Twenty-one Lions Given Attendance Awards Tuesday

Original Piano Compositions
Played By Guests of Dr.
W. T. Hardy

Piano numbers by two young ladies, Miss Nancy Dawes of Big Spring and Miss Jonnie Green Hawkins of Wichita Falls both graduates of Texas State College for Women, Denton, were a feature of the Tuesday luncheon of the Lions Club at the Methodist Church.

Miss Dawes is a sister of Mrs. W. T. Hardy of the Ranch Experiment Station. She and her friend have been guests of the Hardys since last week. The young ladies played numbers which they had composed.

Boy Scouts served as waiters instead of the girls who usually serve. The meal was prepared by mothers of the Scouts who are contributing the money they earn to the fund being raised to send eight Scouts to the National Jamboree in Washington next month.

Twenty-one members were announced by W. E. James, secretary, as having earned attendance buttons by reason of their regularity of attendance at Sonora meetings or, if absent at the time of the meeting here, at clubs in other towns. Those who will be given the pins are:

O. P. Adams, W. E. Caldwell, W. A. Carroll, R. S. Covey, W. H. Davis, W. L. Davis, John Eaton, W. C. Gilmore, G. H. Hall, Dr. J. F. Howell, Robert W. Jacobs, W. E. James, C. H. Jennings, F. T. Jones, N. R. Kennedy, Preston C. Lightfoot, J. D. Lowrey, Dr. C. C. McDaniel, J. W. Trainer, Richard Vehle, W. C. Warren.

Only seventeen members received the merit award the last time they were given.

Guests, other than those on the program, were Dr. W. T. Hardy and Paul Smith of Hamlin.

A letter was read from Harold Broome of the San Angelo Lions Club relative to his plans for a special car of Lions who are going to the Mexico City convention. Sonora members who will attend expect to leave the latter part of next week—most of them leaving on Saturday. W. E. James and N. R. Kennedy were named as a committee of two to compile Mexico information for the use of members of the club who are contemplating making the trip.

The following have expressed themselves as believing they will go to the Mexico capital city for the convention:

John Eaton, N. R. Kennedy, J. D. Lowrey, J. W. Trainer, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Stokes, Dewitt Lancaster, Alton Hightower, Jack Pfister.

Meckels Return Thursday

Mrs. Ben Meckel and children, Mrs. Jimmie West of Eldorado, Lavelle, Doris and Geraldine, returned Thursday from Temple where they went Wednesday of last week. Doris underwent an operation while they were in Temple.

RODEO LIKELY TO NET $350 AFTER COSTS PAID

Actual net proceeds of the Race Meet and Rodeo will be about $350, according to an estimate Thursday by George H. Neill of the committee on finances.

Exemption was received this week from the federal amusement tax of ten per cent on the gross receipts if all of the net profits are given to the Boys Scouts of America, Troop 19 here. This is to be done.

Mr. Neill said that a number of checks given rodeo winners and others have not been cashed at this time but that the $350 figure is probably a fairly accurate estimate of the net profits. This is the net after all of those who contributed to the contingent fund ($310) collected for preliminary expenses have been repaid, as promised.

JACK FROST, HERE'S YOUR PUBLICITY—NOW FOR THE ADVERTISING

Jack Frost was here last week. Frankly admitting he wanted publicity for Waples-Platter canned goods, Jack Frost, 240 pounds of him, breezed into the NEWS office armed with five cans (filled) with which he hoped to secure publicity.

Not daunted by the NEWS' representative's "comeback" that column inches of advertising were for sale he insisted that "240 pounds of Frost in town when the thermometer is hacking at the 90-degree mark is news."

Somehow we believe he was halfway right. He did have an unusual approach and we'll wager he gets the publicity he seeks in towns he works for his company.

However, Jack Frost, (yes, he wanted a copy of the paper—"if you run anything") the advertising you intimated Waples-Platter might use "sometime" will be very welcome.

Teachers Assigned New 1935-36 Work

Miss Jamie Gardner Will Teach in Elementary School

Appointment of several teachers to new positions in the Sonora school system and discussion of details of the building program now under way constituted the chief business of the board of Sonora Independent School District at a called meeting Saturday afternoon.

B. H. McLain, new superintendent, who was in Sonora most of the week, met with the board.

A. L. Baker of Amherst, Texas, was elected to the position of principal of the Mexican School which this coming year will be in the new building nearing completion.

Miss Jamie Gardner, who has been teaching in the Mexican school for several years and who was acting principal during the latter part of last year, was appointed an instructor in the elementary school. Miss Callie Mae Love who taught at Owensville last year will teach in the Mexican school next year.

A committee made up of Ralph Trainer, Joe Berger and Joe Logan was assigned to consider repair of the roof of the high school building. Several leaks were noted at the time of the recent rainy period.

Mr. McLain left at nine Sunday morning to return to Austin. He said that he did not know definitely when he would return here to reside permanently. His household goods were moved here Monday of last week. Mrs. McLain did not accompany him here.

Mr. McLain will be a candidate for his master's degree at the University of Texas in August. His thesis is on the subject—"A Survey of Physical Education in Texas."

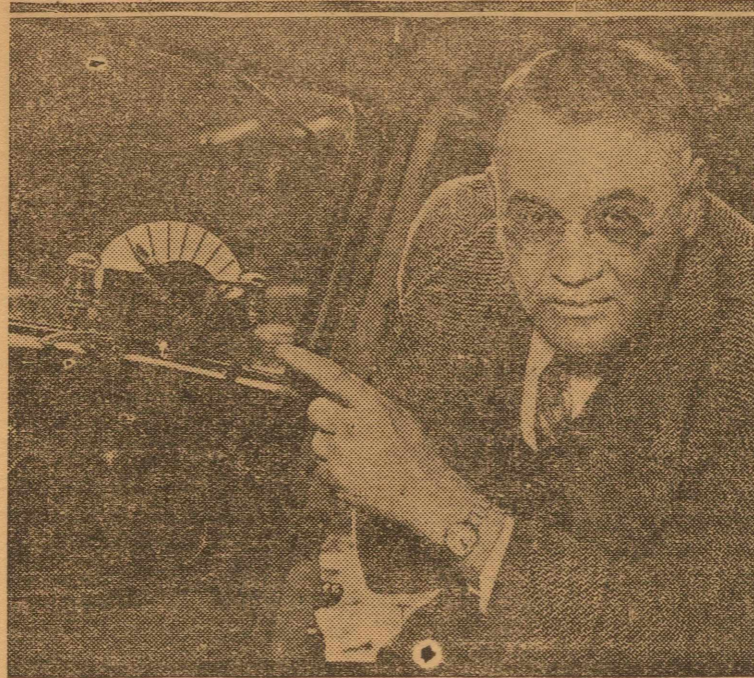

Woodrow Norris of Iraan spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Norris.

