W. E. Eaton, Former Sonoran, Buried in San Angelo Monday

Son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Eaton Was Manager of Water System in Eldorado

Ill for several weeks, William Edward Eaton, 47, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Eaton of San Angelo and a brother of John Eaton, manager of Central West Water & Power Co. in Sonora, died in a San Angelo hospital Sunday.

Although he was born in Leakey, Texas, Mr. Eaton was reared and secured his elementary education in Rocksprings. He was graduated from the high school there and then attended the University of Texas six years, where he secured his degree in civil engineering.

After he was graduated he did engineering work on the Medina Dam construction near San Antonio. Other work was done in El Paso and during the World War he was employed at the shipyards in San Diego. From there he came to this section again and worked in Eldorado and on the light plant construction at Rocksprings.

Lived in Eldorado 5 Years

When his father came to Sonora in 1913 and became owner of the water system here his son worked with him for several years. Five years ago he became manager in Eldorado for the company his brother, John, represents here.

At the time of his death he was worshipful master of the Masonic lodge in Eldorado and was also worthy patron of the Order of the Eastern Star there. He was affiliated with the Church of Christ there.

Besides his wife Mr. Eaton is survived by his parents, former residents of Sonora who now live in San Angelo, and the following brothers and sisters:

Miss Bertha Eaton and Mrs. Lois Landrum, both of San Angelo; John Eaton, Sonora; Mrs. J. C. Rigney, Lubbock; Mrs. Paul Otts, Artesia, N. M.; Frank Eaton, Mountain Home.

Sonora People Attend Funeral

Funeral services were conducted in San Angelo Monday morning by Luther G. Roberts of the Church of Christ there and the Rev. N. P. Wilkinson, pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Eldorado.

Pallbearers were: Brown Epperson, Rocksprings; John E. Robbins, San Angelo; Joe B. Eden, Hank G. Irby, G. Christian, J. C. Carr, all of Eldorado.

District Athletic Members Meet Here

Interscholastic League Committee Talks of Eligibility

Nine educators and men in charge of the athletic work in six high schools of District 34-B met in Sonora Thursday afternoon of last week in a session in which matters of eligibility of football players for the various schools were discussed.

Those who attended the meeting of the executive committee, of which B. H. McLain is chairman and F. T. Jones, secretary, were: G. H. Mitchell, superintendent, Junction; R. C. Donaho, superintendent, Rocksprings; C. S. Denham, superintendent, Ozona; N. S. Werd, principal and coach, Rocksprings; Weldon Bynum, coach, Eldorado; T. D. Riddle, principal, Eldorado; T. A. Parker, superintendent, Menard.

Eligibility of football players has been discussed a great deal in the district in recent weeks as result of a ruling of the Interscholastic League that students who accepted money for rodeo events were ineligible for interscholastic play if their rodeo competition occurred after they were fifteen years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Dungan are to return tomorrow from a visit in Marlow, Okla., where they went Tuesday to visit relatives.

Rogers Fund Money To Make Plight of Children Easier

Campaign To Close December 15—Million Dollar Hospital Given Commission

Announcement late Saturday night by leaders of the nation-wide Will Rogers Memorial Fund campaign was that chief use of the money will be to aid unfortunate and handicapped children.

A supplemental announcement stated that the period of giving to the fund had been extended to Saturday, December 14.

Up to Wednesday noon $35.75 had been given to the fund by Sutton county people.

Sutton county people have contributed a total of $13.25 since last issue of the NEWS went to press. Greatly increased enthusiasm and giving will have to be developed during the next two weeks if the county is to be represented by an amount which will be indicative of the generosity of its people when a worthy cause is presented to it.

Hospital Building Given

E. V. (Eddie) Rickenbacker, famous World War aviation ace, who is director of the Operations Committee serving under the Will Rogers Memorial Commission, stated Saturday that a $1,000,000 hospital building at Saranac, N. Y., had been accepted by the commission. Saranac is famous as a health resort, having been frequently "in the news" in the days of the late Christy Mathewson, famous baseball pitcher who spent much time there.

The hospital gift, a forty acre tract of land and the sanatorium thereon at Saranac, N. Y., was presented by the United Variety Artists Fund, Inc., and $500,000 cash—a contribution apart from the memorial fund—was guaranteed by five major theater circuits, the Fox West Coast Theaters, Loew's Inc., Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corp., Paramount Theaters Service Corp., and the Warner Bros. Theaters Circuit. It was indicated that these theater groups may conduct an annual campaign and that more than $100,000 per year may be raised.

$100 to $200 Wanted Here

Gifts to the fund are being received from Sonora and Sutton county citizens at the NEWS and at the First National Bank. Efforts are being made to secure between $100 and $200 during the course of the gift period, ending Dec. 14. Those who had contributed up to Wednesday noon were:

Dow Puckett.

