REVOKE ORDERS FOR DISCONTINUANCE OF TWO N.W. & T. TRAINS

Who Requested the Cancellation of Orders for Discontinuance of Two N.W. & T. Trains

The Board of Directors of the Northern Western & Transcontinental Railroad Company, at its meeting held at San Francisco, California, on May 1, 1920, has decided to revoke the orders for the discontinuance of the two N.W. & T. trains, which were issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission on March 15, 1920.

The board of directors, after a long and careful consideration of the matter, has concluded that the discontinuance of these two trains would be a serious detriment to the interests of the public, and that it is in the best interests of the company to continue their operation.

The board has also decided to request the Interstate Commerce Commission to revoke its orders for the discontinuance of these two trains, and to allow them to continue their operation as at present.

SALE TOWN LOTS GUNSIGHT OCCURS WEDNESDAY MAY FIFTH

General Attractions to Discriminating Investor, in Town Completely Surrounded by Oil Development.

Gunsight, the new town in the north part of Stephens county, 19 miles north of Eastland, which the Ringling railroad will open on Wednesday, May 5, offers unusual attractions to the discriminating investor.

The Gunsight field, as it has come to be known, came into notice about eight months ago. It stretches southward into Eastland county to a connection with the C. J. Harrell field, northwest of Eastland, and westward to limits yet to be defined but certainly well according to the proven trend of production.

Development has been slow heretofore, owing to the difficulties of the transportation situation. These have been removed by the building of the Ringling, Eastland & Gulf railroad, which has laid 90-pound new steel from Eastland and Eastland to and through Gunsight, with a view of crossing Stephens county to a northern trunk line connection.

With the prospect immediately before Gunsight should become a thriving town, especially as the territory it will cover is not experimental. It is already productive and on the verge of becoming exceptionally so.

Therefore, it looks as if Gunsight is set to quickly take rank with the best of the oil towns Eastland and Stephens counties have given birth to, and to take on a substantial and permanent growth.

RAILROAD DEPOTS AT BRECKENRIDGE IS NOW A SETTLED QUESTION

Mass Meeting of Business Men Quickly Dispose of All Important Matter to City.

BRECKENRIDGE, May 1.—At a mass meeting held at the court house Friday night for the purpose of reviewing the action of the city commission in granting the franchise to the Cisco & Northeastern railroad for the use of Veale street west of the Gonzales creek, what promised to be a town fight turned into a love feast and jollification meeting.

It will be remembered that the Ringling road has a right of way just outside the city limits, east of the Gonzales creek, on the property of B. S. Walker and C. M. Caldwell, where the depot and railroad yards are being constructed. The franchise granted by the city commissioners to the Cisco & Northeastern railroad was on a street west of the creek within the city limits, and was granted without the knowledge of B. S. Walker and C. M. Caldwell, and without any public discussion except before the commission, when the franchise was obtained. This made two depots for the two railroads, with no chance for a union depot.

The mass meeting overwhelmingly endorsed the action of the city commission in granting the franchise to the Cisco & Northeastern railroad within the city limits, and with great praise and eulogism commended the acts of B. S. Walker and C. M. Caldwell as the prime movers in obtaining the two railroads for Breckenridge, and in a measure awarded them the credit for these great achievements.

When these matters were disposed of by the meeting, Mr. Walker sprang the surprise that he was in direct communication with the Ringling head authorities with reference to continuing the Eastland road from Weyland into Breckenridge, and asked to run expression of sentiment. The meeting was enthusiastic for the three roads and authorized the railroad committee of the chamber of commerce, of which Mr. Walker is chairman and Mr. Caldwell, vice-chairman, to begin overtures immediately for the construction of these roads into the city; and then Mr. Walker made the announcement that he would subscribe 10 per cent of the bonds, whatever it was; Mr. Caldwell immediately stated that he would subscribe seven and one-half per cent.

It was then decided that when the Ringling authorities should make their proposition on the matter of further subscription would be taken up. In the general discussion that followed, Mr. Walker sprang the question of the need for another road from Breckenridge to Mineral Wells, and further that they would not have to ask others to build this road, but that he and his friends could do it themselves; and thus amid enthusiasm the meeting, which promised to be a scrap, turned into a jollification meeting boasting greater Breckenridge.

MEN AGAINST WOMEN IN AN OLD-FASHIONED SPELLING CONTEST

Home and School Association Arranges Unique Program for Tuesday Evening at High School.

The high school building is the place Tuesday night is the time. The Home and School association invites the parents and every one interested in Cisco schools and Cisco children to be present. An old-fashioned school exercise, the kind you remember so pleasantly as having been a part of your school life, has been prepared.

Mrs. R. A. St. John will act as teacher. What promises to be of unusual interest will be an old-time spelling match in which the "Blue back" spellers will be used. Ten men will compete with ten women. The best spellers in Cisco have been selected to take part in this contest.

It is announced there will be a number of "speeches" made by grown-up children, ranging in age from 15 to 18; speeches they said when boys and girls, and just as they said them in the "long ago."

The Home and School association is anxious for a large attendance. Refreshments will be served and everything is free. The object of this meeting, as well as others held regularly on the first Tuesday night in each month, is to bring the home and the schools closer together.

