or plane into the ruts and holes. If the surface is too dry it is more difficult and expensive to drag or plane out the ruts.

"As the center of the road dries out more rapidly than the sides the dragging should begin along the center line. After the center of the road has been properly smoothed up the patrolman should then start on the edges of the traveled way and work towards the center of the road. Care should be taken that only sufficient dirt is moved toward the center of the road to fill up the ruts and holes and not give excessive crown. The dragging should continue until all ruts and holes are filled and the surface of the road is in a smooth and even condition. The rate of speed at which planer or drag is drawn should not exceed four miles per hour.

"In those sections of the state where the soil is sandy and the roads become cut up during dry weather they can be greatly improved by adding sufficient clay to form a binder for the sand."

KILLING FROSTS AS FAR SOUTH AS SAN ANTONIO

DALLAS, Mar. 1.—The temperature in Texas varied from two degrees above zero in Amarillo to 40 degrees above at Galveston today, according to reports received at the local United States weather bureau.

Killing frosts were reported as far south as San Antonio. No reports are available on the effect of the cold on vegetables and early crops.

Ablene reported a temperature of 12 degrees, the coldest in March since the weather bureau opened there in 1885. It is snowing in Ablene. In Dallas the thermometer stood at 20 degrees this morning. Much suffering is reported by charity workers, and there are many calls for food, clothing and fuel.

In Houston today the temperature was 29.5, the coldest day in March for 30 years.

Stock raisers in West Texas and the Panhandle are threatened with heavy losses unless the weather moderates immediately. Grazing lands and water tanks are frozen over and the cattle are deprived of nourishment.

TEXAS "EXES" TO HONOR TEXAS INDEPENDENCE

AUSTIN, Mar. 1.—Former students of the University of Texas will gather March 2 in many towns and cities of Texas and in cities outside the state for the annual celebration of Texas Independence Day, with social gatherings and evening banquets.

The student celebrations are expected to be more widespread than ever this year. It has been the custom of former University of Texas students for several years to thus observe the day.

Cities in which gatherings of former Texas students are to be held Thursday include New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Columbus, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Boston.

Cisco's former students of the Texas university will hold a banquet Thursday evening in the basement of the First Methodist church, with the senior class of the Cisco high school as their special guests. The program of the affair is in the hands of Superintendent of Schools J. J. Godbey. Owen D. Barker is president of the local association composed of ex-students of the university, and Miss Frances Dorsey is secretary.

QUILTS AND PILLOWS ARE NEEDED FOR GOTS FOR EX-SERVICE MEN

John William Butts post No. 123, of the American Legion, is making preparations to provide temporary lodging for deserving ex-service men who arrive in Cisco in destitute circumstances.

A building has been secured and a donation of cots has been assured. The Cisco Gas & Electric company has agreed to furnish heat and light for the quarters without charge.

Blankets, quilts and pillows are needed and Cisco citizens who have discarded blankets, quilts and other furnishings will be helping a worthy cause if they will contribute these articles.

The committee in charge of this relief work is composed of Minter Workman, Womack Motor company, Ray Cabiness, Cisco Gas & Electric company, and P. F. Keeland of the Central Motor Co.

A number of ex-service men in the last few days have been assisted by the Legion in securing work.

OBREGON ASKED TO TAKE PEOPLE IN CONFIDENCE

MEXICO CITY, Mar. 1.—An appeal for President Obregon to take the Mexican people into his confidence concerning recognition by the United States, coupled with the urgent demand that something be done to restore diplomatic relations between the two nations, was made in a signed editorial today in El Universal, a newspaper published by Felix Palavicini.

The president was asked to explain through the press what the demands of the United States are and to take counsel with the nation's wisest men as to how the demands can best be met in a manner commensurate with the national pride and dignity.

Cash Feature of the Soldiers' Bonus to Be Eliminated

WASHINGTON, Mar. 1.—Elimination of the cash feature of the soldiers' bonus was virtually agreed upon today by the republican members of the house ways and means committee. Chairman Fordney announced that a special sub-committee of six had been named to work out "some plan that will not entail large drafts on the federal treasury in the next two years." Such a plan will make unnecessary any immediate bonus financing and will remove the cause of the controversy in the house over the bill.

TEXAS TARIFF CONGRESS TO BE HELD IN MARCH

FORT WORTH, Mar. 1.—A Texas tariff congress to organize all associations, industries and individuals who believe that Southern products should receive the same tariff treatment as those of other sections, has been called to meet here March 15th.

The meeting will be held in conjunction with the meeting of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association, which will be in session here March 14, 15 and 16 and which will recess at noon on March 15, in order that the session may be given over to the deliberations of the tariff congress.

The call for the congress is signed by N. A. Shaw of Texas, chairman of the Texas division of the Southern Tariff Association, jointly with John H. Kirby, president of the Southern Tariff Association.

Southern members of congress who continue to vote against a tariff on Southern products in the face of the expressed wishes of 80 per cent of the producers of the South for a compensatory duty, will be the main topic of discussion, and schedules desired by different lines Southern industry will also be taken up.

The sessions will be held at the Texas Hotel and a large attendance of those interested in securing a tariff on livestock, hides, peanuts, vegetable oil, petroleum and other products is expected.

DAILY SCHEDULE FOR SERVICE CARS TO PIONEER FIELD

Beginning today, a regular schedule for service cars between Cisco and Cross Plains and the Pioneer Oil field has been inaugurated by Mobley & Jennings of this city. This firm has three seven passenger cars which will be put into use on this line when required.

The schedule provides for cars to leave the Daniels Hotel at 8:30 every morning, and on the return trip to leave Cross Plains at 1 o'clock and Pioneer at 4 o'clock. The trip each way requires about two hours. The route taken for the present will be by way of Nimrod and Sabanna.

CHILD FATALLY BURNED

RANGER, Mar. 1.—Leo Ora, 10-month-old child, was fatally burned yesterday at an oil camp near Caddo, when left alone in a room in which there was an open gas stove.

WORKERS IN THE NEWS' CIRCULATION CONTEST CAN EARN MORE MONEY IN FEW WEEKS THAN ANY BUSINESS MAN

There is probably not a business man in Cisco or the entire territory who will clear $1,000 in the next five or six weeks. The bigger the merchant, the more certain this would seem to be. Certain it is that the average man and the man above the average is not picking up $1,000 a month these days. Yet the News is putting up over $6,000 in cash and cars to be given away in a few short weeks to men and women who will make some effort to help themselves.

There is over $1,000 a month in these next few weeks for the man or woman who will go out and do. There is over $1,200 in it for you. There are two handsome Essex touring cars, $600 in gold and hundreds of dollars in cash. Then after all that there is 20 per cent cash commission for every active candidate who does not win one of the big prizes. You win, absolutely. You cannot lose.

