Villa Won't Go to Calles, So Calles Is Coming to Villa

IN CAMP WITH GENERAL VILLA. BOQUILLAS, Chihuahua, Mexico, May 19, via El Paso, Texas, May 20 .-(By The Associated Press.)-Peace and a return of normal conditions in northern Mexico depend on what guarantees leaders of the latest Mexican revolution give General Francisco Villa. General Villa at his camp here told

The Associated Press in an exclusive interview his plans for the future. Villa is resting with his personal band, of 80 men awaiting a conference with of 80 men awaiting a conference with General P. Elias Calles, minister of war of the revolutionists.

The conference Villa said will determine whether a revolutionary leader and bandtu leader will return to private life or once more take the field in bush wacking campaigns which have made wacking campaigns which have made him notorious.

Calles is en route here from Juarez on his trip to Mexico City. He must come to Villa, for Villa will not go to Calles, Villa said.

Villa trusts Calles, more than any other man in the revolutionary movement, he said, but his real attitude can be seen from the fact horses of the band are kept constantly saddled at night under the watchful eyes of sentries and that all approaches to the camp are guarded by Villa's scouts. At a moment's notice the band is ready to mount and fiee or to fight.

This was the comment of a prospecting manufacturer just the other day, who reluctantly consented to stop over and make investigation of Cisco. He was happily surprised, and was so pleased with the advantages in water, distribution facilities, and the real beauty of the city, that he will endeavor to induce his company to locate here. He says "Cisco isn't getting the publicity outside that her advantages and attractions merit." He had just returned from a visit to Cisco's new water reservoir site, and was full of enthusiasm over this wonderfully beautiful canyon.

So it is, Cisco is not being seen to advantage by tourists and by foreing many people to buy their homes. After this has been accomplished and those who read about Central West Texas. GRAPE GROWERS HOPE FOR LIGHT WINES.

CALIFORNIA grape growers, who now have vinegards sway ing under a great crop, are said to be anxiously waiting in anticipation that some turn in national legislation will permit their turning this crop into light wines. This was a late telegraphic report.

But other viewers differ, and just "how disastrous prohibition may be to certain lines of business in the United States may be inferred from the experience of California grape growers," says a writer on the subject. This writer says:

"As prohibition became more and more a possibility the grape growers on the Pacific slope believed they were facing certain ruin rants for the republican nomination for and began preparations to replace their vineyards with other crops.

GIL'S GLEANINGS

On May 20, 1919. Babe Ruth had only we home rens to his credit during the season. On May 20, 1920, the big slugger had counted for five homers, since the league opened, so he is doing even better than last year when he hung up his world's record for circuit drives.

Big Jim Galloway, manager of the Nitros, decided it was time for Ranger to win a game at Gorman yesterday, and he did his share of the slugging by producing two home runs. It was all in vain, however, for his teammates could not stop the hard hitting of the Buddies.

At the rate Ranger has been going lately the Nitros will have to carry about 12 pitchers to keep up with her needs. Galloway used four hurlers against the Buddles yesterday, and he evidently could have found room in the ine-up for two or three more.

City Health Officer Dr. J. W. Greg. ry has called to his aid the Women's Civic League in the sanitary inspection and the effort to have the city's sanitary laws enforced.

UNSANITARY CONDITIONS

During the recent clean-up campaign, at a meeting of the Civic League, the Y. M. B. L. and representatives of the city, it was agreed that the Civic League's committee in charge of the campaign should be continued as a permanent committee to be active in the city's sanitary interests. At that time the city was divided into six district with a member of the league in charge of each district. It is these prominer women, these untiring workers for a clean and civic Cisco, that Dr. Gregory has now called to his aid.

Since the campaign, says Dr. Gregory, some people are growing lax again and are throwing cans, rubbish and filth into the alleys. It is to look after these violators that the Civic League mem. bers are now called upon to help the health officer round up, and see that their attention is given to ordinance 222, which requires metal cans with tight. fitting tops in which all dry garbam must be placed, and left near the city's alleys for the garbage wagon. The dietor calls attention to the fact that open barrels, tubs and other like receptacles will not be allowed any longer. The health officer says that the Civic League will make regular inspections and report all violations to the proper authorities. He warns that all back yards, vacant lots and alleys must be kept free from rubbish and filth, and that persisent violators are going to be dealt with as the city ordinance directs. insofar as the health department has power. They have had six months' instruction on ordinance 222, and that is nough, he says.

Dr. Gregory added that the Mexican quarter north of the Katy and T. & P. railroad tracks will be brought under the sanitary regulations, and have been given until the 30th to comply,
