WOULD REPEAL THE RESOLUTION OF WAR AGAINST OUR ENEMY

Senator Knox Introduces a Joint Resolution as Substitute for Bill to Bring Peace.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—A joint resolution proposing repeal of resolution by congress declaring a state of war with Germany and Austro-Hungary was reported today by the senate foreign relations committee by strict party vote.

Introduced by Senator Knox, republican of Pennsylvania, as a substitute for the republican resolution recently passed by the house, the measure was formally presented to the senate late in the day, by Senator Lodge, republican leader, with the announcement by Senator Knox that he would open debate on it Wednesday.

Leaders of both parties predicted several weeks of discussion with little prospect for action until near the time set for a recess for national conventions. In some quarters the opinion was expressed that President Wilson, in midst of the debate, might return the treaty of Versailles to the senate.

Virtually solid democratic opposition to the substitute was predicted by leaders of the party. Senator McCumber, republican member of the foreign relations committee, said he would attend the meeting, said he and probably other republicans would oppose it. The vote on the Knox resolution was 9 to 4.

Senator Shields, democrat, of Tennessee, also was absent. Republicans said it was designed to meet objections raised in the house that a resolution declaring the war ended would be unconstitutional and beyond the power of congress.

Straight-out repeal of the war resolution is the principal object of the Knox substitute, which would request the president to establish friendly diplomatic and commercial relations with Germany and with "the governments and peoples of Austria and Hungary."

The resolution repealing the resolution of April 6, 1917, declaring a state of war to exist between the United States and Germany, and the joint resolution of December 7, 1917, declaring that a state of war exists between the United States and the Austro-Hungarian government.

Resolved by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, that the joint resolution of congress passed April 6, 1917, declaring a state of war to exist between the imperial German government, and the government and people of the United States making provision to prosecute the same, be, and the same is hereby repealed, and said state of war is hereby declared at an end; provided, however, that all property of the imperial German government, and its successor or successors, and all German nationals which was on April 6, 1917, in or has since that date come into possession or under control of the government of the United States or any of its officers, agents or employees, from any source or by any agency whatsoever, shall be retained by the United States and no disposition therefor made, except as shall specifically be hereafter provided by congress, until such time as the German government has, by treaty with the United States, ratification whereof is to be made by and with the advice and consent of the senate, made suitable provisions for the satisfaction of all claims against the German government of all persons whatsoever domiciled, who owe permanent allegiance to the United States whether such persons have suffered, through the acts of the German government or its agents since July 25, 1914, loss, damage or injury to the persons or property, directly or indirectly through the ownership of shares of stock in German, American or other corporations, or otherwise, and until the German government has given further undertakings and made provisions by treaty, to ratify and with the advice and consent of the senate for granting to persons owing permanent allegiance to the United States most favored nation treatment whether the same be national or otherwise, in all matters affecting residence, business, profession, trade, navigation, commerce and industrial property rights and confirming to the United States all fines, forfeitures, penalties and seizures imposed or made by the United States during the war whether in respect to the property of the German government or German nationals and waiving any pecuniary claim based on events which occurred at any time before the coming into force of such treaty, any treaty between the United States and Germany to the contrary notwithstanding. To these ends and for the purpose of establishing fully friendly relations and commercial intercourse between the United States and Germany the president is hereby requested immediately to open negotiations with the government of Germany.

Date of Termination
"Section Two; That in the interpretation of any provision relating to the date of the termination of the present war or of the present or existing emergency in any act of congress, joint resolutions or proclamations of the president containing provisions contingent upon the date of the termination of the war or of the present or existing emergency, notwithstanding any provision in act of congress or joint resolution providing any other mode of determining the date of the termination of the war or of the present or existing emergency."

Section Three: That until by treaty or act or joint resolution of congress it shall be determined otherwise, the United States, although it has not ratified

"TURKEY IN EUROPE" QUESTION

AJAX HERCULES HAS SECOND BIG GUSHER NEAR LEERAY, IS SAID

Well on Tract Reported to Have Come in for An Initial Production of 3,000 Barrels Friday.

The Ajax-Hercules Oil Company is reported to have brought in a second great gusher near Leeray. The well is located on the Tract tract about a mile east of that town and is said to have come in for an initial production of 3,000 barrels Friday afternoon. Pay was uncovered at a little more than 3,300 feet, according to the report and the well drilled to a total depth of 3,360 feet.

The oil came in response to a shot of 500 quarts. The control head was thrown on before the gusher could run wild, it is said, and oil flowed into the tanks at the rate of approximately 125 barrels per hour.

The well is located just east of the Guide house on the Leeray townsite where the company brought in an 1800 barrel well Thursday. It is not adjoining, however, there being a section of land between.

CLAIMS POST USED HUMAN METHODS IN DEALING WITH REDS

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Administration by Louis F. Post, assistant secretary of labor, of radical deportation cases, was attacked and defended today before the house rules committee, investigating Mr. Post's official conduct. Members of the immigration committee headed by Chairman Johnson, said they had the evidence that government efforts to break up "the most damnable conspiracy in the nation's history," were practically nullified through release by the department of labor, largely at the instance of Mr. Post, of most of the 5,000 communists arrested in the nationwide raid.

The course of the department of labor, including that of the assistant secretary, was defended by Jackson H. Ralston, counsel for Mr. Post, who said the only criticism that could be directed against his client's administration was that he had "exercised humanity" and had proceeded on the theory that only in most exceptional cases should a man be torn from his family and sent from the country.

The dispatch added that Mr. Lloyd George promised to reply to the request from London.

MAY DAY SUSPECTS TAKEN BY POLICE

CHICAGO, April 30.—Sixty more suspects were rounded up by the police today in continuation of pre-May day drives that resulted in the arrest of more than 300 men and several women last night. One of the men, who gave his name as John Juck, was arrested while distributing hand bills announcing a May day meeting. Some of the bills urged revolt by the "revolutionary proletariat," the police said.

Huge quantities of radical literature was distributed throughout the west side today. A May day strike of clothing workers was said to have been called by the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America; the International Ladies Tailors' Union; and the International Association of Machinists, "in protest against the imprisonment of Eugene V. Debs, Roger O'Hare, Tommie McNeely and other prisoners confined as a result of political and other disturbances." The national socialist committee, in a statement, asserted that whatever disorders might occur tomorrow would be caused by the "insane and criminal discovery of Mr. Palmer's dime novel plot."

Socialists were advised to carry out their plans for meetings and to "refuse to be stampeded by the anarchistic outburst."

GERMANS MAY HAVE TO STAY IN RUHR

BERLIN, April 30.—The German government probably will have to revoke its previous decision not to intervene in the territory south of the Ruhr, because the chief burgomaster of Raer has declared that he can no longer assume responsibility for the maintenance of order there. That announcement was made in the Prussian diet today by Minister of the Interior Severing.

Increase Pullman Rates

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Increased Pullman rates, amounting to 20 per cent will go into effect tomorrow.

CHIHUAHUA CITY IS CAPTURED BY REBEL TROOPS OF SONORA

Federal Reinforcements Hurry to Scene to Find That Two Carranza Leaders Have Escaped.

AGUA PRIETA, Sonora, April 30.—Chihuahua City, capital of the state of the same name, is definitely in the hands of the revolutionists, it was announced by General P. Alias Calles tonight. Chihuahua City is one of the largest cities in northern Mexico. It has a population of approximately 40,000.

General Ignacio Enrique, candidate for governor of Chihuahua, according to General Calles, was at Santa Ysabel with 4,500 state militia, marching toward Chihuahua to reinforce General Eugenio Martinez and Colonel Francisco Arco, former federal commanders who deserted with their troops.

Telegraphic communication was established between Chihuahua City, Santa Ysabel, Hermosillo, capital of Sonora, and military headquarters here shortly before seven o'clock tonight. General Calles said he was in direct communication with General Enrique.