Big Enough For You.

If you were approached with a proposition that stood you to make $1,000 in the next few weeks you would stop short and think, wouldn't you? It doesn't make any difference how big you are. The bigger you are the more you will pause. You would hear the proposition. You would consider it. If at all reasonable you would take it. Or you would.

Right now, in these times, when men are thinking of the necessity for getting money, when men are trying hard to increase their income, $1,000 is a sum that is to be desired, no matter who you are.

Campaign Just Starting.

The News' great two-automobile and cash prizes "Everybody Wins" campaign is just starting. It has been slow and it is slow. There ought to be at least as many active, real candidates as there are prizes. There ought to be more persons entered who know what $6,000 represents, who have an idea of how big it really is in these days of readjustment.

Strange as it may seem, more subscriptions have been turned in over the center at the News office by friends of candidates than most candidates have produced themselves. Friends help big but a little real effort and ability to "close" on subscriptions will help right now.

Not Really Under Way.

The News "Everybody Wins" campaign is big enough to interest the very biggest men and women in Cisco and this territory. But what has been

GET WISED UP ON GOVERNMENT VICTORY NOTES

Desiring to be of service to the readers, many of whom own Victory Notes, the following information is presented by The Daily News with reference to the June 15, 1922, call by the treasury for 3 3/4 victory notes, and the temporary redemption privilege relative to victory 4 3/4s. Inquiries indicate there has been some misunderstanding on the part of the public.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has called victory 3 3/4 notes for redemption at par and accrued interest June 15, 1922. After June 15 these bonds, because they have been called, will bear no interest. It is to the owner's advantage to surrender them at that time, or any time before at par plus accrued interest, and receive the proceeds. For reinvestment the U. S. government savings organization at Dallas has suggested the new issue of treasury savings certificates which are to be had at postoffices or through banks in $1,000, $500 and $25, maturity by value, denominations costing, respectively, $995, $495 and $25.

These are registered in the owner's name when purchased and are loss-proof as well as depreciation- or market fluctuation-proof. They mature five years from date of purchase; bear 4 1/2 per cent, compounded semi-annually, if held to maturity. Over a period of five years they yield 25 per cent on the investment. They are callable at purchase price before maturity. Ownership limit is $500, maturity value, $750.

Until March 15, the treasury has authorized the federal reserve bank to receive 4 1/2 per cent, or a period of five years they yield 25 per cent on the investment. If held after that time, unless the purchase period is extended, the 3 3/4 victory will run on till maturity, which is May 23, 1923. Those who desire may take advantage of this temporary period and convert their bonds into cash. Re-investment in treasury certificates of the new issue has been recommended.

Owners are advised to consult local bankers for specific advice.

TEXAS SOLONS REGISTER VOTES ON A MACHINE

AUSTIN, Mar. 1.—When the Texas legislature next convenes at the capitol here, the votes in the house of representatives will be counted as quickly that a considerable saving in time and expense will result, in the belief of the legislative committee which recently tested the new automatic voting machines in the house.

Economy, through the saving of time, was the principal reason for installing the machine, according to Representative C. E. Dennis, of Hunt county, chairman of the committee.

Moreover, it has been about 30 minutes to take and count the votes in a roll call. The saving in time will amount to from five to ten minutes or more on each. Each day of the legislative session costs the state of Texas about $2,000. It has been estimated. During the last regular session of the legislature, 60 hours time could have been saved with the machine. It was estimated, being the equivalent of 10 days. The monetary saving would have been about $1,500 for the session at this rate.

The voting machine was ordered installed in a resolution passed at the second called session of the thirty-seventh legislature last summer. The installation has been progressing for several months, ending with the first test of the machine last week.

Votes are cast by the members turning a key on their desks. One turn of the key to the left registers a "yes" vote, two turns a "no" and three turns "present, not voting." Each turn of the key flashes a light on a large board above the speaker's stand. On this board is the name of each member. If a "yes" vote is cast by a member, a red light flashes opposite his name on the board; if a "no" vote, a blue light, and a white light for the "present, not voting" signal. At the same time the letter "Y" or "N", whichever the vote is, appears opposite the name of the legislator casting the vote.

The rear of the board is an exact duplicate of the front. When the vote has been counted a photograph machine makes a photograph of the board, which is sent through a tube to the speaker's stand to become the record of the vote. The whole process from the beginning of the voting to the delivery of the photograph is completed in slightly more than five minutes, whereas the usual time for a roll call is 10 minutes or more.

Immediately after the vote is closed the affirmative and negative voters are indicated on dials on the speaker's desk and the desk of the clerk.

Members of the committee who were in Austin for the final test were Representatives Dennis, H. E. Famborn, of Burnet county; John T. Smith, of Travis; Claude Teer, of Williamson; Lee J. Roumestre, of Dumas county; the other members of the committee, was unable to be present.

SEVERAL SORE SPOTS IN CISCO RESULT OF ICE

Speaking of the human anatomy, there are several sore spots in Cisco today. It has been almost a physical impossibility during the past two days for one to saunter his steps properly to fit the slipperiness of the sidewalks and streets. Many have tried to amble along at the usual gait, with sad results. Others have succeeded in maintaining their equilibrium and are hoping for the best. But almost anytime yesterday or this morning one could look out on the main street and witness a few acrobatic stunts which were, to say the least, unusual.

Last night the unpleasant weather reached its climax, but the streets of the old town were almost deserted. Clubs and places of amusement suffered to great extent from lack of attendance. They do say that more Cisco women had to entertain their husbands last night by the family friends than is at all customary. But the fellows without wives suffered, too.

But one serious accident has been reported as a result of the slippery walks and streets. Mrs. C. E. Irvin of De Leon arrived in Cisco on the morning train today, and in making her way to the Mobley Hotel she fell and suffered a broken leg. Dr. E. L. Graham was summoned and attended to her injuries. She was taken to her home on the 8 o'clock train this morning.

Relief is promised by the weather man for tomorrow. And it may be that he is right, for it began thawing slightly about noon today. He says that Thursday will be fair and not so cold in West Texas. In East Texas colder weather is promised for tonight, with the thermometer dropping to 12 degrees. Thursday the cold snap will begin to lose its ferocity.

WE'LL SAY WE ARE GOOD AT RECOVERING LOST PROPERTY THROUGH ADS

Once in a while, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for a newspaper to tout its own horn. We're at it now. It'll be a small tout this time, but it ought to reach the ears of the few who continue to insist that advertising does not pay.

It's on advertising, you know, that a newspaper depends largely for its existence. And here's just one little proof that advertising does pay.