All Punchboards Go Mysteriously From Cisco Drink Stands

All punch boards have disappeared from the counters of local news stands and soft drink dispensaries.

They went Saturday.

Several merchants say they got no notification from the police, but removed the boards of their own accord.

J. T. Stamps, assistant chief of police, says that the step was deemed advisable by the police department.

"Up to this time no orders have been issued in the matter," says Mayor Williamson.

"There is no doubt that punch boards and kindred names are a violation of the law, however. I have spent the past week investigating the situation, and Wednesday conferred with the police force relative to the elimination of this practice.

"It was my intention to issue orders prohibiting these boards, to go into effect Monday morning. I am glad that the merchants here have seen the wisdom of removing them before action became necessary, and hope that in the future there will be no occasion for calling their attention to the fact that the state statutes prohibit all games of chance where money is involved."

WHO'S WHO IN THE DAY'S NEWS

HOW CHAI WANG.

In the Chinese "Who's Who" the name of Mr. How Chai Wang of Tientsin is one of the most important. Mr. Wang has been in America for the last few weeks, having come as a delegate to the Methodist Episcopal church conference at Des Moines, Iowa, and to do a little commercial missionary work.

He owns gold and coal mines, is a director of the Shan-haiwan Electric Light company, a counsellor of the Tientsin chamber of commerce, ex-secretary of the Kailian mining administration, owner of the Hwaipei tannery and vice president of the China-American Industrial corporation, the $5,000,000 capital of which is half Chinese and half American.

Mr. Wang is a Christian and president of the Y. M. C. A. of Tientsin, having been brought up by his parents who were converted by Methodist missionaries nearly half a century ago. He is many times a millionaire and is said to be the first substantial merchant of North China to visit this country. "The chief object of my trip," he said on his arrival, "is to make my country and its vast resources better known to Americans. China has just awakened to the importance of developing her resources herself. Hitherto whatever development there has been done by British, German, Japanese, French or Belgian companies under concessions from the Chinese government. These have exploited China for their own purposes instead of developing it for our benefit, while our capitalists and educated classes looked on indifferent. But at last we are awake to the fact that we have been allowing our resources to be taken from us and used by foreigners and that these foreigners have been exploiting us for political as well as for commercial purposes, and we propose to change all that and to develop our resources ourselves.

"This is why we look to America. For industrial development four things are necessary: Raw materials, labor, capital and technical knowledge. Of these we have two—raw materials and labor—and we look to you for the others, capital and technical knowledge."

In Cairo, when a bride of the richer classes enters her husband's home for the first time, two oxen standing ready at each side of the door are slain the moment she steps out of the carriage, and she enters the house between two running streams of blood. So the covenant between bride and bridegroom is cemented.

RETURNS INDICATING EASTLAND COUNTY IS PRO-ADMINISTRATION

Reports received in Cisco by County Chairman G. Fisk, from Eastland and other precincts in the county up to 3 o'clock Saturday night, indicate that the county is overwhelmingly pro-administration in sentiment.

At Eastland the convention endorsed the Wilson administration and instructed their delegates accordingly. Rising Star gave a similar endorsement, and instruction to their delegates. Gorman overwhelmingly endorsed the Wilson administration, and sent four delegates to cast her three votes. Roney, Scranton and Desdemona each gave their endorsement and one vote for this sentiment in the county convention.

Thus nine precincts out of the 22 in the county, with 26 votes out of the 41 in the county, heard from Saturday night, gave endorsement to the Wilson administration, and sent delegates to the county convention accordingly. Rising Star, with three delegate votes in the county convention, repudiated the Wilson administration, and so instructed their delegates.

There were only twelve unaccounted delegate votes, Saturday night, according to G. Fisk, county chairman.

Along Automobile Row

By R. M. HUDSON

The attractive showing made by the automobile dealers from Cisco's automobile row in taking part in the opening baseball league game parade Friday indicates that this row is really the automobile distributing center of West Texas. There was an aggregator of pretty cars in this parade that would make a good exhibit in an auto show; and the dealers were all wearing their usual sunny smiles. They are proud to be of the "Cisco automobile row."

W. C. Whitaker says he is also proud that the road is now open to Elgin. That is, the paving on East Fifth street has been completed and there is easy access to the home of the Elgin Six—the house where Whitaker & Mahaffey reside. They pride in both the regular touring Elgin, in black, which Mr. Whitaker drives, and also in the sport model, in dazzling red color, which is driven by Mr. Mahaffey. They are doing their part to make Cisco the automobile center of the oil fields.

"But over on East Sixth the street is just being torn up for the grading and paving, and the B-M Motor company might be honored in for a few days were it not for the fact that they have the Overlands there with a jumping record that will clear an ordinary street. But speaking of Studebakers, R. B. Morgan of the B-M Motor company, who is just back from Dallas, says that he arranged for two of these popular touring cars to be delivered to them here this week. He says that the tie-up is tightening, and that it now looks like the only way for them to get cars from the factory is to go there and have them out to some other shipping point for shipment, since the congestion at the factories completely ties up shipping there. Dealers in the near range go there and get a truck and load a passenger car on it, then trail a string of them, but Cisco is too far from the factory for this, he says.

