KENTUCKY DERBY WON BY RAL PARR'S HORSE PAUL JONES, BY HEAD

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 8.—Paul Jones, of the stable of Ral Parr, the Maryland turfman and ridden by Jockey T. Rice, won the 46th renewal of the Kentucky Derby at a mile and a quarter here today over the largest field that ever faced a Kentucky Derby barrier.

The winner, given a position second from the rail, sprang into the lead at the start and was never headed. Harry Payne Whitney's Upset, with J. Rodriguez up, finished second, being a head behind the winner.

Former Congressman George W. Lof's On Watch, ridden by N. Barrett, four lengths behind Upset, was third. Damask, piloted by Jake Ambrose, was fourth, two lengths behind On Watch.

The results of the race bore out the prediction that it would be the most open affair of the kind in derby history. Donnacona went to the post the favorite and failed to finish in the money. Pari mutual $2 tickets on the winner paid $24.40 to win, $12.30 to place and $6.50 to show.

The Most Dreaded Work of the Week

HOW the housewife hates wash day—especially in the hot summertime. Can you blame her? That back-breaking scrubbing, that standing over a hot wash boiler or ironing. The heat of summer sun is bad enough, yet added to that is hard work over more intense, overcoming heat.

WISE women won't waste their health, looks and energy doing it. Considerate husbands won't allow them to. Humane people won't allow their servants to do such work in the summer time when a laundry like ours can do the work so efficiently and at so trifling a cost.

PRESERVE your women folks' health by being modern in your ideas.

PRESERVE your clothes by having them washed by our modern methods.

TODAY IS MOTHER'S DAY.

NOW is the Springtime of the year—another Sunday—and today is Mothers' Day.

Upon the breast of every man and woman in Cisco should blossom a white flower; the emblem of purity—the symbol of motherhood.

Some few, perhaps, or many years ago, a woman put her life in jeopardy that you might live. From out the infinite she caught a spark of divine fire and from it made and moulded you. She gave you that which all can take away but only she could give you—Life.

With all she had she staked you to a fighting chance in this great game—Existence—she had fought so long. She set the rules before you fair and true—pointed the right from wrong, and if you failed she made her silent sacrifice again 'til you were strong and won a time or two and went your way.

And so you played—and you know best what sort of game you've played—fair when the circumstances favored you, perhaps, or not at all.

But this is Sunday and today is Mothers' Day. A word—a snuff—a letter may suffice with her to pay back everything a thousand fold.

For that is love and love is all she ever sought from you.

LOWER shoe prices are promised in the next three or four months, according to the Tanners' Council of the United States. It is well that these few months, waiting will be in the heated season—when there is no snow to shovel.

COST OF LIVING FOR WOMEN WORKERS.

FIGURES have just been compiled in the office of the Industrial Welfare Commission at Austin, by Mrs. Francis E. Sutherland, secretary, dealing with the cost of living for female workers, embracing the four industries of telephone, mercantile, laundry and factory. The average for each was: Telephone, $14.14; mercantile, $15.44; laundry, $13.78; factory, $14.65. Her estimates were based on statements of 2,028 women interviewed, or from their sworn averments. These figures are interesting, in that they show the cost in cities of different population, as for instance: In cities between 3000 and 900 inhabitants, $12.77; from 10,000 to 50,000 population, $14.27; and from 40,000 to 175,000 inhabitants, $15.26.

A division of the expense by zones was also made, which indicate that there was but little variation in the different sections of the state, notwithstanding that those interrogated frequently referred to the cheap labor and cheap living conditions along the border line of Texas to El Paso. The zone figures follow:

"In North Central Texas, incorporating the cities of Dallas, Fort Worth, Sherman, Denison, and Greenville, the cost of living in the combined industries averaged $15.38 per week; South Texas, incorporating Corpus Christi, Kingsville, Houston, Galveston, Beaumont, Yoakum, Cuero, and Brenham; $14.57; East Texas, incorporating Tyler, Marshall, Texarkana and Paris, $12.77; West Texas, incorporating Brownsville, Del Rio, Laredo, Uvalde, Eagle Pass, San Antonio, El Paso, Brownwood and San Angelo, $12.20; Central Texas, incorporating Waco, Corsicana, Temple, San Marcos, New Braunfels, Marlin, Cameron, Bryan and Belton, $15.61; North Texas, incorporating Ranger, Amarillo, Wichita Falls, Abilene, Cisco, Eastland, $23.35."

TEXAS was complimented and Dr. George W. Truett, pastor of the First Baptist church of Dallas, was honored by being one of two Southern Baptists named to attend a world conference of Baptists in Europe this summer. The other divine is Dr. J. F. Love, of the Foreign Mission Board of Richmond, Va. This conference, which will discuss missionary fields of Europe, will plan a program for all Europe in her need and suffering, says Dr. Truett. It will meet in London, Paris, Belgium, Holland, Switzerland and perhaps Rome.

WHILE it is raining, and pretty and green, the park planning thought should not lie dormant or wither in Cisco's program. Every Sunday that comes from now on during the summer season thousands of people in this city will be panting or sighing for a park recreation spot. Dallas and other Texas cities are now paying hundreds of thousands of dollars for park sites which they could have obtained years ago for a few hundred dollars. Cisco can profit by the lesson.

THE Texas Woman's Press Association will hold its 27th annual convention in San Angelo, May 12 and 13. Mrs. J. D. Alexander of Cisco, one of Texas' great women workers in both club and press, is the president of this association.

OPEN OPINIONS

PRAYER.

Something Concerning It as Found in the Bible.

We do not find the word "pray" in the Bible until about 2000 years after Adam's creation.

Doubtless Enoch, who was taken away alive, prayed often, though no mention is made of it. Noah, a "preacher of righteousness," would suppose to be a praying man.

We read that he offered sacrifice to God of all clean animals and afterwards that he got drunk. Possibly having to wait until the grapes which he planted bore fruit, of which to make the wine that he overdrank.

But to return to "prayer." Abraham, who lived after Noah 450 years, we read that he prayed for the sick (see Gen. 20:17) and they were healed. After this praying is or frequent occurrence.

Prayers, then, and until after Jesus' resurrection, were offered to God to the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, etc. Jesus prayed to "My Father," or "Father in Heaven," on the cross, "My God, my God."

The Jews yet pray to "The God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob," while Jesus' disciples were taught to pray after the resurrection to "The Father in the name of the Son."

Ignoring this form of prayer, because they do not accept Jesus as Messiah Christ, the Jews still pray as their fathers prayed.

According to Jesus' teaching, a prayer offered not "in the name of the Son" is of no avail.

If so, then the Jews, for nearly 1500 years, have offered fruitless prayers.