Read Ballot Carefully When You Vote Monday

An explanation of the ballot voters will use in Sutton county Monday appears elsewhere on this page.

The wording of the ballot is such that it behooves all who may vote (four hundred and sixty-four (464) who paid poll taxes between Oct. 1, 1934, and Feb. 1, 1935) to STUDY THE EXPLANATION on this page NOW and be ready to vote as they desire.

VOTE . . . and vote intelligently!

PROPERTY ON HIGHWAY SOLD TO SONORA DOCTOR

Nearly half an acre of land fronting on the Junction highway near the Sonora city limits was bought recently by Dr. Joel Shelton.

The purchase was from J. T. Penick whose property it adjoins.

The residence in which Dr. and Mrs. Shelton and their daughter are living now was bought recently by E. E. Steen, Sutton county ranchman, from M. C. Puckett of San Angelo who formerly lived in the house.

Dr. Shelton has not announced his plans for use of the property.

HORSELESS HUMORIST KNEW ROPES—AND THEIR PLACE

When Will Roges was a circus performer he told his audience one day:

"Swingin' a rope is all right if your neck ain't in it."

That was one of the first wisecracks that started Will on his way as an entertainer. After the show the manager told Will who did not use a horse in his act:

"It's not nags you need, it's gags."

CALIFORNIA CAR DRIVER INJURES J. G. BARTON

Improving from severe head and ear wounds this week was Jesse Green Barton, son of Mrs. Totsie Barton, who was struck by a motor car Friday afternoon.

Mr. Barton was working on the Ozona road with other men of the highway station here. A car driven by J. A. Meier of California struck him, causing severe lacerations near the scalp and on one ear. He was brought to Sonora for medical treatment.

Mr. Meier remained in Sonora until Saturday when he continued his trip.

Five Thousand Attend All-State Meeting in Waco

Five thousand Shriners from seven Texas temples met in Waco Friday and Saturday for a statewide ceremonial which was attended by Dave Locklin and J. D. Lowrey of Sonora.

Mr. Locklin took the Shrine and is now a member of Alzafar Temple, San Antonio. Mr. Lowrey was already a Shriner.

Ritualistic ceremonies, business sessions, serenades, dinners and other event of many types kept the Shriners and their guests busy the two days. An afternoon parade of uniformed representatives if the various temples, as well as beautiful floats, was seen by 25,000 people, it was estimated. The parade was a mile long.

Peter Loring of San Antonio is president of the all-state organization in charge of the annual meeting. The one last week was the first of its type but was so successful that it was voted a similar one should be held in Austin in November, 1936.

Speakers at the meeting included Walter D. Cline of Wichita Falls, former director of Texas Centennial, Past Potentate Thomas Bush, Joseph Weldon Hale, mayor of Waco, Galloway Clahoun of Tyler and William McCarow, attorney-general of Texas.

Bronchos Conclude 1935 Grid Season On Eldorado Field

Exact Weights Show Local Team Average Less Than 125 Pounds

Battling Eldorado yesterday in the concluding game of the 1935 season were the Sonora Bronchos, football eleven representing the high school here this year with valiant playing but little success from a standpoint of victories over their opponents.

O. P. Adams, coach, announced Wednesday evening that the following members of the squad would start the game on Thanksgiving Day:

Center McGhee (126)
Right Guard Vehle (152)
Right End W. Elliott (102)
Quarterback Taylor (119)
R. Halfback Simmons (117)
L. Halfback E. Archer (81)
Fullback Brantley (144)

SUBSTITUTES

C. T. Driskell 104 pounds
L. Davis 93 pounds
C. Martinez 122 pounds
R. Trainer, regular center, has been ill this week and was not slated to play in the Thursday game. He weighs 144 pounds.

O. P. Adams, coach, said this week that estimates of players' weights used throughout the season had been found to be somewhat inaccurate. Their correct weights are shown in parentheses after their names.

Tipping the scales under two tons for the gross weight of the fifteen men making up the squad from which eleven men must be picked each game, the average weight of the 1934 Broncho is not quite 125 pounds.

The game in Eldorado yesterday was a non-conference one, the Bronchos having been defeated by Eldorado in a conference tilt earlier in the season. Because of the fact that forms of the NEWS this week were closed Wednesday instead of Thursday a complete account of the game cannot be carried. The game will be reported in detail in next week's issue.

Minister Accepted As Lion Member

White Canes To Be Used By Those Whose Eyesight Is Bad

Introduced as a new member of the Lions Club Tuesday was the Rev. T. O. Rorie, formerly president of the Commercial Club in Llano and now pastor of the Methodist Church here.