AMERICANS MAY PAY TAXES TO MEXICAN REBELS, SAYS U. S.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Americans doing business in the state of Sonora and other parts of Mexico controlled by the revolutionists, have been authorized by tax laws and customs duties to the defacto authorities. The authorization, it was explained today at the department, is in accordance with a recognized principle of international law and does not amount to recognition of a defacto government. The principle has been observed on several occasions in Mexico, notably when the Carranza revolution started and his forces obtained control of ports. Inability of the recognized government of Mexico to collect duties and taxes in territory held by the revolutionists, it was said, cannot be permitted to interfere with regular commercial transactions.

The state department received an exhaustive report today on conditions in Vera Cruz, from an American in that city. The report urged that warships be kept in readiness for dispatch to Vera Cruz. Although Vera Cruz was said to be quiet, possibilities of trouble there was described as great.

Official advices today from various parts of Mexico indicated a steady growth of the revolutionary movement and rapid co-ordination with the Sonora revolt of many of the rebel bands which have been operating independently. The possibility of General Oregon taking the field in person for an attack on Mexico City, was forecast in the reports which said that the rebels of Michoacan, Guerrero and Morelos had declared themselves a unit of the Sonora army.

GOVERNMENT AGENTS PREPARED FOR REDS. MAY DAY VIOLENCE

Department of Justice Officials to Keep Watchful Eye On All Demonstrations Today.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—After checking over their reports from all parts of the country government officials expressed confidence tonight that threatened May day demonstrations by radicals would not result in any nationwide attempt at violence.

While taking that view of the situation, the department of justice renewed its warning to local authorities everywhere that if the radical elements were to be kept under control, every law enforcing agency, state and federal, must be awake and equal to the dangers, real and fancied.

Assistant Attorney General Garvan, who directed raids on communist and labor party headquarters in January, declared as he went home for the night, that reported instances of whatever violence occurred would be sporadic.

Most of these reports showed that the radicals were preparing gigantic propaganda demonstrations. Meetings are scheduled at many places and it is said to be not to incite or to excite trouble in any such assembly.

It was disclosed by Mr. Garvan that several members of congress, three federal judges and an attorney recently active in investigating radical disturbances, had been marked for assassination. With the early discovery of the plots, however, Mr. Garvan believed the officials against whose lives the plots were directed now are amply protected.

Appeals of the communist labor leaders for May day strikers appear not to have met with kindly reception, although there were threats of strikes in some sections. Thousands of workers may lay down their tools tomorrow, but Mr. Garvan believed that this would be more in the nature of a declaration of a holiday than with a malicious intent to cause a great interruption to industry.

Mr. Garvan called attention to the apparent unlimited amount of money employed by the communist labor party in fomenting disorders, declaring that as no limit in history had a radical movement been so plentifully financed. He traced the source of these funds to Amsterdam and thence to Russia.

The amount of radical literature circulated within the last week was described by Mr. Garvan as "amazing," as he pointed to scores of periodicals, pamphlets and circulars, together with special additions of radical newspapers, piled in his office all appealing for a "May day show of power."

BONILLAS WITHDRAWS FROM RACE FOR THE MEXICAN PRESIDENCY

LAREDO, Texas, April 30.—Ygnacio Bonillas, Mexican ambassador to the United States, has renounced his candidacy for the Mexican presidency, believing that his services as a diplomat are needed by the country and desiring to be free of political entanglements, according to Wednesday's issue of El Herald, the Mexican City newspaper, copies of which reached the border today.

A conspiracy of certain evil influences in the country is threatening the constitutional order, says Mr. Bonillas' pronouncement to the people, announcing his withdrawal and he feels that he should sacrifice his political personality in order to be of service in rescuing the country from the perils which threaten her national autonomy. Bonillas' action was forecast for several days by reports circulated in political circles in the capitol, says the newspaper.

Prohibitionists Want Lowden.

WESTERVILLE, Ohio, April 30.—Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, is the only presidential candidate so far whom the Anti-Saloon League of America has approved as suitable to the prohibitionists.

In a statement given out tonight, Dr. P. A. Baker, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, says after a brief review of Governor Lowden's record on prohibition that "prohibitionists consistently can support him if he is nominated."

FORT WORTH SOLON IS HERE ON VISIT

"If more people from other parts of Texas would visit Cisco, and see what a bustling metropolis this city has become, you would have double your population within a year," declared Wallace Malone, Fort Worth attorney, and member of the lower house of the Texas state legislature, on his arrival here Friday afternoon.

Representative Malone, although a native of Texas, and a frequent visitor to the oil regions of the state, had not visited Cisco during the last decade and he expressed intense amazement at the size and promise of the city. The Ft. Worth solon was in Cisco between trains enroute to other towns in the congressional district, for a series of conferences with members of the Gresham for Congressman campaign committee.

It was given out officially by Colonel Burpee that the call was sent to all officers and men of the state guard as the result of a telephone tip that the capitol building, the state armory and the east Hartford bridge were to be blown up before dawn.

Burpee immediately summoned Captain Arthur C. Woodard and hundreds of telephone calls for members of the state guard were put in. Inside of half an hour 75 men had responded, cordons were thrown about the capitol and the state armory and a detail was on its way to the bridge. From all points in the city additional guardsmen were hurrying to the armory.

Guardsmen also were sent to the municipal building and the power plant of the Hartford Electric Light company. All the available police in the city were called to duty and they joined with the guardsmen in the protection of property.

CARRANZA PLAN TO RID MEXICO OF ALL AMERICANS EXPOSED

Former American Consul Tells Investigating Committee Armed Intervention Necessary.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—W. W. Canada, American consul at Vera Cruz twenty years, told the senate Mexican investigation committee today that Luis Carranza, finance minister in Carranza's cabinet, had announced in 1914 that the present president of Mexico, in launching his successful revolution against Huerta, had as one of his ultimate objects the driving of "Americans out of Mexico and the taking of their property for Mexicans."

Mr. Canada said Carranza's statement was made to foreign consuls assembled at Vera Cruz at his invitation at a time when President Wilson was insisting that Carranza should triumph.

"Carranza called all the consuls in for a dinner," Canada said, "and then he explained Carranza's purpose. He estimated that this might be done also with Cubans and English living in the republic. His speech was later printed in the Carranza paper. The German consul adjourned the session."

Since that time Mr. Canada said, Carranza has carried out a policy conforming with Carranza's statement. "No protest made against mistreatment of Americans has ever been considered," he declared. "I would report to the department an American note would be written Carranza and he would dispute and evade and nothing would be done. Every plantation owned by Americans has been ruined, except one or two where graft-paid officials have protected them."

Mr. Canada said when American refugees came to John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative in Mexico, they were told that such things as they were complaining of always happened in times of war, and that the Yankee soldiers had done much worse down south during the civil war.

The witness said he resigned in 1918, "because it was only a question of time until Carranza trapped me."

Canada told the committee that two per cent of the Mexicans, those in the army and other places, were running the country and they could never bring peace or prosperity.

Armed intervention is the only thing that would do any good now, said he.

ABANDON PLANS FOR PASSAGE OF SOLDIER RELIEF RESOLUTION

WASHINGTON, April 30.—After a four-hour struggle house republicans late tonight abandoned plans for passing the soldier relief legislation next Monday and adjourned their party conference at midnight without setting a date for action.

Wide differences of opinion developed in the conference, the opposition centering principally against a sales tax to raise part of the $180,000,000 needed for carrying out provisions of the bill. Representative Mondell, the floor leader, announced that another party conference would be held late next week, the exact date to be fixed by Representative Towner, Iowa, conference chairman.