ESSAYIST HONORED

Speed Control Device for Autos

J. J. Huebscher of Minneapolis is shown with his regulating rheostat mounted on the cowl of a car just inside the windshield. The position of the dial determines the maximum speed of the car. A white light on the left burns at proper speeds, and a red light at right burns when the speed is excessive.

NORRIS FAMILY BRUISED AND AUTOMOBILE WRECKED

"A 'road hog' took the road and turned my car over, Wednesday night, damaging it considerably. Note of us is hurt and we'll be home on the bus Friday."

That was the message received by telephone by F. B. Williams, Chevrolet dealer, from J. C. Norris late Wednesday.

Mr. Norris was on a vacation trip with Mrs. Norris and their son, J. C. They left Monday for Center Point, San Antonio and other towns of that section and expected to be gone a week. Mr. Norris was in Comfort, Texas, when he called here.

MRS. WHITE IN BUSINESS IN KIRKLAND BUILDING

Returning to the business district to conduct her beauty shop business after an absence of four years Mrs. Troy White this week purchased the equipment and business of Trainer Beauty Shop from Miss Grace Trainer.

Mrs. White has been in the beauty business for twelve years, the last four of which she has operated her business at her home. For two years her business was located where the City Market is located now.

At her new shop in the Kirkland Building, former location of the Trainer Beauty Shop, Mrs. White will be assisted by her sister, Mrs. J. C. Stephen.

J. M. Puckett Gets Beaver

A beaver recently took a long trip, probably from Beaver Lake, to the J. M. Puckett place. The animal was caught near the draw on his place. It was found to be diseased and it died a short time later after Mr. Puckett had tried to save its life by doctoring it.

Women Tend the Sheep For N. M. Navajo Indian Braves

Sheep scab and the problem of stock parasites is practically nil on the Navajo Indian Reservation in New Mexico, according to O. G. Babcock, entomologist at the Ranch Experiment Station who returned recently from a month's work there.

Mrs. Babcock and their daughter, Edith May, accompanied him.

Mr. Babcock attributes the favorable scab and parasitic situation to the fact that dipping of animals is compulsory. The white man cannot be made to dip and so has trouble; the Indian, a ward of the United States, can be made to dip his sheep and so has little trouble.

Many Sheep in Test

Experimental work with so-called sheep cake, foot louse and sheep tick was done by Mr. Babcock who was working in cooperation with T. L. Parmelee, in charge of the sheep and goats on the Reservation. Mr. Parmelee is in charge of that branch of the work of the Soil Erosion Service which is at present manning the Navajo Ag-

BUS FIRM ESTABLISHES NEW LINE THROUGH HERE

Service on a new bus schedule from San Antonio to Pecos, thru Sonora, was inaugurated Wednesday when the Kerrville Bus Co., Inc., established the new line. A bus leaves San Antonio at 8 o'clock a night, arrives in Sonora at 12:55 and at one o'clock leaves here for Fort Stockton and Pecos, arriving in the former town at 5:30 and the latter at seven o'clock. Another bus leaves Pecos at eight in the evening, arrives here at two in the morning and five minutes later leaves for San Antonio where it arrives at 7:15 in the morning.

B. F. GRIMSLEY RETURNS FROM VACATION VISIT

Great improvement in business conditions in the Fort Worth and Wichita Falls section was noted by B. F. Grimsley who returned Tuesday night from a visit with relatives and friends in Bowie, Wichita Falls and Iowa Park.

Wichita Falls according to Mr. Grimsley is teeming with business, refineries are being operated and business life in general is much more encouraging than a year ago when he visited the same section. Mr. Grimsley returned to his work at Piggly Wiggly Thursday morning. He left here June 30.

LUMBER FIRM OFFICIAL VISITS HERE THIS WEEK

Visiting old friends and transacting business in Sonora Wednesday was B. B. Hail of San Angelo, president of the West Texas Lumber Co., who was here Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Mr. Hail was here for both afternoons of the Race Meet and Rodeo but other than that had not been here either on business or pleasure for some time.

HIP CUT RECEIVED BY J. T. PENICK ON FISHING TRIP

Good fortune in fishing but with an accident to mar somewhat the enjoyable time they had was the experience of a group of three Sonora men and two others who fished last week on the Pecos River.

The Sonora men were J. T. Penick, Earl Duncan, Ernest Carroll—their friends, Jack West of Fort Worth and Nat Stevens of San Angelo.

The men fished on the Humphrey Ranch, about ninety-five miles from here. One 18-pound and one 10-pound catfish were caught as well as a number of smaller ones.

On Friday noon J. T. Penick, while cleaning one of the large fish, suffered a severe cut on the hip. He was incapacitated for the rest of the time the party was gone. They returned Saturday afternoon.

Baptists To Have Open Air Services

The Rev. Leon M. Gambrell and Son To Be Here Sunday Night

Inspirational messages and music in the open air will be the order of the evening at the Baptist Church when the Rev. Leon M. Gambrell of Ozona conducts a series of revival meetings beginning Sunday night and ending July 28.

Arrangements were completed by membership of the church Sunday morning in a conference following the regular morning service.

The services will be held on the lawn between the church building and the pastor's home, with the choir using the porch of the parsonage property.

The Rev. Frank Nixon, pastor, said this week that committees appointed Sunday morning to arrange for the meetings were:

Music—Mrs. L. W. Elliott, Mrs. Rip Ward, Mrs. W. R. Nisbet, Mrs. B. C. McGilvray, Mrs. R. D. Trainer.

Grounds—W. D. Martin, O. C. Ogden, George Barrow.

Publicity—L. W. Elliott, the Rev. Frank Nixon.