The Rev. Mr. Rorie was introduced after a few minutes of "ribbing" by W. E. James, secretary, aided and abetted by other members and with the "attack" centered around two letters received from Llano people telling of the Rev. Mr. Rorie.

A report of the recent directors' meeting was given by the secretary. Six white canes have been ordered by the club to be given to Sutton county citizens whose eyesight is failing to the extent they have difficulty in walking. The white cane is indicative, the nation over, of the fact that the person using it has poor eyesight. Pedestrians and automobile drivers may recognize the cane as being used by an individual to whom special deference should be paid.

The entertainment program was provided by Miss Rena McQuary, Mrs. Preston C. Lightfoot and Miss Merle Draper. It consisted of:

Vocal solo, "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," Cathryn Trainer, accompanied by Mrs. Lightfoot; vocal duet, "Outside of You," Wilma and Wynona Hutcherson, accompanied by Cathryn Trainer; reading, "Thanksgiving Day," Elizabeth Taylor; vocal duet, Doris Meckel and Jack Lindsey; solo, Marjorie Crowell, accompanied by Miss McQuary.

Dr. F. L. Clark and William H. Russell of San Antonio spent last week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bond.

Peculiarly Worded Ballot in Sutton Election Monday

Those Favoring Liquor Sale Vote "AGAINST" Material; Those Opposed the "FOR"

Sutton county voters who go to the polls in their respective precincts Monday for an expression on the matter of sale of liquor, by packages, will do well to consider carefully the ballot on which they will cast their vote.

An election order signed by Alvis Johnson, Joe F. Logan, Ben H. Cusenbary, C. W. Adams and C. T. Jones, comprising the group of county judge and commissioners, has been posted, according to law on the bulletin board in the courthouse since the latter part of last week.

The sale of "vinous or malt liquors that do not contain alcohol in excess of four per cent (4 per cent) by weight" is not affected by the Monday election result.

If You Want Liquor Sold—

Voters who FAVOR sale of liquor in Sutton county will CROSS FROM THEIR BALLOTS the following material:

"For prohibiting the sale of all liquors, except vinous and malt liquors that do not contain alcohol in excess of four per cent (4 per cent) by weight."

If You Do Not Want Liquor Sold—

Voters who DO NOT FAVOR the sale of liquor in Sutton county will CROSS FROM THEIR BALLOTS the following material:

"Against prohibiting the sale of all liquors, except vinous and malt liquors that do not contain alcohol in excess of four per cent (4 per cent) by weight."

The legal wording of the ballot may seem confusing to some who vote and for that reason careful study of this explanation and of the ballot before it is cast is recommended.

The voter WHO WANTS LIQUOR SOLD IN SUTTON COUNTY will have remaining, UNMARKED, on his ballot the following:

"Against prohibiting the sale of all liquors, except vinous and malt liquors that do not contain alcohol in excess of four per cent (4 per cent) by weight."

The voter who DOES NOT WANT LIQUOR SOLD IN SUTTON COUNTY will have remaining, UNMARKED, on his ballot the following:

"For prohibiting the sale of all liquors, except vinous and malt liquors that do not contain alcohol in excess of four per cent (4 per cent) by weight."

Simply, the voter who is "for selling" will leave unmarked on his ballot the material—

"AGAINST prohibiting the sale... and the voter who is "against selling" will leave unmarked on his ballot the material—

"FOR prohibiting the sale...

As the "hick" of the days of melodrama might say it:

"If you're agin 'em sellin' hard 'likker' in packages in Sutton county don't do nothin' to that 'FOR prohibiting the sale of... stuff—But cross out all that stuff about 'AGAINST prohibiting...'"

"If you're fer 'em sellin' hard 'likker' in packages in Sutton county don't do nothin' to that 'AGAINST prohibiting the sale of' stuff. But cross out all that stuff about 'FOR prohibiting the sale of'."

Dallas, Nov. 27.—When William A. Webb, manager of the Texas Centennial Exposition which centers in Dallas next year, took over his new task recently, he brought to it an understanding of the Exposition's national scope and problems.

An internationally known railroad executive, his experience has been broad and varied—the exact type needed for his present post.

He started as a messenger boy for the Santa Fe in Colorado Springs, when he was twelve. Through the years he has been: assistant to the president of the Colorado & Southern in Denver, general manager of the Texas Central at Waco, operating vice-president of the M.K.&T. from 1911 to 1919, a member of U. S. Railroad War Board No. 1 in Washington, D. C., and for ten years railroad advisor to the Australian Government under a recommendation from the U. S. Department of State.

Safety Enhanced By Child's Gay Dress

Motorist Can See Bright Color and Drive Accordingly

Washington, Nov. 27.—Dress children in bright-colored outer garments in wintertime for their own safety, says the Bureau of Home Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture.