TRIAL OF MOTHER FOR DAUGHTER'S DEATH IS PUT OVER BY COURT

PAW PAW, Mich., April 30.—The jury in the case of Mrs. Sarah I. Tabor, 80 years old, Lawton, Mich., woman charged with manslaughter in connection with the mysterious death of her daughter, Maude Tabor Virgo, reported a disagreement tonight and was discharged by Judge Howard West. The case goes over to the next circuit court term, which opens the middle of May, but it was indicated a postponement to October probably would be sought.

The aged defendant was not brought into court. The trial was the outgrowth of a mystery that dated back nearly five years to the disappearance of Lawton of Maude Tabor Virgo, brilliant student of literature, graduate of the University of Michigan, and well known as a school teacher, both in Michigan and several western states. It was generally understood among townspeople that she had died in the west and had been buried at Colorado Springs. The incident was all but forgotten when the body of the former school teacher was discovered last November by her sister, Mrs. Florence Critchlow, in the basement of the Tabor home, jack-knifed into an old trunk and covered with shingles. The subsequent investigation led to the arrest of her aged mother and her son, Walter Tabor, in California. Joseph C. Virgo, who it later developed, had been secretly married to Maude Tabor, was also arrested. Charges of murder were lodged against the three, but were later dismissed, and Mrs. Tabor alone was placed on trial on a charge of manslaughter.

INTER-CHURCH MEET HELD IN CITY HALL HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

An Eastland county mass meeting held in the city hall Friday night was one of eighty-seven similar inter-church meetings held over Texas Friday. This meeting was to have been held in three sessions—one at 10 a. m., one at 2 p. m., and one at 8 p. m.; but owing to the holiday that was prevailing in Cisco that day, the three sessions were merged into the 8 p. m. meeting. And the auditorium was fairly well filled at this hour, to participate in the great inter-church campaign work.

Reverend J. C. Anderson, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Eastland, was master of ceremonies. Reverend L. W. Aldridge, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Fort Worth; Reverend P. W. Wait-hall, pastor of the First Christian church at Haskell; Reverend Horace N. Roberts, assistant pastor of the First Christian church at Longview, and E. L. Hawes, of Dallas, publicity director, were leaders in the meeting.

The main feature of the evening was a most interesting stereopticon lecture on the "Work of the Survey," by Reverend L. M. Aldridge.

After the stereopticon an address was made by E. L. Hawes, on "Life Enlistment in Christian Service."

Addresses were also made by the other visiting leaders, on subjects that were instructive and interesting to the audience.

FORMER POSTMASTER OF MEXICO TO FACE GRAND JURY IN U. S.

LAREDO, Texas, April 29.—Cosme Hinojosa, former postmaster general of Mexico, who was released here today on a $1,000 bond after his examining trial on a charge of receiving embezzled property, left tonight for San Antonio where it is said he will meet agents of the Sonora government. Hinojosa was arrested here yesterday upon a complaint sworn to by Melquíades García, Mexican consul here, charging him with theft of $50,000 in federal revenue stamps. Search of Hinojosa's room at a local hotel resulted in discovery of the full amount of stamps, which are now in possession of District Attorney John Valls.

Hinojosa's bond is returnable Monday when he must appear before the grand jury which begins sessions for the new term that day.

In a statement here today, Hinojosa declared that the stamps were the property of the Sonora government, having been allotted to the state before the revolution. He carried letters from a number of prominent officials in Mexico City attesting to his high connection with the Sonora movement.

Hinojosa declared that the exodus of officials from Mexico City had already begun, numbers of congressmen and federal officers who have been connected with the civilista group supporting Venustiano Carranza, Mexican ambassador to the United States for president, having departed. Many of these will take refuge in Spain, he said.

Mexico City newspapers reaching the border today reported the definite withdrawal of Carranza from the campaign and also predicting the culling off of the elections due to the turbulent conditions of the country.

Tonight the Last Chance for Cisco Citizens to Determine When Engine Factory is Built

LEST YOU FORGET

Tonight, Saturday May 1st, at 9 o'clock, Cisco citizens through their interest, or lack of interest, will have decreed whether the Bannan Rotary Motor Company, induced to locate in Cisco by the local Chamber of Commerce, shall begin construction THIS MONTH—IN THE MONTH OF MAY—ON THE WORLD'S LARGEST ROTARY STEAM ENGINE FACTORY, WHOSE FIRST UNIT, COMPLETED IN LESS THAN 90 DAYS, WOULD EMPLOY AT THE START FROM 40 TO 50 SKILLED WORKMEN AND HAVE AN OUTPUT OF FROM 20 TO 25 ROTARY STEAM ENGINES PER DAY.

What May Day May Mean to You and Cisco

Today—May Day—will go down in Cisco's history as the date when Cisco citizens backed up the co-operation of their Chamber of Commerce which has donated a 16-acre site to the Bannan Company, and will make possible early construction of a mammoth manufacturing plant which within one year should be employing hundreds of skilled workmen, or it will be remembered as the deciding day, which determined that Cisco does not WANT, or NEED, or DESERVE this GREAT INDUSTRY.

"CISCO WANTS AND NEEDS IT," SAY CITIZENS

In the wake of the Bannan Rotary Motor Company's first formal announcement in The Cisco Morning News Thursday, to the effect that the general public—and not just members of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce or the Young Men's Business League, would for three days be permitted to invest in the capital stock of this company, which proposes to establish the world's largest rotary steam engine factory on a 16-acre factory site donated to the Company by the Cisco Chamber of Commerce, scores of citizens of Cisco and vicinity have responded to the Company's plain statement of facts by coming to the Company's Cisco offices, and emphatically asserting that "CISCO WANTS AND NEEDS THE BANNON ENGINE FACTORY, AND WE, THE CITIZENS OF CISCO, WILL MAKE IT POSSIBLE BY BUYING STOCK, NOW THAT WE KNOW THAT EVEN THE 'LITTLE FELLOW' HAS A CHANCE TO INVEST."

YESTERDAY'S RESPONSE A RECORD-BREAKER

Although Cisco citizens had subscribed to Cisco's allotment of $50,000 worth of stock, even before yesterday's announcement, yesterday's response came up to the Company's most optimistic expectations and with continued interest and investment on the part of the public this last day, Cisco undoubtedly will deserve and be assured of the permanent home and factories of the Bannan Company.

READ THESE DETAILS AND THEN ACT TO-DAY

A total of $50,000 worth of the Bannan Company's capital stock is all that has been allotted to Cisco at its par value of $1.00 per share, according to the terms of an agreement between the Cisco Chamber of Commerce and the Bannan Company. This amount includes a LARGE AMOUNT WHICH ALREADY HAS BEEN SOLD or taken by option previous to Thursday, when the general public was invited to invest. Thus there remains but a small block, and this must be subscribed between now and tonight AT 9 O'CLOCK, IF CISCO IS TO BE CERTAIN OF HAVING CONSTRUCTION START ON THE BANNON FACTORIES.

WHERE YOUR INVESTMENT GOES

The Company will build laboratories, pattern and machine shops for the manufacture of Bannan Rotary Steam Engines and of patterns to permit other manufacturers to manufacture them on a royalty basis.

WHERE YOUR PROFITS COME FROM

Thousands of Bannan Rotary Steam Engines could now be sold if the company could fill orders already guaranteed. The Bannan Engine can be manufactured so much cheaper and sold at so comparatively small a sum that profits should be enormous.

SUBSCRIPTIONS ACCEPTED IN SMALL BLOCKS

Subscriptions for Bannan stock will be accepted in sums ranging from a maximum of $1,000, to as small as the investor thinks he can afford, and at the same time, do his part toward aiding the industrial interests of Cisco and helping his pocketbook to share in the enormous dividends expected from the early enhancement of the Company's assets and earning power.

SHARES $1.00 PAR UNTIL TONIGHT AT 9 O'CLOCK

The Company will accept subscription until tonight, Saturday, May 1, at 9 p. m., at its downtown display offices, West Broadway, or those mailed or telegraphed before 9 o'clock tonight.