Both morning and evening services will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Gambrell who is pastor of the Baptist Church in Ozona and who was formerly a pastor in Oklahoma City. He will be accompanied here by his eleven-year-old son, David, who is said to have remarkable piano playing ability. The Rev. Mr. Gambrell is a soloist and will have a part in the musical portion of each day's services.

Six Lowrey Bridge "Pillars" Completed

H. C. Polly Now In Charge of A Fredericksburg Project

Fouring of the fifth and sixth concrete "pillars" of the Lowrey Draw bridge was under way Thursday.

Fifteen uprights are to be erected. Two are poured in a day's time and about a day is required to remove the wooden forms from the two previously poured and to make them ready to receive the concrete of the next two. About twenty men were at work Thursday with two "buggies" hauling concrete from the mixer to the form work.

H. C. Polly, who has been superintending construction for the contracting firm, Buckner Brothers of Cleburne, was transferred this week to Fredericksburg where his company has another contract. Deep excavation there is giving some trouble he said before leaving for the Gillespie county town.

I. C. Rowe, who has been foreman on the job here for several weeks, is now in charge of construction work. Mr. Polly will return here once a week, he said, to note the progress that is being made.

Station A Sonora Ball Team Leading Five League Nines

Twin Bill With Veribest Here Sunday and Home Games July 20 and 27

Six wins and no defeats in the second half of the Concho Basin League season, not yet a month old, would indicate that the Station A Sonora team is showing a complete reversal in form from that of the first half's playing.

On the school grounds diamond Sunday the team took both halves of a twin bill with the Miles Giants when they defeated them by scores of 10 to 4 and 6 to 1.

Lefty Hannah, known as "the Blackwell Beauty," proved not so powerful and was found by Station A players for a flock of base hits in the third inning of the first game, necessitating his removal from the box. Archer, P. McLeod, Ratliff, Gardner and Bishop got singles from him in rapid fire succession. These, with one error in that "frame," gave to the local team six runs in that inning.

Lefty White, doing the hurling for the Station team, struck out fourteen men in the first game and allowed only seven scattered hits.

Sonora opened the second game with a single by White who was then sacrificed to second and came on home on Gardner's hit. Three

TWO SONORA STUDENTS ON UNIVERSITY HONOR ROLL

Among the upper 13.7 per cent of the students in the College of Arts and Science at the University of Texas in the spring semester were Miss Alice Sawyer, daughter of Mrs. E. E. Sawyer, and William Lacey Smith, son of Mrs. Velma Shurley.

An announcement the latter part of last week by H. T. Parlin, dean of the college, included the names of the two Sonora students in those listed as having made the honor roll for the last semester's work.

Only 659 of the 4,809 enrolled in the college did work meriting their inclusion on the honor roll in the 13.7 per cent division.

Both Miss Sawyer and Smith were sophomores at the University last year.

Leg Broken at 83

Some improvement was noted this week in the condition of R. F. Halbert of San Angelo when he was visited by his son, R. A. Halbert of Sonora. R. F. Halbert is a brother of B. M. Halbert of Sonora.

Eighty-three years old June 17, Mr. Halbert suffered a broken left leg July 3 when he fell from an irrigation dam on his place near San Angelo. He slipped as he reached down for a pick.

Mr. Halbert was formerly a Sonora resident but has lived in San Angelo for many years.

He will be confined to his bed for several weeks, it is thought, as the injury is considered a serious one.

HUNT FOR OIL THAT ENDURES FOR AGES

Ingredient Used by Indians in Mixing Paints.

Washington.—Search for an oil which forms a basic ingredient of paints which are known to have withstood exposure for at least 150 years on the unprotected faces of mountain cliffs in southern California will be one of the objectives of Dr. John P. Harrington, Smithsonian Institution ethnologist, when he resumes his field work among the Mission Indians.

By extensive inquiries among the Indians last fall, Doctor Harrington confirmed the fact that this oil is pressed from the seeds of the chillicothe, a species of wild cucumber. It is now quite rare, but grows in the southern California mountains in places known to the Indians. Formerly, closely related plants were found over most of the United States, but they have become very scarce.

Doctor Harrington will try to obtain enough of the chillicothe cucumbers to yield a sufficient supply of the oil for experimental purposes, to determine whether it is this ingredient which gives the paint its remarkable lasting quality. The Indians obtain it in the crudest sort of way, merely crushing it out of the seeds with a stone pestle.

Five Colors Obtained.

Using this oil as a base, five colors of paint are obtained. Red pigment is manufactured by mixing chillicothe oil with red scum from the surface of springs whose water contains a high percentage of iron. White and yellow paints are obtained by mixing the oil with native clays of those colors. A black, which retains its gloss for years, is made by mixing the oil and oxide of manganese. Blue can be obtained from a mixture of the oil and powdered azulite—a mineral common in the neighborhood.

Apparently, no other substance enters into any of these paints, which withstand all the vicissitudes of weather literally for centuries.

These rock pictures are referred to by the Indians as "spirit paintings." Fresh ones still appear from time to time in the depths of the mountains. Near the missions are some which are known to be at least 150 years old, having antedated the coming of the Spanish missionaries.

"Spirits" Work at Night.

The "spirits" always work during the night, their handwork appearing in the morning. The paintings, of course, are the work of medicine men. The attitude toward them of the people as a whole is a curious mixture of belief and sophistication. Few actually believe that "spirits" produce the picture, but some still hold that they are the work of supernatural agencies working through the medicine man. It was from some of the shamans themselves that Doctor Harrington obtained the formulas for the paints.

The oil is also used extensively by the Indian women as a sunburn lotion. These women, in spite of their red skins, burn badly when exposed to the summer sun for long periods. The oil presumably not only absorbs those wave lengths of the solar spectrum causing sunburn, as do many preparations regularly sold for the purpose, but also tend to make the skin redder. Redness is considered an attribute of beauty.

Wales Proves to Youth He's Really a Prince

Vienna.—The prince of Wales sent a magnificent toy railway and a personal card to little George Schmidt, living in the Vienna Karl Marx Hof, and proved himself a prince.

When the prince of Wales was in Vienna he visited a number of workmen's apartment houses, among them the Karl Marx Hof, the headquarters of the Socialist Schutzbund during the revolution of February, 1934. On his rounds he came to the kindergarten, in which little George, son of an unemployed man, was playing with other children.

