SIDNEY HOUSE FUNERAL TODAY

BIG SPRING, May 15.—Funeral services for Sidney W. House, 26, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the home chapel beginning at 5 o'clock with the Rev. S. J. Shettlesworth, pastor of the First Christian church, in charge. Burial will follow in Masonic cemetery. The following will act as escorts: Coy. Mitchell, O. L. Williams, Horace Smith, O. L. Hopper, Cecil Long, John Hodges.

House, operator of a motorcycle delivery service in this city, was fatally injured about 8:45 p. m. Sunday when the motorcycle he was riding collided head-on with a Ford touring car on a curve just west of Dixie camp on the San Angelo highway. House was on route to the city park, where a weiner roast was being tendered visitors from Lubbock who had been in Big Spring Sunday to participate in motorcycle polo games.

The accident occurred on the highway just as both the motorcycle ridden by House and the car occupied by R. B. Davidson, Earl Davidson and Jack Morton of near Center Point community were rounding the curve. According to Davidson the motorcycle struck the car on the left side, throwing House against the side of the car, his head striking the hinge of the back door, causing a compound fracture of the skull, and other injuries.

He was rushed to a local hospital in an Eberley ambulance, where he died at 10 o'clock. He never regained consciousness.

House, son of Frank J. House and Mrs. Irba House of Midland was born August 9, 1908, in Sterling county. Besides his parents, he is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Hoppel House, and a son, Frank Edward House, 1 year old; a grandmother, Mrs. Mattie House, and grandfather, T. J. Sherrod, both of Sterling City.

'Low Down Skunk' Barrow and 'Yellow Punk' Hamilton Call Each Other Names

All of Us Agree Both Are About Right

DALLAS, May 15. (UP)—A letter received today by Winter King, assistant district attorney, signed by Clyde Barrow and bearing his finger prints, said the desperado had broken definitely with Raymond Hamilton.

King reported that the letter said Barrow would surrender and submit to trial if Hamilton could prove that he had never killed a man. The letter was mailed at McKinney, 25 miles north of here, at 7:30 last night.

"It makes me sick to see a yellow punk like that playing the baby and making a jury cry over him. If he was half as smart as me officers wouldn't catch him either," Barrow wrote of Hamilton.

"Clyde's just degenerated into a low down skunk," commented Raymond Hamilton on the letter, in the county jail here today.

He denied implications in the letter that Hamilton killed the highway patrolmen near Grapevine and was responsible for the death of a prison guard in the Eastham prison break. Hamilton said he did not know of the slaying of the highway patrolmen on Easter Sunday and the following Monday when he swiped a paper from a rural mail box.

Edom Will Have Big Political Gathering

AUSTIN, (UP)—Edom Van Zandt county is credited with a population of only 300, but some of the state's political races probably will be decided there this year. Edom will hold a four-day political gathering, July 18-21.

All state-wide candidates are to be invited. Former Gov. "Jim" Ferguson will be asked to make one of his speeches for Charley McDonald there.

Former State Senator Tomas Poliard, Tyler, said that separate days will be designated for certain races, one day being reserved for gubernatorial candidates alone. He said that Attorney General James V. Allred had the spunk to resent the East Texas oil gathering at Tyler calling him to his "judgment day" meeting to account for his stewardship. He sent word from Longview, where he was trying an oil suit, that he was accountable to all the people of Texas, not to any group. Apparently they liked it.

The meeting praised Allred's endeavors to check hot oil. Allred laughingly evaded efforts of a group of newspaper correspondents here this week to get him to say whom he expects to have as an opponent in the August run-off primary. He would not adopt the suggestion that a run-off might not be required to settle the race.

Tom F. Hunter is the first openly to claim a place in the run-off. He has announced campaign dates in August.

May 18 has been selected by Lieut. Gov. Edgar E. Witt for the formal opening of his campaign to become "Centennial governor." The meeting will be at his birthplace, Belton. Wayman Whitley, Bell county page in the Texas senate, is credited with originating the invitation for the lieutenant-governor to "open" there. Witt will be the first of candidates for governor to take the stump. He has made only short radio talks, to date.