Monday C. J. Daniels of the Daniels Hotel had the following wanted inserted in the Daily News:

LOST—On Cross Plains road, one brown Gladstone, traveling case. Liberal reward. Return to Joe D. Burris, care Daniels Hotel.

A very short while after the paper was out Monday afternoon Mr. Daniels received a call from a party who had found the traveling case. Within two hours the case was delivered to the owner at the Daniels Hotel.

Business and the Outlook.
(Monday's Pan-American Record.)

A moderate increase in clearings last week is explained by the observance of Monday as a holiday. The decrease from last year was not large—perhaps not so large as the decline in prices.

Labor troubles portend serious difficulties. A coal strike is threatened. The strike in New England cotton mills continues, and where workers are not out production has been curtailed. One large manufacturing company will run five days a week. Another concern employing thousands of operatives will run only two days this week, and four days the week thereafter until there is a change in the situation.

Buying is still cautious and generally for immediate needs, but there is a little more disposition to anticipate requirements than there was a few months ago. Moderate increases in prices are being maintained, and production in iron and steel and other lines is increasing. The advance in grain has improved conditions in the agricultural regions, and the reaction of the Bank of England discount rate from 5 to 4 1/2 per cent indicates an improvement in some lines.

Increased building operations are probably reflected in sales of structural steel in January slightly exceeding those of December and more than double those of January, 1921. Most of the buying is for immediate needs, but transactions of moderate size are numerous, and considerable railroad business, present and prospective, affords some encouragement in the trade. Lower prices for cotton goods have stimulated buying, and sellers have been making concessions. Woollen goods are barely steady, though prices of wool are maintained, and cotton goods have been unsettled by the speculation in Japan in raw silk. The textile trade is very much the same abroad that it is here, and in England half the cotton looms commonly employed in making goods for export are now idle. Cotton consumption in January was very much larger than it was in January, 1921. Shoe factories are curtailing purchases of sole leather, and business in that line is backward.

Pittsburgh reports a constantly increasing demand for pipe mill products. The demand for black and galvanized sheets has shown a steady though slow, improvement. The demand for building material is steadily increasing. The plants as a whole are probably running at fully 50 per cent of capacity, well above the rate early in January. Large orders for bars, slabs and plates get concessions. There is a growing demand for iron in Birmingham; the price in competitive territory is $15.50. Japan is asking most of our steel exports. In the middle of the week there was an improvement in the price and shape of iron in Pittsburgh. Persistent price cutting in the East may close a large plate mill in Youngstown. Birmingham is selling more iron to the North and another furnace is soon to be blown in in Ensey. Special iron concessions are made by Eastern Pennsylvania furnaces to New England.

Demand for wool in the Eastern markets has fallen off considerably, and some low-grade scoured wools are held less strongly than they were. Sales in Australia showed prices 10 per cent down. Cotton was active and strong, largely due to covering in Liverpool and the consumption report. On Tuesday the price was fully half a cent above Saturday's close. There was some reaction in the middle of the week, and on Saturday, after three days of profit-taking, cotton was strong, and prices advanced 35 to 40 points. Sales of print cloths in Fall River were 140,000 pieces. The feature in the cotton goods market was the reduction of percale prices to last fall's basis. There have been some informal openings of staple worsted dress goods. The American Woollen company has sold out and withdrawn all woollen overcoating and suitings. Dress goods are having more of an in-ning than men's wear.

There was spectacular business in wheat early in the week, due to an active foreign demand for wheat and flour, reports that European supplies are below requirements, that threatening returns in Argentina are disappointing, and the crop conditions in the Southwest are unfavorable. Prices rose till in Chicago May wheat touched $1.42 3/4, the highest this year without dropping on Thursday and again on Friday. On Saturday there was an opening bulge, after which prices dropped back about to the close of Friday. The official estimate of the Argentine crop is 15,000,000 bushels below that of last year. Provisions in Chicago were strong, in sympathy with higher hogs and the advance in grains.

MORE DIGGING.

In the street car the other day this conversation was overheard:
"How's business?"
"Rotten."

"I suppose you've considerably reduced your city sales force since the slump came?"
"On the contrary, we have just put two more men on, and are going to take on three more the first of the month."

"Rather queer time to branch out."
"Not at all. When we have to dig for business, there's only one thing to do—put more diggers on the job. What would you do—fire your salesmen and wait for the trade to bring orders to you? Nothing to it—we have to go out and get 'em."

—This dialogue, we heard it, and it struck us that the digger's statements presented the right point of view.

If you agree with that, you can not logically deny the proposition that when business is not all that might be desired, and increased selling effort is called for, increased advertising effort is naturally indicated.

MRS. ATLAS.

(Wichita Falls Times)
Employers are talking about "the increased productivity of labor" as one of "the hopeful signs of the times." The bricklayer lays more bricks an hour, the coal heaver more coal, the shipping clerk drives more nails.
In hard times, when two men are active on one job, the competition speeds things up. Scientists classify this as the instinct of self-preservation.

In boom times, when there are more jobs than jobhunters, the average man does less work. Like the elephant, who stops the circus parade unless he gets an occasional prod.
It's a curious combination of psychology and biology. With exceptions, it applies to all of us whether we work for wages, salaries or straight profits.

Neck-and-neck with the increased productivity of employees there's an increased productivity of employers. The bosses are getting down to work earlier and staying later. Shirt sleeves are rolled up, midnight oil burns, and honorable Swivel Chair is divorcing himself from outside interests.
Gone are the good old days of 1919 when a man could take two hours for lunch and knock off at 2:30 in the p.m. for golf and other violent exercise. It was observable at that time, that private secretaries seemed to have more to do with the actual running of the average business than the boss himself.

About all some of the bosses had to do was sign letters and checks. Many of them appeared to be continually "in conference."
About 8,500,000 women are gainfully employed in American industry. In thousands of offices, with the title of "private secretary," they have been handling the wheel.
The importance of the part played by women in industry cannot be over-estimated.

But the greatest business ability in America is in the home. If the average corporation head had managed his business with as much economy and system as his wife managed the kitchen and general household, the sheriff would be getting an occasional breathing spell.
Woman is thrifter and more far-sighted than man.
After all's said and done, Atlas—who holds up the world—is a woman.

Gats and Crime.

(San Angelo Standard.)
Aroused by crime wave, a mass meeting of Chicago public officials and citizens appoints a committee to work for legislation prohibiting manufacture and sale of pistols.
Ninety-eight per cent of Chicago crimes are committed with pistols, says Michael Hughes, chief of detectives.

To make a rattlesnake harmless draw its fangs or remove its poison sacs. To paralyze crime, disarm the criminals. It's weapons that need control more than criminals.
We hear talk here following a murder, "well one of them had to go. It was just a question of which one."
That's all bunk. Take these guns away and let 'em fight with their fists and they'll soon see that there is lots of room for all kinds and descriptions of men in this country.