The Fulwiler Electric company continues its distribution of Garford trucks for the West Texas oil fields, and to serve the motor users in this territory with various supplies. "But," says H. D. Fulwiler, the manager, "we are yet unable to get Oakland cars through the tie-up at the factories. We surely should have a shipment in this week," he added. Mr. Fulwiler has been in Dallas and other points in the field north of Cisco the past few days, looking after Cisco's automobile trade.

"While the tie-up has not slackened as to Ford's," said R. W. Mancill, of the Mancill Motor company, "yet we received a sufficient shipment of moment to proceed with the laying of the foundation for our new home on West Seventh; and the construction work will now be hastened along. Any day, Cisco led in the opening league baseball game Friday, and that's enough. I am happy, thank you," is the way he dismissed the auto scribe.

E. L. Paul and C. K. Burroughs of the Cisco Motor company are sitting steady at the steering wheel of their distinctive automobiles, the Haynes and Chalmers. With their present showing, and the 15 cars guaranteed them in the next 60 days, relieves them of the shipping tie-up troubles. In their new home, on East Sixth, they have added a Haynes-Chalmers service department. "And we are marketing the West Texas oil fields with these cars now," said Mr. Burroughs.

Proper sanding of the rails keeps the locomotive rolling, but it requires proper oiling of the machinery to keep an automobile going without ruing to itself. The lack of proper oiling has destroyed more machines and created more expensive repairs than any other cause," was the view expressed Saturday by C. M. Lewis, manager of the Sturtz oil filling stations on the Cisco automobile row. He advocates extreme discrimination in the selection of the kind and grade of oil to be used in a motor car.

The motor of a car is a delicate piece of mechanism," he said; "a creature of intense energy and intense is no other car you meet in your travels that has the exclusiveness that marks the Hudson. "And, best of all, the Hudson is just as distinctive in its mechanical features as in its appearance. It possesses just as much exclusive distinctiveness there as elsewhere. It is a car pleasing to the eye and satisfactory in service—even so to the most aesthetic demands and taste."

Guarantee Laws in Canada.
Agitation was begun some time ago in Regina, Saskatchewan, by an owner of a one-time popular brand of car whose manufacturers had stopped production on it to build another type. This owner claimed he could not obtain spare parts anywhere in the Province and that the company was not interested in giving service on old cars. This led to a new law for automobile vendors in Saskatchewan. They are compelled to give the purchasers of cars guarantees that all necessary parts except those which can be made by a carpenter or blacksmith will be kept at a specified place in the Province for a period of 19 years from the date of sale of the car. They are obliged to file with the provincial secretary a list of repairs showing prices on February 1 of each year.—Motor Life.

88,000,000 Tires a Year for U. S.
Motor Life: The chamber of commerce has compiled statistics showing that peak demand for tires in the United States for 1920 will be 89,000,000 for passenger cars and motor trucks. The present output of the country is approximately 45,000,000 and it is estimated that at the end of the present year the annual requirements will be 57,909,000.

"What makes a motor car distinctive?" This is a question answered by R. S. Huey of the Huey Motor company in this way: "Walk with me along Cisco's main street some afternoon and perhaps I can illustrate to you the solution of this question. Of the great aggregation of cars lined up on this thoroughfare, there will be big automobiles, little automobiles, beautiful automobiles and little-scarred veterans. "How do they impress you? Most of them are built on very similar lines, and perhaps it is only a freak paint job that might first attract you. But a little closer scrutiny reveals to you a car of pleasing dignity and rare distinction; and yet there is not the slightest surrender to the freakish. Yes, it's a Hudson Super, a seven passenger touring car. It is an ultra-modish ensemble of straight, flowing lines, deep surfaces and sharply defined angles, with graceful curves that relieve all severity; and each of these style attributes accentuate the new beauty method of body mounting that makes the Hudson distinctive in appearance, lie from the windshield and the cow to the rear of the tonneau could be pointed out style features that add to the Hudson Super Six distinctiveness. When seen head-on or side view, there

DO YOU KNOW?

That cotton is one of the chief materials used in the manufacture of rubber tires?

That it is erroneous to think of tires solely in terms of rubber?

That the body of the tire is built of a number of plies of frictioned cotton fabric?

That it is the cotton that resists the air pressure from the tube, with the rubber merely acting as a buffer?

That nearly 4 per cent of the world's cotton output for the year 1920 will be used in the manufacture of pneumatic tires?

That this will amount to 400,000,000 lbs? That the 1920 production of tires will amount to approximately 40,000,000, to equip new cars to the number of 1,500,000 and take care of about 7,000,000 cars now in use?

That an average of four pounds of cotton goes into the manufacture of one pneumatic tire, though most of those used on automobiles contain three pounds and a fraction?

That much of the cotton used comes from Egypt or Peru?

That there are about 250 tire manufacturing companies in the country today?

That the only bar to the expansion of the pneumatic tire industry seems to be the limit to fabrication capacity of yarn and woolen mills?

That cotton is as much of a king as ever?

Handsome costumes add charm to a woman, while neat dress is an asset for a business man. Dressing up the residence, the barn, or the fence with a new coat of paint is an asset to the home. Appearance has much to do with the individual, the home, or the city. It has a winning influence, not only in the individual and his home or city, but in the automobile in which he rides. His dress counts.