Court decisions that negroes must be admitted to the democratic primaries will have no effect on Brazoria county races. The whites held a taxpayers primary there last Saturday and selected a full county tickets which all are pledged to support the regular democratic primary.

Hunter earns the week's award for campaign wisecracks. He referred to the youthful attorney general as "the little boy with the big breeches."

H. O. Johnson is winner of the publicity stunt prize. He resorted to creek bathing while campaigning in Jasper county, in his race for railroad commissioner.

Fast Texas lawyers who are supporting Clyde Smith for attorney general held a rally for him at Woodville Friday. Brownsville citizens will banquet Sen. Walter Woodward Monday night when he arrives there to open a valley tour in his campaign for attorney general.

ARIZONA CHILD'S ABDUCTORS WILL BE KNOWN WITHIN 24 HOURS, ANNOUNCED; SIX GETTLE SUSPECTS HELD

Possible Link with Organized Ring Studied

LOS ANGELES, May 15. (UP)—Three confessed kidnapers, captured in the police raid that recaptured William F. Gettle, were examined today for a possible link with an organized abduction ring.

Gettle was found last night, bound and blindfolded, in the back bedroom of a gambling den. He said no ransom was paid. Several others were arrested on suspicion.

GETTLE HOGGARD BUT FOUND UNHARMED

LOS ANGELES, May 15.—William F. Gettle, worn and haggard but unharmful, was delivered from his abductors late Monday in a spectacular raid on a small La Crescenta home by sheriff's officers and police.

Acting on a tip received earlier in the day the officers raided a house at 4256 Rosemont Avenue, La Crescenta, north of Glendale, and arrested a man who gave his name as Roy Williams. A second man ran from the house and escaped.

This man later was captured and police announced that four men and two women, all the suspects in the case, were in custody.

On a bed inside the officers found the Beverly Hills millionaire who was kidnaped from his country estate at Arcadia as an all day party was drawing to a close there last Wednesday night. Gettle lay flat on his back, his hands bound and a court plaster mask over his face.

Officers said he was unable to speak for a few minutes, but on being taken to the sheriff's office told them the man who had escaped was the "real brains" of the kidnap gang.

News that he had been freed spread so rapidly that several hundred persons were crowded about the sheriff's office when they arrived with the man for whose safe return a futile attempt had been made early Monday that to pay $50,000 ransom.

That afternoon a man giving the name of Jimmy Kirk and two women who said they were Ann Williams and June Ward, were taken in custody at a Los Angeles apartment.

Trace Phone Call
Detective Lieutenant C. Burry and H. P. Gacharati had traced them from a telephone call made by a man from a drug store on South Linden avenue to a member of the Gettle family. In Kirk's possession was found a card bearing the address of the kidnaped millionaire's home at 724 North Linden Drive, Beverly Hills, and the name "Gettles."

After questioning Kirk, the officers said they obtained the address of the La Crescenta house where Gettle was found.

Cap. William C. Bright of the sheriff's homicide detail announced no ransom was paid.

Gettle, as he was led through the crowd about the hall of justice where the sheriff's office is located, wore the glasses he was believed to have lost as he was hoisted over the wall of his Arcadia estate. Over these were a pair of smoked glasses, apparently given him by the kidnapers to wear as a disguise.

Drawn and Haggard
Although he seemed drawn and haggard, there was a faint smile about Gettle's lips. The officers (See GETTLE, page 6)

Women Golfers Meet Thursday

Members of the Midland Women's Golf association meet at 9:30 Thursday morning at country club for completion of plans for entering players in the women's division of the West Texas Golf association's tenth annual championship tournament.

Other matters, classified as business, are due to be discussed.

Police of the nation made smashing retaliation at gangdom Monday when in two swoops, it rescued victims of the two latest outrages, arrested six gang members, laid the foundation for more arrests, and averted the payment of a cent of ransom.

Mothers' Day Visit Turns into Tragedy

A Mothers' day visit of Mrs. R. J. Currie of Midland with her mother was turned into tragedy Monday when Mrs. C. Matlock of Plainview, suddenly died.