AMERICAN LEGION

The regular meetings of John William Butts Post, No. 133, of the American Legion, are held at the city hall auditorium the first and third Mondays of each month, at 7:30 o'clock. Crigler Paschall is the post commander and T. F. Fullerton is the post adjutant.

Discharged by a Wall Street banking house for refusing to write letters to congress attacking adjusted compensation, an ex-service man has turned to the American Legion at New York for help in finding another position. He was one of three, out of 250 employees, who refused to sell his pen. The Legion secured his affidavit stating that typewritten forms were passed out by the firm to all their workers with an order that each employe hand in four unsealed letters, one to President Harding and three to congressmen, and the remark that "you fellows had better write these letters tonight if you want to keep your jobs."

The order of "commander of the Legion of Honor," conferred on him by the French government, has been declined as a personal decoration by Harold MacNair, commander of the American Legion. He called Marshal Foch that he wished to accept the award only "as a tribute to all members of the Legion."

With stores closed, the countryside out en masse, and plane wheeling overhead to direct the attack, the American Legion at Beaver City, Neb., staged a record wolf and coyote hunt for the benefit of farmers. The money for the pelts went to needy ex-soldiers.

Ex-service men in Alabama vote without paying a poll tax. A state amendment, backed by the American Legion, grants them the exemption.

One thousand "doughnuts and coffee" a day to feed the jobless and homeless ex-soldiers in the growing breadline at St. Marks in the Bowery, New York, are being supplied by a single post of the American Legion, during each day and night. The unfortunate men sleep in the church.

Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, America's premier ace, was the first Ohio war veteran to turn back his state bonus check of $185 to a fund to establish a hospital for Ohio's disabled soldiers. The American Legion has asked all other veterans who do not have imperative need of cash to follow Rickenbacker's lead.

A string of world war medals (bought at a sale) across his chest, the world's fastest-working beggar took 160 an hour from New York's theater crowds until the American Legion got the police on his trail.

The chamber of commerce of Pittsburgh, Pa., home of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, has voted for the American Legion's adjusted compensation bill. Almost at the same time the chamber at Los Angeles, Cal., with 900 members and called the largest in the United States, endorsed the bonus. Calling the U. S. chamber's tactics unfair, the local commerce board at El Dorado, Kan., denied its membership and then voted for the compensation measure.

DOGS ARE RACING OVER A COURSE 200 MILES LONG

THE PAS, Manitoba, March 1. — Facing the rugged, frozen trail to the bush, storm-ridden and heaped high with snow, an imposing field of dog racing teams and their weather-beaten drivers today awaited the gun that would send them on the fifth annual dog derby of The Pas.

This year's course, 200 miles long, follows the winding Carrot river, level and sheltered to some extent from biting winds and blizzards to a point 100 miles from the Pas, where a turn is made for the return to the finish line at the Pas.

The new course is expected to be a test of speed as much as of endurance and it is favored by a majority of the drivers.
More than half of the teams in this year's race are equipped with the Alaskan or double-hitch, which, under good racing conditions, preserves the strength of the dogs, in that it permits of free and individual action. The pull is direct. In the Siwash, or single file hitch, used mostly by Lake Winnipeg teams from around Grand Rapids, the pull is indirect and the result a matter of dog alone.

The teams this year are all sorts of breeds, from a cross between a collie and a wolf to wolf hound and husky and the mongrel type. The latter stands out as the best racing breed, having been most successful in other races.

Winners of other derbies follow: First Hudson Bay Dog Derby, 1916, 150 miles—Albert Campbell; time, 24 hours, 47 minutes.

THE TRUTH ABOUT OIL AND THE TRUTH ABOUT IRRIGATION OF LANDS

BALLINGER, March 1. — "The Truth About Oil—The Truth About Irrigated Lands." The above is the slogan of the Young Men's Business League of Ballinger, which organization is boosting oil development in Runnels County and pushing to completion the huge irrigation project in the Colorado Valley adjacent to Bronte, Tennyson, Miles and Ballinger. Several wild cat reports having recently been disseminated in connection with the Russell well southeast of this city, which is rapidly nearing completion, the local commercial organization wishes to establish itself as a reliable source of information concerning developments in Runnels county wells. The Russell well recently encountered an oil sand at 1815 feet said by the drillers to be good for 150 barrels if shot. Drilling has been resumed with the expectation of striking a 500 barrel sand at 1950 feet. Predictions are based on showings in an offset well which has been producing oil and gas for three years.

The Young Men's Business League in co-operation with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and other commercial organizations in this section, and the Colorado Valley Irrigation association also hopes to control "wildcatting" in irrigated lands upon the completion of the 200,000 acre project which the U. S. Geological Service and the State Board of Water Engineers recently spent ten months in surveying. People generally throughout the district realize that more than one irrigation district in Texas has been damaged irreparably by exorbitant prices for irrigable land and this will aid the local organizations in their plans to tell the public the truth about land values and general conditions throughout the irrigated district. Projects throughout this section were never brighter, despite the lack of rain. Outside capital is being invested in oil securities and irrigable land and full confidence prevails for the successful development of both these great resources.

Spring Prettiness for WEE FOLK

by Hazel Winthrop

A FLAPPER WRAP AND BONNET OF PALEST GRAY TAFFETA

A White Season Proposed for Children As Well As Grown Ups - Simplicity the Dominating Feature in Juvenile Clothes - Tearose a Favorite Color for Babyhood.

SPRING in childhood's realm is something to live for. Luckless folk, they, who have no little people to outfit when spring comes around—are so absorbed in grown-up affairs of their own that they never even notice the entrancing garments in shop windows, ready for small wearers. It is fun just to look at those bewitching toys—even if there is no youngster in your own family to provide for. Nothing in the sartorial line speaks of spring so expressively as the spring attire for small people.

White Going To Be Extra Fashionable

It is some seasons since white was particularly fancied for children. Vivid colors have been the craze, and little white frocks have been decorated with bright hued embroideries and trimmings. Daffodil, apricot, turquoise and jade were little-girl colors and not often during the past summer or two has one observed a tiny maid all in spotless white—sash, slippers, hair-ribbon, as well as frock. But this—so the powers-that-be are forecasting—is to be "a white summer."

For grown-ups, white skirts, sweaters, shoes, and hats; white linen, bonnet and pongee for suits; white dotted swiss, crandy and cross-bar lawn for frocks. And quite naturally children's costumes reflect grown-up styles. Two very lovely little white dresses for childhood are pictured. One, a ruffly affair of sheer white handkerchief linen—with a white sash ribbon and bow. And the other a cool little frock of white china silk, an exquisite little frock for a summer afternoon.