While children should not play in thoroughfares or even on country highways, because of automobiles, there are occasions when they have to cross streets or when they try to retrieve balls or other playthings from the path of traffic. They must be taught caution, but they can be further protected by dressing them in bright, conspicuous colors which motorists can see from a distance.

Last winter, the Bureau says, there was a swing away from the vivid red, blue, green or orange once popular for children's clothes. Children were dressed in brown, navy blue, gray, olive drab, or dull maroon, hardly noticeable to the passing driver.

Many mothers in summertime dress children in bright bathing suits for the sake of visibility. The same idea can be applied to winter garments.

Children like to wear gay colors. Those of nursery-school age choose them by preference. Those a little older are governed to some extent by what others wear, so it may be necessary for mothers to get together and "create" a vogue for vivid colors in outer garments. If stores do not carry the desired shades in ready-made wear, practical one-piece play suits in colors preferred for safety are easily made.

Several pattern companies show designs that are warm and comfortable and not difficult for the home seamstress. Some have sliding metal fasteners down the front; others large buttons. Nearly all styles have knitted wristlets and anklets to keep out wind.

Stockmen Forming Will Rogers Group

Late Humorist Was Well Known Among S. A. Traders

San Antonio, Nov. 27.—Organization of a Will Rogers memorial fund club at the San Antonio livestock market is well under way, according to Jas. A. Gallagher, Jr., general manager of the Union Stock Yards.

Rogers was in intimate friend of many South and West Texas livestock raisers and visited San Antonio often with the late George W. Saunders and other old timers.

A collection of interesting photographs of Rogers with old Texas Longhorn cattle were taken around the San Antonio market and these adorn the walls of the livestock exchange building here.

W. B. Tuttle, chairman of the Will Rogers memorial fund in San Antonio, has approved plans for the formation of the club. Fred M. Herndon, Union Stock Yards Company, is chairman of the club and has raised a fair sum toward the memorials which will be of enduring form and for charitable, educational or humanitarian purposes.

Texas Bankruptcies Decreasing

Total liabilities of $160,000 was 3.2 per cent above the preceding month but 2.4 per cent under October last year.

UNITED STATES RETAIL TRADE, BUSINESS MAP SHOWS, DEFINITELY ON UP GRADE AS OF NOVEMBER 1

This map showing business condition in every state appears in the December, 1935, issue of "Nation's Business," official publication of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

BASED ON INFORMATION SUPPLIED BY DUN & BRADBURY, INC.

Washington, Nov. 27.—General warm weather has exercised a delayed retail buying of wearing apparel and slowed an otherwise steady gain in general business. Industry, however, has moved forward with perceptible hesitation. The advance of the automobile season to early autumn stimulated steel. Car loadings, reflecting crop movement and active factory operations, rose to a four-year peak. Electric power has registered seasonal changes as well as activity in industry in successive all time high outputs. Of the year's crop yields, 24 out of 27 have reported enlarged output. Of these declining, only potatoes rank as a crop of first importance. Favorable third quarter earnings by corporations helped the stock market, which registered its seventh successive advance. Railway net earnings for September were in the black for first time since last December. Telephone earnings were the best for September since 1929; and telegraph companies also reported expansion. Despite the lagging of retail trade in some areas, the trend of white as shown on the map (illustrated) is unmistakable. Four out of five factors in the Barometer of Business (illustrated) rose in October, lifting the chart line to the highest point reached since April, 1931. Electric power made two successive all-time peaks.

Miss Mary Louise Gardner who has been attending school in San Antonio came home Sunday for a week's visit with her mother, Mrs. Clyde Gardner.

A total of 97 new charters was granted during the month, a decrease of 3 per cent from the preceding month and 12.6 per cent from October last year. Total capitalization, $1,057,000, was down 33.7 per cent from the month before and 10.4 per cent from the corresponding month last year.

"A talking film drama of farm life" is the description given the free motion picture show which is to be offered at 7:30 Monday night at the E. F. Vander Stucken Co. store, in conjunction with the Purina company of St. Louis, distributors of all types of feeds. The picture theme is built around farm life and is said to be rich in romantic background, interesting plot and informative settings. The story opens with a very dramatic appeal when Walter Conway, collegian son of an industrialist, is dangerously injured in an automobile accident. He is carried into the farm home of the Allens. Here he is confined for quite some time. During convalescence, he takes a deep interest in Mary, charming daughter of the Allens.

Romance is in the making. Walter recovers but likes the country—and Mary—so well that he lingers on at the Allen farm. His interest in things on the farm causes amusing sequences which add interest to the film. A picture at the town's theater one evening interests the young couple and serves as a challenge to them. Farm conditions improve for the Allens and finally the two marry, name the farm "Marywalt" and the whole community is influenced by their successful farming activities.

