NOW THE BATTLESHIP FACES THE BIG TEST

If you know what the future of the battleship is going to be, the experts of the 1935 naval conference will probably give you a job.

Battleships have been ignored by naval conferences ever since the historic Washington conference of 1921. With two or three exceptions, no battleships have been launched since then.

Next year, however, there is to be a new conference, and the battleship will cut a big figure. A strong move to cut down battleship sizes has begun.

Only the United States would keep the figure where it is now—at 35,000 tons.

Back of all this difference of opinion are certain strategic considerations, of course; but the chief factor is the inability of naval experts to agree on what role the battleship will play in future naval warfare.

The evolution of these gigantic fighting ships is interesting.

Originally the battleship was simply a grown-up cruiser. The old-time "line of battleship" of sailing days had three gun decks where the frigate, or cruiser, had but one.

The evolution of the revolving turret, begun with Ericsson's Monitor, led to a new kind of battleship, one which had a strong secondary battery arranged in a broadside, and a big-gun battery of four guns, mounted in pairs in turrets.

Then came the dreadnaught type, in which four or six turrets were mounted on a line amidships, capable of being fired on either broadside, and the secondary battery was reduced to unimportance.

It was then that the battleship really began to grow. Hulls were made larger and larger, armor plate was made heavier and heavier, the big guns were made more and more powerful; and now we seem to have reached the limit of useful size, so that some experts doubt if the huge battleship is really worth what it costs.

The argument probably will not be settled until a large-scale naval war is fought and the relative value of the different types of fighting ship is decided in actual combat.

And we can only hope that the United States fleet isn't one of those with which the test is made.

THE VALVE POPS

A lot of Americans must have a real fellow-feeling for the Long Island gentleman who wandered into a police court at Jamaica, N. Y., the other day to make out a summons, found the judge all alone and expressed a desire to make a speech.

Since nothing must was going on, the judge didn't object. So this man got up on a bench and proceeded to orate about the NRA, touching on the statute of liberty, repeal, the 1929 stock market crash and various other matters and winding up with a tribute to President Roosevelt.

Then, having said his say, he took the summons he had come to get and departed, quite happy.

All of us, at one time or another, feel the urge to speechify. Most of us never get the chance to gratify that urge, and it's a bit tough on us.

This chap saw his chance and took it. Most of us, probably, know just how he felt.

The Town Quack

Speaking of sand storms in the Panhandle and plains country, Will Rogers once said that the sand storms were our reward for ruining the best cattle country that the hoof of a cow ever trod on.

They tell a story about a bad sand storm up in the Panhandle, back in the early days. The wind had been blowing for several days so bad that everybody had to stay indoors.

The weather changed overnight and everyone seemed surprised this morning. Since 1492 the weather has changed once every week or two, so why do people still show surprise?

Now and then you read the statement of some scientist that the world will come to an end in 6-million years or some such far fetched prediction.

SOCIETY

Mothers' Day Was Observed With Special Programs at Various Midland Churches

Mothers' day in Midland was indeed mother's day. Before the church hour, cars carrying sons and daughters with their mothers were seen en route to different churches where special services were to be held.

A most impressive service was held at the First Methodist church. Special music included an anthem, "Rock Me to Sleep, Mother," by the choir under the direction of Mrs. De Lo Douglas and two solos.

Members of the Masonic lodge attended the service in a body. In keeping with the thought of Mother's day, all services of the Christian church were dedicated to the mothers present.

Both services of the First Presbyterian church were also dedicated to mothers. "Mothers and the Cross of Christ" was the subject of the pastor at the morning hour.

Men's Bible classes of the city observed the day with varied programs. The Methodist men's class heard Mrs. John Dabbs sing "Little Mother of Mine" by Burleigh and Miss Lydia Watson.

The Rev. E. B. Chancellor, pastor of the Christian church, spoke to the Naomi class Sunday morning, using as his subject, "Behold, Thy Mother." Members of the class sang as an opening number, "Mother's Bible," which was dedicated to Mrs. Eliza Fuzzelman, 85, who was the oldest mother in attendance.