Those professing the name of Christ have grown from a handful of Jews in A. D. 34, to hundreds of millions, while the Jews of today number about 15,000,000, which was about the census in Jesus' day. Moses, as did Abraham, prayed for the afflicted and they were healed, as in the case of his sister Miriam, whom God smote with leprosy for chiding Moses for having married an Ethiopian woman; but Moses was a dark-skinned Asiatic and the Ethiopians were of about the same color.

Moses also changed God's mind by prayer when he had determined to "destroy the Israelites and make of thee (Moses) more than 40 years old a mighty nation."

He prayed thus: "But if Thou wilt consume this people, blot me also out of Thy book."

We read that his eloquent plea caused God to change His mind. But another prayer in his own behalf did not avail, when he implored God to permit him to go with the people into Canaan.

"Thou mayest view the land from Pisgah, but thou mayest not enter therein, because thou hast sanctified me before the people at the rock."

At the rock (Mevibah-Kadesh) Moses said: "Ye rebel, will you have us to draw water out of this rock?" thus ascribing power to he and Aaron.

Moses was also first to accompany prayer with fasting, "fasting 40 days and 40 nights, and prayed seven days and nights for his child by Bathsheba, but his prayer was fruitless; the child died." "And Hannah prayed to God for a son. She stood in her heart only her lips moved; but her voice was not heard—yet her prayer was answered and she was given a son, Samuel, who became one of the greatest prophets."

Another lesson we might learn from this is, to keep our vows to the Lord; Hannah promised this son as a loan to the Lord all the days of his life. She kept her vow and when he was wanted she did give him up, leaving her childless.

Through the Priest Eli the Lord promised her other children, so she received five for the one she gave up.

Like his mother, Samuel's prayers were also answered; "and the Lord let some of his words fall to the ground."

We might speculate as to what might have been the consequence had Hannah refused to "give him to the Lord," as she promised in the prayer she offered.

The first instance of the dead being raised in answer to prayer was when Elijah prayed for the widow's son. One other instance in the old scriptures was when Elisha, the successor to Elijah, prayed for the Shunammite son—and he was raised from the dead. Elisha "stretched himself upon the child," doubtless imitating Elijah, who did in like manner to the widow's son.

One similar case is mentioned where Paul threw himself on the young man and prayed and his life came into him."

We have two notable instances of the prayers of heathen being answered. One when the men on board the ship three Jonah overboard and prayed to the God Jonah preached to them and the sea was calmed. Then after Jonah had reached Nineveh and pronounced her doom, the king of Nineveh proclaimed a fast and they prayed to the Lord, and God had mercy upon them and changed His determination to destroy them.

Some say it is no use to pray because we cannot change God's mind. Let us see. We have mentioned where God changed his mind in answer to Moses' prayer, in two instances. Then we read where, through Isaiah, God told Hezekiah: "Thou shalt die and not live." What did Hezekiah do? "Turned his face to the wall and wept and prayed," reciting how he had restored the worship of God.

Then Isaiah was told to return and say to Hezekiah: "I have heard thy prayer and added 15 years to thy life."

Some say that prayer is of no avail, unless you "belong to the Church of Christ." Let us examine this position. "Carthage, the centurion in gentile, prayed to the Lord, and he sent an angel to him in answer to his prayer. Afterward he received the Holy Spirit and was baptized. Some quote: 'The prayer of the wicked availeth nothing.' There is no such language in the Bible."

Surely the Ninevites were wicked. Jesus said: "Father, I know Thou hearest Me always, because I do always the things that please Thee." Yet, while in all His three years of ministry, He was always heard for others. Yet the time came when for Himself He was not heard.

In Gethsemane, as He prayed, His sweat, as it were, great drops of blood, yet His request was not granted. He drank the cup to the dregs. On this occasion He added to His prayer: "Not My will but Thine be done." Before this is no mention of this form of prayer, simply asked His Father to heal the sick, give sight to the blind, or raise the dead.

Often we hear people pray today "If it be Thy will," and yet the only prayer that Jesus offered which was not granted was when He used that form.

When His disciples asked to be taught how to pray (Luke 11:1-13) "Thy will, not Mine, be done" was no part of the form or "the manner" of prayer.

Some seem to think that long and loud prayers are essential, but Jesus said: "Pray not as the heathen, who think they are heard for their much speaking."

An instance of this was where the prophets of Baal prayed from morning till six p. m., and cried out loudly; but we read: "There was none to regard. On the contrary, Elijah prayed less than one minute, using 36 words, when 'the fire fell and devoured the sacrifice.'"

Jesus' prayer in John 17th chapter, consumed perhaps five minutes. Other instances were only a few words.

One other instance where God's purpose was changed by prayer was when Paul was about to ship on his way to Rome. God, speaking through Paul, told the ship's master that if they left that harbor it would result in loss of lading and also lives.

Further on we read that "after long abstinence" (fasting) and prayer Paul said: "He of good cheer; an angel of God, whom I serve, stood by me to night and said: 'God hath given thee all them that said with thee.'" Then, after the ship had been broken on the rocks, we read "and they all escaped alive," etc.

We must here infer that God's purpose was changed by "long abstinence" on Paul's part.

We learn, then, that prayer was offered directly to God, until Jesus had become "Mediator" between God and man; henceforth all prayer must be "To the Father in the name of the Son."

We trust that what has been said may assist somewhat the student of Scripture.

WHO'S WHO IN THE DAYS' NEWS

JAMES BYRNE.

Fifty years ago Jimmie Byrne was a poor boy, the son of Irish immigrants, and one of four children; today James Byrne is a New York attorney and a fellow of Harvard University, being the first Catholic ever honored with such an office, as well as the first "outsider" to receive the election. Heretofore, New York State residents only have been elected fellows.

Byrne was born in Springfield, Mass. He graduated from Harvard in 1877 as a classmate of President A. Lawrence Lowell, cum laude, with honors in philosophy. Phil Delta Kappa; among the first ten pupils, etc. He tutored for two years, then entered the law school, taking his degree in 1882. He went into the New York law office of Chamberlain, Carter & Hornblower, and soon became a member of the firm, the name of which was later changed to Carter, Hornblower & Byrne. In 1885 the firm of Hornblower & Byrne was organized. Mr. Byrne remaining with this and its successors until 1907, when he formed the firm of Byrne & McCutcheon.

Mr. Byrne is one of the old school lawyers. Incidentally, he was the referee in Fritz Scheff's divorce case. In recent years, welfare movements and national and local politics have claimed much of his attention.

In politics he was anti-Tammany, generally allied with the independent forces, and was one of the Fusionists who elected Seth Low Mayor. Mayor Low made Mr. Byrne director of the University of the State of New York, of which he was recently re-elected a regent for 14 years by a joint session of the legislature.