The ruffled frock has all the new features. For one thing the skirt is over the knee—just as women's skirts are coming down, so too are children's skirts you observe! And the skirt of this ruffled frock has a decided flare over a little petticoat edged with narrow, fine lace. The sleeve flare also with good width at the edge. The frock might be made of organdy or fine batiste, but it is prettier as pictured; of sheer white handkerchief linen which has a combined crispness and softness that neither organdy—all crispness—nor batiste—all softness—can emulate. The ruffles are, of course, hemmed by hand, and indeed the whole frock is hand-made. The white ribbon sash does not go around the waist, but over the shoulder, with cunning rosette bows of the ribbon at either side of the front and back. The little girl wears white silk socks and low pumps of black patent leather set off her otherwise all-white costume.

Feather-stitching A Popular Trimming Most mothers know how to feather.

hand. And here is the new petal sirdle in the latest mode. Grown-up sister may have a girde of roses on her dance frock, but little sister finds petals more suitable than complete flowers, and the petals are made of ribbon, matching the ribbon flowers that seem to have drifted over the airy skirt. One black velvet flower at the left side of the waist gives a note of special smartness and "Frenchness." Another little party frock is of palest lavender chiffon taffeta, the three-ruffled skirt divided from the waist with a sirdle of violets in a single, narrow line. A tiny nosegay of violets snugles against the ruffle that encircles the neckline.

Pantle Dresses Increasingly Popular

For play frocks the pantle idea is supreme. All these little frocks have cunning panties to match, and sometimes the frock is cut very short so that the costume is really tunic-and-socker effect. A new play frock combines a romper with sleeves and a very short, sleeveless jumper. When these frocks are made of gingham at home, several papers may be made for each romper and the fresh jumper may be donned like a clean pinafore when somebody inadvertently spits jam or soft-boiled egg. A most engaging little costume in the tunic and pantle style is pictured. Feather-stitching again, here, and a little buttonholing too, at the edge of cut and collar. The frock is made of thin pongee in natural color and the feather-stitching and buttonholing are done with blue worsted. Fascinating

APRONS FOR MISTRESS AND MAID

ONE night at a merry chafing-dish party a very pretty young woman offered to concoct the rarebit from a special recipe and her hostess brought forth a charming little apron—all lawn and lace with per lilac bows on the pockets, to the over her guest's dainty frock. The young woman flushed and her eyes snapped. "Thank's, I'm not the sort of schoolmarm who wears aprons," she remarked testily. And she would not put on that captivating little apron!

For a great many years there has been a feeling against aprons. They were "old-maidish," humbly "housewife," suggestive of nursery duties, or kitchen duties, or dressmaking duties. Modern woman would have none of them. Great-grandma might have worn little aprons around the house. And old great Aunt Sarah, her spinster sister, probably smoothed out little black silk aprons while she talked to callers—but not their great-grand-daughter and great-niece. Oh, no, never. But aprons are coming back. The cunning, feminine little demure things have been subtly working themselves back into favor—they were too pretty and too fascinating to be ignored forever, and they knew it!

A man loves to see a woman with a little apron on—ask any man and see if he doesn't. That little apron, to his masculine imagination stands for home and domesticity and sweet, tender home-like qualities. A little apron, and a chafing-dish with something savory bubbling in it—it comes only knew how much more appealing than a suggest, as soon as the caller has settled down for a pleasant evening. "Oh, let's don't sit around here—let's do something!" Doing something, of course, meaning the Movies, or "taking in a show," or getting into a car and dashing away to dance at some restaurant or other—all at the young man's expense, of course. Hail to the return of the little apron with lilac bows on its pockets, and to the bubbling chafing-dish. More jewelers will be selling solitaires then, one feels certain.

"But I look like my own maid in a little apron," protests one young matron. Not at all; for aprons for mistress and maid are very different things. The maid's apron is part of a uniform and has its hall-marks. It may be a very pretty and a very frivolous apron—maids are wearing that kind now—but it is a uniform apron, none the less and is not to be mistaken for the gay little swiss and lace affair that the mistress of the house dons over a chiffon frock. For one thing, the maid's apron has shoulder-straps; the mistress's apron, never. And the maid's apron is properly accompanied by matching cuffs and collar and by a gown of simplest, plainest style; unmistakably a maid's gown. Whoever saw a maid's apron, even the most coquettish little apron on record, worn with a Georgette frock having a bateau neckline and flowing sleeves showing the arms? A perfectly dressed maid is pictured. In her dark frock of poplin and her pretty apron of cross-barred dimity, with collar and cuffs to

USE THE RIGHT THIMBLE

A LITTLE thing like a thimble can make all the difference in the world between pleasure and hard labor, in sewing. The wrong sort of thimble is just as difficult to contend against as the wrong sort of eyeglasses—if women did but realize it. Remarkable, how a woman will go through almost a whole lifetime using the same old thimble which has probably worn out in places so that the needle pokes through, or is too small for joints enlarged with rheumatism and is constantly slipping off—when a new and comfortable thimble would cost not more than a dollar.

Is there a sentiment about the old thimble which somebody presented to the industrious maiden of sweet sixteen? Or is it that women will cling persistently to old implements, old customs long after the things long past usefulness should be discarded? How many years have you had that thimble you are wearing now to darn up grown-up son's socks? Since the thinks so much of them that she is, you see, holding one up for special inspection. This is an admirable beach frock; smart and presentable for the trip to the beach and home again, and practical for play in the sand for pongee launders beautifully. Who Wouldn't Be A Flapper And Have A Silk Cape?

Little girls of all ages from six to flapper years are going to wear the most fetching silk cape and hat seen this spring. And two styles are pictured. One is a French blue set, cape and hat trimmed with shirred double-frills. The other is a pale gray taffeta set with petal trimming on cape and poke bonnet.

days when you cut out his baby clothes, very likely. And undoubtedly that thimble is a bit small and has an aggravating habit of popping off and rolling under the bureau at inconvenient moments.

Very few women can wear the same thimble at fifty that was a perfect fit at twenty-five. Fingertips lose their tapering slenderness; or cushions of fat accumulate. The finger joints are apt to enlarge too, especially the joint of the thumb finger. The dainty number 7 thimble that pushed a needle through embroidery twenty years ago is almost certainly too small today, and its possessor would be a lot more comfortable—and be able to sew a lot faster—with a number 3 or number 13 thimble.