"Get up and make your bow to the prince," the boy was told.

Little George, however, replied with the assurance of his five years. "This isn't a prince, for he hasn't a crown."

The heir to the British crown didn't forget the only person who doubted his identity in Vienna.

Little George believes now in the genuineness of the visitor.

Alibi Runs Speeder to Hospital, Then Court

Cleveland.—A "perfect alibi" failed, so John Gilbert had to appear before Police Judge Jacob Stacel to answer charges of speeding 64 miles an hour down an East side street here. When a motor cycle policeman stopped Gilbert, the latter said he was taking his wife to a hospital. Huston sped ahead of the Gilbert car with siren screaming, clearing the way of traffic and pedestrians. At the hospital, attaches said Gilbert had made no reservations, doctors said nothing was wrong with Mrs. Gilbert, and Huston booked Gilbert for speeding.

Win Agricultural Scholarships

Here are Ruth Lohmann of Zumbrota, Minn., and James W. Potts of Aspermont, Texas, winners of the Payne Fund fellowships for 1935-36. The award consists of $1,000 each with which they are to study for nine months at the Department of Agriculture in Washington. These fellowships are awarded each year for outstanding 4-H club achievements.

July Relief Money Over Three Million

Less By 1 1/2 Million Than Amount the Month Before

Austin, July 11.—Allotments of general relief funds totaling approximately $3,009,119 will be made to Texas counties during July, it has been announced by Texas Relief Commission officials.

Approximately half the amount will go forward at once, E. A. Baugh assistant director of the Commission said.

The budget for July operations contains items and amounts as follows:

General relief, $2,619,412; non-relief administrative payroll, $244,898; non-relief project supervision, $136,064; hospitalization, $8,745.

The June budget made available $4,025,783 to the counties, but included $1,257,207 for capital goods and subsistence for rural clients. These items this month will be provided by the Resettlement Administration, now separated from the Relief Commission.

750 did it—
Not long ago we "borrowed" the gas tanks of 750 motorists for 3 weeks.

They bought That Good Gulf—compared it with their regular brands for (1) mileage, (2) starting, (3) pick-up, (4) power, (5) all-around performance.

555 won to Gulf!
More than 7 out of 10 motorists chose Gulf on one or more of the 5 points—and many on all 5.

Gulf's secret? Controlled refining makes it 5 good gasolines in one! You get not 2 or 3 ideal qualities from Gulf—but five.

Try Gulf 3 weeks in your car. We're certain you'll stay with us.

Raising of Sheep in Westward Trend

Ohio Still Leads in Quality of Wool Produced

From "way down East" to "way out West," slowly, steadily, persistently the great fleece-producing flocks have moved onward through the years until today the West, and not the East, is the great wool-producing region of the United States.

The first sheep brought to this country found a home in Vermont but their descendants moved into Ohio, and succeeding generations swept farther and farther westward and southward. Horace Greeley's admonition, "Go West, young man, go West," caused thousands of active men to move into the great undeveloped areas and with the human tide flowed great herds of sheep and goats.

Fine wool was early developed in Ohio and that state continues to hold supremacy in fine-wool production. Blooded sheep and fine sheep are still sources of a great revenue to the enterprising breeders of the Buckeye State, but, though the quality remains high, the quantity is greatly diminished. While Ohians are thus doing a great service to the industry in improving the quality of wool, the Western sheepmen hold the palm for mass production.

Southern states might easily have taken up the propagation of sheep and goats in such a manner as to have seriously retarded the upbuilding of the huge western wool and mohair business, but the planters of the period when sheep were heading away from the East, pinned their faith to the fleecy staple of the vegetable kingdom and by fostering a one-crop idea, missed a great opportunity. The Western and Southwestern states grasped what older states had cast aside and founded the enormous sheep, wool, goat and mohair empire upon an enduring basis.—Southwestern Sheep & Goat Raiser.

Many Prizes To Be Given Rural and Small Town People

Texas Extension Service Directing Contest To Run From Now Until June, 1936

College Station, July 11.—A Centennial Farm and Home Demonstration Contest directed by the Texas Extension Service and sponsored by the Dallas News and the Semi-Weekly Farm News for the purpose of recognizing improvement in agriculture and the improvement and beautification of rural homes has been announced by the late O. B. Martin, Texas Extension director.

Prizes amounting to approximately $2500 will be awarded winners.

Any Texas farm family living on a farm or ranch, or in a town or a village of a population of not more than 2500, on a designated state or federal highway, may enter the contest. The house must be on the contest property.

Registration cards must be filled out and returned to the agent's office not later than September 1, 1935.

District winners will be selected immediately after June 1, 1936. State winners will be selected by the director of the Extension Service, the vice-director and state agent, and the state home demonstration agent, or by a committee appointed by them.

A story of the activity and the farm record and a simple plan of the farmstead must be furnished the judges. Points to be considered in the judging are: the buildings and equipment; the grounds; the soil; the crops; the livestock; the food supply and other resources.

Additional information to aid contestants can be secured from the county extension agents, from the extension publications, from articles published from time to time in the Dallas News and Semi-Weekly Farm News, and over Radio Station WFAA, Dallas.

Prizes will be awarded district winners in each of the nine districts and prizes will also be awarded state winners.

Mr. Maret is vice-president of the Gonzales State Bank, Mr. Silliman associated with the Regional Agricultural Credit Corporation, Mr. Jackson a Fort Stockton merchant and Mr. Jones a ranchman. All of the ladies are sisters of Mrs. Dameron and Mr. Jones is her brother.

TEXAS MILLS WILL GRIND NEW WHEAT FOR OFFAL

Austin, July 11.—Approximately half a million bushels of wheat from the Pacific Northwest will be converted into flour by Texas millers, according to an agreement between the millers and C. Z. Crain, head of the commodities distribution department of the Texas Relief Commission, acting as agent for the Federal Surplus Relief Corporation.

Some thirty milling houses in Texas will grind the wheat on a toll basis receiving all the offal, irrespective of present or future prices, as payment for the work. Milled flour will be delivered to the Texas Relief Commission in 12-pound paper bags and 24-pound cotton sacks for distribution to relief families in the state.

Mr. Crain said some wheat already has been bought and that first shipments were expected to be received in Texas soon.