Mrs. Matlock, who leaves nine children, was in excellent health a few minutes before her death, information received by Midland friends this morning said.

Miss Mollie B. Bagley, daughter of Mrs. Currie, left for Plainview this morning. Rites were pending information on arrival of other family members.

GOV. BLACK TO RESIGN

WASHINGTON, May 15. (UP)—Governor Eugene Black of the federal reserve board will resign as soon as congress adjourns, it was learned authoritatively today.

THE FORECAST

WEST TEXAS: Fair, warmer in west and north portions tonight; Wednesday fair and warmer.

Agents Investigate Whether Ransom Was Paid

TUCSON, May 15. (UP)—Department of Justice Agent Joseph Dunn said today that the identity of the kidnapers of June Robles would be known within 24 hours.

Agents today were investigating reports that ransom had been paid before the six year old child was released last night from a hot desert hole.

The last offer of her father was $10,000.

It was believed that June had been kept captive for the entire 19 days abashed in a dark stuffy cage under the desert sun.

Two garbage cans, one containing drinking water, were the chief clues to the kidnapers.

CHILD CHAINED IN CACTUS-COVERED HOLE

TUCSON, Ariz., May 15. (UP)—Chained in a cactus covered hole in the desert that soon would have become her grave, little June Robles was found alive Monday, 19 miles from the most spectacular kidnaping from Tucson, and thus ended one case that ever aroused the south-west.

Following instructions in a special delivery airmail letter received from Chicago in the office of Gov. B. B. McCreary in Phoenix, Clarence Houston, Pima county attorney, and Carlos Robles, an uncle, found the 6-year-old girl whose seizure April 25 stirred the one time frontier country into strenuous action for days.

Chains were on her ankles; she was described as "quite ill" and too weak to walk but authorities said she doubtless would recover. She was deeply sunburned and covered with the dirt of the desert.

Over the gravelly hole in which she was found was a thicket of cactus, supported by tin and bur-lap. Houston and the uncle said she probably had been in the hole most of the time since being smothered from a street here April 25 while on her way home from school.

No ransom was paid, authorities said.

The communication which solved the mystery of the little girl's whereabouts was not signed. The handwriting was declared by officials to be identical with that of the ransom note received by her father, Fernando Robles, two hours later. (See ROBLES, page 6)

RELIEF STILL IS FIRST ABOVE ALL REFORMS

Harry Hopkins' warning that the federal government may have to spend billions of dollars more than it has spent for unemployment relief and public works projects is a sharp warning that one of the most important jobs of the New Deal is a long way from being finished.

Whatever else the present administration may seek to do, and however quickly its various policies may be criticized, there is one point on which all hands are agreed. People who can't get work are not going to suffer from hunger, cold, and homelessness any longer.

So far the federal administration has spent $1,500,000,000 on unemployment relief. Relief Administrator Hopkins was given $950,000,000 this spring to carry him through the summer; but it is going fast, and there is every indication that it is not going to be enough.

For there is one disturbing fact in connection with the recovery program. Unemployment may be shrinking, and payrolls may be going up; but there are today some 4,700,000 people on federal relief rolls, as compared with 4,500,000 a year ago.

In other words, an increasing number of jobless people, unable to date to hook themselves up with jobs, have come to the end of their resources and are obliged to turn to Uncle Sam.

In spite of business improvement, Uncle Sam is directly supporting more people now than he was supporting a year ago. There is no reason to believe that the present rate of revival will materially reduce the number in the immediate future.

This brings us up against the key factor in the whole question.

Back of all our talk about codes, reform measures, monetary policies, and the like there is this large, solid, and interesting body of people who will starve if the government doesn't provide them with food and shelter.

They must be taken care of, because while the job of caring for them is expensive, it isn't half so expensive as cutting them off the relief rolls would be.

The pressure which this fact may exert on any recovery program is not a thing to be overlooked. No estimate of the New Deal's accomplishments and no forecast of its future course will be worth much if the presence of these 4,700,000 on the relief rolls is overlooked.

FUTILITY OF ARMAMENT

French newspapers are worried now by reports that Germany is constructing a chain of rocket bases along the frontier, ready to shower a vast number of explosive rockets all over France.