DEVELOPMENT OF AUTOMOBILE INDUSTRY.

IN THE history of the world, perhaps, no invention has had such swift development as the automobile, nor has any other industry so rapidly advanced to prime importance as has the automobile industry.

Beginning with this little transaction has grown an industry ranking second in magnitude to any other in the United States—the automobile industry. There are now near 7,000,000 motor driven vehicles in this country, and the number is expected to reach 10,000,000 by the end of the year.

This vast industry, which has become second only to the steel industry in the United States in point of business volume, and is the second industry of the nation in steel consumption, has attracted the Christian Science Monitor and caused it to delve into the history of the automobile—back to its very earliest period.

A few years later, or in 1787, the story goes, Oliver Evans built the first American automobile, but it wasn't a success and was abandoned.

Then, continues the Monitor, in 1832, it appears that an Englishman, Walter Hancock, constructed a steam motor car, which made regular trips between London and Stratford, and later extended the route to Brighton.

The next discovery of the Monitor jumps to a later period—about the year 1893. Here is the first disclosure of the utilization of internal combustion hydro-carbon motors—which proved possible and practical in self-propelling vehicles.

This type, said to have originally been known as the Panhard & Levasor type, because of its having been developed by these French manufacturers, differed from the so-called horseless carriage model because of the fact that its basis was a central frame to carry the power plant and serve as the keystone of the car structure.

Pursuing the thought of automobile development and the great industrial and social changes that have come with this development, the Monitor article comments:

"Particularly important, from almost any point of view, is the effect which this development has had upon national, state and municipal highway improvement. In this respect the automobile may be said to have 'paid its way'.

THE Fighting Journalists, A. E. F., will meet in Fort Worth today. They will visit Dallas Monday. After that, a visit is planned to cover the oil fields of West Texas, and they will be in Cisco next week.

DALLAS has begun work on an interurban line to Wichita Falls, the North Texas oil center. Movement is on foot to extend the Dallas-Cleburne line to Cisco, the West Texas oil center.

TO-DAY, May 1, is Americanization Day, and will be celebrated by great parades, both civic and military, in many large cities. Cisco took the lead again, and had her parade Friday—in opening the West Texas league season in the great American game—baseball.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a married woman. I was married very young and have been married 32 years. My husband has always treated me mean and now he is worse than ever.

about two years and I love him dearly. He says he loves me. None of my people like him. He is a good boy, but his sister has acted very wrong and now he is forbidden my going with him, but I cannot give him up. I love him better than life. What can I do?

Now there is a woman in a small town and he has been going to see her several times a month. I have tried in every way to stop him, but nothing I can say or do seems to do any good. I have talked kindly to him about the way he does and have fussed at him. He has said no time and again that he cared nothing for me.

I work very hard at home and never get a kind word or smile. This boy has asked me to marry him this summer. If I did, could my people compel me to return home? I feel very lonely and desolate.—Brown Eyes.

We have four grown children. Do you think it would be a disgrace to the children for me to see for a divorce? —Annie.

You cannot marry without the consent of your parents until you are 18. Then you are of age and they cannot force you to return home. The boy is probably as good as you think he is, but nevertheless it would be better to see what he is two or three years from now than to marry him now.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a lonely little girl, 17 years of age. I stay at home with my father and mother, although they do not seem to care for me as they do the rest of my sisters and brothers. My father gets very angry with me and calls me all kinds of things and has often told me he hated me and that he wished I would leave because I am not welcome at home.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am in love with a boy who works at the same factory I do. He is keeping company with another girl, but I don't think he loves her. He acts at times as if he really cared for me. How can I make sure? —Dolly Blue.

WHO'S WHO IN THE DAYS NEWS

EMPRESS EUGENIE

Recent news reports say that former Empress Eugenie is expected soon at Madrid. Eugenie, widow of Napoleon III, and one of the most famous women of the nineteenth century, will be ninety-four years old on May 8. She has been a widow for half her life, for she was forty-seven years old when Napoleon III died in 1871. It will soon be fifty years since she and her husband lost their crowns by the revolution in France after the Franco-Prussian war.

Since 1871 Eugenie has made her home in England, where she spends the greater part of her time. In the winter she goes to the Riviera in southern France. According to recent reports, she has retained her faculties to a remarkable degree, although there are now, of course, few traces of the beauty that made her famous in the days of the second French empire. Eugenie was the daughter of a Spanish nobleman, the Count de Montijo, and was married to Napoleon III in 1853. Her only child, the Prince Imperial, was killed in Zululand in 1879.

Carlotta, former Empress of Mexico, another "queen of sorrows," is still living, although long insane. She lives in Belgium. Carlotta, now eighty years old, is the widow of the Emperor Maximilian, the Austrian archduke whom Napoleon III made emperor of Mexico. He was shot by the Mexicans at Queretaro in 1867, after the French support was withdrawn. Carlotta was born a Belgian princess, sister of the late King Leopold II and aunt of King Albert. Maximilian was the brother of the late Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary.

TODAY'S EVENTS

Celebration of May Day. One hundredth anniversary of the execution of the Cato street conspirators. Seventy-fifth anniversary of the organization of the Associated Farmers, South. Twenty-second anniversary of Dewey's victory over the Spanish at Manila bay. The Duke of Connaught, former Governor-General of Canada, is 70 years old today.

Maj. Gen. Henry G. Sharpe, former quarter master general of the U. S. army, retires today on his own application. Miss Mae Pershing, sister of General Pershing, is to christen the steamship Capital of Nebraska, to be launched today at Mobile.

The Argentine Republic today will put into effect a new system of time based on the meridian of Greenwich, instead of the meridian of Cordoba as at present. Many men of national prominence are to speak at a banquet in Washington tonight to mark the close of the convention of Associated Harvard clubs. A call has been issued for a great national industrial congress to meet in Mexico City today to "analyze, discuss and study the deepest and most serious problems which have justly occupied the mind of the militant laborer during the economic struggle."

A NATION OF GRAFTERS.

From Top to Bottom China Manage to Get Their "Squeeze."

Some European writers contend that the Chinese are not capable of governing themselves. This "truth" are the Chinese themselves qualified to develop good government? What answer to this question does one get from their history or from a visit to their country? The student of Chinese self-government finds unrolled before his eyes one long monotonous scroll recording misgovernment badly administered. Dishonesty at the top and dishonesty all the way down, to the smallest official, plus an amazing inefficiency. During the days of the monarchy many foreign friends of China sighed for republic, because the imperial officials were so notorious, inept and crooked. "Squeeze" prevailed everywhere, and an official position was valued according to the opportunity it gave for getting money "on the side." But all this unsavory state of affairs was going to be changed, if and when a republic was set up.

The monarchy fell, a republic was proclaimed, and the new day dawned! What has the daylight of the new day revealed? Graft everywhere, just as before; nothing changed but the identity of the grafter. The split between the north and south of China exists and continues because of the ample opportunity it affords for graft.

The matter of soldiers' pay necessitated by the strained relations between the two sections is worth considering. There are said to be 87,000 troops quartered in Canton alone. Of course they are perfectly useless there and a four-day's observance of their appearance confirms one's conclusion in that regard, for in no other land could one see such an agglomeration of weedy old men and boys—all sorts and conditions of men. But they are soldiers, which means a soldier's pay, which in turn means that somebody is making a nice profit on each and every one of them, so that the more employed, the more profit. It's a wonder there are not more than $7,000 of them. One of their major generals is a comprador in a local bank and our guide who, when not guiding, runs a photogr shop and is also manager of a plumbing establishment, employed his leisure hours as a drill master with the rank of major.—C. H. Sherrill in North American Review.