SUMMER DRIVERS SHOULD USE EXTRA PRECAUTION IN MOTOR CAR USE

The matter of highway safety is one that is hammered home day after day, week after week, month after month, and with some results although the number of motor car accidents remains an appalling thing.

In the summer, however, the matter of safe driving is especially important. Highways are crowded with those traveling to a vacation point or those out for an evening's air. Frequently now tourists do their traveling at night to avoid the heat of the midsummer day.

An extra "ounce of forethought and care" might well be taken by every motor car driver in these days when conditions of one sort and another make driving on the highways more of a hazard than is usually the case.

Walter Woodward, New Bar Officer, Studied By Oil Lamp

Walter Woodward of Coleman last week was elected vice-president of the Texas Bar Association. The following in story of his life was written last summer at the time he was a candidate for the office of attorney-general.

By Hubert Roussel

Houston, July 10.—What sort of man is Walter Woodward? Where did he come from, what has he done, and what has made him the most colorful member of the senate, its most polished orator, calm, deliberate leader to whose judgment the body turns naturally when there are difficult jobs to be done?

The story of his life is a wholly understandable story, proceeding quietly from cause to effect.

More than half a century ago, a young husband and his wife loaded a few household belongings in an old wagon, said good-bye to their friends in the East Texas village of Mount Pleasant, and cast their lot with the trickle of humanity that was filtering into the mysterious West. They were J. O. Woodward and the former Fanny Dillard, Texans in whose veins flowed the restless blood of Virginia, Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee pioneers. People told them they were taking a chance.

"Yes," they said, "it's a chance. That's why we are taking it."

Early Coleman County Residents

Weeks later they came to the green banks of a creek in Coleman county. After the long dusty trip it was good to their eyes. The water ran clean and swiftly. Fanny Woodward got out of the wagon and looked at the gentle roll of the land. She tasted the water in the creek. "I think it's nice here," she said.

They settled there by the stream. At first they lived in a picket house with a dirt floor.

In Coleman county Walter Woodward was born. His first job was as express messenger. In the express cars under the kerosene lamps he studied law. He passed the state bar examination and returned to Coleman.

When he got back home, Coleman county was excited about law violations, and some of its citizens thought a good strong county attorney was the remedy called for. They thought a young fellow was needed. Somebody said, "What about Walter Woodward?"

County Attorney When Youth

He ran and was elected with ease. Then he proceeded to make good. He convicted many criminals, and the appellate court sustained him in all but one of the cases. People told him he had a future ahead of him. In 1907 he married Miss Mildred McClellan, whose parents had moved to Coleman from Washington county when she was a child.

In 1910, Walter got his first experience of the attorney-general's office. Having retired as county attorney, he was appointed as assistant to Attorney-General Jewel P. Lightfoot. He went to Austin, the youngest man who had ever held such a position at that time. A little more than a year later he went back to Coleman to form a partnership with E. M. Critz. The partnership still is in effect.

Years passed, and the firm acquired clients and prestige. Walter became known as a steady, level-headed citizen with the public interest at heart a man to whom the town could appeal for advice—advice, and action if necessary. He was a rock of democratic solidity. He acquired increasing political grace; was drafted whenever a state campaign was launched.

State Senator in 1924

He helped others, but sought no office himself until 1924, when Senator J. H. Baugh resigned to accept an appointment as a member of the Court of Civil Appeals. One morning at breakfast Walter looked up from his paper.

"Would you mind if I ran for the state senate?" he asked his wife.

She encouraged the idea. He made an instant decision to announce.

Devotion to his father—"the finest man I have ever known"—has been one of the lifelong characteristics of Woodward. The race brought a test of his loyalty.

That year the elder Woodward was running for re-election as judge of the 35th judicial district. Included in the sixteen forming five counties in the district were the 25th senatorial district. The

Woodward clan it appeared, held a sort of monopoly on the county attorney-ship of Coleman county. Both Judge Woodward and Walter had served in the office. So had J. K. Baker, Walter's brother-in-law, and his brother, Garland Woodward now of Big Spring. At the time, Judge Woodward had been on the bench of the 25th District Court sixteen years.

WALTER WOODWARD
Native of Coleman County

Battled for Father

The judge's opponent seized upon this as campaign fodder. He argued that Judge Woodward had been a public official longer than any other man in the district, that the Woodwards had been honored enough. Now Walter was running for the senate. That was a little too much.

When things got into that state, Walter's course was clear and he took it. He abandoned his own campaign and took over the management of his father's. He said: "Forget about me. I've got a long life before me. My father's future is short."

"He is the best man I have ever known," he would say in his speeches. "He has served you long and faithfully. He has worked hard and saved very little. If you think there are too many Woodwards on the ballot, then I plead with you that you scratch my name off and leave his. If one of us is to be defeated, then defeat me but elect my father."

The result was all but inevitable. Voters, under the spur of those speeches, went to the polls and elected both by wide margins.

Aided Father in 1930

In 1930, Walter was to give another demonstration of this trait. When Judge Woodward was appointed to the board of pardons and paroles, there was some doubt as to whether the senate, with his son as a member, legally could confirm the appointment.

Walter resigned from the senate. His father was confirmed the same night. His gesture was praised in editorial columns, and when he announced immediately for re-election he went back into office without opposition.

While his father served on the board, Walter never represented a client before it. Judge Woodward resigned last January, due to ill health. He died a few months ago.

After this feature story of the life of Walter Woodward was in type form word was received of the death of Mr. Woodward's mother, Mrs. Fannie Woodward, at her home in Coleman. She was 76 years old. She was buried yesterday morning in the Coleman cemetery.

Transient Depots Closed By State

Other Six Will Do Work of Four To Be Abandoned

Austin, July 11.—Four of the ten transient centers operated by the Texas Relief Commission in Texas have been closed, J. C. Bisset, acting director of the transient division, announced this week.

Orders to close registration depots and adjoining camps went to Austin, Beaumont, College Station and Big Spring. The College Station, or A. & M., division was an educational division, where clients received a year's schooling and maintenance in exchange for work performed for the college.

Transients formerly received at Austin and Beaumont will be absorbed by San Antonio and Houston divisions, respectively. Big Spring's applicants will be routed to El Paso and Fort Worth. Divisions at Dallas and Amarillo also will be maintained.