One newspaper says projectiles capable of traveling 125 miles have been developed, and it is estimated that with a large chain of rocket bases Germany could dump 50,000 tons of high explosives on French soil in one night.

The French frontier forts may be invulnerable; but what, asks a Paris paper, is the use of that, if all of France may lie dead and burned behind them?

The Town Quack

(Illustrate the right to "quack" about anything without taking a stand on anything.)

A man who has stayed drunk most of the time for 20 years is dearly loved by his wife. Another man, who behaves fairly well and works hard, is raked over the coals real often by his wife. It's hard to understand that sort of a situation.

This is the time of the year when a lot of men are spending much of their time planning and talking about a fishing trip. If all of those trips were actually taken, and all of those fish were actually caught, some fish would have to be brought from the sea to re-stock the rivers and creeks.

Arthur Johnson, Dr. Thomas, Billy Sparks, Jax Cowden, Doc Carter and Charley Goldsmith used to take some big fishing trips. Those were the good old days.

Bob Harper's used to be the first stop for all out-going fishing cars from Midland.

Green Island Is Bird's Paradise

PORT ISABEL. (AP)—Green Island, bird sanctuary in the Laguna Madre north of here, once more presents its fantastic picture of countless nests and eggs, thousands of young birds and great numbers of older birds as the water and land birds from miles around gather at this refuge for the nesting season.

Valley people who have visited the island recently report that the ground in places is literally covered with nests and eggs and that the young are now visible.

Birds of all kinds nest on this island because they are protected from both man and beast, but it is famous mainly as a nesting place for water birds. The bulk of the reddish egrets still in existence are found around the island. The terns, bitterns, herons, and scores of other breeds of water birds gather at this refuge every spring and make their nests.

This year there is a large number of terns than usual. These birds formerly nested in great numbers on the mud flats and islands between Port Isabel and Brown-San Diego cove. With the dredging of the channel through that section last fall the islands became part of the mainland and only a few birds are nesting there.

Green island is one of the most famous bird sanctuaries in the world. Protected by the National Audubon society, the island is said to contain during the nesting season the greatest variety of bird life of any similar area.

The island has a great variety of terrain with many brushy sections, some large trees, grassy flats and plenty of low shoreline.

Land birds, sensing the protection there, come from all parts of the Valley and nest in its trees and frequently one big tree will have a

What Are You Going to Serve for That Wedding or for That Graduation Party?

By MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer

June and roses and brides and girl graduates! It all sounds very romantic. There is one note though that may not be so romantic but is highly important—food for these sentimental occasions!

The class breakfast and the Junior-Senior banquet are two important affairs which require special maternal planning and preparation.

If you will remember that there are two or three well defined differences between a breakfast and a luncheon it may make your menu a bit easier to arrange. Thus the breakfast coffee always served in large cups, may be brought on with the main course, while luncheon coffee always is served at the end of the meal.

Breads are hot for a breakfast, eggs in some form if only in a sauce are demanded, a salad is never served, a salad is permitted but must be simple and a formal sweet should not be served before high noon. With these exceptions any foods you would use for a luncheon are suitable for breakfast.

Fruit Cup Popular

Fruit cup is popular for almost any occasion, breakfast, luncheon or dinner. If made of seasonal fruits it is quite inexpensive, too. Pineapple, strawberries and orange sections combine deliciously. Let them stand in a shallow dish several hours to blend and chill and then serve very cold. Grapefruit stuffed with white sweet cherries, wedges of pineapple, fine large strawberries—these all are seasonal and inviting.

If soup is wanted for the dinner a clear bouillon or consommé served with toast, crackers and relishes is better than a heavy soup.

The main course will depend upon how much money is to be spent. Chicken is safe, and so are birds, a safe choice, too, and not so dear. Creamed peas and potato marbles rolled in minced parsley will go with either. Then of course you need buttered rolls and perhaps preserves or jelly.

For a separate salad course try stuffed tomato, jellied vegetable, frozen cheese or head lettuce with Thousand Island dressing.

Brick ice cream in the class colors with squares of cake frosted in the class numerals makes an appropriate dessert.