It is said that "in the spring time a young man's fancy lightly turns to sentimental topics and, if he is a car owner, he also discovers a new interest in the appearance of his automobile." Spring is the time for house cleaning, both in the home and in the garage. The old bus is washed and polished with renewed enthusiasm.

"But, the fellow who possesses real pride of ownership and wants his car always to look well, must give consideration to such matters as body finish and the enameling of fenders when he buys," says a prominent automobile manufacturer. "Next to purely mechanical matters, these are probably the most important features—at least to the man who cares for appearance. There have been interesting changes in the process of enameling adopted by the more important car makers that have resulted not only in manufacturing economy, but in finer jobs. Next to the quality of the enamel in which the fenders are dipped the most important factor in the process is the baking or heating treatment. The heat used to be applied in gas ovens. Now the ovens are heated electrically and much better results obtained because of the higher degree of accuracy and constancy of temperature. The fenders are first thoroughly cleaned with water containing some cleansing material which removes grease, rust and other substances. Then they are dipped in enamel and are carried to the oven on automatic overhead conveyors where they are left a specified time. They are then removed, redipped and rebaked. The heat applied is regulated automatically by thermostat devices and can be controlled absolutely and throughout the entire process to the exact degree. In this way the baking job is so efficient that, given proper enamel, the finish does not crack, check or scale."

My owner always comes along,
And says how good I used to be,
When I was young—in nineteen three,
But what I was I'm not today,
I was not built to run away,
And though I buck and miss and stall,
My owner is not hep at all.

Every zero winter's night,
My radiator's frozen tight,
In summertime I boil and fret,
And wish my baffle plate were wet;
That's just the way he's treated me
Since February, nineteen three,
And so I think the thing to do
Is just quit him cold, don't you?

Handy Strainer for Cleaning Pail.
Motor Life. In cleaning the parts when overhauling the car, the gasoline or kerosene used for the purpose may be of service longer if kept clean. To this end such a strainer or metal grating that will stand up four or six inches in the pail or other receptacle is very advantageous. When the cleaning liquid is used, sediment is not stirred up, as it strains through into the bottom of the container. Furthermore, small parts do not get mixed with the sediment and accidentally thrown out.

FAMOUS DANISH VIOLINIST

CROWD GAZING AT SKOVGAARD'S WONDERFUL $13,000.00 VIOLIN

At the city hall auditorium tomorrow night, Ciscoans will have an opportunity to enjoy in Skovgaard, famous Danish violinist, one of the really high class musical artists of the world. This unusual attraction is brought to Cisco under the auspices of the Home and School association. Throughout the United States, and in other countries, both press and public are unanimous in their praise of Skovgaard's ability. The proceeds from his advance sale of tickets are to be applied to the erection of much needed sidewalks around the different schools.

The following from a recent issue of the Beaumont Journal tells of his appearance in that city:
"Axel Skovgaard pronounced Skagway has come to Beaumont and gone, leaving behind him 200 well-pleased admirers who made up the audience at the Reading club Wednesday night. The auditorium of the club was filled to overflowing, about 50 late-comers having to take seats in the adjoining hall."
"When the artist warmed up after his playing of the Sonata by Handel has opening number, the applause grew steadily more gratifying, until repeated encores kept the big Dane bowing and smiling before his audience."
"In broken English, Skovgaard explained that he had been asked to play

AUTOISTS, WHAT DO YOU THINK ABOUT THIS?
Automobile men are not in politics, but they are in the second biggest industry of the nation. But since there are a dozen or so hats in the presidential ring—then the thought comes up—Why not a national automobile party? The suggestion was recently sprung by a big motor distributor of the west, Dave Madison of Salt Lake City. He would have the automobile party adopt the following planks:
1. Good roads everywhere, with a just distribution of the cost thereof.
2. Scientific supervision of gasoline source of production.
3. Fuller use of the highways for passenger transportation by motor truck, same to be encouraged by the Southern melody. He said the only one he knew was "Way Down Upon the Swannee River," taught him when a pup in Denmark. His "entirely whole sympathetic rendition of the lovely, haunting old South melody, was the greatest treat of a perfect evening's entertainment."

"Almost as well received as the violinist, was the pretty singer, Miss Mary Freeman, soloist, who took the place of Mrs. Wiley, detained on account of illness. Miss Freeman's singularly clear voice, perfect enunciation and tender interpretation of her selections made a tremendous hit with the big crowd."
"She chose two of Carrie Jacobs-Bond's inimitable darkey songs, "Mighty Lak a Rose" and "A Little Bit of Honey," one of her most pleasing songs from classical composition and favorite excerpts from opera gave him unlimited chance to show the powers of his wonderful violin, a Stradivarius, and the skill of his agile fingers, which are said to be insured for $50,000."

federal and state governments.
4. Widening of highways wherever necessary to care for the constantly growing volume of automobile traffic.
5. Scientific investigation of license rates and a just way of determining them.
6. For president, a big automobile business man, who could operate the nation on the same basis of efficiency as he operates his factory.
The 26 aldermen of the City of London are chosen for life.