Mr. Bisset said transients will be concentrated in the larger cities and registered with the National Re-employment Service in anticipation of the works program about to be inaugurated.

"Merging these divisions also will enable a considerable saving in overhead costs," Mr. Bisset said.

E. Jackson and J. C. Johnson left for San Angelo Monday to attend to some business relating to the Indian Depredation Claim.

Case loads at the transient camps have declined steadily during the past few months, and closing of the four centers is not expected to work a hardship on the divisions which will absorb the load. Camp Marshall, near Beaumont, and Camps McCauley and Lampasas near Austin, are the three camps to be closed. Materials and equipment from these camps will be sent to other divisions, Mr. Bisset said.

J. E. MORREN TO GO IN BUSINESS FOR HIMSELF

About August 1 J. E. Morren who has been employed at the J. W. Trainer store since February, 1934, will open his own cleaning and pressing business in Albuquerque, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Morren have just completed a 1300-mile vacation trip during which they visited Lubbock, Colorado, Texas, Albuquerque and other cities. Mr. Morren returned Thursday afternoon while Mrs. Morren remained in San Angelo for a visit with relatives.

Mr. Morren has been doing cleaning and pressing work for thirteen years. The New Mexico business will be opened just as soon as the building had been made ready and equipment installed. Mr. Morren was formerly in business for himself in Stanton, Texas.

Appetite Will Be Coaxed By
"Dressing Up" "Old Friends"

Denton, July 11.—As the thermometer begins to warn us that summer weather is approaching, the appetite needs to be coaxed. Dressing the old favorites up in new ways is usually much easier for the busy housewife than to hunt up new recipes. Iced drinks and frozen desserts add refreshing touch to the meal. Now that electrical refrigeration is available, the extras are not so hard to prepare.

A sprig of mint frozen in the ice cubes gives a piquancy when served with the iced tea, and there is usually an abundance of fruit juices left from canned fruits which may be served as punch. These are welcome additions to any menu and may be served with the dessert.

Menus

Breakfast: Date muffins, butter, ham omelet, cocoa.

Lunch: Cottage cheese and nut salad, whole wheat toast, gingerbread, coffee.

Dinner: Hamburg balls wrapped in bacon, creamed onions, rolls, spinach, mousse, wafers, iced tea.

Breakfast: Stewed rhubarb, biscuit, bacon, hot beverage.

Lunch: Scalloped cauliflower with eggs, chilled peach salad, mayonnaise, bran bread sandwiches, buttermilk.

Dinner: Roast leg of lamb, mashed potatoes, gravy, beet salad with mayonnaise, hot rolls, lacto, cookies.

Recipes

Lacto: One qt. culture buttermilk, 2 T lemon juice, 1 1-8 cups sugar, 1/2 cup grape juice. Chill the buttermilk, then add the fruit juices in which the sugar has been carefully dissolved. Put it into the ice cream freezer and freeze. Variations of ice cream and mousse may be made though it should be remembered that the less sugar used the easier it will be to freeze the mixture. Keeping the sugar at the lowest level for palatability is quite satisfactory for summer menus.

Some pleasing variations in flavor of frozen desserts may be made by substituting half cup strong coffee for half cup of thin cream or milk, or by using peppermint stick candy instead of sugar. The latter gives a delicate pink cream with a delicious flavor which is hard to duplicate with fruit colors and extract.

The following may be used as an example:

Plain Mousse: (1 quart) 1 cup double cream, 1T gelatin, 2 egg whites, 1-16 teaspoon salt, 1 cup rich milk, 6 T sugar (or 1/2 pound peppermint stick candy), 1/2 teaspoon vanilla (omit if peppermint is used).

Soak the gelatin until soft in a little of the milk or thin cream. Heat the remainder and pour over the gelatin. Add the sugar and stir until dissolved and put the mixture aside to chill. Whip the double cream. When the mixture containing the gelatin has thickened slightly, beat it to incorporate air. Add the vanilla and fold in the whipped cream and the well-

When parents want something really serious and important to ponder, think of a boy's baseball game. There's no subject more profound.

The truth of that you will have to discover for yourself by analysis. I can't do it in the space at my disposal. Nor can you prove it, if you're an adult, by playing the game. Adults play for fun. They re-create. Boys work at it. To them baseball is serious. There's all the difference in the world.

Look into the face and the eyes of a boy standing at home plate when the bases are filled and a hit means winning the game. Try to imagine what's going on inside. What a situation! Pitcher against batter. Skill against skill. Wits against wits.

No fooling there. But a real case of "delivering the goods." He's got to "come through." It's no time to say "Gee, fellers, I gotta go home, my mother wants me." No quitting under fire. No alibis. No faltering. Just nerve, concentration, giving every bit of one's self. Such are the times when character is born and tried. If he tries, that is all the boys ask. He may not hit the ball, but if he did his best, he passed the test. He's got the "stuff." He's good material for shaping into a man.

Are bare feet dangerous? Dr. Ireland will discuss some facts and fallacies about them in his next article.

Isolated Security Sale Not Restricted

New State Law Applies Only To Buyers and Sellers

Austin, July 11.—"I own a piece of royalty near an oil field. I want to sell this interest," one man recently inquired of the Secretary of State. "I understand that oil and gas leases and royalty interests are classified as securities under Texas' new Securities Law. Will I have to register and get a license before I can sell this interest?"

In answering the question the Secretary of State pointed out that isolated transactions are exempt under the terms of the law. But if a person is engaged in the business of buying and selling oil leases, royalty of other such interests, he must qualify as a dealer and in some cases as an issuer of securities. The lease "peddler" must qualify.

In a single deal it is not necessary to qualify under the Texas law.

The same applies to vendor's lien notes and other forms of commercial paper. However, if a person makes a practice of selling commercial paper, the transaction is not an isolated case and that person must qualify under the law. The simple rule is: Single and individual transactions are exempt. Multiple transactions are not.

Austin Meeting of City Officials To Discuss Problems

Government Aid Programs Will Be Explained in Detail By State Directors

Austin, July 11.—Texas' part in the federal four billion dollar works program will be one of the major topics for discussion at the 23rd annual convention of the League of Texas Municipalities at Austin, Thursday and Friday of next week, according to the convention program released recently.