Mints in the colors and salted nuts will finish the menu.

Treat call for little sandwiches and cakes. The tiny cakes known as "bonnet Bouches" are especially likely to appeal to fastidious young persons. Squares, triangles, diamonds and rounds are cut from a sheet of delicate but rather compact white cake. These are dipped in melted fondant, covering the sides, tops and bottoms with the creamy frosting. Make the fondant as usual several days or a week before wanted. Melt in a double boiler over hot water when ready to coat the cakes. Make the bonnet bouches large enough to make not more than three polite bites.

Assorted Sandwiches

Assorted sandwiches never fail to win approval. Rolled ones, ribbon, checker-boards, various fillings and various breads afford a wide and varied assortment.

Perhaps some novel ways of serving ice cream and cake may help solve the problem of refreshments for the "spread" which usually follows any form of class or commencement entertainment.

Small cup cakes, decoratively frosted may have their tops neatly sliced off and most of the soft crumb removed. These cavities are then filled with ice cream and the tops replaced.

Ice cream of vanilla or mint ice cream is placed between two slices of plain, unfrosted devil's-food cake and hot fudge chocolate sauce is poured over the whole. Sprinkle with shredded and toasted almonds.

Fill a baked pie shell with bulk ice cream in any preferred flavor. Cover with a thick meringue and brown the meringue quickly in a hot oven. This is a version of the elaborate baked Alaska. Both the pie shell and the meringue will receive credit. Mrs. E. B. Paterson offered the closing prayer.

ACT I
A birthday fiesta is being given in the patio of Señor Dictorio in honor of his twin daughters, Benita and Juanita. Señor Dictorio has invited the renowned toreadors of Spain, Señor Swateo and Señor Whackeo, to the celebration in hopes of announcing their engagement to his daughters. His ambition to have these famous toreadors as sons-in-law is so great that he ignores the proposals of Juan and Pablo—sons of neighboring farmers—as well as the pleas of Benita and Juanita in their behalf.

Juan and Pablo, having been forbidden to come near the girls, secure the aid of two wandering beggars to disguise themselves as the great toreadors, thus hoping to disgust the father with their actions. The disguised toreadors arrive in great glory and are greeted enthusiastically by all except Benita and Juanita.

ACT II
Señor Dictorio, wishing to impress his daughters with the bravery of the toreadors, arranges for a bull fight at the fiesta in which the pseudo toreadors are to participate. Calamity ensues as the wild bull rushes on the scene amidst the merrymaking, thereby disclosing the impostors and their false bravery. A letter is received from Señor Swateo and Señor Whackeo stating that they are unable to attend the fiesta or to marry the daughters due to unexpected complications.

Juan and Pablo, having accomplished their aim, are restored in the good graces of Señor Dictorio and are allowed to marry Benita and Juanita with the father's blessing.

Forecast Largest Fruit Crop in Years

DALHART (AP)—One of the largest fruit crops in years is forecast for the Dalhart territory. Gus Coats, prominent rancher, says the sandy reaches along the Canadian river are laden with wild plums, Apples and other fruits are prolific in the Tascosa country. S. W. UNCHANGED

By Helen Welshimer

I WALKED a row of twilights,
Heart-hoping I would see
Your face some quiet hour,
And when you smiled at me
Old dreams would stir, believing
That your eyes, brave and wise,
Remembering, would wander
To our brief Paradise.

ONE sun-bright noon I found you,
But you no longer wore
The shining steel blue armor—
That I had loved before—
Our little road to Heaven
Wound vaguely down the hill;
Your plumes were grey and dragged,
Why do I love you still?

detained him briefly to seek identification of Kirk and the women. Officers expressed belief that Kirk had conducted telephone negotiations with Ernest E. Noon, the family's intermediary. Police said a list of the telephone calls had been made in Beverly Hills and Hollywood, many of them from within a few blocks of the Gettle home.