DINNER STORIES

Two corpulent old gentlemen on the green, with putters in their hands, and their golf balls a few feet from the cup. One of them is scratching his head in a perplexed fashion.

"Jones, supposing I did put this in? Who in blazes is going to get it out?"

"The would-be stern father assumed the most forbidding air as his young son somewhat guiltily entered the study.

"Charles," he said, with finger raised in admonition, "I am horrified to hear that you were seen at Bonanza the night before last, acting as host to a party of chorus girls. Can this be true?"

"Oh, yes, papa," admitted the young man, with the merest apology for a blush.

"My boy, what—what do you suppose your poor mother would think—would say—should this come to her ears?"

"Oh, that's all right, pater," blurted out the young huffer. "Don't you worry about the matter. As a matter of fact, she knows, and she asked me to be sure not to let you get to know who they were."

The trial of Rollin Bunch, mayor, and Horace Murphy, prosecuting attorney of Muncie, was on in the United States district court at Indianapolis, and every day Muncie persons and others who were acquainted with the remarkable case came too late to obtain seats in the courtroom. A Muncie young woman one day rushed impulsively up to a man acquaintance whose business took him inside the courtroom, and finding all seats were taken, she exclaimed:

"Oh, can't you squeeze me in there?"

"No," he responded, gravely, "not in there."

That athletics for women are taking firm hold among the coeds of western colleges is evidenced by the fact that nearly 500 girls have registered for all forms of competitive athletics at the University of Oregon.

Women are now liable to be summoned to serve on juries in England, but to be qualified for such service a woman must occupy a house of the taxable value of £150 in London or $100 in the country.

CHADWICK TO ARRIVE TO-DAY FOR BIG MAT BOUT WITH SWOBODA

Everything Set for Great Bout at the City Hall Monday Evening in Attempted Come-Back.

John Chadwick, champion wrestler of the First Army, A. E. F., who is matched to meet Harry Swoboda in a match at the City Hall auditorium tomorrow night, is expected to reach Cisco today. Chadwick's fight is to the effect that he is in the best of condition and will be ready on his arrival here to meet Swoboda.

During the past few days Swoboda has been "working out" with Pat Brown and those who saw him in the exhibition match with Brown at the City Hall today night are convinced that the popular promoter of wrestling bouts in Texas will give a good account of himself when he goes up against the mighty Swoboda at the City Hall tomorrow night.

Wrestling fans of Cisco are showing unusual interest in this match, as both are considered among the most scientific in the business. Chadwick's weight is 135 pounds and Swoboda will weigh in at 155.

The astonishing statement made recently to the effect that in some districts of Wales miners have been known to sell their wives as a reminder that practice is the survival of an old custom. Less than a century ago slaves were offered by auction to the highest bidder in public places in different parts of England, although the practice was long since sanctioned by law. Prizes ranging upwards from one shilling. Prizes of 25 shillings appear to have been offered a good price.

MARJORIE DAW SAYS CLOTHES ECONOMY MEANS WEARING OUT YOUR OLDEST ONES

Reports come from California that Miss Marjorie Daw, the pretty little Marshall Neilan star, attended a reception in this "very simple" costume. This proves that the old clothes movement which is spreading all over the country has hit the west coast motion picture colony.

Miss Marjorie Daw.

Miss Marjorie. "The time has come to take a rap at the high cost of clothing. Stop buying expensive shirtwaists, skirts, hats, corsets, shoes and lingerie. Summer is near at hand and you don't need a lot of clothing for comfort. You can even forget your shoes and stockings and go 'barefooty' like the kiddies. Don't be afraid of what people will say." With these sage words of advice Marjorie hunted out some of her old clothes and is now preaching what she preaches, and Marjorie in her old clothes has got any debutante in a new party frock simply backed off the scenery.

MERCHANDISE MOVING RAPIDLY ON KATY LINE

More merchandise freight is now moving than for some time past, was the comment of C. H. Dent, Katy freight agent here, Saturday. He says the April freight movements were equal to those of March, or perhaps a little better. However, the April freight receipts here were some $15,000 short of the same month in 1919. And this, he says, is because of the disturbed conditions, especially in the east. He looks for a slackening up of the tied-up situation there pretty soon, then a flood of freight movement.

CITY ASKS FOR BIDS ON CISCO'S BIG DAM

The giant dam for Cisco's seven billion gallon water reservoir is to be started at an early date. The city has asked for bids on the construction work, and these bids will be opened and perhaps the contract awarded on May 20. Mayor James Williamson says that while they will receive bids on two or three classes of dams, that the reinforced concrete is favored and most likely to be that which will be accepted.

Eastland Judges Beat Cisco Scouts by 7 to 4 Score in Good Game

Special to The News.
EASTLAND, Texas, May 8.—In one of the best games of the season, Eastland defeated the Cisco Scouts here this afternoon, 7 to 4. The affair was all Cisco's way until the sixth inning again, with a 4 to 0 lead on the Judges; the Scouts blew up, and from then on the Eastland team had everything in its favor.

This afternoon's game will be witnessed by several hundred fans from Cisco, who are coming to Eastland to lend their vocal support in starting the Scouts on a winning stride.

Abilene Wins From Gorman Buddies By Easy 13 to 2 Game

GORMAN, Texas, May 8.—Abilene turned the tables on the Buddies here today, and the Buddies won the afternoon's game easily, 13 to 2. The Buddies started right in to slug the ball and hammered the Gorman pitchers to all corners of the field, while the Abilene hurlers were holding the Buddies to five hits. The feature of the game was the hitting of White of Abilene, who pounded the ball for two home runs, one of which came with two men on the bases. The score:

Scouts After Wigs of Judges in Game Today on Eastland Diamond

By BILL GILMARTIN.
The Cisco Scouts tie up with the Eastland Judges in the latter part this afternoon at 3 o'clock for the second game of the series, and a large crowd of Cisco rooters will be over there fighting like wild cats, according to Stuart Williams, secretary-treasurer of the club, who says from the way spirit has been developing around town for the past few days, it looks as though about 800 Scout followers will journey over to the county seat and do their mightiest to help their own boys administer a drubbing to the Judges.

The best team that ever drew on a set of suits would have a hard time winning here without that old steady, consistent support. We all need encouragement and more of it in what ever we do. Look at the way the boys played that first game against the Judges! They knew we were with them to a man, and they went out to win that game, no matter what it took, to turn the trick. They can play baseball with the best in this league, if they are imbued with the proper spirit; so let's help on the 12:22 noon, east-bound and show the boys we're for them as strong as pa's old favorite perfume, "Breath of the Desert," and incidentally give those easterners the surprise of their young lives. We'll show them that Cisco is on the map and in bold-face type.