At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Roy Parks very effectively sang "Sweetest Story Ever Told." She was accompanied by Miss Edna Marie Jones. The class attended the Presbyterian church in a body.

Young people organization of the city also presented Mother's day programs. Mothers attending the Royal Workers B. Y. P. U. programs outnumbered the members present.

At the Black Swan, Robert Hines, Roy Blackburn, Joan Arnett, Willie Mae Wesson and Dorothy Hines. Other organizations presenting special programs were the Perfect Pushers and Everready unions of the Baptist church and the Young People's department of the Church of Christ.

adults, library service, and relief work of all kinds scores of children were fed, clothed, and given supplies; the sick and unemployed were cared for; and cooperation was given Spanish-speaking groups.

The year's work was marked by better programs and more study groups. Nine of the latter were pre-school groups. Parent education and character development were the main subjects studied by these groups. It is possible that good programs had something to do with gaining and holding the large membership secured this year.

District conference at Abilene was the climax of a fruitful year's work. Four hundred delegates and visitors made the attendance the largest in the history of the district. One memorial life membership and six life memberships were pledged. A program full of overflowing with inspiration and wise enlightenment was given. As a result to this invitation the delegate body voted to send the district president as a delegate to the national convention. She wishes to express to the entire membership of the district her heartfelt appreciation for this unusual honor.

Many associations will stay on the job all summer—some by putting on the Summer Round-Up; others through recreational programs and supervised playgroups. Safeguard the little ones entering school next fall by sending them on their great adventure 100 per cent free of remedial physical defects.

Let all leaders and workers spend as much of the summer months as possible in study and preparation, in order that education which benefits pure, undefiled service may abound in Sixth district.

WHERE THE RARE WINES come from they know that the two most important things in wine-making are the selection of the grapes and the long years of ageing in the wine cellars.

IT'S VERY MUCH THE SAME in the making of a cigarette. You have to get the right tobaccos, then put them away to age and mellow in wooden casks.

You can't make a good cigarette like Chesterfield in a day. It takes over two years to age the tobaccos for your Chesterfields—but it adds something to the taste and makes them milder.

BOTH MIDLAND GOLF CLUBS, LEAGUE LEADERS, WIN MATCHES

SAND BELT SWEEPS MATCHES WITH STANTON

Midland more firmly encoined herself in the throne room of the Sand Belt Golf association Sunday afternoon by making a clean sweep of the feared Stanton match. The score was 32 to 8.

Remembering what Stanton did to the Midland club towards the end of last season, taking the locals down at a time Midland was threatening to win the association flag, Midland's eight men play-off chins-down golf and with the exception of one match, won by hand margin.

Elliot Miller, fourth man to play the No. 1 position this season, shot an 80 and up on Glaser, 4 and 3. C. L. Jackson, No. 2 man for the afternoon, was one under par when he won his match 8 and 6, from Adams. He won the first seven holes and was three under par on the 18th hole in spite of a topped drive on the latter.

Morgan Neils 77 was not the favorite of his match with Buck Fenwick. He put his man out without allowing the latter even a halved hole for a 10 and 8 win, the greatest possible over the 18-hole distance. Don Sivalls took an 85 and put out B. Burnham 3 and 4. Joe D. Chambers 80 bested

THIS IS GOLF!

Some figures on the Midland Sand Belt club, leader in its association: In four matches has scored 116 points, or 27 1-2 per match out of a possible total of 32!

Sunday's team score average was 80. The club has posted the same total number of points this year that it made through the first four matches of last, but expects to show improvement the remainder of the year, rather than a decline as of last season.

Woodard, former No. 1 man from Stanton, 2 and 1. This was the lightest match of the afternoon. Earl J. Moran, playing with the Sand Belt for the first time this season, carded a 76 to put Pursor out 6 and 5. Previqis to the match Moran had shot only 36 holes in the last year, team members said.