say," Deputy Sheriff E. S. Now, who rode beside Gettle from Los Angeles to Los Angeles, quoted the kidnaper as saying: "They fed me all right, but kept me trussed up. They blindfolded me and gagged me and removed the gag only when they fed me. I had no idea where I was. I was surprised to find I was so close to home. "When they kidnapped me they blindfolded me and drove for hours. I was under the impression they had taken me out somewhere near Riverside." (55 miles east of here.) Rowe said Gettle told him his right side was injured when the two gunmen who kidnapped him pushed him from the seven and a half foot wall at his estate in getting him outside to their car. He leaned on the officers as he walked with two of them, arm in arm. District Attorney Bureau Pitts announced action against the alleged kidnappers would be started today. "We will seek at least life sentences for every person involved," he said. Previously he had said the California state law provides a death penalty only when the kidnapped persons has been injured by his abductor.

Farrell Happy After Conflict For Light Role
The simmered down to feud between two gangs, one headed by the three notorious Shelton brothers, one headed by Charlie Birger. Before the lawless feud ended, 15 men and two women lay dead. Birger was a New Yorker who drifted to Harrisburg, Saline county, Ill., where he was demobilized as a cavalryman. He was affable and kindly, a good family man, and was well-liked. He became allied with the Sheltons in bootlegging operations.

"I am playing exactly the type of role I always have wanted to play. For several years, I never had a chance to play anything but romantic roles. When I severed my studio relations in an effort to play the roles I wanted, I went without work for eight months. "I was fighting for a principle, and I won."

Her exhaustion yielded quickly to care at the home of aged Bernabe Robles, her grandfather, however, as she soon was able to appear on the porch in the arms of her father, Fernando Robles, and throw kisses to shouting hundreds of Tucson citizens milling in the street.

Other Sport Scribes

By TOM BEHLEY Sports Editor, Big Spring
BIG SPRING.—Leonard Hill, head coach at McCamey high school for the past year, tendered his resignation to the board of trustees of the McCamey independent school district Wednesday, according to an announcement issued by Superintendent A. M. Blackman. Coach Hill was said to have made no statement as to his future plans. Hill went to McCamey as assistant to Coach Clyde Parks in the fall of 1932, and upon Parks' resignation last year, he was elected head coach. Hill served as assistant coach at Cisco for four years prior to his McCamey job. Hill's resignation came as a complete surprise to football followers of McCamey, because with the return of 15 lettermen to the football squad next fall, he was expected to turn out the best team ever to represent the Badgers.

LUBBOCK DEFEATS BIG SPRING WOMEN
With Mrs. John Edmison setting the pace with a brilliant 79, which incidentally tied the Lubbock country record for women, Lubbock Country club women golfers won seven out of ten matches against Big Spring Country club women Friday at Lubbock. Mrs. Edmison defeated Mrs. Theron Hicks, ace Big Spring player, 4-3, shooting a 37, one over men's par on the front nine and a 40 on the back nine. Mrs. Hicks scored an 88. The Lubbock women apparently forgot about the women's par figures posted on the scorecard and gave old man Par a run for his money. She posted one birdie and nine pars on the 18-hole play, giving her over par on eight holes. Mrs. Hicks made one birdie and five pars. The cards: Par out 543 454 436-36 Edmison out 543 553 534-37 Hicks out 652 465 444-40 Par in 445 534 443-36 Edmison in 445 545 444-37 Hicks in 456 736 654-46 Mrs. Edmison's score equaled the course record held by Mrs. Rhea Vernon, former Lubbock resident. In other matches, Mrs. Paul Denton defeated Mrs. Travis Reed of Big Spring, 6 and 5; Mrs. Cliff Dean won over Mrs. M. H. Bennett of Big Spring, 6-5; Mrs. Obie Brantow of Big Spring defeated Mrs. Guy McAfee, 1 up; Mrs. Olen Key won from Mrs. J. Y. Robb of Big Spring, 6-5; Mrs. J. L. Rush of Big Spring nosed out Mrs. J. H. Gillen, 2 up; Mrs. Lee Jones won over Mrs. P. H. Liberty of Big Spring; Mrs. W. F. Helwig defeated Mrs. Ralph Rix of Big Spring, 3-2 and Mrs. E. V. Spence of Big Spring was victor over Mrs. W. D. Girard Jr. The Big Spring golfers were royally entertained.