Convention sessions have been planned to acquaint city officials with recent developments in the works program and municipal financing, Mayor Max Starcke of Seguin, president of the League, announced. Representatives of approximately 600 incorporated towns and cities of Texas have been urged to attend.

The asserted purpose of the League of Texas Municipalities and its annual convention is "to make the government of the cities and towns of Texas a credit to the state and nation."

Works Official To Speak

The national works program and its effect on Texas municipalities will be discussed by H. P. Drought of San Antonio, state administrator for the Works Progress Administration, on the convention's second day.

PWA's program in Texas will be detailed by Julian Montgomery of Fort Worth, state administrator. The proposed $30,000,000 highway building and grade separation program in Texas will also be discussed.

The convention's first day will be devoted largely to financial and tax relief problems of Texas cities and towns. City Manager R. G. Williams of Bryan, a vice-president, will preside over a general session on such topics.

Prominent Men on Program

Nationally known speakers for the convention include Carl Chatters of Chicago, executive director

"Cowboy Carnivals" Before the "Rodeos"

Program Not As Varied in Olden Days, Old Timer Says

The early day rodeos weren't called rodeos—they were "Cowboy Carnivals," according to B. A. (Bill) Oden of Pecos, who has been punching cows and running ranches in these parts for about a half a century.

"I don't remember the first rodeo at Pecos," Uncle Bill said. "That was a little before my time, as I came here in 1885. No doubt, however, Trav Windham, and a bunch of those other oldtimers got to arguing and betting and decided to settle it by roping some calves."

"First thing like a rodeo I remember was the Cowboy Carnival at Fort Worth about the turn of the present century. It was held on a hill west of Fort Worth and the only grounds provided were a few corrals and pens. Jim Anders, who lived at Pecos then and now lives on a ranch near Jal, N. M., won first prize. Those were the days of Boogher Red, self-styled ugliest man alive and a bronc buster of no small proportions.

"A little later, about 1901, Midland announced a Cowboy Carnival. Pecos was well represented there. I had some horses in the show and remember that Cheesey Elkins of Pecos also attended that event."

Uncle Bill said that they didn't have the elaborate array of rodeo events those days . . . just steer roping and tying and bronc busting. Bulldogging, steer riding, etc., and the fancy acts such as wild cow milking and bell calf roping came along later.

Uncle Bill is writing some memoirs of the early days in this section which he intends to have published.—Pecos Enterprise.

of the Municipal Finance Officers' Association of the United States and Canada; G. Lyle Belsyl, executive director of the Civil Service Assembly of the United States, Chicago; and Clifford W. Hamfield consultant for the American Municipal Association.

Mr. Ham is a member of the Technical Board of Review for the PWA, and first assistant to Paul V. Betters, executive director of the United States Conference of Mayors and the American Municipal Association, and a member of the Federal Board of Allocations for the Works Program.

Other speakers on the convention program are: Mayor D. C. Harris of Mineral Wells, a vice-president of the League; Hughes Knight, tax attorney for the city of Dallas; Dr. R. C. Martin, director of the University of Texas' Bureau of Municipal Research; Mayor P. D. Renfro of Beaumont, a vice-president; Dr. Jack Johnson, city commissioner of Denton;

Attorney-General William C. McCraw, Austin; W. L. Blanchard, mayor, Orange; George D. Fairtrace, city manager, Fort Worth; R. R. Graham, mayor, Alice; H. J. Curtis, mayor, University Park; W. J. Davis, mayor, Terrell.

The third annual meeting of the Texas Chapter of the Municipal Finance Officers' Association of the United States and Canada will be held in Austin, July 16 and 17, preceding the League's convention. Debt readjustment, budgeting and expenditure control, purchasing systems and state supervision of municipal finance, are among the subjects to be discussed at the two-day assembly.

NAME SIMILARITY CAUSES FORT STOCKTON MIX-UP

When two men named Bill Barker marry two girls named Gertrude and the two families get mail at the same postoffice the result is bound to be confusion.

Fort Stockton has such a case.

One Mr. Bill Barker works at the electric shop and his wife, the former Miss Gertrude Dees is an employee of the Modern Beauty Shop.

The other Mr. Bill Barker recently bought an interest in the Rooney Hotel barber shop. He moved here three weeks ago from Fort McKavett, although they previously lived near here on a ranch. His wife's name is Gertrude.

To complete this series of coincidences, the first Mrs. Barker's girl friend's name is "Hazel" and the second Mrs. Barker's only sister, with whom she corresponds, also has that name. Several letters have been opened thru mistake by both parties.—Fort Stockton Pioneer.

The Bill Barker, barber, referred to in the above is a brother of Raymond and Granville Barker of Sonora.

Business Firms Will Help You in Many Ways

Good judgment should impel you to better your property at this time in order to keep it from depreciating. No property owner could be blamed for having delayed work during the last few years.

Now conditions have improved slightly and work should be done which will make your home—or your rental property—worth more. Deterioration may have set in at too great a rate and careful work NOW will halt it to a certain, appreciable extent.