In the last foursome, De Lo Douglas shot a 76 and set down H. Burnham 8 and 7, and Harold Dean, playing for the first time on the Sand Belt team, fired a 78 into the Forest King, to take a 5 and 4 decision.

Farrell, Ruggles Top Comedy Cast At Yucca Theatre

"Girl Without a Room," showing tomorrow and Wednesday at the Yucca theatre is an adaptation of Jack Lait's sensational story of the same name. In the screen play Charles Farrell and Marguerite Churchill furnish the romantic interest, while Charlie Ruggles, Gregory Ratoff, Walter Woolf, and Grace Bradley are in the supporting cast.

The picture was directed by Ralph Murphy from a screen script written by Frank Butler and Claude Binyon.

The story is the fast and furious romance between a young boy from the mountains of Tennessee and the most glamorous artists' model in all Paris.

Charles Farrell wins a scholarship in the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Montmartre. His success comes so suddenly, he is bewildered by it all, and arrives in the art colony still bewildered.

His first day there he meets Marguerite Churchill, vivacious model, and the toast of all Montmartre.

Farrell's complete innocence and his fat bankroll make him a welcome addition to the struggling colony, whose members call their crazy doings—ART.

To the tune of haunting songs, topped with hilarious laughs and Bohemian hi-jinks, his romance goes from the dregs of despair and jealousy to the ecstasy of young love.

KAT KLAU IS TIED FOR FIRST WITH HOBBS CLUB

Taking advantage of their knowledge of the name links, Midland's team in the Kat Klaw administered a 22 to 18 defeat to their arch rivals from Hobbs, N. M., Sunday afternoon.

The win brought Midland to within two points of the imposing total tabulated by Hobbs this season. Neither team has lost a match.

Ellis Cowden, playing his first competitive match since being retired as Midland's No. 1 in the Sand Belt lineup early last season, was at the turn in three over par, but was put out on the 13th by Johnny Neal, who was three under at the turn and even part at the end of the route. Neal has the reputation of having broken par on every course he ever played as many as three times. Frank Johnson won from Daugherty, former Texas university flash, 2 and 1.

Johnson carded an 81 and Daugherty, who had difficulty in keeping his goods inside the fence, got around in 84. Midland lost the low ball match on the 13th hole.

In the second foursome, A. C. Cumbrough of Hobbs took Pat Riley, one up, in a match that saw Riley brough compile a score of 78. Klem 79. H. S. Porgerson of Midland, won from H. Michael on the 13th green, turning in one under par and being even par when the match was over. Midland won the low ball 7 and 5. Bill Simpson's 77 was too much for Stodghill's 85, the Midland man retiring his opponent 7 and 6. Harry Adams did not fare so well, however, losing Hobbs' V. Varahan, 3 and 2. The winner shot an 85, Adams 82. Midland won the low ball 6 and 5.

Red Knight posted a 78 to take a 3 and 2 decision over B. Hines, who carded 81, but his team made from Midland. Harvey Hardison was having trouble all afternoon, scoring a 91 and losing 2 and 1. Midland was able to take a 2 and 1 low ball match, however.

Scenes of the recent ship disaster in which one of Uncle Sam's destroyers was destroyed by fire off a China port is shown in the current issue of the Fox News at the Yucca, today and tomorrow. This is the same ship which carried a Midland boy, L. H. Wood. A group of the survivors is also shown.

Installation of the big cooling system at the Yucca has been completed and was used for the first time Sunday. It cools the big playhouse effectively. Its cooling qualities are vouched for by the joking remark of one of the employees, who Sunday, who this morning remarked, "This cold spell isn't due to general weather conditions; someone must have left a door open at the Yucca yesterday."

Those in charge of the construction of the system were: Guy Brennehan, carpenter work; John P. Howe, plumbing, and H. N. Phillips, electrical work.