Scholastic Work Analyzed
Austin, Nov. 27.—Failing grades were made last year by University of Texas students in only 12.4 per cent of the total number of hours for which they were registered, according to Registrar E. J. Mathews. Superior records, or grades of "A," were made in 16.3 per cent of the courses, grades of "B" were made in 30.2 per cent, and the average grade, "C," was made in 33.9 per cent. In 19.6 per cent of the courses, students "just got by," having made grades of "D." An aggregate total of 199,252 hours of work was registered for by the 7,762 individual students who were enrolled.

Pension Director To Resign Office of State Auditor

Pension Law in Effect Febury 14 —More Than 60,000 May Be Able To Qualify

Austin, Nov. 27.—"We are going to be fair to the old people of Texas," said the new pension chief this week. Orville S. Carpenter, 36-year-old state auditor, was named executive director of the old-age assistance board November 20 by the new three-member commission. He will resign as auditor and take up his new duties when the pension law becomes effective February 14. "We are going into the matter carefully. I am studying the pension systems of other states that have pension laws," he said this week.

Mr. Carpenter probably knows more about pensions than any other man in Texas. At the request of Governor Allred, Mr. Carpenter made a survey in September on the "Cost and General Plan for Old-age Pensions." This was prepared for the registrar, and the new law reflects his survey in many ways.

He has estimated that there are 283,199 people in Texas 65 years of age or older. Considering the experiences of other states, he believes there would probably be 62,933 qualify for old-age assistance.

"As there are 41,787 persons 65 years of age and over on the Texas relief rolls, this apparently is the minimum number able to qualify for old-age pensions," Mr. Carpenter stated.

"I am not sure about the reducing effect of the regulations passed by the 44th Legislature. My calculations were made in September before the new law had been passed," he said.

THANK YOU, AMERICA,
for more than a Million cars in 1935

This year Chevrolet has two very good reasons for saying, "Thank you, America."
One reason is that people have bought so many Chevrolet cars that production for the year will reach 1,040,000.
And the other reason is that they have placed a record number of orders for new 1936 Chevrolets during the first few weeks they have been on display.

Chevrolet is indeed happy to say, "Thank you, America," and to pledge continued adherence to the manufacturing and service policies which have won and held this friendship.

THANKSGIVING IS IN ORDER, MR. AND MRS. SUTTON COUNTY

Those fortunate enough to live and do business in "The Stockman's Paradise" have good reason to "count their many blessings" during the Thanksgiving season.

A year ago the Sutton section was harassed by drought conditions that gave to all real reason for a disconsolate feeling of "wonder when it's all going to change"—if they were able to be hopeful at all. Today that same Sutton county, so stricken twelve months ago, is in the best shape, from a livestock raising standpoint, that it has been in for several years.

Wool and mohair, chief money crops of the Sutton country, has been sold at fair prices. True, ranchmen growers were not able to place into retail "circulation" many of the dollars they received for the product of their sheep and goats. There was a drought to be paid for, one must remember. Even so sale of the "money crops" helped people start back upward.

Never with a host of its people on relief, Sutton county today has comparatively few being supplied with the necessities of life by state and federal agencies. That number is considerably less than at Thanksgiving time last year.

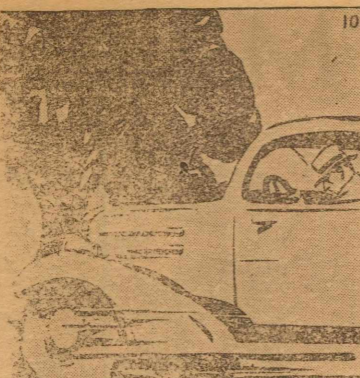

Sonora and Sutton county citizens have just worked together, successfully, to provide food for under-nourished children whose parents cannot do so. That's a worth while job, well done, for which all can be thankful.

There's more building in Sonora, a highway bridge needed many years has been completed with out direct cost to taxpayers, road tripping work west of town will employ men, similarly men are at work at flood control measures in Lowrey Draw, city offices and fire equipment are housed in a new building owned by Sonora people, Mexican children go to school in a new $28,000 building.

Yes, it's good to live in "The Stockman's Paradise" and to associate with men and women who do things that work to make both town and entire section better.

Yes, Sutton people can look about and see many things for which to be thankful this Thanksgiving week.

TRAFFIC TIPS
 by the NATIONAL SAFETY COUNCIL

"Asleep at the wheel" is a much more common cause of automobile tragedy than we realize. There were more than 20,000 accidents caused by dozing drivers in this country last year. Mental or physical fatigue leads to such accidents. Tired minds and muscles are slow to react properly and drowsiness, which naturally follows, is extremely dangerous.