DINNER STORIES

EMPRESS EUGENIE

A certain surgeon who was very young, and also rather shy, was invited to dinner by a lady who was at least 50, but frivolous enough for 20. At dinner she asked the young surgeon to carve a chicken; and, not having done so before, he failed lamentably. Instead of trying to cover his confusion, the hostess called attention to it pointedly by looking down the table and saying loudly:

"Well, you may be a very clever surgeon, but if I wanted a leg off I should not come to you to do it." "No, madam," he replied politely, "but, then, you see, you are not a chicken."

Inebriated One, to local professor with reputation for great knowledge—Some people think they know everything.

After this had been repeated two or three times the professor replied that he had known people who thought they knew more than they did know, but that he had never met any one who claimed to know everything.

Inebriated One—Well, I can tell you something you don't know! My wife is your washerwoman, and I'm wearing one of your shirts!

Count de Lesseps disliked to have any of his family entertain silly superstitions. One morning at breakfast a beautiful Dresden tea cup was broken. The countess was greatly distressed and she said: "Now two more of the set will be broken; it always happens so." "Are you so superstitious," asked the count, "as really to believe that two more will be broken?" "I know it."

"Then let us get it off our minds," he said. And taking up two of the cups by the handles he dashed them together. The anger and dismay of the countess proved that she had not seriously held to the superstition.

There is a road in a western state which seems unable to form anything like an intimate relationship between its trains and the advertised schedule. These trains are so proverbially late that there is a mild celebration every time one reaches its destination on time.

Once the word was passed through one little town that No. 3 would get in on time and a big crowd gathered at the station. Some generous citizens provided quantities of red fire and set it off along the track.

"What's the trouble?" the conductor asked when he jumped off the train. "Train's actually in on time!" exclaimed the crowd. "Put out your fires, you idiots," the conductor snorted. "Don't you know that we're just 24 hours late?"

"Perfect appear at the club last night Bangs started the row and I guess he got more than he bargained for." "I'm not surprised at that. A rough house, like any other, costs more than the architect's estimate, you know."

REVIEW OF MAY DAY DISTURBANCES OVER WOR PORTENDS GREAT UNREST

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The approach of May Day, the traditional date for strikes and labor demonstrations in Europe, finds the labor situation throughout that continent in a condition of ferment, with prospects of a general 24-hour strike in Paris, threat of a general railway strike throughout France, and disturbed conditions in most European countries.

May Day in Europe is vastly different from May Day in the United States. While in America labor unions make no special effort to enforce their demands on May Day, those of Europe have always regarded this as a favorable date for demonstrations and for strikes.

The situation in France appears to be more threatening than elsewhere on the continent. Labor leaders in Paris will attempt to "stop everything but the clock" for 24 hours, as a demonstration against present economic conditions.

The labor situation was made more perilous here by decision of the congress of French railway workers to call a general strike in France to enforce revolutionary demands. The success of this strike depends, however, upon cooperation by the general federation of labor, the conservative wing of the French railroad organization.

All branches of syndicalist labor in Belgium, except the railway men, have been called upon to take part in the general 24-hour strike. So far as known here, no special demonstrations have been prepared for May Day either in Spain, Germany or Italy.

Several Italian industrial centers have been the scenes of numerous strikes during April, some of which are continuing. This situation generally prevails in some Spanish cities.

The labor situation throughout Germany has been in a disturbed condition since the Kapp revolution, but no special demonstrations have been called for May Day.

Seventy thousand industrial workers have been on strike in Vienna, but there has been nothing to indicate a renewed demonstration in Austria on May Day.

GUERRILLA WARFARE ADVOCATED BY THE IRISH VOLUNTEERS

DUBLIN, April 10 (By Mail).—An article entitled "guerrilla warfare," which sheds new light on assassinations in Ireland, has been discovered in the effects of Paudh John Vignoles of Cork, recently tried by courts martial and sentenced to six months' imprisonment "for having in his possession an issue of the official organ of the Irish Volunteers."

"It is the duty of volunteers to recognize in all their plans, in methods of training and study and in their general outlook, the existence of this state of guerrilla warfare and all that it implies," says the article, which has been made public in an official communication. "It is our business to develop those guerrilla tactics which we have found most successful in dealing with actual conditions in Ireland at present, and to bring them to the highest pitch of perfection of which they are capable. It is our business to wage war against the forces of the invaders wherever and whenever we find it can be done most effectively."

"Of all forms of small wars, that most dreaded by imperialist armies of conquest is prolonged guerrilla warfare in which they are unable to obtain a moment's security, nor gain any opportunity of effectively crushing their foe, particularly do they dread the adoption of well organized guerrilla tactics by a civilized foe of keen intelligence and courage. Surprise, ambushes, raids on their fortified positions, sniping of their stragglers, the capturing of their arms and equipment, interruption of their communications, interference with their intelligence, are to be approached by them daily, and their forces are driven here and there into the position of isolated garrisons in the midst of a hostile country, afraid to venture from their strongholds except by force, living in a state of perpetual apprehension. That such a state of affairs exists to a great extent in Ireland at present is obvious to all and it is the business of the Irish Volunteers to see to it that it continues to grow more intense and more menacing to the invaders."

MUSIC FOR THE SPRINGTIME

CARUSO SINGS HIS OWN GREAT VERSION OF THE "AVE MARIA"

Makes Valuable Contribution to World's Devotional Music—Other Great Victor Artists Give Notable Interpretations for April

CARUSO not only is a great singer but he has that indispensable quality of a great artist—creative genius. On a new Victor Record Caruso sings his own Italian version of the Latin "Ave Maria." The melody, like a golden river of sound, is carried along by the voice of the singer in complete and glorious harmony with the voices of strings and wood-wind instruments and the tones of bells and a harp. The bell-tone, sometimes sound as if remote and far; sometimes, again, as if changed into high, clear and melodious from some unseen bell-tower overhead. The number ends with a beautifully and fervently intoned "Amen," the bells still pealing and still echoing their message among themselves. The music is such as to awaken and thrill the soul. It is a great contribution to the world's devotional music.

Frances Alda is a great singer of love songs. For her latest Victor Record she has chosen "If You Could Care," a song from the musical comedy success, "As You Were." The song, which is in a slow, delicious waltz time, has taken all Europe by storm and promises to meet with equal popularity on this side. Mme. Alda sings it against low-crooning strings, silver bell notes and glittering harp tones. The effect is to make the hearer catch breath.

A Gypsy serenade, as lovely as it is weird and capricious, is played by Fritz Kreisler on one of the Victor Records for April. The serenade is introduced by a brief orchestral passage and one wonders for a moment if the violin is that of Kreisler. Then the mighty tone of the master is heard, clear, incisive and eager, as if the very soul of the serenade went forth into the voice of the instrument. The ear is surprised, delighted, and one feels like having lost a dear companion when the serenade ends.

Two of the loveliest cradle-songs imaginable are sung by Elsie Baker on a new Victor Record. "Sweet and Low" has a rocking, lulling rhythm that haunts the memory. "A Southern Lullaby" has a refrain that Miss Baker burns in her warm, rich, flute-like voice with the buzzing effect of the violin. "Irene" and "Alice Blue Gown" represent the first Victor recordings of Edith Day, the new Broadway idol. They are from the musical comedy "Irene," in which Miss Day starred.

Farrar and De Luca Sing a Delightful Duet

"Il Bacio" (The Kiss) is a moment of brightness in the dramatic story of "Zaza," Leoncavallo's opera of love and ambition, hatred and jealousy. It is sung in the opera by Zaza, the concert-hall singer, and Cascart, her partner, behind the actual scenes of the opera. The baritone begs for a kiss, but is playfully but firmly denied. The duet is so melodious that it is a wonder it hasn't already been whistled on the street. Miss Farrar and De Luca sing it on a new Victor Record with such artistic finish as to make it a thing of immediate yet lingering delight.