The eastbound leaves Cisco at 12:22 (noon), and the train returning to Cisco leaves Eastland at 7:30 p. m.

GOES TO SAN ANGELO TO REPRESENT K. OF C.

James Collins went to San Angelo Saturday to represent Cisco at the initiation of a Big Knights of Columbus class, and a big reception is to be tendered today.

Illinois' oldest woman, Mrs. Mary A. Smith, of Springfield, 107 years old on April 18, has but one grievance—she says she misses her wine since prohibition came into effect.

GIL'S GLEANINGS

Let's all go over to Eastland this afternoon and show the county seat fans that we are the liveliest bunch that ever hit town. Shake up the old pitcher box and let our neighbors a real lesson in how a baseball team should be scouted. Today is our day, to start winning. The boys need encouragement. Let 'em know we're in town and behind them from the scratch. The railroad schedule was made to order for our convenience, so whaddya say, boys? Will we be there? Can a duck swim?

We note in the Star-Telegram of Saturday that Cisco is on top in the West Texas League. We don't know where said newspaper got its daps, but we'll have to hand it to the S. T. folks—they know where Cisco will eventually stand anyway, and don't want to be changing type all the time.

The fastest time ever hurr up in circling the bases was made by Hans Lobert in 1916, when he stepped the distance in the speedy time of 15.45 seconds. Billy Sunday, noted evangelist, held the record for a great many years. Billy was quite a ball player himself.

Big Jim Thorpe, greatest all-round athlete at the last Olympics, is now playing ball in the International League with the Akron club. If he keeps on seeing the ball in the manner he has for the past few weeks he will soon be in the big show again.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lang of Greensburg, Pa., have been visited by the clerk twice in the last 23 months. The first time the big bird brought trunks and the second trip he left a pair of twins. Looks as though Mr. Lang will soon be compelled to join the overall club.

We hear that Jack Dempsey has bought a circus. Evidently Jack isn't satisfied any more unless he sees the ducks coming in by the sackful.

Here is the best joke of the season. A fight enthusiast wrote in recently to a sporting authority and wanted to know if John L. Sullivan was ever the heavyweight champion. He signed "An old-time fight fan." The man who wrote was a rank novice in the sport game alongside of the guy. He takes the long suspender by a unanimous vote of the sporting world.

TEXAS LEAGUE

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, May 8.—San Antonio walked away with today's game with Houston by a score of 5 to 1. Houston's fielders put up a miserable exhibition on the defense, making a total of six errors.

Score by innings— R H E
Houston ————— 000 010—5 7 6
San Antonio — 000 200—1 7 0
Batteries: Pearson and Greenburg; Fincher and Gibson.

SHREVEPORT, La., May 8.—The Gassers commemorated the raising of the pennant this afternoon by taking a very pitched but raggedly-played game from the Marines, 2 to 1. Neither pitcher should have been scored upon.

Flyn scored in the sixth for Dallas on a two-base error and infield out and a questionable hit through third. The Gassers manufactured two runs in the ninth on a single, an error, a stolen base and another error on Brown's stolen runner to short.

Score by innings— R H E
Dallas ————— 000 001 000—1 7 2
Shreveport — 000 000 002—2 4 2
Batteries: Conley and Robertson; Black and Vann.

FORT WORTH, Texas, May 8.—Wichita Falls went to pieces under fire in the ninth inning today and lost the game, 4 to 3, after apparently having it won. Brownlow's two errors were mainly responsible for the loss of the game. Mikan made a hot swing at Wichita Falls' half of the last inning.

Score by innings— R H E
Wichita Falls — 002 001 000—3 8 3
Fort Worth — 012 00 001—4 7 1
Batteries: Weaver and Kitchens; Pate and Moore.

GALVESTON, Texas, May 8.—Harry Lew allowed but three widely scattered hits today and Galveston won its third victory over Beaumont 2 to 0. James was wild and hit hard, but lightened up well in many of the pinches and was especially served by stellar fielding. Eleven Pirates were left on base.

Score by innings— R H E
Beaumont ————— 000 000 000—0 3 0
Galveston — 000 011 000—2 7 0
Batteries: Lee and Hauser; James and Alexander.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 8.—St. Louis defeated Cincinnati 5 to 4 in an eleven-inning game here today. The winning run was scored on singles by Lavan and Clemens and Smith's long fly to Roush. Ring forced over the tying run in the ninth when he walked Smith, sending Fournier home.

Score by innings— R H E
Cincinnati — 100 100 000—4 9 2
St. Louis — 000 020 011 01—5 7 2
Batteries: Ring and Wingo; Schupp and Clemens.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 8.—Chicago defeated Pittsburgh today, 4 to 1, but not until Vaughan tripled to left center in the ninth inning while the bases were full and the score stood 1 to 1.

Score by innings— R H E
Chicago — 010 000 003—4 7 2
Pittsburgh — 000 001 000—1 5 0
Batteries: Vaughn and Kulerer; Hamilton and Schmidt.

MARKETS

Cotton Livestock Financial
Grain Produce Stocks-Bonds

COTTON IS IRREGULAR, SOUTHWEST NEWS GOOD

NEW YORK, May 8.—The cotton market was irregular today. Crop news from the southwest was better and an unfavorable view of the goods trade outlook was promoted by the week end advices, reporting small business at first hands.

On the other hand, there were numerous crop complaints from the eastern belt and the attention of the trade seemed to shift from bullish to bearish. The general list closed steady at a net advance of 15 to 18 points on the old crop months but four to eight points lower on new crop deliveries.

Improved weather reports in Texas and uncertainty of general business conditions figured largely in the early talk around the ring, but the offerings were not badly taken at the decline and the market soon rallied. The appearance of buying orders from eastern and central belts served to color the unfavorable crop advices from east of the river based on wet weather and low temperatures.

The market met increased realization for over the week-end at the advance and there were reactions.

Sales of print cloth in the Fall River market were estimated at 49,000 pieces for the week, and some of the Fall River brokers were quoted as reporting a quieter tone than for any time in two years. Western goods distributors, however, report a continued active business.

NO SALES IN NEW YORK, SUGAR, PRICE UNCHANGED

NEW YORK, May 8.—There were no sales in the local market for raw sugar today and while prices were nominally unchanged at 18 1/2c for Cuban cost and freight, equal to 19.56 for centrifugal, the undertone is strong with outsiders paying as high as 19 and 19 1/2c for Cuban cost and freight. Refiners are in the market at 18 1/2c but are not disposed to pay above this level, while holders are asking above this level and not offering any too freely.