Lack of sleep increases the danger of dozing off into a snooze from which one may never awaken. Long periods of steady driving, too, invite naps.

When you feel drowsy better snap out of it at once. If possible, let some else drive. When alone some drowsy motorists slap themselves or pinch themselves. Others pull off the road and take a nap.

One commercial driver insists he overcomes drowsiness by munching peanuts. Another recommends singing, loud and long, (regardless of ability). Still other drivers get out and run up and down the road. Washing the face in cold water may help, too.

These suggestions are submitted for what they may be worth. Take your choice.

Game and Fish Men Get Deer in Sutton

More Than 1,000 Reported Shot in Gillespie County

A trip of inspection in West Texas was combined with deer hunting by officials of the game, fish and oyster commission who, with C. H. Jennings, game warden, hunted in Sutton county, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The party included: William J. Tucker, chairman of the commission; Jesse L. Showers and Chester Showers, both of Vernon; Fred Russell, Senator Ben G. O'Neal of Wichita Falls; H. P. Hopson, division of law enforcement, game, fish and oyster commission.

Each of the men got a deer, Mr. Jennings stated. In Fredericksburg late last week Mr. Tucker was told that there were 400 deer in cold storage in that town. Estimates were made by some that as many as 1000 deer have been killed in Gillespie county this season.

West Texas conditions as regards the work of the game, fish and oyster commission are good, Mr. Jennings says. Deer that are being killed are fat and hunters are being very fortunate in securing their fleet-footed prey. Two cars through Sonora Monday morning had six bucks on each.

The Newspaper Guy

I see a man push his way through the lines
 Of cops where the work of the "fire fier" shines."
 "The chief?" I inquire—but the fireman replies,
 "Gee, no. That's one of those newspaper guys."

I see a man start on the trail of a crook
 And he scorns the police, but brings him to book.
 "Sherlock Holmes?" I inquire. Someone scornfully cries:
 "Sherlock H—. No: he's one of those newspaper

I see a man sit in the seat of the great,
 And they ask his advice upon matters of state.
 "A diplomat, surely." But to my surprise
 They tell me "he's one of those newspaper guys."

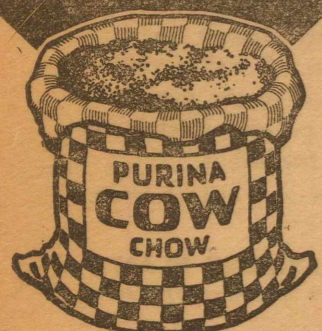

And some day I'll stand by the gates of gold,
 And see a man pass through unquestioned and

 "A saint?" I'll ask, and Saint Peter'll reply
 "No, he's only a plain, honest newspaper guy."

Speech Defects—2
The following suggestions for the treatment of speech defects completes the list started last week.

Avoid forcing the child into new situations where speech is required. Call for easy recitations.

Take care that other pupils do not mimic or make fun of the afflicted child. Give praise for trying and for successful speaking. Maintain a hopeful attitude. Never scold or otherwise draw attention to the defect.

Convince the child by simple speech exercises that he can speak without faltering.

Provide normal contacts with other children in play. That is, do not focus attention upon the afflicted child.

Don't be over-sympathetic. Some children will not care to be cured if it means losing the teacher's favor.

Discourage baby talk at home. Avoid quick questioning and compulsory answers.

Ask for a medical examination in order to determine possibility of physical causes—tongue-tie, defect of tongue, palate and disease of throat and ears.

In his next article Dr. Ireland tells how the old adage, "Seeing is Believing" can be turned to account in the education of the child.

Excavation for Casino Reveals Mayan Relics

San Salvador.—A large collection of idols and other objects of Mayan origin has been discovered in the heart of this city by workmen excavating for a new building which is to house the Salvadoran casino.

In addition to idols there are articles of unusual artistic value, their marvelous colors still bright, and a number of obsidian columns of various forms and sizes. It is believed that a real storehouse of Mayan treasure has been found and work on the excavation has been stopped.

SEES INFLATION A SLOW PROCESS

A Real Danger for the Future, Col. Ayres Tells Banking Groups.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—Present prospects do not indicate that inflation severe enough to cause further dollar devaluation will come soon in this country, but as an ultimate development it seems to be a very real danger, Leonard P. Ayres, Vice President Cleveland Trust Company, said here tonight in an address before the Graduate School of Banking. He believed this statement to be true "unless the government enters frankly upon a policy of issuing fiat money with which to meet its expenses." At present that does not seem to be in sight, he said.

The Graduate School is operated jointly by the American Institute of Banking Section of the American Bankers Association and Rutgers University to offer advanced studies for bank officers.

"We have so enormously increased the capacity of our banking system for credit expansion that it is difficult to see how we could have a vigorous business revival without having it develop into a credit inflation," Colonel Ayres declared.