POINTS OUT TRUE MEASURE OF TIRE SERVICE VIVIDLY

"What is the true measure of tire service?" Points of interest on this question were brought out in a recent statement made by an official of the Inter-mountain Electric company. He was applying measure to his particular tire, but there are thoughts of merit in his conclusions. He said:
"There is a standard, uniform measure for practically everything. Weight is measured by grams or pounds; food values by calories; power is measured by unit called horsepower—the list could be extended indefinitely.
"Service is the most difficult thing to measure, because each service varies as does its cost. Think of the service a man gets from his car, his phone, his heating plant, or his employees, and you will agree with us that service is not easy to measure. How often is it measured by a false standard?
"We believe that tire service has been sold generally on a false standard ever since the inception of the industry. We have been studying this situation for a long time and this year have been talking about selling tires on a "cost-per-mile" basis—real cost.

"This truth has been 'getting over' in the minds of most of our dealers. We often receive copies of circular letters in which we find the cost-per-mile basis of selling tires presented to the user. Our efforts in selling tires have been based entirely on the fact that they deliver maximum miles at a minimum cost, and we have shown figures that prove that these tires show the lowest real cost and that first, or listed price, is a false standard of tire service or value.
"The car owner should consider that he is buying mileage instead of tires, for after all that is exactly what the car owner pays for—so many miles of safe, sure satisfactory service guaranteed for so many dollars, no matter what tire he may select."
Miss Phyllis Modjeska Harrington, of Los Angeles, is soon to be the bride in the first wedding ceremony ever performed on the campus of the University of California since the university was opened more than half a century ago.

The Essex motor too is patented. The same men build it who build the Super-Six.

It delivers three times the power of standard motors its size.

It is one of the smallest automobile motors. Yet it yields 55 H. P. Conventional motors of this size deliver but 20 H. P., at limit.

Already the Essex stands proved.

It has set every official stock record for cars of its piston displacement from 1 to 50 hours.

It has set the world's official 50-hour endurance record of 3037 miles. It holds the world's 24-hour road record of 1061 miles. These regardless of size, weight, cylinder or type.

It holds the one hour speed record of 69 miles for its classification.

Possibly you could be content with less speed than Essex gives. For many larger and costlier cars cannot rival its fleetness.

But endurance is a satisfaction that is progressive. Lack of it means an increasing accumulation of trouble and dissatisfaction.

GOOD ROADS WILL PAY NATION WAR DEBT

Notwithstanding the fact that the people of the United States are spending millions on good roads, this is held to be an investment that will come back to them manifold. Roy D. Chapin, chairman of the highways committee of the National Automobile Dealers association, believes that the greatest economy the United States can practice at this time in building roads.

"In a day when every expenditure should be rigidly scrutinized," Mr. Chapin wrote recently "and every effort made to overcome the burden which the world war has saddled upon us, the need of a national highway system stands out more clearly than ever before.

"Intelligent improvements and maintenance of our highways at a comparatively insignificant cost, would save enough money in transportation costs to pay off the nation's war debt within the lifetime of the present generation, and leave a handsome residue in the treasury.

"This is a large statement. There are 6,500,000 passenger cars in the United States today. Assume that a national highway system of 30,000 miles should be constructed and maintained by the government. If each of these cars traveled but 1200 miles a year on the national system a saving of one and one-half cent a mile in gasoline and the costs would easily be effected, or a total of $117,000,000 a year.

"Government figures show that a saving of 10 a ton mile in commercial traffic is made when roads are improved. The congressional investigation of 1912 deduced an annual highway traffic of 700,000,000 tons. A conservative statement would place the total today at 1,000,000,000 tons. On the assumption that but one-fifth of this traveled over the national system and an improved road always draws much more there would be a ton-mileage saving of $124,000,000. Since the average haul is 10 miles an hour the actual saving per ton of merchandise would be $124,000,000 a year.

"Thus in two items we have arrived at an annual saving of $457,000,000, or more than is asked for over a period of four years in the bill introduced by Senator Townsend of Michigan proposing the construction of such a system.

"The vision of the United States bound together by a network of durable highways is one which we should seek to make a reality at the earliest possible moment."

Cleaning Leather Upholstery.
Unless you wish to crack the leather do not use gasoline in cleaning it. One fairly good way to get off dirt from leather is to use plain water to which a little ammonia has been added. After this has dried, the leather should be rubbed briskly with a soft cloth, such as flannel or cheesecloth. If you wish to do the best thing possible for the leather, either purchase one of the prepared leather dressings or make some yourself. For this purpose a mixture of two parts linseed oil to one of turpentine is as effective as anything else.

WILL NOT TRY WOMAN WHO KILLED HUSBAND

DALLAS, May 1.—Mrs. Gayle Perry will not be tried for the killing of her husband, Rupert Perry. The grand jury which investigated the killing returned "no bill" against the defendant. Perry was shot and killed in his apartment.

Action which was taken by the grand jury just one week after the killing, was presented by Judge Pippin by John T. Jones, foreman, who said in open court that a large number of witnesses had been examined, including the father of the deceased, and that it would be a burden to the court to return an indictment against Mrs. Perry.

"We have examined many witnesses in connection with the death of Rupert Perry," Mr. Jones said. "We have gone into the case in every detail and taken up every phase of the investigation. We have talked with the father of the deceased and feel an indictment would only be a burden to the court."