Prices for refined were unchanged at 18 1/2c to 23c for fine granulated with a good inquiry but refiners still limiting their allotment as most of them are well sold up. There will be another conference next week between refiners and government authorities in an effort to consider relief measures and it seems to be the impression in the trade that every effort will be made to bring about as direct a movement between refiner and consumer as possible and eliminate any unnecessary handling of sugar to try to prevent the steadily rising cost.

There was a fair trade in sugar futures today and prices were firmer, reflecting the strength of the spot market. Closing prices were 15 to 41 points net higher.

BEARISH CORN RESULT OF WHEAT EXPECTATION

CHICAGO, May 8.—Correct anticipation that the government crop report would show an improvement in winter wheat as compared with a month ago had a bearish influence today on the corn market. Corn closed heavy, 1/2c to 2c lower with July $1.71 1/2 to $1.71 1/2 and September $1.61 1/2 to $1.61 1/2. Oats lost 3/4 to 1 1/2c. In provisions the outcome varied from 1 1/2c decline to 5c advance.

Persistent heavy selling on the part of the houses with eastern connection gave special emphasis to early bearish sentiment regarding corn. Week-end covering by shorts, however, nearly overcame at one time the effects of early selling. Nevertheless, in the end rallies failed to hold and a general heavy selling found the market bare of support.

Oats followed corn. In the provision market, the strengthening influence of higher quotations on hogs was counterbalanced by weakness of grain.

Cotton Oil Lower

NEW YORK, May 8.—The market for cottonseed oil was lower at the outset today for want of support, but steadied later on week end covering and with the better feeling in hard. Closing prices for leading months were 4 to 10 points net lower. Sales 5100 barrels. Prime crude $15.50@16.00; prime summer yellow spot 19.15; May 19.15; July 19.33; October 18.95; prime winter yellow and summer white nominal.

Rice Market

NEW ORLEANS, May 8.—Rough rice no sales; receipts 1583; millers receipts 1582.

Clean rice no sales; receipts 700; bran and Polish unchanged.

TEXAS WEATHER PLAYS PART IN COTTON TRADE

NEW ORLEANS, May 8.—Texas weather played an important part in the trading in cotton today, reports of rain in broadly scattered local states causing a lower opening, after which the market rallied on reports of too much rain in other sections and claims that complete relief from the drought had not been obtained.

The deciding influence of the session was the forecast of fair weather for the entire belt and unfavorable reports from the dry goods markets. Considerable selling was based on them and the market closed at net declines of 2 to 27 points in consequence.

Possibly the forecast of fair weather for over Sunday could have had more effect against values but for the contention from the long side that it did away with the possibility that the Texas drought would be completely relieved in the near future.

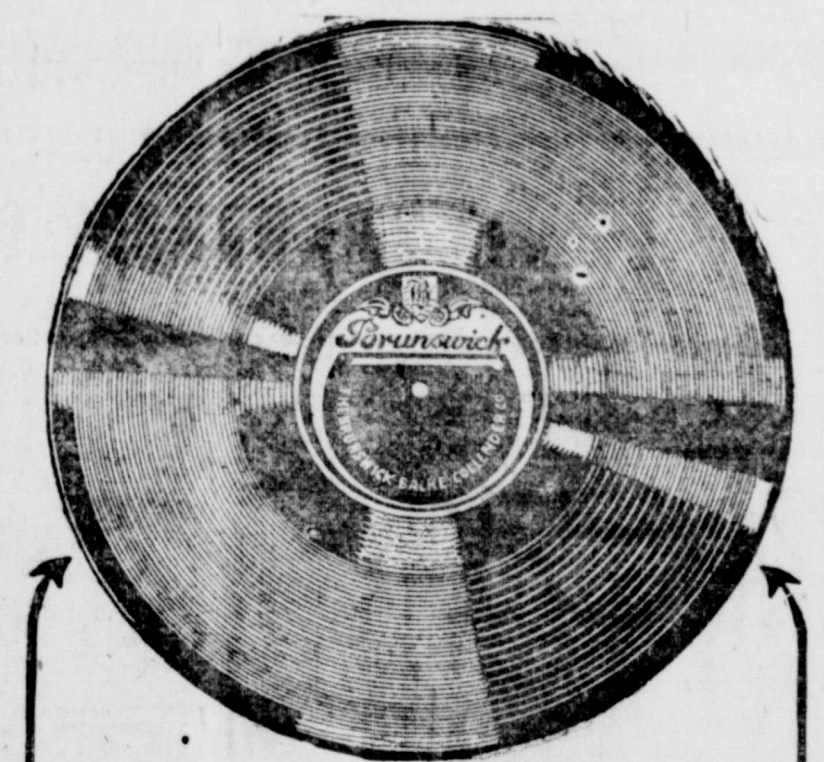

Fort Worth Cattle Market

FORT WORTH, May 8.—Cattle, receipts 1356, steady. Beefers 8.00@10.75; stockers 8.00@9.50; cows 2.90@8.50; heifers 4.00@10.75; bulls 5.00@9.75; calves 5.00@11.50.

Hogs, receipts 200, steady. Heavy 13.75@14.00; light 14.00@14.50; medium 12.75@13.75; mixed 11.75@12.75; common 10.75@11.75; pigs 8.90@11.50.

Sheep, receipts 1000, unchanged. Lambs 12.00@13.00; yearlings 11.00@12.00; wethers 9.00@10.00; ewes 8.00@9.00; culs 4.00@5.00; goats 4.25@6.25.

STOCK MARKET STRONGER ON OIL AND RAIL QUERY

NEW YORK, May 8.—The stock market was without definite trend at the opening of today's brief session, but soon strengthened on a fairly extensive inquiry for oils and rails.

Latest developments in the Mexican situation were favorably interpreted by traders, who soon became active in the two issues of Pan-American petroleum at gains of 5 1/2 and 6 1/2 points, with a net advance of 5 1/2c for Mexican petroleum.

The European oils and also domestic issues of that division augmented recent gains. Royal Dutch making a new high record at its extreme rise to 129 1/2c. Buying of rails centered in the low priced shares especially Texas and Pacific, in which a gross gain of 5 was retained. Rock Island and New Haven also were strong with several of the investments, including Trans-Continental. Toward the end, the movement extended to steels and equipments. Sales amounted to 43,000 shares.

The ex-Emperor Eugenic wrote her memoirs with the same pen with which her husband the Emperor Napoleon III signed the declaration of war against Prussia in 1870.

AFTER DRUGGISTS WHO CHARGE EXORBITANT PRICES FOR WHISKEY

AUSTIN, May 8.—Profiteering on whiskey by Texas druggists is charged in a statement by R. V. Nichols, special agent for the Attorney General's department, who has been investigating the situation in Texas.