Generations yet to come will keep alive the old Gospel songs. They represent an inheritance of the sincere and simple religious faith of the people, one of the noblest gifts of the human soul. For future generations, as well as we of the present, Ernestine Schumann-Heink, great as a woman as she is great as an artist, has sung "In the Sweet Bye and Bye" on a new Victor Record. It is sung with the same perfection of utterance and fullness of heart that have made the singer beloved among mankind.

Renato Zanelli has come into swift recognition as one of the greatest baritone voices of the time. On a Victor Record just out, Zanelli displays the full power and beauty of his voice through the medium of an impetuous Spanish love song called "Los Ojos Negros" (Black Eyes). In the brilliant climax, his voice, while retaining its baritone quality, soars boldly into the domain of the tenor, reaching a high A with ease. The truly amazing part of it is that he holds the note strong and true.

HUNDRED FIFTY KILLED OR BURNED TO DEATH IN WRECK

BOMBAY, April 29.—Extremely pathetic scenes were enacted in the train wreck on the Outh and Bohilkhand railway east of Dehli Sunday when 150 passengers were either killed or burned to death. As a result of the collision the gas installation caught fire and the flames spread rapidly. Several English subjects aboard escaped injury. After the accident pools of melted silver were found in the vicinity, resulting from the melting of hundreds of rupees many of the Indians carried with them.

ACTIVITIES OF W. TEXAS C OF C IN CAR SHORTAGE PROBLEM GETS RESULTS

STAMFORD, April 30.—Tracing cars is no pastime or voluptuous trick. It is nevertheless, a very essential service which the West Texas chamber of commerce performs for all West Texas towns; a service, which is very much needed at this time, when railway cars loaded with precious, needed commodities, go awry and stay sidetracked until some power greater than the individual's, is put forth.

The traffic bureau of the West Texas chamber of commerce, which has been established at Fort Worth because it is through this gateway most of the freight traffic for West Texas finds outlet, is called upon scores of times daily, by telegraph and correspondence, to find vagrant cars long overdue. In the west the organization has 161 affiliated towns which have the privilege of calling upon this organization to find such cars and to expedite their movement.

All that is necessary is for the consignee of a car to take the matter up with his local commercial club secretary, who will get the wires busy to Fort Worth. In case there is no commercial secretary in the town because of its limited size, the matter may be taken up directly with the traffic bureau in Fort Worth.

The all-God towns particularly have used this branch of the organization with a startling degree of success. Ranger has established the beneficial effect of laying its car tribulations before the organization. Some time ago Sweetwater was waiting for a car of cement to finish a very important job. The car had been overdue several weeks. When that city took the matter of expedition up with the West Texas chamber of commerce, the car was immediately located—on a blind siding west of the city—and immediate action taken with the head offices so that orders were given for it to be "picked up" by the next local freight and moved into Sweetwater. The car was only one day in making its appearance after the organization put its strength behind the quest for the "booby" equipment.

Persons familiar with Massenet's opera, "Hérodiade," will recall the passages of extraordinary beauty and sweetness in the aria, "Vision Fugitive" (Fleeting Vision). It is in this aria that King Hérode, in delirium, tells of his hopeless love for Salome. Reinold Werrenrath, on a new Victor Record, sings the aria in a way that seems to accentuate the charm of the music without sacrificing any of its dramatic fervor. Some of the passages are ushered in by a loving clarinet phrase, and attended by softly-crooning strings and wood-winds.

Back in the seventeenth century there was an old gentleman named Nicola Porpora who tried to become the greatest composer of his time. He didn't quite succeed, but in the process became the most famous singing teacher in history. He wrote a wonderful minuet which Jascha Heifetz has rediscovered and covered on a new Victor Record. The minuet has a simple yet eccentric rhythm, but it serves to bring out the strength and brilliancy of Heifetz's tone.

Antonin Dvorak was the first master-composer to reveal the full beauty of American negro music. His "American Quartet" was produced under the same deep and passionate inspiration as his great "New World Symphony." The Flonzaleys have taken the F Major movement, the most beautiful of the quartet, for their latest Victor recording. This is a record that should be in every collection.

To many persons, no kind of music possesses quite the same charm as men's voices blended in chorus. These persons will find much to delight them in a new Victor Record containing "Buddha," sung by the Peerless Quartet, and "Let Me Dream," sung by the Sterling Trio.

Billy Murray, who is well-known to Victor audiences, has discovered a spring in life's bone-dry wilderness. It lies in Cuba, and he is going there—at least so he avers in a new song, "I'll see you in C-U-B-A," sung on a new Victor Record. On the other side of the record he sings "That's Worth While Waiting For."

A more original fox trot never was written, perhaps, than "Bo-La-Bo," played by Paul Bliese and his Novelty Orchestra. The melodies are weird and wild beyond description, and music never was arranged for a jazz orchestra in more recklessly original fashion. The other side of the record contains "Harem Moon," a fox trot written by Irving Berlin. It is sort of a medley of familiar tunes, but the dance rhythm never falters.

The All-Star Trio usually may be counted upon to come through with some original or ingenious dance music. "Venetian Moon," a fox trot, and "Swanee," a one-step, on a new Victor Record, are of such a character. The former combines all the "Jazz Spirit" with the floating melody associated with the gondola. "Swanee" is reminiscent of "Old Folks at Home." "The Mocking-Bird" and other old southern melodies. The saxophone, xylophone and piano are used for both dances.

Another Victor dance record for April contains "In Your Arms," a medley fox trot, and "The Naughty Waltz." The former, a beautiful fox trot full of sentiment, is played by Selvin's Novelty Orchestra. The waltz, played by Joseph C. Smith's Orchestra, contains melodies which are smooth, pure and beautiful.

It has been said that through music alone can be expressed emotions that lie too deep for words. Whether this be true or not, it is a fact that music will carry a message of cheer, comfort, hope or inspiration to natures that remain untouched by any other form of appeal. The power of music to give action and direction to human motives is undisputable. It is especially important that children be kept under the influence of the best music. The greatest music of all ages is brought right into the home by the Victrola. Persons not having a Victrola may enjoy hearing their favorite music by visiting any dealer in Victor products.

Lives in Airtight Case For Six Days To Prove a Theory

CAMBRIDGE, England, April 12 (By Mail).—Joseph Barcroft, a reader of physiology at Kings College here, has lived for six days in a hermetically sealed glass box. The experiment arose out of a 30-year-old controversy as to whether it is possible to calculate the amount of oxygen in the blood from a knowledge of the amount of oxygen in the breath. The test was also made to demonstrate whether it was necessary that airmen should have oxygen apparatus when flying at great heights. It proved that oxygen was necessary to flying men but it did not show to what height they could fly with safety.

While in the box Barcroft kept a record of his sensations and made scientific observations. He said he suffered from sleeplessness but otherwise did not experience much inconvenience except on the last day, when the atmosphere became extremely rarified. He then had headache and nausea. He was switched continually while in the box. He took food and slept in two small compartments fitted up with wicker chairs, a table, a small bed, and a bicycle on which he exercised every morning.

CHARGES POLES SOUGHT TO TAKE GERMAN AREA

BRESLAU, Silesia, April 27.—President Josef Bitta of Upper Silesia has sent the government at Berlin a drawing alleged to be a Polish plan for the military occupation not only of the Upper Silesian plebescite area, but of German territory to the north and east of that area.

Bitta said that this was only one of a number of similar "proofs" brought to light by German agents of Poland's intention to seize German territory.

The new telescope of the Mt. Wilson observatory in California is a quarter of a million times more powerful than the human eye.

NEW DANCE MUSIC of the Season

A more original fox trot never was written, perhaps, than "Bo-La-Bo," played by Paul Bliese and his Novelty Orchestra. The melodies are weird and wild beyond description, and music never was arranged for a jazz orchestra in more recklessly original fashion. The other side of the record contains "Harem Moon," a fox trot written by Irving Berlin. It is sort of a medley of familiar tunes, but the dance rhythm never falters.