Inflation a Slow Process
If inflation does come it will be a slow process, he said, pointing out that in Germany, France, Belgium and Italy it took about five years to develop from the time when the governments entered upon policies of financing large peace-time deficits by bank credit up to the time when the public generally began to spend money rapidly because of fear that it would still further depreciate.

"If we are to go through such a period here it would seem likely that it might last rather longer than the corresponding periods did abroad," he said. "Its beginning would date from the spring of 1933 when we left the old gold basis for our money and entered upon the policy of financing large governmental deficits by the sale of Federal securities mainly to banks rather than to private investors."

"The method that we are following is the one that proved disastrous in Europe for in all those countries including Germany, the increasing issues of money that caused the inflations were not mere printing press issues of fiat currency, but were secured by government bonds and notes discounted at the banks."

Among the clearest lessons taught by the European experience, Colonel Ayres asserted, is that there are "no good hedges against inflation." He added:

Did Not Lighten Debt Burdens
"One of the strange facts about these inflations is that while they destroyed the values of most existing debts, they did not succeed in lightening the debt burdens of either the people as a whole, or of the corporations."

"Inflation destroys the value of bonds and mortgages and so confiscates the property of these holders of obligations and hands it over to the shareholders and the equity owners. However, it introduces so many new economic difficulties that these share and equity holders are at once forced to incur new indebtedness so that when stabilization comes the problems of debt are about as troublesome as they were before, or even more so."

The five requisites of inflation were listed by Colonel Ayres as first, a period of sustained active business; second, a rising stock market; third, real credit expansion; fourth, greater out-flow of gold "than we can tolerate which would force us to cut our currency entirely free from gold"; and fifth, continued large budget deficits in government operation.

TWO QUESTIONS ANSWERED

Why is it that one farmer raises 100 bushels of corn to the acre, and the other one, on the other side of the fence, raises 25 bushels to the acre? Why is it that one farmer produces 100 pounds of pork on five bushels of corn, and another uses 25 bushels? Not until power machinery, scientific principles of soil fertilization and restoration, rotation of crops, diversification of crops and economical feeding are applied to the farm, will the farmers' problem be solved, says an authority.

Significant economic developments to be expected in the next decade are listed by a prominent business writer as follows: (1) Higher standard of living. (2) Continued advances in technical processes of production. (3) Factory built houses, better and cheaper than hand made houses. (4) Somewhat cheaper money. (5) Faster travel. (6) News printed by radio. (7) Mechanical cotton picker, revolutionizing the South. (8) Cheaper electric power. (9) Better distribution of goods; more chain stores. (10) Another depression five or six years hence, preceded by an inflationary boom.

BANKING READY

NEW YORK—There is abundant evidence that banks are in an unusually favorable position to finance a period of industrial growth, says the June issue of "Banking" published by the American Bankers Association.

"Balance" of Farm Animals and Feed Best in Years

Grain-Consuming Animals Have As Much Potential Food As in 1928-'29 and 1932-'33

Washington, Nov. 27.—Feed supplies and the number of farm animals are in the best balance in several years, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

The supply of feed grains, says the annual outlook report, including the carryover of old crop grain, probable quantities of wheat and rye that may be fed, and the prospective supplies of by-product feeds total about 106,000,000 tons.

Allowing for an average carryover into next season, and for commercial use of feed grains, the 1935-36 supply of these items for feed purposes would give each grain-consuming animal unit, including poultry, about the same quantity as on the average of the years 1928-29 to 1932-33.

Feed Grain Average Same

Hay supplies, after making adjustments for the carryovers at the beginning and the end of the season, provide nearly 2 per cent more tonnage per hay-consuming animal unit than on the average in the years 1920-29. Compared with the last five years, hay supplies per unit seem high.

The acreage of feed grains—corn, oats, barley and grain sorghums—next year may not be greatly different from that in 1935 when corn acreage was 9 per cent less than the average of the period 1928-32, oats and barley acreage was about average, and grain sorghums acreage was the largest on record. The soybean acreage also was the largest on record.

With normal weather conditions in the spring of 1936 and a continuation of the corn-hog program, a smaller grain-sorghum acreage, not much change in oats and barley acreage, and a slightly increased corn acreage may be expected. Some decrease in soybean acreage for grain and also for hay or forage is in prospect. The increase in corn may not fully offset the prospective reductions in grain sorghums and soybeans.

Average yields on the prospective acres of feed grains would give a 1936 production about 5 per cent larger than in 1935, but such production would be less than the 1928-32 average. The increase in production of grain-consuming livestock probably will be as great or greater than this increase in feed production.