Many druggists, he said, charge five dollars for a short pint of liquor which his investigations indicate cost them only six dollars a gallon. The druggists give twelve ounces instead of sixteen for a pint, and thus get fifty dollars a gallon for the liquor, he added.

State officials, he continued, are considering the question of filing complaints against some of these druggists or revoking their state permits to sell intoxicants.

Some physicians added, are charging two dollars for writing a prescription calling for intoxicants and are writing as many as 25 of these prescriptions a day. Thus, according to these figures, twelve ounces of whiskey costs the consumer seven dollars.

BIGAMY CHARGE CAUSES ARREST OF MAN AT EASTLAND

EASTLAND, Texas, May 8.—Charles Edwin Orr was arrested here yesterday on a charge of bigamy, and placed in the county jail. Dispatches came from Missouri that Orr had too many wives and warnings were sent out to the public to look out for him. Mrs. Alena Taylor, the mother of Jewel Taylor Orr, filed a suit in the district court, asking to have his marriage with her daughter set aside as fraudulent and void or for a divorce.

The petition shows that Orr married Jewel Taylor March 31, when she was only 15 years of age and incapable by reason of her age to contract in marriage. The petition further states that on May 2 Jewel Orr protested to the defendant that he had abandoned her and he immediately made threats against her to the effect that he would cause her to take carbonic acid and kill herself. Defendant then abandoned her child wife and has not returned to her. Her petition seeks an injunction against Orr preventing him from interfering with or molesting her in any way. The court has granted the injunction temporarily till the case is finally heard.

THE HOME OF GOOD MERCHANDISE

Cisco's New Department Store

Along Automobile Row

By R. M. HUDSON

The Cisco Motor company has an added attraction now. The Central Motor company, direct Dodge Brothers dealers, have opened a big house in the McDermott building, East Ninth street, with a big stock of parts. This house is to serve all West Texas Dodge users and owners.

The Cisco Motor company is preparing their show rooms for four or five carloads of Chalmers cars within the next 10 days. The past week they put Ben J. Dye at the steering wheel of a new Chalmers. And he's delighted, they say.

The Fulwilers are "speeding up" on sales of Reo Speed wagons. They sold two the past week; one to Ben Dye, and one to Noel & Hawkins. This only leaves five out of a trainload received on January 15, says H. D. Fulwiler, manager. But "we are still short on Oakland," he added.

Still wearing his Studebaker smile, R. E. Brookshire of the B-M Motor company, says "there is no use to worry, but the Studebaker lovers and seekers won't let us rest. They are restless waiting for our promised shipment of cars. All right, boys, they will be up to the latest in auto construction, and are sure coming. In the meantime, we are riding in the new Overland Four."

The Elips Six isn't a bronco, says J. C. Whitaker, of the agency of Whitaker & Mahaffey, but it can do bronco stunts—and holds the world's record for broad jumping. This record was made at New Orleans on April 4, at the Elips Fashion Auto show, when in the presence of 10,000 or more spectators it made a leap of 74 feet, nine inches. But the feat is best told in the Auto-gram, as follows:

"First came the big fashion display, brilliant and colorful. Immaculately painted and bearing their treasures of southern feminine beauties, fashioned for the elaborate occasion in their ultramodern, 110 varieties of automobiles, rolled forth and back into the ranks, each in its turn to take its meed of applause. The intensity of the cheers gave word to the judges as to who were the most deserving of prizes.

"Then, as a finale, came the big event. The 'leap for life' is what the New Orleans papers termed it. The track was cleared for action, save the two wooden slides which had been carefully arranged for making the jump.

"Around the full length of the track Wilson drove the crimson car and tore full speed down the home stretch, amid the breathless silence of anxious spectators.

"Up the rise of the take-off the Elips skimmed like a giant bird. There was an audible gasp from the crowd as the car shot through the air. The rear wheels flapped high, causing the machine to land full force, first upon its fore wheels. Wilson's white shirt, clear against the background, showed distinctly how he was hurled into the air. It was nearly 100 yards down the track before he straightened his course and regained full control of the bobbing, skidding machine. And then, without stopping, he circled the whole track again to show that the car was in perfect running order."

EXPERT TELLS HOW TO GET MOST OUT OF YOUR MOTOR

To get the most out of life the automobilist must get the most out of his motor. Half the pleasure of motoring comes with learning to manipulate your car with ease and grace, is the summing up of a writer in the American Motorist.

"Correct form in driving," says this writer, "means minimum drain on the pocketbook. Velvety stops and starts prevent unusual strains on the motor.

They also cut down the consumption of gasoline and oil. A well made motor, like a Swiss watch, is a sensitive thing. It resents abuse, but responds willingly, capably, to gentle handling. Starting an automobile is an art. I believe somebody else has said that, but never mind. Simple though the art may be, there are plenty of drivers who never acquire the finished way of doing it. The master driver aims to create a steady pull on the driving mechanism from the moment he slips into first speed until the car is under full headway. Learn to accelerate simultaneously with letting in the clutch. The mechanical act of gear-shifting can be learned in five minutes.

"As soon as you have the car in high speed, assume a natural, comfortable position. Avoid a strained, high-tension grip on the wheel. Driving a car is not tiresome if one sits in an easy upright position. The driver, who slouches in his seat must be constantly shifting. He cannot apply the brakes without sitting erect. He must change his position to shift gears."

SIX, EIGHT OF TWELVE

Those persons who are still in a quandary as to whether the new car should be a six, an eight, or a twelve, may derive some edification from reading what a well-known automobile authority had to say about the question 13 years ago. Said the writer:

"The question is whether the six-cylinder automobile is not a fad, reserved for the use of faddists whose train of reasoning in favor of six cylinders contains arguments similar in value to those advanced by the courtiers of old Europe, who reserve the exclusive use of six horses for royalty, while the lesser nobles have to content themselves with four animals, and the mob with one or with two."

Since that time several of the kings of Europe have gone the way of two-cylinder passenger cars, and janitors and milkmen drive twin sixes. And all in 13 years. Tempora mutantur, or words to that effect.—From American Motorist.

One License Tag

In the not distant future, if it is not too much to assume that one day the peace treaty will be ratified, there will be legislation at Washington for a license for motor cars that will either make the state license suffice for national use, or bring about the issuance of a strictly federal license, the revenue from which would go to the state in which the motorist resided. In any event, it seems to us one tag should suffice for touring on any property of the United States of America.—Motor Life.

EXPERT TALKS ON AUTO LUBRICATION

"It is very regrettable that so valuable a piece of machinery as a modern automobile should receive so little attention when it comes to lubrication," says C. M. Lewis, manager of the Sturm Oil company, operating three filling and lubrication stations in Cisco.