Women who sew a great deal find it a convenience to have several thimbles in different weights. Rather light thimbles for embroidery and hand sewing; heavier ones for work on substantial fabrics—for sewing on shoe buttons and things of that sort. A very heavy thimble is wearisome in light work; and too thin and light a thimble, in heavy work, means special effort of hand and arm muscles. A very good silver thimble may be had for fifty cents. Handsome, heavy thimbles much chased or with a deep band at the edge sometimes run up to two dollars. An old English design representing a beehive with tiny bees engraved here and there all over the "hive," is an attractive pattern. And rather odd is the Old Salem thimble, with witches riding on brooms round the border.

Indifference Treatment for Overstrained Nerves

HERE is a new cure for nerve collapse. A wise doctor recommends it to a tense, nerve-shattered woman who could not let-down and could not rest and who, because of nerves stretched to the snapping point and the consequent physical reaction, had been plunged into a deep depression.

"Be perfectly indifferent to everything," said this wise doctor. "Snap your fingers at your worries. Let the world go hang." He knew his patient; and he knew nerves generally. The normally indifferent person, the one who just naturally snaps fingers and lets the world go hang, never suffers from over-strained nerves. Her family and friends may—but she won't put other people out. She does the worrying; they don't! And if, in the routine of her arduous days, occurs some extra strain, some serious anxiety to be met, nerves pushed to the snapping point are very apt to give out. Physical collapse and mental depression are the result. So the indifference cure—if the sufferer can be coaxed to indulge in it, has its merits. By the time she has "let-down" and made herself indifferent to all her nagging worries, new strength will be asserting itself to meet and conquer those same worries without the nervous tension and consequent depression.

THE CORRECTLY DRESSED PARLOR MAID WEARS A SIMPLE FROCK, SMARTEDED BY COLLAR, CUFFS AND SLEEVY APRON IN A MATCHING SET.

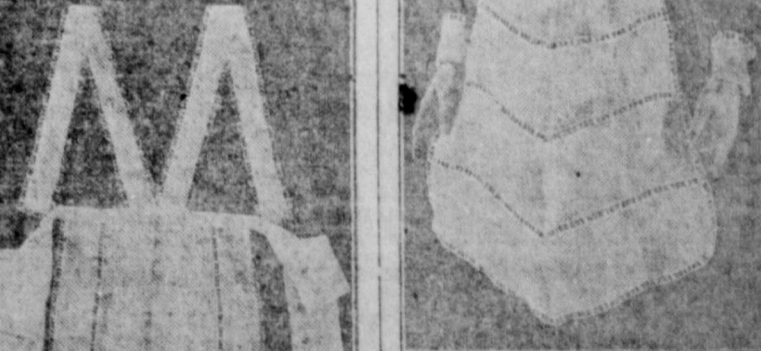

The wide, hemmed strings of this apron are part of its correctness, and the narrow shoulder-straps which pin neatly at the back of the waist where the strings tie in a crisp bow, are another correct feature.

Only for the heaviest kitchen work or scrubbing does a maid wear a homely gingham apron now. And she never presents herself before her mistress—especially never before callers—in this atrocious ap-the maid's apron. The tea apron pictured is gathered across the front, but at the back is a belt of black velvet ribbon which is made into loops and ends at either side, and a snap button effects the fastening.

This tea apron is made of dotted swiss with the edge cut out in double scallops, turned under and appliqued by hand to a deep border of Val lace, which is mitred at the corners. There is a good deal of handwork on this apron, you perceive and it is a very dainty affair. Lovely little tea aprons are of sheer handkerchief linen with hand eyelet work and insets of Irish lace; such aprons would never be worn by a maid.

The maid's apron is smartest when trimmed only with hand scalloping or hemstitching. A few tucks are allowable, and insertions of machine embroidery are sometimes used. But a correctly dressed maid does not wear lace-trimmed aprons, or dotted swiss aprons with ribbon bowknots. One of the aprons pictured is shaped to taper toward the top; the other is square, with fine tucks set in to do the shap-

JUST WHY IS IT?

The Cisco Daily News and Weekly Round-Up is announcing a tremendous gift distribution, which it was hoped would secure many new readers to these papers.

In planning this advertising event, the News has tried not to be "cheap" — a glance at the prize list will verify this statement. Over four times as much money has been appropriated for distribution as is usual in towns of this size.

$6,000.00—think of it, over six thousand dollars, is to be distributed in a few short weeks to those who participate in their spare moments.

The response to date—the lack of interest and effort, is pitiful. Few persons have entered their names and even fewer have ever attempted to secure a subscription or a renewal.

Easily more subscriptions have been paid at the office, since the campaign was announced, by subscribers themselves in the regular course of business than most of the participants have brought in.

But, the News is going through with this proposition.

--Turn Your Spare Time in to Money!

The big automobiles and all the hundreds of dollars in gold and silver are going to be given away just as announced. The News never will back down on a proposition or a promise.

But—it would seem that more people, who are just as live as people in other communities, just as wide awake, certainly just as intelligent, would realize the opportunity for profit before it is too late.

Furthermore, the News does feel that its readers should be willing to do more than collect a few coupons and sit back with hands folded in return for the big gifts they receive.

Opportunity is here — the few names that have entered will soon be published and the distribution of prizes will be made and this mammoth event will rapidly pass into history.

If you are alive, if you have the least spark of business judgment—the least ambition to better yourself financially and add to your present income—get in your name. Show a little action and make more money in your spare moments than most people make in a year.

You'll never again in northern Texas have such an opportunity—we'll wager you that. Never again will a newspaper offer such awards.

These qualifications alone are necessary to secure Automobiles and other prizes in this campaign. Demonstrate that you possess these qualities and you will see how easy it is to win.

$3,000 In Cash

A special fund of $3,000 in cash has been set aside to be distributed in the form of salaries among active non-prize winners on a 20 per cent basis. Any candidate who remains active through the campaign, making a regular report, but fails to win one of the big prizes offered, will participate in this commission feature. Think of it! One-fifth of every subscription you collect goes into your pocket if you fail to win a prize. This arrangement assures compensation to all candidates, and means there will be no losers in this race! Could anything be fairer or more liberal than this?

OUTLOOK FOR POULTRY KEEPING IN TEXAS WAS NEVER BRIGHTER

BRYAN, Feb. 28.—The outlook for poultry keeping in Texas has never been any brighter or more encouraging said F. W. Kammeler, secretary of the Texas Poultry Breeders' association. "In hard times people look to poultry keeping to help them along," said Mr. Kammeler. "The farm hen in Texas the past year, has kept the wolf from the door of many a farm home. Poultry keeping is today considered the most profitable line of farm activities. People everywhere are becoming interested in poultry keeping. We have come in actual contact with thousands of people in the past year, who were forced to depend entirely on the income of the chickens for a living. The farm poultry flock has been the salvation of thousands of farmers the past year. "Texas, according to the last census, ranks as the fifth greatest poultry state in the union. Texas last year raised more turkeys than any other state. The poultry industry in Texas the past year exceeded the dairy industry by more than $10,000,000. "West Texas in particular is awakening to the great possibilities of standard-bred poultry keeping. Everywhere farmers are disposing of their mongrel fowls and replacing them with standard-bred poultry."

