It is not generally known that principal object of Mr. Blasco in visiting the United States was to discuss the motion picture possibiltes of his stories. He is an ardent admirer of motion pictures, and sees in them a very potent vehicle of ideas. This he told Miss White while they discussed men and women and books and things in her study. A treasured volume in Miss White's library is a copy of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," bearing on the title page the inscription: "To Miss Pearl White, the most celebrated motion picture actress in the world. Three of Luella's ancestors we located in jail and two in the second-hand business. No material for coats of arms there. Mine were about as

Finally we evolved a brilliant idea. We decided to pick out an unommon name-a name not borne by anybody in our set or within twelve miles of our set, and to simply reach back into history and grab the coat of arms of this family. We chose the name of Poodledosh. In about a week we found away back in history an accommodating oid party by the name of Poddledesh, and-he had a coat of arms, a very good-looking one. We promptly adepted this old party as a long lost relative and sent his coat of arms to the engravers

VAMPIRES WHO HAVE CHANGED THE HISTORY .

The South Circle of the Missionary Miss Velma St. John gave a coming to the New Judia theater tosociety met at the home of Mrs. E. G. Dean Tuesday afternoon in a Japanese tea.

The house was beautifully decorated with Japanese flowers, and ferns, Japanese lanters were hanging about in the house.

Smartly appointed dinner Saturday day brings this thought sharply to the mind. For Salome stands out as the most weird, pagan-spirited temptress of all time. TWO STORES REMOVE UNSIGHTLY AWNINGS

Two local merchants made a stride toward beautifying Cisco Tuesday when they removed the corrugated awnings in front of their places of business. The awnings were those of the E. . Barnes Drygoods store and the place soon to be occupied by Nimes as a gentlemen's haberdashery.

Both awnings were on the Eppler building. With their removal an elecroller has been brought prominently into view and will have a chance to shed its lights to better advantage.

The old awnings will not be replaced this work, cited the fact that modern built cities are not marred with unsight y awinings and believes that Cisc ance if all the great tangle of awnings in the business district were removed.

Predict Coal Will Cost From 65c to $1.25 a Ton More; Miner's Say Only 25c a Ton.

NEW YORK, March 30 .- Action of President Wilson's coal commission in granting bituminous mine workers a wage increase of 27 per cent means the price of coal at the mines will advance 65 cents to $1.25 ton, bituminous coal operators announced today

While asserting they desired to keep the price of coal as low as possible and to avoid speculation in the product of their nines, mine owners ed Illinois as the only state where minimum increase would apply That was said to be due to local contions, which tessen production cost. since removal of bituminous coal price restrictions by the president, some operators, it was stated, already had sold much coal for Apri delivery at from $3.50 to $4 a ton. The government price of $2.95 is effective, however, to April 1. Operaers in some districts, it was said, have received as much as $4.7' a ton ent, toward South American republics in instances here big purchasers went into the fields and engaged in competitive bidding.