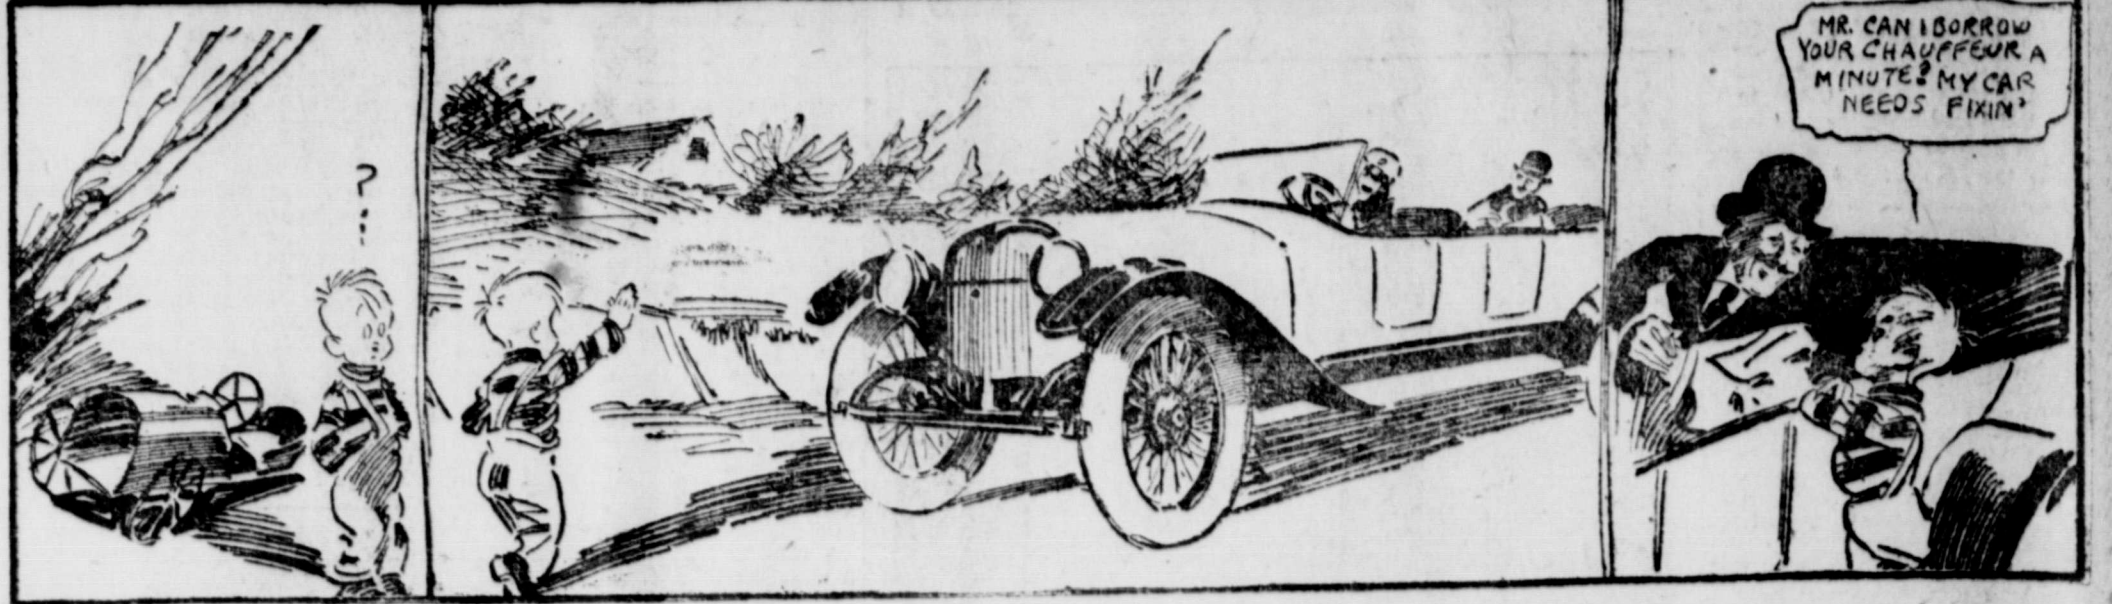

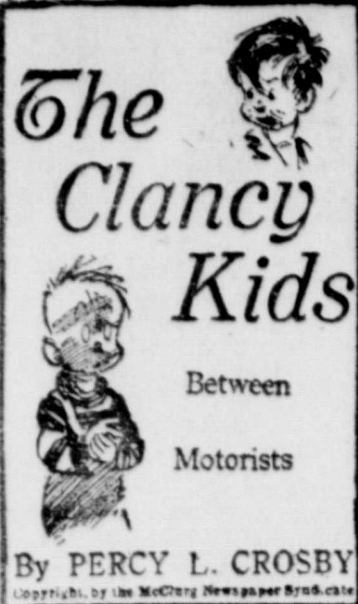

To Help Texas Children.
AUSTIN, May 1.—Mrs. E. N. Matthews, representing the Federal Department of Labor Child Welfare bureau, has been assigned to the Texas Department of Labor to co-operate in the Texas child welfare work, according to Mrs. Claude de van Watts, chief of the woman's division of the state department of labor. Mrs. Watts has just returned with Mrs. Matthews from the National Social Workers' convention at New Orleans, La., and will immediately begin a survey of the conditions and needs of children in the rural districts.