EVER TRY RICE CAKES?

You'll find it one of the most delightful breakfast dishes that was ever turned out. The night before you boil your rice until it is thoroughly done, and each grain stands apart, almost, from the others. Next morning mix with milk until it has a batter consistency and then dip in the yellow of eggs slightly beaten.

The next step is to fry it by large spoonful in very hot Mrs. Tucker's Shortening, making a tasty round cake. You'll find Mrs. Tucker's Shortening best for this, as it does not soak into the cakes and make them too greasy.

Try it also for all your frying. I can assure you'll like it.

REPORTS THAT PIONEER ROAD ALMOST READY

The importance of securing and maintaining good road connections between Cisco and the Pioneer oil field to the south was stressed at the meeting of the chamber of commerce directors at noon today. Frank Harrell, chairman of the good road committee of the chamber of commerce, reported that good progress was being made by the contractor on the Salt Tank road. This road is being financed by the chamber of commerce and when it is completed will be one of the most direct and the best roads into the field. Mr. Harrell also reported that Pat Brown has been awarded the contract for the construction of the hard sur-face road to Rising Star. This an-nouncement was greeted with applause because those present had the expecta-tion of Mr. Brown has for putting his contracts through in short order. With favorable weather conditions it will probably not be many more months until Cisco and Rising Star will be connected with a hard surface road.

It is the plan of the trade extension bureau of the chamber of commerce to sponsor a trade extension trip from Cisco into the new oil territory just as soon as weather conditions will per-mit. The directors feel that this new field offers Cisco great possibilities be-cause of the fact that this city is its logical gateway. With the proper roads into the Pioneer field it is thought that Cisco will share greatly in the in-creased business which will result from this field.

N. F. Payne, chairman of the mem-ber-ship committee reported that his committee had begun its work making a canvass of the city and that a report would be made at the next meeting of the directors. Minter Womack of the Cisco Fair Committee reported that the commit-tee met last Tuesday afternoon and formed plans for the organization of a fair association and incorporating it as soon as $2,900 worth of stock was subscribed. There was $1,100 worth of stock subscribed at the committee meeting and another $325 at the di-rectors meeting today, making a total of $1,425.

Secretary G. C. Richardson explain-ed a plan which is being worked out for the placing of attractive road signs along all the main highways leading into Cisco. The signs are large tri- angular shaped metal signs mounted on two inch pipe posts. The cost of the signs is $7.50 each. This cost is being taken care of by the business men whom ads appear on the signs.

The secretary also reported that the chamber of commerce is making every possible effort to get the Cisco sleeper put back on the Texas & Pacific.

Homer G. Glunt of the Community Service made a short talk explain- ing the work of this organization. An ef- fort will be made to establish the com- munity service work in Cisco. Charles H. Partlowe of the Charles Partlowe company of Indianapolis who is here in charge of the circulation campaign which is being put on by the Cisco Daily News and the Round-Up, made a short talk in which he ex-pressed great confidence in the future for Cisco and this section. He stated that the purpose of the Daily News and the Round-Up in putting on this cir- culation campaign was to extend the ter- ritory of Cisco and to make it pos- sible for this city to extend its influ- ence. He emphasized the fact that cit- ies are judged by their newspapers and that no city can hope to expand without the aid of a good newspaper. He urged the business men of Cisco to co-operate with the Cisco Printing & Publishing company in their efforts to extend the Cisco trade territory.

SIX DOPE USERS HELD IN TAYLOR MURDER CASE. LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28.—Six men arrested here early today in a raid on what police termed the "nar- cotic den" were questioned in regard to the Taylor murder case. The police reported the belief that the ar- rests would develop some connection with the mysterious murder.

LOCAL POLICE ABLE TO HANDLE THE SITUATION

"With the appointment of the new assistant chief of police, who takes care of the night run, and the reor-ganization of the two shifts, the city authorities are confident that they have a bunch of officers who are cap- able of dealing with any situation which may arise in Cisco," said Mayor J. M. Williamson this morning. "The boys on the force have the lo- cal situation well in hand, we think, and they have been successful of late in breaking up a number of petty gambling parties and other attempts at law-breaking. So far as law-breaking is concerned, however, Cisco is the cleanest city of its size in the oil belt, and it always has been free from the many unpleasant features of other cities. And you may say that it is go- ing to be kept clean, and that all at- tempts at breaking or evading the law will be properly dealt with." Prior to the first of February of this year, a number of special police com- missions had been issued in Cisco. These special commissions were issued in case of emergency where it was felt some outside help would be of advan- tage to the police officers. With the re-organization of the force, Chief of Police G. E. Beeler today an- nounces that all these special com- missions have been cancelled and that the commissions must be returned to his office at once. "There is no need of any citizen of Cisco at the present time to carry special commission from the police department," said the chief this morning. "We want to know where we stand, hence the calling in of these commissions. Should an emergency arise, which, of course, we do not ex- pect, there will be time enough to hand out special police powers."

BANK OFFERS TO ASSIST YOUNG POULTRY RAISERS

MINERAL WELLS, Feb. 28.—The Bank of Mineral Wells has offered to furnish every boy and girl club mem- ber in Palo Pinto county raising pou- ltry under the supervision of the coun- ty agent or home demonstration agent, a setting of standard bred eggs of one of the following varieties: brown or white Leghorns; White or Barred Rocks; and Single Comb Rhode Island Reds. These have been selected be- cause they cover the breeds most com- monly used in this state and can be more easily secured by the bank. The bank makes no charge for the eggs but requires the boys and girls to turn over to the bank next fall, one pullet from the eggs hatched.

MASKED MEN GIVE PAUTOR $25 AS HE LAUDS KLAN

BRECKENRIDGE, Feb. 28.—Dur- ing the course of a sermon Sunday night in which he lauded the Ku Klux Klan, the Rev. Andrew J. Morgan, pastor of the First Baptist church, was interrupted by the appearance of three robed clamen, who entered the back door and handed the minister $25. The First Baptist church was crowd- ed during the sermon, and the min- ister's remarks were frequently applau- ded.

CISCO WORKER BADLY BURNED IN EXPLOSION

While engaged in repairing a boiler on a lease of the Humble Oil and Re- fining Company near Breckenridge Sunday evening about 6 o'clock, Paul Fisher, of Cisco, an expert boilermaker of the Cisco & Northeastern Railway company, was badly burned about the face, neck and arms when a gas ex- plosion occurred. He is now at the Humboldt hospital, where the at- tending physician, Dr. J. W. Gregory, says he will recover. Fisher makes his home with his family on East Four- teenth street in Elfretham Heights.