"I venture the opinion that not one car in 10 is properly lubricated and therein lies the reason for depreciation and repair bills. Every driver of a car should first of all learn his car; that is, learn just what kind of oil is best in the crank case, for the transmission, and for the other parts where friction occurs.

"No one oil will answer all purposes, though it is often used for lubricating parts where it is not indicated. A few minutes in consultation with a lubricating engineer will wise up the owner, so that he will know just what oil is needed for each moving part.

"Knowing the nature of oil required, the next step is to know the qualities of the various oils on the market. Some are very good, some are quite the reverse. The lubricating engineer can advise as to the particular brand to use, the consistency in which to use it for various types and models of cars, and this advice will save mistakes and expense for the motorist.

"Finally, you must know your dealer. That is, you must know he carries the brand you require, and is above substitution.

"This is important; not that many dealers are dishonest; on the contrary, they are usually reliable, but often oils are handled by employees who are none too particular and either mix two or three kinds or serve the one that is easiest to get at or yields the most profit."

EDUCATING PEOPLE IN FIRE PREVENTION

DALLAS, May 8.—Plans for further educating the people in fire prevention and fire protection were discussed at a meeting of the Texas Inspection Bureau which was attended by prominent insurance men of Texas. The bureau was organized by the various fire insurance companies doing business in this state.

T. L. Monagan, retiring president, in a report to the convention declared that the organization was meeting with success through the cooperation of the fire marshal and fire departments of the state. T. L. Lavey was elected president of the bureau, succeeding Mr. Monagan.

Two young women school teachers have been engaged by the forestry officials to serve this summer at a lone fire lookout station on Sourdough mountain near Bellingham, Wash. The girls will occupy a lonely cabin on the mountain top, 700 feet above sea level.

DROUGHT MAKES GRAZING LAND TOO ARID FOR CATTLE TO FEED

BUTTE, Mont., May 8.—Grazing lands of the Deer Lodge and other western national forests have been so depleted by the three successive years of drought that it will be impossible to run the usual number of cattle and sheep in the forests this summer, according to F. G. Clark, supervisor of the Deer Lodge national forest.

Because of the condition of the forests it was necessary to turn down many new requests for grazing permits this season and even to restrict the number of cattle and sheep that may be run in the forests by ranchers who have been granted permits for several successive preceding seasons, Mr. Clark stated. This state of affairs will prove especially serious for cattle and sheep men who have been counting on the forest grazing lands to help tide them through the summer since in most instances, they are without feed of any kind at this season and hay at $42 a ton is out of the question, he declared. If his frequently happened, Mr. Clark stated, that ranchers have paid more to feed their cattle this winter than they can obtain for them on the market at the present time and the coming season will have to be a good one to enable them to recoup their losses.

Cases of twins are said to occur once in every 69 births.

National Publicity Campaign of The West Texas C. of C.

The News is just in receipt of the following interesting and instructive information relative to West Texas' great campaign of publicity in the eastern and northern states, and suggests that you read it, get in line with this movement and push it in the true western spirit.

The national publicity campaign of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, through which it has been arranged to visit 250 cities and towns in 16 states of the union with airplanes, motion pictures, exhibition truck and printed booklets, is rapidly being arranged and the party hope to leave West Texas early in June.

Dr. O. H. Loyd of Vega, known throughout the country as a great West Texas booster, has been speaking at meetings of business men in many towns and counties and not a single audience has failed to express their desire to affiliate in this work and place their town before the nation, in order that much of the adverse advertising that has gone out of this country may be corrected and that the people of the middle west and east may realize that West Texas today offers greater opportunities than any other section of the country.

Dr. Loyd is endeavoring to cover all the principal towns and cities of West Texas, doing this organization work without remuneration, because he is a believer in this country.

Following this is our motion picture photographer who will take pictures of anything desired in each community that affiliates in the work. These will be shown in each city through the effort in which a day's stop is made.

With this campaign will be sent a thirteen truck filled with agricultural, oil and mineral displays. In advance of this truck will fly daily from one stop to the next two airplanes covered with West Texas advertising. These will act as the sensational part of the campaign and will enable the movement to secure pages of newspaper editorials throughout the nation that could not be purchased at any price.

Stops will be made each night where the motion pictures will be shown and during the day short stops will be made in the smaller towns as they are passed.

The campaign has been planned for the purpose of setting right in the minds of our northern and eastern neighbors that goes into this certain misshapen facts about West Texas. Everything that goes into this campaign must be true of the country it represents and will be placed before the east as an educational campaign and not one of advertising. This will enable us to reach thousands of people that would pay no attention to an advertising scheme and yet to us in West Texas it is the greatest advertisement we could send out.

West Texas has many things to offer. When John C. Fremont was sent to this country in the early sixties by congress to determine how far west agriculture was practical, he reported that it never rained west of the 98th meridian and the geographers marked our country as the "Great American Desert."

Some years ago northern land speculators came into this country and brought droves of unsuspecting people, selling them land at many times its market value, causing dissatisfaction.

There is an impression throughout the country that West Texas is a region of long horn cattle, where every man carries a "six shooter" that is easy on the trigger, wears boots, and a big hat, and that the "bad man" still roams at will.

In 1917-18 the newspapers of the nation gave wide publicity to the drought that was experienced in sections of West Texas which served to corroborate the impression, and held that this is a drought stricken country.

Recent oil development and large stock speculation and promotion has won another reputation for West Texas which is as harmful, if not more so, than these other forms of publicity. Millions of dollars worth of oil stock has been distributed throughout the country based upon real imaginary claims, said to be located near or in producing oil pools in some portion of West Texas. Today many communities in the north and east know West Texas chiefly by reason of having beautiful green stock certificates setting forth that they are the owner of so many shares of some oil company.

Leading magazines and newspapers have published articles regarding the oil fields of Texas that have been harmful and not creditable to our community.

ROAD TRAVELING IS NOT ALL LUXURY

Primarily Motoring is Devoted to Business, and Pleasure is Usually Secondary.

At first thought it might seem exaggerated, but it is claimed from careful estimate that half of the entire population of the nation is either daily or occasional motor car passengers. This is the claim of Fred Sherman, an intermountain Oakland and Cadillac dealer. Mr. Sherman says:

"Federal, state, county, township and municipal governments are doubling and tripling their yearly expenditures for road improvement and maintenance and the motor car today is not considered an extravagance or a luxury; not a pleasure car, but a passenger car, a practical and essential transportation vehicle."

"Half the automobiles seen on the road today are business necessities. After serving all day in that capacity they then become pleasure cars, but that is not their first function, but rather a side line."