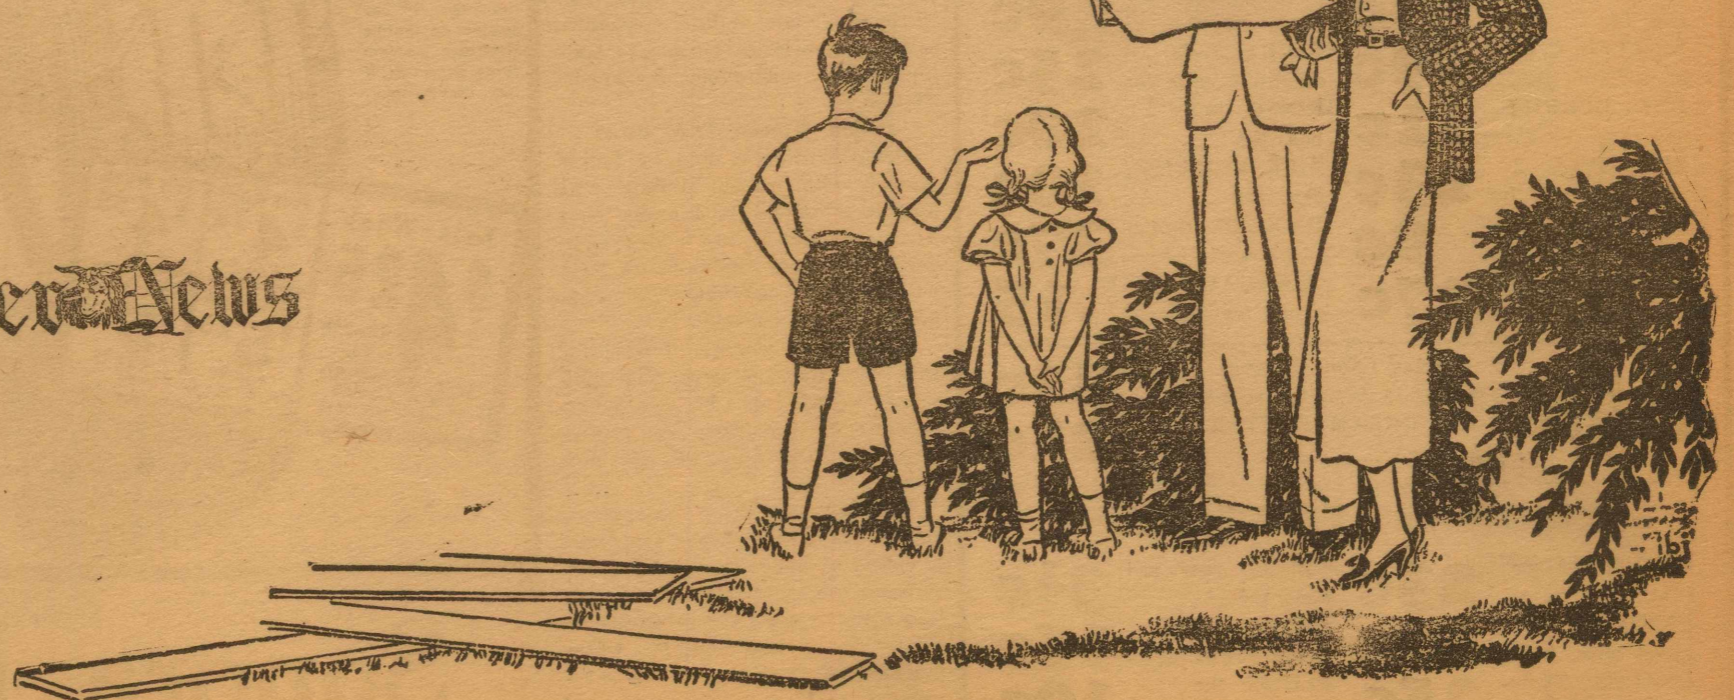

Sonora business firms and workmen are ready to aid you in a host of ways—in planning, in helping you get financing for the work, in consulting with you in regard to your plans or ideas.

Call on a Sonora material firm or workman for help. Either will be glad to work with you in a way that will please you. Lumber dealers, hardware men, carpenters, contractors—all stand ready to assist in doing BUILDING work now..

Theater Patrons May Ride To See "Car 99" at La Vista

Free rides to La Vista Theater tonight or tomorrow night are offered customers of the amusement house through an arrangement perfected this week between Sam Hull, Ford dealer, and Hix Hall, owner of the picture show. "Car 99," a picture taken with the cooperation of the state highway patrol in Michigan is to be shown at the theater today and tomorrow.

A Ford car is used in the picture and its stamina and durability demonstrated vividly. Mr. Hull will give anyone a free ride to the theater at show time either night if the individual will call Sonora Motor Co. (135) before six o'clock either day.

No obligation will be incurred by the individual who indicates he—or she—would like a free ride to the theater in a Ford car.

Sunday and Monday Mr. Hall has scheduled "Casino Murder Case," mystery drama featuring Paul Lucas, Ted Healy and Allison Skipworth. On Tuesday Mae Robson, character actress, will be seen in "Strangers All," with Preston Foster in the supporting cast.

"Once in a Blue Moon" will be the screen "fare" Wednesday and Thursday with Jimmie Savo as a star. Mr. Hall said Tuesday that the picture is "so new" that Photoplay Magazine, the current issue, does not carry a review of it.

8,000 animals a day. Much traveling was necessary and congestion at the vats was bad. With the small vats rather than that common in this country, one about three feet across and thirty to forty feet long, many more may be dipped. Pasture will not be tramped out, the vats are less expensive and there is no crowding at vat outlet.

The Station at Naksi-Bito (Mexican Springs), north of Gallup, is only a year old. There are six stone residences for staff members and 150 automobiles are maintained. Trained Navajo Indian mechanics serve at the large garage in Gallup and the emergency one at the Station.

Indian Women Tend Stock
Sheep herding is done by Indian women who march stolidly with long steps among the animals. They wear long skirts and add a skirt when the upper one becomes dirty or worn. Several "layers" of skirts are worn by each one.

There is no pooling of wool for sale, Mr. Babcock says. The individual Navajo takes his wool home, weaves Navajo rugs and trades them for groceries at the post store.

The rainy season on the reservation starts in July. Right now there is plenty of good strong grass, Mr. Babcock says, but the range is getting right dry and the rainy season should be of real benefit. Overstocking of the range is an ever-present problem being combatted by the government—as is the development of the Mexican type of animal rather than the Rambouillet type of sheep.

Excellent Advice

Because of the increasing number of cases of lost, stolen or destroyed certificates, one of America's largest industrial corporations recently sent its stockholders a special letter explaining the delay and expense incurred by owners when a stock certificate is lost.

We quote—

"To avoid the risk of incurring this trouble, delay and expense, we suggest that:

Stock certificates should be kept in a safe place—the safest place being either a safe deposit box or the safe-keeping department of a bank."

SONORA BOY TO ENTER TEXAS MEDICAL SCHOOL

One of one hundred University of Texas students who will be permitted to enter the medical school at Galveston in September is Lacey Smith, son of Mrs. Velma Shurley, who was a sophomore at the Austin school last year.

Notification of his selection was received the latter part of last week.

Mrs. Shurley and her children, Jerry and Eugene Shurley, Lacey, Marvin, Margaret Faye and Lillie Marie Smith, left Sunday on a motor trip to California and other western states. They will visit in Tucson and at the Grand Canyon on the way to the coast and will return by way of San Diego and the southern route. In San Diego they will attend the exposition.