Improve Confederate Home.
AUSTIN, May 1.—Great improvement in the sanitary condition at the Confederate Home is reported by L. W. Tittle, member of the state board of control, who is supervising the work of cleaning up that institution. Several old shacks have been torn down, the new mattresses have been issued, nine new bath tubs installed and several sanitary toilets added, according to Mr. Tittle.

A force of six men has been employed for several weeks on this work, and the total cost of the improvements will be about $6700, said Mr. Tittle. The change is very much welcomed by the inmates of the home, he added.

Bridge Across Pedernales Assured.
AUSTIN, May 1.—Construction of a new bridge across the Pedernales river at Cox crossing will be started soon. This project was assured when Austin citizens raised $5000 as that city's share of the expense.

AMUSEMENTS

"WILDERNESS TRAIL" AT THE VICTORY MONDAY

Tom Mix, William Fox's daring cowboy star, has turned into a photoplay another well known book, "The Wilderness Trail," by Frank Williams. "The Wilderness Trail" will be shown at the Victory theater Monday. The story has to do with the Hudson Bay company in the wilderness of Canada. It shows wonderful photography of life and romance in the land of measureless snows and grim forests where human hearts are very warm and vital. Tom Mix alternates death-defying devotion to true love with some of his skillful and thrilling stunts that every red-blooded person loves to see—among them a wonderfully managed fight in the deep snow, and a struggle to save the life and honor of a girl. The piece is all action and suspense, and entirely wholesome. Colleen Moore is Mix's new leading lady. She's pretty and dainty and a capital actress.

ONE OF SEASON'S BEST AT THE NEW JUDIA

Beginning today, for a two-days' run, the New Judia theater will present "23 1/2 Hours Leave," which is endorsed by all moving picture critics as the one picture of the past season with a universal appeal. This picture introduces to Cisco picture lovers the latest find of Thos. Ince, who first gave us Dorothy Dalton, Chas. Ray, Louise Glum, Wm. S. Hart. Douglas McLean and Doris May make their initial bow to the public in "23 1/2 Hours Leave," and it bears the personal endorsement of Manager Davis as one of the cleanest, most wholesome and enjoyable bits of entertainment offered the picture going public in the past year. On Tuesday Lillian Gish will also be shown in "Tiger Girl," under the United Theater's banner. The famous "Guzaps cartoons," which are now being pictured for the first time, will be on the same program with the International News to balance the bill. Wednesday and Thursday brings a classic adapted from the famous novel of Sir Gilbert Parker, "The Right of Way," in which Bert Lytell is the star. In this will be seen, without a doubt, the very best work this capable star has ever done. "The Right of Way" is another of the few pictures which bears the unqualified endorsement of the Judia management. On Thursday and Friday, an all-star cast, headed by Betty Blythe, niece of Samuel G. Blythe, whose writings are so often found in the Saturday Evening Post, will be seen in a Rex Beach story produced by Goldwyn, "The Silver Horde." Also on Friday, Owen Moore will be shown in "Piccadilly Jim," with the Pathe review and Gramont weekly on the same program.

Special Train for Ad Leaguers.
DALLAS, May 1.—A special train will be made up here to carry the Texas delegates to the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World to be held at Indianapolis June 6 to 10. Plans for assembling the delegates in Dallas are under way.

The Auto Electric Company has an important announcement in today's paper. Read their advertisement on page 12.

Five State Educational Institutions' Students Receive Essay Rewards

AUSTIN, May 1.—Prize winners in the H. A. Wroe Health Essay contest of the Texas Public Health association conducted at the five state normal schools have been announced as follows: Southwest Texas State Normal College, San Marcos: H. V. Robinson of Jewett, first prize, $10; Roland R. Boerner of Sattler, second prize, $10. San Houston Institute, Huntsville: Emily Phillips of Columbia, first prize, $15; Adelle Mahor, Huntsville, second prize, $10. North Texas State Normal College, Denton: Susie Toel of Dallas, first prize, $15; Leslie Franklin of Vineyard, second prize, $10. East Texas State Normal College, Commerce: Annabelle Pritchard of Commerce, first prize, $15; J. Nelson Andrews of Campbell, second prize, $10. West Texas State Normal College, Canyon: Ollie Belle Stone of Canyon, first prize, $15; Corinne Nash of Houston, second prize, $10. The subject of each essay was, "The Value of Health Education Through the Modern Health Crusade." H. A. Wroe of Austin donated the prizes.

U. S. SUB-CHASER No. 264 HAS MUCH HARD LUCK

GALVESTON, May 1.—"Sub-chaser luck," traditional among destroyer and torpedo boat crews in the war zone, held good in the case of sub-chaser No. 264, recently towed across the bar here with her engines out of commission, her wireless useless and her bottom taking water. The little craft was picked up at sea by the tug boat Roy Hoover, which sighted her signals of distress. The sub-chaser, which carried a crew of eight naval reservists, and commanded by Ensign J. L. Welch, put out from New Orleans for Galveston. After proceeding some distance engine trouble developed and Chief Machinist's Mate W. H. Moody set to work to make repairs. It was discovered, however, after the craft had proceeded a little further, that all the gasoline in her tanks was defective. The first "BOB" sent out by the sub-chaser burned out the radio set. Then, it is said, the little craft sprang a leak. Several anxious hours followed for the crew and there was general joy aboard when the Roy Hoover came in to sight.