"The personal efficiency of men and women today, of families and communities, too, as I interpret the term 'efficiency,' demands a personal and independent means of transportation."

"Speeding up in every line of human endeavor is accomplished only by finding more time for work and business pursuits and more time for recreation and healthful pleasure. The reduction of lost time, of delays, and of unpleasant, tiresome travel is so effectively accomplished by the automobile that today fully half of our entire population of 110,000,000 people find the motor car an indispensable necessity in business and social life."

"Have you ever stopped to think that the intense activity of modern America represents an accurate picture of the value of the motor vehicle? Our astounding progress in the last 10 years of industry of all kinds, in the nationalization and centralization of all of our interests and in many other important matters, is largely made possible by and is very dependent upon the wonderfully efficient transportation which the automobile and other power vehicles furnish?

"The never slackening, ever increasing demand for passenger motor cars tells the story of motor car usefulness, better than any possible array of facts and figures or strong sales arguments."

At the Woman's City Club, in Washington, D. C. a luncheon was given the other day by Kathryn Sellers, juvenile court judge of the District of Columbia, in honor of Jean Norris, New York City's woman magistrate. The occasion was unique in that it was the first time in the history of the world that a woman judge entertained another woman judge at luncheon, and at which all the other guests were women prominent in the legal profession.

NIGHT POLICE BEAT DURING PRESIDENTIAL TOUR IS NO EASY JOB

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 8.—Covering a tour of the president of the United States is an easier job for the newspaper man than doing a night police beat, so Philip Kinsley, of the Chicago Tribune told the school of journalism of the University of Missouri. This, he said, was for the reason that everything is arranged in advance for the presidential reporter.

"From the moment he steps on board the special," said Mr. Kinsley, "he is under the protection of the sacred circle that surrounds the president. All his hours are arranged. He is given a printed schedule in which he can read just what numbered automobile, just what dinner seat, he will have in a distant city on a certain day."

"A stenographic copy of all the president says during scheduled speeches and at wayside stops, is given him. He is expected to go everywhere with the president."

"The president is never interviewed in an ordinary way. He talks at times freely and informally to reporters. During his recent tour of the West, the president on several occasions sat down with the newspaper men and told them just what was in his mind on such controversial points as the Shantung clause and the Irish question and the British 'six votes.'"

"Of the 20 reporters there, no one dreamed of rushing into print with this story. It would have been a good story, a fine scoop, but such things are not done. In Washington they do not quote a man without his specific permission. The president's purpose was to enlighten the newspaper men and told them they might know how to interpret him in the future."

The late Colonel Roosevelt, during his tours, always waited for the reporters to get into his meetings. In the midst of his talks, when he sprung a new subject and was about to take up an old matter again, he would lean over and say: 'That's all; you can go now, boys.' And the reporters felt safe. It is not safe to leave the president. He never uses quite the same language in telling the same story. He must always be followed. The reporters have to 'put him to bed,' figuratively speaking, every night, before they feel safe."

Abilene Court Verdict May Have Bearing On Companion Case

EASTLAND, Texas, May 8.—Over the telephone from Abilene it is learned here today that the jury could not agree and were discharged in the case of the State vs. John Bloxson. This is a companion case with the one pending in the Eastland district court against Berry Nalls. In former trials, one at Abilene against Bloxson and the one against Nalls at Eastland, each man was convicted, Bloxson being given two years and Nalls three years in the penitentiary. They were charged with killing a white merchant by the name of Richberger at Ranger. They went to Richberger's place of business at night and, peeping through a crack in the wall, saw Richberger and a business partner sitting by a table or box counting their money but the officers are said to have thought the men were shooting craps and gambling.

The officers tried to force entrance at the door, but the inmates protested, not knowing who the officers were or what they wanted. In the scuffle to open the door, the officer's hand was mashed and he shot through the door with the result that Richberger was killed.

Berry Nalls' case is still pending on the docket in Eastland county, and, while no setting of the case for another trial has been announced, yet it is thought a date will be set in the near future.

The case was reversed on an instruction given the jury by the court.

MARY MILES MINTER IN 'JENNY BE GOOD' REALART PICTURES

"JENNY, BE GOOD" IS AN UNUSUAL STORY

When Jenny, the heroine of this story was a child, her aged Granny's daily admonishment was: "Now, Jenny, be good!" And when she finally stood alone in a great bewildering city, a still small voice seemed to rise above the influences that challenged her goodness with the solemn warning against dangers. And she remained good.

But there is a greater appeal, aside from the whimsical charm of Jenny. The story moves against a background of vivid realities. Reflected in the mirror of the screen, rich man, poor man, lawyer man, thief, pass in the procession of modern life. The picture pulsates with the satirical analysis of the follies and evils that beset our day, and is lightened here and there with rare good humor. It is really more than a picture—it is a human document.

The outside world began to make its imprint upon Jenny's environment when she was 15; when the quiet New England fishing hamlet sprang into sudden prominence, almost like magic, as a fashionable resort for New York society and those who follow in the wake of dollars and diamonds.

These influences affected Jenny's life and eventually she was drawn to New York, that irresistible magnet which attracts so many countless human units, some to be swallowed up in the vortex of millions, others to rise as with wings. Jenny was destined to soar.

Altogether a new light is shed through the camera of the distinct strains of society through which Jenny passed to the gates of fate and eventually to a supreme sacrifice. One sees queer folks in the metropolitan hidden away in unheated palms, such characters Dickens revealed in the foggy courts and alleys of London. The social climbers are satirized, with hard strokes and the character of Jolanda van Mater, the debutante daughter of an old Knickerbocker family, who becomes a drug addict, is strongly drawn. The impregnable ultra-fashionables of Newport and New York, the dwellers in the crowded East side tenements, where radicalism is born, and the struggle for existence pitiless, all provide unusual scenes and situations.

"Jenny Be Good" is from the pen of Wilbur Finley Fauley. Mary Miles Minter plays the leading role in the seven adaptation.

At the New Julia Theater, "Jenny Be Good" is the principal number of the bill today and tomorrow.

"Great Air Robbery" at Victory Theatre, Locklear Starring

What Would You Do if You Had To Hide Face to Face With Locklear?

How would you like to stand on the fragile wing of an airplane at a hundred miles an hour? What would you do if you knew you were going to climb with him from one machine to another with Mother Earth 5000 feet below? You would send for a lawyer and write your will!

That's the feeling "The Great Air Robbery" gives you. Two planes in the hands of the camera, the camera man in a third plane and Locklear to terrify before you, standing on thin air. It is a picture best which ordinary drama seems like milk and water. A picture that makes your audiences gasp and cheer as never before.

The picture that answers the question thousands of Americans who saw Locklear perform last summer asked—"How does it feel to be up there?"