The other evening we heard a woman ask what in the world would become of the younger generation. That's an easy one. They'll fall in love, get married, have children and trouble and all that sort of thing, and as they get older they will worry about what's to become of the younger generation. — The Mississippi Guide.

Authorities announce there will be no broadcast of the Hauptmann electrocution, which will probably burn up the radio announcers.—The Omaha World-Herald.

Chicken—Americans' Favorite Meat Dish—
Pleases Singly or With Other Delicacies

Denton, Nov. 27.—Chicken is the favorite meat of Americans and is served the year round either broiled, fried, roasted, stewed, or as a combination dish with other foods.

The main season for broilers and fryers, which average from one to two pounds, is from early spring to early fall. This is the season for fresh roasters. The best size for roasting hens is from 3½ to 4 pounds. Hens should be reasonably fat, but to buy a lot of fat is a waste of money. The breast should be large and excessive in proportion to the back.

The quality of a chicken is affected by its age. Young chickens have soft feet, a smooth skin, and a soft cartilage at the end of the breast bone. Older hens may be stewed and chopped for creamed or combination dishes. Old roosters are good only for soup or grinding.

Roast Chicken: Dry-picked hens are better for roasting than when wet picked. The hen should be singed to remove any hairs. The entrails should then be removed and the fowl washed and salted and peppered inside and out. It may then be stuffed with a well-seasoned stuffing, sewed into the fowl with a heavy needle and cord. Chicken should be roasted in a moderate oven in an uncovered roaster and with no added water. Experience has taught that this method makes the best flavor and results in the least shrinkage in weight during cooking.

Celery Stuffing: Use 1½ cups soft bread crumbs, 1½ cups corn bread crumbs, 1 cup diced celery, 1-3 cup minced celery leaves, 3-4 teaspoon sage, 1 medium onion chopped, ¼ cup chicken fat, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 hard boiled egg, and ½ to 1 cup hot water. Lightly brown the chopped onion and celery in the chicken fat. Add to other combined ingredients and mix well. A portion of the dressing may be used to stuff the chicken before it is roasted and the remainder baked around the hen during the last twenty minutes.

Chicken Pie: Use ½ pound noodles, 2 cups diced chicken, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1 can mushroom soup, 1 tablespoon butter, 3 cups chicken broth, salt and pepper. Cook noodles in chicken broth until tender. Combine with chicken, onion, melted butter, cream of mushroom soup, salt and pepper. Mix in casserole or individual baking dishes and top with rounds of biscuit dough or a solid covering of pastry. Bake in a moderate oven until crust is brown. If the pastry covering is used it must be firmly fastened to the edge to prevent its slipping into the pie filling and becoming soggy instead of flaky and crisp.

Only a case of
to all

Bank credit is a moving, alert thing and should be used for the best development of a community's life. When a borrower feels that his loan should be renewed time after time he is admitting that he may be fairly considered as hampering ordinary financial traffic. Bank credit is meant for many rather than for a few. We try to be fair to all . . . which includes borrowers, business interests of our section, our depositors and the directors who guide our institution. Our loan policy must be adaptable to the best interest of these many groups.

Texas Lakes Lose
As Result of Silt

Washing of Topsoil Responsible For Storage Tank Damage

City people as well as farmers lose from soil erosion. Uncontrolled water not only removes tons of valuable silt from farms each year but it puts this soil into lakes and reservoirs used for water and power supplies. Many such reservoirs, built usually at high cost, in a few years will be filled with silt, rather than water, according to studies by the Soil Conservation Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

This washing of topsoil usually is due to bad grazing, farming and forestry practices in the watershed contributing to the reservoir—practices which have removed a vegetative cover and induced gully and sheet erosion.

The Soil Conservation Survey gives these examples of man-made lakes which are rapidly filling: The Rogers Reservoir at Rogers, Texas, in 12 years has lost nearly one-fourth its storage capacity because of silting. Lake Waco, at Waco, Texas, in 5 years has lost more than 12 per cent of its capacity. The reservoir at Spartansburg, S. C., in 8 years has lost more than 17 per cent of its capacity. The efficiency of the Great Morgan Falls Reservoir near Atlanta "has been practically ruined due to the collection of silt and clay above the dam. Only the stream channel is open." The huge San Carlos Reservoir on the Gila River in Arizona in a little more than 6 years has lost nearly 3 per cent of its storage room.

Terracing, contour farming, strip cropping, gully control, more grass crops and the planting of oversteep lands to permanent grass or tree crops retards erosion and will retain most of the silt now filling reservoirs, say soil conservation workers.

In 1926 he took a position in a theater orchestra in Abilene. In 1927 when the conductor of the Cowboy Band of Simmons U. took a year's leave of absence, Rainwater got the job. Upon the director's return, he came to Fort Worth and has since been associated with the police department.