"Champion Trouble Hearer" Found.
DALLAS, May 1.—A Dallas reporter has found the "champion trouble hearer," he says. This person is Miss Ruth Weaver, secretary of the emergency hospital. Miss Weaver, he says, hears more troubles than any person in Dallas. "I found out by experience that it does not pay to worry about the troubles of other people, but just try to cheer them up a bit," Miss Weaver said. "You see, when a person is hurt, a cheery word does a whole lot more good than mourning for them. They can mourn for themselves. And I would go crazy if I let each case worry me. Of course there are exceptional cases that no sympathetic soul could help but worry about, but as a rule a smile is better than a long face."

2000 Ginners To Be at Dallas.
DALLAS, May 1.—Prominent ginners and cotton specialists of Texas and all south states will address the delegates to the Texas Cotton Ginners' association, which will be held here May 13 and 14. About 2000 ginners are expected to attend.

DENVER INAUGURATES SAVING OF DAYLIGHT

DENVER, May 1.—Denver got up an hour earlier today. At midnight the clocks were set ahead an hour in conformity with the city daylight saving ordinance, which will remain in effect until October 1.

Confusion resulted in the time change in certain quarters as railroads remain on the old schedule as also do all other communities in the state. Persons working here and living in the suburbs will have to live by two time standards, one to work by and the other for recreation, because their home town moves will be running on old schedule.

The ordinance also affects produce, milk and vegetable dealers, who do business here and also newspapers which compete for circulation with other papers over the state. When it is noon in Denver it will be only 11 o'clock in Pueblo and Colorado Springs.

Brokers, however, will be benefited by the change, because they had been working under the new schedule since New York adopted daylight saving on April 1. They have been going to work at 8 o'clock since April 1. Today they opened up at 7, as before.

Railroad men and press association operators and editors, however, will have to carry two watches unless they can keep alert enough to calculate the time difference every time they consult their watches.

Phone Company Pays State $37,524. AUSTIN, May 1.—Report of the Southern Bell Telephone & Telegraph company for the quarter ending March 31, 1920, shows that gross receipts on Texas business were $2,561,582. The one and one-half per cent gross tax on receipts plus on this amount was $37,524.

SPECIFICATIONS ON THE BIRTH OF TOM MIX

Tom Mix, the famous cowboy actor who is starring in William Fox's new melodrama "The Cyclone," which is running at the Victory theater beginning Tuesday and Wednesday next, occasionally grows personal. He did so in filling out the questionnaire required from every artist signed by Fox Film corporation.

In reply to the question as to the place of his birth, the popular star wrote: "Somewhere in Texas, January 6 at 2 a. m." According to Mix, he spent his early life cow-punching. Asked what his early ambitions were, he replied that he had none.

But when he had gone to the Virginia Military Institute, it was different. There he held the inter-collegiate polo vault record for two years, and when he had to admit defeat it was his brother, Harry Mix of Harvard, who wrested the championship from him.

Tom Mix can point with pride to his record as a fighter. A veteran of five wars, and wounded in action in Cuba and the Boxer uprising in China, he has the proudest recollection of his life that of the day he was accepted by the late Col. Theodore Roosevelt as a member of the Rough Riders.

In the Baltic provinces of Germany, women's ornaments shall appear in a curious ornament of red coral. It is made of stringing coral beads on a stout silken cord, the smallest beads procurable being first, larger next, then still larger ones, until the largest of all are reached. This ornament is worn in such a way that the small beads are around the neck, the next in size around the shoulders, while the largest cover the bust and hang down the back.

In Holland an unmarried woman always takes the right arm of her escort, while a married one selects the left side of her husband. So deeply has this custom entered into the life of the Hollanders that at a wedding, the bride enters the church on the right side of the room, the young wife returning on the left side of the husband, when the marriage ceremony has been concluded.

MARKETS

NARROW FLUCTUATION IN COTTON MARKET

NEW ORLEANS, May 1.—Fluctuations were narrow in cotton today and most traders appeared to be willing to wait on pending labor developments in textile centers before going ahead with new business. Around the opening prices were off under scattered selling, but enough came in a little later to put the active months over yesterday's close. The market retained a steady feeling and closed 5 points up to 2 down net.

Grain Produce Stocks—Bonds

TEXAS IS 35TH IN LITERACY

DALLAS, May 1.—Outlining conditions in Texas public schools, Miss Annie Webb Blanton, state superintendent of public instruction, in an address to the Dallas County Rural Life club, said: "Texas is the 35th state in literacy."

Last year there were between 20,000 and 24,000 children in Texas who did not attend school because of insufficient funds and 400,000 children were taught by teachers who only reached the fifth grade in school work themselves.

After having worked for 17 hours a day for generations, the women of Japan are now being granted the eight-hour day in nearly all of the larger industrial cities of the empire.