The All-Star Trio usually may be counted upon to come through with some original or ingenious dance music. "Venetian Moon," a fox trot, and "Swanee," a one-step, on a new Victor Record, are of such a character. The former combines all the "Jazz Spirit" with the floating melody associated with the gondola. "Swanee" is reminiscent of "Old Folks at Home." "The Mocking-Bird" and other old southern melodies. The saxophone, xylophone and piano are used for both dances.

Persons familiar with Massenet's opera, "Hérodiade," will recall the passages of extraordinary beauty and sweetness in the aria, "Vision Fugitive" (Fleeting Vision). It is in this aria that King Hérode, in delirium, tells of his hopeless love for Salome. Reinold Werrenrath, on a new Victor Record, sings the aria in a way that seems to accentuate the charm of the music without sacrificing any of its dramatic fervor. Some of the passages are ushered in by a loving clarinet phrase, and attended by softly-crooning strings and wood-winds.

Back in the seventeenth century there was an old gentleman named Nicola Porpora who tried to become the greatest composer of his time. He didn't quite succeed, but in the process became the most famous singing teacher in history. He wrote a wonderful minuet which Jascha Heifetz has rediscovered and covered on a new Victor Record. The minuet has a simple yet eccentric rhythm, but it serves to bring out the strength and brilliancy of Heifetz's tone.

Antonin Dvorak was the first master-composer to reveal the full beauty of American negro music. His "American Quartet" was produced under the same deep and passionate inspiration as his great "New World Symphony." The Flonzaleys have taken the F Major movement, the most beautiful of the quartet, for their latest Victor recording. This is a record that should be in every collection.

To many persons, no kind of music possesses quite the same charm as men's voices blended in chorus. These persons will find much to delight them in a new Victor Record containing "Buddha," sung by the Peerless Quartet, and "Let Me Dream," sung by the Sterling Trio.

Billy Murray, who is well-known to Victor audiences, has discovered a spring in life's bone-dry wilderness. It lies in Cuba, and he is going there—at least so he avers in a new song, "I'll see you in C-U-B-A," sung on a new Victor Record. On the other side of the record he sings "That's Worth While Waiting For."

CISCO SCOUTS TAKE FIRST SEASON GAME FROM GORMAN TEAM

Hot Contest Lasts 11 Innings; Grandstand Crowded; Exciting Play; Score, 2 to 1.

With the stands filled to capacity, and amid the clattering of cow bells, megaphones, and pop bottles, the Cisco Scouts romped home to victory yesterday afternoon in the opening game of the West Texas league against the Gorman team, with the long end of a 2 to 1 count tucked tightly under their belts.

The big parade with the lively Chamber of Commerce band and loyal fans marched through the downtown portion of Cisco, where most all business houses were closed for the celebration, and out to Harrell park. There Mayo Williamson heaved a high ball slightly on the outside of the plate and the game was officially opened.

It was a pitchers' battle all the way between Harding of the home team and Badridge of the visitors. Badridge had the Scouts on his hip for most of the game, allowing only two hits in the seven frames that he worked.

Harding drove a clean double down the right field line in the fifth, scoring Chapman, who had gained a life by the base on balls route. Gorman knotted the count in the eighth, when Jensen, batting for Badridge, clouted a liner to Earnshaw, that went for a hit when the big second baseman was unable to deliver the ball to first in time to nip the runner.

Both pitchers then tightened up and not until the eleventh did the Scouts have a chance to bring in the winning tally. Roberts was first up in this inning, and he promptly doubled to left field. Johnson was safe at first when Thrash muffed his fly.

Earnshaw struck out, and York walked, filling the bases. Greenbeck then passed a bouncer to Leslie, who juggled the ball long enough to allow Roberts to scamper across the home plate with the winning run. The feature of the game was Roberts' catch of Thrash's line drive over third in the second inning. The attendance was estimated at about 2500.

Chapman played a bangup game behind the bat for the Scouts. He was master of the situation at all times, and nipped the Gorman runners at second as fast as they attempted to steal.

This man Sturdy on first for Gorman was all his name in the fourth, stepping up everything in sight around the initial sack, he whopped out a couple of two baggers and a single out of five times at bat.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 30.—Chattanooga broke Memphis' winning streak today.

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 30.—Guzner held New Orleans to four hits today.

TEXAS LEAGUE

HOUSTON, Texas, April 30.—A two-bagger in the third and a triple in the eighth by Stellbauer, clean-up man for Houston, drove in two runs and was responsible for two more, winning a pitchers' battle here today by the score of 4 to 2. Pearson pitched for Houston and held the Bears safe, except for the seventh and ninth innings. Wetzel started for the Bears, but was put out of the game in the first inning and fined $10 by Umpire Doyle for disputing a decision. Ross finished and was hit at opportune times.

BEAUMONT, Texas, April 30.—Callahan's home run in the seventh, with two on bases, gave Galveston enough runs to defeat the Exporters in the third game of the series here today. Gudger pitched fine ball for the Pirates and received fast support, especially from the outfield. The result was 4 to 1.

DALLAS, Texas, April 30.—Dallas lucked out a 3 to 2 victory over Fort Worth today, after Waetzel had pitched himself out of a hole in the eighth caused by infield hits filling the bases, with none out. O'Brien stumbled and fell in going after Lipp's easy fly. Lipp would have made the third out, if left for a hit, scoring the two runs that won the game.

SHREVEPORT, La., April 30.—Tanner's scratch double just over short in the seventh inning started a rally which netted six hits and five runs, and gave the Spudders another game over the Gassers. Appleton drove in the tying and winning run with a double. The folding of Stuckey, Jackson and Brown featured.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 30.—Inning fully enabled Philadelphia to win from Washington in the first game of the series today.

NEW YORK, April 30.—Boston defeated New York today. A shower held up the game in the fourth inning, and after that Mays began to lose his effectiveness. Infielder Oscar Vitt, a hold-out, reported to the Boston club here today.

WHO WOULDN'T BE BAFFLED BY THIS HURLER'S CURVES?

MISS ANNE SCHMIDT in action. Barnard college girls boast of a strong baseball team and one of the stars of the team is the pitcher, Miss Anne Schmidt. As a mere man, we can't see how anyone would have the heart to hit home runs when she's pitching.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS

There is a youngster named Brazil on the Athletics who wins the cake for being a king crab. He is an imbecile. He never ceases complaining. In the hits a single he grumbles because it wasn't a double. He hollers murder because the triples are not four-baggers. He thinks that the whole world is combining to give him the worst of it. Just the same he gives promise of being a fair sort of ball player before long, and Connie Mack declares that his future is more than bright.

With Otto Miller acting as coach and first lieutenant to Uncle Robbie, Ernest Krueger has become the first string catcher of the Brooklyns, and has shown up to a good advantage behind the plate. The former giant is always a dangerous batsman and handled the shabsters in an efficient manner. His throwing to the bases was erratic last season, but this year his arm is more accurate. In the opening game Casey Stengel tried to puffer second, but Ernie threw him out, and in the second J. Miller was credited with a steal while Krueger was behind the plate. The backstop, however, was in no way responsible for the steal of Jack, who went down to second while Mamaux held the ball.

Some club owners in the big minor leagues who are counting on purchasing valuable pitchers from the majors when managers in the "big show" start showing their resters, may be due for disappointment. One writer who has visited nine major league training camps says eight of the teams are shy of good pitching material and are in the market for valuable men.

This is a rather gloomy outlook for a few club owners in the American association, who are shy pitching material and are counting on some capable men dropping back when the major league schedules open.