Fisher was inside the boiler when escaping gas became ignited. He made a quick exit, saving himself from more serious injury. Another man, who was serving as his helper, was burned con- siderably. Neither of the men can say what caused the explosion.

Fisher was brought to Cisco in an automobile, and his injuries were dressed by Dr. Gregory. His helper was taken to Breckenridge, where he received medical attention.

ARMS PARLEY PACTS FAVORED BY COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Com- mittee consideration of the arms confer- ence treaties was completed Monday when the senate foreign relations com- mittee ordered favorably reported without reservations, the general Far Eastern and Chinese tariff treaties. In both cases the action was unanimous. The committee acted virtually with- out discussion after a statement regar- ding the proposed Chinese customs revision by Senator Underwood, Dem- ocratic leader and head of the special arms conference committee, which drafted the tariff pact. As a result, a general report embody- ing the committee's recommendations regarding the four-power Pacific treaty, the naval limitations treaty, the submarine and poison gas treaty and the two treaties favorably acted on to- day was prepared for submission to the senate so that it could begin debate on the pacts as soon as a ratification vote is reached in the separate treaty relating to Yap.

A two-dollar bill was sent by the American Legion in Boston by a hard- working woman whose son is insane from war injuries. She asked that hungry soldiers be fed.

FORD MEN DON'T DRAW MONEY AT THE TOWN PUMP

The Ford selling agent who can se- cure enough cars just now to meet the demand is another of the boys who doesn't get his money at the town pump. He is compelled to be on the jump, and every day is his busy day. A. D. Anderson of the Blease Motor company has been compelled to make weekly trips out of Cisco the last three weeks scouting for available Fords that might be diverted from other points. He was successful in rounding up enough to supply the temporary de- mand.

"Business is 'picking up' all over Texas," said Mr. Anderson yester- day upon his return from Dallas. "The Pioneer oil field is the sub- ject of much talk around Dallas hotel lobbies, and as Cisco is the logical gateway to the Pioneer field, Cisco should be the step-over point for most of the pilgrims headed for Pioneer."

"There were thirteen incoming pas- sengers for Cisco Monday morning on the train from Dallas. If the Cisco chamber of commerce is successful in securing a through sleeper from Dal- las to Cisco a great many more pros- pectors will make Cisco headquarters. "The indications are that Cisco is due for a lively rush of prospectors in the very near future."

NEGRO CHURCH AT VERNON VISITED BY KU KLUX KLAN

Vernon, Feb. 28.—A band of white-hooded and robed men Sunday evening attended services for a short time at a small negro church in this city. The leader handed the pastor a letter on official stationery of the Ku Klux Klan. The others in the band formed an arc before the rostrum, while three or four figures guarded the doorway. The church was crowded with negro worshippers, and pressed to every window from the outside were faces of curious ones, both white and black, who had been attracted to the vicinity. The letter to the pastor bore a commendation for the stand he has taken for the separation of the races and stated further that it is the Klan's purpose to protect all law-abiding citizens regardless of color. Following a speech of gratitude from the black minister, the congregation sang "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," after which the white-robed figures filed slowly from the church.

INGRAM HAD VETERANS FOR BATTLE SCENES

Mobilization of the biggest army ever organized for motion picture purpose took place in Hollywood, Calif., for Metro's colossal Rex Ingram production of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," by Vicente Binaco Ibanez, now at the Judia theatre for the benefit of the American Legion. This army differed from others that have been used in mimic battles for the screen in that every officer and private enlisted in it saw service abroad. "We were enabled to put a more authentic reproduction of the second Battle of the Marne than ever before has been attempted in battle pictures," said Director Ingram. "Some of the men participated in the battle that proved the turning point of the war. "Incidentally, it was unnecessary to give these men the drilling that usually is required to prepare a raw recruit for the most important part before the camera. They were able to take military orders and they were amenable to discipline. The satisfactory result of our immense military organization work was due to the aid given us by the corps of experts we used in this connection." June Maginis, who prepared the picture version of Ibanez's sensational book, made repeated visits to the Metro ranch outside of Los Angeles, where a French village was reproduced as a background for the battle scenes.

TAX TO BE PAID ON ALL INCOME, NOT CASH ALONE

In filing their income tax returns for the year 1921, taxpayers must remember that taxable income is not necessarily cash. Where services are paid for with something other than money, the fair market value of the thing taken in payment is the amount to be included in income. For example the value of merchandise received by a clerk of a grocery store as part payment for his services must be reported as income. Compensation paid an employee of a corporation in shares of stock is to be treated as if the corporation sold the stock at its market value and paid the employee in cash. Promissory notes received in payment for services and not merely as security for such payment constitute income to the amount of their fair market value. Living quarters and meals furnished as compensation for services are to be reported as income. A hotel clerk given a room and his meals as part payment for his services is required to report as income the amount he would have to pay for board and lodging elsewhere. The value of quarters, light and heat furnished army officers, whether stationed at an army post or paid from funds allowed for such purposes when officers are stationed elsewhere is taxable income in an amount equal to the cost of the government of furnishing such quarters, etc. Where an officer or enlisted man is allowed certain commutation in lieu of quarters, light and heat, the entire amount received for such purposes for the taxable year must be included in gross income. Where living quarters, food, clothing, etc., are provided for an employee solely for the convenience of an employer, the value thereof need not be included in the income of the employee. For example, where because of the location and nature of the work, it is necessary that employees engaged in fishing and canning be furnished board and lodging by the employer, the value of such board and lodging may be considered as contributed for the convenience of the employer, board and lodging furnished seaman in addition to their other compensation is held to be furnished for the convenience of the employer, and the value thereof need not be reported in the returns of such employee. Uniforms, rations and medical or hospital service afforded enlisted men or seaman need not be reported as income. These are furnished by the government for its own purposes and are not compensation for services. The value of board and lodging furnished employees of hospitals as part compensation for services it is to be reported as income. If, however, an employee of a hospital is subject to immediate service on demand at any time during the twenty-four hours of the day, and on account of that, is obliged to accept quarters and meals at the hospital, the value of such need not be reported as income. If the employee is on duty a certain number of hours and could, if desired, obtain meals and lodging elsewhere than at the hospital, and at the same time perform the duties required of him, the ratable value of the board and lodging furnished him is considered additional compensation. The value of quarters, subsistence, laundry, heat and light furnished officers and employees of the Public Health Service constitutes income and must be included in their returns for that year. To avoid penalty, returns must be filed on or before midnight of March