Gable-Colbert Star Together For First Time

The marked popularity of "It Happened One Night," showing at the Yucca theatre today and Tuesday, attracts the favor in which Clark Gable and Claudette Colbert are held among local movie-goers. The romantic pair, teamed together on the screen for the first time in this delightful romantic comedy-drama, enact the most colorful roles in their respective careers. Gable appearing as the knightly ex-newspaper reporter, and Miss Colbert portraying the petulant, supercilious "Ellie Andrews," a runaway heiress making her way to New York.

The two meet, rather inauspiciously, on a hill near Miami. Gable notes with growing concern the girl's apparent helplessness and takes her under his wing. Missing the bus at a stop-over, they decide to hitch-hike the rest of the way. Their adventures from this point on provides a wealth of comedy, romance and drama, presented in the finest directorial tradition of Frank Capra, the man who also made "Lady for a Day" and "American Madness."

Robert Riskin adapted "It Happened One Night" from the Cosmopolitan Magazine story by Samuel Hopkins Adams, which was published under the title of "Night Bus." In the large supporting cast are Walter Connolly, as Miss Colbert's traitor father; Roscoe Karns, a traveling salesman who puts Claudette "on the make," rather unsuccessfully; Ward Bond as the bus driver; Blanche Frederick; Alan Hale; James Thomas; Arthur Hoyt and others in minor but important roles.

Lomax Collecting Negro Spirituals

MERIDIAN (AP)—A studious appearing man with a recording photograph visiting Bosque county negroes and cajoling them into songs has been identified as John A. Lomax, commissioned by the library of congress in Austin, Tex.

Lomax already noted for his folklore collections and collections of range songs now is specializing in the "sinful songs," as the negroes call their melodies that are not spirituals.

Alan Lomax, son of the noted collector, has been with his father on most of the tour. He now is temporarily in Austin, Tex.

Together father and son traveled more than 15,000 miles in Texas, Mississippi, Tennessee and Louisiana. They visited negroes in remote communities to get the songs in their most native stage. The records being taken will be preserved on celluloid and aluminum plates.

Real negro singing, Dr. Lomax said, is much different from the negro college quartet or concert hall singing with which the public is familiar.

Real negro singing is not "contaminated" with adaptations from white compositions, Dr. Lomax said. He listed repetition of closing lines as a typical "trait."

The natural negro songs make no attempt at artificial effects but bursts from the singer as naturally and as freely as the warbling of a bird," he added. "He sings the last bar with the same emphasis as the first. Few persons other than Southerners have heard the negro songs in the artless simplicity that gives them their greatest charm."

SEVENTH INNING RALLY GIVES IRAAN 4 TO 2 DECISION OVER MIDLAND CLUB

Trailing the Midland club two runs, Iraan swung its bludgeons with good effect in the seventh inning of Sunday's game here, converting six hits and one Midland error into three runs. This lead the club never relinquished, and the tally rung up in the ninth by Lewis, who employed a double steal to spike the plate, was not needed.

Lefty Smith allowed Midland only two hits, L. Rose was touched 11 times and Midland's seven errors further contributed to the run-making.

Poncha Villa's Tomb Now Remains Empty

CHIHUAHUA, Chih. Mex. (AP)—The ornate tomb which the late Francisco (Poncho) Villa ordered for himself in the old cemetery, Panteon de la Regia, remains empty today.

At the height of his career as Mexico's "strong man," Villa ordered the chapel built and expressed the wish that he be buried there. Instead, his body lies in Parral, Chih., far from the costly spot he chose.

Besides his "tomb," Villa built 10 more for his most trusted aides because he wanted to be near them in death.

The 10 men lie in the tombs Villa ordered for them: Faustino Borunda, one of his most trusted men; Jose E. Rodriguez, shot by a firing squad in 1916; Donato Guerra, Abraham Gonzalez, Martiniano Sem, who was shot to death in 1916 because he refused to tell federal where his chief was hiding; Andrés Vargas, killed at Celaya; Anacleto