CARNEGIE COMMITTEE AWARDS BENEFITS TO TWELVE FOR HEROISM

PITTSBURGH, April 30.—One silver medal and 11 bronze medals were awarded to heroes today by the Carnegie Hero Fund commission, in recognition of noteworthy acts by men and women who sought to help others at their own peril. Five of them died, while two were disabled. To these last the commission made monetary grants, $2000 and $50 a month in one case and $1000 in the other. The commission also awarded $5000 for other worthy causes. The five who lost their lives were: R. William Donaghy of 6102 Calowhill street, Philadelphia, who was drowned while trying to save a young man from death in the Elk river at Towpoint, Md., August 21, 1919; David M. Prince, 21 Pine street, Goldsboro, N. C., drowned while trying to rescue a boy from a flooded road near his home, July 26, 1919; Frank J. Nagel, East 1004 Walton avenue, Spokane, Wash., drowned while trying to save a child from the North Branch of the Crow river at Kingstown, Minn., July 23, 1919; Paul K. Benedick, aged 14, drowned while trying to save a younger boy from a creek at Hampton, Pa., June 26, 1919; William F. Carroll, 1717 Linden street, Brooklyn, N. Y., aged 15, drowned while trying to rescue another boy September 21, 1919. The silver medal went to Frank W. Roberts, chief engineer of the Masonic Home at Elizabethtown, Pa., who saved the lives of three young girls who while wading had got into deep water and were drowning. The others to whom bronze medals were given were: Miss Lorion C. Hall, an 11-year-old school teacher of 74 Lyndhurst street, Dorchester, Mass., who saved another teacher from drowning at Silver Beach, Mass., August 21, 1916; Dominick Fanno, 504 Division street, Elwood City, Pa., who saved two little girls from drowning at Zanesville, Pa., August 12, 1918; Robert Franklin Levy, of Disney, Ky., who rescued a little girl from her burning home in Chaska, Tenn., November 24, 1915; Walter Ross, of West Spencer, N. C., who stopped a runaway horse and saved the occupants of a buggy; George Edward Peters of 1765 South Seventh street, Columbus, O., who attempted to save a fellow workman who had come in contact with a heavily charged electric wire at Groveport, O., March 11, 1918. Romance resulted from the efforts of Miss Hilda M. Clark, of 2739 Maryland Ave., Baltimore, to save the life of J. Fitch King, a student at Huron, O., Sept. 7, 1916. King was seized with a cramp while swimming in Lake Erie and was rescued by Miss Clark, whose name now appears on the records of the commission as "Mrs. J. Fitch King."

Work Clever Scheme. DALLAS, April 30.—Two Dallas bank employees and an accomplice, succeeded in embezzling $1,600 from a local bank. According to a confession made by one of the men, the two bank employees and the "man on the outside" forged a check on the account of a customer carrying a large account and cashed it through another bank. When the check was returned, the men in the bank tore it up. The plot came to light when the depositor asked to withdraw his money and was informed that he had $900 less than he had calculated.

AJAX HERCULES HAS BIG GUSHER ON THE TOWNSITE OF LEERAY

A gusher estimated to have an initial flow of 100 barrels per hour and to be making 1,800 barrels per day at the present time, was brought in by the Ajax-Hercules concern on the Frank Gude tract in Leeray townsite Thursday afternoon.

The well was shot with 350 quarts between 3129 and 3229 feet.

According to L. W. Sowell, treasurer of the company, the well was drilled jointly by the Holbeck-Whaley and Ajax interests.

This is the second big producer to come in at Leeray during the past week. The Smith-Hess well created excitement with an initial flow of 1,000 barrels per day.

The Ajax well was soon gotten under control and the oil is now running into new tanks.

Leeray is booming along miraculously and can practically claim an oil pool of its own.

ALBANY CLOSES CONTRACT FOR MUNICIPAL LIGHT PLANT

ALBANY, Tex., April 30.—This city today concluded final preliminary arrangements to the erection and operation of a modern electric lighting plant, which is to be put under actual construction without further delay. The city, by making its first initial payment on this much-needed public utility, to the Westinghouse Electrical company, who will make the installation, has consummated a deal that has had long agitation and frequent setbacks.

J. C. Dumont, general manager of the Texas Stone quarry, who operates a stone quarry six miles west of here, will supervise the construction of the power plant building, arrangements with Mr. Dumont having been closed for his services in this connection at the same time with the Westinghouse company.

Other public utilities such as a steam laundry, ice plant, etc., are under consideration, and it is expected the city will add several more institutions of such a nature to its conveniences in the near future.

INTO FROZEN NORTH FOR FISH

First Vessel to Penetrate 1800 Miles Into Heart of Alaska.

Ice in the Yukon river is expected to break up about May 15, when the first river boat of the season will leave lower Lake Le Barge with a large number of Seattle miners and cannerymen and blaze the way through floating river ice to remote points in interior Alaska that have been isolated during winter, according to advices received recently by John J. Burnside, Seattle agent of the White Pass & Yukon route.

When this first vessel breaks the Yukon ice it will carry 120 cannerymen, led by Superintendent John Gilbert, who will travel down the Yukon 1800 miles to reach the cannery of the Carlisle Packing company, near the mouth of the stream. This party leaves Seattle late this month for the Yukon via Skagway and after traveling with the Yukon ice for a month, to the mouth of the river, they will have traveled a total distance of 2100 miles from the starting point in Seattle.

This far north cannery, the only one on the Yukon mouth, and which prepares fish taken from Bering sea, was first operated last year, when 57,000 cases of salmon were packed. A pack of 60,000 cases is expected this season. The workers are compelled to make the 3100-mile journey, as the Yukon ice breaks, because it would require longer time to wait for the opening of navigation to Nome and St. Michael.

With the cannerymen on this first voyage will be a number of energetic salesmen, who will follow the breaking ice as it floats down the river on the White Pass boat so they can get the first orders of the season in interior Alaska.

An unprecedented tourist traffic to Alaska is reported by Agent Burnside, who declared that three times the number of applications that could be handled were received for transportation to witness the midnight sun at Fort Yukon, inside the Arctic Circle June 12.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

FOOTBALL COACHING STAFF AT UNIVERSITY HAS BEEN COMPLETED

AUSTIN, Texas, April 30.—R. D. Bryan of Abilene, and Albert "Grip" Penn of Austin, will complete the football coaching staff of the University of Texas next fall. Bryan will be shorthorn coach and assistant Varsity line coach. Penn will be line coach for the freshman team, working with Clyde and Littlefield. Both men will work in the capacity of student assistants and will stay the entire year. After football is over they will be put on other work.

Bryan, who has been assistant coach to B. M. Whitaker during spring training, is a student in the law department. He is a graduate of Washington and Lee University and is now taking graduate work leading to the degree of LL. B. While in Washington and Lee he played four years in the line of the Varsity team. He played in 1912-14-15-16. The next year he was line coach at the same school.

Penn is a first year law student who has played several years on the Longhorn squad. He is also a baseball man and last year he was on the basketball shorthorn team. "Grip" has been handicapped during the last two or three years by a weakened knee, the result of an injury in an early game, but he has put a great deal of fight into his play.

Last fall his specialty was kicking field goals and he was frequently sent into games for that purpose alone.

With these two men the football staff is complete. B. M. Whitaker as head football coach, C. E. Seddon as line coach, B. D. Bryan as assistant line coach and Shorthorn coach, Clyde Littlefield as Freshman coach and "Grip" Penn as Freshman line coach make up a staff that will compare favorably with any in the state.

CISCO SHIPPING IS GREATER THAN MARCH

Freight movements on the T. & P. are more active now than a month ago, says P. A. Caldwell, the local agent. In fact, he says that the present volume of freight shipments here is nearly 50 per cent greater than in March. This he attributes to just a general improvement in general conditions, and not to any local cause. The increased shipments are not coming from any source that the former embargo restricted, he said.

"But our force are just up to their neck in handling the freight business in Cisco now," concluded Mr. Caldwell.
